The Bandera New Era

Published Every Thursday at Bandera, Texas.

Editor and Proprietor.

Advertising Rates—One insertion 30c per column inch. Contract rates 25c per column inch, display ads, per week. Local readers one cent per word each insertion, with a minimum charge of 15c. Cards of thanks, 50c. Lodge and church resolutions of obituaries five cents per line each insertion. All church, lodge and society for charitable institutions where an admission fee is charged five cents per line each insertion.

The New Era goes to press early Thursday mornings in order to get the paper out in the mail at noon, thus reaching almost every postoffice in the county on Thursday. In order to do this we must close our forms on Wednesdays. Items or advertisements which come in after noon Wednesday may be crowded out. Let us have them early in the week as possible.

Shower the bride and groom! Those who wish to contribute to the "shower" for the bride and groom at the reunion wedding may send or bring their gift to the New Era office up to the evening of July 3rd. Several gifts have already been sent in. Put your name on your gift and leave it here. This "shower" is county wide, and everybody can participate.

The Bandera County Fish and Game Protective Association has issued a small folder giving the fish and game laws covering this county, and Game Warden O. Durst has been distributing them freely among visitors who came here on camping and outing trips. And it may be well to state right here that the local citizen is expected to keep within the law as well as the visitor. Warden Durst is not disposed to be severe in the discharge of his duties, but if you have an idea that you can violate the law and get by with it you can bet he is camping right on your trail and sooner or later you will realize that he is not here for his health. The issuance of the folders was but a step toward familiarizing the public with the law's provisions, and everybody should get one and keep it at hand, not only for his own information, but for others' as well.

The County Judge.

Judge A. L. Mansfield announces this week as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Judge of Bandera county, subject to the will of the people at the November election. Judge Mansfield is now serving his first term in this office, and has given good satisfaction to the people of the county. He is interested in securing better schools and better roads, as well as other good things for the county, and has been quite active along these lines. If you endorse his policy and service as county judge your support and influence is respectfully solicited.

For District Judge.

L. J. Brucks, present district attorney, is a candidate for the office of District Judge of this the 38th Judicial District, and his announcement appears in this issue of the New Era, and he is making the race subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries. Judge Brucks has served as District Attorney a number of terms, the duties of which office he has discharged efficiently and impartially. He asks the support of the voters of the district in his present race, assuring them that if he is elected he will faithfully discharge the duties of that office.

For County and District Clerk.

He is always right on the job when needed, is obliging and accomodating to everybody and the people will remember these things at the polls in November.

More Than 200,000 Ford Cars Sold During May.

May was another 200,000 sales month for the Ford Motor Company, making that month one of the highest in the company's history and completing the consecutive months in which domestic retail deliveries exceeded the 200,000 figure.

The company announced here today that 209,601 Ford cars and trucks were sold at retail in the United States during May. May an increase of 38,000 over the same month a year ago.

The demand for Fordson Tractors both for industrial and agricultural purposes continues strong and retail sales for May average more than 300 a day.

In case of a bite from a venomous snake far from hospitals and doctors: Grasp the limb above the bite. Tie tightly and knot strings. This will localize the the poison. Make ten deep insisions with sharp knife or razor incisions across over snake punctures, five each way at right angles which will result in a checkerboard effect directly over the fang marks. Suck out poison that does not come out with flowing blood, inthirty minutes loosen string, but if poison effect follow tighten string again. This must all be done quickly.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

RELATING TO GRANTING OF "CONFEDERATE" PENSIONS.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 10

Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that the Legislature may grant pensions to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas since prior to January 1, 1910, providing that all soldiers, sailors and their widows eligible under the provisions hereof shall be entitled to be placed upon the rolls and participate in the pension fund created hereunder; levying a tax of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation of property in this State for the payment of such pension, providing that the Legislature may reduce the rate of pension for such purposes; fixing a time for the election to be held on such amendment and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever, provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows, in indigent circumstances and who have been bona fide residents of this State since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disabled soldiers who under the special laws of the State of Texas during the war between the States served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the war between the States and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "aid" in the preceding lines of this Section shall not apply to women born since the year 1861, and all soldiers and sailors and all widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this State under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by the Legislature, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a State ad valorem tax on property of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navys, organizations and militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further that the provision of this Section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1924, at which all voters shall have printed or written on their ballots: "For amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this State since January 1, 1910," and "Against amendment to Section 51 of Article 3, of the Constitution, authorizing the legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers and their widows."

Sec. 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State, and the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of this State not otherwise appropriated for expenses of publications and elections thereunder.

Approved, March 20, 1923.

S. L. STAPLES,

The Old Settlers' Reunion.

Reports are coming in from everywhere that a vast crowd will attend the Old Settlers' Reunion at Bandera tomorrow other towns will send large delegations, and it is estimated that fully 10,000 people will be here. Extensive preparations are being made to entertain the visitors at Ed Mansfield's place, west of town, where there is plenty of shade and water, and grounds for the amusements that will be staged. By co-operation and the right community spirit this reunion could be made the greatest and most enjoyable event ever held here. The treatment accorded our visitors will be repaid a thousand fold by bringing them back to Bandera again, by the good words they will be disposed to, say of our town, and by the feelings of friendship and neighborliness gained—if they are permitted to get these impressions.

A report has gone out that the wedding of Mr. Harold Young and Miss Eunice Price will not take place as announced last week. This report is absolutely without foundation. The wedding will take place on the Old Settlers' platform on the 26th. Mr. Mansfield place at 8:30 P. M. July 4th, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. The Old Fiddlers' contest will follow the wedding.

The New Era has labored for this reunion for months. Our sole purpose was to provide enjoyment and entertainment for our old settlers, and we have had no other object in view than that they should be given everything the younger generation could provide for them in this way, and we are hoping that all will long pass off to the mutual satisfaction of all who attend the big reunion July 4th and 5th.

Fifth Sunday Meeting

From Friday night to Sunday night was a glorious time in Bandera. The fifth Sunday Meeting of the Medina River Baptist Association was held and delegates and laymen were present from all over the district. Prominent ministers in the Association delivered stirring sermons, and the general work of the Baptist denomination was discussed and planned for greater effort. The program as published in the New Era a short time ago was carried out, and this meeting proved to be about the most enthusiastic and interesting that has been held for some time. Every church in the Association was represented at this meeting.

For County Treasurer.

Mrs. John F. Hodges announces this week as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Treasurer. It gives the New Era pleasure to say just a few words in behalf of Mrs. Hodges. Her efficiency is well known to the voters of the county, and the fact that she has no opponent for this position is evidence that her service in this capacity is meeting with general approval. She is painstaking in her work, obliging and accessible to all who have business to transact with the county treasurer, and serves the people to the best of her ability. She again asks the support of the voters at the November election.

For Commissioner.

John L. Edwards announces as a candidate for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 2, subject to the will of the people, at the November election. There is no need for us to go into a long discussion of the qualifications of this good man. He has served the people as commissioner several terms and his work has been done well. We are proud of his record as a road builder and as a commissioner. He respectfully asks the support of the voters of his precinct.

A. T. Moravietz and wife and their son, Peter Moravietz and wife, came up from Falls City to visit and attend the Old Settlers' Reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. George Braley, of Junction, were here to attend the Old Settlers' Reunion. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Braley's mother, Mrs. John L. Jones.

C. O. Powell, of Port Arthur, is here on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Jim Hippe, and brother Vernon Powell. He got here in time to attend the Old Settlers' Reunion and says he met hundreds of his old friends, many of whom he had not seen for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Quiney Surber, Mr. and Mrs. George Loesberg, Mrs. L. L. Edens and Will Loesberg, of Kerrville, and Clarence Nugent of San Antonio, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Loesberg during the reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Pomp Freeman, of Ozona, attended the Old Settlers' Reunion. They lived in the county for about thirty years and found lots of their old friends right here to greet them once more. They left for their home at Ozona Sunday, accompanied by their grandson, Warren Stanard, who also spent a few days here.

Dan Russell Dead.

Dan Russell, a well known citizen of Medina Creek region, died last Thursday night, after a brief illness, and was buried at Medina Friday. Deceased was forty years old, and unmarried. He is survived of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Russell, five brothers and four sisters. The father has been seriously ill in a hospital at Kerrville for some time, but is reported improving. Our sympathy goes out to the grief- stricken family in this hour of affliction.

For Sheriff and Tax Collector.

Henry Stevens announces this week as a candidate for re-election to the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Bandera county, subject to the will of the people at the November general election. Mr. Stevens has held this office for several terms, and has always discharged his duties in an efficient and satisfactory manner. He appreciates the confidence and good will which the people have given him in the past, and if re-elected he will continue to discharge the duties of the office to the best of his ability.

Frank Billings left Sunday for Beasley to be with his wife, who underwent an operation Monday. Report comes that Mrs. Billings is doing nicely, and we hope her recovery will be rapid.

The Reunion Wedding.

The wedding which took place on the Old Settlers' platform at the reunion last Friday evening, wherein Miss Eunice Price and Mr. Harold Young were the contesting parties, was one of the most interesting features of the big reunion. The arrangements for this happy event were in charge of Mrs. Chas. Eckhart and Mrs. John Mansfield, who erected an arch over the platform with ferns and flowers and assisted the wedding party for the occasion. Promptly at 8:30 the wedding party approached and came upon the platform, where Rev. L. H. Billings, a well known Baptist minister of Gillespie county, performed the beautiful ceremony. Immediately afterward a flashlight photo was made, and the party left the platform. The bridesmaids were Misses Ruth Whitley, Agatha Fyke, Lue Elba Stevens, Evelyn Mansfield, Elsie Schenle, Pauline Eldridge, Isabel Cox and Minnie Mae Mansfield. Little Ruth Fitzgerald was flower girl. The couple received handsome and useful different colors of the rainbow, and altogether it proved to be a beautiful and impressive wedding. A silver service was given after the ceremony to supplement the shower which had been tendered the bride before, and several dollars were contributed by the assemblage. It is estimated that fully four thousand people witnessed the ceremony, and it goes down in history as the greatest wedding Bandera ever had.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Price of this city. She is a young lady of lovable disposition, is a consistent member of the Baptist church, and for two years was linotype operator in the New Era office. Her friends are legion. The groom is an industrious young farmer of Gillespie county, a member of the Baptist church, and a World War veteran. He is a young man of pleasing address, good manners, and worthy of the bonnie bride he has won. The New Era joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young joy and prosperity through life.

Mrs. Fletcher Davis, wife of the hustling editor of the Hondo Anvil-Herald, was here to attend the Old Settlers' Reunion Friday. We have admired the genius and versatility of the editor of the Hondo paper and Fletcher's Farming, that interesting and entertaining monthly magazine issued from the same office, and wondered from whence came that editor's inspiration, but since meeting Mrs. Davis we can readily see the "power behind the throne." For quite awhile, when Mrs. Davis was connected with the State Farm Bureau, the duties of which called her from home, Mrs. Davis edited and managed the Anvil-Herald in a very able and pleasing manner.

Camp Meeting at Tarpley.

An old fashioned campmeeting will begin at Tarpley July 18th, to continue ten days. Dal Heard an earnest Baptist minister, will conduct the meeting. Everybody invited to attend, and camp there until the meeting ends.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Converse, of San Antonio, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mellows and Miss Sallie Surber.

J. A. Steinle for many years a resident of Bandera county, but now living at Jourdanton, just couldn't stay away from the old settlers' gathering last Friday and Saturday, so he was right on hand at the beginning and stayed until the close. Mr. Steinle met hundreds of his old friends and was kept busy handshaking all the time he was here.

Among the reunion visitors who were Mrs. Mattie Jones were Mrs. J. D. Gibbons and children, Mrs. Ada Medlin and child, Mrs. Mahala Pipes and daughter, and Mr. King and Mr. Siner, all of San Antonio. Mrs. Gibbons is a daughter of Mrs. Jones, and she was raised in Bandera, she found the old settlers' reunion to be one of the most enjoyable events of the times.

Twenty-five years ago Ignatius Jureczki left Bandera and disappeared as if the earth had swallowed him. For a quarter of a century he was mourned as dead, as no word came from him. But there were many here who had not forgotten "Geronimo," as he was called, and they were delighted to see him turn up at the Old Settlers' reunion. Mr. Jureczki, who now lives at California, heard about the gathering of the old settlers and hastened here once more to meet them. He will remain here a few weeks to visit his relatives and friends.

Our sympathy is extended to our friend and worthy fellow citizen, Mr. J. A. Miller, over the death of his brother, William Frederick Miller, which occurred at a hospital in San Antonio Sunday, June 30. Deceased was 71 years old, and had been associated with cattle interests in Southwest Texas since his graduation from Washington and Lee University in 1877. He is said to have been the largest taxpayer in Bexar county. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Emma Miller, two children, William M. Miller and Mrs. Charles C. Cade, of San Antonio; two brothers, J. Albert Miller of Bandera and George C. Miller of Marathon, and one sister, Mrs. Julia Meyer of Belton.

CONSTITUTION RELATING TO GRANTING OF CONFEDERATE PENSIONS.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 10

Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that the Legislature may grant pensions to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas since prior to January 1, 1910, providing that all soldiers, sailors and their widows eligible under the provisions hereof shall be entitled to be placed upon the rolls and participate in the pension fund created hereunder; levying a tax of seven(65)cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation of property in this State for the payment of such pension, providing that the Legislature may reduce the rate of pension for such purposes, fixing a time for the election to be held on such amendment and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows, in indigent circumstances and who have been bona fide residents of this State since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disabled soldiers who under the special laws of the State of Texas during the war between the States served in organizations for the protection of the Frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the war between the States and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widows" in the preceding lines of this Section shall not apply to women born since the year 1861, and all soldiers and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this State under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by the Legislature, and to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and provide for said in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide that husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a State ad valorem tax on property of seven (8.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, the organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations and militia: provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further that the provisions of this Section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1924, at which all voters shall have printed or written on their ballots: "For amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this State since January 1, 1910," and "Against amendment to Section 51 of Article 3, of the Constitution, authorizing the legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers and their widows."

Sec. 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by State, and the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of this State not otherwise appropriated for expenses of publication and elections thereunder.

Approved, March 20, 1923.

Secretary of State.

Talking About The Reunion

That was a bunch of great pioneers, settlers, frontiers and trail drivers, that took possession of Bandera on Friday to the tune of 7,000. The occasion was the Old Settlers' Reunion, and they came from many a mile around—even out to Sonora andequidistant places. The affair was staged on Ed Mansfield's ranch, two miles west of Bandera. On a gently sloping plain beyond which the Bandera mountains rose blue and clear in the sky, the rodeo was held, where mountain boys from "all over" vied with each other in riding bucking steers and in roping calves. Some of the finest cow ponies that ever had a saddle on their backs, were ridden in that roping contest. And some of the handiest boys that ever tanned in a Texas sun and wind, threw the lariat. And where, oh where, was ever a finer grove of trees, or a whole country full of finer trees, with a barbecue given under it? There were people everywhere, groups and groups, under the trees, partaking of the famed barbecue. And wherever was there any finer barbecue? Big Frank Montague was right there at the pit, cutting and slashing and serving—and by the way, he sure gave the presiding elder a fine a cut of mutton as ever was with another cut of beef. County Judge Mansfield, who has spent 55 years of his life amid the Bandera Hills, was there, making everybody feel at home. Then J. Marvin Hunter, Historian of the Frontier, was there, the manager of the affair. Amasa Clark, veteran of the Mexican War, 96 years old, was there as keen of intellect as ever in his life. "San Antonio was a dirty Mexican town when I first saw it in 1848," he said to the writer. A. Miller, old trail driver, whose fine pace is four miles this side of Bandera, was there. From San Antonio went George W. Saunders and William A. Krempkau, the former head of the Old Trail Drivers, and the latter manager of the Pioneer Memorial Museum. B. F. Schmidt and James Hogan were there. "Cattle Clatter" went in Schmidt's car with Hogan, and Clark Isenhower, driving, and the car was made from the building of San Antonio Express to the Bandera square in exactly two hours and twenty minutes, despite the three miles of poor road in Midway. Other San Antonians there were Bob Pipes, George Gerdes, Mike Ripps, Jack LeVelle, Jim Rambie—and, oh well, a dozen others ust as fine. Joe Short made another Bandera who laid himself out to show that he was a good time. W. S. Fields of Macdonna, who is a regular bug after this old pioneer stuff, was there, metingold friends. All over the pace you could hear of men meeting who had not seen each other in 40 years, or so. Twenty-year separations were frequent. There were two platforms for dancing, a big one for the young folks and a smaller one for the old folks to use in doing the old time square dances. In the evening there was a public wedding ceremony, Harold Young of Fredericksburg anr Miss Eunice Pace of Bandera were united in marriage. Another feature was a contest between old fiddlers in which there appeared, among many, Tom Gray, Bob Mayfield, Will Maass, Charlie Eckhart and Andy Jones. Among old settlers not mentioned, were Mrs. Chas. Montague, Mrs. John Adamietz, a resident since 1835, Mrs. Anne E. Brown, John Pyka, Charlie Montell, John, Joe and Gabe Anderwald. These were men and women who have made their home in Bandera right around 70 years —Cattle Clatter, in San Antonio Express.

CONSTITUTION:

Senate Joint Resolution No. 10.

Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that the Legislature may grant pensions to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas since prior to January 4, 1910, providing that all soldiers, sailors and their widows eligible under the provisions hereof shall be entitled to be placed upon the rolls and participate in the pension fund created hereunder, levying a tax of seven (.07) cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollar valuation of property in this State for the payment of such pension, providing that the Lgislature may reduce the rate of pension for such purposes, fixing a time for the election to be held on such amendment and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof:

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever, provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows in indigent circumstances, and who have been bona fide residents of this State since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disabled soldiers who under the special laws of the State of Texas during the war between the States served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the war between the States and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this Section shall not apply to women born since the year 1861, and all soldiers and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this State or any existing law or laws hereafter passed by th elegislature, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a State ad valorem tax on property of seven (.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further that the provision of this Section shall not be construed to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1924, at which all voters shall have printed or written on their ballots: "For amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows and to provide a pension" or "Against amendment to Section 51 of Article 3, of the Constitution, authorizing the legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers and their widows."

Sec. 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State, and the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of this State not otherwise appropriated for expenses of publications and elections thereunder.

Approved, March 20, 1923.

S. L. STAPLES,

OBITUARY.

The Privilege community was shocked to learn of the death of Robert Rodriguez, which occurred at the home of his brother, Gaute Rodriguez, on July 11, at 8:30 p. m., after an illness of nearly seven months. About six weeks ago he was brought here from his home near Willow City in hopes that his condition would improve, but without avail. Robert had many friends who respected him as a man of clean moral character and everybody who knew him will mourn his death. He was born January 1, 1873, in Guadalupe county, and lived here several years, later moving to Gillespie county. He has gone to his reward beyond the skies, but he left footprints in the sand of time. In the Blessed Book we find, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, who rest from their labors, and their works do follow them." (Rev. 14:13.) Deceased leaves a widow and ten children to mourn his death. Mrs. Sarah Liedecke, a daughter by his first wife, was present at his bedside when death came, but one son, Tom, of Louisiana, was unable to be there. Funeral services were held at the home of C. Rodriguez by Rev. E. V. Rodriguez of Kerrville. Rev. Rodriguez gave us a splendid, sympathetic talk at the cemetery also. Interment was at the Loya Cemetery.

Delightful Social Function.

On Saturday evening the spacious lawns of the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Purdue of San Antonio provided the scene for the most enjoyable and largely attended social event of the season. This home was lovely in a lavish profusion of varicolored summer flowers and evergreen shrubbery. The weather was ideal for the affair and the many lights suspended from the branches of the gorgeous spreading oaks and from the beautiful arch over the entrance gate under the starlit sky gave a wonderful effect to the surroundings.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Purdue in entertaining the invited guests were Mrs. J. S. Boyd, Mrs. J. M. Cornelius, Misses Ernest Cornelius of San Antonio and Harvey Johnson of Gonzales.

Various games were played and stunts pulled. The outstanding feature of the evening's entertainment was "The Wonderless Wedding," after which a delicious ice course was served. Among the attractive guests for this delightful event were a bevy of San Antonio girls, who were week end visitors in the Purdue home and who were announced by all as being a group of some of the most attractive guests who have visited in Hagerman in many years. They included Misses Mary Albert, Dorothy Breen, Alice Golaz, Thelma and Lucile Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lloyd of the Pecos Era force and Mrs. L. M. Evans of Hooley Creek, were visitors in Bandera Saturday and Mr. Lloyd, accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd, called at the Era office as appreciated call.

Hon. A. D. Rogers, candidate for State Senator of this district, addressed the voters at the court house in this city on the night of last Saturday. A good sized crowd was out to hear him. He spoke at Medina Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. J. J. Bandy of Alfred, Texas, is here on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Schmidtke. Mrs. Bandy lived in this county many years, and is remembered by many as one of the Old Settlers' Reunion, where she met many of her old friends.

During the past week several cases of hog cholera belonging to Charlie Moore have died. A state veterinarian was called here from Austin and pronounced the disease Texas fever, and established quarantine. He suggests that all cattle in that vicinity be dipped immediately to prevent a spread of the disease.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Santleben and two children, are guests of Mrs. Santleben's sister, Mrs. L. Hicks, at Turpley. They came on Saturday and stopped over a few hours with the editor's family. For several years we lived neighbor to Mr. and Mrs. Santleben in San Antonio and it always gives us pleasure to see them.

The town was thrown into excitement Monday when that lively crowd of Rocky Creek and Lima boosters came down and took possession of the cold drinks stands. The crowd included Gordon Hinds, D. R. Seale, Sam Hinds, Grant Seale and Stanley Reese, and they were here to boost for the picnic to be given on Rocky Creek July 25.

The Bandera Shoe Shop at the Fitzgerald building has to offer for sale saddle stirrup leather at 45c per pair; only two pair left; one riding bridle, and one sewing machine that runs like an Elein watch. This can be seen at the Shoe Shop. Any lady can run this machine with pleasure. Come see a bargain.—C. W. Davis, at the Shoe Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Dennis, of Camp Verde, were here Monday on business. Mr. Dennis is an expert jeweler and optician, and may decide to locate in Bandera. For the past two years he has been ranching near Camp Verde, but there comes a longing to get back to his profession, and we hope that when he does he call he will east his lot in Bandera.

R. L. Carter and grandson of Moberly, Mo., arrived last week to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Carter, at the Spicewood Ranch. Mr. Carter has been in the employ of the Wabash Railroad in Missouri for the past fifty years. In company with his nephew, Walter Goolkin, Mr. Carter paid the New Era sanctum an appreciated visit last Thursday and expressed himself as being delighted with the beautiful scenery of this region.

Chicken Barbecue.

Last Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Eckhart entertained a number of their friends with a real chicken barbecue at the delightful ranch home on Middle Verde. The place selected for the gathering was in a sylvan-dell which fringed the banks of Middle Verde, where a pit had been prepared for the barbecuing of a number of chickens and several squirrels. Green corn in the shuck was roasted in the ground, and when that feast of barbecued chicken, roasted corn, cake and ice cream was served it was enough to tempt the most fastidious appetite. After the feast the young folks played games while the old folks sat around and talked about what a good time everybody was having. Among those present we mention: Mrs. Annie E. Brown, Mrs. M. J. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ford and children, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Faris and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heinen and children, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Eckhart, Mrs. Sarah J. M. Hunter, W. W. All church, lodge and other charitable institutions where no admission fee is charged will be sent for free each insertion.

Few people have realize that Bandera is getting publicity through a medium that they do not suspect. We refer to J. M. Hunter's monthly magazine, Frontier Times, which is printed in Bandera and sent out to its hundreds of subscribers scattered all over the United States—from Maine to California. This little magazine was established less than one year ago. It is devoted to frontier history, border tragedy, and pioneer achievement, and by judicious advertising in various newspapers of the state its circulation has grown rapidly, so much so that it has kept its publishing busy taking care of the subscriptions that have been pouring in. Every man who reads Frontier Times wants to read it again. Hundreds of letters have been received from pioneer citizens of the land, schools, colleges, public libraries, and historical associations, praising Times, and recommending that it be used in our public schools in teaching Texas history. We are making no boast for the purposes and plans of Frontier Times. We are fully alive to its value as a periodical and we know that when the reading public becomes familiar with this little magazine the demand will call for greater expansion, and we are preparing for its steady growth. Therefore we urge every citizen of Bandera county to enroll as a subscriber with the assurance that not only will he get his money's worth in good reading, but he will be assisting in letting the world know that Bandera is on the map and that something real good is coming out of Bandera.

The New Era is here to serve the people of this county. We try to play no favorites, politically or otherwise. Individually, the editor reserves the right to think and vote as he pleases, to worship as he pleases, and to hold his own views as regards any organization. Thus far he has not burdened or afflicted the public with his opinions, for the reason that he has endeavored to give his readers a fair, impartial newspaper free from political or religious discussion. And we believe the majority of our readers have been pleased with this policy of the New Era, for many of them have told us they have. Sometimes personal remarks are made which, when they reach our ears sting and pain us, and we feel disposed to resent them through our columns, but after mature deliberation we decide to consider the source from where they emanated, procede to ignore the unkind remarks, and bend our energies more toward making the New Era a live county paper the best in the Southwest Texas.

The September number of Frontier Times, to be issued August 15, will complete the first volume of the little magazine. It will be one year old, and its circulation has already passed the 1,000 mark.

We are pleased to see so many camping parties coming to Bandera this season to enjoy vacation outings in this lovely. Shady graves along the Medina river, delightful bathing pools, and good fishing and squirrel hunting are some of the attractions the city folks find at Bandera, and they are learning that there is no other place in all Texas so delightful.

Saturday is primary election day, but we doubt if many voters in the county will go into the primary to cast their vote. They do not feel disposed to wear a brass collar, riveted on. If any one points that the erecting will hold, he should read the primary election law, as amended by the last legislature.

Everybody will go to Rocky Creek tomorrow to the big barbecue. Those Rocky Creek people always entertain their guests in a most hospitable manner, and in this instance have made preparations to entertain a large crowd and in a greater way than ever before.

Bandera County Fair will be held August 14, 15, and 16. Many of our sheep and goat raisers are getting ready to display fine sheep and goats at the fair, and we venture the prediction that the stock show will excell anything of the kind ever seen in this part of the state. Bandera sheep and goat men have been grading up their stuff until now quite a large per cent of the finest animals in the South are now to be found in Bandera county.

Bandera County Picnic

The Bandera County students of S. W. T. T. C. at San Marcos, accompanied be a few friends entered a delightful watermelon feast and wiener roast at the head of the San Marcos river, Monday evening, July 31. Those present were Misses, Flora Richards, Vivian Keese, Thelma Miller, Naeda Karnes, Stella Mae Willis, Carrie Willis, Mildred Lindsey, Edna Anderson, Nettie Wilson, Eva Mae Landrum, Mamye Mayfield, Lele Keese and Mabel Cravey; Messrs Ross Dabbs, Will Hamilton, Greydon Mayfield, Burr Meador and D. Burton. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. Tarlton Mayfield and Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Briggs.

After eating watermelons, and wieners, games were played until the hour arrived to go home. Everyone spent a very pleasant evening and wished for many more Bandera county picnics.

A party of Hondo people entertained on the river, near the Thalmann Crossing several days the past week, and had a most delightful time. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor, Miss Lucile de Montell, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Fuchs, Miss Annie Frerichs, Tiger Driscoll, Paul Doerre, all of Hondo, Mrs. Louis Sherrer and daughter, Miss Florence, of Castroville.

Bob Taylor and the Theatre

The following from the pen of Bob Taylor, following a visit to a theater, where he heard a famous infidel before christianity, is one of the greatest sermons ever preached in a few words:

"I sat in the great theater in the National capitol. It was thronged with youth and beauty, old age and wisdom. I saw the man, the image of God, stand up on the stage, and I heard him speak.

"His gestures were perfection of grace, his voice was music, and his language was more beautiful than any I had ever heard from mortal lips.

"He painted picture after picture of the pleasures of joys and sympathies of the home. He enthroned love and gave it the gospel of humanity like a angel. Then I saw him dip his brush in the ink of mortal blackness and blot out the beautiful picture he had painted. I saw him stab love dead at his feet. I saw him blot out the stars and the sun, and leave humanity and the universe in eternal darkness and eternal death.

"I saw him, like a serpent of old, worm himself into the parlor of human hearts, and by his seduction eloquence and subtle devices and sophistry, inject his fatal venom under whose blight it's power faded, its music was hushed, its sunshine was dark ened, and its soul was left a desert of faith and hope.

"I saw him, like a lawless, ere rative mob, with only the new made grave a meteor without an orbit, sweep across the intellectual sky, brilliant only in self consuming fire generated by the friction of an indestructible and eternal truth of God.

"That man was the archangel of infidelity and I said: 'How true is holy writ which declared 'The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God!'"

"There is no God, O infidel, there is no God, no heaven, no hell! Tell me not, O infidel there is no risen Christ!

"What intelligence less than God's could fashion the human body? What motive power is it, if not God, that drives the throbing engine of the human heart with ceaseless, tireless stroke, life bounding and circulating all through every vein and artery?

"Whence and what, if not God, is this mystery we call mind? What is it that thinks and feels and knows and acts. O! who can deny the divinity that stirs within us?

"God is everywhere and in everything. His mystery is in every bud and blossom and leaf and tree; in every rock and vale and hill and in every mountain; in every spring and rivulet and river. The rustle of His wing is in every zephyr; His might is in every tempest. He dwells in the dark pavilions of every storm cloud. The lightning is His messenger and thunder is His voice. His awful tread is in every earthquake and in every angry ocean. The heavens above us teem with myriads of shining witnesses. The universe of solar systems whose wheeling orbs course the crystal paths of space, proclaim through dread halls, the domination of an allwise, omnipotent, and eternal God!"

W. E. POPE

Candidate for Governor

Having served the state as a member of your state legislature for the last four regular sessions and fourteen special sessions, I have become familiar with your state affairs and know the demands on and needs of the state government. The constitutional tax rate has been reached and valuations on property, which revenues and needs of the state are considered, have been passed. Relief is demanded. By appropriation of 1925, the state will receive $15,000,000 more than its total revenue will pay.

Candidates for office must show that they know what to do and that they have the ability and courage to do it and will do what ought to be done to reduce taxes on the over-burdened tax paying public and to collect some time enforce the laws, keep our schools open, make our penitentiary self-sustaining and give us a permanent road law, consolidate the highway system, weight and measure department, five stock sanitary commission and game, fish, and oyster commission with the agricultural department, consolidate the board of water engineers with the reclamation department, consolidate the department of insurance with the state fire insurance commission, repeal the law creating the bond commission and let the counties thereof on the board of education; repeal the board of control law, repeal the law increasing automobile licenses, and less, repeal the law vesting the control of our state highways in the highway commission, modify the present textbook law so as to prevent the unnecessary purchase of change in school books, stop lobbying by textbook companies or their agents; take the government out of politics and the eliminations of about nine-tenths of the state printing; print Texas school books in Texas; place paid state rangers on the Mexican border and impeach both governor who refuse to enforce the law; eliminate the military as a subdivision for civil authority and for the settlement of civil controversies; purchase more railroad tickets back home and of Austin by unnecessary jobholders than ever known in Texas; establish a positive, simplified, classified, practical course of study in all grades of our schools, with scholastic intelligence tests, elimination of electives and combinations not prescribed and required by the teachers with a more equitable division of pay; teach the fundamentals first and improve the standing of Texas in the scale of education with the other states; restore hope to and reward for willing working convicts and make proper rules for enforced work for the sulky, hold-raising slacker convicts; take up the slack, remove lost motion and incompetence in the penitentiary farm management and go to work in the fields instead of in the newspapers.

I sincerely solicit your support on this promise.

CONSTITUTION.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 10

Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that the Legislature may grant pensions to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas since prior to January 1, 1910, providing that all soldiers, sailors and their widows eligible under the provisions hereof shall be entitled to be placed upon the rolls and participate in the pension fund created hereunder; levying a tax of one (1) cent on the ($100) one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation of property in this State for the payment of such pensions, providing that the Legislature may reduce the rate of pension for such purposes, fixing a time for the election to be held on such amendment and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever, provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows, in indigent circumstances and who have been bona fide residents of this State since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disabled soldiers who under the special laws of the State of Texas during the war between the States served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the war between the States and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this Section shall not apply to women that since the year 1861, and all soldiers and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of the State under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by th elegislature, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a tax of ad valorem tax on property of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further that the provision of this Section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1924, at which all voters shall have printed or written on their ballots: "For amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this State since January 1, 1910.", and "Against amendment to Section 51 of Article 3, of the Constitution, authorizing the legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers and their widows."

Sec. 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by State, and the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of this State not otherwise appropriated for expenses of publications and election thereunder.

Approved, March 20, 1923.

S. L. STAPLES,

Governor Neff Visits Bandera.

Governor Pat M. Neff and party, composed of members of the State Park Board, visited Bandera Saturday evening, arriving here at 7:30, coming from Leakey and Utopia, and leaving at 9 o'clock for San Antonio to catch a train for Austin at 11 o'clock.

The Governor's party included Hobart Key, Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner, D. E. Colp and a staff correspondent of the Houston Chronicle. They were met by a committie of, citizens and the party was divided and taken to the two hotels, where supper was served. The committee receiving Governor Neff and Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner, and present at an informal banquet at the City Hotel included Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Short, Mr. and Mrs. Mark McBryde, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Chisum, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Ervin, Dr. J. O. Butler, J. M. Hunter, Mrs. W. H. Fitzgerald, Judge J. A. Eames, while the party in charge of Mr. Hobart Key and Mr. D. E. Colp at the Riverside Inn was composed of I. E. Adamietz, Judge A. L. Mansfield, Mack Boyle, W. E. Mansfield, L. L. Mansfield, F. M. Montague, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wallace, Miss Margaret Montague, Frank Billings, M. R. Thalmann.

On account of the time being limited the party did not get to partake of the hospitality of Bandera as much as they desired. After the informal banquet Governor Neff was escorted to the Cox Opera House where a large audience was in waiting, and after being introduced by J. M. Hunter he spoke for about thirty minutes in behalf of the location of a state park here. He made a strong plea that every beauty spot in Texas should be preserved and bequeathed to future generations forever, and said he hoped to see the time when there would be a system of parks in the state scattered up and down the highways that would reach from the Panhandle to the Gulf coast that people who are unable to leave the confines of the state might enjoy the beauties of nature and rebuild their bodies and get a new vision without being trespassers. He said the creator never intended that these bauty spots should be destroyed or owned by one person. He declared that we are shortsighted who cannot look down a hundred years and see what it would mean to our children and grandchildren to have these beauty spots preserved for them. He cited the sacrifice of our forefathers who gave their lives 100 years ago that we might enjoy the blessings and liberties of this great state.

Governor Neff's speech was well received and already steps have been taken to secure land adjacent to Bandera to donate as a state park, the location of which will mean no little to this town in the future. Hon. D. E. Colp also made a stirring address along these lines just before the Governor's arrival at the opera house.

While at the hotel and also on his way to the opera house Governor Neff was kept busy shaking hands with the people who had gathered to welcome him to Bandera. He was delighted with our beautiful region, and pleased with the hearty reception given him here, and expressed a desire to again visit Bandera some day.

Now, that the primary election is over, let's all buckle down to hard work for the County Fair. The time approaches for the holding of the fair. Begin now to make preparations to put on a display of your farm products, your live stock or your articles of manufacture. A great crowd will attend the fair on August 14, 15 and 16.

Governor Pat Neff came all the way to Bandera to plead for the donation of a state park site among these glorious hills. While the people contributed of their means to the purchase of several hundred acres to be donated to the State for Texas to be used as a playground for present and oncoming generations, it is needless. The Governor's plea will be answered, and Bandera will provide such a playground.

Some time ago Medina precinct voted a bond issue of $25,000 to build a good road from Winan's Creek through Medina to the Kerr county line. During the campaign for the bond election it was set forth and understood that Bandera would improve the road from this town to Winan's Creek. Now, let's get busy and build a road to connect with the work that will be done by the Medina precinct. Furthermore, in asking for a bond issue, let's make it large enough to improve the Tarpley road, and the Center Point road, and the Hondo road, and the Pipe Creek road, too. These roads all need improving, and while we are giving attention to one of them let's fix all of them.

The New Era stands four square for good schools and good roads, and for anything else that will benefit Bandera and Bandera county. Three years ago the little old home paper began clamoring for these things. Result: Today we have a concrete bridge at Ranger Crossing, a concrete bridge at the Hondo Crossing, a concrete slab at the Freeman Crossing, a low water bridge under construction at the Thalmann Crossing, a fine piece of road work just completed on the Medina county portion of the Bandera-San Antonio road, a $25,000 bond issue voted to improve the road from Winan's Creek to the Kerr county line, and in the near future an additional tax of thirty-five cents has been voted to improve our school, while at Lima bonds have been voted for the purpose of erecting a new school building. Verily, the little old home paper has helped to bring about these things, and will continue to help.

Campers and vacationists who come to Bandera for a pleasant sojourn are warned not to violate the fish and game laws, however great the temptation might be. We have stationed here an active game warden, Mr. S. O. Durst, who, in the dicharge of his duty has no choice but to arrest all violators of our fish and game laws. A true sportsman will not violate the law.

Clayborne Booker Davenport.

Clayborne Booker Davenport, aged 38 years, 5 months and 12 days, died in this city early Saturday morning, July 26, after an illness covering several months.

It is with a heavy heart that we chronicle the death of Booker Davenport. He was known and loved by almost everybody in this county and we will miss his genial, sunny nature, and his kindly smile as we go about our daily duties. Booker Davenport was born in Tennessee, but came to Bandera with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davenport, when he was about two years old. He grew to manhood here, and married Miss Cleora Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Lewis. To this union three children were born, Clayborne, Evelyn and Warren. During his long illness, all that medical skill could was done to relieve his suffering and restore his health, but to no avail, and during his illness Mr. Davenport was a faithful and hopeful sufferer his sufferings uncomplainingly. He will be missed from our community. He was always jolly, and took lively interest in social affairs. He was a loyal friend, a good neighbor, an upright gentleman, a good husband, an affectionate father, a dutiful son, and in his passing Bandera loses a good citizen.

To the grief-stricken widow and children, and to the sorrowing parents, sisters and little brother, we would tender our heartfelt sympathy.

Funeral services were conducted at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davenport, Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, by Rev. H. H. Washington, pastor of the Methodist church. Interment was made at Bandera Cemetery, where the Bandera Camp Woodmen of the World had charge of the burial ceremonies. A great bank of beautiful flowers covered the mound that marks the resting place of our friend and fellow-citizen, he stored by those who knew him in life and loved him.

Col. Billie Carter Dies.

Col. J. W. (Billie) Carter, who has been ill for several months at the home of his nephew, Walter Hoskins, at Spicewood Ranch, died last Friday night and was buried there on Sunday afternoon, the funeral being conducted by Rev. H. H. Washington, pastor of the Bandera Methodist church. A great concourse of people attended the funeral, many coming from San Antonio, Fort Worth, and other points, where the deceased was well known. The pallbearers were A. G. Donovan, Will Walker, Ed Henry, all of the Fort Worth Stock Yards association; Chas. Wilson and Edwin Lamm of San Antonio, and John Dunlap of Pipe Creek. Many beautiful floral offerings were sent by friends from all over the state.

Colonel Carter is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jennie Franklin Carter, and two daughters, Mrs. Annie Hargett of Houston and Mrs. Etta Hayes of Baird. He was born in Harrisonville, Mo., August 2, 1853, and following is but a brief outline of his remarkable and active career: In 1886, he was with surveying corps of the K. C. & I. S. & G. Railroad, 70 Ec freighted from Indianola to Pecos. In 1871 to 1874 he was a mail driver and worked for the outfits of C. C. Slaughter, Knight & Houston, Franklin brothers, and Frazier. In 1875 he was married to Miss Jennie Franklin, daughter of Alex Franklin of Tilden, Tex. In 1877 he was in charge of the Frazier outfit, sixty miles south of Dodge City, Kansas. In 1880 to 1886 he was in charge of the Eagle Chief Ranch in Indian Terrritory. From 1886 to 1890 he was in charge of the Laureles Ranch of 400,000 acres south of Corpus Christi, Texas. From 1890 to 1903 he was general livestock agent for the Rock Island Railroad. Form 1903 to 1924 he was general representative for the Fort Worth Stock Yards Co. throughout this territory.

In 1874 he was in Granada country, Colorado, during the uprising of the Southern tribes, and in 1875 was in the Indian Territory during the uprising of the Northern Cheyennes.

The Rocky Creek Barbecue.

Last Friday the barbecue at Rocky Creek drew a large crowd from the and surrounding counties, and the event proved to be one of much pleasure to all who attended. The candidates were there and made speeches, good fellowship and friendliness prevailed, a great feast was spread, baseball and goat roping and other sports helped to make the day one of enjoyment for all. Senator Johnnie Real was requested to address the assemblage, and he did so in his usual happy manner. Senator Real, who has retired from the field of politics and is living quietly on his ranch near Kerrville, is known and loved by all the people of Bandera county, and when he makes a speech to a Bandera county audience he always gets respectful hearing. Senator Real was followed by Judge R. H. Burney, who for more than twenty years has served the people as Judge of this district faithfully and well, and has just been nominated by the democratic party another term in office. Judge W. F. Baker of Kerrville, candidate for district attorney, was the next speaker, and pleased his hearers. He was followed by his opponent, Hon. David C. Brown of Devine, who also made an interesting and appreciated talk to the people. Next came Judge Mansfield Judge Eames and W. S. Ethridge, the three candidates for county judge, each of whom spoke in behalf of his candidacy. Some folks had been informed that this was to be a beauty contest, but the crowd could find no evidence of beauty there. All the speaking was free from any campaign bitterness and all questions were discussed in best of humor.

More than 700 people were fed at the noon hour. The meat was barbecued by W. A. Tobey, Mr. Bennett and son, L. N. Rawls and others, and was tender and juicy. Three beeves and twenty one muttons were barbecued. Avery Tobey is an artist when it comes to cooking meat.

Charlie Eckhart is planning to have a squirrel barbecue. Out on his ranch squirrels are numerous and are destroying crops. He will invite a crowd of his friends out at the proper time to help him hunt and kill squirrels, and when a sufficient number has been slaughtered a big barbecue will take place. Barbecued squirrel is a rare delicacy and Charlie knows how to prepare it.

Death of A. McNeill.

R. B. Masters, now living at Globe, Arizona, sends us the following account the death of Mr. A. McNeil, which appeared in a Globe newspaper, July 26:

Artemus McNeil, aged 85, was found dead in bed at his home by his son-in-law, D. V. Marley yesterday morning when he failed to appear on the porch at the usual hour. He had passed away while asleep, apparently, several hours previous.

Coroner J. E. Brechtman and Dr. Lyman E. Wightman were called to the home and the latter pronounced death due to natural causes. An inquest was not necessary.

Although Mr. McNeil had been failing physically for more than a year he was able to be about and took walks daily. He was on the streets Thursday in good spirits. In the evening Mr. McNeil conversed with members of the family and retired about 9 o'clock. Yesterday morning when he did not appear at the usual hour to his chair on the porch, Mr. Marley went to his room to call him and found that he had passed away.

Mr. McNeil was a native of North Carolina. He was a surveyor when a young man and later moved to Texas and engaged in merchandising. He conducted a store in Medina, Texas, for a number of years.

Mr. McNeil was an educator at San Saba. McCullough county, Texas, in the 70s. Later he became bookkeeper for the F. M. Sanders Mercantile company at San Saba. Mr. Sanders now resides in Globe. Mr. Sanders' first wife was one of Mr. McNeil's pupils.

Deceased was in the Confederate army during the Civil war. He went to Texas at the close of the war.

Mr. McNeil came to Globe in 1896 from San Antonio and opened the first 5, 10 and 25 cent store, called the "Rocket Store," in a tent at the corner of Broad and Mesquite streets on the present site of the First National bank. About one year later he moved into the Westmeyer building, the present site of the Saddle Rock restaurant. The business was conducted in the name of his wife, Mrs. J. E. McNeil.

In 1916 Mr. McNeil purchased the building now occupied by the J. C. Penny company under a long term lease.

For the past few years Mr. McNeil had taken no active part in the business, which was conducted by his wife and daughter, Viola, now Mrs. D. V. Marley of Phoenix, and closed out three months ago, when the premises were leased to the Penny company.

Mr. McNeil was a highly respected citizen, being honest in all dealings. He leaves a host of friends who for years knew the deceased only as a man of high aims, honor and integrity.

Deceased is survived by his widow, Josephine E. McNeil; a daughter, Mrs. D. V. Marley; a son, Archie, 14, and John McNeil, son by a former marriage. Mr. Marley, accompanied by Mrs. McNeil, drove to Phoenix yesterday morning to acquaint Mrs. Marley of her father's death, all returning to Globe last evening.

Recuperating in Bandera.

Albert V. Huth, tax assessor of Bexar county, has returned to Bandera for a two weeks' rest. Mr. Huth was here a few weeks ago, but returned home to direct his campaign for nomination for tax assessor there for another term, and we are pleased to note that he led the ticket and was nominated by a big majority. He intended to come back to Bandera immediately following the primary, but was detained on account of the injury of his son, John Huth, who suffered a broken nose as a result of diving into shallow water at Roosevelt Park bathing pool. Pneumonia developed and the young man was sent to a hospital, where he is making good recovery and will probably come to Bandera in a short time to recuperate. Mr. Huth is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Priscilla, and they are having a great time together, horseback riding, hill-climbing and fishing.

Back from California.

J. W. Frame blew in upon us last Thursday. He has just returned from a sojourn of part one year in California, where he has been employed. Says he is glad to get back to old Bandera county, and will remain on his ranch near Tuff. Mr. Frame served as county commissioner a number of terms, and has in many ways proved himself a useful citizen. We are all glad to welcome him back to this section.

Celebrates 70th Birthday.

A surprise dinner was given T. M. Stevens last Sunday, August 3, at his home on Bandera Creek, in honor of his 70th birthday. The dinner was prepared by his wife, and those present to enjoy the occasion were Q. T. Stevens and son, Roy, of Camp Verde; Mrs. Nell Rouche, son, daughter, and little grand daughter, John Moore, Mrs. Rada Wyatt and little Robbie Jo Wyatt, Miss Vada Estes of Sag, Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stevens and little son, Merritt, of Bandera; S. W. and T. H. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Crist and two children of Pipe Creek; Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Stevens and little son Wesley Ray and Mrs. Mattie Jones of Bandera.

It was a happy gathering and all joined in wishing Mr. Stevens many happy returns of the day. During the many years that he has resided in Bandera county he has proved himself a good citizen, has made hundreds of friends, and the New Era joins these in offering the toast: "Here's to your good health; your family's health, and may you all live long and prosper."

Miss Annie Habenicht has finished her business course at the Alamo City Business College in San Antonio, and returned home this week for a few weeks stay before accepting a position offered her. Before coming home Miss Annie visited Corpus Christi and spent a few days there.

Elder John S. Durst Ill.

S. O. Durst went to San Antonio Sunday to be at the bedside of his aged father, Elder John S. Durst of Junction, who was taken there for a serious operation. Elder Durst has been ill for several months and the operation was deemed necessary as a last resort. He is almost 83 years old, and on account of his advanced age considerable uneasiness has been felt among his hundreds of friends all over West Texas, all of whom are praying that he will recover and be spared to them for yet awhile.

Directors Elected

The annual meeting of the Medina Rural Telephone Co. was held August 2, and a new board of directors was elected as follows: John Walker, chairman; Arthur Poe, Geo. Hay, Marion Moffett and S. A. Keese. The First State Bank has been made the depository for the company funds which will necessitate the payment of dues, promptly at the close of each quarter. Membership consists of about one hundred and fifty shareholders and with a reasonable amount of co-operation the new board expects a better working plan for the coming year.

Miss Lois Tobey, the New Era's efficient Medina correspondent, was in Bandera yesterday and paid this office an appreciated visit.

Bandera Night at the Fair.

Delightful Party

Elden Fries entertained a large number of friends with a social last Saturday night at the ranch home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fries. Young people were there from Bandera, Medina, Tarpley, and other communities, and a most enjoyable time was had.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hill and N. H. Rose were here from San Antonio last Thursday, returning home the same day. We have known Mr. and Mrs. Hill many years, our acquaintance extending back to 1902 when they were engaged in business at Mason. Mr. Hill is now a prominent druggist in San Antonio. Mr. Rose is a life-long friend to the editor of this great family weekly. He is the man who came up and made those excellent pictures at the Old Settlers' Reunion last month.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Billings and children will return tomorrow from Beasley, Mrs. Billings having so far recovered from her recent operation as to be able to make the trip.

Next Thursday the Bandera County Fair begins and will cover three days. Great preparations are being made for the fair this year. There will be a great display of agricultural products, live stock and articles of manufacture. Especially interesting will be the junior department and the ladies' department where will be shown all kinds of fancy needlework and sewing. It is said that the largest exhibits of fine sheep and goats ever shown in this region will be at the Bandera County Fair this year, and the poultry display will be a large one. Admission also. Heretofore no admission fee has been charged, but this year an admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged all persons over fifteen years old. This charge is made necessary to meet the expenses of the fair and to pay premiums. It is going to be well worth the admission charge of twenty-five cents each day.

In the run-off primary August 23rd between Felix Robertson and Mrs. Miriam Ferguson for governor, it is freely predicted that Mrs. Ferguson will win the nomination by an overwhelming majority. And if Mrs. Ferguson is elected governor of Texas, there's going to be a "house-cleaning" over at Austin next January that will make an Irish wake look like a Chinese funeral. But then, the Republicans may muster enough votes to elect a good man to be governor of Texas and the rest may not go to the bow-wows after all.

Last Sunday's San Antonio Light published an illustrated feature story about our worthy pioneer citizen, Veteran Amasa Clark. A couple of staff writers on that paper recently visited Veteran Clark at his farm near Bandera and secured the data for the interesting story of this ninety-six year old citizen who is the real pioneer of this county.

Frontier Times for September to be issued August 15, will be full of interesting pioneer stories among which will be a full account of the apprehension of the robbers who held up San Antonio and Fredericksburg stage at the Big Hill in 1885. The names of the highwaymen were Pitts and Yeager. After their conviction and while United States Marshal Hal Gosling was taking them to the penitentiary the prisoners killed Gosling on the train, and the conductor in turn shot Pitts as he and Yeager escaped from the train. The men were handcuffed together and after going a short distance Pitts died from wounds received and Yeager battered the dead man's hand from the arm and thus released himself from the handcuffed wrist. Read about it in the next issue of Frontier Times, the only magazine in the world devoted to frontier history, border tragedy and pioneer achievement. It is published in Bandera.

Dr. J. M. Rappold, of this city, has just issued a book of 120 pages, dealing with sexual matters, marital infelicity, and such things, and will offer it for sale at $2.00 per copy. It is written for married people, and should be read by married people, who will learn much that they do not now know. Dr. Rappold has practiced medicine for over thirty years, and knows the causes of much of the misery that exists today. He is a forceful writer, handles his subjects with ease and a thorough understanding. We hope his book will meet with ready sale. If the advice he gives is heeded the divorce courts will not have so much business to do, and there will be more domestic tranquility in the land. Read Dr. Rappold's advertisement in another column, and then go and buy a copy of his book.

Leo Mandry, who has been engaged in the cooperage business in San Antonio for many years, informs us that he has recently completed the organization of a $50,000 corporation for the manufacture and sale of a washing machine of his own invention. This machine has been successfully used and is endorsed by leading laundry men of the state, and Mr. Mandry says orders are already pouring in for it. His many friends throughout this section will be pleased to learn of his success. Mr. Mandry is a son-in-law of Capt. Ben Batto of Bandera.

Schreiner Institute Receives High Rating

President J. J. Delaney of the Schreiner Institute received notification Tuesday from the State Department of Education that the High School Department of Schreiner Institute has been granted full affiliation with all colleges and universities of Texas.

The work of the local school was inspected twice during the past year by representatives of the Department of Education and papers were submitted from every class at the close of the first year June 1. The notification states that the affiliation was granted on the strength of class room work and the high quality of the material submitted. Of still greater importance was the statement that the record made by Schreiner Institute for the first year surpassed that made by any other school since the organization of that department.

This fall the school will take up the first year of college work and the Department of Education has already approved both faculty and courses of study as outlined, thereby guaranteeing full recognition of this work by all colleges and universities at the end of the first year. Heretofore it has been necessary to put in two years of college work before recognition could be secured.

This recognition for the class of work done by Schreiner the past year is an excellent testimonial to the ability of Mr. Delaney and the faculty, and is an honor the school and city can well be proud of.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

The editor, wife and daughter, Rachel, and Mrs. Hunter's mother, Mrs. M. J. Rogers, attended services at the Church of Christ in Medina last Sunday, and heard Bro. W. C. Swinney preach two excellent sermons. A good crowd was present and a bounteous dinner was spread at the noon hour.

R. H. York, and family, of Waxahachie, were here this week on a visit to old friends. Mr. York lived in this community thirty-five years ago, and this was his first visit here since leaving. He found many old friends still here to greet him, and says Bandera looks natural, except for the growth that has been made during those years.

Judge C. B. Corley's court has been grinding an unusual quantity of grist the past week. Among the offences that have come up for hearing were drunkness, fighting, disturbing the peace, transporting liquor, gambling, and disorderly conduct. Pleas of guilty were entered in most of the cases and fines assessed.

Henry Hermes, Jr., and wife returned last week from California, where they spent several months. Henry says that it's a great country, but old Bandera is good enough for him. He reports that a great many people have been flocking to the Golden State and as a result wages have declined, there is a scarcity of work and many people are returning to their native states.

Will Have Exhibit.

The Herpel Motor Co. of Boerne has a Ford exhibit at the Fair, which should be seen by every visitor. The enterprise of this firm in putting on this exhibit is commendable. Not only this, but the Herpel Motor Co. has been actively boosting Bandera Fair, and in this issue of the New Era it has bought and paid for large display space in the New Era to tell about our fair. Hundreds of Fords have been sold throughout this territory by the Herpel Motor Co., which is represented in Bandera by Lee Risinger, in Medina by W. M. McMahon, and in Tarpley by J. R. Burns.

Ford Stolen.

While in San Antonio last Thursday, L. E. Adamietz had the misfortune to lose his new Ford car, which was stoen by thieves in that city. Mr. Adamietz had purchased the car only a few days before. Diligent search was made and finally the car was found in the outskirts of the city stripped of everything movable.

Mrs. J. B. Holt had the misfortune Tuesday afternoon to fall and sustain painful injuries to her hip. Mrs. Holt uses a crutch and while getting about the yard at her home the crutch slipped and threw her heavily to the ground. It is not thought that any bones were broken, but she is suffering a great deal of pain as the result of her fall.

County Fair Opens

Bandera County Fair opens today. This is the fourth annual fair to be given in this city, and each time a fair has been held it has been just a little better than the previous fair. This year's fair seems to have created more interest among the people than ever before, and the exhibits on display at the fair are simply grand. Today, tomorrow, and Saturday it is expected that large crowds will be in attendance people coming from all surrounding towns and communities, and there will be meeting of old friends and trading of live stock, and all of those others features that help to carry out the sheep and goat department. The sheep and goat-raisers of this county have some fine stuff on exhibition, animals that will take premiums and will attract the eye of the fine stock fancier of any state. Bandera's fair is somewhat different from most fairs in that it is conducted along original lines. Heretofore no admission charge has been made, the expenses being borne by sale of concessions, voluntary donations, and other ways, but this has proved unsatisfactory, and this time an admission charge of twenty-five cents is being collected at the main entrance. Children under fifteen years old are admitted free.

Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Huffmeyer, of San Antonio, arrive today to attend the fair.

If you want to buy a second hand Waterloo Boy tractor real cheap come and see mine. I have bought a Rumeley Oil Pull tractor and do not need my old one. Mrs. L. E. Bush Dead.

Mrs. L. E. Bush died at Port Arthur Tuesday, following an operation. Burial will be at Medina this afternoon. Mrs. Bush, before marriage was Miss Mattie Medford, and formerly lived at Medina. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, and her aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Medford of Elm Creek.

Warren and Marvin Hunter entertained their friends Saturday night with a party on the Loop. A large crowd was present to enjoy the games and pleasures of the evening. But some miscreant just before the crowd assembled, stole all of the lanterns which had been provided to furnish light in the grove.

Sells Road Bonds

Commissioners' Court was in regular session this week, with the full board being present, Judge Mansfield, J. B. Holt, R. L. Morris, J. L. Edwards and J. V. Porter. Among the important business transacted was the sale of the bonds recently voted in the Medina and Vanderpool road districts, totaling fifty thousand dollars. W. K. Ewing & Co., Inc., of San Antonio, and the First State Bank of Bandera, were the successful bidders for the bonds at very satisfactory prices. The bids, with accrued interest and daily balances, will net those districts about par value of the bonds. The First State Bank of Bandera is the designated depository, with interest on daily balances of 3½ per cent.

Wesley Crist of Pipe Creek, was in the city Tuesday.

VANDERPOOL VISIONS.

Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Love are delighted to have as their guests their son Gus Love of Ozona, and their niece, Miss Cleora Love of Kerrville.

A. W. Clayton has just finished another lot of excellent sorghum syrup.

Leonard Mayes underwent an operation for appendieitis at a hospital in San Antonio, and is reported to be steadily improving.

We regret to report the death of Uncle Buck Harrison, which occurred on last Wednesday morning, when he was run over by his truck at Utopia. It seems that he cranked the machine and it started, knocking him down and dragging him quite a distance, injuring him internally.

Quite a number of our people have been attending the revival meeting at Utopia conducted by Rev. Walter Davis and wife of San Antonio, assisted by our pastor, Rev. J. W. Storms.

Wedding bells continue to ring in Vanderpool. Mr. Lynn Cooley and Miss Maybel Norman were united in marriage at Leakey, August 5th, Judge Youngblood officiating. The bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Polvado, and a few friends were present. The bride is the beautiful and highly accomplished daughter of Mrs. Norman, and the mother feels a little lonely, as this bride makes the fourth daughter to have married in the past three years. She is a splendid young lady and well liked by her many friends. The groom is to be congratulated in winning such a noble helpmeet. He is a native of this section and is the handsome young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cooley, who are among the early settlers. Lynn is a capable young business man and is a favorite among his friends. We wish them much happiness as they sail upon the matrimonial sea. They will depart next week for Beaumont where they will reside.

Among those who attended the goat and sheep raisers' meeting and barbecue at Rio Frio were W. T. Murphy, L. S. Foster, G. M. Foster, Thomas Massey and son Tommie, Henry Schemmbeckling and sons, Roy and Fred, George Polvado and wife, Lynn Cooley and wife, Buster O'Bryant, Roy Word and family, Murry Wentworth, R. H. Thompson and son, Johnnie. The latter won the blue ribbon in the roping contest. All report a most enjoyable time.

J. L. Gully, the well known sheep breeder is over from Uvalde with some of his fine sheep for exhibition at the fair. Mr. Gully was recently elected president of the United Goat and Sheep Raisers' Association and says the next convention will be held at Camp Wood in 1925.

Sunday night a big chicken supper was given at the Spicewood Ranch. Ice cream and cake was served after the supper. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. Reinarz, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlap and son, Orvil, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Morgenstein and sons.

Mrs. Dan Rugh and son of Wayshell, Ark., and Mrs. Emil Rugh and daughter of Mooringsport, La., are here on a visit to relatives.

To see the display of agricultural products and live stock at our County Fair is but to convince the visitor that old Bandera county possesses resources of the kind that make for prosperity. Despite the extremely dry weather which has prevailed generally over the state for the past three months Bandera county has raised fairly good crops, and the corn, oats, garden products, fruit, etc., one sees at the fair is proof that our soil is rich and we can raise almost anything here without irrigation.

Tomorrow night is "Bandera Night at the Fair," an entertainment, under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' Association and arranged and directed by Mrs. Claud Stevens, will be given at the high school auditorium.

Bandera Breeders Get Premiums.

At the annual show and sale of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association held at Rio Frio last week, Bandera breeders carried off many premiums. George A. Hay returned from Rio Frio last Thursday with a fine billie which he purchased from Fred Earwood for $250, and which he will use in a flock header. Mr. Hay was delighted with the gathering and says everybody had the finest kind of a time. M. R. Thalmann and Fred Whisenhunt returned home later in the week, and they also gave a good report of the meeting, and Mr. Thalmann furnished us with the, following awards to Bandera county breeders:

Aged Rams, B Class—Thalmann Bros. second.

Bond Election at Tarpley.

We faied to state in our last issue that the election held at Tarpley for the purpose of voting bonds to erect a new school building carried by a good majority. The people of that community voted some time ago to issue bonds to build a new school house, the proposition carrying by only three majority, but some irregularities were discovered and it was decided to hold the election again, at which time the proposition carried by something like thirty votes. Tarpley people need a new school building and we rejoice that they have taken the proper steps to secure it.

Scenic Bandera.

The beautiful hill country around Bandera is becoming more popular with tourists and camping parties each year. With the improvement of the three-mile stretch of road through a corner of Medina County, which has long been a nightmare to motorists and which has prevented many from ever attempting a trip to this beautiful section of the country, motorists can now visit Bandera and enjoy a trip over a smooth road, part of it paved, for the entire distance.

It would be hard to find a section of country anywhere around San Antonio that offers such a wide variety of scenery as does a trip to Bandera. Majestic hills greet one on all sides, while suddenly in turning the corner of a road, a beautiful expanse of scenery unfolds itself before the eye and as far as one can see in all directions, a magnificent panorama greets you.

There are many attractive camping spots along the road, especially along San Geronimo Creek and nearly every Sunday scores of family parties will be found enjoying the attractions that nature has to offer in this delightful part of West Texas.

The Medina River winds through the pretty little town of Bandera and there are camping spots galore along its banks, where the dry air of the hill country invigorates one and gives renewed health and vigor to many a tired and weary soul. This section is also a fisherman's paradise, good strings of bass, perch and cat being frequently caught.

The beautiful 56-mile ride to Bandera is just the antidote for the tired city man, who seeks with his family a pleasant trip out in the open and for visiting tourists it will afford reasons galore as to why Texans should see Texas first.—San Antonio Express.

To Build New Road.

Funds are being raised in the western part of the county to open a new road through from Tarpley to Utopia, going through Hicks Pass south of the present road, which is now in an almost impassable condition. About $1,000 is being subscribed by the citizens of that section, and additional funds are to be raised here. The construction of this new road will be of great benefit to Bandera, as it will route all traffic through this town forward the Frio Canyon which has heretofore gone by way of Sabinal and other places from San Antonio, Kerrville and the south eastern part of the state. Everybody should contribute to this work as liberally as possible.

A Beautiful Spread.

J. B. Milam, care-taker of the Diversion Dam below Medina Lake, was a guest of the editor's family last Friday. Mr. Milam brought up a beautiful crocheted bed spread made by his wife, and which has been placed on exhibition at the County Fair. It is a wonderful piece of handiwork and shows expert skill and effort in its making. The spread is valued at $100. See it at the fair.

The San Antonio Light reaches Bandera less than three hours after it is printed, the 3:30 edition being brought out on the service car. Master Thomas Boyle delivers the Light to your door promptly. If you want the very latest news let him take your subscription.

THE AUTOMOBILE YEAR

Walter Epperson, salesman for Herpel Motor Co., reports that Ford car Nos 10,000,000 completed its transcontinental journey July 29th, at one o'clock when it arrived at the Western terminal of the Lincoln Highway, according to a telegram just received by the Ford Motor Company from Frank Kulick, former racing driver, who piloted the car across the continent.

The arrival in San Francisco was auspicious. The car accompanied by a large number of motor cars, bedecked with California's choicest flowers was driven to the City Hall where Major James Rolph received a letter from Major John Hylan, of New York, in the presence of an enthusiastic crowd. It was then driven to the end of the Lincoln Highway where a final greeting was extended by James H. Hoolihan, official representative of the Lincoln Highway Association on the West Coast.

This marked the completion of one of the most memorable demonstrations in automotive history.

The Ten Millionth Ford was started westward across the nation's greatest highway on June 16th, not to prove performance but to commemorate an achievement, and throughout the journey demonstrations, bands and parades marked the progress for nearly every mile of the entire distance. Greetings were extended by officials of every state through which the car passed and all along the route sentiment was freely expressed that to Henry Ford belongs the greatest of credit for having brought the benefits of the automobile within the reach of the largest number of people in all walks of life.

Burdened with the responsibility of upholding Ford tradition which has come to mean reliable transportation at the lowest possible cost, Ford Car No. 10,000,000, one of approximately 7200 standard cars produced in a single day, performed in character istic Ford fashion. The entire distance of a little less than 4,000 miles was covered with but one minor adjustment and with absolutely no mechanical difficulty of any nature. Although many hundreds of Miles of road particularly through the western states and across the Rocky Mountains are of dirt and gravel formation it is noteworthy that this, the lowest priced car built averaged approximately 110 miles a day for the entire six weeks and was on schedule to the minute in every town visited.

To the Voters of Bandera County.

This is to express my appreciation and thanks to the voters of Bandera County for the support given me in my recent race for the nomination as Representative of the 86th District of Texas; and also to thank my friends and acquaintances for their support and influence.—Roscoe Runge, Mason, Texas.

Party at Mayfield Home.

On Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mayfield, one of those famous "Bandera County" parties was enjoyed by representatives from that county and a few friends. The guests assembled on the lawn and played games in true country fashion. A regular "ice cream feed" was served to the following: Misses Vivian and Bela Reese, Thelma Miller, Alta Magruder, Ida Belle Leslie, Stella Mae Willis, Nattie Wilson, Cornelia Richards, Eula Mae Lansdrum, Nicola Karnes, and Olga Knight of Austin; Messrs Burr Meador, Will Hatfield, Rees Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Tarleton Mayfield and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Coleman of Junction.

If anyone failed to make the acquaintance of the Bandera county gang, you don't know what you have missed. One of the best things about them is their pep and their ever-ready friendliness.—San Marcos College Star

JUST PUBLISHED

"Mutual Sexual Understanding and Marital Infelicity"

BY J. M. RAPPOLD, M. D.

You will learn information in this Book that you have many times wished you had known before. It is not too late for most people yet, and the younger generation, as most people in the past needed it. It treats of the sexual relations, the cause of marital infelicity and things that prevent domestic tranquility between man and wife, the things that break-up happy homes, cause moralities, and lead to the divorce court.

There is a time in the life of all married men and women, and that usually some time during the first three years of married life, that they say: "If I had known before I was married what I do now, I would have gotten married." What is their discovery, this book and find out.

I wrote this book for you, and for future generations. There is no one to my knowledge who has proceeded to do this for the public before. Therefore, yourselves to be cheated out of these natural gifts, it can only be through ignorance. Misery is not a necessary part of life. It is a life, but made so through ignorance and designlessness. I have practiced medicine over twenty-five years and nearly twenty of these years have been devoted to treating diseases and misery inflicted upon the people through ignorance. I know I have been successful, and also not deceived. If you want this information for yourselves and your children you can get these books at my office or at Billings' Drug Store. Price $2.00 each. 132 pages.

Ford Demostration.

Ed C. Herpel and Walter Epperson, of the Herpel Motor Co. of Boerne, were here for the fair with several Ford cars of latest models for demonstration purposes. They interested many people in the popular Ford, and made several sales while here as well as securing prospective business. Mr. Herpel is strictly on the job when it comes to explaining the merits of a Ford. He has placed many of these cars in Bandera, being represented here by Lee Risinger of Bandera. W. M. McMahon of Medina and J. R. Burns of Tarpley. In the display he had at our county fair was seen the popular Tudor Sedan, and the 1925 Touring car.

Miss Aimee Phillips, who has a position in the Schreiner Institute at Kerrville, was here Saturday the guest of her aunt, Mrs. John Mansfield. Miss Phillips was accompanied by her friend, Miss Norwood.

Forest Irvin, the fourteen-year-old son of Richard Irvin of Mason creek, is suffering from a dislocated and fractured shoulder sustained one day last week when he fell from a horse. The fall was caused by his saddle girth breaking.

The Farmers Gin began operations yesterday, ginning four bales. The first bale was brought in by O. E. Bonnet, who lives on the Sewall ranch above Medina. For the present the gin will run every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The local Masonic Lodge entertained some distinguished visitors last Saturday with a barbecue and picnic on the river near town. The visitors were Gus A. Brandt, Grand Master of Texas, Wilbur Kieth, Executive Secretary Masonic Service Association, and Judge H. F. Lively of Dallas, all of the Masonic Grand Lodge. Judge Lively made an open talk at the barbecue. The Bandera Masonic Lodge and the Eastern Star Chapter prepared the entertainment for the visitors.

To Speak for Robertson.

Ben F. Stallenwerck will be in Bandera county this week to speak in behalf of the candidacy of Felix D. Robertson for governor. The dates arranged are as follows: Pipe Creek today, Thursday, at 2 o'clock; Medina at 8 o'clock; Tarpley Friday at 2 o'clock; Bandera Friday night at 8 o'clock. Mr. Stallenwerck is a good speaker and will interest you. Everybody invited to hear him.

Stricken with Paralysis

While attending the fair last Friday, Mrs. G. W. White, an aged lady who resides about four miles north of town, was stricken with a case of paralysis and was carried to the home of Henry Stevens. She was taken home Sunday, and her many friends are hopeful that she will soon recover.

Mrs. C. W. Harris, of Medina, was here for the fair.

Bandera Night at the Fair.

The entertainment given at the High School auditorium last Friday night, under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' Association, was very pleasing in every way. The recitations and musical numbers were rendered in a highly satisfactory manner, and the program throughout was of the best. Mrs. Claude Stevens was in charge of the program, and arranged it in such a way as to make it interesting and instructive. The auditorium was well filled and a neat sum was realized for the Parent-Teachers' Association to use for school work.

Demonstration Display.

The Medina Hardware Co., of Boerne, had a fine display of farm machinery, pumping plants, corn shellers, gasoline engines, cream separators and Chevrolet automobiles on display at the fair for demonstration purposes, and attendants were kept busy explaining the merits of the various things shown. This firm is alive to the needs of the farmer and the ranchman, and they are handling only the best machinery and implements that are in demand. The demonstration display at the fair brought this hustling firm in direct touch with our ranchmen and farmers, and the results will be forthcoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Callahan, of Pipe Creek, attended the fair. They had a wonderful exhibition of farm products on display and carried off some premiums.

The Bandera New Era

J. M. HUNTER,
Editor and Proprietor.

Next Saturday is the day for the run-off primary.

There was such a crowd at the fair we are unable to mention all the visitors. This emphasizes the fact that the little old home paper has grown too small. Some day we hope to install a larger and faster press, when we will give our readers an eight-page paper chuck full of home news.

Under the supervision of W. M. Wallace the Bandera end of the San Antonio road is being improved and dragged and put in fine shape. The construction of the three-mile stretch of this road across the corner of Medina county has been finished with the exception of graveling. Slowly, but surely, this road is being made a first class highway.

The New Era needs a larger press. Must have it. Since we came to Bandera less than four years ago we have made the press we are now using do the work of a much heavier press, but the time is rapidly approaching when this press must go into discard. The kind of a press we need will cost $1,500, and we are now trying to devise some plan whereby we can raise the money with which to buy it.

The building of a road from Bandera to Utopia will mean more than anyone can imagine. All of the tourist traffic going to that delightful region will be routed through Bandera when that road is built and this valley line can be secured if a good road is assured; trade that now goes elsewhere can be brought to Bandera if a good road can be built through the western part of the county. On with the project!

Bandera has scored again. Our County Fair, held last week, was one of the best that has ever been conducted. The people are all satisfied with the wonderful display of agricultural and live stock and exhibits that were on display. The gate receipts and the sale of concessions were sufficient to pay all expenses of the fair and some money was left in the treasury. If the present system is maintained there is no reason why Bandera County's Fair cannot be made a permanent thing. We are strong for the fair next year.

There's a great stir being made about the Ku Klux and the Anti Ku Klux; the lines are being closely drawn. The Ku Klux has been censured by a few people on both sides because we have not given space in our columns to controversy. We want it distinctly understood that we are taking no stock in the argument either way, neither for nor against. If our neighbor wants to be a Ku Klux that's his privilege, or if he wants to be an Anti Ku Klux that is also his privilege. It's a free country, and we are not going to fall out with him over his views on politics or religion. The next time one of our readers feels called upon to express his ideas along these lines we hope he will make the little old home paper for a vehicle that will carry his opinions to a perverse generation and bring about a great restoration. If you don't like the Ku Klux cuss 'em all you please, but don't try to do it through the New Era. Our space is needed for local home news.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brient, of San Antonio, spent Sunday at their ranch on Privilege.

A hot political campaign is on throughout the state and nation. The New Era has not had much to say about the political situation, and a few of our friends have taken us to task for it. But the New Era is taking no stock in politics. We are issuing a strictly independent local newspaper, with no party affiliations. The editor votes as he pleases, and he has no desire to try to induce others to vote any party ticket contrary to their political views. Fact is, ladies and gentlemen, the New Era is here to publish the local news—the goings and comings of our people, the weddings and births, the social functions, the community progress—and we have no space for political palaver. If you endorse this policy send us the names of your visitors when you have company.

Some time ago the people of the Medina community got a hustle on themselves and voted $25,000 bonds to build a good road from Winan's Creek to the Kerr county line. The bonds have been sold and cash will soon be available to start the work on this road. At the time the proposition of improving this road was being agitated those Medina people had the promise and assurance that Bandera would do her part by building a first class road from this town to Winan's Creek to connect with the good road that would be built if the bond issue carried. Now it's time for Bandera to get busy. Let's build that road. We had already taken a long step forward on the road before the agitation was started by constructing a bridge at Ranger Crossing. That's a good starter but we cannot stop with that. We must build good roads and go forward, or sit on our posterns and slide backwards.

Senator Julius Real and brother, Hon. Chas. Real, of Kerrville, were here for the fair last Friday. Some of Senator Real's friends over the district have been urging him to enter the race for State Senator of this district against Hon. T. H. Ridgeway, the Democratic nominee. Senator Real has faithfully served the people in this capacity, and several years ago retired to private life. He has steadfastly refused to become a candidate for any office since, but his friends are hoping he will "hear the call" and toss his hat in the ring.

Miss Mollie oe Montel, who has been visiting relatives at Camp Verde the past two weeks, left Sunday for her home at Castroville.

J. H. Burns writes from Uvalde to renew his subscription to the little old home paper, the New Era. Br. Burns is now manager of the Garner Abstract & Land Co. of that city.

Paul Holecamp, secretary of the Kendall County Fair Association, was over from Boerne last Friday evening. He Bandera fair and incidentally telling folks about the big fair to be held at Boerne the last four days of this month.

We are requested to announce that services will be held at Mason Creek school house Sunday at 3:15 p. m., by Evangelist Gilbert Rodriguez of Privilege. His text will be "The Power of the Cross"

BANDERA COUNTY FAIR

The fourth Annual Bandera County Fair, held in the town of Bandera August 14, 15 and 16, came to a close Saturday evening. It was one of the most successful and highly satisfactory fairs ever held in Bandera, the displays of live stock and farm products being of the very best, and the arrangement of all exhibits in the spacious quarters of the Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association buildings being specially attractive and pleasing. It is estimated that around 7,000 people were in attendance during the three days of the fair. The usual rodeo features and carnival attractions were in evidence. Heretofore Bandera has always held a free fair, but this plan has proven unsatisfactory, and this year a small admission charge was put on to help defray expenses, with the result that sufficient funds were realized to pay off some former indebtedness, and cash premiums in various departments, and have money left for the next fair.

Particularly attractive was the exhibition of sheep and goats raised by Bandera county breeders. Every animal shown was a prize-winner, and there were many of them. Bandera county sheep and goats will compare with those of any region. One of the beauties on exhibition was a billie belonging to Hon. Jay Hay of Medina. Mr. Hay recently purchased this animal from Fred Earwood for $250, and will make a flock-head of him. Another goat that attracted much attention and which belonged to Sim Reed, sported a coat of mohair which measures twenty-three inches in length. Among the exhibitors were men who have followed the sheep and goat business for years and have graded their flock to a high degree among these being George A. Hay, R. N. Padgett, Fred Whisenhunt, E. Hicks, R. Lee Walker, Lon Elam, M. R. Thalmann, Chas. Eckhart, P. L. Montague, Ernest Adams, R. P. Cox, J. M. Moffett, A. V. Pue, and many others.

While the exhibition of poultry was not as large as in former years, the display was good, and some excellent fowls were here. Local products a great variety of stuff was shown, and excelled the eye of all visitors. One of the farm products exhibits was the record prepared by Veteran Amasa Chaffee, aged ninety-six years. In this exhibit was shown almost everything raised on a farm, corn, oats, millet, wheat, sudan grass, maize, broom corn, fruits and a general variety of canned products—just a small quantity of each, but a wonderful variety.

I offer credit to all based on the purchaser's reputation for honesty and fair dealing together with his past record. When an account is allowed to run it is only for the accommodation of the purchaser and is to be paid at his earliest convenience. Example: For a wage-earner when he receives his pay check.

A revival meeting is in progress at the Methodist church conducted by Rev. Smith of San Antonio, assisted by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Washington. Considerable interest is being manifested, fair sized crowds are attending the services, and it is hoped much good will result.

Frank Heinen, who lives on the Orlando Thallman ranch on Middle Verde, had a fine display of farm products at the fair. Mr. Heinen also waltzed off with the New Era's prize of a years subscription for having the largest family on the grounds for first day of the fair. He and his wife and their eight little children were right there.

Miss Sadie Hatfield, who is now stationed at Sonora as a demonstrator of home economics under direction of the State Department of Agriculture, has been spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Married in San Antonio.

Mr. Clinton Risinger and Miss Edna Stevens, popular young people of Bandera, were married in San Antonio last Saturday. This wedding, while expected by intimate friends of the bride and groom, came as somewhat of a surprise, but a most delightful one. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Risinger and recently returned from California. The bride is the daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. Henry Stevens, and during the past several months has been attending a business college in San Antonio. The New Era joins in congratulations and best wishes for the hapiness and prosperity of these worthy young folks.

Baker Nominated.

In the run-off primary last Saturday W. C. Baker of Kerrville defeated his opponent, David C. Brown for district attorney by about nine hundred majority. Mr. Brown lives in Medina county, where he is the present county attorney.

White Bros. of Center Point have again taken charge of Bandera's Picture Show, and will give a fine show next Friday night, the feature picture being "Hoot Gibson in The Rambin' Kid," with a good comedy included. It is not necessary for us to tell our readers about the popularity of Hoot Gibson, because they all consider him a favorite, and when one of his pro- ductions are advertised it always brings the crowd. We are all glad White Bros. have again taken charge of our playhouse, and look forward to some excellent pictures during the next few months.

Mr. B. F. Langford, Sr. returned Saturday from a six weeks visit to her son, G. H. Langford at Beaumont.

Found Dead in Pasture.

James W. Faris was found dead in his pasture a short distance West of Ballinger about 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, and death was attributed to heart failure.

Mr. Faris lived on Fourteenth Street, and his cows are kept in a pasture near his home. He left the house about 4:00 o'clock Friday afternoon to go out and drive up the cows. He was seen by a neighbor driving the cows toward the house about 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

W. L. Faris, son of the deceased, went home about 7:00 o'clock and his mother told him that Mr. Faris went to the pasture after the cows and had failed to return. The son went in search of his father and found him dead.

Deceased has been living in Ballinger for about twenty years, coming to this county from Gillespie county. He was engaged in farming, stockraising and trading in stock. He is survived by his wife and one child, L. W. Faris, who is engaged in the market business.

The funeral services were held at the residence at 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and interment made in Evergreen Cemetery. Dr. Alvin Swindell conducted the funeral services.

Mr. Faris had many friends, and the friends of the family extend to them the heartfelt sympathy in the sudden bereavement.—Ballinger Ledger.

My Mother-in-Law

When the history of Mason's family characters shall have been written and the final laurels and gladiator's chaplets duly bestowed, written high on the roll of immortals will have a place for Mrs. M. C. Rogers, who lives amid the hills of North Carolina, almost eighty-three years ago, the very setting of her birth was among those conditions that make for greatness. North Carolina has always been noted for the great people she has produced, people of lofty ideals and noble aspirations, characters that have always been of highest worth. Amid these conditions moved Second Mrs. Rogers, grew to young womanhood, and then moved to Mississippi. Bearing in a typical home of the "Old South" where refinement and culture with generosity abounded it is small wonder that these conditions produced a lasting influence upon the impressionable mind and large measure laid the foundation for such a saintly character. With her husband and several small children she moved to Texas in the early days after the Civil War and then was begun a life of heroism and self-sacrifice, the maker of a character that rises superior to the ravages of time and conditions—all these busy years of mature life her influence was a blessing to a weary land to every one that felt the influence of her presence. Especially was this a strength and mighty fortress for her children. How often when the chilly winds of adversity have swept down in mighty storms from the snow-clad hills of destiny, they have found strength and inspiration in the abiding faith of their good mother. Not only has this been true of her children, but it has been the case of all who have known her. And now after the rush and cares of mature life are past she has emerged into the quiet waters in the evening of life. Her strong faith and ability hope fall as a halo of triumph about a life that has been made glorious through suffering. In worship the resplendent glory of the sunlit skies rest upon her saintly face, and the observer feels that which is far more precious than the mere glitter of time and earthly worth. She will be no stranger in the Heavenly Host, for she has discerned all by her robust faith. Her writer affectionately places this small garland of appreciation to one he so, still living, has been of inestimable worth to our life.

Mrs. Miriam Ferguson

Strong for Bandera

The following letter from a popular Bandera boy reflects the feeling Bandera folks have when they get out into the world in quest of fortune and name.

Colorado, Texas, Aug. 24, 1924.
Dear Mr. Hunter—Attached you will find my check for $2.00 to secure the New Era another year. I appreciate the home paper very much and am pleased with the way you have conducted it. Especially boosting old Bandera. I look with interest to that section of the country some day. I have been pleased and surprised at the way Bandera has progressed and permanent buildings will be erected. Bandera has do the same thing. Success to you and to Bandera and the New Era, I am,
Sincerely yours,
H. L. ATKINS, Jr.

To the Patrons of Bandera Public School:

All pupils that have their promotion card from last term are hereby signed on entering the school upon presentation of all necessary material and asking examinations if they wish to enter the next higher grade from the one they were in last term. This action will be by the order of the school board. Respectfully,
L. L. McDONAL, Supt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Short and son, Jake, attended the Fredericksburg fair last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fletcher were here from San Antonio Tuesday, guests of W. R. Fletcher and family.

Misses Lois Tobey and Mary Keese and Messrs. Ted and Bill Hillman were here from the Medina community Sunday.

Mark Davenport last week purchased 148 acres of land from E. J. Matthews of Houston for $1850. The tract adjoins that of Mr. Davenport.

Mrs. J. H. Gregory and stepdaughter, who have been visiting relatives here several days, left Sunday for their home at Petersburg, Texas.

Among the recent real estate deals in this county was that consummated between W. F. Bush and George Miller, wherein the former buys the latter's place of 184 acres near Pipe Creek for $2650.

A delightful picnic was enjoyed by a party of young people on the river above town last Friday. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. A. B. Mansfield and Mrs. C. B. Davenport.

Frank M. Montague went to Campbellton this week to look after his cattle there. Mr. Montague says the protracted drouth has caused serious water shortage in that region and stockmen are now pumping water for their cattle.

Mrs. M. J. Rogers, who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Hunter, the past two months, returned to her home at Mason last Friday. The editor and daughter, Miss Rachel Hunter, accompanied her home, returning Sunday.

Frontier Times

J. M. Hunter's monthly magazine, has just completed its first volume. It is now in its second year and growing in favor every day. This little magazine is the only publication in the world devoted to frontier history, border tragedy and pioneer achievement. It contains 32 pages and every number is well worth the subscription price of $1.50 a year. If you are a subscriber to Frontier Times and your subscription expired with the last number you should hasten to renew to avoid missing a single number.

While passing through Fredericksburg last Friday we dropped in to see the editors of that live town, the Standard and Wochenblatt office we found Mr. W. Habenicht in charge and said foreman, Mr. Weymeyer, handling the mechanical department. This is one of the largest printing establishments in the west Texas state. A crew of printers is kept busy both day and night to turn out the large amount of printing that is coming in all the time. At the Radio Post office we found Wm. Dietel, the editor and publisher, right on the job. Mr. Dietel reports business good and gave us a hearty invitation to take in the fair while there.

Parochial School.

The first term of St. Joseph's Parochial School will open Septmber 8. For years this school has been taught as a private school, each parent paying tuition of their children. Now it is to be conducted as a parochial school and supported by the parish. For the coming term six teachers will be employed and nine months term to include all the grammar grades will be taught, also a two years' business course will be offered beginning with the opening of the school. This course includes History, Mathematics, English, bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting. Trustees have been elected for the parochial school as follows: Tom Anderwald, Henry Adamietz, C. Jenschke, and E. F. Kindle.

Mr. Ed L. Downs, of Uvalde, accompanied by his daughters, Mrs. M. J. Knighton and Mrs. McMillan of San Antonio, spent Monday in Bandera. Mr. Downs is the son of Dr. Downs, who owned a ranch on the Verdes in the early fifties. He is now eighty years old, and this is the first time he has visited Bandera in over fifty years. As soon as he reached town Monday he hunted up his old boyhood schoolmate and comrade of the Civil War, Thomas Laxson, whom he had not seen in all this time, and together they had a real love feast, recounting the events of their boyhood days. Mr. Downs in company with Mr. Laxson called to see the New Era and spent a brief while in this office. He is a well preserved man, despite his extreme age, and tells of early day hapenings in a most interesting manner. He has promised to send us sketches of his thrilling experiences for publication in Frontier Times.

Ice Cream Festival.

Ice cream and cake will be served at Pipe Creek church next Saturday night. Proceeds to be used for Pipe Creek school. Everybody invited to come.

Home Damaged by Fire.

Mrs. C. H. Mansfield's home was slightly damaged by fire last Monday, when the roof caught in flames from a defective flue. Prompt action on the part of those at the ranch and the timely arrival of neighbors prevented the destruction of the dwelling. A number of citizens went out from town in response to the alarm and rendered some assistance.

Given a Linen Shower.

During the recent visit of Mrs. E. C. Brazzil to her parents in this city, a number of her friends took occasion to give her a linen shower, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Price last Friday. Many dainty and useful articles were brought. Refreshments of cake and lemonade were served. Those present were Mrs. A. Meadows, Mrs. A. B. Langford, Mrs. Elvins Hicks, Mrs. Joe Chisim, Mrs. R. F. Power, Rev. and Mrs. M. J. Scott, Mrs. Lee Mansfield, Mrs. Fred Mansfield, Miss Lila Johnson, and Miss Lucille Langford.

Married Saturday Night.

Ollie Scarborough of Harper and Miss Helen Johnston of Bandera were married at Kerrville last Saturday night. The groom is a young farmer of Gillespie county, and the bride is the daughter of M. F. Johnston who lives near Bandera. The New Era extends best wishes.

Starts Work on Road

Bandera County has started preliminary work on a stretch of road 24 miles in length, extending from Medina City to the Kerr County line, according to A. A. Stocker, for this division of the State Highway Department. He has returned from Medina City where he met with County Comissioner R. L. Morris and a committee for the purpose of advising them in the project they have undertaken.

The stretch of road that will be built is not a State project, although Bantera County officials are hopeful of having it so designated after they complete their improvement program. Work will begin at the end of State Highway No. 81, extending from San Antonio to Bandera and will connect at the Kerr County line with a highway to Kerrville. Stocker is assisting with selection of an engineer to handle the work and helping with preliminaries to actual construction work.

When the 24 mile link is completed San Antonio motorists will have another scenic loop, this one 155 miles in length. It will extend up through Bandera County along the beautiful Medina River cover and around mountains to Kerrville and back to San Antonio through Comfort and Boerne. It will open up a new fishing and hunting territory for sportsmen of this section, Stocker said.—San Antonio Express.

Advertising Rates—One inch upon the per column inch. Contract rates 25c per column inch. Display ads, per week. Local readers one cent per word each insertion, with a minimum charge of 15c. Cards of thanks, 50c. Lodge and church resolutions or obituaries five cents per line each insertion. All church, lodge and other charitable institutions where an admission fee is charged five cents per line each insertion.

The New Era must have a larger and faster press, and in order to raise the money to purchase this press we have decided to offer to just one hundred of our friends who will add us at this time the New and Frontier Times, both together for ten-cents for ten dollars. We must raise $1,000 at once and if there are one hundred men in Bandera county who will join the club of readers and pay us ten dollars to send them the New Era and Frontier Times for ten years we will soon get the press. Read our blue display ad on third page of this issue. For nearly four years the New Era has been steadily building under the present management and we want to continue to build, but we have reached the point where we must have a larger and faster press. Will you help us get it?

The New Era asks no charity at the hands of anyone. We charge $1.50 per year for this little old home paper, and we do our level best every week to fill it up with local and home news. We are working for you 365 days and nights in the year for that $1.50. Do you think the New Era is worth the price? Help us get a new press and you will realize you have made a good investment.

"Remember the New Era is working for Bandera all of the time. It's our home county. Every dollar we have made here has been spent in Bandera. We have faith in our town and county or we did not have this faith we would pull up stakes and move to a town where we could have faith. The New Era is essentially a builder. You help build the New Era and the New Era will help build you. We need to help each other.

The editor of the New Era preaches the gospel of Bandera at every opportunity. We have faith in Bandera and in Bandera people; we believe Bandera county will yet become one of the foremost counties in Texas when it becomes generally known that our recources are unequaled by most of the counties of the state. Realizing these things, we have set about to build a business in Bandera that will be permanent and lasting. We are building for the future, because we believe that future holds much for our town and county.

Ten years for ten dollars! Think of it. You'll never have such an opportunity again, to get the New Era and Frontier Times at this price.

The New Era is not begging for anything, and when we appeal to the people of this county to help us buy a new press which we need, we are putting that appeal in a strictly businesslike way. We are offering to send our two publications, the New Era and Frontier Times, to one hundred subscribers for ten years for only ten dollars. This is an offer that cannot be duplicated anywhere and is made for only a very limited time, for if we fail to raise the amount necessary to buy this press in this manner, we will have to abandon many of our plans for a bigger and better paper. If you are a subscriber to the New Era you are boosting us $1.50 per year. Frontier Times goes at the same price and this offer you will get the two publications for ten years at one-third the regular price. This is our only way to get that press. Will you help?

The friends of Hon. Julius Real of Kerrville rejoice to learn that he has entered the race for State Senator of this district. He represented this district in the Senate for a number of terms, and for years he has taken no active part in politics, being content to devote his entire time to his ranch interests, but the urging of his friends all over the district caused him to reverse his decision and enter the race, and when it became known that he would consent to become a candidate he was unanimously nominated by the republican convention in San Antonio last week. The nominating speech was made by United States Marshal D. A. Walker, who paid a glowing tribute to Senator Real and the record he had made during the time he served in that office. Senator Real stands four-square on all matters of public import, and is aligned with the public sentiment of the times. Bandera county will go strong for him in this race.

If you are disposed to help the New Era get a new press just notify us that you wish to take advantage of our offer to send the New Era and Frontier Times for ten years for ten dollars, and we will enroll your name on the list of Patriotic Friends. Send us money at this time, for if we cannot secure the amount necessary to buy that press the offer will not hold good and will be withdrawn. When a sufficient number of these ten year subscriptions have been secured we will call on you for the ten dollars. We cannot afford to make this offer general, but if we can secure one hundred of the ten-year subscriptions it will enable us to get that new press and increase our business to overcome the loss we may sustain in accepting one hundred subscriptions at this extremely low rate.

The young folks enjoyed a delightful party last Thursday night at the home of Judge and Mrs. A. L. Mansfield.

OBITUARY.

God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to call to His heavenly home our beloved sister, L. E. Bush. She was born at Shiner, Texas, October 20, 1891 was converted and joined the Baptist church at Medina in July, 1910; was married to L. E. Bush September 9, 1911; died August 12th, 1924. She was the daughter of Bro. and Sister P. L. Medford. Those left to mourn are the aged parents, the dear husband, one little daughter, two sisters, one brother and a host of friends. She was laid to rest in the little cemetery at Medina on August 14. Many were the good things said about this good woman by the ones who knew her best. We shall miss her. May the grace of God sustain and comfort her broken-hearted husband and His hand guide the life of the little child until they meet again.

W. H. PRICE.

Frontier Times, J. M. Hunter's monthly magazine, has just completed its first volume. It is now a year old, and growing in favor every day. This little magazine is the only publication in the world devoted to frontier history, border tragedy and pioneer achievement. It contains 32 pages and every number is well worth the subscription price of $1.50 a year. If you are a subscriber to Frontier Times and your subscription expired with the last number you should hasten to renew to avoid missing a single number.

The shiniest man in the world has been discovered at Potter. He married the other day and bought his bride a ten cent bag of candy for a wedding present and took her for a honeymoon trip down to Jourdanton. When they alighted from the car a couple of pieces of candy remained in the bag. "What shall we do with it dear?" she asked. "Better not eat it all," he advised prudently, "let's save some for the children."

The New Era faces the necessity of purchasing a larger and faster press to successfully keep pace with the growth of our business. Ever since the present editor took charge of this business nearly four years ago the New Era been constantly expanding and building up to become a factor in Bandera's development—and every dollar that came into our hands in time has been spent for equipment and our living expenses. Many of these dollars have come from the outside for our printed products—outside money coming into Bandera to pay our printers and to be spent right here. We have been building steadily, but we are now confronted with the problem of buying a larger and faster press if the New Era is to continue its advancement progam.

The press and equipment we must have, and that soon, will cost over $1,000. In order to raise this amount and at the same time enable our friends, who help us in this undertaking, to save money, we are going to make the following offer to ONE HUNDRED of our subscribers. We will send both of our publications,

The Bandera New Era
Published Weekly at $1.50 Per Year

Frontier Times
Published Monthly at $1.50 Per Year

FOR Ten Dollars

Think of it! These two publications ten years for only $10, or at one-third of the regular price. We make this offer to only 100 subscribers—will you be one of the loyal ones?

Let it be fully understood that the money to be paid in on this offer is to be used in the purchase of a press and other necessary equipment. We reserve the right to withdraw this offer if we fail to secure the subscriptions necessary at this rate. You pay no money now. Just tell us you will accept the proposition, and when we get the required number we will call on you for the ten dollars. If, at any time after one year you wish to cancel this agreement it may be done and the amount you paid will be refunded, less fulfilled subscriptions of each publication at the regular rate. Isn't this fair? The New Era needs your help now. We are working for you and for old Bandera county 365 days and nights in the year and we expect to keep it up. Who will be first to respond to this appeal? Watch for Honor Roll.

McDonald, Prof. Jones, Prof. Hatfield, Judge Mansfield, and J. M. Hunter. Washington's remarks were made primarily to the children and were right to the point, and Prof. McDonald outlined his methods of teaching and made everyone present feel that our present term of school will be satisfactory all around. Quite a crowd of parents were present and every one evinced his or her interest in the school work in some way. To sum it all up in a few words: Bandera High School is going to make headway this term.

St. Joseph's School began its regular term here Monday morning as a parochial school. Six teachers have been employed for this term and a regular high school course of study will be given as well as a business course. The enrollment at the beginning of the term was satisfactory.

Think of it! Two publications ten years for ten dollars! Two New Era years you could not buy a stand. We must buy latest and faster press and we are willing to pay for it. Therefore, half for one year. Frontier Times costs you a dollar and a half for one year but in order to accommodate those who want both publications we have combined them in order to raise the money necessary to buy our needed equipment.

Bandera High School starts off with the most flattering prospects for a successful term. The only thing that will interfere with it being a successful term will be a lack of co-operation on the part of the parents. We feel confident that we believe each will be the equal for at the opening of school last Monday morning there was about the same number present as the first day of school. With a live school board, a highly efficient faculty, a wide awake Parent-Teacher Association and the co-operation of all working harmoniously together, success is assured.

Dr. George C. Butte, dean of the Texas University Law School, has been nominated by the Texas Republican executive committee as the Republican nominee for Governor. To oppose Mrs. Ferguson. Dr. Butte will make a good race, and we hope he will win. He is quite prominent in civic affairs, is a member of the Baptist church and is highly spoken of as a man of progressive ideas.

During the past week Game Warden S. O. Durst has arrested several individuals for hunting without license. In each case they were men who came from other sections of the state, one of them being a prominent citizen of Fort Worth, who pleaded guilty and paid his fine of $21.70 for killing a dove, boasted that he had hunted in different counties of the state without a license and that was the first time he had been caught. He purchased a hunting license here, and says henceforth he will carry such license with him. The law specifically provides that anyone hunting outside of the county of his residence must have a hunting license, and we can't understand why some men deliberately fail to get such license when they go into other counties to kill game. Hunting license costs two dollars. The fine and costs for hunting without license is not less than $21.70. Take your choice, but if you choose to take chances on getting by without license you'd better steer clear of old Bandera county, for we have a game warden here who is strictly on the job day and night, and he is no respecter of persons when the law is violated. You Durst not hunt without license or kill more game than the law allows, or catch fish out of season, for Durst will get you if you do.

Good Cause for Sore Eyes.

A pair of gems got to talking yesterday [illegible] about their fair sights. One was Joe Short of Bandera, and the other was H. Duffy, former Banderan, now a San Antonian. Each was soliciting of the world and each admitted that he had, ever looked on dry and divers [illegible] here on good New Jersey. For instance, it was only a matter of a few weeks ago that Joe Short saw Fredericksburg for the first time, and Duffy has never been to Fredericksburg at all just think of it! Two fine men like that never before having that beautiful stretch of loveliness known as the Fredericksburg Valley, as seen from Divide on this side as one goes [illegible] Looking over that beautiful valley from the Divide with the little town in the heart of it, is reminded of the Mountains of the Land of Promise, and all that story. And the two lived all their life, or at least hours right in it, by the Ford.—Cattle Clatter of the San Antonio Express.

Now that's all pure "bunk." The idea of Joe Short and Hugh Duffy raving about Fredericksburg scenery when we have such beautiful scenery right here at home. And Cattle Clatter's assertion that Mr. Short had seen Fredericksburg only one time while Hugh Duffy had never been there at all makes us laugh. The writer has a faint recollection of seeing both of these gentlemen speeding up the street of the Post Office Mill church on the fiddler Dubbo hold there [illegible] and they were cughed in a heated argument over the possibility of the establishment of a national penitentiary that would close up all of the busy saloons in Fredericksburg. When such a lure was held out, said Duffy, "I hope the Pedernales river runs dry and these people will have to come to Bandera to get a drink of good whiskey." "Have a heart," said Mr. Short. "Don't you know that folks who drink beer all of their lives can't drink water?" "Well," said Duffy, "if that's the case I don't blame them for living in Fredericksburg. I have a notion to come over here and live myself."

The local school board and faculty has formulated certain rules and regulations to govern the conduct of the pupils during the present school term. The parents should become familiar with these rules in order that they may co-operate in the enforcement of school. With a live school board, a highly efficient faculty, a wide awake Parent-Teacher Association and the co-operation of all working harmoniously together, success is assured.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tobey and daughter, Miss Lula, left Monday last Tuesday for Hot Springs, New Mexico, to be absent for several months. Mrs. Tobey, who suffered a stroke of paralysis a few months ago, is almost fully recovered and able to make the long trip by auto. We are hopeful that the trip will prove beneficial to her and that she will be completely restored to health by the time the family returns to Texas. Mrs. Lois has been the faithful Medina correspondent for the New Era for the past two years, and naturally we wish her and her parents a very enjoyable trip and safe return.

Elder D. S. Palmer was here from Medina Saturday enroute to Pipe Creek where he preached on Sunday. Elder Palmer has a regular appointment there with the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints the first Sunday in each month.

We have been requested to announce there will be services at the Baptist church at Pipe Creek Sunday, September 14, at 8:30 p. m. by Evangelist Gilbert Rodriguez. All are cordially invited to attend. Evangelist Rodriguez, is considered one of the ablest English-speaking evangelists the Mexican Baptists have in Texas.

George Riley, of Tarpley, returned last Thursday from a visit to his sister, Mrs. Arthur Oliff, at Midland, who has been seriously ill. Mr. Riley reports fine rains throughout West Texas.

Boosting for Bandera.

Mr. Editor:—I came to Bandera county a few weeks ago, and am delighted to find it the beauty spot of America. I was born in Muros Cornua, Spain, in 1893 and have visited cities in South America, such leading cities as Buenos Aires, Montevides, Rio de Janiero, and I spent some time in Paraguay, Bolivia, Chile, Peru, and in European countries France, Germany, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, England, China and Japan, and in all of my travels I have seen some beautiful places, but none to equal this section of the world, and I will always fondly remember my visit to Bandera, where one can fully enjoy nature's fresh air, happiness, good fishing, swimming, and everything a good sportsman likes.

ANDRO L. VIGO.

The New Era faces the necessity of purchasing a larger and faster press to successfully keep pace with the growth of our business. Ever since the present editor took charge of this business nearly four years ago the New Era been constantly expanding and building up to become a factor in Bandera's development—and every dollar that came into our hands i time has been spent for equipment and ex living expenses. Many of these dollars have come from the outside for our printed products—outside money coming into Bandera to pay our printers and to be spent right here. We have been building steadily, but we are now confronted with the problem of buying a larger and faster press if the New Era is to continue its advancement progam.

The press and equipment we must have, and that soon, will cost over $1,000. In order to raise this amount and at the same time enable our friends, who help us in this undertaking, to save money, we are going to make the following offer to ONE HUNDRED of our subscribers. We will send both of our publications,

The Bandera New Era

Published Weekly at $1.50 Per Year

Frontier Times

Published Monthly at $1.50 Per Year

FOR

Ten Dollars

Think of it! These two publications ten years for only $10, or at one-third of the regular price. We make this offer to only 100 subscribers—will you be one of the loyal ones?

Let it be fully understood that the money to be paid in on this offer is to be used in the purchase of a press and other necessary equipment. We reserve the right to withdraw this offer if we fail to secure the subscriptions necessary at this rate. You pay no money now. Just tell us you will accept the proposition, and when we get the required number we will call on you for the ten dollars. If, at any time after one year you wish to cancel this agreement it may be done and the amount you paid will be refunded, less fulfilled subscriptions of each publication at the regular rate. Isn't this fair? The New Era needs your help now. We are working for you and for old Bandera county 365 days and nights in the year and we expect to keep it up. Who will be first to respond to this appeal? Watch for Honor Roll.

Boosting Bandera.

Bandera is planning to improve Wilson's Creek to connect with the road from that city to the good roads of Medina County. This improvement would provide a loop highway from San Antonio through Bandera and into the hills of Southwest Texas that would mean much added revenue for merchants of that and other towns along the loop. More thousands of winter tourists would be drawn to Southwest Texas if more motor loops with hard surfaced highways were provided through the edge of the hill country. There is no other recreation that can compare with a ten gmoto drive through the hills over splendid highways.—San Antonio Express.

GINNING NOTICE

For the present the Farmers' Gins will run on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, until further notice.

Notice Sheep Raisers.

I will be in Kerrville September 15 with a car of fancy stud rams, thirty or more of my own raising, and twenty-five polled rams from the Masters flock. If you need a good flock header come and see these rams at the Mosel-Saenger yards in Kerrville.—J. T. Liles.

Violin Pupils.

Pupils desiring to study violin this winter will kindly notify me at once so I can arrange study periods to suit.—A. P. Carlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jem Lemburg and daughters, of Dallas, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mark McBryde Tuesday night. They were en route to San Antonio on a business and pleasure trip. Some thirty years ago Jim Lemburg and the writer of this grea religious weekly were playmates in Old Mason, during the days when there was so much excitement there over raids that were being made on peach orchards and watermelon patches. Fortunately both of us survived the maledictions and shotguns and today Jim is a successful merchant in Dallas while we are paving our way to Bandera. We were mighty glad to see our old friend once more and to note that the passing years have not changed his genial disposition, and he is the same Sunny Jim we knew in those halcyon days.

Brian Montague of Alpine and his cousin, Miss Helen Lytle of San Antonio, were here a short while Saturday, guests of Mrs. Rose Cardinal and Miss Margaret Montague. Mr. Montague is district attorney at Alpine, and had been to Austin on official business.

Mrs. Mary Carmichael returned Saturday from a month's visit to her daughter, Mrs. N. N. Peters, at Many, Louisiana. She had a most delightful visit, but is glad to get home from the long journey and her friends rejoice that she made the trip without mishap.

Sam Jones, who is employed as a buyer for the Union Stock Yards at San Antonio, came up Friday and spent Saturday with his mother, Mrs. Mattie Jones. Sam was raised here and has hundreds of friends throughout this region, and all he met here Saturday were glad to see him.

New Era and Frontier Times, ten years for ten dollars. Read our offer on Page Two.

Julius Real for the Senate.

Ex-Senator Julius Real, of Kerrville, Kerr County, was chosen by acclamation for State Senator by the Republican Senatorial Convention of the 26th Senatorial District, has accepted the nomination, and will begin an active campaign within a short time. He has been selected to make the race against W. A. Ridgeway, Democrat, and W. A. Black, Independent.

Senator Real had cherished the idea that he might be permitted to retire from public life, and enjoy the peace and quiet of his home and family, and pursue undisturbed the development of his stock on his ranch, so congenial to his taste. But many of the most influential and conservative men and women of the district have prevailed upon him to be "drafted" again into service in order that the district and his State might be at this troublous period, the beneficiary of his sound business judgment, and of his unswerving integrity to the interest of his people. Senator Real has had many years of active participation in public life and in the public affairs of this State, which has enabled him to acquire a knowledge of public needs, possessed by few men in the district. He served as county commissioner of Kerr county for eight years, during which time some of the most perplexing problems of the county were solved. He served as County Judge and as Superintendent of Public Education in his home county for four years, voluntarily retiring from those positions, and was then elected to the State Senate, in which position he served his district for six years. The district at that time consisted of the counties of Bexar, Kendall, Bandera, Kerr and Gillespie, and his successive election to the Senate is distinguished by the fact that he is the only man ever elected to the Senate from this district on the Republican ticket. During his service as Senator he served upon many committees, most important among which were the Educational and Financial Committees. After serving six years in the Senate he voluntarily retired and has been up until now, firm in his determination never again to enter public life. Following his retirement from the Senate he was nominated for Congress, but declined the nomination. In evidence of the esteem and confidence in which Senator Real was held by his colleagues—all being Democrats save himself—we have but to recall the important committee assignments with which he was honored, together with the fact that one of the counties of the state—Real—was named for him by unanimous vote.

Senator Real, together with his five brothers and two sisters, all of whom are living, are the children of the late Casmer Real, who came to Texas in 1847. In 1857 the father of the present candidate for the Senate, having in the meantime married Amilie Schreiner, the sister of Captain Charles Schreiner of Kerrville, moved with his wife to Turtle Creek, where Julius Real was born and reared, and where he has lived his entire lifetime, almost within sight of where he was born.

Senator Real is a practical and progressive ranchman, and is as well known for the quality of stock which he raises as he is by reason of his public service. He is considered by those who know him most intimately as one of the ablest and most conservative financiers of the district, and this fact was readily recognized by his colleagues when he was a member of the Senate some years ago.

Senator Real is not now, nor never a recent any other public office, I then believed that I would never seek from that determination, and have done so now only in response to the pressure brought to bear upon me by a great number of influential men and women in my district. Having consented to make the race for the Senate, I shall make a vigorous and thorough campaign, to the end that by many friends who have besieged me to make the race, may realize the fact of my election.

Defense Day.

Defense day was fittingly observed in Bandera last Friday, despite the rainy weather. A squad of soldiers came out from Camp Bullis and gave drill work, while an airplane sailed overhead scattering circulars proclaiming the object of Defense Day observance. A parade of the soldiers followed by school children and Red Cross nurses was formed and marched around town. Howard Eckhart carried the flag. The procession came to a halt in front of the Cox Opera House and Captain Tom Grant of Tarpley made an eloquent address in behalf of preparedness and the proper observance of defence day. Captain Grant was overseas at the beginning of the War, and he was in a position to learn the cost of unpreparedness. He spoke for nearly an hour and made it clear to all that we should be in readiness when the next conflict comes. After Captain Grant's speech Lieutenant Loaf and his men gave some interesting drill work, and put down a smoke screen as used in army charges. At six o'clock a barbecue supper was served at the wool warehouse to the soldiers and ex-service men, as well as civilians. Several goats had been barbecued for the occasion.

On account of the heavy rain Friday morning the word was sent forth that the program had been cancelled and officials at Camp Bullis were notified not to send troops to Bandera. However, the troops were on their way when the message reached there, and they came on. When they arrived here about 11 o'clock it was decided to carry out the program as at first planned, and which was in charge of Mr. I. E. Adamietz, and the result was most pleasing all around. The soldiers were royally treated, the speechmaking was fine, and the crowd present enjoyed the free lemonade and everything that had been provided. Next September 12 old Bandera will stage a Defense Day demonstration that will be a whopper.

Notice to Republicans

State Republican headquarters has issued a call for campaign funds. Every Republican in this county is requested to contribute to this fund. Bandera county's quota can be met if there is a ready response. Send your check to Lee Risinger, county chairman, not later than Tuesday, September 23rd. Don't delay. Prospects are very bright for victory for the Republican party in Texas this year. You can help by responding with a liberal contribution.

has never been a member of the Ku Klux Klan. He is especially opposed to its participation, as an organization, in the political affairs of this State. Through himself, by religious faith a Protestant, he does, as he always has, believe in religious freedom. As stated by himself: "I do now, I always have, and I shall always defend the right of any one to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience. I do now, and I shall always defend the right of the Jew to worship in the faith of his fathers, in the faith of Abraham, of Isaac and of Jacob, and I shall always defend the right of any man or woman to belong to the Catholic church, and to worship in its faith. And I do now, and I shall always defend the right of any man to belong to the Ku Klux Klan, so long as he attends to his own duties and does not seek to abridge or destroy the rights of other men in their political, civil or religious faith. But so long as they do, I shall oppose them."

Briefly reviewed, in public and business life Senator Real is known as a ranchman, business man, public servant, statesman, and patriot, having among the many other services which he rendered his country during the late war served as a member of the Texas Council of Defense. Such is the business and public life of the man. In private life he has been a kind husband, affectionate father and loyal friend.

Senator Real, upon being interviewed recently said: "After I retired to private life at the expiration of my six years of service in the Senate in 1914, I then resolved that I would never seek

We feel somewhat better over the prospects of getting a larger and faster press for the New Era. During the past week several have notified us of their willingness to take advantage of the offer to send the New Era and Frontier Times for ten years for ten dollars. Mr. Sam P. Drake, of Winchester, Texas, sent us a check for ten dollars, and said "count him in." Mr. D. H. D. White of Greenwood, Miss., writes: "Have just read your call for 100 subscribers to enable you to enlarge your equipment for service. Please put me down for one of the hundred, and call on me at any time for the ten." The New Era is the best weekly newspaper I've ever read, its make-up and policy is of the best." Also Ira Cavitt of Aransas Pass writes us to enroll him on the list. Others will come in too within the next two or three weeks, and we hope to secure the hundred before the middle of October. If you are planning to take advantage of this offer do not delay in notifying us, because we are going to wind it up in a whirlwind fashion. Only one hundred subscribers will be accepted at this remarkably low rate, the New Era and Frontier Times ten years for ten dollars. Just tell us you want it, and we'll not call on you for the money until we are ready to pay for the press. If we don't get enough to buy the press we will withdraw the offer.

Bandera folks should be proud of their picture show, which is now operated by White Brothers of Center Point. In spite of the heavy roads caused by the big rain last Friday, those young men came over and put on a fine feature picture, and they say they are coming rain or shine hereafter to them and show you. We appreciate the excellent service they are giving in our playhouse.

The schools of the county are about all in full swing, or will be within the next two weeks. There seems to be more interest being taken in school matters this year than ever before, and it is indeed gratifying. The public school is the bulwark of Americanism. Lose interest in the public school, and you loose interest in training our boys and girls for the duties they will assume in our civil life. We are for the public school first, last and all the time.

Better roads are needed. Now that the fall season is upon us and with it will come the fall and winter rains, and our roads will become impassable, and the cry will go up for better roads. Remember last year, when for weeks at a time the roads were well nigh impassable throughout the country. We are pleased to observe, however, that some headway has been made toward improving some of the roads, and we are in better shape for traffic than at this time last year. But there is yet much to be done. Let's do it.

Bandera seems destined to be a Gretna Green for young people seeking to enter the holy state. A short time ago, August 27 to be exact, a very pretty wedding took place in the Bandera Methodist church which was of considerable interest owing to the prominence of the contracting parties, but for the time being was kept secret for reasons best known to them. This was the wedding of Mr. Ralph Durkee and Miss Mary Carter of San Antonio. The beautiful and impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. H. H. Washington, pastor of the Bandera Methodist church, and the only witnesses were Mrs. H. H. Washington and Mr. Hunter of the San Antonio Evening News, on which paper the bride is a feature writer, was the first to give out the news of the marriage in last Saturday's issue, which we here reproduce:

"Social circles were agreeably surprised today with the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Carter, prominent in local society and known to the thousands of Evening News readers as a feature writer, to Ralph Henry Durkee. The marriage became public through a formal announcement by Mr. and Mrs. John Horatio Cunningham. Mrs. Cunningham is the sister of the bride. The marriage took place August 27th in the Methodist Episcopal Church of Bandera, the Rev. H. H. Washington officiating.

"Mr. and Mrs. Durkee leave tonight on a honeymoon trip to the City of Mexico. After their return in two weeks they will temporarily make their home at the Hunter Hotel."

"Mrs. Durkee, recognized as the leading feature writer of San Antonio, will continue writing for the Evening News under the name of Mary Carter."

"Due to his public activities, Mr. Durkee is equally well known. Until recently he was publicity director of the Chamber of Commerce. During the war he held the comission of major, he being the the commander of the training center at Ann Arbor, Michigan. He also enjoys the distinction of being civilian aide of the State of Texas to the Secretary of War. At present Mr. Durkee is associated with the Physicans and Surgeons' Hospital.

Due to the appearance of a few cases of small pox in the community nearly everybody in Bandera has been vaccinated, and enlarged arms are much in evidence. The small pox people display his "blisters," and when we asked one of them the other day what he carried his arm in a sling for he answered that he had been "vulcanized" for the small pox.

We are in the market for both wool and mohair, and will pay top prices.—W. J. Davenport & Co.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

Adopted by the Bandera School Board Relating to Pupils.

1. Pupils above the third grade will be required to devote the greater part of their time to the preparation of the lessons for the following day at their homes after they return from school.

2. No pupil will be permitted to leave school without a written or personal request from their parent, except in case of sickness, when the superintendent deems the occasion warrants it. All excuses shall be presented to the superintendent.

3. Habitual guilty of truancy or of violating rules may be suspended.

4. Any pupil who shall, in or about the school premises, write or use profane or obscene language shall be liable to suspension or expulsion at the discretion of the superintendent and the board of trustees.

5. Any pupil who shall destroy, injure or deface any article of school furniture, or deface the building by writing or marking on same, or breaking any window lights, shall be required by the superintendent to pay in full for the damage done to the same. Failure to do this in one week shall subject the pupil to suspension and the damage is paid for or repair is made. (See Penal Code, Art. 499.)

6. No pupil will be permitted to bring tobacco in any of its forms on or about the school grounds.

7. Pupils while school is in session, shall refrain from all communication. No books or magazines, or any other matter not pertaining to the work of the school, shall be brought to school. Pupils are expected to attend strictly to school duties, and keep themselves at all times in a gentlemanly and ladylike manner.

8. No notes shall be passed, sent or received by pupils without permission of superintendent.

The law requires the pupils to keep their books covered.

We urge patrons to preserve a copy of these regulations and co-operate in their enforcement, for they have been adopted with a view to the safe-guarding of the interests of your children rather than depriving them of reasonable liberties.

You Can Help

The New Era faces the necessity of purchasing a larger and faster press to successfully keep pace with the growth of our business. Ever since the present editor took charge of this business nearly four years ago the New Era been constantly expanding and building up to become a factor in Bandera's development—and every dollar that came into our hands in time has been spent for equipment and our living expenses. Many of these dollars have come from the outside for our printed products—outside money coming into Bandera to pay our printers and to be spent right here. We have been building steadily, but we are now confronted with the problem of buying a larger and faster press if the New Era is to continue its advancement progam.

The press and equipment we must have, and that soon, will cost over $1,000. In order to raise this amount and at the same time enable our friends, who help us in this undertaking, to save money, we are going to make the following offer to ONE HUNDRED of our subscribers. We will send both of our publications,

The Bandera New Era

Published Weekly at $1.50 Per Year

Frontier Times

Published Monthly at $1.50 Per Year

FOR

Ten Dollars

Think of it! These two publications ten years for only $10, or at one-third of the regular price. We make this offer to only 100 subscribers—will you be one of the loyal ones?

Let it be fully understood that the money to be paid in on this offer is to be used in the purchase of a press and other necessary equipment. We reserve the right to withdraw this offer if we fail to secure the subscriptions necessary at this rate. You pay no money now. Just tell us you will accept the proposition, and when we get the required number we will call on you for the ten dollars. If, at any time after one year you wish to cancel this agreement it may be done and the amount you paid will be refunded, less fulfilled subscriptions of each publication at the regular rate. Isn't this fair? The New Era needs your help now. We are working for you and for old Bandera county 365 days and nights in the year and we expect to keep it up. Who will be first to respond to this appeal? Watch for Honor Roll.

Rev. P. J. Tarradellas, formerly pastor of the Catholic church in Bandera, but now stationed at Columbus, writes the New Era editor the following letter, which makes us feel much encouraged and we publish it that the many friends of Father Tarradellas may know how he is getting along. He has a host of friends here who remember his kindly ministrations while he was located in Bandera: My dear Mr. Hunter:—

A few days ago I got a letter from Mrs. Julius Mazurek and also the Bandera New Era, dated Sept. 4th, 1924. I read every line of it, and I must say that your appeal to the people for the purchasing of a larger and faster press ought to be responded to by every citizen of Bandera county. Although I am not a citizen of the county, I believe I am bound to do my most for a town where I used to be located and where I still have a world of friends, the editor of The Bandera New Era not excluded. The Bandera of today is not the Bandera of four years ago. Bandera has inspired a great deal since you took charge of the local paper. Only a blind person can deny the fact. You have done for Bandera wonderful work and I believe as soon as you get a larger press you will no doubt, accomplish many things for the people of Bandera. I wish I could have one thousand dollars to spare to furnish you with the press so much needed, but as I cannot do so, I am willing with heart and soul, to put up my $10.00 for that larger press. Please let me know when you want the money, and I will, by return mail, send you a check for the amount.

How is Mrs. Hunter and children? Are they keeping well? God bless them all.

I am now located at Columbus, Texas, but before coming here I had charge of a parish in San Antonio. San Antonio did not appeal to me, so I asked the Bishop to send me to a country place. I surely love the country. I have just finished writing a little pamplet, and as soon as I get it from the printing shop will send a copy to you. Hoping that the purchasing of the press will be a success and wishing you and all at home the best of health I am,

Very sincerely yours,

REV. P. J. TARRADELLAS

Goat Associations Consolidate.

The result of the recent vote by the National Angora Record Association membership on the question of consolidation with the American Angora Goat Breeders Association have just been announced by Jack Turner, secretary of the A. A. B. A., whose headquarters are at Junction.

A large majority of the membership of the N. A. R. A. were in favor of consolidation under conditions previously agreed upon by committees appointed by the two record associations. This insures the consolidation of the two associations as the membership of the A. A. G. B. A. voted favorably on the question several weeks ago.

These are the only two angora record associations in the United States and the consolidation will prove beneficial to the industry as heretofore many breeders have had to keep their goats registered in both associations in order to meet the demands of the public. It will prove beneficial to Texas breeders of registered goats, as one of the conditions of the consolidation was that headquarters of the consolidated associations will be moved to Texas from Missouri and will likely be located somewhere in this section of the state.

The consolidated association will be known as the American Angora Goat Breeders Association, and after the second year from the date of consolidation the goats registered in the N. A. R. A. will have the same standing as those registered in the old association and after this date no more goats will be registered by inspection alone.

E. F. Kindla's Home Burned.

The residence of E. F. Kindla was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. When the fire was discovered, the whole roof of the kitchen was in flames and beyond control. Neighbors hastily removed all of the furniture from the burning building and carried the household effects to a place of safety. The building was a total loss, and was not insured. The cost of the building is estimated at around $3,500. Luckily there was but little breeze, otherwise the outhouses and barns on the property would have burned, and endangered dwellings on adjoining properties. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been caused by a defective flue.

This fire more than ever, emphasizes the need of better fire protection in this town. The investment of a few hundred dollars in a chemical apparatus and the organization of a volunteer fire company would go a long ways toward the destruction of property by the fire demon. If we had such equipment at the present time it is quite possible that E. Kindla's home would have been saved, as the fire was confined to one part of the roof when it was discovered, but a "bucket" attempt to extinguish it was useless.

Judge C. B. Corley is improving his residence, and is also having a cistern constructed on his premises.

Printing Press for Sale

The New Era offers its Vaughn Automatic two-revolution newspaper press for sale at a bargain. Prints two pages of six column paper, hand fed power. In good working condition. The paper was printed on this press for many years and has not changed hands, but our business has outgrown it and we are going to install a larger press. A bargain awaits you. Address New Era, Bandera, Texas.

Of Interest to Boys.

In the November number of Frontier Times will appear the first installment of "The Adventures of Jack Dobell," a story of special interest to the boys of Texas. Old folks will like this thrilling tale also. Jack Dobell, or rather John C. Duval, was one of Fannin's men who miraculously escaped the massacre at Goliad, and in most pleasing style he tells of his wanderings in the wilderness of Texas in that early day, 1836. The story will continue through several numbers of Frontier Times, so don't miss the first installment. We wish every school teacher in the county would subscribe for Frontier Times for they will find this little magazine full of historical data that will aid them in interesting their pupils in the study of Texas history.

It is with sincere regret that we note the death of Mr. H. Carpenter, which occurred at Kerrville last Friday, an account of which appears elsewhere in this issue. Mr. Carpenter lived near Bell for many years, and was one of the best citizens of that county. He had been afflicted for some time, and a short time ago he struck a splinter in his foot which resulted in blood poisoning and he had to be taken to the hospital at Kerrville, where his foot was amputated last week. His condition grew steadily worse and he passed away Friday. Our sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved wife and children.

Miss Lois Tobey writes from Hot Springs, New Mexico, that the Tobey family made the long trip by auto from Medina to Hot Springs without mishap, and that her mother is steadily improving there. She is delighted with that region, but says she thinks old Bandera county is superior in every way.

We are in the market for both wool and mohair, and will pay top prices.—W. J. Davenport & Co.

During the past week several of our friends have added their names to our Roll of Honor by accepting our offer to send the New Era and Frontier Times to them for ten years for ten dollars. There are several who have made up their mind to take advantage of this offer, but they have not yet come in. We would like to impress it upon our friends, that they have only a few days longer in which to consider this matter, for the offer will terminate October 31st. We are calling upon one hundred of our friends to help us get a larger and faster press. We need it and must have it, if the New Era is to keep pace with the progress of the community. Our offer is a most liberal one, and easily within the reach of all. By taking advantage of it each individual will save twenty dollars on his subscription, and at the same time help us get that big press.

Spare ribs and turnip greens will soon appear on the tables of Bandera folks. The best time of the year approacheth. Arise and sing.

Elsewhere in this issue we published the list of donations to the fund for building a bridge at the Hondo crossing here. The raising of the amount necessary was accomplished by M. F. Johnston, who personally solicited the funds and looked after the construction of this bridge. The bridge is today an accomplished reality. The building of this substantial concrete bridge is another step forward in the mare of progress for old Bandera.

New Era and Frontier Times, ten years for ten dollars. Read our offer on Page Two.

NO TRESPASSING

No hunting, trapping, cutting of big trees, or trespassing allowed on my land. I will pay a liberal reward for information that will lead to the conviction of any party or parties tearing down and going over my fences.—Hansen Banch, H. C. Hansen, prop. Mar1-12m

TO THE PUBLIC

On account of having to give personal attention to my truck line, for the present my tin and plumbing shop will be open only on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Remember the days and bring in your work and same will be promptly done. R.—E. Blunt.

You Should Take It.

Frontier Times is an interesting monthly magazine published in Bandera. It is well worth the subscription price of $1.50 per year. You should take it.

The Offer Ends OCTOBER 3

For the past three weeks the New Era has been calling for One Hundred Loyal Friends to help us raise $1,000 to buy a larger press and other equipment. The offer we make is a most liberal one and represents a tremendous sacrifice on our part, therefore we are not disposed to prolong the offer, and have set Friday, October 3, as the closing date. If you have considered accepting this offer we urge you to notify us at once.

The press and equipment we must have, and that soon, will cost over $1,000. In order to raise this amount and at the same time enable our friends, who help us in this undertaking, to save money, we are going to make the following offer to ONE HUNDRED of our subscribers. We will send both of our publications,

The Bandera New Era

Published Weekly at $1.50 Per Year

Frontier Times

Published Monthly at $1.50 Per Year

Ten Years FOR Ten Dollars

Think of it! These two publications ten years for only $10, or at one-third of the regular price. We make this offer to only 100 subscribers—will you be one of the loyal ones?

Remember October 3rd will be the last day of this great offer. Don't delay. Get in the swing. The New Era needs you—you need the New Era. Come, let's travel together.

Siebert Optical Service

When a child is nervous, petulent, irritable, quarrelsome, always discontented, frequently when sickly, it may be caused by defective vision.

When the youth or maiden is backward in studies, cannot grasp what is explained in the schoolroom, gets dizzy, is listless—it may be his eyes.

When the adult is irritable, experiences "vertigo," "upset stomach," headache, tired eyes, sleepiness during the day—it is probably the eyes.

This is Nature's warning that the eyes should be examined and proper glasses procured. No time should be lost in doing this.

Our entire time is devoted to the examining of eyes, the fitting of glasses and the repairing of broken lenses.

Report came to town last Thursday that Charlie Eckhart had "broken out." Now we know he did not break out with the small pox, or with the itch, or even with measles, for he was in town Monday, and did not look look like a man who had "broken out" with anything. Says he might be "broke", but he is not "broke out".

Miss Will E. Hunter, of San Antonio, spent Sunday with the editor and family. We proudly acknowledge that she is the editor's cousin. We greatly enjoyed her brief visit, and hope she will come again when she can stay longer. Miss Hunter is the San Antonio representative for the Spirella Corset Company, and has a large clientele in that city.

OBITUARY

On Friday, September 19, 1924, Bro. H. L. Carpenter of Medina, left us to be with Him in whom he had trusted for many years. He was a great sufferer for the past few years but bore his suffering patiently. Loving hands did for him all that they could do. Friends and neighbors gathered about him to do what they could and their kindness will never be forgotten by the bereaved family. Bro. Carpenter was born in Seguin, Texas, 64 years ago. He leaves a widow and nine children to mourn him, also one brother, Reed Carpenter of Selma, California, and two sisters who are living in San Antonio, Mrs. E. C. Campbell and Mrs. M. W. Thompson. May strength and comfort be given to the bereaved, and may they all meet again where death and separation are not known. His friend and also a friend of the family. W. H. PRICE.

Road Work Starts Today.

The building of a good road from Winan's Creek, through Medina, to the Kerr county line, will start today, when Commissioner Morris will break dirt on the road a short distance below Medina. The bond money, $25,000 is now available. A big tractor and grader will reach Medina today to give a public demonstration. Contracts for the building of several bridges on the road have been let, and the work is to be pushed forward.

M. V. Adamietz has been suffering with a severely sprained ankle, sustained when he jumped from the roof of the burning home of E. F. Kindla last week.

Democrats Endorse Dr. Butte.

Dallas, Texas, September 30.—A State-wide organization of anti-Ferguson Democrats, the expressed purpose of which is to oppose the election of Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, Democratic nominee for Governor, was formally launched at a meeting of about 150 men and women in the palm garden of the Adolphus Hotel Saturday morning. The organization was given the name of the Good Government Democratic League of Texas. The attendance included representatives from a number of counties scattered throughout the State.

George C. Butte of Austin, Republican gubernatorial nominee, who was characterized by various speakers as "a good Independent Democrat," was accorded the nomination of the anti-Fergusun Democrats for Governor.

Mrs. Ferguson Eligible.

Judge Calhoun has ruled that Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson is eligible to hold the office of Governor of this state, and that her name may be printed on the election ballots. This decision was handed down by Judge Calhoun last Monday. Plaintiffs will appeal.

C. L. Farrer reports everything in readiness for the duck hunters at his place on Medina Lake when the season opens. He has been arranging everything in the most convient way for his patrons, and has boats and all necessary equipment.

Fire at the Gin.

Fire was discovered in one of the stands at the Farmers' Gin Tuesday afternoon, but prompt action on the part of the gin employes and the quick arrival of a crowd of citizens soon checked the blaze. A portion of a bale of cotton was damaged.

Judge Phillips and Mr. Lindner, of Boerne, and August Faltin of Comfort, were business visitors in the city last Friday.

Word came from Bandera yesterday that Larkin West of Uvalde was in that territory for the purpose of looking over Joe Short's 300 head of fine young steers. Joe Short has been nursing "them there" steers along all summer, sitting up nights with them, 'n' everything. But nobody cant buy 'em, so far; at least they haven't. Joe, he rates 'em pretty high, they say. Then, Joe, he keeps on getting rain and having good range for 'em, and that makes him hard to deal with, they say. This boy, Larkin West, is just naturally a cowboy. Grew up on the wide ranges, went to school, and took a job at bookkeeping in a store. But his heart was still on the range, and he had to follow. Used to be long time ago they sent a boy to school, telling him that when he got educated he might leave the ranch and farm, go to town and wear a white collar all the time. That's all changed now. Now-a-days when a ranch boy comes out of college, why, he wants to get right back on the ranch and see if what he learned will do him any good there. If it fails him, he gets sore at the schooling! If Larkin skinned Joe out of "them" steers yesterday it proved that education is a bad thing—for Joe! Cattle Clatter in San Antonio Express.

Miss Laura Buck, who has been connected with the Roach-McLymott firm in Del Rio the past several months, has resigned her position there to accept a position as stenographer for the Woodlawn Labratories in San Antonio, and writes us to send the New Era to her there.

The Bandera New Era

J. M. HUNTER,

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

Advertising Rates—One inch, or less per column inch. Contract rates 25c per column inch. All play ads, per week. Local readers one cent per word each insertion, with a minimum charge of 25c. Cards of thanks, 50c. Lodge and church resolutions or obituaries 5c per line each insertion. All church, lodge and charitable institution notices are subscription rates.

Offer Ends Saturday.

A month ago the New Era put on a most remarkable subscription offer with the object in view of buying a larger and faster press and other needed equipment. Our proposition was to send the New Era and Frontier Times to one hundred subscribers for ten dollars for ten years. If we could secure these one hundred subscriptions at that rate it would provide us with $1,000 to purchase the equipment which we must have. But we have not secured these one hundred, and as the offer ends Saturday it is not likely we will secure them. However we are going to buy that press and those who have come forward in the second to take advantage of our offer shall not be disappointed. They will receive the New Era and Frontier Times for ten years for ten dollars, just the same as if we had secured the one hundred. We have made arrangements to secure a good cylinder press a bargain and as we have not received enough subscriptions on our offer to pay for the press and freight on it, we are going right ahead as cheerfully as if we had a million subscribers backing us. We are determined to keep pace with the progress of Bandera is going to make, and if we get lost in the shuffle it will be because we went to sleep on the job.

We hope as many of our friends as can see their way clear to accept our offer will do so before it closes, for "every little bit helps," and we need it in this instance. Those who have taken advantage of the offer with the understanding that they were to pay as money until we called on them for it, are now requested to send in their check for ten dollars each, and their subscriptions will be marked paid for ten years. Watch the date on the wrapper of your paper, or on the address sticker. The New Era and Frontier Times are both going to grow. We are not content to stand still. Ever since we came to Bandera four years ago we have been working single handed, but doing three men's work, and have been sticking to our little printing office early and late. We have not had time to mix and mingle with our friends in town and over the country as we would like to do, but with our increased facilities, and increased office assistance, we hope to be relieved somewhat from present duties in the course of a short time. Those who have sent us the little old home paper, and have made possible our success in every undertaking will not regret the confidence they have had in our effort to do good in this county.

Prof. C. T. Carlton, who former ly lived here and two years ago was superintendent of Bandera High School, has moved from Sugar to Antonio to Bonham. Prof. Carlton was for many years connected with Carlton College at Bonham, and he writes us that his old friends there have warmly welcomed him and his wife back to the old home.

Within the next month or so the New Era will be quartered in the building near the ice factory formerly used as a creamery. The building is now being remodeled for our use. When we get over there we will be jam up against the old and also against the ice factory. This locality is able to reduce the temperature the coldest day which usually stands around 200 in the shade, and when it rises to boosting one town

Now, that Judge Calhoun has ruled that Mrs. Miriam Ferguson is eligible to hold the office of governor of this state, there is much rejoicing in the ranks of the democratic party which nominated her for that office. But there are sands of democrats over the state will not vote for Mrs. Ferguson because they feel that if she is elected Farmer Jim will be the governor in fact. And that is what we are going to cast our vote for Dr. George Butte, the republican nominee, and we believe he will be the next governor of Texas.

Bandera is proud of her boys who are attending college this year. Among these boys is Ernest Hoby, who has been in university work at Austin, Mary College in San Antonio. In class activities Ernest so far has received the honor of being president of the freshman class and business manager of "The Pedernal," college paper published twice month by the freshman class. Football is also a conspicuous topic among the seniors. Prospects are favorable for the mighty eleven this year there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Taylor, Los Angeles, California, are spending the week in San Marcos as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buckner. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, who are past seventy-five years of age, are completing a tour of several months starting from Los Angeles in June and going first to visit a daughter at Spokane, Washington, thence over the Canadian Pacific through Idaho, Canada, Minnesota, Wisconsin to Chicago, where they visited Mr. Taylor's sister for several weeks. From there they went on an 800 mile trip up to the northern part of Michigan to visit Mr. Taylor's boyhood home. Returning they came through New Orleans and Houston to Polk county, where they visited for two weeks, and then on to San Marcos. They will visit here and at Bandera for about one month before returning to Los Angeles.—San Marcos Record.

A wedding of interest to the people of the London Community took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Pearl last Saturday evening, when Raymond Pearl and Miss Texas Fellers were made one by Rev. Lewis Pearl. After the ceremony a supper was given at the George Pearl home and later in the evening a host number of friends and neighbors called to extend congratulations.—Junction Eagle.

Attend Freighters' Meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Amasa Clark attended the meeting of the Pioneer Freighters Association of San Antonio last Sunday, and greatly enjoyed the barbecue and gathering of the old timers. Veteran Clark says he is going to attend all meeting of the Old Timers Association which will be held in San Antonio early in September.

The following appeared in Mrs. Clark's San Antonio Express:

A graphic word picture of Sam Houston's victory in the City of Mexico, September 16, 1847, was painted by an eye witness Sunday at the reunion of the Texas Pioneer Freighters association at Spring Springs. This story was translated by Amasa Clark of Bandera, 97 year old veteran of the Texas army, who as a young officer was standing near the flag pole when the Mexican flag came down in the City of Mexico and the United States flag went up in its place. Stacked with age and years of storm, but strong and vibrant of voice, the veteran of the battles of Corpo Gordo, Contreras, Molino Del Rey and Chapultepec, stood before the group gathered under the live oaks in San Pedro Park and recounted his personal experiences to those present. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were guests of honor at the reunion, he being a son-in-law in the old pioneer. Mr. and Mrs. W. Evans, 2710 Laurel street, Houston, Texas, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lillie Mae Wharton, to Sidney Grant Hoff, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Grant Hoff, Sr., of Avenue H. The wedding will take place in the early fall. Mr. Clark came to San Antonio in 1853 and was lived here and in Bandera since."

SCHOOL NOTES

The absence of attendance is due to some extent to parents not getting their children started early and regularly, and partly to sickness that might be avoidable. We should remember that the child is strongest when the mind is fresh in it and strive to make our work as nearly perfect as possible. We want most of the children in grades where their work is good for them, but believe by our best and earnest effort they in grades where they can work out of the situation. I feel all teachers hard at work and wish to compliment the patrons that if we give the proper time out of school hours to help them in their assignment but to assist them in their work. If you will consider this matter we get no extra pay for this extra service, you can the better realize our purpose to help in the development the most of the pupils. We are responding nobly and we are proud of them. In application they are improving, but much is to be done yet.

We are glad to have Mrs. White and Mrs. Wyly visit the school, and urge more patrons to do likewise. There is certainly a patron who took a sensible view of the matter when, finding the work entirely too difficult for her child, came and discussed the situation with me and requested that her pursue the work of the preceding grade that he might more thoroughly understand. Encourage your children to attend regularly and study hard and we are sure they will be proud of it before the year is out.

We will soon organize a literary society and appoint a regular reporter for the paper.

Card of Thanks.

We now have a fairly good road from Bandera to my place. Lakeview, and you are invited to come down and enjoy yourself. We are in position to serve the public. LAST CALL

For the past three weeks the New Era has been calling for One Hundred Loyal Friends to help us raise $1,000 to buy a larger press and other equipment. The offer we make is a most liberal one and represents a tremendous sacrifice on our part, therefore we are not disposed to prolong the offer, and have set Saturday, Oct. 4, as the closing date. If you have considered accepting this offer we urge you to notify us at once.

The press and equipment we must have, and that soon, will cost over $1,000. In order to raise this amount and at the same time enable our friends, who help us in this undertaking, to save money, we are going to make the following offer to ONE HUNDRED of our subscribers. We will send both of our publications,

Last week in publishing the list of donations to the Bandera Bridge Fund, the name of Frank Peka was unintentionally omitted. Mr. Peka made a liberal donation, but in setting up the names he was overlooked.

Miss Irene Curl will leave next week for Poteet, where she will teach in the Poteet High School. Miss Irene has many friends in Bandera, and she will keep in touch with all of them by reading the New Era every week.

L. N. Rawls was down from his Honey Creek ranch with cotton today. He informs us that his son, our little friend, Master J. B. Rawls, is in a hospital at Kerrville recovering from an operation for appendicitis. He will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Jones, of Goose Creek, are here on a visit. They were guests of Col. and Mrs. J. A. Head Sunday, and Mr. and Mrs. Bryant will visit their son-in-law, John Clark and family at Tarpley. Mr. Jones is thinking of locating here.

Frank M. Montague has returned from Campbellton where he spent several weeks looking after his cattle pastured there. He says that region has been in need of rain, and ranchmen were forced to pump water for their stock, but a good rain fell recently which provides water for awhile.

Mrs. Henry Haby returned Monday from San Antonio where she visited her sons, Ernest and Stewart, who are attending school in that city. Last Saturday was Mrs. Haby's birthday, and as a birthday present Ernest gave her ten dollars to get the New Era and Frontier Times for ten years. Thoughtful boy. His regard for his good mother will bring just reward.

W. S. Dunn and sister, Mrs. H E Rogers, came in recently from Clovis, California, and are going to reside in Sabinal. Both were formerly residents of Vanderpool section. Mr. Harlan informs us that his youngest son, Stevie, was recently married to Miss Iva Teel of Clovis. His many friends wish them a prosperous life as they embark upon the sea of matrimony.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Moore are rejoicing over the arrival of a pretty young lady in their home on September 30.

T. M. Clayton, wife and little son, Marshal, spent the week-end on the Divide at the home of Mrs. Clayton's sister, Mrs. Thomas Haby.

A. W. Clayton and family and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Foster and son, Hoyt, were were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Clayton of East Utopia Sunday.

The people of this section regret to learn of the misfortune of O. L. Adams, who lost his fine barn by fire Thursday night.

Quite a number of Vanderpool people were business visitors at Sabinal this week, taking down mohair, hogs and corn.

Will Buy Grain and Cotton.

I am in position to handle your grain and will pay this week, delivered at my store, 45c per bushel cash, or 48c per bushel in trade, for oats. I have purchased a truck and will haul anything to San Antonio at the customary freight rate, but not back from San Antonio. Also, I am going to buy cotton next ginning day for Paul Ingenhett of Comfort and at the present can pay more for cotton than you can get in San Antonio. See me before disposing of your cotton.

S. C. FITZGERALD.

We are in the market for both wool and mohair, and will pay top prices.—W. J. Davenport & Co.

Hon. Julius Real to Speak.

Hon. Julius Real will speak at the court house in Bandera tonight in the interest of his candidacy for the State senatorship. He will speak at Pipe Creek tomorrow at 2 p. m. and at Medina at night. Encouraging reports are coming in from all parts of the district in regard to this race.

Family Reunion Soon.

Mr. and Mrs. John V. Montague are here from Waterbury, Connecticut, on a visit to Mr. Montague's mother, Mrs. Chas. Montague. There promises to be a regular family reunion at the Montague home within the next few days, for other sons are expected, Chas. Montague of Canaea, Mexico; Eugene Montague of Lordsburg, New Mexico; Brian Montague of Alpine, and Montague of Fort Stocton, and also one sister Miss Victoria Montague of San Antonio, will arrive in a few days. These are Bandera raised boys who have gone out into the world to fill places of usefulness and have made good. Another son, Dr. L. J. Montague now at Tampico, Mexico, will not be able to come. Mother Montague is in glory now, and when her sons and daughters once more gather around the family table we know her cup of happiness will overflow.

T. B. Welch was up from San Antonio several days this week.

Residence Destroyed by Fire

A dwelling owned by H. F. Power and occupied by the family of Allie Stevens, in the northern part of town, was destroyed by fire shortly afternoon last Thursday. The fire was first discovered in the roof and is supposed to have been caused by a defective flue. The alarm was promptly given and by quick work the neighbors succeeded in carrying out all of the household effects before the fire gained such headway as to drive them out. The building was a total loss, with only $400 insurance.

This is the second residence to be destroyed by fire in Bandera within a week, the other being the home of E. F. Kindle, which also caught from a defective flue.

The Stevens family, who occupied the Power residence, have moved to the Welch cottage near the school building.

Barn Burned

A large barn belonging to O. L. Adams, at Tuff, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin last Thursday night. About 100 bushels of corn, and a lot of hay was lost, as well as some implements and tools. Fortunately Mr. Adams succeeded in getting his automobile out of the burning barn in time.

We are in the market for both wool and mohair, and will pay top prices.—W. J. Davenport & Co.

Getting World Series Reports.

Austin Carlton installed his radio in the Cox Opera House and has been receiving the reports of the world's series baseball games now being played in Washington, D. C.

Several preachers appear to have got in bad according to the daily papers. Three were thrown out of one Conference in Illinois for serious charges. Now, an Oklahoma preacher has the headlines. A crime committed by a preacher is worse than if committed by lay man. If sank is possible for he not only disgraces himself but his church to a great extent. It gives those opposed to churches a chance to hold up the example of a minister sworn "to renounce the world, the flesh and the devil," selling out to all three. A preacher has a hard time to say the least. He is subject to many temptations. His membership expect him to make visits to all his flock and to be an all around good fellow otherwise he is considered on old fogy by some. The combination is a hard one to fill. To be sincere, to preach the gospel, to command the respect of saint and sinner, and at the same time to keep his congregation and community in working harmoniously, verily it would be a greater task than running a paper or superintending a school. The world needs consecrated Christian ministers at this time more than ever before. Godly men who can go anywhere, any time and command the respect of men in all walks of life, and there are many we are glad to say.—Uvalde Leader-News.

Has $1000 Goat.

C. C. Risinger of Vance, was displaying his Grand Champion doe in Uvalde last Saturday. The doe was the prize winner at the Rio Frio Sale and also at the Bandera Fair. The animal had a fine fleece, estimated to weigh 15 pounds and Mr. Risinger was taking the goat to his ranch at Vance where it would be sheared. He thought the fleece would bring him around $125. He estimates the goat, which is five years of age, to be worth $1000. He will start getting ready for the big show at Camp Wood next fall and will start feeding up his goats right away for that event. Risinger is a hustler and is much enthused over the production of fine stock and evidently knows how to get results. —Uvalde Leader-News.

Mr. Dennis is now engaged in the work, and will soon have it ready for the printer. The book will give a graphic account of Rev. Buckelew's captivity among the Indians, and will be quite an interesting volume. It will be printed by Hunter here in Bandera.

The San Antonio Express gave the editor of the New Era and Frontier Times quite a boost in its Sunday issue, making us the subject of a page and a half feature story, and printing some views of our print shop and force. Naturally we feel very much elated over this publicity and coming voluntarily from a great metropolitan daily newspaper like the San Antonio Express we cannot help but feel "cheesty." That the Express has so generously recognized our humble efforts to publish a live local weekly newspaper in Bandera, and also to establish right here a monthly magazine that is bound to grow and be an asset to our town, is a measure of reward that has come long before we expected it, and we are grateful beyond expression. In saying all the nice things about the New Era editor, the Express but says them about Bandera. It has been pleasing to us to note that the San Antonio Express has always had a good word for Bandera and has aided in many ways in helping us to get a good road to San Antonio, to develop our resources, to boost our fair, our livestock, our natural advantages, and never misses an opportunity to proclaim this region the attractive section for tourists and summer and winter campers. Every citizen of Bandera county appreciates what the Express is doing for Southwest Texas and particularly what it is doing for Bandera. With such assistance from our city neighbor we face the future with confidence and look forward to a rapid and substantial growth, and with a world of gratitude to the San Antonio Express.

The editor of the New Era has received many letters from friends all over the state during the past few weeks, containing good wishes and encouraging words, which we duly appreciate. We regret that we have been unable to answer all of these letters and thank each writer individually for the nice things said. But here's hoping each will understand the strenuous duties that rest upon us just at this time, and kindly overlook our seeming neglect. We thank you just the same.

We have had two destructive fires during one week. This should alarm the citizens of our town, and steps should be taken at once for some means of fire protection. "Ganderbone," in his forecasts this week, calls attention to the probable cause of defective flues. His contention is that the heavy thunder during the spring and summer months loosened bricks in the chimneys and flues, and it is quite possible that such is the cause. It behooves every resident to inspect his flues and sweep them out occasionally.

Hon. Julius Real, candidate for State Senator, will speak at the court house tonight. He will 2 p. m., and at Medina at night.

The New Era's subscription list ended last Saturday. While we did not get the 1000 subscribers for the New Era and Frontier Times, which we called for in putting on the offer to send both publications for ten years for ten dollars, we secured 'em, and we are well pleased. We have purchased our press and will install it in our new quarters in the Creamery building about the next few days. We are grateful to our friends for responding so nobly in this matter and thus enabling us to prepare for greater effort for old Bandera county. Come in and see the big press in operation when you come to town. We'll have a reserved seat in our sanctum for you.

Following is the complete list of those who accepted our offer to send the New Era and Frontier Times for ten years for ten dollars.

With the election just a few weeks off, and the time of victory or defeat drawing nearer each day, the candidates are getting real busy. The wind-up of our state campaign promises to be a usually warm. Ma Ferguson with her broom, and Dr. Butte with his appeal to defeat Fergusonism, will keep the voters guessing who is to be winner at the polls.

There has been some talk of organizing a volunteer fire company in Bandera and raising funds for the purpose of purchasing a chemical fire engine. It's a good movement and we hope no time will be lost in getting the under way. Bandera is absolutely without fire protection, and in our present helpless condition a small fire could easily spread and destroy a greater part of the town. Let's have that fire company.

-Ganderbone's Predictions.

Ganderbone, our local prognosticator says: Some more rain pretty soon. Winter grain will do well; several fines in Bandera and community during the past month should warn people to be careful and thoroughly inspect their flues. Brick and stone flues are unsafe since the heavy thunder during the spring and summer months. The earth was jarred by thunder and loosened the bricks in your flue, and you should give it inspection before lighting fire in your stove or fireplace. Cisterns were also damaged by heavy thunder, but a leaky cistern is no menace to your property or life. A defective flue is dangerous. Prosperity is sweeping this way; mohair and wool will bring a good price. Pigs will bring good prices. The farmer will find ready sale for all his products. Good times are ahead. Better get rid of the blue hogs as much as possible for they will deal your chickens misery next spring if you have them on your premises. Insects will be numerous. Also bats will be more numerous than usual. All old buildings will be inhabitated by bats. But bats are harmless, and do a great deal of good in their way. They destroy mosquitoes, and should be protected. Look for some cool weather in November, and a big killing weather will be ideal. You can save meat this winter."

Some of the ranchmen are now posting their pastures against hunting and trespassing therein. This is right and proper. With the opening of the hunting season next month it is quite likely that Uvalde will skinned him and them steers, 300 in number, story of which appeared in Wednesday's Cattle Clatter. All this means when Larkin West went out the other day to look at those famous steers of Joe's, he bought them at the end of the looking. Now Larkin West 22-year-old son of Hondon West, Uvaldian, "took" education like a house afire but he just would go back on the range to work with the cattle. And now here he has gone and skinned a good mountain squire out of a good bunch of steers. Everybody sympathizes with Joe—but Joe, he just smiles.—Cattle Clatter in San Antonio Express.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS.

They R. Love Writes.

To the Editor of the New Era.

During the past few weeks I have been asked, either personally, by letter or by telephone more than 100 times, I am sure, by good government democrats, how I would vote may lawfully mark his ballot at the November election so as to vote the democratic ticket generally and also vote for George C. Butte for governor.

It has been heard that the report was being virculated, that should the election laws, a democrat could not vote for Butte for governor without voting the entire republican ticket.

The answer is that under the election laws as construed by the courts and also by an opinion from the attorney general's department written as it happens by Assistant Attorney General Sutton, who was one of the attorneys on the Ferguson side in the injunction suit decided in Judge Calhoun's court recently, it is established that a voter who wishes to vote the democratic ticket may lawfully vote for any candidate for any office whose name is not on that ticket by scratching the name of the democratic candidate he desires to vote against and writing beneath it in the democratic column the name of the candidate for whom he desires to vote.

The opinion referred to is contained in a letter addressed by Assistant Attorney General Sutton to Henry D. Lindsley, campaign manager for George Peddy and was published in full in the Dallas News of October 26, 1922. It reads as follows:

"The questions submitted by you in your letter of the 20th inst. are answered by stating that the provisions of Article 2969, Revised Civil Statutes, are effective as regards the position on the ballot of of writing the name of any person for whom the voter desires to vote. The rule stated in Moore vs. Plott 206 South-western 958 is the correct rule. This means that if a voter writes a person's name for whom he desires to vote should be counted for the person whose name he writes on the ballot, and the fact that he does not write the name in the blank space provided for that purpose would be immaterial and would not cause the ballot not to be counted. The true intention of the voter governs in this respect if ascertainable from the ballot.

"Voters should, of course, write the names of any persons they desire to vote for in the blank column provided for that purpose but if they fail to do so and write it elsewhere on the ballot, the vote should not be thrown out on that account."

Under this opinion of the attorney general of Texas it seems clear that any good government democrat may vote for Butte for governor without voting the republican ticket or any part of it by simply marking out all tickets on the official ballot except the democratic ticket and scratching out the printed name under the caption "For Governor" on the democratic ticket and writing under it the name of George C. Butte.

This not only may be done lawfully, but is likewise indisputable that it may be done morally by any democrat notwithstanding his primary pledge, if he conscientiously believes the state's welfare demands Butte's election. On this question James E. Ferguson on October 26 1922, in a speech at Cleburne, as reported in the Dallas News of October 30, urged democrats to vote for the republican nominee for United States senator and laid down the unanswerable proposition that:

"No party pledge can bind you to do wrong. No convention can bind you to disregard democratic principles and there must be a limit somewhere."

If any additional proof is needed that any democrat is not only morally justified but morally bound to vote for Butte for governor in November, if he conscientiously believes that Ferguson ought not to be restored to power, I want to cite the declaration over his signature published in the Dallas News of November 2, 1922, of Judge Cockrell, probably the most ardent Ferguson in Texas today, and, that whom, notwithstanding ills recent associations, there are few better authorities on morals in politics.

In this article Judge Cockrell "orphaned" himself by bitterly denouncing the democratic nominee for United States senator in 1922 and declaring that no one was bound to support him on account of his primary pledges and declaring his purpose to vote for the republican nominee for United States senator to avoid violating his "conscience," using the following language:

"I have never entertained the idea of voting for him (the democratic nominee for United States senator) but at one time thought I should have business in the East Park Bottom on election day, but a little conflict with my conscience has led me to the conclusion that my duty lies at the polls."

With two such eminent authorities as Ferguson and Cockrell in hearty agreement upon the moral question involved, it would seem that it ought not to be difficult for the voter to decide what to do on November 14. If he conscientiously believes that it is wrong to aid in restoring Ferguson to power in Texas, he ought to vote for Butte for governor which he may lawfully do by scratching out all the tickets on the official ballot, except the democratic ticket and erasing the name printed on the democratic ballot under the caption "For Governor" and writing the name of George C. Butte under the name erased.

THOS. B. LOVE.

Big Frank Montague and Fred Thalmann, Bandera County cattlemen were in the city yesterday, and had the town boys to a frazzle and laughin' at their city clothes. Time used to be when the country boys came to town and the town boys nearly worried them to death, but all that is changed. When the country boys come to town now they saunter around with their hats on the backs of their heads and tell the city boys where to head in. It's nothing for a big strapping country boy—like Frank for instance—to sashay into some store and say to the proprietor, "John, if you'll get down off your high horse and set nice I'll buy a couple hundred dollars worth of goods from you. But you gotter be a good kid if I spend any mon with you." Thereupon the store boss gets his smile on and sets his best foot forenost, for he gets no money from that customer unless he does. The way the city boys stand at attention when the country boys come in is a matter of one performance. And that's the way it was yesterday when Frank and Fred were doing the town.—Cattle Clatter in San Antonio Express.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

Mrs. Lizzie Welch was up from San Antonio Sunday.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Joy L. Riley, October 3, a boy.

Hon. Julius Real, candidate for State Senator, will speak at the court house tonight.

Frank Mansfield dropped in last Thursday to advance his subscription figures with the New Era and Frontier Times. Says he sold both the Frontier publications in his business.

R. N. Padgett and son, Jesse, were over from Tarpley Monday with mohair for the warehouse. Jesse called at the New Era office and gave good report of conditions in his section.

A. V. Poe was down from Medina Monday with wool for the warehouse. Says his clip is turning out fine, and he is rejoicing over the prospect of satisfactory price for fleece this season.

Mrs. W. E. Mansfield visited her daughter, Mrs. Bryan Autrey, in San Antonio Sunday. She was accompanied there by her children Dollie, Luelle, and Hayden Mansfield, and Marvin Hunter, Jr. They returned Sunday afternoon.

Uncle Franklin Hodges and son, Vernon, were in town Monday and paid the New Era an appreciated visit. Uncle Franklin has a fine bunch of horses and mules a few days ago, and is seeking their whereabouts, by inserting an ad in our want column.

J. C. Hillman and son, Ted, were down from Honey creek Monday with their fleecy staple that grows on the back of a borego. They called at this office to clinch ten years subscription to the Hunter publications, and leave a good report of general conditions in the upper river country.

Miss Florence Kehoe was here from Comfort Sunday. During the illness of her father, Mr. P. P. Kehoe, Miss Florence has been looking after the Comfort News, and is keeping that excellent paper up to its usual standard. Mr. Kehoe has been confined to his bed several weeks, but is somewhat improved, and we trust he will soon be able to be out.

Mrs. John Eckhart and daughter, Miss Ola, were in from East Verde Saturday and paid the New Era sanctum an appreciated visit. They were accompanied by Mrs. Eckhart's bright little granddaughter, Little Miss Dorothy Eckhart, who found much to interest her when she saw our linotype in operation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Faris were delighted to have several of their children and grandchildren with them Sunday. Among the visiting children were Mr. and Mrs. Neel Smith and babe of San Antonio, Milton Faris of Medina, and Robert and Emanuel Faris and families of this community, and Miss Cecil Faris of San Antonio.

John V. Montague, a former Bandera boy, but now a successful business man of Waterbury, Connecticut, was an appreciated visitor at the New Era office Monday. He has been away from the old home town many years, but since coming in this week he has found a great many of his boyhood friends to welcome him and all rejoice to know that he is doing well in the New England state. He will spend several days with his mother, Mrs. Chas. Montague.

L. H. Hayes' truck will make regular trips to San Antonio Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. General freight line. All orders for freight given prompt and particular attention. Your patronage appreciated.

Hon. Julius Real, candidate for State Senator, will speak at the court house tonight. He will speak at Pipe Creek tomorrow at 2 p. m., and at Medina at night. Everybody invited to hear him.

R. D. Garrison, one of the county's best citizens, was here from his ranch near Medina Tuesday with mohair for the warehouse. He reports his clip shearing out pretty well, and of good quality.

Prof. R. T. Brashear, teacher in the Crockett school at Tuff, was a business caller in the city Saturday, and called to enroll as a subscriber to the New Era. He reports Crockett school progressing nicely and pupils all taking great interest in their studies.

Capt. J. W. Walker was in from Laxon Creek Tuesday and paid the New Era a visit. Captain Walker says he is going to attend the big reunion of the Old Time Trail Drivers at San Antonio on November 6, 7, and 8, if nothing happens to prevent.

In mentioning the fact that Mrs. Henry Haby had received as a birthday present from her son Ernest, a ten years subscription to the Hunter publications, we made a slight error. It was her son Stewart who made the gift.

The New Era enjoyed a visit Tuesday from Mr. Lafayette Michie of Terrell, who is here on an extended visit to his daughter Mrs. H. H. Washington. Mr. Michie has lived in Kaufman county many years and this is his first visit to this part of the state. He is delighted with our glorious hill country.

Jolly Jim, whose surname is Newcomer, was in from Pipe Creek Saturday. Came all the way to pay the pripter his wages for next year's work, that the New Era will shed the effulgence of its glad tidings in his happy home during the twelve-month. Jim claims to have a rooster which cackles like a hen and lays eggs, and now the old fellow is clucking and threatens to set. Thinks he will be able to propagate a new species of fowl.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Taylor of Van Nuys, California, are here on a visit to old friends and former neighbors. Mr. Taylor dropped in Tuesday to spend an hour with the New Era editor, and we found him a very pleasant, agreeable gentleman, of the old time Bandera type. He and his good wife have been on quite a tour of several states and just naturally had to include Bandera in their itinerary. They will spend several weeks here. Mr. Taylor says he left Bandera twelve years ago, and while he does not expect to return here to live, he thinks old Bandera one of the best counties in the land. He is comfortably situated at Van Nuys, near his children there. His sons, Harry and Leslie, are both doing well there, the latter being engaged in the ice business and also selling real estate. The Taylors have hundreds of friends here, and if they get around to see and visit them all during their three weeks stay they are going to be on the go all the time they are here.

Road Work in Medina Precinct

County Commissioner R. L. Morris was down from Lima Monday attending the session of Commissioners Court. Mr. Morris is arranging for active construction of the road from Winan's Creek through Medina to the Kerr county line, for which a bond issue of $25,000 was voted. Material is on the ground for bridges at the Baurlein and Wallace Creek crossings, and crews are already at work getting the grading work under way. Before long old Bandera county is going to have some good roads. Arise and sing!

Through Line to Utopia.

With completion of a good road by way of Tarpley and through Hicks' Pass to Utopia, the citizens of the western part of the county will be able to get to Bandera without going round the world to get here. Plans are already being made for the establishment of a daily mail and bus line from Utopia, through Tarpley, Bandera and on to San Antonio. The route will give direct connection with the Rio Frio region, and make it possible for tourists and outing parties to traverse a region hitherto almost impassible on account of lack of good roads.

TEACHERS TO HAVE BIG RALLY IN BANDERA

Get-Together Meeting Will Take Place Here October 25th.

On Saturday, October 25th, the teachers of Bandera county will hold a rally at the High School auditorium in Bandera, at which time a good program will be enjoyed. Dinner will be served on the school grounds to all of the visitors, the Bandera P. T. A. lending a helping hand in this respect. Teachers from all over the county will be on hand, and as many school patrons as can find it convenient to do so are urged to attend, for matters will be discussed that will be of interest to everyone who wants to advance the cause of education. The rallies held last year were so helpful, and the teachers so encouraged by them that it was decided to continue them through this and ensuing school terms. The plan of holding these get-together meetings was originated by Judge A. L. Mansfield, who is quite enthusiastic over the meetings, and likewise over anything else that has for its object the betterment or advancement of our schools.

BANDERA MOHAIR BRINGS GOOD PRICE THIS SEASON

Sales During Past Two Weeks Total Around 90,000 Pounds.

The Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association will today begin shipping their accumulation of fall mohair, which will be the largest shipment of mohair the Association has made since its organization in 1920. The average price received will be well up with the average price received by any other warehouse in the state, and naturally the shareholders are feeling quite jubilant over the sale. The Association has made two sales this year. The first sale was made about two weeks ago and included about 40,000 pounds, which will go direct to a mill. The average price on this sale will be about 64 cents per pound for grown hair, and 74 cents per pound for kid hair. The second sale was made last Thursday and will include from 40,000 to 50,000 pounds at about 60 cents per pound for grown hair, and 76 cents for kid hair. The kid hair percentage is a little higher than usual this season, being 13 per cent.

The Association is having a most excellent season, last Monday being the biggest day so far, when the receipts were about 20,000 pounds of wool and mohair. The outlook for wool is indeed encouraging. Fred Ross, who is the manager of the Association, basing his opinion on advices received from the wool

LIMA LINES.

Our school is progressing nicely. Thirty-seven pupils enrolled.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Wilson were in Medina Thursday evening.

Mrs. John Phillips and two little children, who have been living at Port Arthur, came up Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. H. Phillips and children, Harold and Joyce, motored to Bandera where they met them. Mr. Phillips will come up in a few days. They are going to live at the Fellers place.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hinds received word one day last week announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Laura, to Mr. Raymond Butcher of San Antnio. We hasten to extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Butcher.

Miss Sylva Keese was the guest of Miss Marie Wilson Sunday morning.

Family Reunion.

An enjoyable family reunion took place at the home of J. B. Holt last Sunday, when members and relatives of the family gathered there at the noon hour. A few friends were also present. Altogether there were about twenty-one persons who partook of the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Holt on that occasion. They were J. W. Holt of Indian Creek, Eb Holt and family of Tarpley, Joe Holt and wife of Tarpley, Roy Chipman and family of Bandera, Emmet Holt of Welda, Kansas, Mrs. May Redmon and Miss Golf of San Antonio, and the J. B. Holt family. A delightful time in reported.

trade, says there is very little likelihood of the foot and mouth disease having any effect on the price and that there is every indication for early sales at well advanced prices. Mr. Thalmann advises the growers to bring their wool in to the warehouse as soon as shorn.

Hon. Julius Real Speaks.

Hon. Julius Real, candidate for the State Senate, was here last Thursday and addressed the voters at various points in the county during the last three days of the week. His speech at the court house Thursday night, where a good crowd heard him, and discussed the issues of the campaign in a genteel, pleasing manner, which is one of his characteristics. Judge Real is well known throughout this county, for he has been identified with this section all of his life, and he is going to carry this county by a great big majority.

Judge Real spoke at Taylor school house on Wednesday night, at Tarpley Thursday afternoon, at Pipe Creek Friday afternoon and at Medina Friday night. Good crowds greeted him at all these places, and he received the assurance of solid support.

Caught Several Big Fish.

Anton Fornia, of San Antonio, spent several days at the John Ross place last week, and had excellent luck fishing. Mr. Ross reports that Mr. Fronia, with the assistance of Fred Ross, caught ten big catfish, ranging from 40 to 75 pounds each. The fish were caught on a trot line.

Washington at the home of Sheriff Henry Stevens, and the young folks returned to their home at Kerrville relating that their difficulty in getting married had at last been overcome, and fully proving that "Love laughs at locksmiths." The names of the contracting parties, as shown by the county clerk's register, are W. P. Tarver, age 16, and Miss Neva Lee, age 15. The New Era hopes all of life's problems will be surmounted with the same determination these young folks displayed at the beginning of their matrimonial voyage.

Building Good Roads.

County Commissioner J. V. Porter was over from Vanderpool Monday to attend the meeting of Commissioners' Court. Mr. Porter reports work on the roads in his precinct, for which a $25,000 bond issue was recently voted, has begun and the building of good roads over there is going steadily forward. An additional $1,000 was raised by subscription for the working of the road from Utopia to the Hick's Pass, which, added to the apportionment of the money voted on this particular road, will provide sufficient money to put the road and Hicks' Pass in good shape.

It is a remarkable fact that there are fewer farm renters in Bandera county according to the population than in any county in the state. Our farmers own their own farms, and are happy, and contented. If you don't think so just try to buy one of them out.

Saturday was a lively day in Bandera, and all of our merchants were kept busy waiting on customers. An unusual amount of cotton was brought in and found a local buyer on the ground which accounted for some of the sudden prosperity.

Within the next two or three weeks the New Era will be comfortably located in its new home near the ice plant, where we hope our friends will come to see us. For the past fifteen months our office has been situated in the basement of the James Cox building, where we have been situated conveniently amidst pleasant surroundings, but we are purchasing the Creamery building for our permanent quarters, and hope to move within a few days.

"Publisher Historian". Blends Old and New in Bandera's Hills" was the heading of a page and a half illustrated write-up in last Sunday's San Antonio Express of the Bandera New Era and Frontier Times. The item in congratulating Editor Hunter on receiving this well deserved boost, and hopes that his untiring efforts for the advancement of the Hill Country will meet with still greater success.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Miss Mattie Jackson, who taught in Bandera High School in 1922, has entered the newspaper field, having established the Stockdale Standard a few weeks ago. The Standard is a very creditable paper and is a booster for Stockdale. Miss Jackson has been a successful school teacher and we predict that she will be a successful newspaper woman, because she has the energy and qualifications necessary to success. She has many friends in Bandera who will be pleased to learn of her venture. The New Era gladly places the Standard on the exchange list.

Commissioner J. B. Holt is doing some good road work on the Bandera and Tarpley road, preparatory to coming this road through Hick's Pass to Utopia. The funds for road work in this precinct are limited to about $1600 per annum, but by judicious management Mr. Holt is enabled to do a whole lot of good work on the Tarpley road at minimum expense. He operates the grader and tractor himself and with the assistance of one efficient hand he keeps the improvement going on. He estimates that this work is now costing about $43.00 per mile. The grading has reached the Indian Creek Pass, about nine miles from Bandera. Instead ing Mr. Holt's work every dollar of road money reverts right back to the road.

OUR HONOR ROLL.

The editor is happy. Our big press has arrived and was installed in the New Era's new quarters this week. We are grateful to the sixty-five loyal friends who came forward with ten dollars each for the little old home paper and Frontier Times for ten years, and enabled us to purchase this big press. We wanted to secure one hundred at the ten year rate, in order to buy some other equipment, but well get that later. We are satisfied with the volunteers who responded, and we are publishing the list again this week so as to give three more inadvertently left off last week.

Several people have asked us how we can afford to send the New Era and Frontier Times for ten years for ten dollars. We could not afford to send these two publications for that period of time for that small amount to more than one hundred people, and the only way we could hope to break even was by buying a second hand press at a bargain. What we saved on the press we passed on to our loyal friends. We are now in better shape to serve our readers than ever before. We want you to know that we are building for old Bandera, and if all will put their shoulders to the wheel we can do wonders. Here's our list of ten year subscribers. We hope each one will live to see their subscription expire and then renew for another ten years.

A Golden Rule Community.

There is one residential section of Kerrville that typifies a perfect community spirit insofar as the relationship of one neighbor to the other is concerned. That is the general rule in the Hill country where people are noted for their hospitality and sociability, and this instance is cited by The Sun not as an exception to the general rule but as just one instance of a generation that can be found on every hand.

In this particular instance there is a group of families living in a comparatively secluded section of the city, where they have an opportunity to have a somewhat personal community spirit. Some time since one man suggested to his neighbor that if he were to move his front fence back a few feet it would improve the value of all property on the street by reason of the widening of the street, as well as making a more symetrical connection with the adjoining property. The owner of the dilapidated fence he erected a new modern enclosure around his premises, that greatly enhanced the value not only of his own property but also of all property on the street.

A little later the man that had moved his fence suggested to his next door neighbor that an old windmill tower in his yard; together with a shed that had been used for a wash house by previous owners was unsightly and that the property would be more valuable by their removal. The owner agreed to remove the objects.

Still another neighbor was approached by some crusader and requested to cut down an old dead tree in the interest of civic beauty, and the owner not only improved the looks of his premises, but secured a large supply of fire wood by complying with the request.

Streets and alleys have been cleared of weeds, and the cans and trash removed by the united effort of these citizens. No man has stopped when he got to his property line but has continued up in the good work just as long as there remained any cleaning up to be done in the streets and alleys of the neighborhood. The result: A community pride in the cleanliness of the neighborhood and a personal feeling of pride by each inhabitant occasioned by the part he or she has had in making such improvements.

In this section the residents enjoy to the fullest sense the term neighbor and the companionship and association that should go with same. Children play together, not always in harmony for that is an impossibility where a group of hearty youngsters are concerned, but usually so, and when the little disagreements of childhood arise the parents are neighborly and broad minded enough to make allowance for the shortcomings of their own as well as their neighbor's children.

The women of the neighborhood get together frequently via the back fence conversational route as well as the drop in for a minute way, and they, too, take too much pride in their community progress to find time to criticise the other neighbors or their mode of living.

When the men of this community come home from work in the evening and after they eat their suppers you can see them either pottering around the place fixing things on their own premises or their neighbor's frequently you will see one man working in his yard and two or three of his neighbors leaning over the garden fence, smoking and offering advice. Whether the advice is taken or not is immaterial. I know that it was offered in the right spirit and also that his friends will not be offended if he refuses to comply with their suggestions, but the advice is always taken for what it is worth.

This is as it should be, and these people are getting the fullest living out of their lives as well as bringing their children up under environment that will do much to mould their characters into useful citizens for tomorrow.

An Arcadia like the one pictured above is possible in any community if the much-talked-of little practiced Golden Rule is complied with.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Rev. J. C. Evans, of Medina, was here Monday returning from Tarpley, where he filled his regular appointment on Sunday. He visited Aunt Della Richards while in the city. Rev. Evans and wife will leave Monday for Annual Conference.

Austin Coughran was over from Tarpley Saturday.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to get short an attack of grippe, influenza or any other threatening, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the sensational Calomel tablet, that is entirely free from the grogginess and sickening effects. Those who have used it say that it gives the same results, but more effective and certain than the old style calomel, hereafter recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water—that's all. There are no nauseating after effects. You do not have to diet, you can eat anything you please with no ill effects. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is fresh refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price 35c, (carton (12 tablets) 25c. Ask your druggist for Calotabs. Insist on getting them. Refuse substitutes. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted—adv.

President Saunders reports: "The Reunion of the Old-Time Trail Drivers Association that will meet November 6-7-8 at the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio and remain in session three days will be the largest and best ever held. Arrangements are being made to entertain the members royally. The program has not been completed but Saunders says it will be a humdinger, full of thrills from start to finish. A grand ball will be given the first and second nights of the reunion. A barbecue is sure on the program! An elegant and ratistic silk-woven membership badge something entirely new will be furnished to all members—something that will be kept as a souvenir. Addresses by prominent speakers and association business will occupy the first two days. A get-wee and renewing of acquaintances, old comrades of a half-century or more ago, swapping reminiences of experiences of by gone days, will consume one day.

Many old trailers of the late 60's and early 70's have promised to attend the reunion. Among whom are Charles Goodnight, of Goodnight, Texas; C. M. Doan, of Doan's Store, Willbarger County, Texas; Luther Clark, Quanah, Texas; Lafayette Tankersley, of Mertzon, Texas; G. G. Odom, Ballinger, Texas; W. E. Cureton, Marfilla, Texas; T. M. Holmes, Nacona, Texas; R. S. Dalton, Mineral Wells, Texas; J. B. Irvin and S. S. Birchfield, Elpaso, Texas; John Means and Viergue Evans, Texas. These noted cattlemen there will be large delegations from all parts of Texas and other states.

"We now have 1,600 members, including sons and grandsons of old-time trail drivers and old-time Texas stockmen, no one else being eligible to membership in this association. The old members are passing away fast and we are anxious to have the monument erected at as early a date as possible so that many of the old fellows may see it before departing from this life. At the coming reunion several men that have been captives of savage Indians, several that have lost some of their family, slain by the Indians and a great many that have fought Indians—run them and run from them. It seems a long time since the civilization of Texas but there are hundreds of men and women living all over the state that have heard the Indian war whoop and felt the loss of their depredations. It is hard to realize that the pioneers of Texas have endured while civilizing this state. They are neglected; their great settlements forgotten; many of them financially embarrassed —quietly passing their declining days, without a murm'r. It is hard but true. May God bless them is my prayer."

Frontier Times for November

Frontier Times was issued from the press this week, and is a very interesting issue. Following is a list of frontier sketches which appear therein:

"Jerome Shield, the Fearless Sheriff."

"Young Man Victim of Indian Cruelty."

"Early Coleman County History."

"Story of Egg-Nog Branch."

"Recollections of the Frontier."

"The Buffalo Wallow Fight."

"An Early Day Hanging."

"Tales by Taylor Thompson."

"Killing of John Vaden."

"The Taylor-Sutton Feud."

"Sublime Faith of a Pioneer Preacher."

"The Old Frontier."

"Adventures of Jack Dobell."

Frontier Times is published monthly at Bandera, and will be sent to you for $1.50 per year. You will like it and your children will like it. Send fifteen cents for a sample copy.

The demand for farms and ranches in Bandera county is increasing, but there seems to be a great lack of sellers. People who own land here are not disposed to sell, and for a very good reason —because they know they can hardly find a region anywhere else that will compare to old Bandera county.

T. E. Noonan and wife were here from Kerrville Sunday, guests of Dr. and Mrs. Butler.

We are very glad to read in Sunday Morning's Express an account of Marvin Hunter, Bandera's Publisher and Historian. We are indeed glad to hear he is growing famous. We know Mr. Hunter's family, as his linotype operator, Miss Alcen Stevens and we know what we read, was true, because we have visited his office, and his home, many times, while we were teaching in the Bandera High School.

We were there when Mr. Hunter was installing his linotype plant and when the young ladies were learning to operate the new machine. Mr. Hunter made us a slug with our names and San Antonio addressed as a souvenir of Bandera.

We are still in possession of it. Mr. Hunter is a hustling publisher, a good historian, a fine writer. He gave us a copy of one gave us a copy of one of his books, which was a history of Bandera County.

The book sells at the price of one dollar and fifty cents, but no one lets the price interfere with the purchase. It's thrilling and true.

We see no reason for people going to Europe to view the beautiful scenery, until they have visited their own beautiful mountain scenery in and around Bandera and Center Point. The gorgeous wild flowers, the beautiful ferns, the swift flowing mountain streams, that become great rivers in a few minutes time. The towering mountains, the cedar breaks upon the mountain sides, the mountain passes made famous by their Indian battles.

One Sunday afternoon the Hunter family come for us and took us to a place called Wallace so called because Big-Foot Wallace chose his Mexican grant of land there. Looking at the mountain peak, we saw what seemed to be loop holes, in the very top of the mountain, we asked what it was and were told that it was an entrance to a cave. At the foot of the mountain was a beautiful mountain streamlet called Wallee Creek.

We were told many interesting stories, but true, about these caves, peaks and mountain streams, but if you would like to know more about them we suggest that you write to Mr. Hunter for a copy of his books.—Stockdale Standard.

Kindla-Goetz

A pretty autumn wedding was solemnized this morning, Oct. 8th, at St. James Catholic Church, the contracting parties being F. J. Kindla of Mercedes and Miss Mary Goetz or this city. Rev. F. J. Ledwig, pastor of the church performed the ceremony in the presence of numerous friends and relatives of the young couple. Followingf the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goetz, parents of the bride.

Relatives here for the wedding included Mrs. Ed Bergenbucke of Cleburne, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tschoepe and Miss Paula Goetz of Seguin and the bridegroom's brother, John Kindla of Bandera.

A detailed account of the marriage will be given later.—Gonzales Inquirer.

Jonathan H. Newcomer.

Mr. John H. Newcomer a highly respected citizen of the Pipe Creek community, died Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, after an illness of several months. Mr. Newcomer was 77 years old, and had lived in this county fifty-two years. He is survived by his wife and six children, Jonathan Newcomer, Johnnie Newcomer Mrs. Bob Wray, Sylva Wray, Miss Mabel Newcomer and Miss Harriet Newcomer. Funeral services were conducted at the Pipe Creek cemetery yesterday afternoon by J. M. Hunter.

The passing of this pioneer citizen calls our hearts to sadness, for it but remindeus that the men and women who helped to blaze the way for the splendid civilization which we today enjoy are leaving us. Mr. Newcomer was a quiet, peaceful citizen, and during the more than half a century which he spent in this county his life was as an open book. He leaves his descendants the heritage of a good name, and to oncoming generations an example that all may follow.

If the New Era does not come up to its usual standard this week we ask the indulgence of our readers. We are moving to new quarters in the Creamery Building, and we necessarily have to start right. Our service. A better paper next week.

The New Era has continued to pay about her good will. And the New Era is going to continue to publish for these things. We cannot see why this county has not modelled good roads long years ago, for we have got the good building material right here and we have needed the roads all the time.

We understand Pecos is to have a newspaper, the editor of which is to be a W. Hunter, a brother to the New Era editor. Those Pecos people are not only to be congratulated in securing a newspaper, but also in inducing a very capable newspaper man to enter the field there.

Look into the future a short distance and see if you can't predict that Old Bandera is going to advance more in the next five years than she has advanced in the past fifteen years. There is a growing optimism prevading all channels of business and our good old town is just bound to go forward.

Bandera precinct must have better roads. We are in favor of issuing bonds to the amount of $150,000 for the building of roads in this precinct. Let's spend $25,000 on the Medina road, $25,000 on Winan's Creek, $50,000 on the road to Tarpley, $25,000 on the Centre Point and Kerrville road, $25,000 on the Hondo road, and $25,000 on the San Antonio road in this precinct. This amount of money should put all of those roads in first class condition and at the same time provide employment for many of our citizens with teams. Old Bandera is going to have to do something of this kind or we will never go forward. Tell it to the world that Bandera is going to build roads.

As an evidence of what good roads will do for a community we want to call attention to the big real estate deal made at Medina last week, when Clint Chenault, a big oil operator, bought the Obieski place of 300 acres, paying therefor in the neighborhood of $12,000. We do not know just what Mr. Chenault's plans are in regard to the property, but we understand that it will be improved extensively. Medina community is now building good roads. Without good roads it is hardly likely that this big deal would have been made. When we have good roads throughout Bandera county our real estate will increase in value more than fifty per cent. Yet there are some people who are opposed to issuing bonds for the building of good roads.

Progressive Bandera

That J. M. Hunter is a little inaccurate in the Frontier Times is helping to put Bandera on the map in big letters is evidenced by the following dispatch which was sent out by the Associated Press, the largest news-gathering agency in the world, which supplies telegraphic reports to all of the leading Dallas, Houston and San Antonio papers. The Associated Press also maintains an auxiliary, mail service to furnish its members with "live" news. Frontier Times was brought to the attention of the state mail editor of the Associated Press, Mr. H. M. Shepherd of Houston, and he followed it closely and requested a report with the result that the following mention of Frontier Times appeared simultaneously in about two hundred daily newspapers of the United States last Friday:

Bandera, Texas, Oct. 16—By Associated Press—

Thrilling tales of a stirring past, remarmated in the columns of the Frontier Times, have given to J. Marvin Hunter, printer, editor and publisher of the paper, the reputation of having carved out of the newspaper field a new and unique line of human endeavor.

Preservation of frontier history, border tragedy, pioneer achievement, Texas Ranger stories and trail drivers' reminiscences is the object of the publication, which bears none of its singularity he has that the editor and his secretary do all the work.

"I wish the people of this state could realize," he told The Associated Press, "just what has been neglected by failure to preserve the history of the frontier. Today we have with us just a few of these old pioneers who helped to pave the way for the present generation. In the last few years hundreds of them have died leaving their stories unwritten.

"We have in this county old men and women who have had remarkable careers. There is for instance, Amasa Clark, a veteran of the Mexican War, now 96 years old and quite active. He was in my office the other day. He tells a wonderful tale. Jim Walker, another citizen, herded the camels at Val Verde in the early days. George Hay another old timer, came here with Elder Lyman Wight's colony of Mormons in 1854. Not only is this country full of thrilling history but the same will apply to fully one-half of the other counties of the state."

"My mission in life", said Mr. Hunter, "is to preserve this history. Hence the establishment of the Frontier Times."

A recent issue contains such stories as "Thrilling Tales of Early Times in Texas," a narrative with the setting in the vicinity of San Antonio; "Indians Murder Cooke County People," from the collection of Mrs. Sarah Witt McCutcheon of Dallas; "Indian Massacre of the Brown Family" in Parker county, the facts for which were obtained from Joseph Stockwell Brown, Professor of Mathematics in Southwestern State Teachers college at San Marcos; and a thrilling recital of how 28 men successfully combatted more than 500 Indians on the Canadian river in Hutchison county in 1874. All of these are presented as true stories.

Mr. Hunter is a native Texan. He was born in Mason county 44 years ago and declares he has been employed in a country newspaper office since he was 10 years old. After publishing weekly news papers in several West Texas towns, including Menardville, Garden City, Carlsbad, Ozona, and Mason, and a term of 10 years as a printer on San Antonio newspapers, he came to Bandera and purchased the weekly New Era.

"In all this time Mr. Hunter has been gathering historical data apparently with an eye to this time when he would possess a printing plant of his own and could publish it. The opportunity came when he bought the New Era. He now has a printing plant of a kind, but no adequate typesetting machinery to economically do the job he had in mind of printing pioneer history. He finally hit upon the plan of publishing a pioneer history of Bandera county. He gathered the matrial, set the type by hand himself and printed and bound the volume in his own office. One thousand copies netted him a profit of $300 and he then felt able to order a typesetting machine. He set his office girl to learning the keyboard of the machine and last October, when she was able to master it, he began publication of the Frontier Times.

"Frontier history," said Mr. Hunter, "has always been my hobby and I have gathered a wonderful collection of it. Every thing I find in newspapers bearing on Texas history I file for future reference. Every book along this line I can secure I place in my library until now I believe I have the best individual collection of Texas history in the state. All this is to furnish material for my little magazine in the years to come. Besides this I have been acquiring sketches from old settlers and pioneers all over the state, all of which is still in manuscript and has never been used."

Mr. Hunter has compiled and edited two volumes of reminiscences of pioneer trail cattle drivers.

Next Saturday the teachers of Bandera county will assemble in this city for the get together meeting. A good program has been arranged for this meeting, and will be found in another column of this issue.

The New Era is in position to offer Captain J. B. Gillett's thrilling book, "Six Years With the Texas Rangers," to a limited number in connection with this paper, for $3.00. The book alone sells for $2.50.

Turkey Dressing Plant.

The New York Buyers' Association will open a turkey dressing plant in the Noonan building next Wednesday, with Mr. Lewis J. Criswell in charge. The plant will have a slaughtering capacity of 1,000 turkeys per day, and will provide employment for a number of people. It will be in operation for two or three months, and will afford a home market for turkeys. Heretofore the turkey crop has been moved out alive, but with the installation of this plant the dressing will be done right here at home. Turkey growers are urged to bring in their turkeys to the New York Buyers' Association. See their half page ad on page 2 of this issue.

B. LI JOHNSON'S WATCH

Didn't keep Early, a boy who I watch.
Old fashion as could be.
He broke it up and lost it all,
Except the winding key.

He brought his troubles all to me,
And ask me what was best;
I told him just to bring the key,
And I would do the rest.

I built a watch around the key,
Regarding not the style,
I gave old bill a guarantee,
And now I watch him smile.

The recital at St. Joseph's School auditorium last Saturday night, given by prominent San Antonio musicians, was a very delightful and much appreciated affair. It was arranged by one of Bandera's own girls, Miss Victoria Montagne, and was of a very high order. Appearing on the program were Miss Mary Nourse, pianist; Miss Marjorie Murray, violinist; Mr. Harry Warnke, baritone, and Mr. Joseph Danysh, humorist. Miss Victoria Montagne was accompanist for the evening. Each selection was heartily applauded and called for an encore.

The visitors were delighted with their reception in this city and expressed a desire to come back to Bandera some time in the near future.

Tells of His Captivity.

Frank-M. Buckelew, the Indian captive, attended the Old Trail Drivers' reunion at San Antonio last week, and while there was called upon to give his experience while among the Indians. He made a fine talk to the old trailers and was prevailed on to stay over in San Antonio several days to visit the schools and tell the children about his captivity. Mr. Buckelew is now preparing to issue his book "Buckelew the Indian Captive," which will be ready for distribution about the first of the year. It will be printed in the New Era office, and all who want to get a copy of it may send advance orders to F. M. Buckelew, Medina, Texas, or to T. S. Dennis, compiler, Bandera, Texas.

Congressman Hudspeth Here.

Congressman Claude Hudspeth, accompanied by Julius Real, State Senator-elect, and Mr. Neighbor of Kerrville, visited Bandera yesterday and spent most of the day mingling with old boyhood friends. Congressman Hudspeth lives at El Paso, but Bandera has never yielded her claim to him, for he was born and reared here, and went forth while quite a lad to carve a name for himself. He entered the old Bandera Enterprise office and learned to set type before he was knee high to a duck and when he was sixteen years old he was editor and proprietor of the Ozona Kicker. He entered politics when he attained his majority and served as representative, state senator and later congressman which office he has held several terms. Though he has not worked at the case in about thirty years he picked up a composing stick in this office, went over to a case and set the following three lines of type, which we print just as he set it:

the only Julius Real and Ma Fugerson and Wm Mc-
Donald the big three.

On the side Mr. Hudspeth made a brief talk to the Commissioners Court in regard to securing Federal aid on our county roads, and indicated that he would assist our county in this matter.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Roberts, of Harper, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Faris Friday night.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank all of the voters who gave me their support in the election on November 4th. I appreciate all that was said and done in my behalf, and I will do my best in the future as in the past to discharge my duty as sheriff of Bandera county in an honest manner.—Henry Stevens

Card of Thanks.

Despite the fact that I met defeat at the polls on November 4th, I am grateful to all who gave me their votes in my face for re election to the office of county judge. I feel no resentment or ... animosity toward anyone, but with good grace bow to the will of the people. My successor will be a man who has served the South-west Texas, but with the passing as county judge before and is qualified to fill the office, and I urge that you give him your time, their loyalty and support in the discharge of duties. At the expiration of my term I will leave the office with the knowledge that I have done my best, and if I have made mistakes they were unintentional and not of the heart.—A. L. Mansfield.

The House of Quality

In 1869 we started in business in a small way. Our business has increased with leaps and bounds and we are now probably the largest retail store in Texas. Nearly 50 years without a failure.

"There is a Reason"

There is a great deal of unfinished business in this county that should be attended to. Included in this unfinished business is the proposition of erecting a monument to our boys who died in the World War. The New Era started this movement two years ago, but during the past several months the matter has been allowed to lay dormant for the reason that nobody seems to have taken active interest in it. Around $200 has been subscribed and paid in to the fund for building a monument, and the money safely deposes in the Bandera bank. A thousand dollars is necessary if we put up a monument for those heroic boys that is in any way appropriate for them. We have the men and desire of those who headed the movement to place a monument on the public square in Bandera. One suggestion has been made that a concrete monument fifty feet high be placed on the top of Polly's Peak where it can be seen from miles around. Much interest will be revived in this undertaking and that a monument will be erected before many more months pass. We are simply beginning the interest on the debt we owe to those boys who gave their lives in the great World War. Let's build that monument.

The attempt of present day music conservers to remodel the old time melodies is really sacrilegious. To set such good old melodies as "Bury Me Not on the Lone Prairie," "Utah Carroll," "The Cowboy's Serenade," "Home, Sweet Home," and other songs of that kind to modern music and ... them in the two-fanisted way does not appeal to the old timers who days of the range and trail. As the old cowboy was heard to remark at the trail drivers' reunion at San Antonio, "If a present day band should strook to sing those old songs on a stormy night it would make the herd stampede." A herd of nervous cattle every old song head in the herd would ... for book, horn and hide. The old cowboy songs can best be preserved by retaining the original words and tunes. When they are changed in any other way they have lost their greatest charm.

Another Record Smashed.

We have circled the globe on wings, we stand incapable in athletics, we have more miles of railway than any other nation, we have the tallest buildings, our inventors stand with a peer, we have almost half the world's gold stored away in our banks, and more than half the world's boasting at the tips of our tongues. Now comes Judge Kilroy, of the Criminal Court of Special Sessions, New York city, a jurist whose observations have been made with caution and accuracy, to remind us of another way in which we stand supreme; Judge Talley declares that the United States is the most lawless nation on earth.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are recommending Calotabs, the nauseless Calomel tablet, that is purified from dangerous, sickening effects. One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest inconvenience with next day, look or disposition. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size, twenty-five cents for the large family bottle. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. It will require ... that amount of money to build ... our roads permanently and put ... them in such shape that the peo... ple may travel over them. Take ... the road to Tarpley for instance. ... If ever a people needed a better ... road than Tarpley people ... surely need one to Bandera. They ... have been long-suffering; they ... have had to come here over a ... road that is at its best almost ... impassable. Fifty thousand dol... lars will build that road to Tar... pley, but less than that amount ... will not be sufficient. And the ... road to Bandera Pass and Camp ... Verde—supposed to be a road of ... first class—is in wet weather a ... "bog" and a nuisance. The road ... to Wilson's Creek is in passable ... condition, but we are not brag... ging on it. It will have to be put ... in permanent shape to conform ... to the splendid drive in from ... the Medina precinct. The roads ... to the Verdes need repair, too. ... If we build one of these roads ... we should "build them all. Vote ... bonds to the amount of $150,000 ... and spend $50,000 on the Tarpley ... road, $25,000 on the Wiman's ... Creek road, $25,000 on the roads ... to Camp Verde, $25,000 on ... the Bandera Pass road, and ... $25,000 on this end of the San ... Antonio road. Do we hear a ... second to this motion?

Largest Wool Shipment

The largest shipment of a ... single accumulation of wool ever ... made from the Bandera County ... Ranchmen & Farmers' Associa... tion warehouse was sent out this ... week. Around 140,000 pounds ... of fall wool was shipped and ... brought from 45c to 51c per ... pound, the highest price ever re... ceived by this association. The ... amount totaling $65,000. This ... with the mohair recently ship... ped by the association totals ... about 220,000 pounds and brings ... into our county over $120,000. ... Bandera wool was the first ac... cumulation to sell this season, ... which accounts for the price not ... being as high as received in later ... sales, as the market has advance... ed with the season. However, ... this wool was heavier and con... tained more defects than other ... wool in the state.

Bandera county is forging ... right to the front with its wool ... and mohair and the sales made ... during former seasons have been ... very encouraging to the growers, ... and the vast sums coming in ... from these sales semi-annually ... spell prosperity for this region.

Our Christmas Issue.

The Christmas issue of the Bandera Bulletin will appear December 18th. Some of the best stories in Texas have contributed to the Columns of this issue and our readers will find much to interest and entertain them in the pages of the Christmas issue.

David J. Morris, who lives in South Texas, has a good story on how the foreigners in his part of the State celebrate Christmas.

Many other interesting stories will be in the Christmas Issue—stories for the women folks, the men folks, the boys and the girls. Look for it.

Following are the contents of the Issue:

"Christmas in the Open."—An old-time antelope hunt in West Texas a week before Christmas. By Austin Callan.

"Christmas in the Piney Woods."—Peach Tree Village (East Texas) and its first Christmas tree.

"Christmas Reflections."—By J. H. Lowry. (Mr. Lowry writes tenderly of Mary, the Mother of Christ, and her long and painful journey to Bethlehem where the Savior was born.)

"Getting The Christmas Spirit."—When the Yuletide of Christmas joy sweeps into your heart.

"A Review of the Passing Year."—A review of the progress of Texas during 1924. By W. N. Beard.

"The Best-Loved Made Christmas."—How old grandmother has her own way, and shows the beauty of a "Home-made Christmas."

"And as Ye Give."—The angels gave the gift of peace and good-will almost two thousand years ago. Cannot we do the same thing in 1924?

"Christmas Gifts" can be made at home.

"Boys and Girls' Page."—Aunt Mary wishes all her Boy and Girl friends a Merry Christmas and says to tell them that she has written a good story that they must read.

Pay Fines for Pet Deer.

Mr. Lewis, State Game Warden, who is stationed here during the hunting season is very strict in the enforcement of the game law.

Recently he made Walter Fagler pay a fine of $21.50 for roping a deer in a lane below town which he turned loose. John Buchanan paid $21.80 fine for having raised a pet deer two years ago which he gave to Arelde Auld after it got grown—and Saturday while Archie was in town he was fined $25.00 for transporting this pet deer from the Buchanan ranch to his ranch on the divide.

Archie called his wife over the phone and told her he had been fined for the pet deer and she said go ahead and pay it that it had just brought in an 8 point buck and she had killed it.

Some of the ranchmen are going to fight their cases and others, it seems, have had their pets before this law came into effect two years ago.

Last season these pets were passed up by the game warden and no one thought there was a penalty to having them.—Leakey Leader.

G. H. Richards, prominent young merchant of Pipe Creek was in town Wednesday and called at this office. Mr. Richards is putting in a store, filling station and a tourist camping ground at Pipe Creek. He says that he has been in several states and that of all the country he has seen Bandera County has them beaten.

Taylor of the State University; "The Old Frontier; Events of Long Ago," by Col. W. R. Bagby; "Linking Pioneer Days with the Present, by A. W. Young; "Adventures of Jack Debell," by J. C. Duval; "Reminiscences of a Frontiersman of 1852," by Mrs. A. D. Gentry; "The Pirate's Buried Gold;" and many other highly interesting sketches of early Texas history. If you have not yet become a subscriber to this little magazine you should start the New Year right by enrolling your name on the list. It is worth every cent of the dollar and a half subscription price. Ask those who take it.

Our Christmas Issue.

The Christmas issue of the Bandera New Era will appear December 18th. Some of the merchants here in Bandera have contributed to the columns of this issue and our readers will find much interest and entertainment in the pages of the Christmas number.

The quarterly meeting of the United Goat & Sheep Raisers' Association was held at Uvalde last week, a report of the proceedings of which appears in another column of the New Era. We note that the Association adopted a resolution condemning the shearing and selling of wool and mohair on the animal's back, that is before shearing. The action of the Association in this respect is certainly commendable, but that is a practice or custom which has not, thus far, been noticeable in Bandera county. Our ranchmen are nearly all members of the Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association and sell their wool and mohair through the warehouse co-operative system of marketing.

Fined on Pecan Charge

T. C. Griffin was tried Tuesday afternoon on a charge of gathering pecans without the owner's consent and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to serve one day in jail for the offense. Many people do not know that there is a penal statute by which a person gathering pecans without the owner's consent is subject to a fine of not less than $5.00 and not more than $100.00 and a sentence of from one day to thirty days. Only three months in the county jail. It would possibly eliminate some of the unpleasantness if owners as well as trespassers were more familiar with this law on the subject that such a law exists.—Record.

Ed Mansfield made a trip to Sabinal last week and while he was over there one of his old friends had a hard luck story to tell him. Said he had a steady run of hard luck for seven years without a break, then suddenly his luck changed and— get worse.

The first of the year we will have to revise the rates on the New Era subscription list. Quite a number of subscriptions are expiring that at this time. Please notice the date on the margin of your paper, and if your subscription is about to expire why not take advantage of our Christmas offer to send the New Era and Frontier Times together for $2.50.

The Bandera New Era is being a great deal of space in the same kind of argument that we used to run in the Leader several years ago—good roads argument. We still agree with all that the has ever said about the advantage of good roads, but we haven't needed to give much space to the subject for several years past as we are glad to say, Edwards County has been pretty extensively in the road building business. We are building roads. And we probably have more boosters today for good roads than ever before as the citizens see and learn of the advantages of good roads.—Edwards County Leader.

Don't wear out the seat of your britches sitting on the stool of Do-Nothing. If Bandera is to build up and go forward you are going to have to come down off your perch and put your shoulder to the wheel and push.

Happiness—Many people deny themselves happiness. It is to those who wish happiness that this refers to. Many very poor people are happy in their environment, but as other people, who are more fortunately situated, they wish for bette r things. Many people are unhappy because they can not spend lavishly. Their income does not allow them to imitate the very rich, or what hey hink ought to be theirs, not knowing what it costs to obtain them. Those who do obtain them, are most usually unhappy with them. Most married people are unhappy because they do not understand the method of mutual marital relations, and some people are unhappy on account of diseased relatives. Where, and when prosperity is in evidence, there is not much sorrow and outspoken discontent.

Health—Whether on Christmas Day, we feast upon a pone of cornbread with the accompanying greens and salt and pork, of cranberry sauce, etc., let us remember that the richest stake one can hold, is to be endowed with health, to have a coterie of real friends and be able to look the whole world in the face—enemies included—and not be prodded by old conscience, when we reminisce and say, "I have played the game of life's checkers fairly and squarely with fellowman."

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Walker Died Suddenly.

The sad news came to Bandera Monday morning that Mrs. Life W. Walker died suddenly after midnight Sunday night. Mrs. Walker, before her marriage, was Miss Melvina Bandy. She was married to James Washington Walker, February 10, 1864, and became the mother of thirteen children, eleven of whom are still living: Thomas Walker, Mrs. Ada Mosley, Mrs. Alice Lewis, Mrs. Jeff Walker, all of San Antonio; Mrs. Ida Fines of Tuff C. Walker of Caddo, La., R. Lee Walker at home; Mrs. May Davis of Vanderpool; Miss Myrtle Walker at home; Mrs. Ruby Seeley and Charlie Walker of Ingram. Nearly all of these children reached home in time to see their mother alive. Monday afternoon the funeral was conducted at the Bandera cemetery near Mc-Mrs. Walker died suddenly of heart failure.

Earl Gray Dead.

Earl Gray died Monday, December 22, at the home of his uncle, Tom Gray, in this city, and was buried in Bandera cemetery on Tuesday. He had been ill for several months, and all that loving hands and medical skill could do was done to relieve his suffering and restore him to health. Surviving him are his widow and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Gray of San Antonio, two brothers, Harless and Charlie, and one sister, Dorothy Gray. He was born July 7, 1901, and at the time of his death was twenty-three years old. He was raised in Bandera and well liked by everybody who knew him, and by his quiet, gentlemanly bearing made friends with all with whom he came in contact.

A large concourse of sorrowing friends followed the remains to the cemetery, where the funeral was conducted by Rev. H. H. Washington. To the grief-stricken widow and the sorrowing parents, brothers and sister, the New Era extends condolence and sympathy.

Injured in Collision.

While approaching Kerrville last Sunday afternoon, the Ford roadster occupied by Rev. and Mrs. M. J. Scott was struck by a large touring car being driven at a high rate of speed, and Rev. Scott, Mrs. Scott and their baby were thrown out and their Ford demolished. Mrs. Scott was painfully injured that she was taken to a hospital, but we are pleased to learn that her injuries are not of a serious nature.

Mrs. Henry Raby returned Tuesday from Menard where she spent Christmas with her mother, Mrs. R. P. Hails. She was accompanied there by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown of San Antonio.

Now write it 1925. Begin on 1924, and let's make 1925 a banner year. Shall we?

The New Year is upon us. 1924 has passed into history, taking with it its joys and sorrows, its worries and cares, and as we stand across the threshold of the new we should take with us the full anticipation that the year 1925 does great things for us. Let us all do and resolve to make it the best year of our existence. Bandera county will see wonderful improvement during the next twelve months if we all pull together for better things. The New Era looks forward to the bigger business, a wider circle of friends and greater achievement than ever before.

Christmas passed quietly in Bandera, but it was a joyous Christmas for everybody. No serious accidents occurred to mar the happiness of any people, and enjoyable social functions helped to carry the Christmas spirit. Family reunions were held, Christmas trees, with appropriate programs were planned in the Methodist and Baptists churches, while from over the country come reports of like festivities. The Christmas spirit was very much in evidence in our county this year.

Thieves raided the hen roost of Mrs. Andrew Pyka one night last week and removed several of her fine hens. Mrs. Pyka is very indignant, and says she will just like to get acquainted with the culprits who got her old setting hens along with the pullets, as if the owner will call again and make themselves known she will gladly give them the eggs on which the hens were setting.

In St. Louis a comparatively young old couple sell a palatial home and have to go hotel. The children have all gone out into the world for themselves, the mother explains—and she grieves. But it's part of the natural scheme of things that they should go. The more civilized we become, the sooner we break family ties. At about the true history began, families never separated. They only grew. Cousins, uncles, grandfathers and aunts were each a part of the same house hold. Individuals were afraid to encounter the danger of the world alone. Members insured protection. Organization came and society made laws to protect the individual wherever he might be. The stronger society became, the more protection it offered to the individual. And then families began to break up and scatter more widely. At one time, the African lion was king of beasts and he hunted alone, but for many generations he has been the pursued, not the pursuer. Today the lion is never alone in his kind. That's another effect of the same law that breaks families into smaller parts.

Before money, cows were used as the unit of exchange. It may have been difficult in those days to make the proper change, but certainly it would have been a hardship to carry a purse well enough filled for a long journey away from home. How the medium of exchange itself partook of the nature of a savings bank an advantage our present day set have, for the natural increase was a gratifying interest on one's funds.

Gems are often found in unexpected places. A western paper has granted a divorce to a woman whose husband received a note in which he was saluted as "Dear Old Hunk of Hash." The fellow is backing in the remainder of the note to indicate literary skill on the writer's part. However, we place that salutation as a step ever itself. No one but a master could select words that would so accurately convey one's thoughts.

Old Mother Nature will take care of her children pretty well if they give her half a chance. At the siege of Vicksburg in 1863, M. V. Meadows of Laurette, Ala., was hit in the right eye with a Union bullet. The bullet, after completing the circuit of the head, lodged in the back of the neck. Mother Nature had carried it from his head to his lungs, where it could be taken out. He lived for 61 years to do the job but she did it well. This brings to mind the California girl who swallowed the "pesky" thing years later, then a married woman and a mother, noticed a inflamed spot on her child's shoulder. Examination revealed the needle she herself had swallowed three years previously. It makes one feel like proclaiming with the bowery girl, "Ain't nature grand."

As an evidence that Frontier Times, the little monthly magazine published in Bandera by J. Marvin Hunter, is gaining nation-wide popularity, we mention the fact that Larry Chittenden of Seward's Nest, Christmas Cove, Maine, is an admirer and regular reader of Frontier Times; E. A. Brininstool, nationally known author and magazine writer, of Los Angeles, California, is another booster for Frontier Times; Hugh Thompson of Atlanta, Georgia, whose stories appear regularly in Adventure Magazine and other leading periodicals, is another reader of Frontier Times, and he says: "Frontier Times suits me as much as if it was made to order for me." Col. House, who was President Wilson's confidential agent, is a reader of Frontier Times. Miss Muriel Straithmore, prominent English authoress and writer, who is now sojourning in America doing work for London Sketch, is a regular subscriber to Frontier Times, and writes that she enjoys the little magazine immensely. And there are more celebrated people who read Frontier Times, which proves that it is a magazine worth while. Do you take it? If you ought to.

Lydia Lawson, 75, of Oklahoma City, is taking a course in stenography at a business college in her city. She feels that it will be of much use to her during many years to come. That should be good reading for the man of fifty who is considering retirement. This is not so good. Margaret Dodd, 101, of London, England, just danced a jig for the guests at her birthday party and died the following day from exhaustion. Youthful ideas and old bodies are not incompatible if the ideas are expressed in the proper manner.

Read Frontier Times.

Lehmann, the Indian.

Wonderfully interesting book is soon to come from the Hunter Press, dealing with the life and captivity of Herman Lehmann, who spent nine years among the Apaches and Comanches. Marvin Hunter, editor of Frontier Times is now compiling data for this book, and hopes to have it ready for the printer within the next two or three months. Lehmann, who lives at Grandfield, Oklahoma, has handed to the editor the data that supplied the material for the volume. He tells a wonderful story of hardships and conflicts he had to endure, and his story fairly captivates fans of battles with the white people, describes murders and raids committed by the Indians, tells of life in the camps, of buffalo hunts, trips across the deserts, and many other thrilling adventures. Lehmann was captured by the Apaches in Mason county in 1870, when he was barely eleven years old. He was given through training in all arts of the Indians, and participated in all intents and purposes an Indian, even to forgetting his own language. After spending four years with the Apaches, he became involved in a difficulty with a big medicine man, whom he slew with a bow and arrow, and had to flee for his life. He fell into the hands of Comanches and remained in hiding for fully a year. Afterward he went to the Comanches and remained with them until the Comanches were put on the reservation in Oklahoma. He was then 17 years old. Upon surrender, he was placed on the tribal rolls, and given an allotment, and is still numbered among the tribe. He removed to Oklahoma some ten or twelve years ago, and lives there among his old friends, the Indians.

While he was with the Apaches on a raid down into Mason and Gillespie counties in 1870, Capt. Sul. W. Ross' company of rangers got on their trail and followed the Indians away up on the Concho Plains where they overtook them early one morning and engaged in a desperate fight with them. In this fight Lehmann fought bravely, and seeing one of his comrades about his horse having been shot down, he raced back and took the Indian up behind him, and was running away when a well directed shot from the gun of Sergeant J. B. Gillett brought down Lehmann's horse. The Indian hit the ground running, but Lehmann was caught under the falling horse and pinned there. Sergeant Gillett and Ed Bieker rushed up and were about to shoot him, when they discovered he had blue eyes and appeared to be a white boy, so taking after the Indian afoot they ran him down and killed him and then came back to get the white boy, but the white boy was gone. He had extricated himself and crawled away in the grass and concealed himself until the rangers left, when he made his way back to the tribe, some three hundred miles away.

Copies of this book is now being made ready for the press, and will be ready for delivery within the next two or three months. Lehmann, who lives at Grandfield, Oklahoma, has handed to the editor the data that supplied the material for the volume. He tells a wonderful story of hardships and conflicts he had to endure, and his story fairly captivates fans of battles with the white people, describes murders and raids committed by the Indians, tells of life in the camps, of buffalo hunts, trips across the deserts, and many other thrilling adventures. Lehmann was captured by the Apaches in Mason county in 1870, when he was barely eleven years old. He was given through training in all arts of the Indians, and participated in all intents and purposes an Indian, even to forgetting his own language. After spending four years with the Apaches, he became involved in a difficulty with a big medicine man, whom he slew with a bow and arrow, and had to flee for his life. He fell into the hands of Comanches and remained in hiding for fully a year. Afterward he went to the Comanches and remained with them until the Comanches were put on the reservation in Oklahoma. He was then 17 years old. Upon surrender, he was placed on the tribal rolls, and given an allotment, and is still numbered among the tribe. He removed to Oklahoma some ten or twelve years ago, and lives there among his old friends, the Indians.

Eight years of presidential responsibilities rolled from Woodrow Wilson. Warren Harding's body stood but a little over half of his one term. Pop Hoover, in four years—or by the way, the longest reign in history records. The difference between modern rulers and ancient rulers is not a difference in the capacity of rest, but in responsibilities. They have to bear. And executive responsibilities in this country are increasing, not diminishing. That's worth serious thought.

This may came in handy for you some day. It never will for me. However it's interesting. The cold body of a snake placed next to a human skin, will absorb fever quickly and produce beneficial results for the patient. In Hollywood, where rumor says they do many strange things, it recently applied a live, blue python around the body of a feverish studio girl. In twenty minutes the snake's body was warm, the girl's temperature fell and the camera clicking again.

William Edwards, accompanied by his wife and two little sons, was up from Pipe Creek Saturday and paid the New Era office an appreciated visit.

Frank Mangold went to Fredericksburg Christmas Day after Mrs. Mangold, who spent several days with relatives there. Frank was in town Saturday and said they had a mighty cold drive coming home from Fredericksburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. Miller returned to their home at Dallas last Friday after spending Christmas with Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Edwards at Pipe Creek.

A Contest Between the Eyes and Nose.

Between Eyes and Nose a great contest arose.
The Eyes claimed for them nothing, only saying
The point in dispute was as all the world knows,
To which the said species belong.

The Nose said it must plainly appear
That their business I bear.
I hold them before your face
To defend it against disgrace.
You never see them using
Your fingers for wiping.
But now you are wanting
To do my proper work.

Then the Eyes said, in reply,
We claim not the honor
Of holding up your nose,
But we do claim the honor
Of looking out for it.
We see that it don't run
Into danger.

Then the Nose said, with a sniff,
Your claim is all stuff.
I can smell danger as far off
As you can see it,
And more than that
I can smell it when you can't see it.

Then the Eyes said, with a look,
Your claim is all bunk.
We can see danger as far off
As you can smell it,
And more than that

Then the Nose said, with a sneer,

County Officers Take Oath.

The county officers were sworn in on Thursday last. The only change was in the county judge's office, which is now being filled by Judge J. A. Eames, who defeated Judge A. L. Mansfield for the place in the November election. Judge Mansfield defeated Judge Eames for the office two years ago, and as "turn about is fair play," everybody is pretty well satisfied. Judge Eames is thoroughly qualified to discharge the duties of the office, and we are sure that if he has the hearty co-operation of the people he will give us the best administration the county has ever had. The county officers are: J. A. Eames, county judge; Mark McBryde, county and district clerk; Henry Stone, sheriff and tax collector; J. E. Chisum, tax assessor; Mrs. John F. Hodges county treasurer; J. R. Holt, commissioner Prec. No. 1; John L. Edwards, commissioner Prec. No. 2; L. L. Morris, commissioner Prec. No. 3; J. V. Porter, commissioner Prec. No. 4.

Old Mother Nature is a queer dame. In winter time she drapes our glorious scenery in scant garments, and bare limbs adorn our forests of timber, while in the spring and summer months a beautiful foliage is provided to clothe the trees and a thick carpet of green grass and beautiful flowers betwixt the bosom of our Mother Earth. At any season, however, our landscape is beautiful and enchanting to the view, and we have no fault to find with Dame Nature.

Historical Essays.

Every high school student in Texas will soon have the opportunity to compete for a handsome prize for the best essay on some local historical subject. Bandera county, with its many interesting historical events, should be represented in this contest. Will not some of the students of the Bandera high school write essays on some of the interesting events in the history of Bandera county? Many of the pioneers are still living and can furnish much information. Mrs. Mary Schreiner Real, who is now living in San Antonio, was born in Bandera county and has lived here all her life. She could furnish much information about the early days in Bandera county. Mrs. Real is a writer of ability and has written many articles for publication. Will not some of the students of the Bandera high school write to Mrs. Real and ask her to write an essay on some subject connected with the early history of Bandera county? Mrs. Real's address is 1103 Avenue B, San Antonio, Texas.

This far all kinds of stock in Bandera county have withstood the winter cold in good shape. That spell was pretty hard on young lambs, and some losses resulted, but it was small.

I have received word from the John Deere Plow Company and the International Harvester Company to the effect that prices on implements and machinery will be substantially reduced this spring, and we intend buying in carload lots to save freight rates. A few days ago Gus Reinarz, of the Pipe Creek community, thought Santa Claus had brought him an airplane when he saw three airplanes make a landing in his field. As soon as Mr. Reinarz gave the aviators their course they took the air and sailed away.

It pays to advertise. Last week Col. J. A. Head advertised some fruit trees he had to sell. The notice was inadvertently inserted on an inside page of this week's New Era, but Col. Head says he has a lot of pear trees if people want them.

Contract Let For Railroad

Construction of the first link of a railroad that will penetrate a country rich in undeveloped resources, lying northwest of San Antonio, with San Angelo as its ultimate terminus, will begin within the next few days, under plans of W. J. Williams, president of the Medina Lake Development Company.

Arrangements, for financing construction of the railroad from San Antonio to Medina Lake, a distance of 40 miles, have been completed, and the line will be ready for operation within four months after work begins, Williams said.

Paul Baldwin, eight Antonio contractor, will build the grade and lay the rails for the Medina Lake section, Williams said.

It is expect to have steam shovels throwing dirt within 30 days, he said.

A corps of engineers, headed by C. L. Goebel, chief engineer for the Medina Lake Development Company, is completing the permanent location of the 40 mile line.

The entire line from San Antonio to San Angelo, a distance of 120 miles, was inspected last November by Dr. J. A. L. Waddell, consulting engineer of New York City. In his report and recommendations he said the project is one of the most practicable and feasible in Texas. He stated the line could be constructed over the entire route with a grade line not to exceed 1 per cent.

The line will be constructed to Medina Lake for $674,000, Williams said. "When it is completed our property will be worth at least $1,000,000 and the company now owns property valued at $305,000.

It is planned to operate gas electric interurban cars to care for passenger service, with steam locomotives pulling the freight trains.

Williams has been working on the project for more than ten years.

Williams said a large portion of the right-of-way to Medina Lake has been secured and is under deed, with the remainder pledged.

The main line proper from San Antonio to San Angelo will not touch Medina Lake, there being an eight-mile branch from Lake Junction at Quihi to the Lake.

The line will come into the Lake from the west side, crossing the Medina River at Rio Medina. The Edwards Divide will be crossed at the head of the Sabinal Valley, at the only point where a grade line would be practicable, Williams said. He further said the railroad to San Angelo will be built beyond any doubt, if the first link to Medina Lake is constructed.—San Antonio Express.

Bird-Fries and "Dutch" Whitehead, who have been seriously ill with pneumonia, are both improving and on the road to recovery.

Aged Citizen Dies.

Martin Heisler, aged citizen of this county, died last Friday at the home of his son, Gus Heisler, near Pipe Creek, after a brief illness. Mr. Heisler was a native of Alsace, France, and came to America when quite a young man. He had resided in Bandera county about thirty years. Surviving him are two daughters and two sons, Mrs. Otto Liebold of Dilhania, Mrs. Arthur Voges of Medina, Gus Heisler of Pipe Creek, and Emil Heisler of near San Antonio.

Deceased was eighty four years old, and was well and favorably known to the older settlers of the county. At the time of his death he was making his home with his son, Gus Heisler. Funeral services were conducted at the Catholic church in Bandera Saturday morning by Rev. P. J. Boivin, and interment took place at the Catholic cemetery.

Buys Ranch Properties.

A deal was closed this week whereby G. C. Frick of Tampico, Mexico, buys the ranch of J. P. Hinds, above Lima, for $10,800 cash. This ranch consists of 1708 acres, and a bunch of goats also goes in the deal. Mr. Frick recently purchased the ranches of L. V. Rawls, Aut Brown, Ben Haught, and the old J. N. Pierce place, and all have been blocked together into one large ranch with Ben Haught as manager and overseer.

Mr. Hinds will remain on the ranch until spring. He has not fully decided where he will go, but we are hoping he will remain in

Hon. Ma. Ferguson, Governor, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson

Whatever may be the stigma to Jim Ferguson's name, he has certainly been cleared by the election of his wife to the highest New Era editor, has purchased the Leakey Leader and has moved her office to Camp Wood, where he will establish a weekly newspaper. Ben Hunter recently sold the Sentinel-Reporter and came down into the Hill Country thinking it to be the most beautiful scenery and pleasantest surroundings that he knew of, but found a paradise. That he was convinced of its charms is evidenced by the fact that he decided to locate. He is a very capable newspaper man, and will give Camp Wood a sure-enough newspaper. For several years J. A. Ricks has edited the Leakey Leader, and has given those people a good newspaper.

TIME

With steady march, not slow, nor fast,
To keep its gait while it shall last,
With steps so short and yet so long,
With music though in voice less song,
Where moments here will change their state,
Where all with one accord unite,
In clear, great day exploding night,
Where moments, days, and years will end,
And in eternity will blend.

Each neediest here will have its share,
Each day, each year will keep their pace,
One step will not be lost or gained,
Eternal Wisdom has it trained.

The solar system does not wear,
Nor will it never need repair,
Sun, Moon, and stars their beauty show,
As through unbounded space they go.
Time's depths we cannot comprehend,
Duration none, duration then,
When earth shall melt and pass away,
Still there shall be eternal day.

The greatest time piece ever known,
Looked upon from every zone,
God's handiwork in grand display,
Is marking time from day to day.

With this your timers should compare,
And if they don't they need repair,
Bring them to me without delay,
I'll make them keep the time of day.

T. S. DENNIS,
Bandera, Texas.

For the first time in history Texas has a woman governor. Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson took her seat as governor of the great state in the Union last Tuesday. Her inauguration was one of the grandest and most elaborate affairs of the kind ever witnessed in Austin. For ages queens have reigned in other countries and but few from these have enjoyed their subjects, Texas, as a country, figuratively speaking, at today a Texas queen is on the throne. She did not get there in this humble editor's vote, nor a loyal subject, we say, "God bless Queen Miriam." May he be a wise ruler, and it all unite to help make the administration the best we have had.

The Score Hospital Has Fourteenth Birthday

Seven years ago the Kerrville Sanitarium-Hospital, Score Hospital, was established by the Hill Country an southwest Texas with facilities for modern diagnosis and treatment, being completely equipped in every department. Starting in the state of the time with fourteen years of successful operation behind it, the hospital has been improved and increased to keep pace with the rapid advancement of medical science and today this institution stands in the first rank.

The very latest in X-Ray physiotherapy and high pressure sterilizers has recently been installed, the buildings renewed outside and in so that the most efficient service can be provided in a clean modern building away from the noise and dirt of the large city.

For fourteen years the chief surgeon, his associate and their assistant have worked together in all major operations. For seven years the same special trained physician has given the anesthetics and not one anesthetic fatality has occurred in this hospital.

The chief surgeon has his apartments in a wing of the hospital building and for months of the year is within call day and night to handle emergencies and see that the patient secure the service essential to their recovery.

A chartered accredited train ing school or nurses has been conducted since 1913. The few nurses who have been able to meet the high standards of this institution and receive its regular diploma admitting them to the R. N. degree, have received full recognition wherever they even in the largest hospitals of New York City. For every one who graduates ten are dismissed as unstaisfactory. The superintendant of nurses is a of a London, England, hospital. She is registered in Canada, Michigan and Texas and is well able to handle the nursing problems of any hospital. Her presence in the hospital day and night as well as that of the chief surgeon gives a guarantee of personal supervision seldom found in any hospital.

The chief surgeon has been granted the highest surgical degree conferred in America, attesting his special training and accomplishments and he spares no effort to keep this hospital up to the standards set by the American College of Surgeons for the largest hospitals. In fact the combination of complete equipment and specially trained staff with a climate of superior therapeutic value has produced results that have given this institution a wide reputation. More than fifty different cities were represented by its surgical patients in 1924. Quantity, however, has never been desired—quality is the aim.

Fee splitting or payment of commissions to the family doctor for sending patients is regarded as dishonest, and so is not indulged in by any staff members, and this has caused some of the neighboring physicians to misrepresent the hospital in order to [illegible]

What Bill Did

Turner was a farmer, for all his life. He didn't go to schools and neither did his wife. But Bill was built of timbers and made the wheels go and left a healthy man when they put him under ground. He was always taking a hand in handed for a while. His neighbors called him and let a stable full of mules. (Make the record, making by the ton, as Bill got picture printed in the Squeezeville Weekly Sun. He had new-fangled notions of making farming. He even bought a feed mixer to help him load his hay. The neighbors fairly snorted when they saw the bloomin' thing. Bill's would never work. It wasn't worth a darn. Bill didn't say a single word and didn't care a darn what they said, for slick as a whistle he went in the barn and got before the thunder storm came out that way and helped his neighbors in a pinch. He loaded their new-mown hay. The neighbors put their milk in cans and set them in a tank. Bill churned his milk with a machine that he turned with a crank. He chops his firewood with a saw. Bill used some gasoline to saw a hundred cords a day with a power-driven machine. Bill's wife rides in a car dressed up in silk. Smith's wife goes in a wagon and keeps churning milk.

A. B. Langford has been quite ill with influenza this week.

T. S. Dennis, the jeweler, made a business trip to San Antonio yesterday.

Judge George Hay has been critically ill the past several days.

Jucks Stevens and family returned this week from Uvalde where they spent several weeks. They have moved to the Stevens' upper ranch.

J. R. Price went to Brownwood last week after Mrs. Price, who spent several weeks with the daughter, Mrs. E. C. Brazil, in that city. They returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ellis were here Tuesday enroute to Coleman on a business visit. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Dennis while in the city.

W. L. Fries was in from his ranch Tuesday and paid the News-Era an appreciated visit. He says he lost about thirty head of new-born lambs during the cold spell recently.

Edwin, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Habenicht, has been quite ill with pneumonia, but is reported improving. Mr. Habenicht and other members of the family have also been ill with la-grippe.

NOTICE.

Let me sell you Watches, Clocks and Jewelry. If we haven't them on hand we can get them on short notice, and will save you money.— T. S. Dennis, the Jeweler.

Judge T. W. Harris was here from Medina Monday on legal business.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ellis, of Utopia, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Dennis Friday.

W. C. Jones, of Coleman, was here Friday enroute to the W. H. Hall ranch above Wman's Creek.

W. H. Lewis, accompanied by his wife and her mother, Mrs. Hamilton, spent a short while in Bandera Saturday. Mr. Lewis has recently moved from Pipe Creek to the Medina community where he secured a farm near our good friend, Ed Crist, north of Medina.

John H. Ross came home from Yoakum last week and got busy butchering hogs. He brought the editor a generous supply of backbones and sausage, for which he has our thanks. Says he had an idea an editor "needed back bone."

Hugo Jenschke and family moved to Morris Ranch this week, where Mr. Jenschke has rented a 220-acre farm. He recently sold his place on Mason Creek to Richard Schlafer. Mr. Jenschke is a good citizen and we regret to lose him from old Bandera county, and he says he hates to leave, too, but will probably return some day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Schott, and son and daughter, were up from Elm Creek last Thursday and paid the News-Era an appreciated visit.

Aunt Harriet Chipman is a great grandmother now. She received the joyful tidings last week that her grandson, W. B. Hook of Lincoln, Nebraska, was the proud papa of a bouncing baby boy, born January 8th.

Lonnie Elam, who ranches over on the West Verde, was in town Monday, and informed the editor that his goats and other stock are making it through the winter in good shape. He says the range is feeding rain.

Mrs. Anton Pyka returned Friday from an enjoyable visit to friends in Houston. She informs us that her son, who is attending school in that city, is doing nicely and making good progress in his studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Villeman were here from Pipe Creek Saturday.

We have installed a Hall Cylinder Hone, which will enable us to do cylinder grinding of the same quality as that to be had in any up-to date machine shop.—Gray's Garage.

Kelley S. White was here from Center Point Tuesday and assured us that he would be on hand Friday night with a dandy picture at the Cox Opera House. On account of cold weather and so much sickness he did not come over to put on a picture last Friday night, but says he will be "Johnnie on the Spot" tomorrow night.

Mr. and Mrs. George Towers accompanied up from San Antonio last Sunday and are now occupying the dishone cottage vacated by Felix Faris. Mr. Faris served as constable on the police force in San Antonio, but decided that a hospital in good old Bandera is not their own-renuous after all, and he is back.

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

Creed Click was in from the farm last Friday and dropped in to see the News-Era. He said: "I am heartily in accord with you on your plan to get out that big illustrated edition of the News-Era. You are doing good work for old Bandera county, and I want to help you in your undertaking. Just tell me what to do and I'll do it." Now, that's the kind of encouragement we appreciate, and it does our very soul good to hear a man thus express himself.

Prof. Otis Jones, first assistant teacher in Bandera High School, suffered an attack of flu last week, and went to his home at Junction to recover. His place in the school room was ably filled by Mrs. H. H. Washington.

W. W. Whitley has been critically ill with pneumonia at his ranch home on Middle Verde. Mrs. Whitley, a trained nurse, were secured and Mr. Whitley is now steadily improving. His daughters, Misses Rena and Ruth Whitley, and Mr. Charles Whitley, have also been quite ill with la-grippe and flu, but all are recovering.

When that ear begins to knock and pound you should not neglect it, for it is warning you that it should be attended to. Bring it to Gray's Garage and have it put in first class shape.

D. B. Seale, of Rocky Creek, was here Tuesday night, the guest of Henry Stevens. He was returning from a trip to San Antonio where he had all of his teeth extracted and a new set put in. Says the new molars are not yet grinding staisfactory, but by the time the barbecue season sets in he will be in fine trim to masticate the good things that come his way.

In our forthcoming illustrated edition of the New Era we would be pleased to publish experiences of farmers and ranchmen who have lived in Bandera county for years and successfully raised crops and livestock. If you are a sheep raiser or goat raiser or cowman, tell us what success you have had and how you manage your ranch. Let us give the outside world, for the benefit of your experience. We too, are going to make this big April edition of the New Era one that everybody will be full of interest to every taxpayer.

If we could box up the picturesque scenery of Bandera county and send it abroad we could sell it at a fabulous price. But we cannot ship it out, which is much fortunate for this region, and you we must sell it right here at our home. We can sell it to tourists, homeseekers and healthseekers, and still keep it. It is a great seller, but we must let the outside world know that we have it, or else it is "dead" property on our hands.

Now Japan is said to be pissed because Uncle Sam is planning to hold some naval maneuvers out Hawaii way. And Japan is likewise offended because Great Britian may complete her Singapore naval base. Japan is supposed to be for the protection of Australia against Japan. In the meantime we shall spend a few billions dollar battleship before it can be done.

Several new cottages are said to be built on Bandera creek this coming spring. The summer season continues to grow.

The cubicle world is beginning to learn that Bandera county snugly amidst those majestic hills. The New Era and Frontier Times carries forth the glad tidings that here is a delightful region where the healthseeker may come and be restored, where the vacationist may come and be rested, where the tourist may come and behold the beauties of nature. We have a wonderful country, wonderfully blessed, and wonderfully attractive.

There are several old dilapidated buildings in Bandera's business district which should either be torn down or remodeled. A few more attractive business houses would help to the appearance of this town wonderfully. A visitor's first impression of a town is gained from the appearance of that town's business houses.

A visitor in our office the other day remarked that Bandera's Comfort a few days ago, and was impressed with the clean, neat appearance of that little city. The streets are clean, the business houses are modern, the homes are neat and pretty, and the town presents a most inviting appearance.

Old Mother Nature has been wonderfully kind to Bandera, she surrounded by majestic hills, threading its way on three sides of our town the fern-clad Medina river rippling along, inviting the fisherman and the nature-lover. Natural parks, sylvan dells, are on every hand. But on the midst of all this natural charm stands Bandera with her streets cluttered with old tin cans and rubbish; dilapidated buildings here and there, giving the impression that the spirit of "don't care" thrives here. We are not knocking on our town. Far from it. But things should not be. The streets of our town do not harmonize with our natural surroundings, and the dilapidated buildings should not be permitted to remain in that condition. Paint, up, clean up, get up. Let visitors to our town see that we have at least a trace of civic pride.

How many copies of the New Era's big illustrated edition will you send away to your friends? Begin to make up your list now, and when you have it complete please advise us how many copies you will want when the big edition comes from the press in April. In this way you can help make the New Era one that deserves to live from its own merit.

Within a short time now our town will be filled with visitors and vacationists. We should appreciate the coming of strangers into our midst and give them a hearty welcome. Let's prepare for them by cleaning up our streets and beautifying our homes. A little paint here and there will help wonderfully.

The New Era's big illustrated edition, which is to be issued sometime in April, will contain descriptive write-ups of the natural resources of Bandera county, with photographic views of ranches, live stock, residences, public buildings, portraits of prominent citizens, and when the edition is sent forth on its mission of interest hundreds of people will be attempted to come to this favored region.

The first number of the Camp Wood Gray, with A. W. Hunter as editor, turned up at this office last week. The new paper starts out with a good deal of advertising and as a booster for Camp Wood and Real county.

The first annual show and sale of the United Sheep & Goat Raisers Association will be held at Camp Wood early in August. The Bandera county breeders will be there in full force and will carry off first prizes.

We think we had a real blizzard Monday night. But how would you like to dwell up a north where the cold rigors of the north sweep down for weeks at a time and freeze the very marrow in your bones? As a general rule our winters are mild, and we have become accustomed to delightful weather that we need a blizzard sometimes to remind us of what an ideal climate we really have.

C. F. Jureczki, who has a model farm below town, was a visitor Tuesday and advanced his subscription to the New Era another notch. About nine years ago Mr. Jureczki purchased ten old ewes, on credit at that, and from these ewes his flock of sheep has increased to more than a hundred head; besides he has sold his wool and some of the sheep he raised. He is an industrious citizen and has made a success of his stock-farming venture.

What Caused the Rain in Bug Tussle?

It hadn't rained in Bug Tussle in three months. The crops had long since burned to a crisp. The creeks and branches had gone dry. The beds of the Sabinal and Attoyac rivers were used by the thirsty cattle as roads as they searched up and down the dry streams for water. People hauled water and cooking was done miles and miles from springs, that here and there gave forth the life saving stuff. All signs had failed. The plaintive song of the tree toad, that sure harbinger of rain, had long since ceased, and the redworm no longer came to the surface of the earth where there had once been damp places. The moon that shown through the sultry nights lay flat on its back—in dry moon from which no water could run.

It was decided to hold services at the Horeb Church and pray for rain. On the day set for this divine feature of the drouth, everybody in Bug Tussle gathered at the church and took their dinner. The early morning was spent in working the graveyard and it was 11 o'clock when the pastor, Rev. Bill Koonce arose in the pulpit and after reading a chapter in the Bible prayed fervently that rain might come and that the drought might end. The statement that everybody in Bug Tussle went to church is hardly correct, for as a matter of fact old Johnnie Hudgins stayed at home. Instead he hired half a dozen negroes and went to his farm, two or three miles from the church. In the center of the farm was an acre of land that had always been too wet to work. It was covered with a growth of sweet gum saplings, briers, and vines, and Hudgins had rounded up cattle logs and chunks. Ordinarily water stood in this low place throughout the summer, but the extraordinary drouth had dried it completely up, and it was a clean off the place, plow it up and plant turnip seed that old Johnnie Hudgins had hired the negroes and they went to the place on the day the people of Bug Tussle met to pray for rain.

In cleaning off the land and piling up logs and chunks the negroes killed 40 big snakes of various kinds, and, following an old custom, Hudgins ordered the snakes to be left where they were to rot, as that was one of the ancient habits that was said to bring rain if rain could be brought.

Hudgins returned home late in the evening, and could still hear the people down at the church praying for rain. As he sat on the porch and listened, he heard the faraway sound of thunder. There was no mistake about it and presently the sound was heard again, and then again and again, louder and louder and by and by a cloud and then another and another until the sky was covered and heavy rumblings shook the earth, mingling strangely with the singing and praying down at the church which seemed to increase with each reverberation of thunder and flash of lightning. The rain finally started and came down in torrents—an hour, two hours, three hours, and night had fallen upon the scene long before the downpour had ceased, although the singing at the church had stopped at nightfall. All the streams were thrown out of their banks, and land was overflowed with much damage. Bridges were washed in roads, and bridges were washed and carried away by the mad current of many streams.

It was a great rain and until this day there may be heard at intervals in the Bug Tussle community, hot arguments as to what brought the great rain—the prayer of the people at Mount Horeb, or the killing of the snakes and turning them on their backs by old Johnnie Hudgins and his negroes.—Henry C. Fuller, in Houston Chronicle.

The clean-up crusade which started on Eleventh Street last Friday is a most commendable move and should be followed with a general clean-up of all of our streets.

A Jewish money lender claims fifteen beautiful Circassian women belonging to the harem of Prince Hamid of Turkey, under the Turkish law which classes women as "chattels." The prince had been living in style at Budapest, but his extravagances led him into the clutches of the money lender, who now wants not only his "pound of flesh" but approximately a ton of the same.

Rhode Island claims credit for having been the first state to pass an anti-spooling law, which provided a fine of five shillings for riding either horse, mare or gelding at a gallop on the streets of Newport. This law was passed in June, 1678, after an instance of "very great hurte done to a small childe by reason of excessive and hard riding of horses in said town." So it appears that our mania for speed is not altogether due to gasoline.

As a result of deciphine established through fire drills, 845 children were marched out of a burning school building to safety at Gulfport, Miss., 5 few days ago. Order was maintained during the exit, although some of the children had to lean through windows to get fresh air on the way out. Teachers and others whose forethought made this rapid result possible are entitled to the highest praise. Every school should have frequent fire drills.

In our forthcoming illustrated edition of the New Era we would be pleased to publish experiences of farmers and ranchmen who have lived in Bandera county for years and successfully raised crops and livestock. If you are a sheep-raiser or goat-raiser or cowman, tell us what success you have had and how you manage your ranch. Also give us an outside world the benefit of your experience. Written comes from the press in are going to make this big April. In this way you can help edition of the New Era one that the New Era in this great undertaking will be full of interest to every body.

If we could box up the picturesque scenery of Bandera county and send it abroad we could sell it at a fabulous price. But we cannot ship it out, which is most fortunate for this region, and figure for them by cleaning up we must sell it right here at home. We can sell it to tourists, homeseekers and healthseekers, and still keep it. It is a great seller, but we must let the outside world know that we have it, or else it is "dead" property on our hands.

Now Japan is said to be peeved because Uncle Sam is planning to hold some naval maneuvers out Hawaii way. And Japan is likewise offended because Great Britian may complete her Singapore naval base. Japan proposed to be for the benefit of Australia against Japan. In the meantime we shall spend a few million dollar battleship and see what it can be done.

Several new residences are to be built in Bandera the coming spring. The building continues to grow.

The outside world is beginning to learn that Bandera county is snugly amidst those majestic hills. The New Era and Frontier Times carries forth the glad tidings that it is a beautiful region where the healthseeker may come and be restored, where the vacationist may come and be rested, where the tourist may come and behold the beauties of nature. We have a wonderful county, wonderfully blessed, and wonderfully attractive.

There are several old dilapidated buildings in Bandera's business district which should either be torn down or remodeled. A few more attractive business houses would help the appearance of this town wonderfully. A visitor's first impression of a town is gained from the appearance of that town's business houses.

A visitor in our office the other day remarked: "I was in Comfort a few days ago, and was impressed with the clean, neat appearance of that little city. The streets are clean, the business houses are modern, and homes are neat and pretty, and the town presents a most inviting appearance."

Old Mother Nature has been wonderfully kind to Bandera. We are surrounded by majestic hills, threading its way on three sides of our town the fern-clad Medina river ripples along, inviting the fisherman and the nature-lover. Natural parks, sylvan dells, are on every hand. But in the midst of all this natural charm stands Bandera with her streets cluttered with old tin cans and rubbish; dilapidated buildings here and there, giving the impression that the spirit of "don't care" thrives here. We are not knocking on our town. Far from it. But these things should not be. The streets of our town do not harmonize with our natural surroundings, and the dilapidated buildings should not be permitted to remain in that condition. Paint up, clean up, get up. Let visitors to our town see that we have at least a trace of civic pride.

How many copies of the New Era's Big illustrated edition you send away to your friends? Begin to make up your list now, and when you have it complete please advise us how many copies you will want when the big edition comes from the press in April. In this way you can help make the New Era one that every body will be full of interest to every body.

Within a short time now our town will be filled with visitors and vacationists. We should appreciate the coming of strangers to our midst and give them a hearty welcome. Let's be figure for them by cleaning up our streets and beautifying our homes. A little paint here and there will help wonderfully.

The New Era's big illustrated edition, which is to be issued sometime in April, will contain descriptive write-ups of the natural resources of Bandera county, with photographic views of ranches, live stock, residences, public buildings portraits of prominent citizens, and when the edition is sent forth on its mission of interest hundreds of people will be tempted to come to this glorious region.

The first number of the Camp Wood County Echo, a W. Hunter as editor, turned up at the office Monday. The new paper starts out with a rush, and if it keeps up and is a booster for Camp Wood and Real county it will be a success.

The first annual show and sale of the United Sheep & Goat Raisers Association will be held at Camp Wood early in August and the Bandera county breeders will surely be there in full force and will carry off first prizes.

We think we had a real blizzard Monday night. But how would you like to dwell in a region where the cold rigors of the north sweep down for weeks at a time and freeze the very marrow in your bones? As a general rule our winters are mild, and we have become so accustomed to delightful weather that we need a blizzard sometimes to remind us of what an ideal climate we really have.

C. F. Jureczki, who has a model farm below town, was a visitor Tuesday and advanced his subscription to the New Era another notch. About nine years ago Mr. Jureczki purchased ten old ewes, on credit at that, and from these ewes his flock of sheep has increased to more than a hundred head; besides he has sold his wool and some of the sheep he has raised. He is an industrious citizen and has made a success of his stock-farming venture.

What Caused the Rain in Bug Tussle?

It hadn't rained in Bug Tussle in three months. The crops had long since burned to a crisp. The creeks and branches had gone dry. The beds of the Angelina and Attoyac rivers were used by the thirsty cattle as roads as they searched up and down the dry streams for water. People had to boil drinking and cooking water miles and miles from springs, that here and there gave forth the life saving fluid. All signs had utterly failed. The plaintive song of the tree toad, that sure harbinger of rain, had long since ceased, and the redwing no longer came to the surface of the earth where there had once been damp places. The moon that shown through the sultry nights lay flat on its back—a dry moon from which no water could run.

It was decided to hold services at Mount Horeb Church and pray for rain. On the day set for this divine feature of the drouth, everybody in Bug Tussle and the vicinity went and took their dinner. The early morning was spent in working the graveyard and it was 11 o'clock when the pastor, Rev. Bill Koonce arose in the pulpit and after reading a chapter in the Bible prayed fervently that rain might come and that the drought might end. The statement that everybody in Bug Tussle went to church is hardly correct, for as a matter of fact old Johnnie Hudgins did not go. Instead he hired half a dozen negroes and went to his farm, two or three miles from the church. In the center of the farm was an acre of land that had always been too wet to work. It was covered with a growth of sweet gum saplings, briers, and vines, and also a large number of rotten logs and chunks. Ordinarily water stood in this low place throughout the summer, but the extraordinary drouth had dried it completely up, and it was to clean off the place, plow it up and plant turnip seed that old Johnnie Hudgins had hired the negroes and gone to the place on the day the people of Bug Tussle met to pray for rain.

In cleaning off the land and plowing it up, Hudgins and his negroes killed 40 big snakes of various kinds, and, following an old custom, Hudgins ordered the negroes to turn every snake out its back, as that was one of the ancient habits that was said to bring rain if rain could be brought.

Hudgins returned home late in the evening, and could still hear the people down at the church and still praying for rain. As he sat on his gallery and listened, he heard the far-away sound of thunder. There was no mistake about it, and presently the sound was heard again, and then again and again, louder and louder and by and by a cloud and then another and then until the sky was overcast and heavy rumblings shook the earth, mingling strangely with the singing and praying down at the church which seemed to increase with each reverberation of thunder and flash of lightning. The rain finally started and came down in torrents—an hour, two hours, three hours, and night had fallen upon the scene long before the downpour had ceased although the singing at the church had stopped at the first fall. All the streams were thrown out of their banks, and land was overflowed with much damage; bridges were washed in roads, and bridges were torn up and carried away by the mad current of many streams.

The rain fell and fell and until this day there may be heard at intervals in the Bug Tussle community, hot arguments as to what brought the great rain—the prayer of the people at Mount Horeb, or the killing of the snakes and turning them on their backs by old Johnnie Hudgins.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. W. W. Whitley, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is making good recovery. The trained nurse who has attended him departed or San Antonio Monday, her services no longer needed. Mr. Whitley's many friends rejoice to know that the danger period is past and that he will soon be able to be about his ranch duties.

Stop Night Coughing This Simple Way

People who have persistent, annoying coughing spells night and day, who through loss of valuable sleep are weakening and getting all run down, and are more open to dangerous lung troubles, can stop their distressing trouble promptly by a very simple treatment. Hundreds who have hardly been able to rest at all for coughing have gotten their full night's sleep the very first time they tried it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a dose at night, hold it in the throat for 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action, as not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly relieves and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

This prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. It is on sale at all druggists. Ask for it.

The family has been in destitute circumstances ever since coming to Bandera and in the death of the kind and affectionate mother the little children are bereft of their best friend on earth. Life of F. M. Buckelew.

The Life of F. M. Buckelew, the Indian captive, has been published and the press and bindery ready for distribution. This book, which contains nearly 200 pages, was written by Mr. Dennis and Miss Jones of Bandera, and printed in the New Era office. It is full of the thrilling experiences of Rev. F. M. Interspersed throughout the book are pieces of verse composed by Mr. Dennis, and which picture the captives sufferings. After Seventy Years.

Uncle Gabe Anderwald dropped in to see the New Era editor Monday, and informed us that he landed in Bandera just seventy years ago with the first settlers. He came from the old country to make their home in this favored region. The seventy-seven families in Bandera February 14th, 1855 and left they remained. This primitive region was a wild wilderness. The Polish people came over in droves, many of them with stock, and they had no means of conveyance in which to carry their household goods, save and except the ox team. Uncle Gabe is one of the few remaining names of those who came with the A. H. Andrews colony.

Mrs. John Adametz, John Pyka, Joe Andervald, Mrs. Andervald, Mrs. F. A. Hicks, Mrs. Joe Kaska, Mrs. Tom Andervald, Mrs. Anton Anderwald, Mrs. Anton Anderwald and Mrs. Andervald and pesh, were the other women.

Seventy years is a long time to dwell in one place, but Mr. Anderwald says he has enjoyed every minute of his sojourn here. He would not swap this section for any other region on earth.

A Letter from Mother.

Mrs. M. A. Hunter, the New Era editor's mother, sends us the following letter, which we publish for several reasons. The first, in order that our readers may get what a wonderful state California has come to be. The second, because so many Bandera county people have gone to California and had the glowing reports of such delightful climate, the prosperous spirit of the people, and finally to see for themselves what Mother's letter will bring out the statements that have been made. Mother is now 76 years old, and after going to California a few years ago, her health has been excellent.

Escondido, California, Jan. 2 1910.

Bandera, Texas.

Dear Marvin and Fam: This leaves us all well, and trust it finds you and family were here with me to enjoy the blessings of life in delightful climate. You know I have lived in Tennessee, Texas, Mexico and Texas. But Southern California surpass all other states where I have lived. It is said by people here that California is a climate more like Palestine of Holy Land than any other state in the Union. Also there is a similarity of the fruits raised here; such as figs, dates, oranges, grapes, bananas, grapefruit, peaches, apples, apricots, nearly all kinds of berries. It is not any wonder that with such a climate and good soil, and such an efficient, progressive people the resources have been developed. The hazards like they have in the Northern and Eastern States where the thermometer registers 20 to 40 degrees below zero. This is indeed a wonderful land of fruits and flowers where roses and geraniums bloom in the yard all winter, and visitors from the East and Europe are filled with the glorious handiwork of Nature. Since I came to California my health has been fine, and in this sunny clime and I feel rejuvenated. I am younger all the time. Everybody who comes here says the same. I have had letters from many of my old friends in Texas asking about California. Some of them I can say it is a wonderful state, I cannot in a short letter tell them of all the advantages and the wonderful possibilities we have here. There are golden opportunities awaiting all who come here, if they have the means and determination to make their home in this part of California. The spirit of progress is to be seen on every hand in San Diego, and it is unsurpassed by any I have known in the east. And the prettiest bungalow homes I ever saw. Here is a beautiful flower and fruit, and churches, beautiful edifices. The Methodist church is one of the most commodious in the state, and it cost about $40,000. How is that for a town of 2,500 population? The paved roads are a delight to drive over, and the beautiful homes with acres of grapes and orchards of oranges and lemons, and growing vegetables, and the dairy farms, and chicken ranches, present a wonderful sight. Like the Queen of Sheba, I did not believe until I came and my eyes had seen, and behold, the half of the greatness of Southern California I have not told. With your ability and experience as a newspaper man come to Southern California and see for yourself. People get more enjoyment here in one year than in ten years in the Eastern States. With love to all. I am

Your loving mother,
M. A. HUNTER

Old Bandera is waking up. Main Street is to be opened from the postoffice corner to the river at the old Castroville Crossing, where the concrete bridge was recently constructed. The hill in front of the Ranchmen & Farmers' warehouse is to be cut down and graded and put in passable condition. Glory hallelujah!

The New Era sympathizes with Editor Frank E. White of the Center Point News, in the death of his mother, Mrs. N. H. White, which occurred last Thursday morning. The funeral was conducted at Center Point last Friday by Rev. P. E. Hawkins of Kerrville.

Every county in Texas should have an old settlers' reunion at least once each year, where all settlers, regardless of politics, color or creed, can meet and renew old friendships. Many of whom have not seen each other since 1865. The old settlers' reunion is the greatest boon ever bestowed upon the people of Texas. Every day that passes by takes from us some of the grandest men and women that ever lived. Many of our old friends of the sixties have passed over the river. Many more will follow in the next few years. Let us meet once each year and renew old friendships and recall the days of long ago.

Old Settlers' Reunion.

The executive committee of the Bandera County Old Settlers' Association met Saturday and Monday, 3rd and 4th as the time for holding the next reunion of the Old Settlers. The reunion will be held at the same place as last year on W. E. Mansfield's old Seargents lake. After the meeting of the Association held the last day of the reunion last year everything was left in hands of the executive committee to arrange for the holding of the 1911 reunion. This committee has worked out all details and has set the time and place, and now all of the members of the Association are requested to pay their 1910 dues to the secretary in order to help defray the plans for the biggest and most successful reunion. The one objective in organizing the Bandera County Old Settlers' Association was to provide enjoyment and pleasure for our pioneer settlers. The Association has nothing to sell, and is not a money making business. It is the purpose to collect dues to meet the incidental expenses of the organization, such as purchasing the reunion ground. Having membership badges, etc. Hence the small fee of one dollar per annum is charged for membership of those citizens who have lived in the county less than forty years. All who have lived here more than sixty years do not have to pay dues. Anyone who is a citizen of Bandera county at the present time and who is over forty years old may join the association. All who wear membership badges will be admitted to the reunion grounds free each day and will be entitled to all of the privileges of the reunion, which includes a fine barbecue dinner each day. Mrs. Chas. Eckhart, the secretary-treasurer will mail membership notices in a few days and all receiving such notices are requested to send in their dues to her as soon as possible.

Judge A. L. Mansfield, John Bruce and others have been actively engaged for several days in grading and graveling portions of the Ridge Road, and putting it in first class condition. For years this road has been a source of annoyance to all who had to travel over it in wet weather, but the work of these enterprising citizens has removed a lot of the annoyance.

Praise to the Frontier Women

Some honor to our fathers
Who have braved the frontier wilds,
Where fought with beasts and savages
And base lost their friends and lives

To our mothers and our sisters
Who for us have proven true,
Owing to them in their labors,
Is most honor to them due.

From the hand that rocked the cradle
Where they nourished soldiers true,
Noble men were born of women.
To women, then our praise is due.

Now our statesmen and our warriors
Stand in honor brave and true,
This is right, but mothers, sisters,
Should be greatly honored too.

Trace their deeds on history's pages
There to shine like stars of night,
For we owe our country's freedom,
To their labors for the right.

Here they laid a great foundation
On which Lone Star people stand,
Praise the mothers and the sisters,
For our great and prosperous land.

Stood they not with blood-stained garments,
In the frontier cabin home?
In a land where wild men roamed.

There they kept the home fires burning,
While their loved ones on the field,
Fought for law, and right and freedom,
Till our "Lone Star" was revealed.

Joe Newcomer was here from Medina Tuesday.

Val W. Chick, of Lima, spent Tuesday night with his brother, C. M. Chick. He returned home yesterday.

Miss Lora Thallman, of Privilege Creek, spent Saturday night in town, the guest of Miss Myra Jeanette Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Duff were here from San Antonio Friday, guests of Mrs. Chas Montague and daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Faris spent a few days in San Antonio last week with their daughter, Mrs. Frank Fisher, who has been ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. Emil Villemin was hostess at a most enjoyable chicken fry Monday night on Privilege Creek. Quite a number of the young people attended and report a delightful time.

When that car begins to knock and pound you should not neglect it, for it is warning you that it should have attention. Bring it to Gray's Garage and have it put in first class shape.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Love, of Kerrville, were in Bandera Sunday on their way home from Medina Lake, where they spent the week-end with Mrs. Love's sister, Mrs. Frank Ross.

Use Firestone Balloon Tires and Tubes. You will get more comfort, more service and more satisfaction if you use Firestone Balloon Tires. We sell them.—T. J. Gray's Garage.

J. P. Burns, who lives on the W. A. Tobey place above Medina was in the city last Thursday and dropped in to subscribe for the New Era.

The New Era appreciated a visit Saturday from those excellent ladies, Mrs. F. A. Masters and Mrs. E. B. Fries, of Wman's Creek.

Wm. Classen and R. A. Seabing, of San Antonio were here on business yesterday. They recently purchased 500 mixed sheep from Val W. Chick, of Lima.

A. F. Mickle writes us from Mercedes, Texas: "You will find enclosed a check for $1.50 for which keeps the home paper coming to us. You have no idea how we appreciate its visits. We hear from our friends weekly. We need three or four copies when it first arrives; but I suppose we can make out with one."

J. E. Browning president of the Bandera County Old Settlers Association, was down from Medina Saturday to attend a meeting of the organization's executive committee. Mr. Browning is very enthusiastic over the plans being made for the holding of the next reunion on July 3rd and 4th.

The many friends of Mrs. W. M. Pingleton and children are rejoicing over her return to Bandera to remain. Mrs. Pingleton moved to Iredell, Texas, a short time ago, but decided that her girlhood home was not surpassed by good old Bandera, and she returned to remain with us. She has a good farm on Indian Creek and will live there.

Dr. Decelski, the dentist was here last Saturday, and informs us that he will visit Bandera every Friday and Saturday hereafter, with office headquarters at the Langford House. Dr. Decelski is a skillful dentist, and thoroughly understands his business. For some time he was connected with a dental concern in San Antonio which maintains a chain of offices, but he is now conducting his own office. He requests that his friends and patrons here remember the days he will be in Bandera and call and see him.

Mr. and Mr. Walter Godkin and Mrs. Ernest Heinsath were up from Spicewood Springs ranch last Thursday. Mr. Godkin informs us that Mr. Heinsath has returned to Mexico to dispose of his holdings in the republic and will soon come to this section to reside. He lived in Bandera county many years ago. Mr. Godkin took occasion while in our office to make some very complimentary remarks about the Bandera-San Antonio road, and says the man in charge of the patrol work is putting the road in the best possible condition.

The New Era has a good two page six-column power cylinder press for sale at a bargain. Displaced by larger and faster press.

Tells How to End Night Coughing

To quickly stop hacking, irritating coughing at night, a very simple treatment, may be had that often enables you to sleep the whole night through undisturbed almost at once.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring, and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and relieves irritation and soreness, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. So no matter whether your cough is dry and tight, or loose with much mucus, the coughing soon stops, you can usually sleep your accustomed time without a break, and the whole cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains absolutely no narcotics or other harmful drugs. Instead of merely benumbing the nerves, it actually helps Nature to throw off the trouble in a perfectly natural way. Furthermore, it is very economical, the dose being only one-half teaspoonful. Over 1,000,000 bottles sold for coughs, colds, bronchitis, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and whooping cough. On sale at all good druggists. Adv. 6t

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Ridge and little Dadine Chaudoir returned last Friday from an overland trip to points in Arkansas and Louisiana. They had a most enjoyable trip, spending a week with Mr. Ridge's parents at Fort Smith, Ark., and with Mrs. Ridge's relatives at Thibodaux, La.

Captain Charles Montel and Lieutenant Ben Cunningham, of Fort Sam Houston, were here last Saturday and Sunday visiting Captain Montel's father, Dr. Montel and family. Both officers report the fine health conditions at the fort. Both are stationed at Fort Sam Houston.

A. B. Browning of Medina, sent us a fine specimen of honey the first week in December. He did not have to send to Medina for it, either, for we have a pretty good bee man right here in Bandera, in the person of Mr. Browning's son, Jack.

T. N. Curtis was down from Medina Monday and called at this office to enroll his name on our growing list of appreciative New Era readers. Mr. Curtis informs us that he recently purchased the gin property at Medina and has made some improvements thereon. He says this is the best country on earth that to raised plenty of fruit and vegetables the season which he called for home consumption and they are now feasting on these delicacies. He is strictly a booster for good old Bandera county.

STOP! HOLD UP!

Don't buy that car until you have seen the new 1925 Model Chevrolet, for it is new in every sense of the word. The following major parts have been redesigned to insure even a greater value to the buyer than ever:

Radiator. Clutch.
Springs. Finish.
Motor. Front Axle.
Steering Gear. Rear Axle.
Chassis. Frame.
Body. Differential.

The clutch, fly wheel and starter motor are all enclosed now, dust and water-proof. We have a shipment of touring cars and roadsters to be here about the 8th. Better put in your order before they are all gone.

Colonel and Mrs. J. A. Head have been quite ill with influenza but we are glad to report both of them recovering, and are able to be up.

Mrs. Frank Billings and children, who have been visiting relatives at Beasley, Texas, the past month, returned home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A Brown, Miss Maria Nowierski, and Ernest and Stewart Haby came up from San Antonio and spent Sunday with Mrs Henry Haby.

Hugo Jenschke was over from Morris Ranch this week, to get the remainder of his household goods. He recently purchased a farm near Morris Ranch and moved his family there.

J. N. Hodges and daughter, Miss Dorothy, were here from Junction. He has many friends here who are always glad to greet him.

Receives Quail.

Game Warden S. O. Durst this week received a shipment of young Bob Whites from the State Game Department to be turned loose in this vicinity. He will receive other shipments soon, and among them will be some of the Bule Top-Knot Spanish Quail. It is hoped that under course of time our county will be well stocked with these birds, and it will not take long to increase them if the game laws are observed properly.

R. F. Potter made a business trip to San Antonio last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Moore, of San Antonio, were visitors in Bandera Saturday.

Mr. Sandy Smith, of San Antonio, was a business visitor in Bandera Saturday.

Mrs. Hester Tom and Mrs. Hallie Billings were here Saturday to attend the funeral of their cousin, George Hall.

R. F. Langford was a business visitor in the county seat Saturday.

Mrs. Callie Hall, of San Antonio, was here Saturday to attend the funeral of her son, George Hall.

Mrs. Callie Hall is the owner of a good patented gas engine for sale very cheap. Inquire at this office.

Now that the Medina road is being graded, and all mail from Winan's Creek to Medina is being graveled, some attention should be given to that portion of the road between Bower Crossing and Winan's Creek, especially that part known as the "Masters' Lane," where in times of wet weather, ruts are deep and boggy. With putting of that portion of the road our people can travel over a real highway to Medina and on to the Kerr county line.

While in San Antonio last Saturday night we had the pleasure of greeting our old friend, Capt. J. W. White of Mason, who was stopping at the Gunter Hotel. Mr. White is president of the Mason National bank, and informed this scribe that while rain is needed in his county conditions generally are in fair condition. Mr. White recently underwent a serious operation for appendicitis, but we are glad to know he has made good recovery and gets about with his old time vigor.

When that car begins to knock and pound you should not neglect it, for it is warning you that it should have attention. Bring it to Gray's Garage and have it put in first class shape.

J. L. Liles, the well known sheep breeder, sent Marcus Thalmann and Ed Mansfield each a box of delicious oranges from Orlina, Ohio, this week, just a reminder that he appreciates the friendship of Texas folks. Mr. Liles did not intimate where the oranges were grown, but from the "smile" that was doled out to this editor we would guess they came from Florida.

R. N. Padgett and R. A. Robinson were over from Tarpley Saturday and called in to pay a tribute to the New Era's ecdysiast to keep the wheels turning. Mr. Padgett informed us that his aged mother recently died at San Marcos and was buried there. She was 87 years old, and had lived in Texas many years, a greater part of the time living in Coryell county.

It is quite possible that she will visit this city again this summer to sing.

We very much appreciated a visit Tuesday from Veteran Smith Coffey, of Tarpley, who dropped in and spent a half hour with the New Era editor. Mr. Coffey came over Sunday on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Granville Wright. He informed us that the Tarpley-Bandera road is being put in excellent condition, some of the former roughest places being worked down to a smoothe level.

N. H. Rose came up from San Antonio Tuesday and will be connected with the New Era print shop. Thirty-four years ago when the New Era editor began to set type Noah Rose gave him his first lessons in the art preservative, in the old Menardville Record office, and while we have stuck to the printer's trade through all these years Rose forsook the inky trail to take up photography. But he has returned to his first love now, and we hope to keep him with us for a long long time.

Since Oscar W. has been an editor a subject that grazing town has emerged a powerful Mexican Border power house.

To see Bandera county's cowboys ride in the annual 4th of July parade on the main streets would not speak well for the civic pride of our community. Visitors to Bandera would not favorably impressed with such a sight.

Every farmer should keep as many dairy cows as he possibly can, for great demand exists for dairy products at good prices. Now that the Southern Pacific has all the ways into Austin and dairy and barnyard products can easily be marketed in the city with but little trouble or delay.

Poultry raising is one of the most profitable industries in this section. People who raise chickens in Bandera county tell us that they have less trouble with their fowls here than any region they know of, disease and the turkey can be profitably raised and there are but few diseases and insect pests to destroy them.

Tell the world! Bandera county's resources include sheep, goats, hogs, cattle, horses, mules, chickens, turkeys, bees, honey, corn, cotton, potatoes, beans, have plenty of timber, plenty of good water, fine soil, delightful climate and wonderful possibilities. What more could anybody want?

Bandera county has wonderful resources, and some day they will be energetically developed. But the county fair to be held here August 13, 14 and 15, will be displays of taking andranch products which will be surprising to the visitor as well as to some of our own people. Every one should arrange to have some kind of exhibit of their products in order to show just what can be raised in Bandera county.

Bill Haught sends word from Menard that he will challenge Pomp Freeman, Jim Walker, George Hinds, John Ross, Lee Risinger, Andy Mansfield, or any of the other Bandera county bronkers, to a "greased pig catching contest" at the Old Settlers' Reunion July 3rd and 4th. He stipulates that the winner must be able to catch the pig, which has been thoroughly greased with pure lard taken from a neighbor's smoke-house, and he must hold the pig long enough to identify the marks on its ears by feeling them with his left hand and announce to the crowd what the marks are. No bow-legged man will be allowed to participate in the contest. Pigs must be from two to six months old and must be of the razor-back persuasion.

Orville Surber has done some good work on the street near his property by filling in the low places with gravel and smoothing down the rough places. Some good work has also been done on Main Street, but what the thoroughfare is in need of is a grading machine and a powerful one at that. Bandera has been a farmers' warehouse so long that Bandera is really waking up to the need of a real business street.

ITZ CHROME TANNERY
FREDERICKSBURG, TEXAS.

Pioneer and Philanthropist.

On last Sunday, February 23rd, was celebrated the 87th birthday of a man whose life is pleasant from the fact, that he was a soldier, and incidentally a chain [illegible] Charles Schreiner, early [illegible] Indian [illegible] and public-spirited citizen of Kerrville, and [illegible] Texas. It has made Kerrville the largest interior mohair market in the world; where more than six million pounds of mohair are sold annually. Out of it also grew a banking business, ranking among the state's most dependable institutions. The Schreiner Live Stock Company and various other enterprises at Kerrville sprang from it.

Yes there have been many changes since then," the captain went back again and said. "There were not many people in Kerr County at that time, yet some of the old families are still represented here. I recall the Reeses, Barnes, Starkeys, John and Sim Moore, Steve Ray, Dick Joy, Hughes, Nelson, Fessenden, Joshua Brown, Henry Sheldon, Lee Williamson, Christian Dieter, Casper Real, Parson Goss and sons, Spencer and Lee, and many others who traded at the little store, and whose children and grand children are still trading there."

In 1898 when the business had grown to such gigantic proportions that it could no longer be run under one head and with primitive methods, the banking, mercantile and live stock business were separated. But notwithstanding all these various enterprises demanding his attention, Capt. Schreiner has always found time to take an active part in public affairs.

Nothing more clearly demonstrates the esteem and confidence in which he was held by the people than the fact that in 1866, after having served two years as county and district clerk, he was elected county treasurer. He held this office for 20 consecutive years, until business compelled him to resign.

An incident of interest in connection with his term as district clerk is the moving of the county seat from Comfort back to Kerrville shortly after he was elected. The process was simple, but quite primitive. Taking a yoke of oxen with the front wheels of a wagon for a light vehicle-backs, and buggies were then unknown—the clerk went to Comfort for the records and brought them on the ox cart in flour barrels—and the barrel was less than half full.

In 1917 Capt. Schreiner divided among his eight children property amounting to about $6,000 in value. The five sons-in-law house are A. C., G. F., L. [illegible] and Charles A. Jr., the later of San Antonio. The daughters are Mrs. Hiram Partee, Mrs. W. J. Rigsby and Mrs. S. L. Jeffers, of San Antonio.

Long before, however, he began his work of philanthropy. Aside from unnumbered smaller beneficences, he began many years ago to give each year two scholarships, to graduates of Tivy High School. These were for a two-year course in any school of the receiver's choice, with all expenses paid.

In 1916 he set aside a quarter of a million dollars and 140 acres of land to establish a Presbyterian school for boys and young men at Kerrville, to be known as the Schreiner Institute. The school has been in successful operation for nearly two years, three buildings have been erected and a fourth is to be begun within the next few days.

A gift of $150,000 was made several years ago to the highway maintenance fund of Kerr county, and last year he gave $35,000 toward paving six miles of highway through Kerrville towards San Antonio.

Only a few months ago he offered the citizens of Junction, Kimble County, a donation equal to any amount they would raise for the purpose of building and equipping a high school. The gift was accepted and today a $100,000 high school building is in use. In March, 1920, 550 acres of land was given as a site for the great American Legion Memorial Sanatorium for tubercular ex-service men.

A latest act of philanthropy was the gift of the Secor Hospital to Kerrville. Its magnificent property has been placed in trust and proceeds go to provide a free clinic for the poor and unfortunate. Of all his gifts, none is considered more touching or worthwhile than this.

The big hearted townsman has always pointed out the part his wife played in life, and in his successes. She died not many years ago. She was said to have been a woman of the same fine energy and indomitable spirit that actuated her husband in all things, and to her, he gave a great part of the credit for his success. She died not many years ago. She was said to have been a woman of the same fine energy and indomitable spirit that actuated her husband in all things, and to her, he gave a great part of the credit for his success. She died not many years ago. She was said to have been a woman of the same fine energy and indomitable spirit that actuated her husband in all things, and to her, he gave a great part of the credit for his success. She died seemed blackest.

In the evening of life Schreiner gradually has sunk, the aged pioneer may look back upon four score years of useful service to his country and sigh peacefully with the realization that his task has been well done.

Kerrville and all Texas are wishing Capt. Schreiner many, many happy returns of the day. —C. J. Wessh Jr., in San Antonio Express.

The double header dance at Cox Opera House last Saturday night was quite an event and drew a large crowd. The dance in the big hall was for the young folks, while the old folks secured some good old time fiddlers and danced in the new building adjoining the hall, where they "swung corners" and promenaded to their hearts' content.

When you meet a stranger in our city make him feel at home. A kind word spoken, or a friendly greeting will help to make town a good place to live in.

Reports come of drouth in some sections of Texas. Bandera counties are becoming known as the garden spot of the land. This summer will witness the greatest influx of visitors that has ever occurred.

Talk on for the fair. Keep it up. When you write to your friends abroad tell them to come to the fair August 14 to 19. It will be Bigger and better than ever.

What are we going to do about the erection of a monument to our Bandera soldier boys who gave their lives in the World War? Answer. We must build that monument.

Fix the streets. There is a whole lot of work to be done on Bandera's streets yet, and it should be done before the rains come to this town during the spring and summer months. What about sopping up the dust to the river?

There is a dangerous defect on the street leading out of town toward San Antonio. The culvert is located near the old factory. It should be constructed of concrete and widened so two or more vehicles can pass over it.

Our weather prognosticator has absented himself from this office and we know not his whereabouts. The last thing he said before leaving was that if people don't quit singing that old silly song, "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo," it sure won't rain no more.

Bandera certainly needs a live, working commercial body to take several matters in hand and push them, the improvement of our streets, particularly. As long as we depend on individual efforts to get things done we are not going to advance very fast. It takes collective efforts to accomplish anything in the line of town building.

Many years ago a good piece of road grading was done across a small ravine in this town by Uncle John Pyka. We refer to the street from the Caffall residence to the postoffice. Mr. Pyka built that roadbed across the ravine to stay, and it will always be a monument to his skill as a road builder, but there is a wooden culvert on that street which should be torn away and a wide concrete culvert put there instead. The culvert which is now used on the main artery that leads into Bandera is a menace and unless it is made safe soon serious accidents may occur.

Legislature Bars Masking.

The Legislature dealt a decisive blow to masking in public when both Houses passed measures making it a felony to appear in a church, commit an assault or go on or near a private home while disguised.

The Mankin House measure and the Holbrook-Senate bill, providing identical penalties were passed by large majorities. They differ only in that the Holbrook measure does not exempt officers or any other organization. It does, however, exempt social gatherings in private homes.

Both measures provide a penalty of prison sentences of five years or more for assault while masked. Appearance at any public place masked or disguised so as to make identity difficult carries a fine of $500 or confinement in jail one year, or both. Appearance or attempt to enter a church while masked is punishable by imprisonment for a term of from one to 10 years.

Entry into a church by masked person shall be punishable by imprisonment of from two to 10 years. Entertainments conducted by societies are exempt from the provisions of the bills. Any secret society to masked meetings are liable to a fine of from $100 to $500 or 5 jail sentence of months, or both fine and jail sentence.

The Holbrook measure was an amendment to the original bill, which Senator Holbrook himself drafted. It originated all the essential provisions of the Mankin bill as it emerged from the House. It excludes the amendment Senator Hebbe bill, which would exempt the Shrine organization. Authors of the House bill are agreed, they declare to this change by the Senate, believing that the exempting of any organization would impair the validity of the act. One bill probably will be substituted for the other in the House, and the only remaining question is the number of the Democratic platform.

The vote in the House was 84 to 22. The Senate passed the Holbrook bill, 26 to 1. The Senate rules were suspended to complete the passage of the bill from second reading.

Frontier Times for April, which will be issued from the press of Marsh Dupre Staff, is full of many thrilling sketches of early day history. Among the interesting stories it will contain will be the experience of John Ritson Alexander, a Mier prisoner. Mr. Alexander, who is most deceased, was at the drawing of the beans at Salado, later escaped with a party of the Texans, and after many hardships and sufferings he, with one companion reached Texas. If you are interested in Texas history, you will appreciate this wonderful story.

No Fishing of Any Kind.

There seems to be a belief among some folks that the catching of catfish is permissable at this time. This is where they are wrong. During the closed fishing season from February 15 to May 1, the catching of any kind of fish is prohibited. Game Warden S. O. Durst requests us to say that all violations will be rigidly prosecuted, so those who think they can fish at this time should take warning.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank all who were so kind to our dear mother, Mrs. M. A. Williams, during her long illness, and for the many expressions of sympathy we have received after her death, which occurred February 28.—W. F. Rippy and Family.

"There is a Reason"

Real Hospitality.

Last Sunday afternoon the editor, in company with N. H. Rose and Sylvester Adamson visited the home of Walter Godkin on the Spicewood Springs ranch below Pipe Creek. It was the middle of the afternoon when we reached there, but we found Colonel Godkin at home, and he received us in a most hospitable manner, entertaining us in pleasing style. Mrs. Godkin served coffee, cake and Mexican delicacies, while Miss Juanita Godkin sang a number of beautiful Spanish songs, and entertained us with music. Mrs. Ernest Heinsohn is visiting in this delightful home pending the arrival of her husband from Mexico, was a charming assistant hostess.

About eight years ago Col. Godkin came out of Mexico with his family, a victim of the revolution in that unhappy country. Private property in Tampico and been burned and he and his family were compelled to flee for their lives. After spending a year or so in San Antonio he purchased the ranch he now owns near Pipe Creek and began to improve it, building his residence along the lines of Mexican architecture, with cement floors, large screened porches, and giving it the touches that would remind him of the habitation which he had been forced to abandon. For about thirty years Mr. Godkin has been a resident of Mexico, and he wanted to provide a home in Bandera county for his family that would be as near as possible to the one they had been compelled to leave behind. The long front porch looks to the south and commands a grand view; the house nestles snugly against a hill on the north, and in fact this hill he has drilled a well, securing an abundance of fine water at a depth of 84 feet, and this water is piped into the house. A gasoline engine on the place supplies light for all purposes. A corn mill, wood saw, etc., is operated by the gasoline engine, and other things that tend to the conveniences of the place. The garage, outbuildings and stores are all modern and convenient. At distances in the domicile Godkin has built a small adobe house on its place where he has erected four cottages, for several families. The springs and all these Mr. Godkin has constructed a concrete swimming pool, fed by the springs, which provides great pleasure for members of his family and visitors who come there to spend the week-ends during the summer months.

Mr. Godkin is engaging in industry that bids fair to become nationally known and popular. He keeps a herd of cows and buys cream from his neighbors. Out of this the manufactures chenilada cheese and other milk products, every pound of which is distributed by a San Antonio wholesale farm. This cheese retails at 50c per pound, and Mr. Godkin informs us that he is unable to supply the increasing demand.

We greatly enjoyed our visit to this delightful hacienda, where we were made to feel so thoroughly at home, and regret loath to depart, but some of these days we are going back down there again and sojourn for a day or so amidst such pleasant surroundings and inviting allurements.

Another New Store.

A new mercantile establishment is to be opened in the Lowe building about March 1st. The proprietors will be Boyle & Williams, Boyle coming from Bandera and Mr. Williams from Uvalde. The two gentlemen, in company with F. M. McIlhason, and Dr. Boyle, both of Uvalde, were in town Monday closing the deal and making final arrangements.

A part of the building is now being occupied by the Winter Garden bakery, which may continue occupancy or may be moved to the location next door south of the Lowe building, formerly occupied by the restaurant. This building, if to be occupied, is to be enlarged somewhat in order to make it large enough for the bakery.

The new firm opening in the Lowe building will carry a complete stock of general merchandise. The proprietors are experienced business men, and we welcome them to Crystal City.—Crystal City Sentinel.

Years at Comfort.

Ten thousand dollars, six thousand of it in gold coin, was obtained by yegg adepts who kicked in the door of the Comfort State Bank and gnawed their way through the steel spherical burglar-proof safe of the institution with an oxy-acetylene torch on Thursday.

Five hundred and fifty pounds of Wednesday afternoon from San Antonio in packages of 250 each, also in the express company safe, stolen included, $200 in quarters, $200 in half dollars, $50 in dimes and the balance in loose coin money.

The robbery occurred in the center of Comfort's business district, and the yeggs worked in the open, though the entrance to the bank is through an alleyway at the corner.

Forcing open the front door, the gang proceeded at its leisure to the rear of the building, where the vault was entered in safe fashion. The type in which the strong box stands was covered only with asbestos, so read one who visited the scene of the robbery by William Wheeler, still flushed when he came down to open for business.

The vessel had been stolen from the Ed Stevens & Sons' lumber yard. Three mules are reported missing, as well as two wagons, one of which was found in the creek. After erecting their rigging and the safe over on its side, the yeggs pried the door open, then with the aid of a sledge hammer and cold chisel broke off the combination knob. A hole was cut out, and the money could be reached.

Only five persons in the town reported hearing the explosions following the blasts. Mrs. O. Schorp heard them, she says, sleeping across the street from the bank, and thought a heavy truck was passing. Several others were awakened, but when one heard the noise and looked out into the darkness at midnight all was quiet.

Ralph Main, sister of Miss Schorp, declared that she also had heard the noises, but that by the time she had awakened her brother all was quiet.

No arrests have been made, but suspicion is said to rest on persons believed to be yeggs are believed to have escaped. Comfort has no night police.

New Way to Quickly Stop Dangerous Cough

It is almost criminally careless not to promptly attend a persistent cough, which by seriously weakening the system lays your open to far more dangerous infections. For by a very simple treatment you can stop the coughing spells almost instantly and more relieve the stubbornest cough in 24 hours.

This simple treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without drinking with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and allays irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The prompt relief of the worst coughing spells is quite remarkable.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is a wonder for children. A safe and sure remedy for croup—no opium or other harmful drugs in it—nothing to constipate the bowels. At all good druggists. Ask for

An impressive ceremony was held last Sunday at St. Stanislus church when fourteen boys were received into the Sodality of St. Aloysius. Rev. Jos. C. E., S. M. M. of the professors of St. Mary's college, San Antonio, performed the ceremony and delivered an instructive address on christian education. He said that christian education does three things; it teaches the body, the mind and the soul. The able speaker also pointed out anew the duties of the boys as members of the Sodality. The ceremony was closed with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament by Rev. I. Schneider, C. P. P. S., chaplain of the Incarnate Word Convent of San Antonio.

After Thirty Years.

The New Era sanctum was favored Tuesday with a visit from Mr. Street Hughes of Jena, La., and his sister Mrs. Jack Hamilton of Kerrville. Mr. Hudspeth has been absent from Bandera about thirty years, and this is his first visit to the old home since leaving. He is now a successful newspaper man at Jena, La., where he publishes the Jena Times. He called in Kerrville a few days ago by the serious illness of his mother, who is now very much improved. While so near the old home town he decided to run over and see how many of his old friends were still here, and he found so many that he did not have time to get around to see them all, as he had to return to the Kerrville H2S same afternoon. But he is coming back before long, possibly to attend the old settlers reunion in July. There are a few hundreds of old timers right here yet who will be glad to grasp his hand again. Mr. Hamilton informed us that she would attend the Old Settlers reunion. She will be remembered by the old timers as Miss Mary Hudspeth.

Mrs. J. B. Hall and son, Robert visited San Antonio Saturday.

"Honeymoon Ranch."

Two years ago "Text O'Reilly" the well known novelist and magazine writer spent a month or more in Bandera, living in the residence now occupied by Dr. John H. Erwin. While he was here Mr. O'Reilly was writing a wonderful story, and that story is now told in the motion picture with the title of "Honeymoon Ranch." The picture is to be shown at the Bandera theatre tomorrow night. While the picture has no local color it will be of interest to every citizen in Bandera from the fact that it was written in Bandera. It is a fine picture with photodrama and features Allene Ray, the movie star who is now pleasing thousands, and Harry McLaughlin.

A two-reel comedy, "Dead Language," will also be shown. Usual prices. Bring the children. Show starts at 8:30 sharp.

Encouragement From Afar.

The New Era appreciates good words, even though they come from afar. Miss Madge Head, of Stewartsville, Missouri, who is a regular reader of the New Era, sends us the encouragement in the following message: "You are surely a booster for your community, as every live editor should be; and I see you are reaping the reward on good roads."

New Section Foreman.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ambrose of San Antonio, and son, Callahan and daughter Miss Callie, of Pipe Creek, were visitors at the New Era sanctum Tuesday. Mr. Ambrose was recently appointed Highway Section Foreman of Division 15, and will have charge of the state highways from Bandera to San Antonio. He has appointed Mr. Callahan as foreman under him and Mr. Callahan will enter upon his duties Monday. He will look after the upkeep and maintenance of this highway, which insures that the road will be kept in first class shape.

Furnished Our Supper.

Somebody must have concluded that the New Era editor is short on grub at his domicile for one day this week a package of cigars steak was placed on the front seat of our Ford as it was standing on the street. Naturally we carried the steak home and let it for supper, and it was fine. Our wife insists that it was placed in the car by mistake, and that we ought to hunt up the person who placed it there and pay for our feast, and yielding to her pleading we will do so if the individual will call and claim his steak.

Methodist Church.

Next Sunday morning we will begin a series of special services on our mission fields and our missionary possibilities. The first topic will be "The World My Parish." All members of the church are expected to hear these sermons, and visitors have a most cordial welcome.

Sunday school 10 a. m. Preaching services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Next Sunday afternoon the pastor will preach at Myrtle Creek at 2:30.

P. T. A. Program

The Bandera Parent-Teachers' Association enjoyed a delightful program last Friday afternoon at the High School auditorium. Mrs. R. N. Hicks gave several readings and Miss Myra Jennett Hunter gave violin solos, with Miss Pauline Ethridge as piano accompanist. The Parent-Teachers' Association is doing good work in this city, and the social features provided by the organization are generally pleasing and worth while.

John L. Edwards, commissioner of Precinct No. 2, came up from Pipe Creek, to attend commissioners' court the first of the week.

Thieves Get Mohair.

Thieves stole 400 pounds of newly sheared mohair from Fabian Garrison on the Davenport ranch Tuesday night. We hope the thief will eb apprehended.

Real Estate Deal.

A deed was recently filed in the county clerk's office, executed by Frank Anton Schott et. al. conveying to John N. Sweeney certain lands lying in the eastern part of the county, for a consideration of $20,000.

Buys O. Thallman Ranch.

A deal is pending that will probably be consumated this week, whereby Albert Eckhart of the Quihi region, will purchase the Orlando Thallman place on Middle Verde. We did not learn the consideration. We understand that Mr. Eckhart will make his home on the ranch next year. Frank J. Heinen at present lives on this place.

May Put in Light Plant.

Tom North proprietor of the Bandera ice factory, is making plans to put in an electric light plant soon, the power house to be in connection with his ice plant. Bandera has long needed an electric light and power system, and we are sure Mr. North will receive the necessary encouragement to go ahead with his plans.

Entertainment Saturday night.

The Medina School Boys' Band, assisted by Mrs. F. P. Layton and Mr. D. O. Tallman, will give a program of instrumental and vocal music, at the Bandera High School Auditorium Saturday night, March 14. Special vocal solos by Mrs. Sewall. Admission 25c and 15c. The proceeds are to go to the Missionary Societies of the Bandera and Medina Methodist churches.

Fisherman's Club.

The Bandera Fishgrman's Club is arranging to build a club house on Medina Lake, the plans for the buildings having been drawn and agreed upon at a meeting held at Cox Hall Tuesday night. The club was duly organized some time ago, its members including our leadfig piscatorial experts, among whom are W. R. Fletcher, James Cox, C. C. Billings, C. C. White, Tom Gray, Joe Chisum, Frank Billings, Austin Carlton, Dr. John H. Erwin, Chas. Eckhart, Elvius Hicks, and others whose reputations for veracity is beyond question. No man is allowed to join the club if he is like least bit untruthful, because some big catches are expected to be made during the fishing season and the truth must be told about th em. Dr. Erwin is in his glory now or will be when the new club house is built. He had a hand in drawing the plans, and insists that a bath tub and shower bath will be provided for Bob Fletcher, a long-range cook stove will be installed for Charlie Eckhart, a hammock with palm leaf fan attachment will be provided for C. Y. Billings; a rocking chair for Tom Gray, a side-room equipped with fish-cleaning apparatus will be provided for Frank Billings and Austin Carlton, patent bait buckets and seine will be furnished for Elvius Hicks and Joe Chisum, while a motor boat and plenty of rods, reels, and other paraphernalia will be purchased for himself and James Cox, and Dock White, as they claim to be the best fishermen in the club.

Ganderbone says it is going to rain when this dry spell ends.

The more often Bandera citizens get together the more we will get.

The New Era has contended for good roads and better schools ever since this editor took charge to the little old home paper four years ago, and we are pleased to see that these things are coming to pass. Therefore, we are encouraged to keep up the agitation.

During the past few weeks Bandera has had her share of road shows. As springtime comes on apace the shows hit the road, coming out of the large cities where they have been in winter quarters. Some of these shows are very good, but some of them are absolutely rotten and should be passed on.

Bandera Has Beauties.

Tell the world! Bandera county's resources include sheep, goats, hogs, cattle, horses, mules, chickens, turkeys, bees, oats, corn, cotton, potatoes, beans, have plenty of timber, plenty of good water, fine soil, delightful climate, and wonderful possibilities.—What more could anybody want?—Bandera New Era.

Say, Hunter, are you sure you did not get Bandera and Uvalde County mixed? You are describing Uvalde county exactly, but you left out "an abundance of pretty and charming young ladies." How come? We heard you were a young man of some 32 summers. Do you not see us at Bandera that you overlook so great an attraction, or are they really scarce?—Uvalde Leader-News.

The oversight was not intentional, by any means. We intend some time to devote a whole column telling about our Bandera beauties, for we have them and in abundance, and they come under the head of fruits and flowers, the young ladies are peaches and the good-looking widows and married women are flowers of the kind which even Uvalde cannot equal. Editor Hornby jumps at conclusions when he gets the idea that Uvalde county compares with Bandera favorably. When we tell of the wonderful resources of this county we do it in a conservative way and then when we have visitors they are always delighted to find that the picture we had not been overdrawn and that we indeed have a delightful region. Fifty-two summers! Another bad guess. But people do not get old in Bandera. We have many young men in this county who have passed fourscore and are still in the prime of vigorous manhood. It's the climate.

Ford News Story.

Turn the spotlight on North Salem, Ohio.

That busy little community where thrift goes hand in hand with progress, has an unusual claim to distinction.

Some time back a thrifty old resident set a good example for the village by purchasing a Ford. The rest of the folks as soon as they could afford a car, followed suit.

Today every property owner in the place owns at least one Ford. If you don't believe it here are the figures:

The village has a population of 700, boasts 128 dwellings and the popularity of the Ford is attested by the the fact that thirty Ford units—cars, trucks and Fordson Tractors—are in use there.

North Salem is located in Guernsey County, Ohio, on the Cleveland and Marietta Highway and if you are motoring in that neighborhood drop in and invest a car for yourself. You'll be welcome—especially if you're driving a Ford.

By the way, reports for 1924 in Bandera county show 577 Fords and 65 other makes. Not so bad.

Bandera should have two or three rural mail lines out of this city to supply the people of the East Verde, Middle Verde and West Verde neighborhoods, and the other to supply the people of Myrtle Creek, Mason Creek and Privilege region. The postoffice department requirements can be met in regard to the establishment of such rural routes.

With the time for holding the county fair coming on apace we should begin to make preparations to have the best fair that has ever been held in Bandera. No one be discouraged over the dry weather. It will rain a good some of these days and then stuff will grow and produce abundantly. Let everybody work for the fair.

There is going to be a big foot race at the Old Settler's Reunion to be held here July 3rd and 4th. Certain racers do not back down. John Ross is going to challenge Frank Buck to a quarter mile dash and give him six feet start. Friends of both gentlemen are beginning to pile up stakes on the outcome.

Main Street, where it crosses the public square, is being graded and graveled, the work being done under State Highway supervision.

To the General Public.

I appreciate the liberal patronage given my picture show last Friday night. The crowd that filled the opera house was greater than I anticipated, but I am pleased to know that all went away thoroughly satisfied with the program. I am striving to give Bandera a picture show that will be equal to that of any town of its greater size, and to do so I must have at least a fair share of the audience. Friday night's audience encourages me to book pictures that will be of the highest class. I intend to give a clean, elevating, and educational picture show, for I realize the need of such. Show will be every Friday evening except during a religious revival in this town, when my show will not be allowed to interfere with any religious services. To this end I ask the good will and co-operation of the general public.

WARREN HUNTER.

TEXAS LEADS IN SHEEP RAISING

When a person starts to enumerate the more important industries in Texas, sheep raising is rarely mentioned. It is, in fact, a real article of news even to many native Texans that most of America's highest grade wool comes off the backs of Texas sheep.

For years Texas has led every state in the nation in the number of sheep, and recently she has risen to a rank equal to any other state in the quality of wool produced. The corner on fine fleeces that Ohio once held is now shared with the empire state of the Southwest. High prices for Texas fleece are paid by big mills that manufacture uniforms for West Point Military Academy.

The high quality wool and the quantity production has been made possible by systematic scientific methods of sheep raising and handling. From a side line to a leader, sheep raising has progressed steadily, along with diversified farming and always under intelligent listings. Old hit or miss methods which usually were miss—have been discarded and sheep raising placed on a scientific basis.

In 1920, prior to May 20, when over night the bottom dropped out of the market and general depression involved the whole country, long twelve-months' wool commanded as high as 78 cents by quinck manner in which Texas a pound. Then the comparatively unexposed of its 1921 spring clip of long wool, estimated at 18,000,000 pounds, at a time when the surplus accumulations of foreign countries were being dumped in to the United States in competition with home grown fleeces, indicates that Eastern manufacturers brought of wools from this territory.

Prices that year, however, ranged only from 15 to 18 cents a pound, with some choice lots of wool selling as high as 36 cents. Since then the market has steadily increased until this year wool sold as high as 56 cents and shearing time, which is in April, has great has become the standard for Texas wool that an estimated 40 per cent of it is contested each season, much of it months in advance of shearing time.

The steady importation of registered rams from Vermont, Utah, Ohio and other states, since the sheep industry began to take hold of Texas less than a half century ago, has been the prime factor in the raising of the breed of the flock to the present standard. The Merino was the first registered sheep to be known on the ranges of the Lone Star State. This animal came from New York and Vermont. He was a wrinkled fellow, with great rolls on his body, practicularly around his neck. The wool he produced was of the highest quality but was short staple—and for mutton the Merino was almost a failure. His hide was not smooth and was also tough.

So the Delaine was brought in. This sheep is a strain of the Merino. His breed has been improved and the motion is superior to that of the first registered sheep in the country. More valuable than anything else about the Delaine his wool, which is of the highest grade. Contesting first place with the Delaine is the Rambouillet, of which there are probably more in West Texas than any other breed. The wool from this animal is not as fine as the Delane's but the mutton is superior. The sheep are larger and their bodies are smooth. As in the case between breeds of Herfords, Durhams and Angus cattle, the advocate of the Rambouillet proclaims that this type of sheep is better than the Delane for all purposes, and vice versa.

The result is that many sheepmen have successfully experimented in cross-breeding the two kinds, the offspring, they have the finer wool of the Delane and the more marketable qualities for which the Rambouillet is noted. Veteran sheepmen counted that the best results are obtained from sticking to straight breeds, eventually specializing pure blood flocks, but opinion on the whole differs widely.

It is estimated that 1,500 to 2,000 registered rams are sold in West Texas every fall by breeders from Ohio, California and other states. These rams in 1924 commanded from $25 to $75, with $40 probably an average. The greatest importation in a single year was in 1920, after approximately 300,000 sheep had been shipped in from northwestern states to escape a drouth there. Many of these sheep were high grade ewes, and breeding since them has improved the grade. Rams that were imported from Ohio that year were from $50 to $150, some of the best brought $500.

The number of registered rams imported to Texas is decreasing annually, in proportion to the greater number of sheep raised. The reason is that through the steady improvement in breed, sheepmen are now able to obtain high grade animals bred and raised at home. There are a number of breeders in the San Angelo country who for years have specialized only in breeding registered rams to the highest grade ewes. Eventually, the offspring will be as high grade as the sheep that can be obtained in distant states at high prices.

Rams that are brought from other states are mostly yearlings and two-year-olds. A ram can be used for breeding until eight or nine years old, but is considered to be in his prime when around six years old, but considered to be in his prime when around six years old. Many ranchmen sell their rams after they are two years old, for after a sheep reaches the age of five years, the wool produced begins to grow shorter, although there is a little change in its quality. The breeding season lasts thirty days and is generally in September and October. Most flocks are bred in October. One ram can be bred to fifty ewes, which explains why the number of rams imported is small compared to the number of sheep in the country.

March is lambing time, and the long twelve-months' wool is sheared in April. Many fine fall shearings occur in September and October. From Sutton and Crockett counties south, nearly all sheepmen shear twice a year, and the lambs are smaller and sheep have more protection in the hills and timbered country. A few years ago the trend in the Texas country was toward shearing but once a year, but now it is swinging the other way.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, since our last regular meeting, the sable-winged messenger has visited the home and Bandera and sealed up the doors of breath of the beloved mother of our fellow commissioner, J. V. Porter and mindful that

"There is none
In all this cold and hollow world, no fount
Of deep, strong, deathless love, save that within A mother's heart,"

And that our brother commissioner has lost the best and truest earthly friend vouchsafed to man; therefore,

Be it resolved by the members of the Commissioners' Court of Bandera county, Texas, that we extend to him in his hour of bereavement our heartfelt sympathy.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the court, a copy published in the Bandera New Ear and a copy given to our fellow commissioner, J. V. Porter.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, Since the last term of the Commissioners' Court of Bandera County, Texas, an honored member of this court, James B. Holt has crossed the Great Divide; and

Whereas, both as a private citizen and a public servant, he was held in highest esteem for his unflinching loyalty to friends and what he conceived to be right, and for his devotion to the duties required of him as a public servant to which he unstintedly and unreservedly gave of his time and strength.

Be it resolved by said Commissioners' Court, that we express our heartfelt sorrow and regret at the untimely ending of the earthly career of our fellow worker, in the noonday of his manhood and prime of his usefulness as citizen and public servant; and that we extend to his bereaved family our sincere sympathy in their hour of grief.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Commissioners' Court, a copy published in the Bandera New Era and a copy sent to his family, and when the court adjourns today it shall be done in his honor.

End Night Coughing
No matter how long you have been troubled with exasperating coughing at night, robbing you of valuable sleep and thereby weakening your system and laying you open to dangerous infections, it can usually be stopped at once by a very simple treatment. Most people have found that they can sleep the whole night through, and awaken refreshed the first time they try it.
The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your mouth for 10 to 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and indigestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is you usually sleep soundly the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.
The prescription is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchial and bronchitic croup and almost every throat irritation. It contains no alcohol or other harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. On sale at all good druggists. Ask for Aged Man Lost.

Uncle Jeff Gordon, an aged gentleman, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Duff near Tarpley, went out late Sunday afternoon to look for a turkey's nest, lost his bearings and became lost. Night came on and the family became alarmed and instituted search, finding him about 3 o'clock Monday morning in the Cowhan pasture, some distance from the Duff place. He had wandered over considerable territory, according to his tracks which were followed by the searchers, and when found was sitting against a tree with a small fire near. He had stumbled over boulders and had bruised his knees and hands somewhat, but was otherwise uninjured, and has fully recovered from his discomfiture.

Aged Man Died.

The Musical given at the High School auditorium last Saturday night by the Medina School Boys' Band was greatly enjoyed by those who attended, and those who failed to attend certainly missed a rare treat. Besides the band selections saxophone solos were rendered by Mr. David Tallman, Hawaiian music, given by Charlie Akin, and vocal solos were given by Mrs. E. H. Sewall, Mrs. F. P. Layton was piano accompanist, E. J. Hardy with banjo, and Thomas Coleman with guitar, appeared as blackface artists and delighted the audience. We hope the Medina School Boys Band will come again some of these days, when it is to be hoped that a larger audience will turn out to hear their music.

Mrs. Annie Dreese, for many years a resident of the Comfort region, died Saturday night at the home of F. R. Caffall, Jr., in Boerne. She was 81 years of age and for several months had been practically helpless. She was being tenderly cared for by Mrs. Caffall. Funeral services were conducted in the Boerne church Monday afternoon, and interment took place at Bandera cemetery Monday night, delay in getting the grave finished being encountered, which accounted for the burial taking place at night.

The New Era will appreciate your kindness if, when you have visitors, you will write their names on a slip of paper and send in to this office. In this way you can help us to give the local news of the community correctly. We hope you will assist us by reporting such items as you may chance to know. No matter where you live in the county, send in the names of your visitors.

A Dandy Number.

The April number of Frontier Times, issued from the press this week, is a dandy. It contains forty-eight pages of thrilling frontier history, sixteen good stories of early days in Texas. One of the best sketches in the April issue is the "Adventures of a Mier Prisoner," as related by John Rufus Alexander, now deceased. Bandera people do not seem to realize that this little magazine is becoming a great big enterprise and circulated all over the United States, going into the leading public libraries and colleges of the country. We are justly proud of the homely little publication, even if it is our own production.

Night Coughing Stopped Quickly By Simple Treatment

Thousands who are troubled with persistent coughing at night, which by robbing them of vitiable sleep weakens their systems and lays them open to dangerous infections, can quickly act to prevent this distressing condition. Dr. King's New Discovery is a wonderful help here. It is meant to rest at all on account of coughs spells have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed, often the first time they try it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring, and hold it in your throat for it is of no account—it's the medicine that you swallow following with relief. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals the throat and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is you actually sleep soundly the very first night, and the entire course of treatment does it in a very short time.

This prescription is highly recommended for children's coughs—croup, hoarseness, and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's croup—and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only a tea teaspoonful. At all good druggists. adv 1st 6pd

W. W Whitley's many friends were glad to see him in town Tuesday. Mr Whitley had been ill with influenza and pneumonia for some time, but is now gaining strength rapidly

M. D. Haynes and E. E. Kerr of Center Point, were visitors in Bandera Monday and paid us an appreciated visit. Mr. Haynes is engaged in the tailoring business there, while Mr. Kerr is a school teacher. We found them to be pleasant, agreeable gentlemen, and hope they will call again.

Col. J. G. Letcher was up from Pipe Creek Saturday and told us that he had come in to get a supply of liniment which he expected to use the next morning, as they were to have a big dance at his home that night and he knew he would be a bit stiff after dancing all night and need the liniment. The big dance came off as per schedule Saturday night, and Monday we learned that Col. Letcher was as spry as a spring chicken despite the fact that somebody got hold of his liniment and drank it up. A fine time was had as is usually the case when Colonel and Mrs. Letcher entertain their friends. The dance was given in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Tom Boyle, who departed this week for Crystal City to make her home.

F. T. Ramsey, the well known nurseryman, was here from Austin Friday. In company with Col. J. A. Head he visited Capt. and Mrs. Thos. P. Grant at Tarpley and spent most of the day there investigating the soil in that region, having in mind the establishment of a pecan-planting project. He found everything very satisfactory and it is probable that he will put out quite a lot of pecan trees there within the next several months. Mr. Ramsey has supplied fruit trees to the people of Texas for about half a century, and many Bandera county citizens have trees which they purchased from him years ago. When Amasa Clark maintained a nursery here many years ago he often purchased nursery stock from Mr. Ramsey. Col. Head has been his local representative for twenty-five years. It is pleasing to know that Mr. Ramsey has a reputation for fair and square dealing, which makes his visit a welcome one to any section he may go.

Regular services next Sunday. Sunday school at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. The morning topic will be "Around the World with Christ" All are invited. You are not a stranger but once.

There will be a special series of services during Holy Week, to which all are invited. The detailed announcement appears elsewhere in the New Era.

Mr and Mrs. G. W. Edwards and two sons, of Animas, New Mexico, were here this week, visiting old friends and relatives at Pipe Creek. Mr. Edwards has taken up a homestead claim in New Mexico, and seems to like that region pretty well.

Messrs. Claude Graham and G Hicks were over from Tarpley Tuesday with mohair. Mr. Graham called and advanced his subscription figures for the New Era and Frontier Times, and informed us that his mohair clip was much better this season than he expected.

Captain Eli Loyd and son, L. W Loyd, were visitors at the New Era sanctum last Thursday. The young man recently sold his dairy at Port Arthur and has moved back to the good old Hill Country. He is at present living at Kerrville, but contemplates getting a goat ranch in Bandera county and make his home here.

The program at the high school auditorium last Saturday night, in connection with the declamations for the interscholastic meet, was enthusiastically ejoyed, the entertainers being called back a number of times. The declamations by children from the various county schools were fine, every one of them being given in such a pleasing manner as to make it difficult for the judges to award first and second premiums.

A petition was being circulated this week asking the postoffice department to retain the present Bandera-Tarpley mail service as it is. We understand that a petition has been circulated and sent in by parties in the western part of the county asking the department to change this mail route and permit it to be carried from Hondo to Tarpley. Should the change be granted it is likely that a rural route from Bandera to take in the East Verde, Middle Verde and Tarpley regions will be asked for.

"Good Street Work."

Some good work has been done on Eleventh Street from the J E. Chisum residence up to the business district. This improvement was made possible through substantial donations of Herman Harper, J. E. Chisum, C-Y. Billings, John H Erwin, I. E. Atlanta and others.

Work has been started on the grading and graveling of Main Street from the Court House Square to beyond Mulberry Street, the work being done by popular subscription. It has been proposed also to do considerable work on the east end of this street by grading and cutting down the steep hill in front of the Ranchmen & Farmers' warehouse, providing a direct route to the bridge at the Castro-ville Crossing on the river.

Some cash and several wagons and teams have been volunteered for the Main Street work, which has already started, with Frank Mansfield and his tractor on the job. A sufficient cash can be raised the grading and graveling will be extended to where the recent grading was done on the Mansfield Lane on the Medina Road. All who will help in this work are urged to put their names to the subscription list which can be found at the Billings drug store.

Prompt work on the part of Mr. Chisum, Mrs. Chisum and Mrs. Alice Bolton prevented the flames from spreading and the fire was soon extinguished. A large hole was burned in the roof.

D. B. Seale, who ranches up on Rockey Creek sends in a dollar and a half for the New Era's visits, and requests that we inquire of Gandeshone when it is going to rain. Entertainment Saturday Night.

The program at the high school auditorium last Saturday night, in connection with the declamations for the interscholastic meet, was a very enjoyable and entertaining arrangement. Those appearing on the program were Miss Pauline Ethridge, violinist; Mrs. R. N. Hicks, soloist, and Austin Carlton, violinist; Harold Young, soloist and Miss Fuller, piano accompanist. Each number was enthusiastically encored, the entertainers being called back a number of times. The declamations by children from the various county schools were fine, every one of them being given in such a pleasing manner as to make it difficult for the judges to award first and second premiums.

A petition was being circulated this week asking the postoffice department to retain the present Bandera-Tarpley mail service as it is. We understand that a petition has been circulated and sent in by parties in the western part of the county asking the department to change this mail route and permit it to be carried from Hondo to Tarpley. Should the change be granted it is likely that a rural route from Bandera to take in the East Verde, Middle Verde and Tarpley regions will be asked for.

Good Street Work.

Some good work has been done on Eleventh Street from the J. E. Chisum residence up to the business district. This improvement was made possible through substantial donations of Herman Harper, J. E. Chisum, C. Y. Billings, John H Erwin, I. E. Adamietz, and others.

Work has been started on the grading and graveling of Main Street from the Court House Square to beyond Mulberry Street, the work being done by popular subscription. It has been proposed also to do considerable work on the east end of this street by grading and cutting down the steep hill in front of the Ranchmen & Farmers' warehouse, providing a direct route to the bridge at the Castroville Crossing on the river.

Some cash and several wagons and teams have been volunteered for the Main Street work, which has already started, with Frank Mansfield and his tractor on the job. If sufficient cash can be raised the grading and graveling will be extended to where the recent grading was done on the Mansfield Lane on the Medina road. All who will help in this work are urged to put their names to the subscription list which can be found at the Billings drug store.

Arm Broken.

Smith Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. O A. Stevens, is carrying his arm in a sling, having sustained a fracture yesterday when a stick of wood flew up and struck him as he was cutting wood.

Uncle Andy Jones was in from Myrtle Creek Tuesday and informed us that he is feeling fine these days. Uncle Andy has been "under the weather" for some time, and his friends will be glad to know that he is rapidly regaining his health.

Prof. L. L. McDonald, accompanied by Warren and Marvin Hunter, went to Medina Monday On the way up a front wheel ran off the Ford and Professor McDonald was thrown against the windshield of the auto sustaining slight bruises about the face, but otherwise no damage was done.

Monday afternoon the residence of Joe E. Chisum was discovered to be on fire, the roof having become ignited near a flue. Prompt work on the part of Mr. Chisum, Mrs. Chisum and Mrs. Alice Bolton prevented the flames from spreading and the fire was soon extinguished. A large hole was burned in the roof.

D. B. Seale, who ranches up on Rockey Creek, sends in a dollar and a half for the New Era's visits, and requests that we inquire of Ganderhone when it is going to rain. We received his letter Tuesday, and immediately got in touch with the prognostigator who calmly informed us that Brother Seale would get his rain in due time.

It's a bit early to nominate a candidate for a state office, but the early bird usually gets the worm, so we are going to hoist the name of a Bandera county born and raised son for governor of Texas—Hon. Claud Hudspeth, the present congressman from this district. Mrs. Ferguson may be a candidate to succeed herself as governor, but if we remember rightly she made the statement that she wanted only one term as governor in order to vindicate her husband, ex-governor Jim Ferguson. Therefore we are going to boost Claud Hudspeth. It's about time old Bandera county should get some recognition, and what would be more fitting than the selection of an old Bandera county boy as governor of Texas? Therefore and thereby, all previous party affiliations to the contrary notwithstanding, we place before the people the name of Honorable Claud Hudspeth for Governor of Texas.

An old fashioned spelling match will be one of the features of the Old Settlers' Reunion to be held here July 3rd and 4th. The old Blue Backed Speller will be used, and only old settlers will be allowed participate in the match. It is said that Jack Olliff and Mrs Gleamer Hicks used to "spell down" all the boys and girls of the old days, and we hope they can be persuaded to enter the match next reunion. Within a short time we hope to receive a number of the old Blue Backed Spelling books and they will be distributed over the county so all of the old timers can "study up" and get ready for the match. Charlie Eckhart says Lee Risinger may be able to spell Constantinople, but he can't pronounce the syllables as he spells and get the word right.

Congressman Claude Hudspeth has advised his old friend, J W. Short, that he will attend the reunion of the Old Settlers of Bandera County, to be held at Bandera July 3rd and 4th. Claud Hudspeth was born in a little cabin on the banks of the Medina river, near Bandera, and lays claim to being an "old settler" of this county, therefore his home-coming at a time when all of the old settlers get together in reunion will be a most opportune time for him to greet them all once more.

Dave Cox was in to see the editor Friday, and was asking if the bacon which a sneak thief recently stole from his brother Jim Cox, was of the lean razor-back variety. After considerable questioning we found that Uncle Dave is minus about fifty pounds of lard, stolen from his premises a few night ago. He blames his brother, Jim, to some extent, not with the theft of the lard, but for keeping on hand such a poor grade of bacon that the thief who steals it must perforce steal lard in which to fry it.

Bandera Authors Get Write-up.

T S. Dennis and Mrs. T. S. Dennis are the joint authors of "The Life of F. M. Buckelew, the Indian Captive," as written by himself, The book is printed by Hunter's Printing House, Bandera. A picture of F M. Buckelew, in the costume of an Indian chief appears upon the frontispiece of the book. Mr. Dennis states in his introduction that it is his desire as well as that of Mr. Buckelew to present in this book a true story of the adventures of Mr Buckelew while he was a captive of the Indians. Facts, not fiction, are presented in the order of their occurrence, and the life of Mr. Buckelew, as an Indian chief appears upon the frontispiece of the book. Mr. Dennis states in his introduction that it is his desire as well as that of Mr. Buckelew to present in this book a true story of the adventures of Mr Buckelew while he was a captive of the Indians. Facts, not fiction, are presented in the order of their occurrence, and the life of Mr. Buckelew, as it was patiently and carefully lived by himself, is included in the 14 chapters. The events related in this book reflect the noble, fearless, absolutely unselfish service of a Texas pioneer, one who has looked into the face of death and danger, ever ready to defend the weak against the strong and whose faith in Texas and her supreme destiny has never faltered. The book will be of value as well as interest to those of us who are interested in our early border and frontier life, in our early Indian characters, their warfare, their powers and gifts of friendship and, most of all, in the early pioneer life of our state, which is the foundation stone of our great and ever-greater civilization of today. A number of very good poems of T S. Dennis appear throughout the book, one of which we give:

A CONQUERED RACE.

Your tomahawks and bows are now at rest;
No more you sing and dance in war display,
Your savage hands no more our blood can spill;
Your strength and number greatly have decreased,
Now with our civil hands we hold you still.
Vast lands through which your savage feet have roamed
Where beasts and murderous men have had their homes,
We live in peace in all this wide domain
No more shall savage men and beasts of prey

Attention, Old Settlers.

Send your dollar to Mrs. Chas. Eckhart at once to pay membership dues in the Bandera County Old Settlers' Association. If you have lived in Bandera County more than sixty years you do not have to pay dues. You will be supplied with a handsome new badge which will entitle you to all of the privileges of the reunion on July 3rd and 4th. Your last year's badge will not carry you in, as the new badges will be of different color. Help the organization by sending your dues to Mrs. Eckhart soon.

The County Meet held in Bandera last Saturday was the best that has been held in Bandera County in a number of years. More interest seems to be taken in scholastic affairs, which is indeed gratifying.

Stop Night Coughing This Simple Way

People who have persistent, annoying coughing spells at night, and who through fear of disturbing others, are weakening their vitality and laying themselves open to dangerous illness, can stop their distressing trouble promptly by a very simple treatment. Thousands have already been able to rest at all for coughing, have enjoyed their first night's sleep the very first time they tried it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known to druggists as "Thoxine." Simply ask for Thoxine, the exact name, and take at bedtime one teaspoonful before retiring and hold in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, washing it down with water. The prescription has a double action, for not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and concretions which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is that you usually get a refreshing night's sleep and awake next morning the entire cough condition gone in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children croupy and spasmodic cough—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. It is on sale at all good druggists. Adv

A Hospitable Home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M Hilnter, Miss Myra Jennette Hunter, Miss Rechel Hunter, Miss Aleen Stevens, Miss Minnie Mae Mansfield, N. H. Rose, and Marvin Hunter, Jr. went up to Lima Sunday and partook of the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Keese, enjoying a most excellent dinner prepared by Mrs. Keese and her charming daughter, Miss Sylva. Mr. Keese has a beautiful location on the banks of the Medina river and Wright's Creek, and just behind his home a majestic peak rears its crest, while on every side some distance away are crags and cliffs and enchanting scenery. Springs are to be found all along the river and one of these springs has been equipped with a Hydraulic ram which lifts the water up to a height of forty-seven feet and carries it into the house, a simple but effective and reliable means of pumping, and installed by Mrs. Keese. We were treated so royally that we are going back there again some of these days when we can make a longer stay. While there we attended services at the Church of Christ and heard Brother Swinney preach during the morning service, and Bro. Val Click discoursed in the afternoon. Both services were enjoyed, the house being filled to overflowing and attended by a large crowd. All together we spent a most enjoyable and profitable day last Sunday

Mrs. Fannie Devoll.

Mrs. Fannie Devoll, nee Fannie Baker, died Thursday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, near Pipe Creek, and was buried at Pipe Creek cemetery Friday afternoon, J. M. Hunter, editor of the New Era, conducting the funeral.

Mrs. Devoll was a resident of Kerrville, and about a week before her death she came to visit her parnts. She has been in bad health for some time, but her condition was not considered serious until Thursday, when she became worse suddenly and soon passed away.

Deceased was born and raised near Pipe Creek, and had a host of friends. She was born March 13, 1881, and was married to E. E. Devoll September 19, 1900. Three children were born to this union, one son and two daughters.

Death is no respecter of persons; the high and the low, the rich and the poor, the mighty and the weak, must all pass away, but in the passing of this good woman we are made very sad because she was known to so many of the old settlers of the Bandera region, where she was born and grew to womanhood. To the bereaved husband and children, and to the aged parents and other relatives the New Era extends condolence and sympathy and would assure them that a crown has been provided for her in the home "over there" where she awaits their coming.

Tarpley to Build School House.

Construction of Tarpley's new school building is to begin soon, and will be pushed to completion before the opening of the next school term. The new house is to consist of three class rooms of 22x30 feet, with hall, cloak room and library. It is to be constructed of lumber, and will cost approximately $3,500.

Fire Fighting Apparatus.

J. M. Bruff, of Center Point was in the city Tuesday to interest our business men in the proposition of purchasing a chemical fire engine, and we hope he will meet with success, for if there is anything Bandera needs more than something else it is a fire fighting equipment. This town is absolutely without fire protection, and our insurance rate is almost prohibitive. If we had a chemical engine, not only would our insurance rate be lowered, but we would be able to save our homes and business houses in the event of a fire. A meeting is called for next Monday night at Cox Hall to take steps toward getting a chemical engine. Mr. Bruff will be on hand to explain the merits of the chemical engine he sells.

Notice to Medina Subscribers.

For the convenience of the New Era subscribers at Medina, we have arranged with Miss Beulah Smith at Wm. Hatfield's store in Medina to receive subscription payments. Those who wish to pay their subscription to either the New Era or Frontier Times may call there and pay same, and it will be properly credited on our books.

The street work which has been done in Bandera during the past two or three weeks is certainly commendable, and we hope the good work will continue. If any town on the face of the globe ever needed street work Bandera needs it. Let's open Main street to the Castroville Crossing, so our visitors can go direct to the bridge without having to go around the world.

The next number of Frontier Times, to be issued April 15th, will contain an interesting sketch of the battle of Bandera Pass, fought by Jack Hays and his gallant rangers in 1842. This story will be of considerable interest to the school children of Bandera county, and teachers are urged to read it to their classes.

It's dull with the local doctors. About all they are doing now is swapping stories. Dr. Erwin told a reporter that he recently received a letter something like this: "Dear doctor: Your medicine did me a world of good. Before I started taking the medicine, I didn't have strength to spank my baby, but now I can whip my husband. The Lord bless you."

Mrs. Katherine Frederickson, of North Pleasanton, sends in her renewal to the New Era, with the following cheering message: "We want you to know how much we appreciate your efforts in giving us such a good home paper. Its visits to us are just like the coming of a beloved friend and we read every word, including the advertisements."

Judge Sam O'Bryant, who now lives at Tafft, California, sends in his renewal subscription to the little old home paper. Judge O'Bryant has many friends in this county who will be pleased to know that he is doing well in the Golden State.

Bandera High School will close April 23rd. We will publish the names of the graduates next week. This has been one of the most successful terms of school Bandera has ever had, there being more harmony and more interest taken in the school work than ever before. The faculty composed of Prof. L. L. McDonald, Otis Johns, Miss Lila Johnson, Miss Lois Miller and Mrs. L. L. McDonald, has performed faithful and efficient service for our children and our community, and we are all hoping the good that has been accomplished this term will be continued next year.

Joe G. Callahan, highway foreman, has had his crew of hands repairing grade near the ice factory, and will shortly put in a concrete culvert at that point. This has been needed for a long time.

"Class Play at Pipe Creek.

The graduating class of Pipe Creek High School will, on-to-morrow night, Friday, April 3rd, present that highly interesting play, entitled "The Winning Widow," with the following cast of characters:

Reginald Wrighty—The Philadelphia Wrighty.

.....Webb McKandles
Harry Deape, of Boston, cousin, of Bess.....Joseph Villemain
Mrs. Elizabeth Snowden, a wealthy widow.....Louise Villemain
.....Gertrude Edwards
Bess Warner, known as Bess Jones, the maid.....Bessie Krause

Synopsis of the Play.

Act I—Kitty and Margaret take turns at confidences. Harry and Bess are mutually surprised. "I forbid you to know one thing!" Mrs. Snowden knows the Cuthbert Deanes and the Philadelphia Wrights, but Kitty and Margaret are left in the cold, as daughters who "do not like men." Bess receives a third confidence, but by her blunders in the delivery of her notes, precipitates considerable misunderstanding on the part of all concerned. "What can she mean?"

Act II—Kitty prepares for a call, but is forestalled by Margaret, who in turn gives place to the widow, who plays a lone hand. Elizabeth is shocked and worried over unexpected developments in the conduct of her manhating daughters, but is relieved in spite of her chagrin to learn that the herself was really the guilty one. Bess determine sto make no more mitsakes, but the girls are surprised by the coolness of their suitors. "Don't let Mamma see you!" Harry and Reginald have an encounter, but Bess prevents too violent a climax and brings about a disclosure. "He is my cousin!" "Have I not also found my wife!". Reginald follows suit by stating his claim and making the high bid for favor. "Mamma does not not like men." The girls propose terms of surrender and finally give their consent and blessing. "Come, my dear!"

After the play a negro faree in one act entitled, "Love and Lather," will be given.

At the Baptist Church, Pipe Creek, Friday night, April 3. Admission 15c and 25c.

Jim Walker, who ranches up near Lima, was a visitor in the metropolis Saturday, and informed us that he is not going to enter the "greased pig" contest at the Old Settlers' reunion if Bill Haught is allowed to enter, for there will be no possible chance for him to win the prize. He says a man who can lift a sleeping pig out of a litter and carry it a mile and a half before it wakes up will encounter no trouble in catching a pig that has been greased.

Attention, Old Settlers.

Send your dollar to Mrs. Chas. Eckhart at once to pay membership dues in the Bandera County Old Settlers' Association. If you have lived in Bandera County more than sixty years you do not have to pay dues. You will be supplied with a handsome new badge which will entitle you to all of the privileges of the reunion on July 3rd and 4th. Your last year's badge will not carry you in, as the new badges will be of different color. Help the organization by sending your dues to Mrs. Eckhart soon.

An Oklahoma editor, just about ready to send his forms to press, "pied" a couple of articles, one concerning a public ssle and the other a write up of a wedding. He asked the office devil to get the two together—and he did.

Here is how he got them together, and the mixture was not known to the editor until an angry preacher and the mother of the bride appeared on the scene:

"William Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at my barn one mile east of a beautiful chisler of roses on her breast and two white calves before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of seventy guests including two milch cows, two mules and a bob sled.

Rev. Jackson tied the knot with two hundred feet of hay rope; the bridal couple left on one John Deer gang plow for an extensive trip with terms to suit the purchaser. They will be at home to their friends with one wheelbarrow and a few kitchen utensils after ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and some fifty chickens."

Mrs. R. B. Forest and son, Reese, of Medina, passed through Bandera Tuesday en route to San Antonio on a visit.

Miss Charlotte McDonald, who is attending Westmoorland College came up from San Antonio to spend spring vacation with her parents, Professor and Mrs. L. L. McDonald. She returned to San Antonio Tuesday.

Mrs. J. A. Mitchell, of near Camp Verde, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Price, several days last week. She came over to attend the funeral of Grandma White, who has been seriously ill.

Ed H. Herpel, of the Herpel Motor Company, was over from Boerne Tuesday, and paid us a visit. Mr. Herpel is strictly a Ford booster, and is well pleased with the increasing Ford business that comes to his firm from old Bandera county.

Fred Thalmann leaves today for Fort Worth with a shipment of 270 Easter lambs he will put on the market there. Mr. Thalmann has been feeding these lambs for several weeks and has them in prime condition to bring fancy prices.

Mrs. Roy Sullivan and two little sons, Freeman and Bobbie, arrived Tuesday on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. M. M. Hunt. She will spend several days here and at Medina with relatives. Before marriage Mrs. Sullivan was Miss Sannie Freeman and she formerly lived at Medina.

A. Habenicht, who owns a valuable farm north of town, was in to see us Tuesday and ordered the New Era sent to his daughter, Miss Martha, at San Antonio. Mr. Habenicht informs us that he has just finished painting his home, and says he feels like he is in new quarters.

J. E. Brownlng was here from Medina Tuesday, armed with a grubbing hoe. Speculation was rife as to his purpose in carrying around such a weapon, and the local game warden kept an eye on him lest he sneak around to Dr Erwin's back lot and dig worms for fishing purposes, but it finally developed that he was just getting ready to put up a tombstone which he had recently sold to a party here.

Buy your shoes from C. W. Davis. Made to measure shoes, guaranteed to fit, or he makes them fit. 2tp

Mrs. J. R. Price has purchased a knitting machine and is now knitting socks for a large manufacturing concern in Pennsylvania, the firm taking all of her production. She knits about twenty-four pairs of woolen socks per day, and the work is excellent. We can attest to this fact, for Mrs. Price brought the editor a pair of the socks for his individual wear. Some people say an editor does not wear socks but here's one that really owns a good pair, and he is mighty proud of them.

Albert Bryant Dead.

Albert D. Bryant, aged 64, died at his home in this city Monday afternoon, and was buried in Bandera cemetery Wednesday, the funeral being conducted at the Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Washington. Mr. Bryant had been ill for several months.

Albert D. Bryant was born in Tennessee December 28th, 1861, and came to Bandera with his parents in 1874. He was married to Miss Nannie Jones at Moore, Texas, March 10, 1885. To this union ten children were born, all of them now living except one who died in infancy. These children are: Albert Bryant, Jr., of Ray Arizona; Mrs. John Clark, of Tarpley, Louis W. Bryant of Eagle Pass, Sam J. Bryant of San Antonio, Stanley N. Bryant of Goose Creek, Mrs. Otis Jones of Houston, C. Bradley Bryant and Dixie Bryant of Bandera. Twelve grandchildren also survive him. About seventeen years ago Mr. Bryant moved away from Bandera, but last year returned, broken in health, and in hopes that our climate would restore him. He was a good man, and in his passing his family loses a kind and affectionate husband and father, and the community a good citizen. To the sorrowing wife and children, the New Era extends condolence and sympathy.

To Lane Next Week.

Frontier Times, Bandera's little magazine will be issued from the press next week. It will be the May number. This little magazine, which is now nearly two years old, continues to grow in popular favor, its circulation extending all over the United States. The May number will contain the following interesting sketches: "Childhood Memories," "The Eldridge Expedition," "The Old Frontier," "Massacre of Henry Warren's Trail," "The Battle of Bandera Pass," "Old Camp Verde and the Camels," "Adventures of Jack Dobell," "Exciting Chase After Indians," "Origin of Jim Ned and Mukewater." Every one of these stories will interest the student of Texas history, as real history too. No fiction in Frontier Times.

Good Play.

The entertainment given by the graduating class of Pipe Creek High School, at the Baptist church in Pipe Creek last Friday night, was well attended and we are informed that it was fine in every way. The play given by the class was entitled, "The Winning Widow." A negro minstrel was also given.

Receives a Fine Bull.

Adolf Kutzer went to Sabinal last week to receive a double Polled Hereford yearling bull from Mr Gammon, of Des Moines, Iowa, originator of Polled Herefords. Mr. Kutzer will use his bull on the Midway Stock Farm.

Rolling Your Dollars

Ideals and interests change all through life. The man of fifty smiles at the child "rolling its hoop"—while in a different way he is doing the same—with dollars.

The wise man—the thoughtful man, however, has an objective for his dollars. Invariably he roths his dollars to a place where he can put them to work for him. And what better place is there than a bank?

Watch the successful men of Bandera and you will see them coming regularly to this bank. It is well worth your while to consider this. If you spend a little less than you make—and bank the difference—soon you will have dollars to play with.

Good Picture Tomorrow Night.

The picture to be shown at the Bandera Theater tomorrow night, entitled "The Way of a Man," will please the most exacting. A good two reel comedy "A Royal Rogue" will also be shown. Special music score arranged by the Bandera Theater Orchestra. Show starts at 8:30 sharp. If you want to be pleased and entertained come out to the Bandera Theater Friday night. It is strictly a home institution.

Child Ran Over.

When Billie Burns started his truck, on Main Street Saturday afternoon, he did not notice his little child standing by the truck. The little fellow was knocked down and the car passed over him, but luckily the wheels missed his body, and the child was unhurt.

Delightful Social.

Miss Minnie Bruce entertained the graduating class of Bandera High School last Saturday night. The Bruce home was decorated with the class colors and favors were given. Those who attended report this social to be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season.

Grading and graveling of the street leading out to connect with the Medina road is going steadily forward, and will likely be finished this week. Frank Mansfield with his tractor and the highway grader, and a lively crew of volunteers has been doing some good building on this road.

At the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio last Saturday we ran up against Captain J. B. Gillett, of Marfa, who, with Mrs. Gillett, has been spending the past month in San Antonio. Captain Gillett informed us that he will likely attend the Old Settlers reunion at Bandera July 3rd and 4th. For many years he was connected with the Texas Rangers, in the early days, and used to come here. We also found our good friend Col. W. K. Baylor, at the Gunter, and had a very pleasant comfab with him. Both Captain Gillett and Colonel Baylor are contributors and boosters for Frontier Times.

It is said that it takes all kinds of people to make up this old world, and it takes a small band of people to make a town or build a community. You may not like that neighbor of yours because his chickens scratch up your garden, or because his old brindle cat caterwauls on your back fence, but if he is trying to do something for the betterment of the community, or to accomplish something that will be of lasting benefit to your children or your other neighbors, for goodness sake don't let your dislike of him cause you to hamper his efforts. If you can't pull with him, don't pull against him.

In San Antonio Saturday night, while we were prowling around the printing offices, we found our good friend, C. E. Salter, editor of the Kerrville Mountain Sun, who is spending a few days in San Antonio taking treatment for sciatic rheumatism. He informed us that he is greatly improved and hopes to soon be well. Some years ago Mr. Salter and the New Era editor were following the mechanical end of the printing game in San Antonio, and now we are both becoming famous as editors in the glorious Hill Country, but every time we go to San Antonio we just have to go around and sympathize with the boys who are still in their sins in the composing rooms of the Express and the Light.

While we were in San Antonio last Saturday we dropped in to get acquainted with the new management of the Arthur hotel, near the postoffice. The hotel advertises in the New Era, and we would urge Bandera people to to stop there when in the Alamo City. It has been thoroughly renovated throughout and furnished in elaborate style, and is clean in every way. It is just such a place as you desire, where your wife and daughter will be safe, and you can find ideal home conditions. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bourland are in charge of the Arthur Hotel, and you will find them to be excellent people, folks you will be glad to meet.

It was our good pleasure to spend last Sunday with Col. George W. Saunders, at the Union Stock Yards in San Antonio. Col. Saunders is one of the busiest men in San Antonio during the week days, and our social visit to him could be made only on Sunday, and even then he and his business on his mind. He has arranged with one the largest publishing houses in the South to bring out a larger edition of his book, "The Trail Drivers of Texas," the two volumes to be combined into one massive volume. We found him very enthusiastic over the erection of the proposed monument to the old trail drivers, for he feels that the citizens of San Antonio are going to do their part in helping to raise the necessary funds for the monument. Outside donations continue to come in, but San Antonio has been very slow in raising her quota. We always enjoy being with Col. Saunders, and usually absorb some of his enthusiasm when we go to see him, for he is always optimistic and radiates good cheer and hopefulness, no matter what the general conditions are.

The New Era has ordered some of the old Blue Back Spelling books for distribution to its friends. This old book which our parents and grandparents used when they went to school, is now out of use, and it was by the rarest chance that we discovered where we could purchase a limited quantity at a price that we could afford to pay. We are going to offer these spelling books to our readers at 42 cents each, postpaid. If you wish to secure one please send in your order early, as our supply will be limited to 100 copies. Get one of these books and prepare for the Old Folks Spelling Match at the Old Settlers' Reunion which will take place July 3rd and 4th.

A Bandera man who had an idea that everything was so much better in other places than in his own home town, took a trip recently to a neighboring town and spent several days there, just to get away from home. He had run in his own grove here so long that he felt it would be a treat to get out and see how other people do things. In the town where he spent his visit he found many things that he did not think existed anywhere besides in Bandera. For instance, he learned that there were two or three factions pulling against each other in that town; and he learned that but few people were willing to take the lead in public matters and for the upbuilding of the town for that very reason. He also discovered that the chamber of commerce in that town had been relegated to the realms of inocuous desuetude, and to all intents and purposes had been pronounced dead. This was a shock to him, because he had always thought that town had a live working commercial body. But the greatest shock came when he was informed that the majority of the people in that town were indifferent to anything that was for the upbuilding of the community. So he packed up his duds and came home, realizing that old Bandera was just as good if not a little better, than the other town after all.

Notice to Medina Subscribers.

For the convenience of the New Era subscribers at Medina we have arranged with Miss Beulah Smith at Wm. Hatfield's store in Medina to receive subscription payments. Those who wish to pay their subscription to either the New Era or Frontier Times may call there and pay same, and it will be properly credited on our books.

Try Again Saturday Night.

Last Monday night a meeting should have been held at Cox Hall for the purpose of taking steps toward securing a fire fighting apparatus for Bandera, but there were so few people who came out to the meeting that nothing was done. It was decided to try to get together next Saturday night to start the ball a rollin' and raise funds with which to get a chemical engine, so you are urged to be there, for there is anything Bandera needs it is fire protection. Every property owner in this town knows this to be a fact, and why so little interest is being taken in the matter is more than we can understand. Perhaps it will take a disastrous fire to make us wake up to our needs, but what good will a fire engine be to us when our buildings have been burned? Now, don't forget the meeting next Saturday night.

Bandera seems to be getting a goodly portion of the road shows that are passing this way, and they seem to be more numerous this season than ever before. Some of them are fairly good, but some are absolutely rotten.

New Headlight Law.

All testing of headlights of automobiles and other motor vehicles as provided for under the law passed by the legislature at the recent session will be done at the direction of Read Granberry, graduate of the College of Engineering. He will be assisted by Dirk Normand and Harry Brelsford, both former students of the University, and by Mrs. Louise Liscovich. The law goes into effect on July 1st and the testing of headlight devices will begin at that time. Due to the fact, however, that it will require some time to adjust existing headlights as to comply with the new act and to install the devices that may be approved so as to bring them within Class A, the enforcement of the law will not be started until September 1. It is thought that approximately 90 per cent of the headlights now in use may be adjusted to or bring them within the requirements of the law.

New Fish and Game Laws.

By the adoption in both branches of the Wood-Wolfe bill the game laws of this State have been entirely revised. The season on all game is shortened by two weeks; daily and weekly bag limits are reduced, and two distinct hunting zones are prescribed by the bill as finally adopted. The measure is now in the hands of the Governor for approval.

Under the terms of the new law, the log limit on ducks is reduced from 25 to two, and all ducks killed must have a pronged horn. The open season on deer and turkey is made November 16 to December 31 and the bag limit on turkeys remains three gobblers.

The bill also creates two hunting zones for quail, doves, plover and geese. This is in conformity with the federal law and I. G. N. Railroad from Laredo to Longview and the Texas Pacific from Longview to Texarkana are made the boundary line. In the north zone the open season on quail is November 16 to January 1; on doves September and October; on ducks and geese, Oct. 16 to Jan. 10. In the south zone, quail, Dec. 1 to Jan. 16; doves, November and December; ducks and geese, November 1 to Jan. 31.

Bag limits are: Quail, 12 in one day, 36 in one week; doves, 15 in one day and 45 in a week; prairie chicken, open season all over Texas from Sept. 1 to Sept 10, inclusive, bag limit 5 in one day and 10 during the open season.

Open season on bear, Nov. 16 to December 31; bag limit, one during the season.

Open season on squirrels both zones, months of May, June, July and October November and December, bag limit 10 a day.

No closed season on squirrels in DeWitt, Caldwell, Guadalupe, San Saba, Mason, Gillespie, Llano, Menard, Kerr, Bandera, Real, Uvalde, Medina, Bexar, Comal, Hays, Travis, Williamson, Bell, Lee, Burnet, Mills, Edwards, and Schleicher counties.

This act according to representative Wells provides for licenses and regulation of shooting clubs, the creation of game sanctuaries and preserves, the issuance of licenses to dealers in game birds and raises the fee for a non-resident hunting license to $25. The present resident hunting license is unchanged that is a license costing $2 is required only for one hunting outside of the county of his residence Wells explained.

Changes were so made in the present fishing laws both in salt and fresh waters making the use of trot lines illegal and also in all running streams and connecting lakes as well as to public waters; it prohibits the sale or purchase of black bass, Rio Grande crappie or white perch in the State.

NO TRESPASSING

No hunting, trapping, cutting of bee trees, or trespassing allowed on my land. I will pay a liberal reward for information that will lead to the conviction of any party or parties tearing down and going over my fences.—Hudson Ranch, H. G. Hasse, prop. Mar1-12m

Mr. and Mrs S H Fish and his father, Capt. Elias Fish, were down from Bluff last Thursday and paid us a visit. Captain Fish was our neighbor in those wilds, and often sympathized with us no doubt knowing that sooner or later we would awake to find our "dream" a real nightmare. The New Era welcomes him to our midst. We hope Mr. Graham will continue to be a citizen of Bandera county, for he has lived here most of his life and is held in high esteem by all who know him.

Married Sunday.

Jeff Gray and Miss Agatha Pyka were happily married last Sunday morning, Rev. H. L. Atkins performing the ceremony. The wedding was a very quiet affair; the young people driving out to the home of Rev. Atkins and after the ceremony returning to town. Rev. Atkins, the bride's former minister, who has long been confined to his bed, was unable to stand to perform the ceremony, but the young couple took their stand nearby and as Rev. Atkins lay in bed he spoke the words that united them in the holy bonds of wedlock. Mr. and Mrs. Dock Blakeney, Mrs. Atkins and Mrs. Oscar Fredericksen being present to witness the ceremony. An excellent wedding dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Gray.

For the present the newly married couple will go light housekeeping at the Langford House, but in a short while they will occupy a cottage in the western part of the city.

The bride and groom have many friends here who extend to them congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy married life, and the New Era joins in all these good wishes.

Captain Leopold Haby and his son, Arnold, were up from his Medina Lake ranch Tuesday. Captain Haby informs us that the force of the Medina Lake ranch has recently been augmented by the addition of a new cowboy, Mr. Ashby, who has been employed by the past month owing to the lack of rainfall.

Rolling Your Dollars

Ideals and interests change all through life. The man of fifty smiles at the child "rolling its hoop" while in a different way he is doing the same with dollars.

The wise man—the thoughtful man, however, has an objective for his dollars. Invariably he rolls his dollars to a place where he can put them to work for him. And what better place is there than a bank?

Watch the successful men of Bandera and you will see them coming regularly to this bank. It is well worth your while to consider this. If you spend a little less than you make—and bank the difference—soon you will have dollars to play with.

The First State Bank of Bandera

Mrs. Beatrice Steadham.

Gordon Evans received the sad news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Beatrice Steadham, nee Miss Beatrice Evans, which occurred at Beaumont on Tuesday of last week. Mrs. Steadham spent most of her childhood days in this vicinity, and has many friend here who will regret to learn of her death. She moved to Uvalde in 1904 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Evans, and some time afterwards was married to Will Steadham of that city, who, with one son, survives her. A short time ago Mrs Steadham sustained a broken hip, and her condition became so serious that it was necessary to amputate the limb, and her death followed. The New Era extends condolence and sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Ranch Home Destroyed.

The commodious ranch home of Granville Wright was destroyed by fire of unknown origin last Thursday morning. Mr. Wright and his son, Johnnie, were on the range when the fire was discovered smoke pouring from the windows and roof. They hastened there, but succeeded in saving only a few articles of household furniture when they were driven out by the flames. The house was a large five-room structure, and was partially covered by insurance. The contents were not insured, and were a total loss.

Rev. Fryckberg Honored

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will be in regular session at the church Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. After an interesting program, stressing Christian fellowship, and the regular business meeting, the members of the society were invited over to the parsonage. Here a social hour was enjoyed, at the end of which Mrs. Washington, acting as hostess, assisted by Mrs. T. W. North, served the following refreshments: egg and pimento cheese sandwiches, fruit salad, cake, and punch. Easter suggestions were carried out in the table centerpiece, which consisted of a tall vase of lilies and roses, surrounded by Bunny and her eggs. At the close of the refreshment hour Mrs. Fryckberg, who was honor guest, was presented by Master John Cox in the name of the Society, a basket of Easter eggs. Concealed inside of each egg were the parting sentiments of a member for Mrs. Fryckberg, who with her daughters, Misses Hollice, Donna and Elinor, is moving soon to San Antonio.

Undergoes Operation.

Mrs. R. E. Willis, of Tarpley, was taken to San Antonio last Friday night, where she underwent an operation for acute appendicitis. She is steadily improving at a hospital there, and Mr. Willis, who had been with her, returned from San Antonio Tuesday.

Miss Harriet Jennet Laxson.

Miss Hattie Laxson died at her home in this city shortly after noon last Sunday, after a long illness. She had been a sufferer for some time with asthma, and recently had an attack of influenza, but was getting along very well when she succumbed to heart failure. Funeral services were conducted to the cemetery Monday morning by Rev. R. N. Hicks, pastor of the Baptist church.

Miss Hattie Laxson was born near Bandera July 19, 1875, and was reared here. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laxson, who survive her. Surviving also are three brothers, David Laxson of Pecos, Texas, Jesse Laxson of Beaumont, and Perry Laxson of Bandera.

Deceased was beloved by all who knew her, for she was a kind and generous woman, and a great comfort to her aged parents, whom she tenderly looked after and waited upon and cared for. Her sudden death came as a great shock to the whole community, and the bereaved family has the sympathy of all.

Last Sunday afternoon we had the pleasure of stopping for a few minutes at the delightful ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Q. T. Stevens at Bandera Pass, as we were returning from Kerrville. Mr. Stevens has a beautiful location, and extensive holdings, but informed us that his range was in need of rain.

Hopes pay a few dividends—unless generated today by an active and practical plan of action. Stabilizing by of ambition, searching for the rainbow's end—and a pot of gold—is a fruitless task.

The pot of gold is not there except when by your own effort you put it there. Start today by spending a little less than you make. Follow that simple plan—and bank the difference. Bank it with us. It works for you here at the rate of 4½% interest annually.

"Ma" Ferguson, Texas' first woman governor, resurrected the board of pardons, and since her induction into office has pardoned around five hundred convicts. We notice that most of these pardons are issued to men who have been convicted of violating the liquor laws, and next comes men convicted of murder. We had hopes that when Mrs. Ferguson became governor of the great state in the Union that she would dignify the office, but the wholesale issuance of pardons is not the way to do it.

The New Era is constantly clamoring for better things for Bandera. We have noticed some good results from the constant agitation, but at times we feel that our efforts are without avail.

The meeting called for last Saturday night to consider the purchase of a fire-fighting aparatus, failed to materialize. Only three or four citizens came together, and of course, due to lack of interest nothing was done.

Get one of the old Blue Back Spellers and prepare for the old fashioned spelling match at the Old Settlers reunion. The match will be conducted after the ing to the old way of "choose up and spell down," and those who are chosen to spell will be expected to respond promptly. Get a speller and be ready.

Despite the long drouth which this region throughout the past fall and winter, range and crop conditions held up well. Many of our stockmen have had to feed their cattle and goats the past month or two, but with a good general rain the range will soon gren up and feeding will cease. Compared to other sections of the state of Bandera county is not in such bad conditions, and we have much to be thankful for.

Bandera Boys Make Records.

Mr. A. T. Valentine, of the Bureau of Plant Industry of the A. & M. College, writes the New Era as follows:

"Bandera youths have always played a prominent part in student and scholastic activities at Texas A. and M. College. "Loper" Short wasprominent as a yell leader, Howard Christian Eckhart figured very prominently in the annual college rodeo and was one of the foremost Animal Husbandry students, and Delbert A. Hicks, another Bandera boy, is distinguishing himself as one of the State's leading student horticulturists. He is especially interested in the culture of pecans and this week is in Bandera doing special budding on native trees in Bandera county. Due to his proven ability as a pecan budder, he has been granted a special furlough for a week. When Delbert graduates we hope that he will take a position with the Texas Extension Service."

Trappers Must Secure License.

Persons who trap wild animals in Texas under a new law in force are required to take out a license and it is advisable for those who desire to trap fur-bearing animals to investigate the provisions of the law and follow its edicts. Fur-bearing animals in Texas coming under the effects of the law include beaver, otter, mink, wild ringtail cat, polecat or skunk, raccoon, muskrat, opossum, fox, eivet cat. This law does not apply to people ridding their premises of such animals in order to keep them from destroying poultry, and applies strictly to trapping, where the pelts are to be used in a sale or barter. Some sections of this law are severe, for instance:

Section 8—It shall be unlawful for any person to kill or have in his possession for barter or sale within a period of ten years of the passage of this act any wild beaver, wild otter or wild fox, or the pelts thereof.

Section 9—It shall be unlawful for any person to kill or take for sale or barter any of the wild fur-bearing animals, muskrats, excepted, or other pelts permitted to be killed or taken by this act, for sale or barter, between the 10th day of Feburary and the 30th day of November of any year, both days included in the closed season. The prohibited season on muskrats shall be from March 15th to November 15th.

Notice to Mohair Growers.

We expect to sell our accumulation of mohair soon, and therefore desire that all hair be brought in to the warehouse as soon as possible in order that shipment may be made immediately after the sale, thus enabling you to get your returns more promptly.—Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association.

To My Friends.

I am grateful to my friends for their loyalty in patronizing my picture show last Friday night. Notwithstanding the fact that a road show was here all last week to sap the pocket books of our citizens, and on my regular show night offered to admit all school children free of charge to their performance, my friends came out to see my show in sufficient numbers to enable me to almost pay expenses. I took over the Bandera Theater with the intention of giving a regular show each Friday night, and show only high class pictures, having had the assurance that this is what the show-going public desired. I have striven to do this, and as long as I get sufficient patronage to justify putting on the best pictures I am not going to complain about other shows coming in to get a share of the show business, but I will appreciate all that comes my way. My purpose is to give a clean, moral show, one which you will enjoy and which you will not object to your children attending. Come out tomorrow night and see the "Days of Daring."

Yours for the best,

The Tail of the Lost Pants.

Yes, it is true that F. M. Buckelew got my pants, but I am glad that he had conscience enough to acknowledge it and send them home. The story goes something like this: He stayed all night with "the some time ago" and when he went to leave, by some means known only to the Lord, the pants got into his grip and he left in his wagon on his round as usual. When he got to Tarpley he lost his grip and a boy found it and took it to Hondo of he had to get to the Sheriff at Hondo to get it. Then Mr. Buckelew had the cow, which he thought might have taken them for a wold, from Hndue suspicion and also to save him from the chilly evenings and burning sun to which he was exposed to while going about through the streets with only a shirt on.

I am persuaded that the editor of the New Era is not hospitable, for he should have loaned me a pair of pants, seeing, as he said he did, that my shirt tail was short.

Mrs. Oscar Fredericksen and children, Warren and Ellen May, of Pleasanton, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mansfield, near Center, spent Sunday with their parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Atkins.

Captain T. P. Grant and Joe J. Leighton accompanied Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Willis to San Antonio last Friday night, when Mrs. Willis was taken to a hospital for an operation for appendicitis.

The New Era's linotype was put out of commission by a slight accident last Saturday, necessitating a trip to Kerrville Sunday for information as to what we should do to get it back in working order. L. Berry White, linotype operator on the Kerrville Mountain Sun, kindly instructed us as to its rectification and Monday was a bright and early, we had it adjusted and going again.

C. M. F. Smart, of near Utopia, was in town Monday and called to see the New Era force. Mr. Smart says he came over the new road that has been built through Hicks' Pass, and that the road is in good shape and being made better all of the time under the supervision of Commissioner Porter of that precinct.

We will pay highest market price for your mohair.—W. J. Davenport & Co.

Miss Mabel Thalmann, who holds a position as attendant at the Southwestern Insane Asylum at San Antonio, came up last Thursday to spend a day with her parents, Mr and Mrs. M. R. Thalmann. Her friends were delighted to see her, and wish her stay could have been prolonged, but she had to return to duty on Friday. Miss Mabel formerly held a position in the New Era office, and to us she is "one of the family."

Methodist Church.

There will be no preaching service at the church next Sunday morning, on account of the commencement sermon at the high school auditorium. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Graham were here from the Tarpley section Tuesday. Mr. Graham informs us that since he has sold his ranch he will visit Fort Worth for the present and for the next several months will travel around and see if he can find a suitable location. He will then visit the Rio Grand region and also New Mexico and Arizona.

J. A. Thallman, of Oxford, Florida, is here this week visiting his sister, Mrs. Charles Eckhart, and brother, O. F. Thallman. He has been absent from Bandera for about 40 years, and all of his friends are glad to greet him once more. Mr. Thallman is doing well in Florida, likes that state very fine, and is distributing literature descriptive of that state.

Frank M. Montague informs us that the eight carloads of steers which he shipped to St. Louis several days ago, brought 7½ cents per pound at the yards. This makes the second shipment of steers Mr. Montague has recently made to the St. Louis market, the first shipment of 20 carloads bringing a top price and some of the steers weighing as much as 1,300 pounds each.

The Bandera Fish Club met in regular session last Saturday night and after voting to assess a fine of ten cents on each member who was proven guilty of exaggerating the size of any catch, a motion was made and carried to put wheels on the "aeration" of fish now on Medina Lake. During the dry weather of the past few months the water in Medina Lake has been receding, and it is desired that the fish house be constantly at the water's edge.

Rain Sunday night. Monday morning about one-tenth of an inch of rain fell in this community.

Good Rains.

Good rains have fallen in various parts of Bandera county this week, and the grass is now assured of a good crop. At Medina the rain Sunday night amounted to more than an inch, and up near the head of the river it probably amounted to nearly two inches. On the East and Middle Verde, the precipitation was around an inch, but below Pipe Creek the rain was light. Bandera got a half-inch rain Sunday night, and on Monday night a good shower fell. Coming as it does this rainfall will help wonderfully, and will put vegetation to growing so that within just a few days our farmers will cease hoeing. This is the first rain in this section since the 19th of September, a period of eight months.

Found Lots of Dynamite.

Several boxes of dynamite were found on the road between Bandera Creek and Bandera Pass last Sunday by people passing along the road. Sheriff Stevens was notified and went out and brought in the explosive agent—about eighteen boxes, which was scattered along here and there. Inquiry revealed that the driver of a truck had lost the dynamite while hauling it from San Antonio to a point above Kerrville, where it was to be used in blasting on road work. Why the driver chose to come through Bandera with his cargo, and how he managed to spill it without serious consequences, is a puzzle to us. On Monday the contractor sent after the dynamite, which Sheriff Stevens was glad to be rid of.

Commencement Exercises.

On last Thursday night the graduating class of Bandera High School presented an interesting play, "Miss Topsy Turvy," which drew a full house, the door receipts amounting to $56.75. Everybody was pleased with the performance of the young people.

On Friday night the graduating exercises were held at the school auditorium in the presence of a large crowd of people. Invocation was offered by Rev. R. N. Hicks, followed by the salutatory by Miss Evelyn Mansfield. Essays were then read by Harold Mansfield, Miss Annie Mae Mansfield, and the valedictory given by Claude Fletcher, after which Judge J. A. Eames delivered a pleasing and instructive address to the class. J. M. Hunter presented the diplomas. Prof. L. L. McDonald, superintendent of the school, made a few remarks complimenting the patrons and pupils for the cooperation and work that had been done, and Rev. H. H. Washington gave the benediction. The music for the exercises was under the direction of Miss Palmer and consisting of the guitar selections, with solos by Mrs. R. N. Hicks.

This another term of Bandera High School has passed into history, and we believe it has been the most successful term in every standpoint. The faculty has labored hard to accomplish the best results this term, and while the co-operation on the part of the parents possibly has not been all it should have been, there is a noticeable improvement, and we believe such an interest has been created in scholastic work that the next term will witness greater achievement. The school board has re-elected Prof. McDonald as superintendent, and has again employed Mrs. McDonald in the primary grade and Miss Lois Miller in the intermediate department, which meets with the general approval of the school patrons.

Bridal Shower.

When Fred and Lila will be one.
May they in perfect union stand,
With heart in heart and hand in hand.
On April twenty-eight we meet,
And bring our gifts their hearts to greet.
Gladly we give this April shower,

Above was the form of an invitation sent out last week for a bridal shower given by Mrs. Fabian Garrison and Miss Lois Miller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davenport, Jr., Tuesday afternoon, honoring Miss Lila Johnson, a bride-to-be. The marriage of Miss Johnson and Mr. Fred Thalmann will take place at the Baptist church in this city next Monday, May 4th.

When the guests had assembled at the Davenport home Tuesday afternoon a short program was rendered as follows:

Vocal Solo by Mrs. Hicks.

Immediately following the program two little darkies entered carrying large laundry baskets containing gifts for the bride-to-be, which included all sorts of dainty linens, etc., and then came the refreshments of cake and ice cream. The sitting room was tastefully decorated with Maiden Hair ferns and small pink roses, the color scheme being pink and green. The table favors were small suit cases adorned with ping and green ribbon.

Among those present were:

Mrs. D. W. Cox, Mrs. Mark McBryde, Mrs. Mary Bruce, Mrs. B. F. Langford, Jr., Mrs. C. B. Davenport, Mrs. C. C. White, Mrs. C. B. Corley, Mrs. R. N. Hicks, Mrs. J. H. Bruce, Mrs. E. Two-Course Dinner.

Mrs Eames and Mrs. Butler were the hostesses at a two-course dinner Saturday evening given in honor of Mrs. Pfeifenberg and daughter and Miss Powell. The table was beautifully decorated, the center piece being of La France and Dorothy Perkins roses and plate favors of pansies and Maiden Hair fern.

T. H Dennis was over from Camp Verde Tuesday, the guest of his brother, T. S. Dennis.

Rolling Your Dollars

Ideals and interests change all through life. The man of fifty smiles at the child "rolling its hoop"—while in a different way he is doing the same with dollars.

The wise man—the thoughtful man, however, has an objective for his dollars. Invariably he puts his dollars to a place where he can put them to work for him. And what better place is there than a bank?

Watch the successful men of Bandera and you will see them coming regularly to this bank. It is well worth your while to endeavor to have more than you make—and this is the difference—soon you will have dollars to play with.

The First State Bank of Bandera

At the Rainbow's End

Hopes pay a few dividends—unless generated today by an active and gratical plan of action. Standing by or aimlessly searching for the rainbow's end—and a pot of gold—is a fruitless task.

The pot of gold is not there—except when by your own effort you put it there. Start today by spending a little less than you make. Follow that simple plan—and bank the difference. Bank it with us. It works for you here at the rate of 4½% interest annually.

At the old settlers' reunion to be held at Bandera July 3rd and 4th all kinds of entertainment and amusement will be provided for the vast crowds that are expected to be in attendance. The grounds at the Ed Mansfield place are already being prepared, and every convenience will be provided. From reports we are receiving we believe the crowds will be larger this year than last year, when seven thousand people went through the gates the first day.

Bandera county has suffered to some extent from the long drouth which prevailed until broken last Monday night with a copious rain. But other sections of the state have suffered generally, and not only this state has the rainfall been deficient, but in many other states also. But Bandera county has resisted the drouth conditions in a great measure and losses in stock have not been so great. We still have time to raise some crops, and prospects are that we will get through all right.

Kerrville Chamber of Commerce recently wired Hatfield, the California "rainmaker," to come and produce a two-inch rain, for which he was to receive $5,000. Hatfield accepted, but before starting for Texas he heard that Dr. Erwin of Bandera was offering to produce the same amount of rain for $500, and he immediately cancelled his agreement and pulled out for Louisiana where he would have no competition. Dr. Erwin may have produced the good rain we had Sunday night, but there is a difference of opinion among our people in regard to the matter. Old Lane killed a rattlesnake the other day and hung it up by the tail, and Edwin Langford killed a yellow-headed blackbird a few days ago—both said to be certain to produce rain—but there is a world of argument to be offered against Dr. Erwin's claims.

In Southern Texas a few weeks ago a hellish crime was committed. One girl was killed and another was criminally assaulted. It was an awful crime, and we are glad to say the young man who committed it has already been given the death penalty. But the trial of the perpetrator of the hellish deed disclosed the fact that the young man and the two girls were out for a joy ride, and that the girls were not even acquainted with the man whose invitation they accepted for a ride. Under the old regime girls were taught that they must ignore men to whom they had not been properly introduced, but we regret to say that many girls of the present demand no introduction and even accept invitations to ride with strangers. And usually those who do are led into serious trouble.

"There is a Reason"

A Good Creed.

Do not keep the alabaster boxes of your love and tenderness sealed up until your friends are dead. Fill their lives with sweetness. Speak approving, cheering words while their ears can hear them; and while their hearts can be thrilled and made happier by them; the kind things you mean to say when they are gone, say before they go. The flowers you mean to send for their coffins, send to brighten and sweeten their homes before they leave them. If my friends have alabaster boxes laid away full of fragrant perfumes of sympathy and affection which they intend to break over my dead body, I would rather they would bring them out in my weary and troubled hours, and opn them, that I may be cheered by them, while I need them. I would rather have a plain coffin without flowers, a funeral without a eulogy, than a life without the sweetness of love and sympathy. Let us learn to anoint our friends beforehand for their burial. Post-mortem kindness does not cheer the burdened spirit. Flowers on the coffin cast no fragrance backward over the weary way.

Oscar R. Schumacher, 60, editor of the Fredericksburg Standard and Fredericksburg Wochenblatt, died in that city early Monday of last week, of apoplexy. He had apparently been in good health, previously, having attended a theater the night before. Mr Schumacher is survived by his wife, a daughter in San Francisco and another in Los Angeles.

We Are For Better Schoo's.

A few days after a poor man had put his two children in school a book agent called on him and said:

"Now that your children go to school you ought to buy them an encyclopedia."

"Buy them an encyclopedia? Hanged if I do," was his retort. "Let 'em walk, like I did."

The above argument is in line with that advanced by some opponents of a new school building for Weimar. Such opponents say that if the school buildings and school facilities of 25 years ago was good enough for them, it is good enough for the children of this day and age. Foolish argument, and one that will not stand the acid test. If it holds good, why do these people ride around in automobiles instead of using their horse and buggies such as were in vogue 25 years ago! This is an age of progress, and our children demand and should have better school facilities than we elderly people enjoyed in our day. If generation after generation continues to follow in the same old ruts, where will we eventually land? The writer of these lines, through no fault of his own, was unable to attend school after reaching the age of 13, and lack of good school education ever afterward proved a hamper and drawback. Because of this fact, he is all the more anxious that his children should have an education. The fact that it causes an increase in taxes has never deterred him from voting for better schools. And for our children's sake it is about the best investment we can make. An education will fit a child for life's battles better than any gift you are able to bestow. Vote for the new school building and let's give our children a better chance than we had!—Weimar Mercury.

How a Country Editor Became Rich.

An exchange says the editor of a weekly newspaper moved to town one day and deposited $50,000 in one of the local banks. He had been publishing his little country paper for thirty years and had moved to the city with around $50,000 to his credit. When asked by a reporter for the secret of his great financial success, he said:

"I attribute my ability to retire with a $50,000 bank account after thirty years in the country newspaper field to close application to duty, always hewing to the 'mark and letting the chips fall where they may; the most rigid rules of economy; never spending a cent foolishly; ever lastingly keeping at my job with a whole heart; and the death of an uncle who left me $49,999.50."

School Pic Nic.

There will be a school closing pic nic at Lima school house, May 2. At night the school program and box supper will be given at the Crenwelge house, one and a half miles below Lima on the Medina road. Everybody cordially invited to come.

Washington Riley and Mrs. Hicks, Miss Donna Fryckburg, Mrs. Carrie Miss Fuller, Mr. Durst, Mrs. Gardiner, Mrs Harper and Mrs Carmichael (for use of pot plants) Judge Eames and Mr. Hunter, and to many others who assisted and were directly connected with the school. Respectfully,

The Medina Chautauqua.

Next Wednesday night the chautauqua starts at Medina, and will continue four days, closing Saturday night. This season the chautauqua circuit has been enlarged and the attractions offered are superior in every way and those who attend will be given rare entertainment, for only the highest class entertainers are signed up with the chautauqua. Medina was indeed fortunate in securing the chautauqua. Many Bandera people expect to attend, if weather conditions permit, and we are sure they will not be disappointed with the program. Change of program each day and evening, and something worth while. Following is an outline of the program:

First Day, Evening—A Trip to Melody Land, by the Shumate Saxaphone Quartet.

Second Day, Afternoon—Odds and Ends from the Stage, by The Avalon Players. Address, "The Joy of the Job," by E. Jefferson Gardner. Evening, a three-act comedy, "Cross Words," by the Avalon Players.

Third Day, Afternoon—Songs and Tales of the Seven Seas, by the Marine Maids. Evening, Radio Casting from the Jolly Roger, by the Marine Maids. Lecture, "The Roots of the Republic," by Raymond B. Tolbert.

Fourth Day, Afternoon—Kiddies' Own Circus, by the Junior Chautauqua. An Afternoon Frolic, by the Miriam Franklin Players, a New York comedy success.

The admission to each performance will be 50c, except the last evening when the charge will be 75c.

The Shumate Quartet, a real playing and singing quartet. Four brothers with a world of natural ability plus years of careful study. Their chief feature is their Saxaphone ensemble. All kinds and types of music—from the big Overtures to practically all of the popular hits of the day.

E. Jefferson Gardner, the man brings the joy message. Gardner is a philosopher. Since all men are in a way travel thru life, he insists that one might just as well be happy. In Death's Embrace.

I looked upon the gloomy face
Of one who in the gutter lay
No marks of life I there could trace,
My friend so dear had passed away.

I placed my ear upon her chest
To listen for a throbbing heart
But all was still, she was at rest
No voice, no life could she impart.

I sought to know the reason why
That she in death's embrace should lie,
But soon the knowledge to me came,
My time piece had a broken spring

The occasion was the ninth grade honoring the graduating class of Bandera High School. The parlor was lovely in flowers, old rose and ecru paper and moss. The dining room was exquisite in a beautiful color scheme of old rose and moss; the class colors. Mrs. G. W. White.

Once more it becomes the New Era's sad duty to chronicle the passing of one of our pioneers Mrs. George W. White died last Sunday night at her home on the Kerrville road, about four miles from Bandera, after an illness of several months duration. Last Aug. she suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which she never fully recovered, and some time ago she was taken ill and her death occurred Sunday night.

Mrs. White nee Miss Annie Hobson, was born in Brown county, Texas, April 30, 1861, and was married to George W. White in 1880, coming to Bandera about thirty years ago. Three children survive, Mrs. Sam Jones of San Antonio, Lee White of Wimberly, and Miss Etta White of Bandera, and also four grandchildren, Bessie, Gertrude, Maggie, Mignon, and Augusta Jones, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones of San Antonio.

Funeral services were conducted Monday noon at Myrtle Creek by Rev. R. H. Hicks, pastor of the Baptist church, assisted by Rev. H. H. Washington, pastor of the Methodist church, in this work a great concourse of sorrowing friends were in attendance, for Mrs. White was loved by all who knew her. She was the most LOVABLE motherly woman, kind and affectionate to her family, a good neighbor and a friend to the unfortunate. She was indeed a member of the Baptist Church, and when the end came it found her prepared to go, for she was ready.

E. L. Bennett.

E. L. Bennett, for several years a ranchman of the Tarpley region, died in a hospital in San Antonio last Thursday night, following an operation for gall stones. Mr. Bennett was about 52 years old, and unmarried. He was a quiet, law-abiding citizen, and well liked by all who knew him, and the news of his death came as a great shock to his friends throughout the Tarpley section. Surviving are three brothers and two sisters, all of whom live in Alabama, except one brother who lives at Hallettsville.

The body was shipped to La Pine, Alabama, the old home, for burial. B. A. Brother, John F. Bennett of Hallettsville, an uncle, E. G. Bennett of San Antonio, and a nephew J. G. Bennett of Hallettsville, were here this week to look after the property interests of the deceased and have arranged to make settlement of all of his affairs, which were found to be in very good shape.

Buys Grocery Business.

A deal was made Monday whereby John H. Bruce purchased the grocery stock and building of S. C. Fitzgerald. A bunch of good mules was taken by Mr. Fitzgerald in the deal. Mr. Bruce has taken charge of the business, and while he has not announced his plans we understand he will make some needed improvement on the property, which is located on the corner of Cedar and Eleventh streets.

Rolling Your Dollars

Ideals and interests change all through life. The man of fifty smiles at the child "rolling its hoop" while in a different way he is doing the same—with dollars.

The wise man—the thoughtful man, however, has an objective for his dollars. Invariably he is also dedicated to a place where he can put them to work for him. And what better place is there than a bank?

Watch the successful men of Bandera and you will see them coming regularly to this bank. It is well worth your while to consider this. If you spend a little less than you make—and you will have dollars to play with.

The First State Bank of Bandera

Married in February.

The many friends of Miss Irma Hicks, who has been attending school in San Antonio the past several months, will be surprised to learn that she was married to Mr. Norman MacLeod at Sonora on February 8. The wedding kept secret from all but the family and friends of the bride and groom until just a few days ago, when it became known. The bride, who is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hicks of near Tarpley, in company with the groom recently visited home folks, but no one suspected that they were married. The New Era joins in congratulations and best wishes. Both are excellent young people, and they will make their home in San Antonio, where Mr. MacLeod has a position with the Y. M. C. A.

Good Roads Meeting.

An enthusiastic good roads meeting was held at the Tuff school house last Friday night, plans being made for a raise fund for the graveling of the newly graded road in that community. It was decided to have a grand barbecued steer in the near future for the purpose of raising money to put this road in fine shape. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the barbecue, the date of which will be announced later. This is a good movement and we are predicting that the people of the Tuff community will successfully carry out their plans, and have the best roads in the county.

SHOW MONDAY NIGHT.

At the Rainbow's End

"Hope" pays a few dividends—unless generated today by an active and prudent plan of action. Standing by or aimlessly searching for the rainbow's ends—and a pot of gold,—is a fruitless task.

The pot of gold is not there — except when by your own effort you put it there. Start today by spending a little less than you make. Follow that simple plan—and bank the difference. Bank it with us. It works for you here at the rate of 4½% interest annually.

FORD NEWS STORY

One of the most important steps yet undertaken to protect Ford car purchasers and at the same time place the handling of such cars on a more business-like basis is the announcement by Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company that operating under a company plan Ford dealers will hereafter place their orders completed, it is apparent that the action of the Ford Motor Company will exert a wide influence on the marketing of used cars and in improving conditions generally in that phase of the automobile business.

Every used Ford car represents so much unused transportation and has value to someone. Mr. Ford said in his statement regarding the plan. "The Ford dealer through his position intimate knowledge of the car operatively is the best judge to the value of this transportation—the best to determine a price on the car that he may pay for it and to sell or deliver—that is his business.

If reconditioning is necessary he has the work done by trained Ford mechanics, using Ford equipment and genuine Ford parts, and with these economies and advantages he is able to offer the used car buyer a transportation low cost and with a guarantee covering its mechanical fitness.

The plan becomes effective at once and applies to all Ford cars used Ford cars purchased from authorized Ford dealers thereby insuring proper mechanical service and ordinary driving conditions.

Thalmann-Johnson.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Baptist church in this city when Miss Lila Johnson became the bride of Mr. Fred Thalmann, Rev. R N. Hicks performing the ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and after a solo by Mrs. R. N. Hicks, the bride and groom entered and slowly marched up the aisle to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played on violin and piano by Miss Pauline Ehridge and Miss Ito Fuller, where the minister was in waiting. After the ceremony the newly married pair entered an automobile and were driven away on their honeymoon trip. They will be at home on the Thalmann ranch after May 15th.

The bride is the talented daughter of Mr and Mrs. H. G. Johnson of this city. She is a young lady of charming manners and pleasing attainments, and was a teacher in Bandera High School during the past term.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Louise Thalmann, and is a model young man, possessed of unusual business ability and of pleasing address. Besides managing the Thalmann ranch interests he is also secretary and general manager for the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers' Association.

Both bride and groom have a host of friends who wish for them much joy and happiness through life.

Mr. Felix Newcomer and Miss Johnnie Padgett were happily married at Pipe Creek last Thursday, Rev. M. J. Scott officiating. This weddig came as a surprise to the many friends of the bride and groom, and all hastened to extend congratulations and best wishes.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Padgett of young lady, and was one of the teachers in Pipe Creek High School during the past term.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mont Newcomer of Pipe Creek. He is an industrious young man and worthy of the bride he has won.

I., conducted services, followed by Revs. Lefebvre, Chaput, Hulveg, O. M. I., and during the past week Rev. Father Fleury, Rev. Lavoie, Rev. Schneider, and Rev. Rainville, with the resident pastor, Rev Father Borvin, partiecipated in the forty hours devotion. Rev. Father Fleury used to visit Bandera during the early days and minister to the few Catholics here. He had not been here since 1889, and was surprised at the remarkable changes which have occurred in those days he traveled about the country as a circuit rider, and braved all of the dangers incident to the frontier, and had many narrow escapes from being killed by Indians. There are still a number of the members of his flock here who remember him.

Rolling Your Dollars

Ideals and interests change all through life. The man of fifty smiles at the child "rolling its hoop"—while in a different way he is doing the same—with dollars.

The wise man—the thoughtful man, however, has an objective for his dollars. Invariably he rolls his dollars to a place where he can put them to work for him. And what better place is there than a bank?

Watch the successful men of Bandera and you will see them coming regularly to this bank. It is well worth your while to consider this. If you spend a little less than you make—and bank the difference—soon you will have dollars to play with.

The First State Bank of Bandera

Congressman Hudspeth Coming.

Hon. Claude Hudspeth, congressman from this district, has accepted an invitation to attend the Bandera County Old Settler's Reunion July 3rd and 4th, and will deliver an address while here. Our beloved State Senator, Julius Real, will also be here, and will have some good words for the old settlers. An invitation has been sent to Governor Ferguson to be Bandera's guest on that occasion also, but she has not yet accepted the invitation. Just tell all of your friends that the Old Settlers' Reunion is going to be a grand event this year. Make your plans to be here, also.

Bandera County Fair.

Preparations are going steadily forward for the County Fair to be held here August 13, 14, and 15. The catalogue just issued carries a nice premium list in the live stock and other departments. In the ladies' department are attractive premiums as well as in the junior department. It is expected that some of the best showings of sheep and goats will be made at the fair this year that has ever been exhibited, and in poultry there will be some of the finest strains. An elaborate program of amusements is being arranged by the committee in charge, and besides offering displays of Bandera county's resources it is the purpose of the fair management to offer all visitors plenty of entertainment Get your selves ready for the best fair Bandera has ever held.

Parent-Teachers' Association.

The Bandera Parent-Teachers Association met Friday afternoon at the Bandera High School auditorium for its annual election of officers. The new officers are Mrs. A L Mansfield, president; Mrs. Joe Chisum, vice-president; Mrs. J. H Erwin, second vice-president; Mrs. J. H Bruce, third vice-president; Mrs B F. Langford, recording secretary; Mrs. Booker Davenport, corresponding secretary and press reporter.

A musical program followed the meeting, which was enjoyed by all present. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Mansfield, June 5th, at 3. p. m., with Mrs. Lee Mansfield, Mrs. Booker Davenport, and Mrs A. L. Mansfield as hostesses. All members and patrons of the school are cordially invited.

"The Reckless Age."

A big picture, "The Reckless Age," is to be shown at the Bandera Theater tonight and tomorrow night. Owing to the extra cost of this film, which is a superproduction, the admission charges will be advanced to 40c for adults and 20c for children. It will be shown two nights, which gives everybody a chance to see it.

Judge and Mr C B. Corley and Mr and Mrs R P. Power went to Yoakum this week on a visit. During their absence James Power had charge of the R. P. Power Grocery.

At the Rainbow's End

Hopes pay no few dividends—unless generated today by an active and pratical plan of action. Standing by or aimlessly searching for the rainbow's end—and a pot of gold,—is a fruitless task.

The pot of gold is not there — except when by your own effort you put it there. Start today by spending a little less than you make. Follow that simple plan—and bank the difference. Bank it with us. It works for you here at the rate of 4½% interest annually.

Advertising Rates—One, inser. 50 30c per column inch. Contract rates 25c per week. Local readers one cent per word each insertion, with a minimum charge of 10c. Cards of thanks, 50c. Obituary and church resolutions or obituaries five cents per line each insertion. All church, lodge and notices for charitable institutions where an admission fee is charged five cents per line each insertion.

With this issue the New Era closes its tenth year of publication. The New Era is really the successor of the old Bandera Enterprise which was established in 1891. In 1914 the Enterprise burned out, and for several months Bandera was without a newspaper, but in 1915 the Bandera New Era was established by Mr. Russell Hopkins. Later T. Bedell bought the Hopkins interest and for several years conducted the paper. But for many years the paper has been a factor in Bandera's upbuilding. Many, many changes have been wrought in the commercial world of the years as pertaining to Bandera and her people, both men and women. For forty years this publication has chronicled the successes and failures, happinesses and joys, marriages, births and deaths, and the passing away of Bandera. For almost a decade the little old home paper has weathered the gales of criticism, has sailed the calm sea of approbation and has steered a safe course toward the port of Success. Forty-five years! Men are now decrepit who were in their early teens when the paper was founded. It Merely to be in charge of affairs and in their prime when the old Enterprise first saw the light of day, has passed on to that Bourne from which no man returns—but yet the little old weekly goes on and on—forever. Business enterprises have come and gone, not an institution is this town as old as the little old home paper, not an enterprise in the county, past or present that has had being here so long as has the benefactress. It has ever sung the praises of the great country in which it is located with untiring volume; it has spoken words of cheer to drooping spirits, and it has had the courage to denounce wrong and support the right without fear or favor. Out of the original list of subscribers to the little old home paper we know of only one man who has been a steady subscriber during all of these long years. That man is Judge C. W. Harris. He has never missed a copy of it if it did not miss us some.

We don't know why the name was ever changed to the New Era. It should still be the Bandera Enterprise. Some day, perhaps, we will revert to the old name, for with it are associated so many cherished memories.

The large crowd of visitors from San Antonio last Sunday is but a reminder of the crowds that will come to Bandera during the summer months for sightseeing. We now have a good road all of the way to San Antonio, and it is going to be kept in first class condition by State Highway Foreman R. L. Ambrose, and his efficient adjutant, Joe G. Callahan.

"There is a Reason"

No Joke About It.

The New Era wants to print the news, and we appreciate any news items which are sent in to us by mail or by telephone, but we feel that we were unjustly pinioned upon last week in a manner that was not at all creditable. It frequently happens that items are sent in from Medina by parties other than our regular correspondent, and when a few items came in from that locality last week signed by a young lady we cheerfully published them. One of these items stated that Mr. Olson Sutherland and Miss Josie Manning were married in San Antonio Sunday," when in fact such was not the case and there was absolutely no foundation for the statement. It was originated by the sender and sent to the New Era for publication as a joke. Investigation reveals that the young lady whose name was signed to the items was in ignorance of her name being used, and it was signed with out her authority. All parties concerned are justly indignant, and we don't blame them. Hereafter the New Era positively will not publish items sent in from Medina unless they are first turned in to our regular correspondent, Miss Bedell Smith at Hatfield's store, and come in with her weekly letter. Miss Smith is our duly accredited representative at Medina, and it will be just as easy to hand her items as it will be to send them to the New Era direct, and much more satisfactory.

During the four years we have been in charge of the New Era we have received three items telling of the marriage of certain young people, which we later learned were unfounded. In each instance these communications were unsigned and were not published. But the Medina communication we received last Wednesday announcing the marriage of the young people mentioned above, was signed, and we took it for granted that the information was true, and published it. It is bad enough to circulate a false report, but a more serious offence to sign another party's name without authority.

Game Warden Durst Resigns.

S. O. Durst, our local game warden, has resigned his position and has returned to his home at Junction. During the more than a year that Mr. Durst has been located here he has certainly served his efficiency and has discharged his duties in a highly satisfactory manner, besides making friends with our entire population. We all regret to see him leave the service, and especially regret to see him leave Bandera. There has been a general scarcity of game for poaching this section, and Bandera will be without a resident game warden. We do not understand the Fish and Game Department's plans in thus leaving Bandera unprotected.

Medina is keeping open house this week, with a high class chautauqua. Many of our Bandera people will attend this chautauqua each day and night. It closes Saturday night.

It is said that Gus Reinarz and Jim White organized a spelling bee at Pipe Creek a few nights ago, and began practicing for the big spelling match at the Old Settlers' Reunion here July 3rd and 4th.

The catalogues for the Fifth Annual Bandera County Fair were issued from the New Era printery this week, and are being distributed. You can secure one by addressing M R Thalmann, the secretary.

The Fishing Season.

Bandera's fishing season opened last Friday, and nearly all of the fishermen hiked for the river. It will be well to remember the following:

The same regulations that were in effect last year will prevail until June 29th, at which time the seasons of the law passed by the last session of the legislature will become effective. The new law will be published later and the changes pointed out.

All bass less than eleven inches and all crappie less than seven inches are classed as undersized and must be turned loose if caught. In this connection all fishermen are urged to use the utmost care in returning fish to the stream, especial attention being given to wetting the hands before taking hold of the fish to be liberated. The scales are covered with a protective slime which adheres to any dry surface and its loss is followed by a fungus growth which soon kills the victim.

It is well to remember that there is a bag limit to fishing as well as hunting these days. If it has become necessary to curb the fish hog as well as the game hog. The limit calls for not more than ten bass in one day, with a grand total of not more than thirty-five fish of all kinds daily.

It is unlawful to take fish from public waters by any means other than ordinary hook and line, trot-line or artificial baits. A minnow seine of not more than ten feet in length may be used for securing bait, but shall not be used for catching other fish. The Practice of leaving minnows on the bank to die is unlawful and this provision of the fish law will be rigidly enforced, as minnows are the chief food of the game fishes and must be protected if stocking is to be successful.

It is also unlawful to sell or offer for sale any bass, crappie perch or catfish taken from the public fresh waters of Bandera county.

Editor A. P. Kehoe was over from Comfort Friday to arrange with the New Era to set some type for this week's issue of the Comfort News. His compositors are on the sick list, and Mr. Kehoe, realizing the convenience of a neighboring linotype, called upon us, and we were glad to respond.

The New Era last week received fifty copies of the old Blue Back Spelling Books, probably the last we can secure from the publishing house. If you want one of these old time spellers as a keepsake you should get it now. We sell them for 42c postpaid.

A social at the home of Mr and Mrs. Lon Jeiner, on Mason Creek, last Saturday night was attended by nearly two hundred people, the different communities of that portion of the country being well represented. A fine time is reported.

Dr. John H. Erwin, Frank Montague and S O Durst made a business trip to Austin last Saturday.

Sheriff Henry Stevens, who week moved to his ranch on Bandera Creek. Mr. and Mrs Milton Paris will occupy the Stevens residence.
