NECESSITY OF PERSUASION

Success in business depends on the ability of a person to persuade the people whom he meets of the merits of his goods, his services, or the suggestions he makes to them. It takes more than mere opening a store to persuade the people that the goods are the best. Just opening them out in a store window does not do it. People are passing that window as rapidly as they can to give it more than a passing glance.

The newspaper advertising is the greatest persuader that the business world knows. It greets people's eyes at a time when they are at leisure, ready to respond to suggestions. When it quotes interesting facts or prices about goods that people want, many are persuaded to come and buy.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

"Greet the unseen with a cheer" said a famous poet. It is also helpful to greet the world with a smile. When you smile at the world, the world smiles back, and is apt to be influenced by your words.

The politician who shakes hands with a lot of people is likely to get a lot of votes if you want to make your way in business, greet your customers with a hearty welcome, and make them feel you are a good friend.

TENTATIVE AGREEMENT REACHED BY TEXAS ON HIGHWAY PROGRAM

The county commissioners court has tentatively agreed to furnish the right-of-way and the State Highway Department has agreed to widen, straighten and improve Highway 16 from the Bandera Rd. to Evers Rd., a distance of 3.4 miles, Commissioner J. W. Donnell said, Friday.

In a letter submitted to Judge Charles W. Anderson the district highway engineer for the state Highway Department, F. C. Maddox, estimated that the cost of the improvement to the State would be $78,000. The commissioners' court on Friday ordered the county engineer to make a survey at once to determine the cost of procuring the right-of-way. Wilford Pickard, acting county highway engineer estimated that the survey would be completed Saturday.

Maddox called attention to the fact that the section of road scheduled for improvement is one of the roads to Medina Lake and an important route leading to Bandera, Medina and Kerrville. The average daily traffic between San Antonio and Hebbe through the summer months, he said, approximates 1,400 vehicles daily, while the Bandera traffic approximates and average of 2,600 daily. The section of highway 16, above referred to, was constructed in 1927, that in greatest need of improvement, and the county is only required to furnish the right-of-way.

Maddox did not estimate the exact date that the improvement would begin, however, it was stated that the State Highway Commission has approved the 1942 secondary highway program which involves joint State-Federal financing of project included therein, and this program, he said, is being transmitted to the Public Roads Administration.

In the later part of August, Maddox pointed out, the State Highway Department completed improving the shoulders and widening of the asphalt surfacing from Mi. 16 to 20 and that portion of Highway 16 between Evers Road and Helotes. The highway beyond Helotes had been reconstructed in recent years and affords adequate travel facilities, he said.—San Antonio Express.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eckhart Jr. and daughter of Texas spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. A. G. Eckhart.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL NOVEMBER 11 TO 27

The Bandera County Red Cross Roll Call will be held Nov. 11 to 27 according to Mrs. A. Meadows, local Roll Call chairman. The Bandera County quota has been raised 50 per cent over last year due to the rapidly changing conditions and Red Cross military and naval welfare services as shell as civilian defense activities have been greatly increased. The local committee has set a goal of 400 members which should be and will be reached if every adult in the county will become a member.

The Roll Call this year is planned to reach every home and it is hoped that wives as well as husbands will join. The annual membership fee is only one dollar and there is no other way in which a dollar can be made to do as much or reach as far as by joining the Red Cross. With their national set-up the Red Cross is ready at a moment's notice to take over the emergency work when a disaster strikes.

Volunteer workers will be needed to assist in the Roll Call. When you are asked, give a bit of your time and energy. The committee is attempting to divide the work so that no one person will have to give more than an hour or so of time. When someone comes to ask you to join, treat them courteously as the workers are giving their time and receive no pay. If you join the Red Cross they will feel amply repaid.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

October 20, 1941

Sheriff,
Bandera County,
Bandera, Texas.
Dear Mr. Sheriff:

In re: Capture of William Henry Bonds at Bandera, Texas.

Confirming my recent telephone conversation I take this further means of thanking you for your effective work in capturing the above named escaped convict after he had broken from jail at Jourdanton. According to the information I have he was out of custody about three hours and forty-five minutes.

I don't believe that I know you personally, but I wish to state that Bandera County has a live and alert sheriff and that is what it takes to catch criminals. Bonds had gotten past you there is no telling when he would have been apprehended. All of the credit for the real technique of the capture, as I understand it, is this: The Sheriff's Department called the Dantzler telephoned the sheriff at Bonds and several other sheriffs around in that vicinity but omitted to phone you at Bandera, and that in talking with the sheriff at Bonds sheriff Dantzler gave you the news and within a few minutes thereafter the same was verified.

Yours very truly,

R. B. Carr
Judge, 81st Judicial Dist. of Tex.

Somerset Here Tomorrow Night

The Bandera Bulldogs journeyed to Three Rivers last Friday to play the Bulldogs of that town. It was a case of a Boston Bull meeting an English Bull. The Three Rivers Canines outweighed the Bandera delegation on the average of about 24 pounds to a man. The score of 45 to 0 does not tell the story. Chandler won the admiration of the opponents by his ability to return kick off and punts. Berg would not let the Three Rivers safety get much headway on punt returning. The referee would not allow Berg the first game that he had officiated this year where there was not a roughing penalty at the end of either team.

The Bulldogs engage Somerset here this Friday evening.

Somerset has beaten Three Rivers but in reality did not make as many first downs as Bandera did against them. This will be a good game and the Bulldogs will appreciate the presence of their friends on the side line.

BANDERA P. T. A. MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

The Bandera P. T. A. met in regular session Tuesday night with a large number of members and guests present. The school band under the direction of Rankin Conwill played several numbers which were greatly enjoyed. The invocation was the "Lord's Prayer" said in unison. A. Meadows gave an interesting discussion on the "Farmer Hits a Boom" in which he showed that by education, ambition and proper management the farm boy had as good a chance of success as the city boy. This was followed by a round table discussion on "The American Home."

THERE GOES A TIRE!

... but why junk the car?

Any car can have a blowout in a tire. But you wouldn't junk the car. You'd just fix the tire—or replace it.

That's very much like a situation that exists in the retailing of beer. Beer retailing has its "flat tires," too—retailers who disobey the law or who permit unsavory conditions.

To protect your right to drink good beer, we of the beer industry want to eliminate the few "flat tire" retailers. Here's another reason: Right here in Texas, beer has provided employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $52,076,182 and paid $1,273,968.64 in state taxes last year.

The state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for material, equipment and services—from more than 100 other industries.

Those benefits are worth preserving. You can help us preserve them by patronizing only the reputable and legal places where beer is sold and by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

THE NIGHT OF GHOSTS

If the celebrators Up over your rubbish can on Halloween, and you inquire of the neighbor's boy who did it, he will probably reply that it was the spirits. Yes, why not — of course believe that. If you try to convince that kid as the probable offender, he will be too well pleased and slip out of your fingers.

This old idea of laying it off on the ghosts reminds us of days when people really believed there were such things. October 31 was a date when the spirits were supposed to return to earth and visit their former haunts. And many of them were bad ghosts and not popular with their neighbors when they were living, if we suppose that these undesirable spirits perpetrated various tricks.

The belief was once widely prevalent that certain houses were haunted. It was supposed that some person once lived there who had committed some crime or undergone suffering, and that the spirit of that person kept returning. He was supposed to express his sorrow in some frightening noises in the night time. It might be almost impossible to get a rent under such circumstances, for who could be found who would dare live there. A scientifically minded person may have found the groans of the spirit were due to the wind sucking through the chimney or some such cause.

It used to be a favorite occupation of children to tell ghost stories. After an evening spent in hearing such yarns, they crept up stairs to bed with fearful looks over their shoulders to see if some ghost were following them. Indeed, those days the boys used to run fast, going by the cemetery at night.

The ghost stories have ceased to feed the world, and the kids who perpetrate serious mischief at Halloween may be headed for more trouble than was encountered in the days when their grandfathers believed in ghosts.

BACK TO THE OLD SCHOOL

Schools and colleges receive vitals from former students. It is a thrilling moment to an old "grad" to go back to the familiar halls of learning where he or she has lived, played, and wondered about the mystery of life, and how he would come out in the world.

Such a visit brings back memories of faces that have dropped out of sight. Some of them have passed into the beyond. You may think when you leave a school or college that the relations of those days are going to be permanent. The paths of life soon separate, and many friends that seemed so intimate fade somewhat out of memory as they go far away or acquire new interests.

In visiting the school where one formerly attended, one should have memories of gratitude for faithful teachers. They have tried to put the stamp of their ideals and character on youth, and frequently a person's success is largely due to that inspiration.

THE TOWN'S POSSIBILITIES

Many towns have great possibilities of growth, but fail to cash in on them. They have good powers and capacities, but can't seem to sell them to the world.

The reason may be that they have not told the world sufficiently about the things they have to sell. The world will not buy things unless it is told what they are and what they cost. A further reason for stagnation is the disposition to accept things as they are, without effort to improve them.

The towns that have gone ahead have been those that were full of ambition to make their burgs the best residence towns and the most successful in business. They were constantly looking for chances for improvement, and when they saw those chances they were willing to work to accomplish those gains.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Some people seem awfully near-sighted as they fail to see the excellent bargains offered by the home stores, while they think they are so far sighted that they can see one many miles away.

"Let him speak now or forever hold his peace," says the marriage service. So if a man does not speak up about his goods through advertising, he should forever hold his peace when he is tempted to complain about business.

A man's ability is largely judged by the kind of clothes he wears. You can also judge of his success and ability by looking at the appearance of his home place.

Pleuring in Electric Radiator

Those who feel warmer when they get the faint hissing of a steam radiator can purchase a portable electric steam radiator that can be carried "by a woman" from room to room and plugged into any wall socket. Another new heating device is asterisk to convert cheap kerosene into the new-invented dortane gas. It is said to be adapted especially for installation in cabins and wood stoves and furnaces in remote areas that are not yet served by gas mains.

THERE GOES A TIRE!
...but why junk the car?

Any car can have a blowout in a tire. But you wouldn't junk the car. You'd just fix the tire—or replace it.

That's very much like a situation that exists in the retailing of beer. Beer retailing has its "flat tires"—those retailers who disobey the law or who permit unsavory conditions.

To protect your right to drink good beer, we of the beer industry want to eliminate the few "flat tire" retailers. Here's another reason: Right here in Texas, beer has provided employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and paid $2,273,-968.64 in state taxes last year.

The state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for material, equipment and services—from more than 100 other industries.

Those benefits are worth preserving. You can help us preserve them by patronizing only the reputable and legal places where beer is sold and by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

CORNER DRUG STORE TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE SATURDAY

About two years ago Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McIver of Sabinal, moved among us and bought the Corner Drug Store from Mr. and Mrs. Sampson Farris. In those two years the Corner Drug Store has undergone lots of changes, the last of which has been the enlarging and complete remodeling of the entire store, thus they are prepared to give better service throughout. The store now occupies all the building formerly occupied by the drug store and the post office, the latter office being moved next door. The soda fountain has been enlarged to twice the original size it has also the prescription room and the entire store. They now have a more up-to-date, spigotless, fountain service, an attractive, complete line of souvenirs and novelties, gift goods, stationery, cameras, patent medicines, sundries, a good line of cosmetics, a well filled prescription room with two registered pharmacists on duty. And of interest to the ladies, is their complete line of veterinary remedies and vaccines.

Next Saturday the public is invited to come in and see all this beautiful store and also register for the door prize attendance prizes. There are to be eight prizes given away entirely free, and that is required is to register. These prizes are now on display at the Corner Drug Store, and that is where they will also be given their favorite drink at the new soda fountain free.

They will be glad to explain their Christmas lay-away plan.

PLAY AT MEDINA

The Phantom Bells" will be presented by the P. T. A. of Medina High School at the Medina School Auditorium on Saturday, Nov. 8 at 8 p. m.

A synopsis follows:

A house that has been deserted for years, in the walls of which mysterious bells are heard to ring at night; a house where people mysteriously disappear, only to return apparently dead, and eventually seriously ill; a house where mysterious footprints end in the middle of a room—these are the bits of the happenings at "The House of the Bells."

The cast is made up of those who come to this house to live in it. When they arrive, they find that there is a sinister atmosphere there, and that some one does not want anyone to live in the old house.

People disappear, return dead, then come back to life. People melt away into the thin air, sliding doors, and secret rooms. This play will keep the audience guessing with its reading, its mystery. It is a different sort of a mystery play, and promises to be an evening of entertainment.

AN APPEAL TO THE CITIZENS OF BANDERA.
Today there is a small debt of $728.00 hanging over the Bandera Public School Auditorium Building. The mortgage on this building is past due. The building was erected at a cost nearly six thousand dollars, and all has been paid except the $728.00 mentioned above. We have in the treasury just $200 to meet the last note, which is now endeavoring to raise the remaining $528 by popular subscription; we are asking a dollar from each man in the county to each subscribe $5.28 to help pay off this encumbrance. Won't you help us to do this? It is just a small amount, equally divided among the many citizens who have had the pleasure of the community at heart, and who would not like to see this building go into other hands. Your subscription of $5.28 may be made with the undersigned any of us will fail to raise the remaining $528, the amount you subscribe will be returned to you. A receipt will be given to you on payment of your subscription. We have sixty days to raise this amount. As the time is short, we would urge you to render all aid possible in this matter, and help us to save our Library and Auditorium for the future citizenship of Bandera. A petition is being circulated by members of the Library Association. When you look upon the subscription, won't you please help us?

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

A town without people working energetically to push it ahead is like an automobile without any gas in the tank.

If a store wants to turn over its stock promptly, it should tell the public by advertising the reasons why that stock is full of good bargains.

Every home town store is an agent striving to promote the merchants of its home town. If you want the home town to go ahead, see to it that these stores are backed up with your patronage.

Shingles Like Fish Scales
Roof shingles for the ancient Britons were made of fish scales, according to Collier's Weekly. They were, stated the beautiful scenery and the fishing. They were, stated Mr. Williams, "shaped, curled, split and used somewhat as they are today." The warning signals that the Britons used already started by about nearly 50 years.
Stenographers' Orchestras Increase
During the past 20 years, symphonic orchestras in this country have increased from 17 to about 70, the conference and 120 professional being composed of women.
Record Flat
Largest single borrowed by the world is a $1,000,000,000 flat, made by Australia and 18 other countries during the World war, and still unpaid, totaling $1,000,000,000.
PAYING OUR DEBTS
Some authorities say the United States pays its debts more promptly than any other nation in the world. Others say that is not true. Still others say that it has never assumed its rightful debts. Perhaps all of these statements have some truth in them. Perhaps the truth is that we have assumed no useful debts that we would not pay promptly, and that we have assumed no congress spent $1,000,000,000 for defense, it would be a new thing in this country. It will be necessary to spend up to $100,000,000,000 for defense, but that is spread over a number of years, and it will be necessary to pay it promptly in order to keep our industrial plant going. If there will be such a huge amount of money in circulation as there is necessary to pay for the work, or a great wave of inflation will result unless it is unemployed to work.
If unemployment is temporarily cured by the huge defense program, the so-called "pump priming" debts should be abandoned as an economic necessity.
That theory has not started up the industrial wheels to any noticeable extent during the past month, and there is still no certainty that it will do so. People who seem to be spending money with some freedom are those who have a nickel to start with.
It often happens that people of small means have more fun and get more for their money than those who give the most generously to charities. They are the ones who find the most pleasure in buying and spending. Their purchases are the spiritual achievements. It gives them a thrill to see that people will pay their employees enough to enable them to buy the things they produce. They refuse to pay starvation wages. They would deny employment to anyone who would be happy there. They are not afraid to help their employees to better themselves. They are not afraid to pay for the things they buy. They are not afraid to help others unless people or governments refuse to help themselves. They are not afraid of private business or of government business.

As Army Takes Over Air Plant

With an armed soldier standing by, machinists are shown at work in the Reatis plant of Air Associates, Inc., Bendix, N. J., the defense plant taken over by the U. S. army on orders from President Roosevelt. The army ordered workers "as Americans," disregarding their previous status in the dispute which had kept the vital defense plant idle. Col. Roy C. Jones, military commander of the plant, stands behind the soldier. More than $5,000,000 in defense contracts are held by the plant, which manufactures airplane parts.

Armistice Day Fete Well Attended

The Armistice Day Celebration sponsored by the American Legion Tuesday was one of the best ever held in Bandera. The day opened with a fine parade in which were many decorated cars and floats. The Red Cross float was awarded first prize of $5 as being most appropriate, second prize of $3 was awarded to the Red and White Store float as being the most attractive and third prize of $2 was awarded the Bandera Electric Cooperative, Inc. float. The Cactus Dude Ranch float was awarded a consolation prize. Judges were B. C. Pfeuffer, D. B. Palmer, and T. J. Paul. The parade marked the first public appearance of the high school band in their beautiful new yellow and white uniforms. Honor guards were Gold Star Mothers, and four of them, Mrs. E. Hammond, Mrs. John Eskew, Mrs. W. H. Day and Mrs. C. J. Kalka rode in the parade in a lovely Pontiac car donated for the occasion by Edgar McKay, owner of the Ranchmens Chevrolet Co.

Following the parade patriotic services were held on the court house lawn at the monument honoring the World War II. Flag raising was an impressive service and members of the school band played the National Anthem. Rev. E. F. Kluck gave the invocation and Rev. F. B. Hall read the Gettysburg address followed by an excellent report on conditions by Capt. Thos. P. Grant.

At noon the Legion Auxiliary served an army style dinner to the veterans in the Legion hall which thoroughly enjoyed the dinner and the Flower Show sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary. Many beautiful and were tastefully arranged.

At 2:30 p. m. the Center Point Pirates and the Bandera Bulldogs played a football game that ended in a victory for the local team by a score of 25 to 0. The game was strictly a football game and was also a help fill out the Armistice Day program. Clyde Wright made two touchdowns, Jimmie Arnold one and Charlie Dugosh one. Only one try for extra point was good. The game witnessed played by both showed up well.

A large crowd attended the dance at Medina Park. Music was furnished by Tom Dickey and the Showboys. A new dance "The Conga" was introduced and was started and may spread all over the United States. The orchestra played it to perfection and when some one calls out "John L. Lewis" the music slows down and the dancers move slowly moving much as the strikes called by John Lewis and other labor leaders are causing the world to work. We all believe in fair wages for the workers but in the days of defense preparation we think that labor should join in every way in keeping factories and transportation lines moving ahead. The dance created quite a stir here and dancers were "crawling" everywhere.

The Legion and Auxiliary wish to thank every one for helping to make the occasion the great success it was.

Many Enrolled in Red Cross Drive

"The local officers are hoping that every adult in the county will volunteer whether and to help in doing this great work.

"The American Red Cross is about to begin its annual membership Roll-Call. Its success, in this period of emergency, is a matter of vital concern to all of us as citizens of a free democracy.

"The quickening pace of our defense program shows that our strength can be measured in steel with steel. And voluntary enlistment in the Red Cross through membership—will prove that we have the heart as well as the sinews to keep ourselves strong and free.

"The Congress has charged our Red Cross with the well-defined obligations to our soldiers and sailors, and to their families defending the home front. The vast expansion in our armed forces has increased the cost of this traditional Red Cross work more than we realize. Every American member who supported these services to the armed forces two years ago, ten are needed today.

Red Cross contributions to our military defense include the building of the welfare problems of service men and their families. Nursing is playing a major role in civilian defense preparedness. Because of the Red Cross' service in community service through its 3,700 local chapters, a great outreach for civilian defense coordinators can be made, which is achieved by the Red Cross's long established work in disaster relief, emergency aid and first aid. Volunteer fields has played a large part in strengthening our home front.

Our citizens make possible this work, in peacetime and in the present unity, both through their membership dollars and their service. Individual Red Cross services and their support must be increased to meet the present crisis. As Chief Executive of the United States and President of the Red Cross I therefore strongly urge every American to enroll in the Annual Roll Call.

(Signed) Franklin D. Roosevelt

Mrs. H. Hammond is chairman of the Roll Call in the Medina community and all citizens there will be asked to see her or leave their membership fee at Stokes Store.

AG. NEWS

Friday and Saturday the F. F. A. held their regular meeting. We decided on several items of business and had a very interesting program.

Thursday afternoon Mr. Grisham and Mr. Ag. boys of the second year class, went out to Mr. Alfred Reinarz's ranch and dewormed about 275 head of sheep and goats. The job was very successful and profitable and everybody got some very good experience in drenching with Tetrachloroethylene and Phenothiazine. We are always glad to help ranchers and to get experience in such work.

Mr. Grisham took a load of sheep hoppers for Mrs. John Langford and gained some very valuable experience in doing so.

It was decided at our last meeting that we would enter a float in the Armistice Day parade. The next Monday the boys built a float and entered it the next day in the parade but it won a prize but were very proud of it.

MISS DOROTHY HICKS MARRIED

A pretty wedding was solemnized in San Antonio last Sunday morning at 10:30 in the San American Room of the Gunter Hotel when Miss Dorothy Hicks of Tarpley became the bride of Mr. T. Felix Brandt of Orange, Texas. Rev. Hardy of the Travis Park Methodist Church officiating. The ring ceremony was used. The bride wore a rust colored suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was talisman roses.

Only members of the families of the bride and groom and a few friends were present. After the ceremony a reception was held, and a delightful luncheon was served, covers being laid for about thirty guests.

The ceremony was marked by much thoughtfulness. There were no attendants, the bride and groom entered the room together and marched up to the altar where the minister awaited, and there pronounced the vows which united them in the holy bonds of matrimony. Immediately following the reception and luncheon they left for Orange, Texas, where they will reside.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Hicks of Tarpley. She is one of our finest girls, and is known and loved by a large circle of friends. After completing her high school course she entered Our Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio, where she obtained her B. A. and H. S. degree, majoring in art and in library science. For the past several years she has been a librarian in the Harris County Public Library at Houston. She is a very gifted, talented young woman, of great disposition, and the groom is certainly to be congratulated in winning her heart and hand.

The groom is a sterling young man, of high ideals and splendid personality. He is an employee of the Consolidated Steel Corporation of California, with headquarters at Orange.

The New Era joins in extending congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Brandt happiness and prosperity through life. May their pathway be strewn with roses and their troubles few; may Heaven's richest blessings rest upon them.

They're Ready for Anything

Members of a volunteer parachute troop, in training at an R.A.F. station, rush to "attack position" after discarding their chutes. Their work calls for skill and daring, as they will be called upon, if British invades German-occupied territory, to drop behind the lines, much as Nazi parachutists have done.

Henry Schmidt of Pipe Creek Dead

Henry Schmidt, a native of Germany, died at his home at Pipe Creek early Thursday at the age of 61 years, 9 months and 1 day. He and his family moved to Pipe Creek about five years ago. The deceased was born in Germany on March 12, 1879 and came to the United States when he was quite small. Rev. E. C. Ray officiated at the services at the grave in the Pipe Creek Cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hattie Schmidt, six children, five grandchildren and two brothers, August of Floresville and Otto of Boerne. All of the children were present for the sad rites except one daughter, Mrs. Nickles of Rockdale. His brother, and family of Floresville were present but his brother, Otto of Boerne was unable to be present on account of serious illness. Mrs. Maggie Lee and daughter of Boerne were also attended the funeral.

The New Era extends sincere sympathy to the family of this quiet, unassuming man who was a kind and considerate husband, father and friend.

NO CHANGE CONTEMPLATED IN MAIL SCHEDULE

Inquiries are being made at the local postoffice regarding a rumored change in the Bandera mail schedule. Under the present schedule, the mail car leaves San Antonio at approximately 8 a. m., arriving in Bandera between 10-15 and 11 o'clock, the exact time of its arrival being dependant upon the amount of load the engine is required to distribute the route mail between San Antonio and Bandera. The mail car is due to leave Bandera for Medina and Kerrville 30 minutes after its arrival in Bandera. Leonard Jureczki 93, Died Thursday

Leonard Jureczki, a pioneer settler of Bandera, passed away at his home near town last Thursday at 5:30 p. m. following a long illness. Funeral services were held Saturday at 9 a. m. at the Catholic Church of which he had been a faithful member. Rev. F. S. Strobel officiated and interment was in the Catholic Cemetery. Pallbearers were Ashley Bugh, Tom Boyle, Ernest Kindla, Frank G. Anderwald, Hubert Dugosh and C. J. Kalka. Funeral arrangements were under direction of the Plummer Funeral Home.

The deceased was born in Silesia, Germany on April 10, 1848 and came to America with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Jureczki when he was about 14 years old, and the family settled at Bandera. On May 18, 1873 he married Miss Rose Haiduk and they celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary last May. Twelve children were born to this union, three of them preceding their father in death. Surviving are his aged widow, three sons, John L., Urban and Albert Jr., all of Bandera, six daughters, Mrs. Kate Gorsboy, Mrs. Rose Pupe, Mrs. Stella Spence, Mrs. Lucy Weatherby and Mrs. Celia Canello, all of San Antonio and Mrs. Tillie McHugh of Houston, 39 grandchildren, 26 great grandchildren and 3 great-great grandchildren.

When Mr. Jureczki came to Bandera the country was still infested with Indians and he helped to make a civilized section of the section by helping to chase the Indians away. Before coming to Bandera he played a fife in a band orchestra. In his 93 years he saw many changes take place. Bandera grew from a small shingle making village to a modern little city and the influence of these pioneer settlers lives on to give the present generation hope and ambition.

FRIENDS OF HUMANITY

The time has come for the American people to show themselves friends of humanity by paying the slight fee which makes them members of The American Red Cross. This noble organization, which extends its loving arms about multitudes of suffering humanity, is waiting everywhere to receive the gifts which will make it possible to continue this glorious work.

The sweep of disaster spreads over the land like some bolt of lightning coming out of a clear sky. You can never tell when it will hit you, your home, or your closest friends. The power of the elements sometimes gets beyond control. Hurricanes sweep over the land, reducing homes to wreckage and burying the inmates beneath their ruins. The power of flooded rivers, the tremors of earthquakes, the rage of the fire fiend, make thousands of people homeless and expose them to wind and weather.

People would die in droves when exposed to these conditions were it not for the medical skill and the systematic science of the Red Cross. Within a few hours after these calamities happen, the Red Cross is on the spot with its army of nurses and doctors and supplies to succor, nursing misery and despair into recovery and hope. It takes a heap of money and trained workers and great resources of supplies to do these things. Your dollar is needed and many dollars if you can give them, to help finance this work.

Disaster relief is only one of many forms of work conducted by this superb movement. It has done wonders in the care of veterans of our wars, helping them to overcome their handicaps, curing their physical troubles, and relieving the families left destitute by the pitiful plight of the breadwinner. Its educational work and many features of its service help the American people to overcome many of the ills of life and to add to this noble society, and we should back it up with our money.

The Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Association is this week putting out returns on the Spring 12 months wool which sold for an average of 42½ cents per pound.

Frank Scofield
State Administrator

C. Hohn
Assistant State Agent and Leader in Land Use Planning
College Station, Texas

R. F. Vance
Chairman, State USDA Defense
College Station, Texas

Gentlemen:

As chairman of all three of the above agencies for Bandera County I am receiving all sorts of nice suggestions and requests which would decorate the building nicely if we had a good foundation to build on.

You can't use the selling of stamps and bonds in the name of defense. Then I read in my paper that Phillip Murray, president of the CIO, the man who has just said "National Defense if subscribed to by management of complete unionization of the United States," is being URGED to go back on the Mediation Board.

The president of the United States begs John L. Lewis and then surrenders to him by appointing Steelman as the deciding voice, when he has just recently decided another case as Lewis would like to have decided.

Then you send me things to do which call for the utmost in R. E. A. and I findthat the O. P. M. is as stacked as was the N. R. A. and are refusing R. E. A. copper but not refusing Public Utilities. There is an investigation on. I am looking for a whitewash. Aren't you? Then you call on me to gather up all the scrap iron and steel in the county in the name of the Defense. The scrap iron and steel has already been gathered up and shipped to Japan because Congress considered all treaties with China as just another scrap of paper. We will get some of this back——some.

Congress is afraid to give a man the right to work unless he surrenders all his liberties to some labor racketeer and is even now sabotaging its own bill to make it ineffective. Let us cut out the bull and get down to facts, the time for complacency is past.

When all is sized up you are asking that we kiss Stalin's cheeks, O. P. M.'s foot and Lewis' ——. That is your Defense to date.

This is what I am asking you and the Administration. Be honest with the people and with yourselves—not lease lend but give to those men fighting Hitler, this includes Russia.

Quit trying to bribe Racketeers or being injured by goon squads. Insist that our Soldiers and Sailors, called to the colors are properly equipped. Do this and I will promise you a Texas as patriotic, as self assertive as the Texas of old. Give us back our confidence in our officials as the Texas of old. Give us back our confidence in our Congress. Let Congress be patriotic enough to earn back our respect. A country is destroyed only when the people lose confidence in their leaders.

I am having printed and distributed the following:

My friend, Col. Ike Ashburn says: "Texans have a heritage rich in courage, fortitude and patriotism. They have built an empire based on freedom of worship, freedom of education and the RIGHT OF TEXANS TO WORK AS THEY PLEASE."

BUDGETING THE FAMILY INCOME

1. Keeping records on a farm, or ranch is very essential, said Miss Louise Bryant, Home Management Specialist of the Extension Service at a meeting held Wednesday, Nov. 19th at the County Agent's office. . . .

Every home should have a budget which is thought of as a plan for spending money earned. A good manager plans for spending time and energy as well as money. Management we get returns for our time, energy or money depends on how much we want out of life and how we plan and then strive to attain our goals.

Every family should do this cooperatively or as a family unit. It is wise to follow the five suggested points on good management:

2. Analyze and organize the work—Let children have responsibilities and let them share in all activities in the home. This should result in a happy family life.

2. Organize—Here family counsels should be held to make plans for all duties of work, recreation, spending, etc.

3. Deputize—Give every member some responsibility.

4. Supervise—Parents often make the mistake of supervising too closely. Let the duties of children the information and then let them go ahead.

5. Recognize—Parents too often fail to recognize a good piece of work a child has done. Just a bit of praise will encourage the child to continue doing a better job.

Are we spending our money wisely? How can we find out? Let's begin by taking an inventory. Don't forget to put your property worth? Then let's begin keeping a record. A loose leaf note book can be used to begin with. In this notebook there may be such headings as: Income, Income, operating expenses, equipment, food, clothing, household operations, development, saving, recreation, medical service, car expense, gifts and welfare, personal, etc.

Homemaking is a joint responsibility of husband, wife and children. There must be cooperation of the entire family before the home can be successful. The most successful plan or budget is the one where every member of the family takes part in the planning.

1. Make a list of all assets and liabilities.

2. Estimate net income for the year.

3. Analyze what you spent last year.

4. Make spending plan for the year by months.

5. Keep records and compare with plan.

6. Summarize your record and use it in making next year's plans.

In this way every family will know whether their clock is going forward or backward.

The Special Books given at the warehouse are splendid for keeping records. Let's all try and use these books as intended. It certainly will tell a worthwhile story at the close of the year if they're used as planned.

BANDERA H. D. CLUB

Give food for Christmas this year, said Miss Pflager, County Home Demonstration Agent, at the club meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 26, in the home of Mrs. J. F. Kalka.

Eggs, butter, canned fruits and vegetables, chickens, sausages, corn meal, potatoes, all of these are greatly appreciated by friends who do not have them and they look lovely all dressed up in holiday dress. The potatoes may be put in a sack made of course, heavy woven material and decorated with our native cedar and a spray of yopon berries; you will be amazed at their festive look.

Feed sacks may be made into any number of useful and attractive gifts—luncheon cloths, beautifully designed by the giver to please the most exacting, aprons, bonnets and any number of useful articles for the youngsters, lovely, cuddley stuffed dolls and animals that will be loved and enjoyed and they are such joy to make.

The club members gave reports on the achievements of the year. Try keeping a record during 1942 and see what a thrill you will get when you sum up. These records are not hard to keep as they do not require a complicated method of bookkeeping. Do try it!

Club officers elected for the ensuing year are president, Mrs. W. C. Allen; vice president, Mrs. F. G. Anderwald, secretary-treasurer, Miss Annie Kallous; council delegate, Mrs. F. J. Anderwald.

The club will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 14th at the home of Mrs. J. F. Kalka. All persons interested are invited to come.

world was electrified Sunday afternoon when word was sent over the radio that the Islands had been attacked by Japanese bombers. It is to believe that any people so treacherous as to start war when their envoys were in negotiations with United officials who were trying to some peaceful solution. CERTIFICATE OF TITLES NECESSARY BY JAN. 1st

Motor vehicle owners who have not yet secured a Certificate of Title for their Automobiles or trucks, should do so before Jan. 1st.

The State Highway Department has announced that it will be unlawful to operate any motor vehicle on any public road after January 1 on which such title has not been secured, nor may Tax Collectors issue license numbers unless the owner presents his Certificate of Title with receipts for new numbers for his car or truck.

To secure a Certificate of Title now, the owner of any vehicle should bring the bill of sale he obtained when the car or truck was bought to Bandera and pay a license receipt issued prior to Oct. 1, 1939, to prove ownership. Since it takes from 10 to 15 days to obtain a title it is not advisable to wait until the last days of December as the mail may not be issued upon the evidence of ownership presented and an owner might have to operate a car or truck at his own risk after Jan. 1.

Students appearing on the program were: Captains Gilbert Ashorvald and Leonard Edwards, Carroll Chandler and Pudell Queen, Daphna Evans, Mr. Briggs was awarded a sweater as outstanding player on several boys for a few words.

IT'S YOUR LIFE

"Give Courtesy for Christmas" is the theme of the December Traffic Safety Emergency Campaign in Texas which is designed to prevent the death of 195 persons in traffic accidents.

The slogan is a practical application of the Christmas spirit of Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men, to relationships with others—specifically, why not ask drivers and pedestrians to be patient, lenient and courteous with each other?

Courtesy will prevent a big percentage of traffic accidents, and during the 1941 Christmas season everyone should be willing to contribute such a small gift to the happiness and safety of others.

Not only would the reduction in accidents be an important aid to the National Defense Program by conserving valuable manpower and equipment, but it would prevent the needless tragedy that annually darkens the glow of holiday celebrations in hundreds of Texas homes.—George Clarke, Director Texas Safety Association.

NOTICE

The Medina P. T. A. will meet in a regular meeting next Friday night, Dec. 12, at 7:30 at the Home Economics cottage. You are cordially invited and requested to be present.

HELP BEAUTIFY BANDERA

Buy Defense Bonds Is Treasury Plea

Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, in a telegram to Frank Scofield, State Administrator of Defense Savings Staff, which was in turn sent to Judge A. V. Pue urges every citizen to purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps as often as possible to demonstrate to our enemies that America, in a war is behind our greatest national test. Mr. Scofield says in part: "Now that the inevitable has happened, won't you all put your hands to the plow with renewed fervor? Bring your County to the maximum of returns in Defense Savings to assist us in giving our government the necessary money to equip our fighting forces and those other countries who are fighting, that Pride Men may still live in the world.

"America means much to us; nothing is more important now than that you and I work with all haste to supply our boys in this war with the necessary guns, tanks, planes, ships and equipment of war to meet our enemy.

"Every dollar you save buying the home front to think of 'your way of life' and preserve it for our children."

RED CROSS ASKS FOR FUNDS

The American Red Cross has sent the following self-explanatory telegram to Mrs. J. O. Butler, local chairman:

"Again the American Red Cross is called upon to serve our nation in war. Both military and civilly we face vast and definite responsibilities for services to our armed forces and relief of the distressed civilians. To provide essential funds Red Cross today is launching a campaign for one fund of minimum of fifty million dollars. President will issue proclamation on Friday prescribing this appeal. Your chapter's goal is $2500. Chapter may retain fifteen per cent their collections for local war relief expenditures. Please advise how once decide full efforts to raising their quotas in shortest possible time. Please report action taken. We must not and shall not fail in this crisis."

Mrs. Joseph H. Davis

Do your part by contributing as liberally as possible. If you can, volunteer to assist in the collection of this fund. Many workers are needed in this educational work. Students appearing on the program were: Captains Gilbert Ashorvald and Leonard Edwards, Carroll Chandler and Pudell Queen, Daphna Evans, Mr. Briggs was awarded a sweater as outstanding player on several boys for a few words.

Besides the football boys those present were: 1940 Captain Felix Adamietz, members of the faculty, A. K. Briggs, T. H. Crowder, Radkin Conwill, W. P. Graham, J. L. Stevens and W. O. Patton; Mr. Meadows from school board, Rev. Kluck and Rev. Strobel.

WAR WITH JAPAN

We are now at war with Japan and most likely before the ink dries in this issue we will be in a total war against the other Axis nations, Germany and Italy. We are likely in for a long, hard war and must fight back with every means we can command. Nobody wants to live under the dictation of the "Jandits" and we MUST WIN or DIE in the attempt, and the New Era believes America will eventually win in the end.

We urge the people to do everything they can to win against the slant-eyed yellow devils who so cowardly attacked our possessions while talking peace. Help by buying Defense Bonds and Stamps and in any other way you can. Your Country needs help.

PERSONAL FREEDOM

American freedom, which our people so cherish, is not merely the freedom of religion, freedom of speech and of the press, which are fundamental principles of our government. It is also the freedom of people to control their personal lives.

Totalitarian governments claim to be more efficient. They get their efficiency by repressing individual liberties. Not merely do people have to shut their mouths, but they have to accept the work and pay the government permits them to have. Labor unions and strikes could not be permitted under such a government, as they would throw monkey wrenches into the government's program.

Perish claim is a Communistic or Socialistic government would be superior to one fought that it would provide employment for all the people. If it did so, it would have to order people to live and work where the government wanted to. If there was a surplus of dishwashers in New York City and a shortage of candy pullers in Los Angeles, the government would be likely to ship some of those surplus dishwashers to pull up stakes and go out and take the candy pullers' jobs. Even if it was better for them to do so, those surplus workers might not like to move, and that's the end. People usually want to live where they want to, and do the kind of work they are accustomed to.

It is possible that our country has gone too far in leaving people free to do things that disrupt our producing machinery. You can't win a war with an army that can do just as it wants to, and perhaps the battle against poverty and unemployment can't be won with everybody wholly free to act without regard to the public good. Most people are very wary about encroachments on personal freedom, and they resent anything that interferes with their liberty.

TELLING THE WORLD

There is a slang phrase which speaks about "telling the world." It expresses the thought that to make an impression on the world you have to talk about the facts or ideas in which you are interested. We all have to do considerable telling the world to get anywhere.

Advertising is a most effective form of telling the world. If you don't tell the world about your goods, how are they going to know they are specially desirable? Without such telling, countless concerns that were capable of success have fared poorly or gone under. They were in position to please the people, but the world was not told of the merits of their services and offerings.

HOME TOWN PROGRESS

You can estimate the future of a city very largely by the amount of interest it takes in movements for the benefit of the community. If a meeting is called to consider the needs of a city, and only a small group of people can be persuaded to attend, there seems a lack of public spirit and boosters. Such a town has not got glory for the future. There seems some lack of foundation for progress.

If such meetings are well attended and enthusiastic, if people offer their ideas as to how progress can be promoted, and will serve on committees to accomplish progressive steps, then the future of that community looks very bright. If a city has a good organization such as the Lions Club and if people join it and pay their dues and attend its meetings, you can be confident that place is going ahead.

Some towns are said to be asleep. The alarm clock of advertising will wake them up.

A community whose people will not cooperate to push the home town is like a football team that pays no attention to its signals.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Specific progress of town is something like weakening the foundation of a building. Some day the strain that supports the community is removed.

If you like your home town, say so to everybody, including both residents and strangers. Thus you spread faith in your home community, and give people confidence in its future.

The opportunities near home are apt to be the most hopeful, for people understand best how to deal with conditions with which they are familiar.

GETTING WHAT WE PAY FOR

In the long run, in buying goods, we get what we pay for. Of course there are bargains all the time, when we get good goods at surprising reductions. But in the main you have to pay a good price to get good goods.

It is the same in developing the future of a town. If you want a progressive community, which offers you the benefits of modern life, you have to pay for these advantages. Parity is money of course, but still more is effort. People have to pay a price of time generously given in supporting progressive movements and in carrying on essential organizations. In order to get the privileges they ask their home towns to provide.

Home Defense Meeting Held

The Home Defense meeting which was held last Saturday night, in the Library Auditorium was well and efficiently attended.

A Home Defense Committee was appointed by Judge Pue, composed of the following citizens: L. A. Heder, Chairman, representing the Selective Service Board; Capt. T. P. Grant representing the Bandera County U. S. D. A.; Sheriff W. H. Burns and A.-M. Smith, representing the F. H. R.; R. W. Meitzen representing the American Legion; Henry Fisher, representing the ranchmen and farmers; Bob King, representing industry, and Judge A. V. Pue as an ex-officio member.

Plans were discussed and formulated for the necessary action to be taken. Leslie Heder was requested to act as Brigadier General J. Watt Page for permission to organize and affiliate with the State.

Mr. Heder advocated that we sell our scrap-iron, tin-foil, paper, etc., and create a fund with which to operate. He suggested that our first step be to establish our lines of communication and repair and rebuild all telephone lines in the County, so that immediate contact could be established with all Warden Stations, and points of vital necessity. Also that a fund be used to buy other necessary equipment.

All of which sounds like a big order and it is, but we have a big bitter war on our hands and our very liberty is in jeopardize so the lives that would be lost and the havoc created by one bomb dropped in the right place. We must stop to think that we have one of the longest pipe lines in the country through our County, pumping millions of gallons of oil, oil which is the very life blood of our armoured divisions and ships and submarines. Then, too we have our high-lines to protect, these lines that furnish the power to pump a great deal of our water supply. With our water systems disrupted, what would we do in the event of conflagrations and fire and from bombs and incendiary bombs?

Capt. Grant made an interesting report on well fortified Switzerland was one of the small-est countries in Europe but was offered some very good suggestions for methods of defense.

H. P. Schlemeier and Ben Ellis, Bandera County Agent, outlined the location of the Air-Warden stations, and Chief Warden Burns explained some of the things required for top speed functioning of the organization.

The following names comprise the list of very determined workers who said they would join the Home Defense Unit: C. A. Ritchey, Ben Ellis, Jr., W. Cardwell, W. G. Askedi, Frank Braden, A. C. Zoeller, W. P. Grisham, Robert Stein, Ray P. Wyatt, Edgar Pue, G. O. Wesley, Louis M. Gubbels, Charles Rhea Mansfield, Ernest Schenke, Lawrence E. Kinney, J. Martin Hunter, Lucius Hicks, A. L. QUICK ACTION IN FARM MACHINERY DRIVE

When the Farm Machinery Repair Campaign was launched recently, Secretary Wickard had one important aim in mind—to make sure that the necessary machinery would be available for farmers to make good on the, 1942 production goals.

It was necessary for Defense Boards to organize a the repair campaign as rapidly as possible in order to find out whether there would be any shortage of parts so that steps could be taken in time to remedy shortages.

The fear is that farmers, not appreciating the time that it will take manufacturers to fill what is expected to be an unusually heavy volume of part replacement orders, will follow their usual custom of waiting until shortly before their services are needed to supply their dealers. This would create a bottleneck that may well challenge the ingenuity of Nation under the 1942 Farm Defense Program.

Farm machinery manufacturers have been given an A-10 rating on materials to manufacture repair parts and it is expected that further steps will be taken to allocate to them an adequate amount of the 16 or more types of steel that are used in production of repair parts for farm machinery. And, of course, facilities exist for processing this material into needed parts once the demand for these parts arises. But modern manufacturing methods make it essential that manufacturers know well in advance what demand to expect for, let us say, a transmission gear for a tractor. It might take a week or two to prepare for the production of such a gear. If the top demand for a tractor part is going to be 500 the manufacturer would want to make the entire 500 at one time. He could not afford to assemble the various machines needed to turn out 100 gears 5 separate times if the total demand were going to be for 500.

All of this points to but one conclusion: it must be impressed on farmers that they must survey their needs for replacement machine parts now and place their orders for such parts with their dealers at once. This is particularly true of farmers in the South and Far West where farm operations are either conducted on a year-round basis or start as early as February.

BLAST THOSE JAPS

"Blast those Japs," said Uncle Bill.
"Why the way they act is Crazy as—well,
I won't say it, but still.
They can't beat us I'm here to tell.

Makes me think of a boy I knew
Who got too big for his breeches.
And bragged about what he could do,
But was quiet next day when doc took stitches.

Them sneaking, dirty, low down Japs,
Trying to sneak in our back door;
Who do they think they are, the saps?

The Children

Watch father's face light up when you give him that lovely gift chosen from the Corner Drug Store.

An efficiently run business does not always get all the trade to which its service entitles it, because the people may not know about the values it offers. When it advertises, the people find out what it has to offer, and they flock to get the advantage of its service.

$50,000,000 RED CROSS WAR FUND NEEDED

The American Red Cross pledged to a major role in the nation's defense, has issued an appeal to the citizens of this community and of every American community for an emergency war fund of $50,000,000, it was announced today by L. A. Heder, chairman of the Bandera County Red Cross Emergency Drive.

"Not since the American Revolution," Mr. Heder declared, "has our nation faced so great a crisis. Not since it was founded, sixty years ago, has the American Red Cross assumed such vast responsibilities toward the defense of its country."

Every service of the Red Cross, Mr. Heder explained, must be greatly enlarged to cope with the national emergency. More volunteers must be certificated in the Red Cross canteen corps, nurses and auxiliary nurses and half a dozen other auxiliary groups who are being trained for service.

Already some 3,000,000 men and women in this country have been given courses in first aid, Mr. Heder stated. Today, Red Cross first aid instructors are cooperating with municipal defense officials throughout the nation in teaching first aid to a minimum 5 per cent of all workers in large factories, stores, or business firms. Industries are organizing "disaster corps" trained by the Red Cross to handle possible emergencies within their own plants, whether sabotage, fire or other disaster due to enemy action.

"As for the national Red Cross disaster workers," Mr. Heder went on, "they have, just in the past year, served 122 disasters within our borders, most of them explosions, fires, and windstorms similar to disasters caused by sabotage and air raids. In the present crisis, their numbers and equipment must be increased as wartime disasters will inevitably increase."

Mr. Heder, laid particular emphasis upon the American Red Cross welfare services to the United States armed forces. Since it is the only agency, he explained, that is permitted by law to handle the personal problems of the men in uniform and give them special care, whether on the field, or in hospital, or to their families on the home front, the Red Cross has become the greatest single factor in maintaining the morale of the American Army and Navy.

Red Cross services to the armed forces do not end there, Mr. Heder also pointed out. From the membership rules of the Red Cross Nursing Reserves, now put at 43,000, are chosen the nurses willing and fit to enter military service with our Army and Navy. Already thousands of nurses have voluntarily gone out from the Red Cross roster to begin their years of war duty.

"The gift of human blood," Mr. Heder said, "is another responsibility of the American Red Cross. Dried blood plasma is being manufactured today out of whole blood through collection centers in key cities and sent out by the Red Cross to military hospitals and to our ships at sea wherever American forces are stationed. The Army and Navy have asked the Red Cross for 200,000 units of blood, and the Red Cross will see to it that they receive them."

This is not the first time, Mr. Heder remarked, that the American Red Cross has been called upon for great deeds and the expenditure of huge sums. During the first World War, Americans gave approximately $400,000,000 for the Red Cross. Since then, the organization has come of age, until today it has become one of America's first lines of defense and reconstruction.

The Red Cross campaign ahead of us," Mr. Heder pointed out, "will be our chance as civilians to assume a share in the coming battle to prove the strength of our community and our nation. Our Quota for the county is $500.

SAN ANGELO ATTORNEY IN CONGRESS RACE

Second man to announce his candidacy for Congressman from the 21st District is O. C. Fischer of San Angelo.

Harry Knox of Brownwood now chairman of the State Board of Control, several days ago announced he would be a candidate for the place now held by Charles E. Stenholm of Coleman.

Fischer is 51st District Attorney and former county attorney and 91st District representative. He is a native of Junction. In announcing his candidacy he said he was whole-heartedly in accord with the Roosevelt-Hull Foreign policy.

"SLINGIN SAMMY" BAUGH GETS LEADING ROLE IN NEW SERIAL

When Hygienic instituted its search for the lead in its serial, "King of the Texas Rangers," which will show locally every Friday and Saturday for twelve weeks at the Bantex Theatre beginning this week, a native Texan was the logical choice. And "Slingin' Sammy" Baugh, who had made football history in the Star State finally walked off with the coveted title role.

Baugh was born on St. Patrick's day in the year 1914, in Temple, Texas, of Scotch-Irish descent. His father, J. V. Baugh, was a railroad clerk and Sammy was raised in modest circumstances with his younger brother, Bob, and his sister, Nell. He had a paper route when he was still in grade school, and as early as that he began saving his money so that he could go to college and become a football player, and someday become a coach.

He showed early promise in high school of being an outstanding gridiron star, and when he enrolled in Texas Christian University he displayed phenomenal ability as a passer. He was also active in other college sports, including baseball and basketball.

After his graduation in 1937, he remained in a Freshman coaching job, but soon went professional, joining the Washington Redskins. His talents in the world of sports were versatile, and he alternated football with professional baseball, playing third base and short stop with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1938.

In the meantime, he keeps in condition by roping calves on the ranch operated by his brother Bob in Texas. His interest in ranching is second only to his interest in football, and he readily admits that his interest in "movie actin'" runs third. All of his vacations are spent on his brother's ranch, and one of his greatest ambitions is to someday own a ranch of his own.

Sammy is married to Edmonia Gary Smith, a former coed at Texas Christian, who was his college sweetheart. He is six feet two inches in height and weighs 188. He has blue eyes and black hair. His one and only extravagance is spending money on horses, saddles, trappings, etc.

Among his most prized possessions he cherishes his Scotty dog, "Sandy" and a diamond ring given to him by the citizens of his home town on the completion of his college football career.

He is loyal to his friendships, and his closest friend is Dick Todd, who played against him in college and with him in professional football.

In "King of the Texas Rangers" he portrays the role of a young college football player who abandons his sports career to join the Texas Rangers and help round up the murderers of his father, who was engaged in destroying American oil fields for an enemy government. The serial presents a number of football scenes which show the inimitable "Slingin' Sammy" in action.

CHRISTMAS

The cloud of war rests like a dark shadow over our land. But let us turn away from the sombre picture to the brightness of Christmas Day, and forget, our fears and sorrows.

The world was turned upside down by the coming of Jesus. The vast Roman empire which covered much parts of the earth as were then known, had to yield before the power of the Christmas spirit. So our faith will go on and on, winning over the evil natures of men.

Christmas should fill the heart with hope and joy, even in dark days. The merry laughter of children, as their eyes pop out when they see a sparkling and brilliant tree, should make us all feel young again. Pa and Ma and Grandpa and Grandma can well share around after them.

Christmas is a glorious occasion, because it sets itself against the general selfishness of mankind. In this life of struggle and competition, with people pushing for their own advancement and pleasure, Christmas tells us to spread happiness.

People get more pleasure from giving others nice presents that satisfy needs and longings, than they ever do in spending money on their own pleasures. If only the Christmas spirit could last over a longer period, and if only people that they should keep giving, particularly to those who need their generosity the life devoted to kindness would be far happier.

The Christmas picture is one of the most beautiful things in life. It has been true which tells of the shimmering forest from which it came, the bright lights which fell to show Christ came to lighten our darkness, the carols in the churches and on the streets, set forth the happiness which Jesus tried to bring to the world. Those are foretastes of a celestial life where there shall be no more war, and sorrow and sighing shall be done away.

THE RUSH TO THE COLORS

Great increases in recruiting for the armed forces of the nation are reported. Some stations note 10 to 20 times as many as usual. Parents tell of quite young boys who are eager to join the forces, and share the dangers and acquire the glory of the soldier.

Lessons of patriotism taught to our young people have not been wasted. There has been talk about lack of enthusiasm among some of the drafted men. Probably the main cause of any such lack was the fact that the war seemed a long distance away, well across two great oceans. And it is hard to create enthusiasm for military preparation when there is a lack of heated weapons with which to train.

The American people were utterly slow in providing such weapons. They allowed the war clouds to grow blacker and blacker, and for years did very little about it. When the storm breaks on us, and the lightnings flash their death, and the thunder of guns is heard, our people regret their lack of foresight.

It is an anxious day for parents when their boy says he wants to enlist for war. They say that in many cases it is due to mere desire of youth for adventure, the wish for new scenes and exciting experiences. It is fortunate for the nation that youth has this superb courage, that can treat danger with such a contemptuous smile.

The wave of anger that spread over the land when Japan, made its stealthy attack, stirred the country to its very depths. Countless men, both young and old, have said they would like to shoulder a gun and teach those people a lesson they will remember. Countless young men are eager and impetuous nature share that feeling. It was that eagerness and defiance that made Germany turn and ruin in 1918. It will do the same thing to Japan.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

The American people have just given a magnificent display of patriotism and loyalty to their government. One way to help the government is to aid generously in all movements that make better communities.

You don't expect a child to grow unless it has all the food it needs. Don't expect your home town to grow if you deprive it of a good share of its business nourishment by failing to patronize its home stores.

For your information we are quoting below a letter written by Mr. Paul C. Cabot, Deputy Chief, Bureau of Industrial Conservation, Office Production Management, explaining "The Delay in Delivering Stocks of Scrap Aluminum in the Aluminum Campaign."

"In the first place, all of the bits and pans contributed by the Nation's housewives will be used directly in defense and the material will not be used for civilian purposes. More recently, however, in order to make this doubly sure, it was arranged that substantially all of the ingot resulting from the melting down of the pots and pans will be sold to the Metals Reserve Company, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation which is, as you know, a Federal agency. are also hold title to the ingot and have to sell it to specified users that will be designated by the Aluminum and Magnesium Branch of the Office of Production Management. It is specified that at least 20 per cent of the ingots produced shall be so-called 99 per cent plus aluminum. This is a very high-grade secondary, aluminum and can be used directly in airplane construction. At least 50 per cent is the so-called No. 12 aluminum which is an aluminum alloy that can be used for castings and, hence, in direct defense production. The balance, or not more than 55 per cent is in the form of so-called 'decoating' aluminum which is essential in steel mill operation. Its use in this manner and likewise any such quantity of primary aluminum which will be used directly for airplane or other defense construction.

"The proceeds from the sale of scrap to the smelters are part of the Miscellaneous Receipts of the Treasury Department, and as such are exactly like all other Federal funds, subject to the appropriation of the Congress.

"The campaign was not undertaken for its propaganda effect, but for the necessity of the material involved. You know there has been delay in moving the material from the concentration points to the smelters. We have been assured that the material was deemed advisable to have the material sold directly to the smelters. Normally, this type of material would be sold to some two or three thousand dealers scattered all over the country who would clean, sort, segregate and then sell the material. Instead of using the normal trade procedure, 28 smelters were asked to perform this service for which they had no machinery, no help and substantially no experience. Also, they had insufficient yard space and it was impossible for them to take in a new batch of material until they had processed the first batch. Obviously, 28 smelters cannot do what two or three thousand dealers could do in the same time—hence the delay."

Very truly yours,

Let us therefore lift our eyes to the Star of Bethlehem, eternal symbol of love and peace, and pray earnestly for strength and wisdom: for the triumph of right and justice and for the relief of distressed peoples in every land. "On earth Peace, good will toward men."

America's Second Line of Defense

Today America's destiny rests in the hands of two defense lines—our armed forces and those of us working in essential industries.

One of our Nation's most important essentials is oil—not only for our defense requirements, but for all related civilian activities.

Texas supplies over one-third of America's oil and we Texans who work in this vital industry—250,000 of us—are proud of our part in providing it. We know how necessary it is to National Defense.

There can be no interruption in the flow of these materials so vital to our Nation's safety. The task calls for the all-out skill, experience and loyalty of every American.

THE ADVERTISING THERMOMETER

A thermometer measures the heat in the atmosphere. There are thermometers of a mental nature also, which measure the amount of energy, enthusiasm and successful power being put into some phase of human activity.

One of these thermometers is found in the advertising columns of a newspaper. It reflects the state of prosperity and enterprise in its home town, as the physical thermometer reflects the warmth of the day. If enterprise in that town is high, it will be shown in a high amount of advertising space in the newspaper. If enterprise is low in that community, do not look for any considerable amount of newspaper advertising. When the advertising thermometer rises, more business is coming into that town.

Have your eyes tested free for glasses by Dr. Brymer.

DEAD FROM SHOCK

It is sometimes humorously stated that people are frightened to death from the shocking bodily functions they get up in the morning, get up and drink coffee, breathe and carry on activity, but they keep on seems to be dead, but they want to sleep a long time and not awakened.

Some towns are that way through the years. They were alive, but there is no energy or mental activity to push these towns forward, produce better conditions, thought and planning a work life an individual accomplish gains. The same is true of towns. They are to be thinking and working on how to forward ahead, and thus and working activities delegated to any real people.

The popular idea that rainbows cannot be photographed is just another of the examples of false ideas because nobody tries to test them. Anyone who has ever made a set of spectroscopes to photograph a rainbow can show you plenty of photographs of them. They, W. J. Longest Single Set

At the Mid-Kent Cup Tables, held at the West Side Tennis club in New York in 1914, McLoughlin of the United States defeated Brookes of Australia by a score of 17 to 15, the longest singles set ever to be played in one of these completed matches.

Sterling Silver Not Pure

If sterling silver were actually pure silver metal, it would be too soft for ordinary use, particularly for tableware as coins. The United States official specifications for sterling silver are 92½ per cent silver and 7½ per cent alloy. For hardening purposes, the alloy is chiefly copper. It is not correct to speak of sterling silverware as "solid silver" or pure silver.

Pure, Religion

The Bible defines pure religion, according to James, 1:27: "Pure religion undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

CHRISTMAS

The cloud of war vesid like a dark shadow over our land. Let us turn away from the somber picture to the brightness of Christmas Day, and forget our fears and sorrows.

The world was turned upside down by the coming of Jesus. The vast Roman empire which covered such parts of the earth as were then known, had to yield before the power of the Christmas spirit. So his faith will go on and on, winning over the evil natures of men.

Christmas should fill the heart with hope and joy, even in dark days. The merry laughter of children, as their eyes pop out when they see a sparkling and brilliant tree, should make us all feel young again. Pa and Ma and Grandpa and Grandma can well dance around the tree.

Christmas is a glorious occasion, because it sets itself against the general selfishness of mankind. In this day of struggle and competition, with people pushing for their own advancement and pleasure, Christmas tells us to spread happiness.

There is more pleasure from giving others nice presents that satisfy needs and longings, than there is in spending money on their own pleasures. If only the Christmas spirit could last over a long period of time, since people that they should keep giving, particularly to those who need their generosity, the life devoted to kindness would be far happier.

The Christmas picture is one of the most beautiful things in life. The green tree which tells of the shimmering forest from which it came, the bright lights which tell us how Christ came to lighten our darkness, the candles in the churches and on the streets, set forth the happiness which Jesus tried to bring to the world. These are foretastes of a celestial life where there shall be no more war, and sorrow and sighing shall be done away.

THE RUSH TO THE COLORS

Great increase in recruiting for the armed forces of the nation are reported. Some stations note 10 to 20 times as many as usual. Parents tell of quite young boys who are eager to join the forces, and share the dangues and acquire the glory of the soldier.

Lessons of patriotism taught to our young people have not been wasted. There has been much about lack of enthusiasm among some of the drafted men. Probably the main cause of any such lack was the fact that the war seemed a long distance away, well across two great oceans. Also it is hard to create enthusiasm for military preparation when there is a lack of needed weapons with which to train.

The American people were terribly slow in providing such weapons. They allowed the war clouds to grow blacker and blacker, and for years did very little about it. When the storm breaks on us, and the lightnings flash their death, and the thunder of guns is heard, our people regret their lack of foresight.

It is an anxious day for parents when their boy says he wants to enlist for war. They say that in many cases it is due to mere desire of youth for adventure, the wish for new scenes and exciting experiences. It is fortunate for the nation that youth has this superb courage, that can treat danger with such a contemptuous smile.

The wave of anger that spread over the land when Japan made its stealthy attack, stirred the country to its very depths. Countless men, both young and old, have said they would like to shoulder a gun and teach these people a lesson they will remember. Countless young men eager and impetuous nature share that feeling. It was that eagerness and defiance that made Germany turn and run in 1918. It will do the same thing to Japan.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

The American people have just given a magnificent display of patriotism and loyalty to their government. One way to help the government is to aid generously in all movements that make better communities.

You don't expect a child to grow unless it has all the food it needs. Don't expect your home town to grow if you deprive it of a good share of its business nourishment by failing to patronize its home stores.

You will be interested by the following letter, written by Mr. Paul C. Cabot, Deputy Chief, Bureau of Industrial Conservation, Office Production Management, explaining the Delay in Collecting Stocks of Scrap Aluminum in the Aluminum Campaign."

"In the first place, all of the pots and pans contributed by the Nation's housewives will be used directly in defense and the material was and is urgently needed. Specifically the pots and pans were sold in the first instance by the Treasury Department to 29 smelters selected because of the fact that they had defense preference ratings and, therefore, the proceeds of their manufacture was controlled by the Office of Production Management and could only go to designated users who would use the material for defense purposes. More recently, however, in order to make this doubly sure, it was arranged that substantially all of the ingot resulting from the melting down of the pots and pans will be sold to the Metals Reserve Company, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation which is, as you know, a Federal agency. My Neighbor Says:

To prevent a cream pie shell bubbling up in the center scatter rice or macaroni over it before putting into the oven.

When baking a meringue on pie or pudding use no more than a little moderate heat. Meringue fails when oven is too hot.

Flour and sugar are very sensitive to moisture. They should be stored in covered containers and kept in a dry place.

Add food colorings very carefully. Remember that a little colorful goes a long way—and highly colored foods are not palatable.

If a recipe calls for sour cream and you have none, you should be able to get street teaspoons of butter instead of the sour cream.

Wedding engagements may be announced by placing small bags of rice on each plate. Each bag should contain the names of the engaged couple.

IT IS POSSIBLE TO PHOTOGRAPH RAINBOWS

The popular idea that rainbows cannot be photographed is just another example of fallacies that people blindly tries to test them. Anyone who has ever made a serious attempt to photograph a rainbow can show you plenty of photographs of them. Prof. W. J. Humphrey's book, "Weather and Parasenes," has a remarkable picture of a rainbow. Get out your camera and try it on the next celestial spectrum, with plain or color film, and see for yourself.

LETTER FROM DR. BONNSTETTER

Edgar McKay received the following letter and handed it to us for publication:

Kenedy, Texas
December 21, 1941

My dear Staff:

Well why I was recalled for an examination last Tuesday, so it will only be a short time until I am back in the service. I know that a great number of the good folks around Bandera thought that I was walking out on them when I left but I was not. I was merely repairing my fences in preparation for what I knew was coming all the time. Now at least I have my equipment leased out or sold whichever I choose -instead of holding it in storage.

Have thought of you all many, many times during the past few weeks and have made the remark over and over again that the Friendliest People in the Whole World live up in Bandera, Texas.

Will be seeing you on the BURMA Road in China. With every good wish for you and your folks for a pleasant Holiday Season, I remain,

Sincerely,
H. J. Bonnstetter, M. D.

Sterling Silver Not Pure

If sterling silver were actually pure silver metal, it would be too soft for ordinary use, Mrs. Gilbert as tableware or as coins. The United States official specifications for silver are 92½ per cent silver and 7½ per cent alloy. For hardening purposes, the alloy is chiefly copper. So it is not correct to speak of sterling silverware as "solid silver" or "pure silver."

Pure Religion

The Bible defines pure religion, according to James, 1:27: "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

At the Davis Cup matches, held at the West Side Tennis club in New York in 1914, McLoughlin of the United States defeated Brookes of Australia by a score of 11 to 13, the longest singles set ever to be played in one of these completed matches.

Dear Mr. Heder:

This will confirm our telephone conversation relative to organizing a Texas Defense Guard unit in your city.

Due to the heavy influx of letter and telegraphic correspondence, this office is unable to take action on these matters immediately and it will require a careful examination of the map of Texas so as to fix the strategic necessity for the location of defense guard companies in additional towns in Texas.

The matter will have the attention of this office as fast as it can be handled, and you will be notified further in the event and as soon as the question of authorization can be determined.

GOVERNOR

People of Texas:

This hour is too solemn for ordinary Christmas greetings. Once again our nation is plunged into cruel war. Trials and tribulations stare us in the face. But we are a brave people. Christian endeavor fortifies us. We will win the victory by the forces within us.

Let us therefore lift our eyes to the star of Bethlehem, eternal symbol of love and peace, and pray earnestly for strength and wisdom: For the triumph of right and justice and for the relief of distressed peoples in every land.

"On earth Peace, good will toward men."

December 1941

Sincerely yours,

America's Second Line of Defense

Today America's destiny rests in the hands of two defense lines—our armed forces and those of us working in essential industries.

One of our Nation's most important essentials is oil—not only for our defense requirements, but for all related civilian activities.

Texas supplies over one-third of America's oil and we Texans who work in this vital industry—250,000 of us—are proud of our part in providing it. We know how necessary it is to National Defense.

There can be no interruption in the flow of these materials so vital to our Nation's safety. The task calls for the all-out skill, experience and loyalty of every American.

Truck owners who have not already registered your trucks may come into my office if you wish and I will help you fill in your questionnaires.

I am sending blanks to Judge N.-V. Bralley at Medina and to J. J. Leighton at Vanderpool for the convenience of those who live in their neighborhoods. It is very important that all trucks be registered at once.

New Tire Sale Rules Announced

Bicycle tires are now available but Uncle Sam really means business in stepping down on new rubber supplies for motorcycles, many truck operators, defined in instructions on the conservation program showed when issued Sunday.

A ban on sale of bicycle tires was issued the same time that similar restrictions were placed on thgse for automobiles.

Persons who have believed that the automobile tire future was not to be as dark as first predicted are in for a rude awakening.

To obtain a new tire when the rationing plan goes into effect Jan. 5, an owner first must be an eligible user. On this eligible list will be only operators of vehicles required for maintenance of the public health and safety, transportation vehicles with a capacity of ten or more passengers, and essential truck operations.

Rationing will be under authority of the price administrator, OPM, delegated to the Office of Price Administration, and will work solely through state defense councils. Only contact with local rationing boards will be through the state councils. The tire rationing order and the plan for its administration have been countersigned by President Roosevelt so the instructions received Sunday are completely authentic.

Conditions that must be met for the purchase of new tires and tubes are:

1. That the vehicle on which the new tire casing or tube is to be mounted constitutes an eligible vehicle as described above.

2. That the vehicle cannot be replaced by one owned, operated, or subject to the control of the applicant, which is equipped with serviceable tires and tubes dealed which is not fully employed for a use specified in one or more of the listed classes of use.

3. That the tire, casing or tube, is to be mounted at once or to replace a tire, casing or tube no longer serviceable.

4. That the tire, casing or tube, when added to all other tires, casings and tubes of the applicant's possession, whether unmounted or mounted on a vehicle, whose use is limited is applied only to eligible vehicles, does not add up to more than one new tire, casing or tube of a given size for each eligible vehicle.

5. That the existing tire, casing or tube cannot be recapped, retreaded or repaired for safe use at speeds which the applicant may reasonably be expected to operate or that much recapping, retreading or repairing cannot be obtained without unreasonable delay.

6. That the applicant agrees to trade in replaced tires, casings and tubes on new tires, casings and tubes purchased and recorded and to dispose of replaced tires, casings and tubes as may otherwise be directed by the OPA.

Tire Rationing Board Appointed

County Judge A. Y. Poe has appointed W. R. Fletcher, Fred Thalmann and W. O. Hatfield as members of the Bandera County Tire Rationing Board. In issuing tire purchase certificates, Board members are limited to 25 per cent of the monthly quota during the first ten days of the month and to an additional 25 per cent each 10 days thereafter. No tire or tube local board can issue purchase certificates for more tires than are covered by the monthly quota. Unused portions of any quota do not carry over. The Bandera County quota for January is two, all for passenger cars. 29 tires and 24 tubes for trucks and buses.

To purchase a new tire or tube under the quotas, an eligible purchaser must fill out an application blank at his local board and an inspector as to the condition of the tire or tube being replaced. The application then must be taken to the local board which can issue a certificate for purchase if the purchaser can show that he is eligible. The applicant would then, be taken to a tire dealer where the tire or tube may be purchased. The eligibility hearing several covers vehicles whose operation is required to maintain public health and safety, busses used by a majority of 20 or more passengers and necessary truck operations.

20-44 Registration Date Feb. 16th

Washington, Jan. 5.—Officials estimated Monday night that 1,- 500,000 men would be made immediately available for the army of selectees by Feb. 16 registrants of those aged 20 to 44, inclusive, who are not already on selective service rolls.

President Roosevelt's proclamation Monday setting the mid-February date for listing of unregistered men subject to combat duty under the new selective service law will affect about 9,000,000 men.

Officials said it was expected that this group would include the following class 1-A men, available for immediate call to duty:

20-year-olds, 600,000; 21-year-olds (who have reached that age since last registration), 800,000; 36 to 44 year-olds, 400,000.

With over 1,500,000 men already in the Army, the new registration will place the nation in position to put over 4,000,000 men under arms without calling any classes under 1-A and leaving out the men who are in the army and may be accepted as volunteers.

The new selective service act provides that all male citizens and most aliens aged 18 to 64, inclusive; although only those aged 20 to 44, inclusive, are subject to combat duty.

Hoosevelt's proclamation...made no mention of a separate registration for 20-44 group. There were unofficial reports, however, that two additional dates would be set aside for registration of 18 to 19 year olds and the other for the 45-64 group.

In the technical language of the proclamation, the Feb. 16 registration order applies to men born on or after Feb. 17, 1897, and on or before Dec. 31, 1921. The existing machinery will be used.

Registration between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. (local time), is to take place in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Song—"What a Friend We Have In Jesus" was sung. Mrs. Geo. Dayton led in prayer. Vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. Epps Sewell. Almost everyone present gave something for the white gift. Very interesting. Song: "Jesus Savior Pilot Me" was sung. Mrs. Dayton had a chain of prayers offered and the closing prayer was given by Mrs. Carl Bush.

Refreshments of Sandwiches, fruit cake and hot coffee served by Mesdames Geo. Dayton, B. P. Collins, F. P. Whitehurst, E. E. Bancelin, Ernest Lockwood, Bessie Casafax, Walter Rees, Carl Bush, E. C. Epps Sewell and daughter, Miss Beulah Smith and the hostess, Mrs. A. N. Sewell.

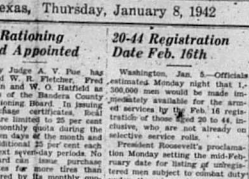
More Power to U. S.



Two new destroyers, the U. S. S. Fitch and the U. S. Forrest, were launched within a few minutes of each other at Boston navy yard. Immediately after the launching, keels for two new ships were laid on the same ways, the Fitch, shown here with Mrs. Franklin K. Walker Thomas of Salt Lake City, Utah, who was named sponsor of the destroyer, and Lieut.-Comm. Walter Ferguson Fitch.

LET'S MOVE OUR SCRAP-IRON

The Home Defense Committee is anxious for people to start moving their scrap-iron.

It is imperative that we get this iron to the smelters as quickly as possible so that they in turn can get it to the Government project where it can be made into all of it and desire to handle it with all possible dispatch.

There has been little interest shown around Bandera and Medina. Mr. Bowling in the ten. We have received a truck load from Vanderpool and I was informed by Mr. Ring of Station C that they had accumulated fifteen tons or more and will continue to bring it to Bandera as fast as trucks are available. Anyone can promote the Commissioners Court that they help furnish trucks to haul it as convenient.

We have quite an accumulation of waste paper, boxes and tin-foil in Bandera which is being stored in the Jail House in front of the ice plant.

Mr. Hayes has generously offered to haul this waste paper, rags, etc. to San Antonio free of charge. Please don't mix tin-foil with it, spread it out flat and put it in boxes. Paper must be separated to size of the pieces.

The committee let's get together on this vitally important matter and get things moving.

We appreciate very much all the assistance and cooperation I have had from the people and are still acceptable to the Red Cross War Fund.

L. A. Heder
Chairman Home Defense Com.

WOOL USE CUT TO 40%

Washington, Jan. 3.—The OPM Saturday ordered civilians use of new wool, such as that for clothes, rugs and other items reduced during the first quarter of 1942 to only 40 per cent of the amount used during the same period last year. The order became effective immediately.

The industry as a whole was ordered to limit its use of new wool for all purposes during the quarter to 80 per cent of the total consumed in the 1941 quarter. Limits were imposed on manufacturers who use their entire wool supply for military production.

OPM officials admitted the curtailment probably would force about 30,000 workers out of jobs in the industry, which now employs about 190,000.

Two directors for the Bandera Water Conservation & Improvement District will be elected next Tuesday to serve for two years. The J. G. Wemyss and R. W. Mistean expire, and they have agreed to stand for election.

After being asked to do so Sheriff Burns picked up a suspect here last Friday, a man who claimed he lived in Youngstown, Ohio. He was thought to be a deserter, but was released after two F. B. I. men investigated the case.

can or should contribute to the 1942 beef and veal slaughter goal will vary greatly. A flat percentage increase in marketings cannot be expected from the various areas within a State; nor can increases in producers within an area be expected to increase marketings by the same proportion. But the total marketings which should be made are shown in the State goals. Meeting these goals will serve the best interests of the cattlemen and the Nation.

RETREADING TIRES RECOMMENDED

Possibilities of retreading old tires to help conserve the nation's supply of rubber have been called to the attention of motorists by the Consumer Division of the U. S. Office of Price Administration. A statement from the Consumer Division of the Office of Price Administration, issued in view of the current prohibition on new automobile tire sales announced, by the Office of Production Management.

For many years motorists who would not think of throwing away a pair of shoes just because of a hole in the sole have discarded their tires when the tread was worn smooth. This practice, however, wasted the good rubber left in the unworn part of the tire. Since the war in the Pacific has created further rubber importations, this wasteful practice should be eliminated as far as possible.

Recapping tires saves about six pounds of rubber per tire. With their present extremely increased need year, OPA estimates that the nation's autos can be kept rolling if the present losses of rubber will be saved for defense uses.

The cost of retreading a passenger car tire runs forty to fifty per cent of the cost of a new tire, but the rubber saved is seventy five to eighty per cent of new tire mileage. Most worn tires which have been scrapped with the walls are deeply cut or fissured.

1. Tires should be removed for reconditioning when the original tread is beginning to disappear.

2. The tire should be examined by the skilled tire repair shop for factors: He will examine the beads which hold the tire on the rim to see that the cords or wire strands have not chafed through the fabric. He will see if the inside casing is free from cuts, nail holes or fissures. He will disregard cuts on the outer surface and if they have not gone through the fabric beyond two plies. He will examine the carcass to be sure that the tread has not become separated from the carcass of the tire.

3. The process known as recapping or top capping in treading a tire is preferable to the process where the old tire is cut down below the breaker strips, and new rubber added down over the shoulders of a tire. The latter process takes more rubber. It also makes the tire more susceptible to blowouts.

Regrooving, which consists of cutting a tread in smoothly worn tires, should not be used. It wastes part of the rubber and makes the tire unsuitable for recapping.

CHILDREN IS WAR DAYS -

One of the problems of war time is how to handle the children, and keep them from getting morbid and over excited. They are stirred and thrilled by the stories of fighting and slaughter. Some of them may become a little hysterical. It was feared in Hungary when that country was subjected to incessant bombing, that many children would suffer permanent nervous injury.

The children of today are more closely in touch with events than those of a former age. They are probably more mature at 10 years than children formerly were at 15 or 16. Their little hearts and brains are trying to keep up with a staggering pace, may almost burst with the anxious thoughts that come to them.

It is not possible to keep them out of touch with these developments and not turning the world upside down. They have to learn to meet the world as it is, and they have to live in a world that are trying to injure and destroy. They have to be shown the folly and wickedness of these acts.

Children at this time more than ever, need games and sports, so they can forget the tragedy that is on this violent side of life.

They are enjoying their winter sports, and will enjoy baseball later, their thoughts for a time will flow along normally, and they will be ready to wake up at night with frightful war dreams.

The idle child left with no occupation for spare hours, may contract many bad habits. Just where his activities will lead him in the course of a world that is torn from its peaceful moorings no one can say. To the Director of Comfort visiting Frontier Times Museum Saturday.

CREATURES OF HABIT

The average people may not be so much at home folks think, but they form strong habits of comfort and ease. If the shortage of rubber should deprive many people of the use of their automobiles for a time, there will be much suffering and grumbling.

Our people will make quite a fuss over any disarrangement of their daily habits. Even in the small details of daily life whether they get the right brand of coffee, if the eggs are not cooked just right, they are not able of showing off considerable displeasure and grumbling.

So on this question of the possible misuse of many automobiles, exists a failure to get them, some people will think a moderate amount of walking a real hardship. Where their ancestors could go out into the forest and cut down great trees and root the stumps out of the ground and erect their physically deteriorated descendants won't perhaps be able to walk a mile.

Our people do have a grand way of rising for emergencies. If their old habits are suddenly disrupted they recover their power of action to a remarkable degree. The young folks enjoy the luxury of modern automobiles and the convenience of summer resorts. But if these attractions became unreasonable for some reason, they would go out to the wilderness and live in a tent by some lake and subsist on fish and canned stuff. And have a grand time.

The experience of the young men on military training camps is a wonderful thing to break up old habits of inaction, and teach them that they can again live a life of strength and toil. Our people have never been accustomed to lie down in defeat. When an emergency comes to them, they say the hill simply has to be climbed, and they climb it with a shout of victory.

THE HOME STORES

The business of running retail stores in places like Bandera has been many changes. Years ago fisticuffs concerns in such places had some tendency to plod along in old ruts without due attention to modern needs. Today our business people are the most wide awake bunch one can imagine. If there are any new ideas going around, they hear about these things, and they are alert to obtain these new ideas for the benefit of their customers.

At the same time they are very practical. They know what their home neighborhood people want, and they keep in touch with the latest developments in modern trade. If anyone wants the most practical and modern stuff, it is hard to see how you can beat the stores of Bandera.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Who must file a return? Every single person having a gross income of $750 or more; every married person, not living with husband or wife, and having a gross income of $2500 or more; and married persons living with husband or wife, who have an aggregate gross income of $3,500 or more.

When must returns be filed? For the calendar year 1941, on or before March 16, 1942. For the fiscal year, on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of the fiscal year.

Where and with whom must income tax returns be filed? In the internal revenue district in which the person lives or has his chief place of business and with the collector of internal revenue.

How does one make out his income tax return? By following the detailed instructions given on the income tax blanks, Form 1040 and Form 1040A (optional simplified form.)

What is the tax rate? A normal tax of 4 per cent on the amount of the net income in excess of the allowable credits against net income, personal exemption, credits for dependents, interest on obligations of the United States and its instrumentalities and earned income credit, the computation of the normal tax and a graduated surtax on the amount by which income in excess of the allowable credits (including personal exemption and credit for dependents) against net income in the computation of the surtax exceeds $4,000.

ONLY ONE ACCOUNT NUMBER TO NEED

In this part of the State, there are men and women who spend their spare time hunting, trapping, farms and ranches and then at odd periods during the year find that very little "wild" belongs to each worker to obtain a social security account number. It was stated by Mr. Ben Kirby, Jr., manager of the San Antonio office of the Social Security Board who visited here recently.

"Many a worker already has his social security account number, he finds when he goes to work he should obtain another one. Packinghouse farmers should have one—and only one number—and remember that number is for, his use during his entire lifetime. The San Antonio office of the Social Security Board will furnish a social security account number card to anyone who requests it, even if he has never had a card, he will be given one that he should always keep. If a worker has had an account number card and lost it, he may obtain a duplicate card with the same number on it. There is no charge for this service, which can be obtained by calling at or writing to the San Antonio office located in the Majestic Building."

It was further explained by Mr. McCarthy that the Government cannot keep track of the amount of a worker's wages unless he has a social security account number and given a number to each employer for whom he works. Every three months the employer is required to report the wages of his employees to the Federal Government. In his quarterly tax report, he must show the social security number of each employee.

Benefits which may become payable to a worker or to the survivors of a deceased worker under the Federal old-age and survivors' insurance law are based on the amount of wages received by the worker," McCarthy said. "It is important, therefore, that an employer have on file each employee's account number in order that he may record it on his books along with the name and account of wages of each worker."

TARPLEY TRAPPER WINS AWARD

F. A. Hicks, well known trapper of Tarpley, Bandera County, is winner of a Daisy Award for correct pelt preparation in the 1941 National Fur Show conducted by the Fur Marketing Service of Sears, Roebuck and Co.

Hicks' carefully handled fur-tail pelt brought him one of the 45 Daily Awards, as a result of its "Correct pelt preparation—the prime purpose of the Fur Shows —has proved to be of vital importance to trappers, due to the fact that millions of dollars were formerly wasted through careless, incorrect skinning, stretching and drying of skins—dollars which could readily have gone into the trappers' pockets instead of being cast to the winds. Well-prepared pelts command more money than poorly handled ones—thus increasing not alone the earnings of the trapper, but the value of our country's natural resources. The Fur Show was established to encourage correct pelt handling.

This season's 13th National Fur Show offers $4,500 in cash awards, offering besides the daily $5 awards, ten major awards and accessories, to $1,950." Trappers eagerly sought-after $1,000 First Award — plus twelve sectional awards for regional pelt presentments aggregating $800. All awards are for handling of pelts only—not for trapping skill. Every pelt shipped to Sears, during the Fur Show is automatically considered for one of more awards. Full details are given in the 1941-42 edition of "Tips to Trappers." Copies of this book may be obtained by writing to Sears Raw Fur Marketing Dept., Dallas, Texas.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

They say if everyone would sweep in front of his own door, the whole town would be clean. Every time you make some improvement on your home place, you incite your neighbors to the same thing, and the work of improvement spreads.

The American people made the greatest country in the world by working hard, and they did not dodge laborious tasks. We can't keep up to their mark unless we too toil earnestly and faithfully.

THE MAIN WAR OBJECTIVE

It seems deplorable to many of our people to see our brave army in the Philippines fighting at a disadvantage, with a lack of adequate air forces to protect them on land, and without sufficient warships to prevent Japanese troop and munition landings. "Where are our airplanes and ships?" many people will ask.

An aircraft airplane, a good quantity of them have been shipped to Britain and Russia, and a great part of our ships are engaged in convoying war materials to England.

If people doubt the wisdom of that disposition of our forces, they should remember that the main center of this war is right in Germany. If the Nazis can be stopped and forced to give in, the whole Axis war power would collapse. Russia could again send a great quantity of war materials to the Chinese, who would make a fierce attack on the Japanese forces in their territory. Then a great part of the United States and British fleets now busy in the Atlantic ocean could be sent to the Far East, and used to bring Japan under control. If Hitler and his crowd can be put out of business, the war ought to be finished in three years. Germany started the present conflict and is the real promoter of the war that has overwhelmed the world. There will be no peace until Germany is made powerless to do deeds and give up Hitler. Germany partners will forget soon after the war is over. It is best to be patient and content with the defeat of Germany now and against Japan in order to get to the world's central trouble spot.

COOPERATION FROM ALL
The ideal community is the one where all the people feel an interest in the future of their home town, and want to do something practical to advance its progress. One thing they can all do, is to keep their home places in the best possible order, and beautify them and make them more attractive. Anyone who will spare a few dollars to plant shrubs, flowers, or trees when spring comes, will do that.
One thing that practically everyone can do is to join home town organizations, and be willing to do some work in them. These societies create advantages and benefits for their home town, and make it a better place to live in. Anyone who does anything for them helps the progress of the community.

BANDERA H. D. CLUB

"If it is necessary in the interest of economy to produce upon the farm, the food for the work animals, it is still more important to produce, as far as possible, the food required by the laborers and their families."—Dr. Seaman A. Knapp. This was quoted by Miss Pfluger, County Home Demonstration Agent at the club meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 14th at the home of Mrs. J. F. Kalka.
We are told that good will win the war and obtain the peace. Since food will play such an important role in world events, it behooves all of us to do our utmost to produce as much food as possible. Therefore, this seems a very opportune time to review our Texas Food Standard.
For a good diet we need daily 1 pint to 1 quart of milk, 1 egg, 1 serving meat, fish or cheese, 1 serving fresh or sweet potatoes, 1 serving green vegetables, 1 serving citrus, tomatoes raw, tomato, strawberries or melons, 4 other serving fruit, 1 serving of whole grain products, other cereal and bread as desired, butter or margarine with vitamins added.
Miss Pfluger gave a most interesting discussion on the growing, preparation and conservation of food products and on ways and means of helping in defense work, after which the meeting adjourned.
Refreshments of cocoa, coffee and cake were served by Mrs. Ryle and her daughter, Lola. Our next meeting will be with Mrs. L. Hicks on Jan. 29.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If you want your home town to go ahead, don't hold it back by spending your money away from home.
A person can't win success in a business unless he works hard to push that business, and a town can't win success and progress unless its people work hard to push it ahead.
If you go after anything, you are more likely to get it than if you wait for it to come to you without strong effort. The advertised store works on that principle, by actively going after business with its announcement of bargains, so its trade grows fast.

IDENTITY CERTIFICATES TO BE ISSUED

Attorney General Francis Biddle has announced new regulations affecting the conduct of German, Italian and Japanese nationals throughout the United States. The new regulations require all German, Italian and Japanese aliens to apply at the nearest first or second class, or county seat postoffice for a Certificate of Identification. The requirement applies to all enemy nationals 14 years of age or over who have not yet taken the oath of allegiance before a Federal judge, the final step in acquiring American citizenship.
The time for submitting applications for identity certificates is between February 9 and February 28 in this section. Failure to comply may be punished by severe penalties, including possibly internment of aliens for the duration of the war.
The regulations require aliens to provide a photograph of themselves and to answer a number of questions concerning their current activities.
The order was considered necessary for the protection of United States Army and Navy as well as all safety. The Certificates, when issued, must be carried by the alien at all times.

Responsible for Diseases
Fungi, the vegetable forms responsible for many of the diseases of plants, are without plants.

BANDERA H. D. CLUB

"If it is necessary in the interest of country to produce upon the farm, the food for the work animals, it is still more important to produce as far as possible, the food required by the horses and their families." Dr. Seaman A. Knapp. This was quoted by Miss Pfluger, County Home Demonstration Agent at the club meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 14th at the home of Mrs. J. F. Kalka.

We are told that food will win the war and dictate the peace. Since food will play such an important role in world events, it behooves all of us to do our utmost to produce as much food as possible. Therefore, this seems a very opportune time to review our Texas Food Standard.

For a good diet we need daily: 1 pint to 1 quart of milk, 1 egg, 1 serving meat, fish or cheese, 1 serving fruit or tomato juice, 1 serving green vegetables, 1 serving citrus, tomatoes raw cabbage, strawberries or melon, 1 serving fruit, 1 serving of whole grain products, other cereal, and bread as desired, butter or margarine with vitamins added, some sweets, 6 to 8 glasses of water. Children under 16 need 2-4 qt. of milk daily. Dried peas, beans or nuts may be substituted for eggs or meat.

In checking over the Standard you will find that we can produce all the required food with the exception of citrus in our county, so let us get busy and grow all we need for our table and can the surplus and thus be assured a balanced diet the year round.

Copies of the Texas Food Standard may be obtained by writing to Miss Myrtle Pfluger, our County Home Demonstration Agent or by calling for them at the office.

The following members were present, Mesdames F. G. Anderson, T. J. Anderson, Henry Andervald, Alice Brown, W. C. Bell, J. F. Kalka, Misses Myrtle Pfluger, Annie Kilhour and Esse Kalka.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If you want your home town to go ahead, don't hold it back by spending your money away from home.

A person can't win success in a business unless he works hard to push that business, and a town can't win success and prosperity unless its people work hard to push it ahead.

If you go after anything, you are more likely to get it than if you wait for it to come to you without strong effort. The advertised stores work on that principle, by actively telling you what items with its announcement of bargains, so its trade grows fast.

IDENTITY CERTIFICATES TO BE ISSUED

Attorney General Francis Biddle has announced new regulations affecting the status of German, Italian and Japanese nationals throughout the United States. The new regulations require all German, Italian and Japanese aliens to apply at the nearest first or second class, or certificate of identification. The requirement applies to all nationals 14 years of age or over who have not yet taken the oath of allegiance before a Federal judge or final step in acquiring American citizenship.

The time for submitting applications for identity certificates is between February 9 and March 28 in this section. Failure to apply may be punished by severe penalties, including possible internment of aliens for the duration of the war.

The regulations require aliens to provide a photograph of themselves and to answer a number of questions concerning their current activities.

The order was considered necessary for the protection of the loyal aliens as well as for national security. The Certificates, when issued, must be carried by the alien at all times.

STANDARDS OF NEATNESS

In many towns there is a general lack of order which gives a most unfavorable impression. Accumulations of waste and refuse lie about the street for months or years, and no one is appointed to clear them up. Perhaps no one feels any responsibility for it. People are careless about their homes, and let the discarded stuff accumulate in heaps of ugliness. People litter grievously on their own property.

Towns should have standards of neatness and cleanliness. The regulations should be kept out of the streets. People should clean up and disorder on their home grounds and should not tolerate anything that looks untidy and unsightly. Many people think that anything will go in their back yards, but the portions of their grounds are seen by the neighbors and often by the general public. A clean, well kept town is pretty sure to advance in prosperity.

THE GOLD DIGGING GIRL

There is a newspaper joke that rises full in love with the girl friend's ever cent but that she who knows what to put her money can't get near enough to their girl friends to tell what their eyes look like.

There are girls who are so eager for high jinks that they expect their boy friends to spend money very freely on them. Those girls do not usually make very satisfactory marriages.

The sensible girl knows how hard money comes to a brassed man, and she feels it should be conserved. She wants him to spend enough on her to prove he is not stingy, but when it comes to blowing it in on pleasures which constitute an undue drain on his resources she thinks it is not contrary to her judgment. She feels the boy whose scatters his money around will scatter plenty away from his wife after they are married.

TOILS OF THE FARM WOMEN

Hard times are said to lie ahead of the women of the farms, with so many farm workers called into the army. The women folks will have to do more in the fields and gardens and the barn than ever before. Feeding the chickens and milking the cows, it is said, will be regular work for them, and they will spend many hours toiling in the fields.

Those kinds of work won't do them any harm, provided the hours of toil aren't too long. The farm girls may look a little rough as they hoe the corn and pull the weeds, but the exercise will send the red blood coursing through their veins, and when they are clothed up for the barn dances they will have plenty of natural color.

The women are very faithful. They love their homes, and they will work long and hard to keep the fields tilled and the animals healthy and productive.

TRAINING FROM WAR

All over the country men and women are acquiring new skill as the result of the war. Millions of farm and town folk are studying and learning how to do new things with their hands. A great body of women are studying how to act in case of air raids, how to care for people who may be injured in such raids, and how to perform many unusual duties that arise during a war emergency.

When people learn new forms of skill, something is added to their power. They not merely learn how to operate some machine or tool or care for people in some predicament. They also gain new confidence in their powers, and new ability to take in certain new ideas. It is like climbing a hill. The higher you go, the broader becomes your outlook, and the stronger your muscles grow.

SOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Your home town probably gives you your chance to make a living and countless advantages. Let us give many things to the home town in return, in the form of effort for the good of the community.

The public forgets very fast. For a best way to keep it remembering your store, is to keep advertising.

It's a wonderful advantage to have stores in your home town that supply everything you need at fair prices. Better show appreciation of that advantage by buying at home.

OBITUARY

Mrs. W. R. Finney passed away Monday, Jan. 19, 1942, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. R. Moore near Medina, after an illness of several months. She had reached the age of 85 years, 4 months and 22 days.

To the casual reader the few lines above is just a terse report of the death of a resident of Bandera County. But to hundreds of people throughout this section, who knew the deceased, it is the chronicle of the termination of a well spent life. The record of a life of service, the home-going of one of God's noblest women. Mrs. Nora A. Finney was born in Bexar county, Texas, April 27, 1858, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kone. She was married to W. R. Finney Sept. 10, 1885, and to this union seven children were born, two of them dying in infancy and three others dying after reaching manhood and womanhood, the three being Mrs. Nellie Whisenhunt, M. J. Finney and J. R. Finney, the two surviving children are Mrs. Nannie Moore and Thomas Finney, both of Medina. Also surviving are 3 step-sons, J. H. Finney of Fort Worth, V. C. Finney of McAdoo and J. A. Finney of Bandera, also 12 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Mary Belle Keese, Lewis Keese and Jim Keese. Interment was made at Mt. Hope Cemetery near Medina.

Mrs. Finney lived the greater part of her life in Bandera County. Shortly after her marriage she and her family moved to the Plaza country and lived there for some time, but returned to Bandera County to make their home on a ranch near Medina. Here her husband died in 1900. Several decent years she suffered a broken hip, and later a broken arm, but recovered and was quite active up to a few months ago. Born and reared on the Texas frontier she was one of that courageous, brave, self-sacrificing type of women not easily discouraged by hardships and well her part in the home and in the community wherein she lived. In early girlhood she obeyed the Gospel and was a faithful, devoted member of the Church of Christ for sixty-five years. She passed through many hardships and trials and sorrows, but never faltered in the line of duty, and carried on the struggle in the face of many discouragements. Indian raids and depredations in Atascosa County, and even after her family moved to Bandera County, brought hardships and suffering to the settlers, neighbors were killed, stock and scalped, and sometimes children were carried off into captivity by the Indians. Neighbors were few and far apart, but people were friendly and hospitable, and in times of sickness or distress readily responded to any call of assistance, and despite the dangers and hardships of an every hand they were happy and contented with their lot. It was the pioneer women who made Texas the great State it is today; the husbands and fathers and sons, it is true, afforded protection and provided the material necessities of life, but it was the mothers and daughters and sisters who made the home and its environment that developed our present civilization. Mrs. Clara Finney was one of these pioneer women who made her home a haven for her loved ones, and reared her children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, and instilled into their young minds the ambition to become upright and useful citizens in the community where they resided. Like the mother of great Israel, she stands as a blessing and a benediction to all who come after her. It was my great, privilege to know Mrs. Finney and several members of her fine-splendid family, and I share with the remaining children and the bereaved father and brothers the grief they feel today at her passing. A brief tribute to her as a devoted mother, and for the service she has rendered during her long and useful life, I want to quote from Joaquin Miller:

"The bravest battle that was ever fought
Shall I tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you will find it not,
It was fought by mothers of men.

Nay, not with cannon or battle shot,
With sword or braver pen;
Nay, not with eloquent word or thought,
From mouths of wonderful men.
But deep in a woman's walled-up heart—
Of women that would not yield,
But patiently, silently bore her part—
Lo! Here is the battlefield.
No marshaling troop, no bivouac song!
No banners to gleam and wave;
And oh! these battles they last so long—
From babyhood to the grave!
Yet faithful still as a bridge of stars
She fights in her walled-up tower—
Fights on and on the endless wars,
These silent, unseen, foes down."

During the past two weeks three of these noble heroines have gone down into the valley of Medina. Mrs. Jennie Miller of Bandera and Mrs. Nora E. Taylor of Camp Verde. Gentle mothers all. Let us not forget them.

STANDARDS OF NEATNESS

In many homes there is a general lack of order which gives a most unfavorable impression. Accumulated piles of waste and refuse in about the street for months or even years. One is appointed to clear them up. Perhaps no one feels any responsibility to do it. People are careless about their homes, and let the discarded stuff accumulate in heaps of ugliness. People lumpde eyesores on their property.

Towns should have standards of neatness and cleanliness. No one should be kept out of the streets. People should clean up their disorder on their home grounds and should not tolerate anything that looks messy and unkempt. Many people think that anything will go in their back yards, but these portions of their grounds are seen by the neighbors and often by the general public. A clean, well kept town is pretty sure to advance in prosperity.

THE GOLD DIGGING GIRL

There is a hit song with the title that will fall in love with the girl a friend's eyes, but that those who get tight on money will not wear enough to their girl friends to tell what their eyes look like.

There are girls who are so eager for high jinks that they expect their boy friends to spend money every time they see them. Those girls do not usually make very satisfactory marriages.

The sensible girl knows how hard money comes to a young man with a home to furnish and a prospective wife to keep. She does not spend enough on her to prove he loves her, but when it comes to blowing it in on dinners which constitute no social asset—on his part—she has a thing to say contrary to her judgment. She knows that any boy who scatters his money around will usually have plenty away from his wife after they are married.

TOILS OF THE FARM WOMEN

Hard times are said to lie ahead for the women on the farms, with so many farm workers called into the army. The women folks will have to do more in the fields and gardens and the barn than ever before. Feeding the chickens and milking the cows is said, will be regular work for them, and they will spend many hours toiling in the fields.

Those kinds of work won't do them any harm, provided the hours of toil aren't too long. The farm girls may look a little rough as they hoe the corn and pull the weeds, but the exercise will send the red blood coursing through their veins, and when they get dolled up for the dance that night will have plenty of natural color. Farm women are very faithful. They love their husbands for a visit with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of Kerrville they went to Uvalde to continue some field work in their studies. Mrs. Othell Langford's children arrived last night for a visit.

UTOPIA HAD GOOD CALF SHOW

The old rivalry between the Pottsler boys and the Fisher boys was renewed at the sixth annual Utopia Boys Fat Stock Show, which was held at the Utopia school house, on Friday, Jan. 23rd. Long experience in feeding has developed some expert feeders at Utopia and Clendenin, Voc. Agricultural Teacher from Reeves studied a long time before making the final placings. However, newcomers took the show from the old boys when Marvin Garaway, 4-H Club member showing his first calf, walked away with the champion ribbon, while Stuart Haby, Jr. of Station C won the dry lot class to take the Reserve Championship.

SUGGESTIONS TO NEW FARM INCOME TAX PAYERS

College Station, Jan. 26.—Farmers and ranchers who will be required to make their first income tax return by next March 15, have the choice of two methods in computing the tax on their 1941 income. One is the "accrual" and the other "cash."

According to Tyrus R. Timm, economist in farm management, the A. and M. Extension Service has suggested that beginning and end-of-the-year inventories as well as cash expenses, cash income, accrued income and prepaid expenses are used in determining profits. Those who keep no records, or scant records, of cash receipts and disbursements must use the "cash" method, Timm suggests that farmers and ranchmen who have not paid income taxes prior to this year should study the alternative methods before making their selection as the one chosen is binding for succeeding years unless another method is authorized by the Internal Revenue Bureau. Even in that case certain adjustments of income are necessary.

More than 90 percent of Texas farmers and ranchmen who paid income tax in 1940 used the "cash" method.

Examining both methods, Timm first points out that unmarried farmers whose gross incomes were $750 or more and married farmers with gross incomes of $1,500 or over, are required to file returns. A deduction of $400 is allowed for each eligible dependent under the "cash" method; all cash receipts from sales of livestock, livestock products, poultry and other farm products, regardless of sources, together with amounts received for work and other services are taxable. All government payments are received also should be included. Farmers are subject to tax include increases in inventory of all on the farm, farm products used by the family and production costs not included in state refund or gas tax, provided the net cost of gasoline is reported.

Cost of livestock, livestock products and crops purchased which are consumed by the farm family during the year are expenses which may be deducted from the tax return, Timm says. If the cash method is adopted, depreciation may be taken on property for work, breeding, or dairy purposes, he says. Amounts permitted include ordinary and necessary expenses on feeding and raising livestock, as well as all other disbursements in crop production, cultivating and processing; depreciation on farm building except residences; permanent improvements and major implements; depreciation on purebred animals; general charges on small tools, feeds, seeds, county, school, poll and gasoline taxes; ordinary business licenses, and gifts to charity, religion and the charitable institutions.

Timm says that county agricultural planners have record books and other forms which will be helpful to farmers in preparing their returns.

PRODUCE AND THE FARM INCOME

College Station, Jan. 27.—If Texas farm families supply much of the farm produce needed in their homes and cities this will release large shipments for sale to dealers for use by the growing number of army camps and defense areas, it is believed.

Marvin Murray, Extension Service specialist in home industries, says in taking other steps to diversify or supplying food for themselves, he will aid themselves, farm families will need to consider the value of fruit and vegetables best suited to their section of the state, cultural methods, the amount to be planted, availability of farm labor for harvesting, proper preparation for market, and means of marketing.

Persons producing poultry for market will need to study proper methods of feeding and dressing, the specialist points out, and considerations should be given also to proper kind packaging of eggs.

WAR AND YOUR WARDROBE

College Station, Jan. 27.—With many kinds of clothing and textiles becoming limited or unobtainable because of war demands, taking care of clothing grows more necessary every day.

The first step in taking care of clothing intelligently is buying fabrics and their proper treatment, says Mrs. Vera B. Norris, clothing specialist for the Extension Service of A. and M. College. It will help to study labels and consult clerks and dealers about materials—whether the cloth is fast to light, to washing and how much a garment is likely to shrink. The specialist adds that there's no substitute for soap and water in removing materials as well as dirt and water to set the color. If color is fast.

The right way to wash wool is with soft water and mild soap. Lukewarm water is best for cotton and linen. Thoroughly dissolve the soap before putting the clothes in. Don't rub—squeeze the suds through the garment. Rinse in water the same temperature as first used. Dry in a warm place, but not in the sun. Wool garments should be pressed while they're still damp with a medium hot iron. A pressing cloth should be used.

Washable rayons require laundering with mild soap. Lukewarm suds of neutral soap, Wool garments should not be rubbed and they should be handled with particular care while they are wet. Use lukewarm water to rinse rayons in water the same temperature as that in which they were washed. Rayon garments may be ironed with a moderately hot iron, but acetate rayons require temperature very low.

The sensible way to clean most cottons is to wash them. If colored cottons are colorfast both by washing and light and if they won't shrink more than 3 per cent, there's little to worry about.

CLOCKS TO BE SET AHEAD ONE HOUR MONDAY

President Roosevelt recently signed a bill under which all clocks have to be set ahead one hour on next Monday. Most of the business houses contacted by your reporter state that they will observe this new time.

Supt. A. K. Briggs reports that due to the fact that some children must come in on the bus at such an early hour it will be impractical for school to be on the new schedule at this time. School will begin at 8:40 a. m. by the time or the same time by sun time.

No doubt some confusion will result but in a short time everything will be straightened out. Radio and transportation companies will go on the war time and there will be less confusion as everyone will set their clocks ahead so it will give the business people an added hour in the evening.

BOY SCOUT ANNIVERSARY

On Feb. 8, 1910, an organization called the Boy Scouts of America was chartered under the laws of the District of Columbia. This society was originally a combination of the "Woodcraft Indians" and the "Sons of Daniel Boone," which had been formed to build up the character of boys, instructing them in good morals and useful occupations.

These movements have represented many years of study of the boy problem. How to appeal to boys as a question that has vexed countless teachers and leaders. The boy heart is a "secret pitie," and you can't quite tell what goes on inside that inscrutable face. There are often thoughts that would greatly perplex the parents of these restless kids.

One trouble in the old days with working for boys was that people were too apt to give them things that the old-fellow liked, but which did not appeal to the boy. The old folks wanted instruction and information, but the boy wanted fun and amusement. The two ideals did not mix, and the kids were often very restive under such leadership.

The Boy Scout movement, which is now in its infancy, was founded on a thorough study of the boy mind. It took advantage of the fact that boys like out door life, camping, marching, and countless things by which they can develope their powers. It gave them the pleasures they liked, and in recompense took power over the boy mind, that the kids would listen to good talk about their future careers, about life and duty and their country and good citizenship.

The result has been marvelous. A great army of boys has grown up who will never give the country any trouble. Scout experience has created a foundation of good character.

COUNSEL FROM ABE LINCOLN

Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday is celebrated February 12, left many utterances which throw light on our present situation. All the time he was fighting the great War between the States, he was thinking how the two contending sections were to be reconciled after the war.

With wailce toward none, and charity toward all," was his philosophy of how to settle and prevent wars. He did not dream of crushing a rebellious foe. He wanted to reconcile the elements that had been fighting, and make them satisfied to live quietly together again.

If he had lived his theory of reconstructed government would have led the contending sections to lay aside their animosities, make common cause in the interest of harmony, and enlist the support of all citizens in the production of universal prosperity. If the first World War had been settled in the Lincoln spirit, the United States would not be called on to fight a second time.

VOICE OF THE COMPLAINERS

While the American people are taking good naturedly and courageously the trials and deprivations of a war-period, there are some who complaining words and gloomy faces do not fit in well with the general picture.

If these folks complain because they can't get automobile tires they might think of the multitudes of Europe who have been driven out of their ruined homes by war's destruction, and who have tramped along the highways of Europe with only such possessions as they could carry, or load on a pitiful horse or cow. If our folks complain because they can't get large amounts of sugar, let them think of millions of European children who are growing up thin and pale and weak because of lack of food. America's burden is not nearly so heavy.

THE KNOCKING SPIRIT

In a baseball game, when some player makes an error, some men will make no allowances for him, but they yell for him to be taken out of the game. Such an attitude by the spectators does not help the players to do better.

There are too many instances of that spirit in the affairs of a community. There are too many people who are quick to note slight errors and find fault with those who are trying to accomplish results for the public benefit. When people are doing public work, it is a disheartening thing to hear their actions constantly criticized. When things go all wrong, criticism is no doubt necessary, but there is in most towns a great excess of criticism. It does not accomplish results in promoting community progress.

Cynosure

A cynosure is a center of attraction, anything to which attention is strongly turned. The root meaning of the Greek is dog's tail, and the word was originally applied to the constellation Ursae Minor, to which the eyes of mariners and travelers were often directed because it contained the North Star.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to our many friends for their help in fighting the fire that destroyed so much of the business property of Medina City. The Drug Store, Dr. C. A. Sherrill's office and fixtures, Adams and Carr Variety and Grocery, S. J. Adams Barber Shop, and Cliff's Garage. Without the help of so many people the Bandera Fire Department the damage would have been greater. The Bandera Fire Department saved K. H. Stokes Store and stock of goods, also probably the Live Oak Cafe. The fire truck had arrived 25 minutes after the Adams and Carr building and the Garage would probably have been saved. If they had arrived 5 minutes earlier the Garage would have been saved. Also the importance of time in fire fighting.

The Kerrville Fire Department sent a truck but due to their distance to travel arrived too late to be of material help.

The Drug Store, Variety Store and Garage will be rebuilt as soon as material and labor is available. We hope to give you the best service possible as we have in the past. Believing in the future of Medina and of our great democracy we shall do our part in its development. No one knows what a devastating fire can do unless they have experienced it. Any person cannot realize the number of friends they have until an emergency of this sort visits you.

Again we wish to express our thanks in the many ways that have aided us in their labor and prayers. May God Spare you this experience.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

"A business grows when its owner hustles for more trade. A town grows in advantages and prosperity when its people hustle to obtain these advantages for their home community.

You find your salespeople may be excellent talkers, and able to sell goods when people begin to store. But if you don't advertise, you don't know many of people who keep going around to the stores that use good publicity.

If people are not loyal to their own families, those families lose a strong support in their efforts. And if people do not feel that loyalty to life they can't look calls on them to buy their goods at home, the town suffers from this lack of financial backing.

There were 19 present in Sunday School last Sunday and the offering was $25.15. We are very proud of the interest shown.

1. "Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning." Luke 12:35. What does it mean? And is your lamp burning, my brother?

2. "Let the words of my mouth be acceptable in thy sight." Psa. 19:14. Verse.

Every word has its own spirit, True or false that never dies—

HOME TOWN TEAM WORK

A baseball team needs team work before it wins games. If the players are trying to show off before the spectators, and don't cooperate with their fellow members, they won't win many games.

Systems of team work are also needed in promoting the development and advantages of a city or town.

The people need to cooperate to get results. Overcoming the obstacles in the way of town advance.

Perhaps the best way to cooperate is to join the organizations of the home town, and be willing to do a fair amount of work to help accomplish the aims of these organizations.

A few people should not be forced to do all the work of an organization. If all its members are willing to take hold and help when asked to do so, the organization accomplishes results, and helps make the home town a better place to live in.

NEWS ABOUT THE BANDERA FIRE DEPARTMENT

Speaking for the Bandera Fire Department I can say that we regret the disastrous fire that occured on Saturday morning in the business district of Medina and that we could not get there in time to keep it from spreading as much as it did.

In answering this alarm in Medina we feel that we were fulfilling an obligation to them to partially repay them for the support and cooperation they have given us at our barbecues, dances, dinner etc. that we have given in order to buy the fire fighting equipment that we have, which we have appreciated very much.

I do not have a list of all persons from Medina who have made cash donations to the Bandera Fire Department since the fire, but can assure you that every donation was truly appreciated. The amount donated so far is $43.40.

To all members of the Bandera Fire Department that answered the call, I personally want to thank you for so faithfully performing your duties at the fire.

To all concerned, I do not hesitate in reminding you of some few things that are of vital importance to all of us, to wit:

That our membership quota for this year—Oct., 1941 to Oct. 1942—is 100 members and to date we have about 20 members having this quota. The annual dues of $1.25 per year which amounts to about 2½ cents in the fire hose which we had to have and that in order to bring our Fire Department up to the standard set by the State Fire Insurance Commission in Austin, we had to purchase approximately $500 worth of hose and other supplies during the last few months of last year and to date we have been able to pay off about half of this amount.

We have adopted a policy of not purchasing any additional equipment until we have money to pay cash for same, and I feel sure equally will not be satisfied until we have purchased at least four firemen's helmets, waterproof coats and pants and rubber boots for firemen to wear for their safety and protection while fighting fire under conditions such as we had on Saturday.

I have been asking for membership dues and donations to the Fire Department since we first organized in 1927 and owing to the fact that you have always responded nearly 100 per cent, I do not hesitate to ask you to pay your annual membership or make your yearly donation at this time.

A disastrous fire always reminds us that every one of us should do some of the following things for our own fire protection:

1st, have water hose with nozzle attached ready to use on hydrant in yard if same is available, or have a reliable fire extinguisher in residence or place of business.

2nd, have ladder or other means of getting to roof of house at all times, in case of fire on roof.

3rd, keep premises clean of all trash, waste paper, boxes and lumber and anything that might cause fire hazard or interfere with operation of firemen who might be fighting a fire, and 4th, to call telephone office for assistance AT SOON as fire is discovered.

On behalf of the Bandera Fire Department I want to thank anyone responsible for the cooperation and support we have received, to date.

Frank H. Mansfield
Fire Chief, Bandera Fire Dept.

BANDERA H. D. CLUB

Vitamins are food elements necessary for the growth, health and vigor, said Miss Pfluger, County Home Demonstration Agent at the Club meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 28th in the home of Mrs. F. G. Anderwald.

Since vitamins are so important it is well to consider in what foods they are found and the growth they promote.

Vitamin A is found in green leafy and yellow vegetables, in all dairy products, liver, dry apricots, prunes and fish liver oils. It promotes growth, protects eyesight, helps prevent night blindness, maintains resistance to infection and promotes proper development of teeth during formative period.

Vitamin B1 (Thiamin) is found in whole grain breads and cereals, seed foods, such as peas, beans, peanuts, nuts, especially oranges and bananas, milk, lean pork and liver. It helps to keep the nerves healthy, stimulates appetite, aids regular elimination, necessary for utilization of food energy.

Vitamin B2 (Riboflavin) is found in whole grain and yeast, milk, cheese, liver, yellow, red and green vegetables, some fruits, especially oranges, and eggs. It promotes growth and helps maintain the health of the skin.

Vitamin D (sunshine vitamin) develops vitamin D in the skin. It is supplied by fish liver oils, vitamin D milk, butter, eggs and fish. It is necessary for the proper development of bones and teeth, promotes growth, maintains normal calcium phosphorus ratio in the blood.

Over cooking destroys vitamins. Cook vegetables in as little water as possible, and use this water in soups, gravies, etc. Cook as briefly as possible, use covered vessels to exclude air and avoid overcooking. Don't add baking soda to preserve food colors. Refrigerate vegetables in hot water.

IRA PERRY

Mr. Ira Perry passed away at his home Tuesday, January 27, 1942 death came as a shock to the community. He was attending to his usual business when he was suddenly stricken.

Ira Perry was born at Caldwell, Burleson County, July 21, 1870. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perry, pioneer residents of that section of Texas.

For a period of 36 years he was prominently identified with the coal and lignite industry of Texas and one of the State's most active figures in the development of these resources. He was a merchant and banker at Rockdale. Chasing his business in 1921 he moved to San Antonio where he conducted a wholesale and retail business. In 1931 he bought a large ranch in Bandera County near Pipe Creek where he lived until 1935 when he came to Boerne and enfefed the grocery business. He later sold this business and purchased the cedar and grain business from the Reynolds Brothers.

Mr. Perry was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Elks Club, The Alamo Club and Optimists Club of San Antonio.

While his interests were scattered over Texas Mr. Perry claimed Boerne as his home and has many friends here. He was one of the most enterprising and public spirited citizens, ever ready to assist in the betterment of Boerne.

He is survived by his widow, three sons, Ira Jr. of Houston, Wallis P. of Dallas and Wilton of Houston and a daughter Mrs. E. A. Banks of Corpus Christi.

He was laid to rest in the Boerne Cemetery Wednesday with Rev. Thomas, Methodist pastor conducting the services.

THE LOVERS' OWN DAY

February 14 is dedicated to St. Valentine, and it has long been considered a day sacred to love and lovers. The modern world does not take the occasion too seriously. The many tender messages sent on this occasion are offered mainly out of friendship, and as polite expressions of warm regard. No very deep passion is usually supposed to be behind these messages.

Yet love is said to be the greatest thing in the world. It influences life more than anything else. Men and all their laws for the women they love, and women give up their careers and devote a lifetime to caring for hope and for the family they produce.

Love transforms people's lives. Churches men who were light and trifling until they got married. Men who were wasteful of their money, or not very ambitious, have been led to settle down and pull at the head of family affairs. Old Doubt drawing a load of hay into the barn.

There is sometimes more emotion behind the Valentine day message than the recipient realizes. Many a man and woman had to have died or succumbed love. That is not so common as it used to be, and there are more things to take up their minds. The boy who is lifting is told there are girls and the boy who is now those that have been caught. He is usually able to find consolation. But in some cases a wrong open deep.

It is often unfortunate for young people to fall violently in love at very early ages. Some of them form these attachments before they have developed any self-control. If they would wait a few years, they would see that their sentiment was founded on superficial qualities. Most young folks should not get too serious over Valentine's day, before following up the valentine message with anything very binding. They should wait to see whether time and experience ends on their passion.

BOY—GIRL CITIZENS

The children should be taught at an early age that they are citizens of the United States and of their home town, that it is an honor to be such parts of our grandest country on earth and they owe certain obligations to the country and community that give them their great privilege.

One of the duties created by this citizenship is to see their boat to make the home town attractive. One way in which they can help make it attractive is to refrain from throwing any refuse into the streets or maintaining any disorder. If a kid throws into the street the little paper case or bag in which his purchase or candy was contained, he helps litter the community of which he is a citizen. He should be shown that he is thus injuring property in which he has an interest. He will not probably want to do that, when the results of his act are pointed out.

THE SOLDIER'S WIFE

There will be some lonely homes when married women have husbands in the army, or have husbands who may yet be called to military service. The government started out with the wise policy of calling as few men with dependents as possible. The need of a larger army than had been at first expected is now likely to call more married men into the service.

The girls left behind may have some worries, if questions arise as to whether the soldier's pay and allowances will be sufficient, and if the children get sick or need fatherly control. American women show splendid spirit in such situations. They see the inevitability of this war with perfect clarity. They realize that the whole nation has to unite in meeting the threat to our beloved homeland. Our soldiers' wives are a superb body of women, whose fidelity support will cheer their husbands to perform every duty.

ONE TOWN THOUGHTS

One good way to save time is to do your buying at home, and not drive around elsewhere in search for supposed bargains.

"It can't be done," is the point of view that has held back countless towns from growth and development. Let us say "It can be done," here in Bandera.

When towns grow, it is usually because their people show more push, enterprise, and energy than neighbor cities.

JUST TAKES THINGS

Gift of Prophecy

A defeated Italian woman of Yorkshire, Esther Shipley, has given up the gift of prophecy. In the Great Plague of 1665 in London, thousands stood idly by because of the cruelty of the prophecy for Mother Shipton had foretold it. In rhyme, she prophesied underwater bombs, airplane smoking, and boneless carriages before America was colonized.

As the ownership of property on a street extends to the middle of the roadway, both sidewalk and the street are intended only as rights of way for the public, says Collier's. Thus the New York supreme court has held that a man who slops on the sidewalk in front of another's house and shouts abusive and insulting language at him is a trespasser.

projects; some are WPA-operated canning centers originally set up for the Federal meat-canning program in 1933 and 1934 which now can other surplus foods for families receiving public assistance.

As a result of the earlier meat canning work, Texas counties still own, 178 retorts and 400 small pressure cookers, 207 can seamers and other canning equipment, the survey shows. An effort will be made to locate all such equipment, get it ready immediately, and make maximum use of it this year, Miss Neely says.

Approximately half of the home demonstration club women can in home-owned cookers. In addition to these, others will be needed. Loans for cooperative purchase of food preservation equipment are made by the FSA. County home demonstration agents serve as consultants on setting up community food preservation centers.

RUBBER ON THE FARM

College Station, Feb. 9.—Motorists—and aren't we all?—have been so busy worrying about the tires on their cars that rubber on the farm has not received much attention.

Rubber has played an increasingly important part in food production in recent years. Rubber tires for tractors and farm implements; rubber tubing in milking machines; rubber rings for canning in glass jars—the list is almost endless.

The following suggestions for care of rubber on the farm are offered by M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service.

Block up the wheels to keep weight off the tires when machines and implements are out in the fields for any considerable period.

If rubber tired implements are stored on cinder floors, block up the tires or place planks under them. The sulphur in the cinders breaks down the rubber.

Keep rubber tired tractor tires causes heavy wear, just as skids and quick stops do on automobile tires. Over-loading the tractor is one cause of slippage, and putting in snow or mud without chains.

Keep rubber-tired implements out of the sun when not in use. Ultra-violet rays damages both rubber and fabric in the tires.

Rubber tubing in milking machines will last longer if it is kept clean. After each cleaning and sterilization, the tubes should be hung up to drain and dry.

LOANS AVAILABLE FOR WAR TIME PRODUCTION

Loans to enable boys and girls in all farm and ranch families to help with war-time food production are being made by the Farm Security Administration in cooperation with county agricultural agents and teachers of vocational agriculture, H. F. Schlemeier, agricultural agent for Bandera County, said today that loans will be made to members of 4-H, FFA and Club and other rural youth organizations who cannot get adequate financial backing from other sources. Loans are not limited to children of the present FSA families.

Types of projects include raising of pigs, calves, baby chicks, home gardens or the small-scale commercial type, canning clubs, and a number of others. Loans can be made to buy the animals; for feed, seed, and fertilizer; spray equipment; canning supplies and other needed facilities.

The principal purpose of these club loans is to enable all farm and ranch boys and girls to do their part in the "Food-For-Freedom" program. The loan can be made for as much as $75 and bears three per cent interest.

The loans will be made only to youths willing and able to carry out the project. Part of the loan funds can be to rent necessary land if it is not available on the home farm.

County Agents, Home Demonstration agents and vocational teachers will furnish the instruction to club members in completing their projects.

Torpedoes by Mouth

On some Cayman destroyers, torpedoes are fired with the mouth, asserts Collier's. With his eyes on the range finder and his hands on the turret-aiming controls, the gunner merely has to blow into a "pea-shooter" to actuate the trigger.

The pioneer trencher or dish was often just a square or round block of wood, 10 to 12 inches across and three or four deep.

FOOD FOR FREEDOM CAMPAIGN

New steps to increase the production of vital war foods in Texas was announced today by B. F. Vance, chairman of the United States Department of Agriculture War Board for Texas, with the statement that the Farm Security Administration would begin making loans Feb. 9 under its extended "Food-For-Freedom" program. "To help meet the heavy new responsibilities which Pearl Harbor brought to the nation's food producers, FSA has completed plans for a rapid extention of its production loan program to more farmers and to new groups of potential producers," Mr. Vance said.

FSA's first obligation under its new program is to family-size farms, he said, will be to the farm families now cooperating in the rural rehabilitation program in Texas. Increased food production goals will be set up with each FSA borrower by the county committee of essential foodstuffs such as dairy and poultry products, pork and lard, beef cattle, soybeans, peanuts and garden produce. Supplementary loan assistance will be available to help finance increased repair of buildings and livestock and seed, feed, and cooperative facilities.

The new FSA program, however, extends beyond the borrowers of its present borrower group to reach new and untapped sources of food production, Mr. Vance said.

"Every tenant, farm laborer, small owner-operator and part-time farmer who has sufficient acreage available to produce war foods will be eligible for a special loan. As purchase a cow, hogs, chickens, garden seed, farming equipment, feed, seed, and many other food-producing facilities," Mr. Vance said.

NOT SUBJECT TO INCOME TAX

In response to many inquiries from individuals seeking information as to whether or not payments received from the United States Government under the old-age and survivors insurance system of the social security act are subject to income tax, P. J. McCarthy Jr., manager of the San Antonio office of the social security Board stated "such funds are not subject to Federal income tax." This statement was based on information which his office has received from the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

According to McCarthy, exemptions include cash benefits paid and in the hands of the recipient, such as primary insurance benefits as set forth in the law, wife's insurance payments; and payments made in children's rows and parents. Two German battleships, the 26,000-ton Gneisenau and the 10,000-ton cruiser Prinz Eugen escaped from their berths at the French port of Brest where they had been for a year and steamed up the English Channel on their way to the German-held Heligoland. British sea and air forces attempted to destroy them but suffered severe losses from the German fighter planes accompanying the ships. British sources said that the ships suffered some damage but the losses of fighting planes in the Atlantic ocean they will gravely menace American-guarded Iceland and the whole striking power of the Atlantic would be changed.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

As we observe Washington's birthday, the age in which George Washington lived seems very remote and primitive, but we should never forget his magnificent career, and how completely the life of the American continent was transformed by his leadership and enthusiasm and power. He had a little bit of an army, judged by our stupendous standards, it was a go-as-you-please affair, lacking by modern standards. Many of the men kept getting tired, or anxious about their families or their crops, and they would lay down their guns and go home. Or perhaps they took their guns with them, which did not help any. A negligent government failed to pay them or feed them or clothe them as it should. Half the people of the colonies seemed little interested in the war for independence.

George Washington set out with this tiny force, which modern knowledge would look at as a joke to resist and defeat the most powerful army in the world. Probably half the colonists thought it was a hopeless and impossible undertaking, and many of them did not dare have any. Trying to do with it.

George Washington saw that the time had come to establish an independent nation. He felt that somehow the God of battles and the God of nations were on his side. Without his genius and his abiding faith, his quick and terrible mind, his power of winning enthusiastic devotion, the patriot cause would soon have collapsed. He held the little army together, and the junto in Congress and the British could do nothing with them.

If George Washington were with us today, he would take hold of the problems of these times with the same energy and high intelligence. We can see that clearly. That the nation against which he had fight is now our ally, helping meet the greatest menace which the human race has encountered in all the old days.

THE REALITIES OF WAR

One subject discussed at a recent press conference was that President Roosevelt, was as to the criticisms which many persons are making that the government is going too complacent about the present war situation. It is claimed they are not sufficiently disturbed about the threat to this country created by Axis victories.

Complacency means self satisfaction. Many of our leaders believe the American people are far too well satisfied with the things they and their country are doing in the war crisis. It has been claimed that the majority of the American people do not act as if they realized that the country faces a serious war peril.

The American people are often said to have a certain happy-go-lucky temperament, which assumes that everything will be all right without great effort on their part. They think the country has always been able to land on its feet, and that somehow it will come out all right in the present war.

A hopeful view of any situation is a help, but if it leads people to relax effort it is not so good. The United States is in for a hard fight. As heavy casualty lists come in, the nation will cry out in its hour of suffering for a greater effort to win the war quickly. Any persons, groups of people, or institutions or interests that are believed to have obstructed the national effort by their indifference or self-seeking will be very unpopular.

The United States has won great perils before this, and it came through them all right. In the old days the people had a capacity for tremendous effort. The average run of modern Americans have as a rule gotten used to a fairly easy life. Our soldiers in the camps are showing a splendid spirit, and they will do their part. It is up the folks who stay at home to back them up in every possible way.

GOOD TOWNS

Traveling salesmen get a realistic view of the towns through which they move. If you get them to talking, they will remark that certain towns are "good towns," and some are not so good. They will report that some of those places are going ahead, while others are stationary or lagging behind. What constitutes the difference?

The "good town" is one where there is business enterprise, public spirit, a progressive disposition, and willingness to adopt new ideas. In such towns there is enthusiasm for the home community, willingness to work hard to make it, business a success, interest in its organizations, and willingness to put civic movements through to success. We believe that Bandera is such a town. Let us make it even more so.

Old Man Texas has sharpened his pencil. There's a job to be done.

Uncle Sam has a war-to win and it will be paid for by you and me.

Our big job is to meet rapidly increasing federal taxes and buy defense bonds. And added to these are the costs of our local and State governments, including bond issues. The money to pay for them must all come out of the same pocket.

To make the bill fit our pocket, we're going to have to cut out some of the things we can do without. Among these are new bond issues, new State and local taxes and nonessential spending in every branch of government.

Old Man Texas is looking to taxing officials all over the State to be on the alert to effect economies.

Every local tax dollar saved for Texas taxpayers is another dollar available for victory.

THEY'RE ALL OUT FOR SELF-DEFENSE

(By Henry McLemore)

Los Angeles, Feb. 9.—Congress ought to be congratulated for voting itself a merit system. It will not join with carpers and critics who are flailing our legislators over their heads for themselves a nice, plump slice of pork.

These are perilous times, indeed when the country needs to know its effective strength—the hands of a courageous group of lawmakers. Now it knows it. By that quiet, grab of pension money our congressmen have proved they are as fearless as a panther with a blackjack. There is no scornful of criticism as an alligator with a stainless steel hide.

This is comforting. It is good to know that, no matter what happens, we have brought to bear on them, our leaders will be thinking on their way, voting for what they need most.

There are other things to be considered, too. What better proof than the pension bill would a citizen ask for democracy in action? The pension, as on the double-alert we are ready to protect the far-flung interests of this nation?

When a congress gets down to watching after itself, seeing to it not one member of it is left inconvenienced when he has to travel, the good ship ought and rough it through life again, then it comes obvious it is watching out for everyone in the whole land. Yes, sir, it is a tribute to the organizing ability of our lawmakers this is even when they have to cope with the multitudinous duties of a nation at war, they overlook not not one man.

Their vote for pensions will serve as a treshendous inspiration to our armed forces. General MacArthur is much too keen a psychologist not to use it for lifting his spirits after his troops fall footers to even higher efforts. I can almost hear him now as he talks to his men in the hot and steaming jungles as they pre-

SILENT IN TIME OF WAR

Into the turmoil and clashing of a world terribly disrupted by war and conflict and hatred, there comes the quiet church season of Lent which opened on Ash Wednesday, February 18. The Christian Church has from century to century called on its followers at this season to take a pause in time for repentance for their sins.

The fundamental error is self-righteousness. This leads to constant conflict between the grasping desires of men. It is the fundamental cause of war. It led to the present war, when the Axis nations lovingly peaceful countries for our people have to fight, as a part of the obligation of all good people to resist oppression and tyranny and injustice.

The Axis nations have now subjected great populations to ruthless tyranny. Our most important single duty just now is to support our government and stand with all our might against these anti-Christian forces that have swept over a good part of the world. These destroyed freedom and liberty. Greed is the cause of tyranny and slavery. We have to make sure that the warmaking nations are subdued.

When the war ends and men can once more turn to thoughts of peace, it is the duty of the world can be rebuilt on a more righteous basis. The old selfish-ness and hatreds between people and nations must disappear. Every nation that wants to live in peace should be given a chance to live and prosper.

The Christian world can well take itself in this Lenten season for self-reflection, whether its errors of selfishness in the past had anything to do with bringing on the present world-wide conflict, poverty, unemployment and suffering of all kinds. The true motive for Lent should be, in the words of Jesus, "Whatever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them."

THOUGHTS OF THE AUDIENCE

Orators often refer to their hearers as "you thinking people." The humorist remarks that what we do think of people are always thinking by their wish that the orator would get through.

The average public address is too long. The newspaper person learns from experience that every thing can be boiled down. He assumes the art of saying things in few words. The public speaker has not always learned that art. So he may take an hour when all that was essential in his talk could have been said in 20 minutes. The American people are free readers, but do not like to sit long in one spot. Their backs begin to ache and their nerves go jangly. If the orator talks too long. His best illustrations and most eloquent words may seem flat. The audience is secretly wishing to quit.

YOUTH IN THE OLD DAYS

Young people often wonder what their elders did for fun in the days before motion pictures, automobiles, radios, etc. Yet the old folks say they had mighty good times.

Grandpop probably flirted with Ole girls just as hard at the church social as Grandson does now at the modern show. And he saw Grandma home many times from Sunday night church meeting. They had a good time as they plodded home in the moonlight, and probably enjoyed themselves as well as if they had been packed somewhere in a modern car.

The little pasteboards floated over the card table just as persistently as now, only it was high-low-jack and euchre, instead of dominoes and bridge. The young folks of those days had a great habit of singing the minstrel and college songs. When the birds traveled their last good night in the treetops, the banjos began to twang on the doorsteps.

Youth asks the society of youth and it is happy in the company of its mates, with or without modern improvements.

OPEN HOUSE HELD AT GOOSE CREEK HOSPITAL

Open house was held at the Goose Creek Hospital on Feb. 6 and 7 to which the public was invited to inspect the new and enlarged hospital. The hospital which started with a capacity of 50 patients 10 years ago, is now one of the largest and most complete hospitals in the county. The new addition gives the institution 100 beds and a capacity of 40 baby beds, and there are now a total of 10 baby beds. In 1936 the original hospital and nurses home was built and had a capacity of 12 beds. Seven months ago the new addition was started. The hospital has complete X-ray laboratory, operating rooms, delivery rooms, service kitchens, nurses and a modern through out.

Dr. C. H. Langford, one of the three founders of the hospital, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Langford Jr. of this city and we join the many friends in extending congratulations and wish him continued success.

The following story concerning Dr. Langford as well as a picture of the hospital appeared in the Goose Creek Daily Sun on Feb. 6.

Dr. Langford is Baylor Graduate

Dr. C. H. Langford was one of the original founders of the Goose Creek Hospital.

A native of Bandera's fine little hill country, he left Texas School of Pharmacy at Galveston, to pursuing his medical career; graduated from the school in 1921.

Two years later he married Miss Irene Brooks, daughter of the late Dr. W. N. Brooks, another of the original trio that started the hospital. Later he attended San Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville.

In 1930 he obtained his medical degree from the Baylor University Medical School at Dallas. He interned the following year in the Hermann-wood Hospital at Hollywood, Calif. He returned to Texas to the Tri-Cities in the latter part of 1931 and assisted in establishing the Goose Creek Hospital.

"I'm very proud of my work here," said Dr. Langford, "and I'm glad of the friends I have made. I hope to spend the rest of my life right here in this part of the world."

"It has been a lot of hard work shaping things up for this hospital," he pointed out, "but I think we've made an investment...that will be of service to our patients, and trust it will meet with their favor."

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

When you help create a strong and prosperous town by-your industry, public spirit; and co-operation, you help create a strong country, and thus you perform a patriotic duty.

Human society began to make fast progress when the art of printing was discovered. For business to make fast progress it needs to make use of that art of printing, in the form of advertising.

YOU MAY DEDUCT FROM YOUR INCOME TAX

Collector of Internal Revenue Frank Scofield has asked that I publish the following list of deductions which are allowed in making out income tax returns since there seems to be some confusion regarding this list of items:

Deductions allowed when making your Income Tax Return

Real estate taxes on personal residence.

State gasoline tax 4c per gallon.

Taxes paid on long distance telephone calls and telegraph messages.

Dues paid to labor unions.

Interest on money borrowed to purchase automobile license.

Poll tax

The following items, however, CANNOT be deducted from your income tax return:

Federal income taxes

Social security deducted from your salary

Fines for law violation

Depreciation on a homestead.

Any deputy collector in South Texas will be glad to advise any taxpayer in regard to deductions allowed, and there is no charge whatever for this service. Collector Scofield stresses the fact that his deputies are glad to assist in every way possible in regard to the filing of income tax returns and only asks that taxpayers not wait until the last day of March 15 to file these returns.

VICTORY DEMONSTRATION

College Station, Feb. 22.—The establishment of Victory farm and home demonstrations to run for the duration has been announced by the Texas A. and M. Extension Service.

The demonstrations will be designed to stimulate the production of food and feed crops and ranch and farm products and ranch people in war activities and in basic agriculture and homemaking, Director M. L. Wilson announced, and will bring increased emphasis on the needed USDA Food For Freedom drive.

A Victory Demonstrator, doing his best to help win the war, will:

Produce food, feed and fiber for home use and for distribution to meet war needs.

Understand and help others understand the "why" and "how" of adjustments that people must make to war-time situations.

Build the kind of family, community and national life which is worth defending, which will maintain morale, and which can meet the difficulties of post war reconstruction."

COSMETIC HINTS

Cosmetics are essential to health and beauty. Always buy brand is the best on the market. You can obtain it from your garden. Keep plenty of them so you can have it fresh every day.

Apply internally for the most part.

Rouge your face with carrots, spinach and turnip juice applied internally. Let your mirror be a dish of delicious vegetable soup, note the effect in a bevelled edge mirror.

Make your morning meal your oatmeal or other cereal.

Water—yes plenty of it taken both internally and externally. Drink at least one quart per day, and apply often externally. Take a shower or a tub a day.

For a clear skin apply fruit juice and plenty of fresh vegetables, both raw and cooked, down the inside of your neck.

For sparkle in your eyes eat both carrots and spinach. They contain phosphorous which transforms into the beacon-like beam for your eyes.

Drill your self to clean your teeth after each meal or the dentist will drill them for you.

PUBLIC SPIRIT

People have always been honored when they have public spirit.

In communities there have usually been some who were exceptionally willing to give time and effort to accomplish desirable ends for their home towns. They would help carry on the organizations that promote local causes, they would subscribe generously to philanthropies, and they would work in many movements aimed to increase local benefits.

The folks who manifested this public spirit have always felt well repaid. They made many friends, and their efforts were usually successful. They got experience in managing affairs which helped them in carrying on a business or working in a job. And they felt rewarded, apart from material benefits, by the satisfaction of seeing their home towns make good progress.

VICTORY OVER MUD

The coming of spring is now about coming when the United States roads were once largely a sea of mud. It was roughly something unpleasant in those days to drive some miles out of town, when spring rains and melting frost make a kind of porridge out of the road surface. Your buggy wheels might also take this mess for steel ruts or possibly a foot. Your old Bobbin had to wallow very slowly.

The American people have done a grand job of covering a large part of their road surfaces with hard stuff, over which our people roll in luxury in their automobiles. Even now there are many muddy roads. The old fashioned mud period a barrier between millions of country folks and their town centers, and many of them hibernated for weeks like the bear and the groundhog. But the building of the roads should go on as fast as possible, while every farm gets this permanent benefit.

MIDDLE VERDE H. D. CLUB

Following a short business session, Miss Pfluger gave a very interesting discussion on foods for defense, stressing the fact that we must have bone gardens and plant more vegetable food. If our pantry is well stocked, we will be trying to do our part. She gave us hints on how to plant a garden seeds and plants or have already planted.

This was followed by a short discussion on poultry. Miss Pfluger also given cards to fill out on this subject stating if our poultry work is to be successful we should have cleanliness in yard, house and feeding. Eggs should be free from parasites of all kinds. We wish to receive the best egg production.

A letter from Miss Jacks of the Extension Department of A. and M. College was instructed us how to prepare for meeting with us. We were honored with a very pleasant visit from Mrs. J. M. Goodwin who had been present at the wedding of Pearl Harbor. Mrs. Goodwin was attained with her husband and 9-month-old son, Jerry Wade. She gave us a most interesting and profitable talk on this tragic event.

Hostesses served a delicious salad plate, Valentine motif, for her theme. Place cards of Valentine characters were used at the long decorated dining table. Each guest read her valentine.

Those present were: Mesdames J. M. Goodwin, Lillie B. Hoyland Eckhart, Alfred Stein, Claud Miller, Chas. Eckhart, Chas. H. Moore, Roland Britsch, Ethel Eckhart, Miss Myrtle Pfluger, Howard Carl Eckhart, Marion Crowell and the hostess, Mrs. Lee Crowell.

Homemaking Play at Medina Saturday

The Homemaking class of Bandera High School sponsored the play "Help Yourself" but Friday night a large crowd was present to enjoy the opportunities. Every member of the cast played his part well and many amusing incidents were portrayed. The Bandera School Band played numbers before the play and during intermissions. A nice sum was realized for the Homemaking equipment.

The play will be presented at the Medina auditorium Saturday, March 7, at 8:30 p. m. The school band will also play before the play and during intermissions. If you failed to see the play in Bandera you are now an opportunity of seeing it Saturday night. You will not regret going for the play is enjoyable.

VICTORY AT STAKE AT PLANTING TIME

College Station, March 2.—What is now at stake in the country may mean success or failure of the Food For Victory program.

Every farmer is urged to do his part in the food for victory program. Every acre of land that is not planted to some crop that will help feed the country will be a help to the enemy. Every farmer is urged to plant all the land he can and to plant it well.

Victory may hang in the balance as the farmers of America plant their crops this year, Dr. Vance declared. "All you need to feel that crop failure or excessive crop production is a thing of the past. BLOWY MARCH?

The month of March is famous for its winds. These stiff breezes cast men's hats into the gutter and play improper tricks with the lady's skirt, and have made this month perhaps the most unpopular of the year. There are plenty of chilly days in March, and it sometimes seems as if real nice spring days would never appear.

Yet the sun is rising fairly high and his increasing warmth is sending new vitality into our lungs. The wind may be cuetious and ungentlemanly, but it stimulates pure ozone through our systems. A walk in the face of the breeze is a stimulating experience.

Through March we should be able to let up on our house heating systems, and not bake the air of our homes quite so dry. That should make us less subject to colds. We get outdoors all we can in March, and we shall feel renewed vigor and show a more springy step.

TREATY BREAKING

One bad feature in the world is that the countries that have started this war have broken their agreements and violated their treaties. Back in former days, governments used to feel it was advisable to adhere to their promises. They felt they would lose international standing if they didn't, and would forfeit the favor with which they were regarded.

The willingness to disregard their pledges was promoted by the ability of the treaty violating governments to build up extremely powerful military forces. The feeling that had many nations than any other country has seemed to feel it could do as it liked about keeping its agreements.

One of the reasons why the United States should fight this war to a finish is that we cherish treaty breaking countries that they can't violate their pledges and not suffer from it in the community life, people who break their promises soon get into trouble. People dislike to do business with them, and they are frequently prosecuted in court, and made to conform to their agreements.

Previous to the first World War the idea was held that by setting up international tribunals to judge disputed issues, the nations could be persuaded to keep their agreements. Those hopes proved fruitless.

After the present war, there should be forces that will lead nations to act in a more honorable way. Treaty breaking and violations are defeated, they should conclude that it pays to adhere to pledges.

The nations that believe in keeping their agreements can accomplish results through commercial relations. They should be willing to grant important favors and concessions to nations that adhere to their pledges. If nations violate their treaties, they should not expect such favors to be continue. The lawless nations have to be shown that it pays to be good.

PASSING ON RUMORS

The people are constantly warned against passing around rumors that can be of use to the enemies of this country. The agents of our enemies are all over the land and eagerly watching for information on the movement of troops, ships, production in war work, etc.

If you talk around about where your boy has gone with his army unit, it may give someone information which will be passed on to our enemies. They are most eager to know where the United States is shipping its troops. Starting rumors of disaster to our armed forces or production program should not be passed on. If these things are true, the newspapers will soon print them, and if they are not true, the effect of such stories is depressing. Silence is one of the weapons that helps fight a war.

NEAR-BY RESOURCES

Many towns have gone ahead because they made a special effort to develop the resources of their surrounding country. They look steps to organize the farmers in near-by territory, and in this them to improve their methods. They worked on plans by which the boys and young men could get more agricultural education and learn through scientific methods to do better work.

They encouraged boys to go in for production stunts, and the young people to join organizations that developed facilities and interest.

Then Anna Raymond, Miss Virginia Godwin and Mrs. Jennette Hay were in San Antonio Friday evening for the Ballet.

CAREER GIRLS

Probably from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 girls will finish their education in a few months in high schools and colleges. The great majority expect to earn their own living, and are thinking hard how they can best do it.

Educators and writers offer advice on this "career girls." What constitutes a "career girl"? Education and learn through scientific methods to do better work.

There are many young women whose underlying thought is marriage. They dislike to be dependent on their families, and they want to earn money enough to dress well and make themselves attractive. If they look more to marriage than the job, it is a natural, feminine aspiration to follow the life which nature has marked out for women since earliest history. "It is a noble career."

Probably the phrase "career girl," as ordinarily used, applies more to young women who think first of obtaining good success in some occupation. Their minds seem to be first on their ambitions in the business and professional world, and marriage lies in the background.

Their ambition for vocational success is very praiseworthy. The more successes they achieve, the better their chances of getting some highly desirable marriage. Men like that, and the specially successful girl makes a specially successful man.

Many girls become so very competent that men seem afraid of them, and fear they can't keep up with them. Many women mentally, or give them to believe, as they can provide for themselves. Some of these young women may get more satisfaction out of their success than they would out of married life. That is the choice they have to make. It will be a fine thing if they can make a happy marriage. The world needs such women as wives and parents.

Million Red Cross Volunteers Aid Defense Program

Washington, D. C.—Behind the front lines of U. S. defenses more than 1,250,000 Red Cross volunteers are on the job—rolling surgical bandages, knitting sweaters and mufflers, training first aid workers, the rudiments of emergency mass feeding and scores of other duties in an all-out effort for national defense.

The largest defense task now being undertaken by Red Cross volunteers is the production of 40,000,000 surgical dressings for the Army and Navy, according to Mrs. Dwight F. Davis, national Red Cross Volunteer Special Services. The undertaking came to the Red Cross at the request of the surgeons general of the Army and Navy when a survey revealed existing commercial sources could provide only ten per cent of the surgical dressings needed.

Home Service volunteers and Gray Ladies, whose duties are directly concerned with the sick and wounded in the armed forces, are expanding their programs, Mrs. Davis said.

As a preparedness measure, thousands of women throughout the country are learning mass feeding and nutrition as members of the Red Cross Canteen Corps. Added thousands are being trained in the Motor Corps to serve as emergency drivers.

A salesman who had been traveling on a certain railroad for a number of years was complaining to the conductor always being late when, to his surprise, the train was on time. He immediately reminded the conductor and said: "Here's a medal for you. I've traveled this road for over 15 years and I'll be hanged if this isn't the first time I ever saw a train on time." "Keep the medal, sir," said the conductor, "this is yesterday's train."

Red Cross Helps Solve Problems Of Our Recruits

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Of the home and military front, the American Red Cross is certainly as busy on the latter as it is on the former. Not more than a week passes but that more than 1,000 service men become blood donors at the Red Cross blood bank for a base hospital. The Red Cross workers in chapters throughout the land are busy knitting sweaters, caps and mufflers for men in the service. Surgical dressings, kits and comfort articles for men in the camps and on the high seas are being made by the millions.

But these are just fragments of the work of the Red Cross in this war. The finishes and polishes to the smallest detail with the personal touch which only the Red Cross can give. Take, for instance, the Red Cross's relationship with the men in the service and their families.

Starting a 2,000 hospital and recreation service for the men in the army camps of the nation, the Red Cross has developed a world-wide program

CONVERTING A NATION

St. Patrick, who lived some 1500 years ago, was said to have found no Christians in Ireland, and to have left no heathen there when he died. Perhaps that statement is exaggerated, but there are statements that he founded 365 churches, which may be pretty near the truth. Evidently he was an orator of marvellous power, and one who had those grand gifts of sympathy and understanding that touch the hearts of people.

Considering the amazing record of his achievements, and the charm of his personality, it is not surprising that the Irish race has ever since revered and been fascinated by the memory he left behind. They remember him with enthusiasm on March 17.

In those old times when there were no newspapers, when few people could read, and when social organization had made practically no progress, a gifted speaker could influence masses of people.

Today our people's minds are filled with thoughts obtained from books, magazines, and everybody's opinion is poured into their ears. This people become hard boiled until all this conflict of belief, and all this noise, they want to change their ideas.

St. Patrick evidently had a power of permanent effect, for very few men have ever equalled. Few if any men could be found to whom one man overlapped the beliefs of a nation.

America, life needs men of such power and eloquence, that its people can be converted to higher ideals, and methods of advancement. We need a liberator who is wise and tolerant always. If St. Patrick were here today, he would tell the people to devote themselves with the utmost energy to the causes of good citizenship. Also he would step in that direction, to make everything subordinate to the idea of victory over the nations now at war. He brought dreadful calamities on the human race.

RESISTING PRICE ADVANCES

Economists warn the nation that there is danger at a mill further advance in the cost of living. Appeals are made to the government to take more action to keep these living costs down.

Very likely the government can help with further action to stabilize prices, but the people are not helpless in their defense against living costs. They can refuse to pay what they could do to the price level back in 1920 and 1921, when the movement called the "buyers strike" undermined the price structure which had risen beyond reason.

In those days people, in some places would get out and produce in overalls, to show their discontent with high prices. It was not for people to refuse to buy if prices went too high. The best is often the cheapest, and it often pays the buyer to purchase an expensive article, since it is apt to wear longer. It is natural, if people pay advanced prices willingly, for prices to rise in response to the law of supply and demand.

Retail and wholesale stores do the best they can to serve the public. If they find that the people feel they cannot afford high priced goods, they will order low priced stuff. These stores respond to popular desires with a prompt-ness and desire for service that is most admirable.

Perhaps in many cases the cheaper article cannot be produced. Still, when the people show reluctance to pay high prices, the producers and dealers do their best to find satisfactory substitutes.

There is an obligation resting on the people to buy defense bonds freely. We should think twice before paying high prices, and save money if it is possible for the bonds. The government is going to need all the money we can set aside. One good way to keep living costs down, is to watch the newspaper advertisements for low prices, and patronize such offers.

THE YOUTHFUL APPETITE

The newspaper joker has one about the six year old who was asked how he was to have a cake with six candles on it for his birthday. He said he would rather have six cakes, and one candle.

So it works many times with the younger generation. It seems as if their appetite was unlimited. Pa and Ma remark that it seems as if the kid had hollow legs, the way he stows the eats away. Well, if you expect him to grow, you will have to feed him a lot of food. Only teach him to eat slowly if possible, so the food will accomplish real results.

Elimination of fire hazards will greatly promote better protection for our all-out war production.

ENTHUSIASM

The force that makes anything go is enthusiasm. The salesman who talks enthusiastically about his goods is more likely to sell than one who seems cold and indifferent. So to promote the progress of the home community, we need the same enthusiasm.

If will be found that the progressive towns have enthusiastic workers and rooters who take much energy and a happy spirit to boost them along.

If someone suggests a new idea anyone who tries to help the town, they don't take hold of it as a dull matter of duty to which they respond with reluctance. Instead they take hold with enthusiasm and a "Hurrah boys" spirit. Their zealous activity is contagious. Support is generated and the movement goes through to success on the basis of this eagerness and fervor. Let us encourage this spirit in Bandera.

HOW TO ADVERTISE

There are some business people who say they believe thoroughly in the advantages of advertising, but they rarely make use of it, since they claim they don't know how to write a good advertisement.

Those people know the reasons why the articles which are real good bargains and well worth the money seldom sell for them. If they will describe the goods briefly and tell the price, they have the materials they need for an effective ad. What they don't seem to know is what they have to sell and the features they should buy. The man who can talk about his goods should be able to write about them.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If you leave your home town to go ahead, don't forget to hold it back by buying your supplies away from it.

"People need arithmetic lessons about their home town. Add to it by working for its progress. Don't subtract from it by going away to buy goods. Multiply its power by constantly praising its achievements. Divide the work of obstructors by achievements, by working in its organization."

We push our friends ahead by boosting them and speaking for the ability of them everywhere. Don't forget to push your home town in the same way.

PRIZE COIFFURES ALL STYLED SHORT

Chicago, March 4.—American women in defense work have much chance of getting tangled up in spanners or defense fashion gears. But if the country's sixty new coiffures awarded prize at the 1942 Annual Midwest Beauty Trade show.

All award winners were developed around a style short and shaped to the head. Joseph W. Kretsos of Detroit called his first prize winner "Victory." It featured soft rolling waves.

TABLEY 4-H CLUB

The 4-H Club met March 5, 1942. We decided we would be our demonstrators. Edna Lee Tucker and Dolores Sauter will be poultry demonstrators and Dora Sauter will be bedroom demonstrator.

Miss Pfluger showed us how to make a dressing table. She told us we could get some lemon or orange boxes. It takes about a box and 3-4 th make one part of the table as altogether it takes almost a boxes. She told us we could get some ply board for the top. She also told us we could get a nice wall peg for a stool and she told us we could get some cotton for the top of the keg. Then she said we could get some pretty cotton plain material for the curtains of the table and stool.

Miss Pfluger also gave us two booklets. One was "Garden Guide" and the other was "Growing a Garden."

We are to bring some material so we can make a stool. Miss Pfluger is going to bring us some lumber from the lumber yard.

Our next meeting will be March 19. Edna Lee Tucker made a motion to adjourn and Dolores Sauter seconded the motion.

WHAT TO DO IN CASE OF AN AIR RAID

1. As soon as the bombs start dropping, you start running as hard as you can. It doesn't make any difference how fast you run, as long as you run hard enough.

2. Take advantage of opportunities offered you when an air raid siren sounds the warning of attack, such as (a) If in a bakery grab a pie or cake; (b) If in a movie, grab a blonde.

3. If you find an unexploded bomb in a dwelling, pick it up and shake it well. (Maybe the firing pin is stuck and it can't go off.) If that doesn't work, throw it into the furnace and end the fire department a lot of discomfort that it would be more or less prevalent if people crowded too close.

4. If an unexploded bomb is found burning in a building, throw gasoline on it. (You can't put it out anyhow, so you might as well have some fun.) (a) If no gasoline is available, throw a bucket of water on it and lie down; you're dead.

5. Always get behind a tree during an air raid. It makes it easier to get over the fence in front of you.

6. Eat onions a limberger cheese and Mexican food, seasoned with garlic, before entering an air raid shelter. (It will eliminate any unnecessary discomfort that would be more or less prevalent if people crowded too close.)

7. If you should be the victim of a direct bomb hit, don't go to pieces—lie still and you won't be conscious.

8. Wear track shoes during an air raid. It make it easier to get over the fence in front of you.

9. Knock the air-raid wardens down if they start to tell you what to do. They usually have the best seats for themselves and their friends.—Office of Civilian Disruption.

A famous alienist was visiting Bermuda and a certain prominent official happened to meet him. The official, after discovering that the alienist was authority not on immigration but on the mentally unsound asked:

"Doctor, how do you really tell if a person is insane?"

"Oh, we merely ask him a few ordinary questions which ordinary people can answer correctly."

"What type of questions?"

"Well," replied the alienist, "this is the sort of thing. Captain Cook made three voyages round the world and died on one of them. Which was it?"

"Oh, I say," objected the official, "I think that's a bit steep, I'm not very good at history."

WHAT TO DO WHEN INCENDIARY BOMBS FALL

The following article about incendiary bombs is published so we urge our readers to clip and save it for ready reference in case of need.

Boston, March 14.—Described as essential information which every person should know, Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner and Fire Defense Coordinator of the National Defense Committee for Texas, today outlined the ways in which incendiary bombs may be rendered effectively controlled.

Discussing the effect of modern dairy blasting rods, Hall said the steel threat is that they act as large rubber hose, because fires over a wide area. Because fire services departments are not best organized and equipped to deal with one fire at a time, a number of fires, he said, would present a very serious problem.

The incendiary bomb must be recognized as the enemy the ever-present danger of fire. Under limited raiding conditions Fires spreading over wide areas would be unimportant, but under more production and concentration with greater damage. Bombs of the explosive kinds dropped from hit and run raiding planes.

Secondary Bombs Different.

The incendiary bomb is vastly different from the high explosive bomb. While the explosive bomb may vary in weight from several hundred to a few thousand pounds, the incendiary bomb is small whatever they strike. The most commonly used incendiary bomb weighs about two pounds. A couple each and a large plane can carry hundreds of these, and in a few minutes can set fire to a number of buildings in a wide area.

The aerial incendiary bomb most commonly used consists of a magnesium tube filled with a mixture of powdered aluminum and iron oxide known as thermit. When this bomb strikes, the thermit is ignited and burns fiercely at high temperature. Magnesium, melting and setting fire to the magnesium casing.

When dropped from 5,000 feet or more this small bomb will penetrate any ordinary roof if resting flat, slate or metal and an underlying plaster ceiling, but probably not a wooden floor if new.

Several incendiaries cannot be extinguished, except by special methods and fire fighting should be in the home, but they can be controlled by prompt action and the use of simple tools with a minimum amount of damage resulting from the fires started.

Although the incendiary bomb should be put under control as soon as possible, do not approach it within 20 feet for approximately 2 minutes after it strikes. Some few bombs have a small explosive charge timed to go off about 2 minutes after impact. Furthermore, the violent phase of its burning action lasts for about 60 seconds after igniting.

Mrs. Mary Head Died In San Antonio

Mrs. Mary Jane Head, widow of the late lamented J. A. Head, died in San Antonio Tuesday at the home of her son, George Barnes, after an illness of several months. She was 80 years old. Funeral services were conducted at the graveside and interment was made at Bandera Cemetery yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. W. A. Bowen, pastor of the Baptist Church and Rev. E. F. Kluck, pastor of the Methodist Church conducted the services. J. Marvin Hunter paid a brief tribute to the beloved pioneer woman. Pallbearers were E. Adamietz, Q. T. Stevens, John E. Langford, Harold Hayes, A. Meadows and H. J. Goodin.

Mary Jane Head, nee Witt, was born in Tennessee, March 11, 1862, and came to Bandera in 1875, with the family of David Charley. She was a typical girl and was reared by the Charley family. She attended the school conducted by Mrs. Henry Barnes and taught in Bandera and at Lone Star for several terms. In 1944 she was married to Robert Barnes, and to this union four children were born, two sons and two daughters, one daughter and both died some years ago, and the two sons survive. They are Henry Barnes of Laredo and George Barnes of San Antonio. Mr. Barnes died in 1901. For several years she served as postmaster of Bandera. On Aug. 18, 1906, she was married to Colonel J. A. Head, who passed away April 6, 1936. Besides her two sons, Mrs. Head is survived by the step-children: Mrs. Carrie Chipman and Mrs. Grace Langford of Bandera, Mrs. Bessie Hicks of Dicks, Texas; Mrs. Sallie Black of Bay City, Texas; Herbert R. Head of Montrose, Mo.; Homer A. Head of Washington, D. C., and several grandchildren.

This briefly summarizes the life span of a good woman, a span of almost four score years, nearly seventy years of which were spent in Bandera County. When she came here Betty Hicks was in her teens. Bandera was truly a small frontier village, and the country was thinly populated. She have often heard her speak of those early times and of the social life of the people. She loved to play parties, the brush arbor camp-meetings, the temperance meetings and picnics. She was friendly and, neighborly people were the rule and not the exception and by her efforts helped to further the development of the country and the changing conditions as the years passed. She lent her aid and assistance to the betterment of the community.

Mrs. Head was a loyal friend, a good neighbor, a devoted wife and mother, and her passing is mourned by friends everywhere. Her kindliness, her sweet nature and gentle disposition will be remembered by all who knew her, and her memory will remain with us and be cherished through the years to come. We extend condolence and sympathy to the bereaved ones.

GENERAL MacARTHUR MADE SUPREME ALLIED COMMANDER

Lieut. Gen. Douglas MacArthur has been transferred from Bataan Peninsula to the supreme command of the United Nations forces in the Southwest Pacific by the order of President Roosevelt and at the request of the Australian government. This announcement made early Tuesday brought confidence to everyone that he would be able to organize Japanese forces. He has landed in Australia and officials reported that American soldiers and war supplies have also arrived there in considerable numbers.

The Japs resumed attacks on Bataan Peninsula but Maj. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, who succeeded Gen. MacArthur there, reported the assault were easily repulsed.

The Japs had 23 ships sunk or damaged in and near New Guinea in an attack on Wednesday. This report issued by the Navy also said that shore stations and small craft had been sunk or damaged.

The Russians were beating forward in two places on German strongholds. Many more Nazis were reported killed.

Tornadoes hit in seven Southern and Midwestern states early Wednesday morning. The death toll was 37 with over 1000 injured, many of them seriously

EXPERIENCE OF THE SOLDIERS

Many parents who have sons in the army or navy receive him in order a constant feeling of the hardships and sufferings which they may be undergoing or may have to stand. Some, of course are fated for tragic experiences but as a whole their hardships may not be as great as the folks at home fear.

Recent reports have said that the morale of these forces is very good. Apparently they are not unhappy at their great task. They are sustained by the feeling of duty done, which has a mighty supporting power.

They are cheered by words of encouragement and a patriotism from their leaders. There are scenes of enthusiasm at the events of camp life. The letters from home tell them how greatly their service is appreciated.

The cold folks may worry about what the fates of battle may bring to their boys, but youth does not quail so easily. The average lad takes hazards somewhat lightly. Many young men show that at home in the doing of things. If they feel confidence that they can do a thing, they usually do it, and the fact that they are daring may not stop them.

Youth feels the thrill of adventure. Crowded into camp life, longing for escape from humdrum lives at home, and they take somewhat easily the hazards of a soldier and sailor life in war time. If you could read the letters that send home, you would find probably as a usual thing show signs of worry or apprehension.

It is a natural thought that some of the boys will not come back. Even so many will live. There are many who fall sick or have accidents, so no kind of life is secure from risk. Probably most of the boys who come back safely will be glad they had this experience, and will feel it added to their powers.

WOMEN IN TROUSERS

Many women are reported to be buying "slacks." They are often seen wearing these costumes in the streets, and apparently find them useful in the home. Does this mean that women will eventually come to the two legged garment as a regular custom in working?

The men have no monopoly on trousers, and the women can wear them as they may wish. Some people think women should always look feminine, and that they appear better dressed than anything else. Many women are supposed to wear the slacks for greater freedom of action, but if they like something new, or because they want a simpler style or dress or something that may require less care for their stocking.

Women may say they are not conscious that skirts impede their motions in the least degree, a man will say he could not put on skirts and move as freely as he does in his trousers. The women are living very active lives, and they will not want that activity impeded. As to appearance, they look fine, whatever they wear.

AMERICA NOT GRUMBLING

Reports from the income tax offices are that the American people are paying their largely increased taxes without grumbling. Many express pleasure that they are able to make this contribution to back up the country they love. There may be less grumbling with these increased taxes than there was with the smaller levy at a time when no national danger threatened.

While the people pay cheerfully in behalf of a great cause, they want the wholesomestory to cooperate in making sacrifices. They are perfectly willing to make sacrifices. And to feel that everyone is subject to similar requirements, and that all are helping as best they can in the great national cause.

OUTLAWING OF STRIKES ADVOCATED BY FISHER

Strong legislation to outlaw strikes during the war was urged by District Judge T. S. Fisher of San Angelo, candidate for Congress in the Thursday before the Kerrville Chib, Hot subject "America at War."

Without minding words, declared: "The United States faces the greatest crisis in history. Organization and the battle line of defense. I guess should immediately a form of treason for any laborer or manager—is or even one minute to the production of war materials, condemned labor racketeers said their stands in many cases have been "downright treacherous," and must no longer be tolerated.

Fisher recalled that Donald Nelson, OPM chief, recently said production could be doubled if plants operated on a 24 hour, seven days a week, basis.

"Production must be at full scale necessary to win the war," the district attorney declared, presenting a three-point program for victory production.

Fisher's program:

1. Deal effectively and legally with strike racketeers.

2. Remove restrictions of hours of work in government plants where for the duration.

3. Eliminate all excess profits, so that there will be no millionaires at the expense of soldier boys.

Judge Fisher pointed out President Roosevelt seemed ago said the failure to stop strikes might cost us the life of battle in the enemy.

SAVE ON REFRIGERATION

By observing a few simple rules, homemakers can economize considerably on the cost of refrigeration whether their ice bunker is cooled by electricity, ice, or gas. These tips are offered by Bernice Claytor, Extension Service specialist in home improvement:

Don't open your refrigerator any oftener or any longer than is actually necessary.

Don't put hot food or dishes in the refrigerator. Let the left-over foods and the dishes they are in cool to room temperature before putting them in the box.

See that your refrigerator is properly placed in your kitchen. A refrigerator should be placed in the coolest part of the room, and near the stove or where it would be in the sun. Even more important than that, it should be placed so that air will circulate freely about it.

Keep your refrigerator clean—all of it. If you have a mechanical refrigerator, clean the coils well two or three times a year. If they are allowed to gather a covering of dirt, this covering keeps the coils hot.

Don't pack your refrigerator full of food, packages, and cans, for free circulation inside the box is necessary to good refrigeration. Remove all paper wrappings and bags and the tops of vegetables before you start putting them in the refrigerator. Be sure the outside door, hinges, and catch work properly.

Flyer's Body Found In Bandera Hills

The body of 2nd Lt. Robert B. Brown Jr., Dunbar Field flyer unreported at the field for a week, was found in the wreckage of his Army pursuit plane 25 miles northwest of San Antonio Tuesday morning.

The body was identified by Capt. Paul E. Blair, operations officer, who went to the scene after he was notified that the plane had been found. The sheriff's department at Bandera called the field that the plane was found.

Officers from Dunbar Field said the plane did not burn. It crashed in the hills in a heavily wooded section, 25 miles off the Bandera highway.

The discovery ended a search that started when Lt. Brown was reported overdue at Duncan Field late Tuesday. More than 100 planes, including those of the Civil Air Patrol, joined the search Wednesday. Bundy 200 soldiers from Duncan Field searched the area near Devine after it was reported that Lt. Brown had intended to fly in that vicinity.

The flyer was the son of the secretary of Kenyon College at Gambier, Ohio. Before he had been married to Miss Betty Harald—son of Tulsa, Okla., on Easter Sunday.—San Antonio Express.

Poems of Local Poet In New Book

A volume of poetry, "Wings Over Chaos" is just off the press and includes poems by our local poet, Knowles Witcher Teel. She and twelve other poets who are members of the Avalon Poetry Society of San Antonio collaborated in having the book printed. The book is sponsored by Lilith Lorraine, national president of the Avalon Poetry Society and is nationally recognized.

Lorin Teel says in part in the foreword "All the emotions you hold in your hand is a part of the war ahead. Blackout and regimentation have been hurled to destroy the sacred forces of enlightenment that are the weapons of suppression best placed in such ruthless hands. Weapons which are the product of those who would set Southern science. The poets represented in this collection feel deeply the tragedy that must be spilled by the sons and all nations and of helping to unify the freedom loving, militant and indestructible brotherhood."

The poems of Mrs. Teel are given in two books, "Pilgrimage to Laughter." The poems of Wilfe Harkness, sister of J. R. McReynolds of this city, are under the heading "Pioneer of Peace." Other headings are Prisons of Prejudice, Mirror, Philosophy, Faith, Beauty, Hope, Prophecy, Tolerance, Courage, Triumph and Sympathy.

The book makes a lovely gift and can be secured at the Bandera Drug Store, Billings and Son Pharmacy and Frontier Times Museum for $1.50 per copy and well worth it.

Appointed Navy Relief Chairman

J. Marvin Hotter has been named to head the Bandera County Citizens Committee of the Navy Relief Society by Gerald C. Mann, who heads the Texas Committee. The society is starting a drive to raise $210,000 in the State as a part of a National goal of $5,000,000. The money will be used to aid families of Navy, Marine and Coast Guard personnel. Attorney General Mann said the fund is of rapeful importance in Texas because this State and navy has more men to the Navy than any other State.

ALLIED FORCES STRONGER IN AUSTRALIAN SECTOR

Allied nations air forces were bombing Jap bases in Timor and New Guinea. Thirty-three planes were reported damaged or destroyed in this sector. Jap armies on Bataan Peninsula were repulsed with heavy enemy losses and light losses for the American.

Sir Stafford Cripps, British envoy to India, had presented his plan for Indian freedom, but the dominant Indian party indicated they would reject the "proposal that England control defenses during the war.

W. S. Parish, president of Standard Oil of New Jersey, asserted Tuesday as without "a shadow of foundation" testimony the company had prolonged the war by development of synthetic rubber it in the United States.

"The facts and the record," he told the senate defense investigating committee, "are exactly to the contrary."

Parish appeared before the committee following testimony by Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust enforcement, that the company had frustrated development of synthetic rubber in the United States as a result of cartel agreements made with I. G. Farben of Germany before the United States entered the war.

"Any charges that the Standard Oil Company or any of its officers have been disloyal," Parish emphasized to the United States is without foundation in fact," Parish asserted, reading from a statement.

Russia's armies, pressing a relentless spring offensive amid the thawing snows, were reported battering nearly all key German bases along the entire front Tuesday.

The senate rejected on a vote 1938 Tuesday amendments to pending legislation which would have exempted the 40-hour week outlawed the closed shop and made it impossible to picket, strike or violence to keep workers from their jobs.

The amendments were offered by Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) to it, pending bill designated to help small businessmen to meet the greater share of war contracts. O'Daniel sought unsuccessfully to exempt Texas A. which Jap prisons.

Chinese headquarters declared late Tuesday more than 5,000 Japtroops had been killed in bloody fighting in central China, the left flank of the Allied line in central Burma, while on the other end of the front Russia reported suffering a critical turn of the struggle.

Previous reports had listed 10,000 Japs killed in the battle of Toungoo sector, where the invaded and apparently wrested control of the Sittang Valley. Allied raiders had recaptured the Jap-held airdrome at Kyaugas, 10 miles north of Toungoo. A whole Jap battalion was reported annihilated there.

On the right flank, Jap columns driving toward the oil fields of northwest Burma and the Lashio way to India were acknowledged to have advanced within 10-miles of Prome, supported by traitor-ous Burmese natives.

The city is strategically important as the hub of a rich, fanlike angyaung oil fields, and also guards the Irrawaddy river route to Mandalay.

The communique said British forces had launched an attack to clear enemy roadblocks in Shwedaung.

Bandera schools will be closed tomorrow in observance of Good Friday.

Vows to Smash Japs

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, new supreme United Nations commander in the Australian theater, who has vowed that continued victories similar to those already achieved in the Philippines campaign will be the order of the day as he assumes command.

OLD SETTLERS' JUBILEE

Plans are now in the making for holding the Old Settlers' Jubilee on Saturday, June 6th. Because of war conditions and the advance in the price of everything it had considered calling off the annual reunion, but after talking with a number of our old settlers who want to hold the reunion, I have decided to go ahead with the plans to provide a splendid program this year. So many of our old timers are passing away that I deem it my duty to those yet with us to provide as much enjoyment and pleasure for their remaining years as I possibly can, and to this end I ask the help and cooperation of the citizens of the county. At this time I have made no definite arrangements for features on our program. However I am glad to say that Governor Coke R. Stevenson has been so, and I feel sure he will consult his official duties do not prevent. Former Governor James V. Allred may also be here, and Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, who will be invited. It is not my aim, if Governor Stevenson advises that he will come, to appoint a special committee to give him a reception, however, as the street parade will also be one of the features. Chief Baldwin Parker, who was born with the family last June, has written me that he would like to come again this year, and put on a performance. I have written to Charlie Madrid, prominent Pueblo Indian chief in New Mexico, to see if he entertain a desire to be with us in a feature parade, and if so may be that he will be here. The small, feathered, which include a memorial service for those passed away during the year, one our last reunion, and a reception for our pioneer couples who have been married fifty years or more. Those who will be present at this reception will be given a souvenir. Thus far four-hour double have occurred in Bandera County since the last reunion, and of this number three have been pioneers.

In this time of stress and upset conditions it is very necessary that the people be brought together in a spirit of friendliness, friendship, and keep alive the old tradition and customs, lost in the rebuilding of our social structure when the great war ends and the old order of things is forgotten. Let's give the old folks a little more happiness a little more pleasure, before they pass on. Make your plans now to attend the annual Bandera County Old Settlers' Reunion, June 6th, 1942.

Full announcement of the program and plans will be announced in due time through the New Era and through the Museum Bulletin.

THE EASTER MESSAGE

The Canadian Church on Easter addresses itself to the question asked most frequently by the human race. This question was stated in the Biblical book of Job, when it was asked "If a man die, shall he live again?" The thought comes constantly. What becomes of us when we depart from these familiar spots, and are seen no more? What has become of those dear ones who were once the life of our lives, but have vanished? Shall we ever see them again?"

The story of the resurrection of Jesus as told in the Bible is differently interpreted. Many of us believe that he actually returned in the flesh, and that such an appearance was attested by so many people that it certainly occurred. Some regard it as a spiritual impression, so profound that it shaped the lives of countless people and led to the founding of Christianity, and the world's greatest movement of moral progress.

However we look at it, the human race should ask, "If we die, shall we live again?" If the power that made the world has brought us here and then casts away the children of it they were mere worthless refuse, then it is less good than human nature. One can't believe any such thing.

The Christian Church confidently proclaims the Easter message, believing that Jesus Christ saw deeper into this universe than anyone else ever has. He told his followers that he was leaving this life to prepare a place for them in some future existence. We can trust his words, and try to be worthy of the place which he has prepared.

So the Christian world turns on Easter day from the dark, mysterious shadow of death to the hope of a better world. These mysteries shall be solved and the "sweet pitiousness of age" shall come to new opportunity.

TRAP THE HORNFLY

Dairy cows will not produce at maximum when infested with hornflies, says Dr. E. W. Rudaly, dairyman of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

The flies cause loss in milk production because they suck cow's blood, and their annoyance often causes cattle to refuse to graze. Hence, they do not get their full of grass which is the best milk producer, and it takes a part of the feed which otherwise would go to production of milk to replace the blood. Some investigators claim, Rudaly says, that during seasons of excessive fly attack, flies are responsible for losses of one quarter to one half of the normal milk production. Moreover, annoyance by the flies during milking might lead to contamination of the milk and consequent lowering of its quality.

Sprays, which many dairymen use will not protect cattle during milking and for an hour or more afterward. But this does not prevent loss in milk production. However a cattle fly trap used as a gateway to and from water, feed, or other frequented places, has been found effective for the control of hornflies on many dairies, farms and ranches. Plans for building the trap may be obtained from county agricultural agents or by writing to the Extension Service, College Station.

SOUTH PACIFIC JUNGLE BIRD FOOD AIDS TO CONQUER, SAYS AGED SEAMAN

"The Japs will be disastrously defeated by the United States Navy because they have made the initial mistake of spreading out all over the South Pacific and not long maintain their supply lines.

"This is the opinion of M. F. Johnston, veteran seaman, who sailed in the old yankee clipper ships all of the waters where the war is now being fought. Johnston, who is 82 years old and lives near Bandera, is in San Antonio visiting his son, Gene Johnston, at 212 Peck Ave.

Johnston was for many years a sailor in the ships when steam was not used in ocean going vessels. At one period he quit the old sind operated a sheep ranch in Australia. Tiring of the land, he went back to sea.

"We were five months on that voyage," he said. "We ran out of food and were up a ration of salt pork so that scurvy developed and several sailors died. I was saved because before starting, I had filled my seaman's chest with potatoes and onions. I ate one ripe each day and remained in good health. We ran out of fresh water and caught rain water in sails placed on decks."

Johnston was shipwrecked three times and for 18 days was adrift in the Atlantic in a small life boat. Several sailors perished or became crazed from drinking sea water and jumped into the sea before a passing sailing ship rescued the survivors.

"I went around Cape Horn five times in sailing ships," Johnston said. "The waves were always mountain high and the wind was terrific. There was no Panama Canal then. It required three months to go from San Francisco to New York then. I have visited Japan, China and all parts of world. I have been all over the South Pacific. I have seen Wake Island and it was just a rocky spot in the midst of a vast ocean then and uninhabited. No sailing man ever thought of stopping there.

"Most people have no conception of the vastness of the ocean which the Japanese are seeking to master," Johnson said. "To maintain supply lines, in my opinion, is beyond the ability of Japan. "They have just undertaken more than they can finish. "China is a vast country, much of it similar to the United States in climate and topography. For the Japanese to imagine they can take it seems foolish to me. They would just be swallowed up in the dense population and they would require an immense army to keep it in control.

"I have not been to sea in half a century, but the oceans are the same, and never change. For the problems are much the same as they were in the days of sailing ships, except of course boats are faster. But the immense ocean area still remains the great obstacle to a campaign such as the Japanese have undertaken. The United States will win the war in the end, in my opinion.—San Antonio Express.

PREVENT ACCIDENTS

The following suggestions for safety on the farm and in the home have been made:

1. Follow factory instructions in using machinery.

2. Never clean, oil or adjust machinery while in use.

3. Never use hands on machinery where a tool, even a stick, will do the job.

4. Never step in front of machinery being pulled by tractors, or a horse, no matter how gentle the animal may be.

5. Don't overwork. Tired men are careless men. Careless men often become dead men.

6. Don't allow children to place themselves in danger by riding on machinery.

WILLINGNESS TO WORK

Fear is expressed that the American people will have to submit to a lower standard of living for the next year or two, due to necessary high paying higher taxes, the scarcity of ordinary civilian goods and high prices for the necessities of life. How far are fears are realized seems to depend in part on how hard the American people are willing to work.

The energies of the people are to be turned largely to the production of war equipment, so that there will be shortages of essential articles. A willingness of great numbers of people to take hold and raise farm and garden crops should help produce enough foods. If many more people would keep poultry, that would help. If farmers would raise private gardens, that will help make vegetables abundant.

Those who remain in the ordinary trades will cooperate for greater production, there may not be so many shortages. The people can help, if high cost goods are scarce, if they are willing to use second grade and substitute stuff while the war emergency lasts.

The American people worked out of many if their troubles in past years by their intense energy. The farmers were plagued by drought or insect pests, they worked hard and kept up. For a time, recent, even in days when they had little machinery and knew little modern agricultural science. We have today a far bigger proposition, to feed a great nation and supply great armies and to send food to our allies. The farmers are handicapped by scarcity of help, but they are aided by the enormous development of modern machinery and greatly improved scientific methods.

People are not asked to work so hard that they impair their health. Many of them could benefit themselves and the public, if they devoted more energy to their labors.

The Christian Church on Easter addresses itself to the question asked most frequently by the human race. This question was stated in the Biblical book of Job when it was asked "If a man die, shall he live again?" The thought comes constantly. "What becomes of us when we depart from these familiar spots, and are seen no more? What has become of those dear ones who were once the life of our lives, but have vanished? Shall we ever see them again?"

The story of the resurrection of Jesus as told in the Bible is different from any other story. Many of us believe that he actually returned in the flesh, and that such an appearance was attested by so many people that it certainly occurred. Some regard it as a spiritual impression, so profound that it shaped the lives of countless people and led to the founding of Christianity, and the world's greatest movement of moral progress.

However we look at it, the human race should believe that this life is not all. If the power that made the world has brought us here and then casts away its children as if they were worthless and less refuse, then it is less good than human nature. One can't believe any such thing.

The Christian Church confidently proclaims its Easter message, believing that Jesus Christ is deeper into the universe than anyone else ever had. He told his followers that he was leaving this place. I will pasture mark. $10 to some future existence. We can trust his words, and try to live worthy of the place which he has prepared.

So the Christian world turns on to Easter day from the dark mysteries of the past, hoping to receive a better world, these mysteries shall be solved, and the "incomprehensible" shall come to new opportunity.

TRAP THE HORNFLY

Dairy cows will not produce at maximum when infested with horn flies, R. E. Radley, dairyman of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

The flies cause loss in milk production because they suck cow's blood, and their annoyance often sets cattle to refuse to graze. Hence, they do not get their fill of grass which is the best milk producer, and if taken a part of the feed which otherwise would go to production of milk to replace the blood. Some investigators claim, Radley says, that during season of abundance hornflies cause the loss of one-fourth to one-half of the normal milk production. Moreover, annoyance by the flies during milking might lead to contamination of the milk with consequent lowering of its grade.

Sprays, which many dairymen use, will keep flies off cattle during milking, and for an hour or more afterward. But this does not prevent egg production.

However, a cattle fly trap used as a gateway to and from water, feed, or other frequented places, has been found effective for the control of hornflies on many dairy farms and ranches. Plans for building the trap may be obtained from county agricultural agents or by writing to the Extension Service, College Station.

Dairymen should build a fly trap and prevent the annual loss in milk production caused by hornflies, Radley suggests.

DON'T HAVE TO BE RICH to help American Defense. That's the theme of the above poster, one of the newest of the Defense Savings promotional pieces now going up in streetcars, on bulletin boards and at other public places. This poster emphasizes the point advanced by the Treasury Department that every American can—and must—pitch in if the United States is to have the arms and the money necessary to protect her freedom.

BANDERA
We will claim to be working for the good of our town. "Are we, really?" Thousands of people visit Bandera every year and leave multiplied thousands of outside dollars to circulate here. Why? Because Bandera is NOT just another town; it is BANDERA, different, unique. They tire of the usual, kyerage, every-day life, and to get away from it, come to Bandera. You see them stop to watch a horse, take a picture of a donkey, watch a milk-cow eat scraps from a box; point at a bush and its mother fleeing the street—and we have a CLEAN TOWN; free of weeds and trash, full grass and cockburrs.

What keeps it CLEAN? Livestock running loose in town, nothing else. Take the stock out, and we every vacant block, lot, gully, creek, the river, the "Loop," and our own fences, and there will be a fine crop of grass and weeds, furnishing dens and beds for mice, rats, birdies, a home for every kind, including soldiers and flyers of the air, sportsmen, hunters and others of the outdoor people, and driving visitors and others away from us. Then there is the cost of keeping stock confined, fencing in the town, building pens for impounded stock, and the cost of keeping it, up to every owner. Then look for insurance rates to go up, for property values to fall over town. Every thinking citizen knows this and can see the benefits to be had.

What will we do about it? That's all there is to it. Pick up by the law to permit an animal to run at the highway, and it is dangerous to some extent." It is NOT a violation of the law to permit livestock to run in Bandera. If it is unlawful to permit an animal to run on this highway, it is unlawful to let them out of Bandera. Let's treat all alike, and point to Bandera as the town of the least able to pay the penalty. Let's treat all alike, make it illegal to run stock right. Then poor old Bandera, the weed-patch, mud-hole, disease-center, will have a chance to avoid.

But there is a cheap, practical way to do this. Build a stock guard at the entrée just out of town, on the highway, so stock can not go beyond them, let them keep town clean, healthful and free from that fire-hazard; and at the same time, avoid the danger to highway travel.

If you public spirited citizens want to really help our town, this is the best thing you can do just now—build those culverts, or ask the State to do so, as it is their highway, their law.

We are involved in a world-wide death struggle; millions of men are being driven to the slaughter, including vast armies of our own; we are asked to produce every pound of meat, wool, milk, butter we possibly can; civilization it at stake, mankind in the balance; will we punish a poor citizen for permitting a milk-cow, horse, sheep stray out into a highway at Bandera? Is THIS BANDERA?

Build those culverts; make every edge cut; go AMERICAN, all out for the duration and ever after.

C. L. Patterson

THE HOME STORE JOB

The stores of any community furnish employment to quite a large group of people. They give training to many young folks in the science of merchandising. It is a serious blow to any community, if these stores find trade coming slow so that some or many of them are forced to discharge part of their help or stop.

The way to provide this opportunity for work is for the people to patronize their home stores. When they buy their goods at home stores, they create jobs for many of their own boys and girls. There these youngsters get excellent training in the science of commercial life, and many go on to large successes.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If you are interested to take hold and work for the public good, the public will be grateful to you, and will see that you are rewarded.

Handsome towns are produced by the efforts of individual citizens to improve their home place. People hate to seem inferior, so they imitate the things done by those "progressive folks."

A town where the stores generally advertise is sure to go ahead, while the town where little advertising is done will probably be stationary or decline.

Bandera Co. Navy Relief Quota $75

Bandera County's quota in the Texas drive for $210,000 for the Navy Relief Society was announced today as $75 by J. Marvin Hunter, Bandera County Chairman.

Mr. Hunter was recently named chairman of the Navy Relief Society for Bandera County by Attorney General Gerald. C. Mann, Chairman of the Texas Citizens Committee of the Navy Relief Society.

Governor Coke Stevenson has proclaimed the week beginning April 19th as "Navy Appreciation Week" in Texas, and during that period the solicitation of funds will be made. A chairman has been named in every county in Texas in order that the entire state may be afforded an opportunity to contribute to this war effort.

The Navy Relief Society is the substitute for the head of the family when a man is in the Navy. Coast Guard or Marine and one is fighting our battles on the high seas or chattlefronts." County Chairman Hunter points out that the Navy Relief Society relieves our navy men of the anxiety concerning the welfare of their dependents at home. In contributing to this fund we are sharpening the fighting edge of the fighting men.

Since the beginning of American history, the men of our Navy have banded together to be assured that their families back home will be protected in time of need. This is the first time these men have asked the public for assistance in their relief fund. But since Pearl Harbor the burden has been too great for them to carry alone.

"I know that the citizens of Bandera County can be counted on to gladly do their part and I am confident that our quota shall be quickly and fully exceeded, by or during Navy Appreciation Week in Texas."

Slight Decrease In Car Licenses

The Tax Collectors office reports that 850 passenger car licenses, 200 farm and 100 commercial licenses, making a total of 1150, were issued up to April 1. Last year there were 857 passenger, 218 farm and 104 commercial cars, therefore making a total of 1179 which were issued. This shows a decrease of 29 licenses this year. It has been expected that a much greater decrease would be shown due to the tire rationing program and because new cars are not available.

SITUATION IN BATAAN CRITICAL

The fifth day of fierce fighting on Bataan Peninsula had left the American and Filipino defenders in a critical situation. The Defenders were greatly outnumbered but continued to give stout resistance to the Jap advance.

British lines in Burma were strengthened after further withdrawals. The Indian leaders and British envoy were still attempting to find a solution to problem of the status of India following the war.

No more ships were reported sunk by subparines on the Atlantic coast yesterday.

The Russians were reported to be advancing and heavy fighting was evident all along the front.

Seven hundred officers and men lost their lives when Japanese bombers sank the famed old airliner, the Corregidor, between Penang and Pearl Harbor Dec. 27, the Navy announced Saturday night. The loss of the three ships raised the total to 25 ships lost since the war began Dec. 7.

The Langley was sunk early in March in the waters of Dutch East Indies with a loss of 16 lives. While the Pecos was enroute to port with the survivors was attacked by heavy bombardment and sunk with the loss of two-thirds of the passengers and crew aboard. The Peary was bombed in the Port of Darwin, Australia, about Feb. 15 with a loss of one officer and 15 men.

United States submarines, striking out boldly against the Japanese "stranglehold" hamper the flow of supplies over the crimson archipelago to these principal battlefronts, dove into the Indian Ocean and Java Sea to sink 7 ships in four days, analysis, the Navy announced Saturday.

One light Jap cruiser was destroyed and two damaged, one probably sent to the bottom, and two seaplane tenders were seriously damaged.

In addition, the Navy announced, one Jap Navy supply ship, a large transport and 3 medium fortified ship were damaged by torpedo hits.

The action brought the total of ships smashed since Pearl Harbor to 39 warships and 7 auxiliary combatant ships. Of the warships 21 have been sunk, seven made or probably sunk, four believed sunk, two possibly sunk, and 22 damaged. The toll of noncombatant ships is 7 sunk and 48 definitely sunk or probably sunk, nine believed sunk and 14 damaged.

United Nations fighters dealt disaster to Japanese warplanes in widely separated fronts Saturday and Sunday, smashing a determined attack on Bataan and the Philippines, and accounting for 99 enemy planes in the Australian area and 40 in Burma.

In what was intended to be a second Pearl Harbor sneak attack, Japanese fighters and dive aircraft gunners brought down 27 enemy bombers in flames, probably destroyed five others and damaged 25. What was left of the Japanese air armada withdrew without damaging the naval base.

Japanese assaulted Bataan by land and attempted to land more troops from barges. American shore batteries sank several of the barges and turned the rest back with heavy losses. Only slight gains were made by the enemy on the Bataan center and they paid a heavily for them.

Since Saturday American and Australian airmen have destroyed 18 more Japanese planes and damaged 20 more in punishing raids on the approaches to the island continent.

AIR NAVIGATION SCHOOL TO BONDO

Establishment of an air corps navigation school at Hondo was announced Wednesday by Congressman Paul J. Kilday.

The new field there will be constructed under jurisdiction of the district engineer office at Ft. Worth, Texas, at a cost of more than $5,000,000.

The school will provide facilities for training 2,000 men in training as navigators for the air corps, Kilday said.

The carries out establishment of an air corps school close to San Antonio, which I have been advocating for some time.

"This is an near Bexar County as could be hoped for.

"It is practically but little farther than Randolph Field and should be considered as a new military establishment in this region."

The navigation school was established at Kelly Field last summer and has been expanded with the pilot training program and cadet replacement training center at Randolph Field three important training facilities.

Expansion of the replacement training center has developed condition in housing at the field. Hondo will be relieved by removal of the navigation school to the Hondo field. Buildings now occupied by the navigation school on the hill will be taken over by the replacement center, which is being forced by the influx of cadets temporarily to Brooks and Randolph Fields.

At Hondo the navigation school also will have more room for expansion.

Flying at Kelly Field will be confined to the pilot training program.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Rohde of San Antonio spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. A. G. Eckhardt.

INFORMATION REGARDING FOURTH SELECTIVE SERVICE REGISTRATION

Announcing the distribution of instructions to Texas local boards concerning the April 27 registration, General U. S. Hill, State Selective Service Director, said today that plans are under way to register approximately one and one-half times the number of men who registered in the third registration.

As soon as the President's proclamation calling for the fourth registration is issued, Governor Coke Stevenson will, according to the President's proclamation calling upon all men in this State who had attained their forty-fifth birthday on or before September 16, 1942, and have not attained their sixty-fifth birthday on April 27, 1942, to register at the usual home address between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on Monday, April 27.

General Hill pointed out that although the men affected by this registration are not liable for military service under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, it is understood they will be registered in much the same manner as men who enrolled in previous registrations.

Local boards will conduct the registration with the assistance of registration officials appointed to record the same information on registration cards as was required in the first and second registrations.

Registration cards will be buff in color and there will be no substantial change in form.

General Page pointed out that since registrants who were forty-five years of age on April 27, 1942 are not liable for military service, there will be no National Lottery and no draft numbers will be assigned, although the registration cards will be serially numbered by local boards.

Because of the difficulties which may be experienced with elderly registrants, registration officials will be carefully located in every local board area throughout the State and sufficient registrars will be provided so that registrants will not face transportation difficulties or long delays at the registration places, the Director said.

Any person in doubt as to whether or not he must register should consult the proper registration officials and register if they deem it advisable.

Mrs. Leon Dobowski was injured last week in the premature discharge of dynamite while working on Line 27 near the Hondo Road about 15 miles from town. He was taken to the Santa Rosa Hospital in San Antonio and is recovering.

'Call the Marines'

Photo shows Franklin D. Roosevelt as he addressed marines on navy during World War I, practicing with a .30 caliber Springfield rifle on the marine rifle range at Winthrop, Md., in 1917. "We can see marines," the President said the other day, in answer to a claim that there were not enough troops in Washington to make a good parade.

DR. BRYMER TO OPEN CLINIC HERE

Dr. W. G. Brymer has purchased the Mrs. Ruth Roome apartments at the corner of Cedar and Tenth Streets and will open a clinic to care for his patients, especially as to emergency and obstetric practice. Because of the war the general hospitals are over crowded and Dr. Brymer has arranged to have some well known surgeons assist him. While Dr. Brymer has specialized in the general practice of medicine and obstetrics since he came in Bandera eight years ago he was before then Chief Surgeon of Consolidated Fuel Co. and M. K. T. R. R. during the last war and for 12 years previous, moving south on the railroad's lines as the work dropped general surgery but at all times was done post graduate work and kept abreast of the surgical side all along and is on the Staff of Santa Rosa and Robert B. Green Hospitals.

Bandera has long felt the need of a place to take care of the sick and wounded and this is the first time there has been an opportunity to open a clinic to care for the public.

Dr. Brymer is chairman of Civilian Emergency Defense and of the Red Cross First Aid Examining Boards and Medical units organized in Bandera County.

Dr. Brymer has an outstanding career as a physician and surgeon. He began the study of medicine while a student of Bayloy Univ. and later attended Ft. Worth University and Tulane University. He graduated in medicine in 1905 from the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He was intern at Parkland Hospital in Dallas for two years and past 4 graduate work at Belleview one year. In 1906 he took a written examination before the United States Medical Examining Board and received his license. He was appointed Indian Agency doctor in the Comanche Indian Reservation at Fort Sill. He was the first secretary of the Chickasaw Medical Association and was appointed by the Chickasaw Indian Legislature as territorial health officer after taking post graduate work at Chicago Postgraduate school, at New Orleans Postgraduate medical college and John Hopkins. He is also a graduate of pharmacy and holds license as such.

Dr. Brymer has served and been actively associated with the A. M. A., State and County Medical Societies. He specializes in obstetrics and eyes as well as the general practice of medicine and surgery here.

PIERRE LAVAL BACK IN POWER IN FRANCE

Pro-German Pierre Laval was given a prominent post in the French government and it appeared that a diplomatic rupture with France was imminent. Laval has long advocated closer solidarity with the Axis and his rise to power may alter the entire war picture. All Americans in unoccupied France have been asked to leave immediately by the American authorities, there.

Jap forces landed on the island of Cebu where they met fierce resistance. Small bodies of American and Filipino soldiers raided minor enemy positions on the Philippine islands. The island defenders reported yesterday that 13 American planes, presumably from bases in Australia, had raided Jap installations inflicting heavy losses for the enemy on Monday and Tuesday. This meant a round trip of 4,000 miles.

The situation in Burma remains very grave with the Chinese and British forces being gradually pushed back.

GARDEN STUNTS

The farmers are losing a good part of their help this year, due to the drafting for military service of many sons and farm workers, or the transfer of them, due to, labor in factories. There is likely to be a shortage of vegetables and fruit products, due to the scarcity of farm labor. The family that raises a good vegetable garden and takes good care of the fruit trees and vines on its place, performs a public service.

In the days of cheap transports the gardening habit was probably more common. Money came hard in those days. The farmer that had raised a winter's supply of potatoes, beets, turnips, etc. felt that he had saved money. Today and the people around cities have the habit of buying vegetables and fruit. The people who had switched to the habit in the days of cheap transportation have not resumed the habit of raising their own. The people who had switched to the habit in the days of cheap transportation have not resumed the habit of raising their own.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

The old saying has it that it's a poor bird that fouls its own nest. Might think of that, if you are tempted to find unnecessary fault with your home town.

There is also an old saying, that some boats were so slow you had to spit overboard to see which way you were going. It's a good deal the same with a town where life advertising is done.

If your home town fails to do needed things, one reason may be that you and your neighbors have failed to wake up and push those ideas.

NATION'S BURDEN BEARERS

Ordinarily the chief burdens of life are borne by the breadwinners, who go out into the world and toil for the money that will buy the necessities of life, and by the homemakers, the women who stay at home and labor with housework and manage the children.

Now far heavier burdens are borne by the millions of young men who will go out in the service of the nation. The Red has to be laid on their backs because the drastic hardships of war and fighting impose a physical burden at home and labor which age are not strong enough to bear. Also the families which send their boys out to war, carry an equal load of anxiety.

GIANTS BLOCK THE PATH

There is a verse in the Bible book of Ecclesiastes, which tells how the tribes of Israel went out spies to investigate the land of Canaan, which they were proposing to enter and conquer. They brought back the report that the land was inhabited by giants, so that the spies felt like grasshoppers before them. Thus it is often in human life, that great dangers and obstacles rise before us, and many are deterred from following a chosen path because of these dangers.

Youth has not had in recent years the relatively comfortable life of former times. Great giants of difficulties have arisen. For 10 years the great giant that blocked their path was unemployment. It was a very formidable threat in the way of those who had desired love and matrimony. How could people marry and have children, when they were in doubt about earning a living, and where satisfactory jobs were scarce? So many loving hearts were denied their sentimental hopes for years.

Now a new giant has come in the way of such young people, through the war and the chance that young men will be taken by the government as soldiers, thereby their prospects for maintaining a family uncertain. The government of course will not allow wives left at home to suffer. Young people want to depend on their own efforts, and not have to look to the government for support.

Youth should be very keen to have our entire national power given to winning this war quickly, so that it shall not leave normal life torn up for years. Youth longs for the return of settled times, when there will be work for all willing hands, and when the specter of wars and fighting shall vanish. Youth should not favor any temporary and patched up peace, that will last only a few years, until nations get ready to fight again.

WORK OF SALESMEN

The manufacturing and wholesale trades are largely promoted by the work of salesmen, who go around to visit customers, or by dealers who maintain constant soliciting campaigns. If these activities ceased, many companies would see their business gradually falling off.

If sales campaigns are necessary to boost the larger business corporations, they seem an equally essential activity for the retail stores. A store that constantly advertises is practically sure to see its trade grow, assuming that it delivers good goods. If it doesn't advertise, its growth, if indeed it grows at all, is likely to be very slow.

J. B. will have taken three courses of night work when the one he is taking now is finished; one in carpentry, one in electric welding and one in mechanics. When he has finished his last one he is going to Duncan Field near San Antonio. He should not have any trouble getting a job if he has taken advantage of his opportunities to learn.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

The old saying has it that it's a poor bird that feels its own nest. Might think of that, if you are tempted to find unnecessary fault with your home town.

There is also an old saying, that some boats were so slow they had to spit overboard to see which way you were going. It's a good deal the same with a town where little advertising is done.

If your home town fails to do needed things, one reason may be that you and your neighbors have failed to wake up and push those ideas.

Bill Brawnly, the strong man of the village, met one of his fellow-villagers in the local inn. During their conversation Bill called the other a liar. The villager naturally resented this remark.

"Look here, Brawnly," he said, "I'll give you just five minutes to take that back."

"Is that so," he replied, extending his chest impressively. "And suppose I don't take it back in five minutes?"

Then," said the villager after a slight pause, "I'll extend the time."

NATION'S BURDEN BEARERS

Ordinarily the chief burdens of life are borne by the breadwinners, who go out into the world and toil for the money that will buy the necessities of life, and by the homemakers, the women who stay at home and labor with housework and manage the children.

Now far heavier burdens are borne by the millions of young men who will go out in the service of the nation. The Rad has to be laid on their backs, because the drastic hardships of war and fighting impose a physical burden which the people of older age are not strong enough to bear. Also the families which send their boys off to war, carry an equal load of anxiety.

So the youth who is fighting for us was only a child, but now grown to manhood, with whose blood is full of vigor and life, has to take on the burden of protecting the race. The boys assume the burden admirably, showing them as great in courage, loyalty, and warm greeting when we see them.

IMPROVEMENT SOCIETIES

Great gains were made by American women last year and many of them started what they called improvement societies. These organizations expressed the idea that it takes leadership and activity to push homes ahead. If there is no such leadership and organization, few people are likely to feel responsible for getting needed things done. Towns are lacking usually remain stagnant, and they fail to share in the growth and development of American life. When some organization takes on the job of keeping up and improving its home town, then the talent power existing in that community is set to work. There is a vast development power in any community, but it cannot be organized before you can expect it to accomplish anything. The people of every community already give hearty support to whatever organizes effort exists for promoting development.

IMPROVEMENT SOCIETIES

Great gains were made by American lowans four years ago; many of them started what they call 4-H improvement societies. These organizations expressed the idea that it takes leadership and activity to push lowans ahead. If there is no such leadership and organization, for people are likely to feel responsible for getting needed things done. Towns so lacking usually remain stagnant, and they fail to share the growth and development of American life.

When some organization takes on the job of keeping up and improving its home town, then the talent power existing in that community is set to work. There is a vast development power in any community, but it needs to be organized before you can expect it to accomplish anything. The people of every community should give hearty support to whatever organization exists for promoting development.

KEY NOTES FOR 1942 MUSIC WEEK

"American unity through music" and "Music maintains morale" are the two slected keynote slogans for this year's observance chosen in every music lover, every volunteer worker in the field of music, and every organization affiliated with Music Week—whether the interest in music be of a primary or a supplementary character. We all recognize music as a unifying force. Let us, and all who feel as we do, use it as such. Let us strengthen, unify, intensify our nation, and in all other American republics and Canada. Let us promote this fortifying power of music in the factory, on the farm, in the home, on the public gathering, and urge affiliated organizations to do likewise.

We are now unified in a joint defense effort, and we must make that defense sure and powerful. But defense needs cannot permanently hold us together. We must unite in joint action to promote the fruits of peace for us all. Participation in a syncronized Music Week, and the cooperative action by which it is promoted in the community, state and nation will foster the spirit of cooperation among the peoples of all peace loving nations. And the spirit will grow and ...becoms increasingly manifest in peace as well as war.

Extracts from 1942 Music Letter by Mrs. C. M. Tremaine, Secretary of National and International Music Week Committee.

THE LIFE EXTENSION PLAN OFFERED BY ERLE MANSFIELD

Nothing more need be said to present-day automobile owners to impress them with the fact that, when their tires are gone there won't be any more. Unless they happen to be in one of those few classifications entitling them to renewals) is the opinion of Erle Mansfield, local Goodyear tire dealer.

However, drivers will be interested to knowing that, like most other Goodyear service station proprietors in the country, Mr. Mansfield is ready to help car owners with their problems, provide them with scientific service and advice that will mean a lot more miles on their tires than if all were just trusted to luck.

In our Tire Life Extension policy we are providing for a wide range of services starting with inflation, and ending with tires in issues equalized wear, tire inspection, wheel alignment, brake checks and adjustments, tube repairs, wheel-balancing and numerous other services. Also automatic services, all of which correctly handled, will add miles to tires "on the corner," said Mr. Mansfield.

Also the first announcement that he was in position to help the motorist get the ultimate mileage service from his present and only tires, Mr. Mansfield said a good many local motorists had taken advantage of his offer which was based on a desire to help keep em rolling for the community as long as possible.

CEILING PRICES SET ON SCRAP IRON

Ceiling prices have been set on scrap iron and steel and there is no point in holding accumulations of these on the farm or around a household in the hope of profiting a higher price, George Bailey, executive secretary of the Texas Salvage Committee, pointed out.

"There is no profit in hoarding," Mr. Butler emphasized, "and fortunately, we find that the majority of farmers are only too glad to donate, their accumulations of scrap to charitable and salvage collecting agencies, while others choose to sell. The important thing, though, is to get in that scrap!"

A clothing merchant's son asked him to define ethics.

"Well, I will show you," said the father. "Suppose a lady comes into the store, buys a lot of goods and pays me ten dollars too much when she goes out. Then ethics comes in. Should I or should I not tell my partner?"

WINNERS IN ESSAY CONTEST ARE ANNOUNCED

Winners in the County essay writing contest on the subject "How Farmers and Ranchers of Bandera County Can Help Win the War" have been announced by the Bandera County USDA War Board, according to Raymond Hicks, Chairman of that Board. Sponsored by the War Board, this contest was a part of the statewide "Plant for Victory" program.

Winner of the first prize of $3 was Edna Cougheran. Second prize of $2 went to Theresa Anderwald and third prize of $1 went to Carrol Schaffer. The judges of the contest were unanimous in their praise of the essays, saying that all essays submitted were good.

"Uncle Sam's Call To The Front"

There is a war going on at this time, a war that has brought all nations to clash in a gigantic battle of which we, the nations which stand for liberty must be the victors or else suffer intolerable consequences. Those who must keep the home fires burning may ask the question "What can we do?" Our homes for which we are fighting must take the worst part of the battle. They send their treasures to battle and must sacrifice many things to see that as many as possible of these sons come back.

We are indeed fortunate to live in a country where the government only asks to borrow our money instead of taking it. To show our appreciation of this fact we should buy as many defense bonds and stamps as we are financially able to.

Everyone should donate liberally to the many worthy organizations of this country. Large or small these funds will be used for the worthiest of causes for which every penny will count. Another thing which all healthy Americans can give to their country is a small portion of their own blood which the army and navy need for transfusions at the scene of battle. Persons between the ages of twenty-one and sixty who wish to give blood should get in touch with the Red Cross chapter center, to learn where they may make appointments. This blood will be rapidly rebuilt in our bodies and two months or less most healthy people will be able to give their blood again. This is a gift unlike gifts of money or work but it is a part of service which you give to a soldier or sailor who may live to help save it. When you consider precious because you have taken one simple and generous step to save him.

We who stay at home must learn to get along without the aid of foreign products. We must again revive a touch of our Colonial forefathers' life by living and producing at home. Those who have space should have a garden and people who live in rural sections can produce their own dairy and poultry products.

Clothing for which we usually spend too much can be made, to a large extent, at home. Most of us could probably get along with much less clothing than we normally buy. We should also be more practical on the type of clothes we buy, thus saving time, labor and money.

Also we must become wise purchasers of food and learn the value of well balanced diets, thus helping to develop a stronger nation with fewer doctor bills.

Cooperation with rationing regulations will aid greatly and prevent added rationing.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

The New Era is authorized to announce the following as candidates for the various offices under which they have announced subject to the Democratic Primaries:

For Representative, 21st Congressional District:
O. C. FISHER

yet the easiest things for us to do is the saving of waste paper. Many local agencies are willing to arrange for the paper, while all we have to do is save it.

The saving of scrap metal is also important. Aluminum, aluminum and iron are perhaps the most important, however, we should not overlook small articles such as empty tooth-paste tubes which are collected at all local drug stores. The foil and other articles containing metal should be saved.

Fuel oils should also be conserved as well as electricity, gas and other sources of power. We must learn to conquer our hitherto wasteful habits with thrift and economy. Many of our Sunday drives and other unnecessary uses of automobiles as well as excessive speeding can be eliminated to save rubber and fuel.

Everyone can cooperate with various community defense drives. The Red Cross furnishes a splendid opportunity for willing hands to work. This is no time for leisure time to be spent idly. Every spare moment should be used to the best advantage to help keep the home wheels of industry clicking. We should find out and wait for organizations to seek our help, but rather we should offer our services and be willing to work under many difficulties and with the best and the impossible kinds of people.

We can help to keep the sunny side up for the boys we know in training by writing to them often and letting them know that we are backing them all the way. In this way we can do our bit to keep the morale of the men up. However don't forget that the people at home have to keep their courage up also. Let us do our part in our community and encourage others to do likewise. Thus we can give more power to the wings of the American Eagle, so that it may wing its way to victory and peace, that this may forever remain the land of freedom.

Men 35 to 65 to Register Monday

All men who must register Monday may do so at any of the following places: Courtside or Bandera, Medina, Tarpley, Pipe Creek, Vanderpool, Tuff, Lima.

With the announcement that local boards throughout Texas have reported all in readiness for the April 27 registration, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, left today for Washington where he will confer with officials of the War Department and National Selective Service Headquarters.

General Page pointed out that there are only three main requirements for this registration, which he summarizes thus:

(1) Every male citizen and every male alien residing in Texas other than persons exempted by the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, who shall not have attained the forty-fifth anniversary of the day of his birth on or before February 16, 1942, and who is not attained the sixty-fifth anniversary of the day of his birth on or before April 27, 1942, is required to present himself for and submit to registration on April 27, 1942.

(2) Registration should be made at a duly designated registration place of the local board having jurisdiction of the registrant has his permanent home or, if he has no such home, then he may register at the home of his employer. Any person who is temporarily away from home on April 27 may register at the registration place nearest to him on that day. General Page said, however, registrants are urged to make every effort to register with their own local boards to avoid possible confusion in the future. Any person who may be away from his home also is warned to carefully specify his HOME ADDRESS so that his registration card may be forwarded promptly to his own local board.

Special registrars also will be provided to register men who for good reason cannot register at designated registration place because of illness or other incapacity, General Page said. Persons who are incapacitated upon these men to advise a registrar in their local board area of their inability to appear at a registration place.

A registrant who has more than one place of residence may choose which one he wants recorded as his place of residence, but no transient address may be recorded.

After the registrant has answered several questions and written his name to the registration card, he will be given a registration certificate bearing his registration. This certificate must be in the personal possession of the registrant at all times. A person who loses this certificate, or to whom it is not authorized, may secure a duplicate from the local board. Regulations and is considered prima facie evidence of failure to register.

General Page pointed out that those who register on April 27 are not liable for military service under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended. They will be required later to fill out an occupational questionnaire concerning their civilian qualifications and skills, but that is for the purpose of obtaining information only.

THE OLD SETTLERS' JUBILEE

Plans are being made to give public tribute to Grandma Sarah Jones at the Old Settlers' Jubilee to be held in Bandera on Saturday, June 6th. Grandma Jones is living in her 91st year. For the past 25 years she has been almost steadfast with a broken hip, only being able to be taken about in a wheel chair. Several years ago she brought to the reunion of the old settlers on the date mentioned, and presented with a beautiful bouquet as a tribute of the love and affection in which she is held by her friends. For several years Grandma Jones gave demonstrations of spinning wheel at our Old Settlers' Reunion, and on several occasions she has been the recipient of special honors. At the Old Settlers' Reunion in 1940 she was voted to be the prettiest girl over sixty-five years old in Bandera County, and received a nice prize in that contest.

Sgt. and Mrs. Roland Rettger of Kelly Field visited his mother, Mrs. W. A. Rettger last week.

Music week will be observed with programs at the Medina school auditorium. The programs will be given next week.

FIREMEN NOTICE

The Bandera Fire Department meeting will be held next Tuesday night, April 28 at the court house. All members are urged to be attend.

Storm Mowed Did Much Damage

Damage estimated at between $7,000 and $8,000 to livestock and crops around Lima was suffered in Bandera and surrounding territory Monday evening when a storm of hail, rain and wind struck.

Two and one half inches of rain accompanied by hailstones, varying in size from marbles to baseballs, fell in a short time. The half-came first from the northwest and then from the south with the largest hailstones. It is estimated that approximately 100 sheep and goats were killed and the loss of chickens ranged from 400 to 500 killed. The path of the storm was from one and one-half to two miles in width and about seven or eight miles in length. As far as we were able to learn the storm started in the vicinity of Highland Waters, came through the Lima town and then out through along the properties of Tom Anderwald, W. C. Allen, Hermann Thalmann, Frank Braden, R. F. Evans, Rex Ryan, Gus Banach, Buck ranch and Dr. J. O. Butler, all of whom sustained considerable loses.

Reports we received indicated that Tuff, Lima escaped the most damage. The house was badly damaged and the windmill blown down. Other Bandera County damages were Henry Adamietz, Frank Kelly, Jr., Ernest Schwald, Mrs. J. F. Kalka, Hilltop Cooperative, Juncaki, Hilbert Dugosh and possibly others.

Large oak trees that had withstood many other storms were broken and uprooted. Cotton was battered into the ground and all gardens in the path of the storm were a complete loss. Some had still remained on the ground yesterday.

Bandera received 1½ inch of rain Saturday night but much heavier rains fell on the headwaters of the Medina River and Sunday afternoon the river rose about six feet, causing traffic at Ranger Crossing and over the bridge below the warehouse.

The car was carried downstream from the Mayan crossing into deep water where it was almost completely submerged. The driver escaped without injury. The car was pulled out of the river yesterday.

Telephone lines south and east of town were put out of commission for several days because of the R. E. A. lines. Lightning struck a transformer near the Round Up Guest Ranch.

JAPANESE CITIES BOMBED SATURDAY

Several Japanese cities were bombed Saturday afternoon by American planes but no news has been given out by the Allied forces as to the weight of the bombs.

Jap forces were still advancing in Burma in spite of heroic defensive action by the Chinese. Chinese attack relieved some pressure on the British forces. In the Australian sector the Allied air force was continuing to harass the Jap base at New Guinea.

In France Pierre Laval, pro-Nazi leader, was finding more and more opposition. Two Frenchmen were killed in reprisal for attacks on German troop trains and other outrages.

ARTICLE MISSLEADING

A recent article in a metropolitan newspaper said the government wants short, word for making aviator suits. It was today pointed out by H. F. Schlemmer, Bandera Agent that this article was erroneous, misleading and that the government does not want short words. The original intent of the article was to describe the type of wool wanted on bombs sold to the British forces for slaughter and should not be construed as having anything to do with aviator suits. Long wool is still by far the best wool, especially for recent prices fixing orders issued by the O. P. A.

SEEING THE WORLD

Whatever the soldier and naval boys have in mind about their service, many of them are going to get a greater chance to "see the world" than they ever looked for. Many young men used to join the navy on the theory that it would give them a chance to see the world.

This desire to see the world has figured large in the minds of youth. It was particularly strong in former days, when most young men were scarcely tied by the family and money limitations in their home towns. There were countless young people who had never been outside their own state, and many had never been a few miles from their home towns. When multitudes became common, young men were apt to satisfy their desire somewhat more. Many of them have been able to see ancient ruins which could be so fixed up that they would travel thousands of miles. So the youth of today has been far more than their fathers did at their age.

The desire of youth to see the world is perfectly natural. There is a longing in the human mind to see beyond one's own environment and observe the ways of distant states and foreign people. It may help the boys who go out in the service to have their form of experience, and distant scenes and strange pictures of life will occupy their minds to some extent in days of loneliness.

Whether the boys serve at frozen posts along the Arctic Ocean, or among the sands of the Afrikan deserts, or in the tropical scenes of Java or the Philippines, they will come home with many tales of travel, and observations of strange human nature in remote places. Many of them may feel that a larger sight of the world was a partial compensation for some of their troubles.

FISH STORIES

Why is it that stories about the fish that people catch are viewed with some doubt, and that improbable tales of all kinds are often described as "fish stories"? Does the pursuit of fish tend to make people untruthful?

Fishing seems to stir people's emotions so that perhaps they do not see everything in its true realistic light. The man who brags about the big fish he has caught, or almost caught, does not usually mean to tell any untruth. May be it is so much stimulated by excitement that everything looks big. Though his basket may be so full he has had all of the adventure may have so stirred his mind that he forgets about the fish he didn't catch, or the ones he did get look bigger and more numerous.

People may color their fishing adventures in an exaggerated light, but it is good for them to have these pleasurable experiences. It comforts them in the monotony of ordinary toil. They should be pardoned if their stories seem slightly stretched.

TOWNS WITHOUT STORES

A town without retail stores, or only a few of them, would seem to have poor chances of progress. Those stores constitute a nerve center from which impulses of activity go out. The business people are a force constantly working for improvement and industrial gains and public advantages. If a community lacks that nerve center, some needed force is absent.

People who go elsewhere to buy their goods should consider that would happen if everybody did the same thing. The local business would suffer severely. Forces working for community improvement would grow weaker or become ineffective. If a town will stick by its home stores, and back them up by buying its supplies at home, a great force for community progress is created and strengthened.

TRUTH TELLING CHILDREN

The newspaper funny man has a crack about the woman who was asked if her children told lies. The reply was that they were more likely to tell the truth at inappropriate times.

Children have a certain sincerity which often blurts out some very true remark at some very unfortunate time. The parents may feel it necessary to be very polite to some boresome neighbor, but the outspoken kid may reveal to that neighbor the unwelcome fact that the parents do not enjoy the society of that person. This frankness of childhood may be considered a virtue. While it is most admirable to speak the truth, yet the people who are most what they think to everybody pile up a heap of trouble for themselves.

Joe Fostert, Mrs. Karl Kutzer, Louis Fostert and Mrs. Boyd Turner of Batesville and Mrs. H. E. Foster of San Antonio are visiting their son and brother, Godfrey Fostert of Lubbock. Mr. Fostert has been seriously ill but is reported somewhat better now.

FARMERS TO SAVE SMALL GRAIN SEED
College Station, April 18.—Texas small grain farmers hard hit by drouth and greenbugs should plan to salvage all seed possible from planting, according to Texas USDA War Board.
Total destruction of grains is prevalent in some parts of the infested area of central and north Texas, but some grain will be harvested, H. P. Vance, chairman of the Board, said.
"This year's 'cut crop will be the smallest we've had in Texas in years and extra precaution should be followed for preserving good clean seed for fall planting, according to Extension Service methods," he said.
The Board also pointed out that many farmers suffering total destruction of oats, barley and wheat are planning for additional acres of grain and forage sorghums in an attempt to off-set feed shortages.
In areas where greenbugs did not destroy crops entirely, fall rains came too late to protect crops from drouth damage but did afford considerable moisture for planting feed and row crops.
"Oat farmers probably will be using wise procedure if they buy feed to tide them over until crops are harvested instead of dipping into scarce seed supplies this year," Vance said.

MEDINA SENIORS OF 1942

Earl Weed Jr., born Oct. 21, 1924, has always gone to Medina school. That is his only record.

He is a member of the F. F. A. Club.

Earl likes to hunt arrow heads and other Indian relics and when he is not out doors, he is reading. He has a large collection of Indian relics and books.

His favorite subjects are bookkeeping and typing, which he masters very well.

Earl plans to take a business course at San Antonio Business College." If he gets to do that, he will not go there before fall as he would like to travel this summer.

Minnie Ola Shipman, born March 15, 1925 was the only girl in the fifth grade, from Lima.

Ola is a member of the Pep Squad, Girls' ball team and the F. H. A. Club.

She was voted most beautiful girl of the Senior Class and we think it was not only because of her good looks, but also because of her pretty ways and friendly personality.

Ola may go to a business college in San Antonio. Her chief that to a Civil Service job. She has a chance to work in an office at Fort Worth and may consider that.

———o———

Janis Moffett, born May 16, 1926, has gone to Medina school every year except one when her family moved to Uvalde and she studied at home because there was no school near.

Janis is the president of the Senior Class, member of the volley ball team and the F. H. A. Club. She is also an able president and a very good player.

She has always made excellent grades. Janis is the only real blond of the class and also the smallest, but by no means the dumbest.

She plans to go to business college but she has not decided when, and she may not get to go, she may try to get a job.

TARPLEY H. D. CLUB

The Tarpley Home Demonstration Club met on April 16 with Mrs. M. Hausler. There were nine members, two visitors and Miss Pfluger present.

The ladies worked on re-covering an unholstered chair.

Our program was "Quality Eggs for Home and Market." Miss Pfluger told us how to feed for more and better eggs and showed us how to weigh and test them, which was very interesting as well as educational.

Mrs. Hausler showed us several nice print dresses she made from feed sacks. Some of our cannot imagine how nice they will make up until they have tried it or seen them. She also showed us a coat she had made over which was real nice. She will get several more years of wear out of it.

Cake and coffee were served by the hostess. Our next meeting will be on May 7th with Mrs. Geues. All the ladies are invited.

by Joe Marsh

YEAH OFTEN these days, I get to thinking about the soldier boys at camp. And the sailors, too.

What worries me is . . . what happens when they get a day's off after working their heads off all week? They go to town . . . and what then?

What happens? The answer is . . . mostly nothing! Because most towns near army camps just don't have nearly enough entertainment facilities to take care of the soldiers on leave. So the boys just stand around, leaning against lamposts or sitting on doorsteps. And sometimes, the local townsfolk find themselves wondering what's changed the town . . . instead of pitching in to help the boys have a good time-in decent surroundings.

In many towns, however, the situation is better. Some towns have nice, community places where a soldier can go sit down and "chew the fat" and enjoy some cake and milk, or maybe a good glass of beer. The boys like that. And they're not likely to get in trouble . . . because common sense tells you

WINNERS IN CLOTHING CONTEST

The Homemaking Department of the Medina High School held their annual clothing contest on Saturday, April 18 in the Homemaking Cottage. The judges were Miss Myrtle Pfluger, Co. Home Demonstration Agent and Miss Elice Canfield, Bandera, Homemaking teacher.

The dresses were judged on the following points: choice of color which included personal coloring, color suited to the personality, figure, age, occasion, season, and color combinations; choice of material; choice of design, economic yards which included the cost, cleaning qualities, and whether or not the style was to be temporary, and last the workmanship which included durable workmanship and a good fit.

Three types of dress were made. Those girls taking Homemaking I for the first time made a simple school dress. Winners in this division were: 1st place, Loretta Young; 2nd place, Laura Jean Keese; and third place, Marjorie Lewis. The second year girls made all purpose dresses. The winners in this division were: 1st place, Edna Shupstine; 2nd place, Opie Stokes; and 3rd place, Mirdi Hinds. The girls taking their third year of clothing made dress up dresses. Places in this division were won by Lois Bonner, first; Irene Wilders, second, and Hoyce Fox, third. These girls will again model their dresses in the Aamal High School Style Show.

MORE REGISTRATION INFORMATION

Reserve officers who have been permitted by the War Department to resign their commissions upon the basis of their being "necessary men" in a civilian capacity are, in most cases, subject to the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act, as amended and are required immediately to present themselves for and submit to registration, General J. W. Pate, State Selective Service Director said today.

If, in the instance of any such registrant who have resigned their reserve commission, claim for occupational classification is made by reason of his being a necessary man in a necessary or essential civilian activity, Selective Service agencies will accord his classification the same serious consideration as would be given to any other registrant engaged in a similar occupation.

All such reserve officers whose resignation has been accepted and who come within the age group of the fourth registration must register on April 27, unless excluded by law from the requirements of Selective Service registration.

Retired officers of the Regular Army or Navy, with few exceptions, General Page pointed out, are not subject to the requirements of the Selective Service Act, and, therefore, will not be required to enroll on April 27 when other men between the ages of 45 and 65 must register.

The ruling does not apply to officers "wholly retired" whose names do not appear on the Registers of the Army or the Navy, or to persons whose names are listed on the Emergency Officers' Retired lists.

With the exception of wholly retired officers and persons whose names are on the Emergency Officers' Retired lists, retired officers and enlisted men are subject to recall for active duty by the armed forces, and consequently are considered part of those forces and as such are not required to register, General Page explained.

Miss Emelia Kalka
Bandera, Texas

Dear Miss Kalka:

May I, as a representative of the District, extend to you and all Bandera Home Demonstration Club women a District 10's thanks for your gracious hospitality? The pleasure of having such a large group of individuals was evident repayment of your carefully planned program. I certainly have my congratulations for plans which "clicked" perfectly. We have heard a great deal about "Western Hospitality", now we can truly say we have enjoyed it. Everyone was delighted with your town, the friendliness of your people and the beauty of the countryside.

I am glad some of the ladies dressed in "western style." They added that traditional western touch many of the visitors hoped to see. We enjoyed it. Through a stroke of good luck part of us from Jackson County arrived in time to be greeted by Mrs. Claude Miller dressed in blue denim—and I assure you the incident was a very amusing one. Not everyone had one half as wonderful time as I—you may know that all Bandera will be remembered long and well.

To all Bandera Home Demonstration Club women and especially to each of your committees, to your song leaders and pianist, to Miss Pfluger, and to you as Council Chairman; also to Members Burk, Strobel, Adamietz, Schlemer, Rugh, Hunter, O. B. T. Cafe owner, and all other townamen and townswomen who assisted in making us welcome and contributed to our pleasure and comfort, I send personal thanks and the thanks of the entire District.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. J. M. Gillespie,
Vice President for Dist. 10

BALANCED FOOD SUPPLY

College Station, April 16—Success of the Food for Victory program depends upon abundant production to provide a balanced food supply, R. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas USDA War Board, declared today.

"We need more—much more of some commodities such as peanuts, dairy products, poultry products, and certain meat products," he pointed out. "At the same time, the thinking public and the thinking farmers realize that we have an over-abundance of wheat and an over-supply of the short-staple length cottons. Certainly there would be no logic in expanding the production of crops of which we have more than enough."

The board chairman explained that "it's going to take every available acre of good soil to produce the foods needed to win this war effort. Wasting acreage on production which will not contribute to that victory."

Vance cited the two-year-supply of American wheat which will be available for use this year as ample evidence that the commonpool has no need to worry about wheat and four rationing."

Reminding farmers that the Department of Agriculture is urging the full planting of cotton allotments, Vance emphasized, however, that the increased demand is for longer length cottons, and that the supply of short staple cotton is adequate to meet the nation's needs.

Our year did not always begin with January. The Romans provided us with the names of the months: July, named for Julius Caesar; August, for Augustus, etc. But if you put your mind to it you will notice—provided you or Junior ever studied Latin—that the latter months seem to be wrongly named. September comes from septem, although it is the ninth month; October, from octo or eight; November, from novem, or nine; December, from decem, ten. The explanation is that the Romans began their year on March 1. To them September was the seventh month from March; October the eighth; November, the ninth, and December, the tenth. There is some question as to just when the change to January was made. The generally accepted theory is that it was due to Julius Caesar. Anyway, he was a big help in paying things and orderly and he reformed the calendar.

Bandera Senior Class Play Tomorrow

Don't fail to be on hand to meet my cousin from Texas when he arrives at the Bandera Auditorium tomorrow night, May 1st at 8:30 p. m.; He'll be expecting you to meet him. Don't disappoint him. You'll meet Wilbur Scott, who can eat more Wonder-Tasty Bread and butter and find more trouble, to get into than any other youngster his age. Meet Penelful, who's only been married four times and Eshew, who's known in Texas as the Black Terror.

Then there's Sheila the bride-to-be, Lorilie, her younger sister, who finds life so brutal, and Bishah, their mother, who enjoys the topsy-turvy house more than anyone else.

The happy ending comes when two more romances develop, after a few disagreements, compromise on three weddings!

STORM STORY

Well, a lot of us caught hail last night as folks out at the Greenborn Ranch, according to the papers, got about the worst storm they've had for ever since of a storm having so many "centers," anyway! Most everyone, I guess, was in bed, dreaming or being "in the center," but as far as we are concerned we don't want any more like it.

The stories currently circulating about the wind and hail that struck the folks out at the flies told about the Irish—"probably more than any other race"—but frankly state that the feathers recently blown off all those chickens, the leaves and limbs that the County were traveling at such speed that when they reached here were embedded to a depth of three and a quarter inches in our grind stone!

LAKE FISHING SEASON OPENS TOMORROW

WAR PSYCHOLOGY

The United States government is stifled to be employing more than 500 "psychologists, most of whom are working for the war department. Psychology is defined as the science of the human mind. The morale of both soldiers and civilians, in both war and peace, depends largely on their mental attitudes, so psychologists have plenty to do to encourage correct ideas and opinions.

The Germans have been great students of psychology. They filled the youth of their land with an elaboration of their Fuehrer, and made old that "it was a glorious thing to die for the state." Right or wrong, they call their savior and match less leader.

Also they promote the belief that their army is invincible, and that resistance will crumble before it as a sheep's nose melts away in the heat of a pretty woman's glance. Of decayed wood. This feeling of man worship, plus German confidence, has sent millions of young Germans into scenes of slaughter and crippling, and it has given them a mighty power.

German psychology is not so smart in the estimation of the mind of foreign peoples. It thought the American people were so torn up by the depression that they would not fight. It said that German propaganda would persuade them to think in the safest place they could find, and avoid conflict. The defects of that psychology are now apparent.

American war psychology this is to have full confidence in the powers of the nation and full assent to the justice of our cause. It tells our people that the forces of evil will not keep peace if the rest of the world is held in slavery to war making powers. It also tells us that the American freedom, education, science, and technical achievement have created a far greater world nation in the world. It said one that will be the dominating force in the conflict now ahead, and in the peace settlements to follow.

TREE PLANTING

This is tree planting time. Our people are supposed to bring the splendor of nature into their home grounds and streets. Will they have the energy to do it, when the days of many is taken up by war work?

Our thought should not be nothing on war troubles. We need refreshment from the strain of war anxiety. Work in beautifying the home place or the neighborhood thus serves a purpose. It supplies love due nature and humanity's needs more, so that we feel better able to bear burdens. If only there are bare spots on your home grounds or your street this need trees, you do well to find time to set them out, or get someone to do it. Trees add enormously to the value of any home.

THE MAN BEHIND THE PLOUGH

The person with a poetic inclination leans over the fence, and watches the farmer ploughing up his field, and it looks nice and romantic. Many city men, weary with the grind of office work, have often thought they would like to own a farm and cultivate the fields, and live a simple life. It seems so nice out in the country, with the birds singing, and the sweet rural scenery.

The farmer sweating behind that plough will say there is nothing very poetic about it. And he returns at night weary with his long muscular toil, and often envies the man in the office in his stuffed chair.

The ploughman works hard, but he is usually healthy on good food. Every muscle in his body gets exercise, he has a grand appetite, and the food Ma brings out for him is consumed with a relish. There are advantages in all occupations, and the farmer seems to get his full share, provided he can find a decent market for his crops.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

People are said they need to make personal sacrifices if they want to preserve their country. They also need to give up a few hours to community and organization service now and then, if they want to preserve the fine things of their home towns.

The old saying of "going farther and faring worse," applies to many folks who go away from home to buy goods.

Reputation sells goods. Reputation, walks on foot if it is not advertised, but give it publicity, and it rides at motor speed.

U. S. SEIZES 10,000 TONS OF SCRAP ON FARM

Deputy Sheriff Sam Bain seized a decade's accumulation of scrap metal—more than 10,000 tons—from a farmer's pasture. The scrap is sufficient "to build 10 tanks," said Sam Stoltz, regional official of the Office of Emergency Management.

Three brothers who operate the farm refused to sell the metal at regulated prices, Stoltz said, so U. S. Marshal C. H. Simon served requisition papers Tuesday on Owen Eby, one of the trio.

The O. E. M. said the Government would pay the farmers its present price of $4 a ton for the scrap.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE; WHAT IT IS AND HOW IT WORKS

(By Leyne Ann Hicks, State Department of Public Welfare)

"Pensions" are paid to those who have earned them in the nation's armed forces, or under a retirement system. The recipients contributed out of earnings over a long period of years. If the government has a "pension" system, it is what is known as Old Age and Survivors Insurance. This is administered by the federal government and is paid to citizens who have contributed to the Old Age Insurance fund out of their earnings.

Old Age Assistance is primarily intended as a guarantee that no aged person shall suffer from lack of necessities. The law declares that if "shall not be construed as a vested right" in the recipient of such assistance." It is not transferable or assignable nor "subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment or other process." It is, in a sense, a government philanthropy. A person otherwise eligible may claim it only when in need for it, but if he fails to receive it for any reason it does not constitute a debt to his estate. The law is designed to supplement on a current basis only the resources of those who have "met all recipients may have the necessities equally. His basic purpose is to provide small cash payments for those aged persons who do not have enough to live on. One fact that makes Old Age Assistance different from all other forms of relief is that it comes from the federal government which will not make a penniless test of eligibility. This makes it illegal for aid to receive a $30 per month.

"To qualify for this assistance the law requires that certain conditions must be met. An eligible person must be at least 65 years of age. He must be a citizen. He must have lived in Texas for at least five years during the last nine, including one year next before making application. He must not be an habitual criminal or habitual drunkard, and he must be in actual need as defined by the law.

It is important to keep in mind that need is defined by the law as insufficient income or resources for maintaining living conditions in keeping with health and decency. Certain exemptions, such as a resident homestead, are ruled out of consideration as available resources. This is done on the theory that it would defeat the purpose of the law—that of providing minimum security—to deprive an aged person of these necessities and force him to be in actual drunkards and he must be in actual need as defined by the law.

THE DECORATED HOME

Any city adds greatly to its charm if most of its people take pride in their home. Many people say they are too busy or too tired to do such work, so many homes go to seed as they might be. Many families could improve their places, if they would cut flowers, string shrubs that would burst into bloom once a year, and give their dwellings a fascinating halo of color.

If they will choose a succession of shrubs that bloom at different dates, they can surround their homes with a constant wreath of glory. Even if there are times when the flowers have all faded, yet the wreath of green about the dwelling will take a commonplace looking structure into a bower of beauty. You will love your home more, if you thus decorate it.

HOME TOWN ADVANTAGES

The people who settled our country found that there were great advantages and benefits, they had to produce them by their own effort. As they toiled hard and long, they taxed themselves heavily, and they gave large amounts of time to public service. So they handed down to us the advantages of fine towns and cities.

The modern generation gets all this heritage without having produced it and often fails to realize that it takes work and effort to preserve it. If a community does not keep up with the times, it it is unwilling to accept new ideas, if it lacks enterprise and ambition, its prosperity is in danger of fading. It takes constant struggle and toil to maintain the fine activities that the fathers handed down to us.

HOW TO CONTROL RATS

(By R. B. Hickerson, District Field Assistant Rodent Control Service)

The first step toward successful rat control is a sincere determination to be rid of the pests. Often the control measures to be used will vary from time to time. Study the problem, observe the feeding and nesting habits of the rats, where they are running and how they gain entrance to buildings. With this information you are in a better position to begin worthwhile control work.

1. Poisoning: No poison, however good, will be effective unless the rats eat it. For this reason, baits should be chosen that the rats will take readily. At least three different types of bait should be exposed at the same time in order to assure effective poisoning. Be sure the bait is fresh and attractive. Small pieces of poisoned bait should be placed in rat runways, around the walls of buildings and in attics and basements. Baits may be laid on squares of paper to make their removal easier and to check on results.

Second: 1 pound Barium carbonate, 3 pounds chopped apples, 2 pounds sliced bananas. Mix apples and bananas thoroughly and stir on poison. Mix by stirring rather than bananas are not mashed up.

SEEKING ESCAPED GERMAN WAR PRISONER

Mr. M. W. Acers, Special Agent in Charge, Federal Bureau of Investigation, San Antonio, Texas, today announced that the FBI is cooperating in active investigations looking for the apprehension of Peter Krug, alias Muller, an escaped German war prisoner. Krug escaped from a prison camp in Ontario, Canada on April 16, 1942. It is believed the United States two days later by entering the Detroit River in a row boat, and proceeded to Detroit, Michigan. At Detroit he was given food and lodging by one Max Stephan and left Detroit by bus of April 19, 1942, intending to travel through Germany via South America. Stephan has been charged by the FBI for his activities in harboring Krug, and is now held in jail awaiting prosecution in Detroit.

Mr. Acers also stated that it was entirely possible that Krug would proceed through the mid-Western States to Southern Texas, hoping to effect his entry into Mexico along the border. Krug is described as 25 years of age, 5 feet 8½ inches tall; with brown hair, possibly wearing horn-rimmed glasses, long wavy hair, straight nose, round chin, medium build, weighing about 157 pounds, and his carriage was described as military and erect. He has a full scar on his left shoulder blade.

Mr. Acers further stated that Krug speaks German and practically no English, and that he may be wearing dirty coveralls and a German Southern Pacific cap on his head. He stated that Krug has been mailed to all local law enforcement agencies, where any local citizen can view for comparison purposes. Suspects who have already been reported in the San Antonio Area, but have been eliminated.

Mr. Acers requested that any citizen who saw an individual answering the above description, or who received clear-cut view of photograph of Krug, immediately contact the FBI with such information.

Jimmie Durante's face has been a great help in climbing to success. One day when traveling in a taxi, the driver came up to him and said: "You're a homely lookin' man in N'York." Jimmie simply smiled. Then the drunk hiccoughed, "You're th' homliest man in the worl'." "Listen, you," said Jimmie, "I know I'm homely, but can I help that?" To which agreed the drunk, "Ya' can't help it, butcha don't have t' be seen in public, do yuh?"

order that all officers might be able to attend them, Acers said.

Officers, including Chiefs of Police, members of their departments, sheriffs and their deputies, City Marshals, Constables, Railroad Police, members of the Texas Liquor Control Board, and others, will register at the Bandera Theater from 12:30 to 1 p. m., after which there will be a call to order and introduction of guests by Acers.

A principal reason for the meeting will be to permit an opportunity to exchange ideas, post experiences, digest suggestions, and develop new ideas in the handling of mutual problems, Acers said.

The group will go into a closed session at 2 p. m. and for the next 15 minutes there will be a roll call and introduction of officers by Special Deputy Sheriff J. Marvin Hunter of Bandera, Texas.

Latest information from the San Antonio Division of the Bureau will be brought to the group by Acers, who will talk on Allen Dulenop Control, Selective Service, Espionage " and Sabotage. This talk will begin at 2:15 p. m., lasting for 15 minutes.

For a 30 minute period talks will be made by the officers present, discussing specific national defense cases investigated by them or their departments.

Following the talks by the officers, the sound motion picture entitled, "Sabotage" will be shown from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. and the conference will then adjourn. Immediately subsequent to the adjournment of the FBI Conference, a meeting of the Hill Country Peace Officers Association will convene.

On Sept. 6, 1939 the FBI was designated by the President of the United States to take charge of investigations connected with matters relating to Espionage, Sabotage and violations of the Neutrality regulation. The President urged all officers in the United States to promptly turn over all information on such matters to the nearest representative of the FBI.

"One of the main purposes of these conferences is to standardize investigative procedure, writing reports and laying a ground work for the assignment of cases of all types, national defense, criminal cases included to the various police agencies and to carry out the directive of the President of the United States," Acers said.

Acers impressed with the attendance of 10 conferences for the first quarter, 1943 which totaled 753 law enforcement officers from 342 law enforcement agencies, declared, "A Fifth Column will never succeed in Texas because the Texas Law Enforcement officers are ready to meet its every advance. Never has there been such close unity and cooperation between these officers and the FBI."

HOME TOWN ENTERPRISE

The United States has made progress and developed from a new, pioneer country into the greatest nation on earth, largely because of the spirit of enterprise. Its people were not satisfied with what they had, but were constantly looking out for something better. They always sought new opportunities, new ways to produce, merchandise, and improve existing conditions.

We need the same feeling in work and business in our home town. We need the desire for new opportunity, that constant search for something better, that effort to give greater satisfaction to the public, that desire to produce superior things, that resolve to obtain, greater advantages for the people as a community where that spirit exists will develop the same as our country has.

VEGETABLE INSECT CONTROL NOT DIFFICULT

Follow a few simple rules and control of vegetable insects is not difficult, according to Cameron Biddell, A. and M. College Extension service entomologist.

A duster may be obtained for a dollar, and one may be made at home with a tin can, a stick and a piece of cheese cloth, Ask the county farm agent about how it's done. Next, have ready a supply of insecticides for use at the first sign of insect injury. There are cryolite for control of bean beetles, cucumber beetles, cabbage worms and other insects which feed upon the fruit and foliage of the plants; rotenone and arsenate to control tomato fruit worm, flea beetles, plant lice and leaf hoppers, and concentrated pyrethrum dust for squash bugs, stink bugs, and harlequin cabbage bugs. Watch the garden for the first sign of injury and dust both sides of leaves.

Apply poison bait late in the afternoon for control of cut worms, grasshoppers and adult wingless May beetle, or June bug. Poison bait also will control mole crickets which frequent sandy soils.

A bait made of cryolite, finely chopped carrots or turnips and wheat bran will control the adult vegetable weevil which attacks roots and foliage of carrots, turnips, radishes and beets, together with cabbage, mustard and other leafy vegetables. This pest prevails in 19 or 40 counties adjacent to College Station.

To control the bluish-gray pill bugs, or sow bugs, which damage young tomato plants, sprinkle a mixture of two parts flour, three parts sugar and one part paris green throughout the bed. Flea beetles, also dangerous to tobacco plants, may be controlled by dusting plants with rotenone and sulphur each week to ten days.

Cantaloupe, now coming up in southern areas, may be protected from the striped cucumber beetle, which feeds beneath the first small leaves, by dusting with calcium arsenate of four per cent rotenone content, or with cryolite at ten day intervals as long as beetles are present.

SOCIAL SECURITY DOES NOT HAVE "SICK" BENEFITS

April 28, 1941 — As a result of numerous inquiries being received by his office concerning the payment of benefits to individuals who are ill and unable to work, F. J. McCarthy, Jr., manager of the San Antonio field office of the Social Security Board today called attention to the fact that there are no provisions in the Social Security Act for such payments.

"Claims for benefits under the Federal old-age and survivors insurance program are not accepted by the Social Security Board until the wage earner attains the age of 65 unless the wage earner dies before reaching that age," McCarthy stated.

It was also pointed out by McCarthy that one of the qualifications for benefits under the unemployment compensation law is that the applicant for such benefits must be able to work and available for employment if a job is offered him.

Recommendations for recommendations for social security amendments recently submitted by the Social Security Board, provision would be made for health insurance," McCarthy explained. "Under the present law an individual who is ill is not covered by either the Federal old-age and survivors insurance or the State unemployment compensation law."

McCarthy stated that many of the inquiries referred to had been in the form of letters while others came in by telephone.

The above map of Texas shows the War Bond quotas, by counties, for the month of, May, 1942. Total War Bond quota for the State is $18,594,500. Every income earner in the State is expected to step-up War Bond purchases on a basis of ten per cent or more of income. This is necessary to help America's armed forces take the offensive against the Axis powers. The American voluntary method of War Bond purchases must be successful in reaching the quotas set by the Treasury Department for every county in the nation. The job of every American now is to stop spending and save dollars to help win the War.

THE STUDENT'S CHOICE

Within a few weeks an army of young people of Texas will have graduated from colleges and high schools, and will be faced with the problem of choosing an occupation and getting a job. The business and industrial world is in a highly confused state, since so many concerns find their trade affected by the war program. Many of these young people will have to take what they can get, and for most anything that will give them a living, even if it is something quite different from the position they had contemplated.

The war interferes with the plans of many youths to enter this or that occupation to which they are attracted. Such young misters must not be discouraged by the inability to carry out former plans immediately. It happens in many cases that they have to try various lines before they finally settle on the one they can be best at, and find an opening that gives them real hope. Countless men have found their real start in their life work until reached 29, 30, or even higher ages.

Any young man who is working is getting useful experience that will help him in any calling or occupation he may later enter. That is particularly true if his experience brings him in contact with people, and gives him some knowledge of human nature and training in dealing with people. The ability to please people. When he knows how to deal with human beings and satisfy them in their needs, he has learned one of the most valuable lessons of the business world.

The chances of being drafted for army service seem just as good in any quarter as the career of many youths. If drafted, they will learn a lot about human affairs in the experiences of camps and campaigns that will help them in the problems of life.

The problem of young women graduates are not so complicated. The world is going to need a lot of them to take the places of those drafted men. They will learn more than in former years, in this period of new opportunities for their sex.

NATIONAL MARITIME DAY

May 22 is appointed as National Maritime day. It is the occasion when Americans should be proud of mighty deeds upon the seas, of the prowess of naval men and sailors who have triumphed over enemies and obtained for our ships the right to freely voyage all over the earth.

It used to be the longing of countless boys to go to sea, to see the world in far lands, and to see strange sights in foreign harbors. Perhaps not so many have had that ambition of late years. Yet it is an occupation of the highest use. It is absolutely necessary for the safety of the nation, that we have plenty of fighting ships, and plenty of merchant vessels that will carry our goods and our munitions in war time wherever they are needed.

Any youth who chooses a seafaring career is a guardian of life and progress to the United States, and his work brings pride to the heart of every American, as his ship tosses over the blue and bounding billows.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

The old time test of a good neighbor was the family that helped you out if you got sick or had many kind of troubles. Those good neighbors are still valuable, though we do not depend so far on that type of help as in former days.

A test of good neighbor spirit highly valued now is as to whether the neighbor keeps his home place in a neat and attractive condition. The neighbor may be friendly and good natured, but if he lets his place look like a last year's bird's nest in a rough and unkempt condition, the value of his friendship seems at a discount. If he keeps his place in perfect order and makes it look attractive, he adds to the value of your place. That kind of good neighborliness is mighty well appreciated now.

The church service was proceeding successfully when a woman in the gallery got so interested that she leaned too far and fell over the railings. Her dress caught in a chandelier, and she was suspended in mid-air. The minister noticed her undignified position and thundered at the congregation:

"Any person who turns round will be struck stone blind."

I thought about that again, the other day. I decided to check up on Ford.

Well, I found out plenty. I found out that legal beer has put more than 3 billion dollars in taxes since 1933. It has made more than a million new jobs.

According to one of the reports, I've seen, beer has put more than 18 billion dollars into general taxation. Goodness me, that's a lot of money.

Beer is sold today in every state in the Union. Every state benefits from beer's jobs and taxes. And I guess there's no denying that beer did do its share in bringing back better times.

I'm glad it did, too, because beer is such a pleasant, appetizing beverage. And it stands for moderation and moderate people — it's not liquor.

THE SELF CONTAINED NATION

The American people used to think they had a self contained nation. They knew they could raise plenty of food. They felt with their iron, coal, wood, cotton, and many more materials that they could produce enough of all they needed. They felt that one great source of their prosperity was that they were not dependent on foreign lands for the essentials of life.

It has come as a rather rude shock that one of the most vital essentials is rubber, and that they have been getting the bulk of it from far distant lands. As our industries are organized to-day, rubber is an absolute necessity, particularly for many workers on war production who could earn to get to and from their work. Mechanized war calls for a vast amount of rubber. Our country is not so self contained as people thought.

It was a heavy shock to the eastern states to find that they have been getting such a big part of their oil supplies from tankers, vessels, and that a hornet's nest of U boats have been raising havoc with this transportation.

The American people are fighting for a world where the trade will be free from submarines lurking under the waves, and airplanes dropping death and destruction from the clouds. They hope to persuade the nations that have been creating this havoc, that it does not pay thus to try to sweep peaceful commerce from the seas and terrorize nations.

There is a growing feeling that our people left these job and half done. They are determined this time to finish the thing completely. If there is any danger that will appear to come to disrupt normal activity, our people will want to know that United States is thoroughly self contained country, with all essential products within easy reach.

THE STANDARD OF LIVING

The American people are told they will have to resign themselves to a lower standard of living while the war lasts. It is evident that they will be required to pay far higher taxes. Yet the national income is being greatly increased. People may have more money left after paying taxes than they have had since 1929, when the country suffered collapse.

People will not be able to use that money as they wish in all cases because production of many kinds of civilian goods is stopping so that factories can make war materials. In that, respect our standard of living will be reduced.

A standard of living is not wholly determined by the money people get or the things they buy. It is largely measured by such factors as health, education, knowledge and useful experience.

Take the family that has been spending money for many pleasure trips, attendance at entertainment and sporting events, and costly pleasures of many kinds. It will probably be limited now on these kinds of expenditure, because it can not travel around so freely.

That family will probably stay at home more, read more books and newspapers, attend more home town entertainments, see more of their neighbors, and enjoy more social around home. They may be just as healthy as before, they will perhaps make more friends, and they may gain in education. It can hardly be said that their standard of living has declined.

If a family is able to support itself and earn enough money to obtain a fair amount of comfort and experience, its standard of living depends a good deal on its own ambitions. If our standard of living is reduced in some directions, we may be able to enlarge it elsewhere.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

As increase of 13 per cent in the number of Bill Crumley deer placed on cold storage during the 1941 hunting season, as compared to the 1940 season, was reported today upon completion of a check of the deer kill in that region by Game Department biologists.

The turkey kill in that section also increased last year, as is indicated, the Executive Secretary of the Department said, by a jump of 144 per cent in the number of gobblers placed on storage during the open season in three of the principal cities located in the Hill Country deer and turkey range.

The scarcity of rain during the early months of this year already has been broken and if additional rain falls in abundance over the Hill Country deer and turkey ranges of Texas, a food and cover supply for these excellent game species equal to that of last year would result, and the deer herds and turkey flocks would show an additional increase. Field biologists of the Department are encouraging ranchers and farmers not to overgraze their land that will game may hold its own in the Hill Country, and in some instances ranchers have cut down large numbers of live oak trees in an effort to produce more browse for deer. Many of the best deer hunting grounds in the Hill Country are badly over grazed by sheep, cattle and goats, with the result that deer in some localities are few and they get minimum food requirements.

Herp Big Fish

J. C. McGlothlin had a lot of fun the opening day of the fishing season, reports the Wood Us Record of Mineola.

First he caught a five-pound bass, then with a fly rod, he hooked a nine-pound grindle that according to all the evidence put up one whale of a fight.

The evidence is McGlothlin's broken fly rod.

New Dope on Bullfrogs.

In war time all sources of food are important, and the bullfrog never held in disrepute by food fanciers, has assumed even more importance as a vital natural resource.

For years many Texans have advocated a shortening of the season on taking frogs, which may be gigged at any time of the year. Two local bills introduced during the last two sessions of the Legislature failed to pass, however.

The supply of frog legs at Texas restaurants and hotels is in danger of diminishing because, in the opinion of Game Department biologists, the supply of these cold blooded animals is being rapidly depleted because of overhunting.

Bullfrogs will not thrive in captivity. This has been demonstrated time and again.

You may obtain a copy free by writing the Game Department, Austin.

WOMEN IN THE ARMY

Congress has passed a bill creating a Women's Auxiliary Army corps, which would permit 150,000 women volunteers to serve in non-combat capacity. Thousands of women have indicated in their letters that they would be willing and even anxious to perform such duties. The army could use 12,000 more women immediately.

The women are forcast in their patriotism and full of energy and vitality. Many of them long to do something more for their country than they can in civilian life. Their quick intuitions and close powers of observation in time of extremity useful, and the chances are that the army will find many things they can do for the good of our fighting forces.

The student was one of those lads of little knowledge, but long on self-assurance.

"Now, boys," the professor began, "I will now explain—"

"Indeed, yes," was the reply.

"A barrow wheeled by a man."

WEEDING THE LAWNS

It takes quite a struggle to make the grass grow in the home lawns and then the weeds flourish. Some householders become discouraged and give up trying, and others who have their lawns in place look ragged and uncared for.

The householder who desires a nice lawn place should expect to nurse his grass with tender care. Two weeks that grow so easily where they are not wanted have to be dealt with. Someone should start after them with a trowel or a sharp knife, and pull them up by the roots and prevent their seeds from scattering further. A lawn in which nice grass is growing thickly seems like a garment of velvet for the home. And its occupants enjoy its beauty every day.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Our army spells out pronounces it ponton, not "pontoon", as you do. Pontus bridges cost all the way from $1,000 to $100,000. The smaller bridge using individual metal pontons is pictured here. The largest pontoon bridge is 1,500 feet long and is made of rubber instead of aluminum.

One small bridge has a weight capacity of 25 tons, using 10 of the individual spiral pontons. The small unit is used only to take troops over the smaller streams. But whether our army uses the smaller or largest pontoon, our engineers need plenty of them. If you and every American invests at least 10 percent of income in War Bonds every pay day we can supply our fighting forces with these materials to a victorious war.

DEAR MOM

Dear Mom,
Today I sail the seas and think of you.
How swell you must have looked in church; and say,
No one but you could ever bake and stew
Such tasty things and all my favorite way.

One year ago today we laughed and sang
At home of love and peace the like the wide world round.
And now, with miles between, we feel a pang
Of grief and pray that peace may soon abound.

Now, Mom, you must not grieve that I am here.
I came to do a thing that must be done,
To make our country safe for loved ones dear.
For you and Dad and Sis and her wee son.

Thanks, Mom, for all your love and care these years.
The least that I can do is fight for you.
Now dry your eyes—God soldiers shed no tears.
Put on your smile the way you always do.

And if I marry here and come no more,
Stay not that I am dead, for I shall live
In every peaceful place on every shore,
Rejoicing that I had a life to give.

A young R. A. F. officer stationed somewhere in Egypt was flying near the great Pyramid, carrying out exercises in navigation and discovering his geographical position with a sextant.

After a series of involved and confused calculations he turned suddenly to his pilot and said, "Take off your hat."

"Because according to my calculations we are now inside St. Paul's Cathedral."

THOUGHT FOR MEMORIAL DAY

The veterans of the War between the States of 1861-65 have often been disappointed because the national Memorial day has been in the public mind mainly an occasion for recreation. To the veterans, it is the most sacred day of the year, a time when the people should lavish their devotion to the nation for which the war sacrifices were made.

So when the veteran saw the crowds streaming to the ball games or along the motor roads, he sometimes wondered if the people had lost their love for the country.

The American people value their days out for rest and recreation. You can't blame them if they take every holiday as a chance to engage in their favorite pastimes. They have not forgotten the heroes of the past. They look with the greatest reverence and appreciation on veterans who fought from '61 to '65, and they feel the same affection for those who served in the Spanish war of 1898, and the first World war.

The men who gave up their lives on the battle fields of the nation's choicest heroes. Their memory grows brighter as the years go on. The long processions that still march to the cemeteries, and lay flowers of affection on the graves of all soldiers are proof that this service and sacrifice will never be forgotten.

The soldiers of our former wars hold high the ideal of patriotism; they tell the country that it owes its freedom and happiness to the spirit of sacrifice for the public welfare. They ask the present generation to be willing if necessary to make equal sacrifices, that the noble principles of our government shall be sustained. The hearty response in the present war to the call for service, indicates that the country accepts this teaching, and is ready to follow in the footsteps of the heroes of former days.

WORK CURES ALL

Many influential people feel worried about the state of the country after the war. They look at the enormous governmental debt, and they don't see how it can ever be paid. Also they ask how work can be found for all the people when the munition factories stop or slow down.

The original American colonists landed in their homes with practically nothing but their own strong and willing hands. They were able to build a grand country out of that nothing and the resources they found. We have far more today, with plenty of resources, and the greatest producing system in the world. If we can't make it work, and provide more comfort than ever before, we are not so smart as we thought we were.

Lack of work seems about the most fruitful evil. If people have work, they usually behave themselves. If they are unemployed some of them deteriorate, and some get into trouble. This way may be considered the result of unemployment. It would never have been able to gain his mastery over Germany, if millions of young people in that country had not been idle and looking for trouble. In their state of unemployment, they were ready to listen to wild and violent ideas.

If the producing plants of our country could be kept busy, and giving willing workers employment, the country can raise enough in taxes to pay the interest on its debts, and something each year on the principal of its debts.

As there will be a tremendous demand after the war for goods that can't now be produced, there should be little difficulty for some time after the war in finding work for the people. As long as they have work, they will keep buying and buying, and there will be plenty of demand for labor. Civilization is built on work, and it is the foundation of all progress and welfare.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

The people who devote themselves entirely to their own personal ambitions seem to ignore the truth that when their home town fails behind, they also lose. It would pay them to assure their own progress by joining in efforts to improve the home town.

A town with a prosperous retail trade is sure of its future and its steady progress. Help obtain that security by buying of the home stores.

Don't complain if people go elsewhere to trade, if you have failed to tell them about your goods by advertising.

LETTUCE—A VICTORY FOOD SPECIAL

An unusually large crop of lettuce is being produced this year with heaviest supplies expected to be on consumer markets during the next few weeks. H. P. Schlemmer, County Agricultural Agent is cooperating in the special nation-wide merchandising campaign by asking retail food merchants to push the sale of lettuce during the period. Fresh vegetable will be featured nationally as a Victory Food Special to encourage civilian consumption. The merchandising plan is being carried on in cooperation with the Agricultural Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The object of this plan is to widen market outlets for producers. According to the Bureau of Home Economics, crisp head lettuce, a good source of carotene, which the body can change into Vitamin A, it contains some Vitamin B1, riboflavin, and Vitamin C. It is also a good source of iron and calcium. In fact, the darker leaves and greener the leaf, the better a source of iron and carotene is lettuce. Even head lettuce contributes most of these same food values, but it rates considerably lower than the green lettuce as a source of the vitamins and minerals mentioned. Nutritionists think so highly of lettuce that they recommend a serving of one kind a day, and more if possible.

Lettuce is a perfect vegetable for salad. In every season of the year there's some vegetable that will go with it. Lettuce is also a natural with meat. And when it is plentiful, serve it at least once a day in your household. Home-town shoppers, contact Home Demonstration Agent for new appetising recipes for serving lettuce on their family table.

Collars in Bible

There are about 20 different words denoting color in the Old Testament, but only white, black, blue, purple, red, yellow and green, are distinctly named. In the New Testament seven colors are named—white, black, red, purple, green, scarlet and vermilion.

THANKS TO SCHOOL TEACHERS

We want to take this opportunity of expressing our sincere appreciation for your untiring and efficient service in the War Rationing Registration Program. Without the wholehearted cooperation you gave, the program could not have been the success it was.

We are very happy to publicly state that on the first day of registration, the day that Washington was exceedingly interested in to see whether the people were taking to the idea or not, Texas was second only to New York in total registration.

Please express to your teachers our sincere appreciation for their cooperation, inasmuch as we will not have the opportunity of thanking them personally.

Thanking you again and extending the thanks of our respective office staffs, we are

Sincerely yours,
L. A. Woods

WHY COMMUNITIES PROSPER

Cities and towns that have gone ahead and grown in size, trade and advantages, usually owe their gains to two sources of such progress. Some of them gained because they had an exceptionally good location. If they were placed on some good harbor or river or lake port, or near some profitable producing center, business naturally came their way.

In very many cases, perhaps the majority, cities have grown to become more prosperous because they had people with vision and enterprise and ambition. These people had the courage to start new enterprises and push for greater advantages. The general run of citizens also cooperated by responding to leadership, and working for community progress. Any city can go ahead, if it manifests these qualities of enterprise and ambition and industry.

TO THE RESIDENTS OF MEDINA RURAL HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT

Attached hereto the article that was published over my name in the Bandera New Era week before last concerning the ballots that were lately mailed to me. I have been informed by members of the Medina School District that the people of the district wish to vote by absentee ballot. Now, as I did not know this vote was going th be had, and as yet I do not know who had the ballots printed and mailed out to be sent to me, and as I have not felt like paying the more than two dollars postage that is due on them, nor like taking the responsibility of opening them, I have not taken the ballots out of the Post Office. I have learned however, that if the party or parties who had the ballots printed and mailed out to the people, together with the Board of trustees wish to count them and will pay the postage that is due on them, we will get them out of the office and they may count them. I understand that a relatively small number of these ballots have arrived at the Bandera Post Office.

KNOW YOUR AIR RAID WARNING SIGNAL

In order to meet with the National Standard Regulations for air raid warning signals, set out in the National Defense Program, we have this date changed our air raid warning signal to: Turn siren on 10 seconds and off 5 seconds. Five times in succession. The all clear signal will be one long blast of siren for 30 seconds duration.

For fire alarm: Turn siren on 30 seconds and off 10 seconds, 3 times in succession.

Know the alarm signals as it may save your life and property or the entire town in case of an air raid.

We suggest that you clip this for future reference.

4-H WAR EFFORT

Texas 4-H Club boys have collected and moved into the channels of the nation armament program 1,566 tons of scrap iron.

Collections of other scarce materials include 52,875 pounds of aluminum and 114,084 pounds of waste paper.

On the Food For Victory front the club boys have 48,079 hens in production with 664,057 baby chicks coming along.

They have on hand 8,145 hogs, 3,677 beef calves and 3,472 lambs. This information is contained in a preliminary report issued by L. L. Johnson, state boys' club agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, on the basis of returns from county agricultural agents in 113 out of 254 Texas counties.

Johnson said he expected these totals to be doubled when all counties are heard from.

C. S. A. COURSE AT SCHREINER EXPANDED

Kerrville, May 25—The civilian pilot training program at Schreiner Institute is being greatly broadened by new regulations of the Civilian Aeronautics Administration in Washington. The course has been expanded into pre-cadet training leading to commissions in the Air Force of either the Army or Navy.

The flight training is now open to students 18 to 26 years of age who can pass the physical requirements. High school students and others who can pass a mental screen test will be acceptable. Heretofore the program has been limited to college students.

Those selected will be deferred for Selective Service until the end of the course, by which time they will have received the valuable training.

The Government will pay cost of the training for accepted applicants, including board and room, plus the physical examination fee and insurance for full time trainees.

The summer class is expected to start about June 15 and continue for eight weeks. Any young man in the Hill Country area who is interested may make application to T. M. Hammond, co-ordinator of the civilian pilot training at Schreiner Institute. The applicant should bring certified copies of his birth certificate and three letters of recommendation written on business letterheads certifying to his good character and loyal American citizenship.

From where I sit
by Joe Marsh

Every Friday night a bunch of us fellows get together over at Bill Webster's place. We wouldn't miss those weekly get-togethers for anything.

There are seven in the group—Bill Webster, Judge Cunningham, Pete Swanson, Old Doc McGinnis the dentist, and young Doc Mitchell the M.D., the government man Bob Newcomb, and myself.

We don't play cards. We don't sing or carry on.

We just sit quietly and talk and drink a glass or two of beer.

I guess we discuss just about everything under the sun—politics, business, family affairs, music, farming, hunting, fishing, and what not.

But mostly we like to chew the fat about life's experience and a man's philosophy in these times.

To sort of help out the conversation, we've found mellow beer particularly relaxing. Every one of us likes the tangy taste of beer... and now and then Judge Cunningham insists on ale for everybody.

You mightn't think that just settin' and talkin' would be much fun. But it is. Particularly when a man begins to get up in the age of reason. Like me.

And it's wonderful how a few glasses of good beer help bring out good talk and good sense when men get together. There's something peaceful and friendly and human about beer that brings out the best in a man.

They call beer the "beverage of moderation." That "moderation" idea is good philosophy . . . maybe that's why good beer and good fellowship go together so well.

Seems to me there ought to be more of this quiet talk over a glass of beer. It sure straightens out a man in his thinking.

Anyhow, men ought to get together and be friends. That's the way we were made. Why not try it more often—and see?
