THE GIFT CUSTOM

Some people think the habit of giving Christmas gifts is over done. They claim that many folks of small income give more than they can afford, and are impelled to do so because they hate to break an old custom.

It is said that in many cases the gifts represent a kind of trade or swap, in which both parties would be glad to discontinue the custom, if they could do so without causing disappointment. Also it is complained that many people fail to select gifts with good judgment and that many gifts do not meet the real needs of the recipients.

It used to be customary to give people some very elaborate ornamental presents, which did not need and were not needed. That kind of thing is not so often done now. People usually give things that their relatives what they would like and need and they try to give substantial articles that will be of real value. Or they give things that are really beautiful, and will add to the home.

The Christmas gifts are an expression of love. Thus people are led to realize the blessings they are that bind them together. They go out into life after Christmas with the feeling that they are not solitary and alone amid a world of difficulty, but that kind friends surround them.

An essential feature of the day should be the making of gifts for the poor and needy. If lavish gifts are to be showered on people, more than they need in many cases, also many things should be done to relieve the difficulty and privation of those on whom life bears hard. A custom that gives back warm happiness and so stimulates people's feelings of kindness will not die out, so long as human nature retains these generous and loving traits.

THE AMBITIOUS TOWN

In many towns people seem satisfied to let everything drift along just as it was. They hide behind excuses to keep themselves from doing work for improvement. If a man has a dilatedory habit and he says it is as good as the one owned by some neighbor. Or if his fences are all tumbling down, he says they have always been that way and he has got along all right.

A town like that will not merely stand still but it will gradually fall behind. Civic improvement is not satisfied to let things drift. Its people travel around, they see fine looking farms with modern streets, nice homes, and progressive looking business centers. They come home dissatisfied with unsatisfactory conditions and they take off their coats and go to work to improve those conditions.

UVALDE AND NORTHERN WOULD ABANDON LINE

Washington, Dec. 2—The Uvalde and Northern Railway Company applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission today for permission to abandon its entire line of 27.1 miles from Uvalde to Camp Wood, Texas.

Continued operation of the line as an independent carrier, the company said, was neither practical nor economical.

The purpose for which it was constructed, to haul native mountain cedar timber, has been accomplished largely and any such freight tonnage is now hauled by truck," the application added.

TARPLEY

TARPLEY H. D. CLUB

The ladies of the Tarpley Home Demonstration Club entertained their families and friends with a Christmas party last night. Music and singing were enjoyed by all—especially the tenor and bass singing by Messrs. Bob Robison, Marquis Baird, Rausler and Merritt.

Active games were provided for the children while the elders enjoyed dominoes and forty two.

Refreshments of cocoa, coffee, sandwiches and cake were served by the ladies. The country store had a variety of desirable and useful things to sell. The ladies cleared a nice sum from this. They take this means of expressing their pleasure for the presence of every guest and appreciation of their generous patronage. They also thank the school board for the use of the school house.

Unsealed Christmas cards will carry for one and one-half cents postage. These cards may bear a simple inscription, which must not be in the nature of personal correspondence. Examples: "Sincerely yours," "With Best Wishes," "Merry Christmas." Be sure the weight of the card and cover affix not exceed two ounces.

Letters may not be enclosed with Christmas packages. Such enclosure would make the package first class. In fourth class or parcel post packages, written greetings such as "Merry Christmas," with identifying names, may be enclosed. Books may bear simple non-personal dedicatory inscriptions. They are carried at a special rate of one and one-half cents per pound.

THE MAN BEHIND THE GUN

"The man behind the gun" was a phrase frequently heard during previous wars. It takes more than guns to make a successful army. The gun is useless unless the man behind the gun knows how to fight, and unless he fights of his own free will.

The trouble of the Italian Fascist army in Greece are an illustration that the man behind the gun makes or breaks a war. The Italians are a brave people, and they could fight if they thought it desirable. Apparently the Italian people are not sympathetic with Mussolini and are not interested in fighting to extend his empire.

As for the idea that they should fight so that their country could recover the world wide domain it had in ancient times, that does not probably interest them. They would like to live quietly in their ancient home lands, devoting themselves to raising olives and figs on the sunny slopes of their mountains.

With these feelings you could not expect them to fight with any enthusiasm. They probably know down in their hearts that by picking a foolish quarrel with England and Greece, their country has been shut up by a blockade that is squeezing their food supply, and leading their country with a terrible burden of debt.

When the American soldier has had to fight he has always fought hard and cheerfully, so he has been a powerful factor in deciding if he has to. With such training and equipment, the chances he will win is rather small.

THE FIRE OF ENTHUSIASM

It takes the fire of enthusiasm to make anything go, whether it is pushing a business project, progress in your home town, or running an entertainment. If people are cool and indifferent with a little fire of their community, they won't give time necessary to push the things which the community needs for its success.

Let people of enthusiasm come along, and people rally around and they get things done. They paint a picture of the things the community or organization needs, and tell the people they can have these things if they will only do a little work for them. So many more catch the fire of enthusiasm and they go to work. The community owes a wonderful debt to such folks, and we need more of them.

DR. BONNSTETTER SENDS GREETING

Port Brown, Brownsville, Texas

The Bandera New Era,
Bandera, Texas
My Dear Bandera Friends:

Last Christmas my thoughts were far from Army life. This Christmas I shall spend in an Army Camp. Many of home and my friends as thousands of young Americans will. Next Christmas perhaps we can be together. I sincerely hope we will be able to spend with you. However, only the good God of the great government of the United States will be able to fulfill that desire. At present I cast my lot with the men in training and preparing for the defense of our country, so that we may be able to enjoy many more Christmas Days yet to come.

From out of the ages has come the command of silent but shining to us to attention in the defense of our nation. George Washington, Father of our country, has spoken. Thomas Jefferson, who wrote our Declaration of Independence separating us from European oppression; Benjamin Franklin, who took into consideration the will of the people in the First Congress of the United States; Alexander Hamilton, who toiled with our early war debt and placed a real value to our currency; Andrew Jackson, who believed in his countrymen because they were honest; Abraham Lincoln, who saved the Union and kept the stars in the flag; James Monroe and his doctrine of keeping the aggression of the Hemisphere separate. Many more famous names could easily be added, but that is past history.

Today the men who are directing us must stand and have a strong defense. That is what we want—that is what we need—that is what we must work for. However, President Roosevelt, General Marshall and our soldiers and sailors cannot do this task alone. You home folks are as much a part of our national defense as those actively in the service. Your task is to supply our needs and encourage our efforts. This will necessitate denying yourselves of some few past pleasures, but we are with you in this as we have already learned to do without many of the comforts of home. So this year instead of individual pleasures at Christmas, I ask you in the name of Christopher La Farge—to consider the United States of America and realize that no matter who you are or how big you might be, it is still too big for you, and too terrible and too beautiful like the sound of its eagle. And its laughter and I regret that no matter what you dislike, you thank Almighty God that you are an American." Living in these United States, freely according to your individual conscience and the Bill of Rights and after you have done this my Merry Christmas U. S. A. and may the New Year be a kind one.

1941 will be a year filled, with hard work I am sure. This work must be done to accomplish a strong and peaceful defense. I want peace, you want peace, because that is our nature. Years ago we heard and began to practice, "Peace on earth, good will toward men." Not peace on earth at the expense of liberty and humanity, not good will toward men who despoil, degrade, enslave and starve to death their fellowmen. I believe in the doctrine of peace; but men must have liberty before there can come any abiding peace. When has a battle for humanity and liberty ever been won except by work? What barricade of wrong, injustice and oppression has ever been done except by work?

Hard work compelled the signature of unwilling royalty to the Great Magna Charta, hard work put life into the Declaration of Independence and made effective the Emancipation Proclamation. Hard work of deprived men beat with naked hands upon the iron gateway of the Bastile and made reprisal in one awful hour for centuries of kingly crime. Hard work of deprived men waved the flag of Revolution over Bunker Hill and marked the snows of Valley Forge with bloodstained feet. I feel certain that the time for Christ's work has come again. Let the impassioned lips of the American Patriots once more take up the song:

"In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in his bosom that transfigured you and me,
As he died to make men holy, let us die to make men free."

For Christ is Marching on."

Personally, I have but little to offer at the altar of Freedom's Sacrifice, but all that I have I am glad to give. I am ready to serve my country as best I can and I know you have the courage to do the same. With this in mind, my most earnest prayer is you all is a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year under the freedom of the Stars and Stripes of the United States Flag.

Sincerely,
H. J. Bonnstetter, M. D.

CHRISTMAS HAPPINESS

Of all the holidays, the Christmas festival appears the one that produces the most real happiness. There are some holidays which are better for sports because the weather is better. There are some which are pervaded with thoughts of patriotism. When Christmas comes, people lay aside their burdens, drop the tenseness of their daily struggle, and a spirit of true joy fills the heart.

In the rest of the holidays the prevailing thought is to have a good time. Men and women devote themselves to their customary sports and pastimes and they please themselves by the many varieties of amusements which American life offers.

Christmas is the one holiday in which there is almost no self seeking. It is the giving holiday. People think of their friends and what they can do to please their own desires, and start out to please others as well. They think of their friends and how they can be made happy. Their pleasure, then, is because they have lowered their golf score, or climbed some mountain that belonged to see, but because they have brought happiness into the days of those who have suffered it gives infinite pleasure to see the children jumping up and down in their glee.

The whole show is an exemplification of the principle that it is more blessed to give than to receive. That old saying is commonly looked at as a kind of pious ejaculation to be too idealistic to fit into cold daily life. The Christmas experience shows that it is really true.

Probably the highest pleasure is given to people when they do things of which someone else gets the benefit. So in that spirit our people enter for a little into harmony with the life of Jesus Christ, who was born on that day and gave his life to the world.

YOUTH AND AGE

One reason why young and old people are more or less at variance is that many of the old folks expect the young people to live according to the ideas and conditions that prevailed in the youth of these elderly persons.

For instance, the young people, as soon as they get old enough to drive the family automobile, expect to have their share of the use of it. They will it tying that a part of the time. They feel that if they can have it when they want it, it will add enormously to their happiness, and give them a better chance to make friends.

Some of the older people compare this dependence of youth on modern privileges like a car, with the conditions that prevailed in the youth of these old folks. Some of the old timers recall the day when they walked two miles daily to and from school, and were glad to do it to get an education. They think youth should show similar capacity to do hard things now.

Also the old timers think back to the days of childhood, when they were content enough to get possession of a toy wheelbarrow, and run it around the home lot, and pretend they were helping their fathers. Now they see the young people depending on a car which costs hundreds or perhaps a thousand dollars or more. They think youth should be satisfied with the simple pleasures that were all that existed many years ago.

The old folks will never get anywhere with youth on that basis. The new facilities of modern civilization are a part of every day life. The young people feel that they are entitled to them. They feel that best way is to give them their share, and make good use of it. The youth who takes the car and drives it in a way to risk the safety of its occupants, shows unfitness to use these modern facilities. If he drives it well, he deserves to be rewarded for his correct conduct.

Girls' Sports

"If winter's here, the spring's not far behind." Yes, that's what Shelley said, but the wolly' ball girls state it a different way. They version is, "If the rain's here, the sun's not far behind." They have been waiting patiently for the sun to return, so that they can return to their volley ball court. The cloudy weather kept them off the court for several days, but now that the sun has reappeared, everyone, almost to be exact, every one-of them has returned, more anxious than ever to get in the game again. Each player chose this as her sport, and all are well pleased.

The baseball girls are also having a good time at play period. They have a nice diamond on Mr. Graham's lot below the school. Practice is held every day when the weather permits. Each girl takes turns playing different positions in order to get practice, and to see what position she is best suited.

H. E. News

The second year class entertained the women with a Christmas party Tuesday evening from 3 to 5 p. m. Games were played and refreshments of candy, nuts, mints, popcorn, coffee, and tea were served.

The homemaking classes are busy making inexpensive Christmas presents. Many useful and attractive gifts and we consider our time well spent.

Holidays

The Christmas and New Year holidays have been definitely set. They will start on Friday, Dec. 20, and the student body will return on Monday, Jan. 6. We know that this is an exceedingly long time, and feel sure that these days will be enjoyed by everyone.

High Water

Last Wednesday morning many of the students awoke to find the river high above its usual rest. The banks were unable to make their complete rounds on this account, consequently many of the students failed to get to school that day. Some thought the water would go down immediately, others expected it to stay up, nevertheless, both were considerably mistaken, for it did neither. Instead, the water rose and fell at will, fooling everyone. We have a quick way to look for it to be. This caused the schoolrooms to look decidedly bare, as several more of the attendence records; but we really can't say that the students as a whole were very sorry, because—well, who were to turn down a few extra holidays?

Christmas Tree

The Order of Bandera High and Grammar schools are having their Christmas trees on Friday afternoon at the auditoriums. They have all drawn names and have been given price limits for their gifts. This practice has been followed each year, and all the pupils enjoy it.

Additional members of the Red Cross are Mrs. E. Hicks and Miss Estelle Hendricks.

THE ARMY HORSE

The following is the text of a talk delivered by Maj. Gen. Joseph Johnson, Chief of the Army Remount Service from 1925 to 1929, before the National Association of Remount Breeders at their annual summer meeting at the Waldorf Astoria, New York, on July 28, 1940. He was representative of the American Remount Association.

In the beginning I wish to state that no one has greater respect for or appreciates more, the importance of the motor in modern armies and modern warfare than I. In the World War I saw enough and made enough use of motors to realize their importance in that war, and to foresee even greater importance as wars to come. However, alongside the motor, the horse signified, and still signifies, a good deal a lot. In 1936, in an article published in THE HORSE, I wrote: "As this motor age with ever continued and rapid improvement in motors and motor vehicles, the motor is taking over more rightfully so, many tasks previously performed by horses and mules, with the development of motors which are exhibited before us daily, in hundreds of forms, it is only natural that one should begin to think that the day of the horse and mule is numbered. But that from the standpoint of the Army, an officer has only to look back over the history of our wars and warfare and the terrible conditions which had to be overcome, to be convinced that we should not realize that, even with the greatly improved motor equipment of today there will be plenty of work for the horse and mule, since the World War, motorization and mechanization there has been a gradual and general trend toward motorization and the number of motor and mechanized units has steadily increased, as has the number of motor vehicles in each. This is well, but it does not, as so many seem to imagine, preclude the use of horses. In fact, it has made the job of the horse in the modern Army more difficult and responsible but most important."

That statement now, after four years, after Germany's impressive exhibition of the use of mechanization in modern warfare still holds good. However, the decided tendency to over mechanize has been observed in practically all armies. Gen. E. N. Harrison, the present Chief of the U. S. Army Remount Service, brings this point clearly in a recent article which lists the following factual developments as to quote:

"In the Civil War in Spain, in France, with all the outside pilots he received principally from us, have had to finally a new balance in his forces in favor of the animals. He could not get enough of this horse calvary alone was increased from 5 to 60 squadrons.

Finally over-rated the effectiveness of her Mechanized forces in her war on Ethiopa and had to create a new balance in favor of all sorts and types of animals including camels, oxen and horses.

Finally Russia has doubled her balance in mechanization in her recent and present war with Finland and Russia. As a result, she has greatly augmented her animal components in her military armies. Germany provided for the future production of military horses on a large scale. Her plans call for 7,500 stallions in service by 1945. Our Remount Service has less than 200 stallions after an existance of 20 years.

"Germany for many years has been one of the leading nations of the world in producing horses for military use. Her remount service during the reign of Kaiser Wilhelm II attained a high state of development and efficiency. Germany's interest in horses in the mount activities of Germany have been increased.

Both England and France discarded the horse to a greater extent than did Germany. We certainly cannot attribute the victories of Germany up to the present time to this fact" nevertheless both England and France have been since September, 1939, active in this country in the procurement of cavalry and mules for their military forces.

"The October, 1939, issue of the German magazine Deutsch Georg states: 'All Cavalrymen will be interested in the part which the horse played in the German side in the Polish campaign. In this connection, we may state without any exaggeration that the rapid advance of the German Army would have been impossible without the horse, and furthermore, horses proved their worth in the manner required. To be sure, the significance of the motorized and mechanized forces is unquestionable, but Cavalry formations moved at almost the same rate of speed. Each of our infantry regiments had approximately 500 horses and most of our artillery is horse drawn. In accordance with the communications of the headquarters of Wehrmacht, in its report dealing with the campaign in Poland, five-sixths of the total number of horses used in this excellent paper. In spite of the unprejudged result on the battle field, many fanciful theories that their days are finished on account of the many fanciful conclusions and assumptions that have been made in connection with the use of horses in the campaign in Poland and that this large number made possible the pace of advance of the attacking armies.

"Division commanders expressed particular appreciation of the effect of their cavalry in their reports to the Fuhrer who was on the battlefield with his staff. Without doubt it will be a surprise to many to learn that the most reliable information obtainable indicates that approximately 750,000 animals, including mules, were used by the German army in the campaign of Flanders and the Battle of France.

I could go on indefinitely, giving examples showing the use and the necessity for the horse in modern armies, but I believe the points which I wish to emphasize, and here I desire to quote Major General Robert M. Danford, Chief of the Field Artillery, who, in a recent article, stated:

"I can see no argument against the horse myself. The motor is far superior to the horse in some situations, while the horse is superior to the motor in others. For light division artillery, the horse is superior on a prime mover off the road, through the mud and the darkness and the rain. He does not scrape open the fence to let the cow out. He does not smash his head against a tree, and he still works a bit longer when his fodder is exhausted.

"In other words, the horse can be used by us, and the motor can be used by us, the motor in what are usually the most difficult situations such as the mountains and the jungle, but the jump-off of the Division Infantry at dawn. To discard him during the first year of combat—100 per cent, is simply putting all our eggs in one basket, and is, in my judgment, an unsafe policy."

These very pertinent remarks of the Chief of Field Artillery, just retired, seem to the main point I want to leave with you. As General Danford intimates, there are many things 90 per cent motorization of our Army, needless to say, they receive the full-hearted support of the motor interests who spend much on publicity. Unfortunately, the horse has no such organization behind him. However, sound thinkers such as our present Chief of Field Artillery and Cavalry still believe in the horse in his proper sphere. I wish everyone could read the statement made by Major General John K. Herr, Chief of Cavalry, before the Committee on Military Affairs on Appropriations, House of Representatives, on March 11th this year. He discussed Protection of Cavalry in Modern Warfare, at length. The following is quoted from the closing paragraphs of

By Henry W. Longfellow

I hear along our street
The sweet bells jangle and repeat,
Hark! They play us sweet,
The chorus of Christmas songs!
Let us by the fire,
Be glad,
Sing them till the night expire!

In December ring
Every day the stubborn strings;
Loud the gleemen sing
In the streets their merry rhymes,
Let us by the fire
Be glad,
Sing them till the night expire!

Shepherds at the grange,
Where the fallow sleeps asleep,
Sang unto many a change
Christmas carols until morn,
Let us by the fire
Be glad,
Sing them till the night expire!

Yuns in frigid cells
At the holy tide,
For want of something else,
Christmas songs at times have tried.
Let us by the fire
Be glad,
Sing them till the night expire!

Who by the fireside stands,
Some big log roasting,
But he who blows his hands
Yet at grey a carol brings.
Let us by the fire
Be glad,
Sing them till the night expire!

Bethlehem Unchanged In Twenty Centuries

Bethlehem, "royal David's city," is still a city set on a hill. It is about six miles from Jerusalem.

It is a city of flat-roof homes which look cozy enough, and its people and animals have an air of friendliness.

More Christians live in Bethlehem than any other town in Palestine. On its hillsides you may still see shepherds with their flocks, while blessing overhead are the everlasting stars.

MERELY A STARTER

With young folks the mistletoe Plays havoc. Can you doubt it? For kissing, started by its aid, Soon gets along without it.

God Rest You

God rest you, merry gentlemen,
Let nothing you dismay,
For Jesus Christ, our Savior,
Was born upon this day,
To save us all from Satan's power
When we were gone astray.
O tidings of comfort and joy,
For Jesus Christ, our Savior
Was born on Christmas Day!

—Old English Carol

When Pere Noel comes to France
A Frenchman's Christmas is a children's Christmas. The French Santa, "Pere Noel," comes on Christmas eve with gifts to pack into empty shoes. In southern France the burning of the Yule log is a ceremony when wine is poured over it as it blazes in the hearth.

Many Christmases

Christmas is blessed in Florida, Kentucky, Maine and Arizona. All are small towns. But on December 25 it is Christmas everywhere.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Christmas Season Celebrated Before Christ Was Born

Strange as it seems, the Christmas season was celebrated long before Christ was born. Of course, it wasn't called Christmas, but the many religious and pagan ceremonies were held during the Christmas period.

This period is celebrated by the Jews as the Festival of Lights or Dedication. According to Jewish history, a large force of Maccabees defeated an army of Syrians in 165 B. C. The victors began the work of purifying the desolate Jerusalem, completing their task on December 25. The Jews have celebrated the eight days previous to December 25 ever since that time.

The proximity of Christmas to the winter solstice caused many pagan ceremonies to be held during that period. In Scandinavian countries, fires were kindled in the midnight of December to defy the Frost King.

Centuries before this, the ancient Druids of England observed this season in their sacred temples. Torches blazed as strange ceremonies were performed, dealing with the cutting of the mistletoe.

Several accepted Christmas customs of today originated with the old Roman celebration of Saturnalia. The higher class of free Romans exchanged gifts with their friends. Inside houses, candles were lit and the rooms and halls adorned with laurel and green trees.

These festivals in honor of the god Saturnus were started before the earliest recorded history and are great empire. The pagans celebrated from December 17 to 24 in honor of their sun god. During the eight days of revelry, the celebration was transformed into unrestrained orgies.

Even the ancient Egyptians celebrated the Midwinter festival. About the end of December they rejoiced over the birth of Horus, son of the god Isis.

The final religious celebration to be held on Christmas day appeared in the middle of the Fourth century, A. D. At this time various dates assigned to the birth of Christ were examined; and the Catholic church in Rome proclaimed December 25 to be Christmas.

It's Easy to Select A Christmas Tree That Holds Needles

IF YOUR Christmas tree shed its needles the last winter, you probably had the wrong kind of tree.

All trees will drop their leaves after they are cut and placed in a warm room, but some kinds hold their leaves far longer than others. Trees used most commonly on Christmas are the spruces, fir, hemlock, pine and redcedars.

Spruces are the least desirable of all evergreens because they are the first to shed their needles. A spruce can be identified by grasping a branch tightly, as its sharp pointed needles will prick your hand.

The ideal Christmas tree is the fir. It resembles the spruce except that its needles are not sharp. The needles stay on the tree for a long time and become a golden brown before they finally drop. Needles of a Douglas fir are flat and soft to the touch. This popular tree can be recognized by examining the cones which have small tongues on each scale.

Hemlock tend to shed their foliage early when kept indoors at a warm temperature. The distinguishing feature of this tree is the two white lines on the lower side of each of its needle-like narrow leaves.

Pines have never been very popular as Christmas trees, in spite of the fact they do not shed their needles early. This is perhaps due to their unsymmetrical appearance, which does not closely resemble the conventional Christmas tree. Their longer needles are assembled in clusters of three or five.

Redcedars are occasionally used for Christmas trees in neighborhoods where they grow wild. The foliage is lacy and scaleligg, and is quickly to the touch. It grows turning brownish-red.

No matter what kind of Christmas tree you select, it will hold its needles longer if it is standing in water. Place a little water in the base of your Christmas tree stand, and you will be bothered less with falling needles than you were last year.

Basket of Preserves Makes Welcome Gift

A gift that anyone will appreciate is a basket of your own preserves. Take a half dozen or so of your prettiest, not most delicious, jars, tie gay bows of red ribbon around the tops, and put them in a wicker container. Then tie another bow on the handle and insert a card.

"WAR—HEALTH—DOCTORS"

The following is part of an article with the above heading, written by Benarr MacFadden in Liberty on Nov. 30, 1940. It was handed to us for publication and we quote the main part as it appeared:

Approximately 375,000 people in this country lost their lives during 1918 from influenza. About 125,000 died in 1919; 107,000 in 1920. It was in 1918 that our country began to train for the World War.

The cause of influenza was supposed to be a germ-inspired resistance to foreign sources. An added danger is its frequent development into pneumonia. In other words, this American boys are again in training, it is quite appropriate that further inquiry be made.

We have various systems of doctoring—the allopaths, homeopaths, chiropractors, osteopaths, chiropractors, and a number of other systems of healing, the advocates of each system maintaining that their particular procedure is the best.

The death rate among the soldier boys suffering from pneumonia in the earliest recorded days was treated in accordance with the allopathic measures advocated by the medical profession. This method had the healing art in this country.

The osteopaths maintained that their mortality rate in treating the civil population—since they were not allowed to enter the army camps—was only ¼ of 1 per cent for influenza, as compared to 5 per cent under medical care. The osteopathic claim for pneumonia is a fatality record of 10 per cent as compared with the medical fatality record of 33 per cent.

Chiropractors, who were also excluded from army camps, claim a morality record in their treatment of influenza of about 2.1 per cent. Chiropractors cite that in the last five years, out of 4,183 cases of influenza, 4,104 cases recovered. This is a record of 97.9 per cent recovery and a mortality rate of 2.1 per cent. In lobar pneumonia, of 364 cases reported, 322 recovered. This is a record of 91.2 per cent and a mortality rate of 8.8 per cent.

The claims of chiropraphs' results are not available but could be expected to be similar.

THE FAMILY MONEY

This newspaper wantsto tell about the man who was asked what part of his salary he took home to his wife on "pay day. The reply was, that he didn't take any home, that she met him "outside the office and took it home herself.

There are some men for whom that would be a good plan....The person of a completely filled pay envelope is a heavy temptation. The chances they would not get straight home are large. There are many tempting things by the ways. As a rule the wife makes the family money go further. She knows family needs better. The chances for the young-sters, for the new shoes are improved if she holds the "purse."

Joe, the sailor, had trouble with his girl. After ignoring several letters requesting the return of his photograph, he received the threatening complaint on the subject.

Decidedly to silence her for the time, he borrowed all the pictures of girls available at the ship, sending them to her in a large bundle with the following note: "Pick yours out and I'll be forgotten what you look like."

CHRISTMAS HEALTH RULES

Christmas season of all seasons is traditionally a time when happiness and good will should prevail on the earth. America more than any other nation has cause to celebrate Christmas in its proper spirit, and illness has no place in this celebration," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Unfortunately, during the holiday season many of us relax our principles of good health which normally we observe. The stimuli of the holiday season, parties, family reunions, and a too rich dietary cause us to transgress against the rules of simple living. The result is unnecessary illness at a time when we can least afford it.

The chances for contracting infectious are greater during the holiday season this year if we do not watch out health. Influenza epidemics are widespread in California and are sweeping through the West, and if not guarded against, may invade large section of the Texas population.

Dr. Cox states that there is no short cut to happiness between ill health principles to be observed during the holidays and those we observe throughout the year. Obey a few simple rules, if observed, will enable Texas to enjoy the Christmas season without ill effects.

1. Do not over-indulge in foods or seasonal cheer.

2. Do not hibernate in overheated and stuffy rooms.

3. Try to maintain your regular sleep quota.

4. Take some exercise in the open air during the Christmas season to counteract the detrimental influences attendant upon holiday festivities.

5. Shop early. Avoid the fatigue and confusion caused by the children out of stores during the Christmas rush.

6. Avoid traffic accidents. Do not use open candles on Christmas trees or in decorations. Use substitutes such as electric lights for decorations. Keep fishegs and papers awaythe from direct contact with candles. Keep the Christmas lights, are properly wired. To prevent short-circuiting.

7. Choose only as much spirituous liquor as you can drink. This is a safe rule for your use as well as for age of the child to maintain the sociability.

This it will be seen that holiday hygiene is merely an adaptation to the season of the usual principles of good health which are observed at ordinary times. Such observance will make the season pleasurable and intelligent. Their observance should result in more holiday happiness for the entire family. After all health and happiness are so closely interwoven, that the Christmas season should not interpose a barrier.

THE BUSINESS NEWS

In the news columns of newspapers are recorded the events of the world, in politics, war social life, etc. That is only one side of the picture. The other is also the commercial side the facts of buying and selling. The people who have to buy things want to know what is being sold and they look eagerly to the advertising to get ideas about styles, prices and new ideas in goods and merchandise.

A concern that advertises takes a conspicuous position in the business news. The people are keen to see what the advertiser has to say for the light it throws on the best of living, the manner in which it can be afforded, and the desires of the public. Those who take this position in their business news are rewarded by the stream of people who come to see the things described in the advertising.

RATTLER'S BITE FAILS TO BOTHER 86-YEAR-OLD MAN

Uvalde, Tex., Dec. 12.—William B. Pigott was one of the many in this section at Uncle Billy" celebration his 86th birthday today. Eighty of the years have been spent in the Bolonia Canyon, he boasts of being the first white child to enter the canyon.

Last week, while mowing around his orchard, he was struck on the hand twice by a rattlesnake but suffered no ill effects and a few hours was playing a game of pitch with friends who had called at his home.

This pioneer resident has lived longer in the National Canyon than any other resident of the county. He still takes an active part in affairs in his town and county.

SANTA Goes Modern

Santa Claus often steps out of his reindeer sleigh these days to make tastey time, or to go where the sleigh cannot go. Here he is in the person of Capt. William Winecape, veteran New England pilot, ready to take off from the East Boston airport with another load of Christmas gifts for lonely lighthouse keepers and isolated islanders.

This is how Santa Claus comes to Sun Valley—on skis. Here is the guy in his red-speeding down the snowy slopes and right into the chimneys of the residents and visitors.

In lands of no snow Santa can be expected to use this novel method of bringing Yuletide joy to those who congregate on the beaches. This warm-weather Santa who skips at non-holiday over the deep blue sea happens to be Pete Desjardins-Peck famous Olympic games swimming champion.

Mistletoe Has Known Long, Eventful History

Of all the Christmas greens, the best-loved, probably is the mistletoe. No other plant has experienced the most eventful history of all plants.

In the days of pagan worship in England the mistletoe was regarded as the sacred bough, being cut from its host, the oak tree, with golden axes. It was gathered for the people and a bit given to each person to ward off illness.

But the plant paid dear for these honors when the Christian church was established it was cast out of the church because of its pagan association. It is said that preachers even would stop in their sermons if a tiny bit were spied and the service wailed until the offending bit of green was removed.

In later centuries it became the symbol of peace and friendship and has since been tacked on the doorway as a token of friendly greeting.

La Befana, Penitent Old Wo Brings Christmas Gifts in

On the night, so old, old lady, La Befana, walks from house to house and leaves a present beside each little child she visits.

Exactly 1,940 years ago, according to the Italian legend, La Befana was very busy sweeping her kitchen when several men dressed in Italy. It isn't because they are all naughty, but because there is no Santa Claus—in Italy.

Seventy decorate the room, instead of Christmas trees, and presents are not exchanged until January 6.

But La Befana, stays on the dark side, the lucky children tomorrow. Later that night she will go to bed, covered the sky, quivering with excitement. The clouds seemed to take on the shapes of angels. All thought of sleep left her. Rising, she opened her two gifts for the Holy Child and, with the gifts in her hands, the eight kings had given her.

Past as she hurried, she saw the star of Bethlehem disappeared and dawn appeared. She frantically ran to Bethlehem, but it was too late for her.

And so La Befana has traveled since that day, looking for the Christ Child. On the night of January 5, she goes from house to house until the dawn of Jabbes. She leaves a gift, hoping she will give her present right child.

Christmas Card Was Invente By a Man With Many Fri

CHRISTMAS cards are almost as much a part of Christmas as Santa Claus himself, yet they have been in use less than a century.

According to most records, the first Christmas card was designed in 1843 by Mr. J. C. Horsley, a prominent member of the Royal Academy of London. It was produced at the request of Sir Henry Cole, a man with many friends.

Sir Cole wondered how he could express his Christmas greeting to a thousand friends spread throughout England. After dismissing the thought of writing each personally, or giving presents, he decided to send them each a card by mail.

One thousand hand colored cards were prepared with a picture showing a jolly family seated at a huge dinner table. Each member of the family was looking at a glass which he held in his hand.

When these cards were sold, they raised a furor and persuade proponents through in 1843 by Mr. J. C. Horsley, a prominent member of the Royal Academy of London. It was produced at the request of Sir Henry Cole, a man with many friends.

Print, Schoolmaster, Wrote 'Silent Night'

Stille! Heilige Nacht!" was Joseph Mohr, born in Salzburg, Austria, in 1792. He was ordained a priest in 1815, and when he wrote the song was assistant at Lofdorf, on the Salzach, near Salzburg. Later he held pastorates in various other places, and died in 1848.

The schoolmaster of Arnsdorf, near Laufen, who made the manuscript of this and also of a number of lesser known hymns, was Franz Gruber, born in Hochburg in 1787.

When Christmas Came

The Fireplace Glowed With Logs.

BRICE HARPER stepped from her train happily. A whole month, with Christmas only two days away. That meant lovely three weeks for after Christmas parties, vacation, skating, visiting round with old friends and just squatted before the big fireplace reading and loafing. Wouldn't Aunt Margaret and Uncle Jake be pleased and surprised, for she had not telephoned. After three steady, grinding, monotonous months in the department store, it was a vacation.

She flashed a look down the platform. Yes, there was a wooden-legged Sam, the representative. Things hadn't changed a bit in three years.

"Hoo-hoo!" she challenged.

The old expressman looked up, stared, then chuckled forward.

"Blest if 'tain't Brice Harper!" he cried. Then among yells of old friends up and down the line, "Say, or a vision?"

House Is Deserted.

"Just visiting. Uncle Sam—two whole weeks, though. Out to Aunt Margaret Holmes. After three years! I'd never have believed I could stay away that long. But 100 miles—too far for any poor girl to afford paying fare for a few days' vacation. Now it's a month, though, because I haven't taken a vacation in so long. Can you take me and my trunk right out? I'll ride with you, and—"

"Ain't ye heered—had an letter nor nothin'?" asked the old man, in whose face had been growing trouble.

"No-no. Anything the matter?"

"No—except they ain't there. Your Aunt Marg'ret said Christmas was so lonesome here she could not spend another like the last. So two, three days ago she an' your Uncle Jack went into the next county to spend Christmas with a cousin who has a passle o' children. They'll be there yes-day, an' the house did look dismal all shut up."

"Isn't there one to look after them?"

"One of the Dill boys was asked to, I b'lieve. He—"

A shrill hail came from a store front across from the station.

"Say, Brice," wheedled the old expressman, "would ye mind waitin' three, four seconds? That mail shouter was Storekeeper Tomson. Been 'spectin' a box o' Christmas stuff more'n a week, an' I was jest throwed off this train. S'pose I take the box 'cross to him, then come an' carry you an' the trunk out to one o' your girl friends? They'll all be glad to have ye visit 'em."

But Brice had been thinking rapidly.

Invites Girl Friends.

"Take the box over to the store, Uncle Sam," she said, "and I'll ride across to the post office while you're gone. I want to write some postals. And no, I won't embarrass any of my girl friends. You can't carry me right out to the farmhouse. I know where Aunt Margaret hides the keys, and I'm perfectly used to it. Uncle Jack would weep me to go right there and see everything as it should. I'll take care of the post-office, and—"

"Ye-es, I reckon," said the old man, and one of the lurking Post Office Brice.

"Not enough," firmly. "We've been poor all our lives, and I'm not going to be poor on the first one. Now I'm going into the kitchen. Don't you girls," her face voice dropping pathetically, "being Christmas, I've just got to cook something."

My Neighbor Says:

If a meat loaf is allowed to stand at least 10 minutes out of the oven before serving it will slice more easily.

When a recipe calls for melted butter don't measure the butter until it is melted. But if the directions read "butter melted" measure before melting.

When you use mayonnaise or salad dressing on sandwiches see that it is quite thick, so it will not run over the edges of the bread. Butter both slices of bread to seal it so that the filling or relish won't soak in.

If some of your table doilies and runners look washed out try tinting them some delicate shade to harmonize with your china. Light green makes a delightful ground for ivory or yellow china. For a really bold effect dye it red or blue and use it with your gay colored breakfast sets.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

To Cut Third Pass

Cutting of a pass at Murdock Landing through Padre Island from the Gulf into Baffin Bay is expected to send a constant flow of "swept" salt water through the length of the Laguna Madre. Work on the pass by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission's dredge, the AE, will get under way the first week in December. Work on the 10,000-foot cut, which will be more than 100 feet wide, will require five months.

The Game Department has already cut and is maintaining passes at Corpus Christi Pass and Cedar Bayou. With the completion of the pass at Murdock Landing, the flow of water through the three passes and the Laguna should be nearly constant, it is believed. The eastern passes are fifty miles from Murdocks.

The cut-through of Murdocks, after completing work at Corpus Christi Pass and Cedar Bayou, was recently authorized by dredge towed to Murdock Landing. Unless passes are maintained through the islands, the fish-rich waters will in years by the tens of thousands in the Laguna Madre, which is considered the most natural fish spawning bed for salt water fish along the coasts of the United States. It is also the best nursery of the Laguna in 1939, when there was very little flow of fresh water from the land side, the fish crop in the Laguna last summer.

Completion of the cut at Murdock's was made possible by the cooperation of Burton Dunn, Corpus Christi sportsman and rancher, who formerly owned Padre Island and still retains grazing rights on it. Construction of the cutting of the pass was necessary before work could be started.

Fewer Hunting Accidents

While no figures are available on the number of hunters killed or wounded in Texas during the hunting season, veteran observers in the Game Department said recently that there are considerably fewer accidents in woods and fields than there were a few years ago.

The Game Department wages an intensive campaign each year to prevent accidents. Hints on how to handle guns are given sportsmen and wardens are constantly warning hunters to handle their firearms with care.

Trapping Still Successful

Despite the fact there is more natural food for deer in South-west Texas during the winter than for many winters, trapping of deer by the Texas Game Department by use of nets and corrals still continues to be successful. The first three weeks of trapping brought 125 deer into the traps. They are transported to areas suitable for raising deer, but from which they have been shut out.

The new traps, of which the Game Department will soon put all its 122 in operation, catch one deer at a time. However, the loss of one deer is taken on lands where the supply is too large for the food available, do not injure the animals in the new traps. The traps are baited with cotton seed cakes and apples, which deer consider great delicacies.

Kills Doe With Antlers

Antlered doe, a freak of nature, are not unusually rare, it is said. One weighing nearly 100 pounds and having pronged antlers was shot by a San Antonio hunter in the Hill Country recently. He is having the head mounted.

Starts Speckled Trout Research

The marine biologist for the Texas Game Department will soon start research on speckled trout, an excellent sport fish which is far from being as plentiful on the Texas coast as it was ten years ago. The biologist, who is being equipped with a boat, will study all phases or trout and hopes to ascertain their habits, the type of water they prefer and the kind of bayed best and other data bearing on their number along the Texas coast.

It is possible coastal residents of Texas will have a bag limit on speckled trout before the legislature at its next session to take speckled trout off the market. It is considered likely commercial fishermen will offer little objection due to the fact that the market for trout is so sporadic that they find it necessary to create a market every time there is a good run of trout.

No 'Merry Christmas' In English Monastery

There is one place where the joyous cry of "Merry Christmas!" will not ring out. This is the Trappist Monastery at Whitwick in England. Officially it is known as the Mount Saint Bernard's Monastery, and there are about 40 monks resident.

In addition to abstaining from meat and fish, these men have imposed upon themselves the vow of perpetual silence. Our Christmas eve at 12 o'clock they will attend Mass, then retire to their cubicles to sleep or meditation till 4 a. m., when they will rise and join in the chanting of lauds and matins.—Pearson's.

Recently a tight-fisted old man who was feeling very ill asked a friend to recommend a physician. The friend named a certain specialist, noting now only for his professional skill, but for his wit.

"Does he charge a lot?" asked the sick man.

"Not exactly," said the friend. "He'll charge you $5 for the first visit and $2 for every call thereafter."

The old fellow soon afterwards grudged into the office of the physician hamed by his friend. He had thought of a plan to save some money. Upon being admitted to the consulting room, he laid down $2, remarking: "Well, doctor, here I am again."

The physician calmly picked up the money and put it into a drawer, which he locked securely. The sick man looked on expectantly for a time, then grew irate.

"Well, I'm ready to be examined," said the old miser impatiently.

"I don't think it's necessary," replied the shrewd specialist. "There is no need to do it again. Keep fight on taking the same medicine. Good day, sir!"

Christmas Decorations Have Deep Meaning

Not many, probably, know of the deeper meaning associated with the three plants we ordinarily use for Christmas decorations, an authority writes. Holly has prickles and red berries: By the prickles we, confess the bitter life of Jesus on earth. His watchings, His fastings, His weariness, His crown of thorns. By the berries we confess that He shed His blood for sinners.

The yew has little, outside bark, but only a small rind, to teach us not to make a great outside show of religion; it is a lasting timber, suggesting the soundness of a Christian: it has many branches, meaning plentifulness in good works; and it is always green and prospering, even as the Christian should always grow and thrive in grace.

The laurel has the significance of victory. Jesus came into the world to lowe the hands of sin and to ascend up into Heaven, leading captive thy captives.

BAYBERRY CANDLES For Christmas

This young lady is not going to use her spare of berries for decoration. She is doing what hundreds of housewives around the East coast line are doing during the Christmas season—preparing to make bayberry candles. The berries are boiled for their wax, which is purified and made into the candles that give off the distinctive aroma when burned.

Here you see a phase in the mass production of bayberry candles for the Yule season. Great bunches of wicks are dipped simultaneously until they are of desired thickness.

"Oh, I know a few things!" exclaimed the haughty senior.

"Well, you haven't anything on me," retorted the freshman confidently; "I guess I know as few things as anybody."

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM PRESENTED AT SCHOOL

The Christmas program presented at the elementary school auditorium Thursday night was attended by a large crowd. The Bandera school band played the first public program which was greatly enjoyed. Most of the children in the band have had only two lessons on instruments and the way they performed that night was a credit to the school and to their teacher, Rankin Conwill.

The pupils of the first, second and fourth grades presented a play in three scenes. The snow flakes, snow man, and snow bird appeared in the first scene and carried the little members by Santa Claus Land where it was learned that he would have any Christmas. In the second scene the little elves were busy making toys and when they dropped off to sleep the fairies came and finished the toys and put them in the stockings. In the third scene the little boy was determined to see Santa Claus so he went to sleep next to the tree. The fairies came and put him to sleep and when Santa had filled the stockings and put the toys there. When he awoke he tried to catch them they ran away so he decided that he was selfish and ran to find the newsboy. In his absence the toy soldiers, teddy bears, dolls and toys danced. When the children returned, happiness was complete.

Pupils of third grade were members of "Our Gang" and were busy repairing toys for the needy little children. As they worked they sang and after awhile they were overcome by sleep and fell asleep. Here too, the good Fairy came and completed the toys and put them in the stockings and she gave each child a gift. When the children awoke they received their gifts and played several rhythm band numbers.

The Christmas story was told by the fifth and sixth grades. The Star of Bethlehem shone over the manger where lay the baby and the Child and in turn the shepherds and Wise Men came to see the Child.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. C. R. King celebrated the 8th birthday of her daughter, Bobbie Jo with a birthday party on Dec. 18.

Games of pinning the tail on the donkey and fishing for the Christmas gifts were played. Balloons were given as plate favors.

Refreshments of cookies, hot chocolate, potato chips, olives, birthday cake and hot chocolate were served to the following guests: Bobbie Jo Rumsey, James, Edna and Dorothy Ivy, Ginger Haby, Mary and June Pfluger, Billy Bob Shumpert, Don, Ann and Thomas Armontrout, Bud Merka, Billy Allen, Bennie Franklin and Billy Hall.

I. H. BURNEY DIES AT PORT WORTH HOME

I. H. Burney, 81, one-time partner of the late Judge R. L. Ball in San Antonio, died at the home of Henry P. Burney of this city, died at his home in Fort Worth Friday. He was one of a family of nine brothers, one of whom the late Judge Robert Burney of Kerr County served on the district bench many years.

I. H. Burney, after leaving San Antonio for Fort Worth, became associated with the late Sam Cowan, attorney for the Texas Railroad Association of Texas. Cowan was a specialist in railroad rates and handled many cases before the Interstate Commerce Commission and United States Supreme Court. Burney at times participated in the task of prosecuting men who had stolen cattle from members of the Texas Railroad Association and so successful was his that in one year he helped send thirteen men to the penitentiary for cattle theft.

His interests were much wider than the handling of the cattle raisers. He was one of the most thorough students of all forms of government in Texas, not only reading widely, but making many long visits to foreign countries where he studied municipal, state and national governmental working at first hand. In Fort Worth he served as a member of the first Park Board, created in 1909 which acquired nearly 400 acres of Fort Worth's present 1,700-acre park system.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Bell Burney, he leaves four brothers, William and Lee Burney of Center Point, and Jesse and Henry Burney of Austin. The funeral will be held in Fort Worth Monday.—San Antonio Express.

Lord Halifax Named Ambassador

London, Dec. 23.—Viscount Halifax, 59-year-old foreign secretary well known as the "Christian gentleman in British politics," was named early today to succeed the late Marquis of Lothian as British ambassador to Washington.

War Secretary Anthony Eden, who was succeeded as foreign secretary by Lord Halifax when Eden resigned in February, 1938, after a disagreement with the late Neville Chamberlain over appeasement of Germany and Italy, was named to return to the foreign secretaryship. Eden is 43.

Captain David Margesson, 50, for nine years the government's chief whip in the House of Commons was a "surprise" appointment as secretary of state for war to succeed Eden.

Halifax's appointment to Washington removed the last great figure in London's government who was associated closely with the late Neville Chamberlain in his appeasement policies before the war.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill had never questioned Halifax's loyalty and ability in those bitter years but had consistently attacked the policies of Chamberlain.

Halifax is known to Britons as a quiet, unassuming scholar and churchman who rose from political obscurity in the early 1920s to become viceroy of India in 1926.

Old New Year Customs Survive in Scotland

In Scotland, New Year's day is said to transcend Christmas as the most important festival of the year. Many old customs still are preserved and widely followed. "First footing" is a midnight custom of New Year's eve. The person who first, after the stroke of the new year, sets foot inside the house of a friend, remains the guest throughout the day and is a privileged friend throughout the year.

"Glad to see you getting in on time these mornings, Mr. Howard," said the manager.

"Yes, sir. I've got a parrot."

"A parrot? What for? I advised you to get an alarm clock."

"I did sir. But after a few mornings I got used to it and failed to wake to its ringing. So I got a parrot and now upon retiring I hang the alarm clock over the parrot's cage. It wakes the parrot, and what that bird says would

New Year Begins More Than Once, Believe It or Not!

New Year's day isn't always New Year's day. The actual date varies among the Egyptians, Chinese, Jews, Romans and Mohammedans from September 6 to March 1.

January 1 was designated to be New Year's day when Julius Caesar established the Julian calendar in 46 B. C. However, the calendar year thus established was 11 minutes longer than the astronomical year.

To correct this discrepancy, Pope Gregory III suppressed 10 days in 1582 by ordering that October 5 be called October 15. England and its colonies, however, did not adopt this new calendar until 1752. For almost three centuries, therefore, New Year's was celebrated twice every year—both times on January 1.

New Year's never fell on the same day two years in succession in old China. The new year began on the first moon after the sun entered the sign Aquarius. This date varied from January 21 to February 18. Jewish New Year's, when translated into dates of the Gregorian calendar, varies from September 6 to October 4.

Mohammedans celebrated Muharram, or New Year's, on February 10 last year. But it wasn't the beginning of 1940 for them; it was the first day of 1359. Because the Mohammedan calendar is arranged differently from ours, the new year does not always fall on the same date according to the calendar in use by the Christian nations.

Happy New Year! When will YOU celebrate?

HAPPY NEW YEAR

The minister advertised for a manservant. Early the next morning, a bright looking young fellow rang the door bell. Without asking questions the minister said, "Can you start a fire in the mornings and get breakfast at seven o'clock?"

"I guess so," weakly replied the young man.

"Well," said the preacher, "can you polish the silver, wash the dishes, wash windows, scrub floors and keep the house neat and tidy?"

"Listen, you," exclaimed the puzzled young man. "I came here to see about getting married, but if that's what I've got to worry about I'll skip it."

"The visitor paid his extraordinarily large bill at a very exclusive and fashionable hotel, and as he went out he observed a sign near the door, 'Have you left anything?' So he went back and spoke to the manager:

"That sign is wrong," he said; "it should read: 'Have you anything left?'"

Abbie—I don't understand baseball at all, do you?

Lou—No, I don't have to understand it. Everything is decided by a man they call the vampire.

"It's a funny thing, Jim," said the foreman, "you're always coming in late, though you live next door to the plant, while Jack Jones is always on time and he lives three miles away."

"There's nothing funny about that," replied Jim. "If he's late in the morning, he can hurry a bit; but if I'm late I'm here."

[Tom M.] Stevens [Cl]aimed by Death

Funeral services were conducted [at the] Plummer Funeral Home in [Bandera] Saturday afternoon for [Tom] M. Stevens, aged 86, who [died] in this city Friday afternoon, [following] an attack of pneumonia. [Interment] was made in the Bandera Cemetery, in the presence of [a large] concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. Services were [in charge] of Jehovah's Witnesses. Uncle Tom Stevens [was] born in Marion County, [Tennessee], in August, 1854, the [son of] Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stevens. The family moved to Bandera in 1856 and for some years [lived in a] stone house on the corner of Cypress and Eleventh [streets], where the Plummer Funeral Home is now located. [Henr]y Stevens, the father of [...] Stevens was for many years [a bla]cksmith in Bandera. He [had] a large family here, his [...] being Ike W. Stevens, for [many] years sheriff of this county; [Geor]ge Stevens, Lou Stevens, [...] Stevens, who also served [two] terms as sheriff of Bandera County; Mrs. John L. Jones, [Mrs.] Magdalene Kissee, Mrs. Lula [...] and Mrs. Mittie Jones. [...] of these children of Mr. [and Mrs.] Henry Stevens are now [living], Mrs. John Kissee of Grass [Valley], Calif. and Mrs. Tom Brown [of ...], Ariz. Mrs. Henry Stevens passed away in 1904 and [Henry] Stevens Sr. died in Bandera [in 19..] at the ripe old age of 94.

[Tom] M. Stevens was 12 years [old when] his parents came to Bandera in 1866. He grew up here [and was] married to Miss Margaret [...]. Four children were born [to this] union, three of whom are [living]: Quil Stevens of Bandera; [...] (Jax) Stevens of Boerne; [Mrs.] Bel Rouche of Sonora. Mrs. [...] Crawey died several years [ago].

[Some] years after his first wife's [death] Mr. Stevens was married to [Miss] Matilda Brown, Nov. 5th, [18..], and to this union four children were born, one of whom died [in chil]dhood. The remaining children are Vane Stevens of near Helotes; Tammie W. Stevens and [...] H. (Tinker) Stevens of [...]. There are 22 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

[To the] bereaved wife and children and other relatives we extend [our he]artfelt sympathy.

[A Tri]bute to Tom M. Stevens

[The] passing of Uncle Tom Stevens has saddened the entire community. For seventy-four years [he live]d here, and helped to make [Bandera] County the law-abiding [and pea]ceful county it is today. [In the e]arly days he was a member of Jack Phillips' Ranger Company and did his full duty in ridding the country of Indians and [bad] characters. He was a [true] Texan, big-hearted and [blessed] with the happy faculty [of mak]ing friends with everyone. [At] all times he was ready to [answer] any call for help in distress. Now he has passed on to [that bo]urne from which no travelers return, and he will be sadly [missed] by all who knew him.

[Death] is always a distressing [thing]. It is a sad sight to behold [a you]ng man, just entering upon [a life] of honor and usefulness, [or] fame, stricken on the very [thres]hold of success; it strikes [the ten]derest chords of sympathy [in the] breast to see a girl just [blooming] into glorious womanhood [whose] promise spreads its petals [only to] wither and fade and [lose its] warm and beautifying hue [and] fold her hands upon her [breast and] close her eyes to open [no] more upon those that love [her, as] the waifs of time have [swept] away from the realm [into the] glorious eternity. We are [saddened] and shocked by the death [of one] on whose cheek the sun [of life] has never shone, whose [feet] never went and whose [feet] have never trod the [paths] that lie between the [place where] it was born and the [place where] its grave is made, [and where] the bereft mother's sobs [fall upon] our listening ears the [tears of] sympathy are unsealed [and flow] freely "drop our tears [down] upon the little mound [where] so much of good promise, so much of sweet innocence, [so much] of that mother's own [heart] and soul that it seems when [the] taking away that she is [giving] the better part of herself [to] the ground's cold embrace. It seems unbearable, [when a m]an or woman, or a little [one is ta]ken from our midst in [the fullness] of his or her power—stricken in the meridian of his or her usefulness—mown down as it were in the very zenith of mental brilliance and of physical excellence—or at the very beginning of a life full of promise. Death is always terrible.

When an old man, especially a kindly old man whom we have known and loved through the years, reaches the end of Time's highway and passes through the wicket-gate, naturally we are saddened for we know we shall miss that dear old friend, but at the same time we feel that Heaven has but garnered a well ripened harvest and gathered in a golden sheaf. We grieve, and the tears that flow are balm to the wounded hearts. We bow down our heads and heap tributes of our love upon the coffin, but as we turn away we hear a consoling whisper in every breeze that stirs the branches of the trees that surround the new-made grave that seems to echo, "Peace, sweet peace. Heaven has but taken your friend away."

We do not want to say Uncle Tom is dead. He peacefully passed away. It was the peaceful stoppage of a long, useful life, and not the agony of active death. In peace he lived above his four score and six; in peace he ceased to live; in peace he was gathered home in nature's course. Peace, sweet peace!

COMMUNITY WORK

As stated in last week's issue of the Medina Light a Community Working Day has been set for Friday, Jan. 3rd at Medina school. Many things need to be done in preparation for the Federal Program of training. As the biggest job will be the elimination of mud, men are requested to bring shovels and a few trucks will be needed for this work. This hauling of gravel is only one of the many things needed to be done, in some of which the ladies can help.

The ladies are requested to bring a basket lunch which will be served in the H. E. cottage at the noon hour.

Every parent, teacher and friend is requested and urged to assist in this very important undertaking.

RAINS RETARD WORK

Rains for the past two weeks have considerably retarded work on the water main trenches. About 49 men were at work Monday. Valves have been installed and as soon as fire hydrants arrive and are installed the lines already laid can be tested and covered up. The ground storage tank has been completed except for the cover, which will be added when the steel water tower has been completed. The water well was down about 312 feet Monday.

ROOSEVELT URGES AID FOR BRITAIN

Washington, Dec. 29.—President Roosevelt called on the nation tonight to become "the great arsenal of democracy," predicted flatly that the Axis powers would not win the war and said that the United States now has "no right or reason to encourage talk of peace."

In a world-wide broadcast from the White House diplomatic room, the President repeatedly castigated the policies of Nazi Germany. If Great Britain should be defeated, he said, the Axis powers would "control the continents of Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and the high seas."

"It is no exaggeration to say," he continued, "that all of us in the Americas would be living at the point of a gun—a gun loaded with explosive bullets, economic as well as military."

The fate of small nations in Europe, Roosevelt declared, "tells us what it means to live at the point of a Nazi gun."

The talk, for which the President received numerous suggestions and which he re-drafted seven times before delivery, was described by the Chief Executive as "a talk on national security" rather than "a fireside chat on war."

Calling for a gigantic speed-up of arms production, he said the notion of "business as usual" must be discarded and more planes, tanks, guns and freighters rushed to completion.

"There will be no 'bottlenecks' in our determination to aid Great Britain," he said. "No dictator, no combination of dictators, will weaken that determination by threats of how they will construe that determination."

The nation insists, he said, that there must be no strikes or lockouts in defense industries. Fears as to over-expansion or plant capacity must not block the program, he said. Moreover, the production of certain consumer and luxury goods will have to give away to defense production if and when the machines and raw materials involved are needed to carry out "our primary and compelling purpose."

Any talk about sending an army abroad is a "deliberate untruth," he emphasized, and the sole purpose of administration policy "is to keep you now, and your children later, and your grandchildren much later, out of a last-ditch war for the preservation of American independence."

Gibing at the Axis powers, he declared that "with all their vaunted efficiency and parade of pious purpose in this war, there are still in their background the concentration camp and the servants of God in chains."

Concerning fifth columnists, he said that "secret emissaries" of "evil forces which have crushed and undermined and corrupted" so many other nations "are already within our gates," but the Government is "ferreting them out."

He struck out too at persons he termed "appeasers," saying that "unwittingly in most cases," they are "doing exactly the kind of work the dictators want done in the United States."

Pointing out that the British had "received invaluable military support from the heroic Greek army," the President declared that other "governments in exile" were helping and that British strength was growing.

"I believe that the Axis powers are not going to win this war," he added. "I base that belief on the latest and best information."

Mrs. C. G. Leighton Passed Away

Mrs. C. G. Leighton was born Feb. 20, 1859, and died Dec. 24, 1940, aged 81 years, 10 months and 4 days. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter were pioneer settlers of the Tarpley community and Mrs. Leighton spent most of her life in and around Tarpley. Soon after she grew into young womanhood she was married to Charles G. Leighton and to this union were born six children: four boys and two girls, four of whom survive: Leonard Leighton of Eagle Pass, Mrs. Fred (Mary) Monier of Tarpley, Mrs. R. A. (Kathryn) McKaskle of Seligman, Ariz., and Joe J. Leighton of Vanderpool.

The services at the grave were conducted by Harry Robins of San Antonio, Jehovah's Witness of which faith Mrs. Leighton was a devout follower.

Active pallbearers were Kenneth Leighton and Joe Leighton of Vanderpool, Leighton Monier, and Fred Monier of Tarpley, Norton Cheek and J. C. Robinson of Station C, Homer Rum of Caldwell and Leonard Leighton of Eagle Pass. Honorary pallbearers were Van Davis, J. H. McCurdy, Pat Coffey, Lendon Love, R. G. Thompson, Lucius Hicks, Capt. T. P. Grant, John Heinen, C. F. McKee, Henry Mesch, Walter Hohenberger Sr. and John Coffey.

A large following of friends attended the last rites and the floral tributes were many and beautiful.

A Tribute to her Noble Life

In the scriptures we find words that describe her ways in life better than our own words could: "The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her . . . She stretched out her hand to the poor . . . She reached forth her hand to the needy . . . Strength and honor were her clothing . . . She opened her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue was the law of kindness . . . Her children arise up and call her blessed; her husband also . . . Give her of the fruit of her hands and her own works praise her in the gates." Found in the Book of Proverbs.

She was a kind and devoted mother, so lovable and gentle in her ways, she was esteemed by all who knew her.

As she lived so she died, peaceful and unafraid, knowing her Lord Jehovah was taking her unto Him.

A NEW YEAR RESOLVE
(By Knowles Witcher Teel)

As the bud of the new year begins to open
And I meditate on resolves to make,
For the coming year that my life might
A little more of the beauty take.

I cast here and I look there
And I measure this fault and weigh that,
Then soon I'm forced to conclude
That my score is surely "tit for tat."

I almost cry "Oh what's the use" and Decide to go on in the same old way,
Then a new thought comes of how to do
By just living better day by day.

If in the morn as I open my eyes
I say to myself "This day may be my last."
So . . . in this day I must do some good
Lest there'll be regret when it is past.

And if I stay by this plan every day I live
There'll be no need for a list of resolves,
For this one simple rule carefully kept

MRS. ECKHART FINDS POULTRY PROFITABLE

Realizing the importance of some additional cash, to pay the grocery bill and for spending money for herself as well as for the girls, Mrs. Albert Eckhart of the Middle Verde Home Demonstration Club has realized that raising poultry is profitable.

It is through intelligent planning, keeping records and good management that this can be done.

The following story was given by Mrs. Eckhart on Achievement Day:

"Nov. 1, 1939 I had on hand 143 hens. During the year 5 of these hens died. I raised 142 pullets. Since the price of feed was so high and since eggs were ten cents per dozen, I sold the two year hens and raised my pullets so that they will bring me a profit this fall when eggs have a better price. At the end of Oct., 1940, which closes the year, I have on hand 47 hens, 142 pullets and 7 males.

Summary of the year's business was:

Receipts
Eggs sold or eaten	$236.00
Broilers and fryers	67.20
Hens and roosters	58.65
Miscellaneous	42.39
TOTAL	$404.14
Expenses
Feed, shell, grit, etc.	$158.73
Chick raising expense	59.87
Miscellaneous	2.50
TOTAL	$221.09

Profit for the year amounted to $183.05.

Having 43 pullets over the required amount gives me an additional amount of $24.40 which gives me a total of $207.45."

The group was shown the following:

1. Blood testing demonstration by H. F. Schlemmer, County Agent.
2. Post-mortem of one hen by H. F. Schlemmer.
3. Poultry house and equipment.
4. Hens and pullets.
5. Baby chicks at various ages: 2, 4 and 7 weeks of age.
6. Selection of eggs for setting purposes.
7. Preparing nests for hatching purposes.
8. Sowing oats to supply green feed during the dry summer and the winter months.
9. Record book.

Other important items stressed were:

1. Importance of oyster shells before the flock daily.
2. Warm water for flock during winter months.
3. Feeding wet mash daily—only enough so it can all be eaten by the flock immediately.
4. Importance of clean house, equipment etc. to prevent diseases, lice, etc.
5. Worming the flock.
6. Every bird have at least 2 square feet of floor space.
7. Culling and blood-testing.

Another interesting story that Mrs. Eckhart told in regard to raising baby chicks, follows:

"During the year I set 375 eggs and hatched 353 chicks. This I feel is due to having my hens blood-tested. As you all know, that helps prevent diarrhea. The baby chicks are much healthier and stronger. Of these I lost only 49 by hawks getting them, etc.

When the chicks hatch I give them sour milk until the fourth day. Then I begin giving them starting mash. On the tenth day I begin feeding them a little grain. When they are 6 weeks old I feed starting mash and growing mash. After one week I feed only growing mash until they are 12 weeks of age. At this time the pullets are moved to the laying house."

In closing Mrs. Eckhart remarked, "The only way a person can check to see that he is making a profit on poultry is by keeping a record. I feel this is one of the essential items in the success of my work. Records help find the little leaks and when one has the desire to do something about them right away poultry can bring in additional cash for any farm or ranch family."

Bandera New Era Buys Medina Light

To the Readers of the Medina Light and Bandera County News, Bandera County, Texas.

Dear Friends:

This is to announce that J. S. McNeel Jr. has sold out the Medina Light and Bandera County News to R. W. Meitzen, publisher of the Bandera New Era. Mr. Meitzen has agreed to send the New Era to the paid up subscribers of the Medina Light and Bandera County News until the subscriptions run out.

Mr. McNeel and Mr. Meitzen are making this agreement of their own free will and on the friendliest of terms, as they both agree that there is not enough room for two newspapers in Bandera County. And there is not enough business to support but one newspaper in this county.

NEW YEAR THOUGHTS

Old time statists made a great point of New Year thoughts. New Year's was called a time for moral thinking. It was customary for people to swear off, their bad habits, and make a fresh start.

Many people dwell upon the idea of "turning over a new leaf." They had it view an old time school, writing book, in which the struggling pupil had been trying to learn to write. The pages of the past were hardly blotted, and so scrawly that one could hardly read them. It gave such a pupil more courage to be could turn over the badly written old page, and start on a wholly new leaf. He felt he could then work to better advantage, and turn out some good penmanship.

So it is good people used to make their New Year resolutions. But so many of them failed to keep these resolutions, that the custom became the subject of ridicule. We used to hear, for instance, about a multitude who climbed up on the water wagon January 1. The vast number who fell off the wagon within a few days or weeks. Hence arose the laughter. So the New Year resolution habit is largely out.

A bit of reflection at the New Year will do none of us any harm. Most of us have failed to measure up to the standard to in-1940. If that was due to our own fault, the sooner we correct that fault the better. A mere resolution made January 1 won't probably get us far. One half of the battle in keeping those new resolutions about every week, perhaps oftener.

The New Era with all its heart wishes its readers a Happy New Year. May it be a year of success to all, and may many joys come our way. If sorrows come may they be lightened by love and friendship and faithful labor. On the whole it is a pretty good world, if we take it by the smooth handle, as the old timers used to say.

TIME RIPE FOR PEACE?

The destruction of the world's resources now proceeding is so terrific, that many observers say great sacrifices should be made in order to secure peace at the earliest possible date. With the world throwing its wealth into a bottomless pit of destruction, it is said that almost any kind of a peace is better than that hell of war and the poverty which it is creating day by day.

The United States, sitting in partial security behind a great ocean, is not in a position to tell Europe what to do. For people long for peace with the utmost ardor. They do not want a kind of peace that means a new outbreak of war in a few years. If the British are disposed to keep on fighting, America should cheer them on.

Hitler would no doubt be glad to make peace in the near future, if he could retain the territory he has conquered. If peace was made on that basis, he and his Nazis still have won the war. They have gotten control over most of Europe outside of Russia, and made and carried that right's resignation a part of the Peace of Prevault and is hereby accepted.

The Nazis would control most of the seaports, most of the ship building and navy yards and submarine bases, and most of the armament factories. They would proceed to build up a vastly augmented navy, a terrific force of submarines, and keep on building aircraft by the tens of thousands. Their military power would keep on growing, and they would not be satisfied until they had a naval power greater than England's.

Under such conditions, such a peace would look like a mere temporary truce. It would be most ominous for the United States. You can't expect such people to be satisfied with the mastery of one continent.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Shabby looking clothes make it difficult for a person to get a job or sell goods, and a "shabby" looking home makes it hard for its occupants to create the favorable impression which they might make on their home-town.

As the farmer keeps his fields productive by feeding them with fertilizer so the people should keep the home town productive by fertilizing them with money spent at home.

To get a chance to serve the public, it helps a lot to tell the public what you can do to serve them. That means constant advertising.

MOHAIR GRADING MAKING STRIDES

College Station, Jan. 6, 1941—Mohair grading in Texas, begun with the autumn of 1937 at the instance of many Angora goat raisers who desired to have their staple sold on merit, is making rapid strides, says W. R. Nisbet, Extension Service animal husbandman at Texas A. & M. College.

Several warehousemen have cooperated with growers in setting up proper grades, or standards, of quality and approximately 5,000,000 pounds of mohair fall into were sold on a graded basis. Grading was done at Sanderson, Fort Worth, Brownwood, Sabinal, San Marcos and Somers, with the most of it in Sanders.

Sales of graded hair varied from a low of 35 cents to a high of 63 cents this season, and 500 to 700 grades of kid and fluff of grown hair were made.

The sheep and goat specialist points out that through the sale of graded mohair growers can obtain premiums according to the quality and type desired by mills or other users of their product.

This is especially important at present when synthetic fibers are being substituted in both wool and mohair to an alarming extent. Conforming to the demand for high grades of mohair "they consume the growers would in large measure spread the fibers which encourage the use of substitutes."

The cost of grading is not prohibitive, Nisbet says, and through three seasons it has proved profitable to producers of the higher quality of mohair who have participated. Definite arrangements are being made to continue the grading and growers who are interested should contact their warehouse agent regarding the matter.

B. M. Halbert Jr., of Sonora, is chairman of the group of goat raisers and warehousemen sponsoring the grading program. A representative of the United States Department of Agriculture and J. M. Jones and R. P. Davis of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Nisbet also are associated with it.

DEATH OF INFANT

The hearts of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Heisler of San Antonio were gladdened on Jan. 4 when a little boy arrived to make his home with them but their happiness was turned to sadness when his little spirit returned to the Maker who gave it after living about eight hours. His little form was laid to rest in the Pipe Creek Cemetery Sunday afternoon, Jan. 5 at 4 o'clock with Rev. Dave Palmer of Medina officiating.

We join the many friends in extending sincere sympathy to the heart broken parents.

Texas Legislature Convened Tuesday

Austin, Jan. 14.—Amid dignified ceremony, the forty-seventh legislature took off on its long general session, convening at noon.

Homer Leonard of McAllen was unanimously elected speaker of the house while Clay Cotton of Palestine defeated R. A. Weinert of Seguin, 18 to 12 for president pro tempore of the senate.

As the official clock in the big senate chamber pointed to 12 noon, Lieutenant Governor Coke Stevenson of Junction swung his gavel four times and announced:

"According to the constitution and laws of the state of Texas I hereby declare the senate of the forty-seventh session of the legislature duly convened."

Secretary of State M. O. Flowers performed the same function in the house.

The secretary of state presides over the house at the start of a new legislature until a speaker can be chosen.

The galleries of both houses were crowded, and the floor of the lower legislative branch also was jammed with representatives and members of their families.

Immediately after calling the senate to order, Stevenson, who is president of the body, announced the followinig temporary officers:

All 31 members of the senate were present as were the 150 representatives.

In the senate the invocation was by the Rev. Kenneth Pope, pastor of the First Methodist church of Austin. The Rev. Henry W. Shirley of McAllen officiated similarly in the house.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston served temporarily as parliamentarian of the house.

E. R. Lindley, temporary chief clerk, administered the oaths of office to the representatives in a body.

Representative Claude Gilmer of Rock Springs then placed Leonard in nomination for the speakership, pointing out that Leonard had been chairman of both the appropriations and taxation committees.

After three seconding speeches by new members, Leonard was unanimously elected.

The house adopted a resolution fixing the pay of members of the legislature at a maximum of $10 a day. It also passed a bill appropriating $350,000 for legislators' salaries and session expenses.

Resolutions were approved providing for joint sessions Thursday and Friday to hear the governor's message and Thursday afternoon to canvas the vote last November for governer and lieutenant governor.

"CIVILIZED" WARFARE

People used to talk about what was called "civilized warfare." Great confederacies of the nations were held in 1899 and 1907 at the Hague in Holland, which adopted agreements aimed to "make war less cruel. The effort was made to protect women and children and to prevent the dropping of explosives from aircraft. There was also a resolution against gas warfare. It was felt, that by those means, war would be less terrible.

In the World War the nations, or some of them, instead of trying to make war less terrible, tried to make it more so. The idea was that the more terrible an attacking force was the sooner people would yield, which would lead to shorter wars.

So in the World War deadly gases were used with the most awful effect. Countless men have suffer all their lives from gas injury. From 20 to 30 per cent of the American casualties in the World War were due to this cause.

The present war is being conducted in an even more horrible manner. The rights of non-combatants are disregarded. A multitude of women and children are fallen victims of war hate. The military men dread the day when gas warfare will be stifled again. Apparently each side is afraid to tackle that method, because of fear of what the foe will do.

Modern war as now carried on in Europe is the reverse of "civilized." It is more cruel than any form of war the uncivilized nations of barbarious countries would use. Certain nations have come under the rule of men so wild that any method that will crush or scare a country into submission is considered legitimate. The explosion of human wickedness occurs mainly because in certain countries there is no free press which will tell the truth about "civilized" warfare.

POWER OF THE HANDS

Dartmouth College at Hanover, N. H., has established a workshop in which students will get an opportunity to work with their hands, at such trades as wood and metal working, cabinet making, etc. This is done out of the belief that one of the weaknesses of education is that the modern boy does not usually get the chance to work with his hands.

The youth who feels sure he is headed for a career in some profession or business office, may ask what good it will do him to learn to drive a nail or work with a steel on a lathe. Even if he is headed for the office, or profession, it would probably do him good to take a year at the bench. He would through that experience at least get the point of view of the ordinary wage-earner, which many business and professional people never acquire. The men and women who understand how to deal with all types of people stand a better chance in any occupation.

Many book educated college students may have to wait a year or two before they get really started on their life work. If during that year they could take a job in some shop, they would avoid the period of disappointment and loss of heart through which many students have passed during recent years.

Work with the hands tends to make people observant. Their eyes are trained to watch very closely the tools and materials with which they are working. If they had a tendency to live in a dream world of thought and imagination, the hand work brings them closely in touch with life, and helps them become realistic and practical.

The people who see the world most clearly are apt to be the ones who conquer the world. Many things besides hand work are needed to help one conquer the world. At least hand work gives people some clear ideas about life. It could be wished that all boys, or at least some of them, could have a chance for a time at such labors.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

The people do not say "Good by" to their dollars when they spend them at home. The dollars keep circulating around town, and making the home town more prosperous for everybody.

"Greet the unseen with a cheer" was the word of a famous poet, and is a good motto for a New Year. Also not merely with a cheer, but a resolve to do better work than ever before.

The northern cities have great trouble shoveling snow, but snow is not the most difficult thing to get rid of. Indifference to the interests of the home town is worse than any snow drifts.

Our Dental Chart

The Ipana toothpaste company sent the fourth grade pupils some samples of toothpaste. They also sent a health chart. Every pupil has his name on the chart, and if he brushes his teeth right each day he gets eight points. At the end of the term, those who have the most points will get a certificate. We are all trying to keep perfect scores for our charts.

We want to thank all of those who sent Santa Claus to us Friday before Christmas. We certainly did enjoy his visit and hope he comes again next year.

My Trip to Comfort

After Christmas dinner we went to Comfort. In the evening my grandmother took down her Christmas tree. I helped her take it down, and she gave me some candy. I hope I can help her again next year.

1940 MATTRESS PRODUCTION GAINS

The Cotton Mattress Demonstration Program for Bandera county closed on March 14, 1940 mattresses had been made in five communities. Valuing these mattresses at $15 each the total value of tuftless all-cotton mattresses, $3,061.50 worth of mattresses were made from cotton and cotton linters from all sources was $400 or less for the calendar year of 1939.

The program began on May 14, 1940 in the Tarpley community. It is through the good cooperation in each community that we could accomplish this work.

The following is a complete list of the number of mattresses made in the various centers: 14 at Tarpley; 47 at Bandera including 12 at Bandera Creek; 14 at Lost Maples; 40 at Medina including 12 at Verde, Middle Verde and Winans Creek; 2 at Pipe Creek; 28 at Hondo, including 12 at Castroville; and 15 at Medina. Tuff and Lima.

Approximately 1,238 persons registered at one of the two months mattresses were being made. This number includes visitors as well as the families who worked.

This work was done co-operatively. We found that we could get the most out of a good piece of work-making cotton.

It is hoped that families who have mattresses that need renovating will do that at home now since they have learned to make mattresses.

Every man in the county should make his wife a rack on which to sun and air the mattress throughout the year. This can easily be done cheaply by making it five feet wide and seven feet long and about 30 inches high from the ground. These racks should be made from scrap lumber and the women certainly need them and will render long life to the mattress. It is hoped that everyone will follow the information given in the bulletin "A Long Life For Your Mattress."

The life of any mattress depends on the care it is given by the individual that those mattresses be aired and beaten once a week.

Applications are now being taken for cotton and linters have already been received for the A. A. A. 1941 program. The deadline for receiving the A. A. A. application, so we are very anxious to have all applications in as soon as possible.

The date for opening the new mattress program will be announced at a later time.

COMFORTS NEXT ON FARMERS

College Station, Jan. 13, 1941—A supplement to the Department of Agriculture's 1941 Farmers' Defense demonstration program will enable low income rural families in Texas to grow home comforts —one for each mattress made under the program.

Every family eligible to receive mattress materials under the current program will also be eligible to receive 10 yards of percale and four pounds of cotton for making a cotton comfort, according to information announced last week by H. T. Price, field man at large for the State A.A.A. office.

Bess Edwards, assistant state home demonstration agent for the Texas Extension Service, and Mrs. M. Colley, added this would probably mean the making of 400,000 new cotton comforts within the next few months.

Materials for the program will be purchased before it can obtain materials for making a comfort.

Quoting Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Grover B. Hill, Miss Edwards said that the comfort provision in the mattress program is another means of "turning the cotton surplus into a national blessing."

SOLICITING FOR GOOD CAUSES

A town is not likely to keep up to modern standards unless it supports all the financial organizations. That calls for soliciting of money for churches and charitable and educational organizations. People have to undertake the somewhat unpleasant task of ringing the doorbells of their neighbors, and asking them what they will give to this or that cause.

The people who perform this task of "solicitation" are entitled to the most courteous and considerate treatment. They should be welcomed and urged to give all they can afford. A community that does not maintain these enterprises shows that it is behind the times, and lacking in human sympathy and the desire for social welfare.

"And let me warn you further, fellow citizens, that our foreign-born population has reached such unwieldy proportions that if something is not done this autocracy, our native-born American, the descendant of those who founded what it is, will soon find himself unable to sell his vote at all."

President Takes Oath at Third Inaugural

This soundphoto shows Chief Justice Hughes, extreme left, administering the oath of office to President Franklin Delano Roosevelt as he was inaugurated as the first third-term President of the United States on Monday, January 20. In his inaugural address the President declared that "democracy is not dying" and "cannot die." His speech was marked by constant references to his faith in American democracy.

PRESIDENT TAKES OATH IN PRESENCE OF 75,000

Washington, Jan. 20.—His hand resting upon an old Dutch family bible, his eyes squinting into the bright noonday sun, Franklin D. Roosevelt slowly and thoughtfully repeated the presidential oath of office for the third time today and asserted that the task of the times was to save "the nation and its institutions from disruption from without."

"Democracy is not dying," he said with impressive solemnity, his head bobbing emphatically to the rhythm of his clipped and spaced words. "We know it cannot die."

"We know it because if we look below the surface, we sense it still spreading on every continent, for it is the most humane, the most advanced, and in the end the most unconquerable of all forms of human society."

He dedicated his third administration to the protection and perpetuation of "the integrity of democracy" in "the face of great perils never before encountered."

A spreading throng of some 75,000 chilled and heavily bundled spectators were jammed before him into the Capitol Plaza. Some were even perched in the branches of the trees. Others had found distant vantage points on the roofs of the Senate and House office buildings.

Although the sun beamed brilliantly from a cloudless sky, the wind was brisk and chill. When applause interrupted the President, the handclapping was partly muffled by gloves.

The Chief Executive spoke from an imposing temporary stand, its roof supported by four pairs of Corinthian columns, and the whole designed to carry out the quasi-colonial architecture of the capitol building, of which it had been made a part. To his left were the members of the House and Senate, some in glistening silk toppers, others in plain Fedoras. To his right was the diplomatic corps, including Hans Thomsen, German Charge d'Affaires. The resplendent uniforms of the diplomats were hidden under heavy overcoats.

About the President were the members of his family; Vice President Wallace, who took the oath of office just before Roosevelt did so; John N. Garner, who closed a 38-year public career, by administering the oath to Wallace, and the justices of the Supreme Court, Chief Justice Hughes, in his silken gown and tiny black skull cap, administered the oath to the President.

YOUR NATIONAL DEFENSE PROGRAM AND YOUR COMMUNITY

When I walk into the shop at various hours of the night, I see twenty-five to thirty boys hard at work; boys who have put in a hard days work at home or on regular jobs like yourselves, yet these boys work from 7 p. m. to 12 o'clock at night in the National Defense training courses.

These questions keep presenting themselves to me, yet only the community can answer them—whose program is this? It definitely belongs to the community. The community reaps the total financial benefits, to say nothing of the greater benefit of more trained men within its trade territory.

Perhaps, if we would just remember how much it helps, when we hit a hard job, an important job for someone to slap us on the shoulder, and ask how we are doing, or perhaps drop in for a short visit and look around, we would make these boys, who are putting forth a great effort and doing a fine job, realize that we are behind them and our program 100 per cent.

We, as a community, must remember that the benefits and the program will ... to ours, and the boys belong to the army.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel Inaugurated Tuesday

Austin, Texas, Jan. 21.—Cannon boomed in a 19-gun salute and military planes roared overhead today as W. Lee O'Daniel, purveyor of hillbilly music and former flour merchant, was inaugurated for a second term as governor of Texas.

An estimated 10,000 persons, by comparison a fragment of the great crowd which witnessed his first inauguration two years ago in the football stadium of the University of Texas, saw him solemnly swear to uphold the laws and Constitutions of the State and nation.

Massed in front of Texas' red granite capitol, they also heard the governor declare that the State government was in a critical condition because of a departure from the principles of democracy.

He specifically mentioned the delegation to boards and bureaus of powers which he said were originally vested in the executive, the legislative or the judiciary branch of government.

Coke Stevenson was inaugurated for a second term as lieutenant governor.

He bespoke progress for State and country within the concepts of fundamental principles, and outlined a six-point program of legislative subjects which he said came within constitutional boundaries and should be dealt with promptly.

PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY BALL NEXT THURSDAY

The American Legion Post of Bandera with L. R. Clayton as commander, has accepted the chairmanship for the 1941 President's birthday celebration for Bandera County. The appointment was made by W. L. Clayton, Houston chairman of the Texas State Committee and announcement of acceptance came from George Waverley Briggs, Dallas, vice chairman and campaign director of the Texas Fight Infantile Paralysis Campaign.

Fifty per cent of the net proceeds derived from the local celebration will be retained here this year, Mr. Briggs announced. After payment of all expenses incumbent upon holding the celebration, Jan. 30, the residue will be divided between the local organization and the State Committee. In counties where chapters are operating the county's share of the fund will be turned over to the chapter while in unorganized counties the fifty per cent will be retained by the local campaign chairman until such time a local chapter is organized.

Again the celebration is of nation-wide scope, Mr. Briggs said, and in almost every community, hamlet and city throughout the land President Roosevelt's birthday will be celebrated the night of Jan. 30 to the end that crippled children everywhere in the land might be benefitted. Mr. Briggs urges that every citizen in every community in Texas enlist now in this fight against infantile paralysis.

CLOSER TO WAR?

Is the United States drawing closer to war as the result of the things it is doing to help Britain? Some people are sure that it is, and they would have the United States stick to absolute neutrality. As the only means of avoiding that bloody whirlpool.

Adolf Hitler would no doubt like to involve the American continent, and tell the countries of this hemisphere what they can and can't do. If the United States should adhere to all his ideas, we should have no trouble with him. We Americans would care this to let him put his foot on their necks.

The question whether he ever makes an attack on this country will depend on whether he feels that the United States has sufficient force to resist him. If the United States develops its defense program, and it appears that it is, and if England holds out, the chances of such an attack are not very great. Hitler knows that if he attacked the United States, our government would do many more things to aid England, that the chances of such an attack are not good. Also increased by the aid so far given to Britain.

If Hitler wins the war, or if it is a draw game, he will probably attempt to add his power to South and Central America. He may also actually send troops and warships to these countries, but he could accomplish the same results by selling those countries to submit to Nazi governments if the United States has to get ready for most of its fighting.

As public opinion in America solidifies against the Nazis, more and more armies are sent to Europe, the danger of war does not seem very imminent, provided only that the British holds out. If Britain falls, then Uncle Sam should look out for something to drop.

CARRYING OUR OWN WEIGHT

Do you carry your own weight along in life, and down, town progress? Some people, seem like passengers who simply ride in a car and have no interest or furnishes the motive power. These dead weight passengers contribute nothing to get the load ahead.

Of course anyone who does good work in his occupation helps his home town, but he is called dead weight. But a person who never does anything to help the home causes of the community and business, or social and religious programs, can be called a partial dead weight. He is not carrying his full weight, and he is asking the load carriers and people to do the things that need to be done for the development of his community.

TOWN UNITY

Our national leaders keep telling us that we need the unity of the nation to get through the present war crisis safely and victoriously. That is absolutely true. We also need unity in towns for a community to go ahead. The progress of many towns was hindered or stopped in past years, because people could not pull together. Often there were feuds between different elements or leaders. If one bunch of people took up some idea, some different bunch threw cold water and remained aloof.

That kind of thing holds back the progress of a town like a heavy weight carried on the back of an athlete. People of all elements should shake their differences and all shout for the home town and its good causes.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If you can't say good words about your home town, better omit that subject altogether from your conversation and not discuss. Those who have faith in the local community and are working for its progress.

If you have a good idea about your home town, suggest it to do something on that topic, and be willing yourself to help accomplish that aim-if it is in your power to do so.

Success is attained by people's power to convince others that they have good ideas. If a business is going to win success, it needs to convince the world through advertising that that business offers special advantages.

If Columbus had turned back after 60 days of sailing uncharted seas no one could have blamed him, but no one would have remembered him. Even if you have a good excuse for giving up, remember that all the rewards go to those who stick till they get what they go after.

In Class

Bandera High's gain is Alamo Heights loss; for it seems that after the four students during the Christmas holidays, we have gained back at least three of them. We are happy to welcome Dawn Harrison as a new member of the Freshman Class and Jesse Harrison as a Sophomore Class. We hope that these girls find Bandera as good a place as San Antonio, and congratulations that a second new member in the person of Nick Marechal, also of San Antonio.

We are sorry to report that Mildred Jurezaki, another Freshman, has withdrawn from school. Arlene Pepper is back after a week's absence from school. We wonder what caused the illness? Perhaps you had better ask Arlene for information.

The Economics Class is glad that mid-term is over because now they will at least have some new books to look at. We are to receive Civics books this week, and are sincerely hope that they receive more use than the Economics did.

The various English classes are also receiving new books this week. The eighth and tenth grades will receive literature books and the ninth and eleventh grades will receive grammar books in a week or two.

The President's Inaugural Address echoed in every room in B. H. S. Monday morning as the students heard President Roosevelt and Vice President Wallace sworn into office. Then the strains of that good old "Star Spangled Banner" surged into the room, the students rose.

County Meet Typist to be Selected

CANNING PECANS

Cottage Station, Jan. 20.—Pecans can be successfully canned for Texas which has a lot! The main thing in canning is to prevent rancidity, according to Mrs. completely exhausting the air from the jar and the container, says Grace I. Neely, Extension Service specialist in food preservation for the state A. and M. College. Jars always should be tightly sealed. December and January are the best months for canning.

One method is to put shelled pecans in dry, hot sterilized jars or cans, place and adjust the lids but do not complete the seal. Place the jars in a pressure cooker and bring the pressure up to four or five pounds, then release the steam immediately. Remove from the canner and seal.

For those not having access to a pressure cooker, pecans may be as outlined and process in a slow oven, or hot water canner for 15 to 25 minutes, then remove and seal immediately.

Cool quickly and store in a dark, dry, well ventilated room. Never open a jar or can until wanted for use. Store any left over in the refrigerator.

When gals shut their eyes and sigh before shoppes—shirt to high.

MEN NEEDED FOR ENLARGED NAVY

The past year has witnessed the greatest peace time expansion of the Navy in all its history. With, in the short space of five or six years, a real three-fleet Navy will be the result—the greatest concentration of sea power in the world. Assistant Commander S. D. Wade, USN, Chief of Navy Recruiting in this district, says that this mighty armada will need the services of every able man to handle it properly; will require twice the number of men now in the Navy. Here is a golden opportunity for the men now in the Service and for those enlisting in the near future. They will be the petty officers of tomorrow, the leaders of the new Navy we are now building.

On top of these happy prospects, the Navy Department has recently lowered the minimum service requirements for advancement in rating. Under the new regulations the 3rd class petty officer will become a first class petty officer in 20 months or a chief petty officer in 36 months. Of course, if you got mean to infer that all men entering the Service will make the top ratings in the short time mentioned, but Old Man Opportunity is knocking like he has seldom knocked before. Ambitious young recruits should advance much more rapidly during this period than ever before.

No sensible man wants war. The pacifist usually regrets that the man who wears the uniform is killed or maimed, and that he is never happier than when he gets the big guns roar. Men who know war despise it. That is the reason that they believe in fighting against the evil day. It is now the duty of the United States had been prepared at the beginning of the World War, thousands of lives would have been spared and at least twelve billion dollars saved. Your Navy's great expansion program is the best insurance available against war.

PEAK PROSPERITY

The American people have a perfectly enormous industrial capacity, and the basic ability to provide universal security. But that capacity could only be fully utilized if the people could see practically at the top speed of which it is capable, there should be a sale for all surplus farm products and it should be possible to pay all costs of government including defense, without borrowing money.

The problem then is to help the industries run regularly, and produce what we could see practically all the people who are willing to work.

These industries can't usually operate without orders for finished goods. Some of them making staple lines may be able to stock up on regular patterns in advance, but there is a limit to such stocking. After they have accumulate stocks of a certain volume, they

CLOSER TO WAR

In the United States drawing closer to war as the result of the things it is doing to help Britain? Some people are sure that it is, and they would have the United States stick to absolute neutrality, as the only means of avoiding that bloody whirlpool.

Adolf Hitler would no doubt like to dominate the American continent, and tell the countries of this hemisphere what they can and can't do. If the United States would adhere to all his ideas, we should have no trouble with him. Few Americans would care thus to let him put his foot on their necks.

The question whether he ever makes an attack on this country will depend on whether he feels that the United States has sufficient force to resist him. If, the United States develops its defense program with all possible speed, and if England holds out, the chances of such an attack are not very great. Hitler knows that if he attacked the United States, our government would, do many more things to aid England, so that the chances of such an attack are not greatly increased by the aid so far given to Britain.

If Hitler wins the war, or if it is a draw game, he will probably attempt to extend his power to South and Central America. He may not actually send troops and warships to those countries, but he could accomplish the same result by inducing those countries to submit to Nazi governments. The United States has to get ready to meet that threat.

As public opinion in America stands, we feel agreed that no more armies should be sent to Europe, the danger of war does not seem very imminent, provided only that Britain holds out. If Britain falls then United States should look out for something to drop.

CARRYING OUR OWN WEIGHT

Do you carry your own weight along the road of life and Lone progress? Some people, seem like passengers who simply ride in a car for which someone else furnishes the motive power. These dead weight passengers contribute nothing to pull the town ahead.

Of course anyone who does good work in his occupation helps his home town, so he can't be called dead weight. But a person who never does anything to help the home causes of improvement and business, or social and religious progress, can be called a partial dead weight. He is not carrying his full weight, and he is asking his neighbors and townspeople to do the things that need to be done for the development of his community.

TOWN UNITY

Our national leaders keep telling us that we need the unity of the nation to get through the present war crisis safely and victoriously. That is absolutely true. We also need unity in towns for a community to go ahead. The progress of many towns has suffered or stopped in past years, because people would not pull together. Often there were feuds between different elements or leaders. If one bunch of people took up some idea, some different bunch often threw cold water and remained aloof.

That kind of thing holds back the progress of a town like a heavy weight carried on the back of an athlete. People of all elements should sink their differences and all shout for the home town and its good causes.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If you can't say good words about your home town, then omit that subject altogether from your conversation and not discourage those who are fain to see the local community and are working for its progress.

If you have a good idea about your home town, suggest it, or do something on that idea, and be willing yourself to help accomplish that aim. It is in your power to do so.

Success is attained by people's power to convince the world that they have good ideas. If a business is going to win success, it needs to convince the world through advertising that that business offers special advantages.

If Columbus had turned back after 65 days of sailing uncharted seas, no one would have blamed him, but no one would have remembered him. Even if you have a good excuse for giving up, remember that all the rewards go to those who stick till they get what they go after.

A norther blew in Saturday but was not cold enough to damage vegetation. Showers continued to fall and prospects for fine crops were good. The Best of San Antonio bought six horses and five mules. Some time ago John Crist of Red Bluff sent to Lee Risinger for some real fish potatoes and Mr. Risinger sent him eating instead of seed potatoes, but later he sent Crist the seed. Well, you know Crist planted both kinds and Monday afternoon he sent Mr. Risinger a mess that exceeded the potatoes raised from the eating potatoes. The seed potatoes have not yet yielded Mr. Crist any instructions for Mr. Risinger to eat the potatoes and ye editor ate a mess of them. Well, you know editors never drink anything stronger than soup.

FAIR TRADE ACT DANGEROUS

Galveston, Jan. 20—Why with the federal government doing all it can to prevent profiteering and keep prices down should the Texas governor be asked to sign a price-fixing, price-raising law such as the Fair Trade Act, Fred Evans, of Galveston, president of the Texas Merchants Association asked here today?

The Texas Merchants Bureau of Galveston, Beaumont, Edna, and Wharton, and other Gulf Coast points, Texas Retail Grocers Association is composed of local chain stores owned by Texans and has been active in Texas affairs.

"This newly proposed Fair Trade Act is essentially the same proposal that was vetoed by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel two years ago after Attorney General Gerald Mann had come in conflict with our anti-trust laws," said Mr. Evans. "It still holds out many of the evils found in by the minimum price-fixing of any one contract made between any one retailer and the manufacturer of the product involved.

"There is a dangerous law. It obviously is an attempt to set aside the Texas anti-trust laws.

"The Texas state law has already been fixed upward. You don't need laws to lower prices. The Fair Trade Act is extremely complexly disregards the welfare of consumers and is in direct conflict with the frequently expressed wishes of President Roosevelt and the federal government that prices should be normally stayed during these trying times.

"From the merchants' standpoint we can only help but fear the law. It makes the manufacturer the dictator of retail prices to the world as he frequently exercises manufacturers in Texas. Who can say how much profit a merchant should make or charge for their products if this law is enacted? How is a merchant to know what margin will be allowed? How can we foresee the fluctuations and charges that may occur every months or years—will bring?

"The members of the Texas Merchants Association are determined to do everything they can to protect their right to buy and sell their but at a profit. We are absolutely opposed to any price fixing.

"We feel that, the consumers of the State are entitled to the protection of the fine Texas anti-trust laws which this so called Fair Trade Act will endanger. We want not only fair business but also free business. We ask the help of all other free-minded merchants and citizens who appreciate their right to shop where and when they please and get the prices they can buy.

The Fair Trade Act was introduced in Austin last week by Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio as Senate Bill 9 and was referred to the senate committee on commerce and manufacturing for a hearing.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS INTERVIEWED

At a short interview of Miss Merle Jean MacNaughton, a few hours of her time disclosed.

Miss MacNaughton hails from Bandera where she received her high school there she attended Howard Payne at Brownwood. Here she received her B. A. Degree. She is Miss MacNaughton's first experience at teaching, but from her own opinion of her, no doubt, we think she will get right.

Miss MacNaughton is teaching Home Economics and Spanish in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades.

Her hobby is collecting poetry and recipes. Her favorite recipe gingers are her favorite likes. Probably that needs no further explaining. Miss MacNaughton explained that she had do particular dislikes unless she is unduly persistent. A pet peeve, not of importance. To her it's all "hooey."—Bondo Anvil Herald.

NEW FACULTY MEMBER INTERVIEWED

At a short interview of Miss Merle Dean MacNaughton, a few facts of her life were disclosed.

Miss MacNaughton hails from Bandera. After graduating from high school there she attended Draughon's Business College. There she received her B. A. Degree. This is Miss MacNaughton's first experience at teaching.

Upon being asked her opinion of Utopa, her reply was, "I'm all right." We sincerely hope that she shall like it more after residing here for a time.

Miss MacNaughton is teaching Spelling, English and Reading in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades.

Her hobby is collecting poetry which sounds very interesting. Engineers are her favorite likes. Probably that needs no further explaining. Miss MacNaughton explained that she had no particular dislikes unless it is anything strange or if girls refuse to act superstitious. To her it's all "hooey."—Hondo Anvil Herald.

GROWTH OF TOLERANCE

Practically all of the American people claim to hold liberal beliefs, but the essential characteristics of the liberal point of view is a tolerant spirit, a respect for people who hold opinions different from one's own views.

In some respects the American people have fairly well adopted this liberal point of view, and in some respects they are still illiberal and intolerant. Our people condemn the harsh prejudices of Europe. The persecution of the German Jews, for instance, fills them with abhorrence. In our country religious intolerance has disappeared to a large extent. People are no longer persecuted because of their religious views. Churches may require their ministers and leaders to subscribe to certain doctrines, but the right of a person to hold his own religious views is fully accepted. That is a great gain over the bigotry of past ages.

In racial tolerance our country has made marked progress. The people of the various race originated along rather well together. There are examples of intolerance, but in the main people of different race strains live harmoniously.

Political life is not as bitter as it was in a former generation, but political intolerance is often manifested, particularly in election campaigns. People often denounce their opponents and charge that these adversaries are supporters of selfish, greedy, grasping policies, or that their opponents are stupid or foolish. After election people calm down, and the bitterness mostly disappears.

What some principle is held by a great body of people for many years, there is usually some basis for it. Instead of denouncing so sharply those who hold that idea, it would be well to study it and find out if that belief does not get its hold because of defects in our system of life and government that need correction.

BOY SCOUT ANNIVERSARY

The Boy Scouts of America were originally chartered under the laws of the District of Columbia on Feb. 8, 1910. In the 31 years' time they have grown and grown, until they have a membership of something over 1,200,000.

What has been the secret of this marvelous growth? It is fairly easy to examine boys into clubs, but difficult to keep them organized. The poet has said that "a boy's will is the wind's will." Boys will often go in for something strong for a time. If things are required of them that make them tired, they have a way of quitting with equal speed. The Boy Scout idea has obtained such a powerful hold that it seems to be a permanent institution in American life.

Boys take pride in their ability to do things. When they see that as Scouts they have attained greater skill in directions which they like and can see and appreciate, they have loyalty to the organization that has taught them these things.

When they see they have learned to swim, to row a boat, to tie knots, that they have acquired ability in judging distance, size, numbers, etc., and many more things, the boy feels he has made an asset in the world of achievement. He is then in a mood to take orders, and Scout leaders tell him things he ought to know about patriotism, citizenship, cleanliness, morals, and education. He will listen attentively to this instruction, and will have a full sellers or pay no heed if his parents told him the same things.

The people who founded and who now direct the Boy Scouts have shown a keen knowledge of boy nature. They use the ambition of the boys by giving them a chance to do the things they like. When you win a boy's affection, you can go almost any length with him, in giving him good ideas about life, duty, and work.

"Circumstances compel me to [illegible] arrangement with you," said the aged business personality.

"Er, ah—I don't get you."

"That's just what I'm telling you."

"You look all in today, Bill. What's the trouble?"

"Well, I didn't get home until after daylight, and I wha' just undressing when my wife woke up and said: 'Aren't you getting up pretty early, Bill?' In order to settle an argument, I put on my clothes and came down to the office."

Fifth Grade News

The Fifth Gradle was very torn up when we heard that Miss Thomas was leaving us.

Miss Thomas gave us a very nice party down on the river. We went to thank her for it. I'm sure everyone enjoyed being on a picnic.

We are also glad to have' the folks back again who have been sick with the flu, sore throat and colds.

We have started our declamation. I hope we like it.

She pointed out that shrubs should be planted against the side or back of the house leaving the lawn for grass. Roses should be planted in rows. Since roses like an acid soil, barnyard manure should be used for fertilizer. In selecting rose bushes for planting, be sure the canes are not broken, scarred or dry.

After the lesson, two flower guessing contests were led by Miss Pfluger. Later, delicious refreshments of cake and tea were served by the hostess. Those present were: Mesdames Alvin Clark, B. C. Fleenor, Howard Denson, Jack Olliff, Jeff Hardie, Arthur Hayes, Allie Thallman and Miss Myrtle Pfluger.

NOTICE

Regarding the bond election to be held at Medina school building Saturday, Feb. 8th, I feel that I should answer a few questions which will naturally arise. No trustee, or anyone else, has suggested that I do this, and to begin with, please permit me to say that aside from the benefits that naturally come to a community through having a good school, and aside from the satisfaction of helping our young people to better prepared to meet the problems of the trying age in which we are living, I know of no way in which the voting of these funds will benefit me in the slightest degree.
The first question which I wish to answer is this: WHY HAS THE SCHOOL BOARD ORDERED THIS ELECTION? I am setting out below some of the things which the Board should have taken the action they have done.
(1) In the first place, the only way we could get the defense program school was by convincing the government that we intend to build a suitable building that will be large enough for housing the high school machinery, which is to be furnished, and has already begun to be furnished us by the government. One visit to the present defense school will convince anyone that our present workshop is painfully inadequate, even before the great part of the machinery has been installed.
(2) Under this program we are to be furnished free of charge all high school machinery but also an instructor, and considerable amounts of material for practice work.
(3) In addition to the above, the government is to furnish free the labor to be used in constructing the building, including also all expert foremen, and it is the only local labor in so far as this may be practicable. This will not only be a great benefit to the community in the cost of providing the building, but will give work to much needed valuable training to the young men of our community.
(4) Whether we ever enter the war or not, our boys will be, prepared to accommodate a larger class room. When will we ever have a better opportunity to do this? The possibility of keeping a high class school as Medina must necessarily rest upon maintaining a school to which people will wish to send their children.
A second question is this: WILL THE VOTING OF THESE BONDS INCREASE THE SCHOOL TAX RATE? It cannot increase the school-tax rate, because the present rate is the limit allowed by law. All that the voting of these bonds could possibly do, in this instance, would be to permit the school board to reduce the present tax rate as it should see fit. I feel that I should be sure that this statement has effect ten been completed, but if you will examine your tax receipts you will see that the bonds issued in 1936, amounting to more than three times the proposed issue, did not increase the school-tax RAT one penny. We are paying a pitifully small part of the money that is used in providing our present school system.
A third pertinent question is this: WILL THE VOTING OF THESE BONDS EXTEND THE TIME WITHIN WHICH WE SHALL BE PAYING ON OUR BONDED INDEBTEDNESS? No it will not. The last bond of the proposed issue would be paid off about five years before you will have finished paying off the bonds of the old Medina Independent District by which the concrete-block building was provided in 1926.
A fourth question that might arise in the minds of some is this: WILL THE BOND INCREASE PROPERTY VALUATIONS IN THE DISTRICT? Let me say in answer to this question that there is not a member on the board who has the slightest desire to raise valuations. This is not a new power in this community. The board and their very near relatives are some of the very heaviest taxpayers in the entire district, and I am unable to believe that they would do something that would increase the taxes in order to get a chance to insure someone else. The board is working for the best interest for the people of the district to decide and I expect to take no active part in the campaign further than to try to answer questions so that the voters may, if possible, have a better understanding of the proposition. I intend to be at the Medina Pharmacy Show next Saturday, and I shall be glad to try to answer any further questions regarding this matter.
Sincerely yours,
Carl F. Wheeler, Dist. Supt.

Farmer Cornfassel retired and moved to town.
In the morning, after spending the first night in the new home, his wife said: "Well Pa, hain't it about time you were getting up to built the fire?"
"No, mirer," replied the old gent, "I'll call the fire department. We might as well get used to these city conveniences right now."
One place an argument won't lead is to a sale.

ARCHBISHOP'S SUCCESSOR NAMED

The Most Rev. Robert E. Lucey, bishop of Amarillo, has been named archbishop of San Antonio by Pope Pius it was announced Friday in Washington by Archbishop Amleto Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States.

The San Antonio see has been vacant since the death of Archbishop Arthur J. Drossaerts on Sept. 5.

The new archbishop has been bishop of Amarillo since 1934. He is a native of Los Angeles and was educated at St. Patrick's seminary, Menlo Park, Calif. and the North American College, Rome.

He is well known for his interest in labor and has long been prominently identified with Catholic welfare work.

Archbishop Lucey's early pastorial assignments were in California churches. In 1934, when he was named bishop of the North Texas diocese, he was pastor of St. Anthony's church, Long Beach, Calif.

He was ordained to the priesthood May 4, 1916, after completion of his studies in Rome. Returning to the United States, he was assigned to the staff of St. Vibiana's cathedral, Los Angeles, Calif. Later he was named pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church in the same city. In 1917 he was appointed administrator of St. Paul's parish, Los Angeles.

From 1921 to 1926 he was director of the Bureau of Catholic Charities, now known as the Catholic Welfare bureau. During this new assignment he also served as pastor of St. Kelvin's church, Los Angeles.

During his service as bishop of Amarillo he extended Catholic educational opportunities, and effected the expansion of Price college.

The new San Antonio archbishop is a former member of the executive board of the California state department of social welfare, and a former president of the California Conference on Social Work.

He served as vice president of the Catholic Conference on Industrial Problems and was a former chairman of the Southern California committee of the Catholic Association for International Peace, of which he is now vice president.

Installation ceremonies are expected to be held sometime before Lent begins Feb. 26.

Bishop Lucey has visited San Antonio frequently. He was here last for the funeral of Archbishop Drossaerts.

The Rev. Peter J. Schnetzer has been serving as administrator of the San Antonio archdiocese since the death of Archbishop Drossaerts.

THE MEDINA BOND ELECTION

Regarding the bond election to be held at Medina school building on Saturday, Feb. 8th, I feel that I should answer a few questions which will naturally arise. No trustee, or anyone else, has suggested that I do this, and to begin with, please permit me to say to you that aside from the benefits that naturally come to a community through having a good school, and aside from the satisfaction of helping our young people to be better prepared to meet the problems of the trying age in which we are to live, I know of no way in which the voting of these bonds will benefit me in the slightest degree.

The first question which I wish to answer is this: WHY HAS THE SCHOOL BOARD ORDERED THIS ELECTION? I am setting out below some reasons why I think that the Board should have taken the action they have.

(1) In the first place, the only way we could get the defense program school was by convincing the authorities that we intend to build a suitable building that will be large enough for housing the tools, equipment, and machinery which is to be furnished, and has already begun to be furnished us, free of charge. One visit to the present defense school will convince anyone that our present shop is painfully inadequate, even before the great part of the machinery has been installed.

(2) Under this program we are to be furnished free of charge, not only tools and machinery but also an instructor, and considerable amounts of material for practice work.

(3) In addition to the above, the government is to furnish free the labor to be used in constructing the building, including also an expert foreman, and is to use only local labor in so far as this may be practicable. This will not only be a great saving to the community in the cost of providing the building, but will also give wages, as well as valuable training, to the young men of our community, in the art of building.

(4) Whether we ever enter the war or not, our boys will be prepared to command a wage far above what they would otherwise be able to earn.

(5) The state officers who have in charge the distribution of State Aid have repeatedly insisted that we provide a better shop and more class room. When will we ever have a better opportunity to do this? The possibility of keeping a high class school at Medina must necessarily rest upon maintaining a school to which people will wish to send their children.

A second question is this: WILL THE VOTING OF THESE BONDS INCREASE THE SCHOOL TAX RATE? It cannot increase the school-tax rate, because the present rate is the limit allowed by law. All that the voting of these bonds could possibly do in this connection would be to permit the school board to so divide the present tax rate as to take care of these bonds. I am aware that this statement has often been contradicted, but if you will examine your tax receipts you will see that the bonds issued in 1936, amounting to more than three times the proposed issue, did not increase the school-tax rate one penny. We are paying a pitifully small part of the money that is used in providing our present school system.

A third pertinent question is this: WILL THE VOTING OF THESE BONDS EXTEND THE TIME WITHIN WHICH WE SHALL BE PAYING ON OUR BONDED INDEBTEDNESS? No it will not. The last bond of the proposed issue would be paid off about five years before you will have finished paying off the bonds of the old Medina Independent District by which the concrete-block building was provided in 1928.

A fourth question that might arise is this: WILL THE SCHOOL BOARD INCREASE PROPERTY VALUATIONS IN THE DISTRICT? Let me say, in answer to this question, that there is not a member on the board who has any intention of raising valuations. This is not a new power in this community. The board of the original Medina Independent District had this same power. Personally, I am opposed to the exercise of this power by the board, and I have always been opposed to it.

In conclusion, let me call your attention to the fact that among the members of the school Board and their very near relatives are some of the very heaviest taxpayers in the entire district, and I am unable to believe that they would do something that would injure themselves in order to get a chance to injure someone else. This whole question is a matter for the people of the district to decide, and I expect to take no active part in the matter further than to try to answer questions so that the voters may, if possible, have a better understanding of the proposition. I intend to be at the Medina Fat Stock Show next Saturday, and I shall be glad to try to answer any further questions regarding this matter.

Sincerely yours,
Carl F. Wheeler, Dist. Supt.

Farmer Corntassel retired and moved to town.

In the morning, after spending the first night in the new home, his wife said: "Well Pa, hain't it about time you were getting up to build the fire?"

"No, siree," replied the old gent, "I'll call the fire department. We might as well get used to these city conveniences right now."

BANDERA P. T. A. TO GIVE MEXICAN SUPPER ON FEB. 18

The Bandera P. T. A. met in regular session Tuesday afternoon at the High School building with a nice attendance. A group of girls gave a program of patriotic numbers, including a song, instrumental duet by Betty Jean Gossett and Arlene Mansfield, recitation of the allegiance to the flag and the Star Spangled Banner.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. B. J. Gossett, president. In the absence of the secretary no minutes were read. The treasurer's report was given. Mrs. Raymond Hicks, Mrs. A. L. Mansfield and Mrs. R. W. Meitzen were elected as the nominating committee and will report at the March 4 meeting.

Plans were made to give a Mexican supper on Feb. 18 and the Bandera school band will furnish music during the evening. The school band is under the direction of Rankin Conwill and although just started this year, has shown remarkable progress. It is a treat to hear these young people so make your plans now to attend the Mexican supper on Feb. 18.

THE MEDINA BOND ELECTION

In presenting last week through the columns of the New Era, a few questions regarding the bond election to be held on Saturday, Feb. 8th, there were two which I forgot to present. These are set out below.

1. WOULD FAILURE TO VOTE THE BOND DEPRIVE OUR COMMUNITY OF THE DEFENSE SCHOOL PROGRAM AND THE TOOLS AND MACHINERY TO BE FURNISHED UNDER WHAT SET UP? Yes, so far as I know, it would; for every school that did not have an adequate building was rejected, unless the authorities were convinced that such building would be provided.

2. WHY WAS AN ISSUE OF $4,000 REQUESTED? To this question the answer is that with the increasingly high cost of materials, a smaller amount might not be sufficient. And, if any part of the money is not used in completing the building, such amount could be well used in constructing covered passageways between buildings to protect the children from the weather, as well as muddy ground.

Sincerely yours,
Carl F. Wheeler

LEGION AUXILIARY MET TUESDAY

The Legion Auxiliary met in regular session Tuesday night. Routine business matters were discussed. Following the meeting doughnuts, cookies and coffee were served. The next regular meeting will be March 4.

An invitation was received from the Kerrville Unit to meet with them on Feb. 20 when the 21st District Committee-woman, Mrs. Frank Bell of San Angelo will be there. Joint initiation of members from Units in Kerrville, Boerne, Fredericksburg, Junction and Bandera will be held.

Mrs. Gus Britsch has returned home after spending two weeks in Hondo.

THE REVIVAL

The Christian Church revival meeting, conducted by Evangelist John A. Tabor and wife in the Bandera Library Auditorium is growing in interest. The Evangelist is a Bible preacher of ability and the music is unusually good. The question box is an interesting feature of the meeting. The Bible reading contest is growing with enthusiasm. Over 50,000 verses were read the first week. Mrs. Hillman read Acts of the Apostles through sixteen times and was given a copy of a Bible concordance as a prize. The contest this week will be in reading and study of the book of Romans. The one reading the book of Romans through, the greatest number of times will receive a Bible concordance. The men are still leading in reading the greatest number of verses. Every one that can should attend these meetings and receive the spiritual benefits.

POLL TAX PAYMENTS LESS THAN LAST YEAR

Bandera County citizens, 1,221 of them, paid their poll taxes and will have a voice in matters to be settled by vote this year. This is 272 less than last year when 1,493 poll taxes were issued. Of this 1,221 four were paid by aliens between the ages of 21 and 60 and their poll tax is different than others in that it has "alien" stamped across the face of it. The aliens must pay their poll taxes but are not permitted to vote.

POPULATION GROWTH

The population of the United States did not grow as fast during the decade ending in 1940 as in previous 10 year periods. The experts say our rate of population growth is slowing down. Some predict that within about 20 years, the population will become stationary.

Towns cannot look ahead as confidently as formerly to population growth. If they are exceptionally wide awake and progressive, they will probably draw, in more people. The main thing is the production of superior communities, and the provision of the advantages that make a community highly desirable as a residence, business, and distributing center. A town can always grow in wealth, comforts, and facilities for high class living, but to do so, takes cooperation, enterprise, and support of all good public causes.

LEGION POST TO HONOR SELECTEES

BANDERA COUNTY BOYS FAT STOCK SHOW HERE SATURDAY, FEB. 15, 1941

The FFA and 4-H Club boys of Bandera County will hold their second annual County Stock Show Saturday, Feb. 15 at the Bandera warehouse. According to the County Agent and Vocational teachers this will be the largest and best show that was ever held in the county.

It is expected that there will be about 500 animals to be shown by the Bandera County boys. These will include about 250 fat lambs, 100 head of fine wool sheep, 100 head of goats, and 100 head of hogs. These animals have been fed and cared for by the club boys as a part of their projects and there will be many fine show animals in the group.

This show is being made possible by the donations from the merchants and friends of the boys in Bandera County and we hope that each friend of the boys will give something so that the boys will be rewarded for the fine work that they are doing under the sponsorship of the County Agent and Vocational teachers.

The winning animals at the county show will be taken to San Antonio where they will be entered in the South West Boys Fat Stock Show where each year the boys of this county have been at the top or near the top in the fat sheep division.

There will be some of the best judges in the state here to place these show animals, so come and spend the day in Bandera, see the judging, see what the boys are doing, meet your friends and have a good time.

TEXAS IS READY!

Give that valve a quarter turn, Old Man Texas, when Uncle Sam needs the oil for national defense

With the pioneer spirit typical of Texans, our oil men have found and developed petroleum reserves far beyond all civilian and military needs now indicated.

Even if defense requirements [illegible] Texas can supply them without waiter by a quarter turn of valves on wells already drilled. This can be done at a moment's notice without depriving anyone of a single gallon of gasoline or quart of motor oil.

Surplus pipe line capacity is ready to carry all this oil from the fields. Surplus refinery capacity exists to turn it into essential products.

Texas goes ahead in the search for more petroleum reserves. New fields are being found . . . more efficient producing, refining and transportation methods are constantly being perfected. . . . TEXAS IS READY!

Grosjean School Proceedings

The second grade enjoyed presenting "The Three Bears," last Friday with Mrs. Briggs and the first grade.

We are hoping to have a nice parade Friday with "Valentines" and also learn something about post offices, positions and mail delivery.

The fourth grade welcomes their new teacher, Miss Eckert, who came from Frenzel left and we missed her very much, but we are sure we will enjoy Miss Eckert.

Miss Eckert sent some boys to get sand for our new sand table. Since we are studying Switzerland we made our sand table look like Switzerland by making mountains and snow on them and houses with flowers around them.

The fifth grade is disappointed to learn that one of our classmates, Billy Searcy, is leaving us. We'll miss you, Billy.

The fifth grade has really found a place for Miss Jogneon in their room. Some of them say they hated her, but Miss Thomas, they know Miss Johnson can take her place.

I'll be a ragged Man
I'll be a ragged man
I'll go to see the ragged man out by the old barn
And sing of the day that he was rich
But now when I go to see the ragged man
He tells of the day that he was poor.

—Maxine Hunt

The first grade has two new pupils—Jerry Adkinson from Lake Medina, Florida and Magdo Norris from Mississippi. We welcome them to our room.

Friday we were invited by the second grade to see "The Three Bears." We are very glad that we were the "someone" that was given the opportunity to see such a good play.

We made a Valentine poster. George Briggs made the Postman, Betty Hicks, the squirrel's house; Robbie Smith, the squirrel's house; and Mary Lou Lyons, the bird house, which she put at each side of the house.

Ann Parsons brought her turtle, which Pete in school last week. We enjoyed having him very much. She caught Wild Pete in the cage. He is a very pretty turtle and we think quite educated since he has visited the third grade.

We have been enjoying many stories about the life of Lincoln. We think Lincoln one of the finest men who has ever lived and only hope we can all be more like him.

If you visit our room this week look at our cherry tree. Washington cut down his father's tree, but we are building one. Each day that we are good citizens we may put a cherry on the tree.

—Mary Lou Lyons

Bandera Will Shine

All the chairs in them will soon be bright and new. Mr. Thurman, who is using the chairs, handles them; and we intend to see that they are kept free of ink and nicks. EVIL BEWARE! NO KIDDING!

Homemaking News

The program prepared for club meeting was given in assembly on Wednesday, Feb. 5. The program contained talks from each of the third year girls and we received very interesting to all.

The third year girls made a display and took pictures of the play and baby child's clothing which they have made recently.

Assembly

Since some of the clubs had a slip of meeting and did not get up their program Mr. Briggs called assembly Wednesday. We were entertained by music from the band, and also by Junior Robin Collier and a short program by the Mr. Taylor, who is conducting a Bible of Christ meeting at this city auditorium, gave us a humorous but thoughtful discussion on education. Everyone enjoyed the assembly, but we plan to have another club meeting next time.

Boy's Sports

The basketball boys have quit practicing because they were unable to get any games with other schools. We practiced for the athletic events of the Bi-County meet to be held in Hondo the middle of the near future has begun. Some of the boys are throwing the shot put, others are jumping, some are vaulting, others are playing softball, and some are sure they can run.

Every boy is doing something and getting in shape to bring home the honors at the Bi-County meet.

He also dedicate ourselves to Scouting and be better Scouts. After this came the Court of Honor, at which we observed at the Library Auditorium at 11:15 a. m.

Then the night meeting, we also discussed the plan of collecting old automobile tires and tubes and send them to England. This will begin March 1st, and we would be very grateful to anyone who knows where to find some tires or helps us collect them for this very worthy cause.

Water Rates Are Announced

In order to clarify any questions regarding water rates on the new water system the board of directors held a meeting Tuesday night and adopted the following rates:

First 2,000 gallons $1.50 minimum charge.

Next 3,000 gallons 50 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Next 3,000 gallons, 35 cents per 1,000 gallons.

All water used thereafter, 25 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Where the customer only wants water in the yard with single plain bib or faucet the following rate was adopted:

First 1,500 gallons, $1.00.

Next 1,500 gallons $1.00, and all over 3,000 gallons will be the same rate as above schedule.

It was also agreed that during construction of the new water system there will be no charge to customer for water connection. The Water Board pipes water to property line and installs meter, and will also hook up line to nearest point in existing system on customer's property free of labor charge. All materials to be paid for by customer.

After system is completed and accepted by Water Board there will be a charge of $25.00 per connection from water mains to customer's property line including pipe and meters.

W. P. A. WORKERS FIND OLD GRAVES

Digging of trenches for the water mains has uncovered another forgotten bit of Bandera history. Tuesday evening as the trench was being dug near the Jergesen home W. P. A. workers uncovered two graves, apparently of an adult and a child. We have been unable to learn the identity of the persons. Some old-timers dimly recall that the area was used as a cemetery possibly 80 years ago. It was also reported that the area east of the big trees was used as a cemetery for whites and west of the trees for negroes. The plot of the cemetery as filed in the county clerk's office in 1884 showed the old cemetery at the present site so it is unknown just when the present cemetery was started.

The bones were fairly well preserved and pieces of the coffins were also found.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. ALICE MURPHY

Mrs. Alice Elizabeth Murphy, aged 75, passed away in San Antonio Sunday morning. She was a native of Alabama and had made her home in Sabinal. She was a member of the Baptist church.

Funeral services were held in Vanderpool Monday afternoon with Rev. J. Hargrove officiating. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. H. M. Kennard of San Antonio, sons, J. W. Murphy of Vanderpool and A. T. Murphy of San Antonio, and four grandchildren.

The New Era extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved.

BANDERA H. D. CLUB

Since fruit plays so essential a part in a well balanced diet, each farm family should produce enough for its own needs, said Miss Pfluger, at the club meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 12, in the home of Mrs. W. C. Allen.

A half acre plot planted to fruit should supply a family of five—a large variety should be selected so that the season for fresh fruit would be a long one.

The Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College has published a bulletin: "Fruit Varieties for Texas." This gives the varieties best adapted to the different sections of Texas, and may be obtained from the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College or from Miss Pfluger, our County Home Demonstration Agent.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames J. C. Anderwald, F. G. Anderwald, M. R. Thalmann, W. C. Allen, Misses Myrtle Pfluger, Annie Kallaus and Emma Kalka.

DISTRICT AGENT'S REPORT SHOWS VARIED ACTIVITIES

The 1940 labor demonstration program in Extension district 6 has been based on findings of land use planning committees, says Mae Belle Bellah, district agent in charge of home demonstration, in a review of the year's work. There are land-use planning committees in 16 of the district's 24 counties, with a membership of 310 including 86 women. Community committees number 42.

District has lies between Edwards Plateau and Caliche County on the Gulf coast and has the services of, besides Miss Bellah, agents in 17 counties. Organized home demonstration work is to be presented in 181 clubs with a total membership of 2,708 members of the 172 girls' 4-H clubs.

The cotton mattress-making program stood out so prominently in 1940 demonstrations that recital of achievements in the development of the work leads Miss Smith's report. County home demonstration agents in 17 counties, during the program conducted at the 212 mattress-making centers in 21 counties. Making 11,821 mattresses involved the volunteer services of 1,000 women who sewed 411 men who assisted, and the use of 781,130 pounds of surplus cotton.

The outside also helped obtain cotton to make mattresses, outside of the cotton raised locally for persons not eligible under it. The result was that 96,000 additional pounds were used in the 1,221 mattresses bought, made and presented.

Returning to land use planning the district agent says that in Wilson County representatives from home demonstration clubs studied problems aided by the planning committee and worked out plans for water for orchards and improvement for orchards, utilization of fruits, improvement of roads and cooperative buying of fruits for preserving.

In Jackson County, the 1941 program will be based upon the following problems found by land use planning committees: Developing freezer locker plants; improving dairying; improving pastures, developing more profitable poultry flocks; trying new cash crops, and 4-H club activities.

In each soil area a community committee has sub-committees on livestock, soil conservation, crops, poultry, dairy and farm home. Through the help of the land use planning committees 47 six soil conservation districts, which include ten counties, made their plans and applied for aid. Cooperators of the 24 counties in the district have REA cooperatives all of the counties having the service of proprietary electrical companies. Within the district 16 counties report electrification of 3,226 farms, and 1,570 farms now electrified are using power for purposes, such as electric milkers, bottled heaters and incubators.

Beef cooperatives also operate in the district, but are not farmer cooperatives.

At intermediate markets in Bexar, Caldwell and Victoria counties, 117 women earned $11,-569 in 251 days.

Recreation committees in each county home demonstration council carried out play activities, types of county-wide relaxation and play, including pending 1,630 women and girls in the district. Through the activities of these committees, 364 archeries, and 164 tennis courts were built and 196 additional outdoor recreational areas were created.

Educational committees were responsible for programs at county meetings by AAA secretaries on the AAA program, and the responsibility on soil building payments for home gardens. This resulted in 1,587 home gardens receiving aid for government checks totaling $5,561 in Medina alone. Nine of these gardens were also commercial.

Flower, Colors, Motto!

At last we have done it! We have chosen our class colors flower and motto.

At the particular period in order to help the war effort, we not get the wrong I do not say we are patriotic. I just mean that it is a habit as we are living in now we should do everything to show our patriotism more therefore we wrote all possibilities of flowers, colors and motto that we would find, White and Blue.

At that time comes when the Seniors are on the verge of completing their high school career it seems to dawn upon everyone that we should be celebrated. The junior class "throws a big fit for the seniors. On this special occasion the seniors are invited to banquet. Therefore they decide everything with the seniors having the say-so. Then there are baccalaureate services. The balls are adorned with the flowers. In order that the task of obtaining such an abundance of flowers would not be too difficult, we selected the carnation.

The Motorist's Creed

Let a person drive in snow and rain,
Let her drive as if she were insane.
She will a soon learn fate,
And if will be the concern of none.
Let her drive carelessly and bad
She will soon learn to drive true and well.
And then she will be a respected "Nell."

I believe that every motorist should do everything in his power to cut the death rate.

Not many sounds in life, and I include all urban and all rural sounds, sacred in interest a knock at the door.—Charles Lamb.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

It is a common expression to say, "this is a great world." Some business people say it seems a quite large one when they try to find someone who owes them money.

If you want to do something for the benefit of your home town, you go to the home merchant for support. Can he depend equally on your support, when he tries to do something progressive like putting in new lines of goods?

Your home is something more than the mere house you dwell in. Your home town is also your home and every street and home in it should have your hearty interest and concern for its welfare.

A man's "reasons" frequently sound like excuses.

BANDERA COMES TO-HOUSTON WITH THE GRAND HOUSTON VIEW OF "HUSBAND'S" DINNER CLUB

Houston's ever expanding night club business is getting a new and appealing addition with the formal opening of Husband's Dinner Club Thursday night, on Almeda Road and the Old Spanish Trail.

The club is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Husband, who are also proprietors of Mr. Hugh Courts of this city.

Bandera atmosphere will be maintained in the club. Mr. Husband says, with the walls being decorated with large pictures of Bandera's leading guest ranches. The hearty food and the hospitality of the hill country will be features of the establishment. Steaks are the specialty of the house and ranch style meals will be served family style. Instead of serving fixed portions of food, Husband's will offer the innovation of providing additional helping as long as there are any appetites to be satisfied.

As a service to Houston vacationists, Mr. and Mrs., Husband have secured literature and information about Bandera guest ranches and will arrange reservations free of charge.

Entertainment is furnished by Tack Wimmer's dance orchestra and a peppy floor show. The band plays from 8:30 p. m. to 2:30 a. m. nightly and a cover charge is being offered. The first show starts at 9 p. m. to allow patrons to enjoy an evening of entertainment and still get home at a reasonable hour.

It is the desire of Mr. and Mrs. Husband that Bandera people feel warmly welcome to drop in at any and all times.

"How come you write so slow, very fast."

BUCK JONES STARS AS "EAGLE"!

Buck Jones at his best! That is the promise held out to action fans at the Bantex Theatre, where Columbia's thrilling new chapter play, "White Eagle," begins its 15 episodes of suspenseful chills and thrills on Friday and Saturday. The new serial, which will be shown every Friday and Saturday thereafter, deals with the turbulent days of the old west, when Indians and white men not only fought each other but fought the renegades within their own sides as well.

Jones is seen in the new film as "White Eagle," an Indian brave who is part white. Determined to bring about peace in the troubled frontier, Jones not only achieves such a treaty between Indians and white settlers but then is forced to devote all his time and effort to enforcing that treaty. Renegade white men and renegade Indians are determined to provoke trouble. Jones is equally determined that there shall be no trouble!

Lovely Dorothy Fay, last seen with Buck Jones in such other of his outdoor action dramas as "The Stranger from Arizona" and "Law of the Texas," is again to be seen in the new chapter play as the two-fisted star's beautiful romantic lead. Others in the superlative cast include Raymond Hatton, Charles King, Bud Osborne, Kenneth Duncan, George Sargent, Jack Ingram and Harry Tenbrook.

James C. Horne directed the serial, which is said to exceed in excitement even his other action-tense chapter plays like "Terry and the Pirates," "The Spider's Web," "Deadwood Dick," and "Flying G-Men."

"White Eagle" includes in its breath-taking adventures many thrilling and danger-filled situations for Buck, such as crashing a tree on his stage-coach, trapping him in an exploding ammunition wagon, dropping him into quicksand, trapping him in a furious stampede of maddened horses, dynamiting a cliff onto him and Silver, his horse, trapping him in a hut upon which a huge boulder is teppled, throwing him unconscious upon sword-like prongs, sending him unarmed against a ferocious mountain lion, and throwing him, while bound, from a cliff into a canyon far below!

WOODMEN CIRCLE MET

The Woodmen Circle met Monday, February 24, for its regular meeting. After business was over a social hour was enjoyed by all present. Delicious sandwiches and coffee were served by Mrs. Howard Eckhart and Mrs. L. T. Smith.

Washington Day Celebration Held

Music was furnished by the High School Band. The invocation was given by Chaplain Rev. E. C. Ray. The flag was presented by Mrs. Jennette Hay and the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mrs. Edgar Pue, after which the audience sang the Star Spangled Banner. Mrs. Eugene Jergesen and B. C. Fleenor sang a duet. The march of Eastern Star members was beautiful and impressive. Announcements were made by J. A. Wright.

The Eastern Star members served cherry pie, cocoa and coffee to about 150 persons following the program.

TRIP TO AUSTIN

A group of Medina citizens, most of whom were young high school students, sponsored by a group of adults went to Austin to join the Cavalcade of Youth. We all went to make our protest to the governor and legislature on the drinking conditions in Texas. There were between seven and eight thousand high school and college students who showed to the State of Texas that we don't want liquor. We are glad that about 40 per cent of our own people were in this great number to help fight such a great evil that has come to destroy the virtue of our people. We believe that the Christians of Texas will not stand idly by and let such sin and shame take possession of our fine young life.

Those from Medina making the trip were: Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Walton, Misses Florene and Vivian Taylor, Arminta and Mona Allen, Mary Jo Mayfield, Blix Fee, Charlotte Walton, Jewell Carmack, Iona Dale, Pearl Miller, Lora Faris, Delta Mae Bailey, Opal Stokes, Edna Bonnet, Pauline Whitehead, Elva Mae and Oletta Fine, Donna Mayfield, Lila Mayfield, Sara Mae Freeman, Eva Dene Kelley, Geraldine Keese, Janet Ray Caton, Kay Hogan, Juanita Banta, Mrs. Clem Mayfield, Mrs. F. G. Bailey, Mrs. Louis Caton, Mrs. Elbert Fine, and Billy Lister, Harvey Mayfield, Richard Crawford, B. H. Stokes, Lenval Mayfield, Floyd Walton Jr., Willie Dale, Edward Fine, Bobby Mayfield, Leonard Ray Bailey, Rev. Raymond Bailey, Jesse Dale, Frederick Watrous and Gerald Banta.—Contributed.

TALLEY - FITZGERALD

Miss Lorene Fitzgerald, daughter of Mrs. Merle Fitzgerald of Pipe Creek, and Charles Talley of Pipe Creek were married on Feb. 8 with Judge A. V. Pue performing the ceremony at his home. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hodges were witnesses.

The New Era extends congratulations and best wishes.

Local Pictures Planned at Show

Mr. Lewis, with the Houston Chronicle, showed some moving pictures of Bandera scenes and action at Billings' Lodges and the O. S. T. Cafe Saturday night. The Houston Chronicle is sponsoring a Sport Show at the Sam Houston Coliseum in Houston on March 20 to March 25, inclusive, and he stressed the advantage of having a booth at that show. By showing the pictures continuously throughout the show many people would get a better understanding of the variety of entertainment to be found here for vacationists.

Benny Anmeletz was appointed to see owners of guest ranches and business men in an effort to raise the money necessary to secure the booth. It would be a worthwhile undertaking for all those who are interested in having vacationists learn of the facilities available here.

"SAFETY AWARD" CARDS BEING SOLD TO TEXAS AUTOISTS

The Better Business Bureau of Texas have issued a warning against Texans paying money to The United Insurance Company of Chicago, which they aver is not licensed to do business in Texas. Recently, the Bureaus find, this company has sent circular letters to Texans soliciting the sale of the company's policies together with cards of membership in a so-called "United Legion of Safety Drivers."

Citizens of Dallas, Austin and other places have received these letters and "awards." One instance was a resident of Austin who alegedly received a "safety award" card. In his report to the Better Business Bureau, the "award" recipient said the Chicago firm must have been somewhat lax in its investigation before issuing him the "award" as the Austin resident had only recently figured in an auto accident and considered himself "just an ordinary driver."—Sheriffs' Association of Texas Magazine.

Mrs. Bob Gray Killed in Wreck

Bandera relatives and friends were deeply shocked and grieved to learn that Mrs. Bob Gray was killed in a car and truck wreck at Indio, California Monday, where five other persons also met their death. Mrs. Gray, nee Matilda Newcomer, was born 43 years ago and was reared in the Pipe Creek community. On October 14, 1914, she was married to Bob Gray and they made their home in this section since then. Mr. Gray died last June 16. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Ada, three sons, Gilbert and Coy of Bandera and Leonard of Riverside, Calif.; her mother, Mrs. Hattie Newcomer of Pipe Creek; three sisters, Mrs. S. R. She distributed leaflets, "Fruit Varieties for Texas" and "Orchard Management" giving us a most interesting, worth while discussion on orchard fruits, stressing the selection of fruits needed for our families and those adapted to our section. We also discussed the choice of orchard plot as to soil and drainage first, planting, pruning and future care.

Eight ladies were present.

THE CONFIDENT ATTITUDE

The adult world does not always realize how keenly the young people feel their troubles. Youth is apt to present a confident appearance of hope, when the young-sters under the skin feel worried and baffled.

The director of the Harvard University hygiene department recently said that failure of students to reach their desired goals, or establish pleasant personal relations, is at the bottom of many student health problems. This is true not merely of young people in college, but of those in all schools.

Many young people worry because they think they are not popular. They perhaps lack some social gifts, and can not let themselves go in jolly comradeship, so that they appear aloof and unsocial.

The boys may lack the assertiveness to take part in sports. The girls may not have the quality of "it" or "oomph" by which they can attract boys and obtain "dates." Some students worry about their shyness, with unfavorable effects on their health.

It takes confidence and courage for young people to take their place in life to which their abilities entitle them. Many of them are afraid of failure, laughed at, so they shrink into their shells. Some form of encouragement is needed to bring out this all-around confidence that they can do.

This lack of ability to fit into the world, and to do the work that one is capable of doing is not limited to students. Many people suffer all their lives from these traits. These folks should have less fear of failure. It is said of a very brilliant young woman, that she believes she can do a thing until it is proved she can't. Too many people believe they can't do a thing until it is proved they can. We should all cultivate the former confident attitude.

TO A FUTURE FARMER WHOSE CALF FAILED TO PLACE

(By Hoy P. Stewart)

Don't look so sad my boy; you know
There's more to life than ring or show.
You did your best, now be content,
But keep your mind on future bent.

Your calf tried hard to win for you,
His eyes had ribbon vision too;
He raised his back, had feet in place,
With head held high, gazed off in space—

And then you lost. Far down the line
You stood and wondered if the time
You'd spent was worth the while.
Yet kept upon your lips a smile.

What mattered then those hours of toil
At feeding, grooming, burning oil
As you fought sickness through the night?

And then the Show! Those nights you slept
From swaying lantern's flick'ring light,
With head on cushioned shoulder. Kept
Hair-conscious vigil, lest the least
Of fancied harm come to your beast.

Then in the ring at first command,
You'd walk and turn or posing stand.
Painfully slowly, move down the class
But a showman still when judges pass.

That knowledge gained at a price so dear,
Will give you a champion some other year;
For you nor ribbon or purple or blue
Nor red or white, but faith now.

Grover Cleveland, when president of the United States, made a great statement about the story of the old darkey who risked his life to save a young Negro from drowning. He asked the old darkey if the young lad was his son.

"Oh, no, sah; he was not mah son."

"Well was he a relative that you risked your life for him?"

"No, sah; he was not a relative at all."

"Then why plunge in that reckless way and drag him out?"

"Well, sah, the fact is, sah, that the boy had the bait."

"Whatever became of that friend of yours who used to have money to burn?"

"He's sitting the ashes."

MODERN DISTRIBUTION

Modern distribution is keyed up to a fast pace. The old time merchant might carry goods in stock for years, and usually they were of standard variety so that he could in time sell them. In these times people's tastes and ideas change rapidly. If articles are not sold promptly there is danger that they may so depreciate in sale value that they are finally sold at a great sacrifice.

Modern distribution systems rely on advertising to reduce such losses. By giving publicity to the articles which a store is featuring they can be worked off promptly. If a seemingly unsalable remnant remains, some special sale well advertised will clean it up. Thus the great losses which used to burden business in former years are avoided.

She was obviously annoyed when she returned from her shopping expedition. "John," she said to her husband, "I've just found that the woman next door has a coat exactly the same as mine."

John looked up from his banking account, which he was trying to balance. "Well, my dear," he said, "I suppose you'll want me to buy you a new coat?"

"Yes," she replied, "it would be cheaper than moving, wouldn't it?"

Joe: What's become of the Hikers Club?

Jim: Oh, it disbanded. It was getting too hard to persuade passing motorists to pick us up and give us a lift."

TARPLEY H. D. CLUB

The Tarpley Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. John Schmidt on Thursday, Feb. 20 for an all-day quilting party. The ladies arrived about 10 o'clock and found the quilt in the frames, all packed with a wool batt and all ready for them to begin work. This is the second wool quilt that Mrs. Schmidt had made this winter and she also made one cotton quilt.

At noon the ladies were served a most delicious lunch, after which they all settled around for earnest work. As they worked they discussed the many projects of home improvement which the clubs sponsor.

Mrs. Schmidt led in a discussion of "What to do in Your Spare Moments," and to prove that spare time is valuable time she showed the ladies two completed crochet bed spreads, another about half finished, pillow cases, napkins, table cloths, etc. that she had edged with lace, hemstitched, etc. She also showed the ladies numerous practical and dainty garments she had remodeled from her own garments for her little daughter. This is surely an inspiration to other mothers with little girls to clothe.

Collector Scofield also called attention to the fact that a copy of the screen is now in this year as it has been in years past. It is, however, that when a joint request for later issues of the signatures are required sent with power of attorney to Mrs. Schmidt showed the ladies a great collection of shrubs and plants which she will use to beautify her home.

At a late hour the ladies left with a deep appreciation of their gracious hostess.

MODERN DISTRIBUTION

Modern distribution is keyed up to a fast pace. The old time merchant might carry goods in stock for years, and usually they were of standard variety so that he could in time sell them. In these days people's tastes and ideas change rapidly. If articles are not sold promptly there is danger that they may so depreciate in sale value that they are finally sold at a great sacrifice.

Modern distribution systems rely on advertising to reduce such losses. By giving publicity to the articles which a store is featuring they can be worked off promptly. If a seemingly unsalable remnant remains, some special sale well advertised will clean it up. Thus the great losses which used to burden business in former years are avoided.

She was obviously annoyed when she returned from her shopping expedition. "John," she said to her husband, "I've just found that the woman next door has a coat exactly the same as mine."

John looked up from his banking account, which he was trying to balance. "Well, my dear," he said, "I suppose you'll want me to buy you a new coat?"

"Yes," she replied, "it would be cheaper than moving, wouldn't it?"

Joe: What's become of the Hikers Club?

PRELATE BACKS BOY SCOUT WEEK

While urging all members of the clergy of the Archdiocese of New Orleans to recommend most heartily to their congregations the observance of Boy Scout Week and support for the Scout campaign, Most Rev. Joseph F. Rummel, Archbishop of New Orleans, announced the appointment of Rev. Edward B. Postert, O. M. I., assistant at St. Louis Cathedral, as acting diocesan Scout Chaplain.

Father Postert replaces temporarily Rev. Clarence Schneider, who is assigned to active wing chaplain duty with the 141st Field Artillery at Camp Shelby.

"Reverend Father Postert," said the letter, "has been an enthusiastic Scout chaplain and promoter for several years and is well equipped to assist pastors and priests in the formation of troops and in the development of the Scout program. May we also solicit for him the generous cooperation of Scout chaplains in the promotion of diocesan Scout activities."

His Excellency urged the Reverend Pastors to appoint in the city area of New Orleans to recommend most heartily to the generosity of their congregations the annual Scout campaign which is now in progress. "We owe to the national and local organization," he stated, "a large debt of gratitude for the goodwill and cooperation which we are constantly receiving. The campaign gives us and our Catholic people an opportunity to express practically this sense of gratitude. Let us do our best to make this year's campaign an outstanding success for the advancement of Scouting, the understanding boy movement of America."

Rev. Edward B. Postert, O. M. I., the newly appointed acting diocesan director of Boy Scouts, has had a number of years of experience in youth work, nearly all of them in New Orleans as assistant at the St. Louis Cathedral.

Father Postert, born on a ranch at Bandera, Texas, 45 miles northwest of San Antonio, attended St. Joseph's parochial school, graduated from Bandera High School in 1926, and completed a business course at the Alamo City Business College in San Antonio, before entering St. Anthony's College, the juniorate of the Oblate Fathers, in 1925. In 1928, he entered De Mazenod Scholasticate in the same city. He was ordained on June 10, 1934.

From June, to September, 1935, Father Postert served at the New Orleans Cathedral, then was sent to the Uvalde Missions of west Texas for nine months. In May, 1936, he came back to the Cathedral.

Before joining the Oblate congregation, Father Postert had been a member of the Scout Troop 25 at San Antonio, so it was not surprising to find him continuing his interest in boy work. At the Cathedral he organized Boy Scout Troop 26 in May, 1937 which has flourished ever since, and now has a membership of 31 and an active troop committee of 10. He is now Scout Scoutmaster.

He also placed in charge of the altar boys of the Cathedral after his return to New Orleans in 1936, and trained the sweepers. From 4 to 50 having increased the society, "Cathedral Knights of the Altar."

Father Postert has also had charge of the CYO and as junior spiritual director of the Junior

Children of Mary he increased the enrollment to 80. From September, 1937, he was director of the Cathedral parochial School, but Very Rev. Frank Kilday, O. M. I., pastor, has now assumed charge, although Father Postert continues in charge of extra-curricular activities of the pupils.

During the Eucharistic congress he trained and directed the corps of 1100 altar boys who served at various ceremonies - Catholic Action of the South.

THE WELL ORGANIZED TOWN

Towns need a fairly complete line of organizations, if they are to accomplish the benefits they should. They will of course have churches and fraternal societies. They also need an association or associations formed to promote business progress and local improvement. They need organizations to provide recreation for young and old, also pleasant activities for boys and girls.

There should be clubs for women,-societies for study of literature, citizenship, drama and music. Several more types could also be mentioned. A well organized town gives its people a chance to develop their powers and acquire greater confidence and ability to get along with the world. If there are any respects in which Bandera is not well organized to give its people all a modern town should have, the lack should be corrected.

Some people say there are too many organizations, that people form so many societies and clubs that all of them can be kept going. If a society is formed and lives for a number of years, it demonstrates that it was needed, and that it supplied some actual want of the people.

Some towns have the type of people called "joiners", who join almost every organization that comes along. They may belong to so many different things that they can not attend all of them, and they may spend too little time with their families. People should not neglect their homes for this purpose, but good organizations push a town ahead and make a community attractive to newcomers, and one which residents hate to leave.

An engineer was oiling the locomotives when a farmer stepped up and began examining the machine. The engineer asked the farmer if he would like to buy it.

"Well," replied the farmer, "I guess I can buy as much of it as you can sell."

her education continuing near Bandera and in Bandera, after her family had moved into that city in 1925. Later on she was sent back to her community where she received her religious instruction and preparation for her confirmation on September 7, 1930, in the Quihi Lutheran Church, with a large class of fourteen fellow-confirmands, Rev. C. P. Hasskarl officiating.

A healthy, happy and carefree youth was spent in the parental home, where her sunny disposition, her sense of duty and co-operative attitude helped much to ease the daily tasks and share the responsibilities. In 1937 she was employed in Bogenfeld till August, 1938, when she moved to Los Angeles, Cal., where she had found a satisfactory factory position, and during the same period, attended classes for dietetics with good success,—preparing soon to follow the profession of a dietician. It was not to be.

With glee and gladness and perfect health, she had come home this visit for the Christmas holidays, adding in large measure, to the joy of the homefolks with her cheery ways, her temper and calm reflection; also with her prospects for the future. Soon after her return to the "Golden State" she had a severe attack of appendicitis and an immediate operation had to be resorted to, on January 15, 1941. Complications did not look favorable, and some days later hopes were waning fast for her recovery. Hoping against hope, her father and brother Albert Jr., made a hurried trip to her bedside in the hospital, on January 29. The reaction seemed to be much in her favor. She rallied fast within a week and was pronounced practically out of danger. Father and brother returned with a greater heart, fully convinced that Ethel received the best of care by doctors and nurses and her friend, Mrs. Joe Machado, whom she cherished as a second mother. And then, like a flash from a blue sky, came the tragic telegram that Ethel had died on February 12, 1941, at 2:30 p. m., obviously due to complications beyond the care of the physicians, and which as requested autopsy might have disclosed. Dying far away from home and practically among strangers in doubly hard, but we sincerely trust the Lord in whom she believed made the passage through the valley of shadows light and easier by his gracious and merciful presence. Her age was 23 years, 3 months and 5 days.

Those mourning her untimely death are, besides her parents, her brother, Albert Jr., of Ingram, Texas, and three sisters, Miss Gladys of San Antonio, Clarice and Mary Lee at home. May the Lord be their comfort.

The casket arrived by train, on February 16, 1941 accompanied by the authority friend of the deceased, Mrs. Machado. Burial was on the same day with a funeral service at the Horger mortuary at 4 o'clock p. m., with interment at the Oakwood Cemetery of Hondo, Texas and the Quihi Lutheran pastor officiating. The large following of relatives and friends attending the last rites and the wealth of floral pieces amply testified of the love and friendship for the young lady.

Pallbearers were: Harold Moehring, Earl Balzen, Roy Bohler, Hamilton, Clay Wright and Wayne Moore.

Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord!

In 1937 she was employed in Brownfield till August, 1939, when she moved to Los Angeles, Cal., where she had found a satisfactory position as head nurse in the same period, attended classes for dietetics with good success, expecting soon to follow the profession of a dietician. It was not to be.

With glee and gladness and perfect health, she had come home on a visit for the Christmas holidays, adding in large measure to the joy of the housefolks with her buoyancy, her chirpy temper and calm perfection, also with her prospects for the future. Soon after her return to the "Golden State" she had a severe attack of appendicitis and an immediate operation had to be resorted to, on January 15, 1941. Complications did not look favorable, and some days later hopes were waning fast for her recovery. Hoping against hope, her father, and her brother Albert Jr., made a hurried trip to her bedside in the hospital, on January 29. The reaction seemed to be much in her favor. She rallied fast within a week and was pronounced practically out of danger. Father and brother returned with a grateful heart, fully content that Ethel received the best of care by doctors and nurses and her friend Mrs. Cora Machado, whom she cherished as a second mother. And then, like a flash from a blue sky, came the tragic telegram that Ethel had died on February 12, 1941, at 2:30 p. m., obviously due to complications before mentioned. Dying far away from home and practically among strangers is doubly hard, but we sincerely trust the Lord in whom she believed made the passage through the valley of shadows light and easier by his gracious and merciful presence. Her age was 23 years, 3 months and 5 days.

Those mourning her untimely death are, besides her parents, her brother, Albert Jr., of Iraan, Texas, and three sisters, Miss Gladys of San Antonio, Clarice and Mary Lee at home. May the Lord be their comfort.

The casket arrived, by train, on February 16, 1941 accompanied by the motherly friend of the deceased, Mrs. Machado. Burial was on the same day with a funeral service at the Herger mortuary, at 4 o'clock p. m., with interment at the Oakwood Cemetery of Hondo. Rev. and the Quihi Lutheran pastor officiating. The large following of relatives and friends attending the last rites and the wealth of floral pieces amply testified of the love and friendship for the young lady.

Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord!

Iron, another item which is being added to flour helps maintain the health of the bloodstream and helps prevent anemia.

INTERESTING TALK GIVEN BY MRS. ABY

She told of the value of the new vitamized white flour in the diet. She showed very attractive garments made from flour and feed sacks. Mariana Blinsky modeled a costume consisting of a play suit, a pinafore dress and an evening dress all using the play suit as a basic part of the costume. Mrs. Aby also had a display of house hold linens that were very unusual, made from these feed and flour sacks.

BAPTIST TRAINING UNION RALLY HELD

An Associational Baptist Training Union Rally was held in the Kerrville Baptist Church on Monday night of this week and much good was derived from it by all who attended. Medina Baptists went to represent the Training Unions in a greater number than ever before. There were 76 from Medina in this Rally. We are very grateful to those who furnished conveyance for this splendid occasion.

There were seven churches represented in the Rally and as usual there were about 156 present. The B. T. U. spirit is growing and we are happy that more and more people are seeing the need of such training in Christian work. Such training will fit any young life better for the duties in the great field of service in the Kingdom of God. [illegible] vision—the vision that pays the most money in rodeo events—and taking first place in the first day payoff.—San Angelo Standard Times.

The following article was taken from a Californa newspaper and sent to Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Faris by their daughter, Mrs. Ned Smith and given to the New Era by Mrs. Faris:

CORONER IDENTIFIES ALL CRASH VICTIMS

Identification cards scattered as far as half-mile from the scene of the accident today had enabled Coroner Ben F. White to establish the identity of the six victims and the two critically injured occupants of an alleged "wildcat bus" which collided with a cattle truck and trailer near Garnet yesterday morning.

As White prepared to conduct an inquest into the accident, at Banning this afternoon, he released the following list of victims of the accident, along with the names of the two injured persons who are now at the Riverside county hospital:

The Dead:

Jesse, (Jeff), Alvis Underwood, 27, Emory, Texas.

Mrs. Ruby Robbins Underwood, about 30, his wife.

Mrs. Robert Gray, Bandera, Texas.

Mrs. Marie Boglarsky, about 48, Dallas, Texas.

Injured:

"Jane Doe" Underwood, infant daughter of Underwoods.

John Forrest Oliver, 24, Fort Worth, Texas.

The little Underwood girl, who may be a twin of the boy victim of the crash, received a possible skull fracture and is given only a 50-50 chance of recovery. Oliver received a severe concussion.

By a process of elimination, after recovering identification cards and letters scattered about the scene of the wreck, Coroner Ben F. White was enabled to determine who were the eight occupants of the car.

Mrs. Gray was identified by her son, Leonard, whom she was traveling west to visit at San Jacinto.

The Underwoods were identified by means of cards and letters while the facial likenesses of the children linked them to the couple. Vanderbrid was carrying a notice of termination of leave from the navy, and he was established as the driver because his service shoes remained near the driving pedals, although he was thrown out of the vehicle.

Mrs. Boglarsky's identity was determined by an unfinished postal card written to an Alice Boglarsky, 2744 Van Dyke Street, Detroit.

Oliver's wife, Mrs. Jean Oliver has been notified of the accident by the coroner's office. Her address in Fort Worth, 325 North Chandler St., was found on Oliver's person.

All of the occupants were thrown out of the vehicle with the exception of Underwood, whose body was only partially outside the passenger car.

THE POWER OF FREEDOM

Leverett Saltonstall, governor of Massachusetts, made a remark that will win general approval when he spoke recently in regard to the power of freedom. He admitted that democracy may not provide the most efficient kind of government, but said that it produces something which dictator governments can not create, which is a boundless will and a force that can overcome terrific obstacles.

It is easy to find faults in democratic governments. Under popular government political favoritism is often the ruling principle which does help the people get their work done right, or done quickly and efficiently. A smart dictator would not tolerate such things.

But under free government, people develop a great enthusiasm if anyone threatens their homes and liberty. They fight like tigers. They showed what they can do when the American soldiers in the World War fought like giants.

It may be objected that in some way the German Nazis are able to inspire their youth with a fanatical zeal. Still, the war correspondents state that the British airmen fight better than the Nazi fliers.

When the Nazi youth are tested it is learned they have been decayed. Some day they will find out how they have been fooled. In a democratic land like America where the truth is accessible to all through a free press, there is no such chance for deception.

The power which democratic governments have in the hearts of the way this country was developed. The pioneers braved every conceivable danger, being killed from dawn to dusk, they cut down forests and turned wilderness swamps into farms, carved out paradises and mountain wildernesses into playgrounds. A people who will do such things will not be turned back from any cherished aim.

Mrs. R. G. Mills of Center Point Royce Mills of Harlingen, Mrs. O. W. McBryde of Medina and W. I. Cavitt of Aransas Pass visited Mrs. Wilma Cavitt Saturday.

Mrs. Jennette Hay, Mrs. Rhea Mansfield, Mrs. Charlie Robison, and Misses Faye Burns and Leora Wiemers saw the movie, the movie "Gone With the Wind" in San Antonio Thursday.

Radio repair work promptly done. All work guaranteed.—A. F. Carlton.

Jack White and his mother, Mrs. R. L. White, visited in Center Point Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Shuptach of Patagonia, Arizona, Wesley Miller and Mrs. J. Marvin Hunter while in the city. Mrs. Shuptach, before her marriage, was Miss Winona White and she came from Arizona to visit her mother, Mrs. White, and then to over to Bandera to visit the Hunters, whom she had not seen in twenty-eight years.

A. J. Dawson and family have moved to the Dave Cox cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mansfield and Miss Jessie Moore went to San Antonio Friday to see "Gone With the Wind".

Mrs. Frank Mansfield, Mrs. Mark McBryde and Mrs. Velma Cavitt were visitors in Seguin Tuesday.

FOR SALE—R. C. Case tractor, two row planter, two row cultivator, complete A-1 condition, good as new at a bargain; 7 ft., 18 inch tandem disc harrow, $75. See Otto Vogt, Boerne, Texas.

Spring

Spring brings music
Spring brings sunshine
And makes us glad and gay;
To see that flowrys have awaken

And the birds sing all the day;
To see that everything is happy
Even the children at their play.
So Spring why do you stay so long away?

The Medina Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the home of Mrs. J. C. Gallant Thursday afternoon, Feb. 27, for the Mission Study on China.

The song "Near The Cross" was sung followed by a prayer. Then we had a very interesting lesson on the study of China, "educational movements made in China" and how our Missionaries have helped in this work.

Refreshments of cookies, punch and coffee were served to: Mesdames Epps Sewell, E. H. Sewell, B. P. Collins, John Shufstine and baby, W. Reese, Newt Nance, Geo. Payton, Nixon Fly, Carl Bush, A. F. IN MEMORY OF AUNT MATILDA GRAY

Death's dart is filled with pain and grief for a dear one we love;

Who has gone to join the dear Lord and the angels up above.
She was a kind and loving mother, friend and friend indeed;
Who always kept her worries in the back part of her mind.
Always looked out for business but helped one out in strife;
Was truthful to her neighbors, and was kind to loving wife.
In honor of my dear aunt, this poem I choose to write;
We will always be loving her through each lonely day and night.
When our work on earth is finished and this parth no more we tread;
May we meet her up in heaven in the presence of our God.

W. P. A. INDEXING PROJECT AIDS ALIENS

Aliens seeking citizenship, or naturalized citizens wishing to obtain information regarding their citizenship status will have their wishes granted as a result of a W.P.A. indexing project which is now operating in Bandera County, it was announced today by Mrs. Elizabeth McCauley, district director of community services of the Works Projects Administration.

Certified as a national defense project by the U. S. Department, the WPA naturalization indexing work is sponsored jointly by the Texas Centennial, the Council of National Defense and by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, Department of Justice. It will be operated in every Texas county where naturalization records are filed with clerks of courts, and will provide employment for approximately 500 WPA workers. Information being supplied by WPA cannot be made available to any person or agency except the alien himself until the record is completed in that county, Mrs. McCauley emphasized.

It is expected that the project will be completed throughout Texas in about six months. State-wide naturalization records will be prepared, arranged alphabetically and cross-indexed, and will be available to the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Carbon copies of the indexes will be available in the offices of county clerks for each county for future reference by any investigators and the general public.

Mrs. Agnes Kalka and Mrs. Anthony Kalka are employed on the local project.

SOME CONTRIBUTIONS ALLOWED FOR INCOME TAX PURPOSES

Collector of Internal Revenue Frank Scofield makes the following announcement today:

"There has always been some confusion as to what contributions are deductible in preparing income tax returns, and I would like for her here the more common which are allowed and which are not allowed.

Contributions which may be Deducted from your Income Tax Return

Those to—

The Red Cross
The Community Chest
The March of Dimes
The Salvation Army
Your Church
Gifts to Schools or Colleges
The Y.M.C.A.
The American Legion

Contributions which MAY NOT be Deducted from your Income Tax Return

The Knights of Columbus
The Masonic Bodies
Social Fraternities
Medical Associations
Political Campaigns
National Guard Federation
The Elks

Of course, there are many other charitable, scientific, literary, educational organizations which operate in the Manner prescribed by law and contributions to which may be deducted. There are also many which do not fall within this category and contributions to which cannot be deducted from income tax returns, however, are listed above are the activities to which Mr. Average Man belongs and about which he is most interested."

Collector Scofield also called attention to the fact that his department is now ready to help any and all taxpayers who care to contact them for assistance in preparing their returns.

STREET SHOWS OIL ALREADY PAYS HEAVY TAX

More than half of all the oil produced in Texas already pays a tax of 3-4 per cent a barrel, a survey just completed by Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association has revealed today. Twenty-two separate taxes are now levied against Texas' oil producers, the survey showed. The tabulation of tax records of all 254 counties and of independent taxing subdivisions within that more than half of the state's oil bears taxes of 10.26 cents a barrel. All of the oil produced in Texas pays an average tax of 9.23 cents a barrel, while in some counties the taxes amount to 15 and 20 cents per barrel.

Texas oil producers now pay 2 separate taxes, or 21 in addition to the state gross production tax," a statement issued by the association points out. "In fact, analysis of the various tax levies made by some counties in 33 leading Texas oil counties (which produce over half of the State's total crude oil), shows that the State gross production tax of 3-4 per cent makes up less than 26 cents of each dollar collected in State and local taxes on oil production and producing properties. The fact that so much of this oil already pays over 10 cents a barrel in noteworthy in view of statements sometimes heard that Texas oil should pay 10 cents a barrel tax."

These 22 taxes do NOT include any paid on refining, pipe lines or any taxes paid by the industry except production. Nor do they include the gasoline taxes paid by

Remember how the railroad tracks seemed to meet in the distance? Well, nowadays a string of airplanes has the same effect. The imaginary line of the wing tips is drawing towards a point in the distance. These are some of the trainking ships at the "West Point of the Air" Randolph Field, Texas. The planes will be used for training the 500 flying cadets.

BARNES BROS. CIRCUS COMING TO BANDERA

When you have visited the circus and watched the performers, heard it cried around town that the wife walkers; the tumblers, animal trainers, who are smiling, smiling capers, cavorting about the sawdust with feet that seem to be fitted with wings laughing, and has called the wild animals to laugh and are dare devils that have no care. Then have you ever walked behind the scenes and wondered why the tears run in an unbroken flow down the laughing clowns face, and why it is that deceived a wire his mother or dad was seriously ill or maybe God has called his wife or baby away into the grand entry, that clown dashed a little white paint or powder on his face, drew a smile on his cheeks that were streaked with tears, walked into the circus tent and made you laugh when he inwardly cried a heart of lead. Or maybe it is the dare devil away up in the air, who has a broken heart because of some one gone, and he, in his next cast, may slip and receive a tear that he has to brushed away, which had set his grasp, and down, down through, spoke. Or the grave expression on ground with a thud, his body carried away, and still through it all the show must go on, forget our sorrows, forget our injuries to brighten up the lives of someone else, the show must go on and the Barnes Bros. Circus must go on, which is now entering its thirty-fifth annual and successful year which will exhibit at Bandera, afternoon and night, Wednesday, May 7.

Senate Passes Lend-Lease Bill

Washington, March 8.—Worn down by three weeks of debate and dispute, the Senate tonight finally passed the lend-lease bill authorizing President Roosevelt to mobilize industrial America and throw the products into England's battle against Germany.

Then it sent the measure to the House with a request that the latter concur in the series of administration-approved amendments which had been added. Its indications were that the House would agree to do so on Tuesday, or by Wednesday at the latest, with the bill going to the White House immediately thereafter for President Roosevelt's signature.

The vote on final passage, 60 to 31, found the Senate in surprisingly good humor despite many days of frazzled tempers and personal animadversions.

The opposition's clinging obdurately to its view that the bill means war; was simply worn out by repeated demonstrations of the administration's numerical superiority.

For all practical purposes it utterly collapsed last night, and the session consisted of a routine of thrown-out remaining major position amendments as rapidly as they could be voted, with each carrying the debate with the passage of the bill.

In the course of this process the Senate summarily rejected an amendment by Chairman Walsh (D-Mass) of the naval committee to guard the Navy and Air Force against depletion in the help-hungry field, and overturned by equally sharp little incident. Senator Connally (D-Tex.) was saying he hoped the Senate would not accept the amendment by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) "which" arguments that international bankers got the United States into the war in 1917. At that point a woman in the gallery unfurled a banner which read in full on the floor. It said with the word "means war—vote no."

Lease-Lend Bill in Summary

Here are the main provisions of the Lease-Lend Bill:

1. It authorizes President Roosevelt to order the manufacture of war materials, in government-owned factories, to "lease and sell, transfer title to, lease, lend or otherwise dispose of" these materials to nations whose defense he deems vital to the defense of the United States.

2. It sets aside for production of war materials are limited to the amount of money appropriated by Congress. Payment for goods is to be made in cash.

3. Value of war supplies already in the hands of the army and navy which may be transferred to England or others is limited to $1,300,000,000.

4. The president can order the repair or reconditioning of the warships of any nation in the war, as England, Greece, and China, and communicate to these governments information on defense and defense equipment.

5. Terms under which war supplies may be turned over to foreign governments is left to the discretion of the President. His authority to do this expires on June 30, 1943 and the fulfillment of contracts is limited to July 1, 1943.

6. The President is required to report to Congress every 90 days.

RANCHMEN URGED TO ATTEND MEETING TOMORROW

The Wildlife Planning Board will on Thursday night and called a meeting for tomorrow night, March 14th at 1:30 p. m. at the county court house. All land owners are urged to be present as well as all others interested in the conservation of game. If Bandera County is to be a real game paradise every one will have to cooperate in protecting and preserving the game.

There were 86 ranch owners in Bandera County in the past season who leased to hunters, and if the hunters are to return the owners will have to do their part in protection of game on their ranches. As in everything else, unless the hunter has a place to hunt he can't return, he will look elsewhere for his next lease.

According to the annual report of the Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission for the fiscal year, 1939-1940, 1940-1941, there were 79 preserves consisting of 170,000 acres, 2,609 hunters killed 306 deer and 109 turkeys.

Texas oil refineries refine 83⅓ per cent as much crude oil as Texas produces, an increase of 26 per cent in 1939, the association reported. This is in contrast with Texas wool and mohair, virtually none of which is processed here. Most Texas raw materials are shipped out of the state to other parts of the world for manufacturing, to the virtual exclusion of Texas labor.

Department Improves Fishing

Cleaning up of a pair of badly polluted areas on the Texas Gulf coast by the Game Department has resulted in their being converted into two of the best angling spots on the coast, reports received in Austin reveal.

Offats Bayou near Galveston was polluted by refuse from a packing plant. The Game, Department's director of anti-pollution work forced the packing plant to install equipment to care for the refuse. As a result, fishermen have been making record catches in the bayou. Fishing has also been excellent at the Texas City slips since the oil pollution situation was cleared up there.

Moah of the Fish World

Jonah, who lived to tell about being swallowed by a whale, has nothing on this mimeon, according to the Lufkin News. Three weeks after the mimeon liberty ship, the remains of a crappie being dressed at the home of Joseph W. Rodes of San Antonio. The fish was swimming about in a small tank and thriving on malt meal. How long the mimeon had been in the fish's stomach is somebody knows. It has been named Jonah.

For New Shrimp Laws

Constructive suggestions for a closed season on shrimp in the coastal waters were adopted at a meeting recently at Port Lavaca of more than thirty leaders in commercial fishermen and officials of fish plants. Legislation to help protect and preserve the shrimp will be introduced in the state legislature, the group decided.

In order to protect shrimp during the spawning season and during the periods when they are growing to maturity, the group voted to urge passage of a bill prohibiting fishing for shrimp in the bays along the coast during the period between July 15 and August 31 and Dec. 15 to March 1.

Other suggestions for laws intended to conserve the supply of shrimp made by state and federal biologists, included: Leaving the bays now closed to netting for shrimp closed; leaving the waters now open to shrimping as they are; no closed season in the Gulf proper and the repeal of the legal size limit, which is now five and one-half inches.

Prolongs Hunting Season

Dick Smith of Kerrville, Texas, isn't very happy about his deer activities. Smith went through 45 days of the hunting season and came out with a bill of $15.75 for ammunition and a pair of blistered heels, but no deer. A week after the hunting season closed, Smith was driving his truck toward Kerrville when a spiked buck leaped over a fence and landed squarely against the right door of his truck. The buck fell dead with a broken neck. Damages to the car amounted to as much as the hunting season cost Smith and he couldn't legally keep the deer he killed. He turned it over to the game warden captain in Kerrville.

Road Kill Continues Heavy

The slaughter of game on Texas roads continues at an appalling rate. The most recent report received by the Game Department's executive secretary reveals that at least 557 deer were killed by motorists in Gillespie County in 1940. The game warden at Fredericksburg also reports four solid turkeys killed during the same period.

Motorists who do not use care in driving through country which has a heavy population of deer not only needlessly kill game birds and animals, but usually the expensive costs them from $20 to $60 for motor car repairs.

U. S. Deer Population

Deer, reported to be the most common of all big game in the U. S., number about 1,450,000 in the national forests alone.

You Couldn't Blame Him

To get a fat tire is exasperating. But a man who stepped out of his automobile in Kansas City one day, recently, was three times as exasperated, for he discovered he had three fat tires. He was, in fact, so exasperated that he seized a hammer, smashed all the windows and headlights, walked scorchingly away to the nearest car line. The exasperated motorist, whoever he may be, can have his automobile back at the calls at police headquarters, it was announced.

Prime Minister William Mackenzie King, of Canada, is shown (center) somewhere in Canada with a group of staff officers, as he inspected the defenses on Canada's eastern seaboard. The prime minister is interested here in a Lewis machine gun in a sand-bagged emplacement. Our big neighbor to the north is overlooking no bets when it comes to coastal defense.

After coming in from a 20-mile hike, the officer in command of a Negro company said, before dismissing them:

"I want all the men who are too tired to take another hike to take two paces forward."

All stepped forward except one big husky six-footer.

Noticing him, the officer said: "Well, Johnson, ready for 20 miles more?"

"Yes, sah," replied Johnson. "Ah'm too tired to even take dem two steps."

The law not only imposes severe penalties for failing to make a return, or for making a false or fraudulent return, but it imposes penalties for failing to file a return on time. AND THIS RETURN MUST BE IN THE HANDS OF THE COLLECTOR OR HIS AUTHORIZED AGENT, ON OR BEFORE MIDNIGHT, MARCH 15, 1941—or penalties will attach.

This is the last warning which can be issued to the taxpayers of South Texas from Collector Scofield, and he has expressed his sincere hope that all citizens who are liable for income tax will have made a return or will make one before March 15 and avoid the penalties he will have to impose for failure to file.

HOW TOWNS ARE JUDGED

People who contemplate settling in a town have to judge largely whether it will be a good place to live in, or to work or do business in, by its exterior appearance. If they go through a town and see disorderly house, grounds, poorly kept streets, rough and ragged sidewalks, few nice looking trees, they get an unfavorable impression. Everything being equal as respects work and business, they would go somewhere else.

But if they see neatly kept houses, nice lawns and shrubbery, smooth and carefully built streets and so on; they say that is a town where people do things in a finished way. They believe it is a place where good work and service are appreciated, and enterprise and industry and intelligence are rewarded.

TEXAS PRODUCING QUALITY TURKEYS

Many Texas turkey growers have taken a page from the book of experience of cattle raisers and are improving the quality of their turkeys, says Geo. P. McCarthy, Extension Service poultry husbandman for Texas A. and M. College.

A few years ago very little selection was practiced and production of turkeys was comparable to the hit-and-miss methods of the beef cattle business of 25 years ago. Four years ago, however, growers adopted the example of the cattlemen in breeding up their herds and introduced the broad breasted turkey. Only three farms experimented with the new type at the outset, but other producers since have found that the broad breasted specimen not only improve the quality of their stock, but also are good feeders, mature early and increase the vitality of ordinary turkeys.

Mainly as the result of educational work by the Extension Service, McCarthy says, 8,000 flocks today contain broad breasted breeders. This figure is based upon the 1941 breeding season, and represents approximately ten per cent of the population of Texas.

The specialist regards this achievement as "remarkable" in view of the short time the program has been under way.

"The result of the turkey improvement work sponsored by the Extension Service," McCarthy says, "was clearly reflected during the 1940 turkey marketing season. Texas produce dealers said that the quality of turkeys in the state was the best they had ever handled. Market demands have been studied carefully and turkey producers today are more interested in producing the kind of turkey the American housewife, hotels, restaurants and the retail trade as a whole want. Turkey production in Texas today is making fast and many of the growing pains caused."

IT'S EGG FESTIVAL WEEK NOW!

Because A. and M. College Extension Service is interested in any movement, which focuses the attention of the consumer public on hay good food, its field and headquarters forces are cooperating in Egg Festival Week, March 9-15.

The national egg festival, as it is usually sponsored by the International Baby Chick Association, and in Texas extension workers are cooperating in promotional work with the Texas Baby Chick Association. George P. McCarthy, extension poultry husbandman, explains that the current movement will not only help to bring more eggs to the tables of Texas families but will also help to increase the cash income on Texas farms and ranches.

Marketing and education committees in the county home demonstration councils are cooperating with local merchants and producers in encouraging the public to buy and eat more eggs.

A second egg festival week has been set for May 1 to 8.

INELIGIBLE FAMILIES DEFAULT

A ruling regarding the amount to be paid to the government by an ineligible family receiving a mattress or comfort under the 1940 or 1941 cotton mattress demonstration program has been announced by R. T. Price, state administrative assistant for the Triple-A. He says, where a family received a mattress or comfort and was later found to be ineligible, the family will be required to pay to the Treasurer of the United States $6.55 for the mattress and $1.35 for the comfort. If the mattress and comfort have not been used by the ineligible family, both may be returned to the government without penalty.

CLUB ENROLLMENT GAINS

Enrollment in home demonstration and girls' 4-H clubs show a steady upward trend for the past three years. The increase in both girls' and adults' clubs has increased from 72,969 in 1938 to 83,108 in 1940.

This represents a gain of 14 per cent for the past three-year period says Helen H. Swift, specialist, working with rural women's organizations for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

In 1938 there were 32,258 4-H club girls enrolled in 180 counties; in 1940 there were 38,881 in 191 counties, representing an increase of nearly 17 per cent. Increase in enrollment of club women was computed at 13 per cent. The figure rose from 40,611 in 1939 to 46,227 in 1940.

From 1938 to 1940 there was an increase of more than 8 per cent in the aggregate enrollment of women and girls, Miss Swift adds.

Advice is advice when it is asked for. When unasked for, it is generally meddling.

THE CHOICE OF OCCUPATION

Probably, many of the young people who will get through school and college next June or earlier, have not yet decided what kind of occupation they want to enter. Many of them will say they can't see that they have any particular aptitude for anything.

Some parents get a strong idea that they want to see their boys and girls enter a certain line of work. They urge them to become teachers or business people or something else. The boy or girl may have no aptitude for the vocation they favored. Don't try to crowd the kid into a path from which he seems to shrink.

Some of these youngsters have had such a good time playing the game of youth, with all the fun that goes with it, right up to today, that they have neglected this idea of getting ready for work. They have the happy feeling that something will turn up. Meanwhile they kick their footballs or bat their baseballs, or dance the happy hours away, and they still don't know what comes next.

Perhaps the young ladies, reading the eye of sentiment, think they know. They see some sizzling little apartment or cottage of which they hope to be queen. If so, they need to be sure how to run the cookstove, and spend the house money.

Those people in school and college should make experiments to see how they get along in certain lines of work. Let them take summer jobs in stores if they can get them, or go out on the farm and pitch hay, or handle a machine in some factory. Then they will probably know what they like. Then they can shape their studies to fit them to enter the wide world, not as helpless green novices, but as promising beginners.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Some people run down their home town at every opportunity. Yet if they would take a fresh look they would usually look to the home town as the place to find it.

Care caused the end of a cat according to the old proverb. Want of care has caused the end of many jobs, which people lost through their failure to do their work right.

It takes cultivation to make things grow in a garden. Similarly you have to cultivate a business by hard work and advertising, if you expect it to reach the growth of which it is capable.

Largest Housing Project

Largest public housing development in the United States is the Queensbridge Houses project in the Borough of Queens, New York city. The various units cover 47 acres and will be completed at a cost of $13,500,000. Homes will be provided for 3,149 families or approximately 11,400 individuals.

A few weeds grow in every garden

Among the thousands of decent law-abiding beer retail establishments in America there may be a few disreputable "joints."

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell beer under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry is concerned about these undesirable places and wants them cleaned up.

We want them cleaned up because they endanger your right to enjoy good beer . . . and our right to make it.

We want them cleaned up because they endanger the 31,165 jobs and $12,076,112 payroll created by beer in Texas since re-legalization. Beer contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in taxes in this state.

These benefits are worth preserving. You can help us, if you will, by (1) patronizing only the reputable, legal places that sell beer and by (2) reporting any law violations to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

The children who are in the first three grades of Bandera Grammar School are receiving fruits and hot chocolate each day. They each receive an apple in the morning, hot chocolate to drink with their lunch, and raisins in the afternoon. This project, which is in the experimental stage, is sponsored by the P. T. A. through the Community Distribution Project. These commodities which are being distributed would otherwise be destroyed in some way and no benefit would be derived from them.

If this experiment proves a good one the students through the sixth grade may receive some of the commodities.

Boys' Sports

Some few of the boys of B. H. S. who are interested in tennis are practicing this art every evening at play period. As the tennis court at school is not in very good shape, they have been practicing on Rugh Hill where there is a very good court. From these boys will be selected the ones who will represent Bandera High at the Bi-County meet to be held in Kerrville in the near future.

The Juniors.

We do nothing it seems, but just get disappointed. It looks like the report cards brought bad news and disappointments to a group of Juniors this six weeks. What is the matter, too much fun outside of school, basketball lessons, or did we just forget to do our best until too late? Well, better buck next time. Maybe if we take off the ones that hinder and add the ones that will improve our grades, we will do better next six weeks. We hope so anyway.

Among the Homemakers

When we see a friendly looking girl who looks like she wants to make friends with everyone, we know that it is Patsy Wright. Among her many, many characteristics are her artistic ability, her ability for fixing attractive scrap books, and her musical ability.

If you see an industrious looking girl going down the hall, you know it's an instant that it is Dorothy Sue White. When the Red Cross called for volunteers to knit sweaters for children of Great Britain, Dorothy Lea offered her time and knitted a sweater.

Neat and clean are winning personalities in Clara Mary Spruell. Of Clara Mary's many abilities she likes cooking and collecting recipes best. She has a sweet disposition and makes friends easily.

The Bandera Chapter of Future Homemakers met in regular session Wednesday, March 5, 1941. The meeting was called to order by the president, Maureen Jacobs. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, and they stood approved as read. The roll was then called and each girl answered by naming her favorite song. The treasurer's report was then heard. After the business meeting an interesting program was presented by the first year girls. Social music was furnished by Bess Coughran, Mildred O'Bryant, and Maxine Risinger. Lonnie Edwards announced that the Homemakers were invited to a picnic March 19. We wish to thank the boys for inviting us. The members then sang the Club song and meeting adjourned.

In Memory of our Dear Mother and Father, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Loyd

A precious one from us is gone;
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.

Our hearts are filled with grief and pain for the dear one that we love; she has gone to join the angels up above. She was a kind and loving mother, kind to all she knew and always ready to lend a helping hand. She loved all her neighbors and they in turn loved her. She went to join our father who passed away several years ago. He was a kind and loving father and good and kind to all his neighbors.

When our work on earth is over and on this earth no more we roam, may we meet them up in heaven, on that happy golden shore.

The children who are in the first three grades of Bandera Grammar School are receiving fruits and chocolate each day. They each receive an apple in the morning, hot chocolate to drink with their lunch and raisins in the afternoon. This project, which is in the experimental stage, is sponsored by the P. T. A. through the Commodity Distribution. These commodities which are being distributed would otherwise be destroyed in some way and no benefit would be derived from them.

If this experiment proves a good one the students through the sixth grade may receive some of the commodities.

Boys' Sports

Some few of the boys of B. H. S. who are interested in tennis are practicing this art every evening at play period. As the tennis court at school is not in very good shape they have been practicing on Rough Hill where there is a very good court. From these boys will be selected the one who will represent Bandera High at the Bi-County meet to be held in Kerrville in the near future.

The Juniors

We do nothing it seems, but just get disappointed. It looks like the report cards brought bad news and disappointments to a group of Juniors this six weeks. What is the matter, too much fun outside of school, forgetting lessons, or did we just forget to do our best until too late? Well, better luck next time. Maybe we have off the ones that hinder and make trouble that will improve our grades. we will do better next six weeks. We hope so anyway.

Among the Homemakers

When we see a friendly looking girl who looks like she wants to make friends with everyone, we know that it is Patsy Wright. Among her many, many characteristics are her artistic ability in her ability for fixing attractive scrap books, and her musical ability.

If you see an industrious looking girl going down the hall you know it is an instant that it is Dorothy Lee White. When the Red Cross called for volunteers to knit sweaters for children of Great Britain, Dorothy Lee offered her time and knitted a sweater.

Next on our list of winning personalities is Clara Mary Spruell. Of Clara Mary's many abilities is likes cooking and collecting cook book best. She has a sweet disposition and makes friends easily.

The Bandera Chapter of Future Homemakers met in regular session Wednesday, March 5, 1941. The meeting was called to order by the president, Maureen Jacobs. The secretary read the minutes of last meeting, and they stood passed as read. The roll was then called and each girl answered by naming her favorite song. The treasurer's report was then read. After the business meeting an interesting program was rendered by the first year girls. A special music was furnished by Edna Coughran, Mildred Offergaut, and Maxine Ralinger. Lonnie Edwards sang a solo. The Homemakers were invited to a picnic March 19. We wish to thank the boys for inviting us. The members then sang the Club song and meeting adjourned.

Band Swipes

We are proud that Gene Harold will be going to Kerrville in the Tri-County Meet for declamation. Congratulations, Gene Harold.

We are also proud to note that Ruth Parmer is entering in the declamation contest. Good luck, Ruth.

The band is working on several new marches. We are proud and happy to think that we are actually playing marches. Leo and George Butler have been working on some new "slurs." How are they coming?

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Conwill Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Rankin Conwill meet Mrs. Eugene Goeth in Austin Sunday.

In Memory of our Dear Mother and Father, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Loyd

A precious one from us is gone
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
Our hearts are filled with grief and pain
For the dear one that we love;
she has gone to join the angels up above.
She was a kind and loving mother;
kind to all she knew and always ready to lend a helping hand.
She loved all her neighbors and they in turn loved her.
She went to join our father who passed away several years ago.
He was a kind and loving husband and father and good and kind to all his fellowmen.
When our work on earth is over and on this earth no more we roam, may we meet in heaven at last in that happy golden shore.

NO TIME TO SMILE?

If you go into stores in some cities, you find the store people so terribly busy that they have no time to look at anyone unless they are actually selling goods to them. This is true even when they know people personally. They just glance up and refuse to take even a minute to smile at and talk with people, unless they actually expect to sell them something.

The time spent in friendly talk and smiling welcomes is not lost in a business place. A sales person may have to give his entire attention to the customer on whom he is waiting. But is so far as he can squeeze out a half minute to say a pleasant word and give a pleasant greeting to people who come in, he gives an impression of friendliness and personal interest that has a kind of magnetism and at attracts people.

H. E. News

Roses are beautiful when they bloom, but of course they do not bloom all the year. To make them beautiful we must give them proper care. Each spring the roses must be pruned. We as homemaking students should have some knowledge about the pruning of this task. Mr. Grisham and three ag. boys went with us to our garden and we helped to show us how to trim the rose bushes correctly.

Before beginning the actual cutting Mr. Grisham gave us a talk on the life of the rose bush. It lives on the carbon dioxide which the leaves draw in and change to starch food which is stored in the stem or main branches of the bush. have extra food stored in them we must not cut the cane down to the ground. It is best to leave them about 24 inches long and keep about 6 canes. When cutting them off, cut about 1-8 of an inch above a bud. It is best that the bud is on the outside of the cane. After this lesson each girl had that bush pruning of growing a rose bush.

We were very glad to have Mr. Grisham and the boys to show us how to keep our rose bushes healthful and attractive.

Among the Homemakers

The Snooper has been out again and found some facts and figures of Homemakers. This time it found three girls always together. Namely Mary, Geraldine and Marguerite. It is rumored that they like to play "competition" when at school.

The Snooper found Norma Word in the Lone Star Bus—in fact it was riding inside of travel. Pickles are not becoming to many people but they are to Norma.

Jimmy Teel had a hard time finding Emma because she wasn't making any noise. She was industrious and never tires of her work.

Allen, have you started collecting scales? Just think of all yours would be good for that.

Is there room for one more horn on that stand, John R.?

Mildred and Leo have it down "pat" with their feet. They'll be quite famous when you've been practicing.

Oh, yes, after all of Gene Harris' preventing, he has finally invented something to rest his weary feet on.

Our director, Mr. Conwill was sick Friday and was not able to be with us. We hope to have him back with us next week.

John Avery chews gum during Business Training?

Betty Jean Gossett likes the sentences for Mr. Patton.

Lettie Drue collects hearts.

Patsy liked the part of Lulu in our literature play, "The King's English." Ask Joe M.

Geraldine is always writing "Miss" on her books.

Clarence and John R. held hands during English.

Ronda's been so happy? Could it be those notes she gets from Fe-lix? Hmm—Could be.

Marguerite was always calling Calvin likes to take pictures of 3 certain freshman girl.

Georgie Edna found an attraction at the Shoe Shop the other day—I bet it wasn't a boot' or shoe either. It looked more human than that.

Listen, Dorothy, where have all those letters been coming from lately? (She surely does seem to by tickled when one comes in.)

Georgie Butler says when he feels like exercising he just lies down until the feeling goes away.

Girls Lose a Game

The Bandera volley ball girls went to Medina to play a game last week. All of the games were lost, the scores being: Medina 15, Bandera 6; Medina 15, Bandera 8; and Medina 15, Bandera 12. We feel that this loss for us was good for some and that we learned something from it that will help us to gain something better in the future.

Second Grade

We are studying transportation and find it very interesting. We have found 25 different ways of traveling and carrying things. We are making a table to represent all the things we can of these and the safety rules and traffic signals to obey in transportation.

We have two new fish in our fish bowl, so one died and one "flew away." We had a funeral for the dead fish.

Writing Contest, but we do not know yet how they placed.

The playground ball contests will be held next Saturday, March 22.

Fourth Grade

Our most important news is that we are making a sheet of spelling to show the progress we are making. We will place these charts on the wall of our room. I'm sure everyone will try to make good grades.

The pupils who went to Kerrville to take part in the Interscholastic league were Marlene Dunn, Jimmy Lou Baker, Bettie Jo Manning, Freddy Wendt, Charles Mansfield, and Jo Ann Lynch.

Fifth Grade Corner

The members of the fifth grade that are going to county meet in baseball are: the boys, Bert Smith, Glen Searcy, Jimmie Word, Casper James, Frank Hay. For the girls, Emogene Welch, Helen Poe and Emma Jean Stanbeff.

—Nita Allen

The fifth grade is going to have a kite contest. It is to be March 31. The boys and girls are going to make their kites during their Industrial Arts period and the highest will get a prize. The boys want to have a kite contest because they think they will beat the girls.

—Nina Smith

We have been studying about ways of travel. We have a long shelf on which we exhibit ways of travel. We have canoes, people on foot, stage coaches, and covered wagons. Then we have steam boats, cars, trains and airplanes. We think that our project is very good.

—Gene Hutzler

Personal Notes

Glen Searcy spent the night with Claude Wiemers Saturday.

Jimmy and Bob talked all day Sunday on the phone.

Miss Eckert's ball team of boys beat Miss Dorothy Smith's girls 21 to 4 a few days later; the girls won from the boys. So we are even.

—Claude Wiemers

Our Model of Australia

The fifth graders have been very busily making a model of Australia out of clay. We have people, flags, kangaroos, furniture, sheep, cars and trees. The kangaroos and furniture are made of clay, and the sheep are made of cardboard with wool pasted on them. It is lots of fun to make.

Third Grade

The third grade boys played the fourth and fifth grade girls two baseball games this week. The girls won one game and the boys won one, making it even.

On our sick list for the week we find Ray Edwards, Luther Jean, Shirley Hines, David Harrison, Ada Jo M. Word. Ann Parsons cut the end of her finger off in a car door.

Our Citizenship Club meets every Friday and the program committee always has a nice program. This week Jimmie Teel, Ernest Hillman, Elva Pleasor, George Mattson and David Harrison gave a play called "The Baseball Fight." We all enjoyed it very much.

New Freezing Gadget

A gadget has been invented called a heat transfer set which depends upon the high thermal conductivity of aluminum, rather than upon power, elbow grease or machinery, for cooling drinks and freezing ice cream. The set consists of a "nest" of three aluminum cans. The inner can is fluted to provide greater cooling surface for the ice which it contains. The two outer cans are of two sizes, to provide a variety of liquid capacity. In cooling drinks, the fluted can is filled with ice or other refrigerant, placed inside one of the other cans, and the drink is poured into the space between the two cans. Cooling takes place quickly and without dilution. In freezing ice cream, the fluted can is filled with an ice-and-salt mixture or with dry ice, and is operated as a plunger in and out of the ice cream mixture which has been poured into one of the other cans.

TEXAS OUT-O'-DOORS

Better Regulations Needed

Need for a different closed season on fishing in Texas, shorter creel limits and longer legal lengths was vividly demonstrated in a report by a Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission aquatic biologist.

Several lakes in Northwest Texas and the regulation of fishing in them was compared. One large lake, opened for the first time, was practically fished out in two weeks. It was opened on June 1, when the fish had not started to spawn. The creel and size limits allowed were the same as those prescribed by law. Two weeks later it took an exceptionally good fisherman to catch anything in the lake. Practically the same thing occured at another lake open to the public. A third lake, privately owned, but which had been stocked only one year, was not made available to fishermen until Oct. 1. The creel limit was cut in half, the size limit on fish was made bigger and for two and a half months, or until the owner closed the lake, everyone caught fish and plenty of them, fish much longer than those taken from the lakes opened early in the summer. Records and surveys show that the total number of fish taken from the small lake was much more than that taken from the larger lakes in proportion to the number of fishermen.

Woman Kills "Cactus" Buck

"Cactus" bucks, deer which have antlers resembling short pieces of cactus, are not common in Texas, nor are they extremely rare. However, Mrs. Leonard Morris of El Paso is the first woman we have heard of who killed one. She almost passed up the buck while hunting last season near Guadalupe, seeing the horns, which consisted of fifteen short "sprouts," but thinking they were cactus. Then the deer moved and she shot it.

"Cactus" antlers are either caused by the antlers being injured when just starting to grow or there being a deficiency in the diet of the deer, Texas Game Department biologists say.

4-H Club Boys Help

Wildlife projects for 4-H Club boys are being encouraged by the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission in eastern Texas through the stocking of raccoons. The first of the new-type projects has been located on the Arrant farm east of Alto, (Cherokee County) where a farm boy, Duward Arrant, age 17, is protecting twelve 'coons which the Game Department delivered last month.

Young Arrant is a member of Our Club Chapter at Grange Hall School. In addition to the present raccoon restocking work which Duward is doing, a cooperative game protective association has been organized and the club boys have assisted with a survey of the status of game in the area.

Raccoons have been trapped out of the area, hence the need for the new stock. At present Arrant is guarding the raccoons against trapping on his dad's 350-acre farm and he is getting the cooperation of all his neighbors for extending the area of protection. He is also requesting that everyone save hollow den trees so the raccoons will find the country more desirable for home-making.

The youth has won two trips to A. and M. College and one to Kirbyville for wildlife meetings and in addition won a medal for participation in a contest.

Regional game managers for the Game Department and their assistants stand ready to assist any farmer or farm boy in Texas plan a game restoration program.

Dove or Doves Punctual

For four consecutive years a dove has built its nest and reared young in a tree just outside the study window of Rev. F. L. Willshire of the First Methodist Church at De Leon, Texas. However, more unusual than that is the fact that the dove, or possibly it is an offspring of the dove nesting there the previous year, makes its appearance each spring on Sunday within a few minutes of the same time and builds a nest each season within a few inches of the same place in the tree.

Texas Game Department biologists believe, after preliminary study, that doves do return to the same vicinity to nest year after year. Too, doves hatched in one vicinity will often return there to nest the following year.

SPRING'S A'COMIN'

Something about the spring time makes people happy. The passing of the short days and gloom of winter lifts a burden off the heart. Where formerly people had felt depressed and discouraged, the return of the birds, the peeping up of spring plants, and the swelling of the buds in the shrubs, stirs them to a more hopeful view of life.

The poet said that in the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love. Probably the winter dragged a pall of discouragement over the youth's heart. The return of the period of growth and development makes him feel that he can take on the burdens of marriage, and he pursues after the girl of his dreams.

If people have an urge to write down their thoughts and get some newspaper to publish them, they do a tremendous lot of scribbling of spring poetry. You could fill many bookshelves with poems and nature books written about spring.

Spring begins the season of growth. When you see plants and buds swelling, you have the feeling that all life is or can be a growth, and that you can participate in it, and grow yourself into something bigger, finer, and more achieving.

Alfred Tennyson called spring the boyhood of the year. It is characteristic of boyhood to dream of future deeds, of scenes of happiness, and to have faith that one's life is going on to give us these things. Spring tells us that nature is again going to be lovely, that the sun is going to pour out his energizing rays on our gardens, that everything is going to become greater and more beautiful, and that we too should take part in this current of development, and expand our lives, just as the buds grow, and blossom out into the gorgeous flower.

The new servant answered the telephone in a California home, muttered something into the receiver, and hung it up.

"What was that?" asked her mistress. "I'm expecting an important call."

"It was somebody saying that it was a long distance from New York, and I told them that we knew that," replied the new servant.

IS THE MODERN BOY LAZY?

Complaints are heard that the modern boy is apt to be lazy. Parents say that if they want the kids to do something around the home, they usually say they are "awful tired" and can't do it. They have their school lessons to learn, so they couldn't get the ashes out of the fireplace or run down town on errands.

In some families, if they are paid for doing such things, they cheerfully do them and their weariness disappears at once. Parents feel that children ought to gladly make some contribution to the home, and take some share of the burdens, so that paying them for doing their share of that work encourages them in non-cooperation.

In some neighborhoods it is complained that when people want to hire someone to work in the garden, mow the lawn, etc, it is hard to find a boy who will do it. Yet almost any boy will work with feverish energy if he gets a chance to play on a football or baseball team. He never seems to know he is weary then.

A boy's willingness to work seems to depend considerably on whether he can get a regular allowance of money from his parents. If they will heap a fair amount of change in his pocket, the difficulties of working appear quite formidable. He needs a certain amount of money, particularly after he begins to step out with the girls, and he will work to get it if necessary.

In school there are not probably as many lazy boys as formerly. It has been proved to children that to get anywhere in this world one has to do a good amount of work. When they get through school and look for employment, they know they have to work to hold down a job. Which goes to show that the modern boy can and will work if he wants to and if he is given an incentive, and the same thing is equally true of the girls.

Naval Ill Omen

Naval men consider it an ill omen when anything goes wrong at a launching. Consequently, the submarine Seadragon was viewed with suspicion when it failed to slide down the ways at its christening recently. Shipyard workers were unable to find any reason for the hitch, which caused a week's delay in getting the submarine into the water.

THE LUST FOR POWER

The ordinary run of people are quiet and peace loving folks who do not interfere unduly with their neighbors, and who, if the truth be told, mind their own business. However a certain number of persons develop a confirmed craving for authority which convinces them that they are qualified to direct affairs on a big scale and lord it over groups of humanity.

The United States does not develop so many of this type in the political field because of its democratic institutions. If a person is too keen to exercise power, the people resent his domination, and are apt to throw him out at elections.

Europe is kept in turmoil because dictatorships and autocratic powers to control rulers do not exist. A man like Hitler would not be tolerated in the United States, but that ever in Germany people bow down before him.

The ordinary person wonders how such a man can get any satisfaction out of life from the terrific strain that he will undoubtedly undergo. The man who undertakes to rule nations with a rod of iron is going to raise up a host of enemies, who will hit back at him if they have the chance.

Such a man develops a supreme confidence that makes him feel that his knowledge is far superior to that of the ordinary run of mankind. So he marches on in proud triumph, totally unaware that all knees will bow before him.

Many men have trod that game in the history of the world. Usually they have found their hopes disappointed and have been humbled in the dust. The wisdom of no one man goes very far. Any human being makes plenty of mistakes. When the dictator makes too many, the common sense of spanking rises against him, and throws obstacles in his way. Then failure follows failure, and finally the bust for power ends in ruin and defeat.

RUNNING DOWN THE HOME TOWN

The progress of many towns has been halted and delayed because so many of their people seemed to take pleasure in running down the home town. They would speak slightingly of the advantages and the character of the people. As if it seemed to stamp them as' persons of superior intelligence and insight to show that they found their home town so far below the standard.

People who take that attitude do not prove themselves superior. A better way to prove that they are superior is to show superior willingness to work for the public benefit. The carping spirit stifles the fire of enthusiasm and chills energy and hope for success. Let us hope there are no such folks in Bandera.

A Wall Street man was very hard on having proficient clerks in his employ. Before a clerk could enter his office he was required to pass a searching examination on his knowledge of business.

At one examination one of the boys tackled at this, but he was not to be floored. He wrote: "Wall successfully floated a company while the rest of the world was in liquidation."

He passed.

Jones: That man, Smith, is going around telling lies about you.

Clark: I don't mind that, but if he begins to tell the truth I'll break his neck.

"That new man Charlie is certainly a live wire," said the manager of the Canadian gas station. "Really?"

"Yes, a motorist drove up just now and shouted 'Throw quinta plete.'

"That was a gasoline, wasn't it?"

"Charlie: He simply said, 'yes, sir,' and gave him five gals."

C. C. DOUGLAS WRITES—

Douglas is operating the wholesale houses in San Antonio and freighted it in by wagon. Douglas & Stanford formed the first General Merchandise Store.

W. J. Prickett, who was postmaster of Hondo Canyon 18yrs ended 1891 at Tarpley, and was also a carpenter, built our store and suggested the name Tarpley after a good friend of his in Grayson County, the Honorable Clarkson Tarpley. So named the post office. Hondo Canyon and blacksmith shop to Tarpley. In 1891 J. M. Stanford sold his interest to J. W. Douglas, my brother, and we changed the name to Douglas, Stanford & Co. built the first residence in Tarpley and Reiley Brothers strilled the first well for the residence and store. We needed a doctor at Tarpley as Bandera was the nearest place we could get schooled—by Dr. J. O. Harper, a fine young doctor, had opened an office in Medina City, so my brother, Stanford and Douglas had Cleophus Hicks, J. W. Evans, and others quarantined him $50 per month and boarded him. He built the first office and I added an office and stock of drugs to our store, and Dr. Butler moved in. He had more than his quarantine from the well he built out on the R. F. Carl-Fall in 1891. Harper and Douglas built the first telephone line from Medina to Tarpley with Hondo Canyon. George Prickett was the first blacksmith in Tarpley. He married Nancy Bandy. Mrs. Graves was star mail carrier from Bandera to Tarpley. Brother Harper was the first preacher and Pop in Waxahachie, Texas. Before the names of officials and friends of Tarpley, I will list those I have known and received mail at Tarpley. Bud Brown, and mother Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Bandy, Mrs. Baker, Will and John. The tight-fisted husband was out of town on his wife's birthday sent her a check for a million kisses as a present. The wife, a little annoyed at his thrift sent back a post card:

"Dear Jim: Thanks for the perfectly lovely birthday check. The milk man cashed it this morning!"

[illegible] Signed by Governor

GOVERNOR W. LEE O'DANIEL TO OFFICIATE AT OPENING

Of interest to Texans and particularly to the wool and mohair growers of this state, is the Grand Opening on April 3rd of a scouring plant at Marble Falls, Texas, by the Texas Scouring and Wool Manufacturing Corporation, according to Mr. Caleb F. Adams, [illegible] South Young Tower in San Antonio, their San Antonio representative.

Texas produces one-fifth of the nation's wool and [illegible] per cent of the American mohair output, said Mr. Adams. [illegible] the growers have had to ship their product to the East to be cleaned, paying freight charges on the dirt and grease that make up about [illegible] per cent of the weight while they are only paid for the amount of cleaned wool, minus the cost of scouring and grading.

Texas wool is of a very fine grade, Mr. Adams continued, [illegible] [illegible] the market price for the cleaned wool without paying freight on excess weight. This will make a difference of thousands of dollars [illegible] Texas wool growers.

The Texas Scouring and Wool Manufacturing Corporation has purchased the finest wool scouring equipment it is possible to buy, and is in a position to scour wool to any degree of cleanliness that may be desired by the wool manufacturers. This machinery was purchased in Boston and New York and shipped to Marble Falls. The installation has just been completed. On the opening day in Marble Falls, the wool growers will have the opportunity, for the first time, to see the actual process required in scouring wool.

Lanolin grease, which is in great demand, will be reclaimed as one of the Texas Scouring and Wool Manufacturing Corporation's activities in the very near future. [illegible] as from [illegible] to 18 pounds of wool grease exists in each 100 pounds of unwashed wool. There is a tremendous volume of business in this line which has heretofore been [illegible]. Lanolin is worth from 17 to 20 cents per pound and [illegible] shipping the wool to the East for scouring [illegible]

THE LUST FOR POWER

The ordinary run of people are quiet and peace loving folks who do not interfere unduly with their neighbors, and who for the most part mind their own business. However a certain number of persons develop a confident feeling of superiority, which convinces them that they are qualified to direct affairs on a big scale, and lord it over groups of humanity.

The United States does not develop so many of this type in the political field, because of its democratic institutions. If a person is too keen to exercise power, the people resent his domination, and are apt to throw him out at election.

Europe is kept in turmoil because similar democratic powers to control rulers do not exist. A man like Hitler would not be tolerated in the United States, but over in Germany people bow down before him.

The ordinary person wonders how such a man can get any satisfaction out of life, from the terrific strain that he will certainly undergo. The man who undertakes to rule nations with a rod of iron is going to raise up a host of enemies, who will hit back at him, if they have a chance.

Such a man develops a supreme confidence that makes him feel that his knowledge is far superior to that of the ordinary run of mankind. So he marches on in proud triumph, and confidence that all knees will bow before him.

Many men have tried that game in the history of the world. Usually they have found their hopes disappointed and have been humbled in the dust. The wisdom of no one man goes very far. Any human being makes plenty of mistakes. When the dictator makes too many, the common sense of mankind rises against him, and throws obstacles in his way. Then failure follows failure, and finally the lust for power ends in ruin and defeat.

RUNNING DOWN THE HOME TOWN

The progress of many towns has been halted and delayed because so many of their people seemed to take pleasure in running down the home town. They would speak slightingly of its advantages and the character of its people, as if it seemed to stamp them as persons of superior intelligence and insight to show that they found their home towns so far below the standard.

People who take that attitude do not prove themselves superior. A better way to prove that they are superior is to show a superior willingness to work for the public benefit. The carping spirit stifles the fire of enthusiasm and chills ene[illegible] Joe pessimist. Let us hope there are no such folks in Bandera.

A Wall Street man was very keen on having prospect clerks in his employ. Before a clerk could enter his office he was required to pass a written examination on his knowledge of business.

All an examination one of the questions was "Who formed the first company?"

A certain bright youth was a little puzzled at this, but he was not to be flustered. He wrote:

"Noah accidentally floated a company while the rest of the world was in liquidation."

He passed.

"Jesse: That man-Smith is going around telling lies about you."

Clark: I don't mind that, but if he begins to tell the truth I'll break his neck."

"That new man Charlie is certainly a live wire," said the stranger of the Canadian gas station. "Really?"

"Yes', a motorist drove up just now and shouted, 'Dionne quintuplets!'"

"That was a puzzler, wasn't it?"

"No!' to Charlie. He simply said 'yes, sir,' and gave him five gals."

"Well, maybe it's been cured all right," Rastus answered after some reflection, "but it sho' has had a relapse."

C. C. DOUGLAS, WRITES—

chanting from the wholesale houses in San Antonio and freighted it in by wagon. Douglas & Stanford, General Merchandise Store.

W. J. Prickett, who was postmaster of Hondo Canyon three miles north of Tarpley, and was also a carpenter, built our store and suggested the name Tarpley after a good friend of his in Gray County, the Honorable Clarence Tarpley. So he moved the post office (Hondo Canyon) and blacksmith shop to Tarpley. In 1901, J. M. Stanford sold his interest to J. W. Douglas, my brother, and we changed the name to Douglas Brothers, and he built the first residence in Tarpley and Ripley Brothers drilled the first well for the residence and store. We needed a doctor at Tarpley as Bandera was the nearest place we could get medicine. Dr. J. O. Butler, a fine young doctor, had opened an office in Medina City, so my brother, Emmett Buckner, Glenn and Cleophus Hicks, J. W. Evans and others guaranteed him $50 per month to come to Tarpley. Brother and I added an office and stock of drugs to our store, and Dr. Butler moved in. He made more than his guarantees from the first. We sold out to F. B. Cafall in 1902. Stigler and Bandy built the first telephone line from Medina to Tarpley and Hondo in 1904. George Prickett was the first blacksmith in Tarpley. He and I handled the mail. John Graves was our mail carrier from Bandera to Tarpley. Brother Jodie now lives in Dallas, and I live in Waxahachie, Texas. Below are names of citizens and friends I recall who lived in Hondo Canyon and received mail at Tarpley: Bud Brown and mother, Mrs. Mary Brown; Mr. and Mrs. P. L. ocal Ranchmen Get 37,000 From AAA Bandera County ranchmen received $36,767.00 for compliance with provisions of the 1940 Range Conservation Program, announced J. A. Callanet, local administrative officer. Earned mainly for cedar eradication, the payments were paid out to ranchmen during the past two months.

Ranchmen could have earned an additional $5,350.00, Callanet said, if the total county allotment was not $42,100.00 but many failed to get cedar cut or other projects completed.

Extent of practices carried out 1940 were as follows:

Cedar eradicated, 6,000 acres.

Deferred grazing, 6,651 acres.

Reseeding with grass seed, 450 acres.

Tanks built, 16, containing 7,480 cubic yards of dirt.

Wells drilled, 2.

Prickly pear eradicated, 32 acres.

Payments to date on the 1940 program total $39,304.00, with the rest of the checks due within few days.

It is expected that 1941 payments will be in approximately the same amounts.

HE TRIP TO THE VALLEY

By Maurene Jacobs and Dorothy Lee Whitt

Dorothy Lee White and Maurene Jacobs were the representatives from the Bandera Chapter of the Methodist meeting held there 9-11 Mercedes on Saturday March 22.

Waiting, yes, waiting patiently for Mrs. Nijem of Medina to come by for us. We were very anxious to be off on the trip to the Valley. It was four o'clock when we finally left Bandera. We reached Alice at 7:45, and decided to spend the night there. The Savage Courts were very nice. We left the next morning, refreshed after a good night's sleep. We ate breakfast at Robstown at 8 a.m. At 10:05, Mercedes greeted us. The meeting was held in the high school auditorium, and was lively, and found standing room. The theme was "Choosing a Vocation." Several very interesting talks were made by representatives of different vocational fields, after which Homemaking makes a base. Among those selected were an air hostess, a nurse, a laboratory technician, a Homemaking teacher, a secretary and a beautician. This meeting was followed by a banquet in the school cafeteria. The line was very long but we were fortunate in getting none of the behind us. In the afternoon there were sectional meetings and the Houses of Delegates met in the auditorium for the coming year. Then all the girls met together again and, after announcements were made, the new officers were installed.

A dance was given by a girl from Mercedes after meeting was adjourned and we sang our way home.

From here we went to town, planning to attend the flower show but we decided to eat first instead. We then went to the F. F. A. Store Show, and also saw a style show at the Methodist Church. At o'clock, stopping at Charles Carlson's place. He let us pick some grapefruit and oranges from his trees. We also stopped at Harlingen. We reached Falfurias at 8:30 and had supper there. We arrived at Alice at 10:30, and after discussing the trip we went to bed. After rising at 7:30, we went to a cafe for breakfast, then to Sunday School at the Methodist Church. Mrs. Peck, our teacher, was acquainted with some Bandera folks. At 11 we left Alice, arriving in San Antonio at 2. We ate at the Pig Stand. As a part of our entertainment we were taken to Kelly Field. Then we went through the orphanage, visiting the hospital and dormitories. We then resumed our journey, arriving home at 6:30 finding after a wonderful trip.

E. E. News

Last Wednesday some of the Homemaking girls went to San Antonio to study styles and materials for dresses. The girls bought the material and patterns to make special occasion and general wear dresses at school. Those that went were Minnie Ola, Connie Lee, Lura Belle, Daphna, Arline, Pat, Mary Gladys, Valeria, Maurine, Clara Mary, Annie, and Miss sponsor, Miss McElroy.

The Homemakers held a called meeting last week to vote on some delegates to send to Mercedes to the Area Meeting. Those voted on were Maurene Jacobs and Dorothy Lea White. At this Area Meeting Maurene told what the Red Cross has been doing.

Quill and Scroll Club

On Tuesday, March 24, the members of the Quill and Scroll Club enjoyed a picnic at a spot down by the river. They spent such a joyous time playing baseball and eating refreshments. We did not know exactly where we were going to have the picnic, we did not know exactly where we were going to have the picnic, so we decided that we would go to the river, we settled under a big oak tree. We chose sides for a game of baseball, and although not everyone hit home runs, all had a good time playing. At one time during the game we even discontinued our game in favor of the refreshments. After everyone had had their fill, we did not we found that we had a quart of pickles, a half gallon of punch and a package of cookies. Everyone gathered round, and we held a meeting to decide what to do next. Nothing more of importance was got together outing before school is out for the summer.

Among the Homemakers

Thelma and Alice play in the river.

In water so cold they were to shiver.

They even want to dress alike.

If one is nearby the other's not quite.

Every time she gets a chance.

At school she's never been absent or late;

With a certain one, she won't miss a date.

Dorothy's head has been a whirl

Since she decided to be a cowgirl;

Give her some boots, and give her a saddle;

She can round up any cattle.

Estelle has a great talent for art;

Her inspirations come straight from the heart,

She will go up to the road to fame

And some day be a great name.

Girl's Sports

The volley ball girls went to Center Point Friday, March 21, and again we were defeated. The girls all played a good game, but old man Luck just seemed to be against us. We played three games and the scores were respectively, 15-8, 15-4; and 15-2.

The County Meet baseball team has been rained out again. This is the second time that the rain has stopped the game. A definite date has not been set for them to play.

The Juniors

We are proud to announce that it was a Junior boy, Thomas Alexander said that took first place in spelling at Kerrville at the Bi-County meet. It was Jessie Junior girl, Maxine Risinger and Edna Coughran, placed second in typing. Another Junior, Carroll Chandler, went in essay writing; he has not gotten the returns yet, but we are sure he will get a place of some kind. We are all hoping he comes out with a first place. We want to, in this way, give those members of the Junior class a boost.

Second Grade

We are sorry to report that our teacher, Mrs. Ferguson, has been sick. We are very happy to have new pupil, Betty Jean Kutzer. We hope she likes us and enjoys going to our school.

Third Grade

We were very happy that Jimmy Ted won first place in story telling in the meet at Kerrville. We have been studying about birds. We have poetry writing in English, and all of us have written some.

I went to the barn
And cleaned it all nice
I swept the hay away
And then saw two little mice.

—Neva Fleenor

I had a little goat
He bit my coat,
And then he made me fall
And I didn't like that at all.

—Eva Fleenor

Sixth Grade News

The sixth graders have been working on a health project. It is a town which we call "Safeton." We have quite a lot of fun working on it. Several people have made safety posters to put in our room. When our project is finished, we hope that it will benifit people to be careful and to follow safety rules in a city. The people of our room have some safety rules that we go by. Jo Jerry is our project.

THE RECORD.... Facts That Concern You No. 25 of a Series

EVERY SCHOOL AND EVERY BUSINESS HAS ONE OR TWO

In a school full of bright, self-respecting students, there are very likely to be one or two completely lacking in good common sense. And that goes for business, too... particularly the beer retailing business.

Out of thousands of beer retailers who conduct respectable, law-abiding businesses, there may be a few "dunce" retailers who disobey the law or permit anti-social conditions.

These few unwanted retailers are a menace to the future of the beer industry...and also of the benefits beer has made possible. Right here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $12,076,182 and contributed $2,273,568.64 last year in state taxes.

It is the brewers' responsibility to make good beer—the retailers' responsibility to sell beer in wholesome surroundings—and the legally constituted authorities' responsibility to enforce the laws. All of these, working together with the public, are needed to protect the future of beer.

You, too, can help the cause of moderation by (1) patronizing only reputable places where beer is sold; (2) and reporting any violation you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

Action shots taken last year depict the many outdoor recreational facilities, including swimming, horseback riding, fishing, hunting, tramping through the wooded hills and forests.

Dude ranches of the area are popularly known over the nation for their pleasant surroundings, courteous service, catering to guests, outdoor fun, delicious foods and genial informality. Weekly per person or family rates are in a range to fit purse of most vacationists.

Attendants at the Bandera Sports Show booth will be equipped with sumptuous booklets containing illustrations and information pertaining to the "vacation Paradise."

All of the dude ranches offer special entertainment features for guests during evening hours. Popular among these are moonlight horseback rides through the hill country, and old-fashioned dancing parties which find favor in the Little Foot and Schottische, Little Brown Jug and others, as well as the modern-tempos.

Noted for its healthy climate, Bandera, altitude 1420 feet, is located on State Highway 16 and is 45 miles southwest of San Antonio on the Medina River.

Typical costumes of the cowboy and cowgirl are the popular apparel. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Meisch conducted a contest lasting ten minutes, in which Mrs. John Hyle won first place, a box of dainty handkerchiefs. Then Mrs. Tobe Sauter, the program chairman, had in a lively spelling contest. Both were greatly enjoyed.

This was followed by a short business session at which the ladies adjourned to go outside to see the many things that are being done on this interesting farm.

First we visited a new and modern poultry house in which Mr. and Mrs. Willie Schmidt (daughter and son-in-law of the Meisch's) are making a venture in handling baby chicks. We saw 305 fine white leghorn chicks three weeks old, uniform size and very husky. They had lost but five chicks in the first three weeks which we think is a remarkable record. The Schmidts will use the pullets from this flock for layers next year. cockerels will soon be separated, fed and sold as fryers, and they are to soon receive a "shipment of 1000 more. Rock chicks which will be pushed to maturity and put on the market as fryers. Mr. Schmidt is starting right by having good equipment. Then we were shown a pen of Plymouth Rock hens, which were being fed a balanced ration and had been producing heavily all winter, although they had never been out of the pen.

Then we saw pens of fine white Holland turkeys as well as another flock of White Leghorns which were living on the open range. Mrs. Meisch has been successful with turkeys and enjoys the outside life.

We also saw a spring garden nicely started and then had to turn reluctant from the farm to the house where we were served delicious refreshments of lemon pie, coffee and Toll House cookies.

In the house we saw some fine old lamps, as well as some modern ones, a beautiful dining room suite and other things too numerous to mention.

As we were leaving we found on the porch, great stacks of magazines, sorted and tied. "Good housekeeping," "American" and many others, enough to supply many families with reading for all of the spring and summer months. These Mrs. Meisch gave to the members saying that they be read and passed on. This is a good beginning in filling one of the most obvious needs of our community, and we are all deeply grateful for our hostess.

The next meeting will be Ap-8 3rd with Mrs. Harold Reiber.

BANDERA RANCHMEN SEE NEW METHOD OF TIMBER CLEARING

Bandera County ranchmen had an opportunity to see modern machinery at work clearing timber land last Saturday, April 5th, according to H. F. Schlemmer, county agent in Bandera County. A demonstration of the use, of a large, track type tractor equipped with a "bulldozer" was held on the Bandera and Ake ranch near Bandera and all the neighbors were invited in to see the machine work. About an acre of land was completely cleared of, all timber by the machine during the demonstration, which lasted about an hour and a half. Owned by Floyd Price of Pipe Creek, the machine is being rented to Bandera County ranchmen to clear more land for cultivation and to build dirt dams and terraces, Schlemmer said. About 100 acres have been cleared on the Price ranch at Pipe Creek and an additional 100 acres have been cleared on neighboring places, many of which will be put into cultivation to raise more food for defense. It usually takes from 2 to 3 hours to clear an acre.

With no change of equipment this machine can be used to clear land, build terraces, build earthen reservoirs to impound flood waters, or to move large quantities of dirt in any type of construction, according to the demonstrator. Several dirt dams have already been built and others are being planned.

Ex-Sergeant Rescues Four at Lake

Sergt. Alex Sabo, retired Fort Sam Houston sergeant, who lives at Medina Lake, Saturday had enacted the role of hero in rescuing four San Antonians whose boat overturned in the middle of Medina Lake near Mergele's place.

Rescued as they clung to the overturned boat were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schmidt and their 4-year-old son, Billy, and Mrs. Schmidt's mother, Mrs. Nora Killan.

Sabo heard the cries of the group as he worked at Mergele's place. No boats were available, so Sabo drove to the nearest and enlisted the aid of August Whitley.

The pair sped to the group and took them from the water.

Billy had just been rescued from beneath the boat by his father. Billy calmly told the group that he "just held my breath."

A tree root is believed to have overturned the Schmidts' motor boat.—San Antonio Light.

Delicious refreshments were then discussed. The ladies expressed themselves as hoping that their club could be represented in every activity that the Council sponsors this year.

Then Miss Pfluger went into a helpful discussion of milk and all its by-products, stressing the importance of healthy cows and dairies. She also told how necessary milk and butter are in the diet.

ARE YOU SEEING ONLY PART OF THE PICTURE?

The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean wholesome places.

Yet it is the once-in-a-while exception—the anti-social, law-violating tavern that everybody notices.

Such undesirable retailers give beer a bad name it doesn't deserve. Furthermore, by arousing public indignation, retailing abuses endanger your right to enjoy good beer, the beverage of moderation. They also endanger the benefits that beer has brought to Texas—31,165 persons employed since re-legalization, an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and $2,273,968.64 taxes paid last year.

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell it under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry wants anti-social retailing eliminated entirely.

You can help us by (1) patronizing only the legal and reputable places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

BEAUTIFUL SCENERY ABOUNDS

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Brymer made a trip Sunday before last up the north fork of the Medina River. The course is west to southwest through meandering gorgeous canyons where one sees many miles of wild fern and many flowering trees. While ascending you at times are crossing high mountains and you are coming back till you get dizzy trying to locate the sun again. Some of the Buffalo Gap trees are numerous deep blue water holes which abound in fish. Mr. and Mrs. Brymer said the trip is that all this river up through this beautiful scenic road is interesting and is located in foreign millionaires who place restrictions on fishing, hunting and camping so that visitors do not interfere with the driving and having a noon lunch and taking a picture. Mrs. Brymer says "I'm simply in the rough. The roads are exceptionally good and the distance is approximately seventy to 4 or 5 miles above the Button ranch to gather up the ranch children who attend school. Many of the citizens of this river route have done a great deal of work to make the road good for the public use and you need not be afraid that you cannot get up and out of this beautiful canyon. I'm sure you won't enjoy yourself to the fullest. At the S. M. Button ranch you will find Mrs. Button a very congenial helper in locating some of the beauty spots and I'm sure that her friendship will be to further enjoyment of the trip to the Loyd ranch. It's picnic time, so I'm told, so get out and enjoy a day of beauty and tranquility. Those ranchers and citizens are always glad to see you, host them up and say hello.

TENANT FARMERS HAVE CHANCE TO BUY FARMS

Tenant farmers of Bandera County have another chance to become farm owners, for A. M. Cooper, Farm Security Administration supervisor, has announced that he will begin taking applications on April 15 for long-term, low-interest loans with which tenants may buy farms.

"Most farm families have ownership of a family-size farm as their goal," Mr. Cooper said, "and it is for these people that the FSA's tenant purchase program is designed." Sharecroppers and farm laborers as well as tenants are eligible for these loans, but preference is given to families which have adequate livestock and equipment.

These loans are repayable over a 40-year period at only 3 per cent interest. A beneficial feature is the variable payment plan, under which farmers pay little for good years and less in poor ones.

Farmers to whom these loans are made must be "good farmers who know local land values, and by outside appraisers. Borrowers are not restricted to fully improved farms, for the loan may be made to include funds to build or repair the house, barn, and for other improvements.

Application for these loans may be made at the County Agent's office located in Bandera. They are being taken in anticipation of funding being made available for this program by Congress.

FINANCIAL SELF RESTRAINT

It is sometimes remarked that the American people never seem to learn anything, that they keep making the same mistakes over and over again. Too frequently that is the case. Yet it happens also in many instances that they do learn from their tough experiences. Having put their hand into the fire once too often, they decide to keep a safe distance from the blaze in the future.

An illustration of that appears in the attitude of the public toward stock speculation. The country came near being ruined in 1929, because people went wild on bidding up security prices. They created a great inflated structure of fictitious values. When that rickety edifice of prices collapsed, countless people got very badly hurt. Many of them have not yet recovered from their injuries, and the unemployment of the past 10 years was largely due to that collapse.

Before that smash, speculative folks usually gave little heed to the question of instrinsic values. If it appeared likely that a stock would sell for more money in six months' time, people bid feverishly for it, and jacked the price way up, even if it was apparent that it had been boosted too high already.

The present slow times in the stock market indicate that that spirit has almost vanished. People are asking, not what securities will sell for six months from now, but what they will be worth over a period of years and after the war is ended. That indicates an amount of sound sense that was mostly absent in the high flying days before the crash.

The people who have the speculative spirit, or who have savings to invest, should adhere to these principles. If they do, one of the greatest dangers to financial security, regular operation of industry, and full employment of the people, will have gone. So long as this prudence remains, the danger of a new business collapse is greatly lessened.

BLOTS ON THE TOWN

In clerical work, people are supposed to turn out clean work. If a stenographer sent out letters in which she had smeared blots of ink over her paper, she would be called slipshod, and not very valuable help.

Yet when people live in communities, many of them by their carelessness permit blots to appear in their neighborhoods. The person who has a shabby looking building tolerates such a blot. A rickety fence, heaps of refuse, weedy looking grass plots are some of these blots which disfigure a person's place and make the neighborhood less attractive. People who can't keep their home places looking up to standard seem like the clerk who can't write without blotting ink over her pages.

ADVERTISING ESSENTIAL

It is the usual thing for progressive and advancing concerns to set aside a certain portion of their receipts for publicity. They figure that a plan for attracting attention to their goods is an absolute necessity of their business. They realize that they often lose customers through death, removal, or the attractions of competitors. Hence they feel they are forced to constantly find new customers, or their business will gradually decline.

If there is any less expensive way of getting such new customers than advertising, we have never heard of it. The newspaper talks to the whole town, and it tells the people things about your goods that they will never know unless you make this appeal to them.

Cigs for Measuring Fish

You can use cigarettes with which to measure your fish if you are ever in doubt as to whether one is legal and you are out in the middle of the lake without a rule. The length of any standard cigarette is 2 3-4 inches and that of the new "kingies" 3 1-4 inches. Lay as many cigarettes end to end beside the fish in doubt and add the total. It may save you a fine.

BANDERA H. D. CLUB

The manufacture of good farm butter begins with the production of clean milk, free of off-flavors and handled in clean utensils, said Miss Pfluger, County Home Demonstration Agent at the club meeting on Wednesday, April 9, in the home of Mrs. J. F. Kalka.

The cream should be cooled immediately after skimming and kept cool, 50 degrees or below, until churning time. Cream having 30 to 35 per cent butter fat churns best with less loss of fat in the butter milk.

The best quality of butter can be made from cream that is sweet or slightly sour. Churning temperatures should be regulated 50 to 60 degrees F. in summer and from 55 to 60 degrees F. in winter. At this temperature it requires from 25 to 30 minutes to make butter and the butter granules are firm without being hard.

The ladies present at this meeting were Mrs. J. C. Anderwald, Mrs. W. C. Allen, Mrs. J. F. Kalka, Misses Myrtle Pfluger, and Emelia Kalka.

FINANCIAL SELF RESTRAINT

It is sometimes remarked that the American people never seem to learn anything, that they keep making the same mistakes over and over again. Too frequently that is the case. Yet it happens also in many instances that they do learn, from their own experiences. Having put their hand into the fire once too often, they decide to keep it safe distance from the blaze in the future.

An illustration of that appears in the attitude of the public toward stock speculation. The country came near being ruined in 1929, because people went wild on bidding up security prices. They created a great inflated structure of fictitious values. When that rickety edifice of prices collapsed conditions became very badly hurt. Many of them have not yet recovered from their injuries, and the unemployment of the past 10 years was largely due to that collapse.

Before that smash, speculative folks usually gave little heed to the question of investment value. If it appeared likely that a stock would sell for more money in six months time, people had feverish ly for it, and jacked the price way up, even if it was apparent that it had been boosted 10s high already.

The present slow times in the stock market indicate to us that that spirit has almost vanished. People are asking not what securities will sell for six months from now, but what they will be worth over a period of years after the war is ended. That indicates an amount of sound sense that was mostly absent in the high flying days before the crash.

The people who have the speculative spirit, of which there must be some, should adhere to these principles. If they do, one of the greatest dangers to financial security, regular operation of industry, and full employment of the people, will have gone. So long as this prudence remains, the danger of a new business collapse is greatly lessened.

BLOTS ON THE TOWN

In clerical work people are supposed to turn out clean work. If a stenographer sent out letters in which she had smeared blots of ink over her paper, she would be called slipshod, and not very valuable help.

Yet when people live in communities, many of them by their carelessness permit blots to appear on their neighborhoods. The person who has a shabby looking building tolerates such a blot. Tin cans, fence, heaps of refuse, weedy looking grass plots are some of these blots which disfigure a town. Any place and many the neighborhood was attractive, people ought to keep their nice places looking up to standard seem like the clerk who can't turn out without blotting ink over her pages.

ADVERTISING ESSENTIAL

It is the usual thing for progressive and advancing concerns to bet aside a certain portion of their receipts for advertising. They figure that a plan for attracting attention to their goods is an absolute necessity in their business. They realize that there often lose customers because of inertia, neglect, or the attractions of competitors. Hence they feel they are forced to constantly call their customers, or their business will gradually decline.

If there is any less expensive way of getting such new customers than advertising, we have never heard of it. The newspaper talks to the whole town, and it tells the people things about your goods that they will never learn unless you make this appeal to them.

Cigs for Measuring Fish

You can use cigarettes with which to measure your fish, but are ever in doubt as to whether one is legal and you are out in the middle of the lake without a rule. The length of any standard cigarette is 2 5-4 inches and that of the gauge "Designer" 1-64 inches. Just as many cigarettes edd to end between the fish to decide and add the total. It may vary a few.

ATTEND DISTRICT HOME DEMONSTRATION MEET

Mrs. W. Hunter Kutzer, Mrs. J. B. MacNaughton and Myrtle H. Pfluger attended the annual meeting of the Bandera Home Demonstration Association of District 10 held in Seguin, Saturday, April 19, 1941.

Miss Mildred Horton, State Home Demonstration Agent, and Vice Director, spoke on "Our Part in the National Defense."

Miss Horton asked each club member to go home and check the following:

1. Are we producing our share of foods, such as vegetables, fruit, meats, eggs, etc.

2. Does every family have good health?

3. Are families using information learned?

4. Does every family have sufficient income? If not what might we do?

Each member was encouraged to study the needs of people who are in want that her family or friend properly. To do this we will need more work in attitude, spirit, faith, etc.

When we do our part we are helping to strengthen our nation.

In closing Miss Horton suggested that it might be well for us all to take some looks:

1. First to look at self within (only we can answer that).

2. Take a compassionate look around. Are there people who need help? How can we help?

3. Take a look ahead. (Of course it is hard to see why such things are necessary, but we must be prepared.)

4. Take a frequent look on high.

The invitation of the Bandera County Home Demonstration Council to hold the annual meeting in Bandera in April 1942 was accepted. Approximately 200 club members from District 10 will be expected to attend this meeting.

Following the business session a social with refreshments were served. A large number of farmers present.

Charles Weldon McGuire of Hondo, Ollie Jones and Billy Plunkett visited Mrs. M. K. Plunkett several days last week. Museum Gets Gordon Collection

J. Marvin Hunter, curator of Frontier Times Museum, has been notified by the executors of the will of Mrs. Louise Gordon of San Antonio, that the wonderful Gordon collection of arms, curios and relics have been bequeathed to Frontier Times Museum. The will was probated last Thursday, and Mr. Hunter is now in San Antonio packing the many articles to bring to the museum here.

Mrs. Gordon and her husband, the late Captain G. Keith Gordon had traveled extensively over the world, in India, China, Canada, and other countries and in their travels acquired many interesting relics and curios. Captain Gordon was a British Naval Officer prior to about seventeen years, and after his retirement he came to America and purchased a ranch in Bandera county. Some forty years ago Mrs. Gordon, then Miss Louise Marlin, came over from England and was married to Captain Gordon in San Antonio. They resided on their Kimble county ranch until 1910, when they moved from the ranch and established their home at 167 Grovetand Place, San Antonio, where Captain Gordon died about four years ago. Mrs. Gordon passed away Sunday morning her residence and house furniture to her only relative in this country, Mr. Percy D. Modson, a cousin, and her collection of curios and relics to Mr. Hunter's museum.

Included in the collection is an assortment of bells, numbering about 1,000, it is said. Bells from the famed mission bells of the Alamo, Chimes bell 2,000 years old, of all shapes, sizes and sizes up to that of 3 inches high; and there is a chrome chair, carved by hand, over 100 years old, which was made in India; there are some 200 or more pictures of all kinds, curios, materials, clocks, dolls, glassware, etc., which will require the services of several days in handling to bring to the museum here. On difficult, crowded shelves the late Gordon's collection have been displayed in the Wilkie Building for the past three years, but has attracted the greatest attention. It will certainly be a big addition to the museum to Bandera's great museum and Mr. Hunter has begun packing in hopes of having the esteem and confidence of the generous Englishwoman.

Mr. Hunter says the collection will be placed temporarily in a room adjoining the Frontier Times Museum, where it will be designated as the Gordon collection, and it will be several weeks before the collection will be ready for display. He says that it will require time to arrange the cases and articles, and that will be arranged as near as possible like Mrs. Gordon herself had displayed them. It will certainly be a splendid addition to the museum to accommodate the large collection.

LARGE CROWD AT BANDERA NIGHT DANCE

A large crowd attended the Bandera Night Dance at Houston last Wednesday night. The dance was given by Slick Jones and his orchestra for the 1200 to 1500 persons present. Jack Dude of C. C. Chandler was master of ceremonies and Elizabeth Lee gave a exhibition of how and screw shooting. The Moore sisters sang and others were on the program. The Dude ranchers had charge of the dance hall and there they greeted old friends and made new acquaintances.

The Bandera Lions Club deeply appreciates the fine cooperation of the dude ranches and the business men in making the affair the success it was. The dance floor fee has not received word as to the amount that will be received for the dance, but there already underway to make the next dance even better and bigger.

DAIRY JUDGING TEAM WINS FOURTH PLACE

In competition with 22 teams, who were area champions over the state, the Medina dairy judging team won 4th place in the contests at A. & M. College Monday. Darl Hicks was high point man, which is quite an honor.

Members of the team were: Darl Hicks, Gilbert Anderwald, Butler Merchant and Jimmy Langford. Lee Maxwell was coach. They were accompanied to College by their teacher, W. P. Grisham, and returned home Tuesday. Mrs. Grisham and Mrs. Hicks also stayed with the Bandera boys at A. & M. College.

This is a very commendable record for Bandera County which is not primarily a dairying district. The boys have not had nearly the opportunity to practice dairy judging as boys who live in sections where dairying is one of the principal industries.

T. H. Phillips Claimed by Death

T. H. Phillips, prominent ranchman of the Lima region, died in a hospital in San Antonio last Sunday morning, and was buried in the Baker cemetery at Medina Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted by the auditorium of the Medina High School at 3 p. m., Monday, by Rev. W. H. Petze, assisted by Rev. F. A. Walton. Prof. Carl F. Wheeler and J. Marvin Hunter delivered eulogies to the memory of the deceased. Immediately after the religious services the Masonic fraternity took charge, and in the beautiful burial service of the Order at the Baker cemetery E. H. Sewall gave the Masonic tribute to the departed brother. The pallbearers were Ben Adams, Henry Leefe, O. O. Adams, Bill Baker, W. R. Fletcher and Fred Manafield.

Survivors include the seven living children: Mrs. Ethel Smith, Echo, Phillips; Mrs. Exzile Jackson, and Mrs. Joyce LeStourgeon, of Medina; Jack Phillips of New Mexico; Mrs. Jewell Adams and Thomas Phillips, jr., of San Antonio, 14 grandchildren, and one brother, R. C. Phillips, of Weatherford, Texas. All of the children were present at the funeral.

Thomas Haynes Phillips was born in Mississippi, Texas, July 15, 1867; the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Phillips, early settlers here. In 1878 father was killed by Indians in Seco Pass, the only man to be killed by Indian savages in this county. At that time Tom Phillips was just a little over 11 years old. He grew up in the Medina community, attended school at A. & M. College and later was sent to college for a short time after returning home. He continued he taught school in this county for a term or two. On January 14, 1891, he was happily married to Miss Louise Hillman, daughter of Mrs. Hillman, at Lima. Eight children were born to them, one of which died in infancy. Mrs. Phillips survives her husband.

Mr. Phillips was a most useful citizen in this county, always standing for progress and better conditions. For many years he was president of the Medina school board. During this time, and also after consolidation of the schools of that district, he was always foremost in any undertaking that was for the development of his community. He had the confidence and confidence of every man, woman and child who knew him, and will ever be remembered for his kindly acts and generous nature. He was a clear cut, logical mind, his vast store of useful knowledge, and his sound sense which he measured things, and his intense loyalty made him the useful and forceful citizen that he was, and made him a factor for good and a real benefactor for all the years he dwelt among us. His kind and sympathetic disposition, his reserved nature, and his comprehensive grasp of the great problems of life, made him a good husband and father and a friend to be cherished and ever remembered. Today the community in which he resided for more than 50 years, and all of the county, bows in solemn grief and sorrow over the passing of this good citizen, who will be greatly missed, but whose influence for good will remain for generations to come.

J. Marvin Hunter.

ONE SOUR NOTE...

but it's a great orchestra nevertheless

Even a great orchestra will make a musical mistake once in a while. And once in a while, . . . out of the thousands of decent, law-abiding beer retailers in Texas . . . you'll come across one or two who operate disreputable establishments.

These "black sheep" retailers constitute a tiny minority. Yet they tend to drag down the good name of beer.

By arousing public indignation, such undesirable retailers endanger your right to enjoy good beer. They also endanger the benefits to the public that beer has made possible.

For example, in Texas beer has created 31,165 new jobs with an annual payroll of $23,076,182 and paid $3,273,964.64 in taxes last year.

The brewing industry wants "black sheep" retailers eliminated entirely. You can help us by patronizing only the reputable, legal places where beer is sold. And by reporting irregularities to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

CPL Reports To You On '40 Business

Over $3,000,000 Spent in Improvements

During 1940, Central Power and Light Company spent nearly Three and Third Millions of dollars in power plant additions, substations, highline and tribution lines in order to provide adequate utility service to South and West Texans. Numerous water and ice plant improvements were also made during the year. These expenditures indicate the policy of your utility company to accept the responsibility of STAYING AHEAD of immediate demands for

Needs of National Defense Are Met Promptly

Six major Government military posts are located in CPL territory. More are sure to come quickly. There has been no "bottleneck" with regard to Electric Service. CPL has made improvements running into hundreds of dollars in order to satisfy Uncle Sam's requirements for utility service . . . There must and will be no delay in perfecting our National Defense program!

Rate Reduction Policy Is Continued

Within the past eighteen months, reductions in electric rates have been made practically every community served by CPL. Over the past few years the cost of producing rated whenever possible has saved CPL customers many millions of dollars and has resulted in the welfare and prosperity of all of South and Southwest Texas. In the past 15 years the price of electric service has been cut in Half by CPL. Many customers now use more appliances, and electric radio and refrigeration for very little more each month than they once paid for lights alone!

Taxes Take a Larger and Larger Toll

Ten years ago, 6¢ out of each $1 received by your utility company went for taxes—while today 13¢ out of each $1 must be set aside to meet the needs of federal, state, county, city and school authorities. CPL is willing to assume its share of taxes, either for regular or for defense needs. But we must have increased taxes and at the same time provide additional service facilities and continue the company's real problem.

Benefits to Employees Are Increased

In order to provide our employees a more secure future in their old age, CPL inaugurated a Employment Annuity Plan in 1940. This is in addition to insurance given employees by the company for many years. CPL employees with proper tools and materials, it provides them with safe and satisfactory working conditions. It treats its employees fairly and it pays for what it is worth. These things have built an organization of capable, friendly, experienced and progress who take pride in giving you the highest quality of utility service.

FAMILY-SIZE FARM OWNERSHIP IS AIM OF FSA PROGRAM

Tenant purchase loans, for which applications are now being taken at the County Agent's office, are intended to help worthy tenant farmers to buy family-size farms, according to J. B. Talcott, farmer and chairman of FSA's tenant purchase committee.

Farmers who practice "live-at-home" farming will be first choice for these long-term, low-interest loans. This means that the family that raises most of its feed and the livestock and poultry feed on the farm will have the best chance.

The Bandera County tenant purchase committee, of which Mr. Talcott is chairman, helps to choose families to whom these loans are made. It also helps to value the farms which they buy.

Families to whom these loans are made pick out the farm or ranch they hope to buy and they are not restricted to fully-improved farms. The loan may include funds to build or repair the home, barn and for other improvements.

Other members of the tenant purchase committee are: Felix Adamietz, Medina; and Anton Leibold, Pipe Creek. Applications for these loans may be made at the County Agent's office located in Bandera, Texas.

It has risen about 6 or 7 feet the past week with the rains received on the watershed.

The deal, whereby the Bandera Electric Cooperative buys from the Central Power & Light Co. its distributing system in Bandera, Medina, Comfort and Waring, will be made in San Antonio today (Monday) when the transfer of ownership is consummated, according to Raymond Hicks, president of the Bandera Cooperative.

Mr. Hicks further informed us that the purchase price is $435,000 and the Cooperative will take over all the power company's lines and other property in the above-named towns. After subtracting the $125,000 purchase price from its recent $560,000 allotment, the balance is to be used for building a 3-phase power line from Comfort to Bandera and the construction of rural lines. It is the intention of the Cooperative to build first to all who signed up at the beginning and afterwards to those who signed up later. This is the first time that the Cooperative has had its choice where it could build its lines to.

Wealdon Cardwell, formerly with the Workman Construction Co., has been named local assistant manager to Ted Wendt, who has been lineman, has been transferred to Comfort to take over Comfort and Waring. Mr. Overstreet, also formerly with Workman, will be lineman at Bandera.

THE BAD TAX-NEWS

The average citizen who is subject to a federal income tax probably called it bad news when he read about the proposition in congress to raise new revenue amounting to $3,500,000,000. It was pointed out as one instance, that a person who now pays a federal income tax of $31, will have to pay $152 if this new law goes through.

Such a plan might be considered good news, in that it shows at least a disposition on the part of the American people to pay their bills. For the past ten years the favorite idea has been that the government should borrow vast sums of money. It is no use to blame this policy all on the government.

The policy of heavy borrowing was adopted because it was popular. The people have an easy going feeling that if the money is convenient to pay government bills at some future time than at the present. They have been warned that a day of reckoning would come, but they did not seem to believe it.

A man may say it will be easier for him to pay his personal bills five years from now than it is to pay them now. He rarely figures that the money will be worth more or that money come upon him. He does not consider that he may be under heavy expense for sickness or accident, or many more misfortunes. He just assumes that everything will be lovely, and some good fortune will make it easy for him to pay at the distant date.

So the American people have felt for the past 10 years as they have encouraged the government to keep borrowing and borrowing. They did not seem to figure that a war peril might come up that would require perfectly enormous expenditure. Back in 1930 the federal debt was reduced almost to $16,000,000,000, which was by no means a small sum, but is nearly up to $47,000,000,000. If the people had been willing to pay their bills as they went along, they would not have to pay such heavy taxes now.

WORRY OVER THE WAR

Many people are, emotionally stirred by the war, and some of them say they can't sleep nights. They feel horrified to think that the Nazis are able to overrun most of Europe and threaten nations outside that continent. Many of them are concerned for fear their boys will have to sail over the ocean, and find a fighting place under the grassy sods of Europe.

Our people should try to get their minds away from the dark sides of that picture. So many people feel that anything would be gained by sending an army to Europe, that was tried once and the results were not encouraging. Generous help will be given England, but extended in quite different ways.

The American people have a perfectly marvelous industrial power. It is going to fight for freedom and liberty, without sending any army to die on the blood soaked fields of Europe. About a year from now that industrial power should be a deciding factor in those never ending wars.

TALK AND ACTION

There is a tremendous lot of talk about pushing towns ahead, but not enough action to accomplish progressive movements. It is worth saying that this or that thing should be done in their home town, but they must go to work to accomplish these desirable things.

There is a general tendency to "Let George do it," to let somebody else do all the work. What is everybody's business is nobody's business. People should be so full of interest in propositions "that would improve their home town" that they will be willing to work in organizations and on committees that really try to get these things done.

SUPERIOR WORK

People win out in business by meeting superior products. Towns also win out when the products they turn out are superior. Anyone, who can do something better than his competitors attracts attention, and people will make a special effort and pay more money to get that product.

Ralph Waldo Emerson said that if a man will make a better mousetrap, the world will make a path to his door, even if he lives in the woods. It is so in everything. Instead of finding fault at your bad luck and failure to get anywhere, try to do things better than they have been done, and the world will buy your product.

The Middle Verde Home Demonstration Club will meet at the Dude Dude Ralph on next Thursday, May 8.

Services are scheduled to be held at the Library Auditorium next Sunday at 11 a. m. by a Christian Church pastor.

Well Drilling

The season on turkeys, prairie chickens and quail was from Nov. 15 to Feb. 15, inclusive, and from Sept. 1 to Feb. 1.

Now persons can take only two buck deer in a wagon, three turkeys, not more than 12 quail a day or 24 in a week, no prairie chickens and 12 doves. This is shown the effect of the doubling of the population in Texas between 1900 and 1940 and the damage to game which the motor, car and paved roads have made possible since the turn of the century, as was often been pointed out by the executive secretary of the Game Department. In 1900 the Texas population was 3,048,710 and more than doubled when the 1940 census was taken. Too, in 1900 there were few motor cars in Texas and hardly any roads over which they could travel. Now no area is too inaccessible for hunters and fishermen to reach within a day or two.

Money in Game, Fish

That land can be made to produce excellent profits from fish and game is often demonstrated, Arnold says. The game manager for region 4 recently reported another case to the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. Mrs. Ella Whitten's reservoir, in Chambers County, southeast Texas, is an artificial 300-acre lake in rice field country. It yielded more than $900 worth of commercial fish for 1940. Approximately 100 duck hunters had sport on the lake. Had they been charged $3 per day and had they averaged two days' hunting that would have yielded an additional $600. This would have meant an income of $3 per acre, in addition, there was considerable bass and perch fishing in the lake. A charge could have been made for that sport.

Although reservoirs in the prairie are constructed for livestock watering, rice irrigation or industrial purposes, the potential wildlife values are so great that landowners can hardly afford not to manage them so as to produce a crop of wildlife, it is pointed out by the Game Department officials.

Captures White Buzzard

A white buzzard has been added to the collection of albinos at the Houston Zoo. W. C. Ferrell of Augusta, Texas, captured the bird after he had creamed one of its wings with pellets from a shotgun. White buzzards are extremely rare, this being the first reported to the State Game Department in a decade.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Don't bite the hand that feeds you. The home town feeds you all kinds of good service, and therefore it should not be bitten by unfriendly knocking.

You have to show goods to order or tell them, but it is difficult to persuade people to come and look at them unless you advertise.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Third Pass is Opened

A pass through Padre Island at Murdock's Landing, the third which the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission has dredged on the Texas Gulf coast, has been finished, according to word received by the chairman of the game Commission here. The dredge AE cut more than a mile through the island from the Laguna Madre to within fifty feet of the ocean recently. A high wind completed the cutting and the dredge was forced to back out. However, it returned to deepen the pass at the gulf. "A heavy stream of water has been running into the Laguna Madre and Bffrin bay as a result.

It is believed that passes are necessary along the Gulf coast to prevent the water in the upper end of lower Laguna Madre from becoming too saline and killing tens of thousands of fish. Especially is this true during drought periods. This first pass cut by the Game Department at Corpus Christi Pass. Then Cedar Bayou was opened. It was necessary to move the dredge more than fifty miles downshore to start work on the Murdock's Landing pass.

A pass 1,000 feet long will soon be cut through Peat Island in order to allow the dredge to move through the Laguna and maintain Murdock's pass. The Game Department will cut another pass soon, but where it will be located has not been decided, members of the Commission have announced.

Heavy Population, Cars Hurt

Texans could legally kill six deer, twenty-five ducks or geese a day, and there was no limit on the number of turkeys, prairie chickens, doves and quail in 1903, according to a statement issued by the most recent game laws in the State 15, 1903, issue of the Winnsboro Wide-Awake, a newspaper now in the possession of V. Lamb of Pilot, Texas.

The Citizenship Club decided to have, rather than regular meeting exercises, one or more short trips to points of special interest and education to be taken during the vacation period. One will be a trip to the Old Missions in and around San Antonio and another to the glass factory at Three Rivers.

There were over thirty articles of sewing completed during the term by some of the pupils as a side line.

A number of articles were made by the girls who took sewing.

MISS VENITA HENDRIX HONORED AT FORMAL TEA

Miss Venita Hendrix, who is to be married Easter morning to Howard Chisum of Wharton, was complimented with an elaborate formal tea this afternoon in Dallas by Miss Nina Ruth McCubbin of Wharton at the home of Mrs. E. Bobby, 3203 Amherst. This affair climaxed a series of social affairs in honor of the popular bride-elect which have been given in Wharton, Bay City, Greenville and Dallas.

The home was decorated with early spring flowers and greenery to form a background for the affair. The polished tea table held a bridal bouquet reflecting in a large mirrored plaque, and was presided over by Miss Alma Stewart of Bay City and Miss Ruby Muldoon of College Station.

The receiving line was composed of Miss McCubbin and Mrs. Bowlby, Mrs. C. A. Hendrix and Mrs. J. E. Chisum, mothers of the betrothed couple; Miss Kathryn McCubbin, Miss Venita Hendrix, Mrs. E. E. Hendrix, Miss Irene Higgs and Mrs. Yarbrough.

Entertaining in the dining room were Miss Edith Marie Hendrix, Miss Phyllis Ann Hendrix and Miss Jean McCubbin.

The bride-elect was attractive in an afternoon frock of white marquisette, and Miss McCubbin received in a printed silk model. The hostess is to be maid-of-honor at the wedding, which will be Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at the Central Christian Church.

Attending from Bandera friends of Miss Hendrix from Greenville attended the affair in Dallas, which was one of the most outstanding in an extensive series for this popular bride-elect. (Greenville Paper).

BOY SCOUT CIRCUS AT SAN ANTONIO MAY 3

4,779 Scouts, Cubs and Leaders of the Alamo Area Council are putting the final touches on their great extravaganza—the 1941 Boy Scout Circus, which is to be conducted at 7:30 p. m., Saturday, May 3, at the Alamo Stadium in San Antonio.

Porter Loring, general chairman, in his final message to all participants, emphasized the fact that "the show will go on" rain or shine; that an organization has been set up throughout the 125 counties of the Council, with the District Chairman responsible in each Scout District, and that any postponement would clear through this man.

If you have not purchased your ticket, please "phone a Scout."

All Troops are to report to the Stadium before 11 a. m. A full dress rehearsal will be conducted at 2 p. m.; the Mammoth Feed, at 5:30 p. m.; and the formation for the Grand Entry will begin at 7 p. m., Saturday, May 3.

Action starts with the full cast of thousands of boys emerging from the boiling cauldron, symbolic of initial aim of the Boy Scout Movement to build a strong character in boys through a program of purposeful activity, the many phases of which will be unfolded throughout the evening in a dramatic procession of living pantomime depicting the Scout's knowledge of First Aid, Signalling, Astronomy, Life in the Outdoors, Sea Scouting, Pioneering, Indian Lore, and other activities, concluding with the Grand Finale in the form of a Pageant of all Nations to emphasize the international aspects of Scouting and the place Uncle Sam plays in the movement.

GRAND JURY REPORTS

The State of Texas)
County of Bandera)
To the Honorable C. K. Woodley, Judge of said Court:

We, the Grand Jury for the April Term, 1941 of the District Court of Bandera County, Texas, having completed our labors, beg leave to report and request that we be discharged:

We return herewith two indictments, both of which were concurred in by at least nine of our number.

Our attention has been directed to a continued violation of the laws of Texas, regarding the running at large of livestock on the State Highways, and we find as many of our citizens are not familiar with the statute which prohibits the running of stock at large on State highways we feel that the public should be advised of said law before prosecutions are instituted against persons who have disobeyed said statute, and we therefore respectfully quote the law which reads as follows:

Article 1379a of the Penal Code of Texas reads as follows: Any person owning or having control of any horse, mule, donkey, colt, bull, steer, hog, sheep, goat or any other livestock who permits the same to traverse or to be at large unattended on the right-of-way of any Designated State Highway in this state where the same is enclosed by fences on both sides shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $200.00. Each day such animal aforesaid is allowed or permitted so to roam at large on the right-of-way of any designated State Highway where same is enclosed by fences shall constitute a separate offense.

In view of the hazard and danger to life and property which exists where livestock is permitted to run at large upon the highways we recommend that the above statute be strictly enforced by the various peace officers of the State and County.

We respectfully request that report be published in the various newspapers of Bandera County, in order that the said statute may be brought to their attention.

We also request the citizens of our county to cooperate with the law enforcement officers in the matter of keeping stock off of said highways.

Respectfully submitted,
Chas. H. Brient
Foreman of the Grand Jury

Even the smartest sentries sometimes suffer from habituation when on sentry duty at night. Familiar objects assume strange shapes. A sentry on duty challenged a gasoline drum; he fired and with disastrous results. The soldier insisted that he fac' ed a man. "I challenged him three times," he explained. 13th CALL ANNOUNCED

General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, recently announced the quotas of men that each of Texas' 351 local boards will furnish to fill a U. S. Army requisition for 1,000 trainees under the Selective Service Act.

The trainees—all White—will be inducted May 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th.

This is the Army's twelfth call on Texas to supply men for military training. The first eleven were inducted last November, and the total number already inducted is 23,585. According to War Department plans, approximately 8,600 additional men will be inducted before July 1, to complete the State's quota for the first year of the program.

A young woman entered the stationery store and asked for a pound tin of flour wax.

"I'm sorry, Miss," said the clerk, "all we carry is sealing wax."

"Don't be silly!" she snapped. "Who would want to wax a ceiling?"

Teacher: Now, Johnny, tell the class why we talk about the "wisdom of the serpent."

TRAINING FOR MARRIAGE

Social workers complain that people are carefully trained to earn their living, but there is very little training for marriage, outside of courses in a few colleges, and perhaps a few in-lower schools. Yet it is as necessary for people to be successful as husbands and wives as to know how to work on some job.

Too many young people become old enough to be fascinated by sex, and then given a clear idea of what marriage means. Any one who enters that state determined to have his or her own way is usually headed for a smash. If the intending brides and grooms can't get over that idea, they would better call the wedding off and send the guests home.

A GHOST STORY

(By James A. Wright)

How strange things seem. I do not feel so differently, but as I look across yonder vast gulf, I see hosts beings moving and among them, I recognize those with whom I once lived; some of those being relatives near and dear to me. That group just leaving that cemetery were my friends and neighbors; they have just been paying their last respects to my body, which they have laid beneath that mound of earth covered with flowers. Yes, I am a spirit; now; I have laid aside my body as something no longer needed, and have left that world in which I wrought and lived for so long a time.

As I look back to the place of my mortal residence, I fully realize that all things pertaining to that earthly life has been left behind my body is one thing left behind, but is that all? No, I left words behind; words spoken in haste and anger; words that hurt deeply hurt, a confiding heart, and wring tears from the eyes of some that loved me. Apart that life, cruel words, lacerating words, leaving wounds that will never be entirely healed. How I wish I could recall them.

But are words the only things left behind that will live on and on while eternity's years shall roll. No, deeds were committed; deeds of injustice that deprived some one of that that belonged to them; deeds that wronged some one and robbed them of their good reputation, and left them without the friends they might have enjoyed had it not been for my unfriendly and brutal act. But how can I now recall the effect of this act. Now reinstate them in the confidence of those one time friends? Alas! Never. That opportunity is gone; gone never to return. Like the cruel words, these acts are of permanent record now, and may never be erased from the record.

But more than these was contributed by me. On the other hand my influence was relaxed that will continue until time shall be no more; only Eternity will know the end. The many who, expecting my conduct to be such as they might safely follow, are following paths that will bring them to woe and sow their wrfeld with sorrow. They have received the following of character and blighting in effect upon future hopes and higher aspirations. If I could only recall the thoughtless words and hasty actions, and relive my life, shedding blessed influence how my living and building bridges over life's pitfalls for the ones to follow.

Tis true I gave liberally to all charitable movements, and I gave an active part in all civic movements for the betterment of my community. But why? Did I not hope by acts thus to receive the applause of my neighbors, and be honored as the one who was liberal contributor to all things beneficial to my town and state? Was there ever an act, public or private, upon my part that was not prompted by some selfish motive?

With a life of more than half a century spent in a world reeking with pain and suffering, surrounded by multiplied thousands with undefend bodies and undeveloped minds, with corruption in the government, injustice in the economic world and vicious practices in the social life, what was my reponse to this challenge? Was great opportunity, how stupendous the responsibility, how lightly regarded. The best of my communities for some one to lend their aid to those who were trying to elevate the moral and intellectual life of its citizenship was evident, but was ignored by me. On the other hand my influence was helpful to those who were dragging down into woe and sorrowsilde the homes of the land.

How many days and years were spent in selfish pleasure that might have been employed in helpfulness to others. Now I must face the great theater of eternal justice with the record of a life spent in frivolities, that should have been filled with deeds of kindness and words of cheer.

WILL THIS BE MY SOUL'S RETROSPECTIVE?

Railroad refrigerator cars, which used to ride through the Middle countryside, are now being sided permanently on the farms they used to pass at 50 miles per hour. Many Michigan fruit growers, unable to spend larger sums to construct air-cooled storage houses for ripening apples and pears, have bought old railroad refrigerator cars and installed them on their farms. Some farmers are buying box cars for poultry, and one man has made an old dining car into an attractive roadside fruit and vegetable stand.

LEGION RODEO PLANS COMPLETED

American Legion Rodeo Plans for Bandera Saturday night, May 10, and Sunday afternoon, May 11st, are progressing and T. Brooks Wiser reports that he will have twenty-five of the best roping calves ever shown in the Hill Country. The calves are to be picked from about 100 from the Hill Country ranches and should be more. They will average 225 pounds each and will be those that have been roped and have never been in corrals, therefore will be wild and full of fight and give them fast and plenty salty. Also arrangements have been made to have a real rodeo the following outstanding talent, Canadian Kid, 3 American Champion Cowboys, with his educated midget mule, Kuckaboo; also Slim Hudson, all at the Brahma bulls in the arena, then jumping in a barrel betting bull and bull fight. Also Wiley McCray one of the best thick and fancy riders ever seen in a Rodeo. Another one of the outstanding acts will be Miss Bobbie Jones with her educated Brahma bull, weighing 1,500 pounds. Miss Jones will ride him with a bridle and saddle, then entertains the audience with things that anyone would not believe that you could make a Brahma bull do. Miss Marion is the only girl in America that handles her own educated Brahma bull. As an outstanding Brahma bull. As an added attraction for the Legion Rodeo, there will be MILITARY Monkey Drill Team, composed of 10 Monkeys and Mrs. Joe-Shine Turner of Dallas, and two brothers, Fred and Jerry Mesch of San Antonio.

The deceased was a devoted father and husband, kindly neighbor, true friend, and a progressive citizen. His death brings deep sorrow to a host of relatives and friends.

OUR AUSTIN TRIP

The Seniors left at 6:30 Friday morning, bound for Austin. Our first stop was at a dairy between San Antonio and New Braunfels. Here we saw the milking machine demonstrated. We then stopped at the power plant in New Braunfels. Failing to get in, we were told to go to Canyon to see it. Hither. We motored on to Austin and stopped at the capitol.

We went to the House of Representatives and to the Senate, but to our great disappointment they had adjourned until the following Monday. In the Senate we saw some pictures of the Battle of the Alamo and the Battle of San Jacinto. A lady told us some interesting facts of the history of Texas in part in these battles.

Here we joined the group of students from Kyle. Together we went to the Treasury department but failed to see Jesse Jones, the owner.

Our hearts desire was to go to the top of the capitol. After climbing 412 steps, we arrived at the top.

We left the capitol at 12:00 and went to the University of Texas. When we had bought our lunch, we went to Barton Springs Park. Here we went to the governors' mansion where we were shown the room where Sam Houston died. In his regular Sunday morning broadcast, Dr. Peter Marshall of the General Sam Houston's bedroom. The furniture is over 100 years old but it still shines.

Then we went to the University Gym where we saw a display of wild flowers. We went to the top of the tower and showed us the most important buildings in Austin. By this time we were hungry, but we managed to get to the University Cafeteria, where we had our supper.

Mr. Briggs took us to the Paramount Theatre in spite of the heavy rain. This was the 32nd annual exposition of the Engineering and Architectural Societies. Buildings, Engineering, Chemistry, Physics, and Architectural Buildings. Mr. Elliot it length to rain so hard, we decided to start home around 10:15. After making several stops on our journey homeward we arrived safe and sound at 1 a.m. We were tired but happy, and thought we had spent a worthwhile day to be long remembered.

F. F. A. NEWS

Last Wednesday night Mr. Gossett, Alvin Rees, Stanley Callaway, Jack Mansfield, Leo Mansfield and Dari Hicks attended the district F. F. A. meeting at Johnson City. The banquet was a very fine one, served by the girls of the Johnson City school.

We were very fortunate in having with us several good speakers. C. G. Scruggs the state F. F. A. president, delivered an inspirational talk and was an inspiration to any boy that heard him speak. His talk reflected the training in leadership that a boy can get in the F. F. A. work if he is willing to take advantage of it.

H. C. Davis, our supervisor of Area 4, made a fine talk on national defense and the part that all F. F. A. boys could have in it.

J. C. Rutland, our state adviser, made a very interesting talk. Mr. Rutland has been state F. F. A. adviser for the past 20 years and is well liked by all the boys who know him.

Several of the chapters had their sweethearts with them and introduced them at the banquet.

The Bandera boys put on a short program, with Leo and Stanley playing several numbers on the guitar and harmonica. Dari told about our Lasting Impression, which won first place and the cup at the Hesp Dairy Judging contest and the second place trip to A. and M. where they entered the State Judging Contest. Our program seemed to be well appreciated by everyone.

Mr. Davis complimented Dari to the group and congratulated him on his splendid work in the State Dairy Judging Contest recently held and hoped the trip very much.

IN HONOR OF MOTHERS .

The American people are called a rather hard bolted and sophisticated tribe, who are supposed to be primarily dollar chasers. That they have very few feelings of affection is shown by the persistent observance of Mother's Day, held as usual this year on the second Sunday in May.

Whatever faults our people have, they know what they owe to their mothers. Some of them were rebellious in early life because their parents required this or that which they thought too onerous. Later they realized that they were the subjects of uncreasing devotion, that their mothers were laboring and praying for their benefit, and that most of their successes have been due to the wisdom shown by their mothers, and the care that sheltered them from many trials and turned them back from many errors.

It would take a very big book to tell in detail the sacrifices a woman makes for her children. There are some that are neglectful and so bent on their own pleasures that the interests of their little ones are overlooked. If there are any such this occasion is a reminder that if they want the lifelong affection of their children, they have to manifest self sacrifice.

This devotion is the usual thing. Most women go without the clothes they want, they deny themselves holidays and conveniences they need, they cut themselves short on countless pleasures, so the money can be found to provide comforts and opportunities for their children.

Over and over again the women will sit up late nights to complete the nice dress the daughter wants to wear to the party. So it goes every day in the year. The children should not be too oblivious of this devotion, and should speak every day those words of appreciation that will make they hearts glad and offer warm thanks for this sacrifice.

Alex Anders of Hackensack, N. J. arrived Saturday for a visit with his wife at the Round Up Ranch.

There were some 650 schools from all parts of the state of Texas taking part in the Rally contests. 2,500 people attended for this meeting. It was the largest gathering in the 21 years the contests have been held.

The theme for the Rally was "The Voice of American Youth." The first session of the Rally was held in the Municipal Auditorium on Wednesday evening. This consisted of a sing-song, amateur hour, and speech contest for the ten areas of the state. Our girls with others of district six, placed 4th in this contest by singing "I Am An American."

On Thursday morning the girls participated in written contests, and in the afternoon the public performances styled their dresses, made in class, in the clothing contest. There were six in the afternoon a tea was given in the Spanish Governor's Palace for those attending the Rally. Here our girls met the state officers of their club, the visiting president and vice-president of the Future Homemakers of Texas Club ch Clubs, Miss Emma Pierre, our San Antonio hostess and Miss Ruth Huey, the state director of Homemaking Education. The palace was most interesting as it housed the furnishings used when this was the home of the Spanish governor. Refreshments were served in the patio in back of the palace. Music was furnished by a harpist and a Mexican orchestra.

Friday afternoon the girls attended group meetings where the round table discussions on "American Youth Assumes Its Responsibility" were held. Officers for the next year were elected by the 1,700 people attended the banquet.

Saturday morning announcement of the following awards were made at the meeting held in the auditorium. Ogle Stokes again styled her school dress with other place winners in the clothing contest.

The girls had a most enjoyable stay in San Antonio at Gunter Hotel, headquarters of the Rally.

JOHNSON CALLS FOR SOLID BACKING FOR ROOSEVELT

Austin, May 7.—With a rousing campaign opening speech behind him, energetic, fast-moving Congressman Johnson this week had hit the campaign trail full blast with a whirlwind tour of the state of his constituents and campaign workers.

Johnson opened his campaign Saturday night at San Marcos before a crowd of thousands and some after time roared full-throated approval of his firm stand for the policy of Texas and President Roosevelt in the current grave international crisis.

From every section of the state to his opening date in Bandera—one and old one—to San Marcos, wherein his college days Johnson worked, from janitor to secretary to the college president to pay for his education.

Among them was Federal Judge James V. Allred, former governor and old friend of Johnson, and Mrs. Allred, once his classmate.

Speakers from these major sections of Texas bespoke the support of their areas for Johnson and their faith that his experience and dependability in the national congress would carry him to victory.

BANDERA COUNTY FAMILIES TAKE PART IN SYSTEM TO PAY FARM DEBTS

Bandera County has approximately 307 farm and ranch families using the Federal Land Bank and the National Farm Loan Association system of cooperative, low-cost, long-term farm mortgage credit, according to W. R. Fletcher, secretary-treasurer of the Bandera County Farm Loan Association.

Use of this system has enabled approximately 85 families in the county to pay out of debt already, Fletcher said.

Outstanding on December 31, 1940, in Bandera County, were 246 Land Bank Loans totalling $712,250. From May 1933 to date, 72 Land Bank loans amounting to $221,100 were closed. The seven-year period had 143 Commissioner loans supplementing the normal Land Bank services for a total of $265,650. Of these, 106 loans for $203,940 remain.

"This system," Fletcher said, "was founded to finance farm mortgage debts on terms to fit the need of the farmer and rancheman. While the family is in debt, striving to attain independent ownership of the children, the Association is apt to get into mischief. When they provided baseball grounds, tennis courts, and golf links, people were better satisfied, and they spent their money at home. Also people were happier in a community where these facilities were provided so they were less likely to go elsewhere. The progressive city of the future will provide all these opportunities and many more.

but why blame the hen?

A bad egg does turn up once in a while . . . but that's not a sensible reason for degtpying all the good eggs . . . or for taking it out on the hen.

Beer retailing in America is something like that. The vast majority of beer retail establishments are clean, law-abiding, wholesome places. And still there may be a few "bad egg" retailers who violate the law or permit anti-social conditions.

The brewing industry urges these undesirables eliminated entirely . . . to protect your right to drink good beer . . . and our right to make it.

And also to protect the many benefits brought by the beer industry to Texas . . . such as the 31,165 jobs created...and beer's $22,076,182 annual payroll, Beer contributed $2,173,968.64 last year in taxes to help pay the cost of government in this state.

You can help us in our program of law enforcement, if you will, by (1) patronizing only the legal and reputable places that sell beer and (2) by reporting any abuses to the proper law enforcement authorities.

Hazy Furniture Finish

Cloudiness or haze in a finished furniture is usually due to oil in varnish. This can be removed by an application of liquid wax. If cloudiness is due to moisture, it will be found on mahogany and walnut pieces 10 to 25 years old, as it occurs in varnish finishes and not in the newer lacquer finishes.

F. F. A. NEWS

The Bandera Chapter of F. F. A. held its last meeting for the school year Wednesday morning. The following new officers were elected: president, Clyde Wright; vice president, Stanley Callahan; secretary, Butler MacNaughton; reporter, Lonnie Edwards; treasurer, Alvin Rees; watch dog, Leo Mansfield; historian, Gilbert Anderson; song leader, Billy Joe Autry; song leader, Charlie Pyka; parliamentarian, Clarence Hoffman. The members will attend a training camp at Boerne this summer where they will be taught how to conduct meetings properly.

During the past two or three years the F. F. A. boys have been busy with different jobs. The boys grafted trees for Jack Focke, Ed Mansfield and Frank Arnold. The boys drenched sheep for the following: Henry Bausch, 823 head; Leo Mansfield, 1,000; Joe Mazurek, 180 head; and 64 head for John Langford.

Saturday night all members of the F. F. A. went on a swimming and picnic at the swimming hole on Verde Creek. Each one of the boys enjoyed ice cream and cake. The treat was donated by W. H. Priesmeyer. We appreciate very much this fine spirit of Mr. Fletcher's.

MILLION YOUNG MEN TO REGISTER JULY 1st

Army, and selective service officials in Washington announced on July 1 as the date for registration of approximately 1,000,000 men who will become 21 years old since the first selective service enrollment last October.

The registration will take place at the headquarters of the 6,360 local draft boards, officials said, and authorities said it would be a "fairly simple job" compared with last October when 16,500,000 men, 21 to 35, were signed up for possible military training. The date for the new registration will be formally fixed in proclamation by Pres. Roosevelt. Authorities indicated that the day now tentatively agreed upon was chosen to give the new group of selective military boards time to learn whether they are apt to be called for service before or after they can arrange their school or employment plans accordingly.

Promotes Unity

In the furtherance of efforts to preserve national unity, Governor Charles Edison of New Jersey, shown above, has proclaimed May 18 as Good Will Day. Subversive foreign propaganda to disrupt the singleness of purpose must be resisted, he explained.

THE INDIANS ARE COMING

Chief Baldwin Parker and a small group of his Indians will come to Bandera to have a part on the program for the Old Settlers' Jubilee at Frontier Times Museum on Saturday, June 7th. This is to be quite a feature of the Jubilee this year, for these Indians are real Comanches and still practice real Indian stunts. Chief Baldwin Parker is a son of the famous Comanche chief Quanah Parker and he is a grandson of Cynthia Ann Parker who was captured in Parker's Fort, in 1836, when she was just a little girl nine years old. Cynthia Ann grew to maturity the Indians, married the chief Peta Nocona, and became the mother of Quanah Parker. In a great battle on Pease river in 1860 the Texas Rangers under Sul Ross defeated the Indians, killed Peta Nocona, and recaptured Cynthia Ann Parker, and restored her to her people. But she died a few years later of a broken heart. She was never reconciled to live with the whites, and pined for her Indian friends and family. Her son, Quanah Parker became chief of the Comanches and for some years led raids into Texas settlements, and engaged in many battles against the whites; but in 1878 entered into a peace treaty and induced his tribe to go on a reservation near Fort Sill, Oklahoma. After that Quanah Parker did much to encourage his people to take up the white man's ways. In the Indian group coming to the Old Settlers Jubilee will be a little Indian girl, Cynthia Ann Parker III. Mr. Hunter has been very fortunate in inducing these Indians to appear here on the Old Settlers program. Besides taking part in the big street parade they will also put on their Indian program at the Museum.

Next week we will publish the full program for the Old Settlers' Jubilee.

BANTEX THEATRE INSTALLS NEW EQUIPMENT

New lighting equipment was installed at the Bantex Theatre this week. With this new equipment, Jake Webb informs us that the Bantex Theatre has all that is new in theatre equipment for the enjoyment of all its patrons. The value of the equipment, about $600, is well spent as there will be no eye strain from any seat in the house. This installing marks another milestone in the forward progress of Jake Webb in giving Bandera County a modern Theatre Technicolor pictures will soon also be enjoyed now because of the high intensity of the light behind the film. Motion pictures provide fine entertainment.

MUSIC WEEK PROGRAMS CLOSED SUNDAY

The National Music Week program continued on through last week with increased interest and the programs were given each evening.

The Polk Music program on Thursday evening was a grand success, opening with our faithful fiddlers, ballad singers and Hillbilly band entertainments. The program closed with Mr. Wiley Cook and his broadcasting Cowboy band from Texas. They are jolly good musicians and brought down the house in a rousing ovation.

The Stunt program Friday night was composed of the Bantex Face comedians, kitchen band, Virginia reel, songs and music by some of our best talent. The program was at their best and the delighted audience was loath for them to close.

A great and beautiful program was rendered by the children Saturday night under the direction of Mrs. Epps Sewall Jr., assisted by the elementary and grade teachers.

The Mothers Day program was a fitting climax for the closing orders of the program. Rev. H. E. Breihan gave a very touching and inspiring address to the mothers and the beautiful songs and a bounteous lunch with the happy greetings of neighbors and friends. Another Music Week came to a close with gladness in the hearts of all.

COMFORT HATCHERY MAKES IMPROVEMENTS

One of the most up-to-date and progressive hatcheries of the South is the Comfort Hatchery of Comfort, Texas, owned by Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Kluettner. This hatchery, which was established in 1907 and now 34 years old, has recently added more batteries or storage brooders and now can take care of about 4,000 more chicks, or a total of around 10,000.

Mr. Kluettner states that owing to the fact that prices will likely go up, paying more for baby chicks now. He also stated that the season will be extended possibly until about Jan. 20. Indications are that there will be a good market for chickens and eggs.

OBITUARY OF FRANK PARSONS

The following letter was received by Mrs. Parsons from a friend of Tom's.

Mr. Parsons was known as Tom Parsons in Colorado.

May 1, 1941, Noon

Dear Mrs. Parsons and Family:

We came home from the cemetery a few minutes ago. It is a quiet May morning. The air is cool and mellow with rain, flowers and spring sunshine. We left Tom in a lovely green section of Mountain View Cemetery near our own family graves. There is a beautiful green cedar tree near him and several little ones close by. Only last week he said "I want to hug a little cedar tree as bad. The grave was lined with greenery and the Nazarene minister simply repeated the 23rd Psalm. I believe there were six cars of friends at the grave side. The services at 10 o'clock in the Rouch Funeral Chapel, which is our very nicest funeral home. There were several local friends from the "Listen and Learn" Club there besides many friends and neighbors. Tom was a handsome looking. He had a new black suit, white shirt, (your new tie and socks) a casket with grey stripes with silver trapping. The pallbearers were friends (my husband and Mr. Rouch and both pallbearers). The Lions Club sent a huge spray of white lilies tied with deep purple ribbon. I am sending a small package with some of the flowers. The "Listen and Learn" Club sent coral snake dragons and some neighbor an arm load of new blooms. His casket was beautiful. I took my children up at eight o'clock this morning to see him. They loved him so much. Last night I hipped his dear forehead for you. I am a member of the Club now, how your heart is ever flowing this morning. So I tried to say "good by" and "I'll see you in the morning" for dear ones far away.

I played the pipe organ and my little four-old son sang. He has a baritone voice and has sung for all the funeral homes for the past two years. He sang "Face to Face" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Then I played "The Old Rugged Cross" for all the friends passed by. The minister, a Mr. Ogden gave such a beautiful talk, affliction and how we should bear it with faith, never doubting our Father's love. I do not know what church Tom favored, but I did remember him going a couple of times to the Nazarene Church. The service was read from the 14th chapter of Job and the Lord's chapter in 1st Corinthians. "Tho I speak with the tongue of men and angels and have not charity, I am but as sounding brass." Then the minister spoke a few words about the cemetery before I mail this and get a little of the purple ribbon. Tom (we've always known him as "Blind Tom") was a fixture in town. Everyone knew him. He was so cheerful and courageous and independent. He went every where alone with his white cane swinging beside him. I first knew him when I began reading to the Lions Blind Club seven years ago. I was their reader for five years. We met every Thursday afternoon in the Library basement for two hours of reading. We read stories and articles and current events. Besides Club we always had a big turkey dinner together at the Congress Hotel with the Lions Club. Then we went to our blind friends to hear the Symphony Concerts all winter and to many other entertainments. Each blind club members are mostly all in "Glory" now where they no longer need assistance to read aloud to them.

Well, Tom moved across the alley from me about 5 years ago where he lived until he bought the little house on Kearney for a couple of years ago. Tom lived on a blind pension of $30 a month which Colorado pays to its afflicted ones. He was a great trader, always swapping. He paid $10 a month on his place. Of course his interest was included. Anyway he had about $180 equity in his house. When he became ill last winter he sent for Mr. Rouch (who was a Lion and a dear friend) and asked him if he would bury him if he needed his place to him. Tom said, "The State has always been paying me. Now for once I can foot them and pay for myself." Mr. Rouch certainly spent much more than $180 to give him such a lovely funeral this morning. He is going to try to sell the place furnished. It is a very humble little place, but Tom loved every inch of it. The neighbors are giving a "Pooch" his little white dog a home.

Tom went to the hospital a week ago when he began having sinking spells at night and was worried about himself. I took him home with me and cooked him and cleaned him up, (he could not bend over to wash his feet and legs) as he was ready to enter the hospital. Within a couple of days his condition was worse and he was put in an oxygen tent with a nurse in attendance every minute. I went to the hospital three times a day and telephoned often. He had wonderful care. He was so kind and polite to everyone up there. They grew to love him dearly.

He knew me 24 hours before he died. He smiled at me and paid me in the most beautiful compliment ever uttered "I can't see any fault in you." You know the women have few such words given us especially after 40 (I am 62.) My, how I will miss him. He came over every week and had lunch with us. Once I took him to Rye and kept him several days over Thanksgiving and we spent both enjoyed that vacation. When he lived near I used to bake him a big batch of homemade bread every week and I mended his clothes when they needed it. Our children loved him dearly. Little Molly is 7 and John is 4. My big ones are 19 and 16. We all loved him and we miss him sorely. To me he was just a part of the family and he always said he felt like I was his mother. I don't know Tom's age, but he certainly was quite a bit older than I. But having no eyes to see me he didn't realize my age of course. Many times I have left him in charge of my children when I had to leave them alone. They minded him fine. He used to take them walking. They helped each other across the streets. My little girl would say "Tom don't walk so fast" and she once said "Now, Tom, you open your eyes real wide and maybe you can see better." Tom would Thank God his eyes are opened real wide now. What a reward for Tom. He is with his friends who have been so faithful over the few things" God chose to bestow upon them. What blessed comfort you, my dear friends. I will care for Tom's grave as tenderly as I do my own children's and think of you every time I lay a flower upon it. I sent you over two cards but am afraid he didn't get them. I thought his address was "Brighton." However, Mr. Rouch phoned him long distance last night.

Well, good-by, and God bless you all.

Ducks at 402 Each

Sterling City News-Record: Recently three men came down from a neighboring city and while driving around they collided with a local car. They then drove around in the northwest part of town and were seen throwing a sack out of the car. Upon investigation, it was found that the sack contained two wild ducks. The sheriff and state game warden reported the matter to Judge Carr and asked that the state of Texas be remunerated for its ducks. Judge Carr said $50 from each of the men, together with the trimmin's, aggregating about $184, ought to be fair enough, to which all parties agreed.

Wild ducks the year round is very expensive eatin', if we do say so.

Miss Georgia Fee was the May Queen and was crowned with a wreath of flowers by Gene Hotzler. She wore a lovely white evening gown and the ladies-in-waiting also wore evening dresses. As she sat on her throne little Billie Jean Thalmann placed the robe and the crown.

HELP BEAUTIFY BANDERA

John A. Wiemers Passes On

The community was shocked and deeply grieved last Monday morning when the news went forth that our worthy townsman, John A. Wiemers had died almost suddenly. Mr. Wiemers was loading wood at the ranch of Sammie Stevens north of town when he was stricken. He was brought to town for medical attention, but every physician in the city was out in the country on calls, so it was decided to rush the stricken man to Hondo to a doctor, and a start was made, but he passed away when only a mile from town. He was conscious right up to the end.

Funeral services were held at the Plummer Funeral Home in Bandera Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, by Rev. E. F. Klunck, pastor of the Hondo Methodist Church. Interment was made in the Bandera Cemetery. The funeral cortege was the largest that has been seen in the city for a long time. Friends and relatives came from Hondo, Castroville, Quihi, New Fountain, and many other points to pay their last respect to this man, who was loved and esteemed by everybody. The pall bearers were Vernon Merritt, Les Short, E. L. Caffall, Willie Wiemers, Ben Henry Wiemers and Edgar Mansfield.

John Alfred Wiemers was born October 9, 1889, in Kerrville, Texas, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wiemers. Later the family moved to Hondo, where deceased resided until 1915, when in 1934 he made his home in Bandera, and engaged in the tinsmithing business. On December 22, 1915, he was happily married to Miss Annie Lee Hall. To this union seven children were born: Mrs. Florence Gray of San Antonio, Miss Laura Wiemers, Mrs. Ruth Lowery and Claude Wiemers, all of whom, with the wife and mother, survive him. Also surviving are two brothers, Carolyn Sue and Helen Marie Gray. Also surviving are his aged mother, Mrs. Ella Wiemers of San Antonio and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. W. J. Hartley of Fort Worth, Messrs. and O. J. Wiemers of Hondo, Mrs. Katie Muennink and Mrs. Charles Ward of Hondo, Mrs. Wiemers of Bandera, R. B. Wiemers and Miss Agnes Wiemers of San Antonio.

The writer is aware that I have known John Wiemers I learned to love him like a brother. His kindly disposition, his cheerful greeting, his gentle nature won friends for him wherever he went, and often when we carried our Bandera folk program to other towns in the interest of raising funds for our public library auditorium, he and his wife made sacrifices to go with us, and always participate in the program in singing dance numbers, and he, being a tinsmith, would serve advertising. He was a hard working man, making his living by daily toil, but he found time to help in any good turn or render a favor when called upon to do so. When he came to Bandera to establish his children all being small, he had quite a struggle to make ends meet, and although sickness in the family and other misfortune assailed him he remained cheerful and hopeful. Finally, with the aid of the Public Auditorium built a neat residence on 13th Street, and by close economy and industry he got his family all comfortably settled to enjoy some of the benefits of a happy, joyous homelife, and then he began to thrive and him down in the full vigor of manhood, destroying at one fell swoop the fruits of his labor and the cruelest crown of righteousness. We shall miss him, miss the cheerful company of his cheerful smile and the hearty handclasp will linger with us for many days. His family, always an affectionate husband and a kind, considerate father. Truly is mourned a great stricken children, brothers, sisters and aged mother we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

DEFINITION OF AN ADULT

The Farmgate Quinty tells how the boy asked his father as to what is an adult. Father said it is a person who has stopped growing at both ends, and is continuing to grow in the middle.

The definition fits some people. They do not grow mentally at the top end, as they take few new ideas after they leave school. The power of their feet does not grow, as they ride everywhere they can, and walk and run less. But their circumference around the waist grows, as they eat hearty foods and heavy meals, and do not take necessary exercise.

The powers of the brain at the head should be helped to grow by constant reading, and the power of the feet to grow by vigorous exercise. The women folks who do their own housework get it, but their husbands are not so likely to.

MEMORIES OF PATRIOTS

On May 30, the American people are asked to suspend their daily work and pleasures, and spend a brief time in honoring the veterans who have served in the country's wars. Originally established as a Decoration day for the men of the Grand Army of the Republic, Memorial day has become the occasion when soldiers who served in all our wars are to be honored.

In thousands of quiet cemeteries lie the remains of these men, who never more will hear the sound of the warrior's trumpet, the clash of steel on steel, or the roar of cannon. They passed through life's most severe experiences and they did not quail. Without protest they left their peaceful homes, their loved families, and the occupations on which their future welfare depended, and marched to the enemy's front and prepared for the deadly business of war.

They had no personal animosity against their foes, but felt they were called upon to support certain grand ideas for the benefit of their country. Thousands of them sleep in quiet cemeteries in Europe, where they gave their lives, as they thought, to end all wars. The results of their sacrifice have proved disappointing, as wars have not ended, but their sacrifice was just as noble. Their quiet resting places should be watched and tended and kept ever green. Any vandalism that lays its destructive hand on those graves should forever meet the execration of mankind.

It is a pleasing and beautiful act to place lovely flowers on the grave of any such veteran. The heart of the whole community should go to these peaceful resting places. The veterans have passed to a scene where the issues of life are not settled by the futile and destructive hand of war, but by the justice of God. Let them, never be forgotten, for they are men who have helped our country reach a higher level.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Those who give good bargains in business find plenty of customers coming back to them. Those who give liberally of their time and energy in daily work or service to the home town, find plenty of reward coming back to them.

People sometimes think they save money by failing to spend it to keep their dwellings in good repair. Their property depreciates faster than the money they save.

If a stranger asks what is the best place in town to buy things he is usually directed to some well advertised store.

TIRE OPPORTUNITY. PRESENTED NOW IN CURRENT SALE.

Anticipating the year's first new peak in tire buying, scheduling of the annual Spring Sale has just been announced by Erie Mansfield, local Goodyear dealer, who points out that this opportunity is timed to coincide with the beginning of what may be the country's biggest driving period in any year.

Present plans for sales' dates covers the period from May 21 to 31 during the 10 days of which dealers nationally will feature the first-line G-3 All-Weather tread tire offered on a special trade-in deal, as well as the All-American in five popular sizes, attractively priced for the sale.

Backed by a written guarantee, these tires built with improved supertwist cord have increased body strength, the G-3 in actual tests having averaged 20 per cent longer tread wear than other first line tires tested.

With rubber prices steady for the time being at least, despite a crucial international situation, now would be a logical time for those with used tires driving this summer to make replacements on their cars, is the opinion of Mr. Mansfield, especially since prices are lowered in a period when buying should be increasing because of a seasonal demand for new tires to provide safer motor car operation on crowded highways.

MEN NEEDED FOR NAVAL RESERVE

According to information just received at the Houston Navy Recruiting Station from the Navy Department, the U. S. Naval Reserve is now wide open for enlistments of men between 17 and 50 years of age in a rating corresponding to the trade they are following in civil life and in a grade according to their training, experience and ability. No previous military service is required. Pay will range from sixty to ninety-nine dollars per month to start, depending upon the rating for which they qualify. This means that if you are a mechanic, electrician, radioman, carpenter, steward, cook, or a trained man in almost any line of work, you may apply for enlistment in a petty officer rating which requires your specialized training. Food, lodging, medical attention, and a complete outfit of clothing and bedding are furnished.

Single men between the ages of 17 and 36 with any trade may enlist in the Reserve for almost any trade training they desire.

Applicants between 17 and 18 years of age are enlisted for a period of minority. Those between 18 and 50 will be enlisted for a period of four years. However, ALL RESERVISTS WILL BE RELEASED FROM ACTIVE DUTY AS SOON AFTER THE EMERGENCY AS THEIR SERVICES CAN BE SPARED. Regardless of the number of years

Enthusiasm marked the meeting of the County Fair Committee of the Bandera Library Association Tuesday night, at which time C. H. Brient was named general chairman of the County Fair to be held in Bandera in the early fall. Schlemmer, Bandera County's wide-awake and progressive County Agent, will have charge of the stock entries and exhibits, with Miss Myrtle Pfluger, assistant county agent, who has been Home Demonstration Agent for the County during the past three years, acting as secretary and counsellor of the women's group.

The general chairman stressed the need of harmony and close cooperation among the citizens in promoting a successful Fair, and asked the support, individually and collectively, of the members of all of organizations in the County, many of whom have already pledged their full support.

Several matters pertaining to the Fair were referred to various committees, and when these respective reports are ready, another meeting will be held and complete details announced.

SECOND DRAFT REGISTRATION SET JULY 1.

Washington, May 26—President Roosevelt Monday ordered a second registration under the selective service act on July 1.

He said in a proclamation other registrations will be required "in the interest of national defense."

New registrants will include those men, who, on or before July 1, have attained their 21st birthday and had not registered previously.

The registration is to take place in the United States, Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico and Alaska.

Every male citizen and every male alien residing in the area specified, plus those specifically exempted by the selective service act, must comply with the registration order if he has reached his 21st birthday since the initial registration.

Selective service officials have estimated that about 1,000,000 men will be required to register under the proclamation.

At the first registration, the President said, 16,400 boards, appointed by proclamation, were set up for the handling of special cases. These cover hardship of all cases. These cover hardship of all kinds, "circumstances beyond his control" or because he is not in the United States Puerto Rico or the two territories.

An individual outside these limits, he said, however, to submit to registration within the continental United States and its insular possessions.

PAUL DESMURES, THE ARLEDGE WONDER, COMING

Those who attend the Old Settlers' Jubilee on Saturday, June 7th, will have the opportunity to see "the Arnielee Wonder," Paul Desmukes, who is to be the guest of J. Arnielee Hefner on that date.

Mr. Desmukes was born without arms, and is truly a wonder. He has traveled in circles, and has had full seasons in shows in New York and other cities, and has interested millions of people by performing seemingly impossible feats. He has retired from the show business and is doing just about as well as a person with two arms and hands. He can write, feed himself, drive a car, shoot guns, drive a horse and buggy, turn door knobs, play the violin, and do anything with his feet that an ordinary person can do with his fingers. He is coming to the Old Settlers' Jubilee, not to give one of his regular performances, but to meet and greet old friends of his old home here, and it is possible that he will consent to perform a few of his stunts for the entertainment of the crowds. Mrs. Desmukes, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Adams are coming with him.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION PROGRAM SIX YEARS OLD

The start of the seventh year of the Federal rural electrification program finds approximately 2½ million American farm families enjoying central station electric service—nearly four times as many as had it in 1935—the Department of Agriculture reported today. Acceleration of the Rural Electrification on May 11, 1935, REA-financed electric lines added more than half a million farms. During the same period, private lending agencies stimulated by the REA program, have connected about as many more farms.

Harry Slattery, REA Administrator, pointed out that during the past year, REA activities have been directed intensively toward measures to strengthen national defense. Co-operation is underway in getting electricity to Camp Shelby, Miss., largest Army camp in the United States, for the present time and at a substantial saving to the Government," he said. "Other defense projects have been served less dramatically but no less beneficially. Electricity has been available to hundreds of small factories and mines producing essential defense materials. Farm canning, dehydrator, airplane carburetors, and cinnabar to mention 4 of more than 100 kinds of defense products. Electricity has helped in ensure an adequate supply of food and fiber in the event of an all-out defense effort which would draw heavily on farm manpower.

"Of immediate importance to rural defense power lines provide mechanical help and increased efficiency in production which emphasis has recently been placed. These foods include poultry and turkeys, eggs, milk, fruits and pork. Electric lines make possible electric chick brooders, milking machines, refrigerated milk coolers, and electric pig brooders."

During its six years of operation, the REA has allotted $387,215,121 to 824 borrowers on 215,121 to 824 borrowers on 215,121 to 824 borrowers. These funds provide for construction of 354,096 miles of lines to bring electricity to farms, homes and other rural customers. By March 31, 1941, 714 of these projects, with 1,000 operating, 296,142 miles of line with 726,065 connected customers. In this connection the REA report point out that the total number of electrified farms in the United States was 1,734,000 in 1934, estimated by the Edison Electric Institution, was only 741,000.

The Department indicates that about 56 per cent of the customers connected to REA lines are farm families. The rest are divided among non-farm rural residences, stores and filling stations, community activities such as churches and schools; government establishments, such as camps and Army camps, Navy and Coast Guard stations and CCC camps, and decentralized rural industries.

The Department reported continued progress made in the financial condition of the REA borrowers. More than 90 per cent of them are farmers' cooperatives newly formed to take advantage of the REA program. Five years of operation generally considered necessary for borrowers to get out of the red. Yet, by March 31, the borrowers made payments of interest and principal totaling $11,563,691, although the total amount due and payable at that date was only $9,067,587. A $2,307,490 overdue on March 31 was far out balanced by advance payments totaling $2,675,

President Declares National Emergency

Washington, D. C., May 27.—President Roosevelt announced in his world-wide radio address Wednesday night he had issued a proclamation declaring "that an unlimited national emergency exists and requires the strengthening of our defense to the extreme limit of our national power and authority."

The President charged in his many words it was the purpose of Adolph Hitler and the Nazis to dominate the world and strangle the United States of America and Dominion of Canada. This, he said, could not be accomplished until the Axis powers gained control of the seas. Now, he said, Great Britain stood between the Axis and such domination of the seas.

He put the blunt truth was that the Germans were sinking merchant ships at a rate more than double the combined ability of British and American shipyards to replace them.

Then noting the American Navy was doing patrol duty in the North Atlantic and saying that the ships in that area were being constantly increased, he announced additional measures necessary to deliver the goods.

The deadly facts of war compel us to prepare for ample self-preservation, to make stern choices, he said.

In his proclamation, Mr. Roosevelt said that the objectives of the Axis Powers included overthrow of democracy the world of existing democratic order, and a world-wide domination of the conquering nations through the destruction of all resistance on land and sea and in the air.

The chief executive made an urgent appeal to workmen and employers to put aside their selfish differences in the larger effort to insure the survival of the only kind of government which respects the right of labor or of capital.

Plans Made for Bandera Co. Fair

Enthusiasm marked the meeting of the County Fair Committee of the Bandera Library Association Tuesday night, at which time C. H. Brient was named general chairman of the County Fair to be held in Bandera in the early fall. Mr. Brient is an experienced ranchman and successful business man, and under his able leadership, with the cooperation of the ranchers and business people of the County, it is anticipated that the 1941 Bandera County Fair will compare most favorably with those held in surrounding counties this year.

H. F. Schlemmer, Bandera County's wide-awake and progressive County Agent, will have charge of the stock entries and exhibits, with Miss Myrtle Pfluger, who has done successful work as the Home Demonstration Agent for the County during the past three years, working as leader and counsellor of the women's group.

The general chairman stressed the need of harmony and close cooperation among the citizens in promoting the County-wide Fair, and asked the support, individually and collectively, of the membership of all organizations in the County, many of whom have already pledged their full support.

Several matters pertaining to the Fair were referred to various committees, and when their respective reports are ready, another meeting will be held and complete details announced.

Plans Made for Bandera Co. Fair

Enthusiasm marked the meeting of the County Fair Committee of the Bandera Library Association Tuesday night, at which time C. H. Briest was named general chairman of the County Fair to be held in Bandera on the early fall. Mr. Briest is an experienced ranchman and successful business man, and under his able leadership, with the cooperation of the ranchmen and business people of the County, it is anticipated that the 1941 Bandera County Fair will compare favorably with those held in surrounding counties this year.

H. F. Schlemmer, Bandera County's wide-awake and progressive County Agent, will have charge of the stock entries and exhibits, with Miss Myrtle Pfeiffer, very capable successful work as the Home Demonstration Agent, for the County during the past three years, working as leader and counsellor of the women's group.

The general chairman stressed the need of harmony and close cooperation among the citizens in promoting the County-wide Fair, and asked the support, individually and collectively, of the membership of all organizations in the County. Plans are now being actively pledged their full support.

Several matters pertaining to the Fair were referred to various committees, and when these respective reports are ready, another meeting will be held and complete details announced.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If you pass people on the street without effort to recognize them, don't expect to win many popularity contests in your home town.

The salesman usually has to say something in favor of his goods in order to make a sale. If you don't say something in their favor by advertising, the salesman will miss many chances to have his say over the counter.

INTRUDERS IN THE GRASS

One of the worries of the householder is created by the weeds in his lawn. No matter how carefully he plants his grass and rolls the turf and pours on the plant food, these pesky weeds have a way of walking into his nice seed. The blend of the air and the winds of the heaven bring these unwanted seeds, and the richer his soil, the better they like it, and prepare to make their permanent homes there.

It may take considerable digging with some kind of a weed cutter before those unwelcome guests find they are not wanted and decide to quit. Meanwhile it would better not let these rowdy interlopers blossom and go to seed. The more they scatter their little seeds over his land, the harder the struggle he will have with them.

EDUCATION NOT STOPPED

Many young people who have just finished school for good will be saying that their education is now completed. Henry H. Wriston, president of Brown University, in advising his students about military service, remarks that education is not a short run objective, but it is a permanent and continuing process.

The student who walks out of college with a bachelor of arts degree in his pocket need not think he is educated. Few people are fully educated, even if they live to be 100. No one should be satisfied until each year's study in the great College of Life has given him some new degree, in the form of better comprehension of life and human nature, and added skill with his brain and hands.

Large Crowds at Legion Rodeo

Bandera was crowded last week-end with visitors attending the big Legion Rodeo on the lighted football field. The Bandera Legion held a convention of the ropers found the calves plenty "salty" and hard to catch. The grandstands were filled to overflowing last Saturday night and again Sunday afternoon, with many out-of-state cars among the cars from Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Carolina, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and Wisconsin.

The Rodeo was the best ever presented in Bandera and was pronounced favorably with any rodeo in the Southwest. The crowd voiced appreciation of the fine entertainment everyone is looking forward to the big Rodeo to be given here during the labor Day week-end.

Among the special attractions were the Perkins Military Band of Camp Bullis, Dr. Russell Cannedy Hot and his educated mule, Clockslow; Wild Bill Lemon, "the cowboy with the extraordinary; and Tommie Marion and the educated Brahma bull.

Results in the riding and roping were as follows: Bull riding—Saturday night, 1st Bob Crutchfield; 2nd Ed Hopkins, and Eddie Evans, 3rd Canadian Kid; Sunday afternoon, 1st and 2nd Canadian and Lee Hood, 3rd Canadian Kid.

Mr. Parker treated Hood's possible internal injuries. Special thanks and appreciation are due Mr. Parker and local funeral director, for his assistance and care of the injured man until the arrival from Fort Sam Houston arrived.

BUY DEFENSE BONDS AND STAMPS

Austin, Texas
June 2, 1943

Dear Mr. News Editor:

Following the President's talk on Tuesday, I arrived at the conclusion that it is my duty to call on the citizens of Texas to double their efforts in the sale of bonds and we must have an all-out purchase of defense bonds and savings stamps.

We are going to have a big bill to pay in order to protect this country and the people of it will be worth every cent it costs to know that our country and our liberties are safe. And when I stop and think that that our Government thought far enough ahead to borrow money from us that it could pay back with interest, I am filled with pride in it and nothing received in return but protection. Protection is the most valuable thing we have, and we are lending our money and will get it back with interest, when you buy bonds and stamps, you are buying confidence in your country, your family, your neighbor and yourself. You are making money for yourself, and, by lending it to the Government, you are helping to defend your country.

I could think of no more fitting memorial to Memorial Day than to live in the last war than to ask that all Texans do their bit now toward preparation against which we pray will protect us and save the lives of our native sons.

Sincerely yours,

Frank Scofield
State Administrator,
Defense Savings Staff of Texas

BANDERA COUNTY REAL ESTATE ATTRACTING ATTENTION

As evidence of the fact that Bandera County real estate is attracting considerable attention and that many of the large land holds, the local post office reports that for the first two months of 1943 there were sold in the Bandera post office of internal revenue stamps required on deeds, which indicates a sale of stamps sufficient to cover sales of real estate in Bandera County aggregating more than $200,000.

Plans Made for Bandera Co. Fair

Enthusiasm marked the meeting of the County Fair Committee of the Bandera Library Association Tuesday night, at which time J. H. Brient was named general chairman of the County Fair to be held in Bandera the early fall. Mr. Brient is an experienced gentleman and successful business man, and has his able leadership, with the cooperation of the ranchers and business people of the County, it is anticipated that the 1941 Bandera County Fair will compare most favorably with those held in surrounding counties this year.

H. H. Schiemmer, Bandera County's wide-awake and progressive County Agent, will be in charge of the stock entries and exhibits, with Miss Myrtle Pfluger, who has done successful work as the Home Demonstration Agent for the County during the past three years, named as lady-in-charge and counsellor of the women's group.

The general chairman stressed the need of harmony and close cooperation among the citizens in promoting the County Fair, and asked the support, individually and collectively, of the membership of all organizations in the County, many of whom have already pledged their full support.

Several matters pertaining to the Fair were referred to various committees, and as soon as these committee reports are ready, another meeting will be held and complete details announced.

the ROAD AHEAD

Old Man Texas is today looking ahead and planning.

Beside the great farming and ranching country which Texans have built, he sees a new industrial empire here.

Already the start has been made. Some industries, such as petroleum, are now showing what can be done to utilize Texas' vast natural resources. Today this industry refines with Texas labor over four-fifths as much oil as the State produces. Its products make up nearly one-half of all Texas manufacturing. Altogether petroleum provides the living for almost one-sixth of our people.

But this is only a beginning.

Texas has many other raw materials, unexceeded by any other State. Texas has in oil and gas the cheap and dependable fuel supply essential to industry. Texas is the gateway to Latin America, our new foreign market.

Each new industry means more jobs. It makes added tax values for our State and local governments, bigger payrolls for our workers.

MANY MORE LIKE HESS

If it be assumed that Rudolf Hess, deputy fuehrer of Germany, fled to England because he had quarreled with Hitler, many more Germans would like to do the same thing. It is impossible to believe that all the intelligent people of that highly educated country can approve of the outrageous things the Nazi government has done.

Probably no government in ancient or modern times ever suppressed human speech as completely. In ancient lands, the truth had a way of leaking around from mouth to mouth. Probably dissenters from the government would hail a sympathetic people with a fair amount of safety. If a modern German expresses doubts about the war and the government to his wife, the children might hear it. They have been taught to report disloyal talk by their parents, so that Father might soon find himself in a concentration camp.

Large Crowds At Old Settlers' Jubilee

The Bandera County Old Settlers' Jubilee, held at Frontier Times Museum last Saturday, turned out to be one of the most enjoyable and successful old Settlers' Reunions ever held in Bandera County. Fully three thousand people were here for the occasion, and joined in the merry-making. At 10 o'clock in the morning there was a basket of street parade, in which appeared cowboys, Indians, pioneers, guest ranch guests, vehicles, horses, and jesters.

The Bandera Home Demonstration Club was awarded the first prize of $10 for the best decorated float in the parade; the second prize of $5.00 was awarded to the Twin Elm Ranch. Third prize of $2.50 was awarded Mrs. Lewis Gibbles as best lady rider; Harvey Harris of Houston, director of the Buckaroo Riding Club of the Jolesch Ranch, was given the $2.50 prize for best gentleman rider. Honorable mention prizes were given to John Bruce of the 8 Bar Ranch, and Mrs. Edna Wheat Beam, of Bandera, and Miss Ruth Reynolds of Houston.

At 11 o'clock, when the crowd gathered on the grounds at Frontier Times Museum, a memorial service was held for the citizens of Bandera county who had passed away since our 1940 reunion. A list of the names of these departed friends, 31 in number, was printed in gold letters and placed in a frame on an easel, on each side of which was a tall candlestick with candles. The two candles were lighted, the names were read off, and Little Miss Yvonne Adams of Medina placed a beautiful wreath of flowers over the framed list, and then Dr. P. H. Hill, active Texas Ranger Captain, and Chaplain of the Texas Rangers, gave the eulogy, paying a beautiful tribute to those who have passed on.

Immediately after the memorial service, a reception was given for the Bandera county couples who had been married fifty years or longer. About twenty couples were in this group, the oldest in married years being Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harper, who have been married fifty-seven years. Mr. and Mrs. Harper were presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses by Bobnet Bakery of San Antonio. Mrs. Knowles Witcher Teel, Bandera's own poet, read a beautiful poem dedicated to the pioneer settlers, and a group of young folks provided a program of vocal and instrumental music while the fifty-year married couples were being served with a delicious meal especially prepared for them.

The general crowd was served a fine barbecue dinner by the Medina Chapter Future Farmers of America, the meat for which was cooked in the pits by R. J. Cooke, expert barbecuer, and brought to Bandera in time to be served at noon, hot and juicy.

At 1:30 p. m. Baldwin Parker and a group of Indians from Apache, Oklahoma, entertained the great throng with an Indian program, which included a war dance, a scalp dance, a snake dance, and other features. At this time Charles Richard of Bandera was also adopted into the Comanche tribe with full adoption ceremonies, Chief Eckhart was given the name "Sky Eagle," and was presented with two squaws. Backbone Parker, a son of the famous war chief, Quanah Parker, and a grandson of Cynthia Ann Parker, who was captured at Fort Parker, near Groesbeck, in 1836. Included in the Indian party was also Cynthia Ann Parker, III, great-great granddaughter of Cynthia Ann Parker.

Following the Indian program a thirty-minute address was made by Mr. Jay Hall Bostwick of Austin in behalf of the candidacy of Hon. Gerald C. Mann for the United States Senate.

Then came the old fiddlers' contest, with Archie Graham, R. B. Whitworth, Lee Crawley, John Adams, Lee Cravey, and Ernest Jump participating. Joe Bendele was awarded first prize, John Adams second prize, and Ernest Jump third prize. Guy Bandy, Binghamton, Austin, was on hand with his old Ben Thompson banjo, and entertained with several old-time songs. Little Miss Eva Lois Fleener did some rope-twirling stunts; the Montague boys musicians and rope artists, delighted the crowd with performances; and there were other features that helped to make the day full of enjoyment for those who came. A sound system was provided by T. Brooks Wood, the well known

FLAG DAY

On June 14, 1777, the continental congress which was governing the affairs of that country when it first revolted from Great Britain, adopted a design for the flag of the United States. This design has been adhered to all these years, except that stars have been added when new states were admitted to the Union.

That date might almost be considered to have been the birthday of the nation we love today. Up to that time, there were 13 separate and independent colonies. The heat of battle and struggle of war drew them closer together.

They had been fighting about two years in June 1777, and gradually it came over them that they were not 13 little separate nations, but that they really belonged together, and must unite as one nation. United we stand, divided we fall," said George Pope Morris, a famous poet and newspaper man of former years. It was a great truth which this country should never forget.

So the Contenental Congress arranged that they would unite; they should have one flag, whose waving stars and stripes should cheer the hearts of all true Americans. And so when our eyes rest on that glorious emblem, we should think of how it has inspired millions of men to suffer or die for their country. So long as the bright colors wave over our land, men and women will be free to worship God and discuss their mutual interests.

It was a glorious day in the eternal struggle of man to free the reign of the beast, when those 13 little republics decided that they were not living little entities, but were one nation. That unity, symbolized by the flag, has gone on and on, until the bright union today than ever. It is a wonderful thing that you can go to every village and city in this wide land, and find that flag reverenced and loved.

THE DESIRE FOR BARGAINS

One of the greatest sports in hunting for bargains. The man or men, who spend most of the money, are keen over it. If they get an article for 99 cents which ordinarily costs $1.50, they tell their neighbors and rejoice for many days.

There is a great opportunity to the enterprising concern to appeal to this fine desire for bargains. If such a store advertises that same article, the people are ilfing to read that ad. Nothing so useful is going to be neglected. Many people will be attracted to come and see the article, and when they get there they are pretty sure to buy something. Even when people have no need or desire for that particular article, the advertising conveys the impression that the concern is a hustling and progressive place, which leads them to include it in their shopping excursion.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If some of us time spent in criticizing conditions in the home town were spent by people in improving their home places, the

One reason why people are disappointed in the progress of their home towns, is that they hamper that progress by buying goods away from home.

One good way to put a town ahead, is not to point out its faults, but to set an example to your neighbors by removing faults about your own home or property.

A ZANE GREY SERIAL AT THE BANTEX

"King of the Royal Mounted," a Zane Grey story, is the name of the new serial starting at the Bantex Theatre Friday and Saturday, June 13-14.

As a definite stab at adult patronage, this Zane Grey story deals with the fifth column activities in the Royal Mounted Police to cope with this war time menace. This timely subject is studded with a star cast, including Allah Lane and Lita Conway and is directed and handled as a complete story in itself.

A Canadian has found what is known as "Compound X" a substance which will cure infantile paralysis. A country at war with Canada, Germany, has found that this "Compound X" has certain magnetic properties, that will make their mines effective against the British fleet.

From this point on there is no let up of action as the Mounties who want to keep this nation free for paralysis victims, fight a series of foreign agents who want it to use against the British nation. The scenes for the picture were taken in Canada against a background of beautiful snow-capped mountains.

Because of the subject matter, foreign agents tried to destroy the government, "King of the Royal Mounted" will interest both the young and the old. Don't miss an episode of this new chapter play.

Miss Pfluger demonstrated, the method of tying materials tightly in places to form desired designs when dyeing sacks for luncheon, cloths and displayed many other ways to use sacks in garments.
In discussing the dyeing program, each member was urged to co-operate by raising and storing, in various ways, as many food and feed products as possible.
On June 4 we had an all day meeting at MacNelson Reformal Retreat with the usual members and several visitors present.
Since canning season is at hand many helpful hints were given and various problems on this were discussed.
Miss Pfluger gave out a number of helpful bulletins on canning and balanced meal preparation.

LETTERS IN RHYME

The following letters in rhyme were written by a New Orleans boy to his girl friend, who is a guest at the Bruce Ranch, and her reply.

Milly and Annie went way out West.
So we are not troubled with that pill and pest.
They didn't go because of the food,
They went to get a cowboy dude.
Those two little girls away from home,
Who knows where they may roam.
Mary a horse they'll try to ride
And there'll be many a soreness within their hide.
Millie likes "Lightning", he's so big and round.
And keeps her feet from touching the ground.
Annie doesn't like "Nigger"; to ride a jackass would make her gidd.
Is it to remind her of Arthur, the handsome lad?
(Written by Ben Haney Jr. of New Orleans)

Here we are away out West
Come for a vacation, but we're do,ne rest.
Already we're cowgirls of great renown,
We'll show you all when we return to town.
Anna Rose is freckled and Millie's red is tan
But that won't prevent them from roping a man.
While riding our nags we gallop and trot
If the weather is cool or if it is hot.
Up and down hills and across the creeks
We could stay here for weeks and weeks!
We might bounce in the saddle like a rubber ball
But never to disappoint you we do fer fall.
We rode to a night club up on a hill
A beautiful moonlight—it was quite a thrill.
Where we and the dudes danced could tell
It was time to leave the grand ole ball.
But we'll return—it will be very soon,
To jig a few steps and watch the moon.
We've learned to dance the "Schottische" and "Little Brown Jug"
You kick out a few times, then hand hand and hug.
On the way home you love like a bug
"The love bug will get us if we don't watch out"
And here we are wondering what it is all about.
We also dance "Put Your Little Foot," another Western jig
We say little but we-should say big
Everyone speaks of the beautiful scenes
Away down yonder in New Orleans
Well, they've never been on the Texas prairie
Where the scenery is beautiful and everyone is merry.
Where nights are made for love
With such a romantic moon above.
It is called the "lone prairie" but that is wrong
Because we always have some dudes along.
The reason, to chase the coyotes ain't snakes away
And safeguard us gale 'til break of day.
Here in the West we would like to stay,
'Cause all we do is love and play.
A dude looks swell with a spur and a hoof
And a ten-gallon hat to complete his suit.
And we needn't to say all have a swell, physique,
Together with an excellent technique.
Oh, yes, Mildred rides Lightning, quick as a flash,
He starts with a trot and ends with a dash.
Anna Rose rides Nigger like a queen on a throne,
Handles the horse as if he were her own.
Well, Saturday night is drawing near—
Lots of dancing and plenty of beer.
We wish you-all were over here,
To help us enjoy everything dear.
The dudes out here don't drink corn likker,
They're smarter than many a city slicker.
While you're swinging the Mansequins, we'll swing the dudes
We'll do our best to avoid any feuds.
Do try to have a good time while we're away,
And don't forget June 15, which is picnic day.

TO MY DAD

This piece of poetry is dedicated to my father, Giles P. Walton, Medina, Texas, June 6, 1941.

Dear God you gave me Father,
He's more than friend to me,
He gave me gracious council,
He showed me what a man could be.

I caused him many a heartache,
I'm sorry for it too,
But I can't erase it,
No matter what I do.

He loved me every hour,
And gave me special care,
And bless his heart, he's with me,
To help my burdens share.

How well do I remember,
His place of secret prayer,
And how he pled with Jesus,
To save me from despair,

He never had an auto,
Nor never owned a farm,
But Dad, my Dad, knew Jesus,
And lived secure from harm.

He's growing old and feeble,
But never did forget
To set the right example,
To win me from darkness yet

I wish I had the Vision,
That God gave Dear old Dad,
I'd be a better Christian,
And I'd be glad, by God.

The country where my Dad grew,
Real men were then turbed out,
They went abroad and blessed the world,
Their freedom made them stout.

My Dad grew up without a chance,
Nor was he on the go,
He took no part in Hedgeoddie,
But God he grew to know.

It was his pride in every way,
To be a neighbor kind,
Both day and night in this Old Gent,
Christ's Spirit you could find.

We 'eed some men like these Old Dads,
With courage strong and great,
To bring about a standing peace,
'Twould pay to emulate.

Dear Dad of mine, you're old and bent;
And on the evening side,
But I assure with faith in God,
As you were in morning tide.

Now let me say I love you Dad,
And mean it in my heart,
And I'll be there when real to me,
And not a Dad in part.

One day another name they'll call,
'Twill be my Daddy Dear,
But I assure with faith in God,
For here his record's clear.

I know his name is written there,
My name is written too.
We'll be members of the Census,
To dwell beyond the blue.

...d" Keese Died at Thursday

J. Keese, better known as Keese, died in the San Antonio hospital Thursday morning, 12th, at 5:45 o'clock, following a short illness. Funeral services were conducted at the West Cemetery near Medina, Saturday afternoon, by Rev. Winkle, of the Kerrville Christian church, assisted by Rev. F. A. Walton, pastor of the Medina church. Followed by the usual burial ceremonies. Active pall bearers were W. R. Flet- Karl Weed, J. Marvin Hunt, Charles Fee, Hough LeSteur, and G. C. Burks. The honorary pall bearers were E. L. Mc- W. J. H. Lewis, P. O. Love W. C. Baker.

Many floral tributes included the widow, Parsley Keese; four sons, Willie W. Keese of Medina, Alfred Keese and Charlie Keese of Medina; two daughters, Mrs. Lela Love of Medina and Annie Keese of Medina; daughter, Mrs. Horace Porter of Utopia, and three brothers, H. Keese and S. A. Keese of Bandera and O. A. Keese of Medina, and one sister, Mrs. W. A. Tobey of Medina, also survives. There sixteen grandchildren and one great grandchild.

J. Keese was born in Brown county, Texas, April 23, 1864, and at the time of death was 73 one month and twenty-days.

He came to Bandera County in 1875 with his parents, Thomas Harrison Keese and Angelina Lewis Keese and settled in the Medina valley, and at the time since then. He was a member of the church of Christ at Medina, and was a member of Bandera Lodge No. 1123, Ancient Free & Accepted Masons, on Feb. 6, 1894. He was happily married in Medina to Miss Parsley Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lewis, on Dec. 24, 1885, and he and his devoted wife celebrated their Golden wedding.

Rod Keese was one of the solid settlers of Bandera County. He stood high in the esteem all who knew him, and was a factor in the development of better conditions in his community and great expressions of sorrowing friends gathered at the cemetery to pay a tribute of respect to this good man was testimony of the love of those friends for him. People came from all parts of the county to attend the funeral, and the entire town was depleted in the afternoon of Saturday as the whole town was attended by the funeral. A faithful father, a devoted husband, a loyal friend, an upright citizen, and through more than seventy he built for himself a name among his children and among generations to follow, that will remain to remind us of the good deeds he passed this way.

Rod Keese was a man of strong convictions, and fearless in the expression of them. A man of unbending integrity, and possessed of all the elements that go to make a manly character, and kind- his intercourse with his fellowmen. He was candid, but courteous. So much in evidence was these splendid traits of character.

Medina Rodeo and Barbecue Saturday

Don't forget the barbecue and rodeo at Graham Park two miles below Medina on Highway 16 next Saturday, June 21st.

Five fat barbecue with all of its trimmings will be served. Plenty of seats—some of it will be cooked under a shade.

Besides rodeo features, such as calf and dog roping, riding, and wild cow milking, there will be a donkey and pony race, rope spank, etc.

An interesting ball game has been arranged.

Mr. Gilmer, our state representative, and likely others, will speak.

Fiddling and hore blowing contests for young and old. Bring your horn.

JULY 4th CELEBRATION AT MANSFIELD PARK

The regular annual July 4th celebration will be again held at Mansfield Park in Bandera. Plans are being worked out to make it the greatest celebration ever held in this section. There will be fun the whole day. The cowboys are preparing for the contests and cash prizes awarded aside from their entrance to roping as well as to the prize money in each roping event, it will not be necessary for a roper to take part in a contest in order to win some of the money. The awards will be split in the following manner: Money taken in from three-way contests shown to the ropers.

In addition to the rodeo, it is hoped that many of the lady riders will participate in the flag races that are so popular at this time of the year. It is hoped to train your horses so you can enter the flag races as substantial prizes will be given. Should we have many to enter these races, same will be run in divisions according to riders limited to not exceeding six riders in this manner more than one race can be run.

The business establishments of Bandera and vicinity are making liberal donations and we appreciate to give the rodeo and dance taking part in the day's fun and also will give liberally from our own funds.

Everyone is invited to take part in the fodeo. It is our desire to assist the roper who is trying to make good and in our past experience, we know that we have a number of the good ropers among the cowboys and cowgirls by giving them an opportunity to show their skill before a large crowd.

The same price of admission will prevail, namely, adults fifty cents and children 25 cents. The admission charge must be paid for each contestant as everyone entering the barbecue dinner free, also a dance for the entire day. Admission ticket will entitle you to the barbecue dinner which will be served from 11:30 a. m. until 1:30 p. m. All refreshments will be sold at the customary prices, no charge for parking cars; you are requested to leave the grounds during the day, visiting such spots as you may desire without any extra charge.

The entire proceeds will be for the benefit of the Parochial school of Bandera.

All night there will be an old folks and a modern dance on the Saturday night. Tickets will two dance numbers. Dance as well as good at either dance, as each group will provide the music for one part of this celebration. Do all you can to make it successful and we are fortunate if not many visitors with us, so do your best to make them enjoy themselves.

AIR POWER

The science of war changes with every new conflict. The great change of the present war is the tremendous power which airplane fighting has developed. It used to be said that sea power ruled the world. England has had supreme power, yet Germany has conquered or reduced to subjection most of Europe, and without having any great sea power, except its submarines.

Those fighting and bombing airplanes have rolled over Europe like an avalanche sliding down a mountain, and crushing out whatever lay in its path.

Many prophets have said that this war would be decided mainly in the air. British sea power has obstructed Germany's ability to get the war materials and food from outside Europe, but German air power has crushed Europe and given it control of all the resources of that continent, so that Britain's sea power has been partly ineffective. The lesson for America is to build up a mighty force of airplanes that can be sent to help any country that resists the Nazi menace.

DOING OUR SHARE

When people go on some excursion or special party, they all expect to do their share of the work and pay their part of the expense. The boy on the picnic who should loaf around lazily while the rest were gathering the firewood and carrying the baskets and water, would not be very popular. When it comes to settling the bills of the excursion, the men expect the costs to be divided up equally, and everyone to pay his fair share.

The inhabitants of a town might be said to be taking an excursion in experience by living together in a community. Everyone should be willing to take his share of the work, and pay his share of the expense, so far as his financial ability will permit. Those who refuse to do a fair share of public work for the community, are looked at like the loafing boy on the picnic. If they have a good excuse for such abstention, they are justified, but more frequently they have no such valid excuse.

WORRYING ABOUT THE WAR

Many people say their life is disorganized and upset by the worrying they do over the war. Some of them complain they can't sleep nights. Some say their future plans and careers may be upset by war conditions. And some say that whenever they meet friends, they soon get to talking war, and the evening is spoiled.

One can understand how girls whose marriage plans may be upset by the fact that the boy friend is going to the service, would naturally feel upset. There are many more folks across whose personal path the grim war specter treads with equal menace.

Still our outlook is far better than that of the distressed people of England. They never know when some vulture of death will hover over the city, and destroy their homes and even their lives with one of its cruel eggs. Yet the people of England manage to laugh and dance under that strain, and we should not be less courageous.

Fishing Should be Better

Fishing is expected to be better in most bodies of water in Texas when the season opens May 1 than it has been for several seasons, according to reports from throughout the state received by the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

More than 7,000,000 fingerlings were placed in the waters of the state by the Game Department in the past year and conditions have been exceptionally favorable for growth, according to the chief aquatic biologist of the Game Department. Tests made with seines in several lakes show more fish than can there have been for some years. At one place, those same tests also indicate that more than half of the fish taken were under the size limit. Many, if allowed to grow until June 1, would be keepers.

Many of the extremely early open season, while the adult bass are still spawning and many of last year's crop have yet to reach the legal size limit, many will be lost to Texas anglers because of fish which are unavoidably injured by persons catching them after the season opens. Always wet your hands before taking a fish off the hook and always be sure to catch it by the lower jaw.

CARD OF THANKS

Words are inadequate to express my deepest appreciation to the ones who have proven in every humanly possible way that they were real friends during these trying days of illness of my beloved companion, Rev. L. M. Neel.

To Dr. J. O. Butler for his untiring medical services and prayers; friendship, to the seven ministers who assisted in the services, and Miss Louise Villemain, a precious friend, to the ones whom he had requested to sing his favorite songs and for the lovely flowers, which though mutely, spoke such messages of love and condolence—all of which my prayers of love and appreciation shall help to guide each of you to the eternal day.

FULL PAYMENTS TO BE MADE IN JUNE

Provided Federal funds are obtained for matching State funds, the $9.00 cut of June checks, announced by the State Department of Public Welfare, will be avoided. The Legislature took action Thursday, June 12, to provide additional State money to avoid the $9.00 cut. The law was signed by the Governor on the day it was passed.

If Federal funds are obtained to match the additional State money made available, checks for June averaging $15.50 is the highest since the program was started in 1936.

Ordinarily, old-age assistance checks are mailed about the 15th of each month. The June checks will have to be held until additional Federal money is received. State Department officials expressed the opinion that checks for June would be at least a week late, and that checks will not be delayed any longer than is necessary to receive the additional Federal funds.

REQUA REPORTS ON SALE OF RANCHES

E. N. Requa, Texas Ranch Specialist, reports the sale of two Bandera County ranches. "W. G. Grube, San Antonio, has purchased the E. E. McAfee ranch, facing Highway 16, at the foot of the mountain. Grube bought this as a little game preserve, and summer home. There are 150 acres watered by a beautiful creek running right by the house.

John Buckelew sold his 568 acres, also facing on Highway 16, to Brack Wiggins of San Antonio. This ranch was very attractive, had one of the most beautiful pecan parks to be found in this section, fenced deer-proof and permanent spring fed stream right through the ranch. Wiggins plans to make extensive improvements and has already moved some of his sheep to the property. Wiggins is the owner of a saddle club and has already moved some of his saddle horses to the ranch.—San Antonio Express.

COUNTY TO EYE TAX ASSESSMENTS IN LIGHT OF HIGHT OF WAY PRICES

The 1941 tax values placed on property owned by 200 Dallas County landowners from whom the county purchased right of way for new federal and state highway projects during the last year will be subjected to close scrutiny, County Commissioners said Tuesday.

Commissioners will continue to sit as a board of equalization the rest of the week, or until they have equalized values of the property with the amounts the county had to pay.

Much of the property under surveillance is on Preston Road, right of way for which cost the county much more than anticipated. Other pieces of property are on the Holmes Street Road, United States Highway 67 (to Cleburne) and United States Highway 77 (to Denton and Corsicana).

Commissioner Vernon Singleton said the court had not reached any agreement as to the ratio to be used between the price paid for right of way and the valuation of property in setting new figures.

"From some of the prices we paid somebody certainly ought to have his taxes hiked a little," he commented. Dallas County paid as high as $5,000 an acre for some right of way.

Court members agreed Tuesday that Dallas County generally needs a tax-equalization survey, judging from the valuations of parcels of property whose owners protested the 10 per cent valuation increase voted Jan. 15. The court will hear its hearing protests since May 20.

The Court instructed Granville Moore, chief right of way agent, to prepare records of right of way costs on the 200 pieces of property of which right of way was sliced pending further investigation on Wednesday.—Dallas News.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Does success come by reaching out for things, or by standing and waiting until they come? The people who advertise their goods believe it comes by reaching out for things.

People seem awful tired when you ask them to do something for their home town or the organization to which they belong, but full of pep and energy if invited to go on some excursion.

They say you can catch more flies with molasses than with vinegar. So you make more friends for your services if you greet the world with a smile, and friendships, and forget slights and disappointments.

Mrs. John J. Cornwell, wife of former Governor of West Virginia, tells a story about an old fellow in the state years ago. Uncle Billy was an inveterate sermon taster. Uncle Ben was on the usual place as an eloquent preacher he was inspired to ... into the sermon, one lifted the words of greater man, the fellow ... became perturbed, squirmy. After a particularly good outburst Ben could no longer ... "Spur" he shouted. The ... the orator worked himself to another grand period: "This ... "Take that man out of here," he said ... A TRIBUTE TO REV. L. M. NEEL

I am writing this in loving memory of my brother-in-law, Rev. L. M. Neel, who for many years preached the gospel in the state of Texas and in adjacent states. This dear man of God loved the Word and did all in his power to live in the language of Christ. Would God we had a world filled with such. Godly men. He was confined to his bed for many months and was just such a Christian that he met with cheer regardless of his suffering condition. He appreciated the attention that was given to him from loving hands at all times. Few men could have been more contented with their state of suffering. He requested his own well-used Bible be used by those who speak at the funeral, at his funeral, this being carried out completely. He believed Phil. 4-19, and his needs were supplied. He believed Rom. 8-14 and the Spirit led him. He believed John 14:1-6 and he was not troubled in his heart for his hope in Christ was a reality. He died in the physical death and will never know the second death for the blood of Jesus Christ cleanses from all sin and annulled the agreement with the second death and hell and he was translated into the to the Kingdom of His dear Son. Blessed are those who die in the Lord. A short sketch composed by the writer of this article, was read at the close of the service held at the Plummer Funeral Home at Bandera.

The body that sleeps before us now,

Has run the race of life;

Whatever the pace may have been,

It's free from sin and strife.

There is a house not made with hands,

Eternal beyond the blue;

And now he's gone to dwell there-in.

Forever to live anew.

You must not grieve because he's gone,

He's far more happy there;

He rallies 'round the Great White Throne,

Among God's jewels rare.

We would not call him back again,

Within this vale of tears;

For he is gone to be with God,

Throughout the countless years.

Rev. F. A. Walton

"Oh, I just hate to have my feet going to sleep in class."

that it can be truthfully said that he had the confidence and esteem of every one who knew him, so much so that in life he was honored and loved, and in death he is mourned by them.

It is occurrences like this that bring us face to face with the mysteries of death and the power, mysteries of life. Man's existence and destiny are wrapped in mystery, and only for the Book of Books and the hope and faith it inspires all would be gloom and darkness at the beginning and the end of life.

It is written that all must die. No one is exempt from this universal decree, and while we live to die, yet let us bind the faith close to our hearts that we must die to live evermore. Death is but the golden key that unlocks the door to that eternal palace that grants us the crown of everlasting joy and happiness. To the bereaved wife and children, the brothers and sister, who leave the sympathy of all in their great sorrow, we would offer the comforting poem of Lord Lytton, to soothe their bleeding hearts:

"There is no death. The stars go down

To rise upon some fairer shore;

And bright in Heaven's jeweled crown

They shine forevermore.

"There is no death. An angel form

Walks o'er the earth with silent tread;

He bears our best loved ones away,

And we then call them 'dead.'

"The beloved voice, whose joyous tones,

Made glad these scenes of sin and woe,

Sings now an everlasting song,

Around the Tree of Life.

"And ever near us, though unseen,

The dear immortal spirits tread;

For all the boundless universe

Is life—there is no dead."

NEW GROUP TO REGISTER

All men who have become 21 years of age since the last registration day, October 16, are required to register, using the age requirement is part of the price they pay for being citizens of such a wonderful country. They have received blessings and benefits such as the youth of no country ever enjoyed before, and these benefits are not to be had for nothing. The best blessings of life demand sacrifice as a price, which has to be paid.

In no foreign lands are there schools such as those which dot every of the United States. In no foreign land is the chance so good for a poor boy to work and prepare to rise in the world. In the old countries, if a boy was born of an humble family, he almost invariably had to remain in obscurity all his life. Save to a few exceptional instances. There has been no chance to rise.

The United States, with its freedom and opportunities, offers large chances to rise to every boy and girl. Countless numbers of them have been prominent citizens of extreme poverty to high places.

These chances came because our country is a land of freedom, and that freedom is to be preserved. The young men are the only ones who have the opportunity to defend it, so should they have the strength to give that protection.

The requirement of registration, the chance that these young men will be called to spend a year in training, is a disturbing thought to many young men. To many it looks like an interruption of their plans for work, business, further education, or possibly marriage.

These storms of danger and duty and more serious national service will pass, as they always have. Any young man to whom this military service seems an onerous task should reflect that it will make him stronger physically, more alert mentally, and constitute one of the most valuable experiences of his life.

Woman (in subway): I wish that good-looking man behind me would get up and give me his seat.

Husband: Why don't you?

Having traveled much in the homeland and abroad, and having a speaking command of several languages, he, won many friends of different creeds and nationalities. His alert mind and keen intellect was greatly manifested in his Bible knowledge and the connections concerning world conditions of today.

He discussed the final rites with his companion a year ago and she carried out his request as nearly as possible. Rev. S. H. Culpeppe of San Antonio and Rev. F. A. Walton of Medina conducted the services in the Plummer Funeral Home in Bandera at 5 p. m., Saturday, June 14, 1941. The song, Rev. Neel's favorite, "When They Ring Those Golden Bells," was sung by Mrs. A. Meadows, Mrs. Ruth Mansfield, Mr. C. B. Corley and Mr. Walter Meadows. Prayer was offered by Miss Louise Weinsain, Baptist State Training Union worker. Miss Gerald Langford sweetly sang "The Pearly White City." The deceased's Bible was used in the services. It bears the markings of his many hours of use and Rev. Culpepper expressed the hope that but few men had the knowledge rightly divided of God's Holy Word as did Rev. Neel. As a result, was able to help keep the flame of Christian love and zeal burning in the hearts of his fellow laborers.

Rev. Raymond Bailey, pastor of the Tarpley church, read Rev. Neel's favorite poem, "Rock Me to Sleep."

Rev. F. A. Walton, pastor of Medina, continued the service in a touching manner using the favorite passages of the deceased. John 14, Rev. 21. He paid such beautiful tribute to this noble character and servant of God, who was loved and highly respected in every respect. He mentioned the inspiration received by having such a man in the community through visits with Bro. Neel, even during the days of his illness.

Pall bearers were J. I. Padgett, Jim Plower, J. M. Pepper, J. B. Edwards, R. H. Schott and A. D. Haby. Honorary pallbearers were L. N. Coffey, Dr. J. O. Butler, A. Meadows, J. R. Wright, T. A. Lewis and J. E. Edwards.

Interment was made in the beautiful Bandera City Cemetery. Services were concluded at the grave with the song, "Asleep in Jesus" and prayer by Rev. Walton.

Another man of God is gone but not forgotten. He is away but not from us. He is one of all who whom he has come in contact. His was a successful life as evidenced by the fact that his influence can never die.

"Like a ship that's left its moorings

Safe and sails bravely out to sea,

So someone dear has sailed away

To His Calm serenity.

But there's promise of greater joy

Than earth could have in store,

For God has planned a new home

Beyond the Unseen Shore."

GERMANY DECLARES WAR ON RUSSIA

Germany declared war on Soviet Russia last Sunday and the armies of these two nations are now locked in battle on the eastern front. These two countries recently signed a non-aggression pact but it seems since Hitler could not get the oil and wheat of the Ukraine (which he sorely needs) without a fight, he ordered Nazi Germany to make war on the Soviets.

Death Claims Will Sauter

Death came Saturday to relieve the suffering of Will Sauter who lived near Tarpley. He was born September 5, 1899 and was at the time of his death 41 years, nine months and 13 days old. Two years ago last March he suffered a stroke of paralysis and was confined to his bed for months. Following this attack he was so crippled that he could hardly get around. About 2 months ago he became bedridden. Everything loving hands could do was done for his comfort and the last few weeks he just slept and rested. His going was peaceful with no struggle. He calmly went to sleep with Jesus.

Funeral services were held Sunday morning at the Upper Tarpley cemetery with Mrs. Dora Bryson of Leakey, minister of the Apostolic faith conducting the services. Pallbearers were August Schreiber, Cletus Batts, Harold and Ralph Hiebert, Lafayette Monier and A. Jeffers. A large crowd of sorrowing friends were present to pay their last respects, and the floral offering was beautiful.

The deceased was converted to the Apostolic faith about a year ago and he lived and died in the same. He was a devoted son, affectionate brother, friend to friends and neighbors. He bore his sufferings patiently and never complained.

To the heartbroken mother and other relatives we offer our deepest heartfelt sympathy. May God's gracious blessing rest upon you and His loving hands comfort you in our sorrow.

Mrs. Hicks also reported that there would be a meeting some time in July—time and place not yet known—and urged us to go into the possibilities of organizing a community house. It is hoped that all flower lovers will pay special attention to this, and when the meeting is announced, be sure and attend. Should our success of organizing a club, we would be able to buy our plants at reduced prices. It is a delightful opportunity to study and use our native plants in landscaping and at the same time carry on a big home improvement project. Notice of the meeting will appear in the Bandera New Era and each Club member will be notified over the telephone.

After the ladies' started a short business session a large arm chair. When finished, this work will look like the work of a professional decorator.

Mrs. Haussler's living room was tastefully decorated with flowers of the season. She conducted a contest on flowers and called on Mrs. Hicks who knew first place.

At the end of the busy afternoon the ladies were served dainty refreshments and punch.

Place of the next meeting will be announced later.

RAILWAY LABOR UNION DEMANDS WOULD COST 900 Million Dollars A YEAR

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States—and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent—averaging 47 per cent—and amounting to 580 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.

Complete Unofficial Returns Show O'Daniel Senate Victor

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel was elected to the United States Senate for the unexpired term of the late Morris Sheppard by a plurality of 1,095 votes over Congressman Lyndon Johnson, the final report of the Texas Election Bureau showed late Tuesday.

An upsurge of O'Daniel votes from the rural districts of the state that were late in completing the count Saturday's election overcame the early lead of the White House-bloomed Johnson during which the Governor's ambition to go to Washington.

The vote on the final tabulation including the last precincts complete, was O'Daniel 175,368, Johnson 174,273, Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann 140,853, Congressman Dies 58,601. The compilation accounted for 571,094 votes.

The bureau stopped compiling figures on twenty-three other candidates given negligible consideration by the voters early in its operation.

With Governor O'Daniel going to the U.-S. Senate, Lt. Governor Coke Stevenson, former reporter of this district, will become governor.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

On July 4th, 1776, a flag was taken-in the long battle for human liberty which was probably the largest advance that had come ever made in history. For on that day the American people decided that the old restrictions that had constructed their freedom were to be cast aside, and a new nation was to be founded based on democratic and republican principles, thus ending the rule of kings and tyrants.

The Declaration of Independence signed by the United States proclaimed its birth as a nation, had effects that spread all over the world. It inspired similar movements in many lands. When these foreign countries saw the United States emerge from war through these principles and saw it after the war gaining in power and prosperity, they also moved to promote democratic movements of their own.

Slightly steadily became more democratic, and democratic ideas spread in Europe. South America was also affected, and nearly all the countries of that continent overthrew the tyranny and power of kings and established republics can governments.

These changes would never have happened, if the American people had not given the first successful example on a big scale of the possibility of such governments. The philosophers had dreamed of such governments for centuries, but our people were the first to make the principle of democracy a living force in the world.

"AT IS THE fate today that many colonized people have become democratic have come more or less under the power of dictators or party lo. Should they lose their faith that this is only a temporary condition, and that freedom is bound in the end to triumph by an enthusiastic celebration of Independence Day. The celebration should show what democracy really means, that it calls for education, intelligence, generosity, and good citizenship.

SUMMER CARE OF HOME GROUNDS

It takes a lot of care to tans a home though the amateur must keep it looking nice. In most localities it takes a lot of water to make things grow. The inspired home up the fender plants, and they look feeble and languid if you go off for a vacation, and there is no one behind to quench their thirst.

The high...ness of an American summer burns down on the grass of the lawn in fierce and scorching. Sometimes a lucky household-er who can get through the summer without putting plenty of water on that grass. You do not expect to see a child grow to health, unless he has plenty of water to drink, and it is the same with the things you are trying to grow on the home grounds.

DO PEOPLE WANT PROGRESS?

People often say they want to see their home towns go ahead, and they issue complaints because the rate of progress is not so fast as they think it should be.

It would be fair to ask what they have done to make these places go ahead. If they have not identified to the organizations that promote local causes and improvements, if they have not attended strictly to the duties of citizenship, if they have not kept their looking homes, and if they have failed to give hearty support to community movements, they have no reason to complain. It is because of such activities that communities make gains.

Many thousands of people collecting everything from pitchers to match covers, but here is a company that has a hobby. Rig-Friger Coffee Company of Kansas City, Mo. have been making a collection of drawings of ranch brands and their history. At present they have collected over 10,000 brands representing every western state and many of the Rockies and is still growing.

For over a year ranchers from the Canadian border to the Rio Grande have been cooperating in sending drawings of their brands to add to what has grown to be one of the largest such collections in the country.

So enthusiastic has been the response that the authors in the invitation to add their brands to this unique collection, the Folger Coffee Company to show its appreciation, is celebrating an unofficial "Rancher's Month" published by newspapers, radio and posters. So closely is this well western heritage associated with the American way of life, it is a pleasure to cooperate in any attention directed to the free and unregimented life of the glorious West.

SUPREME MISSION DEA IN OFFICE.

The flag over the Capitol was at half mast today and over the office of Congressman Andrew Jackson Houston (D. Tex.) who died in a hospital in Baltimore, Md. in the night.

The Congressional explosion who was appointed April 22 to fill the unexpired term of his father, late Senator Sam Houston, died in the Johns Hopkins Hospital from cancer, performed surgery in the case. A son of General Sam Houston, Texas hero of San Jacinto, Andrew Jackson Houston was born at Independence, Texas, June 23, 1854 and received his education at Peacock Military School in San Antonio, Texas. He studied law in the University of Texas.

Houston took office June 2nd and served only three weeks when death came.

The aged Texan graduated from West Point, but outside of going to the Philippines he took no part in war and was admitted to the bar in 1876. Three years later he was appointed district attorney for the 25th judicial district in Dallas and served 10 years. In 1903 Houston was appointed by President Roosevelt Northern Pacific Railroad, serving until 1905. He was appointed Federal Receiver of Texas in 1915 and 1917.

HOME TOWN'S THOUGHTS

Many people who speak in fulsome praise of Hollywood are really only reforming themselves. They have done nothing to remove those faults by relieving.

If you are going to give a public speech, you should give it something more than open the doors and give people a chance to leave. It is the same with running a business. Opening the doors and showing the goods thoroughly is not enough. Advertising is now necessary.

When you buy of the home stores, you help them pay the taxes that go a long way to support your home town.

"Come your dog often do that?" asked the stranger of the station-master.

"Yes, sir. Every time the express passes the dog is after it like a-hare."

"That's queer," commented the stranger. "Why does he do it?"

"I don't know the slightest," the master scratching his head thoughtfully. "What worries me is what he's going to do with it when he gets it."

RED HOMICIDE TO PLAY LAST A. & M. GAME TILT

Where he has coached his football teams, known and won over the years, his friends and opponents will be on hand to see Matty Bell in his final coaching game as head football coach at Texas A. & M. when the Aggies meet Captain Bo McMillin's Centre college team in a night game this afternoon in the last game under the direction of Bell and "White." This game climaxes a long and successful football career for Bell, the highest honor coming to him when he was named coach of the team.

He hasn't spent all his time with football, however, for he has been employed by the railroads in personnel work and a cadet commission, as captain of the Texas A. & M. Corps. Cadet Colonel McCreary was elected president of the A. Y. M. A. for the year 1941 and with the present world conditions cause him to relinquish the degree for the 1942 College year. Bell and Mrs. Bell have one son, Matty Bell, Jr. Just another of the hundreds of the world's finest gridiron men to be retired from the game.

Because it is home town and the last game for the horned heroes to be invited to their alma mater to be graduated from Bandera High School and from four years of service and twenty years before coming to A. & M. as a fighting Aggie has much variation in store for the soldiers in last military fashion at 12:30 in the afternoon; preparations from 1:00 until sundown, and then the big game. Everything local shows that night. He has played in every A. & M. rodeo, and has been a member of the A. & M. football team. He has finished in a blaze of glory this year with a first place in the steer roping contest.

His hobbies cannot be confined to any one subject, but pole, swimming, collecting and judging, and he has attended everything. He has raised almost none, he said. There is nothing that it gets on to your blood after you have been knocked around at the game." His weapons are rifles, shotguns, knives, sabers and guns. Part of his saber collection is raised to the walls of his room; they range from an old Civil War saber to a modern cavalryman's saber. He keeps his guns at home and is proud of his three Harpers Ferry Armstrong muskets. These are dated 1849.

Mexico City happens to be his favorite place to play polo when away from Aggieland, and he attributes this to the hospitality and easy-going way of life found there. The senoritas are beautiful and they are lots of fun, according to Bell, but he is sure of one thing—a local man has an option on his heart — A & M Battalion.

Conductor: Next station is Long Watt Junction. Change cars for Mauch Chunk, Squedunk, Quakertown and Podunk. Hokensquck, Catasauqua, Susquehanna, and Tamaqua.

A MILLION JOBS AND $35 MILLION TAXES REPORTED IN SURVEY BEER INDUSTRY

More than a million people earn their livelihood from the beer business and more than a billion dollars in investment, plus taxes and retail establishments selling beer paid out in 1940.

The Federal government itself realized, $230,000,000 from beer taxes. State tax and license fees were collected to the tune of millions of dollars. These together with local and other taxes brought the total to $35,000,000. The sale of the beer and duty to more than 300,000,000 in 1941 a substantial increase which was credited to national defense.

This contrasts with the estimated $1,000,000 spent for beer by all public restaurants during the session of the Pennsylvania years.

These figures were reported today in the 1941 edition of "Beer and Brewing in America," economic history of the industry originally compiled by the late Warren M. Persons, Professor of economics at Harvard University.

More than $195,000,000 was paid out in wages and salaries by breweries, and many millions more were accounted for by those industries supplying the beer industry. Local wholesale and retail establishments employed more than 900,000 people.

The handbook also shows that local businessmen and payrolls benefited from the billion eight hundred million dollars distributed through the American trade channels in 1940 as a result of the legal sale of beer and ale.

Beer's part in national defense is not confined to its tax contribution, the handbook points out. Beer is made available to the navy and marine corps camps and base canteens under government supervision as an adjunct to the recreational programs of the nation's armed forces.

The official position of the U. S. Army expressed by Major General E. S. Adams, adjutant-general, is that "it is believed unwise to deny a soldier, during his few hours of leisure, the privileges enjoyed by other citizens. Experience has proven that permitting the sale of beverages with 3.2 per cent beer has accomplished excellent results. It has encouraged military personnel to remain in reservation—their home—and enjoy entertainments under conditions far better than exist and are available to them off the reservation."

Mrs. Sarah Herrera Dead

On Thursday, July 3, 1941, Mrs. Sarah Rodriguez Herrera died at the home of her daughter in Austin after a short illness. The remains were brought to the old home pn Privilege Creek, and funeral services were held in Philip's Chapel with interment in the Privilege Cemetery Friday evening at 4 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. Yeargado, pastor of the First Mexican Methodist Church of Austin, assisted by Rev. Emmett Rodriguez, pastor of the Kerrville Baptist Church. The pall bearers were six grandsons: F. J. Herrera Jr., Walter Leal, Ernest Herrera, Jr., Rodger Herrera, Jesse Vargas, and Louis Herrera. A large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends was in attendance. Those coming from Austin, Houston, San Antonio, Boerne, Kerrville, and other points.

The funeral services were conducted in Spanish, and at the graveside the writer of this paid a tribute to the memory of the deceased.

Mrs. Herrera was born on Privilege Creek December 10, 1859. She was the eldest daughter of Jose Policarpo Rodriguez and settled there in 1857. At the time of her death she had reached the age of 81 years, 6 months and 25 days. She was married to Octaviano Herrera March 10, 1874. Her husband died April 16, 1918. She was the mother of 10 children, one of whom passed away in infancy. Two daughters and two sons survive her, they being W. H. Tallaferro, Mrs. Henry Lane, Ernest Herrera and Willie Herrera, of San Antonio; Mrs. Victoria Hoffman, Mrs. O. F. Leal, Mrs. Minnie Vargas and Reuben Herrera of Boerne, Albert Herrera of Fredericksburg, Mrs. Linda Boone and Mrs. Anita Soto of Austin, and F. J. Herrera of Bandera. There are 47 grandchildren and 34 great grandchildren living, and all of the children, grandchildren and great grandchildren were present at the funeral, except five grandchildren: Miss Beatrix Hotchkiss, a junior in the University of Texas, and is now in Mexico City; Mrs. Agnes Lynch, who is in the hospital in San Angelo; Mrs. Frank Arnold and Fred and Dan Leal, and Willie T. Herrera, Jr., who are in the United States Army.

Jose Policarpo Rodriguez was one of the early pioneers of Bandera County. He was a famous hunter, scout and Indian fighter, and was employed by the government troops in the early days. In 1857 he bought a tract of land on Privilege Creek from John James, and settled there with his wife, and there he raised his family of 10 children, being the first child born on Privilege. Jose Policarpo Rodriguez was known as "Polly" Rodriguez, was converted and became a Methodist preacher in the early days, and was attached to congregations throughout this section. With his own means and with the help of his spiritual labor himself he built the stone church building on Privilege Creek still known as "Polly's Chapel." He died in 1912, loved and honored by everyone. Many of the old pioneer Mexican citizen is one full of thrilling adventure, sacrifice, hardships and privations endured, and is told in a little book which was published some years ago, but is

SCRAP ALUMINUM WEEK

The week of July 21st has been designated by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel as a week to collect scrap aluminum. The program of each county is in charge of the county judge and in Bandera County by the Land Use Planning Committee will be in charge of collecting the metal in the outlying districts. This aluminum is being collected because there is a serious shortage. It will be turned over to the government for National Defense. It will be collected on a donation basis but the proceeds will be used for civilian defense.

There will be a place in each community to dump the metal and the main dump will be on the court house yard. Items found most are pots and pans, old auto parts, old mess kits, coco mat shakers, drinking cups, etc.

Everyone is requested to look over every junk pile on their premises and get all the aluminum they can. The county trucks will pick it up and bring it to Bandera. If anyone has no way of getting it in, please call Judge Pue or H. F. Schlemmer, and they will see that the matter is taken care of. The shortage is serious and every one should try hard to gather as much as possible.

In connection with the program the Junior and Senior Girls under the direction of Mrs. F. A. Mansfield has already begun such a project. J. C. Webb, owner of the Bantex Theater, has generously promised to have a special show soon at which time the Girls in charge will be some aluminum article. This will be a special picture and will not be shown at any other time.

Watch next week's New Era for more particulars.

SCHOOL TO JOB

Life sometimes runs along at a rut with little change. It is like driving an automobile through level prairie or desert land, when each mile seems like the one you left behind. Then you may run into rough country with sharp curves and steep hills, so that frequently you can't see 100 yards ahead. This is like the change that comes in life, as people have to adjust themselves to unfamiliar circumstances and solve new problems.

One of these marked changes occurs when young people reach the end of their school and college careers, and have to plunge into the world of work. That plunge is likely to be easier, now that many jobs are available, than it was when many graduates dropped down into the vacancy of unemployment.

Even though the youth is mighty glad to get a job, he has to meet conditions different from those of scholastic life. In school and college the standard and official force were there to help him. They lifted him over many hard spots.

In the working world, the novice is there to help the boss and all who are over and associated instead of the boss and the rest of the people being there to help him. He should not expect the same allotment of help that he found in the class room. He is in competition with his rivals and associates if he shows an inferiority. It may be thought that he is.

So it is a lot of a shock when the youth runs up against the hard facts of work and business, after the kindly and agreeable days of school and college. The world has a way, in spite of its coldness, of recognizing honest endeavor and intelligent effort. The hills of work are harder to climb than those of education, but those who work hard can usually climb them.

SANDER - HOLSTER

Miss Doris Holster became the bride of Ray Sander in a ceremony performed July 3rd in Corpus Christi. The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Holster who are living on the C. E. Jackson ranch near Medina. The groom is a rancher at Port San Houston and will complete his three years training in September. Mrs. Sander will for the present time be employed at the City Cafe.

The New Era extends congratulations and best wishes.

LISTER - MAYFIELD

A most beautiful wedding was solemnized on July 5th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Mayfield north of Medina, when Miss Lila Mayfield became the happy bride of Mr. Hall (Bill) Lister of Medina. The living room was beautifully decorated and as Miss Charlotte Walton played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin the happy couple was ushered in by the attendants. Miss Lela Porter and Fred Whisenhunt. They entered from opposite sides of the room and met in the center, turning, they stepped before the parson, the Rev. F. A. Walton, who read the ring ceremony. The nuptial rites were read in the midst of the beautiful setting and in the presence of the immediate family and a few close friends.

The bride was beautiful in dark blue with white accessories. The maid of honor was dressed in pink with white accessories.

After the wedding quite a bit of fun was enjoyed when their many friends tried to steal Miss Lister from her bridegroom. This was followed by a lunch on the banks of the Medina River and all left the young couple wishing for them many happy years of married life.

The New Era joins in extending congratulations and best wishes to Homer Mansfield and family of Junction visited here last Friday.

THE MEDINA LIBRARY

At a meeting of the Medina Library Association held at the Library building on Friday afternoon, July 11th, plans were discussed to devise means of continuing our library service, by having the library open at least on Saturday afternoons from 2:30 to 5 o'clock.

There are indeed sorry that the W. P. A. library service in this county had to be discontinued, at least for the present, as the Federal Government deemed it necessary to restrict this services to the places there accepted to supervision and to places in reach of our boys in training. We should be more conscious of our give up.

If the library, which is one of our greatest educational agencies, to be kept functioning, it will be absolutely necessary that you cooperate in this great project. No contribution box will be maintained at the Drug Store (and there will be one at the library when time it is kept open), and small donations from time to time will be our library's only success. Certainly, there are few ways in which a nickle, a dime or a dollar can be more profitably spent. This money will be spent to improve the library and keep it in operating and we intend to put in the library a record of all receipts and just how it is expended.

All library books, and especially those from the State Library, must be returned promptly, or we shall forfeit our privilege of using the State Library. Books from the Library in each book should be returned to the Drug Store where records will be kept.

A program for the benefit of the Library is being planned for Friday night, July 18th. See this issue of the New Era for a detailed account.

GOV. O'DANIEL DECLARED ELECTED

Austin, Tex., July 14.—The baton-swinging arm of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel Monday was lifted again in token of another senatorial election victory.

Twice chosen governor of Texas by tremendous majorities, the man who introduced hillbilly music to Lone Star politics was declared a hair-breadth winner over New Deal Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson in the recent special senatorial election for the seat of the late Morris Sheppard.

The official canvass of votes, latest development in one of the fiercest political battles in Texas' history, showed the governor moved out Johnson, who had the blessing of President Roosevelt, by 1,311 votes out of more than 500,000 cast for a score of candidates.

In tense atmosphere, before a throng jamming the office of the Secretary of State, sweating tabulators added up totals of 494,276 votes for O'Daniel and 174,279 for Johnson.

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann ran third and Congressman Martin Dies, chairman of the un-American Investigating Committee, finished fourth.

The count by the State Election Board of official returns from the counties confirmed the result of unofficial tabulations by newspapers announced two weeks ago, except that the governor gained 254 votes.

The board is composed of the Governor, the Secretary of State and the Attorney General.

2 MEN DIE FROM GAS INSIDE SILO AT COMFORT

Comfort, Tex., July 12.—Walter Stieler, 62, rancher and two helpers were overcome by gas and were drowned in a water-filled stone silo they were cleaning Saturday afternoon on the Stieler ranch six miles north of Comfort.

The accumulated gas halted an attempt of Max Widdendorf, a neighbor, to rescue the trio in the silo. Widdendorf lowered himself into the silo with a rope at the surface by others when the gas prevented the rescue.

A pulmotor loaned from Kerrville removed the victims, but efforts to resuscitate them were fu- tile.

SHOWS PUBLIC IS TURNING SPOTLIGHT ON DESK

A group of doctors at the Harvard Medical School has devoted many years to the study of epilepsy, and also migraines, which they regard as related afflictions. These doctors have joined with doctors in other cities and with an organization of lay people, and together they propose to get rid of the popular superstitions and tattoos about epileptic seizures which have been responsible for the dismal days of the Dark Ages. This Layman's League is spokesman. Its book for popular use which explains the whole business of seizures, whether they are convulsive or behavior disturbances (as Seizures; New Light on Epilepsy and Migraine," by William G. Lennox, published by Harper & Brothers, New York.)

To begin with, says this book, epilepsy isn't a mental disease, but a physical condition. It is manifested by "disordered electrical currents of the brain." The tendency is hereditary but the immediate cause is "chemical, or rather electrophysio-chemical."

Well, that's something science can deal with.

Considering that 500,000 Americans have "seizures" and that at least ten times that many inherently subject to them—that we spend tens of millions a year to maintain the lunatics and suffer fifty thousand to prevent the trouble—it seems reasonable to make a public business of the matter.

Recent researches have led to two great discoveries.

First is a machine which can record the electric pulsations of the brain. People subject to epilepsy produce a definite pattern on this record, whether they are having seizures at the time or not. The instrument helps both the danger signals, the progress and nature of the attacks, and aids in advice about children and heredity. The other discovery is the use of a new drug which helps to minimize the epileptic attacks.

This 259-page book, written in plain language, deals with every aspect of this question—personal, medical, social, economic. Of special interest to the public is the Layman's League, which is an organization composed of patients, and their friends and well-wishers. It takes a fighting stand against popular ignorance and superstition and proposes to give active support to medical research workers who are trying to find a cause and cure for these terrible disorders, epilepsy and migraine.

PEOPLE SHOULD BUY BONDS

The government is trying to persuade all types of people to put money into defense bonds. Some authorities have suggested that a portion of the increased wage payments received by workers should be alloted to the purchase of such bonds for the benefit of the workers.

It will be highly beneficial to the country to have billions invested in such bonds. One of the greatest dangers is that of a steady advance in prices and the cost of living which would create a lot of trouble in the business and industrial world.

Many millions of people are getting more money than they have had for years. If they spend all that money in buying the things they want, they will create scarcities, and prices will rise. But if a good part of their money is put into defense bonds, it will check the tendency to rising prices, help the government finance the defense program, and benefit them security against misfortune.

SHORTAGES

The defense program suffers from shortages of workers, and materials and machinery and tools. This is a condition which is the experience of recent years, when there was a surplus of almost everything, and millions of skilled people could not find employment.

It would seem as if almost any able bodied man who is willing to employed would do well to take advantage of this situation to learn some trade where labor is needed, even if it is not in the line in which he wants to make a living. A man who acquires some useful trade has a valuable asset which in any normal times will constitute a secure foundation for his life.

THE PASSING OF THE Boomtown

Oil boomtowns exist today only in the movies. The old-time "gusher" wells are gone forever.

In the early days, as long as oil flowed, the boomtowns flourished. But soon the wells failed and the booms collapsed, carrying with them the income and security of those who had depended on them.

Today, through a sound program of conserving oil and gas, hundreds of Texas communities are enjoying a permanent type of petroleum development. Furthermore, because of conservation, we have the largest oil reserves in the world, one of our greatest assets for National Defense.

Oil now builds stable communities. It provides assured tax revenues and greater ultimate tax returns than were ever possible in boomtown days. And every citizen benefits from the income oil creates.

Conservation not only protects Texas oil resources. It also assures for many years the prosperity which oil brings to every community where it is found.

Waterworks Project Completed by WPA

The Work Projects Administration, which began construction of the Bandera waterworks project on Sept. 16, 1940, completed its labors on the project yesterday (July 30, 1941). Approximately 17 per cent more work was accomplished by both the WPA and the Water Control and Improvement District than was originally intended. The working days authorized were 260 and 181 were actually used. Total funds approved were $79,185; Sponsor, $31,625.36. The maximum workers used numbered about 145 and the New Era was informed that this was one of the best bunch of workers to be found anywhere. Wilson Young was area engineer for WPA; and other WPA officials were Wm. R. Davis, Superintendent and J. D. Theriot, hill. John H. Frank and Alba E. Henderson, assistant superintendents. W. W. Burnetta Engineers of San Antonio represented the Water District with J. D. Bishop and Ray E. Stubbs as engineers. Members of the local Water Board are Frank Mansfield, Jr., President; E. E. Adamietz, secretary-treasurer; F. C. Billings, vice-president; R. G. Wieberg and W. W. Meitzen.

Other information about the waterworks is that the elevated tank of 60,000 gallon capacity was erected under contract by the Chicago Bridge Co. and a 40,000 gallon ground storage tank was built by W. T. Allor, Jr. A house 16 feet 10 inches by 21 feet 3 inches of solid native stone masonry with concrete floor and roof accomodates new well, equipped with model D Jensen jack with electric power unit, and horizontal centrifugal pump for pumping water from storage tank to distribution system. Pump is equipped with dual power units—gasoline and electric. There are about 12 miles of 8-inch mains, 10,000 feet of 6-inch mains, 2,000 feet of 3-inch mains and approximately 3,000 feet of smaller pipe. 4,581 feet of pipe was put back in from the old system and 2,299 was salvaged from old system with 1,000 feet yet to be salvaged. The number of meters in service is 171, with about 26 more to be installed. There are 22 fire hydrants in the area of town giving adequate fire protection.

J. D. Sutherland Passed Away

Joseph David Sutherland passed away at his home in Medina Monday at the age of 75 years, 10 months and 27 days. He was born in Bandera and was one of the real pioneer settlers of the county. His actions on compassion if he could carry the fawn and when told he could not, he killed it mercifully but not forlong. Mr. Sutherland had killed two bucks and these he brought to camp. His companion tired after awhile and turned back, which left Mr. Sutherland continuing to hold the deer on his shoulders until reaching camp.

Completion of the WPA naturalization record index in Bandera County, including the names of 126 persons naturalized, was announced by J. A. Hazelrigg, WPA district manager.

Later naturalization records required no servicing, he said, and such procedure having been followed in filing papers since 1906 has made it possible to obtain the information from the WPA project, he stated.

FARM LOANS MAY STILL BE APPLIED FOR, FARMER SAYS

Farmers who desire Farm Security loans to buy their own farms were urged to submit and file their applications by John B. Tidcott, farmer and chairman of the county farm security committee.

Mr. Talcott said that his committee is trying to hasten this work along so that every farmer will be in his newly owned farm without interfering with his next year's work.

Loans which bear only three per cent interest and are repayable over a 40-year period may still be applied for by worthy tenants, sharecroppers and farm laborers. Preference, however, is given to applicants who own all or a majority of livestock and equipment.

Partners in whom these loans are made choose the farms they hope to own and are not restricted to those which are fully improved. The loan may include funds to repair or build the home, barns and other buildings.

Applications for these loans should be made to the Farm Security Administration office located in the County Agent's office in Bandera, Texas.

That the plaintiff is lawfully seized and possessed of the following described tract of land situated in Bandera County, known as and described as follows, to-wit:

Being nine hundred and thirty thousand and fifteen (930,015) sq. yrs. of land situated and described as follows: In Bandera County, known as Survey No. 185,5 on the waters of Moffat's Creek, a tributary of Medina River about 18 miles S 32 W of Bandera City by virtue of W. B. Cert. No. 21-172 issued to Florence Stack by the Comr. of the General Land Office Aug. 8th, 1876, the original having been transferred by said Stack to J. A. Bernard and J. B. Johnson Aug. 5th, 1878, and by Bernard and Johnson to Liberty Hubbell June 28th, 1880 and by Hubbell to Victor M. Randolph by deed of record in Vol. 17, Page 440 etc. Sheriff's Deed Records, Bandera County, containing 4464 vrs. S 30 E from the N. E. cor. of Survey No. 186 of E. A. Martine originally in Bexar County, Texas, a mound of rocks, a bois d'arc 8 in. dia. brs. N 30 E 15 vrs., Theme S 30 E with said Martine's E. line at 80 vrs. the N. E. cor. of said Survey No. 185 at 2972 vrs. the N. E. corner, a mound of rocks, a bois d'arc walnut 10 in. dia. N 1 W 3 vrs., Theme S 60 E at 1000 vrs. N W line of Survey 187, S. S. Van Horn's S. W. cor. a mound of rocks, a bois d'arc 24 vrs. N 49 E 18 vrs., Theme S 60 W at 1000.2 vrs. the beginning.

That plaintiff holds and claims the above described tract of land in fee simple by virtue of a continuous chain of title from the sovereignty of the soil to her.

That in addition to her fee simple title, plaintiff shows that she has good and perfect title to said land under the statute of limitation of three years.

That plaintiff and those under whom she claims title have been cultivating, using and enjoying the said premises, and adversely holding the same openly under a Deed or Deeds duly recorded for more than three years before the filing of this suit.

That plaintiff and those under whom she claims title have had and held peaceable and adverse possession of said premises, cultivating, using and enjoying the same for a period of more than ten years.

Plaintiff further states and shows to the Court that she and those whose estate she has have had and held the tract of land hereinabove described for more than twenty years in continuously up to now by peaceable, adverse claim of right and in good faith under a regular chain of title deraigning from the State of Texas, to the numerous deeds of title duly recorded in the Deed Records of Bandera County, from wherefore she says that she has a good and marketable title to said land under and by virtue of the above stated limitation of twenty five years, which she respectfully pleads in bar of any claim that the defendants herein or any of them may now assert.

Plaintiff shows that the defendants are now asserting some character of claim to the land above described tract of land, but they show that any claim they or any of them may have to said land, is now barred under the three and five years, and the Twenty Five years of limitation as above pleaded and sworn.

That the claims of the defendants as above alleged, the exact nature of which is unknown to either of them may have had to their rights of action through the statute of Three, Five, Ten and Twenty Five years of limitation as above pleaded and sworn.

That the claims of the defendants as above alleged, the exact nature of which is unknown to plaintiff, casts a cloud upon her good title to said tract of land and prevents her from getting adequate value, and that plaintiff is entitled to have said cloud removed and be quieted in her title.

That by the adverse and unjust claims of defendants plaintiff has been damaged in the sum of One Thousand Dollars.

Wherefore premises considered plaintiff prays that the defendants be cited to appear and answer herein as required by law, and that upon a final hearing hereof she have judgment for the title and possession of the described tract of land and premises, and that a writ of restitution and for such damages that all clouds cast upon the title of the plaintiff be removed; that she be decreed to be the owner thereof in fee simple and quieted in her title thereto, and she prays for all such other and further relief special and general, in law and in equity to which she may show herself justly entitled.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Bandera, Texas, this the 7th day of July A. D. 1941.

Rosoe L. Hayes,
Clerk, District Court, Bandera (Seal) County

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

You can't make water run uphill. It is equally hard to make a town go ahead, if the people refuse to cooperate with public movements.

A prosperous town sells more to the outside world than it buys from that outside world. You can contribute to that prosperity here in Bandera by doing your buying at home.

WORK AND PLAY

It was often said of the folks of a former day, that they toiled "from early morn to dewey eve." It was literally true of very many of them. During the shorter days, many of them rose regularly before dawn. They had to, to milk the cows, cook breakfast, and start the work of the day. They never seemed to complain of that tireless industry, so far as we can judge by what they tell their descendants.

They loved to work. They had very few amusements to divert their attention from their toil. It satisfied them to see their farms constantly improving, to see their stores prospering, and their shops turning out goods that would sell, to see their families thriving on good food, and enjoying comfortable homes.

The people of today would call it a terribly humdrum life, exhausting to the body, its grinding routine crushing the human spirit. They would say they would go crazy under such discipline.

It comes down to the question of what interests people. If they have to have novelty, excitement, and thrills to keep them going, some people would suffer severely in that toilsome life. The ordinary tasks were a kind of game to the old timers. They never dreamed of going out on any golf links, and seeing if they could put the ball into 18 holes in the least number of strokes. They were better satisfied to milk the cows in the least number of minutes, and to feed them so they would get a maximum of milk.

They enjoyed such things just as we enjoy driving our cars or dancing the fox trot. The world has gone from an extreme of excessive toil, to an extreme of demand for sport and enjoyment. It will not probably attain the maximum of progress, until it reaches a kind of golden mean between work and play.

An Oklahoma editor published two pictures, one of a delapidated house and the other of an eroded field, and invited his readers to take part in a "You Write The Story" contest. Here is the prize-winning letter, written by an Indian:

Both pictures show white man crazy. Make big teepee. Plow hill. Water wash, wind blow soil. Grass gone, whole place gone to ——. Buck gone, Squaw, too. Papoose gone. No pig, no corn, no cow, no pony.

Ain't civilization wonderful?

MEDINA SCHOOL ITEMS AND A FAREWELL

Many people are asking me if I have resigned. I have not resigned. I announced publicly two years ago, and again a year ago, that I was not intending to accept another contract with the school. I regret resigning as a very serious matter, since accepting the time that I permitted the Original School Board of Trustees me to leave the Judge's office and accept the superintendency of Medina Rural High School District, I think that the records will show that I have resigned only twice in a period of more than 20 years. Once I resigned because weekly dances were making it impossible for me to succeed with the school, and the other time I did not feel that I could carry it. In both cases I stayed on the job until another teacher was employed.

I am asking that every one of you stand behind your school board. They are good men, and they have made mistakes, that is no more than we are all doing every day. In the matter of locating the new agriculture and shop building, I believe that they got it where the majority thought that it should be, and if they had not, they would have been criticized by the new set of trustees. The thing to which I objected was the attitude adopted toward "no" by some of the board members in arriving at the decision to break up the plan of the building program which I had been appointed to work out, and with reference to which other buildings had been placed. I think that there are at least ten good reasons why the building program should have been carried out as planned, but if the board, after full and free discussion in open session, saw fit to carry other important matter had been settled during the eleven years I had decided that I was wrong, then it would have been their duty to decide against me, and I would have accepted their decision with the same good will that I have always tried to show when the board in setting aside my recommendations.

Regardless of what some profess to believe, the board has in many instances refused to be guided by my recommendations, and I have always done my best to carry out the policies of the board whether I agreed with them or not. For a few examples: I tried my best to get the school board to buy much larger buses; I advocated continuing the Wallace Creek School; I urged that we sell all buses to driven by teachers boarding at the junior ends of the bus lines; many times I urged the board to make regulations definitely controlling the matter of smoking on the school grounds; I requested the re-employment of a certain man to operate a bus, but because he had taken many responsibilities thus allowing me more time for other things; but the fact is that the school board has chosen not to follow my suggestions when they thought best, and I have always cheerfully accepted their decisions whether they followed my suggestions or not. I trust that this will enable everyone to un-

County USDA Committee Named

The Bandera County United States Department of Agriculture Defense Board has been organized the chairman of the Board, has announced.

Membership of the board consists of H. J. Schleimer, Extension Service; A. M. Cone, F. H. A.; James A. Gallant, A. A. A., and Raymond Hicks, A. A. A. and R. E. A. Raymond Hicks who was named chairman of the Board by Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard also is chairman of the County A. A. A. Committee. B. F. Vance, Administrative Officer in charge of the A. A. A. in Texas was named chairman of the USDA State Defense Board.

"All over the nation, in every county and state, USDA Defense Boards are being formed to work with the farm people so as to best serve the national interest in the national defense effort," the Board chairman said.

"Agriculture is doing its share towards perfecting the national defense. From the beginning of this present Hostilities Europe has proclaimed and demonstrated its readiness. Demands have been made for increased production of certain commodities, such as pork, eggs, milk, cheese, and some vegetables. Agriculture has met those demands.

"But with the defense effort gathering speed and with the United States giving "ever-increasing assistance to Great Britain and other democracies at war, still greater demands will be made upon agriculture. The purpose of the County and State USDA Defense Boards is to see that the farm people of this county are informed as to what is expected of them and how best they can help in the cause of national defense."

U. S. O.

It has now been several weeks since I first received and distributed literature from United Service Organization headquarters. That has been a nice little amount of money turned over, to me, from the several hundred dollars that Bandera County is expected to raise.

This money is to go for the benefit of our boys who are in training in the service. We all have a son, brother or a neighbor in training; why should we not be glad to contribute a few cents for their comfort? Few of them are in training of their own choice. We make them just as pleasant as possible for them all.

The following persons have been appointed to collect money in the various neighborhoods of Bandera County: Mrs. Stein and Mrs. Tom Conwill, Mrs. Ben Harris, brother or a neighbor' in Mrs. Sterling Fisher, Mrs. Stanton Crenshaw, Mrs. J. J. Leighton, Van Kesel and Kathryn McBryde, Medina; J. B. Talcott, West Prong;

THE MIGRATING HABIT

Probably the American people are the most migratory people in the world. They have sung and a habit of picking up their household effects and moving to other sections when they thought they were better opportunities. The West would never have been settled to the extent it has been but for this generation spirit.

The habit has been with us long enough to settle down in the towns where they were brought up in the old homes. Many have gone and moved into other communities of the exact climate suffering and hardships that their forefathers had to meet and conquered the whole country.

America owes a great deal to that spirit of enterprise. It is not hard to see the courage it took to take part of the wilderness and the Indians would still be roaming the plains and the buffalo in the valley and the Pacific coast would be unsettled but for the migratory habit. Sometimes it seems that the migratory habit becomes more than a good thing. The desire of that migratory habit becomes more than a good thing. The desire of that migratory spirit is getting some people restless. Many of them have moved from one town to another, from one state to another, from one section to another, from one country to another, and from one continent to another, and they seem better satisfied to be moving.

Of course, there is a good deal to be said for the migratory habit. Many of them have moved to other towns and other states and other countries and have prospered and have done much good in the world. They have carried with them the principles of good citizenship and have helped to make the world better.

But there is a good deal to be said for the man who stays at home and tries to make the town where he was born and raised a better place to live in. He is the man who is responsible for the progress of the town. He is the man who builds the churches and schools and who supports them. He is the man who is responsible for the good roads that lead into the town. He is the man who is responsible for the good government of the town. He is the man who is responsible for the good citizenship of the town. If they will go into their churches and into their communities and help others in the organizations. They will have a sense of pride in good deeds done. They will make so many friends that life is richer and happier and more profitable for them.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

The home town merchant is working every day to build up your home town, which benefits you. Better cooperate with him by your good endeavors by giving him your patronage.

The elements of happiness are not found by roaming around to distant places, but rather they are to be located right under our noses in our home town. Friendships and relations that bring people together and a chance to develop our talents are the essentials of happiness and they are abundantly found here in Bandera.

The bill calls for keeping selectees and guardsmen in the service 18 months longer and $10 per month increase after the first year. 21 Republicans joined 181 Democrats in support of the measure, while the opposition votes were cast by 65 Democrats, 133 Republicans and three minor party members. Refugee Children at Lions Meeting

All members of the Lions Club are urged to be at the meeting tonight (Thursday) at the Lariat Cafe at 8 o'clock. The dump ground is practically secured and only the sanction of the club is needed. This is a fine project of the club and deserves the wholehearted cooperation of the public.

Last Thursday night members were privileged to hear a program by a group of youngsters from the Raven Ranch above Medina. One was a twelve-year-old refugee girl from England who sang "There Will Always Be an England" and also told how happy she was to be here in America. Also a French boy who sang "The Marseillies" the French national anthem. He was unable to speak English when he came here but is now able to speak fairly well. Another was a German boy who played an accordion. He has composed music and also played on the piano. These children are all refugees who have been sent here to escape the horror of the ravages in their home lands. It is too bad that their elders cannot look in person as we here in America. Perhaps some day the spirit of friendliness will pervade the universe and the spirit of war will disappear from the face of the earth.

The Club had a record attendance of 21 members. Andrew Smith of San Antonio, District Governor, was present and voiced his appreciation of the work the local club is doing.

VOLUNTARY COOPERATION

Some idea of how far voluntary cooperation can be depended upon to promote national welfare was given in the states along the Atlantic coast when the "gasoline" stations were urged to close on 8 p. m. so as to save gasoline and oil. It was remarked on the Sunday when the restrictions were applied only to filling stations that the demand for gasoline was greater than ever. Where people usually hurriedly buy about five gallons at a time, now the usual order was "fill 'er up." Some motorists pretended to, and which they ordered filled. This heavy demand did not help any to save the petroleum products which are so greatly needed.

It is not to be supposed that the residents of these states are less cooperative than people elsewhere. They simply represent that common trait in the human nature, of looking out first for No. One.

In an ideal state of society, not to say Utopia, this is unnecessary. The people would look to their natural leaders for guidance. When some sacrifice was found recommended as necessary for the general good, people would voluntarily and promptly make the voluntary action" would solve most of our problems.

The average automobile owner in the eastern states who was asked to save gasoline probably thought that his contribution would be filling their tanks so that they could get through with only one stop. Which apparently stocks up.

We need more voluntary cooperation, and less of saving gasoline and oil. Many articles are going to be scarce before the end of the emergency. Non-cooperation calls for practicing caution now that they buy these things. Hoarding creates scarcity and higher prices. People should find little satisfaction in doing things which operate against the public welfare.

HOME ATTRACTIONS

One way to build up the resources of a community is to provide such attractive features in the town life that people have little time to go elsewhere, either to live or for special trips day or night. For instance, a town that maintains a baseball team that compares well with its competitors, keeps many people at home by its ability to put on fast and interesting games. A town that has good swimming places, attractive picnic grounds, etc., is going to attract many visitors from the outside. It is going to keep its people contented in their home environment. With such attractions, they are not apt often tempted to go away from home and spend their money.

PUBLIC INTEREST IN TRADE

The people are very keenly interested in the business of buying merchandise and supplying themselves with things they want and need. They are often heard talking about where is the best place to buy this or that article, and what they have to pay for certain things. They have a limited amount of money to make go a long way, and they want to know how to spend that money to the best advantage.

That gives the advertised store a tremendous advantage. Every line of information it gives about goods and prices is eagerly read. The offer of popular goods at attractive prices brings a steady stream of buyers, and the cost of the advertising is paid for over again through increased volume of trade.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If you want your home town to go ahead, don't dispute its power to do so by spending your money away from home.

Many people fail because they lack faith in their power to do important things. Many towns fail because the people as a whole lack faith in the ability of their community to do the things needed for progress.

People all say they want to live in nice neighborhoods. One way to create a nice neighborhood is to keep one's home in such perfect condition that neat and refined people are attracted to the neighborhood.

ANNUAL N. F. L. A. MEETING SEPT. 6

September 6th, 1941 has been set as the date for the annual meeting of members of the Bandera National Farm Loan Association, President A. Pyka announced following a meeting of the association directors in the farm loan office at Bandera.

Committees in charge are planning to make this year's meeting one of the best in the history of the association which began making Federal Land Bank loans in Bandera County in 1917, President A. Pyka said.

NOV. 30 CLOSING DATE FOR NEW GROWERS

Raymond Smith, chairman of the Bandera County AAA Committee, has been advised by the state office that on August 30, 1941, is the closing date of accepting requests for 1942 new grower wheat allotments.

Farmers who have not planted any wheat for harvest during 1939, 1940 and 1941, but desire to plant wheat for the first time in 1942, are considered new growers. The acreage which new growers will receive is taken from a county reserve, which in most counties, represents approximately 3 per cent of the county allotment.

All farms receiving wheat acreage allotments for the first time this year, regardless of the size of the acreage allotted, is eligible for either conservation or parity payments, but in case market-quota penalties on the farm may be made on that portion of the wheat in excess of the farm allotment.

Requests for new grower allotments should be filed in the county A.A.A. office as soon as practicable. Hicks pointed out, since no applications may be filed after the closing date.

KENDALL COUNTY FAIR

The 36th Annual Kendall County Fair will be held in Boerne on Aug. 29, 30 and 31.

The Board of Directors, with the ehib assistance of the Ladies Advisory Board, have completed the plans for the holding of this annual event, and splendid exhibits are assured in all departments. From present indications the Live Stock entries will surpass all previous showings. The best beef and dairy cattle, hogs, sheep, goats and horses will be on display. This added interest in livestock should make it largely due to the efforts of the F. F. A. and 4H Clubs.

Entertainment for the vast crowd that will attend this annual event has been arranged. Thrilling and carnival attractions, including rides of all kinds will be on the midway. The recently reorganized Boerne School Band, ball games and thoroughbred horse racing and other entertainment will be provided. A splendid program of races will be run on Saturday and Monday afternoons.

Dancing will be feature attractions every night in the cool pavilion. Special dances and orchestras will furnish the latest of dance music.

TARPLEY H. D. CLUB

On Thursday, Aug. 14 the club met at the lovely ranch home of Mrs. Tarpley Jones and the cordial welcome, the ladies went into the business session. All members were urged to bring something to the fair in Bandera. Only by each one doing her part can the success be assured. Also all members of the club are urged to contribute some thing in the way of fruits, vegetables and bubbles to help make the fair a success.

Club women are definitely going to help with the above named things; but will also sponsor an auction sale of baked goods. Mesdames Merritt, Geuss and Hausser were appointed by the president to take charge of our booth.

After the business was finished, Mrs. Hausser served several new and interesting games. In one contest a lovely set of shadow boxes was awarded to Mrs. Geuss. In another, a lovely salad set was awarded Mrs. Kyle.

Mrs. Merritt then served a delicious plate lunch consisting of chicken salad on lettuce, asparagus, olives, macaroons, chocolate coated marshmallows, with punch. After this she urged the ladies to come and admired her entire home, and left with sincere appreciation of her gracious hospitality.

The Hathaways have as their guest from San Saba, at their cottage-home on the river here, their good friend, Mrs. J. B. Greathouse of Brownwood, Mrs. Greathouse was one of the best-known bridge contractors in Southwest Texas for many years, and was later employed by the State Highway Department for years, part of the time as superintendent of maintainance of the Bandera-San Antonio Road, and during that time, he formed some close and lasting friendships with Bandera county people. He retired from active business a few years ago, and died recently after a lingering illness. Mrs. Greathouse is considering the purchase of a home at Bandera, and we hope she may do so.

Mrs. Geo. Miller had quite a bit of excitement at her ranch recently when her pet monkey got away and climbed to the top of a tall cypress tree. He was finally retrieved from his perch and all is well again.

ST. MARY'S RATTLERS OPEN FALL TRAINING

San Antonio, Aug. 18.—Fall football practice for the St. Mary's of Texas squad started promptly at 6:30 a. m. on Monday, Aug. 11 and some 60 youths were on hand —the large majority from Texas cities and towns—for the opening of the gruelling grind in preparation for the 11-game schedule. Coach Lloyd Russell has worked out.

Schedule of practice is so planned that the brainy and brawny footballers will have little time left for anything except eat, work, sleep, and live football until Saturday, Sept. 13, when the Rattlers open at home in Alamo Stadium against Southwestern Oklahoma of Weatherford. They have another home game on Sept. 27, against Southeastern Louisiana of Hammond and then will go on the road first road trip to play Jefferson Barracks Air Corps in St. Louis, Mo.

The first eve of the start of practice, Coach Russell and assistant coach Alvah Braun had a talk to the squad from 27 cities of Texas and two cities of Arkansas as "practically certain" to be on hand for the opening gun. Fifteen of the boys are from San Antonio; most of the rest of the cities have but one representative. Coach Russell said: "There'll be others that will like to see them here first before announcing their names."

About one-half of the U. S. O. fund in Bandera County has been raised. The second part of the county has raised most of the money while the eastern part of the county is enough. If you haven't given a donation do so at once so that the full quota of $200 can be sent to headquarters.

W. T. Simmons has purchased the Bandera Laundry from Mrs. N. A. Gray and took charge of same last week. He respectfully solicits your patronage.

We want to ask the cooperation of the whole county in our undertaking, to get over the Fair and Stock Show. All organizations are requested to let us know what part they will be willing to help, and all individuals will be asked to report to the chairman. Ray Wyatt and Alvin Clark will be in charge of the donations of goats and sheep for the barbecue and we request that you get in touch with them if you can donate a goat or sheep.

Barbecue dinner and cold drinks will be served on the grounds on Saturday and Monday. We will have carnival attractions. Ten Home Demonstration Clubs will display their handiwork and if you have a display get in touch with Mrs. Alvin Clark or Miss Maydelle Prueger.

Our County Agent, H. F. Schlemmer, has charge of the stock exhibits. Please get in touch with him about your exhibit, also wait until you see the display of billies and bucks before you buy yours this year.

The proceeds of this Fair are to be used for the liquidation of the debt owed on the Library. A drive for the donation will be published in our paper.

Thank you for your interest in this Fair and let us work hard to make this a permanent organization.

Tommie R. Thatcher was born Sept. 19, 1887, in Comal County and died Aug. 26, 1941 at his home in Houston, being almost 54 years of age. He lived near Medina during his childhood and early manhood and was a friend to everyone. One of his greatest delights was to meet and greet his old friends as well as to make new ones. He was a faithful member of the Friendly Baptist Church. He was a kind and devoted husband and father, a true friend and an upright citizen.

For the past fifteen years he had been employed by the Black Brothers Furniture Co. in Houston.

He and his wife spent the 47th of July holidays in the home of his sister, Mrs. S. A. Keese near Medina and it was the happy privilege to have his one brother and three sisters join him for a family reunion.

He was married to Miss Ollie Hare on Dec. 24, 1908. He leaves to mourn his death his beloved wife, and daughter, Mrs. Ilon Welsh of Houston, three sisters, Mrs. O. A. Keese of Medina, Mrs. J. M. Humphrey of Macon, and one brother, Henry Knatcher of Fredonia, all of whom were present at the funeral which was held Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted by Brother Lewis Hall, pastor of the Friendly Baptist Church in Houston.

We extend sympathy to the bereaved husband and daughter and the other bereaved relatives and friends.

LABOR CREATES CIVILIZATION

Why was Labor Day appointed in the first place, and why does it continue a popular holiday? The average person might answer merely that it supplied a much needed recreation, but it was originally established by a quite different purpose. That objective should not be forgotten.

The original motive for appointing it was to call attention to what was called the labor movement, representing mainly the effort of those who work with their hands to obtain a greater share of the blessings of modern progress. The labor movement has gone on to become one of the most powerful influences in national life. The people who work with their hands are infinitely better off than they were when this movement started.

Labor Day also means that labor is here a share of civilization as you travel in some uncivilized country, you would probably find that there is no such thing as persistent labor. The savage tribes hunt and fish and raise crops in an irregular way. Their standard is spasmodic and unorganized. If there was enough food in the cabin for the family, and enough fuel to keep the place warm in winter, the savage would not probably feel like laboring.

When people become actuated by ambition, they see that man needs regularity in his labor, to build comfortable homes and cities. So our whole progress depends on labor. It is absolutely essential that the chance to labor be provided.

One of the causes of the recent depression was that it is a very dangerous thing for the country for any great number of people to lack any chance to labor. One of the first things to be recognized on Labor Day, is as to how everyone can be given a chance to labor regularly, and how the people can be aided to labor in the most efficient way.

PUTTING ON THE OLD HARNESS

It is quite an effort to some people to settle down into the ordinary rut of labor after a vacation. They have had a vacation when they were free to wander or loaf. If they wanted to sleep until noon, no alarm clock woke them, and no factory whistle or railroad time table jerked them out of bed.

Now when vi comes it is going back to the same old home and the same old job. it comes hard on many of them. Some of them have some restlessness of the delights they have had, and will not easily enjoy more of them. The patient attention to duty, the strains and unpleasantness of the ordinary life, seem doubly hard after one has escaped from these things.

Perhaps there is something wrong with us, if it comes hard to get on the old harness. The trouble may not be with the harness, but with ourselves. Human nature seems to need a harness. If it is just like a wild colt, kicking up its heels and running aimlessly about the pasture, it isn't doing anywhere. The harness is put on up, so we can pull things where we want them.

ATTRACTIVE TOWNS GROW

It takes something more than town boosting or direct efforts to help a town draw in new business, to make it grow; but it does have to be done to make the place seem attractive.

If every home owner would see to it that his dwelling was kept in attractive condition, that it looked neat and beautiful, the reputation of that town would spread fast. Visitors would come and go with the report that that town is a charming looking place, that it gives every evidence of prosperity and culture. The spread of that reputation would make people want to live there. New residents would be attracted, and present citizens would hate to leave.

You should be glad to see the old home town when you get back from vacation. It is the place that gives you the chance to earn a living and produce a comfortable home.

NEW TYPE OF ARMY

The changes in the art of making war call for a new type of army. In World war days, man power was the main thing. It took millions of men in the British, French and American armies to overcome the millions of Germans.

Modern war has become primarily a thing of machines. It takes many trained and skilled men to operate these machines and implements of war but the great masses of infantry of former wars no longer seem necessary. The need for the future is apparently to be for an extremely powerful navy, capable of licking any possible combination on the sea, and an army of moderate size highly skilled in manipulating all the instruments of death.

H OF CHRIST ES NEXT SUNDAY

re cordially invited to hear James Mills at the Church of Christ in Medina next Sunday, at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Mills is an able young from Groves Avenue of Christ in San Antonio, a student in the Air Corps ks Field. Come and bring with you.

Mrs. and Mrs. L. F. Stark and rs of San Antonio arrived for a visit with her par- and Mrs. C. H. Brient.

Duke of Kent Welcomed to New York

His royal highness, the duke of Kent, brother of King George VI of England, is welcomed to the city by Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia upon the duke, in a plane of the Canadian air force, landed at LaGuardia field, where this picture was made. He took an automobile for Hyde Park, where he spent the week-end with President Roosevelt.

REGARDING U. S. O. COLLECTIONS

A letter today from E. B. Sterling of Dallas, Texas, State Chairman of the United Service Organizations, says in part: "Our meeting at Hillsboro convinced us that we can with a week's intensive work, get this campaign over in good shape and not be ashamed of our showing in Texas."

As the County Chairman of the U. S. O. I am asking the citizens of the Eastern half of Bandera County to wake up and get busy and that we will not have to be ashamed of our showing in Bandera County.

I am asking you to bring or send in your donation without waiting to be contacted personally. This fund is to be used for the benefit of the boys in the armed forces, be they here or some will have, a son, brother or a neighbor in the army. Your donation will be for his benefit.

The Western half of Bandera County has responded liberally, very little has been given by residents of the Eastern half.

There is no house to house canvass being conducted there should be no one of one.

Hand or mail your check to your local chairman or mail it directly to me for any amount you feel like you can give to Albert Stein and E. C. Ray of Bandera have been appointed to collect this money and to them and Blanche G. Neel at Pipe Creek. We still lack a considerable sum of having Bandera County's quota.

Let us not default on our obligation to the boys in the army. Mr. Germany says, "We must have everything—meaning all collections—in our hands by Sept. 15."

Please give this matter your immediate attention. It is of vital importance to the boys in training.

Sincerely,

A. V. Fue, Co. Chairman

DEFENSE COURSE STARTS STUDENT ON NEW CAREER

Until he enrolled for a 12-week course in the Defense Agricultural College defense training school at Arlington recently, A. J. Mazurek, 1924 Forest Park Boulevard, never had been inside a machine shop.

Reared at Bandera, Mazurek had worked at odd jobs until he came here two years ago and landed a job as clerk with Armour & Co. Last fall he decided to take some work at Texas A&M College. Outwardly, but when the defense training program began he dropped his university studies and enrolled.

Mazurek worked six to eight hours a day and took his defense training instruction at N. T. A. C. from 11:30 p. m. to 7 a. m. It was a tough grind but he doesn't regret a bit of it now. He finished his course, which is offered free on one Saturday and went to work at the North American plant the next Monday. He had two raises already and is in line for another.

Mazurek is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mazurek of Bandera. He has a brother, Tom W. Mazurek, in training at the Naval Base at San Diego, Cal.

The defense training courses in Tarrant County are sponsored jointly by the Texas State Employment Service, the vocational division of the public schools and the National Youth Administration. Jobs are not guaranteed those who take the course but a large percentage of those who have taken it already are at work on defense plants.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

LARGE CROWDS ATTENDED BANDERA CO. FAIR AND RODEO

The Bandera County Fair opened Saturday morning and good sized crowds were on the grounds at all times to view the displays. The canned goods and hand work were found to be of a high order and Bandera County can be proud of the work it is doing. The educational displays by the Home Demonstration Clubs were different than those usually found in a fair-but those who viewed them must have gone away with a feeling that the club work is splendid. Each club had one phase of the home and church as its, focal point and the Home Demonstration Council deserves the thanks of the public for their effort in putting on such a good fair.

The judging of the sheep and goats was held Monday morning and by that afternoon over $1,000 worth of animals had been sold.

John Drew's agricultural exhibit on display by K. H. Stokes of Medina and an International truck was displayed by O. O. Adams of Medina.

The American Maid Band Wagon was on hand Monday afternoon to furnish music.

C. H. Brient as general chairman, H. C. Bandy, judge of sheep and goat show chairman, and Mrs. Alvin Clark as chairman of the women's division, are to be commended for the fine fair presented. Mr. Brient has requested it announced that he will give a complete report on the donations, receipts and expenditures made possible. Proceeds of the fair are to be used to liquidate the indebtedness on the Library Auditorium.

Large crowds attended the rodeo performances Saturday night, Sunday afternoon and Monday night. Each show was filled with colorful and exciting roping and the fine stock used helped to make it an outstanding rodeo. The shows opened with the presentation of the United States and Texas flags, followed by the grand entry of the ropers and cowgirls taking part in the various events. The large Brahma bull and bucking bronco gave their riders rough rides and the audiences many a thrill. Bulldogging was presented for the first time in a Bandera show and the audiences said it's.

Jeff Reavis of Utopia and his educated horse, Danger, were given applause for their fine performance. They have appeared in Madison Square Garden in New York as well as the other larger rodeos over the nation.

Another educated animal was the huge Brahma bull shown by its owner, Tom Brooks Wood. The bull trainer was unable to be present on account of illness. It is hard to tell which is a gentle and vicious looking animal, could be taught to do the tricks he did.

Street parades were held Saturday afternoon and Monday afternoon with the cowboys and riders took part. Guest ranches were represented and ropers have to enter the parades to participated.

Vernon Hines of Brackettville was the winner of the fine bridle given by Sears Roebuck and Co. for the roper who made the best time for tiedown in the three rodeos.

BACK TO NORMAL

After one of the biggest weekends in the history of Bandera things are getting back to normal. It is estimated that about 6,000 people spent the week-end here and they had plenty of entertainment. Friday night Mansfield Park gave a "Houston Nite" dance which drew a capacity crowd. Saturday morning the Bandera County Fair opened and that night the first of three big rodeos was held. Saturday night Mt. Bugh Courts gave a big dance.

Sunday morning a Dude Rodeo was held at Mansfield Park followed by a barbeque dinner.

Sunday afternoon the second of the rodeos was held and that night Mt. Bugh Courts again gave a big dance. Monday night the visitors had the rodeo and another dance at Mansfield Park to entertain them.

MY FRIEND VISITED ME

"Early last Friday afternoon, as I lay on a cot at Camp Ben McCulloch, trying to get some rest, a rather distinguished looking grayhaired gentleman walked up to me, extended his hand and said, "You don't know me. Well, you knew me back in 1900." I took his hand, looked at him a few seconds, then said, "Mist Be Grant." I was correct—Capt. Grant—Gen. Thos. F. Grant when I knew him.

When I was running my first newspaper—the Medina Sun—in the spring of 1900, Grant came from Frankfort, Ky., to Milburn as pastor of the Christian Church there. He was just a boy, and I was a young man, twelve years apart, and we became very close friends. I left Milburn in August, 1900, and "Andy" Grant left Milburn for San Antonio several years ago". I had not seen Grant until last Friday, a lapse of a lineage lots of 40 years.

Sometime after I left Milburn, Grant left the Christian church near Brady, and later organized a church in Brady—I think he called it the Central church. He continued its pastor until the World War opened, when he entered the army as a chaplain, but as an infantry private. He went to France and became a lieutenant before he left. Probably captain with Gen. Morgan of Kentucky in the Confederate Army.

Grant was born in Boone County, Ky., and I came from Caldwell county. We talked lots, and he told me a good many more things than I could. One thing he told me was disturbing—he had not preached since he came home from France—he said a man who served as an infantry captain in France could not be a preach any more. He was, of course, mind I am distrustful of him. He is a wonderful leader of men. He has been, and still is, an outstanding leader in Christian work. In 1923 he took a course in painless adjusting in response to requests of chiropractors who have had extended experience in this new science. Many doctors now have this service without making extended trips to places where the basic technique method is practiced.

Dr. Clark is an enthusiastic member of the Lions Club and he and his wife enjoy entering into the service and social activities in the community.

FOLKS YOU DEPEND UPON

The people who take the lead in organization work and community affairs would seem to say, if you could get at their inmost thoughts, that there are a good many folks in the world. Depended upon. They talk very nice about their interest in their home town, but if they are called upon for committee to do some specific thing, they would probably forget appointment or be too busy to do anything on it.

To get things done in a town you have to find good workers who will do whatever they are appointed to do, or give a good reason for just so doing. We have plenty of those good folks in Bandera, and they have more friends and admirers than they realize.

Mr. and Mrs. Tod Patton and son of Sabinal visited Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McIver, last Sunday.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If the home folks of Bandera don't meet and push their own town, who else will ever do it for them?

Don't expect that your home town has a chance to grow and prosper, if you and the rest of the folks send the best of your trade away elsewhere, to make some more or less distant city grow.

Business made a tremendous jump ahead when the idea became common of telling the public with printer's ink what people had to sell, and what they wanted to buy. This change gave enterprising concerns a chance to work off large stocks, and do business at a profit.

PAPER SCATTERERS

It is a fairly common sight to see people picking pieces of waste paper and litter off their lawns. If you asked them how often they had to do it, some would probably say they found it necessary every few days. A lawn or yard with bits of paper and paper containers scattered over it does not look pretty.

Who threw those bits of paper on the lawn or into the street? Perhaps it was largely done by children. If so, they should be taught better. Their parents would put up quite a holler if they threw paper all over their parior carpet. The lawns and the streets are the town's living rooms, and ugly disorder looks as bad there as it does in a home.

PAPER SCATTERERS

It is a fairly common sight to see people picking pieces of waste paper and litter off their lawns. If you asked them how often they had to do it, some would probably say they found it necessary every few days. A lawn or yard with bits of paper and paper containers scattered over it does not look pretty.

Who threw those bits of paper on the lawn or into the street? Perhaps it was largely done by children. If so, they should be taught better. Their parents would put up quite a holler if they threw paper all over their parior carpet. The lawns and the streets are the town's living rooms, and ugly disorder looks as bad there as it does in a home.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If the home folks of Bandera don't boost and push their own town, who else will ever do it for them?

Don't expect that your home town has a chance to grow and prosper, if you and the rest of the folks tend the best of your trade away elsewhere, to make some more or less distant city grow.

• • •

Business finds a tremendous jump ahead when the idea became common of telling the public with printer's ink what people had to sell, and what these things cost. This change gave enterprising concerns a chance to work off large stocks, and do business at low prices.

MANY ENJOY NEW TASTE THRILLS WITH NEW PEACH DISHES
Millions of families throughout the country are being treated to new taste thrills as a result of the cooperative educational campaign being conducted by the Peach Producing Industry and Food Trades Industry in cooperation with the Surplus Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, in the interest of greater peach consumption by everyone.
Peaches have long been noted as a food-delicacy. But United States Government reports show that peaches are America's favorite fruit, in season. As a food peaches now take on new importance.
As a result of this cooperative educational campaign, millions of Americans are learning for the first time the important health-giving qualities in peaches, and the dozens of new ways of serving the appetizing fruit, fresh or cooked. Many families have received new peach recipes for delicious peach shortcake, pies, cobblers, home-made peach ice cream, peach and pineapple salad and dozens of other tasty dishes.
Peaches have been found to be excellent sources of Vitamin A, Vitamin B, Vitamin C and Vitamin G (b2), are vital to good health, growth and vitality, maintenance of body vigor, protection of teeth and improving complexion.
It has been found, too, that their low caloric content makes peaches an excellent food for reducing diets and the No. 1 aid for women desiring a "girlish" figure. Scientists say this is also due to the high fat-burning qualities of the natural sugars found in peaches.
The world loves a go-getter, and feels that when a concern hustles for business it is making more than an average effort to give service. The best way to appear like a go-getter, is to advertise.

OUR FRIEND JAMES. A. WRIGHT

(J. M. Wright, San Antonio, Tex.)

While I know but comparatively few of you folks personally, I nevertheless am using "speaking terms"—especially when the subject of conversation is a mutual friend.

First knew Jim Wright at the Cavalry school at Fort Sam Houston at Camp Stanley in the summer of 1918. Don't remember what I was doing there, but I do know that Jim and I were together during the idea occured to me that he was a "regular guy."

Despite the fact that we were both considerably above the age of the average man undergoing training, we constantly endeavored to train themselves to help in whipping "Bill Kaiser" down to size that together. The long and full daily schedule that Major Ben Lear, our Division C. O. had mapped out for the men in that school allowed but slight opportunity for additional conversation and when we left Camp Stanley on "Graduation Day" I had the idea that we would return "whence we came" with no thought that we would ever meet again.

Quite some time later circumstances drew us together here in San Antonio and I learned to know and admire the man who so faithfully served you as the "Scout Wolf Pipe Creek."

The plain, unassuming, intense, earnest nature of the man who had "gone underground in the cow camps of Southwest Texas, who had followed the cow trails from the Rio Grande to the "trash country" which lies south and southwest of San Antonio, and who had come in contact with the most desperate characters of a "hard country" but who yet kept the fine sensibilities of the high purpose of manhood had fought for a higher, better, more wholesome life for his fellows, caused me to desire to cultivate his acquaintance. Mutual ambitions and caused him to seek service in the Railway Postal Service and faithful service of which you and your friends honorable retirement from that branch of public duty.

Jim's duty in his deeply religious nature compelled him to ask for an opportunity to take a definite and active part in the religious organization of his fathers and while engaging in the ministry of the Word his career he aided his associates on their onward and upward path of duty.

The wife of his youth, having given her strength to the needy, passed away, literally exhausted by the way side of life—with her image enshrined in his heart. Her memory and life has brought the product of their love to useful and honored manhood and womanhood.

Drawn to make his home among the eternal mountains of the glorious "Hill Country" he has found most congenial associates among the sons and daughters of the pioneers, women who drove out the Comanches and who have made happy homes, schools and church- es along the timbered slopes of the mountains that are "underlaid with gold" and with the war cries of Texas' most blood-thirsty savages.

His devotion to the principles of the Masonic Fraternity, has daily exemplification of its work and daily exemplification of the secret and sublime principles of the order. His devotion had for him by his fellows brought to him the distinction of election as Grand Master of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of Texas.

Farm Labor and the WPA

The recent replies by county land use planning committees to a farm labor questionnaire have been of considerable importance in reporting on the farm labor situation in Texas, Dallas Farm Labor Section of the State Land Use Planning Committee has been making these monthly reports to the appropriate group in Washington, and is also undertaking to pass back to county planning committees any important information on farm labor.

In the report covering this month, the Farm Labor Section noted the complaints from a large number of the counties blaming the WPA with aggravating the farm labor situation. In some of these complaints, the Farm Labor Section makes this report, to all county planning committees for their benefit in dealing with farm labor problems.

Judging from the county planning committees' reports, the general complaints of farmers about WPA can be summarized in these words: (1) "WPA wages are so high that farm wages cannot be met with them for labor." (2) "The presence and influence of the WPA cause workers to refuse to accept of farm labor at comparable rates." (3) "Local labor could fill many jobs formerly filled by WPA" (4) "The WPA should alter its regulations so that workers could work only five days of farm labor without the fear of being dropped from the WPA rolls."

Specific answers were sought for these and other questions at the meeting of the Farm Labor Section. The answers are stated below in terms of WPA rates and conditions as of that standing:

1. Are WPA wages too high? WPA wages are generally higher than the going rate of farm labor because they are established for entirely different types of work, mainly construction jobs. They are designed to cover the minimum needed by a family group to live on, in fact, usually lower than the going wage for the same type of work in private employment.

2. Does the WPA result in workers refusing farm labor? All but two Department of Public Welfare, operating on a state and county level, reported that workers are released by this agency to the WPA and employed on projects sponsored by the agricultural extension unit—often year own county government.

Typical WPA employees accept private employment without worrying about being dropped from the WPA rolls. The present rule governs this problem. Suppose a farmer hires a WPA worker for 30 days. When the worker returns to the WPA project he will automatically be put back on the job even though it may require the elimination of another person.

How criticized is the charge that WPA worker to pick cotton or do other farm work? All WPA workers are employed through the Texas State Employment Service and a farmer should first go to the Employment Service office and explain how many workers he needs, what he wants them to do and how much he will pay. If there is no local State Employment office the farmer may get in touch with the WPA office or even out on the WPA project and hire any number of persons he needs to do the work. If the worker refuses the employment, project supervisors are under instructions to drop the worker from WPA. The only requirement is that the wage offered for any job be labor, must not be at the rate that prevails in the community at that time for that kind of work.

Thus if WPA policies are actually hurting farmers, they are unintelligently criticized in a manner that will get results. If the general criticism of WPA policies has no foundation, the truth may be brought to bear on a critical farm labor situation.

Supt. A. K. Briggs reports that 290 pupils were enrolled in the Bandera Elementary and High Schools. This year the bus takes the run to Pipe Creek, making it possible for more children from that section to attend school here. The bus makes the Indian Creek, Winans Creek, Lone Star and East Verde run as before.

RAINFALL TOTALS 2 15-16 IN.

About 8 a. m. Tuesday there was a nother heavy rain and brought the first general rain in some time for this section. Rain fell most of the day and by night totaled 2 7-16 inches. The rain was badly needed but the cool north winds which accompanied it brought death to many goats which had just been sheared. Yesterday afternoon 1 inch fell.

Bandera, Privileges and Julian Creeks were on rises following heavy rains on those water sheds. The Medina River was up about a foot.

COMMISSIONERS COURT

The Commissioners Court met in regular session Monday with all members present. The following business was transacted:

The monthly report of W. H. Burns, county collector, was examined and approved.

It is ordered by the Court that Sue Carter be retained as social service clerical worker for the county and that she be paid a salary of $62.50 per month. It is understood that all stamps, clerical supplies etc. are to be furnished by her out of this amount and that $30 of this amount is for clerical help.

The monthly report of Thomas Gray Jr., justice of the peace of precinct No. 1 was examined and approved.

MRS. HOY TO OPEN PIANO STUDIO

Mrs. Lillie B. Hoy will open a piano studio in Bandera and Medina next week. She has a number of years experience in teaching and will be happy to consult with parents who wish to have their children study music. She invites parents in Bandera to meet with her at the Library auditorium this (Thursday) afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock and in Medina from 2 to 5 p. m. tomorrow (Friday.)

School Lunch Room Program Important

A meeting was held last Friday at the office of Judge A. V. Pue at which time Mrs. Maxine Crate of San Antonio, W. P. A. supervisor of the school hot-lunch program, discussed the three types of school lunches. Sheriff Leatherman and trustees were present to learn how they could inaugurate these programs in their schools.

The first program is the uncooked lunch and consists of fruit and milk. The second plan is without W. P. A. assistance and the third plan is with W. P. A. assistance. This third plan includes a complete balanced meal to be served to all students at a maximum cost of about four cents per student. The W. P. A. furnishes commodities and labor (one helper for every 30 students) and the local school furnishes the luncheon and equipment.

It would require only the simplest and plainest quarters and furnishings. If parents understand the advantages of having the children receive a warm meal at noon which includes food that is nourishing and tasteful we believe that this program can be used in every school. It is important that the children are fed properly than it is that a fine appearance be made. Let's all get behind this program and with cooperation it is possible. If you have any questions see Judge Pue, Mrs. Rose Davis or your school superintendent.

TEXAS A. and M. VS. TEXAS A. and I.

One football sports attraction in beautiful new Alamo Stadium by San Antonio this season will be the football game between Texas A. and M. and Texas A. and I. to be played at 8 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 4.

Tickets for the game are now on sale at the Bandera Bulletin, Peterson's Hotchernick's and Tankersley's in San Antonio, but persons wishing to order their tickets by mail should send their chicks to the Football Committee, Chamber of Commerce of Commerce, Insurance Building, San Antonio, Texas. Reservations will be made in the order of their reception and fans are urged to order immediately to secure choice seats.

Scaled considerably lower than Southwest Conference prices, tickets for the lower reserved section on each side of Alamo Stadium are $2.20. Tickets for the upper section between the goal lines are $1.65, and seats beyond the goal lines are $1.10 in the general admission at $1.10 to the general public and fifty-five cents to soldiers in uniform.

Spindle Top STARTED IT!

Forty years ago an oil gusher roared in on a low hill south of Beaumont to open a new industrial era for Texas.

That discovery at Spindletop started our modern Texas petroleum industry and made Texas the nation's leading oil state.

In the forty years since Spindletop blew in, nearly 200,000 wells have been drilled throughout Texas. Over 500 separate fields are now producing in all parts of the State. Today Texas supplies over one-third of the Nation's oil and has over half of its petroleum reserves.

Our industry, by refining almost all of this oil in Texas, has created our largest manufacturing enterprise. By furnishing cheap fuel it has laid the foundation for many other Texas industries.

From a handful of Texans forty years ago, this industry has grown until now, directly or indirectly, it employs one million of our people. Its expenditures reach into every section of the State and benefit every Texan.

The discovery of America's first gusher oil field at Spindletop has turned out to be one of the most important events in the history of our state.

Today oil of Texas salutes Spindletop!

On October 9, 10 and 11, during its annual convention at Beaumont, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association will dedicate a monument to Spindletop.

Inscribed in spoken Texas gratitude will be the story of oil.

This is more than a monument to petroleum. It is a tribute to Texas enterprise and initiative which in forty years have built a great industry in our State — an industry in which you and every other Texan share.

the duties of that honorable position earned for him the generous commendation of the whole body of Texas Freemasonry.

His peculiar knowledge of the scope and effect of masonic influence upon the building of Texas induced him to write and publish "The Story of the Secret Vault" which is an authentive work upon the history of the American Rite in Texas.

The high thought of his life has been well expressed by Albert Pike in the following words, "That which shall live when we are dead is the only act worth doing, the only thought worth speaking. The desire to do something that will benefit the world when neither praise nor obloquy will reach us where we sleep is the noblest ambition entertained by man. To sow that others may reap, to work and plant for those, who are to occupy the earth when we are dead, to live beyond our time, to bless with the glorious gifts of Truth and Light those, who will neither know the hands of the giver, nor care in what grave his ashes repose, is the true office of man."

Among his friends and with his books he is happy and contented amidst the shadows of "the everlasting hills." May a long series of hope inspiring Reveries for him continue to echo from the hillsides he has come to love and when, in the providence of the Supreme Grand Master, "Taps" must be blown for him may the sound of the "sweetest, saddest notes ever heard on land or sea" be a solace to those who have reason to love and to admire this "just man and true."

"Why are you running a steam roller over that field?" asked the stranger.

"I'm trying to raise mashed potatoes," explained the farmer.

. . . that was the day I wilted away!

The way my energy ebbed during our last warm spell caused considerable confusion at the office. Sarah — she's my secretary — saw that I was wilting away. So, being rather clever, she sent out for grand-tastin' Grand Prize beer — ice cold and comfortin'.

Never having tried Grand Prize, my joy at sampling this sparkling picker-upper was something to behold. Believe me, the first gloss of this golden ambrosia brought me bouncing back to my old self in a matter of seconds.

If you're keen to dodge warm-weather discomfort, pour yourself a glass of Grand Prize —the grand-tastin' beer. It's a treat you'll long remember . . . one you'll want to enjoy often. For your convenience, Grand Prize comes in Keglined cans as well as in bottles.

TRIP TO OLD MEXICO

A small party of Bandera folks spent three days in Old Mexico week before last.Those leaving on Thursday, and on their return, reported a delightful trip. Following is an account of their trip, given by Thomas Gray, official, recorder, historian and reporter of the party:

Those in the party were: Mrs. Toni Boyle, Eunice Jorgesen, Peggy Boyle, Mrs. V. C. Holman of San Benito, Mary Boyle, Delbert Knibbe, Michael Boyle and Thomas Gray.

Arrived in Monterrey, Old Mexico, about 2 p. m., and rented a tourist cabin. Tag, Mike and I left the ladies to unpack, etc., etc. and proceeded to look over the town. First of all we drove to an old mission overlooking the city and got a good look at Monterrey and the surrounding territory. We met a little Mexican boy ingenious about 6 years old, who spoke no English, but had a name long enough for a 2 and twice his size. When asked by Mike what his name was, he replied: "Pablo Cavazos Gonzalez Hernandez Ortiz Arsinas DeUsited." We gave him a few Mexican nickles and went on our merry way.

After driving down all the one way streets in Monterrey in the wrong way, we acquired a guide, a chap about 10 years old. I still don't know how we came by him, but one minute we were alone, and the next minute he was on the side of the car, talking a mile a right at the next corner. He escorted us all over the town, and we tried to tell him that we wanted to buy some ice cream. We finally made him understand what we wanted and went to the other side of town after it. Then had a very nice conversation with the Mexican waiter about the merits of ice cream. This ended with Mike getting behind the counter and dipping out a couple of quarts of ice cream. We paid the man what he asked and again went on our merry way.

We decided to retire early that night, being tired from the long drive from Bandera, about 200 miles, so we went down-town, ate supper at the El Patio Restaurant, listened to the orchestra for a few minutes and went on home.

Mike, Tag and I arose early next morning especially to visit the Cuauhtemoc Brewery, which the famous Carta Blanca Beer is brewed. We arrived too late for the morning trip through the plant, but were treated to several free beers by the company's representative on the grounds.

After returning to the cabins, we found the ladies ready to go to Saltillo, a town about 60 miles from Monterrey and at the base of the mountains. We climbed 1,000 feet above sea level in 60 miles, and the altitude was noticeable. The air grew cooler as we climbed, and made it very pleasant. While in Saltillo, we visited a most beautiful Catholic church, with very pretty paintings on the ceilings and walls and a very beautiful garden. We were taken through the church by the priest, who understood and spoke a little English, and who was most kind to us. There were a number of Mexican boys practicing singing

BUILDING UP THE TOWN

People all say they want to build up the home town. Just what do they mean? Usually they mean more business, more population, and better opportunities.

It takes a combined effort to accomplish such results. Talking does not accomplish them. It takes a united interest and business and population had very active business organizations. These organizations looked out for concerns that were planning to establish new branches or move their plants to their towns. They realized that their town was the best place for them to locate and whatever organization has to be well supported with money and public interest to do such things.

MATCHED ROPING EVENTS PLANNED FOR PECOS ARENA ON SEPTEMBER 28th.

Pecos, Sept. 18.—Pecos—home of matched calf-roping—will be scene of West Texas biggest such attraction on Sept. 28.

The Reeves County Sheriff's Posse, sponsors of two highly exciting matched events, will present the third and final one of the season.

Toots Mansfield, of Bandera, world's champion calf roper for the past four years, will tangle with Walton Poage, Stiles, sheep country champion, in the feature match.

Mansfield and Poage will rope 10 calves each just a week apart to determine which is pre-roping interest with those of Bob Crosby and Poage here last April and Preston Powlkes in August.

Jim Espy, Davis Mountains champion, who has been winning everything in sight since his debut as contestant in Pecos Rodeo, July 4, will tackle Crane's coming young performer, Lee Graves, who has never been beaten in a match in a Pecos arena.

Sheriff Wallace Riddell, Burnett County, and Sheriff Jack Young, Crane County, will be in charge as officers' special events.

In addition to the three scheduled events, there will be a special roping for all who care to enter, the posse furnishing the stock, and all money going to the contestants.

At the conclusion of the matched events, the calves will be turned over to the cowboys, and matches can be had as long as contestants hold out, the posse advertises.

They were in the midst of the hurricane which struck the Texas coast Saturday afternoon. According to report Houston was hard hit and was unprepared as the storm was expected to go further to the west, instead it turned back and hit Houston full force. Huge trees were snapped off and plate windows in the downtown section were shattered and the property loss is expected to be quite high. They report that about 8 inches of rain fell and they had to drive for miles through water. Power was cut off, to prevent damage from broken lines. The storm hit Galveston at Matagorda but most people had been evacuated so that few lives were lost. The wind was 80 miles per hour at Houston and at other places it was reported at 110 miles per hour.

Judge Allred Releases Sect Group

Seven members of Jehovah's Witnesses were free Friday after Federal Judge James V. Allred granted their application for a writ of habeas corpus in Federal District Court.

In granting the members of the sect freedom, Judge Allred criticized the county Judge of Atascosa County. The judge who held the men misconstrued and misapplied the statutes of the State, he said.

The ruling of the county judge in the case was unconstitutional and there was no evidence submitted in the hearing, Judge Allred said.

The seven Jehovah's Witnesses, all men, alleged in their petition for a writ that they had been illegally restrained from their liberties after having been arrested at Jourdanton and convicted of unlawful assembly.

Regarding evidence heard by Judge Earl D. Scott in the Atascosa County court on Aug. 18 in connection with the case, Allred stated that the testimony showed the Jehovah's Witnesses were passing literature on the streets of Jourdanton in a constitutional right, and that they were within the law.

It is plain that these people have been illegally held under a false charge, Allred declared, misapplication of the statutes regarding unlawful assembly." Allred said.

The seven men who were released, and their bonds discharged are: Ralph Kingsley, Estelle Nolle, A. E. McDonald, W. B. Leiman, Ted Spears, A. Brickley, residents of Guadalupe, Bandera and Bexar counties.

The hearing on the writ was begun Thursday. Attorneys for the seven men were Hayden Covington of Brooklyn, N. Y., Frank Steinke of Jourdanton and Joe Dixon of San Antonio. Attorney for Sheriff L. D. McAda of Atascosa County, the respondent in the petition for a writ, was Hunter Barrow.

Allred, referring to the exemplary conduct and circumstances which exist here," said that he had sought to avoid a decision in the case. He said, "I would not have felt that I had done my duty if I had allowed the Jourdanton proceedings under the present conditions." San Antonio Express.

Bond Bill Enacted; Legislators go Home

Following the suggestion of Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, the Texas Legislature, during the first day of a special session and went home before two weeks were up, having enacted the road bond servicing bill, the business for which the session was called. Final legislative adjournment of the bill were completed last Friday.

As finally enacted, the bond servicing bill does that.

First it allocates one cent of the state's 4-cent gasoline tag to the repayment of debts incurred by counties in constructing roads which later became a part of the state highway system. This is a re-enactment of a policy initiated in 1932.

Second, it divides the surplus created in this fund—the difference between the income derived from the one cent and the amount needed to service bonds—50-50 between the Highway Department and the counties. For the biennium just past, counties got all this surplus, and it was insistence of the senate that the surplus go to the Highway Department in 1941 that led to the deadlock and consequent failure of the regular session to enact a road bond servicing law.

Third, it changes slightly the ratio to be used in the past biennium, as to the manner in which counties may spend their share of the fund. The House law makes it mandatory that the counties spend the money 1-3 on farm to market roads, 1-3 on county roads and 1-3 on bridges, but permits the county commissioners sec 71 in the construction of any of the three classes of market roads. The counties may call upon the State Highway Department for engineering and supervision. Under the old law the only mandatory use was servicing road bonds.

The Legislature actually completed its work Thursday when it finally gained the bond servicing bill. Not many minutes after the house quit, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson officially made the bill into law by affixing his signature.

WATROUS-BANTA

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock the marriage of Miss Juanita Watrous, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brook Banta, to Fred Watrous, son of Mrs. Ella Watrous, took place in the home of the bride at Medina. Members of the immediate families and a few friends witnessed the ceremony. Rev. F. A. Walton, pastor of the Medina Baptist Church, read the service. The ring that bound them in the holy bonds of matrimony was a band of two generations past. The late Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Watrous of Bay City, Mich., parents-parents of the groom, used the ring in their marriage ceremony in 1867 and Mrs. Watrous' parents were married in 1905 it was used by them. Thus, the present bride is the third one to wear the ring.

The bride wore a travel dress of Soldier Blue with white accessories. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short trip to Houston and Galveston. After a two-week's stay-on the Watrous ranch where they will make their home, and they will be at home on the Lawrence ranch near Goose Creek where he has a cattle interest.

The New Era joins the many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes.

Regarding evidence heard by Judge Earl D. Scott in the Atascosa County court on Aug. 18 in connection with the case, Allred stated that the testimony showed the Jehovah's Witnesses were passing literature on the streets of Jourdanton in a constitutional right, and that they were within the law.

It is plain that these people have been illegally held under a false charge, Allred declared, misapplication of the statutes regarding unlawful assembly." Allred said.

The seven men who were released, and their bonds discharged are: Ralph Kingsley, Estelle Nolle, A. E. McDonald, W. B. Leiman, Ted Spears, A. Brickley, residents of Guadalupe, Bandera and Bexar counties.

The hearing on the writ was begun Thursday. Attorneys for the seven men were Hayden Covington of Brooklyn, N. Y., Frank Steinke of Jourdanton and Joe Dixon of San Antonio. Attorney for Sheriff L. D. McAda of Atascosa County, the respondent in the petition for a writ, was Hunter Barrow.

Allred, referring to the exemplary conduct and circumstances which exist here," said that he had sought to avoid a decision in the case. He said, "I would not have felt that I had done my duty if I had allowed the Jourdanton proceedings under the present conditions." San Antonio Express.

AGGIES VS. JAVELINAS SATURDAY AT SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio, Texas—Feature football attraction in South Texas this week-end is the Texas A. and M.-Texas A. and I. game to be played at 8 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 4, in the beautiful new Alamo Stadium in San Antonio.

With hundreds of South Texans planning to travel to San Antonio for the big time college game, indications are that a near capacity crowd will be on hand to witness what promises to be a colorful and hard-fought grid battle.

Despite a heavy pre-game sale, the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the event, has announced that plenty of good seats in the spacious stadium will be available at the stadium box office beginning at 10 a. m. Saturday morning. Reserved seats are priced at $1.65 and general admission seats at $1.10. Students and soldiers in uniform may obtain general admission tickets for 55 cents.

HOME ECONOMICS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

Officers elected were: Chairman, Irene Hanna, FSA Supervisor of Kerr and Bandera Counties; Assistant Chairman, Irma Ross, Home Demonstration Agent of Kerr County; Corresponding Secretary Beulah Brannel, Homemaking teacher in Medina; Assistant Secretary, Ruby A. Palmquist, cafeteria manager of Kerrville High School.

The group discussed possibilities of a program for the year.

Those present were Mrs. Chas. Ward, Homemaking Teacher of Kerrville; Miss Ruby A. Palmquist, cafeteria manager of Kerrville; Miss Myrtle Pfluger, Home Demonstration Agent of Bandera County; Miss Beulah Brannel, Homemaking teacher of Medina; Miss Elice Cawifield, Homemaking teacher of Bandera; Miss Irma Ross, Home Demonstration Agent of Kerr County; Miss Inez Beard, Homemaking teacher in Center Point; Irene Hanna, FSA Supervisor of Kerr and Bandera Counties.

ACT NOW TO EARN SOIL BUILDING ASSISTANCE

Unless farmers of Bandera County take immediate steps to earn their maximum soil-building assistance, they will lose the opportunity to use this money for improvement of the soil on their farms this year, Raymond Hicks, chairman of the county AAA committee, has announced.

Since the 1941 program ends Nov. 30 all practices must be completed by that date if payment is to be received under this year's program.

Last year, farmers of Bandera, County failed to earn $4,164 of the soil-building assistance allowed under the AAA farm program, Hicks said, while farmers of Texas as fell short of earning the maximum by two and one half million dollars.

The big issue is not the amount of money unearned, but the amount of conservation farming farmers failed to use, Hicks pointed out.

Improving the fertility of the soil is all the more important now, the official said, since the demands of consumers in this country and the needs of nations resisting aggression require that farmers produce crops in the interest of national defense.

Practices which still can be completed by the end of the contract year include planting winter legumes, growing winter green manure crops, terracing, ditching, contour ridging, listing, chiseling and furrowing noncrop pasture, and building earthen tanks and reservoirs.

These practices tend to preserve soil and moisture, prevent erosion and improve grass supply, Hicks said, in pointing out their soil-building merits.

BANDERA H. D. CLUB

Lock your best, said Miss Pfluger, County Home Demonstration Agent, in charge of the meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 24th in the home of Mrs. J. F. Kalka.

Remodeling, furniture and grooming form the foundation for being well dressed. It is not how much you have in your clothing and make garments that are suitable and becoming for your individual type, line and color—they should bring out the best in you, be easy to wear and care for and emphasize her own personality.

The purpose for which a dress is to be used should determine the material from which it is made, said Miss Beulah Brannel, teacher of Bandera. Miss Irma Ross, Home Demonstration Agent of Kerr County; Miss Inez Beard, Homemaking teacher in Center Point; Irene Hanna, FSA Supervisor of Kerr and Bandera Counties.

All Home Economists of the two counties are invited to the next meeting on the terrace of the Bluebonnet Hotel in Kerrville on Tuesday, Oct. 7, 1941.

THE PERILS OF LUST

The American people are warned that they have not yet experienced all the inconveniences and deprivations that are likely to ensue as the result of the defense effort. The protection of the country must be first also. The strong desire of the American people to aid the countries that are resisting tyranny and invasion. We shall all have to put up with many things we don't like. It may be true that "we ain't seen anything" yet, compared with what we shall see in the way of inconvenience and sacrifice.

The government puts it that we are forced to use all our materials for the defense of necessities. add that many of the frills and trimmings will have to be given up. The people should not get excited because they cannot have all the luxuries and comforts of ordinary times. If they are tempted to grow, how would they like to be forced to eat corn bread, the vast majority of people have no cars, and where it might be advisable to ration gasoline at this time, and the streets and roads might be torn up by bombardments?

Even if many of our luxuries should be cut off for the duration, the loss might leave our condition only slightly inferior. But life is at any country under the heel of the despot of Europe. Our happy people are with their sports and music and dancing and their religion. They will say we are a most ungrateful people not to give thanks to God every day of our lives.

STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

The dictators say democracy is an antiquated system. The system of government machinery that democracies are too weak, slow and cumbersome for subject to modern conflict to compete with dictator ruled nations.

The American people are not going to give up the freedom for which they fought and bled and sacrificed many of them died. If they want to retake that freedom, they have in their hands an efficiency and capacity for action.

One of the great causes for such weakness is the lack of unity of purpose, plans and elements to struggle and strive for their own benefit, rather than a desire to benefit others. Such a condition is like a train of horses pulling in opposite directions. The various groups are trying to get ahead of something across their own fences and back yards.

LETTERS HOME

The postal business of the United States made a new high record for the past fiscal year, the revenue being $45,000,000 above the previous record. This is due largely to the establishment of more than 100 new postal stations and enormous increase in shipments to the military and naval camps.

That seems to indicate that the boys at the camps write when they can't find anything else to do, sit down and write to the folks at home the good news. The letter from Pa and Ma that they are all well and getting along great comfort. If Pa and Ma have a letter from their boy that they was unable to stand the hardships of soldier life, a good cheerful letter will do the boy more good than if they should write a letter full of grief, and it can't come too often. As for the girl friend, she will be glad to hear from you, when she thinks about the new girls the honored soldier may meet. Will the old girl back home be left behind? The nice letter will chase many clouds from her face.

The young Negro recruit was the victim of so many practical jokes that he doubted all men and their motives. One night after he was on guard duty the figure of one of the officers loomed up in the darkness.

"Who goes dere?" he challenged.

"Major Moses," replied the officer.

The young Negro scented a joke, tried to meet it. Moreover, he said cheerfully "advance and give de ten commandments."

BENEFITS FOR ALL

People can't always foresee to realize how dependent they are on the welfare of their home town. Everyone suffers when things go wrong in the home town. People are not so able to buy help, they are not so able to pay their debts; and the business and cultural enterprises of the community suffer.

But if things happen that produce a new prosperity in the community, everybody gets the benefits. More people can be employed in the stores, it is easier to collect taxes, and more money can be spent on public improvements. There is more money with which to build and more to spend and more business. A wave of hope spreads through the town and everybody gets better.

DON'T LIMIT FALL GARDENS TO TURNIPS AND GREENS

College Station, Sept. 30.—Don't limit your fall garden to turnips and greens, cautions J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the A. and M. College Extension Service. Carrots, beets, English peas, radishes, beans, colards, cabbage, mustard and lettuce will grow as well in fall gardens.

Now is the time, Rosborough says, to rid the garden of weeds and plow it three or four inches deep. Chop up clods until the earth is thoroughly pulverized. If this is done now the soil will be ready for planting as soon as moisture permits.

If there is adequate moisture, vegetables which can stand the heat of September and October may be planted now. But don't make the mistake of planting those which will not withstand the heat. In addition to mustard greens and turnips, he suggests snap beans, white potatoes and radishes. In areas where frost is not likely to occur until late November, the potatoes should be planted now. Bliss Triumph is a good variety to use.

When this planting is done, fill an old tub or box about two thirds full of rich soil and equal parts of rotted manure and loam. Then plant about one quarter ounce of cabbage seed, covering not more than a quarter inch deep. When the weather is cool the plants will be large enough for transplanting. Copenhagen market is a good variety.

Cool season vegetables should not be planted until October because the burned plants. A hundred feet of carrots, using Nantes or Danver's Half - Long seed, will provide a supply throughout late winter and early spring. Beets, using the Detroit Dark Red variety, should be grown as a fall, winter and spring vegetable. Thin when the plants attain three inches. Spinach thrives best in limy, well-drained soil, and under cool climatic conditions. In areas where hard freezes are apt to occur, a frame garden 6x20 feet made with glass with a cloth or glass sash cover will produce mustard lettuce, onions, radishes, beets and carrots until Christmas.

BANQUET AT STATE H. D. CONVENTION

At 7:30 p. m., Sept. 24, a lovely banquet was held in the Rose Room of the Hotel Beaumont.

The long tables were laid with white damask cloths and were tastefully decorated. Beaumont being the center of the Texas rice district, went commercial on us and used rice for their theme.

Miniature sheaves of rice interwoven with ivy and pine cone, centered the tables while small red apples were daintily placed on silver maple leaves.

The place cards were decorated with a miniature block of rice, while the program fwest was decorated with a field of shocked rice.

Favors of brown corset package were rice recipes, Gulf wax and a miniature Texaco bank were given each guest. These products were all made in Beaumont.

The program was as follows:
1. Invocation, Hymn.
2. Ring-ding, (several selections by all club women.)
3. Introduction of new officers. (This was done with song by all the club women.)
4. Poems by Mrs. Nancy Richey Ransom.
5. Address by Hon. Martin Dies.
6. Benediction, Hymn.

Hon. Martin Dies, United States Congressman of the 2nd Congressional District, was the guest speaker and gave a very interesting and impressive talk.

He stated that the National Defense Program rests on the heads of the women, who can and will see that the nation is fed. Not only, must the women feed the nation is fed, but must keep up the morale of the nation. She must do all in her power to make her home a pleasant place in which to live and make her family proud to call it home.

We should be proud to live in a democratic country where we can have the Christian influence on our homes. . . .

Not only must we keep the spirit in our homes, but open our heart and homes to the soldiers who are the strength of defense. Help keep their morale up by giving them part of the Christian influence we have on our own families.

The following menu was served: Port Salad, Dark Bowling Celery, Spindle Top Olives, Filet Mignon a la Jefferson County, Mushroom Sauce, Noches Potatoes, Intercostal Beans, Southern Rolls, Seafoam Pie and Cajun Coffee.

Two truck drivers were all snarled up in the traffic at the intersection at West Broadway and Chambers Street, New York City. One of the drivers lost his temper and yelled at the other one: "Say, don't you know where you're going, you great big, crosseyed, bow-legged, knock-kneed, son of a blankity blank, blankity blank! * * pie eyed cumbbell!!!" The other driver smiled sweetly and said, "You're nice looking, too, buddy."

Customer: Have you a book called "The Master of Women?"

Bulldogs Defeat Jourdanton 13 to 0

Leaving rain in spite of the pouring rain, the Bandera Bulldogs did not stay in their kennels. They emerged and growled plenty. Captain Red Aderwald, but the loss but elected to defend the south goal, Jourdanton, made three power plays to get a first down, but after being held for downs to saw their punt nullified by a recturned punt. Bandera chalked up two first downs and had to punt, cult to tell who was who. Early in the third quarter, Chandler fumbled a kick and before Jourdanton was aware of it, he was streaking across the goal. Both players later he caught a punt and behind excellent blocking crossed the goal line again, but the play was called back on account of irregularity on the part of Bandera in lining up. Jourdanton then could half the ball stayed pretty well in the center of the field, between the 30 yard lines, but were too heavy to do much cunning. The Bulldogs had a worthy opponent and showed quite a marked improvement. Final score, 13-0.

This Thursday night we go to Pleasanton for a game. Bandera fans should take a special train to Pleasanton at 7:30 p. m. instead of 8 p. m. and will be played tonight instead of tomorrow night. We will miss you if you are not there.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Fine thing to sing about "Home, sweet home," but do you do what you should in the way of improvements to your home, to keep it looking sweet?

Also to keep the home sweet, we have to keep home town business sweet by buying our stuff at home.

The business people expect their fellow citizens to promote the home town, by buying at home. People won't do so as often as they might, if the home town stuff is not advertised.

The chemical laboratories of the petroleum industry are now laying the foundation for industries of the future.

Out of their research are being created new products and more efficient ways of making old ones. Synthetic rubber, plastics, explosives, basic chemicals and scores of other essentials developed in petroleum laboratories are already being made on a commercial scale.

These scientific discoveries of materials vital to peace-time needs, as well as National defense, are opening up new fields of industrial activity.

Texas as the leading oil State is playing an important part in the creation of these new American enterprises. As a result, many young Texans now preparing themselves in our schools and colleges will find places in the industries resulting from this research.

The test tubes of today make the jobs of tomorrow.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Fine thing to sing about "Home, sweet home," but do you do what you should in the way of improvements to your home, to keep it looking sweet?

Also to keep the home sweet, we have to keep home town business sweet by buying our stuff at home.

The business people expect their fellow citizens to promote the home town, by buying at home. People won't do so as often as they might, if the home town stuff is not advertised.

The chemical laboratories of the petroleum industry are now laying the foundation for industries of the future.

Out of their research are being created new products and more efficient ways of making old ones. Synthetic rubber, plastics, explosives, basic chemicals and scores of other essentials developed in petroleum laboratories are already being made on a commercial scale.

These scientific discoveries of materials vital to peace-time needs, as well as National defense, are opening up new fields of industrial activity.

Texas as the leading oil State is playing an important part in the creation of these new American enterprises. As a result, many young Texans now preparing themselves in our schools and colleges will find places in the industries resulting from this research.

The test tubes of today make the jobs of tomorrow.

Another good old Bandera citizen answered the final summons on Thursday afternoon of last week, when death claimed Franklin Buck, aged 72, after an illness of several months. Funeral services were held in the Phillmer Funeral Home in this city Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment at the Pipe Creek Cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. E. C. Ray and Rev. W. A. Bond, pastor of the Bandera Baptist Church. J. Marvin Hunter delivered a brief eulogy. Pall bearers were Ed Saul, L. E. Short, Thomas Smith, Albert Faris, Alfred Rogers and Billie Burns, finalizing that death was approaching, Mr. Buck several days earlier gave directions for his funeral, selecting his pall bearers, and requested that Reva Ray and Bowed conduct the service, and that the writer make a talk during the service. His wishes were carried out fully.

Surviving are three brothers: Walter Buck of Pipe Creek, Dan Buck of Bandera and Robert Buck of Winans Creek; five sisters: Mrs. Laura Calhan of Pipe Creek, Mrs. Annie Callahan of San Antonio, Mrs. Hattie Newcomer of Pipe Creek, Mrs. Mary Buck Hall of Aransas and Mrs. Maude Buck of Bandera.

Franklin Buck was born at Rockport, Texas, November 16, 1869, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Buck. Eight children in this family all grew up and remained here until death took the oldest, Mrs. Annie Ebb Buck, the eldest died last February, at the age of 79. The parents died many years ago.

The death of Ebb Buck last February brought sadness to all of our citizens, but this sadness was freshened in the latter part of August by the death of Mrs. Ebb Buck, and again the Grim Reaper strikes, this time claiming a third member of the devoted family, Frank Buck. For many years Mr. and Mrs. Ebb Buck, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Mattie Buck, operated the Buck Ranch, the first ranch to be thrown open to the public in this community, a ranch which became very popular with those who came to spend week-ends or summer vacations in the cool Bandera region. The accomodations and table fare so appealed to these visitors that the Buck Ranch had to be enlarged several times and reservations had to be made far in advance in order to be sure to take care of the crowds that came each summer. By his quiet manner he endeared himself to all the guests. The many beautiful flowers, wreaths and floral pieces that banked the casket in the funeral home and at the grave, some of them sent by friends in San Antonio, bore testimony to the esteem they held for the deceased and showed the tributes love for the man who was everybody's friend.

Early in February, when his brother, Ebb Buck, was stricken and lingered for several days, Frank Buck sat by his bedside, holding his hand and offering comforting words. The two brothers had never been separated until then, when the earthly tie that had bound them together for so many years severed, Frank Buck received a sick man, could not withstand the shock of his brother's death and began to fail rapidly. Two months ago he took to his bed, and all that tender hands and loving devoted sister, and the faithful administrations of the family physician could do was done for him, but to no avail. He quietly passed away last Thursday afternoon.

Frank Buck will be greatly missed in this community. We all realize that we have lost a friend, and a good citizen. Peace to his great soul.

INCREASE IN PRODUCTION FOR DEFENSE ASKED

The Bandera County USDA Defense Board asks that Bandera County farmers and ranchmen do their part in the "Food-for-Defense" campaign by increasing their production of milk, eggs, sheep and lambs, hogs, and beef cattle in 1942.

Some areas of Bandera, and surrounding counties are going to be under a definite handicap in 1942, so far as increasing poultry and egg production. Due to the fact that the priorities board has failed to release a considerable for the quantity of lumber being built for the Bandera Electric Cooperative, on "C" project, construction on the under way and it is sincerely hoped that something can be worked out in the very near future that will relieve this situation. With the proper electrical equipment it will be possible for a large number of rural residents to increase production in those communities without hiring additional farm labor that is so difficult to obtain at the present time.

It is recognized that this country raise their milk production from 5,450,000 pounds to 6,450,000 pounds. It is estimated that 50 to 60 additional dairy cows in the county will do this, or it will be liable that their dairy rations will help. The board requests that the egg production be increased from 265,000 dozen to 365,000 dozen. It is estimated that there should be a 10 per cent per cent increase in the number of sheep and lambs over last year. The board requests that producers increase and market as many hogs as possible in 1942. The United States Department of Agriculture says that there are enough beef cattle in the county at the present time to supply the market for next year, but it says that there should be a larger supply of beef cattle for sale on the market. According to present figures, an 18 per cent increase in the number of beef cattle on the market over last year will not be too much. Every family making donations are many vegetables for home consumption as they possibly can. General allotments on the AAA farm program have been removed for 1942. In order that farmers might increase the amount of barley, and grain sorghums, above that of last year.

The United States Department of Agriculture has promised that it will use its powers to see that no price ceilings are placed on products in the "Battle of Food," for the above mentioned products in the "Battle of Food," for Production." It is very important—just as important as winning battles on the sea and in the land that Bandera County farmers should do their part to help in this battle.

Early in November, AAA County Committeemen working with, and assisted by, the County Agent will make an effort to contact every farmer and ranchman in Bandera County. They will give information to producers concerning soil building allowances and production goals for 1942. Further information will be released from time to time.
