Spending Dollars at Home.

Most Americans are convinced of the fact that it is better to [illegible] foreign countries [illegible] obtained, and it is well to remember that it is equally as sound business sense to buy in one's home town, rather than in some [illegible] metropolis, which [illegible] goods can be had at home.

For just as we want to make and keep America the most prosperous nation in the world, so we should aspire to keep our home community prosperous and [illegible]

It is by home business and professional business men who know that [illegible] by helping [illegible] schools, churches and other [illegible] institutions, and by making public improvements, and every dollar spent at home increases business and consequently the public as well as the commercial revenue of the town.

Would ever like a clean, progressive, happy community which did not have active, prosperous and healthy business institutions. It is the town with the best business which has the best schools, the best churches and the most modern improvements.

MAKE YOUR DREAMS COME TRUE

Our forefathers the sturdy pioneers who paved the way for all our present day blessings—had vision and faith.

It was not what they had the covered wagon, its contents, the horses they rode and the clothes they wore but what they DREAMED that made them DO.

What is the matter with us that here, in a modern community center we do not enjoy many of the things the pioneers merely dreamed of, when millions in our country have them [illegible] matter of course?

Is it lack of proper pride in our OWN HOME TOWN?

Is it lack of definite purpose for our collective life?

Is it lack of the spirit of co-operation?

Whatever it is, let us get together and find out all the hindrances and overcome them.

Research and invention have given us the means of making our community one of the most delightful places in which to live in the whole U. S. A.

What we need is VISION and ACTION.

To dream without [illegible] visionary—to act without thinking and planning is blundering.

Instead of the disshed and isolated efforts of the few, whose purposes [illegible] bigger and better things are often frustrated by faint praise if not open antagonism, let the thoughts [illegible] has page stir us all to make our DREAMS COME TRUE FOR Bandera.

W. F. Rippey and sons, Glenn and Oran, were here from Johnson City yesterday.

Mrs. John L. Jones, of Junction, was the guest of her brother, Sheriff Henry Stevens, and family several days last week.

Mrs. O. A. Stevens and daughter, Miss Aleen, went to Medina Saturday to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Josephine Moffett, who died Friday.

Edwin Langford was in from the Privilege region Saturday and dropped in to order the New Era sent to his son, Lane Langford, who is now holding a position on a ranch near Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal S. Hudspeth have returned from Menard, where Mr. Hudspeth has been working on a ranch. He expects to travel for awhile in the interest of certain publications, among them Bandera's growing monthly Frontier Times.

E. F. Warren, who secured the contract to erect the monument to the Bandera county soldier boys, was here from San Antonio Tuesday making the preliminary arrangements for the erection of the monument on the court house square.

Captain Chas. de Montel and his talented daughters, Miss Ollie and Annie de Montel, were over from Camp Verde Thursday. Captain de Montel says the road between Bandera and Bandera Pass needs working as there are several places which are almost impassable during wet weather.

Joe G. Callahan and his brother, J. N. Callahan were up from Pipe Creek Monday and paid this office a visit. Mr. Callahan informs us that his wife recently fell and sustained painful injuries since which time she has been in San Antonio undergoing treatment, but is rapidly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. N. Gammel, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Heare, of Austin, were visitors in Bandera Sunday. They dropped in to see the New Era editor and expressed themselves as being delighted with our picturesque mountain region and are coming over to spend a few weeks camping here this summer.

Messrs. Anton and Eddie Liebold, accompanied by their venerable father, John Liebold, were transacting business in the city Saturday and paid this office an appreciated visit. These gentlemen are enthusiastic over the plans to erect a monument to our Bandera county boys who died in the World War, and they contributed to the fund now being raised for that purpose.

It will be pleasing news to the many friends of Miss Eva Thallman, chief dietician in the General Hospital in Boston, Mass., to learn that she has fully recovered from the injuries sustained several weeks ago when she was thrown from a horse. Her sister, Mrs. Chas. Eckhart of this place, received a letter a few days ago containing the news of Miss Thallman's complete recovery.

Uncle Bill Haught and son, Ben, were down from Pipe Creek yesterday and Uncle Bill paid this office a visit to tell us that he had no part in the "lifting" of those hogs near Medina the other night, the suspicions of some people to the contrary notwithstanding. He announced his intention to be on hand for the Old Settlers' reunion in July and enter that hogcalling contest with Pomp Freeman, and he's betting that he can make Pomp ashamed of himself when it comes to calling hogs.

Big Reduction Sale.

Adams & Adams, at Medina will put on a Reduction Sale, beginning Friday, February 5th, and continue two weeks or more. Sales same as first reduction sale, except 20c Gingham, 32-inch, at 15c; 29c Domestics, 18c; Bleached Domestics, 36-inch, at 15c and 12½c. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ruge returned Saturday from Fort Smith, Arkansas, where they went to attend the funeral of Mr. Ruge's father, E. H. Ruge.

The New Era has a 3 h. p. Dempster gasoline engine for sale, cheap.

Henry Lane, who was seriously wounded in the hand and leg when a rifle was discharged accidently on Wednesday of last week, is reported to be doing nicely in a hospital in San Antonio. For a time it was thought that his leg would have to be amputated, but unless complications set in it is believed the limb will be saved. Mr. Lane's many friends are hopeful that he will make good recovery.

Your next Car should be a BUICK

For Comfort's Sake

The Better Buick offers every ordinary motoring comfort, and many that are exclusively Buick: Easier starting—a new, high-speed starting motor does it. Smooth running from the go—Automatic Heat Control is an exclusive Buick feature. Easier steering—Buick's 5-control-surface steering gear is the most expensive and most efficient type today.

For Safety's Sake

Buick surrounds you with every ordinary protection, and then adds Buick protection: Buick dependability, which takes you and brings you back, on time, all the time. Buick mechanical 4-wheel brakes, with no liquid in them to expand, contract or leak away. And Buick Controllable Beam Headlights, with steering wheel control, which make night driving a pleasure.

For Economy's Sake

No other car has the "Sealed Chassis" and the "Triple Sealed Engine." The "Sealed Chassis" lowers operating costs by enclosing every operating part inside a dirt-proof, oil-tight housing, while "Triple Seals" close every engine point of entry to dirt and the wear dirt causes.

For Value's Sake

At present prices, Buick with all of its added comfort, safety, and economy, is easily the greatest automobile value in the world.

If you want finer transportation at lower cost, come in and see the Better Buick!

Better Buick Six Cylinder Valve-in-Head motor cars range in price from $1128 to $1795, f. o. b. Buick factories. Among the Buick open and closed models there is one that will meet your desires exactly.

Dipping Ceased.

We understand that the State Livestock Sanitary Board has cancelled the commissions of inspectors in this county and the supervising inspector has withdrawn, and dipping of stock in the eradication campaign has ceased. We have been unable to learn why this action was taken by the Livestock Sanitary Board, but there are reports current that if was because the county would not cooperate in the clean-up movement. It seems to us that the action was very unjust, inasmuch as most of our stockmen were dipping their stock as per regulations, and doing all they could do to make the county clean.

A New Oil Field Promised.

A new pool has been discovered in Medina county, approximately 50 miles southwest of San Antonio. One of the most remarkable wells in South Texas oil territory has been completed. The Medina Oil Company has completed a producing well at 356 feet, which is making about 100 barrels of oil on pump, according to Andrew Watts, lease man. The well is pumping about 150 barrels of fluid into the settling tanks daily, but about 25 per cent of is water.

The feature of the new well is that it is producing in lime, instead of from sand, at such shallow depth. Limestone is generally a water formation in San Antonio territory.

The well is located on the Taylor lease and is known as No. 1 Taylor. It is in the center of about 3000 acres held under lease by the Medina Company.

The oil is of 16.2 gravity and is about 60 per cent lubricant. Although it is not high grade oil, the shallow depth makes development very profitable.

Sunday more than 150 oil men visited the producer, most of whom are interested in South Texas oil development. A number of deals, including lease and royalty sales, were made.

This well is north and a little west of the Ina Oil Company wells, in a hilly district immediately below the Balcones Escarpment which crosses Northern Medina county. The well is about eight miles from Hondo.

The discovery of this well is important from the fact that it establishes the trend of the oil bearing formations. While the extreme shallow depth and the Alfred Saathoff, formerly of Tarpley, but now living in San Antonio, underwent an operation at a hospital there one day last week. We are pleased to learn that he is making good recovery and will soon be able to leave the hospital. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Saathoff went to San Antonio to be with him.

Cutting Scrape.

Harmon Smith and Pat Forrest became involved in a difficulty Saturday night on Main Street, in which Smith received a serious knife wound in the abdomen. He received prompt treatment and is getting along very well. Forrest was arrested, and on Monday was released on bail of $750 to await the action of the grand jury.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kuykendall and children came up from San Antonio Sunday afternoon to visit relatives. They were accompanied back to San Antonio Sunday afternoon by Mrs. and Mrs. J. M. Kuykendall, who were returning to their home at Kansas City after an extended visit to Mrs. Kuykendall's brother, W. J. Mauss, and other relatives.

water are against the possibilities of this field, they are offset by the fact that the well is producing from which is in limerock formation. Whether the oil is riding on the water or whether the water is seeping in by the oil stratum from above remains to be determined. In the second well, location for which was made Sunday, care will be taken to bring in the well without water if it is possible.

Should water be entirely excluded, the wells would be highly profitable at such a depth even with no greater production. Oil men recall that the No. 1 Rios discovery well at Luling came in with a large flow of water. This gives Medina county two new oil pools.—San Antonio Light.

Mrs. Coose stood the operation well, and is making good recovery. Mr. Phillips returned home Monday, but Mrs. Phillips will remain in San Antonio with her daughter a few days longer.

Sunday Chicken Dinners.

The O. S. T. Cafe in Bandera is gaining quite a reputation for the fine chicken dinners which are now being served there each Wednesday and Sunday. The fame of the O. S. T. Cafe is spreading and this popular eating place is receiving a good patronage from the traveling public. Don't forget the chicken dinner dates, each Wednesday and Sunday.

Students Planting Garden.

A plot has been broken up on the school campus and the students of the seventh grade in Bandera High School will cultivate it. This is a good move in the right direction, and will teach the pupils agriculture in a practical way. The pupils are enthusiastic over the work, and we're predicting that they will make a good crop.

WALLACE

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

Don H. Biggers has established a political paper at Fredericksburg, The Limelight, and sends the New Era a copy for exchange. The new publication is pretty much of a free lance, and is throwing the calcium on the doings over at Austin. Mr Biggers is a versatile writer, well known all over the state, and we wish him success in his new undertaking.

Political bees are beginning to buzz. No candidates have announced for county office yet, but several are in prospect we understand, and we look for open declarations soon.

Bandera county "went broke" trying to "eradicate the ticks." Finally, the State undertook the work and trying it for several months, for some cause, the inspectors were withdrawn and dipping discontinued, whether only temporarily or permanently we have been unable to ascertain. So we are about where we were at the start.

A feature of the Old Settlers Reunion to be held in Bandera July 2nd and 3rd, will be the singing of old time songs by old time folks. Such songs as "The Dying Cowboy," "Utah Carrol," "Sam Bass," "Old Folks at Home," "Old Black Joe," "I'm Going to See My Mother When the Work Is Done This Fall," and other old songs have not lost their melody and will be appreciated by those who attend the big reunion.

It is certainly gratifying to see the excellent work that is being done on the Medina road by Commissioner Anton Pyka and Frank Mansfield. Just as soon as the work is finished the State Highway crew will jump right onto the job and keep the road in fine shape. We can now look back and remember that it was our good friend, T. H. Phillips, of Lima, who first suggested that this road be made a link in the Old Spanish Trail and later accepted as a State Highway. Mr. Phillips lives up among some of the most picturesque scenery of old Bandera County, and he knows that if the summer tourists have a good road provided for their travel they will visit that region by the hundreds. And they will all come this summer.

Harper is to have a newspaper, the first issue of which is to appear on Friday of next week, as Warren Hunter will be editor and general manager of the new publication. Fifteen years ago the New Era editor established the Harper Herald and later sold the business. His brother, A. W. Hunter, now publishing the Camp Wood Crony, afterwards purchased the Herald and published it for several years, afterwards selling the business to R. S. Mayhall. During the World War, the Herald, like hundreds of other weekly newspapers, sickened and died, and for the past few years Harper has been without a newspaper. Harper is an enterprising little town, and if the business men there will get behind the new enterprise, which we are confident they will do, Warren will give them a live newspaper, and one which all will be proud of.

Frontier Times is published monthly in Bandera. $1.50 per year.

"There is a Reason"

The Car For You.

A type of performance never before approached in any low cost car—that's what you get in the improved Chevrolet.

To the world-famous power and economy of the Chevrolet valve-in-head motor have been added new elements of smoothness, flexibility and acceleration. The result is nothing short of a revelation—not alone to veteran Chevrolet owners but to men accustomed to driving much costlier cars.

You may doubt that any car of this type can flash from 5 to 25 miles an hour in less than eight seconds—but the improved Chevrolet does it!

You may question the ability of such a car to idle in silence at 7 miles an hour and to speed along at 30—45—50 without the slightest trace of labor or effort—but the improved Chevrolet does that!

You may assume from past experience that no low-cost car can combine these brilliant performances with Pullman car comfort over roads of every description—but that's what the improved Chevrolet offers!

In addition, it provides an operating range of three hundred miles on the gallon of gasoline.

Such is the car to the merits of which we make this emphatic prediction: you will step from the car having undergone an experience the like of which you never dreamed possible in any car of this class, regardless of size, weight, wheel base or price!

Long the world's largest builder of automobiles with modern 3-speed transmission, Chevrolet now bids for continued success with the finest Chevrolet in Chevrolet history! And the time to see it and drive it is now.

MAKE YOUR DREAMS COME TRUE

Our forefathers—the sturdy pioneers who paved the way for all our present day blessings—had vision and faith.

It was not what they had—the covered wagon, its contents, the horses they rode and the clothes they wore—but what they DREAMED that made them DO.

What is the matter with us that here in a modern community center we do not enjoy more of the things the pioneers merely dreamed of, when millions in our country have them as a simple matter of course?

Think this over seriously.

Is it lack of proper pride in our OWN HOME TOWN?

Is it lack of definite purpose for our collective life?

Is it lack of the spirit of co-operation?

Whatever it is, let us get together and find out all the hindrances and overcome them.

Research and invention have given us the means of making our community one of the most delightful places in which to live in the whole U. S. A.

What we need is VISION and ACTION.

To dream without doing is visionary—to act without thinking and planning is blundering.

Instead of the detached and isolated efforts of the few, whose purposes for bigger and better things are often frustrated by faint praise if not open antagonism, let the thoughts suggested by this page stir us all to make our DREAMS COME TRUE FOR Bandera.

RIECK GOAT COAT

Kidding Flocks.

Man is a creature of habit. He first follows the line of least resistance. Then improvement comes. Now highways do not follow old trails. Yesterday we used to think we must have a whole mess of Mexicans to lamb a flock of sheep. Then we fenced. Today we lamb loose. Yesterday we thought we needed a young army to kid a flock of goats. Today we turn them loose in flocks of 250 in small pastures, coat the does, and raise more, kids and better kids at half the cost. The gentle faithful old herder of yesterday with his quiet voice and sandalled feet has given way to the Jelly Bean of today, mounted on a stuttering flivver, but we are fortunate in having to replace the old reliable man, a far better method.

The RIECK GOAT COAT made of specially selected 14 oz. double filled duck, specially processed by ourselves may be purchased with 65 per cent of the proceeds of one shearing and will coat the goat for life—used thirty days after Spring Shearing. We can handle delivery only on orders that are placed early. Write today for full information.

Sham Battle Arrangements.

Col. Brown, Col. Jones, and other army officers from Fort Sam Houston were here Monday and in company with W. S. Ethridge went out to Bandera Pass and Camp Verde to arrange for encampment of some six thousand troops in May, when a sham battle and certain army maneuvers will take place. The troops will march out from San Antonio 3,000 going to Camp Verde and 3,000 coming to Bandera, where they will encamp on the Loop on May 19th, and on the 20th and 21st the Camp Verde contingent will attack the Camp Verde forces which will be entrenched in Bandera Pass. It will be a great battle and will be viewed by thousands. Infantry, cavalry and artillery will participate in the maneuvers. Permission was secured from property owners in that region for the despatch of the troops across lands. Full particulars of this army demonstration will be given later.

Electric Light Plant.

We understand that Oscar Perner is arranging to put in an electric light plant in Bandera and has rented one of the Noonan buildings for his plant. Bandera needs an electric plant and we hope Mr. Perner will get the encouragement he needs to install a system that will meet the requirements.

Sustains Broken Leg.

Clarence McDaniel, nine years old, sustained a broken leg when he fell from a swing on the Hansen ranch last Thursday. Dr. Erwin set the fracture, and the little fellow is getting along nicely.

Laxson Creek Community Club.

The Laxson Creek Community Club enjoyed a most delightful meeting at the Community Hall on last Friday evening, with Mrs. R. P. Cox and Miss Pauline Pue as hostesses. The evening's program consisted of Progressive Forty-two, music by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Walker, and games suggestive of St. Valentine. This suggestion was also carried out in the house decorations. Delicious refreshments of heart-shaped sandwiches, cake and tea were served to the following guests: Mesdames Kate Whisenhunt, Julia Becker, E. Hammond, W. H. H. Davis, Effie Tallman, Lucile Fames, Bess Canafax, Susie Davis, W. Ross, Myrtle Daniels, Misses Ollie and Annie Montel, Rachel Whisenhunt, Emogene Canafax, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. E. Whisenhunt, Mr. and Mrs. Milam Faris and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Browning, Mr and Mrs. O. D. Tallman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thalmann, Messrs. Sid Hammond, Carl Bush, O. Baker, Wendel Reed, Ed Stevens, Chas. McGrath, W. Bush, Walter Meadows, Heber Stevens, Mac Walker, R. P. Cox, Edgar Pue, Albert Faris, Joe Lewis Davis, and David James.

Mrs. W. H. Fitzgerald Dead.

The community was shocked Tuesday morning when the news came that Mrs. W. H. Fitzgerald had just died at McKinney, Texas, after a brief illness. Mrs. Fitzgerald was a well known and highly esteemed resident of Bandera, having lived here for many years. She is the wife of W. H. Fitzgerald, one of the substantial citizens of the county, and at the time of her death was 68 years old. Surviving besides the husband, are ten children, Melvin, Collier and Henry Fitzgerald of Bandera; Mrs. May Heinen of Bandera, Mrs. Mattie Boothe of Sweetwater, Mrs. Ella Burney of Center Point, Mrs. Sallie Meyers of Velasco, Mrs. Lillian Leslie and Mrs. Grace Partlow of San Antonio, all of whom were present at the funeral, which was conducted yesterday afternoon, by Rev. H. S. O. Burgin, paster of the Laurel Heights Methodist church of San Antonio, assisted by Rev. Ben J. Hosteti, pasor of the Bandera Methodist church. Interment was in Bandera Cemetery. The pall bearers were F. Barrett, W. J. Davenport, Sr., Chas. Rugh, John Pyka, John Wright and Vernon Merritt. A great concourse of sorrowing friends followed the remains to the cemetery, and when interment had been made the mound was banked high with beautiful flowers and wreaths of flowers, showing the high regard and esteem in which Mrs. Fitzgerald was held by our people.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, nee Mary Cobb, was born in Gonzales county, and was reared there. When she grew to womanhood she was married to W. H. Fitzgerald, and abut thirty years ago with her husband moved to Bandera county. She was a lifelong member of the Methodist church.

The passing of this good woman is a sad blow to our community, for she was a most kind and lovable mother, a devoted wife, a loyal friend and excellent neighbor. She took active interest in the social and religious affairs of Bandera, and her home was always open to receive her friends, and they were legion. She graced her home with the queenly dignity of true motherhood and wifely devotion, and everyone keenly feels the sorrow which today rests so heavily upon that home now bereft of the good wife and mother. Our sympathy goes out to the grief-stricken husband and children in their bereavment.

Leg Amputated.

Henry Lane's condition had grown so serious that it was found necessary to amputate his leg at a hospital in San Antonio Monday. A few weeks ago Mr Lane accidently shot himself with a rifle at his home on Hillege Creek, the ball shattering his knee and penetrating his arm. He was rushed to a hospital in San Antonio, where he has since been in a critical condition. His many friends here anxiously hope he will now fully recover.

Mrs. Austin Dead.

Mrs. Willie Austin, nee Beulah Welch, died in a hospital at San Antonio last Sunday following an operation. She was about 33 years old, and leaves a husband and four little children, besides her mother and several brothers and sisters, to mourn her death. For the past year the family has lived on Robert Brown's place above Medina, and had made a large circle of friends, who sympathize with the bereaved husband and little children in this great sorrow which has come upon them so suddenly. The eldest child is only thirteen years old and the youngest is an infant seven months old. Mrs. Austin was an excellent woman, a kind and affectionate wife and mother, and it is indeed sad to chronicle the death of one, who, in the prime of life, is cut down by the Grim Reaper. The New Era extends condolence and sympathy to Mr. Austin and his children.

Barn Destroyed by Fire.

A large barn belonging to E. H. Sewall at the Pecan Valley Ranch above Medina, was destroyed by fire early last Friday morning. A new threshing machine, a new Ford car, and a great deal of feed stuff was destroyed, the loss amounting to several thousand dollars. It is not known how the fire originated. Mr. Sewall has our sympathy in his heavy loss.

On History Program.

J. Marvin Hunter, editor and publisher of Frontier Times, has received notice that he has been placed on the program of the history section of the South western Political Science Association, which meets at Dallas April 1-3, the subject assigned to him being a discussion of "The Seminole Negroes." Supt. B. H. Miller of Eagle Pass is on the same subject.

Undergoes an Operation.

Mrs. Charleston Collins, of Medina, was taken to a hospital in Kerrville last Saturday, suffering with an attack of acute appendicitis. She underwent an operation Sunday and is reported to be doing nicely.

Premium Money in Show.

In the annual show and sale of the United Goat & Sheep Raisers' Association, to be held at Camp Wood in August, about $1400 has been appropriated for cash prizes in the general show. There will be five cash classifications in each show department. Apportionment of these cash prizes will be announced later.

LIMA LINES.

Mrs. Willie Austin died in a hospital in San Antonio Sunday morning at five o'clock. Mrs. Austin had appendicitis. She was hastened to a hospital Friday night and was operated on Saturday morning at nine o'clock. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Welch of San Antonio, her husband, Willie Austin, of Medina, four daughters, as follows, Elsie, Gladys, Beulah, and Mary all of Medina; also several brothers and sisters. We give our sympathy to the bereaved ones in this dark hour.

Bertha Shipman, little daughter of Mrs. N. N. Mayberry, is up after being confined to the bed for about three weeks with pneumonia. We hope she will soon be able to come back to school.

Miss Joyce Phillips returned home Monday from San Antonio where she has been with her sister, Mrs. J. N. Coose. Joyce reports that Mrs. Coose is doing fine, as she was able to be taken home from the hospital Friday. Mrs. Phillips is still in San Antonio with Mrs. Coose.

Miss Ella Hillman and Thomas Keese were guests of Miss Sylva Keese Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hillman and baby were guests in the Hillman home Sunday.

Gainor Keese was the guest of his cousin Howell Keese Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips and baby and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Phillips enjoyed playing dominoes at Orville Keese's home Sunday night.

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Rev. P. E. Hawkins, pastor of the Christian church at Kerrville has purchased the interests of Otho A. Morris and J. A. Jackson in the new Kerrville paper, The Hill View Times, and will conduct the business and edit that paper in the future. Elder Hawkins is a good writer, a good mixer, and a splendid business man, and already the Hill View Times is showing improvement.

The opening of a new oil field down in Medina county is gratifying news to the citizens of Bandera county, who feel encouraged in the belief that oil will some day be found in this section. Some drilling has been done over in the extreme western part of Bandera county, and while indications found were very good, a producer was not brought in. But we are firm in our belief that an oil pool exists not far away from Bandera, and if the proper development is done we believe an oil field will be opened right here. There are forces at work now, we understand, to bring about some drilling before long.

C. M. Baker of Wolffarth, who was here last Saturday, informs us that he is coming to the Old Settlers' Reunion here in July to enter that "hog-calling contest" against Pomp Freeman and Bill Haught. He says Pomp and Bill can call hogs all right, but they do not know how to put the fancy trills to the calls that will make an old sow and a litter of pigs come up for their feed. He avers that when he gets through calling every hog within a radius of ten miles will be rooting on the reunion grounds, and warns Ed Mansfield to put a log proof fence around his premises if he wants to keep them out.

"There is a Reason"

ORGANIZATION

TEAM WORK WILL WIN

Nothing is more important than CO-OPERATION. In our day many of the axioms of bygone days will not work. Most of us can remember how the proverb "Competition is the life of trade" was generally accepted as a truism in economics.

Today, in most cases, the practice of such a theory would be ruinous and to give a modern turn to the phrase substitute "CO-OPERATION" for "Competition" and you get the answer. CO-OPERATION—to begin at the top—is of the very essence of our National life, and of a democratic system of government.

No matter which opposing political parties win in a general election—when the dust has settled and the final count of votes recorded—the man elected President is without a competitor, and to loyally co-operate with him for the best of the Nation is the duty of every loyal American. How could the best team pictured above hope to win if half the crew decide to ignore the word of the helmsman?

Apply the allegory to our own affairs in Bandera County. When the voice of the people has placed certain men at the head of the local affairs for a fixed period, the only way to a successful administration is for everyone to co-operate.

Honest criticism is all right, but see to it that the motive behind it is a desire to help not cripple those pledged to conduct our affairs.

And—citizens of Bandera, while there is no law which compels you to trade in Bandera, there is a moral obligation, fully as binding on a conscientious citizen which should impel you to work for them in their effort to make Bandera a trading center.

The people with investments here in Bandera have heavy responsibilities involving great risks.

They must maintain adequate stock so as to give prompt and intelligent service, and yet the most careful buyers are at times loaded with goods bought at top prices on which—without a murmur—they take a loss. The average fair minded American merchant only seeks to get a fair profit figured on his investment on the yearly turnover.

It can be demonstrated by unimpeachable authorities that many a merchant when his trading statement for a year is examined, has not made as much as would yield him a salary commensurate with his own ability were he to sell his service to someone else, and this is true in certain years of all business institutions, large or small, in cities of less than ten thousand population. And the people with investments are those who must shoulder the biggest end of the tax burden, the inevitable load which makes and keeps Bandera a center of population for this district.

Be fair to investors in Bandera whether it is the Ice Plant or the General Merchant, and being in the same boat with them, pull together, keep stroke—for the common good.

And remember—the race is over a certain course, so don't "crab" things by stopping at the hundred post when a mile is the mark. Decide that since you are in the same boat with us, you will pull with us for a straight year, giving Bandera people a chance to supply everything you need, and as sure as day follows night, you will benefit, we will benefit and Bandera will prosper.

Raising Turkens.

Much interest has been taken in the new fowl, the Turken, a cross between a turkey and a chicken, which a few years ago made its appearance on the Pacific Coast. Mrs. E. M. Dowty of this city has a number of these fowls which she has raised herself and she invites the general public to call at her home and see them. They are odd looking birds, resembling in some respects a turkey and in others a chicken, but they are thrifty and very prolific layers, and the meat is very delicious. Mrs. Dowty is selling eggs for hatching purposes, and is ready to guarantee a reasonable batch.

Electric Light Plant.

Last week we announced that Oscar Perner would install an electric light plant in Bandera. Mr. Perner informs us that he has abandoned his plans along this line, but T. W. North is making arrangements to put in a modern electric light plant and power house, to supply the city with lights and power. The plant will be installed at a cost of about $3,000, and Mr. North says he hopes to have it in operation within the next few months. Bandera has long needed just such an enterprise and we are feeling mighty good over the prospects to secure the needed service. The installation of an electric plant here will materially reduce our insurance rates as well as supply power for the operation of machinery, and every citizen should encourage the new industry in every way.

Old Settlers' Meeting.

The executive committee of the Bandera County Old Settlers' Association held a meeting at the New Era office last Saturday and made plans for the holding of the next reunion of the old settlers, which will be held at Mansfield Park July 2nd and 3rd. It was decided to use green badges this year, and the secretary will have the badges ready for distribution by the first of May. The usual blue badges will be issued to honorary members, people who have lived in the county more than sixty years. All members over forty years old and who have not resided in the county sixty years, will get a green badge which will admit them to all of the privileges of the reunion.

Celebrates 88th Birthday.

Captain Charles Schreiner, pioneer citizen and builder of Kerrville, celebrated his 88th birthday quietly at his home in Texas in 1852. When seventeen years old he joined a Ranger company on the frontier, and in 1857 he located in Kerr county, where he established himself in ranching. When the Civil War came on he enlisted as a volunteer in Capt. S. G. Newton's company in San Antonio and served throughout the period of the war, returning to Texas in 1865, and lived on his ranch until 1869, when he embarked in the mercantile business in Kerrville, where he has since resided. Having no capital with which to begin his merchandising venture, he was fortunate in securing a silent partner who furnished $5,000 with which to purchase a stock of goods and begin that series of successful operations that have made him one of the wealthiest men and most extensive and enterprising merchants in West Texas. Later he bought his partner's interest, and conducted the business on his own account. He built the St. Charles Hotel in Kerrville, owns large storehouses, a big flour mill and cotton gin, became a stockholder in the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad and induced it to build to Kerrville, built a big wool warehouse, and handled nearly all of the wool produced in a vast scope of country around Kerrville, established a private bank which is rated as one of the solid banking institutions of the state. Captain Schreiner has been a builder in every sense of the word, and is rightly called the "Father of the Hill Country."

Charges Dismissed.

Some time ago A. D. Kutzer was arrested on complaint filed in Justice Court charged with moving stock out of the county without being inspected. Mr. Kutzer was tried by a jury and came clear, it being proven that he had complied with the law insofar as he was able. A similar charge was filed against him in Medina county, and in company with Attorney W. S. Ethridge, he went down there and when the case was called it was dismissed, with the understanding that the case would be taken to the county court. Last week Mr. Kutzer, accompanied by his attorney, went to Hondo expecting the case to be tried, but on arrival there it was found that no charges had been filed in the county court, and he had the assurance that the whole matter had been dropped. It is a well known fact that Mr. Kutzer is a law-abiding citizen, and in the eradication movement which was on in this county until recently he was active in dipping his stock and doing all he could to help the clean-up campaign, and his many friends are well satisfied with the outcome of the court proceedings against him.

Mrs. T. G. Light, of near Medina who was taken to Kerrville hospital last week, has so far recovered as to be able to go to Ingram, where she will spend awhile with her sister, Mrs. J. Moseley. It was thought when Mrs. Light was taken ill, that she was suffering from an attack of acute appendicitis, and that an operation would be necessary, but this did not prove to be the case.

Putting in Big Stock.

H. H. Stokes was here from Medina Monday and informed the New Era scribe that he is now having a big line of dry goods in his store in Medina, and will carry a complete stock of everything; dry goods, dress goods, hats, clothing, etc. Mr. Stokes has been steadily building starting in two or three years ago with a small stock and gradually expanding. He says he is now in position to supply the needs of the public in the general merchandise line and invites you to call and see him when in Medina. See his ad in another column.

Take a Ride in a Chevrolet.

It is superbly smooth is its performance, so delightful its comfort that you will step from the car amazed that such power, speed and snap could be achieved in a car that costs so little matter what car you drive or intend to drive—take a ride in the improved Chevrolet and experience the revelation it will afford you! See your local Chevrolet salesman, Frank Marshall.

A temporary organization was effected with the following officers: Mrs. Joe L. Tilley, president; Miss Vivian Reese, secretary-reporter. Mrs. O. D. Reese, Mrs. Bob Miller and N. A. Mayberry were appointed as a committee to draw up constitution and by-laws. The meeting then adjourned to meet next Saturday, February 27, at 3:30 p. m. at the school house. Every mother is urged to attend the meeting.

Buys Jones Ranch.

A deal is pending whereby Fletcher P. Layton is buying the A. H. Jones ranch on Myrtle Creek, for a consideration of $10,950. The ranch is pretty well improved and contains nearly 1000 acres.

Raising Turkeys.

Much interest has been taken in the new fowl, the Turken, a cross between a turkey and a chicken, which a few years ago made its appearance on the Pacific Coast. Mrs. E. M. Dowty of this city has a number of these fowls which she has raised herself and she invites the general public to call at her home and see them. They are odd looking birds, resembling in some respects a turkey and in others a chicken, but they are thrifty and very prolific layers, and the meat is very delicious. Mrs. Dowty is selling eggs for hatching purposes, and is ready to guarantee a reasonable hatch.

Electric Light Plant.

Last week we announced that Oscar Perner would install an electric light plant in Bandera. Mr. Perner informs us that he has abandoned his plans along this line, but T. W. North is making arrangements to put in a modern electric light plant and power house, to supply the city with lights and power. The plant will be installed at a cost of about $5,000, and Mr. North says he hopes to have it in operation within the next few months. Bandera has long needed just such an enterprise and we are feeling mighty good over the prospects to secure the needed service. The installation of an electric plant here will materially reduce our insurance rates as well as supply power for the operation of machinery, and every citizen should encourage the new industry in every way.

To Purchase Stage Curtains.

Mr. J. O. Crawford was in Bandera this week soliciting advertising for a handsome stage curtain for Bandera High School auditorium. The Parent Teachers' Association contemplates purchasing. The curtain is a beauty and will be quite an additional equipment of the school auditorium.

From Honolulu.

Sergeant and Mrs. C. W. Manning, who sailed for the Philippines late in January, sends us a good letter from Honolulu, under date of February 4, which we will publish in our next issue. Sergt. Manning will be stationed at Camp Nichos, Manila, where he will be connected with the 25th Bombing Squadron, Flying Corps.

Mrs. August Mangold, of Tarpley, underwent an operation at a hospital in San Antonio last Monday for gall stones. Her many friends will be pleased to learn that she is making good recovery.

I. E. Adamietz Injured.

While on his way to Comanche last Saturday night, in company with Tom Mazurek, I. E. Adamietz, cashier of the First State Bank was painfully injured when their car ran into a broken culvert near Rochelle. Mr. Adamietz suffered a severe scalp wound, a broken rib and a bruised eye, but is at his post of duty wearing his usual genial smile, regardless of the bruises he sustained.

Solicits Your Business.

Max Beseler, the well known merchant of Boerne, has an ad in this issue of the New Era. Mr. Beseler carries an up-to-date stock of gents' furnishings, and invites you to visit his establishment when you want the best and newest style suits, shoes, hats, and furnishings. Read one of his prices given in this paper.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mashafer, of the Alamo City Business College, were up from San Antonio Sunday, sight-seeing and visiting friends.

Old Settlers' Meeting.

The executive committee of the Bandera County Old Settlers Association held a meeting at the New Era office last Saturday and made plans for the holding of the next reunion of the old settlers, which will be held in Mansfield Park July 2nd and 3rd. It was decided to use green badges this year, and the secretary will have the badges ready for distribution by the first of May. The usual blue badges will be issued to honorary members, people who have lived in the county more than sixty years. All members over forty years old and who have not resided in the county sixty years, will get a green badge which will admit them to all of the privileges of the reunion.

Celebrates 88th Birthday.

Captain Charles Schreiner, pioneer citizen and builder of Kerrville, celebrated his 88th birthday quietly at his home in that city last Monday. Captain Schreiner has thousands of friends all over this part of Texas, who extend best wishes and hope he will be permitted to live for many years to come. He was born in Riguewihr, France, February 22, 1838 and came to Texas in 1852. When seventeen years old he joined a Ranger company on the frontier, and in 1857 he located in Kerr county, where he established himself in ranching. When the Civil War came on he enlisted as a volunteer in Co. B, 35th Texas Cavalry, in San Antonio and served throughout the period of the war, returning to Texas in 1865, and lived on his ranch until 1869, when he embarked in the mercantile business in Kerrville, where he has since resided. Having no capital with which to begin his merchandising venture, he was fortunate in securing a silent partner who furnished $5,000 with which to purchase a stock of goods and begin that series of successful operations that have made him one of the wealthiest men and most extensive and enterprising merchants in West Texas. Later he bought his partner's interest, and conducted the business on his own account. He built the St. Charles Hotel in Kerrville, owns large storehouses, a big flour mill and cotton gin, became a stockholder in the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad and induced it to build to Kerrville, built a big wool warehouse, and handled nearly all of the wool produced in a vast scope of country around Kerrville, established a private bank which is rated as one of the solid banking institutions of the state. Captain Schreiner has been a builder in every sense of the word, and is rightly called the "Father of the Hill Country."

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends for the kindness and sympathy shown in our recent bereavement caused by the death of our beloved wife and mother, and for the beautiful floral offerings.—W. H. Fitzgerald and Children.

Charges Dismissed.

Some time ago A. D. Kutzer was arrested on complaint filed in Justice Court charged with moving stock out of the county without being inspected. Mr. Kutzer was tried by a jury and came clear, it being proven that he had complied with the law insofar as he was able. A similar charge was filed against him in Medina county, and in company with Attorney W. S. Ethridge, he went down there and when the case was called it was dismissed, with the understanding that the case would be taken to the county court. Last week Mr. Kutzer, accompanied by his attorney, went to Hondo expecting the case to be tried, but on arrival there it was found that no charges had been filed in the county court, and he had the assurance that the whole matter had been dropped. It is a well known fact that Mr. Kutzer is a law-abiding citizen, and in the eradication movement which was on in this county until recently he was active in dipping his stock and doing all he could to help the clean-up campaign, and his many friends are well satisfied with the outcome of the court proceedings against him.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

It looks as if Bandera is to have an up-to-date and complete electric light and power plant. Let us hope so, for such an enterprise has long been needed here.

The Old Settler's Reunion will take place at Bandera July 2nd and 3rd. Make your plans to be here, for the coming reunion will be the best ever held. You already know what a fine time you had last year at the reunion. You'll have a finer time next time.

The New Era appreciated a visit last Monday from Messrs. Robert L. Faulk, and Paul J. Kelly, who came over from Legion on a sight-seeing trip. The former gentleman is a resident of Brownsville, while the latter hails from faraway Pennsylvania. They were delighted with our historic and picturesque region and assure us that they are coming back again soon. Both gentlemen subscribed for the New Era and Tor Frontier Times.

Bandera Timber in Breckenridge.

Col. A. Halamuda brought us some specimens of his spineless cactus and wild alfalfa which he is now growing on his place near town. Mr. Halamuda is strictly a booster for this section of the germon Hill Country. He says almost anything can be grown here, and has proven it in his production of various fruits and strawberries. He says apples of the best quality are easily grown. Col. Halamuda recently sent some black haw trees to Commissioner Ray Lambert for planting in Brackenridge Park, of which the San Antonio Express says:

"Commissioner of Parks Ray Lambert is introducing a new tree to San Antonio. Known as "the black haw tree," several are being transplanted from the Bandera Hills to local parks this week. One will be set out in Alamo Plaza. Anton Halamuda of Bandera, who sent the trees to Commissioner Lambert, said they are not unlike plum trees. Their bloom is in the form of clusters of white flowers. The fruit appears red-green, turns pink and black, and is ripe for the harvest about the time frost comes for the first time, he said. Like plums, the fruit is especially good for preserving, Halamuda said."

Gasoline Engine For Sale.

The New Era has a 7-horse-power Stickney gasoline engine for sale at a bargain. You'll have to hurry if you want it.

GANDERBONES FORECAST

After a long vacation our local prognosticator, Colonel Ganderbone, sends us another line of forecasts and assures us he will make regular contributions to the New Era in the future. Following is what he has to say:

We are to have an early spring, but there will probably be some wintry weather before Easter and a real chilly Easter spell. Early gardens will suffer from cut worms and other insects, and some will get nipped by light frosts. Look for a good small grain crop, an average corn crop, and a fine fruit crop, this year. March, as usual will be windy, and April will bring considerable moisture for growing crops.

There will be an outbreak of several diseases among the people. The itch will make its appearance, whooping cough and measles will afflict the children; there may be several cases of smallpox in a very light form. Carbunkles and boils will distress many of the people, so I would recommend that everybody at once begin dosing with the old fashioned blood purifier, sulphur and molasses. If you do not know how to mix the dose ask your grandmother.

As the summer advances candidates will begin to crop out, and by pic nic and barbecue time the woods will be full of daisies and candidates. A form of arm paralysis will develop as a result of too much handshaking with candidates.

A fine poultry crop will result if the farmers' wives will set their hens now. Later settings will be disturbed by heavy thunder which will be in evidence during storm periods which we will have. There will be a few severe thunderstorms during May, June and July, with considerable rain. The Medica paralysis will develop as a result of too much handshaking with candidates.

A fine poultry crop will result if the farmers' wives will set their hens now. Later settings will be disturbed by heavy thunder which will be in evidence during storm periods which we will have. There will be a few severe thunderstorms during May, June and July, with considerable rain. The Medica crop will get on a rampage and destroy crops in the lowlands along about harvest time. Would advise farmers to stock their oats on high ground.

There will be fewer deaths among extremely old people in the county this year than for several years previous, but there will be several accidents which will bring grief and sorrow into two or three homes. Auto drivers should use extra caution this year. Women's dresses will be shorter this summer and as a result sore eyes will afflict the male population.

Harper, the Beautiful.

Last Thursday the New Era editor made a trip to the pretty little town of Harper, located in Gillespie county, 20 miles north of Kerrville. We spent over there to help our son, Warren Hunter, resurrect the Harper Herald, a newspaper which has been "dead" for the past few years. Seventeen years ago we established the Harper Herald, but sold it in a short while, and this was our first visit there since then. During the time we have been away from there, the little town has grown considerably and has put in city airs, the streets have been graded, handsome new business structures have gone up, electric lights have been installed, and many other changes have taken place, but while we were over there last week we found the same generous, hospitable people we knew there so many years ago. Time has not changed them in the least, the old folks then are still old folks, but they do not look old, and the young folks seem to still be young folks. We met our old friend, Conrad Birchfield, who, though having suffered a stroke of paralysis several months ago, is able to get about and is just as cheerful as ever. Uncle Johnnie Cook, who by the way is about ninety-three years young, and, twice as warmly and cordially welcome back as often as we could Webb Sagesser, Aged eighty-year-gets about, lively and says he does not feel a bit older than he did twenty years ago. Our old friend, R. Markwardt, gave us a hearty greeting, and seems to be the same genial gentleman who used to drop in, for a social chat while we lived there. Cheri Bein is engaged in the mercantile business and also runs a pool hall, a sideline carries a good stock of general merchandise which a good wife manages, and is doing well. Harper without Pearl would not be Harper. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Weidelich are also engaged in the mercantile business at the same old stand, and both of them are just as busy and cheerful as they were when we first met them in 1900. And Henry Thiele, the blacksmith, is still right there with his laughing smile and hearty handshake that makes a fellow feel welcome. Harper Mrs. J. R. Bell, formerly Mrs. Annie Sagesser, and her beloved by all of the people there, is postmaster of the town and has efficiently served in that capacity for seven years, taking the place of Mrs. Patton, another excellent lady who had filled the place satisfactorily for many years, and who resigned to seek the retirement of a quiet home life. Mrs. Bell's son, Claude Sagesser, and his wife are engaged in the hotel business there and feed the hungry in fine style. By the way, Claude is the community's champion Prof Cole is the principal of the school. We found Mr. and Mrs. John Morris in the First State Bank, a solid institution which has been organized and conducted since we knew it. The bank is located in a fine new building and equipped with modern conveniences. Mr. and Mrs. H. Reimer have also built a fine furniture store, while Henry Fischer deals in groceries. Mr. Fischer and brother, sons of our old friend Jake Cooper, carry on a blacksmithing and also handle feed, coal and are doing well. The Citizens Auto Co. an enterprise and concern has a large and well equipped garage building and well supplied establishment, and Harper Garage is another growing concern, both establishments being owned by five enterprising citizens of the town. Otto Reiche has a well established general merchandise business, and during the several years he has been there has built up an extensive trade. J. P. Taylor, a son of that well known Presbyterian, Captain Creed Taylor, is the druggist for the town now. Our old friend, Fred Weidelich, has the butcher shop at the old stand where it was located when we were there. We had the pleasure of again greeting Mr. Weidelich and his charming wife, and found both of them the same jolly people we knew in 1900. J. W. Lennon, Jr., conducts an up-to-date and model bakery there and enjoys a liberal patronage. Mr. C. Weinecke owns and operates the City Cafe and also conducts a meat market. Messrs. Bauman & Fiedler conduct a general merchandise store in the upper part of town and are doing a good business. W. A. Brown is the boot and shoe maker and is a good one. Bellmore Roberts runs the barber shop and enjoys a good patronage. Thus the readers can see that Harper has a good representation in the line of business.

Harper has five church buildings, the Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Lutheran and Catholic. She also has a fine school with an excellent corps of teachers. A movement is already under way to secure a highway from Fredericksburg to pass through the town and connect with the Kerrville and Junction highway at a point about sixteen miles west of Harper. This proposed highway will give Harper direct connection with Austin and will be a great benefit to that town. The Harper Herald, under the management of Warren Hunter, will make its appearance this week and we are sure the paper will receive a liberal patronage from those enterprising people.

ORGANIZATION

TEAM WORK WILL WIN

Nothing is more important than CO-OPERATION. In our day many of the axioms of bygone days will not work. Most of us can remember how the proverb "Competition is the life of trade" was generally accepted as a truism in economics.

Today, in most cases, the practice of such a theory would be ruinous and to give a modern turn to the phrase substitute "CO-OPERATION" for "Competition" and you get the answer. CO-OPERATION—to begin at the top—is of the very essence of our National life, and of a democratic system of government.

No matter which opposing political parties win in a general election—when the die is cast—the final count of votes recorded—the man elected President is without a competitor, and to loyally co-operate with him for the best of the Nation is the duty of every loyal American. How could the best team pictured above hope to win if half the crew decide to ignore the word of the helmsman?

Apply the allegory to our own affairs in Bandera County. When the voice of the people has placed certain men at the head of the local affairs for a fixed period, the only way to a successful administration is for everyone to co-operate.

Honest criticism is all right, but see to it that the motive behind it is a desire to help not cripple those pledged to conduct our affairs.

And—citizens of Bandera, while there is no law which compels you to trade in Bandera, there is a moral obligation, fully as binding on a conscientious citizen which should impel you to work for them in their effort to make Bandera a trading center.

The people with investments here in Bandera have heavy responsibilities involving great risks.

They must maintain adequate stock so as to give prompt and intelligent service, and yet the most careful buyers are at times loaded with goods bought at top prices on which—without a murmur—they take a loss. The average fair minded American merchant only seeks to get a fair profit figured on his investment on the yearly turnover.

It can be demonstrated by unimpeachable authorities that many a merchant when his trading statement for a year is examined, has not made as much as would yield him a salary commensurate with his own ability were he to sell his service to someone else, and this is true in certain years of all business institutions, large or small, in cities of less than ten thousand population. And the people with investments are those who must shoulder the biggest end of the tax burden, the inevitable load which makes and keeps Bandera a center of population for this district.

Be fair to investors in Bandera whether it is the Ice Plant or the General Merchant, and being in the same boat with them, pull together, keep stroke—for the common good.

And remember—the race is over a certain course, so don't "crab" things by stopping at the hundred post when a mile is the mark. Decide that since you are in the same boat with us, you will pull with us for a straight year, giving Bandera people a chance to supply everything you need, and as sure as day follows night, you will benefit, we will benefit and Bandera will prosper.

After Many Years.

Seventy-five years ago Amasa Clark, Mexican War veteran, came to Bandera and cast his lot here. Mr. Clark was originally from Seobarrie county, New York. Shortly after coming to this section he wrote to his people in New York state, but never heard from them. Years passed and still no word came to the young man far from home. After repeated efforts to locate his people Mr. Clark finally decided that all of them were dead. The last message he had from home was in 1849, when he received a letter, while at El Paso, from his sister, Caroline Glen Clark. During the past two or three years Mr. Clark has attained much prominence from the fact that he is one of the few surviving veterans of the Mexican War. His picture, taken at the New Era office in his Mexican War uniform, has appeared in all of the leading newspapers in the United States and in some foreign countries. On the 3rd of last September he celebrated his birthday and gained further publicity. Recently one of his nephews living in Oklahoma, a son of the long-lost sister, Caroline Glenn Clark, saw the old veteran's picture in an Oklahoma daily, and wrote to inquire if he was originally from Seobarrie county, New York. Letters were exchanged with the result that Veteran Clark once more is united with some of his kin.

Last Tuesday I. W. Rhodes of Kingfisher, Oklahoma, and H. A. Rhodes of Cornell, Illinois, arrived in Bandera on a visit to their uncle, Clark, their aunt, Their mother, Caroline Clark Rhodes died three or four years ago at the age of 98 years. Three brothers and a sister stayed here. They were accompanied up from San Antonio by Alvin Clark, Lieut. and Mrs. Hill and children, Mrs. James W. Evans and baby, and Billy Krempkau.

A few days ago representatives of the Bandera High School came here from San Antonio making arrangements to place about forty pupils of the school here during the summer months for the purpose of painting our picturesque scenery on canvas. The Bandera region is the delight of all artists.

Warehouse Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association was held at the association's warehouse last Saturday, more than fifty members being present. Manager Fred Thalmann gave a report of the association's business, after which the old board of directors was re-elected to serve for the next year. The directors are W. E. Mansfield, A. D. Kutzer, F. E. Whisenhunt, R. B. Garrison, R. N. Padgett, W. R Thomason, and Fred Thalmann. Officers will be chosen by the directors at a meeting to be held next Saturday.

The secretary's report shows the Association to be in good condition, having a cash surplus on hand of about $3,000. A ten per cent dividend was paid to the stockholders the first of the year. During 1925 the Association handled 195,000 pounds of mohair and 250,000 pounds of wool, which it sold to the best advantage for the growers. The combined clips of wool and mohair represented the distribution to growers of around $200,000 during the year.

We are all proud of our warehouse organization and every citizen of the county should cooperate with it and help to make it stronger.

Ranch Home Destroyed.

There is an old saying that Misfortune never comes singly. This certainly seems to be true in the affairs of George Fee of Winan's Creek. A few weeks ago the infant of Mr. and Mrs. Fee was stricken with illness and was taken to a hospital at Kerrville, where, for several days it was not expected to live. As soon as the infant was on the road to recovery, Mrs. Fee was stricken and had to undergo an operation, which took place on Monday, and reports are that she is well on the road to recovery. Mr. Fee, in order to be with his wife and baby as much as possible during their stay in the hospital, went over to Kerrville last Sunday, and on Tuesday morning, while there was no one on the premises, his house was discovered to be on fire, and before anyone could reach there the flames had gained such headway that the building and all of its contents was consumed. How the fire originated is a mystery. It was first discovered by the Medina mail-carrier, Orville Rhodes, as he was going to Bandera with the mail. He gave the alarm and F. A. Masters, V. C. Masters and others rushed over there to combat the flames, but all to no purpose. A telephone message was sent to Mr. Fee at Kerrville apprising him of his loss, and he returned home at once. The sympatily of the whole community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Fee in their misfortune.

Undergoes An Operation.

Mrs. Felix Newcomer, of Pipe Creek, was taken to San Antonio last Friday night and underwent an operation at a hospital there at midnight. Her many friends will be pleased to learn that she is making good recovery.

Will Resume Dipping April 1.

Dipping operations in this county will be resumed April 1, under direction of the Livestock Sanitary Board, after a cessation of about two months. Leo Callan, chairman of the State Livestock Sanitary Board, accompanied by Dr. Robards and H. F. Wurzbach, came to Bandera last Saturday to complete arrangements for resumption of the eradication work, which will be in charge of Dr. Robards, as understand. As the fever tick is not active at this time of the year the loss of a few weeks dipping has not handicapped the work in any way. Our stockmen who have been making a determined effort to clean their ranges are rejoicing that the work is to be resumed, and we hope everyone will lend all co-operation and encouragement to the undertaking so that before many months Bandera county will be declared clean and be given a release from the regulations.

Bitten by a Rattlesnake.

Ross Merritt, residing on the Sargent Branch, was bitten by a rattlesnake last Friday night. Dr. Butler was summoned and promptly administered antidotes. The young man is now out of danger and getting along nicely.

Miss Anna Habenicht to Wed

Cards are out announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Anna Habenicht and Mr. Alex Engel, the wedding to take place in San Antonio on Saturday, March 13. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Habenicht of Bandera, and is an excellent young lady. The groom is an enterprising young business man of San Antonio.

Mrs. Wilson Clark Dead.

Mrs. Wilson Clark died at the home of Mrs. Cox at Pipe Creek last Monday at 2:45 o'clock p. m. Mrs. Clark had been ill for several months, and a few days ago developed pneumonia.

Mrs. Clark, nee Louiza Matilda Dunn, was born in Marion county, Alabama, July 3, 1849 and came to Texas with her parents when she was eight years old. On December 25, 1875, she was happily married to Wilson Clark, who survives her. Also surviving are two children, Mrs. Chas. Ruede of Pipe Creek and Mrs. Maud Jump of San Antonio, eleven grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Howard of Uvalde, and several brothers whose where abouts are unknown to the writer.

Mrs. Clark was a life-long member of the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints, and her funeral was conducted at Pipe Creek Tuesday afternoon by her pastor, Elder D. S. Palmer. Interment was in Pipe Creek cemetery.

Thus another one of our old pioneers has passed away. Mrs. Clark was of that distinctive type of pioneer mother, hospitable, charitable, generous and beloved by all who knew her. We deeply sympathize with the bereft husband in the great sorrow that has come upon him, and the grief-stricken children.

The First National Bank of Bandera

Celebrates Wedding Anniversary

On last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Blake Anderwalds who live near Bandera, celebrated the 45th anniversary of their wedding, being delightfully surprised by their children with a bounteous dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Anderwald are old settlers here, and have lived on their present homestead all of their married life. When they settled here neighbors were few and Indians often made raids into this section. The country was so wild that Mr. Anderwald says that he could stand on his porch and kill deer and wild turkey. They have reared nine children, and all were present on this happy occasion, except Sister Gustava, who is in Kosciusko teaching school, and Henry Anderwald, who is manager of a big ranch near Lockney. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Dugosh and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Anderwald and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderwald and family, all of Bandera, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gavlick and family and Mrs. William Frederick of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Potter of Boerne. Others present were A. H. Carvajal of San Antonio and Alex Kalka and children of Bandera.

The beautiful wedding cake, baked by daughters, was frosted in white and had 45 candles placed around it. The cake occupied the center of a long table which was well laden with many good things to eat, fine meats, beef, mutton, chicken various salads, dressings, and all that go with such a wonderful spread. After dinner was served a number of pictures were taken of Mr. and Mrs. Anderwald, their children, and grandchildren. There were forty-five guests present on this happy occasion. The New Era joins in wishing this venerable couple many more happy years of wedded life.

Elder D. S. Palmer of near Medina, attended the Semi-Annual Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints, held in San Antonio Saturday and Sunday. He was chosen as delegate to go to the General Conference which is soon to be held in Independence, Mo. Elder Palmer has represented his district in the General Conference several times and says he always enjoys the trip, the fellowship of the brethren and the wonderful Missouri scenery, but that scenery does not compare to old Bandera county picturesqueness and beauty.

Mrs. J. M. Witt Dead.

Another pioneer of the Hill Country has passed on to her final reward. It is with sadness that we chronicle the death of Mrs. J. M. Witt, which occurred at her home in Center Point last Tuesday, after an illness of only a few days. Mother Witt was truly a pioneer, having lived at Center Point for almost seventy-five years. She was born in Kentucky in 1839, and came to Texas with her mother in 1852, settling on Turtle Creek, where it empties into the Guadalupe, four miles below Center Point. Her mother, Mrs. Denton, braved the dangers of the Frontier, and raised her family there. In 1867 Miss Carrie Denton was married to Rev. J. M. Witt, a Baptist minister, and raised a family of five children, who besides the aged husband, survives. These children are W. F. Witt of Clifton, Arizona, J. D. Witt of Center Point, James A. Witt of San Francisco, California, Fred Witt of Morgan's Mills, Texas, and Mrs. J. H. Surber of Bandera.

Funeral services will be conducted at Center Point this morning at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in Center Point cemetery.

The experiences and hardships endured by this good old pioneer mother if printed would fill a massive volume. She was known and loved throughout the Hill Country for her many deeds of kindness and devotion to her church and the uplift of humanity. Her life has been one of usefulness and covering a long span of years many people have been benefitted by coming in contact with her kindly ministrations. Our pioneer mothers are passing away, and the world will never see their like again. They have done well their part in laying the foundation for the splendid civilization we today enjoy, and rising generations will not forget them. Mrs. Witt was one of these, and though she has gone from us, the lessons from which no traveler returns her memory will linger with those who knew her and loved her for the many excellent traits of character and Christian graces she possessed. The New Era extends condolence and sympathy to the aged husband and children of this good woman in the sorrow that bears so heavily upon them.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

Bandera should regale and and secure some of the encampments that will be established throughout the Hill Country, this summer. We have plenty of ideal encampment sites, and a little activity on our part just now will bring some of them to Bandera. The Boy Scouts of San Antonio are seeking a permanent encampment site, free from the vice and turmoil of the city, where the boys can enjoy real camp life and out-door sports, and if we offer the proper inducements we can secure this encampment. Let's get busy.

The first issue of the Harper Herald under Warren Hunter's management reached our exchange table last Saturday. It is a neat seven-column four page paper, full of live local news, and reflects much credit on Warren's ability as a newspaper man.

Heroism In Hell.

Vachel Lindsay, the poet, once wrote a poem about Lucifer, the fallen angel. In his poem he represented Lucifer as singing, in Hell, a song so marvelously beautiful and uplifting that the demons forgot their pain and sorrow and, for a moment, imagined that they were once again the shining angels of light, feeling glorious battles for right in the limitless blue.

Reading the poem, one is apt to wish wistfully, that Lucifer's music could be brought to earth occasionally. We're mostly well-meaning folks, decently intentioned; but we lack the soaring impulse that this fabulous musician could give us—the impulse that could make us do the fine, unselfish things we dream about doing.

It is a vain wish, of course. And yet, somehow, there seems to be a mysterious harmony in the air at times that makes men realize that no man can live to himself alone, and that brings about noble deeds. It penetrates to the most unlikely places; behind grim prison walls, for instance, where it sets poor, luckless felons wishing that they could make amends by performing some self-sacrificing act.

In proof of that, consider the following:

Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service, tells how his physicians were enabled to take a great step forward in their fight on the disease known as pellegra, which attacks poor people in certain sections of the country with disastrous effect.

A dozen convicts in the Mississippi penitentiary volunteered for aid. They ate, for six months, a restricted, pellagra diet resembling the class of people who suffer most from the disease. The experiment was conducted in strict secrecy at the Rankin convict farm under the direction of a surgeon of the public health service. At the end of the six months' period half of these convicts had developed pellegra. And the doctors had gained valuable knowledge.

It is heartening to read of such things. They show us, once more, that no man need live in vain; that even a convicted criminal can be of service to his fellow men; that in spite of what cynics may say, there is a very strange, indefinable influence at work that helps every the meanest of us to rise to undreamed of heights of self-denial and sacrifice.

Lucifer's music, maybe!

Historic Battle Ground.

San Antonio Light: First reconnaissance of the route over which 6000 men of the famous Fighting Second Division will march in the annual spring training hike, will begin Monday when a party of officers leave Fort Sam Houston for Kerrville.

Two itineraries for the march that is to begin May 17th and last two weeks, are being considered. The selection will be made after the officers return.

In either case, the division will make the hike by way of Boerne and Bandera.

Under one of the plans proposed, a meeting engagement and defensive maneuvers at the historic Indian battleground of the Bandera Pass is being considered.

The other plan contemplates a direct march into Kerrville with the division advancing in two columns.

The division will march to Camp Stanley May 10 and 11, for the annual tactical inspection on the range. It will leave Monday morning May 17 for Boerne.

On May 18 the division will be divided into two re-enforced brigades and will continue the march in two columns. The west column will march to the Bandera road and the east column will stop at Waring. The next day the west line will move on to Bandera and the east to Center Point.

If a lease of sufficient territory can be secured, a meeting engagement will take place the next day for the possession of Bandera Pass.

The Third Brigade will arrive first and will defend the position against the attack of the Fourth Brigade.

The following day will be devoted to combined defensive maneuvers. If this plan is adopted, the division will continue to Kerrville on Saturday.

Sunday the division will rest at Kerrville and begin the return to Fort Sam Houston the next morning.

Airplane pictures of the route will be made by the Second Division air force.

Last Sunday, in company with W. D. Smithers, the photographer, we visited the delightful farm home of E. Burk, on the Julian, near Bandera. Mr. Burk has one of the best farms in this whole region, and has but recently erected a commodious barn on his premises, the work being done by M. F. Johnston. The barn provides plenty of storage room for his grain and hay crops, and shelter for stock. A shed for sheep is being built adjacent to it. During the past year or two Mr. Burk has been busy making many improvements on his premises. Quite a number of summer guests are entertained there every year, and the delightfulness of this country home is much sought after by vacationists.

When You Eat in Kerrville.

Remember that E. Ruff serves the best meals. Ruff's Cafe has moved to the stand formerly occupied by the Depot Cafe, near the depot. I invite my Bandera friends to come and dine with me when in Kerrville.—E. Ruff.

From Honolulu.

Honolulu, H. I.
February, 4th, 1926.

Dear Mr. Hunter:

We are just coming into Hanalei, the "Pearl of the Pacific." On our left, amid the warm blue waters of the Pacific, lies that island of the living dead, Molokai, the leper island. Here are hundreds of unfortunates living out their lives amid beautiful surroundings only to die a slow, lingering death, shunned by mankind. Only a few miles away can be seen the first dim outlines of the beautiful island of Oahu, upon which the City of Honolulu is situated. As we approach the island we first see and recognize Kokos Head, an extinct volcanic peak, projecting its rugged bulk into the warm blue sky for over six thousand feet. We draw nearer, round the point and see Diamond Head, another extinct crater, over two thousand feet high and three miles in diameter. As we pass Diamond Head that world-famed playground comes into view—Waikiki Beach, the beautiful—and six miles further on the City of Honolulu lies basking in the warm tropical sun, enormous mountain ranges rising from her back yard and her feet in the warm, blue sea—a wonderful panorama. As we steam slowly in toward the channel through the coral reef by which we enter the harbor, the plaintive strains of a native Hawaiian orchestra are heard, and from a small boat alongside rises the voice of a native quartette singing that beautiful song of greeting and farewell, "Aloah Oe." As I look around I see several boats not quite dry, several faces with that longing wistful look which spells homesickness.

We enter the harbor and for the first time realize that truly we are in another land, among other people than ours. The water is covered with small boats, out rigger canoes predominating, and from all sides rise the clamor of many voices shouting their wares for sale, fruit, curios, native clothing, &c. The good ship moves slowly forward and comes to rest beside the dock. At last, after eight days of tossing about upon the sea we are tied to land again, and can put our feet on something more solid than an unsteady ship's deck—glorious feeling! Time is short, as we sail again at six o'clock tomorrow, so all hurry ashore to see as much as can be seen in so short a time. We walk two blocks and catch a street car to Waikiki. On our way through the city we pass Government House, formerly the palace of the native kings, many beautiful homes and parks, and after a short ride we arrive at the beach. Here we visit the Aquarium, a show place where one may see the marine life of the Pacific, and probably one of the most wonderful places of its kind in the world. After visit there we again go to the swimming beach, where one may see the natives riding in from the sea on a narrow surf-board at the crest of an express train; some, the more experienced, standing upright or even upon their heads. We try it, but soon come to grief, with the boards and ourselves far beneath the water in one mad swirl, after which we are content to watch others, or ride in a canoe. Time of he beach we go to Pali Park, where one may view the wonders of tropical vegetation, then return to the city and stroll around the native stores and bazaars until late in the evening. After a glorious day we return to our ship, tired but happy, to sail on the morrow for Guam. Will write more from Manila.

With best regards to you and all the good people of Bandera, I am

Ever yours,
C. W. MANNING.

Barbecue a Big Success

The barbecue dinner given by the citizens of Center Point on the proposed site of a camp ground to be established by the Christian Churches of this section was a decided success last Thursday. Notwithstanding a high wind which made it disagreeable to be out, there was quite a crowd of home people and visitors attending.

The dinner consisted of barbecued beef, coffee, bread, pickles salads and delicious cake. Rev. Walter Harbin welcomed the visitors in a few well chosen words which were heartily responded to by several of the visitors. A number of people made brief talks, but perhaps the most interesting and important talk of all was made by J. R. Wales of the local committee when he tended the locating committee a warranty deed to the 60-acre plot of ground upon which the dinner was being served.

This site is along the Guadalupe River about one and a half miles west of the town, on an elevation of some 200 feet above the river. It affords a commanding view of the river valley. The railroad and the Old Spanish Trail are visible several miles both up and down the river valley.

The visitors expressed themselves as highly pleased with the location, and especially so with the reception given them.

Among those from Kerrville were Rev. P. E. Hawkins, Sr., E. Galbraith and A. B. Burton. —Kerrville Mountain Sun

Successful Poultry Project

The Camp Verde Club-boys visited the home of Raymond and J. H. Rawls on Tuesday morning Feb. 16th, to inspect the poultry projects of their club brothers and are well pleased with the trip. The boys found that where there is a will and a determination to make a success in the poultry business, success will follow.

The Rawls boys are by necessity using the simplest and crudest of methods and equipment, making practically all of their buildings and equipment by their own hands with scrap material. An old smokehouse has been converted into a brooder house, divided into compartments and by the use of home-made brooders, fountains and feeders, the boys and their sister have only lost five baby chicks out of 151. Most of the chicks are now three weeks old and doing fine. The boys and their sister were not able to fence on places for their laying flocks to keep them separate, so each of them has built a portable house of his own and thereby keep their flocks separate and from their mother's flock. This requires lots of walking but walking is not all taken up with the Rawls children when their chickens are concerned. The boys are now cutting cord wood to get money to buy feed for their baby chicks, the laying flocks being self-maintaining.

Mr. and Mrs. Rawls are justly proud of their children for the efforts and labor being put forth and are cooperating with all of their ability to help the youngsters along with their poultry work.—Hill View Times

GANDERBONES FORECAST

Since my last report I have consulted my horoscope, and I find there indications of many good things that will take place during the next few months. Bandera business firms will enjoy a brisk trade this spring and summer, and each firm will marvel at the increase over the business of the same period of time last year. There is going to be considerable activity in oil circles throughout Southwest Texas, and Bandera county will share in the excitement. A great producer will be brought in in a county not very far removed from Bandera county, which will cause oil people to turn their attention to this immediate vicinity. A vast pool of oil underlies this region, somewhere, and when it is trapped there is going to be considerable excitement.

There will be an unusual number of May and June weddings, and if the old maids hereabouts do not get married this year they will all have to wait until 1928.

Fish will bite better this summer than ever before and there will be more fish than usual. The best bait to use will be earthworms, which will also be plentiful. But don't try to catch fish before May first.

Cockroaches will be numerous and the housewife will be exasperated by their inroads. A good way to get rid of the roaches is to sprinkle lime about the premises, and if that won't get them, then I would suggest that you catch and chop their heads off with an axe.

Grasshoppers may do some damage, but it will be slight.

But fleas! They'll be here by the millions. Better begin now to sprinkle lime in the outhouses and all over the premises. That will get 'em. A flea will not stay where he has to hop about in lime.

Regular meeting Bandera Chapter, No. 643, O. E. S., on Friday night, March 26th at 8 o'clock. The Masonic hall Al members are requested to attend and visitors cordially invited.—Mrs. Pearl Chisum, worthy matron; Mrs. Bettye McBryde, Secretary.

To Drill for Oil.

Homer P. Lee, representing a large oil development company, was here from San Antonio last Monday, making arrangements to begin drilling for oil on a tract several miles north of Bandera. Mr. Lee spent several weeks here securing leases on about 20,000 acres, lying into the south of two seres on Mason Creek, Myrtle Creek, and in that region north of Bandera Creek. We are informed that it is the intention of Mr. Lee and his associates to drill a test well to a depth of 6000 or 7000 feet.

There has never been any drilling for oil done in the locality mentioned above, but it is confidently believed that when a well is drilled that oil will be found. The company has not made any bluster about what it proposes to do, but is going quietly ahead with its plans and the outcome will be watched with interest. We have always believed that oil exists in this section, that a great pool lies undiscovered somewhere hereabouts, and we are glad that efforts are made to bring it to the extensive developments are going surface.

Celebrating Birthday.

Mrs. J. A. Head is today celebrating her 64th birthday anniversary. A sumptious dinner will be served to her relatives and friends. The New Era extends congratulations to this good pioneer woman, and joins her many friends in wishing her many more happy birthdays.

Charged With Hog Theft.

Four young men of the Medina region were arrested last week charged with theft of hogs from Clint Chenault a short time ago. The accused parties have given bonds and await the action of the next grand jury.

Some time ago Mr. Chenault lost four Berkshire hogs from his premises. Outside of Medina. Officers found where the hogs had been butchered, and secured several good clues to work on, and they have been diligently at work on the case ever since. The arrests made are the outcome of their investigations. The New Era is not familiar enough with the facts in the case to justify giving details of the arrests, and due to the fact that we do not want to prejudice the case against the accused or in any manner interfere with the administration of justice, we refrain from publishing names until the matter has gone through the regular court channels.

F. D. Barnes Dead.

Bandera today mourns the death of another substantial citizen. F. D. Barnes, aged 68, a prominent rancher and stock farmer, passed away at his home near Bandera Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, following a stroke of appoplexy a few hours before. Sunday evening Mr. Barnes went out to the cow lot to milk several cows, and not returning promptly his wife went to the lot and found him lying unconsciously on the ground. He was carried into the house and Dr. Butler was summoned. All that medical skill could suggest was done to restore him, but without avail, and he never regained consciousness.

Frank D. Barnes was a quiet, unassuming gentleman, highly respected and of that sturdy type which stamped him as a substantial citizen. He was a stockholder in the First National Bank of Bandera, and was always identified with every movement that pertained to the upbuilding of the moral and business life of the community. His friends were numbered by his acquaintances, and if he had an enemy it was not known.

Born in Ottowa, Ill., December 20, 1858, he came to Texas in 1882, settling on the place where he died. He was just a young man then, only 23 years old, but he had grit and ambition and by hard toil and close economy he succeeded in amassing a competency to provide against want. In August, 1885 he was happily married to Miss Emma Powell, and to this union two children were born, they being Mrs. Carrie Liebold and Miss Allie Ruth Barnes. One brother, R. C. Barnes, of California, and one sister, Mrs. Lydia Hall of Seattle, Washington, also survive.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family home by Rev. J. E. Potts, pastor of the Methodist church at Yorktown, assisted by Rev. B. J. Gossett, pastor the Bandera Methodist church. Interment was in Bandera cemetery at 3 p. m. Pall bearers were Frank M. Montague, Dr. J. O. Butler, Judge J. A. Eames, M. P. Johnston, Melvin Fitzgerald, and J. F. Tait.

To the grief-stricken wife and daughters the New Era extends condolence and sympathy.

Wins Championship.

Bill McCarty, the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McCarty, who enlisted in the Navy about three years ago and is now on the battleship Tennessee, is a winning fame as a wrestler. For the second time he has won the middle-weight championships of the squadron fleet, and will soon wrestle for the middle-weight championship of the whole Navy. The Tennessee is now in Panama waters, and we all extend congratulations. His term of enlistment will soon expire and he will return home on a visit, when it is expected that he will be tendered quite an ovation.

J. H. Autrey Dead.

J. H. Autrey, a highly respected citizen of the Medina community, died at 10 p'clock Monday night, after an illness of several days. The remains were taken to Gonzales Tuesday afternoon for burial, the family and a number of friends accompanying the hearse.

Surviving besides the wife, are six children, Jesse and Bryan Autrey of Gonzales, Mrs. Len Whitehead of Port Arthur, Mrs. Pearl Greeven of Medina, Buster Autrey and Miss Jewel Autrey. All of the children were present at the bedside when Mr. Autrey passed away.

Mr. Autrey was a native of Gonzales county, but had resided in this county many years. He was engaged in the ranching business on an extensive scale, his ranch being located near the mouth of Wallace Creek.

Deceased was of a quiet, retiring disposition, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was a kind and effectionate husband and father, and in his death Bandera county loses one of her best citizens.

To the sorrowing family the New Era extends heartfelt sympathy and condolence.

Bridal Shower.

Last Thursday afternoon in San Antonio Mrs. Lee Southern, Mrs. Schellhasse and Miss Martha Habenicht gave Miss Anna Habenicht and Mr. Alex Engel, who are to be married next Saturday, a bridal shower. They received many useful gifts. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and ice cream were served to twenty-eight guests, and a most delightful time is reported.

Forging to the Front

Every man in business wants to be successful. It is necessary, imperative, that he should; for unless he is, both he and community lose.

Character, ability and industry have an important bearing on success; so has the prestige accorded by one's bank associations.

Preparing for Beauty Contest.

Uncle Andy Jones was awarded the big stick of striped candy for being the best looking man in the county at the last Old Settlers' reunion. The award seems to have aroused a bit of rivalry among some of the swains of forty years ago, and it is likely that several will enter the men's beauty contest at next reunion. Charlie Schmidtke has sent away to get some mustache wax and sweet-smelling hair oil; John Ross is thinking of cutting his beard Van Dyke style; Andy Mansfield is beginning to part his hair in the middle; George Elam is using a massage bath to smooth out the wrinkles on his face; Lee Risinger has ordered a derby hat from Sears & Roebuck; Will Massa has bought a paper collar and a new caravat, while Jack Anderson says his good looks don't need any fixing for he is sure he will take the prize as he is. There's great excitement among these old boys and this beauty contest is going to wax warm by the time the reunion comes off. Uncle Andy is just "cutting patching" and saying nothing.

Elimination Event.

The elimination in Declamation and Debate in Bandera High School will take place at the school building tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Badges for Old Settlers.

Mrs. Chas. Eckhart, secretary of the Bandera County Old Settler's Association, has ordered badges for this year's membership in the association. These badges will soon arrive, and will be "green in color, while the inmortal ribbon will, as usual, wear the blue badges. All citizens who have resided in the county more than sixty years are entitled to honorary membership in the association, and are not required to pay dues, but all citizens over forty years old who have resided in the county less than sixty years are assessed a membership fee of $1.00 per year. The badge admits them to the reunion grounds each day, and gives them all of the privileges of the reunion.

The big reunion will be held at Mansfield Park on July 2nd and 3rd. An elaborate program is now being arranged for the entertainment of the old settlers, old time sports, old time dancing, old time singing, old fiddlers contest, beauty contest for boys and girls over sixty-five years old, log calling contest for men, cow calling contest for women, big rodeo each day, and if an old couple will volunteer to go through the ceremony there will be a golden wedding. The full program will be announced in due time.

Golden Wedding.

Last Sunday, March 7, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Miller who live near Lima, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding. Their children from Fredericksburg and Bandera and Kerrville brought them and their grandchildren a bounteous dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Miller lived at Pine Creek fifteen years and moved near Lima where they have lived for seventeen years. They have nine children, six of whom were present on this occasion. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller and family, Mr. Chris Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hankinson and family Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace and family, Mr and Mrs. Max Kneese and Mr and Mrs. Otto Kneese, all of Fredericksburg, Mr. and Mrs. Val Stich and family and Mrs. Zula Miller and two daughters, Inez and Sadie, of Lima.

After enjoying the wonderful dinner pictures were taken of Mr. and Mrs. Miller, their children and grandchildren. There were thirty-four present. Mr. and Mrs. Miller received many useful gifts and every one enjoyed the day very much. We wish them many more happy years of wedded life.

Bandera Boy Making Good.

It is indeed gratifying to the people of Bandera to note the advancement to a high position of any boy or girl born and raised here, and the New Era takes pride in publishing facts relative to their achievement. The one of whom have achieved a flattering measure of fame. But this article has particularly to do with Brian Montague, who is now one of the leading attorneys in Southwest Texas, being a member of the law firm of Belcher & Montague of Del Rio. Our readers are quite familiar with the notoriety gained by Jess and Joe Newton, alleged bank robbers, whose exploits were given much publicity in the newspapers a year or two ago. A short time ago Joe Newton was released on parole from the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas where he was confined for bank robbery. As soon as he was paroled to Houston West of Uvalde and returned to this state he was arrested charged with complicity in the robbery of the banks at San Marcos and New Braunfels. Belcher & Montague were employed to defend him and in the hearing before Judge Allen West in San Antonio, Mr. Montague raised the point that inasmuch as the defendant was under parole for the duration of his parole. It was a point that had never been raised before. Judge West sustained the point, and Newton was released from custody of state officers.

Electric Lights Coming.

Tom North has secured a franchise from the county commissioners' court to install an electric light and power plant in Bandera. The franchise is to run fifty years, and Mr. North informs us that he has made arrangements for long cedar poles, and within a short time will begin stringing wires and installing the plant to supply lights and power for the whole town.

Bandera has long needed an electric plant, and we rejoice to know that the system which will be put in here will be up-to-date in every respect and sufficient to meet all needs of the community.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

Bandera needs some kind of fire protection. Every year the business men of this town pay out an enormous sum for insurance just because we have no adequate fire-fighting system. Fortunately we have not had a destructive fire in our business district in many years, but that does not mean that we will never have a fire. A few hundred dollars invested in a fire-fighting apparatus now will aid in materially reducing our insurance rate, and at the same time place us in position to successfully combat the fire demon. Bandera is growing, and we may as well face the fact right now that we must have fire protection and take immediate steps to secure it. In another column appears a letter from the chief of the San Antonio fire department, who was solicited to recommend the kind of apparatus we should secure for Bandera. Read what he has to say, and think the matter over seriously, and when a committee approaches you for a contribution toward purchasing a chemical fire engine subscribe just as liberally as you possibly can. Don't get the idea that you are making a donation to a fund to buy a fire engine, but rather consider that you are making an investment and taking steps to save your own property from destruction. Every home owner and every citizen in the county is vitally interested in this matter. Suppose, some night when the wind is high from the north, a fire should break out on the north side of Main Street. The flames would leap across that street and ignite the buildings on the opposite side. In our present utterly helpless condition and inadequate water supply we could not save a thing and the greater part of the town would burn down in less than one hour's time. But if we had a chemical fire engine, ready at all times for use, we would be in a position to check the flames and perhaps put out a fire before it could gain any headway. The situation is very serious and should be given immediate attention.

Dan Moody, attorney general of Texas, has announced as a candidate for governor. That puts three candidates in the field for governor, to date—Ma. Ferguson, Lynch Davidson, and Dan Moody. Of course may be others later, but these three will occupy the center of interest. The campaign gives promise of being a real warm one. It is generally conceded that the race for the democratic nomination will be between Dan Moody and Lynch Davidson. Mrs. Ferguson has "vindicated" her husband as much as she can "vindicate" him before the people of Texas, and it is likely that the people will decide to give Dan Moody a chance to "vindicate" Fergusonism for awhile.

And now our good friend, Senator Julius Real of Kerrville, is being groomed to enter the race for Congress against Harry Wurzbach, the present Republican member of Congress from Texas. Senator Real is well fitted for the office of Congressman. He is the present State Senator from our district, and has hundreds of friends throughout Texas who will back him if he should consent to enter the race for Congress. Senator Real has made no announcement of his intention to run, and we do not know if he is even considering the race, but his friends are grooming him just the same.

Fire Fighting Equipment.

A few days ago Mr J. F. Tait of Bandera, having in view only the safety of Bandera, took it upon himself while in San Antonio to inquire into the cost of an adequate fire-fighting apparatus for this town, called on Chief J. G. Sarran of the fire department there and secured information that is passed on to our people. He also visited a firm which supplies equipment in order to secure prices and we publish below letters which are self-explanatory, the first letter being from Fire Chief Serran:

San Antohio, Texas March 3,1926
Dear Sir:—

As requested in our conversation today regarding needed fire equipment for your town, beg to advise that I recommend the purchase of two 50-gallon chemical engines, fully equipped with by-pass system, same to be mounted on a four wheel trailer. You should have at least 200 feet of chemical hose for each engine, and the engine should be so arranged that one or both could be used at one and the same time as occasion demanded. Trusting this infomation will be of service to you and your good citizens in reaching a decison in the matter, I am

Yours truly,
J. G. SARRAN.
Chief Fire Dept.

The estimated cost of such an equipment is about $1500, with no commission or rake-off allowed to any one. Mr. Tait called on the Burke & Sims Fire Equipment Co. to get figures and in a day or two he received the following letter from Mr. Simms:

San Antonio, Tex. Mar. 4, 1926.
Dear Mr. Tait:—

I looked around here today to find something suitable upon which to mount the chemical tanks and equipment which we discussed yesterday with Chief S'rran of the San Antonio Fire Department. I found a good second-hand four-wheel trailer with small artillery type wheels which is just the thing. It has a long pole in front that could be tied on the back end of any car. The following equipment will be mounted on this trailer: Two fifty-gallon chemical tanks with two brass tops, two cage leaders, two bottles for carrying acid, two lines of ¾-inch red cover chemical hose, two chemical nozz'es, two baskets in which to place the chemical hose, one fireman's pickhead axe in holder, one crowbar in holder, one large box for carrying extra charges for chemical tanks, wrenches spanners, etc., all to be painted fire department red and striped in gold bronze for the sum of $1175, delivered in Bandera.

You understand Mr. Tait, that this price would only hold good provided we can buy this trailer at the price quoted us. It is of course liable to be sold at any time and perhaps before your citizens may be ready to place an order. The only way I know of to insure getting for mounting what you want, would be to raise the money amongst yourselves enough to make this purchase, and we would hold it here for you until you were ready to go ahead with the building. Will be pleased to hear from you.

Yours truly,
BURKE & SIMS FIRE EQUIPMENT CO

Modern Magic.

It was very dark and still outside. The stars were dimly twinkling pinholes in a monster black velvet curtain that covered the sky. Beneath them the countryside lay silent, and even the wind that had disturbed the afternoon had gone lurking over the horizon to rest.

But although the air seemed so still it was really full of man's senses, coursed back and forth in the darkness. They swept over field and river and forest and city alike, unimpeded save only when they struck fine coils and loops of thin wire cunningly arranged.

These wires translated them gave them body. Instead of being invisible, mysterious current they became music; laughter words of greeting and advice, distant trumpets—and the man in the Iowa farmhouse or the Atlanta apartment entered into communication with brothers on the other side of the world.

Old stuff, already. We have come face to face with too many miracles to be amazed. We may perhaps find it in our hearts to doubt that Lazarus, being dead, lived again; but that the song of a violin played in New York is heard in all its nuances by Bandera seems only a commonplace.

And yet the miracle of radio is useful one to us. Used from the fact that it makes the poorest drudge on earth master of the world's greatest music by virtue of his possession of a few pounds of fine wires and copper plates is useful because it prepares the way, in our minds for a much greater miracle that is to come.

This new miracle that is to come is like radio in that it operates in ways that we scarcely recognize and never understand. Mysterious waves transmit it from nation to nation, in spite of high peaked mountains and frost bound seas; but east-us officials never see it.

What is it? Nothing—and everything; the steadily growing, ever-rising sense of the brotherhood of man and the unity of human people.

It has been coming in this way. Sometimes the group has been hard, and often it has been the invisible waves of sympathy between man and man have seemed dead; but at other times they flow in mighty floods that put to a hastille toppling or drag the czar of all the Russias down to ever-lasting oblivion. The cracking of muskets on Bunker Hill and them throbbing across the Atlantic Garibaldi put new vigor into them.

And always, bit by bit, the force of these waves increased. Dimly, and little by little, we come to realize that kindness and neighborliness and tolerance will yet lap the whole earth and give us peace, harmony and happiness without limit. It may be still a dream, but it is a dream that will come true.

This is our new miracle. the slowly, steady spread of those waves of human understanding and brotherhood. Not in the radio pales to a thing for children. The other marvels of our inventive skill—the great machines, the countless delicate instruments, the shining towers and the soaring airplanes—they also are insignificant.

For if we hope greatly, and endure greatly, and love greatly—we know that some day this weary old earth will become, in very truth, the heaven to which we have visioned it, and will go spinning down the corridors of limitless space with a chorous of laughter and song as answer for the distant twinkling of a million kindly stars.

There is a small ad appearing in our want column for old postage stamps on envelopes. A number of people have sent stamps to this office in reply to the ad. For the info nation of the public we wish to say that the advertiser wants OLD stamps used forty, fifty or sixty years ago. GANDERBONES FORECAST

My horoscope reveals promising crops for Bandera county and this year. With the passing of this month all danger of frost will be over. There will be no frost in April. Rains will fall bountifully, especially years. Small grain will turn out better than for many years, if rust does not interfere, and I hardly think it likely; however, continued rains just before harvest time may have the effect of rusting oats. But in spite of that the hum of the thrasher will be heard in every community and hands will be in demand.

I see in the not far distant future a railroad project materializing, for Bandera. Contrary to expectations the railroad will not be run directly to San Antonio, but will be built from Center Point through Elm Pass to a point some five or six miles from Bandera, where a new town will spring up, and legislation may have to be restored to to bring the railroad into Bandera, the county seat, but it will be built. This is a railroad and a route which has never been considered—a new project in fact, and there is a good chance for it to materialize. This will occur within the next five years. Mark this prediction, and you will see that my horoscope is correct in making long-distance forecasts. Politics will be unusually interesting this year. With a three-cornered fight for the governorship the voters are likely to get confused. Mrs. Ferguson will be in the run-off primary, and so will Dan Moody. If Moody had not entered the race Lynch Davidson would be the next governor. But Moody will win in the final count by 50,000 majority.

We found the old frontiersman feeling pretty good, despite the fact that he had been ill for some time. He is now steadily improving and informs us that he expects to attend the next reunion of the Old Settlers to be held at Bandera July 2 and 3. Captain Smith is now ninety years old, and has lived in this county many long years. He came to Texas in 1857, settling over on the Seco. He fought Indians and helped to civilize the country, and can relate many exciting experiences that occurred during his long and eventful life, and it is our intention to go and spend a day with him sometime in the near future to secure a lot of this valuable data for publication in Frontier Times. Messrs. Smithers and Rose took some good pictures of the old pioneer and his good wife and also the family homestead.

Sells Mason Creek Farm.

A deal is pending and which will be consummated in a few days, whereby Paul Baxter is selling his farm on Mason Creek to J. I. Lackey of Port Arthur for a consideration of $7100 cash. The deal is being handled by the Ethridge Real Estate Co. We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Baxter will move to San Antonio to reside. We regret to lose these good people, but wish them well in their new location. At the same time we welcome Mr. Lackey and his estimable family back to Bandera. He formerly lived in this county and has many friends here who will rejoice that he will return to remain permanently.

B. J. Cooke, a prominent business man of Ozona, was here yesterday. Mr. Cooke is the inventor of a barbeeuing equipment, and was here in consultation with W. E. Mansfield in regard to installing one of the systems for use at the Old Settler's reunion. Mr. Cooke informs us that Ozona had an $80,000 fire last week, which destroyed several business houses, among them being his meat market. His loss was about $2000, but he went over to Sonora and secured a new outfit and had it in operation in Ozona within twenty-four hours after the fire occurred.

A Gusher in the Hondo Field.

Tuesday's San Antonio Light has the following about the gusher which has been brought in in the new Hondo oil field:

The Snyder well on the Jay F. Adams ranch, 10 miles west of Devine, and about one and one-half miles southwest of the Ina oil wells in the Hondo field, blew in a tremendous gasser early Sunday morning and at last reports was running wild. The gas was encountered in a sand beneath a caprock at the oil depth of approximately 900 feet. It cleaned the hole and was shooting high in the air. The noise of the escaping gas was miles distant.

W. H. Snyder, contractor in charge for Hegderson and Hohlen, of Tulsa, owners of the lease on the Adams ranch, is making every effort to save the well and bring the gas under control. Mud is being pumped in the hole in an ecort to smother the gas sufficiently to permit the setting of casing.

This gasser is across the Hondo creek from the Ina wells and on about the same elevation. It was found at almost the same depth as the oil in the Ina wells and seemingly in the same stratum.

The well blew in unexpectedly. The contractor had changed from a rotary to a standard rig to drill into the oil sand expecting to get a larger well by this method in the fine sands of that region. To his amazement, the well headed up and cleaned the hole and has been blowing ever since.

Oil men say this unquestionably means gusher oil for Medina county. It is believed that if this well can be controlled and completed further into the sand that it will make a flowing well, because former tests in the locality showed that this sand carried oil. The gas is said by the petroleum in origin and the pressure is terrific. No estimate is possible as the gas has not been gauged.

Copious Rains.

Old Bandera county has been soaked again this week with copious rains. Following the good rains of last week the precipitation of Tuesday and Wednesday assures a splendid season for crops and the range. A heavy small grain crop is almost certain. Many farmers who planted corn before the rains came are regretting that they did so, and others feel encouraged by the fine season and will begin planting corn as soon as the weather permits.

Jolly Crowd at Spicewood Ranch.

Death of Aged Citizen.

J. C. Warner, an aged citizen of the Medina community, died last Tuesday at the home of his step-daughter, Mrs. T. H. Davis, near Medina, after an illness of two weeks with influenza. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday by Rev. W. H. Price, and burial was in West Prong Cemetery.

Mr. Warner was an old Texas ranger and a veteran of the Civil War. He was born in Canada, April 4, 1844, and came to Texas about sixty years ago. In the early days he resided in Comanche county where he helped to drive the Indians from the frontier. About twenty-five years ago he moved to this county and had resided in the Medina community ever since. Besides his wife, Mr. Warner is survived by four step-children: Tone Fine of Kerrville, Nat Fine, of Wingate, Bert Fine of Somerset and Mrs. T. H. Davis of Medina. He was a member of the Baptist church for sixty-three years, and was a highly respected and law-abiding citizen.

Will Build Bridge.

Joe G. Callahan, the energetic highway foreman, informs us that plans are under way for the construction of a stone or concrete bridge across the draw near Dr. Rappold's office. The bridge will be similar to the one constructed sometime ago near the ice factory.

W. L. Fries and son, Ralph, were in from the ranch Tuesday.

Adams ranch, 10 miles west of Devine, and about one and one-half miles southwest of the Ina oil wells in the Hondo field, blew in a tremendous gasser early Sunday morning and at last reports was running wild. The gas was encountered in a sand beneath a caprock at the oil depth of approximately 900 feet. It cleaned the hole and was shooting high in the air. The noise of the escaping gas was miles distant.

W. H. Snyder, contractor in charge for Hedgecoxe and Hobbs, of Tulsa, owners of the lease on the Adams ranch, is making every effort to save the well and bring the gas under control. Mud is being pumped in the hole in an ecort to smother the gas sufficiently to permit the setting of casing.

This gusher is across the Hondo creek from the Ina wells and on about the same elevation. It was found at almost exactly the same depth as the oil in the Ina wells and seemingly in the same stratum.

The well blew in unexpectedly. The contractor was drilling from a rotary to a standard rig to drill into the oil sand expecting to get a larger well by this method in the edge of that region. To his amazement, the well headed up and cleaned the hole and has been blowing ever since.

All men say this unquestionably means gusher oil for Medina county. It is believed that if this well can be controlled and completed further into the sand that it will make a flowing well, because former tests in the locality showed that this sand carried oil. The gas is said by experts to be of the finest grade and pressure is terrific. No estimate is possible as the gas has not been gauged.

Copious Rains.

Old Bandera county has been favored again this week with copious rains. Following the good rains of last week the precipitation of Tuesday and Wednesday assures a splendid season for crops and the range. A heavy small grain crop is almost certain. Many farmers who planted corn before the rains came are rejoicing that they did so, and others feel encouraged by the fine season and will begin planting corn as soon as the weather permits.

Jolly Crowd at Spicewood Ranch.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Walter Godkin entertained a jolly crowd at the Spicewood Springs ranch. A big dinner was served, and in the afternoon

Death of Aged Citizen.

J. C. Warner, an aged citizen of the Medina community, died last Tuesday at the home of his step-daughter, Mrs. W. H. Davis, near Medina, after an illness of two weeks with influenza. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday by Rev. H. H. Price, and burial was in West Prong Cemetery.

Mr. Warner was an old Texas ranger and a veteran of the Civil War. He was born in Canada, April 4, 1844, and came to Texas about sixty years ago. In the early days he resided in Comanche county where he helped to drive the Indians from the frontier. About twenty-five years ago he moved to this land and resided in the Medina community ever since. Besides his wife, Mr. Warner is survived by four step-children, Tome Fine of Kerrville, Mrs. Fine of Wingate, Bert Fine of Somerset and Mrs. T. H. Davis of Medina. He was a member of the Baptist church for sixty years, and was a highly respected and law-abiding citizen.

Will Build Bridge.

Joe G. Callahan, the energetic highway foreman, informs us that plans are under way for the construction of a stone or concrete bridge across the draw near Dr. Rappold's office. The bridge will be similar to the one built sometime ago near the ice factory.

W. L. Fries and son, Ralph, were in from the ranch Tuesday.

Married Saturday.

Mr. Alex Engel and Miss Annie Habenicht were quietly married on Saturday, March 13, at 5 o'clock p. m., at St. John's Lutheran church in San Antonio, Rev. August Wolff officiating. The attends were Miss Martha Habenicht, the bride's sister, and Mr. Benno Engel, the groom's brother. The bride were a dress of tan crepe de chine and ashes of roses, with hat and shoes to match. The groom wore a navy blue serge suit. The maid of honor wore a dress of pink crepe de chine, the best man wore a powder blue suit.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Habenicht of Bandera, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Engel of Luckenbach, Texas. Both are excellent young people and start off on life's journey together in a most auspicious manner.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents last Sunday at 12 o'clock. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Engel, Mr. and Mrs. Benno Engel, Misses Sophie and Viola Engel of Luckenbach, and the Habenicht family.

The young couple will reside in San Antonio, in their new bungalow home at 711 East Evergreen Street. Mr. Engel is connected with a wholesale grocery firm in the Alamo City, a position which he has held for the past six years.

The New Era joins in extending congratulations and best wishes to the newlyweds.

Married Sunday.

Mr. Charles Johnston and Miss Allie Ruth Lemens were quietly married last Sunday at the home of the bride near Bandera, Judge J. A. Eames officiating. Only members of the family of the bride and groom were present to witness the ceremony. The groom is the son of F. M. Johnston, an old and estimable young man of excellent character. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. F. D. Barnes, and is a young lady of charming personality and high standing in San Antonio. The New Era joins their many friends in wishing the newly married pair much happiness through life.

Miss Katherine McBryde of Las Vegas, New Mexico, was the guest of Mrs. Mark McBryde a few days this week.

Chas. Schmidt and family, of Comfort, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schoenfeld last Friday and Saturday. Mr. Schmidt called and spent an hour with the New Era editor Saturday.

The April number of Frontier Times, Bandera's growing monthly magazine, was issued from the press last Monday and mailed out to its subscribers. This number contains the following sketches: "A Cattle Drive From Texas to North Dakota," by Samuel Dunn Houston; "Interesting Bits of History," by Calhoun McCutcheon; "Beef Gathering in '71 Was Thrilling," by Capt. James B. Gillett; "Sherrard's Cave in Burnet County," by Mary Johnson Posey; "Scouting on The Texas Frontier," by Capt. John M. Elkins; "Adventures and Romance Near Home," by W. P. Webb of the University of Texas; "History of San Saba and His Gang," a serial; "When Birchfield Cussed and Roared," "The Hopi Snake Dance," "Days of Peril on the Clear Fork," by J. J. Bragg. Clay Pierce, and others.

Bandera Fiddlers in Contest.

Among the old time fiddlers who played in the fiddling championship derby over the radio, WCAR broadcasting from San Antonio last week, were several Bandera county citizens, Elmo Newcomer, Bob Mayfield, and J. E. Browning. The Denton brothers, J. J. and B. F., of Kerrville, well known to all of our people, were also in the contest. Sam S. Carter of San Antonio won first prize, and Lake Porter of Falfurrias won second prize.

Married Thursday.

We are informed that Miss Cornelia Richards and Mr. Charlie Borden were married at Uvalde last Thursday. The bride is a popular Bandera county girl who has been teaching school at Leakey the past two years. She is a niece of W. L. Fries of near Medina. The groom is a prominent young ranchman of Real county. The New Era extends congratulations and best wishes.

Gets Contract on Jail.

C. H. Brient, former Bandera county citizen, has been awarded the contract for a two-story addition and general remodeling of Bexar county's jail in San Antonio, for $89,892.

Auto Wreck.

While going to San Antonio last Saturday night the automobile driven by Howard Pollard broke a front spring which locked a wheel and the machine turned over. Marvin Hunter, Jr., got a bruised nose, Miss Ruth Thalmann has a lacerated lip, but the other members of the party escaped uninjured. The automobile needs a new top and a new windshield. Passing motorists picked the young folks up and brought them home, and Howard and Marvin went back Sunday and brought in the damaged car. The accident occurred in Medina county.

Devolution.

Paris News: A tribe of natives in Africa has been found in which a reversed evolution theory is in full belief. The Batangi live close to the monkey hordes that fill the near-by jungles, and they have long held the theory that the monkeys are a degenerate branch of their own family. Some of their forebearers, say the Batangi leaders, took into their heads to go their own way in disregard of the laws and customs of their forefathers. So they plunged into fast living, got head over heels in debt, soured on their neighbors, who in turn soured on them, and took the road to the left generally in their principles and conduct. The result was that they soon found themselves deteriorating and eventually became monkeys. Grouchy old Thomas Carlyle invented a similar theory in one of his essays. He said there was once a tribe of men who scoffed and giggled at everything their leaders said to them. When their giggling could no longer be tolerated, one of their prophets put a spell on them and ever since they have hopped around in trees and screamed and giggled just as monkeys are observed to do today in forests and zoos. It is an interesting theory and the scientists certainly ought to go and talk it over with the Batangi and find out whether they have any documentary evidence to support their belief.

Brann's Opinion of the Infidel.

Few men have lived who were the equal of W. C. Brann in making vigorous yet artistic use of the English language. While he did not always live up to the Bible code, he had no patience with the young infidel who spouted against the Bible. Once Brann wrote an article under the title of "Humbugs," in which he handled the young infidel as follows:

"About the time a youngster feels the irresistible impulse to make a fool of himself whenever a female smiles upon him, whenever he's worked that critical stage in life's journey when he imagines he knows more than his father, he begins to doubt the religion of his mother. He shrewdly asks his Sunday School teacher why made God; demonstrates by the aid of natural history that a large whale could in no wise swallow a prophet—that if the whale did succeed in relegating a man to its internal economy it were impossible for the man to slosh around for three days and nights in gastric juices without coming out much the worse for wear. The young fellow attempts to rip up religion by the roots and reform the world while you wait, but he soon learns that he's got a government contract on his hands—that the man who can drive the Deity out of the hearts and homes of this land can make a fortune turning artesian wells inside out and peddling them for telegraph poles. You can't do it sonny. Religion is the backbone of the body social, sometimes it's as unbending as a boarding house biscuit and sometimes it's a bad quality of gutta percha; but we couldn't get very far without it. Most youths have passed through a period of doubt and denial—catch the infidel fumes as they do the measles and mumps; but they eventually learn that the fear of God is the beginning of wisdom.

An atheist once solemnly assured me that he couldn't possibly believe anything he could not prove; but when I ask him what made him take such a lively interest in the welfare of his wife's children he became quite angry. Figure up how many of the things you believe that you can prove, and you will find that you have got to do a credit business or go into intellectual bankruptcy."

Thrones.

The press recently has been full of news about Carlo of Roumania and his leaving the throne because of its restrictions. Whatever we many say of Carlo's morality or character and of his having two or three different kinds of wives, the fact remains that he renounced the throne because he preferred liberty to do as he pleased. Whether he did right or wrong with his liberty is another question.

It calls attention to the fact that members of royal families are under severe obligations. All is not freedom with them. Convention requires that they marry in certain circles and observe certain regulations. The king is not the freest man in the kingdom as many suppose, and there are many high fences about his privilege to do as he pleases. In fact his liberty is severely confined.

But after all, is a king any worse off than many of the rest of us? Do we not all of us find ourselves in certain positions where we are required to do things that we do not want to do?

Take the matter of position in life, for instance. How many a poor slave there is to his supposed status!

Many a man when he tries to save, to live within his means, and to put something by for a rainy day, is compelled to live up to all he earns and even to borrow money on his future prospects in order that he may keep up with the Smiths.

Often men ride in automobiles which they cannot afford under the impression that the make of automobile determines their social and business standing.

Women wear clothes beyond their means and dress their children in expensive finery simply to keep up appearances when they cannot really afford such expenses.

In the matter of riches it is well known that wealth does not bring comfort always. There are rich men who long for the simple habits of the earlier days, who would like to sit in their sock feet by the kitchen stove and smoke a pipe, while they are compelled to smoke cigarrettes in the salon with their high society friends.

James Whitcomb Riley describes an Indiana farmer who went to visit his old friend who had grown rich and lived in Washington. The two sat out on the back porch and chatted. The farmer's conclusion after talking with his friend was, "There's nothing more pathetic ker than just bein' rich."

In the same way holding office often forces men into a life of a kind they do not like, and being a member of one church limits one's friends, which would like to overlap all boundaries.

The man who can and does do as he pleases in spite of position or convention is a rarity.

NO-NOX GULF MOTOR FUEL

The ORANGE gas
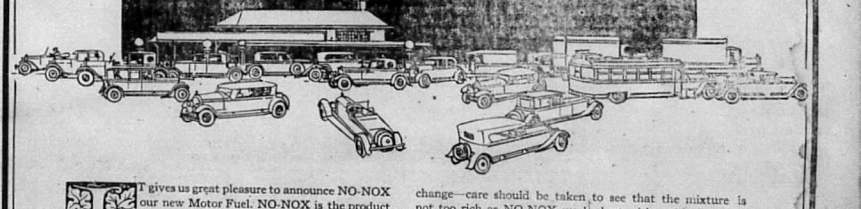
at the sign of the ORANGE DISC

Stops carbon knocks



IT gives us great pleasure to announce NO-NOX our new Motor Fuel. NO-NOX is the product of many months of exhaustive scientific and chemical research by a staff of our own skilled chemists, infinite care being given to all details to insure the absolute perfection of NO-NOX Motor Fuel. Strenuous nights and days were spent in our thoroughly equipped laboratories by these scientists before NO-NOX Motor Fuel was perfected. Hard grilling road tests followed to develop any weakness overlooked in the laboratory, and we are now ready to offer the most efficient anti-knock fuel in the world.

Manufactured in one refinery under the same skillful supervision and from the same grades of crude, it is continuously uniform which means much in carburetion. When the carburetor is once properly adjusted it requires no further change—care should be taken to see that the mixture is not too rich as NO-NOX works best with a thin mixture, thus insuring economy. With NO-NOX, perfect combustion takes place at just the right position of the piston head which entirely does away with carbon knocks or motor detonation—promoting greater efficiency of the engine, smoother operation of the car on the road, in traffic, and especially on heavy grades.

This wonderfully efficient gas is guaranteed to be Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline.

Drive to the nearest Gulf Service Station and try it out. It is readily distinguished by its color.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert A. Hicks were in from Tarpley Saturday, shopping. Delbert called to order the New Era sent to his address for the next year, and informed us that his new residence on his ranch was completed a few days ago, and he is now occupying it with his bonnie bride.

R. N. Padgett was over from Tarpley Saturday with his mohair clip for the warehouse. He informs us that his goats and sheep are doing fine, and he will have some good exhibits at the fair. He will also show some of his registered stock at Camp Wood. Mr. Padgett ordered the New Era sent to his uncle, B. N. Means, Tinsman, Arkansas, as well as renewing his own subscription.

Among the visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Billings last week-end were two of Mrs. Billing's aunts, Mrs. Wm. H. Nichols of Rocksprings and Mrs. Annie McDonald of Kerrville, who were accompanied by Mrs. Tom Nichols, Carl Nichols and Misses Clara atnd Iola Mc-Donald, all of Kerrville.

Henry Lane, who has been in a hospital at San Antonio for the past six weeks, was brought home last Saturday and his many friends will be glad to learn that he is steadily recovering from the injuries he received when he was accidently shot last month. His leg was amputated some three weeks ago, and is healing nicely.

R. L. Dudson, the genial highway division superintendent, was a visitor at our office last Saturday, and said he had just been over that fine road from Kerrville to Bandera, through Medina City, and says it is one of the most picturesque drives in this whole region. He predicts that thousands of tourists and summer vacationists will use this route during the summer months.

John H. Giles, of the Texas Commercial College, of San Antonio was here Saturday in the interest of that splendid school. He called at the New Era office and contracted for advertising space in this paper. This college is gaining in popularity all of the time, and any young man or woman who contemplates taking a business course should write for literature. Watch for advertising in the New Era.

Quite a number of subscriptions to the New Era are expiring this month. Notice the date opposite your name on the margin of your paper and if you are one of the number whose time has expired we kindly ask you to renew promptly.

MEDINA.

Prof. W. O. Hatfield and his mother, Mrs. Wm Hatfield, spent last week-end in San Antonio, with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Livingstone visited Mr. and Mrs. Josie Justice this week.

Rev. David Griffin and son, Rev. Emanuel Griffin, of Hunt preached here Sunday.

L. D. Shuptrine went to San Antonio Tuesday to have his eyes treated.

Saturday night Miss Sylva Keese was married to T. R. Hinds at Medina by Rev. F. M. Burkelew. Miss Keese is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Keese. Mr Hinds is the son of Mr and Mrs. George Hinds. We wish for these young people a long and happy life together.

On the 18th a very pleasant surprise was given Mrs. G. W. Banta at the home of her son, Chas. Banta, the occasion being Mrs. Banta's birthday. A number of nice and useful gifts were presented to Mrs. Banta. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly. Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Harris gave readings and Mrs. David Tallman gave a humorous sermon. Refreshments of salad, cake and lemonade were served.

The following guests were present: Mrs. Koulter, Mrs. E. J. Banta, Mrs. Orville Stokes, Mrs. J. E. Becker, Mrs. G. W. Harris, Mrs Pitt Baker, Mrs. David Tallman, Mrs. E. Greer, Miss Mimi Mero, Mrs. M. D. Kelley, Mrs. J. L. Akin, Mrs. Ed Bauerlein, Mrs J. C. Collins, Mrs. L. Freeman, Mrs. Ray Davis, Mrs. F. P. Layten, Mrs. Effie Tallman, Mrs. G. W. Banta,. Mrs. Chas. Banta, and Mrs. Wm. Hatfield.

All expressed themselves as having a pleasant time and wished Mrs. Banta many more birthdays. The following poem, prepared by her children, was read:

March eighteenth, eighteen hundred forty-eight
Was the birthday of our Mother.
The years since then are seventy-eight,
This March eighteenth doth cover.

This March eighteenth more than ever
We, her children, feel disposed
To cherish the memory of her endeavor
When sharing the tasks that love imposed.

This March eighteenth we all unite
In telling her our love is rife,
In asking the Lord to shed His light

March eighteenth nineteen hundred twenty six
Is remembered by her many friends.
Who meet to show by capricious tricks
Their friendship true with steady trend

This March eighteenth you celebrate
Indeed with host of wishes tender,
Response, dear friends we formulate
In this, our heartfelt thanks are rendered.

The County Meet.

Preparations are being made for the holding of the County Interscholastic Meet at Medina on Friday and Saturday, April 2 and 3.

Fire Meeting.

A meeting is called for next Monday night, March 29th, at the Cox Opera House, 8 p. m. for the purpose of organizing a volunteer fire brigade. All citizens interested in this matter are urged to attend, and are especially asked to be there on time, as this is a very important meeting Everybody invited.

Ordered New Thresaher.

E. H. Sewall, of the Pecan Valley Ranch, requests us to announce that he has ordered a new thresher, which will arrive in time for the grain crop, and he will do threshing this season.

"Can you?"

He said:
"I can beat life insurance, because I can invest my money to better advantage than a Life Insurance Company can do for me."

I replied:
"Well, maybe you can—
If you can save it,
If, having saved it, you invest it, your investment proves profitable, and last but not least,
If you live long enough."

Four "ifs" stand between you and success in your efforts to "beat" life insurance.

Even if we do admit that you can overcome the first three "ifs"—how about the last one—if you live longer enough?

Nothing is more certain than death. But nothing is more uncertain than the hour of its coming.

The King-Thomas Players.

By far the best entertainment that has been given Bandera people for a long time is being furnished by the King-Thomas Players, performing at the Cox Opera House this week. This is strictly a high class, clean, moral concert troupe, and the plays that have been given already this week were pleasing and elevating in their character, and quite different from some of the "barn-storm" affairs that seem to have picked on Bandera as the place to reap a harvest of suckers.

We are always glad to welcome such players as the King-Thomas troupe, every member of which is of good character and morals. Last Monday night "The Country Boy" was presented in a most pleasing way. In this play Lois Willis, Ceeyl Scott, Cody Thomas, Earl Thomas, Eddie Hamilton and Mrs. Susie Thomas delighted the audience with splendid impersonations of the various characters.

On Tuesday night "The Man, the Maid and the Millionaire" was presented by the same actors and included Mr. Lloyd Sauns. This was another highly pleasing and interesting play indeed, and well worth the admission price.

Last night "Wanted a Wife" held the boards and was enjoyed to the fullest extent.

Tonight "The Bad Man," and Friday night the touching play, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," will be given, followed Saturday night by "Hal of the Hills."

All are winners, and seem to grow better each night, and the increasing crowds indicate that Bandera appreciates high class entertainers. Orchestra music is furnished by Messrs Cody Thomas, Earl Thomas and Lloyd Thomas.

The troupe will be here for the remainder of the week, and if you have not yet attended the performances you are certainly missing a treat. Go out tonight and we are sure you will not miss the remaining performances this week.

Grandmother Dead.

Mrs. M. M. Fitzgerald is in receipt of the sad news of the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Moore, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. S. Gillespie in El Paso last Monday. Mrs. Moore was ninety-one years old, and had lived in Texas most of her life.

Judges Selected.

The judges for the declamation, extemporaneous speeches, and debate, in the County Interscholastic Meet at Medina April 2nd and 3rd, have been selected. They are Messrs. Dolan, Delaney and Bandera.

Married Saturday.

Miss Sylva Keese and Dick Hinds were quietly married at Medina last Saturday, Rev. F. M. Burkelew performing the ceremony. This wedding was quite a surprise to the many friends of the bride and groom, and when the news went abroad that the marriage had taken place they were the recipients of congratulations and best wishes from everyone who could reach them. The couple departed immediately for San Antonio where they will spend a while.

The New Era joins in wishing them all the joy and happiness that can be found in the wedded state. We feel a great degree of interest in the future of the bride inasmuch as she has been our faithful and energetic representative to send in the news from the Lima region each week. She is an accomplished young lady, very pleasing manners and comes of an excellent family, being the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Keese of Lima. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. O. Hinds of Lima, and was extremely fortunate in winning as his bride one of the best girls in the county.

Day and Night Service.

Bernard Duke, manager of the Bandera Independent Telephone System, has made arrangements whereby all long-distance calls can now be handled satisfactorily day or night. For several years it has been impossible to put calls through over certain lines which connect with his system after nine o'clock at night. This inability has now been removed and through connection will be given at any hour of the night.

Resume Dipping April 1.

Preparations are going forward to resume dipping operations throughout the county on April 1st. At a meeting of the county commissioners held yesterday it was ordered that the county co-operate in the work as far as financially able, and it is hoped that all owners of livestock will co-operate to the extent that they will regularly bring their stock to the vat and dip as the law requires. By a united effort on the part of the people in meeting the dipping regulations Bandera county can be cleaned within a few more months. The state has been very liberal in assisting in this work, by meeting the expenses of the clean-up campaign inaugurated some months ago, and suspended short time ago.

Sister Critically Ill.

Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Gossett went to San Antonio last Thursday to be with Mrs Gossett's sister, Mrs. Ruth Haelbig who underwent a very serious operation for appendicitis at the Nix Hospital. Mrs. Haelbig is reported as getting along nicely at this writing.

Hardin Atkins Married.

Hardin Louis Atkins and Miss Elizabeth Buford Beasley were married at the home of the bride in Gourdin, South Carolina, last Thursday, according to word received here by Mrs. H. L. Atkins, Sr., mother of the groom. The newly married pair will reside in Colorado, Texas, where Mr. Atkins has a good position. The groom is a son of Bandera, and has been raised here. He is a son of the late lamented Rev. H. L. Atkins, and is an industrious young man who is destined to make his mark in the world. The bride is a member of a highly esteemed and respected family of Gourdin, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Marvin Beasley of that place. The New Era extends congratulations and best wishes.

School Trustee Election.

Elections will be held in Bandera county April 3rd for school trustees. Two members of the Bandera board are to be elected Comptroller Collins at this year. The present board has served faithfully and satisfactorily all around the New Era is hopeful that they will be retained.

The law now requires that any person desiring to have his name placed on the official ballot as a candidate for the office of trustee shall at least ten days before the election file a written request with the county judge and "no candidate shall have his name printed on said ballot unless he has complied with the provisions of this section; provided that five or more resident qualified voters in the district may request that certain names be printed." The law specifically provides that all ballots for the election of school trustees in school districts having fewer than 500 scholastics, shall be printed in black ink on white paper.

T. S. Dennis has added a new porch to his residence and is otherwise improving the property. Mr. Dennis is going to have one of the prettiest homes in Bandera.

Important Well.

Henderson and Holden's gas well in Medina County south of the Ina field was blown out between the 8-inch casing and the 10-inch and had to be opened again. It bridged over considerably so that the flow could not be gotten back but is reported again making gas and additional equipment has been ordered for handling the well. J. Henderson of Oklahoma, one of the owners of the well who came in the next day after the gas was encountered is still in the city staying at the home of E. Lee, waiting to see the well completed.

The well is said to be fully as big as the estimates made on it and one report is that after the gate valve had been placed on it that it gauged a few hundred feet less than 10,000,000 cubic feet and that the gas is dry. Depth of the well is 903 feet and it is significant in connection with the big salt water well J. K. Oil drilled by that company on the tract a mile or so south.

The Ina field is about a mile to the north, and the discovery well of that area was drilled on the west bank of the Hondo River. The new gas well down the river about a mile and also on the east bank of the river and the B. J. K. well is also another mile down and on the same side of the river. The W. C. McBride, Inc., drilled a well in the north of the gas more than a year ago and got quite a showing of oil. It looked for a time like a sure enough well for production in the Ina field and the gas in the Henderson & Holden well and salt water in the B. J. K. well is significant in attracting to that part Medina County a good deal of study. It all leads to the supposition that there ought to be oil field somewhere in that general area of Medina County.—Antonio Express.

Mrs. John Hunt and daughter Miss Lillie Belle, and Mr. Mrs. L. B. Jones, of near Bandera Pass, were in the city Monda

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

Mrs. Rebecca J. Fisher, known throughout the state as "the Mother of Texas," died at her home in Austin last Sunday.

The political pot is beginning to boil. While no candidates have yet announced for office in this county there is a lot of "still hunting" going on, and we look for some open declarations soon.

The catalogue for the Sixth Annual Bandera County Fair will be in the hands of the printer in a few days, and will be issued within a very short time. M. R. Thalmann has the catalogue in hand and all who desire advertising space therein should communicate with him at once, if they have not already turned in copy for their advertisements. The premium list and for this years catalogue is large and should induce many to offer exhibits in the fair.

Henry Ford is going to be invited to come to Bandera to the reunion of the Old Settlers, July 2nd and 3rd, this year. Mr. Ford is quite enthusiastic over old time fiddling, and we want him to hear Bob Mayfield, Tom Gray, J. E. Browning, the Denton Brothers, Uncle Andy Jones, Charlie Schmidtke, Will Maass, John Adams, and other old time fiddlers yank music from the festive cat-gut. We are going to try to get Mr. Ford to offer a new Ford Sedan for the best rendition of "Cotton-Eyed Joe."

In this issue of the New Era we publish a list of prizes to be given for displays of school work at the County Fair to be held here in August. It is desired that each school in the county enter exhibits so as to create a greater interest in schoolastic affairs. Cash prizes are offered for different kinds of work in the different grades. Read the list.

The time for the Bandera County Old Settlers' Reunion draws on space. The 2nd and 3rd of July will be here almost before you realize it. This year an elaborate program is being prepared for the entertainment of the old settlers and the thousands of visitors expected. Write and tell your kinfolks to come and spend the best time of their life. Don't miss it.

Now that generous rains have fallen, and good crops seem assured, every Bandera county farmer should begin preparations to have an exhibit of his products at the Bandera County Fair, to be held in August. This year thousands of people from other sections of the state will attend our fair, and we will want them to see what Bandera county can raise. The livestock exhibit is going to be splendid, and the agricultural exhibits should be unsurpassed.

One of the usual features of our Old Settlers' reunion is the old fiddlers' contest. There promises to be quite a number of entrees in this contest this year, and we will welcome any old fiddler who wishes to participate. But let it be known from the beginning, each fiddler in this years's contest must be over fifty years old and must reside in Bandera or some adjoining county. Suitable prizes will be given, and judges will be selected by the contestants.

Roast Meats for Reunion.

W. E. Mansfield last week made a deal with R. J. Cooke of Ozona for the installation of a patent meat barbecuing system at Mansfield Park in time for the Bandera County Old Settlers' reunion, which is to be held July 2nd and 3rd. This barbecuing system is said to be the best that has ever been used, in that it cooks the meat in such a way as to retain all of the juices and flavor, and cooks it uniformly brown. Mr. Mansfield is arranging to feed a crowd of 10,000 people daily during the reunion, and the installation of this barbecuing system means that the meats which will be distributed to the immense crowds will be clean and sanitary, free from dust and dirt, because the cooked meats will be handled in compartments that have been screened from flies and other insects. Wherever the R. J. Cooke system has been installed it has given the most satisfactory results, and people highly praise the meats barbecued by this system.

Mr. Charlie Baren and Miss Cornelia Richards were married in Uvalde March 11th. Miss Richards is a popular young lady of Bandera, and for the past five years has been a member of the faculty in the public school here and her charming personality has won her a host of friends. Mr. Baren is one of Leakey's most popular young men and a very worthy boy whose many friends join in wishing for him and Mrs. Baren all the happiness that life can bestow. They are now at home to their many friends at the ranch on Little Dry Frio.—Leakey Correspondent in Camp Wood Crony.

Advertising Fans.

The New Era has a line of advertising fans, and will be pleased to submit samples to merchants and business men who use this kind of advertising. Have your fans printed at home and save money.

Oil Field Extended.

Oil was struck late Thursday afternoon at a depth of 525 feet in the Townley-Kittle well, drilled on the R. W. Richter farm some three and a half miles west and a little north of the Johnson-Taylor wells. This extends Hondo's proven oil field that much further of the west and would seem to indicate that a long string of derricks will adorn the low ridge southwest of town in the very near future.

The oil struck is of good quality and is accompanied by considerable gas. The promoters are confident a pay-strata has been opened up, but of course the pump alone can determine its capacity as a producer. Developments in that particular will be awaited with much interest.—Horalo Anvil Herald.

Col. John C. Coolidge, father of President Calvin Coolidge, died at his home near Plymouth, Vermont, last Thursday.

Celebrates Birthday.

On Sunday, March 14, H. C. Hermes, Sr., of the Tarpley community, celebrated his birthday at which time his children gathered at the parental home and gave him a delightful surprise. Mrs. H. J. Hermes, Jr., and Mrs. John Ryle baked the birthday cake, which was composed of a few large layers, then a few smaller layers, and topped with layers still smaller. It was of pink and white, and weighed twelve and a half pounds. Pretty candles were arranged around the big cake. A fine time was enjoyed and everyone present took occasion to wish Mr. Hermes many more such happy birthdays. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hermes, Sr., Mr and Mrs. Henry Hermes, Jr., and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Ryle and children, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Hermes and and children, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Marquis and little daughter, Ernest, Clarence, Oscar, Augustine, and Cleophas Hermes, Miss Vielp Hermes, Grandma Marquis, Mrs. John Graham and children, Mrs. Turner and children, Jean and Boyd Turner, and Ethel and Mary Turner.

Nurse a grouch and it will soon grow strong enough to run off all your friends.

Occasionally a small boy tries to keep clean so that he won't have to be washed.

None are so blind as to be unable to see that the other fellow always gets the best job.

We can hardly wait for spring. We want to see a fat man try to do the Charleston in a bathing suit.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsilitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea, nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

A CARBON KNOCK or motor detonation aside from being annoying greatly reduces power efficiency—combustion taking place before the complete rise of the piston. The mechanical method of correcting such knocks is to retard the spark which again reduces power efficiency.

Many gasoline mixtures have been devised which in a way might eliminate the knock but oftimes the remedy is worse than the ailment.

In NO-NOX Motor Fuel we have the remedy without a single harmful feature it positively takes the carbon knock out of the motor, and any motorist knows that this means easier and quicker acceleration, smoother running motor and More Power, less gear shifts and generally a more satisfactory operation of the car at a lower repair cost.

NO-NOX is Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline. We ask you to try it, after that be your own judge.

I replied:
"Well, maybe you can—
If you can save it.
If, having saved it, you invest it, your investment proves profitable; and last but not least,
If you live long enough."
Four "ifs" and between you and success in your efforts to "beat" life insurance.
Even if we do admit that you can overcome the first three "ifs"—how about the last one—if you live longe enough?
Nothing is more certain than death. But nothing is more uncertain than the hour of its coming.

Father Died.

Judge Herman Harper received a telegram Saturday announcing the death of his father, Frank Harper, at Bartow, Florida, on March 27. Mr. Harper had been confined to his bed for several months, and his death was not unexpected. He was 98 years old, and was an old time Texan. In 1889 he settled in Gillespie county and started the town of Harper. A few years ago he moved to Florida with his son, Walter Harper, and had lived there until his death.

We regret to chronicle the passing of this good man, for we knew him well, and knew him to be of that sturdy type which blazed the way for civilization. He suffered all of the hardships and struggles incident to frontier life, having lived in Texas most of his life, and during a period when strong men of character were needed. He leaves to posterity the record of a good name, honored and revered by all who knew him.

Putting in Concrete Bridge.

A concrete bridge is being constructed by the State Highway department on Main Street near Dr. Rappold's office, the work being done under way. All traffic going out of town to the west and north is being routed out on Eleventh Street. The new bridge will be quite attractive and has been needed for a long time.

SAN ANTONIO NATIONAL BANK HELD UP TUESDAY.

Four Bandits Stage Bold Day-light Robbery in Heart of City.

Forcing bank officials, employes and customers kneel at the point of sawed off shotguns, bandits at noon Tuesday ransacked the San Antonio National Bank, on West Commerce street, near the ice-reaction of Navarro and escaped with $19,139.

Four men with shotguns and handkerchiefs covering the lower portions of their faces, entered the bank at 12:30 o'clock while it was crowded.

Aiming their shotguns in every direction, they ordered the officials and customers to kneel. Some of the employees they forced into the vaults.

Scooping up what cash was on the teller's counter and getting some from the vaults, excited spectators said, they quickly made a dash for the rear door.

The bandits made good their escape.

Two of the four men who held up the bank are known to Bexar county officials. The two have been in the bank robbing business long enough to have their pictures widely distributed in police rogues' galleries. Their photographs in the sheriff's collection were positively identified Tuesday afternoon by officials of the robbed bank as being the pictures of two in the gang.

Forging to the Front

Every man in business wants to be successful. It is necessary, imperative, that he should; for unless he is, both he and community lose.

Character, ability and industry have an important bearing on success; so has the prestige accorded by one's bank associations.

Window Broken.

One of the plate glass windows in J. H. Bruns store was smashed last Saturday night, and several bananas were taken from a bunch that hung inside the window. Sheriff Henry Stevens immediately got busy on the case and some interesting developments are expected.

Aged Lady Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Jane Julian, aged 79, died suddenly last Friday at the home of her nephew, J. C. Gallant, at Medina. Mrs. Julian had lived at Medina for about thirteen years. She was born in Alabama in 1847, and came to Texas many years ago, settling at Kennard, in Houston county, where she resided until she came to this county. She was a life-long member of the Baptist church. Surviving are several nephews and one niece in Houston county, and one nephew in Comanche county.

to have original records of their all during the month of May, the most destructive of which roll be felt in that territory ploing the west side of the Medina river. Would suggest that farmers take out hail insurance at this season, for they are likely the next. Fruit has been slightly damaged by recent cold. A little more damage by cold in prospect, but I think it will be slight, and perhaps will help it be given enough to do any damage. I do not expect heavy frost in April.

There is going to be some clear activity in oil circles. Remember I told you in one of my former lookreasts that a gusher would be brought in in a nearby county?

The developments in Medina county are bearing out my predictions. Bandera county is in severe for some of this development. during forecast, also, a great building era throughout this region. During the next two or three years bandsood crops this year, with good ships of wool and mohair, will make times prosperous and everybody happy.

"Turkey in the Straw."

Is a great old tune and everybody knows it. We do a general line of repairing, including automobile repairing, sewing machine work, everything. Tell us, we'll do it. Drop in sight into handbags.

Mrs. John R. Pierce, a clerk in the robbers entered. A swift glance showed what was taking place and she fled toward the vault.

"Stop," one of the bandits ordered, "or I will blow you to pieces."

The woman took two more steps and paused in front of the vault door. She knew that under a mat in front of the door was an electric button which would sound an emergency burglar alarm at a private detectives' agency. Terribly frightened, as she afterward admitted, Mrs. Pierce watched the bandits loot the bank and kept one eye on the front door expecting the detectives to rush in and the shooting start.

After taking all the money in sight the bandits rushed toward the rear of the building and had hardly disappeared through the back door before the officers came in the front and asked what the trouble was.

Crockett Street in rear of the bank was almost deserted except for parked cars and a few laborers who were working on the new Aztec Theater.

Laborers told officers there were four men and a woman in the party. The woman waited in a small automobile and when the four men walked rapidly out of the rear entrance she had the motor running. The men sprang into the car and it sped east on Crockett Street. The car turned south on Navarro Street and was lost to sight.

The workmen told the officers they only casually observed the automobile and did not take the license number. It did not appear to travel at an excessive rate of speed in leaving, they said.

So sure that the bandits would that passers by in front did not suspect anything wrong. J. S. McNeal, who entered the bank on business, found himself confronted with a bandit armed with a shot gun and was forced to stand against the wall.

L. Herff, president of the bank, returned from lunch just in time to witness the getaway.

He walked in and was in charge by a robber who stood him to the rear and him under guard.

Why is it that some individuals and firms can readily obtain money from a bank on unsecured notes while others cannot obtain loans at all—except, perhaps, by pledging ample collateral security?

The meeting will be held at Fox Hall on next Tuesday night, at which time it is hoped that every man who will assist in a volunteer fire brigade will be present. That Bandera needs some protection against fire is well known and every citizen should stand ready to do what he can to combat this constant menace. People Will Talk.

Yes, people will talk, the saying is true,
They talk about me and they talk about you.
If we go to the opera, someone will say
We should go to church and learn to pray;
If we go to church and offer up prayer,
They say we are hypocrites and putting on airs;
If we are rich, they call us a thief;
Scoff at our sorrows and laugh at our grief;
If we are poor, they say that we shirk;
We are always lazy and never would work.

They talk of our prospects, they talk of our past;
And if we are happy they say it can't last.
They talk of our loved ones, they talk of our foes;
They talk of our follies, they talk of our woes;
They talk of our joys, they talk of our fears;
They talk of our smiles, they talk of our tears;
They talk if we're single, they talk it we wed;
They talk of us living, and they talk of us dead.
Our efforts are useless, for people will talk.

Next Saturday is school trustee election day. Don't fail to go out and vote for trustees. Two members of the Bandera board are to be elected.

An effort will be made to bring John Lane to the reunion of the Old Settlers of Bandera County, to be held on July 2nd and 3rd. Captain Lane is well advanced in years, but can still "rank read" music from a fiddle. He lives near Voca in McCulloch county at this time. Many of our old timers danced to the fiddling of John Lane fifty years ago. We hope to have the pleasure of greeting the old musician in July.

An old time fiddler asked us the other day if he would be allowed to play "Bonaparte's Retreat" in the old fiddlers' contest at the Old Settlers' Reunion to be held here in July. Sure, man! Contestants, who must be over fifty years old, can play tunes of their own selection in the old fiddlers' contest, whether the tune is listed or not, just so it is old time music. In a short time we will publish a list of old time tunes from which fiddlers may make selections if they wish, or they can play anything of their own selection.

The New Era is constantly striving to publish all of the news of Bandera and Bandera county. Sometimes we overlook important items, but it is not intentional. The other day a man was overheard to remark, "The New Era failed to mention my visitor." We did not know he had a visitor until the said visitor had returned home two weeks before, and then the item was ancient history. We appreciate the kindness of those who phone or send us the names of their visitors, and if you have an idea that we do not want to publish them you are mistaken. Just try sending in items that are of general interest to the public and see how we publish them.

Medina County Very Active.

With wells drilling and located numbering thirty-one, Medina County is the scene of greatest oil activity in Southwest Texas outside of the Miranda and allied fields embraced in Webb, Zapata, Jim Hogg and Duval Counties.

Of the Medina oil territory the Hondo field has one producer, the Taylor No. 1, discovery well, pumping in steel storage. The Ina field consists of five producing wells purchased by Magnolia Petroleum Company from the Ina Oil Company, four producers of the Golden West Oil Company and one drilling, two producers of Eastham & Tarver, and one producer and one drilling wel of the Ina Company.

Among the new Medina tests the Alamo Drilling and Leasing Company is starting one on the Louis Gaff farm north of the Ina field and another west of Noonan, the latter to go to the Edwards lime. Joe Walsh is drilling at 380 three miles southwest of D'Hanis and has erected derrick for another wildcat test a few miles south of the Ina filed. The Ina Company, discoverers of that field, is erecting derrick for a wildcat test on the Finger farm, six miles south of D'Hanis.

Knox, Barlow et el. are rigging up on the Howard farm two and one-half miles southeast of the Henderson & Holden gasser, south of Ina. Cecil Switzer of Shawnee, Okla., who recently took over the Zerr farm test east of D'Hanis, at 1,112 feet, has tools back cleaning out the hole. This had been shut down a year.

Various other concerns are drilling or about to drill in different parts of the country, including the Grayburg Oil Company, Plateau Oil Company, California-Medina and others.

Around the Taylor No. 1, four miles south of Hondo, which came in a few weeks ago at 356 feet, all drilling, the Medina Oil Company, are below 400 feet in the No. 2 Taylor, which made a small well at 315 and is being deepened. Several other operations are under way in this field and in the Ina field.

Mrs. Mattie Jones went to Yates last Friday, to visit her son, W. C. Jones, and wife. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Jones, and they turned Monday.

Mrs. Joe G. Callahan, of Pipe Creek, sent the New Era editor a fine lot of turnips and greens last Friday, for which we are very grateful. The editor is rather fond of garden "sass," and the greens filled a long felt want.

Prof. L. L. McDonald brought us a fine head of lettuce last Saturday, which was raised in his garden. It was of extra large size and proves that any garden stuff can be successfully grown here with little effort. We appreciate Prof. McDonald's kind remembrance.

April is upon us. Slight cool wave about Easter. More rain this month, some hail. Heavy hail during the month of May, the most destructive of which will be felt in that territory along the west side of the Medina river. Would suggest that farmers take out hail insurance this season, for they are likely to need it. Fruit has been slightly damaged by recent cold. A little more damage by cold in prospect, but I think it will be slight, and perhaps will not be severe enough to do any damage. I do not expect heavy frost in April.

There is going to be some activity in oil circles. Remember I told you in one of my former forecasts that a gusher would be brought in in a nearby county! The developments in Medina county are bearing out my predictions. Bandera county is in line for some of this development. I forecast, also, a great building era throughout this region during the next two or three years. Good crops this year, with good clips of wool and mohair, will make times prosperous and everybody happy.

Fire Brigade Organized.

The meeting held at Cox Hall last Tuesday night for the purpose of organizing a fire brigade in Bandera, proved to be quite an enthusiastic affair. A brigade was organized with about twenty members, and others are expected to join. F. Tait clearly stated the purpose of the meeting; J. M. Hunter presided as chairman and I. E. Adamietz as secretary. It was decided to take steps at once toward raising about $750 for the purchase of fire-fighting equipment, Messrs. Frank Billings, I. E. Adamietz, M. Boyle, F. Tait and Lee Risinger being appointed as a committee to secure subscriptions for this purpose.

It was decided to select a fire marshall, make a map of the town, and offer an arson reward, in compliance with the Florida laws of the State Fire and Insurance Board, in order to obtain the reduction of 15 per cent in insurance rating offered by the board. W. E. Ruge was appointed fire marshall, and will also serve as chief of the newly organized brigade. Frank Billings was elected assistant fire chief. At other meeting is to be held at Cox Hall next Monday night, to receive the report of the committee named, and take further steps toward perfecting the organization. It is desired that every citizen in Bandera be present at the meeting. You may not be interested in such an organization, but you should be. If a fire should break out tonight you would undoubtedly want to help put it out. The organization of this brigade is for the purpose of systematically combating the fire demon, which is a menace to every property holder in the town.

To secure a reduction of fifteen per cent in our insurance rating it is necessary to meet the requirements of the State Board, and to meet these requirements we must have a fire fighting and an arson reward. Bandera is absolutely without adequate fire protection at the present time, which accounts for our insurance rates being almost prohibitive. Every business firm will be called upon this week to contribute to the purchase of the fire fighting apparatus, which is a chemical affair consisting of two tanks sixty gallons capacity each, mounted on wheels, about 10 feet of hose, etc. The fifteen per cent reduction in insurance rates will soon repay the amount of your subscription to the fund for purchasing this equipment.

Mrs. J. G. Letcher Dies.

Mrs. Josephine Burrell Letcher died at her home near Pipe Creek last night after a short illness. Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev Father P. J. Boivin, with interment in the Catholic cemetery at Bandera.

Deceased was 57 years of age, and is survived by her husband, J. G. Letcher, and five children, Raymond Letcher of Medina Lake, Ellis Letcher of Pipe Creek, Mrs. Edwina Boyle of Crystal City, Mrs. Maxwell Tobin of Castroville, and Miss Ena Letcher of Pipe Creek. Mrs. Letcher was a native of Castroville, Texas. She was married to J. G. Letcher on March 22, 1889, and had resided in this section all of her life. She was a devoted wife and mother, kind friend and generous neighbor, a devout Catholic, and loved and esteemed by all who knew her. The New Era deeply sympathizes with the bereaved husband and children in their great sorrow.

For Commissioner.

J. V. Porter announces this week as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Commissioner, Precinct No. 4. Mr. Porter has served faithfully in this capacity during the past two years, and has been quite active in the work of road building in his precinct, and looks after its affairs. If re-elected he will continue to serve his constituents in the same efficient manner as he has in the past.

Will Ellebracht, the well known machinery salesman, was here from San Antonio last Thursday.

County Meet.

The Bandera County Interscholastic League Meet, which was held at Medina last Friday and Saturday, was fine from every standpoint, the literary and track events being especially interesting this year. We have been unable to secure a full report of the various events in time for publication in this week's New Era, but we hope to give a complete report in our next issue. The following totals give Bandera a lead over Medina.

Individual points senior track: Medina 55; Bandera 87.

Editor's Niece Married.

Miss Willie Mae Bickenbach, the New Era editor's niece, and Mr. Dick Beasley were married in Mason March 30th, Rev. J. J. Ray, pastor of the Christian church in that city officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bickenbach of Mason, and has been telephone operator in the Mason exchange for the past three years. She was born in Bandera several times and has quite a number of friends here. The groom is the son of Mr and Mrs. D. Beasley of Junction, and holds a position as rick inspector in Mason county, under the State Livestock Sanitary Board. The New Era extends congratulations to these worthy young people.

Forging to the Front

Every man in business wants to be successful. It is necessary, imperative, that he should; for unless he is, both he and community lose.

Character, ability and industry have an important bearing on success; so has the prestige accorded by one's bank associations.

The First State Bank

Sends Us a Bousnel.

Mrs. A. Halamuda sent the New Era a beautiful bouquet of flowers from her flower garden yesterday. It included pretty red and white roses, queen's crowns, and orange and lemon poppies, which Col. Halamuda says he has christened Bandera poppies because they go to sleep at 4 p. m. and awake at 8 a.m. Colonel and Mrs. Halamuda raise many different kinds of flowers, at their home northwest of town, and their friends are always welcome to come out and see their great variety. The New Era certainly appreciates the bouquet which was sent in, for we would rather have the flowers while we are living than to get them when we are dead.

Boy Dies With Croup.

Harley, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Lancaster died last night after an illness of only a few hours supposedly of membraneous croup. The funeral will be conducted this afternoon, with burial in Bandera cemetery. The New Era deeply sympathizes with Mr. and Mrs. Joiner in the great sorrow that has suddenly descended upon them.

Building Deer Proof Fence.

Dan Auld, of Leakey, was here the first of the week for supplies and to build eighteen miles of deer proof fence on the Auld ranch in the Leakey country. Mr. Auld has been in the sheep business for many years, and has found that a deer proof fence is the only way to keep the sheep from being killed by dogs.

Brucks Appointed District Judge.

Hon. L. J. Brucks, of Hondo, was appointed District Judge of this district by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson on Tuesday, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Judge R. H. Burney. A petition was circulated here Saturday by W. S. Eldridge and was numerously signed asking that Mr. Brucks be appointed. On last Sunday afternoon members of the bar held a meeting in Kerrville and decided to recommend the appointment. Judge Brucks is well known throughout the district, having served for several terms as district attorney, and was a candidate in the last campaign for the district judgeship. He is eminently qualified for the position, and his appointment is the place meets with general satisfaction. He enters upon his duties at once.

An entertainment is being arranged for the winners in the County Meet, to take place at the High School auditorium tomorrow night under auspices of the Parent Teachers' Association. An interesting program is being prepared.

Friend Godkin Has a Birthday.

Our good friend, Walter Godkin, of the Spicewood Springs ranch had a birthday April 4th, but he won't tell us his age. Says it's been so long since he had a celebration of that kind that he has forgotten just how young he is. But nevertheless, a number of his friends did not forget his birthday, and a crowd of them came out from San Antonio, bringing along some musicians, and celebrated in great style. A sumptuous dinner, dancing, base ball, and other games were among the features of the happy occasion. Among those present from San Antonio were Miss Rodriguez, Miss Clementine Rodriguez, Henry Carlock, Mrs. Eva Smith, Miss Constancia Reimath, Manuel Salazar, Francisco Morales, Rudolph Gomez, Miss Libradia, Miss Martinez and Miss Angela Villareal.

Picture Show Friday Night.

John Hammond, manager of the Center Point and Comfort Theaters, has taken charge of the Bandera Theater, and will open same next Friday night with a big feature picture, "The Top of the World," featuring Anna Q. Nilsson, James Kirkwood, Raymond Hatton and Sheldon Lewis. Remember the date, Friday night, April 9th.

On Friday night, April 16th, will be shown Zane Grey's adventure masterpiece, "Wanderer of the Wasteland," produced entirely in colors.

Mr. Hammond is an energetic and experienced manager of pictures and is fully alive to the most popular and desirable pictures. We are glad he has taken over the Bandera Theater, for it insures our people of the best in the motion picture line.

School Trustees.

In the school trustee elections held in various school districts over the county last Saturday the following boards were elected:

At Bandera Dr. John H. Erwin and W. W. Davis were re-elected; John F. Langford holds over.

At Winans' Creek, F. A. Masters and R. B. Fries.

At Tarpley G. Hicks, and John Tyra, new members.

Vic Stevens and Robt. Hubble were elected new board of trustees for Myrtle Creek school in the election last Saturday. W. E Schoenert is the hold-over member of the board.

J. W. Evans Dead.

John Wesley Evans, formerly a citizen of this county, but for the past two years a resident of Kerrville, died in that city Tuesday, April 6th, after an illness of several weeks. The remains were brought to Bandera for interment, the funeral to be conducted this morning by Elder Mansell of the Church of Christ of Kerrville.

J. W. Evans was born in Alabama, December 7th, 1850, and came to Texas many years ago. He lived in Bandera county for 32 years, and was well known and highly esteemed by all of our people. His first wife was Miss Mary McCarty of Hico. She died at Stidmore, Texas, some years ago. The children born to this union, who are still living, are Gordon and Ike Evans of Bandera, Bob Evans of Alvin, Oscar Evans of Sabinal, Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Lacey of Houston, Walter Evans of Alvin. In 1921 Mr. Evans was married to Miss Ada Butcher, of Weston, West Virginia, who also survives. All of the children were at the bedside during Mr. Evans last illness. One sister, Mrs. Starley, of Duffo, Texas, survives.

Realizing that the end was approaching, Mr. Evans arranged his affairs, and made request that Elder Mansell of the Church of Christ, and Bob Hubble been a life-long member, conduct his funeral, and that W. R. Fletcher, J. W. Short, Frank Langford, Lee Risinger, Herman Harper and W. C. Davenport, Sr., act as pall bearers. It was also his request that he be buried at Bandera.

To the sorrowing children and grief-stricken wife the New Era extends condolence and sympathy.

Gravel Haulers Wanted.

The Mansfield Committee wants some one to haul six cubic yards of gravel, to be used in building base for the monument to our Bandera county soldier boys. See A. L. Mansfield at once.

Now somebody ought to volunteer to do this work without charge, and if some patriotic citizen will do so, it will be greatly appreciated. In any event, please communicate with Judge Mansfield.

Schreiner Sells Mohair.

Last week the Chas. Schreiner Co. of Kerrville sold to Draper & Co. of Philadelphia, 400,000 pounds of spring mohair at 37 and 38 cents, with a 10 cent raise on kid hair. Bids were rejected on 200,000 pounds of other holdings by the Schreiner Company.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

The Bandera County Interscholastic League Meet, held at Medina last Friday and Saturday, was one of the most successful meets and commendable meets ever held in this county. We regret that we have been unable to get a full report of all of the events for publication in this week's New Era, but we have the promise that all of the totals will be ready for publication in our next issue. The track events, the indoor baseball, volley ball, tennis, declamation, extemporaneous speech, etc., were all good, and the large crowds in attendance each day, of the meet from all over the county indicated that the people are really interested in scholastic matters.

The dangerous curve on the Medina road, in front of the place occupied by Lee Mansfield, has been eliminated by straightening the road and cutting down a hill at that point. For a long time that particular spot has been a dangerous menace to human life, and some fatal accidents have happened there, but by straightening the road and giving an unobstructed view for quite a distance the road is now made safe for motor traffic. The idea of removing this danger was conceived and put into execution by Frank Mansfield while at work with a road crew recently done on the Bandera end of the Medina road.

All of the Hill Country mourns the death of Judge R. H. Burney, which occurred at Uvalde last Thursday. For almost three-quarters of a century Judge Burney had lived in this section, and for the past twenty-two years he had served as district judge. He was a self-made man, and had a host of friends all over the district. We attended his funeral at Kerrville last Sunday, and as we listened to the many good things said about him in the funeral discourse and at the cemetery, we felt that his life had been one of good deeds and service to his fellowman. He had reached the age of 72 years, and these years were full of service. We will cherish the memory of Judge R. H. Burney, for he was our friend. We will miss his kindly greeting, his warm handclasp and his cheerful smiles. On the bench and in private life he was always the same courteous, polished gentleman, possessed of all of the noble attributes and generous impulses of the best type of citizen. Peace to his great soul.

The citizens of Tarpley are clamoring for a first class road from Bandera through their community to Leakey. They should have it. During the past year or two the people of that community have done considerable road work, but there is much to be done yet, and we hope the time will soon come when a road of the first class will be a reality.

What we can't understand is why a girl will venture on the street with nothing save a thin layer of chiffon to shield her legs from the wintry winds and then go home and raise cain with the servant for letting the fire burn low in her room.

In New York, it costs $21,000 to polish the cuspidors in one building last year. The advice to aim high isn't always so good, track.

"There Is a Reason"

A Delightful Drive.

Last Sunday, in company with W. D. Smithers and N. H. Rose of San Antonio, we journeyed to Kerrville over that new highway known as Trail Loop No. 10, through Medina, out by the mouth of Wallace Creek across the Mountain to the fastest growing city in Southwest Texas. We knew this route was the scenic portion of the country, but we had no idea of the pristine charm and allurement of the wonderful scenery which abounds along that highway, and as we wended our way over a smooth road through enchanting canyons, up shaded mountainsides, across rippling streamlets, and through mountain passes, we realized that we now have one of the most delightful drives to attract the tourist that to be found in all Texas. The scenery is as grand as Colorado or California offers, and when it becomes generally known to the traveling public, which in time it will be, thousands of sightseers, tourists and vacationists will choose this route from San Antonio to Kerrville. The distance from Bandera to Kerrville over this route is forty miles, and in a Dodge car we made the trip in one hour and thirty-two minutes. We motored from Kerrville over the old route through Bandera Pass, a distance of twenty-five miles, in one hour and thirty minutes, and found the road from Camp Verde to Bandera in very bad shape. However, this road is soon to be put in good shape also, which will give us two good roads to Kerrville, but the Trail Loop route through Medina, though the greater distance, will be the most favored on account of the scenic beauty.

And all of this brings on a little retrospective meditation. About two years ago the people of Medina community decided to reach out for better roads. A bond issue of only $25,000 was voted to build a road from Wiman's Creek to the Kerr county line, it being understood at the time that Bandera was to build the road from this town to Wiman's Creek and Kerr county would take care of the work from the county line to Kerrville. There were all sorts of argument against the project, but those Medina people went right ahead and built their portion of the road, Commissioner R. L. Morris doing the best piece of work we have ever seen done for that amount of money on an almost impassable roadway. Kerr county came across with her share of the work in a handsome manner, while Bandera was a big disappointment, but finally by individual subscriptions and some assistance from the county we built our end of the road, the work being done by Frank Mansfield and Commissioner Anton Pyka and their crews, with the result that today Medina's dream of a first class highway is a finished reality, and every citizen who travels over it is proud of this wonderful achievement. The road has been designated as a State Highway, through the efforts of Senator Julius Real of Kerrville, and is now being maintained by the State. Thus we see what can be accomplished by united effort. Bandera county has many other roads which need just such united action to put them in first class condition, and it can be done and will be done if the people will work together to that end.

Be persistent in one thing. The world has no use for the man who proceeds by fits and starts and who is always jumping the track.

Judge Burney Died at Uvalde.

Funeral of the late District Judge R. H. Burney, whose death occurred from pneumonia at North Uvalde last Thursday night, was held at the First Presbyterian church in Kerrville last Sunday afternoon, Rev. W. T. Dickey conducting the services. Burial was under Masonic auspices.

Known affectionately for many years as the "Judge of the Hill Country," Judge Burney was one of the notable figures on the district bench in Texas. He was born October 22, 1854, in McNary County, Tenn., and in 1856 came to Texas with his father Judge H. M. Burney and settled in Kerrville which was his home for 70 years. His boyhood years were marked by the hardships common to Texas pioneers. His first schooling was in a log schoolhouse, and to get a higher education he enlisted in the Texas Rangers to earn money for his tuition. In 1875, at 21, he had saved enough money to enter Southwestern University at Georgetown and in 1878 he entered the law department of Vanderbilt University from which he was graduated in 1879 with a degree of Bachelor of Laws. He did the work of a two-year course in one year. The same year Southwestern University gave him his degree of Master of Arts.

For a short time the young law graduate practiced in Georgetown, Texas, but in 1880 he returned to Kerrville. In 1886 he was elected State senator from the 28th district and re-elected in 1890. The district at that time was the largest in the State, extending west to El Paso, and Judge Burney was nominated both times without opposition. In the senate of the 20th Legislature he was chairman of the joint committee which investigated the Comptroller's office and drafted the laws designed to prevent fraudulent returns by tax collectors still in effect. Judge Burney also was chairman of the senate committee on education, a strong supporter of the University of Texas, and author of the act creating the State Geological Department.

He was considered an authority on public school lands and was a member of the conference committee which formulated the State policy for sale of these lands. Also he was a member of the committee which drafted the Judicial articles in the Constitution of Texas.

In 1904 he was appointed judge of the 38th Judicial district by Governor Lanham and held that office by re-election since that time.

In the more than 20 years he was on the district bench his reputation as a trial judge was known throughout the State, his rulings being characterized by fearlessness of public sentiment or local feeling in many criminal cases where personal courage of high order was needed. Judge Burney won a reputation for independence of thought and sterling honesty which made him universally respected not on the bench and as a citizen. His wife, who was Miss Mattie Prather of Palestine, died in 1913. Children of Judge Burney living are Henry P. Burney and Ivy H. Burney of San Antonio and Miss Vela Burney of Kerrville.

Judge Burney was one of nine sons in the remarkable family of the late Judge H. M. Burney of Kerrville who came to Kerr county in 1856. The elder Judge Burney was a ranchman, farmer and dealt in many kinds of supplies. He sold the U. S. Government the shingles used in building quarters for troops at Fort Belknap. He had the first steam sawmill in Kerr County and for many years the principal industry of Kerrville was making cypress shingles from the cypress trees which lined the Guadalupe. He sold lumber used to build quarters for troops on the Rio Grande which was hauled by Mexicans in carts hundreds of miles across Southwest Texas. In his later years, the elder Judge Burney was president of the First National Bank of Center Point.

Judge Burney's death is the first break in the circle of the nine sons of the H. M. Burney family, the eight brothers being I. H. Burney of Ft. Worth, many years attorney for the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, but retired from active practice for several years; J. G. Burney of Lyton Springs, W. W. Burney of Center Point, William, Lee, John W. and Mack Burney, who are Kerr County farmers and stock raisers, and P. C. Burney, electrical engineer of Alpine.

Bandera Warehouse Directors Re-Elected.

Bandera.—The annual meeting of the Bandera Ranchmen & Farmers' Association was held at the association's warehouse Saturday. More than 50 members were present. Fred Thalmann, manager, gave a report of the association's business, after which the following directors were re-elected: W. E. Russell, R. D. Kutzer, T. E. Whisenhunt, R. D. Harrison, R. N. Padgett, W. R. Thomason, and Fred Thalmann, manager.

The secretary's report shows the association having a surplus of cash on hand of about $3,000. A 10 per cent dividend was declared for the first of the year. During 1925, the association handled 195,000 pounds of mohair and 250,000 pounds of wool. The combined clips of the year's business represented a distribution to the growers of about $200,000 during the past year.

The above report brings to mind the fact that the business men, farmers and ranchmen of Bandera County have been operating a successful wool and mohair selling organization in Bandera for several years.

For several years, occasionally and recently very frequently, Bandera men have mentioned to The Eagle management, the desirability of a large warehouse at Junction for storing wool and mohair clips. Merchants have also mentioned this matter, and it seems that there are many good reasons why a warehouse here would benefit producers and we can see no reason why it should not be done. Rocksprings also has one or two such warehouses, and apparently are getting satisfactory results.—Junction Eagle.

Sham Battle at Bandera Pass

For the first time since the early days of the World War Kerrville will be the bivouac point of the United States Army when more than 6,000 officers and men of the famous fighting Second Division camp here on the objective of their annual hike, under plans now being completed at Fort Sam Houston.

The division, under command of Brig. Gen. Paul B. Malone, is scheduled to spend two nights and a day encamped in Westland Place, addition, with division field headquarters and officers' quarters in the Tourist Park. The troops will arrive via the Bandera Road May 22 and will break camp the morning of May 24.

Complete details of the route were arranged by a reconnaissance party, headed by Capt. E. O. Schaffer, Quartermaster Corps, who came over the route last week, studying the situation of roads and coordinating and co-operating the movements of the troops along the line of march and arranging for camping places.

Leaving Camp Stanley on May 19, the division will march in two columns to Boerne, where camp will be pitched at the same point as last year on the hike to Fredericksburg. During there, the west column will move over the Bandera Road to Pipe Creek and from there to Bandera.

The East Column will march from Boerne to Comfort, Thence to Center Point, and from there to Camp Verde. The two columns are scheduled to meet in Bandera Pass where a mimic tactical maneuver simulating actual warfare will be staged as a part of the training work of the troops.

The simulated engagement in Bandera Pass will be attended by all the thrills and maneuvers of actual warfare with the exception of the dead and wounded. Artillery will roar, machine guns will bark their staccato songs, and rifles will crack realistically, while overhead a number of airplanes will dart hither and yon, reconnoitering and spotting the movements of the troops, relaying the information to the ground by radio telephone.

At the conclusion of this "battle" between the Red and Blue armies, the division will march on as a single unit to Kerrville, the leading troops reaching the city some time Saturday morning, and the last trekking into camp late Saturday afternoon. The late comers will rest Sunday and begin their return march to Fort Sam Houston Monday morning, May 24, reaching the post the following Saturday. The two columns will reserve their routings on the return hike.

The entire hike will be made under simulated war conditions, with field headquarters of company, regiment, brigade and division operated in the same manner as during the strenuous campaigns in France in 1917 and 1918.

For many residents of Kerrville and the Hill Country, it will be the first opportunity to witness the maneuvers of such a body of troops in the field, and will give a magnitude of a comparatively slight inkling of the coordinating and co-operating movements of more than 6,000 men and thousands of animals and motor vehicles.

The entire division will be supplied by motor truck and railhead from Fort Sam Houston as a base, and complete communication with the base will be maintained by radio telegraph and carrier telephone, airplane and carrier pigeon. All public or troop, however widely scattered, are kept in close communication by radio and airplane.

The Second Division was engaged in the fighting in the Meuse-Argonne, Chateau-Thierry, and several other battles in the thickest of the fighting overseas, and its losses in killed and wounded were among the heaviest of the American Expeditionary Forces.

It is now the only full division in active service in the regular army. Two brigades of infantry and one of artillery, in addition to the supply and ammunition trains, signal and medical corps organizations, engineering regiment, and other supporting organizations, are its components.

The annual practice marches of the division, for field training and maneuvers, involve the largest movement of troops in the United States since the World War.—Kerrville Hill View Times.

Obituary.

Mrs. Mary Jane Gallant Julian was born in Tuscaloosa County, Alabama, Jan. 27, 1847. Died at Medina, Texas, March 26, 1926. She was the last to go out of a family of thirteen children. Was converted and joined the Mission-ary Baptist Church at Leonard; Texas and was Baptised by Rev. R. E. Watson. Her husband, G. W. Julian died several years ago, and since his death she has lived with her nephew and niece, Bangee Gallant and wife. These good people did all they could to make life comfortable and happy to her. Their devotion to her was beautiful. The little church at Medina will miss her, but our loss is her gain. The Bible was the one book with her, and she loved it and in its teachings, and said it gave her great comfort. Four nephews and one niece live to mourn her death, J. Gallant, Medina, M. F. Gallant Kennard, Texas, R. H. Gallant, Crockett, Texas, R. H. Winters, Mrs. Ada Curry Kennard, Texas.

Well done, can be said of this servant of God who worked for Him here and now reigns with Him in glory. Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.

Education and Ministers.

In his annual report President Butler of Columbia University declares: "Probably the greatest obstacle to religious faith is the attitude and influence of a very large proportion of the poorly endowed and poorly educated Protestant clergy." Admitting the decline in the number and quality of students for the ministry and the incomplete education of so many of the latter, the Outlook, (New York) nevertheless says:

"Religion is a form of power. It is not knowledge, it is not theory. Millions of ignorant people have been profoundly religious. Throughout the Old Testament the test of religion is not the test of scientific knowledge, or of theology, but of power. It is not what a man thinks about religion that is the best, but what his religion does with his life. If ministers are learned, they may serve as Paul served. If they are grossly ignorant, they will find that ignorance is a bar to the access of the minds of the educated. If they are scholastic, they will find their scholasticism a bar to the minds of the simple and plain. But even the ignorant and even the scholastic can serve if they have the power."

The Outlook does not say whence this power, but obviously it is based on intense conviction and largely consists in all-absorbing, profoundly earnest desire to serve. No matter how incomplete the minister's education may be, if he have such conviction, fire and sustained enthusiasm, he can stir religious feeling among the masses of men. The difficulty is to be looked for in decline of such spirit and zeal rather than in lack of modern education.

Boerne Gets Blakeney.

Doc Blakeney, of this city, has signed up as pitcher for the Boerne baseball team this season, we understand. Doc is a pitcher of no mean ability, and will prove a valuable addition to the Boerne team.

Good Rains.

Good rains have again fallen throughout Bandera county, insuring a bumper small grain crop and improving the growth of grass on the ranges. Old Bandera county has had plenty of moisture thus far this year, which makes prospects exceedingly bright for all kinds of crops.

Fire Brigade Meeting.

The fire brigade meeting Monday night was quite enthusiastic, and we all feel very much encouraged over the prospects at an early date securing fire-fighting apparatus for Bandera. I. E. Adamietz, chairman of the committee appointed to secure subscriptions to the fund of $750 with which to purchase a chemical apparatus, reported almost $500 raised to date, and expressed his belief that the remainder would be raised by the time of the next meeting. By meeting the requirements of the State Fire Board we will obtain a 15 per cent reduction in our town's fire rating, and if we have a "recognized fire department" a further reduction of 20 per cent. Mr. Adamietz, secretary of the organization, was requested at Monday night's meeting to write the State Board for information as to what constitutes a "recognized fire department," and if it is at all possible Bandera will qualify for the requirements. Bandera county carries around $22,000 insurance on her courthouse property, and the consummation will be a boon to aid in securing these reductions by the procuring of the necessary fire-fighting equipment. A mass meeting will be held at Cox Hall next Tuesday night, at which time it is expected that every citizen will be on hand. In a very short time those who have joined the fire brigade will begin drill work under the direction of Fire Marshall W. E. Ruge and his assistant, Frank Billings.

Tragedy at Utopia.

The little town of Utopia, just over the line in Uvalde county, was thrown into a high state of excitement last Monday night when it was learned that Mrs. Will Jones, wife of a prominent citizen there, had been murdered by Jim Calvert, a deaf mute, was fatally wounded. At the same time the tragedy occurred Utopia's school building was discovered to be in flames, and soon burned to the ground. It is supposed that the building was fired to attract the attention of the community away from the crime of murder which had been so fully perpetrated. Calvert died Tuesday, and is said to have made a statement in regard to the deplorable affair.

Mrs. W. C. Jones was the daughter of Dr. Clark, and had lived in Utopia for twelve or fifteen years. Besides her husband she is survived by six small children.

Calvert was about forty years old, and unmarried. It is said that he is related to the husband of the murdered woman.

Silence and death Tuesday reigned at Utopia, village 22 miles north of Sabinal, with thin spirals of smoke from the embers of the school house sending Utopia's word of a night of tragedy which claimed the lives of two.

Mrs. Will Jones, 23 and a 40-year-old man are dead. Mrs. Jones was shot down, in the presence of her children. The man, who admitted on his death bed that he fired the shot and set the school house on fire, died by his own hand.

Meanwhile relatives of Mrs. Hobart in their way from San Antonio to the scene of the tragedy. They are: Mrs. John Gaddis, Miss Julia Clark and Mrs. Ed Hobart, all of Canadian, Texas, who was visiting here when news of the death was received. Mrs. Gaddis and Mrs. Hobart are sisters-in-law of Mrs. Jones who was the daughter of Dr. D. H. Clark of Robstown.

Returning home about daybreak after his reign of terror, the man shot himself in the abdomen, it was learned. Believing he would not die, he took poison and died several hours later but not until he admitted the crimes, officers said. He gave no motives.

Sudden insanity is believed by Mrs. Matthews of Sabinal, to account for the accused man's actions. After an all-night search, a posse found the man at his home with two bullet wounds in his back.

The firing of the schoolhouse started Utopia's night of tragedy, according to reports reaching San Antonio. During the ex-

Installing Electric Plant.

The equipment for the new electric light and power plant was moved here from Menard last Thursday and is now being installed in Tom North's ice factory near the New Era office. The business of the Menard plant is owned by the company of West Texas Utilities Co., which has built a high line through all of that region, and in course of time will no doubt include Bandera, but for the present will maintain a local plant here. The engine, dynamo, and other equipment which is now being installed is of sufficient capacity to supply a city of 10,000 population, and is modern in every respect.

For Commissioner.

R. L. Morris announces this week as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Commissioner of Precinct No. 3, and his announcement will be found in the regular column. Mr. Morris has faithfully served the people as commissioner the past two terms, and has been very active in the matter of road building in his precinct, the best evidence of which is the splendid condition of the roads there. If re-elected he promises to devote his energies in the future, as in the past, to giving his services along these and other lines to the best of his ability with the means at hand.

Getting Ready for Monument.

Several loads of gravel have been hauled to the court house square in preparation for construction of the base for the monument to the Bandera county soldier boys who lost their lives in the World War. The county commissioners in session Monday passed an order providing for the extension of the court yard to enclose the monument. The granite boulder will arrive from the granite quarry in San Antonio in a few days and will be put in place on the square.

The committee needs additional funds to pay for labor and other incidentals, and your donation is needed at this time.

Mrs. Ed Caton Chairman.

In the Bandera County Fair catalogue just issued the name of Mrs. J. W. Cox appears as chairman of the canned goods and vegetable department. This is an error on the part of the printer. Mrs. Ed Caton, of Medina, is chairman of that department this year. Mrs. Cox served faithfully in that capacity during the past few years, and asked to be relieved, with the result that Mrs. Caton was selected and will preside this year.

Fraternal Insurance Society Organizing.

L. R. Watkins, district manager, and Mr. Mansfield, deputy were here from San Antonio last Saturday and took preliminary steps toward organizing a council of the Security Benefit Association here. Enough members were secured to obtain a charter, and Mr. Watkins states that he would return in a few days and secure others. It is expected that formal organization and installation on officers will take place on May 1, at which time the degree team of members of San Antonio council will come and give a public installation. Much interest is being taken in the formation of council here. The Security Benefit Association is fraternal, protective and social in its nature. It now has more than 300,000 members and over 1,000 local councils, and admits both men and women of good moral character, age limit 16 to 55 years. It has a juvenile auxiliary in which children from one year to 16 are admitted. Rates are very reasonable, and cover a wide range. The society operates an Old Folks' and Orphans' Home, and Hospital, and has more than $5,000,000 in its reserve fund.

The organization of a local council should help to promote social activity in Bandera and bring the young people of the community together in a unity of purpose.

Preparing for Big Oat Crop.

The Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association is preparing for a bumper oat crop by purchasing 15,000 bags and 20,000 pounds of binder twine to meet the demand this year. The association will order apout one day of each on the oat crop alone. Ordinarily the sacks sell for about fifteen cents each, and binder twine retails for fifteen cents per pound, thus if the amount of twine and sacking used the Ranchmen & Farmers' Association will spend around $5,000 for these supplies, offering a considerable saving to the shareholders.

Bridge Completed.

The bridge across the draw near Dr. Rappold's office was completed this week, and this part of Main Street will be opened to traffic the first of next week. Highway Foreman Joe G. Callahan says. Mr. Callahan has superintended an excellent piece of work in the construction of this bridge, and it adds considerably to the appearance of the street, as well as being a much needed improvement.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

The installation of an electric light and power plant in Bandera marks the beginning of a new era in this community. It means that power and light can now be secured for all purposes, and heartily welcome the new concern.

Three funerals in one day in Bandera breaks all previous records. Last Thursday occurred the funeral of J. W. Evans, who died at Kerrville then followed the funeral of Mrs. J. G. Letcher, who died at Pipe Creek, and just after sundown the remains of Master Harold Joiner, who died on East Verde, were laid to rest. Thursday was a sad day in Bandera.

The catalogue for the Bandera County Fair was issued this week, and is now ready for distribution. All those who expect to have exhibits at the fair should secure a copy of the catalogue. It can be obtained from M. R. Thalmann, secretary of the fair.

The machinery is being placed, posts will be set and wires strung within a few days, and the first thing you know old Bandera will be illuminated in real style. If you have ever doubted the possibility of Bandera having an electric light plant you can dispel those doubts by going around to Tom Nevin's ice factory and see the new machinery that is being put in. And of course that brings on a little more talk—talk about the possibilities that are opened up by the installation of such a system here. We who have been without electric power all of these years do not realize all that can be done with electric current, but there are many people who will some here to establish industrial and manufacturing enterprises now who would not come before because they could not obtain the electric power needed in their line. We predict that within four or five years power for pumping water, power on farms and ranches, power for canning factories, etc., will be obtained from this central plant in Bandera and it will simply revolutionize the various industries of this section. Take the New Era's needs for instance. Our need for motor power has been steadily growing during the past three years. At first we used a little one and one-half horse-power gasoline engine. When we installed our linotype and later our cylinder press we had to have more power, so we put in a seven horse-power gasoline engine, with the fuel cost increasing all of the time. At the present time our fuel cost is around $30 per month, which is quite an item. Now we are going to install an electric motor which will cut that cost about one-third of what it is at present. And besides we will have electric lights throughout our establishment.

The day of the kerosene lamp in Bandera is passing. At first many of our people will not be disposed to put in electric lights in their homes, perhaps, but in the time all will see the safety, the convenience, and the superiority of the electric bulb over the dangerous, smoky, and cumbersome kerosene lamp, and will use electricity. We're moving forward at last.

Begin now to prepare for the County Fair to be held at Bandera August 26, 27, and 28.

Mansfield to Manage Boerne Reunion.

W. E. Mansfield, who manages the concessions and entertainment features of the Bandera County Old Settlers' reunion, has been employed by the Old Settlers' Association of Kendall county to manage in like manner the reunion at Boerne this year which is to be held on July 17th and 18th. Those Boerne people were fortunate in securing Mr. Mansfield's services to help them put on a desirable two-days' entertainment, for he is eminently fitted to conduct the entertainment to the general satisfaction of all concerned. He is prepared to handle the rodeo feature, having plenty of wild steers and roping stock, and being an experienced barbecue man he will be able to feed the crowds who will attend the reunion. Last year at the Bandera reunion he handled crowds each day estimated at around eight thousand.

The Bandera County Old Settlers' reunion is to be held July 2nd and 3rd, and the Kendall County Old Settlers' reunion is to be held July 17th and 18th. Big crowds are expected to attend each of these reunions, and W. E. Mansfield, with an efficient corps of assistants, will handle those in such a manner that will be most pleasing.

Harold Joiner.

The funeral of Harold Joiner, the thirteen year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Joiner, took place last Thursday evening, interment being made in Bandera cemetery. The funeral was conducted at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Pyle Eckhart, the lad's grandparents, the services being conducted by Minister Rice, of the Bible Students Association, assisted by Rev. Hicks, pastor of the Baptist church and Rev Gossett, pastor of Methodist church. A great concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives attended the funeral. The death of this bright little boy was indeed sad, coming suddenly, almost as a bolt from a clear sky. On Wednesday of last week he suffered an attack of membranous croup, and in just a few hours passed away. He was a child loved by all who knew him, and only a few days before his death had won honors in the County Interscholastic Meet at Medina as an entry from the East Verde school.

The funeral of J. W. Evans, for over thirty years a citizen of this county, who died at Kerrville, was conducted at the Bandera cemetery last Thursday in the presence of a large number of sorrowing friends. Rev. Bowden, pastor of the Kerrville Baptist church, conducted the funeral and paid a beautiful tribute to the life and character of the deceased. Mr. Evans had moved to Kerrville about two years ago, and at the time of his death was engaged in the hotel business there.

A great crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives attended the funeral of Ms. J. G. Letcher of Pipe Creek, which was conducted at the Catholic church in this city last Thursday afternoon by Rev. Father P. J. Boivin, with interment in the Catholic cemetery. Friends and relatives came from Castroville, Medina Lake, San Antonio, and other points to pay the last tribute of respect to this good woman.

Pipe Creek School Play.

Pipe Creek High School pupils will tomorrow night, Friday, April 16th, present "An Arizona Cowboy," at the Pipe Creek School House, with the following cast of characters:

Farley Gantt, the Cowboy Sheriff—Chester Krause.

Fawn Afraid, an Indian maid—Nettie Krause.

Synopsis of the Play, Four Acts.

The scene of the play is at Purple Dog, Arizona, a cross roads village boasting several houses and a Pullman hotel. Farley Gantt is elected sheriff by admiring fellow cowboys. While he is away hunting cattle thieves on the plains his partner, Paul, has become infatuated with Ora Belle Blackshear and her brother, Duke, cattle rustlers, causing him to lose his position as pay master of the Double Z Ranch. Miss Margurite Moore, a young college girl, owner of the ranch greatly admires the new sheriff. Love is roughened by the crooked tongue of the Indian girl, Fawn Afraid. Coralie and Duke plan to steal the payroll of the ranch and make a getaway to Frisco. The plan thwarted by Yow Kee, the Chinaman, who overhears their plan. Marguerite refuses to receive Gantt and hires Hezekiah Bugg instead. The Blackshears attack Bugg in a ruse to steal the payroll, but are seen by Young Tin, who saves Paul from going to prison. He tries to assume the guilt to save Coralie on account of his infatuation for her. Gantt finally tells the truth and saves the money. Two months after, the affair between Marguerite and the sheriff has been straightened out. Fawn Afraid confesses that she was lying about her relationship with the sheriff. Duke and Grizzly kidnap Marguerite and carry her off to Mexico. She is rescued by Farley, Paul and Big Elk.

A blackface farce, in one act, "Axin' Her Father," will also furnish plenty of fun. The general public cordially invited. Remember the date, Friday night, April 16th, at Pipe Creek School house.

Another Pioneer Passes.

Mrs. Linda Means, for forty-nine years a resident of Bandera County, died last Sunday in Kerrville after an illness of several weeks. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. R. Wheat, pastor of the Kerrville Methodist church, and burial took place there.

Mrs. Means was born November 13, 1851, in Whit county, Texas. City, Mrs. J. P. Freeman of Kerrville, Mrs. C. M. Click of Bandera, and Mrs. W. L. Lumpkin of Sheffield, Alabama. One sister, Mrs. F. A. Means of Asherton, Texas, also survives.

During the many long years which she lived in this county Mrs. Means endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. She was a true type of the pioneer mother, and was ever ready to respond when called upon in times of sickness or distress. She will be mourned by all of her old neighbors and friends. The New Era extends sympathy and condolence to the bereaved husband and children in their great sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hinds were here from Dorset Monday, and Mr. Hinds dropped in to see his subscription to the New Era. He recently moved from Rocky Creek to Dorset county and says he is very well pleased with his new location.

Public Installation May 1.

Messrs. L. R. Watkins and N. K. Mansfield of San Antonio, were here last Saturday making arrangements for the establishment of a local council of Security Benefit Association. Mr. Watkins informed us that a public installation of officers of the new lodge would be held at Cox Hall on Saturday night, May 1st, to which everybody will be invited. A degree team and members of San Antonio council will attend in a body, about fifty strong, bringing with them the order's San Antonio orchestra. The general public will be invited to attend the ceremonies, which will begin at 8:30. After the ceremonies the members and their friends will enjoy a social dance.

"The Female."

"The Female" is the title of the picture to be shown at Bandera Theater tomorrow, Friday night. Also a good two-reel comedy will be shown. John Hamlyn, manager of the Bandera Theater is giving only Paramount pictures, and of the most pleasing kind. A good crowd was in attendance last Friday night, and, weather permitting, equally as large crowd will be there tomorrow night.

Among the features of the Old Settlers' Reunion, to be held at Bandera July 2nd and 3rd, will be a roping contest for men over fifty years here. There are many of the old boys who rode the range in the early days and who can still twirl a lariat and make a throw that will shame some of the younger fellows.

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas

The New Era labors early and late for Bandera county. But please remember that we boost only for those things which are of benefit to our county.

When you write letters to your friends abroad, invite them to come to Bandera to the Old Settlers' Reunion July 2nd and 3rd, and the County Fair August 26, 27, and 28.

Some people have an idea that it's an easy task for an editor to gather and print the news for a weekly paper, and imagine if they were editor of the home paper they would print more news than he gathers, and write it in much better style. Perhaps so. We would like to give some of these individuals a chance to demonstrate their superior ability while we take a vacation for a few months. We're getting weary of the steady grind, and if you think you can give the people a real newsy New Era and keep it up to the present high standard of excellency you are the fellow we are looking for.

Now we're talking about Bandera's prospects. We have much to feel jubilant over. In the first place we have had good rains and crops are growing, cattle are getting fat, the hay and lamb crop is above the average this spring, wool and mohair clips are larger and of better grade, the people in better condition in every way than for a long time, our county's schools are in flourishing condition, many miles of roads have been built which will induce thousands of tourists to visit our county during the summer months, our Old Settlers' reunion will be bigger and better this year, our County Fair will be a revelation to everybody, an electric light and power plant is now being installed in Bandera, drilling for oil will probably be under way within the next few months, candidates are beginning to crop out and watermelon time is coming. The organization of a fire brigade in Bandera and the contemplated purchase of a chemical fire-fighting apparatus, with resulting substantial reductions in our insurance rates as a small thing and will help to encourage other progressive moves. Prosperity will soon be riding on the high crest of the tide of progress that is sweeping this way. Bandera county will be in the swim from now on.

Hon. Walter Fischer, editor and owner of the Riesel Messenger, was found dead seated at his desk in his office Sunday afternoon. He had been ill for several days but had been able to be up and about. Newspaper work is perhaps the only profession in the world where men must work regardless of their own physical illness, which must at all times be kept to themselves and not reflected in their work. Attractive, enticing, always demanding attention and sacrifices, about all the newspaper profession recognizes in the ordinary trend of life is the universal call of Death. Funerals, happinesses, weddings, births, accidents,, successes and failures of others, with no thought of their own well being is in the daily grind of newspaper folks, who find at the last that the years of the span of life has passed before they hardly realize that they have even passed from youth. There is no time for regrets or self pity on the part of the average newspaper man.—Georgetown Sun.

Again we want to call attention to the fact that we now have a good road to San Antonio, and this summer thousands of sightseers and tourists will visit our town. Where one automobile load of visitors came last year, sixteen or twenty automobiles will come this year. The word has gone out that Bandera county offers the most picturesque scenery to be found in all of Texas, and now that that wonderful piece of highway, Trail Loop No. 10, has been completed from Bandera through Medina to Kerrville, there will be a steady stream of vacationists following this route. In anticipation of these things we should make our town attractive. There are a number of old buildings which should be repainted and repaired; some work should be done on our streets; some evidences of civic pride should be displayed.

It seems to be the New Era's gift to look far into the future. Five years ago we made the prediction that better roads were coming, along with better school facilities. We kept talking about these things, to the disgust of some people who did not believe we would ever advance along these lines. But we have advanced, and are still advancing. Now we are predicting that within another five years many of our farmers will turn their attention to truck farming—little five and ten-acre truck patches will be scattered up and down this valley which will be marketing in San Antonio all kinds of vegetables and garden truck produced under irrigation from wells, the water pumped by electricity. We know we have the rich soil to produce any kind of crops, and all it takes is a little energy and a ready market to develop these things. We now have a good road to San Antonio, the ready market; we have plenty of water underground and in the river; and the electric power needed is being installed. The dream of today will be a reality tomorrow.

Frontier Times For May.

The May number of Frontier Times, that growing little monthly magazine published in Bandera by J. Marvin Hunter, was issued from the press last week. It contains: "Early Day Tribes in Central Texas," "Adventures on the Cattle Trail," "Fort Concho in 1870," "Some Recollections of Early Days," "Big Foot Wallace's Fight on the Nueces," "The Old 45 Peacemaker," "Old Amy, the Semi-mule Squaw," "Mrs. Rebecca J. Fisher," "The Passing of a Pioneer," "The Lee-Peacock Feud," "Black Jack, the Outlaw," "A Journey to Fort Griffin in 1876," "Vindication of Jean Laffite," "William Greenwood, a Mason Pioneer," "A Train Robbery Prevented," "Origin of the Alamo Inscription."

Each and every one of the above sketches possess rare historical value, and should be read by all school children who are studying Texas history. Frontier Times is steadily growing, regardless of the fact that it is just a plain, homely little magazine, published in a country town of only 700 population. Less than three years ago it was started without a subscriber. We are printing 2,500 copies of the current issue, and every copy which goes out in some way calls the reader's attention to Bandera.

Advertising Fans.

The New Era has a line of advertising fans, and will be pleased to submit samples to merchants and business men, who use this kind of advertising. Have your fans printed at home and save money.

Terrible Tragedy Occurs at Utopia.

Much has been printed in the papers regarding the awful tragedy that occurred at Utopia Monday night wherein Mrs. Mallell Jones, aged 26, and Jim Calvert, aged 45, are dead and the school building at Utopia destroyed by fire. As near as we can get at the facts, Jim Calvert, who was considered a deaf mute, went to the home of Will E. Jones Monday night. Jones was not at home. Mrs. Jones came to the door in response to the knock and Calvert struck her over the head with a shotgun and while she was on the floor shot her in the body with the same gun. Her five children, the oldest aged ten, were in the house. She lived long enough to tell who had done the deed. A short time after this tragedy the school house of which Calvert was janitor, was fired and burned to the ground. Excitement from this cause evidently delayed help arriving to the stricken woman. Sheriff Matthews was notified and left for Utopia about midnight. He and Jim Calvert, brother of Jim, watched the Calvert home. The doors were locked and not certain if the man wanted were in, so they decided to watch. About daylight they heard a shot in the house. Forcing entrance they found Jim Calvert lying in bed. He had shot himself with a shotgun, evidently the same weapon he had killed Mrs. Jones with. One shot had glanced and torn the flesh on the left side and was not a serious injury. The wounded man, still alive, told them he had fired this shot the night before and had also the watchers heard as fired. Jones drank some iodine. The shot his body just below his breast and caused his death a few hours afterwards. The man gave no reason for his deed.

A young man of Utopia has been placed in jail by the sheriff as it is stated that some writing found in Calvert's possession mentioned his name in connection with Jones. An examining trial will probably be held today.

Jim Calvert had lived at Utopia all his life, his family being among the prominent residents there. He was never considered of a dangerous disposition, willing to joke and be joked. Evidently he had become demented and while in that state committed the deplorable tragedy.—Uvalde Leader-News.

Bank Robber Tried.

Fifteen days from the date of the robbery of the San Antonio National Bank of $19,138, the case of Kenneth Smith, first of six men to be indicted, went to the jury. The jurors retired late Wednesday after a day spent in argument of attorneys in which the prosecution asked the death penalty.

The jury was locked up for the night after four hours' deliberation without a verdict.

Speed marked the progress of the cases from commission of the crime. The bank was robbed at noon March 30. The six men now under indictment were in custody before night and city and county officials began an intensive hunt for evidence. Kenneth Smith, Jack Smith, Otis Yeager, Joe Holbreath, Earl Collins and Elmer Wilkins were held for questioning and later indictments were returned against all. Another man and two women who were held were released.

Indictments were returned April 5, and District Attorney C. M. Chambers asked for an early setting of the cases. On account of the passage of another case set April 12 that date was available and Special Judge O. M. Fitzhugh set the cases down for trial on that date.

The court in order to dispense with the calling of talesmen in case of a small venire being exhausted ordered 750 veniremen summoned. The jury was completed Monday by holding a night session. The State introduced all its evidence Tuesday and a night session was again ordered when the evidence of the defense was completed and both sides closed. The defense offered no testimony except several character witnesses who testified that the reputation of the defendant was good.

found in the defendant's pocket when arrested which it was claimed was a plat of the interior of the bank. This drawing showed the location of a safe, and points of entry to the building were designated. Constable Duke Carver and John Long, investigator for the district attorney, arrested Smith and declared the man fled in an automobile when he saw them. The officers caught him after a chase of several blocks, they said, and placed him under arrest.

A sawed-off shot gun, which officers found in the San Antonio River also played a part in the trial. Jack Smith, a brother to Kenneth, was said to have admitted throwing the gun into the river after he heard of the bank robbery and that sawed-off shot gun had been used by the robbers. Seems as if it would "look bad" if he was found with a gun of that description officers said Jack Smith explained.

Wool and Mohair Specialist.

Frank Grayson, wool and mohair specialist of the Experiment Station, Texas A. & M. College, was in Kerrville and other parts of the county the first of the week on an educational tour in the interests of the wool and mohair growing plant located at College Station.

According to Mr. Grayson, growers may send selective sample fleeces of wool and mohair, to this scouring plant and obtain valuable information for use in building up the standard of their flocks.

In other words, by shipping these fleeces, spring and fall, they may obtain both grade and shrinkage of their wool and mohair.

Several prominent ranchmen were visited by Mr. Grayson, and all were vitally interested in this project. It is hoped that ranchmen of this section generally will take advantage of this opportunity to find out for themselves just how and what extent they can improve their flocks.

The only expense to the grower in this project is for shipping charges on the sample fleeces to College Station, as the wool and mohair is sold at the close of the season and the growers are then paid for the samples sent in according to the grade and quality. The information as to grade and shrinkage is given to the grower immediately after it is graded and scoured.

Mr. Grayson is a practical mill man and has had several years experience both in the mill and as a government wool and mohair grader, and with the equipment on hand at the scouring plant he is in a position to render some real educational service to the sheep and goat men of Texas.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Mr. Grayson spent last Thursday in Bandera and vicinity, and in company with Marcus Thalmann and Frank Mansfield visited quite a number of our ranchmen, who were greatly interested in his plan.

Examination For Postmaster.

To fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster in Bandera, date of vacancy being given as April 3, 1926, the United States Civil Service Commission has announced, at the request of the Postmaster General and in accordance with an order of the President, an open competitive examination. Receipt of applications to close May 12, 1926. Examinations will be held at San Antonio. The date for the assembling of competitors will be stated in the admission cards mailed to applicants after the close of receipt of applications.

To be eligible for the examination, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must reside within the delivery of the post office for which the examination is held, must have resided for at least two years next preceding the examination date, must be in good physical condition, and within the prescribed age limits. Both men and women are admitted.

Under the terms of executive order, the Civil Service Commission will certify to the Postmaster General the names of the highest three qualified eligibles, if as many as three are qualified, and the Postmaster General will select one for nomination by the President. Confirmation by the Senate is the final action.

Applicants will be required to assemble in an examination room for scholastic tests, and will also be rated on their education and business training and experience. The Civil Service Commission will make inquiry among representative local business and professional men and women concerning the experience, character and character of each applicant, and will assign ratings upon the evidence secured and upon the work done in the examination room.

Nothing will be permitted to appear in the evidence upon which ratings are assigned which might even suggest the political affiliation of any candidate.

Applicants must submit to the examiner on the day of the examination their photographs, taken within two years, securely pasted in the space provided on the admission cards sent them after their applications are filed. Tintypes or proofs will not be accepted.

Application Form 2241 and 2223, containing full information as to the requirements to be met and the character of the examination to be given, may be obtained from the postoffice or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington D. C. Applications must be properly executed, showing the examination point at which the applicant desired to be examined, and must be filed with the Commission at Washington prior to the close of business on the date specified in this announcement.

Attention is directed to the fact that so-called civil service correspondence schools have no official status or connection with the government. Authentic information in regard to examination may be obtained from the United States Civil Service Commission or any authorized representative of the Commission, and without cost. Instruction of the Post Office Department to postmasters and postal employees relative to such schools appear in the Postal Bulletin of September 12, 1921, and in the October, 1921 supplement to the Postal Guide.

The Post Office Department will not nominate for appointment as Postmaster of Bandera, or wife of a rural carrier.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained at the postoffice for which the examination is held, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Wizard Burbank Dead.

Acknowledged as the dean of plant breeders and leader in modern creative plant development, the name of Luther Burbank became a household word throughout the civilized world. Virtually his whole life was devoted to scientific plant breeding and many of his more than 1000 experiments with various forms of vegetation attained such marvelous results that they won for him the title of "Plant Wizard."

Early in life Burbank evinced a great love for growing things, selecting plants rather than animals as his pets. His first notable success was achieved at the age of 22, when he happened to find a seed ball of the Early Rose potato which gave barely seed. From this he developed the world-famous Burbank potatoe that has spread to every portion of the globe and which is said to exert a greater influence upon the food supply of humanity than any other single food plant.

Soon after breeding this potato, which brought him neither fame or money at the time, Burbank moved to California, where he obtained employment as a farm hand. He continued as a laborer until able to acquire a small farm, in the town of Santa Rosa, some fifty miles north of San Francisco. With this small beginning he undertook the series of experiments which long had been uppermost in his mind. Thereafter his work was continuous and tireless, occupying nearly fourteen hours a day on the average.

Next to the potato, the accomplishment which brought first fame to Burbank was the spineless cactus, whereby he turned a worthless desert growth into a valuable forage and fruiting plant. In recognition of this work he received in 1912 a United States grant, Congress under special act turning over 7,680 acres of nonirrigable land to be located either in California, Nevada or Arizona.

It has been estimated that Burbank's 10,000 or more experiments with plant life involved the planting, pollentation, observation and propagation or destruction of 1,000,000 individual vegetable growths. From this vast number however, only 385 were selected and recommended by him as of value to humanity, some of these only after his observation for twenty-five years before being given to the world. several fine varieties of spineless blackberry, now grown around the world, were bred from a wild variety that was considered useless in its native state. A certain variety of rhubarb, under Burbank's magic touch, increased its stalks from the size of a lead pencil to that of a man's wrist, and was made perpetual, capable of bearing for a few weeks only. Canners appealed to him for perfect pea, one which would mature all of its crop, regardless of variety of size and all ripen at the same time. After three years of work he met the demand.

Flowers, fruits, grains, grasses, vegetables, even orchard and forest trees were improved and given to the world in new usefulness through months and years of careful and frequently discouraging experiments.

Wonderful as many of Burbank's achievements with vegetable, plant and flower life seem to the layman, the methods by which they were accomplished were not in themselves remarkable. Patience was the chief requisite to his success. Deciding first what he wished to create, remake or improve upon in the vegetable world, he began by carefully selecting robust specimens, allowing them to go to seed, then experimenting with the seeds under widely different conditions of climate, fertilization and nourishment. The product would in turn be submitted to radical changes from its natural elements and the product of this evolution progressed until the final result either met the wizard's requirements or was abandoned as useless.

calla lily only one inch in diameter when full grown. These are but a few of the queer anomalys resulting from the heretofore unheard of liberties he took with nature's vegetation.

Kerr Counties' New Court House.

Kerr County is not only going to have a new court house add jail, as authorized by the bond issue voted last December, but she is going to finance and build same without outside financial assistance, according to action of the Commissioners' Court in their monthly session held in this city Monday.

When sealed bids for the purchase of the $110,000 bonds were opened by the Court it was found that there were seven bidders for the issue. After checking the matter over carefully, the Commissioners sold the bonds to the Chas. Schreiner Bank and First State Bank of this city, whose joint bid on the issue was pay with accruing interest.

Two of the seven bids on the issue were higher than that of the local banks, one offering a premium of $20 on the bonds and the other $50. But when it is considered that the sale to an outside concern would necessitate exchange on each bond as it fell due and interest on daily deposits, it is found that the local bonds is the best. To illustrate, if the issue had went to outside investors, it would have taken possibly two months before the bonds would have been approved and the money paid into the county treasury for same, while in the present instance the entire $110,000 was deposited in the county's name early Tuesday morning.

Kerrville is to be congratulated on having banking institutions of such a sound nature that they can finance an issue of this character.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Frontier Times For May.

The May number of Frontier Times, that growing little monthly magazine published in Bandera by J. Marvin Hunter, was issued from the press last week. It contains: "Early Day Tribes in Central Texas," "Adventures on the Cattle Trail," "Fort Concho in 1870," "Some Recollections of Early Days," "Big Foot Wallace's Fight on the Nueces," "The Old 45 Peacemaker," "Old Amy, the Seminole Squaw," "Mrs. Rebecca J. Fisher," "The Passing of a Pioneer," "The Lee-Peacock Feud," "Black Jack, the Outlaw," "A Journey to Fort Griffin in 1876," "Vindication of Jean Lafitte," "William Greenwood, a Mason Pioneer," "A Train Robbery Prevented," "Origin of the Alamo Inscription."

Each and every one of the above sketches possess rare historical value, and should be read by all school children who are studying Texas history. Frontier Times is steadily growing, regardless of the fact that it is just a plain, homely little magazine, published in a country town of only 700 population. Less than three years ago it was started without a subscriber. We are printing 2,500 copies of the current issue, and every copy which goes out in some way calls the reader's attention to Bandera.

Terrible Tragedy Occurs at Utopia.

Much has been printed in the papers regarding the terrible tragedy that occurred at Utopia Monday night wherein Mrs. Maizell Jones, aged 26, and Jim Calvert, aged 45, are dead and the school building at Utopia destroyed by fire. As near as we can get at the facts, Jim Calvert, who was considered a deaf mute, went to the home of Will E. Jones Monday night. Jones was not at home. Mrs. Jones came to the door in response to the knock and Calvert struck her over the head with a shotgun and while she was on the floor shot her in the body with the same gun. Her five children, the oldest aged ten, were in the house. She lived long enough to tell who had done the deed. A short time after this tragedy the school house of which Calvert was janitor, was fired and burned to the ground. Excitement from this cause evidently delayed help arriving to the stricken woman. Sheriff Matthews was notified and left for Utopia about midnight. He and Lynch Calvert, brother of Jim, watched the Calvert home. The doors were locked and not certain if the man wanted was in the house so to watch. About daylight they heard a shot in the house. Forcing entrance they found Jim Calvert lying in bed. He had shot himself with a shotgun, evidently the same weapon he had killed Mrs. Jones with. One shot had glanced and torn the flesh on the left side and was not a serious injury. The wounded man, still alive, told them he had fired this shot the night before and had also shot watchers heard was fired into drank some iodine. The shot his body just below his breast and caused his death a few hours afterwards. The man gave no reason for his deed.

A young man of Utopia has been placed in jail by the sheriff as it is stated that some writing found in Calvert's possession mentioned his name in connection with Jones. An examining trial will probably be held today.

Jim Calvert had lived at Utopia all his life, his family being among the prominent residents there. He was never considered of a dangerous disposition, willing to joke and be joked. Evidently he had become demented and while in that state committed the deplorable tragedy.—Uvalde Leader-News.

Bank Robber Tried.

Fifteen days from the date of the robbery of the San Antonio National Bank of $19,138, the case of Kenneth Smith, first of six men to be indicted, went to the jury. The jurors retired late Wednesday after a day spent in argument of attorneys in which the prosecution asked the death penalty.

The jury was locked up for the night after four hours' deliberation without a verdict.

Speed marked the progress of the cases from commission of the crime. The bank was robbed at noon March 30. The six men now under indictment were in custody before night and city and county officials began an intensive hunt for evidence. Kenneth Smith, Jack Smith, Otis Yeager, Joe Holbrecht, Earl Collins and Elmer Wilkins were held for questioning and later indictments were returned against all. Another man and two women who were held were released.

Indictments were returned April 5, and District Attorney C. M. Chambers asked for an early setting of the cases. On account of the passage of another case set for April 12 that date was available and Special Judge O. M. Pitzhugh sat the cases down for trial on that date.

The court in order to dispense with the calling of talesmen in case of a small venire being exhausted ordered 750 veniremen summoned. The jury was completed Monday by holding a night session. The State introduced all its evidence Tuesday and a night session was again ordered when the evidence of the defense was completed and both sides closed. The defense offered no testimony except several character witnesses who testified that the reputation of the defendant was good.

With the exception of an identification of Kenneth Smith by T. D. Anderson, cashier of the bank, as one of the robbers, the State depended upon circumstantial evidence. Anderson declared he believed Smith to be the man but would not state that he positively identified him.

The State also depended upon a drawing said to have been found in the defendant's pocket when arrested which it was claimed was a plat of the interior of the bank. This drawing showed the location of a safe, and points of entry to the building were designated. Constable Duke Carver and John Long, investigator for the district attorney, arrested Smith and declared the man fled in an automobile when he saw them. The officers caught him after a chase of several blocks, they said, and placed him under arrest.

A sawed-off shot gun, which officers found in the San Antonio River also played a part in the trial. Jack Smith, a brother to Kenneth, was said to have admitted throwing the gun into the river after in front of the bank robbery and that sawed-off shot guns had been used by the robbers. He was afraid it would "look bad" if he was found with a gun of that description officers said Jack Smith explained.

Wool and Mohair Specialist.

Frank Grayson, wool and mohair specialist of the Experiment Station, Texas A. & M. College, was in Kerrville and other parts of the county the first of the week on an educational tour in the interests of the wool and mohair securing plant located at College Station.

According to Mr. Grayson, growers may send selective sample fleeces of wool and mohair, to this securing plant and obtain valuable information for use in building up the standard of their flocks.

In other words, by shipping these fleeces, spring and fall, they may obtain both grade and shrinkage of their wool and mohair.

Several prominent ranchmen were visited by Mr. Grayson, and all were vitally interested in this project. It is hoped that the ranchmen of this section generally will take advantage of this opportunity to find out for themselves just how and to what extent they can improve their flocks.

The only expense to the grower in this project is the shipping charges on the sample fleeces to College Station, as the wool and mohair is sold at the close of the season and the growers are then paid for the samples sent in, according to the grade and quality. The information as to grade and shrinkage is given to the grower immediately after it is graded and secured.

Mr. Grayson is a practical mill man and has had several years experience both in the mills and as a government wool and mohair grader, and with the equipment at hand at the securing plant he is in a position to render some real educational service to the sheep and goat men of Texas.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Receipt of applications to close May 12, 1926. Examinations will be held at San Antonio. The date for the assembling of competitors will be stated in the admission cards mailed to applicants after the close of receipt of applications.

To be eligible for the examination, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must reside within the delivery of the post office for which the examination is held, must have so resided for at least two years next preceding the examination date, must be in good physical condition, and within the prescribed age limits. Both men and women are admitted.

Under the terms of executive order, the Civil Service Commission will certify to the Postmaster General the names of the highest three qualified eligibles, if as many as three are qualified, and the Postmaster General will select one for nomination by the President. Confirmation by the Senate is the final action.

Applicants will be required to assemble in an examination room for scholastic tests, and will also be rated on their education and training and experience. The Civil Service Commission will make inquiry among representative local business and professional men and women concerning the experience, ability, and character of each applicant, and will assign ratings upon the evidence secured and upon the work done in the examination room.

Nothing will be permitted to appear in the evidence upon which ratings are assigned which might even suggest the political affiliation of any candidate.

Applicants must submit to the examiner on the day of the examination, their photographs, taken within two years, securely pasted in the space provided on the admission cards sent them after their applications are filed. Tintypes or proofs will not be accepted.

Application From 2241 and 2223, containing full information as to the requirements to be met and the character of the examination to be given, may be obtained from the Bandera postoffice or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington D. C. Applications must be properly executed, showing the examination point at which the applicant desires to be examined, and must be filed with the Commission at Washington prior to the close of business on the date specified in this announcement.

Attention is directed to the fact that so-called civil service correspondent schools have no official status or connection with the government. Authentic information in regard to examinations may be secured from the United States Civil Service Commission or any authorized representative of the Commission, and without cost. Instruction of the Post Office Department to postmasters and postal employees relative to such schools appear in the Postal Bulletin of September 12, 1921, and in the October, 1921 supplement to the Postal Guide.

The Post Office Department will not nominate for appointment as Postmaster the husband or wife of a rural carrier.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained at the post office for which the examination is held, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Old Settlers Barbecue.

At a meeting of the Committee of the Old Settlers Reunion held Saturday it was decided to hold their reunion here July 17 and 18, at the Fair Grounds, with Mr. Ed Mansfield of Bandera in charge of all concessions, which is within itself a guarantee that you will be well fed on good barbecue etc., and entertained every minute. Of course there will be dancing, both of the old and new variety. A more complete detail will be given at a later date, but start now to arrange your affairs so as to be able to attend both days. A regular Rodeo will be held each day.—Boerne Star.

Wizard Burbank Dead.

Acknowledged the dean of plant breeders and leader in modern creative plant development, the name of Luther Burbank became a household word throughout the civilized world. Virtually his whole life was devoted to scientific plant breeding and many of his more than 100,000 experiments with various forms of vegetation attained such marvelous results that they won him the title of "Plant Wizard."

Early in life Burbank evinced a great love for growing things, selecting plants rather than animals as his pets. His first notable success was achieved at the age of 22, when he hopped to find a seed ball of the Early Rose potato which rarely bears seed. From this he developed the world-famous Burbank potatoe that has spread to every portion of the globe and which is said to exert a greater influence upon the food supply of humanity than any other single food plant. Soon after breeding this potato, which brought him neither fame or money at the time, Burbank moved to California, where he obtained employment as a farm hand. He continued as a laborer until able to acquire a small farm, in the town of Santa Rosa, some fifty miles north of San Francisco. With this small beginning he undertook the series of experiments which long had been uppermost in his mind. Thereafter his work was continuous and tireless, occupying nearly fourteen hours a day, on the average.

Next to the potato, the accomplishment which brought first fame to Burbank was the spineless cactus, whereby he turned a worthless desert growth into a valuable forage and fruiting plant. In recognition of this work he received in 1912 a United States grant, Congress under special act turning over 7,680 acres of nonirrigable land to be located either in California, Nevada or Arizona.

It has been estimated that Burbank's 100,000 or more experiments with plant life involved the planting, pollentation, observation and propagation or destruction of 1,000,000,000 individual vegetable growths.

From this vast number however, only 385 were selected and recommended by him as of value to humanity. Some of these were under his observation for twenty-five years before being given to the world.

Several fine varieties of spineless blackberry, now grown around the world, were bred from a wild variety that was considered useless in its native state. A certain variety of rhubarb, under Burbank's magic touch, increased its stalks from the size of a lead pencil to that of a man's wrist, and was made perpetual instead of bearing for a few weeks only. Canners appealed to him for perfect pea, one which would mature all of its crop, retain uniformity of size and all ripen at the same time. After three years of work he met the demand.

Flowers, fruits, grains, grasses, vegetables, even orchard and forest trees were improved and given to the world in new usefulness through months and years of patient and frequently discouraging experiments.

Wonderful as many of Burbank's achievements with vegetable, plant and flower life seem to the layman, the methods by which they were accomplished were not in themselves remarkable. Patience was the chief requisite to his success. Deciding first what he wished to create, remake or improve upon in the vegetable world, he began by carefully selecting robust specimens, allowing them to go to seed, then experimenting with the seeds under widely different conditions of climate, fertilization and nourishment. The product would in turn be submitted to radical changes from its natural elements and the product of this would undergo further experimentation and so the artificial evolution progressed until the final result either met the wizard's requirements or was abandoned as useless.

When experiments with seeds alone were not entirely satisfactorily, grafting upon the seeds or upon fresh young shoots often was employed. It was through a combination of these methods, fortified by his inexhaustable patience, that enabled Burbank to impart delightful odors to naturally illsmelling flowers; to grow gigantic plants from dwarf varieties, and to produce a perfect calla lily only one inch in diameter when full grown. These are but a few of the queer anomalys resulting from the heretofore unheard of liberties he took with nature's vegetation.

Kerr County's New Court House.

Kerr County is not only going to have a new court house add jail, as authorized by the bond issue voted last December, but she is going to finance and build same without outside financial assistance, according to action of the Commissioners' Court in their monthly session held in this city Monday.

When sealed bids for the purchase of the $110,000 bond issue were opened by the Court it was found that there were seven bidders for the issue. After checking the matter over carefully, the Commissioners sold the bonds to the Chas. Schreiner Bank and First State Bank of this city, whose joint bid on the issue was pay with accruing interest.

Two of the seven bids on the issue were higher than that of the local banks, one offering a premium of $20 on the bonds and the other $50. But when it is considered that the sale to an outside concern would necessitate exchange on each bond as it fell due and interest on daily deposits, it is found that the local bonds is the best. To illustrate, if the issue had went to outside investors, it would have taken possibly two months before the bonds would have been approved and the money paid into the county treasury for same, while in the present instance the entire $110,000 was deposited in the county's name early Tuesday morning.

Kerrville is to be congratulated on having banking institutions of such a sound nature that they can advance an issue of this character.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

BANDERA MOHAIR SELLS AT A FANCY PRICE.

Spring Clip Brings 62c per Pound for Grown Hair and 82c per Pound for Kid Hair.

The spring accumulation of mohair in the Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers Association Warehouse, amounting to approximately 100,000 pounds, was shipped out Monday, the accumulation having been sold several weeks ago to C. D. Stiles of Lampasas, representing Winslow & Co. of Boston.

This is probably the best price that has been paid for mohair this season, and for several years. Our gentmen are rejoicing over the handsome deal. The mohair was better in every way this spring, which is encouraging. Due to the fact that most of the goat ranchers have been breeding up their stock during the past several years the quality of the product is rated as among the best markets.

Closely following upon the disposal of the mohair clip will come the spring wool clip, which will amount to more than 150,000 pounds. Sheep shearing is now under way and the wool is being brought to the big warehouse for storage. While indications are that wool prices will be lower this season, is it expected that the quantity and quality of the Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association is to be congratulated on the splendid sale made.

The Cemetery Association has let the contract for the cleaning and repairing of the cemetery, and the work is now being done.

Forging to the Front

Every man in business wants to be successful. It is necessary, imperative, that he should; for unless he is, both he and community lose.

Preparing for Unveiling

The monument to the Bandera county soldier boys who lost their lives in the World War, will arrive in a few days and will be placed in the public square near the court house. The committee in charge is now arranging for appropriate unveiling ceremonies the exact date of which will be announced later. It is intended to make the ceremonies impressively patriotic, and business firms of the town are requested to decorate their places of business with the national colors. The American Legion Post of Boerne has kindly consented to participate in the ceremonies, and will send a firing squad. Fort Sam Houston will also send representatives, public speakers will also be on hand, and fitting tributes will be paid to our noble boys who made the supreme sacrifice for American ideals and liberty. Quite a number of the business firms of Bandera have purchased large American flags for the occasion.

The Monument Committee has sold nine dozen flags to the different business firms of Bandera, the profit made on the sale of the flags to be used in the purchase of a large flag and pole for the court house square. The Committee will also sell poppies, a few days previous to the unveiling ceremonies, the proceeds of which will go into the general expense fund.

Spring Mohair Nets Over $700,000

The first of this week the last year of the present accumulation of the spring clip of mohair was shipped by the Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company, making a total of 25 cars loaded out of Kerrville since April 1st, between one and two carloads are yet to be shipped, which will be done as soon as same is brought in by the growers.

Including the mohair already shipped and that contracted but not to be brought in, the spring clip in this section of the State amounts to over 1,100,000 pounds. This is the best spring clip this country has ever known, the goats shearing more per head than ever before and all of the fleece of the finest quality.

The Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company has handled this entire 1,100,000 pounds of mohair to J. M. Lea, representing Lea & Company of Boston. At their first sale, early in the last part of March, they obtained 61 cents for the grown and 75 cents for the kid mohair, while the last sale brought 63½ and 80 cents for the kid.

As a result of this mohair industry $700,000 or more will have been turned loose in Kerrville's trade territory, that being the amount the mohair brought.

If the sheep shear out as well as the goats did, the wool accumulated at the warehouse in this city

"Those Husbands of Ours."

That highly interesting play, "Those Husbands of Ours," scheduled to be presented at the High School Auditorium by the Parent-Teachers' Association, has been postponed until Saturday night, May 8th. Admission 20c and 35c. The play is one of the most interesting you have ever seen, and will have some very pleasing surprises for those who attend. Following is the cast of characters:

Mrs. Jones—Mrs. J. E. Chisum.
Mrs. Smith—Mrs. Frank Langford.
Mrs. Brown—Mrs. E. Hicks.
Mrs. Shaw—Mrs. L. L. McDonald.

Mrs. Green—Mrs. A. L. Mansfield.

An outline of the play reveals that ceratin husbands send their wives away on a vacation, promising to keep everything in good order and to properly behave themselves while their wives were absent. There was much indignation when these good women came home and found everything in disorder, dishes unwashed, beds not made up, and the floor littered with all sorts of trash. Never again will they go off on a vacation trip and leave hubby to take care of things.

Violin solos will be rendered by Misses Jennette Hunter and Gladia Croisdale, and Miss Selma Grace Mansfield will give a reading, "An Essay on Husbands."

This play is being given for the benefit of the school. Don't forget the date, Saturday night, May 8th.

He was accompanied to Kerrville by his father, C. W. Bush, Dr. Butler and Arthur Pue.

Mrs. Amanda Gordon.

Mrs. Amanda J. Gordon, a highly respected and esteemed resident of the Creek community, died last Monday at the home of her son, Allen Gordon, after an illness of several weeks. The funeral was conducted at the Meanies cemetery on Tuesday by J. E. Browning and Father Buckelew. Deceased was born February 28, 1856, and spent most of her life in Bandera county. In 1881 she was married to J. T. Hill, and to this union three children were born, two of whom are living, Bud Hill of Rocky Creek, Mrs. Verna Buckelew of Port Arthur. Mr. Hill died in July, 1888. In 1891 she was married to R. G. Gordon, and three children were born to this marriage, being Allen Gordon of Rocky Creek, Mrs. Verna Buckelew of Eola, and Mrs. Sam Slaughter of San Antonio. Besides raising her own children to occupy places of usefulness Mrs. Gordon raised three orphan grandchildren. All the children and grandchildren were present at the funeral. One brother and two sisters also survive, being Bud Hough, Mrs. George Parker and Mrs. Jim Chamberlain, all of Bluff. She was a life-long member of the Church of Christ, and faithfully served her Master to the very daily walk. For her there is a crown of righteousness, the reward of those who love and serve Him. Hers was the Christian character of unusual beauty and perfection. She was a blessing to all the people around her, ministering to the needs of the needy, and sharing in the joys and sorrows of everyone with an understanding sympathy. To the bereaved children we extend condolence.

BANDERA MOHAIR SELLS AT A FANCY PRICE.

Spring Clip Brings 62c per Pound for Grown Hair and 82c per Pound for Kid Hair.

The spring accumulation of mohair in the Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association Warehouse, amounting to approximately 100,000 pounds, was shipped out Monday, the accumulation having been sold several weeks ago to C. D. Stokes of Lampasas, representing Winslow & Co. of Boston.

This is probably the best price that has been paid for mohair this season, and for several years. Our goatmen are rejoicing over the handsome deal. The mohair was better in every way this spring, which is encouraging. Due to the fact that most of the goat men have been breeding up their stock during the past several years the quality of the product is rated as among the best marketed.

Closely following upon the disposal of the mohair clip will come the spring wool clip, which will amount to more than 150,000 pounds. While indications are that wool prices will be lower this season, is it expected that the quantity and quality of the Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association is to be congratulated on the splendid sale made.

The Cemetery Association has let the contract for the cleaning and repairing of the cemetery, and the work is now being done.

Spring Mohair Nets Over $700,000

The first of this week the last car of the present accumulation of the spring clip of mohair was shipped by the Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company, making a total of 25 cars loaded out of Kerrville this spring. Between one and two carloads are yet to be shipped, which will be done as soon as same is brought in by the growers.

Including the mohair already shipped and that contracted but yet to be brought in, the spring clip in this section of the State amounts to over 1,100,000 pounds. This is the best spring clip this country has ever known, the goats shearing more per head than ever before and all of the fleece of the finest quality.

The Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company has sold this entire 1,100,000 pounds of mohair to J. M. Lea, representing Draper & Company of Boston. At their first sale, held the latter part of March, they obtained 61 cents for the grown and 75 cents for the kid mohair, while the last sale brought 63½ cents for the grown and 80 cents for the kid.

As a result of this mohair industry $700,000 is turned loose in Kerrville's trade territory that being the amount the mohair brought.

The spring clip of wool is now being brought in by the ranchmen, and it is estimated that the weight of this will exceed that of all previous spring clips. Last spring the wool accumulations at the Schreiner warehouse amounted to over 2,000,000 pounds.

If the sheep shear out as well as the goats did, the wool accumulated at the warehouse in this city will be considerably larger than that of the proceeding year. Close students of the wool situation are predicting that the fleece will not command as good a price this spring as it did last year, but they also state that the difference will be more than made up in the amount of fleece grown by each animal.

Range conditions were exceptionally good all over the Hill Country the past winter, and very little feeding was necessary to bring the sheep and goats through in excellent shape. With the prospects for the coming summer that this country now has the sheep and goats will net their owners a handsome profit on the fall clips also.

With the cattle business coming back into its own after a slump of several years, and with truck, dairy and poultry, industries each bringing in handsome dividends, the Hill Country of Texas is bound to have one of the best years in the history of the country.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Closely following upon the disposal of the mohair clip will come the spring wool clip, which will amount to more than 150,000 pounds. Sheep shearing is now under way and the wool is being brought to the big warehouse for storage. While indications are that wool prices will be lower this season, is expected that the quantity and quality of the Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association is to be congratulated on the splendid sale made.

The Cemetery Association has let the contract for the cleaning and repairing of the cemetery, and the work is now being done.

Spring Mohair Nets Over $700,000

The first of this week the last car of the present accumulation of the spring-clip of mohair was shipped by the Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company, making a total of 25 cars loaded out of Kerrville this spring. Between one and two carloads are yet to be shipped, which will be done as soon as same is brought in by the growers.

Including the mohair already shipped and that contracted but yet to be brought in, the spring clip in this section of the State amounts to over 1,100,000 pounds. This is the best spring clip this country has ever known, the pounds sheering per head than ever before and all of the fleece of the finest quality.

The Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company sold this entire 1,100,000 pounds of mohair to J. M. Lea, representing Draper & Company of Boston. At their first sale, held the latter part of March, they obtained 61 cents for the grown and 75 cents for the kid mohair, while the last sale brought 62½ cents for the grown and 80 cents for the kid.

As a result of this mohair industry $700,000 is turned loose in Kerrville's trade territory that being the amount the mohair brought.

The spring clip of wool is now being brought in by the ranchmen, and it is estimated that the weight of this will exceed that of all previous spring clips. Last spring the wool accumulations at the Schreiner warehouse amounted to over 2,000,000 pounds.

If the sheep shear out as well as the goats did, the wool accumulated at the warehouse in this city will be considerably larger than that of the preceeding year. Close students of the wool situation are predicting that the fleece will not command as good a price this spring as it did last year, but they also state that the difference will be more than made up in the amount of fleece grown by each animal.

Range conditions were exceptionally good all over the Hill Country the past winter, and very little feeding was necessary to bring the sheep and goats through in excellent shape. With the prospects for the coming summer that this country now has the sheep and goats will net their owners a handsome profit on the fall clips also.

With the cattle business coming back into its own after a slump of several years, and with truck, dairy and poultry industries rapidly bringing in handsome dividends, the Hill Country of Texas is bound to have one of the best years in the history of the country.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Forging to the Front

Every man in business wants to be successful. It is necessary, imperative, that he should; for unless he is, both he and community lose.

Character, ability and industry have an important bearing on success; so has the prestige accorded by one's bank associations.

Preparing for Unveiling

The monument to the Bandera county soldier boys who lost their lives in the World War, will arrive in a few days and will be placed in the public square near the court house. The committee in charge is now arranging for appropriate unveiling ceremonies the exact date of which will be announced later. It is intended to make the ceremonies impressively patriotic, and the business firms of the town are requested to decorate their places of business with the national colors. The American Legion Post of Bocrne has kindly consented to participate in the ceremonies, and will send a firing squad. Fort Sam Houston will also send representatives, public speakers will also be on hand, and fitting tributes will be paid to our noble boys who made the supreme sacrifice for American ideals and liberty.

Quite a number of the business firms of Bandera have purchased large American flags for the occasion.

The Monument Committee has sold nine American flags to the different business firms of Bandera, the profit made on the sale of the flags to be used in the purchase of a large flag and pole for the court house square. The Committee will also sell poppies, a few days previous to the unveiling ceremonies, the proceeds of which will go into the general expense fund.

Your Bank Can Help

Why is it that some individuals and firms can readily obtain money from a bank on unsecured notes while others cannot obtain loans at all—except, perhaps, by pledging ample collateral security?

The people who are able to borrow, save consistently, invest wisely and take their banker into confidence, and thereby quickly establish a credit rating with the bank.

"Those Husbands of Ours."

That highly interesting play, "Those Husbands of Ours," scheduled to be presented at the High School Auditorium by the Parent-Teachers' Association, has been postponed until Saturday night, May 8th. Admission 20c and 35c. The play is one of the most interesting you have ever seen, and will have some very pleasing surprises for those who attend. Following is the cast of characters:

Mrs. Lane—Mrs. J. E. Chisum.
Mrs. Smith—Mrs. Frank Langford.
Mrs. Brown—Mrs. E. Hicks.
Mrs. Shaw—Mrs. L. L. McDonald.
Mrs. White—Mrs. J. H. Erwin.
Mrs. Green—Mrs. A. L. Mansfield.
Mrs. Black—Mrs. Orville Surber.

An outline of the play reveals that ceratin husbands sent their wives away on a vacation, promising to keep everything in good order and to properly behave themselves while there wives were absent. There was much indignation when these good women came home and found everything in disorder, dishes unwashed, beds not made up, and the floor littered with all sorts of trash. Never again will they go off on a vacation trip and leave hubby to take care of things.

Violin solos will be rendered by Miss Jeanette Hunter and Gladia Croisdale, and Miss Selma Grace Mansfield will give a reading, "An Essay on Husbands." This play is being given for the benefit of the school. Don't forget the date, Saturday night, May 8th.

Commencement Exercises.

Preparations are being made for the exercises of Bandera High School, which are to take place next month. The commencement sermon is to be preached at the High School Auditorium on Sunday, May 16th, at 11 a. m., by Rev. R. N. Hicks. The exercises by the Primary and Intermediate department will be held on Tuesday evening, May 18th. The Commencement exercises will take place on Friday evening, May 21. Class address by J. Marvin Hunter. Presentation of business scholarship by L. L. McDonald. Presentation of diplomas by Judge J. A. Eames. The graduates this term are Harold Mansfield, Forrest Irving, Claude Fletcher, Carl Freeman, Evelyn Mansfield, Lora Thallman and Harold Wagner. We understand Miss Fuller will give two recitals in musical program, but we have not learned exact date of these programs.

Mrs. Amanda Gordon.

Mrs. Amanda J. Gordon, a highly respected and esteemed resident of the Rocky Creek community, died last Monday at the home of her son, Allen Gordon, after an illness of several weeks. The funeral was conducted at the Means cemetery on Tuesday by J. E. Browning and F. M. Buckelew. Mrs. Gordon was born February 28, 1866, and spent most of her life in Bandera county. In 1881 she was married to J. T. Hill, and to this union three children were born, two of whom are living, Bud Hill of Rocky Creek, Mrs. Verna Buck, of Port Arthur. Mr. Hill died in July, 1889. In 1891 she was married to R. G. Gordon, and three children were born to this marriage, being Allen Gordon of Rocky Creek, Mrs. Verna Buckelew of Eola, and Mrs. Sam Slaughter of San Antonio. Besides these she leaves her own children to occupy places of usefulness Mrs. Gordon raised three orphan grandchildren. All the children and grandchildren were present at the funeral. One brother and two sisters also survive, being Bud Hough, Mrs. George Barker and Mrs. Chamberlain, all of Bluff. She was a life-long member of the Church of Christ, and faithfully served her Master for nearly daily walk. For her there is a crown of righteousness, the reward of those who love and serve Him. Hers was a Christian character of unusual beauty and perfection. She was a blessing to all the people around her, ministering to the needs of the needy, and sharing in the joys and sorrows of everyone with an understanding sympathy. To the bereaved children we extend condolence.

Our Birthday Today.

Today the New Era enters upon the seventh month of its existence under the present name. The little old home paper is the successor of the old Bandera Enterprise which was established in 1880—forty-six years ago. For almost a half century the old home paper has been carrying its message of good cheer into the homes of Bandera county people, and we hope it will be doing the same thing fifty years hence.

Undergoes An Operation.

Carl Bush, of Laxson's Creek, underwent an operation for appendicitis at a hospital in Kerrville last Sunday morning, and is making good recovery, which will be pleasing news to his many friends, and we hope he will soon be fully restored. He was accompanied to Kerrville by his father, C. W. Bush, Dr. Butler and Arthur Pue.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

No Sherman anti-trust law ever will be invoked to break up a combine of loyal, forward-looking, clear-minded men and women co-operating to put their town on the map and keep it there.

Damage to the Bandera-San Antonio Highway by the floods of last week was slight. The road-bed being washed out in only a few places. The San Geronimo and Helotes Creeks were higher than for forty years. Fields along the route were badly washed in places.

The New Era editor, wife and daughter, Miss Rachel Hunter, and our cousin, Miss Will E. Hunter of San Antonio, attended the banquet given the editors of Southwest Texas at the Menger Hotel in San Antonio last Friday night by the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce and the San Jacinto Fiesta Association. We fully enjoyed the banquet, and had the pleasure of meeting there S. D. Chestnut of the Kenedy Advance, Mr. and Mrs. Bridges of the Seguin Gazette, and Mrs. Merl of the Dilley Herald, H. P. Hornby of the Uvalde Leader-News, Sam Fore of the Floresville Chronicle-Journal, Mr. and Mrs. Tufts of the Lancaster Herald, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Suiter of the Kerrville Mountain Sun, and others of the fourth estate. After the banquet the editors and their wives were guests of the Palace Theater management at a theater party. Fred Henderson, Tom Ethridge, C. C. Wolfe and Ed Kifer of the Chamber of Commerce and Jack Kelly of the Fiesta Association were in charge of the arrangements and made the editors feel that it was good to be there. Only the together has been made an annual event and will take place again during the next Fiesta.

We have been off on a jaunt. If the New Era does not come up to its standard of excellence this week that is one of the reasons. The editor in company with his wife and daughter, Miss Rachel, and MissAbley Stevens went to San Antonio last Friday. That night after the editors' banquet, Rachel and the writer went over to Southton to attend the meeting of the Texas Folk-Lore Society, and we did not get home until Monday afternoon. We had a wonderful time. At each session of day we were guests at luncheon of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Dobie at their delightful home in that city. In the afternoon (Sunday) the Folk-Lore Society held a most interesting session, followed by a subscription supper at the University Cafeteria. After supper a good program was rendered in the University Y. M. C. A. auditorium, at which time Elmo Scott Watenon and Jim Bob Tinsley of Bandera rendered old time fiddling and gave some old time cowboy songs. The hall was packed to its seating capacity, and when several couples appeared on the stage and danced the old time square dances to the music furnished by the Bandera boys, the crowd loudly cheered and all seemed to enjoy the occasion very much. Sunday noon the editor party was the guest of Dean T. U. Taylor of the engineering department of the University at lunch, while Rachel was the guest of Misses Mattie Mae and Ethel Maude Newcomer, two ambitious Medina girls who are attending the University. We enjoyed every minute of the time we spent in Austin, and we hope to go again before a great while.

"There is a Reason"

The Banditti.

Brownwood Bulletin: "Week-end" robberies and burglaries are becoming quite common and apparently popular diversions in Texas. The fact that in many instances women have been taking prominent part in the week-end parties makes them partake somewhat of the nature of social functions.

The robbers do their robbing in order to live without working and in society of women whose morals are on a par with those of their robber friends. Liquor and ladies are the bandit's main attractions. He likes to pose before his dulcinea as a gent of courage and skill, and he is liberal in dividing with the fair one who for the moment strikes his fancy. But he is nomadic in residence. After one or two jobs in one community he moves on to another, and seldom cares to incumber himself with the charmer whose charms have become too familiar. Usually he has professional friends, and they and their charmers form a sort of social group. That is the life that makes a bandit be a bandit. But it is nearly always his undoing. For the police are wise to the ways of the underworld, and through the lips of a discarded favorite often come words of direction that lead to clues and captures. The bandit doesn't benefit long. He spends a good deal of time in jail, sometimes nursing wounds, always seeing the penitentiary in his dreams. It is a life of hardship, for all his social evenings with birds of his own feather. Many robberies are committed by robbers who simply need money for those who live on them, by blackmail or somehow else, and after one falls easy into the toils of the law he is hardworked thereafter to keep his necessary expenses paid. No robber gets rich, because every haul, large or small, entails unexpected expenses. Gerald Chapman, the bean ideal of all the lesser bandits, had $4,500 left when him last series of trials began. Yet he was the most successful of all the robber tribe. He was in on big hauls, but he died without a dollar and in debt to his lawyers. He was not a smart man, as edged. He was a fool. All bandits are fools. If they weren't fools they wouldn't be bandits.—Dallas News.

Mix a little cooperation with unselfishness, sweeten it with civic pride, throw in a dash of common sense, stir it with leadership, roll it in persistency, flavor it with optimism, bake it with enthusiasm, and the result is community success. Community spirit can make anything happen within the realm of community possibility. It is its own force. Once you get a fellow inoculated with it, you have transformed a passive or potential liability into a civic asset. It is what the University Cafeteria affair supplies per a good program was rendered in the University Y. M. C. A. auditorium, at which time Elmo Scott Newcomer and Jim Bob Tinsley of Bandera rendered old time fiddling and gave some old time cowboy songs. The hall was packed to its seating capacity, and when several couples appeared on the stage and danced the old time square dances to the music furnished by the Bandera boys, the crowd loudly cheered and all seemed to enjoy the occasion very much. Logsdon is defendant, said petition alleging that plaintiff was lawfully married to defendant on or about the 21st day of September, A. D. 1921, at Tulsa, Tulsa County, Okla., that they continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about the 15th day of December A. D. 1924, when, by reason of excesses, cruel treatment and outrages of defendant towards plaintiff such as to render their living together insupportable, she was forced and compelled to permanently abandon him, which they have ever since and have not lived together as husband and wife. Neighborhoods grow into villages, villages into towns, and towns into cities as a result of cooperation, which means people working together for a common purpose. Lower Manhattan, that part of New York City where Wall Street deals its fabulous wealth, was laid out by cows tramping paths across the field. Cooperation has built there the most magnificent skyline of brick and stone and steel that the world affords. In the last five years Miami Beach has jumped from a population of 600 into 40 figures. Circumstances you say, is the answer. But without cooperation riding on the crest of the wave, no community could gather its forces and capital and on its resources in a manner as to multiply at such enormous rates. A few decades ago Los Angeles was a small Mexican pueblo whose principal industry was hides, whose harbor was dreaded by sailors, and whose hills were bald and humming birds created a drowsy atmosphere for any one appointed godless who dared to predict its glorious future. These are but illustrations. Big cities are taken because they afford examples of cooperation in a big way. They were all small once. Cooperation built them all!

BOTH PHONES BANDERA, TEXAS

A Perilous Ride.

From Range and Field.

Once upon a time a young cowboy of 24 years, with $25,000 in gold stowed away in a money belt around his waist, set out from San Antonio for a horseback ride of more than 100 miles, and he set out believing that a small group of semi-bandits would be patrolling the roads along which he would travel, doing said patroling with the intent of depriving him of his guerdon.

This occurred about April 1, 1873. The ride began at nightfall, and the young rider—lightly built, five-foot, five-inches, 120 pounds—rode out of the small town that San Antonio then was, by a circuitous route, before leading into a byroad leading in the general direction of Fort Mason. He would take the highway to Fort Mason, his destination, for along that road he believed there was danger for him. Possibly there was danger along the byways, also, but the chance had to be taken.

The young man was a cattle buyer, and he was taking the gold to Fort Mason, where now stands the city of Mason. With the gold he was to pay for a string of cattle which had been contracted for in February preceeding, and for which a goodly sum of money had been put up as a forfeit. Since the young man, and a brother operating with him had contacted for the cattle, prices had advanced approximately $10 per head, as the buyers stood to make a splendid profit on the speculation—if the rider ever got to Fort Mason with the money to pay for the cattle.

One half of the money the young man was carrying was borrowed. If that money was not received from his possesion never to return, the lad and his brother were automatically bankrupt. Likewise, they would lose their chance to make the "killing" that was their right on their speculation, by reason of not being able to get possession of the cattle at the contract price and sell them at the market price to which they had ascended. Added to these perils was the fact that the young rider felt quite certain an attempt would be made to rob him enroute, one may perceive that the youth had a task that sat heavily upon him.

The lone cowboy that rode all night to the northwest of San Antonio, guiding his course by the stars and being assisted by moon light to find the unfrequented paths and roads, lived 300 miles north of the Alamo city, and was the son of Jess Jim Palo Pinto county. His name was Willie Slaughter, in later life to accumulate a fine, useful fifth and one half. Col. W. B. Slaughetr of San Antonio, where he now lives. He was born to the cattle ranges, and twice already had driven cattle up the trail to Kansas markets. The brother operating with him was J. B., four years older.

Letters of introduction and bank checks were familiar in those days as now, and you may at this point begin to wonder why this riding through the night with $25,000 in gold. Here is the story. When the Slaughter brothers appeared in the Fort Mason country on a mission for the cattle for which they had contracted two months previously, the sellers of the cattle were soliciting to avoid delivery, for they can would themselves market the cattle for the higher price to which the market had ascended. By evading delivery, the holders of the cattle could sell in the market at a profit of $15,000 on the string of approximately 1,500 cattle. "Why not evade," they said to each other?

The Slaughter brothers had contracted for the cattle at $16 per head, and were the sellers to had put them up to $28. The owners would evade delivery if there was a chance. "Many men have made fortunes by such tactics, and, despite the maxims in the copy books, have lived to ripe old ages and enjoyed good health in the meantime. The young buyers were flushed with success. Had they not played in luck? Was it not a good year? Of course, the price of cattle might drop before the boys got them to the markets to the north, but things looked safe. Accordingly they were jubilant.

"We are ready to receive the cattle," they said. "Let's see the money," said the men who were weeping inwardly at the thought of the $10 the head they might have made by having not contracted their cattle for sale too soon. The Slaughters took the sellers before the lone banker of Fort Mason and showed him a letter of credit on a Dallas bank for $50,000. But the Mason banker had only a few hundreds of cash. "Nothing but cash," said the men who fain would themselves rather pocket the $10 than see it go to others from North Texas. "Boys," the Fort Mason banker, a man named Rauck, advised his neighbors, when he read over the contract written, contract between the Slaughter brothers and the Masonites, "I don't see how you can get out of this contract in this way. If I were you in this bank'er give you paper on San Antonio where you can get the cash." But the obstinate ones refused to budge. "Refused to budge is not an original expression.)

Thereupon followed a parley of the Slaughters and the Mason banker. Then the parties who owned the cattle would ride to San Antonio, get the cash, and return to claim delivery of the cattle. When the young man reached San Antonio he went to a banker who was destined to become an outstanding figure in the financial and philanthropic life of the city for whom one of the city's high schools and its most beautiful famous park were to be named. The banker was the late Col. Geo. W. Brackenridge. The young man presented his letter of credit and explained the situation at Ft. Mason. Col. Brackenridge at once set relief measures in motion. He produced the $50,000 in gold, and directed the youth where to go to make a purchase of the best type of money belt, and personally assisted in placing the gold pieces, of $10 and $20 denominations, in the belt.

Also, Col. Brackenridge directed young Slaughter to the horse markets and to where he could buy a saddle. Then he sat down and gave the young man detailed instructions about the by-roads and trails leading out of San Antonio and across the country in the direction which the young man would travel.

The young man rode into San Antonio from Fort Mason on the stage that ran to and fro between San Antonio and San Angelo in those days, but he rode out of San Antonio on a humpbacked, unpretentious mustang pony that cost him $15, using a dilapidated saddle that cost him $5. And he headed for a certain ranch on the headwaters of the Llano river.

Though the young man expected certain gentlemen to waylay him somewhere on the road for the kindly purpose of depriving him of his gold, he did not expect the waylayers to find him on the highway! As far as he was concerned, the gentlemen of the highway and the roads acquiring coin, might have their vigil along the roadside all night! There was a great lot of territory to cover on the highway, and the young man proposed to traverse that territory! And he did. Still, it may as well be remarked that the youth who fain would relieve him on his weary load—the gold weighed 304 pounds—were men who knew every cow-trail and deer-crossing in the country and might well be supposed to have sense enough to deploy right and left! Those days when a dollar was really worth something, quite a number of fellows might well afford to divide $25,000 among themselves. We shall see.

Meanwhile the brother left at Fort Mason was not occupying a position any too pleasant. For one thing, he heard rumors that certain gentry of the country side planned to hold up the stage on its return with the youngster's money. Also, they would maintain a sort of blockade, to see that the young man did not in any other wise enter town with our first being considerably molested.

The young man carrying the coin had picked a tough and wiry cayuse, and the lack of fine appearance was the thing he lacked immensely. His beard grew while he was coming down in the stage coach, and it grew some on the trail to Kansas markets.

Letters of introduction and bank checks were familiar in those days as now, and you may at this point begin to wonder why this riding through the night with $25,000 in gold. Here is the story. When the Slaughter brothers appeared in the Fort Mason country on a mission for the cattle for which they had contracted two months previously, the sellers of the cattle were soliciting to avoid delivery, for they can would themselves market the cattle for the higher price to which the market had ascended. By evading delivery, the holders of the cattle could sell in the market at a profit of $15,000 on the string of approximately 1,500 cattle. "Why not evade," they said to each other?

The Slaughter brothers had contracted for the cattle at $16 per head, and were the sellers to had put them up to $28. The owners would evade delivery if there was a chance. "Many men have made fortunes by such tactics, and, despite the maxims in the copy books, have lived to ripe old ages and enjoyed good health in the meantime. The young buyers were flushed with success. Had they not played in luck? Was it not a good year? Of course, the price of cattle might drop before the boys got them to the markets to the north, but things looked safe. Accordingly they were jubilant.

"We are ready to receive the cattle," they said. "Let's see the money," said the men who were weeping inwardly at the thought of the $10 the head they might have made by having not contracted their cattle for sale too soon. The Slaughters took the sellers before the lone banker of Fort Mason and showed him a letter of credit on a Dallas bank for $50,000. But the Mason banker had only a few hundreds of cash. "Nothing but cash," said the men who fain would themselves rather pocket the $10 than see it go to others from North Texas. "Boys," the Fort Mason banker, a man named Rauck, advised his neighbors, when he read over the contract written, contract between the Slaughter brothers and the Masonites, "I don't see how you can get out of this contract in this way. If I were you in this bank'er give you paper on San Antonio where you can get the cash." But the obstinate ones refused to budge. "Refused to budge is not an original expression.)

Thereupon followed a parley of the Slaughters and the Mason banker. Then the parties who owned the cattle would ride to San Antonio, get the cash, and return to claim delivery of the cattle. When the young man reached San Antonio he went to a banker who was destined to become an outstanding figure in the financial and philanthropic life of the city for whom one of the city's high schools and its most beautiful famous park were to be named. The banker was the late Col. Geo. W. Brackenridge. The young man presented his letter of credit and explained the situation at Ft. Mason. Col. Brackenridge at once set relief measures in motion. He produced the $50,000 in gold, and directed the youth where to go to make a purchase of the best type of money belt, and personally assisted in placing the gold pieces, of $10 and $20 denominations, in the belt.

Also, Col. Brackenridge directed young Slaughter to the horse markets and to where he could buy a saddle. Then he sat down and gave the young man detailed instructions about the by-roads and trails leading out of San Antonio and across the country in the direction which the young man would travel.

The young man rode into San Antonio from Fort Mason on the stage that ran to and fro between San Antonio and San Angelo in those days, but he rode out of San Antonio on a humpbacked, unpretentious mustang pony that cost him $15, using a dilapidated saddle that cost him $5. And he headed for a certain ranch on the headwaters of the Llano river.

Though the young man expected certain gentlemen to waylay him somewhere on the road for the kindly purpose of depriving him of his gold, he did not expect the waylayers to find him on the highway! As far as he was concerned, the gentlemen of the highway and the roads acquiring coin, might have their vigil along the roadside all night! There was a great lot of territory to cover on the highway, and the young man proposed to traverse that territory! And he did. Still, it may as well be remarked that the youth who fain would relieve him on his weary load—the gold weighed 304 pounds—were men who knew every cow-trail and deer-crossing in the country and might well be supposed to have sense enough to deploy right and left! Those days when a dollar was really worth something, quite a number of fellows might well afford to divide $25,000 among themselves. We shall see.

Meanwhile the brother left at Fort Mason was not occupying a position any too pleasant. For one thing, he heard rumors that certain gentry of the country side planned to hold up the stage on its return with the youngster's money. Also, they would maintain a sort of blockade, to see that the young man did not in any other wise enter town with our first being considerably molested.

The young man carrying the coin had picked a tough and wiry cayuse, and the lack of fine appearance was the thing he lacked immensely. His beard grew while he was coming down in the stage coach, and it grew some on the trail to Kansas markets.

Ickabarg.

Ickabarg were left several miles to the east as he journeyed through the first night the next rode safely, and at the same time the brother left at Fort Mason slumbered none. He was taking no sort of a chance. At daylight Willie Slaughter rode his horse into a secluded glade, where he staked it out to graze on the luxuriant grass, and then went a hundred yards into a dense thicket where he slept until three p. m. Cautiously he went out, watered his pony at a stream, restaked it, and went back into his thicket for another slumber the night he was not on his way. The brother had slept some that day, too.

The second night—it was moonlight time—the solitary horseman rode as he had the night before, briskly, galloping part time, and "gaiting" along at a lively trot the rest of the time. "That pony had every known gait," said Col. Slaughter recently. About every 15 miles Slaughter dismounted and smoked, before he would mount and allow the pony to graze a bit. This for only 10 minutes or so, and the journey would be resumed.

Meanwhile, at Fort Mason, the brother was not sleeping.

About the fellows whose palms itched to the excess that gold will itch.

Nobody knows exactly. Somewhere along the line, Fort Mason, the stage was met by a couple of men, who asked about the passengers, remarking that they were expecting a friend most any day, now. How many outside by-ways were watched, there is no record.

At 10 o'clock on the morning after the second night out, young Slaughter made the goal safely, and rode into Fort Mason from any expected direction. He had crossed the Llano river eight or 10 miles up from the highway by which he had come, and had come down into the waiting arms of his brother and the banker Rauck, from the northwest. The brother may have been expecting him from that direction, but he had never once looked in that direction. And straightway there was a great fallow, as he saw their schemes fade as the morning mist before the ardent sun.

"What you fellows going to do with all this cash, now that you've got it," queried the banker of the new possessors of the gold. "Going to drive it here with you," they replied. "Not on your life," quoth the banker, "You can't leave that kind of money in my place! I wasn't prepared to keep that much money around here and don't need that much, anyway." When the young duet after scratching their heads into the distance, the new owners of the gold sadly, faced about and brought it back to San Antonio.

The Slaughter brothers found a buyer at Denison for their herd, selling at $28 a the cattle that they had contracted for at $16, and nights dedicated to sleepless ness and anxiety.

About a year ago Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Blunt were greatly distressed over the disappearance of their son, Parker Blunt, who had been employed for some time in Wendover, Utah, by Grant's shops. All efforts to locate the young man were unavailing. Their letters were returned, and efforts of officers to find him were without result. After many months of waiting and hoping, Mr. Blunt, the father, went in search of the son, and succeeded in locating him, much to the relief of all of the family, for it was feared that he had met with foul play. It seems that the young man had sustained a broken leg and was sent to a hospital. He had written several letters home, but they failed to reach their destination. Later he went to Oregon, and was under the impression that his parents had moved away from Bandera. Finally he telegraphed to relatives at San Antonio, and things got in communication with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Blunt were greatly relieved to learn that he is well and has a good position now in California.

MEDINA.

A. E. Smith, of San Antonio, visited his father, W. D. Smith, and family one day last week. He also visited other relatives here.

Last Saturday night the Medina school presented a play "The Valley Farm." It was one of the best plays we have ever had here. Everyone seemed to have enjoyed it. A large crowd was present.

Last Sunday B. H. Stokes and family, and H. W. Vowell and family enjoyed a picnic at Honey Creek.

Rev. Gossett and J. Y. Dowdy attended church here Sunday morning. Rev. Gossett preached a splendid sermon, which was enjoyed very much.

Last Saturday night May 15, a program will be rendered on the Methodist church lawn. Refreshments will be sold. Everyone invited to come and have a good time.

J. C. Collins, Sr., has been seriously ill this week.

Oh, Fi Gosh!

"Old woman, I see by the date opposite my name here that our subscription to the little old home paper is due, but as the editor does not need the money right now I will wait awhile to pay it up for another year."

"Now, old man, you'd better not wait any longer. That subscription expired a month ago, and that editor, poor patient soul, needs that dollar and a half. If you don't think he needs it just you go in and offer it to him, and watch the weary look on his countenance disappear and his eyes light up with joy. When you give an editor a dollar and a half it makes him feel like a millionaire. He has worked for you all year, and you should pay him his wages right now."

"All right. I'll do it today." And he did.

Ready For Campers.

Virgil McCarthy was up from Medina Lake Monday and placed an order with the New Era for some printed cards for his camp which he has known as "Mc's Camp." This popular camp was formerly known as Warren's Camp, and is provided with all conveniences for a delightful retreat, row boats, motor boats, free bait and other things desirable by fishermen. Virgil says fish are biting fine and campers are already coming in for the season.

Lumber Yard for Bandera.

J. R. Wallace, proprietor of the Center Point Lumber Yard, was here last week and made arrangements for the opening of a lumber yard in this city. We understand the new concern will be located just west of the court house, next to Kalka's Mill. Bandera has been without a lumber yard for the past two years, and we are glad we are now to have this needed establishment. Mr. Wallace is well known to our people and his Center Point yard receives a good patronage from this region. Now that he will establish a yard here it means a great convenience to our people and we bespeak for him an increased patronage.

Grand Matron Here.

Mrs. Cuke Stevenson, of Junction, district deputy grand matron Order of the Eastern Star, visited Bandera Chapter, Tuesday night and Thursday evening. A very instructive and interesting meeting was held. Mrs. Stevenson highly complimented the local chapter for efficient work. While in the city she was the guest of Mrs. J. E. Chisum.

Miss Laura Mae Thetford, who was principal of Pipe Creek High School, has returned to her home at Tilden, Texas, and writes for the New Era to continue its weekly visits to her there.

Security Benefit Installs.

The installation of officers of the new Bandera Council, Security Benefit Association, took place at Cox Hall last Saturday night in the presence of a large crowd. Officials and members of the two San Antonio councils, assisted by the degree team of the Harding Council of that city, conducted the installation of the following officers: President, J. M. Hunter; first vice president, Howard Eckhart; second vice president, Lemuete Hunter; financier, Roscoe Hayes; secretary, Marvin Hunter, Jr.; prelate, Miss Sue Carpenter; sentinel, Russell Irving; guard, Forest Irving; conductor, Mrs. Frances Rogers.

The ceremonies were very pretty and impressive, and the drill work added greatly to the ceremonies. After the installation speeches were made by Brothers Martin and Watkins of San Antonio, who stated the benefits of the association. Dancing then followed, the music being furnished by the orchestra of the San Antonio Council.

Forty or fifty brothers and sisters of the order came up from San Antonio to attend the installation of officers and the inauguration of Bandera Council, and heartily appreciate their coming. Bandera council starts off with a membership of about twenty, with several additions in prospect. The charter will be left open for the next thirty days, and all persons between the ages of 16 and 55 years, of good moral character, and in good health, may join as charter members at a nominal fee.

The Security Benefit Association is protective, fraternal, social, and benevolent in its character. Several forms of insurance certificates are written. Rates are very low. The two councils at San Antonio have over six hundred members each, and still increasing.

The time of meeting for the Bandera council will be announced later.

For Commissioner.

Tom J. Anderwald announces this week as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Precinct No. 1. Mr. Anderwald was born and raised in Bandera and is well known to all of our people. He is well qualified to discharge the duties of the office to which he aspires, and promises if elected to serve to the best of his ability, and give due attention to necessary road work in this precinct. He respectfully asks your vote and support in his race.

Entertainment Saturday Night.

The Parent-Teachers' Association will present that highly amusing and laughable play, "Those Husbands of Ours," at the High School auditorium next Saturday night, May 8th. Admission charges 20 cents and 35 cents. If you want to enjoy yourself you will not fail to attend. The new curtain and stage settings will be used in this play. The funds realized will be used for the school.

Art Exhibit.

Quite a number of the students of the Jose Arpa Art School are here from San Antonio for a few days, painting the picturesque scenery hereabouts. Next Sunday, from 1 to 5 o'clock p. m. the paintings of local scenes will be exhibited at Cox Hall, and a cordial invitation is extended to the general public to view them. No admission charge. The students of this well known school are delighted with the wonderful scenery of this section and find many things here to delight the soul of the artist. Our sylvan dells, our flower-bedecked glades, our fern-embowered river banks, our rippling streams, our majestic hills, our stately cypress groves, all combine to provide scenes of enchantment and rustic charm, which, when transferred to canvas by skilful brush, will delight all who have not been so favored as to behold the real objects. We hope these artists will return to us from time to time. During their short stay they have not found all of the beauties which abound in this glorious region.

Chevrolet Agency.

Frank Mansfield informs us that he has signed a contract for a sub agency for the sale of Chevrolet automobiles, his territory including the whole of Bandera county. Josie Justice of Medina, will work with him in selling and demonstrating these popular automobiles. Mr. Mansfield has been local salesman for Chevrolets for the Kuehne Hardware Co. of Boerne for the past year or two, and has sold quite a number of cars to our people.

Bill Longley.

Many of our old timers remember the notorious Bill Longley who was hanged at Giddings many years ago. Longley at one time made his headquarters in this county and while here he killed Lew Sawyer on the Dry Fria. A very interesting sketch of Bill Longley and his wild career will appear in the June issue of Frontier Times, to be issued from this office about the 15th of the present month. The June number of this increasingly popular little magazine promises to be of unusual interest, for it will contain several thrilling sketches pertaining to Southwest Texas. If you are not a subscriber to Frontier Times you ought to be.

Mr. ad Mrs. Hal S. Hudspeth came up from San Antonio yesterday and will spend several days here.

The Bandera Invincibles again defeated the Crawford Motor Co. team in a game of baseball played on the local diamond last Sunday. The score was 4 to 11. This is the second time Crawford Motors has lost to Bandera this season.

Special Session.

Austin, Texas, May 4.—An authoritative statement was made Tuesday that Governor Miriam A. Ferguson will call a special session of the Legislature and call it at once if she can be convinced that it can validate the road bonds. This announcement was made by Senator J. Roy Harding of Kaufman after a conference with Governor Ferguson and her husband in the executive offices Tuesday morning.

"The Governor made it plain to me," Senator Hardin said, "that she will call a session if the eminent lawyers find that the Legislature can validate the bonds. She further said that if such a session is called now or after election she had several matters to submit besides the bond validation. One in particular being a supplemental appropriation for the available school fund to increase the per capita apportionment next year to $15. It is well known that finances in sight indicate that $12 per capita is all that can be expected for the public schools for the session of 1926-27 and the Governor is anxious to see the State apportion $15 for each enumerated child. She will be sure to ask the Legislature to do it if a special session is called."

"The Air Mail."

The Paramount picture, "The Air Mail," which shows tomorrow night at the Bandera Theater, is a rapid-fire, up-to-the-minute melodrama based on the United States Government Air Mail Service, the code of which service is, "Nor snow, nor rain, nor wind, nor night, can stay the pilot in his flight."

Irvin Willat, producer of "North of 36" and "Wanderer of the Wasteland," directed the picture, which was adapted to the screen by James Shelley Hamilton from an original story by Byron Morgan, author of all the Wally Reid automobile tales. Warner Baxter, Billie Dove, Mary Brian and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., have featured roles.

Another Scholarship to Be Given.

The Texas Commercial College of San Antonio has offered a business scholarship to be given to a graduate of Bandera High School who is deemed most worthy to receive it this term. This makes two valuable scholarships which will be given graduates of our high school this year, and they will be very acceptable rewards of merit.

Mrs. Jaeckle and three daughters, Mary, Toney and Mrs. Ed Black and infant, accompanied by Stuart Hale, came up from San Antonio Sunday for a pic nic on the river.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Captain John Lane, the veteran fiddler, writes the New Era from Voca that he wants to attend the reunion of the Old Settlers of Bandera county, to be held here July 2nd and 3rd. He says he is now eighty-five years old, but his good right hand can still wield the bow and he can play, "Sherd Jacket," "Buffalo Gals," "Fisher's Hornpipe" "Cottoneyed Joe," and all of the other old time melodies just as well today as he could fifty years ago. Hundreds of people throughout Llano, Mason, Gillespie, Menard, McCulloch, Kimble, and Kerr counties, "swung corners" and danced to old John Lane's fiddling in the early days during their youth. They are old men and women now, and some of them have grandchildren and great grandchildren who will dance to the music of John Lane's fiddle that will come to the Old Settlers' reunion. This old veteran has been fiddling for 70 years. He has seen the frontier wrested from the Indians and the wilderness made to blossom as the rose. He has fiddled for dances in frontier cabins where the floor was of dirt, and for want of room the dancers went to the front yard; he has furnished music for many a frontier wedding, and has played the funeral dirge for many an old frontiersman who had passed on to the happy hunting ground, where there is no traveler returns; he has delighted thousands with his wonderful playing, and when he takes his seat on the old fiddler's platform at our reunion, tunes his beloved old fiddle, and then begins to draw the bow across the strings, old legs, that have been lame and feeble for many years are going to limber up and come to life, and before he will have finished "Uncle Jack Grove" those old fellows who "quit dancing" forty years ago will have their old sweethearts on the floor and will be nimbly capering to the rythm of old John's inspiring music. He does not play the modern jazz stuff, erroneously called music, nor does he know anything about the Charleston, but if you want a jig or a hoe-down, a quilting waltz, a polka, schottische, or the old square dance music, you can bet your last dollar that John Lane can furnish it, and that old fiddle in such a manner that even the most devout old Methodist, Baptist or staid Presbyterian will be tempted to respond to the sensation that awakens in his pedal extremities. And can there be any harm in that?

If you have not secured a copy of the Bandera County Hair catalogue you should send a request to M. E. Whitmarsh, the secretary, and get one immediately. The catalogue gives the list of prizes offered in the different departments, and rules and regulations for exhibitors. Every farmer and stockman should be prepared to exhibit at the fair this year their live stock and farm products. And also the different schools of the county should show their work, and the homeseives should have displays. We believe the forthcoming fair, to be held August 26, 27 and 28, will be the best we have ever had, and if everybody will take an interest the results obtained will be far reaching and most satisfactory.

Dealers in General Merchandise

IN 1869 WE STARTED IN BUSINESS IN A SMALL WAY. OUR BUSINESS HAS INCREASED WITH LEAPS and BOUNDS, AND WE ARE NOW PROBABLY THE LARGEST RETAIL STORE IN TEXAS. NEARLY SIXTY YEARS WITHOUT A FAILURE.

"There Is a Reason"

At this time last year our farmers and ranchmen were praying for rain. It was dry, very dry, and crops and the range suffered; in fact, most of the crops last year failed for lack of moisture. This spring conditions are just the reverse. We have had an abundance of rain, and even at this writing (Tuesday morning) heavy rains are falling over the country. All crops are growing rank, and the farmer is wondering how he is going to get rid of the weeds that threaten to take his crops. Small grain is heavy, corn is growing rapidly, and the other crops promise a bountiful yield—if the rainfall is not too great. Some have expressed their apprehension that the oat crop will be ruined if the rains keep on coming, as they have during the past month or so. Man has no control over the weather, so we must take it as it comes, and we should be thankful for even a superabundance of rain. It is better to have too much moisture than not enough.

Great preparations are being made for the unveiling of the monument to the heroic Bandera boys who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War. The monument is now ready for delivery, and will be put in place on the court house square as soon as the base has been constructed to receive it. Every citizen should get ready to participate in the unveiling ceremonies, and to aid the committee in every way to make the occasion one of sacred observance. The monument committee has gone to considerable pains to arrange a fitting program. Details of which will be duly announced in the New Era, and should have the full co-operation and assistance of every patriotic, liberty-loving citizens of the county. Those heroic boys died for us—they gave their lives in the awful war for the perpetuation of American principles. Their names should be emblazoned in letters of gold on that simple granite monument which is to be erected to their memory. That monument will stand for years to proclaim to oncoming generations that the mothers and fathers of Bandera county gave their sons, and those sons gave up their lives on the altar of freedom. Shall we forget? We shall not forget.

The New Era strives at all times to give its readers all of the news of the county. We know we often fall short of our aim and purpose. But our intentions are good just the same. You can help us by sending in news at any time. When you have visitors do not hesitate to telephone us about them, or write their names on a slip of paper and send them in.

Already the summer visitors are beginning to pour into this delightful region. During the past week many fishing parties have come to camp along the banks of the beautiful Medina. The rains of the early part of the week has temporarily checked the influx, but with the coming of warm, sunshine days the crowds will increase. It's a treat to spend a few day's outing in the Hill Country.

Watch the date of your paper opposite your name. It shows when your subscription expires. We hope all will renew promptly.

Advertising Fans.

The New Era has a line of advertising fans, and will be pleased to submit samples to merchants and business men who use this kind of advertising. Have your fans printed at home and save money.

There's going to be a pie-eating contest at the Old Settlers' reunion. Each contestant will be allowed to eat a whole pie and the fastest eater will get a sack of flour. Men over forty years old will be in the contest. Now, if you think you can eat a pie quicker than anybody else, just notify the editor of the New Era and you will be listed as a contestant. Form your pie-eating will be presided. Let us know your favorite pie, in time to provide the kind you prefer. All pies will be of the same kind, the majority of the contestants making the selection. Now we know of several pie fanciers in this community who ought to get in that contest. Take Joe Chisum and Ed Mansfield for instance. They seem to have a penchant for devouring cherry pies, and when they set teeth into the bulky pastry it seems to suddenly evaporate. There's Dave Seale, up on Rocky Creek, who thinks pumpkin pie should be classed as food for the gods. It's a rare pleasure to witness the enjoyment he gets out of a mince pie held up before his gaze and he is invited to come up and get it, for Seale will scatter everything else and closes in on that pie. As Jack Anderson has already entered the beauty contest, he will be barred from entering the pie contest, but if he sees an array of tempting lemon pies on the rostrum at the reunion he will be sorely tempted to "get out of the word "go" is given. Jack says that if there is anything he likes better than lemon pie it is more lemon pie. Joe Callicott and Gus Reinarz of Pipe Creek are two more pie professors, whose awful war for the perpetuation of American principles. Their names should be emblazoned in letters of gold on that simple granite monument which is to be erected to their memory. That monument will stand for years to proclaim to oncoming generations that the mothers and fathers of Bandera county gave their sons, and those sons gave up their lives on the altar of freedom. Shall we forget? We shall not forget.

The New Era editor is offering a prize for the best biography of a Bandera county citizen, written by school children, and exhibited in the school department at the County Fair. We hope there will be several biographies submitted in this contest. The prize is offered to encourage an interest on the part of the children in the history of our county. The prize winning biographies will be published in the New Era and possibly Frontier Times also.

People do not have to go to California or Colorado for picturesque mountain scenery. Bandera county offers just as good as can be found anywhere.

Center Point Depot Safe Looted.

Though it is believed that burglars early Monday morning planned a wholesale looting of the safes of Center Point, 45 miles north of San Antonio, they were forced to flee after robbing the safe in the Southern Pacific Railroad station of $50.

An attempt to force an entrance into the Center Point Mercantile Company was frustrated when the thieves fled at the approach of a night watchman, according to Tom Stacy, detective for the railroad who is investigating the looting of the company safe.

The thieves, it was reported to him, knocked the combination from the strong box to commit the robbery.

Logsdon is defendant, said petition alleging that plaintiff was lawfully married to defendant on or about the 21st day of September, A. D. 1924, at Tulsa, Tulsa County, Okla., that they continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about the 15th day of December A. Battle Snake's Serum.

A Fearless Fox, 12-year-old boy, given up by physicians when brought to the Robert B. Green hospital after suffering three days from a rattlesnake bite, will live.

A strange new serum imported from Brazil where it has been used by the natives for years, was to the hospital by Colonel Martin L. Crimmins, U. S. A., retired, who read of the boy's plight in The Light and immediately offered the disposal of hospital authorities a quantity of the new serum which is at present very scarce in the United States.

The serum was injected into the boy's spine Friday night after his entire leg had turned black after three days of suffering. Signs of improvement were evident Saturday and the boy is reported recovering.

The serum was furnished El Paso physicians several weeks ago by Colonel Crimmins and another boy's life was saved.

Young Fox lives in San Antonio. He went to Alice a few days ago to chop cotton. The rattler bit him above the ankle and three days later Fox's leg was brought to the hospital.

Colonel Crimmins, knowing of the value of the serum in the advanced stages of poisoning, took the serum to the hospital.

The anti-ecrotalus serum used in treating the youth was brought to San Antonio from Rio de Janeiro by Colonel Crimmins, who received it from Doctor Raymond Lee Ditmars of the New York Zoological park.

The serum is secured by inoculating a horse with small amounts of rattlesnake venom until it can stand 2000 times the original dose. Blood is then taken from a vein in the neck of the horse and the serum separated from it.

Each ampule contains 60 cubic centimeters of the serum. A dose for an adult is 30 cubic centimeters, and a second and third dose is necessary on successive days to insure against a relapse, Colonel Crimmins stated. —San Antonio Light.

Discourse.

Savoy Star: Though it be but an humble cottage, there is nothing like a home for your own. When adversity comes, as it surely will sooner or later, it must be a comfortable feeling to look the world in the face and know that you have a place free from incumbrance and no rent bills due. Why shouldn't every young couple strive early in life to own a home?

There is no such thing as an humble home, if it is occupied by those who own it. John Howard Payne wrote a lovely song about home, observing in the course of sentiment that home is beautiful be it ever so humble. But why should a home be any humbler than its occupants, and, why should the occupants be humble? To be humble is to be lowly, meek, submissive. But who wants to be that way, or have that kind of a home? Humble doesn't mean modest. One can be modest and yet retain a sense of personal worth, but one can't be humble and feel like anything above the worm level. Certainly a shack-like home may be ugly, ill-conditioned and an insecure castle, but if it suits its owner it isn't humble. The owner, for his part, may have a fair match for his house in outward aspect, but if his self suits himself he is under no obligation to be humble. Arrogance, the antithesis of humbleness, is no more admirable that its antithetic. An arrogant man is an upstart as a rule, and becomes arrogant through practicing a demeanor which he hopes will deceive those whom he contacts as to his true value. Between arrogance and humbleness is restraint, and restraint is the quality that teaches us to modify our importance on one side and our importance on the other. Restraint is what Mr. Franklin had in mind when he advised one to be neither a borrower nor lender, and what the philosopher felt when he asked Providence to allot him neither poverty nor riches. Still, a home that isn't humble may look like the dickens —Dallas News.

Certainly a shack-like home may be ugly, ill-conditioned and an insecure castle, but if it suits its owner it isn't humble. The owner, for his part, may have a fair match for his house in outward aspect, but if his self suits himself he is under no obligation to be humble. Arrogance, the antithesis of humbleness, is no more admirable that its antithetic. An arrogant man is an upstart as a rule, and becomes arrogant through practicing a demeanor which he hopes will deceive those whom he contacts as to his true value. Between arrogance and humbleness is restraint, and restraint is the quality that teaches us to modify our importance on one side and our importance on the other. Restraint is what Mr. Franklin had in mind when he advised one to be neither a borrower nor lender, and what the philosopher felt when he asked Providence to allot him neither poverty nor riches. Still, a home that isn't humble may look like the dickens —Dallas News.

The following two short quotations are from different sections of our nation—one from the north, one from the south. They speak for themselves:

By E. W. Cramack of Tennessee—"I am proud to be a champion of such a people. I speak for a state—a state as native south. A land that has known sorrow, a land that has broken the ashen crust and moistened it with tears; a land scarred and riven by the plowshare of war, and billowed with graves of her dead, but a land of legend, a land of song, a land of beloved heroic memories. To that land every drop of my blood, every fiber of my being, every pulsation of my heart is consecrated forever. I was born of her womb, I was nurtured at her breast, and when my last hour shall come, I pray God that I may be pillowed upon her bosom and rocked to sleep within her encircling arms."

By Daniel Webster, of Massachusetts: "It is only shallow-minded pretenders who either make distinguished origin a matter of personal merit, or obscure origin a matter of personal reproach. Taunt and scoffing at the humble condition of early life effect nobody in America but those who are foolish enough to indulge in them and they are generally sufficiently punished by public rebuke. A man who is the author of himself need not be ashamed of his early condition. It did not happen to me to be born in a log-cabin; but my elder brothers and sisters were born in a log-cabin and raised among the snowdrifts of New Hampshire, at a period so early that when the smoke first rose from its rude chimney and curled over the frozen hills, there was no similar evidence of a white man's habitation between it and the settlements on the rivers of Canada. Its remains still exist; I make it an annual visit. I carry my children to it, to teach them the hardships endured by the generations which have gone before them. I love to dwell on the tenderer recollections, the kindred ties, the early affections and the touching narratives and incidents which mingle with all I know of this primitive family abode. I weep to think that none of those who inhabited it are among the living; and if ever I am ashamed of it, or if ever I fail in affectionate veneration for him who reared it and defended it against savage violence and destruction, cherished all the domestic virtues beneath its roof, and through the fire and blood of a seven years' revolutionary war, shrunk from no danger, no toil, no sacrifice, to serve his country and to raise his children to a condition better than his own, may my name and the name of my posterity be blotted from the memory of mankind."

Battle Snake Serum.

Francisco Pena, 12-year-old boy, given up by physicians when brought to the Robert B. Green hospital after suffering three days from a rattlesnake bite, will live.

A strange new serum imported from Brazil, which it has been used by the natives, was brought to the hospital by Colonel Martin L. Crimmins, U. S. A., retired, who read of the boy's plight in The Light and immediately placed at the disposal of hospital authorities a quantity of the new serum which is at present very scarce in the United States.

The serum was injected into the boy's spine Friday night after his entire leg had turned black after three days of suffering. Signs of improvement were evident Saturday and the boy is reported recovering.

The serum was furnished El Paso physicians several weeks ago by Colonel Crimmins and another boy's life was saved.

Young Pena lives in San Antonio. He went to Alice a few days ago to chop cotton. The rattler bit him above the ankle and three days elapsed before he was brought to the hospital.

Colonel Crimmins, knowing of the value of the serum in the advanced stage of poisoning, took the serum to the hospital.

The anti-crotalus serum used in treating the youth was brought to San Antonio last January by Colonel Crimmins, who secured it from Doctor Raymond Lee Ditmars of the New York Zoological park.

The serum is secured by inoculating a horse with small amounts of rattlesnake venom until it can stand 2000 times the original dose. Blood is then taken from a vein in the neck of the horse and the serum separated from it.

Each ampule contains 60 cubic centimeters of the serum, enough dose for an adult is 30 cubic centimeters, and a second and third dose is necessary on successive days to insure against a relapse, Colonel Crimmins stated. —San Antonio Light.

Discourse.

Savoy Star: Though it be but an humble cottage, there is nothing like a home of your own. When adversity comes, as it surely will sooner or later, it must be a comfortable feeling to look the world in the face and know that you have a place free from incumbrance and no rent bills due. Why shouldn't every young couple strive early in life to own a home?

There is no such thing as an humble home, if it is occupied by those who own it. John Howard Payne wrote a lovely song about home, observing in the course of sentiment that home is beautiful be it ever so humble. But why should a home be any humbler than its occupants, and, why should the occupants be humble? To be humble means to be lowly, submissive. But who wants to be that way, or have that kind of a home? Humble doesn't mean modest. One can be modest and yet retain a sense of personal worth, but one can't be humble and feel like anything above the worm level. Certainly a shack home may be ugly, ill-conditioned and an insecure castle, but if it suits its owner it isn't humble. The owner, for his part, may be a fair match for his house in outward aspect, but if his self suits himself he is under no obligation to be humble. Arrogance, the antithesis of humbleness, is no more admirable that its antithetic. An arrogant man is an upstart as a rule, and becomes arrogant through practicing a demeanor which he hopes will deceive those whom he contacts as to his true value. Between arrogance and humbleness is restraint, and restraint is the quality that teaches us to modify our importance on one side and unimportance on the other. Restraint is what Mr. Franklin had in mind when he advised one to be neither a borrower nor lender, and what the philosopher felt when he asked Providence to allot him neither poverty nor riches. "The Air Mail."

The Paramount picture, "The Air Mail," which shows tomorrow night at the Bandera Theater, is a rapid-fire, up-to-the-minute melodrama, based on the United States Government Air Mail Service, the code of which service is, "Nor snow, nor rain, nor wind, nor night, can stay the pilot in his flight."

Irvin Willat, producer of "North of 36" and "Wanderer of the Wasteland," directed the picture, which was adapted to the screen by James Shelley Hamilton from an original story by Byron Morgan, author of all the Wally Reid automobile tales. Warner Baxter, Billie Dove, Mary Brian and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., have featured roles.

"The Air Mail" deals with a band of crooks who prey upon government air mailmen, making away with valuable hauls. As the picture opens we see Baxter, as Russ Kane, exhibiting a war medal awarded for heroic conduct in the air service during the World War. He is given a pilot's job and, once outside, passes over the medal to a pal. He had just borrowed it for the occasion. His real purpose in becoming a pilot is to rob the mails.

One day the pilot on the Frisco to Reno run arrives during a terrific storm, almost dead from cold and exposure. He is glad that Russ is to be the man to carry the mail on and lapses into unconsciousness as Kane takes off. He goes through with the mail hat is greeted by his partner-in-crime, Speck, who has news of a big haul.

This sort of thing, however has lost all its old glamor for Kane since he has fallen in love and seen a fellow pilot give his life in the service. He's through But the crooks won't have it. They won't believe he's quitting. They think he is double-crossing them for the girl (Billie Dove) and go after his scalp. There is a battle royal both in the clouds and on terra firma, resulting in the breaking up of the rival bandit gangs and capture of the leaders.

The Jena, Louisiana, Times has the following to say about a former Bandera mother, Mrs. J. A. Hudspeth, who recently celebrated her 82nd birthday:

Mrs. J. A. Hudspeth was the recipient of a surprize birthday party last Saturday on the occasion of her Eighty Second anniversary. The following friends participated in making the day a most pleasant one for the octogenarian, who still enjoys the best of health: Mesdames L. M. Brown, Q. R. Hudson, G. N. Russell, R. W. Stephenson, Amy Price, H. S. Hudspeth and Miss Minnie Hudspeth. Mrs. Hudspeth received many beautiful and useful gifts from her Jena friends, as well as those from Texas, where she formerly resided.

A man who is not ashamed of himself need not be ashamed of his early condition. Military Band for Unveiling

Dr. John H. Erwin went to San Antonio Monday, and while there he called on General Malone, commanding officer at Fort Sam Houston, and received the assurance that one of the military bands of the fort will be sent to Bandera to participate in the ceremonies at the unveiling of the monument to the Bandera county boys who gave their lives in the World War. An army chaplain will also be sent from Fort Sam Houston.

Plans are going steadily forward for the placing of the monument on our court house square the latter part of this week or the early part of next week. The beautiful granite monument is expected to arrive this week. It has been decided to hold the unveiling ceremonies on Sunday, May 23rd, and the committee will meet this week to complete the program. Every member of the committee is urged to attend the meeting, as steps will be taken to complete all of the arrangements in regard to the ceremonies which will be of patriotic and sacred nature. Boerne Post of the American Legion will send a firing squad and delegation, and the Boerne Boy Scouts will come in a body to practice in the ceremonies. Hon. Brian Montague, of Del Rio, will deliver the unveiling address, and there will probably be other speakers of note. A parade will also probably be arranged, headed by the military band from Fort Sam Houston, and in this parade will march the school children of Bandera county, as well as all patriotic citizens.

All ex-service men in this or any other county are invited to participate in the ceremonies, in their uniforms or without.

It is hoped that all of the business houses will be decorated in the national colors for the occasion. The red, white and blue bunting can be purchased in any quantity at M. Boyle's store, if order is placed in time. Don't wait until the last moment to decorate your residence or your dwelling. Let's make this the greatest event that has ever taken place in Bandera.

Old Citizen Dies.

John Turner, aged 64 years, died at his home at Tarpley last Sunday and was buried in the Dial cemetery on Monday, the funeral being conducted by Captain T. P. Grant. Deceased had resided in the county about thirty-five years, and was a quiet, peaceable, citizen. He is survived by his wife, who has the sympathy of all in this time of great sorrow.

Auto Collision.

A Chevrolet car driven by Miss Ruth Whitley and a Ford coupe driven by Mrs. Frances Ruge collided at the First State Bank corner last Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Ruge's coupe was overturned and pretty badly damaged, and she sustained painful bruises, but we trust not of a serious nature.

Mr. and Mrs. George Elam and son, Clyde, were here from West Prong Monday.

Bandera Loses McDonald.

Prof. L. L McDonald, who has been superintendent of Bandera High School the past two terms, has accepted a similar position in the Christine High School for next term Mrs. McDonald, who has been a teacher of primary grades, is also given a similar position n the Christine school. Before coming to Bandera Mr. and Mrs. McDonald taught for five or six years in the High School at Christine, and when they leave Bandera it will be to them like going back home to return to Christine. We very much regret to lose them, not only from our social circles as well. They are excellent people, and during their residence here have endeared themselves to all of us. We know our school has been greatly improved under Prof. McDonald's efficient management, and the results of his painstaking efforts to advance the interests of the school are apparent on every hand. We understand that the Christine positions for Mr. and Mrs. McDonald pays about $600 more salary than our school pays them, which, as well as going back to where environments will be just as congenial, is inducement enough to draw them away from us.

Collar Bone Broken.

Mrs. Edgar Deskin is suffering from injuries received Sunday evening when she stepped from an automobile which was backing down hill. She was thrown heavily to the ground and besides receiving painful bruises her collar bone was also broken.

The young couple will reside in Kerrville where Mr. Grubert has a position. The New Era extends congratulations and best wishes.

The Art Exhibit.

The exhibition of pictures of local scenes, painted by the students of the Joe Arpa School of Art, from 1 to 5 o'clock last Sunday at the Wright Hall, was viewed by several hundred people, many coming in from Medina, Tarpley, Pipe Creek, and other sections of the county. Delicious punch was served to the exhibition visitors. Quite an array of paintings, including a number of portraits, painted since the students came here the first of last week, were arranged for exhibition, and it was a rare treat to Bandera people to spend the afternoon in viewing them. Among those of the Art School who are here, and whose work was exhibited, are Senor Joe Arpa, head of the school, of Spain; Senor Quinn Scobee and Gonzalez, instructor of drawing, also of Spain; Mrs. Clara C. The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance.

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas

During the past two weeks Bandera has been in a buzz of activity. Our town is entertaining the Jose Arpa art students from San Antonio, who are here on their annual out-door painting expedition. Thirty-five or forty of these artists are painting the beauties of our favored region, and are simply delighted with the wonderful scenery that abounds here. Bandera extends the glad hand of welcome to each and every one of them, and we trust their two weeks stay has been made pleasant. Our people have opened wide the doors of their homes to the visitors, they have participated in our social activities, and we believe every one of them has been made to feel perfectly at home. This is as it should be. When they leave Bandera they will carry with them the most kindly feelings for us, and will return whenever opportunity offers.

The great sham battle is to take place at Bandera Pass next week, the exact date of which we understand is to be on Friday, May 21st, beginning at 2 o'clock in the morning. Six thousand troops from Fort Sam Houston will be engaged in the battle, three thousand to be encamped at Camp Verde, and three thousand to come to Bandera from Boerne and encamp on the Loop here on the 20th. Machine guns, artillery, infantry, cavalry and airplanes will participate in the battle, which will be conducted just as if it was a real battle during a war campaign.

Bandera High School closes next week. This has been a most successful term, and patrons and friends of the school are well pleased with the advancement made. The teachers have done their duty, and the pupils have worked hard to make their grades, and performed efficient work. There has been less friction in our school, and more interest manifested than for many years. The eleventh grade work was given this year, and inasmuch as those who graduated from the tenth grade last year are the graduates from the eleventh this year, with the exception of one student, Harold Wagner, it was decided by the class to have only simple commencement exercises, which take place on Friday night, May 21st at the High School auditorium. No printed invitations will be sent out, but the public generally is invited to attend the commencement exercises. The graduates are Claude Fletcher, Harold Wagner, Harold Mansfield, Carl Freeman, Forest Irving, Miss Lora Thallman and Miss Evelyn Mansfield. All of these young people were in the 1925 class, graduating from the tenth grade, except Harold Wagner, who did not attend school here last year.

The unveiling of the monument to our Bandera county boys who lost their lives in the World War will take place on Sunday May 23rd, on the court house square. Hon. Brady Montague, a Bandera county raised boy, and a World War veteran, has been selected to make the unveiling address. An appropriate patriotic program is being arranged, details of which will be announced in due time.

Ed Mansfield says he is going to get right in the middle of the pie-eating contest at the Old Settlers' Reunion. John Ross says he would be glad to enter the contest, but fears he will be handicapped by whiskers. George Dickson, the Tarpley postmaster, who holds a record for eating chocolate pies, is ready to enter, and after the main contest is over he is going to challenge Joe Callahan to a private pie-eating contest, the pies of course to be built of chicken and plenty of it. Reports reaching this office are to the effect that every old timer up on West Prong is determined to enter the contest and headed by George Elam and Eli Loyd, the delegation proposes to show the crowd that Bandera has not the only real pie-eaters in the country. We have decided to allow as many as twelve old timers to get in the game, instead of four as was announced last week. But we'll have to draw the limit, or the Old Settlers' Association will go bankrupt in trying to supply pies for the gourmands.

Another feature on the program for the Old Settlers' Reunion, to be held at Bandera July 2nd and 3rd, will be an apple-eating contest for young men and a milk-sucking contest for young ladies, ages between 16 and 25. An apple will be suspended by a string, the boys' hands will be tied behind their back, and they will have to eat the apple without breaking the string. In the milk-sucking contest a bottle of milk with a nipple will be given each girl and the one who sucks the milk out of the bottle in the quickest time will be given a prize. Other contests will be provided too, for the entertainment of the crowds.

The Sham Battle.

A telegram to Sergeant W. F. Byrne, care of the Chamber of Commerce from 1st Lieutenant John B. Hess, Fort Sam Houston, states that the Battle of Bandera Pass, (1926 version) will start Friday May 21st at two o'clock in the morning. Many Kerrville citizens are eagerly looking forward to this opportunity of seeing our soldiers in action under simulated war time conditions. Doubtless many will prepare for the coming of this event just as carefully and greet it just as enthusiastically as the fishermen did the first day of the open season. Numbers of The Hill Country citizenry will be afforded their first, and possibly their only opportunity to behold a sham battle on such a large scale. We predict that this battle will be a revelation to some and a disappointment to others. Some will behold it as through a glass, darkly, not being able to interpret any of the movements. Just like the young lady who went to the baseball game and said it was unreasonable in the umpire to call that a foul ball when she could see that it was perfectly new and had never even touched the ground. But even though unable to appreciate the finer military points of the game, it will doubtless be a spectacle worth while to all. The movement of troops will l begin from San Antonio May 16th. They will leave Camp Stanley on the camp at Boerne that night, morning of May 17th and will After the strenuous day of the battle at Bandera Pass they will march to Kerrville, and it is expected that they will reach here Saturday afternoon, May 22nd.—Kerrville Hill View Times.

The farmers are preparing to harvest the heaviest grain crop we have had in years.

Sheep shearing should be in full swing, but because of continued rains very few have started.

R. E. Willis was on the sick list for a week, but is able to be up now.

Mrs. Fabian Hicks is now at home, and much improved since a two weeks stay in the hospital in Hondo.

Miss Stella Mae Willis is home for a few days. She has just finished her school on Mason Creek, and will soon go to San Marcos for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Burns, of Utopia, were guests of Dick Burns, of Hondo.

The Parent-Teachers Association gave a splendid program at the school last week. They played to a full house, and have been asked to repeat the program or have another this summer. A large number of guests came from Hondo.

Tom P. Grant entertained a large crowd at a pecan budding and grafting demonstration. He had as his guest Mr. Ramey, Nursery of Austin, who worked faithfully all day, teaching the men, women and children. This pecan demonstration, we are sure, has been of great benefit to our community, opening the eyes of the people to the possibilities of pecan culture. Several hundred lunch were served to the guests. We were invited to a barbecue dinner, but Captain and Mrs. Grant spoiled the things by halves. It was a banquet in the biggest sense of the word.

Mother's day was observed with an appropriate program at the Methodist church Sunday. Mrs. Annie E. Brown, in her eighty-ninth year, being the oldest mother present.

John Ryle is collecting funds with which to lay a concrete slab across Williams Creek at the Padgett Crossing. This crossing is impassible in rainy seasons and Mr. Ryle is certainly to be commended for trying to better conditions. He is making a good start as road overseer.

We are waiting with interest the unveiling of our "Heroes' Monument." We should appreciate the efforts of our editor in having this done. We know it would help keep easy, yet a nation who would its heroes forget, is a nation without a future."

W. C. ROUNTREE, M.D.

To Treat Rattlesnake Bite.

Col. M. L. Crimmins, of Fort Sam Houston, writes us a very interesting letter in which he tells how to treat rattlesnake bites. Col. Crimmins says the New York Zoological Park gets only fifty ampules of anti-crotalus serum each year from Brazil for the entire United States, and everybody should be familiar with the first aid treatment, which is most effective when used without delay. He says:

"If we could get our school teachers to instruct their pupils in first aid and have the things necessary kept on hand at every school, we could surely save much suffering and some lives. All they would need would be one grain of potassium permanganate, a soda pop bottle of water, six ounces, a section of an old inner tube one inch wide, and a clean safety razor blade. One grain of potassium permanganate to six ounces makes about 1 in 3000, the proper strength of the solution. As this solution does not keep long it is best to make it as used. The one grain tablet could be imbedded in the top of the cork of the bottle of water and sealed with wax or court plaster, and these instructions should be printed about the bottle, and a stout rubber band around the bottle also. When this treatment has been given right away no symptoms as a result of the bite developed, as the poison was destroyed before it was absorbed. And delay is followed by painful symptoms and a long delay, say of over two hours, may result in death, if bitten when the poison may be rapidly absorbed. The system can eliminate the poison if it is absorbed slowly. It is eliminated through the kidneys and a diuretic should be used and large quantities of water taken with some saline purgative. The patient should be given as much rest as possible, as worry or excitement is especially dangerous at this time. I hope you will have some of the first aid at your office and that others will follow suit. To forewarned is to be forearmed, and by giving this matter publicity you will be doing a great benefit to humanity."

Colonel Crimmins, who has traveled extensively over West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and California, engaged in archeological research work, has devoted much time to the study of snakes and their venom, and has interested himself in securing anti-crotalus serum from Brazil for use of Brazil, mention of which was made in the New Era last week. He gives the following instructions for first aid treatment:

"Immediately after the bite, tie a tourniquet—a piece of rubber inner tube makes the best possible tourniquet—about the limb, between the bite and the heart, to prevent the poison being carried by the veins of the system. At the end of twenty minutes release the tourniquet for two seconds and then tighten it again for twenty minutes and if no bad symptoms develop take the tourniquet off.

"Make a cross cut incision over the bite, about a third of an inch deep or as deep as the bite and about an inch each way. The flow of the blood will wash out some of the poison and keep it from being absorbed. Apply a solution of potassium permanganate, 1 to 3000, and wash the bite with it. This oxidizes the poison. If a hypodermic syringe is available inject the potassium permanganate solution into the flesh about an inch from the bite, and have the needle shoved toward the wound so the solution exudes through the bite and washes it out. Remove any loose fang that may be left in the bite. Go to the nearest doctor, as heart stimulants or other treatments may be needed."

Barbecue Supper and Rodeo.

W. E. Mansfield complimented the students of the Jose Arpa School of Art with a delightful rodeo and barbecue supper last Saturday evening at Mansfield Park. The artists greatly enjoyed Mr. Mansfield's hospitality and appreciated the entertainment furnished for them. Some thirty-five or forty of these students spent two weeks here, with Senor Arpa, painting the picturesque scenery of Bandera and, and in appreciation of the coming of these visitors Mr. Mansfield felt that Bandera should make their stay as enjoyable and interesting as possible. Several good riders were on hand to entertain the crowd with exhibitions or riding and roping, and when the barbecue supper was served it was the crowning feature of the enjoyable occasion All of the students returned to their respective homes Sunday, and Senor Arpa announced before departing that they would be with us again next year.

Former Bandera Citizen Dies.

J. P. Crider, a former citizen of Bandera county, died May 15th at the home of his daughter near Boerne, and was buried at Ingram, Texas, last Sunday. Joseph Crider was born December 4th, 1841, being at the time of his death in his eighty-fifth year. He was the father of thirteen children, ten of whom are still living, two of his daughters being Mrs. John Buckelew and Mrs Will Baker of Bluff. He was a faithful member of the Church of Christ for sixty-two years, and was always ready to give a scriptural reason for the hope that pointed him to heaven. He served as an elder in the Church for several years in Blanco county and was beloved by all who knew him. More than 100 grandchildren and great grandchildren as well as hundreds of friends all over this section mourn the passing of this grand old patriach. Peace to his great soul.

Bandera Loses.

Bandera Invincibles went down in defeat before the Utopia Sluggers last Sunday in the baseball game played on the local diamond. Entertainment Tuesday Night.

The primary and intermediate department of Bandera High School gave quite an interesting and enjoyable entertainment at the high school auditorium Tuesday night. The program was arranged and directed by Mrs. Little and Mrs. McDonald, the teachers, and was carried out in a highly satisfactory manner.

Birthday Surprise.

Last Thursday Charlie Meadows rounded out a full half century of his existence on this mundane sphere, but he did not dream that many of his friends knew of the event. Thursday night he happened to step to the door and was surprised to discover the approach of automobiles from every direction. A big crowd of his friends were gathering to extend to him best wishes for many more years of usefulness. A jolly time was had until a late hour, and genial Charlie feels that it was about the happiest time, next to his wedding day, that he has had in all of those fifty years.

Mrs. H. Mansfield and Mrs. Wiley Meadows baked a large birthday cake, with candles arranged, placed it on the dining table. After having lighted the candles, a happy birthday chorus was sung by the guests, after which Mr. Meadows blew out the candles. Violin selections were rendered by Messrs. Wiley and Chas. Mashous. Refreshments of cake and cream were served to about 50 guests. They made their departure at a late hour, declaring they had had a most delightful time.

Deal Consumated.

Family Reunion.

A very happy family reunion took place at the home of Mrs. Tom Moravietz last Sunday, when quite a number of her children and friends gathered to spend the day with her. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kolodzej and Mr. and Mrs. Christian Pioch of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Moravietz, Rosalie Moravietz, Boyd Moravietz, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Moravietz and children, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kowalik and baby and Mrs. Alex Haiduk, all of Falls City, Mr and Mrs. S. J. Wasser of Bisbee, Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moravietz, Miss Edna Fischer, and Mrs. Fischer, all of Bandera. All of Grandma Moravietz's children were present except one son and a daughter of Hobson, who could not be here. The aged mother has been quite ill for the past three or four months, and the coming of her children was a great boon to her. A splendid dinner was served, and all had a most enjoyable time. Mr. and Mrs. Wasser returned to their home in Arizona after spending about three weeks here.

Miss Mary Hornby, of Uvalde, was the guest of Mrs. J. E. Chisum last Thursday.

Our Heroic Dead

Next Sunday we unveil the monument to our Bandera county heroes who gave their lives in the great World War that American ideals and freedom might be preserved. Here are the names of the immortal twenty-three, and these names appear on the monument:

LESLIE BOWNDS.
ERNEST DELVADO.
SAM CLARK.
OSCAR HABY
JAMES POCVADO.
LOWELL PATTERSON
RAYMOND ECKHART.
TWINE L. WOOD.
EDDIE BURLESON.
ROY HINDS.
CARL A. MEBO
HERMAN REIMER.
NEWT. PETTY.
NATHAN BAKER.
CHARLIE EVANS.
HENRY LOESSBERG.
JOHN V. KALKA.
BLAKE DAVIS.
WADE PIERCE.

A beautiful granite shaft, or slab, eight feet above its base, now stands erected to the memory of these heroic boys, placed on the Court House square by the patriotic and liberty-loving men and women of Bandera county as a tribute to their love of American heroism, and as a reminder that "We Shall Not Forget." And next Sunday October 3rd, in the midst of appropriate ceremonies, will lift the veil that today seems this monument that it may silently proclaim to all the world the glorious deeds of those who died for us. Every man, woman and child in Bandera is proud of that monument and the Era feels sure the sentiment of everyone when we say that to Mrs. Charles Eckhart, Miss Margaret Montague, J. W. Short, A. L. Mansfield and W. R. Fletcher, the committee, belongs much credit for successfully carrying out the plans for the erection of the monument.

Every citizen of the county who can conveniently do so should attend and participate in these ceremonies next Sunday.

An Old Time Printer

Last Saturday afternoon there blew into the New Era office one of a species of the fast disappearing fellow-craftsmen, an old time tramp printer. Some thirty years ago we met Frank Hickham at Llano and sent him to Mason to take a position in the old Mason Herald Office. He remained there about one month and suddenly disappeared—faded away between two days—and his whereabouts remained a mystery until the other day, when after a lapse of thirty years Mr. Hickham "dropped in" on us. He is now eighty years old, but is still as lively as a cricket, and only tarried long enough to swap greetings. When we insisted that he stay with us a day or two he declined, with the statement that he would have to be on his way, for he had heard of a job over at Baton Rouge, La., and he was afraid Wandering Willie Waterhouse of Walla Walla, Washington, would get there first.

Unveiling Ceremonies

The unveiling of the monument erected by the memory of the Bandera county boys who lost their lives in the World War will take place next Sunday, May 23rd, on the Court House square. The monument arrived Saturday and was passed on the base. It is a beautiful monument of gray granite, without a flaw, from the Llano county granite fields, and was designed and supplied by E. P. Warren of the San Antonio Marble and Granite Co. The Monument Committee held a meeting last Sunday afternoon and arranged the program for the unveiling ceremonies as follows.

Parade—Starts from High School building promptly at 2 o'clock p. m. and will be in the following formation: Headed by Sheriff Henry, Stevens as marshall of the day. Then comes a military band from Fort Sam Houston, World War Veterans, Boy Scouts and school children, followed by citizens in autos and other vehicles. The route taken by the Parade will be from the High School building along the Medina road to Main street, by the Methodist parsonage, turning into Cedar Street at the Butler residence, where the children from that section will fall in line just ahead of the automobiles. Proceeding down Cedar Street to the corner of Everett and the First State Bank, the parade will then follow Eleventh Street to Cypress, then down Cypress one block to Main and then to Main Street to the Court House where the unveiling is to take place. Arriving there all automobiles will be parked in the shade at a distance. Besides Sheriff Stevens, the following young men will act as marshalls: Howard Eckhart and Earl Mansfield.

After the invocation by an army chaplain from Fort Sam Houston, Miss Myrtle Montague will unmask the monument, during which the Joe Bartlett Post American Legion firing squad will fire a salute and the American flag is raised on its staff. Hon. Beah Montague, of Del Rio, a Bandera county boy who has won distinction will be the orator of the occasion and will deliver the memorial address. A bevy of flower girls, twenty-three in number, bearing wreaths and baskets of flowers, will march to the monument and as Mr. Montague names each of the fallen heroes a flower girl will deposit evergreen wreaths on the base of the monument. When Mr. Montague has finished speaking taps will be sounded, and the unveiling is over.

Mayor Hunter was selected by the committee as master of ceremonies.

A reception committee headed by Mrs. Charles Eckhart as chairman, and composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Short, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fletcher, Mrs. A. L. Mansfield, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Bigler, Mrs. J. Marvin Hunter, Mrs. Rose Gardiner, Mrs. W. J. Montague, Mrs. Ed Mansfield and Mrs. A. L. Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bruce, Mrs. A. Meadows, Judge and Mrs. J. A. Eaves, Dr. and Mrs. Ed Erwin, will receive after the visitors from Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Boerne and other places, who will attend and participate in the ceremonies. It is the request of the monument committee that every lady in the country consider herself a member of this reception committee. It was at first intended to publish the names of all who should serve but inasmuch as the list would be so long it is thought the better method is taken to ask every lady in the county to consider herself a member of that committee, and to assist in every way possible to extend to our visitors every courtesy.

It is desired that every ex-service man in the county be present, and that all ex-service men who are in Bandera on that date participate in the ceremonies.

Remember the hour, 2 o'clock p. m. next Sunday, and assemble at the school building promptly in order that no delay will be experienced in the formation of the parade.

We understand all of the business houses will be draped in the national colors on that particular occasion, and that most of the merchants of the town have purchased large American flags to display on that day. The Monument Committee has ordered several hundred poppies to sell at ten cents each, the funds derived therefrom to be used in defraying incidental expenses. We do not know just how much money is on hand for this purpose at this time, but with the sale of poppies and flags, it is believed there will be enough to defray the expenses. After the monument has been paid for, and all of the work incident to its erection has been paid for, and all of the funds on hand disposed of, a statement will be published and those who contributed will be given an opportunity to see it.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

"Last night there was a grand event which brought many guests, and which will long be remembered by the people of Vanderpool. Hand in hand, they have journeyed half the land in sand they are still happy and gay. Fifty years with the undying love of faithfulness and devotion. What a beautiful picture it was to witness the bride and bridegroom on May 9, 1926 in wait in heart, the bride in white and the groom in his full regalia, as they stood before the preacher. Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Bean have seven fine children, a dear old hearts come to gather around them, to offer their congratulations and their affections which like fine wine, has but improved with age. Their children and a goodly number of their relatives and friends assembled to felicitate them upon the golden jubilee of their married life. We wish them many long years yet before they shall celebrate their diamond wedding, and when the golden jewels are put in a golden urn, and their sunset may be golden, was our silent sentiment.

A Pioneer Mother Called Home

The New Era regrets to chronicle the death of another pioneer mother, Mrs. Martha Jane Hodges, at Lexington, Texas, April 24th, 1926. Mrs. Jump lived in this county many years, and was a sister of Franklin Hodges of Pipe Creek. The news of Mrs. Jump's death will be painful to her many old friends in this county. The following obituary appeared in an Oklahoma paper at the time of her death, and it was shipped over and sent to us:

"Mrs. M. C. Hodges Jump was born in Missouri, January 20th, 1840, and departed this life April 24th, 1926, at the age of 3 months and 4 days. She professed a hope in Christ when a young woman and united to the Methodist church. In later years she united with the Later Day Saints, where her membership remained until the time of her death. She was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. J. W. Jump at the age of 17. To this union 11 children were born, 7 boys and 4 girls. Her husband departed this life 15 years ago, also she had lost two of her boys. She leaves two boys and two daughters. Those present at the funeral Mrs. J. W. Ballantyne of Lexington, Okla., with whom she has made her home since the death of her husband. Also Mrs. T. A. Ezell, of Sweet Water, Texas. In addition to her immediate family she leaves one brother, two sisters, a number of grandchildren and a host of friends to mourn her loss. The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh. Blessed be the name of the Lord. Funeral conducted by Rev. J. H. Gardner of Lexington, Okla., April 26, 1926, at the home of J. W. Ballantyne."

Sham Battle at Bandera Pass.

The great sham battle at Bandera Pass, to be staged by the entire Second Division from Fort Sam Houston, is to take place tomorrow, beginning at 2 o'clock in the morning. Six thousand troops will participate, half of the number going by way of Boerne and Center Point to Camp Verde and take position at the Bandera Pass, and start their drive to Bandera yesterday, and after resting here last night, today will march out to Bandera Pass, to get supplies and troops in position for the problems to be worked out tomorrow. As stated above, the sham battle proper is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock in the morning, and will continue throughout the entire day.

The troops arrived yesterday and went into camp on The Leap, adjacent to the town. After the battle the entire division will hike to Kerrville, where they will camp until next Monday, when the division will again be divided and march back to Fort Sam Houston, but the troops that composed the east column will then be formed into the west column and the men who came out as the west column will return by the eastward route. This change is made so that no troops will traverse the same route twice during the entire trip.

On the return trip the east column will camp as follows: May 24th, Camp Verde; May 25th, Bandera; "The Loop;" May 26th, Pipe Creek, Bandera Road; May 27th, San Geronimo; May 28th, Braun and Nixon Junction; May 29th, Fort Sam Houston.

The west column will camp as follows: May 24th, Center Point; May 25th, Comfort; May 26th, Boerne Fair Grounds; May 27th, Camp Stanley; May 28, Nine Mile Hill; May 29th Fort Sam Houston.

But two bands will accompany the Division on the field hike, the other four bands remaining at Fort Sam Houston, where they will be used in giving a series of concerts and radio programs. One band will accompany each column during the maneuvers, and both will be available and will give concerts while the troops are encamped at Kerrville and Camp Verde. Whether or not the soldiated or give individual concerts is not known at this time.

The Second Division is composed of regiments of infantry and artillery that carried a big share of the load of making the world safe for democracy during the World War. Included in the organization of the Division are the Third Infantry Brigade, composed of the First and 20th Infantry; the Second Field Artillery, composed of the 12th and 15th Field Artillery; the Second Engineers; the Second Medical Regiment, together with ammunition and supply trains.

The Kerrville Mountain Sun, in giving some of the history of some of the organizations making up the Second Division, says:

The organizations making up the personnel of the Second Division are units famous in the history of this country, both during the World War and also in other wars this country has engaged in. Possibly the most famous of these outfits is the First U. S. Infantry.

The First Infantry is the oldest organization in the military service of the United States, it being organized as a regiment September 29, 1789, to be known as the Regiment of Infantry.

Its records, however, date back to June 3, 1784, as companies existing at that time were mustered into the Regiment without change of personnel. The headquarters and several companies at the time of organization were at Fort Washington, the present site of Cincinnati. Other companies held smaller posts along the Ohio River.

Much time was spent in operating against the Indians, the Regiment either avoiding trouble or answering it with musketry when peaceful methods failed. The settlement of this country is due largely to the First Infantry, which afforded protection to the pioneers, who formed the vanguard of civilization from Ohio to the West.

When Congress increased the Army in 1791, the regiment became known as the First Infantry without change of organization or personnel.

As civilization marched westward, it was led from post to post by the First Infantry until just before the War of 1812, the regiment was stationed at Detroit and Fort Dearborn, now Chicago. Men who were later to become noted explorers and statesmen were included at that time in the roster of the First.

Capt. William Henry Harrison, later to reach the presidential chair, partially by virtue of his splendid army record gained in the First, was one.

Another, destined to become a famous character, was Capt. Meriwether Lewis. It was Captain Lewis, who with 20 enlisted men of the First and with other now famous explorers, guided the Lewis and Clark Expedition to the Pacific Northwest.

Lieut. Zebulum M. Pike, leader of the historic expedition which lifted the veil of mysteries which shrouded the Rocky Mountains and the Rio Grande Valley, thus paving the way for settlement of this valuable territory, was another of the heroes of the First Infantry.

Col. Zachary Taylor, who served with the First Infantry in the later years, was elected President.

Jefferson Davis, who later became President of the Confederacy, had been a first lieutenant in the same organization.

The First Infantry served with distinction throughout the War of 1812; helped subdue the Seminole Indians in Florida in, 1837; in the Mexican War, the regiment was the first to enter Mexico and one of the last to leave, taking a prominent part in the capture of Monterey and in the siege of Vera Cruz; took an active part in the Civil War, engaging in the Second Battle of Bull Run, Shepardstown, Fredericksburg, Liberty, Springfield, Wilson's Creek, siege of New Madrid, Harrisburg, Corinth, and Vicksburg; served throughout the Spanish-American War, fighting the first skirmish and in the battles of El Caney, San Juan Hill and others; was part of the Army of Occupation in Cuba and later in the Philippine Islands; stationed at Honolulu during the World War, guarding Government plants and spying German spies; has been stationed at Camp Travis since October 13, 1920, doing garrison and camp duties.

Last Monday afternoon Louis D. Curtis, the 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Curtis, while at play he and his little sister, Marie, being used to playing with an old oil can climbed to the top of a table, got the oil can that contained quite a bit of oil, poured out some in a cup and the little boy drank a large portion. He only lived about six and one half hours and suffered very much during this time. We extend sympathy to the bereaved ones.

For Commissioner, Prec. No. 4.

G. M. Foster, of Vanderpool, announces this week as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner, Precinct No. 4. Mr. Foster is qualified to discharge the duties of that office and if he is elected he will be painstaking and careful to look after the interests of the county. He has lived in the Vanderpool region for forty years, is well and favorably known to all of the voters and respectfully solicits their support and influence in the race.

Memorial Services at Boerne.

Memorial Day will be fittingly observed at Boerne next Sunday, when it is planned to conduct memorial services at the cemetery there, in which veterans of the Civil War, Spanish-American War, and the World War will participate. Quite a number of Bandera people are arranging to attend the ceremonies.

Mrs. Dave Watson Dead.

L. B. Keese, of Medina, received a telegram Monday announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. Mattie Watson at Los Adimas, Colorado. Her death was due to heart trouble and pneumonia. The remains were shipped to Medina, and will arrive there this morning, and burial will take place at the Goodman cemetery.

Mrs. Watson was about fifty years old. She lived at Medina many years, but left there a few years ago and for some time resided in the western states. Besides her husband, Dave Watson, and one daughter, Mrs. Piggott, she is survived by several brothers and sisters, L. B. Keese, W. G. Keese, O. D. Keese, Mrs. D. B. Seale and Mrs. Gus Pinney, all of Medina.

Home Destroyed by Fire.

The home of J. M. Moffett at Medina was totally destroyed by fire last Tuesday afternoon, including all of the household furnishings. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a defect in the flue. The house, which was a large and commodious building, occupied a beautiful location on an eminence across the river from Medina. We understand the loss is partially covered by insurance.

Bandera Wins Again.

Bandera Invincibles won the victory by a score of 6 to 5 when bats were crossed with the Center Point baseball team on the local diamond last Sunday. The Bandera team goes to Boerne next Sunday to play the Boerne boys.

Curtain in Place.

The beautiful curtain and stage setting for the High School auditorium arrived last Thursday and was put in place in time for the class play Thursday night, The Parent-Teacher Association is to be commended for securing the needed equipment.

John McNaughton and little son were in from Hicks' Creek Tuesday.

Mrs. E. Hammond and son, Sidney, of Medina, attended the monument unveiling here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Browning and Joe Newcomer came down from Medina Sunday to witness the unveiling ceremonies.

T. W. Turner, of Helotes, was an appreciated visitor at the New Era office yesterday. Mr. Turner says he will be here to attend the old settlers' reunion in July.

The Monument Unveiled.

Simple, but impressive ceremonies last Sunday marked the unveiling of the monument to the twenty-three Bandera county boys who lost their lives in the World War. Fully three thousand people gathered from all parts of the county to witness the unveiling. The parade formed at the high school building at 2 o'clock and, headed by Sheriff Henry Stevens as marshal of the day, marched through the streets to the court house square where stands the monument. In the parade came the flag bearer and escort, furnished by the Joe Borland Post American Legion of Boerne, then four World War veterans bearing wreaths of evergreen, then the 21st Infantry Band of nineteen pieces from Fort Sam Houston, then a half hundred ex-service men, then the firing squad from the Joe Borland Post, then the school children of Bandera High School, Winan's Creek school, and when the parade reached the court house square the children of St. Joseph's parochial school, who had marched up and were waiting, fell into line. After the school children came the many automobiles carrying citizens of the town and county.

When the parade reached the court house square the children were formed in a hollow square and stood at attention. J. Marvin Hunter, master of ceremonies, announced the program which was as follows:

Flag Raising and salute. The flag was raised by Dee Chipman and Fred Mansfield, who were in the army and navy in the great war. As the flag was being raised the band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

Hon. Brian Montague, a Bandera county raised boy, son of Mrs. Chas. Montague, and himself a World War veteran, delivered the memorial address. Mr. Montague knew most of the boys to whose memory this monument was erected, and he spoke tenderly and feelingly of the sacrifice they had made, and the patriotism of the true American boys in that great conflict. His address was full of pathos and tenderness and touched a responsive chord in the hearts of every one within the sound of his voice. As he called each name on the monument little girls dressed in white tenderly laid evergreen wreaths at the base of the monument. The little girls who placed these wreaths were: Margaret Davenport, Blanche Adamietz, Loy Ellen Davenport, Lorna Coughran, Edith North, Lucile Gray, Elsie Lee Fox, Willa Brooks Hicks, Eva Gossett, Dorothy Eckhart, Cleo Thallman, Maurine White, Evelyn Stevens, Luella Hanselman, Mary Pyka, Argie Postert, Susan Kalka, Evelyn Pyka, Lela Thalmann, Mary Ellen Anderwald, Argie Maureen Fay Burns, Bessie Ruth Schmidtke.

Standing at the four corners of the monument were four ex-service men, R. Lee Walker, William Hagar, William Anderwald and Homer Stevens, with a Red Cross nurse, Mrs. Frank M. Montague, standing silently, and reverently in the shadow of the great slab whereon was graven the names of the fallen heroes.

Miss Myra Jennette Hunter then removed the veil from the monument and displayed to the great throng the memorial to our heroic dead. At the top of the stone appears two flags, and the following names:

LESLIE BOWNDS.
ERNEST POLVADO.
SAM CLARK.
OSCAR BABY.
JAMES POLVADO.
RAYMOND ECKHART.
TWIGG L. WOOD.
EDDIE BURLESON.
ROY HINDS.
CARL A. MERO.
HENRY BAUMER.
NEWT PETTY.
NATHAN BAKER.
CHARLIE EVANS.
JOHN V. KALKA.
BLAKE DAVIS.

Under these names appears the inscription, "Greater Love Hath No Man Than This, That He Lay Down His Life for His Friends."

Following the uncovering of the monument a silence of one minute was enjoined throughout the assembly in memory of the boys who made the supreme sacrifice.

The band then played "America," which was followed by the benediction by Chaplain Braisted.

Three volleys were then fired by the Boerne Firing Squad, after which came "Taps," by the bugler.

Taken all in all, this was a most solemn and patriotic occasion. In the troublous days of 1917, when the whole world was ablaze with military activity, Bandera county called out her boys to go forth to battle for liberty. We did not know, we could not see who or how many of our precious boys would never return to us. Our mothers and fathers gave, and in the giving murmured not. Little did we think that twenty-three of these noble boys would make the supreme sacrifice. But the same patriotic spirit which has ever dwelt in the breasts of the true American parent, consoled and comforted the broken hearts when the names of our boys were found in the "killed in action" as the lists began to come in. Oh, that awful war, that hell that sprang out of the ambition of a tyrant's cruel soul! Today, with bowed heads, we do honor to those boys who went "over there." They won the war, at awful cost, but they did it and their names will be honored through the ages. Every passer-by who beholds that beautiful monument will be inspired by the lofty courage of our boys, and oncoming generations will keep green the memory of the sacrifice they have made. To them this monument was erected in love and veneration.

Hardin Tobin, of Hunt, was a visitor in the city Sunday.

Uncle Jim Miller Dead.

J. W. Miller, a highly respected and esteemed citizen residing near Utopia, died last Saturday, and was buried Sunday. Mr. Miller was about 70 years old, and had resided in that section many years. He was an uncle to Miss Lois Miller, who taught in Bandera High School. Mr. Miller was a bachelor and lived alone. He had been in poor health for some time, but his condition was not regarded serious. His passing is deeply regretted by all who knew him.

Died From Poisoning

T. L. Hollowell, aged 57, died early last Thursday morning from strychnine poisoning, whether intentionally self-administered or taken by mistake is unknown. Drs. Butler and Erwin were called soon after his condition was discovered, but the deadly poison had done its work, and he died within a very short time.

Mr. Hollowell came to Bandera with his family only a short time ago, and rented the Cravey place on Bandera Creek. He is survived by his wife and ten children, who have the sympathy of the entire community. Rev. R. J. Gossett and R. N. Hicks conducted the funeral services at the home last Saturday evening, and the body was then shipped to Russellville, Arkansas, the old home of the deceased, for burial.

Little Child Drinks Kerosene

The 16-months-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Curtis of Medina died Monday night from drinking kerosene. It seems that Monday afternoon, while the child's mother was temporarily out of the room, another little child about three years old, got hold of the kerosene in a cup, probably thinking it was water. The baby's screams brought the mother to see what was the matter, and a physician was promptly summoned, and all that medical skill could suggest was done to save the little one but without avail. The mother is prostrated with grief over the tragedy.

A Narrow Escape.

Lula, the twelve year old Neal had a narrow escape from serious injury Tuesday when her dress caught on a revolving shaft in the ice factory. The little miss was carried around the shaft several times before W. D. Leonard, the colored fireman, could release her. Her clothing was stripped from her body, and a nice new dress ruined, but she miraculously escaped the slight est injury.

District Court.

District court convened in Bandera Monday, with Judge L. J. Brueks on the bench. The grand jury was empaneled and after receiving the judge's charge immediately entered upon its investigations. Composing the grand jury are R. S. Smith, foreman; W. R. Fletcher, W. M. Wallace, C. H. Moore, C. B. Corley, A. V. Pue, L. Hicks, R. S. Harper, Taylor Burns, Tom McBryde, Otto Weltner, C. B. McClows. The bailiffs are Johnnie Anderwald, Ben Faris and Gervis Carmichael.

One divorce case was heard Tuesday, Mrs. Treva Logsdon vs. J. D. Logsdon; divorce granted.

The petit jury was empaneled Tuesday morning, and later released until Thursday morning.

The grand jury adjourned yesterday after finding two bills, one for assault and battery and one for theft of hogs.

Mrs. Alex Haby Dead

The San Antonio Express of last Thursday reports the death of Mrs. Alex Haby of Rio Medina, in the 54th year of her age. Mrs. Haby was a sister to Charles Schott of near Pipe Creek. She leaves seven children, besides her husband, several brothers, two sisters, and a host of other relatives and friends to mourn her death. The New Era extends condolence and sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Ed Zinsmeister Dead.

Ed Zinsmeister, aged 72, died at Castroville May 16, after a long illness. He was a brother to Henry Zinsmeister of this county, and was known to many of our people. Our sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

George C. Miller, of Marathon, arrived yesterday on a visit to his brother, J. A. Miller. He will spend several days here.

Miss Laura Duffy, Miss Victoria Montague, and Mrs. A. P. Beckers were here from San Antonio Sunday for the unveiling ceremonies.

Mrs. H. L. Carpenter, Misses Sue and Daisy Belle Carpenter, and R. B. Carpenter, of West Prong, and Misses Daisy and Pauline Pue of Medina, were here Sunday for the unveiling.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Whisenhunt and Mrs. Kate Whisenhunt, were here from Laxson's Creek Sunday to attend the unveiling of the heroes' monument.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Stein and pretty little daughter were in from Mason Cfeek yesterday and visited the New Era office. Mr. Stein renewed his subscription to the little old home paper.

Let's not forget to make preparations now for the County Fair which is to be held from August 20, 21 and 22. This year's fair should be the largest and best we have ever held.

The next thing on the program for the big reunion of the Old Settlers of Bandera county will be held July 2nd and 3rd. Every body is coming to the big reunion.

In referring to the visit of the writers to Bandera the early part of the last week the San Antonio Express stated that the writers first time Bandera's beauties have been placed on canvas. This is an error. Both Mr. Taylor and Julian Onderdonk, both famous artists as well as local amateurs, have painted scenes of Bandera, which is known to have no place in Texas of lovelier scenery and in public buildings in different parts of the country Bandera's glorious charms and beauty will tempt the artist and many scenes which were painted by the pencil of Leon Arpa will help to tell the noble world of our picturesque region.

The monument to our Bandera county boys who gave their lives in their country's cause in the World War is now a reality. It was unveiled last Monday with solemn and appropriate ceremonies. A large crowd of man and woman in Bandera is proud of that beautiful monument. Much that patriotic committee, the New Era has labored long and unceasingly for the erection of this monument to our heroic dead, and now that the closing task is finished, the monument stands as a silent sentinel over all our public square. But the New Era's work is not finished. We want to see the spot chosen for the location of this monument converted into a beautiful park surrounded by substantial iron fence. Let's plant shade and ornamental trees, flowers, an shrubbery there, and make that a real beauty spot. If you are with us in this undertaking put say the word.

When Hon. Brian Montague of Del Rio ascended the platform last Sunday afternoon to deliver the memorial address at the unveiling of the monument to Bandera county's heroic soldier boys who gave their lives in the great World War, we knew there would fall from his lips a message of consolation to the heavy hearts there, a tribute to the lofty patriotism and courage of the immortal twenty-three, and an eloquent plea for true Americanism. And we were not disappointed. His address was all of that, and more. It was one of the most stirring and patriotic speeches ever made in this county, full of reverence, obedience, gratitude, veneration, love of country, respect for the flag, home and people, touchingly sympathetic, full of pathos and tenderness. It was a gem of sound reasoning, a tribute to fallen comrades by a Bandera boy who went "over there" and shared the awful conflict in which our heroes lost their lives. Only expressions of praise and gratitude of Mr. Montague's stirring speech have been heard on all sides.

Do you read Frontier Times?

THANKS

Warren for the handsome monument to the city of San Antonio for transporting the monument from that city to Bandera, free of charge to everyone who contributed free labor, wagons, teams and trucks for the building of the foundation and base of the monument, to those who prepared the grounds for the dedication ceremony in Shelton Stevens and his four marshals for conducting the parade to the Chapman and Military Band of Fort Sam Houston, to our own splendid ex-service men, to the American Legion of Bandera county, to every school child, to every citizen, waking and in turn, to every little flower girl, to the soldiers at the flag and monument, to the nurse to Miss Hunter, to Mr. Hunter to every one who assisted with the sale of poppies at Medina, Tarpley and Bandera, but most especially to every Gold Star Father and Mother, we take this method of thanking you and assuring you of our sincere appreciation.

Gratefully,

THE COMMITTEE.

For Commissioner, Precinct No. 1.

Herman Harper of this city announces this week as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Precinct No. 1. Mr. Harper is now serving as Justice of the Peace of this precinct, having been appointed to that office some time ago. He is well known to all of the voters, and if elected to the office to which he aspires he will make a good commissioner. He possesses the qualifications necessary to fill that office, is painstaking and careful, and will appreciate your vote and good will in the coming November election.

Expression of Gratitude.

We take this means to express our gratitude to our many friends who so kindly assisted us during the last illness of our husband and father; also for the beautiful floral offerings.—Mrs. J. C. Collins and Family.

"There is a Reason"

The Storm Battle.

The storm battle which was to take place at Bandera Pass last Friday, did not take place in the pass, as it had been rumored, but resulted only in skirmishing and maneuvers, in the vicinity of the Cheney and Stevens places two or three miles this side of Bandera. There was quite a crowd of people from all sections of the county gathered at Bandera Pass to observe the maneuvers, many of whom were disappointed "big fight" did not come off according to their expectations. But it was worth all the trouble to get there and see what little we had, to see the big army of six thousand men march through Bandera Pass on their way to camp, and Mr. Kerrville over the crossing accident occurred in the Pass, when an ambulance was overturned, and one private was so seriously injured, it is reported that he has since died from his injuries.

The army, who marched to Kerrville by way of Boerne and Comfort last week, 1,000 in number, came over to Bandera Thursday, arriving Thursday afternoon there. The 2,000 troops encamped here and Thursday went on to participate in the battle at Fredericksburg, Kerrville, and returned to Fort Sam Houston by way of Comfort and Boerne.

While in Bandera these troops were orderly and seemed to greatly enjoy themselves in our city.

Entertainment at St. Joseph's School.

A delightful entertainment was given at the St. Joseph's school auditorium last Friday night, marking the close of the term of that school. An interesting program of dialogues, recitations and music was rendered in a most pleasing manner, and the large audience was delighted with the entire program.

The Class Play.

One of the best arranged and properly presented plays a Bandera audience has been delighted with for some time was the class play, "Safety First," at the High School auditorium last Thursday night. A good house greeted the players, and the play which go to the Parent-Teachers' Association, amounted to about $40. Those who took part were Harold Wagner, Claude Fletcher, Harold Mansfield, Forest Ivey, Carl Freeman, Misses Evelyn Mansfield, Ruth Thallman, Lora Thallman, Thelma Surber and Rachel Hunter. The slender Turkish maiden and the Irish Cook Lady, Misses Thelma Surber and Rachel Hunter respectively, made decided hits with the audience, as did Harold Wagner and Claude Fletcher, the pranksters whose thirty-day vacation in Florida was in question. Everybody immensely enjoyed the play.

For County Treasurer.

Mrs. John F. Hodges announces this week as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Treasurer of Bandera County. Mrs. Hodges has faithfully discharged the duties of that office for several terms, and her work has been highly satisfactory to the public generally. She is always at her post of duty, her books are kept in the best order, and if there has ever been a complaint as to her service the New Era has not heard it. She asks another term at the hands of the voters, and if elected will continue to serve as in the past, efficiently and satisfactorily.

"The Little French Girl."

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Freeman were here from Mountain Home a few days the past week, guests of the editor's family. Pomp says there is nothing under the sun that can keep him from entering the pie eating contest at the old settler's reunion. He guarantees to hold a pie in each hand, eat both at the same time, and finish the delicious task before Jack Anderson or George Elam can get started.

Miss Ferne Burris, of San Antonio, spent several days the past week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harper.

To the Voters of the 38th Judicial District

Since my appointment to the office of District Judge for the 38th Judicial District to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Burney, my time has been so taken up with my official duties and the attending of my personal and professional affairs, that I have not been able to make proper acknowledgment of favors bestowed by the bar, the county officials and the people generally, whose splendid and practically unanimous endorsement resulted in my appointment.

I am a candidate for election to fill the unexpired term, and will be nominated in the primaries of the Democratic primary election on July 24, 1920.

Realizing the time is short and the opportunity so limited that it will scarcely be possible for me to demonstrate that I can satisfactorily fill the office, I ask for your votes. However, having been appointed, I feel that I am entitled to be elected to the office of District Judge, and I am going to vindicate the judgment and good opinion of the many friends who so generously endorsed me and secured the appointment for me.

I am making an earnest effort to measure up to the expectations of my friends, and I feel I can safely assure you that it will not be due to lack of an earnest and honest endeavor on my part if I fail in my capacity of presiding, and whatever of ability I may possess, will be unreservedly dedicated and unstintingly devoted to a faithful and conscientious discharge of the duties of the high office which I have the honor to fill through the kindness of the people, to the end that I may prove myself worthy of the confidence they reposed in me when they asked for my appointment. I respectfully solicit your vote and support.

Grandma Austin.

Mrs. Jessie E. (Dolley) Austin died at her home near Lima last Friday night at 9 o'clock, after an illness of several months. She was born February 19, 1855, being at the time of her death 71 years old. In 1872 she was married to J. G. Austin at Lampasas, Texas, and to this union nine children were born, five of whom are still living, and all were present at her bedside when the end came, Mrs. Lola Dale, Mrs. Ethel Sutton, W. G. Austin, J. W. Austin, all of Lima, and W. H. Austin of Twin Sisters, Texas. She had 17 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. For more than two years Grandma Austin has been paralyzed and unable to walk, but she was ever patient and bore her suffering with fortitude and uncomplainingly. Some years ago she came to Bandera county with her husband and children from Bergheim, Texas, and during her residence here made many friends. Some twenty nine years ago the New Era editor first met this good mother and for awhile was a boarder in her home. We knew her to be a woman possessed of those queenly graces which make home-life attractive, and we observed that she was kind and loving to her children and a devoted wife and helpmeet to her husband. She was a true Christian mother.

The funeral services were conducted at the Helms Cemetery near Lima last Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, by X. N. Mayberry., in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing friends.

Boosting Bandera.

"The Mormons settled Bandera and for three quarters of a century their descendants, augmented by other American pioneers and a colony of Polish farmers, have been living undisturbed in one of Texas' beauty spots.

"Less than 50 miles from San Antonio, the county seat, Bandera, is known to comparatively few San Antonians because the county has no railroads and until about three years ago was more inaccessible than counties hundreds of miles away. Three miles of bad road made a barrier across which only those who had urgent business in Bandera cared to cross. Meantime automobiles and paved roads in other directions started San Antonians traveling to other beauty spots so that even now, when it is possible to drive from San Antonio to Bandera in an hour and a half, there are still few visitors.

"This year Bandera, which has been free from invasions of tourists, had another kind of invasion which interested the citizens immensely. The art class of Jose Arpa, Spanish painter who makes San Antonio his home went to Bandera county for two weeks and every day scattered out over the hills and valleys sketching landscapes which add to beauty those to be found elsewhere in America.

"For the first time Bandera's beauties have been placed on canvas, but only some of them, for the Bandera hills have a beauty for every season of the year and change in attractiveness from day to day.

"Hills, clouds, trees, water, herds of sheep and goats, old stone and rail fences, buildings which were started more than half a century ago—there is a wealth of paintable material in Bandera county which kept the artists busy every minute of daylight.

"Nowhere else in Texas at this particular season are the skies bluer and clouds more attractive. Jose Arpa, instructor of the class, made many sketches and finished paintings developed from his visit will be exhibited by him over the country.

"Hospitable citizens of Bandera made the artists welcome and on the closing day of the camp, gave a rodeo and barbecue dinner in their guests. The work of the artists during the camp was exhibited in a hall in Bandera."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard de Montel of Camp Verde, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee de Montel of Mason Creek, were in the city Sunday for the unveiling ceremonies.

Report comes from Rocky Creek region that Davy Scale is feeding on boiled custard every day in order to get in good practice to gobble pie at the old settler's reunion.

Court Stenographer Rolla Taylor is here from San Antonio this week. Mr. Taylor informs us that the Artists' Guild, of which he is director, will hold its summer encampment at Leon Springs from June 1st to 15th.

The Medina-Bandera-San Antonio Bus Line made its initial run last Monday, and will maintain the following schedule: Leave Medina at 7:30 a. m., leave Bandera at 8:30 a. m., reach San Antonio at 10:30 a. m. Returning the bus leaves San Antonio at 3 p. m., reaches Bandera at 4:45 p. m., and arrives at Medina at 5:45 p. m. Manager Will Gray will give excellent service to patrons of the new line. Dock Curtis of Medina is driver.

Mr. Graham erected a similar monument to Kendall county's heroic dead a year or two ago, the monument now standing in Boerne.

Messrs. Ed Stewart and L. H. Baldwin, of Llano, were here last Sunday to attend the unveiling of the monument to the Bandera county soldier boys. The beautiful granite slab which now rests on our public square came from the Llano quarries, owned by these gentlemen, and they came to get acquainted with the people who placed it as a memorial to heroes.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Delbridge, of Edinburg, Texas, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Buck of Pipe Creek this week. These good people were residents of this section at one time, moving to the Rio Grande valley about twelve years ago. The company with Mr. Buck, Mr. Delbridge called at the New Era sanctum Monday and informed us that they were greatly enjoying their visit to this favored region.

Veteran Amasa Clark and his good wife occupied front seats at the unveiling of the monument to our soldier boys last Sunday. Veteran Clark is patriotic to the core; he served in the Mexican War and Confederate South, he gave his sons and grandsons to serve in the World War; one of his grandsons made the supreme sacrifice and his name appears on that monument. Hon. Press Montague, in his speech, paid a glowing tribute to this grand old man.

Miss Emily "Ruth" Rambie, a popular Bandera girl, and Miss Emma Ruth Buckner, former Bandera girl, were presented in recital by the Pine Art Department of the San Marcos Academy at San Marcos last Tuesday evening. These young ladies are diploma pupils of Rudolf Rieger. Appearing also in recital was Miss Fay Stoker, certificate pupil of Mrs. A. L. Ingram. The many Bandera friends of these young ladies are delighted with the progress they are making in their music studies.

They report a very interesting program, in which thirteen graduates participated, among whom was Olin Cavitt, a nephew of Mrs. McBryde.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Batson and little daughter, of Kerrville, were here last Friday and paid the office an appreciated visit. Mr. Batson is a student at the Sanitarium Institute. He informs us that he is compiling data for a history of Kerr county, and is collecting this material. He expects to visit several of the early settlers of Bandera county. Kerr county, like all of the other counties of this portion of the state, has made a wonderful lot of history, and we are glad Professor Batson has assumed the pleasing task of rescuing it from oblivion.

J. A. Miller has been quite ill at his home near town, but is now improving. We very much regret that Mr. Miller was unable to attend the unveiling ceremonies last Sunday as he had expected to do. Mr. and Mrs. Miller and their daughter, Miss Minnie Miller have taken an active interest in the movement to erect this monument from the time it first started, and we are sure the disappointment over being unable to attend is very keen. However, we hope Mr. Miller's condition will continue to improve and that he will soon be able to get about.

Will Baker Recovering.

Will M. Baker, who has been in a San Antonio hospital the past six or eight weeks, and underwent two serious operations, writes the New Era that he is now improving fast and hopes to soon be with his family and friends. This is indeed pleasing news, as Mr. Baker was very low for a time and his recovery was doubtful. His home is near Bluff.

Prof. L. L. McDonald and family left this week for Christine, where they will reside, and where Mr. and Mrs. McDonald will teach in the Christine High School next term. We regret to lose this excellent family from our midst, for during the two years they have lived in Bandera they have endeared themselves to our people. Both Mr. and Mrs. McDonald held positions in Bandera High School, as superintendent and assistant, respectively, and gave entire satisfaction in their work. The places were offered to them again, but better salaries were offered them at Christine, where they taught before coming to Bandera. The good wishes of all of our people go with them.

He has been in Missouri, and Oklahoma, and will go on to Moorings port, La. Says he has not made all of the roads yet, but hopes to do so before coming home a month hence.

Getting Ready for Reunion.

Ed Mansfield is about the busiest man in all these diggings these days, notwithstanding some other folks are busy too in harvesting and threshing the big oat crop. Mr. Mansfield is getting his premises in shape for the big reunion the Old Settlers of Bandera county will hold at Mansfield Park July 2nd and 3rd. He is having the ground cleared and comfortable seats provided for the people. Large platforms are to be constructed for dancing and other purposes, the rodeo grounds are being arranged for all of the sports that are to take place. Ice water will be provided, too, and the big barbecue to be enjoyed each day will be in charge of expert barbecue artists. If last year's reunion was a big success this year's reunion will be a bigger success, and Mr. Mansfield is leaving no stone unturned to bring it about.

Elmer Heinen, the fifteen-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Heinen, who live on the Lytle place near Bandera Pass, was bitten by a large rattlesnake on Wednesday evening of last week, and for a time was in a serious condition. Jesse Kutzer Injured.

Picture Show Tomorrow Night.

New Lodge at Medina.

District Manager, L. R. Watkins, of the Security Benefit Association, was here last week, and informs us that he has secured quite a flattering list of members for the new Security Benefit Council at Medina. He informs us that he will be in Medina this week and will complete the organization Saturday night, June 26th, and install the officers of the new council. With a new council in Bandera and a new council at Medina the Security Benefit members should have a royal good time in this section.

Woman Will Bull-dog Steer.

Forging to the Front

Every man in business wants to be successful. It is necessary, imperative, that he should; for unless he is, both he and community lose.

Character, ability and industry have an important bearing on success; so has the prestige accorded by one's bank associations.

For Law Enforcement.

The convention of the Texas Press Association at San Antonio last week went on record as favoring respect for and enforcement of these laws. When the weekly newspapers of Texas stand squarely behind a proposition it is usually brought to pass.

Veteran and Mrs. Amasa Clark went to San Antonio Friday to attend the reunion of the Pioneer Freighters' Association held in San Pedro Park in that city. Veteran Clark was scheduled to ride in a buckboard in the parade.

Prizes in Old Fiddlers' Contest.

The old fiddlers' contest at the reunion of the old settlers of Bandera County, July 2nd and 3rd, promises to be bigger than ever this year. The prizes offered are: First prize, a gold watch; second prize, open face watch; third prize, gold cuff links; fourth prize, box of cigars. Other prizes will include a bale of smoking tobacco, boxes of Prince Albert smoking tobacco and cob pipes, etc. Among the contestants will probably be Bob and Bruce Mayfield of Medina, the Owens brothers of Kerrville, John B. Lane of Voca, Will Maass, Tom Gray, Uncle Andy Jones, Charlie Schmidtke, Chas. Eckhart, of Bandera, John Adams of Tuff, Mr. Reavis of Vanderpool, and other noted knights of the bow. All contestants must be over fifty years old, and must play three tunes of their own selection. Now there may be some mentioned in this list who think they are not fifty years old, but we are guessing they are eligible.

For Your Convenience.

The New Era and Frontier Times will have a headquarters location near the main platform at the Old Settlers' Reunion July 2nd and 3rd, where you can pay your subscription to the little old home paper and to Frontier Times. Your Bank Can Help

Why is it that some individuals and firms can readily obtain money from a bank on unsecured notes while others cannot obtain loans at all—except, perhaps, by pledging ample collateral security?

Buying More Land.

Mrs. Leslie Hostess.

The Book-Lovers' Group of the Woman's Club met in final session in the club house in Camden Street the past week with Mrs. W. R. Sinclair and Mrs. R. F. Leslie as hostesses. Mrs. Sinclair told of the Taena-Aries plebiscite and gave a graphic description of the geographical situation as now exists in South America. Mrs. Leslie gave the story of "Padlocked" (Reis-kind), in a clear, comprehensive manner. Mrs. H. L. Hotchkiss, a guest, made a few remarks about woman's interest in civic affairs and in government. Several interesting political questions were discussed. Roses and larkspur in a silver basket veiled in pink malline and garlands of sweet peas in pastel shades formed an attractive centerpiece. Tall pink tapers and pink and green mints completed the color scheme. — San Antonio Evening News.

New Bus Line Popular.

Will Gray's new bus line from Medina via Bandera to San Antonio is growing in popular favor every day, due to the fact that Mr. Gray is giving splendid service and maintains a schedule which is convenient for people in Bandera and Medina to go to San Antonio, transact their business there and return the same day. The bus leaves Medina at 7:30 a. m., Bandera at 8:30 a. m., and reaches San Antonio at 10:45 a. m. The bus leaves San Antonio at 3 p. m. every day, except Saturday, when it leaves at 5 p. m. The Sunday schedule is the same as the week day schedule.

Dance at Medina.

Henry Adams is advertising a grand ball to be given at his home in Medina next Saturday night. Foster's Collegians, an eight-piece orchestra from San Antonio, will furnish the music. A concert will be given by this band on the streets of Medina Saturday afternoon.

Get Your Badge.

The Old Settlers' Reunion is only two weeks distant. If you have not yet paid your dues and secured your badge you should attend to it at once and not wait until the last minute. The badges are at Mrs. M. Hamilton's Cafe and Mrs. Dennis' Millinery store.

An Error Corrected.

In the write-up of the Thalmann-Hammond wedding, in last week's issue of the New Era, the name of Emogene Hammond appeared as one of the little flower girls. This was an error. The name should have been Emogene Canafax, the pretty little daughter of Mrs. J. T. Canafax. The New Era gladly makes the correction.

Leave for Home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. King left Monday for their home at Bartlesville, Oklahoma, after a delightful visit to Mrs. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Schmidtke. While here they visited Kerrville, Utopia and San Antonio.

How to Find a Buyer.

If you have an old sewing machine, an old stove, a few chairs, a pig, some chickens, an automobile, a saddle, or anything else to sell, a 25-cent want ad in the New Era will help you make a sale. Try it and be convinced.

Coming to Reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rippy, of Mt. Sharp, were here yesterday and Mr. Rippy informs us that he has pasturage for goats, sheep and cattle at his place sixteen miles from Blanco, with plenty of grass and water, and anyone wanting pasturage will do well to communicate with him. He says he and his family will attend the reunion of the old settlers of Bandera county July 2nd and 3rd.

Off on a Visit.

A challenge is hereby given to all comers to play our team (two) a three-bat-out-of-five game of pitching horseshoes twenty-one feet at stobs seven inches high, each team to furnish its own horseshoes. After these and various other games, supper will be served, and after supper, a literary program, consisting of current events, jokes, recitations, dialogues and music, is to be given. Come smiling.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE.

The local market is now being well supplied with watermelons from the sandy land region below San Antonio. The home crop of melons will soon be ripening and on the market.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker, of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hillman were guests in the Hillman home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. A. Keese had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Keese, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Keese and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tobey and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fee and children.

The farmers of this community are very glad to have the nice showers recently on corn and gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Miller have gone to Fredericksburg on a few days visit.

Parent-Teachers Elect.

At a regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association, the following officers were elected: Mrs. L. A. Mansfield, president; Mrs. J. E. Chisum, first vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Erwin, second vice-president; Mrs. John Bruce, third vice-president; Mrs. P. J. Langford, secretary; Mrs. Minnie Mansfield, treasurer.

Picture Show Friday Night.

The stirring Thomas Meighan picture, "Old Home Week," will be shown at the Bandera Theater tomorrow night. It is full of human interest, and will please you. Don't miss it.

Morning Bus Taken Off.

W. A. Gray requests us to announce that, until after July 1st, he will discontinue the morning bus service to San Antonio. He hopes to resume the service after the first of the month, when he will be able to devote his personal attention to the business.

More new watches and clocks at T. S. Dennis' Jewelry Store.

Delighted Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dosier, and children of Somerset, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Haas of Three Rivers, and Mr. Joe Smith of Somerset, were in Bandera yesterday morning and tarried awhile at the New Era office. They had been visiting Captain Seco Smith and wife at Medina and were returning home. They expect to return to this delightful region some other time soon when they hope to remain longer.

T. S. Dennis visited San Antonio last Tuesday.

Bitten by Snake.

Mrs. K. K. Stokes, of Medina, has been quite ill the past few days as a result of a supposed copperhead snake bite, which she received Wednesday night of last week when she stepped out into her yard. She felt a sharp sting and hurrying into the house she applied such remedies as she had at hand until medical treatment was obtained. She is getting along nicely now, and will soon be fully recovered.

To Go On Sight-Seeing Trip.

Miss Emma Hodges leaves this week for Birmingham, Alabama, where she will join the Elliott Tour for a sight-seeing trip to Savanah, Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, New York, Albany, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Canada, and back via Detroit and Cincinnati. The journey will include steamer trips on the Atlantic, around Manhattan Island, on the Hudson River, and across Lake Ontario. Miss Emma will be absent several weeks.

Oat Crop Large.

Due to the large oat crop just harvested in this county the price has declined to around 28 cents per bushel. Not many farmers are selling at this low price, but prefer to feed the grain to their own stock. Oats hogs will bring the grower better than fifty cents per bushel in the long run. Raise more hogs.

Bandera Wool Sale.

The Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers' Association this week sold its accumulation of wool, eight and twelve months clip to J. N. Reeves, representing Draper & Co. of Boston, at 27 cents to 35 cents per pound, in other words 135,000 pounds of eight months wool brought 27 cents per pound, and 25,000 pounds of twelve months wool brought 35 cents per pound. In view of the general decline in wool prices during the past three weeks, this is considered a satisfactory price, and better than storing longer or shipping on consignment.

Manager Fred Thalmann informs us that during the past twelve months the Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association has handled over 500,000 pounds of wool and mohair for the sheep and goat raisers of this county, these products representing more than a quarter of a million dollars in value, which has been put in circulation through the co-operative efforts of the association.

The wool sold this week will be shipped to Boston from Center Point early next week.

Fine Rains.

Splendid rains have fallen throughout the county during the past week, coming at a time when a big oat crop has just been harvested, and proving of special benefit to corn which is now ripening.

When Sheriff Stevens took him in tow the asylum authorities were notified and sent an attendant after him.

Delightful Birthday Celebration.

A double birthday celebration was held at the home of W. J. Mass last Saturday night, the occasion being in celebration of the birthday anniversary of both Mr. and Mrs. Pete Anderwald. A delicious meal was served and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. A fine time is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderwald's birthdays happen to fall on the same day, June 25th, and the three event which gathered at the Mass home honored Mrs. Anderwald's father, W. J. Mass, gave testimony of the high esteem in which this couple is held by their friends. When the hour arrived to serve, Mr. and Mrs. Anderwald were surrounded by the crowd and walked to the center of the room, the former carrying the huge birthday cake with lighted candles, and all joined hands and before blowing out the candles each person made a wish, the chief wish being that the couple would have many more birthdays together and be with their friends that surrounded them. The cake was a snow white coconut cake trimmed with fruit and bergamot blossoms. Refreshments of cake, coffee and lemonade were served to about seventy-five guests, who departed at a late hour declaring they had a most delightful time. Mr. and Mrs. Anderwald received many beautiful and useful presents for which they are very grateful to their friends.

Character, ability and industry have an important bearing on success; so has the prestige accorded by one's bank associations.

Why is it that some individuals and firms can readily obtain money from a bank on unsecured notes while others cannot obtain loans at all—except, perhaps, by pledging ample collateral security?

For Tax Assessor.

J. R. Chisum announces in this issue of the New Era as a candidate for reelection to the office of Tax Assessor of Bandera county. Mr. Chisum has served in this capacity a number of terms and his work has been so efficient and satisfactory to the people that anything we might say in reference to his ability would be just that everybody knows and is therefore unnecessary for us to tel l our readers that he has made the best tax assessor Bandera county has had in many years, and that he is always painstaking and courteous in the discharge of his duties, all of which is true. If re-elected Mr. Chisum will continue to serve to the best of his ability, which means that he will fill the office to the satisfaction of the people.

Married Monday.

Floyd Hamilton and Miss Nina Belle Hand surprised their many friends by going over to Boerne and getting married last Monday. These are worthy young people of our community and have a host of friends. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, and was raised here. The bride is a niece to T. S. Dennis of this city and has made her home here the past two years. She is an excellent young lady of charming personality. The New Era joins in congratulations and best wishes.

Road Hog Does Damage.

A heavy car going at a high speed jammed into a Dodge roadster driven by W. D. Smithers, San Antonio photographier, down on the San Antonio road last Saturday evening and demolished a trunk containing several cameras and other photographic equipment. The road hog did not stop, but continued on in the direction of Bandera. The cameras were smashed to pieces, and Mr. Smithers' loss will amount to several hundred dollars. Fortunately, Mr. Smithers and Mr. Davis, a reporter for the San Antonio Light, escaped injury.

Sells a Good Book.

Hal S. Hudspeth is now selling the popular book, "The Trail Drivers' of Texas," compiled and published under direction of George W. Saunders, president of the Old Time Trail Drivers' Association. The book was first published in two volumes and sold for $7.00 per volume, but has recently been republished in one large volume of nearly 1,000 pages by the Cokesbury Press of Nashville, Tennessee. The book contains an authentic history of the cattle trail days, the narratives of the old trail drivers being full of interest to every person interested in the history of Texas. The new volume sells at $3.00 and is worth every cent of the price. Send your order to Mr. Hal S. Hudspeth, Bandera, Texas.

To Undergo An Operation.

Mrs. W. H. Whitehead, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Willie Mae Whitehead, and Miss Frankie Cox of Dallas, called at the New Era yesterday to order the little old home paper sent to her at Port Arthur. Mrs White-head informed us that she would go to the hospital in San Antonio for a minor operation tomorrow. Her many friends hope she will make good recovery.

Ladies Judge Contest.

The judges in the old fiddlers contest at the reunion were Mrs. Mattie Jones, Mrs. Harriet Chipman and Mrs. Mina Gibbons. This is the first time an old fiddlers' contest here has been judged by the ladies, but their decision was rendered as satisfactorily as any men could have rendered it.

Bandera Won Again.

In the game of baseball played on the local diamond last Sunday between the Second Division team from Fort Sam Houston and Bandera Invincibles, the home team won by a score of 9 to 5.

Married Thursday.

Homer Mansfield and Miss Lillie Ramsey were married at Kerrville last Thursday, and came over to Bandera on their honeymoon. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mansfield, and was born and raised in Bandera, where he has many friends. He is a splendid young man of good habits and quiet manners, and will prove a good husband. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey of near Junction, is an excellent young lady, and highly esteemed by all who know her. They will make their home on the Pete Ragen farm near Center Point. The New Era joins in congratulations and best wishes for their happiness and prosperity.

Bus Service On Again.

Will Gray has resumed his bus service from San Antonio to Bandera, maintaining the same schedule and rates as a few weeks ago. Mr. Gray will give his personal attention to the business.

Will Hold Primary.

County Chairman W. R. Fletcher informs us that the democratic party in this county will endeavor to hold a primary election on July 24th. Only names of candidates for state and district offices will appear on the ballot, as our county candidates are running through to the general election in November.

Old Setlers Re-Elect Officers.

At the business meeting of the Bandera County Old Settlers' Association, held last Saturday, all of the old officers were re-elected, as follows: J. E. Browning, president; Gus Reinarz, vice-president; Mrs. Chas. Eckhart, secretary-treasurer. The executive committe includes Mrs. Mattie Jones, Mrs. U. H. Mansfield, Ernest Kindla, W. E. Mansfield, and J. M. Hunter. It was the sense of the meeting that some steps should be taken to reduce the membership dues from one dollar to fifty cents per annum, and a vote was taken in the matter. It now remains for the executive committee to sum up and ascertain if the proposed reduction will materially affect the organization and will be sufficient to meet the financial requirements of the association. It is found by the committee that such a reduction is unwise it will not be made.

Baptist Meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shanklin, Mrs. W. J. Cleveland, Joe Cleveland and Misses Bell Kucharczyk and Margaret Mahaffey of Gonzales who are visiting relatives here, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Anderwald.

Forging to the Front

Every man in business wants to be successful. It is necessary, imperative, that he should be successful in both he and community lose.

Character, ability and industry have an important bearing on success; so has the prestige accorded by one's bank associations.

Splendid Rodeo Feature.

The rodeo feature at the old settlers' reunion, arranged and conducted by W. E. Mansfield on each day of the reunion, kept the big crowd interested and was highly praised by all who witnessed it. Roping and riding of steers, and bull-dogging furnished plenty of sport and excitement, the chief attraction being the bull-dogging of a steer from the running board of a speeding Chevrolet automobile, which act was performed by Mrs. L. L. Davis. Roping of a number of Spanish goats proved so easy for the ropers because these goats were swift runners and hard to catch. Mr. Mansfield will take his rodeo stock and riders to Boerne to the Old Settlers' Reunion to be held there July 17th and 18th.

Ford Demonstration.

Walter Epperson, of the Paine Motor Co. of Boerne, was here last Friday and Saturday giving a demonstration of the new Ford cars. Another substantial reduction has recently been made in the price of Fords, the reduction amounting to about $45 per car, and they are fully equipped with balloon tires, etc.

Fords Selling Fast.

Herbert A. Paine, of the Paine Motor Co., was over from Boerne last Thursday to deliver a new Ford touring car to a Bandera purchaser. Mr. Paine reports considerable activity in Ford sales since the last reduction in price, and that many sales are being made in this county and in Kendall county. The reduction averages $45 per car, the new Fords being standard equipment with baloon tires, etc.

Run Over by Auto.

Lawrence, the thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Pue, was run over by an automobile on the reunion grounds last Saturday, but fortunately escaped serious injury. He was painfully bruised about the body, and at first was thought to be hurt internally, but is all right now.

Camp Meeting.

An old time camp meeting, the preaching to be done under a brush arbor, will be conducted by the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints, beginning on July 16 and closing July 25th. The arbor will be located on the Loop, near the river, at Bandera. Elder J. Chas. May, of Kerrville City, and other prominent speakers will be heard. Everybody invited.

Gashed With Hog Tusk.

Ben Gerdes and children, Miss Evelyn, Stanley and Lester, were in from East Verde yesterday. Mr. Gerdes came in for treatment for an ugly wound on the arm caused by a vicious hog. The animal's tusks ripped an ugly gash which required seven stitches to close.

Aleen Making Good.

Miss Aleen Stevens, former linotype operator in the New Era office, came up to visit home folks over Sunday. She has been holding a position as linotype operator on the Pleasanton Express, and has been making good there. Miss Aleen is an excellent girl, and we valued her services most highly. It is quite possible that she will accept a good position in San Antonio which has been offered her.

Arm Broken.

"Oklahoma Slim," a young man who rode in the rodeo at Mansfield Park during the Old Settlers' reunion, was thrown by a wild steer last Friday afternoon and sustained a broken arm, which required him unable to give further performance. It is the regret of the crowds who admired his daring feats of riding.

Fourth of July Visitors.

Among the visitors at the home of Captain and Mrs. Ben Batto last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mandry and children, Mrs. Mary Underhill, Mrs. Hartwell, Ed Pytel, Paul Hehn, Mr. Dorsey, all of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ziegenbalg and family of Hondo, and Cooper Batto of Lattimore. The party enjoyed a splendid Fourth of July dinner given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Batto, Mrs. Hartwell, who is a specialist in the treatment of cancer, visited and cured Captain Batto of this dread affliction some time ago, removing the cancer completely, and her presence in the party added much to the pleasure of Captain and Mrs. Batto on this occasion.

Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Anderwald entertained with a family reunion supper Monday night in honor of their relatives from Gonzales, who are spending the week here. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shanklin, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cleveland and son Joe, Misses Bell Kucharczyk and Margaret Mahaffey, all of Gonzales, Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Abois and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Anderwald and son Raymond, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Anderwald and family. The supper was a very much enjoyed as there was plenty of fried chicken, salads and cakes and everything, and all went away happy.

Enters Upon Mail Contract.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nobles have left from San Antonio, and Monday and paid this office an appreciated visit. Mr. Nobles is the new contractor for the Bandera San Antonio mail line, and entered upon his duties last Thursday. He has a large Chevrolet truck built for carrying passengers, mail and baggage, and will make regular schedule time. Mr. Nobles has an ad in the New Era, giving the schedule and fare on the mail line, and will appreciate your patronage and will give careful attention to all business entrusted to his care.

Mrs. J. E. Calhaun was here from San Antonio to attend the reunion.

Underwent Operation.

Miss Ruby Barnett, formerly Miss Ruby Langford of this city, recently underwent a serious operation at Del Rio. Her many friends here will be glad to know she is getting along nicely. Her mother, Mrs. B. F. Langford, Sr., will leave soon for Del Rio next week to visit her.

Visitors at Moravietz Home.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moravietz during last week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Moravietz, Rosa Lee Moravietz, Alois Moravietz, Frank Moravietz, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kowalik and son, Mrs. Elben Kowalik and son, Virgil Kowalik and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Moravietz and children of Helson; Mrs. Anton Kolodziej, Miss Celia Kolodziej, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Pieper, Miss Eugenia Ploch, E. J. Degen, Major Mack, and Mrs. Frances Dureczki, all of San Antonio. A delightful family reunion was held.

The Chevrolet Most Popular

Mrs. L. L. Davis has been building quite a reputation for some time from different makes of automobiles, and she finds the Chevrolet the most satisfactory in her performances. It gets off faster, turns shorter, hugs ground closer, and in fact is the best car on the market for this line of work. She wishes to thank Mr. Frank H. Mansfield, local salesman, for courtesies shown during the rodeo at the Bandera Old Settlers' Reunion, and takes pleasure in recommending the Chevrolet car to any one who wants a car for any purpose, riding or bull-dogging.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

It was a rare treat to many of our old timers to hear Captain John Lane, who is now past the 80th year of his age, play the old time tunes on his old fiddle at the old settlers' reunion last Friday and Saturday. There are men and women living throughout this section whose grandfathers and grandmothers danced to John Lane's fiddling in their youthful days. The old veteran is still exacts active and can fetch music from a fiddle in such a way that, as one man expressed it, "would cause a dead man, if he had not been dead over two days, to wiggle his toes."

Mr. and Mrs. George Bradford, Ben Ellis, Joe Benton and daughter, were here from Menard to attend the reunion. Mr. Benton lived in this county many years ago, and his old friends, of whom there is a host, were glad to see him once more. The editor has known Mr. and Mrs. Bradford and Mr. Ellis for forty years, and we were mighty glad to see them once more and to know that the years have dealt kindly with them. Their children are now grown and are occupying places of influence in the state and are honored and esteemed wherever they live.

Capt. Seco Smith's many friends were glad to greet him at the reunion last Friday. Captain Smith, who is now in his 91st year, is getting quite feeble, but his mind is clear and he talks very interestingly of early day events.

Captain and Mrs. Eli Loyd of the Divide region, were here for the old settlers' reunion. Captain Loyd was a participant in the noted battle of Packsaddle Mountain and received wounds in that fight with the Indians. He and his good wife recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, and are now receiving the good wishes and congratulations from many friends.

Captain J. W. Walker, of Laxson's Creek, was in attendance at the old settlers' reunion, and had the pleasure of mingling with many old time friends there. Captain Walker has resided in Bandera county many long years, and has had a part in the development of the county and changing it from a wilderness to the garden spot it is of today. He has the distinction of having herded the government camels kept at Camp Verde in the early sixties, and now has in his possession a bell worn by the leader of the camel herd.

Another reunion of the old settlers of Bandera county has passed into history. For the third time old settlers have come together to meet and greet each other and to talk over the old days of long ago. It was a great gathering and will be remembered by those who were there. The old time dancing, the old time music, the log calling contest, the milk-soaking contest, the cow calling contest, the pie-eating contest, the riding and roping, the quilting party, all combined to furnish plenty of amusement and sport for the old folks and young folks too. Now that the reunion is over, we are all going to buckle down to make the Bandera County Fair, to be held August 26, 27 and 28, another successful undertaking.

Making Highway Maps.

T. J. Rock, of the Rock Map Co. of Houston, spent the past two weeks in Bandera county, engaged in making new highway maps of this county. Col. Rock called at this office while here and we found him to be a very pleasant, affable gentleman. He is traveling in his special make automobile, which is fitted up as a comfortable home. The map he is making of this county will show the highways, roads, streams, inlets, lakes, hamlets and abstract numbers. He expressed his appreciation for the valuable assistance rendered him by Tax Assessor J. E. Chisum and others, and says he will have this map ready for the market soon. Mr. Rock is delighted with this picturesque region and said it would be a fine thing if we had here a State Park and Game Preserve, predicting that if we should establish such that in a very few years we would have one of the best hunting and fishing regions in the state, as well as a spot which would be visited by thousands of people annually.

Captain John Lane, the old fiddler, accompanied by Uncle Bill McCaleb and Seth Whetstone, came over from Noxville to attend the old settlers' reunion. Captain Lane furnished old time fiddle music for the entertainment of the crowds and was the center of attraction while here. Knew him at London, in Kimble county, when folks dispensed the real old time West Texas hospitality and loved their neighbors according to the Biblical injunction.

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

The County Fair is coming on. The fair this year should be the best ever held, due to the fact that our crops are splendid this season, an abundance of everything being raised. We look for a large crowd to be in attendance from all parts of the county, and agricultural and live stock exhibits to be worth seeing. Also in the various ladies department, the jams, preserves, pickles and the canned fruits exhibited will be found much of interest to all who visit the fair. The dates are August 26, 27 and 28.

The banks of the Medina river, from the lake to its source, are becoming a favorite resort and tourists and home folks who live on its banks have come to our editorial office to complain of the boys making so much noise with their bathing suits. The depth of water is just right for gentle breezes to ripple and for swimming in the early morning and evening, and the shade and nature under the trees is delightful, while the sand is marvelously clean. Why not go down this way. To the editor it seems a rare boon, and to the boys it is a joy forever.

During the past week we have had here on July 2nd and 3rd a number of cattle buyers, and it is a matter of common comment that considerable interest was taken in the sale of the old settlers' stock. H. E. Bowman was the best purchaser and most liberal in attendance. The following remarks are being handled by the evangelist in this meeting. Subjects: "Salvation Through Recovery." "Can a Believer in Christ Go to N. H. Rose, for $15, San Antonio Hell?" "Saved from Blood by Blood."

EVANGELIST R. T. DEEL

Evangelist R. T. Deel, of San Antonio, began a revival meeting at the Baptist church in Medina last Friday night, and is holding able preaching. Rev. Deel is a forceful speaker and good crowds are coming out to hear him. The following subjects are being handled by the evangelist in this meeting:

"The Biggest Hypocrite I Know."

"The Unpardonable Sin."

"Messages of the Dying Thief."

"Face to Face with Christ."

The public generally is invited to attend these services. Come and enjoy a real spiritual treat.

Rev. Deel recently conducted a good meeting with the First Baptist church in San Antonio. He has held meetings at various places with good results.

"There is a Reason"

From Paul Baxter.

Mr. Editor—Allow me to make a statement in regard to the coming election. Under our democratic form of government it is a sacred duty of every citizen, to go to the polls and vote for all officers, from constable up, otherwise you may not be assured that all the rascals will be on hand, and if you sleep on your rights and don't vote you are helping to elect unfavorable men to office, then you have no kick coming. Of course women have a right to vote, but as they are not, but permit me to express my humble opinion in regard to women. I think that a good woman is the best thing in the world, but a bad woman is the meanest thing. Be careful how you vote.—Respectfully,

PAUL BAXTER,
Fredericksburg, Texas.

Many of our people will attend the Old Settlers' Reunion at Boerne Saturday and Sunday. This is the first reunion to be held by the old settlers of Kendall county since they organized the association last year. A splendid program has been arranged, with a good barbecue each day, and it is expected that a large crowd will be in attendance. El Mansfield, of Bandera, has charge of the sports features and of the big barbecue, and we know the multitude will be fed and entertained, besides the enjoyment the old folks will get from meeting their friends of days and years gone by. We can't miss it.

The Chevrolet Most Popular

Mrs. L. L. Davis has been bulldogging for some time from different makes of automobiles, and she finds the Chevrolet the most satisfactory in her experience. It gets off faster, turns shorter, hugs ground closer, and in fact is the best car on the market for this line of work. She wishes to thank Mr. Frank H. Mansfield, local salesman, for courtesies shown during the rodeo at the Bandera County Old Settlers' Reunion, and takes pleasure in recommending the Chevrolet car to any one who wants a car for any purpose, riding or bull-dogging.

Prof. G. A. Dibrell, who was principal of the Bandera High School for several terms a few years ago, sends in his renewal subscription to the New Era from Stockdale. Prof. Dibrell has many friends here, and the little old home paper keeps him informed of their comings and goings.

Palmer, who, in the introduction, stated that he was going to support Mrs. Ferguson himself, and was happy to introduce the gentleman who was to speak in her behalf. About a hundred were present in the hall to hear the address, many of them coming from different parts of the county. Lima, Medina, Tarpley and Pipe Creek communities being represented. Judge Hickett made a splendid address, and highly praised James E. Ferguson, the husband of the Governor candidate. He called attention to many benefits he claimed had come from the administration. The speaker devoted much time to the state road question, and the part Mrs. Ferguson would be allowed to have in the matter. He also spoke of the state now sending to the legislature a bill making her ineligible to hold another term of office. The speaker was loudly applauded at six different times during his address, and his remarks were well received by all present.

Quite a Musician.

Alvin, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Stein is quite a musician for his tender years. The little fellow was presented with a set of accordion by his father, and in order to receive it he had to learn to play it. He has learned quite rapidly on the instrument.

Smoke House Destroyed.

The smoke house belonging to Mrs. Wonnie's Creek, was destroyed by fire last Sunday morning about nine o'clock. The building would also be destroyed, but by energy and good work on the part of the ladies and automobile men of Bandera the house was finally emptied. It is not known how the fire originated.

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

At Boerne one of the features of the old settlers' reunion was a jig in which four men and one lady engaged. Editor W. G. Davis of the Boerne Star was awarded first prize for being the best jig dancer. Editor Davis "shakes a leg" when it comes to any kind of dancing, and in that contest the other night he was right there with the shaking.

Those who attended the A. & M. Short Course at the Medina Hereford Ranch on the San Antonio and Castroville road, last week, returned home very much pleased with the program rendered there. They say it is the finest school of instruction and exhibit of ranch and farm products ever put on in the state, and all expect to go there again next year.

Texas Surpasses Them All

In my more than 40 years career as a printer and newspaper man I have traveled over a large portion of this country—from the ice bound cities of far away Canada to the sun kissed shores of Florida; from the most east and unassuming foothills of the Alleghenies to the lofty mountain peaks of the Rockies; from the Lakes to the Gulf, and across the Rio Grande and far into sunny Montezuma Land.

I have seen the majestic, snow-capped mountains of North America and far below the peaceful homes brightening the valleys rich in nature's golden harvest. Have seen the broad acres of corn, oats and wheat of the grain belt, the snowy cotton fields of the South, the fruit and truck lands of California and Florida, the sugar plantations of Louisiana; the vast pine forests of Wisconsin and the broad prairies of the cattle states; have admired the Blooded race horses of Kentucky and petted the Lilliputian cow ponies of Arizona; have crossed the "Father of Waters" from its head to its mouth and fished in the mountain streams of Kentucky and Tennessee that add their waters to it as it flows on to the sea. Yea, have visited many an oasis in this broad land, but right here in Texas we have all of that—and more.

First in area, first in cotton, a leader in oil, gas, potash and other minerals, cattle, rice, cane, watermelons and other truck, and everything that makes for a happy, contented people. Miles and miles of paved roads leading in every direction, beautiful parks—in their natural grandeur, the greatest bathing beaches in the world, and health and pleasure resorts galore.

Here we have the mountains (minus the snow) and the peaceful valleys, the fertile fields and the cattle ranches, the rippling streams alive with game fish, and the distinction of having no two governors. But we are going to swap both them off for one he-man in a few weeks.

Here I often stood at eventide and watched the sun sink to rest behind the distant mountains of Mexico, while the moon, peeped out from the foothills of Texas to light the sleeping world, and as tired day sank in the arms of restful night the cool Gulf breeze came to fan the atmosphere and make sweet slumber possible.

Come to Texas, the garden spot of the land.—N. P. Houx, in Mexia Herald.

"There is a Reason"

Anti-Crotalus Serum.

Much has been said in the newspapers during the past three or four months about the anti-crotalus serum now being introduced in the United States for treatment for rattlesnake bite, but little interest seemed to be taken in the Hill Country until the past few days, when the importance and the reliability of this newly discovered serum was brought directly home to our people, when Mrs. Mack Coorpender of Medina was given the treatment. Mrs. Coorpender was bitten by a large rattlesnake last Saturday evening, and was in a critical condition; her life was despired of in fact. A quantity of the serum was obtained from Colonel M. L. Crimmins of San Antonio, who had secured the serum from the laboratory in Brazil, and within an hour after the serum was administered to Mrs. Coorpender, she was resting easy and considered out of danger.

It was the editor's happy privilege to meet Dr. do Amaral, of the Brazilian Institute, in San San Antonio a short time ago, and in company with him and Col. M. L. Crimmins, we went out to a farm south of San Antonio and witnessed the capture of some rattlesnakes, which Dr. do Amaral desired for the purpose of demonstrating to the Scientific Society in San Antonio just how the rattlesnake venom was extracted, or "milked" from the snake. The manner in which this venom is made to yield the serum is as follows: The venom is secured and placed in glass containers and kept at the proper temperature. A horse is gradually inoculated with the venom from day to day until he receives 2,000 units and thus becomes immune. Then a quantity of blood is taken from the horse and the serum is extracted from this blood, and with certain treatment is ready for use. Usually three injections of the serum, one each day, is given the patient, resulting in absolute cure of any rattlesnake bite.

Dr. do Amaral remained in San Antonio several days, and with Colonel Crimmins, he visited Floresville and other places and arranged for the capture of many rattlesnakes, securing a great quantity of venom which will be used in a laboratory in Philidelphia which will open September 1, the second laboratory of its kind in the world, the other being conducted by Dr. Brazel in Brazil under the direction of the Brazilian government. We understood Dr. do Amaral to say that of the thousands of cases of rattlesnake bites treated there with the anti-crotalus serum not one had resulted fatally. It is by far the greatest discovery in medical science, and in our opinion really surpasses the Pasteur treatment. To our good friend, Col M. L. Crimmins, belongs much credit and the saving of several lives already in this state for having become interested in the great discovery and bringing Dr. do Amaral to the United States for the purpose of manufacturing or producing it here where it will soon be available in cases of snake bite in any community.

The Boerne Reunion.

The reunion of the old settlers of Kendall county, which was held at Boerne last Saturday and Sunday, was without doubt one of the most enjoyable affairs ever held in that city, and on every hand we hear praises and expressions of gratitude from the pioneer citizens for the manner in which it was handled by the officials of the Kendall County Old Settlers' Association and particularly of the untiring and unceasing labors of Capt. F. J. Dodge who directed the program and worked so hard to make it an occasion of pleasure and enjoyment for the old folks.

A parade of the old settlers took place Saturday morning and then the crowd went out to the fair grounds, where at noon a big barbecue dinner was served.

Immediately after noon a highly interesting and exciting rodeo was staged by Ed Mansfield and his cowboys from Bandera, which was viewed from the grandstand. Steer riding, roping and bull-dogging were the principal features, one of the stunts being the bull dogging of a steer from a speeding automobile, by Mr. L. L. Davis.

After the rodeo the crowd assembled at the hall on the fair grounds where Mayor Davis of Boerne delivered an address of welcome in his happy, pleasing way. Mayor Davis was followed by J. Marvin Hunter of Bandera, who spoke to the old settlers. Following the speaking came a beauty contest for men, the winner in this contest being Col. Miles Funkenbusch, who was voted to be the best looking man in Kendall county. Next came the beauty contest for girls over sixty-five years old, in which Mrs. Lex was unanimously voted to be the best looking girl. Dancing started after these contests and was kept up until a late hour, a special platform being provided for the old folks.

In the fiddlers' contest Saturday night, Sidek Adams and Elmo Newcomer were declared winners of the first and second prizes, respectively.

A larger crowd was on hand Sunday to enjoy the reunion of the old settlers. A fine barbecue dinner was served, with plenty of good meat, bread, pickles and coffee for all. After dinner the rodeo was again staged by Mr. Mansfield and his cowboys, following which came the address of Col. Geo. W. Saunders, president of the Old Time Trail Drivers' Association, of San Antonio. Next came the pie eating contest in which four men participated, Andy Potter, the champion pie-eater of the state of two pies while the other contestants were getting away with one. Charlie Eckhart of Bandera had tried twice to take this championship away from Potter, but seems to fall further behind each time. Potter was unanimously declared to be the winner.

Dancing was started and fully enjoyed by hundreds of the old people, the old dance hall being rule with old time fiddle music furnished by Elmo Newcomer and his fiddlesome fiddlers from Pipe Creek.

A jig dancing contest was was staged Sunday night in which a number of gentlemen and one lady participated. Will Maass, of Bandera, was a popular favorite in this contest. Editor W. G. Davis of the Boerne Star, was awarded the prize for being the best jig dancer, and Mrs. Bowles of San Antonio was awarded second prize.

The first reunion of the Old Settlers of Kendall county passed into history. It was a notable event in the present-day affairs of our neighboring town, and so successful and pleasurable was it that we are sure that the reunion next year will witness the greatest gathering of the old pioneers ever brought together in this section of the state.

Minister Kills a Man.

Fort Worth, Tex., July 17.—Claiming self-defense, Rev. J. Frank Norris, fundamentalist and revivalist, shot and killed D. E. Chipps, 50, well-to-do lumberman in the office of First Baptist church here at 5 p. m. Sunday.

Norris surrendered to county authorities and furnished $10,000 bond signed by 30 members of his congregation, reputed to be worth more than $1,000,000.

Norris acted that Chipps came to his office protesting against statements the revivalist had made in his sermons and repeated in The Searchlight, organ of Norris' church, about Mayor H. Meacham. The minister stated that he had tried to "avoid trouble" and insisted that it was necessary to defend himself.

Mayor Meacham in a statement said that Chipps had visited his office at City Hall about 3:30 just before the mayor left for the ball game, but that he could recall nothing Chipps had said which might have been interpreted to fore shadow his visit to Norris' office.

City Detective Bush stated that he searched Chipps' body and that he was unarmed.

"I could not find any pistol or any weapon upon his person," Bush said. "He had not been moved before I searched him. I found no pistol in the room except the one used in the shooting and it was empty. Someone had thrown out the empty shells."

L. H. Nutt, auditor of the Farmers' and Mechanics' National Bank, was the only eye-witness to the shooting. He was with Norris in the study when Chipps came in. Nutt said that Chipps just before the shooting made threats against the pastor. His statement in substance substantiated Norris' story. Nutt was among the persons to sign Norris' bond.

Attempted Holdup.

Launching a new method in modern highway robbing, two horsemen Sunday night charged their steeds into the automobiles of 15 motorists to force them to stop on a mountain ridge seven miles northwest of Boerne on the Old Spanish Trail Sunday night, and attempted to rob the occupants of the cars at the point of pistols.

A 35-year-old negro was in custody of Kendall county authorities Sunday night, and the name of his white companion in the attempted highway robberies is known to the officers, according to reports from Boerne.

After unsuccessful attempts were made to rob six motorists, two automobiles driven by H. Zedler of Boerne and a Mr. Burke of Fredericksburg, were forced to the side of the road by the charging horses of the armed men, they told officers. Zedler and Burke both resisted and escaped the pair without the loss of any valuables.

Accompanying Zedler were his wife and children and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Cupples of San Antonio. Burke was accompanied by his wife and one child.

According to the story told by Zeddler and Burke and other motorists, the negro led the charge in forcing his mount into and upon the automobiles, while his companion kept their victims covered. Both men were armed with heavy revolvers, they said, and had a third pony as a lead horse.

The negro charged his horse upon the Burke sedan, considerably denting the fore part of the car and leaving the imprint of hoofs in one side of the hood, Burke said. Commanding Burke to hand over his valuables, the negro reached for the arm of Mrs. Burke and attempted to pull her from the car when he was told they had nothing of value with them.

Twelve other motorists reported encountering the two horsemen. Six automobiles they had tried to stop were halted at a filling station on the branch of the U. S. 7, and the Fredericksburg Road, less than half a mile beyond the scene of the attempted holdups, and Boerne officers were notified of their operations.

The scene of the attempted holdups is in a sparsely settled section of the hills and mountains, where the highway crosses a ridge between two mountains after winding around the foot of a mountain with considerable underbrush along the side of the road. The road can be seen for some distance in both directions from the top of the ridge where the highwaymen staged their operations.

The negro was caught by Kendall County officers near the scene of the holdups, but no gun was found on him. He is said to have been under the influence of liquor at the time of his arrest. After considerable grilling by the officers, he gave the name of his white companion. The negro is said to be a ranch worker living in the vicinity of Boerne. Sheriff's officers refused to disclose the name of the other man.

The tactics followed by the bandits Sunday night are somewhat of a departure from the methods used by present day highway men. Motorists who reported encountering them declared the men acted as if they innocently were barring the road, causing auto drivers to slow down to pass them.

Instead of permitting the cars to pass them the horsemen are said to have forced their victims to a stop by charging their mounts into the automobiles. The negro took the lead in charging the cars, with his companion remaining in the background and keeping a sharp lookout on the road in both directions, in addition to covering occupants of cars stopped.

Several instances were reported in which two or more automobiles were stopped at one time, the cars traveling close together coming upon the scene and also being stopped.

No losses of money or valuables were reported up to late Sunday night, although demands were made for them by the horsemen, who are said to have permitted their victims to proceed after being convinced they had nothing of value.

Zedler and Burke were traveling together for a short drive up the highway, the Burkes being on their way to their home at Fredericksburg. Neither was armed, they said.—San Antonio Express.

The Campmeeting

There is at the present time a camp meeting of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints being held on the west side of the town of Bandera. This meeting has several distinctive features. First of all the people believe in God, one and only God, who is creator and ruler of all things. In His Son, Jesus Christ, and in the Holy Ghost. They also believe in living tolerant of others, and therefore do not ask for a preference; they simply ask that they be left to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience. They are anxious to have the people become acquainted with their message for so they feel that there is nothing to be afraid of, for the truth will stand the test under every circumstance.

They are in no way connected with the Mormon church in fact they have done more than the rest of the churches put together to counteract the evils of polygamy and other evils that were taught in Utah in years past. Two people have been present in all their positions for the past that only as men learn to become Christlike are they able to share the blessings of eternity.

At this meeting they have three ministers from Missouri and they are all able speakers. They have good singing and those who have been in attendance at the meetings are feeling abundantly repaid for their effort in going to the meetings. After the sermons each night they have a little community singing conducted by J. Charles May, who is one of the ministers from Missouri. May has spent several years in the South Sea Islands as a missionary. Vanderwood and Winegar have both spent several years each in the Utah mission and have there combatted the evil teachings of the people of the west. So when these men speak of the differences in their belief, as contrasted with the Mormons which sometimes confuse people, they speak with authority for they know. Every person who has heard the message these men have delivered have been benefitted thereby.

Without question this meeting has been a blessing to this community, and we feel sure that the work that is being done here will be of value to the neighborhood. They invite people to hold to all the good they already have but to get all the good they can from every other source. Their efforts are fair and honorable.

The judges had great difficulty in deciding between Elmo Newcomer and Slick Jones as to which one of these boys was the best player. Both are Bandera county cowboys, and they wield a nimble bow. After calling them back for several times to play tunes over, it was decided that Slick Jones was entitled to first prize, a gold watch.

Governor to be Asked to Resign.

Austin, Texas, July 27.—Many of the county Democratic conventions to be held next Saturday to canvass county primary election returns and certify them to the State Democratic executive committee, which is to meet at Dallas, August 9, are expected to adopt resolutions demanding that Governor Miriam A. Ferguson resign in accordance with the terms of the prelection agreement she made with Attorney General Dan Moody. It was said Tuesday that such resolutions would be offered at the Travis County convention to be held here.

It was learned that Attorney General Moody, who regards the Governor's announcement that she will resign after the special session of the Legislature as not a compliance with the election bet, will not leave Austin for a rest until after next Saturday's county convention here. He probably will attend the conventions.

No statement with reference to the reported move for an impeachment session of the Legislature to be held before the session called by the Governor has been issued here. There are some, however, who believe that unless the Governor resigns immediately the early session of the Legislature should be called.

Election Returns.

Dallas, Tex., July 26.—Dan Moody Monday night gradually relinquished his small majority over the five candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Saturday's primary and at 9 p. m. lacked 3,124 votes of having the required 51 per cent necessary to make a run-off primary unnecessary. The vote at that hour stood: Moody, 373,174; Ferguson, 259,403; Davidson, 111,813; Zimmerman 2,-322, Johnston, 1,701; Wilmans 1,328.

This represented returns from 246 out of 252 counties, with 104 complete. The total vote on these returns was 750,071, which is at least 50,000 votes above the election bureau's prediction of interest in Moody's majority and the prospects of a run-off to determine the gubernatorial nomination after Governor Ferguson announced she would retire from the race, making a run-off unnecessary.

A run-off will be necessary, however, in the Attorney General's and the Treasurer's races.

All incumbent Democratic Congressmen appeared to have been renominated. The only Republican Congressman, Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin, has been renominated over his opponent, Fred Knetsch. Knetsch was backed by the "regular" faction led by National Committeeman R. B. Creager, who was fighting Wurzbach.

A run-off will be unnecessary for the Republicans, since they did not have more than two candidates for any office.

Moody's Republican opponent will be Col. H. H. Haines of Houston, who defeated R. P. Scott of Corpus Christi. Returns from 118 counties, including 71 complete, gave Haines 6,991 and Scott 5,586. The Republicans polled about 10,000 votes, which their officials explained was only a small fraction of the Republican vote which will be registered in the general election. In the last election 300,000 votes were cast for Dr. George Butte, Republican candidate for Governor.

Saturday's Primaries.

Democratic primaries were held at several places in Bandera county last Saturday. Following is the vote in the governor's race at each voting place—where primary was held:

Bandera—Moody, 99, Ferguson, 66; Davidson 15.

Taylor—Moody, 19; Ferguson, 5; Davidson, 23.

Totals—Moody, 275; Ferguson, 145; Davidson, 57.

Confirmation Fight Looming.

Austin, Texas, July 27.—It became definitely known today that a determined fight will be made against the confirmation of certain of the Ferguson recess appointees when same are sent to the Senate when that body meets. The contest will be focused on the two and possibly three members of the Highway Commission as well as on certain members of the State Textbook Commission who voted for the boiling contract awarded the American Book Company.

Senator A. E. Wood of Grange, who made speeches for Moody for governor and who is the senatorial member from Bandera county in the district, will probably be the Senate spokesman for Moody when the Legislature convenes. He conferred with Moody for some time Tuesday and later admitted the coming session of the Legislature was discussed.

"Without prejudicing any case, I said Senator Wood, "you can expect a contest to be made against each appointees whose official acts have been censured. My position will be that the Senate should not confirm them then to those who are subject to condemnation but to accord confirmation to those who have been regularly appointed, served faithfully and against whom no charges have been made. Nothing could be fairer and I am willing to give those accused a full hearing to prove their innocence." Simply because the persons are Ferguson appointees will not be a basis for a contest," the Senator asserted.

$15 To Child.

Austin, Texas, July 27.—Professor S. M. N. Marrs, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Monday authorized the announcement that he will ask the coming special session of the Legislature for appropriation out of the general fund to supplement the available school fund so that the apportionment this year will be paid at $15 per child. This would mean approximately $4,080,000 to be taken from the general fund.

For Commissioner, Prec. 1.

R. C. Boales, of Tarpley, announces this week as a candidate for County Commissioner of Precinct No. 1. Mr. Boales is an energetic young man, worthy of all confidence, and we are sure if he is elected he will make an efficient and painstaking county commissioner. He has never held a public office, but he is competent and qualified to fill the office to which he aspires, and will appreciate your vote and support at the polls in November.

Watermelon Party.

The Epworth League entertained with a Watermelon party last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Perner. An excellent crowd of young people attended the delightful affair.

Among the interesting features of the evening were the contests and awarding of prizes. First prizes were won by Miss Helen Rugh, Mrs. B. J. Gossett, and Roscoe Hayes, while the Booby prizes were awarded to Rev. B. J. Gossett and Floyd Hamilton. Watermelons were served and at a late hour, the guests departed declaring they had had a most delightful time.

Meeting at Baptist Church.

The revival meeting at the Baptist church, which began Monday night, is being attended by large crowds, especially at the night services which are being held out of doors in front of the church's building. Rev. R. L. Powell of San Marcos, is doing the preaching, and is going after sin in a masterly way. Monday night he told his hearers how to have a great revival in Bandera, and if they follow the lines suggested a great revival will certainly result. Tuesday night he told about the "Front Door to Hell," and it stands ajar to many. He is doing some splendid preaching and much good is bound to result from the messages he brings.

J. R. Fletcher, the well known insurrence man, was here from San Antonio yesterday.

Grandpa McDonald Dead.

Word came last Saturday of the death of Grandpa J. A. McDonald, which occurred at Sutherland Springs, after an illness of several months. Rev. B. J. Gossett, pastor of the Bandera Methodist church, was called to Sutherland Springs to officiate.

Grandpa McDonald was well known to most of the people of Bandera, having lived here for two years with the family of his son, Prof. L. L. McDonald, and the news of his death was received with sadness by the people of this town. He was a splendid type of the true gentleman, ever kind and courtly in his every day dealings with all, and honorable, upright and straight-forward in his dealings.

John Alfred McDonald was born in Mississippi April 20, 1848, and moved to Alabama with his parents when he was a small boy. In 1866 he was married to Miss Mahulah Lloyd, and to this union seven children were born, four of whom are still living. His wife died in 1882. In 1884 he was married to Miss Fannie Mathis, and to them three children were born, of whom only one is living. His second wife died in 1891. Mr. McDonald, in 1894, married Mrs Martha Mathis, who passed away in 1914. He moved to Wilson county in 1902, in Illinois and since that time lived in and around that county. He was converted in early childhood and united with the Methodist church, and was always active in the work of the church.

He died at Sutherland Springs July 24, and his remains were laid to rest in the old Shiloh Cemetery there on July 25th, in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives.

Undergoes Operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom North took their little daughter, Edith North, to San Antonio Monday afternoon where she underwent an operation for acute appendicitis. We understand the operation well, and we are hopeful our little friend will soon be able to return home completely recovered.

Meeting Closed.

The meeting conducted under the brush arbor on the Loop by the Latter Day Saints, closed Sunday, with several additions. It was a good meeting, and thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. The singing was splendid and the preaching by the different elders was well received, and altogether it was considered a most satisfactory meeting.

This represented returns from 246 out of 252 counties, with 104 complete. The total vote on these returns was 750,971, which is at least 50,000 votes above the election bureau's prediction of the total.

Interest in Moody's majority and the prospects of a run-off to determine the gubernatorial nominee centered after Governor Ferguson announced she would retire from the race, making a run-off necessary.

A run-off will be necessary, however, in the Attorney General's and the Treasurer's races.

All incumbent Democratic Congressmen appeared to have been renominated. The only Republican Congressman, Harry M. Wurzbach of San Antonio, has been renominated over his opponent, Fred Knetsch. Knetsch was backed by the "regular" faction led by National Committeman R. B. Creager, who was fighting Wurzbach.

A run-off will be unnecessary for the Republicans, since they have more than two candidates for any office.

Moody's Republican opponent will be Col. H. H. Haines of Houston, who defeated E. P. Scott of Corpus Christi. Returns from 118 counties, including 71 complete, gave Haines 6,991 and Scott 4,156. The Republicans polled about 10,000 votes, which their officials explained was only a small fraction of the Republican vote which will be registered in the general election. In the last election 200,000 votes were cast for Dr. George Butte, Republican candidate for Governor.

Saturday's Primaries.

Democratic primaries were held at several places in Bandera county on Saturday. Following is the vote in the governor's race at each voting place—where primary was held:

Bandera—Moody, 99; Ferguson, 66; Davidson 15.

Taylor—Moody, 19; Ferguson, 5; Davidson, 23.

Privilege—Moody, 0; Ferguson, 11; Davidson, 1.

Totals—Moody, 275; Ferguson, 145; Davidson, 57.

Confirmation Fight Looming.

Austin, Texas, July 27.—It became definite and known Tuesday that a determined fight will be made against the confirmation of certain of the Ferguson recess appointees when their names be sent to the Senate when that body meets. The contest will be focused on the two and possibly three members of the Highway Commission as well as on certain members of the State Textbook Commission who voted that the spelling contract awarded the American Book Company.

Senator A. E. Wood of Grange, who made speeches for Moody for governor and who is the Senator for Moody's district, will probably be the Senate spokesman for Moody when the Legislature convenes. He conferred with Moody for some time Tuesday and later admitted the coming session of the Legislature was discussed.

"Without prejudicing any case," said Senator Wood, "you can expect a contest to be made against certain appointees whose official acts have been censured. My position will be that the Senate should refuse confirmation to those who are subject to condemnation but to accord confirmation to those who have been regularly appointed, served faithfully and against whom no charges have been made. Nothing could be fairer and I am willing to give those men a full hearing to prove their innocence." Simply because the persons are Ferguson appointees will not be a basis for a contest," the Senator asserted.

With Senator Wood's authorized statement the confirmation fight becomes a certainty.

Every man in business wants to be successful. It is necessary, important, that he should; for unless he is, both he and community lose.

Character, ability and industry have an important bearing on success; so has the prestige accorded by one's bank associations.

$15 To Child.

Austin, Texas, July 27.—Professor S. M. N. Marrs, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Monday authorized the announcement that he will ask the coming special session of the Legislature for appropriation out of the general fund to supplement the available school fund so that the apportionment this year will be paid at $15 per child. This would mean approximately $4,080,000 to be taken from the general fund.

For Commissioner, Prec. 1.

R. C. Boales, of Tarpley, announces this week as a candidate for County Commissioner of Precinct No. 1. Mr. Boales is an energetic young man, worthy of all confidence, and we are sure if he is elected he will make an efficient and painstaking county commissioner. He has never held a public office, but is well competent and qualified to fill the office to which he aspires, and will appreciate your vote and support at the polls in November.

Watermelon Party.

The Epworth League entertained with a Watermelon party last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Perner. An excellent crowd of young people gathered for this occasion.

Among the interesting features of the evening were the contests and awarding of prizes. First prizes were won by Miss Helen Rugh, Mrs. B. J. Gossett, and Roscoe Hayes, while the booby prizes were awarded to Rev. B. J. Gossett and Floyd Hamilton. Watermelons were served and at a late hour, the guests departed declaring they had had a most delightful time.

Meeting at Baptist Church.

The revival meeting at the Baptist church, which began Monday night, is being attended by large crowds, especially at the night services which are being held out of doors in front of the church's building. Rev. R. L. Powell of San Marcos, is doing the preaching, and is going after sin in a masterly way. Monday night he told his hearers how to have a great revival in Bandera and if they follow the lines he suggested a great revival will certainly result. Tuesday night he spoke on the subject "Front Door to Hell," and it stands ajar to many. He is doing some splendid preaching and much good is bound to result from the messages he brings.

Grandpa McDonald Dead.

Word came last Saturday of the death of Grandpa J. A. McDonald, which occurred at Sutherland Springs, after an illness of several months. Rev. B. J. Gossett, pastor of the Bandera Methodist church, was called to conduct the funeral.

Grandpa McDonald was well known to most of the people of Bandera, having lived here for two years with the family of his son, Prof. L. L. McDonald, and the news of his death was received with sadness by the people of this town. He was a splendid type of the true gentleman, ever kind and courtly in his bearing towards all, and honorable, upright and straight-forward in his dealings.

John Alfred McDonald was born in Mississippi April 20, 1818, and moved to Alabama with his parents when he was a small boy. In 1836 he was married to Miss Mahalulah Lloyd, and to this union seven children were born, four of whom are still living. His wife died in 1882. In 1884 he was married to Miss Fannie Mathis, and to them three children were born, one of whom died in infancy. His second wife died in 1889. Mr. McDonald, in 1894, married Mrs Martha Mathis, who died away in 1914. He moved to Wilson county, Texas, in 1883, and since that time lived in and around that county. He was converted in early childhood and united with the Methodist church, and was always active in the work of the Methodist church.

He died at Sutherland Springs July 24, and his remains were laid to rest in the old Shiloh cemetery there on July 25th, in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives.

Undergoes Operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom North took their little daughter, Edith North, to San Antonio Monday afternoon where she underwent an operation for acute appendicitis. She withstood the operation well, and we are hopeful our little friend will soon be able to return home completely recovered.

Meeting Closed.

The meeting conducted under the auspices of the Bands of the Lord by the Latter Day Saints, closed Sunday, with several additions. It was a good meeting, and thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. The singing was splendid and the preaching by the different elders was well received, and altogether it was considered a most satisfactory meeting.

The County Fair.

The Bandera County Fair will be held in Mooty on August 26, 27, 28, and by the proper boosting on the part of everybody it can be made the biggest fair we have ever had. The secretary and those in charge of the different departments will have to sponse to her loss of the wager order to make this a fair of interest to everybody, so let's all receive the co-operation of all in to Mooty in resign if she did not all in fine and get things over in a big way this year.

The farm exhibits should be far above the average on account of the wonderful season we have had for all growing crops this year. The livestock and poultry exhibits should also be better than ever. The pioneering races in a big way this year.

Entertainment features will be a and it will be these big days of fun and amusement as well as instructive features which are always given.

One lady who is interested in the exhibits especially urges that parents have their children put in exhibits in the children's department. The children at today will be the people who will have charge of such things in a very few years and they should be encouraged to take part in the fairs.

Boost the Fair!

It was a peculiar thing that in this county candidates for certain district offices, who had no opponents, were blacked on the ticket by many of the voters.

In the primaries held in this county Saturday little more than 400 votes were cast, but 275 of these went for Moody for governor. Only thirteen votes were cast in the Republican primary held in only one precinct in the county.

The New Era has quite a list of subscribers at Medina. Some of these subscriptions have been past due, and we kindly ask those in arrears to go to Hatfield's store and settle with our representative, Miss Beulah Smith. The New Era is a good paper, stands for you 365 days in the year, but it takes money to keep up publishing expenses, the same as it does for anything else. We have been lenient and long drawn out already, so we kindly ask you to help us out at this time.

The landslide vote given Dan Moody in the governor's race brings the fact directly home that the people are tired of Ferguson methods. Mrs. Ferguson sought the office of the governor in order as she stated at the outset, "to vindicate" her husband. She wanted only one term to do this, but Jim evidently persuaded her to seek another term to "vindicate Dan Moody." At any rate last Saturday the voters had a say in the "vindicating," and piled up mighty strong disapproval of Fergusonism.

Show is to be Held.

The show and sale of the Uvalde Goat & Sheep Raisers Association will be held in Camp Wood August 4, 5 and 6. This ten days, including transportation to and from home, is the county contest. Several applications have already been received. Any information desired about the camp may be had by writing John C. Campbell, Acting Scout Executive, Uvalde, Texas.

"There is a Reason"

Gov. Ferguson Agrees To Resign

Austin, Tex., July 26.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson Monday issued her proclamation calling a special session of the Legislature for September 13. announced her withdrawal from the race for governor, whether or not Moody has a majority, and made further announcement that she will resign her office not later than November 1.

This announcement came after a day of uncertainty, conferences and much speculation as to what the governor would do in the event Moody failed to sponse to her loss of the wager made in Moody in resign if she did not receive the co-operation of all in Saturday's primary election.

Her answer came unexpectedly and after a long conference had been held with United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield, W. W. Bailey of Dallas, and others.

It was known that Bailey advised that the best course for the governor was to resign and so make Lieut. Governor Barry Miller Governor. This was no surprise and no doubt Miller will be interested in the announcement.

Governor Ferguson's letter to Miller follows:

"Dear Governor Miller: I have decided to resign the office of governor, effective on and after July 15, 1925.

"Thanking you for your courtesies to others in Austin in that way I have had the honor to be the governor of Texas, I am,

"Yours very truly,

"Miriam A. Ferguson."

"They Didn't Have Time"

Monday — 15:41 to Mother: "This is my day off, so I'll take the old car and let's spend a day in the woods. We haven't all been out in months away from the worry and worry of modern life. You and I could sit in the shade and play bands and dream dreams like we did when we were young and our cheeks were painted with the blush of youth and promise, and your locks were gray and brown instead of fine and grey. The children can roll on the grass, call shoulds bugs and go high and low for hours again in the grapevine swing."

Mother's Answer: "I haven't time. I have to go to the club this afternoon and on the program committee, and besides I have to make a talk on 'Why a Good Society is Always Make on Ideal Hillcrest.'

Father—Mother to Dad: "Can you miss the smoker tonight? We have a good program by the Y. M. C. A. boys over radio. There is a short version on 'Keep the Home Fires Burning.' Tom and Jess have agreed to play some of those old time selections on the fiddle and guitar. I used to play the fiddle to some extent."

Father Answers: "I can't miss the smoker tonight. I can see Tom and the kids any old time but they have only a few more days to be with us. Mary is likely lonesome. Why don't you take her to the show?"

Father Answers: "Then I'll go to the show myself."

Mother to Father: "Why don't you go to the lodge tonight? You haven't been out in months and you used to be such a good mixer. You could meet the boys and have a good time."

Father Answers: "I'd like to go, but I'm afraid I'll get lonesome. I'll just stay at home and read the paper."

Mother to Father: "Why don't you go to the movies? Mary is there and I'm going to the club."

Discourse.

Mineral Wells Index: It doesn't pay to sport over the heads of people you are talking with. A very erudite young man in Mineral Wells told a young lady that he thought she was exceedingly beautiful. She blushed modestly, looked down at her revealing shirt, became indignant and went home.

We believe all of it except where you say the young lady blushed. Young ladies don't blush at only things which their maidens tell them to blush at. They don't blush of their own accord, but only as they are instructed on assignment, as it were. Therefore when the Mineral Wells young man told the young lady she was exceedingly leggard then it isn't at all likely that her mother had told her to blush at such a remark. A mother can tell her daughter everything, and the confession of legardness is purely one thing the old lady would not be shocked by. If the young man had remarked that he considered the young lady exceedingly unconscious she might have blushed in duty to maternal accountability. Limbs are still regarded in our best circles as unmentionable, save discussion on such days when the thermometer registers 100 degrees in the shade. Therefore, we do not consider the exhibition of the knee limb as anything more than the usual display of the head of hair. Young man, in speaking over the head of your companion, be sure to speak in terms of endearment. That is the safest course to pursue in one's failure to agree on any of his friends by appointment. He can also high-hat her and thereby bring down the house. Press in Dallas News.

On these grounds is to be found one of the most beautiful and shady parks in Texas. The park is beautifully set with pecan timber and along the banks of the San Saba River fishing is fine and boating may be enjoyed too. Bathing pools for both women and men are arranged.

We are proud to present to the people of this section one of the best tabernacles and camping arrangements in Texas which serves splendidly every way. We extend to all people of all faiths a very cordial invitation to come and camp during the entire ten days.

Our aim is Inspirational, Educational and Evangelistic accomplishments. We have secured for this year's Encampment an ardent faculty for the B. Y. P. U. Sunday School, and W. M. U. Dr. W. R. All the afternoon will be given over to recreation. There will be plenty of room for all. Each person's kind of recreation. We have between forty and fifty acres which stretches for half a mile along the banks of the San Saba River.

Dr. L. R. Scarborough of Ft. Worth Baptist Seminary is to be with us again this year and will lead us in the Evangelistic efforts. Mr. E. L. Carnett of the Gospel Music Department of the Ft. Worth Seminary will be associated with Dr. Scarborough and will lead in song services. Those men need no introduction to the people of Texas. Their works have proven them. We have a number of prominent Texas laymen who will give addresses. Besides beloved Secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Dr. F. S. Groner, will also be with us. Some of the speakers will not be here are: Dr. E. Godbold; Dr. J. M. Carroll; Dr. T. C. Gardner, Dr. J. C. Hardy and W. A. Harrell. A Telephone Call.

Most every person is prompt to answer the ring of the telephone bell. The very idea of having one has a personal message to be delivered only to arouses curiosity and intrigues the interest.

Has it ever occurred to the average person that back of every advertisement in this paper is some one with a personal message for everyone who reads it.

More often than not these advertisements were written with some individual in mind.

It is impossible for merchants to give their customers a ring about their goods or their services. So they pay us for the commission of calling these things to the attention of prospective customers.

The person who does not give an advertisement the same attention as given a phone call is making a mistake. Advertisements help everyone economize and keep posted on news of vital interest to themselves and their pocketbooks.

Don't lay aside this paper without reading the advertisements. They are personal calls for all who read them.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance.

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

The San Antonio Express never loses an opportunity to say a good word for Bandera, and our people should appreciate what that excellent daily is doing for this section of the country. In Monday's "Think" column on first page of the Express the following item appeared:

"Bandera citizens are eager to assist Alamo Council, Boy Scouts of America in establishing an annual encampment somewhere in that favored belt where the Medina winds between cypress trees and where every mountain top seems to be a giant sentinel guarding an enchanted land. Since the San Antonio-Bandera road was made possible at all seasons that sequestered spot only a few far-away is easily reached. There is no prettier country and every Scout would find delight there."

The County Fair will soon be at hand. Only a few more days and it will have passed into history at the best fair we have ever held. August 26, 27 and 28 are the dates. And great preparations are going on to make the exhibits this year excel those in every way. Products of the farm, canned fruits and vegetables, grain, livestock, fancy needlework, school work and everything that enters into the industrial life of the community will be shown to the best advantage. Bandera has always had a good fair, and with the splendid crops in sight this year it is confidently believed that this year's fair will be the best yet. The amusement and entertainment features will not be neglected, either. Exciting races will take place each day, and the best bands and orchestras will participate, and a large platform will be provided for old and young to dance to. Good music will be furnished, there will be carnival attractions galore, and lunch and barbecue stands will supply the crowds with food, while soft drink stands will quench the thirst of the multitude. The fair will be held at Mansfield Park, just west of the city. Don't forget the date, three days, August 26, 27 and 28. The admission charge each day will be only fifty cents.

The New Era wants to see our court house premises enclosed with a neat iron fence, and a public park laid out and all kinds of shade and ornamental trees planted, with cement walks leading over the grounds. Bandera ought to have a park surrounding that beautiful monument recently erected to our fallen heroes of the World War. Within a very short time we hope to have worked out a plan to submit to the people whereby Bandera can secure the park and court yard improvements mentioned above, and in which we are sure every citizen of the county will be interested.

A Boy Scout Camp is to be held at "Camp Del Rio" August 12-21. All boys 12 years of age and over are eligible, whether they are Scouts or not. The camp is located ten miles from Del Rio, on Devil's River. The boys will be under expert supervision and training. The fee for the ten days, including transportation to and from home, is $5.00. Several applications have already been received. Any information desired about the camp may be had by writing John C. Campbell, Acting Scout Executive, Uvalde, Texas.

Trip to London.

Last Thursday the New Era editor accompanied by his daughters, Misses Jennette and Rachel Hunter, made a trip to London, in Kimble county, returning Friday afternoon. We had not visited London in almost twenty years, and were delighted to find many great improvements and wonderful changes had occurred there. We were also delighted to find many of our old friends still there, who gave us a royal welcome. Before leaving London we visited the public school building, and the Willis Mound Echoes he has ever seen. [illegible]

Prowling Among the Mounds.

Last Saturday in company with Misses Roy Baldwin and W. D. Hensley of the State University, we went over to Tarpley to investigate Indian mounds, one of which was located on the premises of R. E. Mr. Elder, who is a veteran in [illegible] history, says the Willis Mound is the largest he has ever seen, and [illegible]

2. They solve the tape worm and tape worm disease problem.
3. More and better lambs are saved at lambing time.
4. More and heavier lambs at marketing time.
5. Sheep fatten faster on the same kind of pasture or feed.

Must Be in Run-off.

The battle for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas is to be fought all over again between Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and Attorney General Dan Moody.

In the midst of threats of court action to disqualify Moody and followed by a heated speech by Moody, the Democratic State executive committee Monday certified the names of Mrs. Ferguson and Moody to go on the ballot for the run-off primary August 28.

The committee action followed shortly after an official canvass of the July primary vote by a sub-committe, which showed that Moody lacked 1,770 votes of having a majority over all candidates. Under the Texas election law the executive committee must certify the names of the two highest candidates for a run-off where the returns do not show a majority for any candidate.

Accepts Position at Harper.

Miss Grace Duke has been employed as teacher in the Harper High School. That Harper school board was fortunate in securing the services of this excellent young lady, as she is a teacher of ability and will give good satisfaction in the school at that place.

Celebrates 85th Birthday.

Mrs. F. L. Hicks celebrated her 85th birthday Tuesday at her home on Hicks' Creek. All of her children and many grandchildren and great grandchildren were present to extend best wishes to the dear old mother. A fine dinner was served to all of the guests, and the day passed very pleasantly. Mrs. Hicks came to this county 71 years ago and has lived here ever since, having with her husband, now deceased, had a great part in the development of this county. She has raised a large family of sons and daughters who are now among the prominent and highly respected citizens of the county, and her kind helped to build the splendid civilization which we of this generation today enjoy. May God bless Mrs. Hicks and spare her for many years and spare them to bless us with their presence for many more years.

The County Commissioners' Court convened in regular session last Monday, with all members of the board present.

Two young boys are languishing in jail here as a result of getting drunk on home brew, which they claim they made themselves. They were fined by Justice of the Peace Harper, $10 and costs each, and have failed to pay their fines. It is estimated that the county will in the future use its "boarders" in working the roads.

Recital Tuesday Night.

The Thomason Trio, of San Antonio, gave a recital at the High School Auditorium Tuesday night, under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church. These artists in expression and dramatic art delighted all who were present, and each number was heartily applauded. They are high class entertainers, and it is regrettable the attendance Tuesday evening was not greater. The program was made up of readings, vocal and instrumental selections. Little Miss Patsy Billings, a cute pupil, appeared on the program in reading and instrumental solo. We hope the Thomason Trio will visit Bandera again.

Married Tuesday.

Edward Clark and Miss Essie Flannary were married at the court house Tuesday afternoon, Judge J. A. Eames officiating. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Clark of Tarpley, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. A. A. Flannary of Indian Creek. Both are worthy young people, and the New Era wishes for them much joy and happiness through life.

B. Y. P. U. Class Work.

This has been a great week for the Baptist young people of Bandera. Miss Bill Morgan, B. Y. P. Verna Brock of San Antonio. Dr. I. E. Gates, accompanied by his wife, was here from San Antonio and delivered an inspirational talk Tuesday night. Last night was "stunt night," and tonight Rev. Henderson, the associational missionary, will deliver an inspirational talk. Rev. McClellan, pastor of the Beacon Hill Baptist church in San Antonio, will deliver the talk Friday night.

Good attendance has marked each evening's program, there being about sixty-five in the classes Tuesday night. Refreshments are served and various forms of amusement are provided for the young folks. Everybody invited to come and enjoy themselves, and participate in the class work.

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Kerrville, Fredericksburg, Mason, Junction, Boerne, Comfort and other towns have recently secured high line electric power service, through the coming into those towns, of the West Texas Utilities Company, a great corporation which has purchased the local electric power plants. Bandera is still hopeful that a high line will be run through here to Bonds and other towns to the south of us. We need electric power, and we believe we will get it before many more months pass. Most significant is the fact that a fifty-year franchise was granted by our county commissioners a short time ago, and some of the machinery was brought to Bandera and put in place. Now, we understand, a high line survey is being made from Comfort to Bandera, and in this direction from the day when our town will have electric lights and power, and ranches and farms for many miles will get electric current.

The County Fair will be held at Bandera August 25, 27, 28, at Mansfield Park. From reports that are coming in to the New Era office many displays of farm products and live stock will be brought in, as well as various other exhibits. The schools, particularly, will have exhibits which will be most interesting. Then, also, the amusement features and carnival attractions will provide plenty of entertainment for the large crowds expected to be in attendance each day. This year's fair promises to be the best we have ever held.

Frontier Times for September will be issued from this office this week. This number completes the third volume of this interesting little magazine starting three years ago without a subscriber, Frontier Times has grown to be a nationally known publication, and is still growing. Few people realize that what it contains to Bandera matter is more than an occasional historical sketch pertaining to this county; it is helping to put Bandera on the map and people all over the United States are learning through Frontier Times of Bandera's existence. The September number will contain the following stories: "The Irish Pioneers of Texas," "Fighting with Sibley in New Mexico," Bigfoot Coffey, Early Day Ranchman," "Life of Ben Thompson," "Finds Sister After Sixty Years," "Daring Feat of Three Texas Boys," "Helped to Tame Bad Men," "James Dunn, the Gallant Ranger," "First Account of Custer Massacre," "The Hunters' Last Stand," "A Foul Murder in Mason County," "An Arizona Tragedy." Every story listed above is full of thrills that will interest you.

Watching the Outcome.

Much interest is being taken in the charges which have been preferred against Frank M. Montague, for "failure and refusing to dip his cattle." The case was to have been heard in court last Saturday, but was continued. Mr. Montague is very anxious for the case to come to trial, as he feels that he is entirely within his rights. He says he has never refused to dip his stock, but he wants the State Livestock Sanitary Board to assume responsibility for any damage to the stock resulting from dipping. He has had some of his cattle injured, and others have had cattle injured and had some losses which it is claimed resulted from dipping, and naturally it is desired that the courts decide who is responsible and if damages should be awarded where injury is sustained. For the past five years or longer the tick eradication movement has been under way in Bandera county, and during that time we have heard a great many complaints over the restrictions that have been placed upon our stockraisers for the purpose of "cleaning up" the county. We have felt that the "cleaning up" was a good thing and have been hopeful that it would soon be accomplished and Bandera county given a clean bill of health and placed above the quarantine line. But we seem about as far from the goal now as we were when we started in. The county spent all of its available funds in the eradication work the first or three years of the movement, and then went in debt to buy dip, and we are still paying for it, and will be paying for it for some time to come. Last year the State generously came to our rescue, and is now furnishing the dip and paying the inspectors, and it seems that we should have no kick in the matter, and we know of none except in the cases of burning and injuring stock. This should be easily remedied. If our State legislature would enact a law providing that every inspector be placed under bond, it would give stockmen whose cattle are injured through dipping some recourse and he could recover damages for injuries thus sustained. But the Legislature is not going to pass such a law, so we are not holding out such hopes. It remains for the courts to decide what redress, if any, an individual who loses his stock or is damaged by dipping. The Montague case, we understand, is to be fought through all the courts if necessary, and the outcome will be watched with much interest by the people, not only of this county, but by stockmen all over the state.

Later—The Montague case was dismissed yesterday on motion of State's prosecuting attorney, for the following reasons: "Leo Callan, chairman of the State Livestock Sanitary Board, had entered into an agreement with Frank M. Montague that he, Montague, was not to be released from dipping until sometime in September, 1926."

Hunter Discovers Relics

J. Marvin Hunter, prominent Texas historian, and editor of the Bandera New Era and Frontier Times, was a fraternal caller at our office Monday. Mr. Hunter was just returning from an excursion into the territory adjacent to Junction, and brought back with him a pocketful of relics of some former civilization. These he got from a hill near London, which hill Mr. Hunter is convinced is a mound. He showed us several fragments of clay tablets, with some kind of symbols or figures on them, and also several similarly formed pieces of glass, some of which have symbols in the.—Hill View Times, Kerrville.

DATED this the 9th day of August, 1926.

J. A. EAMES, County Judge, Bandera County, Texas.

Bandera is going to have some good streets, for Callahan's crew of highway workers are now engaged in grading and gravelling the State Highway which passes through town, and in order to put the streets traversed by the highway in proper shape Elmer Brown last week placed a subscription list and raised $162.50, which will be supplemented by a like amount from the State, and the work is being done under State supervision. Main Street, which has always been more or less rough in places, is being graded and gravelled, the culverts are to be safe-guarded with stone walls on each side, and other necessary work is being done. Mr. Callahan is enthusiastic over this piece of work and when it is finished the town and county will certainly owe him a vote of thanks.

'Everything Set' For Fredericksburg Fair August 20, 21 and 22.

Reports from Fredericksburg predict that the 10th Annual Gillespie County Fair, August 20, 21 and 22nd, will be the most successful in its history. A grandstand of 3,000 capacity has been built this year at an expense if $10,000.00, and is said to be the most modern building of its kind in the State.

Crops are reported to be excellent in Gillespie county and the agricultural displays, as well as the stock, sheep, goats and poultry exhibits, promise to be much larger and of finer grade than in former years.

The entertainment program is interesting and instructive and will no doubt please all those attend the Fair. Thorobred horses from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico have been in training at the Fair Grounds for months and the races promise unusual rivalry. A ball game will take place every afternoon between the Fredericksburg Giants and a fast visiting team. Polo games are matched for Friday and Sunday, the first and last day of the Fair, and while this game is not generally understood, it is a clean sport, easy to grasp, and is certain to please the visitors. The Fredericksburg, Concert Band will furnish music, but several large band organizations from other cities have been invited and are expected to assist in entertaining the Fair visitors.

We call our readers attention to the advertisement in this issue. Everybody is invited to spend the three Fair days in Fredericksburg, and their hospitality, together with their art of knowing how to put occasions of this kind over big, it is presumed that many of our people will go there.

The Governor has also issued, the records in the Secretary of State's office show, 153 proclamations granting furloughs, paroles and extensions of furloughs to convicts in the Texas penitentiary and remitting jail sentences and fines and bonds. In addition to the pardon and restoration proclamations, the Governor issued 164 proclamations, since June 1. Eight were for special elections, one was a sanitary livestock commission order, one was for a special session of the 39th Legislature called for September 13, and another was for the issuance of Independence Day, July 4, and the remainder were for the aforementioned furloughs and paroles.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

The New Era has taken but little stock in the campaign for governor. But on Saturday August 28th, we are going to go to the polls and cast our vote for Dan Moody, a clean young man who beat "Ma" Ferguson more than 100,000 votes in the recent primary. At times during the heat several years we have felt that perhaps Jim Ferguson had not been given a "square deal," and it being our nature to always "take up for the under dog in the fight," we have been inclined to believe many things said about Jim were not true. But in the light of events which have come to pass in this campaign we are fully satisfied that Ferguson should be relegated to the realms of inocuous desuetude, there to remain forever. At the outset Mrs. Ferguson stated that she wanted only one term as governor of Texas to "vindicate Jim." The people gave her that term. Then she decided to run for a second term, and in the race she offered to wager that great thing which the people of Texas gave to her, and challenged Dan Moody that if he beat her even one vote in the recent primary she would immediately resign. Her challenge was accepted and Dan Moody beat her more than 100,000 votes. Did she immediately resign? She did not. But instead she goes into the run-off with the fond hope that she will beat the choice of the people, the very people who placed her in the governor's chair. The Fergusons have lost the confidence of the Texas people, and the hope they cherish today is certain to be shattered at the polls on August 28th.

No, neighbor, the New Era is not tearing its shirt over the governor's race. We have had our say. You can vote as you please. You gave you intelligence and we give you credit for knowing how to use that intelligence when you go to the polls to vote. We are not trying to change anybody's opinion, nor we don't expect anybody to try to change ours. We are going to vote for Dan Moody for we think he is a clean man, and fully competent to be our state's chief executive.

In Bandera county more interest is being manifested in the race for county commissioner of Precinct No. 1 than in the run-off between Dan Moody and "Ma" Ferguson. We are all pretty confident who will be the next governor of Texas, but the Lord only knows who will be our next county commissioner in Precinct No. 1. Only eight good and true men have announced for this office, and each one of the eight is confident that he will get the largest vote in November election, while the observant citizen can only stand and wonder who. We wonder how many of these eight candidates for county commissioner of Precinct No. 1 favor the location of a public park on our court house square to be maintained by the county? We would like an expression from each candidate on this matter, for it is an important question. Bandera should have a park, a beauty spot in the midst of which would be our heroes' monument and our court house, where flowers would be kept blooming, where graveled walks would lead to inviting retreats, where shadetrees will provide shade, and benches and settees will afford a resting place for those who visit our park. Our county commissioners can make it possible for us to have such a park.

Do you read Frontier Times?

"All's set" for the Bandera County Fair, which opens next Thursday morning and continues for three days. This year the fair promises to be the best we have ever held, and the attendance is expected to be large each day. An additional exhibit hall has been built to house the increased number of products which will be brought to the fair for display, the various committees are active in making their preparations to handle their work, and the sheep and goat men are grooming their stuff for the show. It is said that one goatman carried his best nannies to a beauty specialist in San Antonio and gave each of them permanent waves of various styles, Marcels, and Ringlets, while another exhibitor purchased a gross of a well known "hair oil" with which to beautify his grand champion ram. We are going to have a jimdandy fair this year, folks, with all of the fair trimmings, and we're expecting you to be here.

Bandera stands a good chance to get high line electrical service. Surveyors are now in the field running a line from Comfort to this town. But we do not know of a man or set of men here trying to get the high line to come into Bandera. Better wake up, folks.

Bandera now has good roads leading to San Antonio and to Kerrville. In fact our highway affords the most scenic and delightful drive all of the way from San Antonio, through Bandera, to Kerrville. What are we doing to induce pleasure-seekers, vacationists and tourists to come to our town? Absolutely nothing. We are just sitting here, waiting for "something to turn up," and we have been waiting for that very thing for a long time. If anything "turns up" we've got to turn it up. A united effort will move boulders.

About the most contemptible, low-down, pusillanimous trick that has ever been tried on unsuspecting motorists was the stretching of a wire cable across a road on the Jack ranch last Monday night, which endangered the lives of any who chanced to pass that way. Luckily nobody passed Monday night, but on Tuesday as H. E. Rambie and his daughters were coming to town their car ran into the cable and if a post to which it was attached had not given away serious damage would have resulted. His windshield was broken and flying glass struck the occupants of the automobile. An investigation is under way to determine who placed the cable across the road, and why it was done.

Visit to Davenport Ranch.

Last Sunday the New Era editor had the pleasure of making a visit to the John Davenport Ranch on Mason Creek. Accompanying us were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Schattenberg, Miss Ellen D. Schulz and Roy W. Quillian, of San Antonio. Mrs. Davenport extended to us the hospitality of her delightful home, and showed us her collection of relics and curios which she has gathered for many years, and which includes many articles, stone arrowheads, stone axes, Indian tomahawk, oven shoes, beads, knives, and many other things too numerous to mention. We inspected a prehistoric mound near her home and found a few relics of pottery, which was added to the collection. Mrs. Dillon is well versed in ethnology and anthropology, and has opened quite a number of mounds near the coast. Miss Schulz is interested in the flora and fauna of this section and found much here to delight her. She has written several books on botany which have reached wide circulation. She is now director of the White Memorial Museum in San Antonio, and is collecting specimens of natural history to place therein. The Attwater collection is the first unit acquired for the nucleus of the permanent natural history exhibition and has been moved into quarters in the municipal auditorium in San Antonio, where three central rooms are completed for occupancy.

We very much enjoyed the visit of these folks, and all of us enjoyed the visit to the Davenport ranch. Miss Schulz assured the editor that they would return to Bandera before long to make further research along the lines mentioned above.

The following news bulletin was sent out to the various newspapers of the state last week by the publicity bureau of the University of Texas:

Austin, Texas, Aug. 9—Further evidence that Texas is a rich and practically untouched field for research by the ethnologist and anthropologist is had by the published dispatch from Washington that H. B. Collins, Jr., assistant curator of ethnology of smyt 1 fia' ellNseaontainmuh the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., recently explored a number of ancient mounds along the Gulf Coast, extending east from Galveston Bay, and that he obtained from them skeletons, jewels, ornaments, implements, battle-axes and arrows. What is more to the point, so far as the people of Texas are concerned, is that these valuable relics of a prehistoric race were taken out of the state. The need of a State museum for exhibiting and preserving such collections is becoming more and more urgent as the research into these mounds continues, it is stated by persons who are deeply interested in such discoveries.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that Roy Bedichek, director of the Interscholastic League Bureau of the University of Texas, recently made a week-end trip into the hills of Bandera County for the special purpose of investigating an Indian mound or "kitchen midden," which was brought to his attention by J. Marvin Hunter of Bandera, editor and publisher of Frontier Times. Both Bedichek and Hunter are much interested in the study of the life and customs of the primitive people who lived in Texas prior to the coming of the white man. They have personally made extensive investigations of Indian mounds in various parts of the State. At Bandera, Mr. Bedichek was joined by Mr. Hunter and they proceeded over a rough mountain road to a point near Tarpley, about 15 miles west of Bandera. They met with no difficulty in finding the mound and it proved to be one of the largest ever discovered in Texas, according to Mr. Bedichek. Beyond establishing beyond a doubt its identity as a "kitchen midden" of remarkable magnitude and possible scientific interest, nothing was done by the visitors on this preliminary trip to uncover its contents. They hope that this may be done in a systematic way at some later time.

Mr. Hunter is regarded by persons who are interested in the unwritten and unpublished history of Texas as doing a work of inestimable value in collecting and preserving records dealing with past events that have a bearing on the life and work of pioneer settlers. These rare chronicles find a public outlet through the Frontier Times which was established by Mr. Hunter at Bandera several years ago.

The improvement of the street leading into town from San Antonio, and of Main Street, goes merrily on. These streets properly belong to the State Highway which passes through Bandera, and the work is being done under State supervision and Highway Foreman Joe G. Callahan's crew. WILL A. GRAY FOULLY MURDERED NEAR MEDINA SUNDAY

Tragedy on the Road Witnessed by a Man and Woman, Who Were Unable to Prevent the Horrible Crime.

Beaten and Stamped to Death, Then a Heavy Automobile Runs Over Body. Sheriff's Action Prevents Lynching.

Will A. Gray, well known bus driver, was foully murdered last Sunday near Medina, at the intersection of the Medina-Bandera and Center Point roads, near the old Curtis place. Pat Forrest, a young man living near Medina was arrested by Sheriff Henry Stevens and Deputy Milton Faris, charged with the crime. Forrest was brought to Bandera and placed in jail, but when threats of mob violence became rife Sheriff Stevens and Deputy Faris took the prisoner to San Antonio where he was placed in the Bexar county jail for safekeeping.

The first intimation that a crime was being committed was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Frerichs, of Hondo, who were coming from Medina to Bandera. Just ahead of them was an automobile, and when it turned off on the Center Point road and stopped Mr. Frerichs said he saw one man beating another, and he got out of his car and attempted to interfere, but was driven back and told to go on. He gave the alarm and Sheriff Stevens and Deputy Faris hastened to the scene, where they found Gray dead.

Particulars of the murder are difficult to obtain, but it seems that Gray and Forrest, who had been together in Mr. Gray's bus for some time, were in Medina somewhere about the noon hour or shortly afterward. Forrest was driving and Gray was laying on the seat of the car, apparently asleep, or in an insensible condition. It is said that Forrest told friends in Medina that he was going to drive the bus to San Antonio. This bus has been making regular daily trips to and from San Antonio, and it was about the hour for it to leave Medina. The pair left Medina, and about the time they left Mr. and Mrs. Frerichs, of Hondo, who were passing through en route home, fell in behind the Gray bus and came on down the road as far as the Sam Smith place, when the bus turned off on the Center Point road. Frerichs says when he alighted and started toward the man, whom he testified was Forrest, that Forrest advanced toward him with his left hand in his coat pocket, cursing him. Frerichs says he drew his car and he and his wife drove away. He says that a bottle was thrown at him and broke on his car near where his wife sat at the wheel.

Hastily giving the alarm, Frerichs returned to the scene of the crime, and a crowd quickly gathered. The body of Gray was found lying at the side of the road, across a ditch. It had been placed across this ditch and the body had been run over in such a manner as to cause the two side wheels to pass over the small of the back and the body lay nearly in the ditch and the head on the embankment. The bus was gone. As soon as Dr. J. O. Butler, who had been hastily summoned, arrived an autopsy was held, and it was found that Gray had been most brutally and fiendishly murdered. The body lay on the ground covered with blood and dust. One eyeball protruded from its socket, while the other was entirely missing. The skull on the right temple and around the right eye had been crushed and broken in, and the brain was exposed through a gaping hole, while on the left side of the head around the left eye and temple a similar jagged hole was found, and the skull there was broken into fragments and crushed. Between the eyes and on the forehead the skull had likewise been broken, the right cheek bone was crushed and a gaping hole was there. The jaw was broken, the teeth of the victim had been knocked in and the jawbone fractured. Several cuts and bruises were at top of the head, and several bruises were on the back. The left collarbone was also fractured. Where the car wheels had passed over the small of the back were dark bruises, and while the backbone was not broken, Dr. Butler is of the opinion that the spinal cord was severed by the impact of the heavy car. It was a most revolting sight, and while the body was being examined in the presence of the officers, Forrest was seen approaching in Gray's car, coming from his home, which is over up to the gate, and within about seventy-five feet of where the body lay, Sheriff Stevens and Deputy Faris took him in custody. He made no resistance, and upon being searched was found to be unarmed.

Forrest was brought to Bandera and placed in jail, and the mangled remains of Will Gray were brought to the home of his brother, Tom Gray, in Bandera and prepared for burial. Within a short time a crowd collected and feeling ran high against the prisoner, so Sheriff Stevens conveyed him to San Antonio.

A court of inquiry has been in progress this week at Medina, being conducted by Judge C. W. Harris, justice of the peace, and all circumstances surrounding the affair are being brought to light. In due time Forrest will be given a examining trial, but for the present will be kept in the Bexar county jail.

The funeral of Will Gray was held at the home of Tom Gray Monday morning and interment was made in Bandera cemetery. Rev. B. J. Gossett, pastor of the Methodist church conducted the services. Two of his sons, Harless Gray and Charlie Gray, of Dallas, were passing through Bandera on their way home, and were present at the funeral.

William Arthur Gray was born in Tarrant county, Texas, August 30, 1881, and came to Bandera county two years ago. For a long time he was engaged in the garage business here, being associated with his brother Tom Gray, but for the past five years operated a bus line and carried the mail from Bandera to San Antonio. On the first of July this year he surrendered his mail contract and had since that time operated an independent bus line from San Antonio through Bandera to Medina.

On October 14, 1900, Mr. Gray was married to Miss Bobbie White in Hunt county, Texas. Four children were born to this union, three of them still living, Harles Gray, Charlie Gray and Dorcas Gray. Mrs. Gray died January 15, 1915. Later Mr. Gray married Miss Grace Hughes at Boerne, who with two children, Blanche and Juanita, survives him.

He is also survived by one brother, Tom Gray of Bandera and one sister, Mrs. C. C. Williams of Caddo Mills, Texas.

Deceased was a man of kindly disposition, quiet and peaceable, friendly with everybody and liked by everybody. He was never a quarrelsome or overbearing man, a loyal friend, a good neighbor, a kind husband and father, and a good citizen. He bore a good reputation among people with whom he had business dealings.

The horrible manner in which he met his death, and the sad, untimely end of his career shocked the community, and is the sole topic of conversation. Our deepest sympathy goes out to the bereaved wife and children in this terrible, trying hour.

Pat Forrest, living near Medina City, but confined in the Bexar County jail since Sunday, was charged with the murder of W. A. Gray in an information filed Monday before C. W. Harris, justice of the peace, Precinct No. 3, Medina City. Sheriff Henry Stevens of Bandera County filed the charge.

Gray, who lived at 1118 Essex Street, was killed Sunday afternoon, two miles from Medina City on the road to Bandera. Sheriff Stevens said Gray was killed by a blow from a heavy instrument, probably a wrench, and his body run over by a car. Forrest was arrested by a deputy sheriff from Hondo, who testified to finding the body about one and a half miles from Medina City on the road to Bandera. Gray's body, lying about 75 feet from the highway in a cleared space. A large hole was in each temple and the left side of the head was crushed, they said. The body was crushed also, as though a heavy car had been passed over several times, they said; most of the ribs were broken. The face was cut almost beyond recognition.

Frerichs testified at the hearing that he and his wife left Medina City shortly after noon, and that at about the point where Gray was found, they saw a Ford sedan parked at the side of the road, and one man lying on the ground.

Frerichs said he was not armed, and that his wife, who was driving, passed by about 75 yards before bringing the car to a stop and turning around. He said when they returned opposite the sedan, one man still lay on the ground.

Frerichs said he alighted and started toward the man, whom he testified was Forrest. He said Forrest advanced toward him with his left hand in his coat pocket, cursing him. Frerichs said he drew his car and he and his wife drove back to Medina City, where they found Sheriff Stevens and Deputy Faris.

Sheriff Stevens testified that Gray was found on the body of Gray, but that he was reputed to have had a considerable amount on his Sunday morning, including about $270 in checks. He said both front pants pockets were turned outward.

Forrest was arrested by a deputy sheriff Stevens Monday and he emerged from his ranch home near the scene where Gray's body was found. He was taken to jail at Bandera and also left there about an hour, when a threatening crowd gathered outside, and Sheriff Stevens took him to Kerrville guarded car services are in constant demand.

Sheriff Stevens said Gray evidently died from being stamped on the head with feet. Gray had driven the bus from San Antonio to Bandera for the last five years, and has a family living there and a wife and two children in San Antonio.

Sheriff Stevens brought Forrest to San Antonio Sunday before noon, he said. After his arrest a threatening crowd of Bandera citizens made threats against the life of the suspect, according to the sheriff.

Stevens will come to San Antonio Tuesday and take Forrest back for a hearing on the charges, he said.

Gray was buried at Bandera Monday.

Testimony offered at an inquest held Monday morning over Gray's body by Justice Harris and brought him to San Antonio where he was placed in the county jail here.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas

The New Era does not want to be continually reminding people to pay their subscription to this paper, and we are not going to do it. Last year was a hard year for people all over this section of the state, and in order to help along as much as possible the New Era did not push its subscription bills, and quite a number of our subscribers got behind on their dues with the result that some of them are owing as much as two years. Subscription to this paper is strictly in advance, or supposed to be, and if you see a date printed on the margin of your paper like this: "Aug 22 '26," it means that your subscription expired on that date and that you should come at once, and then the date would read "Aug. 22, '27." Not many people stop to think of the cost of printing a newspaper. It may surprise you to know that the cost of printing the fifty-two copies we send you for a dollar and a half fully equals that amount, and when we send you the paper for a whole year with out receiving one money for it we are that much out of pocket. We have been publishing reminders along these lines for some time, in hopes that those who owed more than a year he would pay up, and some have paid up, but there are some who seem to want to put it off. We do not want to lose a single subscriber, but we cannot afford to lose money, and if a man does not intend to pay for the paper we certainly do not want to send it to him.

A murder most foul has been committed in our county, and naturally our citizens are wrought up over it. When the news spread last Sunday of the murder of Will Gray, a quiet, peaceable man, and his mangled and bruised remains were brought in, the public mind became inflamed and for awhile there were threats of lynching but Sheriff Stevens quickly took steps to prevent such an occurrence. We do not believe there is a man in Bandera county who would participate in a lynching bee if he thought or had the assurance that apprehension of the murderer and speedily meting out justice to a murderer or a rapist. We have talked to many men from different parts of the county, and they all seem disposed to let the law take its course, but invariably there advance the argument that the ends of justice are so often defeated by deliberate delays, legal technicalities, court proceedings, and many other intricacies which render it almost impossible to get convictions. Hundreds of times we have heard the remark, "If a man has the money he can beat any case in court." Now, that is not literally true, but it goes a long way. Certainly we would rather see ten guilty men escape than for one innocent man to be punished, as the lawyers tell the juries, but there is a chance for all of them to escape. Something is wrong, somewhere. Murder seems to be on the increase, and we believe it is due to lax enforcement of law, and utter disregard of the law, or too much law, or something. It is this fear that the law will not punish the culprit that causes mob violence, lynchings and the like. We hope the day will never come when the fair name of Bandera county will be blackened by a lynching.

Next Saturday is the day for the run-off primary. Do not feel over-confident that Dan Moody will win. We believe Daniel will be our next governor, all right, but we are going to the polls and help to swell his majority as much as possible. Let every voter do likewise.

Bandera's sixth annual fair is in full swing today. We have visited other fairs throughout this part of Texas, and we believe our fair will equal the best of them and in many instances surpass some of them. We'll tell you all about our fair next week.

Mrs. L. B. Langford Dead.

Last Friday morning Mrs. L. B. Langford, aged seventy years, heard the summons from her Lord and Master to "come up higher," and closed her eyes in everlasting sleep. The end came peacefully and quietly, after an an illness of only a few hours following a stroke of paralysis which had occurred the evening before. The funeral was completed at the old home of deceased on Saturday morning by Rev. B. J. Gossett, pastor of the Methodist church, with interment in the Bandera Cemetery.

Grandma Langford, as she was lovingly called by all who knew her, was born at Seguin, Texas, May 28, 1856. Her maiden name was Elizabeth J. Bird. She was married to L. B. Langford on March 14, 1872 at Bandera. To this union eight children were born, of whom five are living. Her husband, "Uncle Berry" Langford, died March 7, 1914. The living children are B. F. Langford of Bandera, Dr. W. L. Langford of Sherwood, Allie B. Langford of Mooringsport, La., Joy B. Langford and Mrs. Leah M. Peters of San Antonio. One sister, Mrs. Hettie Welsh, of Kytle, also survives her.

Grandma Langford, many years ago united with the Methodist church and remained a consistent, devout member until her death. During the more than half a century she lived in Bandera she became widely known and was loved for her kindness of heart, her charity, and her lofty ideals, and was of that true type of mother which was so much needed while our splendid civilization was in the building. She was truly a pioneer and did full well her part in sowing the seeds of christianity and morality in the community in which she was spared to live to see grow and prosper and be taken up by her descendants. Her children and grandchildren. Her life has been a long and useful one and in her passing the community has lost a most worthy citizen whose example is a living substone for the guidance of future generations. All hearts are sad at her going, and all will miss her cheering words, her kindly smile and her comforting sympathy and admonition as readily given to those about her.

To the bereaved children, and grandchildren, and to the aged sister who survives, the New Era extends condolence and sympathy.

OLD TIMES

"Tis but a little while ago that coaches journeyed to and fro, in bright and brave array with creaking straps and jingling rings, and horses, proud ambitious things, sped down the right of way. The passengers enjoyed indeed as great a miracle of speed, and praised the driver's skill; "here we have pep, and speed and power, we are going seven miles an hour, more than that down hill. What must our sainted fathers think if they can gaze down from the brink of sunny paradise and mark the way we scorch along, behind our chargers fleet and strong, while just around us flies?" Men always wonder what they'd say—the ones who died and went away—if they could but observe the wondrous changes time has wrought, inventions scientific have wrought, and every modern curve. And now we ride in motor cars, and where no foolish statute bars, we rip the miles away; no foaming steed was ever foated that could for half a minute hold the speed we hold all day. As we proceed on whirling tires, we sometimes think about our sires, whose couches were a joke; what would they think if they espied the luxury in which we ride, beheld our trail of smoke? The airship doubtless will supplant the auto and in flocks will pant athwart the heavens wide, and every man who's up to date will have his airship at the gate to take the folks for a ride. Two thousand miles or more, I say, man achieve upon a day that is not so remote. And we will wonder what his dads must think about those modern fads and of his whizzing boat. It might not flatter us to hear how people in another sphere regard our frantic haste; they may consider us insane and all our boasted triumphs vain, our efforts gone to waste.—Walt Mason.

The new volume sells at $5.00 and is worth every cent of the price. Send your order to Mr. Hal S. Hudspeth, Bandera, Texas.

THE BANDERA COUNTY FAIR WAS A COMPLETE SUCCESS

Exhibits Were Good in All Departments and Everybody Pleased With Display.

Bandera County's Sixth Annual Fair closed Saturday evening, after being open for three days. The first day he attendance was slim, the second day the rain kept the people away, but on Saturday, the third day, the crowds flocked in from everywhere and by noon of that day fully 1,000 people were on the grounds.

The displays in the various departments were splendid and attracted the attention of all visitors. We believe there was the greatest variety of agricultural products at this year's fair that has ever been shown in this part of Texas. It seems that everything that can be produced on a farm or ranch was brought in for exhibition, and in the live-stock department the showing of sheep and goats, and poultry was exceptionally good. In the ladies' department all sorts of needlework, fancy work and culinary displays delighted the people who saw them. The baby clinic, arranged for the mothers of the county, was a splendid feature. Public health nurses and baby specialists directed the clinic, and a very interesting lecture by Dr. Mary Harper of San Antonio helped to make the clinic a complete success.

The merry-go-round was there for the children, while all sorts of carnival concessions furnished amusement for the crowd. The rodeo staged by Ed Mans field, in which many expert riders participated, was also good, and a dance platform was filled each night with happy dancers.

Altogether it was a very successful fair, and should cause the people of Bandera county to realize that we can have just as good, if not better, fair than anybody.

List of Premiums Will Be Published in the Bandera New Era Next Week.

The school displays, the exhibition of relics, the farm displays, the paintings shown, the handiwork of individuals, the various novelties, and the pot plants and flowers, all combined to make the large exhibit hall a place of interest to all the visitors.

Premiums list next week.

Brian Montague Married.

Brian Montague, well known Del Rio attorney, was married in San Antonio last Friday morning to Miss Eva L. Sweet of Fort Worth, Rev. Robert Mayl performing the ceremony at St. Mark's rectory. The bride and groom left immediately for Mexico City on a bridal trip. The groom is the son of Mrs. Charles Montague of Bandera, and was raised in this city. For the past several years he has practiced law in West Texas and is recognized as one of the leading attorneys of that part of the state. For some time he was district attorney, with headquarters at Alpine, resigning that office to engage in law practice at Del Rio.

The bride, whose home is at Fort Worth, was for four years in the faculty of the Sul Ross Teachers' College at Alpine. She is a young lady of splendid attainments, and the New Era joins in congratulations and best wishes.

Charbon Anthrax Appears.

Charbon anthrax has appeared among stock on the West Prong, it is said. Dr. John H. Erwin visited that region last Sunday to investigate the outbreak and deemed the situation of such a serious nature that he at once established a quarantine. A veterinarian is now vaccinating stock for ranchmen in that section.

Able to Get About.

Jesse Kutzer's many friends were glad to see him at the fair last Saturday. Jesse is able to get about on crutches and immensely enjoyed being with the crowd. He sustained an injury to his foot about two months ago when he gashed it with a piece of tin at a bathing pool in San Antonio. Blood poison resulted and for a time the young man's life was despaired of, and he came near losing his foot. He is steadily improving now, and we hope will soon be able to discard the crutches.

Undergoes An Operation.

Miss Norma Bausch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bausch of Winan's Creek, was taken to Kerrville Sunday where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. She is getting along nicely.

Foot Broken.

Married.

George Maass and Mrs. Treva Logsdon were quietly married in San Antonio on Tuesday of last week, Justice of the Peace Boltz officiating. The happy couple will make their home on the ranch of the groom's father, Will Maass, on Middle Verde. The New Era joins their many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes for a long life of happiness for Mr. and Mrs. Maass.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Burney, of Center Point, were here Saturday, attending the fair and visiting relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Burney recently returned from an automobile trip to Colorado, New Mexico, and other states, and as they came home they stopped over to attend the Boys camp-meeting in the Davis Mountains near Marfa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Heinsath were up from Pipe Creek to attend the fair on Saturday, and while here they subscribed for the little old home paper.

The Forrest Case.

There has been no new developments in the case of Pat Forrest, who is confined in the Bexar county jail charged with the murder of Will a Gray near Medina on Sunday, August 22. Forrest has made no move toward asking for bond, and if counsel has been employed we have not heard of it.

A Delightful Visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Marvin Hunter spent Sunday at the delightful ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hicks, above Tarpley. Other guests there were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sartleben and children, Donald Neal and Aubrey, and Miss Vivian Roberts of San Antonio. Mrs. Sartleben is Mrs. Hicks' sister. A fine dinner was served at the noon hour, and in the afternoon we prowled around the Indian mounds, a few of which are near the home. Miss Roberts is a teacher in the San Antonio schools, and for several years has been teaching at Harlandale.

Young Man Killed by An Elevator at Boerne on Last Thursday

One of the largest funerals ever held in Boerne was that of Selmont Ogden Adler, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Adler, who was accidently killed Tuesday of last week in the department store owned by his father when an elevator fell, crushing him.

Practically all the citizens of Southern Kendall County attended the funeral and the burial lot was entirely covered with flowers. The Rev. George Belsey, rector of the Episcopal church of which Selmont was a member, conducted the services, and the Boy Scouts also participated. At the end of the service a Scout trumpeter sounded "taps," which was echoed by another bugler in the distant part of the cemetery.

Young Adler's death occurred while he was working as a helper in his father's store. With two young companions he undertook to move a consignment of sugar from the basement to the first floor, using a hand elevator. When the elevator was half way up a rope broke and the load fell on the boy who was in the basement.

He was one of the most popular boys in Boerne because of his unfailing courtesy and friendliness, and he was a universal favorite in the Boerne high school where he was a student. On his mother's side he was a descendant of the late George Witte of San Antonio, his grandmother being Mrs. Dick Thomas of San Antonio. He was a grand nephew of Charles Kline, widely known pioneer jeweler in San Antonio.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

And Dan Moody beat Mr. Ferguson about two to one in the run-off primary. Enough said.

Are you pulling for Bandera? If you can't pull for your home town and county, don't get in the way of those who are pulling for better things.

The schools of Bandera county came in for a share of the prize cash in the County Fair, the premiums totaling $131 so we are informed. Not so bad after all, and this should be an incentive to all of the county schools to have displays at the fair next year.

Another County Fair has been conducted and carried to a successful conclusion. The Sixth annual fair to be held at Bandera three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was the best from an exhibition standpoint, ever held here, and we feel very proud of the showing that was made. But it does seem to us that the people should take more interest in the County Fair. This does not mean that little interest was taken; quite the contrary. There was much interest taken, but a whole lot more could have and should have been taken. The work of holding the fair each year has fallen upon the shoulders of a very few people who have worked faithfully, energetically and without adequate pay, to make out County Fair all that it should be. There are many people who could help, but do not, and there are some who are disposed to criticise those who do help. But be that as it may, the fair has become a permanent feature and will be held each season, and it is doing a world of good. Last week at the fair the wonderful variety of farm and ranch products impressed the visitor with the fact that old Bandera county could raise anything. In all departments the exhibits were complete and very much admired by the crowds who attended the fair each day.

J. E. Browning was down from Medina Saturday transacting business and attending the fair.

This is final notice to the delinquent subscribers. If you see on the margin of your New Era opposite your name that your subscription has long since expired, we kindly ask you to remit at once. We know you have neglected to attend to it sooner, but you have just put it off and now you are owing for a year or two. But when we neglect to pay our paper bills the whole side dealer neglects to fill our orders and it is in self-defense that we must insist on subscriptions being paid promptly. We shall to remove several names from our list this week because they were so far behind. And next week we are going to do the same thing we guess. It is not a matter of choice with us, but one of necessity, so please do not further neglect yours.

Tomorrow is Veteran Clark's 101st birthday. A great ovation will be given our old veteran in San Antonio in celebration of the event. Civic officials and government officials will jointly entertain him, and he will be the recipient of many honors. Last year on the occasion of his 100th birthday anniversary a barbecue was given at his home near Bandera which was attended by a large crowd of friends and relatives. Veteran Clark served in the Mexican War in 1847 and marched with General Scott's army from Vera Cruz to Mexico City. He is one of only nine survivors of that war, and despite the fact that he is now past the century mark, he retains his faculties and clearly remembers incidents of those stirring times. He has been a citizen of Bandera county since 1852.

To My Friends and Old Customers

All indications are that this fall will be the time to plant fruit trees. While I can't canvass the county as I did for many years I am still authorized agent for T. Ramsey & Son, the oldest and largest nursery in Texas. See me or write me. I will appreciate your orders.

"There is a Reason"

Eames-Stitt

The wedding of Miss Emma Eames, daughter of Judge J. A. Eames of Bandera, to John C. Stitt, son of Rev. J. S. Stitt of Blooming Grove, was solemnized Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Stitt, the groom's father officiated.

Prior to the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. G. M. Doyle, accompanied on the organ by Miss Ruth Garrett, sang, "At Dawning."

The bridal party entered to the strains of Mendelsohn's wedding march. Charles Craig, one of the ushers came first, following him was Miss Anita Deibert, maid of the bridesmaids. Miss Deibert wore an evening dress of pale green georgette, trimmed with hand painted motifs around the bottom of the full skirt. Dean Wilson was the second groomsman, and following him was Miss Edna Holland, another bridesmaid, who wore a lovely frock of taffeta rose georgette. Miss Elsa Rea Hedke, in a dainty dress of radiant yellow taffeta was the third bridesmaid. Mrs. Walter Goetz, the matron of honor, came next, she was gowned in a beautiful dress of orchid georgette, trimmed with tiny bands of pale pink georgette. The maid of honor, Miss Nan Holland wore a dress of pale pink and silver taffeta, trimmed with bands of lace.

The attendants formed a boxshaped arch at the foot of the altar, and as the maid of honor passed through the steps were joined by the best man, Duke Bruce of Somers, who came in from the side door with the groom.

The little flower girl, Cornelia Fawcett, in an exquisite frock of white taffeta scattered rose leaves from a Colonial basket. Little J. F. Odell, nephew of the bride was Miss Fawcett's escort and carried the ring on a satin cushion. The ring was in the heart of a rose on white satin pillow. The two children ascended the steps and stood on the left of the immediate. The bride entered with her father and was met at the steps by the groom, and they ascended the steps and knelt before the altar, where the impressive ring ceremony was said.

The bride wore a dress of white satin, made with a basque and bouffant skirt, with a short skirt of the satin and a longer skirt of scalloped tulle reaching almost to the ankles. Her train was of white satin and over this was a veil of white tulle which fell from a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and valley lilies.

The church decorations carried out the theme of the rainbow with wicker baskets of pastel shades of garden flowers placed on each pulpit, and ferns arranged at the steps with tiny palm trees. Streamers of rainbow tulle joined the baskets, and were entwined with a tulle bow on the handle of each basket.

Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for an automobile tour through North Texas. The bride's going-away costume was a tailored blue dress with gray hat, shoes and accessories to match.

After September 5th, Mr. and Mrs. Stitt will be at home in Mr. Owen's cottage at the Westmin ster Preparatory. — Kerrville Mountain Sun.

To Observe Birthday.

Mr. Clark, who is the oldest living Mexican war veteran, is expected to come from Bandera Thursday to be the guest of the Pioneer Freighters' Association for several days. A celebration will be held in his honor Friday, according to William B. Krempkau, secretary and treasurer of the association.

The immense birthday cake which will be exhibited in Joske's window, will have 101 candles on its elaborate surfaces. In scrolled on the cake are the dates, September 3, 1825—September 3, 1926, and the words: "Mexican war veteran," and around a large star in the center will be the words "Pioneer Freighters of Texas." Mr. Clark is honorary life president of the association among relatives who will come to San Antonio for the celebration will be Mr. Clark's nephew, Isaac Rhodes of Oklahoma. Mr. Clark first heard from his nephew last November at the time when he was made a life member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in San Antonio. His nephew read the account in the paper and wrote to him. Mr. Clark was separated from his sister, Mr. Rhodes' mother in 1846.

As a fourther celebration of his 101st birthday an increase of about $20 in his pension has been made by the government. Mr. Krempkau said.

A car will be placed at Mr. Clark's disposal during his visit here by the commander of the Second Division.

As the date of Mr. Clark's birthday coincides with the date of the dedication of the Municipal Auditorium it is expected that he will visit the auditorium some time during the day.

His daughter, Mrs. J. W. Evans, left Saturday for Bandera to bring Mr. Clark to San Antonio. If he should be unable to come at the last moment, because of his extreme age, a delegation of the Pioneer Freighters' Association will go to Bandera, Mr. Krempkau said.—San Antonio Light.

Galli-Curci Swayed by the Seer of Sweden

Amelita Galli-Curci Florence W. Barron, Clarence W. Barron

Prima Donna Gives Wonderful Interpretation of the Writings of Emanuel Swedenborg—

HENRY FORD'S Dearborn Independent publishes a remarkable article on Galli-Curci and Emanuel Swedenborg, by Clarence W. Barron of the Wall Street Journal, the world's famous financial authority.

Mr. Barron declares that Galli-Curci has the most wonderful brain he has ever met or heard of in a woman, although she is much more "a true woman with a life and soul of affection for all that is ennobling and uplifting in the family and in color, form, and music."

Mr. Barron is chairman of the Reich Trustees, who acting under the will of Lydia S. Rotch of New Bedford, Mass., began in 1873 a modern translation of the Theological Works which Emanuel Swedenborg wrote and published in the Latin tongue, and deposited in the libraries of the world 150 years ago.

This work was completed and published by the Houghton Mifflin Co. in 23 volumes in 1907.

About three years ago there appeared in a Cleveland paper a paragraph that among her other accomplishments Galli-Curci had read all the Theological Writings of Emanuel Swedenborg. The claim seemed so absurd to Mr. Barron that he thought it might be easily punctured by a simple inquiry as to the edition.

The Bible a Greater Work Than Ever

To Mr. Barron's direct inquiry Madame Galli-Curci promptly replied: "Yes, I have read in the past year the complete Swedenborg Works, in fact in the Standard Edition of the Houghton Mifflin Co. that I have.

"I can say certainly that the Bible to me is a greater work than it was before."

Mr. Barron says: "My astonishment was intensified. Familiar over many years with Swedenborg's general theological writings, I had set out to read the entire thirty-two volumes preparatory to an advertising campaign for the sale of this edition. Reading a few pages each day I finished my self-imposed task in fifteen years. I shall probably finish a second reading, at my present rate of progress, in perhaps ten years. Was Swedenborg's writings intelligently read them within a year!"

Swedenborg's Writings

Mr. Barron continues: "As an economic writing, the paper, ink, type, weights, measures, coinages and currencies, Swedenborg is easily consulted. As an engineering treatise on ships overland he is easily visualized. As a government official in the great metallurgy of Sweden, writing practical books on mining and smelting, declared to be the foundation of modern metallurgy, he is of interest in the encyclopedia of scientific history. As the writer of volumes—original studies in search for the human soul—he is not without human interest.

"But when one comes to the realm of the unseen, where there is neither time nor space upon which to rest mental conceptions, few may enter into the fullness of the revelation which has come into the libraries of the world through Emanuel Swedenborg.

"Think of twenty modern-sized volumes, originally written in the Latin tongue and unfolding from the Hebrew of 'Genesis' and 'Exodus' the internal or spiritual sense that lies beneath the letter. Annex a dozen more similar volumes that not only expound the Apocalypse but the whole book of 'Revelation' as conveyor of a tremendous truth of universal application throughout invisible degrees of creation and life, but also illumine all the problems of sex as presented throughout the universe from the union of the love and wisdom in the divine down to sex crystallization in the mineral kingdom; include the deepest of all works ever written originally in the original Latin, 'Angelic Wisdom Concerning the Divine Love and the Divine Wisdom.'

Then answer to yourself the number of years that ought to be required to master these volumes."

Mean More Than Any Other Books

Mr. Barron, still credulous, continued his correspondence with Madame Galli-Curci for some months. He learned that soon after she lost her dear mother she had sought the Writings of Swedenborg in a desire to know more about the other world whence her mother had gone. She spent the entire summer vacation studying Swedenborg's Works, and declared: "They have meant, and mean more to me than anything else I have ever read."

When Galli-Curci returned from California Mr. Barron motored up into the Catskills to her beautiful Italian palace, and in an afternoon with her and her husband, Mr. Homer Samuels, he was convinced that Galli-Curci had read and devoured Swedenborg in a briefer period than anybody had ever done before.

Also in his interview Mr. Barron says:

"Hours flew like minutes. I wasn't the questioner. Mr. and Mrs. Samuels were at me with the sharpest and deepest questions. They seemed in perfect harmony mentally and spiritually, as in their work in music.

Wanted to Learn

"She wanted to know about the 'Grand Man'. I told her it would be easier to comprehend it if she would forego the idea of time and space and consider, as Swedenborg says in 'The Apocalypse Explained,' that every sphere in the heavens corresponds with and is part of the human body and helps to sustain it. Therefore the heavens have the organization of the 'Grand Man,' but we need not think of shape or figure.

"'Yes,' exclaimed her husband, 'I see it; it is organization.' I explained, that Swedenborg in the likewise connected with every society of the heavens, and how the world within us is in correspondence in one grand poem and song of creation, man in the image of his Maker and knit through the heavens, from which he has life in every organ of his body.

Swedenborg's 32 Volumes Read in a Single Summer

"'Now I understand,' she said, and asked me for explanation of other things. Her intelligent questions, as well as her statements, left no manner of doubt that Galli-Curci had performed the stupendous feat of reading the thirty-two volumes of Swedenborg in a single summer season. She declared 'Heaven and Hell' a very attractive and popular title and concerned about which people are most eager to know; but it is not one of Swedenborg's great works, although it makes a good popular and introductory work."

A Help in Her Work

Galli-Curci understands the writings of Swedenborg even better than her husband, because she applies them into practice in the broadest life of loving helpfulness.

She said that Swedenborg had helped her in her work. She had no longer to think of herself but of her audiences, and let the music flow through her: regard herself just a medium for life to pour through. She was free from self and for her audience, and singing was no effort for her.

All Fear Vanishes

"The more you do—the more you give forth—the more life and energy is poured into you, and you are stronger and not weaker for the doing, the working and the singing. I always feel stronger; I am not exhausted at all by my singing. Swedenborg shows the reason and how life comes in as you pour it forth usefully to others. You don't have to fret, worry or fret. You know it is not you but that it is just being done through you."

Speaking further of the help Swedenborg had been to her in her work she said: "One gets so much more confidence. The other world and the one life, real companionship of life, becomes reality and all fear and worry vanish."

Trail Drivers Monument.

The 2,000 members of the Old Trail Drivers' Association will concern themselves principally with raising about $75,000 to complete their monument in San Antonio when they come together in their annual reunion October 7, George W. Saunders, president said Friday.

The move to build the monument was given concrete expression when the association met in San Antonio in 1925 and authorized a contract for its erection at a cost of $100,000. The contract was let to Gutzon Borglum, whose model has been approved by the committee. About $20,000 has been raised.

San Antonio business men are pledged through the Chamber of Commerce to raise $50,000, to be matched by a like amount raised throughout the State. Walter Schreiner is general chairman of the San Antonio committee.

Saunders said Friday that the largest attendance in the history of the organization is expected. The three-day session last year drew more than 1,500 delegates, Saunders said. The program will be completed about September 15. —San Antonio Light.

Wilson's Dryer.

Bud Colvin of Montell was in Bandera yesterday arranging to place the preparation known as Wilson's Dryer on sale here with Billings & Son and W. J. Davenport. Describing this screw worm preventative, W. F. Wilson, manufacturer, says:

"I have been in the stock business for thirty years and have handled all classes of stock. During these years, I have experimented with stock dips, and various kinds for the reduction of the percentage of stock loss Screw Worms. At last, I have discovered a powder for use on all cuts and wounds, which is both a preventative and a healer. I have used this powder on cattle, sheep, goats and even dogs, with complete success. It will thoroughly dry any cut or fresh wound in four hours. It will stop bleeding and heal swelling. It will positively not injure the fleece of any sheep or goat, does not leave any oil or dirt and does not discolor the hair. I have used this powder at my shearing machine, dusting it on fresh cuts, and have had no cases of Screw Worms after application. This powder saves both time and money, as it completely eliminates the necessity of keeping cut goats and sheep in a trap for several weeks for the purpose of treating them every day for screw worms. I have worked on the old theory that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and can attest the truth of that statement. This powder will not only prevent screw worms, but will heal a case of screw worms. You can Kill the worm with any worm killer on the market, and then apply this powder which will heal and dry the wound and prevent any more worms from appearing in the sore.

This powder is put up in a handy sifter box, easy to carry in the pocket. It is known as WILSON'S DRYER and can be bought at Billings & Son's Drug Store, or from W. J. Davenport, Sr., or mailed direct on your order from W. F. Wilson, Montell, Texas."

Veteran Amasa Clark Honored

Veteran Amasa Clark was given quite an ovation at San Antonio last Friday by Army officers, city and county officials and the Pioneer Freighters' Association, on the occasion of his 101st birthday. B. Krempkau, secretary of the association, his sincere thanks for the splendid ovation given him. Mrs. Clark and several of his children went to San Antonio with him, as well as his nephew, Isaac Rhoades of Kingfisher, Oklahoma, who is now on a visit.

A monster birthday cake, decorated with 101 candles, and appropriately inscribed, was presented to Mr. Clark at the Pioneer Freighters' Association, and was brought to Bandera where it was put on display at Billings' Drug Store and a visitor magnet there for several days. On Tuesday the cake was cut at a dinner given at the Clark home, and a piece sent to each of Mr. Clark's grandchild, as well as the children of Mr. Clark. Candles were supplied in the race.

Leg Broken in Auto Collision

We regretted to learn of the serious accident which befell Mr. Theo W. Friedrich, secretary of Josko Bros. Co., in San Antonio recently when he sustained a broken leg in an automobile collision on the streets there. It had been arranged that Mr. Friedrich, Col. M. L. Crimmins, Mr. Harnish and the New Era editor were to make a trip to the hills in Kimble county to inspect some Indian mounds, but the accident coming only three or four days before we were to start, our trip was postponed to a later date. We hope Mr. Friedrich will soon recover from his injuries.

A Correction.

In mentioning the marriage last week of Brian Montague and Miss Eva Sweet at San Antonio, the New Era inadvertently stated that the ceremony was performed at St. Mark's rectory, when we should have said the marriage took place at St. Mary's rectory, where Father Mayl performed it. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Menger Hotel, immediately after which the newly wedded pair departed for Mexico City on a bridal trip.

Unfortunately Clark's health would be about as attractive for him to undertake such a long trip. He is the oldest living member of the regiment having been a member of that company during the Mexican War.

Wolves Killing Sheep on Verde

Charlie Britsch was in town Saturday and said wolves were doing a great deal of damage on the West Verde. He has lost about twenty sheep and goats within a very short time, and others report losses. An effort is to be made to exterminate the wolves, which are supposed to be two or three old lobos or timber wolves which have drifted into that section.

Stairway Placed on the Outside

One of the stairways which led up into the center of the High School Auditorium has been removed and placed on the outside of the building, which gives more space in the auditorium and helps the looks of things generally. The work was done under the supervision of the Parent-Teacher's Association, and is a great convenience as well as a necessary improvement.

Meeting at Pipe Creek.

Beginning Friday night a ten days meeting will be held at Pipe Creek, Evangelist H. E. Winegar of Independence, Mo., will conduct the meeting. Saturday night he will give an illustrated lecture on the life of Christ. Everybody urged to attend.

Hospitality at Spicewood Ranch

Last Sunday in company with Louis Harnisch and little son, Brentano, the New Era editor spent the day at the delightful home of Col. Walter Godkin at Spicewood Springs ranch, below Pipe Creek, where we were accorded real hospitality. A number of young people were guests in this home on that day and entertained us with vocal and instrumental music, the songs being in English and Spanish, and pretty Little Miss Irene Lozano, six-year-old grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Godkin danced the Charleston. A splendid dinner was prepared and served by Mrs. Godkin, and after dinner we prowled around in search of ancient Indian mounds. It is truly a delight to visit this hospitable home, where every visitor is made to feel glad he is there.

Minstrels Last Saturday Night

Mirandy's Minstrels played a return engagement at the High School Auditorium last Saturday night, the crowd being fully as large as at the first performance. "Mrs. Black's Pink Tea" was again presented, along with several new numbers, plantation melodies, songs and jokes. The ladies making up the cast were all good actors, and pleased the audience with the impersonations. "Mirandy's Minstrels" is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Association and the entertainments are given to raise funds for the High School. The Parent-Teachers' Association has a number of the books containing plays, songs, etc., which they will sell to other community organizations or individuals who wish to give like entertainments.

Demonstration Libby Products

A demonstration of Libby products was given at J. H. Bruce's store last Saturday, when free lunches made of various canned goods put up by the Libby company were served to great crowds who thronged the store all day. Mr. Ware, of Corpus Christi, was in charge of demonstration and as soon as the New Era editor and his force of hungry printers entered the store he immediately prepared a lot of sandwiches and set them before us, at the same time telling us all about Libby's products and giving us a lot of literature as to how to prepare all sorts of tempting dishes. We ate, and then ate some more. He did not have to tell us how good the products were, for we were convinced by "the proof of the pudding." At four o'clock "Mirandy's Minstrels" started their parade from Bruce's store, announcing their entertainment at the High School Auditorium that night.

Gin Running.

The Farmers' Gin has turned out about twenty-five bales of cotton to date. Bandera county's cotton crop is usually small, due to the fact that our farmers do not plant much cotton, the number of bales ginned each season at Bandera seldom exceeding 250. The leaf worm has done some damage to the crop here this year.

Bandera High School Opens

Bandera High School opened Monday morning with good enrollment. A very encouraging and promising start on the school's work was made and we are predicting that the term will be marked as one of the best we have ever had, for the parents and pupils are all interested and there seems to be a determination on the part of all to co-perate and labor for a better school in every way. The faculty this year is made up of teachers of known ability and progessiveness, as follows:

Mr. A. K. Briggs, superintendent. Mr. Briggs is a young man of splendid ability. He was raised at Medina, and was principal of Bandera High School last term.

Mr. C. B. Gilbert, principal. Mr. Gilbert is a young man of sterling character and ability, and was also raised at Medina. He taught with good success at Melon, Texas, last term.

James Emerson, first assistant. Mr. Emerson hails from Marlin, and comes highly recommended. He formerly lived at Kerrville, and is a young man of splendid attainments.

Miss Bess Campbell, assistant. Miss Campbell is from Devine, and has had successful teaching experience. She comes to us well recommended, and we are sure our school board was fortunate in securing her services.

Miss Katherine McBryde, assistant. Miss McBryde was raised at Medina, in this county, and is a teacher of several years experience. She comes with general satisfaction wherever she has taught, and we are glad she was given a place in Bandera High School.

Mrs. E. B. Little, assistant. Mrs. Little's work in our school last term is well known, and we are glad she has been with us the same position this term. She is a teacher of ability, and gives general satisfaction.

Now that we have a splendid faculty and starting off with such excellence prospects for a successful term, we hope the school patronage will give encouragement to the teachers by all times co-operating with them to the end that our school will steadily grow and advance along all lines. Bandera High School has made some good strides during the past two or three years, but there is much to do yet, and the faculty cannot do it all. Let's all pull togeth. er for a bigger and better school.

Married Last Week.

Miss Elsie Haile of Houston and Ernest Adler of Boerne were married on Tuesday of last week at Richmond, Texas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Haile, and is well known in Bandera, having frequently visited relatives and friends here. They will reside in Boerne, where the groom is engaged in business.

Alfred Walker and K. K. Stokes, Medina citizens, were seen in Bandera Monday.

Bandera Now in Bexar District

Walter Jersig, special district deputy game warden, was here from San Antonio yesterday and in company with Dan Kugh paid the New Era a visit. Mr. Jersig informs us that Bandera county has been placed in the San Antonio district, now composed of the counties of Bexar, Bandera, Medina, Atascosa, Frio and Wilson counties, and that steps are being taken to more rigidly protect the game throughout this region. He asks the co-operation of the ranch owners and land-holders in this county, who may lease their lands as hunting reserves, to the end that all game may be protected and propagated. The coming of hundreds of sportsmen from all parts of the state to this region to hunt deer and turkeys is threatening the extinction of wild game, which will certainly be the case within a very few years unless whole hearted co-operation on the part of our citizens with the State Game Department is given.

Adenoids and Tonsils Removed.

Compiling Book of Frontier History

Judge and Mrs. Carroll McConnell, of Palo Pinto, were in Bandera Tuesday and Judge McConnell called and spent an hour with the New Era editor. He is gathering material for a frontier history of West Texas, and during the past several months has traveled over 25,000 miles getting the experiences of men and women who lived on the frontier in the early days. The history will be published in several volumes and will come from the press some time next year. It will be a wonderful compilation of sketches and narratives of people, accounts of Indian raids, battles, incidents of border life, and everything that helped to make history of the most thrilling kind. We are glad something has undertaken the stupendous task of reseuing from oblivion the record of achievement of our pioneers, and of piecing together the fragments of history which have been scattered about unnoticed for so many years. Judge McConnell is imminently qualified to perform the task to which he has so enthusiastically set himself, and we will await with a great deal of anticipation the bringing out of his book. He went from here to Burnet to pursue his labors.

The social dance given by the Bandera Council Security Benefit Association last Friday night at the Fair Exhibit Hall in Mansfield Park, was a very delightful affair, and largely attended by invited friends. Music was furnished by Virgil McCarthy and Gene George. Refreshments of cake and punch were served.

Look for Meat Under Car Seat

If your Ford car begins to smell bad and you think it has died, better look under the seat and see if there is not a chunk of decayed meat there. Last Saturday Gus Reinarz of Pipe Creek placed a big hunk of beef under somebody's car seat, thinking he was putting it in his brother's car. By this time that meat should be letting its whereabouts become known.

Mrs. Lizzie Welch Married.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

Let's establish a park on the court house square. What are you willing to do toward the creation of a play-ground there?

We congratulate the Comfort News on the installation of a linotype machine. The News under the management of Mrs. George Belsey, is a very interesting and live weekly paper, and now that a linotype has been added to the office equipment noticeable improvement has already been made.

School opened Monday, and all over Texas hundreds of bright eyed, happy little children trudged to the little red school house (perhaps it was red) to take up their studies for the term. In Bandera our high school started off with excellent prospects. We have a splendid faculty of teachers this year, and the boys and girls who are pupils have entered upon their studies with a determination to make greater advancement than ever. Every citizen of the community should be proud of our public school for upon its pillars rests the future of our nation.

The tendency of the times seems to be toward worship of the movie actors. As an indication of this we recall seeing in a San Antonio paper a short time ago that almost two pages were devoted to the death of that moral pervert and matrimonial maniac, movie shiek, Valentino, and in the same news paper a six-inch space was given to mention of the death of President Elliott of Harvard University, a grand old man who has done more for the advancement of morality and better living than 10,000 "movie actors." Valentino gets the plaudits of the multitude now, but in a few years his fame will be forgotten, while President Elliott will be remembered for ages.

Here's the kind of boosting that makes visitors think. Down at on the road to the Medina Lake below Pipe Creek is a little cold drink stand operated by Charlie Godkin just a little shed where ice cold soda pop and buttermilk is dispensed, but the boy is doing a good business with the thirsty passersby. Adorning his little shed are a number of signs, among which is to be found these suggestive placards: "Get Your Kick from the Cow—Drink Buttermilk." "The Buttermilk Which Made Milwaukee Beautious." "Our Drinks Will Cure Moral Turpitude," and here's the best one: "Bandera County, the Play Ground for San Antonio. No Toll Roads." The road on which his dispensary is located has been put in first class condition from where it leaves the Bandera and San Antonio road, and hundreds of people travel it in going to the various camps at Medina Lake. Most of these people come out from San Antonio for recreation and enjoyment, and whenever they read these attractive signs they are made to realize that Bandera county is really calling them. Good roads and a cordial welcome works wonders in bringing people from distant points.

"There is a Reason"

Why not have a "Trades Day" in Bandera once a month? We think it would be a good feature and help to draw more trade to the firms in this town. A second or third Saturday in each month should be designated as Trades Day, when every body who has anything to trade or sell could bring it and swap with their neighbors. A horse, a pig, a cow, some chickens, an old wagon, buggy, cultivator, plows, automobiles, or anything you have which you want to dispose of, you could bring in and perhaps trade for something else you may want. The merchants could put on specials for that day; one merchant could make a special price on sugar, another a special price on flour, another a special on beans, another on cloth, and so on. Trades Day could be made a bargain day and a great event all around. Let's have a Trades Day in Bandera.

Every election year when the candidates are seeking office, or the office is seeking some good man, it seems there is an epidemic of subscriptionitis. All sorts of subscription lists are put in circulation and the candidates are expected to give early and often. It seems the list and ones where his name has not contributed one dollar, so he puts down for seven and a half won't afford to let that opponent be more liberal than he could be, and so it is five dollars for this and a dollar for that, with ten dollars to a charitable need, and two dollars to a barbecue fund, four dollars and six bits to help build a road, and hundreds of other money-raising lists. By the time he gets through, if he happens to be elected, he has given away a whole lot of the unearned salary of the office. And so it is for all the candidates, the dog tag till he can't dig up any more.

Now it's about time to take steps toward establishing a park on our court house square. The county fair and old settlers' reunion have passed into the "has been hold" class, and the way is cleared for a general campaign of activity to make the public park a reality. Of course the campaign for county offices is on and is to be settled by the general election in November, but this should not interfere with our plans for the park. One thing we want a candidate right here, and that is that the candidates who are running for office will not be asked to donate to a "park fund." If any of them want to contribute voluntarily they may do so, but we are not going to insist that they make a contribution, because it seems when a campaign comes on there are all sorts of subscription lists put in circulation and the candidates are bombarded on all sides. The only thing we are asking candidates at the present time is for an expression of their views regarding this proposed park, particularly the candidates for county commissioner. If elected will these candidates help us create a park on the public square? Speak up gentlemen, and tell the people where you stand on the question.

Gus Varner, a former well known Wilson county citizen, who is now ranching at Valentine, Texas, in the Marfa country spent a day or two of this week with relatives here. He accompanied his son, and daughter as far as San Antonio where they attended the Teachers' Institute. Miss Ola will teach in the Marfa school this term and Noel Varner will teach in the Fairview school near here. —Floresville Chronicle-Journal.

The New Era like all newspapers, comes in for its share of severe criticism by certain people and helps to draw more trade to the firms in this town. A second or third Saturday in each month should be designated as Trades Day, when every body who has anything to trade or sell could bring it and swap with their neighbors. A horse, a pig, a cow, some chickens, an old wagon, buggy, cultivator, plows, automobiles, or anything you have which you want to dispose of, you could bring in and perhaps trade for something else you may want. The merchants could put on specials for that day; one merchant could make a special price on sugar, another a special price on flour, another a special on beans, another on cloth, and so on. Trades Day could be made a bargain day and a great event all around. Let's have a Trades Day in Bandera.

We do not know what has come over the spirit of the people of Hondo. At one time the Odd Fellows' hall was used jointly by some six or eight active lodges. One by one they demised and now that the Odd Fellows lodge has given up the hopeless struggle for existence the vast hall is tenantless. What the effect on the social life of the community will be remains to be seen. This together with some three or four pasteless churches is a strange community in our boosted community—Hondo Anvil-Herald.

Hondo is no exception to the rule. A similar condition exists in many other towns over the country. There seems to be a slackening of interest in the things that tend to purify the community, while on the other hand the moving picture shows and the dance halls are usually crowded with old and young hellbent on pleasure and going strong. This writer recalls some twenty-five years ago when he belonged to Deming Lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F., which met every Monday night, the average attendance was 85 per cent of its membership and some of the members rode horse back eighteen and twenty miles and did not miss a meeting. The three links meant something, and friendship, Love and Truth predominated in the every day affairs of the members of the grand old order.

Proposed Amendments

Four constitutional amendments are to be submitted at the regular November election. That you may know what you are being asked to vote upon, here they are:

Whether school lands owned by one county shall be taxed by the county in which it is situated.

Whether the counties shall be given power to create independent school districts, now holding only by the legislature.

Whether officers of the national guard receive and retain their commissions when called into United States, and enlisted men of such military organizations shall be authorized to hold public office in the State.

The first affects relatively few counties one way or the other. Counties with a three person board of commissioners would benefit as a matter of justice to have relief from the burden of road building and maintenance, bridges and culverts. The second is a matter of economy and responsibility in the handling of prison affairs. It has been tried before, but is worth trying.

Counties ought to have power to create independent school districts if they are local units based on the say so of the taxpayers' representatives.

Should a recent graduate of a military school be eligible to serve public office so long as they are not actively engaged in military duties. Viewed as a public service and should not be penalized.

And yet it is fairly safe to say that all four of the amendments will be defeated.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

Killed In Bandit Battle

Kansas City, Kansas, Sept. 12.—A 20-year-old Kansas police and suspected bandit men under a sudden fire early Sunday morning, resulted in the death of William Scally, Kansas City, Kans., police chauffeur, and J. Williamson of Columbia, Mo., one of the bandits.

According to the story obtained by the police, Iscal Bisley, 19 and Miss Florence Clark, 24, were sitting in their parked car with the window when two men approached them from the railroad yards. The two men pulled an automobile robe over them and then the police patrol came by, thinking that the two were robbing the couple in the car, stopped to investigate. As the policemen came up to the parked car, Williamson pulled his gun and started shooting. Scally, falling him almost instantly.

The soldiers in the car were told to pursue bandits and the police headquarters and all police radio broadcasting stations were trying to identify the two men.

Shoot to Kill Orders Given.

Washington, Sept. 12.—A command to "shoot to kill" was sent out Sunday by the Postoffice Department to its army of 22,500 railway mail clerks to protect from bandits, even at the cost of their own lives, the millions of dollars' worth of treasure handled daily in the United States mails.

The command, which applies to the thousands of other postal employees, also constitutes a warning to the underworld that the postal service means war and anyone found attempting to rob the mails may expect a cold lead response and no mercy.

Lace Found on Nuns Traced.

St. Albans, Vt., Sept. 12—Lace found hidden in the clothing of four nuns who were taken off a train at Rutland Saturday has been traced to a shipment landed at Quebec on August 15, customs officials here claimed Sunday night. The nuns, members of three Massachusetts communities are detained under guard at a hotel for hearing Monday afternoon.

Collector Harry G. Whitehill of the Vermont customs district communicated with Montreal and Quebec authorities and later said he learned the lace seized here was all or part of a shipment brought to Quebec on the steamship Empress of Scotland by two passengers. It was valued at 2,500 francs.

Weslaco, Kan., Sept. 12.—Nearly six feet of rain fell in northwestern Woodson County, was completely submerged following a cloudburst between midnight and 7 o'clock Sunday morning, according to a telephone report from Ronald Fitzgerald, bank cashier, who stood in water up to his waist on the second floor of the tallest building in town to telephone the report to Wichita.

The Neosho River is 15 miles wide at this point, he said, and is 31 feet above normal stage. Thousands of other records of people are clinging to roofs of buildings, he reported, while rescuers in boats and improvised rafts endeavor them to high ground.

W. Ehlinger's store at Ehlinger, because Sheriff Albert Beard Saturday night that a robbery might be attempted.

Two Killed In Bandit Battle

Kansas City, Kans., Sept. 12.—A running battle between police and suspected bandits here under a hail of lead early Sunday morning resulted in the death of William Conley, Kansas City, Kans., police character, and Miss Florence Clark, 23, of Columbia, Mo., and the wounding of two of the bandits.

According to the story obtained by the police, Opal Bisley, 19, and Miss Florence Clark, 23, were sitting in their parked car beneath the viaduct when two men approached them from the railroad yards. The two men stopped up, asked the couple what they were doing there, and then the police patrol came by and thinking that the two men were robbing the couple in the car, stopped to investigate.

As the policemen came up to the parked car, Williamson pulled a gun and started shooting at Conley, killing him almost instantly. Ed J. Wilson, one of the policemen, returned the fire, and the bandits attempted to escape. Given other lay hand and the aid of said Court, at office in Bandera this 3rd day of September A. D. 1926.

The nuns, members of three Massachusetts communities, are detained under guard at a hotel for hearing Monday afternoon.

Collector Harry G. Whitehill of the Vermont customs district communicated with Montreal and Quebec authorities and later said he believed the lace seized here was all or part of a shipment brought to Quebec on the steamship Empress of Scotland by two Belgians. It was valued at 350,000 francs.

HURRICANE HITS EAST COAST OF FLORIDA—1,000 LIVES LOST

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept 19 —A hurricane which came out of the West Indies swept over the lower east coast of Florida Friday and Saturday, causing the death list estimated at over 1,000 persons, destroyed property valued at more than $125,000,000, left 15,000 people homeless and passed into the Gulf of Mexico. Sunday night it was sweeping across the Gulf and was expected to hit the coast somewhere between Pensacola and the mouth of the Mississippi River.

The injured were estimated at 2,000. One hundred and three of the dead have been accounted for and 43 identified. Miami Beach, Miami and vicinity and Fort Lauderdale caught the brunt of the storm. People in that section were in need of food and medical supplies which were being rushed to them from all parts of the State on special trains. Drinking water was being rationed in Miami and other parts of the area.

Water was flowing in the streets of Miami, practically every place of business was said to have been damaged, no drinking water was immediately available and phones and electric lights were out of commission.

Reports from Miami said stores were closed and restaurants were not serving food on account of lack of water, electricity and gas. In response to urgent appeals, doctors, nurses, supplies and water were hurried into Miami from sister cities of Florida.

Accounts placed Miami Beach with the greatest number of dead, the estimate there being 150, and 80 more were said to be in Miami, undertakers being unable to care for them. The property damage in these two places was estimated at from $25,000,000 to $100,000,000.

The storm swept on across Fort Lauderdale, north of Miami, wrecking property which so far has not been estimated and leaving a casualty list placed at 100.

Reports said Moorehaven, 70 miles northwest of Fort Lauderdale, suffered heavily. The dead in Moorehaven and Clewiston was estimated at 140, and one report said bodies were strewn along the road. Another report said that from 35 to 40 white women and children were drowned in the lake region near Moorehaven.

The death toll in Hollywood was placed at 12, 11 at Dania, one at Opa, one at Hialeah and two at Hallendale, all in the vicinity of Miami. Homestead, 40 miles south of Miami, had one death.

While the damage at Hollywood was unestimated, those familiar with that city said in the past two years approximately $40,000,000 worth of building and development had been done and property loss must have been great.

She was a member of the Methodist church from early childhood, and lived her religion in her daily walk. One of a family of nine children, all of whom grew to manhood and womanhood here, she is the first to be called by death. Boy Killed by Falling Timber

Don Harris, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Don M. Harris of Corpus Christi, died in that city last Sunday from injuries received when he was struck by a falling timber. The lad, with other boys, was playing around the new Methodist church under construction when a heavy timber in some manner became loosen and fell, striking the boy on the head and fracturing his skull. He never regained consciousness, but died a few hours later. The little boy was a grandson to Judge and Mrs. C. W. Harris of Medina who returned home from a visit to Corpus Christi on Saturday, and the next day were notified of the terrible accident. He was also a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Humphries of Medina. He was born in Bandera county, and moved to Corpus Christi with his parents in 1919. Friends of the family are deeply grieved to learn of the great sorrow which has so suddenly descended upon them.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

The deer and turkey season will soon open. Our ranchmen and farmers should begin at once to post their pastures if they do not want to be over-run with sportsmen. The word has gone out that Bandera county is full of game this year, which is a mistake, and huntsmen are coming. Post your pastures now and be on the safeside.

o

The establishment of a sweet milk route from Medina to San Antonio daily is a step in the right direction, as it affords a market for the farmer's dairy product, and will encourage a greater milk production. When the farmers know they can produce something that has a ready market and which means profit to them they are going to produce that very thing. Dairying is a profitable industry, but throughout this region out of remotness from railroad and only a limited local demand for milk has been a drawback to the industry here. Now that a milk route has been established the farmer can dispose of his milk right from the cow, at fair price and with little trouble. The good road to San Antonio has made it possible. The Mistletoe Creamery of San Antonio has installed a condensing and canning plant for the marketing of milk in the way of condensed canned milk, thus assuring dairy farmers an increased demand for their sweet milk.

The state of Texas is doing all the means at command will allow to preserve the wild game, and the people should co-operate in every possible in the matter. For the past several months Bandera has been practically without a game warden, but now that this county has been placed in the San Antonio district we have the assurance that game wardens will be furnished. In this connection we take this opportunity to urge ranchmen and landowners who lease hunting privileges to thoroughly familiarize themselves with the new law and make their reports as the law directs. If every citizen would co-operate with the wardens at all seasons of the year our diminishing supply of wild game would soon begin to increase. The automobile has made it possible for sportsmen to come here from all parts of the state, and many of these so-called sportsmen have no regard whatever for the game laws; they not only wantonly slaughter wild game but they kill domestic stock as well and do a lot of damage during the season. We do not welcome such huntsmen to our region, but there seems to be no way to keep them away except by strict enforcement of the game laws, and forbidding them to hunt in pastures. In protecting the game you will be protecting your stock and your property.

Eliminate Gaps Work From Dairying

Real money is being made today from dairying. It is a highly successful and profitable branch of farming—if done rightly. But dairying must be carried on with intelligence and fair amount of business management.

The farmer who takes a real interest in his cows, keeps records, studies methods and takes steps to know which cows pay and which do not, is the one who shows a worthwhile profit, balance at the end of the year.

In dealing with cows nothing should be taken for granted, and surface appearances should never be accepted as final. There are always available simple methods of getting at the facts of a cows production ability and such facts are as vital to a cow owner as for a manufacturer to know the production capacity of a certain machine.

A prominent Farm paper told recently of a Missouri farmer who tried to sell a rather poor looking dersey cow for $75. He found no buyers. He put her in a cow testing association and she broke the state cow-testing record by producing well above 500 pounds butterfat after the first 4 months of her milking season was over. Naturally that cow is now for sale at even several times $75.

On the dairy farms that are making the real profits today the owners no more think of keeping cows without keeping records than a successful merchant will think of trusting to his memory and luck to collect his bills.

It may sound exaggerated to say that one good cow is worth more than a whole herd of poor ones. But actual cow-test records have disclosed many cases where one good producer showed a higher net profit for the year than 20 or 30 poor ones.

The actual characteristics of cows make a vast difference, naturally. But after all, the state of a cows health is the greatest single factor affecting milk production. The records of the San Antonio district we have concerning brought out this fact as never before fully realized.

A cow is milk-making machine and at the same time a delicate and sensitive animal. Her natural vigor is not equal to the continued strain of forced production unless assisted at every turn by ideal food and care. Even so, there are times when the pace kills and some defect organ weakens. Watching and guarding against such disorders—keeping the health standard constantly at topnotch is the first aim of successful dairying.

Bandera is ideally situated for development of the dairy industry. This industry should be encouraged; our farmers should get more good cows and increase the milk output here. It has been argued by some that dairying would not pay because we were too far from market and the local consumption was not sufficient to justify producing milk on a very large scale. Now that we have a first class road to San Antonio, and a milk route has been established this argument won't stand. We claim that a few good dersey cows, properly cared for, will provide a sure source of income. We know of one community in this county which has pulled itself "out of the hole" by taking up dairy farming, and that was done before we had good roads. We predict that within another two years the dairying industry throughout Bandera county will be increased over 100 per cent.

Hunters Must Have License.

According to the game laws of Texas it is necessary for those who would hunt this season to have a hunting license. These can be secured by application to the County Clerk, or to nearly any sporting goods store. The fee is $2.00, and the license is good anywhere in the State of Texas. It must be carried by the person of the holder, and game warden or peace officer. The holder of a hunting license is entitled to hunt only game built which the season is open, and possession of a license does not carry with it the privilege of hunting upon posted land. The license is good until the close of the current hunting season. Hunting licenses are not transferrable.

The deer season is now open and will continue on until the last of October. The quail season opens November 15 and closes December 15 inclusive. The turkey season is open from Nov. 1 to Dec. 31 inclusive. The law limits are imposed on all game upon which there is a closed season.

Last year there were a number of infractions of the hunting and game laws by many local sportsmen. It is likely that the season will show even stricter enforcement of the law. There is most no excuse for one not being cognizant of the law, if he is going to hunt, and the judges and game wardens are inclined to be more severe. The sentiment on the part of the sportsmen is growing more pronounced in favor of severe penalties upon those who do not observe the law. The "game hog" in or out of season is a sportsman. He has no consideration and a fair chance for the game, and to the law.

The Hill Country of which Kerrville is the heart, is hunter's paradise, and to keep such should be the desire of every citizen. It is to our advantage to do so, not only from the standpoint of sportsmanship, but from the humanitarian point of view of saving and conserving the fast disappearing wild life of our country, but to a purely business proposition. There are hunters and huntress enough in the to send a million dollars annually for the sake of sport, and to turn aside from business affairs for a season. They are here to regain health, to recuperate lessen tension and restore shattered nerve force. Nowhere in the world is there a better place to spend a purpose with the object in view carried out. Yet simply to tramp over the hills, while good as healthful, is not so interesting as hunting. Moreover, the pleasant anticipation of a successful enterprise is in itself a splendid builder of health. It enables the worn body or mind to forget self, and gives the ability restoring tone of our Hill Country the needed opportunity to perform its healing influences.—Kerrville Hill View Times.

Game Warden Visits Hondo.

Walter Jessip of San Antonio, special Deputy Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner in the counties of Bexar, Bandera, Medina, Atascosa, Frio, and Wilson, passed through Hondo Wednesday. Deputy Jessip advised the Anvil that the department has instructed the deputies to thoroughly acquaint the people with the Shooting Preserve License law. The department was to lenient last season on account of this matter being new. Consequently the coming season deputies must "clear down" and any person leasing his premises without securing a "Shooting Preserve License" from the department or failing to make proper returns thereon at the close of the season must stand the consequences. The license fee is $5.00. Application must be made to the department at Austin, and ranchmen who lease their property to hunters are urged to get in immediate touch with the deputies in the field or by addressing the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission at Austin, Texas. Failure to comply with this law carries a penalty of not less than $100 nor more than $200 or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than ninety (90) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. No hunting guest shall be accommodated who has not previously secured a hunting license.

State Game Commissioner Turner E. Hubby's conservation program of wild life in securing some 40 game preserves, building fish hatcheries, together with the co-operation of the land owners and hunters in strict compliance with the game laws will make Texas truly a Hunters Paradise, the pride of every man, woman and child in the great Lone Star State.

The sporting goods dealer will gladly furnish any one interested with copies of game laws. They have also Hunting Licenses, Resident, Crameres and Shooting Preserve Licenses as may be required.—Hondo Anvil Herald.

But For Pardoning Power All Would Be Lost

The question of executive clemency is one always under discussion in the various states of the Union. It has been abused, trusted, denounced and paraded throughout the ages. We have seen notable examples of its misuse and the failure of men to let even reason have sway. Our own state has had examples where executives have come to Texas in reference, Governor Neff was too overzealous and we fear that he will think in this regard is one of the fatal mistakes of his administration. During the present administration, the swing has been in the opposite direction and Fergusons have been entirely too extravagant in the issuance of pardons. As between the two evils, both of the present governors exhibited by far the greatest amount of the element of humanity and followed more closely in the precepts of the Divine Father. Personally we had rather err on the side of mercy than to be responsible for the execution of one innocent person, even if a number of the guilty escaped punishment. In this connection we were reminded of a story told on the governor of Illinois, who was holding a session of court in Nashville, and had before him for his consideration the case of a negro who had been convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged. The governor was known to be opposed to the infliction of the death penalty and when the negro's case was presented and argued the governor was over heard to say to the man at Governor Taylor's side: "Governor Taylor, I don't see how I can sign the death warrant of this negro. He is the only negro in Nashville and I have been trying for years to get rid of him." Governor Taylor replied: "There are two citizens of the United States I am never moving out of, meaning with reference to the governor's power to pardon, one is a negro and the other is a horse thief." The governor's face lighted up and he said it had not been for the pardoning power of Andrew Jackson Jones would have been executed for horse stealing. Governor Taylor was a democrat and a strong one at that, and so much is strong with him. It is hedged on either side by the constitution and laws of the state. The other is the executive clemency, meaning with reference to the power which looks and should look to the mitigation of the punishment of the unfortunate. I have known governors who held the pardoning power, I have known governors who had the governor's knee and put their arms around his neck. I heard her ask him if he had little girls. I heard her say that she loved him as though her little heart would break and heard her plead for mercy for her poor, miserable, unfortunate father.

I visited the penitentiary and looked in and saw the gleaming stripes of shame and the pallid faces of convicts serving out their long sentences under the lash of the law and shrinking from the secrets of their inmost souls. There was not a smile nor a peal of laughter but a melancholy gloom seemed to hold lingered behind the bars to comfort languishing love.

"I saw ten thousand outstretched hands and heard ten thousand cries for help; and the cries raised their breathes and the scaffold swung its fatal noose to and fro, and said, 'You shall not listen to their cries?' but humanity said 'You must,' and I did. I saw the gallows, where murderers were not heinous crimes, dying in disgrace, and I turned them out and gave them back to their mothers—some with new hope and some to die.

"I saw repentant men who had suffered long enough, and I sent them back to their starving wives and children. And I said: 'Let the critics frown and rail, let this heartless world condemn, but he who hath the pardoning power and doth not temper justice with mercy will on that Great Day cry for mercy, and mercy will be refused him.' For, thank God, the stream of happy humanity that rolls on like a gleaming river, and the stream of the suffering, distressed, and ruined of earth, both empty into the great ocean of eternity and mingle like the waters, and there is a just and merciful God who will judge the merciful and the unmerciful."

We subscribe to the theory of Bob Taylor, with all our hearts and while we know that mistakes have been made in the past, will be made in the future, that men have received the benefits of pardon who should not have received them, but in the main we believe that those who come here thousands of them have returned to home and life pursuits and made honorable, God-fearing upright citizens. We had rather see a mistake now and then than see the gates of penitentiary sealed and a sign placed upon the door "Those who enter here there is no hope." God never intended that men should frown upon that which He himself has blessed and how can we stand at the mercy seat at the foot of His throne and ask that He extend to us that which we have refused to offer to others who come to grief. Yes, we believe in the everlasting power on earth and and in Heaven above—even if mankind should be asked to show mercy this power has been exercised by them on earth as a basis for that which shall be extended to them above. Let us take a lot of people will find themselves in worse condition than those who ever got to them in the first place. The sword must be used in all cases of this character.

Chicken and Turkey Measure

Austin, Tex., Sept. 28.—Senator Ward's turkey and chicken bill passed the Senate Tuesday morning.

The bill makes the fraudulent taking of chickens or turkeys a felony punishable by penitentiary imprisonment or fine or jail sentence. Before passage it was amended by Senator Bailey of DeWitt so as to apply only to chickens and turkeys old take effect 90 days after passage.

A lively speech by Senator Murphy in opposition to the bill and by Senator Ward in answer, marked its passage to engross ment. Senator Murphy said that if the Texas Legislature had no more to do than to make a felony the stealing of a fowl, the Legislature should be abolished. He argued that a person should not be sent to the penitentiary for stealing "one frizzly chicken." Senator Ward said that Senator Murphy's heart was in the right place, and that chicken and turkey theft was a commercial practice among organized thieves of North Texas, and the State in general.

Senator Woodward of Coleman offered an amendment to strike out the clause "both blondes and brunettes" which the chair ruled out of order. Senator Ward said that as for the Senator from Coleman, but that the bill was a serious matter.

The bill went to final reading on the suspension of rules by 21 ayes and 4 noes and was finally passed by a vive voce vote. It now goes to the house, where Senator Ward said it is assured of passage.

Visit to the Bat Cave.

W. D. Swithers and N. H. Rose the San Antonio photographers came up Sunday and accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hunter, Marvin Hunter, Jr., Forrest Irving, Howard Eckhart and Miss Rachel Hunter, went to visit the Bat Cave on West Verde Creek, some twelve miles from Bandera. This great cave is a wonder, it being located at the top of a hill and gradually slopping down to a depth of several hundred feet underground. Mr. Swithers penetrated the cavernous depths and secured some flashlight photos. Millions of bats roost in this cave, and guano covers the floors to the depth of almost a foot. For years the guano has been taken out and shipped to market by the Key Brothers, owners of the land on which the cave is located. It is said the guano yield amounts to about two tons per day annually, the market value being about $45 per ton. Just below the bat cave, and on property belonging to Ben Gerdes is located the ruins of the old saltpetre works, where during the Civil War period saltpetre was obtained from the guano to be used in the manufacture of gun powder.

After visiting the Bat Cave we spent a short while at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gerdes where we were hospitably entertained. Mr. Gerdes has a nice ranch property on West Verde, which he purchased two years ago, and is comfortably and substantially situated.

In Justice Court

Justice court was grinding Monday. Two or three civil cases were continued. Pete Lax son entered a plea of guilty to simple assault on Walter Stein and was fined five dollars and costs.

Surprise Party

A delightful surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gerdes, Mr. and Mrs. Clayborne Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eckhart and family, Mrs. Clem Davenport, Mrs. Charlie Eckhart, Misses Nettie and Rachel Hunter, Evelyn Davenport, Annie Cravey, and sister, Evelyn Berger, Lera Thelman, Delia Saathoff, Miss Nunly Evelyn and Hazel Gerdes and Alice Wall. Messrs Howard and Leo Eckhart, Jake Short, Marvin Hunter Jr., Roland Thalman, Roland Britsch, John Martin, Wesley DeGroat, Bruce Mansfield, George Elam, Tom and Dude Robertson, Mac Joiner, Sidney, Eugene and Clinton Saathoff, George Gray, Bernice Smith, Warren Davenport, Melvin and Stanley Burger, Henry Saathoff and Thomas Smith.

That beautiful black eye Col. J. A. Head is wearing is the result of a fall he sustained one day last week, when his foot became entangled in a lot of loose wire, as he was walking across his yard. He was thrown heavily to the ground and besides the black eye he received several painful bruises about the face.

House Votes to Cut Motor Fees

Austin, Tex., Sept. 27.—A decrease of 60 per cent in the registration fee for passenger automobiles is provided in the bill by Dale of Fannin and others which Monday passed the House of the 39th Legislature, here in special session, by a margin of 118—3.

This is a companion to the bill by Dale and others asking that the gasoline gallonage tax be increased from 1 to 3 cents. The gasoline tax bill will be considered Tuesday, with every prospect of passage by a substantial margin.

With exception of fees for transfers, all revenue from motor registration would go to the road and bridge funds of the respective counties. One-fourth of the gasoline tax would go to the public schools, and three-fourths to the highway department.

Efforts of Representatives from big cities, notably Earl and Jacks of Dallas; Williamson of San Antonio, and Kemble of Fort Worth, to amend the bill in important particulars, failed.

His Profit One Buck

It pays to advertise in more ways than one, and it pays to read the advertisements too. Last week John Bruce inserted a little three cent advertisement in our Want Column announcing that he had three good Angora billies for sale. Frank Mangold read the little ad and decided he wanted one of those billies. Tuesday he and Mrs. Mangold came to town and he hit John Bruce for a trade. Mr. Bruce told him a dandy good billie for $25, and Frank started home rejoicing that he had picked up a splendid flock header at a great bargain. On the way home he met Victor Mazurek, who admired the billie and offered Frank $50 for him. Frank promptly closed the deal right there, delivered the William to Victor and turned right around, came back to town, and bought another billie, just as good as the first one, from John Bruce for $25. Frank came over to the New Era office to show the editor his bargain and wanted us to figure out just how much the goat had cost him. We told him his profit was one buck.

Married Sunday.

Jake Sparks and Miss Vashti Dean, of Tarpley, were married at Medina last Sunday, Rev. M. P. Burton officiating. The happy couple will reside at Tarpley. The New Era joins in extending congratulations and best wishes.

WORLD'S ONLY FIVE RING CIRCUS COMING.

Yoo-hoo! Skinnay! Lookit, lookit!

World's first and only five ring circus coming this way! A hundred double length railroad cars loaded with the ten thousand wonders of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows that will give performances at San Antonio Oct 15.

Never has there been more than three rings in the past. Now Barnum's longer showmen have fixed it so folks at the ends of the tent can see just as much as those who sit near the middle. Imagine five big circus rings in a row with stages set in between. That means that five companies of performing horses, twenty-four in a group, are brought out at one time. The same is true with the elephant actors—five herds all performing stunts at one time.

Big acts are the rule in the great new circus of 1926. Aside from the five troupes of liberty horses, two hundred others, each riding in an act in costume execute drills and splendid manœuvers on the mammoth hippodrome track. Thirty additional cages full of the high-steel type, while a score of superb thoroughbreds leap hurdles and barriers of record height. The number of trained horses alone carried for this season's program reaches the astonishing total of three hundred and fifty.

The circus has to share honors in the twenty-two displays. In addition to them are eight hundred aerialists, bareback champions, gymnasts and high-wire artists. These embrace the world's foremost men and women stars including a host of recently imported foreign features. Some of these number families of nine, eleven and fifteen in an act. A hundred of the world's funniest clowns enliven the more than two hours of circus program. The tournament is the most dazzling yet devised. The menagerie has been increased to more than a thousand rare animals. The tent which houses them is almost as large as the big-top of other seasons. The 1926 main tent seats over 15,000 people.

Bandera Boy Wins Honors

Rufus Haby, who is attending St. Mary's College in San Antonio, writes the New Era that he has been elected to the position of business manager of the Buttons, the High School division of the College which is more for athletics but the outstanding club of the school. Rufus says: "I am rather lucky to get this position, this is my first year, while others have been here four years, and so I am congratulating myself."

School Children in Auto Wreck

The Heiten children, who live several miles from town, narrowly escaped serious injury last Monday as they were returning home from school. Their Ford became unmanageable and went into a deep ditch at the side of the road, smashing two wheels and bot for the fender hanging against an embankment would be turned over. None of the children were hurt beyond being greatly frightened, but they had a narrow escape.

House Votes to Cut Motor Fees

Austin, Tex., Sept. 27.—A decrease of 60 per cent in the registration fee for passenger automobiles is provided in the bill by Dale of Fannin and others which Monday passed the House of the 39th Legislature, here in special session, by a margin of 118—3.

This is a companion to the bill by Dale and others adopted that the gasoline gallonage tax be increased from 1 to 3 cents. The gasoline tax bill will be considered Tuesday, with every prospect of passage by a substantial margin.

With exception of fees for transfers, all revenue from motor registration would go to the road and bridge funds of the respective counties. One-fourth of the gasoline tax would go to the public schools, and three-fourths to the highway department.

Efforts of Representatives from big cities, notably Burt and Jacks of Dallas; Williamson of San Antonio, and Kemble of Fort Worth, to amend the bill in important particulars, failed.

His Profit One Buck

It pays to advertise in more ways than one, and it pays to read the advertisements too. Last week John Bruce inserted a little fifteen cent advertisement in our Want Column announcing that he had three good Angora billies for sale. Frank Mangold read the little ad and decided he wanted one of those billies. Tuesday he and Mrs Mangold came to town and he hit John Bruce for a trade. Mr. Bruce sold him a dandy good billie for $25, and Frank started home rejoicing that he had picked up a splendid flock header at a great bargain. On the way home he met Victor Mazurek, who admired the billie and offered Frank $50 for him. Frank promptly closed the deal right there, delivered the William to Victor and turned right around, came back to town, and bought another billie, just as good as the first one, from John Bruce for $25. Frank came over to the New Era office to show the editor his bargain and wanted us to figure out just how much the goat had cost him. We told him his profit was one buck.

Married Sunday.

Jake Sparks and Miss Vashti Dean, of Tarpley, were married at Medina last Sunday, Rev. M. P. Burton officiating. The happy couple will reside in Tarpley. The New Era joins in extending congratulations and best wishes.

WORLD'S ONLY FIVE RING CIRCUS COMING.

World's first and only five ring circus coming this way! A hundred big and length railroad cars loaded with the ten thousand wonders of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows that will give performances at San Antonio Oct. 15.

Never has there been more than three rings in the past. Now the famous brother showmen have fixed it so folks at the ends of the tent can see just as much as those who sit near the middle. Imagine five big circus rings in a row with stages set in between. That means that five companies of performing horses, twenty-four in a group, are presented at one time. The same is true with the elephant actors—five herds all performing strolls at one time.

Big acts are the rule in the great new circus of 1926. Aside from the five troupes of liberty horses, two hundred others, each ridden by one of the costume execute drills and splendid manœuvers on the mammoth hippodrome track. Then additional ones are of the high-school type, while a score of superb thoroughbreds leap hurdles and barriers almost as large as the big-top of trained horses alone carried for this season's program reaches the astonishing total of three hundred and fifty.

The equines but share honors in the twenty-two displays. In addition to them are eight hundred acrobats, bareback champions, gymnasts and high-wire artists. These embrace the world's foremost men and women stars including a host of recently imported foreign features. Some of these number families of nine, eleven and fifteen in an act. A husband of the world's famous clowns enliven the more than two hours of circus program. The tournament is the most dazzling yet devised. The menagerie has been increased to more than a thousand rare animals. The tent which houses them is almost as large as the big-top of other seasons. The 1926 maintent seats over 15,000 people.

Visit to the Bat Cave.

W. D. Smithers and N. H. Rose the San Antonio photographers came to Bandera last Sunday accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hunter, Marvin Hunter, Jr., Forrest Irving, Howard Eckhart and Miss Rachel Hunter, went to visit the Bat Cave on West Verde Creek, some twelve miles from Bandera. This great cave is truly a wonder it being located at the top of a hill and gradually slopping down to a depth of several hundred feet underground. Mr. Smithers penetrated the cave with lights and secured some flashlight photos. Millions of bats roost in this cave, and guano covers the floors to the depth of almost a foot. For years the guano has been taken out and shipped to market by the Ney Brothers, owners of the land on which the cave is located. It is said the guano yield amounts to about twenty-five tons annually, the market value being about $45 per ton. Just below the bat cave, and on property belonging to Ben Gerdes is located the ruins of the old saltpetre works, where during the Civil War period saltpetre was obtained from the guano to be used in the manufacture of gun powder.

After visiting the Bat Cave we spent a short while at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gerdes where we were hospitably entertained. Mr. Gerdes has a nice ranch property on West Verde which he purchased two years ago, and is comfortably and substantially situated.

That beautiful black eye Col. J. A. Head is wearing is the result of a fall he sustained one day last week, when his foot became entangled in a lot of loose wire, as he was walking across his yard. He was thrown heavily to the ground and besides the black eye he received several painful bruises about the face.

The Bandera New Era

$1.50 Per Year, in Advance

J. M. Hunter, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Bandera, Texas.

Jack Dempsey, pugilist, went down in defeat at the hands of Gene Tunney, another pugilist, last Thursday night, in Philadelphia. That's all the space we care to devote to the bout.

The New Era received three very interesting communications last week too late for publication. Correspondents should send in their letters on Tuesday if possible, in which event they will reach us in time.

Oil showing at a level of 4200 feet in a deep test well being drilled on Sid Peterson's Diamond Ranch in Edwards county, has caused considerable interest and predictions are freely made that an oil field will likely be developed.

The New Era has not heard a word from anybody during the past month in regard to the creation of a park on our public square. We want to see our court house premises beautified, and we have been suggesting it right along. Looks like we'll have to raise funds by popular subscription to do the work, with, and that is what will be done. How much will you give?

Editor H. G. Perry has sold his interest in the Junction Eagle and has retired from the management of that paper. Judge Weaver H. Baker has assumed control and assisted by M. Wilkinson is keeping it up to the excellent standard set by Mr. Perry. Under Mr. Perry's management the Eagle was built up to become one of the best weeklies in West Texas, and more than any other thing to build Junction, Mr. Perry has not announced his future plans, but we venture the prediction that he will not long remain idle.

The New Era has repeatedly stated that it is primarily an institution of Bandera, but our interest does not end with the limits of this town in which we live—we have as great an interest in one town and one community in Bandera county as another. If we are able to serve any community it is not only a pleasure but a privilege to do so. We are for good roads and good schools, and everything else that is good, for every community, and if you doubt it just start a movement for the upbuilding of your respective community and see how quickly and readily the New Era will line up with you.

A few days ago, while Mrs. O. C. Surber was away from home, somebody entered her barn and carried off a large earthen churn. Mrs. Surber kindly requests the person taking it away to return it at once. Now we think that is a mighty low down piece of thievery—to steal a housewife's churn. When we think of a churn we naturally think of buttermilk, and buttermilk is the fluid that sustains the nation. We have often wondered what would have happened if Volstead had included buttermilk in his famous bill. The American people would not have stood for prohibition on buttermilk, never, for there's no beverage that can take its place. We think the chap who stole that churn should return it instanter, and go and buy himself a churn which he can call his own.

What Makes a Town?

These may test the stability and thrift of certain people, but they offer no inducements to commercial and moral progress. Is it the spirit of good order and law observance. That is a factor only. The sleepiest old hamlets that dot the map have the spirit in rank abundance. Is it the schools and churches? May their number ever increase, but they do not make a town—they only cultivate it. Is it the geographical location, the character of the country surrounding, the shipping facilities, the natural advantages?

Well, what is it that makes a town anyway. Just one thing—the unity of the people, the existence of a common bond which causes business and social antagonists to put aside all differences when it comes to boosting the town. No town ever made real success without the get-together spirit unanimously adopted. It has rejuvenated old husks of towns that were yawning their way into endless sleep. It has infused new life blood into the heart of commercial life and made thriving cities out of paralytic villages.

Natural advantages count for much and prosperity cannot be built on shifting sand, but any town with half a chance can be made to grow and expand and thrive when its citizens join with one accord in the boosting program.

A. D. Walker of Dallas and E. W. Van Dayn, a geologist of Des Moines, Iowa, are making plans to drill a test well in the vicinity of Center Point. We believe oil will be found in that region when the proper drilling is done.
