THIS IS OUR TOWN

The Social Worker, paying her monthly visit to Anna, was shocked when she entered without knocking and discovered Anna entertaining a man. "This is hardly what I expected, Anna," said the social worker sternly. "Do you really think it's right to entertain your gentlemen friends here when your husband, Bill, has hardly been dead a week?" "Well, ma'am," Anna replied, "it's Bill that's dead, not me."

• • • Mrs. Fitzgerald attended market in San Antonio and reports beautiful merchandise on display, much of which she will have on display in her modern, up-to-date store.

• • • Dale Robertson, star of the San Antonio Livestock Exposition, will ride "proud" during his performances there, in the Mayan Ranch stage coach. The coach is a masterpiece of work. Much research went into making the coach, which was constructed under the supervision of Don Hicks, Mayan Ranch manager. The upholstery was done by Bandera Mercantile personnel. Bandera is proud of all the fine bit of publicity that is made possible by the Mayan Ranch.

• • • Highlight of Bandera's whirlwind social season was the beautiful wedding of Miss Jean Focke and Maurice Davis Jr., at St. Christopher's Episcopal Church last Saturday evening. Relatives and friends from far and near gathered for the wedding and also the reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Focke. Congratulations and all good wishes go with the happy newlyweds.

• • • The Cottage Beauty Shop looks mighty nice since Mrs. Mary Frances Roede has installed a number of modern machines and some very nice equipment including driers and chairs.

• • • We hear so much about our delinquent youth that we do not stop to think that there is another side to our youth. Those young men and women who we can point to with pride for their achievements. One such young man we would like to recognize here—he is Kenneth Kalka, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Kalka. Kenneth's love for sports will carry him far. Since a small boy he had been interested in football, baseball and all manner of sports. Now that he is a young man he is still interested, and doing a fine job of playing as well as become a very efficient sports writer, who is responsible for all those nice here stories about Bandera High School well think he will go far in his chosen profession and predict that he will someday be one of the nation's top sports writers.

"Finders' Keepers"

Few people realize that a dirty-faced urchin is responsible for the main principles behind our law governing the ownership of lost articles.

Percy Armory was a chimney sweep's helper who lived in London shortly before the birth of our own George Washington. Trudging home one day from his grimy work he found a diamond ring in the public street.

Percy took the ring to a goldsmith's shop to find out what it was. There he placed it in the hands of the goldsmith's apprentice, who, under the pretense of weighing it, stole the diamond from its setting. When he told Percy that the ring was of very little value, Percy demanded the return of the jewel as well as the setting. The goldsmith and the apprentice, thinking that Percy was just a simple-minded boy, refused to give him back his treasure.

But Percy was not the kind to be badgered about. He sought the services of a lawyer to sue for recovery of the ring and its jeweled set. The results of his suit have immortalized Percy's name in the common law.

The goldsmith and his apprentice claimed that since Percy had only found the ring, he had no better right to it than they did. The court felt differently about the matter and ordered the diamond returned "because the finder of a lost article has the right to hold it against the whole world except the true owner." This principle established by Percy's case remains as effective today as it was over two centuries ago.

However, as far as the owner who lost the property is concerned, the finder of lost goods is merely regarded as a depository, holding the goods for the true owner.

The courts draw a distinction between "mislaid" and "lost property." Lost property is property which the owner casually and thoughtlessly parts with, like the dropping of a wallet in the fuzzy to get on a bus. Mislaid property, on the other hand, is property which the owner has purposely laid down and then forgotten, leaving it where placed. An example of this would be a handbag placed on a shop counter while a customer examines merchandise. A finder must leave mislaid articles with the proprietor of the place where found.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

BULLDOGS RALLY CUT SHORT, LOSE 45-40

The Bandera Bulldogs rallied for 19 points in the final half, 22 of which were scored in the last quarter, but to no avail as they were stopped short by the Southwest Dragons, 45-40. The Bulldogs managed only two points in the second period which later proved costly to the locals.

Trailing 18-11 at intermission and then by seventeen with the final quarter remaining, the Bulldogs went into a full court press which caused the Dragons to make mistakes on which Bandera capitalized. But the miscues were too late and the Dragons went down in defeat in the District 27-A contest. Leading the local attack was Earl Keese who netted 13 points. He was followed by Ward with 10, Kalka with 8, Schlador with 4, Jones with 2, King with 2, and Richards with 1 point. Jim Pringle was high of the game with 21 points.

In the girls game, Bandera registered a 34-27 victory over Southwest. Rose Stricker led the winners with 22 points.

In the preliminary, the Bulldog "B" team ran on the short end of a 69-57 score against the Dragon "B" team. Butch Richards poured in 25 points for the losers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Fly had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Johnson of Kerrville, Mrs. Isabel Stokes and Earl Davenport during this past week.

TWICE-TOLD TEXAS TALES

By J. Marvin Hunter, Sr.

Under this heading from time to time we will publish Texas historical articles which we have compiled and printed before in Frontier Times or in other publications, but which we believe will be of interest to Bulletin readers.

THE COWBOY'S VERDICT

Lieutenant R. G. Carter

The little town of Jacksboro, the county seat of Jack county, Texas, was in a fever of excitement of the capture of Satanta, the war chief of the Kiowas. At the period of which I write (1871) he was the scourge of the Western Texas-border.

Not contented with having committed the bloody massacre at Salt Creek Prairie, he had, after scalping and mutilating his victims, and filling their bodies with arrows, lashed one poor teamster to a wagon-wheel and burned him while yet alive. A few days later he rode into Fort Sill at the head of his war party and loudly boasted of his atrocious deed. He was arrested by order of General Sherman, then at the post, double-ironed, and turned over as a prisoner to General Mackenzie for trial in Texas for murder.

During the march of one hundred and twenty-three miles from the Fort Sill reservation, Satanta was closely guarded. At night, pickets were thrown on to prevent surprise, as it was supposed that their chief had been taken to Texas, ... to rescue him.

Herd guards and strong sleeping parties were posted, and every precaution was taken to prevent a ... from ... the ... Indians ... crawled out upon the ground, a pony driven at each hand and foot, and he was then bound securely with thongs and ...

In the Wichita swamps, where the mosquitos swarm in countless thousands and to the sin of a New Jersey "greenhead," the pollution of life prisoner can be at once pictured, even to the dullest imagination. His grunts, "ug-g-g-h, h-h-h!" and long-drawn exclamations were heard at all times during the night, notwithstanding prisoner and guard slept in the dense smoke from the green-log fires, intended to be a protection from these bloodthirsty tormentors.

It was a bright, warm day in June, when the bronzed and weather-stained troopers of the Fourth Cavalry rode into Fort Richardson with the prisoners closely guarded by our faithful Tonkawa trailers. The rest of the garrison, with the band, turned out to greet the command.

As the column halted, every eye was upon Satanta. His reputation was well known to every man, woman and child, not only here, but upon the Kansas border. He was over six feet in his moccasins, and, mounted upon a small pony, he seemed to be even taller than he really was.

He was stark naked from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet, except that he wore a breechclout and a pair of embroidered moccasins. Owing to the intense heat, he had allowed his blanket to slip down to his saddle and about his loins. His coarse, jet-black hair, now thickly powdered with dust, hung tangled about his neck, except a single scalplock, with but on eagle feather to adorn it. His shoulders, broad back, powerful hips and thighs, contrasted singularly with the slight forms of the Tonkawas grouped about him. The muscles stood out on his gigantic frame like knots, and his form, proud and erect in the saddle, his perfectly immovable face and motionless body, gave him the appearance of polished mahogany, or, perhaps, a bronze equestrian statue, sprinkled with dust.

Nothing but his intensely black, glittering eyes and a slight motion of the lids betokened any life in that carved figure. Every feature of his face spoke the disdain with which he regarded the curious crowd now gathered about headquarters to gaze at the famous savage chief. His feet were lashed with a rawhide lariat under his pony's belly, his hands were tied together, and, disarmed and helpless, he was indeed a picture of a fallen savage greatness.

In accordance with General Sherman's instructions, the day for Satanta's trial for murder arrived. This trial was one of the most impressive, yet most ludicrous, acts of legal jurisdiction ever witnessed by the hardy settlers and cowboys of Jack county, and in the first instance, I believe, when an Indian chief was regularly indicted and tried for murder by a legally drawn jury of his own countrymen.

The town was swarming with men, all intent upon seeing justice done Texas, the State, and the red man.

Under a strong guard, and accompanied by the Fort Sill interpreter and the counsel who had been assigned the blanketed chief, ... Satanta ... was ... to the little log ... the county of Jacksboro. ... had been empaneled; the district attorney ... and flourished around. The ... country, every man armed to the teeth, tried to crown in. It was impossible, as they surrounded the courthouse and listened breathlessly through the open windows.

Two long, dingy, wooden benches, well whittled and worn, held the jurors, who nervously hitched about in their seats, and uneasily regarded the extreme novelty of their situation.

Inside the railing sat the stolid chief, closely wrapped in a blanket for the defense opened, and in a spread-eagle speech referred to the numerous wrongs that the noble red man, "my brother," had suffered, wherein he had been cheated and despoiled of his lands, driven westward, until in many instances there was no limit to the greed of his white brothers.

If he had been guilty of acts of violence toward the aggressive race which was driving him out, that was but the excusable retaliation which merely human instinct — nay, more than instinct — the worm that turns—required of him.

Warming up to his task, he now threw off his coat, as it was an infernally hot day, and commented about the times of the Aztecs, Cortes, and the Montezumas, and pictured Guatamozin lying calmly on a bed of coals as upon a bed of roses. Here he displayed considerable historical lore. But when he spoke of the Stars and Stripes, the emblem of our national freedom, and urged that the great chief be allowed to "fly away as free and unhampered," it turned quickly to watch the jury.

Every cowboy had been industriously whittling the old bench and squirting tobacco juice at a crack; but the words of the counsel having been interpreted to the chief, whose frequent grunts of approval and delight at what he supposed meant immediate release now sounded loudly over the court-room, I noted an immediate change.

The jury were all in their shirt-sleeves. Each had his old "shoot-in-iron" strapped to his hip. They all hitched their "six-shooters" to the front, immediately ceased reducing with their sheath-knives the proportions of the jury-bench, and now intently watched for further developments and more oratory.

The district attorney was really quite an able little fellow, and he grew eloquent over the enormity of the chief's crimes, as he rapidly painted the cold-blooded massacre and the cruel murder to the poor white teamsters upon Salt Creek prairie. As he pictured the scene, the bloody chief's victims lying cold and stark, the charred remains of one who had been slowly roasted alive chained to the wheel, every brow grew black, every juryman settled himself in his seat, gave an extra hitch to the "gun" on his belt, and we saw the verdict plainly written on their faces, from the foreman to the very last man.

The afterpiece of the other counsel for the defense had no effect. He took off coat, vest, collar and necktie, rolled up his shirt-sleeves, and advancing up to the foreman, an old, gray-haired frontiersman, shook his fingers at him, and gesticulated in the most violent manner.

It was of no avail. The doom of the noble red man was sealed.

The jury was briefly charged. It retired to a corner of the same room. A few minutes of hurried consultation and angry head shaking, and they were back again in their seats.

"Have the jury agreed upon a verdict?"

"We have!"

"What say you, Mr. Foreman, is this Indian chief, Satanta, guilty or not guilty, of murder?"

With a most startling emphasis, the grizzly old foreman shouted:

"He is. We figure him guilty!"

It was an unanimous verdict.

Satanta was sentenced to be hanged, but the pressure from Washington was so great upon Governor Davis, of Texas, that he was compelled to commute his sentence to imprisonment for life. We held him a prisoner at Fort Richardson — until the following October, when he was transferred to the State penitentiary at Huntsville, where a few years later he ended his life by throwing himself headlong from an upper gallery of the prison upon the pavement below.

TELEPHONE TALK

by LeRoy Binz, Manager

TODAY, YOU'RE STILL PAYING WORLD WAR II "EMERGENCY TAXES" ON YOUR TELEPHONE BILL

Next time you're checking over the charges on your monthly telephone bill, take a real close look at the second line from the top. Notice the figure indented under the word. Tax.

I imagine you've seen it so often you hardly even pay any attention to it any more. And yet, it deserves your very special attention because it's about the closest thing to an unfair tax you'll ever be required to pay.

10 PER CENT FEDERAL EXCISE TAX

Most of that amount represents federal (U.S.) excise taxes—10c on every dollar of local and Long Distance phone service.

Doubtless few people even remember, but federal excise taxes were World War II emergency taxes designed to help raise money for defense, and to discourage use of vital telephone lines which were then needed for essential war time purposes. When they were put on the books, the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee told Congress, "The increases on present excises, and new taxes, are temporary and will expire after the war."

Well, the war is over. But you and I are still paying the taxes.

Continuing World War II emergency taxes on an essential item like telephone service is so unbelievable it's almost funny. Except it's a little hard "to laugh when you're being belted in the pocket book that hard.

ONLY ON TELEPHONE SERVICE

Of the four essential household utilities—gas, water, lights, telephone—only your telephone service is subject to excise taxes.

And as if the tax itself isn't enough, there's also a hidden cost involved. You pay that, too. You see, we have to collect the tax and pass the proceeds along to Uncle Sam. This extra bookkeeping and billing adds to the expense of running the telephone business. Since we get the money to operate the business from only one source . . . our customers . . . you not only pay the tax, but the cost of collecting it as well.

If you feel as I do, that this unfair tax should be repealed, I invite you to write Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough and Representative O. C. Fisher and tell them so. One more reminder won't surprise them. They'll already have heard about it from me.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

77 ways to go to town

Time was rural Texans traveled many miles to the "big city" to buy the things they needed.

But by creating new markets in rural areas and by making the rural community a finer place in which to live, RURAL ELECTRIFICATION has transformed tiny villages to thriving cities. Urban conveniences—formerly miles away are now close at hand for rural Texans. The 77 independently owned and business managed tax paying Electric Cooperatives serving the State have opened up these broad avenues of progress. Owned by the people they serve, these electric cooperatives are even now blazing new trails and marking new paths to provide a brighter future for a new generation with RURAL ELECTRIFICATION.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

At the beginning of school in the autumn of 1959, Texas University will welcome a new student from Devra. This tall, green-eyed, natured boy is one representative of which our town will be proud. Born on May 24, 1941, this senior began his early life in San Antonio, and, going on to Houston, lived there for two years before becoming a citizen of our "fair city".

From the 7th through 8th grade he was a member of the band, but since the call of football was loud and clear in his ears, he began to make the Bulldogs a fine player. In the '58 season he was chosen as a member of the All-District Team. Other sports such as volleyball, basketball and golf have also interested him.

As a member of the Methodist Church, he is serving as MYF Vice-president. He is also holding the office of Senior Class President.

Of the other three courses which could fill as many positions, doing an excellent job in each, and still find time to be the swell fellow known to everyone around Devra.

Yes, T. U. will be attaining quite a guy, and we are sure that around the Longhorn campus he will prove to be their favorite also. To you, Ronnie, we, the Senior Class of '59, and the entire student body of BHS wish the best of everything in the future years; may you always be happy, and your troubles be few.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors are proud of the part their girls took in the basketball game last Friday night, February 6th. Bandera was victorious over South Side 22 to 28.

Everyone in the Junior Class has been busy keeping up studies, consequently there has not been much outside activity. Some of the class will be taking scholarship tests soon; we hope they will do well.

SOPHOMORE TALKS

The sophomore homemaking girls are "menu planning". They are doing a fine job with the help from their teacher, Miss Pearson. Breakfast menus are rolling along, but the sophomore girls are still up to par winning the games, they feel however that without Coach Tatsch the task would be much more difficult.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

The third grade had the exciting experience of having a new teacher last Friday. We want to thank Mrs. Jordan for substituting one day for the "mother of the bride". The "old" teacher was very happy to be back again, hearing the usual Monday morning stories.

Raymond Pawlik went to his uncle's ranch near the Medina Lake. He saw two tame pigs that look exactly like wild pigs.

Nancy Greff and her brother, Mike, stayed with "Aunt Cricket" while her mother and dad went to Arlington for a rodeo. They brought a present back for Nancy.

Bobby Clark went into the pasture with his uncle and brothers. A bull chased them because the uncle was wearing a red shirt. One of the boys shot at the bull with a BB gun.

Jennie Hopkins' grandparents from San Antonio came out Sunday. They brought two kids for the children to play with. They couldn't find anything to make the tails for the kites.

Ollie Murphy's dog chased a little cotton tail and Ollie rescued the poor little rabbit. It later got out of his box in the house and Ollie cannot find it.

Karen took some lumps of sugar into the pasture and lured her pony, Calico, up to her so that she could have a ride. After her ride she gave him more lumps of sugar to say thank you.

Elaine Knibbe visited with Mona on Sunday. They had fun watching the cows and chickens at a neighbors house.

Ace visited Douglas White on Sunday. They had fun flying kites and playing in the hay.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The main project in the seventh grade English class at the present is writing autobiographies. The students have had much enjoyment in remembering some of the things that have happened in the twelve or thirteen years of their lives.

These pupils are also studying adverbs and adjectives in English and are learning how to diagram sentences.

Most of the class went to see the Walt Disney movie, "White Wilderness." They said the show was very educational.

Edward Murphy spent the weekend with David Shaw and reported a very enjoyable time.

BAND BLAB

The band is sponsoring a bake sale on the 28th of this month. It will be a door to door affair and proceeds will go to the band. If you are promised an order by you, the public, will respond to our effort.

The spring concert is in the very near future—the date is set for March 5th; don't forget the date and be sure to attend.

We would like to spread the news of another cubnert. The Comfort Band has set the date of their concert for this Friday. You are promised an entertaining evening if you attend.

THE SIXTH GRADE "PRIVATE EYES"

A number of sixth graders went to see "White Wilderness." They were Kay Evans, Nancy Johnson, Shirley Dunlap, Johnny Lewis, Johnny Anderwald, and Harold Brooks.

Our "private eyes" followed Harold-Brooks and Johnny Lewis to the show, Sunday, to see "Party Girl".

Saturday, our "blood hounds" followed Kay Evans on a shopping tour in Kerrville. Sunday the Evans children went with their father to get some sand for their hog pen.

Our "private eyes" say that Patsy Schirmer stayed at home most of Saturday and helped clean house. When she got through cleaning, she went to Deonne Whitaker's. Then Sunday, Patsy stayed home and took care of her brother.

The sixth grade has been studying about the development of our national government, and in science they are beginning the study of the weather. They have just finished a study of the earth and rocks. Through the generosity of Walter Zigler, the sixth grade had the use of an ultra-violet lamp which they enjoyed using to look at the rocks. All the class wants to say "thank you" Mr. Zigler.

FRESHMEN YAK

Nancy Herrera went to Kerrville Saturday night to visit her grandmother, who is sick.

Patty Callahan, John Alanis, Martha Redding, Charlie Eckhart, Raye Ritcherson, and Larry Hall went to the FHA Sweetheart party all having a bang-up time.

Sunday Patty Callahan went to visit her aunt and uncle and their new baby in San Antonio.

Jean Daniels stayed home and had a very lazy time this weekend.

The show Saturday attracted many freshmen, the show, "White Wilderness" was a very interesting and beautiful show.

The freshmen class in Home Economics plan to make Frito Pie in a light luncheon. They have been studying luncheons and menus for the future use in meals.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. If you will find mention of many people you know personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave Presidio on a burro and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two unsavory days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and of last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

... KATHERINE STRICKER WRITES

... of our subscribers or friends so will share with you the following letter from Annie Katherine Stricker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. ... Stricker, who is now ... training in Independence, Missouri. Enclosed is $3 for this year's subscription to the Bandera Bulletin. I think that each year the Bulletin becomes a little bit better, in coverage of the news and in the manner in which it is presented. I'm proud of my home-town paper and delight in reading about what's happening on the "home front."

It often makes me just a wee bit home sick, though, as I view in fancy, some of the familiar activities that are reported therein. I'm anxious to see all of you again, and hope to be coming home for a few weeks in May. Until then I'll keep very busy here with classes and work. I spent my first day, on obstetrics floor in "post parturient days" Monday, and will spend the next three months on the floor, in the nursery, and in delivery. We have three delivery rooms and the floor and nursery usually stay pretty full and the nurses busy. I love it on the 4th floor and am anxious to spend my time in the nursery with all those precious babies. It hardly seems possible that one half of my nursing education is over, but it is, and I'm on the home stretch now. So far, it has been a tremendous experience with never a dull moment, and I think that the next year and a half holds a bountiful supply of new and invigorating experiences too. I've completed my basic experience in the operating room, on surgical and medical floors, and in orthopedics. Facing me, I have advanced experience in medical and surgical floors, and affiliations with three other hospitals for added experience that we do not receive here. In August I go to Mercy Children's Charity Hospital in Kansas City, Missouri, for three months work, and classes, in pediatrics. From there to St. Louis, Missouri, for three months at State "San" for experience in caring for the mentally ill, and finally to Koch TB Hospital, outside of St. Louis, for two months work with tuberculosis patients and isolation technique. By then graduation time, April 4, 1960, will be here, and I'll come back here for my senior period of three months in whatever department I want further experience in, or that I would like to make my specialty. Then comes state board examinations and the traditional headaches and worry as I await the results. After that I'll be a full-fledged registered nurse—I hope.

Speaking from personal experience, I highly recommend nursing as an ideal profession for any girl who is interested in her fellowman and wants to help to make this world a better place in which to live. Besides that, what better opportunity is there to learn about personal health and to obtain some of the skills that make for keeping "hubby" well and happy, and being a really competent mother?! I'm sold on it.

Looks as though I got carried away, this wasn't meant to be a ... recruitment letter, but just good purposes, and lots of them are needed ... and opportunities are ... Well, Nettie, I've enjoyed this little visit with you even though I didn't anticipate writing this much when I started. Best of luck to you and the Bulletin in 1959. Please give my regards to your family and any of the home folks you happen to see. I miss you all.

Sincerely,

Katherine Stricker

Bandera Home Demonstration Club delegates who accompanied Mrs. G. M. Merritt, THDA Chairman to a THDA training meeting in Fredericksburg Monday were Mrs. E. A. Johnson, Mrs. John Buchanan. Mrs. Buchanan is the new 4-H Leader and Mrs. Johnson went along in the place of Mrs. Edwin Yeater, who was unable to attend. They report an interesting meeting and also a fine lunch. Mrs. Merritt will make her official report to the local Home Demonstration Council at its regular meeting.

BANDERA DELTA KAPPA GAMA MEMBERS ATTEND KERRVILLE MEET

Local members of the Delta Kappa Gamma honor society enjoyed a fine meeting at Kerrville Saturday. The group from Bandera and Medina who attended were Mrs. Melba King, Mrs. Irene Langford, Miss Zona Johnson, Mrs. Vernell Mullenax, Mrs. Anna Laura Vaughn, Mrs. Sallie Lewis, Mrs. Knowles Teel, Miss Thelma Gallant and Miss Charlsie Amos.

Mrs. Teel and Miss Charlsie Amos who were guests at this meeting will go to a joint meeting at Fredericksburg where they will be initiated into the society.

At the annual meeting of the Bandera Volunteer Fire Department held Tuesday, February 10, at 8 p.m., the following officers were elected to serve in the places as follows:

Buck Teich, president; Frank Mansfield, Chief; Coy Ross, Assistant Chief; Alton Reininger, treasurer; Jesse Everett, secretary; John James, trustee; and Ross Bailey, trustee.

Other members present were Joe Preston, out-going president; A. J. Stricker, W. M. Lindig and Hubert Pierce.

Six new members were elected to the membership to take the place of six who have died, or moved out of the community.

It was noted that the Bandera area has been very fortunate since November of this year to have had no fire calls of any consequence, and that since the town has the trash collection program sponsored by the Bandera Water Board, there has been fewer trash fires, grass fires, etc.

Let us remember that a Volunteer Fire Department can only be as strong and ready as the people of the community want it to be. Active firemen are needed and are requested most urgently, and if you can't fight fire physically you can help financially. Checks or money may be given to any of the above mentioned persons for the Fire Department fund.

HEARING HELD ON ELECTION LAW CHANGE

Austin. — The legislature has gone to work on a series of bills to change the election laws, some of them highly controversial, some technically creative.

The first step was taken Monday night when measures to untangle a conflict in the campaign expense-reporting laws, and to improve local election records, met no opposition at a public hearing.

The two bills (HB 85) by Reps. Charles Sandahl Jr., of Austin and B. Dewey Jr., of Pearsall and (HB 115) by Dewey were sent to subcommittee under standing rules, but favorable reports were expected.

HB 85 was similar to HB 157 by Rep. Marshall O. Bell, San Antonio. They were consolidated and Bell's name added to the authors.

HB 85 removes a section of law under which candidates were required to continue filing expense statements after the first primary, whether or not they had run off races or opponents in the general election. If HB 85 is finally approved, an expense account before the primary and one after is all that will be needed if there are no further races.

Dewey's HB 115 would require county clerks to keep a permanent book record of primary election results by candidate and precinct. The law now permits primary election returns to be destroyed after four years.

FARMERS SHOULD FILE FINAL TAX RETURN BY FEBRUARY 16

Farmers and ranchers who bypassed the January 15 deadline for filing estimates of 1958 income should file their final 1958 Federal income tax return by Monday, February 16, 1959, to avoid penalty, says David W. Sides, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service at San Antonio.

Filing requirements for farmers-ranchers are simply detailed in Internal Revenue's "Farmers' Tax Guide," (1959 Edition), available at no cost from agricultural agents and IRS offices.

Friends here will be interested to learn that Mrs. E. E. Wyatt is making some recovery from her recent operation in the Kerrville Sid Peterson Hospital, but is having to remain there for treatment. Everyone here is wishing for her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Thomas Keese returned Sunday afternoon from College Station where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Jon Murrell and baby son. The baby is making good recovery from a very critical case of meningitis. Mrs. Keese also visited her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Keese.

Mrs. H. V. O'Bryant is spending several weeks in Liberty with her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Kirkendall, who underwent a major operation recently in the Kerrting Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Kirkendall is now getting along well and we hope she will continue to improve.

BULLDOG FIVE CLOSE OUT HOME SEASON IN DEFEAT

The Bandera Bulldogs ended their home stand Tuesday night in defeat to the Schertz Cibolo Buffaloes, 60-36. The Bulldogs still have two games remaining with Southside this Thursday and with Boerne Tuesday the 17th—both games being away.

Bandera played on almost even terms through three periods as they trailed by only seven with the final stanza remaining. But then a flurry of baskets by the Buffs put them out of reach to stay. Earl Keese was the high point man for the Bulldogs with 13 points but Sidney Torbrich of the Buffs held the game scoring laurels with 24 points. Other scorers for the locals were Pres Word with 7, Kenneth Kalka with 7, Joe King with 5, and Ernest Schlador with 4 points.

Schertz held a half time advantage of 26-21.

In the preliminary, the Bulldog "JV" team stomped the Buff "JV" team, 52-39. Butch Richards led the well balanced scoring attack with 14 points.

In the other feature game, the Bandera girls were downed by the Schertz girls, 54-46. This 27-A game knocked the local quintet from the district championship and assured Schertz of the crown. Rose Stricker tallied 26 points for the losers.

PRESIDENT SMITH CALLS GENERAL MEETING OF C. OF C.

Newly, elected president of the Bandera Chamber of Commerce, Wilvie Smith, announced that a general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday night, February 23, at 7:30 in the Bandera Room of the New Frontier Hotel.

Whether you are a member or not you are cordially invited to attend. Members are urged to come and bring someone with you.

President Smith told a Bulletin reporter that many activities are anticipated in the coming months and the help of everyone in the community is needed to carry out the various programs being planned to help Bandera's economical situation.

The Chamber of Commerce would like to take this means of thanking the Sterling Chevrolet Company for their support and cooperation in placing a number of cars in the San Antonio Stock Show Parade in San Antonio, as well as many others who entered the parade and helped to promote Bandera during the Stock Show.

Remember the date, Monday, February 23, at 7:30, Bandera Room, Frontier Hotel. And also remember, the Chamber of Commerce's motto is "For a Better Community". You are the Chamber of Commerce. It is what you make it, so, everybody come to the meeting.

HOWARD HAY MAKES A CLEAN SWEEP OF MOHAIR DIVISION AT STOCK SHOW

Bandera County turned out on a goodly scale during the past week to attend the San Antonio Livestock Exposition and rodeo at the San Antonio Coliseum. Many were spectators, but many had entries in the various livestock exhibits, and made went to take part in the big opening day parade last Friday.

Sterling Chevrolet was well represented with a number of outstanding entries in the parade, when they furnished cars decorated by Roy Earl. The Mayan Ranch topped the list by putting in their beautiful, recently built Western stage coach, which was driven by Bud Kalka with Dale Robertson, star of the rodeo, riding shotgun.

In the livestock exhibits Bandera scored again when Howard Hay, veteran Angora goat breeder, made a clean sweep in the mohair division of the wool and mohair show. Mr. Hay showed the grand champion fleeces of the show and both the champion purebred and champion range fleeces. The

MAYAN RANCH CHOSEN TO CARRY STARS OF STOCK SHOW

The Mayan Dude Ranch has been participating in the San Antonio Fat Stock Show Parade for the past four years. This year it was honored by being selected to carry the star of the show, Dale Robertson. The Mayan Stage Coach was rebuilt so successfully that the San Antonio paper stated it was a "genuine old-time Wells Fargo Stage Coach."

Bud Kalka drove the four golden palomino through the streets of San Antonio as Dale Robertson shouldered the shotgun. If you missed the parade you might have seen Bud performing on TV Friday night at the 6 and 10 o'clock news casts, and if you watched closely you could have seen a smile from ear to ear.

During the entire Fat Stock Show the Mayan Stage Coach is being shown daily at one of the H.E.B. Stores in San Antonio. Bud, Jack Terry and Doc Taylor are busy giving children rides in the coach.

Every evening at the Coliseum as soon as the bull riding is over, the Wells Fargo Stage Coach is the Mayan Dude Ranch) rolls in in a cloud of dust for two or three runs around the Arena to close a gala star-studded rodeo.

The Mayan Dude Ranch Stage Coach will have many future days of glory but none will ever equal its first colorful appearance when, with light bulbs flashing and cameras popping, it carried Dale Robertson, holding the reins, with Governor Price Daniels of the great State of Texas, riding shotgun!

THE ROSE GARDEN CLUB ENTERTAINED IN MRS. TOM HOME

On Wednesday, February 11, the Rose Garden Club of Medina held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Pope with Mrs. Robert Thompson as co-hostess.

At the seventeen members and five guests arrived they were served delicious refreshments from an attractive buffet table decorated in the Valentine motif.

After a pleasant social period the meeting was called to order by Mrs. David Tallman acting as president in the absence of Mrs. Paul Garrison. Mrs. Tallman introduced the topic of the day, a panel discussion on horticulture. The panel was composed of club members, Mrs. Homer Stevens, Mrs. A. J. Flowers and Mrs. W. R. Grun, with Mrs. J. D. Latta acting as moderator. Mrs. Stevens talked and answered questions on chrysanthemums, Mrs. Flowers on roses, and Mrs. Grun on spring bulbs, gladiolus, dahlias, cannas, etc. The panellists all emphasized the type of soil, time and condition of ground for planting, care, cultivation, fertilizating of the various kinds of plants. Everyone present agreed it was a very instructive program, well presented.

Following the program there was a short business meeting at which it was reported that through the help and cooperation of the Rose Garden Club, public spirited citizens and the county, arrangements have been completed for the installation of water at the Medina Fire Station. The beautification of the grounds should now be definitely started this spring.

The following were elected officers in the Rose Garden Club for the year 1959-1960: President, Mrs. Paul Garrison; First Vice-President, A. J. Flowers; Second Vice-President, Mrs. J. D. Latta; Treasurer, Mrs. Homer Stevens; Secretary, Mrs. Tex Anderson; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Carl Bush.

Unordered Merchandise

Suppose the mailman delivers to you a package containing a necktie, a book, key-ring tags or a phonograph record that you didn't order. Either with it, or by later mail, is a bill or request to remit the price.

Do you know your obligations, assuming you don't want the merchandise? Must you return it? Can you use it and not pay for it? Must you keep it, or can you throw it away?

Generally speaking, recipients of unordered merchandise are under no obligation (a) to return it; (b) to acknowledge its receipt; (c) to pay for it unless used; (d) to give it particular care; or (e) to keep it beyond a reasonable time.

You are obligated to surrender the merchandise if called for in person by the shipper or his agent within a reasonable time. But you can demand storage charges before surrendering the item. If you mail it back at your own expense, you very likely will stay on the sender's mailing list and will receive other shipments in the future.

There are no postal regulations governing unordered merchandise, except where fraud is involved.

Congress is working on legislation that will cover the situation. However, if you know what is in the envelope or package, you can write "Refused" across the face of the piece of mail and hand it back unopened to the mailman. No further explanation is required. You don't have to accept any class of mail. Further, your refusal probably will result in the sender having to pay return postage.

A ruling by the Federal Trade Commission holds it a violation of the Federal Trade Act for a sender of unordered merchandise to claim that "The receiver is under obligation . . . to pay for or return the merchandise." Hence, if you don't use the merchandise, you are within your rights in refusing to pay for it.

If another person's mail is improperly delivered to you, do not open it, as such action might make you liable to severe legal penalties. Such mail should promptly be re-deposited in a postal box with an appropriate notation thereon, such as the proper address or "Not 14 South Brown Street", showing the address to which the mail had been delivered.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight difference in the facts may change the application of the law.)

The music student who does not love music or the art student who does not love art is in the same category as the merchant who does not love advertising. None can.

Henry Ford and General Motors are great merchandising leaders they are great advertisers. General Electric, Southwestern Bell are successful corporations because they are great advertisers. With such companies, advertising is a passion, a fixed routine, that will not let them remain silent about the wonders of their companies and the glories of their wares. To think of Henry Ford, General Motors, General Electric and Southwestern Bell apart from advertising is as impossible as to disassociate Fritz Kreisler from his violin or Paderewski from his piano.

Once you have bought goods and put them on your shelves, nothing else is as important as advertising those goods. Other matters may be delegated to subordinates, but advertising is something you had better oversee yourself.

The Bandera Bulletin circulation covers Bandera County "like a blanket", and every advertisement in this paper is read by practically every home in the county.

However much you have to invest in advertising, $10 or $100, you can extract the last ounce of results from it by taking space in this medium that surpasses in home attention, thoroughness of circulation and lowness of advertising rates.

DRIVING CATTLE UP THE TRAIL TO KANSAS

J. Marvin Hunter, Sr.

When the Civil War ended in 1865, the Texas ranges were covered with cattle by the thousands, for which there was no market. Up to and during the war New Orleans had been the principal market for Texas cattle, but during the years of internecine strife, cattle on the open ranges had increased tremendously and in a wild state. The owners, returning from war, found themselves to be "cattle poor;" many of the soldiers coming home from war were without employment of any kind. Conditions were bad. With more than 6,000,000 cattle feeding the broad acres of Texas, and beef commanding high prices in the North and East, wise cowmen began to make plans to drive their cattle to northern markets. The Union Pacific railroad was then building its line westward from Kansas City up the valley of the Kaw river, and Joseph G. McCoy, a cattle dealer of Springfield, Illinois, conceived the idea of establishing stockyards and facilities for receiving cattle at Abilene, Kansas, 165 miles west of Kansas City. There he built shipping pens, a hotel, barns and stables, and advertised his plans throughout Texas, so effectively that before the end of the summer of 1867, fully 35,000 head of Texas longhorns had been driven to Abilene, there to find waiting buyers from Chicago and other centers. Thus the trail driving period was inaugurated. The route first followed became known as the Chisholm Trail, the name being given in honor of old Jesse Chisholm, a half breed Indian, who operated a trading post near the present city of Ashton, Oklahoma, and hauled his goods in wagons and on pack mules from his trading post to the Indian country in Kansas, beating out a well worn trace and route to that point where Abilene was later founded. The first Texas herds, coming up from the South Texas ranges, crossed Red River at Red River Station, and heading north, followed old Jesse Chisholm's track, thus becoming known as the Chisholm Trail. This trail ran from San Antonio to Red River, crossed Indian Territory by way of Fort Reno, and passing through the present towns of Caldwell, Wichita, and Newton, and ended at Abilene. For a time Abilene was the terminus, and the chief cow town of Kansas, but in 1871 the Santa Fe railroad, competing with the Kansas Pacific, reached Newton, and a year later were extended through and beyond Dodge City, and that town became and for ten years was the greatest market for trail cattle in the world.

As Kansas was settling up with a class of nesters and farmers, who followed the route of the railroads, it became difficult to "drive the great herds through the settled regions, and when the cattle market was established at Dodge City, Kansas, Texas drovers shifted their route to follow what became known as the Western Trail. According to an old map which the writer has in his possession, the Western Trail began somewhere near Bandera, Texas, ran north through Bandera Pass and Kerrville, to Junction City, thence to Fort Concho, north past Fort Griffin, and crossed Red River at Doan's Store, near Vernon, and on by way of the Cherokee Outlet to Dodge City. From Dodge City the trail extended northward to the central branch of the Union Pacific, to Ogalalla, Nebraska. By 1871 nearly a million cattle had been driven from Texas to the cow towns of Kansas. During the trail driving period, from 1867 to about 1885, it is estimated that more than ten million Texas Longhorns passed over the two trails—the Chisholm and the Western Trail.

The herds that took the trail varied greatly in size. Some of them contained from 3,000 to 4,000 head, but many old trail drivers who made the drives to Abilene and Dodge City, told me that a herd not exceeding 2,500 head was, with due regard for ease and economy in handling, of the size best adapted to the long drive. The handling of such a herd called for a crew of a dozen men, with fifty to seventy horses, and a chuck wagon to haul the food and bedding. Cowboys were paid from $25 to $40, and trail bosses from $100 to $150 a month, and if there was no losses or mishaps on the way, it cost around $1500 for four months time to drive a herd of average size from Bandera to Dodge City, or perhaps sixty cents a head for the trip. Horses were generally supplied by the owner of the cattle, but each cowboy furnished his own saddle and bedding. The cook, sometimes a negro, drove the chuck wagon, while a horse wrangler, usually a boy in his teens, looked after the regular and extra mounts, known as the remuda. At the end of a drive it was the custom to sell all of the horses, except those individually owned and the hands came back to Texas, some on their own horses and some by train.

It was the custom with a herd on the trail to break camp and leave the bed ground at daylight after an early breakfast, and to graze the cattle slowly as they moved along during the first hours of the day. When the herd had become well strung out—an herd of 2,500 steers was usually five miles long from head to drag—a quicker pace was taken and maintained until noon. In the meantime the cook had pushed several miles ahead of the herd with his chuck wagon, and at some suitable place had stopped to prepare dinner. During and after this midday meal the herd rested for an hour or two, then the drive was resumed, and the cook again went on ahead with the chuck wagon to make camp for the night at some point selected by the trail boss.

When I was compiling and editing the book, "The Trail Drivers of San Antonio, who passed away a few years ago, described to me how a herd on the trail was managed. He said two or three experienced cowboys rode at the head of the line as pointers to direct the course, [illegible] four point-riders, two [illegible] ups with other herds, and check threatened stampedes, while to the other boys fell the task of keeping close formation the animals, stubborn, lazy or lame, which half hidden in the dust raised by those ahead of them, brought up the rear and drag. The horse wrangler with the extra mounts was sometimes in advance of the herd and again trailing beside it, while the trail boss could always be found at the place where he was most needed at the moment, either with the herd or riding ahead to confer with other foremen and to note, with experienced eye, the condition of the grass and water.

The Texas steer with his long horns bent for mischief, was no respecter of persons, and the task of the trail boss and his men was one that called for skill and daring at every stage of the drive. The late spring and summer months saw an almost solid procession passing over the great trails, with herds so near each other that it was often difficult to determine where one ended and another began, and it was only by the constant exercise of care and vigilance that stampeders were avoided or nipped in the bud. Rainy days rarely failed to breed a spirit of restlessness in a herd, and nights that followed them, with the ever present threat of a stampede in the storm and darkness, were always trying ones for the men on the trail, and when a stampede did come the cowboys had instant need for all the cunning and quickness of movement long years on the range had taught them. Then every effort was directed first to heading off the leaders and throwing the onrushing cattle into a "mill", which, moving round and round like a mighty millstone, in the end wore out and subdued the frightened animals. Lusty use of the human voice seldom failed to hasten the quieting of the cattle, and a cowboy singing to his bewildered charges caused it in a majority of instances to serve a most useful purpose.

When the herd came to a river it was crossed by swimming in the same order it followed on land, and here again, if a stream had been swollen by heavy rains, quick wit and instant action were frequently needed to forstall mishaps of a serious sort. Sam Gardner, of Lockhart, Texas, once told me about a harrowing experience he had while crossing Red River with a herd. There had been many days of rain, and when they [illegible] There were three herds numbering about 7,000 head, and as the river seemed to be steadily rising the drovers decided to get their herds into the raging stream. In they plunged, but were driven by the cowboys back to their side, and filled the air with shouts of encouragement and command. Suddenly to add to the peril of passage, a herd of longhorns, maddened by each other, and threatening their herders, with a like fate, broke through the line, and began to ride their horses into the swirling mass, cut out one small bunch after another and guide it to land. And in this manner, after hours of perilous effort, the crossing was accomplished, but only after several hundred of the crazed animals were drowned.

Each cowboy rode three horses in the course of a day, and every horse rested two days out of three. Care was taken to have a few horses that could be depended upon in case of a stampede at night, and each cowboy slept fully dressed, his horse saddled and bridled nearby. Thus, in case of a stampede, every man could be up and in the saddle quicker than a fireman could get out of bed and ready for duty at the sound of an alarm.

The building of railroads in Texas as heralded the close of the Civil War there were less than 300 miles of railway in Texas, by 1870 this had risen to more than 2,000, and during the years that followed it rose to 8700 miles. Gradually shipments by rail supplanted the drives up the trail, and sounded the death knell of the Texas longhorn, for when shipment was made by railroad only a few of the old longhorns would be loaded in a stock car. This first resulted in the practice of dehorning the steers, and later the importation of a shorter horned breed. Only a few of the old cowboys who drove cattle up the long trail from South Texas to Abilene and Dodge City, are with us today. And, like the longhorn and the buffalo, they too, will soon be but a memory.

Conservation and Citizenship

By Jeanine Hicks, English II

Bandera High School

"What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly," this true and wise statement could very easily have been said about the American citizen and our use of the land. America's greatest heritage is her land and every person must see his responsibility to keep up the large productivity; for without the land, America will die. Every citizen should consider it an honor to work to keep his country beautiful and fruitful.

"Abundance breeds waste," is also a true statement. America is a land of abundance, but to keep it that way, every citizen must work and do his part, because America belong to everyone. Perhaps the most important rule of conservation is to put back into the land what we take out. To do this, we must know how.

The most valuable natural resource is soil. It gives life and strength to the plants which feed upon it. Everywhere the soil has been generously mothering mankind for generations. A good citizen regards himself not as an absolute owner of the soil, but rather as a steward set in charge of using it wisely. His duty is one of passing on to succeeding generations a soil which is as good or better than when he found it. Perhaps the biggest problem having to do with the soil is erosion. The two chief agents of erosion are water and wind. To combat water erosion contour plowing and terracing are effective, along with planting vegetation over the land. Strip farming helps control both wind and water erosion. Erosion is only one of the many things the land has to combat to survive, but with every citizen doing his part for this great land of ours, the task won't be too difficult. We, as citizens of a great country, blessed with wealth, should work to keep and conserve what God has entrusted to us.

Conservation and Citizenship

By Marsha L. Maass

7th Grade, Bandera Elem.

"Resources do not function until men discover, understand, and learn how to use them." It is important that people understand their land and know how to find ways of using it effectively. Abundant resources available for utilization do not make the people progressive and prosperous unless they conserve them properly.

The wisdom of conserving resources becomes more apparent as the population increases, and as the standard of living rises. That is why it is so important to conserve these things: oil, gas, sulphur, iron ore, water, soil, wild life, and many other things. As people grow, they must have more water; it is important to construct new and larger lakes and reservoirs in order to have enough water. We realize that long ago people were permitting hundreds of millions of cubic feet of gas to escape into the air, or just burned it in flares. Now we have a new method of pumping it back into the ground for later use.

We must have supplies of food, water, clothing, shelter, and the many other things we need to have a modern civilized life. We depend on our resources from fields, pastures, forests, water supply and minerals. We need to conserve these resources and use them wisely. We should cooperate to reduce the erosion of soil by water and wind, to restore the fertility of the fields and pastures, to increase the growth of timber and to conserve deposits of minerals, fuels, metals, and other valuable materials that are likely to become scarce in the future. These are some of the ways we can help.

As the standards of living have steadily improved, there is much reason for us to anticipate the future growth and prosperity of our land if we as good citizens each do our part.

ANDERSON IS GUEST SPEAKER FOR MADRONA GARDEN CLUB

At one of the best meetings of the club year, the Madrona Garden Club met in the education building at the Bandera church of Christ on Friday of last week.

A brief business session conducted by the President, Mrs. J. B. Edwards preceded the program. Mrs. Edwin Wasterwood called the roll and read the minutes of the club, after which the plans made by the Hill Country Garden Council for its gathering to Austin, Sept. 30 to go along with the Council.

Mrs. Isabel Anderson, guest speaker from the Medina Rose Garden Club, gave a most interesting and delightful lecture. She spoke on the background of flower arranging and said any home needs the softness of happiness and laughter in it. She told that flower arranging started centuries ago in China. Then the Japanese copied the flower arranging techniques and went into it in a large way. The Dutch, the trinity, heaven, man, earth being used to scale their arrangements. As the land of the Japanese was small, their homes were small as well as their people, they accented this smallness in their flower arrangements.

Ernest into flower arranging on a more lavish scale, as their gardens were the most lavish in the world and their culture was on quite a scale. They combined the Japanese flower arranging culture with others from around the world. Their arrangements they featured a focal point, with color and texture, where all lines established lead to the eye. That is why it is so important to be in the design. There is an art in arranging flowers and it is especially pleasing in beauty, simplicity and balance when the rules are observed.

Mrs. Anderson showed some of her arrangements. In one arranging, some done with dried materials, some with fresh flowers and foliages. All were very lovely and well done. Another was a simple mechanics of each and pointed out the hograth curve, line arrangements, triangular arrangements and others.

Mrs. J. D. Latta, also a guest from the Medina Garden Club, showed an interesting arrangement and the club enjoyed a round table discussion of their beautiful arrangements.

Mrs. A. J. Flowers, also a guest from the Rose Garden Club at Medina, and Mrs. Latta, reported on the District meeting and also told that the district meeting in 1960 will be held in the spring in Kerrville. Three hundred and twenty-two flower arrangements at the recent District meeting in San Antonio. The Fall meeting will be held in Bandera.

On behalf of the club Mrs. E. M. Pue presented Mrs. J. B. Edwards a potted rose bush in memory of the beloved mother who recently passed away.

Mrs. Bill Short and Mrs. Edwin Vawter presented the flower show schedule. The flower show has been set for the second week-end in April.

Mrs. Latta was presented the door prize and Mrs. Short received the attendance prize.

Mrs. G. M. Merritt and Mrs. Fritz Saur served delicious sandwiches, cookies and coffee to Mesdames Isabel Anderson, L. D. Latta, A. J. Flowers, guests; John Saul, E. A. Johnson, Harry Heim, Fred Briggs, A. W. Huseby, C. G. Armstrong, Sam Darden, C. A. Duke, Jesse Bennett, E. M. Pue, L. D. Fisher, Edwin Vawter, J. R. Edwards, Bill Short.

LITTLE REED WINS GRAND CHAMPION IN STOCK SHOW

A tense crowd burst into applause when an 870 pound hereford named "Little Red" was named Grand Champion Steer of the 1959 San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo shortly before noon today. The steer, belonging to William W. Breeding of Miami, Texas, had just won the Grand Champion ship of the Boy's Show on Saturday.

A shorthorn owned by Donald H. Obrecht and Son of Harlan, Iowa, was named the Reserve Champion. Charles Obrecht, 20, displayed the steer.

Lined up for the finals were winners of their breeds: Aberdeen Angus, Brady Wayne Duren; Brahman, Kenneth Brandeberger and the Grand and Reserve Champions.

The atmosphere at Joe Freeman Coliseum became more and more charged as Glen Bratcher, head of the Animals Husbandry Department of Oklahoma State University and judge of the finals, walked around the steers, examining each of the four very carefully.

Breeding, 17, was accompanied by his family, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Breeding and his mother and, after the winner was announced, "I thought my heart was going to stop!"

Breeding is a senior at Miami High School and belongs to the Roberts County 4-H Club. He comes from an Angus family and plans to use his prize money to help pay his way to Texas A&M where he plans to major in veterinary medicine. Bill has been breeding herefords for eight years and hand-fed-and-raised San Antonio's former Grand Champion. No stranger to winner's circles, Breeding has won championships at Kansas City Livestock Show, Top O'Texas Stock Show at Amarillo, Texas, the Dallas State Fair and the Amarillo Fat Stock Show.

The champion steers along with other top livestock, will be sold at auction at the Joe Freeman Coliseum Friday morning, starting at 8:30.

VETERINARIAN IS GUEST OF ROTARY CLUB

RANKIN CONWILL IS VISITING HERE

Rankin Conwill is here for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Eula Conwill and other relatives and friends. Mr. Conwill is employed by a major oil company and has recently returned from duty in Europe.

ERRORS ON TAX RETURNS

Taxpayers in the Austin District are making the five "all-too-common" errors in their tax returns. These are:

1. Failure to print or write legibly. Processing of these returns slows up and gives taxpayers big headaches, especially those with refunds coming.

2. Errors in arithmetic. Three out of ten taxpayers who make major errors in arithmetic or who select the wrong tax from the tax table pay too much tax.

3. Forgetting to sign. This is highly important. And when joint returns are filed, both husband and wife must sign.

4. Forgetting to attach W-2's. By not attaching W-2's from all employers, taxpayers get no credit for taxes withheld, no refunds can be made, and returns must be sent back to the taxpayer.

5. Not listing dependents. Showing only the name of dependents is not enough. Their names should also be listed.

MRS. C. F. GOODENOUGH WILL RECEIVE BULLETIN

As a birthday gift from her brother, L. D. Moore, of Medina, Mrs. C. F. Goodenough, of Glendale, Arizona, will receive the Bandera Bulletin for a year. Congratulations and good wishes to Mrs. Goodenough on her birthday.

SNOWFIRE GRIPPING FILM PACKED WITH RICH DRAMA

One of Hollywood's most gripping films dealing with a girl and her love for a wild stallion is "Snowfire," which opens today at the Bantex Theatre.

This Allied Artists release, filmed in Eastman color, stars Mike Megowan and Molly McGowan and features the beauteous Claire Kelly.

Megowan and Miss Kelly portray ranchers who each endeavor to catch a wild white stallion, "Snowfire," but Molly, portraying Megowan's daughter, who insists she talks to the horse and that he understands her, hides him so no one can catch him.

The story was written, produced and directed by Durrell McGowan, father of Molly, and his brother, Stuart McGowan, and in each department these veteran film-makers prove their experteuse.

Brydon Baker, a member of the American Society of Cinematographers, was the cameraman on the picture, and he took full advantage of the scenic beauty of the areas in which the film was made.

The exterior scenes were filmed in the Bryce Canyon of southern Utah and in the foothills of southern California.

In addition to Molly, who makes her motion picture debut with this film; Megowan and Miss Kelly, each of whom turns in an exceptional performance, the cast includes such stellar performers as John Cason, Michael Vallon and Melody McGowan.

The film editing supervision of Arthur H. Nadel and the music editing of Eve Newman added much to the fine quality of the picture.

LIBRARY TALK BY MR. GNADE

Dick Gnade gave an interesting and informative talk February 12 at the High School to the Mothers' Group which has been meeting once every Thursday to discuss the educational problems of the school.

He talked of what it had meant to him personally to have grown up with books, to have had access to fine libraries all his school days until good books had become like good old friends to him. He played a short book review from his musical library and emphasized the importance of a good, organized library in the school.

Due to a teacher's meeting in Medina this Thursday the regular meeting will not be held, but Mrs. Merritt has asked husband, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie will resume next Thursday, Feb- Keegan of San Antonio, ruary 26, with Mr. Schnelle lead- ing the discussion. These meetings have aroused a great deal of enthusiasm among the members of the town and are bound to do a lot of good toward getting the best education possible for their children. These meetings are held from 2 to 4 p.m., in the High School building in the H. E. living room, which is extremely hoped may be turned into a library room. If you haven't attended one of these meetings, try to make it next Thursday, you'll be glad you did.

CONSERVATION • OF • ELOPMENT
BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
SELF-GOVERNMENT

An excellent job of range improvement was recently observed on the Allie Allsup ranch on the West Prong. Mr. Allsup, who was one of the first supervisors of the Bandera SCD has followed his conservation plan closely during the past few years. By using the tools of range management—brush control, deferred grazing and prigen use, Allsup has converted a cedar brake into high producing grassland. Such grasses as Little bluestem, Indian grass, Sidgoats grame, and Texas winter-grass are in abundance. Other highly desirable grasses such, as Texas cupgrass and Big bluestem are also on the increase. By using short deferments, Allsup grows every pasture a rest at some time during the year. This increases plant vigor and allows the plants to form a seed crop for next year. By practicing proper use of the grassland, that is leaving half of each year's production, the maximum forage production can be obtained without serious harm to the plants. Allsup has provided for wildlife cover in his brush control program by leaving the brush in steep headers and canyons for their protection. He has also drilled two wells and developed a spring for stock water in keeping with his program of planned conservation.

About half the above surface growth of grass plants—measured by weight, not length—should be left during the growing period to manufacture food for plant needs. The half harvested by livestock takes care of current expenses and profit. The half that is left keeps the business going from year to year.

BANDERA UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS EX-STUDENTS WILL MEET IN KERRVILLE

The University of Texas ex-students Club of Kerrville extends an invitation to all Hill Country ex-students and their wives and husbands to attend the fun of the traditional Texas Independence day celebration to be held this year the night of Friday, February 27 (not March 2) in having gotten first claim on Bully Gilstrap for speaker ahead of other clubs on ensuing nights.

A cocktail hour starts at 7 with dinner at 8, all in the Bluebonnet Hotel Ballroom. Bully promises his speech will be roaringly cheerful, yet short, to allow for renewing acquaintances throughout an entertainment.

A picture is to be taken of Bully surrounded by all Longhorn athletes attending.

Ex-students outside of Kerrville may come even at the last minute, but it would be most helpful to notify President Josephine Schreiner, vice-president Charles Reinhard, or secretary Helene Randolph Starkey, all in Kerrville, by postcard or any other means not later than February 25, or merely advise Glenion Roberty in Bandera, who will relay the news. The entire cost for the whole evening will be merely $2.50 per person. The night, as stated, is Friday, February 27.

TARPLEY HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

Delicious refreshments of cake and coffee were served.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Harold Reiber on March 5th.

AT LAST

The Story of

Lottie Deno

Her Life and Times

It's authentic . . . It's true! Here is the real story of a Lady Gambler, the most exotic, mysterious, fantastic woman the Old West ever knew . . .

It is on the press and we are inviting you to send your pre-publication order for the late J. Marvin Hunter's last great work.

You will remember the suberb ALBUM OF GUN-FIGHTERS which was published by J. Marvin Hunter in collaboration with Noah H. Rose and Warren Hunter.

Now Mr. Hunter's final masterpiece will soon be off the press. It is The Story of LOTTIE DENO, the mysterious Lady Gambler who so sedately operated in all the Hell-holes of the Old West during the latter part of the nineteenth century. It is an accurate protrayal of the incorruptible Lottie, together with facinating accounts of incidents and description of places, where she played for high stakes and more often than not came off winner.

The book is replete with description of characters who infested rip-roaring old Fort Griffin, El Paso, Silver City, and finally Deming, New Mexico. Among the better known are Doc Holliday, Wyatt Earp, and John Selman. Illustrated with original photographs of Lottie and her acquaintances as well as scenes from the towns where she was active.

Amid surroundings of indescribable viciousness and debauchery the beautiful and fantastic Lottie Deno played her game, remaining aloof and serene, never yielding to the importunities of the times. She was born a lady and carried herself with dignity and grace throughout a long career. Her life span of ninety years is told with truth and conviction by J. Marvin Hunter in this volume, which is being published posthumously by his children.

The Story of LOTTIE DENO will sell for $6.00, but the pre-publication price to you is $4.50. Send your orders by check or money order to

JUNIOR NEWS

Several of the Junior boys and girls had the privilege of riding in the Fat Stock Show parade in San Antonio last Friday. They were spancered by the Bandera Chamber of Commerce and were a fine representation of Bandera.

The Juniors wish to invite all students to the dance they are giving this Friday, February 20, at the Teens' Retreat. The dance will begin at 8:00 p.m., and the admission will be 25 cents per person or 35 cents a couple. We hope everyone will come and enjoy themselves.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

The stock show always causes a great deal of excitement among the third graders.

Nancy Groff went with her family on Saturday. Between the afternoon and night shows, she and Mike enjoyed all the exciting "rides" in the carnival.

Rob Sandidge went to the stock show with his uncle, right after breakfast. They watched the livestock judging. His aunt guessed which animals would win the first and second prizes. She was right both times. Rob saw a beautiful silver saddle.

Raymond Pawvlik's dad had a busy day, Saturday. He built in two new rooms and had them and closed up the places where two other doors had been. While he was working, Raymond's uncle came up in a new Ford station wagon to take them for a ride.

We sang "Happy Birthday" to Eugene Johnson today. He had a birthday party, Saturday, and went to the show, Sunday.

Sunday, Mona Reeve's dad made her a tree house. She took Pepper up into it and he barked at a little squirrel below.

Mrs. Lewis' children, Pat and Mike Wootton and their dad. They caught some perch and had a real good time.

Lee Rouse was exploring a deep hole washed out by heavy rains. In it he saw two old saddles, almost destroyed by the rain and mud. He has been playing cowboy with them.

Jeanne Meginnis and her nice family came out, Sunday, to visit her teacher. Monday morning she gave a lovely oral report to the class about the ten-party the children had, about the little pet lamb "Henry", and about Mr. Focke's pigs. The teacher enjoyed both her visit and her telling about it.

There are glorious spring days to get out into the country—how about coming out to see us sometime?

MRS. SCHNELLE'S SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Saturday, Glenda Kaye Ritchey and her father went to Leakey Sunday; they had a birthday celebration for her brother-in-law.

Howard Hicks attended the San Antonio stock show over the week-end and showed three lambs.

Charmen Hicks was showing a calf, Monday, at the stock show in San Antonio.

Pat Wootton went fishing and hunting over the week-end but didn't have any luck.

The sixth graders are studying about Africa in their geography now. They are learning that Africa has many fine resources that need to be developed. Africa is the second largest continent in the world and has 198 million people. The weather is the topic under discussion in science.

FRESHMAN FACTS

Loads of freshmen boys and girls enjoyed the stock show and rodeo, Saturday.

All week-end, Inez Stricker enjoyed a visit with her grandparents in Pipe Creek.

Sunday afternoon, Judy Mueller, her father, J. J. Mueller, and her brother and sister went home back riding on their ranch near Tarpley.

For Sunday dinner, Camille Rosquist had some guests, Bill Tibbits, J. C. Anderson, and Mrs. J. W. Pulbright, all of whom enjoyed their dinner.

Martha Reddine, Patricia Johnson, and Jean Daniels all enjoyed the midnight show, Friday night.

Saturday, Nancy Herrera went to Kerrville to visit her aunt from San Angelo; then Monday, the week to the show. Nancy really had a busy week-end!

Patty Callahan and her family visited the Edwards ranch, Sunday, and had a weiner roast. Jan and Patty also rode Ambrose, the Edwards' horse.

Mary Freshmen went to the Sweetheart party Saturday night and had a wonderful time there.

SIXTH GRADE "PRIVATE EYES"

Our "private eyes" followed Harold Brooks, Nancy Johnson, Margaret Brown, Johnny Anderwald and Richard Evans, to see "Attilla," Saturday.

The "blood hounds" followed Rocky Stevens to Kerrville, Friday. Saturday, Rocky stayed home and worked. Sunday, our "hounds" followed Rocky, fishing.

Our "private eyes" followed Mike Fitzpatrick to the rodeo, Saturday. Sunday, Mike went to Medina Lake.

Kay Evans was followed by our "blood hounds" to Medina where she visited her grandmother, Sunday. When they were getting ready to leave, her brother fell into the river.

Our "private eyes" report that Patty Schimer stayed home and took care of her brother, Saturday. Sunday, the "private eyes" say that the Shirmers went fishing. Patsy caught a fish, but got away, as the old tale goes.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Now as the echoes of cheers of victory pass on with the end of basketball season, second place rests with our great team of girls. These girls, all of whom we can say, did a great job bringing our team from one far below scoring up to one that has placed second in the district 28-A championship!

The girls would like to thank Coach Tatsch for his time, work, and effort he contributed in helping bring their team on to victory. The many extra hours he spent helping the girls work out offensive and defensive plays was deeply appreciated.

Betty Laskowski, Dottie Vaughn and Elnalee Welch will not be with the team next year, for these players have played their last game of basketball for Bandera High. Their presence on the team contributed much to the team and their school.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The eighth grade students are reliving their short but interesting lives in autobiographies they are writing for language class. Mrs. Vaughn will probably be reading about some very funny experiences.

As you all know the San Antonio Live Stock Exposition attracts visitors each year from miles around, which includes Bandera and the eighth grade class. Those who visited the stock show from the eighth grade were Bonnie Lou Mansfield, Roy Adams, and Edwin Langford. They all reported they had a very nice time.

A couple of months ago the sixth, seventh and eighth grades wrote themes on "Conservation and Citizenship" which was sponsored by the "Fort Worth Telegram." We have four winners out of the eighth grade. They are Kay Wootton, Susan Langford, Claudia Shaw, and Herman Frerich. Congratulations!

Last Friday night, the eighth grade had their class Valentine party. The whole room would like to thank all the mothers who helped to make the party a lot of fun. Thank you!

FOURTH GRADE REPORTS

"Sunday, after church, we went to the rodeo. After the rodeo we visited my grandmother."—Diane Munsch.

"I went to the rodeo, Saturday. I saw Dale Robinson; he sang a pretty song. I saw some clowns."—Diane Fitzpatrick.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Some of you could expect to be superstitious — others overlook the age-old beliefs for very good reasons. Such is the case of our Spotlight Star. Born on March 13, 1941, Bettie Marie Duff has never allowed her "unlucky" birth date to bother her.

In her senior year, she is serving as class treasurer and does a very good job of bookkeeping. The Pun-Pets, too, are very proud of their treasurer.

Besides being a cheerleader, Bettie is very active in sports. She is a member of the volleyball and softball teams. This is her freshman year she was a member of the volleyball team that took first place at the Southside tournament.

For four years she has cheered the Bulldog team to victory as a Pep-Pet member. The F.H.A. has claimed her membership for four years.

This 5 ft. 2½ in. black haired girl has made the high school students' school days very enjoyable. She has a very lively personality and a jolly attitude about everything.

To Bettie we say, "May you always continue to look life right in the face smiling your sunny smile and both the bitter and sweet phases it presents; and your profits will be many."

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The seventh graders want to thank Mrs. Bausch for having their Valentine party at her home. They also want to thank Mr. Tatsch for letting them have the party which everyone really enjoyed. Rhonda Vickery, from Junction, came with Marsha Maass. David Shaw brought Georgie and Stephie Nilsson from Utopia.

They are happy to report that Marsha Maass won first place in the elementary section for her soil conservation. Leannah Roberts won eighth place.

The seventh grade have started graphs in arithmetic which are difficult, but under the supervision of Mr. Tatsch they become easier every day.

Sunday, Lola Rees and family went to San Antonio to bring her sister, Helen, and her new baby boy home from the hospital.

BAND NEWS

The Bandera High School band is making big plans for its annual spring concert. We are still holding sectional rehearsals after school which has improved the sound of each section and the sound of the entire band as a whole. It has given more balance and effect to the music. The date is March 5. We urge you to come out and do your part in supporting the spirit of our band. The concert will be composed of marches and overtures.

Another important event on our calendar will be the bake sale which will take place Saturday, February 28. As an organization, the band has been making remarkable progress on this project. Band students will be knocking on your door selling cakes, pies, muffins, breads, cookies, etc. We assure you, you will receive your money's worth! Call Dottie Vaughn or Marlene Leibold if you want to make a special order.

F. H. A.

The Future Homemakers of America voted in their regular meeting Tuesday to sponsor a campaign for the purpose of gathering clothes for needy children. This campaign is part of the Seventeenth Annual Bundle Day program of Save The Children Federation and will last from February eighteenth through February twenty-fifth.

The clothes will go to the needy children in our area as well as children all over the world. Economic recession and severe natural disasters in under priviledged conditions overseas. In America the need for clothing is especially dire among children who face a winter of grave hardships in our Southern Mountain regions. However, there are needy children in our own community who are in want of clothes and shoes. The clothing collected in this campaign will benefit these needy children; the surplus will be sent to Knoxville, Tennessee, and from there will be distributed to needy children in other areas.

Your participation in the campaign will be greatly appreciated. If you have any clothes you would like to contribute, please contact Sarah Mae Knibbe, SW6-3272, or you may leave the clothes at Earl's Super Market where they will be picked up each day.

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history.

If most people you knew personally in different Texas towns at different times. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and rein in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

FRONTIER TIMES MUSEUM, BANDERA, TEXAS

MISS LAURA DUFFY

Spry little Miss Laura Duffy walks around town with the agility of a young woman in a hurry. She will be 72 next May.

A member of St. Mary's Catholic church, Miss Duffy is almost as permanent a fixture as the statues that adorn the sanctuary. She attends three Masses on Sunday and is in and out of its doors like a fiddler's elbow. Despite her spunk and quick smile, her life has been a hard one. She is living proof that acceptance of God's will is the key to happiness.

Born in Bandera, Texas, on October 20th, 1881, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Duffy, heavily living relative is her brother George, who lives in Manhattan Beach, California. Her parents, three sisters, and other brother have passed away.

She graduated from Bandera High School and began to work in her father's hotel, The Bandera, which was the first two-story hotel in the town. After he died, she sold it for $7,500. After investing $10,000 in oil in San Antonio and losing everything including her brother who died of a heart attack, she suffered a nervous breakdown and spent 20 years in San Antonio State Hospital. What disturbed her most was that she couldn't get to Mass regularly.

Dr. and Mrs. Nassour of Hamilton met her during her last year at the hospital and decided to do something for her. She began working and living in the Nassour's home while taking care of the children.

When his hospital was turned over to the Oblate Sisters from Canada, she decided to come to Austin to the Parkview Rest Home at 56 East St., where she is now. She has been here for a year.

She is a member of the Third Order of St. Francis, and an auxiliary member of Legion of Mary.

Her hobbies are reading and walking. She usually reads Catholic newspapers and when she walks, it is usually to St. Mary's. Her television is usually restricted to quiz shows, and she is presently trying to figure out the new "Concentration' program.

A small woman, she admits to a natural sensitivity about how tall she is but laughs when she says that when a hospital once marked her down as three feet and some inches, the doctor changed it to four feet tall and so she uses his statistics.

Children often speak to her and are even more often edified by her religious devotion. One little girl asked her, "Have you been a little girl all your life?" It is typical of Miss Duffy that she remembers this as one of the nicest things ever said to her.

The chances are that when it is time for Miss Duffy to go she will be in church either saying her Third Order Office of St. Francis, lighting candles beneath St. Anthony's statue, her favorite saint, or saying the Stations of the Cross. Until that time, she'll be happy and contented to walk and help the patients at Parkview Rest Home.—From The Sunday Visitor by Don Becker.

Cooked WHIRL CAKE COFFEE CAKE

Hot or cold, served early on a working morning or late on a Sunday, Cornmeal Whirl Coffee Cake makes a new and delicious day-starter. A really fresh twist on breakfast cakes, it's clever in shape, unusually rich in flavor, and very different in method. No measuring, mix, or kneed required—no rising time—just follow these speedy directions:

Cornmeal Whirl Coffee Cake

Open 1 can Quick Cornmeal Nut Rolls from the grocer's dairy case; cut dough into 8 slices. Crumble topping into small bowl. Unwind each slice and press into ½ cup packed batter of mixture; then into crumbled topping. Twist a strip and wind into a coil in center of greased 9 inch round layer pan. Repeat with remaining strips, coiling them around first strip to fill pan, making one round coffee cake. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Cool a few minutes before removing from pan. While warm, drizzle with a glaze of ½ cup confectioners' sugar and 1 to 2 teaspoons milk.

John Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Weed of Medina were in Bandera Monday. We are glad to have Mr. Reed out again since his major operation and treatment in the hospital. We hope he will continue to improve and be entirely well soon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Beard of Baldinger and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Beard of Austin were the week-end guests of Mrs. Monroe Wier.

BELOVED TEACHER PRESENTED LIFE MEMBERSHIP

One of Bandera's best loved teachers, Mrs. E. R. (Knowles Witcher) Teel was honored at the regular Founder's Day meeting of the Bandera Parent Teacher Association Tuesday evening and presented a life membership in the Association. The presentation came as a surprise to Mrs. Teel, who was also elected and initiated into Epsilon Theta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma at Fredericksburg, Texas, on February 14, 1959.

Mrs. Teel was born in Sonora, Texas, and graduated from high school in Lampasas, Texas. She attended Baylor College, Howard Payne College and the University of Texas and Trinity University. She holds two degrees, one bachelor of science and the other master of education. (She is shown here reading her thesis.)

In 1929 Knowles Witcher was happily married to E. R. Teel and came to Bandera to live. She has taught for the past thirty-one years, twenty-six of those years in the Bandera public schools. She is the mother of one fine son, Jimmie Teel, who is married, has one child and lives in California.

Mrs. Teel is a member of the Baptist Church, Order of the Eastern Star, Texas State Teacher's Association, Parent Teacher Association, Texas Poetry Society and the Bandera Chapter American Red Cross. She is doing a splendid service with the Home Service of the Red Cross and many families may well thank her for assistance in many ways during their times of need.

One of her most loved endeavors is that of writing poetry and many of her delightful poems are used every day on programs, in magazines especially those stressing the sentiments of the home.

She is a worker in the Beginner Department of the Baptist Sunday School, Past Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, Past Vice-President of the Childhood Education Association of the Alamo District TSTA, Past President of the Bandera Parent Teacher Association.

Poems and articles by Mrs. Teel have appeared in the Texas Outlook, State Parent Teacher Magazine and in other acknowledged poetry magazines and anthologies. Each year she contributes some writing to the school in writing plays used in school programs.

She said, "I'm glad to be a teacher. Each day in the classroom with children is a privilege, a thrill and a blessing. Working with little ones is like tending flowers in a heavenly garden.

Her vocation is teaching and her hobby is writing. This quotation might sum up some of the things Mrs. Teel means:

"Beyond my time—when I am dust
And deeds seem few and hard to score;
If one should read my poems and trust
His fellowman—I ask no more."

Hal Locklin of Taft spent several days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Locklin while Mr. Locklin was in the hospital in Kerrville.

MRS. LOCKLIN'S MOTHER PASSED AWAY SATURDAY

We extend sincere sympathy to Mrs. P. W. Locklin at the death of her beloved mother, Mrs. Louisa Pfeiffer Swarz, age 81, who passed away suddenly Saturday morning, February 21, 1959.

Mrs. Swarz was well known in this community as she had visited many times in the Locklin home here.

She was born in the Boerne community to early German pioneers and was the daughter of original German settlers. She had resided in Boerne all her life, and reared her family there.

BAND CONCERT TO BE HELD AT GYM THURSDAY NIGHT

The product resulting from many toilsome hours by many students in the music program of our school will be unveiled Thursday evening, March 5, as Director John Sommer gives the downbeat marking the beginning of another concert in blue and white. The program, slated to begin at eight o'clock, will include music played by three groups, numbering almost one hundred students active in the instrumental music program.

The concert program includes a complete variety of music ranging from street marches to music by the familiar masters of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. All in all, it promises to be a very enjoyable evening of music for all in Bandera and neighboring communities."

The concert, as by coincidence, comes toward the latter part of Public Schools Week, when particular attention is focused on the school system. With this concert you are likely to take a closer look at the music program to see the values of student participation in this type of activity. The musical and technical ability sufficient for playing in a concert is only a small portion constituting the goal of band work. Satisfaction of inborn drives in musical aptitude is partially effected, group participation and organization is provided through various concerts, contests, clinics, and festivals, and a finer appreciation for better music is constantly pursued.

The efforts of these students of music will be greatly rewarded by your presence at next Thursday's concert in the gymnasium. Please come and enjoy the concert.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

"Conflicting Interests"

Bill Jones had been in an automobile accident and felt that he should be able to recover damages from the driver of the other car. He went to see Lawyer Smith, and, in the course of telling Smith his story, it developed that the driver of the other car was insured by a company represented by Smith.

As soon as Smith learned this fact, he stopped Bill from telling him any more about the case and explained that he could not represent him. Smith pointed out that the "conflicting interest" resulting from his representation of the insurance company prevented him from representing Bill. He said he owed it to Bill not to hear anything from him which he might use against him if the matter were taken to court.

The situation outlined above illustrates one of the basic principles in the ethics of a lawyer, namely, that he cannot represent "conflicting interests." Basically, this is but the lawyer's way of phrasing the old axiom that a man cannot serve two masters. A lawyer's duty is to give his full and complete efforts to his client and he cannot do that if there is a conflict between the interests of two of them. The reasoning behind this rule is that a lawyer should not appear in court representing both sides of a controversy.

If both Bill and the insurance company are regular clients of Smith, then it is Smith's duty to refuse to represent either one of them in case of altercation between the two.

If attorney Smith is one of a group of lawyers practicing together as a partnership, then he must be careful not only of avoiding a conflict of interest between the clients he is personally serving, but between the clients and other clients of the partnership as well.

As far as Smith is concerned, in determining whether there is a conflict of interests, any client of his partners is his client and vice versa.

There are, of course, cases where a lawyer may represent more than one of the parties to the same transaction without violating the rule of professional conduct against serving interests which conflict. Such a situation might develop where two old clients of the same lawyer were purchasing and selling a piece of property, if both clients so desired and understood, the lawyer might, with complete propriety look after the interests of both in such a transaction.

Generally, however, the lawyer will be very careful to scrutinize such situations. Therefore, if a lawyer should tell you that he cannot represent you because he already represents "conflicting interests," remember that he is only seeking to protect your interests.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mansfield have just returned from a delightful trip to Washington, D. C., where they attended the Rural Electrification Association convention. They left here January 28 by car and spent the first night in Clifton, Texas, with Mr. and Mrs. Ab Hayes. From there they went on to Blue Springs, Missouri, for a visit with their daughter and her family, Rev. and Mrs. Harold Brann. They left their car and made the rest of the trip to Washington by train. They changed trains at Chicago, so got to see some of the "Windy City". From Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, they made a trip over to New York City, about a four hour ride, where they spent Saturday night and Sunday sight-seeing in that great metropolis. Touring by bus they enjoyed seeing many places of interest including Manhattan and Government Island, Statue of Liberty, UN Building and many other places. They visited the oldest Chinese shops in New York and Mrs. Mansfield brought back a Chinese relic from there. In Washington they were taken on a guided tour through the White House where they saw President Eisenhower's office, visited with Congressman O. C. Fisher of Texas, visited the Jefferson and Lincoln memorial, the Arlington cemetery. The weather was fine for traveling and sightseeing and both enjoyed the trip, but they were both glad to be at home again.

Mrs. J. E. Dean, and Mrs. Buster Schmidt and daughter, Brenda Sue, visited their uncle, Willis Ellis, who is a patient at the Legion Hospital in Kerrville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Wood and children of this place, Marvin Dean of D'Hanis, went to Kingsville Sunday to bring Mrs. Marvin Dean home. She has been there to help care for Mrs. Hope Dean, who is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vol Chism.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Terrell and grandson, Mark Downing of Corpus Christi, another little grandson, Mike Melton, of Castroville, came up Saturday night to spend the week-end at their place here. Mrs. A. A. Jeffers returned home with them, after visiting in the Jack Melton home last week, she returned with them to San Antonio Tuesday for a medical check-up.

SAN ANTONIO SPORT AND BOAT SHOW SET FOR OPENING

Bulging at the seams after two fabulously successful previous years, the San Antonio Sport and Boat Show will open March 3 at the Bexar County Coliseum with more exhibits, entertainment and special events than ever before.

The south's largest sports show will run six days, through March 8 and an estimated 125,000 spectators will pour through the gates.

Miss Charlcie Amos

MEDINA TEACHER BECOMES MEMBER OF DELTA KAPPA GAMMA

On February 14, in Fredericksburg, Miss Charlsie Amos was initiated into the Epsilon Theta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma. This honor was given to Miss Amos because of many years of service in the teaching profession —service which started in a one-teacher school in Texas and included work as an elementary principal in Texas and Oklahoma schools, college instructor, extension worker, county home demonstration agent, and teacher of homemaking in secondary schools in Oklahoma and Texas.

She has made a number of contributions to the field of education. Most of those contributions can, of course, be measured in the quality of the work that has been done by pupils who have studied under her teaching. Also, she made a study of the "Use of Playback in Consumer Education". This study was a forerunner of the tape recorder which is in common use in education work today.

Miss Amos received her Bachelor's Degree from North Texas State Teachers College in 1924 and in 1940 received a Master's Degree from the same institution. She has also studied in Oklahoma University, Oklahoma A and M, and Colorado Teachers' College. After graduating from college she taught foods at North Texas State Agricultural Junior College at Arlington, Texas. Later, her interests took her into extension work in Oklahoma; then for almost ten years she worked as a county home demonstration agent. Since 1942 she has been teaching homemaking in various secondary schools of Oklahoma and Texas.

During her many years of teaching she has well earned the title of "Outstanding Woman Educator" and is well qualified to be a member of Delta Kappa Gamma.

BELOVED COUPLE CELEBRATE 50 YEARS OF MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Olds, beloved couple of Medina, were honored at a "surprise" open house in the Methodist Youth Center in Medina Friday evening in commemoration of their Golden Wedding Anniversary, when friends gathered, bringing gifts, flowers and wishes. The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Olds, Frank F. Olds of Oklahoma City and Elizabeth Olds of Hobbs, N. M. Mexico were assisted by The Rose Garden Club members of Medina and the WSCS in making the affair so successful and delightful.

Preceding the surprise party Mr. and Mrs. Olds entertained a few of their most intimate friends with a lovely dinner at the Tea Cafe. The table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a beautiful arrangement of flowers and candles. After the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Olds were escorted to the Youth Center for the surprise.

The refreshment table there was covered with a beautiful cut-work cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow gladiolus, jasmine, chrysanthemums, asters and green foliage. Mrs. Elmer Morgan decorated the delicious cake with appropriate gold design. Cake and punch was served.

Mrs. Olds looked charming. Her corsage was yellow gladiolus and a single huge orchid. Mr. Olds wore the traditional white buttonniere.

After the guests assembled Rev. Elmer Morgan, pastor of the Methodist Church, renewed their marriage vows in an impressive manner.

Mrs. Olds was born Lulu V. Lilley in Pottsville, Pennsylvania, and Mr. Olds was born in Springfield, Illinois. They were married on February 20, 1909, in Wilmington, Delaware. To bless their union two fine children were born, Frank F. Olds, now of Oklahoma City, and Maude Elizabeth McCall of New Mexico. The son and his charming wife were present to help his parents celebrate their anniversary, however the daughter was unable to attend.

MRS. HUBBARD BUYS 82 ROOM HOTEL EDINBURG

Friends here will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Stella Hubbard has moved away from Bandera, but will be pleased to learn that she has purchased the famous 82 room Hotel Edinburg, at Edinburg, Texas, and wish her every success in her new venture.

Mrs. Hubbard purchased Edinburg Hotel from L. C. Bolton. The price she paid for the four-story brick building with 82 rooms, located on the square south of the Edinburg court house, is estimated at more than $100,000.00.

Mrs. Hubbard has successfully operated the Silver Spur, one of Bandera's most famous and popular resorts, located high on the hills overlooking the city of Bandera, for the past 25 years. Recently she sold the Silver Spur and had intended to retire, but decided to go back into business, so, bought the hotel at Edinburg, and has already taken over the operation of it. The Hotel Edinburg is located in the heart of Edinburg, and besides the 82 rooms has a beauty shop, barbershop, cafeteria, novelty shop, insurance and real estate office, record shop and the Western Union office, in it. It is modern and up-to-date.

Mrs. Hubbard has been a resident of Bandera most of her life and in business here for over a quarter of a century. She has been actively interested in the civic and cultural affairs of the county during that time. She was a charter member of the Bandera Chamber of Commerce, a member of the board and served that organization as secretary-treasurer for four years. She was a member of the ETA, Eastern Star, Fine Arts Club and the Bandera Methodist Church. She has one daughter, Mrs. Wayne Chipman, of Temple, Texas, and one granddaughter.

Mrs. Erle Mansfield and Mrs. Ashley Rugh went to Uvalde Tuesday where Mrs. Mansfield visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Adams and sons. Mrs. Rugh visited in the home of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nick C. Finley, also. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Julia Allen, and her little nephew.

'HAPPY TALK' IS 'IN LOVE AND WAR'

France Nuyen, the beautiful Eurasian girl who has been captivating audiences in the film version of "South Pacific," though she speaks only six words in the whole picture, finally gets a chance to prove that she can talk, and act.

Starred in Jerry Wald's production of "In Love and War," Twentieth Century-Fox Cinema-Scope Dr. Lane Color film showing Sunday and Monday at the Bantex Theatre, France plays the role of a French-Hawaiian nurse who falls in love with Bradford Dillman, playing a combat Marine from an aristocratic family.

Robert Wagner, Dana Wynter, Jeffery Hunter, Hope Lange and Sherge North are also starred in the Philip Dunne directed film.

France got her first break while working as a part-time model and salesgirl in New York City, where she had come with her mother from France. She was convinced that an interview with Joshua Logan for the "South Pacific" role had been a failure when she got a call from former cover girl, Candy Jones, now an agent, to tell her that she'd won the part.

She was so excited she knocked over a tray of baked goods in the elite bakery where she worked.

The role gave France a chance to work with established veterans like Ray Walston and Juanita Hall, an experience which has helped her find her own place in acting.

In "In Love and War," she plays a lonely girl who falls in love too quickly with Dillman, and is one of four women whose love story is told in the picturization of the best-selling Anton Myrer novel, "The Big War."

BULLDOG BASKETBALL STATISTICS FOR 1959

The Bandera Bulldogs finished over the .500 mark for the first time in some years as they completed the 1959 season posting a 14-12 record. Their string of victories included second place finishes in the Bandera and Medina Tournaments, a second place finish in the Utopia tournament which gained for them three sportsmanship and all tourney trophies. In the District 27-A competition the Bulldogs finished fourth among the six league teams with a 4-5 record. Both Boerne and Schertz Cibilo tied for the district championship. Boerne, by means of their play-off victory over the Buffs, will represent 27-A in the state play-offs.

Next year, Bandera is expected to be stronger still as they lose only three by graduation. However, Pres Word, Joe King, and James Herrera will all be missed in the Bulldog line-up. Word, who is an all-district nominee, finished the high among Bandera scores with 364 total points on 23 games for an 11 point per game average. Earl Keese led in field goal accuracy with 69 of 179 for a 38.6 shooting percentage. Pres Word also led in free throws with 68 points as he hit 66 of 103 for a 64.1 percentage.

As a whole the Bulldogs scored 1168 points in 26 games for a 42.6 average compared to opponents 1023 points for a 39.3 average. Opponents had better field accuracy with 32. per cent against the locals 31.1 per cent. Bandera led in free throw accuracy—55.5 per cent to opponents 52.8 per cent. The Bulldogs also held advantage at the backboard picking off 27 rebounds a game as compared to opponents 23 a game.

RALPH YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

When Communist jet fighter pilots pressed their trigger buttons and mercilessly shot down an unarmed U. S. Air Force plane and its 17-man crew recently, they invited a future world war, a controversy. And they involved 17 families—two of them from Texas—in the deepest of all tragedies.

Our airmen have paid the price of thousands of our heroes and have paid them honor and respect. But I feel we must go much further than this. Aside from praise, let's see what concrete actions will prevent a repetition and people can take. Right now, all the families of these men with respect other than this enemy's condolences and gratitude, is a small Social Security allotment and a little money to pay for the plane's fuel. I think this nation can and should do much more.

I'm thinking particularly now of their children. To help all the children who find themselves without a father because he, is killed while being required to serve in our armed forces, I have introduced a bill to help them with their education through special allowances up to 36 months.

Before January 31, 1955, if a soldier died in service or from a disability he acquired in the service, his children were entitled to be helped to complete their education. My bill would extend those provisions through June 30, 1963.

I think this help for the children is the very least a grateful nation can do for the families of men who die in the armed forces, protecting the peace and keeping themselves prepared to defend us in armed conflict if the need should ever arise.

OFFICE MEMORANDUM

By Price Daniel
Governor of Texas

Austin, Texas

Greetings:

Today, more than ever before, the importance of our schools is being realized by an awakened nation. A new perspective has been taken on by education, both in scientific and liberal arts fields.

As we rush to train scientists and place satellites in outer space, however, it is important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders of tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

In an effort to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, the citizens of our communities are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with the respective school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

For the past nine years Public Schools Week in Texas has been set aside as a special time each year to place increased emphasis on our educational system. Parent visitation is encouraged and each citizen is urged to recognize the tremendous importance of our public schools.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 2-6, 1959, as Public Schools Week in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 7th day of January, 1959.

PRICE DANIEL
(SEAL) Governor of Texas.

Mrs. Norris Knibbe and daughter, Miss Sarah Mae, went to Medina Sunday to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Jackson. We are pleased to report Mrs. Jackson greatly improved from her recent eye operation and hope she will continue to get well fast. Other recent visitors to Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Jackson and son of Ash Flat, Arkansas. After a medical check-up in Houston Mrs. Royce Jackson returned to her home in Ash Flat where Tommy is in school, but Royce remained for a longer visit with his parents.

••• That sometimes people forget how hard it was to get electricity on the farm. He says the people had to build their own systems through electric cooperatives. Sometimes they had to set miles of line just to serve a few people, but that was part of the bargain. My dad says the job isn't finished. He says when I grow up I will have to help pay back the money we borrowed and the interest we owe. But most important my Dad says we must keep reminding people that the Electric Cooperatives have done nothing but good things and that our only purpose now or ever is Rural Electrification.

SERIES E AND H BONDS TOTAL $486 MILLION IN JANUARY

Washington, D. C.—The Treasury reported today that Series E and H Savings Bond sales in January totalled $486 million. In addition, holders of E bonds that were bought previously earned interest of $119 million.

Total E and H redemptions for January amounted to $526 million. This represents original cost price of $490 million, plus accumulated interest of $36 million.

The net increase after all redemptions in the cash value of E and H bonds outstanding during the month of January was $79 million, which brings the total value of the holdings of E's and H's to a record high of $42,668 million.

In comparison with January 1958—biggest sales month in the past three years—combined E and H sales were off 5 per cent. But H bond sales alone set a three-year record with $111 million.

Last month's sales of $486 million represent 9.7 per cent of the Treasury's 1959 E and H bond goal of $5 billion.

In discussing the State meeting which will be held in Galveston on September 16-18 at the Moody Center in that city, Mrs. Paul Garrison suggested that delegates be sent on-instructed, so that they might vote as they see fit on pertinent issues.

Mrs. Merritt asked that work sheets be in by May 1.

She also reported that the District THDA Meeting will be held in Ballinger on April 16 and that Banders is to present a 10 minute skit on the day's program, on first aid and civil defense, so Council members held a discussion and planned the skit.

After a short business session Mrs. Richard Stevens gave a very interesting demonstration on "wardrobe planning and accessories." Mrs. Hensley, Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Hayes gave several first aid demonstrations, after which the group played several games with Mrs. Pue, Mrs. Wyatt and Mrs. Hayes winning prizes.

AT LAST

The Story of

Lottie Deno

Her Life and Times

It's authentic . . . It's true! Here is the real story of a Lady Gambler, the most exotic, mysterious, fantastic woman the Old West ever knew . . .

It is on the press and we are inviting you to send your pre-publication order for the late J. Marvin Hunter's last great work.

You will remember the superb ALBUM OF GUN-FIGHTERS which was published by J. Marvin Hunter in collaboration with Noah H. Rose and Warren Hunter.

Now Mr. Hunter's final masterpiece will soon be off the press. It is The Story of LOTTIE DENO, the mysterious Lady Gambler who so sedately operated in all the Hell-holes of the Old West during the latter part of the nineteenth century. It is an accurate protrayal of the incorruptible Lottie, together with facinating accounts of incidents and description of places, where she played for high stakes and more often than not came off winner.

The book is replete with description of characters who infested rip-roaring old Fort Griffin, El Paso, Silver City, and finally Deming, New Mexico. Among the better known are Doc Holliday, Wyatt Earp, and John Selman. Illustrated with original photographs of Lottie and her acquaintances as well as scenes from the towns where she was active.

Amid surroundings of indescribable viciousness and debauchery the beautiful and fantastic Lottie Deno played her game, remaining aloof and serene, never yielding to the importunities of the times. She was born a lady and carried herself with dignity and grace throughout a long career. Her life span of ninety years is told with truth and conviction by J. Marvin Hunter in this volume, which is being published posthumously by his children.

The Story of LOTTIE DENO will sell for $6.00, but the pre-publication price to you is $4.50. Send your orders by check or money order to

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Celebrating her eighteenth birthday today is the whirl of energy and vivacity currently called "Beanie" by her many admiring friends in BHS.

This fun-loving Senior with brown hair and hazel eyes has been seen during her first three years in high school by Bulldog fans as the "peppy" cheerleader helping to raise spirits among the spectators.

Characteristic of her animated personality, she has also served as cheerleader for the Mustangs during the last year of her grade school education at St. Joseph's. During this time Beanie was also a member of the 4-H Club for four years.

Though her main activities have been in the athletic field—softball and volleyball—she has also found time to participate in various organizations in high school; she has been a member of Pep-Petz—serving as secretary and vice-president—the Future Homemakers of America and the Catholic Youth Society.

After graduation, Albina Dugosh is looking forward to an exciting career as an airlitn stewardess; if wishes help, Beanie should have complete success in her chosen field, because we—the Seniors of '59—wish her all the happiness in the world.

COUNTY TEACHERS MEET IN MEDINA

Every teacher in Bandera county belongs to the Texas State Teachers Association. They are proud of this fact and proud of the fact that they all attend the regularly scheduled meetings unless illness or something very important prevents their going.

On Thursday, February 19, the local unit of the TSTA met in the Medina Methodist educational building and were refreshed with delicious cake and coffee, served by the homemaking girls, as the group arrived.

At the business meeting, presided over by Joe King, they voted to support the campaign of a Texan for the next president of the National Educator's Association.

Chester Braun gave an interesting and informative report on his recent trip to Austin to work for the success of the Hale-Aikin recommendations for school improvements in Texas. A district meeting at Edison High School in San Antonio will be held at 7:30 p.m., on February 27th to discuss this legislative program. Parents as well as teachers are urged to attend this meeting.

Announcement was made of the meeting of the Alamo district of the TSTA in San Antonio on Friday, March thirteenth. The school children will have a holiday on this day while their teachers attend meetings.

Joe King was elected official delegate to this meeting with the power of an uninstructed vote. His expenses to the meeting are to be paid by the local unit.

To select officers for next year, a nominating committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. Ray-mond Hicks, Chester Brown, Mrs. Melvin Fitzgerald.

Miss Thelma Gallant, who is in the Kerrville hospital, was greatly missed; the treasurer, Mrs. Taylor Wootton, was asked to express to her our best wishes for a speedy recovery.

The program chairman, A. P. Barecky, presented an excellent movie entitled, "All God's Children". The thought was expressed by a number of the teachers present that parents would profit also by seeing it. Work for better schools is a community project and deserves the complete support of every member of the community.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

Left week the San Antonio stock show was visited by four eighth graders. They were Kay Wootton, who went Wednesday, Sharon Cox, Annette Miller, and Bobby Moeller, who went Saturday afternoon. Seeing the rodeo and Dale Robertson gave a big thrill to all of them.

The Girl Scout troop of Bandera had a party, Friday night, at the Episcopal church. All who attended reported they enjoyed it immensely.

Last Saturday, the annual Mustang Football Banquet was held in our gym. As a result the eighth grade has seen some beautiful red and white delgts lately. We are very proud of Richard Braden, Walter Causey, Herman Previch, John Poche, Bill Langford, and Bobby Mueller who received their jackets Thursday.

THE SIXTH GRADE "PRIVATE EYES"

The "private eyes" followed Harold Brooks, Nancy Johnson, Richard Evans, Margaret Brown, Rocky Stevens, and Johnny Anderwald to the show Saturday.

The "hounds" followed Kay Evans to Comfort, Saturday.

Our "private eyes" followed Margaret Brown, Harold Brooks, Kay Evans, Nancy Johnson, and Mike Fitzpatrick to the Girl Scout party.

Our "hounds" followed Rocky Stevens to Old Mexico, Sunday.

Nancy Johnson's sister, Jane Buck, and her husband and son, Roy, came to see her this week-end.

We are very busy getting ready for six weeks tests.

If you would like to place an order, call Dottie Vawter, Marilyn Leibold. It will be delivered to you as quickly as possible.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

Many third graders were on hand for the Sunday rodeo at the stock show in San Antonio. Ray-mond Pawelik loved seeing the Shetland ponies and the clowns. John Hamilton, Rix Matthews, Dick Mueller, Aleta Roberts, and Rob Sandidge were all there too, having a great time.

Nancy Groff with her family went to the stock show, pulling a trailer with Nancy's horse in it. They stopped at the side of the road when they thought they had a flat tire. Nancy's ensuet horse kicked open the tail gate of her trailer and got out. Her dad finally caught her, after a merry chase and Nancy got to ride in the "Grand Entry" of the rodeo.

Rob Sandidge had a little private rodeo of his own at home. He got on his mother's pet billy goat, pulled a stubborn old mule around the yard. He even tried to ride the mule but had to give up and get down.

Karen Anderwald stayed indoors and colored pictures Saturday because of the rain. She and her dad ate most of the cake her mother baked on Friday. Outside, two horses got into a shed and got flour all over them. She said that they looked a sight!

Joy Vawter's mother was feeding her new, little grandson his cereal. His had his fill soon and the cereal went all over them. She hopes it was an accident but the same thing did happen twice!

We may be slow in saying anything about it, but we do appreciate the lovely Valentine party Mrs. Meador and her committee arranged for our class. The cookies were delicious and we know you are the most enthusiastic group of mothers we have ever seen. You not only send things for the parties, but you come to see the little ones enjoy it. Bless you!

SENIOR SCOOPS

Six weeks exams are once again imposing upon the study schedule of the Seniors. It is rather difficult for them to realize that there are only two weeks left of school in their school career. What will they do then? This question is constantly confronting every member of the Class of '59. Some of course, have their future planned; others are totally in the dark as to what lies ahead. Marriage, teaching, stenography, and serving Uncle Sam are the most popular occupations presented—as conversation pieces and permanent positions.

For the moment, the major interest centers around graduation and all connected with the hubbub of that occasion. Possibilities of the Senior Play are also being discussed, although no definite decision has as yet been made.

All in all, the final year of high school is proving to be not only a great amount of work, but also a challenge in which the Seniors either prove their worth, or fall by the wayside.

FRESHMAN FACTS

Camille Rouquist had an enjoyable week-end. She went to the Girl Scout party Friday night and went to the rodeo Saturday. Sunday she visited John Selig. He was her grandmother's horse. Apache. Mrs. Fuitterath and her grandson Bill Tibbits had Sunday dinner with her. Quite a week-end, Camille!

Saturday, Nancy Herrera went to San Antonio and Monroe, and Sunday she went to the show in Kerrville.

Judy Mueller went to the rodeo Saturday and enjoyed it immensely. Sunday Mary Evelyn McShane came to visit with the Muellers while her parents are away.

Inez Stricker stayed with her grandparents in Pipe Creek over the week-end.

The freshman homemaking class prepared their last meal for this year. Now they will be sewing a skirt and blouse. The girls have now started their second home project.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

As another Six Weeks rolls around, the seventh grade is now studying even harder to make good grades. They hope there will be more on the honor roll this six weeks.

They have started formulas in arithmetic. For most of the seventh grade it has been easy.

Leeannah Roberts and some of her friends went to the San Antonio live stock show and rodeo. She said they saw Dale Robertson in person and got to talk to him.

Friday, Patricia Vaughn went ice skating in San Antonio. It was her first time on skates, but she said that the fun was worth the effort of learning how.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in graphic style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

Bandera is fortunate to have such a noted and interesting speaker as Dr. Stout who usually speaks to much larger towns than Bandera.

P. W. LOCKLIN RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

Friends here will be glad to learn that P. W. Locklin has returned home from several days stay in the Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital in Kerrville, where he underwent treatment last week for Stomach ulcers. Mr. Locklin was given seven pints of blood while there and is now getting along fine at his home here since returning Sunday.

Mr. Locklin in speaking to a Bulletin reporter Tuesday told of the fine, speedy, efficient treatment he received at the hospital in the emergency when he needed blood so badly, and highly praised the Red Cross blood program being carried on by Kerr county.

Many Bandera citizens receive blood at the Peterson Hospital during a year's time. Some time ago John Shuptrine received 15 pints and there are others who benefit by the blood program.

It is to be regretted that Bandera county is no longer in the Red Cross Blood Program, but it is hoped that the citizens here will go to Kerrville and donate blood to keep the program going in the Hill Country.

BANDERA PARENT TEACHERS OBSERVE FOUNDER'S DAY

In observance of the Parent Teacher's Founder's Day an interesting and delightful program was presented at the Bandera Public School Tuesday evening by the local Parent Teacher Association.

Mrs. J. O. Evans, Association president, presided at the meeting which featured several musical selections by John Sommer's fourteen members of the Fifth Grade Band. Mrs. A. B. Lewis, was leader for the Founder's Day program when Mrs. E. R. Teel, first grade teacher, was honored by the Association, and presented with a life membership in the organization. In keeping with the theme of the program Mrs. Lewis presented "Mrs. PTA, This Is Your Life," with Mrs. Teel the dominant character. Those who participated in this program were Mrs. Raymond Hicks, Mrs. Bill Short, Joe King, Mrs. Teel, Marvin Schneele, Mrs. Taylor Wootton, Mrs. Joe King, A. B. Lewis. Mr. Lewis made the presentation of the membership to Mrs. Teel.

Mrs. Lewis praised Mrs. Teel's work in the school and said, "You know it has been said a number of times that good teachers make good schools and poor teachers can ruin a school with a million dollar plant. All the good teachers are not in the big schools. We have picked out one of our own faculty members, one who has become to a number of you a symbol of the good teacher—Mrs. E. R. Teel."

As part of the Founder's Day program, a special tribute was paid to the charter members of the old Mother's Club and the Parent-Teachers Association, including Mrs. J. W. Short Sr., the first president of the Mother's Club, Mrs. Mary Langford and Mrs. Norma Davenport.

Judge Glendon Roberts, local attorney, used as the subject of his splendid address, "Education—Inclusive or Exclusive?" Mr. Roberts stressed the various points of education and said, "In this age when intellectual excellence should certainly be rewarded special attention to the gifted student is a noble and worthwhile goal of our public schools. However, there are some people who have perverted this objective and have used it as a weapon against adequate expenditures for all pupils. Our schools must serve every child, regardless of his competence or incompetence in intellectual occupations."

"The Rockefeller report also points out we must never confuse differences in talents with differences in human worth. It must be at all times possible for us to cultivate the idea of excellence while we retain the moral values of equality.

"As parents we must keep clearly before us what the purpose of public education is in a democracy such as ours. It is not, and I hope never will be, a contest to select a winner. It is, instead, a process by which every child—the bright child, the slow child, the indifferent or handicapped child—is helped to realize his own highest potential."

During a short business meeting reports of committees were heard, and the new science teacher, Miss Linda Ryan, was introduced.

Following the meeting the delicious Founder's Day cake baked by PTA President Mrs. J. O. Evans, was served with coffee to the members and guests in the homemaking room of the school.

GOAL OF $1816 ANNOUNCED AT RED CROSS "KICK OFF" COFFEE

Red Cross fund raisers met at the Country Club Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock to "kick off" the annual drive for funds. The interesting meeting was opened by Mrs. Paul Garrison, chairman of the annual drive who welcomed the workers and paid them a tribute of praise for their loyal support of the Red Cross. Mrs. Garrison stressed the fact that the drive will be hard work to raise the $1816.00, the goal set.

"On the job when you need it most" said Mrs. Garrison is the Red Cross slogan. The function of the 3700 Red Cross chapters in the United States and around the world is "people helping people."

Ralph Husted, State Relations Representative with 16 counties under his supervision, spoke to the group on the work of the Red Cross and paid the Bandera County Chapter a tribute for the splendid work carried on from year to year and the successful campaigns conducted by this chapter. He said, "Red Cross helps to make our community a better place in which to live. Texans are still famous for their neighborliness. Red Cross is the link between the service man and their families. It is prepared to care for people in case of disaster where there is trouble and great suffering.. In time of war the International Red Cross supervises the negotiations between countries for the exchange of prisoners, liberation of service men, and many other phases of relations between the countries of the world."

Mr. Husted spoke on the benefits of the Red Cross blood program, home nursing courses available where persons may learn how to care for the sick in the home. He also stressed the importance of the water safety program, the swimming classes for all ages, and commended Mrs. Arthur Hayes, Water Safety chairman, on her part in saving lives by her work in this phase of Red Cross work. He told that one of the most outstanding hazards in Texas was its lakes, where many accidents take place.

He wound up his fine talk with the sentiment "to make life as pleasant as possible for those in need" is one of the prime aims of the Red Cross.

L. L. Bright, local businessman and County Chairman of the Red Cross, gave a brief and to the point pep talk.

Mrs. G. M. Merritt, co-chairman of the fund raising drive discussed briefly her part in securing funds and their disposition and it was agreed that all monies would be turned in to Mrs. G. M. Merritt and Mrs. Paul Garrison.

It was pointed out that if the goal of $1816.00 was reached $841.00 would go into the National treasury while $975.00 would stay in the local treasury. County quotas are based on population, effective buying income and experience in fund raising.

Mr. Bright reported that an instructor class in senior swimming would be held in Kerrville in the summer, dates and place to be announced later.

After the workers were handed their hats the group enjoyed coffee and donuts. Mrs. Clay Short headed the arrangement committee for the fine meeting.

Those present were: Mrs. Allen Reese, Mrs. A. J. Flowers, Mrs. Isabel Anderson, Mrs. Paul Garrison, of Medina; Mrs. A. Hayes, Mrs. Russell Blair, Mrs. Calvin Wedgeworth, Mrs. Jim D. Fisher, Mrs. G. M. Merritt, Mrs. John Saul, Mrs. Leon Shields, Mrs. J. C. Short, Mrs. Peter Briggs, L. L. Bright and the guest speaker, Ralph Husted and his wife.

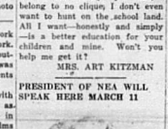
MRS. ART KITZMAN ASKS FOR BOARD OF TRUSTEES POST



I want to run for the School Board at the next election to be held April 4, not because several of the gentlemen have not served the board well for a long long time, but because there ought to be a woman on the School Board—if not me, then some other conscientous wife and mother.

Because it seems to serve on a Board of Education a person should have some education I mention mine—five years of college plus not quite another year in business school.

You all know me. You know I am not afraid to stand up for what I think is right, nor am I going to agree to something I know is wrong just to be pleasant. I am nobody's yes man, I belong to no clique, I don't even want to hunt on the school land. All I want—honestly and simply—is a better education for your children and mine. Won't you help me get it?

MRS. ART KITZMAN

She is a member of AAUW, P.E.O., National Council of Teachers of English Association for Student Teaching, National School Public Relations Association, and a life member of NEA.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Property Rendering Deadlines Near

April 1 will be the deadline for most Texans to render their property to certain taxing agencies. State laws require all real and personal property to be rendered for taxes on or before prescribed dates. Those who fail to comply can blame only themselves for the money loss they may consequently suffer.

Some Texas cities set their own tax deadlines. These are the cities of more than 5,000 population which have incorporated under the "Home Rule" provisions of our statutes. All other cities are governed by the general laws of Texas.

In towns operating under the general laws property must be rendered for taxes between January 1 and April 1 each year. A number of home rule cities set up the same requirements in their ordinances, while others prescribe different periods.

For state and county tax purposes, property must be rendered to the County Tax Assessor by April 30, and homestead exemptions must be claimed by the same time.

In some localities a third taxing unit is involved—the independent school district. In other places school taxes are collected by the city or county. In addition, some localities have water, irrigation, or levee districts which assess and collect taxes. Make inquiry as to where these various taxes are assessed, and as to applicable deadlines for rendition.

What property must be rendered for taxes? If Texas laws were strictly enforced, we would be required, if render to all taxing units nearly every piece of real and personal property which we own, down to the very clothing on our backs. An exception is the constitutional exemption of $250 worth of household furniture. However, no taxing unit carries their requirements this far, and it will be necessary to inquire of each tax assessor when rendering your property whether specific types of property are ordinarily rendered in that locality. Some cities and counties collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, television sets and other personal items, while others ignore practically all personal property. Business and professional men are generally required to render all merchandise, furnishings, fixtures, business automobiles and equipment.

If property is not rendered by the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and the taxing agency places such valuation thereon as it considers fair. One advantage of rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation. Then, if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order, you will be given an opportunity to appear before the board of equalization and show why the figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Therefore, an appeal to the courts is possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others. If you do not render, the valuation set by the taxing agency is final.

Remember these facts: You may need to render your property at three or more different tax offices. Ask each tax assessor if in doubt concerning the deadline or the rendering of specific personal items.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

BANDERA'S BOND GOAL FOR 1959 $1,612,000.00

J. Burgin Davenport, Chairman of the Bandera County Savings Bonds Committee, announced that the 1959 Savings Bonds Goal for Bandera County will be $1,612,000.

"During the month of January, the people of this county purchased $ worth of U. S. Savings Bonds which was 2.8 per cent of our 1959 goal," Mr. DaVenport reported.

The 1959 goal for Texas is $182,500,000. Sales during January totalled $16,147,640, which represents 8.8 per cent of the 1959 sales goal.

"A part of every American's savings should be invested in Savings Bonds, to provide for his future and to add strength to the national economy," Stated Mr. Davenport County Chairman.

STOCKER-FEEDER SALES APRIL 29 AND SEPTEMBER 16

The San Antonio Livestock Market Institute will sponsor two special Stocker-Feeder Sales in 1959. These sales will be held on April 29 and September 16, 1959 respectively, at the Union Stock Yards San Antonio, and will feature Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus, and Cross Breed Cattle.

The purpose of these special stocker-feeder sales is to provide a better market for the better quality Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus, and the Cross Breed Stockers and Feeders, especially for the intermediate and Aberdeen-Angus producers. It will give producers the opportunity of display and sell their calves in uniform lots, shaped up, and at a time and place where numbers will enable the rancher and other buyers to get their requirements. This should make the cattle sell better than they would if they were placed among many at the same time that other similar good calves are to be sold. Sellers have been highly pleased with Feeder sales held at the Union Stock Yards San Antonio.

CONSERVATION * DEVELOPMENT
BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
SELF-GOVERNMENT

A good stand of clover is reported by Henry Erfurt, manager of the S. J. Mueller ranch at Tarpley. Erfurt reports that the clover was planted along with oats last fall to improve soil condition, increase fertility and also to provide some additional grazing. He says that the mixture has done very well this year, with the stock showing a definite preference for the clover. Plans call for planting some portion of the cropland on the ranch to a legume cover crop every year. Erfurt also stated that he had cleared about 20 acres of underbrush from a deep pocket of soil along the creek. The clearing has been followed by deferrment, and many of the native grasses are already showing up. In keeping with good conservation plan worked out with the local district, Erfurt also plans to spot seed the buffell grass field planted last year to fill the bare spots not yet established to grass. Also planned is to clear some brush on the hill tops to provide more grazing. Montalez Ranch is being assisted in the development of their conservation plan by members of the Bandera Soil Conservation District.

Grass is a crop—a money crop. Good grass fattens grazing animals rapidly and at less expense than feeding bought feed. Good grass makes animals strong and healthy, and increases the ability of these animals to multiply. Grass protects the land from erosion and conserves the rainfall. Good grass makes less work for the owner and adds to the productiveness of the fall and to the profits of the business.

Good range improvement has been accomplished on the Kayser ranch west of Tarpley during the last two years through light stocking. Many of the better native grasses such as Little Bluestem, Sideoats grama, Indian grass and Tall grama are on the increase. An increase in wildlife is also noticeable according to M. R. Sandidge, the ranch manager. "If we have a good turkey crop this year, we'll need more roosting trees", says Sandidge. Besides their proper use of rangeland, some 40 acres of crop residue management has been applied to the cropland. More than 2000 pounds of stubble and trash was left on or near the surface of the soil. This has resulted in better soil moisture, increased organic matter, and increased surface protection. The Kayser ranch is being assisted in their conservation program by technicians assisting the Bandera SCD.

The month of March is a good time to plant that grass in an old field or on a piece of cropland that needs to be taken out of cultivation. District technicians recommend a good firm seed bed for best planting results. This can be obtained best by planting on an undisturbed seed bed where winter weeds have been controlled by spraying. If there are large amounts of weeds and other vegetation on the field that cannot be controlled by spraying, it may be necessary to plow the field and turn all the vegetation under. When this is done, the District technicians recommend that the seed be planted with a disc or cultipacker type seeder and that the soil be firmed after planting to insure good soil contact with the seed. Harrowing will help smooth the surface of the field and prepare a firm seed bed. Also recommended is planting the grass seed with some type of equipment with double disk openers followed by press wheels to firm the soil around the grass seed. If these suggestions are followed, you are more nearly assured of a successful planting.

BANDERA'S BOND GOAL FOR 1959 IS $147,000.00

J. Burgin Davenport, Chairman of the Bandera County Savings Bonds Committee, announced that the 1959 Savings Bonds Goal for Bandera County will be $147,000.

During the month of January, the people of this county purchased $34,31[illegible] Bonds which was 23 per cent of our 1959 goal," Mr. DuVenport reported.

The 1959 goal for Texas is $182,500,000. Sales during January totalled $16,147,640, which represents 8.8 per cent of the 1959 sales goal.

"A part of every American's savings should be invested in Savings Bonds, to provide for his future and to add strength to the national economy," stated Mr. Davenport, County Chairman.

STOCKER-FEEDER SALES APRIL 29 AND SEPTEMBER 16

The San Antonio Livestock Market Institute will sponsor two special Stocker-Feeder Sales in 1959. These sales will be held on April 29 and September 16, 1959 respectively, at the Union Stock Yards San Antonio, and will feature Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus, and Cross Breed Cattle."

The purpose of these special stocker-feeder sales is to provide a better market for the better quality Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus, and the Cross Breed Stockers and Feeders, especially for the intermediate and smaller producers. It will give producers the opportunity to display and sell their calves in uniform lots, shaped up, and at a time and place where numbers will enable the rancher and other buyers to get their requirements. This should make the cattle sell better than they would if they were [illegible] at the same time that other similar good calves are to be sold. Sellers have been highly pleased with Feeder sales held at the Union Stock Yards San Antonio.

CONSERVATION DEVELOPMENT — BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT — SELF-GOVERNMENT

A good stand of clover is reported by Henry Erfurt, manager of the S. J. Mueller ranch at Tarpley. Erfurt reports that the clover was planted along with oats last fall to improve soil condition, increase fertility and also to provide some additional grazing. He says that the mixture has done very well this year, with the stock showing a definite preference for the clover. Plans call for planting some portion of the cropland on the ranch to a legume cover crop every year. Erfurt also stated that he had cleared about 20 acres of underbrush from a deep pocket of soil along the creek. The clearing has been followed by deferment, and many of the native grasses are already showing up in keeping with good conservation plan worked out with the local district. Erfurt also plans to spot seed the buffell grass field planted last year to fill the bare spots and yet established grass. Also planned is to clear some brush on the hill tops to provide more grazing. The Mueller Ranch is being assisted in the development of their conservation plan by members of the Bandera Soil Conservation District.

Grass is a crop—a money crop. Good grass fattens grazing animals rapidly and at less expense than feeding bought feed. Good grass makes animals strong and healthy, and increases the ability of these animals to multiply. Grass protects the land from erosion and conserves the rainfall. Good grass makes less work for the owner and adds to the productiveness of the soil and to the profits of the business.

Good range improvement has been accomplished on the Kayser ranch west of Tarpley during the last two years through light stocking. Many of the better native grasses such as Little Bluestem, Sideoats grama, Indian grass and Tall grama are on the increase. An increase in wildlife is also noticeable according to M. R. Sandidge, the ranch manager. "If we have a good turkey crop this year, we'll need more roosting trees", says Sandidge. Besides their proper use of rangeland, some 40 acres of crop residue management has been applied to the cropland. More than 2000 pounds of stubble and trash was left on or near the surface of the soil. This has resulted in better soil moisture, increased organic matter, and increased surface protection. The Kayser ranch is being assisted in their conservation program by technicians assisting the Bandera SCD.

The month of March is a good time to plant that grass in an old field or on a piece of cropland that needs to be taken out of cultivation. District technicians recommend a good firm seed bed for best planting results. This can be obtained best by planting on an undisturbed seed bed where winter weeds have been controlled by spraying. If there are large amounts of weeds and other vegetation on the field that cannot be controlled by spraying, it may be necessary to plow the field and turn all the vegetation under. When this is done, the District technicians recommend that the soil around the grass seed be firmed. If these suggestions are followed, you are more nearly assured of a successful planting.

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR*. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—with the highest gas mileage for 6's and V8's at cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Here's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This means smoother, quieter performance for you.

There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the dependability of its new brakes (with more lining area than any other low-priced car). But why not stop by your dealer's and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!

"THE ROOTS OF HEAVEN" HAS ALL-STAR CAST

"The Roots of Heaven," Darryl F. Zanuck's long-awaited Cinemascope, De Luxe Color production, based on Romain Gary's prize-winning best-seller, is showing now at the Baxter Theatre. Starring Errol Flynn, Juliette Greco, Travor Howard, Eddie Albert and Orson Welles, the film is the first joint effort of Producer Zanuck and Academy Award winning Director [illegible]. Produced under Mr. Zanuck's independent banner for Twentieth Century-Fox release, "The Roots of Heaven" was filmed on location in French Equitorial Africa, and most of the Pvtz Concours village [illegible] specifically built a tiny outpost of civilization [illegible] without experienced by any film company.

The fascinating story revolves around elephants, Morel, an idealist who goes to Africa to live among the elephants whom he thinks of as the last "pleats of heaven". He is generally disappointed with pitilization and launch a private campaign against all elephant hunters, whether for hobby or for professional purposes. Trevor Howard essays this role and his crusade to save the elephants from extinction touches on the lives of an assortment of characters portrayed in the film. Errol Flynn plays a derelict, ex-British major who joins the crusade for lack of anything else to do; Juliette Greco, sensational French discovery recently seen in "The Naked Earth," is the night club hostess who falls in love with Morel"and follows him into the African jungle; Eddie Albert portrays an American press photographer sent to Africa to do a picture story on this strangely and powerful man; and Orson Welles is an American TV commentator [illegible] world-wide support for Morel's movement.

"The Roots of Heaven" is playing in certain locales never before filmed. Producer Zanuck, Director Huston and a company of 120 persons went into the Cameroon and [illegible] built a tiny outpost of civilization [illegible] without experienced by any film company. Temperatures of 125 degrees, exposure to various diseases, and constant vigilance against jungle animals were the three biggest obstacles to production. But in their quest to bring authenticity to the screen, the production team did come across the largest elephant herd ever seen, even by local natives. A total of 600 giant beasts were captured on film in one sweeping motion of the Cinemascope cameras, hanged by Edward Morris.

Romain Gary and Patrick Leigh-Fermor collaborated on the screenplay of "The Roots of Heaven" and Malcolm Arnold of "The Bridge on the River Kwai" fame, has added an exciting score which will precede all showings of the film. "The Roots of Heaven" is destined to be Mr. Zanuck's most powerful screen achievement.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Kolman of Houston visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pres Word, here during the week-end.

CUB SCOUT BANQUET WAS A HUGE SUCCESS

The Cub Scout's Blue and Gold banquet was held in the High School gymnasium on Friday, Feb. [illegible] 255 parents and children attended. The banquet is the occasion of the beginning of the new charter year for [illegible] Cub Scout units in institutions which in this case is the Bandera Public School Parent Teacher Association.

The food for the banquet was provided by [illegible] the parents of the Cub Scouts. The dinner menu included fried chicken, fish sticks, beans, cole slaw, potato chips, bread, cup cakes and coffee.

Immediately following dinner the guests of the Pack were introduced. Those at the main table were Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Schnelle, Mrs. John Saul, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Horsman, Mr. and Mrs. John Summers, Dr. Victor Schmidtsinsky, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Zetterzeheck, Rayna and Kendrick and one of the leading Scouters of the Hill, Country District, Ernest Dudensing [illegible] Kerrville.

This was also the occasion for the introduction of the Pack Committee for the next charter year. A. R. Lewis introduced the following: W. I. Stevens, chairman; Marvin Schnelle, Raymond Hicks, A. R. Lewis, Leroy Spruit, Allen Leverenchock, A. J. Taylor and Wesley Matthews.

The main Pack meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. There were ceremonies for three new Cubs just joining, and ceremonies for awarding badges for all ranks to many Cub Scouts. Three boys graduated from the Pack into the Troop, Robert Alanis, Morris Green and Mike Wootton.

The Den Chiefs and members of the Webelos Den presented an Atomic Hat Fashion Show which was certainly entertaining and brought out some new styles which we are sure had never been seen nor thought of. The mothers of these boys did a fine job. We believe that Mrs. Fred Hamilton and Mrs. Russell Zinkler deserve special thanks and credit for making this show successful.

The Pack would like to say thanks to all who helped and to all who, by coming, showed that they are interested in what Scouting stands for. We are sure that as long as this fine interest is kept alive in Bandera we will have good Cub Packs and good Scout Troops which cannot help but put something worthwhile into a young boy's development.

THIS IS OUR TOWN

By Jinny

Signs of spring are in the air, with patches of green, early flowering peach trees and the songs of birds. Bright skies during the week-end followed light showers, some hail, and fog.

* * * Nature is bountiful in this Banderaland of ours. She has provided us with everything the soul of an artist can crave, everything the husbandman may wish; everything the health seeker or the some-seeker wants. Only man is at fault. Nature has provided the resources—it is up to mankind to develope them.

* * * We have been observing the interest being shown in securing a foreign language for our school, and think that this is a splendid idea. We find several fine suggestions for a foreign language. Some want Latin, some Spanish, some German and other various languages. All of these would be most beneficial in our schools. When we went to school we had Latin in the eighth grade, and received much benefit from it. But our suggestion for a foreign language for our school is Spanish. Many opportunities are open to young people in our neighboring countries to the south, all speaking countries. The study of Spanish will open the door to our people who wish to take advantage of the fabulous opportunities offered South of the Border.

* * * One of the most delightful things we have seen in a long while was last Friday when we were one of the guests of the local Cub Scouts, when they entertained with their Blue and Gold banquet in the Kerrville High School Gymnasium. Pins were awarded and graduation exercises were held following a delicious dinner of fried chicken, beans, slaw, potato chips, bread, coffee, cold drinks and cup cakes. But the most delightful events of the whole evening was the style show put on by some of the Cubs. In keeping with the atomic and space age hats. The youngsters enjoyed this part of the show as much as the visitors, when young Billy Small served as master of ceremonies to announce the numbers. Thanks to the Cub Scouts and their fine Scout Master for a wonderful evening.

* * * We are pleased to report Miss Zona Johnson is making splendid recovery from a sprained wrist which she sustained in a fall at her home last week.

* * * The announcement by Mrs. Art Kitzman this week that she will be a candidate for a place on the Bandera Public School Board has set a precedent as she is the first woman to run for that post in the annals of the school's history.

* * * Bandera has had variable weather this week, with some rain, some warm days, some cold and blustery and some pleasant. Typically Spring weather and the grass is green and buds are swelling on the trees.

* * * Our thought for the day—Fat Wun Says: Most arguments would be spoiled if both parties knew the facts.

NEWS from County Agricultural Agent

Texas A.&M. College Extension Service

Insects on Small Grain

The greenbug is causing a lot of damage on small grain. Bob Mansfield has a severe infestation. He also had an infestation of the grain mite which he controlled with toxephene 60. However the toxephene was not effective in controlling the greenbug. Mr. Mansfield has since applied with malathion and did not obtain the desired amount of control. In other words, there were too many greenbugs still alive several days after the application of malathion. Methyl parathion at the rate of ½ to 1 pint per acre is recommended for greenbug control. Another recommendation is 1 to 1½ pints per acre of malathion per acre. It would be a good idea to check on the price per gallon before buying the insecticide.

The presence of the greenbug can be detected by the yellowing of the leaves of the small grain. The greenbug is a very small green insect that sucks on the leaves.

Texas Has Cattle Scabies

I am sure most of you have read in the newspapers that Texas has the cattle scabies. California immediately stopped buying Texas cattle after the outbreak. I have not heard if they have started buying again, but if they haven't started buying again, I'm sure they will in the near future. If they do buy cattle, there will be restrictions on the cattle. They will have to be dipped at El Paso or Clovis, N. M. Health certificates will also have to be furnished. This means extra expenses for the cattle raisers. Cattle scabies is caused by a small mite and causes denuded areas on the skin.

The outbreak occurred in Ochiltree and Hemphill counties in the Panhandle near the Oklahoma line.

There was a large number of head involved and these cattle could have been shipped all over the state. I would say that one should be very careful when the cattle came from before he bought them.

TWICE-TOLD TEXAS TALES

By J. Marvin Hunter, Sr.

Under this heading Texas readers will find historical articles which we have compiled and printed from the Frontier Times, or in other publications, but which we believe will be of interest to Bulletin readers.

TEXAS DURING THE CIVIL WAR—1

J. Marvin Hunter, Sr.

If 1860, by the disruption of the Democratic party, Abraham Lincoln was elected president, and politically the North became dominant in the nation. The secession tide running so strongly in the South, now reached its flood. Within two months after the national election all the Southern States east of Texas had seceded, South Carolina leading the way. It was Governor Sam Houston's opposition that delayed the secession movement in Texas. The legislature was not in session, and Governor Houston refused to call it together. In the absence of the legislature the chief executive was practically the entire state government, and he used his position to combat the approaching crisis as long as he could. Finally in December, by extra-legal means, the people were asked to elect delegates to a state convention to meet in Austin January 28, 1861. Though the convention was constituted in an informal manner, it was clearly a popular measure. Under these circumstances Governor Houston yielded to the importunities of the political leaders and called a session of the legislature to meet one week before the convention assembled. The legislature when it met disregarded Houston's counsel for moderation, and sanctioned the calling of the convention, declaring it to be empowered to act for the people. On February 1st the convention passed an ordinance of secession by a vote of 166 to 7, and referred the measure to a general election for approval. February 23rd the ordinance was accepted by the people in a vote of 44,000 to 13,000. The vote was counted in the legislature the same day Lincoln was inaugurated President. The convention also appointed a Committee of Safety and delegates to the Confederate convention at Montgomery, Alabama.

Governor Houston was throughout consistently opposed to all these steps. On March 16th Houston was summoned before the convention to take the oath of allegiance to the Confederate government, and on his refusal the office of Governor was declared vacant, and the Lieutenant Governor, Edward Clark, was installed in his stead. Houston appealed to the legislature and to the people, but the former sanctioned his removal. He acquiesced in this judgment and remained in retirement until his death, which occurred in 1863.

Thus Texas was aligned with the States that withdrew entirely from the Federal Union, and for over four years her troops bore a gallant share in the strife that all but wrecked the nation. Resources and men were sacrificed without stint, Texas furnishing the names of many illustrous leaders and organizations to the annals of this war. The broad track of the war was down the east side of the Mississippi river, across the center of the Confederacy to the sea, and in the Virginias. Texas was not in this path. No Northern invasion of her territory was permanently effective. During most of the war this state was the one reliable source of communication and, of supplies for the entire South. The Federal squadrons soon had the Atlantic and Gulf ports of the other states thoroughly blockaded and all commerce cut off, while the armies ravaged and desolated inland from river to sea. But the long line of Texas coast and the numerous harbors could not be effectively guarded. Blockade runners were constantly slipping in with provisions or out with loads of cotton and other products. Nothing could prevent the trade across the Rio Grande with the states of Mexico, although the width of the frontier presented an obstacle to this traffic. Except in a few places where the enemy secured a foothold, Texas experienced little of the ruinous havoc of battle and invasion, though the people endured the hardships and poverty in common with the rest of the South.

Before the actual outbreak of hostilities, the Committee of Safety had conferred with General Twiggs, who was in command of the Federal forces of the state, but was a Southern sympathizer. He indicated his willingness to surrender his post at San Antonio provided a show of force was made. Colonel Ben McCulloch, therefore, on being assigned to command at San Antonio, collected a volunteer force, appeared before the city, and required the surrender of the garrison. There remained a million dollars worth of property and munitions were thus delivered into the hands of the Confederates. All the other forts in Texas were soon abandoned. Colonel Ford took possession of Fort Brown opposite Matamoras, commanding the Rio Grande border. By November, 1861, fifteen thousand soldiers had been enrolled in Texas for service in the war.

The governors of Texas during the Civil War were Francis R. Lubbock, who was elected in 1861, and Pendleton Murrah, elected in 1863.

In the summer of 1861 Texas troops took a prominent part in the movement to gain New Mexico for the Confederacy. Lieut. Col. John R. Baylor crossed the Rio Grande into the territory and captured a force of 700 Federals. In the following February General Sibley, commanding the Confederate army, met and defeated the Union troops under General Canby at Val Verde. Santa Fe and Albuquerque then fell into possession of the former, but the invasion as a whole was unsuccessful, and the battle at Apache Canyon repulsed the aggressive character of the movement. The Confederates then retreated down the Rio Grande and by July, 1862, the territory was entirely abandoned, after many Texans had lost their lives in the campaign.

The border defenses of Texas were as a rule too strong for the Federal armies to penetrate. In September 1862 a naval force captured Corpus Christi, but occupied it only a brief time. In October of the same year the port of Galveston was captured by the Federal squadron. During the remainder of the war the island was almost depopulated, most of the inhabitants seeking shelter on the mainland. On January 1, 1863, General Magruder, by a combined land and sea attack, destroyed or captured three of the vessels in the harbor, drove the others out to sea, and by a successful assault on the fort compelled the surrender of the garrison. For the remainder of the war Galveston was in possession of the Confederates, although the port was closely blockaded.

A short time later the blockade of Sabinal Pass was temporarily raised as a result of the capture of two Union vessels by two Confederate boats after a hot fight, and thereafter Sabine City was protected by a strong fort. In the latter part of 1863 General Banks undertook to carry out his plan for the conquest of Texas. The expedition was to land at Sabine Pass and carry on operations from that point. It was planned to land 20,000 Federal troops in Texas, and this was to be the opening wedge. On the morning of September 8th, the gunboats attacked the fort. Then ensued the battle of Sabine Pass. Two of the Federal gunboats were destroyed, over a hundred men were killed, and 300 captured, while the garrison of 200 Texans, only forty-seven of whom, under Lieutenant Dick Dowling, participated in the battle, came out unscathed. The transports then returned to New Orleans and the expedition was abandoned.

Late in 1863 General Banks directed a large naval and land expedition against the Texas coast and got control of nearly the entire line except at Galveston and the mouth of the Brazos. This occupation lasted only a few months, the blockade by sea continuing as the only restriction on the activities of the coast. In March, 1864, General Banks and General Steele co-operated in what is known as the Red River Expedition with the intention of capturing Shreveport and entering Texas from the northeast, but their army met a decisive defeat at Sabine Crossroads, and their advance was effectively checked. This was the last considerable campaign against Texas during the war.

There befell Texas and her people the usual train of evils resulting from war. Loyalty was the prevailing feeling through the state, and those who gave active opposition to the war were comparatively few. It was a conflict that aroused the bitterest animosities among those who differed in opinion. That was also true in the North wherever Southern sympathizers secretely or openly espoused their anti-union convictions; doubly rancorous was the enmity in the border states where former neighbors and friends ranged themselves on opposite sides; and like wise in Texas, the conservative unionists who did not actively support the Confederacy had to endure opprobium, to escape which many voluntarily left the state. But many who voted against secession afterwards entered the army and served faithfully in behalf of the cause they had opposed. Considerable element of Unionism existed in the counties of Cooke, Montague, Denton, Collin, Grayson, and around the town of San Antonio, Boerne, and in the counties of Austin, Fayette, Kendall, Gillespie, and Colorado, the Union sentiment was very strong. In 1862 was organized the First Texas Cavalry (Union) of which E. J. Davis was colonel. This regiment operated along the Mexican border and at the mouth of the Rio Grande, and on several occasions came in conflict with the Confederate forces.

The loyalty of the Texans was severely tested by the exigencies of war. With certain classes exempted, all able-bodied males between the ages of 18 and 45, were liable to military service, and as the war progressed and the resources of the South became taxed to the utmost, conscription was employed to renew the depleted ranks. In November, 1863, the governor reported that 90,000 Texans were in the Confederate service, and when it is recalled that the number of voters at any one election had never equaled 70,000, the sacrifice and devotion of Texas to the Southern cause can be better understood. The state being the great supply center of the Confederacy, not only was the tax upon all exports very high, but large amounts were required to be exchanged for state bonds and thus go directly to the support of the government. And so, though the people had made a banner year in the production of corn and cotton, practically all the surplus went to keep alive the waning vitality of the Confederacy, and with other Southern states, Texas suffered from monetary depreciation, the Confederate notes becoming almost worthless before the close of the war. The most strenuous efforts of the State government failed to keep the paper issues at par, and trade as far as possible was carried on by old methods of barter and exchange.

As the year 1865 dawned the war was approaching its end. The armies of Grant and Sherman had broken the back of the Confederacy by their wide sweep down the Mississippi valley and through the center of the South and eventually came the fall of Richmond, the surrender of Lee and Johnston, and the final exchanges of the flames of civil strife. Of interest is the fact that Texas was the last skirmish ground in the great struggle. General Kirby Smith continued the resistance in Texas for a month after the eastern armies had surrendered. General Sheridan was sent at the head of a large division of the Federal army to subdue this last stronghold of the Confederacy, but before he reached the state Smith surrendered, on May 26th, to General Canby. On May 13th was fired the last shot of the war. Curiously enough, the engagement took place at the old battlefield of Palo Alto, where General Taylor won his victory over the Mexicans. The conflict, which only deserves the name of a skirmish, ended in a reverse for the Federals, so that the first and last battle of the war were Confederate victories. And also, as was the case in the war of 1812, the final engagement was fought after the virtual conclusion of hostilities. But happily for all concerned, peace came, and in the months that followed the veterans came home from the east to take up the heavy responsibilities involved in the restoration of industry and political reconstruction.

We put the light in Your window

Had you come 25 years ago young fellow, your light would have been a kerosene lamp. But your Dad and a lot of other folks like him organized an electric cooperative and built their own electric system. It was the only way we could get electricity in our rural area.

Now you are going to have to help guard it. Some people would have you think the government built the system and gave it to us. That isn't true. We borrowed the money and we are paying back our loan with interest. Our cooperative is a business managed, tax paying partnership and we are happy to welcome you as a member. Because the Cooperative brought electricity to your farm you'll lead a healthier, happier life.

Grow strong young fellow. You'll want a light in the window some distant night when your son comes into the world.

The Story of

Lottie Deno

Her Life and Times

It's authentic . . . It's true! Here is the real story of a Lady Gambler, the most exotic, mysterious, fantastic woman the Old West ever knew . . .

It is on the press and we are inviting you to send your pre-publication order for the late J. Marvin Hunter's last great work.

You will remember the superb ALBUM OF GUN-FIGHTERS which was published by J. Marvin Hunter in collaboration with Noah H. Rose and Warren Hunter.

Now Mr. Hunter's final masterpiece will soon be off the press. It is The Story of LOTTIE DENO, the mysterious Lady Gambler who so sedately operated in all the Hell-holes of the Old West during the latter part of the nineteenth century. It is an accurate protrayal of the incorruptible Lottie, together with facinating accounts of incidents and description of places, where she played for high stakes and more often than not came off winner.

The book is replete with description of characters who infested rip-roaring old Fort Griffin, El Paso, Silver City, and finally Deming, New Mexico. Among the better known are Doc Holliday, Wyatt Earp, and John Selman. Illustrated with original photographs of Lottie and her acquaintances as well as scenes from the towns where she was active.

Amid surroundings of indescribable viciousness and debauchery the beautiful and fantastic Lottie Deno played her game, remaining aloof and serene, never yielding to the importunities of the times. She was born a lady and carried herself with dignity and grace throughout a long career. Her life span of ninety years is told with truth and conviction by J. Marvin Hunter in this volume, which is being published posthumously by his children.

The Story of LOTTIE DENO will sell for $6.00, but the pre-publication price to you is $4.50. Send your orders by check or money order to

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

This week, being Texas Education Week, the eighth grade classroom is welcome to all visitors.

We are now studying North America in geography. We started by making short reports on Canada. The section about the United States, which contains information about the many important industries of our country, was very interesting.

Kay Wootton reports something unusual happened at her father's ranch over the week-end. One of his cows had twins. A heifer and a bull calf, both as big as a normal calf. They aren't identical however; the bull is white-faced and the heifer is a solid color. The Woottons are all very excited about the new arrivals!

Claudia Shaw reports that her family's cat has increased the cat population of Bandera by six. She also reports that they now have seventeen cats. Anybody want a kitten?

Taking advantage of the beautiful February sunshine last weekend, Bobby Mueller took the first swim of the season in their lake Sunday.

Friday afternoon Susan Langford went to Dallas; she reports she had a blast.

Danny Clayton's cousins from Comfort visited him and they had a bit of fun horseback riding.

Saturday morning, the Bandera Assembly of Rainbows went to San Antonio to a Rainbow school. Lynda King and Jeanne Chism report an interesting afternoon.

FIFTH GRADE NEWS

We are now beginning the study of Canada, having just finished the study of the United States. We have made some very good reports on Canada showing the provinces, the most important cities, and other points of interest.

While practicing letter writing, we wrote to various places of interest for picture folders and facts about these places. We are especially enjoying the ones we have received from Canada. They sent us some beautiful pictures and the very latest facts about their country.

In reading class we are getting a taste of Texas history. Our new reader has some very interesting stories about the early days in Texas.

We are enjoying our "Weekly Reader May Skiing" books very much. They are very interesting and we feel we are learning a lot from them.

FRESHMEN FACTS

Patsy Callahan enjoyed the day loafing at the Callahan Ranch on Medina Lake.

Patricia Johnson went to San Antonio Sunday to visit her sister ,Mrs. Jane Buck.

The freshmen class of homemaking students have finished their courses in cooking and are glad to say they are to start clothing this week. The girls of this class are going to sew a skirt and blouse, and its going to be fun, when they finish and model them.

Joyce Mazurek had a good time at Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lewis' 50th wedding anniversary. It was held in the American Legion Hall Saturday.

Saturday and Sunday Judy Mueller went horseback riding on her father's ranch near Tarpley. As it seems by the moans we hear today, it was quite painful!

Last week-end, Eleanor Mazurek stayed with her cousin, Rose Ann Mazurek, at Medina Lake.

Friday and Saturday, Nancy Herrera went to the show, having a wonderful time.

Johnny Davis went to Kerrville to get his canoe, Sunday.

Saturday, Tony Green went to San Antonio.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The seventh grade class waited nervously until they received their report cards and some of them are still a little unhappy, but most of the cards were good.

Several members of the class went to the retreat Friday or Saturday.

Marlene McKay, Margaret Davenport, and Holly Mayes played tennis Saturday and Sunday.

David Shaw's cat had a large litter of kittens Saturday.

SOPHOMORE TALKS

The Sophomore class would like to congratulate Mrs. F. K. Shuptrine, the former Miss Sarah Cardwell, who was recently married to Kelly Shuptrine. We wish them success and happiness in the future.

Sarah has always been very active in extra curricular activities, and we will miss her touch in the band. However, she still reports band news which we all enjoy reading. We are glad that Sarah is staying in school for the remainder of the term.

BAND BLAB

As this week draws to a close, the band members look back on a very busy schedule, not to be completed until Saturday. The concert has been presented, the bake sale was successfully completed, and this Saturday, the band will journey toward Brady to attend the Band Festival which will be held there. Arriving in Brady around 10:30, the band members will begin their festivities at noon when they play the Concert march and overture before the judges. Immediately afterward, they will sightread for one judge. Entertainment will be provided for all the afternoon as a concert is presented by the faked Howard-Payne College band. At 4:30, a short parade will take place with all bands participating. Under the same conditions a mass band concert will be held, and the selections, "Military Escort", "Star Spangled Banner", and "Symbol of Honor" will be played. The band plans to eat their evening meal in Mason and will return home at approximately 9 or 9:30.

Thanks to yoh, the public, "our bake sale was a huge success! With your consideration and cooperation we made about sixty dollars which is to be deposited in the banquet fund.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior world this week has been quiet. Six weeks tests restricted other school activities and most Juniors were busy until the tests were over and then happy that the report cards did not point too bad a picture.

Five beautiful new typewriters decorate the typing room this week. Their soft pastel shades add a bit of brightness to the room and they are certainly a pleasure to type on.

Besides the usual activities of the Juniors concerning numbers, themes, and speed tests, they have courses in cooking and sewing. While there are still enough cool days to make Mexican food interesting.

The Juniors work on, keeping up grades, dreaming of Senior rings, and thinking about summer vacation, which now seems more than just a promise.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Some, it appears, carry the tag "leader," this is automatically brought to mind when one thinks of Mary Katheryn "Duta" Frerich.

This young woman possesses many outstanding abilities. Because of her excellent job of Majorette her first and second high school years, and Drum Major the third and fourth, the Bandera Bulldog Band regrets that this is her last year. Each half-time saw her leading the band across the field with poise and dignity and also a great deal of spirit. Prior to her high school days she served as Little Olympic Majorette and was elected Little Olympics Queen.

Duta's scholastic rating and club activities have been above average, for example, in 8th grade she was held the office of president 3rd year, and vice-president, the 4th year. It was attained both her Junior and Chapter degrees and is working toward her state degree. All this experience will undoubtedly come in handy when Duta completes her planning and graduates as a Home Economics teacher from T.U. in 1962. With all the activities mentioned above, one would think that a person so busy would have no time for home work. This is not true of our star. As a member of the National Honor Society she has made BHS proud. To further prove her capabilities, Duta won first place in spelling at the Interscholastic League Meet in 1957. She is now one of the 10 finalists in the "Miss Tena Texas" contest, and won third place in a wool sewing contest.

On March 5, Duta celebrated her 18th birthday and from all her friends come congratulations and best wishes. For a girl with so many talents, life should be an easy experience. If not, she can turn on her electrifying personality and all the wrinkles will be ironed out. Good luck, Duta!

BANDERA ON RFD TEXAS PROGRAM

Bandera county people enjoyed seeing the agricultural program on "RFD Texas" Saturday morning at 7:45 when Bill McReynolds, program director, interviewed Ben Barnes. The interesting film showed were taken at the Joe Morris Middle Verde Ranch and showed the methods of ranch operations used in the local goat industry, from kidding time, through shearing time. Old Sake, Hudpeth Lions Club Park, where the Border Collie, that is Thomas Sam's big fish were caught last year.

The beautiful and splendid film was greatly appreciated by everyone in Bandera.

Ann Tollman and Walter Welch were shown grading the Mohair. The Bandera County Sandhogs and Farmers Warehouse is the among the few in the state where this grading program is in operation. It saves the local ranchmen many dollars every year, and is one of the best programs in the state.

After the ranch scenes Bill McReynolds showed beautiful films of the Medina River, the dam at Medina Lake, and the Bandera Mountains.

The BANDERA LODGE No. 1122, A.F. & A.M., meets the second and fourth Monday nights of each month at 7:30 o'clock. All member are urged to attend. Visiting Brethren welcome.—W. R. Caffall, W.M.; G. E. Harrison, Secretary.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. It was will filled session of many years, personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two summer days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

The Story of

Lottie Deno

Her Life and Times

It's authentic . . . It's true! Here is the real story of a Lady Gambler, the most exotic, mysterious, fantastic woman the Old West ever knew . . .

It is on the press and we are inviting you to send your pre-publication order for the late J. Marvin Hunter's last great work.

You will remember the superb ALBUM OF GUN-FIGHTERS which was published by J. Marvin Hunter in collaboration with Noah H. Rose and Warren Hunter.

Now Mr. Hunter's final masterpiece will soon be off the press. It is The Story of LOTTIE DENO, the mysterious Lady Gambler who so sedately operated in all the Hell-holes of the Old West during the latter part of the nineteenth century. It is an accurate protrayal of the incorruptible Lottie, together with facinating accounts of incidents and description of places, where she played for high stakes and more often than not came off winner.

The book is replete with description of characters who infested rip-roaring old Fort Griffin, El Paso, Silver City, and finally Deming, New Mexico. Among the better known are Doc Holliday, Wyatt Earp, and John Selman. Illustrated with original photographs of Lottie and her acquaintances as well as scenes from the towns where she was active.

Amid surroundings of indescribable viciousness and debauchery the beautiful and fantastic Lottie Deno played her game, remaining aloof and serene, never yielding to the importunities of the times. She was born a lady and carried herself with dignity and grace throughout a long career. Her life span of ninety years is told with truth and conviction by J. Marvin Hunter in this volume, which is being published post-humously by his children.

The Story of LOTTIE DENO will sell for $6.00, but the pre-publication price to you is $4.50. Send your orders by check or money order to

SIXTH GRADE PRIVATE EYES

The "private eyes" followed Harold Brooks, Nancy Johnson, Richard Evans, Margkfet Brown, Rocky Stevens, and Johnny Anderwald to see "Money, Women and Guns," Friday and Saturday, at the Bantex.

Our "hounds" say that Sunday Patsy Schirmer was helping her father and stepped on a nail.

The "private eyes" followed Mike Fitzpatrick to Ray Wedgworth's house, Saturday. The boys had fun killing a snake, rolling rocks off a cliff, and finding an eagle's nest in a tree, visiting a cave, and having a weiner roast.

Sunday, the Fitzpatrick's went to their grandfather's house.

"Our "blood hounds" followed Nancy Johnson to San Antonio Sunday.

Saturday, the "private eyes" followed Shirley Dunlap to San Antonio where she visited the Alamo and the zoo.

At the Boy Scouts' Court of Honor Thursday night, Harold Brooks and Mike Fitzpatrick received a Tenderfoot Badge. Richard Evans, and Royce Spratt received Second Class Bdges.

Rocky Stevens, Richard Evans, Royce Spratt, Harold Brooks, Billy Small, Louis Reininger, Bobby Bailey, and Pat Wootton went to the Blue and Gold Banquet, Friday night. They were entertained with an atomic fashion show and an advancement ceremony. Everyone had a very good time.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

This week, being Texas Education Week, the eighth grade classroom is welcome to all visitors.

We are now studying North America in geography. We started by making short reports on Canada. The section about the United States, which contains information about the many important industries of our country, is very interesting.

Kay Wootton reports something unusual happened at her father's ranch over the week-end. One of his cows had twins. A heifer and a bull calf, both as big as a normal calf. They aren't identical however; the bull is white-faced and the heifer is a solid color. The Woottons are all very excited about the new arrivals!

Claudia Shaw reports that her family's cat has increased the cat population of Bandera by six. She also reports that they now have seventeen cats. Anybody want a kitten?

Taking advantage of the beautiful February sunshine last week-end, Bobby Mueller took the first swim of the season in their lake Sunday.

Friday afternoon Susan Langford went to Dallas; she reports she had a "blast".

Danny Clayton's cousins from Comfort visited him and they had a lot of fun horseback riding.

Saturday morning, the Bandera Assembly of Rainbows went to San Antonio to a Rainbow school. Lynda King and Jeanne Chism report an interesting afternoon.

FIFTH GRADE NEWS

We are now beginning the study of Canada, having just finished the study of the United States. We have made some very good maps of Canada showing the provinces, the most important cities, and other points of interest.

While practicing letter writing, we wrote to various places of interest for picture folders and facts about these places. We are especially enjoying the ones we have received from Canada. They sent us some beautiful pictures and the very latest facts about their country.

In reading class we are getting a taste of Texas history. Our new reader has some very interesting stories about the early days in Texas.

We are enjoying our "Weekly Reader Map Skills" booklets very much. They are very interesting and we feel we are learning a lot from them.

Russell Zickler, George Hamilton, Mike Wootton, Linden Rhodes, Linda Pawelle, Barbara Scantlin, and Mrs. Reininger attended the Cub Scout Blue and Gold Banquet Friday night. Everyone had a wonderful time, and we all especially enjoyed the style show.

Annie Lingham attended a tennis tournament in San Antonio last Thursday and Friday. She won her match with Kerrville but lost the one with Austin.

Dickie Hicks, Junior Heinen, Mike Wootton, and Kimberly Walters all went fishing in various places this week-end, but no one caught anything about which to brag.

Linden Rhodes claims the honors for being the first one in the room to go swimming this year.

Ray Wedgworth and Mike Fitzpatrick went out to the ranch Sunday. They found a huge birds nest which was very interesting.

We are very glad to welcome Hope Sanchez to our class. She comes to us from Hondo.

FRESHMEN FACTS

Patricia Johnson went to San Antonio Sunday to visit her sister, Mrs. Jane Buck.

The freshmen class of homemaking students have finished their course in cooking and are glad to say they are to start clothing this week. The girls of this class are going to sew a skirt and blouse, and its going to be fun, when they finish and model them.

Joyce Maurek had a good time at Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lewis' 50th wedding anniversary. It was held in the American Legion Hall Saturday.

Saturday and Sunday Judy Mueller went horseback riding on her father's ranch near Tarpley, and seems by the moans we hear today, it was quite painful!

Last week-end, Eleanor Maurek stayed with her cousin, Rose Ann Maurek, at Medina Lake.

Friday and Saturday, Nancy Herrera went to the show, having a wonderful time.

Johnny Davis went to Kerrville to get his canoe, Sunday.

Saturday, Tony Green went to San Antonio.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The seventh grade class waited nervously until they received their report cards and some of them are still a little unhappy, but most of the cards were good.

Several members of the class went to the retreat Friday or Saturday.

Marlene McKay, Margaret Dyesport, and Holly Mayes played tennis Saturday and Sunday.

David Shaw's cat had a large litter of kittens Saturday.

SOPHOMORE TALKS

The Sophomore class would like to congratulate Mrs. F. K. Shuptrine, the former Miss Sarah Cardwell, who was recently married to Kelly Shuptrine. We wish them success and happiness in the future.

Sarah has always been very active in extra curricular activities, and we will miss her touch in the band. However, she still reports band news which we all enjoy reading. We are glad that Sarah is staying in school for the remainder of the term.

BAND BLAB

As this week draws to a close, the band members look back on a very busy schedule, not to be completed until Saturday. The concert has been presented, the bake sale was successfully completed, and this Saturday, the band will journey toward Brady to attend the Band Festival which will be held there. Arriving in Brady around 10:30, the band members will begin their festivities at noon when they play the concert, march and parade before the judges. Immediately afterward, they will sightread for one judge, Entertainment will be provided for all the band this afternoon as a concert is presented by the famed Howard-Payne College band. At 4:30, a short parade will take place with all bands participating. Under the same conditions a mass band concert will be held, and the selections, "Military Escort", "Star Spangled Banner", and "Symbol of Honor" will be played. The band plans to eat their evening meal in Mason and will return home at approximately 9 or 9:30.

Thanks to you, the public, our bake sale was a huge success! With your consideration and cooperation we made about sixty dollars which is to be deposited in the banquet fund.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior world this week has been quiet. Six weeks tests restricted other school activities and most Juniors were busy until the tests were over and then happy that the report cards did not point too bad a picture.

Five beautiful new typewriters decorate the typing room this week. Their soft pastel shades add a bit of brightness to the room and they are certainly a pleasure to type on.

Besides the usual activities of the Juniors concerning numbers, themes, and speed tests, they have planned a Taco sale for March, while there are still enough cool days to make Mexican food interesting.

The Juniors work on, keeping up grades, dreaming of Senior rings, and thinking about summer vacation, which now seems more than just a promise.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Some, it appears, carry the tag "leader," this is automatically brought to mind when one thinks of Mary Katheryn "Duta" Frerich.

This young woman possesses many outstanding abilities. Because of her excellent job of Majorette her first and second high school years, and Drum Major the third and fourth, the Bandera Bulldog Band regrets that this is Duta's last year. Each half-time saw her leading the band across the field with poise and dignity and also a great deal of spirit. Prior to her high school days she served as Little Olympics Majorette and was elected Little Olympics Queen.

Duta's scholastic rating and club activities have been above average, for example, in contests she has held the office of president 3rd year, and vice-president, the 4th year. She has attained honors in Junior and Chapter degrees and is working toward her state degree. All this experience will undoubtedly come in handy when Duta completes her plans and graduates as a Home Economics teacher from T.U. in 1962. With all the activities mentioned above, one would think that a person so busy would have no time for home work. This is not true of our star. As a member of the National Honor Society she has made BHS proud. To further prove her capabilities, Duta won first place in spelling at the Interscholastic League Meet in 1957. She is now serving as typist for the School Daze and is co-editor of the Annual.

Always a favorite among the students, she was in demand to hold various class offices. In the 9th and 11th grades she served as class reporter; treasurer in her duty in the 10th grade. The Freshmen chose her as Class Favorite, and this year the seniors honored her by voting her "most beautiful."

Outside the school schedule, Duta has a number of interests. She has been a member of the Mistesnas four years, and has been their treasurer and vice-president. In 1958 Miss Frerich was one of the 10 finalists in the "Miss Tena Texas" contest, and won third place in a wool sewing contest.

On March 5, Duta celebrated her 18th birthday and from all her friends come congratulations and best wishes. For a girl with so many talents, life should be an easy experience. If not, she can turn on her electrifying personality and all the wrinkles will be ironed out. Good luck, Duta!

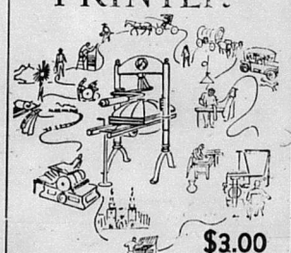
BANDERA ON RED TEXAS BILL McREYNOLDS PROGRAM

Bandera county people enjoyed seeing the splendid program on "RFD Texas" Saturday morning at 7:45 when Bill McReynolds popular television commentator, published Bandera. The interesting films shown were taken at the Joe Morris Middle Verde Ranch and showed the methods of ranch operations used in the local goat industry, from kidding time through shearing time. Old Sakh, the Border Collie, that is Thomas Keese's right-hand man on the ranch, was first shown in the film as he worked the stock. His performance was beautiful to behold and a joy to his owner. Thomas Keese, ranch manager was shown at the corral gate talking to Ray F. Wyatt, manager for the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Association. From the Middle Verde ranch the scene changed to a setting at the local warehouse, where Bill Short was shown unloading the mohair. Then inside the warehouse Matt Siddle and Allie Faulkman and Walter Welch were shown grading the Mohair. The Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Warehouse is the among the few in the state where this grading program is in operation. It saves the local ranchmen many dollars every year and is one of the best programs in the state.

After the ranch scenes Bill McReynolds showed beautiful films of the Medina River, the dam at Hindfpeth Lion Clubs Park, where many big fish were caught last year.



The beautiful and splendid film was greatly appreciated by everyone in Bandera.

BANDERA LODGE No. 1122, A.F. & A.M., meets the second and fourth Monday night of each month at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to attend. Visiting Brethren welcome.—W. R. Caffall, W.M.; G. E. Harrison, Secretary.

Peregrinations of a
PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00
by J. MARVIN HUNTER
An Autobiography
Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations' (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican pursies hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous, and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

ASSUMPTION AND PREDICTION

At the fire department meeting and practice held on February 24, 1950 and assumed fire broke out in back of the stores behind Lovelace real estate office. Both trucks were called out for this practice alert but only one could be manned. There was just enough to man one pump truck. It should attake at least 15 men to fight fires with both trucks under operation and seven men were all that was present for this important practice. The prediction is that some one is going to be out in the cold some day due to lack of firemen to put out a particular fire. There are many men in the community that could help as a volunteer fire man and all we ask is an hour of your time twice a month to learn how to properly fight fires and maybe some time save your own home or your neighbors by being a part of your fire department.

ASC NEWS LETTER GOES TO COUNTY RESIDENTS

In a recent newsletter sent out to Bandera County residents from the United States Department of Agriculture ASC program the following pertinent information was presented:

During the 1958 program year about $45,394.23 of ACP cost sharing was used on 136 farms to help solve particular problems by establishing needed conservation practices. This represented 20 per cent of the farms in the county. The various conservation practices follow: Established pegunan-ent protective cover, 35 ac. $122.36; Deferred grazing on range land, 12,758.7 ac. $7,966.02; Control of competitive shrubs, 5,211.7 ac. $16,262.15; Chiseling non-crop grazing land, 567.7 ac. $2,621.00; Wells for livestock water, 9 wells, $4,616.00; Dams, pits or ponds for livestock water, 19 structures, $4,574.03; Pipelines for livestock water, 1,700 linear feet, $201.15; Permanent cross fence, 3,233.9 rods, $3,801.05; Regular terraces, 24,980 linear feet, $745.62; Diversion terraces, 33,895 linear feet, $784.44.

According to ASC it is possible that an incentive payment will be made on mohair in 1959. If there is a payment, the ASC office must have on file all invoices covering the sale of mohair that was sold from April 1, 1958, to March 31, 1959.

Producers are reminded to bring their invoices covering the sale of wool and unshorn lambs to the ASC office as soon as possible after the sale is made. The invoices also cover the period of April 1, 1958, to March 31, 1959.

Edward J. Postert is County Office Manager for the Bandera County ASC and the committee members are M. M. Akin, Chairman; Allie O. Thallman, Vice-Chairman and L. C. Baumer, Regular Member.

GENERAL MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

A general meeting of the Bandera Chamber of Commerce is to be held Tuesday night, March 17, at the New Frontier Hotel at 8 p.m. Everyone make your plans to attend this meeting as many important matters will be discussed.

INTEREST BEING REVIVED IN LOCAL MOVIE COMPANY

About twenty local businessmen of Bandera gathered in the director's room at the First National Bank last Saturday afternoon to discuss the organization of a local movie making company. The company will be composed of Bandera county residents and it was proposed at the meeting to start out with $25,000.00 capital to start the ball rolling on the production of thirty minute television series. A workable amount was raised at this meeting and another meeting was set for March 21.

This local company made up of Bandera people to hire their own director and produce their own films.

Richard Kahn, Hollywood director, was present at the meeting to advise the group.

NATIONAL MOHAIR PROMOTION STARTED

The Promotion Committee of the Texas Angora Goat Raisers' Association has started a campaign of Texas, for the purpose of National 'Mohair promotion and research. Letters are being mailed to all producers to inform them in detail of the plans for this Promotion Program. Members of the Committee estimate it will take from six to nine months to complete the job.

This Committee has just completed an extensive survey on the subject of the need for National Promotion and research of Mohair. The Warehouses, Growers, Large Department Stores and Mohair Commission firms in Boston that were contacted in this survey, were unanimous in the opinion, that the Mohair Producers would make a serious mistake if they failed to immediately do something about Promotion and Research of the product they produce. A mistake that could cost

NATIONAL BANK SOLD TO HOUSTON BUSINESSMEN

Frank M. Montague, Sr., president of the First National Bank of Bandera and largest stock holder of one of Bandera's thriving banks, announced this week the sale of the Montague controlling interests to three Houston bankers, who have already assumed ownership and taken over the operations of the bank.

The Montague interests were held by Frank Montague Sr., and his two sons, Maj. Bruce Montague, who is in the Armed Forces, and Frank M. Montague Jr., of Bandera, and Judge Joe Montague son of Fort Worth and Miss Margaret Montague of San Antonio.

The three new owners, Lovett Baker, who is in charge of the Credit Research Department of the Texas National Bank of Houston; Bill J. Henry, vice-president in charge of Correspondence Division of the same bank; and Govie E. Waller, bank broker, also of Houston, will not reside in Bandera, but have employed Frank Montague Jr., to operate the bank, until such time as they have secured a man to head the bank. The employees, according to Mr. Henry, who are now working at the bank have been retained to continue in their same capacities. Bank personnel include John F. Merrick, Vice-President; Mrs. Frank Krueger, Cashier; Miss Helen Pickens, Assistant Cashier; Mrs. Allie Ruth Johnston, Assistant Cashier; Mrs. Lora Hunter and Mrs. A. T. Fitzpatrick, clerks; and Fritz Mechler, maintenance man; and John Saul, inspections.

Frank Montague Jr., is still a stock holder and member of the board of directors. The board of directors will remain the same with the exception of Frank Montague Sr., who will not be associated with the bank in any way. The board of directors includes Jack D. Freeland, Frank Montague Jr., John F. Merrick, D. W. Hicks, Mrs. Allie Ruth Johnston, and Mrs. Frank Krueger.

The story of the First National Bank is the story of progress and planning for a prosperous future. The original bank was built in 1910 by W. J. Davenport Sr., who operated it as a private bank. It was operated by him with Aaron Meadows as its cashier, until it was taken over by the First National Bank, whose first board of directors meeting was held on August 19, 1920. The original organization of the First National Bank had a $25,000 capital stock with no surplus. The stockholders were F. D. Barnes, Dr. J. O. Butler, E. Buck, W. J. Davenport Sr., J. A. Gibbens, W. H. Hicks, B. F. Langford Jr., A. B. Langford, Walter Meadows, Mrs. Walter Meadows, Sam O'Bryant, L. A. Schreiner, Mrs. M. T. Waldo, A. G. Weston and Mark McBryde.

In 1923 Frank M. Montague Sr., bought F. D. Barnes' stock and was appointed director at that time and made president of the bank in January 1926. In telling of purchasing Mr. Barnes' stock, Mr. Montague said, "Some people say mules do not multiply. I paid Mr. Barnes ten mules for his ten shares of bank stock, and see how it has grown."

In 1952 Mr. Montague's dream came true and the beautiful stone building that now houses the bank was built. A credit to a city of many thousand people the First National Bank has been pointed to with pride by everyone. It is modern in design, is efficiently operated. At that time, January, 1952, the officers included: Frank

Her examination paper will be entered in competition with those of other school winners in the state to name the state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The test is designed and judged by Science Research Associates.

The happy pair came to Bandera Sunday and were the guests of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hudspeth, over Monday. The couple is well and favorably known here, both the bride and the groom having been reared in Bandera. Mr. Cravey, for several years was located at Grand Canyon, Arizona, where he held a good position. For the present they will make their home in San Antonio, but will likely go to Arizona later.

The beautiful fieldstone annex to the Methodist church will be completed this week. The roof has been put on, and the windows and doors are now being installed. It is indeed a beautiful building, and a very attractive addition to the Methodist Church.

Splendid progress was made on the work of the public library and auditorium during the beautiful weather the past week and the stone work will be completed in a few more days.

SCHOOLS WEEK CLIMAXED BY DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

Last week was a big week for all first and second graders, teachers and room mothers.

Monday was visitors day for pre-school, first, and second grade mothers. This session was well attended. The [illegible] some twenty-five present. A nice program was presented by the first and second graders, after which the mothers visited the class rooms. The group proceeded to the home making parlor for the latter half of the program where a question, answer period proved very beneficial. The first grade mothers served the group with delicious cake and punch. The serving committee was certainly to be commended on their organized program and efficient manner of serving. All mothers expressed their pleasure in having come.

The visitation continued throughout the week. Parents and friends, who were unable to attend Monday's session, visited with teachers and pupils and toured the building where they saw beautiful displays. Each child had a display of original work for visitors to view. The murals mounted above on class room walls and in the hall attracted much attention. All of these were made by the children and depicted everything from Nursery Rhymes, favorite stories to Eskimo Land.

Friday night climaxed the week with the play given by the first and second grade pupils and teachers. It was truly a "peppy and a very gay affair. A total of over fifty parents and friends signed the register during the week proving that you are interested in your children and in the school.

The proceeds realized from their recipes will be spent on materials [illegible]

Thank you parents for your loyal support.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Legal Health

Are you in sound legal "health"? It costs most less to avoid legal trouble than to get out of it once you are in. Hence the family lawyer.

But since you can't go running to him all the time, how do you spot legal trouble in time? The following pointers will help in diagnosing your situation.

1. When you come of age, marry, have children, get a divorce, buy or sell property, move to another state, or when someone in your family dies, you may take on new legal rights and duties.

Then you may need up-date your will, your insurance program, or the way you figure your taxes.

2. When you buy or sell property always have the legal papers prepared or checked by your attorney before you sign them or put up any money.

Double check your contracts, important letters or leases before (not after) you sign them.

3. The law defends your rights, but sometimes only if you yourself act within certin time limits. Make sure you do. Otherwise your claim may be outlawed, or it may be too late to fils an action to protect your rights.

If you have been in a car accident, for example, get all the facts at once and check with your lawyer and your insurance company.

4. A few other questions may put you in good shape to avoid legal trouble:

In case something happens to you, who knows where you keep your papers—your needs, will, insurance policies, or contracts?

Has everybody in your family a birth certificate?

Where is your marriage certificate? Your social security card?

Have you checked your life, hospital, health, home and accident insurance policies? Do they protect you the way you want? Does your life insurance plan, for example, fit in with your will?

Are your tax records in good shape?

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

RIGHT TRIM ADDS SATIN

The right kind and amount of trimming adds interest and individuality to your costume. Too much can be distracting and confuse, in framing line in dressmaking fine. Self-covered buttons and belts, or those that blend with the garment, can be used without danger of a spotty or overdecorated effect. Self trim of this type becomes part of the design of the garment and gives more leeway in choosing other accessories.

If you plan for contrasting trim, study your figure carefully to determine where to place the emphasis. In other words, "accentuate the positive". Make certain the trim is appropriate to the garment and the occasion for which it will be worn.

Shop for ideas that are different. Study garments displayed in exclusive dress shops and adapt ideas to your own purse and personality.

A final word—When in doubt, leave that extra trim off—It's better to use too little than too much.

When You Buy a Hat—

Do you sit or stand when you try on a new hat? It pays to do both. Others will see the effect of the hat in relation to your whole silhouette. An honest look in a full-length mirror will help you to study the hat in relation to your height, width of shoulders and hips.

The mature woman usually looks better in hats with some brim or an effect or irregular, which softens and flatters. Picture hats, halos, off-the-face hats, small brow-revealing turbans and toques are for the younger faces that do not have mature lines. Be sure that is slightly tilted on the head may subtract years from a woman's age. Choose a color that flatters your complexion, and at the same time harmonizes with your costume.

Choosing Costume Jewelry

The jewelry you wear reflects a bit of your own taste and personality. Even inexpensive jewelry can add just the right accent to your costume, if it is carefully chosen.

Proper choice means that certain styles and textures are best for different occasions. When more than one piece of jewelry is worn, the pieces should be related in texture and type. Look for them many times the cost of such a program.

This survey also convinced the Committee, that no merchant likes to merchandise an un-advertised product, particularly if the product is unknown to them—and Mohair is unknown and unheard of by many, many, merchants even in Texas, where over 90 per cent of this Nation's Mohair is produced. The statement made by Mr. Calvert, President of Joske's, of Texas, is proof of this fact. He said, "I am amazed to discover such a miracle fiber and more amazed to find that such a large percent of it is produced within two hundred miles of San Antonio."

A recent press release, dated San Angelo, Texas, painted a true picture of Mohair, this release stated, "Mohair has always been a feast or famine fiber for the Texas growers. It usually alternates between prosperity and depression, with little time spent in the middle ground."

Why should Mohair, a superb blend fiber, have even a middle ground, much less depression prices? There seems to be only one answer to this question it is the only major fiber, without funds to promote it.

Today's Mohair prices when compared with the price of other textile fibers, could be considered in the feast category. The only sure way to avoid the famine category, is Nation wide publicity and research, such a campaign by increasing consumer knowledge of Mohair, would increase consumer demand and in turn cause, designers to produce it, mills to use it and stores to promote it.

TELEPHONE TALK

by LeRoy Binz, Manager

Ever see a dial switch in action? Know what happens when you leave your telephone receiver of the hook? The answers to these questions, plus a lot of other interesting and instructive information can be gained by touring the telephone office. We welcome visitors to our telephone exchange and we're always happy to take you on a behind-the scenes tour of the building. If you're program chairman, den mother, scoutmaster, Little League manager . . . or have any group for which you'd like to provided "something different" in the way of a program, give us a ring. We'll be happy to set up a telephone building tour for you.

A PART OF GOOD LIVING

Nowadays, we hear the term "good living" quite often. I have a few ideas about it, but to find out what it means to other people, I brought up the subject with a group of friends a week or so ago.

Before the "good living" talk was over and the coffee served, one of the women made music for my ears by saying that the telephones in color in her home are certainly an improtant part of good living.

Everyone seemed to agree, and that gave me a chance to point out that extra telephones in bedrooms and kitchens are low in cost, too—Just $1.00 a month plus installation, for color you know, there's a one-time charge of $10.

P.S. I sold a couple, too.

LOOKING AHEAD TO EASTER

Easter Sunday, to most of us, is a happy, dress-up, go-to-church day for all the family. And I hope you and your family will all be together for a Happy Easter.

Unfortunately, some families are scattered and won't gathered around the table for the carving of the ham.

For these families, a Long Distance visit or two by telephone is the answer. It's the next best thing to being there in person, and everyone has fun on an out-of-town call.

Naturally, low Sunday rates will be in effect. And if you call station-to-station, you can talk longer for less.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

THE FRANCISCAN PADRES

Ambassadors of Liberty and Enlightenment

Just a mile from the little city of Brenard, Texas, a mute testimonial to the bravery and martyrdom of three dedicated Franciscan Fathers still stands . . . the ruins of the Presidio San Luis de las Amarillas. More than 200 years ago, at the request of the Lipan Apache Indians, Spanish missionaries and soldiers came to the banks of the San Saba River to advance the frontier and spread Christianity. The Comanche Indians, enemies of the Apaches, were suspicious of the mission San Saba and on March 13, 1758, came in the guise of friendship, asking admission.

Skeptical, yet welcoming anyone who wished to receive their religious teachings, the Fathers opened the gates. In the massacre that followed all were killed save one, who lived to reach the soldiers in the Presidio, two miles away, and report the tragedy. Today the names of the Franciscan Padres gave their lives to bring enlightenment to the wilderness are inscribed on a historical marker at the mission site and in the memories of all who revere selfless courage and devotion to faith.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland . . . Beer Belongs! And this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
SELF-GOVERNMENT

The Board of Supervisors of the Bandera Soil Conservation District met on Wednesday, March 4, for their monthly business session. Present for the meeting were supervisors Fay Mansfield, A. J. Flowers, A. H. Schott, H. L. Manafield, and Wilton Crider. Also present were Evelyn Hutcheson, steno-bookkeeper, and Billy Griffin, Work Unit Conservationist. Plans are being formulated for the annual Soil Stewardship Week observance during the week of May 3 through 10, and a ministers tour in April in connection with this observance. Cooperative agreements to furnish conservation planning assistance for the places of Preston Wedgeworth, Alfred Anderwald, W. L. Gray and A. B. Mayfield of Bandera; W. R. Grun and Lewis Sterling of Medina; and Dewitt Leibold and J. B. Edwards of Pipe Creek were approved by the board. The Supervisors also met with E. J. Postert, county ASC office manager to discuss and make recommendations for changes in cost share rates for Conservation Reserve and ACP practices. Next regular meeting will be held on April 1, 1959.

Forrest Stevens has recently completed clearing 150 acres of brush on his place north of Bandera. This brush control will be followed by complete deferment to allow the native grasses to get started. Mr. Stevens is also considering range seeding some of the bare spots with such adapted grasses as K. R. Bluestem and Sideoats grama. Mr. Stevens is being assisted with his conservation work by the Bandera SCD and the Bandera County ASC Committee.

W. L. Gray, who recently bought a 600 kcre place south of Bandera, has worked out a complete conservation plan with the Bandera SCD. Mr. Gray plans to apply brush control, proper use, and deferred grazing to his rangeland. Agronomic practices for his cropland include cover cropping with clover and winter peas, fertilization, and crop residue utilization. Mr. Gray also plans to construct a well to provide better grazing distribution. Technicians of the Bandera SCD are assisting Gray with his conservation plan development.

Paul Kriley, foreman of the A. B. Alkek Ranch, has just finished building a fertiliser platform for their 9 acre lake. The platform is about six feet square and is made from a piece of old pipe and some scrap lumber. They plan to fertilize the lake with about 1000 pounds of commercial fertilizer at least three times this year, using a fertilizer that will give them an 8-8-2 ratio. This fertilization and platform are a part of their program of fish pond improvement.

The Story of

Lottie Deno

Her Life and Times

It's authentic . . . It's true! Here is the real story of a Lady Gambler, the most exotic, mysterious, fantastic woman the Old West ever knew . . .

It is on the press and we are inviting you to send your pre-publication order for the late J. Marvin Hunter's last great work.

You will remember the superb ALBUM OF GUN-FIGHTERS which was published by J. Marvin Hunter in collaboration with Noah H. Rose and Warren Hunter.

Now Mr. Hunter's final masterpiece will soon be off the press. It is The Story of LOTTIE DENO, the mysterious Lady Gambler who so sedately operated in all the Hell-holes of the Old West during the latter part of the nineteenth century. It is an accurate protrayal of the incorruptible Lottie, together with facinating accounts of incidents and description of places, where she played for high stakes and more often than not came off winner.

The book is replete with description of characters who infested rip-roaring old Fort Griffin, El Paso, Silver City, and finally Deming, New Mexico. Among the better known are Doc Holliday, Wyatt Earp, and John Selman. Illustrated with original photographs of Lottie and her acquaintances as well as scenes from the towns where she was active.

Amid surroundings of indescribable viciousness and debauchery the beautiful and fantastic Lottie Deno played her game, remaining aloof and serene, never yielding to the importunities of the times. She was born a lady and carried herself with dignity and grace throughout a long career. Her life span of ninety years is told with truth and conviction by J. Marvin Hunter in this volume, which is being published posthumously by his children.

The Story of LOTTIE DENO will sell for $6.00, but the pre-publication price to you is $4.50. Send your orders by check or money order to

F. H. A. NEWS

On Saturday, March 7, 1959, four Bandera FHA members accompanied by their Homemaking teacher, Miss Ada Pierson, attended the Area VII Future Homemakers of America meeting at the SWTSTC auditorium at San Marcos.

At 9:30 a.m., the morning session began with the opening ceremony, and the FHA girls were welcomed by Mr. J. B. Flowers, President of the college. Two SWTSTC students, who are natives of Turkey and India, spoke about their countries to the group of homemakers. Miss Erigi Ardik of Turkey related that Turkish schools offer home economic classes from the seventh through the twelvth grades. As she talked, the FHA girls found that there is little difference in Turkey's system of home economics and the American way, though there are many different foods prepared and different garments made. Mr. Abdel Karim El Eryani from India showed the group that America is also like his country in one respect. He danced to an Indian dance record, and it seemed very much like the type of popular dancing doneain America.

At the afternoon session the business meeting was held, after which the installation of officers took place. The closing ceremony was held, and everyone agreed that the meeting had been very enjoyable.

BAND NEWS

The band deeply appreciated the crowd which attended the concert. The public has really been responding, and it has helped the band to become a better organization.

Another concert has been scheduled. We will present an outdoor concert near the end of school. The date has not been set, but it will take place at the park. It will be solely for enjoyment, and there will be no admission fee.

The Texas Lutheran Band will perform in the high school gym on April 10. Be sure to attend. It will be worthwhile.

In order to attend the Heart 'O Texas Festival at Brady the band left Bandera at 7:00 a.m., last Saturday. They presented a concert before two judges, V. Dinino and Everett Maxwell. The sight-reading judge was J. Jacobsen, director at T.C.U. Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some serious history. Mr. Hunter has known personally in different Texas counties, those you know personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days and ride in a open-side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheep-herder; of two scenic days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

HIGH TAXPAYER ONLY

Parents may find they can claim their child as a dependent on their 1958 Federal income tax return even though the child earned $600 or more during 1958, Internal Revenue said today.

He explained: "Even though your child may have to file an income tax return if he has income of $600 or more for the year, you also may claim him as a dependent if certain conditions are met.

"If you have furnished more than half of his support, you may claim an exemption for him regardless of the amount he earned, providing he had not reached his 19th birthday by January 1, 1958.

"When the child is 19 or over, you still may claim an exemption for him if he was a full time student during five calendar months in 1958, and if you furnished over half of his total support during the calendar year. A full time student is one who is enrolled for the number of hours which is considered to be full-time attendance.

"In addition to attendance in the regularly recognized high schools and colleges of universities, your child also will be considered a student if he is pursuing a full-time on-farm training course under the supervision of an agent of a State or political subdivision.

"Your child is not considered to be a full time student if he is employed full time during the day and attends night school, or if he is taking a correspondence course or an employee training course."

These special rules apply only to the taxpayer's own child (including an adopted child or a stepchild). Any other child, whether or not related to the taxpayer, may not be claimed as a dependent if he has gross income of $600 or more, regardless of his age or his status as a student, and regardless of the fact that the taxpayer contributed over half of his support.

Parents are also reminded that, if their child is married and files a joint return with his or her spouse, no exemption may be claimed for that child even though all the other tests are met.

RALPH YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

As one means of keeping our military defense strong, the Congress will soon extend the draft to June 30, 1963. Many of us wish we did not have to continue to draft our young men. But the Communist Cold War, which at times threatens to become a shooting war, leaves us no other choice.

The draft extension and the cold war will mean that nearly 4½ million young Americans will serve terms in the armed forces in the next four years. The most serious result of the draft is that it causes many young men to fail to get a college education or sound technical training.

This happens because a young man getting out of high school, instead of thinking about going to college, is more concerned with the draft. By the time he completes his military service, a young man is often matured to the point he wants to take a job, get married, and raise a family. The tragedy is that he has missed vital college or technical training years, those years which would equip him to earn a good living for a family.

To help correct this basic problem for present and future American families, I have introduced a Cold War Veterans Bill. It provides for extension of the G. I. Bill of Rights to all those men and women who have kept, and will keep our nation strong during the Cold War. The benefits include one and one-half days of college training for each day of military service; vocational rehabilitation for disabled veterans; and home loans guarantee for veterans. These benefits would be available to all those veterans who have served since the Korean G. I. Bill ended on January 31, 1955. In addition, my bill provides $100 mustering out pay for veterans honorably discharged after enactment of the act.

This bill would re-establish one of the greatest educational programs in American history. Under the original G. I. Bill, our nation was provided 450,000 engineers, 180,000 doctors and nurses, 118,000 physicists and research scientists, 238,000 teachers, 710,000 skilled mechanics, and many others. Under my bill, our nation would have the benefit of several million more highly trained citizens.

Most important, this bill would allow millions of our young men who serve in the armed forces to set a goal of higher education or

Don't Get Your Wires Crossed!

Here are the facts . . .

1. The Electric Cooperatives of Texas are a tax paying — business managed — partnership.
2. The money to build the cooperatives was a loan and the interest and the principal are being paid back.
3. For every $1.00 spent on Co-Op lines an estimated $6.00 has been spent by members for electrical appliances, thus the Cooperatives have created and are still creating a multi-billion dollar market for the merchants of Texas and the nation.
4. The Electric Cooperatives of Texas are owned and operated by the people they serve . . . free enterprise in its purest form.

Don't get your wires crossed.* If it had not been for the Electric Cooperatives of Texas, many farms and ranches would still be dark. They transformed the rural community. They must continue to serve those areas they helped to develop.

BASEBALL HAS RETURNED TO BANDERA

Baseball has returned to Bandera in a big way after many years without a team. Bandera has entered a team in the powerful Hill Country League which is [illegible] Gardner, Johnson, Kerrville Kats, Helotes, Camp Stanley, and Fredericksburg Pats nine.

Bandera will open the season with Boerne at Boerne, April 5, and then will open their home schedule with the powerful Fredericksburg Giants on April 19.

A Bandera Booster Club has been formed to back the newly formed team. Anyone can join by obtaining a season pass that will entitle the member and his immediate family to attend every home game. The membership will cost $5.00.

A fine representative team has been lined up for the coming season. Roger Tatsch, Bandera High School coach, an outstanding shortstop will manage. In addition, Irvin Lindner, W. O. Hatfield and others from past Bandera teams have been lined up to represent the local nine, who will be nicknamed the "Cowboys".

The Mayan Guest Ranch has generously granted permission for a ball park to be built on their premises. Work on this project will begin this week. There will be a community work project every Thursday evening at 5 o'clock for the next two months, to construct the park. Workers wishing to lend a hand will be welcomed.

The Cowboys have their first practice on Sunday, March 15, at the old field on the loop. All who wish to try out will be welcome.

BANDERA COUNTY IS LAGGING IN MOTOR VEHICLE INSPECTIONS

Major Kent Odom, Commander of Region 3, of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reminded motorists that they may be lined up for blocks before neighborhood automobile service centers as the April 15, 1959, deadline for obtaining Safety Inspection Stickers for cars, trucks and trailers draws near.

Ivan Lawrence, Captain of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service in Region 3, states that there are 685,357 vehicle registered in the thirty-nine county region and only 291,313 or 42 per cent had been inspected on March 1, 1959. This means that each inspection station will have to inspect on the average of 25 vehicles per day for the remaining 46 days of the inspection period. Stations that have not have brake machines to test brakes cannot make inspections when the surface of the streets used for checking the brakes is wet. In Bandera county, there are 2,050 registered vehicles and only 715 or 35 per cent of the vehicles have been inspected.

Captain Ivan Lawrence pointed out that as a part of the inspection, the following things will be checked: Motor number, brakes, headlights, tail lamps, stop lights, horn, windshield wiper and mirror.

Records from the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service indicate before the inspection program was started that mechanical defects in vehicles was a causative factor in 15 per cent of the State's accidents. However, only 3 per cent are caused by mechanical defects of the State's traffic accidents now.

Avoid the last minute rush on inspection stations — have your vehicle inspected now!

FIRE AT FLETCHER HOME

A speedy answer to the fire alarm by the Bandera Volunteer Fire Department last Wednesday is credited with saving the home of Mrs. W. R. Fletcher. The blaze caught from a fire in her yard where she was burning leaves. She thought she had completely extinguished the fire, but supposed a spark landed on a hydrant covered with paper and spread to the house. No great damage was done, thanks to the speedy response from our fire department.

AUNT SUSIE SHOOTS THE WORKS!

The Medina Junior Class will present "Aunt Susie Shoots the Works" on Thursday, March 26, in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. This is one of Fred Caldwell's latest and funniest farces, and is being presented by special arrangement with Samuel French publishers.

This is a most extraordinary play, containing all the qualities of a thrilling mystery which combined with a tornado of laughs will never allow a dull moment. From beginning to end this play is packed with hilarious events and suspense.

In the cast will be found Aunt Susie, an eccentric old maid who hates all men and thinks all other women should feel the same way about them. Then, there is the charming niece, Joy, who agrees with her aunt about most things except those regarding men. And there is Joy's colored maid, Sarabet, who sticks with her mistress although she almost dies of fright everytime something mysterious happens. To add to the mirth is a confirmed old bachelor, Omar Graves, who according to a will is supposed to marry Aunt Susie before they can become partners in the joint ownership of a factory. The fun really starts when these two meet—Omar's negro servant, La Salle, keeps everything lively when he is around. Other characters plus a neighbor, her daughter, Joy's boy friend, and his detective assistant, a lady lawyer and two members of the undercover will keep the audience in an uproar.

Be at the Medina School Auditorium Thursday evening at 8 p.m. to see "Aunt Susie Shoots the Works."

FORTY CONGRESSMEN PROTEST PROPOSED LEGISLATION

A group of forty Congressmen from the farm and ranch belt called on the Secretary of Labor last week to protest proposed regulations which would, it was contended, tend to fix farm wages and add other new controls and requirements.

Headed by Rep. E. C. Gathings (Ark.), the House Agriculture committee's farm labor sub-committee, a dozen members aired their grievances and pinpointed the dangers inherent in the proposed regulations.

Among others who testified were Poage, Bisher, Mahon and Kilgore, from Texas. McIntyre of Maine, Rhodes of Arizona, Gubser of California, and others joined in lambasting the proposal.

In brief, the Labor Department proposes regulations which would require a farmer or ranchman who sought foreign labor or domestic labor through the United States Employment Service, to apply and if local labor should not be readily available, then the employer would be required to employ such labor if available on USES lists within the "migratory pattern".

Thus, the New England states are within the migratory labor pattern originating in Florida. The northwestern states are within the migratory pattern originating in Texas.

And the employer would be required to pay the cost of transportation of the workers to and from their origins, pay them the prevailing wage, and provide certain minimum standards of housing.

"I do not believe the Secretary of Labor has that authority," Congressman Fisher stated. "The Congress has always exempted farm labor from the wage-hour law; yet this would in effect fix farm wages where the USES services are used. Thus, we have another example of legislation by regulation and not by act of Congress. This would invade States' rights and would be a monstrous thing".

The Secretary of Labor promised to "take another look" at the intended regulations, and said he would review the entire subject.

PIPE CREEK HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. LYND

The Pipe Creek Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Bob Lynd and Mrs. L. J. Edwards presided. Roll call was answered by "my favorite recipe." Mrs. Stevens gave the Council report and Mrs. H. H. Wagner Jr., gave a thorough demonstration on "your best lines." She showed why much consideration should be given in selecting a pattern the size and type before purchasing materials.

Mrs. R. L. Stevens, Home Demonstration agent, spoke on "Harmony, Proportion, Balance, Rythm and Emphasis." She mentioned that selecting the proper accessories with the basic suit or dress was the answer to a well planned wardrobe. Sample material with pattern was shown and literature on accessories around the clock was given.

Mrs. Bob Lynd conducted recreation with everyone making herself an Easter hat. There were many new styles.

Mrs. Paul Purdy and Mrs. J. W. Edwards drew the lucky numbers.

The serving table depicted the Easter scene. Delicious refreshments of jello sherbet with cookies, candy, coffee and tea was served to two welcome visitors, Mrs. W. L. Davis of San Antonio and Mrs. H. F. Rippey of Auburn, Washington, and Mesdames R. L. Stevens, Lynn Huseby, John Martin, Charles Burton, J. W. Edwards, L. C. Mathis, L. J. Edwards, H. H. Saathoff Jr., and daughters, C. A. Duke, Tony Jenkins and son, D. E. Pierce, Edwin Paul Purdy, Adolph Schott, C. E. Brandeberry, Mattie N. Johnston, Fritz Saur and the hostesses, Mrs. Lynd and daughter, Carolyn.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Dewitt Leibold. The program will be on TIDA work.

The social night is Saturday the 21st of March at the community house. The refreshments will be a variety.

HEROIC FIGURE OF LAFITTE THE PIRATE LOOMS LARGE IN FILM, 'THE BUCCANEER'

One of the most exciting and crucial chapters in American history is dramatized in the best tradition of Cecil B. DeMille, who supervised its production, in "The Buccaneer," Paramount's Technicolor and VistaVision spectacular, showing Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 22-25, at the Bantex Theatre. With an outstanding cast headed by co-stars Yul Brynner, Claire Bloom, Charles Boyer and Charlton Heston as Andrew Jackson, "The Buccaneer" re-creates the flaming final phase of the War of 1812, the pulse-pounding Battle of New Orleans and the colorful events that led up to it.

"The Buccaneer" tells the truth-is-stranger-than-fiction story of Jean Lafitte, the pirate king who had a price on his head, but who became one of the nation's great heroes when he came to America's rescue at the darkest moment in her young history. Yul Brynner, made up with hair and moustache to resemble the famous pirate, plays the title role. As in "The Ten Commandments," the man with whom he clashes is portrayed by Charlton Heston as General Jackson, only in "The Buccaneer" they join forces with spectacularly successful results.

In one of the most off-beat castings of this or any season, Claire Bloom, Shakespearean actress and English lady, plays the rough, tough daughter of a pirate, who loves Lafitte and competes for him with the elegantly particular daughter (portrayed by lovely, blonde Inger Stevens) of Louisiana's governor.

In the important role of Dominique You, trusted lieutenant of Lafitte, is the suave and charming Charles Boyer from whom the characterization of the philosophic pirate is a decided departure from anything he has yet done on the screen.

"The Buccaneer" marks the first directorial effort of actor Anthony Quinn and the first filme actor Henry Wilcoxon has turned his hand to producing. But with Cecil B. DeMille supervising their activities, in addition to their own wide experience in front of the cameras, fans have every right to expect the outstanding entertainment "The Buccaneer" promises.

SIMPLE WAY TO SOLVE INCOME TAX PROBLEM

Do you end up owing the Government money every year on April 15, even though your salary and wages are subject to income tax withholding?

Internal Revenue says there is a simple way to solve the problem for next year now before 1959 is too far gone.

"All you need is a written agreement between you and your employer authorizing an income tax deduction each payday for an amount larger than the regular deduction for you," he said.

"There would be fewer unhappy April 15 surprises for wage earners, if more taxpayers would take advantage of this authorized procedure," he added.

Two groups of taxpayers are likely to have a tax liability greater than the amount withheld.

In the first group are taxpayers who have income not subject to withholding, such as dividends, interest, etc.

In the other group are taxpayers whose income is great enough to be taxed above the lowest tax bracket.

The second group includes single taxpayers, with incomes over $2,800, married couples with no dependents with income over $5,780, and married couples with two dependents and income in excess of $7,110 who claim the full number of exemptions to which they are entitled.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL SPONSOR BANDERA BASEBALL TEAM

A general meeting of the Bandera Chamber of Commerce was held on Tuesday evening at the Town Room, with twenty members in attendance. President Willie Smith, Jr. Reyers, Auto dealer, presided, and a number of important discussions took place on various phases of Chamber of Commerce business.

After Mrs. Ross Bailey read the minutes of the last meeting Mr. Smith reported that the local ranches would not sponsor the annual Spring Dance in Houston this year, due to the fact that the ranches are filled to capacity at that time with high school guests.

Dr. J. P. Harrison, chairman of the fund raising committee, spoke briefly to outline plans for raising money for the Chamber of Commerce and listed selling cold drinks, and some on the street during the Stompede.

Plans are going forward for the Chamber of Commerce parade which will include out-of-town entries, floats, guest ranch entries, cars, drill teams, bands, marching clubs and more to be announced later.

Sam Darden is chairman of the parade committee.

W. C. Rhodes reported that the REA will put up street signs and notions for the Chamber of Commerce provided that they are brought to the Chamber office by March 31st. Mr. Rhodes stated that the Chamber has street banners for sale at $3.75. A. B. Lewis reported that the Bandera Ice will be put up and left up until after Labor Day to give Bandera a more festive appearance during the summer months. Membership in the Chamber of Commerce voted to do that.

Mrs. Bailey reported that the Trail Ride of 80 miles will take place and invites to be made before April 20, the deadline, with Smoki Kindla.

Charles Applegate, manager for the Bandera Baseball Club, spoke on the club participating in the Hill Country League and asked the Chamber of Commerce to sponsor the baseball club. He told that Bandera had a good baseball team a number of years ago and that for lack of interest the team disbanded. Now he has a wonderful team which is a member of the Hill Country League. "The League is composed of Kerrville, Bandera, Boerne, Comfort, and Camp Stanley. The team now has a schedule of 10 games, one of which is with the Fredericksburg team, a pro team.

After Mr. Applegate's good talk the Chamber of Commerce voted to sponsor the local team and help promote the good will of Bandera in the Hill Country, as well as assist in selling $5 season ticket memberships in the ball club, to help the club raise their yearly budget. Mr. Applegate stressed the fact that the team is a worthwhile project in a fine athletic program. He ended his talk by expressing his hopes for the Little League, Pony League, Amateur League for Bandera.

Mr. Smith appointed Harold Brooks as chairman of the ticket up committee and Mr. Everest offered to contact Commissioner Pingleton to request him to clean up the public square around the Chamber of Commerce building.

Howard Hay spoke on a number of vital issues for Bandera, the first being the highway through Bandera and said, "Let's not rest, let's see that the highway goes through Bandera.

Mr. Hay also gave a resume of the recent meeting of a group of local citizen who have formed a movie stock company, and told of the business such a project will bring into Bandera. He said, "Bandera is the best suited place for a movie industry in Texas. The new company needs the support of all the people here in Bandera and above all that of the guest ranches. It can be done by working together."

Following the meeting the entertainment committee met to make plans for the Stompede.

Present at the general meeting were President Wilvie Smith, Mrs. Ross Bailey, secretary, A. W. Ligon, Walter Zigler, A. B. Small, Howard Hay, C. W. Rhodes, Glen McCulle, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Groff, Dr. J. F. Harrison, Mrs. Alfred Stein, Mrs. Blanch Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barger, Mrs. Eleanor Doerr, Charles Applegate, Bob Everest, Harold Brooks, and Ruth Rhodes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McPherson of Middleton, R. I., are here for a two months stay at the Dixie Dude Ranch. Their daughter, Jaye, will arrive by air Saturday to spend Easter week with them. Mr. and Mrs. McPherson have been visitors at the Dixie Dude Ranch many times and are always welcome guests in Bandera.

CANCER "BREAKTHROUGH" NOW OR NEVER!

By Pat McGrady, Science Editor, American Cancer Society

Is the long-awaited "cancer breakthrough" near?

"As each succeeding session here has suggested that it may be. But the word, "breakthrough," is left undefined, and few, if any, will hazard a guess as to just when the blessing may come to pass. They don't say how near is near.

Unhappily, it must be said at the outset, nothing in the published accounts or in confidential reports of thousands of scientists working on the cancer problem now suggests that a new cure is at hand. As things stand, the 250,000 Americans doomed to die of cancer in 1959 will die on schedule—unless something unforeseen happens.

That a "breakthrough" will come to pass eventually few now will deny. This is a strange and encouraging contrast to the attitude of scientists and informed doctors of only a decade ago, when the consensus seemed to be that cancer, by and large, never would be controlled.

In this series, we will try to outline where we now stand, prospects for the immediate future, the course of future progress and the possibilities of a sudden and surprising development which would drive cancer from its grim eminence as the second most prolific killer of this century.

What is a Breakthrough?

For our purposes, a cancer breakthrough would be any development which would a) prevent a substantial percentage of cancers which now occur, or b) bring about the cure of advance cancers—the kind against which Medicine today is completely helpless.

In a sense, and within the framework of this definition, the last twenty or so years have seen a cancer breakthrough—or, more exactly, a "smeakthrough." Just recently we have found that one in three cancer patients is saved; the figure used to be one in four.

This saves a of human life has not been due to research advances so much as to the application of common sense by patients and of good medical practices by doctors. The patients became suspicious of their symptoms and brought them to the attention of the physicians in time—and the doctors cut out the cancers or burned them out with radiation before they could seed distant parts of the body and foreclose on the patients' lives.

It was one saved in four.

Now it is one in three.

When will it be one in two?

It could be one in two right now—and without a single new discovery. One-half of today's cancer victims die not so much from cancer as from ignorance, carelessness and fear. And maybe poverty. They could be saved by the best cancer detection and treatment facilities now available. But they must go to the doctor in time. And the doctor must know what to do—and do it quickly.

Some Cancers Can Be Prevented

The best way to beat cancer is to prevent it. The only way to prevent it now is to avoid the things that cause it.

More than 400 chemicals have caused experimental cancer in animals; and their use in food and drugs has been curtailed.

Excessive X-rays cause cancer; and while they must be used to diagnose and treat certain conditions, they should not be used capriciously. Long-sustained overexposure even to sunshine causes skin cancer; sunshine moderately and sensibly used is beneficial; this abuse too should be avoided.

Chemicals and physical irritants are believed to give rise to pre-cancerous conditions. Common sense and good personal hygiene eliminate many irritations. Non-healing injured tissues should be looked at by one's doctor.

Among the habits suspect of causing cancer, cigarette smoking has gained the most attention. Responsible authorities do not dispute the fact that, statistically, cigaretts smokers have many times the risk of lung cancer run by non-smokers. And more and more investigators are finding chemicals in cigarette smoke which cause cancer when applied to experimental animals. Each must decide for himself whether or not to smoke. They're your lungs—and your life.

One big life-saving advantage adopted during the last decade is the technique of removing fluid from various body areas and examining it under the "microscope for the presence of cancer cells or pre-cancerous cells. This has been highly effective in finding uterine cancers while they are still fairly and curable; and scientists are using similar procedures in other areas of hidden and dreadfully deadly cancers—such as the lung and stomach.

If you would avoid death by cancer, you should call these conditions to the attention of your physician:

1) Unusual bleeding or discharge.

2) A lump or thickening in the breast, or elsewhere.

3) A sore that does not heal.

4) Persistent change in bowel or bladder habits.

5) Persistent hoarseness or cough.

6) Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.

7) Change in a wart or mole.

These symptoms may not mean cancer. But if they do, your best bet for beating the disease is to have it treated without delay.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ryan had as their guests last week her mother, Mrs. Helen Berryman, of Wink, Texas.

Mrs. Steve Mubrietto and son, Bobby, of San Antonio, were guests of Mrs. Isabel Stokes and Bennie Adamietz this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mansfield and family of Waco were the guests last week-end of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Mansfield.

Mrs. C. G. Armstrong had as her pleasant house guest for a few days this past week her son-in-law, Robert Leverniere, from Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Haby of Pipe Creek were Bandera visitors Wednesday and dropped by for a pleasant visit in our office. Mr. Haby has put up $3 to renew his subscription to the home paper for another year.

MRS. CLAY SHORT PRESIDES AT CANCER MEET

The Bandera County Unit of the American Cancer Society held its regular quarterly meeting on March 5th at 2 p.m., at the Episcopal Church House in Bandera with Mrs. Clay Short presiding. Mrs. John G. James called the roll, and read the minutes of the previous meeting, which stood approved, and gave the treasurer's report. The following answered roll call: Mrs. James F. Brannigan, Mrs. Carl Briggs, Mrs. C. O. Callahan, Mrs. Lon D. Fisher, Mrs. J. E. Justice, Mrs. E. M. Pue, Mrs. J. C. Short, and Mrs. James Dr.

Mrs. Short made a report on some important films for Mrs. L. L. Hensley, chairman of public education, who was unable to be present due to illness in her family. Mrs. Short also gave a brief report on the film, "This and Two Women" and it is hoped that the film can be shown in Bandera County sometime in the future although it will not be possible to do so for quite some time. In the meantime, plans are being made to show the ever popular and educational film "Breast Self Examination" here on April 16th, during the annual Cancer Crusade.

April 12th has been designated as "Cancer Control Sunday" and April 14th has been named "Cancer Control Day", with the drive for funds beginning everywhere this day. "Guard your family! Fight cancer with a check-up and a check!" is the theme of the 1959 Cancer Crusade.

Mrs. Short gave a brief review of the book "Before We Sleep" by the now famous, Hank Bloomgarden. This book attacks the American Cancer Society and other such organizations and presents a misrepresentation of much of the vital work and research done by the society and other organizations, and fails to give them credit for the wonderful work they are doing for humanity.

Due to the resignation of Mrs. L. J. Edwards as second vice, president, Mrs. Short asked for nominations and an election to be held to fill this vacancy. Mrs. Reed Briggs nominated Mrs. Lon D. Fisher for the office and Mrs. E. M. Pue seconded the nomination. Mrs. James Brannigan made a motion that Mrs. Fisher be elected by acclamation and the motion carried.

Mrs. Short then appointed the following committees to nominate officers for the ensuing year, which will be from September 1, 1959, to August 31, 1960. Mrs. Alfred Anderwald, chairman, and Mrs. Fred Briggs and Mrs. James Brannigan compose the nominating committee. Third Day Sheep and Wool Show at Junction

A three day sheep and wool and an Angora goat and mohair school will be held at the A&M Adjunct, Junction, Texas, on March 30, 31 and April 1. Bandera county will have four ranchmen to attend this school. This is the first time such a school has been offered for the ranchmen.

A good program has been scheduled with well qualified speakers for different subjects. Some of the topics to be discussed and the speakers are as follows: "Sheep and Wool Market and Your Market Outlook," by Patt Wooten; "Warehouseman's Problems", by Tom Holdsworth; "Wool Preparation, Grading and Marketing Program," by D. C. Langford; "Marketing Wool on a Description Basis," by Frank Tillman; "Commercial Testing Company Services" by Frank Tillman; "Production Testing of Range Rams," by Charles Schreiner III; "Wool Grades and Grading"; by V. T. Jones; "Sheep Selection for Greatest Profit," by Jones; and "Selecting Angora Goats for Greater Production," by V. T. Jones; and "Internal and External Parasites," by Dr. W. T. Hardy.

These are some of the topics that will be discussed during the morning sessions. Afternoon sessions will be devoted to working with sheep selection, shearing and wool and mohair grading, fleeding and sheep and goat diseases.

Agribusiness Outlook

This news is taken from the "Agribusiness Outlook" which is printed in Washington, D.C.

Farm spending in the fiscal year 1954 equalled only about 4 per cent of the total U.S. spending budget—$2.9 billion of $68 billion. This year spending on related programs will amount to almost 10 per cent of the total—$7.3 billion of $81 billion.

Twenty-five per cent of the farmers produce 80 per cent of all commercially marketed farm products.

Farmers Get Less of the Food Dollar

Of each $1.00 consumers spend for food, farmers get less than 40c. This is 12c less than they received ten years ago. Most of the difference goes to pay for the "built-in maid services" consumers now demand.

Texas Leaf Cutting Ant Control

Methyl bromide has proved to be the most efficient material for controlling the leaf cutting ant. Treatment should be made not later than March since most of the ants are still concentrated near the center of the colony.

Application of Methyl bromide is made by a special applicator. The tube of the applicator is placed 6 to 12 inches into one of the openings near the center of the colony and held in place. The liquid in the one-pound can changes to a gas immediately when the can is punctured, and being heavier than air, flows into the bottom of the chamber.

Peach Spraying

The time is near to give the peach trees a spraying forcatfacing insects and brown rot. The spray is applied when 75 per cent of the peach blossom petals have fallen. Spraying should be done on a calm day with one pound of wettable dieldrin plus 6 pounds of wettable sulphur to 100 gallons of water. Sulphur may be hard to wash off your tractor after it is dry. In about 10 to 14 days another spray application should be made with one pound of wettable dieldrin plus 3 pounds, 50 per cent wettable DDT to 100 gallons of water.

WITH MRS. FLACH

The Privilege Creek Home Demonstration Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Clifford Flach today and all members are urged to attend. Time 2 p.m.

Mrs. Lon D. Fisher and Mrs. A. W. Hensley attended a meeting of the Hill Country Garden Council in Kerrville Wednesday.

The name of Mrs. Cecil McKay was inadvertionally omitted in the bank story, last week and we are sorry.

We are delighted to know that Mrs. Fritz Saur is getting along fine since her recent operation and was a Bandera visitor last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhea Mansfield are having a spacious addition to their home on Delightful Hill constructed. The work is well under way and will be a beautiful, improvement to their cottage.

Construction is about completed on a pretty new addition at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Boyle on the Medina Highway. Bandera is indeed proud of its modern homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Toepperwein and son, Kenny, and Mrs. Toepperwein's sister and daughter of Bandera visitors Monday and paid the Bulletin office a pleasant visit.

Col. and Mrs. Elmo Reeves and daughter, Mona, had as their guests during the week-end, Captain and Mrs. Chester N. Grice and two children. The Grice family were enroute from Biloxi, Mississippi, to Captain Grice's new permanent duty station and the Reeves and Grice families are friends of long standing having both been stationed in Japan at the same time.

BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
CONSERVATION DEVELOPMENT SELF-GOVERNMENT

The Bandera ranch south of Bandera reports a good stand of Hubam clover on one of their fields. Last year, A. T. Gill ranch foreman, planted the Hubam along with oats as a cover crop for soil conditioning. The clover has helped the shallow soil in the field by increasing nitrogen and adding organic matter to the soil. Gill plans to use clover as a cover crop on one of his fields every year from now on. The ranch is also planning to seed an old field to a permanent grass to give increased grazing and cut down on soil erosion.

First growth that grass makes in the spring comes from food stored in the roots during the fall of preceding years.

Mrs. Edna Wheat Beam has a good stand of Weeping lovegrass on one of her fields that is in the Soil Bank. This grass was planted in rows, and now the middles of the rows are almost covered with the growth from the lovegrass. Weeds were controlled in the fields by spraying. This allowed more moisture to be used for growth of the grass plants instead of the weeds. All grass plantings will benefit from either spraying or mowing to control weedy vegetation that sapa moisture away from grass plantings.

Often the only difference between a good condition pasture and a poor condition pasture is a bark-wire fence.

Mrs. Lydia Ligon of the Winn's Creek area differed her recreation for the complete growing season last year. This year helped the plants gain in vigor thereby growing heavier grasses and root systems. The deferred rest reserves in the root systems of the grasses under pasture will enable these grasses to come out much earlier this spring and produce more and better grazing than is possible from weak over-grazed plants.

Many grasses are short lived, therefore a continuous supply of seed is needed to provide new plants to replace old ones that die. Timely deferrment at the seeding period must be provided so that seed production can be achieved.

APRIL DRAFT CALLS FOR 310 MEN

Austin, Texas, March 3.—The state quota for Texas draft boards in April calls for 310 men, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, announced Tuesday. . .

The state's April call of 310 compared with a quota of 364 for March and 412 for February. The April call is the state's share of a national quota of 7,000 men, all for the Army.

Colonel Schwartz also announced that there would be no call for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in April.

Local board quotas for the April call already have been figured and are scheduled to be sent to the state's 137 local boards Tuesday.

The April quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on April 1, 1999, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS ASKED TO CREATE HUNTING LEASES

The Chamber of Commerce has started receiving letters asking about hunting leases for this year. It has been the Chamber of Commerce policy to list available leases each year and many ranchers have profited from the Chamber's publicity. Anyone owning land suitable for hunting leases should see or write the Chamber of Commerce immediately. A charge will be made for listing leases, but this fee will be a Chamber of Commerce member's fee. Join now and take advantage of the 1959 service.

The list of leases for 1959 is being compiled now so, if you wish to list with the Chamber of Commerce please send the following information immediately: Name, mailing address, phone number, location of lease, size of lease, number of hunters allowed, price and accommodations. Please send the above information to the Bandera Chamber of Commerce, Bandera, Texas.

Many inquiries ask about deer, squirrel, and various game hunting besides deer and turkey, so send any pertinent information in addition to the above. The Chamber of Commerce is receiving an average of two letters a day on this subject and past experience indicates this will increase rapidly in the next few months. It is the Chamber of Commerce's desire to assist the property owners and to get as many hunters into this area as possible. The Chamber of Commerce extends an invitation to all ranchers as well as business men to attend the meeting.

A general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on Tuesday night, March 17, at the New Frontier Hotel at 8 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting, as there will be important things to discuss.

San Angelo—The second quarterly meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association will be held in Abilene, Saturday, March 21, Lance Sears, Sweetwater, TS&GRA President, has announced.

"This is the first time the Association has met in Abilene," he said, "and we are looking for a large attendance from that general area. There are many sheep and goat men in the county and they have been very active in the Taylor County Sheep and Goat Raisers Association."

AT LAST

The Story of

Lottie Deno

Her Life and Times

It's authentic . . . It's true! Here is the real story of a Lady Gambler, the most exotic, mysterious, fantastic woman the Old West ever knew . . .

It is on the press and we are inviting you to send your pre-publication order for the late J. Marvin Hunter's last great work.

You will remember the superb ALBUM OF GUN-FIGHTERS which was published by J. Marvin Hunter in collaboration with Noah H. Rose and Warren Hunter.

Now Mr. Hunter's final masterpiece will soon be off the press. It is The Story of LOTTIE DENO, the mysterious Lady Gambler who so sedately operated in all the Hell-holes of the Old West during the latter part of the nineteenth century. It is an accurate protrayal of the incorruptible Lottie, together with facinating accounts of incidents and description of places, where she played for high stakes and more often than not came off winner.

The book is replete with description of characters who infested rip-roaring old Fort Griffin, El Paso, Silver City, and finally Deming, New Mexico. Among the better known are Doc Holliday, Wyatt Earp, and John Selman. Illustrated with original photographs of Lottie and her acquaintances as well as scenes from the towns where she was active.

Amid surroundings of indescribable viciousness and debauchery the beautiful and fantastic Lottie Deno played her game, remaining aloof and serene, never yielding to the importunities of the times. She was born a lady and carried herself with dignity and grace throughout a long career. Her life span of ninety years is told with truth and conviction by J. Marvin Hunter in this volume, which is being published post-humously by his children.

The Story of LOTTIE DENO will sell for $6.00, but the pre-publication price to you is $4.50. Send your orders by check or money order to

The "hounds" say that Patsy Schirmer cleaned the yard, Saturday. Sunday she helped around the house, also.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

This week's senior spotlight falls on a very likeable fellow who has attended Bandera High School for the past three years. This blue-eyed lad was born to MSgt. and Mrs. H. A. Bass on June 11, 1939, in San Antonio, Texas.

Everyone grows in wisdom and in height in the years from fifteen to twenty but in Herbert's case the change has been a real joy to see. He has taken a real interest in learning and has made real progress in his class work. That coupled with sincerity of purpose makes Herbert Bass a worthy member of the senior class of '59.

Herbert moved to Bandera in 1956 from Prince George, Virginia, where he lettered in football in his freshman year and was a member of the baseball team.

He is six feet tall, weighs 190 pounds, and has blue eyes and brown hair. His favorite pastime is eating good food.

Herbert has been active in the Baptist Church and is the Future Farmers of America. In his junior year he won the Farm Mechanic Degree. He was also a member of the volleyball team in 1958.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT HEARS NEA PRESIDENT

Last evening I attended a lecture delivered by Dr. Ruth Stout, President of the National Education Association. Her lecture was short, to the point, and also quite interesting. The main point of her talk was that American schools may be inadequate compared to their needs, but our schools are on the road to improvement. I am going to try to show how this topic applies to our Bandera High School.

Originally our school consisted of several small, one-room, frame buildings scattered around Bandera County. Teaching facilities were terrible. One teacher taught all eight grades. There was practically no laboratory equipment and very few books. One redeeming factor of this lack of facilities was that the schools were not crowded. Very few children were able to attend school because of the inadequate transportation facilities. The more fortunate children who attended school sometimes rode horseback, or walked for several miles.

Bad as this may seem, in those days these schools were considered to be all that was necessary for the Texas wilderness.

Today with this newly aroused interest in education, our whole system is much improved from those days of long ago. Our teaching facilities are still not what they should be, but we do have a fairly large modern school building, wonderful gymnasium and an excellent library considering the size of our school. The science department is by far the weakest department in our school. There is, however, much more essentials needed to perform the minimum experiments for some courses. Transportation has expanded from the "horse and foot" method of travel to a fleet of six modern school buses. Our school system is much improved from its original state, but there is an enormous space still left for improvement. We might say with Dr. Stout that we are barely gliding in for a landing, but what about that margin of safety?

$3.00
by J. MARVIN HUNTER
An Autobiography
Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and many good stories. In it you will find sensible stories of many people you knew personally in different Texas communities. The old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheep herder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

NOTED EDUCATOR WAS GUEST HERE WEDNESDAY EVENING

Dr. Ruth Stout of Washington, D. C., president of the National

Dr. Ruth Stout

Education Association was here Wednesday evening to speak to a distinguished group of teachers and educators from Bandera, Medina and Kerrville when she was the guest of the Bandera County Local Unit, TSTA. Her visit here was arranged by A. B. Lewis, chairman of the NEA Life Membership Section of the Alamo District TSTA, and Mrs. L. R. Vaughn made arrangements for the informal dinner, and Mr. Lewis served as master of ceremonies.

The evening's program started off with a lovely informal dinner at Lost Valley Ranch at 6:30, attended by Dr. Stout, the guest of honor, and Sadie Ray Powell, immediate past president of Texas State Teachers Association and principal of Davey Crocket School in San Antonio, and Eugenia Dyziv, who was recently voted teacher of the year in San Antonio; Superintendent and Mrs. Marvin C. Schnelle, Superintendent and Mrs. Chester A. Brann, Raymond Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fitzgerald, Mrs. Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Reininger, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lewis, Mrs. E. R. Teel, Mrs. Taylor Wootton, Mr. and Mrs. Joe King, Mrs. Walker Mellenez, Miss Thelma Gaskamp, Mrs. Powell, Dr. Stout, and Eugenia Davis.

The theme of the meeting "Education in the Space Age," was depicted in a beautiful floral arrangement for the center of the dinner table.

The Bandera High School Band under the direction of John Sommer, entertained with a short concert of band music ending with Mighty Lak' a Rose by Nevin-Walters.

Marvin C. Schnelle welcomed the guests, and Mr. Lewis introduced the platform guests, Miss Eugenia Davis, San Antonio Teacher of the Year; Joe King, H. S. Principal, Bandera, Chester A. Braun, Superintendent Medina Schools, and Mrs. Sadie Ray Powell, immediate past president of TSTA who presented Dr. Ruth Stout the President of the National Education Association, a native of Kansas, an English teacher, a tireless worker for education and a person who has visited in a large number of the schools of the United States and also in other countries.

Dr. Stout's talk was well received by an audience made up of people from Bandera, Medina, and Kerrville who are interested in education. She began her remarks by saying that our schools are better than they have ever been, pointing to the Bulldog band she said that a generation ago such a band would not have been found in a school of this size or even in a much larger school. We are better, but much improvement is still needed.

She discussed the point of educating the masses and not just a few of the brighter people. She stressed the right of the individuals, all individuals, to be educated.

She made a plea for greater understanding of "how" to use our means of communication both educators and the public should know the truth. We are in a position now where news can be taken quickly all across the nation, but there is danger when we use our communications system to spread information that is not accurate.

She compared an airplane trip where two out of four of the engines conked out and the airplane made an emergency landing, not only because of the engine trouble but because the gasoline supply was gone, to our present school situation. She said we are gliding in on just enough resources to get us there and that we need more facilities to leave a safety margin. And in this connection she urged support of the Hale-Aiken legislation program now being considered by the Texas legislature.

Dr. Stout told of her trip to Rome, where a Belgian girl told her that the exhibit of the United States at the World's Fair was the best. When asked why she answered by saying, "It is honest. It shows all sides of America life." During the trip to Rome to take part in a world conference of educators, from fifty nations outside the Iron Curtain, Dr. Stout found that many countries in Europe, Asia, and Africa were looking to the United States and trying to shape their educational patterns along the lines of American Education. But, she said, these countries feel that Americans would benefit more in helping others by being more modest in our striving toward success.

In closing she stated that we must "be better than we are" and to do this we must reach for still higher goals for the sake of education. We must wish on a star.

Who will eat my bread?

Remember the Little Red Hen who asked for help in planting, harvesting, and grinding her wheat? No one would help so she did the work herself. But when she asked "Who will eat my bread?" . . . they were all willing to assist.

Texans find food for thought in this familiar nursery tale. Back when our rural community had no electricity, poles had to be set and the lines strung to pierce the darkness. No one was willing to do the work so rural people formed electric cooperatives and built their own electric systems. But now that the hard work has been done would you deny these democratic institutions the fruits of their labors?

We feel that the locally owned, business managed, tax paying Texas Electric Cooperatives should harvest the fields they have been cultivating for two decades. The Electric Cooperatives of Texas brought a new way of life to our rural community. . . . . They should continue to serve the areas they helped to develop.

BANDERA MAY LOSE WESTERN UNION OFFICE

The following notice will appear on another page of this week's Bulletin: Notice is hereby given that application was made on the 17th day of March, 1959, by the Western Union Telegraphy Company to the Federal Communications Commission to close the Western Union office in Bandera. If this application is granted, substituted service will be available from the Class I Western Union Office at Kerrville, Texas, via long distance telephone. Those sending the messages will have to pay for the telephone call.

Any one desiring to protest or support the closing of this office may communicate in writing with the Federal Communications Commission, Washington 25, D. C., on or before April 14, 1959.

Western Union is a very vital service for Bandera. It has in the past been of inestimable help to the Red Cross, when services were required for service men, as well as those not members of the armed forces. Mrs. E. R. Teel, who is Red Cross chairman of the Home Services committee, has received and sent many messages via Western Union in helping people in this community in times of need. Red Cross is just a small phase of the good Western Union service can do in our community. So, let's keep Western Union in Bandera if possible.

BAPTIST REVIVAL DRAWING GOOD CROWDS

The current Revival series at the Baptist Church is drawing better than average crowds with different interests in the approach to "space ages" schedule of living.

Morning services have been held at 10:00 a.m., Monday, Wednesday and the last one Friday of this week. Evening services on Tuesday and Thursday at 7:30 a.m. with breakfast served at 8:00 have drawn large crowds and have offered some unique approaches to the message in sermon. Ask any young person attending.

Evening services at 8:00 have featured thrilling music with a worshipful atmosphere, this music being led by Mel Hardin and the three main choirs of the church: The Nursery, Adult choir, the Chapel choir of young people and the Intermediate or Concord choir. George Loesberg had provided trumpet background and accent and Mrs. Reynolds at the organ, Mrs. Ruth Mansfield and Jeanlpe Hicks at the instruments have given vigor to the program.

Mrs. Bob Mansfield and Rev. Ira Garrison have led the music at morning hours.

Mel Hardin has warmed the hearts of the worshipers with his leadership and his special numbers and arrangements of specials with the choirs participating.

The revival, a part of the current worldwide crusade of Baptists in which thousands are participating simultaneously, will continue through Sunday, March 29, with special programs in song and sermon both morning and evening on Easter Sunday.

Nursery open each evening under care of attendant with current health certificate.

The public is invited to attend.

RED CROSS DRIVE NEAR END—MORE FUNDS NEEDED

The annual Red Cross drive is nearly over, and according to Mrs. Paul Garrison, chairman of the fund raising campaign, the county has not yet reached it's goal of $1,816. Only about 50 per cent of the goal has been secured, with Bandera lagging in third place.

Mrs. Garrison urges all workers to finish their solicitations and turn in their funds.

Red Cross work is a never ending job. It gives financial aid, counsel and emergency communication assistance to over 100,000 service men and their families each month of the year. Helped with 13,000 claims each month for veterans and surviving dependants, maintained chapters and community centers in Korea, Europe and North Africa.

Red Cross provided food, clothing and shelter to 79,500 victims of natural disasters in the United States, gave rehabilitation aid to 10,150 families, repaired and rebuilt 2,100 homes.

Red Cross collected and distributed over 2,200,000 pints of blood through nationwide network of regional blood programs.

Red Cross gave first aid, water safety and home nursing instruction to over 2 million Americans. At year's end had over 58,000 professional nurses enrolled for volunteer services, and 21,000 first aid stations, detachments and mobile units in action.

Red Cross maintains the vital field service which co-ordinates all Red Cross activities, organizes volunteers, trains workers for handling disaster, blood, home nursing and other local programs.

Junior Red Cross gives training in good citizenship to 20,400,000 youngsters in over 34,000 schools, through community service activities and international exchange programs.

Red Cross Chapters, working with local organizations provide health and welfare services to ill, handicapped, aged and homeless people.

Red Cross carries on campaigns which enrolled 24,000,000 adult members who contributed over $84,000,000 to support Red Cross services.

Red Cross sent relief to foreign countries hit by disasters and provided funds to help needie children and adults missing since World War II and the years that followed, and to re-unite families. Sent food parcels to Americans behind the Iron Curtain and negotiated for their release.

Every dollar in the Red Cross financial statement represents a vital, indispensable service. To be ready for whatever needs may arise this year, Red Cross needs the support of every one of us.

It's up to us to give freely—because it's our Red Cross. So let's go over the top.

LOCAL CITIZENS FORMING MOVIE COMPANY

Several local citizens gathered last Saturday afternoon in the Bandera Room at the New Frontier Hotel to discuss the forming of a local movie company. The present plans are to form a Bandera company owned and controlled by Bandera people. They discussed ways and means of raising money to organize a Bandera corporation that will produce and sell motion pictures. Concensus at the meeting was to call the new company Bandera Pictures, Inc. One of the purposes of the new company is to create a motion picture industry for Bandera county and the surrounding area.

Before the company is organized and incorporated to start business the sum of $25,000.00 will have to be raised. Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Brown and children of Monterey, Mexico, who are missionaries there, attended church at the Utopia Gospel Church Sunday and he preached there.

Mrs. Heidiman died at the Uvalde Memorial Hospital Friday and was buried at the Jones cemetery above Utopia Sunday.

Mrs. Schimmelpfennig received word that her sister, Mrs. Kate Zumwalt of Bandera, had broken her hip in a fall at her home and is now in the Kerrville hospital. She was getting along fine at last report.

Vernon Faris, foreman of the H. H. Nuft Ranch on the West Prong reports that he has gotten quite a bit of extra grazing from his oats through the application of fertilizer. Faris gained this extra grazing by applying 100 pounds of ammonium sulfate in January. The nitrogen gave the oats good growth and vigor. Now Faris is considering applying nitrogen and phosphorous in the form of 100 pounds of 13-39-0 to boost his grain yield. Phosphorous is an essential element in the formation of the kernel and therefore this will be of benefit. Two applications of fertilizer costs less than $10.00, Faris figures that if the yield is increased by twelve bushels it will more than pay for the fertilizer and the extra grazing will be left to profit.

First growth that grass makes in the Spring comes from food storage in the roots during the Fall of the preceding year.

Leslie Hinds of the North Prong is well satisfied with a range improvement program he started last year. Mr. Hinds first cleared 30 acres of brush on some of the deeper soils on his hill tops. This brush was piled and windrowed around the hill tops. This treatment was followed by seeding the distrubed area with a mixture of seferal grasses. During the following summer the pasture was deferred part of the time and when grazed, grazed at a very light rate. Mr. Hinds first noticed real benefits in the Fall when the grasses, particularly the blue panic started putting out a seed crop. Futher benefits were noticed by Hinds' hunters. As a result of the brush control the hunters saw more deer and got more shots. This Spring quite a bit of the grass is coming out. The blue panic has done well on the deep pockets of soil and native grasses are coming in, grasses which until last year were held back by the brush. By not burning the brush, deep pockets of soil are forming behind the dead limbs and grass is beginning to show up in the litter.

Unless your range is already in excellent condition, there is more room for improvement.

Homer Stevens has done a good job of range management on his place the past few years. The better grasses such as little bluestem, tall dropseed, Indiangrass, and many others are showing up in good numbers which indicates that a range is in a stage of improvement. Mr. Stevens realizes that a good range condition is also beneficial to wildlife. In stocking his range he has taken the game into consideration as part of his stocking rate.

Do not become alarmed because weeds are taking over bare areas in your rangeland. Weeds belong in natures process of range improvement. They prepare the soil for grasses. Follow the weed crop with a complete rest and see how grasses will respond.

DOUGLAS [illegible] WINS SPELLING CHAMPIONSHIP IN GERMANY

Youthful Douglas Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. woody Edmiston, who are now residing in Ramstein Air Base, Germany, was recently chosen spelling champion and was awarded a dictionary, with his name engraved on it by the Ramstein PTA. Also since he is the school champion as well as the sixth grade champion, he received a fountain pen.

In a letter to Mrs. Fred Briggs from Douglas' mother, Mrs. Edmiston, wrote, "Must take a minute to tell you! Paris, here we come! Douglas won the regional spelling bee, so now we go to Paris, May 9th for the finals. I was so proud of Douglas. There were 10 schools represented—3 eighth grades; three seventh grades; three sixth grades and one fifth grade. Douglas really did a beautiful job. So, now Douglas and I fly to Paris, all expenses paid. Isn't that nice?"

"Douglas really had a big day. After the contest he was the honored guest at a tea there. Had his picture taken many times. That night we told him we would take him to the Officer's Club to play bingo to celebrait. Someone tipped off the MC that Douglas was in the crowd. You should have seen Douglas' mouth fall open when Douglas Becker was asked to come forward. He had Douglas tell about winning and then presented him a lovely pair of cuff links."

Mrs. Edmiston also wrote, "We'll be home in June. I'm really getting excited now that it is so close."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE BULLETIN

Madame:

I see in this week's Bulletin that plans are being drawn for the new postoffice building across from the courthouse.

I hope that in drawing up the plans, effort will be made to make the new building in a style suitable to the Western character of the rest of the town. This has been done in other places very successfully. For example, in New Mexico where adobe is so much used, the postoffice in many towns have been designed in the Spanish colonial adobe style, and the new buildings have fitted in beautifully with the other buildings about them. Here in Bandera I feel that a large new building in the heart of the town, as the postoffice will be, should enhance the Western appearance of the town, and should help to maintain that Western character of Bandera which our visitors so much admire and enjoy.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD E. GNADE

MRS. JOE HENSLEY HOSTESS TO CLUB

Mrs. Joe Hensley was the gracious hostess for the Indian Waters Home Demonstration Club meeting on March 19. Mrs. Hensley, president, presided and the meeting was opened with the club prayer. She introduced Col. George Harrison, who was the guest speaker. He made a very interesting and impressive talk on the necessity of having a Civil Defense and Disaster program. After a round table discussion Col. Harrison took his leave and the business of the club was resumed. Roll call was answered by "my favorite recipe". Mrs. Hayes read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report. Council report was given by Mrs. E. M. Poe.

At the conclusion of the business Mrs. Ray Wyatt gave a thorough demonstration on measuring, selecting patterns and the type, which should be done before purchasing your materials.

BAKE A RING AROUND YOUR EASTER EGGS

In Italy there's no need to hunt the Easter eggs, for traditionally they're right in the yeast-raised Easter cake. It's fun to have at least as many eggs as guests and sprinkle the whole cake with gay multi-colored sprinkles.

ITALIAN EGG RING

½ cup milk
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
1 egg, beaten
2¾ to 3 cups sifted enriched flour (approximately)
½ cup raisins or mixed chopped candied fruit
½ cup Bread nuts, diced
½ teaspoon anise seed (optional)
Melted margarine or butter
1 egg
Colored sprinkles

Scald milk and stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into large mixing bowl; warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved. Add the lukewarm milk mixture. Add the egg. Add about half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour or enough to make a soft dough. Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Knead dough quickly and lightly until it is smooth and elastic, and does not stick to the board. Put dough into a greased bowl. Grease top of dough lightly. Let rise in a warm place, free from drafts, until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down dough, pull sides into center. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead fruits and nuts thoroughly into the dough. Divide dough in half. Roll each half into a rope 24 inches long. Fold each rope in half to form a double rope about 12 inch in diameter. Twist ropes loosely and form into a circular ring on a greased baking sheet. Place 6 eggs, unshelled, in the twist. Brush dough with melted margarine or butter. Scatter with colored sprinkles. Cover. Set rings in a warm place, free from drafts, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 350 F. (moderately hot oven) about 40 minutes. Cool on rack.

"KING OF KINGS" GREATEST FILM EVER MADE

One of the greatest films ever made by Cecil B. DeMille, "King of Kings", will be shown at the Bantex Theatre this Friday and Saturday, March 27 and 28.

In telling of this fabulous motion picture, the story of the drama of Christ, according to the text taken from the Four Gospels, Cecil B. DeMille said, "The Four Gospels furnished the text and we were, as Will Rogers wise-ly intimated, merely the instrument.

In his distant reward perhaps Will Rogers would like to know how eminently right he was. In the 23 years since his prophecy, "The King of Kings" has played somewhere in the world every week.

It is estimated that 600,000,000 persons have seen the picture, largely without charge to audiences in recent years.

We invited several clergymen and religious leaders to the studio for prayer services at the start of the first day of filming, August 24, 1926.

Present on the set were a Protestant bishop, Jewish rabbi, Catholic priest, Christian Scientist, Presbyterian and Baptist ministers, a Salvation Army teacher, a teacher of the Mohammedan sect, and a Buddhist priest.

Therefore, a prayer began each day's work on the set. Smoking was banned. I asked the principals [illegible] eight clubs during the four-month period of production.

I also felt that H. B. Warner, portraying the Christ, should take his meals alone while at the studio and not enter the studio commissary. [illegible] once in the course of the picture did he vary or falter in his acknowledgement of the spirit of the part he was playing.

On one occasion we were exchanging views on a certain Biblical interpretation and I continued to press my point of view with quite a little vigor.

Warner, concealing his wonder, fully dry humor, looked at me with an air of quiet shock:

"Mr. DeMille, do you realize with whom you are arguing?"

During Lent, the 600 available prints of "The King of Kings" reach their greatest circulation. In remote regions Paulist Fathers have shown, it to audiences who have seen no other picture. Missionaries have taken prints in canoes up the Ganges and the Congo.

A missionary in India, who replaces his old print every three years, reports he has shown the picture to 125,000 persons.

The picture's titles have been translated into 23 languages, including Chinese, Turkish, Arabic and Hindustani. A theater owner in Bombay recently asked permission to synchronize the picture with Indian music.

In England, there is a law prohibiting representation of any member of the Holy Trinity in a public amusement. This prevailed our showing "The King of Kings" there until, at our request, six bishops of the Church of England saw the picture privately and pithdrew the ban against public screenings.

The picture is not shown publicly in Iraq and Iran but private showings are permissible in the Christian churches under sponsorship of the Syriac church.

An audience of more than 30,000 saw it in Inchon and Seoul, South Korea, in May of last year. A 16 mm. print has been sent to Ireland as the outgrowth of showings there during the war. Recently, Emperor Haile Selasse requested a print.

The late Dr. Watson of the American University at Cairo told Mrs. DeMille and me this story during a visit in Cairo."

MISS ARNELL CHILDS PARTICIPATING IN EASTER PAGEANT

Bolton, March 25—Miss Mildred Arnell Childs of Medina is participating in the 20th annual Easter Pageant to be presented at Mary Hardin-Baylor college. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Childs of Medina, Texas.

The Pageant, portraying the last days of Christ on earth, is presented in 13 scenes beginning with his triumphal entry into Jerusalem.

SOCIETY TODAY

In 1958 the ACS made notable contributions in research, where the greatest attack ever launched against a single disease has been mounted; in diagnosis and treatment—where physicians are better trained and better equipped to handle the disease than ever before; in education, where more and more Americans are being exposed to, and learning the significant information about cancer that could one day help save their lives; in service, where the humanitarian aspects are being met on an ever-broadening front.

The ACS cytology program directed toward eliminating cervical cancer was, in its first full year, provedly saving lives in this cancer site. The Annual Scientific Session was focused entirely on Cancer of the Colon and Rectum, where further advances in saving lives are possible through a coordinated professional, and public education program similar to the Society's continuing cervical and breast cancer programs.

Throughout the country, physicians—individually and through their medical societies — were fighting in more parefully on the nation's second greatest killer, with sharpened knowledge and matured confidence in bringing it under ever-closer control. At San Francisco in September the Society's first "Area Medical Meeting" attracted nearly 1,000 of the leading cancer experts of 12 western states for a two-day session to determine how to better serve the physician in practice.

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences of some people you know. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in great style the story of his (peregrinations of wandering) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper, Jeff Milton, "hit the trail two days" and ride in a side-door Pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican Revolution hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous, and of many other thrilling events; and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

LUNG CANCER AND SMOKING

In 1958 the American Cancer Society was deeply involved in many areas of the lung cancer—smoking problem, continuing its support of studies to unearth further evidence of, and reasons for, the cause-and-effect relationship, while intensifying efforts to meet its responsibility in alerting Americans to the health hazards inherent in the habit.

Lung cancer kills 35,000 Americans every year, having increased its annual toll eightfold in 20 years. It is the main cause of cancer deaths in men, and in 1958 new studies showed for the first time that sex is not a major factor in determining whether a person will get lung cancer. The pack-a-day women get five times as much cancer as nonsmokers of their sex.

Although accepting the position that to smoke or not is a matter for personal decision, the ACS urged Federal and State health services to institute measures to properly inform the American public of the dangers. The Society itself undertook studies to ascertain the most effective way to present to teen-agers the nature of the risks involved.

Research investigations into all phases of the lung cancer problem were being supported by the Society in 1958. A group of statisticians and epidemiologists was organized to review published reports and try to determine the respective benefits of treatment by surgery, radiation and chemo-therapy. The Society also supports studies of nutrition in cancer, and continues to look into the relative values of the radiologic method and the newer cytologic method.

TWICE-TOLD TEXAS TALES

By J. Marvin Hunter, Sr.

Under this heading from time to time we will publish Texas historical articles which we have compiled and printed before in Frontier Times or in other publications, but which we believe will be of interest to Bulletin readers.

OLD CAMP VERDE, THE HOME OF THE CAMELS

Nestling snugly amidst the hills of Kerr county, Texas, three miles north of the famous Bandera Pass, is the delightful ranch home of the Nowlins, frontier folk, but known far and wide as Old Camp Verde, for it was here, in 1856, that the noted camel post was established by the United States government.

This historic place is situated on Camp Verde Creek, about eight miles west of Center Point, and is laid down on Spanish maps as "Verde Arroya," (Green Creek). It was really established as a frontier post by an act of Congress in 1855, and it was in 1856 that thirty-three camels arrived there, with twelve Armenian drivers and their families. A sketch had been made of an Eastern caravansary in Asia Minor, and it was reproduced at Camp Verde in every minute particular. It was built in a rectangular shape, except the north wall, which made an angle, the distance from each corner to this angle being one hundred and fifty feet. The wall was fifteen feet high and made of concrete and timber called "pise" work. The timber came from Pensacola, Florida, and cost the government $125 per 1,000 feet to get it here. The south wall was not so high, and in front was an open court, in which was a well with the old style Egyptian sweep.

Today all that remains of the old post is the ranch home of the Nowlins, which was formerly the officers' barracks, but this lone building is not the original, for on March 26, 1910, the headquarters adobe was destroyed by fire, in which one man, Tom Blair, lost his life. After the fire it was found that the stone structure had withstood the flames, and it was soon rebuilt by W. H. Bonnell, then the owner of the old post, a n exact replica of the original. Today the property is owned by Richard W. Nowlin and his kin, who dispense real Texas hospitality and make the hundreds of visitors to old Camp Verde feel that they are welcome to this historic frontier outpost.

In 1875 J. A. Bonnell purchased the property on which Camp Verde was located, and later it was acquired by his son, W. H. Bonnell, who lived there for many years. Then the Nowlins purchased the property from the Bonnell estate, and they are the present owners.

It is remarkably strange that, until just a few years ago, very little was known of the history of Old Camp Verde. Younger residents of Bandera and Kerr county, with the exception of a very few, knew that such an important government post had been maintained there. The older citizens of this section remembered, however that camels once roamed the Bandera hills, and we have known three or four of these pioneers who actually herded the camels. There was Amasa Clark, who died at his home near Bandera in 1927, at the ripe old age of almost 102 years, who herded the camels for fourteen months, and at the time of his death was in possession of a pair of pillows made from camel's hair, which he sheared from the camels himself. And there was Jim Walker, who died just a few years ago, who also worked with the camels during the period of the Civil War, when Old Camp Verde was in possession of the Confederates; Mr. Walker owned a bell which was worn by the lead camel. Andy Jones and other early citizens had experience with these ungainly brutes, which the United States government placed here to be used in transporting supplies and dispatches between the remote frontier posts, all the way through West Texas, New Mexico and California. But our Texas historians were silent on the subject of Old Camp Verde. It seemed to be a forgotten incident, just as the history of many of the other frontier posts has been forgotten. But now students of history are searching out bits and fragments of our State's colorful and thrilling history and they are learning much that will go into future records.

There was a reason for the establishment of Old Camp Verde, just as there was a reason for the establishment of the entire chain of frontier forts along the border, through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. That reason was to afford protection against the hostile Indians. Among the forts established for this purpose and garrisoned by United States troops were Fort Martin Scott, Fort Mason, Camp Verde, Fort Terrett, Fort McKavett, Fort Concho, Fort Griffin, Fort Phantom Hill, Fort Inge, Fort Clark, Fort Lancaster, Fort Hudson, Fort Stockton, Fort Davis, Fort Quitman, Fort Bliss, and other frontier posts, most of which now are in ruins and but a memory remains of the glories of their day. Only one of these early day forts is intact and still garrisoned by troops, and that is Fort Clark on the Los Moras Creek, at Brackettville, in Kinney county.

As above stated, Camp Verde was established as a military post July 8, 1856. Its location as given in War Department records, was: "On the north bank of Rio Verde, or Verde Creek, a branch of the Guadalupe river, half a mile west of the old Johnson road, leading from San Antonio to Fort Terrett; about four miles from Fort Ives; about 65 miles, direct course, northwest of San Antonio, but about 65 miles by the road leading from San Antonio, through Fredericksburg to Forts Mason, McKavett, and Concho. About 35 miles S. S. W. of Fredericksburg." etc.

Camp Verde was continuously garrisoned until March 7, 1861, when the United States troops surrendered the post to the Confederates, and withdrew. After the Civil War ended the post was re-occupied by Federal troops November 30, 1866, and was finally abandoned November 30, 1869.

...'s The Law IN TEXAS ...

Newsprint [illegible]

The average person does not often use the term "negotiable instruments" in his everyday conversation, and the words may not mean much to him. Actually, it is just a mouth-filling term used in law to describe certain important pieces of paper that we normally call by simpler names.

Even though we seldom use the words, we deal with negotiable instruments all the time. Every time we write a check or pay the gas bill is a negotiable instrument. And so is your paycheck or pension check. The note you sign to buy a new car, the money order you purchase at the bank or post office, or the traveler's checks you take with you on a trip instead of cash, all are negotiable instruments.

It was all started by merchants who had to send large sums of gold or currency between cities or nations. They worked out a way to exchange money, or the value of money, by written messages, much of the time through a third party like a broker or bank. But when you deal in pieces of negotiable paper instead of hard money, there have to be certain standards and safeguards or the paper could lose its value.

Consequently, there developed a whole system of laws within nations and between nations, upon which all our business rests. Through the courts, if necessary, can the owners of negotiable instruments may enforce the terms written on the paper.

In the United States things used to be confusing some times because of different state laws, but by 1924 all 48 states had adopted a Uniform Negotiable Instrument Law, which sets up the same rules nationwide.

Since so-called negotiable instruments are so important; since they are ordinarily just like money in many ways; since they often are used like money, or are sold to other persons or companies, and since there are special laws defining the ins-and-outs of negotiable instruments which we wouldn't ordinarily have any reason to know about, there are one or two simple rules we should follow:

We should make certain we read what's on the paper, that we know what the words mean, and what the penalties and dangers may be, before signing our name.

Remember: You are the only person in the world with that signature, and the courts, as a rule, must take your signed promises at their face value.

Sovereign Immunity

How could anybody ever say: "The king can do no wrong"? (When we know of kings who did do wrong.)

The idea looks simple: As absolute law maker, the king could hold himself above his own law. He was under no law and could therefore do no legal wrong.

Anyway, when King George lost the thirteen colonies, the American states took over the doctrine of Sovereign Immunity: Nobody can sue a government agency without the state's permission, when the agency is doing government work. (Of course if the agency is doing "proprietary functions" like running street cars or making electricity, it may often be sued much like any other business.)

Thus suppose for lack of due care of a private bakery truck should harm your child who had done nothing to bring on the accident. Well, then, most likely you could sue the bakery in the child's behalf and collect damages.

But not with government agencies unless the legislature gives you lawful permission.

Thus in the old days, if an army jeep harmed your child, you could collect only if Congress passed a special bill awarding damages.

Recently this doctrine has been attacked: Why shouldn't the government pay like any other organization?

So during the last war the federal government in response to public opinion passed a "tort liability" law. It gives the people much more power to sue than before the last war. And the courts much more often than Congress now set the damages in many kinds of cases.

In Texas, the Legislature by a proper action may permit certain general types of suits to be brought against the state, under various conditions and restrictions. Then, if a specific situation arises which is not covered by the general rules the legislature are authorized to pass a special measure to permit suit to be brought.

Therefore, any person seeking to enforce a claim against the State of Texas through the courts must petition the Legislature for the necessary permission, unless the claim falls within some general category or type previously recognized by our lawmakers. During each session the Legislature passes legislation allowing suits to be brought against the state in a variety of cases.

Sometimes, however, suits may be brought against individuals holding office under the State of Texas and acting as agents of the state, but where the state itself is not the principal party to the suit, without first gaining consent to sue. There are numerous situations in which an individual officer may be sued with regard to the duties and functions of his office, and in which the state is not directly or substantially a party in interest.

Suppose you do obtain legislative permission to sue the state. What happens then?

If suit is brought against the State of Texas, and the action is successfully prosecuted, you will be awarded a judgment against the state. Then, it's back to the legislature for more legislation to appropriate the necessary money with which the state may pay off the judgment.

This article, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever attempt to interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variation in facts may change the application of the law.)

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

From Lyndon B. Johnson

Dear Friends:

This Nation faces the problem of cutting Government expenditures in the face of an exploding population.

Basically, the Nation's needs are multiplying faster than the replacements. Those of you facing the problem of buying clothing for growing school-age children know exactly what that means. What is bought today threatens to be too small tomorrow.

Housewives can picture the problem of setting an additional 8,000 places at the dinner table every night. That's what is happening over the Nation.

Day in and day out, we're gaining almost 8,000 more persons than we had the day before. One more person is being added to the population about every 12 seconds. We're gaining at the rate of 7,855 a day . . . and the average is 2,864,000 a year.

That's how fast this Nation is growing.

And all of this growth creates new demands. There is demand for more homes, more schools, more churches, more hospitals. There is increased need in the broad fields of health, transportation, education, finance and welfare. All these increased demands on both government and business.

There is also another important fact we need remember.

There are now in this Nation more than 14,000,000 men and women 65 or older. And the number is increasing at the rate of more than 400,000 a year. The majority of these people are no longer working. But here is a great reservoir of mature talent, experience and know-how. I wonder if this isn't a tremendous resource now being wasted.

This situation spells out both problems and opportunities. It means that in our search for the right road to economy, we must avoid short-cuts that could lead to national stagnation. We must recognize that this is a dynamic period of expanding needs as well as changing times.

Our job is to economize, to cut expenditures where spending can be cut. But in doing that, we must balance the tremendous needs of to day against the known demands of tomorrow. That is the goal I expect the Senate in this session to achieve.

AT LAST

The Story of

Lottie Deno

Her Life and Times

It's authentic . . . It's true! Here is the real story of a Lady Gambler, the most exotic, mysterious, fantastic woman the Old West ever knew . . .

It is on the press and we are inviting you to send your pre-publication order for the late J. Marvin Hunter's last great work.

You will remember the superb ALBUM OF GUN-FIGHTERS which was published by J. Marvin Hunter in collaboration with Noah H. Rose and Warren Hunter.

Now Mr. Hunter's final masterpiece will soon be off the press. It is The Story of LOTTIE DENO, the mysterious Lady Gambler who so sedately operated in all the Hell-holes of the Old West during the latter part of the nineteenth century. It is an accurate protrayal of the incorruptible Lottie, together with facinating accounts of incidents and description of places, where she played for high stakes and more often than not came off winner.

The book is replete with description of characters who infested rip-roaring old Fort Griffin, El Paso, Silver City, and finally Deming, New Mexico. Among the better known are Doc Holliday, Wyatt Earp, and John Selman. Illustrated with original photographs of Lottie and her acquaintances as well as scenes from the towns where she was active.

Amid surroundings of indescribable viciousness and debauchery the beautiful and fantastic Lottie Deno played her game, remaining aloof and serene, never yielding to the importunities of the times. She was born a lady and carried herself with dignity and grace throughout a long career. Her life span of ninety years is told with truth and conviction by J. Marvin Hunter in this volume, which is being published posthumously by his children.

The Story of LOTTIE DENO will sell for $6.00, but the pre-publication price to you is $4.50. Send your orders by check or money order to

MRS. CADES FIFTH GRADE NEWS

Tryouts for the Interscholastic League Spelling Contest are the objects of much hard work in the fifth and sixth grades. The Interscholastic League Contest is a spelling contest and a plain-writing contest. Much work still needs to be done in learning how to write as well as learning how to spell all the words correctly. Contestants can and often are disqualified because of poor writing. When all writing and spelling errors were counted, Karen King captured first place and will represent the Bandera fifth and sixth grades at the Interscholastic League Contest. Bonnie Carr must also receive credit for a fine job of spelling, but unfortunately her writing lost her the coveted first place. Her Fs and Ks threw her for a big loss in the contest.

Morris Green's family visited his sister in Comfort Sunday.

Johnnie Small, Johnnie Brock, Morris Green, and Michal Mathews went with the boy scouts to the Scout-O-Rama, Saturday, in Kerrville. Pack 146 and Troop 146 each won blue ribbons. Johnnie Small spent the whole week-end in Kerrville having fun hiking all over the place.

MRS. REININGER'S FIFTH GRADE

Those who attended the Scout-O-Rama in Kerrville were Linden Rhodes, Bonnie Daniels, Johnny Heinen, Calvin Ray Wedgworth, George Hamilton, and Russel Zickler.

Linda Pawvlik's grandmother had a birthday party on Sunday.

Linda Pawvlik spent Friday with Anita Langham.

Linda Haun went to Kerrville on Saturday and brought back relatives.

Kimberly Walters spent the week-end with Bonnie Farr.

SENIOR SCOOPS

The Seniors have had a busy week discussing plans for the Senior Day. Thus far, they have chosen Medina Lake as the site and committees for recreation, refreshments, etc., have been appointed.

The Seniors have also decided to present two one act plays, thus enabling more members of the class to participate and have pleasing variety as well. Watch for the date and cast which will be published soon.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The seventh grade welcomes a new pupil into their class this week. Patricia Blodgets is now the thirty-second pupil enrolled in the seventh grade.

Today the seventh grade will start a study of teeth in health class.

Mary An Haun played a solo at the Band contest in San Antonio last Saturday. Mary Ann's musical ability netted a second division rating for her, which as Mr. Sommer says is extremely good for someone just beginning the study of music. At this rate Mary Ann is sure to have a score of first division medals before she graduated from high school.

Marsha Maass visited her new baby brother at Kerrville Saturday afternoon.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

All last week and part of this week the eighth grade class has been choosing poems they would like to say for the declamation contest and reciting them aloud for Mrs. Vaughn. Mrs. Vaughn thinks there are several good ones this year.

Saturday, the band participated in a playing contest in San Antonio. The combined efforts of Linda Bausch, Rosemary Faurie, Karen Kitzman and Donna Morse brought back second division ratings, which they played.

Linda Bausch received first division rating for her solo.

Faurie received a second division rating. Bobby Bailey spent the week-end with David, Shaw spent the week-end with him. He also reports that they had a lot of fun riding Bobby's new scooter.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

$3.00

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas communities. Take old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave Mexico two days' and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two unsuccessful days he spent entertaining a real outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting notel characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

SOUTH AFRICAN MOHAIR HIGH

In the first of six Mohair Auction Sales to be held this season in South Africa, the market was very strong, with 1720 bales of Mohair offered and all sold. The average South African bale weighs approximately 500 pounds. The Kid hair in this sale brought an average of $2.43, Yearling $1.68 and the adult hair $1.40.

This information was, received by the Texas Angora Goat Raisers' Association in a cable on last Friday, the next day after this sale at Port Elizabeth.

South Africa is the only Nation in the world that has a Mohair promotion program in operation and certainly some credit must be given to this program for the high prices received in this sale.

One of the big problems the Texas Mohair producers face, under the present marketing system, is when to sell and when not to sell, without any information regarding the Mohair markets in other parts of the world this problem must be faced in the dark to a large extent. Keeping the Mohair growers of Texas posted on the world markets, will be part of the service that will be rendered by the Mohair promotion organization that is now being organized. This service and this service alone would often be worth more than the one cent per pound, that National Research and Promotion will cost the grower.

BAND WINS SPECIAL AWARD AT U.I.L. CONTEST

For outstanding performances in concert playing and sight reading, the Bandera Bulldog Band copped first division honors at the U.I.L. contest in the 3-A League contest at San Antonio last Saturday. A panel of three judges judged the performance in Brackenridge High School Auditorium, and lauded the band with comments such as "very fine blend—high woodwinds blended superbly and "The musical conception here is excellent, and the musical thoughts are well expressed. A very musical performance." Judges were Ralph Burford, band director from Edinburg High School; Tommy Williamson, band director from El Campo High School; and Frankie Cox, band director from Cameron High School. All three rated the performance as a first division. The sight reading judge, Arnold Baca of Galena Park, gave the band the following comments on sight reading. "A nice job of reading—good style and adherence to accents." Nice job on overture—good music style and nice sound—shows fine training—congratulations."

An attractive plaque, to be placed in the high school for your inspection, was awarded the blue and white clad organization.

For some members of the band, this attainment was merely a beginning, as six soloists and one ensemble copped first division ratings also. Each soloist and each member of the ensemble received medals for their efforts. These students were Grace Richards, student conductor; Lon Cottingham, trombone solo; Marilynn Ritchenson, cornet solo; Bob Preston, cornet solo; Mary Kathryn Frerich, saxaphone solo; Linda Bausch, bassoon solo; and Dottie Vaughn, Marlene Leibold, Margaret Ann Mulligan, clarinet trio.

Soloists receiving second division ratings were Dottie Vaughn, clarinet; Rosemary Faurie, clarinet; Mary Ann Haun, saxaphone; Elvera Algueseva, student conducting. Ensembles receiving second division honors were a saxaphone composed of Mary Frerich, Grace Richards, Janis Meginnis, and Junior Kansas; cornet trio composed of Bob Preston, Robert Bradley, and Elvera Algueseva; clarinet quartet composed of Donna Morse, Karen Kitzman, Linda Bausch, and Rosemary Faurie.

Marlene Leibold received a third division on her clarinet solo as did the trumpet trio composed of Carol Ann Vaughn, Peggy Scriven, and Sharon Jones, and the clarinet quartet composed of Carolyn Bruce, Carol Hardin, Elizabeth Butts, and Peggy Billings.

Records of the concert performance of last Saturday will possibly be available should any reader desire one. If interested contact John Sommer, the local band director, for details.

MEDINA SCHOOLS ADD TEACHER FOR '59-'60 TERM

At the last regular meeting of the Medina School Board the following teachers and school personnel were reemployed for the coming term. Vivian Keese, Mamie Braun, Lucille Duvall, A. P. Barecky, Charles Wood, Paul Garrison, James Gallant, Tennessee Slinsky, Thelma Gallant, and W. O. Hatfield. The resignation of Miss Charlcie Amos was read and accepted with regret. Bus drivers for the coming term will be: A. P. Barecky, John Phillips, Elbert Wheeler, and George Whitehead. Cafeteria workers will be: Willie Allen, Bessie Haase, and Dorothy Keese. Brice Mayfield was reemployed as maintenance man and Helen Porter was reemployed as tax assessor.

A study of the scholastics and average daily attendance for the past years reveals that Medina will earn one more teacher unit this coming year than was earned during the year now in progress. It was decided to add the additional unit in the elementary school where most of the pupil teacher load exists. The average daily attendance is 20 more than it was last year at this time. The school has 185 on the active rolls and another 5 in sight as citizens of Medina and pupils of the school.

Other improvements at the school were the decision to paint the auditorium and the outside of the main building. Contracts will be awarded soon on these two jobs.

Supt. Braun reported that to date there were two candidates for the two vacancies on the school board. H. C. Gollberg who is the present president of the board has announced for reelection and B. F. Craddock has announced for the other remaining post. Both of these men have served on Medina School Boards in the past.

TEXAS LUTHERAN COLLEGE CONCERT HERE APRIL 10

M. A. Nyquist

M. A. Nyquist, director of the Texas Lutheran College concert band, puts his Musical organization on display at Bandera's high school gym Friday night, April 10, at 8 p.m.

A program which undoubtedly will please all types of music lovers, will be offered by the college band that created such a favorable impression last spring at the Madri Gras parade in New Orleans.

Music ranging from Franz Schubert's' "Unfinished Symphony" to William Handy's immortal "St. Louis Blues," will be offered by the fine concert band of the Seguin college.

The appearance in Bandera will mark the first stop in the annual spring tour of the Lutheran concert band. Other stops on the 1959 tour include Mason, Harper, Fredericksburg, Sinton, Orange Grove, Lyford, Robstown and Nordheim.

Nyquist, a composer who has had over 30 chorales and 15 marches published, has patterned the concert after the Boston Pops Symphony presentation.

It's the type of music which is designed to appeal to the average both the young at heart, and the adults who enjoy a sprinkling of all types of concert music.

Nyquist, a transplanted Nebraskan who did his graduate work at the University of Wyoming, has done an outstanding job with the TLC musical organization in the two short years he's been at the institution.

To add a little variety to the program, Nyquist will offer a twirling act by Faye Beyer, the Sinton miss who has entertained thousands of football fans with her halftime twirling acts both at TLC and in Sinton.

Some of the top hit tunes from "The Music Man," currently the top musical show on Broadway, are included in the program. Others include the overture "Zampa" by Louis Herold and Robert Bennett's "Suite of Old American Dances."

There'll be flute, trumpet and clarinet solos and music adherents might be warned that the popular band director may slip in a snappy polka just for an eye opener.

PROGRAM GIVEN BRO. W. R. SWINNEY

Last Saturday afternoon at about 2:30 friends gathered in the Recreation Hall at the Medina Children's Home to honor Bro. Swinney, with a surprise, program on the occasion of his 65th birthday.

After Bro. Swinney and wife had taken their places at the head of the table, the crowd sang "Happy Birthday Bro. Swinney." Then followed a short program, of Scriptural readings by the children, singing a few of Bro. Swinney's favorite hymns and a prayer by Bro. C. W. Jaidene. It was now announced that this was to be a "This is Your Life," patterned after the radio program.

A brief history of those 65 years were given, a picture of the family when he was a small boy was shown, also a number of his college pictures. There were seven girls and seven boys in his family. His youngest sister, Mrs. E. E. Masters, was the first to try his memory, and after three clues he identified her; next a nephew whom he had not seen for seventeen years failed to be identified, then members of his family who were able to be here were Mr. and Mrs. E. BOYLE'S

It's The Law
IN TEXAS . . .

Royal Juries

In this first speech in 1801 as President, Jefferson listed the essentials of our government:

Equal and exact justice of all men of whatsoever state or persuasion, religious or political; freedom of religion; freedom of the press; freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus; and trial by juries impartially selected.

Impartially selected juries were a long time coming.

Before England adopted trial by jury, she had three ways of deciding a case.

1. Trial by ordeal: If you pleaded innocent, your hand might be thrust into boiling water, then wrapped up. If in three days it was "clean" or uninfected, it showed you were not lying. Otherwise you were guilty.

2. Trial by battle in civil cases: Your or "your champion" could fight it out with your opponent. The winner won the lawsuit.

3. "Oath-helpers": A party's friends would recite an oath that he was in the right. An oath helper's part in the recital was taken as divinely inspired to show his party was in the wrong.

After the Norman conquest in 1066, the English kings sent out officers to get information. Subjects testified from personal knowledge about what took place in the locality.

Henry II in the Twelfth century used these same people to find facts by the law cases brought, which was the beginning of our jury system today.

The chief differences between our juries and the early ones:

1. The early juries told the judge what the local law or custom was. Today it is the judge who instructs the jury.

2. The early juries knew the facts before they met; today they should hear the facts for the first time in court.

3. The early juries had already taken sides before they were selected. Today's are supposed to be open-minded.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

CARD OF THANKS

A heart full of gratitude and thanks to each and everyone for your prayers, flowers, cards, letters and gifts; to those who looked after my things at Tarpley, and for every act of kindness during my recent illness. Words are inadequate to express to all of you how deeply grateful I am. I pray God's blessings on everyone.

Recent dicloure of office payroll shenanigans by a few Congressmen has aroused the ire of many people, including most of the members of the Congress.

Out of the new crowd of liberals who were swept into office last fall, six of them put their wives on their staff payrolls the day they were sworn in. Another one put his college student son on at $11,000 per year (since reduced by half). Still another, a machine tool worker who got elected to Congress from Ohio last November, not only made his wife an office secretary but also rented the enclosed front porch of his Ohio home to the government as his official district office.

These and other disclosures provide ample reason for changes in the present system, to better cope with the few who abuse their responsibilities.

The present law makes available to each member of the House a limited amount to draw upon for clerk hire each month. The member certifies the employees and their salaries and they are paid by the House Disbursing Office. The amount available but not used in each month automatically turned back to the Treasury.

A good many of us do not always use the full amount provided, and turn back a few thousand dollars each year. It depends upon the tempo of the work load.

Since 1932 all House payroll recipients have been wide open for public inspection, and properly so. That was true in the Senate until 1948 when secrecy was clamped upon all Senate office payrolls. And such rolls have been closed to public view since that time.

It is presumed that the voters who elect people who abuse their payroll privileges will hold them accountable when the next election comes around. In the meantime, I hope some law can be enacted which will require minimum hours of work by such employees and also require that they work in the member's office, and not on a sort of floating basis as recent disclosures reveal is done in as in-stance or two in New York City.

It is a matter of trying to better cope with a few bad apples that crop up now and then in the old barrel.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation to each person who was so thoughtful of me following the accident. The beautiful flowers, lovely gifts, cards, letters and the visits made my stay in the hospital more pleasant.

I wish to especially thank Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Keese, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Britsch, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Saathoff, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Fleener, Rev. and Mrs. David Lee Stewart, Dr. George D. Meador and Mr. Anthony of Bandera; Dr. Leon C. Kopecky and Dr. Roy N. Davis of San Antonio. "May the Lord bless thee and keep thee."

Sincerely,
Geraldine Combs Thallman

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stein were happy to have their sons, Bobby and Jimmy, at home with them during the Easter holidays. Bobby is a student at St. Johns Seminary and Jimmy is attending Central Catholic High in San Antonio.

HOLLYWOOD NOTABLES FILM CAMP VERDE

In the interest of filming a pilot film, "The Wonderful World", families, Leon Barsha and Ralph Staub, the host of the series of filmdoms capital, Hollywood, were in Texas this past week, securing a number of fine shots. The first of the series, "Deep in the Heart of Texas", started in the fabulous Bavarian and Heidelberg Gardens at the Lone Star Brewery in San Antonio. There typical German songs and scenes were filmed. From San Antonio the trail led to Fredericksburg for the filming of the Easter Fires at Easter time, then on to Comfort and Camp Verde, the "Home of the Camels."

Mr. Barsha and Mr. Staub visited Camp Verde in company with Fritz Toepperwein and his family from Boerne, where they filmed the old camel post which was operated by the United States government in 1856, established by Jefferson Davis. It is now the old Nowlin home.

Mr. Barsha, who has spent much of his life in films and among some of his most popular series is the "Bold Journey" feature, one of the last to be filmed by him.

Mr. Barsha told a Bulletin reporter that much of his research was done in Frontier Times Magazine, published for many years by the late J. Marvin Hunter Sr. and others. He made a trip through here once with Chili Wills and always wanted to return.

They plan to return to Bandera for a visit to the Mayan Dude Ranch, Frontier Times Museum, and other places of note.

SAVINGS BONDS SALES TOTAL 5.9 OF GOAL

Savings Bonds sales in Bandera County totaled $3,875.00 during February. Sales for the first two months of 1959 amounted to $7,403.00 which was 5.9 per cent of the county's 1959 goal of $147,600.00, J. Burgin Davenport, chairman of Bandera county's Savings Bonds Committee, has announced.

The total sales in Texas during January and February of this year were $31,100,328 which represented 17 per cent of the state's 1959 goal of $182.5 million.

"Top business leaders from all over our nation gathered in Washington recently to hear the President, cabinet members and other governmental leaders discuss our nation's economy and defense position under present conditions. The importance of the Savings Bonds Program to our nation's economic and military well-being was emphasized over and over again by the speakers. I know that the citizens of this county will support our President and our county will surpass its 1959 Savings Bonds sales goal," Chairman Davenport stated.

San Antonio builders saw a preview of these new products for the home at the convention of the National Association of Home Builders in Chicago in January. Many of these new products will be featured at the San Antonio Home Show, according to Wayne.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

From Lyndon B. Johnson

Dear Friend:

The problem of inflation rates second only to the issue of national survival. It arises in the work of this Congress in every term, and is a factor in almost every decision we make.

Inflation has imposed a cruel burden on the people, particularly those who depend for their livelihood on fixed incomes.

It has struck at the small businessman and the small town. Some have felt it more than others. But there are few persons who have avoided the impact of inflation on their daily living.

We are moving through a period of strange contrasts. We have at the same time inflation and recession. Some prices continue to rise. And at the same time, more than 4,500,000 people cannot find jobs.

This week the Senate provided the tools to take apart and study this strange situation. It made available $200,000 to finance this work by the Joint Economic Committee. This group is now engaged in the most searching study of its type undertaken in 20 years. And I believe the results will offer fruitful returns to the American people.

Some have blamed inflation on so-called deficit spending. But the history of our Nation over the last 40 years casts grave doubt on this theory.

For instance, in the late 50's, we have had both Federal surpluses and Federal deficits—accompanied by rising prices.

I do not suggest there is no relationship, between the Federal budget and the price level. But I do believe we must understand that relationship better if we are to act intelligently.

The scope of the Committee study embraces all current aspects of the economic policy of our government. It includes fiscal and tax policies, money supply and the financing activities of the government.

When this able Committee has completed its work, it will then report its conclusions to the Congress. And that report, I earnestly hope, will serve as a springboard for timely, intelligent action by the Senate.

Mrs. Walker McCutchen of Medina was a pleasant visitor in the Bulletin office Wednesday.

Robert Thallmann, Texas A&M student, spend the Easter holidays here with home folks.

Major and Mrs. R. W. Masters and son of Wichita Falls spent Easter here with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kutzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vanderveer and daughter, Loretta, and Mrs. Ed Mansfield of Austin visited friends and relatives here last week-end.

Mrs. Frank Krueger reports that her brother-in-law, Lester Gerdes, is some improved from his critical illness in the Brook Army Hospital in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nixon, Bingie and Jamie Nixon, and Keith Conwill, of San Angelo, spent the Easter holidays here with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Griffin and sons, Billie and Pat, had as their guests last week his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Griffin, and Mrs. Nettie Harris of Waelder.

TWICE-TOLD TEXAS TALES

Under this heading from time to time we will publish Texas historical articles which we have compiled and printed before in Frontier Times or in other publications, but which we believe will be of interest to Bulletin readers.

Just here we should include an account of the surrender of Camp Verde to the Confederates. From the book, "With the Border Ruffians," written by R. H. Williams, who was present at the "surrender" of the post, we take the following:

"About the middle of March I joined a company mustered by T. Frank, under a Commission from the Committee. We were forty in number, all good men and well armed, and reported at Castroville.

"Paul had, in bygone times, held a commission in the Texas Navy, a fleet which I suppose no one in this country ever heard of before, but he was an old frontiersman and a fighting man, which was the main thing for us. He was the only commissioned man in the company, and appointed me at once orderly sergeant. Directly we were mustered we went into camp on the Medina River, in an old Mormon settlement, where there were several stone houses and, a mill. The Mormons had established themselves on the Medina at the time that the main body of their people co-religionists were settled in Nauvoo; but when the general movement was made against that body in the States, these folk, like the rest of them, had to trek to Salt Lake.

"Wherever else they are, the Mormons are first-class organizers in a new country, and know how to make themselves comfortable. Nothing could be better than the spot they had chosen here, and they had made the most of it; and we could not but be grateful to them for the excellent shelter their mill fellows had provided for us against the keen, cold norther blowing.

"That night Paul told us his orders were to march at daybreak to Val Verde, forty miles distant, to attack that post, which was held by a detachment of U. S. cavalry. How many of the enemy he would find he didn't know, but thought there were not many more than our number. It seemed a rather large order, but the "Boys" were in high spirits and eager for a fight. Before daybreak our small bugler had roused the camp, and by sun-up we had drunk our coffee and were off on our long ride.

"Our route lay, for the most part, by bridle-paths alongside the Medina River, which ran swift and clear between high cedar-clad ridges. We took all proper precautions, and had scouts well ahead, whilst every man rode with his loaded rifle across the horn of his saddle and his six-shooter in his belt ready for use. But perforce we had to ride in single file, and a dozen lucky men properly posted in some of the narrow defiles, could easily have wiped us out. However we were not molested, and camped that night about two miles from the post.

"We were so confident of capturing the position, where we knew there were plenty of stores, that we had traveled with but small provision of rations, carried on two or three pack-mules; so my office of issuer of provender to forty hungry men was not an enviable one, for my comrades had but scant respect for any officer, and none for the orderly sergeant.

"That night we lay on our arms, and our pickets and those of the enemy were almost in touch. It passed without any attack on either side, and at daybreak we fell in and marched to within a mile of the fort. There Paul left the command in charge of the next senior sergeant, an old fighting frontiersman, whilst he and I rode on to the fort, I bearing a white flag. A sergeant's guard received us and escorted us into the fort, outside which I saw strong picket defences had been thrown up and I made sure we were in for a fight. Lieutenant Hill, the officer in command, received us very stiffly, and said he meant to hold his post to the last. He had really had orders to retire, as we afterwards learned, but put on a bold face to gain better terms.

"Paul assured him that through he might hold out against us for a time, reinforcements were coming up and eventually he must surrender; that General Twigg, commanding the district, had already done so, and that therefore fighting would mean only useless waste of life. Our crafty friend was deaf to all reason for a time; but when Paul offered to let all the officers and men march out with their horses, arms, and personal property, which was what he had been fighting for, he at once agreed, and terms were forthwith settled. Hill was to march out next day and report himself, and his command at San Antonio.

"So at two o'clock that day he marched out and we took possession of the fort, the stores, ammunition, twelve mules, eighty camels, and two Egyptian drivers, for all of which I had to give receipts. The camels had been purchased in Egypt by the U. S. Government for transport across the prairies in the dry season, and answered very well. They were very little trouble as far as the females were concerned (do they call them "mares?"—I don't know), but some of the males were the mischief, especially an old gentleman they christened "The Major." He was evidently possessed by "Shaitan," and bit and fought like a demon; but we chained him to a strong picket-post, and peace reigned in the camel-corral."

There is no doubt but that the transportation problem would have been solved by the use of camels but for the breaking out of the war between the States. For almost four years prior to the rebellion these solemn-looking beasts had been used in transporting supplies and dispatches across the arid wastes, and their service had been pronounced satisfactory. Their use was first suggested by Jefferson Davis, who had conceived the idea of using camels for transportation purposes while he was in Mexico with the United States Army in 1848. When Mr. Davis became Secretary of War he urged an appropriation by Congress to purchase the camels. An appropriation of $30,000 was made, the bill having passed Congress on March 3, 1855. The Naval Storeship Supply was selected to use in transporting the camels across the ocean, and Major Henry C. Wayne was assigned the duty of purchasing the animals. Lieut. D. D. Porter was in command of the ship Supply.

Plummer Funeral Home
Dial 6-3922 Bandera, Texas

Major Wayne [illegible] camels, Egypt, Smyrna and other countries and procured the following number and kinds: as follows: "One Tunis camel of burden, male; one Sennaar dromedary, male; one Muscat dromedary, female; two Bishari dromedaries; hilles; four Siout dromedaries, females; one Mount Sinai dromedary, male; two Bactrian camels, one hoodsbee of Tartary, male; four Arabian camels of burden, males; fifteen Arabian camels of burden, female; one Arabian camel, 24 days old, since born; camel-laden ship, couched Indianola at the end of April, 1856, unloaded the cargo at the wharf at Powder Horn, Texas, May 13th. With the animals were three Arab drivers, named Greek George and Hadji-Ali, who became known throughout Western Texas and Arizona as "Hi-Jolly."

Echoes from the camel period are contained in the following news dispatch which appeared in the papers in September, 1935:

"Quartzite, Arizona, September 23.—A tall pyramid of variegated stone surmounted by a copper figure of a camel, today marks the final resting place of Hadji Ali, Arab camel driver, packer and scout, who was famous in Arizona's early days. Hadji Ali-known the length and breadth of Arizona during his time as 'Hi-Jolly,' the closest his American friends could come to the pronunciation of his name, was one of a group of Arab camel drivers brought to the Southwest in 1856, by the United States Army. Army authorities had evolved the idea of using the 'ships of the desert' to transport supplies across the arid wastes, from Texas to California. Within a few months the plan was found impractical. The harp rocks and cactus of the Arizona desert cut the camels' feet and made them worthless. They were abandoned, and left to forage for themselves in a strange land. The camel drivers, with the exception of Hadji- Ali, returned to their native land. He remained, and for more than thirty years was a colorful figure along this sun-blistered frontier. He died here December 16, 1902. Meantime the camels wandered throughout the desert country, gradually falling victims to predatory beasts, the strange land, or the rifles of cowboys. The last of them were rounded up and sold to circuses and zoos. The final survivor so far as known died recently in Los Angeles zoo.

"The monument to Hadji Ali and the epoch he represented was built by Jim Edwards, maintenance foreman for the State Highway Department on the section of Highway 60 which passes through this historic mining camp. Edwards, a bachelor, has the hobby of erecting monuments at historical spots within his district, paying for them out from his own funds. Hadji Ali's pyramid is built from colored stones found in this section. Soldered in the pyramid, will be placed a small copper casket containing mementos of the old camel driver, including letter from federal officials to him, ashes of the last desert camel, and the sixty cents which represented his entire fortune when he died."

From Indianola the camels were driven to San Antonio, grazing along the route, and making the trip in about fourteen days. They were kept at the "headwaters of the San Pedro" for a few days and then moved out to the rand of Major Howard on the Medina, twelve miles from San Antonio, where they were kept until moved to their permanent home at Camp Verde. On August 26th and 27th, 1856. Here they remained, and steadily increased until the post was "captured" by the Confederates when the beasts numbered eighty head at Camp Verde, not to mention the camels that were being used in Arizona and California by the United States Army. And at that period, 1861, there were a number of the camels roaming the hills of Bandera county, in a semi-wild state, having escaped from their keepers at Camp Verde.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

The Spotlight this week falls on a Senior who has already made headlines in the paper this year.

Margaret Ann Callahan reached an early phase of her high school career when she won a trip to Oregon to be a guest participant in the National Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool Contest. This prize was received for placing first in the suit division of the Texas wool sewing contest. From this trip Margaret Ann gained invaluable experience which will be used many times in her future as a home economics teacher after she graduates from Texas Woman's University. The abilities as an accomplished seamstress of this girl were further illustrated when she was elected "Best Dressed Girl" of the Senior class in September.

The second major talent of Margaret Ann lies in the field of sports. She has played various roles as she was in the fifth grade and has served as pianist for the Future Homemakers Club, and the Intermediate Department and Young People's Department of the First Baptist Church, of which she is a member. Having begun dancing lessons at the age of four, her talent for tap and ballet dancing has been demonstrated before the Fine Arts Club, for Hospitality Week, Public School Week Talent Show, and FHA Vaudeville Show, and a "Talent Round-up" on WOAI-TV.

She has also played clarinet for the Senior Band for six years. "Mike's" outdoor activities include her three favorite sports—swimming, skiing, and ice skating.

Margaret Ann was born in San Antonio on September 13, 1941. She attended St. Joseph's during the first grade and Bandera Public School the remaining eleven years. During this time—in grade school—she had been in Brownie Scouts, in the Little Olympics, and six years in the Girl Scouts (camp fire); in high school many clubs have held her membership, among them the FHA, FTA, and Order of the Rainbow. She has participated in the Interscholastic League tennis team. "Mike" is currently on the School Bus Staff, serving as typist, but the main project of her final year in BHS is her work as Co-Editor of the "Bulldog Annual."

In another fellow Senior passes for the final time through the doors of Bandera High, fondly christened "Alma Mater." We wish her happiness and success, and may all her ambitions be realized.

TWO FROM BANDERA MAKE DISTRICT 27-A HONOR TEAM

The District 27-A coaches announced last week the All-District and Honorable Mention teams for the '58-'59 season. Composing the two respective teams were Earl Keese and Pres Ward of Bandera. Keese, a five foot six inch guard, made the All-District squad along with David Tolbert and Sidney Forbes of Sherra Chilo, Gene Canavan and David Lester of Boerne, and Jimmy Pringle of Southwest. Ward, a forward for the Bulldogs, was named to the Honorable Mention team.

Keese made good his first time out as this was his first year of playing regular ball for the Bulldogs. During the season he bucketed 186 points on 69 field goals and 48 free throws and averaged 7.6 points a game. But his true genius was in his accuracy of hitting 38.6 per cent of his shots from the field (high for the team) and in his ball handling and backcourt wizardry which was credited to say the least. The honor is not the first for Keese, a junior at Bandera High; for his achievements in 4-H and FFA work have won for him many a cherished reward during the years.

Ward, now a senior, led the Bulldogs in all scoring departments during the season with 264 points and 11.0 points per game average. He tallied 99 field goals, 66 free throws, and managed a commendable shooting accuracy of 37 per cent. He was also a key rebounder for Bandera during the year in which 16 locals competed in a 14-12 record. Besides the Honorable Mention recognition, Ward holds three letters in basketball and title of team captain, three four letters, a captain's star, and an All-District title in football.

Bandera High is truly proud of these two fine athletes.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

This week proves the youngest can live up to the oldest sister's outstanding work in school, our spotlight focuses on Mary Jo Mansfield, outstanding student in her own right.

On March 11, 1941, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mansfield were presented with a darling baby daughter who has grown to be an excellent athlete, musician and honor student. She does good work in school, is an invaluable team member in sports, has taken part in all Bulldog Band events for six years, has taken part in the FHA activities for four years; and as a crowning point in her school career, she has been elected as a member of the National Honor Society in her senior year.

Out of school, Mary Jo carries her part of the load. It has been said that good works will not buy a through ticket to Heaven but pathway here below, and Mary Jo truly does her share. She is a member of the First Baptist Church, a member of the church choir, and a worker in the church

Mary Jo is following in the footsteps of her older sister in her choice of the college she will attend and what she will receive certain greater heights. She plans to enter Texas Women's University this summer.

Mary Jo is one off to Mary Jo Mansfield, voted the "Girl most likely to succeed."

SENIOR SCOOP

The Seniors are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the play scripts which were ordered last week. The two one-act plays chosen to be presented are "Quite Please" and "They're None of Them Perfect." Date of presentation will be announced next week.

April 27 has been set aside for Senior Day. The Seniors plan to go to Medina Lake for a well-planned day of swimming, skiing, fishing, and boat riding.

JUNIOR JIVE

The juniors have been very busy the last few weeks planning and working toward the different activities coming up in the next few months.

We are planing a combined taco sale and bake sale for April 4 at Horsman's Ford Co. The bake sale will be a "door to door" type. If anyone would like any kind of baked goods, please contact Peggy Hunter.

We are also making plans for the Junior-Senior Reception and Prom which will be on April 18 at the Lost Valley.

Joe Singleton had a most enjoyable time while visiting in Medina Sunday.

Visiting with grandparents is always fun says Howard Hicks, who spent the Easter holidays in San Marcos with his grandmother.

Douglas White hunted eggs in the barn. He found two bens sitting on about 18 eggs each. They made him get away in a hurry.

Raymond Pawvlik went to an Easter egg hunt at church and went fishing after dinner.

Janette Causey told us about finding the prize egg at their family egg hunt. She thinks it may be due to the fact that she helped hide the eggs.

Nancy Groff spent Easter with cousins.

Jeanne Meginnis, Ricky Meador, John Waldrum and Dee Meador celebrated Dee's birthday Saturday with a party, a picnic, a ride in a truck, and all kinds of good family fun.

Ollie Murphy's brother found two baby rabbits and his grandfather finally discovered the nest in a hole in the ground and put the baby rabbits back into it. Now it keeps the whole family busy protecting the baby rabbits from Ollie's dog and his little brother.

Rob Sandidge discovered a fact of life that we all need to learn. He has a very stubborn mule that he had to bridle and bring home. He had to almost drag him home, and his brother brought a bucket of oats out to him. Then he hustled right along.

BANDERA HAS MODERN, NEW WESTINGHOUSE LAUNDROMAT

On Monday of this week, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hamilton of Boerne, opened their modern new Westinghouse laundromat in the O. O. Adams Hardware building on the street from B. F. Langford and Son Hardware store.

Bandera people turned out to view the modern, coin operated laundromat in operation. The charge for getting a big washing clean and dry is very small, 20c for the use of a washer; 10c for each 10 minutes use of the dryer. Washers hold about nine pounds and dried. Driers will hold four washer loads. The modern laundromat is simple to operate and economical to use. It even has a coin changer for your convenience.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton both expressed their appreciation of the gracious manner in which they are being received in Bandera and extend a cordial invitation to all to visit the Laundromat.

INTEREST HIGH-IN SPRING FLOWER SHOW

Interest is high in the spring flower show which will take place this week-end in the Bandera High School Gymnasium, and the exhibits promise to be very outstanding.

Sponsored by the Bandera Madrona Garden Club, this year's theme is "Spring Fever," with horticultural exhibits most stressed.

Those who wish to exhibit, and you do not have to be a member of the club to do so, are urged to bring all exhibits in by 11 p.m. Saturday, April 11. All entries brought in after that time will be exhibited but will not be entered for competition.

The doors will open at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 11, and close at 6 p.m.

On Sunday the doors will open at 12 noon, so that people can view the exhibits after attending church. The show will close at 5 p.m., Sunday.

Everyone is cordially invited to come and view an outstanding flower show.

PLANS UNFOLD FOR JUNIOR WOOL AND MOHAIR SHOW

The Bandera County Junior Wool and Mohair Show will be held at the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmer's warehouse on June 6. The judge for the show will be Stanley Davis, well known wool and mohair expert, who is doing wool and mohair research work at Texas A&M College. He is supervising the work of the scouring plant set up at the college.

All juniors shall keep their wool fleeces for this show, both commercial and registered. Wool fleeces will keep best if they are packed in large paper-backed sacks separately or in plastic bags. Mohair fleeces should be packed in plastic bags in which they will be shown.

An adult division in wool and mohair will also be on exhibit. Any adult breeders who have good fleeces of wool coming from ewes or bucks should save them to show during the show. Mohair fleeces should be saved already for display purposes.

A junior wool and mohair judging contest will also be held.

FATHER AND SONS LEASE GULF STATION

The popular Gulf Service Station has been leased by Sylvester (Bud) Kalka and his two sons, Lloyd and Floyd, who have already taken over its operations.

In about two weeks the station will have all merchandise and equipment in position. An opening day is being planned by the new owners, and the public is cordially invited to come in and do business with them.

LUTHERAN BAND WILL PLAY HERE TONIGHT

A band concert, featuring marching from pop to polkas, will be staged at Bandera's High School gym tonight, Friday, April 10, by the Texas Lutheran College band.

Also included in the program, that amounts to a pops concert, will be overtures, marches and jazz numbers.

It's the kind of band concert which is designed to appeal to all band music lovers.

Director of the Texas Lutheran College concert band is M. A. Nyquist, a transplanted Midwesterner who has brought the TLC band out of the wilderness—to speak—in the space of two short years.

One appearance in Bandera will mark the first stop in the annual spring tour of the Lutheran concert band. The tour, in the 1959 tour include Mason, Harper, Fredericksburg, Sinton, Orange Grove, Lyford, Robstown and Nordheim.

Nyquist, a well-known composer himself, has arranged a program which should provide both toe tapping and easy listening music as well.

Actually, it's the type of program patterned after the Boston Pops Symphony. Nyquist is a firm believer in music which has attraction both for youngsters and the old folks.

Last year the TLC band drew rave notices when they marched in the Mardi Gras parade at the New Orleans. Their rendition of "The Yellow Rose of Texas" had the natives yelling for more all along the eight-mile parade route.

Another feature of the band concert will be the appearance of Faye Beyer, considered one of the top fiddlers twirlers in the state. She'll do a specialty number to the tune of "St. Louis Blues."

There'll be solos included in the program featuring Herb Karnes, of Shiner, in "Soliloquy for Trumpet" and "Flute Fresco" by Mary Ann Hinze of Orange Grove.

In addition some of the hit tunes from "The Music Man", currently the top musical show on Broadway, will be offered. Also on tap are Anderson's "Blue Tango," "Syncopated Clock," and many others.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Heinen of Pasadena were here this week-end visiting old friends and relatives.

POULTRY FIELD DAY IS SET FOR TUESDAY

A poultry field day has been planned for the poultry producers in Bandera county to be held on Tuesday, April 14, at 1:30 p.m., at the Bandera County Agricultural Center. The program will include subjects on breeding, feeding and management, sanitation, egg care and candling, and culling hens. This meeting should prove to be educational and interesting to both commercial and backyard egg producers. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting.

There will be free coffee and donuts for all those who are present.

Ben Worsuell, Extension Poultry Husbandman, Test Kitchen with the Purina Feed Company, and Jack Jennings, Purina Feed Area Supervision are to be on the program.

WOOL PREPARATION AND SHEEP SHEARING FIELD DAY

A wool preparation and sheep selection field day will be held at the Bandera County Agriculture Center on Wednesday, April 15, at 1:30 p.m. This field day will be of great interest for all ranchers in the county.

A demonstration on shearing will be given by Raul Herrera. Fleeces will be rolled and tied by men who attended the school at Junction. The fleeces will be packed into bags in such a manner to make flat bags which are easy to handle. The fleeces will also be easily displayed when it is packed in flat bags.

Taking care of the wool after it in the bag is also important. It will be shown how to arrange your wool rack with a tarp behind it to roll the wool in and to keep the dirt out of the wool.

A demonstration will also be given on sheep selection, to select the type of sheep that will make the most money for lamb and wool production.

Even if a rancher has sheared his sheep or if he sheary his sheep every six to eight months, this field day will still be worth your time to attend.

It will not take long for the demonstrations, but it will be of great value to anyone who raises sheep.

Mrs. Allen is in the Uvalde hospital with one foot broken in three places and other painful injuries. Master Deets Finley, age 2, was also in the wreck, but he was well prepared having his big brother's football helmet and face guard on. TAX REPORTS WILL BE AUDITED

Taxpayers were reminded today that preparation of their 1958 tax forms by Internal Revenue Service personnel, or aid in preparing them, doesn't mean that the returns won't be audited later.

"Some taxpayers," he said, "believe that returns prepared in our offices are finished and that they need have no further concern with them. No so, Internal Revenue Service employees assisting taxpayers in preparation of tax returns are only following the information provided by taxpayers.

"If later examination reveals inaccuracy, the taxpayer will have to explain and account for the doubtful entries."

Taxpayers should try to prepare their own returns. The first step to do so it to gather all business or financial records for 1958. Then, reading tax forms and their instruction booklets, and line by line, most taxpayers will be able to prepare their own returns.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

LT. DICK DOWLING

The Fighting Irishman Who Stood Against an Army

Because a young Irish immigrant didn't know how to be afraid. Texas was spared the devastation suffered by Georgia and the Old South during the latter years of the Civil War. Lt. Dick Dowling, 25 years old, was a bashful, simple, easy-going "paddy" from County Galway. With 46 of his fellow dockworkers from Houston, he was commanded to defend Sabine Pass in that September of 1863, when it was selected by the North as the invasion route through which the entire state could be taken. Lt. Dowling and his 46-man band scurried to find six small and ancient guns, in a low mud fort, with which to defend his adopted state. Against him—a massive Yankee amphibious force of 21 warships, three field batteries, two heavy batteries, 3,000 well armed soldiers and two Generals.

But then, David had only his sling shot to use against Goliath. It seems incredible, but it's Texas history, and a glorious chapter. Dick Dowling's little band of "Dockwallopers" beat off or destroyed the fleet, ship by ship. They captured 150 of the invaders' who succeeded in landing, and got away with quantities of supplies. Texas remained free of Northern occupation, to become the refuge, the hope, the new home for thousands fleeing the Union forces.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland . . . "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close co-operation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Cong. resman O. C. FISHER

Friday, April 10, 1959

Chances for a labor reform bill at this session were dimmed the other day when the Senate Labor committee reported a bill which appears to be so watered down that it is described by some observers as "a nullity".

The Senate bill, authored by Senator Kennedy of Mass., contains no restrictions against organizational picketing and secondary boycotts. Without some teeth, legislation will not deter the Hoffas and other labor leaders who abuse their power against both union members and the public.

The House Labor committee is holding hearings on this subject, but the make-up of the committee is such that it is doubtful that a very strong bill can win the favor of the majority. The slowdown test in both the Senate and House will come later.

In the reapportionment of membership in Congress after the 1960 census, Texas is likely to gain two new members, but a number of other states are to lose in the shifting. California stands to gain 6 and Florida 4, by the biggest gainers.

Total membership in the House has a limit of 435, and each census brings about some changes, [illegible] upon gains or losses in population in the various states.

The recent admission of Alaska and Hawaii will take away members from other states. Alaska now has one, and pay gets another next year. Hawaii will have two. On the losing side, Arkansas is due to lose two seats, while Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and North Caroline each will drop one.

Other states likely to lose include New York and Pennsylvania, each due to lose three members, and Massachutes may lose two. West Virginia, Minnesota, Kansas and Iowa, according to Census Bureau estimates, will likely give up one seat each.

LOCAL RANCHMEN ATTEND SHEEP AND ANGORA GOAT SCHOOL

The sheep, Angora goat and wool and mohair school held at Junction on March 30, 31 and April 1, was attended by seven ranchmen from Bandera county. Those who attended were Tony Jennings, all three of Bandera; Mansfield, Thomas H. Keese, two days; Rhea Mansfield, Raymond Hicks, Howard Hay and Alvin Hicks, one day of the three day school.

Roy L. Huckabee, District No. 7 Agent Extension Service from San Angelo was in charge of the meeting.

Some of the subjects discussed and the people making the talks are as follows: Sheep and Wool, Angora Goat and Mohair Outlook by Dr. Pat Wooten, Extension Economist; Warehousemen's Problems, by Dr. Ted Holckaup, Veterinarian and warehouseman of Junction; Wool Preparation, Grading [illegible] ton County Agent; Marketing Wool on a Descriptive Basis, R. L. Holland, San Angelo; Creep Feeding Lambs, J. A. Gray, Extension Sheep Specialist, Sheep Selection for Greater Wool and Lamb Production, by J. A. Gray; Production Testing of Range Rams, Charles Schmidt, III; Selecting Angora Goats for Greater Production, Vernon Jones, Kimble County Agent; and Commercial Testing Company Services, by Frank Tillman, American Conditioning House, San Angelo. "A practice session was also held in grading wool and mohair grades and grading was also discussed.

One of the highlights of the program was the discussion by Dr. W. T. Hardy from the Sonora Experimental Station on internal and external parasites. Dr. Hardy also posted a goat at which time he showed where and how to look for internal parasites. In the goat that was posted, stomach worms, hair worms, and tape worms were found. Dr. Hardy stated that phenothiazine would kill the stomach worm, but would not kill the hair worm, which is referred to as the bangoot worm, which causes the black scours. He recommended giving capsules every five to seven days after a dose of phenothiazine to kill the stomach worms, and putting Angora goats on straight cotton seed meal until they get stronger.

POWER LINE TO PROSPERITY

It took miles of wire to carry electricity to the isolated farmhouse above. But the cost of this electrical service was shared equally by the members of the rural electric cooperative who live in more populous areas. They were keeping a pledge to serve members anywhere regardless of cost. This democratic plan of sharing the load brought an electrical revolution to remote Texas areas and a new way of life to the rural community.

But it is imperative that the Electric Cooperatives of Texas continue to serve the more populous areas they helped to develop. There are certain areas served by the cooperatives that are adjacent to towns and cities. Take these away and you run the risk of prohibitive electric rates for thousands of Texas farms and ranches. Where the rural electric cooperatives were first to offer electric service they must be allowed to serve.

BEAUTIFULLY APPOINTED SHOWER HONORS SPRING BRIDE

A beautifully appointed bridal shower in the educational hall of the First Baptist Church on Friday evening, April 3, 1959, honored one of Bandera's most popular young women—petite and gracious Sarah Caldwell Shuptrine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cardwell and vivacious bride of Pvt. Kelly Shuptrine.

Tables dressed in soft pink high lighted by occasional arrangements of spatial spring flowers were the display areas for a fascinating array of gifts from friends who attended the shower or sent tokens of their love for the bride and groom and their respective families.

The refreshment table, laid with a linen drawn-work cloth, was ornamented by a centerpiece of spring flowers in pastel shades and softly lighted by pink candles in crystal candelabra. To these were added a crystal punch bowl, filled with sparkling-clear punch chilled by pink ice cubes, and an absolutely delectable bride's cake, iced in frosty white touched here and there with miniature pink roses.

Talented young pianists, Leeannah Roberts and Bonnie Lou Mansfield, played soft background music as the guests enjoyed an evening in the company of the honoree and her immediate family—Mrs. W. W. Cardwell, Mrs. Chas. Meadows, Cecil McKay, W. John Shuptrine, Mrs. Don Le-Sueur, Mrs. Willard D'Spain, Mrs. John P. Dougherty, Mrs. Beth Brock, and Mrs. Charles Appleget.

SALE OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BASEBALL SEASON TICKETS LAGGING

President of the Bandera Chamber of Commerce Wilvie Smith reported to a Bulletin reporter Wednesday that sales of season tickets for the local baseball team are lagging and urged all who are interested in baseball to purchase their season ticket at once. The $5 season ticket entitles a whole family to attend the games for this low price.

A fine baseball field is now complete on the Mayan Ranch grounds and bleachers with the seating capacity of 300 people have been finished and are now in use.

Last Sunday the Bandera team played its first league game with Fredericksburg at Fredericksburg, and though the Bandera team lost by a small margin, the game was an excellent one and gave promise for a fine season.

So, if you have not purchased your season ticket, do so now, and help your home town team.

Charles Applegate is manager for the Bandera team and, is doing a fine work to bring these important games to our city.

BANDERA CUB SCOUTS AT SCOUT-O-RAMA

The month of March was a busy month for Bandera Cub Pack 146. The highlight of events was the Hill Country District Scout-O-Rama, which was held at the Livestock Building on the Kerrville-San Antonio highway on March 21st.

Shown above are most of the boys who took part in the booth demonstration. Some could not be in the picture as they were busy at other activities. The Den Chiefs were particularly busy attempting between the Troop Booth and the Pack Booth.

The Pack theme was based on the use of tools, whittling, making things and building that go.

Part One of the Schedule was the whittling and sanding of the Pinewood Derby Racers and fitting the axles, which were. Part Two was the Race itself. We had a 22 ft. track. Each boy raced his car and eliminations proceeded until two remained. Robert Hutcheson, No. 14, and Linden Rhodes, No. 22. The finals were run and young Robert Hutcheson was champion. He was presented a championship plaque at the Scout-O-Rama Control Center where the results of the Derby was announced so everyone at the Scout-O-Rama could hear.

Our best demonstration was a success and the Pack received the "A" award for proficiency.

The Scout-O-Rama is an event presented each year in order that the people of all the communities involved can have the opportunity to go and see what the boys learn and accomplish by belonging to a Scout Troop or Pack. This is an opportunity of which everyone should take advantage.

We wish to express our thanks to everyone who helped in the preparation of our program. Special thanks to Buddy Postert, A. R. Lewis, Mrs. Heins, Irvin Stevens, LeRoy Sprott and Mr. Smith of the Western Auto Store.

FITS IN OUR TOWN

By Jinny

Flowers, so since the two weeks of rain (very much of the past two weeks, we are looking for a beautiful spring.

* * * Despite the fact that Bandera needed a good rain very badly for sometime, the hills and valleys are now green and beautiful. Wild primroses, verbena, bluebonnets are certainly lovely in this community.

* * * And speaking of showers, bridal showers, that is. Mrs. Kelly Shuptrine was honoree at a lovely one in the Baptist education hall last Friday evening. Then on Sunday Miss Patsy Fischer became the bride of Loyd George Cifcellis and a lovely reception was held at Lost Valley Ranch. Also on Sunday afternoon Mrs. Bernie Bratton, nee Margie Schoenert, was complimented with a lovely bridal shower at the Bandera Country Club. Then there was the shower for Mrs. Wade Cryer in the education building at the church of Christ the week before. Mrs. Cryer left the following Monday to join her husband in Hawaii. Such a wonderful honeymoon. Mrs. Carel D'Spain was also honored with a lovely shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Bergman, in Johnson City Sunday. We predict that come June, there will be quite a shower of showers.

* * * For the first time in the annals of Bandera Public School History, a woman has been elected to the school board. Mrs. Grace Kitzman, received 163 votes in Saturday's trustee election.

* * * Bandera school are fortunate to have so public spirited citizen as F. B. Doane, who has set up The Doane Scholarship Foundation to help Bandera boys and girls, who are interested to attend college. The fund has been set up and a boy and girl from Bandera High will receive $500 each at graduation this May so that they may attend college.

* * * We are glad to report Clem Hain is now much improved from his recent injuries sustained in a fall from a horse.

* * * Nice to see Mrs. Herriott of Houston here this week. She will be remembered as the charming lady Billie Jean Thalmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Thalmann. She visited a number of relatives and friends here.

* * * The organization of a movie company here is still being discussed by a number of our citizens.

* * * Signs of Spring—The nice improvement at the Chicken Shack ... trees being planted at the Plummer Funeral Home entrance—yards and gardens being put in shape for the growing season.

* * * Remember the Flower Show. This year's theme "Spring Fever" will stress horticulture and will be an interesting as well as a beneficial exhibit.

* * * Mrs. R. L. Stevens, Home Demonstration Agent, completed the upholstery school held in the Bandera Library Auditorium last week. Several nice chairs were refinished and re-upholstered. Home demonstration work in Bandera county has been a vital program to everyone who has taken advantage of the beneficial projects conducted through the years.

* * * We extend Happy Birthday greetings to Mrs. W. A. Plummer of Bandera and Kerrville on Monday, April 13.

* * * Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. E. Lindner on a fine little grandbaby.

* * * Remember the dates for the showing of "Gigi," the award winning movie, April 21-25, 1:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. being sponsored by the Christopher's Episcopal Guild.

* * * Our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hamilton, owners of the new Westinghouse Laundromat, now open in the old Adams Hardware building across the street from Langford's Hardware Store, for the beautiful potted mums. They certainly dress up our desk.

* * * They say "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." Young men take a tip from me—Miss Pearson's homemaking class certainly can turn out delishus food.

* * * Our thought for the day—"Pat Won Says: The more you grow up, the less you blow up," and "The most desirable quality in a nose is not its length, breadth, or curve, but that it not be found in other people's business."

* * * Bye for now * * *

THE CAMELS IN ARIZONA

From the "History of Arizona," Volume 1, page 356, we take the following, which tells of the successful use of the camels in that arid region:

"In the fall of 1875 Lieutenant Edward F. Beale, U. S. Topographical Engineer, was ordered to open a wagon road from Fort Defiance, New Mexico, to the eastern frontier of California, and a part of the herd of camels were put at his disposal for this expedition. The journey was through a wilderness of forests, plain, and desert, and occupied forty-eight days when the Colorado River was reached on October 18th. Lieutenant Beale, in speaking of the work performed by the camels on this trip, declares that they saved the members of the party very many hardships, and excited the admiration of the whole party by their ability and willingness to perform the tasks set them. Being determined to give a most thorough demonstration of the practicability of using camels on such expeditions, he subjected them to trials which no other animal could have endured. They carried water on the desert for the mules; they traversed stretches of country covered with sharp volcanic rocks without injury to their feet; with heavy packs they climbed over mountains where mules found it difficult to go, even with the assistance of their dismounted drivers, and, to the surprise of all the party, the camels plunged into rivers without hesitation and swam with ease. Lieutenant Beale left San Antonio June 25th, 1857, and on July 11th he says:

"The camels are now keeping up with the train easily, and came into camp with the wagons. My fears as to their feet giving out, as I had been led to believe from those who seemed to know, have so far proved entirely unfounded, though the character of the road is exceedingly trying to brutes of all kinds. My dogs cannot travel at all upon it and after going a short distance run to the wagons and beg to be taken in. The camels, on the contrary, have not evinced the slightest distress or soreness; and this is the more remarkable as mules or horses, in a very short time, would be sore-footed that shoes are indispensable. The road is very hard and firm, and strewn all over it is a fine, sharp, angular, flinty gravel; very small, about the size of a pea—and the least friction causes it to act like a rasp upon the opposing surface. The camel has no shuffle in his gait, but lifts his feet perpendicularly from the ground, and replaces them, without sliding, as a horse or other quadruped do. This, together with the coarsely grained, hard and yielding nature of his foot, which, though very tough, like gutta percha, yields sufficiently without wearing off, enables them to travel continuously in a country where no other barefoot beast would last a week."

These camels, let it be said in passing, were under the charge of Orientals, "Greek George" and "Hadjolly," who came with them from the Orient and attended to their packing.

In several places in his diary, Lieutenant Beale speaks in the same laudatory terms of the use of the camel, but it is significant that in his report to the Secretary of War, bearing date April 26th, 1858, there is no allusion made to these beasts. He speaks, however, in high terms of the route passed over, and, in reference to the climate he says:

"Accompanying my journal is a table showing the thermometer at its highest elevation and lowest depression during the day on our outward travel in the months of September and October, and another kept on my return in January and February for the same purpose. A comparison of the two established the interesting fact that one may travel the road in winter and summer without suffering the extremes of cold or heat."

In reference to the route he says:

"As far as the San Francisco Mountains the road needs scarcely any changes than a few bridges. In one place alone a bridge at the Canyon Diablo would save twenty-five or thirty-five miles of travel, and on the whole road its length might be shortened by subsequent explorations and by straightening elbows, one hundred miles. As this will inevitably become the great emigrant road to California, as well as that by which all stock from New Mexico will reach this place, it is proper that the Government should put it in such condition as to relieve the emigrant and stock drivers of as many of the hardships incident to their business as possible."

To do this he recommended that water dams be constructed at short intervals over the entire route, and a few military posts be established, and a few bridges be constructed, as he was of the opinion that if this was done, the whole emigration to the Pacific would pursue this one line, instead of being divided and scattered over half a dozen different routes. He calls attention to the fact that it would be economical for the Government to travel only one line instead of a dozen, and that the money thus saved would pay all the expenses attending the construction of the road. He says:

"I presume there can be no further question as to the practibility of the country near the thirty-fifth parallel for a wagon road, since Aubrey, Whipple and myself, have all traveled it successfully with wagon, neither of us in precisely the same line, and yet through very much the same country. Starting with three hundred and fifty sheep, that number was increased by births along the road, but not one was lost during the journey."

In order to produce at all times a sufficient quantity of water, he recommends a system of dams across the ravines and canyons. He says that during the year he was engaged in this work, he had not lost a single man, nor was there any sickness in the camp, that the medicine chest proved only an incumbrance. Continuing he says:

"My surgeon having left me at the commencement of the journey, I did not employ, nor did I have need of, one on the entire road. Even in mid-winter, and on the most elevated portions of the road, not a tent was spread, the abundant fuel rendering them unnecessary for warmth and comfort."

He winds up his report by asking for an appropriation of the hundred thousand dollars, to build bridges, cut off elbows, and straighten the road from point to point, and make other improvements, the expenditure claiming that the public lands, which would be brought into the market and sold within three years after the opening of this road would repay fourfold the appropriation asked.

Lieutenant Beale's route led through the Zuni Village, to Navaho Springs, passing south of the San Francisco Mountains and crossing the Colorado about one hundred and twenty-five miles above The Needles.

After this expedition, the camels were used in various capacities during the time of the Southern Rebellion, but they were utterly useless, probably because inexperienced men were left to handle them. The true Westerner had no use for camels; horses and mules had an unconquerable fear of them; packers and soldiers detested them. In or about the year 1866 the remnant of the herd, about 14, was turned loose in Arizona, and left to make their own living without the aid or assistance of man. At this writing it is believed they are extinct.

CONSERVATION * DEVELOPMENT * BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT * SELF-GOVERNMENT

The Board of Supervisors of the Bandera Soil Conservation District held their monthly business session on Wednesday, April 1, at the District office. Supervisors present were Bob Mansfield, A. H. Schott, H. L. Mansfield, and A. J. Flowers. Also present were Evelyn Hutcheson, steno-bookkeeper and Billy Griffin, of the Soil Conservation Service. Conservation planning assistance was approved for the places of A. C. Thornton and Dr. Dudley King of Bandera, Bradley Richards of Tarpley, and Stanley Tschirhart of the Medina Lake area. The District formulated plans for its annual ministers tour in connection with the observance of Soil Stewardship Week. The tour is planned for the last week of April immediately preceding the Soil Stewardship observance which will be during the week of May 3 through 10.

W. J. Schmidt of Tarpley has received three lots of plant materials from the District for trial and seed increase plantings. The Soil Conservation Service grass nursery has made available seed collected locally for the Districts to use in promoting production of locally grown plant materials. Schmidt was furnished enough Sideoats grama harvested from points all over the hill country to plant about three acres. He will also plant one row of Llano strain of Sideoats grama and one row of Uvalde strain of Sideoats grama for a comparison." Green sprangletop of the Llano strain to plant two acres along with enough seed for a one row observation planting of Mason Green sprangletop has also been made available to Schmidt. In addition to these two grasses, Schmidt received 6.5 pounds of Little bluestem seed that was hand stripped in the Wilson County area. This is an observation planting to determine if this strain of Little bluestem will acclimate itself this far north of its home territory. H. L. Mansfield also received some of this Little bluestem for a small observational planting. Results obtained from these plantings will be reported in the District news column as they are obtained.

Pastures that were deferred last year could benefit from a rest again this year. First, there is the young seedling that appears in early spring which if eaten off will die. Then the extra cover produced will collect and hold more to produce more grass. Roots will go deeper and production will increase.

C. R. Frederick of Medina is planting approximately 50 acres of his cropland to permanent grass. Col. Frederick is putting this land into the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve Program. King Ranch Bluestem is being planted on the acreage. The planting is being done in rows with an old cotton planter. Land preparation prior to the planting included disc harrowing followed by cultipacking to give a firm, smooth seed bed. The planting brings the total acreage of cropland planted to grass on Frederick's place to ninety-nine acres.

Lee Miller of Medina and his daughter, Mrs. C. G. Hinds of Alice, were pleasant visitors in the Bulletin office Monday. Mrs. Hinds has been visiting her father.

RED CROSS DOES GOOD WORK

Abilene, Texas.—Two Callahan County brothers, made orphans by a tornado 21 years ago in Clyde, Texas, have made history for the Red Cross in the Midwestern Area.

Until a few years ago they received Red Cross assistance checks, and the help given them through their childhood and young manhood represents the longest deferred assistance record in the Midwestern Area.

Until they graduated from high school, Donald Rutledge, 23, of Baird, and his brother, Darryl, 21, of Clyde, received Red Cross checks. It all started when Darryl was an infant in arms and Donald was three.

Ollie Lena Olsen, executive secretary for the Taylor County Chapter of the American Red Cross dug into Red Cross records and discovered the Rutledges' "record."

It all came about as the result of a tornado in Clyde June 10, 1938, which claimed the lives of the Rutledge brothers' parents and some 12 other people.

The boys' parents, an uncle, and a neighbor were killed when they drove their cars into the path of the tornado while trying to escape. Their abandoned home was untouched by the storm.

Donald and Darryl were thrown into a ditch by the impact of the storm. For two hours Donald, 3, held the head of his three-month-old brother above the water level in the ditch.

Finally rescued by three telephone repairmen, the boys were taken to a Clyde drugstore for treatment amid the upraised left in the tornado's wake.

One of the linemen, W. E. (Red) George, described the rescue this way: "There was a little boy looking up at me. He was standing knee high, his left arm and head holding up an infant's head. The water was even with the baby's head, nearly even with Jr.'s head. The little one had apparently been on its face. It cried when the water flushed in its eyes."

Reared by their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Johnson, the boys began receiving monthly Red Cross checks which continued until they graduate from Clyde High School—Donald in 1953 and Darryl in 1955. In addition, all medical and hospital bills were assumed for the two children.

The Rutledge boys' aid has surpassed Red Cross assistance record in some 16 states from Texas to North Dakota, Miss Olsen said.

Donald now recalls hearing the cyclone of the approaching linemen. "I remembered that the lineman spanked my little brother to get the circulation started," Donald said. "I know why now, but it made me mad then," he laughed.

He still remembers the name of the Red Cross nurse who took care of them, Donald said. Her name was Fay Anderson, he said.

Donald is a family man who works for the State Highway Department. Married to the former Mary Grace Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Medford Walker of Baird, he himself is the father of a 3-year-old, Donald Gale.

Darryl, who works for a wholesale florist in Abilene, was married to the former Jerry Gayle Barnett last June 6. Donald served as his best man.

Donald paid an unsolicited compliment to the Red Cross when he said, "I know that March is Red Cross Month. If it will help the Red Cross, I want to tell this story because Red Cross has done so much for us."—Abilene Reporter-News.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

On January 21, 1941, the young man who was later to develop into the biggest hurricane which struck Bandera High in the fall of '58 was born. His school attendance was off to a rollicking start when, in the first grade at Rockland Public School in Denver, Colorado, he and two other companions playfully pushed the teacher's desk to the ground, breaking her leg. He finished grade school in California and entered junior high in Laredo, Texas. Finishing junior high in San Benito, Texas, he was elected president of the class and obtained his first year of experience in the football team there. The sophomore and junior years of our spotlight Senior were spent at Corpus Christi, where he was high school and it was here that a great interest in automobiles developed. He was the recipient of a hot rod club, was elected president of the club, and won a trophy with one of his cars at the Corpus Christi Speedway. He moved to Bandera where some of his activities included being a member of the Bandera High School, the Annual Staff, and holding the title, Best Dancer of the Senior Class. To Robert Glenn Morrison, known around this vicinity as "Bob", the Seniors wish "Lots of luck, always!"

SOPHOMORE TALKS

Keith Conwill and Bennie Nixon were visitors at Sarah Shuptrine's home Sunday.

Relatives visited Josephine Dugosh Sunday evening.

Peggy Sevires, Jeanine Hicks, Sod Elvera Albuenes, Elizabeth Sarah Shuptrine's Bridal Shower Friday night.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Every class has in its midst a person who can be described as a quiet individualist" and the Senior class of '59 is no exception. The "quiet individualist" is a brown-haired, girl who moved to Bandera from Alamo Heights three years ago. This Senior is none other than Jan Langham.

Jan is well-known around the high school for her excellent art work. For example, she designed an attractive and original program for the Junior-Senior Banquet last spring, and last Christmas two high school teachers were presented with oil paintings as Christmas cards.

Jan attended Alamo Heights in her Freshman year where she was a member of the Chorki Club, Art Club, and Y-Teens. As a student of Bandera High, she has been an active member of the Pup-Pets and the FHA.

She is a faithful member of the Methodist Church, MYF, Wesleyan Choir, and the Order of the Rainbow for Girls of which she has held several offices.

Since her birth on July 7, 1941, in San Antonio, Jan has grown to be an industrious student who puts in real effort in everything she undertakes. This effort, coupled with a desire to learn, disclosed Jan to be a faithful member of a Senior in the class of 1959.

The Seniors, faculty, and other members of Bandera High School wish Jan Langham the best of luck in the years to come.

FRESHMAN FACTS

Saturday, Johnny Davis went fishing at the lake but to his dismay, he lost his whole string of fish.

Duane Sudmeier had a good time Sunday at a neighbor girl's wedding. Saturday, Mary Nowlin went to the show and Sunday she went home with Alice Jane Heiser.

Barbara Lindley went to the Retreat Saturday night and had a nice time. Eleanor Maurek went to Medina Lake to stay with her cousin, Rose Ann Maurek, then she and Rose Ann went to the Catholic church's barbecue. Joyce Maurek was also there. All had a wonderful time.

SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Joe Singleton killed a five foot gray racer Saturday.

On Saturday Glenda Kaye Ritcheson and her father went fishing. Late Saturday night relatives from Gatesville came for a visit.

Friday night, Howard Hicks' cat had four kittens on top of the house. He took them down and put them in a cage; later the mama cat took one back on top of the house so Howard had to take it down again. Sunday morning, much to Howard's dismay, he found all the kittens back on the roof again. Howard thinks it is a fight.

Gretchen Mueller spent the week end with Charmen Hicks and had a great time. Ice-back fidings—ending up with a wiener roast Saturday night. Howard Hicks joined them Saturday.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Margaret Brown, Johnny Anderwald, Kay Evans, Rocky Stevens, and Richard Evans took in a show over the week-end.

Sunday J. M. Clements went fishing and caught four fish.

Nancy Johnson journeyed to New Braunfels Sunday.

Charmen Hicks and Margaret Brown went to Kerrville and Eagle's Nest Sunday.

Rocky Stevens went fishing Saturday, but had no luck.

The sixth graders are now getting ready for six weeks tests.

BAND BLAB

For the band members Monday morning brought the first sign of the coming commencement. After the music for a number of recessionals and processionals had been passed out, the process of choosing the best one began; the possibilities have been narrowed down to two numbers to stay Friday night.

Majorette and drum majorette tryouts have been scheduled for May 21. There will be three judges—the band directors from Boerne, Comfort and one yet to be named.

The tryouts will be finished this Friday and will be on display in the band hall for anyone who's interested.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

There was still a bit of Easter influence in the third graders' reports on Monday. Jeanne Meginnis says her sisters brought Rome a little rabbit Saturday that they bought in Kerrville. Her dad has built a pen fog him.

Cynthia Marcum's aunt was a most welcome guest on Sunday. She brought them 102 baby chicks to raise.

Bobby Clark brings more news of baby rabbits. They still have 13 that the papa rabbit did not kill. He heard his dog "yapping" around their pen the other night and went out to discover a big snake coiled up near the pen.

Karen Anderwald's dad saw two snakes recently, and the teacher ran over one on the road home. They are really out now, so do be careful.

Karen's mother is ill again—a relapse of the pneumonia she had recently. We wish her a speedy recovery so that she can get out into this beautiful spring-time sunshine!

Ollie Murphy's brother was attacked by a big strange dog that wandered into his yard. His brother fell over backwards against the washing machine and made a knot on his head.

Rob Sandidge went with his uncle and aunt to the river that runs through his ranch. They had fun wading in the sparkling water.

Eric Matthews went wading too, to get some minnows to use for bait. First he got one leg of his blue jeans wet, then the other. Then a wet sock caused him to fall down and finish the job! His mother built a fire to warm him and dry his clothes. The fish they caught were not large enough to keep.

Ricky's dad took her brother Jay and a friend fishing. They all caught fish but only Dr. Meador's fish was large enough to keep.

Ray Wootten's pet goat had twins last week. You can imagine how excited she is about it!

Joyce and Janice Whitaker, Herman Frenk, Jim Zigler, Clarence Weber, and Mary Miller all had company over the week-end.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The seventh grade have been studying engines in science class. Some of the boys have been working on a steam engine, and so far their work has been successful.

Saturday, Holly Mayes, Noahlene Bergman, Mary Ann Hamm, and Margaret Davenport played in a volley ball tournament at Ingram.

Lola Rees went to Medina Lake Sunday and fished, but they didn't catch many fish.

ROGER POE SOARS 11'-1" AT PLATEAU RELAYS IN POLE VAULT TRACK SQUAD

The Bandera High School took part in the Eldorado Plateau Relays Saturday. While placing only in one event in the tough competition, Coach Waldrum was well pleased by the showing made by the young squad of Freshmen and Sophomores. Bandera qualified in both the 880, 440 mile relays, but failed to place in the top four in the finals. This is a good indication that Bandera will have a fine track team for the next two or three years.

Roger Poe, a sophomore pole vaulter, soared 11'-1" in the competition to tie for first place. Roger won first place easily in the Early Texas Olympics at Somerset. Last year Roger won his district and placed third at regional. His goal is to make it to state this year as a sophomore.

Other boys making good times but failing to place in the finals were: Harry Heim, a freshman, mile and 440 quarter mile; and Kenneth Kalka, who ran a 2.15 minute half-mile.

The 880 relay team qualified with a time of 1.40 minutes and was made up of Royce Stevens, Larry Stein, John Alanis and Brandels Dickinson.

The 440 relay team ran a 48.7 second lap. Members were: Stein, Dickinson, Alanis and Heim.

The mile relay team ran a 3.55 minute mile. Members of the team were Ramos, Stevens, Dickinson and Heim.

Other boys running and participating were: Billy Walton, Robert Bradley, Bryan King, and Charles Walker.

JUNIOR JIVE

Carolyn Lynd and her parents went to Boerne Sunday afternoon and visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. Ferguson and Buddy Ferguson.

The Junior class express their gratitude to the people who were kind enough to support our taco and bake sale Saturday and for the cooperation of the members of the class who helped to make possible the sale of 160 tacos and 25 baked goods.

Looking Backward

The still was of thirty gallons capacity, and the officers found with it two barrels of mash and about a gallon of white mule whiskey. An arrest will likely be made in a day or two, as the owner of the still is known.

VICTOR M. EHLERS RITES PIONEER LaGRANGE RESIDENT

Funeral services for Victor Marcus Ehlers, 54, director of the state Health Department's division of sanitary engineering, who nationally known in his field, died Friday in Austin. A native of Bastrop county, he received civil engineering degrees from Texas A&M College and Cornell University. He had been chief engineer since 1915.

Funeral services were held Monday at 10 a.m. at Cook Funeral Home then at 3:30 p.m. final rites were conducted at the First Presbyterian Church in LaGrange with Rev. Troy Jarvis officiating. Burial was in LaGrange.

Active pall bearers were G. R. Herzik Jr., D. F. Smallhorst, H. H. Dabney, Y. J. Zuber Jr., E. W. Steele and H. E. Hargis. Honorary pallbearers were Ehler's friends and co-workers at the State Department of Health.

Ehlers, one of the foremost sanitary engineers in the nation, founded several organizations, including the US-Mexican Border Public Health Association of which he was president in 1945. He helped organize the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, the Texas Beach and Pool Association, the Texas Water and Research Foundation, the International Association of Milk and Food Sanitation and the Association of Grade A. Milk Producers. After becoming chief sanitary engineer for Texas in 1915 President Franklin D. Roosevelt named Ehlers to the State Department Committee on inter-American Relations in 1940 and as a consultant to the Institute of Health several years later.

RANCHMEN HAVE WOOL FIELD DAY HERE

About seventy-five Bandera county ranchmen gathered at the Bandera County Agriculture Center Wednesday afternoon to attend the wool preparation and grading selection field day.

County Agent Werner Lindig opened the meeting and, spoke briefly on the care, preparation and packaging of flat bags of wool and stressed keeping the wool clean during shearing and getting it ready to package. The shearing was done by Raul Herrera's crew and fleeces were rolled and tied by men who attended the recent school at Junction, then packed into the bags in such a manner to make the flat bags easier to handle and to display.

Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Warehouse furnished the shearing crew and Bob Mansfield furnished the twenty sheep used in the demonstration.

Taking care of the wool after it is in the bag is important. It must be clean and gotten to market as soon as possible to keep the wool rack so as to keep the dirt out of the wool.

The wool warehouse also furnished films for the movies made by M. R. Sandidge and Archie Gallant of the operations.

Mr. Lindig told of the greater demand for wool in French clothing. All fleeces below 2½ inches in staple length will be placed in the 8 months wool class. He spoke also on marketing wool by the descriptive method. Bob Mansfield spoke briefly and discussed the eligible sheep for securing the staple wools.

Thomas H. (Bob) Keese gave a splendid report on the sheep selection program, beginning with 1957. He reported that the 146 flocks had an average of 4.49 pounds. From this group were sold 157 lambs, over 100 head were kept for wool, the middle group of 311 ewes, the average wool yield was 3.95 pounds. 306 lambs were sold from this group. The bottom group of 159 ewes sheared 3.75 pounds and sold 155 lambs.

Mr. Keese reported that in 1958 141 top ewes sheared 8.42 pounds and dropped 162 lambs. In the middle group 298 ewes were shorn with an average 4.85 pounds and 308 lambs. The bottom group of 117 ewes sheared 4.67 pounds and dropped 120 lambs.

The weight of top lambs sold last fall averaged 66 pounds; the middle group averaged 61 pounds and the bottom group 58 pounds. The difference between the top and middle group averaged $1.72 per head.

Following the demonstration at the Center the bag of wool was taken to the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Warehouse and weighed. It weighed 156 pounds, an average of 7.8 pounds with a 17 inch staple. The group of ewes were tagged earlier at which time they averaged seven pounds of fine wool.

"With a twelve month clip it is estimated they will shear over nine pounds," said Mr. Lindig. Prominent visitors at the demonstration was R. G. Jordan, from the San Antonio Express and Alonzo Cowsert, manager for the United States Testing Company, Inc., of Dallas.

Rhea Mansfield furnished coffee and donuts for the group.

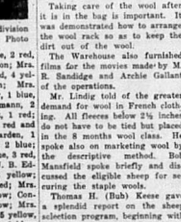
POULTRY FIELD DAY OF INTEREST TO CHICKEN RAISERS



The poultry field day held Tuesday afternoon at the Bandera County Agriculture Center was of much interest and benefit to poultry raisers of this community, when they gathered to hear Tex Ritter and Jack Jennings of the Purina Company present a program of vital importance.

Mr. Ritter spoke first and pointed out the "profit-factors" and said, "Do you want more?" Your profits are determined by these profit factors, livability, egg production, egg quality, shell texture, egg mass, and feed efficiency." He also stressed the importance of keeping proper records of producing eggs. Among other points noted wife he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Emma Mary Bishop of Pecos; two sons, Roy and Clinton of San Antonio; four sisters, Mrs. Effie Wedgworth, Mrs. Mary Klenstein, and Mrs. Letha Smith of Bandera and Mrs. Albertha Massey of Pipe Creek; and eight grandchildren.

"Your opportunity is here" he said and went on to point out that 50 per cent of all poultry and meat is shipped in by Texas and that there is great opportunity here for improving the production if the program is carried

K. R. SAVOY SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE OF WATCHTOWER SOCIETY

K. R. Savoy

The three day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses held in the Alamo Heights High School Auditorium this week was brought to a successful conclusion with the public talk of a "Paradise Earth through God's Kingdom." It was delivered by K. R. Savoy, a special representative of the Watchtower, Bible and Tract Society from New York. In the course of his talk, Savoy stated that, "the Bible shows God will use his Kingdom for man's home." In his concluding remarks Savoy made clear that "the Witnesses desire is to aid all persons of Goodwill to increase their knowledge of God's purposes as set forth in the Bible and points all men to the establishing of a New World as the only hope for earth's distressed, perplexed inhabitants."

W. V. James, presiding minister of the local congregation stated that 231 new ones were baptized Saturday, 1:30 p.m., solemly determined to do the will of God. Among those baptized were two of our local residents, Mrs. Monroe Weir, of Bandera, and Mrs. Bernice Monler, of Tarpley.

After the public talk attended by 1,152 Witnesses and persons of Goodwill the delegates headed for their homes all over the south and central areas of Texas. Bandera was represented by 31 delegates, some of whom were: Mrs. Lucy Hutzler, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Ferguson; Mrs. Estella Langehennig and children; Mrs. Allie Mae Lundquist and family, Mrs. Helen Faulkner and children, Ben, Jr., Don, Thomas, and Shelly; Dennis Moffett; Henry and Miss Minnie McCurdy; and W. V. James and family.

LEECESTER CLARK DIED SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME HERE

Leecester Clark, a life long resident of Bandera, died at his home here last Friday very suddenly. Mr. Clark, a heart sufferer, was stung several days ago by a wasp and it was thought that this may have aggravated his condition. He was a well known figure in this community for many years. He was a hardworking citizen, a good husband and father who will be mourned by a host of relatives and friends here.

Mr. Clark was born on October 13, 1887, to Ed and Emma Walker Clark. He grew to manhood here and was happily married to Miss Katherine Bell Clay on November 11, 1916. Besides his de-

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Plummer Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. J. Manley Reynolds, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in the Pipe Creek cemetery. Pall bearers were John Gass, Johnny Langford, C. H. Langford, Raymond Smith, Joe Munsch and Johnny Cox.

MEDINA SENIORS WILL PRESENT "FINDERS KEEPERS"

The Medina High School seniors will present the three act mystery-comedy, "Finders Creepers", published by the Heuer Publishing Company of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in the high school auditorium, Thursday, April 23, at 8 p.m.

Who will Hercules and Wilbur visit Uncle Bob and Aunt Mary for a long week-end, they do not know until it's too late that uncle is a mortician—that's right, an undertaker. They're for heading home pronto especially when they find there's another "guest" in the house, an old boy named Jason Quigley who—"ran out of gas." Meanwhile Celeste arrives on the scene and things start hopping. Mr. Quigley, "the guest," walks around, reads the paper, and climbs into bed with Hercules. Wilbur and Hercules solve a baffling mystery thriller in the typical blue; Miss Gussie Dahlen as Granny and Mr. Quigley keep the whole joint jumpin' in a rib-tickling mystery comedy, with an emphatic accent on the comedy.

MRS. LAURA McCARTY IS VERY ILL

Friends here will regret to learn that Mrs. Laura McCarty suffered a stroke the early part of the week and is very ill at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Montague Sr. Her friends here earnestly desire her speedy recovery.

BANDERA IS GETTING READY FOR 12TH STOMPEDE

Bandera is getting ready for its twelfth Annual Stompede celebration in full color this year with banners and blue jeans flying across the streets and business places decorated.

Great interest is being shown in the Bandera County Stompede Queen Contest, the fiddlers contest, for the old and young alike, and we are already seeing beard-ed men on the streets.

The Trail Riders which will leave Bandera on April 28th and arrive back on May 1st, will be one of the best ever to be held by the Trail Riders of the Bandera Hill Country.

The World's Championship roping will feature team match roping by four World Champions. They are Ray Wharton of Bandera, Texas, and Don McLaughlin of Fort Worth, Texas, vs., Troy Fort of Lovington, N.M., and Jim Bob Altizer of Del Rio, Texas. Fifty or more of the nation's top ropers will be here to participate in the three performances.

The big Western parade will be one of the high points of the Stompede, with floats, marching units, clowns, decorated cars, and bands.

The famous Jody Drill Team of Lackland Air Force Base will perform at 11:00 a.m., May 2, in front of the court house.

A Western barbecue will be served at Mansfield Park also on Saturday, May 2.

Folk and modern dancing will be held in each night club nightly with nationally known bands furnishing music.

On Sunday afternoon, May 3, at the Bandera baseball field on the Mayan Ranch the Bandera Cowboys will play the Fredericksburg Giants.

This is where true Western hospitality will be shown.

The big three-day event is being sponsored by the Bandera Chamber of Commerce.

BANDERA COUNTY A&M MUSTER

The Bandera County A&M Muster will be held at the New Frontiers Hotel Coffee Shop on April 21 at 12:15. All A&M men are urged to attend. Get in touch with Col. Dan Abate or Jack Focke to let them know you will be present.

The Muster will take place immediately following the lunch.

DISTRICT COURT HAS LIGHT DOCKET

Judge Ross Doughty presided at a regular term of district court here the first of the week to hear one civil case, that of Bessie Schmidtke, guardian, vs. Leslie Schmidtke and wife. The case resulted in an agreed settlement. Judge Doughty was accompanied to Bandera by Court Reporter A. K. Sams Jr., also of Uvalde.

WRIGHT MORROW MAKES DONATION TO SCOUTS

A special meeting of the Troop Committee of the local Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts was called Wednesday, April 8.. Enthusiasm for the 30x40 foot building, for which the concrete slab has already been poured, was intensified when the following letter from a prominent Texan was read:

"Dear Bandera Citizens:

"Pursuant to our discussion herewith is check for $500 payable to Bandera Boy Scouts, to be held by you, as Trustee, to be delivered on or before June 1, 1959, upon condition that there is raised from other sources a matching amount of $500 by such date. If this condition is not met then this check is not to be cashed. If this $500 additional is raised and accredited to Bandera Boy Scouts by June 1, 1959, then this check is immediately cashable.

(Signed) Wright Morrow"

A building committee was appointed in anticipation of the fulfillment of the above contract. We have at present $1067 on hand, so we feel we can begin work as soon as this additional $500 is collected.

It is hoped people of our community will respond to this challenge. Any contribution will be greatly appreciated and accounts are set up at both banks so that anyone so desiring may make a deposit to Scout Building Fund.

APRIL MEETING OF THE ROSE GARDEN CLUB

The Rose Garden Club held its April meeting at the home of Mrs. John McHaney, who was ably assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. K. H. Stokes. As always the sixteen members gathered as they were served salad and coffee and enjoyed a delightful social session. At the conclusion of this the meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Paul Garrison.

The speaker of the day was a club member—Mrs. Arthur P. Mathis, who reviewed John H. Storer's book—"The Web of Life." This book is a study of ecology—the interrelationship of all living things. It should be a "must" on everybody's reading list. Its theme is conservation—and that of water, and of animals.

A business meeting was held following the book review. The Rose Garden Club is deeply grateful to Lewis Sterling for his gift of litter bags—they are attractive, practical accessories for your car. They will be put on sale at the Club's "Bake and Plant Sale" in Medina on Saturday, April 25th. This sale will be held in conjunction with the P.T.A.'s annual Spring "Thrift Shop Sale".

Remember the date, send a donation, and patronize it!

Another date to remember is Saturday, June 13th! On this day the Garden Club will have its annual "Flowers by the Yard" contest. It is none too soon to begin planning, planting and grooming your gardens for this contest. There will be numerous prizes for various classifications which will be announced later. Anybody living within a one mile radius of Medina is eligible to compete.

TEXAS TRAFFIC DEATH TOTALS

Austin—Texas traffic accidents last year not only took a total of 2,342 lives—an average of almost 200 each month, but also resulted in an economic loss of $347,311,000.

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, pointed out this week that most of the worst accidents occur in rural areas.

"The tragic loss of life by far overshadows any monetary consideration, but the staggering amount of property damage wrought on the streets and highways of our State should not be overlooked," he said.

Considering the fact that so many of these accidents happen in areas where farmers and ranchers live, Garrison used an acre of land to illustrate one way to look at the "high cost of traffic accidents."

"An acre of land measures 43,560 square feet," he said, "and United States currency measures about two and five-eighth inches by six and one-eighth inches.

"If an acre of farm or ranch land were completely covered with one-dollar bills, then a layer of two-dollar bills, then layers of fives, tens, twenties, fifties, hundreds and five-hundreds—and this topped with 231 tons of silver dollars, then this would represent the economic loss from traffic accidents in Texas during 1954."

Garrison, drawing upon the Department's Statistical Services Division, noted that "$347,311,000 would buy 5,000 farms or ranches at $40,000 each, 5,000 refrigerator-freezers at $800 each, 5,000 electric kitchens at $700 each, 5,000 color TV sets at $700 each, 5,000 living room suites at $1,400 each, 5,000 air conditioning units at $1,600, 5,000 pick-up trucks at $2,000, 5,000 tractors at $2,000, and 5,000 registered bulls at $600.

"And there would still be enough money to furnish the head of each of these 5,000 farms or ranches with a bank account of $17,862.20," he said.

Mrs. Dannie Brient of San Antonio has been the guest of Mrs. Charles R. Hutcheson for the past week. She left Monday morning for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Tilghman will return this week from Gunnison, Colorado, where they have been to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tilghman and infant son, Frederick Ross.

MORE COLORFUL SAN JACINTO FIESTA

San Antonio, Texas, April 16—More colorful, more spectacular and packed with more thrills than any previous edition, the 64th annual Fiesta San Jacinto moves in on San Antonio Sunday.

Although the city will be crowded with visitors, many hotel and motel operators reported today that they were far from filled, and that reservations for the entire week-long festival were still available.

Fiesta San Jacinto Association officials said the great Texas patriotic celebration, marking the anniversary of the Battle of San Jacinto, would provide more "fun, fervor and frolic" than ever before in its long history.

Beginning with a grand mount ceremony Sunday afternoon in the historic Fort Sam Houston quadrangle, the Fiesta will get under way Monday with a traditional Pilgrimage to the Alamo.

Spectacular pageantry and exciting events include the unique Battle of Flowers parade and the "Nights in Old San Antonio" at La Villita Tuesday through Friday.

There will be street dancing Tuesday and Friday night, a coronation of the Queen of the Order of the Alamo, Wednesday, and a lovely Children's Dance Fete and a band festival Thursday night.

Friday will see the gorgeous Battle of Flowers parade and on Saturday afternoon the Alamo Frontier Gun-Slingers Club will stage its first Texas State Fast Draw Championship contest.

The Fiesta will reach its climax Saturday night with the "world's greatest illuminated night parade," the fabulous Fiesta Flambeau, featuring the lovely "Miss Fiesta," her maids of honor and many visiting festival queens.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas communities. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican "rurales hot on their trail; of his experiences as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

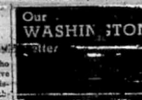
FRONTIER TIMES MUSEUM, BANDERA, TEXAS

FOR IMMEDIATE INDUCTION

Austin, Texas—Young men who change birth dates or Selective Service numbers on draft registration certificates are now subject to immediate induction into the Army as delinquents.

President Eisenhower has authorized this by executive order revising the Selective Service regulations, Colonel Morris B. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

Young men in numerous instances have been changing birth dates and draft numbers on the card certificates they carry on their persons so as to indicate an age of 21 or more.



"They have done this," Colonel Schwartz said, "for the purpose of falsely representing that they are eligible to purchase beer or liquor, or to be admitted to places forbidden by law to persons under 21."

Colonel Schwartz said that possession of an altered registration certificate is a violation of the draft act, but it has been difficult to prosecute successfully these cases in the absence of intent to evade service or defraud.

The amendment of Section 1617.1 of the draft regulations," the state director commented, "will permit local boards, if they desire, under the provisions of Section 1642.4, to declare men delinquent when they fail to possess certificates which have not been changed or altered.

"Men so declared delinquent are ordered for induction ahead of other men by reason of the delinquency," the state director concluded.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

Revolutionary changes in the American concept of federal control over farm labor is becoming more serious. Despite a mass protest by 40 Congressmen and Senators at a meeting with the Secretary of Labor three weeks ago, the Secretary has proceeded to draft a regulation which he proposes to put into effect this summer.

The regulations would require farmers and ranchmen who apply for labor through United States Employment Service to "hire (if local labor is not available) any able worker available, even though such person might live 1000 miles away, with the employer paying the transportation costs to and from the employee's home. The employer would also have to pay that imported employee the prevailing wage, determined by the Labor Department, and provide certain housing also required by that Department.

Of course, the employer could refuse to hire such person. But if he did hire him that would be the conditions imposed.

And if he applied to contract for a Mexican national, where no such bracero could be processed, the employer would have to offer or to take that unemployed worker from not more than 1000 miles away, under the terms and conditions described.

The proposed regulations are monstrous. Before becoming effective they must have White House approval. And the president is now shifting the office of the President. In addition, the legality of the regulations are being questioned. The Law branch of the Library of Congress has just released an opinion which holds the proposed regulations of doubtful legality. And many eminent lawyers are joining in that opinion.

I do not believe the regulations are legal. The Secretary bulls-eye one on an old 25-year-old law known as the Wagner-Peyser Act.

The Tempo of the battle against this invasion of the rights of the people is picking up. The Farm Bureau, the Sheep and Goat Raisers, and many other groups are joining in the protest, and the opposition is gaining throughout the farm belt of the country.

NINE BANDERA STUDENTS TO TAKE MERIT TESTS

Nine students at the Bandera High School plan to take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, Mrs. Kay Kincaid announced today. The test will be administered at the high school at 9:00 a.m., Tuesday, April 28.

The test is the first step in competition for Merit Scholarships provided by some 90 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals, as well as by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself. Some $15 million in Merit Scholarships has been awarded in the first four years of the program.

The number of scholarships awarded in any year depends upon the extent of sponsor participation. The basic continuing program is for one million dollars a year (for ten annual programs). In addition, sponsor participation this year is expected to add about two million dollars more in sponsored Merit Scholarships. It is estimated that various outside-the-program sources will increase the present amounts offered to high scoring students by several million dollars.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is a three hour measure of education development and college aptitude. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what has been learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts. Some 10,000 Semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. Each Semifinalist will take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance on the second examination will become Finalists. Further evaluation of their grades, activities, and special scholastic achievements will follow, and the winners will be announced in the Spring of 1960.

The test results will be reported to all participating schools before the beginning of the senior year, in time for use by seniors in their class advisors. The scores may also be used in many high schools to help students make decisions about college and the most appropriate courses to major in. Many students throughout the country who do not expect to win have registered for the test, in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses.

Dr. John M. Stalnaker, President of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, recently cautioned that there are many reasons why test results cannot be used to evaluate school performance. The distribution of the population throughout the states, the size of the school, the native intelligence of its students, the percentage of students taking the test, the nature of the community where the school is located, the purpose of the school, and many other factors having nothing to do with the total effectiveness of the school can influence its number of Finalists.

The test results will, however, enable students as individuals to compare their scores with other students across the nation.

The test has been conducted by Science Research Associates of Chicago, and will also be scored and reported by the testing agency.

Each Merit Scholarship carries a stipend based on the need of each individual winner, and is renewable annually without further competitive examination. The average stipend in past years has been $700 per year. The minimum award in the 1959-60 Program will be $100 a year and a maximum will be $1500 a year.

The names of all Finalists, will be sent to colleges and universities and other scholarship organizations throughout the country. They may name non-winning Finalists are helped in winning scholarships awarded directly by colleges and other organizations.

About 700 Merit Scholars, winners of the 1958-59 competition, will be named on April 29, 1959. They are winners in the fourth Merit Program which began last April 1.

The National Merit Scholarship competition. It was founded in 1955 on grants of $20 million by the Ford Foundation and $500 thousand by the Carnegie Corporation, of New York.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Homestead May Be Sold for Taxes

Many Texans have the mistaken impression that their homestead cannot be seized and sold for delinquent taxes. In many cases, this idea has led to considerable grief and monetary loss which could have been avoided. A homestead should be rendered to tax assessors like any other property, and taxes assessed against it should be paid as faithfully as those on any other taxable property.

The deadline for rendering property for taxation in April 1, as far as most city taxing agencies are concerned. The last date for rendering real and personal property for state and county taxes is April 30. State taxes are collected by the County Tax Collector.

Under the Texas Constitution, each family is entitled to claim one piece of real property as their homestead. This claim must be established by an affidavit filed with the county tax assessor on or before April 30, each and every year. This affidavit must be filed by the owner himself. A lending agency cannot do so, even though it may actually pay the annual taxes thereon from a fund created by the owner's monthly installments.

When the homestead affidavit is properly filed, the owner becomes entitled to an exemption of State taxes up to the value of $3,000 or 200-acres in the case of farm lands. This is an exemption from -payment, not a complete exemption from rendition and assessment. There is no similar exemption with reference to city taxes, or to county taxes, except in certain counties levying a special 50 cent farm-to-market and lateral road tax.

The homestead claimed for tax purposes need not be the property which is actually occupied by the owner as his residence.

When the homestead affidavit is not filed by April 30, the taxpayer loses his right to the $3,000 or 200-acre exemption, and consequently becomes liable for more taxes than he would otherwise be required to pay.

Property taxes are assessed against the person who is the record owner of each piece of real and personal property on the first day of January of each year. Individuals purchasing property during the year should make sure that the taxes for all previous years have been paid. Otherwise, the purchaser may be forced to pay hundreds of dollars in delinquent taxes to protect his property. Unpaid taxes create a lien against the property which can be enforced regardless of change of ownership.

One should also keep in mind to make some arrangement for the previous owner to pay his pro-rata share of taxes for the current year. Otherwise, the buyer may find it necessary to pay the entire taxes for that year.

When taxes are not paid by the deadline prescribed for the particular taxing unit (city, county, State or district), monetary penalties and interest are added from month to month. In addition, the property becomes subject to seizure and sale to satisfy the tax lien. This lien applies to all property, whether homestead or not.

May First Has Special Meaning For Americans

May Day in America has always been a pleasant day, more or less dedicated to spring. It is the custom of the young in heart "to celebrate with outdoor festivities such as dancing around a May pole and crowning a May Queen.

Or—we think, grimly, of another nation, half a world away, defiantly dedicated to the memory of the day when lawlessness became triumphant in their land—a day set aside to worship the rule of might; the glorification of the rule of the jungle.

But beginning last year, May Day took on a new significance in this country. Again this year, by proclamation of President Eisenhower, May 1st is Law Day U.S.A. This is a special day dedicated across our nation to observance of the fact that we have a government of law instead of men. It is particularly appropriate that Americans set aside this day for study by Americans of the role of law in our society and to reflect on ourselves—that our belief in individual freedom under law remains strong and unshakable.

Why is it that some men are able to live in freedom while others cringe under a rule of tyranny? We owe our rights and freedoms to our state and national constitution, our laws, and our courts. In other lands, there are no rights and people are subjected to the edicts and whims of individuals unhampered by legal restraints.

Most of us tend to take it for granted that an individual is free to think for himself and that his rights are protected by law. We know without actually admitting it that our whole way of life is governed by this rule of law.

Law is the intangible force guaranteeing all of us freedom, peace and progress—ideals which have been, and are, dependent upon the adequacy of our legal system and the protection awarded the individual by our courts.

On May 1st, then, this year and every year, with the nation's attention focused on Law Day U.S.A., it behooves us to rededicate our belief and faith in this rule of law that is the birthright of all Americans.

It is this liberty and equality under law that distinguishes our system of government from communism. Without laws and the courts, these freedoms we take so for granted would be meaningless.

Our respect for law is vital to the continued growth and strengthening of our nation; our thoughtful observance of Law Day U.S.A., in a real sense distinguishes America from those who today live under tyranny; it is our answer to communism. Law Day U.S.A. is the American way.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is writing to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

WILL OUR SCHOOL HAVE A FOREIGN LANGUAGE?

Very soon now, perhaps next week, the Bandera School will find out whether enough students want a foreign language to justify offering it. That the school does by sending around a list of the subjects that may be offered next year and having the students check their preferences.

Academically speaking this is a very important matter. Check any first class high school-university is almost every instance at least two years of a foreign language are required for entrance.

Just because we have a small school is no reason for us to have an inferior one. And don't bring up that old bugaboo lack of funds, we seem to find plenty of money for non-essentials.

It is up to the parents and students to put this over. Think it through carefully. Read what educators have to say on the subject. A person gets knowledge and culture from studying a foreign language that is not attainable anywhere else.

Let's not settle for less than the best for our children. Remember what they don't know WILL hurt them.

BANDERA IN 14-7 BASEBALL VICTORY OVER HELOTES

Last Sunday the Bandera Bulldogs evened their Hill Country League record at 1-1 with an impressive 14-7 victory over the Helotes nine on the opponent's diamond. Richard Schlabder hurling his first game this year, was credited with the victory as he gave up eleven hits, striking out four and walking six. Krueger was registered with the loss.

Roger Tatsch swung the big bat for the locals as he went three for five—all on singles. Vernon Enderlin, Irvin Lindner and Richard Schlabder contributed two doubles and a triple respectively to the Bandera cause as well. Braun was the big gun for, Helotes with a single, two doubles, and homer in five trips to the plate.

Helotes gained an early lead but Bandera evened the count in the second only to see Helotes pull ahead once again in the third. In the fourth inning the Bulldogs surged to a 7-1 lead in six runs in their half of the fourth. In the ninth, behind 14-3, Helotes made a four run onslaught to bring the final count to 14-7.

This Sunday the Bulldogs journey to Kerrville to play the Kats at 3 p.m. The first home game for the locals will be against Camp Stanley on April 26 on the newly constructed field at the Mayan Ranch.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

They say the best things come in little packages and such may be the case of this week's spotlight personality. One of the cutest boys in the Senior class stands 5' 0" and has brown hair and hazel eyes. This description could fit only Murry Walker.

Murry was born in San Antonio on October 6, 1940. He moved to Bandera in 1956 after attending school in Odessa, Big Springs, Kermit, Knox City, Sonora, Seminole, and Medina.

After moving to Bandera, Murry made a deep impression on Bandera High. He was elected vice-president of the FFA in 1957 and at present is president of the FFA.

He has played football for two years and, basketball for three years, making all-district in 1957.

He is also a member of the Annual Staff.

Murry is a friendly, jovial person who nearly always has a smile on his face. A friendly, warm smile is an important characteristic of Murry's, that more people should have. This explains his many friends.

Bandera High School wishes Murry Walker success and happiness in the future.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Another popular student of the Senior class is Gene Ruede, a good all-around guy.

Gene is a good sportsman, having participated in football for three years, track three years, volleyball three years, and in basketball for two years. He has been an active participant in the Future Farmerz, holding the offices of parliamentarian in 1956 and president of the organization in 1957. Last year Gene was honored by being elected class favorite of the Junior class, proving his popularity with fellow students.

Gene attended St. Joseph's for the first four years of school and is a member of the Catholic church. For the past four years, he has been active in the Youth Club.

Gene has contributed a great deal to the Senior class and fellow students wish Gene Ruede the best of luck in everything.

SENIOR SCOOP

Last Wednesday afternoon Bandera High was the scene of elections for class favorites. The Senior class had a difficult task in selecting their favorites. After the close election, Dottie Vaught and Bobby Preston were chosen by a small margin over Elizabeth Butts and Ronnie Rich, along with Mary Ann Shaw, who were outstanding students as well.

Those eligible for favorites could have no more than one "C" and were required to have at least one "B" or better. Approximately two-thirds of the class were eligible, which is a very good majority in any class.

The Seniors wish to congratulate Dottie and Bobby on being selected as Senior class favorites for 1959.

The playbooks for "Quiet Please" and "There're None of Them Perfect" have arrived and try-outs will be held Friday. Everyone is urged to try out so the Senior play may be a success.

JUNIOR JIVE

Junior class favorites are Sharon Jones and Earl Keese. It is the other one day for the best of the year, but the junior class had its first experience in electing favorites—or in fact leaders in any activity—on a basis of special qualifications. This time, the only juniors who could be nominated had to have a satisfactory grade showing as well as be approved for cooperation in school work by the faculty.

Still, it was not so bad as it might seem. Over half of the junior class met the requirements, so it was not really a job to find good material for nominees.

The big night of the year will be tomorrow at Lost Valley, when the juniors and seniors combine efforts in the first Junior-Senior reception in the history of the school. According to Peg Billings, Junior class president, this promises to be a gala affair, in the spirit of our newest 49-land state, Hawaii.

Carolyn Lynd spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lynd and daughter, Shelia. Early Saturday morning they all left for Abilene where they stayed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jones and daughter. Sunday morning Carolyn and Hanee went to church at Southwest Park Christian Church in Abilene. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Miller of Abilene visited with Carolyn and her aunt and uncle.

SOPHOMORE TALKS

One of the main elections was held in high school last week and that was election for class favorites.

The class is very proud of their favorites, a very pretty brunette with brown eyes and a very handsome boy with black hair and dark brown eyes. It couldn't be anyone else but Jeanine Hicks and Charles "Chuck" Jones. Both are very popular besides having curricular and scholastic standing. The class would like to congratulate them on such an honor. "Congratulations."

FRESHMAN FACTS

Karen Walters went to the Retreat Saturday night and had a wonderful time with Patty Callahan, Jan Edwards, and Martha Beddingfield.

This week-end Inez Stricker attended the Church Youth Retreat on the Church grounds near Medina.

S.W.T. STAGE BAND TO PLAY IN BANDERA APRIL 21

San Marcos—The Stage Band director at Southwest Texas State College will be presented in a concert of popular music at the Bandera High School Auditorium at 8 p.m., Tuesday, April 21.

The 20-piece Stage Band, under direction of Anton Bek, will play music in the styles of Les Elgart, Benny Goodman, Glen Miller, Lawrence Welk and other name bands.

The program, slanted to the popular music tastes of all ages, will range from such old standards as "Swingin' Down the Lane" to such current favorites as "Peter Gunn."

Proceeds from the band's appearance will go for the benefit of the Bandera High School Band. John D. Sommers, band director at BHS invited the band to present the concert.

FAVORITES

Recognition of outstanding students was the order of the day when classes were resumed after noon on April 8; the time to select class favorites had finally arrived. This year the honor is a double one because the student body had been sifted—No, this isn't the Junior Silverstork Show—before the final judging began. In keeping with the standard set up in September, 1958, any high school student who hopes to fill a class or club office or to be eligible for school honors must first meet certain requirements. These requirements, in a nutshell, are as follows:

1. He must have passed all school work the preceding semester.

2. He must have made at least one grade of "B" or better.

3. He must have no more than one grade of "D".

4. He must have been enrolled in the Bandera Public Schools, or the St. Joseph's parochial school the preceding semester.

5. He must show a good attitude toward responsibility and set a good example for other students in his school spirit, discipline, and cooperation with other students and with the faculty and administration.

Although there were only eight names in the list of final winners, many others were honored by having their names appear on the eligibility list; and at least eight others were able to reach the semi-finals! When the smoke of battle cleared, two members of each class emerged on the winners' front: Bobby Preston and Dottie Vaughn are the senior scholars; Earl Keese and Sharon Jones, the junior; Charles (Chuck) Jones and Jeanne Hicks, the Sophomores; Bryan King and Patty Callahan, the Freshmen. Runners-up—and hot on their heels, at that—were Ronnie Rugh and Elizabeth Butts, seniors; Kenneth Kalka and Le Langham, juniors; John Alanis and Elsie Faurie, sophomores; Larry Stein and Martha Redding, freshmen.

Congratulations, winners! You are the kind of folks who make Bandera High glad to give you the recognition you have won.

FOURTH GRADE NEWS

The fourth grade is really proud of their Picture Memory Team who made a score of 99 at the Meet at Southwest on Saturday. Competition was so stiff that we only placed third—even with such a high score. There were 66 children in the contest and all with a determination to win. The winning score was 99.8. The team from our school was made up of the following pupils: Peggy Evans, Joe Kitzman, Kimberley Horsman, Janice Locke, Betsy Langford, and Jeff Zickler. These children worked hard and did a wonderful job! We are proud of the showing they made.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The seventh grade is anxious to see what their grades will be on the report cards this six weeks and hope the grades will be just as good or better than last six weeks.

The history class has found the study of the past Texas governors and their accomplishments very interesting.

Holly Mayes, Margaret Davenport, and Marlene McKay went to the Teens' Retreat Saturday night. They said they had a lot of fun.

Patricia Vaughn went to a Sunday School party. They decided to have an Intermediate M.Y.F. at the Methodist Church.

BAND NEWS

The results of Saturday's cake sale were as good as could be expected; although they were nearly rained out, the band managed to round up $30.50. The proceeds will buy three and a half pages for the band in the 1959 Bulldog Annual.

The band hall was a scene of excitement Thursday morning. As each member entered, the first thing they observed was the beautiful new trophy case. They would all like to express their appreciation to Mr. Sommer for construction this lifetime symbol of their success. They are sure he is as proud of it as they are. The public is cordially invited to see it.

The San Marcos Stage Band will present a very enjoyable performance at the gymnasium on April 21. The concert will be composed of popular music only. A barbecue will be given before the concert and the public is invited. The barbecue will begin at 6:00 p.m. The cost will be $1.25 for adults, and 75c for students. Be sure and don't miss this evening filled with entertainment and fun for all.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

Saturday morning, Karen Kitzman, Linda Bausch, Lynda King, Carolyn Wright, Claudia Shaw, and Robin Walker went to Southwest High School for the Interscholastic League Contest. The eighth grade is very proud of Linda Bausch and Lynda King who won second place in spelling; Carolyn Wright who won second place in declamation; Robin Walker who won first place in declamation; and Linda Bausch who won first place in ready writing, and third place in number sense. Congratulations!

Benjamin Faulkner went to San Antonio, Saturday, and John Poche visited Hondo, Saturday.

Kay Wootton's father brought their horse home from Sabinal last Saturday; Kay is very excited over it.

Rosemary Faurie spent the week-end with Charlotte Poe. They went to the band concert Friday and Sunday they enjoyed playing tennis.

Herman Frerich spent Friday night with Bobby Mueller.

Roy Adams visited his grandparents Sunday.

MRS. MULLENAX'S SIXTH GRADE NEWS

On Sunday Nancy Johnson and Rocky, Stevens went to San Antonio with their families.

Johnny Lewis went to the show on Saturday.

Richard Evans went to the flower show on Sunday.

Kay Evans had friends over Saturday and her family caught two squirrels.

Mike Fitzpatrick had a birthday party Friday. He went to San Antonio Saturday night and had a wonderful time.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

Dick Mueller's mother brought the third graders a wonderful surprise last week. She had been going through her children's home library and brought us the books that her children had "outgrown". We are very grateful for her thoughtfulness.

Jeanne Meginnis reports that the rabbit her sisters brought home is once again very happy in the cage that her sister and brother built. Jeanne gave him a piece of carrot. She held up the carrot and "he put his little paws" on her hand to eat it.

Douglas White went to play with a friend on Saturday but he didn't stay long because he was worried about his grandfather who is sick.

Karen Anderwald's Easter chick got out of its little house and Hot Shot, her dog, ran after it. The chicken experienced a thrilling rescue when Karen grabbed the dog just as her mother lifted the chick to safety.

Rix Matthews, his brother and sister are very resourceful at thinking up games to play. They all crawled through a briar patch to a place where there was a leaky wet, red clay. This they fashioned into balls to use as ammunition in a mock war.

Mona Reeves planted an avocado seed in the ground near her play house. She has to watch her little dog, Pepper, constantly because he tries to dig it up.

Joy Vester went home one day last week to find that her little Easter rabbit had been bitten by a snake. She says he went around looking like he didn't know what had happened—then he just died!

The Easter rabbit Nancy Groff received was a stuffed one with a bill around his neck. He sleeps on her pillow every night. She took him to spend the night with a friend Saturday. His bill kept falling off during the night.

Raymond Pawvlik and his father were looking at a beautiful white stallion at a friend's ranch. The owner kept trying to make the stallion turn around so that they could see how well built he was, but he never would turn because he was so busy looking at Raymond.

BANDERA ELEMENTARY PLACES THIRD IN LITERARY MEET

Bandera Elementary School placed third in total number of points earned in the elementary division at the district Interscholastic League meet held at Southwest Junior High School, Saturday, April 11. Competition was stiff with entries from Boerne, Blanco, Southwest, Southside, Schertz-Cibolo, and Converse in all events. A total of 42½ points were earned by Bandera. Fifteen pupils took part in the individual team events and one other pupil, Marian Allert, was ill and could not attend.

All pupils who entered received special training and benefited from intensive drill in certain lines.

Winners at the meet included third place in picture memory, third in number sense, second and third tie in seventh and eighth grade spelling, first in boys' declamation, second in girls' declamation and first in ready writing.

Third place for the picture memory team composed of Joe Kitzman, Betsy Langford, Janie Locke, Peggy Evans, Jeff Zickler, and Kimberley Horsman, was in a really tight race. The team had an accuracy rating of 99 per cent and still placed third which goes to show how tough the competition was. In picture memory the performance of each member counts on the team rating.

In number sense Banders had three contestants—Linda Bausch, Karen Kitzman, and Claudia Shaw. Linda placed third.

The fifth and sixth grade spelling team—Bonnie Farr and Karen King—did not place. The seventh and eighth spelling team—Linda Bausch and Lynda King—tied for second and third places.

In declamation Bandera did well. Robin Walker took first honors and Carolyn Wright came in as second place in the girls' division. Shelly Faulkner did not place in story telling but did a good job in taking over for Marian Allert, who could not attend due to illness.

In ready writing, Linda Bausch was again a winner, this time with a first place carry the Bandera team of Linda Bausch and Karen Kitzman into first place as a team.

DIRECTOR PHINNEY REMINDS OF WAGE TAX INCREASE

R. L. Phinney, District Director of Internal Revenue today reminded taxpayers of the new wage rate increase effective January 1. The tax rates have been increased to 2¼ per cent for employers and 2¼ per cent for employees, or a total of 5 per cent. Also, the taxes apply to the first $4,800 of wages paid by an employer to each employee instead of $4,200. Wage returns are due this month in the district office for the first quarter of 1959 and taxpayers are requested to apply the new rates to returns for this period.

MAY QUOTA 272 TEXAS MEN

Austin, Texas.—The state quota for Texas draft boards in May calls for 272 men, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, announced Tuesday.

The state's May call of 272 compares with a quota of 310 for April and 364 for March. The May call is the state's share of a national quota of 5,000 men, all for the Army.

Colonel Schwartz also announced there would be no call for preinduction physical and mental examinations in May.

Local board quotas for the May call already have been figured and are scheduled to be sent to the state's 137 local boards Tuesday. Ten boards will provide no men for this call.

The May quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on May 1, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Local Board No. 6 will call 4 men on May 6th.

Daniel Tschirhart of Pipe Creek dropped in at the Bulletin office Tuesday to extend his subscription to the Bulletin for another year and told us that he had received 2.9 inches of rain at his place during the week-end. Said it came slow and was of great benefit.

STOMPEDE QUEEN WILL BE BANDERA COUNTY MISS

Come the first week-end in May at the Twelfth Annual Bandera Stompede, a Bandera County Miss will reign as queen. A few entries in this main Stompede event have been received, but many more are needed, so if you are at least 16 years of age, a native of Bandera County and have your parents' consent, you are eligible to enter the Stompede Queen Contest.

Among the five judges to be chosen in this main event is Ben Shaw, of the Ben Shaw Modeling School in San Antonio, who has been engaged by Lew Sterling of Sterling Chevrolet Company. The other two judges will be announced next week.

To make this contest interesting Mr. Sterling has offered to give $250.00 worth of dancing lessons at the Arthur Murray Dance Studio, $50.00 to the Stompede Queen and $50.00 to each of her runner-ups. Other nice prizes will be in store including a Silver Trophy for the Queen.

It is anticipated that there will be lots of interest in this event as it is strictly a local affair, with local girls as participants.

BANDERA IN FIRST PLACE TO OPEN HOME BASEBALL SEASON

After dropping their opener to Pats Cubs, the Bandera Cowboys have struck back with two successive victories over Helotes and Kerrville, and are now perched atop the Hill Country League race in a three way tie, with the Fredericksburg Giants and Camp Stanley. Home fans can get their first look at the team this Sunday as the Cowboys open their home season against Camp Stanley at 3 p.m., on the newly erected Mayan Ranch field. Admission for adults is 50c and children under 12, 25c. Season tickets are now on sale at $5.00 each. The ticket is a bargain buy since it allows the whole family admission to the games throughout the entire season which ends in late August.

Last Sunday Bandera won a wild and woolly contest by outlasting the Kerrville Kats, 24-16. Roger Tatsch, Irvin Lindner and Bert LeStourgeon added a homer each toward the Bandera cause and Jim Cottingham punched out a triple for the victors. W. O. Hatfield was the winning pitcher and Jones of the Kats was credited with the loss.

Bandera, in winning the free for all, connected for fifteen hits and drew bases on balls. The Cowboy boys pitching fared a little better being touched for 12 hits and seven walks.

The big inning for the Cowboys came in the seventh when they scored eleven runs before an out was made. In all, seventeen batsmen went to the plate in the eventful inning. Previously the game was slip and tuck with the lead exchanging hands three times.

MEDINA RECITAL

In a beautiful garden setting at the First Baptist Church in Medina on Sunday, April 16, Mrs. Elbert Adams and Mrs. Dan Le-Stourgeon presented their pupils in a piano and organ recital. The pupils, who were beautifully dressed in their formal attire, entered under a trellis covered with roses and bridal wreath. Beautiful floral arrangements were located throughout the auditorium. Colors of pink, lavender, white and silver were used. Lavender lights were used about the stage. Pink tapers in lovely flower-entwined candleabras added to the lovely setting. Janet and Judith Braun assisted by Kathy Diarne Adams served as candle-lighters. Ushers for the occasion were: Mary Nell Baker, Margie Burger, Becky Anderson, and Annette Anderson. Stella Moore sat at the register table which was bedecked with a lovely arrangement of iris. Karen Clayton played soft organ music as guests arrived. The program was divided into three parts. Our Washington

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Spring Fever, cherry blossoms, and Fidel Castro combined to spoil the news on Capitol Hill this past week. Among Texans perhaps the most welcome and important thing that happened was that over-due rain in Texas!

On the cherry blossom front, the annual festival on the Potomac, which attracts hundreds of thousands of spectators each year, went off on schedule. Miss Susan Rogers, daughter of Congressman Walter Rogers of Pecos, was chosen Miss Texas for the occasion. She performed well and Texans who saw her.

Castro's grand entry into the U. S., on invitation of the Nation's newspaper publishers who are now in annual session in Washington, was received in a cool but courteous atmosphere in official circles. The new Cuban Dictator, who has already legalized the previously outlawed communist party in Cuba and placed known communists in key government positions, says he would be neutral if by any chance the U. S. and Russia should become involved in war.

Rear Admiral C. C. Kirkpatrick, formerly of San Angelo but now chief of the Navy's Information service in Washington, is another Texans who has "gone places" in military circles. A contemporary of General Al Lonsdeke, formerly of Eldorado but now General Manager of the important Atomic Energy Commission, the two occupy key positions for which only the highly qualified are selected.

Another Texan who have called on us recently have been Houston Harte, San Angelo newsman, Emil Lochstet of Fredericksburg, Gordon Gelstwaid of Mason, Pat Cagle of Comanche, but formerly of Brownwood, Melvin Shall of Gorman, W. F. Tacke of Fredericksburg, Forrest Kyle of Bangs, the John Mateeys of San Angelo, Verlon Brent, Jr., of Dallas but formerly of Mertzon and Wendell Majors of Brownwood.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

Robert M. Williamson

Guardian of the People's Rights

Robert M. Williamson, wise and wary adviser, lawyer and statesman of San Felipe, Stephen F. Austin's colonies, was respected and loved by his neighbors of early-day Texas. They called him "Three Legged Willie" because of a stiff knee he always used a very fancy cane. One of the most ugly, stormy and wild men of his day, Willie is dated 1834, when, as the colonists' troubles with Mexico grew to fighting pitch, he and other patriots of San Felipe marched to join the loyal Texans at the Guadalupe River. There his assignment was to protect a precious 6-pounder cannon. A Mexican force under Captain Castañeda arrived to demand the cannon. Williamson hand-lettered a large sign which he placed on the cannon in full view of the Mexicans. The messagetor the sign was brief and to the point. "Come and take it!" Captain Castañado forthwith took his command out of there, pronto.

CANELLIS-FISCHER VOWS EXCHANGED IN ST. STANISLAUS CHURCH

On April 5, 1959, Miss Patsy Fischer became the bride of Loyd George Canellis in a beautiful and impressive double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Victor Schmidtzinsky at three o'clock in the afternoon in St. Stanislaus Catholic Church. Church decorations were white gladiolus, mums and spirea and the nuptial music was presented by Miss Peggy Montague.

The lovely bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Coulter and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Canellis of San Antonio.

Mr. Coulter gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of chantilly lace designed with a fitted bodice with scalloped neckline embroidered with sequins, and long tapering sleeves.

The bouffant ballerina length skirt was fashioned with outer skirt with scalloped edge center to reveal an insert of pleated nylon net, sequins underskirt with large bow in back. A Juliet crown of seed pearls and sequins held the veil of imported illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with removable corsage.

Mrs. L. B. Smith, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She was gowned in blue and carried a bouquet of pink Ester Reed daisies. The bride's maides were Misses Margie Ann Mazurek, Mayme Jo Eckhart, Geraldine Canellis and Betty J. Canellis. They were gowned alike in dresses of pink and carried blue Easter Reed daisies.

The groom was attended by his brother-in-law, L. B. Smith. Groomsmen were Wilfred Anderwaid, Howard Carl Eckhart, Marshall F. Pena and Frank Nelson.

Nicest wagon that ever joined your family!

Chevy's station wagons should really be called family wagons. You can choose from five models, including the four-door nine-passenger Kingswood, with its rear-facing rear seat.

Here's a brisk and breezy wagon that'll take on any chore you name, from a trip to the beach to a journey home from the lumberyard. There's room, you see, for a whole half-ton of cargo—a space ten feet long, with the rear seat and tailgate down.

These wagons are easy to load, too—you just roll the rear window into the tailgate and flip it down flat. No liftgate to wrestle with.

Chevrolet's so easy to handle it's a natural for the lady of the house. Big, safer brakes, too. Chevy's even got bigger tires—they come as standard equipment on every one of our wagons. But why not fall in love with a Chevy firsthand—at your Chevrolet dealer's!

Don't Get Your Wires Crossed!

Here are the facts ...

1. The Electric Cooperatives of Texas are a tax paying — business managed — partnership.
2. The money to build the cooperatives was a loan and the interest and the principal are being paid back.
3. For every $1.00 spent on Co-Op lines an estimated $6.00 has been spent by members for electrical appliances, thus the Cooperatives have created and are still creating a multi-billion dollar market for the merchants of Texas and the nation.
4. The Electric Cooperatives of Texas are owned and operated by the people they serve ... free enterprise in its purest form.

Don't get your wires crossed. If it had not been for the Electric Cooperatives of Texas, many farms and ranches would still be dark. They transformed the rural community. They must continue to serve those areas they helped to develop.

County Agricultural Agent
Texas A. & M. College Extension Service

4-H Boys Attend District No. 7 Contests

The boys who attended the District No. 7 Contests on Saturday, April 18, at San Angelo, were Earl Keese, Donnie Melton, Ray Melton and Larry Dean for the senior team. Donnie Melton was third high individual in the contest. He did real well on placing the classes, but made lower scores on reasons. The team as a whole made good scores on the placings of the classes, but made lower scores on the reasons. More work on talking reasons by the county agent with the team can produce a good team for, next year.

The junior team was composed of Howard Hicks, Freddie Glenn Flach and Louis Reininger. The juniors did well in their judging. They do not have to talk reasons.

The two judging teams were taken to the district contests by Raymond Hicks and Clyde Robbins, Bandera High School vocational agriculture teacher.

Sheep Selection and Field Day

It was gratifying to see such a large group come to the agricultural center to see the sheep shearing, wool preparation, and sheep selection demonstrations.

The credit for having such a good field day goes to the group who worked in preparing and giving it, and the cooperation of the ranchers in coming to see it.

I would like to remind the ranchers to not tie the fleeces that do not have a length of 2½ inches. Staple and French combing lengths, 2¼ inches and above, should be tied and packed in flat bags. Anytime I can be of service in showing anyone how to put up the wool, please call on me.

Bob Mansfield, Hubert Maurek and Thomas H. (Bub) Keese made a visit to the Marcus Auld ranch to select some rams for breeding purposes. They selected 18 rams of which Hubert took four and Bob will keep five or six.

Wool and Mohair Judging

Wool and mohair judging will start on Friday, May 1, at 4:15 p.m., at the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers' warehouse. All 4-H boys and girls are invited to take part in this training. Arrangements will be made at Medina for working on judging. Dates will be set later for working out at Medina, however anyone who wishes to come to Bandera is welcome to do so.

Work on judging would start sooner, but I'm having the mumps at the present time. I should be over them by next Thursday, April 30. At least I'll have been 14 days by that time and hope I can be back on the job by then.

SWIMMING POOL AT WESTERNAIRE NOW OPEN

The fine swimming pool at Westernaire Courts is now open for the summer season and tickets are available for the season or by the month.

BANQUET FOR BANDERA-COUNTY T.S.T.A.

The local unit of the Texas State Teachers Association met in the Bandera Room of the Frontier Hotel at 7:00 p.m., on Thursday, April 16.

Following an invocation by John Sommers, members and their guests were seated at a "U" shaped table. After a delicious chicken dinner was served and consumed, Joe King, president of the local group reported on his trip to the House of Delegates in San Antonio in March. Following the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, Mrs. Raymond Hicks was asked to give a report of the nominating committee. At the close of her report, the following officers were elected for next year by acclamation: President, Marvin C. Schnelle; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Anna Laura Vaughn; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Lucille Duvall; 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. Vernelle Mallenax; Secretary, Mrs. Mildred Mayfield; Treasurer, Lavon Garrison.

The program chairman, A. P. Barsky, introduced the speaker of the evening, Charles Hamilton of Austin. Mr. Hamilton has served as principal of elementary schools, junior high schools and high schools. For over five years he has served the Texas' Education Agency.

At present he is working with the Texas State Teachers Association in organizing young college students into future teachers associations. Close as he is to the heart of their neik-crisis in Americ- ucation he was able to bring a vital message of the need to recruit new teachers for the future.

He spoke of legislation pending in Austin as a means of improving the level of education in Texas rather than simply a pay-raise for teachers.

Our legislators, favor the legislation to improve education. Their problem is to make available the necessary funds through taxes.

He felt that our education bills could be financed if the people of our great state would write their representatives and senators to tell them which taxes they would favor to meet this great need. They will vote the way we ask them to vote. They want to express the will of the people.

Are you "selling our children short" by your silence?

Since this group has been studying the far East and the Pacific Islands the exhibits from these areas were especially interesting. The street cars and old cars are always fascinating.

After a picnic lunch and rides on the train the students visited the zoo and that's always fun. The class studied water birds last week so the wonderful collection of birds at the zoo was appreciated.

JUNIOR-SENIOR TEA

Hawaii was the theme of the Junior-Senior Reception and Prom [illegible] Ranch, Saturday, April 17. The guests entered the ballroom they were propelled with Hawaiian leis, and the Hawaiian theme was carried out in all the decorations. Refreshments of fingers, sandwiches, delicacies and Hawaiian punch were served to approximately one hundred guests.

Bobby Vaughn started the program with a reading of the prophecy written for this year's senior class when they were completing the eighth grade. This was followed by a prophesy for each one of the seniors read by Carol Anne Vaughn and Sandy Mott. As the final part of the program before the dancing began, Bobby Preston read the document willing all sorts of old and useless things to the various members of the junior class.

BANDERA WINS TENNIS MEET, DISTRICT 27-A

The District 27-A Tennis Meet was held last Friday at Rockhaven Tennis Courts. The tournament was made up of teams from Boerne, Schertz-Cibolo, and Bandera. Bandera almost made a clean sweep as Lula Langham won first in girls singles; James Herrera first in boys singles; Joe King and Arlan Habenicht first in doubles. In the girls doubles, Rose Stricker and Ann Baker won second. In Junior boys singles Roger Ramos won second.

The elementary school won first in every division by default. No teams were entered against them.

The Senior first place winners advance to the Regional meet which will be held in Victoria today.

James Langham was the official referee of the tennis meet while Coach Waldrum was District Director.

The Regional track and field for Class A will be held in Victoria Saturday. Entered from Bandera will be Harry Heim in the 440 yard dash and Roger Pope in the 120 yard High Hurdles and Pole Vault.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

Saturday morning the elementary volleyball teams went to Schertz-Cibilo to participate in their volleyball tournament. Those who went were Linda Pbusch, Karen Kitzman, Donna Morse, Laura Stricker, Kay Wootton, Holly Mayes, Noahlee Bergman, Margaret Davenport, Roy Adams, Richard Braden, Walter Causey, John Focke, Herman Frerich, Benjamin Faulkner, Bobby Mueller, and Thomas Pierce. Both teams are in the finals.

Rosemary Faurie went waterskiing Sunday for the first time this year and said, "The water was cold, but it was good to be on the water again!"

Annette Miller went swimming Sunday afternoon.

JUNIOR JIVE

Last Saturday was probably one of the most exciting days any of the Juniors will have for a long time. The event was, of course, the Junior-Senior Reception and Prom. The Juniors spent last week preparing for the big night. Hawaiian leis were made and artificial palm trees constructed. The Lost Valley Dude Ranch was beautifully decorated with a tropical touch. Everyone present had a wonderful time and the Juniors, especially, will be awaiting next year's Prom.

FIFTH GRADE NEWS

The boy scouts in our room really had a wonderful week-end. Russell Zickler, Ray Wedgworth and Johnnie Heinsen spent Friday night camping out at the Rickenbacker Ranch above Hunt. They were joined on Saturday by Linden Rhodes and Ronnie Daniels. The group won first and second place on the scout contests of various kinds which were entered by five troops.

Annie Langham attended a tennis tournament in Kerrville, Friday afternoon. The fifth grade is very proud of Annie's ability to play tennis. Their sympathy is extended to Walter Stricker whose grandfather passed away last Friday.

Dickie Hicks visited Ronnie Daniels Sunday. They had a very exciting game of baseball.

Linda Pawvlik went to Abilene over the week-end to bring her grandmother home.

Kimberly Walters had a very busy week-end. She and her father attended a livestock sale in Uvalde Saturday and on Sunday she and her family attended a black cat train to see the Uvalde rodeo at Laredo. While there they saw [illegible] Mexico. Kimberly is sporting a pretty little pair of red sandals she purchased there.

Dickie Hicks, George Hamilton and Mike Wootten went to the picture show Saturday.

Both groups of the fifth grade are planning to visit Cascade Caverns in Boerne, Thursday, April 30. They will take their lunch and have a picnic after their tour through the caves.

BAND NEWS

By the time this article reaches the paper the barbecue and the San Marcos Stage Band concert will be an event of the past. We certainly hope the results were successful. If you were among those who attended we would like to thank you for your support.

The Band calendar is full for the next month. The events will include the Stompede Parade, an appearance at the Fine Arts Club, twirling try-outs, an outdoor concert, and of course commencement.

Sunday Harper Jacoby went water skiing. Today he is as red as a lobster.

Patricia Vaughn visited her grandparents Sunday on their ranch near Hondo.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

There are only four more weeks of school after this one. The third graders are busy these days reviewing the subject matter which they must know to be good fourth graders. Some of them have already finished the required material on their arithmetic charts; others are working hard to finish theirs.

Our class trip to San Antonio will be Thursday, May 29th. We hope that a large number of third grade mothers will be our guests on this trip. We feel that you will enjoy it and it makes things move along much more smoothly if there are only three or four children assigned to each mother.

We still have some money in our treasury, so if each child brings five this should pay his part of the bus fare and buy his cold drink.

Three third grade mothers seem to have employed Peter Gunn or Richard Diamond for they dug up the information that Mrs. Focke was having a birthday last week. At milk-break time, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Sandidge and Mrs. Hamilton appeared with lovely cup cakes to go with our milk.

Earl Wayne Heinsen tells us his cat has four kittens.

Karen Anderwald has been feeding corn bread and milk to a stray cat so that he would stay.

Joy Vawter's cat has kittens; she has hear their little "meows" but can't find them.

Jeanne Meginnis tells us a big black cat treed by one of her brother's dogs. Her brother caused him away.

Raymond Pawvlik and his family made a long trip this week-end when they went to Abilene to bring home his grandmother, who has been visiting there since before Easter.

Sunday was such good swimming weather that a number of third-graders had stories to tell about it.

Cynthia Wolf waded in up to her down so she just swam out. Gene Wright and a friend were fishing and got so wet and muddy they had to change clothes.

Rex Matthews and his brother had to find a new place to swim —a dead skunk was in "the old water hole".

Nancy Groff was unhappy all week-end because her family never did take her swimming.

Mrs. Groff's family entertained guests who flew in from El Paso in their little plane. They had a barbecue supper and when they had finished eating, Pepper jumped up on the table to have a feast. Mona caught him just in time.

Bobby Clark's family plans to move out on a ranch next week. Bobby is elated at the idea of a horse to ride but isn't sure he will like milking cows and gathering eggs.

Rob Sandidge, Dick Mueller, and Rix Matthews went to the Boy Scout camp near Hunt Saturday. They report having a great time.

Douglas White and his grandfather are having adventures together again. The last started swarming out of their old hive. They caught a few in a nice new hive but most of them swarmed and left a ball on the tree and flew away. Mr. Focke or some other bee fanciers will be capturing them miles away!

SENIOR SCOOP

Saturday night at Lost Valley Guest Ranch the Junior-Senior Reception was held. In the lobby a beautiful atmosphere of decorative palm trees and punch bowl, Juniors and Seniors transformed into handsome young men and beautiful young ladies in an aura of formal band from Lackland Air Force Base. After the dance refreshments were served and the evening was spent dancing and conversing.

The members of the Senior class wish to express their gratitude to the Lost Valley Guest Ranch, the band, the Juniors, and the wonderful ladies and gentlemen who were kind enough to sponsor the delightful reception.

On Monday the Senior class decided to spend the Senior Day—April 27— at the "Heart of the Hills" resort which is located above Hunt, Texas. Facilities for boating, skiing, horseback riding, fishing and dancing are available and with such a variety of activities everyone should have a pleasant day.

Austin.—The Texas Department of Public Safety reported today 50 more persons have been killed in Texas traffic accidents during the final quarter of 1958 than in the same period last year.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Director, said this unexpected rise apparently have reversed the trend which resulted in the lowest traffic death toll in the state's history in 1958.

The Department reported 551 persons have died in traffic accidents during the first three months of this year, including reports received up to April 18. This total compares with a death toll of 501 during the comparable period of last year.

This 10 per cent increase is off to a fast start which could completely wipe out the eight per cent decrease in motorcides for the whole of 1958, Garrison said.

"Equally alarming is the fact that the total number of accidents has increased 24 per cent over last year, indicating an urgent need for every motorist to take stock of his driving habits and join in a campaign to save lives and restore our improved record of last year."

Garrison's statement was issued with the release of a booklet containing an analysis of 1958 motor vehicle traffic accidents, prepared by the Statistical Services Division. This showed that the 2,342 traffic deaths was the lowest since 1949 when 1,947 were

Two top officials of the teen-age group, known as the Texas Teenage Safe "T" Drivers' Club, visited the Governor to induct him as Honorary Member No. 1 of the organization.

Governor Daniel, whose statewide traffic safety crusade in 1958 is credited with one of the nation's outstanding traffic death reductions, said he wished them every success in their work and hoped thousands of Texas teenagers will join them all over the State.

The official pledge to be taken by all members of the club reads as follows: "I pledge to drive safely so as not to endanger my own life and the lives and property of others. I will endeavor to influence my friends' driving actions by word and example." The teen-age driver's prayer, printed on the back of the membership card, says, in part: " . . . Steady our hands, sharpen our eyes and quicken our brains that we may never take another's life . . . "

Complete information on formation of such a club may be obtained by writing Texas Teen-age Safe "T" Drivers' Club, 4009 Lawther Drive, Dallas 14. Jim Tyson, a pioneer Texas high school driver training instructor of Dallas, is club advisor.

Governor Daniel, as chairman of the statewide Highway Safety Commission, a 250-member citizens' traffic safety group, said he believed the youngsters could do a great deal of good. They are dealing directly, on their own, with one of our major traffic safety problems. "In 1958, the Governor said, "youths between the ages of 15 and 24 held about 18.3 per cent of all drivers' licences but were involved in 27.2 per cent of all rural accidents. This seems far out of proportion, so I certainly wish the new club every success."

The politically-charged Kennedy labor bill survived efforts to strengthen it in the Senate last week. A coalition of northern liberals and southern democrats blocked efforts by Senator McClellan to include amendments which the Arkansas Senator said were necessary in order to curb corruption and abuses his investigating committee has uncovered.

The first skirmish on an amendment by McClellan, enacting a Bill of Rights to protect the rights of union members against arbitrary actions by union leaders, met a tie vote of 45-to-45. Vice President Nixon broke the tie and voted to approve the bill of rights and thereby strengthen the bill and its effectiveness.

On that vote 14 southerners voted with McClellan to strengthen the bill, while 9 southerners voted the other way.

McClellan's amendment to prohibit secondary boycotts, the most important strengthening amendment offered, did not have a chance, however, being turned back by a vote of 50-to-41. The same southern coalition which opposed the bill of rights combined again with the northern liberals to defeat the McClellan amendment.

The third test related to organizational picketing, another key amendment by McClellan which he maintained was needed to curb abuses by certain union leaders and provide necessary protection to the public. But it was defeated by a whooping 59-to-30.

One Washington newspaper editorial described it as a battle between Senator Kennedy, a candidate for President, and Senator McClellan, a defender of the rights of union members and the public interest.

In the meantime, the House Labor committee continued hearings on bills to provide fair and effective legislation along the line urged by Senator McClellan. Observers doubt that the House committee, as presently composed, will approve a labor bill that will have any teeth in it.

YOUNG MEN ARE URGED TO FILE APPLICATIONS

Austin.—The Texas Department of Public Safety today urged young men interested in becoming patrolmen to make sure they have their applications filed by the deadline of May 11.

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director, announced that competitive examinations will be given on a State-wide basis May 19, 20, and 21 to fill approximately 75 vacancies in the patrol.

"This is an opportunity for young men between the ages of 21 and 35 to become a part of one of the most respected organizations of its kind in the Nation and at the same time to occupy an essential position in our society," he said.

"We are searching for qualified young men who want a life-time career with prestige and security for themselves and their families. Applicants who make the grade will emerge from the 14-weeks of training at the State Law Enforcement Academy in Austin as commissioned patrolman."

Garrison said applicants who successfully complete the examination will be trained with pay and, upon graduation from the Academy, will be assigned to one of the six regions in the State. They will receive an additional six months of on-the-job training under the supervision of experienced officers.

He pointed out there are many personal benefits for State patrolmen, including job security, a good retirement system, annual vacations, sick leave and uniforms and all equipment furnished.

Qualifications call for a high school education or the equivalent, sound physical condition, and height not under five feet, eight inches nor over six feet, four inches. Applications can be obtained from any Department of Public Safety field office or by writing direct to the Personnel and Training Division of the Department in Austin.

"Every American who buys a Savings Bond is providing for his own future, adding to the strength of his country, both militarily and economically, and is putting real meaning in the slogan 'Shart-In-America'," Mr. Davenport concluded.

Who will eat my bread?

Remember the Little Red Hen who asked for help in planting, harvesting, and grinding her wheat? No one would help so she did the work herself. But when she asked "Who will eat my bread?" . . . they were all willing to assist.

Texans find food for thought in this familiar nursery tale. Back when our rural community had no electricity, poles had to be set and the lines strung to pierce the darkness. No one was willing to do the work so rural people formed electric cooperatives and built their own electric systems. But now that the hard work has been done would you deny these democratic institutions the fruits of their labors?

We feel that the locally owned, business managed, tax paying Texas Electric Cooperatives should harvest the fields they have been cultivating for two decades. The Electric Cooperatives of Texas brought a new way of life to our rural community. . . . . They should continue to serve the areas they helped to develop.

TEXAS ALLOTTED EMERGENCY HOSPITALS

Texas has been allotted 7 by local civil defense officials and put to use in the event of enemy attack or widespread natural disaster.

Announcement of Texas' quota was made by the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization and sent to the state's Division of Defense and Disaster Relief, a part of Governor Price Daniel's office.

Eventual goal, said Claude Yaun, operations officer in the state defense office, is to ring the major population centers with stored hospital units and spot them near target areas over the rest of the state. The quota is based on one hospital unit for each 70,000 people in a metropolitan-target area.

At the present time hospitals are in storage or have been approved for storage in the cities of Fredericksburg, Springtown, Weatherford, Kemah, Mercedes, Brownsville, West Columbia, Alpine, El Campo, Floreville, Devine, Boerne, and Stephenville. In addition hospitals have been applied for, by the cities of Robstown, Nacogdoches, Keene, Longview, and Jefferson County.

Immediate goal, said Yaun, is to have at least 20 of the hospitals placed by July, 1959.

Each packaged hospital contains equipment for wards with 200 beds, three operating rooms, a triage room, a pharmacy, X-ray room, clinical laboratory, sterilizing room and central supply room. It can all be set up within a matter of hours and has been done in practice sessions in 55 minutes.

Except for perishable supplies, which are checked and rotated, the boxes cannot be opened except with OCDM permission to be requested through the state office. However, the state has two units which are used for training sessions.

Total cost of a packaged hospital is $21,316.11, but there is no cost to the city receiving it except that of providing proper storage and care.

Civil defense officials in West Columbia have stored their hospital boxes in two large vans obtained from the Texas Surplus Property Agency. The vans are in the county barns, where sheriff's fire trucks which could take them immediately to wherever they might be needed. The local school has been designated as the probable site for setting up the hospital, and each box of hospital equipment has been color coded to show the room in the school to which it should be taken.

The hospital storage program has been in actual operation only about a year, said Yaun. There is no mandatory "assigning" system, he said. The units are sent upon request of responsible local officials who can show a need in that area and definite provision for safekeeping at least 15 miles from the nearest target area. Despite the voluntary nature of the program, Yaun said he felt it was progressing well toward the desired scattering over the state. Both the state office and large target cities have been working to encourage smaller towns to obtain hospitals.

Editor's Note: Bandera citizens should try to secure one of these emergency hospitals. In case of atomic attack or great disaster at any of the nearby military installations, Bandera would be in direct line to serve evacuees from those areas. It is good common sense to be prepared for whatever may come, especially when these units are free for the asking. Let's not sleep at the Switch!

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Carroll of Missouri City, and Mrs. Jimmie May Hicks of Houston were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Ahring.

Mrs. E. L. Baker left Monday for Imperial Beach, California, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Cox. Mrs. Cox will be remembered here as the former Miss Nancy Baker.

INDUCTION CEREMONIES FOR NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY HELD

In beautifully simple and impressive ceremonies induction of candidates for National Honor Society membership was held in the Bandera High School Gymnasium Thursday morning, April 23, at 11:30.

The organization is sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. The first charter was approved in 1922 and the National Honor Society in Bandera received its charter in 1951, but did not hold any induction ceremonies until any regular organization until 1954. Before that time only the first and second graduating seniors were selected as members of the National Honor Society. Since this charter was granted in 1951 there have been three classes of the junior and senior classes who have been accepted as members," said Superintendent Schnelle. "That is including the present group of ten juniors and seniors." This list includes: Mary Lou Lynch, John Mike Lard, Patricia Jurecki, Jenschke, Raymond Kruckemeyer, Richard Thallman, JoAnn Word, Bonnie Bradley, Barbara Bendele, Dorothy Buck, Jimmie Ruth Edwards, Barbara Frerich, Annette Kalka, Don Lewis, Barbara Mansfield, Bernice Richards, Betty Scheel, Thelma Jean Jurecki, Aubrey M. OLD CAMP VERDE, THE HOME OF THE CAMELS

Jefferson Davis' importation of camels led to another camel experiment in Texas, which is described in Governor F. R. Lubbock's book, "Six Decades in Texas," from which we take the following:

"Old Texans recollect that under the auspicies of the Hon. Jefferson Davis, then Secretary of War under President Pierce, a cargo of thirty or thirty-five camels was landed at Indianola in the spring of 1856. After a short rest in that vicinity, they were driven up to San Antonio, and a few weeks later the herd of camels went into permanent quarters at Camp Verde, sixty miles southwest of that city. They were in charge of Major Wayne, who tested with satisfactory results their capacity as swift burden bearers. The next spring forty more, landed at Indianola, joined the herd at Camp Verde.

"In the fall of 1858 a couple of ships, presumably British, anchored at Galveston under suspicious circumstances. They were first thought to be slavers watching for an opportunity of secretly landing their human freight. But the ships turned out to be laden only with camels; at least no evidence appeared that they had any African negroes aboard to sell as slaves. Hurrying to the city of Galveston at the time, I went to see the camels (about forty in number), after they had been landed and penned. Mrs. Watson, an English lady, owner of the herd, was hunting some reliable person to whom she might entrust its care until finally disposed of by sale or otherwise. I was introduced as a proper person to the lady, and her agent, Senior Michado. A few preliminaries once settled as to the extent of my obligations for their safety, I contracted with Senior Michado or satisfactory terms to assume the custody and maintenance of the camels when delivered at my ranch. Accordingly a steamboat was chartered, on which Michado brought the animals to the mouth of Elm's Bayou for delivery. The landing took place in the presence of a crowd of spectators, among whom were Sam Allen, Jules Baron (my brother-in-law), and myself. On finding themselves once more on solid ground, they showed their high spirits by jumping, rearing, and frisking about like sheep. Observing these capers, Baron remarked that he did not believe that anyone could lasso a camel. Allen quickly affirmed the contrary, and finally bet Baron $10 that he could rope one himself. Allen mounted his horse, lasso in hand, and, with a sharp swing on the first trial threw it over the head of a large camel and brought him to the ground after a short struggle. Baron, lately from Louisiana, had not learned that Texans generally accomplish what they undertake. Michado, with his outlandish servants, Turks or Arabs of unpronounceable names, conducted the camels to my ranch, a few miles distant. Here they were easily corraled in the pastures prepared for them.

"The camels once in my care, Michado returned to Galveston, leaving the herd with the foreigners, whom I will call Arabs. The pasture had in it seventy-five acres or more, nearly all prairie and a small skirt of timber near the bayou and inclosed by a new high staked and ridered fence. In addition to the grazing in the inclosure, there was given them every day large quantities of cured hay, which they devoured at will. Every two or three days, when it was warm, they were taken out of the pasture to water at a selected place on the bayou, to avoid bogging. This was managed with so much care that only one or two camels bogged at the watering place. These had to be drawn out of the bayou by a pair of strong oxen; for after several attempts to extricate themselves and getting down deeper in the mire, they sank quietly, with only a few mournful plaints of distress, apparently resigned to their fate. And it was not without nursing and attention that they fully recovered rest with their experience on being hauled out. While not being so much of a water animal as the horse, the camel can certainly swim, as was demonstrated by one of this herd in the Buffalo Bayou. I remember of having lost but one from the effects of bogging.

"The word camel is here used as generic without reference to the number of humps. The two-humped variety is said to have originated in Bactria, and is accordingly called the Bactrian camel; while the one-humped species, coming as it is said originally from Arabia, is for that reason called Arabian. The dromedary, as the original term applies, is simply a "racer." It is always of the one-humped variety, as the Bactrian is too heavy and clumsy for a

I's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Law Not an Exact Science

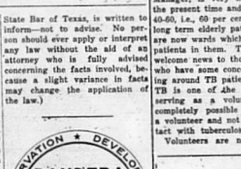
Many people have the impression that a lawyer can tell them with finality what the law is in any and every fact situation. Few realize that in many instances the lawyer, like the doctor, can only give his expert opinion on the state of the law as applied to a particular set of facts.

There are some fact situations, which arise repeatedly, where the law is well settled, and the lawyer can state with considerable conviction the exact rule of law applicable.

However, in many situations, the lawyer, after studying the statutes and the court decisions that are applicable, can only give his best judgment as to what a court would hold the law to be as applied to the particular set of facts presented to him.

How does a lawyer learn how to advise clients on legal questions? First, he must have had six or seven year of academic education. In Texas this means at least three years of college work and three years in a recognized law school. Because the community at large has an interest in the qualifications and conduct of members of the bar, these minimum education requirements must be met before examination for admission to the bar may be taken.

During the three years of formal legal education, the law student attemps to read, digest, reconcile and understand from 10,000 to 20,000 separate cases, statutes, and monographs. He must draw from these an understanding of basic legal principles, of processes of legal reasoning, of methods of fact and legal investigation, and of court procedures which bring relief to clients.



In both counselling and litigation, a lawyer must draw upon a wealth of precedent which he has attempted to store in his memory in order to apply one or more principles of law to the fact situation presented by his client. Ordinarily, many legal principles and rules of statute or decision are involved in even the simplest situation. Too, the problems raised by various clients, like fingerprints, are never exactly the same.

After searching his memory, the lawyer will usually check the pertinent rules and precedents. These are found in an ever-increasing volumes of statutes with which modern legislation seeks to regulate many aspects of our life, and in the decisions of the courts, boards and bureaus.

Almost every problem presented to a lawyer requires research in the statutes and law books before a proper answer can be given.

Therefore, you will not receive an immediate answer to your problem from your lawyer, unless it is of the most elemental type. Your lawyer should, and you should give him time to, form his opinions from the authoritative statutes and decisions. You should also understand that, due to the constant fluctuations in our laws, he will sometimes be able to give you only an informed opinion rather than an absolute statement of the law applicable to your situation.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

A group of range conservationists and soil scientists visited the Bandera Work Unit of the Soil Conservation Service last week. This group of men was composed of Dr. Andrew Aandahl, state soil Heerwagen of the Washington office of the SCS; Dr. Curtis Godfrey of College Station representing the Extension Service; James Coover and C. A. Rechenthin of the Temple office of the SCS, R. J. Pederson, range conservationist from San Angelo; Horace Dean and Bob Fox, soil survey supervisors from Austin and Pecos, respectively; and Frank Taylor, soil scientist from San Antonio. Billy Griffin of the local SCS office accompanied the group on its tour of the Bandera SCD. The object of the group was the determination of the feasability of correlation of range site surveys with soil surveys and the ultimate publication of a complete soils map of Bandera county. The men visited the ranches of Frank Montague, Forest Stevens, Mrs. Ann D. Cross and W. W. Walton.

Henry Adams has recently completed clearing 100 acres of brush on his place north of Medina. The brush was cleared on the deeper soil sites in the valleys and low benches of the hills. By eliminating the brush competition, Mr. Adams will benefit by increased grass production. Adams is considering following this brush work with some range seeding with an adapted grass. In planning his brush control, Adams has taken wildlife production into mind. Brush was left on the steep hillsides and along draws and headers for wildlife cover. Adams is a cooperator with the Bandera SCD and being assisted in his conservation planning by technicians from the local District office.

Ray Melton and Earl Buckelew of Medina are planning to build diversion terraces this spring. Melton, who operates the J. E. Crist place is planning a diversion above a field to intercept run-off before it causes erosion to the field. The diversion will empty into a grassed over area. Buckelew will build a diversion to protect a field on the Kirkland place which he is operating. This terrace will also intercept run-off water before it reaches the field and eliminate the erosion danger. Diversion terraces are one of a number of conservation practices which are applicable in the Bandera SCD. A properly constructed diversion will control the outside water on a field and prevent gullying and rill erosion. Both Melton and Buckelew are receiving cost sharing from the Bandera County ACP, and are being assisted in planning, layout and design by technicians assigning the Bandera SCD.

EVENING SCHOOL WILL BE CONDUCTED

A short evening school for volunteers will be conducted at the V. A. Hospital near Kerrville on the San Antonio Highway on May 12th from 7:30 to 9:35 p.m., in the Auditorium.

The purpose of the course is, to interest persons; who have a lot of leisure time and charity in their hearts, with sympathy turned to those who cannot help themselves; in giving service to those who served.

The patient population at the hospital is changing from tuberculosis to that of general medicine and surgery. The census according to Dr. J. N. Anderson, is very near 50-50 at the present time and will soon be 40-60, i.e., 60 per cent GMAS and long term elderly patients. There are now wards which have no TB patients in them. This should be welcome news to those volunteers who have some concern about being around TB patients. Fear of TB is one of the deterrents to serving as a volunteer. It is completely possible to serve as a volunteer and not come in contact with tuberculosis.

Volunteers are needed at the hospital) to do work in the Library; escort service; to teach simple subjects like basic English; to project movies by means of a push button machine; to aid the nurses; to help feed patients; to do many personal services like talking to patients, writing letters for them, or shopping for them; to assist in Social Service; to act as hostesses; to assist in recreation like radio bingo, quizzes and other games; to prepare materials in Occupational Therapy.

Doctors today are trying to treat the whole man—the physical, mental, spiritual and social man. A fretful, worrying, unhappy patient will not get well in spite of medical treatment alone. The value of outsiders bringing to the hospital a breath of fresh air, a smile and a bit of personal attention is as necessary to the treatment of a patient as is good food and good medicine.

Folks in the city who can spare 2 to 4 hours weekly who want to be of service to those who are unable to help themselves are invited to attend the school for volunteers on May 12th. Being a volunteer and doing the job conscientiously develops a spirit of cheerfulness and contentment and a hundred virtues which the idle and the indifferent never know.

The school for volunteers consists of short lectures by hospital personnel associated with the administration of the hospital and these closely associated with patients. There will be a coffee break in the middle of the program. Anyone interested should be at the Auditorium before 7:30 p.m.

INTERESTING RELIC PRESENTED TO FRONTIER TIMES MUSEUM

An interesting relic, an old sewing machine over seventy-five years old, was donated to Frontier Times Museum Wednesday by Miss Billie Riddle of Corpus Christi when in company with Mrs. Vera McKinney of San Antonio she visited in the Hill Country. The machine is certainly an interesting item and Mrs. J. Marvin Hunter Sr., owner of Frontier Times Museum, extends to Miss Riddle her appreciation for the very fine gift.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

We are quickly approaching "the count down" for the close of school. Each year we start our long list of close of school activities with our trip to San Antonio, then our achievement tests and finally our six weeks tests and finals.

On Thursday we took our usual trip to Judson's Candy Company, La Villita, the Witte Museum and Richter's Bakery. The children of Mrs. Fricke's and Mrs. Ainsworth's third grades with a large group of their mothers, had a grand time.

Jeanne Meginnis went to San Antonio to visit her grandmother. They took a lunch and had a real picnic.

Ricky Meador had a problem. She knew her cat had kittens so she looked all through the woods for them. Finally she found them with no luck. Sunday she played detective and followed the cat to a place under the hedge where she had hidden the kittens.

Cynthia Marcum hunted an animal on Sunday too. Her pet squirrel got out of his cage and hid. They searched everywhere. Finally she found him under her pillow.

Raymond Pawvlik watched his father kill a goat to barbecue. Later he wasn't very hungry.

Ric Matthews attended Douglas White's birthday party last Saturday. Douglas must have had too much cake, he was absent Monday.

Nancy Greff fell into the river Sunday when she went fishing. Rob Sandidge pushed his shoe into the water and had a hard time getting them back again.

Mona Reeves spent the week-end at Randolph Air Force Base visiting Miss Lackland. Mona Reeves spent the week-end at Randolph Air Force Base visiting Miss Lackland. She wanted to take Pepper and he begged so hard to go, but dogs are not allowed there.

WOOL SEWING CONTEST OPENS FINALS SET FOR LATE FALL

Of the 30 million women and young girls who are stitching clothes at home, the biggest home sewing boom in U. S. history, about 5 million in 20 western states are eligible to enter the 1959 "Make It Yourself With Wool" Contest.

The urge to create is the clue to the new zeal for home sewing, according to the Wool Bureau, which sponsors the contest along with the nation's wool growers.

While American women can usually buy an item of apparel, they get a great feeling of pleasure and accomplishment from this ability to make their own garments.

In fact, American women today are creating better wool garments than did their grandmothers; because of new easier to use sewing machines such as the slant-needle automatic and the improved printed patterns with easy-to-follow instructions.

The annual "Make It Yourself With Wool" Contest is a challenge and an incentive to the creative instincts of home-sew girls in this community from ages 14 to 22. The contest gets off in 41 dispense-paid trips to Paris, London and Rogue via Pan American jet flight, San Antonio, Texas machines, savings bonds, and assorted prizes totaling $45,000. Top scholarship is a $500 Coats and Clark award for the most fashionable garment in the national finals.

All a girl has to do is make a dress, suit, coat, sports outfit or ensemble of all-wool fabric and enter it. Competitions are held in two divisions: junior for girls 14 through 17 and senior for ages 18 through 22. There is also a set-bob division for beginner sewers, 13 to 16 who may enter local competitions only with either a shirt or a jumper. Every girl who enters the contest receives a free sewing booklet called "Let's Sew With Wool."

The 1959 contest, which has just begun, will run through the end of this year. Texas State Finals will be held sometime this fall. National Finals will be held next January in San Antonio, Texas. Travel tickets to the finals for this state's winners will be Company.

Contest information is available from the Wool Bureau, 360 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N.Y., or from the state contest director, Mrs. S. M. Harvick, No. 247, Ozona, Texas.

Interested in encouraging the development of talent in youth, several organizations are awarding prizes for this year's contest. These include Burlington Retail Fabrics, Colorado Woman's College, Durman Mills, John Dritz and Sons, Forstmann Woolen Co., Lebanon Woolen Co., Marvella, Pearls, McCall Patterns, Pendleton Woolen Mills, Sag-No-Mor Jersey by Wyner, Singer Sewing Machine Co., Standard Felt Co., and Woolite Co.

Lena Sanchez was brought home from the hospital by way of Plummer, ambulance Thursday after spending several days in the hospital due to severe injuries received in a car wreck last Friday.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. It is replete with incidents of many people you know personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in unassuming style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave Mertzon two days' and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican Federales at their heels; of his experiences as a cowpuncher; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting, acting and serving as pallbearer for a number of noted characters; of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

TRAFFIC STRIKE

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. (Speedy) Hicks received the sad news Monday of the tragic death of their beloved neice, Mrs. Kathleen Connally Hale, age 16, of Tallahassee, Florida.

Mrs. Hale has been a frequent visitor in the Hicks family home here and is well known to the younger set. She was recently married to Robert Allen Hale, son of a former P.E.T. agent, and they were residing in Florida at the time of her death, Monday.

Mrs. Hale was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Connally Jr., of Fort Worth. Mr. Connally, a prominent oil man, is associated with the firm of Richardson and Bass there.

A coroners jury found that the death of the youthful bride was caused by the accidental blast from a shotgun.

The deceased is survived by her husband, Robert Hale, who is in the U. S. Armed services; her parents; one sister, Sharon Connally, of Fort Worth; two brothers, John B. Connally III and Mark Connally of Fort Worth; her grandparents, Mrs. John B. Connelly Sr., of Floresville, and Mr. and Mrs. Arma Brill of Austin, former residents of Pipe Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks and family left Thursday for Fort Worth to be with the Connally family in their deep sorrow and to attend funeral services for the young bride. Services will be held today, Friday, May 1, at 3 p.m., in the First Methodist Church in Fort Worth.

We join the hundreds of friends of the family in expressing our sympathy in this great tragedy.

MRS. GARRISON ANNOUNCES SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION TO RED CROSS DRIVE

Bandera county has completed another successful Red Cross campaign for members and funds. Approximately 500 members contributed $1,816.00, surpassing the quota of $1816.00 by $100.

The following is the amount of donations contributed by the various communities in the county: Bandera and vicinity, $742.40; Vanderpool, $47.36; Pipe Creek, $77.00; Medina Lake, $55.00; Tarpley, $26.15; Medina and vicinity, $394.09; and special letters, $644; a total of $1,916.00.

Our sincere thanks go to the 49 workers who solicited funds and a special thanks to Mrs. G. M. Merritt, co-chairman, and Mrs. John Saul, publicity chairman, and last but not least, the donors, who contributed in such a generous way that our campaign went over the top.

"On the job—when you need it most," is the 1959 slogan. It signifies that: The Red Cross is the people "On the Job", meeting human needs whenever and wherever they occur. The Red Cross "helps you when you need it most, and enables you to help your neighbors when they need it most."

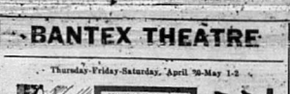
ARMY WILL DISPLAY EXHIBIT

Fort Sam Houston, Texas, April 27, 1959—Two of the Army's new infra-red devices which give troops invisible light in which to travel, work and fight in total darkness will be seen as part of the exhibit "This Is The Army '59" at Joske's of Texas May 20-25.

The Army will show scopes of other instruments and machines which have been developed for the atomic era. Some were only dreams a few years ago, while others are improved versions of old stand-bys.

The infra-red instruments to be displayed are the metascope and the snipercope, both of them "viewers" designed to add to the mobility and firepower of the Army in an age when stationary targets are sitting ducks for guided missiles.

The snipercope is a greatly-improved version of the famed night sight first introduced during the late stages of World War II. It weighs considerably less but has greater range and longer life than its predecessor. It is adaptable to a wide variety of infantry weapons, ranging from the .30 caliber rifle to the 106-millimeter recoilless rifle. The earlier version was limited to use with the .30 caliber carbine.



The metascope is a versatile viewer which Army engineers say will be especially useful for paratroopers assembling after a night air drop. It also will be invaluable for map and sign reading in darkness.

The big show at Joske's is expected to make up a dramatic display of Army progress in all its branches, with something of interest for everyone. It will be free to the public.

COWBOYS DOWNED IN HOME OPENER, 10-4

The Bandera Cowboys fell victim to Camp Stanley Sunday, 10-4, in the local's home opener at Mayan Ranch Field. Errors proved costly to the Cowboys as they were guilty of eight miscues. Richard Schlader was handed his first defeat of the season while Minor was credited with the win.

Final statistics showed Camp Stanley to have ten errors, fifteen hits and one error. The Cowboys had four runs on ten hits and eight errors. Patten and Leal hit homers for Bandera in the sixth and ninth innings respectively. LeStourgeon and Tatsch each punched out a double to account for Bandera's extra base blows.

The Cowboys went ahead in the first as Tatsch walked, Enderton sacrificed, and LeStourgeon doubled. Stanley tied it up in the second and pulled in front to stay in the third. Bandera posed a threat in the eighth as they loaded the bases but Minor got Word to pop out to the catcher and Tatsch to fly out to left center. The Cowboys other runs came in the third as Tatsch singled and scored on Enderlon's single. The locals also scored in the sixth as Lindner walked, LeStourgeon singled and Schlader tripled. Bandera added their final tally in the seventh as Tatsch doubled, Enderton walked, and Lindner singled.

Didn't forget the ballgame this Sunday at 3 p.m., against Fredericksburg Giants on the Mayan Ranch Field. See you there.

ANN MILLER NOMINATED FOR AWARD

Ann Miller, Medina High School, has been nominated for the annual Achievement Awards program, sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English. (NCTE).

In its second year, the Awards program is being conducted throughout the nation to grant recognition to outstanding high school seniors for excellence in English. The writing abilities and literary awareness of each nominee will be judged by local state committees. The winners will be announced in January, 1960, by the NCTE and the names of the Awards winners will be sent to every U. S. college and university with the recommendation that these students be considered for scholarship assistance.

According to J. N. Hook, NCTE Executive Secretary, the Awards program was initiated last year in response to President Eisenhower's statement that America needs its Emersons as well as its Einsteins. "There were more than 2,000 nominees for the first year," said Hook, "and we expect about 5,000 for this second round."

"The quality of the writing submitted by last year's winners and runners-up was very high," Hook asserted. "It constitutes a positive answer to statements that American youth cannot write effectively. These students, and thousands more, are learning to use the language with precision and vividness."

Founded in 1911, the NCTE is a professional, not-for-profit organization of teachers of English at all levels. Currently the civic vision of the Council's five professional publications is over 51,000.

AMENDMENTS TO SELECTIVE SERVICE

Austin, Texas.—Recent amendments to the Selective Service regulations provide for greater recognition by local boards of service in the Reserve and National Guard, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state director of Selective Service, said Thursday.

The changes reflect a policy of not inducting men satisfactorily participating in military training programs while sufficient numbers are available who are not taking part in such training.

The changes in regulations were made by the President in Executive Order No. 10809.

Under the amended regulations, men who acquire deferments or exemptions on initial entry into the National Guard or Reserve keep those deferments or exemptions on transfer to another component so long as they continue to serve satisfactorily.

Some initial enlistments in the Reserve provide that men can discharge their military obligation by eight years of satisfactory service including not less than three months of active duty for training.

The amended regulations also provide for the retention of this opportunity on transfer. These changes reflect provisions of Public Law 85-722, approved during the last Congress.

The amendments to the regulations also authorize the deferment of Guardsmen or Reservists for satisfactory participation in the Standby or Retired Reserve. Previously, only satisfactory participation in the Ready Reserve was basis for deferment from induction.

Another amendment provides that a man who ceases to be a member of any Reserve component after 25 years of satisfactory Ready Reserve service shall be considered as having completed service.

CONSERVATION DEVELOPMENT
RANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
SELF-GOVERNMENT

Michigan, one of the Nation's richest states, is in financial trouble. Under Governor G. Mennen Williams' direction, a souped-up welfare program has depleted the state's finances to the point approaching bankruptcy.

Unable to meet its current payroll, state employees must wait for perhaps months to get their pay. Schools are hard-pressed. Voluntary advanced payment of taxes by Ford and other corporations helped for awhile but that money is exhausted.

Williams cast in the modern-day role of Nero, has with CIO and ADA support placated the voters with hand-outs, social welfare and artificial prosperity, but the chickens seem to be coming home to roost. The goose that laid the golden egg appears to be a bit groggy. Maybe it is a lesson in disguise, sent to prove the truth of the old adage that you can't have your cake and eat it, too—that the "something for nothing" philosophy is but a snare and delusion.

Boy Scouts of America are now preparing for their 50th birthday anniversary in 1960. Its alumni of almost 30 million have added new words to our national vocabulary—"good Scout", "good turn", etc. Perhaps no one organization or movement, outside the church, has done more to weld the nation's character and strengthen the body politic through the years.

A card from Henry A. Wallace, postmarked in South Salem, N. Y., plugs for the corn tassel as our national floral emblem. "What you are voting for is not your favorite flower", says the former Secretary of Agriculture, "but a Distinctive National Emblem; a floral symbol representing the power of the United States."

Recent office visitors include Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Capshaw and their son, R. E., Jr., of San Angelo; Archie L. Gibson, with the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, of Boerne; Lt. Com. and Mrs. Jack W. Stevens and their three children, Jack, Janet and Susan, of Kerrville, spending a week-end in the Capitol from the Naval Officer's post of duty as Public Relations Officer at the Norfolk Naval Base; and Mr. and Mrs. W. Dan Smith of Coleman. Mrs. Smith was here to attend the DAR convention.

The Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the Bandera Soil Conservation District has furnished some additional grass seed for trial plantings in the District. Part of the grass seed material for these trial plantings was made up of a mixture of Sideoats grama, Two-flowered trichloris, Four flowered trichloris, Arizona cottontop, Plains bristlegrass, and Eldorado green sprangletop. This mixture will be seeded by R. R. Lowe and Dewitt Leibold of Pipe Creek. The rest of the seed material received was Pretoria bluestem, which is an introduced variety of bluestem from South Africa. This seed was placed with Ellis Browning, J. C. Pooke, and Roland Britsch for trial planting. These plantings will be observed for their adaptation to the local area as well as their desirability as forage plants.

Todd Heath of Medina has just completed planting 15 acres of Blue panic on the cropland on his farm. This planting is being done under the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank Program. Heath is putting his fields into the Soil Bank for a 5 year period. During this contract period, Heath will not only be getting his cropland out of production, but he will be getting much benefit from the improvement in the soil's physical condition and fertility while under this permanent grass cover. At the end of the contract period, Heath plans to retain the field in permanent grass and use it for grazing by livestock.

Mrs. E. E. Wyatt has begun construction of an additional earthen dam on her place north of Bandera. Mrs. Wyatt built a small dam in this pasture last year as an aid to grazing distribution. The new pond has been located on the opposite side of the pasture from the one built last year. This will promote a more even grazing pattern than could have been achieved before. The pasture in which the new dam is located contains 85½ acres and will now be watered by two ponds and a water trough from a well. With this sort of water distribution, Mrs. Wyatt can eliminate spot grazing in her pastures and promote proper use of all the vegetation.

Roland Britsch is clearing approximately 100 acres of second growth cedar from his pastures. This clearing is being done in the area that was chained in 1952 and 1953. Britsch is having the clearing done by hand cutting, with the cedar being left on the ground. [illegible] will probably have to go back over the area again in a year or so to get the small cedar they miss during this clearing operation. According to Britsch, it is cheaper to do this than lose his grass cover by burning to get rid of the little cedar now.

THIS ain't hay!

This lineman is stacking a portion of the dollar crop produced by Electric Cooperatives for the merchant on Main Street.

It represents $3,000,000 a day spent by cooperative members for electrical appliances and work-saving devices. This business was created by the cooperatives.

It does not include the millions spent for trucks, poles, lines, and equipment, or the salaries paid to thousands of home town cooperative employees.

The Electric Cooperatives have brought nothing but good to their members, their neighbors and to the nation. Owned and operated by the people they serve the Electric Cooperatives of Texas represent democracy in action and free enterprise in its purest form.

Earl's Super Market

SPECIALS FOR MAY 8TH THRU MAY 16TH

Bandera, Tex.

TO THE PEOPLE OF BANDERA AND ITS TRADE TERRITORY

On May 12th Earl's Super Market located in Bandera, Texas, is celebrating its anniversary. For the past year we have been in business we have been selling at prices that were as low as any of our competitors for this ad—its size, and prices listed there-in. These prices listed are not every day prices, nor are they week-end specials, and chances are they won't reappear again. It has been a pleasure through this year to be associated with most of my competitors in Bandera. Most of them are men of honor and operate an honest business. Like every year, this one has brought many changes. As many of you know last fall our Maker saw fit in His wisdom to take from me and my son our Wife and Mother. This was the blow of blows and I have never questioned God on anything He has done. The loss of her was great, but one thing is sure wherever she is, the place is brighter. She was that sort of a woman.

As the old saying goes, it can't rain forever. There is bound to be some sunshine. This has been a wonderful year, in many ways, our business has prospered far beyond our greatest expectations, and the honor for this largely goes to my co-workers — Mrs. Norris (Haytee Mae) Knibbe, Mrs. Clarence (Hallie) Light, clerks; Russell Foster, butcher. Of course, there is our public relations man, Roy Earl, my son. I don't know where he has gone, nor when he will return—all I know is that he is just going. By the way! if you happen to see him, tell him the store is in the same location. Me, I still have the broom and mop and put the groceries on the shelves and hope someone will take them off. I have a lot of fun this way.

Seriously, I want to talk to you about the good things that we have been blessed with during this year. First of all, is our thanks to God for his mercy. He has let us have our health, make this business profitable and without fear. You may wonder why I make a statement of this kind and the reason is simple. Christ has said that every good gift and perfect gift comes from God, the Father of Light. There are some, who may be narrow-minded enough to think that I would make statements of this kind for business purposes. Boy, O Boy, are you wrong. I have happened to be one of those guys that believes in God. There are many other things that we have to be thankful for. This may be hard for you to believe, but I am deeply grateful for those, who labor with me day in and day out in our work. Among our employees there is never a cross word. I have often watched them in their work and they are always ready to help each other. You don't find this kind of help every day. I have often watched them in their approach to our customers. It is very gratifying to watch them. And, it is standard with everyone that comes into our place of business—"Can we help you?" And, I have heard that so many times, until I believe myself they mean it.

And again, believe it or not, we are thankful for our customers. It is very gratifying to them enter the store, and this may be hard for you to believe, they must be of the highest type of complaining and dissatisfaction apparently is unknown to them. I have watched them many times in the store and listened to them as they speak with friends. Every one seems to be happy and enjoying life, and I don't believe that any greater honor could be paid to a store than to have this type of customers. May I say to you, if you think this is just a line, you are wrong again. I once noticed a sign over a door of a very important cafeteria and it spoke the words that are my sentiments exactly of our store, "Through these doors pass the best people on earth, our customers."

There are many things that I want to talk with you about in this article. Many of them you may not agree with, but I am broad-minded and feel that that is your privilege. We come first to the service rendered at our store. I don't believe, anyone ever entered our store that didn't get the highest type of service. Frankly, this is bragging a little, but straight, facts. If anything is wrong our employees stand ready to adjust them. We realize and admit that we all make errors, but there is no complaining from our side of the fence on straightening them out to your satisfaction. We are open 8 A. M. till 5:00 P. M. each week-day we have a free delivery. This service is rendered to you at no extra cost. You do not have to be a regular customer of our store to receive this service. Give us a call and we will bring you what you need. The most important thing about this service is the hours—9:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M.

We come now to the part that the entire world today is interested in, the high cost of living and what to do about it. There is a common saying today that is universal that I do not believe, and there are many reasons why I don't believe it. It is said every day by most people when prices are raised on merchandise there is nothing that we can do about it, and frankly, I don't believe that statement. There is something that you and I can do, the question is, are you willing to try, and believe me, you are more at fault over the high prices more than the merchant, and here is why. Every week merchandise is advanced in price and if the items are placed on our shelves we have to raise the price. Now here is where you come in. Any item that has advanced to a price out of reason—leave it where you find it. If every home in our wife knows the brand of merchandise she likes best, and in addition to that the prices of specials, and chances are they won't reappear again. It has been a pleasure through this year to be associated with most of my competitors in Bandera. Most of them are men of honor and operate an honest business. SENIOR DAY

On Monday morning, April 11, a busload of eager, vivacious Seniors headed out of Bandera toward the "Heart of the Hills" and a wonderful day of fun and excitement.

"Senior Day" for these Bandera High Seniors of '59 began about 9:30 Monday morning when their bus arrived at the scenic and beautiful "Heart of the Hills Ranch" near Ingram. The bus rolled to a stop, the door was opened and Seniors immediately dispersed in all directions—some eager to get in a thrilling ride over the picturesque hillside on the ranch's horses and others exploring on foot the charming rock buildings, spacious grounds and beautiful Guadalupe River.

At noon, the Seniors were all found in the huge dining room enjoying a delicious dinner before beginning their afternoon activities. As soon as the meal was over some of these adventurists were taken to the large dam further down the river where they enjoyed swimming, skiing and boat riding, while others stayed at the ranch to swim and fall out of canoes.

Later in the evening the delicious smell of barbecue lured every one to the front lawn of the ranch where they were served a fabulous barbecue supper with all the trimmings. The day's festous activities were concluded that evening in the gameroom with shuffleboard, billiard and dancing before the twenty-six reluctant Seniors were herded onto the bus by the four weary sponsors—Mr. and Mrs. Dan Callahan, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hicks—and were driven back to Bandera by Mr. Mullenax. The Seniors included Margaret Ann, Dottie, Marlene, Dusty, Terry, Mary Jo, Lenell, Bettie, Beannie, Jan, Gracie, Frances, Elouise, Ronnie, George, Murry, Jay, Bob, Bobby, Raymond, Pres, James, Travis, Jimmy, Herbert, Gene, and Joe.

For most of those who attended, the Senior Day is certain to take priority in their book of "treasured memories of my school days."

SALES OF TRUETONE RADIOS AND TV SETS REACH 5,000,000 MARK

Wilvie Smith, owner of the Western Auto dealer store in Bandera, was notified recently that sales of Truetone radios and television sets, distributed exclusively through Western Auto Associate and dealer stores, have passed the 5,000,000 mark.

Mr. Smith pointed out that this spectacular sales mark has been reached while Western Auto is in the midst of a year-long Golden Anniversary celebration marking the completion of 50 years of business. The company was begun in Kansas City in 1909.

In connection with Western Auto's Golden Anniversary observance, Mr. Smith is taking part in a series of special sales events throughout the year.

"Because Western Auto has made many large purchases of special items specifically for the anniversary year events," Mr. Smith said, "we have been able to offer our customers exceptional values. One of these specials is the Truetone TV set similar to the one designated as Western Auto's 5,000,000th Truetone."

Western Auto, which was begun originally as a mail-order business dealing exclusively in automotive parts and accessories, has been offering Truetone radios since 1931. Television sets were made a part of the Truetone line in 1948.

Bob Martin of Oklahoma, who is a student at Texas A&M College along with Eddie Jon Ryan was the guest of Eddie Jon and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ryan, over the week-end.

JEFFERSON DAVIS'S BRIGHT CAMELS TO THE UNITED STATES

Eighty years ago Jefferson Davis, then Secretary of War in the Cabinet of a Yankee President, Franklin Pierce, introduced seventy-five camels into the Southwest to demonstrate their adaptability to arduous transport in arid and mountainous regions.

The actual use of these camels quickly justified Davis in having undertaken the experiment. A Texas rancher promptly imported two shiploads of camels and a Yankee mining company also imported a number of them to pack supplies two hundred miles.

The camel idea was thrust upon Davis while he was a colonel in the Mexican War under General Zackary Taylor. During the campaign across the Mexican mountains and deserts, Davis was convinced that a trial of camels as a substitute for horses and mules for such grilling service should be made by the government.

Davis, after the Mexican War, became subsequently Secretary of War. He sought to get the War Department and Congress to give the camels a trial.

In his annual report for 1853, Davis pictured the terrific military and civil transportation problems presented by the lack of either roads or navigable streams in the vast South-western and Pacific regions.

Indefatigable on behalf of the pet scheme of his friend Davis, Senator Shields finally wrestled $30,000 for camels from Congress on March 3, 1855.

The naval storeship Supply was commissioned to carry these camels upon the long voyage.

Before sailing from New York, there was built a special camel cabin upon the spar deck of the ship. This furnished light and ventilation not found down between decks. There was devised a harness and roping arrangement, supplemented by rope fenders constructed with gutta percha air bags in front of the camels and bales of hay packed behind them. When the ship rolled the camels knelt and were prevented from kicking and injuring themselves as horses and mules do at sea. Porter declared to Jefferson Davis that: "The ship may be thrown upon her beam ends without a camel moving."

A special loading jig for camels consisted to a screw that could either be run upon the beach or against a quay, and a caged car or car was fitted into the scow. The camels were first harnessed and then a block and tackle persuaded the animals to enter the car that was closed and floated to the ship side and hoisted on board.

Lieutenant David Porter, Commander of the Supply, visited a herd of camels upon the estate of the Grand Duke of Tuscany near Pisa. These camels, whose ancestors were brought from Egypt two hundred years before, were performing the work of four times as many horses.

Porter and Major Henry Wayne secured the Levant as eagerly for camels as Jason once sought the Golden Fleece in those parts. Tunis, Salonica, Constantinople, the Crimea, Alexandria and Smyrna were visited. Camel buying is said to be a more difficult art than horse trading, but these Yankees returned with good stock. Their reports were filled with racy stories about matching wits with beys, sultans, pashas, and their grafting officials.

The supply sailed from Smyrna on Feb. 15, 1856, with twelve male and twenty female camels and one calf.

The Supply put into Jamaica for six sweltering days. The camels were a local sensation, four thousand visitors inspecting their cargo in one day, much to the disgust of the camels, Lieutenant Porter reported. One adult camel died on route and two out of six calves born on board lived.

The thirty-four surviving camels were landed at Indianola, now Port Lavaca, Texas, in 1856.

Major Wayne sent a camel to a forage barn at Indianola to carry four bales of hay, weighing 1,256 pounds. A Texas poet depicted the incredulity of skeptical natives when the kneeling beast of burden arose and calmly walked off with its heavy load.

The caravan passed through Victoria, Texas, on June 12. Major Wayne was having the camels stripped of their surplus hair in order that they might better withstand the heat and dust.

The camels established in permanent quarters at Camp Verde, sixty miles northwest of San Antonio.

Six camels, accompanied by two six-mule wagons, were sent to San Antonio to carry back oats. The camels returned immediately to Camp Verde in 54 hours with 3,500 pounds of grain. The teams had to rest a day longer in San Antonio and returned in 90 hours with 3,700 pounds upon both wagons. The camels hauled straight across the mountains, but the wagon had to follow the longer so-called roads. Twelve camels were once in San Antonio when continuous torrential rains began to descend. The camels were each loaded with 325 pounds and returned to Camp Verde in as short, although not as dry, time through the bottomless mud.

Lieutenants Porter and Heaps were sent out in 1856 to get a second lot of camels. In Smyrna they purchased forty-four, three of which died en route. The average cost of the first lot was $300 and that of the larger second lot was about $250.

Lieutenant Edward F. Beale employed twenty camels to carry supplies while he was making a wagon road from New Mexico to California in 1857.

During the next four years Beale continued to use these camels upon exploring trips in remote parts of the Southwest. As Surveyor General of California, in 1861, he asked the War Department to permit him to retain his camels, but the bureaucrats declined.

Lieutenant Edwards L. Hartz, quartermaster for a military survey party, used twenty-four camels to carry supplies upon a several months' reconnaissance in midsummer, 1859. The party crossed the Pecos River into West Texas, and went to Fort Stockton and Fort Davis and then penetrated the wild Big Bend to the Rio Grande opposite the Mexican Presidio San Vicente.

Hartz said that "The camels encountered hills and mountains of the most difficult nature; crossed streams, traversed prairies, some smooth, others rocky and broken by a rapid succession of deep arroyos or ravines."

On one day no less than fifty-seven arroyos, some fifty to seventy-five feet deep with smooth banks sometimes as steep as 45 degrees, were crossed.

Had the War Department persisted in the use of the camels after the Civil War, the public might have been converted. Anything associated with Jefferson Davis, however, was both anathema and political capital to those politicians that flourished for generations by waving the bloody shirt.

I's the Law IN TEXAS . . .

Avoid Legal Troubles in Real Estate Transactions

Thinking of buying or building a new home this year? Whether you buy a completed house or simply a lot to build on, how will you know whether you are receiving a good title to the property you purchase? The safest method is to have a title examination—that is, a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

Here are a few of the common sources of trouble in real estate transactions to show why the minor expense of a title examination is justified.

Many persons sign "earnest money contracts" believing that they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

A "warranty deed" from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.

Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller of a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt. Even if he is available a good title is much better than a law suit.

The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership of land than possession of the history of Texas means that you own the state.

Some purchasers of land feel safe because the title is being examined at the time of purchase by an attorney for the mortgage lenders. This seems logical but is a dangerous theory. Mortgage lenders are sometimes willing to accept less than a good record title as security. This is sound business for them because, among other reasons, the chances are that the mortgage will be paid off so that no expense in perfecting the title would ever need be incurred. It is risky business for you when you are putting your life savings into the purchase.

These are a few of the reasons why a title examination is an important safeguard to you. When is is completed, the attorney gives you a written opinion stating his conclusions as to who owns the land, the defects in or charges against such ownership, and the requirements to be met if any, to make good record title.

Off-hand this may seem a simple operation. In fact it is not. It requires the interpretation of numerous deeds, mortgages, wills, court decrees and other instruments; the consideration of the order in which transactions and events affecting the title occurred; and the application of statutes and court decisions to the various situations disclosed by the abstract.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

SENIOR SCOOP

The First Baptist Church of Bandera honored the Seniors of 1959 with an enchanting banquet held in the Educational Building Thursday, April 20. Principal Joe S. King gave the invocation, and delicious turkey and dressing was served. For entertainment, John McKay and the Stars of the Trinity Baptist Church in Kerrville sang many of the old favorites such as "Stout-Hearted Men," "Oklahoma," and "Some Enchanted Evening." Reverend J. Manley Reynolds further explained the theme of "Reaching for the stars through Christian education" and discussed various colleges and universities. Raymond Hicks gave the benediction which ended a beautiful and memorable banquet. There are too few words in our language to express our gratitude to Brother Reynolds, the hostesses, cooks, entertainers, and all others who made possible this delightful banquet.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

A jovial member of the Senior Class was born to John and Ida Jane Vaughn, Texas. This versatile gentleman moved to Bandera at the age of twelve and has attended Bandera Public School since that time. This blue-eyed, sandhaired lad could only be friendly Jimmy Britt. Jimmy is well known around the campus as Bandera High; he has a never-ending smile which is always visible. Jimmy has been active in the FFA for four years and the FHA two years. In his Senior year he has played bass horn in the Bulldog Band. He played football one year and softball two years.

Jimmy's interests are many and varied—he enjoys horseback riding, photographic work, and food!

Jimmy Britt is considered an asset to the Senior class of '59 because of his cooperation and good natured attitude. With such a likable personality, Jimmy, with diploma in hand, will be another of the Seniors who will go far and do well. Best of luck, Jimmy, we're with you all the way.

SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Mary Gonzales visited Corpus Christi Friday. Saturday, she attended the parade in Corpus.

Mike Fitzpatrick enjoyed the lake Saturday and Sunday.

Kay Evans went to Tivy mountain at Kerrville Sunday night and had some grawns of people for whom Tivy mountain is named.

J. M. Clements enjoyed hunting Saturday and Sunday and shot a rabbit both days.

Among those who saw the show Saturday are: Harold Brooks, Margie Brown, Rockey Stevens, and Johnny Anderwald.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

The recent tornados that swept through parts of Bandera county certainly got around.

Mrs. Vernon, the Principal's secretary, reported a lot of damage to their house and barns.

Rix Matthews, of the Hondo road, told of the destruction of huge trees and barns.

Dick Moeller, of Pipe Creek, Tarpley, had a similar story to tell. Their damaged their front door.

The Stompede and the tornado on the same week-end were at most too much excitement for our small town! Gene Wright and his little sisters were sent to his grandmother's for the week-end. His little sister fell out of the pick-up.

Aleta Roberts and her family spent a quiet week-end at the Menger Hotel. They enjoyed the swimming pool and seeing a baby alligator. Aleta took her toy panda.

Karen Anderwald and Nancy Groff enjoyed the stompede. At Mansfield Park they saw Rix Matthews and other third graders.

With our achievement tests behind us and only two more weeks of school, we are looking forward to happy vacation plans but are dreading the hour of parting.

SENIORS ENTERTAINED WITH ITALIAN SUPPER

It seems like the seniors are always having a party somewhere now that the end of school is approaching. One of the highlight affairs of this past week was the Italian Supper given by Mrs. Dan Callahan, Mrs. E. H. Frerich and Mrs. Milton Leibold at the Purple Sage Ranch. The food was wonderful.

And the seniors—all of them were there—had an exciting time before and after supper. There were lots of laughs and splashes. It is going to be a while before Ronnie lets another horse drag him under a low hanging tree. Some of the bunch just sat back and laughed.

Dottie did not mind being thrown into the pool. Probably, she enjoyed the swim and then, too, she managed to pull in at least one of those who were busy getting Dottie wet and sputtering. Poor George! It is a wonder he didn't drown with those western boots —pretty good size too.

Other guests who enjoyed the meal and the fun were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Schnelle, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hicks, Dan Callahan, and Milton Leibold.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

Friday morning, Bandera held a volleyball tournament in the gym. Those from the eighth grade who participated in it were Linda Bausch, Karen Kitzman, Donna Morse, and Laura Stricker.

Last Wednesday the eighth grade went to Austin for their school trip. When they got back, they were required to write a theme on their trip. This is one of the better ones;

Our Trip to the Capitol

On Wednesday, April 26, our class took a trip to the Capitol of Texas. We left about seven a.m.

We got to San Marcos and stopped at a restaurant to get something to drink. We were going along just fine (too good to be true) when suddenly—POW —the two tires on the left back side blew out! We were only five miles from Austin, thank goodness! A couple of us girls made a lipstick sign which read "Flat Tire". A man stopped and gave Mr. Mullenax, our bus driver, a ride to Austin. It was awfully hot in the bus and almost all of us, at one time or another, made the excuse of going out and taking a picture of the flat tire. Really we were just trying to get out of that steaming bus.

It was an hour and a half before we got started. During that time we ate lunch. After getting started it took hardly any time to get to the Capitol. From far off you could see the dome rising up into the sky. On top of the dome there was the statue of the Goddess of Liberty.

The Capitol is made of red granite. As you walk in there are statues and paintings of people famous in Texas History. Near the elevator there was a copy of the Texas Declaration of Independence. On the floor there were the names of battles fought on Texas soil. We walked into the center room, the Rotunda. You can look up and see the dome from the inside. It is blue and the letters TEXAS are in gold lettering.

Mrs. Vaughn told us that since we couldn't get a guide until one o'clock, we would go to the House of Representatives. The Speaker of the House, presiding officer, was not there, but behind his desk was the big canvas picture of Texans at the Battle of San Jacinto.

Next we went to the Senate. The Senate is smaller than the House of Representatives. Also it is quieter. There are only thirty-one senators.

Dick Moeller, a senator, pushed a button on their desks. This lights one of three colored lights on a panel in front—green for yes, red means no, and white means present but not voting.

When we left this, we had five minutes to do as we pleased. Claudia and L went to get a coke. After that we had Bobby take our picture in front of one of the twin cannons given to the Republic of Texas by Major General Chandler. They are at the entrance of the Capitol.

We then had a guide and he showed us the interesting things of the Capitol. We went through the Senate and House of Representatives Chambers while they were adjourned. In the Senate there are two famous paintings that were sold to the state of Texas for $25,000. They are "Dawn at the Alamo" and "The Battle of San Jacinto." He also showed us the glass tile in the Library floor. This has been replaced in most of the building. We took up in the Supreme Court. There are eight justices and one Chief Justice. The Chief Justice's name is Hickman. Before the middle 1940's there were only three judges. They ever six hundred thousand dollars was paid between $17,500 and $22,000—our guide didn't know exactly. There was another court, Court of Criminal Appeals where they hear murder cases etc.

We went down stairs to the Treasury Department and the vault. We were all ready to see a million dollars. For two reasons this was not possible. First they do not keep a cent in the vault, only securities and bonds amounting to over $1,700,000,000. Second, the safe opens at eight o'clock in the morning and not event the man who made it can open it at any other time. The big vault door weighs 61,000 pounds, and, as he put it, there was a small one in the back that only weighed 10,000 pounds.

We were going to the Senate when our guide showed us Governor Daniels. He was only four feet away from me and I didn't even recognize him!

The Senate is in its 56th session. It is presided over by the Lieutenant Governor who is Ben Ramsey. Behind his chair is a painting of Stephen F. Austin. There are boys with extremely high IQ's who are pages. They do almost anything the Senators want them to. They do not have to attend classes, but they have to keep up with their work. We were recognized by the Senate and hope to get a copy of something he read, but he read so fast I couldn't understand him.

Next we went to the Governor's Reception Room. He wasn't there, but a page showed us all the interesting things—a table of Davy Crockett's made of mesquite wood, and a morror given to the Republic of Texas by France—one of the three perfect mirror in the world at that time. We got to sit in the Governor's chair which is green and very comfy!

I haven't said much about the grounds which we saw from time to time. I only saw the south lawn, but I imagine all the lawns were as beautiful. The flowers were simply beautiful, and the trees provided shade. There was green, green grass everywhere.

We went on home with another stop at San Marcos. Personally I didn't think Mrs. Vaughn would be at school the next day, but she made it!

I enjoyed the trip immensely, and the information I got from it I can use always.

JUNIOR JIVE

Most of us Juniors are very anxiously awaiting the end of school and have been counting the days until we will be out for a vacation. Although we are looking forward for the vacation time to come, we are all dreading the finals which we will have to take before we can have a vacation.

The Junior Homemaking girls have been working very hard on the style show "Fashions on Parade" which will be presented tonight by all of the homemaking girls. We hope it will be a big success.

Nearly all of the Juniors went to the one-act plays, put on by the Seniors last night, and all report having enjoyed them very much. We are all sure that the Seniors worked very hard preparing them.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Another likable Senior has been in Bandera for three years and since she moved from San Antonio in September 9, 1940. This is a pretty lively-haired, blue-eyed lass who stands 5'2".

She has participated in many extra-curricular activities. Among these are Band, Girl's Athletics, Pep Squad, Pup-Pets, FHA, and tennis, one year; she also an active member of the Catholic Youth Club.

This short biography could apply to "only one person: Lenell Frances Deane. She is "a rather quiet young lady who believes in good, clean fun—and has it. She nell enjoys dancing and is a very agile horseback rider. She also enjoys a multitude of other sports and activities and performs well in each.

As the Seniors take their diplomas and walk down the aisle the last time, Lenell, as well as the others, will be preparing to climb the next steps in the stairway of life. We wish Lenell success and happiness in all she undertakes.

BAND NEWS

During the past year the band has been extremely busy. This is the first account in a series of two covering the activities of the previous year.

Due to bad weather conditions, the band got to march at only one of the Junior games. We marched the first game which was played here with Sabinal. The Comfort game was canceled because of rain. We did not make an appearance at the Schreiner, Dilley, Southside, and Blanco games because of rain. This was a disappointment to all of us. At all the rest of the games we made an appearance. So, as you see, we were really ripped out of every performance during the past football season.

Speaking of bad weather, that was the reason you didn't see the band in the parade last Saturday.

We are sorry to report Mrs. M. D. Cottingham on the sick list this past week-end. We hope she is feeling better at this time.

GRADUATING CLASS HONORED WITH BANQUET

The Graduating class of Bandera High School was honored by the Baptist Church Thursday, April 30, with a lovely banquet "Starlight Fantasy" given in the educational building at 7:30 p.m. The theme was "Reaching for the Stars through Christian Education."

Overall decorating was a fantastic array of blue sky, soft billowing clouds with stars shining through, satellites in the sky and a large silver, glittered globe revolving constantly and bearing the theme "Christian Education." This globe hung from the clouds.

Stars, blue sky, a huge glittered "Seniors '59" and the theme of the hour made up wall decoration and tables carried exhibitions from Christian Colleges with one space made up like the wall of a college room.

The tables were covered with blue linen, brightened by spring flower arrangements with glittered blue candles set in star holders. Place cards were from Baylor University and Napkins from Howard Payne College.

A delicious dinner of baked turkey with everything that goes with it was served.

Mrs. Rhea Mansfield, President of the Baptist W.M.U., appointed as committee heads Mrs. W. W. Cardwell, coordinator; Mrs. Bob Mansfield, foods; and Mrs. J. Manley Reynolds, decorations; with a large number of ladies helping on these committees.

The program was presented by John McKay, a former entertainer, now Minister of Music from Trinity Baptist Church, Kerrville, a quartet of young men from that church and accompanist Mrs. Lucille Bramer. After humorous sketches and spirituals by the quartet, Mr. McKay sang "One Enchanted Evening", "Oklahoma," other numbers from Rogers-Hammerstein shows concluding with "How Great Thou Art."

The pastor presented a brief address on Christian Education and after remarks by class President Ronnie Rugh and Vice-President Dottie Vaughn, the benediction was given by Raymond Hicks as was the Invocation by J. S. King.

Serving the tables as "Star Dusters" were Sarah Shuptrine, Carol Hardin, Sandy Mott, Ruth Brown, Linda Wright.

Guests signing the register were Mary Katheryn Frerich, Sherry Mayes, Ronnie Rugh, Bob Marcum, Jimmy Britt, Adolph Stricker, Frances Waguespack, Terry Cox, Marvin Schnelle, Mrs. Marvin Schnelle, "Lenell Dean, Jo Mansfield, Elizabeth Butts, Herbert Bass, Gracie Richards, James Herrera, Raymond Adamietz, Bob Preston, Dottie Vaughn, Marlene Leibold, Margaret Ann Callahan, Joe King, Mrs. Raymond Hicks, Joe S. SCOUTS MARCH IN STOMPEDE PARADE

A unit of the Bandera Boy Scouts, both Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts, proudly marched in the Stompede Parade Saturday, May 2.

The unit was formed with Billy Small carrying the colors with Harold Brooks, Jr., and Russell Zickler Jr., as color guards. Jingles Dawson was in charge with Richard Evans carrying the Troop Flag and Jeffrey Zickler carrying the Pack Flag.

Marching behind the Troop and Pack Colors were Cub Scouts, Bob Saddler, Edward Postell, John Brock, Ennie Daniels, Johnny Small, Raymond Pawvlik, Gary Daniels and Jerry Green and Boy Scouts Royce Spiers, Freddie Flach and Morris Green.

All of these boys were ready to march no matter what the weather. They deserve a lot of credit, they certainly represented a nice, clean group of Bandera citizens.

TEEN-AGE WIFE'S DEATH ACCIDENTAL

Tallahassee, Florida.—A coroner's jury Wednesday night ruled that Mrs. Robert Hale, 16, the daughter of Texas politician-lawyer John B. Connally was killed by the accidental discharge of a .20 guage shotgun.

A die detector expert testified that the answers of her husband gave about the shooting in their tiny apartment here Tuesday indicated his innocence.

Hale, 18, is the son of I. B. Hale, Texas Christian football great in the 1930s. Both the Hale and Connally families are prominent in Fort Worth.

Hale testified his wife, Kathleen, seemed in good spirits the night before her death but suddenly had left their apartment and did not return until late Wednesday morning.

When he returned from the latest of a number of trips in search of her, he said, she was seated in the apartment with a shotgun in her hand.

He said he knelt at her feet and begged her to put down the shotgun. He added:

"I convinced her to take her finger off the trigger but she kept the muzzle pointed at her face."

She seemed so on the verge of firing that he was afraid to move, he said, but eventually went to sit on their bed across the room from the couch. He said:

"She was telling me she was going to kill herself. She said 'Bobby, I'm sick in my mind and I need help I know now that no one can help me.'

"I tried to tell her everything was going to be all right. I tried to get her to sit on the bed with me but she wouldn't.

"At the last desperate moment I lunged at the gun and hit it. "It hit the wall and she was still * * *."

Hale' said he didn't know whether the gun went off before or after he hit it.

The youth testified he and his bride eloped and married March 16 at Ardmore, Oklahoma. They came here a month and a half "on their own way." Hale had been working for a boat company for $70 a week.

Fathers of both teenagers testified their children always had been stable emotionally. The late Hale, who wept as his son testified, said the couple had written letters saying how happy they were together.

Connally said his daughter had been an exceptionally bright student.

He said the family was displeased over the couple's elopement "but we have not been angry. We trust their understanding."

He reported letters from the pair indicated they both were happy.

Connally said he and the elder Hale visited the couple here a week or more ago after the youngsters had quarrelled and the girl left her husband for a few days.

Several officers testified they believed the youth would have jumped from a second story porch opening off his apartment had he not been restrained. A police man said:

"He was screaming! It's my wife! I want to go with her!"

ARMED FORCES DAY SET FOR MAY 16-18

Military installations in the San Antonio area are preparing for observance of 1959 Armed Forces Day the week of May 10-16.

Starting with a concert played by four bands at Brackenridge Park and climaxed with an "open house" at Randolph Air Force Base the last day of the annual observance, Armed Forces Day this year is expected to attract thousands of visitors to the Alamo City.

All military services, the army, navy, marine corps, coast guard and air force, are cooperating to make this year's observance the most outstanding in the history of Armed Forces Day.

Displays in the show windows of San Antonio stores, a golf tournament at Willow Springs golf course, a two-mile parade of San Antonio's military might, and an open house at Randolph AFB are some of the high points of this year's observances.

All military installations will participate in the annual event. These include Fort Sam Houston, Brooke Army Medical Center and Lackland, Kelly, Medina, Brooks and Randolph air force bases.

Open house at Baldolph AFB will climax Armed Forces Day observances. Events planned for the day include a baseball game, a polo match, hundreds of static displays and flyovers and formation flights by jet trainers, fighters and bombers.

John Milton Langford and his two small daughters of College Station spent last week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lane Langford.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT BUCK CELEBRATE SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Sixty years of love and devotion was celebrated Sunday afternoon when the children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Buck entertained with open house in their home on their sixtieth wedding anniversary at the Buck home here. At noon the immediate family gathered to enjoy a sumptuous dinner together and before the appointed hour of 2 o'clock guests began arriving from far and near, bringing gifts and flowers for the beloved couple who have lived in the county for almost three quarters of a century. Miss Jeffie Caldwell and Robert E. Buck were married at Pipe Creek on May 10, 1899, with Rev. J. M. Witt, Baptist minister, officiating.

For seven years following their marriage they lived at San Geronimo, finally moving back to Pipe Creek where Mr. Buck purchased the old Ebenezer Buck home place from his mother. They lived there for about 30 years before moving to their Winan's Creek Ranch. They spent about twenty years there and finally moved to Bandera to live their retirement years. They are a wonderful couple and highly esteemed and loved by all who know them. The home Sunday was a place of happiness and joy as children, grandchildren and great grandchildren, friends and relatives gathered to wish them every happiness in their declining years.

They were made happy to have Mrs. John Love of San Antonio, Mrs. Ed Mansfield of Austin, Mrs. Sylvan Odom of Boerne among the guests. Both ladies were present at their marriage sixty years ago. They deeply regretted that Mrs. Owen Brandenberry of Pipe Creek and Mrs. Mamie Buck of Clifton were unable to attend, as they were also present at their wedding.

All five of Mr. and Mrs. Buck's living children were present (one child died in 1919) to help celebrate the happy occasion. They are L. E. Buck of Houston; R. V. Buck of San Antonio; Mrs. A. L. Edmundson and R. C. Buck of LaPorte; and Mrs. Allie Allsup of Medina. This was the first time all the children had been present at one time in over twenty years.

Besides the five living children who blessed the Buck home there are 14 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

The refreshment table was laid with a beautiful nylon net appliqued with golden bells and decorated with an arrangement of variecolored gladiolus, dainty white roses and candles. And the rooms were sweet with the flowers brought by friends. The anniversary cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Miss Helen Pickens served the cake.

Among the guests who came to bring gifts and good wishes and those who were unable to attend but sent remembrances were: Mrs. Estelle Storms, Mrs. Lizzie Storms, Mrs. Florence Buck, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Buck, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Edmundson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Buck, John Allen Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Y. Fullerton, Mrs. John Love, Miss Mabel Newcomer, Mr. and Mrs. David Stark, Debbie and Davey Stark, Mr. and Mrs. Allie Allsup, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Buck and Ray, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Buck, Robert, Shirley, Gayle, Sandra and Guy Buck, Miss Helen Pickens, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Raymon I Smith, Mr. and Mrs. L. Buck, Mrs. J. M. Hunter Sr., Mrs. John V. Saul, Mr. and Mrs. Olan Buck, Mrs. J.

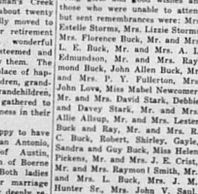
Entries should be brought to the warehouse by 5:00 on June 5th. Entries will still be accepted until 8 a.m., on June 6th, but to avoid a delay in the show, please, have your fleeces at the warehouse on June 5th.



Classes are set up this year in the adult division in both sheep and Angora goats. There will be ribbons in registered and range classes for rams, ewes, and Angora does. There is no class for range rams. Ranchers, save your fleeces and bring them to the show. See how your wool compares with your neighbors.

POWER LINE TO PROSPERITY

It took miles of wire to carry electricity to the isolated farmhouse above. But the cost of this electrical service was shared equally by the members of the rural electric cooperative who live in more populous areas. They were keeping a pledge to serve members regardless of cost. This democratic plan of sharing the load brought an electrical revolution to remote Texas areas and a new way of life to the rural community.

But it is imperative that the Electric Cooperatives of Texas continue to serve the more populous areas they helped to develop. There are certain areas served by the cooperatives that are adjacent to towns and cities. Take these away and you ruin the risk of prohibitive electric rates for thousands of Texas farms and ranches. Where the rural electric cooperatives were first to offer electric service they must be allowed to serve.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

"BIGFOOT" WALLACE

Friend and Defender of the Young Republic

Loyalty to his clan brought William Alexander Anderson (Bigfoot) Wallace to Texas, and his loyalty to Texas enriched the history of his chosen country. Born in Lexington, Virginia, in 1817, Wallace set out for the Southwest in 1836, to avenge the massacre of a brother and a cousin at Goliad. Later he sold his friend and biographer, "Texas John" Duval, that he believed the account had been squared.

Wallace was a sensational giant—his specimen...6 feet 2 inches tall in his moccasins, 240 pounds of bone, muscle, courage and humor...a mellow and convivial soul except when it was time to fight Indians, Mexicans or outlaws. He loved to sit in the shade and tell about such sights as the last buffalo run down Austin's Congress Avenue. But Texas history records him as a fearless soldier, scout, hunter, Ranger throughout the years of the Republic and those of the Civil War and Reconstruction. For many years he lived as he liked, and re-lived in tall tales the old days of free range and free land. Bigfoot Wallace died January 7, 1899.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland...Texans Believe! And this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

More spending and an increased public debt comprise the gist of demands upon Congress by the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), voiced at its annual convention held this past week in Washington.

This ultra-liberal group, claiming 40,000 members, is trying to take over control of the Democratic party as well as claiming the right to speak for the American people in prodding Congress for ever more spending for welfare and socialized programs.

Last week the ADAers threatened to defeat Democratic leaders in Congress by saying they might quit the Democrats and support the liberal Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for President next year if the Democrats fail to heed their demands.

A favorite target of the ADA has been Senator Lyndon Johnson, their main beef being that he comes from Texas. Any person who comes from the South, unless he be an ultra-liberal, is persona non grata to this motley crowd of left wing zealots.

If followed, the ADA program would up the public debt by some $20 billion during the next year; would admit Red China to membership in the UN; would increase the minimum wage to $1.25; would push union wages higher, while demanding that business voluntarily reduce consumer prices. They want to increase immigration substantially by repealing the quota system that now restricts immigrants percentage-wise according to national origin of citizens who were here in 1920. They denounce any criticism of the Supreme Court decisions that have benefited domestic communists, subversives, etc., and denounce any criticism of the Supreme Court decisions that have benefited domestic communists, subversives, etc., and denounce any actions by the Congress to correct such decisions by legislation.

Thus, it may be that opposition by this group will in the long run advance the cause of Senator Lyndon Johnson. The American people have a way of judging candidates at times by the type of opposition that asserts itself.

Among our new subscribers this week are Mrs. William Ahring, Nolan Ferguson, Mack Green, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Green, T. F. Robbins, Elmer Schmidtke and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gray. We welcome these new subscribers and hope they will enjoy reading the home town news for the next fifty-two weeks.

A fairly good grass seed crop was produced by our range grasses in 1958 but it should be much better in 1959. That is if your grasses were rested or properly used in 1958. Start plans early to give part of your ranch a chance to reseed this year.

The Board of Supervisors of the Bandera SCD held their regular meeting on Wednesday, May 6, at the District office. Supervisors present were: A. J. Flowers, H. L. Mansfield, and Wilton Crider. Telvy Robbins, Vo-Ag teacher for Bandera High School, Evelyn Hutcheson, steno-bookkeeper, and Billy Griffin of the SCS were also present. The Board completed entry blanks for the District competition in the Goodyear Soil Conservation Awards Program. Agreements to furnish conservation planning assistance were approved for the places of Alton E. Stein, Harvey Whitaker, Dr. E. L. Dyer, Everett Koontz and Lee Landwig. The Board heard committee reports on participation in Soil Stewardship Week activities and on the selection of the Outstanding Rancher for the District. Next regular meeting will be held on June 3, 1959.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Melton and two sons, Harry Jr., and Richard Melton, of San Antonio, were here Sunday, where Brother Melton presented the morning and evening sermons at the church of Christ. They were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Cottingham during the day.

WALK! DOGGONE IT! WALK!

Take a deep seat and a long rein and let me tell you about the 1959 Trail Ride.

Yeaar! You guessed it—that was the early morning cry of each and every Trail Rider—brisk air, hardy horses and eager riders! We left Jack Jones' Arkansas Bend Ranch in Bandera the morning of April 28th, rode the Ridge Route and camped at the B Lazy B Ranch in Medina the first night . . . what a barbecue we had with all the trimmings! Many visitors arrived and the refreshments they brought were certainly appreciated! Songs were sung around the camp-fire and then everybody turned in early. We would have all gotten a good night's sleep if it hadn't of been for the "Cross Legged Bull Frogs!"

Bacon and eggs—good hot coffee and then "Saddle Up and Let's Ride!" Off we went through Medina and up the West Prong of Medina Creek to the Secretary of Labor in Washington, D. C. The resolution further stated that the AFL-CIO continue to limit foreign importation of farm labor thus the support of the Federal Department of Labor which for years has sought the power to fix prevailing wage rates on farm and ranch labor. Senator Crump in his resolution pointed out that the increased cost of farming and ranching in recent years has so greatly increased that a further burden through federal wage fixing would be a serious setback.

Senator Crump's resolution passed the Senate April 23, with a unanimous vote; and passed the House of Representatives on May 6, under the sponsorship of Representative Joe Burkett and Terrell Townsend.

"Tall in the saddle"—"Deep in the saddle"—"Smitty!" then said, "Why? Is your saddle horn bumping your chin?"—Get it? "Tall in the saddle"—"Deep in the saddle"—Ha! Ha!

We rode on that afternoon through some of the prettiest country ever. We crossed "rushing" streams" many times and the canyons and rolling hills were as cool as dew on the grass.

As we approached our trail up the Divide we were met by a very strange sight—No! That wasn't a sight—that was Leslie Duke on his mule, "Jonah." Les was nice enough to meet us at his gate and ride with us into camp. Boy! You've heard the saying, "I'm Sittin' on Top of the World" when we were! We'd climbed about 1,000 feet or more and were on about the highest point of the Divide. Joe Guerdon took some fine scenic but a castrophe befell him and he told me that he was afraid that some of them were ruined . . . so sorry, Joe.

Sure do hate to tell this one on myself—but I fell prey to the Vaqueros of the Water Trough at Les' ranch that night—but it was nice and cool, mind you!

Vince really outdid himself that night and we had a delicious steak dinner—baked potatoes, beans, and salad. Before I go any further let me sing the praises of our vine camp crew. Vince Anderwald —cook; Henry Anderwald — 1st camp helper—Larry Carnes and Peggy Doolin—2nd camp helpers! What a splendid job each and every one of them did! We've never had a better camp! Incidentally, Jerry and Peggy joined the Trail Ride Association! Thanks gals and welcome!

About 4 a.m., Thursday morning we were all very rudely awakened by Uncle Bensie and Phil coming into camp—but when we saw the three grand gals from Corpus that they had brought, with them, all was forgiven. We got Treva, Marie and Lillie bedded down, unloaded two trailers and camp was almost quiet for a couple of hours.

Up and at 'em bright and early —it was a beautiful ride through the cedars for several miles and then we came out on the Tarpley-Utopia road where we stopped for lunch. That night we camped at the Graham ranch. We were joined in camp by several people—won't attempt to name all of them as would probably get mixed up—but anyhow—thanks so much for coming out to see us!

Mandolins and guitars rang out in full swing that night—Barry Rhodes and Rudy "Possum-Bloyson" Robbins really got with it. Incidentally—a few remember. ances of that night in camp:

George Callery is still lookin' for that barbed wire fence Phil Kindle told him about!

Lee Callery said, "That Medina River Washeteria is the most forgetful thing!"—By the way, Lee—what did you wear the next day?

Tom Bryant—are you still trying to learn the words to 'By My Side'?

Frank Anderwald—you did a fine job of chaperoning everybody everything — Thanks alot, Frank!

Between "Smitty's" APCs and Tony's "Roll Aids" we were well kept in medications!

We had a hard time keeping Doc on horseback, due to the fact that he rides side-saddle—and that do wear them out! Talley Ho! - The Fox! ("Coop!")

Henry Anderwald definitely recommends "Larva's Soap—and by the way, did Marie ever find Henry?

At least this was one year Phil didn't try to kill my Parka!

We really missed all our riders who couldn't be with us on this trip—but we'll be seeing you soon—Texie—How does your garden grow?

Well, that's about it—but would like to say "many, many thanks to our wonderful cooks!

SENATOR CRUMP VOICES FIRM OPPOSITION TO WAGE RATE FIXING

Austin, Texas—The Legislature last week, on the motion of Senator Jack Cook Crump of Bath, voiced firm opposition to federal wage rate fixing. Senator Crump's resolution which would cripple the foreign labor importation program. The resolution cited "The Sharecroppers' Fund" as a medium of the AFL-CIO effort to dominate livestock, farm and agricultural groups. The San Saba Senator said "the objective is to eliminate or curtail the foreign labor importation program so as to create a national farm labor shortage.

Senator Crump's resolution stated that such a limitation of the farm labor program would seriously impair the farm and ranching economy in Texas. "It would also," he said, "deprive farm laborers of a source of employment which could drastically increase the overall unemployment situation in this state." He urged all farm and agricultural associations in Texas to investigate the situation and join in opposition to the labor backed activities. A copy of his resolution will be forwarded to members of Congress from Texas, and to the Secretary of Labor in Washington, D. C.

Spray for the Pecan Nut Casebearer Now

The pecan nut casebearer does a serious amount of damage each year on our pecan crops in Bandera county. The nuts are set now and after the tips of the nuts turn dark casebearer spots to work. Small white eggs, a little smaller than a pin head, appear on the terminals of the branches. These pearly like white eggs will hatch the casebearer.

There are different insecticides which can be used to control the casebearer. The following is a list which is recommended, 3 lbs. 50 per cent wettable DDT, or 2 lbs. 15 per cent wettable parathion, or 3 lbs.- 25 per cent wettable malathion per 5 lbs. per cent wettable toxephene to 100 gallons of water. Sprays are ineffective after the worm enters the nuts.

Additional spray applications may be necessary for effective control if eggs appear after the first spraying applications.

Extension Service Bulletin No. 1-241, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruits and Nuts, is available from your county agent's office which lists the insects and their control on peaches, plums, pears, pecans and grapes.

Small Grain Field Day at Comfort on May 8

A small grain field day was held at Comfort on May 8. It was attended by Raymond Hicks and County Agent Werner Lindig, from Bandera. The meeting was held on the experiment farm of the Comfort Seed Growers between Comfort and Center Point.

Some of the leading varieties of barley are Cordova, Rogers, Rogers is showing very good and it looks as though it has good possibilities in this area. It is taller than Cordova and furnishes more grazing.

Some of the oat varieties that were observed were Moregrain, Bergrain, Mustang, New Nortex, Ferguson, Alamo, and Bronco. Mustang oats, which is still a good variety to plant, is susceptible to rust too much. The new varieties of oats, that are not susceptible to rust at the present time, are Moregrain and Bergrain. Some of this seed will be available for distribution this year. A few farmers obtained seed from the Comfort Seed Growers last year and will have small amounts of seed to sell. One farmer in Bandera county, Willie Schmidt of Tarpley, has a field of Suregrain.

New strains of rusts keep developing and as these new strains keep showing up, the small grain varieties growing, new varieties of grain are being developed resistant to the different strains of rust. R. C. Holekamp stated that Mustang was resistant at first, but after a few years, it became susceptible. It is a constant job to try to develop resistant varieties.

Dr. I. M. Atkins, USDA College Station, stated that it took about 15 years to develope a variety of small grain before it would be available for commercial distribution. He stated that energy was being used in developing new oat varities and that this could possibly be the time it develops new varieties.

Dr. H. C. Chada, USDA, Denton, spoke on insect control. He stated that the best insect control was to develope resistant varieties through breeding. He stated that they had tested over 20,000 different varities of small grain to find desirable varities.

Dr. Harlan E. Smith, Extension Plant Pathologist, College Station, spoke on disease of small grain. The disease that he spoke of were loose smut, blight, yellow dwarf, and root rot. He stated that diseases cause $15,000,000 damage in Texas every year. Three things to remember before planting small grain is to plant treated, where to put the grain, and use resistant varities.

Elbon Rye has shown to furnish the grazing than any other variety of small grain. It can be used and then a game of horseshoes was played with Mrs. Joe Billings winning the prize.

Mrs. O. C. Marquis Sr., brought the dime cake and it was served in the afternoon. Mrs. Sandidge served ice cream and punch with the cake.

Those present were Mrs. R. L. Stevens, Home Demonstration Agent; two visitors, Mrs. Joe Short and Mrs. Ray Wyatt, Mrs. Joe H. Short, Mrs. Bradley Richards, Mrs. Joe Billings, Mrs. G. M. Merritt, Mrs. M. H. Padgett, Mrs. O. C. Marquis Sr., Mrs. J. Schmidt, Mrs. M. R. Sandidge and Mrs. Lee Mansfield.

LIVESTOCK DEALERS MUST REGISTER

All livestock dealers, commission buyers are required to register and furnish bond under the Packers and Stockyards Act, effective May 27, 1959. This was announced today by W. C. Ball, district supervisor, Packers and Stockyards Section, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Fort Worth, Texas.

Dealers, market agencies, either buying or selling on a commission basis, and packer buyers—operating across state lines either in the country or at markets subject to the Packers and Stockyards Act—must register; Mr. Ball points out.

Also, all except packer buyers must furnish bond. Bond coverage is based upon the volume of business transacted, but in no case less than $5,000.00.

Previously, the regulations on interstate livestock marketing applied only to persons dealing at markets subject to the Act.

Mr. Ball emphasizes that the law places the responsibility on the packer buyer to obtain bond coverage if he is operating across state lines.

Texas and eastern New Mexico livestock dealers should register immediately with the District Packers and Stockyards office, 231 Federal Exchange Building, Fort Worth, Texas.

TARPLEY HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

Mrs. Sandidge furnished the coffee and iced tea.

After a short business session some went back to fishing for a while and then a game of horseshoes was played with Mrs. Joe Billings winning the prize.

Mrs. O. C. Marquis Sr., brought the dime cake and it was served in the afternoon. Mrs. Sandidge served ice cream and punch with the cake.

In the contest held on Tuesday afternoon, a panel of judges selected two top contestants for the drum majorette slot. The winner was then selected by a secret ballot vote by all band members present for the contest. Elvera was twirling honors in both the 1958 Boerne Homecoming twirling contest and a first division solo in Interscholastic League twirling competition this year. She was also a member of a twirling ensemble which won first division honors in the same regional meet. This young student is also an outstanding asset to the concert band, as she plays trumpet very well.

Besides the contest for drum majorette, another contest was held, this one being for filling four vacancies in the twirling section of the band. Carol Anne Vaughn, only returning twirler, will be joined by four newcomers. These were chosen by the same panel of judges, and are Rose Stricker, Barbara Fitch, Rosemary Faurie, and Susan Langford.

Judges for the contests were Erwin Dyer, director of the Boerne High School Band; Joe Rainbow, director of the Comfort High School Band; and Frank Preitzer, director of the Trey High School Band of Kerrville.

The names of the winning contestants were announced initially at the outdoor concert held Tuesday evening on the football field.

NEWS from your County Agricultural Agent Texas A & M College Extension Service

Spray for the Pecan Nut Casebearer Now

The Pecan nut casebearer does a serious amount of damage each year on our pecan crops in Bandera county. The nuts are set now and after the tips of the nuts turn dark casebearer goes to work. Small white eggs, a little smaller than a pin head, appear on the terminals of the branches. Then pearly like white eggs will hatch the casebearer.

There are different insecticides which can be used to control the casebearer. The following is a list which is recommended. 3 lbs. 50 per cent wettable DDT, or 2 lbs. 15 per cent wettable parathion, or 3 lbs. 25 per cent wettable malathion per 5 lbs. 40 per cent wettable toxephene to 100 gallons of water. Sprays are ineffective after the worm enters the nuts.

Additional spray applications may be necessary for effective control if eggs appear after the first spraying applications.

Extension Service Bulletin No. L-245, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruits and Nuts, is available from your county agent's office which lists the insects and their control on peaches, plums, pears, pecans and grapes.

Small Grain Field Day at Comfort on May 8

A small grain field day was held at Comfort on May 8. It was attended by Raymond Hicks and County Agent Werner Lindig from Bandera. The meeting was held on the experiment farm of the Comfort Seed Growers between Comfort and Center Point.

Some of the leading varieties of barley are Cordova, Rogers. Rogers is showing up very good and it looks as though it has good possibilities in this area. It is taller than Cordova and furnishes more grazing.

Some of the oat varieties that were observed were Moregrain, Suregrain, Mustang, New Nortex, Ferguson, Alamo, and Bronco. Mustang oats, which is still a good variety to plant, is susceptible to rust too now. Two new varities of oats, that are not susceptible to rust at the present time, are Moregrain and Suregrain. Some of this seed will be available for distribution this year. A few farmers obtained seed from the Comfort Seed Growers last year and will have small amounts of seed to sell. One farmer in Bandera county, Willie Schmidt of Tarpley, has a field of Suregrain.

New strains of rusts keep developing and as these new strains keep attacking the small grain varieties growing, new varieties of grain are being developed resistants to the different strains of rust. R. C. Holekamp stated that Mustang was resistant at first, but after a few years, it became susceptible. It is a constant job to try to develop resistant varities.

Dr. I. M. Atkins, USDA College Station, stated that it took about 15 years to develope a variety of small grain before it would be available for commercial distribution. He stated that nuclear energy was being used in developing new oat varities and that this could shorten the time for developing new varieties.

Dr. H. C. Chada, USDA, Denton, spoke on insect control. He stated that the best insect control was to develope resistant varieties through breeding. He stated that they had tested over 20,000 different varities of small grain to find desirable varities.

Dr. Harlan E. Smith, Extension Pathologist, College Station, spoke on disease of small grain. The disease that he spoke of were loose smut, blight, yellow dwarf, and root rot. He stated that diseases cause $15,000,000 damage in Texas every year. Three things to remember before planting small grain is to plant treated, where to put the grain, and use resistant varities.

Quanah wheat is still the leading wheat variety.

Elbon Rye has shown to furnish more grazing than any other variety of small grain. It can be grazed short and will make a fast recovery according to experimental plots. It is also very palitable to livestock.

LIVESTOCK DEALERS MUST REGISTER

All southwest livestock buyers are expected to register at Thomas Boyd under a new arrangement by the Packers and Stockyards Act, effective May 24, 1959.

This was announced recently by W. C. Ball, register supervisor, Packers and Stockyards office, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Fort Worth, Texas.

Dealers, market agencies, either buying or selling on a commission basis, and packer buyers—operating across state lines either in the country or at markets subject to the Packers and Stockyards Act—must register; Mr. Ball points out.

Also, all except packer buyers must furnish bond. Bond coverage is based upon the volume of business transacted, but in no case less than $5,000.00.

Previously, the regulations on interstate livestock marketing applied only to persons dealing at markets subject to the Act.

Mr. Ball emphasizes that the law places the responsibility on the dealer to register and obtain bond coverage if he is operating across state lines.

Texas and eastern New Mexico livestock dealers should register immediately with the District Packers and Stockyards office, 211 Livestock Exchange Building, Fort Worth, Texas.

Many notable officers visited Old Camp Verde in its hey-dey, among them being Colonel Robert E. Lee, who later became a general in the Confederate Army. It was from Camp Verde that General Albert Sidney Johnston started to Utah in 1857 to help quell the Mormon rebellion. Commanding officers at Camp Verde were Captain I. N. Palmer, Lieut. J. H. Holman, Major S. P. Heintzelman, Captain J. N. Caldwell, Col. C. A. Waite, up to 1861. During the occupancy of the fort by the Confederacy we do not know the names of the various officers in command of Colonel Lawhon that a party of Confederate soldiers, about twenty-five in number, under the command of Major Alexander, pursued and captured eight men and a boy who were making their way to Mexico, and when they caught them, hanged them to a tree a few miles south of Bandera. This occurred in 1863. The story as related to the writer by men who professed to know, is about as follows:

This party of men, not caring to take sides in the great struggle that was being waged between the North and South, left their homes in Williamson county and started to Mexico. They were well provided with good mounts, were heavily armed, possessed several hundred dollars in cash, and were fully equipped for the long journey to the neutral republic on the otherside of the Rio Grande. These eight men and boy passed through Bandera and stopped in this town for a day or two, resting their horses and buying such supplies as they needed for the trip. They did not make any secret of their destination or the cause of their going, but openly stated that they were on their way to Mexico. When it became known at Camp Verde that this party of men were in the country and going to Mexico, a detachment of twenty-five men under the command of Major Alexander set out to apprehend them. When the detachment reached Bandera the men had gone on, but they were overtaken on Squirrel Creek, below Hondo, and were promised a fair and impartial trial by court martial if they would surrender. They gave up their arms and in company with the soldiers started back, little dreaming that they would never see another sun rise. When the party reached the Julian, a few miles south of Bandera late in the afternoon they went into camp for the night. After supper some of the men suggested that they hang the prisoners right there. Others opposed such outrageous action, but those opposing were overruled, and some of them left the camp, refusing to have anything to do with the crime or even witnessing it. The officer in command seemed to give his consent, and the unfortunate prisoners were hanged, one at a time, to a live oak tree. A hair rope was used, and as each man was strangled to death, he was cut down, the noose left on his heck, and another pulled up to strangle slowly. One of the prisoners requested that he be shot, and his request was granted. He was shot through with a full charge, the ramrod being left in the gun and penetrated through his body. Joseph Poor was not far from the scene of the wholesale murder that night, but did not hear the disturbance. Next morning he went out to look for his horses that had strayed away from his camp, and he came upon the bodies of the men. Seeing the ramrod protruding from the body of one of the men he mistook it for an arrow, and thought the men had been slain by the Indians. He hastened to Bandera and gave the alarm, and a party of citizens went to the scene of the murder, and found the bodies of eight men lying scattered about, but as they had been left. An inquest was held and a verdict rendered, attaching blame on the major and his party. A shallow grave was dug, and the eight bodies, wrapped in blankets, were placed in it and covered with dirt and stones. The boy who was with the party was taken away by the murderers, and what became of him is not known. After the war ended, and courts were again functioning, the men responsible for this crime were indicted by a Bandera county grand jury, but all had disappeared, and they were never brought to trial, although the case was continued from term to term. The court records of Bandera county will reveal the names of those men who stood charged with the crime of murdering helpless prisoners.

In after years a monument was erected over the grave of the murdered men, and it stands there today, in an out-of-the-way place, in a lonely thicket. Inscribed on the tombstone are the names of the men as follows: "C. J. Sawyer, W. M. Sawyer, George Thayer, William Shumake, Jack Whitmire, Jake Kyle, John Smart, Mr. Van Winkle. Died July 23, 1863." In its seclusion the grave is never disturbed, while in the springtime wild flowers grow and bloom over the mound, songbirds make melody in the nearby trees, and the soft

On October 6, 1941, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adamietz were the proud parents of a boy who was to become one of the very outstanding Seniors of 1959. This brown-haired gentleman, who stands 5'10" and weighs 185 pounds, is one of the leading organizers of such functions as the FFA and the Annual Staff. He is a business manager for the Annual Staff and has been a member of the FFA for four years. Raymond "Doc" Adamietz is a very jovial and intelligent Senior. As an athlete, he is an invaluable participant in such sports as football, track, and volleyball. He has played football and volleyball for two years and run track for two years also.

"Doc" has many outside activities among which is working at the theater. He also spends a lot of time hunting, fishing, swimming, and reading. With so many hobbies he seldom gets bored and has a lot of clean fun besides.

As another wonderful Senior leaves Bandera High, all eyes are cast in Raymond's direction, wishing him success and all the happiness which God has made possible to His faithful servants. Best of everything to the boy voted Most-Intelligent Boy of the Senior class, Raymond J. Adamietz!

THIRD GRADE NEWS

Never before have so many third graders had so much to celebrate. Not only did they have Mother's Day to be excited about—and all third graders do love their mothers—but two of them had birthdays, too.

Nancy Greff went to her grandfather's home and had fun with her cousins. They made corsages for their mothers out of blue bonnets. Someone presented Nancy with a lovely birthday cake and on the way home her brother fell into it.

Alieta Roberts had a birthday, too. Her family went to San Antonio for the day. They went through the Museum and spent some time at Playland. Alieta said that she and "Irnie" Walton had the most fun in the "House of Horrors." This is the only time we can think of that Irnie didn't giggle.

Jeanne Meginnis had her grandparents as her Sunday guests. A lot of aunts and uncles came too, to celebrate Mother's Day.

Raymond Pawvlik's mother and dad had the right idea. They went fishing—without the children—and came back with a lot of fish.

Eugene Johnson's mother got a well deserved rest, too. His dad took the boys to the river where they had a wonderful time swinging into the water from a tree branch and racing under water.

Mosa Reeves' uncle came for the week-end. They had barbecued chicken outdoors one evening. A "stinging worm" hurt Pepper's foot and "he didn't like it one little bit." Mona put cool water on his foot.

Only one more week until our final exams. Goodbye from the third graders until next year.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

The next spotlight focuses on a pretty little redhead who was born August 24, 1941, in Bandera. Janice Jo Ruede is a very busy Senior, serving as vice-president of the Pup-Pets and being active in the Catholic Youth Society, FHA, and Misteenas. In 1958 she was a cheerleader and was elected Football Sweetheart of 1958. She played tennis for two years and was a member of the volleyball team two years, baseball one year and was a 4-H member one year. She was also Junior Class Favorite last year, which proves her popularity with the student body of BHS.

Janice is 5-feet 2 and has brown eyes and very red hair. People with red hair are usually thought to be high-tempered, but this is certainly not the case with Janice. She has a sweet disposition and is nearly always laughing, even at her own mistakes, which are few. For this Senior we can be thankful, for a good "mixer" is always in demand.

The students and faculty of Bandera High wish Janice Jo Ruede success and happiness in all she undertakes, for it couldn't happen to a nicer girl.

THE RINGS ARE HERE

Monday was a milestone for the juniors. The rings are here. They are loose. They are snug fitting. They're beautiful. And, above all, they mean that the juniors will soon be seniors and before many months have passed they, too, will be Bandera Hi Exes.

There was quite a scramble in the junior room on Monday morning when the good news got out, and lots of hand waving as happy juniors called attention to their new rings.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

If ever the term "a real good guy" could perfectly describe a person, such is the case with our spotlighted senior this week. He has gone to school in Bandera all twelve years and has participated in many sports and other activities. In high school for instance, he played in the band for three years, volleyball three years, softball for three years, and football for three years. This year he was an outstanding basketball player for Bandera when his six foot height proved to be a great asset. Also this year, he was an outstanding tennis participant, as he has been in the past three years. Other activities of this likable youth include the FFA and the Annual Staff.

Our "good guy" was born January 19, 1941, in Bandera. Since that time, he has grown to be a valuable member of his class. He is very cooperative and is a willing worker who does his share of whatever work needs to be done. For this cooperative characteristic, the Senior class is grateful. It is only through students such as this that a desire for accomplishment may be fulfilled.

Everyone wishes the best of luck to a real swell person, James Herrera.

SENIOR SCOOP

Last Wednesday the A&M Club gave the Seniors of Bandera County a barbecue at the Agriculture Center. They served cold drinks, delicious barbecue, beans, and potato salad. All of the seniors and guests enjoyed themselves immensely, and especially enjoyed the food.

Last Thursday night the Senior Class presented the two one-act plays. There was a large crowd to see "They're None of Them Perfect" and the hilarious "Quiet Please." The Seniors made over $115 on the play. The success of the play is largely due to hard work of the students, both on-stage and back-stage, and the supervision and kindness of Mrs. Raymond Hicks.

After the play, the Seniors and some guests went to Dottie Vaught's for a party. Delicious cake and punch were served and everyone had a wonderful time talking over the play and past experiences.

BAND BLAB

For the last article of the year, a summary of the band activities of the past school term is now presented.

On October 18, the band journeyed to Austin to participate in the celebrated Band Day Parade. The band has been participating in this festivity for a number of years; each year on the way to Austin the busses have stopped at Landa Park in New Braunfels. There the students changed clothes and ate picnic lunches. After marching in the parade and attending a Longhorn football game they again headed homeward. On December 5th, the band attended the marching contest at Pearsall where they received a third division rating. A quartette of majorettes—Duts Frerich, Carol Anne Vaughn, Vera Alguseva, and Sarah Shipstine—received a first for their twirling ensemble.

The date of December 13th found a number of the band members at Fredericksburg for All District Band tryouts. Those who made All District were the following: Elvera Alguseva, Dottie Vaughn, Marilyn Ritcheson, Lon Cottingham, and Marlene Leibold. From District, Dottie Vaughn was sent to compete in Regional tryouts.

A Spring Concert was given on Thursday, March 5th. The next Saturday the band went to a band clinic and street parade at Brady.

From the Interscholastic League Contest, held this year in San Antonio, the Bulldog Band returned triumphant; they are now displaying in the new trophy case a plaque for First Division Rating in Sightreading and Contest.

On May 5 the band presented a program of music for the Fine Arts Club meeting in the High School Gymnasium.

Last Tuesday majorette and drum majorette tryouts were held and the results were announced at the annual End-of-school Concert which the Band presented at the football field on Tuesday night.

Thus concludes the schedule for the Bandera Bulldog Band of 1959.

RESULTS OF DISTRICT 27-A

Approximately 200 students took part in the softball tournament held in the Bandera East Saturday. Although a slight rain made one field slippery, the tournament proceeded as scheduled on two available diamonds. The proposed diamonds were flooded and could not be used.

Three divisions were played, which included high school girls, elementary boys and elementary girls.

High-School Girls—First place, Schertz-Cibolo; Second place, Bandera; Third place, Southside; Fourth and Girls—First place, Southwest; Second place, Southside 5&6; Third place, Schertz-Cibolo; Fourth place, Southside 7&8.

Elementary Boys — First and Second places to be played off between Blanco and Southside; Third place, Thelma of Southside.

Coach Waldrum served as Director in the absence of Mr. Tatsch who was sick.

Coach expresses his appreciation for the fine officiating done at the tournament. Raymond Hicks and Jimmy Britt, served as umpires behind the plate all day while Roger Ramos, Kenneth Kalka and Earl Keese served as base umpires.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

One of the pleasant members of this year's senior class is Eloise Hilbun. This blue-eyed, brown-haired girl has been with the class since the first grade and during that time she has become well-known for her sweet disposition.

Eloise, was born in Bandera on August 1, 1941, and since that time she has been a great fan of sports. She has played basketball for four years, volleyball for three years, and softball for two years. She has been active in the Pup-Pets for two years and in the Future Homemakers of America for four years.

Eloise likes to swim, dance, and cook and she is quite good in these pastimes.

As the end of school draws near, we wish that happiness follows you in all your paths, Eloise.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Few people have contributed to the success of the Senior Class of '59 as consistently as has the subject of this spotlight. Born in Cotulla, Texas, on September 28, 1940, she must have begun to "grow up" at a very early age; otherwise, how could she be such a perfect lady" at this stage of the game? That's right—She is our own Frances Waguespack, pride of the people of Lockhart, claimed her for a time.

While Frances was a student of Lockhart High, she was active in FHA and served on the annual staff, as extra-curricular activities. We are sure, too, that she has been active in all types of sports since her earliest school days and that various groups have profited from her superior abilities in Interscholastic League contests.

From the day Frances joined this senior class, she has been one of its most popular as well as most reliable members—and the two do not always go hand-in-hand. Listing her specific honors does not present the full picture of this young woman; although that list does include signal accomplishments. She was elected to the National Honor Society at the close of the first semester of her junior year and is one of the "top three" in the Senior Class of 1959, scholastically speaking. The volley ball teams have claimed her attention during two seasons, and the editors of The Bulldog have used her experience in a number of ways. At the resignation of Patsy Bergman D'Spain as class secretary, Frances was unanimously elected to that office and automatically became School Daze reporter for the second semester.

Her ability to organize and direct adult projects has been proved by her very effecient work in the office of the high school principal and by the adroit manner in which she served as student director in the one-act play presentation.

Frances' interests are almost too numerous to mention—a fact which is proof that she is a well-rounded person—mentally, physically, socially, and spiritually. One day she is a "tom-boy"; the next, a gracious young woman. Today, she enters wholeheartedly into group activities; tomorrow, she finds her greatest pleasure in quiet solitude.

What the future holds for Frances is a matter for conjecture because her interests include several unusual fields of work; but we are sure of one thing—whatever she does will be done well because she believes in staying true to her best self, whatever the cost.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

On February 20, 1941, in Bandera, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Richardson became the parents of what is now a lovely 5-foot 2 high brunette Senior girl. Before entering high school, Gracie's activities included being head cheerleader for the Little Olympics, participating in Public School Week programs, and joining the Bulldog Band.

Upon entering high school her interests broadened even further to include FHA—serving as secretary, participating in their Vaudeville Show, and obtaining her Junior and Chapter Degrees—FTA—serving as Historian—volleyball, and softball teams and Annual Staff work.

Gracie was elected majorette for the Bulldog Band Junior and Senior years and has become a very apt twirler and a great asset to the band. When the two subjects, Grace and twirling, are mentioned, one naturally thinks of two certain games in the 1957 football season when Gracie was featured at halftime with her fire baton routines. She has proven herself as a very skilled twirler with both regular and fire batons, although in her Senior year Gracie had the misfortune of having a broken wrist for the first nine weeks of football season and was not able to perform until the last game of the year.

The dignified beauty of this Senior is recognized by the fact that she has been asked to pose for pictures in an advertisement campaign for Bandera.

Gracie has definitely decided the path she will take in her future—for in June of this year she is to become Mrs. Wilburn Strey. From everyone in BHS, "Best wishes for a life filled with happiness and success to a most deserving girl!"

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

One of the busiest seniors in Bandera High is Betty Jane Laskowski. She came to us her freshman year from St. Joseph's Catholic School where she was a member of the Rangerettes and Football Sweetheart of the St. Joseph's Musicaps. During her freshman year she was class secretary and treasurer and was a candidate for FFA Sweetheart. Betty has been very active in sports with a four-year letter in basketball and two years a member of the volleyball and softball teams. She is also very active in other organizations of BHS. She is a member of the Pup-Pets, this year's president of FHA and FTA, and in her church, president of the Catholic Youth.

Besides having her hands full with school activities, Betty still finds time to sew. In 1956, she was a winner in the "Make-it-Yourself Wool Contest" and a winner in the "Singer Sewing Contest." Betty won state in 4-H and attended the Dallas State Fair where she modeled her dress. She is also a Gold-Star Winner in 4-H.

During her Junior year, she was chosen to attend the Bluebonnet Girl's State.

Right now, Betty hadn't has time to think of anything except that big day which is coming—May 28. All the seniors wish you much happiness in the future, Betty.

HOMEMAKING CLASSES PRESENT LOVELY VERSATILE FASHIONS

The homemaking classes of Bandera High School presented a 30 minute style show in the school auditorium, Friday, May 8.

Fall fashions were featured in the first scene with twenty-four girls modeling garments consisting of matching skirts and blouses, date, and school dresses and "go-together" separates. A large backdrop of greenery provided the background for the entire show. A small pumpkin filled with bronze chrysanthemums and a mock corn shock of wheat, courtesy of Mrs. Lona Jackson and Mrs. Bill Short added to the greenery to represent the fall season.

The second scene bore fashions of the winter months. Nine girls from the Homemaking II and III classes modeled wool skirts and suits. Margaret Ann Callahan modeled the suit which won second place for her in the suit division of the Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool Contest in January. Duts Frerich modeled her suit-dress which won first place for her in the dress division of the same contest. A large snowman on the stage gave the scene a touch of the winter season.

The third scene decorated only with the large backdrop of greenery featured dresses, and matching skirts and blouses modeled especially for the Spring season. Twenty-one girls modeled their garments in this scene.

The last scene depicting the summer months featured both school and date dresses, matching skirts and blouses, and sportswear. Twenty girls modeled the garments they had made in their homemaking classes. This scene was decorated by the large backdrop of greenery, a large beach umbrella, courtesy of Joleta Guest Ranch, and a mock beach ball.

Recorded background music for the models was provided through the courtesy of Jack Jones.

Between the scene acts included two songs "Winter Wonderland" and "Pickin' Time" by Sandy Mott, Marilyn Ritcheson and Carole Hardin. A mock style show was presented between acts by Carolyn Bruce, Ruth Brown, Connie Lindley and Rose Stricker.

Narrators for the Style Show were Janis Meginnis and Duts Frerich.

The Style Show was sponsored by Miss Ada Pierson, Homemaking teacher.

BREITS QUIETLY CELEBRATE 50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Breit, highly esteemed couple of Bandera and San Antonio, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary quietly here last Friday. This beloved couple are making big plans to really celebrate their anniversary in July when they will have all their family together.

Mr. and Mrs. Breit were married on May 15, 1909, in Prescott, Arizona, as that time he was employed at Tuscon, Arizona. Mrs. Breit has been a lifetime machinist for over fifty-six years. He started out by learning to set type on a German newspaper, the "Staats-zeitung", published in the late 1800's and early 1900's in San Antonio. He has worked over most of the United States. He tells an amusing story of being in New York seeking a job, when his knowledge of German secured him a job setting type in German there. He worked for the Mergenthaler Company for many years and for many years was employed on the San Antonio Light in San Antonio.

With the years the Breit's were blessed with happiness and three fine, brilliant sons. The eldest, General John M. Breit resides in Washington. He is married and the father of one son, William, who is a cadet at West Point. General Breit, following in the footsteps of his famous grandfather, a general in the Prussian Army of Bismark, chose the military as his career. When conditions worsened in Germany during the Bismark regime, General's Breit's grandfather and grandmother left Germany to bring their family to America, the Land of the Free, to rear them here. They never returned to their native land and the Breit family have been in ...

MEDINA ROSE GARDEN CLUB INSTALLS OFFICERS

Mrs. Sue Suttle's ranch home was the inviting and delightful covered dish luncheon, enjoyed by members of the Rose Garden Club Wednesday, May 11, Mrs. Otis Armstrong was co-hostess to the fifteen members and three guests present.

This was the first meeting of the garden club's 1959-1960 year, so immediately following the luncheon the president, Mrs. Paul Garrison, called the meeting to order and the new officers were installed. Mrs. A. J. Flowers very ably conducted the installation ceremonies, pinning lovely and various colored corsages on each of the incoming officers. The theme of the ceremony was the planting of a garden which was very clever and appropriate for a garden club installation. There were four rows of peas: Presence, Promptness, Preparation and Preservance; three rows of squash: Gentle Indifference, Critism; four rows of lettuce: Obey Rules and Regulations, Be True to Our Obligations, Faithful to duties, Loyal to Officers, and Love One Another; four rows of turnips: For Meeting, With a Smile, With New Ideas, With Determination.

Have your trash in suitable containers where it can be easily collected. Saturday, June 13—Flowers by the Yard contest. You should be planting and grooming your yards for this event. The Garden Club will be glad to co-operate in any way they can in the clearing and maintenance of Moffet Park, in order to make it more pleasing and available to the public.

The club is justly proud of some of their members who have studied and worked hard to attain the status of Accredited Junior Flower Show Judges. During the past year Mrs. J. D. Latta has been asked to judge three shows; Mrs. Paul Garrison, two, and Mrs. E. E. Jackson, one.

The club decided to cancel meetings during June and July. The next regular meeting will be August 12, when the Medina club will be hostess in Medina to the Hill Country Garden Council. Place will be announced later.

EXAMINATIONS FOR FOREIGN SERVICE OFFICERS SET FOR DECEMBER 5, 1959

The United States Department of State will hold its next written Foreign Service Officer Examination on December 5, 1959, in approximately 65 centers throughout the United States and at Foreign Service posts abroad. Early announcement is made in response to inquiries received as a result of the cancellation of the December, 1958, examination. In announcing the examination the Department is seeking to interest undergraduate and graduate students who have studied in such fields as economics, public and business administration, language and area studies, history and political science.

To be eligible to take this examination, candidates must be at least 21 and under 32 years of age as of December 10, 1959. Persons 20 year of age may also apply if a college graduate or a senior in college. They must be citizens of at least 9 year's standing. Although a candidate's spouse need not be a citizen on the date of the examination, citizenship must have been obtained prior to the date of appointment.

Candidates who are successful in the one-day written examination, which tests their facility in English expression, general ability and background, will subsequently be given oral examinations by panels which will meet in regional centers throughout the United States. Fluency in a language, while not an examination requirement, must be attained before an officer can advance in the Service. Those candidates who pass the oral test will then be given a physical examination and a background investigation. If found qualified in all respects, candidates will be placed on a register and appointments will be made therefrom as needed, in the order of examination scores. The names of candidates failing to receive appointments within 30 months from the date of the written examination will be removed from this register. Upon appointment, the candidate will receive three commissions from the President—as Foreign Service Officer Class 8, as Secretary in the Diplomatic Service, and as Vice Consul of Career.

A newly appointed Foreign Service Officer may serve his first four of duty either in the Department's headquarters in Washington, D. C., or at one of the 286 American Embassies, Legations and Consulates abroad. The new officer may be assigned to several functions to give him varied training and experience in consular work, in administrative assignments, including ones in the accounting and management fields, and in political, economic, international finance and commercial reporting.

The starting salary for the newly appointed Foreign Service Officers ranges from $5,225 to $8,885 per year, depending upon the qualifications, experience, marital status, and age at the time of appointment. Also, certain allowances, plus insurance, medical, educational and retirement benefits are granted, as well as annual and sick leave.

Application forms and other information may be obtained immediately by writing to the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C. The closing date for receipt of applications is October 15, 1959.

PUBLIC CAN STOP HALF BILLION DOLLAR OBSCENE MAIL TRAFFIC

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield declared today the American public can halt the half-billion-dollar-a-year traffic in mail order obscenity.

Appealing for public support in his intensified war on "barons of obscenity who are knowingly violating our homes and soliciting our children," the Postmaster General said, "the people themselves hold the final answer because they can put these filth merchants out of business."

Mr. Summerfield suggested three steps if obscene mail, or advertisements soliciting its sale, appears unordered in your home mail box:

1. Save all materials received, including the envelopes and all enclosures."

2. Report the matter immediately to your local Postmaster, and turn the materials over to him. (You may mail in your complaint and evidence if you wish.)

3. Stand ready to sign a formal complaint and testify if criminal action should be necessary.

Mr. Summerfield said public cooperation at this time is particularly important because the Federal Government is armed with new law which makes it possible to prosecute mail order filth dealers in local area courts.

Formerly, they could be prosecuted only at the point of origin of this material—usually a few cities where obscene mail dealers have taken sanctuary behind legal technicalities and liberal court interpretations of what is obscene.

Now, under the new law, distributors of obscenity can be prosecuted in the communities where the material is received and where the damage is done, Mr. Summerfield explained.

The Post Office Department," Mr. Summerfield told Congress recently, "is pressing the use of this new legislation to the fullest possible extent. The first case prosecuted following passage of the amended legislation was at Biloxi, Mississippi, and related to mailings made in California and Oregon, addressed for delivery at Gravel Switch, Kentucky. The offenders, a man and his wife, each received a ten year prison sentence and fine. Other cases of similar nature are now pending before United States Attorneys from whom positive reports have been received."

In addition to criminal prosecution, the Post Office Department can take administrative action through its General Counsel's office in many cases by moving to bar smutty materials from the United States mails.

Here, too, prompt public reporting by the public can speed investigation by Postal inspectors and bring about faster corrective action.

In either case—criminal action or administrative procedure—the Post Office Department has a record of thorough, prompt action, Mr. Summerfield noted.

"During the 12 months ending June 30, 1958," he reported, "Postal Inspectors conducted 4,000 separate investigations relating to the mailing of obscene and pornographic matter and caused the arrest of 293 persons. This is an increase of 45 per cent over the previous year and is the highest of recent years. Investigations and prosecutions during the current year to date are substantially higher than those of last year. During the same period of time, fiscal year 1958, the General Counsel issued 92 Unlawful Orders barring use of the mails."

Public complaints are so vital to prosecution, Mr. Summerfield added, because the "filth dealers" take advantage of "one of the nation's most cherished privileges to carry on their smutty business behind the mailbox which is not subject to inspection."

"The American people cannot afford to be complacent about filth in the mails because dealers in smut no longer surreptitiously peddle their catalogs," Mr. Summerfield noted. "They brazenly solicit teenagers and even pre-teen children, sending their material indiscriminately and without conscience into our home mail boxes."

"For example," he continued, "the Post Office Department has cases where teenagers wrote away for auto parts and received lurid 'sex instructions' advertisements; of new graduating classes whose names were taken from newspapers by filth merchants who circularized every member of the class; of youngsters who wrote in for model airplane catalogs, or set of stamps, and later received materials on films portraying sex and disrobing scenes.

Materials offered to youngsters include filthy films and books, and dirty [illegible] slides and records. Other alarming disclosures of the problem also have been reported to Mr. Summerfield by Postal Inspectors. For example, expanding investigations by the Inspectors have developed positive evidence of the deliberate perversion of juveniles by promoters who induced them to pose for nude photographs.

The evidence in one case now pending before a United States Attorney reveals that two 16-year old boys who were employed to pose for the photographs and assist in the filling of orders received in response to ads were subjected to perverted sexual acts by some of the defendants in the case.

Voluminous evidence is also being assembled indicating that correspondence clubs have been formed by men and women who have at first answered ads placed in various magazines soliciting the exchange of letters between "liberal minded persons"." The initial correspondence was relatively innocuous, but the compelling letters became more and more obscene and ultimately after the exchange of obscene photographs, arrangements were made for meetings which eventually became sexual orgies involving as many as 10 couples, some of them husbands and wives with teenage children at home.

Mr. Summerfield added that postal authorities all over the nation have received complaints about obscenity in the mails from leading clergymen, school groups, newspaper editors and alarmed parents.

"I am making this special appeal now," Mr. Summerfield concluded, "because I believe that increasing public awareness of the problem, as well as the new laws and growing cooperation by newspapers and other public media in publicizing the problem have given us an unparalleled opportunity now to eradicate this social and moral blight upon the nation."

We put the light in Your window
Had you come 25 years ago young fellow, your light would have been a kerosene lamp. But your Dad and a lot of other folks like him organized an electric cooperative and built their own electric system. It was the only way we could get electricity in our rural area.
Now you are going to have to help guard it. Some people would have you think the government built the system and gave it to us. That isn't true. We borrowed the money and we are paying back our loan with interest. Our cooperative is a business managed, tax paying partnership and we are happy to welcome you as a member. Because the Cooperative brought electricity to your farm you'll lead a healthier, happier life.
Grow strong young fellow. You'll want a light in the window some distant night when your son comes into the world.

Outcome of Labor Department regulations proposed by Secretary of Labor Mitchell, demain in doubt, with indications that if adopted they will be overhauled and watered down. Rumor that the proposed regulations are to be scrapped was denied last week when I asked the Department about it.

Mounting opposition from all over the country to the Secretary's effort to impose minimum wage standards, and other controls never authorized by Congress, has been effective with the ultimate outcome still uncertain.

Two months ago I joined with 40 other Congressmen in a protest march on the Labor Department, where I and three or four other spokesmen for the group aired our objections to Secretary Mitchell. Secretary of Agriculture reportedly was displeased by the Labor Department plans, and Vice President Nixon was said to be dubious. Thus the White House got into the picture, and final action may depend upon what the President thinks about it. In the meantime, the Attorney General is considering the legality of the regulations as drafted.

Will Puerto Rico become the 51st state? A plebiscite on the Island's future relationship to the U. S., to be held soon, will sound out the islanders' desires on (1) independence, (2) continued Commonwealth status, or (3) statehood. Regardless of the outcome, the Congress will have the last word.

As it is, Puerto Rico enjoys a tremendous federal income taxes to pay and unlimited emigration to the states. Under those special privileges upwards of a million Puerto Ricans have come to the U. S. since World War II, while many U. S. industries have moved there to prosper under the island's tax-exemption program. Last year 91 U. S. manufacturing companies decided to establish plants in Puerto Rico.

Personally, I prefer independence for Puerto Rico, with military bases reserved, and the islanders' go-after statehood they may get it in view of the precedents recently established.

Recent visitors include Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Loeffler and their daughter and son-in-law — Maj. and Mrs. J. E. Howell, of Junction; General Al Lucedece of Eldorado, now general manager of the Atomic Energy Commission; Col. BANDERA PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT, MAY 19

As President of the Bandera Parent Teacher Association, it has been my harsest endeavor to promote the Objects and carry out an interesting, informative program. According to Walter Chrysler, "There is no such thing as a big job. Any job, regardless of size can be broken down into small jobs, which when done, complete larger jobs." So it has been with my President and this Unit. The cruglit for this report properly goes to each active Member of the Executive Board, Standing and Special Committee Chairmen, Teachers, Room Representatives, Elected Officers, and Members who have put their best efforts into the work. Actually this is your report! Mine has been the rewarding privilege of working with treasured friends who cheerfully accepted and did their jobs well.

My only regret is that more PTA Members have not shared the experiences of the Parent Teacher Association. If they had, there would be no doubt of the worth of our Public School. I shall ever be hopeful of the devoted people in the educational field. Sound school and community relations are based on mutual understanding, confidence, and goodwill. Fault-finders as well as fact-finders can well be proud of our School.

Our programs have followed the State Theme: "Education is Life in the Making." All of the talent in these programs has been local. The Public School Music Department, under the direction of John Sommer, has been on 5 of the 8 programs. The Cub Scouts, Pack 146, under the direction of Russel Zickler, Cubmaster, presented one program.

We gave one Life Membership. Mrs. E. R. Teel, in her usual spontaneous, gifted way responded to make us justified of our pride in one who gives so generously of herself to all of us.

There are 367 members of the PTA this year, an increase of 147 over last year. Mrs. Jerry Horsman, Membership Chairman, did a fine job!

I have driven my car a total of 1,070 miles in performing my duties for the association this year. That includes presiding at 7 regular meetings, all Executive Committee meetings, attendance at 7th District Conference at Brady, all "Looking in on Our School" courses, all money making projects, and many committee meetings. I met with and appointed a new Cub Scout Pack Committee for their Charter renewal.

Study Course certificates were issued to 30 for the 3 courses presented. Only one other Unit in 7th District had as many. Bouquets to Mrs. Joe Munsch for being the only member of the PTA to earn all three certificates in our studies on Pre-school, Red Cross First Aid, and "Looking in on Our School!"

Our Health Chairman and her committee had the Summer Roundup for children entering school the first time. Also a dental check-up for all students. She cooperated with other agencies in securing a swimming and life saving instructor, local March of Dimes, and Civil Defense.

Special recognition should go to A. B. Lewis for accepting the Citizenship Chairmanship on the District Board.

The Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Geo. Bradley, Chairman, has served delicious refreshments on beautiful table settings after each meeting.

At this time we hope to complete our Scoreboard Fund.

We are sponsoring the organization of a more complete Preschool group.

We are sponsoring the improvement of the Public School Library. No money has been raised specifically for this project, though some books have been donated by individual Members of the PTA.

We have started a movement to secure a Book Mobile for our community.

I wish to express my happiness at having the privilege of serving as your President, my thankfulness for all the helping hands and sincere gratefulness for all of you who have been interested in the Parent Teacher Association.

Respectfully submitted,
Mrs. O. O. Evans, President

BOYLE'S

BREIT

America for over one hundred years.

Their next son, Harlan Breit, is following in his father's footsteps and is one of the foremost linotype machinists in the 909th. He is married and the father of four children. Three daughters, Gene, Linda and Shelley, and just recently their first son, Martin, named for his grandfather, was born. They reside in San Antonio, but visit in Bandera often.

With every happiness there comes sorrow, and the Breits still grieve for the son, Eugene, who was shot down over the Pacific during 1945, when General MacArthur was attempting to re-take the Philipines. Though he is not with them in person, he still lives in their hearts—the boy who went away, never to return in this life.

Since his retirement, Mr. and Mrs. Breit spend much time in Bandera at their cottage. They are happy, interesting people. They work in their yard where the flowers are blooming. Mr. Breit has his machine shop where he makes many things. They spend much time fishing and as Mrs. Breit loves to bowl too, she goes in to San Antonio where she has been a member of the San Antonio Bowling Club for nearly a half century. Recently the club honored her with a lovely dinner on her membership of forty-seven years.

Friday evening Don Nugent, executive secretary, spoke to the educators at a dinner session. He emphasized the responsibilities of school boards.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Locklin and son, Pat, have enjoyed having their family at home for a visit for the past few days. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Locklin left Tuesday for Dallas to visit relatives before going on to their home in Vista, California. Hal Locklin of Comfort and Miss Joan Cherry of Houston were also guests during the week-end. Hal has accepted a position as refrigeration serviceman with the Chester Schwethelm Company in Comfort.

MRS. J. MANLEY REYNOLDS PRESENTS PUPILS IN RECITAL

An appreciative and larger than average audience heard the organ and piano pupils of Mrs. J. Manley Reynolds in recital Monday night, May 18, 7:45 p.m. at the First Baptist Church auditorium.

The theme of the musical hour was "Tone Fantasy," symbolized by huge treble cleffs and musical notes glittered vividly on silver, a life size piano keyboard and the glittered theme lettered in, all accented by two lime green decorators panels on the huge wine colored velvet curtains in the front of the church.

Artificial "clouds of vapor" floted out of the keyboard and spread artistically through the symbols of this arrangement.

The floral centerpiece of red roses in a golden urn was set against one of the lime green panels.

Red geraniums completed the floral setting and casually placed floor and table lamps gave light for the playing area while a violet spot highlighted the decoration theme.

The feminine performers wore formals and the boys were dressed for the occasion.

The program opened with a moment of prayer, then Mrs. Reynolds presented the theme and introduced the pupils.

Marjorie Brown opened the performance period with three piano numbers, "Long, Long Ago" by Thomas Bayly, "To Cecilia" and "Evening Bells," arrangements by John Thompson. "Folk Song," a Spanish Melody was played on the organ by Rita Brooks. Three numbers by Sandra Walthrun, "In The Alps," John Thompson, "On Top of Old Smoky" and "Rock, Rocking", D. F. E. Auber, "Minuet," J. S. Bach were offered on piano. There followed "Long, Long Ago," Thomas Bayly, on organ by Rita Brooks, "Country Gardens," an Old English tune, "Shirtenin' Bread," a Thompson arrangement of the old negro melody, "Bill Grogan's Goat," a humoresque for left hand, arranged by Thompson, all played on piano by Dicky Hicks.

The lovely "At Dawning," Charles Wakefield Cadman, and "Starlight Waltz, C. S. Brainard, played as piano solos by Nancy Johnson, were followed by a vocal solo by Marjorie, Brown, "Beautiful Beachen" by Foster, and Harold Brooks gave the gay "Castanet Song" from Carmen on the organ with Rita Brooks next using the piano to present Thema from Liebestraum, No. 3, "A Dream of Love", Franz Liszt and the Russian Gypsy song, "Dark Eyes."

There was a "Station Break" at this point used up by a guest artist. Little boy recital numbers, "Greenwich Witch", Zez Confrey, the Richard Harkness hymn, "Sunshine" and a "harped" rendition of "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" on plucked piano strings. After the hostess' coaxed encore, "Tinkle Tinkle" the informal proceedings were resumed.

First in the second half, Harold Brooks offered on organ "Theme" from Symphony No. 5 by Beethoven. The Impressive C Minor Piano Concerto by Rachmaninoff provided a difficult "Theme" and "Musetta's Waltz Song" from La Boh'eme by Puccini an encore interpreted on the piano by Patricia Johnson.

On the organ, Harold Brooks played "Theme" from B flat minor Concerto by Tchaikowsky and the Latin American Folk Song, "La Cucaracha." On piano, Charles Hicks gave the difficult and beautiful Beethoven "Minuet in G." A medley of Strauss Waltzes, "Tales of the Vienna Woods," "Blue Danube," "Roses from the South," "Wine, Women and Song," "Emperor Waltz," "Tritsch Tratsch Polka" and "Artist's Life" completed the program.

Mrs. Lora Hulter using the organ interpreted "Serenade," Braga; "Romance," Rubenstein, and the "Angelus," Elleg Long and Horne, Teschner. The Rodgers and Hammerstein "You'll Never Walk Alone" came from Bonnie Mansfield at the organ and still using organ, Jeanine Hicks presented "Meditation" from Thais by Massenet.

The program came to a close with a beautiful offering of "Nature's Hymn of Praise" from "The Lost Chord", by Sir Arthur Sullivan played by Jeanine Hicks at the organ and Bonnie Mansfield at piano.

Following the musical, refreshments were served in the educational building with Mrs. Reynolds and pupils as hostesses. "Fantasy Punch" and cake was served from a table covered with lace, a centerpiece of green touched up with poppies of many colors and pink candles. Carol Hardin and Jean Daniels presided at the serving table.

THIS IS OUR TOWN

By Jinny

Lovely showers again visited our town Wednesday night, "amid crashes of thunder and bright lightning," about 1½ inches fell. Gardens and fields as well as the country side generally were greatly benefited. Bandera County is a beautiful garden spot now with rich grasses, full foliaged trees, sparkling streams teeming with fish, and a peaceful, interesting vacation for the whole family.

* * Farmers and ranchers have wonderful crops, fat livestock and a wonderful outlook for 1959-1960.

* * Memorial services will take place in the Bandera cemetery on May 30, at 10 o'clock in the morning. Listed among those interred in the cemetery, during the year up to that date are: Mrs. Charles Robison, Mrs. Emma Hicks Maczurek, Mrs. Charlie Lewis, Lucretia M. Heinen, Steve H. Shore, Joe Newcomer, Mrs. Lee Risinger, Frank Caffall, Mrs. Dorothy Parker, Erle Mansfield, Mrs. W. E. Earl, Abraham Ybarra, J. C. Callahan, Mrs. Audrey Mae Michel, Mrs. John Gething, Monroe Wier, Mrs. Ethel Ostman, Mrs. Ezra Chipman, Mrs. Dave Palmer, J. F. Newcomer, C. R. Hutcheson, Lester Clark, and Emmit Chipman. Other Bandera residents who have gone on were: Walter Buck interred in Pipe Creek cemetery; Ben Luther Hodges, interred in Midland; Mrs. Amelia Elizabeth Stein, interred in Catholic cemtery; Mrs. Theodore Lee, interred in Catholic cemetery. If the life story of each of these good people was written, it would read like a romance. They lived, worked, played and knew the joys and sorrows, large and small. Each is greatly missed from a wide circle of dear family and friends.

* * * During the course of a day, week and month, many nice people call at the office. Recent new subscriber to the Bandera Bulletin includes Claybourne-Smith, who is now associated with Horsman Motors. We welcome Mr. Smith to our ever growing list of friends.

* * * Recently we asked Harold Brooks for a good hand cream. He immediately recommended his special formula hand cream which we have used—it is delightful and very effective. If you have detergent hands, we can recommend Brooks Special Hand Cream, and ivory soap.

* * * We love to have letters from our friends, and do receive many during the course of a week. We follow the rule, "If I cannot say something good about a person, I do not say anything." So, if you cannot say something good about the people you live, work and play with, do not send your anonymous letters to the Bandera Bulletin. They will not be published. If you want to talk about your friends, and have the intestinal fortitude, tell them in person.

* * * Graduation exercises are shedding the spotlight this week, as one of the largest classes ever to graduate from Bandera High makes ready to march down the aisle. Butter-nose fine boys and girls will receive diplomas, some of young men and women graduating from the Medina High School this year, nine in this group. Our congratulations to our fine young men and women.

* * * Friends here are deeply concerned about Mrs. Allene Fitzgerald, who is in the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. We pray that she will soon be well and restored to her family.

* * * Mrs. R. L. Stevens, Home Demonstration Agent, is conducting a series of successful sewing classes, which are being well attended and beneficial.

* * * Our thought for the day: Wm Sayo—"To stay youthful, stay useful." and "Of all the lunacies that earth can boast, the one that must please the devil most is pride reduced to the most whimsical terms of causing the bugs to despise the worms."—Brooks.

* * * Bye for now * * *

FARM BUREAU PRESIDENTS' DRIVE FOR BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD MEMBERS

Taylor Wootton, President of the Bandera County Farm Bureau, announced a President's Drive for more Blue Cross-Blue Shield members. All applications for the drive must be in the hands of the Bandera County Farm Bureau by June 11th.

A special enrollment meeting will be held May 29 in Bandera Court House. The County Farm Bureau treasury will receive an extra bonus if the County meets its quota of thirty applications.

The Texas Farm Bureau, working with Blue Cross and Blue Shield, has offered a program of prepaid hospital and medical-surgical care since June 1, 1944. This program was, and still is, based on a deep conviction that farm families have an great a need for prepaid health care as any one. With the cooperation of Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas, it has been possible for the Farm Bureau to obtain such a program on terms that are equal to, and in some instances, better than, similar plans being offered groups in industrial firms. The present program offers to its Farm Bureau members the finest prepaid health protection that has ever been made available to them.

In participating in this program the Farm Bureau is joining with over 86 million other people who have chosen Blue Cross as the most satisfactory prepaid hospital care available. Hospital costs have been steadily increasing, and with other living expenses, and more than most other services for reasons that are peculiar to the special job that the hospital does. The hospital is open 24 hours a day, every day, offering to its patients the most modern of equipment and all, or most, of the newest drugs and techniques that have become available.

Budgeting for prepaid health care has become the accepted method of spreading the risk of hospital costs, together with the major portion of the bill for doctors' services. One hundred twenty million Americans now have some kind of prepaid health care and in Texas, one million one hundred fifty-seven thousand of these carry Blue Cross-Blue Shield prepaid protection.

A DARING SCOUNDREL OF THE 1859's

"Speaking of adventure and bad men of the early days," said an aged citizens of San Antonio a few years ago, "the most brilliant, natural-born scoundrel I have ever known was a fellow by the name of Parker H. French who carried on his operations through Texas in 1850. It was while the California gold excitement was at its heighth that French came through San Antonio. He hailed from New Orleans and his business was the organization and conduct of a caravan across the plains to California. It was a time when everybody wanted to get to the Eldorado of the Pacific slope and French offered to conduct them across the plains and mountains for $250 furnishing all necessary transportation and supplies. I was a member of that famous expedition.

"I joined at San Antonio. Previous to coming here French had gathered about 400 men and when he left this city he had been joined by about 400 more. The history of this fellow's rascality and adventures forms one of the most romantic chapters in American history. At New Orleans French had forged orders from the war department for all kinds of wagons, teams, provisions and everything necessary for his expedition and these requisitions at the military post had been honored. He had therefore started out with a great train fully stocked with everything requisite for man and beast. He had also forged a number of checks and got them cashed by the New Orleans bankers.

"On his way westward he forged the necessary order for all he needed at the military posts ant from the size of the caravan, his suave and gentlemanly address he found no difficulty in getting everything he needed.

"When he arrived in San Antonio he forged a lot of checks here and bought immense supplies. There were fully 500 men in the caravan when it pulled out of San Antonio for the west.

At Fort Inge, on the Leona, he made requisition for more mules and wagons, which he secured without trouble. How the army officers were thus deceived I do not know but they appeared to be his easiest victims.

"After leaving Fort Inge our train was overtaken by two men, representatives of the New Orleans banks that French had victimized, and forced him to give up a considerable sum of money by the threat that his practices would be exposed to his caravan. The New Orleans people had sent his forged checks to the eastern banks upon which they had been drawn and of course their reply 'no funds' had exposed his fraud. No one in the crowd learned this, however, until long afterward.

"At El Paso he attempted to flog two of his followers and th precipitated a great fight. T forces were about equally divide part favoring French, the re standing up for their comrade French's party were defeated an fled into Mexico. In the fight t bold forger had his right ar shot off and to show the man nerve and endurance, he rode 3 miles into the interior before having his wound dressed.

"I did not hear anything French until a number of yea later I met him in New York. H had come to the United States a the representative of the Walk government of Nicoragua. H mission was to get the United States to recognize the adventure Walker as the head of the Nica raguan government. He was a resident of New York for some ti his numerous forgeries but ou government forced the authoritie to release him as he was the ac credited representative of a friend ly power.

COWBOYS RALLY FOR 7-6 WIN OVER BOERNE SOX

The Bandera Cowboys are making plans, to host Pat's Place of Fredericksburg at 5 p.m. Sunday of the Mayan Ranch Field in Bandera.

The Cowboys, now in a second place tie, will try to seek revenge for an earlier loss to Pat's in the season's opener.

Bandera scored in the first three runs in the ninth inning last Sunday to defeat the Boerne White Sox 7-6 in a Hill Country League thriller at Boerne.

W. O. Hatfield went the distance for the Cowboys to register his second win of the season. Uecker was credited with the loss.

Bandera trailed throughout the game until the ninth as Lindner led off with a line single to right. Hoffman then walked and D'Spain sacrificed but was safe on a wild toss by Uecker to first. The color allowed Lindner to score and Hoffman to be called out in trying to advance home. Applegate then walked and Hatfield hit a sacrifice fly to deep center. Next Garrison punched a double down the left "field, line scoring the tying and winning runs.

Boerne came back strong in the bottom of the ninth as they loaded the bases with two outs and Gombert, the clean-up hitter, at bat. On a two, two pitch Gombert hit a long drive to left of which Enderlon made a fine against the fence catch to end the game.

Two homers were hit in the contest, both by the Sox. In the first, Gombert hit a two run smash and in the third Uecker whacked a three run blast. Garrison banged out two doubles for Bandera.

For an enjoyable afternoon of entertainment come out to the Mayan Ranch Park Sunday and support the home team.

The Bandera Post Office will be closed all day Saturday, in observance of Memorial Day. There will not be any route mail either.

COURT HOUSE WILL CLOSE SATURDAY

In observance of Memorial Day the Bandera Court House will be closed all day Saturday, May 30.

AN ARTISTS DRAWING OF BANDERA'S HANDSOME NEW POST OFFICE

Shown here is an artists drawing of the handsome new post office building that Bandera will have very soon now. The site of the new office has been cleared on the corner of Main Street and East Pecan, across the street from the Court House. Bids will be received for its construction not later than July 20 by V. E. Bell, Regional Real estate Oficer, P. O. Box 1386, Lubbock, Texas, of the Post Office Department.

The plans call for a net space of 3055 square feet, platform space, 264 square feet; driveway, parking, and maneuvering area, 41,69 square feet and 3400 square feet for patron parking.

Those interested in bidding on the construction of the new office may read the advertisement for bids in another part of the Bulletin this week.

BANDERA COUNTY WOOL AND MOHAIR SHOW IS JUNE 6

The Bandera County Wool and Mohair Show will be held June 6 at the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Warehouse. Stanley Davis of College Station will be the judge. Mr. Davis has judged some of the major wool and mohair shows in Texas, such as the Sonora and San Antonio wool and mohair shows.

Entries for the show should be at the warehouse by 5 p.m., on June 5. This will give the show committee time to weigh and enter the fleece in the classes. However, anyone who cannot bring fleeces to the warehouse before June 5 should have the fleeces at the warehouse by 8 a.m., June 6. The show committee will help exhibitors enter fleeces in the proper classes.

Judging contests will be held for juniors and adults.

The junior division will be divided into both juniors and seniors. Juniors are under 13 years of age and seniors are 13 years and old-er. Awards will be given to the high point junior and the high point senior by the Bandera County Farm Bureau.

Ribbons, banners and rosettes for all classes will be sponsored by the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Association.

Adults will judge the same samples of wool and mohair and classes in wool and mohair as the juniors. Adults can check their answers themselves and do not have to show their papers to anyone. This is a good way to check yourself to see if you know the grades of wool and mohair.

It is hoped to have more participation in the adult judging than in the past. Adults are urged to bring entries in both wool and mohair.

Ribbons will be given to adults in all classes. The classes for the adults are the same as those for the juniors. The classes are for range and registered sheep and Angora goats, for yearling and aged.

This promises to be a fine show and interest keeps growing.

Among the interesting features of the show will be the showing of the wardrobes of Miss Margaret Ann Callahan and Miss Mary Kathryn Frerich. Both young ladies were winners in the recent Make It Yourself With Wool contest and their wool garments are lovely.

Remember the date of the Bandera County Wool and Mohair Show, June 6.

HOME-BAKED BREAD IS ITS OWN REWARD

The French have an expression "Eat a Meal of bread with your meal" They must have had in mind a freshly baked loaf of yeast-raised bread still warm from the oven. You'll find baking is rewarding as it is unlikely that any one will be able to resist slice after slice of home-baked bread.

WHITE BREAD

1 cup milk
3 tablespoons sugar
2½ teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup warm, not hot water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
6 cups sifted enriched flour (about)

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; allow until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Add 3 cups of the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place dough in a greased bowl. Brush top lightly with soft shortening. Cover with a towel. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide in half. Shape into loaves; place in greased bread pans (9x5x3 inches). Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until center of loaf is slightly higher than edge of pan, about 1 hour. Bake at 400°F. TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

"TEXAS JOHN" DUVAL

Historian of the Fighting Times

John Crittenden Duval, Kentucky gentleman and Texas' first man of letters, was one of three brothers . . a soldier, a jurist and a writer . . all of whom served the Republic and the State of Texas with honor and distinction. In 1835 the 19-year-old John joined his brother, Captain Burr H. Duval and his company of "Kentucky Mustangs" to fight with Texans against Mexico. The brothers were with Fannin's army when it surrendered to Mexican General Urrea. In the Goliad Massacre on Palm Sunday, 1836, Captain Burr was killed but "Texas John" escaped . . to live in and write about the wilderness places and to become the lifelong friend of Bigfoot Wallace. They were Texas Rangers together, in Jack Hays' company. Although opposed to secession, Duval joined the Confederate Army as a private, refusing a commission.

His importance lies in his writings . . "Early Times in Texas," first published in 1867, "Young Explorers," for boys, And his greatest work, "The Adventures of Bigfoot Wallace, Texas Ranger and Hunter." The cause of freedom in the Southwest was strengthened and recorded for history by "Texas John."

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded heritage of "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

But it is not as a fighter that Duval rendered his greatest service to Texas.

BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT — CONSERVATION — DEVELOPMENT — SELF-GOVERNMENT

H. O. Jenkins of the lower Talpley Road area reports good range improvement on his ranchland since developing his conservation plan in cooperation with the Bandera SCD. Several years ago, one of Mr. Jenkins pastures was a solid cedar brake. Jenkins had the brush cleared from the pasture in 1954 and 1955. This was followed by two years deferment plus spot seeding with K. R. Bluestem and Sideoats grama. At present, this 110 acres pasture is approaching good range condition. The K. R. Bluestem and Sideoats grama have spread rapidly. Native grasses such as Little bluestem, Hairy dropseed and Buffalo grass are on the increase. Jenkins also reports very few undesirable weeds where he has a good grass cover. Production on this pasture has increased 200 per cent, according to Mr. Jenkins, while at the same time erosion has been cut down and valuable soil building organic matter is being restored to the land.

During the past two years Taylor Wootton has cut approximately 275 acres of cedar on the place he leases east of Pipe Creek. He plans to cut an additional 100 acres of cedar this year. Wootton is confident that by clearing the place of cedar while he is leasing it, he can increase grass production enough to pay for the clearing. The brush control is a part of Wootton's conservation play for range improvement developed in cooperation with the Bandera Soil Conservation, District.

The 7-4 ranch near Medina has released 100 pair of Bob-white quail according to Dayton White-head, ranch foreman. This stocking with quail is a part of the T-4's game conservation program being developed in cooperation with the Texas Game and Fish Commission and the Bandera SCD. The conservation plan for the ranch calls for developing all odd areas inside of fields and also parts of several fields into wildlife areas. These areas will provide food and nesting areas for the quail as well as for dove and turkey. Whitehead has already planted a strip of sesame along the border of one field to provide quail and dove food. A field of Milaan clover planted last fall is being allowed to go to seed to provide quail, dove and turkey food. Several large areas in the fields which lie along the creek will be planted to native switch grass for wildlife cover and food during the coming year.

W. P. Jordan has begun to carry out a fish pond improvement program on his place south of Bandera. He has made one application of fertilizer to his pond and intends to fertilize again every week to ten days until the water in his pond reaches the proper coloration for maximum weed control and fish production. Mr. Jordan is being furnished technical assistance in his pond improvement program by Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Bandera SCD.

Don't Get Your Wires Crossed!

Here are the facts . . .

1. The Electric Cooperatives of Texas are a tax paying — business managed — partnership.
2. The money to build the cooperatives was a loan and the interest and the principal are being paid back.
3. For every $1.00 spent on Co-Op lines an estimated $6.00 has been spent by members for electrical appliances, thus the Cooperatives have created and are still creating a multi-billion dollar market for the merchants of Texas and the nation.
4. The Electric Cooperatives of Texas are owned and operated by the people they serve . . . free enterprise in its purest form.

Don't get your wires crossed. It is had not been for the Electric Cooperatives of Texas, many farms and ranches would still be dark. They transformed the rural community. They must continue to serve those areas they helped to develop.

T.S.G.C.L. PRESIDENT SAYS BRITISH WEST INDIANS AVAILABLE

A letter explaining a possible open source of ranch labor has just been mailed to several hundred ranchmen in West Texas.

Lance Seaye, Sweetwater, President of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Association, wrote that a British-West Indian natives would probably be brought in to work on ranches.

"An adequate supply of ranch labor continues to be a problem," he wrote. "Domestic labor is nearly non-existent and the Mexican National program is becoming so involved in red tape and regulations that this source is not dependable. The possibility of securing labor from other areas has been carefully scheduled and investigated by Association officials. It appears that the best program available is offered by the British West Indies."

He said that Harold Edwards, Chief Labor Liaison Officer of the BWI Government, had just spent several days touring the ranch area and that Edwards was of the opinion that the BWI native would fit well into ranch operations.

The natives are of African descent, speak good English and some speak Spanish, he said, and they have been working in the Eastern United States for over twenty years.

To be eligible to use BWI men, a ranchman must qualify as under the present Mexican program, Seaye wrote. However, once he has received a certification from the Texas Employment Commission, the United States Department of Labor does not enter the picture. Wages are those prevailing in the area and shown on the certificate. The man can be contracted for a 90 months period with renewals up to three years. He must, at the end of that time, go home, however, he can be re-contracted immediately.

President Seaye suggested that those ranchmen desiring to use British West Indians contact the Association office and advise the number needed.

MR. AND MRS. LEWIS VISIT IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lewis left this week by plane for Los Angeles, Californ'a, where they will visit their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lewis for a few days.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER
From Lyndon B. Johnson

Dear Friend:

The Senate this week gave overwhelming approval to legislation offering powerful proof to the world of our national objective in the peaceful welfare of all people.

This proposal would mobilize the skills, energies and resources of the health scientists of the world. It recognizes that the ravages of disease, the despair of disability and the tragedy of premature death are burdens borne by all the people of the world.

Neither disease nor disability recognizes international boundaries. In the same manner, medical history shows significant discoveries and achievements have come from every part of the globe.

The need is great and the potential for good is equally large.

For instance

—In some parts of Africa, infant mortality exceeds one death for every four births.

—It is estimated that seven to eight per cent of the world's population—about 215 million people —suffer some physical handicap.

—Trachoma, an infectious eye ailment, affects one out of seven of the world's populations—and of this number an estimated 10 million will become blind.

In the United States alone, hospitals house more than half a million mental patients and the cost of their care is more than $800 million a year.

This project would underline as our goal the common good of mankind everywhere—minus political, military or economic objectives.

Through shared scientific efforts we would emphasize to the world our faith in the future—and our determination to leave it in peaceful means.

FIRST AUCTION SUCCESS

The first auction held at the Union Stock Yards, San Antonio, shown above, was a success, and the next auction will be held Thursday, June 4, 1959. There were 3451 head sold at the auction and the market was strong.

NEXT AUCTION SALE SET FOR JUNE 4, 1959

The next Commercial Cattle Auction Sale and Special Market Event to be held at the Union Stock Yards San Antonio will be June 4, 1959, at 10:00 a.m. This sale was announced by the San Antonio Livestock Market Institute because of the big success of the first sale.

The producers of cattle have asked for these sales: The San Antonio Livestock Market Institute is answering their request for another big sale. The big market day will feature all classes of stockers and feeders and fat cattle. Everyone is invited to participate in this auction.

This auction will feature truck lots, half loads, one's and two's. Consignments will be sorted and supervised by the regular commission companies with all the advantages of the market.

The first Auction sale sold 3451 head of cattle and calves, in seven and one-half hours. The value of these cattle was $489,239. The many producers and spectators felt the first Auction was very successful.

Buyers and sellers may get information and entry blanks for the June 4, 1959, Special Auction Sale from any of the commission firms at the Union Stock Yards San Antonio.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

Economy-minded forces in Congress received their most severe set-back of the year last week when the House passed a Senate-approved housing bill that will cost $6 billion—about 90 per cent of which will be subsidies which somebody is going to have to pay until the year 2000.

It was a Christmas-tree, bonanza bill with all the trimmings, aside from its good features which include extension of the FHA program.

Among other things, the measure authorizes 190,000 more high-cost public housing units, at a cost to the taxpayers of $3.7 billion. Under this program the government builds housing units and then rents them to tenants for a fraction of the real rental value. It was disclosed the other day that over in Boston 353 firemen and policemen, with families, each earning more than $5,000 per year, live in subsidized public housing projects there. The net average subsidy to each public housing unit throughout the country now amounts to $40 per month. That is what it costs taxpayers, each month, for every public housing unit that is built—and it goes on for 40 years.

A presidential veto is almost certain, in view of the President's repeated expression of interest in economy and a balanced budget. If a veto occurs, it will be sustained by the House.

Looking Backward

Twenty-five Years Ago
(From the files of the Bandera New Era, May 17, 1934.)

Mrs. Ernest Scheele underwent an operation at Comfort last Monday. We are glad to report that at the present Mrs. Scheele is making good recovery and will soon be up and about.

Last Thursday night while en route to Medina to attend the Music Week Program, Edgar Poe, Miss Alleen Cash and Miss Thelma Surber had a narrow escape from possible injury or death when the Chevrolet roadster they were driving collided with a cow on the highway, near the Winans Creek school house. The cow was killed and the car badly damaged. The young people miraculously escaped injury.

Rev. I. V. Garrison, of Medina, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of Bandera High School at the High School auditorium last Sunday morning. Rev. Garrison, now pastor of the Medina Baptist Church, at one time attended school here. His sermon was splendid and was well received by those who heard it.

George H. Langford and daughters, Misses Elizabeth and Nadine, were here from Beaumont several days this week visiting relatives and friends. They returned home yesterday and were accompanied by his mother, Mrs. B. F. Langford Sr., who will spend several weeks in Beaumont.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dean and children, Anna Marie, Dorothy and Sammy were in from Mason Week Sunday and visited Frontier Times Museum.

WHAT EVERY GARDENER SHOULD KNOW

Spring is the time of growth for all green things. This includes weeds as well as lovely ornamentals and turf grasses.

Gardening experts say a healthy lawn is your best protection against a weed-riddled turf. A thick covering of strong grass crowds out young weeds before they can take over.

Here is a spring check-off list for putting your grass in tip-top condition:

1. Feed your lawn with a dry or liquid fertilizer. Then follow the nourishing treatment with a thorough soaking to wash the food into the soil.
2. Mow your lawn properly. If you cut grasses too short, you'll set up perfect growing conditions for weeds—particularly crabgrass. A 1½ to 2-inch lawn will give you thick grass that will shade and crowd out young crabgrass.
3. Water your lawn well about once a week. An 8 to 10-inch watering will give the root system a good supply.
4. Use chemical herbicides for general "preventative" treatment or for spot control of individual weeds. A concentrate of 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T, Antrol Hose-Spray Weed & Brush Killer, wipes out dandelion, plantain and other broad-leaved weeds. It also controls poison oak, poison ivy and woody plants.

This advice from the experts, together with your own common sense and desire to treat your lawn right, will reward you with a thriving green lawn all summer.

dictorian, received the highest ranking award, a church related scholarship. The second highest award went to Dorothy Vaughn and the award for the highest ranking boy went to Raymond Achmietz. Terry Linda Cox received a certificate of good attendance; Marlene Leibold, the award of Valedictory; and Dorothy Vaughn the award of Salutatory. Mr. King pointed out that this group of six seniors had an average of 90 or better.

One of the outstanding events of the evening's program was the presentation by P. E. Doane of his two $500 special cash awards to the two seniors chosen by a special committee, set up by the Doane Scholarship Foundation. Mr. and Mrs. Doane returned from Europe, last week to be on hand for this special service, so that Mr. Doane would be present in person to make this presentation. Selection of one boy and one girl as an alternate for each was made on a majority vote of the committee which includes Superintendent Marvin C. Schoelle, Mrs. John V. Saul and Col. Dan Alsatis. The winners were chosen on college aptitude, character, circumstances and scholastic record. The recipient may choose any accredited college, technical school or university qualified to confer the degrees of Bachelor of Arts or Science by the American Association of colleges.

Mr. Doane made a splendid, brief address when he presented the award to Dorothy Vaughn, the chosen girl, and Raymond Adamietz, the chosen boy. The alternates selected were Herbert Bass and Terry Linda Cox, in case circumstances prevent the first two from filling their college.

On behalf of the local American Legion Post 157, Rhea Kalka presented American Legion Awards to Joe King and Mary Jo Mansfield. He also presented the American Legion Auxiliary award to Elinor Ernest Girls State to Linda Wright as the outstanding girl.

Superintendent Marvin C. TWICE-TOLD TEXAS TALES

By J. Marvin Hunter, Sr.

Under this heading from time to time we will publish Texas historical articles which we have compiled and printed before in Frontier Times or in other publications, but which we believe will be of interest to Bulletin readers.

TEXAS WOMAN KEEPS SKULL OF INDIAN

Second Edition

William David Alfred, 13 years old Reading over the back issue of Frontier Times, I noted the above article in Volume 3, issue of February, 1926, with unusual interest. It sounded very much like a story my grandfather, Renne Allred, Sr., has told a number of times. That it was the same story was confirmed in the fifth paragraph when the name "William Alfred" appears along with that of the Dugan boys; for, in repeating the story about his father, William Allred, my grandfather had always mentioned the Dugans and Dugan's fort. So I knew immediately that use of the name William Alfred in the original story was a misprint of the name of my great-grandfather, William Allfred(for whom I was named.)

Briefly the original story, as told by Miss Kate Dugan, tells of the last Indian raid in Grayson County, and of the killing of a young man named Green while he was asleep in bed with Henry Dugan. It mentions the fact that another boy, William Alfred, was there, but fails to mention that he was in bed with Green and Henry Dugan at the time of the killing and differs in other minor respects from the story as told by my grandfather, who is now 82 years old.

My grandfather is very hard of hearing, but his eyesight and memory are excellent. So I carried the volume into him and asked him to read it, knowing that he would immediately recognize the story and call attention to any discrepancies. Sure enough, when my grandfather had read a few paragraphs, he looked up and cried out:

"That's when your great-grandfather won that battle with a bucket of water."

He didn't need any encouragement to go on with the story. He talked and I made notes, and I give you the story in his own words, just as he gave it to me. Here it is:

"I knew all these people," he said referring to the Dugans and others mentioned in the original story. "She" (referring to Miss Kate Dugan, who gave the original account) "claims it was someone else who throwed that bucket of water on the fire, but I know it was my father. I know the Dugans people that come to Texas at that time went in the cattle business. While my grandfather had some cattle, he was raisin' mules an' horses. The cattle and horses 'ud drift off and git out of the range. All the men but 3 men and 4 boys all went off to drive them stock back and keep the Indians from gittin' 'em. Renne Allred, my grandfather, went with 'em after some of his stock that had strayed. They all went together, Henry Dugan and my father, William Allred. They'd two boys about 18 years old. They was a fair mess, but that night. It was in the fall of the year and plenty cold. One man had to set up in the main part of the fort. Old Man Daniel Dugan and the wimmin-folks was in the cabin or kitchen. They hadn't gone to bed yet. The wimmin-folks were awravin' and aspinnin' cloth for clothes. My father and P. P. Dugan, Henry Dugan you might put it, decided to go to bed. They went in the main building and continued to scuffle. As my father put it, 'We was sicuffilin' to see who got to sleep in the middle.' My father was a good deal faster than Henry Dugan, but Dugan won by main strength. A man named Green was already in bed and asleep. My father thought he would push Green in the middle and make Dugan get on the outside, too. But the man roused up and said, 'Aw, boys behave yourself. I want to sleep.' William Allred crawled over behind. The Indians slipped up and dug a hole between the logs and shot the man that was in front. There was a big 'fuss burnin' and William Allred jumped out over both of 'em and grabbed a bucket of water and throwed it on the fire. There was only four guns left in the house and nary a one in the room they was in. The Indians let out a war 'hoop and began to run around the house. As they come around they was in four or five feet of the wall. Old Man Dugan run to a portholo and shot one. While they were agittin' this 'un out the other feller run there and he downed another 'un. They hadn't got over four or five steps. This feller he got excited and he jammed the ball down in the rifle without no powder behind it and rained the gun. It sez in here that the hounds weren't around because the Dugans had slaughtered a beef off the yard away from the house so as not to mess up the premises. They was down there catin' what was left—legs, intrels, etc. There were two boys about 18 years old asleepin' out in the loft to watch the horses. One was a Dugan and I don't recall what the other 'un's name was. These boys thought that they had took the fort and jumped down and run toward the house. When they were about half way between the house and barn, Old Dugan he sot again 'and he killed a nigger. The boys stopped when they heard this, 'That's Granddad's gun' said the Dugan boy. They ain't took the fort.' The two boys went back to the loft. That was the last of the attack on the fort. We lost one man, and killed two Indians and a nigger. In an hour or so the Indians went to the barn to git the horses. One Indian put down his gun and commenced workin' on the lock. The boys decided to shoot the men astandin' and leave the man aworkin' on the lock. They killed one dead on the spot and the other one ran about two hundred yards and fell. The one at the lock run off leavin' his gun assitin' by the side of the barn. He wanted his gun mighty bad. And just before day he crawled up through the cattle like a hog. The boys watched him as he crawled up and when he went to git his gun they both got him. Next morning they found five dead Indians and a dead nigger. That was the last Indian fight of Grayson County.

"There was two Indian skulls Dugan kept 'em on his workbench. I've been over at Dugans a lot of times and looked 'em over time after time. My brother-in-law used to keep care of them when he worked for Dugan before he was my brother-in-law. He was just a kid then."

That is my grandfather's story of the last Indian fight in Grayson County, in which my great-grandfather saved the day with a bucket of water and wits.

—William David Alfred.

EDITORIAL

Good Morning! Are you a subscriber to the Bandera Bulletin? Have you paid your Bandera Bulletin subscription? We are grateful to all our Bandera Bulletin subscribers who have recently renewed their subscription to the Bulletin and we welcome our fine new subscribers.

LET'S SHARE OUR BLESSINGS

The Man who was born and raised in Bandera, and has spent his whole life here, happy and content with his surroundings, cannot be expected to get up every morning and look for better things for Bandera. But the man who has lived in five different states, and who has traveled and operation were twin sisters and "let's go" was the watch-word; where everyone united to bring greater and better things to that community; where to pull back was a serious offense, and to be caught letting the other fellow do it" was a crime, we say that the man who had lived in such a place and comes to Bandera to cast his lot in this region, is going to want to see things improve. He looks around him and sees that nature has wonderfully blessed this region with marvelous resources, picturesque scenery, plenty of running water, rich oil, splendid range for livestock, ideal climatic conditions, healthful mountain air, all of which combine to make a most delightful region in which to live, and he just make a most delightful region in which to live, and he just naturally becomes a booster and wants other people to come to share the blessings.

BORROWING

"I have a borrowing neighbor," one of our subscribers told us the other day, "But she has nothing on me." When she sent her little girl over Saturday to borrow my Bandera Bulletin, I, sent back word that she ought to subscribe for the Bulletin herself, for it is the cheapest luxury and best public servant we have; it costs just a few cents a week, and I save many times that amount by reading the grocery bargains advertised in it. And the news it contains gives us all pleasure. As soon as we receive the Bulletin, I turn to the neighborhood correspondence, the news from Medina, Tarpley, Pipe Creek, Vanderpool, as I know most of the people mentioned there. If the Bulletin did not publish anything but those society letters, it would be worth a lot to me. I think it is the best weekly paper in this part of Texas, and why some folks do not take it but want to borrow or their neighbors, is more than I can understand. I cheerfully let my neighbor borrow my salt, coffee, matches and lard, and even loan them my washing machine, but not my Bandera Bulletin. I wrap it up and send it to my oldest son, who lives in California." Thanks dear subscriber.

PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR

A prospective investor was in Bandera Saturday looking for a business location. He liked our beautiful scenery and he liked our friendly people, but when he saw the dusty streets, lots overgrown with weeds, no sidewalks, no street markers, no street lights, he became disgusted and departed.

WHAT IS A GOOD CITIZEN?

Being merely a resident of a city or town does not, in the truest sense, make one a citizen of that town. Real citizenship carries with it a much broader sense—a responsibility as well as a privilege. A true citizen owns and recognizes his allegiance to his government and home town, as well as being entitled to its protection and privileges, and should work as faithfully for the upbuilding of his own community as if its welfare and advancement depends upon his individually.

The good citizen shows the spirit of the man who went one day to the tax collector's office and asked to pay what was assessed against him. He was asked where his real estate was located, and when he replied that he had none; then he was asked if the taxes would be on personal property and when it was explained to him the kind of personal property that was taxable, he said he had none of that. Finally he said he did not know but thought he might be due a poll tax or something of the kind and if so, he wanted to pay it. He was a poor man, but a real citizen, and if more of us possessed that kind of spirit and loyalty to our communities much that is wrong would be righted and everyone would be working in harmony for the spiritual, social and general advancement of the places chosen to make our homes.

PICNIC TIME IS PICTURE TIME

Chick 'N' Bacon Salad Buns and sparkling-flavored Crackly Iced Tea make any picnic a real feast. Make the salad buns well ahead of time and refrigerate them until well chilled before putting them in the basket. Special ice cubes for the tea go in the picnic jug in a wide-mouth vacuum bottle or bucket.

And for the surest way to preserve the fun of the picnic, capture it in snapshots, with a camera as standard equipment in the picnic basket, along with napkins, plates, and the vacuum bottle for the Tender Leaf Tea. You can keep camera and film on hand in the basket for picnic to picnic and you'll always be ready to snap away when the weather calls for outdoor eating.

CHICK 'N' BACON SALAD BUNS

1½ cups cooked or canned chicken, cut up
6 crisp cooked bacon slices, crumbled
1 cup potato chips, crumbled
1 cup diced celery
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons pickle relish
6 frankfurter rolls
Lettuce Leaves

Lightly mix chicken with crumbled bacon and potato chips, celery, mayonnaise and pickle relish until well mixed. Use to fill split frankfurter rolls. Just before serving, tuck crisp lettuce into each roll. Makes 6 rolls.

CRACKLY ICED TEA

Turn 1 7-ounce bottle of lemon-lime carbonated beverage into each ice-cube tray and freeze. At serving time, make iced tea as follows: For 1 quart, use 6 teaspoons or 6 tea bags of Tender Leaf Tea and 1 quart of boiling water; pour water on tea and let stand 5 minutes. Remove tea or tea bags; turn beverage into vacuum bottle (or let stand at room temperature) until serving time. Then pour over lemon-lime ice cubes in tall-drink paper cups (or tall glasses). Sweeten to taste. The ice cubes "crackle" as they melt—hence the name, "Crackly" Iced Tea.

Automobile Accident Rules Should be Memorized

Vacation time is near. Soon millions of people will be driving all over the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a driver do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.

2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that would possibly add to his injury.

3. Protect the Scene from Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlight beams on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an Officer. Policemen, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. Gather Information . . . Write it Down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess — be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses.

Your driver's license to the ... he must do this.

6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that you were not wholly or equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See Your Doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Let your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

9. Inform Your Insurance Company Promptly." Failure to do so may void your policy.

10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury, death, or total damages exceed $100.

An official accident report form may be procured from the Police, Sheriff's Dept., Highway Patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because the slightest variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

MISS LASKOWSKI WEDS KENNETH D'SPAIN IN DOUBLE RING CEREMONY

On May 28, 1959, Miss Betty Laskowski became the bride of Kenneth D'Spain in a beautiful and Solemn Low Mass ceremony in St. Stanislaus Catholic Church in Bandera.

In her gown of silk organza and chantilly lace, the bride was a vision of loveliness. The delicate lace bodice was highlighted by the scalloped neckline and the long slim design of the pointed wrist-length sleeves, the billowing floor length skirt hung in a short train. A flowing veil complemented the pointed pearl tiara, which was worn low on the bride's forehead, and presented an effect of elegance. The ensemble was completed by a bouquet of pink roses.

The group of bride's maids in their lovely gowns of chiffon and taffeta, worn with face framing, tie brimmed hats, resembled a flower garden of pastel splendor. The array of rainbow colors were splendidly worn by the equally pretty young ladies. The maid of honor, Mrs. Johnie Schmidt, wore rose pink; Little Annette Short, flower girl, also wore rose pink; Margaret Callahan, blue; Mary Sharman, pink; Dottie Vaughn, aqua; Mary Ferrich, orchid; Marlene Leibold, yellow; and Elsie Faurie, green. Each carried a white carnation bouquet framed in a large butterfly design of material which corresponded with their dresses. Their ensembles were completed by white pumps and matching gloves.

The handsome groom was dressed in a dark suit and white shirt. Attending him, dressed in white jackets and dark pants, were his best man, Willard D'Spain; ring bearer, Pat D'Spain; groomsmen, Carel D'Spain, Edward Laskowski, Wayne Wharton, Donnie Risinger and Ashley Rugh. Altar boys were Tommy Laskowski, Steve Maszurek, Tommy Adamietz and Joseph Humphries. Serving as ushers were Loyd Kalka, Kenneth Kalka and Howard Eckhart.

Rev. Victor Schmidtzinsky presided over the ceremony, and Miss Patricia Jenschke presented the nuptial music.

After the vows were read a reception was held at the Flying L Ranch. Pictures of the newlyweds were taken by both Rev. Schmidtzinsky and a professional photographer from San Antonio.

Cake was served by Mrs. Wayne Wharton, Mrs. Willard D'Spain and Mrs. Bill Short. Mrs. Carel D'Spain poured punch.

SCHOOL DAYS AT THE FLYING L RANCH

Happy holidays! School is out and no more buses will ride the trails into the Mayan Ranch until next season. Our many, many schools left happy and content with sunshiny memories of their senior trip at the ranch. We'd like to share some excerpts from the numerous letters we received thanking us for the wonderful time had by all—

From C. G. Smith, principal of Palacios: "We'd like to thank all of you for a most wonderful time. The food was excellent and wranglers top. We do not believe there is any place where we might have enjoyed ourselves as much as we did at the Mayan. The accommodations were fine. We had more to do than we could. Anyone who does not enjoy themselves at your ranch, does not know how to enjoy life. Thanks again for a wonderful time!" Signed by all seniors.

From Fredericksburg High Schools: "We want to thank you and your efficient staff for making our senior trip one of the highlights of our senior year. We had such a good time every minute we spent at the Mayan and regretted having to leave. We think your ranch 'tops' in food, lodging, and entertainment. Our only regret is that we won't be seniors next year to return for another long-to-be remembered week-end."

From Mount Carmel: "Thank you for a lovely time at the Mayan. We enjoyed food and all the activities you had planned for us. We are looking forward to returning some day soon for a longer stay."

From Kennedale: "All seniors express sincere and heartfelt thanks for wonderful senior trip spent at the Mayan Ranch."

We received many more letters from satisfied students, this year as in years before. Our school season is one we all look forward to every year.

The fame of the Mayan is spreading rapidly across the country. Not only were we hosts to a great number of Texas schools, represented among our groups were students from Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Kansas.

COWBOYS LOSE TO HELOTES IN THE TENTH INNING

The Bandera Cowboys fell victim to Helotes Sunday 15-14 in a Hill Country League tilt on the local's home grounds.

A total of six pitchers were used with final statistics showing Schladoer to be the loser and Ott the winner. The Cowboys outhit Helotes 17 to 15 but the victory came mainly through decisive breaks.

With a man on base and Schladoer at bat, Ott fired his fast ball and whipped Schladoer to end the game.

This Sunday the Cowboys host the Kerrville Kats in a League game starting at 3 p.m., on the Mayan Ranch field. In a previous meeting this year, Bandera blasted the Kats 24-16, but since Kerrville has defeated the league leaders, Camp Stanley, so this game promises to be exciting.

LEGISLATURE PUTS TAXES IN BACKSEAT

Austin.—Proposed cures for the state government's financial crisis took another backseat ride Tuesday.

The senate remained in the driver's seat. Gov. Daniel said five hopes senators have the "desire" to complete the work this special 30-day session.

Both houses sped through short sessions Monday, while a joint appropriations committee continued to work on how to spend in 1960-61 money that is not in the treasury.

Representative activity have completed their work toward solving the state's $65,000,000 deficit and to find enough money for the state's 1960-61 operations.

Senators won't get any official look at the house-approved $149,000,000 major tax bill until Wednesday. The senate state affairs committee also holds the other revenue-raising measures Daniel suggested to pull the state out of the red.

Sen. Charles Herring, Austin, said, he will sponsor the big tax bill (HB 7). He said:

"Unless we have a better plan to offer, then we have a responsibility to seriously and expeditiously consider and, I hope, pass House Bill 7. Every day that the legislature stays in session costs the taxpayers of Texas between $8000 and $10,000. If we delay passing a tax program at this session it will mean a loss in state revenues of many millions of dollars in taxes that otherwise could have been collected."

The house criminal jurisprudence committee took little time Monday to approve the resolution asking Daniel to submit a lobby-registration law revision.

The measure asks the present law be amended to require registered lobbyists to report when they provide transportation to legislators.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in homely style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscence and seems good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas centuries. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both pioneers and infamous; of many other thrilling adventures, and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

POWER LINE TO PROSPERITY

It took miles of wire to carry electricity to the isolated farmhouse above. But the cost of this electrical service was shared equally by the members of the rural electric cooperative who live in more populous areas. They were keeping a pledge to serve members anywhere regardless of cost. This democratic plan of sharing the load brought an electrical revolution to remote Texas areas and a new way of life to the rural community.

But it is imperative that the Electric Cooperatives of Texas continue to serve the more populous areas they helped to develop. There are certain areas served by the cooperatives that are adjacent to towns and cities. Today these owners and you run the risk of prohibitive electric rates for thousands of Texas farms and ranches. Where the rural electric cooperatives were first to offer electric service they must be allowed to serve.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

Another phase in the Big procedure necessary to be followed in the advancement of the Diablo dam project on the Rio Grande was realized the other day when the Bureau of the Budget reported its views on Col. L. H. Hewitt's report which he made last fall to the State Department.

In commenting on the Commissioner's report, however, the Bureau complicated the picture a bit by requiring reimbursement to the government by irrigators and other water users for water used from the conservation portion of the project. It had been hoped that the cost of the conservation portion of the dam could be taken care of from revenue derived from the sale of power potential and water to municipalities.

"The Bureau of the Budget considers", the comments stated, "that operation of Diablo Dam and Reservoir for irrigation and water supply purposes in the U.S. should be prohibited unless local interests agree to appropriate repayment of costs allocated for these purposes."

"For exceptional supervisory service and effective leadership of the Soil Conservation Program in a difficult area of the Rio Grande Plains of Texas," an achievement award was presented last week to Merll G. Carter, area conservationist of Uvalde, in a ceremony attended by 2,000 guests in Washington. Carter was one of 374 Agriculture employes who were honored.

Our population is growing by one person every 11 seconds, by 330 every hour, by 8,000 every day, by one fourth million every month. We now number 181 million. By 1980, just 21 years away, there will be 275 million, and by the 2,000, only 41 years hence, the number will probably be about 360 million—twice the present figure!

Among recent guests in our office have been Mr. and Mrs. Merll Carter of Uvalde; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Drinkard, formerly of Bells, but now living in Washington where Mr. Drinkard is with the Veterans Administration; Bill Allen of Coleman, but now in Austin where he is Assistant Attorney General; and Wright Armstrong of Ft. Worth, formerly of Brownwood.

A dial telephone system was inaugurated in Mason the other day, and I was honored to be the first person called long distance. The call came from my friend, Mayor Ray Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Batto of Jewett were here this week attending to business interests and visiting with old friends who were delighted to see them again.

Looking Backward

Twenty-five Years Ago

(From the files of the Bandera New Era, May 19, 1934.)

John Hodge, the eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hough of Medina, died Monday night, after an Illness of several days. Interment was made in the Medina cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

Carl Runge, candidate for Congress, will speak at the Medina barbecue on Saturday, June 16. The voters will have a chance to hear him on that occasion. The barbecue is to be given on the K. K. Stokes place near Medina. A big time is promised.

Miss Eulpise Leighton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Leighton of Vanderpool, is among the graduates of Westmoreland College in San Antonio this term.

Preparations are going forward rapidly for the drilling of the R. D. Garrison No. 1 oil test, sixteen miles west of Bandera by the Peerless Oil and Gas Co. The Gholson Drilling Company is now building the derrick, the drilling machinery having been brought in several days ago. We have not learned just when the well will be spudded. It is intended to drill 6,000 feet to reach the Ordivician lime.

Leo Pike, age 25, died in a San Antonio hospital last Thursday and the remains were laid to-rest in the Medina cemetery Friday afternoon. The young man was stricken with pneumonia several days ago and later appendicitis set up and he was taken to a San Antonio hospital for surgery. He was born on October 13, 1908, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lige Pike, who formerly lived at Medina.

Mr. and Mrs. George Howland entertained the following guests at a lovely supper Sunday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rhodes of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weaver of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Weaver, Mrs. Robert L. Haney of Houston; Mrs. R. L. Martin of Longview; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cotter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Heligman and twin daughters of San Antonio; and Mrs. Bobbie Jo Bonner of Austin, who spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Stevens over the week-end. They enjoyed visiting at Medina Lake while here. Mr. and Mrs. Reagan are the parents of Mrs. Stevens and have visited here many times. We are glad to have from a recent organization.

Rush of Bandera.

The Comfort Broncos and Bandera Cowboys played a lively game of baseball on the Bandera diamond last Sunday. The score resulted in the defeat of Bandera to the tune of 8 to 5.

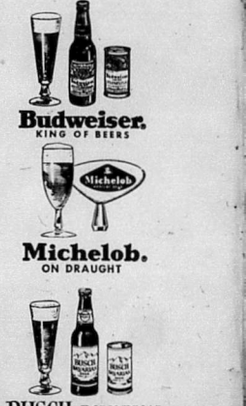
"COWBOY" BUFFET IS RIGHT GOOD SPORT



"San Antonio steel furnace is also a loyal "pardner" to dining by your barbecue-pit campfire. Most likely pattern of the season is gleaming "Taper" in Omnibase® Deluxe Stainless with its sleek-as-palomino beauty and completely carefree, functional styling. (Needless to say, the simple symmetry of "Taper" is a natural for your more elegant indoor table settings, too.)

Casserole-type cowboy face, such as flavorsome beans to go with outdoor-grilled hot dogs or hamburgers, can be served in its own cook pot—with a bright cowboy bandanna as a protective cover for the dish. Coffee or cocoa, iced tea or lemonade, also take on fresh bravado when they flow through the spigot of an old-fashioned urn or are dipped from a rustic refreshment bucket.

The "old corral," otherwise known as "your own backyard," is a jim-dandy spot for a lively outdoor buffet supper—Western-style. You'll find it a picnic with a colorful fiair and a hearty party to match the tangy flavor of barbecued "chow."

According to Omnibase Table Planning Service, the motif for a Westward-Ho table that Annie Oakley would be proud of are also mighty ready to come by. A length of rough-textured, bright red burlap, for example, makes a sturdy-looking tablecloth. Plastic-coated "Chuck Wagon" paper plates and cups—studded with cattle-brand motifs—are new this season in local grocery stores. And it's easy to find a symbolic horseshoe to keep paper napkins from blowing away in a West wind!

Of course we're proud!

We have just received confirmation of our appointment as wholesale distributor in this area for Anheuser-Busch, Inc., brewers of the world's finest beer.

THIS IS OUR TOWN

By Jinny

They said it couldn't be done—But Brooks has done it. Our thanks to Mrs. Harold Brooks for the lovely gardenias which her husband grew at their home in Bandera Estates. They were fresh and fragrant Tuesday morning and we enjoyed having them every minute.

* * * Our thanks also to Alec Anderwald for the delicious fresh snap beans and sweet white onions grown in his garden.

* * * It is a joy to live in Bandera among the finest people in the world. There's nothing quite like it.

* * * You should see the beautiful multicolored, ruffled petunias that are growing in Mrs. H. M. Dodson's back yard at Pillows Courts. They are lovely.

* * * P. W. Locklin was most gratified this spring when the native balmonia which he had planted from seed some up and bloomed so profusely. This wild native plant is very beautiful and may be cultivated just as your other garden varities.

* * * Friends and relatives are getting ready for two big events to take place in June. Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Barbara Mansfield and Hubert Masurek, which will take place at the First Baptist Church on June 13. Then there is the wedding of Jimmy Cottingham and Miss Linda Jones which will be an event of June 20 in Dallas.

* * * On June 6, Miss Barbara Frerich and Lt. William H. Packard will wed.

* * * Feed crops in the Bandera Hill Country are bountiful and of splendid quality. Frank Montague Sr., reports his oats will make over 80 bushels to the acre.

* * * Our thought for the day—Recipe for success: Be polite, prepare yourself for whatever you are asked to do, keep yourself busy, be cheerful, don't be envious, be honest with yourself, so you will be honest with others, so be helpful, interest yourself in your job, don't pity yourself, be quick to praise, be loyal to your friends, avoid prejudices, be independent, Interest yourself in politics, and read the newspapers.—Bernard M. Baruch.

"SHADES OF THE OLD WEST"

As I was sitting, dozing in the sun outside the Wrangler's Roost I noticed a lame horse and rider approaching. After the leather-faced cowhand dismounted he limped up the street. Hearing the clang, clang, clang, of a hammer he stopped in front of a store where the proprietor was hanging a new sign. He leaned the store-keeper his worn out boot and they entered the store. Glancing up I read the sign—Justin Boot Co.

This was a scene from the movie shot at the Mayan Dude Ranch frontier town several weeks ago by Justin Boot Co. of Dallas, Texas. We enjoy having the producers, directors, and camermen with us at the ranch. A letter from the salesmanager of Justin Boot Co., tells us they were as pleased as we were with the results.

TEXAS TRAFFIC DEATHS UP

Austin.—The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety warned today a "definite upward trend" in Texas traffic deaths has been established this year even before the heavy summer-holiday travel season.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., said unless something happens to change the trend, it appears likely that an all-time record of traffic deaths could be in the making for 1959.

He said the death trend appears to be leveling off at about 10 per cent above 1958, when 2,342 traffic victims were counted, and posted that this would mean 233 additional deaths this year if the pace is maintained.

"With travel up an estimated three per cent this year, and with the Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays yet to come, this could mean we're driving for an all-time high in motorcides on the streets and highways of Texas," Garrison said.

Garrison reported that as of Friday noon, May 29, at least 832 persons were killed in traffic, compared with 753 during the same period of 1958—an increase of 11 per cent.

"This means 80 more lives were lost in traffic violence," he said. "We appeal to every driver to observe these cold, hard statistics and realize those summer trips are potentially more dangerous this year than last.

"We also must realize it is extremely likely that one of the biggest killers on the long, hot summer road is fatigue—an insidious demon that can attack even those of us who observe all the other known safe-driving practices.

"Our statistics cannot reflect how many traffic deaths are caused by fatigue, only that the driver was on the wrong side of the road, ran off the road, or rammed into a slower-moving vehicle. They cannot tell us that the driver was asleep, or nodded at the wrong split-second.

"Don't let your vacation enthusiasm cause you to drive when you should be resting. Don't push yourself to make up for lost time. Don't get caught napping at the wheel."

MONEY FORCES, THE STOCK MARKET AND THE ECONOMY TODAY

Money forces have always been an important factor in the future course of the economy and consequently have also affected the course of the stock market. Statistical studies reveal that in most cases the trend of the stock market has preceded that of the economy by approximately six months. The economy in turn in recent years has been affected by the supply of money. The Federal Reserve Board, primarily through its discount rate, is able to influence money supply although it is also influenced by the law of supply and demand.

As money comes into greater demand, the prime rate of interest on commercial loans rises. This is the rate charged to leading corporations. The banks in turn as the spread between the interest charged by the Federal Reserve Board through the discount rate widens have additional incentive to permit the loaning of money and consequently frequently lower the standards to be met to borrow their money. Therefore it is necessary for the Federal Reserve as interest rates rise to raise the discount rate accordingly.

Eventually, as it becomes more difficult to borrow money, the upward trend of the economy slows up and a reversal of the trend occurs. Today the prime rate is as high as it was in 1929 just before the business recession and the high of since the early 1930's at currently at 5%, but many observers believe that it will be raised to 5½% shortly to get it in line with the prime rate.

Today the yield on bonds is higher than it was in 1957 and also the highest since the early 1920s which suggests that eventually the prime rate on loans may go even higher. This tightening of the money supply has rather unfavorable implications in that eventually it may once again cause a reverse of the trend and a downward turn in the economy cycle.

Our statistical studies show further that a reversal in the trend of stock prices should precede that of the economic cycle by some four to six months. Also they show that stocks normally sell at the high levels of their cycle a few months prior to the time that bonds sell at their lows. From this standpoint if history is a valid yardstick for measuring the future, the bond market should continue somewhat lower while the stock market may be rapidly approaching a point where it is reversing its highs. Once the stock market has established a downward trend, the time to purchase bonds for all around investment would appear to have arrived.

"SHADES OF THE OLD WEST"

As I was sitting, doing in the sun outside the Wranglers Roost I noticed a lame horse and rider approaching. After the leather-faced cowhand dismounted he limped up the street. Hearing the clang, clang, clang, of a hammer he stopped in front of a store where the proprietor was hanging a new sign. He showed the store, keeper his worn out boot and they entered the store. Glancing up I read the sign—Justin Boot Co.

This was a scene from the movie shot at the Mayan Dude Ranch frontier town several weeks ago by Justin Boot Co., of Dallas, Texas. We enjoy having the producers, directors, and camermen with us at the ranch. A letter from the salesmanager of Justin Boot Co., tells us they were as pleased as we were with the results.

TEXAS TRAFFIC DEATHS UP

Austin.—The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety warned today a definite upward trend in traffic deaths has been established this year even before the heavy summer-holiday travel season.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., said unless something happens to change the trend, it could mean that an all-time record of traffic deaths could be in the making for 1959.

He said the death trend appears to be levelling off at about 10 per cent above 1958, when 3,340 traffic victims were counted, and pointed out this could mean 333 additional deaths this year if the pace is maintained.

"With travel up an estimated three per cent this year, and with the Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays yet to come, this could mean we're driving for an all-time high in motorcides on the streets and highways of Texas," Garrison said.

Garrison reported that as of Friday noon, May 29, at least 824 persons were killed in traffic, compared with 753 during the same period of 1958—an increase of 11 per cent.

"This means 80 more lives were lost in traffic violence," he said. "We appeal to every driver to observe these cold, hard statistics and realize those summer trips are potentially more dangerous this year than last.

"We also must realize it is extremely likely than one of the biggest killers on the long, hot summer road is fatigue—an insidious demon that can attack even those of us who observe all the other known safe-driving practices. Our statistics cannot reflect how many traffic deaths are caused by fatigue, only that the death car was on the wrong side of the road, ran off the road, or rammed into a slower-moving vehicle. They cannot tell us that the driver was asleep or nodded at the wrong split-second.

"Don't let your vacation enthusiasm cause you to drive when you should be resting. Don't push yourself to make up for lost time. Don't get caught napping at the wheel."

Weekly Stock Market Round-Up

Prepared by The Investment Research Department of stemcott, noyes & Co. Members of the New York Stock Exchange

June 3, 1959

MONEY FORCES, THE STOCK MARKET AND THE ECONOMY TODAY

Money forces have always been an important factor in the future trends of the economy and consequently have also affected the course of the stock market. Statistical studies reveal that in most cases the trend of the stock market has preceded that of the economy by approximately six months. The economy in turn in recent years has been affected by the supply of money. The Federal Reserve Board, primarily through its discount rate, is able to influence money supply although it is also influenced by the law of supply and demand.

As money comes into greater demand the prime rate of interest on commercial loans rises. This is the rate charged to leading companies. The banks in turn as the spread between the interest charged by the Federal Reserve Board through the discount rate widens have additional incentive to permit the loaning of money and consequently frequently lower the standards to get to borrow their money. Therefore it is necessary for the Federal Reserve as interest rates broaden out to restrict credit accordingly.

Eventually, as it becomes more difficult to borrow money, the upward trend of the economy slows up and a reversal of the trend occurs. Today the prime rate is as high as it was in 1957 prior to the business recession and the highest since the early 1930s at 4%. The discount rate which was raised to 3½% in 1957 is currently at 3%, but many observers believe that it will be raised to 3½% shortly to get it in line with the prime rate.

Today the yield on bonds is higher than it was in 1957 and also the highest since the early 1930s which suggests that eventually the prime rate on loans may go even higher. This tightening of the money supply has rather unfavorable implications in that eventually it may once again cause a reverse of the trend and a downward turn in the economy cycle.

Our statistical studies show further that a reversal in the trend of stock prices should precede that of the economic cycle by from four to six months. Also they show that stocks normally sell at the high levels of their cycle a few months prior to the time that rise to raise the discount rate as mentioned above. This is valid evidence if history is a valid yardstick for measuring the future, the bond market should continue somewhat lower while the stock market may be rapidly approaching a point where it is reaching its highs. Once the stock market has established a downward trend, the time to purchase bonds for an upward move would appear to have arrived.

* * * It is a joy, to live in Bandera among the finest people in the world. There's nothing quite like it.

* * * You should see the beautiful multicolored, ruffled petunias that are growing in Mrs. H. M. Bodnoff's back yard at Pillows Courts. They are lovely.

* * * P. W. Lopkins was most gratified this spring when the native balmonia which he had planted from seed came up and bloomed so profusely. This wild native plant is very beautiful and may be cultivated just as your other garden varities.

* * * Friends and relatives are getting ready for two big events to take place in June. Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Barbara Mansfield and Hubert Mc-Jurek, which will take place at the First Baptist Church on June 13. Then there is the wedding of Jimmy Cottingham and Miss Linda Yancey which will be an event of June 20 in Dallas.

"SHADES OF THE OLD WEST"

As I was sitting, dozing in the sun outside the Wranglers' Roost I noticed a lame horse and rider approaching. After the leather-faced cowhand dismounted he limped up the street. Hearing the clang, clang, clang, of a hammer he stopped in front of a store where the proprietor was hanging a new sign. He showed the storekeeper his worn out boot and they entered the store. Glancing up I read the sign—Justin Boot Co.

This was a scene from the movie shot at the Mayan Dude Ranch frontier town several weeks ago by Justin Boot Co., Dallas, Texas. We enjoy having the producers, directors, and cameramen with us at the ranch. A letter from the salesmanager of Justin Boot Co., tells us they were as pleased as we were with the results.

TEXAS TRAFFIC DEATHS UP

Austin.—The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety warned today of a "definite upward trend" in Texas traffic deaths has been established this year even before the heavy summer-holiday travel season.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., said unless something happens to change the trend, it could mean that an all-time record of traffic deaths could be in the making for 1959.

He said the death trend appears to be leveling off at about 10 per cent above 1958, when 2,342 traffic victims were counted, and pointed out that would mean 233 additional deaths this year if the pace is maintained.

"With travel up an estimated three per cent this year, and with the Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays yet to come, this could mean we're driving for an all-time high in motorcides on the streets and highways of Texas," Garrison said.

Garrison reported that as of Friday noon, May 29, at least 832 persons were killed in traffic, compared with 753 during the same period of 1958—an increase of 11 per cent.

"This means 80 more lives were lost in traffic violence," he said. "We appeal to every driver to observe these cold, hard statistics and realize those summer trips are potentially more dangerous this year than last.

"We also must realize it is extremely likely than one of the biggest killers on the long, hot summer road is fatigue—an insidious state which overcomes all the other known safe-driving practices.

"Our statistics cannot reflect how many traffic deaths are caused by fatigue, only that the death rate was on the wrong side of the road, ran off the road, or rammed into a slower-moving vehicle. They cannot tell us that the driver was asleep, or nodded at the wrong split-second.

"Don't let your vacation enthusiasm cause you to drive when you should be resting. Don't push yourself to make up for lost time. Don't get caught napping at the wheel."

MONEY FORCES, THE STOCK MARKET AND THE ECONOMY TODAY

Money forces have always been an important factor in the future course of the economy and consequently have also affected the course of the stock market. Statistical studies reveal that in most cases the trend of the stock market has preceded that of the economy by approximately six months. The economy is in turn influenced by the way it is developed in our society. Colleges and universities, such as Texas A&M College. "SHADES OF THE OLD WEST"

As I was sitting, dozing in the sun outside the Wrangler's Roost I noticed a lame horse and rider approaching. After the leather-faced cowhand dismounted he limped up the street. Hearing the clang, clang, clang, of a hammer he stopped in front of a store where the proprietor was hanging a new sign. He showed the store, keeper his worn out boot and they entered the store. Glancing up I read the sign—Justin Boot Co.

This was a scene from the movie shot at the Mayan Dude Ranch frontier town several weeks ago by Justin Boot Co., of Dallas, Texas. We enjoy having the producers, directors, and cameramen with us at the ranch. A letter from the salesmanager of Justin Boot Co., tells us they were as pleased as we were with the results.

TEXAS TRAFFIC DEATHS UP

Austin.—The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety warned today of a "definite upward trend" as Texas traffic deaths has been established this year even before the heavy summer-holiday travel season.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., said unless something happens to change the trend, it could mean that an all-time record of traffic deaths could be in the making for 1959.

He said the death trend appears to be levelling off at about 10 per cent above 1958, when 2,342 traffic victims were counted, and pointed out this could mean 233 additional deaths this year if the pace is maintained.

"With travel up an estimated three per cent this year, and with the Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays yet to come, this could mean we're driving for an all-time high in motorcides on the streets and highways of Texas," Garrison said.

Garrison reported that as of Friday, noon, May 29, at least 834 persons were killed in traffic, compared with 753 during the same period of 1958—an increase of 11 per cent.

"This means 80 more lives were lost in traffic violence," he said. "We appeal to every driver to observe these cold, hard statistics and realize those summer trips are potentially more dangerous this year than last.

"We also must realize it is extremely likely that one of the biggest killers on the long, hot summer road is fatigue—an insidious demon that can attack even those of us who observe all the other known safe-driving practices. "Our statistics cannot reflect how many traffic deaths are caused by fatigue, only that the death car was on the wrong side of the road, ran off the road, or turned into a slower-moving vehicle. They cannot tell us that the driver was asleep, or nodded at the wrong split-second.

"Don't let your vacation enthusiasm cause you to drive when you should be resting. Don't push yourself to make up for lost time. Don't get caught napping at the wheel."

MONEY FORCES, THE STOCK MARKET AND THE ECONOMY TODAY

Money forces have always been an important factor in the future trends of the economy and consequently have also affected the course of the stock market. Statistical studies reveal that in most cases the trend of the stock market has preceded that of the economy by approximately six months. The economy in the first few months of recent years has been affected by the supply of money. The Federal Reserve Board, primarily through its discount rate, is able to influence money supply although it is also influenced by the law of supply and demand.

As money comes into greater demand the prime rate of interest on commercial loans rises. This is the rate charged to leading companies. The banks in turn as the spread between the interest charged by the Federal Reserve Board through the discount rate widens have additional incentives to permit the loaning of money and consequently frequently lower the standards to be met to borrow their money. Therefore it is necessary for the Federal Reserve as interest rates rise to raise the discount rate accordingly.

Eventually, as it becomes more difficult to borrow money, the upward trend of the economy slows up and a reversal of the trend occurs. Today the prime rate is as high as it was in 1957 prior to the business recession and the high levels of their cycle a few months prior to the time that

Austin—The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety warned today to definite upward trend" in Texas traffic deaths has been established this year even before the heavy summer-holiday travel season.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., said unless something happens to change the trend, it could mean that an all-time record of traffic deaths could be in the making for 1959.

He said the death trend appears to be levelling off at about 10 per cent above 1958, when 2,343 traffic victims were counted, and pointed out this could mean 235 additional deaths this year if the pace is maintained.

"With travel up an estimated three per cent this year, and with the Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays yet to come, this could mean we're driving for an all-time high in motorides on the streets and highways of Texas," Garrison said.

Garrison reported that as of Friday noon, May 29, at least 832 persons were killed in traffic, compared with 755 during the same period of 1958—an increase of 11 per cent.

"This means 80 more lives were lost in traffic violence," he said. "We appeal to every driver to observe these cold, hard statistics and realize that summer trips are potentially more dangerous this year than last.

"We also must realize it is extremely likely that one of the biggest killers on the long, hot summer road is fatigue—an insidious demon that can attack even those of us who observe all the other known safe-driving practices.

"Our statistics cannot reflect how many traffic deaths are caused by fatigue, only that the death rate was on the wrong side of the road, ran off the road, or rammed into a slower-moving vehicle. They do not tell us that the driver was asleep, or nodded at the wrong split-second.

"Don't let your vacation enthusiasm cause you to drive when you should be resting. Don't push yourself to make up for lost time. Don't get caught napping at the wheel."
