action at Jourdanton Wednesday, Dec. 30.

The win puts the Bepdera varsity girls at 1-1 in district play and 12-4 for the season.

In short, the Squares were dominated by the Ledy Buildogs.

The most points the Jourdanton Squares were able to put up in eris period was the last period with seven points. Their leading scorer for the game was Alviso with six points.

Jourdanton brought a 12-4 record going into the game and was the team Bandera best in the bidistric play-off game last year.

Scoring by period was 17-4 in the first period, 30-8 at the half, and 51-12 in the third period.

Of the 15 Jourdanton shots Bandera blocked in the game, Melanie Schneider blocked 12 of them. We never let them do anything on offense, "said head coach Julie Young.

Leading scorers for Bandera were Tandie Clemente with 22 points, Nikl Rouch with 20, and Natalie Koehler with eight points. Kimber Vos had eight points from off the bench.

The Bandera varsity boys' last non-district game of the 1992-93 season held the promise of a win Saturday, Jan. 2, in Wimberley. The Bulldogs were behind by only one point at the end of the first saturday, Jan. 2, in Wimberley. The Buildogs were behind by only one point at the end of the Inst-period with a score of 13-12.

The score at the half was 32-19 and 46-30 at the end of the third period.

Wimberley's height advantage and shillty to shoot from the outside kept the Texans on top of Wimberley's height advantage and shillty to shoot two results and the State of the S

Dear edifor.

I would like to make a plea on behalf of the Bandera school district. Alkek Elementary, and probably the other two campuses as well, are in desperate need of volunteers. As you know, the Bandera ISD trustees are operating on a very minimal, no frils budget since the tax rollberk. There just isn't enough money in the budget to pay additional aides to do this much-needed work. Moet of the needs can be met by an adult, of any age, with little or no previous experience with children. Since Jack Massa came to our school district, many more children with apecial needs have been able to spend all or part of their days with non-handicapped children of their own age. This, of course, though a wonderful and much needed change, does pose a problem for the regular classroom teacher, who usually has 22 other children to teach and manage. These teachers need an additional pair of hands during part of each day. As a volunteer, 7 ou can help a child learn to use scissors, color or any of the other simple motor activities that special needs children, or children who were not able to attend preschool, do not know how to do yet. Please, if you have an hour or two each day thry you would be able to give to the children of uncommunity, go the elementary school office. There is a simple screening process you must go through before starting to work. Remember, your classroom teacher, and the children of uncommunity, go the elementary school office. sitting next to us on a long banquette in the Hong Kong coffee shop gave his order to the Chinese waiter in English. The Middle Eastern passenger on Singapore Airlines told the Malaysian flight attendant in English that he preferred orange juice to a whiskey sour. At the dinner party, the Dutch minister of energy for the European Community discussed problems of oil production with the minister of energy in Cambodia-hes, in English! In all these instances. English was the only language both speakers knew If ever we doubted that English has become the language of the world in this age of communication, we have come home absolutely sure that it is indeed the number one means by which people of different linguistic traditions share with each other their needs, wants, and opinions.

So we were interested in noting a newspaper box from World Features Syndicate. Only 15 percent of the world's population is basically English speaking but English is the first language of 45 nations. More than 60 percent of radio broadcasts, worldwide, are in English, 66 percent of scientific treatises, 70 percent of addresses on international mailings So stated the news

We then went running to find an old paper-back in that bottomless stack, "The Story of the English Language", compiled several years ago as a tions. English was a numble of dialects almost as diverse as those of China today. During the Elizabethan period, two major bodies of work jelled the language into the English which has come to be ours. William Shakespeare, choosing and utilizing words and phrases which were widely published, set the pace. Then the translation into English of the Bible ordered by King James I brought to all the people vocabulary and usage understandable to all

If you make a list of things you say every day, figures of speech or ways of putting whatever it is, you will be amazed to discover, if you look in Shakespeare or King James, how many words and phrases appeared there first.

The PBS book points our that, miraculously enough, the King James Bible was created over a period of years by a committee of scholars, not just one solitary genius like the Bard of Avon. Their works lives on in standard English studied by most students everywhere.

Do those of us lucky enough to have this universal language as our native tongue appreciate it anymore? Having read essays submitted by scholarship-seeking high school seniors which were barely literate, and having noticed that our own kids often brought home papers on which English errors had not been corrected we wonder

The bell at the entrance to St. Stanislaus Church rang slowly. All were asked to rise and join in singing "Amazing Grace." The congregation's voices were soft and seemed to float up through the church. The pall bearers came down the aisle, with the family following, to the front of the church. The sunshine filtered through the stained glass windows. This was for Marie Anderwald Holland, who went on this past week. During the service, other hymns were sung, "Peace is flowing like a river", and finally, "How Great Thou Art." The soloist's voice was soft and so pretty. I am sure dear Marie felt wrapped in love, wherever she was. Her life was a testimony of love and giving, and she'll be sorely sed by all of Bandera.

Volunteers needed

The Bandera County Library needs volunteers. General knowledge of the library is helpful, but not mandatory. The job is hard, but rewarding.

Those wishing to volunteer need to stop by the library and pick up a volunteer bulletin. They need to present the library with thier name and phone number.

Youth center group works on basketball court .

The Bandera County Youth Center committee is forging ahead with plans to complete it's first project — a basketball court. That first step is about to become a reality at the Bandera Junior High School.

The old tennishasketball courts at the junior high will be refurbished by the school into tennis courts and the basketball goals on the site will be moved by the youth center to an existing slab (a former building) in the middle of the junior high earning between the cafe and the football field. (Original plans had the basketball court going up at Mansfield Park.)

According to youth center president Brian McClane, Dec Causey and Fred Collins have volunteered to do the work of moving the basketball goals. "The youth center (group) will build the basketball court, but when it's complete, will become property of the school," said McClane.

Future building plans include a youth center and a swimming pool, both at Mansfield Park.

McClane said the committee is about to start the task of looking for grants to build the center and swimming pool. Committee members will meet with two grant writers this week to start the search for funding. "We also plan to begin approaching individuals and businesses for contributions," said McClane.

McClane said the committee enter hopes to build both the swimming pool as $0,000 and then the committee will spin to reject the swimming pool is $0,000 and then the committee will spin type of the content will spin type of the count of the swimming pool is $0,000 and then the committee will spin type of the content hopes to build both the swimming pool is $0,000 and then the committee will spin type of the content will spin type of the content hopes to build both the center will be scaled down version of the originate cost of the center will be center will be center will spin type of the cost of $0,000.

precinct, according to a statement issued Monday by Bandera County Judge Ray Mauer.
Mauer said that an article appearing in last week's Ban-dera Bulletin, that was based dera Bulletin, that was based on a statement by Bandera County Commissioner Bennie Barker, was 'misleading and implied the county government as a whole is having major financial problems."

"I can assure you this is not the case. All departments, with the exception of precinct one, are within their budget," the judge said.

are within their budget," the judge said.

According to the county's finencial records, almost $100,000 has already, been spent out of the $185,000 Precinct One budget - that leaves about $55,000 that must last through September.

"Although all of the precincts experienced road deterioration due to excessive deterioration due to excessive rain over the past 13 or 14 months, only one has budget problems at this time. Most could have used some help, but with good sound management and a strong desire to get the job done, they have done a good job and managed to stay within their budget. Mauer disputed the Mauer disputed the state-ment that state law requires compensation in the next year's budget. For debts incurred in previous years, adding that according to state eterioration due to excessive

'There are times when a par-ticular line item within the budget is exceeded, but the total of the complete budget within that fund is not exceed-ed. Then a line item change, as approved by Commissioners Court, may be made to com-pensate for the line item over-

"The 1992 overdraft as referred to in this article was isolated primarily to Precinct One. The other precincts... cnded with balanced budgets. The county, per se, was not in an overdraft position," the judge explained.

"The county is in a good position financially and is seeking help only to enhance their capability to make much needed road repairs of damage accumulated over the years. The roads are as good, if not better in some cases, that help have been in the past." Mauer said the county had requested disaster relief, but that if money is received, it cannot be used to pay debts or to reimburse the county for previous expenditures.

They like a friendly store

Myself and my family moved to Bandera Mysell and my family moved to Bandera a couple of years ago to get out (of) the big cities and let our children grow up in a small community where people are friendly and everybody has a smile for you. We have loved Bandera since we moved here and consider Bandera our home.

Now everywhere we go somebody will smile and wave, but the one place every-body calls you by name and always has a amile for you is the one place we take for granted and that is Super S. Everyone there is always very helpful and smiles and even puts up with a lot of crazy people. I know this for a fact, as I am in Super S everyday. And everyone there takes the time to stop and say hi or tell you a joke or even listen to your problems or jokes. But I even listen to your problems or jokes. But I you. Know what it is you need and want. have never found anybody who is rude or Leo (July 23 - Aug. 22). You start the week doesn't take the time to help you.

Dear editor:

Recently on two different occasions my usband and I drove from Kerrville after dark during heavy rains. We were aware Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21)- Get to the bottom of immediately that we had crossed into Bandera county because of the reflectors in the guide made driving much easier and safer and helped us feel more secure.

We are most grateful to the local State Highway Department for the reflectors on the county roads.

Well: this is it - when most of you read this the inauguration will be a done deal, and a brand new president will be in the White House, And won't the next four years be fun to watch? After 12 years of Republi cans, I believe it will be different to have an Arkansas Democrat at the helm.

It's hard to believe all the sniping, stumping, shouting, spewing, sparring and slugging that we endured all throughout the presidential election is finally all over at least for the time being.

Watching politics is so fascinating - if you read State Capital Highlights this week (directly to your right), you will notice Bob Bullock and Rob Mosbacher taking pot Mots at one another. It is amazing to see allegedly "grown up" people making such outrageous statements and being so wicked

It happens in other arenas, too - even in a town the size of Bandera you can see peo-ple during elections and at organization meetings, etc. saying the tackest things to and about one another. But -- I suppose sometimes it can't be avoided, huh? So if you don't agree with someone's viewpoint, they are automatically "BAD, and you are officially commissioned to taunt them, gripe at them, backbite them and generally make their life Hell because naturally your point of view is superior.

That's one of the things that makes this ountry great, I suppose.

It's hard to remember sometimes that other folks civil rights are just as important

A look back into Bandera's past...

25 years ago, Bandera's 4-H Rifle Club had returned victorious from a districtwide competion. Those bringing home trophies included Anais Nelson, Diane Lindig, Annette Short, Kathy Lindig, Les Short, Joy Moseley, Janna Lindig and Karen Anderwald. Other winners were Karen Herriott, Johnny Risinger, Todd Anderwald and Eddy Stapleton.

Otto Zuttermeister announced he would seek re-election as Bandera County tax Assessor-Collector, and it was reported that 12 votes had been cast in the Bandera County Water and Improvement District election. L.L. Bright, Frank Montague

Jr. and W.D. Smith were elected as directors.

Rancher Allie O. Thallman reported to the Bulletin the yearly rainfall amounts from the years 1950 through 1967. Amounts varied - in 1950, 33.23 inches was reported, but the following year Bandera had a dry year with only 16.61 inches. The dryest year Thallman reported was 1956, with only 11.55 inches of precipitation, but the following year, 1957, Bandera apparently made up for the shortfall with a record 53.37 inches of rain.

Tommy Adams, Jr. of Bandera and his wife Donna show off Tom's 1987 R.S. Camero Pro Street Rod and a trophy the car won at the Darryl Starbird Custom Car Show in San Antonio Jan. 1-3. The muscular machine won the Gold Cup Series Award for construction. An .030 inch overbored 327 c.l. Chevy egine equipped with a Crain high lift roller cam working through roller rockers and fed with twin Holly 650 carburetors and a Detroit GS3 supercharger powers the vehicle. In addition the engine's block has been ieveled and the heads ported and polished. It runs a 12:1 compression ratio and the blower provides a 10 percent over boost. Power is transmitted to the ground through a turbo 400 transmission and a narrowed 12-bolt Chevrolet rear member running 4.56 gears. The uni-body chassis has been stiffened by the addition of box members that join front to back and a 12 point roll cage protects the driver and passenger. Tommy says his best run down the strip is 9.47 seconds and 140 mph. The hot rod also won first place in its division at the Classy Chassis contest in Heloste in July and took a second at a similar show in Kerrville in September. nmy Adams, Jr. of Bandera and his wife Donna show off Tom's 1967 R.S. Halston/Borghese picks Bandera ranch for latest ad four local cowboys as counterpoint to a high fashion New York model.

Bandera County once again provided the background scenery and ambiance for a major advertising effort Thursday, Jan. 21 when Halstonförghese of New York stayed a photo shoot to pro-mote a new Halston fragrance at the Dixie Dude Ranch using four local cowheys as counterpoint to a high fashion New York model.

Tall, blonde and graceful Kristen Jensen of the Ford Modeling Agency stood in the chilly morning air on a rocky Dixie Dude hill wearing a 22-year-old black Halston original grown that can only be described as "porfect" while wranglers Hoot Gibson, Will Honsycut, Lonnie Shelton and Ed Black provided a tough, lean and leather look for contrast. A split rail fence and a cloudless sky over the distant ridge formed the shot's background while London photographer Nadav Kander cranked roll after roll of film through his camera.

Halston/Borghess creative director Joanne L. Gindek said that the aboot will produce an ad for the company's newest (and still secret) fragrance. Plans call for the spread to appear in leading probably in May."

This place is just what we wanted, "said Joan Overlock of Lowe and Partners ad agency. "We wanted a ruggied look and lots of hills. This is perfect."

Coordinator Tim Mitchell found Bandera through the Film Division of the San Antonio Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Her image has promoted products by Clairel and Maybelline and others.

Local folks can get more looks at Jensen if they tune into "sold a My Children" on KSAT 12 television. A month age she signed a three year contract to appear on the soap and began playing the part of Laurell Banning, a nystery woman who will be a love interest of Jackson Montgomery, played by Walt Willey.

The Halston shoot was only one of several that has taken place in Bandera County over the past few years. The Dirie Dude has bosted crews from Dairy Queen, CNN, Pabst Brewing, and Thames Television from England. Last year a music video was filmed right on Main Street by Canadian musician Dyann.-Halliday and local folks were featured on the cover and inside arisaus of Texas Highways magazine.

"We're catching on," says Dirie Dude manager Clay Conoly." Word is getting around that Bandera and Bandera County are good places for filming."

"Never before in the history of Texas have the elderly had such access to nutritution, housing, health checks, education, and well being due to both mental health and physical well being." Kenny said she is an official representative of three local, state and national organization and is herself elderly. "We feel the present system is working, and sak you not to try to cut expenses by destroying the efficiency of the present administration. One of our local papers this week, in commenting on the restructuring of some state agencies had this headline: If it IS working. Fix it?"

We would like to commend the Lakehills Volunteer Fire Department for its efficiency and kindness. We would especially like to express appreciation to Mr. Dresser, the Fire Chief. It is also very nice to have 911 in the area. We're very lucky to have special people looking out for us. God bless.

It's how the system works, and how it keeps working, even after more than 200 years

A look back into Bandera's past...

25 years ago, The Bandera County Recreation Center Committee (including Felix Billings, Bub Keese, Telvy Robbins, Ray Wharton, Bill Short, Scooter Fries and Raymond Wilson, announced that Bandera contractor Roger Stevens had the low bid, and would construct the $125,000 Rec Center at Mansfield Park.

Marian Allert was named to the All State Band. Four Bandera students had placed in the Regional Band competition: Marian Allert was named first chair clarinet; Gayle Wright, first chair French horn; Martha Richards, fourth chair, alto saxophone; and Kathy Lindig, 16th chair clarinet.

Free State Oil had a tire special- Goodyear trees for $15 each; and the DPS announced a town meeting to introduce their new policy that drivers licenses must now be renewed in person.

First State Bank's quarterly report showed total deposits of $3.227,000; and Bandera County agent Werner Lindig reported that the stock show auction was the "best ever." Average prices received were: lambs, 73.3 cents per pound; capons, $31.33 per head; calves, 37.80 cents per pound; and hogs, 38.45 cents per pound. The basketball boys defeated Comfort 53-46, led in scoring by Butch Munsch with 14 points and Salvador Obiedo with 12 points. Ray D'Spain led in rebounds

Kerr County Attorney Bob Barton announced his candidacy for District Attorney; and headline entertainment for the annual San Antonio Stock Show would be Rex Allen and Jo Ann Castle. Bandera postmaster Hubert Risinger defended the recent postal increase (from 5 cents to 6 cents), saying a six cent stamp was still "one of the best bargains in the world."

And Bonnie Pember exhibited the Grand Champion lamb carcass in the Hill about something that happened in an open meeting. Things that were said, perhaps an off-color remark or a joke muttered under someone's breath. Or do you? It's an age-old argument between members of the press and lots of the "powers that be" in Bandera and lots of other counties just like it. There is a precarious balance between what the public has a right to know, and what some official may decide the public is "a little too ignorant to understand." Many times these decisions are made with the best of intentions. It is very difficult to explain the county budget process, or even a school district's budget process, in terms sim-ple enough for many folks to understand them. Invariably, when an in-depth budget story is carried in the newspaper, there are a few people who get up in arms because of what they perceive as "wasteful spending," or perhaps they perceive a breakdown in the Republican-Democrat Plan Ann Richards' special ses-n November, failed miserably But on the other hand, those people—the ones who diligently read the stories about what the county is doing with the taxpayers. money—those people are a vital part of the system, and part of the responsibility of a

Selection of board member officers and the appointment of agricultural advisory board members are among the items on the agenda of the scheduled meeting of the Bandera County Appraisal District Thursday, Jan. 29 at 5

The meeting will be held in the chief appraiser's office at the north end of Ninth Street in Bandera.

The SCALL IS BISO scheduled to hear financial reports, auditor's bids, depositors and a report on 1992 budget surplus funds.

Scottish night to include Burns

A nearly 200-year Scottish Robert Burns will be relived by newly-organized Scots of the Texas Hill Country in Kerrville Jan. 30. Toasts, bagpipes and a Scottish singer all are part of the Burns Night Dinner at 6 p.m. Saturday. Jan. 30 at the Inn of the Hills

"You don't have to be Scot-tish to enjoy the fine meal and colorful entertainment," said Bill Ferguson, chairman of the event. The supper is "a cele-bration held by Scots in all parts of the globe on a date close to the Jan. 25 birthday of Robert Burns", Ferguson said. and Mrs. Mac Northington.

In the past several years the ranch has competed successfully on the world level. Taking three World Championahip awards in the last four years. The first was won by Mac Northington in 1988 for for The Cutting World Championahip and the second was won in 1991 for World Championahip Penning. The team penning award was won by trainer Steve Davis, Melvin Morieland, and Jerry Kimsey. Team Penning is one of the fastest growing sports in this country, it starts with three riders and 30 head of cattle at one end and a holding pen at the other. The object is for the three riders to pick out three correctly numbered cattle and drive them into a pen in the shortest amount of time possible. In penning competition the riders start when they cross the starting line at the holding pen in which the starting line at the noising pen in wance they are to drive the cattle. As they cross the line, a number is called out as to which num-bered cattle they are to pen. One rule that makes penning difficult is that you have to be careful not to spook the cattle. Only four of the thirty cattle can cross the starting line without the riders being disqualified. Special care must be taken to cut out only the three cattle who's number has been called.

Arkey's part of 'Cowboy Capital' scene

Arkey Blue, who has owned the Silver Dollar Saloon for over 20 years, says that he "can't remember when I didn't want to sing and entertain people." So for over 20 years, he has offered entertainment to "Cowboy Captial" visitors, cowboys, ranchers and residents.

His song "Bandera Fever" from his new CD on the Grande Record label, has made the top 20 list in Norway Sweden and Denmark. Swedish fan and radio station personality. Lars G. Lindberg, said Blue's songs go "right down to everybody's sou'.

Even as a teen, Arkey Juenke entertained. He recorded his first single in 1957, using the name Arkey Blue. "I'm proud of the name Juenke," he explains, "but my manager told me to use another name to record under.

His music has since been featured in movies, on albums and recordings. He and his band play regularly on Friday and Saturday nights at the Silver Dollar.

Blue likes to help the youth of the community when he can. He remembers his experience in 1953, as a 4-Her entering a steer in the Junior Livestock Show. THE REPORT OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PERSON

Raymond Hicks calls his contributions 'insignificant,' but his influence on area ranching is legendary

Bandera County rancher Raymond Hicks has ranched in the area since 1932 and is on the Soil Conservation Board, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Board and the Bandera Electric Cooperative Board. He says, however, that his contributions to ranching in Bandera County have been "insignificant."

"I'm back on the cooperative board after being off it for 35 years. I was on it when it was organized. The only thing I've really pushed hard for was bringing in the electricity. I took a year off to work on getting it here. We organized in 1938 and the electricity was turned on Dec. 29, 1939."

Hicks named electricity as being responssible for the single biggest change in agriculture in the county. "Before electricity was made available, people were only interested in kerosene lamps which cost approximately two to three dollars a month to use. When electricity became available, many people could not comprehend the many uses for electric power. They didn't realize it could run air conditioning, refrigerators, and bring water supplies to the house. They thought paying $2.45 a month for electricity was too much.

He remembers days of going to town for 100-pound blocks of ice and hauling them home. "It would last two or three days. Then it was back to town for more.

"The major change county living and economic developement followed the introduction of electric power. Real estate boomed. It made realators rich."

Raymond, and wife Winnie, have one son who lives in San Antonio. Winnie taught at the Bandera High School for 41 years.

They enjoy traveling and would like to take a trip out west. But even if they travel, they would never leave Bandera, Raymond has traveled in the Far East. Russia, and 10 European countries. He was selected by the "People to People Goodwill" program in the 1950s and traveled to communist countries in an effort to build better relations with free countries. "Bandera is home. It's where my friends are. That makes the difference"

The Hicks have a thousand acre ranch and 110 head of registered stock. They concentrate on raising cattle, offering hunting leases, and working towards wildlife conservation.

Hicks said fencing was the second major change in agriculture in Bandera County "Cattle used to main. all over from Kerrville to Hondo. There were no fences. We'd round them up and read the brands and try to get them all separated, putting the calve, with the right mothers and then branding them. There were no big trees then- just some along the creek

Hicks has also seen ranching in Bandera County depleted by predators. "Sheep and goats were for many years the principal source of income for Bandera County agriculturalista. There was nearly always a market for wool and mohair, as well as a demand for lambs and kid spats. Predators, protected by environmentalista, drove sheep and goat producers out of business."

Covotes, Hicks said, are a major problem. But fire ants and loose does take an enormous toll on livestock

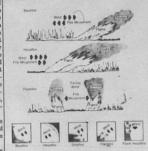

HILL COUNTRY RANCHER, January 1993, Page 11

Planning a prescribed pasture burn requires lots of work, but this is the season to do it, expert says

If you are thinking about burning rangeland for the first time, a detailed planning process may seem largely unnecessary. You may be thinking: "I'll wait until after frost and burn out the southwest 40 acres of the Section Pasture. If I burn when there's no wind, I won't need any help. I can drive the cows to the other side of the pasture and shoot a few times to scare out the deer so they won't burn up. And the belly-high broomweeds should bum hot enough to kill most of the mesquite, whitebnush and prickly pear." Wait a minute; there are at least eight misconceptions in this thinking. They deal with proper timing, size of burn, wind, help, fuel, expected kill, grazing management and wildlife impact Effective planning is absolutely necessary to achieving beneficial effects from prescribed burning. A fire plan should be developed well in advance of the planned burn.

Prescribed burning in Texas is usually scheduled for January, February and March, with the exact timing dependent on weather. ranch operations and the purpose of the burn. Because burning is most effectively used in conjunction with other management techniques such as chaining, bulldozing, spraying, goating, desirable for prescribed burning. etc., it is wise to plan ahead for such a combina-

The first objective in planning is to make the necessary management arrangements to have 3,000 pounds per acre of grass fuel (air-dry) is

The second objective in planning is to arrange for appropriate controls. For physical control of the fire, pumpers and other equipment need to be in working order, firelanes cut, access roads checked out, fire retardant chemicals arranged for and communication equipment lined up. Although there is considerable flexibility in timing these anangements, it is important not to wait until the last minute. Firelane construction should be delayed until after frost and until you are fairly certain that a burn will be carried out.

One way to reduce the risk of escape is to enlist all the neighbors as part of the fire crew. Neighbors need to be informed at an early stage of your planning so that they can choose whether or not to be involved in the burn.

The third objective in planning is to notify local authorities of your intentions and to arrange for communications during the day of the burn.

The fourth objective in planning is to be ready for the burn itself. Weather changes which could alter plans cannot be forecast with much accuracy more than 2 days in advance.

The final objective in planning is to arrange adequate grass fuel at the right time. About for follow-up management. Grazing animals removed from a pasture to albw grass accumulation for fuel will also need a place to go for 60 to 90 days after the burn.

Predator control is a major issue for area ranchers

By Stephanie Logue Bandera Bulletin Staff Writer

Coyotes, feral hops, red fix and an occasional mountain into robot eat rob Hill Country ranchers of stock and dollars yearly. But, according to Clarence Rhodes, secretary/treasure of the Lifestock and Wildlife Association, Bandera Country's worst predators are fire ants and loose does.

Rhodes said that hogs are "plentid" in the county. From Feb. 1, 1992, until Jan. 1, 1993, 160 were killed. During that time, 185 coyotes were taken by the county's three predator control clubs. But the most damage and the greatest losses came from packs of dogs. The greatest damage and loss of deer and wildlife resulting from fire ants. Rhodes said 800 fire ant mounds for an arce of ground is not unusual in the county.

He credits coyotes with being "the smartest animals I've ever seen." He said he admires and respects them. "They raise their young and teach them. The young are well trained by the parents. It's a family you have to admire. To trap a coyote, you have to be smarter than it is."

He gives as an example the hunter who was having a leisurely dinner in a cafe only to learn that three coyotes were engaged in trying to steal his recently killed deer from the trailer outside the restaurant.

Coyotes, he says, kill to eat. Packs of dogs kill for fun.

dogs kill for fun. Ranchers in the county use a variety of methods to protect stock from predators. Guard dogs or guard donkeys are ususally very effective. Coyotes and feral hogs are trapped, hunted with dogs, or shot.

Rhodes said the Livestock and Wildlife Association was founded in 1955. "We're not trying to wipe out the coyotes and hogs. Just control them to give ranchers a chance. The Bandera Wolf Club (now called the Livestock and Wildlife Association) was founded in 1955. Without it, there wouldn't be a sheep or gostand hardly any deer-left in the county."

The Livestock and Wildlife Association is working with Bandera County to establish a system of controlling loose dogs.

Rhodes said he can't imagine how the fire anta could be controlled "The turkeys and ground birds in our area are gone. Squirrels and young fawns...I heard a bleating sound one day and the dogs were barking." I went to look and found a newly born fawn out under a tree. Pire ants were going in one nostril clear down to its stomach to eat the milk it had drunk and coming back up out of the other nostril. They had completely eaten its navel and rectum. The animal was in so much pain it had to be destroyed. It was too far gone to save."

Predation is the number one cause of death to sheep and goats in the Edwards Plateau region. Ranchers lost approximately 12 million dollars state-wide to predators in 1988.

Nope, their names aren't Fernando or Dollybut these llamas are llovely llittle creatures

By Charles Wood Boerne Star Staff Writer

For most, the term ranching most likely brings to mind stretches of land populated by cattle, goats or sheep. More recently the Texas Hill Country has seen an increase in ranches which deal in more exotic animals. Llamas

Members of the camel family, llamas were domesticated four to five thousand years ago in the Andes of Peru. They have been raised in North America for about 50 years. Not only are they used as pack animals, but also as pets. Because of their calming effects, they are also used in animal facilitative training.

On Just Enough Ranch, just a few miles outside of Helotes on Highway 16. is Log Cabin Llamas, owned by John and Emily Klauss. Rare madrona trees surround the operation, which is also home to zebras, kangaroos, and even a couple of black

According to Emily, llamas are damage to the trail than horses, and because they "kush," or lie down, a lot more can be carried in a trailer. They have three stomachs, chew a cuud, and leave peat deer-like pellets.

"They're so smart you only have to halter train them once and they never forget. A horse will forget if you leave him alone for too long. The higgest thing is respect. If they respect and trust you and know you're not going to jerk them around they'll do anything for you.

"I started raising llamas in March of '89," notes Emily. "I had camels at one time and a friend handed me a llama magazine. It had an article about camels and I thought it might be easier to raise llamas.

"I went to an auction in Omaha, Nebraska just to look at them, I flew up there and then bought several and had to beg people for another way back. I've "Anybody can get into llamas at whatever price they wish. Pet quality llamas are very affordable."

Females are bred at 14-24 months of age. The Klausses wait until 19 months. Weanlings can be kept together for up to a year and then they have to be separated.

"The main thing is to keep the males and females separated. Otherwise the males want to breed all the time and the females will constantly be spitting them off." Llamas do not have a yearly "heat" cycle. They are brought into estrus by the males and thus can be bred any time of the Llamas have an elaborate social organization. The creatures stayed in touch by humming softly in a soothing, almost human way. When Turbo, the dominant male, was let out of his pen, he immediately went over to the fence where several young males were kept. The young llamas folded their tails up against their backs. "That's how they show submission," said Emily. She pointed out, however, that if the sexes are separated by enough distance, the rivalry between males is not as intense.

Sorry, no food - Emily Klauss Informs Fax, a young male, that she is only here to show a reporter around.

"People think they're like does since they're so soft and fuzzy-looking. They're really more like cats. They're independent and they're also very curious."

It is also important not to be too affectionate with the animals when they're young, and not to encourage behavior like pushing or spitting. "Make sure that whatever they're doing when they're little you won't mind whenever they're 400 pounds."

Llamas get about one pound of feed plus hay or free choice pasture in the summer and spring. Over-feeding is unwise, since "females that get too fat won't conceive and won't make much milk if they do. When they're grown up they can gain weight in a hurry."

On Feb. 15 and 16, about 150 or so llamas will be at the San Antonio Livestock Show. For more information, call Log Cabin Llamas at 210/535-4443.

1. What criteria defines "Pipe Creek? Mountain Springs Ranch is definitely in Pipe Creek but only a few of us who own property out here have a Pipe Creek mailing address, and most of the land owners do not have telephones in the 535 dialing district. What is the criteria?

2. What area does the fire house actually serve? Who defined this area? Who approved this area? The fire trucks have been in Mountain Springs Ranch twice that I have seen recently-once when missuided child interstional.

ecently-once when misguided child intention y started a fire and once when Mother Natu y started a fire and once when Mother Nature did not cooperate with a new neighbor who was trying to clear her property in order to build a house. They did a fine job, and those of us who live here were most grateful to the volunteers for their help! But again, what is the criteria?

3. Who established and approved the $24/year membership fee? Who established and approved the $200/usage fee? If I call 911 to save a neighbor's property, am I liable for the fee or is my neighbor or is the arsonist? Is it fee or is my neighbor or is the aronist? Is it right to threaten me with the $200 fee to get me to buy into the $24 deal? I do not mind paying for this much-needed service. I do mind being approached to pay for it the way I was. I also mind the arbitrary rates. I am furious that only a few of us will be paying for a service that is designed to benefit all of us with no appearent "say so" about any of it.

This all seems to be typical of so many practices a handful of well meaning people certaily liab something and expect others to pay for it without any democratic basis. I suggest that the fire department, and other groups, take their issues to the voters or our elected officials before issues to the voters or our elected officials before issues to the voters or our elected officials before issues to the voters or our elected officials before issues to the voters or our elected officials before the good officials before the good officials before the second of the property of issues to the voters or our elected officials before they go off doing things like this. I see this as "taxation without representation" - the very principle that was violently opposed when this country was founded many years ago!

Please, do not disband the fire department.

Students at Alkek Elementary School celebrated their 100th day of school Jan. 29.

A zebra, a giraffe, 100 cars, 100 puppies, these are a few of their favorite things...

As a part of their math curriculum, Carolyn Pfeilifer's Prefirst grade class at Alkek Elementary celebrated 100 days of school on Friday, Jan. 29.
Daily calendar activities begin with the first day of school and continue until the last day, Day 176. Students count, bounce balls and learn place value. They also learn he days of the week and the names of the months.

Weather charts, birthday charts, tooth charts, and activities to demonstrate "today" and "tomorrow" are used in math activities. Students learn graphing, estimating and predicting with calendar activities.

Students hold a celebration after reaching 100 days of school. The children are asked to create a poster of 100 things and bring it to school. Fifth graders join the fun. They help the children count 10 objects of uring Friday's celebration 10 different food items, total ing 100. Bags of 100 objects are used again to count, Children are asked what the would have if they are the second of the second o

BANDERA, TEXAS OPEN SUNDAYS NOON to 6 p.m.

Students at Alkek Elèmentary School celebrated their 100th day of school Jan. 29.

A zebra, a giraffe, 100 cars, 100 puppies, these are a few of their favorite things...

As a part of their math curriculum, Carolya Pfeiffer's Prefirst grade class at Alkak Elegrade class at Alkak Elepart of their properties of the days of school on Friday, Jan. 29.
Daily calendar activities begin with the first day of school and continue until the last day, Day 175. Students count, bounce balls and learn place value. They also learn place value. They also learn the days of the week and the names of the months.

Weather charts, birthday charts, tooth charts, and activities to demonstrate "today" and "tomorrew" are used in math activities. Students learn graphing, estimating and predicting with calendar activities.

Students hold a celebration after reaching 100 days of school. The children are asked to create a poster of 100 things and bring it to school. Fifth graders join the fun. They help $100. Some of the responses the children count 10 objects of during Friday's celebration 10 different food items, total-included: a real zebra, a giraffe, 100 cars, 100 puppies used again to count.

Cookies, anyone? Bandera's Girl Scouts are planning their sale

Girl Scouts want YOU to buy okies. Funds from the sale of okies will be used for camping trips, for the purchase of arts and crafts materials and badges, for special outing, and for community service projects.

Lealie Skelly, who is coordinating the sale of Girl Scout nating the sale of Girl Scout Cookies for the first time this year, said that her troop set a goal of raising enough money for a trip to Fiesta Texas in June. If you want to put some-thing in the paper about this, tell everyone to buy cookies!"

Girl Scout troops have already taken orders for cookies will be delivered after March 12. Since all orders for cookies must be by the case, extra cookies will be sold in booths around the community after the ordered cookies have been delivered.

There are nine troops in Bandera County, One troop, the Daisy Troop (kindergarten age) in not participating in the work is sales.

Bandera will get road grant from state agency

According to Bandera Judge Ray Maur, Bandera will receive $350,000 in grant money to be used by the road department to repair flood-damaged roads.

Maur said he received an "official call" from Joel Wilkinson informing him of the decision.

County Commissioner Bennie Barker made a trip to Austin to plead Bandera's cause last week after learning that Bandera's request for funding had been denied.

Letters

'Watch out for city slickers'

Dear editor:
Please allow me to address Etta Johnson's letter (2-3-93).

Chevrolet Motor Division, Inc. has charged me with the responsibility for representing their products in an area of primary responsi-bility that includes all of Bandera County and portions of Real, Uvalde and Medina Coun-accepted lightly. Rodeo Chevrolet Inc. wants the opportunity to service all Chevrolet products. The level of technology required to prop-erly service today's vehicles are rarely found in an independent garage.

Likewise when Bandera County residents travel to authorized Chevrolet service facilities outside their local dealer, they are not going to receive the level of service that my service department will provide for our local customers. That's a promise. Anytime there is anyone with a difference of opinion, I would get an opportunity to provide customer service for Ms. Johnson. However, I will provide any labor required to correct her current problem, if it continues, free of charge. All I ask is for her to pay any legitimately required GM parts, and an opportunity to provide customer service the next time she requires it.

Please allow Rodeo Chevrolet Inc the opportunity to quote your next new vehicle purchase as well. Don't assume that you can buy a new Chevrolet cheaper in the city, this is not so. City people drive to the country for their best buy. They are continually reminded of the cost of doing business in the city, with the high rate of taxes, property values and large employee overhead. I have less over-head, and a desire to provide the customers within my area of primary responsibility with a Chevrolet Sales and Service that is second to none. Just give us a chance.

A look back into Bandera's past...

70 years ago, J. Marvin Hunter Jr. was among the cast members in the play 'An Old Fashioned Mother,' presented by the BYPU. 'Widder Bill Pindle' was played by Irna Hicks and 'Miss Lowiry Loviny Custard was played by Emily Ruth Rambie. The Bandera Theater, home of clean amusement,' featured Douglas Fairbanks in 'Flirting With Fate.' The comedy 'Lion and Girl' was also showing, Admission was 10 cents and 30 cents. And Warren Hunter, whose radio set was as good it 'could be heard a block away' would present a radio concert featuring fine orchestra music. Advertisers included Felix Knibbe's City Barber Shop and First State Bank, whose 'capital and surplus was $17,900. Bank directors were C.H. Mansfield, J.W. Short, I.E. Adamietz, H.C. Wright and H.E. Rambie.

Reading her article reminded me of something that happened in the Air Force some years back. We had a young man that worked with us and he always complained about the food served in the chow hall. As I ate there quite often and thought it to be very good, I asked him when was the last time he ate there; his reply was, "h—, I've zover field, J.W. Short, I.E. Adamietz, H.C. Wright and H.E. We recently suffered a traumatic experience when our son was in a wreck when returning home from the Banders basketball game. However, the compassion and concern shown by this community helped greatly in keeping our minds at ease and our spirit in high.

From the moment of the accident, friends and strangers alike began to immediately administer first aid, contact us by phone, volunteer to help out in any way they could and stay with our son and comfort him.

Jesus said, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." And the best human example I have found of that is in Corrie ten Boom's "Hiding Place." Corrie and her family became leaders in the Dutch Under-ground during the Nazi invasion and occupation of Holland. piamed nitrerly about the rampant local, better smilled and reminded her that the Bible said to 'give thanks in everything."
A short time later, they learned to thank God for the fleas. Guards were so terrified of the pests that they left the prisoners in peace. Betteis and Corrie held Bible studies and wership services ummolested. Betteis's strength was already failing when she was detailed to leveling ground with a shovel. She received a severe beating for being unable to do the work. She began coughing up blood and instructed Corrie, 'don't look at it. Look at Jesus only."
When Betsie was finally carried to the hospital on a stretcher, Corrie realized the difference her sis-ter had made in their barracks. When prisioners crawled over each other now, they said, "excuse ma." "Sorry." "No harm done." The hate was gone. Betsie's sister carried her dream with her every-where she went, even shen she was returned to work detail from the hospital. Her dream was to establish a home for those who had been dumaged by the concentration camps. Corrie shared that dream. Corrie's dream was to house prisoners; Bet-sie was still praying for the guards and planning to ale was still praying for the guards and planning to show ther persecutors how to love. "We must show them that love is greater," she would say. Many of the old and sick were taken to be burned alive. Betsie became so weak that she had to be carried everywhere and propped up between bodies at roll call. Even as Corrie smuggled news-papers to put under Betaie's thin dress for protec-tion from the cruel cold, Betaie was thinking of love. "People can learn to love from flowers," she said. Her dying words were, "there is no pit so deep that He is not deeper still." Corrie was finally released from prison by "mis-

Banders was never in any danger of losing Priday night, short of leaving at halftime. They led 36-12 at the mid-joint.

Banders shot 56 percent from the field and stole the ball 22 times. They netted 16 of 24 free shots for a 67 percent rating, snatched 25 rebounds and blocked eight Somerset shots to completely control the game. Backetball fans will get a double dip at the playoffs. Banders will meet Dripping Springs Storings Storings Storings are some storing and the finan can re-enter and watch Devine and Fredericksburg play also.

Dripping Springs tied with Fredericksburg for the District 25-3A championship and lost a coin toss for bi-district placing. The co-champions are rated 3 and 4 in the state for their class.

A look back into Bandera's past...

12 years ago, Bandera County Judge Rein VanderZee announced that Lost Maples State Natural Area had been named a registered national landmark. Commissioners Court decided it was time to let construction bonds on the new jail facility. Some discussion was in favor of waiting for interest rates to come down but it was decided to press on since construction costs were rapidly rising * Pipe Creek VFD announced their bake sale to be held at Jennings Store in Pipe Creek.

22 years ago, mayor Wilvie Smith announced that the City of Bandera had pur-chased street signs and all city streets would soon have signs • BHS's FHA announced Ike Craddock as their beau at their Sweetheart Party • Southwestern Bel-l's ad explained the new "One-plus" long distance dialing • Winners in the Miss Bannty pageant included winner Annette Short and second runner up Linda Wheeler * BISD superintendent announced the pending retirement of several long-time district employees including Joe King, Knowles Teel, Grace Wootton and Mayme Hunter * BHS class favorites included seniors Robert Caraway and Debra King; juniors Duncan Haffield and Melonie Langhenning; sophomores Sidney Mazurek and Kathleen Montague; and freshmen Randy Hicks and Ruth Keirn * BISD voters soundly defeated a $1.1 million bond election to build a new high school.

29 years ago, Coach Don Hicks and his St. Joseph's Mustangs basketball team won consolation in the Boerne tournament. Team members included Ray D'Spain, Jessie Faglie, Zane Everett and Dickie Mueller • BHS girls' basketball team claimed the district title. Team members included offensive players Elizabeth Williams, Gretchen Mueller and Kimberly Walters; and defensive players Shirley Pember, Linda Haun and Mary Ann Haun • John McShane announced that Jack and Ann Moseley had acquired the Bandera Mercantile from him • The state draft board announced that March's quota for Texas was to be 610 men. Nationwide, 14,000 were to be drafted in March, all for the Army.

This is to say good-bye to our mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, sister, aunt and friend. From all of us who were denied the opportunity to express our sorrows and farewells to someone who was part of our lives at some time along her life's journey. From those who knew of her goodwill but never crossed paths. A special good-bye from the grandchildren, great-grandchildren and especially the great-great grandchildren of the future who will never meet her WITH LOTS OF OUR LOVE.

George Washington was a great and gracious It has been said that Washington's greatness was a composite of simple vigtues; honesty, courage, physical and spiritual, and tremendous force of character. Add to this great dignity and a sense of moderation and there is the mor-picture of a great man. His moderation was often criticize: yet it was a golden virtue.

His life melts into the background of the times in which he lived. In fact, he was such an integral part of this background that at times his personality completely vanishes in the vast panorama of events... Yet, his example has been an

As the Christian world enters the season of Lent, Monsignor Michael McManus burns palm fronds in front of St. Stanislaus Catholic Church Tuesday, Feb. 23 in preparation for Ash Wednesday. The ashes come from last year's bleased palms, most of which are distributed to parishioners on Palm Sunday. The sehes represent the concept of ashes to ashes, dust to dust," seld McManus. "The concept of the human body returning to dust from where it came but the splitt living on. The palms are representative of Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem." The monsignor suggests that if individuals will concentrate on correcting just one of their faults or sinful habits for Lent, the celebration of

Watch out for strays!

Recently we had a small stray dog come to our home. As with any stray animal, I warned my children to stay away from it. It looked harmless. I fed it and tried to find its owner. On the third day, I was finally able to confine it and ti anks to the Bandera Bulletin was able to find the owner. The dog was never aggressive us it was confined, and calmed right back down when the owner arrived. I was shocked to find out the dog had rabies

Please, if you have pets, take the time to Fa have them vaccinated. And if you find a stray, BE CAUTIOUS!

Also, the dog travelled a long distance, in a short period of time. If anyone picked up a dog between Friday night (Feb. 12-13) and Saturday morning, you should contact the Health Department

Three Bandera students receive DAR history awards

During the Daughters of the American Reveloution (DAR) program on Feb. 18, three Bam-dera county students were cho-sen to receive American history awards. Jennifer Rae Herrera, Christina Immel and Kate Huisan were chosen from 125 displays. Junior Hish student Christi-na Immel wrote "Famous Land-marks of the American Revolu-tion." She highlighted the Guil-ford Court House in North Carclina, the site of a 1781 battle between British and American armies. The Americans," she wrote, "were fighting for their freedom and land. The British, the best army in the world, wanted to stay in control of both the land and the people." & Although Brittish General Cornwallis won, Immel called it "the bollowest of victories. Local schools celebrate Texas Public Schools Week

Texas Public Schools Week is celebrated this week, March 1-6. The theme selected by Benders Independent School District is "Bandera BDD Dedicated to Education... Striving for Excellence."

Banders Buperintendent Ted Dockery said that taxpayers and parents are "ALWAYS" welcome in Bunders exhools. "Texas Public Schools Week gives us an opportunity to showease the positive things happening in our classrooms and the excellent education our children are receiving. We encourage parents and all patrons to take advantage of our educational system by getting involved in our schools."

A news release from Ends beyond dom.

"When Texas Public Schools Week was first set up by the Texas Masonic Lodge, it was meant to coincide with March 2, Texas Independence Day, pointing out that freedom and education go hand in hand.

"In the 139 years the Texas public school system has been in place, Texans have placed education as their top priority. Education is the largest single term in the state budget...Today, Texas schools are educating a greater percentage of the state's children than ever before in history."

A look back into Bandera's past... 45 years ago, Champion calf roper and Bandera boy Toots Mansfield won the calf roping at the Ft. Worth Stock Show and Rodeo • Showing calves at Houston's Stock Show were Thomas Keese Jr. (placing 3rd), Victor Hillman (16th), Barbara Gayle Whitehead (8th). Wayne Keese, Ernest Hillman and Harold Bausch * A contest was underway to name Ban-dera's baseball team. A "gratifying" number of entries had been received but if you wanted to place your last-minute entry you could call J.H. Nixon at phone number 179 * Ranch-men's Chevrolet invited everyone to come see the new '48 trucks. New features included we might have.

If you want better understanding of this important issue, please join us at the Bandera Bank Room (behind the Bandera Bank) on Thursday, Mar. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

to place your last-minute entry you could call JH. Nixon at phone number 179 * Ranchmen's Chavvolet invited everyone to come see the new '48 trucks. New features included gearshift mounted on the steering column and a foot-operated parking brake * At the Bantex was Randolph Scott in Albuquerque and Betty Grable in Springtime in the Rockies * The Bandera County Grand Jury warned that anyone operating slot machines or other gambling devices in the county would be presecuted to the full extent of the law * Bandera's Tourist Association was planning a Late Spring Festival (in May). Names being considered for the event included Bandera Buckaroo Daya, Bandera Frontier Days or Bandera Stompede. All businesses were to close early by one hour so everyone could attend a planning "ing for the event, which promised to bring national publicity to Bandera (at a later mesuing 'Uncle Ed' Mansfield was named honorary chairman of the Bandera Stompede).

27 years ago, It was announced that Governor John Connally signed the new Voters' Registration Act, allowing free registration and eliminating the polt tax * Lakehills' St. Victor's Chaple Celebrated its 10th anniversary * Adams Chevrolet invited everyone in to see the new Chevelbs SS with the 398 Turbo Jet V8 designed to get you moving * King's Ranch for Girls announced that Ellen Brient and Dorothy Schemmer would be their new directors * Los Grings band was playing for the Heart Fund's Dance at the Cabaret * TBachers at BHS attended a demonstration of the school's new copying machine. Teachers were encouraged to explore the many possibilities of this new piece of equipment * Lost Valley Downs I appreciated the article on Ser Education concerning SB No. 20 and I'm glad you included a copy of the bill. I wish you would publish it again and include Section 21.101c (ga referred to in the bill) so that we could see what the "appropriate essential elements" are, thus enabling us to make a more fully informed decision about the bill.

As the hill is written it became teamure. BHS attended a demonstration of the school's new copying machine. The chers were encouraged to explore the many possibilities of this new piece of equipment *Lest Valley Downs opened Spring Racing with three weekends of racing scheduled in March * After serving 26 years on BISD school board, Lane Langford announced that he would not seek re-election * Preston Faris of Medina placed second in breed at Houston's stock show with a call' he won in the previous year's call scramble * During Public School Week at Bandera everyone was invited to tout the newly completed science lab, library and superintendent's office * Grace Lutheran Church announced acquisition of property on the Kerrville Highway as the building site of their new church facility. 1992, or January 1993, and the 73rd Legislature will be asked to pass into law the APPAC (Adolescent Pregnancy and Parenthood Advisory Council) Plan for mandatory sex education in our schools.

Should this be adopted, you as a parent will not be allowed to choose be remove your child from these classes which will be required in all grade levels K through 12. The APPAC proposal recommends national standards for sex education curriculum espoused by SIECUS (Sex Information and Education Council of the United States) which will include the following curriculum guidelines for your child:

At Level 1 (Kindergarten through Grade 2)

--Homosexuality: gay and lesbian relationships -- Masturbation

At Level 2 (Grade 3 through 6)

-- Three ways to have genital intercourse without causing pregnancy

-- Sexual orientation

-- Masturbation for sexual pleasure during puberty

At Level 3 (Grades 7 through 9)

-Orgasm

--Sexual orientation cannot be changed by therapy or medicine

-- The right to make decisions about reproductive matters

--Communicating with sexual partners about needs and limits -- Women's rights concerning abortion

In addition, the Texas Education Code, Chapter 21 would be amended as follows (found on pages 2-4 of the APPAC report submitted to the 72nd Texas Legislature in October 1990): --To allow the State Board of Education to permit excused absences of a student requesting or receiving reproductive health care and to prohibit the requirement of parental consent or notification regarding school absences when they are for the purpose of reproductive health care.

There will be a PUBLIC MEETING at the BANDERA BANK ROOM (Behind the Bandera Bank) on Cypress Street, THURSDAY, MARCH 4 at 7:30 p.m. Pamela Harney, Media Liaison for Concerned Women for America of South Texas, will be speaking on the proposed APPAC recommendations

If the deems that I am worthy and my lessons have been learned.

If my transgressions are forgiven by His grace on which I've trod,
My sins atoned through penance, then my world will be returned.

So much a part of life on Earth and yet a world away. Redeemable through a merciful God and not by Ceasar's law. So near and yet so far apart, from the world we know today. A place where reveries are born, a world without a flaw.

No drama on a theatrical stage, as a Shakespeare presentatic No Stevenson tale of adventure on a remote deserted isle. Perhaps a poem of nature's beauty, a Robert Frost sensation. Indeed a Thomas Jefferson world, in we the people style.

No madhatters herein abide, no fidgety rabbit that's always late.

No exotic world of fantasy as Lewis Carroll would tell. A mad world down a rabbit hole, an unworld as he might state. One of bizarre imagination, created for Alice Liddell.

Unlike the animated egg, sitting precariously on a wall. My world was not created by a stroke from Dodgson's pen-ytet common in one relation to the infamous Humpty's fall. If cannot be put together by all the King's horses and men.

Ahe Lancoln warned us sternly. A house divided cannot stand. Nor, as he continued, "can this nation long endure." As another patriot once opined, in words not quite so bland.

We beseech Thee to inspire us, Lord, as mortals here on Earth

Through earnest prayer and brotherhood, let thy will be done.

Lost somewhere within itself, there is a place I long to be. Detached from recognition by so many passing years.

Jockey Tucker Cahanin: A Bandera Downs Profile

In a musical Cajun accent thick enough to sop biscuits in, Tucker Cahanin speaks with passion about two things only: his wife Sheila and fast horses, ones he calls "runners." Born in Lafayette, Louisiana 35 years ago, the boy learned riding from his trainerfather. In 1976 and '77 at Delta Downs. leading rider honors went to this slender, dark boy who had a certain unerring instinct for thoroughbreds. Tucker likes Bandera's quarter horses too, and Arabians. In fact, he simply likes Bandera Downs, believing that "there's a different kind of people here. They're good people.

"I came here (to Bandera Downs) in April of 92 and I did good, but on May 31st I was riding Loom Fruit when he went down on the first turn. I cracked my shoulder and was off three months." Tucker still won 40 races last season. When pressed, he will admit to some of his career highlights: he holds six unbroken track records at Evangeline; he won the Jean Lafitte Futurity in 1983 on Prima Nada, a strong, charismatic mare, with a purse of $204,000. "When they took her out of the trailer, I knew she was a runner," Tucker states.

death." The couple has wanted a child for several years and just learned of the pregnancy. Sheile's due date is September, but Tucker is already exhibiting a hovering, settling-down kind of attitude. "I'm happy now. I've ridden some racehorses, some runners, and I'll ride some more-I have a lot of good years of riding left-and I'll have five or six head (of horses) to train when I retire." Tucker has hung on to his winnings from the '83 Jean Lafitte. and that's what the couple will retire on far in the future. His advice to young jockeys? "Know your horse and watch out for the other guy."

Tucker and Sheila have a quiet schedule in the dark season, with morning galloping for him, lunch at home, and the "All My Children", "One Life to Live", "General Hospital." Soap operas may be this man's only vice. "After that," Tucker says, "I start thinking about supper." In the evenings, the Cahanins visit friendstalk about the upcoming season, new hot horses and old favorites, and challenging races. Nowadays, life promises good things for Tucker Cahanin in the Jockey Tad Leggett has led a charmed career-the Nebraskan won the first race he ever rode!

Tad Leggett, at twelve, would walk out to the little track in Broken Bow, Nebraska, and clean stalls for a lady with some race horses stalled there. When it was time for the lady to move her horses, "I took my stuff and went to get in the truck with her, but my folks caught me." And, although he has meat-cutting and feedlot pen-riding to fall back on, he can't leave race riding yet. At 27, the Bandera Downs jockey has plenty of years left in what appears to be a charmed career. He galloped horses for all of two weeks before he drew his first race ride, and he won it-the Nebraska Open Futurity on quarter horse BCR Patient Wrangler.

Red-headed Tad was born in Alliance, Nebraska, and his folks still live there. It's cold there, he believes, and that's one reason why he and his wife. Tina, and their two-year-old, Tiffany, have decided to make a home in the scenic Hill Country of Texas. Tad loves the beauty of the area as well as the warm hospitality of the people. At some tracks, race people are treated rudely, but thoroughbreds and Arabians. "Bandera is growing, here (at Bandera) it's like a close family. You've got people you can count on." Leggett is ready to stop riding days: from Kentucky to Missouri to little friendly rivalry. Oklahoma, riding Appaloosas and quarter horses, and with each year, it'll get even better." The purses will get richer and the competition stiffer, but moving all over the country as he did in his early that's fine for Tad and his fellow jocks. They like a

Bandera Downs is home to some of the finest thoroughbred, quarter horse and Arabian racing in Texas. The facility is a sparkling jewel just 35 miles northwest of San Antonio, and the lengthy race seeson affords plenty of mounts for the likes of Tad Leggett, a positive spokesman for Turning to Bandera's three-breed meet and the horsemanship required, Tad ponders the difference in riding techniques. Quarter horses explode as they break from the gate and run hell-bent down the straightaway. With the big thoroughbreds, the best jocks find the horse's rhythm and rock with it. Here strategy is critical. Arabians have their own peculiar rhythm. Tad says, and there is always the danger of "over-riding Arabians because you've gotten out of time with them." Leggett is particularly pleased when he and his mount find that perfect synchronicity of horse and rider, regardless of the breed. He laughs and states that his favorite horses are those he's made the

Asked what advice he'd have for owners and trainers looking for a great place to run, Tad warns "Come to Bandera Downs-you won't want to leave. They treat you real nice here and there are great opportunities."

Bandera Downs' fans witnessed film star and Arabian horse man Patrick Swayze present the silver cup in the inaugural running of the Patrick Swayze*Lisa Niemi Cup for Arabians on Sunday, Nov. 22, 1992. Russell and Glenda Recder's Kremlin Ku took home the silver cup as he established a track record of 1:43.3 for the 7 1/2 furlong event. Swavze took time from filming a movie in San Antonio to lead the post parade on his national champion stallion Tammen and to put Tammen through a brief routine for the crowd.

Also last year, race fans from all over the state of Texas welcomed Eclipse Award winning jockey Pat Day to Bandera Downs. Pat addressed the crowd and his fellow jockeys. telling of his win in the Kentucky Derby.

WELCOME, RACE FANS AND HORSEMEN!

We invite you to enjoy all the great variety of Bandera County during your stay here...Good food, hospitable people, beautiful scenery.

THANKS, Bandera Downs, for helping to make Bandera County a great place to live and to visit.

We hope you have a great time visiting Bandera County.

Top band to play at Cajun event

The Bruce Daigrepoint Cajun Band, called one of the top Cajun bands in the nation top Cajun bands in the nation, will perform at this year's Medina Lake Cajun Festival, event promoter Bob Caswell announced recently.

This is really a great band, and i think people are really going to like their music, Caswell said. We are excited to have already booked them for the Cajun festival.

The band has released two.

The band has released two albums, "Stir Up the Roux" in 1987, and "Couer Des Cajuns" in 1989. The latter was named the Cajun French Music Asso-ciation's 1989-1990 Album of

The group's songs are a mixture of a rolicking dance beat and folksy Cajun-flavored melodies.

The Bruce Daigrepoint Cajun Band has appeared on numerous television and radio programs, including the "Cooking With Soul" program in 1992 and on a Popeye's Fried Chicken commercial in 1991.

JOHN & SUSIE GRIMES 1204 MULBERRY BANDERA, TEXAS 78003 796-3922 ave you ever heard the story about a man who live by the side of the road and sold hot dogs? He was hard of hearing so he had no radio or TV. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. But he sold good hot dogs. He put up signs on the highway telling how good they were. He stood by the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog, Mister?" And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his business. He finally got hi son home from college to help him out. But then somethin happened. His son said, "Dad, haven't you been reading th newspapers? Things are tough all over. The European situation is horrible. The domestic situation is worse. Whereupon the father thought, 'Well, my son is a college man: he reads newspapers, listens to the radio-watches TV- and he ought to know.' So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, no longer bothered to stand out front to sell bis hot dogs. Sales fell down almost to a dead stop. Finally, the tough-and will probably get even Bandera High School's Flag and Dance team competed against 20 schools on Saturday, Feb. 27 at Lee High School and placed second. They took home a trophy for School and paced sections. I nevy took name a trophy for high kicks and for their cape routine. According to Beverly Struthoff, the Flag and Dance team is neither supported nor acknowledged by the Banders School district. Struthoff said Banders was the only school competing on Feb. 27 that was not bused in by the achool district. "If it were not for the dedication of Cindy Fearon of Pipe Creek," she said, "our Flag and Dance team would be non-existent. She spends all of her free time and even some of her own dollars to keep this team afloat. Cindy drives these girls and all their gear to the competitions with no help from our school district." Struthoff went on to say that she was "very proud" to have this team of young women representing her community. The group is still seeking sponsors.

Have a happy St. Patrick's Day!

In honor of the holiday, Bul-letin photographer Larry T. Williams caught this shot of a stained glass window at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church. The window depicts the Irish Saint Church. Patrick, whom the holiday was named for, but longtime Bandera resident Mary McGroarty Smith says that the holiday is celebrated in a more festive manner in the U.S. than in her native ire-land. She left Ireland when she was 20, and Mary says that In the Spring of the year, Bandera reminds me of home (Ireland), with its luch green hills, flowers and birds. Mary, whose maiden name was Breslin, had five brothers and one sister, but Mary is the only one who came to this country. Dear editor:

We all think it's great that Bandera if celebrating its 137th year, but it is a shame that one of our well-known citizens that has probably done more to promote and bring more revenue and good entertainment than anyone, to this town has been forgotten about.

this town has been forgotten about. The man we are talking about is Arkey shud and his famous Silver Bollar Bar. Arkey and The Silver Dollar is known all over the world. There have been movies made there and articles written about Arkey, published in "Texas Monthly." Yes, folks, it is true that Arkey and his Silver Dollar, that he has owned for over 25 years, is definitely a major part of Bandera. He has people from Corpus Christi, Houston, Dallas and from Germany. England and many other states and lots more countries overseas to come and hear his original songs and they all love him: One of the many songs which he has written titled Banders Fever" is number 19 on the music charts in Denmark and in Europe.

Arkey and the Blue Cowboy Band are very much a big part of Bandera whether certain people like it or not, and ins't it a major screw up on someone's part that he and his band were not contacted to entertain for Bandera's 137th year.

On that night, I was returning home when my car broke down about four miles out of town. Luckily for me, a very nice family went out of their way to bring me back to town for help.

I decided to call the Sheriff's Department, but so they would know the car was there and I was making arrangements to have the car taken care of 'The dispatcher that answered the phone treated me like an idiot, and that I shouldn't have even bothered the department with such a trivial problem as my car brouble. He then overheard a conversation on my end of the telephone that had nothing to do with him. He became very rude after that. A few minutes later, he calls back to let me know that a deputy was on his way.

That deputy was such a "gentleman" that he didn't even get (out) of this? Car of fire to help as move the car. In fact, he was more concerned with some kids who were going to possibly rone than with my safety or the safety of others. Needless to say, he didn't stay long.

I just want to know why this deputy and dispatcher, who are paid to protect and serve ete poople, acted like they could have cared less. played in Utopia at the com munity rodeo arena, jokingly called the Cow Palace. Because there was no grass on the playing surface, the field the playing surface, the field was deep-plowed to soften it up somewhat for the hard falls of feetball. Players literally had to be clod hoppers. Pad-gett says the greatest hazard, though, of playing Utopia was the harsh lime thickly applied to delineate the yard lines. Players crashing to earth when tackled frequently suf-fered burns.

The foregoing is only an outline of the history of foot-ball's finest hour, played out on a country field of dreams. We have not been able to the time to ascertain how LeStourgeon-Mayfield received at the time. Does anyone have a clipping?

We also need more input to-fill out all the details of the story. The basic facts have been verified by Joyce and Hough LeStourgeon, Don's parents; and Don, himself, interviewed recently in, of all places, the lobby of the Milam Building in San Antonio. In 1855, ploneers submitted their petition to the Texas Legislature Minety signatures followed a pettion submitted to the Texas Legislature. November of 1855 asking for the formation of a county named Bandera. The pettioners, then residents of Bexas County, cited the inconveniency of traveling 30 to 70 miles to San Antonio to conduct legal business. They also claimed that serving as juriers or witnesses at court put them to great trouble and expense.

They assured the legislature that sufficient numbers of people lived in 'the town of Bandera, on Bandera Creek, on the upper Medina, and on the upper Gundalupe; all of whom are desirous of having a new County seathlished for their mutual convenience and newtratage, and are ready and willing to erect suitable public buildings as soon as said County is established. A map was attached to the j. ition describing the meters and bounds of the county, which they asked be named Bandera and further asked that the city of Bandera be designated the County Seat.

Some signatures on the petition have defied identification, but among the signers were th Robert Ballantyn F.W. Davidson John Myre Francz Jurecski P. Martin entertainment, they did not name the race track or the various nighttime entertainments (music and dancing) in the area. They named sight-seeing, visiting Bandera's historical uildings; spending time at the library and the museum; visit-ing the Silver Sage Corral, and "just walking around smiling at people and having them smile back."

Surprisingly, when Winter

Some of the Winter Texans named churches they enjoyed visiting. Quite a few mentioned visiting. Quite a few mentioned Faith Chapel in Lakehills. A couple from Idaho said it was "a rare treasure" to find such a loving, energetic church so close to their winter home at Thou-sand Trails.

Another couple, wintering here from Illinois, exclaimed over the abundance of GREEN during the winter. "All the trees and the hills and the plants during the winter. "All the trees and the hills and the plants everywhere- some flowers blooming already! We love it! blooming aiready! We love it! And the deer- we just love hav-ing them around the camp-ground and everywhere we go. We like to drive around and see the country. Even when it's what, you call 'bad weather' here, it's as much better than here, it's so much better than back home."

Some of the favorite places Winter Texans picked for "eat-ing out" were: the O.S.T. ("They have great food- unique for us-and reasonable prices. We first and reasonable prices. We first-heard about it in a travel maga-zine"); Harvey's Old Bank Steakhouse ("I love the atmo-sphere and the people that work there are great"); Busbee's Bar-B-Que ("It's like a minature museur. Bandera's Winter Texans are serious about supporting the local economy. The Gingerbread House was mentioned several times. ('I love to walk in and smell all the candles.' Everett's was praised for the friendliness and helpfulness of the people who work there. ('If they don't have something, they tell you where to find it.') Steins was credited with 'mout prices and credited with "good prices and such friendly people", and other Bandera merchants received mention for the wide selection

THEIR 1/2" PANEL Make sure you compare the thickness of other Lattice Panels on the market before you buy. Some of our competitors stock 1/2" panels!

OUR 5/8" PANEL

Our panels are treated to .40 CCA for ground contact and are a full 5/8" thick. And American Freeform puts them together with galvanized staples that won't rust.

Four-year-old Ashley Jennings was injured when the automobile driven by her mother, S. K. Jennings of Banders, left the road and overturned Monday morning, March 22 near Pipe Creek. Mrs. Jennings was driving toward San Antonio on rain slick State Hwy, 16 southeast of Banders when her 1988 Ford Escort left the road to the right, collided with an "Ice on Bridge" sign, crossed the highway and overturned just west of the Red Bluff Creek bridge. According to DPS trooper Dan Butts, the injured child was transported to Methodist Hospital in San Antonio. The extent of her injuries and further details of the not available at press time

The Saddle Tramps, an authentic Texas Rangers historical re-enactment group, will perform their medicine show and set up their campfire and cook.

Continous musical entertainment will begin at noon, featuring Arkey Blue, Dusty Britches, the Forge Band, Geronimo Trevenio, Linda

Allen and the Roadrunners and Kevin Fitzpstrick performing his rope tricks. Pioneer shingle-making and blackamithing will be demonstrated. Local merchants will pro-vide free information on Ban-dera County goods and ser-vices.

The following is this week's storical recipe:

Soft Gingerbread

Ingredient: 1 cup sour milk; 1 cup molasses; 2 1/3 cups flour; 1/4 cup melted butter; 1 3/4 teaspoons soda; 1/2 tea-spoon salt, 2 teaspoons ginger.

Mix soda with sour milk and add molasses. Sift salt and flour together, and ginger. Combine two mixtures, and add melted butter. Beat two minutes. Place in a buttered.

This recipe came from Mrs. Zack Clark, who married one of Amasa Clark as 9children. Amasa Clark as Bandera County's first permanent settler. Upon his arrival in the county with a hunting party of Delaware Indians in 1852, he found only shingle-makers living in tents where the City of Bandera is now located. Settling in a valley four miles west of the city, he setablished a 70-acre orchard. He worked the orchard with his large family until his death at 101 years of age.

Amasa Clark's daughter. Amasa Clark Schmidtke, cele-brated her 100th birthday last Saturday. For more on the cel-ebration, please to to Page 8.

Bandera County's first election was held in 1856, and it was conducted by founding father Charles de Montel. For more about who was elected to what office, please turn to Page 4.

In the tradition of Bandera pioneers

Banders's wood specialist Fred Collins practices making cypress shingles with traditional tools Monday, March 22. Collins is using a wooden mailet to strike a free and split off a board or shingle from a section of cypress log called a both. He will be demonstrating the old-time skill at Banders Downs during the day-long celebration of nders County's 137th birthday Saturday, March 27.

Letters

'Good will' ambassadors

Dear editor:

My wife and I felt you should be aware of the "Good Will Ambassador" of Pipe Creek. Bandera County is one of our favorite places to visit. It was made much more enjoyable for us last weekend. We stopped for dinner at the "Deer Country Cafe" in Pipe Creek on our way back to San Antonio. We had the friendliest waitress we have ever encountered. Her constant smile and stunning good looks made our meal a memorable one for sure. Her attentive concern for our comfort and needs, along with her beautiful smile, was a pleasant difference from the other establishments we have been to.

The combination of "excellent food" and "super-service" will bring us and many others back to your beautiful county sgain and again. Your ambassador's name tag said "Eva" on it. Jim and Ann Blake

She's glad to live here

Dear editor:
This is in response to Denise Crenshaw's letter, who happens to be from Kerrville:
I am a resident of Bandera County, And I am glad. I am especially glad that we have the police and sheriff departments that we have. Yes, the dispatchers also. Unfortunately, due to my job, I am forced to reside in Kerville, it is a requirement. I get to come home (to Bandera) every other weekend. Concern about the law

Dear editor:

Parents, grandparents, teachers and the public should all get together to stop the passing of the government law which will be telling our children, starting in kinder-garten, about sexuality. The law is detrimental to the Bible teaching of most inidviduals.

Being a nurse, I teach my children about teen pregnancy, abortion, AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases, etc., but not in kindergarten age. Parents are more

Warning signs of problem gambling include family neglect, financial depletion and more

"It usually begins with a big-winning streak, and the person thinks maybe he or she can win a fortune," says Dr. Lauren Pate, a psychiatriat at Baylor College of Medicine at Houston. She cited these danger sig-nals of problem gambling: Neglect of personal, family or job responsibilities in order to gamble.

For the compulsive gambler, the excitement of the big win is as addictive as alcohol or. er stakes to achieve excite-

Olympic Festival run applications now at Chamber office

Sports

More than half of the 4,000 participants who will carry a sym-bolic flame announcing the U.S. Olympic Festival set in San Antonio the last week in July have sphied for the chance to run in the state-wide promotion, says USOF spokesman Paul Alexander.

However, he says, there are still "plenty of segments remaining to be filled" for the 4,600 mile run which will climax in the Alamodome during the festival opening July 23.

The run will pass through Banders on July 10 starting about 12:39 p.m. Local citizens ranging in age from four years old up you plate a real/sestion are writing to the properties.

may obtain an application to participate in the run from the Bandera Chamber of Commerce office or by calling 210-222-golden retrievers Rosle and Buster at an American Kennel Club sanctioned field trial Saturday and Sunday, March 20-21 in San Antonio and won two qualifying awards. Seven-year-old Rosle on the left won her first of four required ribbons toward certification. Buster won his second ribbon. The trials are designed to simulate both upland bird hunting and also water fowl shooting and require the dogs to heel to a position, hold while being shot over and mark a downed bird but hold position until released. The released animal must then find and retreive the bird to its hunter. Dogs are judged on helr controllability, eagerness, softness of mouth and directness of their retreive, says Brown-Jones.

Kenneth Stroud, of Bandera Forge, entertained spectators at Bandera's 137th Birthday celebration on Saturday, March 27 as he worked in his 1850s Blacksmith Shop.

Politics came to Bandera big time last weekend when the campaigns of U.S. Senate candidates Kay Balley Hutchison and Bob Krueger narrowly missed crossing trails. Above, Hutchison appeared at Bandera Downs with local Republicans Kerrie Schneider, M.J. Cave, Kay P. Turner and Bennie Barker. Below, Krueger's wife Kathleen Tobin Krueger appeared in Bandera with local musicians Charle Strait and Dusty Britches, and waitress Mary Jilek. For more about the candidates, their campaigns and the local events please see Pages 6 and 7.

Rabies plagues county

Northeast and central states report 43% increase in cases

By Larry T. Williams Bulletin Staff Writer

Still more animals in Bandera County are turning up rabid or at least suspected of being rabid as a major outbreak of the deadly disease continues to cause concern. According to an article in the Pebruary issue of 'dvm' magazine, states in the eastern and central portion of the country are also reporting a major increase in rabies since 1991. "There have been five laboratory confirmed cases of rabies since the first of the year," says Bandera Country rabies control officer Dr. Conad Nightengale. "We've had four foxes and one dog." he said.

Texas Attorney General's office.

County Commissioners in P. ("Bad") Thompson, D. C. Ale to all Band or Bandwere charged with "Theft by Public Servant by more than $750 and less than $20,000." The Mo Bill decision means that the grand jury, chosen from registeryd Bandera County voters, did not find sufficient evidence to indict the commissioners.

Because the charges were made against elected public officials, District Attorney Bruce Curry, of Exercitic, called in the Attorney General's office and they completed the investigation into the charges filed and presented the evidence to the jury. Dear editor:
You have published many letters from pro-life advocates. I would like a chance to express my opinion as an individual who believes in the right to privacy and to be able to have a freedom of choice.

I believe no one sets out to get pregnant and have an abortion. The reality is, it happens. It is not up to me or anyone else to make that decision for a woman.

I would upge every citizen to contact their report and the proposed legislation is unnecessary as it will have no impact on crime. It is unenforceable and have an abortion. The reality is, it happens. It is not up to me or anyone else to make that decision for a woman.

Opinion

The problem is not Roe vs. Wade, the problem is people who beligive they have the right to stop a woman from making a decision, based upon an individual situation, about not bringing an unwanted child into this world.

Why don't these pro-life advocates use their energies on helping stop child abuse and help the children who are already born? These children meed desperately for someone to fight for their rights.

We hear everyday of children who are sexually abused or neglected, and babies who are born addicted to drugs. These are the unborn babies and children who need our support.

We must not take away an individual's right to make their own choices. If we do, aren't we going back in history?

I would urge every citizen to contact their representative and tell them to reject HB-888 and SB-139.

THANK YOU

The Medina Jr. League Basketball Awards Banquet was held on Monday night, March 22. Each player received a trophy for participation in the program. We had fourteen teams participating and the basic fundamentals of basket-ball were taught. We had several children from the Bandera area participate this year. A special thank you to the Athletic Director, Rick Ingram, for his hard work on the program and to coaches Jonas and Lumpkins for their dedication. Thanks to all those who helped coach and ref eree the games and to Lowanna Sides for running the concession stand. A big thank you goes to the following con butors for their concern for our youth.

He bids Bandera farewell

April 1 (April Fool's Dayl) was my 17th anniversary with Bandera's Busbee's Bar-B-Que. The purpose of this letter is to announce to you that it will be my last. I have resigned from Bus-

Dear editor:

Last Tueeday, the members of the Bandera
One-Act Play presented "Flowers for Algerons" for the high school student body, a very serious and emotional production. The casts and crew did an excellent job; the acting was superb and they all kept their composure-remarkably well, especially considering what they had to perform cially considering what they had to perform through.

You see, what the production members were faced with was an extremely rude audience; laughing, talking, hooting, howing, and general immaturity reigned from start to finish. The play was written as a serious farma, but that tone was seriously damaged by the lack of audience etiquette that the students displayed. At one point, the actors on stage were actually drowned out by the audience.

I was lucky enough to see the play at the community production a few weeks ago, the audience was very polite, and the performance was so moving that more than one person left the audictorium with tears in his or her eyes. The cast and crew have worked extremely hard on this play, arriving at 7 a.m. or earlier each morning for

A 'fair & equal' advocate
Dear Editor.

On Sunday morning, April 4, I came face to for the centre of the Bulletin staff who game me a living example of the words 'fair' and 'equal'. I also became even more aware of just-how fortunate I am to know this person. You see, we were discussing what could be a rather touchy issue in this day and time. I expressed my own opinion and rather than be told was wrong, your staff member listened. I really appreciated the fact that I wasn't judged, or told to be quiet especially since I'm often told I talk too muchly, or made to feel my opinion didn't matter. So, I want to thank that person on your staff publidy and state how proud I am to know that person and call her my friend. I feel ortain that the Bulletin is run on a daily basis with as much fairness and equality as I received on Sunday. The ness and equality as I received on Sunday. I'd like to respond to Ma. Padgett's letter in last week's Bulletin. Ma. Padgett intimates that if spore unwanted babies were terminated by abortion there wouldn't be so much child abuse in mentioned and there is more involved than mentioned and there is more involved than a mentioned. I will most likely tackle it in my monthly article that I pay for titled 'County News I', it was estimated nationwide that there will get the job done.

It will be a big challenge to be fair since I was preveal editions each month, but if we do it by documentation and let people reach their own conclusions, we can clear out our names and put it all behind us.

County discusses possible lease of Medina Lake State/County Park

Bandera County commission-ers discussed the possible leas-ing of the county's boat ramp on Medina Lake when they met

April 12 April 12.

During the meeting, County Judge Ray Mauer was authorized to get more details on a proposal to lease the State/County Park located at Medina Lake to Lackland Air Force Base's Morale, Welfare, Squadron.

Mauer said that before a decision is reached, he and county commissioners want to make sure the park would still be open to county residents. "We want to make sure that. "We want to make sure that this would be a benefit to the county as a whole," Mauer said, "ather than tying up the park so that the county can't use it." He said the positive benefits of the lease would include increased traffic flow into the county. "It would stimulate the economy in that area. People coming in would stop at Lakehills stores and ging stations and different businesses.

"Also, they plan to spend a lot of money on updating the park. We have problems, at pre-Mauer said that before a

Bandera County set for road repairs

Low water crossings, unpaved roads will be the chief target areas

By Stephanie Logue Bulletin Staff Writer

The Bandera County Road Department will spend the next two weeks calling for bids on road base material. Then rehabilitation and reconstruction on 17 low water crossings.

Plans call for the replacement and construction of low water creek/river crossings; replacement of base material on previously unpaved roads; paving of previously unpaved roads, and seal coating on deteriorated paved roads. Each County Commissioner selected two beginning projects for the two beginning projects for the $350,000 disaster relief grant

He wants the whole story

Dear Editor. As one of three Commissioners receiving a "no bill" from a recent grand jury investiga-tion, I am most anxious to tell the whole story as I am sure the others are.

I am unsure at this point as to whether those of us involved can discuss the events in detail. I am awaiting word from legal counsel.
I want to assure everyone that when I get the green light I will undertake the task of describing the chain of events thoroughly prove expensive, I may have to print several editions each month, but we will get the job

omy and they would pay their "support staff" out of their own pockets. Is government an exception to that? Ethically, it should not be. What I am saying herein is: what is good conclusions, we can clear out our names and put it all behind us.

financial proposals for our country. I am truly amazed that he and his advisors think that we citizens and our elected representatives are too stupid to see that these proposals are nothing more than a rearrangement of spending categories.

Not everyone has my financial background. Not everyone has my innaican background. So, let me put it this way: if spending is being cut and the deficit being reduced slightly, why in hell are our taxes going to increase?!? The answer is not at all simple. However, there are two areas that most of us can see

Medicaid, daycare, and training - war and read to be done away with. Year after year we have funded these programs under the philosophy of give these folks a helping hand so they can become productive. Year after year more people take the hand-out and fewer people become productive. History's statistics prove that, and the time has come for it to stop. There are jobs out here... If only the welfare population would get off of their tushes and do them.

number of things for myself, my husband, my for money - people to babysit, clean, mow, wash, drive, push my chair, etc. I have been fortunate in many instances, but to get there I had hundreds of welfare people tell me "that is beneath my dignity!" Honest work for hon-est pay is demeaning? Give me a break! That is as ludicrous as my saying that earning extra money to pay people to do things for my family that I cannot physically do myself is describing the chain of events thoroughly.

The public has a right to know at some point. There were more official names involved than mentioned and there is more involved than was mentioned. I will most ries, aides, meals, travel, etc. out of their taries, aides, meals salaries - just like you and I dol?! Most of those people would have one hell of a hard time earning $100,000-plus on the open economy and they would pay their "support staff

Bennie Barker "good" I have done up to this point, I want to make a suggestion that is very different from "stop welfare and stop representatives' bene-fits." I see no reason not to legalize drugs and tax them the same way we tax cigarettes and liquor. Drugs are here - right or wrong not being the issue. Why not tax them to reduce our deficit and avoid personal tax increases?!? Editor and Bandera citizens, I am still

A look back into Bandera's past...

The Bandera Bugle, "The County Paper," was established in 1880. Subscriptions were $2.00 per year, and it was described as "The best advertiseing (sic) medium, and admitted to be the best local paper in Southern Texas." John Guthrie, editor and proprietor of the bugle, was also a real estate, loan, stock and nmission agent. (And an agent for Cooper's Sheep Dipping Powder!)

Advertisers in the Bugle included:

H. Noll, dealer in general merchandise, saddlery and dry goods, and proprietor of Bandera Steam Mill, Cotton Gin and Lumber Yard;

Geo. T. Lincoln, dealer in drugs, chemicals, patent medicines, trusses, support ers and surgical instruments:

· Bandera Select School, run by Mrs. Mandslay and daughters (Established in 1882- "a thorough course is taught in all the English branches for young ladies misses and boys. Special attention is given to the young in the formation of mind and charac-

An advertisement for the Bandera Hotel and Health Resort, (owned and operated by H.C. Duffy) offered reasons "why Bandera is the best place south," including:

"Daily stage to and from railroad station makes travel easy and convenient... and the views of able physicians point out Bandera as the best climate in the U.S. or Mexico."
