But in recent years, the laws have changed back again to protect animals from abuse. We have evidently changed our minds about the nature of animals.

Our beliefs about crime—what causes it, and who's to blame, and how to control it—find expression each year in our legislation, in our court decisions, and jury verdicts.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.

Now, a worker needs only to have worked and paid social security taxes for 8 out of 10 years before the start of his disability. Many people who were disqualified under the old law may find that they can now receive disability benefits.

For further information see your social security representative, Eugene E. Hirsch, who will be in Bandera, at the County Judge's Office on Friday, October 9, at 1:00 p.m.

GOV. PRICE DANIEL, PROCLAIMS YOUTH PARTICIPATION WEEK

Students and parents in Bandera County will participate with more than a million other Texans in concentrating the problems and their possible solution for children and youth during the week of September 27-October 2. Local school officials planning for this are: Mr. Horton, superintendent, Medina, and Marvin C. Schnelle, superintendent of Bandera.

Governor Price Daniel has officially declared September 27-October 2 as Youth Participation Week for the White House Conference on Children and Youth. All public and private junior and senior high schools were requested by Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar to devote some time during this week to discussion of problems of youth and their ideas of possible solution. Parents will do the same through their local PTA units, according to Mrs. W. D. deGrazzi, State President. This involves more than a million Texans.

Each school will report the ideas of their students and these will be a part of Texas' report to the White House Conference. The Discussion Guides were formulated by the young people on the Governor's Committee for the White House Conference and are in the language of the teenager.

"From the young people themselves we hope to learn what they consider to be their problems and their ideas for solution," said Dr. Guy D. Newman, Governor's Committee Chairman.

SANDY BORDEN IS BRIDE OF PAUL ALLAN MITCHELL

In the Methodist Church of Medina, on August 22, at half past seven, Miss Sandra Gale Borden became the bride of Paul Allen Mitchell. The double ring ceremoney was performed by Rev. Elmer A. Morgan.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Borden of San Antonio, was given in marriage by her father. The groom is the son of Mrs. L. T. Mitchell of Houston.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Youth Center of the church.

The bride wore a ballerina gown of silk organza. A small row of embroidered flowers surrounded the neck and the full gathered skirt was sprinkled with the same small flowers. A tiny pearl crown with a finger tip veil made the brides headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white orchid and carnations on a white Bible.

The matron-of-honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Joel Borden. She wore a short blue taffeta dress with blue accessories. The brides maid, Miss Diane Vandel of Houston, wore the same type of dress as the matron-of-honor. Both girls carried bouquets of blue carnations.

Best man was Ralph Mitchell, of Beaumont, the groom's brother. Groomsman was Donnie Anderson of Medina.

The bride's mother was dressed in a lovely blue lace sheath, with a tiny blue featered hat and white accessories. She wore a pink orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a pink silk shantung dress trimmed in pink satin, her accessories were black; and she wore a pale green orchid corsage.

Misses Arnell Childs and Sue Weir lighted the candles for the ceremony and Mrs. Harold Bausch presided at the Bride's Book. Miss Jane Caton served the cake, and Miss Dahlia Boothe, of Yoakum, poured the punch.

After a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple is making their home in Houston.

There were many new faces among the seventeen ladies present. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to Mrs. J. C. Richards, Mrs. H. E. Hayes, Mrs. L. W. Schmidtke, Mrs. Leroy Sprott, Mrs. Jimmie Word, Mrs. Alfred Schulte Jr., Mrs. Billy Griffin, Mrs. Henry Prather, Mrs. George D. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. W. Short Jr., will be the scene of the Harvest Tea to be held by the WSCS of the Bandera Methodist Church on Thursday, October 8, at 10 a.m.

The regular meeting of the Privilege Creek Home Demonstration Club will be held in the home of Mrs. Joe Stein at 2 p.m. All members are urged to attend and guests are very welcome.

Rankin Conwill and son, Tony, of Monahans, spent the week-end here visiting his mother, Mrs. Eula Conwill, and other relatives.

Mrs. Clinton Risinger spent last week in San Antonio visiting with her relatives who were seriously injured in an automobile accident near New Braunfels the latter part of August. Mrs. Risinger reports that all the victims are out of danger now and that her sisters, Mrs. Eulola Davenport and Mrs. W. J. Bartley, are still patients at the Santa Rosa Hospital. Mrs. Davenport has a cast over most of her body and Mrs. Bartley's foot was placed in a cast last Wednesday. Mrs. Risinger says that both ladies are resting well now and are doing as well as can be expected. The two other victims of the wreck, Mr. Bartley and Mrs. Hannah O'Connell of Medina Lake, are still in Brooke General Hospital. Mrs. O'Connell's leg is in a cast, but she is making excellent recovery. Mr. Bartley has been in serious condition and has had pneumonia. Just recently he was moved to Brooke General and at last report his condition was improved.

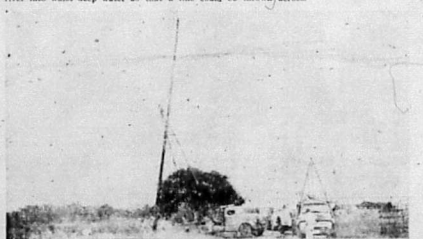
FLOODED GUADALUPE RESPONSIBLE FOR POWER FAILURE

Torrential rains on the watershed of the Guadalupe River this past week-end sent this usually beautiful river on a devastating rampage. Heavy rains reported up to 18 inches in some places caused the river to rise extremely high as it coursed its way through the Hill Country.



Rushing flood waters wrecked this structure and left it broken and twisted on road along river. Joe Preston, C. A. Ritcheson and Calvin Callahan commence to dismantle hardware on poles.

All electric power furnished by Bandera Electric Cooperative through its Bandera and Utopia sub-stations was interrupted when the high water washed out one of the two-pole structures on the Lower Colorado River Authority 60,000 volt line near Center Point. The areas affected were Bandera, Medina, Utopia, Medina Lake, Pipe Creek and rural lines in Real and Uvalde counties.

C. A. Ritcheson and Calvin Callahan prepare to set stakes at location of new poles. In the background can be seen a structure that was left standing when line went down. The span across river will be approximately 1400 feet. At highest point water was up where men are standing.

Approximately seventeen and one-half hours was required to assemble materials, including two 65 foot poles, and get a crew from Austin to make necessary repairs. While LCRA crews were enroute from Austin employees of the Cooperative were busy hauling the poles from Kerrville and digging the holes so that they might be set. Stringing of new wire required LCRA crews to enter the river into waist deep water so that a line could be thrown across.

Shown above is one of the two 65 foot poles being installed as support for the river crossing. These poles will be set 10 feet apart and will form a single structure.

A report from Bandera Electric Cooperative indicates that little damage was done by the extremely severe electrical storm. Crews worked until 3 o'clock Monday morning restoring service where lightning had knocked out fuses, but only two transformers were destroyed.

ROBERT DE MONTEL FORMER RESIDENT DIED IN EDINBURG

Friends and relatives in the Hill Country were grieved to learn of the passing of Robert Lee de Montel of Edinburg, former resident of Camp Verde. Mr. de Montel passed away at Edinburg on October 4th and funeral services were held there Tuesday. He was born at Castroville on April 12, 1887, to pioneer parents. His grandfather, Charles de Montel, Sr., was one of the founders of Bandera and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles de Montel, Sr., were pioneer ranchers at the head of Camp Verde Creek in Bandera county.

Mr. de Montel had been in ill health for sometime and his passing was not unexpected.

Survivors include his wife, Nora, of Edinburg; a son, Raymond, Mrs. David Johnston of Stennett, Texas; a son, LeRoy, of Corpus Christi; two brothers, Frank and Richard, of Camp Verde; two sisters, Misses Arnie Mae and Ollie de Montel, of Camp Verde; three step-sons and a step-daughter, and several grandchildren. He was preceded in death by the mother of his children, Mrs. Maude Hay de Montel and a son, Ervin, who died on Okinawa during World War II.

The Bulletin joins their many friends in extending sympathy to the de Montel family.

THE BANDERA BAND MARCHES AND PLAYS WELL

Let's give credit where credit is due! Orban has the band played and marched at the same time as well as they did at the Bandera-Junction game Friday night.

Our new band director, Mr. Hargis, working with a strange group, many of whom have never marched before, had them doing an intricate precision routine without a bobble, playing all the while. Such a thing so early in the season is a great credit to the band and the director both.

Congratulations, Mr. Hargis, on a good job well-done!

DOANE SCHOLARSHIP TO JOE KING AND JAY EDWARDS

Two boys, Jay Edwards and Joe King, from the 1959 senior class of Bandera High School have been granted $250 each from the Doane Scholarship set up last spring for an outstanding senior boy. The committee in charge of granting this scholarship felt that both boys were equally deserving so it was decided to divide the $500 giving each boy an equal share.

Joe Barton King is attending Texas Technological College at Lubbock; and Jay Edwards is doing his first year college work at Howard Payne College in Brownwood.

ST. JOSEPH'S MUSTANGS WORKING HARD

Fundamentals — blocking and tackling have been the key note for the St. Joseph's Mustangs in their practice this week. There has been a marked improvement in the boys play, however, there is still a lot of hard work ahead for the team. Two seventh graders, Mike Fitzpatrick and Kenneth Mazurek, have shown the biggest improvement in practice this week.

The sixth graders show a keen desire to play and with continued effort will be playing with the first string team before the season is over.

Be sure and see the Mustangs' first home game against the St. Mary's Apaches of Fredericksburg, Sunday, October 18, at 3:00, on the Bandera High School Football Field.

BULLDOGS BLANK JUNCTION 20-0 FOR THIRD WIN

The Bandera Bulldogs scored their first shut-out of the year Friday night by surprising the Junction Eagles 20-0 at Bulldog stadium. The Bulldogs now sport a 3-1 mark for the season.

Bandera raced to a 14-0 half time lead and then tallied an insurance marker in the third period to wrap up the win. Three Bulldogs crossed the goal stripe during the contest and an apparent fourth teedee was nullified by an interference penalty.

The Bulldogs broke the scoring ice early in the second period as a result of a fumble recovery by Kalka deep in Junction territory. On the first play after gaining possession, Larry Stein plowed over from five yards out for six points. Cottingham tallied the point after. Later in the stanza, the Bulldogs gained possession on the Eagle 29 once again as the result of a fumble recovery, this time on the part of Bryan King. The Bulldogs negotiated the distance in only five plays with the pay-off being scored by Cottingham from a yard out. Bandera threatened again before intermission, but a pass intercepted killed the drive.

In the third period, after exchanging the ball several times, the Bulldogs took possession on their own 34 and from there marched 66 yards in 12 plays for their last touchdown. The six pointer was scored via a 34 yard aerial from Schlader to Stevens. That ended the evening's scoring and from then until the final gun, neither team threatened seriously though the Eagles managed to advance as far as the Bandera 20 yard line.

Statistically, the Bulldogs seemed to dominate play as they racked up 14 first downs to the Eagles' 6 and made five penetrations to none for Junction. Bandera rushed for 156 yards and passed for another 93 yards for a total yardage of 249 yards while Junction managed only 44 yards on the ground and none through the air lanes for a net yardage of 44 yards. Kalka led the Bulldog rushers with 49 yards on 13 carries and a 3.8 yard average. Cottingham, Ramos, Alanis, and Knibbe gained the remaining 53 yards. Kalka, Knibbe, and Schlader shared the passing chores. The trio connected on 8 of 18 aerial attempts.

The Bulldog defensive platoon sparkled as each member performed yeomen service. Besides limiting the Eagles to a mere 44 yards and no penetrations, the alert Bandera defenders also snagged four Junction passes and pounced on three Eagle bobbles.

This Friday Bandera plays host to the Dilley Wolves in a non-conference game at 8:00 p.m. The Bulldogs will be going all-out tonight in trying to defeat the Wolves for the first time in Coach Waldrum's seven year career at Bandera.

FIELD DAY AND RANGE TOUR WELL ATTENDED

Local ranchers and businessmen assembled at Lion's Hudspeth Park Tuesday morning at nine o'clock to take advantage of the range tour and field day sponsored by the Bandera Soil Conservation District. Billy Griffin, local conservationist, gave the welcome address and introduced the visiting dignitaries who were D. T. Mann and Tom Shiflet of the Soil Conservation Service, Ed Cooper of the Extension Service, Elgin Deitz and Donald Miller of the Texas Game and Fish Commission, and George Desher of the Soil Conservation Service.

The group first traveled to the Fred Thalmann ranch where Bob Mansfield, lessee and chairman of the board, presented a discussion of conservation management and conservation practices applied on the place. After touring the Thalmann ranch, and observing results, Tom Shiflet, Soil Conservation range specialist, gave a discussion of range management and proper use. Before completing the tour of the Thalmann ranch, a brief stop was made and Bob Mansfield gave an explanation of the deferment system.

The Homer Stevens ranch was then visited and Billy Griffin gave a talk on Mr. Stevens' accomplishments on the place and his present management. This was followed by a discussion on wildlife conservation by Ed Cooper, Extension Service Biologist.

At the noon hour the group returned to Bandera to the park where they were served a delicious lunch consisting of barbecued chicken with all the trimmings. Following lunch the supervisors election for sub-division No. 1 was held.

Ed Cooper spoke briefly on the economics of game management before the group traveled to the Alkek ranch where Elgin Deitz, Texas Game and Fish Commission Aquatic Biologist, discussed fish pond improvement and management. The tour ended at this point.

The Board of Supervisors of the Bandera Soil Conservation District would like to take this opportunity to express their thanks to those who contributed their time and effort toward making the range tour and field day a successful one. Special thanks goes to the First National Bank, the First State Bank, and the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Association for furnishing the barbecue lunch, and to Eddie Ryan who arranged for the donation of the bread used at the barbecue.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Short of Station C have been visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Short and children and have been getting acquainted with their new granddaughter, Clare Jo. Mr. Short returned to the ranch Monday, while Mrs. Short remained for a longer visit.

BANDERA ICE HOUSE DESTORYED BY FIRE WEDNESDAY

A fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Bandera Ice House, owned by Pat Boyle, early Wednesday morning. Firemen and other assistants fought the raging fire for several hours, but were unable to save the ice factory. The loss is estimated at nearly $35,000, none of which was covered by insurance.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

MRS. SALLY SKULL

Heroine of the War Between the States

Sally Skull, born Sarah Newman, was good looking, a good cowhand, and she could shoot as straight with her left hand as her right. So she usually packed two six-shooters and sometimes used them. However, history records that all the men she killed really needed killing. In her prime during the Civil War, this remarkable Texan served her state and the Confederacy magnificently. She worked big crews of loyal cowboys, most of them of Mexican descent, on her ranches in Bee and Nueces counties. She had some big freight wagons. With these, Sally and her vaqueros hauled cotton to Mexico, where it brought high war-time prices. Then, she used her cotton money to buy munitions for the South and hauled them back to Texas. Danger and hardship that would have stopped most men couldn't even slow Sally down. And amazingly enough, with all her rough ways and rough tongue—her vocabulary was pungently uninhibited, it's said—Sally Skull's essential femininity was never obscured. She was a feminine party girl—liked to dress up and take in the gayest Mexican fandangoes, and she outlived three sturdy Texas husbands. Living the life she loved, Sally made it a good one.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland — "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

A WONDERFUL NEW WORLD OF FORDS FOR 1960

FINEST FORDS OF A LIFETIME

Thirteen Ford Galaxie, like all the new, beautifully proportioned 1960 Fords, is styled from a new viewpoint. Traditional automobile elegance combines with modern design in the style of a new decade!

In 1960, for the first time in history, your Ford Dealer presents not one, not two, but three new lines of Ford cars . . .

1. The 1960 Fords—The Finest Fords of a Lifetime, beautiful from any Point of View worth more from every Point of Value!
2. The 1960 Falcon—The New-size Ford, the world's most experienced new car and the easiest car in the world to own!
3. The 1960 Thunderbird . . . The World's Most Wanted Car!

Introducing the New-Size Ford . . . the 1960 Ford Falcon

Meet the New-size Ford—the Falcon! Here's a car with plenty of room for six big adults and all their luggage. It's sized to handle and park like a "small" car . . . powered to pass and climb like a "big" car . . . and built like no other car for savings!

It gives you up to 30 miles per gallon on regular gas. Aluminized mufflers normally last twice as long as ordinary kinds. A Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes. Even insurance can cost you less! And this Falcon is the world's most experienced new car. It was driven over every mile of numbered Federal Highway in EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A.—a grueling demonstration climaxing Ford's 3 years of development and testing.

The Falcon has the features that American car buyers expect. Its gearshift is on the steering column—not on the floor. Its engine is located up front for greater stability and safety. Best news of all is the Falcon's low, low price. See it at your Ford Dealer's . . . and see the difference!

Now you can see them—the Finest Fords of a Lifetime! Economy-minded Fairlanes. Big-value Fairlane 500's. Elegant Galaxies. A breath-taking new Sunliner convertible and a brand-new hardtop model, the Radiant Starliner. Then there's a whole new world of Station Wagon Living, too. It all adds up to 15 glittering variations of the world's newest, most elegant styling theme!

And Ford sets the new trend in power. Ford's Thunderbird 292 V-8 and 352 V-8, like the famous Mileage Maker Six, bring a new world of smoother, luster performance—on regular gas.

To top it all, the Finest Fords of a Lifetime are priced for savings. Ford is still priced to outvalue all comparable models of its major competitors.

Ford savings, however, only begin with a low price! You save still more with engines that thrive on regular gas and save up to a dollar on every tankful . . . a Full-Flow oil filter that lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes . . . Diamond Luster Finish that never needs waxing . . . aluminized mufflers that normally last twice as long as conventional types . . . new, safer, Truck Size brakes that are the biggest ever in Ford's history . . . and new soft-tread, Tyrex cord tires that run quieter, last longer.

In every way these are the Finest Fords of your Lifetime! See them at your Ford Dealer's!

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Treadaway

ROLLAND TREADAWAY AND MISS PATRICIA McCAUSLAND WED SATURDAY

Miss Particia Margaret McCausland of Amarillo became the bride of Rolland Turner Treadaway of Pampa in a simple, but beautiful single ring ceremony at the ancestoral home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Robert Woollard, near Bandera, Saturday evening at six o'clock.

James Herriott offered a prayer and Bandera County Judge O. O. Adams read the marriage vows. Beautiful potted ferns banked the front of the fireplace in the living room, and with a formal arrangement of white glads and mums in a bronze horse shoe compote with bronze horse at either end of the mantle, formed the background for the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, John McCausland, of Pampa, was lovely in a beautiful cocktail dress of subdued floral print. Her accessories were royal blue. She carried a white Bible topped with her bridal bouquet of white fugi mums.

The only attendants were Miss Betty Jean Miller of Amarillo, who was maid of honor and John W. Clarke of Pampa, who served the groom as best man. Miss Miller wore a corsage of white fugi mums, and all the ladies present wore beautiful corsages of green fugi mums.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held. The dining table was covered with a white Madeira cloth and held an arrangement of white valley lillies, flanked with candelabra, entwined with lace fern. The silver punch bowl adorned one end and the beautiful wedding cake completed the setting. A horizontal arrangement of bird of paradise in an antique pitcher was placed on an occasional table in the room.

The bride was reared in London, England, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Deerden of London. She graduated from St. Joseph's School in London in 1954. She moved from her home town 14 months ago and was sponsored out to the U. S. by her brother, John McCausland, who resides in Pampa, Texas, with his family. Mrs. Treadaway has been employed in Amarillo by Grisner Madison Insurance Agency.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Robert Woollard of Bandera and Dr. T. L. Treadaway of Brownfield, Texas. He attended the University of Texas three years and is a graduate of Texas Tech at Lubbock. He is presently employed as a chemist by the Celanese Corporation of America at Pampa, where the bride and groom are making their home, after a short wedding trip to Austin.

Wedding guests include Mr. and Mrs. John McCausland and three daughters, Jayne, Joanne, and Jennifer, and John Clarke of Pampa; Miss Betty Jean Miller of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Knox and daughter, Debbie, of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Benton Potter of Medina; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Risinger and son, John, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Herriott and children, Jimmy and Karen, the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Dora Thalmann, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woollard, and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Thalmann L. Treadaway, of Austin.

FRANK MONTAGUE, SR., IS GODFATHER

On the 13th of September last, Frank M. Montague, Sr., former President of the First National Bank of Bandera, and prominent rancher here, drove to Edna, Texas, to be present for the christening of young Mark Franklin Marek.

Reverend Balthasar J. Janacek baptized the child in St. Agnes Catholic church, at eleven a.m. Sponsors in baptism were Frank M. Montague, Sr., Godfather, and Mrs. J. B. Houston, the baby's aunt, Godmother.

Mr. Montague has been looking forward to this occasion. In 1911 he was Godfather for the baby's grandfather, Louis F. Postert, again in 1936 for the child's mother, Mrs. Lawrence Franklin Marek, and now little Mark's Godfather.

Mr. Montague says this makes him a Great-Grand-pa Godfather and feels he may be the only man holding this distinction.

At 2:00 p.m., an excellent dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Marek, paternal grandparents of the baby.

Mr. Montague was an honored guest and entertained all present by telling of his many experiences of past years.

Those present were Reverend Balthasar J. Janacek, Pastor of St. Agnes Catholic church, Reverend Bernard Mulanery, Assistant Pastor, Frank M. Montague, Sr., Mrs. J. B. Houston and children of Ganado, Mrs. Lawrence Franklin Marek, Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Postert, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Marek, Miss Barbara Marek and Johnny Marek.

Miss Jewel Reeves of Houston spent the week-end here visiting her sister, Mrs. Betty Dufresnoe and daughter, Carol Ann. Mrs. Dufresnoe is the owner of the former M. L. Bunn residence on the San Antonio highway.

FINE ARTS CLUB OPENED SEASON WITH LUNCHEON AND ART EXHIBIT

The Bandera Country Club was the setting for a lovely luncheon when the Fine Arts Club opened the 1959-1960 season, featuring a most interesting exhibit of paintings done by artists of the Hill Country Arts Foundation of Ingram, Tuesday, October 6th, at 12:30 noon. Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Toepperwein of Boerne, both of whom are well known to Hill Country residents for their many varied artistic talents, were responsible for the very wonderful program.

Before lunch the guests viewed the art exhibits done by Don Bolen, Olive Vandruff, Margaret Anderson, Alice Naylor, Amy Freeman Lee, and many other outstanding artists.

Decorating the speakers' table was a crystal compote holding a formal arrangement of yellow fugi mums, yellow and bronze daisy mums, artificial lemons, oranges, and grapes. Tall white tapers burned in crystal candelabra.

After the invocation by Mrs. George Harrison, Mrs. Melvin Rossman introduced the hostess chairman, Mrs. Cal Shiner, who in turn presented her committee composed of Mrs. Al Plummer, Sr., of Kerrville, Mrs. Annie Love, San Antonio, Mrs. Joe Hensley, Mrs. Fred Briggs and Mrs. O. P. Smith of Bandera. Miss Eva Thallman, also a hostess, was unable to be present. Members were then requested to introduce their guests.

Mrs. Margaret Anderson of Kerrville was presented as leader for the day and she introduced her committee, Mrs. H. V. Heim and Mrs. F. B. Doane. Mrs. Anderson had the pleasure of introducing Mr. and Mrs. Toepperwein and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Ross, of Kerrville.

Mr. Toepperwein gave a most interesting resume of the aims and purposes of the Arts Foundation and used one lovely painting of Santa Cypress trees on the bank of the Guadalupe River to point out that since the recent flood damage had washed away so many of these old trees, without these contributions to prosterity, many people would never have had the opportunity to view them. He concluded with the reading of a delightful poem, "Cotton-Eyed Joe" and then introduced Don Bolen of Ingram, director and instructor of art at the Arts Foundation, who was guest speaker at the luncheon. His talk was concluded with a short question and answer session.

The president, Mrs. Rossman, then called the business meeting to order. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Margaret Anderson read the minutes from the May meeting and the treasurer's report was given, both being approved.

A letter of resignation from Mrs. Klaus Reeves, publicity chairman, was read and it was voted to accept the same with regret. Mrs. Glendon Roberts of the nominating committee recommended Mrs. Harold Brooks for this office and the vote was unanimous. Mrs. Alfred Anderwald, program chairman, gave an outline of the program for the coming season, which includes a most interesting one. The subject will be announced.

Guests and members who registered were Mesdames W. A. Plummer, A. H. Byrne, George Meyer, Fred Briggs, Owen P. Smith, Joe Hensley, Robert P. Thompson, Harold Brooks, F. B. Doane, J. O. Evans, Lona Jackson, Melvin Rossman, James Brannigan, John R. Langford, R. N. Albert, J. P. Munsch, Robert M. Gieff, W. W. Cardwell, Glendon Roberts, George E. Harrison, Allen Lovercheck, Ray F. Wyatt, M. R. Sandidge, John Nixon, G. T. Sandidge, Howard Eckhart, Fred Mansfield, George Bradley, W. P. Jordan, J. B. Edwards, and Alfred Anderwald. Also Mesdames J. W. Shacklett of Houston, Ethel Stallcup of Eagle Lake, M. R. Cornerio, T. M. Harr, and Amy L. Love of San Antonio; Frederic Collins of Medina.

TEXAS LIBRARY ASSOCIATION TO MEET IN KERRVILLE

District 8 of the Texas Library Association will consider the possibilities of cooperation in library service when it meets on Saturday, October 17, using the theme "A District Serves Its Public." The meeting will be held in Kerrville under the chairmanship of Miss Frances Seaver, Reference Librarian of the School of Aviation Medicine at Kelly Air Force Base. It is expected that the 32 counties making up the district will be represented. In addition there will be the interest of seeing the Kerr County Memorial Library, sponsored by the active Friends of the Library group in Kerrville. This Friends' organization is serving as host to the meeting.

Registration will begin at 9:00 at this library, and after coffee and a tour of the building, the meeting itself will be held at the Bluebonnet Hotel. A general program will present Mrs. Tom O'Donnell, Librarian of Burnet County Free Library, Dr. M. G. Bowman, principal of Casis Elementary School in Austin, and County Judge Julius E. Neunhoffer of Kerrville.

Two group meetings will follow: in one, Mrs. May Lea McCurdy, Associate Librarian of Austin Public Library, assisted by Mrs. Gladys Tomme, will present "Basic Preparations Work in the Smaller Library."

The other group will hear William Holman, director of the San Antonio Public Library talk on "Serving the Public Effectively." Mr. Holman's talk should be especially interesting in view of the recent reorganization of that library into subject divisions to give better service to a growing public.

The luncheon speaker will be Mrs. Harold G. Robinson of Austin, who will speak on "The Library is a Girl's Best Friend." Mrs. Robinson is better known as Anne Durrum of the "Durrum Twins" who are known for radio and TV work, and their "by-line" has become familiar in such national magazines as Mademoiselle and Glamour.

Mrs. Jay Hall, Instructing Librarian of the 1960 census, will be at the hotel various displays of books and materials. Mrs. Bess Ann Mooney of the Texas State Library will have helpful materials to give out and be ready to answer questions. Mrs. Marie Perryman, head of children's work at the San Antonio Public Library, will present a display of good but inexpensive books for children and young people; and Mrs. D. A. Mills, former Troy H. S. Librarian in Kerrville, will have a display in recognition of her winning the national John Cotton Dana award in 1958, given jointly by the American Library Association and the Wilson Library Bulletin for the best publicity in a high school library.

The district association is surveying the area in order to prepare a union list of useful library "tools" available in libraries throughout the 32 counties. At the meeting there will be a discussion of possible projects which might be undertaken, and all librarians will be encouraged to turn in written suggestions for consideration. The Nominating Committee, headed by Mrs. Palmer Giles of Comfort, will make its report.

Officers of the association in addition to Miss Seaver, are Sam A. Sober, Assistant Reference Librarian of Austin Public Library, Vice-Chairman and Chairman Elect; and Mrs. Alta Bennett, librarian of Robert E. Lee High School in San Antonio, Secretary-Treasurer.

Library Trustees attending the meeting will have a group meeting of their own.

STATE FAIR OF TEXAS

Dallas—The 74th annual edition of America's greatest fair, the 1959 State Fair of Texas, will open Friday afternoon, October 9.

Following the traditional parade through downtown Dallas, which starts at 3 p.m., the ribbon-cutting ceremonies at the main pedestrian gate on Parry avenue will officially open the fair at 3:45 p.m. However, all fairgrounds gates except the Parry gate will be open to the public at 3:30 p.m.

Texas Governor Price Daniel will snip the silken ribbon that officially opens the fair, and Vice-President Richard M. Nixon will speak briefly. The official party will then proceed to the General Exhibits Building where Vice-President Nixon will press a button to open the second annual Texas International Trade Fair.

The SMU Mustangs and the Missouri Tigers open the fair's football schedule with a game in the Cotton Bowl at 8 p.m., Friday, October 9. The next afternoon at 2 p.m., is kickoff time for the annual Texas-Oklahoma gridiron classic, which both Governor Daniel and Oklahoma Governor Howard Edmondson are expected to attend.

The State Fair of Texas as usual is loaded with attractions, but there is much more that's new this year. By the time the fair is over, for example, virtually everyone of the new 1960 models will be on display in the Automobile Center. The Fair show will be the first in the country to show the 1960 cars.

The fabled "Nikko Exhibition" from Japan is another new feature. This elaborate replica of a renovated Nikko Shrine near Tokyo is a "cultural treasure" of the Japanese, cost $2½ million to build, and has been allowed outside Japan for the first time. The only other place in the U. S. it has been shown was at the Oregon Centennial Exposition this summer, where it was the featured attraction.

Another great new feature at the fair is the just completed $2,000,000 Livestock Coliseum, which will house three big horse shows during the fair. Over 900 entries from 25 states and Canada are listed for the horse shows.

Entertainment attractions at the fair this year include the McGuire Sisters in the "Star Light, Star Bright!" revue with Rowan and Martin in the Music Hall, the all-new 19th edition of "Ice Capades," the State Fair "Shower of Stars" series of free shows, and the million-dollar Midway featuring "Dancing Waters."

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Agent's Necessary in Business

Practically all business' transactions of every kind depend upon the services of agents of one kind or another. Your insurance man is an agent and so is the man who sells you real estate, or delivers your groceries, or drives your bus. These are just a few examples and each under the law of agency is somewhat different.

But they have in common the idea that, in some way or another, they represent or act for someone else. The person or corporation for which they act is known as the principal.

Generally speaking, there are two broad classes of agents—special agents and general agents. For example, suppose you wish to sell your house and you engage a realtor to handle it for you. He is a special agent who represents you in this transaction alone.

On the other hand, if you were to be absent from the city for a long period of time and have business affairs to be cared for, you might grant a power of attorney to a close associate to act in your place as fully as if you were present.

He would be your general agent and could use his own judgment and discretion in conducting your affairs without consulting you as to what should be done with any old or new problems that might arise.

However, the principal is responsible for the conduct of his agent, either general or special, if the agent is in the process of doing what he has been hired to do. That, if the act is acting within his "scope of authority," and someone is injured through the agent's negligence, the principal is liable.

Very often difficult legal questions arise as to whether the conduct of the agent was within the "scope of his authority", and thus binding upon the principal. For example, suppose the grocer's delivery boy while enroute to a customer's home, and despite the grocer's instructions to stick to business while on deliveries, decided to go a mile or so out of his way to see his girl about a date that night. He drives through a stop sign and hits a pedestrian. Is the grocer responsible for this?

Though this is one of the areas of the law that can be very complex, at the same time it is one of the areas of the law where fairness, common sense, and common understanding are most important.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS ATTRACTIVE TO INVESTORS

Never before have United States Savings Bonds been so attractive to investors and small savers alike, J. Burgin Davenport, Chairman of the Bandera County Savings Bonds committee, said yesterday in commenting on the new Series E and H Savings Bonds.

"Forty million people automatically benefit from the recent legislation passed by Congress," Mr. Davenport said, "because that many hold outstanding bonds in the amount of $42.6 billion. For the first time, the hike in rates applies to old series E and H Savings Bonds, as well as those being bought currently. So, it will be to the advantage of most bond owners to hold onto their old bonds, thus automatically receiving the benefit of the increase."

The new law does two things: (1) it provides that all Savings Bonds bought on and after June 1, 1959, will be issued at new, higher rates; and (2) it increases by at least one-half of one per cent the interest return on all outstanding E and H bonds, regardless of their age, for the period from June 1, 1959, to their maturity. In addition, the Treasury has promised a 10-year extension privilege for all E bonds, both old and new.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that every person who owns an E or H bond benefits from the new rate, without having to do anything about it," Mr. Davenport continued. "I would therefore encourage the public to do two things: keep holding their old bonds, and keep on buying the new ones. This is the Finest Savings Bonds package ever offered."

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vanderveer and family and Mrs. Ed Mansfield of Austin spent the week-end in Bandera visiting relatives and friends.

Earl's Super Market

SPECIALS

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY OCTOBER 9TH AND 10TH

The most amusing thing I know of is People, and, Merchants are NO exception. I am sure most every one reads some paper especially on Thursday and Friday when all the Merchants bid for your Business, and the bait they put out is amusing, and it is further amusing, to expect intelegent people to swallow it, however, there are some that will be silly enough to do so.

Some time ago I told you in an article in this paper that no one is going to give you anything, and that still holds good, I was talking to a Salesman a short time ago about an ad that appeared in a News Paper in another town. He and myself knew the price on the items listed, I said why do they do that, He said from their point of view it is good Business, they say if they can get the People on the Store and they spend as much as $3.00, they will get back the 10 or 15 cents they gave you and, at a profit, and any Merchant knows that statement is true. So far as I am concerned this is deception, and I don't know of a dirtier word in any language than deception.

Earl's Super Market makes the following recomendations to every buyer, and let it include us.

1 check the item and see if it is good Merchandise.

2 make a notation of the specials.

3 check your Merchandise with the Adding Machine tape and see that you get them at the price advertised. Anyone can make a mistake, NO honest Merchant will object to this.

Our Specials for this week will not appear here, but there will be plenty of them, more than usual, stop at the red tag to see them and also as you shop look on the packages of the rest of the Merchandise and then you will know where to trade.

Tarpley

Mrs. Bonnie James, Reporter

Nine rains fell in the Tarpley area during the week-end. Sid Coffey reported that better than five inches fell in Tarpley and reports of various amounts have been received from throughout the area. All the creeks were up and people have been busy repairing water gaps. Tarpley residents, along with others throughout the county, were without electric power almost eighteen hours due to the destruction of power lines by the Guadalupe River at Center Point. This gave us all the opportunity to pull out the old kerosene lamps and candles and carry water to the house like folks used to do in "the good old days." We feel sure that if we had been asked to "count our many blessings" Sunday, most of us would have had "the invention of electricity" at the top of our list! Too often we think that most of us take our many conveniences of today for granted and fail to offer a prayer of thankfulness. Perhaps this has been a good lesson for us all and will make us more appreciative of our many blessings in life.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Billings during the week-end were Mrs. Billings' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cravey, and her sisters, Mrs. Ruby Pet and Mrs. Leo Krueger, and Mr. Krueger, and the Billings' daughter and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murray and twin daughters, Mrs. Thelma Bybee and children, Larry and Brenda, all of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Erfurt and son, Robert, of Bandera, visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Erfurt and children Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sandidge visited Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schmidt Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gazaway of Utopia visited Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter Monday afternoon as they were on their way to visit their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gazaway and sons at Kerrville.

Visitors of Mrs. A. A. Jeffers during the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. John Witt of Bandera, G. W. Sandidge of Stephenville and Lynn Jeffers of the Naval Air Station at Beeville.

Among those from Tarpley who attended the football game at Bandera Friday night were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sandidge, G. W. Sandidge, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schmidt.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter went to San Antonio Friday. While there, Mrs. Sauter went for her regular check-up and she also enjoyed a visit with her sister.

G. W. Sandidge, who is a student at Tarleton College at Stephenville, spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sandidge.

Walter and Augusta Scheile spent Sunday at Comfort visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Schmidt and family and Mrs. M. A. Berry of Boerne were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sandidge.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Beagle were business visitors in the Center Point area Monday evening.

We are so happy to report that little Miss Marian Hargrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove, is feeling somewhat better this week, and everyone is hoping that her condition will continue to improve.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dean and children, Larry, Nettie Marie, and Charles Hope, moved last week end to their new home in the Tarpley community. Anyone who knows them will be looking forward to the time when they will return to their place here at Tarpley to make their home again.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Deering and grandson of San Antonio, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mansfield Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mansfield were business visitors in Bandera Wednesday when he attended F. directors meeting at the Bandera Electric Coop. While in Bandera, Mrs. Mansfield was a pleasant visitor at the Bulletin office and lended us a check for the renewal of her subscription.

Mrs. W. B. Woods, Mrs. J. M. Mitchell, and Mrs. A. A. Jeffers were shopping in Kerrville Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Anderson went to Hondo Wednesday to visit her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Charles Geuea and Mrs. Elms.

It is a pleasure to be your Tarpley reporter and your cooperation in turning in your news each week will be greatly appreciated because it is you, the readers and residents of the comntunity, who make the news, and unless you give it to us, we have no way of knowing it and cannot provide you with an interesting column in the Bulletin. Mrs. T. E. Sauter has graciously consented to accept the news for me at Tarpley, so if you do not have the opportunity to give your news to me, please give it to her. Thank you.

TARPLEY H. D. CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. MERRITT

The Tarpley Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. G. M. Merritt on Delightful Hill in Bandera. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. J. Schmidt, and was opened with the club prayer. Roll call was answered with "exchange of plants or seed," giving the name of the item brought.

Tarpley

Mrs. James Bauer, Reporter

Those rains fell in the Tarpley area Monday evening.

We are so happy to report that little Miss Marian Hargrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove, is feeling somewhat better this week, and everyone is hoping her condition will continue to improve.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dean and children, Larry, Nettie Marie, and Phyllis Hope, moved last week-end to their new home on the Calvert Ranch near Dilley. Among those who helped them move and visited them in their new home were Lewis Dean of D'Hanis, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelson of Tarpley, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie James and daughter, Minneana, of Bandera. We all wish the Dean family success and happiness in their new home, but their many friends in the Tarpley community will be looking forward to the time when they will return to their place here at Tarpley to make their home again.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Deering and grandson of San Antonio visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mansfield Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mansfield were business visitors in Bandera Wednesday when he attended a directors meeting at the Bandera Electric Coop. While in Bandera, Mrs. Mansfield was a pleasant visitor at the Bulletin office and handed us a check for the renewal of her subscription.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Anderson went to Hondo Wednesday to visit her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Charles Geuss and Mrs. Elma.

It is a pleasure to be your Tarpley reporter and your cooperation in turning in your news each week will be greatly appreciated because it is you, the readers and residents of the community, who make the news, and unless you give it to us, we have no way of knowing it and cannot provide you with an interesting column in the Bulletin. Mrs. T. E. Sauter has graciously consented to accept the news for me at Tarpley, so if you do not have the opportunity to turn your news in to me, please give it to her. Thank you.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Leonard Hardin, Manager

"A PLEA TO THE SPORTSMAN"

Each year during the months of September and October the country-side is covered with sportsmen endeavoring to reap their limit-in doves.

At this particular time of the year, the Telephone Company has an increase in telephones reported out-of-order. On 90 per cent of these reports our repairman discovers the telephone cable has been perforated by shots from a shotgun. After a rain the moisture penetrates the holes in the cable, thereby grounding out the line and results in a case of trouble, leaving someone without telephone service.

Be sure your quarry is not resting on telephone or power lines before you pull that trigger.

Remember the old saying; "The Life you save may be your Own," or as we say in the Telephone Company, "Spare your line shots and save your Phone."

BEAUTY ON DUTY

What does this headline mean to you.

If you are a homemaker, it could mean the new washer or dryer, or maybe even a new dishwasher.

To a man "Beauty on Duty" could mean a new car or the new translator radio that brings you the World Series.

For teenagers, it could mean the old but treasured jalopy sitting proudly in the driveway.

But here at the telephone company, we have our own special definition of "Beauty on Duty"—a bedroom telephone in color.

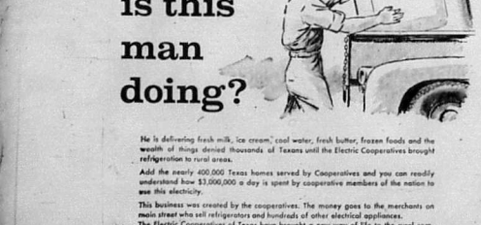
A bedroom phone in color deserves the title, too, because it brightens your bedroom while helping you keep in touch between chores during the day. It also gives you a sense of security and keeps you free from care and worry at night.

Color telephones are also available with a built-in night light—ideal for bedrooms. To order your bedroom phone in color, just call Velma Postert at the telephone business office. The number is SW6-3781.

BELL TELEPHONE HOUR

I thought you might like to know that the new line-up of television shows for the fall-winter season includes the return of the popular Bell Telephone Hour.

Planned for the season are 12 one-hour musicals on the NBC network, with the first show scheduled for Friday, October 9.



Among the stars of Broadway and Hollywood to be featured in the kickoff show are the Kingston Trio, young folk singers who made the ballad "Tom Dooley" popular, Red Nichols and His Five Pennies, with Connie Boswell, who will play and sing a selection of jazz favorites, the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, and Alfred Drake and Sally Ann Howes, two of Broadway's brightest stars, who, as a duet, will sing several songs from popular musical comedies.

Donald Voorhees will conduct the Bell Telephone Orchestra in all 12 musical productions.

So, for an hour of musical entertainment that the whole family should enjoy, tune to channel 4 at 9:00 p.m., on October 9.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Two of our Freshmen have been elected as officers of the 4-H Club. They are Carol Dalton, serving as president and Laura Stricker who is secretary-treasurer.

The mothers of the Freshman class met recently to decide upon the parties that we should have. These parties will include the Christmas party on December 19, and the Spring Party that is to be on April 29. Mrs. Hugo Bausch is the room mother, chairman for our class.

Linda Bausch returned home from the magnificent football game between Junction and the Bulldogs last Friday to find that they had company—her aunt and uncle from San Antonio.

The Freshman boys who take agriculture have run the pop-corn machine at the past two football games and will continue to do so at the home games. The boys hope to explain that you may have some of their popcorn at the next game. The week before last enough people bought popcorn, so that the Ag. boys made $24.60.

Most of the Freshmen have decided that we have had enough rain, for a short while anyway. Too many gaps and fences need repairing to please some people (those who have to fix them.)

The class took aptitude tests today and will continue to do so Tuesday and Wednesday. These tests were designed to help us to find the vocation for which we are best suited.

F. H. A. NEWS

On Wednesday, September 23, the F.H.A. members held their first meeting of the year. The F.H.A. is proud to say that it has many new members this year.

This meeting was of special interest to almost everyone, for it was then that the F.H.A. Club Mother was elected. After several campaign speeches, Mrs. Burgin Davenport, better known to most of us as Thelma, was elected as Mother. The entire F.H.A. extends a hearty "Welcome Thelma, we're very proud to have you in our club."

The F.H.A. also wishes to thank Mrs. Ritchson who was our Club Mother last year. "You did a great job Mrs. Ritchson; we appreciate it very much."

After the business close of the meeting, the Freshmen were asked to leave the room, and the distinction of initiation was underway. First of all, it was decided that initiation would officially begin Monday night, September 28, in the Homemaking Dept. Suggestions of various duties and assignments for the unfortunate Freshmen were offered from the floor and everything within reason was planned. Then Freshmen "Little Sisters" were assigned to their appropriate "Big Sisters" and the meeting was adjourned.

The following week was one of fun and excitement. The initiation Monday night included everything from red hands to green faces. The explanation for the red hand was a pitcher of red ink; and the explanation for the green faces was the bowl of "worms," a bowl of cold spaghetti.

FITZGERALD'S FOURTH GRADE NEWS

We are proud of the members of our class who were promoted to the Junior Sunday School Class at the Methodist Church on Sunday. Those who were promoted and received Bibles were Dana Mayes, Nancy Groff, Aleta Roberts, Larry Bausch, Jeanne Meginnis, and Rob Sandidge.

Jeanne Meginnis and her mother took her sister, Donna, to the airport in San Antonio on Sunday. Donna took a plane for Austin to resume her studies at the University. Jeanne watched the plane leave and Donna waved to her from the plane.

Wanita Callahan, Dana Mayes, Ricky Meador, Jane Sanders, and Pete Gonzales rode over to Kerrville and Center Point on Sunday to see the rise on the Guadalupe River. The rampaging water did quite a bit of property damage.

Susie Shortbringes us the most exciting news of the week. She has a lovely new baby sister born on Friday at seven p.m.—in time for all of us to enjoy the football game.

Roy Dunnin and some third grade pals went out looking for rabbits on vacant lots. He reports a successful hunt. He came back with their beloved thinking they would make good Tire wood this winter.

With no electricity, some of us needed firewood on Sunday. Many a Sunday supper simmered or fried on a living room fireplace this week.

Some of the children did their homework by kerosene lamp light. All of our week-end experiences make us more grateful for the blessings we take for granted.

Janie Hay tells us of a friend of hers who was delighted to find what he believed was an old kerosene lamp stored away on a shelf. The sad truth was that it had been wired for electricity!

Douglas and Billy had a wonderful week-end building "houses" out of brush. They even made furniture from scrap lumber. Douglas' father took them hunting. They supposed anything with shiny eyes very stealthily and with guns drawn. It turned out to be an empty beer can.

Zane Everett went to San Antonio Sunday. His uncle has a little MG car. Zane could hardly believe his uncle could ever get in it, but he did.

Linda Goodenough's Dad and brother, Ronnie, went dove hunting Sunday. They brought back squirrels and doves!

Steven Faulkner's brother brought home a cage with three baby rabbits in it. Steven hopes they will raise some little ones. "Could be."

Ira Thetford reports that she watched the flood on Sunday. So did almost everyone in the hill country.

Earl Wayne Heinen had a birthday this week so we sang Happy Birthday to him.

Gayle Monier reports that a pigion came to his house and is staying. The pigion has bands on its leg but they cannot catch him to read the bands. If you are missing a pigion you might find it at Mike Monier's. F. J. Monier, Route T, Tarpley, Texas.

MRS. AINSWORTH'S THIRD GRADE

When the electricity went off, Marian Allert's father brought home a tiny gas stove and they had to cook on that.

Phillip Applegate went to his Aunt Katie's house to get his baby lamb on Saturday and he helped her there he got to go horseback riding on a young colt. He rode it horseback. That night it rained so hard that Phillip had to get his lamb out of the pen and put him in the Model A for shelter.

Saturday at about six o'clock in the evening Jerry Blanks and his family started to Austin and got there at about twelve o'clock at night. Gary stayed up until about two o'clock in the morning. At about six a.m., it started raining very hard. When they came back through Blanco there were trees and telephone poles blown down by a storm.

Lana Everett went to Kerrville, then to the movie in Bandera and then helped to clean house.

On Saturday when Gus Garcia's brother came home, he caught a baby rabbit that couldn't run very fast. On Sunday they took the rabbit to a house of limbs because they couldn't find his hole again.

On Sunday when the lights went out Robert Hutcheson's father took out a little gasoline stove and cleaned it up and put the teakettle on it and Robert said, "Look out!" and sure enough it caught on fire. Robert's father put out the fire.

Last night a boxer dog came to Ruth Johnson's house. Her daddy said that they would keep it until someone claimed it.

Sunday night Marta King and her family had an exciting time eating supper by candlelight.

On Saturday morning when the lights were off, Jimmy Locke's family got out an old kerosene lantern which served them well for light.

On Saturday Sid Skinner was riding in his wagon when he had hitched his dog, Princess, when Princess suddenly took off after a rat and Sid made a crash landing.

On Saturday Darrell White went to a birthday party in San Antonio. He went to a Chinese restaurant. There were flutes and balloons for favors and Darrell blew up his ballon with his flute.

SENIOR NEWS

The big news of the week is the 1958-59 Bulldog. We received the annuals a week ago yesterday afternoon. Ever since, there has been a mad rush to get them signed by everybody. Last Wednesday, the 7th, began the sales for the 1959-60 Bulldogs; the price is $3.50 each. The sale will not last long so everybody be sure to buy an annual now! Any of the Seniors will be glad to take your order. The Annual Staff is in charge of the stand at the game tonight. Remember that the more you eat, the better next year's annual will be! Well, anyway, it will help!!

By the way, that was a real swell game you Bulldogs played last week. Keep up the good work!!

Monday and Tuesday found the Seniors behind closed doors. We were taking some scholastic tests which are set up to determine the subject in which each person is most efficient. These tests will be a big help in determining our future vocations as well as the subjects we will take in college.

We would like to thank all of the kind mothers and "people" who worked in the stand for us last week. With so many of us in the band and Pep-Pets, we would have been lost without your help. Thank you very much.

JUNIOR JABBER

It is awfully good to see all the F.H.A. pledges back in normal dress. The Juniors had only one pledge. Keith Conwill, and we are sure she is glad it is over—even though she must admit it was a barrel of fun!

We hope none of you were washed away during all the rain. Certainly Poore then our pupils [illegible] the home games. The boys modestly suggest that you buy some of their popcorn at the next game. The week before last enough people bought popcorn so that the 9B's boys made $24.60. Mgr. of the Freshmen have decided that we have had enough fun, for a short while anyway. Too many gaps and fences need repairing to please some people (those who have to fix them.)

The class took aptitude tests today and will continue to do so Tuesday and Wednesday. These tests were designed to help us to find the vocation for which we are best suited.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The eighth grade class has been enjoying their study of insects in science class. They have found that many different insects live in different ways.

They have voted Margaret Davenport as band representative, and are sure she will make a good one.

Margaret Davenport, Holly Mayes, Marlene McKay, Marsha Mass and David Shaw went to the "Teen's Retreat" over the week-end.

SEVENTH GRADE (SECTION II) NEWS

Lynn Smith spent the night with Margie Brown Friday night. They had lots of fun.

Jimmie Daniels and Richard Evans had lots of fun over the week-end. They made a dam on Doe Creek while the creek was rising.

Saturday J. M. Clements went to Jack Fortner's house and spent the night. They went boat riding and hunting. Then they hunted J. M.'s house. J. M. got three doves and one jackrabbit. He also shot a hawk but he did not kill it.

Howard Hicks visited his grandmother over the week-end. She lives at San Marcos.

MRS. SCHNELLE'S SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Last Saturday, Anne Marie Brown and her parents went to visit the Matthew's ranch. Anne Marie and Michael rode horses, and then everyone played baseball. After supper the Browns had to go home. Everyone had fun and enjoyed themselves very much.

MRS. REININGER'S FOURTH GRADE

The fourth grade children got quite a thrill out of the high water and lack of electricity this past week-end. Several of them went riding Sunday afternoon and on [illegible] to see the rising Guadalupe River. Others thought it was great fun to cook up the fireplace.

Gene Wright and Roy Chaney got wild turkeys while they were out riding Sunday.

Raymond Pawvlik had to do all the chores Sunday morning as his daddy, who works for the highway department, was busy all night putting out high water signs.

Dorothy Welch saw a car wreck Saturday night, but no one was hurt.

Linda Copeland went toward Hondo on her ride. She was very thrilled over the deep cut made through a mountain by the road.

Elaine Bauche is going to be very warm this winter. Saturday she received a new car coat lined with fur.

F. H. A. NEWS

On Wednesday, September 23, the F.H.A. members held their first meeting of the year. The F.H.A. is proud to say that it has many new members this year.

This meeting was of special interest to almost everyone, for it was then that the F.H.A. Club Mother was elected. After several campaign speeches, Mrs. Burgin Davenport, better known to most of us as Thelma, was elected as Mother. The entire F.H.A. extends a hearty "Welcome Thelma, we're very proud to have you in our club."

The F.H.A. also wishes to thank Mrs. Ritcheson who was our Club Mother last year. "You did a great job Mrs.-Ritcheson; we appreciate it very much."

Just before the close of the meeting, the Freshmen were asked to leave the room, and the discussion of initiation was underway. First of all, it was decided that initiation would officially begin Monday night, September 28, in the Homemaking Dept. Suggestions of various duties and assignments for the unfortunate Freshmen were offered from the floor and everything within reason was planned. Then Freshmen "Little Sisters" were assigned to their upperclass "Big Sisters" and the meeting was adjourned.

The following week was one of fun and excitement. The initiation Monday night included everything from red hands to green faces. The explanation for the red hand was a pitcher of red ink; and the explanation for the green faces was the bowl of "worms," which [illegible] a handful to eat.

During the week, the poor Pledges were not always the most becoming members of school, although they did get many needed [illegible] baby lots. The end of the day, they had a banquet around the fireplace.

Everyone had a happy week-end although they sorely hope there will be no more "wiener roasts" like they were this past week-end.

The F.H.A. is proud of the way they took their treatment, and wishes to welcome all Freshmen into the Future Homemakers of America.

Saturday, Charmen Hicks surprised Gretchen Mueller by asking her if she could go with her and her father, Speedy Hicks, to pick wild cherries at their ranch near Tarpley. Dickey Hicks climbed one of the trees and fastened a rope to a small branch then everybody pulled and down came cherries. In the end they got quite a few.

FIFTH GRADE NEWS

The fifth grade boys and girls would like to remind their mothers to please pay their room dues of one dollar ($1.00) and carnival dues of fifty cents ($.50).

Last week at recess Diane Munsch found a rabbit's nest. She took two baby rabbits home with her and they are still alive and hopping.

MRS. MULLENAX SIXTH NEWS

Thomas Meginnis' sister, Dona, came from Austin to visit him for the week-end.

Deborah Harrison went to see the water at the dam.

Due to the muddy roads, Morris Green got himself all wet and muddy. He ended up by taking a swim in a mud hole.

BANDERA COUNTY WEST END 4-H MEETING

The Bandera West End 4-H Club met at Buck Cunningham's on September 22, 1959, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting was called to order and the minutes were read and approved. The roll was called and there were 19 members present.

We discussed the subject for our meeting for the coming year. We decided to use record books, and judging of livestock, grasses, wool, and mohair, as our topics.

We then discussed the subject of whether we wanted a party or a banquet. The majority of the members preferred a party.

We discussed club dues for the year. The motion carried to have dues of $1.00 a year.

The idea was brought up about getting a sign to put at the county line between Uvalde and Bandera counties. Diane, Rip, and Gordon were put on a committee to see about this.

Then we elected the following officers: President, Rip Duke; Vice-President, Gordon Thompson; Secretary-Treasurer, Diane Fisher; Reporter, Ruby Ivy; Council Delegate, Lillie Tampke. Also the president appointed a recreation committee and they were: Neil Boltinghouse, Ruby Ivy, Diane Fisher, and Lillie Tampke.

Mr. Lindig took a count on each member, their age, number of years in club work, and number of animals they are feeding for the show.

Then it was decided that the next meeting will be at the Jack Preston house on October 22, 1959, at 7:30 p.m. Then the meeting was adjourned.

SHELBY MANSFIELD AND JOE BENNETT WED SUNDAY

Miss Shelby Lee Mansfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mansfield, became the bride of Joe Bradley Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bennett of Stamford, in a beautiful double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church here Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Maxine Manley Reynolds played the nuptial music and accompanied Robert Thalmann, cousin of the bride, as he sang "Walk with Me," and "The Voice That Breathed Over Eden." Ushers were Hubert Maxurek, brother-in-law of the bride, and Johnny Davis of San Antonio, cousin of the bride.

Rev. J. Manley Reynolds read the marriage vows which were exchanged before a beautiful background of potted begonias and Boston fern along with candelabra entwined with greenery and lillies of the valley. An arrangement of white gladiolus and mums completed the church decorations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white peau de soie which was fashioned with scalloped Alencon lace outlining the portrait neckline of the fitted bolero. Bracelet length sleeves were shirred at the elbow. Alencon lace flowers adorned the front and back of the panier skirt of side pleats and swept into a court train. Her waist length veil of French illusion cascaded from a head band decorated with rhinestones. She carried a crescent cascade bouquet of white gladiolus centered with a white gimmelia.

Miss Juanita Baker of San Antonio was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of iridescent blue and a matching headpiece. Her flowers were a crescent cascade of pink roses.

The best man was the groom's brother, A. G. Bennett, of Abilene.

The groom's mother wore a blue silk floral print with black accessories and Mrs. Mansfield chose an aqua blue suit with black accessories for her daughter's wedding. Both were white carnation corsages as did the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. C. H. Mansfield and Mrs. Norma Davenport.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Davenport. Sandra Lawrence of San Antonio presided at the bride's book. The refreshment table was covered with a lovely white cutwork cloth and centered with a pretty arrangement of white gladi and mums. Pink tapers burned in crystal candle sticks. Mrs. Hubert Maxurek of Bandera and Miss Mary Jo Mansfield of Denton, sisters of the bride, poured punch and Misses Wilta Mae and Aline Herrin of San Antonio served the beautiful wedding cake which was baked by the bride's mother.

The bride is a graduate of

BANDERA BULLDOGS BLANK DILLEY WOLVES 7-0

The Bandera Bulldogs capitalized on an early break for a score and then tightened their defense to whitewash the Dilley Wolves of District 28-A 7-0 Friday night at Bulldog Stadium. The victory marked the first time one of Coach John Wright's teams had been on the Wolves during his seven year term at Bandera. The win also enabled the Bulldogs to take over the lead in District 27-A with a 4-1 non-conference record. During the five game span, the Bulldogs have tallied an even 100 points while allowing opponents but 44 points.

The lone score of Friday night's tilt came mid-way in the initial period after a high spiraling punt was bottled by a Dilley secondary man and the loose pigskin pounced on by Roger Poe on the Wolves' six yard stripe. Two plays moved the ball to the one from which point Kalka plunged over for the six pointer. The Bulldogs made the seventh point on Cottingham's successful kick after. From then until the half, both teams played to a standstill with neither doing much harm.

In the remaining stanzas, Bandera threatened twice but each time the drive bogged down within the Dilley 25 yard marker. The first threat occurred in the third quarter as the Bulldogs used a fancy bit of razzle-dazzle to advance the ball to the Wolves' 22. But a fourth and twelve play fell short and the Wolves took over possession. In the last period, the Bulldogs again began to move but again on fourth down, this time needing four, a pass fell incomplete to kill the threat.

The statistics department showed the Bulldogs chalked up 10 first downs to Dilley's 4 and pound away for 186 total yards, on 162 rushing and 24 passing, as compared to the Wolves' 91 yard total, with [illegible] coming via the ground route and 39 through the passing lanes. Kalka received the ground gaining laurels with 69 yards on 12- attempts for a 5.8 yard average. Schlabder picked up 72 yards on 11 tries good for a 4.2 yard average while Roger Ramos managed 36 yards on 10 attempts and a 3 yard average. Cottingham and Knibbe gained the remaining yards. The Bulldogs connected on 4 of 11 passing attempts as Kalka and Schlabder shared the tossing chores. One last significant statistic was the fact that Schlabder punted for a booming 43 yard average which included a 53 yard quick kick.

As for defense, the Bulldogs once again performed admirably as the stout Bandera forward wall and secondary did not allow the Wolves to advance within the "Blue and White's" 25 yard stripe. Haun, Walker, and King led the line charge while Alanis, Kalka, and Jr. Ramos stood out in back.

MALE EXTRA IS CHARGED IN SLAYING

Brackettville—A blonde beauty playing in "The Alamo," a movie being filmed near here, was stabbed and killed with a hunting knife early Sunday.

Dead is LaJean Ethridge, 27, who used the professional name of LaJean Guye.

Chester Harvey Smith, 32, is being held in the Del Rio jail without bond on a charge of murder, Sheriff J. A. Sherry reported.

Sheriff Sherry said the slaying occurred about 2 a.m., Sunday at an old house in the village of Spofford, about 9 miles south of Brackettville, where Smith and the victim had been living with four other male extras.

The sheriff said Smith could not recall the actual stabbing but could remember events before and after the killing.

The following account of the murder was reconstructed by Sheriff Sheedy:

Smith, Miss Ethridge and another couple had been out together and had returned to their Spofford residence early Sunday morning.

Miss Ethridge had apparently been planning to move and had placed five or six dresses on the bed.

After arguing over the move, Smith presumably went to the kitchen and returned with a hunting knife that the group had been using as a butcher knife. Miss Ethridge was stabbed once just below the breast bone.

The actress fell into the living room where she died. Smith was kneeling by the body when Sheriff Sheedy arrived at the scene.

Sheriff Sheedy said the couples had been drinking but were not drunk.

He said the stabbing was reported to the sheriff's office by one of the other male extras.

All of the group was from California, sheriff reported.

Actor John Wayne, producer of "The Alamo," hired Miss Ethridge and other members of a group calling themselves the Namess-Towsend Players as extras, a Batjac Productions spokesman said. They were playing repertory at Brackettville.

Wayne liked the performance of the ambitious young actress, Batjac said, and she had been given an expanding role. Miss Ethridge played the wife of a man serving under Gen. Sam Houston.

County Attorney John J. Tobin said companions of the actress reported Smith told her angrily that he wouldn't let her leave but they saw no indication he had a weapon.

Smith then seized to pull her toward him and thrust the knife into her body, witnesses told Tobin. They said she looked at him indefor a moment, cried "I love you," and dropped to the floor.

Tobin said Smith told questioners his memory was blank from about midnight until he reached the courthouse here in custody of the sheriff after the slaying.—San Antonio Express.

Miss Ethridge was one of the performers who played in repertory stock at the Hollywood Starlight Playhouse at Mayan Ranch during the summer. While she was in Bandera, she made many friends who will grieve to hear of her untimely death.

MUSTANGS HOME OPENER THIS SUNDAY

Be sure and see St. Joseph's play its first home game against St. Mary's of Fredericksburg Sunday, October 18, at 3:00 at the High School Field.

St. Mary's beat St. Joseph's 10-0 two weeks ago but the Mustangs have greatly improved since then. The two teams are playing two out of three for the Western Conference representative. The winner will then meet the best from San Antonio for the Championship.

Survivors include his wife, Fay Smith, of Albany, Oregon, who is now staying at the home of her daughter at 2003 Hamilton Court in Palo Alto, California; a daughter, Mrs. William K. Graham; two grandchildren, William K. Graham, Jr., and Janet Fay Graham, all of Palo Alto; his mother, Mrs. Robert S. Smith, Sr., of Medina; two sisters, Mrs. Earl Weed and Mrs. Louis Heder of Medina; and a brother, Elmer Smith of Port Arthur.

The Bulletin extends sympathy and condolence to the bereaved family.

KALKA-NEUMAN VOWS EXCHANGED SATURDAY

The marriage of Miss Jean Kalka and William H. Neuman was solemnized with a double ring ceremony at nine o'clock at St. Stanislaus Catholic church in Bandera Saturday morning with Rev. Victor Schmidtzinsky reading the marriage vows followed by the nuptial mass.

Altar flowers were beautiful arrangements of white gladiolus and white mums. Brandy Humphries and Loyd Collins Kalka served as altar boys. Miss Patricia Jenschke presented the traditional wedding music and ushers were Bobby Bayer of Castroville and Charles Neuman of Hondo.

The bride entered the church with her father, Frank Kalka, and was a vision of loveliness in her beautiful gown of white chantilly lace and taffeta. The lace bodice was designed with square, scalloped neckline and brief sleeves. The front of the skirt was of the taffeta, and the full back skirt of lace swept to a court train, and was enhanced by a shirred taffeta midriff decorated with tiny bows in back. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion cascaded from a queen's crown of lace embroidered with tiny pearls and rhinestones. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of valley lillies centered with a white orchid.

Miss Annette Kalka attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Forest Horecka of Hondo and Miss Mary Ann Bettge of San Antonio. Their dresses were fashioned of magenta green silk organza over pale green taffeta. The tight fitting bodices had a square neckline and brief sleeves, and the full skirts were ballerina length. They wore tiny hats of matching green velvet and veiling. Each carried a bouquet of yellow fugi mums in a cascade design.

Forest Horecka of Hondo was best man and groomsmen were Wesley Neuman of Hondo and Charles Schultz of Dunlay.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece dress of rose mauve-tweed with a white hat and black accessories. Mrs. Alvin J. Neuman, mother of the groom, wore a teal blue two-piece suit with black accessories. Each wore corsages of white carnations.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunts, Misses Emelia and Christine Kalka, near Bardera. The table was covered with a crochet lace cloth over green. A pretty arrangement of white gladiolus, white and yellow mums along with silver candlesticks holding white tapers decorated the table. The wedding cake was a three-tiered confection topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with pink roses. Miss Elizabeth Dugosh and Miss Gaile Ross served the cake and punch.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kalka of Bandera. She is a 1958 graduate of Bandera High School and has been employed as a teletypist with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company of San Antonio.

The groom is the son of Alvin J. Neuman of Yancey and Mrs. Alvin J. Neuman of Hondo. He graduated from Hondo High

LAST RITES FOR MRS MAUD CARSON TO BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Maud L. Carson, mother of Mrs. Leland D. Caffall of Bandera, will be held this morning (Friday) at ten o'clock at the Plummer Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. David L. Stewart, minister of the Bandera Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be made in the Bandera cemetery. Pallbearers will be Melvin King, Ashley Rugh, Calvin Cartrett, Eugene Santhoff, Otis Evans, and Raymond Smith.

Mrs. Maud Lenore Carson was born on July 11, 1881, in Hutsonville, Illinois, and passed away Wednesday afternoon, October 14, 1959, at the age of 78 years, 3 months, and 3 days, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Caffall in Bandera. She was ill only a week, having suffered a stroke last Thursday. Less than two months ago, Mrs. Carson returned home to Bandera after an extended visit with her children and other relatives on the West Coast. She had made her home here in Bandera with her daughter for the past few years and had a host of friends here who were shocked and grieved to learn of her passing.

Mrs. Carson and her late husband, Rev. John T. Carson, a Methodist minister, were happily married in Illinois. Rev. Carson preceded her in death in 1930. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Caffall of Bandera and Mrs. Helen Alcorn of Hanford, California; a son, Walter L. Carson of Kennewick, Washington; two sisters, Mrs. R. V. Buckner of San Clemente, California, and Mrs. D. Newlin of Earlville, Illinois; two grandsons and four great-granddaughters.

To know Mrs. Carson was to love her. She loved people and made friends readily, never forgetting an acquaintance. Mrs. Carson was a brilliant little lady and had great talent. Among her many talents was the ability to do beautiful handwork, some of which is possessed by many of her friends here as well as her loved ones. She was active in the work of the Methodist church, of which she had been a life-long member. Mrs. Carson will be greatly missed in the walks of life, but her Christian attributes and cheerful smile will always live on in the memory of her loved ones and friends.

The Bulletin joins the many friends of the bereaved family in extending deepest sympathy at this sad hour.

Mrs. Mark McBryde spent the week-end in Kerrville visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McBryde.

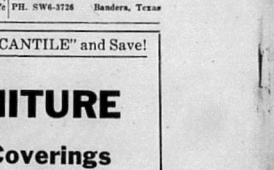
CLYDE TARVER RESIGNS AS TAX ASSESSOR



Clyde Tarver resigned as tax assessor for the Bandera Independent School District effective October 15.

Mr. Tarver began working for the school district in February of 1956 on a part-time basis. Later he served the district as a full-time assessor. Mr. Tarver has conducted the business of the school tax office in an efficient and friendly manner. The school regrets losing the service of Mr. Tarver.

Because of increased business and crowded conditions at the county tax office, the school will be forced to provide a tax office elsewhere, possibly at the school.

Shorter days and cooler weather remind us that another summer has passed and fall is here once again. Now we can look forward to enjoying the beautiful fall flowers and autumn leaves, which nature will soon provide for us to enjoy, along with the other beauties of fall.

Mrs. Buster Schmidt and daughter, Brenda Sue, were San Antonio visitors last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Oxford and children of San Antonio spent the week-end at Tarpley visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hohenberger, Sr., and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Richards and Mrs. A. A. Jeffers were among those from Tarpley who attended the football game between Bandera and Dilley at Bandera Friday night.

Mrs. A. A. Jeffers visited with Mr. and Mrs. John Witt at Bandera last Friday.

Mrs. Katie Ferguson of San Antonio, sister of Mrs. B. Wood of Tarpley, underwent surgery at the Baptist Memorial Hospital in San Antonio last Wednesday, and we are happy to report that she is doing well. We join her many friends and relatives in wishing her a speedy recovery.

Among those from Tarpley who attended the football game at Medina Friday night were Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Padgett and son, Bob, and Mr. and Mrs. Buster Schmidt and daughter, Brenda Sue.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Burger and children, Jesse Ray, Margie, and David, of Medina visited at Tarpley during the week-end.

Bernice Smith, who is a patient at Legion hospital near Kerrville, spent the week-end at Tarpley. Smitty's friends are happy to see him looking so well and they hope he will continue to improve.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Anderson and son, Charles, visited with Mr. Anderson's brother, Lynn Anderson, and family in San Antonio last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dean and children, Larry, Nettie Marie, and Charles Hope, of Dilley, were here Sunday and visited in short while with friends. Mrs. Dean was passing out small jars of "red soil from Tarpley" to those who were interested in serving some of it. Some of the children were especially thrilled over the pretty red mud pies they made from it. . .

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith were visitors in Bandera last Wednesday.

Mrs. Alice Purvis visited Mrs. W. H. Wood and Mrs. T. E. Sauter last Wednesday.

Clarence Matthews and his brother-in-law of Baytown visited in the T. E. Sauter home Saturday afternoon. They were spending the week-end with relatives in Utopia.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Dossman of San Antonio were at their ranch here this last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter are rejoicing over the birth of another granddaughter, Clyda Jean, who was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Byrd of Miami, Florida, on October 6, 1959. The young lady weighed 8 pounds 1½ ounces. She is being welcomed by three sisters and a brother. Mrs. Byrd will be remembered here as the former Miss Doris Sauter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sauter also received word that their grandson, Toby Byrd, recently sustained a skull fracture in an accident, but we are happy to report that he has been released from the hospital and is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelsen visited Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Beagle last Wednesday night.

In behalf of the members of the Sunday School department of the Tarpley Baptist church, we wish to take this means of thanking Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Dean and children, Larry, Nettie Marie, and Charles Hope, for the lovely picture of "the Good Sheppard and His sheep" which they presented to the Sunday School on the last Sunday they were living in the community. It is truly a beautiful picture of Christ and means so much to the little children because the story it portrays to one of their favorites. one pasture since January. Some deferment, combined with the good summer rains have caused many good native grasses to increase in size and vigor. At the present time this pasture is producing about 4000 pounds of available forage per acre. Such good native grasses as little bluestem, sideoats grama, plains lovegrass, have dropped and Indiagrass may go the major portion of the grasses present. Browning also pointed out that he has seen more deer in this pasture this year. The cost of deferring was nothing. After experimenting with several methods of reseeding grasses Browning is convinced that the best and cheapest way to improve rangeland is to practice good range management and to let nature do the reseeding.

J. L. Beagle of Tarpley has recently completed an intensive fertilization program on a field of alfalfa. Beagle used the fertilize recommendations based on a soil analysis taken this year. The soil samples were sent to the Soil Testing lab at Wharton and analyzed. The resulting information on what kind, how much and when to apply the fertilizer was determined and sent to Beagle. Persons in the Bandera SCD who are interested in soil testing on their fields should contact the county agent or SCS technicians for further details.

What is this housewife doing?

She is doing laundry . . . washing dishes . . . drying clothes . . . freezing food . . . and cooking a meal . . . Electrically. Before the Electric Cooperatives were formed the same amount of work would have taken from dawn to dark and would have made her old before her time.

As members of a cooperative, she and her husband and their neighbors own and operate the electric system . . . read their own meters, figure their own bills and meet their obligations promptly.

Born of democracy, nurtured by free enterprise, the Electric Cooperatives of Texas mean a brighter future for the Lone Star State.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT
The year—1956; the place—Bandera High School; the subject—Sandy Mott. To begin the story at an earlier date would be useless, for before our Freshman year, we didn't know Sandy. We have been told that she met the world in 1943 in San Antonio; but she moved to California before any of us knew about her.

Sandy came back when she was a Freshman to attend good ole B.H.S. For two years she contributed her share of odd sounds (squeaks?) to the High School Band. During her Junior year, we found Sandy in the cheerleading section rather than the band. She made a cute Junior cheerleader and an even better head cheerleader as she is this year.

Sandy has one boy-friend that we know of, and he's been in the F.T.A. for four years. The F.T.A. was proud to have her serve as President and Vice-President two of the four years she has belonged. Sandy also played basketball in her Sophomore year and plans to play again this year.

Sandy says she has no special likes and dislikes, but we notice she keeps a pretty close watch on a certain football player.

All in all, Sandy is an outstanding senior in looks, personality, and talent. We, the Seniors, wish Sandy the best of luck, and a most successful future.

SOPHOMORE NEWS
This week the Sophs are lacking in news, except that the regular Soph gang played a real fighting game Friday night. We're real proud of them and we hope Terry will be ready and raring to go by the time we play our next game. Terry, get that leg going! There were a good many of the Sophs at the Retreat Friday and Saturday night. Those at the Retreat were: Judy, Karen, Jean, Martha, Roger, Raye, Larry, and quite a few more. Come on you boys, let's go more often and not let Larry and Roger be "Lone Rangers."

This week-end, Judy, always doing something, went horseback riding and spent some time trying to tame her colt. Better watch out, he'll be taming you.

Patricia Johnson and her family went to Kerrville over the week-end and had a nice time Saturday night.

Patricia and Martha went to the show Sunday and Monday.

That just about winds up the news for this week for the Sophs.

JUNIOR JABBER
Congratulations boys on that wonderful game Friday night! We are all very proud of you for the wonderful job you've been doing all season and hope you do as well on your six weeks tests this week.

We want to see all of you out there next game, so work hard; and that goes for all the rest of the school, too. There will probably be quite a few more books taken home this week than usual and let's hope it pays off.

A slight correction should be made in reference to last week's news. It was decided later in the week that the Seniors will push annual sales a little harder and leave the prize, as it is, at $3.00. Be sure to buy your annual soon for the sales will close on Wednesday, October 21, 1959.

It looks like the Bulldogs have a record last week. We showed Dilley that we could beat them after all. Tonight the Bulldogs go to Southside for the first conference game of the season. The Bulldogs are a little nervous, this being a conference game, and our advice is, "Be calm, be cool, and be collected!" and mainly, "Beat Southside!"

Sighs of relief can be heard on the high school campus—six-weeks tests have come and gone leaving everybody happy, maybe a little "bleary-eyed" from taking so many tests, but at least happy!

We seniors were proud to have two visitors with us last week. Mrs. Cox, the former Nancy Baker, and her little girl visited with us for a while. It was really nice to see Nancy again.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS
This week is the end of the first six weeks and each eighth grade student hopes he or she will make the honor roll. Not everyone will make it, but at least everyone tried.

The language class has been writing themes on various interesting subjects, such as, the history of volleyball, basketball, softball, etc.

BAND BLAB
The band officers have been elected as follows: Marilynn Ritchson, president; Peggy Billings, vice-president; Donna Morse, secretary-treasurer; Carolyn Bruce, reporter.

The band is under the leadership of Mr. Hargis. He is doing a good job with the band this year.

We are beginning to get the beat and our music is shaping up nicely. We are already working hard trying to select our contest music.

If you noticed, Friday night, the band played a piece titled, "Bandjive." The band hopes to play more of this type of music soon.

We want to congratulate the Bulldogs for playing a good game, Friday night.

MRS. MAZUREK'S SEVENTH GRADE

Ronnie Daniels, Lindy Rhodes, Mike Wootton, Johnny Small, and Thomas Meginnis went on an eight and a half mile boy scout hike. Now they are all tired out.

FOURTH GRADE NEWS
We are all very busy this week taking sixweeks exams. We hope to start off with some really good grades on our brand new report cards.

We have been decorating our room for Hallowe'en. You should see our jack o'lanterns, witches and wise old owls. We hope you will remember our PTA Hallowe'en Carnival which we will have before long. The fourth grade will sell homemade candy and sandwiches.

Two of our classmates really did have a busy week-end. Nora Linda White attended the state fair in Dallas and Joy Vawter visited in Mexico. Nora Linda did not get back in time to tell us about her trip. But Joy really had a wonderful time. She crossed the border at Laredo, Friday. Here she bought a necklace, bracelet, and a purse. Saturday morning they drove on to Brownsville and crossed the border into, Matamoras.

Rix Matthews visited his Uncle Louis in San Antonio Sunday.

Gene Wright picked up several pounds of pecans over the week-end. He is selling them to his father and is saving the money to buy Christmas presents.

Lee Rouse went to Kerrville Sunday with his family. They saw all the trees washed down by the flood and ate a picnic lunch in the park.

Raymond Pawvlik had fun driving a little garden tractor at his aunt's house Sunday.

Douglas White gave us an interesting report on an old horn made in 1899.

Elaine Knibbe went to Nancy Groff's slumber party Friday night. They watched movies on T.V. and went to bed about two o'clock.

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE
As usual, the two third grades will have the "Bake Shop" at the Hallowe'en Carnival given by the PTA on October 31. We are going to need a cake, pie, doughnuts, cupcakes, or some baked treat from the mother of every third grader in order to make our stand a success. What do you do best? We all have a sweet tooth for your

MUSTANGS HARD TO CORRAL KERRVILLE VETERANS

Trailing St. Joseph Mustangs outgained the Boerne Greyhounds in everything but the score 14-12. The Mustangs took the opening kick off and drove down to the Boerne 15 yard line. There a sway pass was intercepted by Boerne on the ten yard line and they couldn't get a first down. Boerne then started moving the ball toward the Bandera goal line. The two extra points were made on a pass and the score read 8-0, Boerne. Following the next kickoff, Tom Laskewski took a pitch out from Harper Jacoby and scampered 70 yards for a TD. Tom completely outran the whole Boerne team. The extra points were missed on a pass and the first quarter ended Boerne 8, Bandera 6.

In the second quarter Boerne made a fine punt that put the Mustangs deep in their own territory. When James Jacoby punted on the fouth down one of the Boerne backs fumbled the ball on Bandera's 25 yard line and the ball rolled all the way to the Mustang five yard line where Boerne recovered. From this point they got their last TD just as the half ended. They missed the extra points and the score was Boerne 14, Bandera 6.

In the second half it was all Bandera as the Mustangs really rolled through Boerne's huge line. Late in the third quarter James Jacoby intercepted a Boerne pass and ran 40 yards for the Mustangs second TD. The extra points were again just missed and the score at the end of the third period was Boerne 14, Bandera 12.

In the last quarter the Mustangs drove to Boerne's 30 yard fine where a first down was missed by a half yard.

As the game ended the Mustangs were moving once again and the Boerne team escaped defeat. However, they had nothing but praise for a small fighting bunch of boys from Bandera.

As three or four boys on the Mustangs left the field, their only statement was "if we could have only had a few more minutes there would have been a different score."

The Mustangs then end to end played outstanding ball. Tom Laskowski and James Jacoby were hard to stop everytime they carried the ball. The iron clad defense of Richard Dugosh, George Kinsey, Brack Callahan, Mike Fitzpatrick, Robert Johnson, Frank Montague, Jr., Willis Causey, and Ken Maurerk was something to behold. Harper Jacoby did a good job in quarterbacking the first half but was injured as the half ended. Roger Sprott took over the quarterback job in the second half and kept the Mustangs rolling with his excellent choice of plays.

Be sure to come out and see the Mustangs opening home game against St. Mary's of Fredericksburg this Sunday, October 18, at 3:00 p.m., at the high school field.

KERRVILLE VETERANS TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

The Veterans Organization and the Veterans Administration Hospital of Kerrville, Texas, are planning to celebrate Veterans Day on Tuesday, November 10, 1959, with an Assembly and an Open House.

They are inviting all veterans, veterans organizations, civic auxiliaries from the surrounding territory, as well as the general public to attend the Assembly at the V. A. Hospital Auditorium at 1:00 p.m. Two outstanding speakers, Colonel Carl F. Schupp, II, who has recently attended 4th U. S. Army Command and General Staff College, will speak on "National Defense" and Billie, Dorris, Department Service Officer for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will speak on "Veterans Affairs."

After the Assembly, guides supplied by the Kerrville Veterans Organizations will conduct tours through the Hospital to meet the veteran patients housed there and the employees, medical and otherwise, who care for them. Refreshments will also be served by the Ladies Auxiliaries.

This Open House will afford an opportunity for veterans and veteran organizations to see at first hand how their buddies are treated in the hospital and will acquaint them with the personnel who treat the patients. It is hoped that this move will start an annual pilgrimage to the Hospital each Veterans Day.

LOIS KINDLA AND JOHN SMITH WED IN SAN ANTONIO

Miss Lois Kindla, of San Antonio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kindla of Alfondra, and John W. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith of Steubenville, Ohio, were united in marriage on Saturday, October 3, at St. Cecilia's Catholic church in San Antonio with Rev. Msgr. G. P. Staff reading the marriage vows, followed by the nuptial mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown designed with a chantilly lace bodice and long sleeves with nylon ruffle ruffles. The V-neckline was finished with iridescent sequins. A crown of pearls and sequins held her veil of French illusion. She carried a cascade of phalenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Patricia Saufer of San Antonio was maid of honor and Thomas Kindla of Bandera, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Jerry Jackson and Joe Gieger of San Antonio.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Cactus Rose Restaurant in San Antonio with Mrs. Betty Ristwedt, Mrs. Stella Grinder, Miss Mary Clary, and Miss Martha Clark serving. Miss Lelia Hockenjos presided at the bride's book.

Following a honeymoon, the couple are at home at 1622 Sebley Avenue in San Antonio. The groom is stationed at Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio.

The Bulletin joins the many friends of the happy couple in extending congratulations and best wishes.

BULLDOGS CAPTURE DISTRICT OPENER WITH 19-8 VICTORY

The Bandera Bulldogs took to the overhead route Friday night to waltz the Southside Cardinals 19-8 at the opponents' stadium in the initial league game for both elevens. The victory marked Bandera's fourth consecutive win and gave the Bulldogs a fine 5-1 record for the season.

The Bulldogs, apparently mindful of last year's loss to the Cards, jumped to an early 7-0 lead. After gaining possession of the ball on the Southside 40 by means of a blocked punt by Walker, the Bulldogs proceeded to negotiate the remaining distance in twelve plays with the marker being tallied by Kalka from three yards out. Kalka also booted the pigskin between the uprights for Bandera's seventh point.

This margin stood up until midway in the second stanza when Southside rallied their low spirits of the evening. Taking advantage of a blocked quick kick, the Cardinals marched 18 yards in two plays for the counter. Del Toro, who also scored the touchdown, rammed over for the points after to give the Southsiders an 8-7 advantage.

This sudden change of events seemed to anger the Bulldogs who then displayed a winning battle against the clock to regain the lead this time for keeps. Moving from the Cardinal 24 yard line in only three plays, the Bulldogs notched the scoreboard via a 23 yard aerial from Schladoer to Alanis with approximately 10 seconds remaining in the half.

From then until the fourth quarter, both teams fought to a standstill. But in the last stanza, the Bulldogs came to life once again, this time marching 16 yards after gaining possession, thanks to a fumble recovery by Walker, in four plays to score their final points. The pay-off came on an off-tackle smash by Schladoer from the Card's two yard line. Bandera, though in a comfortable lead, continued to fill the brisk night air with football as time and again the Bulldogs neared the Southside goal only to have penalties or fumbles ruin the drives. In fact, at game's end, the Bulldogs were on the Cardinal's one inch line.

Statistically, the Bulldogs racked up 15 first down to the Card's 6 and gained 234 total yards with 104 coming by way of rushes and 130 through the air lanes while Southside managed only 38 net yards with the entire total coming via the ground route. Kalka led the ballcarriers with 50 yards on 11 rushing attempts and a 5.4 yard average. Roger Ramos added 24 yards on 10 carries but had several lengthly runs nullified. Schladoer gained 14 yards, Walker 4, and Junior Ramos 3 yards to round out the ball-carrying corps. The Bulldogs' 14 completions on 26 passing attempts were accomplished by the twosome of Schladoer and Kalka. Schladoer connected on 8 of 15 for 84 yards while Kalka made good on 6 of 11 for 46 yards.

Defensively, the Bulldogs once again made a fine showing as they limited the opponents to a mere 33 yards on total offence and rendered only 6 first downs and one penetration. The also held the Southside passing attack in check by allowing no completions while intercepting one enemy aerial.

This Friday, the Bulldogs play host to the Shertz-Cibolo Buffaloes, who were picked by choaches as one of the top contenders in 27-A along with Boerne, in an 8:00 p.m., tilt at Bulldog Stadium. The Bulldogs must win this one in order to have a clear shot at the district title.

MUSTANGS WIN ON FIRST DOWNS LAST SUNDAY

St. Joseph's offense sputtered and staggered for three and a half quarters before Tom Laskowski took a pitchout and ran 25 yards for a TD to tie the score 8-8. The extra points were missed and the game ended with a tie, score 8-8 with St. Joseph's winning on first downs.

In the first quarter, St. Mary's intercepted a pass on the Mustangs 30 yard line and ran it back for their only touchdown. Their bruising fullback made the extra points on an off tackle play for a 8-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Late in the second quarter the Mustangs pushed St. Mary's back deep in their own territory where on 4th down Brack Callahan made a safety for Bandera. Halftime score 8-2 favor of St. Mary's.

St. Joseph's defense was excellent the whole game holding St. Mary's to practically no gain. Outstanding for St. Joseph's were James Jacoby, Willis Causey and Brack Callahan.

Due to a cancellation of a game with St. Louis of Castroville for this coming Sunday, St. Joseph's played Boerne - Thursday night, October 22.

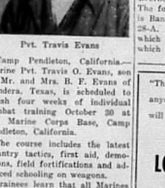
GOAT BREEDERS MET IN ROCKSPRINGS



The American Angora Goat Breeders' Association met in Rocksprings on October 20. Howard Hay, D. W. Hicks, and Werner Lindig, county agent, of Bandera attended the meeting.

One of the interesting highlights of the meeting was a speech made by Fred Earwood of Bonora. He discussed the prices of mohair in Africa and the prices received by the American producers. He stated that he asked for some samples of mohair produced in Africa and received them, and as far as he could see, the quality in African hair was not any better than American hair. He also stated that American producers could help their product if the mohair were a little longer and more uniform. He stated that he did not know why the American producer did not get more money for his mohair like the prices in Africa.

Mr. Earwood gave the prices of mohair that the African producers received. Super kid brought $2.83 1/3; good average kid brought $2.56½; average kid ($2.27 1/3); mixed kid, $1.98 per pound. Adult hair brought $1.47 per super; good adult, $1.22½ average, $1.16 6/10; and seconds brought $1.05 per pound. Prices have gone up 5 per cent since these quotations were given to Mr. Earwood.

Mr. Earwood also stated that Turkey received 10c per pound more than the American producer and they have lots of kemp in their hair.

On Saturday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, there will be a Masquerade Ball in the school gym. Prizes will be awarded for the best costume and everyone is invited to dress up and enjoy the event. There will also be door prizes. A disc jockey from Kerrville will be present to provide music for dancing. For those who do not care to dance, there will be a variety of games to enjoy.

Entertainment, produced by local talent, will also be presented. Following the Masquerade Ball, a late Hallowe'en movie will be shown.

Of special interest to the classes of 1940 and 1950 will be the homecoming booth, which will be a replica of the original. Everyone invited to visit the booths which will be presided over by the Mesdames and other items of interest regarding members of those classes. Mrs. B. H. Stokes and Mrs. W. O. Hatfield, Jr., will have charge of these booths and anyone having anything of interest to place in the booths should contact them before October 30th.

The members of the 1940 and 1950 classes will be recognized at the Masquerade Ball and prizes will be awarded to those present. Those who were members of these classes at one time, but did not graduate with them, are also extended a cordial invitation to be present for the occasion, so if you know of anyone who attended school at Medina with these classes and did not graduate with them, please invite them to attend the festivities at Medina next weekend.

MRS. KITZMAN EMPHASIZES NEED FOR LIBRARY

Since these articles first appeared many people have commented, suggested, sent clippings, and written letters agreeing with the ideas expressed. One wonders how much good might be accomplished if all these people would speak for themselves. Surely no one is afraid to do so for such worthwhile things as improved library facilities and higher scholastic standards if it means better schools for our youngsters.

Maybe you'd be interested in some of the clippings sent in. This one concerns libraries—one of our most urgent needs.

"It is possible for a person who cannot go to school to become fully educated if he has a good library open to him.

But I should think it would be almost impossible for a person to become fully educated—even if he has 12 to 16 years of schooling—if he does not have a good library available to him. Tarzan of the Apes is the contrary.

Stimulating teachers determined to teach can carry their pupils and students only so far if there is no library for their students to draw upon.

Visual aids, educational films, work books, educational TV—take the whole collection, and they are still only supplements and adjuncts to the central warehouse of knowledge: The library.

The school library should be the place where each child learns how to begin educating himself—where he learns how much fun it is to know."

There has been a good deal of interest shown in our school library and some mighty fine donations made in money and books but until we have a library room in which to put our books we never hope to have an adequate library. And graduating class after graduating class leave here without ever learning how to use and enjoy and benefit from a library.

Another clipping concerns citizen-participation and high standards in our schools. We could write two-three timely topics for us.

"Students can't make the most of their ability unless their school's standards are high. They can be passing their tests while they flunk their future. It is the job of each and every citizen to measure his school's standards, to raise them and to keep them high."

Are our scholastic standards high enough to get our graduates in the best universities? Do we stimulate our children to excell in scholarship as well as in athletics?

Last week our school ordered over 60 jackets for high school students as awards for proficiency in different things—football, basketball, band. Over 60 awards and not one for scholarship. Could it be we are emphasizing the wrong things in our school?

Certainly no one will argue the merits of a college education. The social and economic benefits derived make it worthwhile whatever the cost. But just to nail it down here is a report by the National Education Association on the value of education. "The average elementary school graduate over a life-time will earn $116,000. The high school graduate will earn $165,000, while the earnings of the college graduate will go to $208,000. The technical institute graduate will earn $280,000. From the dollars and cents standpoint, if for no other, the value of a high school or college education remains unchallenged."

MRS. ART KITZMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Wootton and family have sold their home near Bandera to Mrs. Ben Clark and have moved to their ranch below Pipe Creek to make their home.

Mrs. A. J. Searcy of Menard is spending this week-end with her daughter, Miss Ima Jean Searcy; and Mrs. George Searcy. Mrs. Searcy came down last Saturday to attend the bridal shower given for Ima Jean that night.

MRS. BURT HOSTESS TO ROSE GARDEN CLUB

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Paul Garrison, who was attending a District 7 Garden Club Meeting in Seguin, the vice-president, Mrs. A. J. Flowers, presided at the regular meeting of the Medina Rose Garden Club held at the home of Mrs. Haroun Burt on October 14.

Members and guests gave a garden suggestion for October. Mrs. E. F. Olds reported that the planting and bake sale held in September was a great success. Mrs. Maude Stokes, chairman of the Civic Beautification committee, reported that the work that had been done around the fire station, which included mowing the lawn, removing dead plants, and planting others. Mrs. W. L. Carrington, Thrugo chairman, told of the work being done at the State Home in Kerrville by the Garden Club and announced that the Council meets the third Tuesday of each month. Mrs. Burt and Mrs. W. R. Grun were appointed to represent the Rose Garden Club at this meeting and other members of the club were also invited to attend the meeting. The club voted to take a love offering at each meeting to be sent along with a stipulated amount from the treasury to the State Home to be used for the needs of patients who are very ill.

Mrs. Isabel Anderson announced that Mrs. George Young would like to have comments on improvements that could be made for the next Hill Country Garden Club Council's flower show.

Mrs. J. D. Latta introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. H. W. Stanford, a national flower show judge, of Kerrville, who presented a very interesting discussion on judging roses. Points to consider in judging roses are: Is the bloom too tight or too open? Condition of the foliage. Strength of stem. Perfect blossoms must be one-third open. Mrs. Stanford judged some beautiful roses grown by Mrs. John McHaney.

Mrs. Stanford also discussed fall planting and emphasized the importance of deep spading. Flowers suggested for planting now include Alyssum, Coberia, daisies, sweet peas, daphodils, and hollyhocks.

Floral arrangements made by Mrs. Burt and Mrs. Garrison were judged by Mrs. Latta and Mrs. Jean Webb.

Mrs. Latta gave a report of the recent Hill Country Garden Club Council's flower show at Kerrville. Rose Garden Club members' entries were awarded the following ribbons: In the horticulture section—13 blue, 12 red, and 3 yellow. In the arrangement classes —11 blue, 6 red, 2 yellow, and 2 white.

Mrs. Burt was assisted in serving delicious refreshments by Mrs. Latta. Guests and members present were Mesdames Stanford, Click, Landis, Grun, John McHaney, King Stokes, Latta, C. O. Nesting, R. C. Shane, Olds, Arthur Mullins, Flowers, Carrington, Isabel Anderson, Burt, Maude Stokes, Webb, Carl Bush, Lew Sterling, and Homer Stevens.

WEEK OF PRAYER SERVICE

In observance of Week of Prayer and Self-Denial, October 25-31, a Quiet Day Service will be held by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Bandera Methodist Church at the Episcopal Church on Tuesday, October 27, from 10 a.m., until 2:30 p.m. A devotional meal will be served at noon. Rev. David Stewart will lead the morning service and the afternoon service will be led by Mrs. Ashley Bush. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Mrs. Clyde Ross and son, Hugh, of San Antonio and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Ross and baby, Donna Jane, of Fort Worth, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Thallman at Pipe Creek.

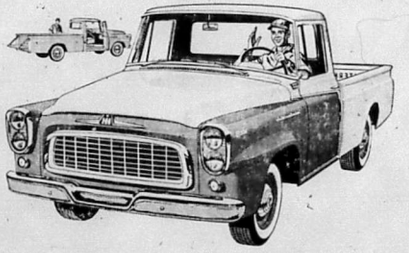
SENIOR CITIZENS MAY RECEIVE MOORE

In an interview today with John D. Palmer, district manager of the San Antonio social security district office, it was learned that some senior citizens who live on fixed budgets may be entitled to payments which they are not now receiving. Who are these people? Why are they not receiving payments? What can they do to get them now?



These senior citizens are fathers, age 65 and over, and mothers, age 62 and over, who depended on deceased sons or daughters for at least one-half of their support.

In August 1958 Congress changed the social security law to permit dependent parents to collect survivor benefits even if the deceased worker was survived by a widow, dependent widower, or a child under age 18. Before the 1958 amendments, dependent parents could not qualify if other surviving members of the family were eligible for present or future benefits. Many of these now eligible parents who had reached retirement age by September 1969. Further delay will cause the loss of one or more months' benefits.

IN TEXAS . . .

Clever Ads

. . . the same newspapers, whether they be weekly, semi-weekly, semi-monthly, daily or newspaper advertising can be copyrighted.

In 1903 Justice Oliver W. Holmes declared that advertisements could be owned and copyrighted even without having any special literary or artistic merit.

An author, business, or agency that puts work and skill into an ad can protect it as a rule with a general notice of copyright."

One publisher made special road maps for an advertiser, and got them copyrighted; the court held that the advertiser couldn't sell these maps to a rival publisher.

In another case a clever picture ran in one ad. The court told a competitor he couldn't use the same picture for his ad.

You cannot copyright some things such as a list of names publicly available or an ad so common it lacks uniqueness.

Most ads are "owned" by the advertiser, not the newspaper or magazine.

Ads which are run to get business may also create property right in a "trade name" of great value to a business even without a copyright.

Besides, a business or product name itself may often be copyrighted. Now and then, unfortunately, a company name may become so well known that without effort to protect it can lapse into the common language and lose its character as property.

Trying to gain from someone else's ads may well get you in trouble.

It can be a crime for anyone to violate a copyright on purpose, and he may have to pay money damages covering all his profits. And then some.

False or misleading ads can cause loss or suspension of certain business licenses; the post office sometimes gets rough if someone uses the mails to advertise fraudulently.

Of course ads aim to brag about one's product which is well known by the public and therefore, within limits, such "puffing" is allowed. But the Federal Trade Commission often stops certain advertisements if they are false or misleading especially as to factual claims.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Miss Donna Meginnis, who is attending the University of Texas at Austin, spent the week-end here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Meginnis, Jr., and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Robert and children, Bruce Robert and Katherine Ann, who have just returned from Europe, where Major Montague completed several months tour of duty, have been here this week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Montague, Sr., his grandmother, Mrs. Laura McCarty, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Montague, Jr., and family.

F. R. DOANE ANNOUNCES MERGER

F. R. Doane, who with Dr. A. V. de Parent, founded the Magnaflux Corporation in November, 1939, and who has been its president and board chairman for the past fifteen years, announces that his company has concluded agreement with General Mills, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minnesota, whereby Magnaflux Corporation will become a wholly owned subsidiary of General Mills.

Mr. Doane will resign his present office to be employed by R. M. Wilson, formerly a vice-president of Daystrom, Inc., but he will be retained as a consultant for two more years. All other operating personnel will continue without change.

The activities of Magnaflux Corporation, which is the acknowledged leader in this country as well as Europe in the field of non-destructive testing, will fit very well into the mechanical division of General Mills, which is, of course, best known to the public for its famous "Betty Crocker" lines of foods. However, it is expanding and diversifying through its mechanical division which is engaged in research and production in fields such as search and track systems, guidance and navigation systems, underwater ordnance weapons, and missile sub-systems.

Mr. Doane says that while the habits and associations of thirty years are not to be lightly cast aside, he is glad to pass some of his responsibility on to other shoulders and he looks forward with satisfaction to having more time to devote to ranching and local affairs.

Mrs. Helen Alcorn, who came last week to be at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Maud Carson, who passed away last Wednesday, left Monday for her home in Hanford, California, after remaining for a few days visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Cuffall.

Earl's Super Market

SPECIALS FRIDAY & SATURDAY OCTOBER 23 & 24

During the 50 years I traveled over this Country as a salesman, I have seen many things. Among them the hot desert from Texas to California. I have looked at the barren mountains and have watched the sand storms as they would almost darken the highway. There was one place I enjoyed traveling through from Houston to Austin through the rolling hills of blue bonnetts and paint brushes, something that was so beautiful that only God could make. One day as I looked at them the words of an Old Prophet came to me, these are the words, why does a living Man complain? One day while looking at them this thought came to me, how many ride this highway and can't see them, some misfortune had closed their eyes. Did you ever watch a sand lot base ball game and hear the laughter of the children, you must have, but sometime there is one there that can't join the game, you see, he is in a wheel chair happy, yes, but his legs won't carry his body.

What I have to say from here on has nothing to do with me personally, nor my business, but a simple statement of facts. Complaining has been going on a long time, as far back as the days of Moses. While Moses was up on the Mountain talking to God, his brother was down in the valley and listening to the complaints of the Children of Israel and it has been going on ever since. Did you ever stop and think how foolish this is? We are the best housed, best fed, best clothed people on earth. From what I read in the newspapers, in parts of the world there are millions of people that are sick, cold, and hungry. If you will think this over, I believe you will look up and thank God and then stop complaining.

Just so you won't forget there will be plenty of SPECIALS ON AT EARL'S Super Market Friday and Saturday—you will like them.

See you later.

Tarpley

Mrs. Johnnie James, Reporter

A brisk norther brought a cool spell the week-end and had us reminded us that old Jack Frost will probably be paying us a visit before too long. Many of us dusted our heaters and fireplaces where while others hauled wood for the fireplaces and built fires in them.

Sunday after a hot summer, the first cool spell of the season is usually welcomed and gives everyone a bit more pep and energy.

We are very sorry to report that Mrs. Sul Coffey became ill last week. We sincerely hope that Mrs. Coffey will soon be well and feeling fine again.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson and son, Ricky, of Silsbee, spent the week-end in Tarpley visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. B. Wood and Mrs. A. A. Jeffers returned home last Friday after visiting with their children last week. They both visited with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Wood and children, Alfa, Marie, and Billy, at Sierra Blanca. Mrs. Wood visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gerdes at Big Lake where Mrs. Jeffers' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Sutherland, met her and together they went to Eldorado to visit Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kaiser and family. Mrs. Jeffers and Mrs. Wood report a very nice trip. Mrs. Woods is Tarpley's telephone operator, who is on duty day and night, and she certainly deserved a nice vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Schmidt were in San Antonio last Thursday when Mr. Schmidt underwent medical tests, from which we hope he will receive good reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Anderson visited her mother, Mrs. Charlie Geues, in Hondo last Thursday. They also visited with Mrs. Ferd Whitten and children and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Geues and children of California, who were visiting in Hondo.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter were in San Antonio last Friday when Mrs. Sauter went for her regular check-up. We are happy to report that she is feeling much better.

Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Erfurt gave a barbecue which was enjoyed by a large number of people from this community as well as by others from elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Padgett and son, Bob, were Hondo visitors Saturday.

We regret to report that Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove and children, Marian, Richard, and Billy, are making plans to move to Hondo to make their home so they will be nearer school and Elmer's work. We hope they will be happy there and that Marian will continue to improve and be able to attend school regularly. They will certainly be missed in our community, but we will expect and hope to see them here often since they are not moving so far away.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Rabe of Normanna arrived here Thursday afternoon to join Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelsen on a short trip through the Hill Country during the week-end. They spent Friday night in San Angelo and made stops at Brady and other places to shop as they were enroute home Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie James and daughter, Minnesana, stayed at the ranch with Uncle Jim Berkeland while the Mickelsens and Rabes were away.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter left Sunday to spend several days this week at Denton where Mr. Sauter is employed by J. W. Hawley.

When we visited in the home of Mrs. A. A. Jeffers Sunday, she showed us some of the beautiful ceramics which her son, Lynn Herbert, has made. Lynn is stationed at the Naval Air Station at Beeville and has taken up ceramics as a hobby. His work shows that he has great talent in this line. Among the things he has made are vases, ash trays, a pair of beautiful swans, a quail, and other lovely pieces, all of which are well done and certainly do not appear to be the works of an amateur as Lynn says he is. We think this is a grand hobby because his mother, as well as others, can enjoy the finished products, and he can enjoy making them.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Koontz and family recently returned from Douglas, Arizona, where they attended funeral services for Mr. Koontz's father, R. L. Koontz, who passed away on October 10. While there the sympathies of the Koontz family in extending heartfelt sympathy, to them.

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:
$500,000,000 LOSS TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads — pay for work not done or not needed — is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman — even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

The seniors are fortunate to have in their midst a cute little brown-eyed, brunette girl—namely Lelia Nell Evans. Her smiling personality is one of Lelia Nell's best characteristics. Not only is she always cheerful and happy but she also seems to lift the spirits of those around her. She must even have a reason for doing this, for, one of her special likes is "friendly" people.

While Lelia Nell was attending Leakey High School during her sophonore year, she fulfilled her part in being a cheerleader and a member of their pep squad. Now, while we have Lelia, she contributes her school spirit to the Bulldog team as a member of the Pep Pets. She is also an active member of the F.H.A.

Lelia is the type of girl a person can depend on. With her sweet disposition, she will surely find success in life. The seniors wish you the best of luck, Lelia. Lelia Nell, and pray you find happiness along the "Road of Life!"

WHAT TO STRESS IN SCHOOL

In every magazine and newspaper we come sooner or later to mention greater interest in public education. There has been much talk about improving the content of high school science courses since Sputnik first began to tick its way through outer space and many people are also urging that the junior leaders keep in balance the cultural studies — the arts — for our [illegible] society.

New developments are constantly expanding opportunities in this age call for both men and women with knowledge in mathematics and science as well as in languages. It is also interesting to note that a recent study of Higher Education by L. H. Kennard says that a good education is to be able to express oneself clearly in one's own language; and to do this and Dr. Gonant recommends weekly themes for all high school students—all of them.

This year, for the first time in many years, Baldera High is offering Spanish. Considerable interest is being shown in this class of 18 girls and 13 boys in their efforts to gain a mastery of Spanish through conversation. Most of these pupils are showing a lively interest in using this new-found vocabulary at every opportunity.

CONGRESS HOLDS SESSION IN CIVICS CLASS

On October 12, 1959, the 13th Congress of the Civics Class met to vote on the passage of Senate bill number 20 with Earl Keese as President, John Alanis as Vice-President, and Kenneth Kalka as Speaker of the House. Members of the President's Cabinet were Binnie Depmore, Elsie Faurie, John Alanis, Sandy Mott, and Kenneth Kalka. The bill stated that "Resolved that the age for social security benefits be lowered from the age of sixty-five to the age of sixty-two in order that retired workers may begin drawing social security at age of [illegible]."

The House approved the new version, and the altered bill was presented to the Senate, where it was passed immediately, and sent to the President, Earl Keese. President Keese vetoes the bill on the grounds that "too many people would take advantage of it. The President's veto was unanimously overridden in the Senate; however in the House, the bill failed by a narrow margin in favor of the necessary two-thirds majority vote to override the veto.

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE

Earl Wayne Heinen was grinning from ear to ear on Monday morning and said "Mother made me a cake." I hope all of you third grade mothers are practicing up for "The Bake Shop" on October 31.

Douglas Bailey returned to school after being in Corpus for a whole week. He was there with his mother and sister who is a doctor about his sister's eye. He took his six-weeks tests on Monday and had made good grades on all of them.

Brenda Everett found Sunday a very special day. It was not only her sister Lana's birthday but they both sang in the Junior Choir at the Episcopal Church. In their lovely choir robes they would have made a beautiful picture for a Christmas Card.

Gayle Monier's aunt and uncle came to visit him. They brought him a very large bag of candy.

Steven Faulkner and Robert Harrison report finding snakes again this week-end. We are going to be glad to see the last of them this year.

Jane Ann Pharris took Marion Alert home with her after Sunday School. They played after lunch and then went to the show.

Susie Short—our most faithful Bulldog fan—went to see the game in San Antonio. She also saw a bad wreck not far from the bleachers.

Ray-D'Spain got to see the game but did not get to go with his dad and uncle to a ranch on Sunday. If he had gone, he says he would certainly have brought home some of the horses.

Victor Strickland has advice for all of us. "Don't mow the back yard first!" He did that this week-end and when he had finished half of the front yard, the gas "ran out."

Zane Everett's grandfather has a wonderful sense of humor. When Zane went to Fredericksburg to see his Sunday, they found his bridge washed out by the recent flood, the road full of brush and big trees, his corn crop washed away and things looking bad in general. What does this fine old man say? "The moss is all washed out of the river now and the water is crystal clear." Zane and all the family went fishing and Zane learned to use his Dad's rod and reel!

MRS. REININGER'S FOURTH GRADE NEWS

We want to remind all of our friends of the P.T.A. Hallowe'en Carnival we are having on Saturday, October 31st. Our fourth grade will sell homemade candy and sandwiches. While we are reminding, maybe we should remind you mothers to send your homemade candy to the fourth grade room Friday morning, October 30th. We must all contribute if our candy booth is going to be a success.

Dick Mueller went to see the Shrine Circus Sunday. He enjoyed most, the elephants and trapeze actors.

Nora Linda White also enjoyed attending the Shrine Circus and also the symphony.

Danna Cagan showed us some interesting pictures which her mother sent from The Black Hills of South Dakota.

We are welcoming a new boy to our class. He is David Billings who comes to us from Illinois.

UNITED NATIONS WEEK

Tomorrow, October 24, is United Nations Day and the week is designated as United Nations Week. Today it is not enough to know that there is a United Nations organization to which most of the nations of the world belong; it is also necessary that we know how the machinery of the United Nations can be used to the best advantage for the creation of a peaceful world. We need to learn about the problems of the newer nations of the United Nations family—Indonesia, Federation of Malaya, Morocco, Sudan Ghana of them are in Africa—a nation that could well be a blind spot in our geography knowledge.

MISS JEAN SEARCY BECOMES BRIDE OF RAY MERLE STEVENS

In a beautiful and impressive candlelight ceremony at the Bandera church of Christ last Saturday evening at 7:30, Miss Ima Jean Searcy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Searcy of Menard, became the bride of Ray M. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Stevens of Bandera. Mr. Phil Bradshaw, minister of the church of Christ and manager for the Medina Children's Home, read the impressive double wedding ring vows which united in marriage this popular Bandera couple. Church decorations included white gladiolus, mums and tall white tapers in white candelabras, before a backdrop of red velvet. Mrs. J. Manley Reynolds, presented the nuptial music and used "I Love You Truly", "Because" and the traditional wedding march" from Lohengrin.

Ushers were Elmo Searcy, brother of the bride, and Earl Kinsey, friend of the groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a gown of white chantilly lace and net over taffeta. The fitted lace bodice was designed with a scalloped V neckline outlined with rhinestones, and had long petal pointed sleeves. The full lace skirt had scalloped side panels of lace over net and taffeta. Her elbow length veil cascaded from a pearl studded crown. In keeping with tradition, she wore "something old, something new, something borrowed, and something blue." The bride carried a white satin covered Bible with her cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with a gardenia. Her gift from the groom was a pair of fine cultured pearl earscrews.

Miss Mamie Stevens of Kerrville, cousin of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of blue velvet with a net overskirt. With it she wore a hat of blue, plumes and blue accessories. Miss Stevens carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Karl Moore of San Antonio, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man.

Mrs. Searcy chose for her daughter's wedding, a flower embossed navy sheer dress and blue accessories. She wore a white gladiolus corsage.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Forest Stevens, wore a beige mauhair wool dress with a mink collar and a mink trimmed hat. With it she wore a corsage of Cymbedium orchids.

Mrs. George E. Searcy, grandmother of the bride, wore a navy blue wool dress with navy accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the social building of the church. Mrs. Lester Buck of San Antonio, cousin of the bride, presided at the bride's book. A formal arrangement of white gladiolus and blue mums in a crystal compote with crystal candlesticks and white tapers formed the centerpiece for the reception table which was covered with a white cutwork cloth underlaid with blue. Miss Charlcie Ross served the beautiful wedding

MUSTANGS TO PLAY ST. MARY'S SUNDAY

At 3:00 p.m., Sunday, St. Joseph's Mustangs will meet the St. Mary's Apaches on the high school field.

This will be the third encounter between the two teams and will decide the Western Conference Championship. St. Mary's won the first game 10-0. The Mustangs took the second game two weeks ago.

St. Mary's beat Castroville 28-0 in their last game in a tune up for the Mustangs. Both teams will be handicapped by having sick quarterbacks. Royce Sprott has a bad cold and has missed practice the last few days.

Be sure and come out and cheer the Mustangs on to victory. This is the most important game on the Mustangs schedule.

BULLDOGS LOSE SCHERTZ-CIBOLO BY SCORE OF 28-26

The Schertz-Cibolo Buffaloes took advantage of two long kick-off returns and a couple of two point conversions to up-end the high riding Bandera Bulldogs 28-26 Friday night at the Bulldog Stadium in a crucial 27-A tilt. The Bulldogs though loging on the scoreboard out played their heavier opponents and held a decisive edge statistics wise as they demonstrated tremendous offensive punch.

Ernest Schladoer was the Bulldogs main threat during the evening as he accounted for 207 of Bandera's 407 total yards. The 175 pound fullback threw three scoring aerials and ran for a fourth counter as well as a two point conversion.

Bandera though never gaining the lead, battled to the very end in a desperate attempt to overtake the visitors in a game which may well have decided the district race since Bandera's eleven has now lost one league game against and practically all hopes for a tie now rely on a possible Bulldog victory over the Buffaloes in Boerne on November 13. However, Bandera must also win it's next two against Blanco and Southwest to remain in the running.

Friday's game saw the Bulldogs fumble away the pigskin three times, once on the Buff's three yard line, have a two point conversion nullified, and lose the ball on down when scrimmage was on the Schertz one yard stripe. All these, plus the two runbacks, proved disasterous to the Bulldog cause.

Bandera received the initial kick-off and on the first play of the game, Schladoer galloped 46 yards to the Buff 34; but on the next play, the first of the Bulldogs fumbles doused the threat. From there Schertz marched to an early eight point lead as Mike Edwards tossed an 18 yard scoring aerial to Malford Brehm. Edwards ran for the conversion.

The Bulldogs surged back, however, and registered their first points of the evening early in the

COUNTY AG CENTER AUCTION GREAT SUCCESS

The auction for the benefit of the Bandera County Agriculture Center held last Saturday, October 24, was a great success and brought in a total of $1618.05. The success of this event is contributed to the fact that people from throughout the county worked together. The chairmen of the various areas or communities did a wonderful job in contacting the people. Cooperation among the people to help pay for the debt and future improvements at the Bandera County Agriculture Center also contributed to the success of the sale.

A list of the donors and what they donated was kept and is given below. A few items were taken into the ring and the donor's name was not received. The items were a pair of spades and a ewe. Our apologies for not being able to give the donors' names. If there are any other errors, we want to say that we are sorry it happened.

The following made cash donations: Mrs. Chas. Moore, $5; Dee Crowell, $5; Jim Beckeland, $1; Grant Mickelsen, $5; Arthur Er-

After a honeymoon in Colorado the happy couple will be at home in Bandera. For traveling the bride chose a green wool tweed sheath dress and black accessories. With it she wore the white gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1956 graduate of Bandera High School. Following graduation, she held a responsible position at the Corner Drug Store until last year when she was employed by the Sheriff's department, where she will continue to work. She has been making her home with her grandmother since her parents moved to Menard.

The groom graduated from Bandera High School in 1950 and entered the ranching profession. In 1956 he joined the U. S. Army for a two-year period. After receiving his boot training at Fort Hood, Texas, he was stationed for several months at Castle Air Force Base in Merced, California. From there he was sent to Camp Hansford, Washington, where he served with the AAA Bn. until he sailed for Okinawa where he finished out his time with the armed forces as a military policeman and traffic investigator for the U. S. Army. After receiving his discharge from the Army in September, 1958, he resumed his ranching.

The Bulletin joins the many friends of this popular couple in wishing them lifelong happiness and success.

second stanza. The talley was chalked up on a pass from Schlador to Alanis from the Buff 10 repping the Bulldog's 54 yard, five play drive. The period continued wild and wooly from there on as three more touchdowns were made giving Scherts a 20-12 bulge at intermission. Bandera's counter during the quarter came via a 15 yard aerial from Schlador to Stein after the Bulldogs had marched 63 yards in only three plays. It was after this touchdown that Bandera scored what appeared to be the typing points but an off sides penalty nullified the conversion. As a finishing touch to the lively period, Scherts tallied the first of their two kick-off returns, thanks to a 90 yard spectacular by Kenny Vogel.

With the first half ended, the Bulldogs stormed back in the third stanza and lessened the gap to 20-18 as a result of Schlador's smashing 13 yard blast up the middle. But once again Scherts retaliated to widen their lead with the second runback. This time an 85 yard scamper by Donny Shelton turned the trick, Vogel registered the points after which later proved decisive in the Buff's victory margain.

The last quarter was all Bandera as the Bulldogs advanced scrimmage to the one and three yard lines during the period but lost the ball on downs and a fumble respectively. The Bulldogs did manage one final marker with but 28 seconds remaining in the game as Schlador passed 14 yards to Alanis for the counter. Schlador then rammed across for Bandera's lone conversion.

Statistically, Bandera held a wide advantage as the Bulldogs racked up 21 first downs to ten for the Buffs and managed a 6-2 head penetration wise. The Bulldogs gained 407 total yards with 172 rusing and an additional 235 yards on the, completion of 15 of 30 pass attempts. On the other hand, Scherts gained only 167 net yards, 103 of which via the ground route and the remaining 64 came through the air lanes. Schladoer was Bandera's one man show with 115 yards rushing on 12 attempts and 235 yards passing on 12 completions of 22 attempts. Stein gained 42 yards on seven tries and passed once for 22 yards. Kafka, Cottingham, Ramds and Alanis gained the remaining yardage. Kafka led the pass-catchers with 77 yards on four receptions while Alanis caught six for 65 yards. Stevens hauled in two aerials for an additional 55 yards, Stein two for 26 yards and Poe one for 12 yards.

Defensively the Bulldogs performed well in containing the strong Scherts offense though at times there was an occasional lapse which in the end proved costly.

This Friday the Bulldogs take to the road to engage the Blanco Panthers in an 8 p.m., contest at the Cat's stomping grounds. As mentioned before, the Bulldogs must win to retain any possible chance they have for a shot at the 27-A championship.

Tarpley

Mrs. Johnnie James, Reporter

Fall has brought with it the usual sniffles and hoarseness, except to stress both young and old, and a variety of aches and pains, which seems to get to us as we grow older. We've had a shower or two the past 10 or not. Nevertheless, most of us seem to welcome the cool weather and beautiful nature, many of which, only fall can bring.

It seems that there has been a great deal of illness among the residents of our community recently, but we are happy to report that the majority of them are feeling somewhat better this week. Among those who have been on the sick list and who have recovered somewhat are Joe Billings, Mrs. Sul Coffey, G. M. Mickelsen, Howdy and Clay Billings. We hope they will all continue to improve, and we might add that if there is someone else ill, we wish them a speedy recovery, too.

G. W. Sandidge, who is a student at Tarleton State College at Stephenville, spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Sandidge.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stodder and son of Maxwell visited friends at Tarpley during the week-end.

Last Thursday Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Beagle visited with his father, who is ill in Kerrville.

Mrs. Lois Brandt was a Bandera visitor last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dean of O'Donnell visited her mother, Mrs. B. Wood, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Mitchell Sunday, and a delicious barbecue was enjoyed in the Mitchell home.

Miss Helen Pickens of Pipe Creek and Mrs. John G. James and daughter, Monessa, of Bandera, visited in the Mickelsen home Friday afternoon.

Among those from Tarpley who attended the football game at Bandera Friday night were Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sandidge and son, G. W., and Mr. and Mrs. A. Jeffers, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Richards.

Friends here will be sorry to learn of the illness of Vol Chism of Utopia, husband of the late former Mary Dean. Mr Chism is suffering with a heart condition. We join his many friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dean and children, Larry, Nettie Marie, and Charles Hope, of Dilley spent Sunday at Tarpley. They arrived in time to attend Sunday School here and spent the remainder of the day visiting friends. Mr. and Mrs. Dean and the boys were dinner guests in the Mickelsen home and Nettie Marie was the guest of Miss Gretchen Mueller at her home.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Hope also visited in the Mueller home.

Other visitors in the Mickelsen home Sunday afternoon were Mr. Howard Billings, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Beagle, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie James and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Beagle spent the week-end in Aransas Pass visiting friends and fishing. They brought home some nice fish and report spending a most enjoyable week-end at their former home.

Tarpley was well represented at the Bandera County Agricultural Center auction last Saturday. Citizens of our community made some generous contributions and the ladies of the Tarpley Home Demonstration Club took pastries to sell. Brad Richards served efficiently as chairman of the Tarpley community in soliciting donations for the sale. Among those from Tarpley who were present at the auction Saturday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sandidge and son, G. W., Mrs. W. J. Schmidt, Mrs. Harold Reiber, Mr. and Mrs. Howdy Billings, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Billings, and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mansfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Nance of Hamilton Air Force Base, San Francisco, California, are the proud parents of a baby son, born On Sunday, October 25, and weighing 8 pounds one ounce, and was named Richard (Ricky) Lester. MRS. PUE HOSTESS TO INDIAN WATERS CLUB

The Indian Waters Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Ed M. Pue on Thursday, October 15th, with Mrs. A. W. Hunsby, president, presiding. The meeting was called to order with the club prayer and roll call was answered with "exchange of plants or seeds; name the item brought."

Mrs. Pue gave the Council report which was most interesting. Mrs. Lon D. Fisher, chairman of the Service committee, asked the club to be responsible for the making of bandages for the American Cancer Society. Mrs. Pue demonstrated the making of pads, and Mrs. Fisher invited the group to meet with her on Thursday at 2 p.m., at the Library and learn how to make dressings.

The election of officers was held with Mrs. E. M. Pue being elected president, Mrs. Arthur Hayes, vice-president, Mrs. J. L. Hensley, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. W. P. Jordan, coucil delegate.

Announcement was made that Council would serve cakes, pies, cookies, and coffee at the auction sale at the Ag Center on October 29th.

Mrs. R. L. Stevens gave an interesting demonstration on planning and preparing a luncheon.

The gift from the drawing was won by Mrs. Kuykendall, a guest at the meeting.

Mrs. Pue then served delicious cake and coffee to Mrs. Kuykendall, Mrs. Hunsby, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Hensley, Mrs. Arthur Hayes, Mrs. Fisher, and Mrs. Stevens.

What is this man doing?

As a member of an electric cooperative, this man is faithfully meeting an obligation he and his neighbors assumed years ago. He is paying for the cost of producing the electricity he used last month . . . paying interest on the money borrowed to build the system . . . paying on the loan principle and paying a portion for system improvement to provide better service to its members. He is paying, in spite of many hardships, no cooperative in Texas is in arrears on payments of principle or interest on the money they borrowed. So he is doing more than paying a bill. He is meeting an obligation of the past, paying for the comforts of the present, and investing in the future of his community, through membership in an electric cooperative that is . . .

With the importance of good hunting becoming more and more evident, ranchers are becoming more interested in correct wildlife management. Last Thursday four local ranchers, Bob Mansfield, Archie Gallant, Harold Burt and Danny Burt, accompanied by SCS technicians Billy Griffin and John Gumert, spent several hours on the Kerr Wildlife Management Area northwest of Hunt, Texas, as guests of the Kerr County SCD and the Texas Game & Fish Commission observing wildlife management practices. This tour was well attended by 75 per sons from the Hill Country area. Speakers Thomas Booker, Tom Shiflet, C. A. McMahan and Bob Ramsey told how management of vegetation, soils, and wildlife was paying off on the 6493 acre wildlife area. They pointed out the results of numerous experiments and studies carried out on the Area on stocking rates, wildlife and range improvement. Perhaps the most important fact brought out by the personnel at the Area was the fact that the heavier stocked pastures produced fewer deer and a lower return in dollars from livestock when compared to moderately stocked pastures. Information has been made from information obtained from the Wildlife Area in getting management plans written for ranches. Anyone wishing more information should contact the Bandera SCD office.

The surface parts of the grass plant are dead or semi-dormant in winter, but the life is still active in the plant roots.

Austrian winterpeas are proving to be popular winter cover crops with co-operators in the Bandera SCD. Besides furnishing grazing, winterpeas add valuable organic matter to the soil when managed properly. Winterpeas being a legume crop add nitrogen to the soil which results in additional plant growth. Winterpeas are also proving to be a desirable wildlife crop. Deer and turkey both, like the peas and have been known to take them in preference to other winter crops. Winterpeas should be planted before November at the rate of 25 pounds per acre broadcast. 200 pounds of phosphate fertilizer insures good growth and soil improving qualities. Among those co-operators in the Bandera Soil Conservation District who have planted peas in a crop rotation this year are Harold Burt of Medina, Lee Mansfield of Tarpley, and A. R. Alkek of Bandera. Nolan Adams of Medina has planted peas as a soil conditioning crop in recently constructed terrace channels, to improve the soil structure of the hard layer. Howard Bonzman of Medina has planted some 50 acres for wildlife use only. Each year we need approximately 10,000 acres of winter cover crops planted in the Bandera SCD to insure good future production, improve soil condition and increase fertility.

Range deferment from spring until frost will help insure grazing from frost until spring.

Last week Soil Conservation Technicians assisted Biologists Elgin Dietz and Don Miller of the Texas Game & Fish Commission in the application of rotenone to a small lake on the Flying "A" Ranch. The rotenone when applied at the proper rate completely kills the fish population. The purpose of this is to eliminate both good and bad fish so that the pond can be restocked with good fish and at a proper balance. Fish & Game Biologists estimate 90 per cent of the fish ponds in the Bandera SCD are out of balance in fish population. This lack of balance results in poor fishing or excessive small fish. This was proved on this particular pond by the number of small and rough fish compared to the number of good fish killed. Other SCD co-operators could possibly benefit by consulting the fish biologist on problems on their ponds. For more information contact your local Game Warden or technicians of the SCS in Bandera.

Mrs. Mary Thompson, Mrs. Fred Briggs, and Mrs. Isabel Anderson will prepare an interesting exhibit which will depict the Customs and Culture of the newly emerging countries around 0?5 world.

There will be a brief program in the form of a panel discussion, after which a time of fellowship will be enjoyed at the noon meal. The Medina group has graciously offered to serve coffee and cookies, so bring a sandwich or two, and participate in the observance of World Community Day.

Miss Helen Pickens and Mrs. Raymond Pawelik were San Antonio visitors last Thursday.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE

Friday morning, October 23, looked like any other school morning, but there was something special about the day. Everybody was in high school—all 51 freshmen, 40 sophomores, 38 juniors, and 28 seniors. For the first time since the day school opened on the third day of September, every high school student was present. Well, a measly two came poking in a little late, and somebody failed to come back in the afternoon, but we think that is good. Everybody was here on Friday, October 23.

What was done on the historic day of record attendance? Why was everyone present? It started off like any other day: Everyone went to the usual classes. The homemaking classes had the pleasure of taking down the chairs in the gym that were used for the FHA installation the night before. The band did its usual morning of marching on the football field. Mrs. Hick's English class read an interesting story of an underwater photographer. In the first year typing class, accuracy tests were given and in the timed writing period, some few made 32 net and better. The big group hit around 15 net with a few get their fingers tangled up and dropped to 4 or 5 net. Mr. Rimmer's chemistry class worked hard on formulas all morning and the remaining classes went about the routine procedures for a school day.

What was the, then, that made school so inviting? Could it be that this was the night for one of the toughest games of the football season? Could it be that there was the afternoon for one of the best roof-lifting pep rallies ever held in the gym? Whatever the reason, we certainly hope that our perfect attendance record for this day will be repeated many, many times throughout the year.

SENIOR NEWS

The Annual staff reported that the sale of the "Bulldogs" has been completed within the school. A total of 208 Annuals were sold. Within the next week or so, the businesses will be contacted to see if they would like to buy an annual. Each student selling annuals will have an identification card so as to eliminate any mix-up or "private profit." Advertisements for the "Bulldogs" will not be sold this year.

The seniors were mighty proud to receive our personal cards and "Memory Books"; it made us feel like real seniors. The fact that we will be graduating in only a few short months—more so, less startles us; it doesn't seem possible.

It seemd three of our high school girls, including one senior, displayed last Saturday afternoon only to appear in Ashton, Texas. These girls, Peggy Scriven, Janis Meginnis, and Sharon Jones, spent their week-end at the University, taking in the Texas-Rice football game Saturday night. From the sound of their chatter, Monday morning, they must have had a "blast"!!

The seniors plan to have a bake sale tomorrow, Saturday, October 31, at Horseman's Motor Co. There will be lots of delicious cakes, cookies, and pies for your Halloween week-end. The sale will begin at 10:00 a.m., and will end approximately at 4:00 p.m. Everyone be sure to buy a cake or pie and save yourself week-end baking. There will also be lots of cookies for any "trick-or-treaters" this week-end.

Last week's football game is a touchy subject now days, so let us just say "Blanco, here we come!!"

SPECIAL TESTS

Freshmen and sophomores at Bandera High School will get an objective insight into their scholastic development by participating in the National Educational Development Test, S. King, principal, said today. The tests will be given at 9 a.m., Tuesday, March 8, 1960, and at the same time, the National Merit Schlarship Qualifying Test will be given to juniors.

Last year almost 218,000 students in 2,215 schools throughout the nation took the tests.

Prepared and administered by Science Research Associates of Chicago, the annual three-hour NEDT examination provides scores in English, social studies, mathematics, natural sciences, and word usage. The NEDT fee is $1 for each student, payable at testing time.

The tests help students plan their high school and college courses, and make career decisions and also enable teachers to spot talented students, so that they may receive realistic guidance and motivation early in their educational career.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

On March 4, 1941—most of us will not remember—but Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Jenschke were proud parents of a baby boy.

William Jenschke. After attending the St. Joseph's School for eight years, he entered the Bandera Public School. Here William has entered in such activities as basketball. He is an active member of the FEA; he has also taken part in various other activities. Bandera High has benefited during the time that William has attended, and we hope you have enjoyed being a member of the Senior Class, William. We wish you the best of Luck, always, throughout your life.

JUNIOR JABBER

Now that most of our report cards have been signed and returned and there will be no six weeks test for another six weeks, perhaps we will breath easier and study a little harder.

We all want to thank the football boys for the wonderful game they played last Friday night. We are sorry they did not win, but they certainly fought hard enough to satisfy everyone.

We hope we see all of you at the Halloween Carnival, Saturday night, at the gym. The Junior Class is sponsoring a Horror House and we want each one of you to visit us—we will do our best, with the help of a few very "spirited" friends, to make our House of Horrors live fully up to its name.

SOPHOMORE TALKS

To start out — Bulldogs, you played a real fast and close game last Friday. Tonight, let's really get in there and tree those Panthers! If we win all the rest of our games, it looks like there is going to be a three way tie for district.

Some of our Sophomore boys had it 'a little rough, Friday night, and may be out of commission for tonight's game—though we sure hope not. Terry Kalka, Charlie Eckhart, and Squeaky Walker bear the marks of truly hard-fight-ing Bulldogs.

Over the week-end, Patty Callahan had fun relaxing at their ranch on Medina Lake. Don't get too lazy, Patty!

Saturday and Sunday, Judy Mueller went horse back riding. Remember what Mrs. Maguire said, Judy? "Don't ride—run!"

Basketball, you know.

Jean Daniels spent an exciting Saturday with her Tex-Mex-and-a-half year old date. They went to see the "Thirty Foot Bride of Candy Rock." What are you trying to do—scare the poor boy?

Pauline Whitaker's uncle visited her over the week-end, and brought his new boat. They had a "splash" Sunday, Sis.

Patricia Johnson went to the show Saturday and Sunday; she felt so good she went hiking!

Camille Rosquist had some kinfolks from Edinburg visiting her last week-end. Glad you came, since they only live a "skip and a jump" away!

Jan Edwards had to be different—she went to see her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Leo White-head at Waller, Texas, over the week-end.

The boys who were brave enough to show up at the defeat last Saturday night were Squeaky Walker, Larry Stein, Roger Ramos, and Elmo Jayel

F.H. A. NEWS

On Thursday night, October 22, the Bandera Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America held its annual Installation of the new members in the gymnasium. The parents of all the members, old and new, were invited. Also present were the Club Father and Mother.

The program began at 7:30, with the presentation of a corsage of red roses to the F.H.A. sponsor, Mrs. Patsy Rimmer. The Club is indebted to Mrs. Rimmer not only for the time and patience she contributes, and each and every meeting night, but we know that her help is appreciated. We are very proud to have you, Mrs. Rimmer.

The F.H.A. Prayer Song was sung, the Creed given, and the Installation was well under way. The purposes of F.H.A. were recited, the members and then each new member was given a red, paper rose, symbol of the F.H.A. The Club Mother, Mrs. Burgin Davenport, and the Club Father, Mr. Rimmer, also were presented with a red rose.

After the formal portion of the program was completed, the members and their parents gathered in the living room of the Home-making Department for refreshments. A delicious fruit punch was served with cake squares. Each piece of cake was topped with flower of the Club.

The F.H.A. is very proud of its new members, and hopes that they will enjoy belonging to the Club, and benefit from the experience!

PUP PET NEWS

The game Friday night was great, Bulldogs. The Pups have never yelled so loud or so long at a game as they did while you were trouncing up and down the field with Medina. Though you did not win—and that was a great disappointment—you should be proud of the way the Bulldogs never played as well before. Everyone was behind you all the way, as we still are. The Bulldogs have going to be lucky tonight because they are going to beat Blanco. Southwest, and Boerne—even the Scherts patrons are behind you again! Boerne!

The Pup Pets would like to express their appreciation to those who helped make the carnival Friday night a success. They would like to thank the mothers and Pup Pet members who worked and helped in the stand during the game. The Bulldogs also had a part in the stand. The effect was a success! Thanks to many people who worked hard. The pep rally, Friday afternoon, was the best Ranchers has ever had. The rally was extra good because the student body, the band, and the Pup Pets all yelled, especially certain Freshmen Bulldogs. The cheerleaders came running into the gym waving their big blue and white pom-poms and leading three small cheers. They gave me very cute and resemble a bulldog very closely. The pep rally started off with a bang and the yelling was loud. The spirit ran high until the final school song was sung and a snake dance led by the majorettes, cheerleaders and the Bulldogs was completed. Here's hoping all remaining pep rallies will be as good or better in the weeks to come!

The Pup Pets met in the gym last Tuesday night for their weekly meeting. Only there was a slight bit of business added to the regular routine business of running over the yells for the pep rally, etc. This was electing a Bulldog on which to bestow the much-coveted title of Football Hero 1959-60. The vote was taken by secret ballot and no one will know the lucky boy except Sandy Mott, Cathy Anderwald, and Mrs. Marurek until the homecoming pep rally, November 6. Who is he?

There were three visitors graced the pup pets with their presence. Friday, Mrs. Herman Marurek, who was attending her very first pep rally, and we hope it will not be her last. There were also two graduates of Bandera, Barbara Kolmo, a former head Cheerleader and Sherry Mayne, who played in the band. Everyone was glad to see these two girls again. All visitors are welcome at the pep rallies. If you are curious to see what a pep rally really is, come on up and see.

The Junior Red Cross does much toward bringing cheer and good will to the patients, some of whom would not realize that our holidays were different from any other day, if the Junior Red Cross did not make pretty tray decorations, etc., to remind the veterans that it is a special occasion, which they, too, should be privileged to enjoy.

MUSTANGS TIE BOERNE 16-16

The fighting Mustangs spectacular from afar, with long scoring strikes, tied with Boerne 16-16 Tigers 16-16 last Thursday night in a savage, spine-tingling game.

Boerne intent on winning over Bandera couldn't cope with the brilliant passing of James Jacoby, and the sensational catching of Ken Causey, as the game ended in a deadlock.

The extra points after the touchdowns were scored on passes from Roger Sprott to Willie Causey and Ken Mazurek.

Boerne scored both of its touchdowns on sheer power covering the length of the field. Boerne also scored their extra points on power plays over tackle.

The Mustangs came through the game with only one serious injury. On the opening kickoff Robert Johnson and Bobby Callahan were both injured but later returned to the game. Mike Fitzpatrick was hurt on the last play of the game but was ready for practice this last Monday.

St. Joseph's Colts beat Boerne second team 6-0.

The Mustangs play St. Mary's this coming Sunday, November 1, 2:00 p.m., at the high school field. This game will decide the Western Conference Championship. Be sure and see it!

APPOINTMENT OF FARM CENSUS CREW LEADER ANNOUNCED

Appointment of Arnold C. Pfeifer of Comfort, Texas, as a crew leader for the 1959 Census of Agriculture was announced today by Field Director James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office at Dallas.

Pfeifer will direct a force of census takers who will canvass all farms in Kerr, Bandera and Gillespie Counties. Before assuming his post, he will go to San Angelo, Texas, where he will receive five days of training by a member of the Census Bureau's staff. Topics to be covered include procedures for recruiting of census takers, census taker training, canvassing methods, preparation and submission of reports, and the supervision of crews to make sure a complete and accurate count.

The crew leader is one of the people in the field operations of the Census of Agriculture. It is his responsibility to recruit and train the census takers, check on their work; plan and allocate work assignments; review the work of the census takers and take remedial action where necessary, and to conduct difficult interviews.

After completing his training, Mr. Pfeifer will return to his home and will spend several weeks recruiting census takers, and training them in preparation for the start of the field canvass on November 18.

U.N.I.C.E.F. DRIVE SET FOR NOVEMBER 1

Representatives from four Bandera churches met Thursday, October 29, to discuss plans for a "Treat for UNICEF" drive, which will be held Sunday, November 1st, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Sponsored nationally by the U. S. Committee for UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund Halloween program will be carried out at the same time in some 10,000 other communities. Last year more than two million American youngsters participated in the biggest project ever carried out by children to help children.

Each penny collected by the Trick or Treaters wearing the UNICEF black and orange tag can mean five glasses of milk for a hungry child overseas, or the BCG vaccine to protect him from tuberculosis. A nickel's worth of UNICEF pencils will curb cuts of child of yaws, a crippling tropical disease.

The junior citizens (from 7th grade students on up) of Bandera participation in Trick or Treat for UNICEF will meet at the Methodist church at 4:00, November 1st. They will canvass the neighborhoods in small groups, escorted by adults who are also volunteering their time. After the collection, all will meet at the Episcopal church's barbecue pit for a weiner roast and a penny-counting party.

It was pointed out at the meeting that UNICEF is not a giveaway program, but rather helps needy countries to help themselves. Governments that request its aid spend an average of more than $2.50 for each $1.00 received in UNICEF supplies. Once started, UNICEF-aided programs are eventually carried on by the governments and often provide a model for permanent health services.

All youth wishing to participate are asked to contact their church youth leader or Marilyn Ritcheson for further details.

Mrs. Ola Wild of Austin was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Mary Langford, during the week-end.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS NOVEMBER 16

With the opening of hunting season only ten days away, many hunters are making preparations for the big day on November 16th. Much deer and turkey seem to be plentiful in the Hill Country and it is estimated that a record number of each will be killed when the season opens.

According to Gane Warden Richard Stevens, hunters who get their limit of turkeys in Bandera county this year will have the opportunity of killing two gobblers this season instead of one as last year. The limit on deer remains the same as in previous years. In Bandera county the limit is two bucks.

The reports from the various committee chairmen showed that excellent progress is being made in helping both young and adults in their individual and group enterprises.

Mrs. Gilbert Wendt, Home Demonstration Council chairman, reported the accomplishments of the seven clubs in the county, composed of 150 members. The clubs have participated in money drives for Red Cross, Cancer, Polio, and Heart Fund. They devoted time and encouragement to the 4-H clubs, along with prizes of money and ribbons as an added incentive.

They have completed a study of the nutrition for the betterment of their families' health. Also, classes or discussions were held in sewing, upholstering, first aid, and civil defense. A barbecue was planned and served as a civic project and they sold cakes and coffee at the agricultural center. They have a wheel chair which is loaned to needy residents in this county. Their parade float won a first prize. Annual Christmas parties and picnics are held for all members.

Howard Hay reported on the progress being made by goat raisers in the county. They are working to improve the goat industry by a constructive breeding program. By shearing, grading and dehorning a goat and comparing the dollars and cents values rendered per grade, they hope to benefit in the near future. Following up with these activities in the coming years, on past performances, the goat raiser will be able to sell his flock as he deems it financially advisable. By instituting a more uniform method of grading flocks, the rancher can obtain maximum results.

Cooperation of the entire community is desired and needed to attain higher standards and ele-

She and Mr. Vann established the Aleta Creek Ranch here and operated it until 1948 when they sold and moved to Brenham where they have resided since.

Mrs. Vann's survivors include the sorrowing husband, Joe Vann, of Brenham; one daughter, Mrs. Art Kitzman of Brenham, and two grandchildren, Karen and Joe Kitzman of Bandera.

Mr. Kitzman and the children returned home after the funeral services, but Mrs. Kitzman remained with her father at Brenham for several days.

COUNTY PROGRAM-BUILDING COMMITTEE HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

"A very interesting and informative meeting was held at last Saturday morning in the library building of the Methodist auditorium of the Bandera County Home Demonstration Council and the Bandera 4-H and Junior 4-H groups. Rhea Mansfield was chairman for the group and Mrs. R. L. Stevens, Bandera County Home Demonstration Agent, explained that the purpose of this meeting was to analyze past performances and discuss present and future problems and needs of our community. And to co-ordinate the efforts of the Home Demonstration Clubs and 4-H groups in order to work according to the needs and desires of each community at the grassroots level.

The reports from the various committee chairmen showed that excellent progress is being made in helping both young and adults in their individual and group enterprises.

Mrs. Gilbert Wendt, Home Demonstration Council chairman, reported the accomplishments of the seven clubs in the county, composed of 150 members. BULLDOGS BEAT BLANCO FOR SIXTH WIN

The Bandera Bulldogs raced to an easy 40-0 shellacking Friday night as they made the Blanco Panthers their sixth victim of the season. The Bulldogs tallied in every period as five different blue and white clad players crossed the goalstripe during the rout.

The Bulldogs received the initial boot and proceeded to march 60 yards in seven plays with Kalka going the final 10 on an end sweep. Kalka kicked true and Bandera gained an early 7-0 lead.

Shortly after the start of the second stanza, the Bulldogs notched the scoreboard once again via a 31 yard aerial from Schladoer to Charles Jones. Earlier in the game the Bulldogs had advanced to the Panther 6 yard stripe but a fourth down pass fell incomplete ending the threat.

Blanco made but one serious threat all evening, that coming in the second period when the Panthers moved to the Bulldog 15 where they met with a stout Bandera defense and lost the ball on downs.

With the game already tonight, the Bulldogs came back even stronger in the fourth quarter as they registered 27 points. In the first stanza Kalka flipped a scoring pass to Stergus who then out-distanced the napping Panthers for a 48 yard jaunt. Cutting loose a boot at the point after. The Bulldogs tallied again shortly after as Stein, who gained rushing laurels for the evening, raged 65 yards on a beautiful open field scamper for Bandera's fourth counter.

Not quite satisfied with their 26-0 advantage, continued to pound away at the hapless Blanco eleven as the Bulldogs tallied once again on a 70 yard pass and run from Schladoer to Stevens. Kalka tossed to Poe for the two conversion safely in grasp, the Bulldogs sent in the reserves who then added a marker of their own. Taking advantage of a fine Schladoer punt by Kalka on the Blanco 10, the second backfield corps moved to the 1 where Fullbright and Alanis received credit for the tedeed after recovering Clem Haun's fumble in the endzone. The latter's kick was the final glory when the bobble occurred.

Statistically, Bandera chalked up 10 first downs to Blanco's 2 and rushing yardage was 276 to 75. 205 of the Bulldog total yardage came via the air route while the Panthers netted 75 yards on 6 carries good for a 12.5 yard average. Schladoer picked up 55 yards on 8 tries and passed for an additional 133 yards on completion of 4 of 8 aerials. Other Bulldog carriers included Cottingham, Alanis, Kalka, Ramos, King, Haun, and Focke. Kalka shared the passing honors with Schladoer, hitting 2 and completed 2 of 5 attempts for 72 yards.

Defensively, the Bulldogs once again performed well as they allowed the Panthers but one penetration. The starters as well as the reserve corps of Cantu, Adamietz, Adams, Locklin, McCullough, Frerich, and Focke limited the Cats to a mere two first downs, a shaved item valued at more than 100 per cent, and intercepted an enemy aerial during the 27-A tilt.

Tonight is homecoming at Bulldog Stadium as the Bulldogs host the winless but tough Southwest Dragons at 8:00 p.m. Bandera will be going after victory number seven and will be trying to retain their chances for winning the district title.

That night at nine o'clock, the Lone Star Melodie Rangers will play for the dance at Legion Hall.

On Thursday, November 12th, at 8:00 p.m., open house will be held at the Silver Dollar. Beginning at 9 p.m., Adolph Hofner and his Pearl Wranglers will play pretty music at the Rio Vista.

MUSTANGS LOSE 8-0

With less than two minutes left in the first half, a wobbly pass was completed and run for 40 yards and a touchdown. The extra points were made and the final score was 8-0, St. Mary's.

The game was played in a light drizzle and muddy field, which made the footing very bad. These circumstances plus a stout defense by St. Mary's beat the Mustangs.

In the first period the Mustangs made their only threat. They had a first down on the Apaches 10 yard line but a fumble ruined the drive.

Outside of the TD by St. Mary's the game was very even.

Willis Causey was again outstanding for the Mustangs in both offense and defense.

The Mustangs meet St. Louis of Castroville, Thursday, November 5, and finish their season at home with Boerne, November 12.

Hatfield, spokesman of the class of '40, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced Carl F. Wheeler, who was superintendent at that time. Andy Nichols, former English teacher, was then introduced.

Adding to the fun of the occasion was the reading of the 20-year-old class will and prophecy, which was met with gales of laughter.

Mr. Hatfield read a telegram and letters from graduates who were unable to attend. He called the roll and each ex-student introduced his family. Tentative plans for a "San Antonio-Medina" picnic to be in May were made.

Charles A. Fee of Corpus Christi was honored for having traveled the farthest distance to attend. Mrs. Doris Holmes, mother of five children, won the honors for having the most children and the youngest child.

What is this man doing?

He is exercising a privilege he has earned through membership in a great democratic institution . . . The Electric Cooperative. He may be casting a ballot for a director to represent him. He may be suggesting that advance payments be made on the money they borrowed. Or he may simply be expressing his opinion.

He and his neighbors borrowed money to build their own electric systems when no one else would serve them. They are paying back principle and interest while furnishing excellent electric service.

The Electric Cooperative brought a revolution to the rural community. It will provide a bright and beautiful future for his children.

SENIOR NEWS

Well, everybody seemed to have lots of fun Hallowe'en. There were lots of people—young and old—at the Carnival last Saturday night.

The Seniors held their bake sale last Saturday in spite of the rain, carnival and parade. I hardly think the sale could be considered a tremendous success, but a little here and a little there always helps.

Everybody in High School is anxious for tonight's game. This is the Homecoming game which marks Dad's Night as well as the announcements of the various "Sweethearts." Southwest will have lots of resistance tonight because the Bulldogs plan to make this the best homecoming ever. To satisfy your hunger during the exciting game, the Annual Staff will supply lots to eat at the stand. After the game, the Annual Staff will have a dance at the Retreat; see everybody there!!!,

MRS. MAZUREK'S SEVENTH GRADE

Friday some of Glenda Kaye Ritcheson's kin folks came up to see her and her family. They visited until Sunday. Her brother and family also came up to visit Sunday. She also went Trick or Treating with all the youth children of Sheridan, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Jenkins of San Antonio.

Monday Mrs. Mazurek's Seventh over a bake sale for raising money over a bakesale for raising money for future years. The cause today was that cookies will be sold near Boyle's Store on nine-thirty a.m. Saturday, November 7th.

EXCITEMENT RUNS HIGH

By the time you read this in the paper it will be "Old News," but today, Tuesday—the day all School Daze News is written—excitement is running through the High School students like an electric charge. Monday, each student wrote the name of the girl and the boy whom he wanted to be his class favorites on the ballot. These ballots were counted and today the vote will be taken from the top three—boys and girls—in each class for the final analysis. Probably most of you already know the outcome of this vote, but right now it is tit-for-tat as who these favorites will be. Top contenders for this honor are: Seniors: Earl Keese, Kenneth Kalya, Carol Anne Vaughn, Linda Wright, Lu Langham, Mary Anne Mosso. Juniors: John Alanis, Jerry Adamiets, Billy Walton, Elsie Faurie, Jeanine Hicks, Elvera Alguerava, Sharon Ellis, Peggy Sophmores: Terry Knibbe, Robert Bradley, Roger Ramon, Joan Daniels, Barbara Flach, Judy Mueller. Freshmen: Bobby Mueller, John Focke, Susan Langford, Claudia Shaw, Karen Kittman.

LUNCH ROOM MENUS

Monday, November 9—Hot dogs, chili sauce or mustard, baked beans, Fritos, pickle stick, milk, fruit medley, cookie.

Tuesday, November 10 — Meat balls and spaghetti, green beans, stuffed celery, bread, butter, milk, cocoanut-cream pudding with bananas and vanilla wafers.

Wednesday, November 11—Holiday.

Thursday, November 12—Hamburgers, buttered corn, potato chips, lettuce, tomato, onion, pickles, milk, fruit.

Friday, November 13—Salmon croquettes, catsup, creole hominy, buttered spinach or blackeye peas, bread, butter, milk, ice cream.

FIFTH GRADE GIRLS

Diane Munsch and her mother went to Corpus Christi Saturday to see Kimberley Herrman, who went to school here last year. They went to the park and the sea gully ate out of their hands. They had a real good time. Kimberley said to tell everyone "Hello."

Peggy Heinen has two baby rat pigs at her house that are real cute. She can pick them up and feed them.

Some of the Fifth Grade girls helped clear tables at the Carnival. They enjoyed helping very much.

Emma Clark has two cousins who are just back from Germany. They are going to move to Bandera soon. One is going to be in our room. We know we will like her.

FRESHMAN FACTS

At last we can say that some of the boys helped win the football game. John Focke, Roy Adams, Herman Frerich, Tommy Adamietz, and Walter Causey played for a while last Friday night.

The Freshman Agriculture boys will operate the popcorn machine for the last time this season Friday night. Buy some popcorn!

The Freshmen are proud to report that their booth—throwing darts at balloons—made $29.72. We wish to thank all the mothers who had charge of our booth.

PUP PET NEWS

The game, Friday night, was not drab, though the weather was. The Bulldogs—as usual—played a real fine game. Even though the Bulldogs won the game, Friday just didn't seem to be Bandera's night. It would take too much room to explain all that happened, but everyone is thankful to Mrs. Mazurek, Mr. Mullenax, Mr. Mazurek, the sponsors, and coaches for their help in getting things straightened out. Many Thanks!!!

"Won't this week ever pass?" has been the question in most students' minds. Wonder why? Because at the Pep Rally today the Sweethearts of all organizations will be announced. There will be the Football Hero, chosen from the football squad, by the Pup Pets. Then some lucky girl will become Football Sweetheart, chosen by the football boys. The band will select Band Sweetheart; the FFA will have the FFA Sweetheart; and the FHA Sweetheart will be announced. Oh, these lucky five people! Those who are not chosen will be just as valuable in helping. They all are deserving.

The Pep Rally last Friday was real fun. Everyone had a ball. It started off with the cheerleaders coming in from the gym door with the three cute little pups and waving pom-poms. The rally consisted of ten rousing yells, five band numbers—with routines by the majorettes, and a skit called "Casey's Coffins" presented by the cheerleaders. Of course, a pep rally wouldn't be a pep rally without speeches from Coach Waldrum, Coach Eichman and the Captains.

The Pup Pets would like to express their thanks to the two top men on the totem pole of cheerleaders. They are Sandly Mott and Cathy Anderwald, her chief assistant. There is a lot more to running a pep squad than most people realize. Sandy Mott, head cheerleader of the Pup Pets, has many responsibilities. There are many different committees to organize each week, programs to be ahead for home games, pep rallies to plan each week, and many other things to be arranged. Sandy, who has been in the Pup Pets two years, has been cheerleader both years. She has done a real great job of being head cheerleader. Thanks, Sandy!!!

Cathy Anderwald is another gal who helps keep the pep squad functioning smoothly and is Sandy's right-arm man. This is Cathy's fourth year, but her first year as cheerleader. She helps Sandy with all her responsibilities. The girls of the Pup Pets dearly love these two girls because of their wonderful personalities! Thanks for everything, girls!

JUNIOR JABBER

Congratulations, boys, on the marvelous game you played Friday night. Keep up the good work!

Monday morning the High School had a faint aroma of rotten eggs but otherwise, except for an occasional yawn, there was little to remind anyone that there had been a Hallowe'en week-end. Thanks to all of you who came to the carnival and to the Junior's tinet advantage.

Everyone in the class seems to have enjoyed the carnival. Ray D'Spain, Victor Strickland, and Janie Hayes were discussing the case bargains they got. Douglas Cook said he had so much candy that he couldn't remember. Randy told us his brother, Robert, got to help scare them because his mother was in charge of this "terrifying" project of the Juniors. Sherry Davis had a lot of fun there, too.

Susie Short's family had cousins visit them from east Texas. Victor Strickland's cousins visited him, too, and plan to buy a home here. We are happy when people love our Bandera the why we do.

Zane Everett and Ray D'Spain ran a bicycle race—one on a King-sized bike and one on a Junior-sized bike. The smallest boy, of course, rode the large bike!

Linda Goodenough reports that she has almost finished the playhouse she started last week. It will has no door. She says "It does not even leak unless it rains hard."

Steven Faulkner found a most unusual way to celebrate Hallowe'en. He went swimmig!

Lita Saunders and her family invited their minister and his wife to have dinner with them Sunday. Not too long ago she had her whole family were baptized—a truly wonderful experience. She has a remarkable family anyhow — four generations are represented in their happy home.

FATHER'S NIGHT—

Fathers of football players, managers, and statistician will be the guests of the Bulldog team Friday night at Bulldog field when the Bulldogs clash with the Southwest Dragons.

They are to meet at the gymnasium at 7:00 p.m. Fathers are to be escorted on the field by their sons.

MRS. MULLENAX—
SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Dickie Hicks visited George Hamilton over the week-end.

Dorothy Brown spent the week-end with Karen King. She also went to her grandfather's house to help celebrate his birthday.

All of the sixth graders went to the carnival and had a good time.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

On Saturday night, Tommy Wedgeworth came to the Hallowe'en Carnival and went to the spook House in the Music Room where they told scary stories.

Mary Ann Zickler went with her mother and her two little sisters to the laundry to wash clothes on Saturday. While they were there they saw Gus Garcia carrying his little brother into the Corner Drug Store.

Willy Strickler and his brother made a dollar hauling off boards. Then they opened a package that his sister sent for Hallowe'en. In it were some funny masks for them to wear.

Marta King watched her sister fix Hallowe'en costumes.

Rosa Gonzales played with her two kittens, Spotty and Blackie.

On Saturday, when Gus Garcia was watching television with his mother, he saw the story that we were talking about in class, about Noah and the animals in the Ark. He built the Ark and took two ostriches, two zebras, and two of does not even leak unless it rains all the animals. Then it rained and rained just like in the story. After they finished watching that, they went to town to get their masks and went to the Carnival. They had so much fun they hated it was gone.

Lana Everett went to Kerrville on Saturday and when she got home, she went to Karen Anderwald's birthday party.

Phillip Applegate bought a flute at the Carnival.

Marian Allert went to the Carnival, Saturday.

On Sunday, when Jimmy Locke and his father went to visit their neighbor, they saw some goats and six deer.

Mrs. Ainsworth took her little boy to the bone specialist in Austin on Saturday. The doctor taught Albert Ford how to pick up a pencil with his toes to strengthen the muscles in his foot.

Lana Everett's name was accidentally left off the first six-weeks B Honor Roll last week.

vate the goat industry to its highest level.

As an example of the need for more and better mohair, Burlington Mills has offered cooperation in using mohair blends, but at the present time, all of Texas does not produce enough mohair for their needs. They estimate that our present output would not last them more than 30 days!

The Hay Foundation has made excellent progress toward attaining higher goals. Thirteen boys and girls have participated in this program thus far and have received top Belton and money awards at numerous shows.

Raymond Hicks, associate coordinator for 4-H Clubs, reported the fine accomplishments of all four clubs. These boys and girls have put over all improvements in preparation, judging, and contests. They learned to identify grass and weeds, and helped with shows and sales at the Agricultural Center.

The Juniors hope to be allowed to exhibit their efforts when and if a community center is a reality. They plan to organize more clubs and also participate in more contests.

The Sheep Foundation Program, sponsored by the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers' Association, started with 1 ram, 20 yearling ewes, and 16 ewe lambs. Since then, one ewe lamb was judged Reserve Champion at the Junior Livestock Show and produced the Grand Champion fleece at the Wool and Mohair Show.

And, speaking of wise, these boys and girls have made an impressive show. They cleared $130.00 from their ram sale program and sold over $15,000.00 in the sales of livestock.

It was also reported that the meeting times of the 4-H Clubs have been changed.

Werner Lindig, Bandera County Agricultural Agent, reported on the Brucellosis program for beef cattle. Fifty-one percent of the tax-paying cattle owners were required to sign a petition for this program. A qualifying 98 per cent signed up and it is possible that the result would have been 100 per cent, but some ranchers were unavailable at the time. The ranchers voted for Test Type No. 2, which means that the State of Texas does the testing free of charge to the rancher.

After testing, all animals classified as re-acters must be sent to market unless a rancher can claim hardship. If he claims hardship, he can keep all of his cattle, but must separate the re-acters from the clean cattle and re-test the clean cattle every 6 months for a year. In other words, the clean cattle must be tested twice after being separated from the re-acters. At the end of the one-year period, he must sell all of the re-acters.

Mr. Lindig also reported on the feeding, culling, and field day for poultry and the three sheep meets which were held at the Joe Mortin Ranch, the Agricultural Center, and a field day in Kerrville. Sheep were selected, sorted and analyzed for production. A study of shearing, preparing and selecting wools has resulted in a noticeable improvement in the wool now being brought into the warehouse in Bandera.

Jack Focke spoke briefly on the bee industry.

It was decided that each chairman was to be selected from among his own group by mutual consent.

Wilvie Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, attended this meeting and offered the suggestion that the Chamber of Commerce and all other civic activities could profit from closer co-operation with one another. His suggestion met with approval and a vote of thanks was given for his interest in and cooperation with the needs of our community.

When the meeting adjourned, coffee and donuts were served by Mrs. Gilbert Wendt, Mrs. Richard Stevens, Mrs. E. M. Pue, Mrs. Hugo Bausch, Howard Hay, Rhea Mansfield, Taxpayer Hicks, Werner Lindig, Wilvie Smith, and Jack Focke.

J. Burgin Davenport, vice-president and cashier of the First State Bank, has been on the sick list this week. We join his many friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

son.

Attending the conference called by Ralph Kutzer, resident engineer of the Texas Highway Department, were R. M. Bradford, district construction engineer, Tyler; Roy Davis, partner in L. W. Pelphrey Company, contractors; Fred Barber, chief inspector, and Charles Reasonover, senior engineer of the Longview office of the Texas Highway Department; Sheriff Noble Crawford; Sgt. Lloyd Webb and Patrolman Howard Alford of the Texas Highway Department.

Agreements were reached between the law enforcement officials and members of the Highway Department on the types of safety equipment and measures to be employed on the project.

Kutzer said that since the majority of the construction will be on new location, traffic will continue to use existing roadways while construction is in progress. He said adequate barricades and warning signals will be displayed but motorists should be extremely cautious in passing through the area as it will be heavily traveled by heavy construction equipment. The construction area will be zoned to 30 miles an hour for the protection of motorists and workmen alike and the area will be patrolled to enforce the speed limit.

These pre-construction safety conferences are a new idea developed by the Texas Highway Department in cooperation with the Department of Public Safety.

MRS. STEIN HOSTESS TO PRIVILEGE CLUB

Mrs. Joe Stein was hostess to the Privilege Creek Home Demonstration Club when it met last Friday for the regular October meeting. Mrs. Stein, club president, called the meeting to order by asking the group to repeat the club prayer in unison. Roll call was answered with an exchange of plants and seeds. Two of the visitors, Mrs. Pat Freeman and Mrs. T. E. Nesky, Sr., joined the club.

The election of club officers for 1960 was held with Mrs. Joe Stein being re-elected as president; Mrs. Nesky elected as vice-president, and Mrs. Gary Johnston re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. E. A. Johnson gave a report of the Council meeting held last Tuesday.

Mrs. Stevens also presented many good ideas on preparing a menu and selecting foods from which one can get the most food value for her money.

Mrs. Lane Langford had charge of recreation and presented the winners with lovely prizes. Mrs. R. L. Stevens won a beautiful floral arrangement; Mrs. Pat Freeman received a lovely African violet; and Mrs. Walter Stein, a guest, was the winner of a pretty planter of cacti, ivy, and other growing plants.

Mrs. Stein served delicious refreshments to Mrs. E. E. Wyatt, Mrs. Bud Causey, Mrs. Ella Cox, Mrs. Catline M. Merritt, Mrs. Charles Stein, and Mrs. Walter Stein, all of whom were guests; to the new members, Mrs. Nesky and Mrs. Freeman; and to the members present, who were Mrs. E. A. Johnson, Mrs. Edwin Yawter, Mrs. Lane Langford, Mrs. John Heinen and Mrs. R. L. Stevens.

Mrs. Ella Cox graciously invited the Club to hold their November meeting at her home in Bandera on November 20, and her invitation was accepted.

BOY SCOUTS CAMP ON WOOTTON RANCH

The Taylor Wootton ranch, two miles south of Privilege Creek, was the scene of an overnight camping trip for 20 members of Boy Scout Troop 146 last Friday and Saturday.

During the outing, the Panther Patrol, whose Patrol Leader is Richard Evans, won first place ribbons for overall camping skill and such Scout skills as building fires, practicing first aid and using axes.

Others in the patrol are Jimmy Daniels, Royce Sprott, Ray Wedgworth, Bobby Bailey, Russell Zickler, and Billy Small.

Second place winners were members of the Bobcat Patrol, led by Mike Fitzpatrick. Bobcats are Johnny Small, Michael Matthews, Pat Wootton, Mike Wootton, Lindy Rhodes, Thomas McGinnis and Brack Callahan.

In third place was the Flaming Arrow Patrol, led by Freddy Flach. In the patrol are David Flach, Johnny Heinen, Bobby Jones and Morris Green.

Scoutmaster John Gumert and Assistant Scoutmaster Russell Zickler were with the boys on the outing, and Leroy Sprott accompanied the Webelos Den of the Cub Scouts, who joined the troop for Saturday activities.

Helping with transportation were Mrs. Russell Zickler, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Small. Johnny Langford donated some utensils for the campers, and Mrs. John Nixon, of Fitzgerald's Store, donated award ribbons.

A Board of Review will be conducted November 9 to determine which Scouts have earned promotion to First- or Second-Class.

Thirty boys are now registered in the troop. Capacity for a troop is 36 members, or four patrols of eight boys, plus four senior patrol leaders.

Eddie Jon Ryan, who is attending A&M College, spent the weekend here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ryan.

ATTEND ASSEMBLY

Arrangements have been completed for the Bandera congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses to attend the three-day semi-annual circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Fredericksburg High School, November 6-8. The announcement was made last Sunday by Walter V. James, presiding minister of the local congregation at the conclusion of the weekly Watchtower Bible study meeting.

James, after discussing the convention program with Harold M. Pulver, circuit director of 18 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in the south-central area of Texas said "the three-day program will consist of a variety of talks on Bible subjects, with discussions and demonstrations arranged to aid all in attendance to apply Bible principles more fully in their everyday living."

Featured speakers appearing at the assembly in the history of the world.

The convention will be climaxed by Sunday, November 8, at 3 p.m. when Mr. Anderson speaks on: "When is God's Will To Be Done On Earth?"

All sessions are free and the public is invited to attend.

BANDERA PARENT TEACHER ASSOCIATION OBSERVES 50th ANNIVERSARY

The Bandera Parent Teacher Association met in the Band Hall on October 27th with Mrs. A. B. Byrne presiding. A. B. Lewis, District PTA Citizenship Chairman reported on the District workshop held at Johnson City. He brought back many interesting ideas and new interpretation on the theme of the day "Education: Whose Responsibility?"

Membership reports a total of 180 members. If you were missed in the recent drive, you may still join and receive the new yearbook by paying your dues to Mrs. A. A. Reed. Personal prizes were won by Marlene McKay, first and second prizes went to Rita Brooks and Debbie Stricker. Mrs. Wootton's and Mrs. Hicks' rooms won the per cent of parents for their rooms.

Mrs. E. R. Teel, Pre-school Chairman, reported that our PTA Baby, the Child Guidance Course, is progressing and growing. She showed their attractive new yearbook and issued an invitation to everyone to attend.

It was voted that we pay $800.00 from the Scoreboard Fund to the Coca-Cola Company for our beautiful new Scoreboard.

The President, Mrs. A. B. Byrne, was authorized to select another Delegate and the two will attend the State Convention at Dallas in Mid-November.

Mrs. Raymond Hicks was the speaker for the evening coming during our 50th anniversary. On October 13, 1909, the first Texas Mothers' Club met. Our own local Mother's Club, forerunner of PTA, first met in the old Duffy Hotel on October 11, 1913. If you were a parent, you were automatically a member. Registered members were fined .05 for unexcused absence. The new building school where floors always needed oiling, shades replaced, and hope of buying chairs reighned. Our pioneer families gave us a record to challenge the unsurmountable. Every year they fined themselves several Electiqs Day meals, sponsored local talent recitals and sold eggs to buy the oil, shades, roofs, drinking cups (after the school board secured water for the school ground), chairs, library shelves, and a piano. Once they only had 40 cents in the treasury. But their Fish Ponds were successful, debts were paid, and new projects completed. "Lord forgive us for failing to be thankful for the obvious!"

A short film from the National Education Agency titled "Section Sixteen", narrated by Raymond Massey, concluded the program. "Section Sixteen" referred to the first Federal Law for education whereby each colonial Township was to set aside Lot 16 for a school.

Refreshments were served in the Homemaking Department by the Seventh Grade Mothers.

MORRIS RANCH BUYS EWES FROM F. S. PRICE

The Morris Ranch bought a flock of 205 aged ewes and two aged rams from F. S. Price of Sterling City. The ewes are of Debouillet breeding and have been bred to some top Debouillet rams. The ewes sheared 12½ pounds at 12 months the past spring and weaned 82-pound lambs in July.

Mr. Price has one of the top production flocks in the state according to grower reports. The commercial group of three ewe lambs at the San Angelo Stock Show last spring came out of the flock of ewes bought by the Morris Ranch. The new lambs in the group of three sheared 16½ pounds when they were sheared during the show.

Six ram lambs were also bought from Mr. Price several weeks ago by the Morris Ranch. They are being used on the top group of ewes at the present time.

Some top ram lambs are expected from this group of ewes. They should furnish a source for breeding stock for the Morris Ranch and other ranches in Bandera county.

VOLUME 15, NUMBER 21 — BANDERA, BANDERA COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1959 — $3.00 PER YEAR; 10c PER COPY

JOYCE HAYES AND HERBERT HAAS WED SATURDAY EVENING

Miss Joyce Ann Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leldon Vistan of Fredericksburg, became the bride of Herbert H. Haas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Haas of Bandera, Saturday evening at 5:30 at St. Stanislaus Catholic church in Bandera in the presence of their immediate families and close friends. Rev. Victor Schmidtzinsky read the double ring ceremony and the nuptial mass. Arrangements of white mums decorated the altar of the church.

The pretty bride chose for her wedding a street length dress with bolero jacket fashioned of white brocade faille. With it she wore a white hat decorated with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a white gardenia on her prayer book.

Mrs. Nelda Vogel of Stonewall, aunt of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of blue satin embossed with black velveteen flowers and black accessories. Her flowers were white fuzi mums.

Marvin Haas of San Antonio, uncle of the groom, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception and wedding dinner was held at the home of the groom's parents. A delicious barbecue plate with all the trimmings was served. The beautiful wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

After a wedding trip to San Antonio, the happy couple are at home here where the groom is employed by Hillerafters of Bandera. The groom graduated from the Bandera High School in 1958 and the bride attended St. Mary's Parochial School in Fredericksburg.

The Bulletin joins their many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy married life.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Trowbridge of Independence, Missouri, visited friends in Bandera this week. The Trowbridges former residents of our town and have many friends here who welcome them.

BULLDOGS SCORE 47-14 VICTORY OVER SOUTHWEST

The Bandera Bulldogs warmed up for this week's championship encounter with the league leading Hearne Greyhounds as they completely submerged the Southwest Dragons of San Antonio 47-14 in a District 27-A tilt Friday night at Bulldog Stadium. The Homecoming and Dad's Night crowd sat in sub-freezing temperature as they witnessed a convincing Bulldog offensive show in which the hometown boys struck for 20 points in each the second and fourth periods to wallop their larger opponents.

Bandera demonstrated upcoming strength in the future as sophomores accounted for five of the Bulldogs' seven markers. The Bulldogs unleashed the wrappings of Clem Haun and the converted fullback, a former defensive line stalwart, performed brilliantly in gaining 127 yards on but eight rushing attempts. Haun accounted for 14 points with two touchdown blasts and a two point conversion.

The Bulldogs broke the scoring ice-midway in the initial stanza as Larry Stein, a sophomore back, scampered 39 yards to paydirt. Cottingham's boot split the uprights and the Dragons, winless in eight previous games, began to taste defeat once again.

In the first play of the second quarter, the Bulldogs scored their second counter on a 10 yard pass from Kalka to Stevens. Later in the period the Bulldogs notched the scoreboard once again as an 11 yard dash by Stein turned the trick. On this drive the Bulldogs moved 25 yards in five plays after gaining possession on a blocked punt by Kalka deep in Dragon territory. The Bulldogs built their halftime margin to 27-0 rather spectacularly as Coach John Waldrum's boys drove 90 yards on four plays. After an incomplete pass, Schlader ran for 12, then passed to Kalka for 54 yards. The final 24 yards were negotiated on a pass and run Schlader to Cottingham. Kalka rammed across for the conversion points.

The Dragons were the first to score after intermission as Claude Harper galloped 80 yards for a touchdown. The lads from Southwest also tallied in the fourth period as Gene Guzman passed 30 yards to Eddie Harper. Guzman ran the conversion.

The Bulldogs were content to use reserves most of the second half and the "B" boys resounded with three tallies. Haun accounted for two of the six pointers as he bulldozed his way to scoring runs of 8 and 23 yards. King, another sophomore, raced 19 yards in the waning minutes of play for Bandera's final counter. Haun sweep end unmolested for the two points.

Statistically, Bandera chalked up a total of 22 first downs to the

MUSTANGS WIN 21-14

With a strong cold wind blowing across the Castroville football field last Thursday night, the Mustangs of Bandera let loose quite a gale themselves in the form of James Jacoby and Tommy Laskowski.

These two boys accounted for all the points St. Joseph's scored. Jacoby ran 50 and 60 yards for touchdowns while Tommy Laskowski returned a punt for 45 yards and made his second score on a run of 40 yards.

St. Louis of Castroville, fighting every inch of the way, scored both of its touchdowns in the last half. Every player on the Mustangs team played and all gave a good account of themselves.

ACTOR PLEADS GUILTY, GETS 30-YEAR TERM

By Jim Parsons
Special Correspondent

Brackettville. — Chester Harvey Smith, 32, entered a plea of guilty to murder with malice here Monday before a jury heard testimony in the case.

The pale, slight movie extra, who had been charged with the hunting knife slaying of actress La-Jean Etheridge, 27, faces a 30 year prison term.

A jury of nine women and three men agreed to the sentence in advance as they were chosen speedily during a morning court session. They heard Smith announce of plead guilty your honor" in a loud clear voice.

Under Texas law, Smith must stand trial despite his guilty plea and the jury must return a verdict.

Dist. Atty. Douglas Newton and Defense Attys. Fred Semaan of San Antonio and Sam Darden of Bandera asked each of 20 prospective jurors if they would agree to a 30-year term. Eight veniremen said they could not agree and were dismissed.

Smith had been in jail in Del Rio since October 11 when Miss Ethridge died from a wound inflicted by a 5-inch blade. Witnesses said he clutched her to him and plunged the knife into her body.

Miss Ethridge, who had been given a bit part in "The Alamo," a movie being filmed near here, was packing to move out of the house she occupied with Smith and three other male extras.

Authorities said Smith struck because of professional jealously and fear that she no longer cared for him.

Smith's sentence will become effective as of October 11 when he was first taken into custody under $25,000 bond. It has not yet been announced when he will be moved from the Del Rio jail.

The jury was composed of two ranchmen and a cowhand, eight married or widowed women of mature years and attractive Miss Mary Gomez, about 21.—San Antonio Express.

MEDINA 4-H MEETS

The second Medina 4-H Club meeting was held October 27, 1959. Our President, Tommy Carpenter, called the meeting to order, then the members repeated the 4-H Motto in unison.

There was no old business and the new business consisted of a decision being made of having meetings held once a month, and also selling rat poison to make money for club projects.

The 4-H members also decided upon electing H. M. Adams as Sergeant-at-Arms. They Mr. Liddy gave members of the club a record book and told them of the pins and awards which they would receive if they completed this and handed it in before December 15, 1959.

The meeting was then brought to a close by members saying a 4-H prayer.

Roscoe, who is a gifted writer, enclosed some clippings from the Granbury paper, for which he writes a most interesting and inspirational column each week. We hope to reprint some of his writings in the Bulletin as soon as space is available, because we feel that our readers, as well as those of the Granbury papers, will enjoy his writings.

Those of you who find it convenient to do so may write your news items on a piece of paper and hand it to Mrs. Helen Wood at the telephone office in Tarpley and she will send it to your reporter. FARM CENSUS QUESTIONNAIRES BEING MAILED TO AREA FARMERS

Questionnaires for the 1959 Census of Agriculture are now in the mail and will be in the hands of local farmers within a few days, it was announced today by Field Director James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office at Dallas.

The farm census questionnaires are being mailed from Chicago, Illinois, with the distribution timed so that the report forms will reach farmers about a week ahead of the date when census takers will begin the field canvass. The advance mailing is for the purpose of giving farm operators time to consult their records before filling in the answers required by the questionnaires and getting them ready for the census takers to pick up. This procedure is designed to insure greater accuracy of reporting and to save time both for the farmer and the census taker when the latter calls at the farm.

The 1959 Census of Agriculture questionnaire is designed to provide information on the number and size of farms; acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, selected farm facilities and equipment, selected farm expenditures, farm values, and mortgage debt. On the average, each farmer is asked about 100 questions, many of which can be answered by simply checking "yes" or "no."

Dragons' 9. The Bulldogs ran and passed their way to 449 yards with 313 on the ground and 136 through the air on completion of 7 of 14 aerial attempts. In comparison, Southwest compiled a total of 279 yards with 112 by the overland route and 167 via the air lanes. Haun was the game's outstanding rusher with 127 yards on 8 carried for a 15.9 yard average. Stein maneuvered for an additional 93 yards on 8 attempts. Schlader for 14 yards on 6 tries, King for 26 on 5 attempts, and Kalka for 20 on 6 carries. Cottingham, Ramos, and Poe rounded out the Bulldog ball carriers. Schlader, Kalka, and Poe shared honors for pass completion with 7 connections for 126 yards.

The Bulldogs' defense again proved adequate in containing Southwest's multiple offense. The starters and the reserves performed well in both the line and secondary.

Tonight the Bulldogs put the chips on the line as they try to sidetrack the Boerne Greyhounds in the most crucial game of the season since a Bandera victory could place the 27-A championship in the hands of three teams provided Schertz-Cibolo wins its outing against Blanco; but a reversal would entitle the Greyhounds to sole possession of the crown. The championship tilt is scheduled for 8:00 p.m., at the Boerne stadium. The Bulldogs enter the contest with a fine 7-2 record while the Greyhounds boast of a 7-1-1 record on the season.

THIS IS OUR TOWN
By Jinny

Cool days came to the Hill Country this week and soon the beautiful fall foliage will deck the hills with spectacular browns, gold, yellow, red and green. Autumn, the nicest time of the year in the Hill Country, with cool crisp nights and warm sunshinny days. Bandera County promises a magnificient harvest of 9/ld turkey and deer this season, as food has been plentiful and game is most abundant.

* * * Bandera's hospitality week is in full swing this week. Bandera's fall festival, which brings many people to the Bandera Hill Country.

* * * Bandera's new post office is now under construction just across the street from the court house and promises to be finished soon. We were pleased to see Joe Green and his son, Jerry Green, in charge of construction.

* * * Work is progressing rapidly on the new addition to the Methodist Church and the belfrey and [illegible] steel this week. The building is showing promise of being a handsome addition to our town.

* * * Bandera is a wonderful place to live. We have many fine clubs working ever for the up building and beautification of our city. There are the various home demonstration clubs headed by Mrs. R. L. Stevens which strive to teach everything new and modern in homemaking; the Madrona Garden Club at Bandera and The Rose Garden Club of Medina which works for the beautification of our towns; then there is the Bandera Soil Conservation District which has done a wonderful job in our county; the Junior Livestock organizations; the 4-H Clubs; FFA; Farm Bureau; and many, many other fine clubs working together in overlapping projects to make our county a fine place.

* * * M. D. Cottingham tells us that his son, Jerry, who is employed with the Robert H. Ray Company, with headquarters in Tripoli, recently made an interesting trip to Malta on his days off and is planning to make many side trips, during his stay in the odd world.

* * * Congressman O. C. Fisher, our Washington representative, never forgets his friends. While he was here Wednesday to attend the Veteran's Day festivities, he was a pleasant visitor in our office. He visited with Bandera folk during the day and everyone did enjoy seeing him again.

* * * Derby hats are high on the list of what the well dressed man or woman will wear this fall. Popular colors are black, gray and brown, but makers say.

* * * During one week last May, the National Association for Better Radio and Television checked early evening programs on seven TV stations. Among other things, the programs included 192 attempted murders, 161 murders, 83 robberies, 60 justifiable homicides, 15 kidnapings, seven attempted lynchings, six dynamitings. We are sure these programs were thrilling, but wouldn't we like it if we could have some old fashioned, love-ing romance, thrilling mysteries, and just some good wholesome comedy and musical entertainment for a change.

* * * Our thought for the day . . For one word a man is often deemed to be wise and for one word he often deemed to be foolish. We ought to be careful indeed what we say.

* * * Bye for now . . .

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

by J. MARVIN HUNTER
An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of immorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he, and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican "ursales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two runaway cars he spent entertaining a hotel outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

By J. Marvin Hunter, Sr.

Under this heading from time to time we will publish Texas historical articles which we have compiled and printed before in Frontier Times or in other publications, but which we believe will be of interest to Bulletin readers.

INDIAN RAID IN BANDERA COUNTY
By James B. Gibson,

It was in February, 1873. The one who is telling the story was then a boy just past sixteen years of age, living with his mother and sisters in the little town of Bandera, fifty miles northwest of San Antonio, Texas, on the beautiful Medina river, where we owned our own home, and the writer was employed by the firm of Schmidtke & May, merchants. Those green hills and valleys, now so beautiful and peaceful to look upon, seemed always alive with skulking, prowling, hostile Comanche Indians.

Ten miles west of Bandera, on the north bank of the Medina river, lay the beautiful Mono valley, where lived a number of substantial citizens, including the Hoerskin, Bauerleins, Joe Sutherland, John Preston, old Uncle Meacham (Dad) Curtis, and several others. The now flourishing little village of Medina City had not yet been thought of.

Just north of the east end of the valley, in a low range of hills lived Travis Moore, otherwise known as "Tap" Moore, and with him lived his mother, at that time between seventy and eighty years of age. The writer remembers seeing her many times. She was a frail and delicate old woman, her hair as white as the driven snow.

Not far away from the Moore cabin, perhaps a half mile distant, lived John Walker, Mrs. Moore's son-in-law. A dim trail led from the Walker cabin to the Moore cabin. About half way between the two cabins run a narrow skirt of rather dense scrubby timber and underbrush. The trail running from one place to the other ran directly through and across this skirt of timber.

Early one morning "Tap" Moore who was an unmarried man, mounted his horse and rode away to be gone from home all day, leaving the old mother at home. After he had been gone for some time, his mother decided she would walk over to the cabin of Mr. Walker and spend the day with her daughter. She went on foot, taking her knitting with her. She took the trail leading from her place to Walker's and followed it to the point where it reached and crossed the aforementioned timber, but she had passed through this skirt of brush when she was suddenly attacked by a band of ten or twelve Indians.

The "indications" were that she ran a short distance when she was overtaken by one of the savages on horseback, who dashed up beside her and struck her squarely between the shoulders with a lance, thrusting the cruel weapon entirely through her frail body, the point of the lance protruding from her breast. She made only a few steps and fell forward on her face and died. The Indians were evidently in too great a hurry to extricate the lance from the body of their victim, so they scattered and ran away, leaving her just as she fell. They did not scalp her.

After the body was found the lance was removed, and later it was brought to Bandera and put on exhibition at one of the stores there, where the writer saw it and noted that it was covered with blood. This lance was made of a solid piece of steel, about twelve inches in length, double edged, and with keen points. The blade was solidly set in one end of a seasoned hickory staff about four feet long. The end set in the wood was about one and a half inches wide and tapered to a sharp point at the other end. Both edges were as sharp as they could be made. At the end set in the staff there were two barbs exactly like the barbs on the Indian arrow. I learned later in life that this was the kind of a weapon with which the Indians killed buffalo on the Staked Plains. I have often thought of that murderous lance and wondered whatever became of it.

Many long years have passed since this terrible tragedy occurred. The writer was then but a sixteen-year-old boy, but still remembers that many of the early settlers of Bandera county met death at the hands of the merciless savages, and now rest in graves. I have always thought the killing of poor old Grandmother Moore was the most cruel of them all.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mansfield enjoyed a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Rugh Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Jordan are building a nice addition to their pretty ranch home below Bandera off the new Bandera-Hondo road.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Spear of Laredo were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Lindner. Mr. Lindner reports that a real estate transaction was recently completed whereby Mr. and Mrs. Spear have purchased the Bob Black place on Privilege Creek and will make their home here when Mr. Spear retires from his position with the railroad.

On Wednesday of last week a number of St. Stanislaus Youth Society members spent an enjoyable evening viewing the Ice Capades in San Antonio. Those in attendance were Billie Stein, Margaret Kalka, Gustie Mechler, Patty Callahan, Eleanor Mazurek, John Jenschke, William Jenschke, Leslie Kalka, Boyd Kalka, and Kenneth Kalka. The group was accompanied by Rev. Victor Schmidtlein, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hicks. The members and chaperones reported having a very entertaining time.

NEW MEETING PLACE FOR LIVESTOCK GROUP

Livestock groups from the South Texas area will have a new, attractive meeting place when the complete remodeling job is completed at the Livestock Exchange Building at Union Stock Yards in San Antonio.

The big white building—a familiar sight to livestock men of the Southwest for many years—is now being remodeled and repainted inside and outside through all three floors from the ground floor up.

An official of the Stock Yards, Carlton Hagelstein, Jr., said the vast job, which will take about another six weeks to complete, includes the addition of a new 65-seat auditorium. This special room will be available, he said, to any livestock group of the area for meetings or conferences.

In the ground floor area, seven new offices have been added, with some space still available to firms needing an office at the Stock Yards.

Other improvements include new flourescent lighting throughout the building, in all offices and hallways; re-wiring of the building for air conditioning; and a complete painting job of every square foot of the building, both inside and outside.

And the first floor restaurant has been completely redorated and equipment installed in the kitchen area.

Week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Daniels and children were Mrs. Daniels' mother, Mrs. B. L. Huggins and son, Joe, of Midland and her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lynch and daughter, Eva, of Austin.

ROOM MOTHERS

Mrs. John Ward and Mrs. Ben Hall are room mothers for the Second Grade.

The steady decrease in the supply of native forage as a result of too many grazing animals has been obscured by the fact that herds have continued to be carried largely through the increased use of supplemental feeds.

Did you know—that there are about 3,500 different grasses in the world. 1,100 to 1,200 of these grasses are found in the United States. Texas has about 550 different grasses and there are 150 different grasses in the Bandera Soil Conservation District.

Darrell S. White, who ranches between Bandera and Pipe Creek has recently completed approximately 1½ miles of cross-fencing. The cross-fence, part of White's Basic Conservation Plan being worked out with the Bandera SCD, were constructed so as to divide two unequal size pastures into three pastures of more the same size. By doing this White will be able to practice better range management through a rotation-deferment grazing system. This system, being worked out by SCS technicians, will give maximum grazing along with providing for range improvement. Part of the cross-fences were financed by the Bandera County Agricultural Conservation Program.

What is this man doing?

As a member of an electric cooperative, this man is faithfully meeting an obligation he and his neighbors assumed years ago. He is paying for the cost of producing the electricity he used last month . . . paying interest on the money borrowed to build the system . . . paying on the loan principle and paying a portion for system improvement to provide better service to its members. He is proud that, in spite of many hardships, no cooperative in Texas is in arrears on payments of principle or interest on the money they borrowed. So he is doing more than paying a bill. He is meeting an obligation of the past, paying for the comforts of the present, and investing in the future of his community, through membership in an electric cooperative that is . . .

Handwritten Will Changes Not Recognized in Court

Changing and revoking wills has involved many an estate in litigation because the proper legal methods were not used.

Take the case of Mr. S. Some time ago he went into his lawyer's office and said in front of his attorney as will which had been prepared for him about a year previously. He said that he had made a few changes in it and wanted to know whether his attorney thought the changes were all right.

Mr. S. was attempting to change two items of his will by drawing lines through certain words in these items and interlining, in his own handwriting, the changes he wanted. He was not attempting to revoke his entire will, but merely trying to change these two items.

If Mr. S. were to die with his will in that condition, the probate court would not recognize the changes he had made, but would, probably probate the will as it was originally written. Mr. S. was surprised to learn this and immediately requested that a new will be prepared.

After the will has been once executed, it cannot be changed legally by crossing out parts of a will and interlining corrections or additions. To change a will, an amendment to the will must be made and properly executed—or an addition by way of a codicil must be made.

Since a will does not take effect until the death of the person making it, the provisions of the will should be reviewed by the maker at least once a year to be sure that changing conditions and circumstances have not made such as to require a modification of the will. It is very easy to postpone doing a thing of this kind, but failure to do so may defeat the intentions of the maker of the will being thwarted.

There are many changing circumstances which would be brought to his attention if a person would review his will at least once a year in the light of circumstances at the time.

Such things as deaths among the beneficiaries or devisees named in his will, births, marriages or divorces in the family, accidents or sickness among the close relatives which make it desirable to increase or decrease the amount given them, substantial increase or decrease in the value of the estate of the person making a will, death of all witnesses to the will and many other factors may cause a person to want to execute a new will or add a codicil to his old one.

Net Worth

Any day now you (and Uncle Sam) may need to figure out your "net worth."

The Internal Revenue Service may use the "net worth" method to check a taxpayer's income tax records. It compares what he was worth, say, five years ago, with what he is worth today. Then it looks to see if his increase in net worth compares well with his reported income during that time, after allowing for his estimated expenditures. By this method the government can detect tax deficiencies, fraud, or evasion, or assess tax where the taxpayer has not kept records or has lost them. This is fatal for tax evasion, the government must first show that a taxpayer was worth at the beginning of a period, and what he is worth at the end of the period. The difference is his increase in net worth. The question: Has his wealth increased between the two periods by unreported taxable amounts?

For example: John Doe, a taxpayer, had little or no assets when he started his career. He often, borrowed. After four years his net worth grew much larger. In court he could not explain how this happened. So, to cut a long story short, he had to pay the tax, plus interest, and civil and criminal penalties.

Richard Roe, another taxpayer, was worth $50,000 in 1946, but in 1950 the government claimed he was worth $200,000. Roe tried to show, but couldn't, that he had much more money in 1946 than the government showed. For alas, the government's old tax returns showed that Richard had reported a small income in 1946, and had mortgaged his home and business. Besides, Roe spent freely much more than his reported income, and could not show that he received gifts or other non-taxable money. So the court found a false charge that he had made, he would, probably probate the will as it was originally written. Mr. Roe was surprised to learn this and immediately requested that a new will be prepared.

1959 USDA Yearbook Published

Do you want to learn how to eat better but cheaper? Knowledge about weight control, food energy, vitamins, proteins and calories are some of the many topics thoroughly discussed in the 1959 Yearbook of Agriculture—Food.

It is the latest in the series of annual volumes that have been printed for 110 years. Its 65 chapters and 736 pages tell much of what 72 nutrition experts in the USDA, other Federal agencies, and 32 colleges know about all phases of nutrition.

An extensive table that lists calories, vitamins, water, etc., in common foods will be useful to many readers. With it are tables of recommended allowances for various age groups and trends in heights and weights, a guide to eating, and meal-plans and menus. Other chapters offer information on meat, eggs, and fish; freezing, canning, drying and preparing food at home; food habits of different costs, changes in U. S. diets, learning and teaching good eating habits, school lunches, and our future food supplies and needs.

It has 36 pages of simple recipes that further the book's main theme of good health eat some of the basic foods every day. Four-teen pages give questions (with answers) that many people have asked about food. 17th Farm Census

College Station—One of the largest government-private cooperative undertakings of this decade got underway in October and continues through November. It is the 17th nationwide census in which farmers and the United States government have participated since the past 120 years.

Information gained during this agricultural census will have a vital influence on future planning, says Dr. Earl H. Hall, extension economist. More than 30,000 census takers will visit farm families throughout the nation to get the information that records show farm resources, farm products sold in 1959 and selected farming activities for the year.

Two weeks before the census begins, questionnaires will be mailed to farmers by the Census Bureau. Each person should study the complete these forms and have them ready for the census taker when he calls. Instructions point out that all information given by a farmer is confidential and figures for individual farms will not be revealed.

The big job got underway on October 7 in Texas with 34 census takers. The work began in 34 additional counties, on October 8 with work will begin in all other counties of the State.

The census will be very important and Wooten suggests that farm families have their records and facts ready as complete as possible when the census taker calls. By providing complete and accurate records, the time of the taker will be cut down and the Census Bureau will be able to process and publish their findings without delay, says Wooten.

Research Sheds Light on Cattle Bloat

One of the causes of chronic bloat in cattle is believed to have been found by researchers at Oregon State College, reports Dr. L. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. According to their research, he adds, bloat runs in the family.

The researchers kept records on 250 beef calves in the course of the study. Chronic bloat showed up in 7 out of 13 offspring of "bloater" bulls mated to "bloater" cows or to cows closely related to the bulls. Of the regular feeding herd, less than four percent bloated occasionally.

Bloat is caused by a buildup of gas during feed digestion in the large storage reservoir in a net-work of four stomachs in cattle. Chronic bloating stunts growth and is a major cause of death losses in both beef and dairy cattle.

Patterson also reports that bloat occurs most often when animals are on high-quality feed such as good alfalfa hay supplemented with barley. Test animals received a pelleted ration of two parts half-inch cut alfalfa hay to one part grain mix.

Since the tendency to bloat was increased in the tests through selective breeding, Patterson believes that it may be possible to pinpoint chronic bloating families and thus help cattle breeders select against this abnormality.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM
ERASTUS "DEAF" SMITH
Scout, Soldier and Hero of San Jacinto

In 1821 people did not usually come to the untamed Texas Territory for their health. But one man did just that — Erastus Smith, from New York by way of Natchez. He wandered over the wild frontier country, learned its topography, made friends with Texans, Mexicans and Indians. He grew strong and well, but never regained his hearing. When Texans began their fight for independence from Mexico, "Deaf" Smith — scout and soldier — took his place with Fannin, Bowie, Travis, Milam, Sam Houston and the other champions of freedom. His best known service to his chosen country was the destruction of Vince's Bridge, just before the battle of San Jacinto. Bridging Vince's Bayou, then in flood, it offered the only means of communication between the Texan and Mexican armies and the remainder of Texas. When Deaf Smith destroyed it, on the morning of April 21, 1836, he effectively isolated the Mexicans from reinforcements and prevented an orderly retreat. The fact that it also isolated the Texan forces of no importance to Smith. He and his people would win, they were fighting for liberty and the right to live as they chose.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland — "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the use of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

We offer our congratulations not only to our "Favorites" but also to Elsie Stricker, the Band Sweetheart, and again to Kenneth as the "Football Hero."

Considering the cold weather, the Senior Staff did quite well on the stand last Friday. Together with the money from the Senior Play, we cleared around $75.

Tonight marks the last big game of the season. The Bulldogs have done a fine job this season and will be out to make it a perfect record. Tonight's the last big game of the season. JUNIOR JABBER

There are five very happy juniors this week. They are Eddie Faurie, Jerry Adamietz, Elvera Alguesova, Jeanine Hicks and John Alaniz. Eddie was chosen Football Sweetheart. Jerry and Elvera are the Junior Class Favorites and Jeanine and John were the runners-up for Favorites. Congratulations, all!

The Juniors were fairly happy this last week as we had a holiday last Wednesday, and another this coming Monday.

SOPHOMORE TALK

First of all, let's start out by saying that the "track meet" Friday night between Bandera and Boerne was a very cold one. It was scheduled as a football game, but all the running made it look like a track meet. There are a few sophomores still trying to recover from Friday night. The Sophomore boys, who played did a swell job of holding Southwest. The Sophomores did most of the scoring with Clemens Haun scoring two touchdowns and Larry Bowden scoring one. Bryan King scored once. Keep up the good work!

Camille Rousquist attended the bridal shower of her sister, Elinda Smith, Saturday, at the First Baptist Church.

Jane Daniels of Austin visited Jean Daniels.

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE NEWS

Victor Strickland and his little brother have some hand warmers that burn lighter fluid. His father gave them to the boys last year. This week-end they made good use of them.

Many spectators at the football game Friday night could have made use of some hand warmers —especially the proud, frozen fathers.

While they were making presentations on Friday, the spectators should have made an award to the faithful few who were at every game, in spite of the weather and even though they have no children in the band, the band or otherwise involved. Our hats are off to them—the true fans of our fine Bulldog team!

Doug Bailey was a lucky boy on Friday but recovered enough on Saturday to play with the cousins who came from Corpus Christi to visit him and Billy Prather. They had fun sliding down a steep hill. Amazingly, they were able to sit down and watch the Every Show Rodeo on TV that night.

Many others saw this program as well as the good movie about "The little people" at the Bantex. In the rodeo Zane Everett liked the clown so much he showed us how he acted.

The cold weather prompted Earl Heinen's family to kill a pig for their freezer.

With hunting season coming on, there will be more meat to go into freezers. Brenda Everett saw three deer on her way to Kerrville and Jane Ann Pearson saw two baby deer by a fence on her way to Medina Lake.

Ray D'Spain is looking forward to his Dad's hunting trip so that he will temporarily become the "man of the house." He proved his ability on the week-end by mowing a friend's lawn.

While they were making presentations on Friday, the spectators should have made an award to the faithful few who are at every game, in spite of the weather and even though they have no children on the team, in the band or otherwise involved. Our hats are off to them—the true fans of our fine Bulldog team!

Douglas Bailey was sick on Friday but recovered enough on Saturday to play with the cousins who came from Corpus Christi to visit him and Billy Prather. They had fun sliding down a steep hill. Amazingly, they were able to sit down and watch the Chevy Show Rodeo on TV that night.

Many others saw this program as well as the good movie about "the little people" at the Bantex. In the rodeo Zane Everett liked the clown so much he showed us how he acted.

Linda Goodenough tells us that her little playhouse was blown away by the strong north wind that brought us all this bad cold weather.

The ice in Bandera didn't keep "Susie Short and her mother from looking for more. They went to San Antonio Saturday to see "The Ice Capades."

The cold weather prompted Earl Heinen's family to kill a pig for their freezer.

With hunting season coming on, there will be more meat to go into freezers. Brenda Everett saw three deer on her way to Kerrville and Jane Ann Pearson saw two baby deer by a fence on her way to Medina Lake.

Ray D'Spain is looking forward to his Dad's hunting trip so that he will temporarily become the "man of the house." He proved his ability on the week-end by mowing a friend's lawn.

BANDERA WEST END 4-H MEETING

On November 9, 1959, the Bandera County West End 4-H Club met at Mr. Jack Preston's. President Rip Duke, called the meeting to order and Secretary Diane Fisher read the minutes which were approved.

County Agent Werner Lindig gave us suggested size for club calves to be put on the county line. Then we decided to have the next meeting at Alvin Ivy's on Monday, December 7, 1959.

Then Mr. Lindig told us we must have our record books from last year complete before December 7, 1959, and that these would be a Council meeting Saturday, November 14, 1959. He told us also about the special awards which are available to club members.

Our program consisted of record keeping. Mr. Lindig gave instructions on filling out Standard Report Forms for 4-H Club Members and showed us a record book being kept by a 4-H Club member.

The meeting was then adjourned and refreshments of cookies and Kool-Aide were served by Mrs. Preston.

BOERNE BEATS BANDERA IN LAST GAME OF SEASON

The Bandera Bulldogs fought gamely, but nevertheless came in on the short end of a 20-7 score against the Boerne Greyhounds Friday night at the Boerne field in the season's final for the hometown boys. A capacity crowd, filled with enthusiasm huddled in wraps while a cold norther whistled from the north, witnessed as the Greyhounds racked the District 27-A Championship by means of their triumph.

The Bulldogs, unable to make or take advantage of the breaks, suffered their third setback of the campaign against as many as well earned and hard fought victories. Due to the loss, the Bulldogs ended the season with a 3-2 record, the same play thereby gaining third place in the 27-A standings.

Boerne notched the scoreboard first mid-way in the initial quarter as Alvin Rhodes raced into the end zone from the Bulldog five yard line. A pass from Lix to Canavas gave the Hounds their two conversion points.

The Bulldogs then bounded back for their lone marker of the evening. Gaining possession on their own 35 on the kick-off, the Bulldogs began an impressive march goal-ward of 90 yards negotiated in 18 plays. Fullback Jerry Schlader ran 29 yards, Stein for 17 yards and Kalka for 11 yards. The six pointer seemed to catch the Greyhounds napping as Schlader flipped a 16 yard scoring aerial to Larry Stein, Baldera's only pass during the sustained march. Kalka's kick made it 7-8 early in the second stanza.

But the Greyhounds eager to widen their narrow advantage, added another marker as Rhodes and Canavan got together on a 64-yard pass and run dandy. This play eventually proved Bandera's downfall even though the Hounds added an insurance tally in the closing minutes as Lix splunged over from the 2.

Statistically the Bulldogs racked up 10 first downs while Boerne chalked up a total of 11. Bandera's offense accounted for 162 yards with 93 on the ground and

TED HILLMAN DIED MONDAY OF HEART ATTACK

Hundreds of friends and relatives will grieve to hear of the sudden death of Ted Hillman, age 62, at his home in Centerville, Texas, Monday afternoon, when he suffered a heart attack.

Mr. Hillman was a former resident of Medina and Bandera, where he engaged in ranching. He was a member of the Bandera School board for a number of years, a member of the church of Christ and was instrumental in building the local church. After moving to Centerville he was active in the work of the church there, and served his Master well. He was very highly esteemed in that community as he was also in Bandera for many years.

Mr. Hillman was a wonderful hand and father, who will be greatly missed from the walks of this life. He was never too tired or too busy to lend a hand to assist someone in trouble or need. His kindness will be greatly missed.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Centerville church of Christ and interment was in the Centerville cemetery.

MUSTANGS LOSE 14-6 COLTS WIN 12-0

The fighting Mustangs gave it everythings they had, but a fumble and dropped pass stopped two touchdown drives and gave Boerne the victory.

The Mustangs took the opening kickoff and there was no stopping them. On the first scrimmage play Tom Laskowski ran for 20 yards to the Boerne 40 yard line. From there James Jacoby went the distance through tackle for the TD.

Boerne, not to be outdone, took the kickoff and went right down the field to score and went ahead on the extra points after touchdown.

The Mustangs still had alot of fight and drove to Boerne's 30 yard line before a fumble stopped them. Boerne then proceeded to score again with just 27 seconds before halftime for the final score of 14-6.

The Mustangs dominated the third period but a dropped pass on Bandera's 25 yard line stopped them again.

It was a tough game to lose as many a time Tom Laskowski, James Jacoby and Bobby Callahan would break into the open only to be tackled by the Boerne safety.

Seven Mustangs ended their career for St. Joseph's and will be greatly missed. The boys graduating are Tom Laskowski, the Jacoby brothers, James and Harper, Richtrd Dugosh, George Kersey, Robert Johnson, and Brack Callahan.

The St. Joseph Colts played outstandingly in beating their bigger rivals, Boerne, 12-0. The first half was dominated by Boerne and was played deep in Bandera territory.

Boerne drove to the one yard line only to be stopped by great defensive work on the part of Ken Mazurek and Mike Wootton. In the second half a jump pass from Buck Buck to Jerry Ellsworth went for 30 yards and a touchdown. It was a five yard pass with Ellsworth running like a deer for the six points. Later in the game, John Brock sailed a pass for twenty yards to Dennis Daniels and Ron Bruce made the most thrilling run of the game as he went down the sidelines sidestepping the last Boerne defender to scoot into the end zone for the last TD of the game.

On defense Jim Daniels, John Causey, Tom Callahan and Mike Wootton were outstanding. With all these boys returning next year to play with the Mustangs I'm sure we will have quite a few enjoyable games—watching the Mustangs march on to VICTORY!

1960 MARKETING YEAR WOOL INCENTIVE AND MOHAIR SUPPORTS ANNOUNCED

A short wool incentive price of 62c per pound and a mohair support price of 70c per pound have been announced for the 1960 marketing year which begins, April 1, 1960. These prices are the same as for the first five years of the program under the 1955 thru 1959 marketing years.

ASC officers are completing payments for the 1958 marketing year, the fourth year of the program. The shorn wool payments rate for the 1958 marketing year was 70.1 per cent, the percentage required to bring the average price of 56.4 cents per pound of shorn wool, grease basis, up to the 62 cent incentive level. This results in a payment of $70.50 for every $100 received from the sale of wool. The payment rate on unshorn lambs was $1.02 per hundred weight of live lamb sold.

Through August 31, 1959, payments for the 1955, 1956, 1957 and 1958 marketing years were approximately $207.8 million. A small percentage of 1958 payments is yet to be made. From this amount $11.4 million was deducted from the self help advertising and sales promotion program for lamb and mohair conducted by the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

GOING BROKE

The word "bankruptcy" came from the Latin "banca" (a trader's table) and "ruptus" (broken).

Under old English law a bankrupt was a trader who hid himself or did other things to defraud his creditors.

Under the Roman law creditors could cut up the bankrupt's body and each take his due share. Other laws would put the debtor in prison or in chains, allow whipping and hard labor. East Indian creditors could sell the debtor and his family into slavery forever.

In the Middle Ages a bankrupt was a criminal. Later he got some rights. Though creditors could force him to turn over all his goods, he would escape prison.

The basic concepts of our bankruptcy laws are: (1) Prorate the bankrupt's assets among his creditors, (2) discharge him from most of his debts, and (3) "grub stake" him by exempting certain things from the creditors' reach.

The English want to discourage extravagance, yet they saw that a debtor's misfortune could trap him. So the early bankruptcy laws ... Others had to take their medicine.

Our Constitution gives Congress power, first aimed in 1800, to establish a Uniform . . . Law on the subject of bankruptcies."

After Congress had passed and then repealed three laws it passed our present bankruptcy act in 1898. It amended the act in 1938 to refine liquidation and rehabilitation procedures.

Today the act relieves the debtor through liquidations, or reorganization and rehabilitation. His creditors have always worried about the debtor, but now the state through law has declared the public concern in putting him back on his feet.

The Supreme Court has said that the act aims to relieve the honest debtors from the weight of oppressive indebtedness, and permit him to start afresh, free from the obligations . . . encumbrances."

This purpose is "... it gives the honest but unfortunate debtor who surrenders (his property) a new opportunity in life and a clear field for future effort."

Also the law puts creditors on notice to watch out that their debtors do not overextend themselves.

What is "Escrow"?

What is an "escrow"? It is a deposit of money or documents, or both, with an escrow holder, who is really a "stake-holder."

What does an escrow do?

The escrow holder gets money from the buyer. He gets documents from the seller, and he carries out instructions of both upon the performance of some act or the meeting of some condition. As a rule, in the escrow instructions the seller and buyer tell the escrow holder what to do and when.

An escrow arrangement helps in buying and selling land. It is an especially useful device when you may live in another city, or expect to be gone when time comes to close the deal. Suppose, through a real estate man, you find a buyer for your place. But he may not want to pay in full until you can give him clear title, or it may take time to raise the money. So you agree on terms, and both of you use the escrow to put the deal through.

As a neutral go-between, the escrow holder, which may be a bank, may only carry out instructions you give him. He cannot, for example, give you advice as to whether your deal is a good one. The seller may tell the escrow holder: Hold the abstract and deed until the buyer pays over the money; then pro-rate taxes, insurance, rents; pay the real estate broker, and pay the proceeds to the seller.

The buyer may have the escrow holder hold his money until the title is approved; pro-rate real estate taxes, rents, insurance; pay the seller at close of escrow; receive and record the deed from the seller, etc.

As a rule, you work out most deals before you open the escrow. Look carefully at "preliminary arrangements," "deposit receipts," or escrow instructions, for such papers may be binding. As a

TELEPHONE TALK
by Leonard Hardin, Manager

BANG! BANG! BANG!

Deer season opened Monday morning with a bang. Night before the temperture had dropped to freezing, and by all reports there were more hunters in town than ever before. Hotels and motels were full; cafes and restaurants were crowded to capacity; sufficient parking space was a thing of the past.

Shells and gasoline sold like hotcakes. Local merchants were doing a booming business, and that includes the telephone company. Long distantance calls increased in some areas as much as forty per cent. Employee schedules had to be revised to handle this extra load. Due to the extreme cold weather our plant people were having their troubles too. Ice on the lines were causing wires and poles to break; sleet and rain hampered restoration of service in many areas. Extra men had to be called in and others worked overtime repairing circuits and phones that were out of order.

I am sorry if your telephone was out of order or if you had difficulty in placing a long distance call. But under the circumstances, I think our operators did a wonderful job in handling the larger volume of calls, and our plant men came through in excellent fashion by restoring service as promptly as they did. My hats off to those co-workers, and I offer my congratulations for a job well done.

IDEA FOR THANKSGIVING

In most homes the highlight of Thanksgiving Day is a family get together and, of course, a big meal that Mom spends half the day cooking.

Juicy turkey, tasty dressings and all the trimmings. Yes, a happy occasion for the whole family, and Mom deserves a pat on the back for making it that way.

But is that all? Friend of mine has come up with an idea that really makes a hit at his house.

"Last Thanksgiving," he told me, "as I watched my wife fixing dinner, I felt she deserved a reward. I was wondering what I might give her and then I decided—a long distance call. She can talk with her folks."

"Great idea," I said. "How'd she like it?"

He smiled. "That long distance call was sort of like our pumpkin pie."

"How's that?" I asked.

"The whole family enjoyed it."

FOOTBALL—

69 through the air lanes. Meanwhile, Boerne's eleven ran and passed for 160 total yards with 32 by way of the overland route and 134 via the air. Schlador was the Bulldogs leading ruber with 26 yards on 10 carries. Cottingham pushed for 23 yards in 4 attempts and Stein gained 19 yards in 8 tries. Kaltz maneuvered for on additional 15 yards while Haun rushed for seven yards. Schlador handle most of the passing chores and in so doing completed 8 of 16 attempts for 70 yards but three of his aerials fell into the alert arms of purple shirted Greyhounds. Kalka completed 1 of three tries.

Defensively, the Bulldogs played good sports and tumble football but a few lapses at times proged disasterous in the end. Had it not been for these miscues, the entire picture of the final outcome might have changed completely. Also decisive in the final outcome was the fact that the Bulldogs were penalized for 60 yards while the Hounds suffered only 20 yards in penalties. But all in all, the whole Bulldog defensive platoon did a great job as they set the Greyhounds back for 65 yards while allowing them a net of 32 yards on the ground.

With the 1959 season now departed, four Bulldogs bid farewell to the gridiron of B.H.S., Those boys, Kenneth Kalka, Lon Cottingham, John Stein and Junior Ramos, will no doubt be missed but the returning band of Bulldogs are looking forward to next year when, with the guidance of Coach Waldrum and Coach Eichman, they will march toward what we hope will be an outstanding season with many victories and few, if any, defeats.

A GIRL FOR BAILEY'S

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bailey are the proud parents of a baby girl born in the Sid Peterson Hospital in Kerrville Sunday morning at 3:42. The little Miss was named Tudy Jane and she weighed 6 pounds and 9¼ ounces. Mother and baby are now at home and getting along fine.

Clippings made recently on the J. W. Moffitt Ranch north of Medina, show the benefits of range deferment. The clippings which were made on a shallow upland soil site, showed that the pasture was producing an average of 6000 pounds of forage per acre. Considering the "Take half-leave half" principal of grassland management some 3000 pounds of useable forage is available for livestock. The remaining 3000 pounds is to be left in the form of grass stubble and litter to insure a hardy plant next year, to aid in prevention of erosion and to help add organic matter to the top soil. The pasture from which these samples were taken was deferred during the 1958 growing season. This year there has been moderate grazing by both deer and livestock. At the present time the pasture is in good condition according to the District's rating system of "excellant, good, fair and poor". Mr. Moffitt, who has recently become a cooperator with the Bandera Soil Conservation District plans to continue his range improvement program during the next few years through proper stocking and seasonal deferments.

Graze half and leave half,' the half you leave grows another whole as a result of better moisture conservation and more of the higher producing grasses in the composition.

Conservation does not cost—it pays.

Work has recently been completed on a 2700 cubic yard diversion terrace on the Paul Garrison Ranch west of Medina. The diversion was built to intercept water from a 120 acre drainage are and divert it to a more favorable outlet. This will stop several bad gullies which have formed and allow them to grass over more easily. The diversion terrace, designed by Soil Conservation Service technicans assisting Bandera SCD was financed partially by the Bandera County Agricultural Conservation Program.

Many range plants are used by livestock for medicine. Some plants have a purgative effect, others a binding effect. Usually these "conditioning" plants are found only on ranges in better condition.

Give A Swiss Touch To Salads

Check the menu of most any restaurant and you're sure to find a chef's salad featured, especially at luncheon. As popular with men as with women, a hearty salad can be the basis of a most satisfying meal. Duplicate the overwhelming success of the specialty at home. There's nothing to it. To prove our point, we offer a recipe for Tirol Toss that would do any chef proud.

Star ingredient of any really good chef's salad is Switzerland Swiss cheese, cut in strips or dices. This classic cheese from Switzerland's Alps transports a salad from the realm of the ordinary to the gourmet class. With the few extra pennies it costs, Switzerland Swiss cheese has a special flavorful nuttiness that can't be duplicated.

KERRVILLE, TEXAS

TO START DECEMBER 1

Announcement of a 10 per cent tax beginning December 1, 1959 on self-contained air conditioning units has been made by the In-

Local retail dealers expect the announcement to send thrift minded shoppers into stores for offseason purchase of air conditioning units to beat the tax.

Here's the gist of the new 10 per sent tax. Beginning Dec.1, 1959, all self-contained air conditioning units, popularly called window units, will be subject to a 10 per cent federal tax at the manufacturing source. Units shipped prior to that date will be free of this new tax.

Manufacturers predict that these thrift minded shoppers can select from present air conditioning stocks, or those shipped prior to December 1, and save up to $50 per unit.

Announcement of the tax finds many manufacturers of window units facing a steel shortage. Home Furnishings Daily, trade publication for the appliance industry, in a survey of manufacturers found many already short of steel supplies and shut down or on limited production. Others with sufficient steel stocks are working around-the-clock. Whatever their production problems, consensus of opinion was that next year's models would be higher priced because of the present steel situation and the tax.

O. W. Sommers, general manager of San Antonio's City Public Service Board add these thoughts to the "buy air conditioners now" program. Said he, "Another good reason for buying now is the fact that the buyer will avoid the problem of early spring when delays in installation can sometimes run up to 30 days. Winter is something of a slack season for both electric utility and contractor. During this time of the year, the customer can usually expect faster service at a lower price."

At the conclusion of the meeting, Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was held in the Notre Dame Catholic Church with Rev. Ralph J. Smith of Kerrville officiating, and assisted by Rev. Randolph Gronle of Fredericksburg.

A social hour for the visiting Clergy, Archdiocesan visitors, and ladies of the adjoining parishes was held at the Blue Bonnet Hotel with the following ladies of the Kerrville Parish serving on the reception committee: Mrs. Clemens Maurer, Mrs. Steve Velchoff, Mrs. N. L. Kuhlmann, Mrs. J. J. Hickey, Mrs. Rudolph Stehling, Mrs. Fred Schwiening, Mrs. Marie Michon, and Mrs. P. L. White, Mrs. Carl W. Chamberlain served as chairman of the Telephone Committee.

Mrs. Pearl Edwards spent the week-end in San Antonio visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Sanford, who underwent an operation in the Nix hospital. At this report she is doing well and we hope she will continue to get well fast.

HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE?

"How long does it take to get your first social security check?" That's a query from many people who have filed applications for old-age and survivors insurance benefits, says John D. Palmer, San Antonio social security officer.

Palmer explained that while Government is frequently accused of the proverbial red tape (any delay is considered such), a certain minimum of time is required to process a claim for benefits. He states that his office frequently makes awards which, over a period of time, may represent $30,000.00 or more in benefits and when such large sums are involved, the Social Security Administration must be careful and thorough in making sure the individuals are properly entitled to the payments.

"What I'm leading up to," says Palmer, "is that anyone planning to file for social security benefits must expect the social security office to take a reasonable length of time to pay their claim." "But," he said, "each person can help considerably to reduce the time if he inquires in advance of filing the kind and evidence required to establish his claim."

UNICEF SUCCESSFUL

Over 50 of Bandera's youth turned out for the "Trick or Treat" for UNICEF's drive which took place Sunday, November 1. The very bad weather didn't seem to dampen their spirits, as they collected nearly $70.00 to help Children's Fund save young lives in over 100 countries and territories.

Following the drive a weiner roast was held at the Episcopal parish house, and the whole affair was termed a considerable success.

Any citizens who may have been missed on Sunday evening but who wish to make a contribution to the Children's Fund are still in time to do so. Please bring or mail your donation to Mrs. C. A. Ritchson, Bandera, Texas.

This year more than 55 million children and mothers are receiving UNICEF aid. Bandera's youth have greatly contributed to this aid, and we can not be proud of the payment given by the whole community.

RECOLLECTION OF AN INDIAN RAID

By Mrs. Ida Schweppe

It is certain that some impressions of early youth can be recalled and recollected all through life. I shall relate one experience that instilled fear and visions indelibly in me.

My father had bought a farm in the year 1869 or 1870, where we successfully lived, though our home was on Kind William Street, San Antonio. The entire stretch of country between these two places was still in its virgin state, covered with dense mesquite brush and without definite roads surveyed through it. Certain pioneers' homes became known, and when starting from San Antonio north one would take a given direction through these dense mesquite brushes, until the next try became hilly, more open, and where the forest be the sign that we were nearing Leon Springs, where Mr. Aue had a general merchandise store and where perhaps in bad weather one could find accommodations and remain overnight.

In starting off on any journey at that time everybody carried a gun for protection, besides providing a sharp hatchet with which he could cut down trees and bushes in case the road became impassable. It was always safest to travel in company with another team or rider.

Though the distance from San Antonio to our farm, which my mother named, "Wassenberg," after a country estate of her family in Germany, near the border of Belgium, was only twenty-five miles, still we often camped out overnight; favoring the high, beautiful mesa as a camping place, where a clear stream provided cool water, we often stayed at this place. Here we would build a campfire, cook coffee and delicious meals. How I loved the open country, and to watch the prairie dogs feed. I was perfectly happy lying on a buffalo skin gazing into the starlit sky. It was here also that I once watched a mother bear and her little cub leisurely circling a peak of one of the hills.

My father kept workmen constantly busy building and beautifying the place because when we bought the farm, there was only one room besides the large kitchen and a little bake shedroom. This one room was blackened with smoke; upon inquiry we were told there was an opening in the ceiling through which the smoke of the fireplace could escape into the garret, where provisions for the winter were smoked and dried.

The other reason for keeping many hired men was that they were necessary for protection, as the farm was quite isolated, and there was constant danger of Indian attacks. The red man's principal motives for brazde were to provide themselves with horses and to carry off cattle, but the entire country was infested with the fierce Lipan, Apache, Kiowa, Comanche, Tonkawa, Wichita, and the Indian reservations.

This happened one morning early in the year 1870 or 1871, I am not certain of the exact date, standing on the portico of the large house, which had just been finished, and was watching the negro servants attending to the removal of bee-hives, when they unexpectedly dropped their loads and gazed towards the hill south of the house. Being attracted by their excitement, I also fixed my view in that direction and distinctly saw some moving objects coming down the ravine of the hill. Quickly one servant ran to my mother, consulted with her in low but agitated manner, while the other servants stood still, awaiting instructions. Within a moment everything was astir and everybody alert. Frank volunteered to run into the pasture and bring the horses home. My brothers, Herman and George, were ordered to assemble at fire'ms and place them on the large table in the kitchen. I was told to stay in the kitchen and not venture into the yard. One servant carried a supply of firewood and water. The guns consisted of breech-loading rifles, very heavy and long, and six-shooters and one five-shooter. Soon a big fire was blazing on the hearth, and meanwhile my brothers had brought in bars of lead, a mold for making bullets for the big game, and six-shooters, and another mold for small shot, besides small paper boxes with fire-caps and leather pouches with powder. The fire having been reduced to glowing coals, a big iron spoon was filled with lead, then held over the fire until melted smoothly. This molten mass was poured into a mold with deep round openings, then quickly clasped together, held fast for a while, and opened over a bucket with cold water, where the shot and the larger balls could be easily removed. To me it was a great sport to watch the sizzling bullets drop into the water.

Just then Frank came in very much excited, tellings us he had succeeded in bringing home the horses, which were immediately fastened and locked up in a well-built barn close to the house. Preparations were made to barricade the doors and windows.

In the afternoon some neighbor unknown to us rode up saying that the two small boys of Captain Smith, who lived three or four miles distant had been carried off by the Indians in sight of their parents and sisters, and that during the previous night almost the entire stock of horses of Captain Tining, four miles west, had been stolen and driven off, and that the Gallagher ranch had also been raided. Never will I forget the fear this message instilled in me, and when at night I heard the hooting of the owls I saw in my imagination those demons lurking in every bush and every corner.

Not a light was lit that night, and continual watch was kept. Sometime late the dogs barked persistently, and we heard someone trying to open the barn door. One discharge of the pistol drove the intruder away, and we were not molested again.

Mother made every effort to send word to father or to the commanding officer at Fort Sam Houston, but the entire country was infested with the fierce Lipans and Kiowas, and the Indian reservations.

In the meantime, Captain Smith, father of these two boys, Jeff, five years of age, and Clifton, seven, aroused friends and neighbors to follow up the tracks of the Indians, among them Captain Charles Schreiner of Kerrville, but the search was futile.

In an autobiography, "The Boy Captives,55 by Clinton and Jeff Smith, this story is continued vividly and realistically describes the life and fate of the two captives.

Here is a little poem telling something of my attachment for Wassenberg in the hills, written when mother sold the ranch.

Farewell to My Country Home, Wassenberg

Farewell to the forest, farewell to the hills,
The sweet scented pasture, the clear flowing rills.
Your ardent admirer and truest of friends
Forever departs and her last greeting sends.

The soft matted nooks, the cool green dells
Where the rabbit nestles, and the mocking bird dwells—
Forever farewell, so sad seems my going!
My heart is a-throbbing, my eyes overflowing.

Farewell to the cliffs, farewell to the hills
Whose echo so faithfully answered my songs.
All tales in future told in idle hours
Shall tell and impress, where my heart belongs.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and actual history in it you will find mention of many people you know personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican Cavalry hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars . . . and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want . . .

"Price, that's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're inside you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thunk of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and fun you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

". . . a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 is the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

What is this man doing?

He is delivering fresh milk, ice cream, cool water, fresh butter, frozen foods and the wealth of things denied thousands of Texans until the Electric Cooperatives brought refrigeration to rural areas.

Add the nearly 400,000 Texas homes served by Cooperatives and you can readily understand how $3,000,000 a day is spent by cooperative members of the nation to use this electricity.

This business was created by the cooperatives. The money goes to the merchants on main street who sell refrigerators and hundreds of other electrical appliances.
The Electric Cooperatives of Texas have brought a new way of life to the rural community and a massive contribution to the rural economy.

SENIOR NEWS

The seniors want to congratulate all you Bulldogs for the wonderful job you did during this football season. We want you to know that we are really proud of you.

Everybody seems to enjoy the long week-end; not that much was accomplished, but just the sound of the words, "holiday from school," is music to the ears.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

There is one member of our class whom we seniors are especially proud to have with us. She has been our very capable and efficient president for the past three years. Peggy Billings has always been one of the most popular members of our class, from the time she started in the first grade on through high school.

Grade school saw Peg as a very active "Tomboy", participating in all the "dainty" sports for girls such as football, hot-cakes-the-river, etc. As time rolled on, though, Peg's interest turned to the Senior Bulldog Band as well as other high school activities. Her band accomplishments include membership in All District Band for 2 years. Aside from being a help to the band musically, she is a loads of fun on the various band trips. As a member of the band council, Peg does her part in managing the band affairs. The F. H. A. is another of Peggy's extracurricular 'activities, as is the Misteena Club of which she is now president.

Peg, you're a real sweet girl with a big and wonderful future ahead of you. We seniors, as a class, owe our success to you, for without you we would have been like a bunch of chickens with their heads cut off. You have the ability to organize, plan, and put into effect such fine plans. With that characteristic you will surely go far in this world. We seniors would like to say, "God bless you and may your every wish come true."

BULLDOGS FALL BEFORE BOERNE IN SEASON FINALE

The Boerne Greyhounds rewed up the District 27-A championship Friday night" by downing the Bandera Bulldogs 20-7 before a huge cheering throng at the Boerne field. The Greyhoinds led at the half by a 14-7 margin after they had scored in the second quarter on a 5 yard scoring run by Alvin Rhodes and a 64 yard pass and run by Rhodes to Eugene Canavan. A pass from Lis to Canavan registered Boerne's two conversion points.

The Bulldogs scored their lone marker early in the second period as they drove 90 yards for the tally. The final 12 yards in the march were registered on a pass from Ernest Schlabder to Larry Stein. Kenneth Kalka booted the point after.

The Greyhounds registered their insurance tally in the waning minutes of the fourth stanza as A. C. Liz dropped over from the 3 yard marker.

The Bulldogs closed the season sporting a five 7-3 record and a 3-2 mark in league play for third place in the district.

MRS. MULLENAX'S SIXTH GRADE

Ronnie Daniels went to Austin to see relatives. He also went to Bastrop to go hunting and visit other relatives.

Mary Alice Schoelz went to San Antonio shopping last Monday.

Thomas Meginnis helped his father fix a cuckoo clock by getting in the way all the time.

SOPHOMORE TALK

The Sopomores don't have much to say about the game Friday night, except that we lost a hard fought game and that it sure was cold.

There are a number of Sophomore boys trying out for the basketball team. They are Roger Ramos, Robert Bradley, Clemens Haun, Bryan King, Bobby Blackshear, Charlie Eckhart and Buck Richards. The boys are looking forward to the opening game of the season with Combort, tonight.

Camille Rongaid went to San Antonio Friday night. Saturday, she went to her sister's wedding where she was maid of honor. Guest at her house during the week-end included an aunt from Weslaco, another aunt and uncle and three cousins from Edinburg and a cousin from Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

FRESHMEAN NEWS

There were more freshman girls who made the basketball team this year than ever before. The girls who made the team are: Barbara Adamietz, Laura Stricker, Linda Bausch, Kay Wooton, Bonnie Mansfield, Donna Marsh, and Karen Kitzman. The Freshman Class hopes that the basketball team will have a very sucessful year.

The Freshman Class would like to congratulate the football boys on a fine season, as they placed third in district.

Jo Ann Zigler went deer hunting the first day of hunting season, but unfortunately, she did not get a chance at a deer.

WHO GOT THE BUCK?

Hunting season came in with a bang, rather several bangs this season, as well as with a blast of frigid air. The icy fingers of the North undoubtedly kept many sitting by the stove but those who braved the early Monday morning cold for that first deer were indeed brave.

All morning we have been receiving reports from those lucky guys and one teacher-gal with a clear eye and a steady hand. So far, Ronnie Daniels has chalked up the score "one buck" are Jerome Edwards, Butch Richards, Edward Lasiewski, DeWayne Smith, Terry Brandt, Richard Braden, Elmo Jaye, Edwin Langford, and John Focke. The lucky teacher-gal is Mrs. Barbara Mazurek with a nice four-pointer. Her husband also shot a buck. Mr. Schnelle got the jump on everyone by shooting seven-pointer about a month ago, but perhaps we had better mention that he went hunting out of state. Also, our reliable Mac Gray got a buck. Some little guys in grade school who also came up with first day hunting luck one don't were Jim Evans, Bobby Heinz, and one little gal Carol Stiferlieu. Eddie Elston shot two turkeys and Jerry Steinecke and Bonnie Ramos shot quail. Doubtlessly, several others took shots which did not strike the fleeting buck. And, just in case the deer are reading School Daze, too, "Beware, of the hunters' sure bullet for the next two months. Be swift and fleet to outrun it if you can, but if the bullet must strike thee, then may it strike swift and sure and may thy end come in one jump."

F.F.A. NEWS

The Bandera F. F. A. Chapter held their monthly meeting, Thursday of last week. They discussed the buying of two registered gilts to start a registered pig club. They also discussed the possibility of having a dance, but no decisions was made.

The Chapter is happy to report that the Freshmen Chapter Contest was held on Sunday, with place honors in the Boerne contest, last week.

Have you seen the attractive Junior Red Cross Posters that have been placed in the buildings.

BAND BLAB

We would like to say that the Bulldogs played a fine game Friday night, even though it was freezing. We know they really did their best and deserve everyone's congratulations.

Friday night was the last football game for several of the band members. They have attended almost every game and have participated in most of the band activities. They have enjoyed all these exciting events and have many wonderful memories of them.

The band is now beginning practice for the marching contest on December 6.

NEWS FROM MRS. SCHNELLE'S ROOM

Monday afternoon Donna Langenhenning and her father put some corn on the ground and then got up in a blind close by. They only saw does, but later they saw two bucks. but they were too far away to shoot.

Sunday evening, Arlin Thetford, Uncle 'Bennie and Vince Anderwald went out to hunt some horses that had followed a runaway horse. Since Saturday was too cold to ride, the horses had to be turned loose and they had run over to the Dixie Dude Ranch. Finally, on Monday, Arlin went over to Mike Stoner's place and brought the horses back from there.

On Monday afternoon, Arlin has another "rough" experience. He has school project.

Bonnie Parr went to Boerne Friday night. Kimberly Walters went with her. They had a nice time, but it

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE

Lila Sanger's brother-in-law killed the first deer to be reported in our class. It was an eight-point buck.

Robert Harrison went hunting with his grandfather. His grandfather carried the gun and did shooting that killed their deer.

Steven Faulkner and his brothers brought one of their big white rabbits into the house. It had a hard time standing up on the slick floor.

Douglas Bailey was trying to celebrate his birthday, Monday at the lake. He was almost too frightened to enjoy it because there was so much shooting going on around him.

Gayle went to San Antonio Mon. day to buy new shoes. By nine o'clock ears were already going in with deer across their fenders.

As cold as it was on Sunday, visitors drove out from San Antonio and Jamie Hay played with his little toy, Michael.

Zane Everett and Ray D'Spain played ball, in spite of the cold. Zane hit the ball with a heavy bat and the ball hit Ray on the ankle. On a cold day that really hurts!

Because of the cold weather Early Wayne Heinen was the only one in our class to go to Sunday School this week.

Ira Thetford worked at the feed store, holding sacks.

Brenda Everett and her sister-Lana, spent Saturday with their cousin, Karen. Their aunt and uncle were out of town buying a new Dallas car.

On Thursday night Susie Short got to go to the game between Boerne and Mustang "little brame". She had fun cheering for them. Friday night she took care of her baby sister of that her mother and dad could go to Boerne to see the football game. Then the cut off the bus and form the "V" for the Bulldogs to run through at the beginning of the game. Then they sit down, the game begins. After the game, the Pup Pets once more get on the bus, roll je rolled, and the trip home is on. Everybody talks on leaving the town, you have never heard, especially when the Bulldogs win. Once out of town the bus becomes quiet ,and the Pup Pets settle down to talk, to sing quietly, eat, to sleep. The trip home is usually faster than the trip going. Of course every. one comes awake when Bandera comes into view and everyone is at the windows yellowing and singing all the way through town. The girls then gather up their things and go home from a night of uncomparable fun and enjoyment. These trips are one of the nothings always remembered by the graduates of B.H.S. The senior Pup Pets this year are loved by all and will be missed greatly next year. There is head cheerleader Sandy Mott, assistant head Cathy Anderwald, parliamentarian and wonderful leader in spirit, Ruth Brown and Bennie Dempsey a very sweet wonderful senior.

All of these girls will graduate this year and when they are gone, they will always be remembered and loved. Thank you, Seniors, for everything.

The pep rally Friday was loud and full of spirit. Of course, being the Boerne pep rally, it was to be extra-special. It was a loud and heartening rally, but it was not quite as loud as one or two of the others. The cheerleaders made entrance running into the gym waving their pom-poms, and went directly into a yell. The band played five numbers with the majorettes doing attractive and difficult routines. Elvera Alguesera and Rosemary Faurie did a solo. Boerne walked into batons. The cheerleaders presented three skits and, of course led the yells and two songs about the Bulldogs written to the tunes of "Rock Robin", and "Rock Around the Clock". The pep rally was concluded with the school song, fight song, and a rousing snake dance around the gym by the Bulldogs and Pup Pets. So ended the last pep rally of the year. Much planning and hard work on the part of the majorettes, the cheerleaders, the band and Pete Pups have been put into the pep rallies this year. And everyone agrees the pep rallies have been a big success.

It's the cheerleaders time to say "thank you" now. The cheerleaders want to thank the Pup Pets for being such a wonderful pep squad. For their faithfulness, willingness to work and do their part. These are two of the main reasons the pep squad has been so great. The cheerleaders appreciate the backing they have gotten from the pep squad in everything they did. The Pup Pets to the cheerleaders of Texas, says the B. H. S. cheerleaders. And they mean it. Thank you, Pup Pets. The cheerleaders couldn't have done it without you.

The Pup Pets would like to say thank you to the dosches for their work in turning out such a great team. The coaches of B. H. S. can't be beat.

Thanks to everyone who has helped this football season be a success.

VANDERPOOL

The coldest weather so far was on the last week-end. There was a lot of sleet and some rain with temperatures around 30 degrees all week-end.

NEW VETERAN PENSION

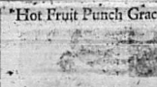
Approximately 277,000 new cases will become eligible for pensions on the effective date of the Veterans Pension Act of 1959, next July 1, J. Norman Lodge, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in San Antonio, estimated today.

Of these 75 per cent will be widows' and children of veterans made eligible by the widows equalization clause and 26 percent will be living veterans, widows and children made eligible by increase in income limitations, Lodge added.

If you are one of these veterans, a widow, or the guardian of a child not now eligible for pension, but you believe you may become eligible after June 30, 1960, what should you do?

Mr. Lodge suggested that you do nothing until after the first of the year. If you wait until the early part of 1960, both you and the VA will benefit, Lodge said. VA will avoid premature correspondence and interviews and you will be better able to estimate your income got the calendar year 1960.

Do not worry about a delay at this time, the VA Manager added. File your claim with the Veterans Administration within the first few months of 1960. This will allow ample time for processing by the July 1 effective date.



GILBERT SCHEELE'S START CONSTRUCTION OF NEW HOME

Construction is now underway on the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Scheele, across the street from Mrs. W. R. Flesher's home. The new home will be built of brick, having three bedrooms, two baths, living room dining room, kitchen and family room. It is fine to see new homes being built in Bandera and this one will be a fine addition to the city.

Forest Stevens reports ten fine deer were killed on his ranch the first two days of hunting season. Seven of these being killed the first day of the season. Ray Merle Stevens and his brother-in-law, Karl Moore of San Antonio were two of the lucky hunters.

COL. O. H. DAY INTERRED IN FORT SAM HOUSTON NATIONAL CEMETERY

Col. Ora Herschel Day, one of Bandera's most highly esteemed citizens, was claimed by death, due to a heart attack, at his home here on Thursday, November 19.

Ora Herschel Day was born at North Vernon, Indiana, on April 25, 1895, to Mr. and Mrs. James Day. During his early youth he followed the colorful occupation of glass blower, though when the first World War broke out in Europe he answered the call of his country and on February 22, 1917, enlisted in the United States Infantry and served in France during World War, I, where he was wounded near Selesmes, France, and was awarded the Purple Heart. Victory Medal with four Battle Claps and cited for gallantry in action.

On January 3, 1934, he was happily married to Miss Addie Hall in San Antonio.

During World War II he was commissioned a Captain in the Air Force, and advanced to Major and Lieutenant Colonel. After World War II he was stationed in Japan and Guam.

In 1948 he retired and in 1950 Col. Day moved with his family to Bandera to make his home, where he became a highly esteemed and respected member of the community. He was a member of St. Christopher's Episcopal Church, Bandera Masonic Lodge No. 1123 A.F.&A.M., 32nd Degree Mason, a member of the San Antonio Consistory, Commander of Bandera Barracks No. 1532 World War I. Veterans.

Col. Day was an American of the highest order with outstanding devotion, bravery and patriotism. He was a wonderful soldier, a kind husband and father, and was noted for his interest in community affairs, though for the past few months he had been very ill.

Funeral services were conducted for Col. Day Monday morning, November 23, 1959, at 10 a.m., in St. Christopher's Episcopal Mission with Rev. Charles Heimsath officiating. Interment was made in the Fort Sam Houston national cemetery where he was given highest military honors. Graveside services were held there under the direction of Bandera Lodge No. 1123 A.F.&A.M.

Survivors are his sorrowing wife, Mrs. Addie Day, and son, Ben Harvey Day, of Bandera; one sister, Mrs. Zora Dock of New Castle, Indiana; brothers, Tom Day of Kennard, Indiana, Oliver Day of Elwood, Indiana, Sam Day of Shirley, Indiana, and Everett Day of San Antonio; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lillian Cuney of Bamberg, and several nieces and nephews.

The Apostle Paul, in Eph. 6:10-20, illustrates the Christian virtues by the familiar armor of the Roman Soldier, and in memory of one of our country's fallen heros we dedicate the following from Paul's letter to the Ephesians:

Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of darkness of this world. Against spiritual wickedness in high places. Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of Righteousness; And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace. Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked. And take the helmet of salvation, and the Sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. Pall bearers were Col. George Harrison, Col. Clay Short, Calvin Cartrett, Ashley Rugh, Troy Pingleton, Raymond Smith.

MISS BUTTS AND RAYMOND BATTO JR WED

Miss Mattie Elizabeth Butts became the bride of Raymond H. Batto, Jr., in an impressive double ring service at St. Stanislaus Catholic church on Saturday evening, November 14th, at 6:30. Rev. Victor G. Schmalitzsky officiated and read the nuptial mass in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and groom and close friends.

Arrangements of white gladiolus and mums decorated the altar of the church. Miss Patricia Jenschke presented the traditional wedding music at the organ.

The lovely bride entered the church with her grandfather, Jack V. Batto, and was given in marriage by him. Her regal gown styled along princess lines was fashioned of white nylon lace over taffeta. It had a deep V neckline, and a flared street length skirt. Her elbow length veil cascaded from a small headpiece of white taffeta covered with lace. The bride carried a crescent bouquet of white mums centered with a white gladiolia.

Miss Camille Rosquist served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a ropen blue faille street length dress styled along princess lines with a flared skirt, square neck, and abreviated sleeves and a tiny matching hat. Her flowers were a crescent bouquet of blue-shaded mums.

John Henry Batto, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were George Loesberg and Raymond Adamietz. Tommy Adamietz, Richard Dugosh, Tommy Callahan, and Loyd Kalka were altar boys.

The bride's mother, Mrs. A. D. Strickland, wore a grey wool suit with black accessories and her grandmother, Mrs. J. V. Bartell, wore a navy blue print blend with black accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Raymond H. Batto, Sr., chose a royal blue print with black accessories. They each wore a corsage of white mums.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Episcopal Parish Hall. The bride's bouquet adorned the registration table where Miss Theresa Batto, sister of the groom, presided at the bride's book. A formal arrangement of white glads and white mums highlighted with blue mums, in a crystal compote composed the centerpiece for the reception table which was covered with an imported white linen damask cloth. Tall white tapers burned in crystal candelabra. Mrs. Donna Mitchell of Edinburg, cousin of the bride, poured the fruit punch and Mrs. Jane Ross of Weslaco, aunt of the bride, served the beautiful wedding cake, which was a tiered confection topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Bandera High School, the groom having graduated in 1956 and the bride in 1959. The bride has completed a correspondence course from Draughon's Business College in San Antonio. She is the charming daughter of Mrs. A. D. Strickland of Bandera and Eugene H. Butts of Corpus Christi, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Bartell, with whom she has made her home here in Bandera.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Batto, Sr.,

THERE'S NEW FLAVOR IN THESE ROLLS

Homebaked yeast-raised rolls are as traditional to Thanksgiving tables as turkey. And just as a new stuffing can dress up the holiday bird, so a new ingredient can add interest to dinner rolls. These yeast-raised rolls feature a unique combination of yams and raisins. To save last-minute flurry, bake them early in the week and freeze fog the big day.

THANKSGIVING DINNER ROLLS

¾ cup warm, not hot, water (105 to 115° F.)
1½ tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
1 tablespoon soft shortening
1¼ cups mashed cooked yams or sweet potatoes
3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup raisins
Melted margarine or butter

Combine water (warm, not hot for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast), sugar and salt; mix well. Add yeast and stir until dissolved. Add shortening and yams; mix. Combine flour and raisins; add to yeast mixture in two additions, blending well. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead 5 minutes, or until dough is smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; cover with damp cloth and let rise in warm place (85°) until double in bulk, about 1½ hours. Punch down and pull edges to center; turn over lightly; cover in bowl. Let rise again until almost double in bulk, 30 to 45 minutes. Turn dough out on lightly floured surface; cover with cloth and let stand 15 minutes. Roll out to ¼-inch thickness and cut with floured 4-inch cutter. Brush with margarine or butter. Make a crease across each round; fold so that top half slightly overlaps. Press edges together at crease. Place close together in lightly greased baking sheets. Cover and let rise 15 minutes. Bake at 425° F. 12 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown.

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE ON CHILDREN AND YOUTH

Nearly 2,000,000 Texans — old and young alike—have joined in preparation for the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth.

They will be represented by a delegation of 116 adults and youths at the "Golden Anniversary Conference" to be held in Washington, March 27-April 2. Other Texans will be able to express their ideas at the Governor's Conference called for December 5, 1959, in the House of Representatives in Austin.

Every decade, during this century, a White House Conference has been called in behalf of the nation's young people. The first one was called by President Theodore Roosevelt and resulted in the enactment of child welfare legislation. As each decade that followed, a White House Conference on children and youth left its mark in meeting problems of young people.

Purpose of the 1960 Conference, called by President Eisenhower, is "to promote opportunities for children and youth to realize their full potential for a creative life in freedom and dignity."

The Golden Anniversary Conference will concern itself with the effects of our rapidly changing world on the development of youth, and studying the factors that influence individual fulfillment.

A committee of 154 persons was named by Governor Price Daniel to coordinate local-level organizations and studies leading up to the White House Conference. Dr. Guy D. Newman, President of Howard Payne College in Brownwood, is chairman.

The 116 delegates named by the Governor's Committee include 100 adults and 16 youths representing various school organizations of 580,000 young people.

The Texas Report to the 1960 White House Conference will be the result of a "clover-leaf approach" through state and county committees; a special program involving junior and senior high schools, national and state organizations, and special activities and research groups.

Some 181 Texas counties have participated in the preparation for the conference. These active counties have 87 per cent of the child population in the State.

Dr. Newman explains that the Committee's studies were directed toward values and ideals of our society, research on changes affecting young people, and determining the availability and adequacy of educational, health, welfare and court services.

Delegates to the Conference will carry with them a wealth of material compiled and tabulated from state-wide polls, questionnaires, research and "grass roots" discussions related to problems facing Texas children and youth.

Results of the extensive studies inspired the Governor's Committee to make this commitment:

"The ground on which the free world of democracy and the totalitarian world of communism must wage their conflict is the ground of values and ideas. This mortal struggle is fundamentally a moral struggle. The free world will not win it permanently except by moral and spiritual superiority."

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER
An Autobiography

FRONTIER TIMES MUSEUM, BANDERA, TEXAS

Tarpley

By Mrs. John G. James

First of all, our apologies for not writing the news last week. But we feel sure that you understand that with a very sick little girl in the hospital from Sunday night until Thursday noon, it was impossible for us to think about news, muchless write any. However, we are happy to report that Mijneana is feeling much better now and she say's she wants to "do well fast and say well." Needless to say, we hope she will!

Since there has been such a variety of weather during the past two weeks, everyone must have surely been pleased at one time or another. There was quite a contrast between the weather the past two week-ends with the past one being extremely mild and cloudy, and with the country being transformed into a "winter wonderland" of hills and valleys covered with white sleet and cold icicles during the previous week-end. We'll wager that many a hunter came up with cold hands and feet and no game when the opening day of hunting season dawned cold and icy. However, there has been a record number of hunters in the community and many have had good luck.

Mrs. Sul Coffey, who has been ill for the past several weeks, underwent surgery in the Santa Rosa Hospital in San Antonio on Friday, November 13th. We are happy to report that she is doing as well as can be expected and we join her many friends in wishing her a speedy and complete recovery.

Mrs. A. A. Jeffers returned home last Thursday from Kerrville where she spent several days visiting with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morgan.

Mrs. Helen Wood and daughter, Mrs. Bud Mitchell, were business visitors in Boerne and Comfort last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson and son, Ricky, of Hondo, spent the week-end at Tarpley visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Anderson, and other relatives. Kenneth was one of the lucky hunters, having bagged a nice eight-point buck Sunday morning.

Leroy Erfurt of San Antonio visited his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Erfurt and children, Ella Mae and Artie, during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Caffall of Uvalde were visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Singleton, on Sunday. Mr. Caffall returned home and Mrs. Caffall remained for a longer visit.

We extend sympathy to Mrs. Helen Wood, whose uncle, August Gerdes, passed away last week. Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Bud Mitchell attended funeral services for Mr. Gerdes at Hondo last Thursday.

Mrs. Walter V. James of the Flag Mountain Ranch was a visitor in the home of Mrs. J. W. Edwards near Pipe Creek one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter, who are presently making their home on the Bradshaw place on Mason creek above Bandera, spent Sunday at their home in Tarpley. Sunday evening they visited with Mr. and Mrs. John G. James and daughter, Minneana, at their home in Bandera.

Our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith, who are the proud parents of a fine little son born at the Uvalde Memorial Hospital on November 19th. The young man tipped the scales at better than 9 pounds. Mother and baby are doing fine.

Friends will be pleased to learn that Little Miss Marian Hargrove is able to attend school regularly and is greatly improved from her recent illness. We hope she will continue to improve steadily.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mangold were Bandera visitors last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bieber attended the wedding of her nephew, Raymond Batts, Jr., and Miss Mattie Elizabeth Butts at St. Stanislaus Catholic church in Bandera on Saturday evening, November 14.

Mrs. T. E. Sauter went to San Antonio for her regular check-up last Friday. We are happy to report that her condition is somewhat improved and that she is feeling better again after having been "under the weather" for the past couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelson and Uncle Jim Berkeland visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. James and daughter in Bandera Sunday. They enjoyed dinner at the James home and especially enjoyed being with Minneana, who was able to be up and about to play with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove and children, Marian, Richard, and Billy, spent the week-end at Tarpley visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hohenberger, Sr., and other relatives and friends.

Despite the chilling wind, falling rain and sleet, and a few flying snow flakes, folk from Tarpley ventured out on the ever unlucky Friday, the 13th, to witness the climaxing bout between the Bandera Bulldogs and the Boerne Greyhounds at Boerne. Among those from Tarpley who attended the football game were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Sandidge and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Lestourgeon of Medina, and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Mueller and family. Miss Gretchen Mueller is a member of the pep squad of Boerne High.

A real estate transaction has recently been completed whereby Mr. and Mrs. Benno Pankrats have purchased the house and acreage joining the Cozart property near Tarpley from Mrs. Helen Wood. Friends will be happy to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Pankrats will have been making their home in San Antonio for the past couple of years plan to return here to make their home again sometime in future years.

Mrs. W. R. Richards, our efficient postmistress, enjoyed three days vacation from her duties at the post office last week. During her absence, Mrs. Bud Mitchell had charge of the office.

W. B. Richards has had excellent luck hunting this year and brought in a variety of game—a turkey for Thanksgiving and a nice buck.

With the coming of our Thanksgiving holiday, the following writing, "We Thank Thee," by Mamie Pendleton Sparks, comes to mind and we would like to pass it on to you with the hope that it makes Thanksgiving more meaningful to each of us. "We thank Thee, gracious Father, for the blessings of this day, for harvest of our fields, now safely stored. We thank Thee for our homes, our friends, our health from day to day; for Christ who died that we might live, for the privilege to pray. God keep us clean and pure in heart, and walking in Thy way. No greater blessing can we ask on each Thanksgiving day."

Written Farm Leases Prevent Disputes

At this time of year, many landlords and tenants are thinking about farm rental arrangements for 1960. While some operate from year to year on the basis of verbal agreements regulated largely by local customs, written leases are better and may save disagreement and hard feelings between parties.

Farming is a business and should be conducted in a business-like manner for best success. Rental contracts involve a full year's work by the tenant and possibly thousands of dollars for both parties. A few dollars spent on a properly drawn lease is good business economy.

A farm lease is not a simple paper. Printed lease forms often turn out to be traps if not understood, or if not properly executed. A farmer-tenant contract is intricate and of such importance to both parties concerned that amateur draftsmanship is risky.

Fixing of cash rent or designating the length of term are relatively simple. Yet, even in these matters, ambiguity or incompleteness can cause bitter disputes and expensive lawsuits.

A loosely drawn property description may have consequences entirely unintended, by either landlord or tenant. Where rent is to be based on acreage, an accurate description is doubly important.

In addition, there are legal rules to substitute for some omissions in written leases. For example, a holdover by the tenant may automatically renew the contract if the lease is silent on this subject. It is as important to know the results of omissions as to know the courts' interpretation of the language used.

There are many matters which should be covered by a properly drawn lease. For instance, if a tenant is to farm on a share basis, care should be taken to define what expenses are to be paid by the parties as well as what shares are to be taken out. A lease should cover such things as who is to make repairs, what land is to be cropped, whether the tenant can cut timber, whether loss of a building by fire or other cause is the tenant's or whether the landlord must accept a sub-tenant.

One great cause of difficulty with leases is blind faith on the part of the persons involved that all differences of opinion can be worked out. Poor memories as to verbal agreements can cause disputes between persons even though they are both honest and generous.

Many of the possibilities that should be covered by a properly drawn lease will not occur to inexperienced persons. "The renting of land deserves a written contract, and it is a contract too important to be entrusted to anyone other than an expert.

THANK YOU

I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to the ones who sent cards and flowers, visited or asked of my illness while I was a patient at the Fredericksburg Hospital and Clinic at Fredericksburg, Texas. Again I say thank you.

THIS RICE SOUFFLE IS GOOD!

Pretty, light as a cloud and a perfect ending to a meal — that's Apricot Rice Souffle.

This is a dish that can be made expertly by the amateur for the enjoyment of the most particular gourmet.

Rice is added to the usual basic ingredients, white sauce and eggs to lend greater stability and an unusual flavor and texture. Since cooked rice is called for, it may be prepared in a few minutes while the other ingredients are being assembled, But rice left over from a previous meal will do nicely too.

Serve the souffle plain or with a hot apricot sauce topped with toasted slivered almonds. Other pureed fruits may be substituted for the apricot so that you can serve a dessert souffle often and enjoy a variety of flavors.

RICE APRICOT SOUFFLE

1 cup heavy white sauce*
4 eggs, separated
¼ cup cooked rice
1 cup strained sweetened apricot pulp

Gradually add white sauce to slightly beaten egg yolks. Stir in rice and apricot pulp. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into rice mixture. Pour into an ungreased 2-quart casserole. Bake at 325° F. for 1 hour.

*White Sauce:
Melt ¼ cup butter or margarine in a sauce pan. Stir in ¼ cup flour. Then blend in 1 cup milk and ½ teaspoon salt. Cook stirring constantly until thickened.

TEXAS STATE TEACHERS WILL MEET IN SAN ANTONIO

Austin. — Football games and cranberries notwithstanding, several thousand Texas Teachers will convene in San Antonio for the Thanksgiving holidays and the 81st convention of the Texas State Teachers Association.

They will hear nationally known speakers and a leading musical program, pause for a worship service, consider educational problems and their solutions, visit educational exhibits, attend interest group meetings, and wind it all up with a business session—the TSTA House of Delegates—on Saturday morning.

Presiding will be TSTA President Vincent W. Miller, superintendent of schools at Pasadena. Slated to succeed him is Mrs. Mary Alexander, a classroom teacher from Palestine. Now vice-president, Mrs. Alexander was unopposed on the ballot conducted earlier this months in every school building over the state.

Winner of the vice-presidential race will be announced at the House of Delegates. Candidates are Dr. Richard Bowles, assistant director of instruction in the Austin public schools, and R. H. McKay, assistant superintendent of Dallas schools.

A Thanksgiving vesper service at 4 p.m., Thursday will open the convention, with Dr. Alfred Freeman, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Houston, as speaker.

U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Senate majority leader and potential candidate for president, will address the first general session that evening in San Antonio's Municipal Auditorium.

At the Friday morning general session, speakers will be Dr. John H. Furbay, education director for Trans World Airlines, and Dr. W. W. Esbelman of Fort Washington, Penn., president of the National Education Association.

Most of the 30 TSTA sections, from arithmetic to industrial arts, will hold luncheon and afternoon meetings Friday. Leaders in various educational fields in Texas and other states will keynote these interest group meetings.

Among the many outstanding speakers scheduled for the various sections is Frank G. Clement, former governor of Tennessee. He will address the Texas Classroom Teachers Association breakfast and the National Education Association dinner Friday.

Fred Waring and The Pennsylvanians will dominate the Friday evening general session with their musical program, "Stereo Festival."

At the House of Delegates Saturday morning, committee reports, resolutions, and other items of business will be heard and acted upon.

STATE GAS TAX HIKE OPPOSED BY CAR DEALERS

Austin, Texas.—Opposition to any increase in the present State tax of 5 cents per gallon on gasoline to retire a general fund deficit of $70,000,000 by the pump-tax program was expressed this week by C. B. Smith of Austin, President of the Texas Automotive Dealers Association.

Mr. Smith said in addition to speaking for the automobile retailers he believes he is expressing the opinion of the overwhelming majority of motor vehicle users who must absorb any increase in gasoline or other road user taxes.

The federal government until recently levied a 3 cents per gallon tax, in addition to the state tax. The federal tax was increased to 4 cents by the last session of Congress for benefit of the U. S. Highway Trust Fund, making a total of 9 cents per gallon paid by motorists to the U. S. An extra penny is supposed to expire in May of 1961, but Mr. Smith pointed out that very few federal "temporary" taxes have turned out to be anything but permanent taxes.

"Net state collections from gasoline taxes in Texas for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1959, were $169,610,025, by far the largest single item of income from within the state. The gasoline tax ostensibly was levied as a road user tax to be paid in proportion to a person's use of the highways, Mr. Smith pointed out.

Yet, he said, out of last year's total gasoline tax collections the sum of $42,410,606 was diverted to the general fund for purposes not even remotely related to the building or maintenance of highways.

"The automobile is a necessity," Smith said. "It is a direct means of making a living, or the only means of getting to the place where one makes his living, for hundreds of thousands of Texans today. Including federal and state taxes from start to finish, it is estimated that taxes represent nearly one-fourth the value of every motor vehicle.

"Talk within our State of using an increase in the gasoline tax as a means to provide additional revenue for non-highway functions of government is of grave concern not only to those who sell motor vehicles, but to those who must use them over the highways in essential endeavors."

If additional revenue is needed for general government purposes, Mr. Smith said, it should be collected on an equitable basis. This does not result, he said, when a portion of a road user tax is diverted from building highways to non-highway purposes.

Texas' most immediate problem as regards state finances is in the general revenue fund. The Texas highway program has been maintained on a pay-as-you-go basis, and most of our difficulty is chargeable to the highway program or the highway user, he said.

"The inequity of further taxing gasoline for general fund purposes is easily illustrated," Mr. Smith said. "For example, under our system of diverting one-fourth of the gasoline tax to the general fund, the user who drives 50,000 miles per year is required to pay the general fund 50 times as much as the one who only drives 1,000 miles per year."

BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

CONSERVATION * DEVELOPMENT * SELF-GOVERNMENT

Local Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Bandera Soil Conservation District have recently completed evaluating trial grass plantings of several different grasses in the District. The grass seed was furnished to seven local ranchers early last Spring by the Soil Conservation Service Grass Nursery. Ranchers who planted these grasses were: Ellis Browning, Jack Focke, Dewitt Leibold, R. E. Lowe, L. L. Mansfield, W. J. Schmidt and Roland Britsch. Ten different kinds of grass were planted. These included two varieties of Sideoats Grama, Little Bluestem, two varieties of Green Spangleton, Provoria Bluestem, Two-flower Trichloris, Four-flower Trichloris, Arizona Cottontop, and Plains Bristlegrass. These grasses received different degrees of grazing by the ranchers, from heavy grazing to complete deferment. The evaluation at the end of the first growing season points out that two native grasses: Sideoats Grama and Little Bluestem stood up the best. Provoria Bluestem, an introduced species, and Green Spangleton, a native, did fairly well. Four-flower Trichloris and Two-flower Trichloris and Arizona Cottontop failed to produce some good plants. Plains Bristlegrass failed to produce anything. These trial plantings will be observed next year and possibly new varieties will be planted. The purpose of this is to determine which grasses can best be used in local reseeding work.

Grass is that indispensable form of plant life without which civilization, as we know it now could not exist on the earth today.

Cut heavy cedar so that grass will grow. Use that fain to produce grass instead of brush.

Marvin Hatfield whose ranch is north of Medina, has recently started work on a complete terrace system on several fields. Four diversion terraces have been laid out by local S.C.S. technicians, along with 2500 feet of regular field terrace. This terrace system is designed to eliminate costly soil erosion, by diverting excess water from the fields to a grassed outlet. Hatfield is being assisted financially by the Bandera County Agricultural Conservation Program.

Will you have 2,000 pounds or more of air dry forage left on your rangeland March 1, 1960, after each cow or animal unit eats 25-35 pounds each day of what there is now? If not, your grass production during 1960 after March 1 will be less than it should be with a given amount of rainfall.

Give A Swiss Touch To Salads

Check the menu of most any restaurant and you're sure to find a chef's salad featured, especially at luncheon. As popular with men as with women, a hearty salad can be the basis of a most satisfying meal. Duplicate the overwhelming success of the specialty at home. There's nothing to it. To prove our point, we offer a recipe for Tirol Toss that would do any chef proud.

Star ingredient of any really good chef's salad is Switzerland Swiss cheese, cut in strips or diced. This classic cheese from Switzerland's Alps transports a salad from the realm of the ordinary to the gourmet class. Worth the few extra pennies it costs, Switzerland Swiss cheese has a special flavorful nuttiness that can't be duplicated.

TIROL TOSS

1 head lettuce, torn into bite-size pieces
1 head chicory, torn into bite-size pieces
3/4 lb. Switzerland Swiss cheese, cut in strips
4 cooked frankfurters, cut in thin slices
1 medium cucumber, scored and sliced
4 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
2 carrots, cut in thin strips
1/3 cup radish slices
2 tomatoes, cut in slices
Salad oil
Wine vinegar
Salt and pepper

Place greens in salad bowl. Top with Switzerland Swiss cheese, frankfurters, chicory, eggs, carrots, radishes and tomatoes. Pour on oil and wine vinegar to lightly coat greens; toss. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

KIT CARSON, THE GREAT TRAIL BLAZER

J. Marvin Hunter, Sr.

Fifty years ago the writer "chummed" with Old Man Charlie Schenrich of Taos, New Mexico, and heard from many interesting anecdotes of Kit Carson, the greatest of the trailmakers of early days. Charlie Schenrich's wife, Teresita Bent Schenrich was a niece of Kit Carson, and Schenrich associated with him at Taos and other places, and much of this story is drawn from the facts which Charlie Schenrich related to me.

Christopher Carson was born in Madison county, Kentucky, December 24, 1809. His parents settled in Howard county, Missouri, when he was an infant. When Kit, as he became generally known, was about 16 years old he was apprenticed to a harnessmaker, but, attracted by the wild stories of the great West, he ran away from home and in 1826 joined an expedition to Santa Fe, New Mexico. At that time there had been little change in the western country from the time of the explorations of Lewis and Clark and of Zebulon M. Pike, except that the capital of Mexico had been transferred from Madrid, Spain, to the City of Mexico, and all of that territory comprised in the states of California, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, and a large portion of Wyoming and Colorado still belonged to Mexico. Oregon, Washington, Montana, and the major part of Wyoming and Idaho were claimed by Great Britain, and remained in dispute until 1846. Such was the status of the country when Carson started there.

For the next five years he was on the plains continually, going with one expedition from Santa Fe to El Paso and from there to Chihuahua, and several trips across the continent to California and Oregon. He became familiar with other portions of this comparatively unknown country. He explored the headwaters of the Columbia river, the Missouri river, the Arkansas river, and almost every foot of what is now the state of New Mexico and Arizona. From 1832 to the time of his death he made his home in New Mexico. He was the soul incarnate of that spirit of enterprise which carried the American flag across the great plains and mountains to the Pacific Ocean. The hero of a hundred fights, he never received but one wound; his life seemed to be protected by some unseen power. He touched the spirit that animated the West at every angle. He was the companion and associate of many of those intrepid characters that pioneered the Old West, like Ewing Young, the Bubleiers, Jim Bridger, Bill Williams, and other mountain men who have left their mark upon the history of that period. He early acquired a knowledge of Spanish, and of the French patois as spoken by the Canadian trapper, besides a knowledge of eight or nine Indian dialects. He was known alike to the Blackfeet, the Cheyennes, the Sioux, the Ute, the Apaches, and all the warlike tribes who [illegible] that vast [illegible] and he knew all their signals, and could follow their trails as merely but themselves could. Up until his expedition was only dared to 1834, he trapped through New Mexico, Arizona, California, Oregon, and along the streams everywhere beaver abounded. He first married an Indian woman, who died during birth to a child, and afterwards, in 1834, he married Señorita Josepha Jaramillo, the aunt of Charlie Schenrich's wife. He abandoned trapping about 1834, and for eight years thereafter was employed as a hunter, the Government service under Fremont as official guide of the expedition. Of this incident Fremont wrote: "On the boat I met Kit Carson. He was returning from putting his little daughter in a convent school in St. Louis. I was pleased with him and his manner of address at this first meeting. He was a man of medium height, broad-shouldered and deep-chested, with a clear, steady blue eye and frank speech and manner—quiet and unassuming."

Kit Carson at this time was less than 33 years old, and had already made a national reputation for himself. He was a man of five feet six inches tall, under medium size, with little or no beard, a low-spoken voice as soft as a woman's, never boastful nor indulging in rough speech. Charlie Schenrich said that in all the years of his association with Carson, he never knew him to tell an obscene story, or use vile language.

From the time he accepted government service under Fremont, until the close of the Mexican War, Carson was closely identified with Fremont in all of his explorations, and to him and not to Fremont belongs really the reputation as being the great "pathfinder," for it is of record that Fremont found no paths and no trails in the great Rocky Mountain region except those which were shown to him by Kit Carson or Basil Lajeunesse.

Throughout his life Carson never engaged himself permanently to any one man, or with any single enterprise. While trapping he would break away from large parties and with two or three companions go upon independent expeditions. On July 14, 1843, he joined Fremont's second expedition near the headwaters of the Arkansas river, and accompanied him throughout his second trip into Oregon and the Northern California country, returning by way of Sutter's Fort and the southern route to Sante Fe. After a year's absence he reached Bent's Fort in the summer of 1844, having journeyed 4,000 miles, and settled down upon a ranch in Northern New Mexico, about fifty miles east of Taos, but not for long, for his home life was again interrupted by thrilling adventures.

In the autumn of 1845, at the earnest request of General Fremont, Carson conducted the former's third and most famous expedition into Oregon and California. On this trip the party left [illegible] and [illegible] ing through the [illegible] on this [illegible] Sante Fe trail to the Missouri river. He reached Washington in having traveled about 4,000 miles horseback within the space of three months. President Polk, in recognition of the valuable services he had rendered, appointed him second lieutenant in the United State Rifle Corps, to date from his appointment, however, was never confirmed by the Senate. He was ordered back to California with dispatches. At the Point of Rocks on the Santa Fe trail, a noted landmark about 650 miles beyond Independence, he had a desperate fight with the Comanche Indians. He found there a band of volunteers en route for the Mexican War. The Indians made an early morning raid and drove off the soldier's livestock. The men, headed by Carson, made a counter attack on the Indians, killed a number of them and managed to recover the cattle, but the remaining Indians escaped with the horses. In the vicinity of Virgin river, in Arizona, Carson and his party of fifteen men were again attacked by 300 Indians, but successfully stood their ground. He reached Monterey, California, with[illegible]mbaug, and for a time was employed against the border Mexicans in California.

In the spring of 1848 Carson again sent dispatches from California to Washington, and while on his way eastward he managed to spend a day with his family in Taos. His homecomings up to this time had been about three years apart. He made a safe trip to Washington, and returning to New Mexico, he decided to settle down once more in the ranch business, with Lucien B. Maxwell as his partner. His first quiet of domestic life was frequently interrupted. Several times he was called into the field to suppress and punish the Apaches and other wild tribes.

In 1851 Carson went to St. Louis and purchased a large stock of merchandise, and on his way back, when he reached a village of Cheyennes on the Arkansas river, he learned that the Indians were swearing vengeance against all whites because an army officer had rashly whipped one of the chiefs. It so happened that Carson was the first white man to approach since the offense had been committed. Before, when as commander of the First Regiment of New Mexico Volunteers he gave efficient service to the Union arms. In the summer of 1853 he conquered the Navajos, who since that time have been at peace with the whites. At the close of the civil war he was brevetted Brigadier-General. His last service was in 1865, when in command of three companies of soldiers he fought and destroyed a large Kiowa village near the Cimarron. About 1868, while in the mountains one day he was thrown from a horse and received internal injuries, from which he never fully recovered. His end came on May 23, 1868. While visiting his son at Fort Lyons, Colorado, General Carson attempted to mount a horse, resulting in the rupture of an artery in his neck. Surgical attendance was useless. His life quietly passed away. A brief struggle, three gasping words: "Doctor, compadre, adios," ended his life. Thus passed the last of the great pathfinders of the West. His name is given to three cities, one lake, one river, and numerous peaks and canyons. His fame is perpetuated by a great monument in the city of Denver, Colorado, and also by a bronze tablet to himself and Lieutenant Beale in the Smithsonian Institute at Washington.

What is this housewife doing?

She is doing laundry . . . washing dishes . . . drying clothes . . . freezing food . . . and cooking a meal . . . Electrically. Before the Electric Cooperatives were formed the same amount of work would have taken from dawn to dark and would have made her old before her time.

As members of a cooperative, she and her husband and their neighbors own and operate the electric system . . . read their own meters, figure their own bills and meet their obligations promptly.

Born of democracy, nurtured by free enterprise, the Electric Cooperatives of Texas mean a brighter future for the Lone Star State.

Could anyone deny this baby a few minutes?

Certainly not the mother or father. And surely you, a stranger, would not begrudge a few minutes of your time to protect this baby's life—or yours!

Driving faster than road conditions or the law allows can shorten your trip no more than two or three minutes. Is this saving worth the risk of a precious life? For minutes like these can mean the difference between life and death.

Last year, nearly 40,000 men, women and children died in traffic accidents. In 3 out of 10 fatal crashes, speeding was a factor. Think how many lives just minutes can save . . . and slow down!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself.
Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection.
Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council.
Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

"Way back in the days of our childhood, the subject of this spotlight was a full fledged Tomboy—pigtails flying in the breeze; but now a mysterious change has been wrought and that tomboy has changed into a perfect lady who twirls a baton with a skill and ease that placed Sarah a twirling ensemble last year. She has also taken honors in the further activity of the Bulldog Band by playing first with a cornet solo. You are quite right—this week the spotlight falls on Carol Anne Vaughn!

There was a time, about three years ago when we would have entered her in a contest as a model for the Mona Lisa, but then she took a trip to the West Coast and came back looking like a Hollywood model—glamorous, sophisticated, and grown-up." We like her this way, but the memory of the very young Carol Anne is nice, too.

Carol Anne is a favorite with boys as well as the girls. For four years she has been chosen as a candidate for the F.F.A. Sweetheart.

Our Carol Anne is no schemer, but she can "out-figure" the best of them in all branches of math. She is taking all the math courses that are offered in B.H.S. While grade school she placed first at County Meet in Number Sense and was ready to do the same a couple of years ago, but the meet was called off because of a scarlet fever epidemic in Rock Springs.

Regular classes and extra activities in hand have not taken all of Carol Anne's time. She has held two offices in the local F.H.A. and has moved steadily upward in the Rainbow groups. If you ever need anything done, do as we do, call on dependably Carol Anne since she never refuses the service of her very capable hand.

The Seniors of '60 are proud to have you as a member of the class, Carol Anne. Thanks for such a help to class and school activities. We all wish you the best of everything throughout your life.

THANKSGIVING

Our American Thanksgiving began in 1621, with the first friendly gathering of the pilgrims and Indians. Ever since then families and friends the U. S. over gather and give thanks to our gracious Lord for the blessings He has given us in the days past. In these days of constant fuss, rush, and bother" this day stands out as "family day." A chance for both 'n kin to talk over the "good ol' days." And great uncles and aunts, great grandmothers and great-great grandpops to view the beings fancy of new additions to the family line. As the years pass, it seems as if these gatherings are slowly becoming smaller and smaller as kinfolks are gradually spreading farther and farther apart over the face of the globe. But on the whole it is fine to find this beautiful American custom does not fade away into the dusty pages of the past.

And this is a truly happy Thanksgiving for you and yours.

Sophomore boys who played were Clem Haun, Roger Ramos, Butch Richards, Robert Bradley and Bryan King. Charlie Eckhardt and Elmo Jaye played in the "B" game.

There were a couple of lucky seniors in our class over the week-end. Clem Haun killed a turkey and Roger Ramos killed a 7-point buck.

F. F. A. NEWS

The FFA Chapter had their annual initiation ceremonies Thursday and Thursday night for the freshman Ag. boys.

The freshman boys looked like cute little girls all dressed up in their dresses. The initiation ceremonies were held Thursday evening and all had a great time, including the freshmen. After the ceremonies were over the freshmen were presented with their green-hand pins by Ag. Vice-President Robert Bradley and then refreshments were served.

Guests at the initiation were Jack Focke, Lane Langford and Fabian Anderdald.

F. T. A. NEWS

On November 19, 1959, the second meeting of the year was held by the FTA members, who are now fully in action.

Officers as they were elected at the first meeting are as follows: President, Elsie Faurie; Secretary, Lu Langhant; Treasurer, Patty Callahan; Historian, Judy Mueller; Parliamentarian, Kenneth Kalka; and Reporter, Jean Daniels.

Our sponsor is Mr. King. We take this opportunity to thank him for his excellent leadership and his interest in our group.

Now to the business of the day. At the meeting we voted to have a Student Teachers' Day. Each person selected one subject under one grade to teach for a one period class. Each member in his study halls or spare time will go to elementary or stay at high school to talk to the teachers or the specific teacher, so as to find out more about the class that they are to teach. All FTA members are very glad to have this chance and are looking forward to it.

We will be reporting fully our activities throughout the year.

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE

The third graders, in their stories Monday, showed that they would have all made fine pioneers. We were "tillers of the soil."

Gayle Monier plowed up a little old chicken bone in her garden and planted oats in it.

Victor Strickland and his brother planted cotton for his mother.

Billy Prather and Douglas Bailey turned their attention to sawing up wood for the family fires. After getting a hill and [illegible] they finally became tired and relaxed by eating [illegible] on a hill and [illegible] themselves out into soft sand. Billy couldn't understand why one of his arms was sore on Monday morning.

Janie Hay cut the small branches off the cedar trees her dad cut down for wood. She also cut one finger and had a bandaid on it for proof.

Ira Thetford worked at a feed store.

Lila Sanders took very good care of her five little kittens bit one of them got into the road and was run over by a car.

Linda Goodenough played with her cats down by the river. She is a true lover of nature and the great outdoors.

Ray D'Spain got to go hunting and to work at a ranch. They did a "bloody job of de-horning some cattle." He got a shot at a deer and almost de-horned it. It staggered around from the shock and his dad quickly finished the poor deer off! It was a nice eight point buck.

Susie Short's Dad killed a deer with eight points. Her mother killed one with seven points so Susie thinks it just knocked one off somewhere.

Earl Heinen's dad killed a buck with five points. Earl was very proud of it.

Steven Faulkner and his brothers had no invitations to go hunting. They live in town, so they had to improvise their hunting. They made a "fort" or a kind of a shelter kind out of canvas and bamboo poles. Then they shot out at imaginary deer with bows and arrows. They had a wonderful time.

Zane Everett and his uncle did some target practice with bows and arrows. A tiny little bug or two were fly right at the poor uncle! It didn't hurt him but they took the bow away from the little fellow, as a safety measure.

All hail the young pioneers!

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

Rocky Stevens went hunting but did not kill anything.

Jimmy Daniels and Richard Evans went rabbit hunting. They saw seven rabbits but killed none.

MONTHLY MEETING OF WOMEN OF CATHOLIC ACTION

The regular monthly meeting of the Women of Catholic Action met Monday, November 23rd at St. Stanislaus rectory.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. C. O. Callahan, chairman, with the prayer by Rev. Victor Schmidtzinsky. Mrs. Callahan announced that Mrs. John McShane had accepted the chairmanship of home and school. Mrs. Henry Jurecek had accepted the post of publicity chairman.

Mrs. Fablan Anderwald, who is chairman of Rural Life, gave a very good report on the National Catholic Rural Life Conference she attended in Hondo on November 18.

One interesting part was "Problems of Family Farms on a Local Level", as to how much the farmer gets for his products, then the high price paid after the different steps to the grocery store. Also the laborer who gathers the crops, the berry picker back in 1937 got 7c per basket and today gets 8c per basket, and cannot pick more than 40 baskets in a day. Then the farmers who grow rice we buy in the neat little plastic bags, ready to eat for 19c a pound. What does the farmer get for his rice?

Also at this meeting it was suggested we write our Congressman with our suggestions on what and how to do with the surplus foods stored in the warehouses, so as to get it in an equal manner to the needy people.

A bake sale is to be held December the 12th after each Mass at 7 and 9 o'clock.

A day of Relection for the ladies will be December 6th. Very Rev. James F. McOwen, C.M., Rector of Assumption Seminary will preach at the 8 o'clock Mass; Conference at 9:30 at 11:00 to 11:30; 1:30 and 3:00 o'clock, closing with benediction at 4 o'clock.

Ladies bring lunch and eat at the School lunch room.

The next meeting will be last Monday in January.

The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. Schmidtzinsky.

COUNTY UNIT OF AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

The quarterly meeting of the Bandera County Unit of the American Cancer Society will be held on Friday, December 4, at 7:00 p.m. at the Episcopal Parish House.

This past year two million people volunteered their efforts to the American Cancer Society not only because they are concerned about cancer, but also because they believe the American Cancer Society is the best organization to do something about this problem.

Close to 40,000 people give extensively of their time and talents as board members of divisions and Units because they are convinced that its problems of organization and programming are worth their attention. Do we as local Board members feel the same way?

See you Friday, December 4th.

Mrs. Melvin Rossman,
Secretary-Treasurer

Mrs. A. M. Moyer of San Antonio has been a guest in the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Fulbright.

Recent week-end guests of Mrs. J. W. Fulbright were her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Tibbits and son, Bill, of Beaumont.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Briggs recently returned from Santa Fe, New Mexico, where they enjoyed a two weeks' visit with their niece, Mrs. Les Weingarten.

D. E. Conwill, Jr., accompanied Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Trowbridge, who have been here on a visit, to their home in Independence, Missouri. He and Mr. Trowbridge then returned with Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hainline, who are moving to Kerrville to make their home and have been helping the Hainlines move.

Customers have been missing Robert Leal at Ryan's Red & White this week. Robert is ill and we join his many friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas communities. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations wanderings through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow printer-side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two roseate days he spent entertaining a noted famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera, to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

PLEASANT INTERRUPTION

Week before last; Tuesday the 16th, our morning classes were pleasantly interrupted by some visiting foreign students from Language school at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio. Representatives from Italy, Spain, Japan, Iran, and Greece discussed conditions in their homeland, customs, and arts of their people, and showed us the alphabets and styles of writing of their countrys. Discussions ranged in variety from "Why were Judo, Japanese typewriters, marriage customs of Iran and their educational system as compared to ours, boy-girl relationship in Greece and each representative like about America, are only a few of the topics. One of the most startling things to them was the easy friendly relationships between the teachers and students in the American schools. They were visiting schools in this area in order to understand American culture and to practice their English. When their course is over at Lackland, they will return to their homeland to teach English in their schools. R.H.S. students seemed to enjoy their visit extremely well and hope Lackland will be sending some more students to our school very soon. After all—it is very educational to learn of our neighbors across the seas and much more interesting than some of our morning classes turn out to be!

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

This week the "Spotlight" turns toward the athletic field, for our man may be found participating in almost every sport offered. As quarterback on the Bulldog football team, Kenneth Talks made many outstanding plays, raising No. 45 high on the list of Bulldog heroes. Appropriately enough, Kenneth was chosen Football Hero by members of the support-ing cast—the Pep Pals. Kenneth's fine defensive work as a fine quarterback but also as a fine offensive quarterback and District 27-A star; for he was the only Kenneth has "shone" in football, as anyone who has followed the Bulldogs in the past can tell. He has lettered three years and been on the District team two years—last year, defensive quarterback.

Basketball and track are other sports in which Kenneth has excelled. He has played basketball for the past three years and has been one of the high point men each year. Coach says, "Kenneth is a natural Captain; he doesn't have to be told each little thing that needs to be done."

As literary accomplishments go, Kenneth also ranks among the top; his membership in the National Honor Society is proof of this. Kenneth was also chosen to be sports writer for the "Bandera Bulletin" because of his excellent writing ability.

Kenneth's charm, good looks, and wonderful personality make him very popular among his schoolmates — the Senior Class honored him as "Class Favorite" in the future, we know he will succeed as he has in high school. He has the ability and leadership to be most prosperous throughout his life. We, the Seniors of R.H.S. say, Kenneth, the best of anything—success, happiness, and the best of everything this life has to offer.

JUNIOR JABBER

The four Thanksgiving Holidays were greatly appreciated, especially by the Juniors who, after being six weeks tests Tuesday and Wednesday, needed the rest. Perhaps the only thing which dimmed the holidays was the prospect of getting report cards and pictures this last week, although after the initial shock of seeing our report picture, those who decided their picture could have been worse, brought them and soon busied themselves with the trading of pictures. We hope everyone's report card turns out as well as his picture.

GIRL, WOMAN DIE IN JOURDANTON CRASH

Jourdanton.—A two-car collision near here Friday afternoon killed a 17-year-old Karnes City student and a 71-year-old Tilden woman.

A windshield wiper which didn't function apparently caused the accident.

Four other persons remained in critical condition at Mercy Hospital.

Killed were Linda Porter, on her way with friends to a Pearsall concert, and Mrs. Lula Pursch, returning to Tilden for a visit with her son in Pleasanton.

Hospitalized were Mrs. Mary Queen Pursch, 60, Tilden daughter-in-law of the dead woman; Mrs. L. W. Peeples, 42, Karnes City, and her daughters, Wanda Gayle, 17, and Kathy, 12.

Highway Patrolman Grady Langford said Wanda Peeples, driver of the concert-bound car, said she didn't see a stop sign because her right windshield wiper wasn't working.

The cars collided in drizzling rain at the intersection of FM 140 and Highway 173, ten miles south of here.

Mrs. Pursch died instantly. The student died at Mercy Hospital at 2:10 p.m., about 35 minutes later.

The Peeples' car was knocked 97 feet before turning over in a ditch. The Pursch car, driven by Mrs. Mary Pursch, skidded 74 feet into a ditch, Langford said. Both cars were demolished. — San Antonio Express.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pursch received the sad news of the death of his aunt, Mrs. Lula Pursch and with Mr. and Mrs. James Pursch and children, attended funeral services for her in the Pleasanton church of Christ.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS SALE!

Due to popular demand, the Medina Home Demonstration Club's annual Christmas sale go-'round consecutive Saturday this year—December 12 and December 19—in the Live Oak Club building, Medina.

The members have been busy working on Christmas decorations of all kinds, outdoor, decorations, centerpieces, wall hangings, decorated bottles, boxes full of cookies and candy, bows already decorated for Christmas just waiting for your gift, aprons, last minute gifts for everyone in the family, even the 'makings' so that you can make your own packages and decorations for the holiday season.

There will be coffee and cakes and pies for your enjoyment, too —so even if you have all your Christmas decorations taken care of, come in and have a cup of coffee with us and let us wish you a very Merry Christmas!

Don't forget those dates—December 12th and December 19th opening at 10 a.m.—See you there! The Medina Rose Garden Club

MEDINA ROSE GARDEN CLUB

The December meeting of the Medina Rose Garden Club was a "Workshop" held in the Medina Lumber Yard, December 2. President Mrs. Jewel Garrison presiding.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Ruth Latta, Program Chairman, who in turn introduced a member, Mrs. Frances Jackson, in whose capable hands the workshop took form. Mrs. Jackson asked Mrs. Olda and Mrs. Webb, from Hunt, to tell about the things they had brought to show the membership for the annual Christmas sale to be held December 12th and 19th. Mrs. Olda showed some of her handiwork, fancy aprons and tree ornaments and many other Christmas gift ideas. Mrs. Webb brought some of her gilded decorated bottles to show to the members. Mrs. Jackson had many samples of Christmas decorations. As usual she had a wide range of decorative arrangements for every corner of the house and out-of-doors, turning little bits of tinsel and pine cones and pieces of cedar and driftwood into delightful lovely creations and aimed at making your home a more beautiful place this Christmas time. There was an old lantern that Mrs. Jackson had painted and decorated with greens and red ribbon that could be hung outside the door or put on top of your fence post.

There were glamorous arrangements for the dining room table and coffee table, trees of all kinds and sizes to glamorize your mantle or hangs on your wall. But the best part about the whole program was that Mrs. Jackson told the group some of her 'trade secrets,' how she makes her materials "behave" and where she finds some of the unusual things she uses in her arrangements. She can make the most ordinary item look like a rare import and, when Mrs. Jackson does it it all looks so easy!

At noon the club paused for a delicious "Bring-your-own-sandwiches' luncheon with coffee and tea served by the hostesses, Mrs. King Stokes and Mrs. John McHaney.

After a brief business meeting the members went to work on some Christmas decorations they were preparing for the sale. Mrs. Jackson was available to lend a helping hand to any who needed it.

All who attended felt it had been a most rewarding day.

Members present were: Mrs. Garrison, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Olda, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Landis, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. E. M. Anderson, Mrs. King Stokes, Mrs. Joseph McHaney, Mrs. Carl Bush, Mrs. A. J. Flowers, Mrs. R. L. Jordan, Mrs. Ruth Latta, Mrs. Clyde Elam, Mrs. Ethel Smith, Mrs. George Vaught.

READING CONSULTANT AT MEDINA SCHOOL

Miss Evelyn Miller, Reading Consultant from Houghton-Mifflin Publishing Company, spent Monday, November 23, with the elementary teachers in Medina.

During the morning she presented a reading program for grades 1-12 followed by a group discussion, at which time she answered many pertinent questions which the teachers had concerning some of their problems in the teaching of reading. Medina used the Houghton-Mifflin basal readers in Grades 1-6.

In the afternoon she gave reading lesson plans and demonstrations in Grades 2 and 5.

The Medina teachers were very fortunate in having had the opportunity of hearing Miss Miller, and watching her work in the reading classes, as she is considered an authority in the reading field. They felt that her advice and counseling were most helpful.

Mrs. H. L. Carpenter, Mrs. J. J. Adams and Hugh Carpenter visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. BaRoe Newby and Mrs. Jim Carpenter in Junction, Sunday.

MAIL NOW TO AVOID THAT LAST MINUTE RUSH

"The time has passed to talk about 'Mailing Early for Christmas'," Postmaster H. L. Risinger said this week, "but our patrons can still help the Postal Service avoid a tremendous last-minute pile-up of Christmas mail by sending all packages and cards right now!"

To the inevitable last-minute mailers he suggests that Air Mail postage be used on all gifts and cards going to distant cities.

The Postmaster said that Regional Postal officials were expecting the Christmas mail volume this year to break all previous records. And this mail load is expected to hit its peak next week.

He cautioned local post office patrons to make sure that all packages are addressed carefully and that zone numbers are included on mail going to large cities with zoned delivery.

"There is still time to mail cards for local delivery," Mr. Risinger said, "but they should all be in the mail by the end of next week."

He recommended that cards going out of town be sent by first class mail (4c postage) in order that they may be returned or forwarded in case the addressee has moved. And he pointed out that it is quite proper to affix your return address on Christmas cards.

The Bandera Post Office offers window service from 8:00 a.m., until 5.00 p.m.

Friends will be happy to learn that Mrs. Rolada Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bartley, and Mrs. Hannah O'Connell, all of whom were seriously injured in an automobile accident near New Braunfels the latter part of August, have all been released from the hospital and are able to be up and about on crutches or in wheel chairs. Mrs. O'Connell is in San Antonio and the others are now recuperating at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. O'Connell at Medina Lake, and are doing as well as can be expected. Mr. and Mrs. Clande Stevens visited with them last Sunday.

Here we are happy to report that Mrs. Lona Jackson is feeling somewhat better this week after having been ill for several days.

DICK KING IS GENERAL MANAGER OF MISSIONS

Dick King, a real pro with 20 years in baseball, has been named general manager of the San Antonio Missions by Dan Sullivan IV, club president.

King will handle the operation of the Missions in 1960 after operating clubs at Sherman, Paris, Texarkana, Bryan and Del Rio in Texas. He had charge of four clubs at one time during his career. His major league experience is with the Cincinnati Reds in their farm system.

"The new Mission general manager knows well the Texas and Southwestern League and the Mexican League. Prior to coming with the Missions, he was engaged in setting up a Class D rookie league for the Mexican League club owners. King knows these men, he has their respect and he speaks Spanish" said Sullivan of King.

King is confident the Missions can turn into the hub of the Texas League. He strongly believes in the Texas-Mexican League line-up and because of his experience in Mexico will nurture the relationship.

It was in the winter of 1957-'58 that the King-Mission friendship was established. Cincinnati had sent King to Laredo to establish a rookie camp. He had 200 old rookies plus some players on the Redleg's roster. Marvin Rickes, then president, and Grady Hatton, manager, secured the nucleus of the 1958 Missions from King including Reno DeBenedetti, Dick Drilling, Al Osorio and Harvey Cohen. While in Mexico last year, he sent Al Baro to the Missions.

Besides knowing talent, King knows the front office, including promotion and sales. His clubs in the past have set minor league attendance records which still stand. He knows the problems of the Missions before he comes to San Antonio.

King honestly believes that with good baseball, San Antonio will become the top baseball town in the Texas League. "It will take work, hard work," King said, "including the personal touch. The fans will get the best players we can find. It is my belief that the game belongs to the fans and I'll do my best to make the 1960 Missions the top entertainment attraction in South Texas."

Meeting of King as general manager fills the management void at the Missions with Sullivan as president and Grady Hatton, last year's manager, returning.

BANDERA RESIDENTS RECEIVE QUARTER-MILLION DOLLARS SOCIAL SECURITY

Information just released shows that nearly one-fourth million dollars of local security funds were received by Bandera County during the past twelve months.

Last March, checks for 292 Bandera County residents were mailed, covering February benefits. These 392 checks totalled $20,536 for that one month.

It is interesting to note that a number of these checks went to children under 18. To be exact 28 Bandera County children under 18 received checks because their parents had worked under social security.

Also many people still think of social security only in connection with their own old age, it is interesting to point out that, only 136 of the 392 checks were of this type, while 136 checks were for children, wives, widows, parents, and disabled workers.

John B. Palmer, district manager of the San Antonio social security office, expects the foregoing to increase for the next year.

BULL PRODUCTION SALE WILL BE DECEMBER 16 AT SAN ANGELO

The Moore Bros., Lemley, Allen, Hall Hill Production Sale will be held at Western Livestock Commission Co., yards on December 16, 1959 at 1:30 p.m. Sale starts at 12:00 noon and 300 head of serviceable-age bulls will be offered. In 1951 this sale was upgraded on the idea of supplying top quality bulls for the commercial breeder, also with the thought that by raising these bulls in West Texas, where the range is much better acclimated to the country in which they would do service. Many buyers in the range area of this sale has been held, the consignors have been able to develop the kind of animal most desired by the ranchmen and it is remarkable to note the difference in size of the present offering, compared to so many sales over the United States. The greatest difference is in size. No where can so many big bulls of high quality be found.

In 1958 the consignors' bulls that were just beginning to be two years old, weighed over 1300 pounds at sale time and were not fat.

Another feature of the sale is that the offering has not been topped. The entire production of each consignor is included, with the exception of culling off the bottom. In some cases some top quality bulls have been purchased to try to meet the demand. Each year the demand has increased, so, in this year's sale the offering consists of 300 head, of big rugged Angus Bulls, well grown out; not too fat for service; fertility, bangs and horned tested.

Quite often a breeder wishes to get bulls that are half brothers, to increase uniformity in the calf crop. Not only can that be done from each of several herd bulls represented in this sale, the consignors, by having been in business for nearly fifteen years each, can increase uniformity since there is a great amount of similarity in the blood lines of the cows that produced these bulls.

Though the three consignors team together to hold the sale, there is a keen competitive interest between them. Each attempts to out-do the other from year to year, which causes them to constantly try to improve their individual herd. From that competitive attitude then makes for securing the best blood lines and the best individual herd bulls that can be found. If one is a student of pedigrees, it is easily seen that the best breeding bulls in America will be represented in this sale.

JACK FOCKES HAVE GRANDDAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Focke are rejoicing over the birth of their first grandchild, a pretty little baby girl born to Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Davis at St. David's Hospital in Austin on Saturday, December 5th. Linda Jeanne tipped the scales at 8 pounds 4 ounces and was welcomed Sunday by her proud maternal grandparents and her aunt, Miss Barbara Focke, who went to Austin to make her acquaintance. Others who are welcoming the young lady include her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Zack Davis of Eden, her great-grandmother, Mrs. J. D. Bridges of Bandera, and her uncle, John Focke, also of Bandera. We extend congratulations to the happy family.

BANDERA MAN IS MEMBER OF WINNING TEAM

College Station — The Texas A. and M. College Animal Husbandry Department produced the nation's Number 2 intercollegiate meats judging team December 5 during the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago.

The team's high ranking was earned in competition in cutting, with total talent from 24 other major agricultural schools in the United States. Last year, A. and M.'s group was first in the contest.

Winning the event this year was a team from Oklahoma State University.

In taking second place, the A. and M. students scored 2,591 points out of a possible 3,000.

Team members were Henry Fitzhugh of San Antonio; Don Osborn, Valley Spring; Jimmy Keese, Bandera and Joe Joyce of San Marcos. Frank Orts, instructor in animal husandry, was team coach.

Fitzhugh was high point individual in the overall contest, piling up 884 points out of a possible 1,000. Joyce merited seventh place with 871 points.

A. and M. was first in beef grading and Osborn was high point individual. The team was second in lamb grading, with Joyce getting high point honors. Other placings for the team were second in pork judging and eighth in beef judging.

In addition to the Chicago contest, the Aggie crew placed 3rd at the American Royal Livestock Show at Kansas City in October, and number 2 at the Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth last January.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of numerous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people who were prominent in early Texas communities. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave Chihuahua two days and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and of last but "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

Tarpley

By Mrs. John G. James

It seems that most of the activity in our community took place during the Thanksgiving week-end and that everyone has been staying at home getting ready for Christmas lately. The children are all anxiously awaiting old Santa's arrival and we are sure that most of them have already written him several times by now telling him their wants and wishes. Our eighteen-month old has written to "Claus" at least a dozen times already and is asking him to bring her "a table and chairs, dishes, knives, forks and spoons." What does a child request at the age of three when one can think of so much at 18 months?

There are still a number of hunters in the community; some of them having already gotten their limit of game are out hunting for Christmas trees growing in the hills, while others still haven't been lucky and are out hunting before Lease ever, hoping they will be lucky before the season ends in about three weeks.

Now we would like to extend congratulations to a lovely old lady and a fine old gentleman in our community because they celebrated birthday anniversaries last week. Mrs. J. P. Cozart was ninety years young last Tuesday on December 1st and J. A. Mitchell had a birthday last Sunday, December 6th. We join their relatives and numerous friends in wishing them many more happy birthdays.

Friends will be sorry to hear that Grandma Elms, mother of Mrs. Charles Geues of Hondo, is confined now after having suffered a stroke. Mrs. Milton Anderson visited her mother and grandmother last Friday and Mrs. Arthur Britt and children, Ella Mae and Artie, visited with them Saturday.

Mr. Kenneth Anderson and son, Ricky, spent last week here visiting the Andersons and Erfurts. Kenneth, who is employed at Aransas Pass, spent the past week-end here also.

Bernice Smith, who is still a patient at Legion hospital near Kerrville, visited friends here during the week-end.

Max Hoheberger of Fredericksburg has been a recent guest in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hohenberger, Sr., and son, Walter, Jr.

John Tucker of Bandera visited his father, Ed Tucker, Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mansfield were Bandera visitors last Wednesday. While in town, Mr. Mansfield attended a directors meeting at the Pedernales Electric Coop and Mrs. Mansfield visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mansfield. In the afternoon Mrs. Mansfield and Mrs. Fred Mansfield visited Mrs. Erle Mansfield, who was ill at her home in Bandera. We join her many friends in wishing her a speedy and complete recovery.

Week-end visitors in the home of Ed Tucker were his grandson-in-law, Lonnie Robison, and two of his friends from San Antonio, Johnnie Janes of Bandera and G. M. Mickelesen also called on Mr. Tucker Sunday morning.

The Thanksgiving week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hohenberger, Sr., and son, Walter, Jr., were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hohenberger of Grand Canyon, Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hohenberger of Kerrville; Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Adams and son, Roy, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Moravietz of Bandera; and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove and children, Marian, Richard, and Billy, of Hondo.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove and family at their home here were his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mitchell, of Dallas and some of their friends.

We extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Mike Moravietz of Bandera who celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary on November 29th. Mrs. Moravietz will be remembered as the former Miss Wanda Hohenberger.

Lynn Elbert Jeffers, who is stationed at the Naval Air Station in Beeville, spent the week-end here with his mother, Mrs. A. A. Jeffers.

G. M. Mickelsen and Uncle Jim Berkeland were business visitors in Bandera Tuesday and while there they also visited a short while in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. James and little daughter, Minneana.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Richards were business visitors in Kerrville Tuesday.

Thanksgiving guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Billings and sons, Howdy and Clay, were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Billings of Tarpley and Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Short of Bandera.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Richards spent Thanksgiving at Ingleside with his mother, Mrs. J. G. Richards.

L. J. Beagle was a business visitor in Bandera Tuesday.

Mrs. W. J. Schmidt, Mrs. M. R. Eskridge, and Mrs. Lee Mansfield, were among those who attended the delightful Christmas party sponsored by the Bandera County Home Demonstration Council at Bandera Tuesday afternoon.

J. M. Cornelison was a Bandera visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Buddy Adams and Mrs. Mike Moravietz of Bandera spent Wednesday here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hohenberger, Sr.

SAN ANTONIO EXPOSITION TO BE FINEST

San Antonio Stock Show officials anticipate the February 12-21 exposition will have one of the finest and largest sheep and goat shows in the nation and have increased facilities to accomodate exhibitors.

According to manager A. B. Johnson, an additional 10,000 square feet of exhibit space has been added to the sheep and goat barn.

To accomodate exhibitors in the expanding International Wool and Mohair show, an additional area of 6500 square feet is being enclosed to exhibit shangolin fleeces and provide space for fabric manufacturers to show finished materials.

Overall premiums in the sheep and goat, wool and mohair show, according to Mark L. Browne, general livestock chairman, will exceed $10,000.

In commenting on the growing sheep and goat show, E. W. Bickett, exposition president said: "The eleventh annual San Antonio Stock Show is offering an all-time high in premiums and prize money and the greatest sheep and goat show the greatest show and goat show in the exposition's history. To this end, we have plowed back profits into facilities to accomodate this fast-growing division of the show."

Departments at the 1960 San Antonio show include an International wool and mohair show, boys fat lambs, boys fat class for wether lambs, Jr. goat show, Jr. Rambouillet and Delaine Show in addition to open classes in sheep and goats, according to general livestock superintendent, Bob Tate.

The sheep and goat show will have a total of 10 types of breeding sheep, including Rambouillets, Delaine Merinos, Corriedales, Columbias, Hampshires, Shropshires, Southdowns, Suffolks, Cheviots, Montadales, and two types of Angora Goats, B and C.

The international wool and mohair show, according to chairman Edwin M. Jackson, is staged to encourage production of better wool and mohair and to promote better methods of handling and preparation for market. It also enables growers to become more familiar with the grade of wool and mohair. Competition is open to the world.

Premiums for the sheep and angora goat show and wool and mohair total $7,121, according to superintendent J. A. Gray, who will be assisted by Alton D. Ire and D. C. Langford.

The fat lamb show consists of the open class show and boys lamb show with Bill Oliver as superintendent, assisted by Ray D. Siegwund.

Classes in both the open and boys show include fine wool, fine wool crossbred, medium wool and a class for Southdowns, Shropshires, Montadales or Cheviots, purebred or grade or cross of these breeds.

Boys fat lamb premiums total $1310 and fat wether lambs open class will receive $360.

The junior show will consist of competition in a junior Rambouillet show, a junior Delaine show and a junior Angora goat show.

According to J. A. Gray, superintendent of the junior show, premiums are allocated as follows: Junior Rambouillet, $420; Junior Delaine, $396; and Junior Angora Goat Show, $432.

Mrs. Lona Jackson will go to Brownwood next week to purchase Christmas flowers and plants, including some beautiful poinsettias, for her flower shop. While Mrs. Jackson is away Mrs. Bill Short will have charge of her business and will accept and fill orders for her.

The holiday spirit is getting into full swing with parties and festive doings. Santa will soon be coming over the housetops and the children are beginning to behave like angels.

* * * A record amount of game has been killed in Bandera county by year as deer and turkey continue to be very abundant.

* * * Working from old photos, Warren Hunter, son of Mrs. J. M. Hunter, has painted a wonderful, big picture of Alamo Plaza, which shows a mule-drawn street car making a loop in front of San Antonio's old Grand Opera house at the entrance to the Transit system office in the Transit tower.

* * * Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fiorke are very joyful over he arrival of their first grandchild, a little girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Davis, she it the former Jeanne Foeke, on December 8. We can't think of anything nicer than seeing your own daughter for the first time, unless it is seeing your own first child for the first time.

* * * Our thanks to Mrs. C. A. Duke for the beautiful Christmas candle, delivered Tuesday to us by Mrs. A. W. Hussey. Mrs. Duke makes these beautiful Christmas candles which are sold everywhere for the benefit of a cystic fibrosis program for children. About five years ago one of Mrs. Duke's beloved grandsons died from the dread disease, and now one of her little four year old granddaughters is stricken with it. Mrs. Duke is one of our county's most useful citizens. She employes her time in taking care of her family (and she has a fine one), growing some of the most beautiful flowers in the community, and she is interested in the civic, beautification and spiritual affairs of the county also. She is a most useful and highly esteemed lady.

* * * According to Rtswicke Cary, in his interesting column "Around the Plaza" in Sunday's San Antonio Light, the following bit of news was carried, "San Antonio Harry Fansler, in company with Buddy Postert of Bandera, went on a recent 'snake hunting expedition' and collected a herd snakes, a rattler or two and a number of other species found in southwest Texas. All were turned over to the reptile garden at the San Antonio zoo. Fansler describes snake hunting as "an exciting sport," in which he has engaged from time to time since boyhood days."

* * * With the announcement last week of the candidacy for re-election of Judge C. L. Patterson to the office of County Attorney, and this week the announcement of Sheriff R. B. Miller as a candidate for re-election to the post of sheriff, tax assessor and collector, the 1960 political program for the county is opening up. Several potential candidates have been "eying" these two offices with intent to run. You are reminded that dates of the Democratic Primary have been set up to May 7, as well as other important dates for the years' political campaign which is being printed in next week's Bulletin. It will be well for you to study the calendar.

* * * Friends of Johnny Hayes, son of Mrs. Arthur Hayes, will be glad to learn that he will report, December 14, to Fort Lindsey, Texas, after having received his masters from Sul Ross State College. The Andrews school system is one of the highest ranking schools in the state and pays next to the highest pay scale. Ora congratulations to Johnny Hayes.

* * * We appreciate very much the delicious homamade sausage and "pans" from the nice Freddie Pfeh family, our neighbors from across the street. Mrs. Flach gave us the recipe for this delicious breakfast treat which we pass on to you. During hog killing time, the fine bones from the hog, boil and to third broth ad cornmeal, flour, salt and pepper and chili powder and if desired some allspice. Form into loaf and for breakfast slice and fry. We certainly did enjoy this treat.

* * * Our thought for the day, "Next time you are tempted to point a finger, hold out a hand instead."

* * * Just 12 more shopping days until Christmas.

* * * Bye for now * * *

HUTCHESON BOYS ENJOY PLANE RIDE

Robert, Johnny, and Speedy Hutcheson, young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hutcheson, are some of the luckiest (and happiest) little boys we know because their hunters made it possible for them to enjoy an airplane ride Sunday afternoon. They enjoyed seeing the town of Bandera and the surrounding countryside, including their home on the Hutcheson ranch, from the air. Their mother accompanied them on the trip and tells us that it was just about the most exciting and thrilling experience the boys have ever had. The men who own the plane are from Alamo Heights and they are here to hunt on the Hutcheson ranch. We think the Hutchesons are very lucky to have such nice hunters and we know the boys will wholeheartedly agree.

CHRISTMAS MEETING

The annual Christmas Meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild of the Bandera Methodist Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hay Thursday evening, December 3.

Members of the Guild were guests of the Woman's Society for dinner and the program.

As members and guests entered the Hay's beautiful living room they were delighted with the traditional-festive Christmas decorations viewed by candlelight and lights from the Christmas tree—a decorated long leaf pine at the picture window. Other decorations featured long leaf pine bouche and cones on the mantle and the hearth, clipped fir branch trees and miniature carollers on the buffet, and a French lace cloth on the long dining table with silver service and candelabra with white tapers and centered with an arrangement of red carnations.

A carol sing preceded dinner served buffet style by the hostess committee — Mesdames Howard Hay, Alvin Allsup, Joe Munsch, W. P. Jordan and Robert Groff with Mrs. Melvin Bassman, hostess chairman serving coffee and spiced tea from the silver service. The menu included turkey and dressing, chicken, broccoli, asparagus, combealed salads, hot rolls, pie and fruit cake.

Following dinner all were assembled before the glowing hearth facing the worship center set with a lighted miniature replica of a stained glass window, picturing Mary and the Christ Child. The program "Christmas Around the World" began with a choral recording of the Prophecy and Announciation, the words closely followed the text from Isaiah later read responsively by the group. The filmstrip then showed depicted Christmas customs as celebrated in some forty different countries. Mrs. L. D. Caffall and Mrs. Glendon Roberts gave a special Christmas story from India. The program was led by Mrs. R. N. Allert.

In attendance were Mesdames Judith Baker, J. O. Butler, John Goodenough, E. A. Haberlet, C. H. Langford, John F. Langford, Allen Lowerchek, H. A. Meginnis, Jr., Walter Rees, C. A. Ritcheson, G. T. Sandidge, Jr., Ashley Rush, E. F. Saathoff, D. O. Tallman, Charles Applegate, H. E. Hayes, Lona Jackson, Allie Ruth Johnston, A. F. Lewis, Dewitt Leibold, O. W. Mullenax, Taylor Wootton, Tolcey Robbins, Allie Thallman, Woerner Lindig, F. F. Wyatt and those already mentioned on the hostess committee and program.

Grateful appreciation is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hay for inviting the group to their home for this joyous occasion, to the hostess committee which included Mrs. David Stewart who was unable to attend, and the program partiepants.

Under this heading from time to time we will publish Texas historical articles which we have compiled and printed before in Frontier Times and other publications, but which we believe will be of interest to Bulletin readers.

THE WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR

By J. Marvin Hunter

Old timers throughout West Texas well remember the operations of the Black Jack gang in the early 1890's. There were many train hold-ups in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona credited to Black Jack which he and his gang did not commit, but they were to blame for a-plenty. This story is not to be a record of their depredations, only insofar as to show that it was Black Jack (Tom Ketchum) who started Ben Kilpatrick, a likable Concho county boy, and Will Carver, another pretty good old country boy, who was raised in Bandera county, on the wild career which eventually ended in death for them. The Black Jack gang originated in the Knickerbocker region, west of San Angelo, which was for several years the main rendezvous, while their operations extended through Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona. At that time in the great Concho Country, of which San Angelo was the bustling center, the cattle industry flourished. Fortunes and fortunes had not been cut up into smaller ranches, farming was not carried on because it was considered unprofitable to try to raise anything but cattle and sheep in that section.

Just over in Concho county, in the settlement known as The Hills, midway between Eden and Paint Rock, lived the Kilpatrick family —Old Man Kilpatrick, his wife, and nine children, six of them big, husky, strapping boys. The family lived there for many years, and was well thought of by the neighbors. Ben Kilpatrick, as well as his brothers, worked as a cowhand and horse-breaker on different ranches in Concho and Tom Green counties, and became well known throughout that region. He was a jolly, good-natured young man, and made friends readily with those with whom he was associated. Just when he joined up with Tom Ketchum and his outlaw gang I do not know, but the officers of that section have no suspect that he was in league with the outlaws some time in 1896, when it was learned that Ben sometimes absented himself for weeks at a time, and generally when he returned he was accompanied by one or more strangers, who made their hangout at the Kilpatrick ranch in Concho county, or at the Ketchum place near Knickerbocker, in Tom county.

Along about this time Will Carver, a Bandera county boy, went up into the San Angelo country to get a job as a cowboy. He was a quiet, unassuming young man, attended strictly to his own business, and soon found employment. There are several tales told about how he came to turn outlaw. One of these stories is to the effect that he was being abused by an overbearing bully, and in self defense was forced to kill him, and being without means to fight the case through the courts, he was persuaded by Black Jack to join his gang and "go on the dodge." Whether this be true or not, he did join the outlaw gang, and became one of its most desperate and fearless members.

The Black Jack gang became so bold and daring in its operations that the officers of the law in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona were constantly on the alert to capture them. For almost ten years Ketchum and his associates operated successfully in these four states. The gang was composed of Tom (Black Jack) Ketchum, his brother, Sam Ketchum, William McGuinnes, Will Carver, Kid Curry, Bill, and several others, who during this time were responsible for more than half the daring robberies in the states above mentioned, murdering more people, it was said, than all other lawless gangs that ever, in organized array, infested this territory.

Thomas E. Ketchum was a native of Texas. Cowboy and cattle worker, he was employed in the late 1880's and early 1890's by the big outfits in the Pecos country, and drifted to Clayton, New Mexico, with the longhorns before the railroad from Amarillo to Roswell had been constructed. His work as a cowboy in New Mexico and Western Texas, enabled him to learn practically every foot of the wild and desert region that was later to give refuge and shelter to his outlaw associates.

But in course of time his activities as an outlaw ended—at the end of a rope. He was hanged at Clayton, New Mexico, April 26, 1901. Outlaw, bandit, murderer, train robber, Black Jack, abandoned by his associates in crime, his gang scattered, dead, or imprisoned, accepted the mandate of the court before which he had been tried, and, with apparent indifference, ascended the scaffold. A moment or so later the trap fell, his body shot downward, and decapitated in its fall through miscalculation as to the length of the hangman's rope, lay lifeless before the shuddering gaze of the great crowd of witnesses to the execution.

By strange coincidence or mark of fate, Black Jack, Ketchum was never tried for any of the murders laid to his charge, but death was alluded him for "assault upon a railway train, with intent to commit felony," which at the time of his indictment carried with it the death penalty in New Mexico. The crime for which he was hanged was committed between what is known of Des Moins, New Mexico, and Folsom, New Mexico, on August 16, 1899, to hold up and rob a south-bound mail and passenger train of the Colorado & Southern railroad. This train left Denver about noon and reached the town of Folsom, New Mexico, the same night at 10:30 o'clock. Black Jack ordered the blind baggage of the express car at Folsom, and just after Twin Mountain was passed he crawled over the tender to the engine and commanded Engineer Kirchgraber and his firemen th stop, accompany him to the rear of the express, uncouple the car and take it down the track a short distance, where the outlaw could dynamite the safe contained therein. He had, however, very seriously miscalculated in stopping the train on a curve where it was well nigh impossible for the train crew to release the couplings, even after strenuous efforts to do so, lined up as they were at the point of the bandit's gun. Fred Bartlett, the express messenger, put his head out of the express car door to see what was going on, and received a ball from Black Jack's gun, which pierced his jaw. Conductor Frank Harrington with a double-barreled shot-gun, sky-lighted Black Jack and opened fire on him, the outlaw buckshot striking Ketchum's right arm and shattering it. Ketchum immediately abandoned his enterprise and escaped in the darkness, but was apprehended next morning, and taken to Trinidad, Colorado, where it was found necessary to amputate his arm at the shoulder. After recovering he was tried at Clayton, and given the death penalty.

On July 16, 1900, in a fight between members of Black Jack's gang and officers, Sam Ketchum, a brother of Tom Ketchum, was wounded in the arm and subsequently died, and Sheriff Carr of Huerfano county, Colorado, was killed. Two deputies were wounded, and one of them later died. William McGuinnes was later captured and sent to the penitentiary for life.

With the break-up of the Black Jack Gang, Will Carver and Ben Kilpatrick joined forces with Butch Cassidy, alias George Parker, Harry Longabaugh, Harvey Logan, alias Kid Curry, Bob Leigh, Camella Hanks, and Flat-Nose George, a gang of bandits known throughout Wyoming and Montana as "The Wild Bunch of Robber's Roost," which robbed trains, and banks, and stole horses throughout that section, even extending their forays down into Texas.

During the noon hour on September 19, 1900, the gang held up the First National Bank at Winnemucca, Nevada, dumped thirty-two thousand dollars, mostly in gold, into sacks, and made a quick get-away. Two months later, while detective agencies were sending operatives all over the country and reward circulars were going to every sheriff's office, five members of the gang, Butch Cassidy, Harry Longabaugh, Will Carver, and Kid Curry, appeared in Fort Worth. They visited a photograph studio and had a group picture taken. That picture was to become a souvenir. It shows them in their town clothes, plug hats tilted back on their heads, and Harry Longabaugh wears a derby in his button-hole. They placed an order for two dozen of these photographs, which the photographer finished and delivered to them. Two days after the pictures were delivered, a detective happened into the studio, saw the picture, recognized Will Carver, but did not know the others. He wired headquarters and another detective was sent to Fort Worth, and he identified them all. Their trail, which led to San Antonio, was taken immediately. At San Antonio the gang separated, Will Carver, Ben Kilpatrick and Kid Curry all coming to Bandera county, where they spent one night, and then went to Concho county, to the Kilpatrick ranch in the Hills settlement. They tarried there several days, and brutally murdered Oliver Thornton, a ranch hand working for Ed Dozier.

They went to Eldorado, in Schleicher county, and there posed as buyers of polo ponies. Later they were in Sonora, and again encamped about two miles from that town. Sheriff Lige Bryant, of that county, received a tip that Kilpatrick and Carver were in the vicinity and were planning to rob the Sonora bank. He and his deputies saw Carver and George Kilpatrick, a brother of Ben Kilpatrick, ride into town late in the evening. The two men went into the express car door to see what it

By J. Marvin Hunter

Old timers throughout West Texas well remember the operations of the Black Jack gang in the early 1890's. There were many train hold-ups in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona credited to Black Jack which he and his gang did not commit, but they were to blame for a-plenty. This story is not to be a record of their depredations, only insofar as is essential that the Black Jack (Tom Ketchum) who started Ben Kilpatrick, a likeable Concho county boy, and Will Carver, another pretty good old country boy, who was raised in Bandera county, on the wild career which eventually ended in death for them. The Black Jack gang originated in the Knickerbocker region, west of San Angelo, which was for several years the main rendezvous, while their operations extended through Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona. At that time in the great Concho country, of which San Angelo was the bustling center, the cattle industry flourished. The great pastures had been cut up into smaller ranches, farming was not carried on because it was considered unprofitable to try to raise anything but cattle and sheep in that section.

Just over in Concho county, in the settlement known as The Hills, midway between Eden and Paint Rock, lived the Kilpatrick family of Capt. Mac Kilpatrick, his wife, and nine children, six of them big, husky, strapping boys. The family lived there for many years, and was well thought of by the neighbors. Ben Kilpatrick, as well as his brothers, worked as a cow-hand and cow-breaker on different ranches in Concho and Tom Green counties, and became well known throughout that region. He was a jolly, good-natured young man, and made friends readily with those with whom he was associated. Just when he joined up with Tom Ketchum and his outlaw gang I do not know, but the officers of that section began to suspect that he was in league with the outlaws some time in 1896, when it was learned that Ben sometimes absented himself for weeks at a time, and generally when he returned he was accompanied by one or more strangers, who made their banquet at the Kilpatrick ranch in Concho county, or at the Ketchum place near Knickerbocker, in Irion county.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

GENERAL TOM GREEN

Defender of Liberty Through Three Wars

Wherever there was fighting to be done in Texas between 1836 and 1864, Thomas Green was usually in the thick of it. And of fighting there was plenty. A 24-year-old Green, a lawyer and graduate of Princeton, arrived at Nacogdoches in December, 1835—just in time to join the Volunteer Auxiliary Corps of the Texas Army. After San Jacinto, in the Republic of Texas, he represented Fayette County in the 4th Congress, became Clerk of the Supreme Court, took part in an expedition against the Indians on the upper Colorado River and, as Captain, raised and led a company of volunteers in the Mexican War of 1846-47. When the State of Texas became a part of the Confederate States of America, Tom Green was again ready to champion the right to live as he chose. In the New Mexico campaign and at the recapture of Galveston, Green—then a Colonel —proved his extraordinary military leadership. Transferred to Louisiana, he was an important factor in the crucial battle of Mansfield and Pleasant Hill. As history records him, it seems as if Tom Green knew he must crowd a lifetime of adventure, bravery and devotion to the cause of freedom into a few short years. He held the well-earned rank of Brigadier General when he was killed on the Red River, April 12, 1864.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland — "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works consistently, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Our "Bill of Rights" December 15 is observed each year as "Bill of Rights Day" throughout the United States. What does this important "document" mean to us?

The American "Bill of Rights", consisting of the first ten amendments to our federal constitution, all adopted at one time in 1791, specifies in some detail a number of basic civil rights of the individual citizen. Unaltered by subsequent amendments and jealously guarded by our courts, these privileges must still be respected by our governing bodies today.

Among the most familiar of our constitutional guarantees are those relating to freedom of religion, speech, and of the press. The same article protects the rights of peaceable assembly and the privilege of petitioning the government for redress of grievances.

Another amendment secures our persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, specifies that no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, and unless supported by oath or affirmation.

The due process of law amendment encompass not one but several guarantees. Every American is secured against being placed twice in legal jeopardy for the same offense; against being compelled to be a witness against himself in a criminal case; and against having his private property taken for public use without just compensation.

He is also secured against being held for trial for a capital (death penalty) or other infamous crime, unless upon a presentment or indictment of a grand jury. And, of course, no person may be deprived of life, liberty or property without orderly court procedures, or due process of law.

The right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury, in the locality where the crime was committed, the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, and the rights to compell attendance of defense witnesses and to have the assistance of defense counsel in all criminal prosecutions are secured by another section of the "Bill of Rights."

Excessive bail and fines, and cruel and unusual punishments, are prohibited in Amendment VIII. Other articles insure the right to bear arms and ban quartering of soldiers in private homes during peace time.

Then, to make quite clear to our governing bodies the underlying intent of the preceding provisions, the Ninth Amendment declares: "The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

The Tenth Amendment further emphasizes this basic theory by providing: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Thus, that fundamental philosophy expressed in the Declaration of Independence, that men are endowed with certain unalienable rights, and that "to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed," has been carried forward into the highest law of our land.

FOLKS WHO LIVE along the back roads get first dues electric service today—just like their neighbors in the city.

IT WASN'T ALWAYS THAT WAY. For there's a big difference between a non-profit rural electric system and a commercial utility. And rural America might never have been electrified, except for this difference.

TO MAKE A PROFIT, commercial utilities judge each request for a line extension by the money-making possibility. Fact is they used to ask the farmers to pay for the lines to bring them electricity.

RURAL ELECTRICS don't operate that way. We aim to serve every farm and home in our area—even where sparsely populated. It's our moral obligation—one we gladly accept —when we borrowed from our banker, REA, to build our lines.

OUR NON-PROFIT method of doing business —the cooperative way—makes this possible.

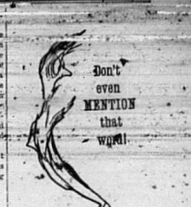
MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE NEWS

Now that all of the school pictures have been received (and paid for) many a fond aunt and grandmother will be overjoyed to receive a picture of a smiling better filled with smiling little faces. Steven Faulkner reported that his mother was getting such a letter ready on Friday when he got home.

Speaking of grandmothers (and it was done willfully, deliberately and on purpose) Mrs. Focke had just become one! Little Miss Linda Jeanne Davis made her appearance in the beautiful St. David's Hospital in Austin, Texas, on December 5 at around 1:15 pm. She may have been a little late for lunch, but had a ravenous appetite for the next meal! From now on, Mrs. Focke will probably be waving her hand around on Monday mornings as wildly and enthusiastically as the other Third Graders who want to tell their news stories.

Janie Hay has a new kitten that she found "dumped out" near her house. She calls her Miss Kitty and hopes no one comes to claim her.



Victor Strickland tried to use a sling shot for the first time Sunday. His first attempt resulted in his wrapping his own leg up in it. On his second try he hit the barn with a rock. His uncle would not let him try again for fear he would hit the windshield of his car.

Ever since the lights all went out in Bandera County, Gayle Monier (who believes in preparedness) has been collecting old lamps. He now has two "flat wick" lamps and one "Aladdin" lamp as well as four lanterns!

Douglas Bailey is playing a very good game at home that goes on day after day! He pretends to be a cowboy that has a job bringing in wood for his dad. The wood is real and, better still, the wages he earns are real "folding money."

Billy Prather's grandmother has just moved from Corpus Christi

RÁNDERA QUINTET DOWNED IN HARPER TOURNEY

The Bandera Bulldogs lacked decisive scoring punch and as a result fell before the Johnson City Eagles 34-32 and the Schreiner Rebels 43-41 in the Harper Invitational Tourney last week-end.

In Friday's certain rainer with the Eagles, the Bulldogs' inaccuracy at the free throw line proved fatal as the home town boys shot on but 12 of 24 charity attempts. Earl Keese was the game's highest point man with 16 points. Kalka hit for an additional 8 points, Schladoer 4, Richards for 2 and Joe and John for one point each.

Saturday's tilt with the Rebels knocked the Bulldogs out of contention for third place honors later won by Schreiner. The Rebels, employing a full court press, took advantage of the breaks when necessary, and this in the end proved decisive. Earl Keese again led the Bulldogs with 12 points. Kalka bucketed 9 points as did Schlader. Jones tallied 6, Richards 3, and Poe 2 points.

One bright spot for the Bulldogs was the naming of their 5-6 guard, Earl Keese to the All-Tournament team. Keese, whose ball handling, drives, and feed-off caught the eye of coaches, performed admirably, even in defeat.

Mrs. Edwin Schoenert recently spent the week-end in San Antonio visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Pennington and family.

MANY FINE PEOPLE ARE MOVING TO THE HILL COUNTRY

We understand from Col. Charles Densford of Pipe Creek that there is a possibility that Master Sergeant Huelet L. Benner of the United States Army, will move to Bandera upon retirement. As one shooter to another, Col. Densford told John Saul recently that he is encouraging Sergeant Brenner to move to Bandera and set up a gun shop, hold pistol matches and give instruction, as he (Sgt. Benner) is The National Pistol Champion in the United States and holds the Harrison Trophy and Cal. .45 Colt Gold Cup. Col. Densford recommended Bandera very highly as a place to settle. Now Sgt. Benner is stationed in New York. A cordial invitation is extended to Sgt. Benner to move to Bandera in the beautiful Hill Country when he retires.

Thanksgiving guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Dugosh were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hager and daughters, Arlene and Lorene, and Mrs. Edith Hubble of San Antonio, and Mrs. Edwin Schoenert of Bandera.

Mr. and Mrs. Zack Clark had three of their daughters and their families home to visit them during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Royce Cottrell and daughters of Helotes visited Mr. and Mrs. Clark Saturday and on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kriewald and their little month-old son, Ronnie, of Dunlay visited with the Clarks. Then Mr. and Mrs. Ira K. Pritt and children of Rock Island, Ill., are here for a ten-day visit with her parents and other relatives.

LOCAL BUSINESSMEN TAKE ACTION WITH WASHINGTON

Announcement of the appointment of L. B. Adamietz Jr. of the I. E. Adamietz & Co., as Chairman of the Bandera Chapter of the National Federation of Independent Businesses, was made today by Jack Myers of Austin, District Manager of the Federation in this area.

Each business member of this organization constitutes a voting membership, and is polled by ballot each month on the bills and issues that affect independent business enterprise in the nation.

In an effort to do everything possible to maintain the American way of life, and keep our free competitive system of business, the businessmen express their own personal opinion on the ballots each month and turn them over to I. E. Adamietz, who makes a tabulation of the total number and the manner in which they voted.

This tabulation is sent, with the signed ballott, directly to the desk of Congressman O. C. Fisher in Washington. Inasmuch as all this action takes place before Congressman Fisher and other members of Congress are required to vote on these debatable legislative issues that are proposed to be come law, it is the only manner in which it is possible for Congressman Fisher to know the personal opinions of his independent business constituents in an organized manner. A signed ballot and a copy of the tabulated results are also sent to the desk of State Senator Lewis Crump.

The National Federation of Independent Business is a non-profit organization that has the largest individual membership of any business organization in the United States and Independent business and professional men of every vocation participate with voting membership, regardless of the other civic-or trade affiliations.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Stevens had as their guests this week-end last Friday and Saturday with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moore and sons in San Antonio. Mrs. Stevens celebrated a most pleasant birthday on Saturday.

TRAGEDY STRIKES THE FUENTES HOME

Tragedy struck at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raul Fuentes Sunday when he committed suicide. Informed sources said he had been suffering for some time from headaches and his death from a 30-30 Winchester blast is credited with his ill health.

Sheriff R. B. Miller reported that officers reconstructed the scene of the shooting Tuesday and that they were thorough convinced that the shooting was suicide. Justice of the Peace William Ahring, also at the scene, rendered a verdict of suicide.

His tragic and untimely death caused sorrow to a large number of relatives and friends. He was happily married to the former Miss Celestina Alguerra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Alguseva Sr.

Raul Estrada Fuentez was born in Moncleva, Mexico, on March 8, 1927, and was 32 years of age. He had lived in this community for the past twelve years and at the time of his death was employed by John Merrick on the Bar O Ranch, where the tragedy occured. He had served in the Mexican Army before coming to the United States. He was a faithful employee and an honest upright member of the community.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at eleven o'clock at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church in Bandera followed by interment in

BULLDOG QUINTET TAKES CHAMPIONSHIP HONORS IN MEDINA TOURNEY

The Bandera Bulldogs made history, so to spelk as they captured championship honors in the Medina Invitational Tourney last week-end. This marked the first such time a Bandera boys' team had accomplished such a feat in an eight-year span dating back to 1061.

To get on the championship road, the Bulldogs upset Harper—winners of their own tournament a week ago in which the home town boys failed to even register a win by a 38-36 score. The Bulldogs leading at the end of all but one quarter, used a stall in the waning minutes to salvage the triumph. Earl Keese bucketed 15 points to win high point honors for the Bulldogs. In addition, Poe, hit for 9 points, Kalka for 6, Schladoer for 6, and Jones for 2 points.

Later the same day, the Bulldogs racked up victory number two in the tourney with a 51-34 trouncing of the Comfort Bobcats. The Bulldogs, after a nip and tuck first half, pulled away in the third stanza and had reserves finish the game. Chuck Jones paced the well-balanced scoring attack of the Bulldogs with 14 points. Kalka netted 13, Keese 11, Schladoer 10, Poe 2, and Richards 1 point.

In the championship tilt of Saturday night, the Bulldogs breezed past Utopia 58-25. Bandera used a tight zone defense to bottle up Utopia's offense as they held the opponents to 14 and 11 points in the two respective halves. Leading the Bulldogs to victory were Kalka and Keese, each with 14 points. Poe chipped in for 8 and Jones, contributed 2 points.

Besides the first place trophy, the Bulldogs were also fortunate enough to place two boys on the All-Tournament team, Being named to the honor quintet were Chuck Jones and Kenneth Kalka. Both of these boys performed yoeman service offensively and defensively during the tourney. In addition, it goes without saying that the remaining three starters performed admirably well. The Bulldogs' triumph was a team effort and the ball handling of Keese and the board work of Schlader and Poe contributed to this factor.

Friends and relatives throughout the country were shocked and grieved to hear of the passing of Frank Ross Sunday morning about 7:30 o'clock at his home on the Glosnitzer Ranch, where he had been employed as ranch foreman for several years. The large concourse of people who gathered at the Plummer Funeral Home Chapel Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock to pay their last respects to the friend and neighbor they loved so well, gave ample testimony of the esteem in which Mr. Ross was held. Pallbearers were Frank Mansfield, Harold Bausch, Rhea Mansfield, Troy Pingleton, John Saul, Ashley Rugh.

Francis Nieen Ross, better known as Frank Ross, was born in Bandera county on October 26, 1897, to John and Lena (Geiske) Ross, pioneers of this section, and was 62 years, 1 month, and 17 days of age at the time of his passing. A TRIBUTE TO MRS. TENNIE

Mrs. Tennessee Slinsky

By Elizabeth Mickelsen James

As the Christmas season approaches each year, we pause to think of our friends and loved ones far and near, and quite often we have in our hearts a special feeling of gratitude for someone who has meant so much to us through the years. This year, as so often in the past, we have made a list of former schoolmates and teachers, whom we always enjoy remembering at Christmas time either with cards, letters, or a little gift. For one on our list, nothing seemed more appropriate than a short written tribute to her. Since so many of you know and love Mrs. A. F. Slinsky as we do, we thought perhaps you would like to share this tribute with us.

Most of you know Mrs. Tennie much better than we do, but perhaps it will be well for us to reacquaint ourselves with some of the interesting events in her past, which we feel sure, have contributed much toward making her the wonderful person she is today.

First of all, Mrs. Tennie was the youngest of thirteen children born to the late Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Whitehead, pioneer settlers of Medina. Being a member of a large family such as this, she learned early in life to "give and take" and to love and understand people. Perhaps that is one reason she became a school teacher. And when we speak of a real school teacher, we refer to one who gives the best of her life for others. This, we think, Mrs. Tennie has done, for she taught for over thirty years in the Medina community, where she grew up. When she was a mere young girl, she taught for the first time at the Bluff school. Knowing Mrs. Tennie as we do now, we feel sure that even though she was young — perhaps younger than some of the students she taught that first year—she began then to instill in their minds the love for righteous living, kindness, honesty, purity, and charity, which she instills in the minds of students today. So many of us think of the English grammer and literature she taught us when we thinks of Mrs. Tennie, but, yet, in the back of our minds is imprinted the familiar phrase we heard her say so often, "Remember, boys and girls, no, matter where you are, or what you are doing, if you will but read a few words from the Bible each day, your life will be happier and fuller, because no other book has ever been written that can give you what you will get from God's word."

Although Mrs. Tennie's chief concern always seemed to be for her students, she also found time for her home and family. She met Mr. Slinsky when he was stationed in San Antonio during the First World War and she was attending college. They and her girlfriend, the former Miss Barbara Collins, and her fiance, had a double wedding at the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Collins in San Antonio. After her marriage, Mrs. Tennie returned to her favorite place, Medina, to teach again. The Slinsky home was blessed with a daughter, Marianna, who is now Mrs. Bruce Foreman. She has one little son, Andy, who, of course, is the pride and joy of his grandparents. The Slinskys also reared two of Mrs. Tennie's nephews, Jerdale and Kenneth Long, who grew up to be fine, upright citizens.

Mrs. Tennie's wit and humor make one like her and enjoy her, and her loving and sympathetic nature make one love her and respect her. The welcome mat is always out at her desk when a student has a problem, whether it is literary or personal. Her home is also a place where her students are welcome whether it is for an hour or the night.

We miss Mrs. Tennie since she is no longer teaching at Medina and it can truly be said that Medina's loss is Leroy, Texas' gain. There she is teaching English and literature to 196 ninth grade students and is efficiently serving as counselor, instilling in those children the high ideals for which she has set before the youth of the Medina community for so long.

God bless you, Mrs. Tennie. And as we can see, as we too, grow older, some of our other dear teachers—the world is a better place because of them, and have loved, taught, and inspired so many of the youth in it.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Double Jeopardy

Most likely you can't picture yourself being brought into court on anything worse than a speeding violation. Nearly everyone feels that way. Even so, it is good to know that in this country you can't be made to stand trial twice for the same offense.

We have a provision in the U.S. Constitution against "double jeopardy." That's one of the important safeguards in our system of law which makes it certain that once a court has reached a verdict in a criminal case the person for the case must be put on trial again for the same offense.

To add to the protection, if a person has been acquitted, the prosecution cannot appeal the case to a higher court. The constitution states specifically: "Nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life and limb."

This right holds good, however, only if a full trial is held and a verdict is reached. It is possible to face another trial on the same charge if the first trial ends with a "hung jury" or a "mistrial," or if a new trial is requested.

A classic example comes from the "Wild West" days. In that era a man named Ball was charged with murder, along with two others. Ball was acquitted, but the others were found guilty. The guilty pair appealed to a higher court, and their original indictment was found to be faulty.

Once again the government accused all three men. Ball claimed his right against double jeopardy had been invaded, and the U. S. Supreme Court agreed. He didn't have to stand trial again. The other two did, and paid the penalty for their guilt.

The reason for the "double jeopardy" provision is to protect the individual from being hounded all his life. In old England, where the fear of tyranny first prompted safeguards for personal freedom, one court said: "Were it not for this rule, anyone obnoxious to the government might be run down by repeated attempts to carry on a prosecution against him."

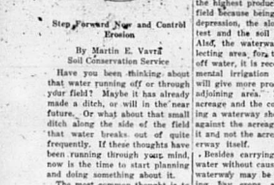
(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

"NAVY RATES CRITICAL"

Roy T. Jones, USNR, EMC, local Navy Recruiter announced today that further Navy men who have been discharged less than 2 years in one of 92 "open ratings" may be reenlisted in the rate held at time of discharge.

The list of "open rates" just received from the Navy Department makes it possible for certain ex-Navy personnel to reenlist under "non-consecutive" terms of service, without losing the benefits of their prior rating. The local recruiter pointed out that the ratings are considered "critical" due to having an insufficient number presently on active duty, and that personnel in the next higher pay grade within the several groups listed would be rapid due to the insufficiency.

The 92 rates in which reenlistment within 2 years may be effected in previous grade held are: AC1; AD1; AE1, 2 and 3; AG1; AM1, 2 and 3; BRC and 1; BT2 and 3; BU2 and 3; CEC; CT1, 2 and 3; EM1 and 2; EN1, 2 and 3; EO1 and 2; ETR1, 2 and 3; FT2 and 3; GM2 and 3; HM1, 2 and 3; MA2 and 3; MM1, 2 and 3; MN1; MR1 and 2; MTC1, 2 and 3; ow1 and 2; ow2 and 3; OM2 and 3; PR2 and 3; PTG1, 2 and 3; QM1 and 2; QM2 and 3; RD1, 2 and 3; RM1, 2 and 3; SF3; SK3; SMC, 1, 2 and 3; SOC; 2 and 3; STG1, 2 and 3; SW2 and 3; TM1, 2 and 3; and YN3.



The local Navy Recruiting Office is located in the Post Office building in Kerrville. Their telephone number is: CE 6-6919.

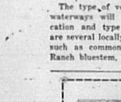
SUMMER FLAVOR IN YEAR-ROUND SALAD

Step Forward Now and Control Erosion

By Martin E. Vavra
Soil Conservation Service



Have you been thinking about that water running off or through your field? Maybe it has already made a ditch, or will in the near future. Or what about that small ditch along the side of the field that water breaks out of quite frequently. If these thoughts have been running through your mind, now is the time to start planning and doing something about it.

The most common thought is to "build terraces and all of my troubles will be solved." This is a far fetched thought since most cultivated fields that have water problems will need some type of a water control to dispose of the excess water.

The natural depression in a field is the best and most commonly used area as a drainage way for the excess water. This drainageway or waterway, as it is commonly referred to, may be a natural depression, the terrace channel, or a man made waterway.

Inspect your farm for erosion and by stepping forward now, erosion can be controlled easier and cheaper than by postponing it a few years.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mansfield received word that their little daughter, Judy, 17-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mansfield, has been a patient in a Waco hospital following a fall in which a tooth cut through his tongue causing severe bleeding. Several stitches had to be taken in his tongue, and he has been under sedation most of the time, so much blood, but he was recovering nicely at last report.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

An Autobiography
Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaperman, this is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you know personally in different Texas counties. The old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican revolutions hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

Tarpley NEWS

 County Agricultural Agent Texas A. & M. College Extension Service ***

By Mrs. John G. James

A highlight of the week-end's activities for Tarpley folks was the annual Demonstration Club's annual Christmas party held at the attractively decorated and remodeled and redecorated home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nichols. The beautiful snow-covered Christmas tree adorned with lights and glittering ornaments was the center of attraction in the spacious living room. Mistletoe and pyracantha berries, along with other holiday material, decorated the fireplace mantle and the dining table. While many played games, others enjoyed visiting and chatting. Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, and candies were served with coffee and cocoa. After refreshments were served, the gift exchange was held and the array of gaily wrapped packages under the Christmas tree were distributed. The club members also received lovely gifts from their secret pals, some of whom revealed their identities and some of whom made them more secret than ever and kept their recipients guessing. When each one had opened his gift, the ladies gathered up the paper and bows and began wrapping little gifts of tooth paste, combs, soap, and perfume, purchased by the club, to be sent to the Tubercular hospital at Kerrville. Boxes of cookies and candy were also fixed for each child's part in the community who were ill or who had done special services for the club. Mrs. Gladys Kinsey, a former member of the club, who now resides in Kerrville and has been ill for several months, was also remembered. Those present to enjoy the delightful affair were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Mansfield and Mrs. Otto Marquis, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Billings, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. R. Sandifer, Mrs. G. M. Mickelsen, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reiber, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Richards and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hamill, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Short, Mr. and Mrs. John G. James and daughter, Minneana, all of the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols.

Everyone is invited to attend the Christmas program and party to be held at the Tarpley Baptist church Sunday morning, December 20th, at eleven o'clock immediately following the Church School hour. Christmas carols will be sung and small gifts will be provided for the children present. All children of the community are especially invited to attend, so come and bring the little folks.

Mrs. W. J. Schmidt spent a few days last week at Waco where she was the guest of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cole and sons. Mrs. Schmidt and Mrs. Hull, who are twins, celebrated their birthday Friday, December 11th. We join the relatives and the many friends of these nice ladies in wishing them many more happy birthdays together.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hamil of Ingleside were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Richards during the week-end.

Friends will be sorry to learn that James Schmidt, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Schmidt, of Boerne, is a patient in the Santa Rosa hospital in San Antonio. James broke his leg a couple of weeks ago and will have to stay in the hospital for approximately two or three weeks yet. He is in room number 301 and we feel sure he will enjoy cards from anyone, whether he is personally acquainted with them or not. He is a little fellow, and old enough to attend school yet, so we feel sure he must get mighty lonely at times even though he is never left alone. A card or cheer can do wonders for these little folks sometimes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Richards were Bandera visitors last Thursday evening and called at the Bulletin office while they were in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Schmidt and daughter, Brenda Sue, visited James Schmidt at the Santa Rosa hospital in San Antonio last Thursday.

We feel sure that Mr. and Mrs. Howard Billings will agree that the nicest Christmas gift which we ever arrived at their home was their daughter, Mrs. W. B. Richards, who was born on December 23rd. When Ruby celebrated another birthday next Wednesday, we hope it will be the happiest one ever, and that it will be followed by many, many more.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove and children, Marian, Richard, and Billy of Hondo, spent the week-end at their home here.

A lovely bridal shower was given for Miss Kay Fortner at the home of Mrs. Click in San Antonio on December 1. She received many useful and lovely gifts.

Milton Lewis went to Ingleside Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lewis returned home with Mrs. Wednesday after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lewis and daughters, Marjorie and Jean.

Rev. and Mrs. Marion Carlton and children were dinner guests of Sgt. and Mrs. John Fortner and children Kay and Jackie, Wednesday evening.

Again Mrs. Mattie Johnston was most happily surprised by having her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Tondouze of San Antonio and Mrs. Jack Heard of Las Vegas, Arizona, who is here visiting her daughter, to come out to see her Sunday afternoon. They also came to see her on Thanksgiving afternoon and each time brought her gifts too numerous to mention. Mr. Tondouze has a store at 4102 Blanco Road.

We are sorry to report J. M. Pepper on the sick list. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Lewis and Mrs. J. B. Edwards enjoyed a trip to the beautiful Golden Fawn Club Resort near Boerne Sunday, which Hugh Matlock is sponsoring. This is Mr. Matlock's most recent sub-division.

ATTORNEY-FEES LAW PASSED BY LEGISLATURE

A law passed by the third special session of the Legislature governs pay for court-appointed attorneys in felony (district court) cases. The new law allows a judge in any felony case to recommend up to $25 a day for trial work and $10 for entering pleas of guilty. Under the old law, a $10 flat rate was outlined and $25 for completed appeals. Although the judge is allowed to make the new fees, he is not compelled to do so.

Payments under the new law are taken from the discretion of the commissioners and made mandatory, a clause which will probably have little or no effect on cases in Bandera county, because in all probability there will be no more than one or two cases in a year that will fall in this category.

The county will be sure two other clauses of the new law are met before a payment will be okayed, should any felony case of this nature come up in Bandera county. These two clauses say that the defendant must sign a paupers oath of complete destitution and the defendant must never have received bail bond. If these two qualifications are met, Judge O. O. Adams said, the commissioners have no other course than to pay. However, as has been previously stated, it is very likely that Bandera county will not have any such cases, and if there are, there will probably be no more than one or two in a year, which will affect our county's finances very little, if any.

Judd Clark returned to Temple last week where he is receiving further treatment. We hope he will recover rapidly and be able to return home soon.

THE TEXAS HIGHWAY

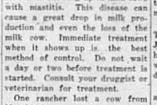
FORTY-ONE YEARS

Austin, Texas.—The Texas Highway Department has just totaled its forty-first year of operation. State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said that 80 per cent of the funds expended during the past year were for construction, and 12 per cent for maintenance.

"Less than two-thirds of one per cent was spent for the administration of the Highway Department, and the remaining six and one-third per cent went for the highway patrol and miscellaneous operations.

"The 80 per cent expended for construction is the largest per cent that has gone for this item since the few years after the creation of the Highway Department. Almost all of the expenditures went for construction in those early days, as the counties were responsible for highway maintenance at that time. The Department assumed maintenance of state highways in 1924.

"Over the 41 years, 70 per cent of the funds have been expended for construction," Greer said.



Last year, 19 per cent of the revenue of the Department came from license plates, 28 per cent from the gasoline tax, 45 per cent from the federal government, and the remaining 6 per cent from miscellaneous sources.

In the 41 years of operation, 83.8 miles of roads have been spent on the Texas Highway System. The System now consists of 60,574 miles.

MRS. ELLA LEWIS IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Ella Lewis, mother of A-B Lewis, was taken by Plummer ambulance to the 85-bed Peterson Memorial Hospital, Sunday night following a fall. After examination there it was learned she had sustained a broken leg. Her friends here hope she will soon be well and able to return home.

Toots Mansfield of Big Spring spent the week-end here with his mother, Mrs. C. H. Mansfield, and other relatives.

MEAT INSPECTION

Attorney General Will Wilson has ruled that city meat inspection ordinances may cover poultry and domestic rabbits too in an opinion requested by J. E. Peavy, State Commissioner of Health.

The opinion further stated that any permits issued for the use of Texas State Approved label under the Meat Inspection Act in a city having passed an ordinance should be issued only after inspection and approval on both State and local levels.

"The State Health Department alone has the power to revoke any permit issued when, after notice and haring, it is determined that a section of this act has been violated."

BETTER MAIL SERVICE FOR BANDERA

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today announced wide-ranging improvements in mail transportation that will mean better mail service for Bandera and 298 other communities in the San Antonio-Austin metropolitan area.

Discussing the program at a meeting of postmasters in San Antonio Tuesday, George A. Gray, Regional Operations Director, said that more than two million people in the 64-county area, extending from the hill country around San Angelo to the Rio Grande Valley, would benefit by better mail service.

Barring infrequent delays in media of transportation and seasonal distribution errors, first-class letters mailed at designated collection boxes or in the post office before 5:00 p.m., oh a business day will be delivered on the first delivery on any office in the area on the following business day.

"Tests just concluded," Mr. Gray said, "proved the mail pattern to be exceptionally successful. Approximately 1,650,000 first-class letters originate on an average day in post offices inside the area. Approximately 63 per cent of this mail is destined for points within the area. We have tested our new service patterns and schedules with highly satisfactory results."

He pointed out that mail for and from offices outside the area, all over the United States, will be expedited by the new arrangement, accelerating the flow of mail in the metropolitan areas, it was explained, is part of the national postal program, which has reduced day delivery between any two points in the country as its long-range objective.

This is the 58th Metropolitan Area Plan established in the country, serving a population of more than 125 million people.

The revised mail pattern is based on the establishment of sectional centers to which mail from outlying offices is brought for consolidation and onward dispatch for connections with truck line facilities at San Antonio.

These sectional centers have been established at Alice, Austin, Corpus Christi, San Angelo, San Antonio, Taylor and Temple. In addition, three mobile sectional centers, which are highway buses in which mail is distributed en route, operate between Alice and McAllen, Corpus Christi and San Antonio, and Houston and San Antonio.

Post Offices near one of these sectional centers will send their mail to that point for processing. Non-stop service over the highway then will carry the mail to San Antonio for dispatch to destination. Special connections have been established via truck between Alice and San Antonio, connecting central Texas cities with the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Some cities could not be brought within the plan because of the distance involved; however, slightly earlier mailing would assure the patrol the benefit of metropolitan area service. Mr. Gray pointed out that the new plan covers over 72,000 square miles of territory, making it the second largest such postal area in the United States.

The plan requires an intricate pattern of interlocking schedules to bring transportation media on schedules set up for one purpose —to give better mail service. For example, under this plan letters mailed in San Antonio, Austin or at the post office or in designated collection boxes before 5 p.m., on a business day will receive next-day delivery in all cities in the entire area, including all offices in the Rio Grande Valley. Conversely, letters mailed in the Rio Grande Valley and other offices in the area will receive city-wide delivery the following business day in San Antonio and Austin.

Mr. Gray said this improvement in letter mail service is the result of intensive study, and he credits the cooperation of dedicated postal employees in the 294 offices involved.

He explained that the next-day delivery depends on the conscientious attention of postal employees, as well as the closely integrated time table which coordinates the area's postal units and the transportation linking them together.

"Our objective," he noted, "that the newly arranged service comes at a time when the winter weather and heavier holiday mailings will tax our facilities and schedules to the limit. We will require the wholehearted cooperation of the public, as well, to keep up the high level of efficiency in the new plan."

MAN CAUGHT FOR CATCHING DRUNK DUCKS

Minneapolis.—The ducks tipsy on whisky-soaked corn slipped and skidded on the ice and fell easy prey to the hunting dog.

That, game warden said, was the way a number of tardy migrating mallards were snared from the ice of Lake Calhoun, a Minneapolis city lake.

Corn soaked in whisky was tossed onto the ice where the birds have been congregating. When the birds became too drunk to realize their predicament, a dog was sent out to retrieve them.

Game Warden Ernie Boyd said Phillip Ralph Turnbull, 20, Minneapolis, has a date this afternoon with a justice of the peace because of the novel game-hanging idea.

Boyd said six ducks were found pobering up on Turnbull's back porch and that 36 more ducks were in a home freezer.

State game enforcement officials said no formal charge was placed against Turnbull immediately, frequently the custom in game law violation cases. Turnbull, however, was ordered to report before a justice today, when complaints will be drawn.

JUDGE GRISSOM OPENS REAL ESTATE OFFICE

Mrs. Ollie Grissom, realtor, announces the opening of her office on Main Street next door to the Bowne Insurance Agency and she extends an invitation to everyone to visit her there.

Mrs. Grissom is not a newcomer to Bandera as she and her husband have owned a home in Highland Waters for the past nine years and have visited here frequently although they have resided in Victoria where she assisted in the operation of a real estate service. Mrs. Grissom is residing in Victoria at the present time and is taking care of his business there, while she has moved up here and opened a real estate office.

In speaking with a Bulletin reporter, Mrs. Grissom stated that she needs listings of ranches and pasture land in this area as she has demands for such property at Victoria and all along the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Fisher of Utopia entertained with a birthday dinner Monday night at their home honoring their granddaughter, Miss Susan Langford, on her 15th birthday. Guests included Miss Diane Fisher of Utopia, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Langford, Miss Betsy Langford, Mr. and Mrs. J. Byrd Davenport, and the honoree of Bandera.

111 PERSONS PREDICTED TO DIE OVER HOLIDAYS

One-hundred and eleven persons will die violently in Texas traffic accidents during the forthcoming Christmas-New Years holiday if predictions released today by the Texas Department of Public Safety hold true.

The ominous forecast cam efrom Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Department of Public Safety, for a 12 day period extending from 12:01 a.m., December 23, through 11:59 p.m., January 3.

The 111 predicted motorcides are included in an estimate made by Department Statistician N. K. Woerner, which indicates that 200 persons will die in violence during the period. The breakdown is as follows: Motorcides 111; homicides and suicides 47; accidental deaths not traffic 42; grand total 200.

Colonel Garrison named several reasons for the prediction that this years holiday period will be one of the most deadly for Texas motorists in several years.

"The Christmas-New Year's holiday is expected to be one of the most dangerous for drivers that we have experienced for some time. Not only is the holiday period longer in the number of days it covers, but this has been a prosperous year for drivers and more cars are on the road.

"This year's accident rate is running considerably ahead of that of last year and we can naturally expect this trend to carry throughout the holidays. One other factor adds to our dim forecast. Both Christmas Day and New Year's day fall on Friday, making two extra long week-ends within the holiday period.

"The best I can say is that I hope we are wrong. We can be wrong if Texas motorists will take common sense precautions in driving."

CATTLE AUCTION WILL CLOSE FOR CHRISTMAS

The livestock market and the regular Thursday Cattle Auction at the Union Stock Yards San Antonio will not be held December 24 and 25, 1959, in observance of Christmas. The market and auction will also be closed December 31, 1959, and January 1, 1960. The regular market will be open Monday through Wednesday of each week.

The officials of the Union Stock Yards San Antonio emphasized that the unloading dock will be open twenty-four hours a day to receive livestock for the next market day. The next regular cattle auction will be held Thursday, January 7, 1960.

The officials of the Stock Yards expressed the hope that everyone will have a Merry Christmas and a Happy Holiday Season. With continued good weather conditions and a good livestock market, ranchers and farmers can look forward to a prosperous New Year in 1960.

TWICE-TOLD TEXAS TALES

By J. Marvin Hunter, Sr.

Under this heading from time to time we will publish Texas historical articles which we have compiled and printed before in Frontier Times or in other publications, but which we believe will be of interest to Bulletin readers.

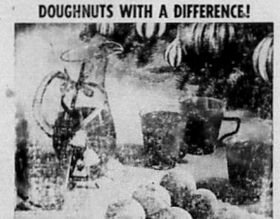
MORE ABOUT THE FAMOUS BOWIE KNIFE

They are again talking about the Bowie knife—its origin. In the November number of the Frontier Times of Bandera the publisher and editor, J. Marvin Hunter, cites numerous authorities on the invention of the weapon which bears the name of the Alamo hero, Col. James Bowie. Each one of these claims to have the low-down on the origin of the Bowie knife, yet there are slight discrepancies, and Editor Hunter winds up the argument by the question, "Who invented the Bowie knife?" to which there is no accurate or sure answer. The pistols of that day were not as accurate or sure of fire as they now are. They were flint-locks, as percussion caps were not in general use until 1826.

"Bowie had great faith in a knife. He declared that it was the surest and most faithful of all weapons in the hands of a man who had only on his nerves, but that he had never seen a weapon of that sort which came up to a record of moving traffic violations. "This is not an increase in automobile rates—it is a shifting of costs," Dr. Strain emphasized.

Breaking down an intensive survey of driving records of 40,865 Texas motorists, into more understandable statistics, Dr. Strain revealed that out of 23 insured family automobiles, 13 will receive a discount of 20 per cent on their premium rates and 4 will receive the same rate they have been paying before. Thus, 17 of 23 will either receive a reduction or no change in the rate they now pay. The remaining 6 will pay higher rates. Of these, 3 will pay only 20 per cent increase, one will pay a 40 per cent increase, the remaining 2 will pay from 60 per cent to 100 per cent increase in rate.

The Safe Driving Insurance Plan is a result of the public demand to reward safe drivers and force those who have bad accidents or records of moving traffic violations to share a more proportionate cost.



"In addition, we very definitely feel that this plan will provide an incentive to reduce the tragic toll on our highways that may not have been present heretofore," he said.

In a lighter tone, Dr. Strain remarked that the Plan had already had one immediate effect. "Prior to its announcement the bulk of our mail was to do something to reward the safe driver; since the Plan has become known, we no longer hear that request, and have assumed that our letter writers now fall into the minority of drivers who will be paying the surcharge," he stated.

The State Board Member went on to point out that the plan is not up on a point system which provides 4 points for driving while intoxicated, hit-and-run, or negligent homicide with a motor vehicle; 2 points for accidents not falling under exemptions involving clear-cut blame for operator of the other vehicle involved; and 1 point for moving traffic violations.

Dr. Strain concluded his speech by pointing out "This is a sound plan for the insurance buying public. It puts the cost where the cost should be, and it does not provide any extra dollars for insurance companies. It is a good plan which, if necessary, can be altered if experience shows it needs altering in the future."

DOUGHNUTS WITH A DIFFERENCE!

New yeast-raised Sugar 'N Spice Doughnuts with an unusual touch of orange are delicious and festive fare for holiday parties. Team them with ambrosial apple cider to make food fit for the gods—and guests!

SUGAR 'N SPICE DOUGHNUTS

1 cup milk
½ cup margarine or butter
½ cup light brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup warm (not hot) water
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
2 eggs, well beaten
2 teaspoons nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon grated orange rhod
5½ cups sifted flour

Scald milk. Stir in margarine, light brown sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. Measure water into large bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast and stir until dissolved. Add eggs, spices, orange rind and lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in flour. Turn out onto lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Shape into ball. Place in greased bowl and brush top with soft shortening. Cover with dampened cloth and let rise in warm place (85°) until double in bulk, about 1½ hours. Turn out on lightly floured board and roll out 7½ inch thick. Cut with 1½ or 2-inch biscuit cutter. Place on baking sheet, cover and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until double, about 30 minutes. Fry 3 or 4 at a time in hot fat (365°) about 3 minutes. Drain on paper toweling; sugar while warm. Makes 4 dozen.

SAFE DRIVERS TO BE REWARDED

Fort Worth.—Texas motorists who have operated their automobiles in an accident free and lawful manner during the past three years will be rewarded to the extent of $20 million, Dr. Robert W. Strain, Member of the State Board of Insurance told a meeting of the Independent Insurance Agents Association here Monday noon.

Actually, the plan will be a shifting of financial burden from the careful driver to the shoulders of those who have been involved in accidents or who have compiled a record of moving traffic violations. "This is not an increase in automobile rates—it is a shifting of costs," Dr. Strain emphasized.

Breaking down an intensive survey of driving records of 40,865 Texas motorists, into more understandable statistics, Dr. Strain revealed that out of 23 insured family automobiles, 13 will receive a discount of 20 per cent on their premium rates and 4 will receive the same rate they have been paying before. Thus, 17 of 23 will either receive a reduction or no change in the rate they now pay. The remaining 6 will pay higher rates. Of these, 3 will pay only 20 per cent increase, one will pay a 40 per cent increase, the remaining 2 will pay from 60 per cent to 100 per cent increase in rate.

The Safe Driving Insurance Plan is a result of the public demand to reward safe drivers and force those who have bad accidents or records of moving traffic violations to share a more proportionate cost.

"In addition, we very definitely feel that this plan will provide an incentive to reduce the tragic toll on our highways that may not have been present heretofore," he said.

In a lighter tone, Dr. Strain remarked that the Plan had already had one immediate effect. "Prior to its announcement the bulk of our mail was to do something to reward the safe driver; since the Plan has become known, we no longer hear that request, and have assumed that our letter writers now fall into the minority of drivers who will be paying the surcharge," he stated.

The State Board Member went on to point out that the plan is not up on a point system which provides 4 points for driving while intoxicated, hit-and-run, or negligent homicide with a motor vehicle; 2 points for accidents not falling under exemptions involving clear-cut blame for operator of the other vehicle involved; and 1 point for moving traffic violations.

Dr. Strain concluded his speech by pointing out "This is a sound plan for the insurance buying public. It puts the cost where the cost should be, and it does not provide any extra dollars for insurance companies. It is a good plan which, if necessary, can be altered if experience shows it needs altering in the future."

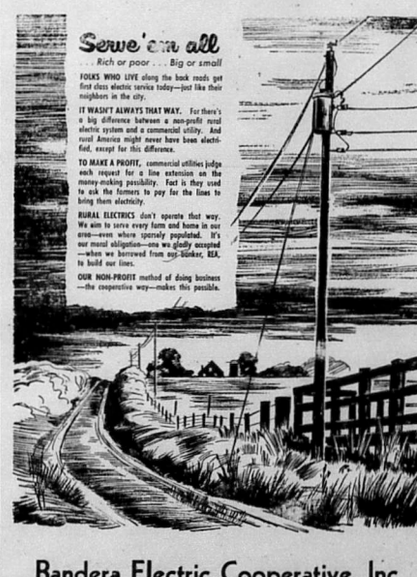
PRUNE NUT LOAF

Ideal treat for holiday callers. Dressier than plain bread but less rich than holiday cake, Prune Nut Loaf is a wonderful bet for the holiday season. With this inviting loaf tucked away in reserve, you can always produce a light refreshment to grownups or children.

Prune Nut Loaf is a compact loaf, slightly moist, and crammed full of meaty prune pieces to give it a wonderfully sunny, mellow-to-tart fruitiness. You can slice it thin and butter, for it takes the cream cheese gracefully. You can slice it thick and spread with cream cheese or jelly.

And as a final virtue, Prune Nut Loaf is simple as can be to bake. The ingredients are few, the directions simple.

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup prune juice
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
*1 cup chopped pitted prunes
½ cup chopped walnuts



Cream together butter or margarine and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating between each. Add prune juice and lemon rind. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Add to creamed mixture. Mix well. Stir in prunes and nut meats. Pour into greased 9"x 5"x 3" loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., 60-70 minutes. Slice when cold.

*Prunes were soaked in cold water over night. The soaking water was the prune juice used in this recipe.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dorrow of Selma, California, arrived here last week to spend the holidays and the remainder of the winter at their home here. The Dorrows had planned to come last month, but due to Mrs. Dorrow's illness, they were unable to do so. We are happy that she has improved and was able to come now as several of her children plan to be here with them during the Christmas holidays.

THIS CHRISTMAS SEASON

Christmas is just a week around the corner and stores the nation over will be jam-packed by Christmas week. Shoppers, probably you and I, will be among the crowds at one time or another. Won't we ever learn to do our Christmas shopping in July? But actually, part of the Christmas fun is being among happy, excited people as they search for the right gift for a loved one. If we are in the crowd this week and happen to get our toes stepped on or have someone weasel ahead of us as we endeavor to check out, let's remember to keep a smile on our lips and a song in our hearts, for we, among all people, have much to be thankful for: our home, our loved ones, the Christmas time and the fire on the hearth, our church with its open doors and warm friendship inside, and above all; let's not forget the real meaning of the Christmas season. And, as Christmas draws nearer, remember to pause each day and remember "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think of these things."

DeWayne Redding went to visit Robin Shaw. While he was there, he and Robin practiced shooting several guns, and went hunting and had a lot of fun.

Jessie Esquivel and Johnny Richards spent the week-end shooting fireworks. They had a good time and are hoping to do the same thing next week-end.

Joe Kitzman had some exciting news to report. He did nothing!

Billy Wright was excited about his ride on the stagecoach. He visited his cousin in Mansfield Park also, and that was almost as much fun as the stagecoach ride.

Andy McGee took a trip Sunday to Three Rivers. Andy saw some red squirrels and a large group of rabbits.

Johnny Richards and his brother went deer hull hunting and shot quite a few of them.

THIRD GRADE NEWS, MRS. ECKE

The third graders hope that Mrs. Byrne enjoyed teaching them on Thursday and Friday as much as they enjoyed having her, while Mrs. Focke was taking care of Jeanne and Linda Jeanne in Austin.

Christmas is really in the air these days. Billy Prather helped his mother trim their tree. They broke only one pretty decoration —not bad with four little children around!

Ray D'Spain and Zane Everett played together and went out to find a suitable Christmas tree. Ray finds his mother very hard to please. She wants them pretty on both sides.

At least five of the third graders report having seen Santa at the Everett's store. His presence surprises because Zane discovered him there quite by accident when he "TRIMMED" Santa's beard.

Linda Goodenough was at her grandmother's Sunday when some pretty friends came out to have a cedar Christmas tree. Their little boy let her shoot his BB gun when it wasn't loaded—a fairly safe sport, but fun!

Jane Ann Pearson's dad and her little brother left two weeks ago for Tennessee and will return on Sunday with her grandmother, who is going to spend Christmas with them. Jane Ann said she and Patti cried after they had departed and her baby sister laughed at them. Now they are all smiles at the thought of seeing them again.

Gayle Monier made a real gift for a little cousin of his. He always wants a playhouse when he visits him so he "constructed" one for him—complete with a brick fireplace. He built a fire in it, but it went out and his dad thought he was sending up Indian smoke signals.

Janie Hay's Uncle Gid brought her three chickens. She named them Grandma Minnie, Grandpa Minnie, Miss Minnie and Minnie, "all for the nice lady who works in the doctor's office."

Steven Faulkner and his brothers earned $1.14 gathering up bottles and selling them.

Earl Wayne Heinen has a new puppy which he has not yet named.

Ira Thetford has one which is not new but is named. He calls him "Brownie."

Brenda Everett and Linda Sue Short were sick this week-end with the old "flu bug."

We had the Sunday School Attendance banner for one whole beautiful week, but lost it again because too many of us did something else on Sunday. Victor Strickland made "nigger-shooters" for example, and his teacher rocked an adorable "bundle of sweet, gurgling sounds" to sleep. We must do better if we hope to win that banner again!

Could anyone deny this baby a few minutes?

Certainly not the mother or father. And surely you, a stranger, would not begrudge a few minutes of your time to protect this baby's life—or yours!

Driving faster than road conditions or the law allows can shorten your trip no more than two or three minutes. Is this saving worth the risk of a precious life? For minutes like these can mean the difference between life and death.

Last year, nearly 40,000 men, women and children died in traffic accidents. In 3 out of 10 fatal crashes, speeding was a factor. Think how many lives just minutes can save . . . and slow down!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself.
Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection.
Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council.
Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

KEEPING CHRISTMAS CHRISTIAN

As we enter the happy Advent season, we remember the coming of Jesus Christ into the world. His coming promised a new revelation of God. There at the center of the holy family was the Babe of Bethlehem.

Jesus place in the holy family is important. For in the midst of the human situation God reveals himself most clearly in the person of the Child, and he shows his will for the world in terms of family relationship.

Today and every day, Christmas is a family observance of the birthday of Jesus. It is a time for noting that God is reaching into our world, seeking to make everything and everyone forever different.

God comes to us in the infant Jesus. In the Bethlehem scene we find many different persons who have come to see and worship him. There are shepherds, as well as wise men, wealthy, as well as poor. With each one the Child has some special relationship, but it is all bound up in the family, without which there would be no Christmas.

Prayer:

Heavenly Father, may we ever keep Christmas Christian, never forsaking the central importance of Jesus and the holy family. May we observe it with his spirit and in his attitude. AMEN.

MISS LANGFORD HONORED WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Last Saturday night Miss Susan Langford was delightfully surprised when Miss Peggy Montague honored her with a lovely [illegible] at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Montague, Jr. The Christmas motif was carried out in the beautiful decorations throughout the home. The nativity scene, complete with angels, adorned the piano and Santa Clause surrounded by figurines spelling "NOEL", and silver pine cones decorated the mantle over which hung a large mirror trimmed with angel's hair and blue lights. Christmas arrangements, balls, pine cones, and angel hair decorated the archway between the livingroom and dining room.

A gold candle burned in an old-time lamp, sprayed gold and decorated with red holly leaves, on the refreshment table, which was covered with a white linen cloth. The huge birthday cake was appropriately decorated with green icing, red candles and the words, "Happy Birthday" in white letters. Silver dishes held cookies, pretzels, party snacks, a variety of dips, peanuts, and party punch.

The guests enjoyed dancing and playing games during the evening, and the honoree opened the many lovely gifts which she received.

Members of the young set who enjoyed the happy occasion with Susan were Jamie Sue Nixon, Bobby Mueller, Terry Knibbe, Jean Daniels, Karen Kitzman, Herman Frerich, Danny and Elena Dennford, Augusta Mechler, Edwin Lane Langford, DeWayne Smith, Harry Heim, Ray Anderwald, Claudia Shaw, Mary Evelyn Shane, Sharon Cox, Robert Bradley, Janie, Laura, Frank III, Charlie, Kathleen, and Bill Montague, and the hostess, Peg Montague. Several of the parents and friends also dropped in to join the youngsters in wishing Susan a happy birthday.

Mrs. Lona Jackson visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Herrington, at Brady early Wednesday morning, and was accompanied to Brownwood by her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Morgan of Brady. She returned home late Wednesday with a large quantity of beautiful cut flowers and potted plants for her flower shop for Christmas.

MRS. FRANK LEWIS TAKEN TO MERCEDES FOR BURIAL

Many friends and relatives in this section will grieve to learn of the death of Mrs. Frank B. Lewis, beloved mother of A. B. Lewis, who passed away in the Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital in Kerrville on December 23, 1959.

Ella Arabella Peck Lewis was born in Vandalia, Jasper County, Iowa, on March 2, 1867. On March 9, 1895, she was happily married to Frank Edward Lewis and this union was blessed with five sons: Archie B. Lewis, Cecil R. Lewis, Ted R. Lewis, Dottie L. Lewis, and Roy B. Lewis.

Mrs. Lewis was preceded in death by her husband who passed away in 1937 and by two of her sons, Cecil R. and Dottie L. Lewis.

She is survived by three sons, three grandchildren, one brother, and a number of neices and nephews. Surviving sons are Archie B. Lewis of Bandera, Ted R. Lewis of Corpus Christi, Roy B. Lewis of Hot Spring, South Dakota; grandchildren, Grace Lewis of Austin, Texas, Hugh L. Lewis of Los Angeles, California, and Don L. Lewis of Lawrence, Kansas; and one brother, Guy Lewis, of Des Moines, Iowa.

Memorial services were held in Bandera with Rev. David Lee Stewart officiating on December 24, 1959, with interment in Mercedes, Texas, that same day.

Mrs. Lewis was a pioneer. With her parents she took the westward trail in a covered wagon to Kansas when the buffalo were still roaming the prairies of Kansas. She later returned to Des Moines, Iowa, where she taught school for several years. She then spent some time in Oklahoma during the days of the land rush where she lived on a claim with her father. In 1895 she was married to Frank Edward Lewis in Des Moines, Iowa. Three of her sons were born in Iowa; then the family moved to the young state of South Dakota where two other sons were born. In 1912 the Lewis family were again numbered as pioneers. This time they moved to the Rio Grande Valley of Texas. Here, again, Mrs. Lewis took a little time out from family duties to teach school for several years. She was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church. She was a delegate to the first Christian Endeavor Meeting of the Presbyterian Church held in Minneapolis, Minnesota, shortly after she graduated from high school in Des Moines.

NATIONAL FARM LOAN OF KERRVILLE GETS NEW NAME

The National Farm Loan Association of Kerrville which has made and serviced Federal Land Bank loans in this area for more than 40 years has a new name effective December 31, 1959. According to Max O. Reinbach, Secretary-Treasurer, the association is the "Federal Land Bank Association of Kerrville" beginning December 31, as a result of the Farm Credit Act of 1959, and he is "Manager" instead of Secretary-Treasurer.

Another change permitted by the new law which is of interest to Farmers and Ranchers is the removal of the $200,000 loan limit. Also, the new law provides that funds loaned to purchase capital stock in the Federal Land Bank Association can be over and above the present loan limit of 65 per cent of the normal agricultural value of the farm or ranch mortgaged.

Mr. Reinbach stated that the association is now servicing over 600 Federal Land Bank loans for about $4,000,000 for land owners in the five county area served by the association, these being Bandera, Blanco, Gillespie, Kendall and Kerr Counties. In addition to Mr. Reinbach, the officers and directors of the association are: H. T. Fuchs, Cypress Mill, president; R. B. Nowlin, vice-president; W. H. Stevens, Sr., Harper; R. G. U. S. Post Office at Medina Burglarized

According to Sheriff R. B. Miller, the U.S. Post Office at Medina was burglarized sometime Sunday night or early Monday morning. Sheriff Miller said the culprits, who appear to be professionals, gained entrance to the building by prying open the back door of the post office and "peeled" the safe by cutting the rivets out of the door with a chisel and knocking the knob off.

Several U.S. Treasury checks were taken from envelopes and were stolen along with $245.29 cash and 457 blank money orders and the money order stamp. No postage stamps, post cards, or envelopes were taken.

No trace of the burglars has been found and as yet there is no lead to their apprehension. There were no finger prints left behind, or any other clues.

The U. S. Post Office at Waring, Texas, was burglarized a few nights prior to the Medina burglary and the U. S. Post Office at Utopia was burglarized about a month ago. Approximately $1600 was stolen from the Piggly Wiggly Grocery in Kerrville, and Sheriff Miller says that it is his opinion that the same thieves may be connected in all these robberies, but thus far there is no proof.

FIRE AT THE MAYAN RANCH LAST MONDAY

The Bandera Volunteer Fire Department answered a call to the Mayan Ranch Monday when a fire of undetermined origin destroyed approximately two-thirds of a guest cottage unit at the ranch. The long building, which consisted of four cottage units, has been used each year principally for housing students from schools and provided lodging for approximately 25 people. Because so many students could be accommodated in this building, it was considered one of the most important units on the ranch. The loss is covered by insurance.

CRACKDOWN ON ARTFUL DODGE OF EXPENSE ACCOUNT SET

Washington.—The Internal Revenue Service is getting set to announce a tougher policy on tax deductions for "business expenses" that actually may be more in the line of monkey business.

Informed sources said Friday that there was a good chance the service will go so far as to include new questions on corporate tax returns asking for information about the deductions a firm claims as "ordinary and necessary" business expenses.

No change would be made in the tax forms filed by some 60 million individual taxpayers.

The new questions would go on next year's corporate forms, not this year's. An announcement of the action may be forthcoming next week. This would give companies a full year's notice of the scrutiny due to come on the returns they file in 1961.

Highly placed Revenue Service sources acknowledged that the "get tough" decision was in large part inspired by pressures from congressmen.

Several have told Tax Commissioner Dana Latham they don't know how to answer letters from voters who complain about people who live it up on business expense accounts.

More than 100,000 corporations have net incomes of $25,000 or more and are taxed at the maximum corporate rate of 52 per cent. For them, every dollar of allowed deductions means a savings of 52 cents on their tax bills.

Officials believe recent congressional hearings into tax deductions for lavish trips, fancy night club parties and maintenance of posh hunting lodges have stirred up public opinion. Businessmen defend there practices as being forced on them by competitors or as being expected by customers.

Internal Revenue sources said Latham wants his agents to take a dimmer view when corporations present such outlays as "ordinary and necessary" and therefore tax deductible expenses.

One thing reported to be delaying a decision to put the new questions on the corporate return is the memory of the furor kicked up two years ago when the IRS launched—and then dropped—a crackdown on individuals' expense accounts.

The IRS said everyone had to account to the IRS for all business expenses, including those paid for by an employer. Public reaction to the idea of keeping records on 58-cent and two-dollar outlays for the boss was so hostile that the proposal was whittled down to the present rule: employees who account to their employers for their expense account need not give a reckoning to the government.

Will Heinen, Miss Ada Heinen, and Mrs. John Heinen enjoyed a nice visit with Mrs. Henry Wallace last Monday in Kerrville.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. It is you will know the location of many people you knew personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave Jefferson two days and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican armies hot on their heels; of his adventures as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a mixed outlaw in his sheep camp; of visiting notorious characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and years among the best people on earth.

BAKED APPLE SAUCE-TAPIOCA

You often serve canned apple sauce. You often serve tapioca custard. But in this baked dessert you serve them both. And the result is jolly, a bit of the unexpected, yet friendly and familiar.

The apple sauce layer, blended with sugar 'n'spice is bright, tangy and full of real apple fruitiness. The tapioca custard poured on top is smooth and delicate. As for the meringue . . . well, that turns the dish into a dress-up dessert you'll be happy to serve to family, to guests, to your junior Juniors and senior Seniors.

And you'll be happy, also, to see how simple it is to prepare. A can or jar of apple sauce, a package of quick-cooking tapioca . . . and you're on your way.

2 cups canned apple sauce
¼ cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
½ cup quick cooking tapioca
1 quart milk
2 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ cup sugar

Combine apple sauce, brown sugar, lemon juice, nutmeg and ¼ teaspoon salt. Place in casserole; dot with butter. Soak tapioca in 2 cups milk, 5 minutes. Beat egg yolks; add tapioca mixture, remaining milk, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt and vanilla extract. Carefully pour over apple sauce. Bake in moderate oven 325 degrees, 1 hour and 15 minutes. Beat egg whites stiff; gradually add remaining ½ teaspoon salt and ½ cup sugar, beating constantly. Spoon over tapioca. Bake at 325 degrees about 15 minutes or until meringue is delicate brown. Serve cold. Makes 8-10 servings.

HARDIN DAIRY PRODUCED 1,035,000 POUNDS OF MILK IN 1959

In the past few years, dairying has become one of the prominent industries in Bandera county. The Hardin Dairy, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hardin, located 6½ miles from Bandera on the old Elm Pass road, was started about five years ago. Mr. Hardin started his dairy with a purchase of twelve cows. Today one hundred cows are milked daily and Mr. Hardin owns 190 head altogether. This number includes the cows he is milking, dry cows, and replacement heifers which he is now raising himself. The Hardin's dairy stock consists of nothing but purebred Holsteins, which came from Wisconsin. One cow in the Hardin herd is now giving 103 pounds of milk in a day.

During the year of 1959, this dairy produced 1,035,000 pounds of milk and the output for 1960 is expected to be 2,000,000 pounds. The Hardin Dairy is one of the most modern dairies in this area, and has all of the latest devices for milking. The milking is done by automatic devices by which the milk goes directly from the cows into a large tank with a capacity of 845 gallons or 7,200 pounds, and is chilled immediately to 35 degrees Farenheit. Here in this tank it remains until a commercial milk hauler picks it up each morning and delivers it to the Borden Company in San Antonio.

Milking time at the Hardin Dairy begins at 1 a.m., and continues until 4 p.m., each day, in addition to the Hardin family, Mr. and Mrs. Hardin and their son, Mel, four more hands are employed to help them with the dairy work. At the present time, Mr. Hardin stated, they are in the process of building another milking barn, so the milking process will be speeded up and twice as many cows will be milked at one time as are now being milked at a time. The pens are also being concreted to make them more sanitary and serviceable.

The Hardin place consists of 480 acres, which provides grazing for the dairy herd. Mr. Hardin does not raise any feed on his place; therefore it must be purchased. The feed bill for an average month is approximately $3,000.00.

For the Hardins to build such a fine dairy as this, it has taken time, money, and a lot of hard work and determination, but today they can see the fruits of their labor and effort, and look upon it with pride. This dairy is certainly an asset to the industries of Bandera county and we feel that the Hardin family are to be congratulated for it.

This place is better known as the former George Lynch residence located near the Bandera High School. Mrs. Mitchell has visited her here several times, and has quite frequently, and has a host of friends who are welcoming her and her daughters to our city.

A transaction has recently been completed whereby Mr. and Mrs. James Woollard of Iowa have purchased the Felix Adamsets residence here in Bandera and will make it their home. Mr. Woollard is a brother of Robert Woollard of Bandera, and he and his wife have been visiting here for several weeks. It's nice to have visitors who like our town so well that they decide to make their home here.

Ernst Lindner, local real estate broker, consummated both transactions.

THIS IS OUR TOWN

By Jimmy

Now that Christmas festivities are over and the New Year opening up, we look back over the past year and take stock of our many blessings. One of which and one of the most important is the friends who have stood by us the past twelve months. Here we would like to say "God Bless you" for the business with which you have favored us; for the times you have over looked our errors and helped us in so many ways. Then when I became ill, and your help and kindnesses during the past few months. I appreciated every prayer, telephone call, card, flower, message and most especially your card of Bandera, all of you and wife have been visiting here for several weeks. It's nice to have visitors who like our town so well that they decide to make their home here.

Ernst Lindner, local real estate broker, consummated both transactions.

* * * At the first of 1959 my Sunday School class started a fund to give to the Medina Children's Home at Christmas time, so on December 19, Mrs. Calvin Wedgworth, who is teaching the class now), Elaine Knibbe, Susie Short and Tommy Wedgworth journeyed to the Home carrying the money the class had collected the past 12 months ($32 in pennies, nickles and quarters), where they presented this sum to the Home as a Christmas gift. They enjoyed making a tour of the Home, where about twenty boys and girls are living and being cared for according to rules set forth by the New Testament.

* * * The church of Christ Sunday school classes are grateful to the Madrona Garden Club for the beautifully decorated Christmas tree which they used for their seasonal party Sunday morning, December 20. Children and adults were sung, punch, cookies and gifts enjoyed by Susie Short, Tommy Wedgworth, Elaine Knibbe, Tom Hay, Kim Keese, Bodie and Eddie Browning, Les Short, Annette Short, Billie and Pat Griffin, Ray and Johnny Wedgworth, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hay, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Keese, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Browning, Mrs. Billie Griffin, Mrs. M. D. Cuttingham and Mrs. Calvin Wedgworth.

* * * We delight to see the progress made by the fine young people who grow up in Bandera. We are proud indeed of Elroy Britsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Britsch. Elroy grew up in Bandera, then after doing his stint with "Uncle Sam," married a pretty young wife, and has resumed his interrupted college education and before too long will receive his degree from Hunts-ville State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hay and Mrs. Carl Hay and Mrs. George Hay have returned last week from a delightful jaunt through the Rio Grande valley, where they visited in the homes of relatives and friends. Their last visit was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hay, Jr., in Harlingen, where they enjoyed delicious meals of fresh vegetables and delicious grapefruit with which they favored us on their return.

* * * Little Miss Kim Keese will be the tiny flower girl in her aunt's wedding on January 9, when Miss Linda Moseley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Moseley, former Banderans, weds in Mineola, Texas. The Little Miss accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keese, to Mineola last week to help make ready for the coming event.

* * * Our thought for the day: Each day the person we consider perfect can make mistakes and often does. If you have made mistakes in 1959, pick yourself up and try again.

* * * Bye for now * * *

Effects of Overgrazing

By Eph I. Cummins

Over-grazing is the primary problem in obtaining range improvement in the Hill Country of Texas. It is detrimental to rangeland in many respects. Production of forage and livestock products is continual over-use. The soil itself is often damaged beyond repair by erosion and soil loss. During periods of rainfall, research has that overgrazing was extremely poor business financially, and very damaging to the range.

Rangeland never remains the same. The percent of better grasses is constantly changing and this is one factor that makes a range react so swiftly to varying kinds of management. The range vegetation can either be improved or destroyed depending upon the kind of management it receives. Thus, management is the key to range improvement.

The first phase of over-grazing is a reduction in the vegetative cover. This happens because most of the forage is eaten by livestock and very little returned to the soil for protection. One year of overgrazing puts into action a cycle of range deterioration. If allowed to continue, it will result in complete exfermination of the more palatable, higher producing grasses which once flourished on the range.

Over-grazing has an adverse effect on range plants. Cropping grass leaves too close causes the roots to cease to grow. Approximately one-third of a grass root system can be lost in only one year when root growth is stopped, since about one-third of the root system of a plant decays each year. This emphasizes the importance of maintaining a good top growth so that roots may be kept strong.

Reducing root systems also reduces food storage in the roots. The first growth that a grass makes in the spring comes from stored food. Over-using the grasses early in the spring can reduce the forage production of the entire year.

Continued overuse causes the better plants to die. The space that they previously occupied is soon filled by a less desirable species. After going through successive stages of deterioration an invasion of undesirable plants occurs. This may be in the form of annual grasses and weeds or in the form of a woody brush species. Nature will not permit a soil to remain bare. She is constantly trying to keep a protective cover on the soil. The invasion of brush species is a direct result of past mis-management. "It would have never gotten started if the big producing native grasses had remained strong and vigorous.

With range deterioration, forage production is reduced in quantity and quality because of the large percentage of annuals present. Thick stands of invading brush such as cedar competes with the existing grasses for light, water, and nutrients. When these essential are used by them they are not available for forage production. In most cases where a thick stand of brush occurs the better forage producing grasses are completely eliminated. The regression cycle is close to its lowest point when this condition is reached.

The end result of over-grazed range is a reduction in the amount of livestock products that it can produce. When forage production is lowered, livestock numbers must be reduced. Thus less products are produced and less net profit is realized by the rancher. One conservation rancher says, "The cheapest food for livestock is the grass grown on rangeland." Proper livestock numbers and proper use of the better grasses such as sideoats grama, plains lovegrass, and little bluestem will enable rangeland to remain vigorous and productive.

BULLDOGS DERAILED BY HONDO QUINTET 56-48

This Bandera Bulldogs off to a slow first quarter start in which they registered only 4 points, fought back desperately but all in a fatal cause as they were downed by the fast and alert Hondo Owls 56-48 at the High School gym Saturday night. The Bulldogs, down by as much as 19 points early in the game, rampaged back to lessen the count to 26-22 at the half and then overtake the Owls in the third stanza, but a 19 point surge in the fourth period by the visitors proved decisive.

The Bulldogs' scoring attack was spearheaded by Earl Keese with 15 points. Chuck Jones and Kenneth Kalka were right behind with 14 and 13 points respectively. In addition, Roger Poe registered 5 points and Ernest Schladaer 1 point. Cliff Sadler was the big man in the visitors' scoring column as he poured in 25 points.

The defeat marked Bandera's first on the home court in four, games this season.

THIS IS OUR TOWN

By Jinny

Now that Christmas festivities are over and the New Year is opening up, we look back over the past year and take stock of our many blessings. One of which and one of the most important is the friends who have stood by us the past twelve months. Here we would like to say "God Bless you" for the business with which you have favored us; the times you have over looked our errors and helped us in so many ways. Then when I became ill, and your help and kindnesses during the past five months. I appreciated every prayer, telephone call, card, flower, message and most especially your thoughtfulness 46 sending in your news items to the Bulletin and your courtesy to the Bulletin Staff. Many thanks to Mrs. Johnny James for pinch hitting for me and my other correspondents who have worked right along to keep you up to the minute with the news in the community, and Tootsy Short for helping in the shop. I love every one of you and wish each one a happy, healthful year and put happy and healthful first and ahead of prosperous) and prosperour 1960.

• • • At the first of 1950 my Sunday School class started a fund to give to the Medina Children's Home at Christmas time, so on December 19, Mrs. Calvin Wedgworth, (who is teaching the class now), Elaine Knibbe, Suzie Short and Tommy Wedgworth journeyed to the Home carrying the money the class had collected the past 12 months ($32 in pennies, nickles and quarters), where they presented this sum to the Home as a Christmas gift. They enjoyed making a tour of the Home, where about twenty boys and girls are now living and being cared for according to rules set forth by the New Testament.

• • • The church of Christ Sunday school classes are grateful to the Madrona Garden Club for the beautifully decorated Christmas tree which they used for their seasonal Sunday morning, December 20. Christmas carols were sung, punch, cookies and gifts enjoyed by Susie Short, Tommy Wedgworth, Elaine Knibbe, Tom Hay, Kim Keese, Bodie and Eddie Browning, Les Short, Annette Short, Billie and Pat Griffin, Ray and Johnny Wedgworth, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hay, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Keese, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Browning, Mrs. Billie Griffin, Mrs. M. D. Cottingham and Mrs. Calvin Wedgworth.

• • • We delight to see the progress made by the fine young people who grow up in Bandera. We are proud indeed of Elroy Britsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Britsch. Elroy grew up in Bandera, then after doing his "hitch with Uncle Sam," married a pretty young wife, and has resumed his interrupted college education and before too long will receive his degree from Huntsville State College.

• • • Mr. and Mrs. George Harrison returned last week from a delightful jaunt through the Rio Grande Valley, to extend to them our sincere thanks for the delicious tree ripened grapefruit with which they favored us on their return.

• • • Little Miss Kim Keese will be the tiny flower girl in her aunt's wedding on January 9, when Miss Linda Mosely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mosely, former Banderans, weds in Midland. The Little Miss accompanied her parents Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keese, to Midland-Wells last week to help make ready for the coming event.

• • • Our thought for the day: "Ever the person we consider perfect can make mistakes and often does. If you have made mistakes in 1959, pick yourself up and try again."

Effects of Overgrazing

By Ephi J. Cummins

Over-grazing is the primary problem in obtaining range improvement in the Hill Country of Texas. It is detrimental to rangeland in many respects. Production of livestock products is lowered by continual over-use. The soil itself is often damaged beyond repair by erosion and soil loss. During the drought, ranchers found that overgrazing was extremely poor business financially, and very damaging to the range.

Rangeland never remains the same. The percent of better grasses is constantly changing and this is one factor that makes a range look as swiftly to varying kinds of management. The range vegetation can either be improved or destroyed depending upon the kind of management it receives. Thus, management is the key to range improvement.

The first phase of over-grazing is a reduction in the vegetative cover. This happens because most of the forage is eaten by livestock and very little returned to the soil for protection. One year of over-grazing puts into action a cycle of range deterioration. If allowed to continue, it will result in complete exfermination of the more palatable, higher producing grasses which once flourished on the range.

Over-grazing has an adverse effect on range plants. Cropping grass leaves too close causes the roots to cease to grow. Approximately one-third of a grass root system can be lost in only one year when root growth is stopped, since about one-third of the root system of a plant decays each year. This emphasizes the importance of maintaining a good top growth so that roots may be kept strong.

Reducing root systems also reduces food storage in the roots. The first growth that a grass makes in the spring comes from stored food. Overusing the grasses early in the spring can reduce the forage production of the entire year.

Continued overuse causes the better plants to die. The space that they previously occupied is soon filled by a less desirable species. After going through successive stages of deterioration an invasion of undesirable plants occurs. This may be in the form of annual grasses and weeds or in the form of a woody brush species. Nature will not permit a soil to remain bare. She is constantly trying to keep a protective cover on the soil. The invasion of brush species is a direct result of past mis-management. It would have never gotten started if the big bluestem native grasses had remained strong and vigorous.

With range deterioration, forage production is reduced in quantity and quality because of the large percentage of annuals present. Thick stands of invading brush such as cedar competes with the existing grasses for light, water, and nutrients. When these essentials are used by brush they are not available for forage production. In most cases where a thick stand of brush occurs the better, higher producing grasses are completely eliminated. The regression cycle is close to its lowest point when this condition is reached.

The end result of an over-grazed range is a reduction in the amount of livestock products that it can produce. When forage production is lowered, livestock numbers must be reduced. Thus less products are produced and less net profit is realized by the rancher. One conservation rancher says, "The cheapest food for livestock is the grass grown on rangeland." Proper livestock numbers and proper use of the better grasses such as sideoats grama, plains lovegrass, and little bluestem will enable rangeland to remain vigorous and productive.

BULLDOGS DERAILED BY HONDO QUINTET 56-48

The Bandera Bulldogs off to a slow first quarter start in which they registered only 4 points, fought back desperately but all in a fatal cause as they were downed by the fast and alert Hondo Owls 56-48 at the High School gym last Saturday night. The Bulldogs, down by as much as 19 points early in the game, rampaged back to lessen the count to 26-22 at the half and then overtake the Owls in the third stanza, but a 19 point surge in the fourth period by the visitors proved decisive.

The Bulldogs scoring attack was spearheaded by Earl Keese with 25 points. Chuck Jones and Kenneth Kalka were right behind with 14 and 13 points respectively. In addition, Roger Poe registered 5 points and Ernest Schladoer 1 point. Cliff Sadler was the big man in the visitors' scoring column as he poured in 25 points.

The defeat marked Bandera's first on the home court in four games this season.

Guests of Mrs. Tom Boyle last week-end were her grandchildren, Diane and Mark Stevens of San Antonio who stayed here while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stevens, went to Corpus Christi to visit Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Corum and sons. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens were present for the christening of little Floyd Prue Corum last Sunday.

Dan Gorski, who spent the holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gorski, returned to Alpine this week to complete his studies at Sul Ross State College there. He will graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree on January 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lindner visited with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schnell of Houston, and other relatives at Comfort during the holidays.

Jimmy Davenport, who has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guss Blackwell, and his sister, Miss Margaret Davenport, and other relatives, left recently for Arcadia, California, where he has been assigned to an airplane carrier ship, the USS Ranger, as an airman apprentice.

TWICE-TOLD TEXAS TALES

By J. Marvin Hunter, Sr.

Under this heading from time to time we will publish Texas historical articles which we have compiled and printed before in Frontier Times or in other publications, but which we believe will be of interest to Bulletin readers.

DEBUNKS SOME ROY BEAN TALES

Tom McGowan, in San Antonio Evening News

Roy Bean, justice of the peace, operator of the famous Jersey Lily saloon at Langtry, and jurist par-excellence, about whom fiction writers and movie scenarist have woven an aura of romanticism, is just plain Roy Bean to one San Antonian who knew him.

This San Antonian is S. P. Peterson, 76, a former justice of the peace at Sanderson, a railroad car inspector, and acquaintance of the famous jurist who held court seldom in his saloon at Langtry.

"Me and him were pretty good friends," Peterson says. "He thought he was the only law west of the Pecos River, but I was further west, I'd say almost 70 miles further west."

According to Peterson, who quit "railroadin'" in 1902, many of the Roy Bean anecdotes are just plain "bunk." Some of them, however, are true, he says.

One time, when the railroad was building its high bridge over the Pecos river, a line repairer fell off the structure to his death. Bean was called from Langtry to conduct the inquest over the body. After an examination of the scene, during which time the workmen were questioned, Bean discovered the deceased man had a gun upon his body. Bean fined the corpse $40, the amount found upon the workman's body.

This is one story which Peterson knows to be a fact. "That's so," he says, "because I was there at the time."

Peterson says that he became acquainted with the famous judge when he traveled through Langtry on business.

Another Bean antedote having a basis of fact is one about the railroad worker who wandered into Bean's saloon to purchase a drink.

The railroad man paid for his refreshment with his pay check, and just as Bean went to get the change, a "case" was brought before the court. Bean began the trial, which proved to be a long one. The railroadman waited patiently for some time, and then finally asked Bean for his change. The "judge" became enraged and cited the man for contempt of court fining him the remainder of his check.

The "judge," according to Peterson, was short and stocky, weighing in the neighborhood of 200 pounds. He always wore a bushy beard which reached to about the middle of his vest, when he had one on.

Another time Roy Bean was indicted by a grand jury for conducting inquests out of his jurisdiction, Peterson says. This occasion arose when two railroad workers were killed. The accident occurred just outside of Bean's county, but that didn't deter the judge. He went out three or four days later, caused the bodies to be disinterred and conducted the inquest, returning a verdict of accidental death. That done, he ordered the bodies reburied.

The version that Bean named Langtry after Lily Langtry, the famous actress of that day, was debunked by Peterson, who declares that Roy Bean "probably never heard of her until long after the town had its name." More than likely, is Peterson's belief, the railroad company named the town. This policy, according to Peterson, was followed by the company which named many towns after famous people.

To tales that Bean hanged men in a tree in front of his saloon when he convicted them of stealing horses, Peterson says is just plain "bunk." "Roy Bean," he says, "never arrested a man in his life, of course, he didn't hang any." He might have arrested drunks, he added, and tied them to wagon wheels until they sobered up.

Peterson says that he was first appointed justice of the peace at Sanderson by the commissioner's court. Later he was elected and served nine years.

Roy Bean reputedly was a great teller of tales, and would spin a yarn on a moment's notice.

According to Peterson, Bean went to West Texas before the railroads, and established himself in a little place called Vinegaroon.

Then one day he decided to move to Sanderson, where the railroad was building, and set up a saloon in a tent. His stock consisted of a barrel of whiskey.

This unwanted competition was frowned upon by an already established saloonkeeper, Charley Wilson, and Bean and Wilson staged a "trade war." Bean finally was forced to leave and go to Langtry when one night Wilson poured kerosene into Bean's whiskey barrel.

Peterson describes Bean as "a pretty good old man but he would take funny notions, sometimes." He remembers beating Bean at playing pool and winning $20 from him.

"Roy Bean was more of a clown than anything else," Peterson avers.

About Bean's death, he doesn't know very much, but he is sure that the judge never died as the result of gunshot wounds. "He probably died of hot tamales, chili and enchiladas," the aged man avers. Peterson said that Bean is buried at Del Rio and died either just before or just after the Spanish-American War.

Bean was credited by Peterson as having a good imagination and being able to tell a "scarey" tale. Bean told him one time he came from Kentucky and that he was an Indian fighter.

On one occasion, Peterson says Bean told him a story about when he (Bean) gave up prospecting for, gold in Death Valley "rush" of 1849. Bean said he was out with a party of prospectors when he found a rich ledge of gold. However, he said, he decided he would break trail ahead to find the way back to civilization. It was then he discovered the "rest" of the ledge on the trail he had broken.

After a day of travel, Bean reported to the party that he had caught up with the leaders, made camp and was now preparing a meal. Peterson was strong around the coffee bushes and they were to begin eating.

After the group had eaten, Bean is said to have announced that he was going back to where he (Bean) gave up prospecting for, gold in Death Valley "rush" of 1849. This unwanted competition was resented by the already established saloonkeeper, Charley Wilson, and Bean and Wilson staged a battle royal. Wilson finally was forced to leave and go to Langtry when one night Wilson poured kerosene into Bean's whiskey barrel.

Bean was credited by Peterson as having a good imagination and being able to tell a "scarey" tale. Bean told him one time he came from Kentucky and that he was an Indian fighter.

On one occasion, Peterson recalls, Bean told him a tale of when he (Bean) was in California, prospecting for gold during the great "rush" of 1849.

Bean is said to have related that he was out with a group of seven or eight men, looking for gold, when the party ran out of provisions. Bean, who was the only one familiar with the country, declared that he would break off ahead and try to find the way back to town. He took who there with him and instructed the rest of the party to follow the trail he blazed.

After a day of travel, Peterson reported Bean as saying, the group caught up with the leader, who had made camp and was engaged in preparing a meal. Fresh meat was strung around the camp upon bushes and they were told to begin eating.

After the group had finished Bean is said to have asked the leader where the negro man was. The "leader," a hard glint coming to his eye, placed his hand upon his pistol and told Bean never to ask that question again.

"Right then and there," Bean was quoted as saying, "I knew I had helped to eat that negro."

According to Peterson, Bean was about 60 years old when they were acquainted. Bean has two daughters, both of whom were reared in San Antonio, and a son living in New Mexico.

(Note.—Judge Roy Bean died March 16, 1903, and is buried at Del Rio. A simple granite marker is at his grave, which bears the inscription: "Judge Roy Bean, Justice of the Peace Law West of the Pecos."—Editor.)

Individual Citizens New Year's Resolutions Outlined

Have you made your New Year's Resolutions yet? With world affairs in their usual troubled state, it might be well to consider a few resolutions about being a good citizen during 1960.

We have recently observed "Bill Of Rights Day," and most of us are generally familiar with the unique rights and privileges which we enjoy as citizens of the U. S. Here is a "Bill of Responsibilities" prepared by the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar of Texas, which might serve as a background for our citizenship resolutions for the coming year:

I. It shall be the duty of every citizen to render undivided allegiance to the Constitution, of the United States, to work for its betterment and perpetuation, to respect the sovereignty of the people's government, and to defend the nation against all its enemies whomsoever.

II. It shall be the duty of every citizen to be familiar with the Constitution of the United States and to be informed as to what rights and liberties are his, and to use these rights in such manner as is consistent with his own welfare and the welfare of his fellow citizens.

III. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend with his life the rights and liberties granted to him and to his fellow citizens by the Constitution, to obey the laws of the land and aid in their enforcement, and to oppose vigorously any persons whose intention is to transgress the law or to oppress the rights of others.

IV. It shall be the duty of every citizen to make honest, wise and courageous use of the free and secret ballot at every election; to exercise freedom of thought, speech, and worship; to protect the freedom of the press; to safeguard the right of trial by jury and to render willing jury service when called upon; and to perform all other acts conducive to the perpetuation of the rights set forth in the Constitution.

V. It shall be the duty of every citizen to protect and sustain the unwritten liberties and rights vested in him by custom and usage and to perpetuate the ideals of the equality and dignity of the individual, upon which the Constitution is founded.

VI. It shall be the duty of every citizen to be active in the political party of his choice, and to be vigilant of the public officers, to render all possible aid to them, and to serve in public office by appointment or election when qualified, and when called upon to do so. It shall be his duty to strive for the selection of public officers of ability and upright character; and when holding public office, to serve in such manner as will subordinate private or minority interests to those of the people at large.

VII. It shall be the duty of every citizen to achieve the highest practicable level of education and to work for the advancement of education by supporting and improving the public schools and by fostering the same characteristics among his fellow citizens.

VIII. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend the right to buy and sell, to own land and other property, to engage in commerce, and to work and save for the legitimate gain of a fundamental guarantee of the freedom and welfare of the nation.

IX. It shall be the duty of every citizen to instruct his children in the principles of freedom and to spread the ideals of democratic government at home and abroad.

X. It shall be the duty of every citizen to preserve an attitude of self-reliance, and to use all legitimate means to achieve financial independence and security; to practice thrift and economy in his own affairs and to require the same of local, state and federal government.

Ahoy Spacecraft!

Long ago the sky was sky-high, so high nobody cared. But no more.

In 1765 Blackstone backed up English law that sovereignty went unsue ad coelum, or as high as the sky.

By 1899 the First Hague Peace Conference ruled against discharging explosives from balloons, and today we have endless legal problems that start beyond the moon.

With airplanes, armed and unarmed overhead, modern Blackstones had to ask how high is up: Could a law that was written in state control, and a high zone remain free like the seas?

No, center gravity, for gravity worked in and through both zones. Zone or no zone, fighter planes, for example, could drop; or things could fall on people below.

So in World War I brave little Holland held fast for Blackstone; Nobody could fly over her land lawfully without her permission.

In 1919 the Aerial Navigation Convention joined the Dutch in saying every power had full and sole "sovereignty over the air space above its land." The 1928 Havana Convention reaffirmed Civil Aviation still held to this view.

This had to do with air, but what about outer space? With airplanes one could say the air space ended up there when the "air" could no longer hold up a plane. Say, thirty miles up.

Then Sputnik! Each day it criss-crossed the sovergnity of land after land.

So the law of outer space comes up again: In 1956 the American Society of International law debated whether Blackstone would hold for "air" which could not support vehicles, whether thirty or thousands of miles "up."

No, they decided, the sky was only as high as the nations had in mind in 1919 and 1928. So we have more questions than answers, some with cold war dimensions:

1. How could one state shoot a rocket aloft without invading another's sovereignty on the way up or down?

2. What if such things took pictures of military value below? What would that do to the state's sovereignty below?

3. What about the moon? Eager moon-tigators plan, like Columbus, to land on the moon, and to stake out claims in their "sovereign's" name.

Is the moon terra incognita or terra nullis, like the lands of the new world on the old maps? Do first comers get moon lands? Or must "occupy" these lands after discovery?

Already people have proposed that space craft be registered as sea-going vessels, and fly their country's flag, and report their purposes—scientific, commercial, or military—when they blast off.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

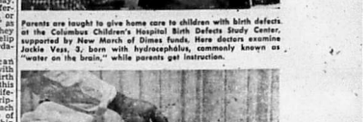
'Dimes' Opens First Birth Defects Center



A birth defects study center, the first of its kind designed to combine clinical treatment with research and teaching, has just been officially opened at Columbus, Ohio. It is sponsored by funds from the New March of Dimes, which is now engaged in a nationwide campaign for contributions to fight three major crippling diseases including birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Medical experts say that birth defects are the biggest unmet childhood medical problem in the United States today. There are more than 600 different kinds of birth defects, or "congenital malformations," as they are called by doctors. They range all the way from harelip and clubfoot to mental retardation.

Some 250,000 American babies are born each year with one or more significant birth defects, and about half of this number are doomed to a lifetime of serious illness or crippling. About 34,000 infants each year are stillborn because of these afflictions, or die within the first month of life. Medical science as yet has few clues to the causes of these disorders that occur before birth, and there are few known methods of prevention.

Parents are taught to give home care to children with birth defects at the Columbus Children's Hospital Birth Defects Study Center, supported by New March of Dimes funds. Here doctors examine Jackie Vass, 3, born with hydrocephalus, commonly known as "water on the brain," while parents get instruction.

Born with an open spine, two-month-old Madonna Gallich is examined by a physician at the Birth Defects Study Center, just officially opened in the Columbus Children's Hospital. New March of Dimes funds will be used to help this baby toward a normal and useful life.

Shrouded in Superstition

The study center in Columbus' Children's Hospital is thus representative of the beginning of the March of Dimes' new attempt to solve a medical problem that has heretofore been largely neglected by research. It is a problem that has for centuries been shrouded in fear, superstition and shame.

The March of Dimes' new six-pronged program of research, centered in the hands of skilled medical professionals, the March of Dimes organization seeks to bring hope to the hundreds of thousands of parents whose lives have been blighted by bewildering grief and heartbreak following birth of a malformed child.

This hope is bolstered by the past record of the March of Dimes organization in fighting baffling diseases: It was March of Dimes funds that helped aged Dr. Jonas E. Salk to become a virologist and that produced his world-celebrated vaccine against crippling polio.

Some Can Be Helped

Certain major birth defects, such as "water on the brain" (hydrocephalus) and "open spine" (spina bifida), can now sometimes be corrected by new techniques of surgery, medical experts at the March of Dimes organization report.

Through the combination of treatment, teaching and study at the Columbus Birth Defects Study Center and others the March of Dimes hopes to establish and support. It is believed that new knowledge will be obtained and spread so that the devastating effects of these disorders may eventually, for the most part, be prevented or controlled.

TEXAS MOTORISTS WILL NOT BE ASSESSED

Austin. — Texas motorists will not be assessed under the Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan for certain, specific types of collisions, according to a clarifying statement issued by Joe P. Gibbs, Member, State Board of Insurance.

"In order to be as fair as possible, the Plan excludes accidents involving your vehicle while you are legally parked. Also excluded are accidents for which you have been paid by the person held responsible for the accident. No points will be assessed in accidents in which only the other party has been convicted of a moving traffic violation, or in rear-end collisions in which you have been struck by another vehicle and are not convicted of a moving traffic violation. If you are the victim of a hit-and-run accident and report the accident to the proper authorities within 24 hours you will not be charged any points. Regardless of fault, motorists will not be assessed a point when the damage is limited solely to Medical Payments," Gibbs stated.

Texas families whose drivers have not been convicted of a moving traffic violation nor involved in a chargeable accident during the past three years will receive a 20 per cent reduction in the bulk of their private passenger automobile insurance.

A study of 40,365 licensed Texas operators' records indicates that 73 per cent of the drivers have clear records. Considering the multiple use of an automobile by several members of the family, 57 per cent of the insured automobiles will receive the first discount under the new automobile insurance plan. Roughly, points are assessed as follows:

Four points for driving while intoxicated, hit-and-run, and negligent homicide with a motor vehicle.

Two points for accidents involving $25 damage or more or bodily injury unless specifically excluded as above.

One point for moving traffic violations.

The Plan applies to the driving record of all resident operators of a household.

"The Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan was adopted after careful study and upon the repeated urging of the careful motorists of the state. These careful drivers believe that they were entitled to reductions in their insurance rates because of their good driving records. Although I was not a member of the State Board when this Plan was adopted, I have since had occasion to study it a great deal and I feel that it is a great step forward. It saves safe drivers money and it will encourage other motorists to improve their driving habits so that they too can become eligible for the 20 per cent reduction."

"I anticipate that the Plan will encourage safe driving in our state so that eventually the number of accidents will be reduced, and this will tend to bring about a further reduction in insurance rates for the motorists of Texas," Gibbs concluded.

All companies writing automobile insurance at rates prescribed by the Texas State Board of Insurance must use the Texas Safe Driving Plan when insuring automobiles eligible for the Family Automobile Policy.

BANDERA COUNTY SHORT OF BOND SALES GOAL

Savings Bonds sales in this county were $147,603.00. Dr. Burgin Davenport, Chairman of the Bandera County Savings Bonds Committee announced today that Savings Bonds sales for November totalled $1,240.00. "Sales for the first eleven months of 1959 were $147,603.00, or 12.4 per cent of the yearly goal," Mr. Davenport said.

E and H Bond sales in Texas amounted to $11,666,299 during November. This represents an increase of 1.3 per cent over November 1958.

"Series E and H Savings Bonds now earn 3% per cent when held to maturity and your Old Savings Bonds now earn ¼ per cent more," Chairman Davenport concluded.

Paul Black of San Antonio was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hutcheson and sons during the Christmas holidays.

THE NEW DECADE

Date—1960! And here we are again plugging away in the old salt mines of edcation. Most would believe that sharper wits would come from a holiday rest, but instead they seem to be a little more rusty. Most students just let all thoughts of school slide when the bell rang on Wednesday, the 23rd. Oh well, the first part of the first semester is always a hard one.

Rose likes people, sports and music, and has excelled in each. She has excelled in people by being a wonderful person because having made many lasting friendships. Her excellence in sports and music needs no explanation. The only thing Rose doesn't excel in are spinach and golf, which we won't even attempt to explain.

We think we're very lucky to have one like Rose around that excels in all. We know this girl with the smile in her eyes and a lively personality to match, will go far, because she is "the kind of people" our world needs.

Happy New Year!

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Several years ago, December 18, 1941, to be exact, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stricker, residents of Bandera, announced with great pride the birth of their little blond-haired, blue-eyed daughter whom they named Rose.

One day, just a few years later, Rose started to school at Bandera Elementary in the first grade. This was perhaps her first real contact with people, who she found weren't such bad creatures after all. As a matter of fact, she rather liked them. It wasn't long before Rose discovered sports. Her natural agility and sense of fair play have made her a real sportsman in the truest sense of the word.

In high school, she has especially shone in basketball. Having played all four years, she was captain and made all-district two years, and all-Bandera tournament in her junior year. Rose has been a member in good standing of the FHA for four years; the Pup-Pets and the band for two years. During her senior she has continued her agility and charm to give the Bandera Bulldog Band one of the finest majorettes it has ever had.

Savings Bonds sales in this county were $147,603.00. Dr. Burgin Davenport, Chairman of the Bandera County Savings Bonds Committee announced today that Savings Bonds sales for November totalled $1,240.00. "Sales for the first eleven months of 1959 were $147,603.00, or 12.4 per cent of the yearly goal," Mr. Davenport said.

E and H Bond sales in Texas amounted to $11,666,299 during November. This represents an increase of 1.3 per cent over November 1958.

"Series E and H Savings Bonds now earn 3% per cent when held to maturity and your Old Savings Bonds now earn ¼ per cent more," Chairman Davenport concluded.

Paul Black of San Antonio was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hutcheson and sons during the Christmas holidays.

Could anyone deny this baby a few minutes?

Certainly not the mother or father. And surely you, a stranger, would not begrudge a few minutes of your time to protect this baby's life—for years!

Driving faster than road conditions or the law allows can shorten your trip no more than two or three minutes. Is this saving worth the risk of a precious life? For minutes like these can mean the difference between life and death.

Last year, nearly 40,000 men, women and children died in traffic accidents. In 3 out of 10 fatal crashes, speeding was a factor. Think how many lives just minutes can save . . . and slow down!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself.

Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection.

Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council.

Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

BACK THE ATTACK ON TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

SENIOR NEWS

By the look on all the happy faces in the homeroom this morning, we think it is safe to assume that everyone enjoyed their Christmas holidays. Proof-sheets with a capital "P" have proclaimed that this new little rest from school would be even more enjoyable after mid-term exams. Whoever is responsible, everyone is certainly thankful to them.

All that glitters is not gold, however, and even the Christmas holidays have their disadvantages. Now the Seniors are trying desperately to brush the cobwebs from their creaking old brains and get the little wheels running smoothly again. For even the wisest old sage in Room 5, it's not easy, to say the least.

The seniors aren't talking much these days, except to tell of the wonderful surprises they received for Christmas. Well, that's not altogether true. Sharon Jones, as usual, is talking about something exciting she has done. This time Sharon is telling about the delightful and slightly hectic trip she made to Dallas to the Cotton Bowl. In Sharon's own words, "I had a ball."

On December 22, 1959, the seniors had their Christmas party at the Cottingham's house. Everyone enjoyed dancing and listening to Lon's "Stereo," and of course, no one had to be pushed to the table which held a buffet of luscious delicacies and delicious punch. Our sincere appreciation goes to Mrs. Cottingham, Mrs. Kalka, and Mrs. Kerr for sponsoring the party and making everything so nice.

The seniors didn't exchange gifts this year. Instead, they donated gifts which were given to the children at the Kerrville Children's Hospital. They hope the children there were as happy to receive the gifts as they were to give them.

Happy New Year!

FIFTH GRADE GIRLS

Over the holidays Sandra Waldrum went to Laredo and Corpus Christi to visit relatives.

Diana Everett visited her grandparents in Fredericksburg.

On our first day back to school we enrolled two new pupils in our class. They are Britt Mitchell and Clayt Pennington. We hope they like it here.

The fifth grade girls wish every one a Happy New Year.

JUNIOR JABBER

Now that Christmas is only a memory and school has started again, there are, more than one who wish the holidays were not extended for a few more weeks.

The juniors would like to thank their room mothers for the wonderful party they gave on December 22. The food was simply delicious and everyone who went had an awfully good time.

Probably many New Year's resolutions have already been broken, but let's hope that the best and most important ones will be kept and that everyone will try a little harder to do better in everything he does.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Billie Stein and Margaret Kalka had quite a good time together during the holidays. They attended the shower given for Carol Ann Boyle and then went to a slumber party. They spent the night together at Margaret's house and went hiking the next morning. To top it off, they saw two movies.

Christmas meant family dinners in at least two of our freshman families. Kay Wootton's aunt from Bird City was a visitor in the Wootton home and a whole household of relatives made the day glad at Linda Bausch's home.

SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Anne Marie Brown went to Hondo for Christmas. Seven of their friends came for New Years. They went hiking and to the Medina dam. Then, on New Years Day, Tammy had four puppies. Anne Marie had a very busy and fun-filled holiday.

Tuesday, December 29, Bonnie Farr went to Eagle Pass to visit relatives and spent the night with them. The next day they went to Mexico, but didn't stay long. They went to Spofford and saw a strange land which looked like an 8-fence. They returned home by way of Hermosa and visited Fort Clark.

Lu Ann Langham enjoyed Linda's birthday party at Medina Lake. It can be useful at times!

F. F. A. NEWS

The Future Farmers of America are interested in pigs, cows, sheep and goats, but their big interest is girls, and the local chapter is not one to be left behind in this field. The chapter had three girls entered in the sweetheart contest—Jeanine Hicks, Rosemary Faurie, and Jean Daniels. The winner was none other than the cute little gal that everyone knows and likes—Miss Jean Daniels.

The winner was announced by the FFA chapter president, Terry Knibbe, at the Christmas Assembly held by the high school students Wednesday, December 23.

Victor Strickland helped his cousins to get settled in the new house they have bought in Bandera.

The New Year Heroes of the New Year by completing some lone unfinished business. He finally named his dog that he has been telling us about for weeks. His name is "Juan."

TENTH ANNUAL PUBLIC SCHOOLS OBSERVANCE PROCLAIMED

TEXAS PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK has been proclaimed by Governor Price Daniel for February 28-March 5. Receiving the proclamation for the tenth annual statewide observance is John McKee (right), who has served as State Chairman of the Texas Citizens' Committee for Public Schools Week since the week was inaugurated in 1950. Chief purpose of the observance is to induce more citizens — not only parents but all others — to visit the schools and see for themselves the functioning of our democratic system of education.

Douglas Bailey was sick and missed the party but he got well enough later to go hunting and shot a bird right through the head during the holidays.

Sherry Davis and her sister shot at a target during their holidays.

Susie Short seems to have had the most prolonged Christmas of ill, beginning with a big party Friday dinner at her Grandmother Hunter's house on Tuesday night. The third grade party was on Wednesday. On Thursday night they opened Daddy's gifts to each other. On Friday morning they found Santa's gifts and then went on out to the Lazy Short ranch to have another Christmas dinner and more gifts! Lucky Susie!

Ray D'Spain had an equally fine Christmas. He bagged a coon, a bobcat and also killed a couple of deer. Barbara Flach, and Jan Edwards. We sure were glad to see some of our classmates there. Keep it up —Terry, Squeaky, Larry, Charlie, Roger, and Butch.

The boys had two basketball games this Saturday. The "B" string boys won and the "A" string lost. The sophomore boys were ready to cheer fighting.

BULLDOGS (3RD) DISTRICT PLAY WITH CONVINCING 67-48 WIN

The Bandera Bulldogs hit a hot streak early and continued to swish the nets at a rapid pace for an easy 67-48 victory against the Pleasanton Panthers on the opening District 27-A game for both quintets. The Bulldogs, who were headed or in any serious trouble, left at intermission by a 33-15 margin.

Bandera's scoring output though high in number was very well distributed among those that saw action. Chuck Jones was high man on the totem pole as he tucked 16 points, 10 of which came in the first half. Earl Keese was next as he rammed 14 points through the basket. Other scorers were Poe with 6, Kalka with 5, Haun with 7, Schlader with 5, Ramos with 5, and Causey with 3 points. Gibbons was high for the losers with 13 points.

The Bulldogs' next encounter will be tonight as they journey to Boerne to engage the always strong and tough Greyhounds. Bandera will have to slow Gene Canavan, Boerne's 6-4 ace, if they are to derail the Hounds toward the trip to the throne room. Game time is 8:00 p.m., with a "B" game to precede the varsity contest.

BULLDOG QUINTET ROUTS D'HANIS 58-28

The Bandera Bulldogs hit a blistering 39 points in the last half Tuesday night, December 29, as the home town boys blasted host D'Hanis 58-28. The victory marked Bandera's third triumph as many outings on the home court and ran their season's record to 8 wins and 3 losses.

Earl Keese, hitting 11 free throws along with 5 field goals, gained scoring laurels for the evening with 21 points. Kenneth Kalka, with 8 field goals and 1 free throw, added 17 points and was followed in points by Roger Poe with 7, Clem Haun with 6, Ernest Schlader with 4, Chuck Jones with 2, and Butch Richards with 1 point.

The Bulldogs led at the half by a 19-14 score.

POLL TAXES LAGGING BEHIND USUAL SALES

According to Mrs. Delores Gorski of the Sheriff's office, poll tax sales are lagging far behind the usual sales each year. Thus far on Wednesday morning, January 13th, only 515 poll taxes had been paid in Bandera county. This number is only a fraction of the number of poll taxes that are expected to be paid, and residents are urged to pay their poll taxes right away as this is an important election year. The deadline for paying your poll tax is only two weeks away and will be on Saturday, January 30th this year as the 31st falls on Sunday. So, remember, pay your poll tax today and exercise your right to vote in the forthcoming elections. It's your duty and your privilege!

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you know personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in glowing detail the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico for he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experiences as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, good folks and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

INCOME TAX RETURN FILING REQUIREMENTS FOR FARMERS

Farmers have until Friday, January 15, to file their estimated Federal income tax return for the year 1959, unless they plan to file their final return on or before February 15, David W. Sides, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue at San Antonio, said today.

He pointed out that farmers who file an estimated return on January 15 and pay the tax due have until April 15 to file a final return and pay any balance of tax due. Otherwise, he said, the law requires they file their final return and pay the full amount of the tax due by February 15.

This option is available to farmers only. The tax law defines a farmer as one who derives two-thirds or more of his gross income from farming.

He advised farmers that if they filed a Federal income tax return last year, the necessary forms for 1959 will be mailed to them. For those who did not file, or for some other reason do not receive forms in the mail, blank forms may be obtained from the nearest Internal Revenue Service office or from local post offices or banks.

Farmers who have any questions about their Federal income tax returns may get a free copy of the official publication, "Farmer's Tax Guide" from their county agent or their Internal Revenue Service Office.

FILE EARLY

Don't delay filing that Federal income tax return you just got in the mail—especially if you are one of the many millions who may have a tax refund coming.

For, the sooner you file, the sooner Internal Revenue Service can process your return and get your check to you.

That is the advice of R. L. Phinney, District Director for the Austin District. He added:

"If we have to give your return a pre-refund audit and thus delay your refund check, we will inform you of that fact by letter. But even in such cases, the earlier you file, the earlier we can get at your pre-refund audit."

Phinney also has a couple of tips for early filers who want to receive their refunds as quickly as possible.

One is to make sure you don't omit any essential information in making out your return, such as your signature (and that of your spouse if it is a joint return), your Form W-2 reporting your tax withholding, and your address as legible as you can print it.

The other tip is not to write for a few weeks asking where your refund is. "If we have to stop to answer such letters," Phinney said, "it will slow down the refunding process and delay your check that much longer."

BOYLE'S

THANK YOU

Mrs. Shirlee (Bill) Smith wishes to extend her gratitude to the residents of Bandera for their many kindnesses extended to her.

Mrs. Liza Austin was delighted to have two of her children home during the holidays. Miss Leola Humphrey of Fort Worth and Bill Humphrey of Dallas paid their mother a most welcome visit.

Guests of Mrs. Frank Ross the first week-end were her daughter, Mrs. Lena Mae Bridges and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gray of Kerrville and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Love of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Clark went to San Antonio last Friday to be with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schoenfeldt and four children, when their oldest child, Debbie, underwent a tonsillectomy. We hope Debbie will recover rapidly and soon be feeling fine again.

We are always delighted to hear from our Bulletin readers in far places about the things they are doing. This week we had a letter from Mrs. C. C. Alston who writes: "As you will see, here comes the "flying grandma" again from away down here in South Carolina. This is my fifth trip here by plane and must say she (the plane) did some bucking this time for a lady of 78 years. I just sat and thanked God for blessing, still with sorrow along with happiness. What is to be will be. So, thanks for sending the paper here and will send further notice of returning to San Antonio. Please renew for another year as a gift of remembrance from my daughter and her husband, Capt. and Mrs. Leonard Kay and boys, Bubba and Kelley and little sister, Cynthia Jean. I have been staying here at the base for nearly six years. Regards to friends in and around Bandera." Mrs. C. C. Alston, 520 Parkside Drive, North Charleston, South Carolina.

NEW PENSION LAW

(How will it affect me? Many thousands of veterans and their dependents are asking this about the new pension law recently enacted by Congress, so try if you can to fill in judging competition at the National Western Livestock Show January 15-23.

Q. In order to compare the new pension system with the present one, what is the amount of pension a single veteran may receive now?

A. At present any World War I, II or Korean conflict veteran if he is single and drawing a pension received $66.15 a month unless he is 65 years of age or older, or has been on the pension roles 10 years, in which event he draws $78.75. Those who become blind or so helpless as to require the regular aid and attendance of another person, receive $135.45 per month.

Q. Now what will single veterans receive under the new system, after July 1, 1960?

A. The new system is planned to relate the amount of pension paid to the need of the pensioner. Thus a veteran without dependents many receive a pension of $85 a month, if his annual income is not more than $600; $70 a month if his income is above $600 but not more than $1200; and $40 a month if his income is more than $1200 but not more than $1800. If his annual income is more than $1800 he receives nothing.

Q. What provision does a veteran dependents fare under the new system?

A. He receives the same amount of pension as the single veteran receives. His only advantage is that he may continue to draw the pension if he has an annual income as high as $2700, whereas the single veteran cannot draw a pension if his annual income exceeds $1400.

Q. How will the veteran with dependents fare under the new system?

A. A veteran with one dependent may receive $90 a month if his annual income is not more than $1000; $75 a month if his annual income is more than $1000 but not more than $2000; and $45 a month if his annual income is more than $2000 but not more than $3000. If his annual income is more than $3000, he receives noth.

Q. So what about the veteran with more than one dependent?

A. A veteran with two dependents may receive monthly pension payments of $95, $75 and $45 in the same three income ranges noted above. A veteran with three or more dependents may receive monthly payments of $100, $75 and $45 in those income ranges.

Q. What will the new system do for veterans who require regular aid and attendance?

A. Under the new law all pensions will be increased $70 a month for veterans who require regular aid and attendance.

Mrs. Frank Ross spent last week in San Antonio visiting relatives and friends.

CONSERVATION * DEVELOPMENT * SELF-GOVERNMENT

The Board of Supervisors of the Bandera Soil Conservation District held their regular monthly business meeting on Wednesday, January 6, 1960. The five supervisors of the District who are Bob Mansfield, Lee Mansfield, Ad Bowers, Wilton Crider and Adolph Schutz were present for the meeting. Also present were Evelyn Hutcheson, steno-bookkeeper for the Board, and Billy Joe Work Unit Conservationist of the SCS. Conservation planning assistance was approved for the places of L. E. Perry, G. A. Tatom, and A. W. Clark of Bandera and the Merrell Ranch of Medina. The Boards of this District and the Kerr County SCD have selected sites at the District boundaries on highway No. 16 between Medina and Kerrville and on FM No. 689 between Bandera and Kerrville for the erection of boundary signs. These markers will be erected in the very near future. Plans were completed by the Board for the annual District sponsored plant identification and judging contest to be held in connection with the June District 4-H Livestock Show on January 21, 22, and 23. Winners in the District sponsored essay contest will be announced at the next meeting of the Board which will be held on February 3, 1960.

Conservation jobs for the month of January include: conservation of needed cross-fences, sending off soil samples preceding spring plantings, and securing seed for spring grass and legume plantings.

Changes in the Agricultural Conservation Program Deferred Grazing Practice for 1960 have recently been developed by the local ASC County Committee and SCS technicians. For 1960 three deferment options will be offered for payment. A five month program beginning February 1 and lasting through June 30 has been set up. This deferment is at that critical time in grass development when the plants are coming out of dormancy and when young plants are first starting. The plants at this time are depending entirely on root reserve for growth. This deferment will allow the plants to make some growth and replenish some of this root reserve before being grazed. A two month option is for six months beginning June 1 and ending November 30. This period will allow grasses to rest during the slow growth period of the summer and produce a seed crop in the Fall. The third option is a nine month deferment beginning March 1 and lasting until November 30. This complete growing season deferment will give maximum benefits by allowing grasses to have a complete rest the whole growing period. This deferment is best applied to rangeland recently cleared of cedar or pastures now in poor condition with a majority of the grasses present being poor forage producers. Each year in the Bandera SCD some 100,000 acres of rangeland should be deferred. This would provide a constant source of seed of native plants, allow grasses to make maximum growth and help control erosion by maintaining a good cover. Cost share on the Deferred Grazing is 6c per acre per month. For more information contact your local SCS technicians or the local ASC office.

BOYS 4-H CLUB NEWS

The boys 4-H club held their annual monthly meeting Tuesday the twelfth after school in the Ag shop behind the school building. The meeting was opened by John Forke, motto and pledge were said by all, and the minutes were read by Rosalie Haun.

Just to remind all of you, there will be a trimming contest at the Ag Center and if you are interested, you are welcomed to come and enjoy yourself a good time. It is scheduled for Saturday, January 16.

After a vote, a party was planned for March 11, after the annual meeting. It is hoped that everyone will have a good time.

Then as a program for this meeting, Mr. Lindig gave a lesson on livestock judging, then with the use of pictures the members tried their hands at judging calves, cows, lambs, barrows, boars, and bulls, also ewes. After the grading of a few high scores, Mr. Lindig showed everyone their mistakes, and why sometimes we made a huge bust!

With the little experience some have, they are showing interest and a talent for judging. Quoting from Mr. Lindig, "judging teaches us to think, and make decisions accurately."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Matthews. Thank you very much!

JANUARY 15 IS DEADLINE

Taxpayers making quarterly payments on individual estimated Federal income tax should score Friday, January 15 on their calendars, David W. Sides, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service at San Antonio, Texas, said today.

January 15 is the last day to pay the final installment on that estimated tax for 1959. Also, it's the deadline to amend a prior declaration of estimated tax to avoid possible penalties for underestimation.

Bo Condressman O. C. FISHER

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Business Organization

The law allows a business a wide choice of ways to set itself up, to finance and manage itself.

You may have sole ownerships, partnerships, joint ventures, corporations; and within these classes you have many different forms.

To meet modern business conditions, to get full tax advantage, and to avoid legal hostility, for example, he law provides many ways for a company to finance itself. And these, in turn, influence the kind of management it can have, and the way it conducts its affairs.

We sometimes speak of "stocks and bonds," for example, as if they were one and the same.

But when you buy a share of stock in a company, you "own" an "undivided" part of everything it owns, but no particular piece of its property.

But what do you have when you are lending money which it promises to pay back with interest when your bond "matures."

Unlike a stockholder, a bondholder as a rule has little to say directly about who manages and how he manages the company. Remotely a bond buyer by withholding or lending money may influence a company's ability to expand. The bondholder gets only his interest payments, which come before the stockholder's "dividends," since he takes less of a risk than the stockholders.

Thus if the corporation quits or goes bankrupt, it must pay the bondholders off before the stockholders get anything.

Where does the "preferred stock" come in? As a rule, preferred stockholders collect a fixed dividend—after the bondholders are paid but before the "common" stockholders get anything. There are many kinds of preferred stock arrangements. But in return for their first chance at the profits the preferred stockholders often give up any voting rights or ability to control the company directly.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

The President's State-of-the-Union message contained at least two Ivory points that stood out: first, he announced that it now appears the budget for the current fiscal year, despite the steel strike, will be balanced with $200 million to spare. Secondly, he gave advance notice that the budget for the next fiscal year, which will be officially released later this month, will be balanced with $4 billion surplus.

In commenting on the general economic outlook, the President said with confidence that "1960 promises to be the most prosperous year in our history."

The prospective $4 billion surplus next year should, the President said, be applied to reduce the national debt. With this I agree. But the surplus is not certain. There is already a rash of brand new spending measures pending, and this is election year. But if the line can be held against nonessentials, the outlook is bright and encouraging.

As is always true on Presidential election years, the Capitol Hill atmosphere is thick with politics. Already the highly vocal radical-liberal group in the Senate is threatening Senator Johnson's leadership. They have been joined by a new recruit—Senator Gore of Tennessee, who with certain reservations has joined hands with Douglas, Proxmire, Morse, Clark, and a few other extremists in a fight presumably for more state welfare and liberal legislation.

There are political overtones in such rumblings which could, if they become disgustingly vocal, rebound to the benefits of Senator Johnson in advancing his Presidential prospects.

Among recent visitors have been Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Barnes of San Angelo; Mrs. Sayers Farmer and daughters, Mrs. R. M. Spencer and Mrs. D. K. Akerz, of Junction. Mrs. Spencer's husband, a graduate of the Naval Academy, is stationed in Washington and is assigned to an Atomic Energy research mission.

By Price Daniel,
Governor of Texas
Austin, Texas

Greetings:

For each of the past two years Public Schools Week in Texas has been observed as a special time to place increased emphasis on our educational system.

During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools and all citizens are urged to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our aim is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders of tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of February 27-March 4, 1960, as Public Schools Week in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 5th day of January, 1960.

PRICE DANIEL
(SEAL) Governor of Texas.

BANDERA WEST END COUNTY 4-H MEETING

On December 7, 1959, the Bandera West End County 4-H club met at the Alvin Ivy home. There were eighteen members and one guest, Sharon Estes, present. After our regular business we judged livestock. Then the meeting adjourned and all were served refreshments by Mrs. Ivy.

The next meeting was called to order on January 4, 1960, at 7:30 p.m., in the Boultinghouse home. The minutes were read and approved and the roll was called. There were seventeen members present.

The sign for the county line was discussed. Mr. Lindig urged that the record books be turned in and then the pigs were discussed. He told us about a trimming contest to be held on January 16, at the Ag Center.

The next meeting will be held at the Cornelius home on February 8, 1960.

The program consisted of livestock judging and the team composed of Henry, Neil, Rip and Diane, won the judging. When the meeting was adjourned Mrs. Boultinghouse served refreshments.

FORD'S ECONOMY TWINS FOR 1960

The Economy Choice of a lifetime—Two new Fords...Two new low-price fields...
Two wonderful new ways to go 'The Finest'

THE 1960 FORD FALCON
Now there's both a new economy-size Ford and a large economy-size Ford.
The new economy size is the Ford Falcon—America's lowest-priced 6-passenger car. It's up to $124 less than other 6-passenger cars in the compact field. It goes up to 30 miles on a gallon of regular gas. Servicing is easy and repair costs are low. You can even save up to 15% on your insurance.
And the Falcon is the one American compact car that is thoroughly proved for American driving. There's room for 6 people—luggage and all.

THE 1960 FORD FAIRLANE 500
Now consider the large economy-size Ford, the Fairlane 500. Here is the most car per dollar ever built.
The Fairlane 500 brings you luxurious styling, luxury and comfort, yet it offers Falcon economies like regular gas, 4,000-mile oil changes, double-life aluminized mufflers, and no more waxing. Like the Falcon, too, it brings you big price news. $142 less than last year's popular Fairlane 500!
Come see, come save, come pick the Ford economy twin that saves and serves you best. Visiting hours as usual at your Ford Dealer's.

Phillip Applegate has been absent for the last week with the chicken pox. He says that his holidays were not very happy because he was sick most of the time.

On Saturday, Marian Allert went to Jane Ann Pearson's birthday party. They played games and had a good time.

Mrs. Ainsworth spent the weekend keeping the croup kettle going for her little boys' coughs. She played with them and read to them.

Kenneth Pawelik has a dog named Cream Puff who is very rough and big. When Kenneth tries to play with him the dog just knocks him down.

Could anyone deny this baby a few minutes?

Certainly not the mother or father. And surely you, a stranger, would not begrudge a few minutes of your time to protect this baby's life—or yours!

Driving faster than road conditions or the law allows can shorten your trip no more than two or three minutes. Is this saving worth the risk of a precious life? For minutes like these can mean the difference between life and death.

Last year, nearly 40,000 men, women and children died in traffic accidents. In 3 out of 10 fatal crashes, speeding was a factor. Think how many lives just minutes can save . . . and slow down!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself.
Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection.
Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council.
Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

EARL KEESE TALLIES 21 POINTS IN BULLDOG DEFEAT

The Bandera Bulldogs, despite a tremendous effort on the part of Earl Keese, fell before the powerful Boerne Greyhounds Friday night 67-46 in a District 27-A game at the Boerne hardwoods. A disasterous third quarter in which the Hounds outscored the Bulldogs 23-7 proved decisive even though the home town boys fought the taller Boerne quintet an even battle on the boards. The Bulldogs, who lost the services of three players via the foul route, trailed at intermission 24-20.

Earl Keese, who was an All-District performer last year, looked as he shot, he regretted it. The animals was a skunk!

Earl Heinen's dad killed a coon, with no ill side effects, but Dad's dog got sprayed.

Ralph Richards with 2, and Clem Hein with 1 point. Gene Canavan led the Boerne onslaught with 21 points.

CANYON LEES OUT 35-33 WIN OVER BULLDOGS

The Bandera Bulldogs ran into hot shooting bunch of Canyon Cougars Monday night and as a result were downed 55-53 in a District 27-A game at the New Braunfels court. The Cougars hit on 22 of 52 field goal attempts for a 42 per cent accuracy from the floor. The Bulldogs, though leading at the half 27-25, couldn't maintain the advantage and thus suffered their second setback in three league games.

Earl Keese was again the sparkplug in the Bulldog offensive as the little guy bucketed 26 points bringing his output in district play to 71 points in three outings which is tops in the 27-A circuit. Trailing Keese were Roger Poe with 13 points; Chuck Jones with 10; Ernest Schlader with 3, and Kenneth Kalka with 1 point.

This week-end the Bulldogs will participate in the Utopia Invitational Tourney. The Bulldogs open their tourney tonight at 7:00 p.m., against Center Point and then will play again Saturday.

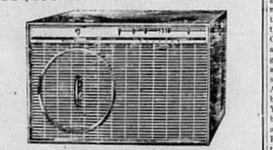
FINE ARTS CLUB ENJOYS DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

The Fine Arts Club met at the Bandera High School Band Hall at 2 p.m., Tuesday, January 12th, for a delightful program consisting of musical entertainment by members of the Bandera High School Band and an exhibit and discussion of arts and crafts by Frits and Emilie Toepperwein of Boerne.

The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Marvin Roseman, and the minutes, which were read by Miss Eva Thallman, stood approved as read. Mrs. Art Kitzman was introduced as hostess chairman by Mrs. Rossman. Club members introduced their guests for the day. A brief business discussion followed.

Mrs. Fred Mansfield, leader for the day, introduced David Hargis, local band director, and Mrs. Hargis, his accompanist. The first musical presentation was "Meditation" from Thais by a clarinet trio composed of Rosemary Faurie, Carolyn Bruce, and Dena Morse, accompanied by Mrs. David Hargis. Next was "Bugles Holiday," a trumpet trio by Marilyn Ritchson, Robert Bradley, and Elvera Algueseva, with accompaniment by Mrs. Hargis. "Thoughts of Yesterday" was played as a trombone solo by Lon Cottingham, accompanied by Miss Jeanine Hicks. This was followed by a trumpet trio by Elvera Algueseva, Sam Brodford, and Sharon Jones, in a rendition of "Trumpet Voluntary," in which they were also accompanied by Mrs. Hargis. Last, but certainly not least, a clarinet quartet composed of Karen Kitzman, Linda Bausch, Elmo Jaye, and Charles Hargis, presented the beautiful Schubert Minuet.



The refreshment table was covered with a red checked cloth. A freeform arrangement of trailing ivy, fruit berries, and driftwood decked the table where gingerale, sherbert, and fruit cake squares were served.

Mrs. Mansfield then presented the guest speakers, Frits and Emilie Toepperwein of Boerne, who gave an interesting discussion and presented a lovely exhibit. In his discussion, Mr. Toepperwein stressed the fact that crafts are anything that people make with their hands. The exhibit consisted of arts and crafts of the Hill Country done by members of their corporation and included beautiful paintings. Children's books with stories written and illustrated by the Toepperweins, were also on display. Mr. and Mrs. Toepperwein also do historical books on the Southwest and are interested in the arts and crafts of the past and the preservation and restoration of them. Toep's Country Store at Boerne, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Toepperwein, is known as the art and craft center of Texas.

Members of the hostess committee for the day were Mrs. Art Kitzman, chairman, and Mrs. H. L. Bruce, Mrs. H. V. Heim, Mrs. C. G. Armstrong, Mrs. Darrell White, Mrs. James Herriott, and Mrs. S. J. Mueller.

Members and guests who registered were Miss Margaret Montague and Miss Eva Thallman of San Antonio; Mrs. Dee Crowell, Mrs. G. M. Merritt, Mrs. Alfred Anderwald, Mrs. Fred Mansfield, Mrs. George Bradley, Mrs. W. F. Jordan, Mrs. James Brannigan, Mrs. Allen Lowercheck, Mrs. George Howland, Mrs. H. L. Miss Cecilia Rodriquez

MISS RODRIQUEZ WILL WED PAUL ALGUESEVA, JR.

Mr. and Mrs. Santana Rodriquez of Helotes announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Cecilia Y. Rodriquez, to A/1C Paul Algueseva Jr., of Webb Air Force Base. Miss Rodriquez is a graduate of Northside High School in San Antonio. They will be married at 9 a.m., January 30, in Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church in Helotes.

The future bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Algueseva, Sr., is a graduate of Bandera High School and is presently an aircraft electrical specialist in the Air Force.

Following their marriage the couple will live in Big Spring.

MOTHER'S MARCH SCHEDULED FOR NEXT WEEK

Mothers of Bandera county are joining two million women across the nation in a march for facts and funds for the New March of Dimes. The Mothers' March will take place in this county next week from January 24th-30th, according to Mrs. Arthur Hayes, Mothers' March chairman. Marching Mothers will ask for information and a contribution. Both are needed for the National Foundation's fight against birth defects, arthritis and polio—three crippliers that affect one of every four American families.

Mrs. Hayes has announced that Mrs. Leonard Whitehead is serving as chairman of the Mothers' March in Medina; Mrs. Willie Schmidt, Tarpley; Mrs. George Surber and Mrs. Arthur Morse, Medina Lake; and Mrs. Fritz Saur, Pipe Creek. Ladies who are taking part in the March in Bandera and the surrounding area are Mrs. Dorothy Byrne, Mrs. Johnnie James, Mrs. Robert Stein, Mrs. Fred Hamilton, Mrs. C. C. Risinger, Mrs. Edwin Vawter, Mrs. Lake Langford, Mrs. Raymond Kruckemeyer, Mrs. A. W. Huseby, Mrs. Arnold Haegelin, and Mrs. Lon D. Fisher.

It is hoped that the Mothers' March will focus family and community attention on the majority of Americans still without Salk shot protection against polio. It has been found that neighbor calling on neighbors is one of the best ways to remind the unvaccinated to start their Salk shots.

There are presently few local statistics available on the incidence of birth defects and arthritis. For the country as a whole, we know that each year about 250,000 babies are born with one or more significant birth defects. We know that more than 11,000,000 Americans suffer from arthritis and the rheumatic diseases.

The New March of Dimes is combating birth defects and arthritis with the same effective weapons used to conquer paralytic polio: medical scientific research to find causes, cures, preventives; patient aid for medical care; and training for medical workers needed to treat the sick and disabled.

In addition to collecting new March of Dimes contributions the Mothers will present each household with a copy of "Door Count," a concise factfinding folder in which a family may indicate if any member has birth defects, arthritis or polio, and how many have had three or more Salk vaccine shots. Each family record will be confidential.

TARPLEY CLUB WILL SELL HOT DOGS

GIRL MAKING GOOD RECOVERY AFTER BEING SHOT

Joan Heinen, age 11, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Heinen, of the Tarpley. Road, is getting along well following a shooting at her home Sunday about 1:30 p.m.

Her brother, Claude, age 13, was cleaning his .22 rifle thinking it was unloaded, when it went off accidentally hitting his younger sister. The bullet hit her belt buckle and split to make two holes in her abdomen. Her intestines were perforated in nine places and the bullet lodged against her spine.

The little girl was taken to Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital where emergency surgery was performed. After two and one-half hours on the operating table and several blood transfusions and intravenous feeding the young lady is now getting along fine.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Medina Rose Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Harry Foote on January 14, 1960, with many members and guests present despite the absence of many of the members who are out of town. After a brief business meeting the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Ruth Latta, Program Chairman, who introduced Mrs. Stell Louy from Kerrville. Mrs. Louy is well known in Garden Club circles due to her program over KERV Monday of each week and untiring work with the Garden Clubs. Mrs. Louy brought with her Colonel Wolf from Kerrville, who is one of the country's foremost authorities on Birds. Col. Wolf gave an illustrated lecture on the birds to be found in the local area. Col. Wolf has made many field trips studying the birds and their habits though he claims he is not a bird-watcher. Col. Wolf told the group that climatic conditions have an effect on the abundance of certain birds. He also pointed out the differences in the bills of 'insect-eating' and 'seed-eating' birds. The Col. showed slides of various birds common to this area and gave a brief history of each bird, among them the 'Cowbird' which is related to the Blackbird, and while this is a very beneficial bird it is not very popular with 'bird-lovers.' The club found many other things of interest in the Colonel's talk which made them all anxious for his return visit.

Mrs. Foote and her co-hostesses, Mrs. Mary Stevens and Mrs. Ruth Latta, served delicious refreshments of lemon pie and coffee from a table appropriately decorated with an arrangement featuring a charming little carved wood Cardinal.

Members and guests present were Mrs. Walter Boss, Mrs. Duke Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Flowers, Mrs. Ruth Latta, Mrs. Carl Bush, Mrs. Homer Stevens, Mrs. Paul Garrison, Mrs. Harold Burt, Mrs. R. L. Jordan, Mrs. Susa Sutleles, Mrs. Ida Tallman, Mrs. Maude Stokes, Mrs. Harry Foote, Mrs. E. M. Anderson and from Kerrville and Ingram, Mrs. Mamie Webb, Mrs. Stell Louy, Mrs. Both and Col. Wolf.

Ronnie Gollberg of San Antonio spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gollberg.

They both received first aid at Peterson Hospital, and then released. The car was damaged considerably.

Tarpley

No one seems to be too happy over the cold, damp January weather, except perhaps the old "flu bug" who has been an unusually active visitor around recently. Even though the cold wind was a bit disagreeable on Sunday and Monday, everyone was glad to have the nice sunshine after the chilling rain on Saturday. Hard freezes occurred on the following days. Time passes rapidly, though, and it will soon be time for our little weather prophet, the groundhog, to predict the extent of our cold weather.

We are sorry to report that the Felix Billings family has been ill with the flu and we hope that each of them will soon be well and feeling fine again.

Jesse Burger of Medina passed through Tarpley Sunday enroute to his ranch.

George Earl Sauter; who has been stationed at Fort Dix, New Jersey, arrived in Kerrville Wednesday afternoon and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter, met him there. He is home on a 45-day furlough and is greeting friends in Tarpley and the surrounding area.

Bernice Smith of the Legion Hospital near Kerrville, spent the week-end here.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Koontz were Bandera visitors last Thursday.

Jim Berkeland accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie James and daughter, Minneana, to Kerrville last Saturday.

Happy birthday to Little Miss Brenda Sue Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Schmidt, who celebrated her third birthday on Wednesday, January 20th. We wish you many more happy birthdays, Brenda.

Pat Coffey was a Bandera visitor Monday.

We extend sympathy to J. L. Beagle, whose father, L. E. Beagle of Kerrville, passed away on Tuesday, January 12th, at the Veterans Administration Hospital near Kerrville after an extended illness. Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon, January 14th, at the chapel of the Smith Funeral Home in Kerrville with Dr. Powell Smith, Christian minister, officiating. Interment was in the Garden of Memories burial park at Kerrville. Mr. Beagle, who was 82 years of age at the time of his passing, was a native of Lexington, Kentucky. He had resided in San Angelo before he ramd to Kerrville in 1942 to make his home. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War and had been a building contractor before his retirement. Survivors include his wife of Kerrville, his son, C. Beagle, Mrs. Mike Moravcis and Mrs. Aaron Meadows of Kerrville and Mrs. Albert Dorow visited their brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dorow at Utopia last Saturday.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. Rhea Mansfield was released from the Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital in Kerrville last Friday and is recouperating at her home in Bandera and her many friends are feeling fine and able to be up and about again as she has been confined to her home since suffering during her illness.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people who have come personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two money days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and of his last "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day. Rough roads are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles—'60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!

New Dollar-Saving Prices
Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension
Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a smooth new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels
Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable
Many models are a whole 7 inches lower without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of-cabs. Still there's more space inside; more room for hats and legs. Less foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Plus Improvements All Through the Line
A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V-8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.

FIRST METHODIST TO SPONSOR MANAGEMENT CONFERENCE

W. P. Jordan, Mrs. Melvin Ramsdell, and Rev. David Stewart of Bandera, Methodist Church, were delegates to the Trust conference on labor and management relations ever to be held by the Methodist Church in Texas. The meeting was held at the University Methodist Church in Austin, Rev. James William Morgan was host pastor.

Rev. W. F. Hathaway, Jr., pastor of the First Methodist Church, Columbus, Texas, evaluating the conference said, "I think this initial venture was a success. The delegates I was able to talk with at length seemed not only pleased but expressed the opinion they gained new insights and enlightenment in particular areas. And I think this is the obligation of the church to make the truth known. I believe the program was outstanding.

Other Texas leaders of the conference were the chairman of the five annual conference boards of Christian Social Relations: Rev. Michael Pattison, Arlington, Dr. Albert Cutler, Dallas, Rev. Alfred Zirkel, Edna, and Rev. J. Paul Brown, Houston.

The conference held in Austin is the first in Texas, but one of scores of such conferences being held on the verge of one a week throughout the U.S.A. The conferences are under the direction of the church's general board of social and economic relations with headquarters in Chicago.

General Board staff representatives, Rev. Emerson Smith defined the purpose of the conference as twofold: (1) to give witness that Methodists are concerned about what goes on in the industrial world and (2) the exchange of enlightment and understanding can come through such meetings without anger, rancor, and frayed tempers.

Among those on the conference program were Tilford E. Dudley, director of A.F.L.-C.I.O. Research Bureau, Charles A. Kothe, Vice-president National Association of Manufacturers, Dr. Douglas Jackson, Perkins School of Theology, Dallas, Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke, Pittsburgh, Bishop W. C. Martin, Dallas.

Panel Members on a panel on "Problems and Outlook in Texas Industrial Relations were Hon. Ronald Bridges, state representative, Corpus Christi, Charles Cadigan, vice-president, Gulf States Transmission Company, Houston, Robert Childers, president Childers Manufacturing Company, Houston, Jerry Holleman, State president, A.F.L.-C.I.O., Austin.

Mr. Caddigan, an Episcopalean, said of the meeting, "It is most encouraging to see clergy and laymen getting the fact that problems must be concerned with the whole society. By coming together and learning more from different backgrounds of experience, management, labor, and mediators, they have greater understanding of the complexities of labor and the necessity for doing something about them.

SOCIAL SECURITY TAXES

If you are self-employed, you will be paying a social security tax of 3% for the first $4800 of your net income when you file your income tax return in 11960. But when you report 1960 earnings in 1961—the tax will be 4½ per cent. This tax increase is a part of the long-range plan to keep your social security self-supporting.

For further information see your social security representative, Eugene E. Hirsch, who is in Bandera at the Old Courthouse on Friday, January 29, at 9:30 a.m.

Membership in the national Holstein organization now totals 50,560 and is believed to be without precedent in livestock history.

The Association ranks as the world's largest dairy cattle registry organization. It maintains all official records of the Holstein breed in this country at its Brattleboro, Vermont, headquarters.

More than 200,000 calves are registered each year in the Holstein-Friesian Herd Book. Over 135,000 animals are officially transferred to new owners.

In addition, close to 100,000 cows are enrolled in the Association's official production testing programs. More than 58,000 were classified for type during 1959.

GRAND OPERA FESTIVAL SET FOR FEBRUARY 27, 28, MARCH 5, 6

San Antonio. — The Symphony Society of San Antonio announces the 16th Grand Opera Festival to be presented at the Municipal Auditorium in San Antonio on February 27, 28, and March 5, 6.

The San Antonio Opera Festival is now one of the most highly acclaimed opera events in this country. From the Southwest area, and other parts of the country, opera lovers flock to the Festival. Each succeeding season has brought new breadth and scope to the undertaking of producing the most complex of all art forms —opera.

The leading stars are among the finest in opera today. The music has unusual brilliance with the San Antonio Symphony Orchestra in the pit and the dynamic musical director of the symphony, Victor Alessandro, Conducting.

The gala, glittering opening night, February 27, 8 p.m., Verdi's great masterpiece, "A Masked Ball" will be presented. Performed for the first time in a San Antonio Festival, it should be a momentous occasion with the great tenor Richard Tucker as "Ricardo", the current sensation of the soprano field, Leonie Rysanek as "Amelia" and baritone Igor Gorin as "Renato."

BANDERA GIRLS TAKE SECOND IN UTOPIA TOURNAMENT

...basketball teams played three games Friday and Saturday in the Utopia tournament to win second place.

The girls defeated Center Point 38-30 Friday afternoon. The game turned out to be very unusual. The Center Point team had the "flu bug" and only seven of their team were well enough to attend the tournament. So, when three of the Center Point girls fouled out, the game was closed with Center Point playing four girls against Bandera's six. Lu Langham was high scorer in this game with 15 points; Rose Stricker was close behind with 13; Cathy Anderwald made 2; and Laura Stricker bucketed 8.

The girls returned to Utopia to play the Utopia girls Saturday morning. The winner of this game was to play Medina in the finals Saturday night. Bandera came out on top with the high score of 63-35. The high point girl was Rose Stricker. She bucketed 51 of the 63 points. Lu Langham made 10 points, and Cathy Anderwald 2. Without Lu and Cathy's help, Rose could not have made such a high score. The playing and ball handling in this respect was extraordinary. The school and team are proud of this score and these scorers. So, on to the finals.

The girls weren't quite so snappy when they met the long awaited last bout with Medina, in the finals. But luck seemed to have set in. JoAnn Baker became ill and had to leave the game at the beginning. Cathy Cuney also received a hard blow on the head. These girls returned to the game a little later. Even though JoAnn was out of the game, Medina defeated them 41-22. Laura Stricker was top girl with 11 points. Rose Stricker made 7, Cathy Anderwald and Lu Langham both bucketed 2. The girls are very proud of their second place trophy and of Rose Stricker, who was chosen for the all-tournament team.

The Bandera girls' basketball team took the lead in the district when they defeated Southside, 43-37. Bandera is the only undefeated team in the district. Rose Stricker bucketed 22 points; Lu Langham made 13; and Cathy Anderwald made 8. The girls will play Southwest there, Friday night.

And Rev. 21:4—And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. And Psa. 37:37—Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace.

THE BOEHME FAMILY

BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

CONSERVATION DEVELOPMENT SELF-GOVERNMENT

Take half—leave half of each years production of the key grasses is one of the important principles of range management. This was observed recently on the Carpenter Ranch west of Medina. The 1,162 acre pasture has been stocked properly for the past two years. Half of each years growth of the key plants was utilized as forage and half was left to grow more grass for next year. As a result of this proper range use the pasture is now in good condition. Such grasses as little bluestem, sideoats grama, plains lovegrass, and Indiangrass are abundant. These grasses are healthy and have produced a good seed crop. Undernormal rainfall this continued proper use of this pasture will continue to improve in future years.

Take advantage of the rain that falls by having a cover to reduce run-off.

Hubert Bisinger has recently completed work on 1650 feet of cross-fence on his ranch south of Bandera. Mr. Risinger, assisted by Soil Conservation Service Technicans, located the fence so as to divide a large pasture into two more easily worked pastures. By doing this, Bisinger will be able to control his grazing and will be able to defer part of his pasture from time to time. Bisinger was assisted in his fencing through a cost share from the Bandera County Agricultural Conservation Program.

Proper grazing use consists of leaving enough leaves to grow enough roots to grow enough leaves.

Several ranchers in the Bandera SCD have recently begun brush control work. Winter brush control followed by Spring and Summer deferments will help greatly to improve most pastures. Cold chaining on brush control is available to most ranchers through the Bandera ASC offices. Several thousand acres of brush need to be cleared each year in the District for better game management and improved grass production. For more information on how you can improve your place by brush control contact your local SCS technicians.

BANDERA MAN IS MEMBER OF FAMOUS JUDGING TEAM

College Station, Texas. — The Texas A. and M. College Animal Husbandry Department has produced three national champion junior livestock judging teams in the short space of two consecutive years.

These teams covered the categories of livestock, wool and meats and the years were 1958 and 1959. The livestock group was the national champ in 1959, taking first place at three major shows. Championship honors also went to the wool team and the past year, while the meats team was the top winner in 1958.

Coached by Assistant Prof. D. D. Wythe Jr., the livestock team won in the face of stiff competition at Fort Worth's Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock Show, the American Royal Livestock Show at Kansas City and the king of all stock events, the International Livestock Show at Chicago.

"Members of the team were Carroll Osborn of Valley Spring; Robert Van Winkle, Kilgore; Dammon Montalbo; Lovell Kuykendall, Cherokee; Joe Joyce, San Marcos, and Jim Holloway of Stamford.

At Kansas City, the Aggies were high pointers in sheep judging, fourth in cattle, sixth in quarters and 11th in swine. Osborn was fifth high individual in all classes of livestock; Joyce third in sheep, and Holloway was sixth in sheep.

In winning the International at Chicago, the A. and M. student put up 4,491 points out of a possible 5,000 and defeated about 40 teams representing all the major agricultural colleges in the United States.

Osborn was the high man in the entire contest, with 929 out of a possible 1,000 points. Magee was fourth high individual, getting 916 points.

A. and M. was highest in swine judging, earning 1,606 points out of a possible 1,750. Osborn, Magee and Van Winkle ranked one, two and three, in that order for a clean sweep of top places. Swine judging usually is dominated by Corn Belt Schools.

The Aggies tied for fourth in beef cattle judging at Chicago and tied for second in sheep judging. They also tied for first place in judging Suffolk sheep.

The year 1959, then, was a triple crown year for the Aggie livestock team.

Following its national championship in 1958, the A. and M. meats judging team in 1959 took three straight second places at Fort Worth, Kansas City and Chicago. The coach was Frank A. Orts, research assistant in the animal husbandry department.

Team members were Don Osborn of Valley Spring, Leroy Kesse of Bandera, Henry Fitzhugh of San Antonio, and Joe Joyce.

At the Kansas City event, Osborn was fourth high individual in beef grading; Joyce, fourth high individual overall and Fitzhugh, 10th high man overall.

The A. and M. group scored 2,591 points out of a possible 3,000 at Chicago's International show to win second place. Pittsburgh was high point individual in the overall contest, stacking up 884 points out of a possible 1,000. Joyce merited seventh place with 871 points.

A. and M. was first in beef grading and Osborn was high point individual in that class. The team was second in lamb judging, with Joyce getting the high point honors. Other placings for the Aggies were seventh in pork judging and eighth in beef judging.

Members of the 1959 national champion Aggie wool judging team were Kuykendall, Joyce, Hudson Glimp of Burnet and John Hodge of Salado. They won the honor by edging out eight other teams at Kansas City's American Royal. Coach was C. F. Parker, instructor in the A. and M. Animal Husbandry Department.

Joyce was high individual in the entire contest, first in breed fleeces; fifth in grading fleeces and fifth in commercial fleeces. Hodge was second high individual in the overall contest and first in grading fleeces.

There were no wool judging events at Fort Worth and Chicago.

Texas A. and M.'s judging team history now spans 56 years. It was in 1904 that the school sent its first livestock group to Chicago, winning second place. Since that time, A. and M. has produced its share of national champions and has nearly always ranked among the top contenders.

CAREFUL DRIVERS ARE REWARDED

Austin—A competitive rate system is the only way careful automobile drivers in Texas can be justly rewarded with lower insurance rates, a spokesman for the National Association of Independent Insurers has told the State Board of Insurance.

Appearing before the board at Austin Wednesday last week at Austin to protest, along with hundreds of others, the present merit system "monstrosity," Keith Kelly of Fort Worth, NAII attorney, said no plan would work "under Texas' monopolistic uniform single rate system" that eliminates competition.

Kelly appealed to the board to let insurance companies compete for the auto buyer's insurance business, and reinterated that many companies were willing and financially able to offer lower insurance rates, but cannot do so under the present fixed-price rating system.

He said his association had warned the board repeatedly that merit rating would never work when a fixed-price is forced upon the public.

"Why should those who believe in concerted price fixing in insurance be permitted to force all insurance companies to conform to the same rigid pattern, at the expense of the public?" Kelly asked.

Kelly said the aim of the merit rating plan was to reward careful drivers. He said the desired result could be accomplished by the adoption of a competitive (flexible) rate system, and that such a plan would be without all the injustices contained in the present merit rating plan.

"It is the opinion of the NAII that the Texas Safe Drivers Insurance Plan is an actuarial monstrosity that was foisted on the Board and an unsuspecting public by the same group of companies which has resisted legislative efforts to bring the benefits of healthy competition to insurance buyers," he told the board.

"If the companies which fathered this thing want to keep it, let them have it but let the public decide for itself whether or not it wants any part of the plan. Do not make participation by insurance companies and insurance buyers compulsory. Make it optional."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer of Wenatchee, Washington, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hayes Sunday. They were enroute to Utopia and Sabinal to visit relatives and friends.

THE LAST INDIAN RAID IN ERATH COUNTY

By W. H. Davis

William H. Davis came from North Carolina to Texas and settled on the North Paluxy river, not very far from where the little city of Bluffdale now stands, in the spring of the year 1856. He and his family were the seventh family to settle on the Paluxy river from its head to its mouth, a distance of some fifty miles or more. They came to Texas in covered wagons drawn by oxen and they were more than three months on the road.

At this time, Erath county had wild game of most every description, such as panther, bear, antelope, deer, turkey, prairie chickens, raccoons, opposum, skunks, wild cattle, wild horses, wild hogs and an abundance of squirrels. The lonesome howl of the coyote, the dangerous hiss of the rattlesnake, and the murderous whoop of the wild Indians were often herd.

The families were located from two to five miles apart, in the Davis settlement; other small settlements were located in different parts of the county, but were from twenty to thirty miles apart. At this time the county lines had not been established, but were later marked out by a surveyor named Duvall.

The Indians made several raids in Erath county over a period of several years. They stole cattle and horses and when they were not satisfied with their stolen goods, they would murder and scalp the settlers. These raids were always made on the full of the moon, so that the Indians might take advantage of an all-night moonlight to perform their dastardly deeds.

Of the numerous raids, I will only speak of the one termed the last in Erath county. There were only seven Indians who took part in this last raid—seven bucks and one squaw. The chase began somewhere near the southeast corner of Erath county. At the beginning of the fight, there were very few white men taking part, but as runners were sent to the different settlements, the number of the whites were increased almost hourly. To evade their pursuers, the Indians traveled along the east line of the county northward. The white men stayed so close to them and kept coming from every direction, so that the Indians were compelled to change their course and were trying to get out of Erath county. A few miles south of the northeast corner of Erath county, they were surrounded by the settlers, and were forced to take shelter in the bed of Star Hollow Creek. This hollow is at, or very near, the east line of Erath county on the Morgan Mill and Granbury road. The Indians took refuge under a high bluff which gave them an advantage over the whites, as there was only one approach and that was to walk out directly in front and in open view of the Indians. The settlers charged, but retreated with three seriously wounded. The day was exceedingly hot, and a thunder storm gathered, which broke in a regular cloud burst. The number of settlers had increased to about one hundred or more by the time the water came down the creek to a depth of four or five feet, submerging the Indians and wetting their bow strings. They could not shoot accurately. The settlers charged, and killed the group of six buck Indians. The survivors, as the settlers came nearer, called in broken English: "Don't kill me—me squaw." But these words aroused no sympathy and she was killed. The settlers carried the bodies out on top of the bluff and left them to their silent sleep. My oldest brother, Newman O. Davis, was the only one of our family that took part in the fight. Should anyone read this, who had relatives in his fight, I would be glad to hear from them.

I.R.S. URGES TAXPAYER SELF-HELP

Taxpayer self-help will again be urged by Internal Revenue Service during the income tax filing period from now to April 15, David W. Sides, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service at San Antonio, said today.

Self-help means that the taxpayer completes as much of his 1959 return as possible before asking Internal Revenue for help. This saves the time of IRS people who, in turn, save the taxpayers' money when uninterrupted from their routine duties of seeing that every taxpayer bears his fair share of the tax burden.

The Revenue representative revealed that many tax problems can be solved by telephoning Internal Revenue or by studying the comprehensive instructions that accompany Federal income tax forms for '59.

Mrs. Marie Rees of San Antonio, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Pat Cox, and Mr. and Mrs. Spivey of Center Point, were visitors in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rayfield and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Cox last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dorow spent the week in Kerrville where they have been visiting Mrs. Dorow's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holdsworth, and Mrs. Dorow's sister, Mrs. Aaron Meadows, who was here visiting last week-end and took the Dorrows home with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Coughran of San Antonio are spending several weeks here visiting with friends and relatives.

WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

It's The Law IN TEXAS

Legal trouble is usually cheaper to prevent than to cure.

Most wage earning, childbearing, property owning families are saying families don't see much need for a family lawyer.

Often under prodding, one may get in trouble with the law. "But can you tell a big legal risk from a small one? Can you spot the signs of legal trouble?

Check with your family lawyer when:

1. Your status changes: upon coming of age, marriage, the birth of your children, buying a house, divorce or death. For you may then need to draft or revise your will; change your insurance, or refigure your taxes.

2. You buy or sell. Look out for flaws in the papers before you go into debt, part with money, or sign anything involving big expenditures or long term obligations.

3. You enter into other contracts. Promises spoken or written are legally binding. Look for "consideration," something of value in return.

Anything that threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them, but with some rights you must take action yourself for them to be worthwhile.

When you can bring your lawyer "live" facts (e.g. unsigned contracts, wrong ads returns you haven't filed), he can do much more for you, and at a smaller cost than when you bring him the facts (mistakes you have made which threaten trouble).

But above all, get both live and dead facts to him at once. For time may run out on many legal situations. Your lawyer may be able to do something for you today, which he cannot do tomorrow. Tell your lawyer what you want. Tell him all the facts, good or bad, and then keep him informed all along. He is sworn to help what you tell in confidence, and he cannot serve you well without full information.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

MRS. MAZURER'S SEVENTH GRADE

Jack Fortner went to Camp Bullis, Sunday, and shot an M-1 rifle. Monday, he caught a skunk.

Carol Sifferliu went on a picnic this week-end at Bandera Falls.

This week-end Diane Everett went to Gretchen Mueller's house and visited until Saturday evening.

Sunday, Glenda Kaye Ritchson's mother went with her, and sister to Polly's Chapel. Then they tried to find the old fort the Mexicans built. They never found it, but they had a good time trying. They walked right up on a doe, and they also found a spring flowing out of the ground.

Friday evening after school Jimmie Daniels and Freddie Flach went with the Mustang basketball team to Medina. The Mustangs were beaten 23 to 10.

Saturday, Jimmy Daniels went to the Medina Den and Theater; then in the afternoon he went to see the midget car races.

Sunday afternoon, Charmen and Dickie Hicks with their father, D. W. Hicks, went to Kerrville to take their stock to the show which begins Monday.

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE

The third graders are showing signs of becoming organizers. Since they are two young to enter politics, even though they are hearing a lot about it on radio and TV, they become "politically minded" and are building club houses.

Billy Prather and Douglas Ballew reported working on their club house at the lake, whenever they were not riding their bicycles this week-end.

Zane Everett and Ray D'Spain were just as busy making a club house in Ray's garage. Zane had to take some time out to go to his grandfather's ranch to help "kill a hog for the family deep-freeze.

Gayle Monier had friends come calling during the week-end. He entertained them by dragging out all the old guns from what he calls the "junk room." He never did tell whether he put them all back again. Guns could be dangerous left around the house.

Steven Faulkner was quite busy, too. He helped his brother start what he calls a "patio" of rock in the yard. Then he helped build another, near the porch. They got the rocks from a vacant lot.

Victor Strickland is as happy to report that his dad is home from the army for a month. The whole family drove up to Camp La Junta, Sunday, to take his grandfather to work. The children had so much fun investigating the camp.

Neal Smith was at the ranch this week-end. While riding around on a horse he discovered some interesting Bones about the pasture. He wants to decorate his room with them when the new family home is completed.

Linda Goodenough and her brother and sister stayed with their grandmother while their parents went to Dallas for the furniture show.

Susie Short visited Jane Ann Pearson and they had four or five tea parties! Later Jane Ann's mother took them to a show. She took her grandmother up to Medina to see our pretty scenery.

Janie Lewis is back in school, after a week's absence. She told us her "chicken pox flew the coop."

MRS MULLENAX'S SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Nancy Rhodes went to the show Saturday.

Linda Haun enjoyed having relatives and friends visit her.

Johnny Wedgeworth went to see his grandmother. While he was there, he caught two ringtails, one black squirrel, two red squirrels, an o'possum, and a red squirrel's foot.

Sunday, Morris Green and his brother, Jerry, tried to figure out how to play beginner's chess. He spent his time trying to play because his TV was out off order.

Robert Alanis, George Hamilton, Johnny Small, Ronnie Daniels, and Thomas Meginnis went to see the midget car races.

Linda Pawvlik had company for the week-end.

Saturday, Deborah Harrison made some doll dresses, Sunday, her brother, Robert, was shot with a BB gun by his brother, Denis. His father took him to the doctor.

Johnny Causey went squirrel hunting.

Kimberly Walters spent Sunday with Judy Locke and reports having a very good time.

Robert Alanis went coon hunting.

JUNIOR JABBER

If everyone makes it through this week, it will be a miracle. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday there were mid-term examinations. Tuesday night there was a basketball game between Bandera and Southside for both the boys' and girls' teams. Today is the day of the stock show and there is no school. Although it seemed there was nothing happening Thursday, that was perhaps the busiest day of all—everyone was recuperating from the tests and resting up for the stock show!

SENIOR NEWS

The seniors ordered personal cards and invitations for graduation this week. This seems to have brought us one day closer to the big day! There is the usual amount of mumbling among the seniors about such various things as basketball games, semester examinations, the girl in the next room, and of course, always graduation.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

The year 1941 was filled with various world-wide events, but December third of that year was an especially significant date for Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mosso. Born to them on that winner morning in Galveston, Texas, was a small baby daughter whom they named Mary Anne.

This friendly, brown-haired, green-eyed, petite young lady, as the Bandera Senior Class now knows her, began her school days in Galveston where she attended Ursuline Academy and St. Pa trick's. She was next introduced to school life in Bandera upon entrance into St. Joseph's. While maintaining good grades, Mary Anne's energy and enthusiasm also won her a position as cheerleader at St. Joseph's for two years.

Mary Anne's debut into high school marked the beginning of four fun-packed, study-filled years of which she has made the most. Her quick wit and wealth of well-chosen words have caused her to merit the office of senior class reporter. She was also runner-up for Senior Class Favorite. Included in Mary Ann's activities is her participation in organizations such as the Pep Patrol for two years and the F.H.A. for four years, serving as pianist her junior year. She is also a member of the School Daze and the annual staff, groups which greatly appreciate her contributions and her reliability.

Among the things which Mary Anne enjoys doing most are dancing, swimming and horseback riding. She also likes to read but her main "dislike" stems from this source. She explores unhappy endings to books. .

Because of her friendly, pleasant personality, Mary Anne has established lasting friendships in B. H. S. The Senior Class of '60 expresses its sincere best wishes to a very talented young woman.

Could anyone deny this baby a few minutes?
Certainly not the mother or father. And surely you, a stranger, would not begrudge a few minutes of your time to protect this baby's life—or yours!
Driving faster than road conditions or the law allows can shorten your trip no more than two or three minutes. Is this saving worth the risk of a precious life? For minutes like these can mean the difference between life and death.
Last year, nearly 40,000 men, women and children died in traffic accidents. In 3 out of 10 fatal crashes, speeding was a factor. Think how many lives just minutes can save . . . and slow down!

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world, our Nation, and Community will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publishers of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at these future "World Builders."

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures . . . they must all be of uniform size and quality.

An expert children's photographer with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Friday, February 5. Pictures will be taken at the Bulletin office and will be open from 10 a.m., to 5 p.m.

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is hoirafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the Studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them.

The Bulletin simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more, the better. So the Mothers and Fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date, February 5, at the Bulletin office, and not fail to bring their children to the photographer.

You will be mighty glad, afterwards, if you did, and very, very sorry if you do not permit your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have much fun and both Mother and Dad—and the youngsters, too—will be very proud to see their pictures in print later.

Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Ross Bailey, Phone SW6-3353, Bandera. Call in afternoon.

MEDINA LAKE LEVEL FULL

For the second time since it began filling with water in 1913, Medina lake is setting a record for staying full and full over an extended period.

G. M. Harrison of the Bexar-Medina-Atascosa Counties Water Improvement District No. 1, which controls the lake, revealed Tuesday that with continued rains the old record established in the late 1930s will be broken later this year.

The lake—nearly bone dry a decade ago in the clutches of the long drouth—has maintained a constant level near the 152-foot maximum depth and 249,000 acre-feet of water since 1957 when it began filling with the drouth break.

The last time Medina lake boasted a constant level akin to the present was during a 2-year period of 1935-36-37, Harrison said.

Then the drouth hit in 1948 and the lake became a big mud puddle.

After the lengthy dry spell, the lake once again began filling and in July, 1958, the waters rushed over the spill-way.

Only on four previous occasions—1915, 1919, 1935, 1937—had the spillway been crossed.

The lake has hit the overflow mark on more than a half-dozen occasions since the spillway was reached in 1958.

Harrison explained that with almost every rain in the watershed above the lake, the water crosses the spillway.

Because of rain down the Medina valley below the dam, there is little need for irrigation waters from the lake. Harrison concluded: "We've been pulling out very little water for irrigation the last few months. At this rate we'll maintain a full lake for a good while."

Mrs. J. C. Hunter of Abilene spent this week here with her sister, Mrs. Aileen Fitzgerald.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OFFICERS WILL BE ELECTED AT TUESDAY MEET

There will be a regular Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 in the library room of the auditorium. There are several important matters to be discussed. Election of new officers for the coming year will be held. A special directors meeting will be held immediately after the regular meeting.

It is with pleasure that I acknowledge my indebtedness to those of you who have assisted me in this year work. It is encouraging to know how many progressive people were willing to work for a better community through your Chamber of Commerce.

In the past year we were host to a four county dedication and ribbon cutting at the opening of the new Bandera to Hondo highway, attended meetings of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce when they concerned the tourist industry, and industrial prospects. Your Chamber of Commerce office received hundreds of inquiries about Bandera as a place to vacation and for hunting and fishing. Numerous letters were received from people wanting information about Bandera as a place to retire. Approximately ten thousand brochures were sent out literally covering the United States advertising Bandera.

Various public relations and good will jobs are handled every day by the secretary and officers of your Chamber of Commerce and that is working for you and for the growth and welfare of your city and county.

Wilvie Smith, President, 1959

Winners in the races were presented trophies by Miss Jean Daniels, Bandera FFA Sweetheart, in behalf of the Guy Morse Ford Sales.

Mr. Lord of the Morse Ford Sales told a Bulletin reporter this week that plans are being made to bring the Midget Racers to Bandera again for another performance later in the year, perhaps this summer when weather conditions will be more favorable for racing. So if you missed the races last Saturday because of the bad weather, watch for an announcement sometime in the future of a return performance of the racers.

Mrs. Newt Sewall, Jr., has been here visiting her mother and sister, Mrs. Blanch Ross and Miss Charlsie Ross.

SELF-GOVERNMENT

Laury Baumer of Utopia and Freddy Glen Flach of Bandera, were winners in the Senior and Junior Divisions of the Plant Judging Contest last week. The Contest, sponsored by the Bandera Soil Conservation District, is held annually in conjunction with the County Junior Livestock show. Mr. Baumer correctly identified and rated according to forage value, 27 out of the 35 plants. Freddy Flach was correct on 21. The winners were awarded pocket-knives donated by Langford Hardware of Bandera and Ben Adams Hardware of Medina.

Mechanical control of undesirable brush without grazing management has not been successful. The only lasting method of brush control is a good cover of native grasses.

Albert Albrecht, who ranches southwest of Pipe Creek, has recently started a brush control program. Mr. Albrecht, with the assistance of local Soil Conservation Service technicians, is clearing brush in selected patterns for maximum wildlife protection. The brush is being cleared on deeper soils and on hilltops. Hill sides and shallow adobe soils are being left in brush for deer and turkey. Albrecht plans on clearing approximately 80 acres of brush this year. He is being assisted through funds from the Bandera County Agricultural Conservation Program.

Water must be stored in the soil to grow grass. It takes cover and litter to get moisture in the ground.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

GO '60 GO CHEVY!

NOW—THE CAR THAT STARTS THE SIXTIES WITH SO MUCH THAT'S NEW, SO MUCH THAT'S DIFFERENT ...AND SETS THE PACE WITH LOWER PRICES!

Chevrolet speaks of the Sixties like no other car—with a broad accent on spaciousness, stirring new concepts in styling and strong emphasis on spirit and thrift.

Step inside this superlative '60 and look at the world's widest windshield and narrowest the transmission tunnel to give the middle man more foot room. Chevrolet's engineers have fathered and mothered up more room where you want it—not outside in useless body overhang.

You'll find economy teamed with performance in a new standard V8, engineered to deliver up to 10% more miles per gallon, or the stripping HEADS!

And riding comfort in the new one is a never-ending treat, thanks to Full Coil spring suspension. There are also thicker, heavily designed body mounts that filter noise and vibration to the vanishing point, more rigid frame and many other engineering advances.

But you'll have to drive the Sixty special yourself—that's the clincher.

Tarpley

Our community was well represented at the Bandera County Junior Livestock Show at the agricenter near Bandera last week-end. We congratulate the Muller youngsters, Sandy, Goodloe, Mike, Buck Dickie, who had entries in the capon and sheep divisions and received several ribbons. M. R. Sandidge, of the Mayer Ranch was among the buyers at the auction sale Saturday afternoon and W. B. Richards served on the finance committee for the show. The ladies of the Tarpley Home Demonstration Club sold food on the grounds Friday and also helped serve the dinner on Saturday. Nearly everyone in the community was in attendance at the show sometime or other during the three days and we are proud of the fine cooperation of the people in our community as this helped so much to make the event a great success.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nichols were Bandera visitors last Thursday. While there Mr. Nichols consulted the doctor, and we hope he is feeling much better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Dean are the proud parents of a fine little son. The proud paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dean of D'Hanis, former residents of Tarpley.

Friends were happy to see Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Dean and children, Larry, Nettie Marie, and Charles Hope, of Dilley at the stock show at Bandera Saturday. Elsie made a quick trip to Tarpley during the afternoon, before they returned home.

Visitors in the home of Walter and Augusta Sewell over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pressler, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Pressler and daughters, Suggie and Sissie, of Comfort.

We were misinformed regarding the sale of the former Christensen place above Tarpley on Williams Creek and wish to thank W. B. Richards for telling us that the place Ivy M. Telschow of Houston purchased from J. E. Summerhauer was the former Orten place where Mr. and Mrs. Richards reside. The Christensen place and several times in fact, so many times that we can hardly find the records at the court house, and we hope we are correct in saying that Mr. Cliff of Kerrville is the present owner.

Friends here will be sorry to learn that Mrs. H. B. Allen of San Antonio, and a former resident of this community, has been ill since November. She is sleeping what improved now, but is confined to home by gouchy Texas and its traditions, consequently the 11th annual show, as those in the past, will honor Texans on each and every day of the February 12-21 Exposition," E. W. Bickett, president of the annual event, stated at a meeting of the Special Days Chairmen in San Antonio.

J. L. Tiner, Special Days Chairman, announced the following co-chairmen and the areas they would serve: G. L. Fling, Schools Day, and Jim Battersby, Press, Radio, TV Day, February 12; Elmer Crumrine and Cal Johnson, Rural Youth Day, February 13; Rio Grande Valley Day, February 14; Bill Petmecky, Archie Gerfers, and Willis Birk, Hill Country Day, February 15; Jack Stewart, Colorado and Guadalupe Valley, February 16; Edward O. Gardner, Winter Garden Day, February 17.

Also, Jack Fletcher, Gulf Coast Day, February 18; Edwin M. Jackson, West Texas Day, February 19; Dudley Storey and N. A. Quinnelly, Brush Country Day, February 20; Brig. Gen. John C. Gordon, USAF Retired, Armed Forces Day, February 21.

Gordon Shook, co-chairman of the Special Days Committee, listed these events as being included on the Special Days Committee, these events as being included on the 10-day show calendar: the $1¼ million Farm-Ranch Machinery Show, International Wool and Mohair Show, display of wool and mohair fashions and textiles, 15 performances of the Southwestern Exposition Rodeo, over 5,000 head of the nation's finest livestock and horses, the Bill Hames Carnival, and many more exhibits.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. E. M. Pue, co-hostess. Mrs. Pue, the new president, opened the meeting by the club reciting the club prayer. She then introduced Mrs. Roscoe Hayes, a new member. The roll was called and answered by "The last book I have read." The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the treasury report given. Letters of appreciation were read from the Kerrville State Home, Veterans Canteen and San Antonio T.B. hospital for our help in making the patients a Merry Christmas.

As there was no old business to be taken care of, we started in the New Year by filling out our year books and paying for our T.H.D.A. dues. Mrs. Pue named the following committee chairmen: Reporter, Mrs. Joe Hensley; Finance, Mrs. Arthur Hayes; Exhibit, Mrs. W. P. Jordon; Year Book, Mrs. E. M. Pue; Recreation, all club members; Exhibits and Educational, Mrs. Roscoe Hayes; and Civil Defense, Mrs. Lon Fisher. After finishing our year books and discussing the calendar that Council will serve on Saturday, we drew for the club prize; it going to Mrs. A. W. Hueske, who will furnish prize for the next meeting. The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Stevens, who gave us some valuable information on how to buy and take care of a leather bag. She also furnished patterns and a lot of information on where to order frames, handles and all purse making material, if any one is interested in purse making. She also had samples and all the information for the ones interested in making leather bill folds, coin purses and other leather goods.

Pound cake with bananna sauce and coffee was served to Mrs. W. P. Jordon, Roscoe Hayes, Lon Fisher, A. W. Hueske, R. L. Hensley and the hostess, Mrs. E. M. Pue.

The next meeting will be February 18 with Mrs. Bob Wyatt.

GRAND OPERA FESTIVAL SET FOR FEBRUARY 27, 28, MARCH 5, 6

San Antonio — The Symphony Society of San Antonio announces the 16th Grand Opera Festival to be presented at the Municipal Auditorium in San Antonio on February 27-28, and March 5, 6.

The San Antonio Opera Festival is one of the most highly acclaimed opera events in this country. From the Southwest area, and other parts of the country, opera lovers flock to the Festival. Each succeeding season has brought new breadth and scope to the undertaking of producing the most complex of all art forms opera.

The leading stars are among the finest in opera today. The music has unusual brilliance with the San Antonio Symphony Orchestra in the pit and the dynamic musical director of the symphony, Victor Alessandro, conducting.

The gala, glittering opening night, February 27, 8 p.m., Verdi's great masterpiece, "A Masked Ball" will be presented. Performed for the first time in a San Antonio Festival, it should be a momentous occasion with the great tenor Richard Tucker as "Riccardo", the current sensation of the soprano field, Leontyne Ryanne as "Amelia" and baritone Igor Gorin as "Renato."

"A Masked Ball" possesses great importance as dramatic power and simple, in addition to its political and anecdotal associations. It has wonderful ensemble writing and some beautiful arias such as Amelia's "Ma dall' arido." Now to the American opera scene will Leonie Rysanek who made her debut as "Lady Macbeth" at the Metropolitan on February 5, 1959. To many her performance surpassed anything they had experienced at the Metropolitan. This one performance confirmed that Renata Tebaldi and Maria Callas have been joined by a dramatic soprano of equal magniture.

Charles Gounod's "Faust," to be presented Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m., has proceeded from triumph to triumph. It is the wonderful abundance of lyricism that commends to place "Faust" in the front rank of the world's most popular operas.

The great Swedish-Russian tenor, Nicolai Gedda, will sing the role of "Faust". Mr. Gedda, a leading star since 1952 at La Scala, the Rome and Paris Operas, the Vienna Opera, Covent Garden, and the Aix-en-Provence and Salzburg Festivals, made his Metropolitan Opera Debut in the title role of "Faust" in November of 1957. Bass-Baritone Norman Treigle has just recently won honors for his dynamic and dramatic interpretation of "Mephistopheles" with the New York City Opera. Lovely soprano Nadine Conner has won great ovations from Metropolitan Opera audiences with her interpretation of "Marguerite" in "Faust."

Noteworthy among the forteopera this season is the presentation of Verdi's "Nabucco" on Saturday evening, March 5, 8 p.m. It is a proud achievement of San Antonio for this is the third time that this magnificient opera has been presented in the United States. It is one of the most popular in the European opera houses and the Metropolitan has just announced they plan to present it next season.

Many opera companies have been reluctant to produce "Nabucco" because of the grand scale of the undertaking. Scenes are of glorious spectacle and one of the nightiest choral scenes of all operas is when the enslaved people of Israel sing "Va Pensiero," "Nabucco" was inspired by the Old Testament and takes place during the Babylonian captivity of the Jews during the reign of Nebuchadnezzar; it is one of the greatest of all biblical scrits.

The cast for this opera was carefully deliberated since interpretation calls for not only exceptional vocal abilities but also electrifying acting talent. Baritone Giuseppe Valdengo will sing "Nabucco," soprano Frances Yeend, "Abigaille," soprano Eva Likova, "Fenena" and bass Ye Kwei Eze, the role of the "High Priest."

The final opera is certainly one of the great favorites in operatic repertoire, Puccini's "Tosca" to be presented on Sunday afternoon, March 6, at 2 p.m. The cast is one of the most remarkably brilliant which could ever be assembled for this opera . . . Dorothy Kirsten as "Tosca", Richard Tucker as "Cavaradossi" and Robert Weede as "Scarpia." The role of "Floria Tosca" is the favorite of modern prima donnas and Dorothy Kirsten's interpretation will be a jeweled moment in the 1960 Grand Opera Festival.

Anthony L. Stivanello, of New York, is stage director; scenic designs are by Peter Wolf and Associates; B. R. Henson, director of the Symphony-Festival Chorus, assembles the huge choral groups who participate.

Opera tickets are now on sale at the Symphony box office at the Municipal Auditorium. Requests will be filled in the order received and should be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope and check or money order; address the Symphony Society of San Antonio, Municipal Auditorium, San Antonio 5, Texas.

Mrs. Ora Ross has been very ill at her home the past two weeks with pneumonia, but at this time is somewhat improved. Her friends here wish for her a speedy recovery. Mrs. Lena Mae Bridges of Kerrville spent the past week-end here with her.

CARD OF THANKS

May God bless each one of you, our dear friends and neighbors, for your many kindnesses during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. Your prayers, letters, cards, flowers and many other kind expressions have meant so much to us and are helping us to bear our burden.

MRS. ERNEST MURRELL AND CHILDREN

Two of the nation's top entertainers, "Mr. Country Music", JIMMY DEAN, and glamorous BETTY JOHNSON, will star during each performance of the world championship rodeo at the San Antonio Stock Show, February 12-21. Dean, a Texas boy is a nationally known television star, and Miss Johnson is featured vocalist on the Jack Paar TV show, and her recording of "I Dreamed" sold over one million copies.

FARMER AND RANCHER-EMPLOYERS

Farmer and rancher-employers with one or more employees are being asked two questions by David W. Sides, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service at San Antonio.

"Have you paid an employee $150 or more in cash wages during 1959, or has the employee performed agricultural labor for you on 20 or more days during 1959 and was cash wages figured on a time basis?"

If your employees meet either of these two tests you must withhold social security tax from the cash wages paid to these employees at the rate of 2¼ per cent of such cash wages. This is 3 per cent, together with another 2¼ per cent representing your share as the employer, must be sent to the IRS District Director.

Farmers and ranchers subject to this tax are required to file a return, Form 943 with their District Director of Internal Revenue beefore January 31 of the year following the year covered by the return.

IRS recommends Circular A for nontechnical explanation of Uncle Sam's tax rules for withholding of social security tax from farm employers' wages. It's available free at Internal Revenue offices.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Leonard Hardin, Manager

Say! Have you just been elected program chairman of your church or club? Or are you a school teacher who is looking for something unusual and interesting for the class? If so, let me recommend that you contact your telephone business office and see if we can't help you solve the problem. We have many varied and interesting films on different subjects we would like one of our film booklets, just call the business office and we'll get one in the mail to you.

In addition to our free film service, we also have employees who will be happy to appear before your club, church, school, etc., and explain how the telephone system works. And for those who are particularly interested in seeing how we furnish service we will be glad to arrange a tour of our central office for them.

Remember! If you need a program for your club, or you have a class that would like to see inside our central office, just call our business office and we will make arrangements to accomodate you.

HOW WE MANAGE THE TELEPHONE BUSINESS

With the beginning of a new year, may folks take stock of their old resolutions and make any changes that are needed.

Here at the telephone company there's one resolution that never changes, no matter how many times we review it. It is to manage the business in the best interest of the public, employees and shareowners.

The telephone company exists for one purpose: to furnish you the best possible telephone service at reasonable cost—a cost consistent with financial safety and fair treatment of employees.

Good service, of course, is our first objective. But since the only good service is that which constantly improves, a planned program of service improvements is called for.

Improvement of telephone service is a big job, but probably the biggest of all is expanding the telephone network. Just look at the growth here in Bandera: 944 phones in service in 1950, 719 in 1950, and one out of 8 residential customers has at least one extension phone.

Providing good service takes good people. That's why fair treatment of the company's employees is a major management responsibility.

Good service also takes willing owners, folks who've invested in savings and the bonds of an organization they can depend on. Without profit in the telephone business, who can expect them to continue investing it with us?

With good earnings, we can plan ahead with confidence and build for the future, striving always to give you the best telephone service we can.

Call by number. It's faster as fast.

BAPTIST WILL ORGANIZE NEW CLASS

A Young Married Adult Department, evolving from major changes in the structure of the Baptist Sunday School will meet Sunday, January 31 in the 9:45 a.m., Sunday School hour. They will meet in the Educational building adjacent to the nursery as a convenience to young mothers and will use the space formerly occupied by the Intermediate Department.

Though the department hopes for enlistment of enough to create several classes, at present only one class will start the new organization with married couples in the same class taught by Rev. Ira Garrison. His rich experience as pastor through the years and his understanding of the problems of young and young adult married people make him an ideal choice for the young class.

There is ample room for expansion into the several classrooms of the departmental assembly.

Superintendent D. W. Hicks is guiding the organization and enlistment and plans were worked out by a committee headed by Mrs. Ira Garrison with Mrs. D. W. Hicks, Mrs. J. S. King, Mrs. E. R. Teel, Mrs. John Waldrum and Mrs. J. Manley Reynolds.

J. E. Brown has done the structural changing in the lower floor of the First Christian Church building, long used by the Baptist Young People as a meeting place, so that the Intermediates will have an adequate place for their Sunday School meetings. They will meet there Sunday the 31st.

NEWS FROM JUDGE ARRING'S COURT

Justice of the Peace William Ahring reported the following cases in his court this week: Aubery Alvis Terry, speeding, fined $15 and costs; John G. Maires, disturbing the peace, fined $10 and cost; James H. List, drunk, fined $10 and costs; James Caleb Boggs, Jr., disturbing the peace, fined $25 and costs. One of these young men appeared at the jail with a gun to liberate his companion and had to be restrained.

CHILD GUIDANCE GROUP MEETS

The monthly meeting of the Child Guidance Group was held Thursday, January 21, in the lunch room at the Bandera Public School. A brief business meeting was held first, then the meeting was turned over to the speaker for this month, Mrs. Billy Griffin. Her topic was, "Character Development." She brought out the importance of character development in the very young child as well as the older one. She also showed us the important part our every day lives play in our child's character development.

After an open discussion on the subject, announcements were made and the guest speaker for next month's meeting was introduced. She is Mrs. John E. Brown Jr., who will speak on "The Forgotten Child." This subject should prove very interesting and we are hoping a large group will be present to enjoy it. The next meeting will be February 18, and will be held in the school lunch room. Mrs. Wes Matthews will be the program chairman and also social chairman.

Mrs. Paul Kriley, who was in charge of refreshments this month, served coffee and cookies to: Mrs. David Stewart, Mrs. L. W. Schnitke, Mrs. Luther James, Mrs. Ray Kruckemayer, Mrs. Billy Griffin, Mrs. Fred Hamilton, Mrs. J. E. Brown Jr., Mrs. Wes Matthews, Melba King, Grace Wootton, Knowles Teel, and Mrs. H. H. Southoff, Jr.,

CAPTIVITY OF THE SIMPSON CHILDREN

From John Henry Brown's "Indian Wars and Pioneers of Texas."

Among the residents of Austin in the days of its partial abandonment, from the spring of 1842 to the final act of annexation, in the winter of 1845-6, was an estimable widow named Simpson. During that period Austin was but an outpost, without troops and ever exposed to inroads from the Indians. Mrs. Simpson had a daughter named Emma, fourteen years of age, and a son named Thomas, aged twelve. On a summer afternoon in 1844, her two children went out a short distance to drive home the cows. Soon their mother heard them scream at the ravine, not over 400 yards west of the center of the town. In the language of Col. John S. Ford, a part of whose narrative I adopt: "She required no explanation of the cause; she knew at once the Indians had captured her darlings. Sorrowing, and almost heartbroken, she rushed to the more thickly settled part of the town to implore citizens to turn out, and endeavor to recapture her children. A party of men were soon in the saddle and on the trail.

"They discovered the savages were on foot—about four in number—and were moving in the timber, parallel to the river, and up it. They found on the trail shreds of the girl's dress, yet it was difficult to follow the footsteps of the fleeing red men. From a hill they descried the Indians just before they entered the ravine south of Mount Bonnell. The whites moved at a run, yet they failed to overtake the barbarians. A piece of an undergarment was certain evidence that the captors had passed over Mount Barker. The rocky surface of the ground precluded the possibility of fast trailing, and almost the possibility of fast trailing at all. Every conceivable effort was made to track the Indians, and all proved unavailing. They were loth to return to Austin to inform the griefstricken mother her loved ones were indeed the prisoners of savages, and would be subject to all the brutal cruelties and outrages of a captivity a thousand times more terrible than the pangs of death. The scene which ensued, when the dread news reached Mrs. Simpson's ears, can not be painted with pen or pencil. The wail of agony and despair rent the air, and tears of sympathy were wrung from frontiersmen who never quailed when danger came in its most fearful form. The pursuing party was small. All the names have not been ascertained. Judge Joe Lee, Columbus Browning and Thomas Woolridge, were among them."

Pursuit under the then condition of the almost defenseless people of Austin was impossible. No further tidings of the lost children were had for a year or more. About that time Thomas Simpson was ransomed by a trader at Taos, New Mexico, and then finally returned to his mother, and then the fate of Emma became manifest. Thomas said this sister fought the Indians all the time. They carried her by force—dragged her frequently, tore her clothing and handled her roughly. Thomas was led by two Indians. He offered no resistance, knowing he would be killed if he did.

The Indians then divided for a short time, the sister in the charge of one and the brother of the other captor. When they reunited on Sittal creek, about six miles from Austin, Thomas saw "his sister's scalp dangling from one's belt. No one will ever know the details of the bloody deed. Indeed, a knowledge of Indian customs justifies the belief that the sacrifice of an innocent life involved incidents of a more revolting character than mere murder. In the course of time the bones of the unfortunate girl were found near the place where Mr. George W. Davis erected his residence, and to that extent corroborated the account of Thomas Simpson. It is no difficult matter to conceive what were the impressions produced upon parents then living in Austin by this event. It is easy to imagine how vivid the conviction must have been that their sons and daughters might become the victims of similar misfortunes, suffering and outrages."

In the language of Col. Ford: "Let the reader extend the idea, and include the whole frontier of Texas in the scope, extending, as it did, from Red river to the Rio Grande, in a sinuous line upon the outer tiers of settlements, and including a large extent of the Gulf coast. Let him remember that the country was then so sparsely populated it was quite all frontier, and open to the incursions of the merciless tribes who made war upon women and children, and flourished the tomahawk and the scalping knife ith the bedrooms and the boudoirs, as well as in the forests and upon the bosoms of the prairies. When he shall have done this he can form a proximate conception of the privations and perils endured by the pioneers who reclaimed Texas from the dominion of the Indian and made it the abode of civilized men."

Mrs. William Ahring has been spending some time in the Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital this week, but is reported to be some improved. Her daughter, Miss Sunshine, visited her Tuesday.

Politics and plane crashes claimed head-line attention in Washington last week. A meeting of the Democratic National Committee, giving candidates a chance to put their best foot forward, attracted high political brass from every State in the Union.

With Congress taking a close look at the alarming number of commercial airline tragedies, methods of tightening safety and security methods were being explored. But even at that it was announced that the airline fatality rate last year was only .68 persons per million passenger miles. The railroad rate was .26, but for commercial highway and taxi travel it was 2.3 persons per million passenger miles.

On the political front, Senator Lyndon Johnson had a good week. In Brooklyn the Senator was the honored guest at a rally attended by 6,000 Democratic county leaders of New York State and members of that State's Democratic committee.

Old King Cotton, the South's traditional "cash crop," is feeling the effects of increased foreign competition. As world production has increased, U. S. producers have had to cut acreage drastically and have in effect been called on to make the supply adjustment for the entire world. From 1949 through 1955, the U. S. Deceased production 2.5 million bales, while during that same period other countries increased their production by more than 7.5 million bales. Some phases of our foreign aid has encouraged this.

Speaking of foreign aid, it is reported the U. S. is preparing to purchase 438,000 pounds of wool tops (processed wool) for Korea, and is asking for bids. I have urged that if such acquisition is undertaken our American mills be given top priority.

This being income tax-paying time, Internal Revenue has informed me it has three bulletins which are supposed to help prepare returns, available at the Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., at 40 cents a copy. Entitled Your Federal Income Tax, Tax Guide for Small Business, and Tax Guide for Farmers, the pamphlets are replete with guidelines for figuring deductible items, depreciation allowances, etc.

MR. AND MRS. SMITH ATTEND SHOW

Mr. and Mrs. Wilvie Smith, owners and operators of the Western Auto Associate Store here for the past 2 years, attended a Western Auto Merchandise Show at Houston, Texas, on January 17th. "My wife and I really enjoy attending these shows," Mr. Smith stated. There are demonstrations and product information clinics designed to help us serve our customers better and formulate our selling plans for the coming year."

Mr. Smith explained that the Houston Merchandise Show is one of 16 which will be held in January throughout the United States for more than 3,600 home-owned and operated Western Auto Associate Stores.

We saw brand-new power mowers, appliances, automotive supplies and thousands of other items. These shows are really a mirror of modern day American life all in one exhibition hall," Mr. Smith noted.

Mrs. Howard Eckhart and daughter, Miss Mayme Jo, and Mrs. Lane Langford of Eckhart's Flower Shop attended the Spring Design School sponsored by San Antonio Allied Florists Association at the Hilton Hotel in San Antonio Sunday.

It's The Law

By [illegible]

Contingencies

In this unpredictable life of ours, it is the law's business to take a look into the future and say what "should happen if."

For instance, contracts, leases, wills, insurance policies, endows, and the like, you had better say what would happen if some of your best-laid plans go awry. Such events the law calls "contingencies."

Who gets the "earned" money, you put down, if you cannot go through with buying that house? What if you want to pay that loan and save interest? What happens if a partnership goes sour, or a partner gets sick or dies? What happens if the policy you name in your will should die before you do, or, if you all perish in a horrible catastrophe like a car smashup?

The law is wise but it cannot do your thinking for you. It settles such questions—but not always to your liking. If you don't make a will, the law says who shall have your estate—and will leave certain things out of a contract, the law assumes hat you meant to put some certain things in. But how much better it would be in the first place to put them in the way you want them, by asking the law's help.

Take your will now: Your first desire, of course, is to take care of your wife and children—those nearest to you. It won't hurt anything to put "contingent beneficiaries" in your will in case anything happens to thwart your first intentions.

Review your will every year or so to see if it meets the new things that have come up in your property if your first beneficiaries should die before you do.

You may long ago have had your son provided for in your will, but what about those lovely grandchildren he and his wife have presented to you since you made your will? What would happen to them if things go wrong and your son should die before you?

Or take your widowed sister and her children now. Suppose you and your immediate family should be wiped out! Would you want your property to go equally to her and to your well-heeled bachelor brother? Or would you prefer to leave your brother some token of your affection, and then really take care of your sister?

You may be pinched with the law's long memory. Such things never happen, you think, but the court records are full of plans which failed. And so the law has ways in which you can provide for "what happens—if." One way is the device of contingent beneficiaries in your will and insurance policies.

BOSS MUST ISSUE FORM W-2 BY FEBRUARY 1

Here's a memo from Internal Revenue Service for employers in this area:

Employees should receive two copies of a Withholding Statement, Form W-2, on or before Monday, February 1.

David W. Sides, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service at San Antonio, said, "This statement shows the total wages paid and then income tax and social security tax withheld, if any, during the calendar year 1959."

Total wages shown on an employee's W-2 must include amounts received as sick pay from his employer, even though no tax has been withheld on such sick pay. Sick pay is not required to be shown separately.

If it becomes necessary to correct a W-2 after it has been given to an employee, a revised statement must be issued and marked "corrected by employer."

VOLKSWAGEN TO BE GIVEN EASTER AUTO CONTEST

"Five deluxe Volkswagen sedans will be given away by the Wedgco Auto Supply Co. in our Easter Auto Contest," Wilvie Smith announced today. Then contest opens January 31, 1960 and closes March 31, 1960. Additional prizes include fifteen Trontone television sets and forty-five Trontone Graphaister "Vest Pocket" portable radios.

It's easy to win one of these valuable prizes. There's nothing to buy!" Mr. Smith continued. A person is to complete the sentence on the entry blank on the back cover of the Western Auto January-February Circular and bring it to the store at Bandera." If you don't have an entry blank, just drop in, and we will be glad to give you one," he continued.

As a bonus prize for the Volkswagen winners who sumbit their entries on a blank from a sale circular, a year's supply of gasoline will be awarded. Virtually every home in the vicinity is to receive a Western Auto "Thanks-A-Million" Sale Circular.

"All persons over 16 years of age, except Western Auto employees and their families, are eligible to enter the contest and win one of these valuable prizes," Mr. Smith stated. He also said that the winners of the Volkswagens (one from each of the company's five geographical regions) will be determined by a drawing. Second and third prize winners will be selected in the same manner so that everyone has an equal chance.

Mr. Smith concluded, "bring your entry blank to my store at Bandera today."

Mr. Smith has owned and operated his store here for two years. He is married and has two children.

We are pleased to enroll Jamie Davenport Jr., of San Francisco, California, as a new subscriber to the Bulletin this week, as a gift from his father, James Davenport, a San Antonio attorney.

PARTNERSHIP POWER FOR PROGRESS

As the population of Texas grows and rural industry expands, the need for dependable electric power also increases.

The Rural Electric Cooperatives of Texas are meeting that challenge. As new power demands are made, heavier lines and equipment are installed. Expert "trouble shooters" are alert around the clock to restore service after damage from wind and weather.

This steady dependable electric service and the expert attention that makes it dependable are the proud achievement of the membership of the Electric Cooperatives of Texas. They borrowed money at interest to build the electric systems that are providing Partnership Power for Progress.

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE

As usual, the third graders were all as busy as beavers on their long week-end away from school.

Susie Short showed her lambs at the stock show.

Janie Hay helped Shirley Welch show her two sheep. They jumped all around and kept both girls busy.

Linda Goodenough helped Susie by showing her wildest sheep on Saturday.

Earl Wayne Heinen watched his brother, John, show his sheep.

Steven Faulkner and his brother did some more work on the patio they are building.

Ira Thetford helped his uncle, I. G., haul wood on Thursday.

Zane and Ray have put seats in their club house. As soon as they get some lights in it, they plan to have a night meeting.

Brenda Everett's sister, Lana, has been sick with the "flu." Brenda went over to visit her cousin, Karen, to avoid the old "flu bug."

Sherry Lee Davis and her sister shot at a target with a .22 rifle.

Douglas Bailey and his cousin, Billy Prather, always have fun. This week-end they were cowboys and their bicycles were their horses. Douglas was Roy Rogers and Billy was Roy's make-believe brother, Jerry.

Victor Strickland did some make-believing, too. His grandfather's truck made a fine playhouse for the games his brother, sisters, and cousins played. Even his little dog got into the act!

Gayle Menier had a little cousin visit him on Saturday night. Entertaining her could have been quite h problem. He found an old "wind-up" record player and played old piano records for her. She danced until she was practically exhausted, but very happy!

Jane Ann Pearson's mother made a lunch for Jane Ann, Patti and little Frank to eat out on the pretty golf course. It was like a real picnic. They also had fun playing in the leaves and watching the men arrive at the Lost Valley Ranch for a convention.

MRS. AINSWORTH—THIRD GRADE

Maryann Zickler played cowboys and Indians with her brothers and with Robert Hutcheson and his little brothers who came to visit.

Yesterday, Scott Center went with Joe Walters and Bill Murray out to the pasture. They let Scott open the gate to put up calves and almost fell in with the calves.

Tommy Wedgworth and his brother dug a while on their cave during the week-end. Tommy also played with Zane Everett and Ray D'Spain climbing trees and riding bicycles.

Willy Stricker sold his lamb for $50.00 at the County Livestock Show.

Sidney Skinner and Robert Alaniz went down to the creek and set a line for fish. They went back later to see if they caught anything.

Jimmy Locke went to the auction with his father on Saturday and saw Willy Stricker's and Marian Allert's mother. They watched the champions being auctioned.

On Friday, Robert Hutcheson and his family went to Kerrville. They had hamburgers for dinner, then went to the HEB and were given some big balloons that look'd like rabbits.

Gary Daniels played mothpoly with his brother and Tommy Johnson Friday.

Saturday Phillip Applegate went to the show to see "Stone."

Mrs. Ainsworth graded exam papers all week-end and was pleased to see that most of the class had done very well. When they went to the Piggly Wiggly, Albert Ford and David saw a log cabin play house that is to be given away as a prize. They signed their names so that they might win.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Karen Kitzman and Claudia Shaw stayed awake all night when they attended Judy Mueller's slumber party on Friday. They went horseback riding, but Claudia had an accident. She fell off her horse, but no injuries.

Horseback riding seems to be quite popular with the girls. Marsha Mason, Holly Mayer, and Linda Bausch had quite a lot of fun Sunday afternoon, and the horses were rather tired. The headstrong nature of Linda's horse broke which caused her a little trouble.

Jeanne Chism had a very busy week. She went to the movies, Thursday night, to the stockshow, Friday, to the FHA Western Dance Saturday night, and to San Antonio Sunday.

Several of the Freshmen had animals entered in the County Livestock Show and some of them were fortunate enough to place. Linda Bausch's lamb took the fifth place ribbon in the lightweight finewool class.

MRS. MULLENAX'S SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Mary Alice Scheele went to Kerrville and Ingram Friday.

Linden Rhodes went to Houston, on May, to visit some relatives. He is sleepy today.

Linda Haun had relatives visit her for the week-end. She had a good time.

Sunday Ronnie Daniels visited Tommy Johnson. They played, hunted, and watched television.

Johnny Brock had an exciting week-end. He watched television, played, and stayed with his grandmother.

Linda Pawelik sewed over the week-end.

John Causey, Linda Haun, Mike Wootton, and Mary Alice Scheele went to the stock show.

Steven Green cooked a squirrel and kept his father's coffee warm, while they put up a fence around a windmill.

Robert Alaniz shot three rabbits and caught a twelve pound catfish.

Dickie Hicks won second place with a calf, twelfth and eighth with two lambs at the stock show.

Deborah Harrison watched Linda Friday night, with some of her girl friends.

MRS. MAZUREK'S SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

This week-end Charmen Hicks showed a calf and three fat lambs at the stock show. Her calf took fourth and only one lamb placed. She won a twelfth place ribbon for her lamb.

This week-end Diane Everett's aunt and uncle visited her. Her other aunt and uncle came Saturday at noon.

FOURTH GRADE NEWS

The class has been enjoying their first week after their midterm and six-weeks tests. The only thing worrying some of the class, report cards.

There has been a new addition to the class, David Paul Curtis. We hope he will remain a member of the class for the rest of this year and of our four years in High School.

Sunday Margaret Davenport went to San Antonio, and saw Johnny Cash and a number of other singers in person.

Holly Mayer and Linda Ruth Bausch, while visiting Marsha Mason, enjoyed a day of horseback riding.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Today's spotlight is on Sandra Hicks. Sandra, whom everyone knows and loves. She is a friend to all, and always ready to help out when and where she is needed. She is the small girl with the bright blue eyes and long blonde hair, who occupies a desk in the senior home room. Who is she? Cathy Anderwald, of course.

Cathy is a real home-town girl. She was born December 10, 1941, to Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Anderwald, and has lived here all her life. She is naturally equestrienne, having been brought up on a ranch. Cathy owns a horse named Dandy, which she loves to ride, and at which she excels. Known to the "cowboys" as one who loves horses, is a wonderful rider, and has appeared in many rodeos.

While attending St. Joseph's Parochial School in Bandera, Cathy was an outstanding member of the Girls' 4-H. She was also active in such sports as volleyball and track, in which she took part in the 8th and 8th grades, and was chosen both years as Little Olympic Queen.

Cathy started to Bandera High School in the ninth grade. Everyone liked her immediately, and just to prove it they elected her Freshman Class Favorite. She joined the FHA as a freshman, and has been a participating member right through her senior year. Cathy played volleyball for two years and has been one of the star players of the basketball team for the last three years. She has been a member of the Pup Pets since she was a sophomore, ably serving as assistant-head cheerleader. A job she performed more than competently carried out, in her senior year. In addition, she is a most-appreciated typist for the Bandera High School annual staff. Surprise, Surprise, So, you see, Cathy, besides being a very poised and charming young woman, also has quite an active and full high school background. Besides all this, she finds time to enjoy another of her favorite activities, dancing, which, we might mention, she does a fine job of, also.

We have tried to present Cathy by her material achievements, and feel that they are inadequate for some people, it doesn't do her justice. Cathy represents something much deeper than the mere words "good" and "sincere" can express or describe. She is the kind of person one is very fortunate to know, and to have and is to love her. May God's most gracious blessings be bestowed upon you, Cathy.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Several persons in the sophomore class who entered animals in the show and helped make it a success were Jan Edwards, Pat Locklin, Bryan King, Judy Mueller, Robert Bradley, and Ray Anderwald. Ray received a Grand Champion ribbon and a trophy on his Polerod Commercial Ewe. All of these pupils did very well!

Many sophomores enjoyed the western dance the FHA sponsored.

Did everyone notice the pretty little red ribbons for ribbons and prizes to the winners at the stock show Friday? Well we did; it was none other than Jean Daniels, our sophomore, the FFA Sweetheart. We know she had a wonderful experience and we all wish she could do it next year and the next. Thanks, Jean, for making it such a pleasure to win!

Things have been going normal again this week. Everyone is recovering from their loss of sleep lost last week studying for tests.

SENIOR NEWS

The seniors this week are all sighing and that the rough and hectic three days of semester examinations are past and almost forgotten. We started a new semester Monday, January 4, and this is like starting a new year. Those who didn't do so well last semester have a chance to get a fresh start and try to redeem themselves. To the rest, it is a new challenge, and a chance to do even better.

The Senior girls' homemaking class is making wool suits. They have been struggling along for some time, but now they seem to have gotten their heels dug in and are really moving ahead. The beautiful colors of the wool the girls are working with are really a treat to see. Everyone is looking forward to the day when they will be completed and exhibited at a style show. We know they will be lovely.

The first major step has been taken towards putting the annual together. The plans have been carefully made and minutely detailed. Now the second big step, following through with these plans, is ready to be undertaken. The seniors have found that there is a lot of work to turning out an annual that will satisfy and please all concerned. They are up to the job, though, and stand ready to tackle it.

MRS. SCHNELLE'S SIXTH GRADE

All the sixth grade "talk" was about the stock show. Shirley Pember took the honors in the sixth grade. She won Champion and Reserve Champion in the fine wool lamb showing. She also received second and third place ribbons in the same class. She also received 2nd place on a pen of three lambs.

Michael Matthews won reserve champion with his fat, barrow. Its weight was 244 pounds.

Johnny Lemon won second place on a calf and received an award of a pound." He had a good time at the show Friday and Saturday.

Virginia Thetford won first and second place and champion with his hog. The champion hog weighed 194 pounds and it brought 45 cents a pound. He also got $14.00 prize money. He was very happy when he got a nice trophy.

Walter Stricker showed a lamb and a capon.

Sammy Heinen also showed a lamb.

Russell Zickler Jr., and his family had as guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald. Later the Hutcheson family came over and the youngsters had great fun playing.

SENIORS AND THE LAST SEMESTER

Monday, January 25, 1960—the beginning of the last semester. "Hip-Hip-Hooray," sing out the Fish, Sophs, and Juniors loud and clear. Seniors?—oh, they're more or less on the fence between singing out the same refrain or bursting out in tears. There really are a few with teardrops in their eyes at the thought of leaving dear ole Bandera High. And there can hardly wait to don the cap and gown of graduates, while a few industrious ones are huffing and puffing—trying their hardest to squeeze a few more points into their over-all average. "I can't believe we're really Seniors and will graduate in May! Remember how we looked up to the seniors when we were freshmen? Man, I wonder if the freshmen look at us that way? Doubt it!!"—a typical senior's statement. Yet being a senior is the highlight and climax of the adolescent years. For the seniors, this semester is the beginning of the end—the end of looking at life through the eyes of extreme youth. It is also the beginning of a mature outlook on life. As Seniors we are passing one milestone is that long march into the future.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CLUBS URGE PASSAGE OF AMENDMENT

With the advent of 1960, the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. is intensifying its campaign to educate the citizens of Texas to the urgent necessity for the passage of an amendment to the Texas Constitution to guarantee Equal Legal Rights to every man and woman in the State.

Mrs. Ruth Fox of Dallas, Legislative Chairman, has announced that a proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution will be submitted to the Texas Legislature in January, 1961, which will obviate the efforts of the 48 laws which discriminate against Texas women and which cause economic hardships to both men and women in the State.

The chairman, assisted by Mrs. Elsie Sessions Austin, chairman of the legislative steering committee, Mrs. Ruby Loving of Waco and Mrs. Polly Rowland of Brownsville, is circulating pamphlets which portray the hardships caused by present Texas laws. The pamphlets were prepared by Mrs. Ole Opry.

Miss Margaret Davenport visited her father, James Davenport, in San Antonio, the past week-end and enjoyed seeing the Grand Canyon.

BANDERA SEXTET REMAINS UNDEFEATED IN DISTRICT

The Bandera basketball girls remained in first place in district with the defeat of Southwest Friday night, and Schertz-Cibolo Tuesday night.

Bandera just barely slipped by Southwest, Tuesday night, 49-47. Rose Stricker was high point man with 34 points; Lu Langham had 14; and Cathy Anderwald and Laura Stricker made 1 each. This game was exciting from beginning to end, and the girls really had to hustle.

The Bandera girls met and defeated, perhaps the most feared rival, Schertz-Cibolo, Tuesday night, 42-35. Rose Stricker tallied 33 this game, Lu Langham bucketed 9, and Cathy Anderwald made 2. The girls have done a very fine job of playing basketball this season, and here's hoping they will continue winning.

A SERIES OF LOCAL CHILDREN'S PICTURES TO BE TAKEN FREE

Friday, February 5, is the big day for the picture taking of the children of Bandera. The Bulletin is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the Bulletin office between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., absolutely free of charge.

The Bulletin wants a picture of your child to print in the forthcoming feature, "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of the mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing stage pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at the present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years and for the pleasure you will enjoy in seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngster when he or she grows up.

There is absolutely no charge or obligation for the pictures. Parents don't even have to be a subscriber to the Bulletin nor even a reader. You do not have to purchase pictures either, though you may obtain additional prints by arranging direct with the Studio representative if you want them. That is entirely up to you.

Appointments may be made by calling, in the afternoon, Mrs. Ross Bailey, Phone SW6-3353, Bandera.

COUNCIL HAS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

The Bandera County Home Demonstration Council had its regular meeting on Tuesday, January 26, at the library building in Bandera. Following the THDA prayer Mrs. Gilbert Wendt presided at the business session, at which only 16 members answered roll call. There are seven Home Demonstration Clubs in the county whose new club officers were introduced and recognized. New Council officers were also recognized.

Following the reading of the minutes of the November 24th meeting and the treasurer's report, a group discussion followed regarding the possibility of buying certain items of equipment needed in the kitchen at the new Ag. Center. Fifty dollars was allocated for this project and another fifty set aside to aid the next building project at the Center.

Yearbook money was turned in by various clubs and all THDA money is to be turned in prior to March 1.

The 4-H Club fund records were turned over to Mrs. Joe H. Short, as she is the Adult 4-H Leader for this year.

Proposed rules and regulations of the Home Demonstration Council were read by Miss Christine Kalka, secretary, and approved by the group for application.

Following the reading of correspondence by Miss Kalka, the Yearbook committee chairman, Mrs. E. M. Pue, gave her report in which plans for the coming year were stated.

At some time in the very near future, the ladies of the Council will sell tamales, coffee, and donuts for the benefit of the "1960 March of Dimes. Let's all watch for the date and render our support for those less fortunate than we.

Plans were made regarding the training meeting to be held in Sweetwater on February 8, which Mrs. R. L. Stevens, Mrs. G. M. Merritt and Mrs. R. S. Lynd will attend.

We are all looking forward to our February meeting, which will be February 22, when Miss Bonnie Cox of College Station will be our guest.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. Gilbert Wendt, Miss Christine Kalka, Mrs. H. L. Bruce, Mrs. G. M. Merritt, Mrs. Ted Neuky, Mrs. Lon D. Fisher, Mrs. E. M. Pue, Mrs. John Mac-Naughton, Mrs. Joe H. Short, Mrs. Joe Stein, Mrs. John Helzen, Mrs. Calvin Seale, Mrs. Shannon Seale, Mrs. W. P. Jordan, Mrs. R. S. Lynd, Mrs. H. H. Saathoff Jr., and daughters, Leanne and Patty.

Following adjournment, the group enjoyed coffee with Mrs. Fritz Saur as hostess.

BANDERA QUINTET DOWNED BY SOUTHWEST DRAGONS

The Bandera Bulldogs suffered a District 27-A defeat Friday night as they were downed by the Southwest Dragons of San Antonio by a 64-53 score. The Bulldogs, trailing 29-21 at intermission due to a hot first period by the Dragons in which they hit on 9 of 13 field goal attempts, fought back desperately but the 18 point deficit proved too much to overcome.

The Bulldogs' well balanced scoring attack was led by Earl Keese who poured 14 points through the hoops. Right behind were Kenneth Kalka with 12 points, Chuck Jones with 11, Ernest Schlabaer with 10, and Roger Poe with 6 points. Barry Manning with 20 points was the big gun offensively for the Dragons.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dowda

VOWS ARE EBCHANGED BY ANNA LEE EDWARDS AND JAMES R. DOWDA

The Fog Creek Rock Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding ceremony Saturday, January 23, when Anna Lee Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Edwards, became the bride of James Ray Dowda. James Ray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Dowda of Marfa, Texas. Rev. Melvin Babbitt of San Antonio officiated at the impressive double ring, candlelight ceremony.

A formal arrangement of gladiolas and candelabras gracefully complimented the church.

Preceding the wedding, Mrs. Clifford McCarthy sang "True Love." Miss Nadine Saathoff accompanied her and also played "Oh Promise Me" and the traditional wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in her ballerina length wedding gown of Chantilly lace with a Queen Anne collar and long pointed sleeves. A bow of lace on the back of the dress and tiers of scalloped lace ruffles accented the princess style waist. A tiara of orange blossoms and seed pearls held her lace-edged fingertip illusion veil. She carried a white gardenia and a white prayer book.

Mrs. H. H. Saathoff Jr., sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of blue chiffon over taffeta, with matching blue shoes and a headpiece of blue nylon flowers. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and blue ribbon.

Miss Anne Saathoff, niece of the bride, served as flower girl and wore a white nylon dress fashioned after the bride's. Her tiny white veil was held by a nylon crown and she carried a basket of white carnations and blue ribbon.

Bill Dowda, brother of the groom, was best man. Dulaney Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wells, was ring bearer. Franklin Dowda and Henry Saathoff Jr., were ushers.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Pipe Creek Community Center. Mrs. Travis Tucker had charge of the bride's book. Miss Carolyn Lynd served the bridal wedding cake and Mrs. Rob Lynd served the punch.

The bride is a graduate of Bandera High School and is now employed at Howard Aero Inc., at International Airport. Mr. Dowda is also employed at Howard Aero and following a brief honeymoon the happy couple will make their home in San Antonio.

EDWARD IRL STANFIELD TAKES MISS LINDA LOU MOSELEY AS BRIDE

Pastel baskets of white chrysanthemums amidst the glow of lighted tapers in candelabras created the scene for the wedding of Miss Linda Lou Moseley and Edward Irl Stanfield at an 8 o'clock ceremony Friday evening at the First Baptist church. Rev. Glenn A. Irons performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Moseley, of Palo Pinto, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stanfield are the parents of the bridegroom.

Mr. Moseley gave his daughter in marriage. She chose to wear for her wedding the dress her sister, Mrs. Thomas Keese, of Bandera, Texas, wore for her marriage. The full length dress was fashioned with the bodice and long sleeves of Chantilly lace over satin; the bodice featuring an off-the-shoul-

LEW STERLING THREATENS EMPLOYEE

To the Auto and Truck Owners of Bandera County:

My name is Henry M. Adams. I am the Sales Manager for Sterling Chevrolet. I am 37 years old and I reside in Bandera County with my wife and five children. I have been here a little over a year, and I have enjoyed living here more than any place else. My wife and children like it here and I spend every dime I make in the county.

But I have been threatened, my job has been threatened, and even my very existance has been threatened. Some of you know this and a gentle God fearing man but I know him as the tyrant he really is.

It seems Mr. Sterling asked several of our good citizens if they know about our guarantee in our service department and received negative answers. This started him on a survey. He came up with a lot more negative answers and then he threatened me.

So I am taking this opportunity to protect myself until I see each of you personally about just a few of the things I should have told you about our service department as outlined.

Did you know you can get:

1—A Guardian 10-point safety check—FREE.

2—A 90-day guarantee on all parts.

3—A 90 days guarantee on all labor

4—A minor tune up, 6 Cylinder, $3.25 plus parts.

5—A minor tune up, 8 cylinder, $4.50 plus parts.

6—A brake re-lining as low as $9.95.

7—A wash job, February special, 95c.

8—A complete brake adjustment, 95c.

11—A lube, February, $1.10.

13—A state inspection, $1.00.

14—A Under coat for $14.95.

Did you also know that if you are driving a Chevrolet that we can warranty free to you lots of parts as far back as 1956 model? So bring your Chevrolet back home for service and genuine Chevrolet parts.

If any of you are interested in keeping me and my family in Bandera County, please come by and take advantage of our service.

HENRY M. ADAMS

Ed. Note: Knowing all the circumstances concerning the above threat on Mr. Adams and knowing all of the service and low prices offered to the public by the Sterling Chevrolet Co., and knowing that Mr. Adams having failed to tell the public, we feel that Mr. Sterling was justified in his threat.

BOY SCOUTS TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN JUBILEE

This year, 1960, is the Golden Jubilee Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Fifty years ago on February 8, 1910, the Boy Scouts of America was founded by a man who had been on the receiving end of a good turn from a British Boy Scout. He was so impressed by the character building program of the British Boy Scouts that he returned to America and started the program in this country.

In Bandera, we have a Scouting organization which is one of the best in the Alamo Area Council. Cub Scout Pack 146 and Boy Scout Troop 146 are units of which this community should be proud and which the community should back.

In the dining room the banquet table was beautifully appointed, where a fresh arrangement of red gladiolus, white stock and ferns, tuft centered the speaker's table. Numerous red candles were interspersed with dried arrangements of glittered cupids poised

FAST DRAW CONTEST

Lew Sterling, owner of Sterling Chevrolet Co., announced today that he had just completed arrangements for a women's fast draw contest to be held at the Sterling Chevrolet Company at 3 p.m., on Saturday, February 20.

Mrs. Elsie McDaniels, the women's fast draw champion will compete with challengers for her title and the fast draw trophy to be presented to the winner.

Mr. Sterling explained that wax bullets are used in this event and the timing is done electrically. The contestant must have her finger on the timer button on a table. A clock starts when the contestant releases her finger to reach for her gun. When the dummy is struck by the bullet, this stops the clock which then shows the time of the draw and fire. If the target is missed, the clock would continue running.

Mrs. McDaniels fastest time is reported at only 22 one-hundreths of one second.

Members of the Lone Star Fast Draw Club will compete against Mrs. McDaniels. Members of this organization are Mrs. E. J. Tiner, Ann Golden, Joan Cook, Sandy Strauss, Cye Surface, Marion McLaughlin, Bee Stein, Jean Keppel and Ramona Snocker.

Mr. Sterling invites the public to see this spectacular event and announces that free donuts and coffee will be served.

Don't forget the time and date —3 p.m., Saturday, February 20, at Sterling Chevrolet Company.

Tarpley

In spite of heavy fog and showers during the day on Tuesday, the sun peeped out from behind clouds now and then to show us that spring is on the way. So, if this is a true prediction of the weather, as some folks relate it is, we will have at least much more weeks of cold weather. But, afterall, we can expect that each year, so we don't suppose it makes much difference really if the ground hog see his shadow or not. Anyway, it's always fun to watch the weather and see if the sun is really going to shine on ground hog day—and, it usually does, if for no longer than a minute!

It seems that someone had a surplus of cats and decided that the Tarpley neighborhood would be an ideal spot in which to dispose of them, so they brought them here and left them. A couple of years ago someone must have had more dogs than he needed or could feed, so they were also dumped in Tarpley for the people to contend with. Both of those dogs were poor, sick, and vicious, and one little child here was even bitten by one of those stray animals. Therefore, when strays are dumped in the community, they create a real problem in that it becomes the duty of the people here to dispose of the poor creatures. Last week almost another had to feed or get rid of. Some of Floresville visited in the home of Mrs. Martha Tampke and Mattie Sunday.

Mrs. Louis Soenen gave a party for her son, Karl's birthday Saturday night. The boys and girls in his class at school attended.

Adolph Kutzer has been chosen as the Outstanding Conservation Farmer of the Bandera Soil Conservation District for 1959. This selection was made last week by the District's Conservation Awards Committee composed of Ray Wyatt as chairman, L. C. Matnis, M. R. Sandidge, and R. E. Adams. Mr. Kutzer has been a proponent of soil and water conservation for a number of years. He helped organize the Bandera SCD and served as one of the original supervisors from 1948 thru 1952. Mr. Kutzer was the second cooperator with the District to develope a basic conservation plan on his place, being done so in September of 1949. Since that time he has carried out the majority of the soil and water conservation practices determined as needed for his farm. Mr. Kutzer will be presented a plaque by the Fort Worth Press and the local District in recognition of his being chosen as the Outstanding Conservation Farmer for 1959.

A grass plant is like a saw mill. It takes blades to manufacture its products, namely grass and lumber.

SCS technicians assisting the Bandera SCD, recently laid out a 2300 cubic yard earthen tank on the C. J. Kehse Ranch southwest of Bandera. The tank, which is being built with funds from the County Agricultural Conservation Program, was located to provide better distribution of grazing for livestock and for wildlife use. This tank is part of Kehse's overall conservation plan worked

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By C. O. GUNTHER

After one month of the New Year, Congress is grinding along—slowly. As anticipated, Old Man Politics is taking a hand in nearly every bill that is being pushed. It's always been that way, on Presidential election years. It is part of our system.

Every four years—and sometimes in between—so-called civil rights bills are in the forefront. A mild sort of bill was passed by the House committee last year and is before the Rules Committee—the clearing house for bills that reach the floor. But the Rules Committee is not a political committee and is not easily rushed. It is reluctant to advance strictly party-inspired election-year measures. And so it has taken no action on the bill that is the present source of the politicians' dreams.

Over in the Senate, all sorts of concoctions have been offered under the guise of civil rights—votegetting concoctions. And a bill is expected to pass that body. And the House is expected eventually to approve one. The moderates will attempt to weed out the extreme proposals that would adversely affect freedoms and the rights and responsibilities that were supposed to have been guaranteed to the States in the Constitution.

Among recent guests have been J. Edward Johnson of Dallas, formerly of Brownwood, and W. O. Bankston, also formerly of Brownwood. The latter, a native of Winters, was awarded the Benjamin Franklin Award by the Saturday Evening Post, in connection with the annual convention of the National Automobile Dealers' Association being held in Washington. Bankston, the leading Ford dealer of Dallas, will soon be the subject of a feature life story in the Post.

BULLDOGS DOWNED IN SEMI-FINALS OF UTOPIA TOURNEY

The Bandera Bulldogs, after winning their opening tilt against Center Point, were downed in the semi-final round by a Medina Bobcat quintet in the Utopia Invitational Tourney on the week-end of January 15-16. The Bulldogs were fortunate in one respect in that Kenneth Kalka was named to All-Tournament team.

In the curtain raiser steering taken the Center Point, the Bulldogs raced to a convincing 56-39 triumph. Winning honors were by the home town boys proved to be the deciding factor. Chuck Jones led the Bulldog offensive as he poured 16 points through the hoops. Close behind were Poe with 14 and Keese with 13. In addition, Kalka tallied 4 points, Richards 4, Schlador 3, and King 2 points.

In the semi-finals, the Bulldogs suffered a 43-40 defeat at the hands of Medina. For Bandera Keese registered 12 points, Kalka 10, Jones 10, Poe 4, and Schlador 4 points. The Bulldogs led at intermission 22-21.

CONSERVATION DOES NOT COST, IT PAYS

Now is the time to apply fertilizer to winter small grains. 100 pounds per acre of commercial fertilizer applied now will increase the grazing or will provide a better grain harvest later this spring. Generally 16-20-0 is a good analysis fertilizer for this area. When applied at the recommended rate of 100 pounds per acre this will provide 16 pounds of nitrogen and 20 pounds of phosphorous per acre for plant use. A higher analysis fertilizer 13-39-0 is also good for this area, being higher in needed phosphorous. For exact fertilizer recommendations, a soil test is advisable. These are made at a cost of $1.00 and are well worth the money. Such a test will tell just what kinds and the amounts of the needed plant nutrients.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Law Provides Order

Some people find confusing our different state and national laws dealing with the same things. Income tax laws for an example.

Surely, they say, you can have no real justice, unless there is some "one best way" to do each thing—to hold property, to manage traffic, to pay taxes, or to enforce contracts.

So it bothers them. Why should Englishmen drive on the left side of the street? Why should married couples hold title under community property laws in some states and not in others?

Is law merely a man-made contraption?

It is true that like good manners much law is man-made, growing out of custom or local problems? In card games you can play many different games with one deck. You merely change the rules. But as with cards and all games, the law goes deeper than convention into man's basic needs for order, for a grasp of the part he is to play, and for a way to settle disagreements.

Law provides an orderly way to do things so that people can make long-range plans and work together. It rules help you to find out where you stand—your rights and duties. And last, law has binding ways of settling disputes if need be, first to keep the peace, and then win people over by dealing with them in ways that satisfy their sense of fairness.

You can find these traits of law in most groups from the most primitive to the civilized.

As man finds out more and more about himself and his world, as his experience and wisdom grow, the law may get better. For example, as the psychological laboratories find out more about man's reaction times, his fears and faults, our laws about driving, for instance, may improve.

And here is another purpose the courts render of laws may serve. You may look upon each as a sort of experiment. Some turn out well, some not so well.

But in the give and take of public discussion, these efforts may yet bring us more nearly to the "one best way"—if any such thing exists.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

MRS. FUE'S RECORD HEARD IN PENNSYLVANIA

The friends of Mrs. E. M. (Judy) Pue, will be pleased to learn that her recently released record, "Bandera Polka," was heard last week in Pennsylvania by former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Adamciets, who are residing there. They told her that her "Bandera Polka" was 12th on the Hillbilly Hit Parade. Congratulations.

IN NATIONAL WOOL SEWING CONTEST

Texas can boast of two of the best young sewing talents in the country. Marcheta Wood, 16, of Alamo, and Paula Ann Kerr, 17, of Clinton, are runner and runner-up today as a result of their sewing prowess, both major prize winners at the national finals of the "Make It Yourself With Wool" homesewing contest, just held in San Antonio.

Marcheta Wood took second prize in the junior division—a $300 scholarship plus a console sewing machine—with a light beige wool flannel suit. Highlight of the fashion was a short waist-length jacket with detachable fur collar.

A junior at O'Donnell High School, Marcheta plans to go to college as a preliminary to a career in the fashion world. Modeling is one of her favorite hobbies.

Paula was grand prize winner in the senior division, which pets her a two-week all-expense-paid vacation in Paris, London and Rome. Her winning entry was a Paris design by Lanvin-Castillo, a lightweight beige wool crene dress in the popular blouson silhouette. The fabric of the bodice is softly draped to simulate the look of a jacket with three-quarter length kimono sleeves.

A sophomore at Harding College in Searcy, Arkansas, Paula plans to pursue a career in fashion designing.

Miss Jeanine Hicks, pretty and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hicks, was among the contestants.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican revolution hot on their tail; of his experiences along the border; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting other noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

Get the quiet proof of Chevrolet's superior performance on the road—No other car in the low-priced three can match the borne-on-the-wind sensation you get from a ride in the 1960 Chevrolet. But that's not surprising when you consider to what lengths Chevy has gone to provide for your comfort at no extra cost to you. As you drive, count the ways Chevrolet has been thoughtful:

Supple Full Coil suspension—Coil springs at all four wheels melt bumps as no other suspension can. Taking the punch out of rough roads is their only function—they don't have to another job. Rear axle.

Butyl rubber body mounts—Thicker, newly designed body mounts further insulate you from the road.

Body by Fisher—Only Chevy in its field offers the polish and craftsmanship of Body by Fisher.

Foam cushioned seats—Chevy offers foam cushioned seats in both front and rear in all series but one.

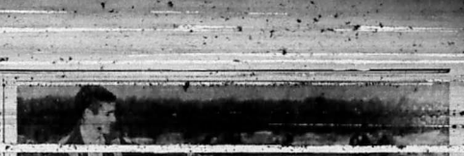
Safety-Girder frame—X-built and not merely X-braced, the Safety-Girder frame affords greater rigidity to minimize twisting and squeaks.

Hydraulic valve lifters—Oil hushed hydraulic valves lifters reduce engine noise to a whisper.

Cushioned steering shaft—A universal joint and cushioned coupling keep those annoying road tremors from the steering wheel.

Precision balanced wheels and tires—Here again Chevy has shown concern for your comfort by eliminating vibration in this vital area—tire life is longer, too.

Easy steering ratio—Chevy's high ratio Ball Race steering takes the work out of steering for you.



Superior weight distribution—Chevy rides better, handles better and stops better because the car's weight is more equally divided between the front and rear wheels.

Wide choice of power teams—Choose from 24 different power combinations to satisfy the itchiest driving foot—more than any other car.

1959 BOND SALES TOTALED $50,064,000

Texas Savings Bonds sales in December were the greatest since March of last year according to Jack Bergin Davenport, chairman of Bandera county's Bond Committee.

December Savings Bonds purchases in Texas were $13,482,290, an increase of 82 million over the previous month, Mr. Davenport said. Sales in this county totaled $50,064,00 during 1959. This represented 34 per cent of our goal of $147,000.00. Sales for the state amounted to $152,937,812 or 83.8 per cent of the state's 1959 Bond goal," Davenport reported.

"This sales record may be attributed to the recent increase in interest on Series E and H Savings Bonds and to the efforts of the hundreds of bond volunteers serving on the state and local bond committees," Davenport pointed out.

Last fall the U. S. Treasury Department raised the interest rate on all E and H Savings Bonds. All Savings Bonds purchased since June 1, 1959, earn an attractive 3% per cent and all old bonds now earn at least ½ per cent more when held to maturity.

1960 CENSUS DISTRICT OFFICE OPENED

Establishment of a district office for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing at the Welfare Building, San Angelo, was announced today by Director James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office at Dallas, Texas.

William G. Stacy will be supervisor of the district office. He will direct a force of 15 crew leaders and 230 census takers in the following counties: Bandera, Brown, Coke, Coleman, Concho, Edwards, Gillespie, Irion, Kendall, Kerr, Kimble, Kinney, Lampasas, Llano, McCulloch, Mason, Menard, Mills, Runnels, San Saba, Schleicher, Sterling, Tom Green, Uvalde, and Val Verde.

Taking the 1960 Census nationally will require the services of 160,000 enumerators, 10,000 crew leaders, and 400 district supervisors, all temporary workers. The district supervisors, working under the general direction of the permanent regional field directors, are responsible for all phases of the census in their districts.

Establishment of the district supervisor include the recruiting of the crew leaders, obtaining space for crew leader training, recruiting and training a small office staff, reviewing the completed questionnaires, and directing supervision of the field canvass which begins on April 1.

Prior to the start of the census, all households will receive in the mail an Advance Census Report Form, a new census-taking device which is designed to speed up the mail canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form, which contains the basic population and housing questions, gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit.

We are pleased to report that Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lindner are up and about again after having been quite ill with flu for several weeks.

We hope they will continue to improve and that they will soon be completely well.

It is nice to have Mrs. Joe Hensley at home again, after she spent, some time with her mother, Mrs. Porter, at Brownwood, during the holidays and the first of January. Mrs. Porter has been critically ill, but is some improved at this time.

BULLDOGS RALLY IN WANING MINUTE TO 50-45 WIN

The Bandera Bulldogs registered five points with less than a minute to play to chalk up a 50-45 win over the Blanco Panthers in a District 27-A game Friday night at the loser's gym. A free throw by Kalka and a field goal each by Bass and Keese in the last twenty-five seconds proved the deciding factors. The Bulldogs led at intermission by a close 28-26 margin and at the end of the third quarter held a 41-34 advantage. The triumph upped Bandera's season record to 12 and 9 and left the local quintet 3-1 in league competition.

Leading the home town boys in the scoring column was Roger Poe who poured a total of 13 points through the hoops. Also in double figures were Charles Jones and Earl Keese with 11 and 10 points respectively. In addition, Ernest Schlabeter tallied 8 points, Kenneth Kalka 6, and Clem Hatch 2 points. Ray Helwig bucketed 10 points for the Panthers.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a cap of satin and she carried a cascade of white feathered chrysanthemums and white roses centered with a white orchid and tied with white velvet tubing. The only jewelry she wore was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Keese served her sister as her matron of honor and she was attired in a white length dress of moss-green velvet, trimmed with matching green satin. The dress, accentuated by a satin cummerbund, was fashioned with a very full skirt, a bodice with a bateau neckline, and long sleeves, ahd she wore a headband of matching velvet. She carried a bouquet of white feathered chrysanthemums and Tansy berry.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Jerry Harvey, of Columbia; Miss Betty Carter and Miss Carol Buchmueller, both of St. Louis, were dressed identically to the matron of honor.

The flowergirl, Kimberly Keese, daughter of Mrs. Keese, was dressed in a moss-green jumper and white blouse. Master Kevin Blank was ring bearer.

Best man was Ed Moran, of St. Louis.

Seating the guests were Gil Rhodes, of Ohio; Jim Repp and Paul Stanfield, a brother of the groom. Mr. Rhodes and Mrs. Repp are also of the clan.

For the daughter's wedding Mrs. Moseley choose a beige silk suit with beige accessories, and she wore a purple orchid. Mrs. Stanfield, mother of the groom, selected a brown silk dress with mink accessories, and she wore a white orchid.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the Boonville Rod and Gun club for approximately 250 guests. Baskets of chrysanthemums and lighted tapers decorated the reception rooms. The bride's table overlaid with a satin cloth covered with net held punch bowls and a three tiered all-white wedding cake, decorated with silver leaves, beads, and topped with pink wedding bells. Assisting in serving were Misses Lynne Skatopf, Bunny Allen and Barbara Mester and Mrs. Hank Kuhlmann. The guest book was kept by Miss Betty Lee Stanfield, and Miss Jennifer Blank was in charge of the gift table.

For a short wedding trip, Mrs. Stanfield changed to a brown checked wool suit with matching accessories, and her corsage was the orchid from the bridal bouquet. The couple are at home at 111½ South Eighth Street, Columbia, Mo. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stanfield are juniors at the University of Missouri. Mrs. Stanfield is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority and Mr. Stanfield is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

Mrs. O. H. Day has purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Singleton in Bandera Estates and she and her son, Don, and her mother, Mrs. Lillian Caney, have moved in. THIS is OUR TOWN

By Jinny

In the course of our week we received many letters of interest. The following post card was received from Raeben Hanz, Route 1, Belton, who wrote us: "Would like to find a relative of John H. Ross who lived in Bandera County sixty years ago or earlier. Would appreciate an answer from anyone." The Ross relatives who are interested might write to Rueben Ross at the above address.

* * * Another letter of interest was received this week from E. H. Dalton, Rt. 2, Springdale, Arkansas, a former resident of our community. Mr. Dalton enclosed the following advertisement which appeared in his local newspaper:

Public Sale

Having sold by farm and as I am leaving for Oregon territory by ox teams, will offer all my personal property at public auction on March 1, 1849, sale beginning at 8 o'clock a.m.

All ox teams except two teams, Buck and Bright and Tom and Jerry; 2 milch cows; 1 gray mare; 1 pair of oxen and yokes; 1 wagon, two or three; 1000 feet of weather boards; one 16-inch mole board plow; 800 to 1000 chopboards; 1500 ten-foot fence rails; six 10-gallon sugar kettles; 83 strong troughs made of white ash; 10-gallon barrel of Johnson Mildren whiskey; 7 years old; 10 gallons maple syrup; two spinning wheels; 30 lbs. mutton tallow; one 20-gallon barrel apple brandy; one 40-gallon copper still; 1 dozen rear hooks; ten handle hooks, six sythes and cradle, one dozen wood pitchforks; half interest in a tan yard; 32-caliber rifle, bullet mold and powder horn, rifle made by Eli Miller; one 50-gallon barrel of sorghum molasses; six head of fox hounds, all soft-mouthed but one; at the same time I will sell my six Negro slaves—two men 35 and 50 years old; two boys 12 and 18 years old, two women 28 and 42 years old. Will sell them together or same party as will not separate them.

Terms of sale: Cash in hand, or note to draw four per cent interest with Bob McConnel as security. Plenty to eat and drink. J. L. Moss, owner . . . That, folks, is quite a sale . . . Appears the old fellow was whipping up a little hickory business on the side!

* * * It is always fun to receive birth announcements from our friend. The following very clever one was received this week from Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Worley, former residents of Bandera, at which time Mr. Worley was a Bulletin employee:

Howard Hay has splendid ideas on improving the mohair outlook, as told in Cattle Clatter, by R. G. Jordan, Agriculture Editor of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times:

"If the nation's Angora goat producers should do what they would like in the way of promotion of mohair, the outlook for the industry would be extremely bright," said Howard Hay, veteran Bandera breeder. "If normal prices were in line with commodities which we have to buy, mohair would be bringing 87 per pound," he declared. "And if mohair was 82 a pound, you couldn't get more than $7 worth in a suit of clothes. The cost of raw materials adds very little to the cost of a garment. Mohair is not mass produced," he continued, "and the raw material is in such small supply we're afraid garment manufacturers will price us out of business. But with proper procedure and advertising mohair will seek the level where it belongs."

DISABILITY PROTECTION FOR FARMERS AS FEB. 15 DEADLINE NEARS

Disability protection for many farmers came into effect on October 1, 1960. Those farmers who have elected to be covered have paid into the social security program starting with 1960 should get in touch with their social security office," John D. Palmer, district manager of the San Antonio district office said.

To be eligible for disability benefits at age 50 or older or have a disability "freeze" if younger than 50, the farmer must have 5 years covered by the social security program. This qualification can be established by most self-employed farmers now published on October 1.

"Even though the disability tests can be met then, the law requires a waiting period of six months before any payments can be made," Mr. Palmer says. "As a result, first payments to farmers who qualify could be made in most cases no earlier than May of 1960 for April.

"The disability must prevent the farmer from further engaging in substantial gainful activity," Mr. Palmer points out. This means simply that the disability must be severe enough to prevent the disabled person from doing any further work.

HILL COUNTRY RANCHMEN HAVE FAVORABLE MARKET

A market report issued by Union Stock Yards in San Antonio for 1959 shows that farmers and ranchers of South Texas had a very favorable market for their livestock during the past year,as compared with the previous two years. These farmers and ranchers received $44,686,687.60 for their livestock in 1959 at the Union Stock Yards San Antonio.

For example, stockmen sold only 95,069 more livestock through Union Stock Yards in 1959 than two years before, in 1957, yet they received $15,369,451.00 more in the past year than in 1957.

The Stock Yards received 447,165 head of salable livestock in 1957 for which farmers and ranchers received a gross return of $29,832,216.00. On the otherhand, the Stock Yards received 467,837 head of livestock in 1959 for which stockmen received a gross return of $44,686,687.00.

The report for the "in between year," 1958, showed the Stock Yards received 427,358 head of livestock which brought a gross of $28,824,450.00.

MRS. HUGHES WRITES

We are always happy to receive letters from Bandera,as living in other parts of the country. This week we had a fine letter from Mrs. D. D. Hughes of Colorado Springs, Colorado, the former Miss Thelmarie Clark, daughter of Alvin Clark. She wrote us: "Enclosed is $3 to renew my subscription to the Bulletin for another year. I always look forward to receiving your paper. I think you and Ray Marvin do a fine job of carrying on the paper which your father, J. Marvin Hunter, started many years ago. Both my husband and I enjoy reading 'Twice Told Tales.' Even though we are very pleased with living here in Colorado next to the beautiful Rockies, there will always be a special place in our hearts for the lovely hill country of Texas. Mr. Hughes is not a native Texan, but is a graduate of Trinity University in San Antonio and considers that part of Texas an important part of his life. We have learned to enjoy the winters here, as two years ago we took up skiing. Our three older children have now taken up the sport and do very well on the beginner's slopes. It will probably be some time before we get to visit Bandera again as Mr. Hughes is pursuing his doctor of education degree during the summer vacations at Colorado State College in Greeley, Colorado. So until then I will enjoy my visits by receiving your paper."

TREASURY DEPT. ORDERS

"Treasury records show that one out of every four taxpayers use the simplified income tax Form 1040A," says District Director of Internal Revenue Service at San Antonio, Revenue's midget (size of an average bank check) tax form may be used by individuals with total income of less than $10,000, consisting of wages reported on Form W-2 and not more than $200 in dividends, interest, and wages not subject to withholding.

Husband and wife may file a joint 1040A return for '59, if their combined income doesn't exceed $10,000, stated limits.

Taxpayers using Form 1040A automatically claim the standard 10 per cent deduction allowed for such, personal expenses as contributions, interest payments, medical expenses, and such. Taxpayers with allowable deductions for these items in excess of 10 per cent of their income for '59 must use the standard Form 1040, if they wish to claim them.

Taxpayers with incomes under $5,000 may figure their own tax or have Revenue do the chore. Taxpayers with incomes of $5,000 or more must figure their own tax.

Form 1040A must not be used when taxpayers claim "head of household" or "surviving spouse" status; dividends received credit or retirement income credit, "sick pay" exclusion; deductions for travel, transportation, or "outside salesmen" expense; or estimated tax payment credit.

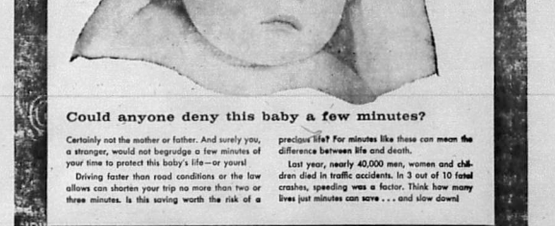
LADDIE QUINTET ROUTED BY BOERNE FIVE, 49-30

The Bandera Bulldogs couldn't cope with the Boerne Greyhound's height advantage and,as a result fell before the tall hound, Hounds 49-30 Tuesday night in a District 27-A game at the local's gym. Too much Gene Canavan was the story as the 6-4 Boerne ace pooped 25 points through the nettings, 21 points of which came in the initial half alone. The Bulldogs trailed at intermission by a 43-26 score.

Spearheading the Bulldog offensive for the night was Ernest Schlader 5, and Bryan King 1 point.



Tonight the Bulldogs host the Canyon Cougars of New Braunfels in a District 27-A tilt scheduled to get under way at 8:00 p.m. The Bulldogs will seek to avenge an earlier 55-53 loss to the Cougars. A girls game will precede the varsity contest.

Could anyone deny this baby a few minutes?

Certainly not the mother or father. And surely you, a stranger, would not begrudge a few minutes of your time to protect this baby's life—or yours!

Driving faster than road conditions or the law allows can shorten your trip no more than two or three minutes. Is this saving worth the risk of a precious life? For minutes like these can mean the difference between life and death.

Last year, nearly 40,000 men, women and children died in traffic accidents. In 3 out of 10 fatal crashes, speeding was a factor. Think how many lives just minutes can save . . . and slow down!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself.
Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection.
Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council.
Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

ABSENCIES TAKE THEIR TOLL

There are 153 pupils in high school and during the first week of the second semester, January 25-29, there were a total of 84 days of absence or 11 per cent of the high school students were not at school." Illness accounted for many of these absences but some of them were avoidable. As most of you know, the school draws state money of average daily attendance. For this first week then, the average daily attendance was 89 per cent and state money can be drawn on only this 89 per cent. This money is very important in the efficient running of our school—in fact, we must have it if we run at all. If we could keep our regular daily attendance higher, perhaps another teacher could be employed or more equipment for school use purchased. So, let's get all students to be in their places every week day if it is at all possible. Postpone that shopping trip until Saturday!

MRS. MULLENEX'S SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Mary Alice Schetele spent Saturday with Kathleen Richards. They went hiking and roller skating.

Friday night, John Brock watched TV, Saturday he went to the dentist and Sunday he watched TV again, and also, played outside.

Linda Pawvlik baked a cake Saturday for her father's birthday.

Sunday, Dickie Hicks was driving their pick-up truck. When he stopped it, he got out and walked beside it. Then it started to roll, and it rolled over his foot. It didn't feel good at all, but he is back at school now.

Sunday, Linda Haun had company from Boerne.

Saturday, Deborah Harrison rode her bicycle after her mother had fixed it. Sunday, she went to her grandmother's house.

Saturday afternoon, Linden Rhodes visited Sidney Faulkner. They played badminton and volleyball with a home-made volleyball.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The eighth grade class is now studying Civics. Everyone in the class is enjoying the study of our government.

Science has brought us into the study of the "Plant World." It is interesting to find out new things about plants we see every day.

"Wide Horizons" is the name of our new reading book. It is a very good book with both stories and poems. At the end of each story there is a short summary about the author.

MRS. MAZUREK'S SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

Glenda Kaye Ritcheson's brother-in-law and his wife visited her Saturday night and spent the day with her Sunday.

Gretchen Mueller Friday afternoon, and visited until Saturday evening.

The seventh grade has a new pupil named Olga Campos. We think she is very nice and enjoy having her in our class.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

In the Senior Class of '60 there is a tall, blond-headed boy known as Don Davenport. This well-liked senior was born in San Antonio, Texas, on an autumn October 16, 1942, to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davenport.

Don, having attended the first grade in Center Point Elementary School, has been a student of Bandera schools since the second grade. Those with whom he has been acquainted during this time know him as a very-going person with a friendly personality. Among other regular school activities, Don had become a familiar member of the Bulldog Band throughout the seventh and eighth grades, as well as the freshman year in high school.

Football and track attracted Don's interest, and he decided to trade band for these two sports in his sophomore year, giving credit to each. He has also been a key person in the local FFA Chapter.

Don's primary interest, typical of those with a superior knowledge of mechanics, is in cars. He seems to know all about everything that goes on under the hood of a car, and usually manages to keep his own running condition! Working with cars does, however, take time and energy, naturally creates an appetite, which brings Don visions of good food, another of Don's particular "likes." This is quite evident in our homeroom parties, as he seems to be the picture of health and strength.

We, at Bandera High, can always rely on Don to have some witty remark ready and waiting to make us smile. One look at his laughing, cherubic face is sufficient to make even the blues Monday seem a little sunnier. In short, it's just plain ole fun to go to school with Don in the class. The Senior Class just wouldn't be the same without him, and we would like to wish him all the luck and happiness the world must be waiting to give such a great guy.

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE

Both of the third grade classes are looking forward to their Valentine party on Friday afternoon, February 12. Mrs. Hutcheson and Mrs. Locke, as chairman and co-chairman, are planning the party. They will be assisted by Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Zickler, Mrs. King, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Applegate, and Mrs. Pawvlik.

Several members of our class went to a wonderful party at Darrell White's ranch on Saturday. Sherry Lee Davis, Brenda Everett, Susie Short, and Jane Ann Pearson helped him celebrate his birthday by riding in the stage coach his grandfather sent him.

Randy Alanis had a wonderful time on Friday. With his entire family he went to San Antonio to see General Clark review the 7th Army. Randy and other members of his family talked with General Clark after the parade. Colonel Alanis fought under his command during the war.

Victor Strickland's sister took part in a Rainbow installation Saturday night so his family went to Casa La Junta to bring his grandfather up for the occasion. His father also got to go. He is leaving soon for three years in Germany.

Johnny Bresher's brothers took him with them when they bought an old car. They never could make it run in order to bring it home.

Sherry Lee Davis' brother made a small car of wood. He pushed Sherry and her sister in it.

Ray D'Spain went fishing with his dad. They finally managed to get about a hundred minnows and two bass by six o'clock. Then they threw them all back and went home.

Jane Everett and Ray are giving all of their "club" money to the March of Dimes.

Zane had his eyes checked in Kerrville and said he just barely missed having to wear glasses.

Susie Short and her sister cleaned their room the other day while her mother, Little Leo, and the tiny baby took a much needed nap.

"Billy Prather and Douglas Bailey performed Saturday that they were park rangers at Yellowstone National Park! They had lots of fun guiding imaginary crowds through the park we had been reading about.

Earl Wayne Heinen was really busy. His family joined two pigs and put the meat into their deep freeze.

Steven Faulkner is about the happiest third grader of all. His dad got home from the hospital on Friday and can stay until March.

Robert Harrison rode the school bus Friday afternoon to his grandfather's ranch. He had a wonderful weekend there, with a visiting cousin.

Gayle had quite an adventure Sunday. A big strange dog appeared suddenly from behind the workshop, jumped upon him and tried to lick his face. Gayle says he nearly fainted. The dog wagged his tail and disappeared almost as fast as he had come.

MRS. AINSWORTH—THIRD GRADE NEWS

The third grade went to Darrell White's birthday party on Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., at his house. They all rode in Darrell's new carryall which his grandfather sent him. The boys were very calm and brave during the ride while Darrell drove, but the girls did a lot of yelling. They let him outdoors in the beautiful sunshine. After lunch they had some more in the carryall and then they hooked up the stagecoach and rode in that. At about 2 o'clock they had ice cream and birthday cake. After that they rode some more in the stagecoach. Everyone had a very good time and Darrell had a happy birthday.

Friday night, Gary Daniels and Phillip Applegate went to see "The Son of Robin Hood" at the movies.

On Friday afternoon after school, Jimmy Locke went home with Robert Hutcheson. They set their rock traps. On Saturday morning they found their traps all sprung, with nothing in them. They found a hide-out up behind some trees where one could find them. After dinner, they climbed a high hill. Saturday evening they gathered wood and had a weiner roast. Jimmy spent the night with Robert again on Saturday night.

On Saturday, Patrick James went to see "The Son of Robin Hood." On Sunday he went to his Uncle Harrely's and they shot down by the river. They exported a big hole in the ground. Patrick and Robert hunting with his father and they saw a pickerbush and two cotton tails. Patrick climbed two trees. Then they went home and got some wood. It was cold.

On Sunday, Marta King and her family went to Hondo to see her cousin. They played and watched TV.

Jimmy Locke's grandfather sent him seven fish pens.

On Sunday, Sidney Skinner went over to see Robert Alanis and they played with the boxing gloves.

On Saturday, Willy Strieker and his family went to San Antonio and brought Willy the skates and shoes, two pairs of britches, three pairs of socks, and a big red coat. They went up in an elevator. They rode in a little covered wagon that bounced. Then they went to a display and Willy's father bought a heifer calf.

On Friday, Ray D'Spain and Zane Everett visited Tommy Wadsworth. They got their working tools and went over to their cave and dug awhile. They climbed a very tall tree. Tommy slipped and almost fell. Later they went to see "The Son of Robin Hood."

On Sunday, Scott Center and his father went to Ray Wharton's to rope some calves. Scott and Wayne had some cokes.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Several of the freshmen were seen at Rosemary Faurie's birthday party, Saturday night. Rosemary received quite a number of gifts from her many friends.

H. B. Stribling, Nancy Weaver, and Don Newman were guests of Linda Bausch last Wednesday.

Friday evening, Linda King visited her cousin and his wife who are residents of Uvalde.

The freshmen are extremely proud of the girls' basketball team. Keep up the good work. We want to see you win district.

We are glad to see Billy Jean Stein back in school after being out for quite a while.

JUNIOR JABBER

There are thirty-eight juniors enrolled in high school. Last week (which we think is an average week) there were thirteen pupils out at least a half a day—some as many as four days—making a total of twenty-one days absence in one week. This is less than eighty-five per cent, daily attendance. The flu and the weather took their toll, but this rate of absentees is the average of most other weeks. To have better than this we have to have better attendance. Though people can't help being sick, perhaps some due to other reasons could be cut down. Compared with the other classes the junior attendance is not below average, but it could be greatly improved.

NEW LICENSE PLATES NOW ON SALE

Austin, Texas, — New license plates for 1960 went on sale at all tax collectors' offices Monday morning, February 1, State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer announced today. The plates have white letters and numerals on a black background.

Greer stated that 4.7 million motor vehicle registrations were bought by Texans in 1959 and predicted that 1960 registrations would approach the five million mark.

Greer urged Texas vehicle owners to register early.

The registration deadline is midnight, April 1.

Greer stressed the importance of registering all automobiles and trucks in the home county for the vehicle owner.

"Take your certificate of title and your last year's registration receipt to the tax collector in your home county. Penalty for improper registration of a vehicle can be as much as $200. Don't risk an illegal registration. Remember, too, that a portion of all registration fees stays in your home county to benefit your local community," Greer said.

Mighty nice to see Mrs. Rhea Mansfield out visiting with friends since her recent illness.

HONDO GETS TWO INDUSTRIES

Hondo—Hondo's two proposed industries are now out of the planning stage, Manager Ben Schuehle said.

The first, a fertilizer plant, will begin construction in the very near future. It will be built by San Antonio interests.

The latter will be a feed mill. It will have four acres of ground on the city north of the national guard armory for the plant site. He will build facilities to extract a mineral additive to fertilizer from natural deposits in west Texas. About 10 men will be employed when the plant begins operations.

An aircraft construction firm will open offices at the air base. Bill Gardner, president of the firm organized at Falco, Inc., said the company plans to produce 300 planes during its first year of operation. He estimated employment at 400 men during the peak of production, which is not expected for at least another year.

Also operating with Falco will be Falcon camp, a summer flying school for boys. Operated along semi-military lines, the flight school will be under the guidance of Gen. Robert Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hicks attended the stock show in Fort Worth this week.

JOE FLYNN DIED FROM ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING

Joe Flynn, one of Bandera's life-long residents and a rancher man in the Myrtle Creek Community passed away in the Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital Monday about 10 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Flynn was found near the gate into his ranch from the main highway Sunday afternoon by Calvin Wedgworth, who came along. It was supposed very shortly after he was accidentally wounded by his .22 rifle. About the same time Mrs. H. A. Meginnis came along on her way to the Vaughn home, so she went on and Mr. Vaughn notified Deputy Sheriff Ralph Chaney who investigated the scene. It seemed that Mr. Flynn set his rifle down to open the gate when it accidentally discharged, the bullet striking him in the forehead. He lived until Monday morning but never regained consciousness. He was ruled by the coroner that death was due to an accident.

Mr. Flynn was born on October 1, 1889, in San Antonio and was at the time of his death 60 years, four months and seven days of age. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Flynn of Arkansas and Mary O'Riley Flynn, a native of Dublin, Ireland. VANDALS STRIKE AT BANDERA SUNDAY NIGHT

You might have thought the Old West had returned to Bandera Sunday night or rather early Monday morning about 4 a.m., and that the cowboys had come to Bandera on their annual spree. But no such thing! Vandals visited Bandera and according to Deputy Ralph Chaney, using a .22 caliber rifle, shot into the door of the Corner Drug Store, the bullet passing entirely through the building. From there they went to shoot out the lights in a storage building across from B. F. Langford and Son Hardware Store, then across to the Hardware Store. There they shot out one of the windows, entered and secured 22 shells, both shorts and longs. They raided the coke machine where they got about $5 in coins. They also visited the American Legion Hall and took several cases of beer.

Continuing their vandalism they shot four tires on a car parked at Rugh's Texaco and also the plate glass window there.

At the intersection of the main street and the San Antonio highway they shot out the blinker lights.

Sheriff Miller reported that a number of suspects had been picked up and given lie detector tests but so far no charges had been filed.

The beautiful weather during the week-end made it seem like spring and everyone who could, was out enjoying the pretty sunshine and fresh air. Some fished, while others drove around sightseeing or hiked on the hills or along the streams. Nevertheless, young and old alike enjoyed the short escape from winter weather and made the most of it whether they basked in the sun in their own back yard in town or spent the time with their "country cousins."

When the dusty norther hit Tuesday night, we had an unpleasant reminder of the past drought, and it made us even more appreciative of the several nice days which preceded it, as well as the fine rain, with which we have been blessed this year.

A pall of sadness fell over our community this week as citizens learned of the passing of several men in the surrounding area, some of whom were well known here and others who had been former residents of this place.

Many were shocked and grieved when word was received of the pashing of Otto Sprott, Jr., of Fredericksburg. Mr. Sprott, better known here as "Ottie," passed away in a Fredericksburg hospital Sunday morning following a brain hemorrhage. He grew to manhood in this community where he was loved and respected by a host of friends, and is the son of Otto Sprott, Sr., and the late Mrs. Sprott. We join his many friends in extending sympathy to the relatives who survive him.

Johnnie Simpson, a former Tarpley resident, passed away at Wickenburg, Arizona, on January 23rd, following a heart attack. Mr. Simpson was with his son at the time of his death. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simpson and was reared here. At an early age he went to Arizona where he became a successful rancher. He leaves to mourn, two daughters and one son, two sisters, Mrs. Frances Monroe of Dallas and Mrs. Etta Billings of Tarpley, and a number of nieces and nephews, as well as other relatives. We offer sympathy to those in bereavement.

Mrs. Alton Wood, Mrs. Joe Billings, and Mrs. A. A. Jeffers were Kerrville visitors last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Caffall of Abilene were here last Tuesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Singleton, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Caffall of Bandera.

Mrs. Buster Schmidt and daughter, Brenda Sue, and Mrs. M. B. Padgett were San Antonio visitors last Monday. While there they visited Mrs. Schmidt's mother, Mrs. Birdee Davenport, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Newcomer, and Mrs. Felix Newcomer.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelsen spent Tuesday in Bandera. They visited their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Johnnie James and Minneana, and Mrs. Mickelsen spent the day playing with Minneana while Mr. Mickelsen attended to business.

We were pleased to hear from Mrs. Theo Thomas and son, Roscoe, this week. Friends will be happy to learn that they are doing well. Mrs. Thomas enclosed a clipping from the Grandbury paper, for which Roscoe writes a column each week. Roscoe is a talented writer, and we think that his writing is so inspiring that we are going to print it in our column. It follows:

Watching the World Go By
By Roscoe Thomas

When we lived on a farm in Missouri my little girl friend was kicked over by an angry horse and stomped to death.

Things like that you never forget. Childhood experiences make an indelible impression.

Children should learn early in life that our obligations to God and the purpose for their living here on earth. This opening points out the reason that children should attend Sunday School.

Incidentally such early training was not always my privilege. At that time my father was fighting his call to preach the gospel. He was a farmer and school teacher. Our transportation consisted of a farm wagon and Dick and Dolly, our team of horses. We lived several miles from town, but that is another story.

Your life, too, has been influenced by what happened to you in early childhood.

Little people now as always before depend on us for guidance, whose judgment should be matured by the experience of living. We of our generation have forgotten who we are. This is a strong indictment.

Child psychologists tell us that often it is the parents who need understanding. Children are sometimes more mature than their parents.

We have all made mistakes of course, but they are easier to see after they have happened.

Until someone invents a mirror far to leave all guilt up to us.

I am still glad to be privileged to call Granbury my earthly home. We accumulated many happy memories when we lived in Tarpley for which we are also thankful.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how his and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two enemy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES

List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy—equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with Turboglide, push-button radio and de luxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!

Softer, more silent ride with coil springs at all four wheels and new butyl rubber-cushioned body mounts.

Big brakes for quicker, surer stops. Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.

More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission tunnel means more foot room.

Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.

Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass.

Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.

Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.

Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."

Thriftiest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 version of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.

A trunk that's made for long trips with up to 22.5 cu. ft. more actual luggage space. Sill's lower for easier loading.

Fisher Body craftsmanship. Look at the finish, the fabrics, the detail work. You'll see the difference.

GOV. PRICE DANIEL TEXAS

FARM BUREAU "WEEK" PRO LAIMED

GOVERNOR DANIEL PROCLAIMS FARM BUREAU WEEK

Austin.—Governor Price Daniel has cited agriculture as "the well-spring of our social and economic vitality" and set a statewide weeklong observance in recognition of agriculture's contribution to Texas life.

In a proclamation signed January 25, the Texas governor designated the week of February 14-20 as "Farm Bureau Week" in Texas and urged all citizens "to cooperate in the recognition and observance of this week in an effort to publicize this important phase of our Texas life."

The special week coincides with the annual membership campaign of the Texas Farm Bureau, largest general farm organization in the state. The 1960 drive will be kicked off with a big Chairmen's Rally February, 11 in Waco attended by county FB presidents, and county and community membership chairmen. About 125 counties are planning intensive membership drives during the next two months.

County Farm Bureaus across the state have set individual county quotas totaling more than 83,000 members for 1960. This would be a gain of some 4,000 over the 1959 membership of 79,414. The fast growing farm organization has had a gain in membership for seven consecutive years and has almost doubled its membership in the past ten years.

Governor Daniel, who is a Farm Bureau member in Liberty County where he owns farm property, cited the need for an educated, progressive, and organized agriculture in Texas. He said farmers and ranchers of Texas, through their various organizations, have worked for improvements in the economy and government of Texas.

Here is the text of the governor's proclamation:

"Greetings:

"Agriculture has long been recognized as the well-spring of our social and economic vitality. A vast number of Texans derive their principal income from farming and ranching activities.

"The farmers and ranchers of Texas, through their various organizations, have crusaded by democratic procedures for a voice in the affairs of the State and for improvements in the economy and government of Texas.

"These groups recognize the necessity and supreme importance of having an educated, progressive and organized agriculture in our state.

"Therefore, I, as Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby proclaim February 14-20, 1960, as 'Farm Bureau Week' in Texas, and urge our citizens to cooperate in the recognition and observance of this week in an effect to publicize this important phase of our Texas life.

"In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 25th day of January, 1960. (Signed) Price Daniel, Governor of Texas."

GOLDEN AGE GROUP WILL MEET FEBRUARY 18

The Golden Age Group will meet on Thursday, February 18, from 2 to 5 in the educational building of the Bandera Methodist Church.

FOLKLORE PROGRAM AT KERRVILLE

The Kerrville Branch, American Association of University Women, which draws some of its members from adjoining towns, is sponsoring a program of Folklore and Folk Music of Mexico today, Friday, February 12, in Tivy Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Americo Paredes, a professor of Romance Languages at the University of Texas, will be the speaker. Born in Brownsville, the former newspaperman was a staff member of Pacific Stars and Stripes during World War II when he served in the infantry. After his discharge, he stayed four years as a civilian working as correspondent and publicity writer in China, Japan and Korea.

Dr. Paredes teaches courses on the folk tale, the folk ballad, literature of the Southwest and creative writing at the University of Texas. He has had articles on folklore and regional history published in national magazines. His recent book is "With a Pistol in His Hand."

His program in Tivy Auditorium will include stories and ballads and songs relating to Mexican dances and some stories and cowboy music peculiar to the Southwest. He accompanies himself on the guitar.

Mrs. Rudolph H. Weiss, chairman of the project, said, "Dr. Paredes' program will be entertaining as well as cultural and for this reason will be appealing to children also." Price of admission is $1 for adults and 50c for students.

This program is the fund raising project for the LAUW's educational program for scholarships for graduate study abroad for women. It is also to raise the chapter's quota to help pay for the new headquarters building of the organization in Washington, D. C.

BAKE HOT CROSS BUN "LITTLE LOAVES"

Ever since the days of 15th century England, hot cross buns have been a specialty on Good Friday and Easter. In America, these raisin-and-fruit-studded buns make an appearance all during Lent. Try them in a new form, baked as "little loaves" in miniature bread pans. The pans are available in dime stores and toy departments.

HOT CROSS BUN LOAVES
(Makes 8 Miniature Loaves)

½ cup milk
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
¼ cup warm, not hot, water
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
4½ cups sifted enriched flour (about)
½ cup chopped raisins or currants
½ cup chopped candied fruit
1 egg yolk

Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening; stir and cool to lukewarm. Measure water into bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in 2 cups of the flour and beat until smooth; add remaining flour and turn dough out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 5 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush top lightly with melted shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place (85°), free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board. Knead the raisins and fruit into the dough. Divide dough into 8 equal pieces; shape into small loaves (elongated rolls). Press into miniature bread pans 4½ x 2½ x 1½ inches. Beat egg yolk and 2 tablespoons cold water together and brush loaves with egg mixture. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours. Cut 3 crosses on top of each loaf with sharp knife. Bake in 375-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes. Cool and fill crosses with icing, made by combining ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar with 1½ to 2 teaspoons milk and ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract.

BANDERA GIRLS GREEP CLOSER TO DISTRICT TITLE

The Bandera basketball girls fought their way closer to becoming district champs when they defeated the Blanco Panthers and Canyon Birds of New Braunfels.

Blanco missed shots on their own court. The girls claimed their district victory by defeating them, 45-24. The girls would like to thank Coach Eichman for his taking over in the absence of Mrs. Marduck, who was unable to go to the game because of a date with the flu bug. Rosa Serrcker stacked up 15 points to gain high honors; while Lu Langham was right behind with 13. Cathy Anderwald succeded in getting Linda Bass.

Canyon of New Braunfels made the trip to return a bout with Bandera, February 3. The girls again came out on top with a score of 51-37. Rose Stricker snatched 37 of the 51 points. Lu Langham tallied 5; Linda Bolach, 1; Barbara Adamietz, 3; "and Karen Walters, 2. The Bandera girls have only three more games scheduled for this season. Bandera will go to Southside tonight. They will meet Southwest of San Antonio here in Bandera, Tuesday night for the last home game. Then they will travel to Schertz-Cibolo for the final and perhaps hardest district tilt. Come out and support the girls. Help them become district champs.

TEXAS OWES MUCH TO GEORGE CHILDRESS

Brady Standard

Little did those hardy patriots and Texas pioneers who assembled at Washington-on-the-Brazos during the eventful days of March, 1836, realize what the results of their deliberations would be, but they did lustily cheer and thrill to the words of the brilliant young Tennessean who had written the immortal document of Texas history—the declaration of independence from Mexico. That man—but only 32 years of age—was George Childress, whose remains now lie in an unmarked grave located somewhere on the Rosebud School grounds and upon which the school children of today frolic and laugh, all unaware that beneath their feet lies the author of an immortal historical document.

George Campbell Childress was born at Rokeby, the family homestead in Nashville, Tennessee, on January 8, 1804. His father was Judge John Childress, an eminent lawyer, United States marshal for many years, and a close friend of Andrew Jackson.

Childress' mother was Elizabeth Roberting Childress, eldest child of Col. Elijah Robertson, who with his brother, James, founded Nashville in 1787.

Young Childress was admitted to the practice of law in 1828, when he was 24 years of age. For the next six years he was a practicing attorney, and in 1834 he became one of the editors of Nashville's daily newspaper, the Banner and Advertiser.

He continued his editorial work for a little more than a year, when he resigned to join his uncle, Sterling C. Robertson, in founding an American settlement in Texas.

Childress was 32 years of age when he came to Texas in January of 1836. He was an accomplished lawyer, an orator of note, and a writer of conspicuous ability.

Soon after his arrival he applied for a grant of land in his uncle's colony and prepared to settle down to the life of a pioneer. But this he was not allowed to do.

The whole country was in turmoil. The revolution was in full swing. Hostilities had actually begun and the first battle at Gonzales had been fought.

The call for freedom from Mexico oppression and misrule became louder and ever more insistent. Childress heard the call and became an important figure in the drama that was to follow.

Delegates began to arrive at Old Washington during the latter part of February. The men had come from all over the region to determine the fate of Texas in the future. The 58 delegates who finally arrived comprised 22 municipalities. Galveston was not represented because the only sign of a community here was the Mexican custom house.

On the night before the convention was to open, George Childress rode in from his uncle's settlement on the Brazos, bringing with him a "declaration of independence."

He submitted this document to Richard Ellis, Robert Porter, Don Lorenzo de Zavala, and other leading men present, these men thrilled to the proposed resolution, they knew that the young Tennessee lawyer had written an immortal instrument.

Delegates assembled on the cold, damp morning following at 10 o'clock in the little hall of the settlement. History describes the delegates as having to stamp their feet and rub their hands to promote blood circulation and keep warm, for there was no heating arrangements in the hall.

James Collingsworth, 32-year-old lawyer and former district attorney, was chosen temporary chairman of the convention. After examination of credentials, Dr. Stephen H. Everett nominated Richard Ellis for permanent chairman. He was elected by acclamation.

A high point in the history of Texas came shortly after the very beginning, when George Childress —one of the youngest men in the hall—arose to his feet, holding a paper aloft.

"Mr. Chairman," he said, "I offer the following resolution." The resolution provided for appointment of a committee to draft a declaration of independence — a declaration which had already been written, and which Childress was then holding in his hand.

A committee was named to study the declaration and to submit it to the convention the following day. The group retired to a blacksmith shop and worked far into the night, discussing the provisions of Childress' document and the issues it involved.

When Ellis called the convention together the following morning, Childress was asked for recognition and announced he was ready to report.

A tense silence fell over the assembly as the secretary read the stirring message of defiance. His voice swelled with emotion as he read the impressive concluding paragraph.

"We, therefore, the delegates, with plenary powers, of the people of Texas, in solemn convention assembled, appealing to a candid world, for the necessities of our condition, do hereby resolve and declare that our political connection with the Mexican nation has forever ended; and that the people of Texas do now constitute a free, sovereign and independent republic, and are fully invested with all the rights and attributes which properly belong to independent nations,"

Then, after a moment of hesitation, during which the delegates leaned to their feet and cheered. They rushed forward, crowded around Childress to shake his hand, embraced him, and slapped him on the back.

There soon broke out wild, boisterous shouting. They also were equally cognizant of the fact that their actions constituted treason against Mexico—an act which they might be called upon to pay for with their lives and the lives of their loved ones.

But they thought little of this and swarmed eagerly around the secretary's desk anxious to affix their signatures to the document. Richard Ellis signed first; then James Collingsworth, and Edwin Waller, and then Childress.

After completing his work at the convention, Childress, with Robert Hamilton, was commissioned to go to the United States to open negotiation for recognition of the independence of Texas.

The wavering course of the young republic, however, made the task a hopeless one. Three months later he returned to Texas and resumed the practice of law. He spent the latter part of 1836 and the three following years in Texas. The winter of 1839-1840 was spent in Nashville.

In the spring of 1841 he returned to Galveston and stayed for a while in the home of Dr. Ashbel Smith.

Here, as elsewhere, he found the law business in a slump, and in June, 1841, he wrote Pres. Mirabeau Lamar for a government job. "My cash being small," he wrote, "I would gladly accept any situation in which I could be of service . . . "

Childress failed to get the job, though for what reason is unknown, and his funds dwindled. His family was still in Nashville, and the outlook seemed hopeless to this forgotten man of the revolution. He died here soon after.

Confidential Communications

Under the law what you as a client tell your lawyer in confidence he may tell no one else without your consent.

Nor can a judge order him or his professional employees (like secretaries) to reveal such communications in court.

Why have such a privilege?

Chiefly, to do justice; it encourages clients to tell their lawyers what they have to know to help and to advise them fully: things about their family, business, and private affairs, their plans, and ambitions.

No lawyer may speak of certain things, even after a client dies. For a client may well have to give his lawyer details which, if revealed, might harm those he most wanted to protect.

Yet, in some very rare cases, to help carry out the client's desires after death, a lawyer may have to reveal a confidence, under certain safeguards, to uphold his client's purposes.

What are confidential communications?

Anything a client tells his lawyer when he seeks advice about his personal, business, or legal affairs—talks and letters, photographs, charts, and other documents and records.

Confidential communications protect you as the client, not your lawyer. If you break the confidence, a lawyer may also have to talk, for the communication is no longer confidential. You may break a confidence by testifying about it, or by having unauthorized persons hear or see what was Jay Michael Brown of Mason, William Irvin Chambers of Del Rio, Larry Bill Cumbliss of Uvalde, Gary Yates Dickinson of Del Rio, Waymon Glen Garner of Brownwood, Charles Wagner Hunnicutt Jr. of Sterville, Gordon Lee McCollum of Odessa, Gerald Wayne Mefford of Del Rio, Charles Wesley Rhodes of Laredo, Charles Erwin of Brady, and John William Tompkins of Lampasas.

No lawyer may keep quiet about a crime or fraud a client has told him he plans to commit. But afterwards, an accused person may talk freely to his lawyer. Even if guilty, he has a right to have his side of the story presented to the court as it may affect his punishment. A person in trouble needs to talk to someone without fear that what he says will become public.

In some states certain other professional people, such as physicians and clergymen, may receive privileged communications.. However, Texas law makes no provision for privileged communications with physicians and clergymen.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is designed to inform—not to advise—you people should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Could anyone deny this baby a few minutes?
Certainly not the mother or father. And surely you, a stranger, would not begrudge a few minutes of your time to protect this baby's life—on your course!
Driving faster than road conditions or the law allows can shorten your trip no more than two or three minutes. Is this saving worth the risk of a precious life? For minutes like these can mean the difference between life and death.
Last year, nearly 40,000 men, women and children died in traffic accidents. In 3 out of 10 fatal crashes, speeding was a factor. Think how many lives just minutes can save . . . and slow down!
Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself.
Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection.
Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council.
Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

SENIOR NEWS

One of the former members of the Senior Class, Connie Lindley, was recently married to a graduate of Bandera High School, Sonny Hayes. Both are former residents of Bandera now living in Houston. We wish them the best of luck and happiness and send out to them our heartiest congratulations. Miss Lindley attended the wedding, which took place in Houston, and was one of Connie's bridesmaids.

The School Daze staff met this week. Among many things discussed was the appropriating of money with which to buy a page in the annual for the staff picture. We decided to do it democratically, by contributions from the members of the staff.

Several of the seniors will be missing from class on Friday. The Bulldog Band and Pup Pets will be marching in the parade that day and will later attend the San Antonio Livestock Show and Rodeo. We know they will enjoy the day and make all of Bandera very proud of them. The Pup Pets have been practicing marching with the band during the week. The livestock judging which they have been doing in the Vocational Ag. classes.

Everyone is glad to see Terry Knibbe back in school; he was sick a couple of days last week with a fever and sore throat. Glad to see you back, Terry!

Saturday night, Judy Mueller, Martha Redding, Camile Rosquist, Patty Callahan, Jan Edwards, Patricia Johnson, Jean Daniels, Elmo Jaye, Terry Knibbe, Roger Ramos, Charlie Eckhart, and Larry Stein were all at the Retreat having a lot of fun.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Jeschke on July 3, 1943, was their son, John, of whom they are very proud, and with good reason. John has proved to be a very scholastic young man whose many abilities and talents give promise of success in whatever he chooses to be. Besides all this, he is tall, and has blond hair and very blue eyes.

John was born in Hondo, Texas, but moved to Bandera in time to start school in the first grade at St. Joseph's School. He went to school there for eight years they entered Bandera High School as freshmen, and during the four years there, in R.H.S. he has taken part in a variety of sports and activities. He has participated one year each in track, basketball, and volleyball. Organizations in which he is especially active are the FFA and the Catholic Youth Society.

John is the "great outdoor" type and is capable of handling himself in a complete situation. Two of his favorite pastimes are hunting and fishing, and he tackles the whole rule with the same zest and enthusiasm he hants a hook on loads his gun.

All of these facts, plus his quiet ways and friendliness have made John many friends. We acclaim him "Man of the Week," and with him success and happiness all through his life. With the start he's got, he can't lose!

SOPHOMORE TALK

The sophomores are all excited over the new things they have been studying. The students who made the biology are all "hep" over the study of insects. Mr. Rimmer required each student to get a collection of insects, and you should have seen some of the collections! They covered anything and everything, ranging from a termite to a centipede.

All the boys are talking about Thursday's judging which they have been doing in the Vocational Ag. classes.

Those who went on special trips Saturday to Kerrville were: Linda Bausch, Kay Wootton, Connie Pope, Karen Kitchen, and Jamie Sue Sixon; three sophomores—Patty Callahan, Camille Rosquist, and Bryan Ringo; four juniors—Judy Mueller, Terry Brandt; and four seniors—Earl Keese, Kenneth Kalka, Lon Cottingham, and Linda Wright. Binnie Demore, Senior and Chuck Hargis, Freshmen, also qualified for the tests.

The whole idea was a search for talent all over Texas. The tests are sponsored and paid for by our state government. They are given to the top ranking students in science and mathematics in each high school. Just being chosen to take the test means recognition by the local school system. Taking the tests put these students into statewide competition. The top-ranking students in Texas will be given a three-week, expense-paid summer course in a Texas college or university. They will have an opportunity to choose either the field of science or mathematics. This is a way to locate talent among high school students, and also a way to reward that talent. We need to know what we have in the way of potential talent in the two challenging fields of science and mathematics.

F. F. A. NEWS

The Ag. boys have taken up something new and interesting along the line of agriculture. They have been judging Dairy Livestock by pictures. Say! Folks, have you all seen 'Mr. Robbins' new 1960 Chevy pick-up?

Mr. Alvin Clark presented the FFA Chapter with a stand of bees. The lower section of the hive is enclosed in glass to allow the members to watch the bees while they work. The Chapter appreciates the interest Mr. Clark has shown in promoting the work of the FFA. Mr. Robbins and Mr. Clark are planning to do some grafting on Mr. Clark's peach trees a little later.

The FFA Chapter would like to thank all the buyers and everyone who participated in the Livestock Show and helped make it a big success.

Lavaria Stricker spent Saturday in San Antonio at the tennis courts. She won both her singles and doubles matches.

BAND BLAB

These past few weeks have been going rather fast for the band members.

Contest is just around the corner and students have been selecting solos and ensembles. Students have also been practicing for student conducting.

Mr. Hargis has been working constantly on planning music for the band to play, plus picking out solos and ensembles.

Last week, Carolyn Bruce and Martilyn Ritcheson were chosen student conductors to conduct the band at contest.

Thursday, Mr. Hargis left for a band meeting in Austin where he learned many new techniques and attended several lectures.

Next Friday, February 12, the band will participate in the San Antonio Livestock parade.

BULLDOGS RUN ROUGHSHOD OVER CANYON, 56-39

The Bandera Bulldogs hustled their way to a rousing 56-39 shellacking of the Canyon Cougars Friday night at the High School Gym and thus avenged a two point loss suffered to the New Braunfels' quintet earlier in the year. The well earned triumph brought the Bulldogs' league record to 4 and 5 and upped their season's output to 13 wins as compared to 10 defeats.

Top man on the totem pole for the home town boys was Kenneth Kalka who lashed the nettlings for 17 points on 8 field goals and one free throw. Adding balance to the Bulldog offensive were Chuck Jones and Ernest Schlabdoer each with 11 points, Roger Pye with 10, and Earl Keese with 7 points.

The Bulldogs, as a result of a 19 point outburst in the initial period, held a commanding 32-20 lead at intermission.

This Tuesday the Bulldogs make their final home appearance as they entertain the Southwest Dragons in a scheduled 8 p.m., engagement. Try and make the scene for an evening well spent.

Mrs. Thomas Murphy and daughter of Cleveland, Mississippi, arrived here last Thursday for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hayes and son, Russell. They all attended the wedding of Harold Allen (Sonny) Hayes and Miss Connie Lindley in Houston last Friday.

Mrs. Arthur Hayes announced this week that the March of Dimes fund raisign campaign is lagging far behind last years add ress all who have not donated this year to do so as soon as possible.

A complete story will be given in next week's Bulletin.

A special thanks is extended to the Misstenas for their generous donation of $3475. Miss Peggy Billings, chairman of the Misstenas turned in this amount.

MRS. SHORT ADVISES ALL TO NOT CONFUSE CYTOLOGY WITH CANCER DRIVE

Funds sought by the Cancer Cytology Foundation by mail should not be confused with the April fund raising drive of the American Cancer Society, according to local American Cancer Society spokesmen.

Mrs. E. M. Poe, Bandera Unit Crusade Chairman, said, "The American Cancer Society is in no way connected with the Cytology Foundation which is conducting a mail campaign from New York. Their campaign is neither sponsored nor sanctioned by the 47 year old American Cancer Society, which is conducting its own cytology program," she said.

"The Texas Society of Pathologists" she added, "has indicated that there is no need for special cytology screening centers, since medical facilities throughout the state to provide these services are adequate."

Mrs. Clay Short, County Chairman, said, that the official 1960 American Cancer Society Educational Fund Drive will be conducted during April and the Crusade organization is rapidly nearing completion with many citizens already volunteering their services.

Joining Mrs. Poe in her statement was Dr. George D. Meador, Chairman of the Bandera County Unit Medical Committee.

Joe Hawley of Denton was a business visitor here during the week-end.

SHOOTING CULPRITS ARE CAUGHT HERE

Sheriff R. B. Miller reported Saturday that the two young men who "shot up" the town several Sunday nights ago are now in custody, thanks to the confession of one who implicated both.

After Arnold Kalka, age 18, a recent inmate of a reform school, and Tommy Stacy, age 16, were picked up, Stacy broke down and confessed to the shootings. Kalka is held on $5,000 bond.

The young men went on a shooting spree, according to Sheriff Miller, using a .22 calibre rifle to shoot out the blinker light at the corner of Main and the San Antonio highway; a shot through the Corner Drug Store, which ranged through the entire building. They visited Pat Boyle's Grocery, the Legion Hall, B. F. Langford and Son's Hardware Store and other places in the vicinity.

In their raid they went into the coke machine at Langford's and got about five dollars in coins. They took a case of beer at the Legion Hall and took a number of .22 rifle shells from Langford's. At Rugh's, Texaco they shot four tires on a car parked there as well as a plate glass window.

Stacy, aged 16, a juvenile was released.

The results of a community poll, carried out recently reavealed that the name of our annual celebration the "Bandera Stompede" has been, for quite some time about as popular as card board flavored coffee.

The "agiuers" contend that the name suggested that the visitors, tourists, were welcome to "come one, come all," and in plain words, "raise hell" and put blocks under it without any sort of restraining regulations or consequences, to

THE ROSE GARDEN CLUB'S ANNUAL PARTY

The Rose Garden Club held its annual club party for members and their guests at the Youth Center in Medina, Thursday evening, February 11th.

After a brief business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Paul Garrison, the meeting was turned over to the Program Chairman, Mrs. J. D. Latta, who in turn introduced the speakers of the evening—Mrs. Walter Mayfield and Mrs. Isabel Anderson, both members of the club.

The Club is fortunate to have two such interesting and able speakers—they both illustrated their talks with colored pictures and slides, most of which they had taken themselves. Both were dressed in the native costumes worn in the countries which were describing. Mrs. Mayfield had spent thirteen years in Arabia and was well qualified to tell of the Arab manners, costumes, religion, etc., which are so different from our own. Her pictures showed the extreme contrasts of the country—the stretches of desolate desert with seemingly endless miles of sand dunes, then beautiful, cities with wide boulevards, stately buildings and mosques; the contrast in dress—the veiled women of the desert, both they and the men, dressed much the same as they were in and before Christ's time, and the moderns along the coastal region dressed in Bikinis and Western garb; the houses—mere nondescript shelters for the desert Arabs, but beautiful white buildings in the cities and in the desert where Western civilization has come.

Mrs. Anderson chose to speak and show pictures of Austria and Bavaria. She wore a Bavarian peasant costume which was charming with its tight bodice, full skirt, and apron. Her pictures showed the cultural development of these countries from the Middle Ages to the present day. Beautiful buildings with their exquisite detailed carvings in wood and stone; famous and priceless interiors of palaces — tapestries, paintings, crystal chandeliers and gorgeous furnishings; breathtakingly beautiful scenic vistas of mountains, lakes and forests, and some charming gardens around old castles. She also showed pictures of the beautiful white Lipperzaner horses which are found only in Vienna.

This was an evening of fascinating contrasts—Arabia lies to-day practically unchanged in 2000 years—Middle Europe in 900 years not only continually adapting and developed, but in the process has given the world its finest art treasures and culture.

At the conclusion of the instructive talks a pleasant social time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Maud Stokes and her able committee who carried out the Valentine motif in red and white on the buffet table.

MESDAMES SHORT AND PUE ATTEND CANCER MEET

Mrs. Clay Short and Mrs. E. M. Pue attended the American Cancer Society last Tuesday, February 9, and returned home filled with enthusiasm for the successful and very informative meeting in Dallas. The prime feature of the meeting concerned the fund raising drive which is coming up the first of April.

Mrs. Short, Bandera County's Cancer Society chairman, stated that Bandera County ranks ninth out of the 254 counties of Texas, and this year Bandera wants to continue to hold this record and maybe go a step further.

Mrs. Pue is chairman of the local fund raising drive.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mrs. Annie C. Rogers wishes to extend deep and sincere appreciation to the many friends and relatives for their many acts of kindness at the death of their beloved. Special thanks are extended to the Priests who conducted the services, those who sent the beautiful flowers and the Mass offerings.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Aileen Fitzgerald is feeling somewhat better this week and is spending the week at her home in town. Her sister, Mrs. R. G. Hunter, of Abilene, is here visiting with her.

Mrs. Les Short has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. C. Hunter, Sr., this week.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to learn "horse-trading" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of his meeting with Billy the Kid, the noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

GOVERNOR DANIEL PROCLAIMS PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

The Governor of Texas, Price Daniel, has proclaimed the week of February 29 to March 4 as Public Schools Week. The Bandera School extends an invitation to all interested persons to visit the school during that week. A complete list of special activities will be given in next week's paper.

BANDERA SCHOLASTIC CENSUS INCREASES

The scholastic census for the Bandera Independent School District shows an increase of 36 students over last year, according to Marvin C. Schnelle, Superintendent. 620 scholastics were enumerated. Last year's total was 584. Transfers, which are made by June 1, usually add about 20 students to the list. Joe Glasscock, school census enumerator, reports a total of 315 boys and 305 girls. Twelve-year-old students constitute the largest number with a total of 68.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE!

Compare this list of Chevy advances with the features ordinary trucks are still talking about. You'll see why Chevy trucks get more work done in a day... why they go extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. These Sturdi-Bilt Sixties aren't just new, they're a full scale revolution!

TORSION-SPRING RIDE

With independent front suspension there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel.

Each front wheel, suspended independently of the other, is free to step individually over bumps. And shockproof torsion springs up front soak up the jars and jolts before they reach the body. With three rugged new tailored-to-the-truck rear suspensions to further reduce road shocks, Chevy gives you the smoothest truck ride you've ever felt.

NO SHIMMY, NO WHEEL FIGHT

Drive a '60 Chevy. Just once. Right away you'll notice the absence of I-beam shimmy and wheel fight common on ordinary trucks.

6'S SWORN TO SAVE

Chevy's 6-cylinder engines are set to squeeze extra miles out of every drop of fuel. They're long famous for low fuel consumption, high performance.

SHORT STROKE V8'S

Power-packed for peak performance, Chevy's husky V8's make child's play out of the toughest hauls. They have a mind tuned to economy, too, that keeps costs down, profits up.

SLICK NEW SUBURBAN CARRYALLS

These handsome new handy haulers "double in brass"—can transport eight passengers or up to 950 lbs. of payload. Rear and center seats are easy to remove and replace when necessary. For work or for pleasure, these double-duty beauties are best for both!

NEW DOLLAR-SAVING PRICES

Chevrolet's low prices make big truck savings for '60. Which means money in your pocket on model after model. Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Also, prices have been reduced on all optional V8's.

SEE YOUR DEALER

It could be the most important visit you make in '60. When you've seen these new Chevies, you'll agree they're the world's most advanced trucks. Then drive one and find out why.

CHEVROLET

CABS FOR BIG GUYS

Big guys get a bigger break in a Chevy cab. There's plenty of space inside to stretch out and relax; more room for hats and hips, more room for wide shoulders and long legs. There's horizon-wide visibility through a windshield with 26% more glass area; a new see-at-a-glance instrument panel. Cabs are safer, too, up to 67% more rigid.

Tarpley

Some sleet and an inch or better of snow fell in the Tarpley area last Thursday night and early Friday morning, but the majority of it had melted by Friday evening. Saturday dawned cold and gray with bright sunshine and the week-end turned out to be nice and sunny, in spite of the chilling wind.

Mr. and Mrs. M.B. Padgett and son, Bob, went to San Antonio Sunday to visit the Felix Newcomer family. Mrs. Padgett remained with the Newcomers for several days this week. Friends will be pleased to hear that Mr. Newcomer stood the operation well last week and is recovering as quickly as can be expected. We hope he will continue to improve steadily and will soon be completely well.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sprott were guests of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sprott, at the services in the new Methodist church at Bandera Sunday. The Sprotts also visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker and family, at Bandera Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelsen were business visitors in Bandera Tuesday and spent part of the day in the James home visiting with Mrs. Johnnie James and daughter, Minnesota.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter and son, George Earl, were Mr. and Mrs. Alva Matthews of Von Ormy and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schirmer and daughters, Barbara, Brenda, and Becky, of Devine.

G. W. Sandidge of John Tarleton State College at Stephenville, spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Sandidge. Miss Karen Schmidt of Boerne was their guest, and they all attended services at the Methodist church in Bandera Sunday.

LAMB GRADING WITH REVISED STANDARDS TO BE CONTINUED

San Angelo—Lamb grading, with revised standards becoming effective, is to be continued, officials of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association have been informed. Revision of the standards is a compromise on which most segments of the sheep industry agreed.

The National Wool Growers' Association in Salt Lake City, further informs that the new standards will become effective March 1, 1960.

The TS&GRA joined with the NWGA, the National Lamb Feeders' Association and other groups in seeking suspension of grading, but protests from other organizations prevailed on the United States Department of Agriculture's decision to revise and continue grading.

Terrence Metcalf, of San Angelo, a vice president of the NWGA and a past president of TS&GRA at lamb grading hearings in Sterling, represented the groups before the House Agriculture Committee in Washington earlier in the year. He urged suspension, asserting that both the producer and consumer would benefit if grading was suspended.

Secretary Benson has requested that Federal meat grading personnel be thoroughly instructed in the new revised lamb and mutton grading standards, emphasizing that new grades will be checked closely to assure adherence to the revised standards.

TS&GRA officials believe that had Secretary Benson suspended grading, it soon would have been resumed as, in all probability, the House Agriculture Committee would have introduced a measure in Congress that would make grading of any agricultural product mandatory upon demand.

THE ROSE GARDEN CLUB'S ANNUAL PARTY

The Rose Garden Club held its annual club party for members and their guests at the Youth Center in Medina, Thursday evening, February 11th.

After a brief business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Paul Garrison, the meeting was turned over to the Program Chairman, Mrs. J. D. Latta, who in turn introduced the speakers of the evening—Mrs. Walter Mayfield and Mrs. Isabel Anderson, both members of the club.

The Club is fortunate to have two such interesting and able speakers—they both illustrated their talks with colored pictures and slides, most of which they had taken themselves. Both were dressed in the native costumes worn in the countries which were describing. Mrs. Mayfield had spent thirteen years in Arabia and was well qualified to tell of the Arab manners, costumes, religion, etc., which are so different from our own. Her pictures showed the extreme contrasts of the country—the stretches of desolate desert with seemingly endless miles of sand dunes, then beautiful, cities with wide boulevards, stately buildings and mosques; the contrast in dress—the veiled women of the desert, both they and the men, dressed much the same as they were in and before Christ's time, and the moderns along the coastal region dressed in Bikinis and Western garb; the houses—mere nondescript shelters for the desert Arabs, but beautiful white buildings in the cities and in the desert where Western civilization has come.

Mrs. Anderson chose to speak and show pictures of Austria and Bavaria. She wore a Bavarian peasant costume which was charming with its tight bodice, full skirt, and apron. Her pictures showed the cultural development of these countries from the Middle Ages to the present day. Beautiful buildings with their exquisite detailed carvings in wood and stone; famous and priceless interiors of palaces — tapestries, paintings, crystal chandeliers and gorgeous furnishings; breathtakingly beautiful scenic vistas of mountains, lakes and forests, and some charming gardens around old castles. She also showed pictures of the beautiful white Lipperzaner horses which are found only in Vienna.

This was an evening of fascinating contrasts—Arabia lies to-day practically unchanged in 2000 years—Middle Europe in 500 years not only continually advanced and developed, but in the process has given the world its finest art treasures and cultures.

At the conclusion of the instructive talks a pleasant social time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Maud Stokes and her able committee who carried out the Valentine motif in red and white on the buffet table.

Pregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you know personally in different Texas communities. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico, how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (and carry) through the Indian Nations with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days in jail; entertaining a "rebel" outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last his "settled down" life, content to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE!

Compare this list of Chevy advances with the features ordinary trucks are still talking about. You'll see why Chevy trucks get more work done in a day... why they go extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. These Sturdi-Bilt Sixties aren't just new, they're a full scale revolution!

TORSION-SPRING RIDE

Each front wheel, suspended independently of the other, is free to step individually over bumps. And shockproof torsion springs up front soak up the jars and jolts before they reach the body. With three rugged new tailored-to-the-truck rear suspensions to further reduce road shocks, Chevy gives you the smoothest truck ride you've ever felt.

With independent front suspension there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel.

NO SHIMMY, NO WHEEL FIGHT

Drive a '60 Chevy. Just once. Right away you'll notice the absence of I-beam shimmy and wheel fight common on ordinary trucks.

CABS FOR BIG GUYS

Big guys get a bigger break in a Chevy cab. There's plenty of space inside to stretch out and relax; more room for hats and hips, more room for wide shoulders and long legs. There's horizon-wide visibility through a windshield with 26% more glass area; a new see-at-a-glance instrument panel. Cabs are safer, too, up to 67% more rigid.

6'S SWORN TO SAVE

Chevy's 6-cylinder engines are set to squeeze extra miles out of every drop of fuel. They're long famous for low fuel consumption, high performance.

SHORT STROKE V8'S

Power-packed for peak performance, Chevy's short stroke V8's make child's play out of the toughest hauls. They have a mind tuned to economy, too, that keeps costs down, profits up.

SLICK NEW SUBURBAN CARRYALLS

These handsome new handy haulers "double in brass"—can transport eight passengers or up to 950 lbs. of payload. Rear and center seats are easy to remove and replace when necessary. For work or for pleasure, these double-duty beauties are best for both!

NEW DOLLAR-SAVING PRICES

Chevrolet's low prices make big truck news for '60. They mean more money in your pocket on model after model. Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Also, prices have been reduced on all optional V8's.

SEE YOUR DEALER

It could be the most important visit you make in '60. When you've seen these new Chevies, you'll agree they're the world's most advanced trucks. Then drive one and find out why.

Tarpley

Some sleet and an inch or better of snow fell in the Tarpley area last Thursday night and early Friday morning, but the majority of it had melted by Friday evening. Saturday dawned cold, but clear with bright sunshine and the week-end turned out to be nice and sunny, in spite of the chilling wind.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Padgett and son, Bob, went to San Antonio Sunday to visit the Felix Newcomer family. Mrs. Padgett remained with the Newcomers for several days this week. Friends will be pleased to hear that Mr. Newcomer stood the operation well last week and is recovering as quickly as can be expected. We hope he will continue to improve steadily and will soon be completely well.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sprott were guests of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sprott, at the services in the new Methodist church at Bandera Sunday. The Sprotts also visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker and family, at Bandera Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelsen visited Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dean at the Calvert Ranch near Dilley last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Blackwell of Kerrville were Bandera visitors late Sunday evening and from there went to Tarpley where they joined his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blackwell, at the Blackwell Ranch for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelsen were business visitors in Bandera Tuesday and spent part of the day in the James home visiting with Mrs. Johnnie James and daughter, Mineana.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter and son, George Earl, were Mr. and Mrs. Alva Matthews of Von Ormy and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schirmer and daughters, Barbara, Brenda, and Becky, of Devine.

G. W. Sandidge of John Tarleton State College at Stephenville, spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sandidge. Miss Karen Schmidt of Boerne was their guest, and they all attended services at the Methodist church in Bandera Sunday.

George Earl Sauter, who has spent the past several weeks here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter, will leave this week-end for New York where he will report back to Staten Island, where he is scheduled to receive his discharge from the service in March.

Others from Tarpley who attended the opening services at the new Methodist church in Bandera Sunday were Walter Schelle, Miss Augusta Schelle, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schmidt.

LAMB GRADING WITH REVISED STANDARDS TO BE CONTINUED

San Angelo—Lamb grading, with revised standards becoming effective, is to be continued, officials of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association have been informed. Revision of the standards is a compromise on which most segments of the sheep industry agreed.

The National Wool Growers' Association in Salt Lake City, further informs that the new standards will become effective March 1, 1960.

The TS&GRA joined with the NWGA, the National Lamb Feeders' Association and other groups in seeking suspension of grading. Hearings from other organizations prevailed in the United States Department of Agriculture's decision to revise and continue grading.

Penrose Metcalf, of San Angelo, a vice president of the NWGA and a past president of the TS&GRA at lamb grading hearings before the House Agriculture Committee in Washington earlier in the year. He urged suspension, asserting that both the producer and consumer would benefit if grading was suspended.

Metcalf says that Secretary of Agriculture Benson has requested that Federal meat grading personnel be thoroughly instructed in the new revised lamb and mutton grading standards, emphasizing that new grades will be checked closely to assure adherence to the revised standards.

TS&GRA officials believe that had Secretary Benson suspended grading, it soon would have been resumed as, in all probability, the House Agriculture Committee would have introduced a measure in Congress that would make grading of any agricultural product mandatory upon demand.

NAME—

hamper their varied imagination with your hair down techniques."

Everyone polled on the subject did agree however, that no matter what new name was given to our celebration, that the Friends would probably wind up in the same old "black kettle" if our type of entertainment for the guests, or tourists, not only for our annual celebration, but for the entire year, was not up-graded.

Our new Chamber of Commerce President, Henry Adams, called a special meeting of the directors at the Dixie Dude Guest Ranch for a noon luncheon with enough additional time to take care of the renaming of the "Bandera Stompede," along with other current business.

Some of the names submitted to replace "Stompede" were: Bandera Frontier Days, Bandera County Holidays, Bandera Holidays, etc.

The name chosen by acclamation was one suggested by A. B. Small: "Bandera Western Festival" (Formerly Bandera Stompede).

The reasons behind selecting this new title are many but here are a few:

1. The name itself means a pleasant western type holiday with varied entertaining events.

2. It would be a better advertising subject.

3. Allow a more varied type of entertainment. "Stompede" tending to, to mean a rough type of entertainment, appealing only to a certain type people.

4. The new name should create more interest and cooperation from everyone in the county.

5. The new name, plus higher grade entertainment will a be definite dollar influx that will help our schools, churches, bank loaning power, community projects, etc.

To enable our community to help this new name attract tourists from all over the nation, a year round program of events is being planned by the Chamber of Commerce.

To carry out such projected year round events and community improvement program, we naturally need a budget scaled to funds received from dues plus donations.

A full scale membership drive will be underway in a few days. Let's all join. Let's everyone get together—work together—and help our two great industries, wool and mohair and tourist industries, grow.

If we can do this we will all be happy with the results.

It was further suggested at the meeting at Dixie Dude that a "Mounted Sheriff's Posse" would be very helpful in maintaining a few of the adopted rules and regulations of these events. Inasmuch as the posse which is in effect of being formed at this time, comes under the publicity and sporting events committee, of which Lew Sterling is chairman, Mr. Sterling will go into this matter more closely and a report on this is expected at an early date.

PROGRESS IN OUR SCHOOLS

The school bus drive in many areas is ruling that children may not have written permission from their parents to leave the school grounds during the "lunch hour. If the parents will cooperate it may save some young persons' lives and it will be safer for those unwary citizens who happen to be on the streets or highways at noon.

Another way to eliminate this danger would be for us parents to insist that our children eat in the school lunch room. The meals are hot, wholesome and well-balanced and at the unbelievable price of 20c. We are justly proud of our lunch room which is self-supporting and serves the best and cheapest meals of any school in Texas. If you don't believe this (and I admit I'm covering lots of territory) come see for yourself. Lunch is served from 11:30 till 1 p.m., every school day and the public is cordially invited to enjoy a delicious meal and inspect our spotless stainless steel kitchen.

There are other reasons to be proud of our school this year. We have the highest rating, the highest scholastic standards and the biggest enrollment in our history, with 14 grade points where most schools of our size offer 26 to 28. We have four years of English, two of foreign language, history, civics. We offer a lot of Math and Science for a school our size—Algebra 1 and 2, General Math, Solid Geometry, Plane Geometry and Trigonometry. We have General Science, Biology, Physics, Chemistry. We have typing, shorthand and bookkeeping for a good business background and our Homemaking and Agriculture departments are above average.

The outstanding leadership of our superintendent, Marvin Schnelle, we are having an educational boom in Bandera, but so many things. Do you know that the government will match anything we put up for education dollars and that we haven't the money to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity? Do you know that we have had many donations to our library—just last week Mr. Owen Smith gave almost his entire library to us—but we have no room. Have you seen it? Do you know that we must have more teachers and more equipment and books to meet the increasing number of youngsters next year?

There is so much we must have and they little money for it. We pay your personal property taxes and your school taxes cheerfully. An educated youth is our best insurance for the future.

BOY SCOUT FUND RAISING CAMPAIGN TO KICK-OFF AT BREAKFAST

To give local people the opportunity to help the Boy Scout program expand, the Alamo Area Council is now sponsoring a fund raising drive.

A. B. Small, Bandera drive chairman, has announced that seven captains will lead teams in contracting residents who may want to make donations. Captains are Harold Brooks, M. M. Green, E. S. Postert, Leroy Sprott, Irwin Stevens, Taylor Wootten, and D. E. Conwill.

Others on special committees are John Gunert, Allen Loverchek, Dr. George Meador, Russell Zickler, J. Burgin Davenport, and Marvin Hay.

These and other volunteers will hold a kick-off breakfast Tuesday, February 23, at 7 a.m. in the Bandera High School cafeteria.

According to Mr. Small, the local campaign is necessary because there is no Community Chest or similar fundraising drive in Bandera. Money raised will be used to support the Alamo Area Council's program, to maintain Indian Creek and Rickenbacker camps and to maintain council and district offices.

The Alamo Area Council serves about 16,000 boys, active in 300 units. Making Scouting possible through their volunteer services in many capacities are 6,024 men and women.

During 1959, Bandera Boy Scout Troop 146 grew from 16 to 30 members, ages 11-15. Cub Scout Pack 146 grew tremendously in the ages 8-11. Their program emphasizes outdoor skills, first-aid training and personal growth.

BANDERA RED CROSS IS COMMENDED BY VETERAN'S ADMINISTRATION

The Bandera American Red Cross Chapter does many fine things during the course of a year to relieve the suffering of needy people as well as to offer hope to aged people and veterans confined in the Veteran's Hospital in Kerrville.

On Sunday, February 14, Mrs. G. M. Merritt, Mrs. A. W. Huseby, Mrs. Lon D. Fisher and Mrs. W. P. Jordan went to the Veteran's Hospital to take cookies to be served during their visiting hours. The Bandera Chapter furnishes cigarettes for the hospitalized veterans every four months, and last Sunday they helped to entertain them during the afternoon.

Having a large tray of cookies left over the ladies came back to Bandera by way of the Medina Children's Home where they left those cookies.

After the ladies returned home Mrs. Merritt, Coffee Hour Chairman, received the following letter of thanks:

"Dear Mrs. Merritt:

"We want to express our sincere appreciation to you, Mrs. Huseby, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Fisher and the membership of the Bandera County Chapter for providing the nice Coffee Hour for our patients on Sunday, February 14th.

Mr. Dumbach of the Special Service Division advised me that many of the patients made comments on the lovely Valentine decorated cakes.

It is always a pleasure to have your groups at our hospital every fourth month to serve our patients. The fact that you must travel some distance for this service makes our patients even more appreciative. Thanks to all of you.

Sincerely yours,
O. N. Shelton, M.D.,
Manager."

Remember the Annual fund drive will be in full force by the local chapter during March.

A TENDERFOOT IN A SHEEP CAMP

By J. Marvin Hunter

It was in the early spring of 1898 that I drifted into Sonora, Texas, and for a month held a job as typesetter on the Devil's Record, while I was a day boarder at Mrs. Traweek's hotel, but later took my meals at Mrs. McDonald's hotel. Mike Murphy was postmaster for the town, and kept the postoffice in the same building where the Devil's River News was printed. The first thing that caught my eye when I arrived in Sonora was the big sign across the top of the News office, which read, "The Devil's Retreat." When I asked Steve Murphy the significance of that sign, he said: "Sure, and ain't it where the Devil prints the News." Mike Murphy was of a quiet, sober turn, while his brother Steve was just the opposite, and was constantly pulling some kind of a joke, frequently very embarrassing to good-natured Mike. Mark Baugh was the typesetter on the Devil's River News, and had been wanting for a long time to take a month's vacation to visit friends in Callahan county, but could not be spared until I came along and relieved him for four weeks, when he set out, on a bicycle, to make the trip. The type for the News was set by hand, and the printing was done on an old Washington hand press which had seen years of service. In fact, the first issue of the San Angelo Standard was printed on that old press, and there is no telling what other papers were printed on it before it was brought to San Angelo, and later to Sonora. Today the old press is in the West Texas Museum at San Angelo, and it can only be used to print a newspaper.

Mark Baugh returned to Del Rio in four weeks, and I found myself without a job. I had a cousin, Boyd Calhoun, living on the Brooks ranch north of Sonora, who had a flock of sheep. As he was running on the range some eight or nine miles west of Sonora, As shearing time approached Mexican herders, whose wages averaged $8 to $10 per month, began to quit their herding jobs and go with shearing crews. In those days all shearing was done by hand, for shearing machines were unknown, and shearers were paid around 4c or 5c per head. A good hand could shear 30, 40 or 50 sheep a day, making from $1.50 to $3 per day clipping the fleece from the sheep's back, which was an inducement to herders to forsake their flocks and join a shearing gang. Sometimes the sheep owners were left in the lurch by the sudden departure of the herder, and during the shearing season good herders were difficult to secure. It so happened that Reed Calhoun found himself in a difficult situation, when his two herders announced that they had joined up with a shearing crew and would leave him "may pronto." His wife was seriously ill on the ranch north of Sonora, and his flocks of sheep went of Sonora to be without hearders.

I had never herded sheep, but to relieve the situation for Calhoun I volunteered my services, and he promptly accepted my offer. Nothing was said about wages, and it mattered little to me whether he paid me anything. Loading up his buckboard with supplies for camp, which included frijoles, (beans), bacon, potatoes, coffee, canned goods, flour, lard, baking powder, and a rimfire .44 calibre Winchester, we set out for the sheep range one afternoon late in April. I had provided myself with a pair of heavy OK shoes and a slicker coat. We arrived in camp after dark, and found one of the Mexican herders had already departed, and the other left that night. The next morning we tallied the sheep in one flock, started them out to graze, and went over in the next draw half a mile or so away and rounded up and tallied the other flock. It was just after lambing time, although a few of the ewes were still dropping late lambs. Calhoun had 700 ewes with some 400 lambs, and about 600 dry sheep, making altogether 1700 head, with the lambs. Up to this time the ewes and lambs had been run in one flock and the dry sheep in another flock, each flock in charge of a Mexican herder. Now the Mexican herders had departed, and as Calhoun must needs be at home with his sick wife, the two flocks were thrown together, and I was to be the herder, an experience wholly new to me, and full of problems. I had set type in a country printing office; had topped fodder in a corn field; had picked cotton in a cotton patch; and had even tried to be a book agent, but here was a different occupation which, though it looked easy, turned out to be the most exasperating, profanity-producing job I had ever undertaken. It did not take me long to learn that an old scabby, snotty-nosed sheep is about the most senseless animal on earth, and that the only proficient herder of the provocative brutes is the Mexican pelado of like intelligence.

Calhoun remained in camp with me three days, going home at night and back by sunrise the next morning, during which time we marked and castrated the new lamb crop, and I got the run of managing the flock. I will not go into detail about marking and castrating those lambs, but every sheepman knows how it is done, especially where the male lamb is held up and the operator has to use his teeth during the slashing process. I learned all about it, and became an expert.

About the middle of May Calhoun brought out a gang of shearers and the sheep were relieved of their heavy coats of wool, and then they were driven to a vat and dipped for scabbies in a strong solution of sulphur, lime and tobacco, after which they were driven back to the range and I had them all under my care again for about four weeks.

As stated above, when I went to the sheep camp I carried along a pair of heavy OK shoes. Old timers will remember the old OK shoes; they were heavily built of thick leather, and the soles were studded with large tacks, in the center of the sole appearing the letters O K made with tacks. A fellow used to light shoes would find his feet weighted with those shoes, but I thought I needed them in walking over the rocks and rough terrain. Calhoun left a horse for me to ride in herding the sheep, but for the first few days I became so lonesome and homesick that I had to turn him loose and take me with me on foot. It was very much like being in jail, and I watched while they were grazing, for if they became scattered it was likely some of them would stray off and be lost. Now, a Mexican herder knows just how to keep the sheep together; if one or two of them started away, from the flock the herder gave a peculiar whistle or made a noise of some kind, and the sheep immediately turned back to the flock. But I did not know this, and on my first day out the flock scattered in all directions, and it was a task to get them rounded up again. The sheep were not penned at night, just bedded down around the camp, and before sun-up they would begin to leave the bedground, and I had to get up early, cook my breakfast, prepare my lunch, and be ready to go by the time the sheep were moving out. About a half mile from my camp was a well of water and a tank and mill, with an earthen tank. I would graze the flock all morning, and toward noon would head them toward the water, when the sheep would "shade up" for an hour or two, seeking the shade of trees and small bushes. This was a welcome period, which I always welcomed. Toward sundown I would start the flock back toward camp, and reaching there would bed them down for the night. I would cook my supper, making enough baking powder biscuits to run through the next day. This bread was cooked in a Dutch oven on the camp fire. While it was baking I would fry strips of salt bacon, potatoes and onions, and would heat water for coffee, as tea was concerned. The next morning I would arise early, fry some more bacon and potatoes, make a pot of coffee, and prepare my noonday lunch. Before leaving camp I would fill a gallon tin bucket about three-fourth full of water, put into it a teacup full of dry beans (frijoles) with a large piece of salt bacon and a few small pods of Mexican pepper, then put on the bucket lid, which had several holes punched in the top to let the steam out. The coals from the camp fire would be raked to one side, and the bucket was set down on the hot ground; then the five coals and ashes were raked up around the bucket and piled up to the top of it, almost burying the bean bucket in the coals and ashes. When I returned to the camp with my flock late that evening my beans were well cooked, with plenty of bean soup, and seasoned and flavored to a queen's taste. If the reader has never tasted beans cooked in this manner I would suggest that it be tried, once anyway. Sometimes, when I had a surplus of beans cooked up and grew tired of eating them this way, I would mash them in a pan and fry them in bacon grease—and that's good too.

It's The Law ... IN TEXAS ...

Everyone Needs Records

Back in pioneer times our forefathers found they could keep track of the family history pretty well with a few notations on the flyleaf of the family Bible. But life's not quite that simple any more. Great-grandpa wasn't covered by social security or workmen's compensation. He didn't have a bank account or safe deposit box, a car and a dozen home appliances being bought on time payment, or a half-dozen insurance policies. We have taxes great-grandpa never heard of and wouldn't have believed if he had. And had you asked him for a certificate to prove his birth, he'd have thought you'd taken leave of your senses.

The point of this is that the average American today has a good many important papers to keep track of. There are birth certificates, receipts, copies of tax returns, sales contracts, and a host of other papers. With a little tidy record-keeping, you can make life easier for yourself and your family when you are gone.

Here are some suggestions:

1. Get a heavily bound notebook folder or file folder as a central collection point for all records of your affairs.

2. Put your especially important papers in your safe deposit box, but make a list of those papers and a brief summary of their contents to put in your home file.

3. Get for your files copies of birth certificates for all members of the family, and add them to the file. Add your marriage license or at least a statement as to when and where you were married and by whom.

4. Insert your will or a copy of it. If your will is kept elsewhere, include a note telling where it may be found.

5. During the year, put into the file your income tax withholding statements and receipts for expenditures which may be deductible. Then keep a copy of each year's tax return in the file.

6. Add to the file the stocks and bonds you own and where they are.

7. List all the places you have lived and worked and the names of persons the ewho you know. Include the schools you have attended and the dates you left or were graduated.

8. If you may have benefits coming under a profit-sharing plan wherever you work, make a note of that too.

9. If you're in doubt about whether an item should be included, put it in.

This takes time initially, but it will save you both time and worry in the long run.

EXEMPTION OF $600 FOR EACH PERSON

"Each taxpayer is entitled to at least one personal exemption of $600 in filing his Federal income tax return for 1959," David W. Sides, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service at San Antonio said today.

He added that a taxpayer who was 65 years or older, or who was blind at the end of '59 is entitled to an extra $600 exemption. If both conditions existed, the taxpayer gets two extra exemptions of $600 each. Identical exemptions for the same conditions apply to his wife when a joint return is filed.

A taxpayer who files a separate return may claim his wife's exemption or exemptions only if she had no income and did not receive more than half her support from another taxpayer. He added that, in determining income in a community property State, such as Texas, the total combined income of husband and wife is considered one-half attributable to each.

If the husband or wife died during 1959, the number of his or her exemptions is determined as of the date of death.

Taxpayers with questions about personal exemptions and other problems will save time by calling the Internal Revenue Service office.

DOC D'SPAIN IN HOSPITAL

Friends here will be glad to know that Doc D'Spain is getting along well now after undergoing a major appendectomy in the Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital in Kerrville last Saturday. His friends here wish for him a speedy recovery.

Prospects for a dam on the Rio Grande, near Del Rio, advanced last week with three days of hearings on my bill to authorize the project. The Diablo, or Amistad, dam would be built just below the confluence of the Devils river and the Rio Grande.

Popular interest in the project was evidenced by 17 witnesses from the Del Rio area, plus a greater number from Eagle Pass, Laredo and the lower valley.

Citing the loss of many lives (around 200) in the 1954 flood and the high annual flood damage losses on the river, I urged the committee to approve the conclusion of negotiations with Mexico which would lead to early construction. My bill was strongly endorsed by President Eisenhower in his annual budget message to Congress last month.

BROWNIES WILL HAVE FATHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

Bandera Brownie Troop No. 1 will hold its Father and Daughter Banquet at the Chicken Shack Corral Room, on Tuesday, February 23, at 7:00 p.m.

The banquet gives the fathers an opportunity to participate in the Brownie activities which normally are confined to women leaders. This is one of the big social events of the year and the Brownies certainly look forward to showing off their Dads.

The regular Brownie program is set up with a troop meeting every second and fourth Tuesday of each month. The Brownies have already enjoyed several hikes, had a weiner roast and have some very interesting handicraft programs.

Near the end of school year the Troop is planning a big family picnic "get-together."

Anyone interested in working with the Brownies should contact Mrs. J. B. Edwards or Mrs. R. L. Zickler so that more girls may have the opportunity of participating in this very worthwhile program.

VOLUNTEERS PLAN SCOUT CAMPAIGN

Thirteen local volunteers met with Floyd Harriman, district Boy Scout executive, at a pre-kickoff breakfast at the Chicken Shack Saturday morning to plan the Boy Scout fund raising campaign.

Drive chairman A. B. Small led the meeting and helped team captains select lists of prospective donors.

At the meeting were Harold Brooks, D. E. Conwill, M. M. Green, John Gumert, Allen Levercheck, A. B. Lewis, Dr. George Meador, E. J. Postert, Leroy Sprott and Irwin Stevens. Also present were two members of Boy Scout Troop 146, Harold Brooks, Jr., and Johnny Heinen.

BANDERA GIRLS CONTINUE WINNING WAYS

Last Thursday, February 11, the Bandera girls took their 8th district win when they downed Southside 48-32. The win, which assured the girls of no less than a tie for the district championship, was a nip and tuck affair until the final period in which the girls pulled away for keeps. Rose Stricker gained scoring laurels for the evening with 23 points. Lu Langham was credited with 12, and Cathy Anderwald lit the scoreboard for 3 points.

ATTENTION ALL 4-H CLUB MEMBERS

The 4-H club members awards party will be held Monday, February 22, at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Bandera Public School. A barbecue plate will be served to all 4-H club members, both boys and girls, their parents or guardians and invited guests. After the meal is served, the awards for 1959 work will be presented and a film will be shown by Bill McReynolds of his trip to South America; this includes farming and scenery and is both educational and interesting.

Some individuals have been asked to bring beans, or potato salad; if you have not been contacted individually and asked to bring some item of food, please bring cookies.

The meat for this occasion is to be bought by donations from W. W. Cardwell, The First State Bank, The First National Bank, Bandera Ranchmen and Farmers Association and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.

We hope to see all 4-H Club members and their parents attend.

Women officers represented National Bank of Commerce, Union State Bank, National Bank of Fort Sam Houston, Highland Park State Bank, Federal Reserve Bank, Alamo National Bank, all of San Antonio; First State Bank of Jarrell; Texas State Bank of Austin; First Hutchings Sealy National Bank of Galveston, First National Bank of Refugio, Bank of Cabot, Cabot, Arkansas; and First National Bank of Bandera.

The invocation was given by Rev. Victor Schmiltziqky, Pastor of St. Stanislaus Church, and the welcome address by Mrs. Frank Krueger, Cashier, First National Bank. Mrs. Sue Park spoke on the meaning and purpose of the association. Frank Montague, Jr., introduced the guest speaker, Bill J. Henry, Vice-President of the Texas National Bank of Houston. BANDERA GIRLS CROWNED DISTRICT 27-A CHAMPS

Tuesday night, in Bandera gym, history was made. The Bandera girls basketball team became district champs for the first time in six years. The girls defeated the tough Southwest Dragonettes by a margin of 53-41. In their first meeting earlier in the year the girls barely eeked out a two point decision over the Dragonettes at San Antonio. Rose Stricker again proved "Johnny on the spot", as she blistered the nettings by registering 27 opints. Cathy Anderwald found the range for an additional 16 and Lu Langham bucketed 10 points. The girls played a great game, worthy of the big crowd attending. The girls would like to say "thanks" for your support at their games and would also like to recommend a good following to the game tonight with Schertz Cibolo. The girls are expecting a real rough game against Schertz. Even if the girls lose the game tonight, they remain district champs, but would still give them your support and help them remain undefeated. The girls have a game with East Central of San Antonio, champs of their respective district this coming Tuesday at the local gym. This is a practice encounter, in order that the girls might prepare for their district bout against the champs of District 28A, presumably Dilley.

Little Dottie Jo Schoenfeldt of San Antonio spent a few days here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Judd Clark, last week.

BANDERA HAS OUTSTANDING BOOTH AT SAN ANTONIO STOCK SHOW

One of the most beautiful and outstanding booths at the San Antonio Stock Show this week is the Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers Association booth in the International Wool and Mohair show. The lovely exhibit was designed and arranged by Mrs. Bill Short and Mrs. Ray F. Wyatt from exquisite fabrics handwoven from the Three Weavers of Houston, Texas. Soft Woolens and Mohair fabrics were shown in blankets and other versatile fabrics. The artistry of the exhibit was excellent and Banderans are proud of the beautiful display.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mansfield went to San Antonio Tuesday evening to help their grandson, Craig Henderson, celebrate his 12th birthday. We join Craig's friends and relatives in wishing him many more happy birthdays. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Henderson of San Antonio.

BROWNIES WILL HAVE FATHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

Bandera Brownie Troop No. 1 will hold its Father and Daughter Banquet at the Chicken Shack, Corral Room, on Tuesday, February 23, at 7:00 p.m.

The banquet gives the fathers an opportunity to participate in the Brownie activities which normally are confined to women leaders. This is one of the big social events of the year and the Brownies certainly look forward to showing off their Dads.

The regular Brownie program is set up with a troop meeting every second and fourth Tuesday of each month. The Brownies have already enjoyed several hikes, had a weiner roast and have some very interesting handicraft programs.

Near the end of school year the Troop is planning a big family picnic "get-together."

Anyone interested in working with the Brownies should contact Mrs. J. B. Edwards or Mrs. R. L. Zickler so that more girls may have the opportunity of participating in this very worthwhile program.

VOLUNTEERS PLAN SCOUT CAMPAIGN

Thirteen local volunteers met with Floyd Harriman, district Boy Scout executive, at a pre-kickoff breakfast at the Chicken Shack Saturday morning to plan the Boy Scout fund raising campaign.

Drive chairman A. B. Small led the meeting and helped team captains select lists of prospective donors.

At the meeting were Harold Brooks, D. E. Conwill, M. M. Green, John Gumert, Allen Lovercheck, A. B. Lewis, Dr. George Meador, E. J. Postert, Leroy Sprott and Irwin Stevens. Also present were two members of Boy Scout Troop 146, Harold Brooks, Jr., and Johnny Heinen.

BANDERA GIRLS CONTINUE WINNING WAYS

Last Thursday, February 11, the Bandera girls took their 8th district win when they downed Southside 48-32. The win, which assured the girls of no less than a tie for the district championship, was a nip and tuck affair until the final period in which the girls pulled away for keeps. Rose Stricker gained scoring laurels for the evening with 23 points. Lu Langham was credited with 12, and Cathy Anderwald lit the scoreboard for 3 points.

ATTENTION ALL 4-H CLUB MEMBERS

The 4-H club members awards party will be held Monday, February 22, at 6:30 p.m., in the cafeteria of the Bandera Public School. A barbecue plate will be served to all 4-H club members, both boys and girls, their parents or guardians and invited guests. After the meal is served, the awards for 1959 work will be presented and a film will be shown by Bill McReynolds of his trip to South America; this includes farming and scenery and is both educational and interesting.

Some individuals have been asked to bring beans, or potato salad; if you have not been contacted individually and asked to bring some item of food, please bring cookies.

The meet for this occasion is to be bought by donations from W. W. Cardwell, The First State Bank, The First National Bank, Banders Ranchmen and Farmers Association and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.

We hope to see all 4-H Club members and their parents attend.

BANDERA GIRLS CROWNED DISTRICT 27-A CHAMPS

Tuesday night, in Bandera gym, history was made. The Bandera girls basketball team became district champs for the first time in six years. The girls defeated the tough Southwest Dragonettes by a margin of 53-41. In their first meeting earlier in the year the girls barely eeked out a two point decision over teh Dragonettes at San Antonio. Rose Stricker again proved "Johnny on the spot", as she blistered the nettings by registering 27 points. Cathy Anderwald found the range for an additional 16 and Lu Langham bucketed 10 points. The girls played a great game, worthy of the big crowd attending. The girls would like to say "thanks" for your support at the games and would also like to recommend a good following to the game to-night with Schertz Cibolo. The girls are expecting a real rough game against Schertz. Even if the girls lose the game tonight, they remain district champs, but nevertheless give them your support and help them remain undefeated. The girls have a game with East Central of San Antonio, champs of their respective district this coming Tuesday at the local gym. This is a practice encounter, in order that the girls might prepare for their bi-district bout against the champs of District 28-A presumably Dilley.

Little Dottie Jo Schoenfeldt of San Antonio spent a few days here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Judd Clark, last week.

The fire in the rear of the building was well underway when it was discovered and the speedy work of the Bandera Volunteer Fire Department saved the entire building from going up in flames. Tarpley

Mrs. John G. James

Friends and relatives gathered at the Plummer Funeral Home in Bandera and at the Tarpley Cemetery last Friday afternoon to pay their last respects to Mrs. Hope Dean, a beloved pioneer mother of this section who had made her home in the Tarpley community for more than half a century. Since the death of her husband in 1950, Aunt Molly or Granny Dean, as she was affectionately called by many of the younger folks, had made her home with her children here in Bandera county, at Kerrville, or at D'Hanis. For several months now she had lived with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dean, at D'Hanis. When she became ill last Wednesday, she was carried to the hospital in Hondo where she was called to her Eternal Home early last Thursday morning. Granny Dean will be greatly missed by all those who loved her so well, but her memory will live in our hearts for years to come and her Christian influence will endure for generations. One of the happiest days of Granny Dean's life was the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary in April of 1950, only a few months before Mr. Dean passed away. We recall that on that joyous occasion, with her children, grandchildren, and friends present, Granny Dean paused amid the merriment of the day to offer praise to her Lord by repeating the 23rd Psalm from memory. As long as she was physically able to do so, she regularly attended the Primitive Baptist church, of which she was a devout member. It can truly be said that Granny Dean was a devoted wife, a loving and understanding mother and grandmother, and a wonderful friend who believed in God and tried to live her life and rear her family in a manner that was pleasing to Him. To those who mourn her passing, we would offer our heartfelt sympathy and we pray that God will comfort them.

Dr. Dossman and his wife and children, accompanied by their guests, spent the week-end here at the R. N. Dossman ranch.

Friends are happy to have Milton Purvis back home and are glad to see him up and out again after spending several weeks at the Veterans Administration Hospital near Kerrville.

Mrs. Rose W. Scogin has returned home from Pasadena Sunday after spending last week there with her daughter, Mrs. Jimmy Orr, and Mrs. A. (Buddy) Norwood and children, Kathy and Randy. Mrs. Schmidt returned home with six grandchildren when they were here to attend the funeral of his father, Henry Norwood, of Hondo.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie James and daughter, Minneana, of Bandera, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Mickelsen, and Uncle Jim Berkeland last Sunday afternoon. They also enjoyed a visit in the home of Mrs. A. A. Jeffers Sunday evening.

Mrs. M. B. Padgett returned home from San Antonio last Thursday after spending several days there last week with the Felix Newcomer family. We are happy to report that Mr. Newcomer is recovering nicely following surgery and expected to be released from the hospital last Friday.

Our congratulations and best wishes to David Burger, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Burger of Medina, who celebrated his tenth birthday last Saturday, February 20th. Relatives from Tarpley who went to the Burger home at Medina last Saturday night to help David celebrate the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Buster Schmidt and daughter, Brenda Sue, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Schmidt, and A. A. Fritz. Other relatives present were Woody Schmidt and sons, Tommy and Billy, of Medina. We join in wishing David many more very happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove and children, Marian, Richard, and Billy, of Hondo, were here Sunday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hohenberger, Sr., and friends at Tarpley. It is always nice to see the Hargroves and have them back in our community even if it is only for a short while.

M/Sgt. and Mrs. John Witt and son, John Jeffery, of Inckland Air Force Base, spent Monday here visiting with Mrs. A. A. Jeffers and son, Lynn.

Friends here will be pleased to learn that Archie Graham has improved somewhat after suffering a stroke at his home in Sabinal several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Padgett and son, Bob, visited Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Burger and family at Horse Valley Ranch above Medina Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mike Moravietz of Bandera visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hohenberger, Sr., Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Richards attended the Stock Show and Rodeo in San Antonio Sunday.

Alton Wood, who is employed with the Southern Pacific Railroad at Fort Hancock, Texas, spent the week-end here with his family and returned to Fort Hancock Monday.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Jesse Burger of Medina, and former resident of Tarpley, has been ill this week suffering with back injuries. We hope Mrs. Burger will soon be well and feeling fine again.

Mrs. Milton Anderson, Mrs. Arthur Erfurt and children, Ella Mae and Artie, visited Mrs. Charles Geuss, Grandma Elms, and other relatives in Hondo Saturday.

We extend our best wishes for a speedy recovery to Mrs. Buddy Adams of Bandera who underwent major surgery in the Nix hospital in San Antonio on February 15th. Mrs. Adams will be remembered here as the former Miss Minnie Hohenberger.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Murry and daughters of San Antonio were here Saturday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Billings. Their twin daughters, Joan and Jean, remained for a longer visit with their grandparents.

Miss Judy Mueller entertained her friends with a delightful barn dance at the Mueller Ranch Saturday night.

Again, we wish to thank each of you who have been so helpful by turning in your news each weeks. This is your column and we are always happy to print any news you have. If you do not have the opportunity to see me and give me your news, Mrs. A. A. Jeffers will be happy to take it and she will send it to me.

BUSSES CARRY 213 DAILY

Buses of the Bandera Independent School District haul 213 students daily, according to Marvin C. Schnelle, superintendent. The largest number hauled on one bus is 56 from the Medina Lake area. The six approved bus routes are over 489 miles. The school has 8 busses, leaving two spare vehicles for emergencies and for special school activities. O. W. Mullenax keeps the busses in good running condition by checking them daily in the school bus shop. He also drives a bus. Other drivers are: Leonard Hyde, Leroy Nowlin, Elmer Heinen, Charles Webber, and Charles Maruvek.

Mrs. Irving Stevens and her daughter, Gayle, have been on the sick list this week. We hope they will soon be feeling fine again.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. It is a book that will be loved by thousands of many people you know personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

"CORVAIR HANDLES BETTER, STEERS MORE EASILY, RESPONDS MUCH MORE QUICKLY AND HOLDS THE ROAD MORE SECURELY THAN ANY STOCK FOUR-DOOR SEDAN EVER MADE IN THE U.S." —Jim Whipple, Car Life

If you think we're enthusiastic about Corvair, leaf through the leading automotive, sports and science magazines and see what the experts are saying. Then, by all means, drive one yourself.

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation." —Karl Ludvigsen, Sports Cars Illustrated

"Steers like a feather and is extremely quick. . . . This is a beautifully designed automobile, engineered by real pros. . . ." —Tom McCahill, Mechanix Illustrated

"Most surprising thing to me outside of the excellent handling characteristics was the feeling of roominess inside. . . . I didn't have the sensation of driving a small car and the headroom was greater in the Corvair than in some standard size cars. . . ." —L. H. Houck, Automotive News

"So far as shopping goes, the Corvair is a housewife's dream. It's small and easily maneuvered without any power steering, and so easily parked . . . it's a lot easier to unload a cart full of groceries into a front trunk at the supermarket than it is into a rear one." —Rosemary Francis, Popular Science

"I want to state as firmly as I can that the Corvair handles as beautifully and is as safe as—if not safer than—any family car on the road today." —Jim Whipple, Car Life

"There is none of the typical whine normally associated with rear-engined vehicles. Inside the car, the effect is quite unlike anything we have ever experienced. It almost seems that there is no engine, and the general effect is so quiet as to be almost uncanny." —John R. Bond, Road & Track

"No written word can suffice for the genuine pleasure that you will receive behind the wheel of America's newest and most advanced contribution to transportation. . . . It is a great car." —Don Stewart, Motor Life

BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

CONSERVATION • DEVELOPMENT • SELF-GOVERNMENT

Dan Tschirhart has begun construction of a cross-fence on his ranch near Medina Lake. This cross-fence, which is approximately one and one-quarter mile long, will divide his place into two pastures of nearly equal size. Completion of the fence is the first step of Tschirhart's ranch conservation plan toward his goal of range improvement. The two pastures he will create will allow him to set up a rest-rotation system on his rangeland. This deferment of his pasture combined with several hundred acres of brush control are planned to bring about grazing recovery, that could not be achieved while the place was all in one pasture. The cross-fencing, deferred grazing and brush control are range conservation practices that Tschirhart determined were needed for his place while developing his basic conservation plan in cooperation with the Bandera SCD. Cost of the construction of the cross-fence is being shared with Tschirhart by the Bandera County Agricultural Conservation Program.

Conservation jobs for the month of March are:

1. Construct cross-fence.
2. Seed or sod waterways and dam spillways.
3. Ring or girdle dense stands of oak or elm in bottomland pastures.
4. Fertilize ponds to control moss and increase fish.
5. [illegible] in planted areas such as Chilean, Red Peas,

More landowners in the Bandera SCD are seeing the benefits of brush control as a tool to range management. Henry Allen and R. L. Walker, of Medina and Jack Focke of Privilege Creek, are three cooperators with the Bandera SCD who are working on, or have recently completed brush clearing. Brush control now, followed by a growing season deferrment will increase grass production, and in some cases may double production on a pasture. The Bandera ACP has funds available for brush control work in the District and encourages ranchers to take part in this program.

A federal charter was given to the Boy Scouts of America in 1916 by Congress.

Brucellosis Testing

Many questions have been asked concerning the time that testing would start in Bandera County. The County Agent contacted John Williams, a member of the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission, to find out where testing was being done at the present time. Only one Laboratory is in operation at the present time. It is in Coleman County now and testing is taking longer than they anticipated, although they are working rapidly. Farmers and ranchers will be notified when the men from the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission arrive to start testing in the county. Farmers and ranchers will also be contacted when the testing will be done on their ranch. It is impossible to tell when the testing will start. The laboratory for the testing of the blood samples will probably be set up at the Bandera Agriculture Center. Blood samples will be taken on the ranches.

INDIAN WATERS H. D. CLUB

The Indian Waters H. D. Club met in the home of Mrs. Ray Wyatt on February 18th with just four club members, our agent, Mrs. Stevens, and two guests present. The meeting was called to order by the club standing and repeating the club prayer. Mrs. Pue then introduced our guest, Mrs. M. R. Sandidge and Mrs. Gatlin Merritt. The roll was called and answered by "My favorite Proverb."

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the treasurer's report given. Mrs. Pue gave the council report in absence of Mrs. Jordan, the Council delegate. Under new business Mrs. Ray Wyatt was elected delegate to the THDA District meeting in Llano, and voted to support a member from another club for THDA chairman.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Stevens who gave an interesting demonstration on how to clean and redecorate old hats, also gave information as to where frames could be bought, trimmings and all hat making material if any one interested in making hats. She also passed around pictures of new hats, seems that any shape that is becoming will be in style but the latest trend seems to run to high crowns with heavy trimmings of flowers, fruit or bows.

Drawing for the club prize of a box of soap was won by Mrs. Hensley, who will furnish the prize for the next meeting. Mrs. Wyatt served a pretty red heart Jello dessert, with Angel food cake and coffee to Mrs. Judy Pue, Thelma Hayes, Lynell Hensley, Pauline Stevens and the guest, Eleanor Merritt and Linnie Sandidge. The next meeting will be March 17th with Minnie Hayes as hostess.

The Privilege Creek Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. John Heinen on Friday of last week, with nine members and six visitors, Mrs. L. J. Edwards present. The meeting was opened with the club prayer. Ten ladies answered roll call with "my favorite proverb." The minutes of the last month's meeting were read, corrected and approved and the treasurer's report was given which included the club fund and the THDA fund. Mrs. Stevens gave a brief explanation of the THDA and its purpose. The club selected Mrs. Loney Nesky as a delegate to the Llano meeting and Mrs. Stevens, H. D. BANDERA COUNCIL ENTERTAINS DISTINGUISHED GUESTS

The Bandera County Home Demonstration Council had its February meeting on Monday, February 22, in the Library Building in Bandera.

The meeting opened with the THDA prayer, followed by the introduction of Miss Bonnie Cox and Miss Thelma Casey of the Extension Service. Other guests included Mrs. Margie Williams, Kerr County Home Demonstration Agent, and ten ladies from Kerr County. We were very happy to have these visitors, and hope that they will visit with us again.

Following the roll call, reading of the minutes of the January 26 meeting, and the treasurer's report, a discussion followed regarding the possibility of an annual awards dinner for all 4-H Club members of the county some time in the late summer. Plans will be worked out at a later date for this event. Ten dollars was donated to the 4-H Clubs to help with the expenses of the Awards Dinner which was held Monday night.

Miss Bonnie Cox, the Organization Specialist for the Extension Service from College Station, gave a very interesting and informative talk which will be very beneficial to all of us. Miss Cox has a very pleasing manner, and those who heard her talk are very fortunate.

Miss Casey, the District Agent for District 7, spoke briefly urging us to live up to the rules and procedures outlined by Miss Cox, and to remember our responsibility to our individual clubs in thoroughly reporting the work of the Council to them.

Following adjournment of the Council meeting, Mrs. G. M. McGregor, with THDA chairman of Bandera County, conducted an election for delegates to attend the District meeting in Llano on April 12, and for a new THDA County Chairman. Mrs. John MacNaughton was elected, and will take office in late September, following the state meeting.

Refreshments of coffee and cookies were enjoyed by all.

A COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP

If 1956 Congress granted a federal charter to the Boy Scouts of America stating that its purpose "shall be to promote, through organization and cooperation with other agencies, the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues . . ."

Since 1910 more than 29,500,000 boys and leaders have been identified with the Boy Scouts of America. Today there are 3,555,000 boys active in its ranks aided by 1,130,000 adults whose service as volunteer leaders is helping build the future leaders of our country.

Scouting has woven itself into the very fabric of the nation.

It is in partnership with the home, the school, the church, and other institutions responsible for the proper guidance and education of the boys and young men of the community. Every Scout unit is sponsored by a school, church or synagogue, civic group, farm, labor, or business organization, or by a responsible group of citizens representing the community as a whole.

The local council of the Boy Scouts under the leadership of its president, Peter J. Hennessey, is chartered by the National Council of the organization to maintain conditions so that any boy, if he so desires, may enjoy the game of Scouting.

The Alamo Area Council, serving 15 counties and 47 communities of Southwest Texas has launched its drive for funds to continue to provide an enterprising program, trained volunteer leadership and professional qualified leadership. It's 3 great camps.

The Scouting program benefits the entire community and is worthy of our best support. Give generously.

BANDERA'S DISTRICT CHAMPS DOWNED BY SCHERTZ

On Friday, February 19, the Bandera girls, already crowned champs of District 28-AA, journeyed to Schertz to battle in district play by Schertz-Cibolo 42-33. However the loss had no bearing as far as championship was concerned since the locals were two games ahead of their nearest rivals going into the final league game of the year. Bandera ended the conference campaign sporting a nine and one record. In falling to the Buffs, Rose Stricker swished the netters for 15 points, Lalangham bucketed an additional 12, while Cathy Anderwald tallied 6 points.

BANDERA GIRLS DEFEATED BY EAST CENTRAL

Tuesday night the Bandera girls played District 28-AA champs, East Central of San Antonio in Bandera. This was just a practice game for both teams as they both will play their regional playoffs in about a week.

The Bandera girls were ahead at the end of the second quarter after a hot first half of fast playing. But in the second half the East Central girls really came alive and finished with the score 52-38. Rose Stricker was again high man in scoring with 17 points. Lu Langham was close behind with 13, and Cathy Anderwald made good for 8.

The girls play one more prep game before the regional play-off in Dilley. This will be with Utopia who are also district champs of their district.

On Saturday, February 20, Mrs. Maurela traveled to Devine to meet the coach from Dilley. The object of the meeting was to decide on a place to play the regional bout between the two teams. Dilley won the coin flip therefore setting the play-off to be held in Dilley, Tuesday, March 1, at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is urged to come out and support the girls in their all-important game.

A TENDERFOOT IN A SHEEP CAMP

By J. Marvin Hunter

Many amusing, as well as thrilling, incidents happened while I was the chief major domo in that sheep camp, out there by myself in that vast solitude where only the howl of the coyote and the bleating of sheep broke the stillness of the night. For a few nights I heard the screams of a panther, and missed several sheep, muttons during his stay in that vicinity. The camp, which had to be moved every few days, was finally located on a sloping hillside. My bed was spread on the ground near the camp fire, within a few yards of the flock. My bedding consisted of a large, heavy tarpaulin, which was spread full length. A couple of quilts and a blanket were spread on one end of the tarpaulin, and the other end of this "tarp" was brought up over the bed. It could be tucked about the bedding in such a way that no matter how hard it rained the bedding was kept dry. One night, just after I had crawled into my snug bed, I felt something moving across the foot. It suddenly stopped and remained there, and I could feel its weight on my feet. Thinking it was one of the obnoxious little hydrophobia skunks that insist on getting in bed with a camper, I remained perfectly still for some time. But as he did not leave, I eased out of bed, threw some dry cedar brush on my dying camp fire, and got ready for a battle with the intruder. It turned to be a large rattlesnake, about five feet long, and rather musically inclined, for as soon as he was disturbed by my sudden execution of the bed he began his shivering serenade. I dispatched him with a cedar limb, and dragged him out of camp. But I could not sleep well after the battle, for every time I dozed off I began to dream that that rattlesnake had a mate somewhere in the vicinity that was just awaiting the chance to bite me while I was asleep. The next day I moved my camp again.

One night a pale moon shown down on my sleeping flock, and I was just about ready to yield to my drowsiness, when suddenly the whole flock arose as one sheep and rushed past the camp. I jumped out of bed, grabbed my winchester, and peered into the darkness in the direction from whence the flock came, and by the light of the pale moon I could discern the outline of a dark form, standing perfectly still. I knew it was a large timber wolf, for I had been told there were some in that vicinity. I raised my gun and fired, and the object fell kicking. I rushed to it, and found that I had killed the only black sheep in my flock. Next morning I had fresh mutton for breakfast.

With the coming of warm weather many kinds of poisonous insects appeared: scorpions, centipedes, vinegaroons, and tarantulas. The scorpion's sting was very painful, as I learned several times while gathering dead wood for my camp fire. The tarantula, which is a very large spider, sometimes measured seven or eight inches across when spread out, but it's bite is not fatal to human beings. The centipede, which possesses twelve or fifteen legs, and grows to be seven or eight inches long, is a repulsive looking insect, and greatly dreaded by the Mexicans, for it is believed that there is no antidote for its bite, or sting, whatever it may be called. It does not bite, nor does it sting, the wounds it inflicts are made with a sharp claw on each foot. I knew a sheepherder who told me about being attacked by a centipede, which had fastened its numbers in his flesh.

One afternoon, during the 'shade up' period, I lay down under a bush and dropped off to sleep, while the sheep were taking their rest. When I awoke I felt something crawling on my face. Thinking it was an insect, I brushed it away, and went to sleep again. Then I saw it was a scorpion. Most of those I had seen were small, but this one was large, and I knew that when I lived [illegible] stinging, terrifying experience. [illegible] scar[illegible] me. I had no medicine of any kind in camp, but I hastily made a fire, heated some water and bathed the rapidly swelling arm. I had used up all of my supply of table soda, but as I had a full can of Royal baking powder, I plastered my arm with the baking powder, which "drew" almost instant relief. Within thirty minutes the pain was gone, and there remained a numbness of the flesh. I went back to my flock, and late that evening I brought the sheep to the bed ground. After eating my supper I washed my arm with hot salt water. The swelling was almost gone, but the numbness remained. There were a number of tiny holes in the flesh where the claws of the insect had entered. I cut a leaf from a prickly pear bush, split it open and scraped out the pulp. This pulp I spread over the folds of a handkerchief and bound the poultice on my arm. The next morning all swelling was gone, the numbness had disappeared, and only the tiny marks resembling pin pricks remained. I have often heard that the poison injected by these vicious insects would cause the flesh to rot away from the wounds they inflict, but this notion was disproved in my case. Anyway, it was a harrowing experience, and ever since it happened the centipede has been a loathsome creature to me."

As soon as my cousin's wife recovered sufficiently from her illness to be out of danger, he joined me in the sheep camp. I welcomed him most heartily, despite the fact that I was feeling rather bad about the loss of some fifty head of sheep which had disappeared during the time I had been herding the flock. Some were caught by wolves and the panther mentioned above, and some had strayed off. He rode for a day or two rustling the lost sheep and recovered thirty-five head. As shearing operations were about over two Mexicans came into camp one day wanting a herding job, and I was glad to offer them mine. My cousin then asked me what wages were due me. I told him I had been well paid in experience and that we would call everything even. But that did not suit him. He said: "You have been worth more to me than I am able to pay. I know you are homesick, and want to go back home. It is just 125 miles from here to Mason. I am giving you a horse, saddle and bridle, and here's $10 for expense money. All of this is for your sheep-herding. And the next time I get in such a jam I will be calling for you." The next morning I set out for home.

Reed Calhoun was a real Texas man. He had been deprived of an education when he was a child, but after he grew to manhood he went to school to my father several terms, and afterwards secured a second grade certificate to teach school. He taught in Mason county several years. In 1888 he married Miss Ella Sanders at Menardville. In 1892 he bought a few sheep and moved out into the Sonora country. When the panic hit in 1893, wool went down in price to five cents per pound, and hundreds of sheepmen went broke, but Reed Calhoun managed somehow to hang on, and with the return of good times he succeeded in the sheep business fairly well. In 1899 he sold his sheep and embarked in the mercantile business at Sheffield, on the Pecos. Later he moved to California, and died there some twenty years ago. His wife has also passed away.

One day a white man came to my camp and wanted to spend a few days with me. Said his name was Pipkin. I made him welcome, and he helped with the flock some, but all of the time he was there I had a feeling that he was a fugitive from justice, for he was very guarded in his talk, and carried concealed on his person a Colt's .45 pistol. He remained with me two days, and left me late one evening. I never saw him again. Later I learned that he was Thurman Baldwin, alias "Skeeter," a member of the notorious Bill Cook gang in Oklahoma. He was shortly afterward captured by the Texas Rangers, and sent to the penitentiary for thirty years.

After spending several weeks at home in Mason I went back to the Sonora country, and worked on the Devil's River News for Mike and Steve Murphy, their printer, Mark Baugh, having gone to College Station to enter A. & M. College. Baugh died in San Antonio with influenza in 1918. Mike Murphy married Miss Jay Hagerdon in Sonora, and they moved to Del Rio, where Murphy died. Steve Murphy married Miss Dovie Bivet, of Sonora, and he died about [illegible] years ago. [illegible] Sonora when I lived there was a lively town, which had factories for making gloves and mittens, and also a cotton factory. Both of these factories were run by water power, which had been developed by a dam across the South Fork of the Sonora river. The dam, gloves and mittens were all swept away by the flood of 1900, which I helped to survive. I [illegible] befriended me, and were my friends, were Sam Stoked, Charlie Adamson, Charlie Lee, Billy Schuessberry, S. Lewestad, Uncle Billie Frank. Fields, T. D. Newell, Charlie Collins, and N. H. Rose. I believe they have all joined the "silent majority," except my lifelong friend, Noah Rose, who is now living in San Antonio, and Charlie Collins, who is living in Prescott, Arizona.

Our WASHINGTON Letter
By Congressman O. C. FISHER

While the Senate argued over the issue of Civil Rights or Civil Wrongs, the House coasted along with annual appropriation bills last week, and maintenance of peace on the civil rights issue in early March.

The House debate will begin on March 10, and a bill is certain of passage, though probably milder than the Senate version. It all boils down to the big stick for the Executive in civil rights. While all sorts of pretensions are advanced, every one knows what the real objective is. At odd moments most politicians will admit that special laws are not needed for any minority group, be it racial, religious or otherwise. But not so on election years.

In Washington last week as one of four delegates to a national Citizenship Seminar sponsored by the Methodist Church, was Miss Sue Mims, director of the Elton Mims of Water Valley. Miss Mims a student at Texas Tech, also visited the United Nations in New York, spent several days in Washington where briefings by State and Defense Department experts were given.

Other visitors included Joe R. Andrews of Merriton and Rex Lowe of Sonora, both en route from the Atlantic City annual convention of School Administrators back to their respective high schools.

Chas. Schreiner III, Vice-President of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers, was allowed only a half-hour between trains in Washington as he passed through on the annual "Swift Tour," a trip sponsored each year by Swift and Co., to eastern markets, stockyards, packing plants, and the like. The group is by invitation, made up of leaders in livestock circles from all over the nation.

Another visitor was Roscoe K. Carter of San Saba, who reported on the good rains and good prospects in San Saba County. Describing it as being "deep in the very heart of Texas," the San Saba County Chamber of Commerce recently sent me an attractive brochure from "the Pecan Capitol of the World."

BULLDOG QUINTET BOWLS OVER SOUTHSIDE, 71-44

The Bandera Bulldogs spotted the Southside Cardinals an early 10-0 lead but then came to life to down the shorter San Antonio quintet 71-44 in a District 27-A tilt Thursday night at the loser's gym. After a close first half, the Bulldogs got hot following intermission and range the scoreboard for 44 points to turn the game into a riot.

Chuck Jones and Earl Keese carried most of the scoring burden as the two registered a total of 44 points. Jones, whose jump shot couldn't miss, swished the nettings for 24 points and individual scoring honors. Keese, the back-court ace of the locals, sent 20 points through the hoops. In rounding out the Bulldog offensive, Ernest Schlaboer tallied 11 points and Roger Poe and Kenneth Kalka contributed 8 points each.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Negotiable Instruments

Suppose that Mrs. Housewife wants to buy a vacuum cleaner. She may not have the $100 or so required to pay for the appliance. The salesman will probably ask her to sign a negotiable promissory note, perhaps payable in a series of monthly installments. When Mrs. Housewife signs the note, the salesman will give her a cleaner. The cleaner company in turn will probably sell the note to a bank or commercial credit company.

Thus, Mrs. Housewife has the cleaner, the cleaner company has funds with which to do business, and the bank holds the promise of Mrs. Housewife to pay a sum of money. The bank, of course, will pay to the cleaner company something less than the face value of the note. The difference is the gross profit that the bank will earn on the transaction.

If the cleaner turns out to be defective, and contrary to the representation made by the salesman, an interesting problem arises.

Mrs. Housewife may feel that she is not legally obligated to pay the note, until some adjustment is made with regard to the cleaner. However, the law of negotiable instruments requires that Mrs. Housewife must pay the face value of the note plus any interest to the bank in spite of the defect in the merchandise. At least such results follow if the bank has taken the note under these circumstances.

Mrs. Housewife certainly has the right to a cleaner in the condition represented, or damages resulting from the defect. But Mrs. Housewife must pursue these remedies against the cleaner company or the salesman. The fact that the merchandise is defective cannot be used as a defense against the bank on the note.

Whenever Mrs. Housewife signs a promissory note or other negotiable instrument, she should ask only the person who actually holds the note. For example, if Mrs. Housewife had paid the cleaner company at the end of the 30-day period, the bank, as holder of the note, could none the less collect from her.

Checks, drafts, promissory notes, and bills of exchange, are types of negotiable instruments. They are in effect, unconditional promises to pay a definite sum of money to the bearer or endorsee of the instrument in a fixed or determinable time. Their use dates back to about 1600 in England.

This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.

THE ELECTRIC CO-OP MEANS so MUCH
TO RURAL TEXANS

It would be difficult to count the blessings the electric cooperatives have brought, and impossible to list them in order. For how can you choose between running water, or electric lights, or refrigeration, not to mention literally hundreds of home appliances and work saving devices.

But there's no argument that rural Texas is a far better place to live because of the member-owned electric cooperatives that are paying their way with interest.

The Electric Cooperatives of Texas borrowed money to build their own electric systems. And they are paying back principle and interest with honesty and industry, while providing PARTNERSHIP POWER FOR PROGRESS.

FUTURE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

On February 17, 1960, the FTA had their monthly meeting. Earl Keese, the president, opened the meeting. After reading of the minutes of the previous meeting the question of affiliation of the local association with the state association was discussed.

The movie, "Doctor, Lawyer, Merchant, Teacher," was well received by the group of future teachers. It was a very interesting film. It stressed the influence and the tremendous responsibilities that teachers have. The film also brought out the idea of the great satisfaction which teachers get from laboring in kindness and patience with their students.

Almost everyone of the FTA members are industrious workers, and along with the learning, there is a lot of fun under the leadership of the sponsor, Mr. Joe S. King.

Parents of children who will enter the first grade in September will receive a special benefit from the Work Shop.

SOPHOMORE GOSSIP

The Sophomores were sorry to hear that the Retreat was closed, but were all smiles when they heard it was going to open tomorrow night.

All of the Sophomores who went to Judy Mueller's barn dance last Saturday night had a great time.

MRS. MAZUREK'S SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

New officers take over their duties in the seventh grade with Floyd Brown, president; Eddie Ellison, vice-president; Charmen Hicks, Secretary; Glenda Kaye Ritcheson, Treasurer; Dorothy Obledo; and Freddie Flach, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Class work is going well in all subjects as both teachers and pupils realize that there are not many more weeks left in which to learn the basic facts necessary for seventh graders.

Freddie Flach and Jack Fortner will be the "first ones to report in the new series of special interest topics in Texas Geography. Some time next week, they will give a report to the class on the History of the Bandera community. The entire class has been divided into pairs for research into various topics. In discussing the news story this morning, Charmen Hicks said that her partner is Diane Everett and they will be learning about mammals in Texas. A few other topics mentioned were birds, fish, and wild flowers.

Social activities are always a point of interest in this grade. Carol Sifferlin spent the week-end with Anna Maria Evans at her home at Medina Lake. Billy Small went to a birthday party for Robert Alanis. Also on Saturday, Glenda Kaye Ritcheson's sister and brother-in-law came to visit for the day.

SENIOR NEWS

The Senior Class is debating the question of whether to have a senior trip after school or take one day during school. There seems to be many opinions, and phases of there, to be considered.

The final vote will give the answer, though, but wherever they go, they are a bunch of fine looking kids and are sure to enjoy themselves.

As the end of the six weeks grows nearer, the work seems to be getting harder and the days shorter. The seniors are now working steadily on their Texas History assignment. In two weeks they will have thoroughly covered the Texas Constitution and will know it upside down and backward. Of course, six weeks tests are given rightaidd up and forward, which could complicate things.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Junior started to school in the 1st grade at Bandera Elementary where he studied and played for eight years, while engaging in his favorite hobby—collecting friends. With his graduation to high school, Junior, by his happy outlook on life and lively personality, added more friends to his growing collection. He channeled his lively times and energy into study and many extracurricular activities. Those in which he has been especially enthusiastic are the FFA, the Bandera Bulldog Band, football, basketball, and track.

Junior has a special knack for teasing girls and usually succeeds in getting them into a thoroughly flustered state. Of course, it's all in fun; and the girls must really not mind too much, for they recently elected him Misteens Sweetheart of 1960. He has a talent for making people feel at ease and comfortable, with his flowing humor and love of a good joke. He also enjoys good food and likes to get lots of sleep.

This is a brief and inadequate sketch of Junior Ramos, the way we, the Senior Class, know him, the way we like him, and the way we will always remember him. We wish him the best of everything and predict success and happiness for him; could a "P.S." be written to this in a few years, we know it would verify our prophecy.

MRS. MULLENAX'S SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Saturday, Morris Green went to the San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo. He had a very good time.

Mary Alice Schoolcraft visited her grandmother Sunday afternoon.

Deborah Harrison is very happy over a new car which her father bought.

Bonnie Daniels and Richard Evans went exploring Sunday afternoon. They scared Richard's grandmother to death. Richard was in a well and that Frankinstein was buried in the ground. Such logic!

Linden Rhodes went to San Antonio, Sunday, to watch a tournament at the Rollerdesk.

Dickie Hicks and family went to the San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo.

Robert Alanis had a birthday party Saturday night.

MRS. SCHNELLE'S SIXTH GRADE NEWS

There were eight students absent Monday. Our room seemed rather empty, whereas, we usually feel packed in.

Our geography classes (both sections) have been studying the Middle East. We have found it most fascinating since two of the ancient civilizations, the Egyptian and Mesopotamian, had their beginnings here. Both depended on flood waters for growing crops, and both used their limited resources with skill.

Gerald Byrket from Galveston visited with Junior Heinen over the week-end. Since it was cloudy they didn't even get to go fishing and this greatly disappointed Junior.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

We have taken up the study of the United States in geography. So far it has been very interesting. We hope that by the time we have finished our study of the U. S. we will know all of the States and their capitals.

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE

The San Antonio Stock Show came in for a lot of attention with third graders this week. Zane Everett and Ray Hall family down early Saturday and stayed with an uncle until time to go. Zane liked the midgets best of all.

Brenda Everett, her sister, Lana, and cousin, Karen, also went. They got lost from their uncle for a while.

Jane Ann Pearson's family couldn't get tickets for Saturday and by Saturday, Jane Ann was sick. They plan to reserve a box next year.

Ray D'Spain had a lot of fun at the Bantex Stock Show and Hay and Jane Ann Pearson were there, too. Linda Goodenough not only saw "Third Man on the Mountain," she and her brother acted it out when they got home. She was Roy Rogers because she had a Roy Rogers shirt.

Victor Strickland and his brother carried buckets of water to fill the calf's trough. There was a hole in the bucket and Victor's blue jeans got soaked.

Gayle Monier thought up some new activities for a boy on a rainy day. Saturday he made some charcoal for their forge. Sunday he baked a cake.

Susie Short is learning about the "law of Deminishing returns." She got up the other night and pulled a tooth that was keeping her awake. She received a few cents under her pillow the next day. She says she used to get a dollar for her teeth!

Janie Hay played with the little Anthony children on Sunday. Then she had company coming and going all day. She almost dropped into bed at the end of the day.

Douglas Balley and Billy Prather played together Sunday. Part of the time they were "fawns" and hid under bushes. Then they rolled and tired down the hill.

Johnny Brashers and his brother, David, made a small wagon with four wheels. It was too small to ride in.

Robert Harrison rode his brother's bike Saturday—right into a big bush.

Lupe Rios went to San Antonio to see her sister, Gloria, in the hospital. She is much better.

Lija Sanders was all smiles this morning. She reports that her sister is in the hospital and she has a little 7½ pound baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Gray were very gay because of the arrival of their first grandchild—a 7½ pound baby boy, too!

Next week will be "Public Schools Week." Be sure to drop by to see the third graders at work on Wednesday. Also see them in the auditorium on Friday night when the whole school presents "Spotlight on Learning."

JUNIOR NEWS

The regular junior reporter, Barbara Focke, was ill on Monday when the School Daze Staff was collecting news so Sharon McKay was given the job of rounding up any items of interest. She reported that little was happening now, but that all sorts of interesting things such as the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, class rings, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet were just around the corner.

One junior, Curtis Heinen, is making a consistent practice of passing the 50 net-work-per-minute mark in typing class. Others are in line. The big pull now is for accuracy. Watch for the line-up of good, better, and best typists in the near future.

MRS. AINSWORTH'S THIRD GRADE NEWS

On Sunday afternoon, Maryann Zickler played outdoors with her brother.

Phil, Gary, Tommy, Sharon, Jimmy, Phillip, Marta, Ruth, Sidney, and Scott went to see the movie, "Third Man on the Mountain."

On Saturday, Darrell White went to San Antonio to pick up Darrell's Uncle George at the train station. They saw part of "Journey to the Center of the Earth."

On Saturday, Willy Stricker's big brother came home from Florence. After they went to church Sunday, they went over to the barn to de-horn some calves. Willy helped throw the calves.

On Sunday, Sidney and his family went to church and ate dinner at the Chicken Shack. In the afternoon, Sidney played lions with Robert Alanis. First one of them would be the keeper while the other would be the lion and then they would change places.

While Jimmy Locke's mother was asleep, Jimmy's new terrier puppy went to sleep in her shoes. He also tried to take Jimmy's boot, but it was too heavy for him.

Sunday afternoon, Bouth went to visit Janie Hay.

On Sunday, Debbie Jennings went to Cotulla and her uncle gave her a baby cottontail rabbit.

Robert Hutcheson's father gave him his birthday present a little early. It was a fishing reel. On Saturday, they went fishing with it. Robert caught several little fish that were too small and he had to throw them back. Then he hooked a big one and almost had his reel when he got away. Robert's father caught about six bass that were big enough. Robert's mother will be in the hospital in Kerrville another week. On Sunday, they went to Kerrville to see her.

On Saturday, Lana, her sister, and cousin went to the San Antonio Rodeo.

Gary liked "The Third Man on the Mountain" so well Friday that he went to see it again on Saturday.

FISH PONDS OFFER PROFIT

Many landowners in the Bandera Soil Conservation District are passage up a good opportunity for recreation and possible profit by neglecting the possibility of developing good fish ponds. The general concept of pond management is that "We have plenty of food, what we need is more fish." Pondowners proceed to get more fish from hatcheries or nearby streams for additional stocking thereby overstocking an already crowded pond. Instead of adding more fish, more food should be added. This may be done by increasing the fertility of the water. A properly fertilized pond will produce 300-500 pounds of fish per surface acre with the fisherman's yield being about 150-250 pounds of fish. The natural fertility of the average pond produces less than half of this amount, with the fishermah being able to catch something like 30-50 pounds of fish. A mineral fertilizer is the best type to use. Organic fertilizers such as cottonseed meal, manure and hay tend to produce a bloom and are harder to handle.

Any commercial fertilizer can be used as long as the end product is given the job of rounding up gen, 8 pounds of potassium, and 2 pounds of potash per surface acre. 16-20-0 fertilizer, which is used commonly for crops in this area, can be used to advantage in ponds at the rate of 50 pounds per acre. The average pond will require about 600-800 pounds of fertilizer ply year per acre. Fertilizer may be poured from a boat or broadcast from the bank. Several local landowners have constructed fertilizer platforms designed to hold several hundred pounds and allow the fertilizer to "melt" at an even rate. Underwater weeds and moss should be controlled prior to fertilization. 2-4 pounds of copper sulphate (Bluestone), per acre will do a good job when thrown in and will not harm fish or livestock. Proper fertilization throughout the spring and summer from May to July will provide better fishing and also control pond weeds. For more information stop by the local Soil Conservation Service or the Counseum and are harder to handle.

MR. AND MRS. SCHNELLE ELECTED DELEGATES

The Bandera County Teacher Association met at Medina last Wednesday afternoon with Marvin C. Schnelle, presiding. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Schnelle were elected as delegates to the Alamo District House of Delegates meeting in San Antonio on March 19. The next county meeting will be a dinner meeting when officers will be elected for next year.

TELEPHONE TALK
by Leonard Hardin, Manager

NEW TELEPHONE BOOK

Another year has rolled around and you should be receiving your new telephone directory about March 17.

This year we are having 1765 copies printed, which should be sufficient for Bandera. Why so many, you may ask? Well, I'll tell you. At the present time Bandera has over a 1000 telephones. Long distance calls average approximately 250 per day and our local equipment handles over 3000 local calls daily. So it is easy to see why so many directories are needed.

When you receive your new directory be sure and tear up the old one. Remember! You can find it faster by using the Yellow Pages.

BIGGEST STORY OF ALL

The other day I saw a couple of school kids dart into Main street, unaware of an approaching telephone truck. But the driver spotted them at once. He slowed to a stop and waited until the youngsters crossed the street. Then he went on his way.

I got to thinking about this incident later. What I had seen was a quiet drama of safe driving that would never make frontpage headlines the way major accidents do.

Yet here was the biggest story of all—the kids who weren't hurt crossing our streets in Bandera, the accidents that don't happen . . . because good safety habits prevent them from happening.

Driving safely is everyone's duty. But for telephone men it is more than a duty. It's a way of life. It is part of that special sense of responsibility that goes with telephone work. We call it the Spirit of Service.

FIND IT FAST IN THE YELLOW PAGES

"I wonder where to find . . ." I bet you've heard that statement many times by folks looking for a particular product or service. You've probably said it yourself.

There's really no need to wonder, though. Not when you can refer to the Yellow Pages. It's Bandera's more complete shopping guide.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

EARLY BIRD BREAKFAST IS KICK-OFF FOR SCOUT

Thirty-one businessmen and those interested in Scouting were in attendance Tuesday morning at the Early Bird Breakfast in the School lunchroom to plan the drive for Boy Scout funds.

A. B. Small, local businessman and chairman of the drive, served as master of ceremonies and introduced Floyd Harrimle Jr., of Kerrville, who is the Hill Country District Scout Executive. Mr. Harriman gave a timely discussion of Scouting and pointed out the procedures of conducting the fund raising campaign, and the early completion of the drive.

A prize is being offered to the Captain of the team who completes their drive with 100 per cent.

Mr. Small expressed his delight with the attendance at the breakfast and stressed the fact that the Boy Scouts need your help. Scouts do good turns all year, they are depending on you for one day.

JUDGE AHRING IMPROVING

Friends will be pleased to learn that Justice of the Peace William Ahring, who has been critically ill in the Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital in Kerrville for several weeks, is greatly improved. Mrs. Ahring told a Bulletin reporter Wednesday that her husband is able to consume food again and enjoys reading a short while at a time. She said if he continued to improve, it might be possible to bring him home in a week or so. We extend our best wishes to him for a complete recovery.

Since 1916 more than 29,500,000 boys and men have been in the Boy Scouts of America.

JUNE DANIELS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Some Daniels was honored for her sixth birthday last Saturday, February 20th, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Daniels of Bandera. The little guests who attended the gala party were Judy Johnson, Bill and Oscar Mayfield, Annette Short, Susan and Barbara Zickler, Kathy Spain, Brenda Daniels, and Jerry Graves. Others present were Mrs. Cecil Graves, Jean Daniels, and Ronnie Daniels.

After several games were played and the honoree had opened her gifts, everyone gathered around the birthday table and sang "Happy Birthday" to June. Refreshments of cake, ice cream, cups of candy and gum were served.

We join June's friends in wishing her many more happy birthdays.

IN MEMORY OF MOTHER DEAN

Mother's gone from earth to Heaven,
Angels there to guide her o'er,
Loved ones waiting there to greet her
Over on that lovely shore.
Tired hands folded, oh, so peaceful,
Her face at peace, so lovely lay
Resting on a snow white pillow,
For that great and final day
When we all shall be together,
Once again, a family there.
Help us live as she would want us,
Heavenly Father, is my prayer.

MRS. BROWN GUEST SPEAKER FOR CHILD STUDY GROUP

The Child Guidance Group met Thursday, February 18, in the Public School lunch room. Following a brief business meeting, the guest speaker, Mrs. John E. Brown Jr., was introduced. Her subject was the Forgotten Child, as she prefers to call the less fortunate child who has a mental handicap.

Mrs. Brown told of the ways and tests her group used to determine the problem of the child, if it were not visible, and the manner in which the problem was solved. She described the program used to give the children a feeling of self-assurance. She related many instances and stories involving the children she worked with.

In concluding her program Mrs. Brown asked if enough people would be interested in starting a program of this sort here in our community. Anyone interested in learning more about the subject should contract Mrs. Brown. One of the main problems is to get people to realize and admit that their child has a problem. Mrs. Brown ended her program with, "Thank you, God, for my child. Now how can I help others less fortunate?" and ask that we say the same thing.

Twenty-one people were present to enjoy the meeting and delicious coffee and cookies served by Mrs. Wes Matthews, who was social chairman this month. Those present were Mrs. Buck Teich, Mrs. J. E. Mann, Mrs. Paul Kriley, Mrs. Fred Hamilton, Mrs. Charles Webber, Mrs. Ray Kruckemeyer, Mrs. Billy Griffin, Mrs. Ray Stevens, Mrs. L. W. Schmidtke, Mrs. Bill Short, Mrs. J. O. Evans, Charles Maszeck, Marvin C. Schnelle, Mrs. David Stewart, Mrs. Wes Matthews, Mrs. Melba King, Mrs. Charles Applegate, Mrs. Grace Wootton, Mrs. Knowles Teel, Mrs. John E. Brown, and Mrs. H. H. Sasthoff Jr.

There will be no meeting in March because of Public Schools Week. The Child Guidance program will be combined with the first grade program and all preschool mothers are invited to come to the school and take part in the program. It is of special interest to the mothers of children who will start school next year to participate. There will be babysitters to take care of the small children. They will be taken to the homemaking department. More details about this program may be found elsewhere in the paper.

QUARTERLY MEETING COUNTY UNIT OF AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

The quarterly meeting of the Bandera County Unit of the American Cancer Society will be held on Friday, March 4, at 2:00 p.m. at the Episcopal Parish House.

If cancer had been conquered only a dozen years ago nearly 2,500,000 Americans would not have died of cancer, more than 1,000,000+ heads of families would have been alive. You can help continue the fight against cancer to protect you and your family from cancer by taking an interest in the problems of organization and programing of your County unit.

See you Friday, March 4th.

Mrs. Melvin Rossman,
Secretary-Treasurer

APRIL 15 IS DEADLINE FOR MOTOR VEHICLE INSPECTION

Major Kent Odom, Commander of Region 3 of the Department of Public Safety, announced today that the deadline for having cars inspected under the Motor Vehicle Inspection Law is April 15, 1960. This means that Motorists have only two months left in which to have their vehicles inspected.

Major Odom stated that all vehicles registered in Texas must be inspected by April 15 and have on the windshield the further stated that there will be no extension of this date. He cautioned and advised motorists who have not had their cars inspected to do so now before long lines start forming.

Major Odom commented, "In the past, many people have waited until the last few days of the inspection period to have their vehicles inspected and have had to wait in long lines at inspection stations." "An inspection of the motor number, brakes, headlights, tail lamps, stop lights, horn, windshield wipers and mirror will be made as a part of the inspection."

According to the records of Ivan Lawrence, Captain of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, of the Texas Department of Public Safety in Corpus Christi, there are 7 per cent more vehicles registered in the Corpus Christi region's thirty-nine counties than in 1959. 24 per cent of all the vehicles registered have been inspected as of February 4, 1960. The remaining 76 per cent (approximately 534,600 vehicles) must be inspected during the next sixty days.

In Bandera County, there are 2,650 vehicles and only 500 or 19 per cent of the vehicles have been inspected.

Captain Lawrence had the same advice for motorists as did Major Odom. He stated, "By having your vehicle inspected today, you will be driving a safer vehicle." "Do you have a current inspection sticker on your windshield?"

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Watts and family of Kerrville were guests of his mother, Mrs. R. B. Autry, and Mr. Autry during the week-end.

Tarpley

Mrs. John G. James

We have heard several of the "old-timers" say that this is the coldest and longest winter that they can recall in many, many years, and it seems that nearly everyone will agree that it has been and still is "plenty" cold. Some rain and sleet fell early in the week and there was an abundance of ice in this area, with the pass between Tarpley and Bandera, as well as other areas, being covered with ice. Perhaps the children will eventually become accustomed to staying indoors and looking out the windows to see the frost and ice. Upon arising each morning, our daughter usually inquires "Frost' this morning, Mamma?". Maybe when spring arrives, it will really be spring. We all hope so, don't we?

Since we have been having so much inclement weather, not too many folks have ventured out to do much going or visiting, but some were brave enough to try it during the week-end. Most of the others have been sitting inside by the fire thawing out their feet and hands after coming inside from doing chores. We have not heard of any big losses of sheep and goats, and hope there are not any, but with this kind of weather at kidding and shearing time, some stock is almost certain to freeze, and the ranchers have been busy.

Visitors in the home of Walter and Augusta Scheele on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Sparr and son, Gordan. Mrs. Lillian Noble and Miss Cathy Noble of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Clark of Bandera, and their little grandaughter, Little Miss Dottie Jo Schoenfeldt of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. John G. James and daughters, Minneana, also of Bandera, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelsen and Uncle Jim Berkeland Sunday afternoon.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. Buddy Adams of Bandera, who underwent surgery almost three weeks ago, was released from the hospital the latter part of last week and is recuperating at her home in Bandera. We join her family and friends in wishing her a speedy and complete recovery. Mrs. Adams will be remembered here as the former Miss Minnie Hohenberger.

Friends will be sorry to learn that Mrs. Walter Hohenberger, Sr., has been ill this week. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hohenberger, of Kerrville, visited her Saturday and took her to Hondo where she consulted a physician. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrove and children, Marian, Richard, and Billy, of Hondo, were also with her during the week-end, and Mrs. Hohenberger's daughter, Mrs. Mike Mowrayiets of Bandera, spent Tuesday and Wednesday with her and Mr. Hohenberger. At this writing, Mrs. Hohenberger is said to be feeling somewhat bettgr, and we sincerely hope that she will continue to improve and will soon be well again.

We would like to extend birthday greetings this week to Mrs. A. A. Jeffers, who will have a birthday on Sunday, March 6th, and to Miss Margie Burger of Medina, whose birthday will be on Monday, March 7th. Our best wishes to both of you for a very happy birthday.

In the Tarpley news last week, a misprint occurred in the item about Mrs. Hope Dean. The news stated that she had made her home with her children here in Bandera county, in Kerrville, and at D' Hanis. Instead of Kerrville, it should have read "Kingsville," as Granny Dean made her home there with her daughters at various times during the past several years.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to everyone who assisted us in any way when we lost our beloved, Mrs. Annie C. Dugosh. Special thanks to the relatives and friends, for their many kind acts. Special thanks are extended to the Priests who conducted the service, those who sent the beautiful flowers and the Mass offerings.

MAJOR CRIME INCREASES IN TEXAS IN 1959

Crime in Texas during 1959 showed a marked increase according to figures released today by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

In a report from Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas DPS, aggravated assault was the most with a 22 per cent increase over the year 1958. Crime in all categories increased 3.9 per cent over the previous year.

Of the remaining six major crimes—murder, rape, robbery, burglary, theft and auto theft—only robbery showed a decline. According to the estimates, there were 45,827 burglaries in 1959 as compared with 44,822 in 1958, an increase of 2.2 per cent. Offenses in the automobile theft category totaled 15,830 as compared with 15,402 in 1958.

The crime report showed that on each day of the year 1959 there were 125 burglaries, 43 automobile thefts, 366 thefts other than automobile, 32 aggravated assaults, 2 robberies, 3 rapes and 3 murders.

On a ten year basis crime in Texas percentagewise by far outgained population. During the last decade the population of our state increased 24.4 per cent while crime increased 72.2 per cent.

Of other information in the report the department's Identification and Criminal Records Section recorded 72,454 sets of criminal fingerprints in the year 1959, compared with 110,531 last year—an increase of 52.59 per cent. In the year 1959 identifications were made on 25,646 fingerprints, while for 56,961 were identified in 1959; this was an increase of 87.83 per cent.

As was true in all phases of law enforcement work, activities in the department's chemical laboratory showed tremendous gains. In 1959, 2,500 chemical examinations were completed last year there were 10,179.

IMPORTS EFFECT OUR LAMB AND MUTTON TRADE

San Angelo — Two representatives of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raiser's Association are to go to Washington next month for the hearing on lamb and mutton imports before the U. S. Tariff Commission. The hearing is to be held March 22.

Jerry Purkett of Fort Stockton, a director of the TS&GRA, is to be one of the two, says L. M. Stephens of Loneta, TS&GRA president. The other remains to be selected.

Representatives of the National Wool Growers' Association and other western grower associations affiliated with the National are also to attend the hearings.

It is also expected that the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, and probably the American National Cattlemen's Association, will have representatives at the hearings since cattlemen have expressed some concern over the possibility of more beef being imported into the U.S.

Imports of both frozen and live lamb from Australia have been on the increase and many growers feel these imports are definitely affecting the price of the domestic supply. They believe the domestic market will improve if imports are halted, or put on a quota basis.

TS&GRA directors have been urged through letters from the headquarters office here, to write their U. S. senators and representatives and explain the real situation and describe how these imports have affected the lamb and mutton trade in their particular areas.

20,000 REFUND CHECKS HAVE BEEN MAILED

R. L. Phinney, Internal Revenue District Director for the Austin District, said 20,000 refund checks have been mailed to Austin District taxpayers. They went to those taxpayers who were the first to file their 1959 returns and who had a refund due them.

"Some of the early filers," Phinney said, "have been notified in a letter that their refund checks will be delayed because their returns require a pre-refund audit. But because they did file early, their pre-refund audit already is underway and they therefore will receive any refund check due them this much sooner."

"So," Phinney advises, "file now and get any refund due you that much sooner, too. And make sure that you do not omit any essential information, such as the signature (and that of your spouse if it is a joint return), and your W-2 tax withholding form. Print your address legibly as you can print it and, finally, don't write in asking where your refund check is because replies to such letters only slow down the entire refunding process."

PROFIT ON A HOME SALE

If you sold or bought a home during 1959, you will be interested in what David W. Sides, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service at San Antonio, has to say.

Profits on a home sale is the difference between what you paid for the home—plus your expense on it for permanent improvements—and your sale price. However, if you use up the profit in buying another home within a year, or building a new home, occupied within 18 months after you sold the old one, your profit is not taxable.

The Revenue representative explained that the new home costs must at least equal the adjusted sale price of the old home, if none of your profit is to be taxable. By "adjusted sale price" is meant the full sale price, minus commissions and the expense of decorating within 90 days before the date of your sale contract.

Taxpayers with questions on this and other tax subjects should phone or visit the Internal Revenue Service office.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

Just how liberal must a man be these days to get elected President? This year, more than ever, that question is being bandied around.

In the Democratic camp, there is Kennedy, Symington, Stevenson, Humphrey—all described by observers as ultra-liberals—and Lyndon Johnson, a middle-of-the-roader.

As a general rule a liberal is a free spender. And the more he spends, or promises to spend, the more liberal he becomes. These liberals are not to be confused with the authentic liberal who is progressive but keeps his feet on the ground.

The Radical Liberals are organized. They make a lot of noise. Scores of their organizations plug for welfare, "human" rights, "civil" rights, socialism and more spending.

There's the Conference on Economic Progress, whose spokesman, Leon Keyserling (who headed the Council of Economic Advisors to President Harry Truman when he was in the White House), recently demanded a minimum budget of $89.5 billion—$8 billion above the Eisenhower budget.

Then, there's CIO's COPE, a political action arm of the unions, which forever plugs for spending a la Keyserling, more welfare, civil rights, Big Government.

And Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), made up of prominent Liberal-liberals, agitate for the usual liberal program, only more of it. ADA's counterpart in Texas is Democratic Action (DOT), whose news organ is Texas Observer.

Now, it is disturbing to see so many of our prominent politicians catering to these extremists, courting their favors. At least it appears they think they must have this type of support in order to be elected.

But where does the public—the great unorganized, non-vocal, public come in? By and large, it is believed the general public is more sensitive to the politicians give them credit for being. It is believed the general public opposes reckless spending, ruinous inflation, prosperous hand-outs, and what-have-you.

Be that as it may, most of the candidates for President seem to think they must make their pitch for the favors of the liberals as a primary objective, then try to convince the people they are for 'em and have a remedy for their every need.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wade Cryer on February 20, 1960, a fine baby boy in the Kings Daughters Hospital in Temple. The young man weighed 7 pounds and 9½ ounces and is being welcomed by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cryer of Temple and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Gray of Bandera. Mrs. Cryer will be remembered here as the former Miss Barbara Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Gray. The young Cryers are residing in Temple.

Stewart Hicks of Dalberra is mighty happy over the fact that his first prize Brahman steer brought 62c a pound at the San Antonio Livestock Exposition. Purchase was made by the Lone Star Brewing Company through representative C. O. McCurdy, pictured on the left. Radio and television personality Jimmy Dean, who was on hand at this year's rodeo, is shown admiring Howard's fine steer.

BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
CONSERVATION • DEVELOPMENT • SELF-GOVERNMENT

W. H. Scheidt of San Antonio reports that he had a good hunting season on his place in 1959. Scheidt, who owns the old Hope Dean ranch between Bandera and Tarpley, says that he has more deer and turkey on his place than ever before and that they are in better condition. Wildlife is Scheidt's main interest on his place. Several years ago he decided that if he wanted more and better game he would have to control the grazing competition from domestic animals. Since that time Scheidt reports that the available food for wildlife has increased tremendously. Scheidt says that he puts out feed for deer and turkey, and does so all during the period when the game needs food, not just during hunting season. This is in line with the District's recommendations that food for deer and turkey be kept out after hunting season during the critical months of January, February and March. Many time deer become dependent upon feeding done during hunting season and just when they need it most the feeding is stopped. The District is cooperating with Mr. Scheidt in carrying out the grass conservation plan on his place as part of their program of assistance to all interested landowners.

The rancher with a good cover of dormant grasses now is the rancher who will be ready for July.

Soil Conservation Service technicians have completed construction of a waterway on the property of Williams Creek. The waterway was formed by shaping an old ditch down through a field and by constructing this waterway, the ditch could not adequately handle all of the water that came through it following a good rain. This waterway jumped out of the ditch and ran across his field causing serious erosion. A shaty foot parabolic shaped waterway has been installed now to handle the water at a controlled rate of flow. The waterway will be grassed over with Bermuda Grass and K. R. Bluestem to prevent erosion in the waterway channel itself. Ritchie and Arthur Crane the water way moderately or mow and make hay from the grassed area. The waterway will thus serve a dual purpose of erosion control and furnishing additional grazing or hay for an area that was prae. Healthy non-productive land in installation of the waterway. Technical assistance for design and installation of the waterway has been furnished by soil conservation service engineers with the cost of installation being shared by Richards by the Bandera County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

How to turn a $5.00 raise into a $1,000 bonus

Wishing won't turn a $5 a week raise into a $1,000 bonus, but it's easy for you to do.

Put that $5 raise into U.S. Savings Bonds, and you can buy an $18.75 Bond a month and have money left over.

Keep buying a Bond a month for 40 months, and you'll have your big bonus—Bonds worth $1,000 at maturity.

You can buy this $1,000 automatically, too. All you need to do is tell your employer to start making deductions from your pay for Bonds. This way, your raise can't slip through your fingers.

Whether you've just gotten a raise, or not, using the Payroll Savings Plan to buy U.S. Savings Bonds is a fine way to save. Why don't you ask your employer to include you in it?

More advantages to think about

You now get 3¼% interest, at maturity. This new rate which went into effect June 1, 1959, makes your Bond money grow faster. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in just 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959 earn more, too—an extra ¼% from now to maturity.

You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash in at any bank. But it pays to keep them.

Your money is guaranteed safe by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The Government promises you that the cash value of your Bonds will not drop—it always grows.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. You help save the peace with every Bond you buy. Bond money goes for science, education, military strength—the weapons of peace. And the money you save helps keep our nation's economy strong.

Lovercheck, A. B. Small, Raymond Hicks, A. J. Taylor, Leroy Sprott, Wesley Mathews, and Melvin Fitzgerald.

The Pack Meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Four new Cubs were inducted into the Pack with their parents: Darrell White, Dee Meador, Paul Smith and Phillip Jeffery.

In the regular advancement ceremony Charlie Heim received his Bear Badge with Gold and Silver Arrow Points; Gary Daniels, Gold and Silver Arrow Points on his Wolf Badge; Zane Everett, Silver Arrow Point on his Wolf Badge; Dickie Mueller, Silver Arrow Point on his Bear Badge.

The following boys received Service Stars: Ray D'Spain, Robert Hutcheson, Rob Sandidge, Dickie Mueller.

The highest award in Cub Scouting, the Webelos Badge, was presented to Jeffery Zickler, in an Arrow of Light ceremony. Edward Postert, who also was scheduled to receive the Webelos Badge and Steve Taylor, who was scheduled to graduate, were both on the sick list.

The Cub Master, Russell Zickler, presented service pins to each of the Committee who had served one year or more. Both the Committeemen and their wives were called forward so that the wives could have the honor of pinning the service pins on their husbands' coat lapel.

A. J. Lewis and Allen Lovercheck received four year pins.

W. I. Stevens, A. B. Small, Raymond Hicks, Leroy Sprott, received three year pins.

Marvin Schnelle and A. J. Taylor, two year pins; and Wesley Mathews, a one year pin.

To climax the presentation ceremonies, Mr. Lewis called Mrs. Zickler up to join the committee and presented to her the Cubmaster's three year service pin which she in turn pinned to his uniform. The thoughtfulness and sincerity of this committee was apparent when Mr. Lewis and Mr. Stevens presented to the Cubmaster a gift of appreciation from the committee, a very fine bronze paper weight in the form of the Boy Scout Insignia.

Jack Stoltz, one of the leading Scouters in the Alamo Area, gave a very interesting talk about Cub Scouting and its great opportunity to the boys.

The Pack paid tribute to past leaders of Cubs and Scouts who were present: Col. Dan Alanis, past committeeman and Cubmaster; Wes Mathews, Past Cubmaster; Mrs. Dan Alanis, Mrs. Billie Heim, Mrs. A. A. Reed, Mrs. Calvin Wedgworth, Mrs. Duglerstadt, past Den Mother, and Mr. Duglerstadt, past Committeeman and Scoutmaster.

Den 2 won the attendance pennant for having the largest number of people present.

Mr. Lewis closed the meeting with the benediction.

The Pack wishes to thank everyone for all the help and interest. This Blue and Gold banquet has started off another Cubbing year in which it is expected the Pack will grow and become more and more important in the community life of Bandera.

MISTEENAS HOLD SUCCESSFUL MEETING

A meeting held in the Scheels Building, on February 27, 1966, was attended by a large number of adults who are concerned about providing an acceptable gathering place for Bandera's Young People. At that time the public was reminded of the origin of the group which is called The Misteenas.

The Misteenas Club was organized about ten years ago by a group of fourteen high school girls and some women from the local Episcopal Church. The club was later completely separated from the church and became a social club for fourteen girls—some from each of the four grades in high school) elected by the other Misteenas. The girls undertook as their project the Teens' Retreat, a place where the teenagers of Bandera and surrounding communities could spend some of their leisure time having good, clean, and inexpensive fun together. The Retreat was used for dances and "get-togethers" after the football games as well as for other special occasions. The Misteenas had the responsibility of cleaning, financing, decorating, and finding reliable adult sponsors.

The present group truly appreciates the cooperation of the parents and friends of teenagers. The Misteenas hope to keep the Retreat the kind of place that the original group planned. If you can help by donation of time or materials, contact Ige, pigglient, Peggy Billings. If Bandera is to have a place of meetings which is pleasing to its young people and their parents, everyone must work.

During the week-end Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bausch visited at Imperial with Mr. and Mrs. Lon Freeman. He is the brother of Mrs. Miller and has recently been ill and in a Crane hospital. While there they also visited Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Freeman and daughters and Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Fletcher Freeman and family.

We would like to take this means of publicly thanking the Bandera Volunteer Fire Department for putting out the fire at place recently and also those who assisted in any way to extinguish the blaze. Thank all of you very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Algueseva

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Jesse Donnell became ill Wednesday, but are happy that she is feeling better again.

THIS IS OUR TOWN

By Jinny

In our mail Wednesday was a nice letter from Mrs. Justine Ellington Hamm of Hope, Arkansas, who is a former resident of Bandera with a great number of friends who will be glad to hear from her. She wrote, "Enclosed find check for my renewal to the Bulletin, plus a new entry. Please send Bulletin to Dr. Hermann Hamm, Saratoga, Arkansas. Hank and Matty have finally moved to Arkansas after living in Texas all these years. Everytime they have come to see me the ranching business got more under their skin. This time it took. Right now they are living at our hunting lodge until some repair work is done. They have a beautiful spread and a good herd of cattle. My husband and I are quite pleased too, due to the fact their ranch is just four miles from our lodge. We can talk Bandera often."

* * * More than 280 parents, children, friends, attended the 4-H Club Awards dinner at the Bandera High School Monday night. The evening's program included a delicious dinner, presentations of awards and the viewing of a very excellent film by Bill McReynolds, of WOAI, who narrated his own film taken on a trip to South America. This film was beautifully done and greatly enjoyed by all.

* * * Among the many letters we received by our readers since the name of the Bandera Stompede has been changed is the following one from Mrs. Wayne Collins, formerly Miss Louise Rugh, a native of Bandera, who spends much time in Bandera. She writes, "So glad the name of the Stompede is being changed! Hurray! That should help. Festivals are nice. Maybe they can work in some Hill Country Art Exhibits."

* * * We were delighted to have greetings from Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Doane, who have been on an interesting trip in the South Sea Islands. They write, "We found Idyle disappointing, not one dream. Spent five days touring N. Zealand, a lovely country, Australia, this neighborhood of Sydney, that was very interesting and beginning a boom. Lots of flu, but we've been lucky." By the time we receive this card Mr. and Mrs. Doane are probably at home.

* * * Our thought for the day—We act as though comfort and luxury were the chief requirements of life, when all that we need to make us really happy is something to be enthusiastic about.—Chas. Kingsley, in New Outlook.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET IS HISTORICAL SUCCESS

On Tuesday night, February 22, the Chicken Shack was the setting for a delightful Father and Daughter Brownie Banquet. Mrs. Bill Short was chairman of the arrangements. She certainly did herself proud in every detail. A very delicious dinner consisted of lovely arrangement of golden mums, daffodils, and lemon leaves topped by a stepdown cut-out of the Brownie Emblem.

Rev. Victor Schmidtzinsky was guest of honor and speaker. The Brownie Troop is under the leadership of Mrs. J. B. Edwards and Mrs. R. L. Zickler.

Mrs. J. B. Edwards, chairman of the Troop Committee gave the invocation and then led each Brownie Scout stand and introduce her father.

The following daughters were present with their fathers: Dalroy Faye and Walker Mullenax, Myra Jean and Russell Zickler, Linda Sue and Bill Short, Jeanene and J. B. Edwards, Kathy and Werner Lindig, Charlotte and Kathy and John Murphy, Martha Ann and Jim Richards, Linda and Milton Lewis. Ruth Johnson was represented by Leonard Parish and Jo Baker, Jr., due to the illness of her father, who had the flu.

Also present were Mrs. Johnny Boyle, Mrs. Ralph Chaney, and Mrs. Bill Short, Chairman for the dinner.

After the dinner Mrs. Edwards introduced Rev. Schmidtzinsky who gave a very appropriate talk entitled, "The Object of My Affection." In which he explained the duties of a father in relation to his daughter and the definite responsibilities parents have to their children.

Each young lady present was full of pride at being able to invite her father to this special affair such as this and the recognition this afforded the little girls is very essential in developing in them self-confidence, security and poise.

"TEXAS UNFOLDS" THEME OF FINE ARTS PROGRAM

Members and guests of the Fine Arts Club were made welcome by the president, Mrs. Melvin Boatman, in an atmosphere of "days gone by," when they held their March 1st meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Episcopal Parish House at 2:00 o'clock.

Our United States and Texas flags adorned the walls. The registration table was covered with a white linen cloth, belonging to Mrs. C. O. Nesting and which was given to her by Mr. Nesting in 1904. A kerosene lamp was burning by the guest book.

In the absence of Mrs. John V. Wood, the first vice-president, Mrs. Alfred Anderwald, introduced the guest speaker, Col. H. M. Henderson, and presented him with a book entitled "The Story of Leslie Deno, Her Life and Times," which was the last biographical work of the late J. Marvin Hunter. Col. Henderson gave a most interesting resume of the Battle of San Jacinto. He has a wide background in Texas research, and his speech ended all too soon. Col. Henderson spoke to the student body of the Bandera High School preceding the Fine Arts program. . .

Mrs. Rossman introduced Mrs. J. O. Evans, hostess chairman, and Mrs. Eva Thallman, secretary, read the minutes from the previous meeting and they were approved. Mrs. Leon Shields gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. J. O. Evans introduced the hostesses, who were all wearing old fashioned costumes. Mrs. Alfred Anderwald, Mrs. Clay Short, and Mrs. Russell Blair were the decorating committee; Mrs. R. N. Albert, Mrs. Joe Munsch, Mrs. W. H. Hicks, and Mrs. George Fee were the refreshment committee, and Mrs. C. O. Nesting was in charge of registration. All hostesses wore pretty yarn party creations fashioned by Mrs. Russell Blair. Mrs. Joe Munsch was wearing a dress that was over a hundred years old and had belonged to the mother of Mrs. Edna Wheat Beam. Mrs. C. O. Nesting's auto robe was over fifty years old.

Kerosene lamps were burning on the refreshment table, which was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a very large fruit bowl. Delicious refreshments of dainty sandwiches, tiny donuts, pickles, coffee, and tea were served to the following members and guests: Mrs. Ashley Rugh, Mrs. Julia M. Allen of Uvalde, Mrs. Wm. Wyatt, Mrs. Fred Briggs, Mrs. Isabel Anderson, Mrs. Harold Burt, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. E. M. Anderson, Jr., Mrs. James F. Brannigan, Mrs. Leon Shields, Mrs. Glendon Roberts, Mrs. Ira Garrison, Mrs. Melvin Boatman, Mrs. Howard Hay, Mrs. Harold Brooks, Mrs. Alfred Anderwald, Miss Eva Thallman of San Antonio, Mrs. C. O. Nesting, Mrs. George Howland, Mrs. Fred Mansfield, Mrs. Jim Brady, Mrs. Art Kitzman, Mrs. Allen Lovercheck, Mrs. D. W. Hicks, Mrs. George Fee, Mrs. J. F. Munsch, Mrs. Bill Murry, Mrs. Telvy Robbins, Mrs. J. F. Langford, and Mrs. D. O. Tallman.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Wiley Meadows fell at her home Tuesday night and has not been feeling well the past few days. She was not injured seriously and is improving. We hope she will soon be up and about and feeling fine again.

Guests of Mrs. Lona Jackson on Tuesday were her nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Meagar, Jr., of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buck had as their visitors during the week-end Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Buck and son, John Allen, Mr. and Mrs. David Stark and children, Debra Jo and David and R. L. Buck of San Antonio and Mrs. Merle Shiflett and Mrs. Olin Buck of Bandera.

MUST WE HAVE AN ACCIDENT?

Must we have an accident—must someone run over a child before we close the road in front of the Elementary school building?

Certainly no public spirited citizen would object to closing this short block if he or she will drive by at 4 o'clock any school day and see the traffic congestion and the children darting in and around the jumble of cars. Or sit there and watch the children during recess playing on the too-small playground and chasing balls into the street. Surely for safety's sake, if nothing else, this road should have been blocked off long ago, giving the children a large safe playground extending clear to the football field; which incidentally would use a few extra yards too.

Another important reason for this move is that the houses the school hopes to get from Hondo Air Base would be most advantageously placed backed up to the dividing fence and would extend to or even over the road.

Green grass covering this rough unsightly road with the new buildings along the side fence would add to the beauty and enhance the value not only of the school property but of the surrounding town property as well.

Because of its importance this subject has come up many times before. Let's not let it drag out this decision again. Let's consider public welfare before private interests that actually have no basis in fact. Let's not wait 'till tragedy strikes. Let's act now.

Mrs. Art Kitzman

Also, those who sent food and the ladies who served dinner, during the illness of our brother. We especially thank Rev. E. E. Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you knew personally in different Texas communities. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and of at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

FOURTEEN STUDENTS WILL TAKE N.M.S.Q. TEST

Fourteen students of the Bandera High School plan to take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMSQT) for S. King, Principal, announced today. The test will be administered at the High School at 9:00 a.m., March 8th (Tuesday, March 8th) or Saturday, March 19th). All students who wish to be considered for Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1961 must take the test at this time.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is a three hour measure of educational development and college aptitude. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what can be learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

The test is the first step in the sixth annual competition for Merit Scholarships provided by some 100 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals, as well as by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself. Over $15,000,000 has been awarded in the first four years of the program.

The number of scholarships awarded in any year depends upon the extent of sponsor participation. The basic continuing program is for $1,000,000 a year (for ten annual programs). It is estimated that sponsor participation this year will add over $2 million in sponsored Merit Scholarships. It is also expected that various outside-the-program sources will increase the present amounts offered to high scoring students by several million dollars.

For students taking the test on March 8, results will be reported to all participating schools before the end of the spring semester in time for use by class advisors. The scores may also be used in many high schools to help students make decisions about college and the most appropriate courses to major in. Many students throughout the country who do not expect to win registered for the test in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses.

Some 10,000 Semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. Names of Semifinalists are published in a booklet which is widely distributed among colleges and other scholarship agencies.

Each Semifinalist will be asked to take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance in the second examination will become Finalists in the Merit Program. Winners of Merit Scholarships will be selected from this group of Finalists on the basis of school records and recommendations, test scores, extracurricular and outside-of-school interests and accomplishments, and other indications indicating future promise. Each Finalist in addition to being considered for a Merit Scholarship will be awarded a Certificate of Merit attesting to his outstanding performance.

Four-year scholarships are awarded to the winners with stipends depending on financial need. Minimum award in 1961 will be $100, the maximum will be $1,500. The average stipend in 1959 was $700. Supplementary scholarship, tuition grants are usually made to the colleges and universities which the Scholars attend.

An additional 25,000 students selected without regard to state quotas are awarded Letters commending them for their superior performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. These students are asked to complete brief personal data cards, and are considered for special awards made through the facilities of NMSC. Names along with test scores of both Semifinalists and the students in the commended group will be sent without charge to the colleges indicated as either a first or second choice by the participant.

The National Merit Scholarship Program is a nationwide search for students who demonstrate extraordinary ability to benefit from a college education. More than a million and a half high school students have participated in the Merit Program, and in the fall of 1959 more than 2,100 Merit Scholars were enrolled in nearly 400 colleges and universities in the United States.

CARE OF CERTAIN DEPENDENTS

"A part or all of the cost of caring for children and other dependents may be considered a deduction on that Federal income tax Form 1040," David W. Sides, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service at San Antonio, said today.

A deduction may be allowed for expenses paid for the care of one or more dependents if such care enables the taxpayer to be gainfully employed, or to actively seek gainful employment.

This deduction may be claimed by any woman or widower including men who are divorced, or legally separted under a court decree and have not remarried.

The dependent (or dependents) cared for must be a child under 12 years of age, or a person who is physically or mentally incapable of caring for himself, regardless of age.

There are certain other necessary requirements in order to claim this deduction. For full particulars, interested taxpayers should phone or visit the Internal Revenue Service office.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Andress of Valeta spent last week here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lehold and other relatives and friends.

Animal Health Clinic Held at Kerrville February 29

The Texas Producers of Veterinary Supplies held it's quarterly meeting at Kerrville on Monday, February 27, at the L.C.A. Building.

The meeting was attended by Howard Hay and your local County Agricultural Agent, Werner Lindig.

Dr. R. O. Drummond, USDA, Kerrville Research Station, discussed Systemic Insecticides for livestock. In his talk he stated that complaints had been made on rams and bulls becoming sterile after they had been treated with the recommended systemic insecticides. He said that a careful study had been made on the complaints, but that the insecticides had no effect on the sterility of the animals. He also stated that it was not recommended to drench sheep and goats with phenothiazine at the time that you treated them with a systemic insecticide. He did not say not to use phenothiazine a while before or after the treatment with the systemic insecticide.

Systemic insecticides are those which kill insects feeding on the animal. An insecticide which goes into the blood stream and kills insects feeding on the animal is considered a systemic insecticide. Examples of systemic insecticides are trolene and co-ral.

Dr. R. H. Roberts discussed "Insecticides and Repellents for Biting Flies," and Dr. W. F. Chamberlain talked about "Research with Radioactive Insecticides." Dr. R. D. Radeleff talked about the "Safe Use of Insecticides." He stated that everyone should read the label on the container in which the insecticide is before using it. Instructions should be followed very carefully in making the solution mixtures. Dr. R. C. Bushland discussed "Screw Worm eradication by Sterilization of the Male Fly." He also discussed the method used in eradicating the screw worm fly in Florida. Dr. Bushland is responsible for developing the method of sterilizing the male fly.

All the doctors who took part on the program presented are with the USDA at the Entomology Research Station, Kerrville, Texas.

Judging Teams Practice at A&M

The junior and senior livestock judging teams attended a practice judging work-out at A&M College on Saturday, February 27. The senior team members who attended were Earl Keese, John Focke, and Tommy Carpenter. The junior team members who attended were Frank Fuchs, Howard Hicks, Jr., Dickie Hicks, Mike Matthews and Happy Thedford. 4-H members who could not make the trip, but are working to make the team are Donnie and Lewis Ray Melton on the senior team and Frank Craddock, Earl Reininger, and Edwin Lane Langford for the junior team.

There are four more members on either a junior or senior judging team. The boys who make the highest scores in the practice sessions are the ones that will make the team to participate in the District No. 7 elimination contest on April 2nd at San Angelo.

The practice session to be held at A&M will be on March 12. A trip will again be made to A&M for this judging work-out.

Don Adams of Medina accompanied the County Agent to A&M this past Saturday, February 27, and took the senior teams. This help is greatly appreciated by the 4-H members and the County Agent.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Legal Answers Require Research

Perhaps you have been in a courtroom and heard an attorney argue forcefully to the court that such and such a case clearly governs the case at hand. But did you ever wonder about the intricate processes that have been directed toward finding that case which is often referred to as "controlling precedent?"

The lawyer's training received in law school enables him to recognize and analyze problems. In most law schools he will have studied what is known as the "case method." In the standard three-year course usually following his graduation from a four-year college education, the law student will read hundreds and sometimes thousands of cases especially selected to illustrate the various phases of the law.

The case method of study enables the lawyer to recognize and classify problems created by the relationship of real persons to each other. It also emphasizes that the outcome of each case depends upon the application of principles of law to its own peculiar facts.

When a client seeks legal advice from his lawyer, the lawyer's mind immediately classifies the problem. Sometimes the problem is such that he may be able to give an immediate specific answer. However, more often the problem will have ramifications that will cause resort, as the lawyer says, to "the books." This means that research is in order.

It may take hours, and in many instances, days, of research to unravel a knotty legal problem. The process is involved. Cases must be found, analyzed, compared, and checked to determine whether they have been overruled by later decisions, before counsel can stand before the court and say "Your Honor, we believe that our case is controlled by the case of such and such."

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

320,000 INDIVIDUAL RETURNS MADE

Taxpayers of the Austin District are heeding the advice of District Director Jim Phinney to file their Federal income tax returns early so they may receive any refund due them as quickly as possible.

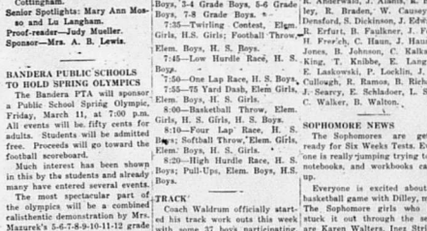
Mr. Phinney said 320,000 individual taxpayers already have filed their 1959 returns presumably because many of them may have a refund coming and they are eager to get it.

"We have started to process the returns already filed," Phinney said. "If they are in perfect order and a refund is due, our early processing will speed up the refund checks accordingly. Those returns which require a pre-refund audit will take longer to process, but in every such case, the taxpayer will be notified by letter of the reason for delay. Even the pre-refund audit may be completed sooner because of early filing."

Phinney again repeated his tips for early filers who want to receive any refund due them as quickly as possible.

One is not to omit any essential information on your return, such as your signature (and that of your spouse if it is a joint return), and the W-2 tax withholding form.

Another is to print your address as legibly as you can print it.



And the third is not to write for a few weeks asking where your refund is because replies to such letters only slow down the whole refunding process.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Haeggin during the month of February were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boehme of Rio Medina; Mrs. Mary Balzer, Willie Wurzbach, Arnold Wurzbach of Castroville, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Jenkins and Mr. Jenkins' parents of San Antonio; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schaefer and two children of Bandera.

MISS CARLTON WILL RECEIVE THE BULLETIN

As a gift from Mrs. Edward Johnson of the Medina Lake community, Miss Letty Dyer Carlton, a former Banderan, will receive the Bandera Bulletin for the coming year. The gift is in remembrance of Miss Carlton's birthday. Happy Birthday, Letty Drew!

MAKE A PERFECT LOAF OF BREAD

Add a bonus of good old-fashioned flavor to mid-winter meals with a loaf of fragrant, golden-brown bread. The satisfaction of old bread-making is new to you, don't be afraid to try it. There's nothing mysterious or difficult about yeast-raised breads. Just follow the directions and you'll be awarded the satisfaction of a beautiful loaf.

YEAST-RAISED WHITE BREAD

1 cup milk
3 tablespoons sugar
2½ teaspoons salt
6 tablespoons margarine or butter.
1 cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
6 cups sifted enriched flour

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and margarine or butter. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed). Sprinkle or crumble yeast and stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Add 3 cups of flour and beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour to make a soft dough, and stir until smooth. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush with shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place (85°), free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down and turn out on board. Divide in half and let rest 15 to 20 minutes. Shape into two loaves. Place in greased bread pans 9 x 5 x 3 inches. Cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until center is slightly higher than edge of pan, about 1 hour. Bake in 400-degree oven about 50 minutes.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many people you know personally in different Texas counties. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

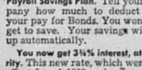
How to buy $1,000 for $750- and pay only 63¢ a day

With as little as 63¢ a day you can buy an $18.75 U. S. Savings Bond every month. 40 months later you'll own Bonds value at $1,000 at maturity.

There are two especially good things about this $1,000.



You buy it with money you might have dribbled away. It costs you only $750—in easy installments.

Why don't you start saving right now with U.S. Savings Bonds?

More advantages to think about

Here's how you can reach your savings goal with U.S. Savings Bonds in just 7 years, 9 months

If you want about	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000
each week save	$5.45	$10.85	$21.70

You can get your money, with interest, every time you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash anytime at any bank. But it pays to keep them.

Your money is guaranteed safe by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The value of your Bonds won't drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. You help save the peace with every Bond you buy. Bond money goes for science, education, military strength—the weapons of peace. And the money you save helps keep our nation's economy strong.

You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan. Tell your company how much to deduct from your pay for Bonds. You won't forget to save. Your savings will add up automatically.

You now get 3¼% interest, at maturity. This new rate, which went into effect June 1, 1959, makes Your Bond money grow faster. Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959 earn an extra ½% from then on.

TRACK

Coach Waldrum officially started his track work outs this week with some 37 boys participating. Some 15th grade boys are both football and basketball boys and are already in fair shape. However, much work will be necessary before the track season. The hope of making a strong bid for District Honors were lessened by the loss of Royce Stevens, Harry Heim, Lon Cottingham and Kenneth Kalka. These were the fastest boys on the team.

Coach holds his hopes on strong entries in the Pole Vault, Shot Put, Hurdles and Distance Races. Several Boys are looking much stronger already in the Distance Races and field events. Our weak spots will be in the Dashes and Sprint Relay.

The track teams will participate in the following meets:

March 11—Bandera Olympics.
March 18—Open Meet at Devine.
March 25—Somerset Texas Olympics.
April 2—Mason Relays.
April 14—District 27-A Meet.
April 22-23—Regional Meet at Victoria.
April 30—San Antonio Inv.

Saturday morning, Dickie Hicks got up at 3:30 to go to A&M College. A number of the 4-H boys went to judge livestock.

The reason for the visit was to watch a skit put on by Kathy Jones, Kathy Brown, Kimberly Walters, Linda Pawvlik, Ronnie Goodenough, Thomas Meginnis, Jerry Green and Kathleen Richards. The skit was based on the book, "Little Women," by Louisa May Alcott. The performers did a fine job and did all of it by themselves without any help from the teacher. The skit was very good.

Most of the students in 6-1 have had a part in a skit this year. These skits are book reports. Some are puppet shows; others make up written reports, while still others make oral reports. Each student has to make one book report each month. There are also art groups working on skits at this time.

SENIOR NEWS

This year, the Steno. I Class is composed entirely of senior girls. There are six girls in the class, not counting Mrs. Lewis. Even though this class may seem small, don't underestimate it. The girls are now doing eighty words a minute, and pushing ninety. After all, the best things come in small, senior classes.

Mrs. Lewis is planning a typing tournament for those who are, and have been, typing students. Susie Shortts, father, brought in home a little six weeks old Border on the football field on Friday, Collie puppy from the Baker's. March 11, 1960.

Mrs. Lewis is planning a typing tournament for those who are, and have been, typing students. Several of the seniors will be entering and hoping to win. The tournament should start the last two or three weeks, so everyone will be touching up the old knuckles.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The Eighth Grade took part in a Field trip to the court house on February 25. We went to the various offices and were allowed to ask questions. We also went into the courtroom and jail. It was very interesting and it was enjoyed by all.

Everyone has been busy this past week with six weeks tests.

Tonight the first through eighth grades are having a program; "Spotlight on Education," a program to give us an idea of what the students are doing in their classes. It should prove to be very interesting. We hope everyone will be there!

MRS. MAZUREK'S SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

Glenda Kaye Ritcheson received second division award.

Diane Everett, Jim Evans and Adele Skinner won a second place award.

The seventh grade is quite proud of its band members.

FRESHMAN NEWS

We are quite proud of three of our freshmen: Linda Bausch, Karen Kitzman, and Edwin Langford received a division I rating on their solos and ensemble Saturday.

The freshmen would like to congratulate the basketball girls for winning the game with Utopia Friday night. We hope that the B-string has a better time of it next time.

Edwin Langford was honored with a birthday party last Friday night. Those that attended were Jamie Sue Nixon, Lynda Kinz, Bonnie Mansfield, Sharon Coy, Billy and Johnny Small, Chuck Hargis, Richard Braden, Walter Causey, Charlie Eckhart, and John Focke.

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE

We want to thank all of you who dropped by to visit during Public Schools Week.

We like very much the idea behind our Friday night program "Spotlight on Learning," showing our children in everyday learning activities.

Johnny Breshers had a job last week moving some flat rocks from the old rock fence for a man. He killed twelve stinging scorpions as he worked.

Douglas Bailey reports that Billy Pearle's little brothers, six and four, brought two scorpions in to show his mother.

Victor Strickland and his brother, Ray, fixed their "nigger shooters" up to hunt birds Saturday. All they got was a real bad cold.

Robert Harrison and his brother spent Sunday at their grandfather's ranch. They started brushing an old cow but she must not have liked it. She walked away.

Janie Hay brought in a fine letter today to mail to a little girl in Phillips, Texas, who wrote the third grade to ask about Bandera.

Brenda Everett and Gayle Monier have already mailed letters to the same little girl. The Chamber of Commerce would be proud of the things these children wrote (and think) about Bandera.

Sherry Lee Davis had fun playing with kites her brother, from Houston, brought.

Stephen, his brothers, and father went hunting Sunday, before church. They did not, however, miss church. In fact, very few third graders miss church these days. Nineteen of our twenty-four attended this week.

Ray D'Spain visited Sidney Skinner Friday. They discovered a cave with two entrances (for a quick, safe get- away!)

Zane Everett was with his grandfather this week-end when he uncovered a place where he was injured but still living.

Both Third Grades had a secret election and chose Tess Ann Pearson to represent them in the spelling contest. March 11, 1960.

Jesse Arriaga, Traveling Science Teacher, is shown here demonstrating how an oscilloscope works. The oscilloscope is one of the pieces of demonstration apparatus made by Arriaga.

TRAVELING SCIENCE TEACHER TO VISIT SCHOOL

A science program of unusual content and interest will be presented at the Bandera school during the period of March 14 to 18. The program will be presented by Jesse Arriaga, traveling science teacher, who has a repertoire of lecture materials designed to inform and stimulate teachers and students in the areas of science and mathematics and is equipped with a station wagon loaded with unique science demonstration apparatus.

Mr. Arriaga is one of twenty traveling science teachers who have been trained and equipped at Oklahoma State University with the assistance of a $535,000 grant from the National Science Foundation. The twenty teachers are serving an eight-state area composed of Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas. Nearly a quarter of a million students will benefit directly from the Traveling Science Teacher Program during the current school year, says Dr. Robert C. Pitts, program director.

By the end of the spring term each traveling teacher will have visited approximately 30 schools, a total of 600 altogether. Bandera school is fortunate to have been selected to receive the program this year since twice as many applications were received as could be scheduled.

"In addition to 12 to 15 lecture-demonstrations in science and mathematics classes and to student assemblies, Mr. Arriaga will also be available for presentations to teacher's meetings, science fairs, civic groups, and PTA meetings," Dr. Fite explains. The program is also flexible and requires a minimum number of disruptions or irregularities in the school schedule. "Schools of all sizes are scheduled, but the program presented in a come to Bandera.

large school is quite different from that in the smaller schools," says Fite, who is also director of Oklahoma State's Arts and Sciences Extension activities.

Mr. Arriaga, a native of San Antonio and formerly a science teacher there, was selected with the 19 others from about 200 teacher applications received from the eight-state area by a committee of scientists working with Clevelands retired from Gulf Oil Company in San Tome, Venezuela. Dr. Fite explains. The program is also flexible and requires a minimum number of disruptions or irregularities in the school schedule. "Schools of all sizes are scheduled, but the program presented in a come to Bandera.

BANDERA'S SAVINGS BOND GOAL IS $70,000.00

"Savings Bond sales for January 1960 totaled $1,736.60," J. Burpie Davenport, Chairman of Bandera County Savings Bonds Committee reported today. "Our county has reached 4.4 per cent of its 1960 goal of $70,000.00."

Sales in Texas for January were $16,537,706 which is 10 per cent of the state goal.

"When we buy our Country's Savings Bonds we are helping to save things that money cannot buy," concluded Mr. Davenport, Chairman of the Bandera County Savings Bonds Committee.

The Tom Clevelands are now temporarily at home with the W. P. Jordans. They plan to live here permantly as soon as their new home is completed. The Clevelands retired from Gulf Oil Company in San Tome, Venezuela. South America, last June. They have recently returned from an extended European trip. The Bulletin joins their many friends in extending them a hearty welcome to Bandera.

TWO CASES ARE TRIED IN DISTRICT COURT THIS WEEK

District Court convened in Bandera Tuesday for a brief two day session with Judge Marvin Blackburn of Junction presiding. Two cases held the center of interest during the two day session.

A jury trial was held in the case of the State of Texas vs. Ramon Huerta Jr., charged with assault with intent to murder. Huerta was found not guilty. This case was heard by the following jury: H. H. Maxwell, Calvin Seale, Roland Britsch, W. B. Richards, John E. Cox, Patrick Godkin, L. C. Mathis, J. F. Brown, J. L. Maass, H. H. Dodson, Orville Wier, and W. O. Cunningham. The attorney in the case was Maurice Lehman of Boerne.

This case was the result of an altercation at the John Langford place in which the Huerta family was involved, on May 2, 1959.

In the case of the State of Texas vs. Jimmy A. Boswell, assault with intent to murder, the complaint was changed to Clyde Moore, evoked the fifth amendment and would not testify, though the case had been called and the jury selected, and though the court offered him immunity. He claimed the incrimination would possibly be in some other county.

District Attorney Joe Leonard moved that he could not prove the offense in the case without the testimony of Moore, so instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty.

The defense was the outgrowth of an incident in which four persons were booked on September 5, 1959, for robbery by assault. This group of Bill Buswell, Prisoner Woods, Billy Ray Cooper and Thomas H. Farquar. The four were sought after Moore identified two of them as having taken part in a robbery at his home. Moore told Sheriff R. B. Miller at that time that three men and a woman invaded his home at about 4 a.m., and woke him up and that one of the men held a pistol on him while the other two bound him and beat him with his own pistol.

He related that the woman kicked him after he fell to the floor, but that he had managed to talk over business matters with Cooper. At that time he was warned not to tell of the robbery. He said the three men also threatened his child by a former marriage. He told authorities at that time he was afraid to report the beating and robbery to them.

Jury in the Boswell case included W. R. Richards, John E. Cox, Milton Leibold, L. C. Mathis, J. L. Maass, Calvin Seale, J. E. Brown, John E. Fee, W. O. Cunningham, H. W. Denson, Joe Hunter Short, and H. H. Maxwell.

Sam Hoover, Pasadena, was attorney for the defense.

THREE HELD IN MEDINA LAKE BURGLARIES

Two men and one woman are being held in the Bandera jail on burglary charges in connection with the looting of cottages near Medina Lake, according to Deputy Sheriff Ralph Chaney.

Deputy Sheriff Edward Johnson of Medina Lake caught the three after a number of people reported seeing them enter the Medina Lake cottages, about four miles from the cottages entered. He recovered a T Vset, electric percolator, Mixmaster, toaster taken from the Lake cottages. Also in their possession were a TV, two radios, a camera and two rifles taken from San Antonio motels.

Deputy Chaney identified them as Napoleon Benegare Willis Jr., 29; his brother, William Maxon Willis, 37, and Ruby Jewell Johnson, 40.

The burglary charges against the trio also included the looting of the George Holland and Leroy Case cottages. Bonds of $5,000 each were fixed for the two men. The woman's bond was set at $3,000.

Deputy Chaney said the trio is believed to have been operating in the Medina Lake vicinity for about three weeks.

A total of thirty-eight persons are employed by the school with a payroll of about $128,000.

Among other business, the school board adopted the recommendations of the school textbook committee, heard numerous reports from the superintendent about the progress and needs of the school, and authorized the superintendent to requisition a seventy-two passenger bus to replace a 1950 model GMC now being driven by Chas. TWO CASES ARE THIED IN DISTRICT COURT THIS WEEK

District Court convened in Bandera Tuesday for a brief two day session with Judge Marvin Blackwell presiding. Two cases held the center of interest during the two day session.

A jury trial was held in the case of the State of Texas vs. Ramon Huerta Jr., charged with assault with intent to murder. Huerta was found not guilty. This case was heard by the following jury: H. H. Maurek, Calvin Seale, Roland Bertsch, W. B. Richards, John E. Cox, Patrick Godkin, L. C. Mathis, J. E. Brown, J. L. Maas, H. M. Dodson, Orville Wier, and W. O. Cunningham. The attorney in the case was Maurice Lehman of Boerne.

The case was the result of an altercation at the John Langford place in which the Huerta family was involved, on May 2, 1959.

The other case in the State of Texas vs. Jimmy A. Boswell, assault with intent to murder, the complaining witness Clyde D. Moore, invoked the fifth amendment and would not testify, though the case had been called and the jury selected, and though the court offered him immunity. He claimed the incrimination would possibly be in some other county. Testimony of Moore, so instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty.

The case was the outgrowth of an incident in which four persons were booked on September 5, 1959, for robbery by assault. This group included Boswell, Frances Woods, Billy Ray Carpenter, and Thomas Farquiar. The four were sought after Moore identified two of them as having taken part in a robbery at his home. Moore told Sheriff R. B. Miller at that time that three men and a woman invaded his home at about 4 a.m., and woke him up and that one of the men held a pistol on him while the other beat him until he passed out. He related that the woman kicked him after he fell to the floor. Moore told that he had quarreled over business matters with Conner. At that time he was warned not to tell of the robbery. He said the hijackers also threatened his child by a former marriage. He told authorities at that time he was afraid to report the beating and robbery to them.

Jury in the Boswell case included W. R. Richards, John E. Cox, Milton Leibold, L. C. Mathis, J. L. Maas, Calvin Seale, J. E. Brown, John E. Fee, W. O. Cunningham, H. W. Denson, Joe Hunter Short, and H. H. Maurek.

Sam Hoover, Pasadena, was attorney for the defense.

THREE HELD IN MEDINA LAKE BURGLARIES

Two men and one woman are being held in the Bandera jail on burglary charges in connection with the looting of cottages near Medina Lake, according to Deputy Sheriff Ralph Chaney.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Weulner of Webb City, Missouri, held a revival in the Vanderpool church last week. They stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harbin.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bowden on March 1st were: Mr. and Mrs. Ide May Reavis, Jack Dodge, Paul Demorat, Leon Jackson, Gerald Langley, Miss Palmer and Tommy Thomas, of San Antonio.

Mickey Bryan of Temple visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Reavis Friday and Ben Reavis returned home with him to see about a job there.

Mrs. Ray Harp and LeDonna are staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hub Thompson. Ray is working on a construction job at Seguin.

Lon and Curley Thompson and Allen Tampke are building a tool shed on the Sopnen Ranch.

Mrs. Addie Norman is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Curley Thompson and is doing fine since her operation in San Antonio at the Santa Rosa Hospital.

The Utopia basketball girls defeated the Brackettville girls in the LaForge Hall in Uvalde Tuesday night. The score was 46-38. They went to San Marcos Saturday to a Regional play-off and were defeated by Sheridan and Medina.

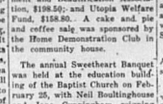
A balanced budget, less government spending and more local responsibility in solving problems, highlighted the first hundred questionaires that have been returned. Most of these came from Brownwood, a few from others, since the first opinion polls went to them.

A Brownwood teacher wrote: "Stay within the proposed budget and lower it. Less gifts, grants, etc., to cities, States, etc.

"I urge you to oppose any expansion of Federal Aid to education. This is the most dangerous factor facing us on the local level," wrote a Bronte farmer.

A Brownwood business man quipped: "David Brinkley said Congress was going to do something about the birds around the Supreme Court building. I think it would be better to take the roof off of the building and leave the birds alone."

A Brownwood mortician commented: "I'm a believer in keeping the government in the hands of the people rather than centralized Federal control."



From Rowena a stock farmer writes: "I think the small family-type farmer should have as much representation as industry or labor. He is caught in high cost and low income squeeze."

"I have voted against the Education aid proposal as I do not believe that people can send money to Washington and then expect to get more than 50 per cent of it back. Therefore, I think each State or community in the U. S. should take care of its educational policies." This is the view of a Brownwood Engineer and former School Board member.

A Superintendent of Schools in Bandera County writes: "I believe education should be handled on a State and local basis, though I know the great need for help."

A Medina rancher likes the idea of the questionnaire. "I just wish that you could send them out more often, as we the public don't voice our opinion as often as we should."

Watching the World Go By
By Roscoe Thomas

Unlimited power is embodied in printed advertising. When you have a worthwhile story to tell just get it in print. There is magic in the printed word.

Psychological warfare is waged largely through the medium of the printed sheet. Mankind's greatest blessing, God's Holy Word, is available to us today in the Bible, and it is a printed book. Printed books hold a wealth of information which is constantly available. Printed journals and newspapers keeps us abreast of the times. Printers are a blessing to mankind—at least some of them are.

Advertising is merely a product of the printer's art. It is closely related to good will, without good will, businesses often fail.

POSTHUMOUS PUBLICATION TELLS STORY OF NOTED FABULOUS WOMAN IN TEXAS

"The Story of Lottie Deno—Her Life and Times," by J. Marvin Hunter, the Four Hunters, Bandera, Texas, 100 pages, $4.50.

Possibly no more elusive and enchanting figure his ever graced the legends and legends of the Southwest than that of Lottie Deno, gambler, lady and legend of her time.

Known either as Lottie Deno or Dulce Deno, she has appeared in history as a very early song and story, but never long enough to give a full and lifelike picture.

The last contribution of that grand old newspaperman and historian of the Texas Hill Country, J. Marvin Hunter, to the lore, legend and history of his beloved Texas, was a full-length biography of Lottie Deno.

It has been published, since his death, by his sons and daughters, who operate a small publishing house dealing in fine Texiana under the name of "The Four Hunters."

Marvin Hunter was possibly the only historian who could have written the story of Lottie Deno. When she vanished from old Fort Griffin in 1878 with some $50,000 in bills and coin tucked away in her satchel, her heart broke, she did a first-rate disappearing act.

She might well have remained a legendary wraith of doubtful existence to this day, but for a young newspaperman named Hunter made the acquaintance, in Denison, Texas, of a charming and gracious Mrs. Frank Harrison, a familiar in the Episcopal church and founding member of Deming's Methodist church.

Good newspaperman that he was, young Hunter cultivated the friendship of this colorful lady and his gift for writing together the story of her fabulous career.

And in time he did establish that Charlotte or "Aunt Lottie" Thurmond of Deming was the long-lost Lady Gambler of the West. His carefully documented story of her adventures and misadventures is well worth reading.

Although at times the book is repetitious, telling and retelling the Lottie Deno story from various original sources, and though at times it wanders afield, to deal with other colorful figures of the times, such as Poker Alice and Calmity Jane, it is interesting throughout.

After all, Lottie Deno was of

Her daughter of a wealthy Old South family, she took to the gambling table after "The War Between the States" in order to support an invalid mother and an infant daughter.

She played the river boats, the New Orleans dives, and finally the gambling halls and bistros of wild-and-woolly Texas in the late 1870's.

She took a fling at San Antonio, moved on to Fort Concho and finally landed at Fort Griffin, the roughest and bloodiest frontier town in all the West, in the early 70s.

In a few years she amassed a fortune and a reputation at Griffin that lasted her the rest of her life.

The former she soaked up in a borrowed leather trunk while she tried to escape the latter by skipping to New Mexico in 1878. There she lived out her days, to the ripe old age of 90, a respectable and respected lady of means.

"Walking serenely and haughtily," writes Hunter, she tripped lightly around the rim of hell and came off untainted, unsullied and unstained, to die in her old age a respected, kindly and well-loved lady. She had always been a lady, Mrs. Henderson Suffin.

The above story was printed in a recent issue of a Houston newspaper.

How to turn a $500 raise into a $1,000 bonus

Wishing won't turn a $5 a week raise into a $1,000 bonus, but it'll pay for you to do.

Put that $5 raise into U.S. Savings Bonds and you can buy an $18.75 Bond a month and have money left over.

Keep buying a Bond a month for 40 months, and you'll have, your big bonus—Bonds worth $1,000 at maturity.

You can buy this $1,000 automatically, too. All you need to do is tell your employer to start making deductions from your pay for Bonds. This way, your raise can't slip through your fingers.

Whether you've just gotten a raise, or not, using the Payroll Savings Plan to buy U.S. Savings Bonds is a fine way to save. Why don't you ask your employer to include you in it?

More advantages to think about

You now get 3¼% interest, at maturity. This new rate which went into effect June 1, 1959, makes your Bond money grow faster. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in just 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959 earn more, too—an extra ½% from now to maturity.

You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash anytime at any bank. But it pays to keep them.

Your money is guaranteed safe by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The Government promises you that the cash value of your Bonds will not drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. You help save the peace with every Bond you buy. Bond money goes for science, education, military strength—the weapons of peace. And the money you save helps keep our nation's economy strong.

Whether you've just gotten a raise, or not, using the Payroll Savings Plan to buy U.S. Savings Bonds is a fine way to save. Why don't you ask your employer to include you in it?

More advantages to think about

You now get 3¼% interest, at maturity. This new rate which went into effect June 1, 1959, makes your Bond money grow faster. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in just 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959 earn more, too—an extra ¼% from now to maturity.

You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash anytime at any bank. But it pays to keep them.

Your money is guaranteed safe by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The Government promises you that the cash value of your Bonds will not drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. You help save the peace with every Bond you buy. Bond money goes for science, education, military strength—the weapons of peace. And the money you save helps keep our nation's economy strong.

Here's how you can reach your savings goal with U.S. Savings Bonds in just 7 years, 9 months

If you want about	save each week
$2,500	$5.45

ANNUAL RED CROSS DRIVE GETS UNDERWAY

The annual fund raising drive for the American Red Cross got underway in Bandera county last week when a coffee was held Thursday morning at the Bandera Country Club. Lewis Sterling, who was general chairman for the occasion, named 16 volunteers to be the various areas throughout the county.

Thirteen volunteers were present at the meeting, and others who were unable to attend, called and assured him of their willingness to assist with this important drive.

Also present to help Bandera county get off to a good start with the fund drive, was Mrs. American Red Cross field representative, Ralph Husted, and his wife, of Austin. Mr. Husted made a short speech and told them of the many disaster areas which the American Red Cross had served during the past year. He stressed the necessity for more funds to have in reserve for future needs and to build up the deficit created by the disaster relief given in the past year.

Mr. Sterling stated that Bandera County's quota for 1960 has been set at $1884.00. Prior to the beginning of the drive, $420.00 was collected in special gifts.

Mr. Sterling has been busily assisted in soliciting volunteers and getting the drive underway by his wife, who was also present at the coffee.

Volunteer workers in the Bandera area include Mrs. G. M. Merrill, Mrs. Leon Shields, Mrs. Tom W. Jennings, Mrs. Fred Briggs, Mrs. E. E. Wyatt, Mrs. Henry Marvin Adams, Mrs. Russell Blair, Miss Emelia Kalka, Marvin Schelle, Mrs. Pearl Gardner, Mrs. Henry Jurecski, Mrs. Tom Robinson, Miss Christine Kalka, Mrs. P. E. Chatthoff, Mrs. C. H. Mansfield, Mrs. Paul Laskowski, Miss Zona Johnson, Mrs. Norma Davenport, Mrs. C. F. Risinger, Mrs. A. D. Small, Miss Xena Crawford, Mrs. A. W. Huseby, Mrs. Leon Shields, Roy Earl, Mrs. Clay Short, and L. D. Chandler.

In the Medina area, Mr. Sterling named the following volunteers: Mrs. J. B. Reed, Mrs. H. A. Burt, Mrs. R. H. Stokes, Mrs. A. J. Flowers, Mrs. Frost Adams, Mrs. Ray Melton, and Mrs. Paul Henry.

Volunteers in the other areas of the county include Mrs. Edward Johnson, Medina; Mrs. Arthur Erfurt, Tarpley; E. S. Jennings and Mrs. Fritz Saur, Pine Creek; Mrs. A. S. Polrado, Vanderpool; and Mrs. Henry Fisher, Utopia.

Anyone else who has not been contacted, but who would like to assist with the drive, is asked to call Mr. Sterling at Sterling Chevrolet Company in Bandera or Mrs. Sterling at Medina at 1179-2926. There are a few areas in the county for which volunteers are still needed, and your assistance will be greatly appreciated.

In accordance with a proclamation issued by the President, the American Red Cross holds a drive for funds each year in March. Let's all give generously and help Bandera County reach its quota, and perhaps even go over the top. We have been very fortunate in not having had a real disaster of any kind here, and we hope that none will occur.

But disasters have occurred in other places and one could occur here. If one should occur, the American Red Cross would in all probability be the first organization to provide assistance. So let's support our Red Cross and give generously.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Linder were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Flach and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Boerner and daughters, of Comfort.

Mrs. G. K. Cheves of Atlanta, Georgia, has been a guest in the home of Col. and Mrs. Clay Short this week. On Tuesday night, the Shorts entertained with a steak dinner in her honor at the Bandera Country Club and on Thursday night they entertained with a lovely buffet supper at the Country Club in honor of Mrs. Cheves and Col. and Mrs. Charles Beaucond of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Slattery of Chicago, spent two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Huseby. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lowe of Corpus Christi were also present in the Huseby home and helped Mrs. Huseby celebrate her birthday on March 8 at the Country Club at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Slattery. The husbands were entertained at the Country Club on Mr. Lowe's birthday by the Huseby. Many other of Mr. and Mrs. Huseby's friends and neighbors entertained the Slatterys and Lowes and helped make their visit a time to be remembered.

OBITUARY OF "ZEKE"

The Free State of Bandera, Texas, is no more. The Chamber of Commerce, here, has decided to secede from the Union, once a year. Members this week voted to abandon their 15 years old republic, at annual ceremony. With it goes Bandera's celebrated woolybesgee; the annual "Stompede." Replacing the Free State and Stompede ideall will be a weekend super aimed at being just as giddy as yesteryear's whoopy, but slanted toward family fun. The new celebration will be known as the "Bandera Western Festival." Slated for the last week-end in April, the first Western Festival will be kicked off with a San Antonio to Bandera trail ride, led by the Bandera Gun Slingers, celebrated fast-draw team, which accompanied the Texas Trail Riders junket from Altair to the San Antonio livestock Exposition and Rodeo last month.

In Bandera, the festival will feature a rodeo, a western parade, a motorcycle climb, an armadillo race, hog-calling, and Old Fiddlers' contests, stage coach and buggy rides, and a giddy gamut of entertainment still in the planning stage, including home-coming celebrations.

Chamber of Commerce President, Henry Adams said announcement of the Western Festival followed a year of discussion by Bandera businessmen who have been increasingly concerned over excess liberties taken by Stompede visitors in recent years. He said "The celebration these last few years has been of no benefit at all to Bandera or visitors. It's been just a bachelor party." Adams added: "We finally decided to refurbish the whole shooting match up to make it staid or any less fun, but to broaden its appeal so that decent families could take ip a week-end of decent fun in the tradition of the Old West. The new Western Festival is shaping up as providing more fun and genuine entertainment than any undertaking in Bandera's colorful history."

The Chamber President said free entertainment being planned by the chamber will be supplemented with special attractions to be staged by civic clubs and dude ranches of Bandera.

Chamber of Commerce

SAN ANTONIO GARDEN PILGRIMAGE SET FOR MARCH 26, 27

With "Spring poppin' out all over" in San Antonio, the twenty-third annual Garden Pilgrimage, sponsored by the Episcopal Christ Church Cathedral Guild, will be held Saturday and Sunday, March 26 and 27, from noon until sundown. In case of rain, the tour will be held on the following week-end.

There are four homes and six gardens to be shown on the pilgrimage, each different in their design and architecture: Mrs. Joseph H. Frost, 506 West King's Highway; Tom Slick, 460 Devine Road; Mrs. H. A. Fitzsimons, Sr., 310 Argyle Avenue; and Mr. and Mrs. David E. Pace, 208 Morningside. The gardens to be shown are those of Mr. and Mrs. Josh H. Groce, 502 West King's Highway, and Dr. and Mrs. John M. McCamish, 705 Ivy Lane.

The majority of the proceeds of the garden pilgrimage this year will be divided between three charities for children: San Antonio Council for Retarded Children, Southwest Foundation for Research and Education (research of children's diseases) and the Children's Division of the San Antonio Public Library.

Buses will leave the Municipal Auditorium for the tour at 15-minute intervals on both days between noon and 2:00 p.m. There is a $1 charge for the bus trip. Buses may be chartered for groups of 35 leaving from any designated place within the city limits.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Shane of Medina were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Buck last Friday.

SALVATION ARMY WILL CALL APRIL 5

The Salvation Army truck with Jim Red Shield will call in Bandera on April 5. The Salvation Army is urgently in need of your discarded clothing, furniture, bedding, shoes, clothing, furniture, stoves, heaters, radios, rugs, and bric-a-brac.

BOYS 4-H NEWS

Meeting was brought to order by Bobby Mueller, parliamentarian as the president and vice-president were unable to attend the meeting. Bobby opened the meeting with the pledge and the motto said by all; roll was called.

Mrs. Hugo Bausch took the place of Mr. Lindig for Mr. Lindig was away. As you know it is customary to write letters of thanks to those who bought our lambs, capons, or hogs. We hope you have received yours! Mrs. Bausch gave everyone the name of the person who bought their stock and they were expected to write the letters. There were many who had already sent their letters and it was a great help, thanks to those who did!

After the regular business was taken care of; we had a party! Games were played and many refreshments were eaten and enjoyed thoroughly. Our many thanks to the women and mothers who helped with the refreshments and the games! It was a very nice party!

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mansfield visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Hendrickson in Uvalde, Wayne and Craig, in San Antonio Sunday afternoon.

YOUR CHILD'S STATUS AS BOTH TAXPAYER AND DEPENDENT

Parents may be entitled to claim their child as a dependent on their Federal income tax return even though the child earned $600 or more during 1959, David W. Sides, Administrative Officer, for Internal Revenue at San Antonio, said today.

Even though the child is required to file an income tax return if he has income of $600 or more for the year, the parent also may claim him as a dependent if certain conditions are met.

If he has been furnished more than half of his support, the parent may claim an exemption for his regardless of the amount he earned, providing he had not reached his 19th birthday by January 1, 1960.

When the child is 19 or over, he still may be claimed as an exemption if he was a full-time student during some part of the five calendar months in 1959, and if the parent meets the support test. A full-time student is one who is enrolled for the number of hours which is considered to be full-time attendance.

In addition to attendance in the regularly recognized high schools and colleges or universities, a child also will be considered a student if he is pursuing a full-time or farm training course under the supervision of an agency of a State or political subdivision.

A child is not considered to be a full-time student if he is employed full time during the day and attends night school, or if he is taking a correspondence course or an employee training course.

These special rules apply only to the taxpayer's own child (including an adopted child or a stepchild). Any other child, whether or not related to the taxpayer, may not be claimed as a dependent if he has gross income of $600 or more, regardless of his age or his status as a student, and regardless of the fact that the taxpayer contributed over half of his support.

If a child is married and files a joint return with his or her spouse, no exemption may be claimed for that children even though all the other tests are met.

Taxpayers who have any questions on this and other subjects should telephone or visit the Internal Revenue Service office.

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. In it you will find mention of many men personally in different Texas communities. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations wanderings through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave "between two days" and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a cowpuncher; of two uneasy days he spent entertaining a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

TWICE-TOLD TEXAS TALES

ALAMO'S FLAG DISCOVERED IN MEXICAN MUSEUM

By B. C. Utecht,

In Fort Worth Star-Telegram

Ninety-seven years have gone by since the Battle of the Alamo, where Travis and his little band of Texans were massacred by Santa Anna's forces, and now, while nearing the centenial of that "glorious defeat," the flag which waved at the peak of the Alamo has been discovered.

This discovery provides a new chapter in Texas history, and reveals with what scorn some high Mexican officials at times condemned Santa Anna's tactics and disregard of civilized warfare.

The flag was carried by soldiers in the first company of New Orleans volunteers and now is on exhibition in the National Museum in the City of Mexico, where several Texans have recently viewed it, obtaining photographs. This very flag, Texas archives disclose, was made and presented to the volunteers by a group of Texas girls on the banks of the Sabine, just after the soldiers had crossed into Texas. It had been lost for almost a century.

W. A. Keeling, former Attorney General, spent some time in the Mexican capital visiting the museum, and was about to leave when his son insisted upon examining another case. There was the Alamo flag.

"I was greatly stirred when I saw the flag," Keeling said, "and the scenes of the Alamo and San Jacinto arose in my mind. At the time I was not positive just where and when the flag was captured from the Texans, but I was determined to obtain this historical relic. The work occupied some time. In January of this year I received a letter from Luis Castillo Ledon, museum director, inclosing copies of data and letters from his archives, that leave no doubt that the flag waved over the Alamo, was captured and taken to Mexico."

Since all the soldiers holding the Alamo were slain, the story of the siege and annihilation is incomplete, and in all its details probably will never be known. Ledon supplied a new chapter, and since this information already was on file in the Mexican archives its authenticity is not now questioned. Ledon sent to Keeling a letter indited by Gen. D. Juan Torrea, describing the capture of the Alamo flag, in the center of which was an eagle, below which was the inscription, "God & Liberty." "First Company of Texas Volunteers. From New Orleans."

The Torrea letter says: "The flag was light blue and was placed at the highest point of the Alamo when the Mexican troops attacked the fort. The old Seventh Regiment of infantry, together with the Twelfth, having united to form the Jiminez battalion in 1836, constituted the fourth column of attack on the Alamo, and was commanded by Col. Juan Morales, the enfeoffed figure who refused to compromise at Vera Cruz in 1847, and later this battalion was commanded by Jose Vincente Filisola, the emigh historian, in the combat of 30 against 400. It was composed of companies of canadores, of the regulars of Matamoros and Jiminez, and of the auxiliary of San Luis Potosi.

"This column advanced in the attack on the fort (the Alamo) on the side where the blue flag of the volunteers waved. Three color bearers of the old Seventh, who proudly carried the tri-colored flag, were willed before reaching the crest to substitute their colors for the Texas flag. The names of these heroic soldiers our careless military history has lost.

"In order to reinforce the column of attack a reserve company was advanced, formed by the Zapadores battalion and the five companies of grenadiers of the regulars of Matamoros, Jiminez and Aldama, and the auxiliaries of Toluca and San Luis, units which were, until incomplete.

"A lieutenant of the Zapadores, whose name history has lost, as well as that of the brave one who took the Texas flag and placed on the fort the tri-color, kept our flag on the highest peak of the Alamo until the end.

"In the documents in the artillery museum this merit is unjustly given to General Santa Anna, but acts particularly heroic like the flag waved over the Alamo, was captured and taken to Mexico."

"In the documents in the artillery museum this merit is unjustly given to General Santa Anna, but acts particularly heroic like the flag waved over the Alamo, was captured and taken to Mexico."

"The tactic development of the action, that is, the taking of the fort, according to the facts and information given by the parties, was common place, inadequate and needlessly bloody. The commanding general operated with the ignorance and stupidity befitting a sergeant, while the inhuman order which he authorized revealed him as a man prompted purely by ambition. All that shedding of blood caused by lack of foresight of the commander, has no other reasonable explanation than his childish desire to make his name famous as a vulgar 'knife killer' — not a commandable ambition."

Thus, General Torrea, himself a high and respected Mexican general, used about as harsh language against Santa Anna and the slaughter at the Alamo as has any Texan.

It was Santa Anna — so noted that, no quarter be given the Texans.

It was Santa Anna who ordered the massacre of Fannin's men at Goliad, this after they already had surrendered. It was Santa Anna, who after his capture at San Jacinto, walked up to General Sam Houston and blurted out that he Santa Anna, was the "Napoleon of the West."

In later years Texans corresponded with Santa Anna to learn just why he had ordered the Alamo butchery, and his reply, now in the Capitol archives, said Travis was too obstinate.

In this battle 180 Texans fought 10,000 Mexicans, and they were held off for 11 days, the storming coming on March 6, 1836, but before the massacre Travis' small body of men had killed about 600 of the enemy. This was greater odds than the Belgian opposition to the German army, when, at the beginning of the World War, Belgians delayed the Germans for eight days when they sought to cross into France.

The Texas archives and the painting in the Senate, known as "Dawn at the Alamo," disclose only one flag, that of 1824, waving over the Alamo. The New Orleans Grays carried the flag presented by the Texas girls, and the body of these volunteers was elsewhere, mostly with Panas and nearly all of the New Orleans outfit was massacred at Goliad. It was known a flag of the New Orleans Grays were at the Alamo, but it was not known to Texas historians that their flag was over the fort, as Mexicans called it, though in reality a church.

Texans at a convention at Washington March 2 had declared independence of Mexico but Travis and his men did not know this, so regarded the 1824 flag, along with that of New Orleans, as theirs.

Nothing is more amazing and peculiar than history, and its "ifs" play an important part. The State of Coahuila and Texas were one and the same in spirit, had the same mutual interests, both had revolted against the Mexican government and both operated under the 1824 flag, which stood for a liberal constitution for colonists adopted in that year. Coahuila was as much in revolt as Texas, but Santa Anna had little difficulty in conquering that State. Had he not done so, Coahuila and Texas would have united and formed a separate political unit. Plans for such a development were well under way at the time.

When Kemble began his correspondence with Ledon he impressed him with the fact he desired authenticity above everything else. He still says his blood boils at thought of the Alamo, but he blames Santa Anna. In his dealings with Mexicans he has found them desirous of going to great lengths to accommodate Texans.

J. K. Martin, San Antonio, member of the Texas Highway Commission, on a recent visit to Mexico City, obtained a photograph of the flag, and it also has been seen by Hal Brennan, Laredo, former state commander of the American Legion.

The Alamo massacre so inspired the Texans in the battle of San Jacinto that they went into the fight shouting, "Remember the Alamo," and when the Mexicans were fleeing and were being hard set upon they had their own battle cry." It was "Me no Alamo, me no Alamo."

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Property Rendering Deadlines Near

April 1 will be the deadline for most Texans to render their property to certain taxing agencies. Most taxes levied against real and personal property to be rendered for taxes on or before prescribed dates. Those who fail to comply can blame only themselves for the money loss they may consequently suffer.

Some Texas cities set their own rendition dates. These are the cities of more than 5,000 population which have incorporated under the "Home Rule" provisions of our statutes. All other cities are governed by the general laws of Texas.

In towns operating under the general laws property must be rendered for taxes between January 1 and April 1 each year. A number of home rule cities set up the same requirements in their ordinances, while others prescribe different periods.

For state and county tax purposes, property must be rendered to the County Tax Assessor by April 20, and homestead exemptions must be claimed by the same date.

In some localities a third taxing unit is involved—the independent school district. In other places school taxes are collected by the city or county. In addition, some localities have water, irrigation, or levee districts which assess and collect taxes. Make inquiry as to where these various taxes are assessed, and as to applicable deadlines for rendition.

What property must be rendered for taxes? If Texas laws were strictly enforced, we would be required to render all taxing units nearly every piece of real and personal property which we own down to the very clothing on our backs. An exception is the constitutional exemption of $250 worth of household furniture. However, no taxing unit carries their requirements this far, and it will be necessary to inquire of each tax assessor when rendering your property whether specific types of property are ordinarily rendered in that locality. Some cities and counties collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, television sets and other personal items, while others ignore practically all personal property. Business and professional men are generally required to render all merchandise, furniture, fixtures, business automobiles and equipment.

If property is not rendered by the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and the taxing agency places such valuation thereon as it considers fair. One advantage in rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation. Then, if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order, you will be given an opportunity to appear before a board to explain why the higher figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Thereafter, an appeal to the courts is possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others.

If you do not render the valuation put by the taxing agency is final.

Remember these facts: You may need to render your property at three or more different tax offices.

Be sure to question the deadline concerning the rendition of the various types of specific personal items.

This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.

STOCK SALES INCREASE AT UNION STOCK YARDS

A market report issued at the Union Stock Yards San Antonio showed an increase in the volume of livestock sold through the Yards for February of 1960 over February of 1959. Every division showed an increase in sales, which was also accompanied by very favorable prices in every division.

February of 1960 saw 17,368 cattle, 4,892 calves, 4,030 hogs and 4,155 sheep and goats. These were substantial increases over 1959 and the increases were 5,470 cattle or 31 per cent; 2,065 calves or 42 per cent; 575 hogs or 15 per cent and 90 sheep and goats or 2 per cent. The increased volume of livestock is felt to be only an indication of the growth which has taken place in the livestock industry of south and southwest Texas in the last several years and the big increase in marketing which is expected at the Union Stock Yards during 1960. Ranchmen around Southwest Texas are beginning to refer to the Union Stock Yards as the "market on the go" and this 8,100 head increase in sales for February of 1960 over February of 1959 is certainly an indication of what 1960 holds in store for the San Antonio market.

In our mail box this week was a nice letter from Mrs. Rosa Stevens, who now resides in San Antonio, and who sent in the renewal to her Bandera Bulletin so she can keep in touch with her relatives and friends here. She wrote "I sure do not want to miss getting the Bulletin. I enjoy it so much."

ALAMO DISTRICT TEACHERS MEETING

Bandera teachers will be attending the meeting of Alamo District Texas State Teachers Association in San Antonio on Friday, March 11, so there will be no classes in Bandera Schools that day. However, special attention is called to the Spring Olympics to be held on the football field and in the gym on Friday night starting at 7:30. The teachers will be back from their day of professional meeting and ready to do their part to make this event a success.

The day in San Antonio will start for all Bandera teachers at 8:30 a.m., with the first general session in the Municipal Auditorium. Featured speaker at this time will be H. Roe Bartle, Mayor of Kansas City, Missouri. The noon period is given over to a number of luncheons with speakers and exhibits in the different subject fields and several workshops in the high school with high level new methods and techniques in teaching. For at least two Bandera teachers the day will start well before 9:30 a.m., because Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lewis will be attending the N.E.A. Life Membership breakfast at 7:30 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Schnelle will be attending the House of Delegates meeting in the Grand Ballroom of the Gunter Hotel on the evening of March 10. In addition to attending to the business matters of the Alamo District, those who attend this meeting will hear an address by Dr. H. H. Montgomery, professor of economics, University of Texas. Mr. Schnelle is president of the Local Unit 220, and he and Mrs. Schnelle are attending as elected delegates of the local unit.

NOTED SCIENCE TEACHER WILL VISIT BANDERA

Jesse Arriaga, one of 20 specially trained science teachers participating in an eight-state traveling science demonstration-lecture program during the 1959-60 school year, will spend one week in the Bandera High School, beginning March 14.

The program is supported by a $335,000 National Science Foundation grant to Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, where Arriaga spent three months during the past summer in preparation for the job.

While at OSP he was issued a station wagon completely equipped with demonstration apparatus and supplies. He and the other 19 traveling science teachers were selected by a committee of scientists because of their outstanding qualifications.

Arriaga, 25, is a native Texan. He was born at San Antonio and attended school there, graduating from Tech high in 1950.

He attended San Antonio college and St. Mary's university, where he received a degree in 1954.

A member of the Texas State Teachers Association and the American Chemical society, he is chemistry and physics teacher in the Edgewood independent school district in San Antonio during the 1958-59 school year.

He is active in music, fishing, and hunting, and he has traveled in Panama and Mexico.

SENIOR NEWS

The seniors had a thrilling experience this week. The measurements for caps and gowns were taken with much enthusiasm. Caps and gown pictures were also taken Thursday. Naturally, everyone was excited and nervous; but, with luck, we shouldn't have too many with eyes closed or hair sticking out!

Many of the seniors will be participating in the Spring Olympics tonight. The girls, along with other girls from the fifth to the eleventh grades, will be putting on a very impressive exhibition of calisthenics. No one will want to miss the Spring Olympics tonight.

MRS. MAZUREK'S SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

Jim Evans visited Bill Small, Saturday. They went hiking in Indian Waters. Later they went to see "The Warrior and the Slave Girl."

Glenda Kaye Ritcheson's brother-in-law and family visited her over the week-end.

Eleven of our pupils are entered among the various events for the Spring Olympics, Friday night.

Thursday, the seventh grade is going on their school trip. They are going to some of the missions in San Antonio. They are leaving at 8:45 and are going to be back around four o'clock.

Charmen Hicks and Diane Everett are going to report on the mammals of Texas, Wednesday, in Texas geography period.

Two of our pupils are winners of the Soil Conservation contest. Louis Reininger placed first and Charmen Hicks fourth.

FRESHMAN NEWS

I guess everyone has either read or heard that Rosemary Faurie won sixth with her soil conservation theme, "Soil Conservation—Who Is Responsible."

Last week the freshmen really started studying as it was time for sixth-week tests. We hope that everyone made good grades.

Jo Ann Zigler had a lot of fun and excitement over the week-end. She is looking forward to the Boat Show to be held this coming Saturday.

MRS. FOCKE'S THIRD GRADE

Some people have all the energy! After all that Irish jig the third graders did on Friday night, Linda Goodenough and her family went bowling in Kerrville as soon as the performance was over.

On Saturday, Steven Faulkner and his family drove to Kerrville to buy shoes for Steven and his two sisters. They could not find any to fit Steve.

Sherry Lee Davis had better luck when she went to Kerrville for shoes. She bought some nice new ones and also saw her sister's new baby daughter.

Susie Short had a busy day, Sunday. After church they ate dinner and drove out to see the proud parents at this very special gift, and with each passing birthday Marilyn has grown more and more into the [illegible] she now is.

During the first [illegible] six weeks [illegible] school year, [illegible] was fairly uneventful. The seventh grade marked the beginning of her participation in the Bulldog Band, which, for the past six years, has been benefited by her enthusiasm and excellent ability. She has been awarded honors in district as well as regional competition, and has a good knowledge of music.

Marilyn's musical abilities have not been manifest in the band alone, but have been greatly appreciated by the FHA which chose her as its song leader in her junior year. Marilyn is also a member of the Wesleyan Choir and the Methodist Senior Choir. Outside the field of music, she serves Mr. Church in a wide variety of capacities; she is the current president of the MYF.

In the department of homemaking, Marilyn has also become accomplished. She is a very good seamstress and is generous in explaining suit-making to another in the class if Mrs. Rimmer does not seem needed elsewhere. She has been active in the FHA for four years.

As may be well-determined by this account of Marilyn thus far, her main "likes" include music and sewing. She also enjoys sports, having played on tennis and volleyball teams in her freshman year. That of which she is most fond, however, may be described as a tall, blonde-headed guy with a friendly personality. This girl whose ready smile radiates an inner glow and whose accomplishments draw appreciation is sure to experience a happy future. The Senior Class extends to her their best wishes.

[illegible] not the amount of rain that falls that counts, it is the amount that you save.

HERMAN THALMANN IS GUEST OF HIS DAUGHTER

Herman Thalmann, of Houston, has been the guest of his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jones Herriott, while he is recuperating from a major operation. He has also visited his mother, Mrs. Flora Thalmann, and other relatives this week. His wife will join him this week-end.

With our present good moisture conditions, some warm weather during the next few weeks will begin the 1960 growing season. Farmers and ranchers in the Bandera SCD are reminded of a few principles of grass management. Most of our good, native, summer grasses have started putting out some green shoots. The first growth is exhausting the plant food stored up last fall. Grazing during the early spring will reduce vigor and forage production for the rest of the year. The first green leaves on the grass plant are needed to begin photosynthesis or the "growing process." If these leaves are continually grazed, the plant will soon lose all of its vitality and will be unable to grow. During July and August, these plants will suffer due to lack of root and forage development. They will not be able to complete their [illegible] "invaders" plants for available water. Some of these grasses with [illegible] are [illegible] grazed all Texas motorists to [illegible] their new inspection stickers at an early date.

Garrison reported that there [illegible] than 4,300,000 will be inspected in Texas this year. To date only about half that number have gone through inspection lines at some 4,300 inspection stations located throughout the state.

The DPPS director pointed out that inspection stations cannot inspect vehicles during wet, rainy weather, a condition normally prevailing during late winter and early spring. To make sure every vehicle owner is able to obtain his 1960 inspection sticker in time, Garrison suggested that plans be made now to visit an inspection station, before inspection lines grow long.

TWO MILLION MOTOR VEHICLES TO BE INSPECTED

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that more than two million motor vehicles remain to be inspected before [illegible] deadline. He urged all Texas motorists to obtain their new inspection stickers at an early date.

POLE-VAULT EXHIBITION AT BULLDOG FIELD

A pole-vault contest will take place at the Bulldog field at 6:00 p.m., this afternoon. Come see the pole-vault event and enjoy while you enjoy the delicious [illegible] supper.

EDDIE RYAN'S MOTHER SUCCUMBS AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Taking part in the pole-vault will be Abraham Montoya, 8 seventh graders who has cleared eight and one-half feet this year. Also taking part will be John Aladis and Charles Walker who tied for third place honors at district last year. Both boys are capable of going nine feet or better. Another entry will be Bryan King who has cleared nine feet this year.

Roger Poe, who has won first place at district the last two years and third at regional both years will also take part. Roger has made 12 feet during the summer and is working hard for a consistant 12 foot vault. Roger is expected to be a contender for state honors this year.

Come on out and see those boys in one of the most difficult events in track.

MRS. SHORT ANNOUNCES CANCER FILMS WILL BE SHOWN

Mrs. Clay Short, announced this week, the showing of two fine cancer films at the Bandera Theatre on April 8, at 2 p.m. The films will be "Time and Two Women" and a comedy film, "Miss Alive." These films are being shown in many places as educational features of the American Cancer Society and are most helpful in the detection of cancer.

JOE FLY PASSES AWAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Joe Fly, one of Bandera's most colorful ranchmen is dead, following a long illness, at the age of 81 years. Mr. Fly died in Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital in Kerrville on March 11, 1960.

Joseph Dalton Fly, was born on February 24, 1879, at Knockernut, Texas, but had resided in Bandera county and this area for the past 35 years. Mr. Fly was one of the most highly esteemed ranchmen in this area and was also one of the last of Texas' great cowboys. He loved horses and livestock and the beautiful hills where he lived. He was a kindly man and a friendly one, who could not number his friends. They were so many. He was a gentleman of the old school and loved by all who knew him for his kindly manner and witty and happy disposition.

Survivors include his beloved wife, Mrs. Nettie Fly of Bandera; two sons, Farris D. Fly, of Olive Hill, Kentucky, and Joe Pete Fly of Kenedy, Texas; one daughter, Mrs. Hugh Johnson, of Kerrville; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, March 14, 1960, at 2:30 p.m., in the Plummer Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. David Stewart, pastor of the Bandera Methodist Church officiating and interment was made in the Bandera county cemetery under the direction of Plummer Funeral Home. Pall bearers were D. W. (Speedy) Hicks, Rhea Mansfield, Les Short, Joe Short, Earl Davenport and Lane Langford.

Ode to the Old Timers, by Wallace David Coburn, expresses our thoughts when we think of Joe Fly.

Among relatives and friends who came to pay their last respects to the beloved gentleman were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fly of Kenedy, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Johnson, Miss Martha Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson of Kerrville, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Dicker of Marion, Walter Dicker, Mrs. Joe Cummins and Mrs. Homer Olsen of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Fly of Olive Hill, Kentucky.

Slowly, yet steadily, one by one,
The old timers go to their last long sleep.
And in each (Texas) has lost a son
Whose precious soul she fain would keep.
But they all pass over the Great Divide.
To seek new fields on the other side.

But few remain of those heroes bold,
Who came 'out West" in the early days—
Ah! few of that gallant crew remain.

How many people in this great State
Think of the hardships these men endured.
How many really appreciate
The wealth that they for our state secured?
Alas! there are few of those aged hearts
We may yet make glad ere the soul departs.

MRS. FISHER IS GUEST SPEAKER AT GARDEN CLUB

The Madrona Garden Club held a most interesting meeting in the education building of the Bandera church of Christ last Friday afternoon with Mrs. C. G. Armstrong and Mrs. H. L. Bruce as hostesses, and Mrs. Sterling Fisher of Utopia, as guest speaker.

Mrs. Leo D. Fisher, club president opened the meeting and conducted a short business meeting before Mrs. Sterling Fisher spoke on "Dried Arrangements."

The club planned the planting of the planter at the new post office as the Postal Department had requested that they do this, and allocated $100 for this project. Mrs. Fisher appointed Mrs. A. W. Hunsby, Mrs. Joe H. Short, Mrs. Bill Short and Mrs. Burgin Davenport to attend to all arrangements.

Mrs. Fisher said, "Gather your materials, just before they mature, for drying." For drying many of the beautiful native plants for use in dried arrangements, use a solution of one-third part glycerine to two thirds part water. Place the stems in this solution until the plants absorb enough to fill them the desired color of brown or golden brown.

Mrs. Fisher had on display many of her original arrangements of dried materials, featuring her favorite hand made ceramic containers and plants. All done in their natural colors.

Mrs. Fisher said, "Thanks to the garden club work my eyes have been opened to the beauty of God's handiwork and I try very hard to show off His handiwork in the things I arrange from His beautiful creations."

Mrs. Fisher is noted for her creative work with ceramics as well as her very artistic flowing arrangements and designs. The Madrona Garden Club appreciated very much her fine talk and the beautiful array of specimens shown.

Mrs. Leo Fisher announced that next month was Golden Age month and the club voted to invite ladies from age 75 years up as guests. Those who are interested, or have a friend who would like to come are urged to get in touch with Mrs. Fisher or one of the Garden Club ladies so that proper arrangements can be made for the event. The tea will be held at the regular meeting of the Club on April 6 at the Country Club with Mrs. J. W. Edwards, Mrs. Roe Mitchell and Mrs. W. R. Jordan as hostesses. Mrs. Fisher also announced that the San Antonio Garden Center Flower Show would take place last Saturday and Sunday.

Refreshments of strawberry short cake and coffee was served to Mesdames E. M. Poe, Sam Dee, J. W. Edwards, J. F. Edwards, C. A. Duke, Edwin Vawter, E. A. Johnson, Burgin Davenport, J. E. Ryan, Johnny Langford, Fred Pressnall, Frank Krueger, C. G. Armstrong, Mrs. I. T. Cleveland and the guest speaker, Mrs. Sterling Fisher.

Guests for the day were Mrs. John R. Langford, Mrs. J. F. Ryan, Mrs. I. T. Cleveland and Mrs. Frank Krueger. Mrs. Cleveland, who is a sister of Mrs. Jordan, became a very welcome new member of the club.

CAR OVERTURNS AND BURNS

BLOOD BANK WILL BE IN KERRVILLE MARCH 25TH

The Red Cross Blood Bank will be in Kerrville at the First Baptist Church, 625 Washington Street, from 1 to 6:30 p.m., next Friday, March 25. No appointments are necessary for blood donors.

Bandera County residents received 28 pints of Red Cross blood at the Peterson Memorial Hospital in Kerrville last year. Since the blood bank does not come to Bandera anymore the residents of our county who go to the Kerrville hospital actually received blood provided by the people of Kerr County. In other words, the people of Kerr County are more or less under obligation to give enough blood for their own people as well as all others who receive blood transfusions at Peterson Hospital.

People do not pay for the Red Cross blood they receive, they only pay an administration fee, which covers the cost of giving the blood transfusion.

Let's be good neighbors and do our part in helping Kerr County folk supply blood for those who need it.

If you are able to give blood please make a special effort to go to Kerrville next Friday. By giving blood you will help Kerr County meet their quota and will reserve them for some of the blood used by Bandera County residents.

You will also help assure your friends and neighbors of the availability of more Red Cross Blood when it is needed.

SPRING AND FOOTBALLS IN THE AIR

Footballs are flying through the air at the high school and St. Joseph's football fields.

The sixth and seventh graders of the St. Joseph's team will play the graduating 8th graders plus some new boys that weren't on the team last year.

All the boys will practice two weeks and play April 3, Sunday, at 3:00 p.m., at the high school field.

The proceeds of the match will be used for the elementary football banquet and the scoreboard at the high school field.

All football fans be sure and attend as you will see in action the future Bandera Bulldogs.

EX-MEDINA WOMAN IS SLAIN IN CALIFORNIA

Sorrow struck the town of Medina Sunday when news of the tragic death of Mrs. Lucille Mackey was received by her mother, Mrs. Fred Haase. The following report was given in an Associated Press Report carried Monday in the San Antonio Express:

Sacramento, California—An Air Force couple from the southwest was found shot to death in living quarters at nearby Mather Air Force Base Sunday night.

An Air Force spokesman, still seeking a motive, said it was apparently murder and suicide.

Mrs. Lucille Mackey, originally from Medina, Texas, had been strangled with a leather strap and shot through the head. MSgt. Bill Short and Mrs. Burgin Davenport to attend to all arrangements.

Mrs. Fisher said, "Gather your materials, just before they mature, for drying." MEETING OF THE ROSE GARDEN CLUB

The Rose Garden Club of Medina had its regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon, March 9th, at the home of Mrs. D. Latta. Mrs. Dan Webb of Ingram was co-hostess. There were twenty-seven members and four guests present.

The president, Mrs. Paul E. Garrison, called the meeting to order. There were two floral line arrangements made by club members— Mrs. J. D. Latta and Mrs. C. E. Jackson—to be judged. They were judged by club members, Mrs. Paul Garrison, Mrs. Dan Webb and Mrs. Isabel Anderson, and both were considered in the blue ribbon class.

During the business meeting it was voted to spend up to $50 on the beautification of the Medina shopping area; the Garden Club hopes for the help and cooperation of the Rotarians on this project. In this connection it is to be remembered that it is almost time for the Garden Club sponsored Clean Up Day and The Flowers By The Yard Contest. No definite date for these events has been set but they will be the last of May or the first of June; it is none too early to start disposing of the winter debris and planting and grooming your gardens for their summer beauty. It was also decided to have a Fall Flower Show in Medina—date to be announced later.

For some time the members of The Rose Garden Club have made voluntary contributions at their monthly meetings to a fund established at the Kerrville State Home to give the inmates extra pleasures for which there is no provision in their State budget— For example, due to this fund some of the inmates were able to see a moving picture last month which gave them great pleasure and diversion. The Rose Garden Club is gratified that its members contributed $7.50 toward this at the Wednesday meeting. The Club was also proud to learn that four of their members who are accredited judges— Mesdames J. D. Latta, Paul E. Garrison, Isabel Anderson, and F. M. Anderson, Jr.—were asked to be judges at the "Jewels In The Sun" Flower Show in San Antonio March 11th and 12th.

The speaker of the day was Mrs. W. L. Carrington, a club member, whose topic was "Color I Landscape." The club is fortunate in having Mrs. Carrington because she knows her subject so thoroughly and presents it so lucidly. She made large diagrams in both color and black and white to illustrate her talk. She emphasized the importance of color on our lives—the proper arrangement of colors makes beauty; beauty in environment produces contentment and happiness, and they in turn add to our good health. So it is important, both from the standpoint of beauty and health, that we know how to use and place our colors, both in the home and in the garden.

The meeting proper was followed by a very pleasant social period during which tea, coffee, and delicious assorted cakes were served by the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Brack Wiggins of Medina visited our office Monday afternoon to renew their subscription to the Bandera Bulletin and place an advertisement for the sale of some hay and other articles. They tell us they will soon move to Kerrville to make their home. We know their community will miss them, but wish for them happiness in their new home.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Despite tightly-drawn lines and strong convictions, the current battle over an election year civil rights bill is tame compared with some historic debates on that subject in the past. Historians delving into old records report that the statesmen really got their dander up in the old days.

Feelings ran the highest 100 years ago, just before the war between the States. In 1860 Owen Lovejoy, Republican Congressman of Illinois, is said to have roamed the aisles of the House chamber, crossing over to the Democratic side, pointing his finger into the faces of Southerners with threats and challenges relating to the slavery issue.

Congressman Roger A. Pryor, a Virginia member, could take only so much. He ordered Lovejoy to get back on his own side. At that point John S. Potter, a Wisconsin Republican, rushed to Lovejoy's side, and in a moment there was a bedlam of 50 or 40 milling legislators. Order was restored without bloodshed.

Later Rep. Martin Crawford of Georgia wrote of the episode:

"I never said a word, but quietly cocked my revolver in my pocket and took my position in the midst of the mob . . . I had made up my mind to sell my blood out at the highest possible price."

Later Pryor challenged Potter to a duch saving him to choose the weapons. Potter accepted, choosing bowie knives. Pryor called this barbarous, and both parties settle by calming each other's words.

The Senate was less tumultuous in those days. But one Senator, James Hammond of South Carolina, early in the 1860's said that "as everybody has a revolver . . . a general fight in one or the other House with great slaughter is always possible. No two nations on earth," he continued, "ever were more distinctly separate and hostile—than we are here."

NEW SPRING HATS ARE HERE

New spring hat-ware blossoming in shop windows now. The spring collection includes cloche types that fit the head snugly and many to be worn like a halo—slightly back on the head and centered.

A hat and the finishing touch to an ensemble, it should also serve as a lovely frame for the face. With the great variety in style, color and fabric, there will be a hat perfect for you. Consider the hat in relation to your figure as well as your face. Also notice the profile. The side view should be pleasing too. Always stand and take a look at yourself in a full length mirror when trying on a hat, to get the full effect it has on your face and figure.

To add length to the face and figure, wear hats with brims that turn upward. Hat decorations with an upswept air will also tend to keep the eye moving in a vertical direction.

To shorten the face and figure, wear hats with sloping brims or fitted close to the head. Hats in bright, contrasting color or with horizontally placed decoration will stop the eye, decreasing the apparent height of the figure.

Hats worn straight on the head are the hardest to wear. This style produces a straight line across the forehead which shortens and broadens the face.

For best results, shop when you are rested and have time to look carefully; and do remember to use the full-length mirror.

A sure sign of spring is when the ladies begin getting busy working in their yards, in addition to other work to make the home more comfortable and attractive. On a beautiful day, it seems as if the whole of them busy cleaning flower beds, working in new soil and investing monkey grass. That grass will be evidence of all the work when it really comes spring of the year.

Mrs. J. W. Edwards at Pipe Creek also finds time to love flowers and what woman wouldn't be, since that is the place they spend so much of their time. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards were real industrious and did most of the work themselves, put in a new floor, covered it with vinyl linoleum, then added cabinets with double sinks, painted some she already had and added a new gas range. Then we took a look in the yard and saw evidence of Mrs. Edwards hobby, that of worlfing with iris. She had a hundred or more named so that she will know exactly what is in bloom and if she chooses to keep that particular one.

The L. J. Edwards have been busy also fixing up their living room with a new finish for the walls, new paint job, draperies and other furnishings, all very tastefully chosen to give beauty and comfort to their home.

BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

CONSERVATION · DEVELOPMENT · SELF-GOVERNMENT

J. L. Beagle reports good results with a winter legume cover crop of alfalfa on his ranch at Tarpley. Beagle planted the alfalfa last September. It was fertilized according to recommendations based on a soil analysis. Besides the soil conditioning benefits derived from the legume, Beagle was able to get some good grazing from the 25 acres. The ewes grazed all winter with a minimum of supplemental feed, and raised a better than 100 per cent lamb crop. Beagle credits a lot of this to the application of the right kinds and amount of fertilizer. At the present time the field is being rested to allow new growth and provide Spring cover on the field. Beagle plans to put the field to hay this summer and to fertilize again next Fall.

Three small stock ponds on the John Rogers ranch west of Medina were treated last week with bluestone and fertilizer to provide better fishing this summer. Rogers assisted by an SCS technician, applied 3½ pounds of bluestone per acre foot of water to eliminate some of the moss. This was followed by application of fertilizer to increase the fertility of the water. The increasing fertility will support more fish food and will help to control regrowth of the moss. Cost of the treatment with bluestone and fertilizer on these ponds was approximately $1.75 per pound. Additional fertilizer will be applied every two to three weeks until June by Rogers to keep the fertility up during this period.

Half of the forage grown on a good condition range is more than all of the forage grown on a poor condition range.

Farmers in the Bandera Soil Conservation District are reminded that now is the time to begin planting summer legume cover crops. Summer legumes provide soil improvement, soil conditioning and protection from erosion. Last year's article on the planting of guar, Brabham peas and Chinese red peas, as well as fertilizing with super-phosphate, may be obtained from the Bandera County Agriculture Conservation Program.

Taylor Wootton, who ranches at Pipe Creek, has recently completed clearing 100 acres of second growth cedar. This brush control is part of Wootton's overall conservation plan worked out with the Bandera SCD. Wootton has cleared approximately 350 acres of brush in the past two years. As a result of eleminating this brush competition, native grasses such as sideoats grama and little bluestem are on the increase. By proper stocking Wootton expects to increase production and to provide better soil and water conservation.

FARMERS LOSING SOCIAL SECURITY CREDITS

Some farmers are losing social security credit by not reporting their earnings, according to John D. Palmer, district manager of the San Antonio social security office. This may mean loss of benefits to a farmer's survivors if he dies or loss of his own retirement benefits.

Any farmer who has a profit of $400.00 or more in a year is required to file a tax return and pay social security taxes. This return must be filed even though the farmer has no income tax to pay. Even if a farmer does not have a $400.00 profit but has a gross farm income of $600.00 or more, he can elect to report his farm income for social security purposes.

Farmers who have neglected to report earnings for social security credit may still do so for 1956 or any later years. Palmer stated that any farmer who wants to report earnings from self-employment should contact the local social security office or internal revenue office for advice.

RED CROSS HELPS MANY PEOPLE

Assistance given to servicemen, veterans, their families and dependents, and others by Texas Red Cross chapters reporting during 1959, last year totalled a total of 50,505 cases. Figures released today in Dallas by James H. Bond and Jo Rae Anthony by Mary S. Erskine, Red Cross national field service chairman for the state, show that 138 chapters reported assistance given through Home Service, local arm of a world-wide Red Cross organization serving the armed forces, veterans, and their dependents.

Home Service assistance, Mr. Bond and Mr. Erlandson said, was available in every part of the state through 252 Red Cross chapters. The services of counseling and referrals for servicemen and veterans; emergency communication between service personnel and their families; reporting on home situations for use of the military in determining emergency leaves, transfers, or discharges; emergency financial assistance; and help to veterans applying for government benefits are part of a program of assistance required of the Red Cross by its charter from the U. S. Congress.

Last year, services to the armed forces and veterans cost the American National Red Cross $33,402,000, or 39 per cent of every Red Cross dollar expended. Half of this expenditure was in chapter Home Service, largely staffed by volunteers, and the remainder represents costs of such services as assistance given through Red Cross representatives assigned to military units and hospitals at home and overseas and to Veterans Administration regional offices, see and maintenance of a nation-wide communication network totaling 9,697 Red Cross chapters and U. S. military installations, and recreation programs in Europe, North Africa, and Korea, conducted by request of the armed forces.

In Texas, 10,146 cases received assistance in the form of direct financial aid totalling $11,000, which was given either as outright grants or as emergency interest-free loans in cases where need was temporary and repayment could easily be made. Such loans, Mr. Bond and Mr. Erlandson emphasized, are the only instance in which Red Cross requests or accepts repayment of assistance given through any of its health, educational, or welfare programs.

He cited as an example of the help provided for servicemen the recent case of a soldier from the Midwest, stationed overseas with his wife and two small children. When the second child was born, the wife developed a serious heart condition which required her return by hospital plane to a military hospital in Texas for surgery. The serviceman, provided with Red Cross funds because he had no time to draw military pay, returned to the U. S. on another plane with his two-year-old son and nine-week-old daughter.

The Red Cross field director assigned to his case met the couple, fied a field director at Travis Air Force Base, near San Francisco, of his scheduled arrival. A Red Cross worker met the plane, looked after the children while the father conducted some necessary business, and drove the family 60 miles to the Oakland airport for the flight to the serviceman's home. Mean while, the field director at Travis wired the Red Cross chapter in the wife's home community, and arrangements were made for his parents to meet the plane. The wife was taken by military plane directly to Brooke Army Hospital at San Antonio, the Army arranged for the serviceman's transfer to duty there, and the Red Cross provided additional financial assistance to keep mounting expenses.

A breakdown into types of cases handled by chapters last year in Texas, Mr. Bond and Mr. Erlandson said, shows that: 33,681 concerned servicemen and women and their families, an average of 4,107 each month; 12,009 represent assistance to veterans and their dependents, chiefly through help in applying for government benefits, for an average of 1,556 cases each month. In addition, 4,815 other cases averaging $12 a month, were handled in communities where there were no other agencies which could help and where Red Cross chapters were able to serve them in addition to meeting needs of servicemen, veterans, and their dependents.

The services provided in these cases were given by the American people, Mr. Bond and Mr. Erlandson pointed out, whose voluntary contributions through Red Cross annual fund campaigns, or through federated campaigns in which the Red Cross participates, are the organization's only source of income. To continue providing them during the coming year, they said, every chapter participating in the March campaign for members and funds must meet its share of the $95,000,000 budget for local, national, and international services.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hunter of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. J. Marvin Hunter Jr. and daughter, Carlie Sue, of Kerrville, and Mr. and Mrs. Les Short of Station C were guests in the home of their mother, Mrs. J. Marvin Hunter Sr., during the week.

NEW SPRING HATS ARE HERE

New spring hats are blooming in shop windows now. The spring collection includes cloche types that fit the head snugly and many [illegible] to be worn like a halo—slightly back on the head and centered.

A hat puts the finishing touch to an ensemble. It should also serve as a lovely frame for the face. With the great variety in style, color and size, there has to be a hat perfect for you. Consider the hat in relation to your figure as well as your face. Also notice the profile. The side view should be pleasing too. Always stand and take a look at yourself in a full length mirror when trying on a hat, to get the full effect it has on your face and figure.

To add length to the face and figure, wear hats with brims that turn upward. Hat decorations with an upswept air will also tend to keep the eye moving in a vertical direction.

To shorten the face and figure, wear hats with drooping brims or fitted close to the head. Hats in bright, contrasting color or with horizontally placed decoration will stop the eye, decreasing the apparent height of the figure.

Hats worn straight on the head are the hardest to wear. This style produces a straight line across the forehead which shortens and broadens the face.

For best results, shop when you are rested and have time to look carefully; and do remember to use the full-length mirror.

A sure sign of spring is when you see people planting and working in their yards, in addition to other work to make the home more comfortable and attractive. On a [illegible] both of them busy cleaning flower beds, working in new soil and reseeding monkey grass. Their yard will be evidence of all the work when it really comes spring of the year.

Mrs. J. W. Edwards at Pipe Creek is proud of her new kitchen, and what woman wouldn't be, since that is the place they spend so much of their time. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards were real industrious and did most of the work themselves; put in a new floor, covered it with vinyl linoleum, then added cabinets with double sinks, painted some she already had and added a new gas range. Then we took a look in the yard and saw evidence of Mrs. Edwards hobby, that of working with iris. She had a hundred or more named so that she will know exactly what is in bloom and if she chooses to keep that particular one.

The L. J. Edwards have been busy also fixing up their living room with a new finish for the walls, new paint job, draperies and new furniture, all very tastefully chosen to give beauty and comfort to their home.

BANDERA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT — CONSERVATION DEVELOPMENT SELF-GOVERNMENT

J. L. Beagle reports good results with a winter legume cover crop of alfalfa on his ranch at Tarpley. Beagle planted the alfalfa last September. It was fertilized according to recommendations based on a soil analysis. Besides the soil conditioning benefits derived from the legume, Beagle was able to get some good grazing from the 25 acres. 200 ewes grazed all winter with a minimum of supplemental feed, and raised a better than 100 per cent lamb crop. Beagle credits a lot of this to the application of the right kinds and amount of fertilizer. At the present time the field is being rested to allow new growth and provide Spring cover on the fields. Beagle plans to cut the field for hay this summer and to fertilize again next Fall.

Three small stock ponds on the John Rogers ranch west of Medina were treated last week with bluestone and fertilizer to provide better fishing this summer. Rogers assisted by an SCS technician, applied 3½ pounds of bluestone per acre foot of water to eliminate some of the moss. This was followed by application of fertilizer to increase the fertility of the water. The increasing fertility will provide more fish food and will help to control regrowth of the moss. Cost of the treatment with bluestone and fertilizer on these ponds was approximately $1.75 per pound. Additional fertilizer will be applied every two to three weeks until June by Rogers to keep the fertility up during this period.

Half of the forage grown on a good condition range is more than all of the forage grown on a poor condition range.

Farmers in the Bandera Soil Conservation District are reminded that now is the time to begin planting summer legume cover crops. Summer legumes provide soil improvement, soil conditioning and protection from erosion. Cost sharing on the planting of guar, Brabham peas and Chinese red peas, as well as fertilizing with super-phosphate, may be obtained from the Bandera County Agricultural Conservation Program.

Taylor Wootton, who ranches at Pipe Creek, has recently completed clearing 100 acres of second growth cedar. This brush control is part of Wootton's overall conservation plan worked out with the Bandera SCD. Wootton has cleared approximately 350 acres of brush in the past two years. As a result of eleminating this brush competition, native grasses such as sideoats grama and little bluestem are on the increase. By proper stocking Wootton expects to increase production and to provide better soil and water conservation.

FARMERS LOSING SOCIAL SECURITY CREDITS

Some farmers are losing social security credit by not reporting their earnings, according to John D. Palmer, district manager of the San Antonio social security office. This may mean loss of benefits to a farmer's survivors if he dies or loss of his own retirement benefits.

Any farmer who has a profit of $400.00 or more in a year is required to file a tax return and pay social security taxes. This return must be filed even though the farmer has no income tax to pay. Even if a farmer does not have a $400.00 profit but has a gross farm income of $600.00 or more, he can elect to report his farm income for social security purposes.

Farmers who have neglected to report earnings for social security credit may still do so for 1956 or any later years. Palmer stated that any farmer who wants to report earnings from self-employment should contact the local social security office or internal revenue office for advice.

RED CROSS HELPS MANY PEOPLE

Assistance given to servicemen, veterans, their families and dependents, and others by Texas Red Cross chapters reporting during 1959, took year reported a total of 50,505 cases. Figures released today in Dallas by James H. Bond and in San Antonio by Ray B. Richardson, Red Cross national field service chairman for the state, show that 132 chapters reported assistance given through Home Service, local arm of a world-wide Red Cross organization serving the armed forces, veterans, and their dependents.

Home Service assistance, Mr. Bond and Mr. Erlandson said, was available in every part of the state through 252 Red Cross chapters. The services of counseling and referrals for servicemen and veterans, emergency communication between service personnel and their families; reporting on home situations for use of the military in determining furloughs, leaves, transfers, or discharges; emergency financial assistance; and help to veterans applying for government benefits are part of a program of assistance required of the Red Cross by its charter from U. S. Congress.

Last year, services to the armed forces and veterans cost the American National Red Cross $33,402,000, or 39 per cent of every Red Cross dollar expended. Half of this expenditure was in chapter Home Service, largely staffed by volunteers, and the remainder represents costs of such services as assistance given through Red Cross representatives assigned to military units and hospitals at home and overseas and to Veterans Administration regional offices, use and maintenance of a nation-wide communications network linking 3,697 Red Cross chapters and U. S. military installations, and recreation programs in Europe, North Africa, and Korea, conducted by request of the armed forces.

In Texas, 10,146 cases received assistance in the form of direct financial aid, totalling $314,276, which was given either as outright grants or as emergency interest-free loans in cases where need was temporary and repayments could easily be made. Such loans, Mr. Bond and Mr. Erlandson emphasized, are the only instance in which Red Cross requests or accepts repayment of assistance given through any of its health, educational, or welfare programs.

He cited as an example of the help provided for servicemen, the recent case of a soldier from the Midwest, stationed overseas with his wife and two small children. When the second child was born, the wife developed a serious heart condition which required her return by hospital plane to a military hospital in Texas for surgery. The serviceman, provided with Red Cross funds because he had no time to draw military pay, returned to the U. S. on another plane with his two-year-old son and nine-week-old daughter.

The Red Cross field director assigned to his unit overseas notified a field director at Travis Air Force Base, near San Francisco, of his scheduled arrival. A Red Cross worker met the plane, looked after the children while the father conducted some necessary business, and drove the family 60 miles to Oakland airport for the flight to the serviceman's home. Meanwhile, the field director at Travis directed the Red Cross chapter in the soldier's home town. All arrangements were made for his parents to meet the plane. The wife was taken by military plane directly to Brooke Army Hospital at San Antonio, the Army arranged for the serviceman's transfer to duty there, and the Red Cross provided additional financial assistance to help meet emergency expenses.

A breakdown into types of cases handled by chapters last year in Texas, Mr. Bond and Mr. Erlandson said, shows that: 23,681 concerned servicemen and women and their families, an average of 4,107 each month; 12,009 represent assistance to veterans and their dependents, chiefly through help in applying for government benefits, for an average of 1,556 cases each month. In addition, 4,815 other cases averaging 512 a month, were handled in communities where there were no other agencies which could help and where Red Cross chapters were able to serve them in addition to meeting needs of servicemen, veterans, and their dependents.

The services provided in these cases were given by the American people. Mr. Bond and Mr. Erlandson pointed out, whose voluntary contributions through Red Cross annual fund campaigns, or through federated campaigns in which the Red Cross participates, are the organization's only source of income. To continue providing them during the coming year, they said, every chapter participating in the March campaign for members and funds must meet its share of the $95,000,000 budget for local, national, and international services.

MAYAN RANCH ENTERTAINS INTERESTING GUESTS

Mayan Ranch was happy indeed to have two very charming girls visit there last week. Both graduated from Syracuse University last June, they are on their way to San Francisco.

Miss Marcia Kula from Hillside, N.J., has done some interesting traveling in her 22 years. Two years ago she worked in the American Pavillion at the World's Fair in Belgium. When her job there was over, Marcia drove down the coast of France into Spain. From there she took a short trip into Tangiers, then back for a tour of Europe's capitols. When asked for her reaction to Texas, Miss Kula replied, "It's marvelous there just isn't another place like it in the world." This girl speaks authoratatively.

Miss Ann Posen of Brooklyn, N.Y., formerly with the advertising promotion department of Women's Wear Daily, says that visiting Texas fulfills a life-long dream. Was she disappointed? "Not at all," said Miss Posen. "When Texans say theirs is the friendliest state in the Union, they're not boasting—they're just telling the truth."

It is easy to be friendly to such lovely girls. Everyone at Mayan Ranch is looking forward to their return.

How to turn a $5.00 raise into a $1,000 bonus

Wishing won't turn a $5 a week raise into a $1,000 bonus, but it's easy for you to do.

Put that $5 raise into U.S. Savings Bonds, and you can buy an $18.75 Bond a month and have money left over.

Keep buying a Bond a month for 40 months, and you'll have your big bonus—Bonds worth $1,000 at maturity.

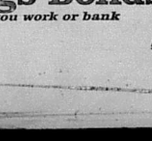
You can buy this $1,000 automatically, too. All you need to do is tell your employer to start making deductions from your pay for Bonds. This way, your raise can't slip through your fingers.

Whether you've just gotten a raise, or not, using the Payroll Savings Plan to buy U.S. Savings Bonds is a fine way to save. Why don't you ask your employer to include you in it?

More advantages to think about

You now get 3¼% interest, at maturity. This new rate which went into effect June 1, 1959, makes your Bond money grow faster. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in just 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959 earn more, too—an extra ½% from now to maturity.

You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash anytime at any bank. But it pays to keep them.



Your money is guaranteed safe by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The Government promises you that the cash value of your Bonds will not drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. You help save the peace with every Bond you buy. Bond money goes for science, education, military strength—the weapons of peace. And the money you save helps keep our nation's economy strong.

Here's how you can reach your savings goal with U.S. Savings Bonds in just 7 years, 9 months

Winter Grain Mite Damaging Small Grain

The winter grain mite may cause serious damage to oats, barley, and wheat. Mite infestations in grain are considerably worse on land planted to grain in previous years. Crop rotation tends to reduce the damage. The mites range from 1/32 to 1/16 inch in length. The adult has four pairs of red-dish-orange legs and the body is dark brown with a bluish cast. They cause the heaviest damage during the winter and early spring.

Damage has been reported in the fields of Hugo Bausch and Bob Mansfield. The leaves of the small grain begin to turn yellow with a brown cast. The grain mites usually work in spotted areas in a field.

The bulletin, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Corn, Sorghum, Small Grain, and Grasses" recommends that 1½ to 2 pints of Malathion (5 pounds) or 1 to 2 pints of Parathion (2 pounds) be used as a spray to control the mite. This bulletin can be obtained at your county agent's office.

WESTERN EVENTS WILL BE THEME OF WESTERN FESTIVAL

Famous land men like Billy the Kid and John Wesley Hardin will come back to life in San Antonio April 28.

They'll assemble at Bandera Road and Loop 13 to lead a two-day trail ride to Bandera to kick off the cowboy capital's Western Festival, successor to the town's celebrated Stampede.

Bandera Trail Riders President Charles O. Rice, night brewmaster at Pearl Brewery, said a horse and wagon train now being recruited would be led by 20th Century counterparts of 1986 Century gunmen.

The Bandera Gunslingers fast-draw team to be featured in the week-end family festival will be dressed in impersonate such bad men as Texas Jim Slaughter, Ben Thompson, and "Old Man Ike" Clanton, who stopped a fatal slug at the OK Corral.

Rice said an Indian raid loomed for trail riders at their first night's camp near the Medina Lake cutoff and Bandera Highway. A "hanging" of "Curly Bill Brocius" is also in the works, he said.

Bandera area horsemen and riding clubs may sign up for the trail ride by writing the Bandera Chamber of Commerce for application blanks. Catering service for meals will be provided, Rice said, but riders should bring sleeping equipment. Complete information on the ride may be obtained by telephoning Chamber President Henry Adams.

A special feature of the ride will be certification of youngsters making the trip as "Junior Trail Bosses," according to Rice.

How to turn a $5.00 raise into a $1,000 bonus

Wishing won't turn a $5 a week raise into a $1,000 bonus, but it's easy for you to do.

Put that $5 raise into U.S. Savings Bonds, and you can buy an $18.75 Bond a month and have money left over.

Keep buying a Bond a month for 40 months, and you'll have your big bonus—Bonds worth $1,000 at maturity.

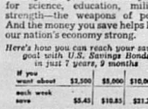
You can buy this $1,000 automatically, too. All you need to do is tell your employer to start making deductions from your pay for Bonds. This way, your raise can't slip through your fingers.

Whether you've just gotten a raise, or not, using the Payroll Savings Plan to buy U.S. Savings Bonds is a fine way to save. Why don't you ask your employer to include you in it?

More advantages to think about

You now get 3½% interest, at maturity. This new rate which went into effect June 1, 1959, makes your Bond money grow faster. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in just 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959 earn more, too—an extra ½% from now to maturity.

You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash anytime at any bank. But it pays to keep them.



Your money is guaranteed safe by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The Government promises you that the cash value of your Bonds will not drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bond, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. You help serve the peace with every Bond you buy. Bond money goes for science, education, military strength—the weapons of peace. And the money you save helps keep our nation's economy strong.

Here's how you can reach your savings goal with U.S. Savings Bonds in just 7 years, 9 months

If you want about	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000

TOWN'S MILITARY TRAINING PROGRAM

One of the toughest military training programs ever devised, so tough that half and people who volunteer do not complete the course, turns out the men of one of the Navy's most select organizations—the Underwater Demolition Team.

Underwater Demolition Team, "UDT" as it is normally referred to, is designed to be the toughest, since men accepted for this work perform jobs under conditions that are never normal.

Essentially a UDT is a combat team—a group of specially trained men to carry out missions of reconnissance of underwater approaches for enemy-held shorelines; removal of enemy mines; and destruction of underwater obstacles by demolition, including blasting of channels through coral.

During the early days of World War II, U. S. Marines were attempting a landing at Tarawa when their landing craft went aground on a coral reef that had not been revealed in reconnaissance photos. The Marines were forced to wade a mile and half to shore under heavy enemy fire. Several hundred Marines were killed and wounded there. Because of this tragic and costly experience the Navy Underwater Demolition Teams were formed.

There are a number of qualifications for prospective members, but the primary one, of course, is physical. Candidates must be in A-1 condition and possess a high degree of physical stamina. Prospects must also be able to swim 300 yards in a pool or 500 yards in 15 minutes, using at least three distinct strokes.

Prospective UDT men must not have an excessive fear of explosives and must be free from claustrophobia. They must also demonstrate an ability to remain active and effective under abnormal conditions.

While prospective UDT men are in training, their most rugged tests come during the third week, appropriately called "Hell Week." This is usually preceded by two weeks of toughening runs, rallies, games, races, swims and rubber boating.

During "Hell Week" trainees are subjected to every trial of stamina and nerves that their instructors can muster. Long marches are made through swamps, mud, surf and sand. Each mile-long run at dawn precedes each day's march, and all during the day explosive charges are detonated without warning to shock and test the trainee, usually so close that they are showered with rocks sticks and other debris.

At the end of this nightmarish, grueling week-long endurance test, about 40 per cent of those who started are dropped. The remainder go on to finish the 13-week course. Graduates are assigned to an operating UDT Unit. They are further screened for aptitude and go on to other schools for specialized training. Trainees do not receive final UDT qualification until they have completed six months' duty with a team.

At present the Navy has four UDT teams, two working out of Coronado, California, two from Little Creek, Virginia. Training for qualification is conducted for both officers and enlisted men at each base.

UDT men take an immense pride in their organization and have an Esprit De Corps comparable to that of Submarines, Parratroopers and other specialized branches. They know that they are members of an elite corps in which only the most fit survive.

For complete information concerning UDT training, contact your local Navy Recruiting Station, Bassett, GMC, USN, in the Post Office Building in Kerrville.

THIS IS OUR TOWN

By Jinny

There is much speculation in regard to Bandera's newest named Western Festival," which will replace in name the Bandera Stampede, which has for many years caused so much controversy. Bandera people are looking forward to a fine holiday to which visitors in the Hill Country may bring their children and friends to enjoy a few days of fun and relaxation, with the wild woolly atmosphere heretofore prevalent during the Stampede. * * *

And speaking of the Western Festival, we would like to suggest as one of the main features of the celebration a reunion of all graduates of Bandera High School. They could bring their families, we know there are many living a number of people who graduated as far back as 1906. It would be one of the biggest events ever to be held in Bandera if we could get a group like this together. Why not try it?

* * * We are glad to see Young Pat Boyle re-opening his father's business, the Bandera Ice House, which recently burned.

* * * We are indeed proud of our handsome new post office Building, which we feel is just another step in the direction of progress.

* * * From day to day we hear Bandera residents talk of incorporation for Bandera. We feel that this will be a step in the right direction and will illuminate many unrealized features in the Bandera. Incorporation will mean better local government. Three forms of government have constituted the basic structural pattern of municipal organization in the United States. There three are: the mayor council, the commission, and the council-manager forms. All have undergone many veryings adjustments, depending on the time, place, and circumstances under which they happened to operate. The traditional form is the mayor-council, still used in a majority of the cities of the country, both large and small. We plan to set forth the advantages and disadvantages of incorpation for Bandera so that the people can weigh the evidence and know just what incorporation entails.

* * * One of Bandera's most delightful events took place last Friday night at the Bandera High School gymnasium when the Spring Olympics was held. Strictly a local event it brought out the children and their parents for fun and helped to expand the fund for the score-board project. It is fine to see our community working together on projects of this type.

* * * We are real happy that the Madrona Garden Club has taken on two fine projects. One the placing of benches on the Court House lawn and the other, placing shrubs and plants in the new planter at the new post office.

* * * We are sorry to report Gus Klemstein suffered a painful fall in the bathtub at his home here this week. We hope he will soon be well.

* * * Mrs. Lucille Rainey, former owner of Twin Elm Ranch, is now employed at the Mayan Ranch and says she "just loves her job," the first one she has ever had.

* * * Our thought for the day—"It's easy to be an angel when nobody ruffles your feathers."

* * * Mrs. Fred Mansfield says, "Men are more successful in business than women because a woman does not have a wife to help her."

* * * Bye for now * * *

BANDERA WEST-END 4-H CLUB MEETING

The Bandera West End 4-H Club meeting was called to order on March 14, 1960, at the Cornelius home. We started the meeting by seeing a film and some slides. The film was about rabbits and the slides showed the selection of sheep.

Our secretary, Diane Fisher, was not present so the reporter took over for her. The roll was called and there were 15 members present.

There was no old business so we discussed the new business next. We decided to invite Mr. Leighton home on Monday, April 25, 1960, at 7 and have a wiener roast. The committee to plan the weiner roast is Lillie Templer, Ruby Ivy, Joan and Diane Fisher and Ruth Ann Preston.

We decided to order more rat poison but if so, anyone who is interested in killing rats should contact any member of the Bandera West End 4-H Club.

The meeting was closed with the 4-H Club prayer led by County Agent Werner Lindig. We were served delicious refreshments of cookies and punch by Mrs. Cornelius.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hickey of Marion, Walter Hickey, Mrs. Joe Cummins and Mrs. Homer Olsen of San Antonio were here Monday to attend the funeral of J. D. Fly. W. W. Hickey and Mr. Fly were brothers-in-law.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Heinen were Mr. Heinen's brother, Harry Heinen of Port Arthur, Mrs. Heinen's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Casey Faris, and Mrs. Billy Pasour of San Antonio.

In August of last year I entered the Hospital with a heart ailment. I was patched up thanks to a wonderful doctor, and told I would have to take it easy or expect the worst. That is now looking me in the face, what a fool I would be to continue to kill myself at my age, when I don't have to. I love my store and my customers but I think the time has come when we must part, in a business way, therefore my store is for sale. I am advertising this in the Bulletin so that all may know. Since coming to Bandera I have been open and above board with all that I have dealt with, I don't intend to keep this from you. I have faith enough in you to believe that you will remain with me,

I want a local man to have this store, one that you will know, and that we will know you. I am not going to put an un-reasonable price on it. Requirments—you must have at least $15,000.00 in cash NO TRADES of any kind. You may have time on the balance with good security, store building is optional, you may purchase, it, or lease it.

To you who don't know the store, here is something that you should know: it is known in many parts of Texas, hundreds make it headquarters during vacation time. This didn't happen just since I came here, it has been that way for many years. If I don't miss my guess it will continue to be so. In fairness to me, and kindness to you, if you are not interested or can't qualify, please don't ask questions. If you care to, you may contact your personal Real Estate Dealer, and of course he won't know all about it. The Store speaks for itself.

DEATH ENDS SAGA OF EARLY DAYS IN WILD TRANS-PECOS

By H. T. Fletcher,
in San Angelo Standard

Each week witnesses the passing of another of the pioneers who, through daring and hard knocks, carves an empire out of the West Texas on a half century law. With the burial of L. B. Carruthers at Alpine, October 12, 1933, finis was written upon a life that was a sage of early days in Trans-Pecos wilds. His 82 years were replete with service to his state and to the community so fortunate as to count him as a citizen.

A book could be written about his busy life, most interesting period being 10 years spent in Texas Ranger. His service included the campaign against Victorio, the wily old Apache chief who dealt so much misery to soldiers and settlers in the southwest. The Rangers, co-operating with United States cavalry and Mexican troops, fought many engagements with the Indians before their crushing defeat on Mexican soil. Old Victorio was killed and Indian depredations in West Texas ended for all time.

However the Victorio war is another story and we wish to review briefly Sergeant Carruther's manuscript record of a brief period that pictures accurately the conditions of those early times. In 1880, there were garrisons of troops at Fort Concho, Fort Stockton, Fort Davis and several posts commanding the Rio Grande Valley below Ft. Main. The few settlers were confined to the post towns, the Rio Grande and larger creek valleys of the region. There were a few herds of cattle with which some farms supplied the needs of the settlers, the surplus being sold to the forts. Such was the Chihuahua Trail traversed the region from Fort Stockton to Presidio. These towns, with Fort Davis, were the principal settlements of a vast region that only awaited the passing of the Indian and the coming of steel rails to become the cradle of the baby boy industry of a nation.

Early in 1880, a band of outlaws, whose operations in New Mexico made them undesirable citizens there, drove a bunch of stolen cattle to Fort Stockton. They sold their herd to the post contractor and made the town their headquarters. The sheriff made arrangements with them that if they would not operate in Pecos County he would not molest them. Shortly after, the store of Sender & Seibenborn, at Fort Davis, was held up and looted, the bandits returning to their camp at Fort Stockton. Learning of the robbery, a posse of Fort Stockton citizens, headed by Francis Rodney, raided their camp and captured two of them, known as Charlie Davis and Bud Frazer, in the county jail at Fort Davis. The others escaped.

About this time, the people of Fort Davis wired Governor Roberts asking for protection. The circumstances in which the Texas Ranger was held is shown by the fact that Sergeant Carruthers was sent alone to handle the situation. He left Camp Swenson, Travis County, in the suburbs of Austin, on June 1, 1880, and traveled by stage to Fort Davis via Fredericksburg, Fort Mason, Fort McKavett, Fort Concho, the Pontoon Crossing of the Pecos, and Fort Stockton. He arrived June 7, having with him 7 letters from the governor, adjutant general and Major John B. Jones of the Rangers, to officers and citizens of Presidio County asking their cooperation.

He quickly realized that conditions were very bad. The outlaws were camped in the mountains nearby, and slipped into town at night where they apparently had many sympathizers. Besides, the town was dominated by a two-gun gambler named John Gunter, who was known to be in communication with the outlaw band. Gunter was soon identified as John Selman who was wanted for murder at Fort Griffin.

Carruthers, being unable to find suitable men to recruit as Rangers, was forced to resort to a ruse. About this time, Fort Stockton citizens had asked for Ranger protection and Captain Dan Roberts had sent Sergeant Ed Scoker with several Rangers to them. Carruthers had Sergeant Seiker bring the outlaw, Charlie Davis, to the Fort Davis jail with the hope that his band might attempt his release. He further, after much explaining to Sheriff T. A. Wilson, had Gunter appointed jailer. He then planned to announce the withdrawal of the Rangers and hover nearby and try and capture the whole band at once, including Gunter, for whose arrest he now had warrants. The Rangers under Sergeant Seiker offered the assistance he needed but his hand was forced the day before he was to leave Fort Davis.

Sheriff Wilson got on a big drunk and announced before sympathizers of the outlaws that he was going to fire Gunter before he turned the prisoner, Charlie Davis, loose. Carruthers immediately arrested Gunter and the outlaws broke camp and went to Presidio where they crossed into Mexico. Finding that the close watch kept on them by Mexican corals had caused them to return to [illegible] to make an effort to capture them. Securing as volunteers from Seiker's squad Rangers Red Bingham, Jack Coleman and Sam Henry, and with Gido Herrello as guide, he left Fort Davis at midnight June 20, 1880. After riding all night they came to the abandoned camp was made near the Victoriano Hernandez ranch. This ranch was situated on Alamito Creek about 25 miles south of the present town of Marfa. It was located in the present range of T. M. Wilson.

They were in the saddle at day-break en route to Presidio. A few miles below their camp they rode into the creek to water their horses and encountered the outlaws who were on their way back to Fort Davis. A running fight ensued for about a mile up the creek. The outlaws turned a trail that led to the top of a low bluff. Passing out of sight they circled around and returned to the edge of the bluff. In the right there, Ranger Bingham and Outlaw George Davis were killed, the other three outlaws fled and when Bingham's comrades found him dead, Sergeant Carruthers had to prevent their killing the prisoners.

After an inquest by Richard Daly, justice of the peace at Presidio, the dead men were buried by the Presidio road, Bingham being given a military funeral with three volleys fired over his grave. The prisoners were placed in jail with Charlie Davis and all were indicted. Two of them, Jesse Evans and Frank Cahoon, went to the penitentiary, but the other two, known as Bud and Charlie Graham from Williamson County, their father coming out and got an attorney to secure their release. They tried to indict Carruthers for the killing of George Graham, alias Davis.

Sergeant Carruthers divided the reward between those engaged with him in the fight, including the heirs of Bingham. He did not remember what became of the Graham boys as he was soon discharged, at his own request, from the Ranger service. He was associated with Sender & Seibenborn for several years as bookkeeper, later moving to Alpine. There he emerged in the cattle business and was county treasurer for 20 years.

SATURDAY EVENING POST GIVES CANDIDATE RATINGS

The Saturday Evening Post today published the following ratings on the five leading Democratic presidential candidates:

John Kennedy: "As the front runner and first serious Roman Catholic candidate since Al Smith, he cannot afford to stumble."

Hubert Humphrey: "He is aware that it will take a series of near miracles to win the presidential nomination."

Lyndon Johnson: "The acceptance of the vice-presidential nomination by Kennedy is a vital part of the Johnson strategy."

Stuart Symington: "The Missouri Compromise—a man who can hold the party together and alienate no important faction."

Adlai Stevenson: "The presidential virus, which did seem to be dead in Stevenson a year ago, has inevitably revived."

Veteran Washington pundit Stewart Alsop, an associate editor of the Post, says that the key question of this whole political year may well be whether or not Kennedy would turn down the vice-presidential nomination.

Alsop believes that if either Stevenson or Johnson is nominated for the presidency, and if either is to have a reasonably good chance of winning in November, he MUST have Kennedy as a running mate.

The Post article, "They're Off —and the World Is Watching," says the best guess is that if the convention has nominated someone other than Kennedy, the Massachusetts senator would make a coldly objective analysis of the chances of winning in November.

"If he thought the ticket would win, he would accept and become the heir apparent," Alsop writes. "If he thought the ticket would lose, he would adamantly refuse. For in that case many people would blame the presence of a Catholic on the ticket for the ticket's defeat, and in all probability no Catholic would be nominated for the presidency for a generation or more."

TEXAS LAWMEN

Ranger Captain Bill McDonald

"No man in the wrong can stand up against a fellow that's in the right and keeps on comin' "

A Texas Ranger, tradition has it, must ride like a Mexican, trail like an Indian, shoot like a Tennessean and fight like a devil. William Jesse McDonald was just such a man. He was the lone lawman who answered the call for a company of Rangers with, "You ain't got but one mule, have you?" Born in "Bloody Kemper" County, Mississippi, 1852, McDonald's first 15 years were restless, roving. But on the rolling plains of Hardeman county in 1881, he came into his own. As Deputy Sheriff he established a reputation for fearless law enforcement, expert cattle rustler and lightning quick disarming of opponents. Soon he was a special Ranger, then a U. S. Deputy Marshal — and the McDonald legend was a-building. Governor Hogg made him Captain of Co. B, Frontier Battalion, in 1891. And it was Bill McDonald who was chosen to guard and protect Theodore Roosevelt in 1905. Later he guarded Woodrow Wilson on a trip to Texas. The taltv-talking Captain Bill delighted them both. With a good fighting Scots name, he had a fine face lined with sun, wind and character, mild blue eyes, soft voice — and a "confidence" that made him irresistible as friend or enemy. Since 1918 Ranger Captain Bill McDonald has been at peace with in Quanah Cemetery.

Respected and honored, the Texas lawman today still safeguards our lives and liberty. And in this vigorous and freedom minded homeland, where "Beer Belongs," the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials.

It's The Law IN TEXAS . . .

Unanimous

Jury duty is an experience everybody ought to have.

In a criminal case twelve jurors have a duty to do justice as each one sees it, and yet be unanimous. In most trials both sides have much to say, and the evidence is conflicting. The twelve jurors vary in their ability, temperament, character, edugation, and their experience in the world, and in the question at stake.

Yet a jury made up of both sexes, with wide age and educational differences, john and orinions must all come up with the same verdict. Upon their verdict much depends—the life or liberty of others, and the public good. So it may take them days of talking among themselves, all to agree.

Jury duty calls for insight, common sense, courage, tact, fair-minded ness, patience, (especially toward the jurors who disagree with you), good humor, tolerance, balance, willingness to hear others out and change one's mind, readiness to go over and over the facts to find something to bring agreement. In short, jury duty demands a "decent respect to the opinions" of others.

Some and more women share civic duties, especially as jurors.

Time was in Texas when women could not serve on juries. They still cannot in four states.

A jury finds facts. It hears and weighs evidence and then comes to a verdict. It does not make the law — the legislature does; and the judge "charges" or instructs the jury concerning the law applicable to the particular case it ifi considering.

The judge will tell you not to find the accused guilty until he is proved so under strict rules of evidence. If you have any "reasonable doubt,"—not imaginary or far-fetched—acquit the accused.

Civil cases do not demand a moral certainty, merely the "preponderance" of what you regard as reliable and believable evidence.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to shed ever, apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Peregrinations of a PIONEER PRINTER

$3.00

by J. MARVIN HUNTER

An Autobiography

Besides being the autobiography of an old time itinerant country printer and newspaper man, it is full of humorous reminiscences and some good history. It is not well for mention if many people you know personally in different Texas communities. This old printer tells in pleasing style the story of his peregrinations (wanderings) through West Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and even Old Mexico; how he and a fellow newspaper man had to leave Tascosa two jumps and ride in a side-door pullman (box car) through to El Paso with the Mexican rurales hot on their trail; of his experience as a sheepherder; his two months' stay in a Mexican calaboose; a noted outlaw in his sheep camp; of meeting noted characters, both famous and infamous; and of many other thrilling events and at last he "settled down" in Bandera to spend his remaining years among the best people on earth.

THIRD GRADE NEWS—FOCKE

Spring must really be here at last, even though you can't always be sure of "spring-like" weather. There are other signs that are more dependable.

Mrs. John G. James

It seems that we have been having a "preview" of spring on several pleasant, warm days recently. This is the sixth week since Ground Hog Day, and the weather is warmer, so perhaps that little weather prophet really knows his business! Anyway, we hope so, as everyone is anxiously awaiting spring, which will officially make its debut the first of this coming week.

We are happy to report that Mrs. J. A. Mitchell was released from the Medina County Hospital in Hondo Tuesday and is at home recuperating from surgery which she underwent last week. We join Mrs. Mitchell's friends in wishing her continued improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Richards were Bandera visitors last Thursday evening. Mr. Richards attended a meeting of the Bandera County Livestock Improvement Association at the court house in Bandera while Mrs. Richards spent the evening visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Joe H. Short.

Mrs. A. A. Jeffers has been visiting her mother, Mrs. John Hand, and other relatives at Leon Springs and planned to go from there to West Texas to visit with her daughters and their families.

Congratulations to Howard Billings, Grant Mickelsen, and Johnnie James, all of whom celebrated birthdays this week. Mr. Billings' birthday was March 17th; Mr. Mickelsen's was March 16th; and Mr. James' was March 14th. We wish each of them many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. (Sonny) Schmidt and children, Vivian Ann and Gregory John, of Bandera visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Schmidt, on Saturday and Sunday.

Friends will be sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. Henry Norwood of Hondo. Mrs. Norwood has been a patient in the hospital there, but is reported to be somewhat improved. We join her many friends in wishing her well.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Irby of Kerrville were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Sauter.

Ed Tucker visited with his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Coffey and daughters, Donna Lee and Jo Anne, at their home between Bandera and Pipe Creek Saturday. He reports that Donna has been having a siege of measles following her bout with the mumps. We hope she will soon be well and able to attend school again.

George Earl Sauter arrived home last Thursday after receiving his discharge from the United States Coast Guard at Statten Island. Welcome home, George Earl!

Alton Wood underwent surgery on an injured finger last week and is here recuperating. We hope it will soon be well and that he will be able to resume his work.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauter visited at Tarpley and Hondo last Tuesday and Friday. J. A. Mitchell accompanied them to Hondo and they also visited with Mrs. Mitchell at the hospital there.

The Sauters also visited with Mrs. [illegible] and Grandma Elsie in Hondo.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Schmidt were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelsen last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Geuss and children of Rocksprings have been here with her father, J. A. Mitchell, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Geuss's mother, Mrs. J. A. Mitchell, since the inclement weather.

Mrs. Geuss have also been guesting his mother, Mrs. Charles Geuss and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. James and daughter, Minneana, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mickelsen and Uncle Jim Berkeland Wednesday evening and helped Mr. Mickelsen celebrate his birthday.

We enjoyed a visit from E. B. McKandles of Fort McKavett Tuesday. He called at the Bulletin office to purchase five copies of the autobiography of J. Marvin Hunter Sr., our father. Mr. McKandles is a former Bandera county man having lived in the Pipe Creek community for many years.

COL. WILLIAMS VISITS COT SHINERS
