Which KIND OF MOTHER ARE YOU

Do you "fly all to pieces" when the children are noisy, or when the vegetables burn, or when the jelly won't "jell"? Some mothers are just naturally cranky. Some mothers are nervous and impatient because they are nervous.

If you are a natural crank, DR. MILES NERVINE won't do much for you. If you are irritable because your nerves are overtaxed, DR. MILES NERVINE will do a lot for you.

Do you suffer from Sleeplessness, Restlessness, Nervous Irritability, Nervous Headache, or Nervous Indigestion? Do you worry over trifles, start at sudden noises? Overtaxed nerves will cause all these troubles, and DR. MILES NERVINE will help you to relax those overtaxed nerves.

Why don't you give it a trial on our guarantee of satisfaction or your money back? Your druggist can tell you about DR. MILES NERVINE. He has been selling it ever since he started clerking in a drug store. Dr. Miles Nervine comes in two forms—Liquid and Effervescent Tablets.

UP THE LADDER TO FAME

NEW YORK—It took Rene McKee of the New York Daily News 3 minutes to climb to the tip of the 700 foot Trylon on the grounds of the New York World's Fair 1939, there up he squeezed out on a 14-inch edge and took panoramic pictures of the Fair grounds and snapped of the giant 200 foot Perisphere, the framework for which is nearing completion.

McKee was the first cameraman to accomplish this feat. He follow in the footsteps of steel "riveters" who had just planted the U. S. flag marking the finish of the steel frame of the Trylon.

These two structures will be covered with stucco and, as the Theme Center of the Fair, will set the pace for the $159,000,000 Exposition.

HEALTH NOTES

Tuberculosis no longer ranks first among the major killing diseases—a position it formerly occupied not only in Texas but in the entire country. However, in spite its now being seventh on the list, in 1938, it continues to kill more persons between 15 and 45 years of age than does any other single disease. And this is in the face of definite evidence that the majority of tuberculosis patients can be cured if the condition is detected early and proper treatment and living rules maintained," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While the treatment of the individual early case is of great importance, it is of equal moment, from a public health point of view, that the spread of infection to others be prevented. Such prevention is possible. A more concerted attack on this front would mean the saving of thousands of lives."

"In every case, when a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, an investigation of the physical condition of the other members of the family should follow. It cannot be too emphatically stated that tuberculosis runs in families solely because it is communicable. The disease being transmitted through intimate and prolonged exposure to the 'open case.'

"It has been estimated that 40 per cent of the tuberculosis cases that will develop within the next decade will be the result of close contact with others already infected."

"Routine examination of all high school children, including rehabilitation of the active cases, discovery of the sources of infection, application of hygienic living principles, periodic examination of all school, and a careful check-up by physicians and trained nurses of all known active cases and contacts represent an invaluable defense against the spread of tuberculosis."

A MOTHER'S DAY THOUGHT

Mother's day brings the world thoughts of the love and devotion and ceaseless care which the mothers give their children. In this world of selfishness and grasping spirit, that affection shines like a good deed in a naughty world, as Mr. Shakespeare said. Amid all the darkness of human nature in its more repellant aspects, that selfless service is one of the most glorious aspects of human nature.

It is amazing how women will toil and sacrifice for their children. Their labors are ceaseless and untiring. They rise early in the morning to get good breakfasts for the little ones, and send them off in good condition to school. They labor while they are gone to make the home comfortable and healthful. When the youngsters return, the mothers take patient care of their complaints, they put up with their crouches and often disobedience.

The mothers work day and night to help the children appear neat and stylish before the world. They are often up late nights to finish the tolls of the day. Often they lie awake nights studying over the children's problems. They think little of themselves, but everything is for the children. No sacrifice is too great, if it will enhance the future of those youngsters.

A great deal of this service is given with little recognition. Children often accept these things as something to which they are entitled, and for which they do not need to make any return. If asked to help lighten the labors of the home, many of them are sore and rebellious.

Mother's day should be a time when people recognize to the full all these blessings of maternal love that they received, and for which in so many cases they made so little return. The heart should overflow with gratitude.

HOMES AND COMMUNITY

The progress of a community depends not merely on its business men, but all home owners. All tenants of rented homes, should do their part to keep the town in the front end of the procession.

Attractive homes are one of the most essential features in the development of a town. If the homes are well cared for, if disorder is removed, if the grounds are well tended, and beautified, a favorable impression is made on every visitor. People spread the news that such a town is prosperous and has intelligent, well paid industrial and the road to progress and prosperity opens wide in such a community.

LIVE TOWNS

Towns have a reputation, and are commonly known as live towns or dead towns. Two towns may have about the same population and wealth, but one of them may have an element of live action in it which its rival lacks.

What constitutes this life? It consists first in a willingness to work for the benefit of the community. If the people of a town won't organize and carry on activities they can't be expected to do it for them. In a live town people are constantly looking for chances to get new trade, obtain new industries, to encourage the industries they have to expand, and to maintain active organizations that provide home town benefits. Any town can become known as a live town, if its people are active and energetic.

STATE POLICE ADVISE SUMMER VACATIONIST

Austin, May 3.—State police today advised summer vacationists to start their trips by way of their local police stations.

There an obliging officer will record their fingerprints and give them an identification card valuable in case of accident, amnesia or other serious illness.

Baccalaureate Sermon

We hate to see our "fine feathered" seniors leaving us, but since they must go, never, again to return, they should have the best of everything. The Baccalaureate Sermon, our formal farewell to them, will be next Sunday, May 14, at 11 o'clock. The Chorus will furnish the music under the direction of Mrs. Ray Kay, assisted by Rev. B. J. Gossett, will preach the sermon; and Allie G. Langford has promised to honor us with a solo. Let's all be present and see that the seniors get their school life and begin their careers in fine style.

Commencement Exercises

It seems hard for the seniors to realize, but commencement exercises will be Thursday night, May 18, in front of the high school. Plans are being made for a new type of program which will be new to the programs presented by the larger high schools. We think this type of program will be something that can really be enjoyed and appreciated.

The 3rd grade boys and girls are having a "get together" with a field chart which they made last week with the help of Mr. Hatfield, their general science class. One child touches a picture of a bird and another child touches the correct name of the bird and a bell rings. If the wrong name is touched the bell of course will not ring and you may be sure that this child will never again miss that same bird as all the rest comes to hearing the bell ring.

Thanks to Mr. Hatfield and his Science class for their kind assistance.

Attention is called to the single salary schedule, page 32, Bulletin 386. "Beginning with the session of 1939-40 all non-state-aid fully accredited, two-year high schools and five year high schools as well as those high schools seeking to be so accredited, shall pay to all teachers, including those in both elementary and high school positions, a minimum of $100 per month for a period of nine months. Any increase in salary above the minimum of $100 per month for teachers in the elementary and high school systems shall be based on college training and experience rather than on the level of instruction to which the teacher may be assigned, provided that salary adjustment in districts which are not already on the single salary schedule be made by a gradual increase in the salary in elementary and junior salary schedules, to meet the senior high school level of 1937-38, and provided, also, that the high school salaries are not lowered."

The teachers are well qualified. All except one have at least a bachelor's degree and the superintendent and principal have the administrator's certificate.

The splendid cooperation given the State Department of Education and the courteseies extended the supervisor are sincerely appreciated.

No. 10, 1859, why.

San Antonio Herald, March 12, 1859.

We learn from Dr. Downs of Bandera, that on Wednesday night week last a party of Indians stole a couple of valuable American horses from a Tir Davis, who was making improvements for the Doctor, eight miles west from Bandera.

A party also came into Banders City on Tuesday night, last and made an attempt to break open the jail door, but failed. Four of the horses thereby lost though they had butcher knives freely on the top. They did not succeed.

Thursday, May 5, 1859.

Oct. 3, 1857, in Bandera, Oct. 4, 1856, in San Antonio Herald, says:

Bandera has a good saw mill, owned by Messrs. Babbitt, Evelyn Newsom-Lucille Edwards, Hazel Holt and Helen Pickens. We would like to see more members at our next meeting, which will be held May 20, at the school house.

Baccalaureate Sermon

Mrs. Rabe in her sermon for the graduates Sunday night, stated that since they must go, never, again, to return, they should have the best of everything. The Baccalaureate Sermon, our formal farewell to them, will be next Sunday, May 14, at 11 o'clock. The Choral Club will participate in the music. Rev. Leonard Rev. B. J. Gossett, will preach the sermon; and Allie B. Langford has promised to honor us with a solo. Let's all be present and see that the seniors have a large audience to help them their careers in fine style.

Commencement Exercises

It seems hard for the seniors to realize, but commencement exercises will be Thursday night, May 18, in front of the high school. Plans are being made to have a program in which will be similar to the programs presented by the larger high schools. We hope that this type of program will be something that can really be enjoyed and appreciated.

Grades

The 3rd grade boys and girls are having a fish with a new bird chart which they made last week with the help of Mr. Hall and Mr. General Science class. One child touches a picture of a bird and another child touches the correct name of the bird and a poll rings. If the wrong name is touched the bell of course will not ring and you must try until that this child will never again miss that same bird as all who has caused the hearing the bell true.

Thanks to Mr. Hall, and his science class for their kind assistance.

MEDINA FISH HATCHERY PRODUCING FISH

Although the Medina Fish Hatchery near Natalia will not be completed for several months, Manager D. C. Harper has already released about 25,000 fingerlings in the big lake that were raised in the hatchery on the irrigation project. The breeding fish were not put into the ponds at the Medina hatchery until early this year.

Back in January, when it appeared doubtful that the hatchery would ever be completed before mid-summer, says the Daily Light, Joe Mark, hatchery construction engineer for the State Game, Fish and Oyster Department, promised members of the Anglers' Club which caused the construction of the hatchery, that the new hatchery not only would be completed but that a supply of fingerlings would be forthcoming before the 1939 fishing season got under way. And it looks as if Marks has kept his word; 25,000 bass already raised and in Medina Lake, with several thousand more soon within the week.—LaCoste Ledger.

HEALTH NOTES

"Tuberculosis no longer ranks first among the major killing diseases—it is now the fourth principal cause not only in Texas, but in the entire country. However, deaths from this cause dropped in the last in 1938, it continues to kill more persons between 15 and 45 years of age than does any other single disease. And this is in the face of official statistics that the majority of tuberculosis patients can be cured if the condition is detected early and proper treatment and living rules maintained," stated Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While the treatment of the individual sufferer is of great importance, it is of equal moment, from a public health point of view, that the disease be detected in the others be prevented. Such prevention is possible. A more concerted effort on this front would mean the saving of thousands of lives."

"In every case, when a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, an investigation into the physical condition of the family members of the patient should be made immediately, the disease being transmitted through intimate and prolonged contact with the infected case."

"It has been estimated that 40 per cent of the tuberculosis cases that will develop within the next decade will be the result of close contact with others already infected."

Routine examination of all high school children, isolation or hospitalization of the active case, early discovery of the sources of infection, application of hygienic living habits, and the education of the public to the dangers of tuberculosis are the best methods of combating the disease, Dr. Cox declared.

Baccalaureate Sermon

We flatter ourselves that this feature doesn't seem to belong to us, but since they must go, never, again to return, they should have the best of everything. The Baccalaureate Sermon, our formal farewell to them, will be next Sunday, May 14, at 11 o'clock. The Christ Church will perform, we trust! Rev. Ivey, assisted by Rev. B. J. Gossett, will preach the sermon; and Allie O. Langford has promised to honor us with a solo. Let's all be present and see that the students have their proper dues and begin their careers in fine style.

Commencement Exercises

It seems hard for the seniors to realize, but commencement exercises will be Thursday night, May 18, in front of the high school. Plans are being made for a good program. The speaker will be similar to the programs presented by the larger high schools. We feel sure the type of program will be something that can really be enjoyed and appreciated.

The 3rd grade boys and girls have been full of fun with a new bird chart which they made last week with the help of Mrs. Ruth Wright, General Science class. One child touches a picture of a bird and another child touches the correct name of the bird and it just rings. If the wrong name is touched the bell of course will not ring and they learn in that way that this child will never again miss that same bird as all the rest of them ring the bell ring.

Thanks to Mr. Todd and his Science class for their kind assistance.

MEDINA FISH HATCHERY PRODUCING FISH

Although the Medina Fish Hatchery near Natalia will not be completed for several months, Manager D. O. Harper has already released about 25,000 fingerlings in the big lake that were raised in the hatchery on the irrigation project. The breeding fish were not put into the ponds at the Medina hatchery until early this year.

Back in January, when it appeared doubtful that the hatchery would ever be completed before mid-summer, says the Daily Light, Joe Mark, hatchery construction engineer for the State Game, Fish and Oyster Department, promised members of the Anglers' Club which caused the construction of the hatchery that the new hatchery not only would be completed but that a supply of fingerlings would be forthcoming before the 1939 fishing season got under way. And it looks as if Mark has kept his word. 35,000 bass already raised and in Medina Lake, with several thousand more due within the week.—LaCoste Ledger.

HEALTH NOTES

"Tuberculosis no longer ranks first among the major killing diseases—a position it formerly occupied not only in Texas, but in the entire country. However, despite its now being seventh on the list in 1938, it continues to kill more persons between 15 and 45 years of age than does any other single disease. And this is in the face of definite evidence that the majority of tuberculous patients can be cured if the condition is detected early and proper treatment and living rules maintained," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While the treatment of the individual early case is of great importance, it is of equal moment, from a public health point of view, that the spread of infection to others be prevented. Such prevention is possible. A more concerted attack on this front would mean the saving of thousands of lives."

"In every case, when a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, an investigation of the physical condition of the other members of the family should follow. It cannot be too emphatically stated that tuberculosis does not run in families solely because it is hereditary, but the disease being transmitted through intimate and prolonged exposure to the open case."

"It has been estimated that 40 per cent of the tuberculosis cases that will develop within the next decade will be the result of close contact with others already infected."

Routine examination of all high school children, isolation of hospitalization of the active case, discovery of the source of infection, application of hygienic living principles, periodic examination for all adults, and a careful check-up by physicians and trained workers of all known active cases and contacts represent an invaluable defense against the spread of tuberculosis.

At Aransas Pass, Myrick was president of the Lions Club, a member of the school board, the Masonic order, the Presbyterian Church, and was active in Boy Scout work.

The Myrick's have a daughter, Miss Mavis Myrick, a student at Texas A. and I. College, Kingsville; and a son, Ralph, 15, now in high school at Aransas Pass. The family will move to Uvalde at the end of the present school term, about June 1.

Mr. Myrick has made a great success in the utility field but his interests are not confined solely to business. He is active in civic affairs and his presence should prove an asset to the community he serves." E. W. Franke said.

Mr. and Mrs. Franke and their son, Phillip, will be permanently located in San Benito after the close of the present school term. At the new location, Mr. Franke will have charge of the Lower Rio Grande Valley district of Central Power and Light Company, which embraces 34 communities from Port Isabel to Rio Grande City.

Water Used by R. B. Hughes

Passenger locomotives use from 75 to 125 gallons and freight locomotives from 150 to 200 gallons of water per mile.

Hogs Ate Rattlesnakes

The boys of the pioneers were as fond of rattlesnakes as cats are of mice. And they would oftentimes exert the same persistency in getting a rattler as cats do in securing a mouse. The pork was immune to the bites of the most poisonous serpent and would spend hours rooting out a snake.

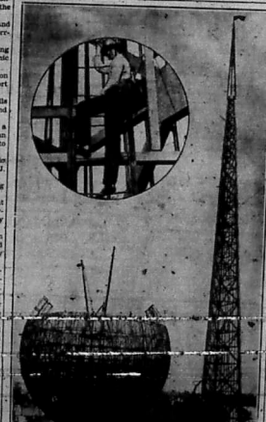
UP THE LADDER TO FAME



NEW YORK—It took Ross McKee of the New York Daily News 3 minutes to climb to the top of the 700 foot Trylon on the ground of the New York World's Fair 1939. Once up he squeezed out on a 18-inch ledge and took panoramic pictures of the Fair grounds and snapped the giant Helio-Perisphere, the framework for which is nearly complete.

McKee was the first cameraman to accomplish the feat. He follows in the footsteps of steel "highmen" who had just planted the U. S. flag, marking the finish of the steel frame of the Trylon.

These two structures will be covered with stone and, as the Theme Center of the Fair, will set the pace for the $113,000,000 Exposition.

Wedding Reception At Jubilee

The reception to be given the Golden Wedding couples, at the Old Settlers' Jubilee at Frontier Times Museum on Saturday, June 3, promises to be of an unusual character, and very impressive. Up to Tuesday morning the following couples have been listed for this reception: Mr. and Mrs. N. Coffey, Bandera; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Kindla, Bandera; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Olliff, East Verde; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tobey, Medina; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Garrison, ...; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. New..., Pipe Creek; Mr. and Mrs. ... Word, Hondo; Mr. and Mrs. ... Lindner, Comfort. As the ... is still two weeks away, ... will no doubt be as many ... couples listed. The reception being prepared for this occasion will take place at the Museum at 11:30 a. m., Saturday June 3rd. Mrs. Geo. Howland, who ... charge of this feature of the ... has selected the following ... to serve on the reception committee: Mrs. J. E. Justice, Medina; Mrs. L. Hicks, Tarpley; Mrs. ... Lawrence Edwards, Pipe Creek; Mrs. Leslie Hinds, Lima; Mrs. Joe ...ghton, Vanderpool; Mrs. Oscar ...alin, Camp Verde; Mrs. Guy ...mble, Mason Creek; Mrs. For... Stevens, Myrtle Creek; Mrs. ... Perkins, Bandera Creek; Mrs. ... F. Thallman, Middle Verde; Mrs. Frank Mangold, West Verde; Mrs. John Eckhart, East Verde; Mrs. J. M. Pepper, Privilege; Mrs. E. Buck, Winans Creek; Mrs. ...as Johnston, Medina Lake; Mrs. Chas. Schott, Elm Creek; Mrs. Hugo Zumberg, Red Bluff ...eek; Mrs. Henry Fisher, Tarpley. The members of this committee are urged to meet Mrs. Howland at the museum at 9:30 o'clock the morning of the Jubilee, and, if possible, bring yellow flowers.

It is hoped to stage a real wedding at the Jubilee, with the old couples "standing up" with the bride and groom, but thus far a young couple has not been secured to get married on that date. Any young couple planning to "step off" soon will find it to their advantage to see Mr. Hunter at the Museum or communicate with Mrs. Howland. The license and the services of a minister will be furnished free.

THE MEDINA SENIORS

All the seniors have been written about except myself, the reporter. I don't know whether there is much I can say about myself as most people know more about me than I do myself. I was born on July 21, 1920, and have been battling this school up here for the last twelve years. My plans for the future lead me farther than my own county. I hope to establish myself a ... farm, work my way to success in the soil and encourage the production of better livestock in Bandera County.

Now that I have talked enough ... myself, I want to suggest a ... plan to you that to me is a ... I have written a short article about every senior, telling where they originated, something good about them, if I could ... such, and a little about what ... intend to do in the future.

FROM A READER

Dear young people of today, have you ever thought how you were being led to ruin by the worst enemy on earth, strong drink? It is causing more heartaches, tearing up what could be happy homes, and causing good men to be sent behind the bars for life; all because they were under the influence of strong drinks.

You think when you take the first drink it won't hurt you, before you are aware of it you have formed the habit that not one out of every ten ever quit. You meet an early death or fill a drunkards grave. Our life is only a step from the cradle to the grave, and why let the most cursed sin on earth lead you beyond any redemption? You are not at your natural self while under the influence of strong drinks. You are not in a condition to take care of yourself, or any one else that might be trusted to your care and that one drink might be the cause of your death or someone else's death.

Why do you let that evil drink keep you from being trustworthy? And now don't hold a coldness toward me, for trying to save you as I would my own boy, from the worst evil on earth.

There is no good in strong drinks, and don't say, "my friends wanted me to drink with them." Your truest friends will tell you not to drink. Why let such an evil as intoxicating drinks be your master?

These men will compose the Bandera County Soil Conservation Board. They elected Stafford Smith to represent this county at the district meeting to be held at Fort Stockton on May 22.

USING THE LAWN MOWER

If you want your home place to look well, better use the lawn mower regularly. Some people allow the grass to grow too long, and as a consequence it is harder to push the mower through the tall grass. A lawn seems to flourish better when it is mowed regularly and frequently.

If you keep those stalks of grass well trimmed, they have a tendency to send out new shoots which fill up the empty spaces. But if you allow them to grow too long, they run up in a scattered way, and the lawn won't have the smooth and velvety appearance that adds such a lot to the looks of a place.

Among the visitors at Frontier Times Museum Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Moore of Kerrville, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Weber, E. W. Richardson and daughter, Miss Adelaide, Mrs. W. H. Austin and Mrs. W. Abe Smith, Mrs. E. Drummond of San Antonio, Mrs. Gertrude Drummond of Paris, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Otto and children, Martha, Gertrude, Joan and Dick of Boerne.

MacNaughton, animal industry; Charles W. Manning, handicraft; Leo Mansfield, civics, pioneering; Leo Towers, animal industry; Willie Wiemers, safety; Charles E. Wyatt, civics, pathfinding, safety, pioneering; W. O. Patton, business, animal industry, signaling.

VACCINATION IMPORTANT

Case reports reaching the State Department of Health indicate that smallpox is rapidly forging to the front in the list of preventable communicable diseases over Texas at this time.

"Smallpox epidemics would never occur if everyone, especially children, could be effectively vaccinated," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "At the present there is an increasing lack of vaccination among school children and this constitutes a menace."

"Modern safeguards have removed every legitimate objection to vaccination. The virus is made from calves and, consequently, is incapable of transmitting human blood diseases. Among some ten million vaccinations performed in the Philippine Islands, there was no loss of life or limb or demonstrable injury to health."

"A primary vaccination with one successful revaccination will, as a rule, protect throughout life from the milder forms of smallpox, but this is not true in the severer types of this disease. Therefore, be vaccinated and revaccinated at least every five years, so that you will have the greatest protection possible and the least chance of being sick. Revaccination should also be done after each time you have been near a known case of smallpox. Vaccination is not to be feared but rather sought as the only safe, positively harmless and absolutely certain safeguard against smallpox. See your doctor today and be sure that you are protected."

CHILD HEALTH WEEK

Progress depends upon the health of little children and to be progressive a community must be certain that the legs of its children are straight and sturdy and prepared to assume the work of the world.

With such a theme in mind, Dosca Hale, specialist in child development of Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, urged Texas people—especially farmers—to observe Child Health Week, beginning May 1, by checking up on the health of their children.

Observing that 60 per cent of Texas' boys and girls grow up on farms, Miss Hale defined children as "the most important crop of all" and called attention of farmers to the responsibility of seeing that this block of future citizens is equipped with sound bodies and habits which will tend to preserve their health.

"Health is our number 1 asset," Miss Hale commented. "It comes before wealth or fame. It is the basis of happiness and the key to a peaceful, pleasant and alert condition of mind. If we neglect the health of our children—though we may grow the finest crops, build the best houses, preach the greatest sermons, create the finest music or write the most just laws—we sin against our children and fail miserably as citizens of a civilized world."

"I know," she added, "that good health is dependent upon favorable economic conditions. And first we must stem the forces and eliminate the economic and social maladjustments of our world and nation which have afflicted the ... and driven some rural families to a miserable state of poverty."

There will be a meeting of the Roping Club at Mansfield Park next Sunday afternoon. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

Al Maas of Fredericksburg was a business visitor here yesterday.

REA Crews Will Start Work Soon

John M. Carmody, REA Administrator, has just approved the construction contract and ordered the P. E. Workman Construction Company to start work immediately. It is only a matter of days until the digging of post holes is begun. After that the poles begin to go up, the wires strung, the transformers installed. Be ready for electricity as soon as it is turned on. Wire your farm—NOW.

The story of safe and adequate wiring should be told again and again. Poor wiring will be a constant handicap to you. You must have adequate wiring in order to get the fullest benefits from power.

REA has worked out suggestions and specifications for good wiring. We have complete information about it at the project office at Bandera, Texas. Come in and talk it over with us.

Electricity is a faithful servant. If you use it properly it can be persuaded to do almost any kind of work. Electricity will master your horses, it will wash the dishes, it will bake a cake, it will do the milking and then it will keep the milk pure and wholesome and clean so that you can get top prices for it at the creamery.

Don't cheat yourself with skimped wiring. Give electricity a chance to work for you and it will pay its own wages.

Yours very truly,
Guy S. Rambie, Supt.

WAR MESSAGE IN SKY IS SEEN BY HUNDREDS

Houston, Texas, May 3.—Wide-eyed folks for miles around Tuesday night swore by the hundreds they saw a message written in the sky by a giant meteor that hurtled earthward.

Their versions of what they saw and read varied. Here are a few of them:

"War" was spelled out plainly.

"Hitler" was up there in letters ten miles high.

"Mars" stood out clearly.

A Townsend planner saw this: $200.

A Democrat saw "F. D. R."

The Nazi swastika was too plain to miss.

Sight and sound descriptions varied as much.

It appeared to some twice the size of the full moon. Others said it appeared to resemble the sun traveling fast and laying a smoke screen. To others it seemed to explode in midair with a terrific roar. And still others said it did not explode at all but fell in the Gulf of Mexico many miles from shore.

The only man who thought to take a picture of the phenomenon was Paul Peters, a newspaper photographer.

Peters got four shots of the meteor's tail. At first it appeared as a broad streak of light. Then it began to waver and zigzag into figures that could have been mistaken for anything.

The meteor itself was gone before he could get his camera out, but the tail hung in the sky for thirty minutes or more.

Witnesses telephoned newspapers here from Galveston, Port Arthur, Victoria and other points along the gulf coast.

Joe King, amateur astronomer, said the meteor apparently was some uncharted planetary fragment that was at least 500 miles from the earth. He said the meteor could have been traveling parallel to the earth's course through space.

FAREWELL SURPRISE PARTY

On Monday the people of the Indian Creek community met on the big ridge hill and went in a body with bells ringing, horns blowing and whistles tooting to the school ... and Mrs. Bill Turner and children. Games were played and at ten o'clock cake and punch were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Anderwald, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mazurek, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Schmidtke, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Postert and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Postert, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dawson and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Anderwald and children, Mr. and Mrs. Todd Clark and children, Mrs. August Whitley and children, Mrs. Boyd Turner and children, Mrs. Bill Turner and children, Mrs. Andrew Pyka, Mrs. Sim Cox, J. Sprenzel, and Bill Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Turner expect to leave the last of this week for Lubbock where he has work. We regret losing this good family from our midst.

The common potato originated in South America and was introduced to Europe by the Spaniards. The Irish were among the first people to adopt it as a staple food, and it soon became known as the "Irish potato." It really should be called "American potato."

NOTICE TO WATER USERS

The Directors of the Bandera Water Control and Improvement District met with their engineers last Friday night to see what could be done to remedy the water scarcity situation while awaiting action of the WPA on the project. We hope to have a pump installed in the next week or two that should take care of the needs of the present customers until the new plant is being completed.

The Directors.

PIPE CREEK H. D. CLUB

The Pipe Creek H. D. Club met Saturday afternoon, May 6.

The chairman, Mrs. F. M. Newcomer, opened the meeting by suggesting we practice on some songs for the music program, which was held May 13 at Medina.

Mrs. Nettie Roberts read the minutes of the last meeting. Miss Pfluger then gave us some slogans to guess the meaning of and it was very amusing to see who could answer first.

We then listened to a talk by Miss Pfluger on laundering and removing stains.

At the close of the meeting it was decided to go to the home of Mrs. Lawrence Edwards and use the piano to practice the songs.

Those present were Mesdames Mont Newcomer, Nettie Roberts, ... Newcomer, Edgar Pickens, Hubert Rohrbach, Ida Holt, J. O. Rucker, Grace Edwards, Hugo Zumberg, Edith Edwards, F. M. Newcomer and some of the 4-H girls helped with the singing.

RELIEF WORK ALMOST COMPLETE

The relief work following the Pipe Creek tornado is completed except for the final hospitalization expenses for Harry Steelman, the hospital expenses being borne by the American Red Cross. The Red Cross has contributed $3000 added to $1,395.86 in local contributions and volunteer labor with a value of approximately $1000 has made it possible to do a very creditable job. Funds were originally collected by a local committee but they and the Red Cross worked together harmoniously and did a fine job of ... rehabilitation.

OLD SETTLERS' JUBILEE

From reports that are coming in it is now believed that the Old Settlers' Jubilee to be held at Frontier Times Museum in Bandera on Saturday, June 3, will be attended by the largest crowd of people ever seen in Bandera. It has been almost ten years since a real get-together Old Settlers' Reunion has taken place here, and old settlers from all over the county are coming to the Jubilee, as well as many former Bandera county people who now reside in other places. Preparations are being made to entertain all who come. J. Marvin Hunter is having a large open-air pavilion erected just back of the museum building to provide plenty of shade for the crowd. The festivities start at 10 a. m., and will continue throughout the day, winding up with an old time barn dance given by the Bandera Fire Department at Mansfield Park that night. The program includes a travelogue, "A Day's Trip Over the Chisholm Trail," by Dean T. U. Taylor of the University; a memorial service for all who have died in this county during the past year; a reception to all couples in Bandera and adjoining counties who have celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary during the past three years, or who will celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary during the next three years; big barbecue dinner served by the Bandera Parent-Teachers' Association, the menu to consist of barbecued meats, pickles, potato salad, beans, bread and coffee, for 35c a plate; spinning demonstration by Grandma Mattie Jones; rope twirling by Tex Elam and Bruce and Charlie Montague; Music by D. E. Conwill, Slick Jones, Rudolph Schott, Elmo Newcomer, the Montague boys, and others; shingle-making, and bow and arrow shooting by Chas. Eckhart; Fiddlers' Contests; Horn-Tooting Contest; songs by the Wiemers family; Cotton-Eyed Joe Dance; Square Dance; the Lancers by the Lancers' Club of San Antonio, directed by Judge Claude Carter; and many other interesting features.

Couples thus far listed for the Golden Wedding reception are:

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Coffey, Bandera; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Kindla, Bandera; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Olliff, East Verde; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tobey, Medina; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Garrison, Medina; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Newcomer, Pipe Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Callahan, Pipe Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Tom M. Stevens, Bandera; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mills, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Word, Hondo; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Vawter, Pipe Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keller, Bandera; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mayfield, Medina; Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Mayfield, Medina.

Mrs. George Howland is chairman of the Golden Wedding reception committee. Names of other couples who will participate in the reception should be sent in to Mrs. Howland at once. Rev. E. C. Ray, pastor of the Bandera Baptist Church, will make a short talk to the couples present.

In spite of almost universal opinion among visitors at the zoo, monkeys rarely have been known to have fleas. When they search through each other's hair they are looking for small bits of sweat secretion, similar to dandruff, which is shed by the skin. They like this "scurf" because it is salty, and will spend hours searching for small particles of it.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES HELD THURSDAY

Commencement exercises were held Thursday night on the high school lawn and nineteen seniors received diplomas. The stage was erected over the entrance steps and was decorated with green and the class flower, larkspurs. Two large flood lights illuminated the stage and lawn. Every seat was filled and many had to stand as the crowd that attended was the largest ever to witness commencement exercises.

After music by the Bandera-Medina Band, the program was conducted by the seniors. Constance Mangold delivered the welcoming address. Charles E. Wyatt, Irving Billings and Vincent Anderwald gave a demonstration on Vocational Agriculture work, giving a history of sheep and the main points to be observed in judging a sheep. Catherine Hager and Lanelle Fee gave a demonstration of work in Home Economics by showing the proper way to mix and bake a pie crust. Fred Maass and Constance Mangold gave a demonstration of work in the commercial department, including the proper touch system and speed test. Melanie Keiser gave an interesting demonstration of work in the English department. Delbert Knibbe and Leo Towers demonstrated work in the General Science department by a discussion and experiment in atmospheric pressure. Thomas Gray and Calvin Callahan gave an interesting example of work in the Physics department with a demonstration of various neon lights. This was followed by a talk on the development of Bandera High School by Clarence Adamietz.

After a few selections by the band, the processional was played and the seniors, in their caps and gowns, made their entrance for the presentation of awards and diplomas.

E. R. Teel presented certificates for perfect attendance to the following: Jack Hunter, Marion McDaniel, Alice Jordan, Joe Goodenough, Dorothy Clark, George B. MEMORY OF THE SOLDIERS

The 30th day of May has for many years been set aside as a national memorial day, to honor the memory of the soldiers who have fought in our wars. There is an old saying to the effect that "it is sweet to die for one's country." To our life loving people, who want to dwell on this earth among their friends and who cling to this existence as the one thing of which they feel positive in a world of mystery, it is hard to believe that old saying.

We know so little of this strange and inexplicable universe, that perhaps that saying is truer than we think.

It may be that those soldiers who died for us, who have gone on before, have found it to be literally true." If they are conscious of affairs on this earth, if they are witnesses of our joys and sorrows, our struggles and our hopes, they may see very clearly that the work they did on earth and the sacrifice they offered for us, have made them the objects of universal affection.

If they hear the tributes paid to them by the eloquence of orators, if they view the wordless but emotional tribute paid when flowers are laid on their graves, a great feeling of affection and tenderness will come over them. Then they may truly say and mean it, that it is sweet to die for one's country.

Also as to those who served in our wars and who returned to tell the tale, it is sweet for them to feel they have the affection of the people whom they served, even though they personally know very few of these people. So on the National Memorial day let us think of all the soldiers, whether living or gone before, with hearts of gratitude for their sacrifices and patriotism.

SPRUCING UP

Reports from Canada have told how people living along the routes to be traversed by King George and Queen Elizabeth of England on their long tour through that country, have been painting and cleaning up their places. They want to look like true parts of Spotlesstown when the royal eyes gaze at them.

The King and Queen have so many things to look at on this journey, that they can hardly notice the condition of this or that residence or business block, but they will get a general impression of the cities and towns through which they pass. Paint and cleansing labors and the use of rakes and mowers will have their effect on the general picture. The towns thus treated will look like the tousled boy who is persuaded to use the brush and comb before he sits down to dinner.

Our own country sees this spruicing up tendency from time to time. If there is to be an important celebration anywhere, many citizens realize that their places won't stand critical examination. Previously lethargic folks don their coveralls and perform clean-up and improvement tasks too long neglected.

It could be wished that people were as acutely conscious of disorder all the time as they are when their town is dressed up for some important show. The house which appears shabby because of lack of paint conveys an impression of discouragement. When the conservation under the recently enacted State Soil Conservation Act is placed squarely upon the landowners themselves by the terms of the Act.

This information went to Texas county agricultural and home demonstration agents in a letter prepared by C. Hohn, soil and water conservation specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service; and which contained a summarized explanation of the new act. The summary was drawn up by Paul Walser, state coordinator of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service, who is stationed at A. and M.; M. H. Bentley, Extension Service agricultural engineer, and Hohn.

First step in starting the program—the election of precinct committeemen and selection of county delegates to the district convention, has already been carried out as a result of the elections of May 15. These delegates met in the five district conventions on May 22 and elected the members of the state board.

These board members will meet at Temple on May 29 to set up the state organization. In addition to the five elected members, the board consists of five advisory members—Dr. T. O. Walton, president of Texas A. and M.; Clifford Jones, president of Texas Tech; Robt. Manire, state vocational agriculture director; J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture; and Walser.

In its May meeting and subsequent sessions, the board will consider the location of its office, creation of soil conservation districts, assistance to the districts and coordination of the districts plans to secure cooperation and assistance of federal and state agencies, and the dissemination of information.

Districts may not exceed 3,000 square miles in size—slightly less than the area of Reeves county or Tarrant, Parker, Hood and Johnson counties combined—and the initial step in organizing a district comes in the form of a petition for election signed by any 50, or a majority of land owners within the proposed district.

Following such proposed petition, the state board will hold a public hearing within the proposed district, and, on the basis of the hearing, may call for an election. A two-thirds majority of the land owners voting is necessary to create a district. Districts may be enlarged by the same procedure.

When a district is created, two supervisors are appointed by the board to secure a state charter and to provide for the election of three district supervisors. All supervisors must be landowners within the district and must be actively engaged in agriculture.

Supervisors may engage district employees as needed, will present land-use regulations. Such regulations or ordinances, to be put into effect as binding upon the landowners within the district, must receive a favorable vote of 90 per cent of landowners voting upon them.

The district supervisors may also acquire, maintain and dispose of property in the name of the district, administer erosion control projects, and require contributions in the form of services, materials, and so on from landowners.

Districts may be discontinued after five years upon petition of 50 landowners within the district and by simple majority of votes in the ensuing election.

Hohn pointed out that the summary necessarily left many points unexplained, and said detailed information concerning the operation of the state soil conservation law entailed a study of the act itself.

HAIL DAMAGE

College Station, Texas, May 22, 1939—Severe hail on a wide-flung sector of the state has filled the mail basket of J. E. Rosborough, horticulturist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, with letters asking for information regarding treatment of damaged shade trees, shrubs and orchards.

Rosborough says prompt and careful action can cut down the damage to a large extent. Where the foliage, twigs and top part of the branches have been injured orange shellac, applied to peeled branches with an ordinary paint brush, will seal the damaged area, prevent loss of sap, and allow quick healing to take place.

In cases where large portions of the wood is exposed, the surface should be covered with asphaltum paint after the bark has begun to heal—usually within three or four weeks.

The pruning off of damaged growth should be delayed until new sprouts have begun to come out on the branches, when the proper place to make the cuts can be easily determined.

Trees that have suffered from hail damage should be watered throughout the summer wherever possible to encourage the development of foliage, the horticulturist indicated.

THE WORST OF THE "ISMS"

The American people are tired of what they call "Isms." They dislike what they hear about Fascism, Communism, and many notions that have gained a great hold. They wish the country would settle down and cease chasing after ideas that are either directly harmful or not practical.

Theodore Roosevelt once remarked that there was one "ism" which he thoroughly believed in, and that was patriotism. Lord Tweedsmuir, governor general of Canada, remarks that there is only one "ism" which kills the soul, which is pessimism.

The American people in former days never used to listen to pessimism. If big things needed doing, they went ahead and did them. They had unbounded faith in the future of their country, and their own power to meet all problems.

To-day some are saying that conditions are almost hopeless. They lament how our own home problems are almost insoluble, and then they say we may be drawn into a terrible war if Europe persists in fighting. The United States does not have to fight in any war unless it wants to, and the 5th day of June A. D. 1939 at the Court House in Election Precinct No. 1 in Bandera county, Texas, for the following purposes, viz: To determine whether or not a majority of the resident qualified voters of the town of Bandera residing within the hereinafter described limits, desire to incorporate the town of Bandera under Article 1165 of the Revised Civil Statutes. The proposed incorporated limits to embrace the territory within the following described boundary: Beginning at a point, the intersection of the northeast property line of 16th Street in the present town of Bandera, Texas and the left bank of the Medina River (looking down stream) at Water Street for the point of beginning, and the most easterly corner of the territory. Thence in a northwesterly direction with the said northeast property line of 16th Street in Bandera, Texas, a distance of approximately 1530 varas, to a point ten varas beyond the northwest property line of the Bandera city blocks bordering the northwest side of Cottonwood Street, for the most northerly corner of the territory.

Thence: in a southwesterly direction with a line paralleling the said northwest property line of the Bandera city blocks bordering the northwest side of Cottonwood Street and ten varas in a northwesterly direction from said northwest line, a distance of approximately 780 varas to a point in the said left bank of the Medina river. Thence: following the meanders of the said left bank of the said Medina river in the direction of its flow, to the point of beginning.

H. Harper, Ray Wyatt, Mrs. Mena Hamilton and Mrs. Edgar Pue have been appointed to hold said election, with H. Harper acting as presiding officer, and he shall cause the polls to be open from eight o'clock a. m. to seven o'clock p. m. and he shall within five days after said election has been held, make due return thereof to the County Judge of this county as is required in other elections. All persons who are qualified voters of this state and county, and residents of the proposed incorporated district, shall be entitled to vote at said election. And all voters who favor the incorporation shall have written or printed on their ballots, the words: For incorporation under the commission form of government. And those who oppose incorporation shall have written or printed on their ballots, the words: Against incorporation under the commission form of government.

And at said election there is to be elected a Mayor and two City Commissioners to serve until the first Tuesday in April, 1940.

THE POWER OF PERSUASION

People win success by the power of persuasion. People get elected to office because they know how to persuade the voters that their ideas are good and right. Salesmen sell goods because they can talk persuasively.

So the business has to talk persuasively to the people before it can expect to dispose of its goods. If it could afford to send salesmen all over its territory to talk about its goods, it would sell a lot of stuff. That is usually too costly. Newspaper advertising gives business the chance to carry on this work of persuasion at small cost.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

"The old home ain't what it used to be" says the nice old song. The old home town won't be what it used to be, if people don't take hold to give it the improvements that similar communities are getting.

Among the most valuable assets of a community are the people who spend their money at home.

Towns hardly ever stand still. Either they are going ahead or slipping backward. While they think everything is all right, they may be failing to do the things that are bringing progress elsewhere.

The people who can't talk don't shine in society as they could, and business concerns that fail to talk about their goods through advertising are in danger of being less conspicuous than their good work merits.

Not knowing this plant, many Texans, particularly those city folks who seldom go to the country, may contract a severe case of skin poisoning if they are not careful on picnics, camping and fishing trips.

Warnings that several cases of poisoning have been reported already this year, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, describes Rhux toxicodendron for the benefit of those not familiar with it. The plant has three leaves which are now green, and later become red or bright yellow. It grows on a low but erect plant, varying from several inches to three or four feet in height. The plant bears smooth, whitish, waxy berries containing a stony seed.

The easiest way you can distinguish the plant is by its leaves. Two of them are on short stalks and the third is on a longer one. They are one to four inches long, dark green on top and lighter underneath. The leaves also have notched margins.

If you are susceptable to it, slight contact with the plant may result in violent skin irritation caused by a resinous substance in the sap. First manifestations will appear within a few hours to five days. Itching, burning sensations and redness, swelling and development of small blisters on the affected parts are symptoms of rhux poisoning.

Early use of soap and hot water soon after exposure will prevent poisoning, but a brush should not be used for washing. The most effective method of prevention, however, is to avoid the plant entirely.

Ignore Rhux toxicodendron as you would poison ivy, for if you haven't guessed it yet, they are one and the same.

Sprucing up is a very fine thing, only the intervals between its manifestations are far too long in many cases.

SOMETHING DOING

People like a town where there is something doing. They appreciate good entertainments, pleasant social occasions, athletic events. The tendency of the time calls for activities of many kinds where they can associate with their friends, see them take part in interesting sports.

If a community is to make progress, it needs to offer opportunities for its people to get together and enjoy themselves. Where there is nothing of this kind, the people are apt to become dull and stupid, and to lose interest in their town.

Your car will last longer and you'll derive much more pleasure and satisfaction from driving with the cogrect summer grades of Mobiloil, Mobilgrease and Mobilgas.

HAIL DAMAGE

College Station, Texas, May 22, 1939—Severe hail on the night of May 19 in the area that filled the road ballast pit at Hockley, Harris county, with ice and damaged crops, is the subject of a letter from Extension Service, with letters asking for information regarding treatment of "damaged" crops. Soybean and orchard Roshorough says proper care and careful action can cut down the damage from the storm. Where the foliage, twigs and tender new branches have been injured by the hail, cut back to healthy branches with an ordinary paint brush and seal the damaged area, the specialist declares. Bordeaux mixture, quick healing to take place.

Where there are large portions of the foliage destroyed, the plants should be covered with asphaltum paint spray to keep the sun from being heat—usually within three or four days.

The pruning off of damaged growth should be delayed until the trees have begun to come out on the branches, so that the proper place to make the cuts can be determined.

Trees that have suffered from hail damage should be watered throughout the growing season, if possible to encourage the development of foliage, the horticulturist indicated.

THE WORST OF THE "ISMS"

The American people have heard of what they call "isms." They fear, Communism, and a many factions that have gained a great following in this country would settle down and cease fighting after ideas that are either of foreign origin or are unsound.

The third election there is to be elected a Mayor and two City Councilmen to serve until the first Tuesday in April, 1940.

Given under my hand and seal of office this third day of May, 1939.

In a class of Greek history a youth was asked to tell the story of the battle of Thermopylae.

"Well, sir," he began descriptive ability and proceeded with such detail was left out. The story of the heroic stand of the Spartans against the Persians was told in full—and they fought and fought and fought. And still the pupil. They fought until their spears broke. Then they used their hands."

J. L. Boles, former Valley district manager, and Walter E. Sherrin, industrial development director, were elected as vice-presidents of Central Power and Light Company at the directors meeting held in Corpus Christi Friday, according to H. Spotr, local manager of C. P. & L.

Mr. Boles will supervise operations of the company's Guadalupe Victoria and Rice Belt districts which are with headquarters at Bay Bawyers, L. M. Levinson and Vance Porter, respectively, as district managers. Mr. Dickerson will continue his industrial development work.

Other officers re-elected at the meeting were Lon C. Hill, president; H. H. Cooper, operating vice-president; E. B. Meiswanger, vice-president; H. C. Loehr, vice-president; W. C. Bellamy, secretary; Tom D. Pierce, assistant secretary; R. B. Rhodes, assistant secretary; J. A. Manley, assistant treasurer; and G. Menger, auditor.

THE EARTH'S GREAT ONES

Are the men and women of England, as they travel about Canada and our own country, happier than the rest of the people? They are the centers of reverence and almost adoration. The people of Canada testify in multitudes to their affection and loyalty. In Montreal enormous crowds will turn out to gaze on them.

Many people no doubt feel it would be wrong to do this. It is such an exalted position, with every wish gratified, if you could, that one of the great ones of the earth to tell their inmost thoughts—they would, no doubt, has many things to perplex and trouble them.

If the ordinary person makes some error, it affects little notice, and if he forgets his hat in the hand of any great nation makes a mistake, it is trumpeted over the world.

Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown" says the old proverb, and it is true. Many kings and emperors had legal power, they took the chance that of many serious mistakes, they might be turned out of power, and possibly lose their heads, as did Louis XVI. It was a terrible time when one reverence for the head of a nation, to come down to ordinary life, and have to put up with the taunts of his enemies and the reproaches of his friends.

In our own history Charles I. held high office, but he had a terrible lesson for succeeding rulers. Their office is hereditary, and hostile critics are keen to ridicule every error they commit. Such people need a heart of steel.

There is a kind of blessedness in obscurity for those who can enjoy it. Modest home and a fairly sure job can go to bed in peace and sleep soundly, while the rulers of the earth toss and turn, and no doubt lose long hours of sleep while they try to conquer baffling problems.

Building In Bandera Continues

Walter Trenkenbach and triplex are busy making improvements to two buildings and at least two new ones will be constructed between the Langford Hardware store and the theatre. The building adjoining the hardware store, formerly used as a feed and hide store is being remodeled and is now being used as a plumbing shop by Mr. Trenkenbach. This property is owned by Mr. Trenkenbach and also on this property a planing mill is being built for Geny Gallegos.

Another new building will be a combination lighting shop and home for Mr. Trenkenbach.

On the corner that the property owned by Dan Pugh is being remodeled and will be converted into a 2-cabin furnished home for J. F. Langford who owns the property.

Sherrin, industrial development director, were elected as vice-presidents of Central Power and Light Company at the directors meeting held in Corpus Christi Friday, according to H. SUMMER PROGRAM BEGUN

A number of Homemaking girls and Miss McElroy had their first get-together of the summer on Friday, May 20.

At that time the foods laboratory was busily engaged for the summer months. A picnic on the river followed with many crowds will turn out to gaze on them.

OATS PUT UP FOR SILAGE

Approximately 150 tons of silage made from oats has been stored in a pit silo on Mrs. F. L. Barnes place in Medina, according to H. F. Schiemmer, County Agent. The oats were put up under the supervision of Ed Barnes, who is operating the ranch and the silo will be opened in the next two weeks.

The first bunch of oats was put into the silo during a shower and the water mixed with plenty of water. Instead of being a hindrance, the rain was a big help in this method of harvesting.

This is the first time that oats have ever been used for silage in this county, but an examination of the silage indicates that the quality will be good and more will be retained out of this method of harvesting than any other way because of the leaves. Ensiling the oats makes the stems more palatable and the grain is just as good as ever, Schiemmer said.

RAIN AND HAIL FELL HERE TUESDAY

After several days of threatening weather a good rain fell here on Tuesday afternoon. The rain was accompanied by light hail in town but a few miles south of town the hail was so heavy it ruined garden truck, shredded field corn and some kiss of chickens and turkeys were killed by the hail. One hail measured only ¼ inch in diameter, Kathe's gauge but Dr. J. A. Butler, reported his gauge showed ¾ inches. The rain was of general however and west of town only light showers fell.

At noon a delicious barbecue dinner was served to the large crowd present. Friday Ellis and his trick mule of San Marcos provided many laughs with their antics and stunts. Every event was packed with thrills and was well timed.

THE EARTH'S GREAT ONES

Are the King and Queen of England, as they travel about Canada and our own country, happier than the average person? They are the centers of reverence and almost adoration. The people of Canada testify in multitudes to their affection and loyalty. In our country admiring crowds will turn out to gaze on them.

Many people no doubt feel it would be wonderful to be in such an exalted position, with every wish gratified. If you could induce any of the great ones of the earth to tell their inmost thoughts, they would say they had many things to perplex and trouble them.

If the ordinary person makes some error, it attracts little notice, and is soon forgotten. But if the head of any great nation makes a mistake, it is trumpeted over the world.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown" says the old proverb. In former days when kings and emperors had legal power, they took the chance that if they made serious mistakes, they might be turned out of power, and have to come down to humble life. It was a terrible [...] for the man who was once reverenced as the head of a nation, to come down to ordinary life, and have to put up with the taunts of his enemies and the reproaches of his friends.

In our own country those who hold high office have to bear a terrible burden of responsibility. Their every action is watched, and hostile critics are keen to ridicule every error of judgement. Such people need a heart of steel.

There is a kind of blessedness in obscurity. The man who has a modest home and a fairly sure job can go to bed in peace and quiet and sleep the sleep of confidence and hope. The head man of any nation carry heavy weights of anxiety, and no doubt lose long hours of sleep while they try to conquer baffling problems.

SUMMER PROGRAM BEGUN

A number of Homemaking girls and Miss McElroy had their first group meeting of the summer Saturday, May 20.

At that time the foods laboratory at school was closed for the summer months. A picnic on the river followed and the girls decided on summer projects which will be of most benefit to them and their homes. There will be other such meetings during the summer for the girls to meet and discuss their problems and check their progress.

Miss McElroy remained here the past week to organize her program. She plans to return at various times during the summer and visit the girls and their projects.

At the close of the summer, there will be an Achievement day. The girls who have successfully completed their supervised home projects will have credit added to their school work.

TOWNS THAT HAVE CHARM

Charm is a quality highly valued by people, and it can also be possessed by towns. It can be had in any town, whether or not many of its people are wealthy. Some of the most charming communities are made up largely of small and moderate sized homes. In these places attention is paid to neatness and beauty. People will not tolerate anything that looks run down; they keep disorder cleaned up, and their houses are painted when they need it.

They are well adorned with trees, shrubs, flowers and vines. Lovely color gives a touch of romance to [...] Green lawns make these grounds look like a nicely cared for park. Small sums of money produce these beautiful effects, though they do call for some labor and care. The rewards abundantly pay for the effort.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tilley and daughters of Devine visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Olliff Sunday.

OATS PUT UP FOR SILAGE

Approximately 100 tons of silage made from oats has been stored in a pit silo on Mrs. F. L. Barnes place at Medina, according to H. F. Schlemmer, County Agent. This work was done under the supervision of Ed Barnes, who is operating the ranch and the silo was filled during the past two weeks.

The first bunch of oats was put into the silo during a shower and was well packed with plenty of water. Instead of being a hindrance, the rain was a big help in this method of harvesting.

This is the first time that oats have ever been used for silage in this county, but an examination of the silage indicates that the quality will be good and more will be realized out of this method of harvesting than any other way because of the short crop. Ensiling the oats makes the stems more palatable and the grain is just as good as ever, Schlemmer said.

RAIN AND HAIL FELL HERE TUESDAY

After several days of threatening weather a good rain fell here Tuesday afternoon. The rain was accompanied by light hail in town but a few miles south of town the hail was so heavy it ruined gardens, shrubbery and field crops and some loss of chickens and turkeys was reported. The rain fall measured only ¾ inch in Albert Kalka's gauge but Dr. J. O. Butler reported his gauge showed 2¼ inches. The rain was not general however and west of town only light showers fell.

THE OLD EXAMINATION DAY

The end of the school and the New Year comes near; and has already come in many schools. At the Little Red School-House the final day of school was usually called "Examination day" or "Exhibition day" and it was a fateful occasion, viewed often with feelings of deep apprehension. It was the day when the school committee was supposed to visit the school, to pass their official judgment on the work of the year. Parents and friends of the children attended, steamed in their Sunday clothes, eager to get some hint of what the children had learned, and ready to applaud every youngster as a genius for which the world was sure to hear. The examination was not usually as searching and formidable as the pupils had feared. The teacher was apt to have a pretty good idea of the kind of questions the awesome committee would ask, and the children were carefully drilled on the necessary answers. It did not take a great deal to fill the "exhibition" with admiration.

The intense relief felt when the final questions were asked lifted the soul of youth to heights of happiness, and thoughts of the blessed vacation period filled the air.

The remarks of the committee, made the parents proud of their children. The children were praised for their patient effort, and given to feel that they were going to make quite a splash in the big pond of life.

Modern educators would say that many of the old school methods were unscientific. Education now shows us many better ways of teaching children, which the old timers never knew. Yet very many of America's leaders got their start in the Little Red Schoolhouse, and there learned the lessons of ambition and persistence that they have never forgotten.

HEALING THE SORE SPOTS

Social workers who assembled at Boston for the recent National Parents and Citizens' Conference talked about the sore spots in American life, and how they could be healed. They spoke particularly of supervised recreation; and better homes for the people.

There is an old saying that if everyone will sweep in front of his own door the whole world will be clean. Nearly everybody can do something to heal the sore spots. One sore spot develops when young people do not have adequate activities to fill up their leisure time. The old time boy on the farm had no such difficulty. His spare hours outside of school if he had any, were well occupied with weeding the garden, watering the cattle, etc. If Satan was lurking around to set him to mischief in his idle time, he got little chance for his work.

The modern town and city boy needs some substitute for that orderly. Some boys get it by delivering newspapers, working at odd jobs, stores, etc. It would be wished that all boys had such opportunities. Good games and playgrounds teach them many things, and make them improvious to old Satan's tempting whisper.

As for better homes for the people, many folks need them. Some families that complain of defects in the dwellings they occupy might do something to make needed improvements if they would cooperate with the owners of their dwellings. When they are willing to do some work themselves to correct such defects the landlord may feel he could afford improvements for such helpful tenants.

More spots in the human body are apt to develop from some inaction. Many sore spots in community life develop because young people become infected with wrong ideas. The parents should remember that of these ideas before, they reach the danger stage.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Every time you improve the appearance of your home place, you induce some neighbor to do the same. When he does so, someone else imitates him, and so your good example spreads over a wide area.

When you spend a dollar at home, you not merely get the worth of your money, but you obtain a share in the increased prosperity of the home town.

When a business concern spends money to tell the people about its goods, it not only helps itself, but it helps every other business concern in town. Some folks think that they can get business by not telling about it. That is a mistake.

FAMOUS SONG WRITER WAS EPILEPTIC

HOUSE DEFEATS TOWNSEND PLAN BY 302 TO 97

Washington, June 7.—The House booting the Townsend old age pension bill old of the records today by a 302 to 97 vote, while its parent, Dr. Francis E. Townsend, fidgeted in his gallery seat.

The roll call, generally conceded to be an effort by the Democratic leadership to purge Republicans on the spot, placed 55 members of the minority party on record for the bill. In addition, one Republican was "paired" for the measure—meaning that he would have voted for the legislation had he not been paired off with one of his opponents.

Republicans against the bill totaled 107.

The Democratic majority split 40 for and 194 against. Representative Boland (D.) of Pennsylvania Democratic whip, had estimated before the roll call that not more than 25 Democrats would vote for it. Many would vote for the measure. He also forecast that more than 100 Republicans would favor it.

To the totals for the two principal groups were recorded in debate as both a "recovery program" and a "prosperity program" provided pensions up to $200 a month for persons 60 years old and over. The pensions would be financed by a tax on business transactions and remain effective for 1 per cent.

The bill also would have required the pensioners to spend their money immediately and, as far as possible, on American goods and services.

The leadership's view that a vote on the pension plan would embarrass Republicans than Democrats was based on contentions that more Republicans than Democrats had clirted with the Townsend proposal than had Democrats.

The Democrats also wished to be in a position to say that they had been responsive to that they had given the bill a chance and it had failed.

The vote came soon after the start of the day's session with only a few members on the floor and in the hours of talking for and against the bill yesterday.

The only real spellbinding, which Dr. Townsend heard from the gallery, Representative Lemke (R.) of North Dakota, author of the bill would ignore "the most vicious super sales tax ever proposed" to "the working body in the United States."

Representative Hendricks (D.) of Florida described it as "unfair" for opponents of the bill to have saved time by shortening the debate hamstrung the proposition. He said he had understood that all debate would be completed before yesterday's adjournment.

Officials said out of the 150,000 new applicants under the liberalized law, probably 40,000 to 50,000 would qualify as having no means of support, leaving a large doubt as to the ability or offspring to support them.

Registrations can be completed within a week in most counties, Chairman Lee Woodul of the district the intelligibee will start. Registration blanks will be distributed Monday from the courthouses of the 254 counties, where the applicant must call for the blank in person.

Both applicants and relatives will receive Texas payments. State officials were taking the position that all they can do is administer the state law, then submit their revised setup to federal authorities.

Fruit Crops

Cherries are the best fruit crop in the county. After seeing the cherries on the trees in the Bandera valley, I am convinced that the finest cherries grow in this section. The inch and a half rain last week will make the fruit crop. Quite a few apples are also in evidence. The fruit is not all back either. Peaches are showing up well in some places and the orchard is perfectly taken care of.

MARKING THE WORD OF GOD OF NONE EFFECT

Many people are guilty of "making the word of God of none effect." God's word given through Moses had required children to honor parents, but the Pharisees and pharisees had offered freedom from divine obligation thus "making the word of God of none effect." (Mark 7:13.)

According to this text, for word of God is effective, unless it has been made of none effect by something else. One cannot add to the word of God and human tradition at the same time. When the one is added the other is rejected. To reject the commandments of God, that you may keep your own traditions." (Mark 7:9.)

It wasteful errors injected into their hearts that make the word of none effect. And many are choked with the thorns and cares of this life, and bring no fruit thereto. Such are the cares riches and pleasures of this life. (Luke 8:14.) They are too busy and too worldly to be saved. They have failed to serve the Lord. They are choked with the cares of a family, the cares of business, or and by their cares of the rich. Then, they are too busy seeking pleasures to go to heaven. They are too busy pleasure-riding to worship on the Lord's day. They spend their time in movies, theatres or at the games, clubs, etc. and have no time in which to keep the truth. They have no time to enter the mid-week services or even a protracted meeting that they may be taught the truth of God's word. They have no time for devotion on the Lord's day, such worthiness crowds and pleasure-seeking. They have no time to study the truth of God's word.

FLAG DAY, JUNE 14

On June 14, 1777, the Congress of the United States, but then a feeble little union of 13 scattered colonies, adopted what was practically the present form of the national flag. It was a bold step, as it indicated that the colonies were firmly determined to obtain their own independence.

A few years previous to the adoption of that national emblem, not many people held the idea that this country would or could obtain independence. The patriots were in the main protesting against injustices committed by the English king and his ministers, but not many expected to set up an independent government. They merely asked for reforms and justice under the old crown.

But as those years swiftly passed, as acts of tyranny and injustice followed, the idea took deep root that only complete independence and a new form of government could the American people maintain their rights and establish justice. Their declaration of independence, July 4, 1776, was a daring act. It was likely enough, if the independence movement had been put down, that many of its leaders would have paid with their lives for this daring act of courage.

So when in less than a year after the Declaration of Independence, that battalion, which represented it, indicated the firm desire to stick it out, and obtain freedom, or take the risk of dying in the attempt.

The story of the flag have this deep significance, that they are all alike. No one star is greater or brighter than its comrades. Some states have always been big states, some small states, in population, but in the union of this flag they are all alike.

So should it be under the flag in American life. Some folks are big, some are little, in their powers and attainments. But in their rights and a fair chance to obtain what they are able to produce, and secure the benefits of American life, they should stand alike as do the stars in our flag.

THE WEDDING MONTH

June, sweet month of roses, is also called the month of weddings. Even if the country is not as prosperous as it could be, even if the chances of earning a living do not seem wholly sure, the young people keep marrying. Countless young folks have been asking what it costs to support a family, and if two can live as cheaply as one. These questions are extremely vital.

The real issue goes deeper than any question of money. It is whether young people contemplating marriage have that harmony of aim and that capacity for self sacrifice which go so far to make a successful marriage.

Life has made young people more serious than they were a few years ago. Not so much are they getting married in a merely play spirit, just, to have fun. The problems of modern life have caused to look at the world in a more practical way. The number that enter matrimony merely under sex fascination or from a temporary whim, will probably be a good deal less than it was a few years ago.

The Episcopal Book of common prayer says that the "holy estate of matrimony is not to be entered into unadvisedly or lightly, but reverently, discreetly, advisedly, soberly and in the fear of God. It calls on the contracting couple to love, comfort, honor and cherish fr better or worse, in sickness and in health.

The wedding day fills hearts with happiness, as longing are satisfied, and love comes with its sweetness to say "O promise me." Life, brings many trials, and there are dull and dreary days that work and toil. But if there is love at home, that things spoke can be made one of glad smiles, and there will be flowers all the way.

Rabbits Produce Most Fur

"Rabbits produce about 80 per cent of all fur used in Unified States coats. But that fur isn't always labeled "rabbit." It may be lapin, wallitz, electric seal, near seal, French chinchilla, imitation ermine, mutlon. And, they're just a few. Only mink is more profitable to United States fur raisers than the bunny.

Dead Sea Fruit

The phrase, Dead Sea fruit, is from "Lalla Rookh." The so-called apple of Sodom; a yellow fruit which grows on the shores of the Dead Sea is beautiful to the eye, but bitter to taste, and filled with minute black seeds not unlike soot. The words are found in "The Fire Worshiper."

Capitals of Pennsylvania

The year after Penn's arrival the Provincial government was established in Philadelphia, which remained the capital until 1799, when Lancaster received the honor on the first Monday of November of that year. By an act approved February 21, 1810, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, Harrisburg was declared to be the capital after 1812. From that date Harrisburg has been the capital of Pennsylvania. Philadelphia was the capital of the United States from 1790 to 1800. Lancaster and York were temporary capitals during the Revolution, Lancaster for three days from September 27, 1777, until September 30, 1777, when York became the capital.

Fleeing Rat Carries Young

The russel-brown rat of the islands on the north Australian coast has a novel way of carrying its young. You will see a mother rat scurrying along with one or more half-grown babies clinging teeth-and-claw to the fur of its haunches. The added weight does not appear to cause much inconvenience, and the mother can make good time over the ground when hard pressed.

Army and Navy Legion of Valor

The Army and Navy Legion of Valor is composed of men who have won the Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Cross or Navy Cross. The Army's Distinguished Service Cross is for extraordinary heroism in war; the Navy Cross for a similar service. And over them comes the Medal of Honor (Army or Navy), the highest decoration given by the United States.

Visited by Virgin Mary

The name of the girl fourteen years of age, who, according to tradition, was visited by the Virgin Mary at the Grotto of the Spring at Lourdes, France; and informed of its miraculous properties, was Marie-Bernarde Soubirous. She was better known in her village as Bernadette. It occurred in 1858.

Quacks in Literature

Literature has her quacks no less than medicine, and they are divided into two classes; those who have erudition without genius, and those who have volubility without depth; we shall get second-hand sense from the one, and original nonsense from the other.—Colton.

Weight of the Brain

The brain attains full weight at from fifteen to eighteen years, except in unusual cases. It remains the same until sixty or thereabouts, when it begins to decrease in weight. At eighty years about six per cent of the weight has been lost.

Avoiding Uneasiness

If you would be exempt from uneasiness, do nothing which you would wish to conceal. Do not even think anything which you would be afraid to have known. Then you will not fear to appear in public, if you wish to enjoy the purest pleasure, always "everything" in your power which you know is right.

NEW SECTIONS MAY BE STOCKED WITH TURKEYS

A new method of raising wild turkey under semi-natural conditions being tested by the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission may pave the way to the stocking of many sections of Texas with the big game birds.

In cooperation with the United States Soil Conservation Service and the U. S. Farm Security Administration, the Game Department has fenced 5 50-acre tract in the heart of the Pannin county rehabilitation project area near Bonham. Forty-eight wild turkey trapped in Southwest Texas were released in the enclosure after their wings had been clipped.

Wild turkey do not thrive in pens, but it is believed that under the semi-natural conditions they have found in the 50-acre tract they will prosper and propagate. A number of the hens have already been located. Birds are being given some food, but are foraging for the most of their nourishment.

When the young birds hatched on the area grow older it is expected they will fly over the fence. The older birds, when their wing feathers have grown out, will also leave the huge pen and will populate the surrounding territory.

Should the experiment prove successful it will be repeated in several areas of the state which provide the natural environment conducive to raising wild turkeys.

The mystery of the "thefts" of small chickens from the farm of J. Stevens near Harper, Texas, was cleared up recently when Mrs. Stevens caught a young deer, of which the family had made a pet, devouring a chick.

Why deer, which are herbivorous, should turn away from their natural "diet" is explained by State Game Department biologists as due to the lack of sufficient protein in their usual diet. The Stevens' pet was satisfying its craving for protein by consuming chickens.

The fawn was recovered by the Game Department. It is illegal to keep deer in captivity in Texas unless you possess a game breeders license.

Thousands of game and rough fish were killed in an extremely heavy hail storm of a half hour duration in the San Saba River in Menard county recently, Game Warden Ben F. Caddy of Menard reported to the Game Department.

The fish, bass, crappie, bream, carp, shad and buffalo, were caught in the shallow waters of the river by the hailstorm, which followed a heavy rain. The hail was so heavy, drifts of it remained in the river banks for 24 hours and the sudden change in temperature, coupled with the stunned condition of the fish, caused gills of silt churned up by the rain and hail caused their death it is believed.

Game Warden G. C. Gardner, whose district is composed of Harper and Liberty counties in Southeast Texas, reached 6,452 pupils of the 6,481 in the upper grades of 16 schools and exhibited conservation program for 5th, 6th and 7th grade pupils which ex-

WAY BACK WHEN

SINGER WAS A BISCUIT PACKER

USUALLY we are inclined to give too much credit to chance or luck for analyzing the success of prominent people, forgetting that without the talent to take advantage of an unexpected opportunity, they could not have risen. Helen Morgan's sudden rise to fame is an example.

Born in Danville, Illinois, her father died when she was an infant, leaving Helen Morgan and her mother practically penniless. When she was five years old, paint thrown by another child partially blinded her, and she had to spend a full year in a dark room. She sang to herself to pass the long dark hours and later she sang in a church choir in Chicago. There she worked as a manicurist, a waitress, a compositor operator, and a model. She was a fitter there at Marshall Field's department store and a biscuit packer for the National Biscuit Company. None of her jobs lasted long, for her eyes were always on the stage. She sang occasionally in cabarets and finally got a job through Ziegfeld in the chorus of "Sally." Learned the part, and finally Jesse hired her to sing in his Backstage club.

That was Helen Morgan's lucky chance. The Backstage club was so successful that she was forced to sit on the piano! Most of us would consider it a disadvantage, and perhaps it was, but the public soon was interested; she became a sensation, and specialty roles to fame. Musical comedies and motion pictures starred her, and soon she was singing in a night club named for her, at a salary of $1,500 per week. Today she is known the world over and, wherever she appears, sings sitting on the piano.

Perhaps, if Helen Morgan had not had to sit on the piano in the Backstage club, she would never have risen to stardom. Perhaps, she would have sung comparatively unnoticed for a couple of years, and gone back to manicuring or biscuit packing. But, remember, she had something worth delivering when she left on that piano.

Come-and-Go Island

Fallon, Nevada—The name-and-go island of the South Pacific, a thirty corner of land that has been appearing and disappearing since 1850. It was at that time sighted by the ship Falcon and other vessels, grew in size, and in 1866 vanished into the sea. Five years later it had reappeared, vanished again in 1904 and rising shortly after words for two more years. It reappeared in 1927 and a year later was explored by scientists. They found it was a volcanic origin and was composed of pumice and ash, both of which are quickly worn away by water and wind.

Walking in Circle When Lost

A lost person who will walk in a circle because one leg is longer or stronger than the other. Such an act is due to some faulty steering instinct. In hundreds of tests made with blindfolded criminals, soldiers and aviators, says Collier's Weekly, all traveled in spiral paths while trying to maintain a straight course.

Greatest Weight-Lifter

The greatest carrying feat by a human being on record occured in 1858, when A. J. Merchby, at St. Louis, Mo., staggered sideways eight steps with a ton and a quarter load on his back. Later he raised a stone-laden platform weighing 6,336 pounds on his back, but made no attempt to carry it.

My Neighbor Says:

Measure dry ingredients just above the rim of the cup, and level them off with a knife, and refrain from packing them down.

All vegetables should be drained thoroughly as soon as they are done. Allowing them to stand in water even a minute or two will make them watery.

To keep fatirons clean and smooth, rub them first with a piece of wax tied in a cloth and afterward scour them on a paper or cloth sprinkled with coarse salt.

Bacon should be cooked in a cold frying pan. Then be heated slowly and the fat poured off as soon as it collects. This makes best flavor for browning and seasoning foods.

To vary the flavor and color of summer beverages freeze fruit juices in ice trays in refrigerator. Add the frozen cubes to the beverage just before it is served.

Gus Britsch Died Suddenly

Often more death struck unexpectedly when Gus Britsch, a prominent stock farmer of the Middle Verde section, died suddenly last Thursday morning about 7 o'clock following a heart attack. His remains were taken to the Harper Funeral Home in Hondo where funeral services were held at 4 p. m. Friday, with Rev. Paul Cherkus, pastor of the St. Pius's Lutheran Church of Hondo officiating. Roland, Alvin and Ernest Britsch, Ernest Lutz, Lodo Oefinger and Ernest Balzen, all nephews of the deceased, served as pallbearers. Interment was in the Britsch family cemetery on the Vandenburg road.

The deceased was born on March 31, 1878 in the Vandenburg community to Medina county and grew to manhood there. For a number of years he has been a successful stock farmer in the southern part of Bandera county. He is mourned by a host of neighbors and friends as his sterling character had endeared him to all. The profusion of beautiful flowers gave ample evidence of the high esteem in which he was held.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Walter Britsch, of Hondo, one daughter, Mrs. Irene Byars of Bandera, two brothers, Louis and Charlie Britsch and 2 sisters, Mrs. Geo. Heyen and Miss Rosa Britsch. His death was the third in the family circle in the space of a few months.

BANDERA COUNTY FAIR PLANNED

Plans are being made to hold a County Fair in Bandera this year. Tentative dates are Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 2 and 3. Due to a conflict in dates the fair at Pearsall was cancelled and we look forward to a bigger and better fair this year. Live stock exhibits are always good as Bandera County P. T. A. and 4-H boys have many prizes with their sheep, goat and swine entries at the Southwestern Fat Stock Show and there are always many fine entries by the Bandera County ranchers.

Two years ago the Home Demonstration Clubs had very interesting exhibits but no doubt this year the exhibits will be even better in this line.

Keep the fair in mind and start now to prepare for it. Let's show the world what Bandera County can do.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT DENOUNCES MUSSOLINI

President Roosevelt this afternoon accusing Italy of plunging "a dagger" into the "back of its neighbor" and declared that those fought pledged the Allies "the material resources" of the United States.

Mussolini's action, he said, had consequences to America should the "Gods of force" achieve world mastery. Addressing thousands held up the prospect of a "helpless nightmare," of the American people living at the point of the bayonet, of their homes lodged in prison, handcuffed, hungry and fed through the bars from the prison kitchen, of their countenances impassive, unpitying masters of other continents.

These statements he made in inscribing address to the graduating class at the University of Virginia. Mussolini's action, he declared, so strongly worded that sources close to the administration said it was considered by Roosevelt that had abandoned a position of neutrality for one of non-belligerency.

IT TAKES NO LESS ENERGY TO FAIL THAN TO SUCCEED

It takes no less energy to fail as well as to succeed, and the amount in either case is about the same, as pointed out in the book "Wake-Up and Live," by Dorothea Brandg, who says that when people fail it is because their energy is poured into wrong channels. From day-dreaming requires energy, and the same amount might make an investor or a financier if put into those channels. People who fail devote their energies to time-killing pursuits, worrying and misdirected efforts. Many of them work harder than people who succeed.

A GREAT RESCUE

Two tremendous episodes have just been played on the stage of Europe's war to the death. The Germans seem to have outdistanced all history when in two weeks they surrounded an army estimated all the way from 500,000 to 1,000,000 men. Napoleon, Julius Cesaky and Alexander the Great never performed a stunt like that.

The Nazis were chorting with glee when they saw that great catch in their game bag. The Belgian army, except for considerable units that got away, was of course crushed. When it came to slipping the noose around the British and French, the latter armies proved too slippery.

When the desperate position of the surrounded armies was realized, it looked as if for the most part they were gone, doomed to die under the stars, or at best to be herded into prison camps. That time Mr. Hitler missed his guess.

The success of the British and French navies in saving 235,000 of their soldiers constituting the great bulk of their armies in the fatal trap, will reckon as an exploit of Modern Naval War that the Germans in surrounding that great force. Great herds of planes roared overhead, dropping their missiles of death. Two of the principal ports through which they could escape were mostly in the hands of the Germans. Docks were being wrecked everywhere by the hornets of the air. Many of the soldiers had to swim to the rescue ships.

Adolf has probably scratched his head quite a bit, as he has heard of the rescue, and has realized that his capture was not so grand as he supposed. If the allies show equal skill, speed and generalship in meeting the coming German onslaught, the war news should come a bit different in a month from now.

ENVOYS OF STATE AND CITY

In diplomatic life, the statesmen get some idea of foreign countries from the diplomats who are sent to represent those countries. Also the travelers that come from those countries give an indication of the character of the nation from which they come.

In the same way a town sends out its travelers and tourists among the country on errands of pleasure and business. They give an idea of the character of the people back home. Some folks don't seem to know just how to behave on the road and in public places, and they give an unfavorable impression of the life in their home states. We often feel that the travelers and tourists who go out from Bandera and Texas this summer are going to give a very favorable impression of our community. People will say the home city and state of such pleasant folks should be a fine place to live in.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

They say people are judged by the clothes they wear. Our homes, home grounds, public places, are a form of clothing which the town wears. The town is judged to a large extent by the appearance of these exterior things.

The fact that an article is purchased at home place away from home does not make it any better, and frequently under the conditions under which it is sold, it costs more.

If you don't ask for anything in this world, you don't usually get it. So people do not ask for enlarged business through advertising, their chances of getting it are not good.

THE BUSINESS NEWS

The news columns of a paper of any size are its nerves. A special type of news is contained in the newspaper's advertising section. Here you see what has happened to the various kinds of goods and being sold, what the styles and fashions are, what new and modern improvements are being made and offered. The classified ads tell what people want, what they have to sell, what they want to buy.

These advertising columns are a very intimate reflection of the life of the people. The folks who fail to read these columns carefully miss an opportunity to come closely in touch with modern life. They overlook good chances to buy and sell, and miss many opportunities of enjoyment they might have.

B. Lindner and Sonny Lindner and Erwin returned Saturday after spending several days in Comfort.

TARPLEY H. D. CLUB

The club met in the charming home of Mrs. George Geuea. Her rooms were decorated with vases of flowers and wh als enjoyed her blooming plants in the yard.

Mrs. John Ryle presided at the meeting. The ladies were elated at the prospect of having a mattress making center in Tarpley and are anxious to begin this interesting work. They expressed themselves as willing to assist in every way with the County Fair.

Miss Pfluger gave a talk on attractive table service and preparation of foods, stressing the importance of varied uses of the same foods. For example ways to serve vegetables as part of main courses, at another, meal the same vegetables served as salads, etc.

She also gave a splendid address on "Family Relationship."

She stressed the importance of all members of the family being informed of family financial status and each member taught to do their part in keeping up the business of making a home and meeting their allotted responsibilities. She emphasized the importance of "family councils" and the keeping of records in the farm and home.

About ten ladies were present and delicious refreshments of cakes, cookies and tea were served by our hostess, Mrs. Geuea. The next meeting will be June 20th with Mrs. F. E. Sauter.

Cleanliness by the Mile

The average American housewife washes an acre of dirty dishes, scrubs five miles of floors and washes three miles of clothes every year.

"And now gentlemen," said the leading lawyer, "I wish to tax your memory."

"Good heavens, has it come to that!"

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Clubs Backing Commission

Texas sportsmen are taking a bigger interest today in their State Game Department and its attempts to preserve and increase game and fish than ever before. Almost weekly of late word has been received by the executive secretary of the commission from sportsmen's clubs throughout the state which have proposed universal hunting and fishing license laws, regulatory power for the Department and a longer closed season on fish in order to allow them more time to spawn, unlike now.

Included in this group are the San Antonio Anglers Club, Fort Worth Anglers Club, Dallas Anglers and Hunting Association, Dallas Oak Cliff Chapter of the Game and Fish Protective Association with headquarters in San Angelo and the Lavaca County Hunting and Fishing Association with headquarters in Abilene.

Officers of the clubs indicate in letters to the executive secretary that sportsmen are recognizing the value of the Department in conserve and propagate game on its limited funds and votes taken at club meetings indicate that most 100 per cent favorable reception of the State program of boosting for universal licenses, longer closed season on fishing, increased appropriations for the Commission under proper supervision.

It is interesting to note that sports editors throughout the State are apparently in accord. A questionaire sent out by the Dallas Anglers and Hunters Association recently produced some interesting results. Of the first thirty returned, 28 sports editors believed Texas should have a universal hunting and fishing license. Twenty-eight voted for regulatory power while only one dissented. Eighteen thought there should be longer closed season, but fifteen voted no. To answer to the question: "Do the sportsmen in your vicinity have the same opinion on these questions?" 21 voted yes and 2 no.

Cat Nurses Baby Squirrel

Dame Nature makes odd adjustments sometimes! J. T. Welch a high school youth of Denison, Texas, has a strange family. It consists of a mother cat, four kittens, a baby squirrel. The young cats and squirrel can be seen scampering together almost any time. Young Welch found the baby squirrel near his home shortly after the kittens were born and added it to the brood of the tabby cat, which promptly accepted it as one of her own. Now the squirrel scrambles with the kittens at meal time and is thriving as rapidly as its adopted sisters and brothers.

Spawn Destroyed By Waders

Millions of fish eggs have been destroyed this year by anglers wading around the banks of streams and lakes fishing for crappie, cats, bream and bass.

1,000 Engineers Laboratories

Industrial research laboratories are rapidly increasing in number in the United States, the latest estimate showing approximately 1,000 compared with about 300 in 1933 and only a handful 25 years of age.

The motorcycle cop drove up beside the car that was holding up the line of traffic.

"Can't you go any faster?" he roared.

"Sure, but I don't wanna leave the car," replied the driver.

Traffic Officer: Hey, there, who do you think you are?

Driver, Oh, I'm just one of the taxpayers who pays your salary, for insisting on it.

A sorrowing widow, having a memorial erected in memory of her late husband, had the following inscription carved on it:

"Goodby, Henry, my light has gone out."

Three months later when she remarried, some wit added to the inscription:

"But I have struck another match."

SUCCEEDED THE BANDERA ENTERPRISE, WHICH WAS FOUNDED APRIL 12, 1890

Vol. 25, No. 2 Bandera, Bandera County, Texas, Thursday, June 20, 1940 Subscription, $1.50 per Year

BANDERA COUNTY has an area of about 800 square miles, thickly settled with ranches, running streams, plenty of timber of various kinds. Ideal stock raising, poultry and dairying country.

BANDERA is located 14 miles northwest of San Antonio in the Hill Country, where Nature has manifested delightful scenery to delight and please the senses. Invalids, the hunter and health seeker. Altitude, 1,400 feet.

A. B. Langford Passed Away

It is with sorrow we chronicle the death of A. B. Langford, one of Bandera's best loved, business men. He had been ill for some time and his death brought grief to a large circle of relatives and friends.

The deceased was born on Feb. 15, 1883 in Gonzales and moved to the Medina section 33 years ago. On November 11, 1917 he and Miss Maud Thalmann were united in marriage which union was blessed with two sons, Fred Jr. and Herbert.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 3 p.m. at the cemetery with Rev. H. Ellis Thomas, Methodist pastor officiating. Pallbearers were Bill Hammond, Homer Stevens, R. Lee Walther, W. R. Fletcher, J. H. Lowe and Vernon Williams. The funeral was largely attended and the many beautiful flowers showed the high esteem in which he was held.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Fred Jr. and Herbert, two sisters, Mrs. Rachel Seachlin of Rosebud and Mrs. Maude Smith of Medina, one brother, Zack Whisenhunt of El Paso.

The deceased was a member of the Bandera Lodge No. 1122 A. F. & A. M., Woodmen of the World and was a steward of the Medina Methodist Church. He was a progressive rancher who took great pride in raising fine stock and had won many prizes with his sheep. He was a man of noble character and was always ready to lend a helping hand to those in need.

The New Era extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

GARDEN PHILOSOPHY

To millions of folks a garden is just a scene of hard work. The boys usually look at it as a place of sweat and backache, in which they fill reluctantly while longing for the swimming hole.

Many older folks say the garden means only struggle with pests and weeds. The true gardener says he loves his tender plants, as a parent loves a child, that their lovely hues create a harmony of color as inspiring as the theme of a symphony, that the steady progress of the little plants day after day is a fascinating drama. He remarks, with Francis Bacon, famous philosopher, that "God established the first garden," and he feels the sons of men do well to follow that divine example.

Hafiz, famous Persian philosopher and poet, said: "Listen, O student, the true wisdom. See your bush aflame with roses, like the burning bush of Moses. Listen and thou shalt hear, if thy soul be not-deaf, how out from it soft and clear, speaks to thee the LIVE Almighty."

The soul of the eternal speaks to man out of the lovely hues of flowers. They seem to dance and sing as their merry blooms sway in the wind. They tell us that our world, which often seems a sorry kind of place, has happiness in its heart. It seems as if the divine power breathed a spark of its fire and love through the life of these plants.

Even if you only dig in the garden to raise beans and potatoes, these humble and workaday plants tell a story of the rewards of honest industry. Contact with the soil has been held to give strength to human beings. People who work in the garden seem to have unusually good health, promoted by the open air exercise and the good digestion which this produces.

In a game of baseball, any player of victory has defeated because the runners are left on bases. They may have hit the ball well enough so they could get on first, second or third base. But unless the next batter or batters can get a hit, these men are likely to stay where they are, so that the inning ends without scoring any runs.

In the business world, many people are left on bases, because of a failure to advertise. They get to first base as the result of the hit called good buying judgment. They get to second base by supplying good goods. They may get to third base by patient attention to customers. If they fail to advertise so the public knows what they are doing, they are like the man left on third in the ball game. The good things they did may not count at all.

Mrs. Gossip: So your daughter is about to marry. Do you really feel she is ready for the battle of life?

Mrs. Chatter: She should be. Just look at the engagements already.

"Your husband looks like a brilliant man. I suppose he knows practically everything."

EYESORES

What can be done to keep people from maintaining eyesores, consisting of ugly or extremely shabby looking grounds and buildings, which injure the appearance of their neighborhood? Some people think city or town ordinances should have power to do so. Others think that if the people themselves would leave the owners of property free to do as they please with it, themselves pay a fair price for it, the owner is physically and financially unable to improve it in which case he is entitled to sympathy. If he is simply careless and thoughtless, shame and ridicule, applied the same way as is also said to be effective.

The American system of government usually leaves the owners of property free to do as they please with it. Sometimes a party gets a run down appearance because the owner is physically and financially unable to improve it in which case he is entitled to sympathy. If he is simply careless and thoughtless, shame and ridicule, applied the same way as is also said to be effective.

As ounce of sulphur, mixed with a little alcohol and rubbed on the body and legs will help keep chiggers away. Hypo, kerosene or soda, applied the same way other such places improved and cleaned up.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

It is considered poor policy to say disparaging things about your own family. Similarly it is a good idea to decline to say disparaging things about your home town.

If you want to see your home town go ahead; help give it a boost. Work for advance by buying everything at Home.

Every time you improve the appearance of your own home place, you lead to improvements in a number of places, because people are incited by your example to make their own improvements. In that way the whole neighborhood goes ahead.

MIDDLE VERDE H. D. CLUB

Farming as a business should be studied, it was stated by Miss Myrtle Pfluger, H. D. Agent for Bandera County, at the home of Mrs. E. E. Parsons on June 13.

Farm accounts should be budgeted as farming is a very important business and if all the family know what the farm income is they will naturally use better judgment in spending it. The children should be taught the importance of the budget.

The club quilt is about ready for quilting and the club decided to have an all-day quilting at the Middle Verde Club house, on the next regular club day, June 27.

Mrs. Howard Eckhart's name was mentioned as a delegate to the Short Course in July.

Punch, cake, pie and cookies was served to the following: Mesdames A. G. Eckhart, Ben Gerdes, Carl Eckhart, Misses Myrtle Pfluger and Mary Lee Eckhart, by the hostess, Mrs. E. E. Parsons.

The Boy who "HAS NO FUTURE"

HE is an American boy.

There are some fifteen million lads just like him in America; just as young, just as eager, just as full of promise.

Yet there are people who feel sorry for these boys. They tell us American initiative is dying, American frontiers are gone. They say there is no opportunity and no future for youth in this country.

Do you believe such statements? We people of Central Power and Light Company don't believe them, and we'll tell you why:

Fifty years ago the electric industry had barely begun its existence. The same is true of the automobile industry. It is even more true of the radio and aviation industries. Coming right up to date, here are a few of the things we didn't have as recently as 1930:

Streamline trains. Transoceanic air service. New plastics and resins. Plywoods strong as steel. Fiber glass for insulation and textiles. Synthetic rubber. Synthetic honey. Synthetic vitamins. Sulfanilamide and sulfapyridine, drugs that are revolutionizing medicine.

There are always new frontiers and new futures in America. In each new era and land, Americans work to make the good things of life better and to make them available to more people at less cost. The employees of Central Power and Light Company are typical. Many of them have given long years of service. Others give far fewer years than it could give twelve or fifteen years ago, and to charge about half what was charged then. The average customer can now use nearly three times as much electricity as he did then for no more money.

The men of CPL were once American boys. They believed in their own futures and the future of their country. They proved themselves right by working to make the future better for themselves and their fellow citizens.

They hope today's young Americans will not listen to defeatism and pessimism, because they know when everyone or anyone says there is no future, he merely believes he has.

ABOUT BEER AND ALE
AN OPEN FORUM OF QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: WHY IS BEER CALLED THE BEVERAGE OF MODERATION?
ANSWER: Because beer's alcoholic content is low. Temperate, moderate nations of the world... and their people... prefer beer.

QUESTION: DO BEER AND ALE REALLY AID THE FARMERS?
ANSWER: Since re-legalization the brewing industry has bought 25,000,000,000 pounds of farm products. That has helped farmers... particularly during the depression years.

QUESTION: JUST WHAT ARE BEER AND ALE MADE OF?
ANSWER: Beer is made by a natural fermentation process... from malted barley and other grains, hops, yeast, water. Nature makes beer. The brewer makes it good beer (and ale).

QUESTION: HOW MUCH DO BEER TAXES CONTRIBUTE TO THE COST OF GOVERNMENT?
ANSWER: Beer contributes $1,000,000 a day... $400,000,000 a year... to help pay the costs of government... local, state and federal. Everybody benefits from this contribution.

QUESTION: DO BEER AND ALE MAKE JOBS FOR WORKERS?
ANSWER: Beer and ale have already made a million jobs. This employment is wide-spread ... all over the country. More than 100 other industries benefit from beer and ale.

QUESTION: HOW IS THE BREWING INDUSTRY COOPERATING WITH LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS?
ANSWER: The Brewing Industry is actively on the side of law and order. A "self-regulation" plan to eliminate retail abuses has already been put into effect in a number of states in cooperation with law enforcement authorities. This plan is being extended. We would like to tell you about it. Write for an interesting free booklet. Address: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th Street, New York, N.Y.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

It is considered poor policy to say disparaging things about your own family. Similarly it is a good idea to decline to say disparaging things about your home town.

If you want to see your home town go ahead, help give it a foundation for advance by buying everything at home.

Every time you improve the appearance of your own home place, you lead to improvements in a number of places, because people are incited by your example to make their own improvements. In that way the whole neighborhood goes ahead.

MIDDLE VERDE H. D. CLUB

Farming as a business should be budgeted, it was stated by Miss Myrtle Pfluger, H. D. Agent for Bandera County, at the home of Mrs. E. E. Parsons on June 13.

Farm accounts should be budgeted as farming is a very important business and if all the family know what the farm income is they will naturally use better judgment in spending it. The children should be taught the importance of the budget.

The club quilt is about ready for quilting and the club decided to have an all-day quilting at the Middle Verde Club house, on the next regular club day, June 27.

The Boy
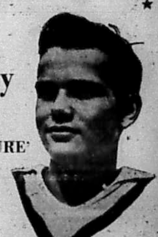
"HAS NO FUTURE"



He is an American boy.

There are some fifteen million lads just like him in America; just as young, just as eager, just as full of promise.

Yet there are people who feel sorry for these boys. They tell us American initiative is dying. American frontiers are gone. They say there is no opportunity and no future for youth in this country.

Do you believe such statements? We people of Central Power and Light Company don't believe them, and we'll tell you why:

Fifty years ago the electric industry had barely begun its existence. The same is true of the automobile industry. It is even more true of the radio and aviation industries. Coming right up to date, here are a few of the things we didn't have as recently as 1930:

Streamline trains. Transoceanic air service. New plastics and resins. Plywoods strong as steel. Fiber glass for insulation and textiles. Synthetic rubber. Synthetic hosiery. Synthetic vitamins. Sulfanilamide and sulfapyridine, drugs that are revolutionizing medicine.

There are always new frontiers and new futures in America. In good times and bad, Americans work to make the good things of life better and to make them available to more people at less cost. The employees of Central Power and Light Company are typical. ... give far better service than it could give twelve or fifteen years ago, and to charge about half what was charged then. The average customer can now use nearly three times as much electricity as he did then for no more money.

The men of CPL were once American boys. They believed in their own futures and the future of their country. They proved themselves right by working to make the future better for themselves and their fellow citizens. They hope today's young Americans will not listen to defeatism and pessimism, because they know that everyone in America has a future if he sincerely believes he has.

Cooperation, Plus

Raising and lowering of the water level in artificial lakes in Texas destroys millions of fish eggs each year. However, the West Texas Utilities Company cooperated during the last spawning season by holding the water in Lake Nasworthy near San Angelo at a regular level. This was done despite a ten-foot rise in one of the creeks running into the lake. Another company which has promised its cooperation along the same line next season is the Central Power and Light Company. It will maintain the water level on Lake Walk for a four or five month's period starting about Jan. 1.

The People With the Goods

CHILDREN NEED REST BEFORE MEALS

"The child's day during vacation this summer should be scheduled to include a period of rest before meals, because uninterrupted, strenuous play tends to spoil appetite and may retard digestion," stated Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"There is no doubt as to the value of play and exercise in stimulating appetite, vigor and endurance. However, when carried out to the extent of bringing about definite fatigue, play and exercise often exert an opposite effect.

"The average child enters wholeheartedly into play both physically and emotionally. When allowed to play hard up to meal time, he comes to the table in a fatigued, excited state with poor appetite, temporarily impaired digestive capacities and a tendency to gulp his food hastily. Therefore, a rest period before eating is of benefit to a child.

"Careful studies have also shown that excessive as well as insufficient activity reduces one's physical capacities. The reserve capacity of children is relatively small, varies with individuals and may be easily exceeded.

"Hard play in the evening up to bedtime usually disturbs sleep. The ill effects of overactivity are more likely to be observed in the spring after the relatively sedentary life of the winter season. Another period when play becomes excessive, is at the beginning of summer vacation when children have their first opportunity at day long physical activity.

"Properly regulated camps, city playgrounds and other community recreational facilities for the children offer model schedules for supervised play with a good balance of exercise and rest."

Charles R. Rugh Claimed By Death

Bandera lost another prominent citizen Tuesday morning when Chas. R. Rugh passed away suddenly. Although not in the best of health for many years his death came as a shock to friends and relatives.

Charles Reed Rugh was born in Bandera on April 23, 1869, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rugh, who died in 1898. He married June 7, 1893 he was married to Miss Mita Huffmeyer, who preceded him in death in 1933. Five years Mrs. Rugh operated the City Hotel and also served for 4 years as bookkeeper for the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Association. Mr. Rugh was a leader by all and suffered his tribulations with patience and fortitude.

Surviving are his children, Mrs. Hines Bodin of San Antonio, Daniel of Tex., Mrs. Mary Hilla and Mrs. Jewell of Houston, Ashley and Charles of Bandera, one sister, Mrs. Adolph Huffmeyer of San Antonio, five grandchildren, Mrs. Louise Heinen and Ashley M. Rugh of Bandera, Shirley and Elbert Bodin of San Antonio Rugh of Tex. All of his children were present for the funeral except Mrs. Bodin, who is ill.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church at 4 p. m. yesterday with Rev. J. R. Fuller, pastor of the Methodist Church officiating. Pallbearers were Fred Thalmann, W. R. Pletcher, M. F. Johnston, Ernest Lemon, W. E. Hall and Edgar Deakin. A quartette, sang several songs and the flowers covered the grave. Interment was in the Bandera Cemetery.

The New Era offers profound condolences to the bereaved.

LAST-HALF TAXES MUST BE PAID BY JUNE 30

"Last-Half" Rule and county taxes for 1940 are now due and payable and should be paid before June 30 to avoid penalty and interest according to Assessor-Collector W. H. Burns.

If the second half of the taxes remains unpaid by July 1 a penalty of 6 p cent, plus six per cent penalty for delinquency, accrued interest costs will have to be added.

Taxpayers owing all of their 1940 property and poll taxes should save considerably by paying before June 30. These taxes now are 5 p cent and 6 per cent, plus interest, which will be hiked to 11 per cent on July 1, plus the addition of penalty charges.

July 1 is the beginning of the state's fiscal year and the carry-over from the old year is the reason for the advance in penalty and interest rates on delinquent taxes.

FORMAL OPENING HELD SATURDAY

The Round Up, Dude Ranch, Mrs. A. W. Anders, owner, gave its formal opening Saturday, June 22nd. Delicious barbecue dinner and all the trimmings, was served to several hundred people and Buddy Hancock and his orchestra furnished music throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. Rosemary Montague of Edinburg won the prize for best dressed cowgirl costume. Trick roping and games furnished amusement.

Mrs. Anders, the Dude Ranch is Bandera's newest and most up-to-date guest ranch and is located on the Pipe Creek Road about one mile from Bandera. It is set in the center of beautiful live oak trees and picturesque mountains.

CHAMPIONSHIP RODEO AT KERRVILLE, JULY 2 to 4 th

Kerrville, June 25, 1940.—The folks in the Heart of the Hills section of the Texas Hill Country extend a hearty welcome to the people of Bandera and surrounding counties to attend Kerrville's 24th Annual Homecoming, Rodeo, Barbecue and Dance to be held at the Rodeo Grounds Sunday, June 30th, beginning at 10 a. m. And if the weather is good a record attendance is anticipated. The splendid rains of this spring have carpeted the arena with grass and there will be no dust this year.

Advance notices coming in to Secretary Bob Powell indicate that one of the largest and best turnouts of ropers and riders from the great Southwest will be on the Comfort show this year, coming as it does between the Mason show of June 23 and the Brady's July 4th celebration. Such ropers as Jack and Burt Seibert, Boy McCuistion, Jack Barker, Tom Taylor, the Mansfield boys, and riders like Van and Buster Brooks, Bill Barnett, and bulldoggers like Buck Keefer, J. Roland and Frank Shelley, will make the Kerrville show plenty tough, and with Comfort's excellent string of bucking steers, and the fine lot of 125-pound calves that they have ever had, with the cream of Earle Sebert' bucking stock and the fellas attending this year's celebration will be assured of a rip roaring entertainment.

Bids have been called for 4,000 pounds of meat for the barbecue dinner. Secretary Powell reports advance show that such an amount is needed to feed the throngs that attend Comfort's annual celebrating.

The program includes v'ari'ous broncho busting, bareback bronc riding, steer bulldogging, and the last number, which is usually the most exciting event of the show, is taking a penny from the horns of Comfort's fiercest Brahma bull. Special prizes will be given for the boy, girl, boy his bucking Ford and trained pig.

The grandstand seats, accommodating 2,000 persons, which may become well known throughout South Texas by next year, are being built by at least ten towns in this section for rodeos only football games. Kerrville's new grandstand will make 3,000 persons.

At night there will be a dance at the air-cooled Comfort Theatre to the music of Buddy Hancock and his orchestra.

SOLOMON'S SEAL IS NOT THE "STAR OF DAVID"

There is considerable confusion in the representation of the two star signs, Solomon's Seal and the Star of David, and many people erroneously use them interchangeably. The Star of David is made by drawing first by placing two triangles the over the other. It is the symbol of Judaism, and is seen on synagogues, sacred vessels and on the Zionist flag. Solomon's Seal, on the other hand, is five-pointed and is not of Hebrew origin at all, but is Greek, and from ancient days has been reputed to have magical powers against evil and disease.

The deceased was born Aug. 14, 1917 in Golfport, Miss. and completed his education there. He was 22 years, 10 months and 6 days. He is survived by his father, Oscar Davidson, Bandera county officer and a sister in Bay, St. Louis.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Bandera Cemetery with Rev. J. E. Fuller officiating. Pallbearers were Harry Heymann, Jr., Hubert Jenschke, Albert, Hill and Louis Stein. Langford Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

The New Era offers sincere sympathy to the bereaved.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDED MEDINA P. T. A. BARBECUE AND RODEO

The Medina P. T. A. barbecue and rodeo held last Saturday at Medina was a success in all respects. A large crowd attended and everyone spent a most enjoyable day.

Spectators may be assured of thrilling moments in the Bandera Rodeo performances. No dust and grit will soil dispositions and clothes as the ribbon-tied arena will be staged on the luscious grass carpet of the football field. Ten performances will be given promptly at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Mohair Prices Better When Graded

San Antonio, Texas, June 25, 1940—Texas mohair is rapidly changing the system of marketing that produced in Texas, the leading mohair producing state and it promises to improve the quality of Texas-grown mohair. This is because the production of quality mohair gets a higher price than the raiser of a coarser hair, according to H. E. Schlemmer, Bandera County Agricultural Agent. For the first of a series of articles in which the South Texas Chamber of Commerce plans to publicize agricultural and livestock achievements, as reported by county agents, Mr. Schlemmer says that the old mohair grading practice in his section.

Formerly entire clips of mohair were sold on the basis of grease, with little differential fer quality. The grading program was instituted by Mrs. Ella Schenkel, wool and mohair specialist of the A and M. College Extension Service, because of a demand by growers for a marketing system that would give a better return to growers to produce a higher grade mohair.

The United States Department of Agriculture was asked to help when Mrs. Schenkel appealed to Mr. Schlemmer, that no "standard" grades for mohair had been set up. Some experimental work was done at a few warehouses last year in order to tentatively grade the Texas clippings, mohair experts from the federal department. Grades are based on the fineness of hair.

About 250,000 pounds were graded this year, Mrs. Schenkel and Ellis Moore, who, hired by a committee of growers and warehousemen, has charge of the organization to do the job. Mr. Nisbet and local county agents assisted in the selection and grading. Of course, the amount graded is only a small percentage of Texas' entire clip.

At Bandera 4,000 pounds of mohair pounds were graded and to quote Mr. Schlemmer, it was determined that this clip was 2 cents above the average in Texas, and growers profited by the grading." He added:

One mile received $125 more, for his clip of 1,500 pounds and he would have brought in the original bag. Of course, the grower of coarser hair received less under this system.

Success of the program insured the grading of more hair this fall, said Schlemmer. Most of the work already done was in April and May. The Bandera County Ranchers and Farmers Association expects to be in a position to offer grading to its customers with graded this fall.

Further farm and ranch success stories from Bandera county agents will be forthcoming from time to time from the South Texas Chamber of Commerce.

CHILDREN NEED REST BEFORE MEALS

FREE BOOK FRO McCLEARY CLINI

The child's day during vacation this summer should be scheduled to include a period of rest before meals, because uninterrupted, strenuous play tends to spoil appetite and may retard digestion," stated Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"There is no doubt as to the value of play and exercise in stimulating appetite, vigor and endurance. However, when carried out to the extent of bringing about definite fatigue, play and exercise often exert an opposite effect.

The average child enters wholeheartedly into play both mentally and emotionally. When told to play hard up to meal time he comes to the table in a fatigued, excited state with poor appetite, temporarily impaired digestive capacities and a tendency to gulp his food hastily. Therefore, a rest period before eating is of benefit to a child.

"Careful studies have also shown that excessive as well as insufficient activity reduces one's physical capacities. The reserve capacity of children is relatively small, varies with individuals and may be easily exceeded.

"Hard play in the evening up to bedtime should be avoided. The ill effects of overexcitement are manifested in the morning in the spring after the relatively sedentary life of the winter season. Another period when physique becomes excessive, is at the beginning of summer vacation when children have their first opportunity at day long physical activity.

"Properly regulated camps, city playgrounds and other community recreational facilities for the children offer model schedules for supervised play with a good balance of exercise and rest."

COMFORT HOMECOMING RODEO NEXT SUNDAY

Everything is in readiness for Comfort's 24th Annual Homecoming, Rodeo, Barbecue and Dance to be held at the Rodeo Grounds Sunday, June 30th, beginning at 10 a. m. And if the weather is good a record attendance is anticipated. The splendid rains of this spring have carpeted the country solidly with grass, and there will be no dust this year.

Advance notices coming in to Secretary Bob Faust indicate that one of the largest and best contests of ropers and riders from the great Southwest will make the Comfort show this year, one that as it does between the Mason Show of June 27 and 28, and Bandera's July 4th celebration will insure ropers as Jack and Earl Sellers, Day McCuistion, Jack Barber, Tom Taylor, the Mansfield boys, and riders like Van and Buster Brown, Ernie Barnett, and bulldoggers like Buck Keefer, D. Roland and Frank Shelley, will make the competition plenty tough, and with Comfort's customary string of bucking steers, and 30 of the fastest 225-pound calves that they have ever had, with the cream of Earle Sellers' bucking horses—in boast, the folks attending this year's celebration will be assured of a full day's entertainment.

Bids have been called for 4,000 pounds of meat for the barbecue dinner. Experience from past years show that such an amount is needed to feed the throngs that attend Comfort's annual celebration.

The program includes: wild-steer-away, steer riding, bronc riding, steer bulldogging, and the last number, which is usually the most exciting and thrilling one, is taking a penny from the horns of Comfort's Terrible Bradley steers. The penny will be worth $5 to the man who removes it. A special feature will be MC's and his pony, Bonny Boy, his bucking Ford and trained pig.

The grandstand seats, accommodating 2,000 persons, which may become well-known throughout South Texas by reason of having been used by at least ten thousand people, will make viewing the rodeo program a great pleasure.

At night there will be a dance at the air-cooled Comfort Theatre to the music of Buddy Hancock and his orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cotter of San Antonio visited Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Howland Sunday.

Charles R. Rugh Claimed By Death

Bandera lost another prominent citizen Tuesday afternoon when Chas. R. Rugh passed away suddenly. Although not in the best of health for several years his death came as a shock to friends and relatives.

Charles Reed Rugh was born in Bandera on April 23, 1860, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rugh, who died in 1899. On November 7, 1883 he was married to Miss Mita Huffmeyer, who preceded him in death in 1925. For many years Mr. Rugh operated the City Hotel and also served for years as postmaster of the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Association. He was well liked by all and suffered his tribulations with patience and fortitude.

Surviving are his seven children, Mrs. Helen Boehm of San Antonio, Daniel of Tow, Mrs. Mary Bills and Duane of Houston, Emil, Ashley and Charles of Bandera; one sister, Mrs. Adolph Huffmeyer of San Antonio; five grandchildren, Mrs. Louise Heinen and Ashley M. Rugh of Bandera, Shirley and Jack Bills of Houston and Alton Rugh of Tow. All of his children were present for the funeral except Mrs. Boehm, who is ill.

Funeral services were held at the Chapel of the Langford Funeral Home at 4 p. m. yesterday with Rev. J. E. Fuller, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating. Pallbearers were Fred Thalmann, W. R. Fletcher, M. F. Johnston, Oscar Heinen, W. Rhodes and Edgar Deakin. A quartette, sang several songs and the flowers were many and beautiful. Interment was in the Bandera Cemetery.

The New Era offers profound condolences to the bereaved.

LAST-HALF TAXES MUST BE PAID BY JUNE 30

"Last-Half" State and county taxes are now due and payable and should be paid before June 30 to avoid penalty and interest, according to Assessor-Collector W. H. Burns.

If the second half of the taxes remains unpaid by July 1 a penalty of 5 per cent, plus six per cent penalty in addition to redemption costs will have to be added.

Taxpayers owing all of their 1939 property and poll taxes can add save considerably by paying before June 30. These taxes are only four 7½ per cent penalty and interest, which will be hiked to 12 per cent on July 1 with the addition of redemption costs.

July 1 is the beginning of the state fiscal year and the county owing over into the new year is reason for the advance in penalty and interest rates on delinquent taxes.

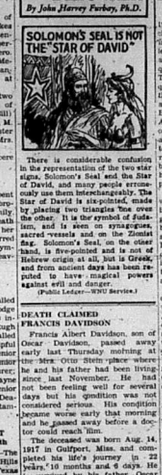
SOLOMON'S SEAL IS NOT THE "STAR OF DAVID"



There is considerable confusion in the representation of the two star signs, Solomon's Seal and the Star of David, and many people erroneously use them interchangeably. The Star of David is six-pointed, made up by placing two triangles "toe over the other. It is the symbol of Judaism, and is seen on synagogues, sacred vessels and on the Zionist flag. Solomon's Seal, on the other hand, is five-pointed and is not of Hebrew origin at all, but is Greek, and from ancient days has been reputed to have magical powers against evil and danger.

Mohair Prices Better When Graded

San Antonio, Texas, June 25, 1940 — Grading of mohair is changing the system of marketing that product in Texas, the leading mohair producing state, and it promises to improve the quality of Texas-grown mohair. This is because the producer of quality mohair gets a higher price than the raiser of a coarser hair, according to H. F. Schlemmer, Bandera County Agricultural Agent. For the first of a series of articles in which the South Texas Chamber of Commerce plans to publicize outstanding farm and ranch achievements, as reported by county agents, Mr. Schlemmer has told of the mohair grading practice in his section.

Formerly entire clips of mohair were sold at the same price, with little differential for quality. The grading program was instituted by W. R. Nisbet, sheep and goat specialist of the A. and M. College Extension Service, because of a demand by growers for a marketing system that would give a better return to growers to produce a higher quality.

The United States Department of Agriculture was asked to help when it was found, according to Mr. Schlemmer, that no "standard" grades for mohair had been set up. Some experimental work was done at a few warehouses last year to set up tentative grades by Frank Grayson, mohair expert from the federal department. Grades are based on the fineness of the fiber.

About 350,000 pounds were graded this year by Mr. Grayson and Ellis Moore, who, hired by a committee of growers and warehousemen, was brought from Boise, Idaho, to assist Mr. Schlemmer in do the job. Mr. Nisbet and local county agents assisted in the work in various counties, though Mr. Schlemmer said only a small percentage of Texas' entire clip.

At Bandera alone, about 56,000 pounds were graded and to quote Mr. Schlemmer, it was determined that the clip "was better than the average in Texas, and growers profited by the grading." He added:

One man received $125 more for his clip of 1,200 pounds than he would have brought in the original bag. Of course, the grower of coarser hair received less under this system.

Success of the program insured the grading of more hair this fall, said Schlemmer. Most of the work already done was in April and May. The Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Association expects to be in a position to grade all mohair its customers with graded this fall.

Further farm and ranch success stories as reported by county agents will be forthcoming from time to time from the South Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Cooperation, Plus

Raising and lowering of the water level in artificial lakes in Texas destroys millions of fish eggs each year. However, the West Texas Utilities Company cooperated during the last spawning season by holding the water in the Nasworthy near San Angelo at a regular level. This was done despite a ten-foot rise in one of the creeks running into the lake. Another company which has promoted its cooperation along the same line next season is the Central Power and Light Company. They will maintain the water level on Lake Walk for a four or five month's period starting about Jan. 1.

Strain the liquid from canned plum, tomatoes and save it to moisten stuffing for roasts, fowl or chops.

Pour left-over pie filling into buttered baking dishes. Bake until firm. Serve chilled as dessert for children's lunches.

Brown pineapple rings and sprinkle them with chopped green peppers. Serve them hot, as a steak or chop garnish.

When planting rose bushes see that the trench in which they are planted is well fertilized before putting in bushes and loam.

Canned artichoke hearts, marinated in French dressing and chilled an hour or more, are delicious when added to fresh vegetables or green salads.

Flour should be measured at the time it is to be used. If it is allowed to stand it will pack down and accurate measurements will not be possible.

Mohair Prices Better When Graded

San Antonio, Texas, June 25, 1940. — Grading of mohair is changing the system of marketing that prevailed in Texas, the leading mohair producing state, and it promises to improve the quality of Texas-grown mohair. This is because the producer of quality mohair gets a higher price than the raiser of a coarser hair, according to H. F. Schlemmer, Bandera County Agricultural Agent. For the first of a series of articles in which the South Texas Chamber of Commerce plans to publish statistics on farm and ranch achievements as reported by county agents, Mr. Schlemmer has told of the mohair grading practice in his section.

Formerly, entire clips of mohair were sold at the same price with little differential for quality. The grading program was instituted by W. E. Nisbet, county and goat specialist of the A. and M. College Extension Service, because of a demand by growers for a marketing system that would give a bet- ter return to growers to produce a higher quality.

The United States Department of Agriculture was asked to help them in the found. Assigned to Mr. Schlemmer, that no "stan- dard" grade for mohair had been set up. Some experimental work was done at a few warehouse last year to set up tentative grades but Mr. Schlemmer, a mohair expert from the federal department, found there are based on the fineness of hair.

About 350,000 pounds were graded in the pens of Mr. Grayson and Ellis Moore, who, hired by a committee of growers and ware- housemen, graded the mohair. Though the amount graded is only a small percentage of Texas' entire clip, it is thought enough for the original bag. Of course, the grower of coarser hair received less un- der this system.

Success of the program insured the grading of the entire fall, said Schlemmer. Most of the work already done was in April and May. The Kendall County Ranchers and Farmers Associa- tion expects to be in a position to grade all mohair the customers with graded this fall.

Further farm and ranch success stories reported by county agents will be forthcoming from time to time from the South Tex- as Chamber of Commerce.

NAZI ATTACKS ON ENGLAND CONTINUE

London, July 3 (Wednesday) German bombs caused at least 120 casualties in the south and northeastern coastal towns and in the open country of the southeast Tuesday night.

Early Wednesday it was reported at least ten persons had been killed and 110 injured.

It was not immediately known whether this represented the casualties of all these northeastern towns which were attacked, or only in some of them. Casualties were apparently scattered.

Many of the injured were cut by flying glass splinters.

An undetermined number in a packed quarter-of-Southeastern town were buried in the wreckage of their homes.

It was the second successive time Nazi bombers took advantage of the long English twilight to bomb their targets on the mainland.

The harassment by German raiders echoed off the House of Commons where Major Albert Newby Braithwaite asserted it was the duty of the British Isles to send its fleet and boats to take England's women and children from danger.

The Air Ministry announced a major attack on Berlin here, after which it said: "A heavy attack had been made on Germany's largest 28,000 ton warship Scharnhorst."

In a raid on the Kiel Canal, the vital Nazi naval base, the Scharnhorst was heavily bombed, the Ministry said.

"Four direct hits on the vessel and on the floating dock in which it rested were claimed for one bomb, while a number of other bombs which exploded in a row across the battleship and started a fire."

The Scharnhorst, which the British had claimed to have damaged on two previous occasions, was reported laid up for repairs.

The British said that Sir Claude Auchinleck, head of the Indian Army, struck home through a curtain of antiaircraft fire, one plane was repeatedly hit.

Fires on the naval base and dock were started and the crews of his crippled craft, it was added, when they were 85 miles away on their homeward journey.

Republicans Pick Willkie and McNary

Philadelphia, June 28.—With not so much as a delegate's badge to his lapel—but with the Republican presidential nomination, tucked securely in his pocket—Wendell L. Willkie visited the party's national committee in the closing hours today and took it by storm again.

The convention's smiling victor stools before this crowded hall, which had just seen Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon nominated for the vice presidency, and in a speech carrying the heavy emphasis on liberty, pledged himself to the Republican cause.

Last night he stampeded the great gathering—in a pandemonium of pro-Willkie uproar from the galleries—into nominating him as its presidential candidate. Today, his tousled hair covered with confetti, and even a bit sticking to his cheek, he faced the miscellany he had stirred.

"Democracy and our way of life is facing the most crucial test it has ever faced in all its long history."

"As your nominee, I expect to conduct a dynamic aggressive fighting campaign to bring unity of labor and capital, agriculture and manufacturer, farmer and worker, and all classes of this great cause of the preservation of freedom."

"So you Republicans, I call upon you to join me, help me. The cause is great. We must win. We cannot fail if we stand together in one united fight."

The crowds which had cheered an absent hero for four days went wild at the opportunity to applaud their man standing before them. Every sentence of his speech drew its wall-bulging shout, and any slight lull quieted their ovation, today he appeared to capture their loyalty and fighting devotion.

Willkie's nomination was carried on from Oregon, Republican floor leader whose nearly everyone about the capitol calls "Charley or Mac," who Willkie's choice for the vice presidential nomination.

And that was enough for the crowd.

From early morning, in fact, the only uncertainty about the vice presidential situation was whether Senator McNary would accept. As the convention assembled for an afternoon session which was expected to last late in the evening, the buzzing gossip dealt only with McNary's attitude. But word came from the senator in Washington that McNary, like a good soldier, would accept, and that was that.

Missouri complimented its only Republican member of Congress, first of its kind, by placing him in nomination, but it was a runaway race from the start, and Senator Clark's name was not taken seriously. The final figures were 890 for McNary, 108 for Short, and two for Senator Bridges of New Hampshire. On Short's motion, the nomination was made unanimous.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. Roy Nelson of Medina received a broken nose and extensive bruises last Thursday night when her car in which she was riding ran into a culvert near the Tarpley road junction with the highway. The accident happened when Mrs. Nelson's car which she was driving was trying to pass another car and high winds made it impossible to see the culvert. We have been informed the car was not damaged very much.

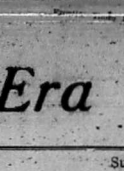
The DEBUNKER
By John Harvey Furbey, Ph.D.



It is impossible for anyone to throw a dice, for no such thing exists. It is possible, however, for a person to throw five dice. The singular form of the word dice is die, so one would correctly say he threw one die or three several dice. It is never correct to say "several dice."

OUR INSPIRATION

By Judd Mortimer Lewis
In Houston Post

We shudder to think what we might Have been but for our friends.
Who judge us with all kindliness,
Where'er our pathway wends;
And who stand steadfast by us when
We've led into the low.

And who stand steadfast by us when
The thing one most appreciates is Whose interest compels us to Attempt what they'll admire;
Would we might, head up and unafraid;
To leave the beaten groove,
And face disaster undismayed,
What they will most approve.

The knowledge that they understand
When victory's denied,
Will be proud of us in defeat
Because they know we tried;
It is our encouragement to fail.
Their strength when we accept;
Our best possession is our friends;
Our everlasting need.

New Taxes For National Defense

Washington, June 30.—Mr. and Mrs. American consumer will get their first taste of the new defense taxes tomorrow.

With the midnight arrival of July 1, higher levies go into effect on future manufacturers of a score of products, and "floor taxes" expected to affect the retail price are effective on cigarets, beer and liquor.

The floor taxes applied to stocks already on hand are ½ cent a package on cigarets, 75 cents a gallon on liquor and $1 a barrel on beer.

Up to 100 gallons of liquor and all beer in the hands of a retailer are exempt from the floor tax, but the half-cent must be paid on every package of cigarets.

While the beer tax is not imposed on stocks of a retailer, it must be paid by wholesalers and brewers on all their stocks. Wholesale liquor dealers are not granted the 100 gallon exemption.

Congress levied these taxes so that merchants who bought up supplies in anticipation of the increase would have to pay just the same. The treasury expects to collect $800,000 from the floor tax on cigarets and $12,600,000 from that on liquor and beer. Excluded are other products now cost affect the consumer until existing stocks are sold, but movie patrons will pay the new taxes immediately.

The tax of one cent on every ten cents or fair admission for will start with tickets costing 21 cents instead of 11, as a result. Moviegoers who have paid no tax when attending theatres which charge 10 cents or less admission will begin paying at Monday's matinees.

There is the increase on various newly-produced products and services:

Toilet preparations, from 10 to 11 per cent; automobiles, 3 to 3½ per cent; radios, 5 to 5½ per cent; mechanical refrigerators, 5 to 5½ per cent; matches, 5 to 6½ cents a thousand; electrical energy, 3 to 3½ per cent; gasoline, 1 to 1½ cents a gallon; lubricating oil, 4 to 4½ cents a gallon; tires and tubes, 10 cents a pack; club dues and initiation fees, 10 to 11 per cent.

Increases on liquor, beer and cigarets are the same as the floor taxes and will help the treasury on those products to $3 a gallon, $6 a barrel and 6½ cents a package respectively.

These "subtance taxes" are expected to produce about $475,000,000 in the fiscal year, most of new revenue expected annually from the defense tax bill. Most of the remainder is to be collected from the higher income taxes payable next March 15.

The big yield from income taxes which are effective on 1940 income, will be derived from a 10 per cent increase in individual surtaxes.

The new law will put 2,200,000 persons for the first time on the federal lists, however, by lowering personal exemptions from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons and from $1,000 to $800 for single persons.

It has been estimated that lowered exemptions alone will bring in an extra $82,500,000—including $15,400,000 from new taxpayers and $66,100,000 from increased payments by present taxpayers.

Those estimates take into account the flat and universal "supertax" of 1 per cent to be imposed on all taxable incomes. For example, if a man owed $100, after taking lowered exemptions into account, he would pay $10. If he would add 10 per cent to his remittance, making a total of $111.

The only exception to that rule is for those of large income who have to figure the surtax in addition to the regular rate. The latter is for the government. In such cases, the surtax equals 10 per cent of the amount by which the payment of his taxes, instead of 10 per cent of his tax payment.

TRAINING OF YOUTH

The American people need additional forms of training to provide for the safety of the nation in a time when powerful governments are being overthrown! The German Nazis, the Italian Fascists and the Russian Communists all have special forms of training aimed to make their boys and girls ardent supporters of their respective governments.

Some say universal military service is needed in America. Some would have the young people gathered in camps, classes and special schools for such training.

The schools already do their best to make their pupils patriotic and interested in good citizenship. But the schools are asked to teach so many subjects of basic knowledge that little time is left for instruction in their duties to the country. Perhaps they should spend less time studying books, and more time studying the things they have to do to preserve freedom and good government.

SKILLED MECHANICS NEEDED

The American people are calling for a great enlargement in the production of equipment needed in war. Many more skilled mechanics will be needed, and apparently it will be very difficult to find such workers.

If there are vacancies in shops in good times, apprentices are taken on. If there are unemployment, when there is widespread unemployment, men who have been laid off will apply for the work first, so that not many apprentices can get training. The American people are now facing one of their failures to solve the unemployment problem, by a long and slow process of training young men to handle the machines of war production.

CORDIALITY TOWARD EVERYBODY

A cordial spirit toward everybody is a mighty help in business. Successful business people have that habit. They smile and shake hands with everyone, whether they get any trade from people or not. They are good friends with the whole town. Hence they are so universally popular that people find it a pleasure to buy goods of them.

Young men starting in the business world should not ask, in greeting people, whether they are getting any patronage or profit from the person they meet, but they should show good will, friendliness and personal interest in everybody. Those who manifest that trait make a host of friends whose good will carries them far.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES

In the good old summer time, the organization activities of a town are usually adjourned or suspended. This does not mean that we should stop in our efforts to promote the growth and development of the community. We should labor in this cause every week in the year.

In the summer time we can contribute to that cause by attending church services and meetings of clubs and associations and fraternal organizations. Let us, as the same continue through the summer. Those activities are needed for the inspiration and encouragement of the people, and the more we attend them, the more they do for the community. Also we can give a hearty welcome to strangers and visitors. When we labor to make our home places do bloom like a rose, we help to make Bandera seem like a star town of beauty.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

GIVING FOR WHAT WE GET

It is a law of life that you have to keep giving in order to get things. If you want to get good will, you have to give good work. If you want to get success in business, you have to give good value and service.

If we expect to keep getting benefits from the life of the home town, we have to give time and effort. People may say they pay taxes to do whatever the home government requires. That is all good, but not all that is needed.

A community must active and energetic organizations to provide it with the social, educational, commercial, philanthropic and religious facilities which it needs. People have to take hold and give some real work, if they expect to get the benefits which these movements bring.

Prepare to Rescue Fish

Millions of fish are stranded in Texas lakes and streams each year when the water disappears during the summer months, and this State Game Department is making plans to rescue millions of them. Last year a total of 758,247 bass, crappie, bream and catfish were rescued by state game fish and employees and game wardens.

While the unusually abundant rains this year probably will prevent some lakes and streams from drying up during the hot months, the Game Department will be forced to rescue many fish. These are transported to the nearest stream or lake in which it is known the water supply is sufficient, and as much cases as the waters, with as much care as the more than 3,000,000 fish raised in the state hatcheries.

Many states are now supporting fish rescue stations placed at strategic points in the state. The Texas Game Department, according to the executive secretary, has long planned to do just that, but lack of funds has made it impossible. Instead, one rescue and hatchery worker handle the task. Special equipment should be available. Trucks with larger tanks through which air circulates while the fish are being transported are needed. Also, trucks with belts to cleanse the silt from the gills of fish rescued in extremely low water are also needed.

Found: Youngest Licensee

The youngest holder of a Texas fishing license has been found and we challenge anyone to discover a younger one!

F. C. (Pahatchee) Hall, La Feria, Texas fishing expert purchased a license for his son one hour after the "youngest" arrived at the Mercedes Hospital recently. Forrest Garner is probably also the "youngest fisherman" in the Lone Star State. His weight was 7 pounds, 2 ounces, he'll be.

When the proud daddy displayed Forrest's license to one of the fishing crowd he was asked when the new son was going fishing. He replied: "Just as soon as the weather clears."

Merge 2 U. S. Bureaus

The U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey and the Bureau of Fisheries have been combined into one new federal agency, to be known as the Fish and Wildlife Service. Under the new setup the federal aid to wildlife program now being carried on in Texas by the State Game Department and the federal aid to fish restoration now being carried on by the Bureau of Fisheries will be administered as before.

Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson, former chief of the Biological Survey, is the director of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Boy Catches Huge Gar

Quite for outcast, Kenneth Dorman of Alice, Texas, who is seven years old and who tips the beam on the scales at sixty pounds, caught a fish which is the record in the Lone Star State for gar. Kenneth recently snagged a 139-pounder at Mallory Lake and brought the huge gar to gaff after a fight of forty minutes.

Kenneth's father witnessed the battle and at one time the youngster nailed his father, to take the gar from Mr. Dorman. Said he: "What's your wagon and if you don't have overloaded it you will pull the boat, but did I succeed in getting it out of the water? You can." Kenneth said: "O. K. Dad" and proceeded to bring the gar to gaff.

The lad and his father fish for gar almost daily and have caught many with rod and reel, with hook, line and pole. However, they are now trying out the new style of fishing for gar which has swept over Texas since the Game Department started popularizing gar fishing as a real sport a month ago. Several hundred requests for a leaflet describing the sport have been received. One is yours for the asking. Write the Game Department at Austin.

The motto of many real sportsmen: "Take a leg fishing."

RENTED HOMES

One reason why a town likes to see people renting the homes they live in is that it is felt when a family owns a home there is a strong incentive to improve its appearance and keep it well cared for. When people rent homes, they say that any work they do on the place benefits only their landlords. They themselves see some of their neglect of the place, and all or it to no appreciable extent.

There are very many rented houses where people take just the least bit of care. A home is a sorry sight when it is neglected. Tenants ought to have pride in their homes, and as he did so another of his kind came shuffling out of the house.

"Any luck, mate," asked the first tramp.

"It ain't no use tryin' there," was the reply. "It's a poverty-stricken job. There was a couple of women tried to play on one without manner."

HITLER THANKS GOD

Adolf Hitler has publicly rendered thanks to God for the great victories the German armies have won over the French. It is not very strange that the different peoples pray to God for victory for their respective sides. Each country apparently believes it knows just what God thinks about them, and that God is a special friend. If Mr. Hitler would take a little time out and study the Bible, he would find that God does not differ quite so heavenly from his.

If he would read the words of the Heavenly Father he would find that the "Lord breaketh the bow and cutteth the spear in sunder; burneth the chariot in the fire."

Also he would read in the words of Jesus that "he that taketh the sword shall perish by the sword." The Bible also predicted that when the power of the Lord was insulted, the people shall beat their spears into pruning hooks and their swords into plowshares and they shall not learn war any more.

Jesus Christ came to earth, to preach peace and good will. The cruelty of the mighty ones who oppressed conquered peoples, the power of their armed might was abhorrent to him. Yet Mr. Hitler comes out and thanks God for slaying in Germany for a week to celebrate his victories won in defiance of the principles of Christianity and all advanced religions. Presumably these hells are largely in charge of the imagination how the loving heart of Jesus would bleed to see the hells that Hitlerites turned to such ignoble uses.

As long as religion tells its story and preachers of gospel of love and peace seem to hate and refuse to follow unholy leaders into any war that is not for the defense of our home nation.

GIVING FOR WHAT WE GET

It is a law of life that you have to keep giving in order to get things. If you want to get good pay, you have to give good work. If you want to get success in business, you have to give good value and service.

If we expect to keep getting benefits from the life of the home town, we have to give time and effort. People may pay their taxes to do whatever the town government requires. That is all good, but not all that is needed.

A community needs active and energetic organizations to provide it with the social, educational, commercial, philanthropic and religious facilities which it needs. People have to take hold and give some real work, if they expect to get the benefits which these movements bring.

"So you're my grandmother, are you?"

"Yes, on your father's side."

"Well, you're on the wrong side; I'll tell you that right now."

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS
Prepare to Receive Fish
Millions of fish are stranded in Texas lakes and streams each year when the water disappears during the summer months and the State Game Department is making plans to rescue millions of them. Last year a total of 7,758,347 bass, crappie, bream and catfish were rescued by state hatchery employees and game wardens.
While the unusually abundant rains this year probably will prevent some lakes and streams from drying up during the hot months, the Game Department will be forced to rescue many fish. These are transported to the nearest stream or lake in which it is known the water supply is constant and are placed in those waters, with as much care as the hatchery folk would fish raised in the state hatcheries.
Many states are now supporting fish rescue stations placed at various parts of the state. The Texas Game Department, according to the game warden service, has long desired to do just that, but lack of funds has made it impossible. Instead wardens and hatchery workers handle the task. Trucks with large tanks are available. Trucks with large tanks through which air circulates while the fish are being transported are needed. Washing tanks, with which to cleanse the silt from the gills of fish rescued in extremely low water, are also needed.
Found: Youngest Licensee
The youngest holder of a Texas fishing license has been found and we challenge anyone to discover a younger one.
F. C. (Fishcatcher) Hall, La Feria, Texas, has fishing expert purchased a license for his son one hour after the youngster's arrival at the Mercedes Hospital weighing Forrest Garner is probably also the lightest "fisherman" in the Lone Star State. His weight was 7 pounds, 2 ounces, beefide.
When the proud daddy displayed Forrest's license to one of his fishing cronies he was asked when the boy was going fishing. He replied: "Just as soon as the weather clears."
Merge 2 U. S. Bureaus
The U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey and the Bureau of Fisheries have been combined into one new federal agency, to be known as the Fish and Wildlife Service.
Under the new agency the federal aid to wildlife program now being carried on in Texas by the State Game Department and in other states will be administered as before.
Dr. Jno. N. Gaston, former head of the Bandera Schools, is the director of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

HITLER THANKS GOD

Adolf Hitler has publicly thanked God for the great victories the German armies have gained over their once crushed France. It is a very strange thing the way the different peoples pray to God for victory for their respective sides. Each country appeals to God for help. It seems that God thinks about them, and that He is their special friend. If Mr. Hitler would take a little time out and study the Bible, he would find that God's views differ quite from Hitler's views.

If he would read the words of the Hebrew Psalmist, he would learn that the "Lord maketh the bow and cutteth the spear insunder," so that the chariot in the fire."

Also he would read in the words of Jesus that "Those who take the sword shall perish by the sword." The Bible also predicted that when the power of the Lord should be established, they shall beat their spears into pruning hooks and their swords into plowshares and "they" shall not learn war any more."

Jesus Christ came to earth to bring peace and good will. The Prince of Peace. Some better oppressed conquered nations by the sword. If their sword might was abhorrent to him. Yet Mr. Hitler orders that the bells shall be taken from churches and used to celebrate his victories, won in defiance of the principles of Christianity and his advocating religions. Presumably these bells are largely in churches. One can imagine that the Christ of Jesus would bleed to see the bells in his churches turned to such lip uses.

As long as religion tells its story and preaches its gospel of love and peace, it will have to hate war and refuse to follow unless it enters into any war except in self-defense or for some noble cause.

A tramp passed outside a large home and heard the lady thereof of his kind came shuffling out of the gate.

"Nice back, mate," asked the first tramp.

"It ain't no use tryin' here," was the reply. "I'm a povertystricken cuss. There was a couple of women tryin' to play on one o' their pianos!"

RUSSELL AMUSEMENT CO.

THE European war has re-awakened Americans to the truth of the saying, "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

Our liberty is not immediately threatened. But it may be if we do not prepare to defend it from any possible attack. Such preparation is an effort in which everyone can share.

We favor adequate preparedness for national defense. This country's natural position gives us a great measure of security against threats from abroad. With careful preparation we can strengthen that position until no nation would dare attack us.

National defense is not only a matter of men, airplanes, battleships and guns. It also requires us to strengthen our American institutions, which are the very things we wish to protect and preserve. They must be preserved. It would be a bitter and ironic victory if, in order to defeat an enemy, we sidetracked the system of free enterprise and the personal liberties which distinguish the American way of life from the tyrannies of Europe and Asia.

Let's keep this country American. Government experts and civilian authorities are studying how to provide for our actual defense and each citizen's part in it. Meanwhile, the rest of us can help by doing our work, whatever it is, as well as we can.

That is what all the people of this company intend to do. Together with other electric companies, we have built a system capable of supplying the nation with electric service in any emergency. This system will be maintained and strengthened and we will continue our day-to-day effort to provide the dependable electric service that makes the United States a better place to live.

THE European war has re-awakened Americans to the truth of the saying, "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

Our liberty is not immediately threatened. But it may be if we do not prepare to defend it from any possible attack. Such preparation is an effort in which everyone can share.

We favor adequate preparedness for national defense. This country's natural position gives us a great measure of security against threats from abroad. With careful preparation we can strengthen that position until no nation would dare attack us.

National defense is not only a matter of men, airplanes, battleships and guns. It also requires us to strengthen our American institutions, which are the very things we wish to protect and preserve. They must be preserved. It would be a bitter and ironic victory if, in order to defeat an enemy, we sidestepped the system of free enterprise and the personal liberties which distinguish the American way of life from the tyrannies of Europe and Asia.

Let's keep this country American. Government experts and civilian authorities are studying how to provide for our actual defense and each citizen's part in it. Meanwhile, the rest of us can help by doing our work, whatever it is, as well as we can.

That is what all the people of this company intend to do. Together with other electric companies, we have built a system capable of supplying the nation with electric service in any emergency. This system will be maintained and strengthened and we will continue our day-to-day effort to provide the dependable electric service that makes the United States a better place to live.

Death Claims Mrs. J. T. Stevens

Mrs. J. T. Stevens, aged 93 years, passed away at 3:30 a. m. Friday at her home on Hicks Creek. She had been quite active until about 3 years ago when the infirmities of age forced her to a more retired life.

The deceased was born on June 1st, 1847 in Louisiana and came to Texas as a small child. In March, 1866 she was married to J. T. Stevens at her home in Atascosa and in November, 1866, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens moved to their place on Hicks Creek and she died on the same place she came as a bride. Mr Stevens passed away June 30, 1922. They had 13 children of their own and also reared a grandchild. The oldest son died as he was just entering manhood. The twelve surviving children are Mrs. Martha Barnes of Upland, Calif., Mrs. Emma Hammond of Medina, J. E. Stevens of Lovington, N. Mex., Sidney of Medina, Mrs. Cora Rees of Medina, Samuel of Pipe Creek, Edwin of Medina, Mrs. Stella Meadows of Bandera, Mrs. Mae Elkins of San Antonio, Homer of Bandera, Mrs. Ida Tallman of Bandera, and Thos. B. of San Antonio.

Funeral services were conducted Friday from the Medina Methodist Church, of which she was a charter member, by Rev. H. Ellis Thomas of Center Point, assisted by Rev. J. E. Fuller of Bandera. Pallbearers were her grandsons Thos. Hammond of Kerrville, Sid Hammond of Medina, Audley Elkins of San Antonio, Wilson Elkins of San Angelo, Irving Stevens of Bandera, little Wesley Stevens, aged 7 years of San Antonio and a neighbor friend P. A. Pue. All the children except Mrs. Barnes of California and J. E. Stevens of New Mexico were present for the funeral. The many beautiful flowers gave mute evidence of the love and esteem in which she was held.

Mrs. Stevens was a real pioneer mother and suffered all the hardships and privations attendant to that era. She lived a long and useful life, inspiring all who knew her to follow her examples of love, kindness, neighborliness, faith, and generosity.

JUDGE WOODLEY NAMED DISTRICT JUDGES' HEAD

Fort Worth, Tex., July 4.—Judge Kenneth Woodley of Sabinal was elected president of the district and appellate judges section of the State Bar of Texas today.

Judge C. S. Slaton of the commission of appeals, Austin, was named vice president, and Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas was reelected secretary-treasurer for the third consecutive time.

The new executive committee of the section is composed of these officers, and Judge J. E. Hickman of the Commission of Appeals Austin; Chief Justice James W. McClendon of the Court of Civil Appeals, Austin; Judge Brian Montague, Del Rio, and Judge Tom Suggs, Denison.

Judge John A. Rawlins of Dallas, retiring president of the section, in making his annual report recommended that the group continue its study of a retirement plan for judges as well as new methods of selection and longer tenure of office so as to remove the courts as far as possible from political influence and pressure.

$48,112 WPA FUNDS FOR CASTROVILLE-MEDINA LAKE ROAD

Authorization to begin work on twenty-four Works Progress Administration projects in Texas involving expenditures of $480,407 by the WPA and $378,557 by sponsoring agencies has been issued to district managers, it was announced Wednesday, June 26 by Stearns S. Tucker, deputy state administrator in San Antonio.

Medina county was among these and received a grant of $48,112 WPA funds. This sum of money is to be used in Precinct No. 2 to finance the graveling of 17.58 miles of road from Castroville to Medina Lake.

When the plans for road work were drawn up at the beginning of the year, Medina County had $88,000, a Federal grant from the government, $60,000 of this money went to Precinct No. 2. Approximately $12,000 has been spent on the LaCoste-Castroville Road, and the remaining $48,112 the recently authorized expenditure, will be used on the Castroville-Medina Lake Road.

This money is exclusive of the bond money, which will be used as originally declared by the court. The Federal grant is being used to widen and replenish the base from the Bexar-Medina County line east of LaCoste through the town and along the Rockport Road to U. S. Highway No. 90 near Castroville; and from Castroville to Medina Lake.

The bond money for the LaCoste and Rio Medina Roads is yet intact. This $34,000 for the road leading from LaCoste to Rio Medina toward Medina Lake will be used for pavement work after the widening and rock-ceiling of the base has been completed.

This means that Road District No. 2 has succeeded in a vast undertaking and that upon completion of all improvements, every road in the district will be deserving of favorable comment. However, this large project did not start itself nor has it gone forward successfully by itself. People in general throughout the district, with the help of efficient leaders, pushed it on. WPA funds are not appropriated upon a mere wish. These funds had to be worked for. But much worry and work on the part of Commissioner Ruh and others has now placed the vast improvement project on its way to a successful completion.—LaCoste Ledger.

Work on a rock veneer home for Mrs. Chas. Johnston was started this week by Contractor Tom Anderwald across the street from the Baptist parsonage.

The DEBUNKER
By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

Like many other quotations that are supposed to be in the Bible, this one does not exist there either. In Proverbs, 13:24, we read: "He that spareth his rod hateth his son," and that is the nearest to our proverb, though far from it. The proverb is believed to have come from Samuel Butler, who wrote in his Hudibras (1663):

Love is a boy, by the poets styled;
Then spare the rod and spoil the child.

To Raise Scout Finances Here

Friday morning, July 12, has been set as the time to raise the Scout finances in Bandera. A committee of Bandera men will canvass the town for these funds.

Perhaps you will ask, "What is this money used for?" In the San Antonio office there are two secretaries, and from this office a chief executive and several field executives go to various places in the Area, rendering assistance to the scoutmasters and furnishing them with material for their work. Money invested in youth cannot be lost, so be as liberal as possible when you are approached.

Due to a mix-up in the time of the meeting, it was not possible for Bandera Troop to go to the District Court of Honor. Since we could not attend the meeting, and it was not possible, the San Antonio office has given us permission to have our own Court of Honor. The Court of Honor will be held in connection with the Lions Club meeting at the O. S. T. Cafe Thursday, July 11th.

INTEREST ON LAND BANK LOANS REDUCED

Farmers in Bandera County will save about $13,000 a year as a result of legislation just enacted by Congress affecting interest rates on Federal Land Bank and Land Bank Commissioner loans.

The temporary rate of 3½ per cent on first mortgage Land Bank loans will be continued for two years ending June 30, 1942. During this period the interest rate on first and second mortgage Land Bank Commissioner loans will be reduced from 4 to 3½ per cent. Land Bank and Commissioner loans were originally written at contract rates averaging about 5 per cent.

At present about 305 Bandera County farmers have Land Bank and Commissioner loans outstanding aggregating $887,900. The difference between the contract rate and the temporary rate thus affects a substantial saving for farmers.

In a statement from Washington, A. G. Black, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, said that, the saving to farmers through the reduced interest rate will have the same effect as an addition to the farmers' net income.

"The ultimate purpose of the reduced interest rate on Land Bank and Commissioner loans is to help farmers keep down their fixed charges and thus leave more income for the retirement of debt principal or to meet necessary operating and living expenses," Governor Black said.

"Money saved on interest charges will thus be reflected in increased purchasing power, benefitting both industry and agriculture, and also will help in a measure to raise farm living standards and safeguard farm ownership."

THE BOYS AND WAR

The more warlike nations of Europe have been urging their families to raise more children. They claim these nations are overcrowded, and hence need more territory. To obtain that territory, it is said it be necessary that they raise more boys who can serve as soldiers.

It is a strange contradiction to say that because a country is over-crowded, it should raise bigger families to create greater fighting power, since those bigger families create still more of that population-exploding which is commonplace of.

The women of these countries do not apparently feel that boys should be raised for that purpose. Very they cry out against having children if the government destines them for that end.

It would seem almost cruel for families to refuse to have children on the ground that the boys might be required to serve as soldiers in a just war. Any nation should raise enough descendants to hold its own in the world. But when people are urged to raise more children to make an attack on neighbor nations it seems a terrible abuse of power.

The Germans are not dogs to have won their war so far by superior numbers but by superior equipment and training. While their enemies have been enjoying too easy lives and sports and pleasures, the Germans have been working like tigers to get ready for war. Their brains have gone into producing war making machinery and practising how to use it.

The American people abominate the thought that when they bring boys into the world, these youths may have to serve as soldiers. If our people provide an adequate defensive equipment and training these boys will not probably have to do any fighting. It is the unprepared nation that has to make war.

BUSINESS NEWS

There is one form of expression about newspapers which gives a false impression. That is the dressed-up newspaper space into two main sections, first its news columns and second, its advertising. That is not a correct use of words, since the advertising is news of the most interesting kind.

The advertising tells what the stores are offering, all what these offerings will cost. In times when incomes are inadequate and when taxes are high, people have to make the dollar stretch a long way. The advertising columns are a wonderful news feature, telling how that can be done.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Grisham, Dorothy Grisham and Joe Elliot Jr. of Athens, Ala. and Mrs. B. E. Nelson of Victor Point visited Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Grisham Friday.

Eddie and Robert Lhillner, Chester Kirchoff and Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Albrecht of Comfort visited Mr. and Mrs. E. Lindner Thursday and also attended the celebration at Mansfield Park.

Miss Mary Boyle is planning to leave tomorrow for San Antonio where she will enter training at the Santa Rosa School of Nursing.

BANDERA COUNTY GETS MORE FOR SCHOOLS

Austin, July 9.—Bandera county will receive $486 more from the state this year to operate its schools than it did last year, State Supt. L. A. Woods announced today. This is based on the assumption that the county will have the same number of students next year as it had last year.

Supt. Woods said the listing in the state board of education's reapportionment for capita from $22 to $22.50 is intended to reward bettering the educational facilities of Texas.

Supt. Woods pointed out that increased state assistance in schools plus more efficient management and improved teaching methods have been largely responsible for Texas being raised to 18th educational rank in the union from the low mark of 36th which it held in 1920.

He explained that the additional per-capita appropriation will increase state expenditures as a whole. Woods pointed out, since

INFORMATION LACKING

In a speech at Medina last Saturday, either through lack of information or from some ulterior motive, my opponent for the relative for County Judge made a number of statements which are entirely misleading if not downright wrong.
Impression which may have been
points which were discussed are briefly answered as follows:

(1) To my personal knowledge all records of the Commissioners'
Court, County and District Court, Probate, all county warrants and other records in the clerk's office, all Assessor-Collector records, all Treasurer's records and records relating to the schools of the county are at all times open to the public. I have never known of any one being refused access to any of these records nor have I ever before heard of anything being con-hidden or concealed from any person. It has been the custom of the county officers in the past as well as those now holding office, when requested, to assist any one to find any record in which they are interested.

(2) His charge in regard to the placing of people in the WPA is a way to influence voting was evidently made in ignorance of the fact that no officer of this county has any authority at all in the matter of placing names on that list. The entire matter of such matter and there is no way the County Judge can be of assistance to any person in getting on the list work by the WPA, and this only when the quota for the district is not filled.

(3) In the matter of trying to cooperate with the R. E. A. county judge in getting for this county a Federal building sought by several other counties, the Commissioners' court was asked to furnish some material and to give a longtime lease on the land. Others had to do with and also the offices of the County Agent and the Home Demonstration Agent, and was, in fact, to belong to Ban-dera County. As the proposition was rejected by the Federal Government there will be no such building erected.

(4) In the matter of ordering the cleaning of a certain portion of Cherry Street adjacent to the public school property by the Bandera Commissioners Court did this under the belief that there was practically no dust nuisance at the time, but upon learning that there was a substantial amount of objection, the court, at the same term, passed a rescinding order until the matter could be considered at a later term when both sides could be represented. At this later meeting it was apparent that the desire to close the street was far from unanimous, and accordingly, the Court refused to order its closing.

(5) In conclusion I might add that in none of these matters was the County Judge ever given an opportunity to vote.

(6) If my opponent was not better informed in the law he would know that the County Judge's daughter-in-law is not hired by the County Judge but by a local school board, and that her vouchers are issued by that board and duly signed by them. My approval of their vouchers does not violate any law, nor does a refusal to approve them would be a violation of the County Judge's duty.

A. W. RUE,
County Judge.

JNO. T. SPANN FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

I am asking you for the nomination for District Attorney at the coming primary election. You want to know who I am and my qualifications for the office.

I grew up on an East Texas farm, and after teaching school for a few years entered the law practice in Wood County in 1911.
In 1913 I moved to the city of Dallas, where for more than 13 years I associated with and was confronted with some of the best legal talent Texas affords. I had to deliver the goods.

Early in 1928 I was overcome with illness which took me completely from all activity for the time. In 1929 I came to Cryptal City in search of health. I have found it in a wonderful country and among good people and have continued my profession here.

During the past I have carried the responsibility for the liberty and many times the life of my clients in our District Courts, and in this undertaking I have met with fair success. No better school of training for district attorneys exists.

I have never held a public office and have in no way through life thus far, in the face of what appeared to me to be more than my share of criticism, and occasion as far as possible, seven children without one dime from the public treasury or a salary.

I believe it the time honored
"two term" rule of the Democratic Party, and when I have held the office that long, there will be an opening for some qualified man without opposition from me.

I have spent the better part of my life in this profession and feel that I am qualified to prepare one for the office of district attorney.
I have had the training, I have the ability, and know
I have the desire and courage to fill the office with effect and honor. It will be my purpose to prosecute with might when the facts prove guilt, but will be equally as quick to defend the innocent.

I want the office for the honor it bestows, and my family and I need the salary. I will earn it.
Sincerely,

Jno. T. Spann

lodge rooms and a store space.

the property was started yesterday by Contractor Chas. H.
Briend. The building will be a modern tile and stucco structure with tile office and ladies lounge expects to have the building com-

POPULATION GAINS

Cities and towns are anxiously looking for the results figures to see whether they are losing or gaining. In some years when the country took in around a million immigrants each year, and large families were still being raised, a town could be boasting its place on the map if it did not make a good gain. The wisecracks of such a city would shake their heads gloomily and say the community was not living up to the mighty deeds of its founders.

In these times when we have come fairly near closing the immigration door, and when some who enter illegally, and when peple think hard before having large families the population question is something else again.

A gain in population is universally welcomed as indicating that a city has enterprise and energy, and that it is making things that people want, and that people come there to share in this prosperity.

Some communities that have made population gains do not seem to have profited greatly.
There is no great increase in the business done in them, more money in circulation, but the community did not grow.
Many times the gain in building created by the new population seemed in many cases to offset the benefits that it brought.

The principal standard for judging a community is the quality of its people. If it is a community is a finished and beautiful town it will attract as high class people as it has and others will come there and create nice homes. Such a place will be healthful, and it will be well governed, and its residents will be proud of it, and life will be pleasant and satisfying in such a community. The American people seem to have come to the point where they viewed numbers as the most important thing. Today they want intelligence more than anything else.

WHAT IS MALT?..

and how is it used in making beer and ale?

BARLEY

Answer: Brewers' malt is barley that has had its starches modified. The barley is first permitted to "sprout" by the addition of moisture. At the right instant, the growth is checked by heat and the sprouts are removed.

What remains is malt . . . the essential base of all good beer and ale.

Every step in the brewing of good beer and ale has been taught by centuries of experience. Today amazingly expert brewers — using only the purest ingredients — make beer and ale the mild, tasty, wholesome beverages that they are.

Now the brewing industry is taking action to keep the retailing of beer as wholesome as beer itself. A plan to eliminate abuses is already in effect in a number of states. It is being extended. Ask us for an interesting free booklet.

PSA FARM PURCHASE LOANS FOR TENANTS OPEN IN THIS COUNTY

The Farm Security Administration is bringing its farm purchase program to Bandera County for the first time this year and tenant farmers who aspire to own land may make application from July 27, 1940 to August 31, 1940 it was announced today by PSA Supervisor A. M. Cooper.

Application blanks for these loans, made under provisions of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, may be obtained at the PSA office located at the County Agents office in Bandera.

The loans are payable over a 40-year period at three per cent interest. A variable payment plan, whereby the payments are smaller in poor years and larger in good years, is provided. This method of financing farm ownership is supervised by the supervisor said, "as is being demonstrated by some 1,000 farmers in Texas who have received loans and also as a group have repaid more on them than has come due." Mr. Cooper said.

The program started small," he stated, "with a national appropriation in 1937 of only $10,000,000 to cover the entire United States. As its success has been demonstrated this fund has been increased by successive increases of Congress authorized $50,000,000."

Farmers to whom loans are made are chosen by a committee of county farmers.

On September 1, 1931 Clyde Emmett was born into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Newcomer of Pipe Creek, and on July 28, 1940 he passed away at the P. and S. Hospital in San Antonio. The Eternal Spirit left the mortal body to return unto the God who gave it. His unexpected and untimely going was a great shock to the devoted family and close relatives and friends, but God's will was unquestioned by any of them for they know his abiding place is with God.

His little body was brought to the Chapel of the Lutheran Pastoral Home Saturday night and funeral services were held there Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. conducted by Rev. E. C. Ray. Many beautiful flowers were brought to make the service and resting place beautiful. Burial was in the Pipe Creek Cemetery. Pall bearers were Wesley Ray Stevens, Gene Loyd Crist, Leonard Edwards and Truman Edwards. Honorary pallbearers were his little friends and playmates; Clifford Murphy, Elvin Ray King, Da vid and Paul Bowman, James Pursch, Rodger Stevens, Frank Newcomer, Francis Babitt, Billy Patterson, Richard and Donald Fitzgerald, Leroy Pickens, Teddie Sammy Lee Kinney, Jr., Jerry Runde, Bobby D. Newcomer, Horace and Ray Edwards, Irving Hall and Cecil Hall.

The New Era extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 38th JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Owing to urgent official duties that has imposed upon me I cannot ..tvass voters personally and solicit their votes. I feel that you would not have me neglect official duties for the sake of making a political campaign, and therefore solicit your vote by card.

My entire record is an open book. As your District Attorney I take pleasure in referring you to this record, which I am sure is recognized as an honorable, efficient and conscientious one.

The two term idea had never been applied to the offices of District Judge or District Attorney, for it is a well known fact that length of service in these offices tends to add to the efficiency of the officers filling them. A glance back to the length of service of many former District Attorneys of this District will prove this fact.

Local Boys Awarded High Honors by FFA

Charles Emmett Wyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roeil Wyatt of the Mason Creek section, and John B. MacNaughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John MacNaughton have returned from Houston where they attended the annual Convention of the Future Farmers of America.

Charles and John B. were both awarded gold keys, highest award possible in the organization of the Texas Association of FFA. The presentation of the gold keys, significant of the high scholastic honors of area eight, was made in an impressive ceremony held at the annual FFA banquet at the Rice Hotel. The banquet was attended by some 3,000 boys from over the state and their instructors.

Haskell Lindsey of Houston, president of the organization presented the keys.

The honors bestowed upon these two Bandera County boys are given to them as a result of their achievements over a period of 4 years in F.F.A. work, studied in the Bandera High School where they have been outstanding students in the vocational training program as directed by W. P. Graham.

In order to receive this high award a boy must have at least $250 earned and invested in projects work. He must have a standing leader in all vocational work as well as a leader in other school work.

We want to congratulate these two boys on this achievement and hope that they will continue to win high honors in their college work and in the leadership of the community where they may choose to live.

The boys report a very enjoyable trip. They were accompanied to Houston by Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Graham.

"ANSWER" QUESTIONED FOR SHERIFF'S RACE

Questions and answers signed by Judge Pue, my opponent, appeared in this paper last week purporting to be answers to questions I asked him. Those questions were not at all to the point and I do not hear the speech. Does that mean the fact that he was elected speech almost entirely, misquoted or misconstrued the points he did consider?

(1) I said then, say now the minutes of his Court are public records and that the people have the privilege and duty of every interested citizen to examine them. I do not know what his servants are doing, even though a little clique in Bandera may know facts. I have never said any officer is concealing any such record.

(2) That local politicians have put men to work just before the primary, demanded poll tax receipts, and other circumstances indicating to any thoughtful person familiar with such tricks, that they are attempted to secure votes for the benefit of

(3) That it is wrong, unlawful, and a crime for any person, firm or a corporation or any class of individuals, as is being attempted by this Democratic organization as they deny it. Their record speaks for itself, go see it, ask the officers of the county corporation, turn on the light.

(4) That this administration has the public, mentioning the street closing and justice appointing officials, under the claim of necessity.

(5) That it is wrong for an officer to keep a number of his family on the public payroll, to fatten with himself, approving their contracts and vouchers as such employee, that the law requires official laws against it, making it a misdemeanor for any officer to approve any bill, claim or account of such relative; that the County Superintendent should obey this law, is lifted from the law books the last to violate same. I read the law, itself, to the people at Medina, Pipe Creek and Bandera, that law as well as can my profound critic. Was I mistaken about that?

(6) That it is wrong to put the people of this county under bonds for a new jail, when Bandera has them a vote thereon as provided by statute, mentioning the Carpenter-Allen bunch in connection with trying to deprive our

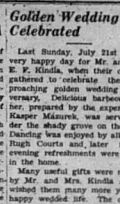
SHERIFF BURNS RUNS ON PEACE RECORD; COUNTY LAW-ABIDING!



Sheriff "Billy" Burns

Sheriff W. H. "Billy" Burns, running for re-election, gives the people of Bandera County the credit for most of the fine record he has made as sheriff. The people are just law-abiding and they respect the law, he says!

However, his friends point out that there has never been an auto stolen in Bandera County which has not been recovered by "Billy" Burns. He has arrested cattle rustlers, caught in 1936, were convicted and sent to the state prison. The 30 to 40 thousand cattle were returned to their owners.

Mr. Burns served as a deputy sheriff from 1928 till he was appointed sheriff in March, 1932. He was elected that November, and has been re-elected regularly ever since.

Also the assessor and tax collector, the sheriff's office reports that 95 per cent of all taxes have been paid up—which is SOME collect record for any county in the United States! Property assessed valuations total $2,778,386.78.

JUDGE JAMES R. NORVELL

Stanton upon the latter's selection by the Supreme Court as a member of the Court of Criminal Appeals. Judge Norvell is a candidate to succeed himself as Associate Justice in the Democratic Primary. This is the first time Judge Norvell has been a candidate for a State office.

Judge Norvell did not apply for nor solicit the appointment, yet the appointment to which he was generally greeted with approval by citizens of the Fourth Supreme Judicial District who are familiar with the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals and the qualifications for and duties of the position. The appointment was accepted by Judge Norvell as a privilege and a duty. Judge Norvell grew up as established law practice confident in the belief that if he proved worthy, he would be elected by the voters of the district.

ADULT SHORT COURSE

Speaking on "The Frontier, ver the World Crisis," Dr. W. P. NON-RESISTANCE

A few years ago many people were saying that they would never again stand for any war-making act by the United States. They favored absolute non-resistance. They pointed to Mahatma Gandhi, famous saint of India, who with his doctrine of passive resistance forced the British government to make great concessions to his country. They say that this attitude will eventually win freedom for India, and hence accomplish far more than could be achieved by fighting a bloody war.

What would such people do if a conqueror like Hitler landed his army over here and proceeded to bomb our cities? They would probably say they would quietly submit, and trust to the power of justice and reason to win a victory.

Jesus, it is said, in his sermon on the Mount, seemed to advocate absolute non-resistance. His words probably referred only to minor injuries. When struck on the cheek on the weak, that is a very different thing.

People of a gracious nature sometimes think that love is the most conquering force, and would finally overcome tyrants and oppressors. The tyrants and oppressors have usually answered their cruelties until men became bold and desperate enough to hurl them from their thrones and power. The tyrant laughs at love and he says he can put down justice as long as he has plenty of men with steel bayonets.

So while a most excellent people in spite of tragic events in Europe still cling to the non-resistance theories, it does not seem to work out. Right captive nations today are forced like slaves to drag the Hitler chariot, and give added currency to the idea.

THE POLITICAL SPREE

The American people are now started on their great quadrennial political spree called a national election. The word "spree" is not wholly inappropriate. When people go on a spree they are supposed to lose their self control, and say things that make them ashamed after they sober off. Many of the things said and done in a political campaign come under that description.

During the four months period very little public business is done, greatly excited. The most important problems of economy are often neglected. Even the war is made a political football. The right party will win the ship of state will be safely steered into a happy haven, where no troubles will vex.

Few of these predictions are ever realized. The American people are a good deal like the calf that would turn over and over if you threw her on a smooth floor, but somehow she usually manages to come on her feet. It is with our people. They take very little interest in frequent intervals, due to the errors of judgment they are constantly making. But when they get a bad half they have a way of turning out the rascals and electing others trying to fraud that particular error in future.

The prediction of grand peace upon condition that a certain party wins out, are rarely fulfilled. It is of course true that a good country makes steady progress, though the country has been prosperous when the party in power has been driven from the field. Even if the best candidates were elected they are not smart enough to make predictions as to their probability to be stopping very high in every event.

Most of our folks are foreign, and want to do the thing that is right. They are willing to pay for living the road and preserving free opportunity, if it is well to do so. But they want to be sure it is necessary to do so.

HONORING THE MEMORY OF CLYDE EMMETT NEWCOMER

When the boat was taken
Twenty years ago,
Clyde went to be one
Who was not afraid.
He was a brave soldier,
Bold and fearless.

He thought of his son, not as a copy, he said,
But one to stand in work of prayer.
His wish fully thought out,
Throughout the day,
Until finally went as to sleep.
Through
He left many friends
To mourn his passing.
But they know he is now
In all things he has planned.

and even down to what it costs and to freeze a pound of pork. This freezer for 450 items and boxes are rented at $10 per year and 5c per pound is paid for cutting, wrapping and freezing. The state agent also urged all counties to take steps to establish such freezer lockers in their communities.

Following these talks specialists from the Extension Service showed many of the grades of products available through freezer lockers such as peas, beans, corn, meats, etc.

During the afternoon the men and women attended two group meetings about the canning, the use of which was the freezer locker questions taken from the technical side. J. L. Heid, of Weslaco, led the discussion and gave tips on the methods of preparing various products from the freezer. He pointed out that fruits and vegetables should be properly stored whole, sliced, pulped of pureed.

Discussing wise use of family credit, Miss Barbara Van Hulen, of Abilene, told the group that credit was an important part in helping families become financially sound, but at the same time if can cause them much trouble if they are not careful in its use. She urged them not to buy on credit when everyone else is in the same frame of mind but to wait when they have the demand and they will find the prices more advantageous. The energetic, capable family life makes wise use of its credit can expect to pay its own its own farm and then have the farm of financial security, she said.

A C. Williams of Houston showed colored, Mexican, European agriculture, and told about the type of farming he found in many European family life discussed pre-war farm conditions and what and brought out many interesting facts. Miss Black and Miss economic conditions and the operation of the factory coopera- tive organizations in Scandinavian countries. Of much interest was a description of the manner in which the people in the Alsace country take care of their farms in this war time, but said, for the family food supply and then by intensive cultivation they make their farms yield the work of many. Most of the farmers practice crop rotation and other improved farming practices and use their soil for the crops to which it is best adapted.

Miss Lucile Adams, Extension Service District Agent, spoke on "Land in Literature." She recommended several novels, magazines and other publications which will provide them, not alone with entertainment, but with many helpful sketches which will furnish them with much entertainment as well.

Many more interesting talks were given by J. H. Price from Bexar County. He suggested that the finishing touches on the protection against the weather such as painting, staining or whitewashing of buildings and walls of buildings and fences, and whitewashing of trees, much outbuilding, for flooring, mattresses, etc.

The last meeting of the afternoon session was a demonstration which was conducted under the supervision of the District Agents. The evening session was held in Kyle Field auditorium, "Songs of the People" under the direction of Prof. W. A. Owens.

Friday morning was spent in the same manner as the day before during the morning and then the afternoon meetings during the afternoon.

The Charles Jones family from Zipha, Brown County were among the speakers at the general meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Jones and family were selected to go to Washington and there demonstrate. In charge of mattresses rather than year. Each reported their experiences on the trip and told how the 4-H Clubs and Home Demonstration work have helped them in acquiring the present holdings. Mrs. Jones teased her work back for 20 years from the time they were living farms until the present when they own their own place and have recently built a new home on the land and completed landscaping the premises. While in Washington they spent four hours daily making mattresses in the rotunda of the Dept. of Agriculture building.

During the afternoon land use planning delegates met with Dan Adams and discussed plans for the next year.

Sectional meetings including talks on various subjects similar to the previous afternoon. The Brazos County Home Demonstration Club gave a demonstration of the "farmerette" mattresses in the Y. M. C. A. chapel both days.

A joint session concluded the short show. Dan Adams, show director, spoke on the "Land and the People." "Land should not mean food, shelter and material to a people but it should mean a place for worship to God according to the dictates of their conscience. It should mean home and family life and should establish a democratic government of free men," he said. He urged the farm folks to plan for the future to meet the ever changing world and shifting markets."

Miss Mildred Horton also spoke on "The People." She stressed the fact that everything begins and ends with the people. As we plan to preserve the land we have to preserve the people, she said. We think, to plan, to act, helps make better individuals.

Following the closing talk the visitors made a tour of the Agricultural Experiment Station lands and the college.

The night's program, a picture show, "Northwest Passage" concluded the short course.

Those from Bandera County present were Miss Emelia Kalka, Mrs. H. M. Bandy, J. A. Gallatt, Raymond Hicks, Capt. Thomas Grant, A. H. Schott, Clinton Langford and Theo Grant Jr.

WALLACE DEMANDED BY F. D. R. WIN

Chicago Stadium, July 16 — Roosevelt leaders made Henry A. Wallace the Democratic party's vice Presidential nominee tonight but only after backing an unprecedented anti-Wallace boom and widely divided national convention.

Wallace, the President's choice, won, while the Chief Executive waited in the White House for the convention's decision.

The lowly Secretary of Agriculture from the state of the Roosevelt Administration and an unrepresentative New Dealer made it mostly upon the shoulders of the populous Pacific states with the assistance of the customary legations from Middlewestern farm states.

ROOSEVELT RENOMINATED

Early American statesmen of national school feared that maintenance of a strong administration in office in national emergency would lead it permanently into tenure and eventual destruction of a democratic form of government. They based their theory on the experience of history. The issue in the present campaign over the nomination of President Roosevelt for a third term boils down to an original application of that theory in the present conditions.

The answer is that the theory is not now applicable today as in earlier American periods for the simple reason that the original theory—that body maintaining the incumbent administration in office—constitutes a greater percentage of total power today than ever before. In addition, the media for propaganda are greater today than ever before, giving an organized bureaucracy, even relative to numerical size, greater influencing than ever before.

But democracy is the voice of the people, and if the free and unsolicited and unrestricted voice of the people demand the overturning of tradition, then it should be overturned regardless of theory. The Gallup poll shows barely a majority of the people wanting Roosevelt for a third term. Would a majority have been received if all lotteries had been excluded from the poll? Again, was the vote at the Democratic convention as spontaneous as it was at the Republican? Mr. Farley said that Roosevelt did not want a third term. If not, why did he wait until the convention had been in session days and a large majority of the votes pledged to him? Why did Handy Man Harry Hopkins step up a third-term movement? If such a thing is not done in the face of honest opposition of a political boss. Why did Graighead Burton K. Wheeler say that the convention had been, staged? Almost unanimous comment of news commentators on the convention was that it was largely a gathering of men and women with their political fortunes invested in one way or another in a Roosevelt administration at Washington.

True, the United States faces a crisis. True, also, if this country has arrived at a state where

HOME TOWN AFFECTION

People do not always realize how deep are the ties of affection which exist between themselves and their home town. They often take all the pleasant features and friendships of their home circle rather slightly, as if these things were not very important. Yet when they go away from these places, many of these folks, feel pangs of homesickness for them and are never quite reconciled to the loss of all these grand kind and beneficial activities and relations.

It would be fine if we could realize better in our daily life the close these ties of affection are to us. If we did realize them we would give more time to the good names of our home town, and it would be a pleasure to give effort and thought to maintaining its useful activities.

DEFENSE BATTALIONS AIM OF U. S. MARINES

Expansion of the Marine Corps to a strength greater than it has been since the days of the last World War is now under way, and when the total 9,000 men have been recruited the Corps will have a sizable force of 34,000 men.

This is more than half the maximum enlisted strength of the Marine Corps when it had before the signing of the Armistice in 1918, numbered 83,734. More probable figures and a great increase in the strength of the Fleet Marine Force will be the result according to Brigadier-General R. Pennoyer in charge of recruiting for the Corps at the Marine Corps Active Building, San Antonio, Texas.

For years the Fleet Marine Force, a specialized organization of the Corps, has been taking part in maneuvers with the Navy Islands in the Caribbean. It is officially furnished the practice grounds for the establishing of advanced base defenses, and its soldiers arrive excellent training in landing and other exercises.

Those real adventures were experienced by the sea soldiers during those maneuvers, and they have encountered many things that would be likely to meet under real campaign conditions. Often there was a shortage of fresh water. Other duties of the Corps, such as guarding naval stations abroad, including the Philippines, Shanghai and Guam, sailorizing and similar duties drew heavily on the available personnel of the Corps.

When the new strength is attained it is planned by officials to have a defense battalion always in readiness for Fleet Marine Forces on the Pacific and Atlantic or at locations which may need arms the military needs of the nation.

The Fleet Marine Force consists virtually all military units, including infantry, artillery, engineers, tank, motor transport, and the necessary service companies. One defense battalion, the 1st, is already defense short, of a total of about 1,000. It is said will be built considerable strength in the original force.

Doughnut Lights Make Harbors Seadromes

Harbors, lakes and rivers may be turned into seadromes by stringing radio-controlled lights out in landing lanes, it is reported after successful tests made on the Anacostia river, Virginia, by engineers of the West-inghouse Electric & Manufacturing company. The harvested lights, encased by batteries, have radio receivers in the bases of a mounting which is supported on a buoy-like rubber doughnut. The buoy may be turned on and off by their own shore station to guide seaplanes in for safe landings.

State Tax Reduced 8 Cents

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 6.—The Automatic Tax Plan adopted today reduced the state ad valorem tax rate 8 cents, making a new rate of 60 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation.

The reduction was in the portion for support of public schools, which will be 37 instead of 35 cents. The 23-cent rate for general fund purposes and the seven-cent rate for Confederate pension fund purposes were left unchanged at their constitutional maximum.

The 1940-41 rate was set by unanimous action of the board in open session. Last year the rate setting meeting was held behind closed doors. Members of the board are Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, State Comptroller Geo. H. Sheppard and State Treasurer Charley Lockhart.

About 100 trucks and many of the field artillery guns were in the caravan. They planned to spend the night in Kerrville.

YOUTHFUL DEFENDERS

What will the youth of the nation say if congress, as some plan to do, passes the bill providing for compulsory military training of a great army of young men? The first call under the legislation will probably be issued to men between the ages of 21 and 30, and probably 1,000,000 of them would receive such training within the next year and a half.

It may seem to some young men a hardship, if they are forced to give up for the time being the jobs which they have obtained after laborious search. It is not exactly pleasant to be told by Uncle Sam like a heavy hand on one's shoulder, and say "Here, you have to drop that work and those hopes and come with me and learn to be a soldier."

Some will say that this way of thinking is the result of the folly of the human race and the older generation. We have not known how to run the world right, and who create the misery and strife which war grows.

The American people are doing their very best to keep out of this war. They hope, work and pray for peace. In spite of all, the war makers brandish their guns, and march over the earth, gloating in their triumphs and looking for new victims. Either our people have to get ready to meet if necessary the fate conquered, or they bow their necks to these cruel tyrants.

One can have no doubt what the young men of Texas will say. They have no relish for fighting—only but if the tyrants insist upon their threats and demand that the world submit to their rule, our people will agree to it a little bit too far. Our boys will "sit sit down and let any aggressor run over them. They will cheerfully respond to whatever call for service their beloved country makes on them.

HOW GREAT THE DANGER?

How great is the danger that the United States will be attacked by the dictator powers? Some people may think congress is appropriating money too fast for defense. Apparently a good many think it is not necessary to pass any conscription law at this time. They argue that Germany is going to be pretty well exhausted after all its great war effort, and it would take a long time to organize an expedition to attempt the tremendous task of attacking our country.

The vast ocean between America and Germany is a wonderful protection. No army could make progress over the United States unless it was able to establish powerful bases in or near the country supplied with all the enormous variety of munitions and supplies needed for such a project—done job.

The one element of serious risk is that the Germans may get possession of the British fleet. The Nazis have accomplished in the seem almost like miracles so far. This makes fear that capture of the British fleet will yet be possible.

Japan threatens us on the west, and might reach out to grab the Philippines and the United States possessions on the Pacific. The Germans, if they win the war, might take possession of American ships now belonging to one of the conquered countries.

While the dangers threatening our country might be more imminent than they are, the danger is real, calling for great increases in our military and naval equipment and forces. Nearly 10 little nations have lost their independence since the war began. Any nation, even though rich and powerful, which fails to provide means for defense, can not be safe, when four great nations under the rule of dictators are invading foreign countries and subjugating their territory they want.

STRONG AND WEAK LINKS

A chain is said to be only as strong as its weakest link. If there is one weak spot in the wheel chain will probably snap.

It is a good deal so in the life of a business. The weak points in any concern affect the welfare of a whole firm. If a business has a single employee who is careless in his work, that neglect is likely to cause that concern to lose valuable customers. A careless boss valuable customers, they may go some distance away to trade. To make a strong and prosperous town, every employee in every concern ought to be interested and doing his best for himself, his employer and the town.

CARD OF THANKS

I take this opportunity to thank my supporters in the recent election. I am only sorry to know that so many people were inclined by the untruths that were told. I hope the ones that told these things will always feel proud of their ability for I feel there is some better. I have four things to be proud of. 1. My supporters for their clean support. 2. That I was defeated by a good man. 3. I practice what I preach. 4. I can face the public with a clear conscience.

An illiterate person, who always volunteered to "go around with the hat," but was suspected of sparing his own pocket, overhearing once a hint to that effect, remarked, "Other gentlemen puts down what they thinks proper, and so do I. Charity is a private concern, and what I give is nothing to nobody."

CARD OF THANKS

I take this opportunity to thank my supporters in the recent election. I am only sorry to know that so many people were influenced by the untruths that were told. I hope the ones that told these things will always feel proud of the stand they took. I feel there is none better. I have four things to be proud of. I am supported by a large amount; 2. That I was defeated by a good man; 3. I ran a clean race and 4 I ran for the public with a clear conscience.

EVERY merchant in our State—every business and professional man—every worker, shares in Texas oil's huge expenditures.

Many Texas cities with all their varied businesses and employment exist and prosper today because of oil.

Last year petroleum created a direct buying power in our state of 550 million dollars.

Of this, Texas retail merchants received 324 million dollars, landlords 44 million, utilities 38 million and professional men 22 million, while 83 million more went for insurance and savings.

This huge sum is distributed and redistributed in an endless chain of income for our State and its people.

Texas oil payrolls are over 60 per cent of all the wages paid to all Texas workers. Directly or indirectly, you get a part of your income from oil.

If you're a Texan, you're in the oil business.

THE WEED PULLING JOB

Many people start out in the spring to plant nice gardens, and they think they are going to have handsome places through the summer. When midsummer comes, many of them say it is too hot to get out with the hoe, and the weeds climb high and obstruct the growth of the plants, and give the garden an appearance of neglect.

The pesky weeds perk up their heads through the grass, and make it rough and unsightly. They can stand long periods of drought, while the good grass withers if not constantly watered. If the housewife will tell his lazy self to quit this grouching, and if he will put on his overalls and put up those weeds, the plants and the flowers and the grass will give three cheers, and smooth to the end of a succeeding summer.

If you want your home town to give you a chance to earn a living, help the town earn its own living by spending your money at home.

DEMOCRACIES

Threatened

...e feeling of men like Hitler, that democratic government must be changed to a more streamlined world. Hitler at the outbreak of the present war had a powerful machine and he prider himself on the efficiency of his country for speed, which he called "blitzkrieg," or means "lightning war." He depended on his ability to do things quickly before governments were puttering about it.

Dictatorship government is slow, for when action is taken by legislative body, the various parties must be consulted and heard. It takes time for them to talk themselves out. Prime Minister Chamberlain is instantly done.

...en democratic countries go to war they demonstrate it in the heat of the government. France and England have shown a distinctness when war started. England has never had a conscript army. The American people would not like a real dictatorship even in time of war. They have great additional power to...ead of the government.

...ough democracies move so slowly, in that there is jealousy between classes and parties, they have the unnecessary profits, or that is getting too high wages in business and industry, to go in for war production a great scale, they feel they can not afford to increase the current if plants constructed war work become useless after the war. Before long can be turned to turn out such points, the United States is to get into the war, and it is going to take over itself in a hurry. It is not a bit too soon in view of shooting items.

HATCHERY TO FURNISH FISH FOR WEIGHT SCALE FOR HEALTHY PEOPLE

In his challenging book, "Teachable Moments," Jay R. Nash, director of physical education and health of New York university, says "The height-weight relationship is a basis for false conclusions. It is true the individual should gain weight gradually and normally through certain ages, but to base any conclusions on height - weight relationship is building on a false foundation." He also explodes such fallacies as these: That light should come over the left shoulder when reading; that one should eat only dark bread; that the Pure Food and Drug act protects us against fallacious advertising and that cold showers are good for early risers.

PEOPLE WHO MAKE FRIENDS

Why is it that some people have a multitude of friends? As they go along the street, they know almost all the home folks, and they get cordial smiles and bows and handshakes. Then there are some who move through their home town as if they were strangers.

The difference seems to be that the people with the many friends have been very active in the service of their home town, have served on countless committees, have been officers of organizations, have worked for business and progressive movements, and have served in municipal office. These varied activities have brought them in contact with such a host of people that they have an extremely acquaintanceship. They have acted so generously and fairly in all their dealings that everyone is pleased to be a friend of such folks.

ASKING FOR BUSINESS

Business goes to those who ask for it. If you put two newspapers along a street and one constantly shouts out the name of his paper, while one stays silent, the shouting boy will sell far more papers.

So it is about advertising. If any store is prosperously calling out through advertising and telling what it has to sell and what those things cost, it will get a far greater proportion of the trade than the one that just opens up and waits for business to come.

GETTING WORK DONE

A joke is going around about the man who was asked by a visitor as to whether there was trouble there in finding work for the unemployed. The answer was "No," that the trouble was getting work out of the employed.

That crack may not fit as well now, since the number of a job is considered as desirable that there is little temptation to lie down on it.

There have been times, and may still be in some places, where people don't work with any spirit or energy. It is a fine thing for people to be sure of their jobs, but if they feel so sure that they think no one can take their places, their finish may be nearer than they suspect.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Little drops of water, said the poet, make the mighty ocean. So do little acts of service for the benefit of your home town, if performed generally, build up a mighty force of home town progress.

* * *

Little grains of sand are also said to make the pleasant land. Those grains of sand need plant building food in order to grow crops. So business needs fertilizing through the enriching effect of advertising.

* * *

A country finds it has to buy goods of its neighbors before it can sell to them. So it helps anyone sell services to the home town people if he will buy his goods at the home stores.

In her newspaper column, Eleanor Clarage Wilson, writes as follows:

When a girl is 14, her friends tell her it's pretty, but you look very grown up and mature." At 25 they say: You still look like a kid to me." At 30 the graceful thing to say seems to be: "You don't mean to tell me you're old?" And at 35 she hears, "It's remarkable the way you keep your youth."

But at the time changes are little. Then her friends begin telling her: "That hat makes you look ten years younger." And she knows she's ready for the discard when they vary that formula by declaring that her new fall outfit makes her look positively twenty years younger.

But possibly the acid test of growing old is this: When you meet an interesting and very attractive man who pays you extravagant compliments and asks to see you again, you say, "Run right out and buy a new hat."

* * *

She was an old Irish woman on her way back to Dublin from the North. The customs man, finding not a bottle from the customary sanctuary in a voluminous nightdress, said:

"And what's this?" asked the curious man.

"Sure it's holy water," said the old lady, clutching it. The customs man held his suspicions behind and the cork, sniffed.

"This is whiskey," he said sternly.

* * *

Up went the old lady's hands in astonishment.

"Glory be! A miracle!" ...

"That's just it," said the other chairman. "She proposed to me."

"Why didn't you turn her down?"

"I couldn't. She worded her proposal so cleverly. She said, 'Will you marry me? Have you any objection?' And whether I said yes or no, she had me."

"Not at all. You should have proposed a thousand times."

Fishing Rules to Age Limit

Texans are fishermen! That is proved by a tongue of anglers being taken by the State Game Department. Better than that, Lone Star State anglers know no age limit. They are fishermen and fisherwomen regularly at the tender ages of 4 and 5 and there are enthusiasts in their seventies.

The youngest child found fishing frequently was Lillian Kelley, 4-year-old girl of Van Vleck, Matagorda County. Several 5-year-olds were found, among them being Charles Hall of Brownwood; Janice Glass of Brownwood and Bill McCarson of Val Verde. Charles Norther, of Salado, at the age of 6, is a consistent angler. So is Jimmy Mobley of Brown County who is seven years old.

The oldest consistent angler discovered to date is Mrs. W. N. Crozier, of Comanche, who rarely lets a week go by without visiting a hook. There are probably older sportsmen.

"Mrs. Floyd of Tarrant County, may win the laurels as the most ardent woman angler in the state. She frequently fishes as often as twenty five days a month.

Plains Turkey Crop Good

The Panhandle region of Texas promises to produce a very good turkey crop this year, considering the rather limited turkey range in those parts. Along the streams where there is adequate vegetation, the turkey hatch this year, is reported an extremely good one by game wardens in that area. One warden reports seeing a big turkey hen with a brood of 14 young turkeys about the size of quail in Hemphill County. The youngsters, he said, were fat and in a healthy condition.

Landowners in the Panhandle are making every effort to guard their deer and turkey so that these species may be restored at least in some sections of that portion of the state.

Musicals in Panhandle

Musicrats are a great help in the coastal fields chiefly in Chambers, Jefferson, Orange Counties, and in all game damages by the muskrats it could be said that proper management of these is little a $2,000,000 crop.

But if you think this is exclusively in the coastal country you are wrong.

Ever hear of trappers finding muskrats in the Panhandle? It's a fact. On one visit to that supposedly dry region trappers harvested some 2 pelts last year, according reports to the Game Department secretary.

"What's wrong with the deer?" It tastes kind of funny." "Don't be silly. Daddy recipe calls for them, and I guess I didn't get beaten up fine enough."

"I couldn't serve as Jury," said the Irishman, "for I'm convinces me that he's guilty."

Mrs. W. E. Morris Died at Warren

Funeral services were conducted Friday at 3 p. m. for Mrs. W. E. Morris at her home near Warren, Texas. She died Thursday at 9 a. m. after a lingering illness and although she suffered, was always cheerful and hopeful. Interment was in the family plot near their home.

Mrs. Morris will be remembered as Miss Lois McCurdy, the only child of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCurdy, all of whom were well known here. She was born at Sanders on Feb. 24, 1910 and later moved with her parents to Fort Arthur where she resided with them until their death.

She was united in marriage to W. E. Morris in October, 1928 and to this union five children were born. She is survived by a host of friends and relatives. Her beautiful character and Christian disposition had endeared her to all who knew her. She was so devoted to her family. She longed that she must go away and leave them grieved her heart.

We sorrow not as those who have no hope. She will come forth in the resurrection. She is survived by her husband, W. E. Morris and four children, Evelyn 11; Joe Klien 9, Cherry Ann 6 and Raymond 3. One little boy, Dwight died in infancy.

The New Era extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved.

Another amendment provides that notaries public be appointed by the Secretary of State. Another amendment authorizes the Legislature to provide for certain taxes direct to the counties in instances involving constitutionality of certain laws and provides that the Comptroller, a local law providing that the Commissioners Court of Red River County may, by the vote of qualified electors, levy a tax and issue bonds to refund the outstanding warrant indebtedness of the general fund of such County.

WILLKIE ACCEPTS NOMINATION

Elwood, Ind., Aug. 17.—Formally accepting the Republican presidential nomination before a crowd estimated at a circus-day setting, Wendell L. Willkie proposed in broad terms today that President Roosevelt meet him in a series of public debates on major campaign issues.

A sweltering crowd, estimated at 150,000 to 250,000, packed Callaway Park—a circus day scene in which Willkie played as a boy—for the ceremonies and interrupted the proceedings frequently with shouts, whistles and handclapping.

Willkie in the favored some form of selective military service as "the only democratic way to obtain the best trained and competent manpower we need for national defense."

He accused the administration's foreign policy and asserted, that the President "has courted war" and that the country is hopelessly unprepared—and which it emphatically does not want.

Under many of whom had slept in Callaway Park overnight in order to obtain choice seats—were scattered through clumps of trees. But the burning Indiana sun brought perspiration to every brow.

Willkie came to Callaway Park through streets lined with cheering throngs as he drove through the city from the airport where he landed with glee as he stood on the steps of his old high school—under a huge sign proclaiming "The Hope of Our Country"—and said, "There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight."

The 48-year-old nominee—"the home town boy who made good"—then went to his old home and old friends and often turned to shout, "Hi Bill," "Hi Joe."

TO FENCE SCHOOL LAND IN MAVERICK COUNTY

County Commissioners Asher Rugh, Hiner Edwards, B. A. Keese and Ben F. O'Bryant and County Surveyor Fred Mansfield went to Maverick County near Eagle Pass Monday to see about fencing the school land. This step became necessary when those now leasing the land did not renew the lease on the 17,718.2 acres of school land. The school funds will be cut short if the land is not leased and is leased as it is seemed impossible to lease the land unfenced. Because the commissioners and surveyor went there to stake the corners and to make preparations for fencing the land had been leased at 30 cents per acre.

WHAT HOPS DO FOR BEER AND ALE

Hops are for flavor. They give to good beer and ale their lively, appetizing flavor, their pleasant, aromatic tang.

Brewers select and blend their hops with extreme care. In fact, every step in making beer and ale is conducted with masterly skill—to give you better-tasting, more wholesome beverages.

Now the brewing industry wants to do one thing more. It wants to protect your right to drink good beer and ale—by keeping the places where beer and ale are sold wholesome, too.

We want undesirable, anti-social establishments "cleaned-up or closed-up." A plan of action has already been put into effect in a number of states. This plan is being extended. We'd like you to know about it. Send for interesting free booklet.

A PRISON IS NOT THE SAME AS A JAIL

Many people speak of prisons as merely oversized jails; but criminologists do not use the terms so loosely. Jails are considered places of detention for people who have not yet been convicted of any crime, or for those serving short sentences for less offensive crimes. Prisons are places where people convicted of a felony are confined for the duration of their sentences. The modern prison is rarely not employed when referring to a place merely for detaining people while awaiting trial —this is a jail.

Celebration Here Sat., Sun. and Mon.

After showing to 9,000 people in Austin, Choctaw, one of the famous 15 Rodeo Steers used in Austin for the Optimist, Club Rodeo last week is still at large. Choctaw was being loaded to be shipped back to the Mendoza breeder, when he suddenly changed his mind, turning from the truck, jumping the 6½ foot gate, fences, then fighting an automobile, "hurting it over, next Choctaw took after a farmer, who was raking up hay, forcing the farmer's team to run away, demolishing the rake as well as harness. Then Choctaw took to the cedar brakes for his freedom and the rest of the 14 steers back to the ranch for rest and we hope to have Choctaw in Bandera for the Labor Day Rodeo.

Choctaw, Chile Dille, Hell Cat, Susie Que, Al Capone, Red Light, Dynamite, Jr., Bonnie Lee, many Brahma and half Mexican steers, the big 12 to 14 hundred pound steers from the large horns, will be shipped in from the famous Uturrie Ranch, at Laredo, Texas on the Mexican border, for the Bandera Rodeo. With this type of steers there is almost plenty of thrills and spills.

Also as added attractions you will see four mules, the trained and juvenile world's champion trick and fancy roper and rider, and all the cowboys and cowgirls foremost Liberty Horse, Danger, Jeff and Danger performed at Madison Square Garden, Garden, New York City. The Bandera Rodeo promises to be one of the best ever staged in Texas.

Of interest will be $195.00 added to purses, in calf tie down, Bull and Steer riding. Also the ladies' Flag Races. Complete Rodeo performances Saturday night, Sunday afternoon, and Monday afternoon.

At 10 a. m. Monday there will be a parade, filled with valuable prizes for the most typical Cow Girl. At 11 a. m. Monday the championship and championship rodeo will be held. Monday at noon the barbecue dinner will be served. Monday night two big dances will be held at Mansfield Park. Slick Jones and his Western Melody Boys will furnish music for the modern dance and old time music will be furnished by Jack Schmidt.

The town is looking quite festive with many decorations already up.

There will be three complete rodeo performances each day sponsored by the F. F. A. and Bandera Roping Clubs. These rodeos are worth the price of admission. Don't miss them.

REGISTERING THE ALIENS

Registration of aliens begins at the postoffices of the United States Aug. 27. Every one of them should cheerfully comply with the requirements of the government. They are the guests of the country in which, they have come, and it is their duty to act as friendly guests, who are willing to abide by all the rules of their new home.

Most of them will gladly do so, and they are good folks who came here to work and take their part in carrying the country's burdens. The questions asked of them do not carry any suggestion of hostility. Even after they comply with this law, these aliens will be perfectly free to live their own lifes as long as they obey the laws of the land. A few abiding one, while in most countries of Europe an alien is liable to be harassed every step he takes.

GETTING RICH QUICK

Can you name many young men go in for criminal acts - is that they see so little chance to get rich in honest industry? If they have a chance to go to work for $25 a week, they say it will be years before they can earn any more, and probably they will never get more than barely enough to support a family.

Meanwhile they want many things in a hurry. They want to be well around the race cars, take the girl friends out to the sporty resorts, see everything that is doing in modern life, play cards for big money, and take all the gambling chances. These things take a lot of money, and they see no chance of getting it in ordinary industry. So when some crook mentions some easy way to get a stolen haul, they listen and get trapped right in the same manner. Most of them find that while they may get a little easy money, it never goes, and probably before long they find it easy to get board in some jail.

Many young men who are sensible not to listen to any such criminal suggestions yet become discontented when they hear about the big money made by professional athletes, prize fighters, picture stars, etc. It seems terribly dull to them to drift along at the bench or in an office for some thin pay envelope, while they read of the dazzling successes of some star performer.

It is a fine thing for a young fellow to cherish ambition to get on and make more of himself. But when people make extraordinarily high pay, that is almost always because they learned to do something extraordinarily well. They worked at it hard, as with a baseball, playing a part in some stage show, or handling some business proposition that the world paid high prices to see them do such things, or as a reward for such service. The fellow who will do something far better than the average person does it in, will be going to have to worry about his pay.

The business man who doesn't believe in cooperating in a community project and who hesitates to permit his employees to offer their free service on behalf of a community undertaking generally changes his mind when he goes to other towns whose fields he thinks are "greener" and who comes back to the home town with a feeling that his home town was made greater by virtue of some community effort and, finally, concludes that he ought to "pitch in" too, or otherwise his employees will do so. Whether it's Halifax, Nova Scotia or Yorktown, Texas, it's going to be what we make it, and that takes in YOU and YOU and, the rest of US. The other fellow can't afford to sacrifice his business any more than YOU can--for any cause.--Yorktown News.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

There may be better towns than Bandera but those of us who have been away on vacations say we failed to find any such place on our trips.

What can people do to help their home, towns? One thing that helps a lot is to pay promptly all bills owed to home merchants.

When you advertise goods in the Bandera New Era you help build business in Bandera, and thus contribute to the movement to build up your home town.

ANGLERS CLUB MAY AID MEDINA LAKE

Sportsmen's clubs of Texas which have old dead lakes have well follow the example of the San Antonio Anglers Club, which has started a movement to get the waters of the Guadalupe River diverted into Medina Lake. The lake is extremely low. The club hopes to help finance a project which will divert the waters of the Guadalupe through Medina Lake.--La Coste Ledger.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Don't Confuse Regulations

While the changes in migratory bird hunting regulations were few, the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish, and Oyster commission is warning sportsmen to become familiar with the new regulations and not to get them confused.

The greatest confusion is likely to come from the shooting hours on ducks and doves. Under the new federal regulations, in which Texas laws conform, duck hunting may now start at sunrise and must end at 4 p. m. Dove hunters can start shooting at sunrise, but must quit at sunset.

Too, there is only one duck season in Texas, it opening at sunrise Nov. 2 and ending at 4 p. m. Dec. 31, but there are two dove seasons and some special regulations. The first season will be from Sept. 1 to Oct. 31 in the counties of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Hockley, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Denton, Wise, Collin, Hunt and all counties east of them, and Parker, Tarrant, Dallas, Rockwall, Kaufman, Johnson, Hopkins, Delta and Franklin counties.

In the remainder of the state the season runs from Sept. 16 to Nov. 15. Below the Texas-Mexican railway, however, only four days of shooting each week during the open season is allowed—on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays. But the exception does not apply to the counties of Webb and Zapata.

The bag limit on doves is 12 daily. Executive secretary points out, has been cut from 15 to 12, but remains at 10 on the mourning dove; the limit on geese is now 3 instead of 4, as it was last year. The possession limit is 20 on ducks and 6 on geese.

The closed season has been retained by federal regulation on wood ducks, Ross' geese and swans. No hunting may kill more than one canvasback, redhead, ruffleheads and ruddy ducks or have more than 6 in possession at any one time.

Hunters are also reminded that their guns must be plugged to hold not more than 3 shells. A federal duck stamp must be obtained by persons hunting migratory waterfowl in addition to the regular state hunting license.

Andy Sticks Neck Out

Andy Anderson, sports editor of the Houston Press and a hunter and fisherman for 20 years who is famous for his monthly calendar, has gone to the Texas, has stuck his neck out and a lot of hunters of his area will be checking up on him. However Andy doesn't care and is confident he'll "hit" 58 days out of 60. Andy has publicly predicted the weather of Texas for the entire hunting season.

NAVY HAMMOCKS

Columbus discovered that the natives of the Bahama Islands spent much of their time asleep in cotton nets suspended at each end, which they called "Hamacs," from which was derived the hammocks used by seamen. They are on the decline in the Navy, all new ships being equipped with bunks for all hands.

RECEIVES M. A. DEGREE

B. M. Wofford, principal of the Bandera Elementary School, received his Master of Arts degree at the August commencement exercises at the University of Texas on Aug. 26. "Economic and Financial Aspects of Professional Licensing in Texas" was the title of his thesis. He majored in economics, education and business administration.

LITTLE CREEK H. D. CLUB

The women of the Little Creek community met at the home of Mrs. Hardy Moore to organize a Home Demonstration Club on Tuesday, Aug. 27th.

The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Hardy Moore; vice president, Mrs. Oliver Reaves; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Leslie Duke; reporter, Mrs. Ira Reavis and council delegate, Mrs. Elmo Matthews.

Miss Pfluger then spoke to us on the importance of food and its functions in the body, especially stressing the fact that food is an important factor in the growth, health, vitality, happiness and is a fundamental factor in developing a physically efficient individual.

Each member was given a copy of the Texas Food Standard with which to check our diets in order that we are eating the varieties of food we need. For a safe diet I need daily: 1 qt. milk, 1 egg, 1 serving meat, 1 serving of potatoes, 1 serving of green or yellow vegetables, 1 serving of other vegetables, 1 serving of citrus or tomatoes, 1 serving other fruits, 1 serving whole grain products, bread and butter at every meal, some sweets, dried peas and beans 2 times per week, 6 to 8 glasses of water daily.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE

Strange as it may seem, it is reported that a gross misunderstanding exists in some parts of the country to the effect that if a Democrat casts a vote for a Republican candidate, the voter makes himself a Republican instead of a Democrat, and vice versa, and thereby terminates his affiliation with his own party.

If such a mistaken idea exists, it is important that voters be informed that they can vote for whom they please in general elections, without in any way changing their party affiliations or their right to vote in primaries and other local elections.

RETURNS TO BANDERA

Miss Ruth Thomas, who received her Master of Arts degree from SWTTC at the August commencement, will leave Monday to resume her position as a member of the faculty in the Bandera public schools.—San Marcos Record.

Some Texans have to make a trip back to the Lone Star State, ever so often, to have any luck deer hunting, but not J. F. Vawter of El Montie, Calif., a native of Bandera County. He went out the first day of this season and in about an hour's time, bagged an 80-pound buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Langtry and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross of San Antonio spent the week-end with Mrs. Richard Stevens and Mrs. Nora Davenport.

Mrs. John Langford and daughter, Miss Beatrice attended the Depmore-Fitzgerald wedding at Randolph Field Saturday evening.

C. A. Peters, with Cities Service Courts of Galveston, and Miss Helen Doheny of Galveston spent the week-end here and report having a wonderful time.

Bandera Schools Opened Tuesday

The Bandera public schools opened Tuesday with an initial enrollment of 160 in the elementary school and 112 in high school. This is about the same as last year. The final enrollment will probably show an increase as students are still enrolling.

The St. Joseph's parochial school also opened Tuesday.

BANDERA H. D. CLUB

Sanitation is absolutely necessary on the farm, stated Miss Myrtle H. Pfluger, County Home Demonstration Agent, at the club meeting in the home of Miss Emelia Kalka on Wednesday, Aug. 28.

Barns and barnyards should be cleaned at least twice a year as a first step to establishing sanitary conditions. The house should be screened and breeding places for flies and mosquitoes destroyed.

Refreshments of iced tea and cake were served to the following members and guests: Mesdames F. G. Anderwald, T. J. Anderwald, Henry Anderwald, J. F. Kalka; Misses Dorothy Anderwald, Margaret Winter, Frances Kalka, Annie Kollaus, Myrtle Pfluger and Emelia Kalka.

CHANGES IN ATTITUDE TOWARD FIRE

Austin, Aug. 31.—Interesting changes in the public's attitude toward fire were pointed out today by Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner.

In the U. S. A. a man who has a fire in his home, store or factory is regarded as unfortunate, but during pre-war days in Europe he was assumed to be a public offender, the Commissioner said.

In France, if a fire spread beyond a man's property and damaged that belonging to his neighbor, he had to pay his neighbor's loss. In Germany, if a man had a fire the police ordered an investigation.

Carelessness was assumed from the fact that the fire occurred. If he could not prove in court the next day that he had taken every reasonable precaution, he was fined, and for his negligence he had to pay the city for the unnecessary use of the fire department.

AUGUST RAINFALL TOTALS 2 9-16 INCHES

Rainfall for August amounted to 2 9-16 inches, according to records kept by Albert Kalka, local weather observer. The rainfall Friday amounted to ¾ of an inch.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

The Bandera school board met yesterday in special session to act on the resignation of Miss Elenora Albrecht. Her resignation was accepted and the board decided to move the seventh grade to the high school and use only 12 teachers this year instead of 13 as before.

Col. and Mrs. Clay Short and daughter, Miss Virginia and Col. and Mrs. Roff of Fort Sam Houston visited relatives here Monday.

The Bandera F. F. A. cleared about $75 at the barbecue at Mayah Guest Ranch Monday.

We are glad to report that H. E. Rambie has recovered sufficiently to be returned home Tuesday from the hospital in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Boler of Station C spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mansfield.

THOUSANDS OF VACANCIES IN PETTY OFFICER RATINGS OPEN IN U. S. NAVY

According to a recent estimate, there will be nearly ten thousand vacancies in the various rates in the Navy without qualified men to fill them. These vacancies cover practically all vocations followed in civilian life and they must be filled by training men who enter the Navy as apprentice seamen. For many years past, advancement in some ratings has been slow because there were few vacancies. That condition no longer holds, and now any able man who is willing to study and work can advance rapidly in the U. S. Navy.

Before a man can be advanced he is required to complete an educational course in his specialty. These courses have been prepared by trained experts and contain in brief, concise form, the information which is essential for a man to know to enable him to efficiently perform the duties of his rate. Of course practical experience is necessary, but the prescribed courses must be mastered before advancement can be expected.

BATTLESHIP DESIGN

Designs for our new battleships, the North Carolina and Washington, did not begin where the old left off. We had a building holiday of 19 years, but during that period a total of 50 to 70 naval and civilian personnel were working steadily, and made over 140 separate battleship designs, including studies of all types in existance.

Small scale outline sketches were prepared showing all principal dimensions for hull, smoke stacks, masts and fire control layout as well as guns, boats and distribution of protection. Calculations were made for weights, stability, strength, power, speed, and cruising radius. As studies were completed and time went on, offensive possibilities increased and defensive standards were greater. Possible fighting ranges were raised as was speed and cruising radius. Previous designs were discarded, new ones took their places.

In the evolution of battleship design, plans did not end on paper. Scale models were built and tested in the Navy's Model Basin. Ship forms were towed for resistance, and various types of construction were subjected to explosion and gunfire.

The U. S. S. North Carolina and U. S. S. Washington are products of this intensive and exhaustive research and experimentation. Although our battleship construction was at a standstill for nearly two decades, the basic design has been developed so satisfactorily that these giants represent the latest and most up-to-date fighting units afloat. When completed and fitted out they will join the fleet that is the backbone of protection to the Western Hemisphere.

The DEBUNKER
By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

Dr. William Moulton Marston, well-known American psychologist, has thrown a bombshell into the popular notion that women are naturally more submissive than men and crave domination by them. The truth is, he says, that "men according to laboratory tests, possess more submission, relatively, than women." This is good news for henpecked husbands who can now look the world in the eye and know that, after all, they are the real men.

DEPMORE - FITZGERALD

Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, daughter of Mrs. M. M. Fitzgerald, became the bride of Lieut. Daniel B. Depmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Depmore, in the chapel at Randolph Field Saturday evening, with Rev. E. H. Lovelace officiating.

Bill Turner was the soloist and was accompanied by Mrs. A. O. Ralls at the organ.

The chapel was decorated with white gladioli and palms.

Charles Giddings served as best man and the ushers were Francis Shuck, Sam Nay, Gene Patten and Maury McGarraugh.

Mrs. D. E. Conwill Jr. assisted her sister as matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Misses Betty Cade, Yvonne Noble, Nell Donnell and Irene Hoffman. The bridesmaids wore dresses of French blue taffeta made princess style with full sleeves and full skirts. On their heads they wore miniature veils of blue tulle. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of rose-colored gladioli blooms. The matron of honor wore a dress of dusky pink and carried a bouquet of blue delphinium.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin trimmed in white tulle. Her fingertip-length veil was gathered to her cap in the back. She wore a single string of pearls that are over 75 years old and were sent to her by Mignon Gast, who has recently moved away. Her old-fashioned bouquet was of gardenias and stephanotis.

Immediately following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Bush, aunt and uncle of the bride, entertained with a reception at their home on Thomas Jefferson Drive. Receiving the guests with the hosts and the bride and bridegroom were the bride's mother, the bridegroom's mother and father, and the bridal party.

The garden of the Bush home was decorated with white gladioli and fern and was illuminated by hurricane lamps.

Assisting in serving were Mesdames Walter L. Bothe, Walter Springall, Misses Jean Nash and Mary Bell Caldwell.

The New Era offers congratulations and best wishes to the newlyweds.

Destroyers Traded For Naval Bases

Washington, Sept. 3.—To an accompanying chorus of congressional approval and protest, President Roosevelt disclosed today that he was turning over 50 "over-age" American destroyers to Great Britain to bulwark that beleaguered country against the onslaught of Nazi Germany.

The United States is to receive, in turn, the right to construct a string of outlying naval and air bases extending from Newfoundland to South America. Their chief value, the president declared, would be in keeping an overseas enemy away from America's front door.

The State Department announced that it had received also a British pledge that in no event would the British fleet be sunk or surrendered to Germany. If driven out of European waters, it was said, the English ships of war would be sent abroad for the defense of other parts of the Empire.

C. P. L. CREW BUILDING LINE TO FOOTBALL FIELD

The Central Power and Light Co. crew arrived in Bandera Tuesday to build a 4-block high voltage line to the football field. They also installed a 250 KVA transformer and 2 100 KVA transformers at the Comfort substation to take care of the load. It is interesting to know that as much equipment is needed to serve the football field as is needed to serve two-thirds of Bandera.

Service was interrupted several hours early Wednesday morning to make these changes. The crew expects to complete its work today or tomorrow.

Leigh is an old English Name
Leigh is an old English residence name meaning "meadow dweller." It may be either a man's or woman's name, but it is usually the former.

"Rise every morning," a magistrate advised a man in court, "with the fixed determination to make your wife realize that you are master of the house, and see what happens."

We know what will happen. He will have to get his own breakfast.

...Mrs. Jones could only find two side seats—one separated from the other. Wishing to have her sister beside her, she turned and cautiously surveyed the man in the next seat. Finally she leaned over and timidly addressed him: "I beg your pardon, sir, but are you Alice's pa?"

The man, without turning his head in the slightest, but twisting his mouth to an alarming degree and shielding it with his hand, muttered: "Cut it out, Kid—cut it out! My wife's with me!"

Mock of the smartness of this one-piece hand-knit dress is due to deep pointed yoke, flared skirt and snugly fitted long sleeves. The yarn from which it is made also is new and gives a nubby yet soft effect.

HAND-KNIT DRESS

Much of the smartness of this one-piece hand-knit dress is due to deep-pointed yoke, flared skirt and snugly fitted long sleeves. The yarn from which it is made also is new and gives a nubby yet soft effect.

Leigh is Old English Name

Leigh is an old English residence name meaning "meadow dweller."
It may be either a man's or woman's name, but it is usually the former.

"Rise every morning," a magistrate advised a man in court,
"with the fixed determination to make your wife realize that you are master of the house, and see what happens."

We know what will happen. He will have to get his own breakfast.

Mrs. Jones could only find two aisle seats—one separated from the other. Wishing to have her sister beside her, she turned and cautiously surveyed the man in the next seat. Finally she leaned over and timidly addressed him: "I beg your pardon, sir, but are you alone?"

NEW CHEVROLET ON DISPLAY SEPT. 21

Frank Mansfield of the Mansfield Chevrolet Co., stated in an interview today that they would display the new 1941 Chevrolet to the people of Bandera on Saturday, Sept. 21st.

According to Mr. Mansfield the new model will represent one of the most improved yearly models offered by Chevrolet for the past several years. The 1941 car will be larger, roomier and will contain a marked increase in performance qualities. Mr. Mansfield stated that in his opinion the 1941 model would offer a great deal more buyer appeal than its 1940 model predecessor which has been selected by automobile buyers as America's Number One Car for the 9th out of the past 10 years and by one of the widest margins in the history of Chevrolet Motor Division. This story of leadership is unique in that it currently includes every state and the District of Columbia in the United States.

In these times of major concern over preparedness, manufacturing and production problems, etc., it is refreshing to review the records of the company and of Chevrolet Motor Division who is organized, tooled up and has the proper manufacturing facilities and the right pieces of machinery as complicated as an automobile is' less than seventeen months as of the period ending August. 15th.

Mr. Mansfield expressed his appreciation to all his friends and customers for the support given his company during the past year and issued a cordial invitation to all to visit his showroom on Saturday, Sept. 21st to see the flowers of achievement of 29 years experience and millions of previous models in the new 1941 Chevrolet.

Registration Set For October 16th

Washington, Sept. 16.—President Roosevelt signed the draft act today, fixed Oct. 16 as registration day for 18,500,000 young Americans now subject to compulsory military training, and asserted the United States was marshalling its strength to avert "the terrible fate of nations whose weakness invited attack."

In addition, the chief Executive called upon the governors of the states to provide suitable places for the registration, and local selection officials "and other patriotic citizens" to man the registration boards and asked employers to give their affected employees "sufficient time off" to present themselves and fill out the forms.

Roosevelt, moreover, emphasized a section of the act and a phase of the building up of the army not previously much discussion in Congress—the voluntary enlistment system. All between 18 and 36, inclusive, he said in a formal statement, will be offered an opportunity to volunteer for the military service of training, and those who offer themselves—provided they are physically fit—will be accepted before any others are selected.

Thus an influx of volunteers from any particular area would reduce then quota of men conscripted from that area.

The new law itself requires that all who on Oct. 16 have attained the twenty-first anniversary of their birth and have not passed the 36th year, must register. A presidential proclamation will determine the order in which questionnaires will be mailed to the registrants. One of the questionnaires, local boards will place the men in various classifications—those to be made for immediate service, those deferred because of dependents, etc.

The local boards will select sufficient men from among those available for military service to fill the quota for the area. Those so selected will undergo physical examinations and if they pass, will be inducted into service for one year.

SCOUT NEWS

A Scout meeting will be held Monday at 7:45 p. m. at the courthouse.

The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Perkey, Ph.D.

Time is something that is inseparably tied up with events which occur in it. Dates are determined by events and we cannot point to time itself, but only to events taking place in time. Time in which nothing happens seems to be an unknown abstraction. We try to measure time by events, such as the revolutions of the earth in relation to fixed stars and the sun, but we do not know that the length of our days is always the same (it probably is not).

BREAK FOR OLDER MEN

Demands for skilled workers in the defense industries are reported to be leading to an increased demand for the older men. Where it was once hard for men over 40 or 45 to get a job, now in certain skilled trades they are taking on men up to 60 or even 62. In a time when it has become necessary to train a great body of men for skilled trades, the older man who has had long experience looks pretty good. He may not be as fast as some younger fellows, but at least the job of breaking him in to a new stunt is avoided to a large extent.

The world during recent years has seemed to value speed more than experience. In many automatic operations, as little may be left to the judgment of the worker, that it will be claimed that speed, the ability to turn out a large product day by day for years, is the most desirable thing.

Many modern mechanical operations undoubtedly work so closely that all the operator has to do is to perform some little act, or direct some of over and above the speed. The speed and dexterity that can keep performing these acts over and over again has reduced production costs.

If a man is going to do one little thing over and over again for years, speed may be the most important thing, but if it is going to be desirable to change it worker around from one operation to something else, then speed and judgment would probably count more.

Anyway it seems a form of waste when a great body of elderly people, both men and women, are dropped by industry as unprofitable. If means could be found to keep them all at work a great increase would be made in the production, wealth, and prosperity of the country. The older folks should be given a break wherever possible.

CLEAN LOOKING TOWNS

The American people are too careless in the way they keep their home towns. The people particularly children have a most deplorable habit of throwing their waste into the street. In many places it stays there for weeks. Parents should teach their children never to throw any litter into the street.

Proper cleaning of the main streets should be provided by a city, but if this is considered too costly, it would pay the business people to hire someone to clean up the disorderly stuff. Householders should take pride in the condition of their own streets, and pick up the litter themselves unless the city has arranged to have the street cleaned. A lot of dirty paper lying around makes a neighborhood look down and out.

WHY CITIES GROW

Among the reasons why large cities have grown into big places is that they have been better advertisers. The big city newspapers print page after page of advertising in each issue. The advertising persuades a multitude of people that their advertised wares are good places in which to buy. So people pour into these cities every day, and they make it possible to build up great business concerns in those cities. These concerns employ a great body of workers.

This large amount of publicity not merely advertises the stores which pay for the ads, but it advertises the city, and leads people to start business and seek residence there. So advertising boosts prosperity and business in any city which uses it freely.

...BUT WHY COURT-MARTIAL THE WHOLE REGIMENT?

There are bound to be one or two bad soldiers in every regiment. But why court-martial the whole regiment?

The same applies to beer retailing. Quote hundreds of thousands of wholesome, law-abiding beer retailers, there is bound to be a small minority who disobey the rule of normal anti-social conditions.

To protect your right to drink good beer, the Brewing Industry wants even this small minority of undesirable retailers eliminated entirely. Beer is a refreshing, appetizing beverage — the beverage of moderation. We want every beer retail establishment to be as wholesome as beer itself.

To that end, we have instituted a "clean-up or close-up" program — now in operation in some states and being extended to others. We'd like to tell you about it in an interesting free booklet.

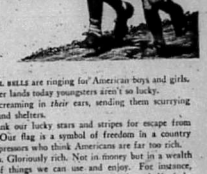
WE CAN THANK OUR LUCKY STARS

. . . and stripes



SCHOOL BELLS are ringing for American boys and girls. In many other lands today youngsters aren't so lucky.

Sirens are screaming in their ears, sending them scurrying into underground shelters.

We can thank our lucky stars and stripes for escape from such terrors. Our flag is a symbol of freedom in a country despised by oppressors who think Americans are far too rich.

We are rich. Gloriously rich. Not in money but in a wealth of the kind of things we can use and enjoy. For instance, with only 7% of the world's population, we have half of the world's railroads; half of the world's coffee is served on our tables; we consume two-thirds of the world's oil. We own more automobiles, radios, telephones than all the rest of the world put together. And, more important, we have the freedom to enjoy these things as we please.

Electric service is another good example. Electric service brings us light, music, refrigeration, easy washing, cool ironing, good coffee . . . for only a few cents a day.

Not only does electric service give us more of the good things of life but it brings them to us at a steadily lowered cost. Because of your increased demand for electricity, and our economical operation, electric rates during the past dozen years have been cut about in half. And you can automatically reduce the average rate you pay still further, the more electricity you use each month, the lower your average rate will be.

The employees of Central Power and Light Company are proud to be members of an industry that has always been among the leaders in giving the public more and better service for its money. And we are grateful to you for your help in making our efforts succeed.

POPULATION OF U. S. 131,669,000

Washington, Sept. 21.—The Census Bureau announced Saturday that the population of the United States April 1 was 131,669,581. This was a gain of 7 per cent since 1930, the smallest percentage increase in any decade of American history.

The forty-eight states and the District of Columbia reported 8,534,852 more residents than they had in 1930, but nine individual states had widely differing stories. By percentages, Florida gained 27.6 per cent, while South Dakota lost the most, 7.5 per cent. The district of Columbia, where the number of government workers has doubled, outpaced all the states with a 34.2 gain.

In actual numbers, California gained the most, 1,196,437, and Nevada lost the most, 81,867.

The 7 per cent national gain was less than half the rate in any previous decade. Census Director William L. Austin said this was due to a decline in both birth and death rates and a virtual stoppage of immigration during the last ten years. From 1910 to 1920, there was 14.9 per cent and from 1920 to 1930 it was 16.1.

GIRL AT 19, CAN MAKE RADDLE WHICH PLEASES MOST EXACTING HORSE

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 12.—Terry Myrick, a dainty miss of 19, with slender hands and delicate dark hair walked into her stepfather's shop and announced that she wanted to make saddles.

Saddle making is an exacting trade. A cowpoke is as fussy about his saddle as a woman is about her shoes. And dudes imitate the cowboys.

Now at 19, Terry turns out saddles that dude ranchers as well as the boys who make their living pressing cattle, deem perfect. She can ride even the salty mustangs with the best of them.

Terry says a not sorry she chose her occupation, even if it is an unusual one for a woman. She now rates as an expert.

THE FIRST YEAR OF WAR

The year which has just brought that wars had passed and that it had created systems that would preserve peace and progress, has now seen one year of the most terrible war that the human mind could conceive.

What has the world learned out of its first year of madness? Has it learned anything? Some people think it has not, and that the human race is in for a long series of wars until the people are so crushed by taxes and losses of war that they will be in for a new period of dark ages. The human race has still left a basis of intelligence and reason, and some day it will come out of this dark cloud and see light and reason again.

The world will learn things from its year of war, if there was ever where freedom of speech and a free press. The people of Germany, with the education and intelligence, that they were given, have not could learn the lessons of war fast enough, if they could only get the truth. With a distorted picture of facts given them every day by their masters they get no basis on which to make a fair judgment, and are not in a position to learn anything.

The same problem which this year of war gives to the world, is how to get the truth into the minds of the people of Russia and Germany. If there was some way by which they could learn how they are being taken like slaves into action which will make them hated by all who are free, the end of war would give us more real hope for hope. The great fight which the British people are putting up against them, suggests that before a second year of war is over "the German people will discover that many of the things they have been told are not true. Some day they will turn on the fanatics who have driven them to the present heights of folly.

BEGINNING THE YOUNG PEOPLE

A good town like Bandera brings up every year a fine bunch of young people, and it should try to keep as many of them as possible for permanent residents. A very friendly attitude towards them will help. The older folks should try to know as many of them as possible, speak to them cordially, and make them feel they are wanted in the home town.

They should be encouraged to think that the home town brings opportunities. People should not ever make disparaging remarks about the home town to them. They should be told what fine people the town has had in the past, and how they found excellent citizens for success and progress without going elsewhere. Make them realize how keenly interested the home town is to their development.

POWER OF THE HANDSHAKE

It is surprising how people will loosen up and show friendship when you take them by the hand. The Fraternal Order has that, and one of the first principles of their business is to grasp people cordially by the hand. It is a sign of friendship that people value, and far better than the formal meeting with which you greet a mere acquaintance.

The business man or worker who shakes hands with a lot of people every day is bound to make many friends by so doing. There is a subtle magnetic about this human touch, and it makes people feel that they are valued, that their support and patronage is sought, their friendship is desired. It costs nothing to grasp the world's hand with enthusiasm, and it spreads happiness, and brings substantial results.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If you want your home town to grow, don't take some of the business life blood out of it by going elsewhere to buy your supplies.

If you want your home town to become more attractive, don't make a blot on its face by neglecting the looks of your home place.

People win friends by courteous manners and helpful acts. Be courteous to friends by courteous treatment of both their visits and their townspeople, and by readiness to extend help to all who should have it.

Javelinas are Increasing

Javelinas, also called Collared Peccary, are found in North American wild hog are increasing in Texas, reports of game conditions in the Southwestern part of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission indicate.

The increase is largely due to the protection given this game animal by a state law which went into effect in 1939. It is now unlawful to shoot Peccaries except during the open season of Nov. 15 to Dec. 31. It is permissible to kill two during a season.

Javelinas are more numerous in Southwestern Texas counties. They formerly ranged in far more areas than they do now, but the killing of them for meat, for their hides and for their bristles threatened the extinction of these animals.

Judging from requests for information concerning them received by the Game Department, a large number of hunters from other states will be in Javelina during the open season. Their heads are regarded as very interesting by hunters of trophy deer heads.

Doe Battles Coyote

A battle between a doe deer seeking to protect her young fawn, and a coyote, was witnessed by a hunter on the McAllen ranch in northern Hidalgo County recently, it was reported to the Game Department by Mr. Arrytt Allen, owner of the ranch.

The coyote came upon the doe and cougar while the latter was hiding the fawn, and the coyote made a rush for the young deer. The doe struck sharply with her hoofs and the fur flew from the coyote. The battle was interrupted when the cougar left the hiding place of the young deer. The coyote ran into the brush, but the doe and her fawns took no chances in leaving the scene of the skirmish. The doe was bleeding slightly.

Prolific Pair of Doves

The most prolific pair of doves yet reported in Texas raised 14 head of young in a rose arbor at the yard of H. A. Stuermer of Cuero last year and at the last report had raised three pair this year and were on the job with a fourth according to a report from the Cuero Standard.

Storm Hits Muskrats

A recent storm in Southeast Texas did considerable damage to muskrats and the full extent of the damage is being studied by the Texas Game Department game warden near Port Arthur. Muskrats provide the livelihood for many trappers in the Lone Star State.

May Have set Fish Record

A catfish measuring 14 feet, 9 inches was caught recently in Texas Gulf waters by E. F. Reid, Houston automobile dealer, and it is believed big haul is a new world's record for sawfish landed on a rod and reel. Reid battled the huge denizen of the deep three hours and ten minutes before bringing it to gaff. Reid also landed a sawfish which measured 16 feet. He fought the latter fish for only two hours and thirty minutes. Quite a day's work.

Beavers are Reported

Evidence of a considerable number of beaver inhabiting the hills surrounding Buchanan Lake in Central Texas has been uncovered by a game manager of the State Game Department. The few beaver which remain in Texas generally are welcomed by land owners. They destroy some trees but their building dams have aided many land owners and helps some streams from a fishing standpoint.

Talk About Tough Fish

A catfish so tough that the steaks had to be pounded like they were piece off a Longhorn steer was caught recently by Timothy Spray of Bandera. The fish, the cat weighed 45½ pounds. It's the first time we have ever heard of a fish so tough that from it had to be pounded before being palatable.

BIG SHOW HEADS TOWARD US WITH NEW SPECTACLES

Ringlings Import Europe's Best For New 1940 Performance

The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, the world's largest big top to solid blue, improved air conditioning, opening spectacle "The Return of Marco Polo," created and combined by Fratellini clowns, Alfredo Codona, Mme. Rasimi, star-studded by a tremendous array of European features, will exhibit in San Antonio Friday Oct. 4th.

Foremost among the impressive importations is the great Alfred Court, Europe's most famed trainer, with his three famed performing groups of performing wild animals—Polar bears, Himalayan bears, Bengal tigers, Siberian and spotted leopards, Siberian snow leopards, black and spotted panthers, cougars, pumas, jaguars and lions. Dogs, all working together in beautiful-acting tableaux of jungle life. Never before has a trainer accomplished the startling mixing of so many species of natural enemies. This is Court's first American appearance.

The leading horsemen of Europe, Hans Strassburger, Van Concess and Leo Arrevertan with their peerless troupes of dressage and liberty steeds bring the Big Show's horse display to its new high. The war and big money has made importation possible, as it did scores of other features and stars who hitherto would not budge off the Continent.

The Greatest Show on Earth's stranglehold toward this territory on four long trains with 1,600 people, 50 elephants, 1,000 menagerie animals and hundreds of horses will open its performances at 2:15 and 8:15 daily with doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. for public inspection of the huge menagerie, including Gargantua the Great, and the long lines of performing steeds in the new horse fair tent adjoining it.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN AGGIE-TEJAS GAME

Texas Aggie-University of Texas Football Game to be played on the Alamo Stadium in San Antonio at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 5, promises to be the most colorful sports event ever held in the sports-loving Alamo City.

Despite "a heavy advance sale of tickets, there are plenty of excellent seats available for the big game," according to C. D. Kruger, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce football committee, sponsors of the event.

Football fans can get good seats by writing the football committee of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce or by visiting the Municipal Auditorium in San Antonio, but they are urged to purchase their tickets as soon as possible, Kruger said.

Aggie supporters from the San Antonio area are expected to crowd into San Antonio on Saturday, Oct. 5, which had been pronounced "A & M. Day" in that city.

The famous Aggie band will accompany the team together with a train load of Aggie students, professors and supporters. The A. M. Club of San Antonio has arranged a big get-together of all A. & M. Club members of South Texas with headquarters at the Gunter Hotel.

Especially are all eyes on big Joe Routt, coach for the A. & M. fullback, who made practically every All-American team in 1939. Routt, Big Ten two time "Jarrin' Jawn" has been by the Aggie varsity no team has been able to throttle this hard-hitting fullback.

Tickets for seats between the goal lines on both sides of the field are $2.20 and beyond the goal lines $1.65.

MARRIAGE NO OBSTACLE TO DRAFT

Washington, Sept. 30.—Army officials made it plain Friday that married men will not be exempted from the draft simply because they are married.

In each individual case, the issue is to be decided by the local draft board on its merits and if necessary, after an inquiry as to whether the wife or other dependent is actually dependent upon the registrant for support, officials said.

Officials of the selective service system reversed a previous opinion to set this forth. Meanwhile, preparations proceed swiftly for the conscription the Senate passed appropriation of $133,363,902 for building barracks and other facilities. Previously approved by the House, the measure now goes to the President.

Also connected with the financial aspects of the draft, some $1-65,000 a month officials estimated, will be distributed among the local boards for the clerical help in the big job of registering and choosing 16,500,000 men. Another printing bill for registration forms alone is expected to run to $1,500,000.

Officials have decided to use the same lottery system to determine who actually must go into military camps that was used in the World War draft.

Registration cards will be sent to each draft board. The board will write or stamp a serial number by the upper left hand corner of each card. Then the cards will be thoroughly shuffled. The first card drawn from the mornings of Oct. 16 may get the highest number and the last to present itself in the evening may get the lowest—or the number in between.

But these are not the numbers which determine the order in which the men will be called to service.

That will be determined by a drawing in Washington. Each draft board will write to the War Department the highest number it has drawn in the lottery. The Army will declare upon the highest number held by any registrant in the country. If that number is 10,687 for instance, 10,687 numbered slips, each in a druggist's pasteboard capsule, will be placed in a big goldfish bowl. After the capsules have been thoroughly stirred they will be opened by some other high official.

TARPLEY H. D. CLUB

The Tarpley Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon, Sept. 19 in the home of Mrs. J. A. Ryle and about fifteen ladies were present.

This was another very interesting lesson. Mrs. Tarpley Club leader, had charge of the meeting and showed us how they had made over last year's outfits. Many beautiful garments had been made by Mrs. E. Ussery from flour sacks. Practical and pretty! Also Mrs. Mina Anderson, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Mrs. Ryle showed us how they were all attractive garments. They were all attractive garments, by a number of skill in woodcraft.

In addition to the demonstration of what she had done to improvement which was again an important part of much work and interest thought has gone into the new bedroom set that Mrs. Jeffries got it all and then did it themselves—an big fine basket and assembled.

Mrs. Jeffries gave some interesting address on better improvement, and after refreshments Ryle's bedroom, several and contests were enjoyed. Mrs. Ryle's bedroom, Mrs. Ryle's bedroom

Rev. Polly Rodriguez Held Saturday

The Rally Day Educational Exhibit, given at the Auditorium in Bandera was well attended. The exhibit hall was filled with exhibits. On such short notice the committee had hardly dared hope for the excellent exhibit that was brought. It is possible that with cooperation such as this Bandera County could have one of the best county fairs in the state.

You will note in the required report that, although in many places there were only one or two items entered, there did not always take a first place. That is because as was brought out in the open pedigree and standards are set and the exhibits judged accordingly.

Scoring three (3) points each for first place won, two (2) points for second and one (1) point for third, the following major winners are announced: first place, Mrs. Lewis Caton, 51 points, $1.50; 2nd Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Tschirhart, 50 points, $1.00; 3rd Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ruge, 36 points, 75 cents.

There were many other excellent exhibits and some only fell a few points short of the prize. The records are as follows and are also available in the County Home Demonstration Agent's office. The committee wishes to thank each and every one who helped to make the Rally Day Exhibit a success.

ROUND OF ACTIVITIES FOR STUDENTS AT HOCKADAY

Miss Margaret Lee Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jow Short Jr., was one of the freshman boarders at Hockaday Junior College at Dallas who were initiated last week in typical college life by the swift round of social activities that always greet their arrival.

Among the entertainments planned by Vivian Gulledge, social director of the college, was an informal open house held in mid-afternoon in one of the houses on Freshman Row. After refreshments were served, the fifty girls were taken on a tour of inspection and acquaintance with the city of Dallas by a number of town girls.

In the evening, after an informal supper in the playhouse on the campus, a stunt program was given by members of the music institute and the dramatic department of the original skit was presented by each house on Freshman Row. The prize for the best stunt by the committee of judges was given a large, well frosted cake. Judges were Miss Ruth B. Trent, dean of the college; Miss Grace Hess, counselor; and Dr. Frances E. Ballard, head of the history department.

Friday evening she was the guest of honor at dinner and entertained in their homes and at entertainment spots in the city.

A swimming meet for college students who wished to participate followed the morning Saturday, and traditional first Saturday night movie was the order of the evening. A buffet supper was served after the show and ended the first period of freshman orientation.

Margaret Lee attended the formal opening of the college Tuesday morning, Sept. 24, at which time patriotic and school songs were sung and the girls heard responsive addresses. Hymns and memorized Bible Classes started Tuesday afternoon.

Eleven states and two foreign countries are represented in the enrollment this year at Hockaday. The states are Texas with girls from 47 different towns, Oklahoma with 13 towns represented, Louisiana with five towns represented, Arkansas, Conn., Indiana, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, Maine, New York and Colorado. GREAT EUROPEAN ANIMAL ACTS IN CIRCUS DISPLAY
Ringling-Barnum Show Thrills Visitors With Latest Features

With the most sensational mixed groups of performing wild animals ever seen in America—those of Europe's foremost trainer, Alfred Court—the Ringling Bros and Barnum & Bailey Circus will exhibit in San Antonio, Friday, Oct. 4., its performance further notable by its new and fine array of other super-features from the Continent and countless innovations in presentation.

Racing with Alfred Court for peak honors in this thrilling European invasion is the new operating spectacle, "The Return of Marco Polo," fashioned and costumed in Paris by Mme. Weidy, designer of the Folies Bergere productions, at a cost of over $50,000. This is the last word in pageantry, its color tones, gorgeously fantastic garb and rich trappings are like nothing ever seen in America before.

The newly imported horse acts for the Big Show—sixty-four marvelously trained equines—brings Europe's most famous horsemen to the world's largest big top, now a solid blue canvas with its air conditioning perfected by a season's experimentation.

Scores of European headline troupes and stars, headed by the unparalleled Les Bretinis, Elly Ardelty, Truzzi, the Akimotos, Rokk Rola, Adriana and Charlys and Tanita Ikos, perform aloft and in the rings with such favorites as the Riding Cristianis, the three Flying Concellis troupes, Hubert Castle, wizard of the tight wire, the marvelous Yacopis and the Davisos.

The performances begin at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. with doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. to permit public inspection of the menagerie ... the chafing Gargantua the Great, giant gorilla, and the hundreds of blue-blooded steeds in the new horse fair tent adjoining it.

HOMEMAKING NEWS
By Homemaking

At school we put into practice what we learn about keeping the home clean and attractive. We try to keep our department in order at all times, and occasionally we have a special clean-up day. Last Monday we washed our windows, mirrors, and woodwork; scrubbed floors and stoves, and waxed the furniture and floors. As future homemakers, we realize the importance of neatness and orderliness in the home contribute much toward the health and happiness of the members of the family.

Personal Grooming

The first year homemaking class is now concerned with their personal appearance. This is of royal importance with the girls. Problems of preparing food, plotting and making menus, keeps all of the girls busy. Their intentions to become physicians. Recently we gave the girls an opportunity to practice various beauty treatments on their classmates. Last week after school we demonstrated the best methods to be used, shampoo, sets, manicures and facials were given.

Budgeting Time and Income

The girls taking the homemaking IIA will present at the next club meeting a number of discussions and demonstrations. Each project we have made a study of the importance for making and keeping a budget, records and accounts. We have come to the conclusion that a budget is a wise thing for girls to have, if they make a plan for spending. A well planned and followed budget of time and money will help to satisfy individual or family.

Family Relationship

Every member of the family has a part in making the home comfortable and happy. We have individual and joint responsibilities; there are certain privileges and duties for each. We have learn to cooperate in play as well as work. In third year homemaking we are studying the history of family life through the ages and some laws related to family life.

We hope to gain a better knowledge and understanding of the relationship of members of families and having learned these, we wish to use them in our homes.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE HELD OPEN NOV. 30

Washington, D. C.—Confronted with growing responsibilities arising from the national defense program, and increasing demands for its day-to-day services of disaster relief, first aid and life saving, the American Red Cross on Nov. 11 will launch its greatest membership appeal since World War days, it was announced here by Chairman Norman H. Davis.

The appeal for membership support to finance operations in the coming year will be carried in the nation by more than 3,000,000 volunteers, Chairman Davis said. It was pointed out that requests of the Red Cross nurses, welfare services for enlisted men and the reorganization of its volunteer relief and volunteer blood donors were more than doubling the organization's peacetime activities.

"In a statement urging the support of 'every patriotic American' Chairman Davis declared he expressed confidence the largest membership since the World War would be attained when the drive ends Nov. 30. He explained the country had enthusiastically endorsed the Red Cross' raising and overwhelming the 120,000,000 war relief drive of last May.

"While the Red Cross is raising for war-stricken people has enabled the Red Cross to ship tons of medical foodstuffs and clothing to the war areas, it is also necessary at this time to support those services benefiting the United States," Chairman Davis said.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Erwin of Burnet spent the week-end here.

MACMURRAY TOPS BIG CAST IN "RANGERS" FILM

A resounding tale of derring-do on the canvas covered plains of the Old West—and Fred MacMurray, courage, and plain and fancy gun-fighting—is on its way to the screen in Paramount's "Rangers of Fortune," will make its bow on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 13, 14 and 15.

Drama of this new adventure yarn, based on a novel about the fortunes of three tough-fisted, tender-hearted soldiers of fortune, is given by Fred MacMurray, mastermind of the marauding trio; Albert Dekker, a brawling Irishman, and Patric Knowles, whose hire hands will do; Gilbert Roland, a handsome Mexican bandit-chief who gets him into more trouble than his friends can fight their way out of.

The story of "Rangers of Fortune" hits its pitch in a little plains town called Hereford border, where an embattled newspaper publisher fights the violence of lawlessness, single-handed, but with the underdog, the adventurous trio soon finds itself involved in the struggle. Gunplay, daring escapes, and finally in a battle royal that serves to clear out the lawless preying on the ranchmen.

The picture serves to introduce Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Betty Brewer, who plays the role of a little girl—and to the three-man actor team, Dekker, Knowles and Roland, teamed with Fred MacMurray, and Joseph Schildkraut as the villain, seen in the principal supporting roles of "Rangers of Fortune," which Sam Wood, director who brought "Mr. Chips" to the screen.

October 16 is more than selective service registration day. It's the day on which Texas citizens can vote for Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Willkie in the 1940 presidential race.

The election year calendar shows October 16 as the date on which absentee balloting starts until November 2, just two days before the general election on Nov. 5th.

Presidential electors are voted upon at the polls, and two days thereafter are certified to the county judges for publication and must forward the official returns to the secretary of state within five more days, or by Nov. 12.

MILITARY SERVICE

The operation of the new conscription law makes a great change in the historic policy of the United States. Up to now it has been assumed that if the country has a strong navy, it needed little besides in the way of military force. It is held that the United States is so perfectly, secure behind the vast oceans that put between us and any hostile shore, that a small volunteer army could do the work. Our defense existed largely on paper. Conscription was not supposed to be necessary unless the nation became actually involved in war, and people held it might not be necessary then.

It seems very strange now to think that 50 years ago, the regular army consisted only of about 27,000 men. That seemed perfectly adequate in those simple days before steam.

Today the world has been turned upside down by the developments. The use of airplanes in war and their ability to cross vast stretches of water have created a situation in which no continent is safe.

Then there is the rise of a new conception of human affairs, that the world is to be governed and ruled by military force, that the strongest war making powers are to dictate terms to the whole world, and tell every nation what it can and cannot do. That conception presents hundreds of years ago, but our people thought the world had gone by that foolishness.

Now it appears it has not. Sixteen million of our young men go to their brothers in offices to see if to show that the United States abhors that idea, and will not stand for it. The hope is that the whole people go with them. If a good portion of them learn the art of war they will not probably have to wage any war.

FATHER OF OUR CONTINENT

George Washington is acclaimed the Father of his Country. In a similar way we should applaud Christopher Columbus as the Father of the American continent. We do well to observe the 448th anniversary of the discovery of America. The honor is due to who made this great change in human history.

It seems a very strange thing that up to the time of Columbus practically nothing was known about the American continent — anyone thought there was such a vast stretch of land somewhere, but was ignorant of its dimensions.

Many years before Columbus' time, the viking sailors of Norway crossed the Atlantic, and wandered up and down our coasts. But they made no permanent settlement, the knowledge they acquired died with them, and Europe went on to Columbus' day in the belief that no land existed outside of the continent on which what portions of Asia and Africa were then known.

Thus when Columbus started out on his campaign to discover new lands, he went against the well settled opinion in all previous ages. It takes some courage for a person to even defy his own neighbors and the sense and learned men of his time. Columbus not merely defied them, but had the courage to set sail when all ages had ignored and laughed at a great truth.

Columbus persisted and persisted while the world ridiculed his wild foolishness. If it had not been for him, America might have been discovered for centuries and hundreds of years more would have continued to live in Europe might now be plunged in hell of war. Let us be grateful to this grand discoverer, that he moved by his example to independent in our thinking, help to find out the truth, through the world laughs at us.

Stress of Concrete

Stress in a mass of concrete is the strain much as the exile of the key fitted, with great ingles is in the cramps which he suffers. Stress is usually pressure in pounds a square inch; strain is change in dimensions, or deformation, produced by stress. Ideally, one should be able to connect a meter to green-heart Johnny's cramps and, by determining their amount, to work back to the exile which occasioned them and to determine its intensity. This scheme is essentially what has been common practice in the reckoning of stresses which concrete structures. By the use of strain meters are made have measured minute deformations and have worked back from these figures to calculate the unseen stress which led to deforming movements.

WHY PEOPLE DON'T VOTE

One of the principal excuses people use for failing to vote at elections is this: "Such a person, state or city is not" understand the issues of politics and know but little about the candidates. So I think it is better for those who understand them.

If people are going to get good officials in modern times they have to understand about the way to get them elected. If they have to take pains to arrive at such an understanding, they will suffer many ways, and frequently the community suffers by reason of their failure of duties.

The people who do not vote because they do not understand the issues of politics are no doubt perfectly honest in this feeling. They generally think that would be more worth than good if they did vote.

This attitude of non-voting is where too many communities and states who make "starters" suffering. It never fail the women should vote. Not that they by nature are usually conscientious men who vote that politics better are usually averaging 127 pounds; Bandera's football team 200 pound average. For one quarter was limited to a total of 56 yards and its held the giants scoreless, but weight finally won out.

The Bandera Bulldogs without the services of Callahan from the second half, and the end of the first quarter Estes left the game with a sprained ankle to be followed by Cowan with a four weeks injury a bruised thigh. WOULD YOU CUT DOWN THE APPLE TREE?

way it is with beer retailing in America.

There are hundreds of thousands of wholesome, law-abiding beer retail establishments that sell good beer—the refreshing, appetizing beverage of moderation. At the same time, there is a handful of undesirable, anti-social taverns. Unfortunately, these few outlaw establishments bring discredit to the entire beer industry.

To protect your right to drink good beer, the brewing industry wages anti-social retailers eliminated entirely. It has progressed, a "cleaning up" program—now in effect in some states and being extended.

We'd like you to know about this socially important program. May we tell you about it in an interesting booklet? Write: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th Street, New York, N. Y.

Lamb Haven

Charles Click, of Southern California, is running an asylum for orphan lambs. Bassinets for eight or nine lambs are kept in the stable. If the stomach they feed a stray lamb is their forte. If they can't reach a telephone, they use China's own courier service—a dog. Each lamb has a dog which he keeps at all times, reaches for just such an emergency. Charles Click gets the message. A dispatcher his "ambulance" arrives. Time is so important that the lambs bassinets have a latch that quickly die of hunger if separated from the dog. When the lambs arrive at their new home, they are turned over to the mother's instinctive milk goats, each of which can feed from two to three lambs. When their mama Clark rests them.

Pep Squad Goes to Jourdanton

I wonder what makes the pep squad girls look so happy. It must be because they got to go to Jourdanton Friday night. And did you hear what they did? They backed up those boys so much, and played up that old school spirit so well, that the boys won the game! All the girls are proud of this fact, and every one of them admits that she had a perfectly swell time doing it. They all went and acted it (as well as their voices) and came out cheering like all their worth. When the game was won, they came off that grandstand for one more purpose —to buy those deserving boys some well-earned drinks. Thus they accomplished both purposes —and you should have seen the beer-loaded cadets when they stopped in "San Antonio. Sad? Hardly! Tired? Nearly. Hoarse? Who wouldn't be?

We were sorry that the girls were not uniformed this time but if they did so well without their uniforms, just what will they do with them? We'll see next Friday night, for they definitely will have them then, on our own field.

The bets left Bandera promptly at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon and reached Jourdanton just before the game started.

"What you Americans call 'the gag,' no?"

FOREIGN VISITORS in America find it hard to believe scenes like this. They think such things are deliberately arranged to impress them. They cannot believe it happens every day in every state in the Union.

Well, it is something you won't see anywhere in the world except in America. For only in America does the working man enjoy a standard of living that permits so many employes to roll up to their jobs on the wheels of their own automobiles!

What our foreign visitors fail to understand is that in America people go up as prices go down. And in order to reflect improved conditions, quick to step up to better living when lowered prices make it possible for us to do so.

Take electric service. Each year America enjoys a rapidly increasing number of the good things electric service buys. This is possible because rates have been reduced to about 50% of what they were ten or twelve years ago.

And because, with our modern rates, the dollar buys twice as much electricity as it used to, millions of people can escape from the humdrum drudgery of house work, and enjoy more leisure time, ... full the joys of better living.

We of the electric industry have worked hard to free the factory worker from manual labor, and home makers from hard work—to put such things as easy washing, cool ironing, good lighting within the reach of every family.

We pledge ourselves to continue our work of bringing to you the meant of better living at lower cost.

BONNSTETTER WRITES

I have received the following from Dr. H. J. Bonnstetter in which he greets his friends:

Fort Brown
Brownsville, Texas
October 9, 1940

Bandera New Era,
Bandera, Texas
Dear Bandera Friends:

It was with deep regret that I resigned from my Bandera practice. My country called, and like any other true American, it was my duty to answer the call. My earnest hope at this time is that I will be able to render a worthwhile service at my new post and that it will prove to be a benefit for the mutual defense of the nation.

I am, however, not unmindful of the many fine courtesies extended to my wife and myself during our stay in Bandera. I assure you that the many patients and friends made in that brief time have touched our hearts and did much to fill our minds. I shall ever be grateful and wish to thank you for all the past favors. I sincerely hope that the patients who were under my care when I left will not be inconvenienced by my absence and that they will receive better care than that which I could have rendered.

At this time I wish to inform you that it is my earnest hope to return within the year ... with every good wish for the health and happiness of the ... I remain,

Very truly yours,
H. J. Bonnstetter, M. D.

Game Warden Melvin Williams was here on official business Tuesday. Complaints about shooting deer and turkey out of season have been made. The season opens in ... weeks so hunters hold ... this little while.

... dude ranches, business ... and anyone else wishing to enter a float in the Armistice Day parade is cordially invited ...

Mrs. Vic Saul is spending a few days in San Antonio.

Decommissioned Subs Go Back to Duty

These submarines, shown tied up at Charlestown, Mass., said their farewell to arms after the World war armistice in 1918. Now they are getting ready to stage a comeback. These eight, and many others, will be recommissioned and returned to duty with the planned Atlantic fleet. The navy expects to have 36 of these submarines ready for duty by January 1. In addition, it has 104 first-line submarines, and 81 more which are now in the process of building.

"TOOTS" MANSFIELD AGAIN WORLD'S CHAMPION ROPER

"Toots" Mansfield, a Bandera boy, is again world's champion calf roper, having won the finals at Madison Square Garden, New York, which ended Sunday night. He won the championship with a total of over 3,000 points.

VANDERPOOL H. D. CLUB

Saturday night, Oct. 19, our club had a display at the Taylor schoolhouse, of things we have made. There were some very pretty things there such as: crochet-ed and candlewick bedspreads, quilts, all kinds of embroidery work, crochet, canned foods, fresh vegetables and many other interesting things.

Something very interesting was the modeling of old fashioned clothes. Some were a pleasure to see.

We also had a box supper and different kinds of booths to make money for the club. After the expenses were paid we made about $19, and we are very proud of it and many thanks to all that helped us.

As everyone was busy fixing up the schoolhouse, we did not have our usual club meeting Friday. Miss Pfluger came over and helped us decorate the schoolhouse. We did, however, talk about the mattresses we are supposed to make before long.

Those present were Mesdames J. D. Ivy, Edgar Bridges, H. Schimmelpfenig, Clint Boyer and Misses Mary Sue Blalock, Addie Lou O'Bryant, Myrtle Pfluger and Mary Schimmelpfenig.

The groom, a most likeable young man, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mazurek of Bandera, while the bride is a most charming young lady, having visited here a number of times.

The New Era extends congratulations and best wishes to the newlyweds.

General Election Next Tuesday

Next Tuesday, Nov. 5th is general election day which will be of more than usual interest owing to it being presidential year. President Franklin D. Roosevelt is candidate for a third term, having been nominated with Henry A. Wallace for vice-president on the Democratic ticket. Wendell L. Willkie is candidate for president and Chas. McNary for vice-president on the Republican ticket. The Socialist, Prohibition and Communist parties also have candidates. In order to vote for president and vice-president on any ticket you should leave all the electors stand for that certain party.

All county and precinct candidates are on the Democratic ticket this year and there are seven columns on the ballot, including the independent and blank columns. The Republicans have candidates for the different State offices as well as for Congress and State Senator.

There will be four amendments to be voted on at the bottom of the ballot. The first will allow Red River County to levy a tax and issue bonds to refund the outstanding warrant indebtedness of the general fund; the second provides that notaries public be appointed by the secretary of state, the third provides that Article 16, Section 30 shall not apply to appointive offices of any municipality placed under Civil Service and the fourth authorizes the Legislature to provide for appeals direct to the Supreme Court in instances involving constitutionality of certain laws and orders.

Response of workers for the Bandera County Red Cross membership drive, Nov. 11th to 30th, has been most satisfactory but more workers are needed so please let us hear from you. Fifty cents of every membership dues must be sent to national headquarters but the balance of the membership dues stays in the local fund. For instance, if a member pays a five dollar membership, 50 cents goes to headquarters and $4.50 remains here.

This is our only Community Chest, so let's put a 100 per cent Red Cross motto in our homes and business houses. Now as never before emergency needs will call for added expenditures. Every cent of the roll call membership remains in the United States.

Officers in the Bandera County Chapter are as follows: Mrs. J. O. Butler, County Chairman; Mrs. Guy Ramble, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Geo. Howland, Roll Call Chairman; Rev. E. C. Ray, chairman of disaster committee; Rev. F. S. Strobel and J. M. Hunter, co-chairmen of home service committee; Mrs. A. K. Briggs, Junior Red Cross Chairman; Mrs. R. W. Draft Chief

Dr. Clarence D. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin, who was unanimously confirmed by the senate as director of selective service.

NOTICES ON DRAFT WILL BE MAILED

Washington, Oct. 29.—Unless volunteers simplify their task, local draft boards must hustle after today to have 30,000 men ready for the army on schedule November 18.

As quickly as possible, they will receive from Washington copies of the national master list of serial numbers drawn in the lottery today.

Each board must adjust its own serial numbers to the national list and start mailing draft questionnaires to men in the order in which they appear on the list. Mailing is not expected to start until Nov. 7.

At first questionnaires will go out to 10 a day. On a national average, the first 50 men classified should produce enough to fill the first quota.

Every board will post its daily mailings, and each draft registrant should make sure he receives his questionnaire, which he must return in five days.

On the basis of the questionnaire, he is tentatively classified according to his fitness and availability for service. The board will notify him by mail of his classification.

Those places in Class 1 (fit and available) will be called for physical examination in the order of their numbers. Wherever possible, five days' notice will be given before examination.

Men found acceptable after examination will be given five days' notice to settle their affairs before reporting for induction into the army.

Many men are expected to answer the questionnaires within less than five days. Volunteers already have come forward everywhere, speeding up the draft process.

Bandera Defeats Boerne, 14 to 6

The Bandera Bulldogs won another game Friday night. Boerne furnished very stiff opposition. Boerne won the toss and elected to receive. By successive downs they went over for a touchdown, but failed to annex the extra point. Bandera received and went deep into Boerne territory, but failed to go over. At the beginning of the second quarter, Charlie Dugosh hid out and Callahan shot him a long pass good for forty yards. Passing, skirting ends and plunging finally brought the Bulldogs near the goal line. Callahan went over off his own left tackle; Callahan next passed to C. Dugosh for the extra point.

During the third quarter Adams intercepted a Boerne pass and went sixty yards for a touchdown, amply protected by Chandler, G. Anderwald and C. Dugosh. C. Dugosh then caught a pass for the extra point. The game ended Bandera 14, Boerne 6.

Starting for Bandera were ends, Wright and G. Anderwald; tackles, J. Dugosh and Adamietz (C); guards, J. Anderwald and Stein; center, L. Edwards; backs, Autry, Callahan, Chandler and C. Dugosh. S. Clark and Adams got into the game early.

PART OWNER OF THE COUNTRY

The joke is going around that an Englishman and an American were presented to the Emperor of Far East. The Englishman said he was a subject of Britain. Then the monarch asked the American if he was a subject of the United States. "No," said the American. "I own part of the United States."

That is in a large measure true, since every American is a partner in the business of running this great country. His welfare depends on its prosperity. The prospects of a business are usually improved when the partners take hold and work actively for its success. If the same is true in the business of running this country.

If our people own part of this country, we would think they would all want to work, and study how the country can be improved, and to carry out these ideas. That means voting at all elections, and constantly reading about politics and government.

THE CALL OF THE NATION

When 17,000,000 young men marched up to the registration offices on Oct. 16, and inscribed their names as possible members of our defense forces, it was a recognition that our country has demands on us greater than any family ties or personal desires.

Our people all owe a great debt to our country. It has given them more comfort and more opportunity than ever came to any people outside our borders. Our people enjoy conditions of living far superior to those of five-sixths of the world, and hard work and intelligence are rewarded as they are not elsewhere. The response of all these young men to the call of the nation for defense shows that our people appreciate these blessings. They are willing to give of their time and if necessary their military service, to defend the land that has showered such blessings on us.

THE AGE OF ORGANIZATION

This is an age when it seems to take organization to accomplish anything. If you just talk in favor of some good idea, it will probably get nowhere. You have to organize, or work through some organization, to get anywhere with it.

Capital is organized, labor is organized, the churches are organized, and virtually every interest in the community has some form of association to promote its ideas. Even a home town needs things done for its development. It needs organization, and that is why every town needs a Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade, and why people should pay its dues and attend its meetings and work on its committees.

LIBRARY ASS'N TO GIVE BARBECUE SUPPER

At a meeting of the Library Association held last week, it was decided to give a barbecue supper on Nov. 11, Armistice Day at the Auditorium in order to raise money for a fund that is due. The serving will start at 5 p. m. and a charge of 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for children will be made. Everyone will serve himself.

The library at present has about 200 active readers and is a valuable asset to the community. The officers and persons interested in the project have worked hard to reduce the debt from the original nearly $6000 to the present $600. This is your library. Use it and derive the benefit of it. If everyone will help it will not be long before the building will be debt-free. Make your plans now to attend the barbecue supper on Nov. 11.

Bandera will have a full day's program for Armistice Day as the Legion is working hard to perfect all plans for that day. In the morning there will be a parade and patriotic service on the courthouse lawn. At noon the Legion Auxiliary will serve an army style the Bandera Bulldogs and the Stockdale team will play football. That night the Legion will give a dance at Mansfield Park.

The business concerns are the heart of a community. The progress of the town depends on its stores and its industries, and whatever you do to help those stores and industries to prosper, is like giving a human body a stronger heart.

Spirit of Hartshorn

That combination of nitrogen and hydrogen known as ammonia at one time was obtained by destructive distillation of the horns and hoofs of animals. The resulting solution of the gas was known therefore as spirit of hartshorn.

J. L. BATES NAMED VICE-PRESIDENT OF C. P. & L. CO.

J. L. Bates was named operating vice-president of Central Power and Light Co. Monday, succeeding H. Wright Cooper, who resigned to become associated with the Minnesota Power and Light Co. in an executive capacity, according to word received from the home office in Corpus Christi by L. E. Bruce, manager here for C. P. L. The appointment became effective Oct. 15.

The utility's new chief of operations was born and raised in Beeville, has a 17-year service record with C. P. L. and has lived in South Texas all his life except for 22 months overseas during the first World War, Mr. Braun said.

Bates was educated at Texas A. & M. College, leaving to enter the U. S. Army. During military service, he was cited for bravery. His first position with CPL was as manager at McAllen in 1923, following which he became manager at Mission, assistant manager of the Valley district, manager of the Valley district and then vice-president in charge of operation. After being stationed at his last capacity at Victoria for a year, he returned to the Valley, later to Corpus Christi four months ago.

Most of Bates' business life has been spent in the Rio Grande Valley area, where he was active in Boy Scout work, the American Legion and 40 and 8 organizations. Since locating in Corpus Christi, he has joined the Rotary Club and the Corpus Christi Golf and Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper and their children will leave for their new home in Duluth, Minnesota, during the coming week.

The power to speak and convey thoughts is perhaps the greatest gift in the human personality. The people who learn to speak well sway the world. That is why the business concerns that learn to speak effectively through advertising, are the surest to win success.

FREEDOM PRICE PAID BY LIFER FOR SHAVE

Fredericksburg, Oct. 30.— Herbert Sultemeier, 43, who captured life-term convict, was back in the Gillespie county jail Saturday night.

Before being locked up again Sultemeier led officers to a point six miles west of here and recovered keys to the county jail he had hidden after his flight Monday.

The sawed-off shotgun Sultemeier had taken from Sheriff Alfred Kladzmer also was recovered in the neighborhood of Sultemeier's house on information given by that bride.

The fugitive was apprehended by State Highway Patrolmen J. L. Corley and H. W. Rinieran as he was getting a shave in an Elgin barber shop at 7:45 a. m. Saturday.

Sultemeier was convicted in September on a charge of rape of his 13-year-old daughter.

The capture climaxed nightlong activity of Gillespie county and state officers, who learned from Paul Sultemeier, brother of the fugitive, that Herman had forced him to drive him to Taylor.

Officers quoted the captured man as saying he intended to buy a ticket to Kansas City. A 38-calibre pistol, taken from the sheriff by the escaping convict, was found in his suitcase in an Elgin bus station.

KNOWLEDGE AND SUCCESS

The old Latin language has a proverb which runs when translated, "Who reads, rules." The idea was that the people who spend time reading history, politics, the science of government, the experience of the human race, the achievements of science, have a better chance to become the rulers of men.

If that is so in the field of government and politics, it is even more so in the field of business. When people buy goods, they like to deal with some person who is fully intelligent about the things he is selling. The novice salesman should study the goods he sells, and for information about them, and try to find out what kind of things please people most. That type of salesman will go far.

SOUVENIR SNATCHERS

The hotels of the United States are said to lose the great sum of $10,000,000 annually through the disappearance of towels, blankets, silver and chinaware. The guests that take them, refuse to admit that such an act is stealing. Many of them may point proudly to these trophies, perhaps as an expression of their sense of humor.

A hotel guest who takes a blanket probably carries off something that costs several dollars. Silver and all such things cost money. The hearings of this charge is one of the things that makes it costly to run a hotel.

The hotels used to think they stopped this practice by stamping the name of their place on these articles. The guest abstracting something that may value the article still more on this account, in proof that he has visited that hotel. The Sunday school teacher did not tell them that was a right thing to do.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

More Deer and Turkey

Not only will hunters have more deer and turkey to hunt in the sections which have been popular for years, but should the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission continue to get as good results in the next few years as have been attained this season of seven deer and turkey areas set up as Pittman-Robertson game restoration projects, Lone Star State sinmrods will have many more sections in which to shoot gobblers and bucks.

Reports reaching the executive secretary of the Game Department indicate a larger crop of deer and turkey throughout all the ranges of the state. Ideal weather during the spring and early summer months made possible the survival of more young turkeys and deer. Nesting in South Texas was more than a month late due to the continued drouth through the early months of 1940, but that section will also have a large crop of young turkey and deer.

The Game Department has obtained under lease or cooperative agreement eleven large areas of land totaling more than 150,000 acres. These are scattered throughout the state. Deer and turkey or turkey or deer, in some instances, were planted and have thrived. Game managers report large increases in game on practically all of the areas and an increase on each of them.

The areas include sections planted with grains and other plants upon which deer and turkey feed. These projects "hold" the predators at a low level.

From these areas game is expected to spread and it is considered likely that new areas of 500 acres of Texas land will be restocked as a result of deer and turkey migrations. Turkeys are been found as far as 8 miles away from their point where they were released.

Nurses Wild, Tame Fawn

A doe on the H. J. Bussa Ranch in Bandera County has defied civilization for a long time, and is now nursing one of the two fawns born to her this year and yet she is almost as wild as a deer. A member of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission reports.

One of the does fawns was picked up in the woods by a ranch hand several months ago and taken to the ranch house. It was not long before the mother appeared, jumped the fence of the enclosure where the baby had been placed, and nursed it. She has continued to do so nearly every day since. She returns to the woods immediately after nursing the fawn held is captivity and leaves her other offspring, which is extremely wild. The captured fawn is very tame.

Not only does the mother deer continue to defy civilization in feeding the fawn, but every time a dog gets anywhere near the wild fawn she gives battle.

Defends Mourning Doves

Mourning doves have been accused of eating young corn, especially after it has just shot up out of the ground. However, investigations of the Game Department biologists have shown that the mourning doves do very little, if any harm to young corn. Not a grain of corn was found in any of the crops of 14 mourning doves taken at random from the entire area in Robertson County in April and May. Crabgrass, Johnson grass and a variety of other weeds were found. Farmers had claimed de-

Raccoons Help Coyotes

Raccoons in Motley County have, in at least one instance, helped an enemy of theirs, coyotes to get meals. A state game warden after hearing noises in a wild turkey nest of tell cottonwood tree, investigated and found raccoons in the tree. The turkeys took flight. At least two of them were caught by coyotes after being forced off their roost by the raccoons.

Biologists believe, and can prove, that practically every bird, or animal has a place in the balance Mother Nature attempts to maintain against the influences of man's depredations, but in this instance they have recommended control of the number of offending raccoons.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Some people THINK money is hard and exclusively that it slips away from them. If they put a little more energy into chasing an ideal of high merit in their own home town they would not have to be chased so hard.

Under modern distribution systems, stores in most places carry very similar lines of goods. The question of where to buy is largely whether you want to push your own home town ahead by buying at home.

When you buy some new product you usually buy one that you have heard of in some way. You are more likely to have heard of it through reading the advertisements that are advertised have a better chance of being heard of.

AN ARMISTICE DAY THOUGHT

"The nation pauses on Armistice day to recall that happy moment back in November, 1918, when the joyful news spread around the world that the guns had stopped their cruel and deadly work. Once more the cheerful sounds of peace were heard on the dismal battle fields, and it seemed as if the people were going to be happy again.

The boys who took part in that war, now middle aged men, fought to have a keener realization than anyone else of what that Armistice day should mean to us. Their hopes have consistently been since that time, that the United States should always maintain adequate defense. They can see how futile treaties and agreements and alliances and leagues are to maintain peace. These things have been tried and they have failed.

When a nation is well prepared to defend itself, war making nations beware of attacking it. If England and France had been well prepared for defense, Germany would never have started their big push and would have refrained from attacking the little nations that Britain and France had promised to protect.

Every war creates the seed for new wars. The people who start the war claim that such a conflict is necessary in order to get justice. People become so angry in a war, and governments resort to such extreme measures, that the seeds of hatred are sowed deeper and more widespread than ever, and in due time these seeds of spring up in some new form of terror.

If the American people, seeing conditions grow more warlike in Europe and Asia, had begun many years ago to strengthen their armed forces sufficiently to make them at all times ready to make any combination of aggressor nations, they would have been listened more sympathetically to counsels of peace and moderation.

WARM HEARTED TOWNS

Some communities seem cool, frosty, even icy. You may live there for years and only know a few people, and that often close friendships with very few. And there are some towns where people are tied together by warm bonds of affection. Wherever you go in such towns you meet smiles of friendship and warm handclasps. If you go away for any length of time, the people miss you, and greet you with the utmost enthusiasm when you get back.

The organizations of such a town are full of these welcoming people, who seem glad everytime they meet you. People love to live in a town like that, and they will make large sacrifices to stay in their homes there.

HOW TO SELL GOODS

Some people are good salesmen and saleswomen, and some are not so good. The friendly greeting, ability to call many people by name, are large factors in the success of the good salesman. The thing that counts most is ability to name some real reason why the customer should buy the goods.

A salesman should not be too talky, and weary the customer out by too fast a flow of language. If he can mention with every article he shows one or two things which make that article a good bargain, and worth the money, it is tremendously effective. To be that he needs thorough acquaintance with the goods, so that he will at a moment's notice be able to tell why it is a good purchase.

BUSINESS FRIENDS

Friendship and business go together, but this is not always true. If you go out of logic to buy goods, you don't ordinarily make friends with the people you trade with. You are apt to deal with a different person each time, and your sneaker hating ties that way.

If you buy goods at home, you deal with about the same people. They know you better and you know them better. Frequently the contact grows into very rewarding friendships, that make life happier. It is very likely to result in gains in your work, home or business affairs. You grant and receive the favor of trusting with them, they feel under obligation to do anything they can for you. These mutual sentiments, the result of home trading, have landed jobs and business opportunities for many.

During the season which ends Dec. 31, hunters may take two deer each.

GOP OPPOSITION ENCOURAGED BY VOTE

Republican strength was reflected in the steadily growing totals of Tuesday's presidential and presidential votes, and political tussles over domestic issues in the months ahead.

Democrats showed little no indication in his campaign of contemplating a major program of new legislation to be introduced in the next congress in January.

The effect of the voters his first term had been given to laughing what he considered necessary reforms. Social security has been devoted to consolidating "advances," and his third term campaign was based on promises those accomplishments while helping the nation weather the great war "storms" now raging.

The first broad new statement of Republican plans was given by Wendell Willkie, who in a broadcast from New York, Willkie said that "in view of the fact that between 47,000,000 and 52,000,000 people voted for me I feel an obligation to state my views briefly." Those views were few. He waited all organizations favoring him in the recent election to "submit to me, at once, in writing them to use his name, as issues [illegible] personalities. [illegible] conciliation, and [illegible] unity already counted out of 127-436.

President Roosevelt carried 38 states with a total electoral vote of 449. His popular vote stood at 26,265,134.

Wendell L. Willkie carried 10 states with an electoral vote total of 82. His popular vote stood at 21,787,102.

In the house, the Democrats picked up nine seats for a total of 267. Republicans elected 167 members. At present 258 of the 435 house members are Democrats, 167 are Republicans.

RELIEF OF SUFFERING

Terrible disasters, which human wisdom can neither foresee nor prevent, lay low the noble and homes of our people. The unseen forces of disease [illegible] every one of our homes, and, alas, millions on beds of sickness. These sufferings are the fire-test of the people to learn the real [illegible] of disease can only be ascertained.

Then there are the hard sufferings of poverty, unemployment. What are kind hearted people doing to relieve this? Are we all [illegible] what [illegible] ourselves? Shall we go on our way and not interest us, and shall we do nothing to relieve them?

It is a sad thing to ponder for the average person to do a great deal by his own personal effort to relieve this suffering. But there is a grand organization covering the whole country the American Red Cross, which offers to do this work for us. It sends its [illegible] cares of mercy to all all over the land, wherever disaster has fallen with its [illegible] hand.

In our own country it is ideal to answer the victims of inadvertence, [illegible] and [illegible] the Red Cross is there with tents, food, nursing and clothing. If [illegible] is a call for help it is only to the ground; there is the Red Cross ready for all its needs.

The presidential campaign is over and everywhere is heard a sigh of relief. The campaign had all the earmarks of a race for a second term, and it is the opinion of many of the long time [illegible] of this country that it would have been better—unwise. Charges and counter charges were made that [illegible] the statesmen (perhaps this isn't the correct term of a real republic [illegible] hope that the next campaign will be conducted with more dignity. In the meantime the orators and lovers should join hands and work for national unity. Monday, Nov. 4.

RELIEF OF SUFFERING

The world is full of suffering. The hatreds and wars of men lay great countries in the dust and submit their people to untold agony. Terrible disasters, which human wisdom can neither foresee nor prevent, lay low the cities and homes of our people. The unseen germs of disease enter every one of our homes, and lay millions on beds of sickness. There is also suffering due to the failure of the people to learn the methods by which disease germs can be averted.

Then there are the poor and the destitute, the folks suffering from unemployment. What are kind hearted people going to do with all the misery that human life develops? Shall we go on our way serenely as if these troubles do not interest us, and shall we do nothing to relieve them?

It is not always possible for the average person to do a great deal by his own personal effort to relieve this suffering. But there is a grand organization covering the whole country, the American Red Cross, which offers to do this work for us. It sends its messengers of mercy and aid all over the land wherever disaster has fallen with its crushing hand.

In our own country it is alert to succor the victims of misfortune. If floods sweep away homes, the Red Cross is there with tents, food, nursing and clothing. If fire or tornado levels a city to the ground, there is the Red Cross caring for all in need.

The Red Cross holds its annual roll call, seeking to enlist millions of new members from Armistice day to November 30. Will you not join?

The presidential campaign is over and everyone is breathing a sigh of relief. The campaign had all the ear-marks of a race for a small office in a back-woods community of the long ago. Many of those who took active part in the campaign said things that would have been better unsaid. Charges and counter charges were made that ill became the statesmen (perhaps this isn't the correct term) of our great republic. Let's hope that the next campaign will be conducted with more dignity. In the meantime the winners and losers should join hands and work for national unity.—Moulton Eagle.

LEGENDARY CHARACTER IN SERIAL AT BANTEX

Motion picture serials based upon the factual history of the old west are taking the top spot of popularity in this brand of screen entertainment. Columbia, which produced the highly entertaining "Adventures of Wild Bill Hickok" now comes forth with "Deadwood Dick," an exciting chapter play which begins where "Wild Bill" leaves off.

"Deadwood Dick" at the Bantex Theatre every Friday and Saturday is the story of events that beset the Territory of Dakota about the time its citizens were involved in a campaign to attain statehood for that region.

The fight against sinister, hidden forces to prevent the railroad from reaching Deadwood is dramatized with thrilling effect by the introduction of a fictional character known as the Skull. But, all the other principal characters are drawn from life.

The real identity of Deadwood Dick is unknown, but such a man did exist. Twenty-five persons have claimed to be him and 12 of these have written books to prove it. There is not a man alive who took part in the events of those exciting days who can give the right answer to the question.

Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane, two-gun sweethearts, also appear in the picture. Calamity, who has been somewhat glamourized in various previous screen productions, is presented just as she was—a woman of middle age, two-fisted and two-gunned, who ran a freighting business on the side.

One Bandera County youth is included in the enrollment of 2,350 at Baylor University in Waco, this year, university officials have announced. The student body represents 183 Texas counties, 33 states, seven foreign countries and two territories. The Bandera County student is Napoleon Edward Clark of Bandera.

Webb McKandles Died Suddenly

Webb McKandles, aged 64, died suddenly in Pipe Creek last Saturday afternoon from a heart attack. Funeral services were conducted at the Pipe Creek Cemetery Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. E. C. Ray, pastor of the Bandera Baptist Church. J. Marvin Hunter gave a brief eulogy at the graveside. Active pallbearers were Joe Villemain, Edwin Vawter, Arthur Pickens, Russell Irving, Forrest Irving and Adolph Schott. Honorary pallbearers were Charles Ruede, Bill Edwards, Charles Krause, O. E. Morganstern, A. G. Vogt and U. V. Gross.

Webb McKandles was born in Leon County, Texas, August 10, 1876. He was married to Miss Emma Morrell in Runnells County in 1901, and moved to Bandera County in 1905. For several years the family lived in the Myrtle Creek community, but moved to Pipe Creek in 1914. Surviving Mr. McKandles are his widow and four children: Mrs. Zelda Vawter of Loesch, Montana; Elbert McKandles of Wink, Tex.; Webb McKandles Jr. of Jal, New Mex.; and J. A. McKandles of Odessa, Tex. also two brothers and two sisters, Bunk McKandles of Midland, Sid McKandles of Devine, Mrs. Pocahontas Coley of Centerville, and Mrs. Mary Cathey of Ballinger, all of whom were present for the funeral except one sister.

The death of this good man came as a great shock to his family and friends everywhere. Saturday afternoon he had gone to Pipe Creek as was his usual custom, and while assisting in loading a mattress on an automobile he fell over on the mattress and died instantly. Dr. J. O. Butler was hastily summoned, and pronounced the cause of death due to heart trouble.

Thus another happy home is plunged into mourning, and sorrow has descended upon the community, for Webb McKandles was liked and esteemed by everyone who knew him. He was a quiet, gentle, warm-hearted and friendly man, kind and considerate toward everyone, devoted to his family, law-abiding and upright in all of his dealings—a man the community could ill afford to lose. Only last Friday he came to see me and spent a half hour friendly visit with me, and while here he was rejoicing that his children would all be home for a family reunion on Sunday. The only daughter, Mrs. Zelda Vawter of Loesch, Montana, and his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert McKandles of Wink, had already arrived for the happy family gathering, and the other two sons and their wives, were to come in the next day, and once more the family would be reunited. I can realize with what anticipation that good father and mother looked forward to the homecoming of those children they had brought into this world and reared. Their thoughts no doubt went back to the days of babyhood and childhood, and of their struggles through times of adversity and sickness and distress to feed and clothe and educate their little brood, and bring them up in the right way, and those children grew up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. Guided by noble parents they have never departed from the excellent home training they received, but have gone out into the world and established happy homes of their own. It was with a proud father's devotion to his family that Webb McKandles looked forward with joy to the homecoming of his children and made preparations to receive them. But alas, the Grim Reaper with one fell swoop turned that happy home into a house of mourning and draped it in the habiliments of consuming woe. The doting father and loving husband was snatched away, in the twinkling of an eye, and grief and sorrow reigned supreme. It is difficult to understand why these things happen, but there is comfort in the thought that God doeth all things for the best, and we should meekly submit and say "Thy Will be Done." Rev. Ray offered spiritual consolation to the bereaved ones at the funeral, a great concourse of friends offered sympathy, and we feel that the sorrowing family were comforted thereby.

I shall miss my friend. May his great soul rest in peace.

JOIN RED CROSS

Mrs. Geo. Howland, Bandera County Red Cross Roll Call Chairman, reports that Mrs. Addie E. Evans of Tarpley and Mrs. B. H. Stokes of Medina are local chairmen in their communities and requests that everyone will cooperate by going to their local chairman to join the Red Cross without waiting to be asked. In Bandera membership dues may be left at either the First State Bank or First National Bank or with Mrs. Jennette Hay at the Corner Drug Store.

The following telegram has been received by Mrs. Howland and is self-explanatory:

The central committee today reviewed the greatly increased work and responsibility of the Red Cross incident to the national defense program. Civilian and military programs nationally and in chapters necessitate a very large membership increase. I am confident you and your associates will patriotically make an extra effort to reach every man and woman in your jurisdiction with an invitation to join. Time is short. The next two weeks are vital in determining the strength of the Red Cross for the months ahead.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

There is again a difference of opinion as to the date on which Thanksgiving should be celebrated. If the truly thankful spirit exists, such differences do not count a great deal, the main thing is to make it a real day of Thanksgiving.

It is one characteristic of our ungrateful human race, that the more blessings they have, the more they seem to underestimate them. The story of the first Thanksgiving illustrates this truth. When the pilgrim fathers landed at Plymouth, Mass., there were only 102 in their little company. They set foot at that cold shore in the dead of winter. Dec. 20, when it was time to raise any kind of a crop for months to come. Within four months 44 of them died of hunger, sickness and sufficient food. They had to conceal their deaths, so the hovering Indians would not know how few they were and disband on the feeble remnant with scalping knives and tomahawks.

When the summer came they were able to raise a little corn which made it probable they could live through another winter. In their joy at their limited but unexpected prospect, they observed the first day of Thanksgiving to God.

What a little thing that was to be thankful for, according to abe big ideas of our time. Pilgrims had no comforts, only the most primitive tools with which to work, they were far from home, their friends, their homes, their future was dark and gloomy at the best. But they were thankful enough food to last through one more winter, they sang psalms and were full of good cheer.

What a lesson to us in our time, as we enjoy life, surrounded by all manner of comforts with a wealth of amusements and opportunity offered us. Many of them have left the pilgrim fathers. Yet they thanked God, while we usually pass the day over with scarcely a thought.

SNOW, SLEET, RAIN AND COLD PLAGUE MANY PLACES

Snow, sleet, rain and cold plagued most of the nation this week. Millions of Easterners felt the sting of the chilliest weather of the autumn. A snowstorm whipped through the Midwest. Rain doused much of the South from the Mississippi to the Atlantic coast and northward. Three persons were missing in the flood sections of Texas, where a three-day storm had sheathed the Panhandle in ice and swelled rivers in the eastern and southern parts of the State. Five major Texas rivers, the Brazos, Colorado, San Jacinto, Sabine and Trinity, threatened to fan out over still more countryside. Only the Guadalupe, among the larger Texas rivers, showed any signs of settling down, as the rise in this stream came in its lower part.

PROPAGANDA, SCHOOLS

One of the worst phases of life in the dictator ruled countries is the grip the dictators get on the youth. The schools of these countries become propaganda institutions, which impress certain ideas on the mind of youth. Young people have plastic minds, which can be moulded in almost any shape under sufficient pressure.

It is represented to these boys and girls that their countries are on the verge of a great advance, which is going to make their country the most wonderful land on earth. Young people are emotional, and can be rallied to support some national cause if it is presented in a heroic light. They are taught that it is their privilege to sacrifice themselves if necessary to produce a grander country, and that they will be forever honored as heroes if they give their lives to this noble cause.

Adolf Hitler points to his victories, and he holds out glorious dreams of better days for Germany if these conquests can be held and extended. So the youth of his country go singing into battle, careless of fate, if they can only carry on the banner of their adored hero.

In Russia the young people are brought up in a similar way in behalf of Communist ideals. Only the propagandist there does not seem so successful. It did not seem as if the Russians were fighting with any great enthusiasm when they were crushing poor little Finland.

If the United States is to hold its own in a world where these powerful men can incite their young people to give their lives for a bad cause, they need warm enthusiasm of their own. They need to feel the glory of American ideals, and should be far more enthusiastic in support of freedom and liberty than any Nazi youth can be in planting their feet on the necks of poor conquered peoples.

Death Claims Felix McDougal

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Edwards received the sad message Tuesday that Felix McDougal had passed away Monday in the U. S. Marine Hospital in Galveston and would be buried in Bay City Wednesday.

He had been in poor health for quite awhile being in the hospital most of the time. Mr. and Mrs. McDougal lived here for several years and moved from here three years ago to Bay City. They made lots of friends while here. Felix was always jolly and happy to everyone he met and he surely will be missed. He leaves his wife, mother, brothers, and sisters and a lot of friends to mourn his passing.

NO LIONS CLUB MEETING TONIGHT

There will be no Lions Club meeting tonight as Bandera is observing Thanksgiving Day today.

At the meeting held last Thursday night, Roy Davenport of Uvalde, district governor, was a guest and made an address telling of the Lions convention held at Havana, Cuba. J. Marvin Hunter also addressed the meeting telling of Bandera and the changes that have taken place in recent years.

TARPLEY H. D. CLUB

The Tarpley Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Geo. Geuea and about a dozen ladies were present.

The meeting opened with a song and routine business was disposed of, minutes, council report, etc. Then Mrs. L. Hicks told the group of the plans for the big Christmas party at the auditorium on Dec. 14th. The Tarpley club plans to attend in a group.

They were so happy to have a number of ladies from Germany Community as visitors and were especially pleased to add the names of Mesdames Harold Reiher and Merritt to the Tarpley Club. Then they went into election of officers for next year—Mrs. John Ryle was elected president; Mrs. Chas. Geuea, vice-president; Mrs. Monroe Housler, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. L. Hicks, council delegate.

Then the ladies made out an annual report of their work for the year, 1940, and were surprised and pleased at results. Most of the home improvements are a result of suggestions of our H. D. Agent and are too numerous to mention here. Sufficient to say is—we want Home Demonstration Work continued.

Then the ladies made plans for their own community party to be held on the night of Dec. 6. Mrs. Chas. Geuea is chairman of this party and will be assisted by Mesdames Merritt, Housler and Geo. Geuea. They plan to open a Country Store in the Tarpley school house that night, where wholesale country products will be offered for sale at popular prices. Everybody is requested to bring something for sale—canned products, home cooked foods, feed sacks, pumpkins, potatoes, peas, quilt scraps, hand made things such as aprons; also bring all your family and friends, for the Tarpley Club will have games and if possible music and songs. We will serve refreshments at unheard of prices.

We do want everybody to come and thus open the Christmas season with peace and good will toward man. Each member of the club is asked to bring either a cake or sandwiches for refreshments.

When the meeting was finished Mrs. Geuea served delicious refreshments, for which she was so highly praised that she told us that she had taken the recipe from a book distributed by the H. D. Club. Don't forget the Country Party at the Tarpley school house on Dec. 6th.

WHAT THE CCC IS DOING

Long ago the CCC ceased being an agency for relief, made up only of boys whose families were receiving some type of assistance, and now the main eligibility qualifications are good character, desire for employment, willingness to learn, 17 to 23½ years of age.

Those boys with natural aptitudes and interest in mechanics will find plenty of opportunities in CCC camps to learn both the theory and practical sides of gasoline motors under trained instructors. There are over 43,000 units of automotive equipment in the CCC, the largest fleet of motorized equipment in the United States. Over 100,000 expert truck and tractor drivers are turned out each year, and other thousands are trained to do the most complete overhauling and repair jobs.

Telephone line construction, building of roads and bridges, radio and signal communications, photography, first aid and many other skills of important defense value are being given attention. Over 5,000 cooks are in training all the time, and, henceforth, many more and better ones will be turned out.

Members of the CCC who have no dependants are now allowed to have $22 of their monthly pay remain on deposit with the Finance Officer, and receive the accumulated amount upon discharge, thereby providing themselves with resources to tide them over until employment is found or to allow them to enter some business, or continue their education.

Applications for enrollment in January should be made at once with your County Welfare Worker.

Highway Week to Be Observed

The Lions Club and the Bandera P. T. A. will unite to hold a banquet at the high school building next Thursday, Dec. 5. The Lions Club has planned for the observance of State Highway Week which was proclaimed by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel for the week of Dec. 1-7 and will have a prominent speaker sent by the Texas Good Roads Association.

The P. T. A. holds a banquet each year as a community get-together and as the Good Roads program is one that is important and of interest to every citizen in the county, everyone should make an effort to attend.

We quote from the Governor's proclamation: "Now, therefore, I, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, do hereby proclaim December 2 to December 6, inclusive, as "Texas Highway Week" and call on the citizens of the state to take inventory of the manifold blessings brought to them by the highways of this state, to consider the progress that has been made in the past toward a completed highway system and to give serious thought to the future highway needs of the state so that Texas will continue to grow and prosper as its system of highway transportation is extended and approved."

F. S. Maddox of San Antonio, district engineer, has written the Lions Club that he hopes to be present and in any event the office will be represented.

The banquet will be held at 7:30 p. m., Dec. 5 and a cordial invitation is extended every citizen of the county to be present. ESTABLISHING CREDIT

"Often is a joke going around about the newlywed wife who said she thought the bank would lend money on notes. So she sent her maid down with a note saying she wanted to borrow $100, and they refused to give it to her.

There are some people who do not understand that credit is not built any better than that. Many of them want to start some business, and borrow some money. Ordinarily they have to give some security for the loan.

Ability to borrow money depends in part on a person's reputation, if he has paid his bills regularly, and worked steadily on his job, his chances of obtaining credit are good. Then he can usually borrow who can show a bank deposit and prove that he has saved money. That is another channel to establishing a credit on which he can start a business or buy a home.

NATIONAL UNITY

Now that the heat and turmoil of the political campaign is over, the American people should try to achieve unity. They should forget their differences, make mutual concessions, and present a solid front to all their possible foes.

The nations that look with hostility on the United States must hope to see the political dissension of the past few months to continue. If it does, they will be glad to plant further seeds of discord. Everything that tends to prevent effective action by our government and our industries is glorious news for them.

The American people are united in their fundamental ideas. They believe in democracy. And have no use for any dictator government. They also opposed to the things Adolf Hitler is trying to do in Europe. They are equally set against the things the Japanese government is trying to do in Asia.

Our people are determined not to enter the war in Europe and Asia. The great majority believe in the present policy of aiding Britain by every means short of war, to that country as can be spared from our own defense needs.

We need harmony between government and business. Business should be willing to adjust its policies to satisfy the people and obey the spirit of the laws. The government should not make restrictions on business that make it hard to expand defense production and employment. Profits should be tolerant with those who think differently from themselves. Let us all work together to reach such a state of national strength that we shall be safe from attack.

THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER

When the armistice was ended, each of the warring nations planned to honor the grave of one soldier from each land. Before his life in a war which was supposed to lift humanity to the level of happiness, as the Armistice day hopefully was called, the United States was the only government that failed to honor the grave of its unknown soldier. In all the rest, the hope had been dreamed that no age seemed to have gone up in hilt smoke.

The unknown soldier's grave was regarded as a symbol that the whole nation united to honor every man who had died for his land or country. It will take more than willingness to sacrifice one's life to realize the ideal for which the unknown soldier died. It will take a new kind of world, in which wrongs shall be righted, and nations agree to live in a fraternity and mutual helpfulness.

Four Business Ranks High

"Texas ranks fifth in the production of fur-bearing animals, a summary of reports from all of the states by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, through its expanding program of restoration of proper habitat for fur-bearers, hopes to increase the crop materially during the next few years.

Texas ranks fifth despite the fact reports of the annual catch are far from complete. This is due to state laws which do not require trappers to make reports of their catches and all furs sold outside the state are not counted in the total.

Lone Star State trappers were reported taking 729,344 pelts in 1928 and it is estimated by game managers of the Game Department that at least half that many more furbearers were destroyed. The production of fur-bearing animals in Texas is increasing, the annual report for only a total of 500,444 was reported in 1938. The increase is mainly due to the added number of pelts taken in the additional territory brought into the state by the annexation of Greer county.

Flooding of more marshland under the supervision of game managers has helped by providing more suitable habitat.

Texas had an increase of 138,800 pelts in 1939. Sixteen species of fur-bearing animals are trapped in the state. They include the badger, beaver, fox, red, gray and kits or swift; mountain lion, muskrat, opossum, raccoon, ringtail cat, skunk, both common and spotted, weasel and wolf.

The State has a preference in cooperating with marshland owners in a program to restore more habitat for muskrats. It is believed that within two or three years muskrats will put $2,000,000 in the coffers of the Lone Star State. Work to restore a few other species of fur-bearers, such as beaver, is progressing.

Fur animals require natural habitats in which to live. As the country grows more and more, most of these habitats are being destroyed. In many sections, however, most of the land remains that is capable of producing large crops of fur if the animals are given sufficient protection to assure maintenance of an adequate breeding stock. It is upon these lands

Sportsmen Will Start Gars

Shades of something! A year ago every fisherman in Texas was clamoring for the Game Department to "do something" about those some anglers are protesting when the Department starts seining the gars. The reason is that thousands of Texans have learned that fishing for gar with a wire noose is not only fascinating sport, but one fly for Ol' John Bass. The campaign by the Game Department to popularize gar fishing as a sport must be a success for some members of the San Antonio Anglers Club now want gar left in Medina Lake, from which the Game Department reportedly seined more than 2,000. Anglers in that section had previously insisted that the gar be removed from the lake, a task which is extremely difficult to perform unless the water in the lake is very low, such as has been the case at Medina Lake.

Must Maintain Nature's Balance

Biologists constantly preach the maintaining of balance in nature, which is upset daily by man, either by his taking too many birds and animals or by the use of unwise laws.

Farm and Ranch reports a graphic example of this, says the Dallas News. Thousands of farmer planted 10 acres of apple trees They flourished until the rabbits and birds killed nearly all of these trees but 20. These trees produced apples which sold for $1,250 a bushel. Had it been for the rabbits, the farmer would have had 500 trees bearing fruit. Instead of the cost of replanting for the rabbits are thinned out now due to the fact that foxes have moved into the territory. Too many foxes could also be harmful, but there are ways of maintaining nature in balance.

Young County men had experience with the fruit growing and at the last session of the state legislature a bill was passed providing that Young County be a two-year period.

Answering the telephone in the fire station, a fireman heard a woman's timid voice: "Is this the fire station?"

"That's right," replied the fireman eagerly.

"Well," continued the voice, "I have just had a new rock garden built and I've put in some new plants, but—"

"What's the fire?" the fireman almost shouted.

"Some of these new plants are very expensive," and—"

"Fire!" the fireman broke in—"what you want is the flower shop."

"Oh, I don't, said the voice, I was coming to that. Is a minute. You see, my husband's house is on fire, and they asked me to call you, but I don't want you chumpy fellows tramping over my garden when you come here."

MAGNETISM IN BUSINESS

It is often remarked of people in public life, that they win out through their quality of personal magnetism. Many candidates get elected to office because they have this warm and winning trait. Many people are successful as public speakers, ministers, etc., because of this extremely desirable quality.

It is also a tremendous factor in business. The salesman who has a warm greeting for the customers, who is glad to see everybody, is usually a winner, and he is likely to get promotion or make a success if he goes into business for himself. The old saying has it, that if you smile at the world, the world will smile back at you.

"Ha, ha!" laughed Cuthbert. "How about the worm? What did he get for turning out so early?"

"My son," replied the father, "that worm hadn't been to bed all night; he was on his way home!"

Plans have been made to make the state-wide observance and celebration of Texas Highway Week, December 2 to 8, Bandera an outstanding success. County chairmen have been named in almost all of the 254 counties of the state and they have arranged for active observance of the occasion in their respective counties.

According to reports received by the Austin office of the Texas Good Roads Association which is sponsoring this initial observance of the week throughout the state, Highway Week celebration programs will be staged in many cities and towns.

Emphasis will be given to the Texas highway financial picture, with citizens satisfied that money paying to the public the vast amount of work needed on the highways in order to bring it up to present day needs. The state mansfained system of 22,600 miles is only partially developed to the modern standards and it is estimated it would take $370,802,000 to bring the system up to the needs of today.

Speaking up at highway construction becomes imperative for the adoption of the state-wide federal defense program since 6,000 miles of the state highway system have been designated by proper national defense agencies as part of the nation's strategic military network.

$160,000 BOND ISSUE FOR UTOPIA ROAD CALLED

An aftermath to a meeting held at Sabinal last week attended by citizens from Utopia, Sabinal and Uvalde, on a method of procedure toward getting a bond election about the construction of the 26-mile stretch of highway from Sabinal to Utopia, was the action of the Commissioners Court, in a special session, Monday, in calling an election to be held late in December on a proposal to issue $160,000 in bonds for the part to be in making the long-needed improvements.

The commissioners called the election after a trio of petitions had been presented to them, requesting that such action be taken. These petitions were signed by 83 residents of Utopia, 53 from Sabinal and 47 from Uvalde.

The tenor of the petitions asked the court "to order an election to determine whether or not the bonds of said Uvalde County shall be issued in an amount not exceeding $160,000 for the purpose set at a rate not exceeding 4 per cent per annum, for the construction, maintenance and operation of . . . a road running from Sabinal, Texas, to the Bandera County line; and whether or not a tax shall be levied on all taxable property in said county sufficient to pay principal of and interest on said bonds."

A further paragraph in the petition states that "it is herein expressly stipulated that if the proposition for the issuance of the proposed bonds is approved by the necessary vote of the qualified electors of said county at such election, the bonds will . . . be issued and sold and the proceeds paid out of funds lawfully appropriated for such purpose by the proper State agency . . ."

It is understood that the commissioners court has agreed to this provision that they will not release the bonds or sell them for sale unless the State agrees to assume full responsibility for the indebtedness.

The stretches of road between Sabinal and Utopia is the only unpaved section between the two Uvalde County towns and officers of both Sabinal and Utopia have worked for some time in an effort to devise plans whereby the road might be constructed. Uvalde Leader News.

THE CHRISTMAS RUSH

Do you realize how soon Christmas will be here? Only a few days now, and the rush will be on us. Have you done anything so far about the shiny purchases that have to be made?

The annual American habit of overdoing things is now operating a period of 10 days or two weeks, adding a heap of purchasing, and stuffing them all off in a hectic hurry, and one that makes a lot of trouble. In many cases store clerks and owners hold to put in very exhausting days. Post office people work a great deal harder than usual. Probably many cases of sickness can be traced to overwork during the Christmas rush. If not fair to ask people to attend to all these things in such a short time, when the greater part of it could just as well be done weeks in advance.

People often do their holiday shopping through this rush under unfavorable conditions. They have to wait in line for those ahead of them, and clerks can't give them proper attention. It would be better for them if could get this kind of work out of the way at least two weeks before the holiday.

There are many who say they never have a dollar ahead, and they just have to wait until the last minute to get the money to make their purchases. The money has to be saved out of their weekly pay, and it would probably be just as easy for them to put off their pay in the first week in December as in the third.

The post office people take what is perhaps the worst of the rush, in the perfect mountain of parcels that have to be delivered and many of them insured. Christmas is said to be a time of peace and good will to men. There is little peace among people who have to do twice the usual amount of work. Let us all buy and send our gifts at the earliest possible date.

PROMPT OBEDIENCE

One of the first things a soldier has to learn, it is said at the training camps, is to obey orders instantly. In time of war, a moment's hesitation might do great harm.

In a well drilled military company the men learn to act instantly, and the quick precision with which they execute orders and change their formations or perform duties gives an impression of speed, and power. They get a strong feeling of confidence through this ability to do things quickly.

This habit of quick obedience was probably one factor in the amazing success which the German troops had invading neutral countries. They were supposed to have taken big chances for instance, when they invaded Norway, since they had to transport great bodies of people over a considerable space of water. This step and precision which grows out of the habit of instant obedience, probably contributed largely to their achievement.

In ordinary American life, prompt obedience is not very popular. The old time parent used to issue orders to his children, and he expected them to be obeyed without loitering or dilly dallying. The modern easy going parent has to do a lot of arguing with children. It may take half an hour of cajoling and reasoning before you can get the modern youngster to go to bed.

I'll go it when I get good and ready" is a typical American phrase in this land of freedom, and in ordinary civil life people don't like to be ordered around. Until they can't, as in the time like the German gooseste Yet, those who are slow and hesitating about carrying out orders are not popular with bosses. Children need to learn a greater promptness, and to realize that orders from parents and teachers should be quickly obeyed.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Many people are strong advocates of home improvements, and still it is suggested they should help pay for them.

While the t... of us are stepping the home improvements are the handiest thing up plans to push the home town ahead and benefit us all. We should give our locals to big people who push these activities.

The automobile industry would be in a bad developed trade to-day if it had not been for advertising. Advertising is a force that can double or more than double almost any business.

MEDINA RIVER ON 7-FOOT RISE

Bandera received 1½ inches of rain Tuesday night and early yesterday morning according to Albert Kalka, local weather observer. The clouds had been fairly heavy all day Tuesday but no rain fell until night and in the early morning hours the rain was heaviest. This was the first rain in December. The Medina River came up about 7 feet and stayed that way nearly all day. Bandera Creek, Doe Creek, and all other creeks were running several feet more than usual. The rain apparently was heavy all over Bandera County. This should help considerably in raising the Medina Lake level.

Banquet Well Attended Thursday

The Lions Club and P. T. A. banquet held last Thursday evening at the Bandera High School was one of the most enjoyable events held here this year. A large number of people interested in the school and in good roads were present to hear the speakers, Bascom Storey and J. H. Briggs of San Antonio. The Bandera Orchestra played preceding and during the banquet. Guy Rambie, president of the Lions Club, was master of ceremonies and after expressing his thanks for the splendid cooperation, introduced Supt. A. K. Briggs who introduced Bascom Storey, deputy state superintendent. In his address Mr. Storey explained the part education will play in national defense. The Department of Education will receive Federal funds which are to be expended in three phases, namely for (1) training of adults, (2) preparatory training for rural and non-rural children from 17 to 25, and (3) training of students on N. Y. A. projects. He stated there were four million young people between the ages of 17 and 25 who have no training for making a living.

Tom Miller, mayor of Austin, was scheduled to make an address but official business made it impossible for him to be here.

Mr. Rambie then introduced J. H. Briggs, field secretary of the Good Roads Association, who gave a very interesting talk on highways. He gave some graphic figures about money spent on highways and how the money is received. He explained that on every gallon of gasoline bought, the motorist pays a 5½ cent tax. Of this 1½ cents is Federal tax and of the 4 cent state tax one cent goes to the school fund, one cent is used to retire old bonds and the other two cents is used to build new highways and to maintain roads already built. Improved highways are needed to facilitate travel but he urged that local money be spent for lateral roads as they are the means of bringing trade to the community.

He also stated that in his travels over the state he noticed that Bandera is referred to as the Dude Ranch country of the state. In speaking of national defense he stated that 4-lane highways are to be built near military centers. He spoke of the highway beautification work which is carried on by a percent of the Federal funds. He also stressed the need of safety as more persons have met death in highway accidents than were killed in battle in five major wars.
