The Bandera Bulletin

Our 50th Year, No. 1

Happy Birthday to us! The Bandera Bulletin celebrates a milestone birthday this week! A special "B Section" inserted in this week's paper looks back at some of the highlights of the Bandera newspaper's 50 year history.

Bandera Bulletin reflects 50 years growth, change

This week, we start our 50th year of publication. The Bulletin may have changed over the years, but continues to promote Bandera County.

By Stephanie Logue
Bulletin Staff Writer

The Bandera Bulletin came into existence on Friday, July 13, 1945, near the end of World War II. J. Marvin Hunter helped establish the paper for the benefit of his daughter, Myra Jonette "Nettie" Saul. It was first published on a small printing press in the Frontier Times Museum. The subscriber rate was $2 a year and the motto was: "No neither Birth, nor Wealth, nor State, but Get-up and Get that Makes Men Great."

Over the years, the Bandera Bulletin has changed. Real names are now used for women and children, rather than, "Mrs. John Smith," and "infant son of..." The front page does not usually carry deaths, weddings and a list of who went where, when. Headlines are not typed with all caps. Headlines have changed from: "Popular Bandera Couple Wed" and "Pioneer Father Succumbs."

However, in many ways, the Bandera Bulletin has not changed. It still promotes Bandera and tries to bring recognition to individuals and groups which have built Bandera County and made it the best place in the world in which to live and raise a family. Confirmation of that can be found in today's rapid growth. People in different parts of the United States and even other countries subscribe to the Bulletin to keep in touch with their dreams. They want to hope here.

From the start, J. Marvin Hunter gave generous coverage to the churches in the community. That has not changed. He tried, for the most part, to present the news without letting his political views get in the way. He tried to keep a running commentary of life in a small town; the tragedy, the triumph; the births and deaths; the weddings and anniversaries; the business ventures; the ideas and dreams of the people who turned a shingle-making camp along the Medina River into "the Cowboy Capital" of the world. That also, has not changed.

On July 2, 1946, Hunter wrote, "this week the Bandera Bulletin enters upon its second year with bright prospects. Starting out on July 13, 1945, with a blank subscription book and a determination to succeed, the Bulletin has grown to be the most read paper in the county."

It was a hard fight as the following, written on Aug. 2, 1945 indicates: "The Jinx on the Job... that shy devil, the 'Jinx', hung around the Bandera Bulletin office several days this week. Our very efficient linotype operator Billie Marie Davenport, resigned last Friday to get married. Ray Marvin Hay, our pressman and all-around assistant, got sick and has

After four years of work, the stone which began as a 44,000-pound rock in a canyon on a ranch at Medina, has been sculpted into an apple and placed at the entrance to the festival grounds. The sculpture represents the apple industry, carved out of the Hill Country. Sculptor Jim Justice began the project four years ago. The rock was blown up and split into four pieces. A hole was dug under the rock and a trailer was driven down into the hole so the rock could be loaded and moved. The Medina Garden Club and the Medina Texas Development Corporation are landscaping the area around the sculpture. A sign will be installed to thank those private individuals and businesses which donated to the project. Johnson Construction and Raymond Hicks have both been involved in the project from the start. At the first Texas International Apple Festival, those attending were able to chip on the rock, thus taking part in the sculpture. For more on this year's festival, please see Page 7A.

Box Lunch Social fundraiser benefits Cowboy Christmas

"Christmas in July" will be celebrated in Bandera with a box lunch social on Sunday, July 24 at the Hackberry Lodge. The event is scheduled to begin immediately after church, and will benefit the upcoming "Cowboy Christmas in Bandera."

Cost of admission is one box lunch for "you and your family." Event organizer Kay Welch says the lunch should be in a decorated basket or box. A prize will be awarded for the best decorated.

The box lunch auction will begin at 1 p.m. There will be an auction of other donated items later in the afternoon. Other scheduled activities include a variety of yard games.

The winning "Cowboy Christmas" t-shirts will be unveiled at the event, and Welch says t-shirts will be available for sale.

Donations are being accepted now from merchants and individuals, and volunteers are also welcome. The group has already been having regular planning meetings, and is working in conjunction with the Bandera County Chamber of Commerce, and with city and county officials for fund raising and decorating ideas.

For information, contact Kay Welch at 796-7458

McCullough, who operated Diamond N Photo, said he took the photo of the courthouse from the steps of the Bandera Tourist Association. The article said:

"A freakish and unpredictable bolt of lightning got slipped up on last week when it struck the ground and spent itself in a blinding flash and a roar of thunder near the courthouse. On hand was E.E. McCullough, wet and waiting, but he realized one of his ambitions-- to get a good picture of lightning striking..."

Lost Valley Downs Opens

RACES START SATURDAY AT BANDERA'S LOST VALLEY DOWNS

Bandera's first major horse races will start this week-end at Lost Valley Downs and the public is cordially invited to attend the following race events every weekend in July and through August 1, dates being July 10-11; 17-18; 24-25; 31 and August 1. Starting time 2 p.m., daily. Saturday and Sunday races will feature quarter horses and best horses in the country at Lost Valley Downs located three miles east of Bandera on Highway 16.

The newly constructed Lost Valley downs offers a full mile and one-eighth oval, a 660 yard straight away with track width of 70 feet, 100 feet turns, distance from finish to first turn, 450 feet, distance from last turn to finish, 910 feet; stable capacity 200; seating capacity 3,000; electric timing; photo patrol system on straight-away; automatic 10 horse starting gate; and a sandy loose track. Lost Valley Downs is the newest, nicest and best track in Texas. Admission $1.50; box seat, $3.50 and parking, 25¢. See you at the races!

On Friday, July 9, 1965, the Bandera Bulletin announced the opening of Lost Valley Downs. The racetrack has seen many changes (including a name change) through the years, but people have enjoyed coming to Bandera for the races all during the track's almost-30-year history.

Jockey posters, caps and prizes at Bandera Downs

Rodeo Chevrolet and WOAI radio will give away trip for two to Vail, Colorado.

Coming up next weekend - July 8, 9, and 10 - are two big events at Bandera Downs. On Saturday, July 9th the first 1,000 fans receive a free 1994 Jockey Poster. Jockeys in silks will autograph posters early in the day on Saturday. Patrons may bring their cameras and have their picture taken with their favorite jockey heroes. Shortly after live racing on Saturday the jockeys will appear in silks in person at the Cabaret Restaurant and Saloon in downtown Bandera to continue autographing, taking pictures and visiting with the crowd. The Cabaret is giving away one free wine cooler or one free beer to each patron with an appropriate coupon for this autograph party. Coupons for drinks are available now at the handicapping center and gift shop at the track and at the Cabaret.

Sunday, July 10 is "Rodeo Chevrolet and WOAI summer fly away" at Bandera Downs.

Bandera High School freshman April Koehler was one of 19 selected to serve on the 1994-95 Ingram Park Mall Fashion Board. Some 36 applicants were judged on poise, personality, posture and overall appearance. April was in the 14 to 18-year audition group. She will participate in Ingram Mall activities, including meetings, fashion shows, rehearsals, modeling courses, and will carry out other fashion board responsibilities.

Reflects

spent all week in bed. Mrs. Hunter was also ill at the same time. Wednesday evening, a casting on our Whitlock Press was broken...but the Bandera Bulletin comes to you this week as usual.

Following the sale of the printing plant and equipment of the Bandera News Era at a sheriff's sale to satisfy a judgment, the Dec. 13, 1946 Bulletin came out with a new motto. "The Bulletin has eight pages this week...THE ONLY Newspaper Published in Bandera County."

The Bulletin moved to a new home on upper Main Street in 1947, on a lot purchased by "Mrs. John Saul." Employees were so eager to move into the larger more modern facility that they spent Labor Day weekend that year moving.

Hunter wrote on March 12,

1948, that "the Bulletin has a supplement this week because of the overflow of news items." The paper was first printed on a small Potter cylinder press, then a Whitlock two-page press. Due to increasing advertising patronage, Hunter bought an eight-column press in May, 1948.

The popular weekly feature in 1948 and 1949 were the Bandera baby pictures on the front page. This idea was eventually abandoned when the birth rate out-aced the ability of the paper to publish all the pictures.

Ray Marvin Fly (son of Jeanette Saul) graduated from Sul Ross College in 1950 and took over as plant manager at the Bulletin. Western Hospitality Club and the Madrona Garden Club were big news items in

The band is based in Southern Louisiana, and has been featured in the last three years on the Heritage Stage of Festival Acadians, the "grandfather of all Cajun festivals." Performers in the band include Bob Reed on accordion and vocals; Carl Fontenot on guitar and vocals; Randy Vidrine on guitar and vocals; Ken Rust on fiddle; Benny Graeff on bass; and Ronnie Miller on drums.

Your Basic Bandera

Doing a bit of research for a piece in an upcoming issue of Carolyn Edwards' Bandera county Historian to be devoted to old-time newspapers in Bandera county, we had fun looking through tattered copies of the Dude Wrangler.

For more or less fifteen years from the late forties into the sixties, Billie Crowell of Dixie Dude Ranch and friends collaborated to report on people and events centered around the dude ranch business and tourist industry. In a sense they were the forerunners of Bungy Hartshorn who now writes on the same Bandera world as did The Dude Wrangler.

Along with news of rodeos,

Nature is not manufacturing any more land but thirty million babies are born every year who need homes. THERE IS NO INVESTMENT EQUAL TO LAND. When you come to Bandera, please be sure to look us up because we are the oldest real estate firm in Bandera and can serve you best. JUST ASK FOR IT AND WE HAVE IT. If you don't like bees and honey and brown-eyed maidens, then stay away from the beautiful Bandera Hills. CHARLES D. LOVELACE, Ranch Specialist. Bandera Realty Company. Phones 87 and 914. Bandera.

"JOLETA JARGON: Hospitality Week costume parties were very good...Frank Anderson and Frank Trautman perfect peons in white sack cloth and big hats.

We are now serving meals to several Banderas...Joe Glascock and Mr. Montague... Floyd Wyatt...Billie, Marge, and Margaret Shiner honor us often. Anna, Annie, and Eclipse. Ray and Ralph, Woody and Ben Tilgham and numerous others.

Our oats are up and we have had the most wonderful rain. Our hunters are running fifty percent successful."

"That very popular young man about town (Bandera, that is) Buck Welch, broke out of the traces and got himself hitched to a real pretty little gal named Marjorie Turner, also of Bandera. The ceremony took place at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church on November 29th.

Another wedding of local interest is that of Wayne Ruede and the former Miss Betty Ann Lang. The ceremony took place at the First Presbyterian Church in Kerrville on November 6 at 7 o'clock in the evening. Rev. William Logue officiated. The couple had their wedding reception at the Nurses Home at the V.A. Hospital at the Legion following the wedding."

"...Some boys from Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio who were staying at the Frontier Hotel in town and enjoying a horseback ride and supper with local cowboy, Ben Adamez, were Lt. Bob Lee, Bill Wetty, Donnie G. Dewell, and Bob Ruff."

"Little Donnie Risinger, 13 years old, killed two large birds two days in succession. This just goes to show that the old timers can't out shoot this up and comin' generation."

what's rustlin' by Danny

This being the Bandera Bulletin's 60th year edition, I was told to come up with some history from my columns. There is so much always going on that it was hard to pick out choice moments.

The day we had the grand opening of the "Hitching Rail" on Main Street. Local Cowboys rode in from near and far, coffee and donuts were served, guitars played... and the news helicopter from Channel 5 TV came in! (The Hitching Rail is on the Farmers Market lot, in case you don't know!)

The first annual (and only) 4th of July Medina River Regatta. There were tobs, canoes, a flat bottom boat and my 8' said boat and enough breeze to get me down the river. The first place certificate was on a paper plate!

The longhorn cattle drives with 20 long horns and 50 riders and loads of fun. Even wagons and stage coaches. One time from Kerrville, one time, from San Antonio. The Pony Express Ride that started in Bandera and rode to the Mayor of San Antonio with an invitation to participate in something out here (I can't remember). Each rider galloped miles and then transferred the saddle bag and the news media following them all along. The next year, an all girls pony express ride with about 30 gals riding.

Trail Rides of up to 300 horses and 30 horse drawn vehicles passing right smack dab through the middle of town... and then, all camped out on the river loop at night, with campfires going and horses stomping and blowing. What a sight!

100 horses and riders asked to be a Texas Highway Guard for the Pope's visit to San Antonio. We camped along 1604 with millions of fire ants. Frank Anderwald was sleeping on a cot in his horse trailer and got up in the middle of the night to check on his horses. He put his jeans on and the whole camp heard him yelling and slapping... fire ants! The next morning, we were in our saddles, all in white hats and white shirts. We were lined up with flags flying as the Pope rode by less than 10 feet from us!

One of our "neighborhood" Christmas parades, we used to have on "Holiday Shoppers Jubilee", where all the locals came in to town on Friday and all the shops decorated and held open house. It was really foggy and I can remember standing on the Bandera General Store's porch, waiting. Suddenly, they came through the fog about half a block away, right down Main Street. It was quite a sight!

The Sesquicentennial fund raisers where we raised enough to sow one million seeds along our state and county roads leading into Bandera.

The new Hwy. 16 grand opening. Horses, stagecoaches, dignitaries and right on the County Line a fence line was thrown up and the dignitaries cut the fence, and we "opened the trail to Bandera." On the day the Sesquicentennial

Local youths got 4-H scholarships

Matt Sandidge, son of Dan and Ella Mae Sandidge, of Tarpley, and Windy Faye Wagner, daughter of James and Euna Wagner of Bandera, both received scholarships at the 1994 State 4-H Roundup on June 7. Sandidge received an $8,000 scholarship from the San Antonio Livestock Exposition. He has been a 4-H member for 10 years and has won the following honors: state qualifying record book; grand champion market goat, 2 years; showmanship awards; dairy goat judging team, second place. His major projects have been goats, veterinary science, beef judging and foods. He is also a member of the National Honor Society; has won a 20 semester "A's" award; been a Boys State delegate; won best actor in the UIL one-act play; been named student of the month; and was a state qualifier in Business Professionals of America. He plans to attend Sam Houston and study ag-communications or agri-business. His career goal is to be successful in promoting agriculture through broadcasting.

Wagner received a $10,000 scholarship from the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo. She has been a 4-H member for 11 years. Her honors include: gold star, first place in the state round-up in entomology; third place in the state fashion show; first place in district record book; and advancing to state; first place in the district fashion show for two years in a row. Her major projects have been clothing and textiles; public speaking; foods and nutrition; method demonstration; electrical. She has also been a Girl State recipient; 20 semester "A's" in her junior year; first place payroll accounting in the area Business Professionals of America; and winner of the Masonic Lodge Citizenship award. She plans to attend Texas A&M with a major in agri-business. Career goals include a degree in accounting and pursuing a career in the agricultural field.

Prizes announced for winners of Miss Apple Dumping! Mr. Johnny Appressed contest

Western Auto has donated two new bicycles, a girl's and a boy's, for one of the "many gifts prizes" awarded to the Miss Apple Dumping and Mr. Johnny Appressed pageant. The contest is set for Friday, July 29.

Winners will rein over the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival, scheduled for Saturday, July 30. The lucky boy and girl will also represent Medina at various public events and parades during the year.

The contest, children must be between four and eight years of age. At least one parent or legal guardian must be a permanent resident of Bandera County.

Applications may be picked up at the Bandera Bulletin, or at the Festival Office, downtown Medina. The deadline for entering is July 20.

For more information, call Debbie Fagle at 589-2588, or Tammy Ortiz at 589-7224.

M.J. Ralph and Judy Tripp display the bicycles Western Auto has donated.

New county agent begins working in Bandera County

Tarleton graduate Jana Osburn came to Bandera after four years in Lamar County Association.

The joint announcement of her appointment is made by Bandera County Judge Ray Mauer and Gloria Schwarzkow, district extension director with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Uvalde.

Osborn served for four years in Lamar County, where she served for four years. Lane County has nine 4-H clubs with 242 members. Osborn helped establish a Clover Kid program that had involved 50 youth.

She graduated with honors from Tarleton State University with a bachelor of science in home economics. Prior to joining the Texas Association of Extension Service in 1990, Jana served as director of the child development center at Tarleton State.

Osborn is a member of the National and Texas Associations of Extension Home Economists, National and Texas Associations of Extension 4-H Agents, and the American Home Economics Association.

Jana Osburn assumed the position of County Extension Agent-Home Economics for Bandera County on Monday, June 13.

Osborn transferred to Bandera from Lamar County.

Bandera Middle School sets an example for TEA

Ken Kling says that Bandera Middle School's successful 1993-94 school year set an example for the Texas Education Agency (TEA) as a mentor school. If it is chosen as a mentor school, monies may be awarded to provide teachers with staff development opportunities to hone teaching skills, refine existing programs and try other innovative programs.

Bandera Middle School has initiated, or is in the process of implementing: teaming, block scheduling, advisory classes and parental involvement in the school. The T.E.A. says, "has encouraged the prevention of violence among youth at-risk."

A plan is being formulated to address computer literacy for middle school parents. Middle school students will serve as tutors to parent participants. Kling says these changes "will lead to an exciting and fast-paced school year."

At 4,032 beds, the jail would pay outstanding county debt and support the county and the Bandera Independent School District. It would be built outside the Bandera city limits to avoid stress on city water or sewerage.

She says there is a Bandera County resident with the capacity of building a project that large. "Let's keep this one for ourselves," she said. "I do not want to line the pockets of a Dallas fat cat."

She says she will pursue the idea, free of charge. "The proposal itself would have cost the county thousands if they had hired a consultant."

"This proposal will create about 350 new jobs for Bandera County."

Wharton's Dock & Lake Medina Shores

Good golly Miss Lollie is back from Childrens Camp. The name Lollie was given to me by the girls at camp. Six children from Walker Memorial attended camp this summer. They included Chris Gregory, Casandra Smith, Stephen Whitus, J.R. Edwards, Sara Phipps and Robert Murphy. We met up with First Baptist Church of Bandera and ten of their youths to form a caravan of rockin campers on the way to the Alto Frio Baptist Encampment. We stopped and had lunch at a lovely park in Utopia, Texas.

Upon arriving at camp the kids checked into their cabins (which were air conditioned, thank the Lord) and were free to check out the camp's activities, which included the Frio River (which was freezing) an Olympic size pool, craft shops, gift shop, wooded ground and everyone's favorite, the snack bar.

Monday night included worship services and all the children were free to join the choir. Tuesday and Wednesday was a talent show which proved that "hidden talent" lies within all of us. (Unfortunately, our six would be stars are saving theirs for next summer's camp-out.)

Missionaries from Ecuador gave each of us an in depth look at the lives of its people and their customs, which we all found very interesting and yet sad, due to the abundance

LAMCOS continues protest against BMA

Don Evans, the manager of Thousand Trails, says that Thousand Trails is working with LAMCOS (Lake Medina Conservation Society) to have the Bezar-Medina-Atascosa (BMA) application to amend certification of Adjudication No. 19-2130-C denied.

Walter Jacard, vice president and general counsel for Thousand Trails, has engaged the same law firm on their behalf as LAMCOS has, the firm of Wheatley, Campagnolo and Seasons, L.L.P. of San Antonio.

Jacard says that Thousand Trails feels, that by retaining the firm which also represents LAMCOS, all interests in the matter will be better represented. The alignment between Thousand Trails and LAMCOS

Tarpley

It's been an unusual spring & summer with the hot high winds blowing day and night. Temperatures still around 100 to 102. Mornings are cooler.

Twice each day, sports events gave the kids an opportunity to compete for Safari points which would be tallied up at the end of the week with points earned for clean cabins, choir, etc. And awards were given out to the campers having the highest amount of points.

The week was both rewarding and challenging. Both physically and spiritually. Not to mention a great opportunity for some of us to acquire a great tan.

Kids had a great time and yet for me, I don't remember camp being so much work when I was a little camper. I hope more kids decide to join us next summer, for wonderful memories that last a lifetime.

"It's already planning time for next year's fund raiser at the Lakeshore Volunteer Fire Department located at Whartons Dock. This year, with new individuals organizing and planning the fund raiser held on 2 July was from all indications a great success. The president of the VFD has expressed his desire to personally "Thank, each and every one of the dedicated, hard working individuals who made the annual fund raising festival a great success this year. This sincere thanks includes all those folks who donated items for the auction, country store, and flea market."

Let The Bible Speak

A POSITIVE ARTICLE

"There is yet one man by whom we may inquire of the Lord, but I HATE HIM, for he NEVER prophesies good concerning me but always evil." (II Chronicles 18:7). Ahah, king Israel (ca. 915-885), HATED the prophet of the Lord, Micahiah, because the content of the prophet's messages were not positive enough. Ahah disbelieved negative messages, so he took his anger out on THE Bearer of the message. His problem, unfortunately, was with the Lord, THE AUTHOR of the message.

Preachers are responsible to "declare the WHOLE counsel of God." (Acts 20:27). But there are many preachers guilty of preaching a "perverted" gospel simply because they have chosen ONLY to preach that which is considered "positive" in the Bible. God gave it all, the positive "do's" AND the negative "don'ts." Are we ashamed of some of the New Testament teachings, and IF NOT then why not preach it all? But the audience cries "Preach to us smooth things" (Isaiah 30:9-10). "If you don't we won't be back." Some churches may even hold the preacher's salary hostage unless he preaches what they want. What has happened to preaching? I always thought that the preacher was to tell me what God wanted me to know, hear, NOT necessarily what I wanted to hear. That's what Paul said, "For am I now seeking the favor of men, or of God? Or am I striving to please men? If I were still trying to please men, I would NOT be a bond-servant of Christ." (Galatians 1:10).

Timothy prophesied of a time when the audience, not God, would determine the content of a messenger's sermon in (II Timothy 4:3-4 NIV): "For the time will come when men will not put up with sound doctrine. Instead, TO SUIT THEIR OWN DESIRES, they will gather around them a great number of teachers to say what THEIR itching ears want to hear. They will turn their ears away from the truth and turn aside to myths." Sounds suspiciously like "choose the church of YOUR choice," doesn't it?

If a preacher dares to correct a false doctrine or preach about a sin that happens to be one of the flock's "weaknesses," then he is immediately accused of having no "love." (This is just like children who say IF their parents fail to give them everything they want, then their parents "don't love" them.) He then is accused of preaching "negative" sermons and is warned that he should have the spirit of Christ. I often wonder if they would have chastised Jesus Himself for some of the things He said (John, Matthew 23).

Paul asked "Have I now become your enemy by telling you the truth?" (Galatians 4:16).

Many today do not realize that some of their reasons for not liking the church may not be the church's problem, but their own problem with the AUTHOR of the church's message, God. If you have a problem with God or his word, don't take it out on the church. Think about it!

Come worship with us at 10:30 a.m. Sundays at the Church of Christ located on Highway 16 & Vanderpool Road, Medina, Texas, and let us assist you in obedience to the gospel. Write to HCR 1 Box 45, Medina, Texas 78055.

Native Americans were back in Lakehills this weekend, to participate in the Independence Day parade, sponsored by the American Legion. The "First Americans" float, in honor of Native Americans, took first place. Hazel Cote was "head momma" of this group and Robert drove the truck. Hazel Cote, Fran Powell, Alice Bloodworth, Vicky Gonzalez, Jackie Mixson, Willie Gonzalez and Joseph Heston put on Indian garb and rode on the float, complete with tee-pee, animal skins, a weaving loom, a campfire, and other relics from the past. This same group had last year's winning float, two Jims (with a real, live Marine on board), and won the previous year as well. Robert explains: "We just get together and have a blast. No one sponsors us, we just do our own thing and have a great time. As soon as we finish a float for one year, we begin on the next year's." "Catch us at Medina Lake" took second place in the parade. ### Medina Mavericks to host event at seventh annual Apple Festival

The Medina Mavericks, a local Volksmarch club, has announced an invitation for everyone to participate in a 10K walk on the Cinco B Ranch in Medina on Saturday, July 30. This year's walk will be sponsored by the Texas International Apple Festival and Utopia Water.

The event marks the seventh anniversary of the Mavericks beginning and also the seventh anniversary of the Texas International Apple Festival. Sanctioned by the American Volksport Association (AVA), this walk's A-Medal Award will be a 2 1/2 X 3" embroidered apple patch. To receive IVV credit and award the registration fee is $5. To receive credit only, the registration fee is $2. Walkers who are not participating for award or credit may walk free.

Pre-registration deadline is July 22. Registration forms can be picked up at the festival office, or contact Clark Walker at 210-613-2920. Start time for the event will be from 7:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and finished by 4 p.m.

In break-a-way, Nikki Rainey took first place and Stephanie Byrd took second.

Barrel racing was: Patti Drew, first place; Nikki Rainey, 2; and Stephanie Byrd, third.

Brady Wren and Tom Wren took first place in team roping. Mark Weakley and Bart Hutten took second place in team roping.

For steer saddling, it was Flying L Ranch, first place; Dixie Dude Ranch, second place; and Thunder Mountain Ranch, third.

These "famous folks" came to Bandera last week and stopped by the Bulletin office so we could see them in person. The Clark family was visiting from Houston home of the World Champion Rocketeers. They said folks back in Houston were still celebrating and they came to Bandera to get away from all the commotion. Barbara and Thomas Clark and their sons, Jeffrey and Christopher enjoyed their stay at the LH7. They went fishing, swimming, pitched horse shoes, and took side trips to antique shops in Boerne. They were looking forward, also, to going homeback riding, a first for the boys. They enjoyed Bandera's historical buildings and marveled at the huge, rock blocks used in construction. "How did they do that?" they wanted to know. Oh, don't look for the Clark family in a "Who's Who" book. They are famous because they are from Houston, home of the World Champion Rocketeers!

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

Thomas Jefferson once said: "When angry, count ten before you speak, if very angry, a hundred."

Anger can be a helpful endowment if it is kept under control. Without it, injustices in life would be allowed to pass by without either protest or understanding.

But anger can be tricky. It can easily get out of hand...When it becomes a burning rage, it becomes a distinct liability and can become troublesome and dangerous.

One can not imagine life on this planet without fire. Yet fire, when it gets out of hand, is ravaging beyond description. Anger, like fire, can get out of hand and be ravaging too.

A person who lets anger get out of control needs to call upon as many "fire departments" as he can to help him get the burning rage under control.

Anger properly controlled can be good, but anger, like fire, can destroy. Anger may be a necessary factor of life, but it performs only under strict control. Remember, anger is often more harmful than the injury that caused it!

Sabinal Canyon

The Bandera Bulletin celebrates its 50th year this month and is going about a retrospective of Bandera county and environs. Author, columnist, and historian, Annalee Burns, joins us in a look at a few memorable events in the history of the Sabinal Canyon over the past fifty years.

One of the biggest undertakings in the Canyon's history was the centennial celebration of 1952, celebrating the 100th anniversary of the first white settler, Captain William Ware, to stake his claim in the canyon. In Burns' book "All Around the Canyon" she writes in her diary in 1952, "It's the biggest thing Utopia has ever tried to stage and it has us all pretty shaky". It was a two day affair in June of '52 and some 9000 people attended from all over Texas and other states. Governor Allan Shivers kicked off the festivities. Rodeos, barbecues, dances, a parade, and a pageant were all part of the celebration. It was an event of some proportion tion and was sponsored by the Utopia Park Association. The "Utopia Centennial Souvenir Booklet" was prepared to commemorate it, a collaboration between Annalee Burns and then editor of the Uvalde-Leader drought. It would come to be called "the seven year drought" and spanned the years from 1950 to 1957. Of it Burns says, "Little by little people began to move out - things were getting pretty grim". The rural economy of goats, sheep, cattle, and small scale agriculture was in a miserable state. During the years of severe lack of weather and low morale, canyon families found refuge in a maple grove on Warren Murphy's place, now Lost Maples State Natural Area. "It was the thing to do on Sundays after church services," says Burns. "People would take lunches and go to the maple grove...the old road was still there...and make a camp in the middle of the grove."

Finally rains brought relief in the spring of '57. "We felt like having a big party," says Burns. After the drought things didn't change much. The people who had left during the bad times to find other ways of earning a living had already set up lives elsewhere. The population lost from the drought remained lost. The first land development in the canyon stands out in Burns' mind as a turning point in the direction the canyon would take. "The first I heard about the first big land sale for development and I remember thinking, 'uh, oh there goes the neighborhood'. Later she would reconcile herself to this. "I think we were being selfish then - it was a good thing." "It's progress," she adds, "if you stand still, you die". The land sale Burns refers to is the B & R Development named after the first land developers to leave their mark on the canyon, Brewer and Rainey of Marble Falls. Burns goes on to say that the population increase since the first subdivision, B & R, and later Thundercreek and Seco Ridge has been very gradual and the real impact not very noticeable until the last year or two. "I never thought we'd see the day when we could fill up two cafes". And her only complaint - the traffic in Utopia...

Asked what keeps the community alive when other rural towns have long ago withered, Burns reflects, "I like to think that Utopia and the Sabinal Canyon have a special allure for people. Growing up here we took a lot for granted. But I do know once you went away you pull this community (until then) what a pull this community has on you and you want to come back and settle here. I believe the canyon has a great capacity for drawing people back to it." (Burns is referring to the young people who leave the canyon to make a living and return to retire.) Although one gets the feeling that Burns is neutral on the subject of alcohol she still believes that a lot of the charm and uniqueness of the Sabinal Canyon can be attributed to the fact that the precincts in the two counties in which the Sabinal Canyon lay are "dry". She confides, "I'm personally proud of the fact that we've remained dry...I don't know what Bandera will think of that."

"On history, and Annalee Burns"

Seattle's 'Over America' viewed Texas Longhorns

"Over America" was over the LH7 Ranch and Resort in May to televise Texas Longhorn cattle and their beautiful springtime hill country environs.

Using a helicopter carrying high-definition TV equipment, the PBS crew of KCTS-TV from Seattle, Washington whirled and whirled over a landscape taking in the town, the wild-flowers and longhorns along the Medina River and lingered long enough to capture the glory of a Bandera sunset.

Camerasman Marc Pingry, has already filmed New England, Washington D.C., Florida and Washington State and has just begun Texas with the Longhorns.

The LH7 Texas Longhorn herd, usually nonchalant at being photographed, took an alarming view of the big bird hovering over them, broke and ran into the brush.

Boyd Vaughn of the LH7 and Rooster Cogburn of Lightning Ranch, horseback and living up to Bandera's cowboy image, trailed along through a solid sweep of yellow flowers in the wake of the herd.

The shot was set up by Rosemary Garner, a native born San Antonian, now an associate producer with the Seattle Television station, through the Bandera Chamber of Commerce.

According to Garner, there are only about a dozen hi-definition cameras in the United States. The cameras pick-up color and detail in greater depth. "If we photograph a building, we not only see the building, but the persons working inside through the window", Rosemary explained.

The helicopter landed on the shore of the Montague Lake where LH7 trophy horned steers were on hand to greet the crew.

The Highland Lakes Bird Society, on a bird-watching trip to the LH7, turned their binoculars from the vermilion flycatchers to the Big Bird Helicopter.

The TV documentary will air nationally in March, 1995. Sun Life Insurance Company of Canada has many customers in the U.S. and this is their Centennial Celebration "Gift of America to Americans". The coat for "doing" Texas only will be $200,000 to $300,000.

After Texas, the crew was off to Arizona, New York City, Chicago, Atlanta, St. Louis, Alaska, Hawaii and surrounding areas. What a job!

Katherine Ann Pratt weds Robert Neal Graves

The wedding ceremony in an evening candlelight service at the First Presbyterian Church in Lake Jackson on June 26 for Katherine Ann Pratt and Robert Neal Graves.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie L. Pratt, Jr. of Lake Jackson. She is a 1988 graduate of Brazoswood High School and a 1992 graduate of The University of Texas at Austin. She is employed by Labatt Food Services.

The groom is the son of John and Carol Graves of Concan, formerly of Pipe Creek. He is a 1988 graduate of Bandera High School and a 1993 graduate of The University of Texas at Austin. He is employed by KPMG Pest Marwick.

The bride wore a chapel length silk gown and was escorted by her father. The fitted bodice and sleeves were decorated with appliques of Alencon lace, accented with pearls and iridescents. Her headpiece was fashioned of a full-length illusion veil attached to silk roses.

The bridesmaids wore floor-length cranberry two-piece ensembles featuring off-the-shoulder collars. A single rose accented the neckline.

Julie Welmer, a childhood friend, was maid of honor. Attendants were: Amy Smith of Lake Jackson, a childhood friend; college friends Michelle Bond of Dallas and Christine Prowell of Lubbock; the bride's cousin, Deborah Toner of Houston; and the groom's sister-in-law, Annette Graves of College Station. Flower girls were Danna and Emily Korbell of Houston, cousins of the groom.

John S. (Trey) Graves of College Station, the groom's brother, was best man. Groomsmen were Ronnie Bain of Clifton (formerly of Bandera); the bride's brother, Glenn Pratt of Lake Jackson; the groom's cousin, Browder Graves of Uvalde; and Jay Gruber of San Antonio and Clint Arthur of Concan, friends of the groom. Ushers were Scott Rogers and Emelio Rodriguez of San Antonio (formerly of Bandera); Matt Windrow of Lubbock; and Joe Peryn of San Marcos.

Music was provided by soloist Beth Casey of Lake Jackson. Following the ceremony, a buffet dinner was served at Riverside Country Club, with dancing to the music of Leslie Blasing.

The graves will make their home in San Antonio, following a honeymoon trip to Cancun, Mexico.

Bandera Falls are falling again in Pipe Creek

Pipe Creek's first subdivision was named for the 'sparkling falls' destroyed in the 1978 flood

By Stephanie Logue
Bulletin Staff Writer

Lipan Apaches were the first residents of Pipe Creek, although Comanches came through regularly on raids. It was true of the Native Americans as it is true of today's residents: people like to live close to water.

The Native Americans had left the area by 1876. In 1948, Charles D. Lovelace, owner of Bandera Realty Company, opened Pipe Creek's first subdivision, Bandera Falls. It was 1958 before another subdivision opened in Pipe Creek, Alamo Beach.

Bandera Falls was named for the clear, sparkling falls which spanned the Medina River, backing up into a small lake. The falls were destroyed by the flood of 1978.

Today, the falls are falling again. New owners, Bob and Sue Smith and Sue's mother, Lillie Lancaster, have made that possible. They have all owned resort property at Wharton's Dock for many years. The energetic trio needed a new project to occupy them after retirement and purchased the 90 acres of oaked land to sell, owner financed. They plan to build quality housing in the $70,000 to $100,000 price range.

Additionally, Sue is a licensed interior designer. She is expecting to be kept busy helping new home owners with color selections. Meanwhile, the river front park has been cleaned and leveled. Improvements continue. Cabanas with barbecue pits have been built and park benches have been installed.

The Smiths and Lancaster were looking for investment property in Bandera County and looked at a lot of property before deciding on Bandera Falls. "When we first drove

The falls at historical Bandera Falls have been restored. They were damaged in the August, 1978 flood, but are now running fast and pure. New Bandera Falls owners Bob Smith, Sue Smith, and Sue's mother, Lillie Lancaster, have been at work for months cleaning, painting, cleaning, and restoring the land to its pristine beauty. Home owners at Bandera Falls are taking advantage of the river front park during the continuing hot weather.

through Bandera Falls," Sue says, "We were charmed by the natural beauty and the abundant wildlife."

The "abundant wildlife" includes the fawn which was born near the office. It is a curious creature and loves to watch the human inhabitants from what it considers to be a safe distance. Both turkey and deer are prevalent, as evidenced by names: Deer Trail and Turkey Hollow. The animals are tame enough to allow humans to watch them.

Roads in the subdivision, as noted in Bandera Bulletins from 1947 and 1948, have interesting names: Cowboys Haven; Red Bud Lane; Sunset Drive; Red Bluff Canyon; Deer Canyon and Devil's Canyon are all approximately 100 feet deep. When the Medina River is full it "roars" through Devil's Canyon. The roar of the river gave that canyon its name. Along the 2,000 feet of water front park, for use by property owners, a huge boulder sports a bench marker. The metal stamp marks the original corner. In years past, the bench marker was used as a reference point for all land surveyed in the area.

Bob and Sue Smith and Lillie Lancaster are not the first to be charmed by the natural beauty of the land. When Lovelace opened the subdivision in 1948, Pipe Creek natives refused to sell the land to him at first. They did not want Pipe Creek to become a resort community. He convinced them, finally, by promising that Bandera Falls was planned for a townsite where anyone could buy a home site. Home sites were two acres or less.

The pre-development sale of Bandera Falls began on Saturday, Oct. 4, 1948. Lumberport bulldozers to work building winding streets with just one entrance and exit for secure living. A reporter from the Bandera Bulletin covered the opening and was so impressed that he bought one of the first lots offered for sale.

Lovelace printed a promotional brochure on the property calling the restricted subdivision his "third and finest—the finest to be found." Home sites sold from $500 to $1,500, either cash or easy terms. He wrote that Bandera Falls was only 45 minutes from San Antonio. "There are three canyons 100-feet deep to explore. When Medina Lake is full, the water backs up Bandera Falls. Fishing is extra good."

For many years, he sold home sites at Bandera Falls using the following promotion: "On our crystal blue lake is where the Papa Bull Frog sits upon the lily pad and sings love songs to his sweet mamma across the lake at twilight." Paperwork for Bandera Falls carried a bullfrog emblem—and still does.

The Oct. 10, 1947, issue of the Bandera Bulletin reported that "Bandera Falls Sales Start With Bang." H.C. Stolle built the first home, a rock home built with rock from an on-site quarry. One of the roads in the subdivision is named for Stolle. Lovelace's advertising in the Bandera Bulletin brought a buyer from California.

After Charles Lovelace died, his widow, Claribel continued in his real estate business until her death. Bandera Falls was then owned by Max and Christabel (Lovelace) Schweitman until it sold recently to the Smiths and Lancaster. With them on the job, the falls are falling and home sites in Pipe Creek's first subdivision are still selling.

Looking back in history

A tribute to Nettie Saul, the Bandera Bulletin's "founding mother"

By Stephanie Logue
Bulletin Staff Writer

For anyone superstitious, the odds against the Bandera Bulletin surviving the first 50 years must have seemed enormous. The paper was established on Friday the 13th, 1945, while the United States was in the middle of World War II. Additionally, when J. Marvin Hunter helped establish the paper for his daughter, Jennette "Nettie" Saul, she was one of the first women engaged in the newspaper business.

She was featured in the Dec. 1966, "The Texas Press Messenger" magazine, both for being a pioneer in the field of women journalists, and for being a third generation newspaper publisher and having raised a son as a fourth generation newspaper publisher.

Saul moved to Bandera when she was 13. Her father, J. Marvin Hunter, purchased the Bandera New Era and printing equipment from T.A. Buckner, who had owned the paper for a short time.

Hunter installed a linotype and modern press and published the Bandera New Era for the next 14 years. He sold it to R.W. Meitzen in 1935 so he could devote his time to the Frontier Times Museum. He

She began publishing a magazine, "Frontier Times" in 1923 and published it for over 26 years. Saul, who is now 88-years-old, has clear memories of her move to Bandera. "There were four of us children. We were going to school in San Antonio and we came up here to help Daddy. We used cold type and I was good at it. Everything had to be done by hand. When Daddy installed the linotype, I didn't like that much. I went into reporting and writing and getting advertising, and my sister worked with the linotype. She got real good at it. Somewhat of a pioneer in the field of women journalists, Saul covered meetings, snapped pictures and worked with advertisers. Her son, Ray Marvin Hunter, grew up in the newspaper business just as she had. Saul enjoyed her job. "I liked to get out and talk to people. I liked to go to meetings and listen to what everyone had to say. I would look at people and listen to them and I could tell if they were telling the truth."

"I liked everything connected with the paper. There were so many interesting things. So much about Bandera was western. I liked that. I grew up in this city. I liked the rodeos, especially."

The two biggest stories Saul remembers were when Sheriff Elvinius Hicks was ambushed by bootleggers and killed in 1932, and the flood of 1978. She says the flood of 1978 was not as big as the 1900 flood.

Saul speaks of her father, the late J. Marvin Hunter, with pride. She owns copies of his books and magazines, including a copy of "Peregrinations of a Pioneer Printer" which Hunter wrote in 1954. Hunter wrote a message to his daughter on the inside cover, "To Nettie, with love, from Daddy."

Hunter said he wrote the book, his autobiography, for his children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. He wanted them to know that energy and determination can overcome whatever handicaps they face in life, even his determination and energy overcame his lack of formal education, poverty and wanderlust.

Myra Jennette "Nettie" Saul was married to John Saul. She left the newspaper business once, briefly, to travel with her husband. That taught her something she never forgot. "I learned every part of the newspaper business. My son (from previous marriage) grew up on the paper with me. It was part

The 'Great Flood of 1978' devastates the Bandera community nearly 16 years ago, in the early morning hours on Wednesday, Aug. 2, 1978 the Medina River went on an unprecedented rampage, and Bandera suffered 13 deaths and untold destruction. Bandera's sewer plant was swept down the river, and the Bulletin reported that "four foot waters flowed through Boyle's Dry Goods (current home of True Value Hardware)... and Hillcrafters furniture on upper Main Street was flooded by morning... flood waters covered Clint Dowell Chevrolet Co. building (now Jennings Anderson Ford), wrenching it from its foundations. New and used cars were washed past Doe Creek, upturned and smashed against trees." For more about the flood, please turn to Page 4B.

Early employee remembers

Elizabeth James went to work at the Bulletin soon after her graduation from Medina High School

By Janna Sandigie
Bulletin Editor

When she began working at the Bandera Bulletin in August of 1950, Elizabeth Mickelalee's (later to become Elizabeth James) job description included "odd jobs, ad selling and gathering news." She also sold ads to businesses like Ryan's Red & White, Conwill Grocery, M. Boyle Grocery and the Pack Saddle.

Some 40-plus years later, she recalls fondly the feeling of "family" that came with working with "Papa" J. Marvin Hunter, his daughter and grandson, Nettie Saul and her son Ray Marvin Hunter, and others in the early days of the Bulletin.

"In August of 1950, Nettie Saul contacted me and offered me a job with the Bandera Bulletin," James says. "I had been working at the post office at Tarpley... I was interested in newspaper work because I had been editor of the school paper when I was in high school, and I enjoyed that."

James was valedictorian of her 1950 graduating class from Medina High School. "I had been editor of the little 'Beehive,' the Medina school newspaper, for two years. We used to publish it on mimeograph... I hadn't been well... I didn't go to college (although I had several scholarships)."

"I came over and went to work there the last of August, 1950, and Mr. J. Marvin Hunter Sr., (Nettie's) father, worked with us, and Ray Marvin Hunter, her son, had just finished college—he had graduated from Sul Ross that year, and he came home and took over the printing and the job work."

When the Bandera Bulletin first began, it operated out of the Frontier Times Museum, but by 1950 the newspaper and printshop had moved to the building that today houses Bandera Printing.

"Mary Ellen Hillman Hugman was working there at the time. She was one of the linotype operators, and Nelson Hamilton was the other one," James remembers.

"I can remember the case with a small newspaper, job descriptions can be quite varied. James was no exception."

"I started out gathering news and doing odd jobs, and selling advertising... we had a lot of grocery stores here at that time compared to what we have now... We had the Ryan's Red & White, and we had Conwill Grocery on Main Street, and then we had M. Boyle Grocery on the back street, and later, Joe Goodman opened a grocery store up there True Value is now. Then we had the Pack Saddle... Fitzgerald's Store—Mrs. Fitzgerald... changed her ad every week, and then John McShane... his was the Bandera Mercantile, where Bo's saddle shop is now."

"I did ad selling—picked up ads, and also read proof—did a lot of proof reading—wrote stories. And then later—of course there were other businesses, too—the flower shop, and the beauty shops—of course, we had ads from all the beauty shops—and some of them changed their ads weekly."

James recalls that Wally and Helen Lawrence had the Frontier Shop in the building now where the Bandera Bulletin is today.

"We used to have quite a lot of advertising—Langford Hardware always had an ad—they nearly always changed their every week."

"After I got some experience, and did the ad work here, then they sent me to Medina... on Mondays (to) gather news up there and sell ads, because they had three grocery stores at the time—Hatfield's, and Stokes IGA and James Adams had a store across the street, and... Ben Adams' hardware."

"There were a few changes in store for the 'Bulletin family' in 1981."

"Johnny (James) and I married in August of 1952—long ago, and then Johnny and I married in August, and then at the end of that year, right after Christmas, Ray Marvin and Ruth Hay married—so all three of us got married," James remembers.

"Mary Ellen Hugman quit work shortly after I came... she was pregnant, so she quit. And (See EMPLOYEE, Page 2B.)

Pioneer printer

Employee

then I began to operate the other Linotype. Of course at that time, you had to put your metal in the little pot on the Linotype, and heat it. Every now and then it would squirt out... I still have a few scary on my legs where it burned me.

"Each line in the paper was a line of type, and then you put those in the galleys, then you ran proof, made your corrections... Ray Marvin and Mr. Hunter set a lot of the ads by hand... the larger letters in the ads and the larger figures, but a lot of them were set on the Linotype, and I did a lot of ad-setting on the Linotype.

"Of course, everybody looked forward to Thursday, because that was the day the paper came out, and we put the paper to bed, as we called it. Mrs. Ruth Batto was working at the museum at that time, so after we got the paper all ready to go and the first copy had come out and everybody looked at it again one more time to see if we found some more errors and try to get those corrected, then Mr. Hunter would go back to the museum and then he'd send Ruth Batto to type to help us, and we would wrap the papers. That was another job of mine, to address the wrappers for the papers that had to be mailed.

"We got an addressograph finally... a little machine that had stencils. If you had several going to a place, they were addressed with an addressograph... the ones that went out alone, to places like Washington and California, maybe El Paso, each one of those was wrapped separately.

"James worked at the Bandera Bulletin until 1955, then in February of 1956 she went to work at the First National Bank.

"We lost our first baby in 1955, then I went to work. Mr. Frank (Montague) called me and wanted me to come to work then, in February of 1956, so I went to work... and then I worked there until 1958, and I quit, then, just before Minneanna was born."

"After her daughter Minneanna was born, James took some time off from working, but in 1959, when Nettie Saul got sick, Elizabeth James was drawn back into the newspaper business."

"Nettie got sick in the fall of '59, and Ray Marvin called me and said 'Help! I said I didn't want to work away from home, and he said you can work at home.'"

"So he would make copies of the galleys, and I would read proof, and then I also did a lot of typing for them... typed the news articles.

"I worked at home, and I solicited advertising over the phone... sometimes I would run downtown to pick up things. And then I read proof and wrote stories, things like that.

"We had a lot of stories, like Fine Arts, and garden club, and a lot of personal items. I'll tell you a funny one on me... this probably happened the first winter that I was working there... we were running short on news that week, nothing much had happened, so (I would call) Mrs. Ernat Lindner... or Minnie Hayes, or different ones, Louella Mansfield... and get some news.

"So I called Minnie, and of course there was a lot of noise about the fans going, or the Linotype was going and maybe the press was running... Minnie was living out at Bruce's with her daddy at that time... Bruce's Guest Ranch, and I said, 'Minnie, do you know any news?' and she said, 'Well, I had some company,' and I said 'Oh, good, who was it?'"

"And she said, 'well, we had a Samba party,' and I thought she said 'slumber' party, and Mr. Frank (Montague) called me and wanted me to come to work of my life. I wasn't interested in anything else.

"I don't know if we ever covered a bigger story than the flood of 1978. But I do know that the one in 1900 was bigger. I had an Aunt who lived in Medina. Her dresses were found in Medina Lake. The 1978 flood wasn't that bad."

Saul has seen a lot of growth in Bandera through the years. She says Bandera was a "pretty rough town" when her family first moved to it. She once witnessed a shooting. The injured man was dragged into the drug store on Main Street and Cypress Street (which is now Shoe Biz) and left on the floor.

Although she was a pioneer, of sorts, in her working days, Saul does not look back at her newspaper career as unusual. "My family were all born with printer's ink in our veins," she maintains. Along with working on the paper, Saul was (and still is) a member of the Church of Christ. She was instrumental in starting a garden club and a fine arts club. She joined a book club and found time to read every book she received. She was also a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and is on the Doaope foundation Museum Board. She was also a member of the Red Cross, American Cancer Society, the Bandera County Historical Survey Committee, and the Democratic Executive Committee.

During her spare time, she enjoyed her family, friends, vacation, travel and photography. Mostly, she enjoyed her newspaper career: going to the races to take pictures of the "pretty horses", and being "out and about." She wrote specials on Bandera for the San Antonio Express and News. She was the Bandera Bulletin (along with her son and his wife) for 24 years. The paper sold to Hills' Texas Publications in Nov., 1981.

Through the years, Saul never assumed she was important or gifted. "There was nothing else I ever wanted to do, besides newspaper work. Problems on a newspaper job (or any other) can be small when you do a job to the best of your ability and to the best interest of those you serve."

Over the years, Saul has considered writing a book. She's still considering it. She goes to church and visits family but at 88, she yearns for more. "It gets very boring," she explains. "Once I was very active with everything."

Since the 1920s we've been here for Bandera...

Grimes Funeral Chapels are proud of our heritage of serving the people of Bandera during their times of sorrow. We trace our roots back to the undertaking service begun by I.B. (Berry) Langford, Bandera's first undertaker.

Berry and his brother, Benjamin (B.F.), did masonry, carpentry and cabinet building, operated a livery stable, a blacksmith shop, a meat slaughtering house and meat market, and a furniture store in addition to a funeral home.

The Langfords began their businesses in the Lincoln & Hart building which was located on the corner of Cedar and 11th Street, but in the 1920s B.F. enlarged his stock and moved next door.

In 1936, B.F.'s son, John, purchased his mother's interest in the store and he and his wife, Rebecca, built a new store on Cypress St. and opened a funeral parlor in the old Saner Building on the corner next door and provided the first hearse ambulance service in the county.

The Schweers Family Reunion

The 11th annual reunion of the Schweers family was held at Kerrett's Club in Clarksville on Sunday, June 17th, about 400 members of the Schweers family being in attendance.

There was a display of old family relics and household goods arranged for the crowd to see. Among these were some of the original things used by the Schweers family when they came over from Germany in 1854 and settled at Quak.

It is estimated that there are about 775 living descendants of the Schweers family living today scattered over the country, most of them living in Medina, Bexar and Bandera counties.

The production achieved by American farmers, under the impact of wartime necessity, is an outstanding performance which not appreciated by most Americans.

Veterans to Get Office in Texas

Washington, July 11.—The veterans' administration will establish offices in 16 cities of Texas, Senator County (Dem.) of Texas was informed Tuesday.

The office will have one component as soon as possible can be acquired and personnel trained.

The cities selected are Corpus Christi, Sherman, Palestine, Lufkin, Longview, Marshall, Huntsville, Bryan, Brenham, Victoria, Laredo, Del Rio, San Angelo, Odessa, Big Spring and Vernon.

Lonnie Edwards Married in Paris

We give below a letter Mrs. Pearl Edwards of this city and her husband, Lonnie Edwards, of this city, and grandsons of Tom Crist, of Pipe Creek. The letter follows:

Dear Mom and Granddad: We are now on our honeymoon and having a wonderful time. We thought we would like to write to our folks a letter to let them know how we have been.

We were married Tuesday the 10th, at St. Joseph's Church here in Paris, at 4:45 p. m. It was a lovely ceremony, and we were married on the steps at the railing of the altar.

Deadline Set on Canning Sugar

Issuance of sugar coupons for home canning will be terminated August 31, instead of on the previously set deadline of October 31, by all war years and ration boards of the 60-county San Antonio P. A. district, it was announced today by J. Kenneth Black, district rationing executive.

The deadline was moved up under instructions from the Dallas regional office, Black said. He added that the boards may issue as many certificates as might have been issued through the month of October to those who actually need canning sugar coupons.

A dispatch from Dallas says "home improvement" in the supply situation of sugar has been reported by district offices of the Office of Price Administration. Shortages in Texas and Oklahoma were recently alleviated by two shipments of offshore sugar.

Texas Gets Salute of Navy

Dallas, Texas, July 7.—The navy yesterday saluted the State of Texas for the great part it has done in the war through its industry, military resources and production facilities.

In starting statement, the 8th Naval District revealed that Texas has sent more men and women, on a percentage-of-population basis, to the navy fleet—guard-isan any other state in the union.

For example, since Dec. 7, 1941, a total of 154,296 Texans have gone into the navy alone as enlisted personnel. This figure does not include the 12,400 officers, the groups enlisted through the V-5, V-7, and V-12 programs, and 2,000 WAVES, Marines and women marines.

Town Damaged By Plane Crash

San Diego, Texas, July 11.—A navy flyer was killed, two women were injured, several homes were damaged, and this city is without a domestic water supply today following crash of a naval training plane into a 100-foot steel water tower in the center of town.

The plane struck the tower at 2:30 a. m. today, causing some 100,000 gallons of water to spill out. The water tower is the center of the town.

Also in a hospital was Mrs. John Glover, 40, who was struck on an arm by flying metal. Three small children escaped injury from the plane as it swept through the house, washing it from its foundation.

It all started on Friday July 13, 1945...

With the grand motto: "Tis Neither Birth, nor Wealth, nor State, but Get-up-and-Get that Makes Men Great," the Bandera Bulletin was born on a Friday the 13th. There were no photos in that first edition, but quite a few advertisements, and lots and lots of news about people in and around Bandera.

First housed in the Frontier Times Museum, the Bulletin moved to a new location on Bandera's Main Street in the fall of 1947, and the newspaper has had four homes in its history. In their salutation, publisher J. Marvin Hunter and editor Nettie Saul stated: "We have no 'axe to grind', no great reforms for us to suggest, but if it's the news our readers want, the news is what they will get."

In that first issue, it was reported that Felix Knicker was installed as worshipful master of the Bandera Lodge, and that Raymond Hicks was sending the Bulletin overseas to his brother, Capt. Walton Hicks.

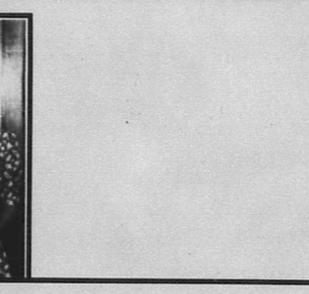

Ads included Eric Mansfield's Gulf station; Gilbert Moore's Sinclair station; Plummer's Funeral Home; Best Yet Cafe; and the Diamond T Trading Post.

THE BULLETIN

Bandera Flood Worst Since 1900

The Bandera Bulletin Thursday, Aug. 3, 1978: "Two persons were known to have drowned and damage was expected to exceed $1 million in a torrential rain-storm which flooded the Medina River watershed Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning.

"The bodies of Mrs. King Buchanan and Mrs. Bertha Louise Beams were recovered near Camp Bandina, between Bandera and Medina, and the search continues for missing persons at Camp Bandina and Peaceful Valley Ranch, as well as other places along the rain-swollen river.

"Some reports reaching Bandera Wednesday gauged rainfall at 13 inches in Medina, 5 inches on the Las Short Ranch above the head of the river, more than 7 inches in Bandera, 30 inches on the J.E. Reed Ranch above Medina, and 14 inches in Vanderpool.

"Bandera streets were flooded, and all highways leading into Bandera were closed. Medina was also isolated.

"Flood waters covered Clint Dowell Chevrolet Co. building, wrenching it from its foundations. New and used cars were washed past Doe Creek, upturned and smashed against trees.

"The Bandera sewer plant, down-stream from the Chevrolet agency, was swept away.

"One wall of the Masonic Lodge building was washed away as flood waters covered the structure eight-high.

"Four-foot waters flowed through Boyle's Dry Goods and Washeteria on Main St. The Chopping Block Lockers and Hillcrafters on upper Main Street were flooded by early morning. Bailey Acres and Sands Motel were also flooded as the river water cut through, isolating the Bulletin area from lower Main St.

"From the river-loop Mr. and Mrs. Clay Jones were swept down-river atop the roof of their home. Both reached shore safely, one riding as far as the Don Tobin Ranch.

"Receding waters revealed the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Wally Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Torres, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Darden and others completely washed away. A number of mobile homes were missing with ambulances. "The Bandera Fire Department patrolled the town of Bandera making sure everyone knew about the rising water.

"The sheriff's department worked through the night and day coordinating and offering assistance.

"The Texas Highway Patrol, Texas Highway Department, National Guard, Parks and Wildlife personnel and local citizens worked through the day giving assistance. Phil Becker used his helicopter to search for survivors."

Bandera's sewer plant was destroyed in the flood of 1978, and city crews worked round the clock to get a portable system in place. Then, on Aug. 17, the Bulletin reported that (at left) Melvin King, manager of Bandera Water Improvement District No. 1, turns the switch which put into operation the newly acquired sewage plant as Mayor Wilvie Smith and Raymond Harris of the Texas Department of Water Resources look on.

In the Aug. 10, 1978 Bulletin, it was reported that the Army Corps of Engineers, at the request of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration, would be "conducting debris removal operations along parts of the Medina River between the city of Bandera and Camp Bandina."

Livestock owners were advised to report any stray livestock to the Bandera County Sheriff's office. Judge W.O. Hatfield estimated that "Bandera County suffered over $15 million in damages, including $2.5 to $3 million damage to the Bandera Electric Cooperative. And the flood death toll rose to 13.

On Friday, June 16, 1978, The Bandera Bulletin published this historic photo and declared that "Frank Mansfield Week" had been designated. The Bulletin said: "This week we pay tribute to one of Bandera's native sons. Frank Horace Mansfield was born in Bandera, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mansfield. He grew up in this community at the old home place, the famous Mansfield Park, and attended school in Bandera, where he graduated from Bandera High School in 1919. For a time he engaged in ranching and later bought an interest in the Chevrolet Garage from the late Tom Gray. He went into business with Doc Blakeney and for many years operated a successful business.

He is shown here as the driver of Bandera's first fire truck. Note the stack of water buckets on the running board. This picture was taken about 1924. At the front of the unit is the late Walter Ruge, who was also instrumental in having a fire department for Bandera.

"Mansfield for many years served as fire chief and held the Bandera Fire Department together through good times and bad. Besides the Fire Department, he was instrumental in many projects for the betterment of Bandera and always served the community with honesty, efficiency and integrity. After he sold the Chevrolet company, he engaged in the appliance business. Now he has sold his thriving business to Mr. and Mrs. Clay Jones of Houston and has retired after over 50 years of excellent service. Through his years in business here, his wife, Ruby, has stood by his side and we also offer a tribute to their daughter, Cora Belle Nunn and family..."

Computer Network Allows Moore Title's Customers Fast Access to 120 Years of Title Data

In 1991, as a Bandera real estate attorney, Billy Walker faced the problem of waiting for accurate title work from Moore Abstract and Title or taking a chance on a quick report from its upstart competitor. When Ron Jackson agreed to sell its assets to Walker in 1993, he began to realize his vision of experienced title professionals delivering title insurance by using network computers to access Moore's 120 years of high quality title files and data.

Moore Title is Bandera County's oldest continuing business, tracing its roots to 1874.

1874 Jesse W. Currie (County Judge 1903-1913) issued the first Abstractor's Certificates as to land ownership and status.

1884 Charles Montague, Jr. (District and County Clerk 1872-1902) took over the issuance of Abstractor's Certificates and created the first geographically-based Title Index Plan in the county, covering the City of Bandera lands. (He also served as County Surveyor and as County Judge.)

1902 W. R. (Bob) Fletcher was elected County and District Clerk (which office he held until 1923) and bought Montague's Plan. In 1903, he created the first county-wide Geographical-Based Title Index Plan.

1912 W. R. (Bob) Fletcher, Ignacius Adamietz and then soon to be Vice-President John Nance Garner joined together in the creation of a company to issue Abstractor's Certificates for Bandera, Medina, and Uvalde Counties (which included what is now Real County). This business continued for three years at which time Adamietz and Garner went on to other endeavors and Bob Fletcher continued the Title Business, but concentrated on Bandera County.

1923 W. R. (Bob) Fletcher opened the first office solely for the issuance of Title information in what is now the Tax-assessor's office in the Court House.

1928 W. R. (Bob) Fletcher issued the first Insured Title Policy in Bandera County in 1928.

1946 Millie Moore, (Bob Fletcher's wife's niece) after typing reports and certificates for Bob Fletcher for some time began to "Run Title". Bob Fletcher moved into the Federal land Bank office to serve the landowners of the county in that way as well as continuing to be the provider of Title information to the community. Fletcher served his community in many ways; he was Secretary of the Draft Board during World War I; President of the Chamber of Commerce, on the Board of Directors of the First State Bank, and helped to organize the Bandera County Farm Loan Association. He is kindly remembered by many for his efforts in aiding local residents obtain the credit they needed to be able to keep their lands through drought and other hard-times.

1955 W. R. (Bob) Fletcher died in 1955 and Gilbert "Hug" Moore and Millie Moore purchased the Title Plant from his heirs. Both worked in the business and separated the subdivided lands into separate Index Books for the Geographical-Based Index Plan. Bandera Attorneys, Glendon Roberts and Sam Darden, did the bulk of Company's title examinations based on the Moores' research.

1956 Moore Abstract and Title Company, Inc. was incorporated on February 14, 1956, the first private corporation in Bandera County. (The Warehouse Co-op, Bandera Electric Co-op, and the Highway Dept. were the only other incorporated businesses.)

1985 Millie and Gilbert "Hug" Moore retired and sold the company to Ronald M. Jackson, a practicing Attorney in Bandera. Jackson was Board Certified in the Practice of Farm and Ranch and Residential Real Estate Law. Sady, Jackson developed a terminal illness and died on May 15, 1993, at the age of 49.

1993 On March 31, 1993, Jackson sold the assets of Moore Abstract and Title Company to local attorney, Billy Walker, who had worked with him during his illness. Walker, a fourth generation Bandera County resident, immediately contacted Gilbert and Millie Moore to return to the business as consultants, then applied modern network computers to speed the delivery of 120 years of title data to its customers. Walker, grandson of County Judge (1932-1938) and Surveyor Granville Wright, knew that while land titles are forever, customers expect the prompt, friendly service when buying, selling or borrowing that only experienced title professionals relying on a high quality plant can provide.

1994 Moore Title Company celebrates 120 years of quality title work for Bandera County landowners.

A few things that could only happen in Bandera...

Eight-year-old hunter Roger Chancy was featured on the front page of the Bandera Bulletin Nov. 24, 1981, with the two turkey gobblers he had killed with one shot* on the C.L. Light ranch near Medina.

By Stephanie Logue
Bulletin Staff Writer

July 20, 1946: Early last Friday morning the O.S.T. safe was broken into and $27 taken from the cash register. Mrs. Cleora Faris, owner, immediately... got into her car and went to notify Sheriff Billy Burns. En route to the Sheriff's home, she picked up a young soldier who had worked at the cafe and turned him over to the sheriff. The young man confessed.

And, Mrs. Andrew Pyka brought to the Frontier Times Museum a window shutter used in the original Thomas Masurek home when it was built on 6th and Hackberry in 1868. It is one inch thick cypress and put together with wooden pegs. It has been used for 75 years and is still sound.

And, Leslie Traylor, retired from the immigration service, is tracking the trail of John Wilkes Booth in Bandera (the man who assassinated President Abraham Lincoln). It is believed he lived here and taught school for a while before going to Oklahoma and committing suicide under the name John B. George. His body was embalmed and kept for some years in an attempt to prove he really was John Wilkes Booth.

Aug. 24, 1945: Howard G. Hay picked up a truckload of fish: catfish, rock bass, brim or perch, and put them in Medina River.

Aug. 24, 1945: A radio report, broadcast a few days ago, announced that Jack Burns, of Bandera, Texas, will ride a white mule into Tokyo as U.S. troops march into the city. Jack is the son of Sheriff and Mrs. Burns of Bandera and is a popular rodeo rider.

Oct. 5, 1945: Tex Calkins will continue his sign business in a new location... "Toots Mansfield Goes To New York." "Bandera's Lost Valley Tourist Resort to Rival the Finest California and Arizona Resorts."

Oct. 18, 1946: "Old Cotton Eyed"

Joe" has come to town; Conwill's Music Store has received 500 records of the famous old tune; this very popular dance was staged in Bandera.

March 25, 1948: To show support for the first Stompede, women are asked to wear blue jeans britches and cowboy garb. Mothers of future cowboys are asked to raise their babies on cow's milk, mare's milk, or burro milk during this time.

May 21, 1948: the schedule for the first Stompede will include: horse racing, armadillo races, tall tales contest, and a board contest.

Feb. 11, 1949: "Beards & Bonnets Touchy Topic; Cause Stompede Within Stompede..." some women who say they never wear blue jean britches and western wear have asked to wear bonnets in support of the Stompede.

May 20, 1949: "An Estimated Crowd of 5,000 to 8,000 Attended Bandera's Big Stompede" which began with the hoisting of the blue jean flag of the Free State of Bandera, and the opening of Judge Roy Bean's Court of Law West of the Medina.

Sept. 23, 1949: movie to be filed in Bandera; Sunset Carson and Lee Morgan to star with Bandera.

Oct. 21, 1949: Marine Corporal Clyde N. Hamilton, 21, the son of Floyd Hamilton of Bandera, will be in a movie, "The Sands of Two Jims."

March 31, 1950: "Cisco Kild" Being Filmed At Famous Flying L. Guest Ranch.

April 28, 1950: "Flowing Beards & Crowns Easily In The Free State of Bandera-Carrizosa, Critters & Cowhands are Invited to Stompede Parade."

And: "Main Street to be Dark: Power will be shut off to the street lights in the downtown district until the overdue bill is paid."

May 18, 1951: Monte Hale, a popular western movie actor has been a guest at the Mayan Ranch this week.

June 6, 1952: "Louisiana Couple Wins Honeymoon Trip to Bandera"

Aug. 14, 1953: "Great Bismarck State One of Best States in Years"

And, "Mayan Ranch Host to Notables" Life Magazine took more than 100 pictures.

Bandera has its share of cowboys...

From champion ropers to dude ranching wranglers to "Cowboy Zeke"

Jan. 31, 1975 saw Bandera's own folksy cowboy Rudy Robbins presenting a plaque to TV personality Judd Ashmore. The plaque declared Ashmore the "Hugginest Weatherman" and an "Honorary Citizen of Bandera."

Nov. 2, 1945: "Toota Mansfield Won The World Championship Roping Again"

Nov. 16, 1945: "Life Magazine Features Jeff Reavis and Dancer, Ranger, and his trained horse, Ranger, are performing in New York's Madison Square Garden."

June 21, 1946: "Bob Mansfield Winner in Gladewater Rodeo"

Nov. 25, 1947: "Toota Mansfield, Five Times World Champion Roper Now Owns The Keys To Big Spring"

March 26, 1948: "Cowboy Zeke Proclaims The Free State", Old Uncle Zeke, a Bandera Cowboy, asked the president to declare a national holiday to honor the cowboy. The request has been ignored, so Bandera cowboys raised the flag of stompede and set up a provisional government and declared it the Free State of Bandera. All males are asked to let their whiskers grow until the May 23 Stompede.

July 9, 1948: Sixteen-year-old Scooter Fries won tie-down roping in Big Spring.

Subdivision squabble, 'dry' dispute occupies county dads

By Stephanie Logue
Bulletin Staff Writer

A dispute between Mark Van Overberg and Lakewood Estates property owners was first on the agenda for the Monday, July 11 meeting of the Commissioners' Court of Bandera.

Property owners protested Van Overberg's request to county commissioners for final approval on Unit IV of Lakewood Estates. Their complaint involved a cut in the acreage of the subdivision park from approximately 10 acres to five acres. They claimed the park had been "misrepresented" to them when they purchased land in the subdivision. They said they were told the park would be 10 acres of land which they, as property owners, would be free to use. They claimed improvements had also been promised, yet never made.

Van Overberg replied that the park had always been stated as five acres. He said a chain was moved to a temporary location to control access to the park and protect it from vandalism. He said the chain was a temporary measure and had never been intended to mark the boundaries of the park. He also said that he, not property owners, had been paying the taxes on the land.

Property owners countered that the park was represented to them as 10 acres; that the chain to control access had been a permanent installation; and that signs proclaiming the 10-acre park had been up for the past six years.

Overberg said he was sorry for the land owners' misconceptions, but denied any misrepresentation.

Bandera County Judge Ray Maurer said commissioners would not make the final approval on Lakewood Estates as long as a conflict existed between Van Overberg and property owners.

Commissioner Dan Alanis said he did not believe the commissioners' court had any authority to tell Van Overberg how big to make his park.

Bennie Barker said he did not believe the court should approve boundaries which were in dispute.

Property owners maintained they have a "strong case" and will go to the Attorney General with it.

Bandera mayor Robert Skinner and council member Jeanette Bridges asked the commissioners for help installing roads at the Bandera City Park. They said the county will be reimbursed for the work. Commissioners agreed to begin the work and said that looking at the August 31 deadline for completion, the job should have been started "yesterday."

County maintenance shop supervisor Ken Knaus said he feels that county residents do not know that an oil recycling service is available for them. There is no charge. Oil filters and used oil are collected at the county yards both in Lakehills and in Bandera. The City of Bandera also has an oil collection site at the city yard. There is no charge for that service.

A new election may be needed, commissioners were told, to determine the boundaries of "wet" and "dry" precincts. Precinct boundaries have changed in recent years. Old records are being searched concerning the election which left precinct four dry.

Chamber's lunch box social scheduled July 24

Rhythm in Blue, Sheriff's Posse Band will be among highlights of Heckberry Lodge event

Following church on Sunday, July 24, a box lunch social will be held at Heckberry Lodge on 11th Street and Hackberry. It is sponsored by the Bandera Chamber of Commerce.

Everyone is invited to bring a box lunch in a decorated container. Each container should have enough food for the group it represents. For example, a family of four may bring four box lunches or one box lunch which will feed four.

Lunches will be auctioned off. There will be a prize for the best decorated. Lemonade and iced tea will be available. The Rhythm and Blues dance team has volunteered to help and will also perform.

After lunch, items will be auctioned. Local merchants, artists and individuals have donated items for the auction. These items include a pair of Rayban sunglasses; gift certificates from local beauty shops; a briquet from Dubeo's Barbecue; A certificate for a massage from Carmilla Brown; a certificate for a month of aerobics from Nikki Collins; framed art work and some antiques.

The Sheriff's Posse Band will play. There will be yard games for children. Prizes will be awarded to the T-shirt design contest winners. The 1994 Cowboy Christmas T-shirt will be on sale for $10 in both adult and children's sizes.

Donations and volunteers are still needed and welcomed. Funds raised from this event will be used to purchase community Christmas decorations. The Chamber's goal is to decorate Main Street with lights and banners, and to decorate the courthouse lawn and other public buildings with unique and tasteful decorations that will be long-lasting.

This will be an ongoing project. Decorations purchased will be the type which can be added to each year. The Chamber is looking into a variety of sources and ideas. Some preliminary sketches are in the works.

'Apple pie, apple anything' sought for Apple Festival

Do you have an old family recipe or a secret ingredient that makes your apple pie the talk of the family reunion or the envy of Aunt Sue? If you do, now you could really rub it in if you had a trophy to back it up! Not to mention how you could conveniently mention that your apple pie is favorite apple dish brought in over $1,000 for a worthy cause. All of this apple polishing could be yours if you enter the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival "Best Apple Pie or Best Apple Anything Contest." The contest is open to anyone and there is absolutely no entry fee. Just bring your best pie or apple dish to the front gate of the festival before 10 a.m. on July 30. There will be a youth division, adult division and a professional division. Awards will also be given for first through third places in each division and also for most creative.

The competition will be judged by some well-known apple lovers such as Jim Thomas from KENS-TV, Patsy Swendsen, noted cookbook author and TV personality; officials from the Texas Department of Agriculture, and San Antonio's most famous chef, Jay

Bandera Village stays open late

For the convenience of local shoppers, most stores in Bandera Village are staying open late one night a week.

For July, the stores will stay open on Thursday nights until 8 p.m. This gives Bandera residents time to get home from work and go shopping.

In August, stores will be open on Friday night until 8 p.m.

Starting in September, stores at Bandera Village will be open late one night a week, either Thursday or Friday depending on public response during July and August.

The idea of late-night shopping came from the Bandera Village Merchants Committee. Every business in Bandera Village is a member of the committee.

School board says students will be required to conform

No nose rings, ear rings for boys or girls in short shorts skirts or shorts, Bandera Independent school board members decided in their Tuesday, June 28 meeting. Students should conform to the community's standards.

Bandera ISD board of trustee member Scott Middleton said that the dress standard "should be black and white."

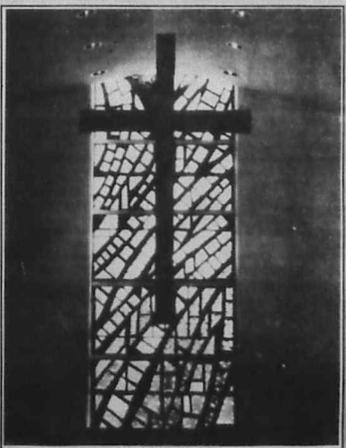

Other members agreed saying the school should "set a standard and stick to it."

Margaret Paradise said that high school students needed to learn to dress appropriately prior to going out into the world. "If we don't set a standard, how will they learn?"

Grace Lutheran Church will celebrate the installation of its new pastor, Glenn Moehring, on Sunday, July 17. Bishop Henry Schulte will participate in the worship service, which begins at 10:45 a.m. The congregation will celebrate with an old-fashioned picnic lunch following the service. Area ministers and their families have been invited to the event.

Friends and special guests including former pastors will be present Sunday, July 17 as Bandera United Methodist Church celebrates the completion of a building project with a consecration service. The service will begin a two-day event, "Brush Arbor Days," an old-fashioned revival featuring United Methodist Bishop Ray Owen as the guest preacher. For more about the event, including a schedule of special activities, please turn to Page 10.

We won one!

To give this young man's name would serve no useful purpose. It is important only to know that first he dropped out of high school sports then he dropped out of high school. This young man just hung out and worked when he could at various jobs. He had minor run-ins with the law, but nothing serious. Then he was arrested for the possession of marijuana. A short time later he was arrested again for the same offense.

When he was arrested the first time, his parents and grandparents went to his aid fearing that something like this was coming. The boy's mother was heart-broken and she cried, the step-father's quiet desperation was apparent when they contacted me to talk about the young man's situation. The boy's grandparents were saddened to say the very least. They helped get him out of jail and worked the system to help him as much as possible. Despite it all, this young man was their son and grandson, they all love him.

The second time he was arrested the pain and agony that the family endured is beyond belief. This is a family that really does care. They always did what they thought was best for the boy, but love can be blind. However, this time it was different. The family did not rush to get him out of jail. They began to feel that the young man had been given his chance and now he should pay for his mistakes. They made a difficult decision not to work the system and allowed the system to take its course. They did find a school for him where he could finish high school and learn a trade.

The county attorney spoke with many people about this young man, which included the family. She saw something in this boy after talking with everyone. The county attorney did not excuse him from his transgression but did allow him to enter this school on the condition that he finish the program. If he did not finish, he must face the charges.

We hear so much these days about the "system", the police, courts, and corrections, and how it is in need of a major overhaul. The system works; it just does not work often enough with the efficiency we

The Bulletin solicits your letters on any subject of general interest. Each letter must be brief (250 words maximum, shorter if possible), in good taste, and free of libelous material. would like. The system is not going to make all the needed adjustments only at the ballot box or in the legislature. It is going to take the involvement of everyone concerned; society, the system, schools and, most importantly, the family.

The trick is to know when a young person is a member of the six percent that is going to be a problem all their lives, or is it the case of a good kid that has made and/or has been allowed to make bad decisions. Punishment should be swift, sure, increasing in severity for repeat offenders and society must place faith in all parts of the system, allowing it to work. To put it simply, if you can't do the crime, then don't do the crime, because there is going to be time.

Today this young man has graduated from high school, is a master welder and is employed with a company in South Texas. I spoke with him recently and the change in this young man warms the heart. He has become a productive member of society. I want to congratulate him, his family and the system. Folks, we won one!

Student exchange

Recent news from the media headlines has been filled with violence and social injustice. Consequently, America has been shoved into the world's spotlight as a dangerous country to visit, yet the US remains to be the "dream" destination of many teenagers across the globe. As Americans it is our responsibility to show the people of the world that America is one of the most beautiful, wondrous countries on earth. Our citizens are kind, generous and anxious to share our cultural heritage with people of other countries. American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE) has been placing foreign high school students to engage in "financial adventures."

The Beaudarcs aren't what you would call "liberals," but both Billy Bob and Jimmy Ray recognize the potential for exploitation—it's mighty easy. First, they disagreed what constitutes a financial endeavor. Of course in the world we live in, churches have to deal in the realities of monthly bills and other economic realities, but what about "other stuff"?

And, Billy Bob says, what business does the church have endorsing political candidates and the like? Well, the discussion naturally turned to ethics, and just mention ethics, and Jimmy Ray starts raving about the hypocrisy.

"People in the pews on Sunday, and cheatin' other folks out of their hard-earned money the other six days of the week," Jimmy Ray says, then he gets off on a tirade of all the social ills that were stemming from. About the time he was getting around to blaming various

HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Carelessness, not alcohol, was to blame in 31 of the 44 deaths on Texas roads on Sunday, July 17, 1994, DPS statistics for the holiday break.

An accident near Snyder claimed 11 lives—children piled into the open bed of a pickup truck; 14 died in a collision between a tractor trailer rig and a family van near Weatherford; and six people died in an accident near Ballinger.

...it looks like a matter of driver alertness more than anything else," said Department of Public Safety spokesman Mike Cox.

In all, 65 people died on Texas roads over the 78-hour period of the July Fourth holiday, breaking the previous high of 64 deaths recorded in 1971, 1982 and 1983, the DPS reported.

Of the 65 deaths, 51 were vehicle occupants, nine were riding in the rear of a pickup truck and five were pedestrians, and the count will rise if others die of traffic-related injuries.

The death toll was more than double the number of deaths predicted for the holiday break.

Cox said many who died were not wearing seatbelts, although statistics indicate that more Texans are buckling than ever. The DPS issued 91,898 citations for seatbelt violations in 1992, 77,028 in 1993 and 27,309 through May 1994, Cox said.

Ruling on Drug Seizure
The 3rd Court of Appeals ruled last week that the state cannot tax illegal drugs that were improperly obtained by law enforcement officers, the Houston Chronicle reported.

The court struck down a $20,329 tax assessment that the state comptroller levied against Jesus Alberto Vera because Dallas police did not have a search warrant when they seized the marijuana, which was taxed.

Texas voters can learn more about the candidates, their voting records and issues in the Nov. 8 statewide election by calling Oregon. The toll-free hotline, 1-800-622-SMART, is financed by the Center for independence in Politics in Corvallis, Ore.

We grew out of a need to counter a climate of mud-slinging and manipulative campaigning that candidates run to get elected," explained Adelaide Elm, a founding board member of the nonprofit, nonpartisan group.

Since it was formed two years ago, a trained hotline staff has fielded 209,000 calls. The staff surveys candidates and officeholders. Elm said she expects 90 percent of more than 2,000 state and federal candidates to respond, although in previous years two-thirds of the 1,500 House and Senate candidates did not reply.

Other Highlights
• The Legislative Budget Board last week unanimously approved another $1.1 million for accelerated prison construction, a program designed to give the state another 152,000 prison beds by August 1995. Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said lawmakers are following through to meet the top concern of Texans.

The true feeling of the Texas Hill Country comes alive on this year's winning T-shirt design for the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival. The winning design was submitted by Connie Slater, 19, of Kerrville, Texas. Cowboys booted filled with red, green and yellow apples look festive and fun in this five-color design. Slater's design was selected from over 35 designs entered in this year's contest. She also won second place. Third place winner is Karen Halle, of Bandera. Slater received a $100 check at Monday's Medina town meeting.

Market report

At approximately 8:30 a.m. on July 4, precinct 2 constable, Ernest Reich, spotted a suspicious vehicle in a Lakelands subdivision. When Reich attempted to stop the car to question the occupants, they fled. A short police chase ensued. The suspects lost control of the car, which had been reported stolen from San Antonio, and skidded to a stop near the entrance of Pebble Beach. The suspects then fled on foot into a nearby pasture. They were located around noon when the "hot, tired and scratched-up suspects" attempted to hike back to San Antonio. Arrested were Hilario Liserio, 21, of San Antonio, and Louis Guerra, 21, of San Antonio. Both were charged with a felony, unauthorized use of a motor vehicle and with evading arrest.

Looking Back

In Bandera County

We begin our 50th year...

49 years ago today, on Friday, July 13, 1945, the Bandera Bulletin first hit the streets. The first issue reported that the Bandera Chamber of Commerce had set their regular meeting date on the first Tuesday of every month, and that they had rented the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Wanda Slagter's gift shop.

Bandera County Judge A.V. Puc notified the public that "application for transfer of school children must be in by August 1."

Visiting in Bandera were Mr. and Mrs. Leo S. Blette, who were here from Houston visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J.N. Word and Press Word and family.

Advertisers in that first issue included the Diamond T Trading Post, Rugh Courts, United Realty and Investment Co., Kencrafters Printers, Gray's Cleaners, W.R. Fletcher Abstracts and Title Inc., Texaco Service Station, Del Rio and Winter Garden Telephone Co., and Bandera County Ranchmen & Farmers' Association.

Also Ryan's Red & White Store, First National Bank, Rugh's Home & Auto, W.W. Cardwell, Gulf Filling Station, Ranchmen's Chevrolet Co., Best Yet Cafe, Bandera Wood Works, Mansfield Appliance, Modern Dress and Beauty Shop, Lansford Electric Shop, Sinclair Service Station (Gilbert Moore, owner), Plummer's Funeral Home, Hayes Truck Line, Bandera Mercantile Co., Calkin's Paint Service, Bandera Fair Association Rodeo, Conwill's Food Store, and the Frontier Times Museum.

Visitors who had registered in the Frontier Times Museum during the past week included:

Mrs. Reed L. Whitman, Mrs. H. B. Williams Jr., Houston; D. P. Smith, B. B. Williams, Mrs. B. Williams, Martin Williams, John Williams, Billie Fred Williams, Beverly Williams, E. D. ## Wild West Video out to capture Pipe Creek

Frank and Micol Konvicka already have plans to expand their business

Wild West Video, located in the Pipe Creek Plaza shopping center, held their grand opening on Saturday, July 2. Frank and Micol Konvicka, owners, say plans are already underway to expand.

The video store currently carries 1,500 entertainment choices including the popular movies, "Grumpy Old Men", "Tombs" and "Philadelphia." Micol says that with new arrivals coming in regularly, she and Frank are already talking expansion. "We've thought about extending this building and making it larger and adding something else."

The Konvickas bought the empty plaza building in Jan, 1992, and have added "something else" many times. Prior to adding Wild West Video, they added a laundromat, nursery and a craft store. The nursery is leased out at the moment.

"Everything in Pipe Creek takes a little time," Micol reflects. "There are no overnight successes. But so far, we've been doing all right. We're happy."

Frank and Micol have lived in Pipe Creek for the past 14 years. Frank says they opened Wild West Video because of a need. "We were looking for something else to do. Since there wasn't a video place in Pipe Creek, we thought it would work."

Whether it "works" or not, the Konvickas do it. They open the video store at 10 a.m. in the morning and keep it open until 9 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, and until 11 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Long hours, but they feel they are building a better Pipe Creek through offering new services to people in the community.

AARP fund raiser July 25

The Medina Lake Chapter of the AARP is having a hamburger dinner as a fund raiser on Monday, July 25 at the American Legion gazebo in Lakelands beginning at 4 p.m.

The meal will include: hamburgers, beans, chips and cold drinks, all for $3. Reservations should be made by Tuesday, July 19. Call Margaret Moore at 535-4774, or Delmar Stark at 612-3639.

Funds from the hamburger dinner will be used for community programs. The Medina Lake AARP sponsors the Meals on Wheels program in the community. They also sponsor the commodities program.

Joan Felder and her 13-month old baby, Eva, are two Pipe Creek residents who are glad that Frank and Micol Konvicka have opened Wild West Video in the Pipe Creek Plaza. The video store had its grand opening on July 2, and the Konvickas say they are working towards 'a better Pipe Creek.'

Mark Jilek is 'Bandera's own hero,' friends say

His recent heroic actions in San Antonio earned him a commendation from firefighters

Mark Jilek, 41, of Bandera received a commendation for heroic action from the San Antonio Professional Firefighters Association on Thursday, July 7. Friends say that is nothing new; they call Jilek "a hero for all times."

The commendation for heroic action followed Jilek's decision to take the long way home to Bandera on Thursday, June 23, from his work place at USAA. He was driving along the 6600 block of Hausman Road at approximately 3:30 a.m. when he spotted an overturned car which had caught on fire. There was a man trapped inside, trying to crawl out the open hatch back.

"I knew I had to get him out," Jilek said. "He was screaming for help. He held his arm out towards me. He was another human being."

Jilek tried to reach the man, who was on fire, but the flames were too hot and they drove him back. By this time, another driver, Paul Suttles, had stopped. Jilek yelled to Suttles and asked if he had anything which could be used as a shield from the blaze. Suttles had a blanket in his vehicle and threw that to Jilek.

Even though he was afraid the burning vehicle would explode, Jilek shielded himself from the flames with the blanket. When he reached the victim, 28-year-old Matthew A. Esparza, he threw the blanket over Esparza and dragged him to safety. Jilek weighs 160 pounds. Esparza was over six feet tall and weighed 240 pounds.

"He was heavy," Jilek says, "and hot, because he was on fire. I dragged him about 20 feet away. I didn't know if the gas tanks had exploded. One tire exploded and I thought, 'oh, no, this is it! We'll both burn up right here.'"

As soon as he was a safe distance from the inferno, Jilek extinguished the fire on

Mark Jilek received a commendation for heroic action from the San Antonio Professional firefighters Association on Thursday, July 7. He stopped at an accident scene and pulled the driver out of a burning car.

Esparza and asked him if anyone else was trapped inside. He thought Esparza said that someone else was trapped inside. Fortunately, there wasn't. The vehicle was fully engulfed by then and rescue would have been impossible.

The heroic action of Jilek failed to save Esparza. With burns on over 70 percent of his body, he was airlifted to the hospital, but died on the way. It makes Jilek no less of a hero. He said he has only one regret. "I wish I had been there five minutes earlier. That might have made a difference. It might have saved his life. He was the only son of his father."

Jilek has a wife, Mary, and three sons: Jason and Brian Jilek and Jeffrey Nugent. He operates a four-color offset printing press in USAA's printing services department. Mary works at Twin Elm.

The Bandera hero says he would probably do it again. "Yes, when I think about it, it's hard to say that I would jump into a ball of flames. I didn't know I could do it. I had never done it before. I had pulled people out of cars before after accidents when they were bleeding and all-but never before anyone who was in a burning vehicle."

"But now that I have done that, I know I can do it. I'm the kind of person who can do that."

Jilek has lived in Bandera for the past 12 years. He and his family run a horse ranch and raise trail riding horses. Once, a few years ago on a trail ride, Jilek's group ran into two rattlesnakes by a water tank where they needed to water the horses. Jilek swung down off his horse and killed the snakes.

When the Pope was scheduled to visit San Antonio, Jilek was working on a construction site near San Antonio, preparing for the Pope's visit. He lifted up some trash and was bitten by a six-foot rattlesnake. He drove himself to the nearest convenience store for ice and packed his hand in ice. Then he drove himself to the hospital.

He does not see any of these deeds as heroic or extraordinary. "It was just my luck to be in those places at those times," Jilek explains. He spent 11 days in the hospital after the snake bite. Not wanting to traumatize the hand more than was necessary, doctors administered anti-venom to Jilek, then let the poison work its way through his body. They did not operate on him or try to remove the poison. He says he has suffered no lasting damage from the snake bite.

Jilek also participates in trail rides to help promote new businesses when they open. He is a member of the Cowboy Capital Trail Riders and makes the ride to San Antonio each year for the stock show and rodeo. He has made that ride every year for the past 12 years, as well as participating in the "Toys for Tots" trail rides.

"That's what we do on vacation every year," Jilek says, speaking of the five-day trail ride to the San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo. "My wife and myself and my kids—we take a vacation every year and make that ride. We all love horses. We don't need to go to fancy, expensive places on vacation. The horses are our entertainment."

He insists he is no hero, in spite of the "Commendation for Heroic Action" which he was just awarded. "I just did what I had to do."

Caitlyn Schott, 13, a 1 1/2-year-old daughter of Kirk and Terry Scott of Pipe Creek completed in the Alamo Shrine Temple beauty contest on June 26. She won the health award for 100 percent; took third place in the beauty division; and won second place in the royalty division as a princess. Her mother says she "was sponsored by lots of local folks" and that it was a benefit for the Shrine. Caitlyn has a brother, Blake, and her parents own a music store. Her great aunt is Rosie Schott.

SPRINGHILLS SPEAKS

It is good to see that many now agree with the picture that Springhills has been presenting for over seven years. That picture details a rapidly growing county that must use surface water to augment its dwindling groundwater supplies as Kerr and Kendall counties have already done.

In order to more effectively work together, let's step back in time a few years. Due to the passage of time and the emotions surrounding water rights some events have been forgotten and possibly misconstrued. So, that we don't plough the same ground twice, let's recap the events and actions taken by Springhills since 1987 to provide Bandera County with surface water.

Current law does not allow Bandera County to acquire and hold surface water rights for indefinite future use. It has been implied that the water in the Medina River and Medina Lake are ours for the asking. It has further been implied that Springhills did not do all it could to get a water right from the State. This is not the case. In January, 1991, Springhills filed an application to divert 5,000 acre-feet of water in the Medina River Basin to Bandera County. Our rationale was based on non-use by BMA. We asked the Texas Water Commission to cancel a portion of BMA's water rights and appropriate 5,000 acre-feet for use in Bandera County. At a meeting in Austin with Commission staff and legal advisors, we were told three things.

First, we were told that the Medina River was fully appropriated; there were no rights left to give out. Secondly, we were told that the Commission did not intend nor plan to cancel existing water rights in the Medina River Basin. And finally, that even if we got a water right, we must show intent to use it.

It is important to note that a price tag comes with a water permit. Section 4(c) on page 3 of the Texas Natural Resources Conservation Commission's application package titled Instructions For Preparation For An Application For A Regular Permit To Appropriate Public Water states, "The applicant must begin actual construction of proposed direct diversion facilities within two years after a permit is issued and prosecute the work diligently and continuously to completion."

Springhills' application was denied and declared administratively incomplete, in part, because we could not answer this question to the satisfaction of the Commission staff. Springhills did not want to commit to building diversion facilities. Our desire was to acquire and store water for a time when Bandera County was in desperate need of additional water supplies. We found out that under current Texas water law this is not possible.

After being denied by the Commission, that same year-1991, Springhills filed Senate Bill 1187 sponsored by Bill Sims in the Texas Legislature. This bill would have made an exception for Bandera County and allowed us to hold indefinitely for future use up to 5,000 acre-feet of surface water. Ultimately, S.B. 1187 did not pass.

In order to provide answers to questions concerning future water needs and opportunities, Springhills and the Texas Water Development Board in 1991 jointly sponsored a regional water supply study. The study concluded, in part, that the aquifers in Bandera County are being mined and listed ten alternatives to meet future demand. The alternatives ranged from pumping groundwater from water rich areas to water poor areas to building an off channel reservoir to hold water purchased from BMA. Unfortunately, for the general public, the alternatives were sensationalized in the paper. The study was extremely useful in condensing information down to the essential elements.

One thing became very clear. Providing for the future water needs of Bandera County is a complicated process that takes dedication and perseverance.

Relentless in our pursuit to provide for the future, Springhills formed a citizens water supply advisory committee. The consensus of the committee was for Springhills to negotiate with BMA for water or water rights. After visiting with BMA on several occasions, BMA added a clause to their contract with Bexar Metropolitan Water District. The clause stipulates that BMA reserves the right to sell Bandera County up to 5,000 acre-feet of water pending agreement on delivery schedule and cost. This water is not paid for until it is used. The District has explained this to the public and press previously. We invite each of you to stop by our office and visit with us about any questions you may have pertaining to our activities. The Board feels that the citizens advisory committee did a good job and we followed their recommendations.

There are those that criticize this agreement but this is the best agreement under current law that Bandera County could get without putting money on the table.

Let's reason together. We must make sure that any water acquired for Bandera County can be held indefinitely at no cost to the citizens. Springhills, as the local authority responsible for water resources, intends to introduce legislation sponsored by Bob Turner this session. We will again attempt to acquire and hold indefinitely surface water rights from the Medina River Basin for Bandera County. We invite your support in securing passage of this historic piece of legislation.

Your Basic Bandera

About halfway along the Colorado back road from Deckers on the South Platte to Woodland Park below Piko's Falls is the remnant of a town called West Creek. Back around the turn of the century, there was a little run on gold-mining there which soon played out. Apparently, at one time, the population was fairly sizeable, although now there is only a scattering of commuter and summer homes.

For years, as we drove by, we would notice, desolate and weedy on the up side of the curving road, a little graveyard, no doubt the last resting place of prospectors or ranchers. A who once tried to make a go of life here on the Front Range. We always wondered who the old timers had been, now sleeping under tottering or fallen stones. We wondered if they knew they had been forgotten.

Well, what do you know? This year, as we headed along on to our old cabin up the way, there was a new fence around the cemetery and a shiny new flag pole atop which the stars and stripes were waving gently in the afternoon breeze. Someone had righted all the headstones, had cut the weeds and left the blooming wildflowers. True, there were the usual yucky plastic posies on a few of the graves, but even those trappings of remembrance were an improvement over the air of abandonment previously hanging over the place.

All across America, plastic flowers and decorations seem to have taken the place of real flowers and adornments, in homes and restaurants but especially in cemeteries. Why? Wouldn't real plants and real flowers, mortal though they are, better serve to represent eternal life, going back to the soil instead of to the non-biodegradable landfill when someone finally comes to tidy

Volunteers, that is some thing many organizations rely on to raise money for their operation or to serve as volunteer fire men. On July 2, the Lakshores Volunteer Fire Department had their annual fund raiser and I am happy to write that there were so many volunteers that I cannot list them as I had hoped to. The Fire Market had 8 volunteers, the auction had 8, including the well known Auctioneer, Joe Walters, Bingo had 8, barbequing the meat were 7, working most of the night.

It appeared to be around 25 volunteers working, preparing and serving the food and six taking care of childrens games. Now that would be 56 names and I would be afraid I might miss one, so I will just say Thank You for a job well done. Visiting Marjorie Birch for the past week was Dr. Don Kendz, who is presently living in Minnesota. Don served in Sierra Leon, West Africa as a Missionary for 21 years. Don was lecturer and principal of Sierra Leon Bible College and the rest of the time was Mission Director. Don and his wife, Joan are now serving as Home Ministries, traveling to Wesleyan Churches speaking about the growth and development of the Wesleyan Church in Sierra Leon. When the Kendzes arrived in West Africa in 1966, Dr. and Mrs. Marion Birch were Mission Directors in Sierra Leon and provided leadership, direction, encouragement, counsel and friendship which has lasted through the many years.

Don showed his visual presentation of the Mission work Sunday, July 10 at the Walker Memorial Chapel. The Southern Baptists also have missionaries in Sierra Leon and work together on many projects. Don is here working with Marjorie Birch, putting the finishing touches to Marions book

what's rustlin'

It's a great pleasure of viewing a video of our recent Frontier Days Parade. It's really unbelievable, the effort all those people put into their floats and costumes and ideas. And the effort of all those volunteers who put it on. And, I had never realized, until seeing this video, what a hard job it is to announce a job! Dan Reese was "it" this year, and I tell you, listening to him trying to get all the names and descriptions announced before those entries "blew", was really something!

Thanks, Dan, for such a great job and thank you Tim Tobin, Rudy Robbins, Cotton Fitzgerald, R.L. Haas and any other announcers we've had over the years!

The entries in the 4th of July Parade over at Lakehills were amazing, too! What imagination. What Pizazz!

There's a cute ad in the paper, it says, "Call Sara @ Feather Dusters", great name for a cleaning service.

Recently, when they were interviewing horse owners about the new Retama Park racing facility, time after time, they said, "Oh! All horses are Class 1 horses, and we love to race at Bandera Downs. Bandera's so much fun! That's a pretty good reputation to have."

The Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association's mixer was a grand success, with a good turnout at the Cabaret. There are a lot of candidates for Rodeo Queen this year and how those judges are ever going to choose is beyond me. When you think of all these beautiful, young girls getting up at 5 A.M. to feed, groom and ride their "brones", then you know the world will be in good hands in the future!

The CCRA sometimes has the mixer at the Silver Dollar. I can remember a "shoot-out" - guys stumbling down the stairs, "fighting" all over the dance floor and out the back door! Pretty fun entertainment!

And speaking of purple martins... We finally got a family wanting to settle in our condos, would they, or wouldn't they; and they took so long choosing, just the right one... now, all those condos were exactly the same size, but mama would go in one and papa would go in the other and then, they'd both come out chattering away to each other, and this went on for over a week. Finally, they made up

Georg honored by governor

Retired state employee, Charles Georg, formerly of Bandera, was honored by Governor Ann Richards on Tuesday, July 12 for a cost saving idea. Georg took second place in the 1994 Governor's Productivity Suggestion Awards, and received $5,000.

Georg is a former roadway maintenance supervisor for the Texas Department of Transportation. He designed a way to repair multi-mailbox supports that have minor damage to the footing. Previously, the agency had to replace the supports on rural mailboxes at a cost of $63.51 each. Georg's repair idea costs $11.75 per support. Savings for one year are estimated at $122,774.

Rural mailboxes are in the right-of-way and fall under the agency's jurisdiction for safety reasons. The mailboxes are supplied by the inhabitants, but the mailboxes supports and footings are supplied and maintained by the agency. It is important that the mailbox posts give way when struck to decrease the risk of injury. Georg's repair passed the agency's safety test for breaking away on impact.

Georg was one of seven state employees from throughout Texas who vied for the $10,000, $5,000 and $2,000 Governor's Awards. The state employee suggestions were submitted under an ongoing program operated by the Texas Incentive and Productivity Commission. Suggestions approved by the Commission and implemented by the state agencies are eligible for cash awards if they save money. In addition, those approved suggestions are considered for the Governor's Productivity Suggestion Awards.

Paul Garza, of San Antonio, took the first place win of $10,000 for suggesting that state hotel and occupancy taxes be paid on a monthly basis like utilities rather than quarterly. Legislation was passed to implement the concept, effective Sept. 1. Projected revenue from interest during one year totals $632,500.

Fabian Kalapach, of Austin, took home $2,000 and a third place win for his idea. He suggested a way to eliminate the purchase and use of 8-foot by 16-foot trailers with air conditioning and heating to house sensitive air sampling equipment. He designed temperature control equipment which could fit into a three by two-foot shelter. The smaller shelters are less expensive to purchase, deploy and maintain. Certified savings for one year amount to $65,925.

What is a 'brush arbor'?

Bandera native Sella Lewis remembers a country revival from many years ago...

"Brush Arbor Days have changed in the last eight or more years. I remember what they were like when I was five years old. We lived in far west Bandera County near one of the biggest and oldest oak trees in Texas and the brush arbor was just across the fence from our garden. It was early July in 1912.

"The men made plans for a brush arbor protracted meeting to last about two weeks. The first job was to dig holes and set stout cedar poles about fifty yards east of the arbor. Rafter were laid to support cedar brush and other brush thick enough for shade and also protection from rain.

"Wooden benches were set up on the dirt floor. A platform was built for the piano and the pulpit. Both the piano and the pulpit were covered in canvas when not in use. The location of the arbor was about fifty yards east of the white two-story schoolhouse where there was a well.

"Preaching went on during the daytime but the crowds were larger at night because farmers and ranchers had work to do during the day. At night pallets were spread on the floor for sleepy children. Lanterns provided light. Everyone brought their own lanterns. I remember some of the families who came such as the Halights, Harpers, Ples Jones, Henry Fisher, Jim Pike, Bob Davis and Ashley Dunton to mention a few.

"There were several different pastors. I especially remember Brother Hull because it was the night that he and Mrs. Hull ate supper at our house, and in the rush to get to church on time my mother didn't wash the supper dishes but left them stacked in the dishpan on the dining room table. Later that night after the service was over and people were standing around talking, I went home. It was only around the corner from the arbor. I was thirsty and looked for a glass or a cup and couldn't find one. It was dark and I knew better than to light a kerosene lamp so I checked the dishes on the dining room table, and there on top of the dishes I went to sleep. I was not aware that I was lost, but my parents and a lot of other people were looking for me. They found me still asleep.

"I'm sure that it must have been a good sermon that night and good sermons all the other nights, but I can't remember any of them. I do remember that there were lots of times when they had dinner on the grounds, and I liked the food. I remember playing with other children and I remember the singing. I liked that. Perhaps singing in church or at a camp meeting has not changed very much in the last 80 years."

Bandera United Methodists to have revival

San Antonio area Bishop Ray Owen is special guest preacher for two-day event

Bishop Ray Owen

Bandera United Methodist Church will host "Brush Arbor Days," a two-day preaching and revival event starting Sunday, July 17 with a special consecration service.

Sunday morning's service commemorates the recently completed renovation of the church's sanctuary. Immediately after the consecration service, there will be a fellowship lunch, covered dish style.

Following an afternoon of fellowship, another service will begin Sunday at 6:30 p.m., with hymn singing and special music.

Monday evening's festivities will begin with an "Old Fashioned Ice Cream Social." More preaching will follow.

Special guest preacher for the two-day event is United Methodist Bishop Ray Owen. Bishop Ray Owen was born April 21, 1932 in McKenzie, Tennessee. He and his wife, Lavell, were married in 1962. Their son, Dana, the oldest of three children, died in a motorcycle accident in 1973. Their other sons, Darryl Ray and Dyton Lee, are both United Methodist ministers serving in the Oklahoma Conference.

A graduate of Oklahoma City University, Owen earned a master's in theology from Perkins School of Theology, SMU in Dallas, and an M.A. in Evangelism from Scarritt College in Nashville.

From 1977 until 1982, Owen was superintendent of Bartlesville District, which includes 47 churches in northeast Oklahoma. Before becoming a District Superintendent, he was pastor of churches in a variety of settings, including rural and metropolitan areas. He was founding pastor of one church, and was also pastor of a black congregation.

In 1982, as senior minister of First United Methodist Church in Bartlesville, Okla., Owen helped the 3,800-member congregation implement "Vision 2,000," a strategy for vital ministry.

He has chaired the Oklahoma Conference Board of Evangelism; the task force on the Ethnic Minority Local Church, the Joint Review Committee, and the United Methodist Child and Home Board of Trustees. In addition, he has been a trustee for Oklahoma City University, Oklahoma City United Methodist Manor, United Methodist Foundation, and United Methodist Children Youth and Family Services. He also served twice as conference missionary secretary.

He is a member of the executive committee of the World Methodist Conference, which consists of 100 persons from 68 countries, representing 93 denominations.

He was chairman of the Council's Development Committee of the Perkins School of Theology Alumni Fund for three years.

Owen was a representative to the U.M. National Council on Evangelism, 1971-77; World Methodist Council on Evangelism, Jerusalem, 1974; International Congress on World Evangelization, Lausanne, Switzerland, 1974; World Methodist Council, Dublin, Ireland, 1978; Honolulu, 1981; Nairobi, 1986; and the World Methodist Institute of Evangelism, 1985. He has toured mission work in South Africa, Kenya, Australia and Fiji.

Owen has preached numerous revivals and lectured at several universities.

Beloved Hope Academy announces deadlines

Beloved Hope Academy, in Lakehills, will order books for the fall semester on Friday, July 15. Those with children who plan to attend the non-denominational Christian school need to pay the book fees by this Friday.

The Friday day of class for Beloved Hope Academy is Thursday, Sept. 1. School bus transportation is available this year. This service will be $45 per family, per month. Those wishing to take advantage of the bus service are asked to send in a $5 commutational fee by Friday, July 15.

Beloved Hope Academy will have kindergarten this year. That space will be used for additional elementary expansion. A new additional building will be used for upper grades.

Book fees for grades 1-3 are $133.50. For grades 4-6, the book fee is $137.50. Book fees for 7-12 grade are $147.50. Tuition will be $145.00 per month for the first child in each family. Additional children in the same family may attend for $135.00 per month. A registration fee of $110.00 per child is also required. For more information, call 751-3012.

Preventing oak wilt is everybody's job, Sue Tracy says

As the patriarchal live oak trees of the Texas Hill Country continue to fall, the job of stopping oak wilt decline becomes everybody's job.

Oak wilt is a highly destructive fungal disease. It is usually fatal to susceptible trees and is spread externally through spores carried by beetles. It is also carried internally, along root connections with healthy trees.

"Red oaks," Spanish oak and blackjack, are particularly susceptible. Once infected, they almost invariably die. Additionally, red oaks play an essential role in the external spread of the disease. Live oaks are slightly more resistant; some 15 percent survive to some degree. Because of their growth pattern, with wide spreading and interconnected roots, however, live oaks are particularly vulnerable to oak wilt. White oaks (including chinquapin, post, bur, Lacey oak) are much less susceptible, though not immune.

When a tree is infected with oak wilt, the fungus rapidly disables the tree's vascular system. This prevents the tree from absorbing moisture and nutrients. Red oaks typically die within weeks of developing symptoms. Live oaks may survive for months.

The initial source of infection is fungal spores which often develop on the wood beneath the bark of red oaks recently killed by oak wilt. These spores mated attract the sap-feeding beetles believed to be the primary vector for disease transmission.

The beetles also feed on the sap of fresh tree wounds. If a beetle contaminated with oak wilt fungal spores feeds at a fresh cut on a susceptible tree, the fungus can invade that tree through the wound. Once the tree is infected, the fungus may also spread to adjacent healthy trees through root connections with the diseased tree. Vast stands of live oaks can be infected as the result of a single tree originally exposed to the disease.

In red oak trees, the tree's foliage wilts, changing overall color very rapidly. The tree may die within weeks but often retains its dead leaves for some months. Then, several months later, pressure pads may develop beneath the bark of the dead tree. These mats are covered with spores of the oak wilt fungus, the initial source of a new disease.

In live oak trees, a gradual defoliation takes place, with a progressive loss of canopy over a period of months. A further symptom is a group of dead and dying trees in varying stages of defoliation. Oak wilt infects adjacent live oaks in a widening circle. While the leaves of infected live oaks may show a number of different patterns, one leaf pattern is particularly distinctive; a characteristic brownening or yellowing along the central veins of an otherwise green leaf. The term for this symptom is "venial necrosis."

Wood cut from diseased red oaks is a potential hazard. The transportation of fire wood from diseased red oaks has been implicated in the long-distance transmission of oak wilt. Fungal spores may form on a diseased tree even after it is felled, cut into firewood and transported from the infection site. Diseased trees should be destroyed on the site.

Firewood from a diseased tree should not be used or transported until at least a year and a half after the tree has died. Avoid any pruning, except emergency pruning of oak trees, between Feb. 1 and July 1. Regardless of the season, immediately seal parts of the tree which have been pruned with pruning paint.

If oak wilt is suspected, contact the Texas Forest Service in Kerrville at 257-7744, or call the county extension agent at 796-7755.

A tree displaying symptoms of oak wilt is, for all practical purposes, lost. Aggressive action can limit future losses, especially when the disease is caught early.

The only known way to contain an oak wilt infection center in live oaks is to cut down several feet beyond the soil in a circle well through the disease perimeter. Trenching is offered to landowners by the Texas Forest Service in a cost-sharing program. Whenever possible, disposed trees within the trench should be uprooted to further disrupt root connections.

Oak trees at imminent risk of infection (apparently healthy trees too close to symptomatic oaks) should be protected by trenching. Trenching may benefit from a systemic injection procedure using ALAMO, a propiconazole-based fungicide. It is important not to treat trees prematurely, however.

The fungicide treatment may only be effective for a couple of years. Diseased Spanish or black-jack oaks should be destroyed as soon as the disease is diagnosed. Fungal spores on these diseased trees are a potential source for new outbreaks of oak wilt, putting all healthy trees within about a half-mile radius at risk.

Ideally, the dying tree should be burned or buried on site. If that is not possible, it should be deep-buried. The trunk should be chipped, chipped to the white wood as low as possible, then the tree should be left standing until the wood has dried out past the point at which spore development can be sustained.

By avoiding the pruning of oaks between Feb. 1 and July 1; painting pruning cuts or deep tree injuries; and destroying or disabling diseased red oaks immediately, oak wilt can be managed. Fire wood from an unknown source or a diseased tree should be refused.

The community of Medina has formed a committee to prevent the spread of oak wilt. They have endorsed the "Medina Community Statement of Support for Oak Wilt Prevention, and are working with the Texas Forest Service to stop oak wilt in their area.

Live oak trees, the patriarchs of the Hill Country, can be saved, but only by united community effort similar to Medina's program.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE
Be Wise and Seek God
The Lord looks down from heaven... to see if there are any who act wisely, that seek God. - Psalm 148
It might seem to many in this period when violence and corruption and evil seem to dominate the world that godliness has gone from the earth. That is not so. Godliness does not make for sensational headlines or news programs, yet those who labor for the love of their fellow man and the details they perform receive the attention they deserve - in the hearts of those who help and in the sight of God. The wise man does not show the selfish path of the children but follows the route those who do God's work. They seek God and the spirit of the Lord that will allow them to live in peace and in the holy glow of the Father. It is not always easy to detect the water course, but once chosen it will truly ease the search for God.

Snakes should be appreciated, not feared, expert says

With summer here, many people will be traveling to state parks and other parks for camping, fishing, hiking and other outdoor activities. This brings them into contact with wildlife, and most of Texas state parks are blessed with an amazing diversity of wildlife, including snakes.

Snakes have been the objects of fear and awe since ancient times. Ted Hollingsworth, a Texas Parks and Wildlife Department resource specialist from La Porte says that snakes are also among the most misunderstood animals.

"They are reptiles, meaning that they are cold-blooded, have skin covered with scales and lay eggs. Some snakes retain the eggs until they hatch, thereby giving birth to live young. But unlike mammals, the young are not connected to the mother in any way. Snakes have no legs and no ears. Hollingsworth points out that snakes are a natural and integral component of the ecosystem. "They are predators and are invaluable for their role in maintaining the balance of nature by helping to keep populations of their prey in check."

"Texas is home to 113 snake species and subspecies. Their prey consists of everything from earthworms to rabbits. Snakes are especially important in the control of rodents."

"The 15 poisonous snakes in Texas make up less than 15 percent of the total species in the state. They fall into four categories: coral snakes, copperheads, cottonmouths (water moccasins) and rattlesnakes. Like other wildlife, poisonous snakes are protected within parks. A little care can ensure that these animals pose no threat to park visitors."

"The coral snake is shy. Its brilliant colors (red, yellow, black) make it easy to recognize, though it is rarely seen in Texas. It has a small mouth and typically is non-aggressive. Its poison is a neurotoxin. It causes failure of the nervous system. If left untreated, death can result in lung or heart failure. However, coral snakes are extremely rare. Additionally, they have such small mouths that it is difficult for them to bite a human."

"The other three categories of snakes are pit-vipers. They take their name from the pit near each nostril which is highly sensitive to heat and aids the snake in locating warm-blooded prey. Their toxins are predominantly hemotoxic. They break down blood, muscle and other tissues which they may contact. The body's immune system reacts violently to the toxin and broken down tissue with accompanying pain, but Texas snakes rarely cause human death."

"Copperheads are banded in tones of gray and/or brown and blend in with the leaf-covered forest floors where they are normally found. Fortunately, Hollingsworth said, the copperhead is the least dangerous poisonous snake. Because they can be so well camouflaged, most bites occur when accidental contact is made with the snake."

"People are bitten every year when logs, board or old tin and other items are moved," he said. "Always use care when picking up or flipping over such items where copperheads occur."

"The water moccasin rarely strays far from water and is found in all of East Texas and along the coast in marshes, swamps, ponds, lakes, ditches and canals. They are stubby, muscular snakes and can grow to a little over six feet. Hollingsworth said that contrary to a persistent 'old wives tale,' water moccasins can and will bite underwater."

"These snakes can be defensive and sometimes aggressive. Swimmers, bathers and bank anglers should watch for these snakes."

Bandera Nursing Home

Jack Cain from the Bandera First Baptist Church brought the message Sunday afternoon. Other visitors were Marie Cain and Fred and Rose Freewalt.

Mary Fitzpatrick, Fannie Caffall and Annette Kathleen Schulte from St. Stanislaus Catholic church visited, prayed and sang with residents Ada Sehon, Jeanetta Adamietz, Brenda Adam, Joselyn Edwards, Ruby Hillman and Mae Eidenhink on Monday, July 4. The group missed seeing Arena Hager, who was in the hospital in Kerrville. The group wish her well.

The Melodiers from the Silver Sage Corral came for their monthly visit. Dolores Greene was the emcee, Judy Goodenough, violinist and playing the Auto Harp were Lee Yelton and Marion Bunch. Their program consisted of patriotic songs. Other Melodiers were Fannie Caffall, Floyd and Mary Portman, Helen Abricia, Mickie Causey, Bobbie Wyatt, Dolores Heeg, Lois Hayes, Bettie Suddath and febermen should watch for those snakes.

Ten species of rattlesnakes are found in Texas. This includes two species of massasauga, which have rattles but are of a different genus.

"Prevention of snake bites rarely requires more than a little common sense," Hollingsworth said. "Remember that poisonous snakes live on or near the ground and most bites occur when a snake is stepped on or otherwise trapped. Most bites occur in and around the ankle. About 99 percent of all bites occur below the knee, except for cases where a snake is accidentally picked up or fallen upon."

"The fangs of poisonous snakes, though long and sharp, are relatively fragile and easily broken, according to Hollingsworth. They rarely penetrate canvas tennis shoes and almost never penetrate leather shoes or boots. In fact, the bite of poisonous snakes is sometimes stopped by jeans or other long pants. Watching your step and wearing boots in tall grass can prevent most snake bites."

"If a person is bitten by a poisonous snake, the first rule is to stay calm and not panic. Hollingsworth said there are cases every year of people dying from a heart attack after being bitten by a harmless snake."

"Seek medical attention immediately. Put ice on the bite to slow the spread of venom, or put the whole limb into a bucket of ice water. "This is all you should do," he warned. "Do not cut into the bite to suck out the poison. You will only do additional tissue damage, which will complicate healing."

"The summer edition of the Bandera County Historian, published by the Bandera County Historical Commission, is now available."

"Extra! Extra! Getting the news in Bandera County" covers the history of publications in Bandera County from the past to the present. Carolyn B. Edwards is editor of the Historian and is the chairman of the Bandera County Historical Commission. She was helped in the paper by the Bandera Bugle; and how The Bandera Front News merged with The Dude Wrangler. Readers will be treated to a picture of Phil Hevener, editor of the Bandera Front News, and take a new look at the famous brand name "The Cowboy Capital of the World."

Let The Bible Speak

Why Did God Write A Book?

Part I

Those who believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, believe so because of the verifiable testimony found in the New Testament record. "These are written that you may believe." (John 20:31). This verse reveals just one purpose God had in giving the Bible to man. A major part of the Bible gives us testimony concerning His truthfulness by means of history, recorded scientific fact, prophecy and fulfillment, shadow and reality. Romans 10:17 states: "Faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God."

However, after one believes the testimony concerning Christ, then the Bible takes on a second purpose. The purpose then becomes one of guidance (Psalm 119:106). Assuming the faith of the reader (Hebrews 4:2), the Bible goes on to show the believers what they must do to please God (I Peter 1:5-6).

There are some so-called Christians today, however, who are turning away from this God-given guide, the Bible, to follow "spirits" (I Timothy 4:1). The Bible itself warns us of the "test the spirits" to see whether they are from God, because many false prophets (teachers) have gone out into the world (I John 4:1). Please notice that the false spirits speak through false teachers, therefore, in order to "test the spirits," we must test the teachers. This is precisely what the Church at Ephesus did in Revelation 2,2, they "...put to the test those who call themselves apostles...and found them to be false." With what did they "test" these false teachers, and can we use the same tool today to determine if a teacher is speaking for God or not?

The answer to this question introduces yet a third purpose for which God gave the Bible. God gave us the Bible to enable us to keep ourselves free from the entrapment (Colossians 2:8) by false religious leaders. Notice how the Bereans kept themselves from being deceived. They "received the word with great eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily, to see whether these things were so (Acts 17:11).

THINK ABOUT IT!

Come worship with us at 10:30 a.m. Sundays at the Church of Christ located on Highway 16 & Vanderpool Road, Medina, Texas, and let us assist you in obedience to the gospel. Write to HCR 1 Box 46, Medina, Texas 78055.

THANK YOU
The family of Dick Hinds wish to express their deep appreciation to all of our friends and family for their words of sympathy and deeds of love extended to us during our sorrow with the recent loss of our father. A special thanks comes from our hearts to all of the ladies that set up and served the buffet at the First Baptist Church of Medina. Thanks also to Larry Sheppard, Director of Grimes Funeral Chapel in Bandera for all his kindness and help in our time of need. Words can not express how much Brother Gerald Evans of Medina First Baptist Church comforted us during this time of sorrow and gave such a beautiful sermon. God Bless You All

PUBLIC NOTICE
MANY THANKS
The Irving Billings family would like to thank the community for all your prayers and comfort over the past two months while living was in the hospital and at the time of his passing. There are special thanks for the assistance of the EMS staff, the Bandera County Police Dept., Charles Gray, Larry Sheppard and Dorothy Wamack of Grimes Funeral Chapel. The funeral service would have pleased living with its simplicity and sincerity. We would like to offer a special thank you to those who served as pallbearers as honor- ary pallbearers and to Jerry Neuenchwand for singing such beautiful songs. The services were conducted by Martin S. h of the Church of Christ, he helped us spiritually the past two months and delivered an uplifting service recalling the life of our father. We would especially like to thank the friends and relatives who provided food, flowers, cards, memorial donations and visits. Your efforts and concerns have certainly helped to make a trying time a little easier.

Hidden treasure can be found at Frontier Times Museum

Photographs by Minneana James are a part of the therapy that helps her cope with rare medical condition

Many people may never have seen Minneana James, but her photography is on display this month at the Frontier Times Museum, along with water colors by Norma Jean Anderwald. Anderwald took inspiration from James' photos and used her talent as an artist to create a diversified art exhibit.

James suffers from a rare ailment which has caused her to move out away from people. Unfortunately, with Bandera growing, people follow her and she has been unable to get well. She graduated from Bandera High School in 1978 and attended Texas A&M before illness forced her to drop out. The condition is called "multiple chemical sensitivity" (MCS). When it was first discovered and named, it was called "environmental illness" because it is caused by constant exposure to chemicals in the environment. Physicians were baffled as to why the illness struck James. Then they discovered evidence that she had been born with a mid case of spina bifida, which often occurs in children when the mother has been exposed to DDT during pregnancy. James' mother, Elizabeth James, remembered that DDT had often been used to spray the sidewalks of businesses in Bandera when she was pregnant with Minneana. Her daughter was born with a weak immune system. "My immune system just never worked," Minneana explains. "I worked in a flower shop for a time. Over the years I was exposed to chemicals and they built up in my tissues. My body is like a full tea cup. It can't expel the chemicals anymore."

When tested for an allergy to DDT, James reacted to all four components in DDT. The physician said it was the worst case poison. It made James deathly ill. "It's like trying to empty out a leaky boat with a teaspoon," she laments. "Every time I move to a different place, people follow. They use insecticides. I can't seem to find a place isolated enough. I get really sick when farmers spray the cotton fields in Hondo- and that's 30 miles away. The wind carries it." James lives two miles from the highway and nearly a mile from the nearest neighbor. She says that is not enough. She has turned away from medical doctors and drugs to natural remedies. She takes a selection of Chinese herbs and sees a doctor who performs acupuncture without needles. "That sure beats what I tried before with needles," she says of the 15 years of allergy shots. She also took transfusions of white blood cells in an effort to get hers to work. "I would get to feeling better, then someone would spray something. It was like taking two steps forward, then three steps back. The first two weeks I moved out here, it was a dramatic improvement. Then someone would spray for weeds. I'm just not far enough away. I think what I need is a big pickle jar with a lid and I could just climb into it."

James is thankful she has healed me already. Enough people have been praying for enough years that He has a reason. Knowing that makes it easier for me to take."

Bandera girls' softball team sets record — Minneana

Winning three back-to-back games, they eliminated the competition

The Bandera All-Stars Past Pitch Softball Senior League pulled off a feat never seen before in Bandera Girls' softball by winning three consecutive tournament games, thus eliminating Jourdanston, Pleasanton and Hondo-D'Hanis from the finals.

Defeating Jourdanston 24-17 was assisted by Katie Jennings, Heidi Hicks, Shannon Hubbard and Shawna Nihart who combined for 14 hits. Hicks just missed hitting for the cycle with two triples, a double and a single. Nihart had six runs batted in and five runs scored.

Defensively, the big play was made when Georgina Gonzales made a diving catch to end a Jourdanston rally. Jody Hearn, first baseman, and Breanne Hicks, catcher, contributed strong efforts in the field. Katie Jennings was the winning pitcher. She pitched seven innings.

Against Pleasanton, excellent pitching with an outstanding defense helped the All-stars win 11 to 7. Bandera trailed 4 to 0 after the first inning, but rallied for six runs in the second inning, with seven walks.

Pleasanton came back with 3 in the bottom of the second, bringing the score to 7-6 Pleasanton. No runs were scored by either team in the third through sixth inning.

In Bandera's last at bat, trailing 7-6, Georgina Gonzales started the inning with a walk, followed by Keri King and Mary Domine walking to lead the bases with one out. Katie Jennings hit a shot to the short-stop who bobbled the ball, giving Bandera a 8-7 lead. The Bandera team went on to score 3 more bringing the out-count 11-7, Bandera. Bandera's defense shut-down Pleasanton's last chance at bat. Winning pitcher was Elisha Blankenship, pitching seven innings.

The third game decided the Oak and pecan pollen also makes her sneeze, but nothing makes her sneeze as much as the chemicals. Even her growing success as a photographer subjects her to the danger of illness.

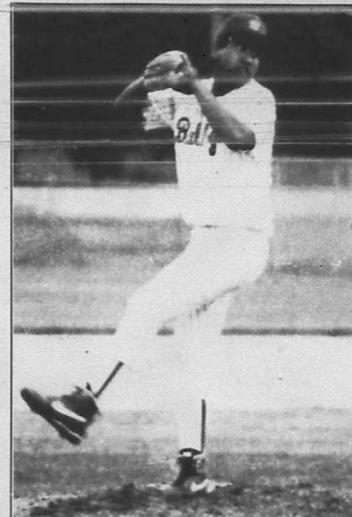

"I would love to learn to develop pictures myself. I think it would be like magic to watch the pictures develop on blank paper. But those chemicals are the worst. Once I opened a bunch of pictures right after they were developed and became deathly ill. I have to open them outside or with all the windows open."

Photography is magic to James, anyway. "You can catch a split second in a picture that lasts forever; the pose of an animal or the play of light and shadow. It's a way to capture eternity."

She was interested in photography as a child and had her first camera when she was 10. Then, she became more involved with school and other things to spend much time on her hobby. Four years ago, she remembered how she had wanted to take pictures. She bought a camera, took pictures, and

Gilbert Cardenas named to All-State baseball team

Gilbert Cardenas, a junior at Bandera High School, has been named to the 1994 Class 3A All-State baseball team. He was selected by the Texas Association of Baseball Coaches.

The 17-year-old pitcher earned a first-team selection as a pitcher. Pitching was his primary role with the Bulldogs during the 1994 baseball season. He also earned a third-team Class 3A All-State selection by the Texas Sports Writers Association as an outfielder. Cardenas said that he was proud to be chosen, but "real surprised and happy" at the selection which placed him on both

Lady Bulldog volleyball summer camp to be July 25-29 at BHS

The fourth annual Bandera volleyball camp will be held Monday through Friday, July 25 to 29 at the Bandera High School gym from 9 a.m. to noon.

Incoming girls from sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grade are eligible. The cost is $10 per camper. The following items are optional and are available at an additional charge. Summer camp 1994 T-shirts are available for $7. Kneepads are $6.50.

Camper must be covered by their family's medical insurance or the 24-hour school policy. No crop tops are allowed, and no gym shoes with black soles. Campers may bring something cool to drink and a snack for break time.

Registration, T-shirts and kneepads must be paid in advance. Monday, July 18 is the deadline for applications. Call 796-7388 for more information.

Students may attend both volleyball camp and cheerleading clinic even though the camps are running on the same days.

July 5 rodeo results

The Singleton Rodeo Company held a Cowboy Capital Rodeo on Tuesday, July 5 at Mansfield Park.

Larry Acquart took first place in bull riding and Richard Mejia took second place in bull riding. For calf roping, Jim Smith took first place and Terry Hillman took second place.

Clint Singleton placed first in break-a-way with Nikki Rainey placed second.

For barrel race, it was Nikki Rainey in first and Stephanie Byrd, second.

The Over 50 Golf Association will assemble at the Flying L Guest Ranch course here for its bi-weekly scramble scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, July 19.

Entrants will be paired into groups of four to compete in this tournament.

Contestants are required to be at the course and registered one hour prior to tee-off.

In the association's last tournament on July 7, 57 players turned out at Devine's municipal course where the team of Phil Rodriguez, Jamie King, Richard Schott and Jim Gavlick combined talents to shoot a best-ball 65 and win first prize.

That group was awarded top money by virtue of a scorecard playoff over the team of Alan Jacoby, Hooker Clayton, Maria Kreinhoff and Joe Garcia, which also carded a 65.

Murder investigation

The body of a missing 13-year-old girl from San Antonio was found in a shallow grave in the bed of Red Bluff Creek north of Buchas Road (near Bump Gate Road) on Monday. Germaine Surgeon had been killed by blunt trauma to the head and face, according to the Bandera County Sheriff's Department. At press time, a suspect was reportedly in custody in Bandera County and another suspect was reportedly in custody in Kendall County. Texas Rangers were called in to aid in the investigation.

Body of missing San Antonio girl found in Red Bluff Creek

Boerne man reportedly in custody of Bandera County law enforcement

The body of a missing 13-year-old girl from San Antonio was found in a shallow grave in the bed of Red Bluff Creek north of Buchas Road (near Bump Gate Road) on Monday. She has been identified as Germaine Surgeon, and her death is being treated as a homicide.

At press time, a 28-year-old Boerne man was reportedly in the custody of Bandera County Sheriff's Department. Another suspect, a juvenile, was reportedly in custody in Kendall County, and was being questioned by the Texas Rangers in connection with the girl's death. The Heidi Search Center had been searching for the girl since the weekend. According to reports, she was last seen in a swimming pool in Bandera County, reportedly in the company of two adult males. Her body was found in a shallow grave in the creek bed of Red Bluff Creek, approximately 300 yards north of Buchas Road near the Kendall County Sheriff's Department received a tip from two people who had apparently overheard a conversation about the girl's death. She was reported to be fully clothed.

Chief Deputy Herschel Moore said the girl's death was caused by blunt trauma to the head and face, but more charges in the case are reported to be pending, awaiting the release of additional information from the Bexar County medical examiner's office.

Evidence, including footprint impressions, was reportedly gathered at the scene on Monday and Tuesday. One source said that the girl had been reported as a runaway.

Will city join water fight?

County attorney advises, 'If you don't do anything, you won't have any water...'

Bandera County attorney Kerry Schneider attended the Monday, July 18 city council meeting along with LAMCOS (Lake Medina Conservation Society) president, Ralph Dresser. Schneider asked the City of Bandera to join with Bandera County in making an application for 5,000 acre-feet of water from Medina Lake.

Schneider said that the county is petitioning the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) and asking that 5,000 acre-feet of water now owned by Bexar-Medina-Atascosa (BMA) be canceled, due to historic non-use, and be issued to Bandera County instead.

"BMA is selling water which originates in Bandera County," Schneider told council members. "They are selling it for $12 an acre-foot for irrigation purposes. If they sell it to San Antonio for $56 an acre-foot, we're going to have a water shortage while they are selling our water."

"There is nothing reserved for Bandera County," Schneider said. "In 1910 (when BMA was granted the water rights to Medina Lake water) when water was not an issue."

Schneider warned the city, "If you don't do anything, you won't have any water."

She was questioned by newly elected city council members Jeanette Bridges and Herb Kuykendall, as to why Springhills and Water Management District "was not doing their job." She was asked by Kuykendall, "why don't we use Springhills and get them to do their job?"

Rilla Stephens addressed the council and said, "united we stand, divided we fall. Five thousand dollars is a drop in the bucket for water...if the city does nothing, it may find itself fighting alone."

Dresser said that some of the claims of legal fees for fighting BMA "don't bear fruit." He said progress is being made in the legal battle without the projected astronomical legal costs.

Mayor Robert Skinner told the council members that whether they decided to support the county in its application for 5,000 acre-feet of water or not, they would still pay for the future water needs in Bandera County "one way or the other."

He was asked by the council to set up a meeting with the city, county and Springhills representatives present so the issue could be discussed before the council makes a final decision.

'Non-existent' funds

City leaders discover park money's not all there

By Stephanie Logue
Bulletin Staff Writer

At the end of the 31-day deadline for completing the city park along the Medina River, the City of Bandera was scheduled to pay some $203,400. The actual park fund account contains $44,345.50.

Newly elected mayor Robert Skinner, and newly elected city council member, Jeanette Bridges, made the discovery following a pledge from county commissioners to help complete the road work in the park area by the Aug. 31 deadline. The City of Bandera had promised to buy materials for the road construction and to pay the wages of county workers used on the project. Skinner and Bridges suddenly realized the city would be unable to pay the money was nonexistent.

The money for the project has never existed.

Bridges handed out a copy of the Bandera City Park budget to everyone at the Monday, July 18 city council meeting after spending her own money to make the copies. She explained that while the budget had been in place over the years, actual funds to back the budget had never been in place. "If you don't have the money," Bridges said, "it's not a budget, it's a dream."

Meanwhile, unaware of the nonexistent status of funds, the newly elected mayor and city council members plunged "full-speed-ahead" into the park project, eager to complete it as they had promised voters. A bid of $59,000 was accepted for the construction of the rest room facility. A bid of $23,000 was accepted for fencing and some of the fencing material has already been delivered. There is enough money for the rest rooms and the fencing.

There is not enough for the following: $45,000 for the slabs under the picnic tables; $11,500 for 49 picnic tables and 65 grills; $2,500 for six ADA (handicap accessible) picnic tables; $5,000 for the entrance; $56,000, plus labor costs for roads. All of the above are in the park plan by Agape Engineering and had been accepted by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department with the understanding that if the City of Bandera did not install them and complete the park, they would not receive reimbursement from the $600 matching fund grant of $430,000.

When they realized that funds did not exist for the completion of the park project, Skinner and Bridges went to Austin on Friday, July 15 and met with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. They told them the truth. The city did not have, and has never had, enough money to build the city park as approved.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department appreciated their honesty and agreed to give the city the option of bringing the park up to "recreational usefulness." This means that, at least for now, concrete slabs will be eliminated from all ADA picnic table sites. The park will still have 49 picnic tables, 65 grills and six handicap accessible tables.

For now, the park will not be paved or hard-surfaced roads or parking spaces. Eliminating them will save the city approximately $56,000. The city council will continue to grade the road into. Roads and parking may be at least "graded" to the facility even though there is not enough money for paving.

Herb Kuykendall responded to Bridges' presentation by saying, "This is amazing. This is scary. We've bitten off a project we can't afford."

Bridges said the most unfortunate aspect of the fiasco was the city's loss of credibility. Public donations since the first mention of the park construction in 1987 have totaled $11,062.70. The City of Bandera has been given three extensions on the deadline for completion since October, 1992.

'Cowboy Christmas' box lunch social this Sunday

The Bandera Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Cowboy Christmas box lunch social this Sunday, July 24 under the shade trees at Hackberry Lodge beginning at noon. Everyone in the community is invited.

The purpose of the lunch social is to raise funds for community Christmas decorations.

Everyone is to bring a box lunch to feed the number of people in that particular family or party. A family of four may bring one lunch for four people or four individual lunches. Lunches do not need to be packaged in a box. They may be packed in a sack, basket or other container. However, lunches should be packed in containers which the owner does not want returned.

Each of the lunches will be auctioned off at 1 p.m. Part of the fun is buying someone else's lunch. A prize will be given for the best decorated box lunch.

The Sheriff's Posse Band and the Rhythm and Blues Dance Team will perform. There will be yard games for children of all ages. Donated items will be auctioned. The first annual Cowboy Christmas T-shirt will be available for All during that time, the money for the completion of the park has never existed.

Eighty percent of race track fees were to be allocated to the park project over a four-year period. That money, however, was used to fund two accounts, the park project and Certificates of obligation.

An ad in the Bandera Bulletin back in 1987 read: "It's almost our park." It went on to explain that the city could receive a $432,250 matching grant, with Bandera's share being $242,060. The $864,500 total project was to be covered by race track fees. In reality, the 80 percent of the race track money funneled into the park project for the past 2 1/2 years has amounted to only $45,629.88. Thus, the $203,400 needed by the city to match the grant from the state has never been more than a number in a budget that has never been more than a "dream."

Bridges told those present at the city council meeting that even though she was "the new kid on the block," nothing could be gained by pointing fingers and placing blame. She said the mayor and the council needed to accept the responsibility and work to make something good out of a bad situation.

Bandera County residents will have a park along the banks of the Medina River, Bridges said, and it will be completed by the Aug. 31, 1994 deadline. "Bandera will have a park because the city council has accepted the responsibility of making a park. It will also accept the responsibility of maintenance and making future improvements."

The following have donated items to be auctioned off at the event: Magnolia Optical, sunglasses; Hair Unlimited, certificate; Bubebe's Barbecue, barbecue brisket; Stichtin Post, lined vest; Merrilee Swinford, Gerry Sharp and Vannalee Palmer, paintings; Sylvia Saf-fel; fragrance baskets; Country Accents and Kay N' Corner, antiques; Carmilla Brown, massage certificate; Hackberry Lodge, Friday and Saturday night stay; Broken Chain Jewelry, jewelry; Love Creek Store, box apples; Gingerbread House, doll; Quality Ironworks, flag holder; Village Merchants, assorted items; and a baby pot belly pig.

The auctioneer will be Jay Revels.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry will be the keynote speaker at the Seventh Annual Texas International Apple Festival, Saturday, July 30 from 9 a.m. until dark at the apple festival grounds in Medina. For more about the event, please turn to Page 7.

Looking Back

in Bandera County

Bandera County has seen its share of tragedy

In the 50-year history of the Bandera Bulletin, Bandera County has seen a great deal of tragedy.

Oct. 10, 1945: Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Callahan were asphyxiated by carbon monoxide.

Nov. 23, 1945: Dan Posey, of Center Point, was killed when his tractor turned over, pinning him, and caught on fire.

Feb. 7, 1947: Francis Goodrick Jackson, 40, was killed instantly when several sticks of dynamite stored in a workshop at Medina Ranch exploded.

Oct. 10, 1947: "Little Girl Chokes On Toy Balloon"

Feb. 4, 1949: "Horse on Highway Causes Wreck", three people seriously injured.

April 29, 1949: Joe Perayn, 40, of San Antonio, was crushed to death early Tuesday by a large rock under which a San Antonio fishing party had taken refuge at Mormon Bluff, Medina Lake. It was believed that continued rainfall had loosened the rock.

Feb. 17, 1950: "Seven Wrecks Kill One and Injure Three Last Saturday Night"

May 21, 1950: Earl "Curly" Mathews is being held on the charge of murdering his 3 1/2-year-old stepson. Mathews admitted that he beat him to death with his fists. The jury sentenced him to 50 years.

March 27, 1953: Ewel E. Wyatt was crushed to death under a tractor. While he was plowing, the tractor went over a 15 foot ravine, pinning him underneath, and caught on fire.

May 8, 1953: "Highway Accidents Killed Two and Sent Four to the Hospital During the Weekend"

Dec. 4, 1953: Edwin Schoenert was killed in an accident on the Short Ranch when a high embankment caved in and covered him with tons of rock and gravel.

March 18, 1955: Joe Villaman, Pipe Creek, fell from a 15 foot bluff and was killed.

March 25, 1955: One child was killed and one burned seriously when they were left outside the Hatfield Store in Medina and a fire, of unknown origin, engulfed the car.

July 8, 1956: "The Deadly 22 Target Gun Claims Another Boy Victim"

July 11, 1958: "Holiday Fishing Trip Ends In Sorrow", over the 4th of July, Penny Louis Nelson, of Kerrville, was one of two men found drowned near their trout line in Junction. Nelson is the dad of Mrs. Melvin King and Mrs. G.T. Sandidge, Jr. of Bandera.

Feb. 6, 1959: "Plane Crash Near Comfort: Kills Three, Injures 25", a commercial DC-8, one of the worst crashes ever in the Hill Country.

July 17, 1959: B.T. Willey, 42, died from head injuries after being thrown from a horse.

April 24, 1964: Wenceslao Esquivel, an 80-year-old Mexican National, was killed by a hit and run driver on 11th Street and Cypress.

Nov. 6, 1964: "Dixie Dude Ranch Destroyed By Fire", two small boys killed.

June 13, 1969: "Plane Lost 11 Months Found Near Medina", along with two bodies.

Sept. 6, 1969: "High School Poisoned In Cemetery", a 17-year-old is found by the grave of his high school sweetheart, had taken strychnine.

April 21, 1967: "A four-year-old Pipe Creek child was electrocuted when standing on wet ground, after touching the side of a metal trailer."

Sept. 1, 1967: "A badly decomposed human head was found on the Kaiser Ranch near Tarpley. The skull had a hole in it."

July 15, 1968: An argument which began in the Silver Dollar ended in death for one and critical injuries for the other. The shooting took place on Main Street in front of the Silver Dollar. Both men involved were from Center Point.

Feb. 16, 1973: A woman digging arrow heads near Tarpley died when a stone rolled on her.

May 21, 1971: "Wreck Claims 5 Lives, Injures Five" in a two-car crash at Ranger Crossing.

Dec. 19, 1975: "15-year-old Loss Life In Crash", was driving at excessive speed without headlights and plowed into the tree in the middle of Cherry Street.

March 7, 1974: A young boy was riding a motor bike near Bandera when he ran into a wife strung across the road and was killed.

March 1, 1974: Frank Laskowski, of Frank's Electric, was killed when his pickup hit a tree and burst into flames. It was towed to Clint Dowell Chevrolet where a knife on him, then grabbed his gun. The gun fired.

May 30, 1975: "Lakehills Shooting Verdict is Pending", Robin Walker, 29, of Lakehills died after he was shot by a Deputy Sheriff. The deputy said Walker pulled a knife on him, then grabbed his gun. The gun fired.

April 24, 1975: "Three Seniors Die in Fiery Collision", Steve Eden, Terry Wheelis, Kevin Degegar.

June 2, 1978: "Family Dispute Leads to Shooting", home set on fire.

Sept. 18, 1980: "High School Students Plagued With Traffic Accidents"

June 27, 1985: Judy Ann Pina, 22, and Michele Tadlock, 25, were killed as they walked along Highway 173. A two-year-old daughter, Sammie Joe, received minor injuries. The 17-year-old driver was found to be intoxicated.

Feb. 27, 1986: "Accident Kills Teen-ager, Injures Five Others", Michele Dawn Williams, 14, and Shannon Willoughby, 13, both died following that accident.

Feb. 9, 1989: Jerry and Evelyn Maltzberger, grandson Timothy Andreas and Dunn Evans were killed in a three-car crash near Privilege Creek, in what has been called the "worst traffic accident of the decade."

Oct. 13, 1988: "Freak Accident Kills Mico Para-Sailer", David Robert Mangold, 35, became entangled in a tow rope at Medina Lake.

Feb. 15, 1990: "Early Morning Blaze here Kills Woman", Barbara Jean Chestnut, 22, of Pipe Creek.

May 1, 1991: Michael A. Laskowski, 29, was killed by a falling tree.

A Thought For The Week
by John M. Grimes

Thomas Edison once said that 75% of the world's failures wouldn't have failed at all if only they'd kept at what they were trying to do. "Our greatest weakness," he said, "lies in giving up. The most certain way to succeed is always to try just one more time."

This thought reminds us of a boy named Sparky. He had a difficult time in school. He flunked many subjects. Athletically and socially, Sparky was a loser. The only thing he enjoyed was drawing, but he was a failure at that too. He submitted cartoons to the editors of his class yearbook and they were rejected. He applied for a job with Disney and was rejected.

Sparky did not give up... He decided to write his autobiography in cartoons. He described the loser he was as a child, the rejections he constantly received, his underachievement in every area of his life. Finally, he got someone to look at his cartoons. They liked them. His cartoons now appear in newspapers every day, all over the world. The title of his cartoon strip is "Peanuts". The chronic loser who persevered until he became a winner is Charles Schultz.

Bo's Riding Club has Sunday playdays

Bo's Riding Club was organized this spring and is family oriented. It is based on the former Bo's Rodeo Arena south of Bandera and holds playdays every second Sunday afternoon.

Competitors are divided into groups according to age and ability, this eliminates allowing the same competitors to win each time, discouraging novices. There is a difference between a child who crawled out of the cradle and into a saddle and one who is just learning to ride and compete.

The relaxed atmosphere of the playdays is also useful to those who are training green horses. It helps them get used to the many distractions young horses find away from home.

The playday begins with a halter or showmanship class and two pleasure events. Then there are three speed events. Playdays wind up with open novelty events.

Judges have given pointers and advice and encouraged the competitors. Members of Bo's Riding Club appreciate Marilyn Stone; Lee Hassell; Ann Leonard; Carol Rambo; and Lori Graham for their judging.

There are five playdays and an open horse show left on the season's agenda. Points for each competitor are accumulated throughout the season.

Council confronts police chief: PI vs. DWI

Councilwoman Bridges pushes for traffic offense clarification

Jeannette Bridges questioned Bandera police chief Walter Welch during the Monday, July 18 city council meeting. She asked Welch if he understood the difference between an arrest for public intoxication (PI) and driving while intoxicated (DWI).

Welch replied that his police officers work "at their discretion."

Bridges read definitions of both to him out of the penal code. "What is the main difference in the wording?" she asked. When Welch failed to answer, Bridges replied that a public intoxication applies in a public place when the person is intoxicated to the degree that he may endanger another person, but that no vehicle is involved.

Driving While Intoxicated, she pointed out, occurs anytime a person operates a vehicle while intoxicated. She read some 20 arrest records where the person in question was arrested for PI even though operating a motor vehicle. The arresting officers' own accounts included: "he was so drunk he could hardly stand up"; a subject admitting, when asked to take a field sobriety test, "I'm so drunk I couldn't pass anything"; and accounts of subjects with poor balance, slurred speech and those who "almost fall out of their vehicles when they were stopped."

Bandera Nursing Home

Mada Wadsworth

First off, I have to apologize to Dan Keen for the typo error in his name last week. It said Dan Reese was the parade announcer, when actually Dan Reese was one of the judges. So, thanks to Dan Keen for doing the great job of announcing the Frontier Day Parade!

And thanks to Rodio Chevrolet for sponsoring the Youth Rodeo results. I especially liked the event, "Pee Wee Goat Hair Pulling". Gotta go see that one! Remember the famous "Cowboy Wall of Honor" in Ye Olde Bandera General Store? Not only did it have over a thousand signatures like Larry Mahan, Mad Tullia, Ace Reid and more, it had a section for the youth of Bandera, too. From Pee Wee on up, and when they'd win something big, they'd come in and add it to their name. It was a neat record for them to have.

And speaking of the youth. How about our girls softball team setting a record by winning 3 consecutive tournament games. I used to dread the days we played softball in school, cause all those whippy girls couldn't hit, couldn't pitch, and definitely couldn't run! I think I'd like this team!

The school has hired Brad Flink, who is an architect turned contractor turned teacher to teach the new "Building Trades" Classes. He will take between 10 and 15 students, 3 hours each morning for the semester and they'll learn "hands on", carpentry, drafting, construction, plumbing, electrical, dry wall, etc. Enough to get them started in the building trades business. Brad says he also wants them to interview business owners of all kinds through out the community, to broaden their ideas of how to get along in this world. His idea is to turn out trained craftsmen that contractors will be happy to hire. Like Telvy Robbins turns out students who can run a ranch or build a car, etc.

We say this month art exhibit at the Frontier Times Museum and it is a "Wow!" (Not Woodmen of the World!) Norma Jean Anderwald and Minnessa James have collaborated on this show with photos and watercolors. Well worth seeing and as we were wandering around, we ran into Louise Nowlin (who is always so gracious), she started thinking back and declared it'd been 50 years since she'd been to the museum! She was enjoying the changes and remarkable collection...and the memories.

Remember...The Apple Festival is coming up on the 30th, and all you great cooks, get your "apple pie" or "something apple" in for the judging. Yum! Yum! In keeping with the Bulletin's 50 years, Speedy Hicks told me a story of his rodeo days. There was a rodeo in Castroville, so he saddled up his cayuse, started off at 4 A.M., rode all the way to Castroville, roped and won, and then rode all the way home that night 'cause he had ranch chores that next morning. One time, Ballan, Scooter Fries and Speedy were all discussing the finer points of a green broke horse that Scooter was on, when suddenly, Speedy took his hat and threw it under the horse's legs. That horse took off, bucking and snorting and Scooter was hard put to stay aboard. Well, Speedy laughed and laughed. Ballan got upset with Speedy because of the "mean trick", but then, someone explained that that was the way the "old" cowboys played. "And that's the way it was, folks" in the older days.

Things keep changing all over Bandera. Frank Santos bought Western Auto's tire equipment and has opened the Bandera Tire Shop on Main Street. His grand opening is Thursday at 9 A.M. Stop in and meet one of the nicest guys in Bandera, I know. He was my neighbor for 10 years!

Rev. Vallesia Seilheimer from the First United Methodist Church of Bandera used for her text Sunday Isaiah 40:18. Judy Goodenough was the pianist. Dorothy Callahan, Mary Fitzpatrick, Aggie Batto, Fannie Gaffall and Annette Kalka Schulte from St. Stanislaus Catholic Church visited, prayed and sang with residents Arena Hager, Ada Seebon, Jeanetta Adamzink, Brenda Adam, Mae Eidenshink and Ruby Hellman Monday evening. They said it was nice to see Arena Hager back after a stay in the hospital.

Johnny Johnson came by Wednesday morning played the Omnichord and sang for the residents. Virginia came with him and enjoyed visiting with the residents, especially Jack Holloway and Frieda Moseley who have been residents for 20 years.

Lum and Lillian Holloway from San Antonio came by Friday morning and took his brother Jack Holloway out for lunch. Rev. Michael McManus from St. Stanislaus came Friday morning and gave communion to members of the church and Church of Bandera used for her text Sunday Isaiah 40:18. Judy Goodenough was the pianist.

Martinez completes basic training

Navy Airman recruit Michael A. Martinez has completed basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill. He is the son of Lupe and Elias V. Duarte of Bandera.

Martinez is a 1993 graduate of Bandera High School. During basic training, he learned general military subjects, designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 occupational fields.

Studies included: seamanship, close-order drill, naval history, and first aid.

Seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival will include sand volleyball, United Fiddlers and more

Bill Mallory, as "Johnny Applesseed," returns to the apple festival.

The seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival will be held on Saturday, July 30 from 9 a.m. until dark at the Apple Festival Grounds in Medina.

Sand volleyball teams are being sought to compete in the tournament. Winners this year will receive a championship T-shirt proclaiming them as "champs." To enter, bring yourself and five of your best volleyball playing friends to the festival. Registration begins at 9 a.m. and the first game will begin at around 10 a.m. For more information, call (210) 589-7224.

Again this year, the Bandera County Quilt Guild will host a quilt show. It is one of the only shows in Texas to offer cash prizes for winning entries. Categories include pieced/quilted; appliqued; or a combination of both. For more information, call (210) 249-4787, or (210) 460-7313.

The Star Canyon Band of San Angelo will return to Medina for the apple festival this year.

The United Fiddlers, organized in 1975 to "preserve and promote old time fiddle music," will be a highlight of the Texas International Apple Festival.

Fred Collins will demonstrate apple shingle making. Food booths will range from sausage on a stick and caramel apples to fajitas, goritos, funnel cakes, shrimp on a stick, and blasoming onions. Apple fritters, apple pie and spiced apple ice cream will also be available.

The best apple and best apple pie contests will be held. Michael Phipps will have pictures and snakes. Balloon shaving, apple hobbing and special Olympics are just a few of the many entertaining events. Armadillo races will be held and a children's petting zoo is provided.

A dance will be held on the Friday night before the apple festival. It will be on July 29. Admission is $5 for adults.

Everyone is invited to the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival on Saturday, July 30.

Music by Scott Hofmann and Southern Image will be featured at the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival Kick-Off Dance on Friday, July 29 starting at 8 p.m. The group performs a wide array of music, ranging from western swing, country, pop and original tunes.

Admission is $5 per adult and $3 for children 12 and under. Prior to the dance, a Hill Country Barbecue will begin at 5 p.m., with plates $5 for adults and $3 for children. Proceeds from the barbecue will go to the Medina Band Boosters Club.

Your Basic Bandera

Perdy
Tobin

If you were listening to local talk shows these past days, you know that even the super-sophisticated horror drama of the O. J. Simpson case was drowned out by frantic discussions and denunciations of a tiny little bird being considered for designation as nesting even more intensive care by the federal government's Fish and Wildlife Service than it already is accorded.

All the politicians from the usually mild-mannered Congressman Lamar Smith to the plain-spoken Mix Ann herself in Austin have entered a bipartisan effort to insure the sanctity of our private lands.

All of a sudden, the golden-cheeked warbler, a reclusive denizen of the deep oak and juniper canyons are the Balcones, is the flash point of controversy over what most people see as a struggle by the feds to gain control of private property.

At this point, we do not wish to get into the politics of the situation. We see both sides, as usual. We do not want to be dictated to as to what is to be done with our own land. On the other hand, nobody on any common sense should see Smith and the gain in clearing some of the steep slopes of the typical hill country vegetation. Grass grows in such places only after many years. Erosion of what little soil exists there sets in immediately. The goats can't eat bare caliche and crumbling limestone ledges.

Uh-oh, we almost got into the argument there. We really want to talk about the golden cheek itself. Have you ever seen one? Like the hundreds if not thousands of people come to the Sabinal and the Frio every year from all over the world looking for the little critter. Only occasionally do they find it.

In the company of the Baylors birds, we saw one once in Lost Maples State Natural Area, thanks to the tutored eye of ornithologist June Osborne. June spotted the tell-tale nest, a cup woven of long strands of ashe yucca bark. She set up her tripod scope, and twenty or thirty of us took turns looking at Mrs. Golden Cheek sitting calmly on her eggs.

Realizing that we didn't know much about the bird, we consulted the big paper back book "The Birds of Texas" by John L. Tverden of Baytown, published last year in Fredericksburg by Shearer Publishing Co. Here's some of what the entry on golden cheeks says:

The estimated 7,500 pairs of golden cheeks present in the Edwards Plateau country in 1970 is thought to have shrunk in twenty years to 1,500, largely due to loss of habitat. Tverden blames "commercial development", which we think must mean the cedar oil industry which has claimed thousands of acres of mature juniper west of here.

The golden cheek is the only bird which nests exclusively in such a small area of the United States, having somehow evolved a compulsion to build her nest only of the long strips of bark from the ash juniper. No other bird species of juniper suits her. And she must have a diversity of trees, shrubs, grasses, and flowers from which to obtain her food which consists exclusively of caterpillars and other insects.

In other words, she needs a shady, well-watered canyon remote from the flat pastures and prairie tops where if you're really lucky, or have gas wells in West Texas, you might possibly make a go of ranching in our area.

Chickadees are the only such well-watered canyon on your place, you're already taking care of it for its beauty, for hunting, and because it is just wonderful.

The majestic old cedars, the red old oaks and pecans, the possible maple or linden trees are marvelous in themselves. If they have attracted a nesting pair of warblers, so much "marvelous-er" is your little piece of hill country heaven.

Obituaries

Roland Thalman

Roland N. Thalman, 87, a life-long resident of Bandera County died in Kerrville on July 14. He was the fourth generation of a pioneer family in Bandera County and had been a rancher, builder and furniture maker.

Survivors include a step-daughter Mrs. R.L. Billie Davenport, father of Medina; a grandson, Clay Walker of Lakehill; and a sister, Cleo Evans of Granite Shoals. He was preceded in death by his wife, Nora Rosa Thalman.

Funeral services were held at Bandera United Methodist Church on July 16, with Rev. Valérie Selheimer officiating. Pallbearers were: Ray LeSueur, Jack Tripp, Conrad Nightingale, Sully Woodlan, Melvin King and Bill Brient. Burial was in Bandera Cemetery. Memorials may be made to Bandera United Methodist Church.

Betty Hickman

Betty Hickman, 78, of Houston died July 11 in Vencor Hospital, Houston, Texas. She was born March 31, 1916 in Kansas City, Kansas and lived in the Woodlands, Texas before going to Houston, and was a member of Mt. Zion Church, Pipe Creek.

Survivors include a son, Roy Hugh Hickman of Houston; two sisters, Ruth Holliday of Lakehill and Helen Donaghe of Houston; a brother, Bob Verner of Ft. Worth and one grandchild. Graveside services were Wednesday, July 13 at 4 p.m. at Pipe Creek Cemetery with Rev.

Shannon Patrick, Kathryn Miller, and Tara Miller attended a state clothing workshop at the 4-H center in Brownwood on July 8 through 10. While the adults learned how to tat, the girls learned how to design formal clothing; make accessories and clay jewelry; how to move darts; and how to make scrunchies. Hats were also made for children who are cancer patients at M.D. Anderson Hospital and St. Jude's. The hat construction was a community service project.

Let The Bible Speak

Why Did God Write A Book? Part 2

God gave us the Bible to enable us to keep ourselves free from entrapment (Colossians 2:8) by false religious leaders. Notice how the Boreans kept themselves from being deceived. They "...received the word with great eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily, to see whether these things were so" (Acts 17:11). The Bible warns "...if the blind lead the blind, BOTH will fall into the ditch." (Matthew 15:14) In order for us not to be led into the "ditch" of spiritual destruction (II Peter 3:16) along with a false teacher, God gave us "sight" in the form of His Word (II Corinthians 4:2-6). Into the darkness of our ignorance came the light of God's revelation, the Bible. "...The light is come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for their deeds were evil. For everyone who does evil hates the light, and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But he who practices the truth comes to the light, that his deeds may be manifested as having been wrought in God." (John 3:19-21) This "light" exposed men's deeds as either being obedient or disobedient. This task is accomplished by the Word of God (II Timothy 3:16-17). When Jesus promised the Holy Spirit to His apostles, He said, "But when He, the Spirit of truth comes, He will guide you into ALL the truth (John 16:13)." Some today question whether this happened or not. Did the promise of Jesus come to fruition or not? Was ALL truth delivered, as Jesus promised, or was Jesus a false prophet? No, friends, Jesus was not a false prophet. ALL "truth" was delivered to them and to us in the form of the New Testament. "...The word is truth" (John 17:17). The Word of God has been completely delivered (I Corinthians 13:9-10) - to equip us to "EVERY good work" (II Timothy 3:17).

The word of God is so complete in equipping us with the knowledge we need to combat deception that it warns "...though we, or an angel from heaven, should preach to you a gospel."

A total of 10 youth from Bandera County have been awarded Optimist scholarships to the YMCA's summer program. The Hamman Ranch program includes hiking; games; canoeing; horseback riding; repelling; swimming; riflery; and other activities. Locally, $7,000 has been raised by the YMCA for the scholarship program by selling pipe, cattle and accepting donations. By the end of the summer, a total of 20 local youth and 30 Houston youth will have attended camp on scholarships, according to camp director, Neil Rosenbaum. A "celebrity's child" is attending this week, the son of KOMO's night D.J., "Ducky". Rosenbaum says that by the end of the summer, over 330 youth will have attended camp at the Bandera YMCA. "We are always willing to accept donations of money, equipment or animals for the ranch", he said. "Gifts are tax deductible." For more information, call 796-7448. Local youth attending on scholarships this week are: Robert Townsend; Simon Ybarra; Cassandra Reser; Cheri Aamott; Holly Burrow; and Kathryn Miller.

American Legion will install 1995 officers at July 21 meeting

Bandera American Legion Post 157 elected officers for 1995, at their June 16 general meeting. Henry Cruz was elected commander.

Other officers for 1995 are: Domingo Garcia, vice commander; Bob Turner, second vice commander; John Wheeler, adjutant; Mary Wheeler, finance officer; Bill Bryce, service officer; Bill Neff, judge advocate; chaplain, Bob Turner; Sgt-at-arms, Richard Lee; historian, Henry Cruz.

Auxiliary unit members elected to office were: Carolyn Pusch, president; Rose Kirby, vice president; Dorothy Callahan, second vice president; Lupi Cruz, secretary-treasurer; chaplain, Muriel Stranger; historian, Nell Smith; Sgt-at-arms, Lou Sheehan; asst. Sgt-at-arms, Myra Thamm.

These officers will be installed at the July 21 general meeting.

Fire prevention advice from the MLVFD

The Medina Lake Volunteer Fire Department has sent out a quarterly news brief on fire prevention. The brief explains that several fires over the last few months could have been prevented by exercising the following precautions.

Never use gasoline to clean out greasy auto parts. Gasoline vapors are explosive and travel along the ground. This can cause fire and/or explosion even when no ignition source is close to the gasoline being used.

Never go away and leave a brush pile burning. It will only smolder for 48 hours, or so, then it will blaze up into a fire which endangers structures.

Keep weeds and grass from growing under mobile homes. The bottom of a mobile home is a thin layer of tar paper and ignites easily. Worse, it spreads the fire up underneath the entire length of the structure.

Keep chimneys clean and install fire pipes correctly. Even with a chimney around the stove pipe, heat can still ignite the

BCCF meets to discuss youth center plans

The Bandera County Christian Fellowship held their monthly meeting on July 13 at Camino Nuevo Church to discuss a proposed youth center for Bandera. This center will be built on the site of the old tennis courts at Bandera Middle School.

Bandera County Christian Fellowship consists of most pastors, priests, readers and lay people from area churches who are interested in the betterment of the Christian concept in the community.

Contacts are being made with all civic organizations to see what kind of input they have for the youth center project.

Discussion was also held about the July 26 meeting which will be held at St. Stanislaus Hall for the Christian youth group. All teenagers, youth volunteers, parents and pastors who are interested in forming this association are "warmly welcome to attend", says Father "Mike" McManus. "It's an exciting idea and one that can be of great benefit to our teenagers."

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m.

Children's health care needs are staggering in Texas

Unemployment, poverty and dysfunctional families are factors for many of the health problems Texas children are facing, according to an article published in a special June issue of Texas Medicine focusing on children's health.

Because Texas is such a diverse state the authors of the article claim no single solution will address the problems associated with access to health care.

The article was written by Dr. P. Cliff Price, Dr. Rebecca Kirland and Dr. Aaron L. Kreidler. The special issue on children's health features a cover story on school-based clinics in Texas and also includes articles on special health care needs, financing health services, infectious diseases, neonatology and non-traditional solutions to health problems.

"Fundamental problems must be dealt with in the context of the cultural and logistic diversity of the area to be served," the authors write. "A healthy, well-nourished and emotionally stable child is more likely to be a receptive student and productive citizen."

The children's future "health home", whether in the private or public setting, must meet the extended basic health-care needs of families and their children, the authors said.

"In addition to meeting traditional needs such as treat-

VBS continues at area churches

July 29 from 9 a.m. until noon. A closing program will be held on Friday, July 29 at 7:30 p.m. Children from age two up through high school are invited. The theme for Hill Country Chapel's VBS is "Son Country Farm: Growing up Kids God's Way." It emphasizes the fruit of the Spirit, love, joy, peace, patience and kindness. Grammy Gram and a country child and a city child will present skits on "Son Country Farm," a fun place where kids can grow God's way. The teaching objective is to plant seeds in the children's hearts which will grow into Christ-like qualities and a love for Him. There will also be a mission study. Lively songs, Bible lessons, crafts, and snacks will be a part of each day's activities. Decorated cards, made by the children at VBS will be sent to an orphanage in Mexico as a part of the mission study project. For more information, call 510-4268.

Chasing bubbles and "sending them up to Jesus" was just one activity for youngsters at the St. Stanislaus Catholic Church vacation Bible school.

The Pipe Creek Baptist Church is holding vacation Bible school this week. Classes are for children from all ages, up through the sixth grade. The theme is "Trail of Treasures." Bible lessons, recreation, crafts and refreshments (including snow cones) will all be a part of the week's activities.

First Baptist Church of Bandera is also holding vacation Bible school this week from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. "Trail of Treasures" is the theme for this VBS, which is for children from three years old up through high school. Singing, crafts, recreation and Bible study will be featured.

Walker Memorial Chapel joins the vacation Bible school crowd this week. The time for their VBS is from 6:15 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. It is for children from four years of age to high school. Songs, Bible stories, arts and crafts, recreation, and snacks will be included. For more information, call 460-3327.

Hill Country Chapel will hold vacation Bible school from Monday, July 25 through Fri-

San Antonio-area Bishop Ray Owen, Kerrville District Superintendent Jon Lowry and former Bandera pastors were among the honored guests participating in a consecration service at Bandera United Methodist Church on Sunday, July 17. The newly remodeled sanctuary at the church was consecrated. From left, participating pastors included the Revs. David Sellheimer, J. Wesley Jones, John Gibbs, Bishop Owen, Jon Lowry, John Platt, Valillea Sellheimer and Bob Scott.

American Legion Auxiliary to install 1995 officers in July 28 ceremony

The Lakshills American Legion and Auxiliary will install officers for the 1994-95 year on Thursday, July 28.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. the installation ceremonies begin at 8 p.m. Past commander Gene Laue will install Tom Kruse as commander; Tom Kruse as commander; Tom Kruse and Barry Ramey, vice commander; Ben Hicks, adjutant; Don Barbaric, finance; Glen Odum, chaplain; Ralph Willis, Sgt. at Arms; Ray White, historian; Waldo Blanke, service officer; and Harold Stein, judge advocate. Past Auxiliary president Eleanor Laue will install Clare Willis as Auxiliary president; Liz White, vice president;

Estella Hicks, secretary; Ruth Tschirhart, treasurer; Odessa Roach, chaplain; Sue Kruse, Sgt. at arms; and Dorothy Webber, Historian. The evening will conclude with a candlelight memorial service to honor deceased members. Awards will be presented to individuals for outstanding service. Guests are welcome to attend.

Medina Band Boosters schedule barbecue

The Medina Band Boosters will hold a barbecue on Friday, July 29 beginning at 5 p.m. on the Apple Festival Grounds in Medina.

Live music will be provided by the Hilltoppers. The menu includes barbecue; potato salad; beans; onions and pickles; bread; tea and dessert. Money raised will be used to purchase new band uniforms. Adult plates will be $6. Children's plates will be $3. For more information, call 589-2637, or 589-2570.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE
 Jesus' Greatest Commandment
 "A new commitment I give to you, that you love one another even as I have loved you."
 — John 13:34

What greater commitment could Jesus have given His followers and those who believe in Him than that single, most simple of things which we all have to give, love? Love is an emotion that begins in all of us as babies with our mother and continues throughout our relationships with family and friends. It is sometimes hard to extend our love to someone who has betrayed us or abused our love. Yet it is within us to do so if we heed Jesus' words. Perhaps the more difficult it is to offer our love, the more rewarding will be our inner peace and sense of following the Christian ideal.

Local students make Schreiner honors
Bandera area residents were recently named to Schreiner College's President's and Honors List for the Spring 1994 semester.
Laurie Davis, a Pipe Creek resident, was included on the President's List which requires full-time students to earn a minimum 3.6 grade point average on a 4.0 scale. Davis graduated Cum Laude with a bachelor of arts degree in English.
Jennifer Craven and Tandler Clements, Bandera residents, achieved the Honors List which requires full-time students to earn a minimum 3.0 grade point average on a 4.0 scale. Craven graduated Cum Laude with a bachelor of arts degree in business. Clements, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clements, is a freshman office technology major.
Registration for the 1994 Fall term is Aug. 30, with classes beginning Aug. 31. For more registration information, contact the Admissions Office at 210-896-5411, extension 225.

Bandera First Ladies enjoyed two recent 'show' outings
Over 50 First Ladies and their guests went to the Alamodome in late June to see the 1994 Tour of World Figure Skating Champions, where they saw an impressive array of performers including Nancy Kerrigan, Brian Boitano, Oksana Baiul, Viktor Petrenko, Elvis Stojko, Lu Chen, and many other champion skaters.
Then on Sunday, July 17, some 44 First Ladies and their guests traveled to Uvalde where they saw Neil Simon's "Rumors" at the Uvalde Grand Opera House. Everyone appreciated the beauty of the Opera House and enjoyed the comedy.
Bandera First Ladies is a program created and offered exclusively by First State Bank of Bandera and Lakehills.

For the first time ever, the Bandera All Stars fast pitch softball, senior league, won four games in a row and advanced to the district championship. Pictured here are: coach, Bobby Clark; driver, Sandy Haarn; Keri King; Shawna Nihart; Susie Rossow; Heidi Hicks; Breanne Hicks; Jody Haarn; Katie Jennings; manager, Rand Hicks; (seated) Mary Dobbins; Shannan Hubbard; Georgina Gonzales; Carlee Robins; and assistant coach Preston Jennings. Not pictured are Elisha Blankenship and assistant coach Jason Haarn.

Two Bandera students have qualified for the USA Track and Field Junior Olympics (a national competition) in Gainesville, Fla. on July 30. At left, Shandra Zickler, is a triple jump qualifier in youth girls division. She will be in the eighth grade at Bandera Middle School this year. She is the daughter of Russell and Karen Zickler of Bandera. Clifton Tierney, the son of Larry and Carrie Tierney of Pipe Creek, will run the 3000 meter event. He will also compete in Melbourne, Fla. at the AAV National Junior Olympics on Aug. 3 in 3000 meter and on Aug. 5 in the 1500 meter event. He will be in the seventh grade this year.

Lady Bulldog volleyball summer camp next week

The fourth annual Bandera volleyball camp will be held Monday through Friday, July 25 to 29 at the Bandera High School gym from 9 a.m. to noon.

Incoming girls from sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grade are eligible. The cost is $10 per camper. The following items are optional and are available at an additional charge. Summer camp 1994 T-shirts are available for $7. Kneepads are $6.50.

Camper must be covered by their family's medical insurance or the 24-hour school policy. No crop tops are allowed, and no gym shoes with black soles. Campers may bring something cool to drink and a snack for break time.

Registration, T-shirts and kneepads must be paid in advance. Monday, July 18 is the deadline for applications. Call 796-7388 for more information.

Volleyball coach Eileen McDonald says that students may attend both volleyball camp and cheerleading clinic even though the camps are running on the same days.

Rodeo queen contest
deadline is Friday

Applications for 1994-95 rodeo queen are being accepted by the Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association and must be in by Friday, July 22. The contest will be held on Aug. 7 at the Mansfield Park Rodeo Arena.

Age divisions will be for ages 13 through 17, and 18 through 24. Contestants must live within approximately a 100-mile radius of Bandera. They must be proficient in horsemanship, possess communication skills and be able to coordinate and wear western attire appropriately.

As rodeo queen, the winner will preside over the 1994 Labor Day Weekend Rodeo. It will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2 through 4 at Mansfield Park. She will also be expected to represent the CCRA at other events such as parades and other rodeos.

Another murder investigation

News teams from KENS and KSAT made a second trip to Bandera last week in an attempt to cover the second murder in Bandera County in less than a week. Warren Edward Long, 71, was shot to death at the Long ranch on Thursday, July 21. The investigation into his death continues this week. Chief deputy Herschel Moore said there is no firm suspect in the case yet but that the Sheriff's Department is looking at several possible suspects. Long was murdered just three days after the body of Germaine Surgeon, 13, of San Antonio, was located in the Pipe Creek area. David Womack, 29, of Boerne was arrested in that incident on July 18 and charged with abuse of a corpse. He was later charged with Surgeon's murder. For more, please turn to Page 3.

Box lunch social draws crowd, raises big bucks for Christmas

Proceeds from the event will help decorate for "Cowboy Christmas"

Between 75 and 100 people attended the Sunday, July 23 box lunch social on the grounds of the historic Hackberry Lodge. A total of $2,265 was raised to purchase Christmas decorations for Main Street.

Beautiful baskets filled with "delicious food" were auctioned. Examples include: a Dutch theme; sunflower themes; a Cajun food basket; an antique picnic tin; Cornish hens and dressing; and decorative gift bags.

First prize winner was a Texas theme which served five. It was brought by the Ralph Stricker family. The prize awarded was a ceramic serving dish from the Gingerbread House.

Scott Zirkel, the winner of the T-shirt design contest, was given his prize of $25 and a T-shirt. The T-shirt was well received by most folks and several were sold at the social. They will be available for purchase at the Chamber of Commerce office and at some local businesses.

During lunch, the crowd enjoyed music by the Sheriff's Posse Band. The band played a lot of old favorites. After that, everyone signed up for the auction of the donated items. There were many unusual things: a baby pot belly pig (which kids of all ages enjoyed); beautiful artwork from three local artists (Merrilee Swinford, Vannalee Palmer and Gerry Sharp); an antique cookie jar; a Mexican sombrero; a pair of carved ivory elephants tusks; a deluxe carriage ride; Ginger Choate's prize winning carrot cake; some very nice gift baskets; and items from many local merchants.

The competition was fierce for some of the items. Ray Revels served as auctioneer. Eva Revels, Margaret Paradee and Laurie Neff assisted him with bookkeeping. The lunch auction brought in $683.50. The other auction raised $1,463.50.

The Sheriff's Posse Band played on Sunday for the box lunch social. Band members are: Jimmy Russell; Steve Forest; "Bubba" Montague; Clarence Adamietz; and Dr. George Meador.

Including lemonade and desert sales and cash donations, a total of $2,265 was raised for the purchase of Christmas decorations for Main Street.

Enough cannot be said for all the volunteers who worked to get the project off the ground. The Rhythm and Blues Dance Team were amazing. They renewed people's faith in our younger generation. They arrived promptly Sunday morning to help with the set up, then worked diligently and cheerfully all the way through the clean-up. They helped with all of the activities, including "hamming it up" while displaying lunches and auction items.

With the community support and everyone working together, the event made a great start towards decorating Main Street and public buildings for Christmas.

Anyone who was unable to attend and would like to donate may send checks to: Bandera County Chamber of Commerce, P.O. 171, Bandera, 78003. Please note on the check that it is for Christmas decorations.

Texas International Apple Festival Saturday in Medina

Clowns, apples, arts & crafts, live entertainment, apples, games, a wide variety of food including apples, historic re-enactments, a petting zoo, apples, paintball, Rick Perry, apples and more apples will be among the highlights in Medina Saturday, July 30, during the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival.

Competitions include: the black powder shoot; volleyball. Try-Apple-On-Games; the apple pie and apple anything contest, and more. An auction will be held for winning apple pies, and Security Federal Savings will provide an ATM machine so visitors are able to acquire cash on the grounds if needed. A "Super Play of Texas" (ball, rope, tube construction) playground will be on hand for children. Pipe Creek Paintball will bring paintball wars to the apple festival this year. A fencing tournament and water combat games are also part of the fun.

The Texas International Apple Festival got its name by inviting 20 foreign countries, and any other states in the Union which grow apples, to bring their freshest apples to be judged against Texas crops. Well...no one but Texas has fresh apples in June! This leaves the Texas growers to compete against each other.

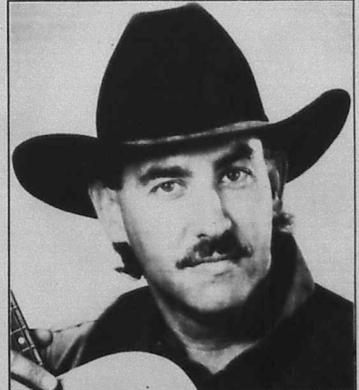

Rick Perry, the Texas Agricultural Commissioner, will return this year to welcome the crowds of apple growers.

Admission is $3 for adults and $1 for children. Gates open at 9 a.m. The festival continues until dark and ends with a fireworks display. For more information, call (510) 589-7234.

Look inside this issue of the Bulletin for your official program and guide to the Texas International Apple Festival. See also Pages 6 and 7 for more about the weekend's festivities.

This special cancellation stamp will be used at the Post Office set up on the Apple Festival Grounds in Medina during the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival on Saturday, July 30. Visitors to the apple festival will be able to mail packages and parcels from the festival to friends and relatives.

Scott Hofmann and the Southern Image band will perform at a kick-off dance for the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival on Friday, July 29, beginning at 8 p.m. For more, please turn to Page 6.

Letters

to the editor

It's 'apple talk'

Dear editor:
What great business folks we have in Bandera County! The Texas International Apple Festival is a weekend and for advertising our event, Jaye Martin of Medina designed a clever word-seek puzzle to use on a place mat. We had this printed, thanks to a donation from Ocean-graphics.

We delivered the place mats to restaurants in the county to use before our event. Every restaurant in the county (except one) gladly took them! How wonderful of them to help us advertise our event! It's folks like them who make the apple fest successful and make Bandera the best county in the state.

God bless all the people who volunteer to help worthy causes!

Dear editor:
In this day of "teen bashing", we would be remiss not to praise where it is so well deserved. And that is our "BHS Dance Team." Their director, as well as their parents (should be praised) for giving us such beauty both inside and out. Those of us

A group of concerned citizens met, and discussed youth issues on Tuesday night, and they basically agreed that it is time to pull together, and, with the help of the kids themselves, the group will be organizing some dances and other events in the very near future.

I hope that this time the plans meet with great success. In the past it has been hard (nigh on impossible) to solicit enough volunteer help to keep a program going. This is first-hand experience talking, friends.

I am asking you, if you have some spare time, (and even if you don't) to consider INVESTING some of your time with the youth of this community. They are the future, and it is well worth the time and energy. You will see a tremendous return on your investment.

Teaching today's kids to care is very important for your own future. (Reason it out, Sparky.)

A comment overheard at the "Sunday Soiree" on the Box Lunch Social at the Hackberry Lodge. There was a good, friendly crowd there, and several of those present made positive comments about "an event in Bandera where beer doesn't have to be served."

There's another wholesome activity coming up Saturday-- the booze-free Texas International Apple Festival.

It's nice to know that there are some "alternatives" out there. And, finally, there was a recent discussion in the Beaudarc family about-- you guessed it-- O.J. Several of the relatives were tossing it back and forth, discussing whether O.J. was innocent or guilty.

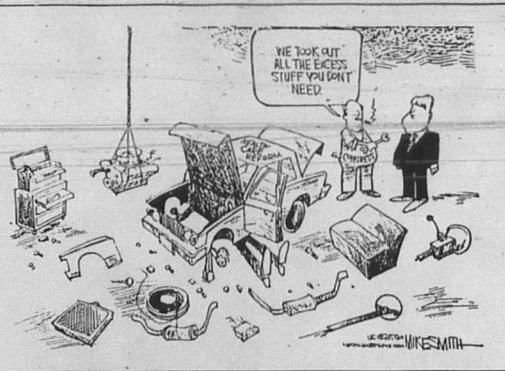

Let me say right out front that Jimmy Ray absolutely refused to take part in the discussion. He said he was not going to waste his time discussing the guilt or innocence of a man he didn't even know.

"It's none of my business," Jimmy Ray proclaimed.

One of the cousins said O.J. was undoubtedly innocent, and that "Kato" was a prime suspect. Another one said O.J. had to have done it. Another one suspected Al, and still another one had a theory about a racist police conspiracy.

They debated it for a while. The discussion was a little ugly, then one by one they just sort of stopped talking. They figured out that when push comes to shove, in good ol' "Bantucky" it really doesn't matter much "who did it" in the O.J. case. And one by one, they began to realize that they should be appalled at how easily they had been manipulated by the electronic media hype. And they all began to realize it was really none of their business, either.

Sometimes, that Jimmy Ray is smarter than he looks!

prison unit, whose construction has been hampered by rail delays, would be opened by October. By that time, about 100 to 200 offenders would be sentenced to the state jails program, Vance said.

Campaign Spending
The campaigns of Democratic Gov. Ann Richards and Republican George W. Bush have filed new campaign finance reports with the Texas Ethics Commission.

Richards reported raising $3.1 million and spending $1.7 million between Feb. 27 and June 30.

During the same four-month period, Bush raised $3.7 million and spent $1.4 million. Both candidates appear to have well-funded bank accounts for the fall campaign.

Reports filed by the governor since July 1991 show her having raised more than $12 million and spending about $6.7 million.

Bush, who announced his campaign last fall, has reported raising about $7.4 million and spending more than $2.6 million.

Fisher soliciting PACs?
Meanwhile, Sen. Hutchinson's campaign accused her opponent, Richard Fisher, of "quietly soliciting" political action committee funds, despite his promise not to take PAC money.

Fisher spokesman Martin Johnson said the Democratic candidate is "absolutely not" soliciting PAC funds.

Hutchinson's campaign chairman, Patrick Oxford, pointed to a fundraising event by Fisher and the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee in Washington. An invitation from the group said PAC contributions would be allocated to the committee.

Hutchinson's campaign said Fisher was merely "channeling these PAC contributions through a third party."

Hutchinson legal bills
U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison, R-Dallas, has paid off her legal bills and closed her legal defense fund, which raised more than $884,040 from more than 6,000 people. Every dollar of the fund, established Nov. 15, 1993, was spent by the time it was closed, her spokesman, David Beckwith, said last week.

Before the fund was established, Hutchinson's senatorial campaign spent about $200,000 on legal expenses, bringing her total legal bills to more than $1 million.

Hutchison used the money to fight charges of misusing state workers and equipment for personal and political purposes while state treasurer.

She was acquitted of the charges when Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle declined to present his case against her to a Fort Worth trial jury.

Texas job growth
Texas led the nation in total jobs created during May, according to the Blue Chip Job Growth Update, published by Arizona State University's Economic Outlook Center.

Texas added 221,300 jobs, up 2.95 percent, which ranked the state 14th in percent gain since May 1993.

Florida ranked second in absolute job growth with 191,100 jobs, followed by Georgia, which added 148,400 jobs.

Other Highlights
In a memo distributed to more than 10,000 Texas A&M University employees, 15 top A&M officials, including the chancellor and president, pledged "unwavering support" for 10 employees recently charged with falsifying records to disguise alcohol purchases.

Teresa Doggett, Republican candidate for state comptroller, says she is having trouble raising campaign funds and has delayed paying her political consultants.

In June, Doggett, who faces incumbent Democrat John Sharp in November, said she considered dropping out of the race because of the state GOP's internal feuding.

Bandera County hit by 2nd murder in less than a week

Bandera rancher Warren Edward Long 71, was found shot to death in his Bandera County ranch home on Thursday, July 21 at approximately 4:30 a.m., following a 911 call to the Sheriff's Department, placed by his wife.

Long's wife, Katherine, was at home when Long was shot several times at close range. Moore said Tuesday at press time that there are no firm suspects yet, but that several are being "looked at." He also said he believes the murder was an isolated incident and that property owners in the area are in no more danger than could be expected from living in an isolated area.

On Monday, July 18, the body of a 13-year-old girl was found off Bushas Road. David Womack, 29, of Boerne was arrested and charged with her murder. Deputies are investigating the possible involvement of a juvenile in that case.

"That probably was not necessary," Moore says. "If they had had the patience to walk around, his wife would have let them in. But they were more

'Rhythm in Blue' dance team clinic set for Aug. 4 and 5

A dance team clinic will be held for grades first through eighth on Thursday and Friday, August 4 and 5 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Bandera High School band hall.

The $25 fee includes a free clinic T-shirt; refreshments; coaching by dance team officers; and a ribbon. All participants will perform in program activities at the first home football game.

The entry deadline is Monday, July 25. Call 510-4319 or 535-4007 for more information.

Bulletin publisher and photographer Dan Sandigge took a ride in the KENS-TV "Chopper 5" and shot these exclusive photos of the Warren Long residence on Thursday, July 21. Long was found shot to death in his residence on that day, and the Bandera County Sheriff's department has been investigating the case as a murder.

The Bandera Sheriff's Department answered 811 calls for service during the week of July 18 through 24. These included two homicides and one call each for: illegal dumping; burglary of a habitation; felony arrest; obscene phone call; reckless driver; child endangerment; traffic hazard; keep the peace; recovered stolen vehicle; abandoned vehicle; and animal call.

Other calls were: alarm; 2; welfare concern; 2; assist other agency; 2; burglary of a vehicle; 2; found property; 3; family violence; 3; thefts; 4; suspicious person; 4; shots fired; 4; suspicious circumstance; 5; minor accident; 5; loud music; 5; misdemeanor arrests; 7; and suspicious vehicle, 7.

On Monday, July 18, the body of Germaine Surgoon, 13, was located in the Pipe Creek area. David Womack, 29, of Boerne was arrested in that incident on July 18 and charged with the abuse of a corpse. He was later charged with the murder of Germaine Surgoon, 13.

Robert Mazzurana, 49, of San Antonio was arrested on July 18 and charged with DWI, second offense.

Della Cardella, 36, of Bandera was arrested on a felony unlawful carrying charge on July 22.

Theresa Compton, 38, of Kerrville was arrested on July 22 and held for Kerr county on a felony charge.

Your Basic Bandera

Peggy
Thibin

A reliable source within the Bandera Electric Coop. reports that there is, almost literally, standing room only over in Kendall County, to which people are blowing in off Interstate 10 in their frantic desire to escape San Antonio or California.

It can't be totally true, of course, but our informant says that EVERY available building site over in Kendall has been bought up and houses for sale go overnight. Reports are that Fair Oaks, once a laid-back country club estate with lots of space and lots of greenery, is now being graced with townhouses and tract-like homes with only five-foot distances from lot lines. In other words, Kendall County is becoming just another one of those suburbs, neither urban nor rural.

How long can the few old German ranchers remaining on their inherited land hold out against the destruction of their heritage? Not just the golden-cheek warbler is an endangered species.

Because of the limit on the capacity of our neighboring county to take in more new residents, it would seem that Bandera County is now coming up to bat as a destination of choice, even though we don't have a freeway providing quick access to city jobs.

Are we ready for the kind of change already taking place here? Yes, we've brought up this question before, but it seems that we must bring it up again, since there are the continuing indications that too many of us are still living in our cowboy capital dream world. We want "development," but we don't want to pay for it.

Judge Ray Maurer says that 78 percent of the land in the county still bears the agricultural designation for tax purposes, but it is clear that having a few goats or a calf or two can suffice to qualify for the "AG" exemption.

However, on most of the 190 subdivisions having written restrictions drawn up by developers or homeowners associations, the keeping of livestock is prohibited. Not even club lambs and certainly no 4-H show hogs are allowed. People coming here now are not really seeking the country life. Do they just want to enjoy a longer drive to the mall or Sam's Warehouse? Do they crave the challenge of growing St. Augustine grass on dry caliche?

They certainly are not satisfied with the kind of schools we have, nor the level of police and fire protection, nor the reads the county can afford to build, nor the dining amenities up until the Chinese restaurant finally arrived on the scene, provided by the OST or El Jacalito. Please do not misunderstand. We love the new Dragon Garden, and it is wonderful to be able to enjoy a dinner party in a serene setting without having to drive into the depths of the city to find such a place. But we still need the OST for the preservation of our historic personality.

And it was a real knee-slapper to watch the luncheon crowd the day the Bandera DAR Chapter entertained state-wide dignitaries of the Texas Society DAR. Into the bizarre scene of gowns, caps, cowboy hats, and tank tops gathered around the carefully-laid tables walked all those ladies in their pink silk suits and shining medals.

Somehow, everybody seemed to belong there. Let's hope Bandera can continue to be the place where everybody does belong while everybody tries to its real ornery self.

Jan McCollum, of Bandera, learned something secrets from her "little, old 96-year-old grandmother." The lessons must have been good ones: McCollum grows 12-foot tall Russian giant sunflowers; six-foot high okra; so many vegetables she has a gorgeous "cottage garden" that butterflies, birds and deer love. She has done all the work herself and puts everything she grows (except what is eaten) back into the soil as compost or seeds. She has lived in Bandera for 1 1/2 years and is now the owner of what local people say is the "biggest red bud tree in Bandera County." She puts a lot of work into the yard and garden: "about 24-hours a day" and hand waters. She is going to native plants and has future plans to open a bed and breakfast in the "old horse shed", which she converted to a cottage.

Local students honored by Texas A&M

Walbrun graduates, others recognized on dean's list

Shannon Lee Walbrun, of Pipe Creek, graduated from Texas A&M University with a bachelor of landscape architecture. She was also named to the Distinguished Students List for the spring semester.

The distinguished student list recognizes students who earned a 3.25 to 3.74 grade point ratio out of a possible 4.0. Other local distinguished students attending Texas A&M are: Hans Box of Pipe Creek, a freshman enrolled in general studies; Brooks Booker of Lakehills, a senior enrolled in biomedical science; and Joel Brent Neuschwander of Bandera, a freshman enrolled in general studies. The Dean's List recognizes students who have maintained at least a 3.75 grade point ratio out of a possible 4.0 during the most recent grading period. Local students on the Dean's List include: William T. Hatfield of Medina, a senior in Wildlife and Fisheries Science; Anne Elizabeth Jurn of Bandera, a senior in health; Max Louis Weltens of Pipe Creek, a senior in biomedical science; and Shannon Rae Cowart, a senior in agricultural economics.

Bandera Legion schedules October brisket cook-off

Bandera American Legion Post 157 will sponsor the first annual American Legion Cowboy Capital of the World Brisket Cook-off on Oct. 29 at Mansfield Park. As with its chilli cook-off, competing cooks from all over are expected to attend.

Legion members already are attending brisket cook-offs to learn how they are organized. Also, officers of the Taylor International Barbecue Cook-off (which has sponsored 17 annual cook-offs with as many as 100 cooks competing) are giving their counsel and encouragement. This, along with Bandera's support and assistance, (such as the Post received for the chilli cook-off) should make the Oct. cook-off a gala event.

It will benefit both the Post and Bandera, which is the Legion's goal. For more information, call Bob Turner at 510-4541.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

"Certain thoughts are prayers. There are moments when, whatever be the attitude of the body, the soul is on its knees." - Victor Hugo

We live in a very stressful world today... We have stresses in our daily problems, in our daily work, in our daily home life. We are all subjects to the knocks and jolts, to heartaches and disappointments. These can have a pile-up effect that doctors call stress. To many people it seems there is nothing they can do to make themselves immune to stress.

There is something we can all do to lessen the difficulties or unhappiness we are encountering. We can "drop out" for a few minutes a day. We can empty ourselves through prayer... talking to Him as though He were physically present. We can unburden ourselves... Yes, we can counteract stress with moments of absolute peace. Moments like this restore us and charge us with energy for what lies ahead. They give us inner perspective.

Prayer can and does work. These "drop out" moments can nurture us and fill us with the fullness of God and help us along the way...

Cowboy poet and singer Jeff Gore to appear

Cowboy singer and poet, Jeff Gore, will perform at the Texas International Apple Festival July 30 in Medina. He has been singing in churches, schools and civic organizations for over 25 years.

Gore has performed in 10 states and two foreign countries. He began "cowboying" at an early age on a ranch in central Texas. He has been a part of the cowboy life since then, and it has become a part of him. He starred in a major role, Mr. Fox, in Tommy Lee Jones' production of "The Good Old Boys", which will be released on Turner Network Television this fall.

He bills himself as a country gospel singer/songwriter and prides himself on the fact that his singing and poetry can be enjoyed by the whole family. His poems, "Bronco Bustin' Dreams" and "Ghost of Rowdy Burns" tell interesting and dramatic tales about cowboy life. "Ole Concho" carries a strong Christian message, something all-important to Gore and his family.

what's rustlin'

by Bungy

Heard that the Christmas in July box lunch fund raiser was a grand success and raised a goodly amount for decorations on Main Street next December. Our son-in-law, Dan Keen (of parade announcing fame) was roping in Boone, so we went to see him instead.

The Rose Palace on the Boerne Stage Road had an Aah-ferry-Berry Production Roping with 800 teams on Saturday and over 500 teams on Sunday. The first day, they roped until midnight. The second night, with the finals and all, they ran past 2 a.m. Needless to say, we didn't sweat (and I have to say SWEAT) it out to the end.

The colorful flags were flying, guests were milling around a pretty table loaded with frosty glass pitchers with fresh orange juice, hot coffee and fresh homemade donuts, all set on a linen tablecloth. A Bandera County Fine Arts meeting, No. 4 "Bandera Trees" ribbon cutting! Celebrity Judd Aahmore, of WOAI fame, even put in an appearance. Horses were missing, but I bet Frank Santos, the new owner, was happy about that "cause all the while the food was being gobbled, cars and trucks were in and out for tires. It's called "instant success." And they "do" bicycle tires, too! (See Photo on page 8.)

Petting zoo adds zest to fest

Running Spring Exotix' petting zoo will bring over 75 animals to the 7th Texas International Apple Festival on Saturday, July 30. Rides will be offered on ponies, llamas and camels.

A baby bear from Wildlife Refuge in San Antonio will make his debut. Other animals include: a buffalo calf; black buck antelope; fallow deer; sobra; mini donkey; mini horse; miniature zebu calf; nilgai antelope; axis deer; pot belly pig; guinea fowls; fainting goats; white Texas Dabblers; black Heavens sheep; painted desert sheep; four-horn sheep; goats; Elk; Defassa water buck; Semmler horn ox; Mutjes deer; and a Persian gazelle.

A brief history of the Texas International Apple Festival

The Texas International Apple Festival began in 1980 when local ranchers and farmers began successfully growing apples in Medina.

Medina is a small community of approximately 250 people in the Texas Hill Country. When the apple trees were large enough to bear fruit in 1988, a group of citizens decided to celebrate the harvest. Texas is the only state in the U.S. to offer fresh apples in July! So on the last Saturday in July, 1988, the First Texas International Apple Festival was held on the banks of the Medina River.

By 1989, the apple industry had grown so much that the Texas Department of Agriculture named Medina the Apple Capital of Texas. This year marks the sixth year of the annual celebration. The festival is still held on the banks of the Medina River on the last Saturday in July. It has gone from an attendance of 2,000 in 1988, to over 20,000 in recent years.

It is a remarkable accomplishment that the small community of Medina is able to stage an event of this size with only the work of committed volunteers.

The primary purpose of the festival is to promote the growing apple industry in Texas. The festival is also a major economic generator for the Hill Country and Bandera County.

Money generated by the festival provides scholarships to graduating seniors. It helps keep the volunteer fire department in good repair and helps with EMS. It provides community activities: putting up Christmas decorations and also planting wild flowers. It also provides for service organizations, the Palmer Drug Abuse Program, Rotary, the Lions Club and senior citizens groups.

There is always a high attendance of senior citizens at the festival, and of young families with children. For this reason, no alcoholic beverages are served. Wholesome family entertainment is featured. Because of this, many people are attracted to the Texas International Apple Festival who stay away from other festivals.

Star Canyon Band of San Angelo will bring "Just a touch of Bluegrass music" to the Apple Festival. Band members include Jeff Simmons on guitar; Joe Kitts on mandolin; Randy Blackwood on banjo and Jim Simmons on bass.

Let The Bible Speak

Why Did God Write A Book? Part 2

God gave us the Bible to enable us to keep ourselves free from entrapment (Colossians 2:8) by false religious leaders. Notice how the Bereans kept themselves from being deceived. They "received the word with great eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily, to see whether these things were so" (Acts 17:11). The Bible warns "...if the blind lead the blind, BOTH will fall into the ditch." (Matthew 18:14) In order for us not to be led into the "ditch" of spiritual destruction (II Peter 3:16) along with a false teacher, God gave us "light" in the form of His Word.

(II Corinthians 4:2-6). Into the darkness of our ignorance came the light of God's revelation, the Bible. "...The light is come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for their deeds were evil. For everyone who does evil hates the light, and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But who who practices the truth comes to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, which are done in truth." (John 3:19-21) This "light" exposed those men's deeds as either being obedient or disobedient. This task is accomplished by the Word of God (II Timothy 3:16-17).

When Jesus promised the Holy Spirit to His apostles, He said, "But when He, the Spirit of truth comes, He will guide you into all the truth (John 16:13)." Some today question whether this happened or not. Did the promise of Jesus come to fruition or not? Was ALL truth delivered as Jesus promised, or was Jesus a false prophet? No, friends, Jesus was not a false prophet. ALL "truth" was delivered to them and to us in the form of the New Testament. "...Thy word is truth" (John 17:17). The Word of God has been completely delivered (I Corinthians 13:9-10) to equip us to "EVERY good work" (II Timothy 3:17).

The word of God is so complete in equipping us with the knowledge we need to combat deception that it warns "...though we, or an angel from heaven, should preach to you a gospel contrary to that which we have preached to you, let him be accursed...if any man is preaching to you a gospel contrary to that which you received, let him be accursed." (Galatians 1:8-9).

Yes my friends, we need to "test the spirits" to see if they are from God. If any teacher, claiming to have the "Spirit of God" says "the Spirit" told him (or her) something that conflicts with the inspired Scriptures, we can know, unquestionably, that they do not have the Holy Spirit of God! We can have confidence if we follow only "the Word," knowing that God has not revealed anything to anyone that He has not revealed to you and I in the Bible. THINK ABOUT IT!

Come worship with us at 10:30 a.m. Sundays at the Church of Christ, located on Highway 16 and Vandelpool Road, Bandera, Texas and let us assist you in obedience to the gospel. Write to HCR 1 Box 45, Medina, Texas 78055.

"Let's Talk"

By Tim Tippit, External Affairs Manager

Southwestern Bell Telephone

Some of you may be familiar with Southwestern Bell's "Let's Talk" columns. We've found them to be an effective way to share important information with our customers. So if there's a telephone topic you'd like to see highlighted, please let me know.

Today I want to tell you about several special discount programs offered by Southwestern Bell. These assistance programs are available to help provide telephone service to low-income individuals.

Through our Lifeline Discount Telephone Service program, eligible customers receive a $7 discount monthly on their basic telephone bill. To qualify for Lifeline, an applicant needs to meet three requirements: 1) be the head of the household; 2) have only one phone line in the residence; 3) and have income at or below the federal poverty level or be receiving benefits from one of the following programs: Food Stamps; Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC); Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP); Medicaid Assistance Program (MAP); Supplemental Security Income (SSI); or Women, Infants and Children (WIC).

More than 54,000 Texans are currently saving money through Lifeline. Simply call us toll-free at 1-800-344-5893 to apply.

If you don't already have a phone or are moving to a new location, you may qualify to receive up to 50 percent off basic installation charges through our Link-Up America program.

Eligibility requirements similar to the Lifeline program apply for Link-Up America. Southwestern Bell customers can call toll-free at 1-800-344-5188 for more information.

"Bi-Assistance is an inter-program established to reduce telephone bills for those in need. This program is administered through the Texas Department of Human Services.

Those qualifying for Bi-Assistance receive a 65 percent discount in basic monthly telephone service and a reduction of FCC line charges. Similar qualifications to the previous program apply plus applicants must be at least 65 and disabled. Customers may apply for Bi-Assistance by calling the Texas Department of Human Services toll-free at 1-800-545-8555. Thanks for your business. Have a safe and happy summer!

Hilltoppers to perform at 7th apple festival

The Hilltoppers will perform at 9 a.m. on the Orchard Stage at the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival in Medina on Saturday, July 30.

The Hilltoppers are a group of musicians from Medina. They play for various events from barbecues to anniversary celebrations and fund raisers.

Two of the original members of this band have played together for some 40 years. Sherrill Johnson plays fiddle and Murry LeStourgeon plays guitar.

Next to Johnson and LeStourgeon, Randy MacNaughton has played in the Hilltoppers for the longest time. Other band members are Shirley Phillips and Linda Barton. Phillips plays guitar and sings and Barton, who also plays guitar, is the newest member of the group.

The Hilltoppers play for the pure pleasure of playing and always enjoy performing. They play oldies like "Fraulein," "Milk Cow Blues," "Waltz Across Texas" and "Jambalaya." Each member of the group shares in the vocals.

The Medina Band Boosters will hold a barbecue on Friday, July 29 beginning at 5 p.m. on the Apple Festival grounds in Medina. Live music will be provided by the Hilltoppers. The menu includes: barbecue; potato salad; beans; onions and pickles; bread; tea; and dessert. Money raised will be used to purchase new band uniforms. Adult plates will be $5. Children's plates will be $3. For more information, call 589-2537, or 589-2570.

Apple fest kick-off dance features Scott Hofmann

Scott Hofmann and the Southern Image band will perform at the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival on Friday, July 29, beginning at 8 p.m.

The band will play an array of western swing, country, pop and original tunes. Hofmann has led a band since he was in the seventh grade. "I listened to all the traditional country music and western swing: Merle Haggard, Bob Wills and my idol, Ray Price. When everybody else listened to rock 'n' roll and wore leathers and bell bottoms, I was cranking up the country station and wearing boots and jeans."

He grew up going to dance halls and listening to Johnny Bush. In 1985, he formed his six-piece band, Southern Image. The band features fiddle, mandolin, steel, bass, guitar and drums.

Hofmann and Southern Image have shared the stage with performers such as: Aaleep at the Wheel; the Original Texas Playboys; and have been an opening act for Earl Thomas Conley, Holly Dunn and Deem Dillon.

Admission to the dance will be $5 per adult and $3 for children 12 and under. For more information, call (210) 589-7234.

A few Texas International Apple Festival highlights:

Apple contests

Eating apples, looking at apples, enjoying fresh air, good music, good food and visiting with friends—there are even more possibilities for the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival. How about entering a contest?

Entries for the Apple Pie Contest must be at the main gate before 10 a.m. on festival day.

Pies must be baked in a non-returnable pie pan. There are no entry fees.

There are three divisions this year. The adult division will be for those ages 19 and over. The youth division will be ages 18 and under. The professional division will be for commercial restaurants, bakeries and chefs.

And, if "pie is not your thing but you cook an apple dish to die for," enter the "Apple Anything" Contest. Anything that is edible and made from apples will qualify. The same rules and divisions apply as in the Apple Pie Contest.

First place winning entries will be auctioned off and proceeds will benefit Medina Texas Development Corporation. Funds are used for grants and scholarships. Second and third place winners will be sold in a silent auction. Other entries will be sold by the auctioneer.

For more information, call Carol Adams at 589-2588, or contact the festival office at 589-7234.

"Bushel Buddies" baby-sit bargains

Bushel Buddies are back at this year's apple festival. When you make a purchase at the festival, a local service organization with "baby-sit" that bushel of apples or bulky gift purchased from one of the arts and crafts booths while you continue to enjoy the fun.

When you are ready to leave, the Bushel Buddy will deliver your purchase to your car in a little red wagon.

My, those scissors are big... but Frank and Dody Santos' daughter managed to get the ribbon cut last week for her dad's new Bandera Tire Shop business located on Bandera's Main Street. Chamber of Commerce members and representatives were present for the gathering. The shop is owned and operated by Frank and Homer Santos.

Tarpley

The reports are that the chance of rain is very slim and temperatures are holding up around 101 and 102. Most of us know the danger now of starting grass fires through the uncontrolled burning of trash.

The Tarpley Volunteer firemen are having "clean up day" on the fire department grounds on Saturday, Aug. 6, which is the first Saturday in August. They want to start as early as possible to beat the heat.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jackson spent several days at Nixon last week with his daughter and her husband, Kenneth and Pat Callaway. The men were working on a building project.

Jolyn Shrock and her daughter, Kimberly, spent a weekend recently driving to Lawton, Okla. to visit Jolyn's son and family. They enjoyed their visit with Edward "Skip" Register and his wife, Lana, and their baby son, Edward Austin. Skip is stationed at Ft. Bliss.

Tarpley Baptist Church will have Rev. Vernon Andrews of Natalia filling the pulpit in the absence of Rev. Doc. Spencer on Sunday, July 31. This will also be the 5th Sunday Fellowship dinner. It will be held after church services at noon.

Nabil and Sharon Taha of East Brunswick, New Jersey, came in Sunday night for an extended visit to her mother, Mrs. Earl Hood.

Elzie and Nettie Dean drove to New Braunfels Friday to spend the night with their son and family, Charles and Marcia Dean, and children, Jacob and Rachel. They also visited with a guest, Jana Stewart of LaGrange, Georgia. Jana is spending several weeks with the Deans while working with a team project called "River Missions". Everyone went out Friday night to a place called "the barn" for a delicious fish dinner. Many old articles hung on the walls as pioneer decorations. It was interesting, even for pioneers Elzie and Nettie Dean.

Brian and Marci (Standard) Gallipoli of Tarpley have a new baby daughter, Courtney Eba. She was born Friday, July 22 at Sid Peterson Hospital in Kerrville and weighed six pounds.

The San Antonio Living History Association will be at festival

The San Antonio Living History Association will present a "Story" at the seventh Texas International Apple Festival.

The living history group warns that their presentation is "a 'Story' any similarity to fact or fiction is intentional" as they depict life in 1842.

By July, 1842, they write, The Mexican Army was on the move again. General Adrian Woll had crossed the Rio Grande and his 1,200 men were marching towards San Antonio.

A group of settlers "overing" in San Antonio (on their way to settle farms and orchards in the valleys below the head waters of the Medina River) were being persuaded by local merchants and leading citizens to take a large store of gunpowder, lead and other critical supplies, including one cannon and shot.

Just one day after their arrival at the selected area (a wide, green valley with many pecan trees grows below the cool, clear head waters of the Medina River) a working camp was set up and the settlers were marking sites for their permanent homesteads.

Gen. Woll captured San Antonio on September 11. On September 18, Hays and Caldwell, with about 42 Texas Rangers and 200 volunteers, defeated Woll. Shortly afterwards, he returned to Mexico, making the last venture into Texas of the Mexican Army.

This exciting action will be portrayed in Medina at the apple festival grounds on Saturday, July 30 as a part of the apple festival festivities.

Medina school registration set

Medina students will begin registering the week of Aug. 8.

On Monday, Aug. 8 from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., students in eleventh and twelfth grades will register. Also on Monday, ninth and tenth graders will register between 1 and 3:30 p.m.

Registration for grades sixth through eighth will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 9 from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

New students in grades six through 12 will register on Tuesday, Aug. 9 between 1 and 3:30 p.m. New students should bring a report card with them from their previous school.

Grades kindergarten through fifth grade will register on the first day of school.

BERNICE BATES, BANDERA COUNTY CLERK

THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF BANDERA
I, Elizabeth James, Treasurer of the County of Bandera, State of Texas, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct statement of the finances of said County for the Quarter beginning April 1, 1994 and ending June 30, 1994 was approved in open session by the Bandera County Commissioners Court on July 25, 1994.

Commissioners face county growth pains

For the second meeting in a row, the Bandera County Commissioners' Court faced growth and subdivision issues in their July 25 meeting.

Mark Van Overborg received final approval on Unit IV of Lakewood Estates, in spite of protest over a reduction in park acreage. The park was set aside for use by Lakewood Estates property owners.

Homeowners had complained to the commissioners that the park had been misrepresented to them at the time they purchased land in the subdivision. County judge Ray Maurer said that dispute was a civil matter and not under the jurisdiction of Commissioners' Court. County attorney Kerry Schneider addressed the homeowners concerning the issue.

Protest also followed Lee Newman's request to close a portion of road in Avalon Subdivision in Lakehills. An Avalon subdivision property owner present at the meeting challenged the Lee Newman had presented to commissioners, saying that not even one

The Medina Mavericks, a local Volksmarch club, invites everyone to participate in a 10k walk on the Cinco B Ranch in Medina on Saturday, July 30. This event marks both the seventh anniversary of the Mavericks and the seventh anniversary of the Texas International Apple Festival. Sanctioned by the American Volksport association (AVA), a member of the International Federation of Popular Sports (IVV), this walk's A-Medal Award will be a 2 1/2 by three inch embroidered apple patch.

Bill and Kathleen Wyman of Bandera announce the engagement of their daughter, Ouida-Michelle Wyman, to Annon Lane Lacey. Lacey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lacey of Pipe Creek. Both Wyman and Lacey are 1994 graduates of Bandera High School. A September wedding is planned.

'Bring your wife, kids and gun' to Apple Festival Black Powder Shoot

You can bring them along: the wife, the kids, your gun. Prizes are given in the Texas International Apple Festival Black Powder Shoot beginning at 1 p.m. on Saturday, July 30 at the apple festival grounds.

Black powder flint and caps, only are allowed. Powder charging will be from a measure, not from a horn or flask. Only patched round balls will be used.

The entry fee is $5 for the first three shots. A re-entry fee of $3 is charged for the next 3 shots. The previous score and target are dropped on all re-entries.

The first relay will be at 1 p.m. The second relay will be at 2 p.m. The third relay will follow at 3 p.m., and the fourth at 4 p.m.

All shooters must sign-in on the registration sheet. Winning targets must be signed by the shooter and the judge and will be retained by the judge.

For more information, write or call Medina Texas Development Corporation. The address is P.O. Box 125, Medina TX, 78055. The phone number is (210) 689-7224.

C. Rhea Mansfield

Charles Rhea Mansfield, 86, of Bandera died on Thursday, July 21 in a San Antonio hospital.

He was born on Dec. 3, 1907, in Bandera County and was a lifetime resident. He was a rancher and spent years developing a composite of cattle for "a good piece of meat."

He was a member of the Independent Cattle Raisers Association and was appointed as a special Texas Ranger by Gov. Ross Sterling. He served in that capacity from 1935 to 1950. He was also a member of the First Baptist Church of Bandera.

Mansfield continued his ranching operation until his death. He was featured in the May, 1994, "Hill Country Rancher," a joint publication of the Bandera Bulletin and the Boerne Star. He became a rancher at the age of 16 when his grandmother gave him a calf. He raised cattle for the next 65 years.

When Mansfield found fault with every pure cattle breed, he began developing his own. He combined Simmental, Limousin, Angus and Brahms and named his new composite "Simbrahin." Prior to his death, he had begun phasing out the Simmental in his cattle and adding Jersey. He explained his reason: "When I get this done, I don't know what other you can do to make the meat better."

In the May interview for the rancher, Mansfield said he enjoys counting his blessings:

good health and good friends. The good Lord has been good to me and I have had good friends and good neighbors."

He was an active supporter of agricultural related youth activities in Bandera County. Survivors are one daughter, Bonnie Mansfield Kirchgraber of Kerrville; a brother, Coy Herman "Toots" Mansfield of Big Spring; one grandson, Frank Rhea Kirchgraber of Kerrville; and one great grandson, Jerren Michael Kirchgraber of Kerrville.

Services were held on Monday, July 25 at Grimes Funeral Chapel with Rev. Joe Stevens and Craig Tippa officiating. Interment followed in Bandera Cemetery.

Active pallbearers were: Raymond Batto; Louis Postort; Miles Pemberton; Johnny Huggins; W.E. "Pete" Eckhart; Harvey Faria; John Hamilton and Bob Alexander.

Honorary pallbearers were: Reagan Mazurek; Robert H.

Mazurek; Gene Fee; Phillip Tobin; Johnny James; J. H. Davenport; Raymond Hicks; D.W. "Speedy" Hicks; Bruce Montague; Richard Fink; Werner Lindig; Lester Buck; Gene Haas; Alfred Bausch; Bryan Mansfield; Ricky Seal; and Richard Stout.

Memorial contributions may be sent to St. Jude's Children's Cancer Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., or to the charity of one's choice.

Warren Edward Long

Bandera County rancher, Warren Edward Long, died on the Long ranch on Thursday, July 21 at the age of 71.

A grave side service will be held for him on Thursday, July 28 at 9 a.m. at Westlawn Cemetery in Del Rio.

He is survived by a wife, Kathrine H. Long, of Boerne. He is also survived by two daughters, Kathrine Campbell Long of Bethesda, Maryland, and Mary Ruth Long Flores of San Antonio.

Todd Michael Walker, the son of J.C. and Karen Walker of Lake Jackson, was the grandson of Pat and J.C. Walker of Bandera, was honored for his academic achievement at a Grand Recognition Ceremony on June 6 at the Duke University Chapel in Durham, North Carolina. He is a student at Lake Jackson Intermediate School and also received state honors in a state-wide ceremony on June 4 at Lamar University in Beaumont. He was one of 1,494 students from 16 states to qualify for this honor. The Grand Recognition Ceremony is sponsored by the Duke University Talent Identification Program (TIP) to salute the highest scoring seventh graders in the annual TIP talent search. Students honored are those who have earned scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) on the American College Testing Assessment (ACT) higher than 70 percent of college-bound high school seniors. The students received awards at the ceremony and the highest scorers also received summer program scholarships.

VBS events continue

Hill Country Chapel will hold vacation Bible school this week from 9 a.m. until noon. A closing program will be held on Friday, July 29 at 7:30 p.m. Children from age two up through high school are invited.

The theme for this year's Chapel's VBS is "Son Country Farm: Growing up Kids God's Way." It emphasizes the fruit of the Spirit; love, joy, peace, patience and kindness. Grammy Gram and a country child and a city child will present skits on "Son Country Farm, a fun place where kids can grow God's way. The teaching objective is to plant seeds in the children's hearts which will grow into Christ-like qualities and a love for Him. There will also be a mission study.

Lively songs, Bible lessons, crafts, and snacks will be a part of each day's activities. Decorated crafts, made by the children at VBS will be sent to an orphanage in Mexico as a part of the mission study project. For more information, call 510-4288.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

We All One to God
"And he made from one every nation of men to live on all the face of the earth..." - Acts 17:26
The "one" mentioned by Paul in that passage was Adam, the first man whose descendants went forth to populate the earth. Thus, all God created His desire for the brotherhood of all men. In His eyes we naturally are just that. For He created us all. Yet many of us forget that. We see surface differences and let that complexity override the fact that we are all created God's image and share His spirit within us. When Jesus and later His disciples spread God's word, they made no distinction among the men of various nations. And their ministry took root in the hearts of all peoples. We should remember that in our relationships with others.

It was a good turn out at the Utopia Youth Rodeo over the weekend. All around champion in the novice division was Sterling Boyce of Vanderpool and Chelsea McCasland of Uvalde. Next Tuesday, Aug. 2, Utopia School is holding a parent in-service. All parents are encouraged to attend. School begins Friday, Aug. 19. Memo to new families to the area: Teach of Bandera were grand champions. Ty Billings of Tarpley and Shelly Sprout took the title for the seniors. The Hill Country Hams are taking their show, Hill Country Jamboree, to the El Valde senior citizens center on Friday.

Bingo players took home rib eye steaks on Tuesday night at Utopia's senior center. The fun is open to all. Utopia Baptist is in the middle of Vacation Bible School. Next Tuesday, Aug. 2, Utopia School is holding a parent in-service. All parents are encouraged to attend. School begins Friday, Aug. 19. Memo to new families to the area: your friendly school secretary (lunch room counter, switchboard operator, liaison officer, nurse, psychiatrist, and flack catcher, just to name a few), Jean Findling invites you to pre-enroll your children so she can get a head start.

"Farmers Market" season drew to a close last week, as the home-grown produce paddlers stood at their Saturday-morning posts for the last time this year. Farmers Market organizer Richard Thorner says that he and some others still have some locally grown fresh produce available on a limited basis for a while, and their crops include fresh, ripe Bandera County apples.

Being a ranch dog "ain't what it used to be." Just ask "Stringer", the three-year-old Australian shepherd belonging to Ernest and Janice Mayfield of Pipe Creek. Stringer (named by the Mayfield's son who is a welder) saves energy for more important ranch duties by riding on a four-wheeler.

Walker Memorial Chapel to hold fellowship dinner Sunday

The Walker Memorial Chapel will hold a covered dish fellowship dinner at the fellowship hall after the morning services on Sunday, July 31.

Barbecue brisket will be the main attraction, along with all the fancy side dishes prepared by those attending the dinner. Following the dinner, there will be a "Singspiration" at the main chapel.

Bookshelf

During the first six months of this year, 67 new library cards were issued per month (average number for months January through June). As I reflect upon our rapid growth in this community, I cannot help but remember our humble beginnings. For those of you that are new to the area, I would like to share with you a very brief history of the Bandera County Library. The complete history can be found in our popular book, entitled, "History of Bandera County." The Bandera Library Association was organized in 1932 with a membership of about 35. A small building and lot on Main Street was purchased and approximately 400 books were donated by members of the community. Those instrumental in the beginnings of a public library were Ruth Roome, Thelma (Surber) Danenport, and Lois Fletcher Scarlett. Thelma later served as the first librarian and she is, to this day, one of our most frequent patrons.

The small library quickly outgrew its limited space. The library association acquired the location for a new library building from the county, directly across from the courthouse at a cost of $1 for 99 years.

In 1934 a WPA project was secured with funds for the partial cost of the present building. C.H. Brient, was the contractor in charge of building the fieldstone structure.

The building included an auditorium and was designed with a stage and orchestra pit, dressing rooms, and balcony. The auditorium served the public for many years until Bandera High School built their own. The basement at the rear of the building served as library for many years.

In the 1950's F.B. Doane provided the funding to renovate and remodel the auditorium to allow more space for the library.

The library grew rapidly. A group formed and called themselves "The Friends of the Library." They provided the much-needed funding to support the library. The Heritage genealogical society, aided particularly by Mrs. Albert Aikek provided the beginnings of our present and excellent genealogy area.

In August 1975, the Bandera County Library Board, the friends of the library and (then) County Judge W.O. Hatfield met to review plans for completely remodeling the interior of the building. Judge Hatfield was able to secure a loan from First State Bank to help pay for the project.

The "new" library was dedicated on Sunday, Nov. 2, 1975.

VBS held at Walker Chapel

Vacation Bible School was conducted last week at Walker Memorial Baptist Chapel. There were 37 persons enrolled with an average attendance of 34 which was considered excellent for the size of the area. There were four professions of faith during the school. The students received training in the area of Bible studies and missions (from a real missionary). Each group learned at least one new song which was presented on graduation night. In addition each student accomplished a handicraft project which they will probably keep for many years to come. Refreshments which were furnished by both church and community members were served each evening just before a time of recreation. A number of the Wharton's Dock area residents assisted in the community project.

Bandera youth to participate in Texas Youth Rodeo Finals

P.J. Doyle will compete in bull riding in the Texas Youth Rodeo Finals in Seguin on Aug. 2 through 6, beginning at 7 p.m. each evening at the Guadalupe County Fairgrounds. Youth from all across the state, ranging in age from five to 18, will be participating in 22 events. Admission is $4 for adults, and $3 for children age 10 and under. For more information, call 1-800-733-PECAN.

Births

A daughter, Scarlett Ann, was born to Robert and Eileen Marshall of La Feria on June 1. She weighed 7 lbs., 6 oz. Grandparents are: Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell of Randolph New Jersey and Col. and Mrs. Paul Marshall of Medina.

Kaitlyn Paige Knibbe was born to Terry and Denise Knibbe, Jr., on June 24 at N.E. Baptist Hospital in San Antonio. She weighed 7 lbs., 15.04 oz. and was 20 inches long. Grandparents are: Terry Knibbe, Sr., of Bulverde; Eloise Knibbe of Bandera; Cheryl Corley of Canyon Lake and Robert Corley of Seguin. Great grandparents are: C.D. "Tag" and Lois Knibbe of Bandera; Robert and Virginia Corley of Canyon Lake; and Eugene and Shirley Stocking of San Antonio.

Bandera Downs holds 'triple crown' this weekend

Finals for the third jewel in Bandera Downs' quarter horse triple crown will be run on Sunday, July 31. The Bandera Six Flags Futurity carries a purse of over $75,000 and will be awarded to the two-year-old sprinter with the fastest time over 350 yards. The entrants previously qualified in trials. The fastest qualifier was Disco Zero, followed by A Touch of Victory and Lenax Fortune. The $41,000 Bandera Six Flags Derby for three-year-old quarter horses that qualified in trials is scheduled for Saturday, July 30.

The first jewel, the $158,000 Kansas Futurity was held on May first and was won by Smoke N Sparks ridden by Larry Payne. The $62,000 Alamo Futurity, the second jewel, was won by A Touch of Victory, ridden by Saul Ramirez, Jr. on June 5th; A Touch of Victory is trained by T.C. Carden.

Flying L Golf Association

The Flying L Golf Association will have its next tournament at 1 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 4 at the Flying L Guest Ranch course. Members are urged to be at the course and registered at least one hour prior to tee-off. Some 30 players turned out for the Association's last tournament on July 17 when a two-man low net event was staged at the Flying L course. Richard Allen and Flossie Oliver emerged victorious with a net score of 60. Other winners included: Patty Polly and Ron Mercier, second with 61; and C.C. Skipper and Danny Sandoval, third with 62. Several tied for fourth with 65.

'Over 50' golfers competed here

An eight-under-par 64 was put together by Todd Ford, Floyd McOaker, Tom Hall and Walt Wilson to win the bi-weekly scramble sponsored here July 19 by the Over 50 Golf Association at the Flying L Guest Ranch course. The team of Gerry Edwards, Wiley D'Spain, Lorraine French and Marvin Hadaah also shot 64, but lost out for top honors by virtue of a score-card play-off. Claiming third place with a 65 was the team of Carl McEllan, Hooker Clayton, Warren Heiler and Bert Bodnar. 54 players participated. The next outing for the Over 50 Association will be held at Devine's Municipal course on Wednesday, Aug. 3 at 8:30 a.m. Players are asked to be registered for the tournament at least one hour prior to tee-off.

Bandera FFA sends delegation to convention

Local youths joined some 6,000 youths from around the state for the event in Fort Worth Eleven FFA members from Bandera joined the nearly 6,000 FFA members and guests attending the 66th state FFA convention in Fort Worth last week.

FFA members were treated to several highly motivational speakers. They participated in stimulating, informative workshops and were treated to a touch of wildly funny humor throughout the convention program, according to advisor Tom Maynard.

Members witnessed hundreds of awards presented and nearly a million dollars in scholarships awarded to college-bound FFA members.

Voting delegates participated in conducting the business of the state association. Additionally, they were afforded the opportunity to experience the sights and sounds of the city called thing through this organization. Listening to the state officers and other speakers made me realize that they were once where I am now, but they had a dream and the courage to make it come true.

Voting delegates elected Jason Johnson of Mount Pleasant as the 1994-95 state FFA president and chose retiring state FFA president Scot Pollock of Falls City as Texas' candidate for national FFA president.

Keynote speakers for the convention included motivational speaker Bobby Tucker, hypnotist Jim Ward and National FFA president Curtis Childers.

Bandera's delegation included: J.T. Turner; Kevin Munn; Jeremy Derington; Travis Chesson; Regina Montague; Michael Evans; Greg Knutson; and John Teich. Sponsors for the group included FFA advisor Tom Maynard and FFA parents Anna Montague and Carol Knutson.

"cow town."

It was Bandera FFA president J.T. Turner's first state convention experience. "I was surprised at the sheer size of the organization and how many people showed up," he said. "I think we all learned that if we stick with it and put in hard work, we can achieve any-

Knutson takes second in state competition

Greg Knutson, and advisor Tom Maynard, show off the second place award Knutson won in the state FFA proficiency competition.

Greg Knutson, the son of Carol Knutson of Lakehills, finished second in state FFA proficiency and received the Lone Star FFA Degree, the highest degree which can be bestowed by the state association, in a ceremony on Tuesday, July 19.

Knutson, a 1994 graduate of Bandera High School, was the area proficiency winner in "placement in agricultural production", an award which recognizes excellence achieved through employment in production agriculture. He was edged out in state competition by Robert Whitaker of Gruver. Gruver is a farming community in the northern Texas panhandle.

Knutson was also one of 1,062 FFA members to receive the state FFA degree, known in Texas as the Lone Star Degree. This degree is the third in four degrees which FFA members can earn through projects; supervised agricultural experiences; and leadership development activities. The recipients honored at this year's convention represented about 1.7 percent of the states 60,000 FFA members.

Knutson plans to pursue the American FFA Degree and will attend the University of Texas - San Antonio with the intent of transferring to a university where he can compete a degree program in some phase of agriculture.

Miss Apple Blossom Florence Isaacs, Mr. Johnny Applesseed Buck Hartsfield, and Miss Apple Dumpling Crystal Canales welcome you to the Texas International Apple Festival.

Apple festival promises fun!

From the buffoonery of clowns to the beauty of apples, the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival in Medina on Saturday, July 30 is set to bedazzle the visitor.

Every year, more and more Texans are thrilled by the discovery of Texas' newest agriculture bonanza, the Texas apple. These apples are higher in sugar than any other apples grown in the United States; they are also the first to be harvested and boast the longest growing season, from June to November.

Those who are tired of eating those things that look like apples but taste like cardboard need to give the crisp, tree-ripened Texas apple a try. At the apple festival this weekend, they may be eaten right off the tree; pressed into cider; frozen into ice cream; baked into pies; cooked into butter; jelled into jam; etc.

While discovering the beautiful, beautiful bundles of delicious fruit, visitors may enjoy three stages of continuous music, wander through over 100 arts and crafts booths, or enter competitions including the black powder shoot; volleyball. Try Apple-On-Games; the apple pie and apple anything contest, and more.

Tours are available for apple orchards. An auction will be held for winning apple pies. The apple festival grounds are shaded, run along the banks of the Medina River and there is always a cool breeze. Plenty of cold apple cider is available.

Security Federal Savings will provide an ATM machine so visitors are able to acquire cash on the grounds if needed. A "Super Play of Texas" (ball, rope, tube construction) playground will be on hand for children. Pipe Creek Paintball will bring paintball wars to the apple festival this year.

The Texas International Apple Festival got its name by inviting 30 foreign countries, and any other states in the Union which grow apples, to bring their freshest apples to be judged against Texas crops. Well, no one but Texas has fresh apples in June! This leaves the Texas growers to compete against each other.

The Texas apple industry is 10 years old this year. Each year the crops get bigger and better. Medina was named the Apple Capital of Texas in 1988 by the Texas Department of Agriculture, and Rick Perry, the Texas Agricultural Commissioner, will return this year to welcome the crowds of apple growers.

Admission is $3 for adults and $1 for children. Gates open at 9 a.m. The festival continues until dark and ends with a fireworks display.

Miss Apple Blossom Florence Isaacs, Mr. Johnny Applesed Buck Hartsfield, and Miss Apple Dumping Crystal Canales welcome you to the Texas International Apple Festival.

Apple festival promises fun!

From the buffoonery of clowns to the beauty of apples, the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival in Medina on Saturday, July 30 is set to bedazzle the visitor.

Every year, more and more Texans are thrilled by the discovery of Texas' newest agricultural bonanza, the Texas apple. These apples are higher in sugar than any other apples grown in the United States, they are also the first to be harvested and boast the longest growing season, from June to November.

Those who are tired of eating those things that look like apples but taste like cardboard need to give the crisp, tree-ripened Texas apple a try. At the apple festival this weekend, they may be eaten right off the tree, pressed into cider; frozen into ice cream; baked into pies; cooked into butter; jelled into jam; etc.

While discovering the bountiful, beautiful bundles of delicious fruit, visitors may enjoy three stages of continuous music, wander through over 100 arts and crafts booths, or enter competitions including the black powder shoot; volleyball. Try-Apple-On-Games; the apple pie and apple anything contest, and more.

Tours are available for apple orchards. An auction will be held for winning apple pies. The apple festival grounds are shaded, run along the banks of the Medina River and there is always a cool breeze. Plenty of cold apple cider is available.

Security Federal Savings will provide an ATM machine so visitors are able to acquire cash on the grounds if needed. A "Super Play of Texas" (hall, rope, tube construction) playground will be on hand for children. Pipe Creek Paintball will bring paintball wars to the apple festival this year.

The Texas International Apple Festival got its name by inviting 30 foreign countries, and any other states in the Union which grow apples, to bring their freshest apples to be judged against Texas crops. Well, no one but Texas has fresh apples in June! This leaves the Texas growers to compete against each other.

Welcome to the Seventh Annual Texas International Apple Festival!

Festival Facts

- The 7th Texas International Apple Festival is Saturday, July 30 from 9 a.m. until dark. Pre-festival activities begin Friday, July 30.
- The Medina Band Booster's Club will hold a Hill Country Barbecue starting at 5 p.m. Friday, July 29. Benefits will go to purchase new band uniforms. Adult plates are $5 and children's plates $3.
- The Mr. Johnny Applesseed and Miss Apple Dumpling pageant will begin at 6 p.m., Friday, July 29, at the Johnny Applesseed Stage.
- Southern Image will play for the kick-off dance on Friday, July 29 beginning on 8 p.m. Admission will be $5 per adult and $3 for children 12 and under. For more information, call (210) 589-7234.
- The apple festival will begin at 9 a.m. the following morning at the festival grounds. Admission will be $3 for adults and $1 for children, ages two through 12. Parking is free. Shuttle service will be provided from the parking areas to the festival grounds. Handicap accessible parking is available on the festival grounds.
- Clean, handicap accessible public rest rooms are also available. Plenty of natural shade, and beauty along the banks of the Medina River will add to the already fun-der-ful day.
- No alcoholic beverages will be served during this family oriented festival. Contests and volleyball will vie with two stages of continuous entertainment of a variety of musical styles. Meanwhile, a children's stage will provide continuous entertainment for the young, and the young at heart.
- A large petting zoo will present unique animals.
- Three stages will provide continuous live music and entertainment. Arts and crafts booths; food booths serving everything from apple pie to apple pizzas; and a visit from General Sam Houston, president of the Republic of Texas, all combine to make the 7th annual Texas International Apple Festival the "best one ever."

'General Sam Houston' to visit

General Sam Houston, president of the Republic of Texas, will appear at the 7th annual Texas International Apple Festival in Medina on Saturday, July 30. Houston will perform on the Johnny Applesseed Stage at 11:30 a.m., 3:30 p.m., and 6:30 p.m.

Marquis James, in "The Raven", pointed out that Houston was "one with those semi-legendary characters- with Daniel Boone and Davy Crockett...In a sense, if he had not existed, we should have had to create him."

He was governor of both Tennessee and Texas. He was Commander in Chief of the Army of Texas and the president of the Texas Republic. He was also a U.S. Congressman and a United States Senator.

Ron Anderson, of Kerrville, brings Houston to life. His great grandmother was Sally Mae Houston. Anderson is a recognized authority on the Indian and Spanish history of Texas. As Sam Houston, he will relate the exciting events of Texas history in an entertaining and informative manner.

He will use weapons and artifacts of the period to describe the battle for Texas Independence, his life among Native Americans, the guidance he gave to the Republic of Texas.

Quilt show is festival highlight

The Bandera County Quilt Guild is hosting a quilt show Saturday, July 30 at the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival in Medina.

The Bandera show is quickly becoming one of the top quilt shows in south Texas. It is one of the only shows to offer cash prizes for winning entries, according to contest chairman, Linda Carlson.

Cash prizes are being offered by Bandera Village Merchants; Heyday from Boerne; and First State Bank of Bandera. Gift certificates are being awarded from: Los Colobas, San Antonio; Creations from Kerrville; The Stitching Post; and Eckharts.

Entries may be either in the large or small categories of pieced/quilted, appliqued, or a combination of both.

Anyone who owns an old family quilt, or one with an interesting history, may enter it for competition or for exhibit only. A written history is desired. Quilts may also be sold at the festival.

All items will be judged using National Quilt Association standards. Judging of quilts will begin at 8 a.m. on Saturday. Applications are available in Bandera at The Stitching Post; at Creations in Kerrville; at Los Colobas in San Antonio; or at the festival office in Medina. For more information, call (210) 249-4787, or 460-7313.

Spirit of Texas at the apple festival

The official cowboy band of Texas, The Spirit of Texas, will perform at 8 p.m. on the Orchard Stage at the seventh Texas International Apple Festival on July 30.

The western harmony group was formed in 1961 for the purpose of "keeping alive the music of the cowboy." The Texas Legislature passed a special Senate resolution making them the "Official Cowboy Band for Texas." Band members are: Rudy Robbins; Ray Tate; Johnny Way; and Roger Haden.

Robbins is the founder and leader of the band, which was selected as the entertainment for Variety Club's Salute to Roy Rogers and Dale Evans. Robbins was discovered by the legendary John Wayne and was featured in many of the Duke's movies. He worked as a cowboy movie stunt man and actor and performed worldwide as a singer, wild west headliner and cowboy goodwill ambassador.

Ray Tate is lead guitarist and does most of the arranging for the band. As a studio guitarist, he has recorded hundreds of commercials and film scores. He makes his home on the 2,000-acre Cinco B Ranch in Medina.

Roger Haden is the bass fiddle player. He plays in a number of country bands around the Hill Country before joining the Spirit of Texas. He comes from an old pioneer ranching family in Bandera County. He is carrying on the ranching tradition, raising Texas Longhorn cattle on the same land on which his ancestors settled in 1866.

Johnny Way is the newest member of the group. As a fiddle player, he is replacing the late, great, Cal Berry. Way has won a number of fiddling contests and was offered a job in George Strait's band. He was interested primarily in gospel music at the time and declined the offer. When not making music, he guides hunting trips.

Sand volleyball! bring some pals, join the game

The Smashers, from Bandera, are bragging again about walking away with the title of winning champs at the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival Sand Volleyball Tournament. They have won the tournament for the past two years.

To enter, bring yourself and five of your best volleyball playing friends. Registration will be at 9 a.m. and the first game will begin at 10 a.m.

Each team must have six players, with a minimum of two women on the team. There will be four players on the court at all times and one must be female. Double elimination matches will apply and the games will last 30 minutes, or the first to 15 win by 2. Players must be 15-years-old or older, and entry fee is $2 per person. For more information, call (210) 589-7224. Winners this year will receive a championship T-shirt proclaiming them "the champs". Special T-shirts are being made for the second and third place teams as well.

City council to select judge, alternate judge

By Stephanie Logue
 Bulletin Staff Writer

City council members interviewed six candidates for city judge in a special meeting on Monday, Aug. 1. The selection of city judge and alternate will be made during the regularly scheduled city council meeting on Monday, Aug. 8 at 7 p.m.

Brian McClane, pastor of the Community Assembly of God Church, was the first candidate interviewed. He said a city judge must place aside all personal feeling and make sure the law is upheld.

Philip Meyer, present prosecutor for the city, said he has always wanted to be a judge and would set up regular court days for the city. He was asked about the current policy of charging DWI (driving while intoxicated) offenses off as PI (public intoxication). He admitted that it is the job of prosecutor to make sure the right charges are filed.

Carl Michael, "CJ", said a municipal judge must be fair and impartial and judge by the facts of the case while adhering to the Texas law.

Mike Smith, current municipal judge, said he feels the most important qualification is to be fair and impartial and to try each case on its own merits.

Louise Karr, current justice of the peace for precinct two, said she feels that justice and fairness are the most important qualities of a city judge, but that knowing and going by the law follow right behind.

Warren Wheeler said he will only serve as city judge if the present salary of $750 is cut to from $450 to $500 a month. He said fairness is the most important quality in a municipal judge and that knowledge of the law is right behind fairness.

Each candidate was interviewed separately and none of the candidates were in the room as the others were interviewed by the Bandera city council and mayor Robert Skinner.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry judged apples and spoke at the seventh Texas International Apple Festival Saturday, July 30 in Medina. For more about the day's events, please see below, and on Page 20.

Texas International Apple Festival's 'lucky seventh'

Record crowds attended the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival in Medina on Saturday, July 30. Festival goers consumed around 4,500 slices of apple pie; 5,640 ice cream cones; 5,560 glasses of apple cider; and hauled off tons of fresh Texas sweet apples.

This year's crop of Texas apples were the talk of the day. The best apples in the state of Texas were grown at Texas Hill Country Orchards. Dr. Steve Blizzard, orchard manager, accepted the grand champion award from Calvin Finch, Bexar County extension agent from Texas A&M.

First place awards for best varieties went to Davis Orchard from Bandera; Love Creek Orchards from Medina; and Texas Hill Country Orchards from Kerrville. The grand champion apples were purchased by Dan Hamilton from H.E.B. Food Stores.

The best pies in the state were baked by Tootie Feagan from Medina, adult division; Tara Jane Miller from Pipe Creek, youth division; and Janie Bailey from Janie's Restaurant in Boerne for the professional division.

The best apple anything contest was won by Leanne Miller of Pipe Creek with apple dumplings in the adult division; Autumn Childers of Medina with a gale taco salad in the youth division; and Janie Bailey for her fantasia pie in the professional division. The winning pies sold for $1,150 in the adult division and $850 in the youth division to H.E.B. Food Stores. Johnny Boyle, from Boyle's Enterprises in Bandera, purchased the apple anything adult and youth division entries.

Entries doubled for last year in the quilt contest, hosted by the Bandera Quilt Guild. The judges chose grand prize to Bonni Keller from Castroville. She also took the pro-ple's choice award. First place awards went to Peggy Raley, of Boerne; Cyndee Brandt, from Boerne; Marjorie Bailey, from Kerrville; and Rebecca Rogers, from Boerne. Entries were received from San Antonio, Houston, Castroville, Medina, Bandera, Pipe Creek, Boerne and Kerrville.

For the archery competition, Mark Petet of New Braunfels took the open class win. Mark Valve of San Antonio took the release class and Curtis Finley of Kerrville won the TRAD.

The Try-Apple-On races were won by the R&D Special Olympics team from San Antonio.

The newest event of the festival, the fencing competition, drew a large crowd of spectators. Three-time National Fencing Champion, Rob Stull of Austin, took first place in the open event competition. In the under 17 competition, Matt Hobbs of Dallas took the honors and in the under 13 division, the winner was Joshua Gowers of Dallas. Large numbers of fencing enthusiasts traveled from across the state to attend the apple festival competition.

Other crowd pleasers during the day included Fred Collins, who made magical sculptures with a chain saw; Pipe Creek paintball, thrilling spectators and participants with the paintball "Gauntlet"; and the 75 animals in the petting zoo. The biggest hit of the day, however, was the musical surprise of "Wayalan." Crowds were mesmerized with music from the Andes, played by flutes, drums and mandolin. The children's stage also charmed the audience.

The fireworks were spectacular. The traditional closing was more beautiful than ever. Lights were turned out and the big apple sculpture was lighted while a lone bagpiper played Amazing Grace.

26 contestants to compete in 1994-95 CCRA queens contest

Twenty-six contestants will vie for 1994-95 Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association queens on Sunday, Aug. 7.

Girls age 13 to 17 will compete in the teen division, those age 18 through 24 will compete in the miss division. A total of 26 contestants are competing for the titles.

Contestants must live within an approximate 100-mile radius of Bandera County and be proficient in horsemanship. The horsemanship portion of the contest begins at 9 a.m. at Mansfield park. Contestants will perform a designated horsemanship pattern. The public is invited to watch this portion of the contest.

Following the horsemanship portion of the contest, contestants and judges will be given a luncheon, compliments of the Cabaret. Each contestant will have a five-minute personality interview with the judges. That portion of the contest will be closed to the public.

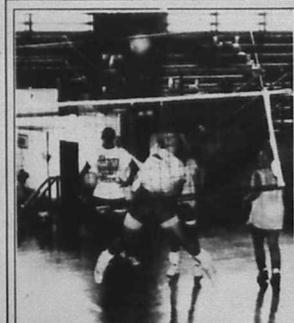

The CCRA will host a hospitality hourmaster Sunday at the Cabaret beginning at 6 p.m. The CCRA Queens Coronation will begin at 7 p.m. with the teen division. Contestants will model dress western attire and deliver a short speech on why they want to represent the CCRA as rodeo queen.

The newly-elected queens will preside over the 1994 Labor Day Weekend Rodeo, which will be held Friday through Sunday, Sept. 2 through 4 at Mansfield Park. The queens will also be expected to attend media functions and represent the CCRA at parades, rodeos and other events.

Both queens chosen will receive a rhinestone tiara, an embroidered satin sash and a yellow-hair trophy buckle, all compliments of the CCRA. They will also receive a complete makeover from Hairways, gift certificates from the Comal County Fair Queen's Court, Larry Mahan's Collection; Eagle's Nest Western Wear; Harris Western Store and Wrangler. A Eesistol hat is being given through the Diamond T Trading Post. An American hat is being given through Harris Western Store. The queens will also receive earrings from Sim's Spur Company; Texas banner pins from the Middle School volleyball camp was held last week for sixth through ninth grade with more than 50 students participating. Eileen McDonald was the head volleyball coach. Other coaches were Doris Reeh, Crystal Langley and Jeannene Mansfield.

Letters

'Sour apples?'

Dear editor:
(This letter is in response to "Apple Loss" Genie Strickland's letter printed in last week's paper.)

This comes from the "one who" whom you wrote about (in your letter) in last week's paper, to whom you seldom refer tourists or patronize yourself... and when you do everyone knows it's to ask for a favor or donation. Have you never heard, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you?"

And how selfish of you to ask God to bless the volunteers. I think He will bless all of us whether we have an apple crammed down our throat or not.

By the way, it would have been perfectly alright to have used my name (in your letter), as I intend to write you.

Cover to cover!

Dear editor:
I have two grandchildren that go to school in Bandera, and are involved in 4-H and are quite often in the Bandera Bulletin. So they don't have to send me the paper, I thought it would be wise to subscribe.

My grandchildren are Shannon and Shane Patrick. Shannon is reporter for the 4-H club.

But I enjoy reading your paper ever to cover.

Will we learn?

Dear editor:
The Bandera School Board is continuing to support a top heavy administrative staff, with a superintendent talented at shuffling statistics.

The boards priorities with a tight budget have allowed down academic development for building development. There will probably be a high price to pay in 1996 for the construction of an elementary school near the Lakehills/Pipe Creek area.

Ironically, the 1995 legislative session in Austin will be dominated by educational reform and restructuring with more local control in the forecast.

To bad that the school board never seriously considered alternatives such as adaptive education.

"Oh, well, I'm sure it's all that health food, and his life long devotion to a chemical-free existence that does it," J.R. said, in a very serious tone of voice.

At that point, Benny Lu giggled and said, "Well, yeah, I have to admit that he has made no secret about his flamboyant lifestyle in the past, but you know, now he's getting up in years-- gives it a whole new meaning when he sings, 'I Can't Get No Satisfaction,' doesn't it?"

J.R. guffawed. He had never quite forgiven Mick Jagger for the whole "Altamont" thing, plus the disappointment he felt when their style changed in the 70s-- he just got used to just being a burden against the Rolling Stones for quite some time.

Actually, when Jimmy Ray thought about it, his bad feelings about the "bad boys of rock & roll" probably began in the 60s, when their "Sticky Fingers" album was released. J.R. just felt manipulated and tricked by the "zipper" on the album cover.

At that point, Benny Lu was apparently struck with pangs of guilt, for the tacky things she and cousin J.R. were saying.

"Are we being 'age bigots,' Jimmy Ray?" I mean, are we saying that Mick, or anyone, should be denied the opportunity to do something because he gets past a certain age?"

"No-- I think this issue transcends age discrimination-- I think the issue here is actin' foolish, and hangin' onto your dignity," J.R. said. "Rock & Roll is fine, and doin' your thing is fine, but sooner or later a person needs to move on to the next level. Maybe it's time for Keith and Mick to move forward and try something else."

"Oh, you mean like nuclear physics? Yeah, I bet they could both be really outstanding rocket scientists," Benny Lu said not a little sarcastically. "And besides, their concerts are a sellout! Are you telling me that they should turn their backs on thousands of fans?"

Jimmy Ray had to think about that one a little bit. And he had to finally admit that Benny Lu was right. Mick may be older, and may not jump as high or dance as fast as he used to. But he and the Rolling Stones are apparently giving the public what they want. They are making people happy-- and, he supposed, they are doing what they want to be doing.

And a person never gets too old to enjoy those things.

And a person never gets too old to enjoy those things.

And a person never gets too old to enjoy those things.

Wants assistance

Dear editor:
At one time my grandfather, Captain Samuel H. Goodman owned a ranch in Bandera County on property now owned in part by Mr. Elmo Robinson. My grandfather is buried in the Goodman Cemetery in Medina.

re-use of existing buildings within our community for kindergarten and head start programs along with year round use of existing schools.

Appearances of progress can be an illusion. When will we ever learn?

Captain Goodman died in 1906, long before I was born. I am attempting to learn what I can about my grandfather.

On page 85 of the book "100 Years in Bandera 1853-1953" appears a photograph of the Bandera Masonic Lodge in the 1880's. My grandfather appears in that photograph.

If you know anyone who has a copy of that photograph I would like to contact them to have a copy of it made.

Any assistance in this regard will be appreciated.

Billy Bob and Jimmy Ray have a cousin, Benny Lu Beaudart, and she is quite a Rock & Roll fan-- has been since the early 60s. She called Jimmy Ray, and was just breathless.

"Oh, Jimmy Ray, have you heard about the Rolling Stones being on tour? They are just fabulous!"

Jimmy Ray, who has been known to listen to a bit of R&B himself, snorted audibly into the phone.

"Right Like I'm gonna lay down good money to see Keith and Mick, both in their 60s, trying to stir their stuff? Why? It's just getting up and get over it!"

AUSTIN — Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock last week made known his desire to clear up in the 1995 Legislature the hazy provision in the Texas Constitution forbidding legislators from having indirect interest in state business.

"A number of senators have said it ought to be clarified, and I agree. I don't see any problem in defining 'indirect,'" Bullock said.

Earlier, newspapers reported that Bullock received a $100,000 campaign contribution from Daniel Robinowitz of Dallas, who owns an interest in casinos in New Orleans and Colorado. It also was reported that Bullock received $60,000 from James "Mat- equity Mac" McIngvale, a Houston furniture business owner who has said he would like to build a gambling establishment in Texas.

Bullock said casino gambling legislation would be an "extraneous matter" in the 1995 Legislature, adding that the education code and state budget will be his focus.

A ruling is pending from Attorney General Dan Morales on whether the legalization of gambling casinos should be done by the Legislature or by constitutional amendment.

Equity Loans From Bill U.S. House Banking Committee chairman Henry B. Gonzalez last week attached an amendment cutting home equity loans out of a compromise bill by U.S. House and Senate negotiators that would allow banks to operate across state lines.

The amendment, by Gonzalez, D-San Antonio, passed on a 4-3 vote. U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, however, opposed the measure saying the home equity debate should be resolved by the courts and the Texas Legislature.

Gramm, a member of the Senate Banking Committee, said he had the backing of 43 organizations in Texas. The Austin-based Texas Bankers Association also criticized the Gonzalez amendment.

Earlier this year, the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals said the savings and loans in Texas could make home equity loans, though the Texas Constitution prohibits them.

The state then appealed the appellate court's decision to the U.S. Supreme Court, which has not decided whether to hear the case.

Meanwhile, if the House and Senate approve the bill after a vote expected by mid-August, the court ruling would become moot.

A Stinky Stunt
Republican congressional candidate Pete Sessions last week pulled a trailer load of horse manure on his campaign stops to dramatize his stand on the health-care issue.

"I know what's in this horse trailer smells awful bad, but the Clinton House Ways and Means Committee health-care plan smells even worse," he told a crowd in Tyler, where he launched a two day, 12-city "Manure Tour" in his challenge to incumbent U.S. Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, to represent an 11-county area that stretches from Dallas to Bryan.

Carlton Carl, a spokesman for Bryant, called Sessions' tour "childish," and Lorrin McHugh, a White House health care spokeswoman, suggested that "perhaps (Sessions) should tell the 108,000 members of working families in his own district who don't have health insurance why he is not fighting for real health care reform with universal coverage."

Sessions, the son of former FBI director William Sessions, accused Bryant of supporting the Clinton plan, which he said would raise taxes on businesses, increase the federal budget deficit and use tax dollars to finance abortions.

Nursing home investigated

Bandera Nursing Home was the target of a Texas Department of Human Services investigation, and inspectors last week found several problems at the facility, according to a spokesman for the state agency.

San Antonio TDHS regional director of long-term care regulations Loran Hill said Tuesday that an investigation and inspection took place last week, following the receipt of "numerous complaints" by the agency. Results of the investigation will probably not be available for "several weeks," Hill said.

Hill indicated that none of the problems found were of an "extremely serious nature," and that there would be no punitive action necessary in the case.

Nursing homes are licensed by the state, and must be run according to TDHS standards. If anyone observes abuse, neglect, danger, or any violation of state long-term care standards, they can report it via the state's "Nursing Home Hotline," at 1-800-458-0658.

Cleanup day set in Tarpley Aug. 6
A cleanup day will be held Saturday, Aug. 6 at the Tarpley Community Center and Volunteer Fire Department grounds. Helpers are asked to "come early, before it gets hot."

The cleanup is in anticipation of the annual Tarpley Fire Department Barbecue, scheduled Sunday, Sept. 4.

Sheriff's report

A juvenile suspect is now in custody at the Hondo juvenile detention center in connection with the July 18 murder of a 13-year-old girl in Bandera County.

Sheriff James MacMillan said that under state law, juveniles must be prosecuted by their county of residence or through the juvenile detention system. The 15-year-old is from Boerne, in Kendall County.

Authorities involved have denied a request to have him tried as an adult in Bandera County.

David Womack, 27, remains in custody at the Bandera County Jail pending the grand jury investigation into the July 18 murder of Germaine Surgen, 13. The nude body of the young girl was found near a swimming hole in the Pipe Creek area.

Investigation also continues in the July 21 murder of Warren Long, 71. MacMillan said suspects have developed in the case and other leads are being followed.

Long was found shot to death in his bed in the early morning hours of July 21 after his wife placed a 911 call. Deputies from the Kendall County Sheriff's Department were the first on the scene. When they realized the Long residence was in Bandera County, the Bandera County Sheriff's Department was contacted.

Long's wife reportedly "heard a popping noise" and woke up to find an intruder in the bedroom. She says the intruder fled when she reached for a shotgun on her side of the bed. When he was gone, she turned on the light and realized her husband had been killed. She then closed the bedroom door and called 911.

No signs of forced entry or exit were found and there is no evidence of burglary. Several shotguns were found, but the murder weapon was reportedly not among them.

The Bandera County Sheriff's Department has been searching the 2,000-acre ranch by foot, horseback and even helicopter, looking for clues. Several water tanks have been searched. Deputies, jailers and reserve officers have been utilized in the search.

The investigation was reportedly hampered by the actions of KMTL Channel 4 news team. They ignored the crime tape and entered the property to film the crime scene, leaving a conglomeration of tire and foot prints. To sort out which were made by the news team and which might have possibly been made by a suspect or suspects, MacMillan said it was necessary to have the news team and vehicle return to the site. Plaster casts were then made to compare to the ones found on the morning of the murder.

Items of physical evidence, from both cases, have been packaged and will be delivered to the DPS Crime Laboratory in Austin.

During the week of July 25 through the 27, the Bandera County Sheriff's Department answered 73 calls for service. They included one each for: missing person; major traffic accident; burglary of a building; telephone harassment; reckless driver; found property; felony arrest; alarm; and assault.

Other calls were: recovery of stolen vehicle; 2 trespassers; 2 welfare concern; 2 stolen vehicle; 2 loud music; 3 minor traffic accident; 3 criminal mischief; 3 civil dispute; 5 domestic disputes; 5 misdemeanor arrests; 6 loose livestock; 7 and suspicious circumstances; 12.

A Pipe Creek resident reported an abandoned vehicle on July 25. It was found that the vehicle had been stolen in San Antonio earlier, stripped, and then dumped in Pipe Creek.

An investigation continues into the theft of a 1994 Chevy dually crew cab from a car dealer's lot in Bandera. The same vehicle was reported on July 26.

On July 30, a Lakehills resident reported that an acquaintance had stolen his 1985 Ford pickup. That investigation continues.

Deputies and highway patrol troopers recovered a car on July 31 which was reportedly stolen from a Lakehills resident a short time earlier. A suspect was arrested.

Kendall McMahon, 29, of Medina was arrested on July 29 on a felony warrant, motion to revoke probation.

Reagan Day, 28, of Medina was arrested on July 28 on a felony charge, motion to revoke probation.

Jeff Damron, 32, of Pipe Creek was arrested on DWI, second offense, on July 29.

Jeff Ruby, 43, of Lakehills was arrested on a felony unauthorized use of a motor vehicle charge on July 31.

Looking Back

In Bandera County

Sixteen years ago, on Aug. 3, 1978, Bandera was faced with the most devastating flood of the century—the Medina River raged out of its banks, taking numerous lives and causing untold property damage.

Walking back through 50 years of pages of The Bandera Bulletin, Dec. 16, 1966: Kimberly Hanna, the 17-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanna of Medina, was chosen as the 1967 March of Dimes poster child.

Sept. 23, 1966: "Frontier Times Museum Gets Historical Marker"
May 8, 1966: "New Collins Plant is Established in Puerto Rico"

April 15, 1966: "Dorothy Adamietz International Olympics Bronze Medal Winner", the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adamietz.

Feb. 25, 1966: "Heavy Snow Storm Hits Hill Country", St. Victor's Chapel of Lakehills celebrates 10th anniversary.

Feb. 11, 1966: "Cub Scouts To Have A Pinewood Derby"
Nov. 24, 1967: "Old Huffmeyer Store Gets Historical Marker", in Bandera's oldest building, built in 1878.

Aug. 18, 1967: Robert Hutcherson, 16, solos. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hutcherson.

June 2, 1967: open house held for the newly remodeled Bandera County Courthouse.

Feb. 17, 1967: Received greetings from Don and Judy Hicks who are vacationing in the Orient: "Flying home because very lonesome, ship takes too long."

Jan. 13, 1967: "Grace Lutheran In New Church", moved from the chapel at Plummer Funeral Home to their new building.

March 22, 1968: "Burglaries Plague Bandera"

April 12, 1968: "Modern New Restaurant For Bandera", the Maverick, opened by Johnny Boyle.

Aug. 9, 1968: "Record Crowd at the Pipe Creek Homecoming", more than 450 attended.

Oct. 4, 1968: "Star Electronics To Have Grand Opening", in stone building next to Western Auto.

Oct. 11, 1968: "Open House for Langford's October 11 and 12", to sell lumber and hardware.

Nov. 1, 1968: "Burglary at Langford's New Store"

Dec. 8, 1968: Pfc. James Randy Harrell, 19, of Utopia loses his life in Vietnam.

Dec. 26, 1969: Al "Squeaky" Evans will open a body repair shop in the Clint Dowell Motors.

Dec. 5, 1969: "Veterinarian Moves To Bandera", Dr. Jack P. Fuller.

Oct. 17, 1969: Mrs. Lucy Alice Jones Word, 104, died on Oct. 9. She had assisted doctors with births, mothered orphans and was known as "Tiny Ma."

Dance team clinic set for Aug. 4 and 5

A dance team clinic will be held for grades first through eighth on Thursday and Friday, August 4 and 5 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Bandera High School band hall.

The $25 fee includes a free clinic T-shirt, refreshments, coaching by dance team officers, and ribbons. All participants will perform in pregame activities at the first home football game.

Late registrants will be accepted, according to Linda Lansford. Call 510-4319 or 535-4007 for more information.

BHS cheerleaders attend camp

They won the spirit stick and superior trophy and ribbons

Bandera High School cheerleaders attended Universal Cheerleaders' Association Camp in San Angelo on July 19 through 22 and were successful in the many competitions offered.

The varsity squad received a superior trophy and several excellent and superior ribbons for cheers, stunts and sideline chants. They were awarded a spirit stick each day and also at the final awards presentation.

The junior varsity squad members took first place in the pom-pom dance competition with the routine they have been practicing this summer. They were presented with a trophy. They also competed in the camp championship and won a first place trophy for the sideline chant they learned at camp. They were the recipient of superior ribbons in every category and were awarded a spirit stick every day and overall.

Jackie Edwards, who appears as the bulldog at football games, did very well in the mascot competitions. She was awarded a spirit stick every day at camp; excellent and superior ribbons for skits; a superior ribbon for overall evaluation; and a superior trophy at the final awards presentation for second place in all around mascot.

Kristy Anderson of varsity, and Shay Stewart and Ashley Godfrey of junior varsity, were selected to camp all-stars and qualified to be in various parades. The cheerleaders held a mini-clinic of elementary age students July 25 through 27 with 39 in attendance. The participants learned a dance routine, cheers and chants. A competition was held the last day and camp champs were chosen. Those selected were: Kitty Arny, Kathryn Hicks, Lauryn Erfurt, Jennifer Young, Amy Edwards, Lisa Edwards, Kasi Cheson, Jennifer Wilson, Lauren Womack, Tara Hicks, Hillary Adamietz and Joe Calvillo. The camp champs will perform a cheer with the varsity cheerleaders at the first home football game.

Your Basic Bandera

Another last Saturday in July—another International Apple Festival—another memorable day at what has to be the most delightful event of its kind in Texas.

What makes this number one annual happening in Bandera County so special? How does Medina do it? Let us count the ways. (The Texas apples are wonderful, but that ain't all.)

First, choosing such a spectacular setting—the green shade of the monumental Hatfield pecan orchard along the banks of the clean green Medina River.

Second, the guiding thoughtfulness and common sense of those in charge of planning and staging the production.

Third, the adherence to standards of good taste and behavior which has drawn thousands of people from all over Texas to enjoy a day of truly innocent fun away from the world of hype and crazy sophistication. Prams and baby strollers abound. Families turned out!

Fourth, the participation and cooperation of folks of good will from all around the countryside, eager to respond to the idea of offering an old-fashioned true blue Texas good time.

Usually, the past few summers, we have had to be away on the date of the festival, so it was a real pleasure to be at home this year and able to greet friends and family as we walked the breezy avenues of trees. Even Mother Nature smiled on us this year, with grey skies blocking the burning sun to keep temperatures in the 80's all day for the first time in weeks and sending 23 drops of rain in the afternoon as a down payment on showers to come.

Another unsuspected joy along with the cool weather was the sound of a Peruvian flute filtering through the orchard, heard even above other music and all the thousand conversations being carried on at booths and tables. Wayzata, a group of folk musicians playing the indigenous Indian music of the Andes, are usually stationed on the River Walk in San Antonio. To hear their compelling rhythms and melodies coming from under a giant pecan tree at the edge of the festivities was a moving experience. Their audience was almost transfixed after being drawn across the way by the alluring sounds to sit in a circle around the tree.

An expected visual joy was the outstanding show put on by the Bandera County Quilt Guild. Hand-made quilts strung on lines from tree to tree (the trees, you see are the real stars of the show) were vivid examples of the work being done by Hill Country women. Incidentally, the quilt guild will crank up its meetings at St. Christopher's Church again in September. If you see, you should go.

Another expected joy was saying hello to grandson Sterling Tobin in his pram, and friends like Joyce and Hough LeSturgeon, Ruth Becker, Margaret Evans, Pat Chapman, Jan Hevenor Boyle, Caroline and Gerry Benjamin, and Carol and Charlie Kosarik. San Antonians who have a place in the Bear Springs neighborhood.

Charlie had taken the morning off from shooting the feral hogs who have come rooting and snorting around his pasture every day lately.

And let's not forget to thank Ward McCollough, tooling up and down Highway 16 through town, ferrying visitors to and from their cars on an ingeniously rigged-up shuttle "bus."

That's an example of how Medina does it—with unpretentious flair and know-how!

Round up continues this week for Head Start program

Registration for pre-kindergarten children for the Head Start program will be held at Alkek Elementary this week, ending on Friday, Aug. 5. Registration will be held from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m.

Children registering must be four years old or before Sept. 1, 1994. Parents need to bring the following information for registration: shot record; birth certificate; proof of residence (example, a utility bill); proof of income (example, a check stub); and the child's Social Security Card.

Mamie's opens on Main Street

They leave furniture behind, bring 'affordable' prices to Bandera

Mamie Clark has opened "Mamie's" in the Frontier Hotel building at 701 Main Street. Opening the business is a "homecoming" for the Pipe Creek couple. Allen Clark, Mamie's husband, is the great-grandson of Bandera pioneer settler, Amasa Clark.

Allen and Mamie owned and operated "Allen's Affordable Furniture" in Kerrville, on Water Street, for four years. After Allen suffered a heart attack, the couple moved "back home" to Pipe Creek.

Because Allen can no longer lift heavy furniture and Mamie cannot move the furniture alone, Mamie's will eventually carry only light furniture. Now, however, Mamie's has some furniture: a china cabinet and queen-size beds. It also has "affordable prices so everyone can buy something pretty for their house," Mamie says.

Those pretty things include lamps; leather purses; western-style prints; painted pants sets; and other decorative items.

The present inventory of furniture will be sold on a "cash and carry" basis. It will be replaced with coffee tables, end tables and other home furnishings.

Since the affordable furniture business was dissolved, Allen and Mamie brought the affordable prices home to Bandera.

'Realtor Designation Awareness Month' set

Bandera County Board of Realtors will participate in the first annual Realtor Designation Awareness Month, September, to recognize it's members who hold any one of the 13 Realtor professional designations.

According to a 1993 survey, more than 10 percent of all Realtors hold a professional designation offered by the National Association of Realtors or one of its affiliates. By working toward a designation a realtor is gaining knowledge about a specific area of real estate. Designations are available for professionals who want to excel in commercial sales, residential sales, management and brokerage, appraisals, land consulting, property management, counseling and legal issues, leadership, and industrial areas.

"We are proud to honor the realtors of the Bandera Board who hold specialty designations and have made a strong contribution to their careers," says Wilbur Bradford. "By recognizing them for their extra efforts, we are encouraging other realtors to do the same."

September has been designated as Realtor Designation Awareness Month by the National Association of Realtors and the national offices of the realtor affiliates.

For more information about many realtor designations available, please contact Jacob R. Casanova or call the national fax on demand number at (402) 351-9955.

Upper left, Matt Hobbs, a 14-year-old from Dallas won the under 17 fencing class at the apple festival in Medina. At right, Rick Stoll took the win in open fencing. He is three-time Olympian in Modern Pentathlon and three-time National Epee Champion. He recently completed a motion picture on Modern Pentathlon and is working on a TV mini series on amateur sports. Lower left, Stoll faced Pentathletes Paul Messinger during the tournament. Bob and Tracy Hurley, of Medina, hope to make fencing a regular event at the annual apple festival.

Scot Dunn, a sophomore at Bandera High School, has participated in several major trap and skeet competitions this summer. He attended the Texas State Skeet Shoot in Amarillo as a member of the Zone V team. He won several awards at both shoots. He participated in the State 4-H Trap, Sheet and Sporting Clays competition at the National Gun Club in Antonio on July 28-30. He shot his way to first place in a senior division for trap on Friday, winning a plaque and a belt buckle. He shot 98 on Saturday after a shoot-off against four others, and took fourth place. By shooting a combined score of 196 in trap and skeet, he won the Jacky Lambeth traveling trophy for high over-all individual. This trophy will be displayed at the Bandera County Extension office for one year. His biggest surprise came when he was named to the 1994 Texas 4-H Shotgun Champion All-State Trap Team. Dunn will shoot in the 1994 World Skeet Shoot, which will be held in San Antonio in October. He is the son of John and Judy Dunn of Bandera.

Bandera County 4-H to hold open horse show

The Bandera 4-H Club, horse project, will hold an open horse show on Saturday, Aug. 6 at Mansfield park. Registration begins at 8 a.m. and the show begins at 9 a.m. A total of 26 classes will be shown in the horse show. Classes are $4 each or $30 for the day. Rosette ribbons will be given for first through sixth place. Trophies will be awarded for the high point in each age group. A concession stand will be open, serving sandwiches, snacks and drinks. Age divisions are: junior, 12 years and under; senior, 13 to 18; adult, over 18 years old. Halter classes, English pleasure, western pleasure and horsemanship classes will be judged. Other classes include: open egg and spoon command class, opening riding; barrel racing, pole bending; and open tire race among

School scheduled to open to record number of students

Where did the summer go? It's 'back to school' Aug. 15, with more students than ever in the BISD

New concepts and new students will open up the 1994-95 school year for the Bandera Independent School District. Alkek Elementary will open its doors for the first time with an enrollment exceeding 900 students. Last year, Alkek opened with 849 students. The Heatstart program will begin its first full year of operation this year. Pre-kindergarten, Headstart parent orientation will be held Thursday, Aug. 11 from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. and from 6 to 7 p.m.

A similar parent orientation, equipped with IBM hardware will operate adjacent to the current computer lab. It will greatly increase student contact time and proficiency with computers. The library will continue its automation process, including the addition of accelerated readers to enhance reading skills. The library will continue its automation process, including the addition of accelerated readers to enhance reading skills. It will contain an on-line catalog system; expanded Tenet and Internet access; and the establishment of connectivity with the Bandera County Library's system.

Team teaching, which began last year, will be enhanced and facilitated through exploration into integrating curricula using a thematic approach. Bandera High school begins a new building trades program. It will consist of a two-hour drafting course and a three-hour building trades class. A building for the building trades program will be created early this fall. Teaming of freshmen students' teachers will be initiated as a means to facilitate the transition from middle school to high school and to reduce the failure rate which many freshmen incur in classes. An advisory period will replace the activity period. It will focus on a time for organizations to hold meetings. UII academic credit preparation can be accomplished. Reading and tutoring will also be available to enhance student achievement. Keyboarding will be offered first semester. It will be followed by a second semester course in word processing, which will replace typing I classes. This will give more students a chance to experience contact and gain proficiency in computers and keyboarding skills. A horticulture building will house the ag departments' classes this fall. The greenhouse was designed and built by ag students and will be used for class projects. The campus has experienced a general face-lift. A new portable building and baseball field has been added. Many areas have been repainted.

Bandera ISD bus route schedules announced

Utopia junior horse club presented awards July 25

Utopia Junior Horse Club closed out another summer of activities on July 25 when awards were given to all participants. Horse club families and friends gathered at Hondo Park for a picnic supper, followed by the presentation of awards and shopping with their money at Bill Moos Ranch Supply. Adult leaders, Wayne and Betty Boyce; Tom and Cindy Clark; Billy and Jackie Moore; Melvin and Paula McBeth were recognized for working in various "steady" jobs all summer. The horse club had a most successful year and was well supported by a host of parents, grandparents and friends. Beautiful silver belt buckles were awarded to all-around cowboy and cowgirl in each age group. Winners were: Marissa Mauldin and Starlin Boyce in the poonaw division; Whitney Boyce and Calder Martin in the junior division; and Caryn Moore and Jeffrey Moore in the senior division.

Sportsmanship prizes were given to Deana Townsend, Colter Padgett, and Emily Clary. The champion "dummy" roper award went to Jeffrey Moore with Mitch Waltisperger.

Judgement Day Surprises

During His closing admonitions in the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus issued the following warning: "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have we cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity." (Matthew 7:21-23)

In very plain language, Jesus reveals to us that on the day of judgment, there will be those who will be surprised when they are rejected, and turned away from heaven's door. No surprise we could ever experience could be so traumatic that it could compare to the surprise mentioned by Christ in the passage we noted. Can we even imagine what one would feel who had spent his life thinking that was on the road to heaven, and then to confidently approach the bar of judgment, only to hear the words, "I never knew you. Depart from me, ye that work iniquity?" Most (Matthew 7:13-14) people will get such a surprise.

According to vs. 21, these are people who would profess that Christ is their Lord. How can this fact be reconciled with the doctrine held by some, saying that belief alone is sufficient to save a man? Would those who do not believe in Christ call Him "Lord"? These people who received this surprise were obviously active in the religious life. They stated that, in Jesus' name, they had prophesied, cast out devils, and done many wonderful works. Even so, they were rejected. What a surprise! Verse 21 tells us why they were rejected: "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Nothing could be plainer. Obedience is the critical ingredient which so many in the religious world will not accept as a part of the plan for salvation. The people Jesus spoke of said to Him, "Lord, Lord..." But these were empty words. They did not do His will, so they had not truly made Him their Lord. They did all manner of works in His name, but they had not bothered to find out what His will was, and therefore, they did not "do the will" of His Father. It is right to call Jesus Lord, but it does no good for us to do so unless we submit to His commands. It is right to do our works in His name, but this also is fruitless unless the works we do are God's will.

A terrible surprise is in store for many who think that they are serving Jesus. Our prayer is that all will carefully heed the warning of our Savior. Don't be one of those who will receive this awful surprise on judgment day. All of the zeal, sincerity, and good intentions a man can muster cannot take the place of simple obedience. The words of Jesus make that clear. Be sure that you know what God's Word says, and then do it with all your might.

Come worship with us at 10:30 a.m. Sundays at the Church of Christ, located on Highway 16 and Vanderpool Road, Medina, Texas and let us assist you in obedience to the gospel. Write to HCR 1 Box 45, Medina, Texas 78065.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

"Have you ever walked through a meadow and found your clothes covered with prickly little seedheads of burdock? If so, you will have discovered that you can not shake them off or brush them away. You have to pick them off one by one. That's how it is with habits. They fasten on to the mind, hardening into characteristics, and like burrs they cling tenaciously once they have got a hold upon you. You can not flick them off easily. Each one has to be dealt with separately. There are good habits and bad habits, but unfortunately the good ones tend to fall away. It's the bad ones that cling."

- Faith Forsythe

Yes, habits vary. There is no need to break a good habit but bad habits can and should be broken. The best reason to break a bad habit is for your own preservation and safety. Frankly, it is not best to break a bad habit... before it breaks you!

Robbins fly the nest, leave day care facility

After more than 20 years at the center, Gloria Robbins finds it hard to say goodbye

King-Dergarten, owned by Melvin and Vera King, became Robbins' nest in June, 1990, when Telvy and Gloria Robbins took over the child care facility. On Friday, July 29, Gloria Robbins held a farewell party for students after having spent over 20 years as a teacher and assistant director.

Robbins said leaving was a "hard choice" because the "fantastic parents and fantastic kids" had become an extended family over the years. Her own family, Bandera High School agriculture teacher, Telvy Robbins, and her daughter, Carlie, had helped over the years. Telvy has built gymnastics and other outdoor play equipment for the children. When he has had spare time, he has often spent it at the school visiting the children and helping his wife.

Carlie has put in many hours, this summer particularly, helping her mother. Gloria credits her daughter with being a good helper. "She comes up with fantastic ideas and I enjoy having her down here. This has been a family operation. I could always fall back on Telvy and Carlie for help when they weren't too busy."

She began working in the child care facility in 1970. "I got hooked," she admits. "I started and never could quit. The job enabled her to work while still taking care of her own children and watching them grow up. Then I got to watch other children grow up, too. It's been hard to give them up. I just want to say 'Thank you' to the parents for letting me enjoy their kids. We've had some really fantastic kids and parents."

"We've had good attendance and worked in a facility in Boerne for seven years.

Friday's "farewell party" was designed as an official "good-bye" from the Robbins' family. Children bobbed for apples; played on a slip and slide; took turns in the dunking booth; played volleyball and took turns with pinatas. A rummage sale was also held. Children were allowed to buy used toys which were not needed for the new day care facility.

After the children left, employees said their own "good-bye" with a barbecue chicken dinner.

I came not to call the righteous, but sinners." -Mark 2:17 That was Jesus' reply when the scribes of the Pharisees criticized Him for eating with tax collectors and sinners. It was a profound response, for God's Son's ministry on earth was to save mankind from its sins. That is still the function of Christianity, for its believers have received God's love, and Jesus' message. It is the gospel and the joyful message that causes the greatest concern in the church. They are the ones who are sick, in need of a spiritual physician, most desperately needing the call of Christ. It is to those who have witnessed God's blessing should extend all their love and understanding in order to have them cast off their sins and join the brotherhood of the righteous.

WANTED
The Walker Memorial Chapel held a covered dish fellowship dinner after morning worship services on Sunday, July 31 at San Diego Fellowship Hall. After enjoying the meal, the congregation returned to the main Chapel to take part in a "Gingspiration" praising the Lord for the goodness he gives. Attendance was not large due to the many members traveling out of town on vacation.

Marietta Overholser has returned from a very enjoyable visit to the west coast. Marietta and her sister Vera Burra flew to Los Angeles on July 12 and stayed with sister Murnie and brother-in-law Bob Baker. While there they went to Seaport Village, which they enjoyed, and they visited Kathy's husband, Mark Roy. Sandy Goodrich drove her mother and sisters from La Mar to Occochee, about 190 miles, to visit. They saw nephew Bobby Wayne, whom they had not seen for about 25 years.

Marietta and Vera got in both shopping and sightseeing, and they enjoyed the cool weather, as it was a change from Bandera's summer heat. She returned home on July 20, welcomed by many friends and her dogs, Goldie and Corky. Recent guests of Bill and Lenna Walker were Frank and Mary Ellen and Emily, and Cecily Decker from Dallas; Ruth Masters from Wichita Falls; and Captain Dan and Ruth Adie Clipper and son Joshua, all from San Angelo.

LETTER TO HOUSEHOLDS (Single Child)
NATIONAL SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM/SCHOOL BREAKFAST PROGRAM

Dear Parent/Guardian:
The Medina Independent School District, school serves meals each school day. Children may buy lunch for $1.00 for K-3rd and $1.25 for 4th-12th, and breakfast for 50¢. Children may also get meals free at a reduced price.

If you now get food stamps or AFDC for your child, your children can get free meals. If your total household income is the same or less than the amounts on the Income Chart below, your child can get free meals or reduced price meals. A foster child may get free or reduced price meals regardless of your income. The reduced price is 40¢ for lunch and 30¢ for breakfast.
TO GET FREE OR REDUCED PRICE MEALS FOR YOUR CHILD, YOU MUST COMPLETE AN APPLICATION AND RETURN IT TO THE SCHOOL. WE CANNOT APPROVE AN APPLICATION THAT IS NOT COMPLETE.

HOW TO APPLY: If you now get food stamps or AFDC for the child you are applying for, the application must have the child's name, a food stamp or AFDC case number for that child, and the signature of an adult household member. If you are applying for a foster child, the application must have the child's name, the child's "personal use" income, and an adult signature. If you do not list a food stamp or AFDC case number for all the child you are applying for, then the application must have the child's name, the names of all household members, the amount of income each person got last month and where it came from, the signature of an adult household member and that adult's social security number or the word "none" if the adult does not have a social security number.

VERIFICATION: Your eligibility may be checked at any time during the school year. School officials may ask you to send papers showing that your children should get free or reduced price meals.
FAIR HEARING: You may talk to school officials if you do not agree with the school's decision on your application or the results of verification. You also may ask for a fair hearing. You may do this by calling or writing: MR DALE NAUMANN, PRINCIPAL, P.O. BOX 1470, MEDINA, TEXAS 78055. PHONE: 589-2852.

REPORTING CHANGES: If your child gets free or reduced price meals because of your income, you must tell the school if your household size decreases or your income increases by more than $50 per month or $600 per year. If your child gets meals because they get food stamps or AFDC, you must tell the school when you are not getting AFDC or food stamps for them. You may then fill out another application giving income information.

CONFIDENTIALITY: School officials use the information on the application only to decide if your child should get free or reduced price meals.
HANDICAPPED: Meal substitutions at no additional cost for children who meet the definition of "handicapped" will be served, provided a physician has submitted a statement attesting to this fact and prescribing a substitute.

REAPPLICATION: You may apply for meals anytime during the school year. If you are not eligible now but have a change in status, like a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, become unemployed or get food stamps or AFDC for your child, you may then complete an application.

HANDICAPPED: Meal substitutions at no additional cost for children who meet the definition of "handicapped" will be served, provided a physician has submitted a statement attesting to this fact and prescribing a substitute.

IN THE OPERATION OF THE CHILD FEEDING PROGRAMS, NO CHILD WILL BE DISCRIMINATED AGAINST BECAUSE OF RACE, SEX, COLOR, NATIONAL ORIGIN, AGE OR HANDICAP. IF YOU BELIEVE YOU HAVE BEEN DISCRIMINATED AGAINST, WRITE IMMEDIATELY TO THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20250.

We will let you know when your application is approved or denied.
Sincerely
DALE NAUMANN,
Principal, Medina Independent School District

Texas International Apple Festival 1994

Medina registration announced

Medina students will begin registering the week of Aug. 8.

On Monday, Aug. 8 from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., students in eleventh and twelfth grades will register. Also on Monday, ninth and tenth graders will register between 7 and 8:30 a.m.

Registration for grades sixth through eighth will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 9 from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. New students in grades six through 12 will register on Tuesday, Aug. 9 between 1 and 3:30 p.m. New students should bring a report card with them from their previous school.

Grades kindergarten through fifth grade will register on the first day of school.

Medina ISD announces new school policies

Medina Independent School District will begin the new school year on Aug. 15 with new policies and personnel.

Out-of-district new students transferring into the district for the first time will pay a $500 per year tuition. This policy will not affect students who attended the Medina schools the past year.

Beginning with the ninth grade, credits required for graduation will be increased from 21 to 24. Also, the student handbook has been revised. It includes changes in the dress code, grading procedures and excessive absences, tardies and others.

Lunch prices will remain the same. School hours will also remain the same, from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

New personnel for the district include: Anita Lowe, reading specialist (a new position in the district); Lara Tyler Lich, librarian; Patricia McLaughlin, computer and technology specialist; and David Shirk, band director.

The district has set charges for all non-school related services. This includes copies, fax service, laminating and notary services.

Utopia school opens Aug. 19

Friday, Aug. 19 will be the first regular day of school for the Utopia Independent School District. School hours are from 8 a.m. to 3:35 p.m.

Lunch will be served as usual on Friday, Aug. 19. However, no breakfast will be served on the first day back to school. Utopia is expecting approximately the same number of students as last year, 165, in grades kindergarten through 12. Teachers will be back in school on Monday, Aug. 15.

She's gone to the dogs, and loves it

Bitay Waits moved to Bandera in 1965 and took a dog groomer as her career in 1978. She opened up "Poodles and Pals" on Main Street in the Frontier Hotel building on May 1, 1978.

Waits has spent 16 years grooming dogs, bathing dogs, dipping them, and cutting their toenails. She does not charge for cutting toenails. During all these years, she has changed only one thing about her business. "When I turned 60, I quit opening on Friday. I'm open now Monday through Thursday from nine in the morning until I finish. When I get through, I go home."

Home is a 12-acre spread on the Tarpley highway and is also the home of Bandera Boarding Kennels. The facility holds 12 runs, which Waits says is enough. She says she wants to give each animal the best possible care and cannot do that with too many animals. Kennel occupancy varies but Waits' facility is often full. Sometimes a family will board up to four dogs at a time at Bandera Boarding Kennels.

Waits says she has lived in Bandera longer than she has ever lived anywhere else and "loves it. I love my place and have a good neighbor. I plan to live here the rest of my life. I love dogs. You have to if you're in this business. The only bad thing about it is that most of my customers don't like to come see me!"

As a part of her business, Waits takes every opportunity to save abandoned dogs. She advises friends and customers to look for pets which are up for adoption at veterinary clinics in Bandera County, or at the humane society. "A person can usually find any kind of dog they want if they keep checking. And it saves a dog's life."

Waits is now caring for the second generation dogs of her regular customers. "And some of them," she says, "are getting old."

She tries to keep her bathing and grooming down to five dogs a day so that she can do a good job on each one. She says puppies are the most challenging, but that she likes to be the first one to give them baths, dip them and groom them. "It takes patience, but if I see that something is making them nervous, I can do something else with them and then go back to what I was doing."

Her daughter, Suzi, helps her in the business as she has done every since it opened. She does most of the kennel work and takes care of the boarders. That frees up her mother's time for clipping and grooming dogs in the Bandera shop. "I couldn't do it without Suzi," Bitay says. "But I like what I do. It's a good living and it's pretty easy unless you get dogs in the kennel to board that bark all night. The house is close to the kennel."

Waits lost a son, Edward Rice Stapleton, in a car accident in 1976. Suzi has a rare medical disorder, hemochromatosis. Her liver does not get rid of iron. Iron builds up in her blood, causing spots on her skin. To control the disease, Suzi has a pint of blood drawn every six months. Her diet and exposure to the sun are restricted.

Years ago, shortly after having a pint of blood drawn on a hot day in July, Suzi suffered a stroke which left her speech, especially, impaired. She has made a dramatic recovery since then and is able to talk and function on a normal to near-normal level. Waits is grateful for that. She depends on her daughter's help to run both Poodles and Pals and Bandera Boarding Kennels.

Her life has clearly "gone to the dogs" since she moved to Bandera. She loves every minute of it.

Fifteen helpers at Hill Country Chapel ran a vacation Bible school program for 109 children last week. "Son Country Farm", growing children God's way, included daily one-act plays, singing and all the traditional activities of vacation Bible school. The skits taught the value of the fruit of the Spirit including love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, in individual lives. Pastor Albert "Skip" Marks said he wants to "thank the parents for letting us have their children for the week. It was a great week."

Tarpley

Nettie Dean

We had a norther blow in the weekend, unusual for July. There was only a sprinkle of rain, but it did bring much cooler temperatures.

A reminder for everyone to remember this Saturday August 6th is the "cleanup-day" for the Tarpley Fire Department. This is a time to clean up as possible before it's so hot. All help would be appreciated. It's not long until the annual benefit Barbecue held on Sunday September 4th.

Good news to report is little miss Courtney Rhea Gallisop got to come home July 31st from the Methodist Hospital in San Antonio where she had spent 8 days for medical treatment. She is doing fine now and happy to be home with her proud parents Marie & Brian Gallisop of Tarpley. She was born on July 22nd and the following day was sent on to San Antonio.

Frank & Evelyn Sprague of Hamilton, met Saturday afternoon for a short visit with Mr. & Mrs. Willie J. Schmidt. The Spragues lived in Bandera some years ago and were with the Bandera Soil Conservation Company.

Houseguests of Idabelle Fary last week were Susan & John Schocherer and Leah, Karen & Dean Jaks and Janelle of Fremont, California, Billie Ann Burrell of D'Hanis, and Bonnie Jaks of Rio Medina.

Visiting during the week were Denise, Rick, Corey and Chad Burrell of D'Hanis, and Marilyn & Billy Kiggs of Sahril. Things enjoyed were swimming, fishing, and fossil hunting in Rio Hondo. One day they took a scenic drive to the head waters of the Medina River. Other fun activities were the Tuesday night rodeo at Mansfield Park, horseback riding at The Lightning Ranch, and a swimming party & weiner roast with Wilton & Bobbie Neil Odrer at Medina.

Dinner guests Saturday were Mr. & Mrs. Charles H. Dean of New Braunfels and children Jacob, Rachel, and a friend Jana Stewart of Carrollton, Georgia. Marie & Jim Carlson and son Jonathon Newcomb of San Antonio, and a friend from Fowler Springs, Georgia, Miss Anita Evans.

The Tarpley Baptist Church was honored Sunday to have Rev. & Mrs. Vernon Andrew of Natalia fill the pulpit. Bro Andrews had been the pastor here for 3 years, leaving 4 years ago. Guests with them were their grand-daughter Stephanie who lives with them and their son and wife Dannie & Erica with their 4 month old daughter Erin Elizabeth and 2 sons. The Andrews rendered a lovely song proving that they haven't lost their musical touch.

Virgil Becha's grandson Brandon Corlen from Alta Loma, California is visiting him in the Vern & Jolyn Shrock home.

Ninety youth participate in Bandera's Woodmen of the World camp

It's a bird...it's a plane...it's summer fun at the Woodmen of the World camp in Bandera. Woodmen youth from southwest Texas, from the ages of 8 to 15 spent three weeks in Bandera enjoying outdoor sports and indoor activities. Swimming, volleyball, riflery and archery are just a few of the many outdoor events that made the 90 youth "happy campers."

Ninety youth from southwest Texas spent three weeks at the Woodmen of the World camp in Bandera. The campers included youth from the Bandera area and from Lampasas to the Rio Grande Valley and from Del Rio to Victoria.

The youth were from eight-years-old to 15. They paid a $10 fee for camp and took home T-shirts and caps. While at camp, they participated in swimming, basketball, volleyball, riflery, archery and other outdoor sports. They also divided into teams and played indoor games.

They were also given a chance to tour a military helicopter. Bandera Volunteer Fire Department chief, Phillip Tobin, marked the landing site for the chopper. Once it had landed, the campers were allowed to climb inside and have a first-hand look at the controls and instruments. Trick roping and other entertaining events were also scheduled.

Johnny Huggins, the state manager for the Woodmen organization, lives in Bandera.

Rocky Perrilloux served as the fraternal coordinator for the camp activities. She said the camp made a perfect score on the state health inspection this year and meets all state regulations.

Woodmen purchased the former Camp Covenant from C.W. Knoles and have operated the camp for two years. It is rented out for family reunions, retreats, and other events to help pay utilities. Since it is a non-profit, Perrilloux says, donations of building materials and construction supplies are always welcome.

Woodmen of the World purchased the camp a year ago. Between April and July, they installed a swimming pool and a high school regulation basketball court. In the future, they plan to provide hook-ups for RVs.

The camp is located on approximately 18 acres of land off Highway 173 north of Bandera. The bunk house sleeps a total of 125 campers.

Perrilloux says that Woodmen of the World has been around for 104 years and is older than the Boy Scout organization. She says the Rangers (W.O.W.'s youth organization) includes youth from age 9 to 15.

"We teach them at an early age to become involved in the community and work to improve it. We are very patriotic. Last year, we gave out more than 40,000 U.S. Flags. We hold a formal flag destruction in Bandera each year. Our insurance company is a fraternal organization with benefits for members. For instance, if a family is 100 percent covered, the new born baby will be covered, too, regardless of its health at birth.

The Woodmen of southwest Texas are donating 1,000 teddy bears to Kerrville this year in August. The bears will be given to children in stressful situations to help them cope.

'Jockeys in the Community' meets with success

The Bandera Downs "Jockeys in the Community" program has met with immediate and enormous success, according to Dinah Lovett, of the direct marketing program.

Lovett says that from only two visiting days, the marketing office at the racetrack has been "flooded with calls and requests" for visits from jockeys. Bandera Downs furnished free posters of the 1994 jockeys to be given away to children. These were personally autographed and distributed by the jockeys who visited.

Riders will visit children's hospitals, schools, children's homes and shelters, homes for the elderly and retirement communities. They dress in full silks, including boots, pants and bright colors, and bring equipment to describe and demonstrate to their audience. They let children touch and examine saddles, girths, helmets, goggles and safety vests.

The jockeys receive no payment for these visits. Visits are scheduled between workouts and race days.

Jockeys in the Community was the idea of Wendy Reardon, marketing assistant at Bandera. Her fiancée is Jerry Parenti, Jr., one of the first jockeys to participate. Scott Orr, Johnny Maldonado, Tommy Brown, Russell Brown, Ben Lewis and other jockeys will be involved in this program.

For more information, call Bandera Downs Marketing Department, (210) 796-7781, extension 228.

Ninety youth participate in Bandera's Woodmen of the World camp

It's a bird...it's a plane...it's summer fun at the Woodmen of the World camp in Bandera. Woodmen youth from southwest Texas, from the ages to 8 to 15 spent three weeks in Bandera enjoying outdoor sports and indoor activities. Swimming, volleyball, riflery and archery are just a few of the many outdoor events that made the 90 youth "happy campers."

Ninety youth from southwest Texas spent three weeks at the Woodmen of the World camp in Bandera. The campers included youth from the Bandera area and from Lampasas to the Rio Grande Valley and from Del Rio to Victoria.

The youth were from eight-year-olds to 15. They paid a $10 fee for camp and took home T-shirts and caps. While at camp, they participated in swimming, basketball, volleyball, riflery, archery and other outdoor sports. They also divided into teams and played inside games.

They were also given a chance to tour a military helicopter. Bandera Volunteer Fire Department chief, Phillip Ducky Perrilloux served as the fraternal coordinator for the camp activities. She said the camp made a perfect score on the state health inspection this year and meets all state regulations.

Woodmen purchased the former Camp Covenant from C.W. Kincaid and have operated the camp for two years. It is sent out for family reunions, retreats, and other events to help pay utilities. Since it is a non-profit camp, Perrilloux says, donations of building materials and construction supplies are always welcome.

Woodmen of the World purchased the camp a year ago. Between April and July, they installed a swimming pool and a high school regulation basketball court. In the future, they plan to provide hook-ups for RVers.

The camp is located on approximately 18 acres of land off Highway 173 north of Bandera. The bunk house sleeps a total of 125 campers.

Perrilloux says that Woodmen of the World has been around for 104 years and is older than the Boy Scout organization. She says the Rangers (W.O.W.'s youth organization) includes youth from age 9 to 15. "We teach them at an early age to become involved in the community and work to improve it."

"We are very patriotic. Last year, we gave out more than 40,000 U.S. Flags. We hold a formal flag destruction in Bandera each year. Our insurance company is a fraternal organization with benefits for members. For instance, if a family is 100 percent covered, the new born baby will be covered, too, regardless of its health at birth.

The Woodmen of southwest Texas are donating 1,000 teddy bears to Kerrville this year in August. The bears will be given to children in stressful situations to help them cope.

'Jockeys in the Community' meets with success

The Bandera Downs "Jockeys in the Community" program has met with immediate and enormous success, according to Dinah Lovett, of the direct marketing program.

Lovett says that from only two visiting days, the marketing office at the racetrack has been "flooded with calls and requests" for visits from jockeys. Bandera Downs furnished free posters of the 1994 jockeys to be given away to children. These were personally autographed and distributed by the jockeys who visited.

Riders will visit children's hospitals, schools, children's homes and shelters, homes for the elderly and retirement communities. They dress in full silks, including boots, pants and bright colors, and bring equipment to describe and demonstrate to their audience. They let children touch and examine saddles, girths, helmets, goggles and safety vests.

The jockeys receive no payment for these visits. Visits are scheduled between workouts and race days.

Jockeys in the Community was the idea of Wendy Reardon, marketing assistant at Bandera. Her fiancé is Jerry Parenti, Jr., one of the first jockeys to participate. Scott Orm, Johnny Maldonado, Tommy Brown, Russell Brown, Ben Lewis and other jockeys will be involved in this program.

The Bandera Bulletin

Our 50th Year, No. 6

It's soccer time again! Bandera County Youth Soccer Association will have registration Aug. 17-18 from 3-4 p.m. at Alkek Elementary School, then on Saturday, Aug. 20 from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at First State Bank. Kids ages 5 through 11 are eligible to play.

It was 'SRO' at Bandera City Council

Newly elected mayor and city council members have been meeting before a "full house" since taking office. Ross Bailey's resignation was accepted at the Monday, Aug. 8 meeting. Jeanette Bridges was named mayor pro tem. Community Assembly of God pastor Brian McClane was named as temporary chief of the Bandera Volunteer Fire Department. His job will be to reconcile past and present volunteer fire fighters so the Bandera Volunteer Fire Department will have a full force again. The number of volunteers has dropped from 27 to 11.

School's Back In!

Local students will return to the classroom

Monday, Aug. 15 will be the first day of school for students attending school in both the Medina and the Bandera Independent School Districts. Utopia students will go back to school on Friday, Aug. 15.

Alkek Elementary will begin classes at 7:45 a.m. and will dismiss at 3:10 p.m. Classes at both Bandera Middle School and Bandera High School begin at 8 a.m. The middle school dismisses at 3:15 p.m. and the high school dismisses at 3:25 p.m.

Medina students will begin school at 8 a.m. and will dismiss at 3:30 p.m.

Students in Utopia will attend school from 8 a.m. to 3:35 p.m.

Beloved Hope Academy, in Lakehills, will begin school on Monday, Sept. 1 at 8:20 a.m.

'Meet the Coaches' will be Friday night

The Bulldog Booster Club will sponsor a "Meet the Coaches" night Friday, Aug. 12 starting at 7:30 p.m. at the Bandera High School campus "under the trees."

Athletic directors Mike Williamson and Barbara Mazurek will introduce members of the coaching staff, and the football, volleyball and cross country teams will also be presented.

Bulldog Booster Club caps, t-shirts and membership will be available, and refreshments of punch, lemonade and homemade cookies will be served. Everyone in the community is invited.

City council sets special meeting Friday, Aug. 12

The Bandera city council will hold a special meeting on Friday, Aug. 12 at 7 p.m.

At that meeting, council member will appoint a municipal court judge and set up an account for the Bandera Volunteer Fire Department within the framework of the city budget.

The city council was scheduled to appoint a municipal court judge at their Tuesday, Aug. 9 meeting. Council member Mike Holan objected, since Herb Kuykendall was absent from that meeting and Ross Bailey had officially resigned. He said he felt that it was unfair for three council members to make that important decision.

When Jeanette Bridges made a motion to appoint current city prosecutor Philip Meyer to the position and Dorothy Darden seconded that motion, Holan said he knew of only one way to make the appointment fair. He got up and walked out of the meeting.

With Holan gone, council members lacked a quorum and the meeting was adjourned. At Friday's meeting, both a judge and an alternate judge will be named. Council members agreed that they would not be paid for the special meeting.

City takes a stand

They will follow state law on DWI issue

The Bandera city council unanimously passed an ordinance to follow state law concerning arrests for driving while intoxicated (DWI) and public intoxication (PI) charges.

Those who are caught driving a motorized vehicle while intoxicated will no longer be arrested on public intoxication charges and magistered by the city judge. They will be tried as DWI cases in the county court system.

Former mayor, Raymond Adamietz, objected to the proposed ordinance. He said it was hard to prove DWI. He said city and county taxpayers will lose because it will take longer and cost more to process and prosecute prisoners. He upheld the current police policy of allowing officers to use their "own discretion about whether to charge offenders with PI or DWI. He said the police department needs, mainly, to get intoxicated drivers "off the street."

County attorney Kerry Schneider disagreed. She said it was not up to a police officer to decide if a driver should be charged with public intoxication or DWI. If he is driving drunk, she said, it's the officer's obligation to arrest him for DWI.

She said she had "respectfully disagree" with Adamietz. She said she does get convictions for drunk driving and that it does not cost the taxpayers more. She said that lowering a DWI charge to PI is against the law.

Mayor Robert Skinner agreed. "We have a notion here that upholds the highest standard of law. Should we not do it because it's hard to prove? Should we set a lesser standard?"

City council members voted unanimously to uphold state law.

Bandera County commissioners pass resolution on 'golden warbler crisis'

Bandera County commissioners have nothing against the golden-cheeked warbler, but to protect the property rights of county landowners, they passed a resolution opposing the inclusion of Bandera County as a critical habitat for the migrating songbird.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife has proposed the designation of 33 Texas counties as "critical habitats" for the golden-cheeked warbler. That designation includes all of Bandera County. The plan, if adopted, would require all federal agencies operating within the area to consult with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service before engaging in any activity which might "disturb the bird or its habitat."

Bandera County agent, Warren Thigpen, says he has already heard horror stories of dropping property values in the counties designated as critical habitat. He says that it starts the reason they prospered cannot be purchased and used freely, it loses value. He says he knows of only one person in the county who has ever seen a golden-cheeked warbler.

County commissioners shared the same concerns in the resolution they passed. They wrote that restrictions on the use of land in the county will greatly reduce the market value and productive value of the property. It will affect every federally funded activity within the area including: road construction; housing projects; and federally-backed agriculture production loans and FMIIA loans.

The Commissioners' Court requested a public hearing prior to the critical habitat designation.

Approximately 20.5 million acres of land in Texas would be included in the designation. More than 95 percent of land in Texas is privately owned. Local and state officials, in both political parties, have challenged the warbler issue as one of property rights.

Maria Grytlov, who is running for Texas land commissioner, says that it is "not exaggerating to say that people feel their property is being stolen by the government" through intrusions by Federal environmental laws.

She says the critical habitat proposal "could severely limit, if not outright deny, the use of your own property. That kind of governmental control is outrageous."

A property rights march and rally will take place on Saturday, Aug. 27 at 10 a.m. at the south Capital grounds in Austin. A publication from the "Take Back Texas" and "Trans Texas Heritage Association" reads, "Texans are furious! Let's take back Texas."

The public is invited to participate in the grass roots movement. The march up Congress Avenue will include cattle trucks, horse trailers, mounted groups, ranchers, builders, farmers and others who oppose the federal regulation of the State of Texas.

Agriculture commissioner Rick Perry says that property owners all around Texas are saying, "enough is enough." He says a recent gathering in Llano drew some 800 property owners who grilled the state administrator for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service over the agency's proposal to tighten federal regulation of land use in Central Texas because of a songbird.

"Now is a unique opportunity in our state's history to have an impact for future generations on the rights Texans have cherished since the days of the Republic," Perry said.

The issue of property rights will be addressed in a day-long seminar during the annual convention of the Independent Cattlemen's Association in San Antonio on Aug. 18 through 20 at the Wyndham Hotel. The seminar begins at 9:15 a.m. on Aug. 19. While the cost of attending the seminar, luncheon and afternoon reception is $30, those who would like to attend only the seminar may do so for free. Those wishing to attend should call (512) 836-1321.

Governor Ann Richards has told supporters, that she is frustrated with the federal government's intervention in Texas' natural resource issues. She has urged U.S. Secretary of the Interior Bruce Babbitt to protect the property rights of small landowners, farmers and ranchers as the U.S. fish and Wildlife Service considers designation of critical habitat in Central Texas for the goldencheeked warbler.

Richards wrote in a letter to Babbitt that "Texans treasure both their natural heritage and their rights to enjoy and use private property. Andy critical habitat plan must respect the property rights and unique needs of small landowners, farmers and ranchers, most of whom have already demonstrated their commitment to good land stewardship."

Lt. Governor Bob Bullock has also come out against the federal proposal to designate land in 33 Texas counties as critical habitat for the golden-cheeked warbler. He called the proposed action a "serious threat" to private property rights.

"It's about time that the federal government thinks about the people and their livelihood for a change," Bullock said. "I want the residents of Central Texas to know that I stand ready to help them in their fight against this blatant infringement of private property rights. This is a perfect example of regulatory overkill and bureaucratic bungling."

A new CCRA Rodeo Queen is crowned!

Robin Recter of Kerrville was crowned the Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association's 1994 Rodeo Queen on Sunday, Aug. 7. Here, the 1993 CCRA Rodeo Queen, Bonnie Martin of Uvalde, passes on the royalty honors to Recter, who competed against six other misses. Bandera County's Shawnee Strickler was named CCRA Rodeo Princess. Rhonda Lay of Red Rock was named the CCRA Teen Queen. For more, please see Page 6.

BHS begins volleyball season

Bandera High School will begin volleyball season with scrimmages on Aug. 13 and 15, the freshmen and JV will have their first home game, against Leakey, on Aug. 16.

BHS volleyball teams will travel to Randolph on Saturday, Aug. 13 for their first scrimmages of the season.

Monday, Aug. 15, BHS teams will travel to Tivy for scrimmages set to begin at 3:25 p.m.

Bandera's first game is Aug. 16, when the freshmen and JV will face Leakey at 5 and 6 p.m.

On Aug. 19-20, BHS varsity volleyballers will compete in a tournament at LaVerna.

hospital after threatening to shoot himself. Another Lakehills resident was taken to the hospital after he stabbed himself following an argument with his girlfriend. In a third incident, an Arizona woman became depressed after arguing with her boyfriend and overdosed on pills. She was reportedly still in serious condition at Sid Peterson Hospital at press time on Tuesday. The other two attempted suicide victims are recovering.

Richard Calhoun, 65, of Bandera was arrested on Aug. 5 for DWI, first offense.

Robert Malone, 37, of Divine was arrested on Aug. 6 for DWI, first offense.

BMA water issue hearing Sept. 12

A hearing on the Bexar-Medina-Atascosa (BMA) counties WCID No. 1, application No. 19-2130-C, to sell water from Medina Lake for purposes other than irrigation will be held on Sept. 12.

Hearings officer Mike Rogan ruled back in April on issues he feels are relevant to the water decision. Many Bandera County residents and several Bandera County entities are opposing the BMA application. Some of the concerns, locally, are: that water originating in Bandera County will be sold to San Antonio for a hefty profit while Bandera County residents suffer water shortages; property values around Medina Lake will drop as the lake level drops; tax revenue will be lost as property value drops; and shallow wells around the lake will go dry as the lake level drops.

Rogan listed relevant issues as being: whether the application contemplates a beneficial use of water; whether issuance of the permit would impair existing water rights or vested riparian rights; overall impact upon public welfare; and the effect, if any, upon aesthetic and recreational enjoyment of the lake and river.

The effect, if any, of the issuance of the permit on water quality is another important consideration for Rogan. He will determine any damage on wildlife habitats and on the recharge zones affected. He will also try to determine if Medina lake has a firm yield and what that yield is.

Other concerns will be addressed by Rogan. However, he names as issues not relevant to the Sept. 12 hearing the following: past non-use of a portion of BMA's authorized water rights; effect of the permit's issuance upon value of property around Medina Lake; and whether the need exists to apply BMA's surface water to new uses.

Rogan says that the economic impact upon local governments, should the permit change be granted, and whether Medina Dam and Diversion Dam are structurally sound are issues of questionable relevance.

RANCHERS CHALLENGE

Paul Garrison, a local rancher, has issued a challenge to all other ranchers in this area. The challenge is to provide a team for the American Cancer Society Golf Tournament to be held Monday, Oct. 3, 1994 at the Flying L Golf Course. The entry fee will be $200 for a team of four golfers. Proceeds will go to the American Cancer Society to assist cancer patients in our community.

A trophy cup will be awarded to the ranchers whose team wins. Mr. Garrison hopes that all ranchers in our community will accept the challenge and provide teams to compete for the trophy cup. There will be help for those ranchers who need assistance in developing teams for the Ranchers Cup Challenge.

For more information, help, or to enter, please contact Robert Cohn at 796-3077 or Chubby Chandler at 589-2844.

Looking Back

The headlines in the Bandera Bulletin above the original picture read, "ALL STARS GO TO STATE," and that is just what the Bandera County Little League did on Aug. 10, 1978. The state tournament is held in Waco each year. This team was the first ever to have the honor of attending the tournament from Bandera County, and none have gone since. Aug. 10 marks the 18th year since that magical summer.

Coached by Carol D'Spain and Jessie Cardenas, the team won two out of four games, placing sixth in the tournament. This meant that the team was number six in the state. At that time, Texas had 500 leagues.

Jessie Cardenas is still enthusiastically coaching baseball. Carol D'Spain dedicated 19 years coaching Little League. He now resides in Bandera Nursing Home since being diagnosed with a degenerative brain disease. "He would very much enjoy receiving cards or letters from any of the players he so dearly loved to coach," says Carol's wife, Patsy D'Spain.

Significant changes in BSD student policies handbook

Gang membership, cheating, plagiarism, medical issues, sexual harassment, more addressed

Bandera Independent School District students will find several changes in the student policies handbook for the 1994-95 school year.

A section on cheating, plagiarism and academic dishonesty has been added. Students who are caught participating in the above will face action. They may lose credit for the work in question. Students and parents may appeal a teacher's decision.

Students must remain current on all class work in order to participate in clubs and organizations; extracurricular activities; parties and socials; and out of town trips.

Membership in a gang is prohibited. Also prohibited are earrings on boys and nose rings (or similar items) on a student because they do not conform to community standards.

The school may refer fighting students for criminal prosecution in a court of law. Any medication, prescription or nonprescription, that a student must bring to school must be submitted to the school nurse or designee BEFORE SCHOOL. The school is not allowed to act as a dispensing pharmacy. The school will not stock nonprescription medications of any kind including aspirin or cough medicine-type medications. If a student requires ANY medicine at all, it must be brought from home.

The school is not responsible for the costs of medical treatment or transportation if the need arises for emergency medical treatment.

A new section on sexual harassment has been added. It explains how to register complaints. Under the "Communicable Diseases" section of the handbook, it explains that the exclusion from school of a student with HIV/AIDS is limited. Grounds for exclusion are a severe or chronic skin eruption or lesion that cannot be covered and that poses a threat to others. A child's physician will make that determination.

Every year, each student and parent must sign a statement

County sets burning ban

Bandera County Commissioners signed a resolution on Monday, Aug. 8 to ban open, outdoor burning in Bandera County for the next 30 days.

The resolution was passed because Bandera had received no appreciable rainfall for approximately the past-50 days. Weather forecasters, at least as of Monday, had offered little promise of a change in the hot, dry conditions, although scattered showers came to the area Tuesday.

Hot dry conditions pose the threat of large, fast-moving wild fires which have the potential of endangering lives and damaging property.

The purpose of the ban is to prevent the hazard posed by this order if the burns any combustible materials outside an enclosure which serves to contain all flames and/or sparks.

Flagrant violations of this order may be prosecuted. A person in violation of this order if the burns any combustible materials outside an enclosure which serves to contain all flames and/or sparks.

The day after county commissioners signed the burning ban, Bandera County began to receive the first major rainfall it has experienced in over a month.

Your Basic Bandera

Peggy Tobin

Having received a communique (a French term for message, which is in turn another French word, come to think of it) from Dr. Tom Hatfield of Medina and UT-Austin kidding us just a little for utilizing a French phrase in writing for the Bandera Bulletin, we will not call this week's offering "un peu de tout". Rather, we'll say it's "un poco de todo", using a cliché (another French word!) much more understandable, at least between here and Eagle Pass.

Continuing with another introductory paragraph, it has occurred to us sitting here at the typewriter that we cannot think of a plain old Anglo-Saxon word for "communique" or "message". Is there one? Dr. Hatfield, please help. Meanwhile, the adoption into English of so many French words since the Norman Conquest of 1066, you would think the French would be a bit friendlier toward the idea that their citizens are now borrowing so much from English. Le snack bar. Le fax. Le Bigmac. And so on.

Allons, we mean adelante, with Basil Bandera. With Hill County apples still for sale in local grocery stores and here and there in stands along the highway, the apple festival is ongoing even with the craftsmen and musicians departed for yet another show.

We're reminded that a hundred years ago, the prime tourist attraction of the county was not the racetrack or the dance-hall, but Amasa Clark's Elm Dale Nursery out on the headwaters of Elm Creek beneath Peacock Mountain, the little peak now topped by the red-blinking antenna in back of town.

Old "Amasie", as he was called, went against conventional wisdom that apple trees would not grow here and won prizes with his entire crop of fairies in Kerr and Kendall. Whether his trees survived the eventual onslaught of cottony root-rot which our present-day growers counteract with sophisticated applications of chemicals, we don't know. Maybe Mr. Clark knew to acidify the soil with plain old sulphur.

At any rate he was famous for apples, pears, peaches and roses, and people drove out in a parade of wagons and buggies to see his orchard when it was in full bloom. Just a year or so ago, when the county historical commission was working on a state marker for the Clark Cemetery on the old ranch, Jim Evans took pictures of the pear trees standing in good health after more than a century. Could there be a few antique roses still hanging on?

Several people were sure, when Aug. 2 rolled around, that with heat and drought conditions similar to those preceding that fateful date in 1978, we'd get a rain, though surely not on the monumental proportions of the one which brought our 500-year flood. It didn't happen, but as Bill McCreary of Always says, every hot dry day is bringing us one day closer to the next good rain.

Remembering 1978, someone asked us how we define a "newcomer", there being so much talk lately about such folds. Well, don't you think a real newcomer is one who has no idea that Bandera County almost washed away in a major flood in 1978 and acts and builds as though such a thing could never happen. Then there is another category of water-washing associated newcomers who were not here when the Medina River went totally dry during the drought of the 1950's, and you could walk to town from English Crossing on the bare white limestone of the river bed. We actually did that!

You'd have to say that old-timers now are those who do recall the Big Drouth, since there is no pioneer character left who can remember the gigantic floods of the earliest 1900's, which washed gravel bars all across the Paul Moravets fields below town, nor the even earlier floods which forced Bandera businesses to move from the river-bank location on the old cypress mill to safer locations on top of the bluff. And surely nobody who can recall the drought which almost starved Castroville farmers to death in the 19th century. For all those stories, read your Texas history.

(In addition to publishing the Bandera Bulletin, J. Marvin Hunter wrote many stories of the early days of Texas.)

The dog days of Summer are upon us, and school is about to begin! Every time this time rolls around, I harken back to my school days. High School sat on a hill overlooking the whole sparkling blue Los Angeles Harbor. When it came time to figure out classes for the Senior year, it took me longer than anyone else 'cause I had to figure the right credits...and the right rooms. (All with a view of the harbor and the big ships coming and going, and sail boats fitting about.) It was worth the effort, only I was always wanting to run away to sea. So in order to fill one certain credit, I had to take typing, cooking or International Morse Code!

I figured with the "A" that I earned in you know which, I could become a seamstress on a freighter and sail the seven seas! Never did use that course. The others would certainly have been handy!

We were the first high school in the school district to get a marching squad together for football games. We girls were so strong and did we "wow" them on the field at half time. We all made our own uniforms, and had to plead with the school board to let us have our skirts at least middle of the knee...that was really during Ah! Youth!

There's a cute book out, called "My Recipes are From the Birds" by The Cosgroves. It gives you a run down on bird feeders and watering holes, then it goes on to recipes like "Blue-bird Betty" with sugar, raisins, shortening, etc. Other recipes are "May Jambalaya, Finch Fries" and more.

There are all kinds of "horsey" things to do with your visiting whoevers, besides the rodeos. Riding stables are springing up everywhere. Running R, Luna Creek, Lightning, Twin Elm and Flying L, then, a mule draw wagon from Loma de Blanca Ranch out on Dixie Dude Road will take you for evening and sunset rides, and Jennie Parker with her Wonder Horse, "Comet", gives terrific historical tours of Bandera. She also has a special "Lightning Bug Ride" where she takes you to the best view in the County for lightning bugs. For weddings, she's figured out this neat idea...She carries you to the altar in her white carriage, and after the ceremony, she bids and groom climb back in again and they open a white basket and out fly 2 white doves. The really neat thing about this is that they are really homing pigeons and so they always turn up at home and she never loses them. They're ready for the next wedding!

Kelly Scott has a wide assortment of stage coaches and buggies you can rent (a lot of his are used in the movies), and the Bandera Forge guys have a chuck wagon that they take around to prepare outdoor breakfasts and suppers for private parties. I know there are more...but this is quite an assortment for little 'ol Bandera.

You've all heard of the New Pilot program they have going out at the Race Track? You know...you take it from here and you "pile-it" there. Well, in Boston, they've had quite a problem getting rid of the manure in their zoos, so they started up a new product called "Zoo Doo". That's right elephants, hippos and rhinos, and other herbivores. For 4 1/2 pounds of this Zoo Doo, it only costs $9.95! Instructions say "For potted plants, apply 1/2 teaspoon per inch of pot diameter, twice a year!" Anyone for gold sprayed Hippo paddies?

This year's "Apple Royalty" at the Texas International Apple Festival in Medina included, from left, Megan McCrane, 8, named Miss Apple Dumping; Eva Jean Keese, named Ms. Apple Blossom; and Joe Cavillio, 7, named Mr. Johnny Appleseed. Keese is a lifelong resident of Medina, and is a member of the board of directors of the Medina Texas Development Corporation.

The Medina Mavericks sponsored a walk during the apple festival. Club member Dick Barton; president Dot Joy; Bruce Brown, owner of Cinco B, and vice president Clay Walker are pictured here. Brown laid out the trail for the walkers and opened up his ranch, Cinco B, to them for the July 30 walk. Utopia Water and the apple festival helped sponsor the event which drew 303 walkers.

Laurie Gibson was the grand champion fiddler at the apple festival this year. She moved to Bandera about three months ago. Her parents are Hoot and Jo Louisa Gibson, who moved to Bandera from Kingsville. Gibson has been fiddling for the past 25 years and has played professionally for the past 20 years. She has lived in New Mexico and Oklahoma and moved back to Texas because "so much more was going on musically." It was her first apple festival, an event which she called "excellent." She is in the process of picking up band members now for her band; getting to know musicians and let musicians get to know her. She says she plays "a little different" than most fiddlers, classic as well as new western. The Laurie Gibson band has opened top Nashville acts including Hank Williams, Jr., Charlie Daniels and Dave Dudley. More than 25 contestants competed in three categories in the apple festival fiddle contest. Regina Mathews of San Antonio won first and Clay Currier of Seguin won second in the age 1-15 category; Pat Toland of San Antonio won first and Jim Barton of Hondo won second in the 16 and older category; and Ingersoll Manning of San Antonio won first in the 35-74 category.

Football equipment will be issued to seventh and eighth graders at Bandera Middle School on Friday, Aug. 12 from 2 to 6 p.m.

Visiting Nola and Phil Bledsoe for the past week were Nola's father, Richard Bertoy Phillips of Birmingham and her daughter Brenda Love. Nola's son, Mike Avallone of San Antonio also came to visit for a few days. They all attended the apple festival, enjoying the music and food, and purchased lots of items to take back home with them. They also packed two boxes of cactus to take to Birmingham, hoping they will grow there in the red clay. They also enjoyed touring the Hill Country, Kerrville and San Antonio.

Aug. 2, Bob Rucker received a telephone call from a woman in Fort Worth, informing him that his father, Leonard Rucker was transported to a hospital with what was believed to be a heart attack. Bob was able to get a flight out of San Antonio with his wife, Leonard and two sons, a slight heart attack with some damage to the heart. He was released from the hospital on Saturday and Bob returned home late Saturday evening.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

Someone once said that the wisest mind had something yet to learn. The old saying, "We are never too old to learn" is most true. To the last day of our lives we should be learning something. If we are not learning something each day we are making something less than a success of our lives. It could be said that when we stop learning we stop living...

The age in which we live is the most complex, interesting and privileged that any generation has ever experienced. There has never been a time when a person could learn as much as today even with the turmoil and unrest going on all about us... We like this saying by Harvey Ullman: "Anyone who stops learning is old, whether this happens at twenty or eighty. Anyone who keeps on learning not only remains young, but becomes more valuable regardless of physical capacity..." Let's keep on learning!

Warbler

Bullcock sent a letter to Molly Beattie, director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. He wrote that critical habitat proposal was "nothing less than government intrusion on the fundamental rights of private property owners."

By dictating how private citizens can and can't use their own land, you will cause their property values to plummet—which will be less than government intrusion on the fundamental rights of private property owners. This letter will allow those who need help in writing a letter to write to their U.S. Congress members. It will state that they are for or against the warbler proposal. Those using the form letters (which will not be available until sometime next week) will also be able to tell why they are for or against the proposal. Meanwhile, concerned individuals may write to their Congress representatives. Those addresses appear on page 3 of the Bandera Bulletin.

Let The Bible Speak

Does the End Justify the Means?
There is a philosophy in religion which has been accepted in many churches which claims to belong to Christ. It is the idea that the end justifies the means. In other words, if the result is good, then any means used to accomplish that result is permissible. Basing their approach upon this philosophy, many liberal religious groups today engage in many practices that are foreign and unknown to the New Testament, and were never present in the apostolic church, the church that Jesus built—Matthew 16:18. Numbered among such practices are such things as joy buses, movies, team sports, youth church, puppet ministries, and such like which have their appeal to the masses, but have no foundation in scripture. What was in the early days that appealed to the people? Was it not the gospel? Paul did not need anything but the gospel to convince men of sin, and show them how to be saved. In Romans 1:16, Paul said that the gospel was God's power to save, and he was not ashamed of that fact. I think many times today we are ashamed to say what Paul did because it doesn't draw the masses. Other means to draw people are used, and other methods of salvation are offered instead of the gospel. The gospel offers sound doctrine, and Paul said in II Timothy 4:3, "For the time shall come when they will not endure sound doctrine..." Verse 4 says, "And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables."

The Bible has given us a notable example of the folly of this philosophy in the case of Moses. When the children of Israel were encamped at Kadesh, there was no water. With anger in their voices, the people confronted Moses and "kissed" with him—Numbers 20:3. God spoke to Moses and commanded him to take the rod, and speak to the rock before their eyes, and He promised that water would come forth. Moses obtained good results from what he did (he gave the people water) but his method was contrary to what God had commanded. He struck the rock instead of speaking as he should—Numbers 20:11. Only a very small deviation, isn't it? So small that God would not allow Moses into the land of promise! (Numbers 20:12) THE END DID NOT JUSTIFY THE MEANS!! Let us examine every word of doctrine, every method of work, and every item of practice to see that it goes not beyond his rule—the New Testament. Come worship with us at 10:30 a.m. Sundays at the Church of Christ, located on Highway 16 and Vandervoort Road, Medina, Texas and let us assist you in obedience to the gospel. Write to HCR 1 Box 45, Medina, Texas 75055.

City to decide water issue stand

Will they join Bandera County's fight against BMA application?

City council members will again be given a chance to decide on joining or not joining Bandera County in opposing Bezar-Medina-Atascosa (BMA) Counties WCID No. 1 application No. 19-2130-C on Tuesday, Aug. 16. BMA proposes to sell water which originates in Bandera County and is held in Medina Lake for municipal, as well as irrigation, purposes in San Antonio.

Phil Becker, of the Springhill Water Management District, said he had met with BMA officials and asked them to consider a firm yield 5,000-acre foot contract for Bandera County. He said Bandera County would not pay for water from Medina Lake until it is needed, with a pay-half price for the first 20 years of the contract and a "fair price" for the next 20 years of a 40-year contract. "They recognize Bandera County as a neighbor and that it has a water problem," Becker said. "They want to sit down with Bandera County to discuss it."

County attorney Jerry Schneider told city council members that Bandera County has a critical need for water and that BMA was never willing to negotiate with Bandera County until the county organized to fight BMA on their profit-making plan of selling water from Bandera County to San Antonio residential and commercial customers.

"The reason they are asking to us now is that we're saying, 'we're not going to take it anymore.' Something has to be acceptable to the city council."

1994	Property Tax Rates in BANDERA, IND. SCHOOL DIST.
This notice concerns 1994 property tax rates for Bandera, Ind. school district. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the school district used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the school district can set before it must hold a rollback election. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes and state funds by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Ag science teachers at BHS are 'sold' on their job

They use projects like newly-built greenhouse to teach life skills to students

Bandera High School agriculture teachers Telvy Robbins and Tom Maynard are proud of the 22-foot by 68-foot greenhouse which ag students built last year. The structure is nearly completed. Students this year will put fiberglass panels on the welded frame and install a cooling system. The building is ready for use and has been designed for use "limited only by the students' imaginations."

Bandera High School agricultural science teachers Telvy Robbins and Tom Maynard are "sold" on their jobs. They are also proud of the nearly completed 22 by 68-foot greenhouse, designed and built by students.

Robbins has been an agricultural science teacher at Bandera High School for the past 30 years. He says that, as a teacher, his outlook is a bit different than some teachers. "I'm not concerned if students like me or not. I want respect. Respect is lasting."

"I teach students things that relate to life, respect and the ability to work. Kids who grow up on a ranch and are taught early to work take pride in doing a good job. They enjoy work. But we get other kids—kids who have never worked. To them, work is a foreign word."

When Tom Maynard was hired by the Bandera Independent School District and joined Robbins in the ag department, Maynard began a horticultural project. The large greenhouse was a natural outgrowth of that project. It took students a year to complete the structure for two reasons: they took time off to prepare for stock shows around the area; and they were unskilled when the project began.

"In my previous position," Maynard says, "we put a greenhouse together from a kit. It took about a year, too. For this one, we had to teach these kids as we went. They started out not knowing how to strike an arc or run a bead."

Robbins said he drew on the Beverage Barn design for the greenhouse. "These kids may never want a greenhouse. But they can go home and build a workshop with the same principal. Gabe Anderson built that building (which is now the Beverage Barn) years ago and it withstood the flood. It had 9 1/2 feet of water in it and it stayed up. I didn't copy it exactly, but I'll take an idea wherever I find it. A lot of good ideas come from students."

The veteran teacher says he tries to learn something new everyday. When it comes to the ag department, he says, "what it ing down. We'll put some gravel down inside and start using it this year. It's as good a quality or better—no I've seen in other schools. It is built so that if we ever want to add on, we can."

The greenhouse will provide a place year-around for class projects for the horticulture program. Students will not be limited by weather or environment. "This program," Maynard explains, "offers learning by hands-on class and individual projects. Even while I'm teaching about it, they are watching it happen."

Robbins says he is proud of the job the students did. "It takes longer with students because they are unskilled but willing. You can't expect them to be so fast (as more experienced workers). But the quality is as good, or better."

boils down to is that we're sold on what we're doing."

Maynard agrees. He says that horticulture is a viable career. Besides helping people cope with stress, it makes good earnings possible through landscaping businesses and golf course maintenance along with more traditional jobs in the field. He says the usefulness of the newly constructed greenhouse is limited "only by the students' imaginations."

When school begins this year, students will use roofing screws with the fiberglass roof, which has a 10-year warranty. Water lines have already been installed. A cooling system will be built and the building will be wired for electricity. Robbins and Maynard say that each step of the project is, and has been, a learning project for students. Safety is one important lesson. Robbins and Maynard say they "eat, breathe and sleep safety."

The metal trusses designed and built for the greenhouse weigh between 350 and 400 pounds each. After welding them, students had to find a way to lift them up to the roof. They made a hoist and used a tractor to set them. "That's one thing I try to teach," Robbins explains.

"I try to get them to figure out a way to do something. There is no such thing as 'can't.' With imagination, I want to see the sky's the limit. I get ... in here who are afraid to try things for fear they will 'mess up.' I just tell them, 'if we mess up, we just do it again.'"

"I try to make this a real-life experience for them. Employers don't want someone who will say, 'I can't,' or 'I don't know how.' They want someone who will give it a try or who is willing to learn."

Maynard credits Robbins with being "about as good a shop teacher as can be found." He says the greenhouse is "pretty professional." He points out that it was designed with thought for the future. "The water lines are outside so we don't have to disturb anything inside if there is a break. Black net can be suspended from the trusses. A band of hanging baskets can be hung without pulling the building down. We'll put some gravel down inside and start using it this year. It's as good a quality or better—no I've seen in other schools. It is built so that if we ever want to add on, we can."

Musicians' reunion set at Pop's Place

The 22nd annual Hill Country Musicians' Reunion will be held at Pop's Place at the head of Medina Lake, 5 miles south of Pipe Creek on FM 1283 Monday, Aug. 15 through Sunday, Aug. 21.

This reunion is an annual event at Pop's Place, with bands entertaining from all over the country. Country and western, bluegrass and popular music will be played on stage nightly, for your dancing pleasure, plus jam sessions will be playing continuously, throughout the day.

Among the musicians to be featured is the famous Buck Sloan and his band from Houston. Also appearing will be Caesar Masse, who has appeared with many nationally known bands.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Over 50 Golf Association will hold its next tournament on Tuesday, Aug. 16 at the Flying I Guest Ranch course beginning at 8:30 a.m.

The tournament will be a four-person team event, playing best ball on each hole.

New members are always welcome to join, according to president Jack Kempf. Annual dues are $10. The $20 tournament fee includes entry, green and cart rental.

The association alternates its tournaments, with Devine playing host on the first Wednesday of each month, and Bandera Flying I as the site on the third Tuesday of the month.

Resource Conservation & Development group to meet

The Bandera County Resource Conservation & Development Committee (RC&D) will meet on Wednesday, August 17 at 6 p.m. at the First State Bank meeting room. All interested persons are invited to attend.

The Bandera County RC&D Committee was organized in April 1993. The Resource Conservation & Development program is a local initiative, grass roots level effort to assist rural communities and organizations to help themselves. The objective of the RC&D effort is to enable local communities to improve their standard of living and economic health while wisely using their natural, monetary and human resources.

RC&D programs are functioning in numerous counties throughout Texas and the nation. Improvements to emergency services, health services, schools, water supplies and numerous other projects have been successfully accomplished by small communities through the RC&D effort.

Bandera County Farm Bureau seeks talent, beauty contestants

The Bandera County Farm Bureau is seeking applicants for this year's Miss Bandera County Farm Bureau and Talent Find competitions to be held at the Mansfield Park Recreation Hall on Saturday, Sept. 10. Applications are available at the Farm Bureau office located at 1003 13th Street in Bandera, or at the high school offices at Bandera, Medina and Utopia.

Participants must be from 16 to 21 years of age by Sept. 1. They must be single and the child or sibling of a Bandera County Farm Bureau member.

County winners will receive a $100 cash prize and will compete at the district level in San Antonio on Oct. 1.

District winners, and their escorts, will receive an expense-paid trip to the state convention in Dallas on Nov. 27 through 30. Each district winner will also be awarded a $600 college scholarship and must compete in the state contest in order to receive the district level scholarship.

Miss Texas Farm Bureau will receive a $2,000 scholarship and $500 towards a wardrobe of all natural fibers. She will represent Texas Farm Bureau during the 1995 TFB Leadership Conference and 1995 Texas FFA convention.

The runner-up will receive a $1,500 scholarship. Both the runner-up and the winner will receive a set of luggage from the Texas Farm Bureau.

The state Talent Find winner will be awarded a $2,000 scholarship. The runner-up will receive a $1,500 scholarship.

For more information, call the local Farm Bureau office at 796-3077.

Volunteers needed for park pick-up

Volunteers are needed this Saturday, Aug. 13 at 7 a.m. for picking up brush at the city park.

Those wishing to help will meet at the "Matching Funds Grant" sign near Maple and 11th Street.

Work on the park is well underway and with each service performed by volunteers, more money remains in the budget for improvements.

More teachers hired

More new teachers have been hired for the Bandera Independent School District.

They are: Alvia LeSturgeon, second grade; Patricia Moehring, a Chapter One aide; and Yvette Cooper, an instructional aide. Sherry Stewart was reassigned to serve as full-time librarian at Bandera Middle School.

Palo Alto College sets Bandera classes

Palo Alto College has begun registering students for Fall 1994 classes to be offered at Bandera High School, and at Medina Valley High School. Students may register at the Palo Alto College campus August 23-27, but must allow enough time to complete admissions and assessment requirements.

Classes offered this fall at both high school are from 6-9 p.m. Courses offered in area: English Composition I and II, Elementary Algebra on Tuesdays, and U.S. History I, Intermediate Algebra and Introduction to Psychology on Thursdays. The fall semester runs from Aug. 29 to Dec. 10.

For general admissions and registration information, call 921-5270. For more information about courses offered at Bandera High School and other locations, call Extended Services at 921-5293.

Palo Alto has an open-admission policy, which allows anyone with a high school diploma or its equivalent to enroll. Palo Alto, a college of the Alamo Community College District, offers associate degrees, certificates and short-term courses in a variety of liberal arts and technical areas. Nearly 7,000 students are enrolled. The main campus is located on the southside at Interstate 410 and Texas 16 South.

Grace Lutheran high school youth attended ELCA national gathering, will share experience

Larry Upton just attended his third national event with the youth group from Grace Lutheran Church. He has been active with the youth group for the past 14 years, remaining even after his children grew up out of the youth group.

He expressed optimism on his return. "Just about the time the media has us convinced that our teenagers are 'going to the dogs', he says, "the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America puts on its tri-annual National Youth Gathering and attracts over 35,000 Lutheran youth and their sponsors."

"Thousands more were turned down because the gathering could not accommodate them. What an uplifting experience to have been with all these Christian young folks in mass gathering."

"The event was held in the Atlanta Georgia Dome and Georgia World Congress Center. Upton said it was "refreshing" to be around 35,000 teens "conducting themselves like ladies and gentlemen; teenagers who were sharing a like purpose through their actions and participation."

He says the "good news" from the gathering has to be that there is "a generation of teenagers out there who share and are not afraid to demonstrate their Christian faith to the nation and the world. With all the faiths around us, I can still help the 'good kids' help far outnumber the bad."

The gathering consisted of daily worship; workshops; forums; speakers; and entertainment.

Eight Bandera youth (Derek Pfeiffer, Jace Neuenschwander, Rush Roberts; Derek Pawley; Tim Henry; J.B. Neuenschwander; Jay Neeley Amster; and David Broyles), members of Grace Lutheran Church Youth Group, have returned. They participated in the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America's National Youth Gathering in Atlanta July 20 through 24. This was the largest gathering of Lutheran youth ever, consisting of well over 35,000 high school-aged Lutherans and their sponsors.

Stacey Dyer Kynes of San Antonio, a 1981 graduate of Bandera High School and the daughter of Robert Dyer of Bandera, graduated May 14 with a Master of Arts in speech and language pathology from Our Lady of the Lake University in San Antonio. She is working in Hondo at the Medina Community Hospital providing services under the newly formed rehabilitation program. Stacey and her husband Dennis will relocate in Denzilville. They are expecting their first child on Nov. 9.

ment for all the delegations from all over the nation and the world. Speakers included: Dr. Timothy Lull, academic dean and professor of theology at Pacific Lutheran University; Tony Compolo, renowned sociologist, pastor, author and professor of sociology at Eastern College; Bernice King, widely recognized in Atlanta and around the nation as an orator, pastor and lawyer and the daughter of Coretta Scott King and the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.; and other noted speakers from in and around the Lutheran family.

Upton says that "having had the opportunity to worship and have fellowship with so many other Lutheran youth is an experience all in our group will carry with us for years to come."

The group is looking forward to sharing the trip experience with congregation members on Sunday, Aug. 14 as worship services are conducted on that day. A full report from the Gathering participants will be included.

Everyone is invited to "come and join in the services at Grace Lutheran Church, beginning at 10:45. Upton says to "come and join us as we celebrate being 'live in Christ'!"

Bandera Nursing Home Mada Wedgworth

Dorothy Callahan, Aggie Batto, Fannie Caffall and Annette Kalka-Schultz of St. Stanislaus Catholic Church visited, prayed and sang with residents Arena Hager, Ada Sehon, Brenda Adam, Joannetta Adamczyk, Mae Eidenahnik, Ruby Hillman and Joslyn Edwards, Monday evening.

Roger Balduz from St. Stanislaus Catholic Church brought Holy Communion for members of the church.

Also, from St. Stanislaus Catholic Church, An Stackhouse, Aggie Batto and Olga Batto served juice to the residents Saturday morning.

The residents always look forward to the Melodiers from the Silver Sage Corral when they come for their monthly visit. Their program this month was "Oldies, but Goodies." Violinist and Director was Judy Goodenough, M.C. was Dolores Greene, Clarence Adamietz was pianist and playing the Auto Harp were Leo Yelton and Marion Bunch.

Other members included Betty Laganier, Virginia Cavasas, Fannie Caffall, Floyd and Mary Porteous, Dick and Emma Brown, Lois Hayes, Mickie Causon, Dolores Hays, Betty Suddath and Jewell Reid.

On Friday, Jack's brother Luan and Lillian Holloway of San Antonio and Mada Wedgworth took Jack out for a Birthday Dinner at the Wrangler.

Gene Mikulic took Jack Holloway to services at the Church of Christ Sunday.

Thanks to the family of Frances Cox for sharing the beautiful memorial flowers with the residents.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE
Multiply Your Life Through Faith
"Jesus then took the loaves. He distributed them to those who were seated: so also the fish, as much as they wanted."
—John 6:11

The story of Jesus took 1,000 people from just five barley loaves and two fish in well known. It is the one miracle performed by Christ that appeared to all four books of the New Testament. Yet it is the most mysterious miracle. Just what a miraculous manifestation was what was clearly evidenced was faith — Jesus' faith that He could feed the assembled masses and, more importantly, the faith in Him. Naturally, we ourselves cannot perform such miracles but we do have a wish to show our faith in Jesus. It has been said that faith can move mountains. Perhaps, what it can do is expand our inner spirit so that those blessings of God that affect our lives will be multiplied many times.

Bandera residents named to Texas Poultry Hall of Fame

Tom Reece and Manuel Flores, of Bandera, have been selected to be inducted into the Texas Poultry Hall of Fame for 1994. C.W. and Edna Carey of Cross Plains have also been selected.

The two teams were chosen from 21 candidates. Induction is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 26 at the annual fall Alamo Poultry Show in New Braunfels. Two people are selected each year to be inducted for the decade 1990-1999.

Reece and Flores will receive a plaque in honor of their selection. Their names will be inscribed on the huge, permanent plaque which hangs in the conference/meeting room of the Poultry Science Department at Texas A & M University.

Reece is vice president of Texas Association of Exhibition Poultry Club. He is also the president of the Alamo Poultry Club.

Flores is secretary/treasurer of the Alamo Poultry Club.

Letters

having a San Antonio cancellation stamp, put in the middle of it, like mine was.

Does this mean the Medina Post Office, no longer has the right to cancel the stamps, with the Medina "data"? If this is the case, no wonder the price of stamps need to rise, to pay for "double inked" cancellation and get "used" to take the letter to San Antonio—re-cancel the post-mark and send back to Medina (or what-ever home town). Also, next year, the Medina Apple Festival Committee, should tell people the San Antonio postal system will mar their "unique" post-mark.

I would like to ask everyone to please write our Senators and Representatives to keep alert on the issue of the United States Fish and Wildlife Agency's trying to control private-owned land. If "they" win, we all lose, "big brother" won't be far in the future.

Lolee Stevens
A small district
Dear editor:
Jim Hannah's letter last week subtly touched on the problems in the BISD. Jim is a far more gentle soul than I am. I am blunt and tact is not my long suit. So, here goes...
Bandera is a small school district with less than 2 thousand pupils. Trying to equal the status of a monstrous district. Northside is accomplishing one thing and only one thing: It is costing the tax payers of which I am now one) a lot of money for unnecessary jobs.
Assistant this... assistant that... horse pucky!
The tiny community in which I grew up has a population that is smaller than Bandera's—7,000. The school population is almost twice as large as Bandera's—3,900. Therein lies a big difference. The real difference is the "administrative expense." They have one superintendent, three principals, and two secretaries. The high school P.E. teacher is the coach—football in the fall, basketball in the winter, and baseball in the spring. That is it. AND, they send over 90 percent of their students on to forms of higher education!

Until recently I only paid taxes to Northside and I bitched regularly about Bandera's over a million dollar "administrative expenses." Now I am paying Bandera too. I mean to keep on this topic. The school budget is too damned high, and the school library (where the board meetings are held) is a sorry excuse. My husband and I come close to hating that many books in our home!

My attitude after the last board meeting was: let the super and members have their glory and save my energies for a tax roll-back. I don't know about you, but our retirement income is not sufficient enough to support all of these fancy trimmings (huff!)

City council hears request for a property variance

Husband and wife, Robby Robertson and Karla Farrar, attended the Monday, Aug. 8 Bandera city council meeting and introduced their planned Bandera Barn Theater and the Double R Ranch Soundstage development. The business would be located at 11th Street and Mulberry.

Robertson said that the project to turn the old Alamo Lumber barn into a business began two-and-a-half years ago. They acquired a loan and began working on the building but did not actually own the property until five months ago.

Robertson said that he feels that, when completed, the business would be good for Bandera. He says it would be designed to hold 400 to 500 people and to employ between 15 and 25 workers. "It will be family style," he said. "Bandera doesn't need another honky tonk."

According to Robertson, he and Farrar had a building permit for the past two years and were in agreement with then city inspector Jon Murrell on every detail, even a proposed efficiency apartment. As managers of the bed and breakfast planned for out-of-town entertainers, Robertson and Farrar planned to live in the apartment.

Robertson's building permit was scheduled to run out on Aug. 14. A week ago, however, it was pulled by city inspector Columbus Stutes III after Robertson replaced a faucet. Robertson argued that the faucet had been there previously and he was only replacing it because of the fire hazard which existed for the over 50-year old building. Stutes maintained that he had broken his agreement that no plumbing would be installed with the prior submission and approval of a building plan.

Meanwhile, the house Robertson and Farrar were renting sold. They moved out and found they had nowhere to go because they were not allowed to live on their Bandera property which is zoned B-1, (business). Robertson said several business owners along Main Street in Bandera, and other locations, reside in quarters on their property. He said they were protected by the "grandfather" clause.

"We're not asking for much," Robertson told the city council. "Just a place to stay." He said his wife was renting a motel room for $55 a night and he was staying at the property to protect the sound equipment and other belongings there. "We've

Friends of the Library schedule 10th annual sausage barbecue

The Friends of the Bandera County Library will have their 10th annual Sausage Barbecue on Saturday, Oct. 1, from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Bandera Fire Station.

Cost is $4 per person, and proceeds will benefit the Bandera County Library.

had three attempted break-ins in one week."

Robertson said that for the past two years, he had been led to believe that there were no problems with his planned development, not even with the apartment. "We didn't come here to fight or cause problems," he said. "I think you folks can be fair. We want you to consider the possibility of giving back a 30-day building permit."

He said they had spent all their savings to buy building material for the completion of the development. He said too large an area needed to be covered for protection against rain to make a tarp feasible because part of the roof, which is rotten, had been removed.

He pointed out that his permit had been for Aug. 14. He said if he can not get the permit back, he and Farrar will have to "cash it out and leave town."

"All this time," he told council members. "We thought we could live in it (the apartment under construction). We are confused about what we are and are not allowed to do. We don't want to battle, we want to resolve."

Farrar added her plea. "We're homeless people. We have nowhere to live. I have a job in this community. We've got a building and are making payments and paying taxes. I have to pay $55 a night for a room."

Council members asked mayor Robert Skinner to get Robertson and Stutes together and work on a solution.

PTO meetings set

Parent Teacher Organization (PTO) meetings will be held for both Alkek Elementary and Bandera Middle School this year. At both schools, the meetings will be held in the cafeteria and will begin at 7 p.m.

'Fifties Days' at Bandera Downs

One of the most popular events of the year at Bandera Downs takes place this Saturday, Aug. 13. "50s Days" features 50-cent hot dogs, draft beer, popcorn and sodas all day long. Employees dressed in 50s costumes will be judged sometime during the race day. A number of classic cars and motorcycles will be displayed.

"The Harem Handicap" for Arabian fillies and mares will be the feature race of the weekend. In addition to a $10,000 purse (estimated), the winner will receive first choice from a stable of prestigious Arabian stallions for a 1996 breeding season.

The accredited Texasbred stallions are: K4 Cautubhan, better known as "Legs", is owned by Lonnie Crowell and Mike Economopolous; Origan is owned by Rick and Suzanne Flammer, and is a Polish National Champion and Region IX Champion Stallion; NF Proof was the 1989 and 1990 Darley Horse of the Year, and is owned by Claudia and Dan Speers; Ortallon enjoyed a full four-year racing career in Poland, and is owned by Dan and Lisa Ahern and Dr. Eugene and Mary LaCroix. The Captain Hook is scheduled for Sunday, named "hook" for its length of 1,000 yards, the horses traveling around one turn.

AUGUST 10 1994

Volleyball practices are underway at Bandera High School, and the freshmen, JV and varsity teams will scrimmage Aug. 13 and 15, then Bandera faces Leakey Aug. 16 in their first home game.

Bandera started 2-a-days Wednesday, Aug. 3, and will have their first home football scrimmage Aug. 18 against Jourdan. First home game is Sept. 2.

Bulldog reserved seat tickets go on sale Monday, Aug. 15

Reserved seat season tickets for Bandera Bulldog football games will go on sale starting Monday, Aug. 15 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the BIRD business office. Cost for the six-game ticket is $24 per person, and guarantees the ticket-holder a good seat (and no waiting in line to buy a ticket), no matter what time he or she arrives for a Bulldog football game.
For first-time season ticket buyers, tickets go on sale starting Monday Aug. 23.
Varsity Bulldog home football game are scheduled Sept. 2, 16 and 30, and Oct. 7, 14 and 28.

CONSOLIDATED REPORT OF CONDITION (Including Deposits and Loans)

ASSETS	LIABILITIES
1. Cash and balances due from depository institutions	1. Interest-free money we hold at other banks and at our bank.
2. Securities	2. Certificates of Deposit and interest-bearing accounts we have with other banks.
3. Federal funds sold & securities purchased under agreements to resell	2a. Bonds we own that we do not plan to sell.
4. Loans and lease financing receivables	2b. Bonds we own that we may sell before they become due.
5. Other real estate owned	3a. Money we lend overnight to other banks.
6. Premises and fixed assets (including capitalized leases)	4a. Loans that we have made. This is an asset because we will receive payments.
7. Other non-earning assets	4b. Not all loans made are collected. This is our best estimate of loans which we may not collect in the future.
8. Investments in unaffiliated subsidiaries and associated companies	4c. Loans we have made minus loans we estimate we may not collect.
9. Customers' liability to this bank on acceptances outstanding	6. Our bank building and all furniture and equipment.
10. Intangible assets	7. Real estate we hold that is not banking related.
11. Other assets
12. Total assets (sum of items 1 through 11)	11. All other assets not listed above. These usually do not earn any interest.
13. Loans deferred pursuant to 12 U.S.C. 1823j	12a. The total of all items we own (assets) listed above.
14. Total assets and loans deferred pursuant to 12 U.S.C. 1823j (sum of items 12, 13, and 12b)	12c. The same as line 12a.
15. Demand notes issued to the U.S. Treasury	13a. The total of all deposits in the bank. Since a deposit is something we borrow from our customers, we consider it a liability. We mainly use this money to make loans and investments.
16. Other demand notes	13a(1). Noninterest-bearing checking accounts.
17. Time deposits	13a(2). All other deposit accounts such as savings, C/D's, etc.

We're required by law to publish our consolidated report of condition each quarter. We thought it would be helpful to define in "plain English" the line items in the report. Not only will this allow us to better communicate our financial strength to you, for comparison-making purposes, it will also give you a better understanding of the balance sheet of every other bank.
Bank balance sheets are backwards. Loans are something we buy and own (an asset) and bank deposits are something we owe (a liability).

We at First State Bank want you to better know and appreciate your bank. We hope these explanations will help you do just that.

The Bandera Bulletin

Our 50th Year, No. 7

These students were among many who did not have a classroom to go to on the first day of school. Alkek Elementary was "bursting at the seams" with the opening of the 1994-95 school year. The school was designed for 800 students, but for the first day of the 1994-95 school year, 934 students were enrolled. Enrollment in the entire Bandera Independent School District this year was 1,336 on the first day of school compared to 1,642 on the first day of school last year. There were 432 enrolled at the middle school and 470 at the high school. Superintendent Skip Pfeiffer said that the number enrolled at the high school might be seven students more or seven students less. The exact figure was not available at press time on Tuesday. Medina Public Schools enrolled 326 this year, compared to 290 on the first day of school in 1993-94.

Bandera ISD budget up 5.5 percent from last year

Bandera Independent School District Board of Trustees passed the 1994-95 school budget unanimously in their Tuesday, Aug. 9 meeting. The $5,387,322 budget is up 5.5 percent from last year's $7,962,111 budget.

Instruction has increased 6.2 percent from 1993-94. Increasing enrollment in the Bandera ISD has necessitated the hiring of new teachers this year. Last year's instructional budget was $3,767,880. This year's instructional budget is $4,001,473.

School administration is up 10.9 percent, from $318,570 in 1993-94, to $353,339 in 1994-95. This budget function includes expenditures for the purpose of the general administration of a school campus. Operating a principal's office is the main element of the school administration budget function. Activities associated with compiling detailed pupil attendance records are included.

General administration is down 10.9, from $519,172 in 1993-94 to $462,510 in 1994-95. Included in general administration is the managing of the school district as an overall entity. This includes expenditures incurred by the school board; office of the superintendent; fiscal budget; accounting or business office; textbook custodian; central personnel office; tax administration; central administration office; support services and the aggregation of district-wide pupil attendance records.

Instructional administration covers expenditures directly related to activities which have as their purpose managing, directing, and supervising general and specific instructional programs. It also includes expenditures related to research and development activities that investigate, experiment and/or follow-through with the development of new or modified instructional methods, techniques, procedures, and programs. It includes instructional program area administrators or managers including special education and cooperative programs. Plant maintenance and operations has gone up 7.14 percent from $649,461 to $695,806.

Pupil transportation has decreased 6.8 percent, down from $401,539 to $374,304.

With the $3,000,000 set aside for the building of a school in Pipe Creek, the district's total budget is $11,387,322. A copy of the budget is available at the superintendent's office.

BISD proposes tax rate for 1994-95 school year

Bandera Independent School District Board of Trustees voted on a proposed tax rate for the 1994-95 school year at their Monday, Aug. 15 meeting.

The figure adopted at the meeting is not final. It is the figure which superintendent James Stewart told board members would run the 1994-95 budget. Stewart told board members that the state recommended setting a maintenance and operating rate of $1.36356. However, he said the BISD budget would run with a $1.35 maintenance and operating tax.

Ken Vakey said he had given the budget a lot of thought. He said that for years, BISD had set a goal of moving the administration

Student projection for this year is 1,822.84 students in the BISD. Last year, an average of 1,721.5 pupils attended in the district. Cost per pupil is down 1.27 percent from last year. Last year's expense per pupil was $2,200.67 and this year's expense per pupil is $2,172.70.

Nearly 78 percent of the budget is personnel. Supplies take up 5.4 percent and other operating costs are 2.5 percent. Capital outlay is 4.7 percent; other uses (bus loans) are 1.0 percent; and contracted services are 8.5 percent. Debt service is 0.0 percent of the total budget.

Bandera ISD derives $4,474,627 from taxes and $2,158,025 from state revenue. It needs $4,750,127, locally, to operate for the 1994-95 school year.

office out of the high school and using that room for more classroom space. He proposed setting the M&O tax rate at $1.38 to build up a fund for moving the administration out of the office.

Margaret Paradee objected. She said she would not be in favor of that unless it was included in long-range planning. Pat Cleaver agreed with Paradee. She said that when the new elementary school opened in Pipe Creek next year, some portable buildings would be empty and could be used for the switch.

James Wagner reminded board members that the discussion was on a proposed tax rate, the highest the board was willing to set the tax rate. He

New fire chief sets goals

Appointed to the post temporarily, McClane states plans

Community Assembly of God pastor, Brian McAnea, has been appointed chief of the Bandera Volunteer Fire Department for 90 days. He is a state certified fire fighter.

Past and present volunteer fire fighters met with McClane on Tuesday, Aug. 9 to discuss plans and goals. B. Tommy Adams, president of the volunteer fire department said the fire department needs a Class A pumper very quickly. He urged members to make the Bandera department "one of the best in the country."

He said it was time to "quit all the bickering and fighting and work for the good of the fire department."

McClane said all checkbooks and papers needed to be turned in and kept in files. He said those holding papers could make copies of them first to keep if they felt that was necessary.

He said $39,000 had been deposited in the fire department account since last October and that some of that money needed to be "accounted for."

Volunteer fire department members were asked to return all equipment to the fire department so it could be inventoried. He said the equipment would be returned to the fire fighters once it had been listed. He also told them that the locks on the fire department would be changed and new keys issued.

Trucks, he said, would be pulled out each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and checked for mechanical soundness.

Another goal, McClane named was to concentrate on training and have volunteers state certified as fire fighters.

He said he wants the department to be able to handle emergency medical and hazardous material calls.

"I don't want to cause great confusion," he said of his attempt to reorganize the fire department. "I want to improve it."

McClane said he would like to see 80 to 90 members in the Bandera Volunteer Fire Department and would like to have fire fighters compete in training sessions and in competitions with other fire departments.

Rules of conduct were established. A chain of command is being established. McClane said the fire department would get a floor plan of the biggest buildings in Bandera and "learn their way around" in case of fire.

Council retains Mike Smith as Bandera municipal judge

Current municipal court judge, Mike Smith, has been retained by Bandera city council members as municipal court judge. That action took place in a special meeting on Friday, Aug. 12.

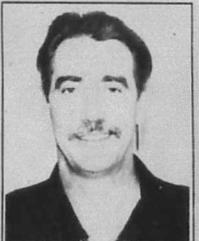

Two city council members voted for Smith and two voted against him. Mayor Robert Skinner broke the tie, voting for Smith and won a round of applause from the audience.

Prior to the vote, Mike Holan discussed Smith's job performance. He said he had watched Smith on the job and that Smith "handled himself with a lot of professionalism."

He has to make hard decisions, Holan said, "decisions that not just anyone can make. I believe he goes beyond and above the call of duty."

Holan said Smith even takes people home who need a ride after their disputes have been settled.

Herb Krykendall said he was "thrilled to death" by the large number of qualified people who turned in applications for the job. He compared the close vote to a horse race. "The winning horse can only win by so much. I feel this is sort of like fixing something that isn't broke."

Soccer registration this week

Bandera County Youth Soccer gears up for the season

Registration for the Bandera county Youth Soccer Association will be held at Alkek Elementary from 3 to 4 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 17 and Thursday, Aug. 18.

Registration will be held at Medina Public School from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 17 and Thursday, Aug. 18. It will be held at First State Bank from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, Aug. 20. The final deadline for registration is Wednesday, Aug. 24.

The fee is $20 per child with a maximum of $40 per family. There will be a $25 late registration charge per child or a maximum $50 late registration charge per family. Late charge applies to those registering after Aug. 20. No registrants will be accepted after the Aug. 24 deadline.

The registration fee includes membership to Ayso (National Organization); team jersey; and socks.

Participants will need to purchase white shorts; shin guards; and an optional mouth guard.

Soccer shorts from past years will be sold for $2 each at the Saturday, Aug. 20 registration, in limited sizes and quantities and on a "first come, first serve" basis. Otherwise, any SOLID WHITE shorts will be adequate.

Dates to remember include: coaches' meeting, Aug. 22; practice begins, Aug. 29; first game, Sept. 10; picture days on Sept. 19 and 20.

Those registering late (Aug. 21-24) should call Debbie LaLanne at 610-4056 to make arrangements.

Scott Zirkel, a senior at Medina, was the winner of the "Cowboy Christmas" design this year. He is the son of Bobby and Carolyn Zirkel. He said he has always loved art and always entered contests, although this is the first time he submitted a winning entry. Kay Welch presented Zirkel's award to him. The shirts will be on sale at the Bandera Chamber of Commerce and at stores around Bandera. Adult-sized shirts are $10 and children's shirts are $8.

Search for Mrs. Bandera begins

Mrs. Texas USI officials are looking for the next Mrs. Bandera. The woman selected will receive a crown and banner and will represent Bandera at the 1995 Mrs. Texas USI Pageant in San Antonio in February.

Married women between the ages of 24 and 55 may compete. They must have been married for a minimum of two years to compete for the title.

The Mrs. Texas USI Pageant is an official preliminary of the Mrs. International pageant, a system which recognizes the virtues of professional, family and community involvement among married women. Contestants compete in interview for 50 percent of the score; physical fitness for 25 percent of the score; and evening gown for 25 percent of the score. Contestants wear aerobic wear for the physical fitness competition.

Partial proceeds from the 1995 pageant will benefit Habitat for Humanity, a non-profit organization that builds homes for underprivileged families.

To receive an application for the Mrs. Bandera Competition, call the state office at (210) 690-6877, or contact Bray Creative Services in San Antonio.

Still more 'back to school' shots

As classes began again this week, traffic control was a major problem at Alkek Elementary, both outside and inside. Lack of classroom space was a major problem at the school.

what's rustlin' by Bungy

There was an ad in last week's Bulletin, that was so perfect for Bandera. "Found, Stray Buffalo. Wandered onto my property. If you think it's yours, call me." What better ad could there be for the "Cowboy Capital" unless maybe you use the word "Buffalo" instead of buffalo!

Last week, I flew to California for the annual meeting and family reunion and had a wonderful time. I visited friends and relatives up and down the coast, and jacuzzied and swam and ate the days away.

Los Angeles International Airport (LAX to us travelers) is always amazing. The ticket line I was in had Japanese, Chinese, East Indian and Saris, Hasidic Jews in robes and caps, Anglos with various accents... and a tall lanky cowboy complete with wrangler, starched pink shirt, boots and hat! When I go for these short trips it's like using a kaleidoscope. Scenes change so fast and they're so many, when you finally get to San Antonio, you breath a sigh of relief and start to stroll again!

We're off again, this weekend, up to Northern California, where Larry's son is being married. We had to take something to the four new grandsons we're acquiring. So we went by "Shelly Shane's Gift Stop" between the Mercantile and Margie's Beauty Salon. She has all the great patterns you can choose from and then you choose color and size of T shirt and she "iron" them on for you with a big "Bandera, Texas" included on the shirt. As she was fixing the shirts up, we wandered around the "Gift Stop" and came across things like "Bubba's Pick-up Emergency Kit", which was a piece of chewing gum and a rolled up piece of old baling wire. (I don't know what Bubba does now, they use string instead of wire!)

Then, there was "Texas Chuckle Cookies", which were Chinese fortune cookies with "Bubba sez" fortunes, some great roping cowboys made out of horse shoes (we have one that one of our grandsons made use)... but no gold sprayed cow paddies.

That was quite a picture of Bruce Montague looping his loop on the front of the Metro Section of the San Antonio Express last week. He was showing off his roping skills at the Folk Festival and was seen by over 50,000 people!

Bandera DQ earns awards

The Bandera Dairy Queen, of Highway 16 and 15th Street, has earned the Dairy Queen "Silver Cone" and "Silver Yogurt" awards for 1993.

The silver cone award was given to the Bandera Dairy Queen for reaching a 500 gallon increase. The silver yogurt award was given to the Bandera Dairy Queen for achieving a 100-gallon increase in 1993. Edward Watson, executive vice president of operations for international Dairy Queen, Inc. said that he was "proud of the hard work and dedication of the owners, managers and staff at the Bandera Dairy Queen store." He said their desire to make the store a top performer was a credit to them. "Recognizing them with these awards is a way of saying 'thank you.'"

Calendar of events update requested by Bandera CVB

The Bandera County Convention and Visitors Bureau (BCCVB) is in the process of updating the events calendar through March, 1995. Every inquiry requesting information about Bandera County receives a calendar of events.

Since many Bandera visitors to Bandera plan their trips many months out, the BCCVB would like to inform them of any events that they might wish to plan their trip to include.

If you or your organization is planning a special event (craft fair, flea market, golf tournament, special dinners, etc.), please call the convention and visitors bureau at 796-3045 and give them the information. Information is needed by Sept. 1.

said with "construction screaming" in San Antonio, everyone was working and the Pipe Creek school building might not fare well in bid openings on Aug. 31. He advised not "painting ourselves into a corner", and proposed a rate of $1.44, just under the rollback rate.

Paradee objected. "We want to taxpayers for three million," she said. "We should do it." If the school costs over $3 million, Paradee said extras need to be cut. She said BISD had paid experts to tell them that the school could be built for $3 million. "Personally, I'm dead set against raising it," she said of the proposed tax rate.

Bub Keese agreed with Paradee. He said the school bond issue had passed on the $3 million figure that that it would not be honest to change it now.

Cleaver agreed with members voted for a total tax rate of $1.55837 for the 1994-95 school year. Vahey and Wagner opposed the rate. Keese, Paradee, Cleaver, and Middleton voted for the $1.55837 rate.

Last year's tax rate was $1.44.33.

Stewart told board members that for each cent in the tax rate, $32,000 was raised. He also said that opening the new school in Pipe Creek next year should raise the tax rate by approximately 6.7 cents, and might raise it over eight cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Melaner, of Payette, Idaho, announce the engagement of their daughter, Christina Ann Melaner of Ventura, California, to John Marc Montague of Bandera. Montague is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore of Bandera. Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Melaner of Ventura. Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Russell and Mrs. Frank Montague, Jr., of all Bandera. The wedding will be held on Oct. 15 at the LH7 Ranch.

Jennifer Davis, Matthew Bradley married July 9

Miss Jennifer Leigh Davis was married on Saturday, July 9, to Mr. Matthew David Bradley at St. John Lutheran Church in Boerne. The marriage was performed by Chaplain Warren E. Ferguson.

The bride is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Preston Hills Davis of Beaver Creek, Ohio. She was given away by her father. Her grandmother is Mrs. Roberta Dixon of Santa Rosa, California.

The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. G. Ronald Bradley of Boerne. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Fuller of Boerne and Mrs. Beatrice Bradley of Bandera.

The bride wore an off-the-shoulder gown with a sweetheart neckline featuring silk flowers outlining the shoulders and open back. The bodice was covered with Alencon lace accented with sequins and pearls. The full skirt was made of silk satin organza. She wore a crown of rhinestones and pearls with a chapel veil train. She carried an arm bouquet of mixed roses.

Mrs. Billy Wade Moore served as Matron of Honor. The bridesmaids, who were Tiffany blue princess-seamed, long bengaline dresses accented with matching chiffon flounces outlining the neck and covering the shoulders, were Miss Cara Elizabeth Craft and Miss Julie Leimomelani Sempel. Flower girls were Kayleigh, Analey and Lindley Bradley, nieces of the groom; Jessica and Ashley Ritter of Vacaville, Ca., and Jamie and Kristy Iversen of Cardiff, Ca., cousins of the bride. They wore white organza dresses with Tiffany blue sashes. The ring bearer was Matthew Harry Akin.

Brad Smith Akin served as best man, and the groomsmen were Daniel Patrick Meredmond and James Griffith Jackson. The ushers were Dr. G.

Bandera Middle School selected as mentor school
Bandera facility will serve as leader for smaller middle schools in Region 20 area

Bandera Middle School has been named as a mentor school in the Texas Middle School Network.

Eight schools of the 24 applicants were selected on a regional basis by representatives of the Texas Education Agency; Education Service Centers; Texas Middle School Association; and present mentor schools.

Designation as a mentor school allows staff at the school an opportunity to share their successes with other middle schools. It also gives them an opportunity to provide leadership in the state-wide middle school restructuring initiative and to gather information about research-based "best practices" from other successful middle schools.

Robert Weyman, Bandera Middle School principal, says that his campus will serve as leaders for primarily those smaller middle schools in the Region 20 area. They would host any middle school staff in the state.

Specifically, his staff would host representatives of middle schools who would wish to see the successful implementation of middle school restructuring concepts such as: academic teaming; block scheduling; and the use of an advisory period.

Mentors will be asked to take an active role in developing a communications network among Texas middle school

Schreiner College and the Hill Country College Fund (HCCF) campaign leaders will hold a kick-off breakfast on Thursday, Sept. 1 at 7:15 a.m. at the Student Center Patio at Schreiner College.

The kick-off breakfast is planned to launch the 1994 HCCF drive to raise $380,000. Early birds may start in the buffet line at 7 a.m.

Those planning to attend should respond by Aug. 27. The number to call is 896-5411.

educators. They will be asked to sponsor a staff development program for network schools they serve during each of the three years they serve under the initiative.

Mentor schools have demonstrated success in the implementation of strategies and practices exemplified in several publications. An article titled, "Spotlight on the Middle" appeared in Carnegie Corporation's publication on developmentally appropriate education for middle grade students, "Turning Points: Preparing America's Youth for the 21st Century." The State Board of Education "Policy Statement on Middle Grade Education and Middle Grade Schools" also heralds the success of mentor schools.

In addition to being recognized as a leader in middle grade education, other benefits afforded a mentor school include access to staff development opportunities; expense-paid visits to other mentor schools; national conventions; and attendance at programs designed specifically for mentors. They are also eligible to be named as a mentor principal; materials and training models for the campus' professional staff; eligibility for funding for professional development opportunities for mentor school staff; and, acting as a demon-

Bandera Downs to host Bandera Oaks feature

The feature race at Bandera Downs this weekend will be the Bandera Oaks for thoroughbreds that are three years old and upward traveling seven and a half furlongs for a $3,500 added-money purse.

The live race season is drawing to a close for 1994. As is customary, there will be no live racing at Bandera Downs on August 26, 27 and 28; live racing will return the following weekend with four days of Labor Day holiday racing. The final Bandera Downs weekend offers some top-notch events: On Saturday, Sept. 3, thoroughbreds will be trying for the yellow roses in the John Connally Memorial. Sunday's highlight is the Desert Storm Texasbred Open for Arabians, and on Sept. 5, Labor Day, "The Finale" for quarter horses, "The End" for thoroughbreds, and the simulcast of "All American Futurity" from Ruidoso are scheduled. The final day of the meet also features the mandatory payout of the twin trifecta carry-over jackpot.

Quality simulcasting will continue throughout the remainder of 1994 and into 1995 with the best available signals.

Bandera Nursing Home

The residents of the Nursing Home enjoyed having Jennifer and Shawn Dawdy, Roy Schneider and Erma Gamey come by Sunday afternoon to entertain them with a message and gospel music. Marley Johnson was a guest.

Dorothy Callahan, Fannie Caffell, Aggie Batts, Anna Kalka-Schulte from St. Stanislaus Catholic Church visited, prayed and sang with residents Ada Sehon, Arena Hager, Jeanetta Adams, Brenda Adams, Maude Spritz and Joelyn Edwards. Ruby Hillman and Mae Edenshink Monday evening.

Other volunteers from St. Stanislaus Church were Roger Bolduc, who brought Holy Communion to members of the church on Friday and Olga Bolduc and Ann Stackhouse on Saturday morning who passed juice to the residents.

Punk Eckhart from Eckhart's Flower Shop sent Carnations to all the ladies in the home.

Martin Smith, from the Church of Christ had Bible Reading for the residents Wednesday morning.

Almost forgot the August Birthdays: Monday, Aug. 22, at 2:30 PM, the following will be celebrating August Birthdays:

Legion will start new armed services museum

The National American Legion Organization is celebrating their 75th anniversary this year, and Post 157, in Bandera, has decided to contribute to this celebration by starting an "Armed Services Museum".

The post is asking for donations of "loans" of any Service-related memorabilia, such as regimental and battalion crests, insignias and badges of all kinds, uniforms (or pieces thereof), like hats, leggings, etc.).

They're asking you all to look in your attics, in your trunks, or in your closets and let your "proud moments" go on display to the public. The museum will be at Post 157 Hall at Cypress & Main, and will be open to the public, free of charge, on certain days.

Contact Henry Cruz, 460-3957, for information, donations or items for loan.

Mavericks rounded up 300 walkers for apple festival

The Medina Mavericks, a volkmarch or walk club, sponsored a walk at the seventh annual Texas International Apple Festival in Medina on July 30 and drew 300 walkers.

Volkmarching was brought to the United States from Europe in 1976. Fredericksburg held the first volkmarch and was the first place in the United States to hold a volkmarch. "Volks" means people.

Billie Walker, of Medina, is a charter member of the Medina Mavericks. The club has existed for the past six years and sponsors two annual walks, one in October at Siesta Valley and one in July at the apple festival.

Walker says the walking club is open to everyone and to all ages. Some people bring their dogs with them on walks (the dogs must be on a leash). Mothers bring children with them and some carry their children on their backs in carriers.

For more information, contact Billie Walker at 689-2567.

Hands across the ocean...

Tatyana V. Vasilyeva and Victor Sergiev, from Russia's Kuban Association of Farmer and Agricultural Cooperatives, were guests of the Farm Bureau Exchange Program recently when they visited Bandera. They were in the United States to learn more about the free enterprise system. They were escorted and hosted in Bandera County by: Mike Pember; Anton Haner; Garrison Ranch; Love Creek Apple and Cider Mill; and Farm Bureau field director Jerry Beidenberger. They had visited other countries with the Texas Farm Bureau and toured a rice farm, lumber facility and rodeo. From the top, Paul Garrison III shows Victor around the old hay track, then Victor and Tatyana get a close look at some Garrison Ranch emus. In the lower photo, Mike Pember gives the Russians a hands-on tour of an Angora goat.

Survivors include his wife, Dorothy Vesta Gilliam; four brothers, Frank Thad Gilliam and David Eugene Gilliam, both of Houston, Monte C. Gilliam and Mike Gilliam, both of Pasadena; and his Aunt, Ette Autry of Bandera.

Services were held at Forest Park Cemetery in Houston on Thursday Aug. 9.

Ruth Trussell, 83, of Bandera, died Friday, Aug. 12 in a Kerrville hospital.

She was born March 19, 1911 in Frederick, Ok and had been a Bandera resident for 13 years, formerly residing in Mississippi.

She was a graduate of Mary Hardin Baylor University, served as a Lt. in the Naval Reserves, was a retired school teacher and a member of the First Baptist Church in Bandera.

She was married to Herbert Wilson Trussell on January 26, 1944 in Arlington, Va, who preceded her in death in 1979.

Survivors include two sons, Carl Wayne Trussell and James Richard Trussell, both of Lucedale, Mississippi.

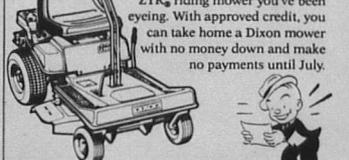

Private services were held at Bandera Cemetery.

John T. Hubble, 83, of Medina, died Sunday, Aug. 14 in a San Antonio hospital.

He was born May 14, 1911 in Center Point and was a life long resident of Medina. He was a rancher and a member of the

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

Sometimes we take credit for being patient when we are simply putting off doing something unpleasant. Sometimes we think we are being patient when, in reality, we are being indifferent.

"Patience is a two-sided coin. If patience is to be a virtue it must be employed in the willingness to obtain all the facts, to deduce from the facts what should be done, if anything, and to act in time and not too early or too late. If patience is merely to be used as an excuse for inaction, and if you don't do anything but wait—and you wait too long and the opportunity is past—or if you convert it into lethargy or inaction, then that is the other side of the coin."...David Sarnot Patience is a virtue few of us possess all of the time, but all of us need. It's too bad that many times it takes such hard work to acquire it!

Pastor Mark Clemons, of the Lakelills Baptist Church, helped members celebrate a ground breaking for the church building on Sunday, Aug. 14 after morning services ended. The new church will be built on FM 1283, close to the Park Road 37 intersection. Building is scheduled to begin on Sept. 12 and be completed within two weeks. The Texas Baptist Men Volunteer Builders will come to Lakelills on Sept. 12 to begin the 1,800-square foot building. The Lakelills Baptist Church currently meets in the Lakehills Civic Center. It is a mission church, sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Pipe Creek.

The Lakeshore Volunteer Fire Department has paid up membership of 243, mostly married couples which really means about 480 members. This is fine, but too many do not take an active part in the VFD. There was a covered dish dinner on Saturday, Aug. 13, but only 33 attended. The food was plentiful and really tasty. Now the second Saturday of Sept., Sept. 10, there will be a quarterly general membership meeting with a covered dish dinner following the meeting. It is hoped that more members will attend and offer their guidance and ideas. Visiting Lenna and Bill Walker on the Walker Ranch.

Utopia school opens its doors this Friday, August 19th with four new teachers and a new library aide. Susan Herrlich is in charge of the 3rd graders. Larry Nelson will teach science. Allison Burleson will teach junior high English and coach. John Robison will teach social studies and coach. The new library aide is Jason Burleson. Mrs. McFadin has left her position of library aide and is attending Uvalde Junior College enrolled in the nursing program.

Newcomers, when you drop your little one off for the first day of school, stick around for the assembly and meeting. All the grades will assemble in the cafeteria shortly after 8 AM. Principal Casse welcomes all, introducing new teachers and students. The kindergarten wins the hearts of all and there are more than a few wet eyes in the house when they see new scholars leave the nest and are initiated on their first Country Peddler Show Labor Day weekend at Fiesta Texas in SA.

The Country Peddler Show, featuring folk art and decorations, will be held Labor Day weekend, Sept. 2-5, at the Fiesta Texas theme park on I-10 in San Antonio.

The show will also feature live folk music including hammered dulcimer music. Admission is $4 for adults, $2 for seniors, and free for 12 and under.

day of school. They virtually glow from all the attention.

The seniors also enjoy a few well deserved moments of special attention on this, the second best day of their life, the day of course being graduation. Superintendent McFadin speaks briefly with the parents afterwards, a quick lesson in how Texas schools, particularly Utopia school, is financed, etc. Parents are invited to a PTO sponsored open house at 7 PM on Thursday, Sept. 1 to the 2nd annual Meet-cher-teacher.

The PTO book fair has been scheduled this year for Sept. 16. Immunization Clinic - Any child who needs an immunization can come to a special clinic at the school this Thursday, Aug. 18 from 9 AM to 2 PM. Friday, Aug. 19, has been declared "Mary Had a Day".

Appropriate grade-level classes are planned from preschool through adult level. Children and adults will gather in the Sanctuary at 9:30 AM for a short opening celebration before going to their classes.

Refreshments will be served in the time between Sunday School and the worship service at 10:45 a.m. Everyone is welcome, and bring a friend!

Join Mary and friends at the library from 10 AM to noon and 1 PM to 3 PM to celebrate her dedicated service to the community all these years.

The Senior Citizens annual rummage sale is Friday and Saturday, August 26-27. Bring donated articles to the activity center, Aug. 22-25 during the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Lutherans Plan Rally Sunday

Grace Lutheran Church will kick off its Sunday School program for the year this Sunday, August 21, with a Rally Day.

The classes are appropriate from preschool through adult level. Children and adults will gather in the Sanctuary at 9:30 AM for a short opening celebration before going to their classes.

Refreshments will be served in the time between Sunday School and the worship service at 10:45 a.m. Everyone is welcome, and bring a friend!

Barbara Michie, of The Stitching Post, will hold basic beginner quilting classes during the month of September. The classes will be held once a week for four weeks, beginning on Thursday, Sept. 8. They will be held from 9:30 a.m. until noon, each Thursday at the Pipe Creek home of Joy Scheel. The price for the quilting classes is $40 for all four weeks, or $10 a week. To register, call Michie at the Stitching Post at 796-8401.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

Only the Lord Passes Judgment
"There let us no more pass judgment on one another."
— Romans 14:13

In his letter to the Romans, Paul was paraphrasing one of Jesus' admonitions to His followers, "Judge not, that you be not judged." It was wise advice, for as both Jesus and Paul noted, when among us in all fairness judge one of our brethren without securing wise recommendations for our own faults. Only God, the Supreme Being, is qualified to sit as mediator and pass down judgment on the acts of men. It would be more advantageous for us to look not another as fellow being, but rather to look to our own behavior and being so that we might better correct these behaviors that fall short of what God and the Christian faith expect of their followers.

Tarpley

Nellie Dean

Not much to say for the weather except we are very warm, humid days and nights. Thunder could be heard Sunday afternoon, but no rain at Tarpley.

Recent visitors were Edward "Skip" Rogister and wife Lana, and infant son Austin from Ft. Sill, Okla. They came for the weekend to visit in the home of his grandparents Rev. & Mrs. Garcia of Bandera and also visiting with his family-John & Vern Shrock and his sister Kimberly of Tarpley. Skip is in the Army and stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Lorene Billings' visitors last Tuesday were her sisters and husbands Ann & Charles Bennett of Arlington, Tx., and Eleanor and Tommy Holmg of Hockley. They were dinner guests while here.

Mrs. Madge Chambers was honored by a surprise Birthday dinner recently at the OST Cafe in Bandera. The lovely party was hosted by her daughter Patricia Chambers of San Antonio and her sister in law, Bobbie Singleton. The setting was birthday balloons. Also, a lovely birthday cake after a delicious dinner. Besides the surprise party, Madge's son, Larry & Vicki Chambers flew in for the occasion. Other guests included her brother "Skeets" A.B. Singleton and wife Bobby, Mrs. Virginia Terrell, Dorothy Maness and her daughter and family members and husband Roy Pierre and son Jason all of San Antonio.

Mary Hietalahti observed her birthday Sunday, the 14th. She was honored by the birthday song by the Tarpley Baptist church and Elzie Dean brought the prayer for her.

Visitors of the J.E. Dean's, Sunday afternoon, were Lewis & Neva Dean of D'Hanis, Harvey Faria of Bandera & Vern Shrock of Tarpley.

Bookshelf

Astrid Box

"As a child, my number one best friend was the librarian in my grade school. I actually believed all those books belonged to her... When she warned that some of these books were too old for me, I told her they were for my mother. I have never regretted my dishonesty."

Erna Bombach School is back in session! Among other things, it means that your child/children will be using the library again—even if they haven't done so all summer. Whether they are assigned specific titles or authors to read, or assigned reports, they will need our services. Please be sure that your child/children will be able to do so!

We genuinely dislike having to deny any child the right to check out books, but once again, our list of overdue books is growing. Therefore, if you have any books in your house that belong to the Bandera County Library (even if you don't happen to have school-age children) please return them immediately! Overdue books cost county residents time and money! In addition, those same books are being denied to patrons that might want to check them out. The books in the Bandera county library "belong" to all county residents.

We have many new books at your library and more on order. Among those fiction books on the New York Times best sellers list we have: The Chamber, by John Grisham; the Celestine Prophecy, by James Redfield; the Bridges of Madison County, by Robert James Waller; Everything to Gain, by Barbara Taylor Bradford; The Alienist, by Caleb Carr; The Crossing, by Cormac McCarthy; Remember Me by Mary Higgins Clark; Inca Gold by Clive Cussler; The Day After Tomorrow, by Allan Folsom; and The Waterworks by E.L. Doctorow.

Our non-fiction selections include: Embraced by the Light by Betty J. Eadie; the Agendas, by Bob Woodward; Reba: My Story by Reba McEntire; Women Who Run With the Wolves by Clarissa Pinkola Estes; In the Kitchen With Rosie by Rosie Daley; and Men are from Mars, Women are from Venus by John Gray. Incidentally, three of the above titles have appeared on the list for over one year. Memorial donations received in the past few months include those from Judge Tom Grant for Art Kitman; Irving Billings; Carolyn Thompson; Jack Bone; and Roscoe L. Hayes. Dr. and Mrs. George Meador also sent memorial donations for I.C. Billings and Carolyn Thompson. Donations have recently been made to the library from Mrs. C. Hester, HT and Mrs. A.B. Alkek. We thank all of you for your generous contributions.

Kerrville Wine and Music Festival

Rod Kennedy's third annual Kerrville Wine and Music Festival is set for the three-day Labor Day weekend, Friday-Sunday, Sept. 2-4, at Quiet Valley Ranch, between Medina and Kerrville on Texas Hwy. 16. To order tickets or request a free festival schedule, call 1 (800) 435-8429 between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays.

As two-a-days draw to a close in Bandera offensive standouts Jason Hearn and Jimmy Stroud appear to already be in mid-season form. The Bulldogs will finally get a chance to hit someone other than teammates on Thursday, Aug. 18, when the Dogs will host Jourdan for their first scrimmage of the season. All high school football teams will see action with scrimmages set for 5, 6 and 7 p.m.

Bandera High School athletic directors and coaches addressed a large crowd during Meet the Coaches Night on Friday, Aug. 12. The annual event, sponsored by the Athletic Boosters Club, gives coaches the opportunity to talk about the sports programs and to introduce many of the young people who will be competing for BHS during the coming school year.

4-H Open Horse Show results and winners announced

The 4-H open horse show was held on Aug. 6 at Mansfield Park. It attracted 32 entries for the following classes: halter, showmanship; English and western performance classes; and speed events. The 4-H spring horse show, open to 4-H Club members, was held on May 21. Sara Rippege, of Kerrville, won the junior division trophy (age 12 and under). Nicole Dhooghe, of Kerrville, won the senior division (age 13-18). Lee Earnshaw, of Bandera, took the adult trophy. The 4-H spring horse show, open to 4-H Club members, was held on May 21. Sara Campbell won the junior trophy. Erika Dinse took the senior trophy. Three "playdays" were held during the year. For the June 11 playday, Sara Campbell won the junior trophy and Erika Dinse won the senior trophy. For the July 9 playday, winners were junior Sara Camp-

A RANCHERS CHALLENGE

Paul Garrison, a local rancher, has issued a challenge to all other ranchers in the area. The challenge is to provide a team for the American Cancer Society Golf Tournament to be held Monday, Oct. 3, 1994 at the Frying L Golf Course. The entry fee will be $200 for a team of four golfers. Proceeds will go to the American Cancer Society to assist cancer patients in our community.

A trophy cup will be awarded to the ranchers whose team wins. Mr. Garrison hopes that all ranchers in our community will accept the challenge and provide teams to compete for the trophy cup. There will be help for those ranchers who need assistance in developing teams for the Ranchers Cup Challenge.

For more information, help, or to enter, please contact Robert Cohn at 796-3077 or Chubby Chandler at 589-2844.

Notice of Public Hearing on Tax Increase

The BANDERA INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1993 by 7.53 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on August 23, 1994 at 7:00 P.M. HS Library

FOR the proposal: Pat Cleaver, Margaret Paradee, Thomas Keese, Scott Middleton & Scott Parker
AGAINST the proposal: Ken Vakey & James Wagner PRESENT and not voting: None
ABSENT: None

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit published on Aug. 10, 1994. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$ 50,000	$ 50,000
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	$ 5,000	$ 5,000
Average taxable value	$ 45,000	$ 45,000
Tax rate	1.4433 / $100	1.55837 / $100
Tax	$ 649.49	$ 701.27

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $ 51.78 or 7.97 percent compared with last year's taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $ 0.11507 per $100 of taxable value or 7.97 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Proper Vision Care: More Important Now Than Ever

The sense of sight is unique among our five senses. Think about it: Touch and taste require us to come into actual contact with an object before we can sense it. To experience the sensations of smell or hearing, we must be relatively close to the source of the scent or the sound. But with sight, there are no such limitations. Through sight, we can "sense" objects that are millions of miles away without any mechanical aids. And we do it every time we look up at the stars in the night sky.

Our sense of sight is the most highly evolved of our senses. Vision — the ability of the eye to form an image and send that image to the brain — involves a complex series of chemical, muscular and nervous reactions that supply most of the advanced information we receive about the outside world. And that information is getting more advanced every day.

Hundreds of years ago, problems with vision went virtually unnoticed. Astigmatism and myopia were not serious problems when most information was transmitted orally. What we today would consider as unacceptably poor vision was sufficient when farming was the primary occupation of the population. People of that time just didn't make great demands of their eyes.

Today, our world is becoming more and more dependent upon information delivered in visual form. Television, computers, fax machines, ATM's and many of the other advances of the past 50 years require us to use our sight to receive most or all of the information they deliver. And as we increase our reliance on our sense of sight, we become more acutely aware of problems with our vision when they occur.

Fortunately, the diagnosis of vision problems has kept pace with their increase. The same technological advances that make more demands on our eyes have also given the eye care professional the means to more accurately assess any problems, both existing or potential.

Technology has also advanced the state of the art in vision correction. Magnifying lenses used to improve vision have been around for at least a thousand years. In his travels, Marco Polo found the Chinese using specially ground lenses to read fine print. Little changed over the years however, and until recently either single vision or bifocal spectacles were about all there was to offer in corrective eye wear. Today however, you have an almost limitless choice.

Traditional eyeglasses are available with glass or polycarbonate lenses that can be clear, tinted or transitional (adjust from dark to clear, depending upon light conditions). Lensesless bifocals are available for those who don't want to look their age. Flexible metal in frames and spring hinges mean you can tie your glasses in knots and still not break them. And the names of fashion designers who offer frame styles reads like a Who's Who of Fifth Avenue.

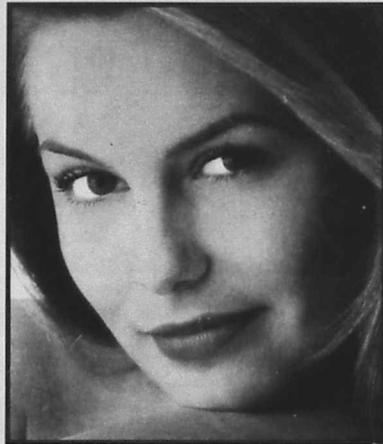

Contact lenses, still a novelty only 30 years ago, are not only readily accepted these days, they're available in styles and materials to meet the needs of more and more people: Soft and hard lenses. Daily wear and planned replacement. Colored lenses that can change dark brown eyes to light blue. There are even contact lenses for people with astigmatism, who for years have been told they couldn't wear contacts.

With all the options now available in eye care and eye wear, it's more important than ever to make the right choice. That's why we published this Family Guide to Vision Care. The independent doctors of optometry who make up The Vision Source believe that information contained in this Guide will help you recognize the need for regular eye examinations and vision screening. We want you to know that when vision correction is required, it can be accomplished in a way that you'll find comfortable, effective and, if you choose, fashionable. And we trust that you will consider The Vision Source when you select a family vision care provider.

Which brings us to one final point: No guide of this type, no matter how extensive, is a substitute for professional diagnosis or care. If you have a problem with your vision or a question, please consult with a doctor of optometry or ophthalmology. Thank you. The Doctors of The Vision Source

Treatment of Turned Eyes, Lazy Eye, Diplopia, and Blurred Vision After Reading.

by Bruce Wick, OD PhD

Do you have headaches, blurred vision after reading, or lose your place when reading? Have you ever seen a person with turned eyes or known someone with amblyopia (lazy eye)? Did you ever meet someone who experienced double vision? Each of these symptoms, signs, or eye conditions are among binocular vision conditions treated by vision care professionals, including those at The Vision Source offices. Successful treatment of these conditions first requires that the examining doctor and the patient carefully explore each of the symptoms, and investigate the onset, duration, and severity of the condition. This initial step is important because it allows the patient to become fully aware of the magnitude of the condition and helps the doctor begin to formulate a treatment plan.

Treatment involves a number of sequential steps which are taken by virtually all vision care professionals, although some may stress one step more frequently or earlier in management than others. For example, optometrists typically emphasize less invasive treatments such as occlusion or vision therapy while ophthalmologists often utilize surgery earlier in management. However, both groups of vision care providers utilize each of the treatment steps discussed below in varying amounts, depending on the condition of the patient and the impression of the doctor as to the likelihood of a given treatment being successful.

The initial treatment is typically to prescribe a visual correction that allows the patient to maintain the clearest distance vision possible. For many patients with less severe conditions this initial step is enough and no further treatment is needed. When a more severe condition exists and simple vision correction is not sufficient, additional optical treatments are next used. These include added lenses such as bifocals, which allow clear vision at near, and prism, which helps restore the eye alignment necessary for single vision. Often added lenses and prism are very successful in reducing symptoms and these steps minimize the need for further therapy. These steps are most successful for the treatment of headaches, blurred vision after reading, and losing your place while reading.

When the optical treatment described above only partially solves the problem, subsequent management includes occlusion, to treat amblyopia, and vision therapy, to train visual responses of the two eyes together.

Occlusion, which has been used for two hundred years as a treatment for amblyopia, can be very successfully used to improve the vision of an amblyopic eye. The principle is to cover the good eye long enough per day or week to help the amblyopic eye resume its role in vision. Part time occlusion is often used when there is only amblyopia, constant occlusion is used more frequently when there is an eye turn. Although there is no question that it is more difficult to improve visual function of older children and adults, there is no age barrier for successful treatment. Almost always it is the condition present that determines the ultimate treatment, not the age of the patient.

Vision therapy is a programmed application of learning theory to restoration of normal binocular vision. The premise is that control of visual functions can be learned or improved with applied practice. The goal is seldom to "strengthen the muscles" but rather to improve the brain's control of them. For most patients improved ocular control can usually be accomplished in 6 to 12 weeks, provided the previously described initial steps of lens correction, prism, added lenses, and occlusion have been applied in proper manner and for sufficient time.

When the condition has not been successfully eliminated with the previous steps (lens correction, prism, added lenses, occlusion, and vision therapy), surgery is the final management consideration. Surgery is not generally a treatment for amblyopia or blurred vision after reading, usually for surgery to be required a rather large eye turn (strabismus) must exist initially and remain after the previously described treatments. Surgery is done to reduce the amount of the eye turn and make it easier for both eyes to work together.

When selecting a vision care professional be sure that you find out his or her philosophy of treatment. When all forms of therapy are utilized, the success rate for treatment of binocular vision conditions is very high. Neglecting a treatment reduces the prognosis.

CONSUMER SURVEY POINTS TO GROWING INTEREST IN ANTI-REFLECTIVE COATING

Results taken from a broad range study conducted by eyecare practitioners suggest that more than 37% of those surveyed said they were sensitive to bright lights, glare and reflections. This points to a growing interest in anti-reflective coatings for eyeglass lenses. According to the survey, there are several areas where the benefits of anti-reflective coatings could be applied.

Most of us are familiar with the anti-reflective coatings on camera lenses, binoculars and telescopes. Similar technology is now used to eliminate some of the annoyances associated with glasses. Some of the comments being made by wearers of these coatings are that "eyestrain from glare under harsh indoor lighting is eliminated." Computer users point to the reduction of glare from the screens, less distractions, and higher productivity as benefits. Patients who stated that they were uncomfortable driving at night due to glare reported greater comfort and security with anti-reflective lenses.

Anti-reflective coatings for eyeglasses are certainly not new, but the methods of applying these coatings has improved dramatically. Now scratch and smudge resistance properties have been added to the process which make the results much more appealing.

Given that the primary purpose of prescription lenses is to transmit light rays, anti-reflective coatings significantly improve the way lenses actually do this. Normally, lenses lose up to 12% of the transmission due to reflections. One of the newest coatings, Vista anti-reflective lenses sold by The Vision Source, reduces surface reflections to less than 1%. This not only improves the optical performance of the lenses, but patients are also amazed at how much better the lenses look. One patient stated that, "my wife says she can finally see my eyes."

One of the eyecare professionals at The Vision Source will be glad to give you a demonstration or more information about Vista anti-reflective lenses.

Introducing New Transitions Comfort Lenses.

New Transitions Comfort Lenses pass the test when it comes to comfort for your eyes. That's because Transitions Comfort Lenses are the world's only prescription eyeglass lenses with a unique combination of features.

Transitions Comfort Lenses are the only lightweight plastic lenses with a comfort tint that darkens automatically outdoors and lightens indoors, making your eyes feel right in any light. Indoors, the pleasing neutral tint softens harsh overhead lighting. Outdoors, the warm gray tint makes your eyes comfortable in the sun. Plus, they block the sun's harmful UV rays and resist scratches so you can enjoy your lenses longer.

Why would you choose ordinary lenses when you can have the world's only "comfort lenses"? Take the comfort test yourself and ask your eyecare professional for Transitions Comfort Lenses by name.

1. New Transitions Comfort Lenses...

- A. Automatically darken outdoors and lighten indoors
- B. Block the sun's harmful UV rays
- C. Are made of comfortable lightweight plastic
- D. Resist scratches
- E. All of the above

Introducing New Transitions Comfort Lenses.

New Transitions Comfort Lenses pass the test when it comes to comfort for your eyes. That's because Transitions Comfort Lenses are the world's only prescription eyeglass lenses with a unique combination of features.

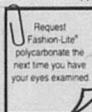

Transitions Comfort Lenses are the only lightweight plastic lenses with a comfort tint that darkens automatically outdoors and lightens indoors, making your eyes feel right in any light. Indoors, the pleasing neutral tint softens harsh overhead lighting. Outdoors, the warm gray tint makes your eyes comfortable in the sun. Plus, they block the sun's harmful UV rays and resist scratches so you can enjoy your lenses longer.

Why would you choose ordinary lenses when you can have the world's only "comfort lenses"? Take the comfort test yourself and ask your eyecare professional for Transitions Comfort Lenses by name.

OPTOMETRIC LOW VISION CARE

by Robert Haws, OD

If you can't read this sentence, then you may need the services of a Low Vision specialist. Unfortunately, the previous sentence is why many partially sighted and legally blind people never seek assistance — they never knew it existed. According to the American Optometric Association, there are an estimated 4.3 million people so severely visually impaired that they cannot read newspaper even with the aid of eyeglasses. Add to that the nearly 1.1 million people legally blind, and you have a group of people approximately the size of Houston who may benefit from the services of a Low Vision Optometrist.

The types of Americans suffering from visual impairment are children not able to develop normally, teens prevented from participating in sports and social activities, young adults whose career choices are limited, adults whose careers are terminated prematurely, older adults forced to relinquish their independence. Yet all of these scenarios can be turned around with the proper assistance.

WHAT IS LOW VISION?

Low vision is a term used to describe the various services offered to those who are partially sighted or legally blind. People with low vision usually have remaining vision either centrally or off to the side. Some may have pockets of vision or have no color vision.

Generally there are two classifications of low vision:

• Partially sighted — These individuals have best corrected visual acuity between 20/70 and 20/200.

• Legally blind — These individuals cannot be corrected to 20/200 and/or have a restricted field of vision less than 20 degrees.

Although these are classifications used to separate the low vision population, optometrists use impairment of performance rather than visual impairment to help determine whether a person can achieve a more independent life style through the services of a low vision specialist. The impairment of performance approach means that the optometrist must consider the person's whole health. Not only the person's visual problems, but their general health, physical condition, psychological state, use of optical aids or devices, and their need for rehabilitative services must be evaluated.

WHO PROVIDES LOW VISION CARE?

Optometrists (O.D.) are the major primary care providers in the United States, and also provide much of the low vision care. However, optometrists interact extensively with other eye care disciplines especially ophthalmologists (M.D.) in order for the person to have the most appropriate care possible. Optometrists also communicate and consult with other health care providers such as a family practitioner, internist, pediatrician, geriatrician, and others.

All optometrists are educated and trained in providing low vision services. However, some may offer limited services and some may not offer any services because of the extra time and expense in caring for these people.

The treatment of a diagnosed low vision problem may be prescribing glasses, contact lenses, low vision devices, or rehabilitation services. There are many low vision devices including high powered reading glasses, magnifiers, telescopic aids, field of vision expanders, electronic magnifiers and tinted lenses. Also, there are many non-optical aids to assist the partially sighted. These aids consist of large print materials, talking books, reading and writing aids, and vocational, homemaking, and recreational aids.

The cost of the low vision examination usually is higher than an optometric examination because of the complexity and time spent with the individual. Most insurances, Medicare, and Medicaid will cover a portion if not, all of the examination. However, most will not cover the optical aids except eye glasses. Partially sighted persons who cannot afford the higher costs of low vision care should discuss the matter with their optometrist. There are many foundations and grants to help with the cost.

The field of low vision care is complex and quite rewarding to both the partially sighted and the optometrist. There are many possible aids to help the partially sighted and the legally blind. These aids are prescribed according to the person's performance impairment not necessarily the visual impairment.

If you would like more information about the various low vision services available or to make an appointment, please call your nearest Vision Source location.

Polycarbonate: The Space Age "Safety First" Lens

What safeguards your eyes from the sun's ultraviolet rays, is thin, lightweight and reasonably priced?

If you didn't say polycarbonate lenses, you are overlooking one of the best buys today in eyeglass lenses.

Once used only for industrial safety glasses, polycarbonate has now been rediscovered as the demand for thinner, lighter lenses rises. Although it now represents the fastest growing segment of the new generation of "high index" materials, it is still one of the most under-utilized products on the market.

Polycarbonate is the most impact-resistant lens material, exceeding the FDA's requirement by over 40 times. Developed originally for the aerospace industry for airline windows and astronaut face plates, today sport helmets and even bullet-proof windows are all made of polycarbonate materials.

Along with its strength, polycarbonate can be made measurably thinner than other plastic lenses. When combined in one of the new lightweight fashion frames, the comfort is unsurpassed.

In addition to protecting against impact, polycarbonate protects the eyes from the harmful effects of ultraviolet light. This is essential for anyone working or playing in the sunshine, under fluorescent lamps, or near computer screens. And unlike other materials, a UV inhibitor is built into the lens so a patient won't have to pay extra for a UV coating.

The basic polycarbonate material is extremely soft, which is why the material can absorb such high impact. When used for eyeglass lenses, a very tough scratch resistant coating is applied to both sides of the lens to protect against normal handling scratches. You never have to pay extra for scratch protection.

Generally, the thinner the lens material the higher the price. Polycarbonate is the affordable exception because the UV and scratch protection is built into the lens.

Polycarbonate lenses can be tinted to any desired color, including sun-glass tints and the new anti-reflective coatings adapt well to it. Ask one of the eye care professionals at The Vision Source for more information on the many types of lens designs available in Fashion-Lite polycarbonate.

See what you've been missing.

You'll not only see better you'll look better.

Probably nowhere do fashion and function come together as they do in eye care. When vision correction is necessary, you want to make certain that you not only see as well as possible, but that you look good in your corrective eye wear.

At The Vision Source, we understand this. And while our first and foremost concern is your vision, we also make every effort to provide you with eye wear that flatters your appearance. To do that, every Vision Source location combines two important elements.

Optometrist owned and operated vision care.

First, each Vision Source is owned by a resident doctor of optometry or ophthalmology.

Second, every Vision Source office is well-stocked with the latest in designer frames and the full range of options in contact lenses: soft, gas permeable, planned replacement, and colored lenses, to name a few.

Because each office is owned and operated by an independent, optometrist or ophthalmologist, you get personal care and attention.

Your entire experience, from exam through fitting and follow-up, takes place under the watchful eye of the owner, so the quality of your care is assured.

Prices competitive with the "discount" chains.

Value is assured at The Vision Source because of the combined buying power of the more than 20 locations. Because of our purchasing clout, The Vision Source is able to offer designer frames, specialty lenses and all types of contact lenses at prices comparable with any "supposedly" "discount" operation.

You also get the added value of trained opticians at each office to help you in the selection and fitting of your eye wear.

Personal attention from an independent professional and quality eye wear at value prices. These are the founding principles of The Vision Source.

See what you've been missing.

If you're not getting that from your present eye care provider, then see what you've been missing — contact The Vision Source location nearest you.

SELECTING A FRAME TO MATCH YOUR FACE

There was a time when eyeglass frames were limited in styles and colors. Your decision was based on which detracted the least from your appearance. Now, frames are available in thousands of combinations of styles, colors and materials. And instead of detracting from your appearance, your choice of frames can actually enhance the way you look. But not every frame is right for everybody. Here are some guidelines to use in conjunction with your eye care practitioner or a frame stylist when selecting your frames.

The Oval Face. The oval-shaped face can wear almost any style. Women can select small or oversize frames that are severe or creative in style. Only very heavy frames should be avoided. Men too can wear almost any style, the goal being to preserve the appearance without altering proportion.

The Long, Narrow Face. This facial shape is overly long in proportion to the width of the forehead and chin. Women should choose relatively large frames with horizontal lines. Men will find that rounded or oval frames, especially those that are dark in color, will shorten the apparent distance between chin and hairline.

The Round Face. The choice of frames for the round face depend upon the preference of the wearer. Women who want to accentuate the round face should choose round frames. If the goal, however is to play down the round shape, select frames that have a horizontal look, slightly squared corners and are darker toward the side temples. Likewise, men who want to keep a rounded appearance should choose frames with soft contours. Bolder shapes and striking colors will, conversely, make the face appear longer.

The Square Face. A wide, firm jaw distinguishes this facial shape. Women will find that angular frames emphasize the boldness, while round or oval frames will soften it. If it balances, an unusual shape or color will go even further to make a square facial contour less noticeable. Men who want to heighten the image of a prominent jawline should select angular frames with severe designs. To make a square facial outline less obvious, however, choose frames that are rounded and have a greater than normal width from temple to temple.

Matching A Frame To Your Facial Features

Our facial features have a certain proportion and relationship that we may like just the way it is. Or we may want to call attention to one feature while deemphasizing another. Here are a few rules to keep in mind when choosing frames.

- The fit at the nose should be snug enough not to slip, but should accommodate the bridge of the nose without marking or indenting the skin.
- If the base of the nose is narrow, select frames with a relatively high and thin bridge.
- If the base of the nose is wide, select a wide, low-position bridge, with emphasis on the top of the frames through design or color.
- If the nose is long, a low-placed bridge will make it seem shorter.
- If the nose is relatively short, a bridge placed near the top will give it more prominence.
- A proper frame of conservative size follows the outline of the brow, but never crosses it.
- The top of the frame should stop at the base of the eyebrow.
- The color of the frame and the eyebrow should be coordinated.
- Eyeglasses should never touch the cheeks. They leave marks and the stability of the frame could be compromised.
- Close set eyes can be made to appear farther apart by a frame with a clear bridge and strong upper corners. To achieve the opposite effect, frames with a low-position, thick and dark bridge, make wide set eyes seem closer together.

NEARSIGHTEDNESS REDUCTION

by Mario Gutierrez, O.D., F.A.A.O.

Nearsightedness (myopia) affects about 30% of the U.S. population, and is the most common condition which requires patients to wear glasses or contact lenses. Nearsighted patients see well at near, but are unable to see clearly at a distance. This occurs because light rays entering the eye are focused in front of the retina (the eye's nerve fiber layer) instead of on it. Over the past few years, nearsightedness reduction surgeries, and contact lens assisted techniques have been improved to help patients become less dependent on conventional optical corrections. The three most important of these are: radial keratotomy, orthokeratology, and laser photoablation.

Radial keratotomy (RK) has been performed since the early 1970's, and is the most performed myopia reduction surgery in the U.S. This procedure involves placing tiny radial or spoke-like incisions on the front surface of the eye — the cornea. This flattens the cornea's curvature which now helps to properly focus light rays on the retina. The surgical outcome is dependent on factors such as the number and depth of incisions and their location. The predictability in obtaining the desired amount of correction has dramatically improved with the use of diamond blades, ultrasound instrumentation, and by the experience gained from the thousands of patients who have had RK.

Orthokeratology (OK) is a technique which employs a series of contact lenses to assist in reducing myopia. OK contact lenses are specially designed to encourage the cornea to gently change to a flatter shape, thereby reducing one's myopic correction. After the desired or maximum results are attained, retainer contact lenses are worn on a part time basis to help stabilize the results.

Orthokeratology has been practiced in the U.S. since 1962.

Laser photoablation (PRK) works by focusing an Excimer laser on the central cornea and removing (photoablating) a disc of corneal tissue so as to flatten the corneal curvature. In the future, we think PRK will be able to correct larger amounts of nearsightedness than RK, and probably more accurately. PRK as of this writing, is still under Food and Drug Administration investigative clinical trials, however, worldwide there have been over 65,000 procedures performed with promising results. Our offices participate in the clinical management and co-management of these nearsightedness reduction techniques. If you or someone you know is interested in an alternative to conventional glasses and contact lens correction, or just want additional information, please give our offices a call.

Now you can change your eye color and add sparkle, clarity and youthful definition — even if you don't need vision correction. See us about Natural Touch lenses. For eyes that are beautiful enough to make a first impression and natural enough to make it last.

Commonly Asked Questions About Astigmatism And Contact Lenses

What is astigmatism?

Astigmatism is a common visual condition that occurs when the front surface of the eye, called the cornea, is not perfectly round. Instead of having equal curvatures like a basketball, it has unequal curvatures like a football. As a result, not all the light rays are focused at the same point, which leads to blurred vision.

How common is astigmatism?

More than half of all people needing vision correction have astigmatism. This equates to more than 70 million Americans with astigmatism.

Can people with astigmatism wear soft contact lenses?

People with astigmatism once had limited vision correction options. As a result, many people with astigmatism were told that they could not wear soft contact lenses and were prescribed eyeglasses or hard contact lenses. But today, thanks to advancements in technology, people with astigmatism can enjoy the comfort and convenience of soft contact lenses that are worn during waking hours and replaced each month with a fresh, new pair.

Are these lenses similar to disposable lenses?

Frequent replacement toric lenses are lenses for astigmatism that are designed to be worn during waking hours and replaced once a month. The lenses are packaged in convenient 6-pack multipacks so that spare lenses are available. The cost for one year's supply of monthly replacement soft toric lenses (12 pairs) is about equal to the cost of one pair of ordinary contact lenses for astigmatism or one pair of quality eyeglasses.

What are the benefits of soft contact lenses as compared to eyeglasses?

Soft contact lenses provide excellent peripheral vision, unlike eyeglasses which have rims that obstruct vision. Additionally, contact lens wearers are never bothered by glasses slipping down the nose, fogging up or getting dirty. And what is most noticeable to others will be a new, natural appearance no longer hidden behind glasses.

What is the benefit of replacing contact lenses every month?

Replacing lenses monthly offers lens wearers more comfort and greater convenience. Contact lenses feel best when they are new. Monthly replacement will help keep your contacts fresh and clean. Replacing lenses frequently also helps reduce the problems caused by deposit buildup because lenses are replaced before excessive buildup occurs. And depending on the eye care professional's recommendation, replacing lenses monthly may eliminate the need for weekly enzyme cleaning. As wearers of ordinary contact lenses will agree, enzyme cleaning can be both inconvenient and costly.

Would you be smiling if this happened to your eyeglass frame?

Yes, if you wear frames made from Flexon® the world's most flexible metal!

Imagine having your eyeglass frames accidentally bent or twisted and then being able to put them right back on and have them feel comfortable. No need to imagine. Today there's a new breakthrough in frame materials, so special it has been awarded 2 U.S. patents. Flexion is an exciting

Vision 101: The History of Contact Lenses

—With more than 20 million Americans using contact lenses, everyone knows someone who wears this undetectable form of vision correction. But how much does the average person know about contact lenses? Here's an introductory course to bring your knowledge up to speed.

Today, contact lenses are made of a special soft, pliable plastic that holds more than its entire weight in water. They're so comfortable, most wearers can't even feel them in their eyes. And while becoming more comfortable, they are also becoming more convenient. The most comfortable and convenient lens is also growing the fastest in popularity: the disposable lens. It's just what its name implies: a lens designed to be thrown away and replaced on a weekly basis.

But contact lenses weren't always this commonplace, comfortable or convenient. Consider the history of the modern contact lens:

1500s — Leonardo da Vinci developed the concept for a lens that would fit directly on the eye.
Late 1800s — The first contact

lens became a reality. These early, custom-made lenses were glass, and covered the entire surface of the eye.

1947 — The first contact lens was brought to the mass market. Made of glass or hard plastic, these "hard contact lenses" allowed nearsighted people to finally look at the world without the distraction of eyeglass frames. The trade offs were some discomfort caused by the rigidity of the lens, and the inconvenience of lenses that easily "popped out."

1970s — Soft contact lenses were introduced, and quickly surpassed hard lenses in popularity. They were much more comfortable than hard lenses and stayed in place better. Wearers loved the comfort, but hated the rigorous daily cleaning routine required with soft lenses.

1988 — Johnson & Johnson introduced the ACUVUE® Disposable Contact Lens. ACUVUE lenses never have to be cleaned — they're worn for up to a week, and then simply replaced with a clean, fresh pair. Within a few years of its introduction, ACUVUE became the most popular contact lens in the world.

1991 — Johnson & Johnson introduces SUREVUE® contact lenses, recommended for daily wear, two-week replacement. These lenses offer the advantages of clean, fresh lenses twice a month and generally require only a simplified cleaning routine. What does the future hold for vision correction? More and more frequently replaced lenses, say researchers, eying the possibility of daily disposable contact lenses. In the distant future, there may even be liquid drops that form custom-fit contact lenses, right on the eye.

But for now, disposable and two-week replacement lenses represent the forefront of contact lens technology. Ask your eye doctor if ACUVUE or SUREVUE lenses are right for you. And remember... following your doctor's instructions and going for regular eye exams are essential to good vision and good eye health.

ALL RED EYES ARE NOT THE SAME!

The superficial eye infection often called "Pink Eye" is technically known as CONJUNCTIVITIS. This uncomfortable eye infection causes excessive redness of the whites of the eye, called the conjunctiva; however, it will seldom cause permanent eye or vision damage. Conjunctivitis typically results from bacterial infection, exposure to allergens (such as mold or pollen), or virus infection (like having the flu in the eye). Bacterial conjunctivitis is usually contagious, especially among children. Symptoms include EXCESSIVE MUCUS DISCHARGE of the affected eye. Allergic conjunctivitis is not contagious. Symptoms include ITCHING AND BURNING, and very itchy mucous discharge of the affected eye. Viral conjunctivitis is often very contagious. Symptoms include BURNING AND WATERY DISCHARGE of the affected eye. Viral conjunctivitis USUALLY GETS WORSE BEFORE IT GETS BETTER.

Each of the varied causes of conjunctivitis requires a different treatment. In addition, red eye can be caused by other problems including glaucoma and an internal eye inflammation known as iritis. Thus, it is important not to use drops that may be in the medicine cabinet and to consult your doctor for accurate diagnosis and treatment. Self-medication in this case can cause substantial harm as some drops can make the condition worse. For example, drops containing steroids can cause a viral conjunctivitis to become worse and some people become allergic to antibiotic drops which may aggravate allergic conjunctivitis. Conjunctivitis is treated by physicians (usually family practitioners, pediatricians, and ophthalmologists) and optometrists. Therapeutic optometrists and ophthalmologists are especially well suited to provide this treatment as their offices have the proper diagnostic equipment and they frequently deal with eye problems.

CALL YOUR DOCTOR'S OFFICE IMMEDIATELY if you or a family member contracts conjunctivitis. The following treatment recommendations will ease discomfort until you can see a doctor.

- If contact lenses are worn, they should be removed immediately and not worn again without permission.
- If there is mucous, a warm, wet washcloth should be used frequently to remove mucus crusting. Care should be taken not to affect the other eye or other family members.
- Do not bandage the affected eye since covering the eye promotes bacterial growth.

Take your child for an eye examination before age one!

by Bruce Wick, OD PhD

Development of a child's vision is a marvelous combination of heredity and environment. Children are sometimes born with birth trauma or defects that affect vision; many of them end up leading relatively normal lives. There are also many children who are born with perfectly normal eyes but who subsequently develop abnormalities that could have been prevented with early intervention. Such preventable conditions include amblyopia (lazy eye) which is easily treated at a young age, and strabismus (turned eye) which can sometimes be prevented in the early stages by wearing eyeglasses.

Prevention and treatment can best be achieved through an early examination — within the first year of life. During this examination the doctor should test many of the same areas that are tested during the examination of adults. The child's parent should first answer questions related to birth history and development. Then there will be tests of sharpness of vision (visual acuity), eye alignment, the need for lenses, internal and external eye health. Because an infant's age alters the attention span and ability to respond, these tests are not done in the same manner as they are for adults. However, the principle is the same — to find out if there is a normal vision system. Secondary goals are to determine whether there are barriers to successful development and to develop a management strategy if necessary.

Sharpness of vision (visual acuity) is tested in adults by having them read the smallest letters that they can. Obviously this works well for adults who know the alphabet and can respond to questions, but infants and toddlers are unable to respond in this manner. Therefore, evaluation of the infant needs to be done in a more simplified manner. Tests of sharpness of vision are done by using vertical stripes matched to grey squares (for infants) and matching of small targets (for toddlers and young children). The principle of using stripes and gray squares is that infants prefer to look at a more interesting stripe target than a blank field. Matching of targets works well for toddlers because they can often choose when two targets look alike. These tests give much the same visual acuity results as reading letters to allow the doctor to evaluate how a very young child sees.

Tests of eye alignment are usually done by covering one eye and observing whether the other eye moves to look at a target. This test works for infants as well as adults. An alternative test is to shine a light in both eyes and observe where the reflection of the light appears to be within the pupil (dark portion) of each eye. These tests are important because a misaligned eye can develop amblyopia (lazy eye) if left untreated. Another reason that early detection is important is that amblyopia and turned eyes can often be treated more rapidly when the child is very young.

The need for lenses is determined in an adult examination by asking, "Which is better, one or two?" Naturally an infant cannot respond to such questions so alternative methods are used to determine their need for lenses. The most frequently used test involves shining a light at the eyes and observing the light in the pupils of the eyes, similar to the way a dog's or cat's eyes glow in a car headlight on a dark night. The way the light is reflected out is determined by the need for lenses, and the doctor can use this test to evaluate whether an infant needs glasses.

Internal and external eye health is evaluated in much the same manner as it is for adults. The doctor looks into the eyes of the child with an instrument known as an ophthalmoscope, typically through a dilated pupil. The doctor looks for cataracts, glaucoma, and retinal problems. Although not common in infants, eye health problems often need early treatment. The sooner they are detected the better.

Even if you have not had your child's eyes examined as an infant, have them examined now. Do not rely on a school screening which typically evaluates only distance visual acuity. "My child sees fine so there is no need for an eye examination" is not sufficient. Children can see fine at a distance but still have visually related learning problems because of near focusing problems. In addition, having good vision does not prevent eye health problems. Have your children's vision evaluated soon after birth, and then follow the directions of your eye care professional as to the need for reevaluation.

HOW YOUR CONTACTS CAN FEEL AS COMFORTABLE AS AN OLD PAIR OF JEANS.

Soft. Easy to wear. Like they aren't even there. That's how comfortable Opti-Free can make contacts feel. Start with our Daily Cleaner, which removes deposits like no other cleaner can.

Then just rinse and soak with Opti-Free Solution. Together, they keep contacts comfortable 10, 12, 14 hours, maybe even longer. The secret to comfortable contacts? Opti-Free. That's all there is to it.

OPTI-FREE. THE SECRET TO COMFORTABLE CONTACTS.

Vision 101: The History of Contact Lenses

—With more than 20 million Americans using contact lenses, everyone knows someone who wears this undetectable form of vision correction. But how much does the average person know about contact lenses? Here's an introductory course to bring your knowledge up to speed.

Today, contact lenses are made of a special soft, pliable plastic that holds more than its entire weight in water. They're so comfortable, most wearers can't even feel them in their eyes. And while becoming more comfortable, they are also becoming more convenient. The most comfortable and convenient lens is also growing the fastest in popularity: the disposable lens. It's just what its name implies: a lens designed to be thrown away and replaced on a weekly basis.

But contact lenses weren't always this commonplace, comfortable or convenient. Consider the history of the modern contact lens:

1500s — Leonardo da Vinci developed the concept for a lens that would fit directly on the eye.
Late 1800s — The first contact

lens became a reality. These early, custom-made lenses were glass, and covered the entire surface of the eye.

1947 — The first contact lens was brought to the mass market. Made of glass or hard plastic, these "hard contact lenses" allowed nearsighted people to finally look at the world without the distraction of eyeglass frames. The trade offs were some discomfort caused by the rigidity of the lens, and the inconvenience of lenses that easily "popped out."

1970s — Soft contact lenses were introduced, and quickly surpassed hard lenses in popularity. They were much more comfortable than hard lenses and stayed in place better. Wearers loved the comfort, but hated the rigorous daily cleaning routine required with soft lenses.

1988 — Johnson & Johnson introduced the ACUVUE® Disposable Contact Lens. ACUVUE lenses never have to be cleaned — they're worn for up to a week, and then simply replaced with a clean, fresh pair. Within a few years of its introduction, ACUVUE became the most popular contact lens in the world.

1991 — Johnson & Johnson introduces SUREVUE® contact lenses, recommended for daily wear, two-week replacement. These lenses offer the advantages of clean, fresh lenses twice a month and generally require only a simplified cleaning routine. What does the future hold for vision correction? More and more frequently replaced lenses, say researchers, eyeing the possibility of daily disposable contact lenses. In the distant future, there may even be liquid drops that form custom-fit contact lenses, right on the eye.

But for now, disposable and two-week replacement lenses represent the forefront of contact lens technology. Ask your eye doctor if ACUVUE or SUREVUE lenses are right for you. And remember... following your doctor's instructions and going for regular eye exams are essential to good vision and good eye health.

Public hearing Thursday

Bandera mayor assures public that the money's there

By Stephanie Logue
Bulletin Staff Writer

A public hearing on the city park has been scheduled by the Bandera city council for Thursday, Aug. 25 at 7 p.m. Roads and parking will be discussed and the public is urged to attend and to participate in the meeting.

Mayor Robert Skinner says he wants to assure the public that ALL monies contributed to the park were deposited and are still in the park fund. All donations received are being used to fund park projects.

The city of Bandera received a matching funds grant from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. At that time, the city should have allocated the needed money to see that the park was completed by the deadline. Instead, small amounts were transferred when different bills for the park became due. As of this month, the money needed to bring the park to recreational use has been secured.

The fence has been completed. The park entrance and rest

County considering roof repairs, asbestos

Bandera county commissioners are considering several bids for roof repairs on the county buildings. Turner roofing was represented at the Monday, Aug. 22 meeting.

Commissioners approved $3,908 for 145 yards of carpet squares. These will be installed in the hallways of the county courthouse to cover the existing cracked and chipped tile. It will also cover the asbestos under the tile and will encapsulate it. If asbestos cannot be encapsulated, it must be removed. The building must be sealed off while the removal is in progress.

Commissioners debated the necessity of the carpet. They were told by Bruce Gaunt of CSI/CDC flooring that installing tile again would be more expensive because the existing floor has ridges and valleys which would need to be leveled by the installation of plywood. The added height of the plywood and tile would make it necessary to cut the bottom of the doors and trim along the hallways.

County warned, also, that if the asbestos were allowed to become exposed (through the cracked tile) and became airborne, the courthouse would be shut down and sealed off while asbestos removal was rooms will be finished by the end of the month. Tables and grills have been ordered and delivery is expected soon. City workers and volunteers are in the process of clearing brush and cleaning the area.

Skinner said the park project has been plagued by money not allocated, not by missing funds.

County Judge Ray Mauer told commissioners that the item was on their agenda in an attempt to "avoid" future asbestos problems. He said encapsulating the asbestos, rather than replacing it, was a much less expensive choice.

Ron Jones, county maintenance supervisor, told commissioners that the money for the carpet installation was in his budget for this year. Work on the floor will begin within the next two weeks and is expected to take only one day to complete.

County commissioners also heard a request from John Mohar, on behalf of the Castle Lake Volunteer Fire Department. Mohar asked for use of county equipment to help install a "dry hydrant" in Castle Lake. He said it would be accessible to all fire trucks in the county and that other fire departments within the county will be able to install the hydrants also.

A resolution of support for the LBJ Scenic Hill Country Trail through Texas was signed by commissioners. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department proposed the resolution. They said it would protect bike and horseback riders and attract tourists.

It was fun and games in a wholesome atmosphere last Friday night at the Bandera Bank Community Room when the Bandera County Christian Fellowship and area churches joined to sponsor a Youth Fellowship Night. The multi-denominational youth group steering and planning group will meet again Tuesday, Aug. 30 at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church. The group is also planning a Christian concert Sept. 10 at 2 p.m. at Bandera High School.

Labor Day Weekend PRCA rodeo set

Cowboy Capital rodeo will feature bull riding, trick roper Kevin Fitzpatrick and much more

The 11th annual PRCA Labor Day Weekend Rodeo, sponsored by the Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association, will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2 through 4 at Mansfield Park. Performances begin at 8 p.m. each night.

Adult admission will be $7 in advance and $8 at the gate. Children's admission will be $3 in advance and $4 at the gate.

Friday's performance has been designated as "children's night." A child's ticket purchased with an adult ticket is only $1. Tickets may be purchased in San Antonio at 8023 Callaghan Road, and in Bandera at: Rodeo Chevrolet; Bandera Chamber of Commerce and Visitors' Center; O.S.T. Restaurant; Super S Grocery;

The Cabaret; and the First State Bank.

There are no reserved seats. Reserved seats were sold as a part of the sponsorship program. A parking fee of $1 per vehicle will be charged.

Rodeo slack will be held Wednesday, Aug. 31 at 6 p.m. and Thursday, Sept. 1 at 6 p.m. There is a $1 admission charge for the slack performances.

The Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association was organized in 1983 to bring professional rodeo to Bandera County and the surrounding communities. Over 150 life-time members support the association with time and financial assistance. Local businesses also support the organization.

Each year, the rodeo association seeks ways to improve the rodeo presentation. This year, the arena has been painted. Grandstand seating will be available on BOTH sides of the arena for the first time.

Mack Altizer and Bad Company Rodeo will act as rodeo producer again this year. They provide fast-moving and exciting rodeo action, as promised by their motto: "Expect the Unexpected."

Bad Company will bring with them horseback rodeo announcer Mike Mathis; barrelman, Jim Bob Feller; bullfighters, Todd Bowman, Mark Callaghan and Roach Hedeman; and trick rider, Bree Worthington.

Bandera's own Kevin Fitzpatrick will put on a trick roping display prior to each night's performance. He is in the Ancira TV commercials.

Special prizes will be given each evening including Wrangler gift certificates and National Finals belt buckles from Award Design Medals.

Each performance will begin at 8 p.m. with the Grand Entry which will include newly elected rodeo queen and princess and rodeo teen queen and princess, along with all the contestants and sponsor representatives.

CPR classes this Saturday

An American Red Cross CPR and standard first aid course will be held this Saturday, Aug. 27 in the Bandera High School Library from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

CPR for adults, children and infants will be taught. The cost is $25. Those planning to attend should pre-register. Call 798-4941 and leave your name and telephone number.

Preparation for Cajun Festival begins

More volunteers needed for Sept. 24 Medina Lake event

Volunteers for the 14th annual Cajun Festival, which will be held on Saturday, Sept. 24 from noon to 10 p.m., are already cooking and freezing pounds of Cajun food.

Twenty pounds of jambalaya has been prepared and will serve approximately 700 people. Jambalaya is a traditional left-over Cajun meal with a rice base.

One of the Cajun Festival organizers, Barbara Engel, explained that Cajuns use rice as a staple, rather than potatoes. To make jambalaya, they add onions, vegetables and seafood or ham to dress up their left overs.

"We make our jambalaya from scratch," Engel said.

"We use ham and sausage for people who don't like seafood because we already have so many other seafood dishes at the festival."

Volunteers have also made 500 crawfish pies and shrimp etouffee. They will make pecan pralines and need more volunteer help for making the pralines.

"We still need help," Engel said. "Especially the day before and the day of the festival."

Those wishing to volunteer may call 751-9777 or 751-3130.

The official program, including scheduled entertainment for the Cajun Festival will be included in the Bandera Bulletin on Sept. 21.

'Meet the Teachers' set Monday in Medina

Medina Independent School District will sponsor a "Meet the Teachers" night in conjunction with dedication of a new building at the school on Monday, Aug. 29.

The ceremony dedicating the new classroom annex in the memory of Marcella Ingram will begin at 6:45 p.m. Immediately following the ceremony, parents are invited to "follow their child's schedule" and meet the teachers in their classrooms.

Teachers will discuss class rules, objectives, grading procedures and special projects (if any). The evening will provide an opportunity for parents to visit with teachers and get a better understanding of what their child is studying.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Fed up with feds

In reading the article concerning the Commissioner's golden warbler resolution (Bandera Bulletin, Aug. 10, 1994), I was surprised at the comment that Governor Ann Richards was "frustrated with the federal government's intervention in Texas' natural resource issues." That seems fairly contradictory to me, since the Governor did not seem to mind the federal government coming into Texas and incinerating 80 men, women and children at Waco! But of course, that is a human issue and as we are all becoming well aware, human issues, such as "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness" are much less important than the federally protected "unalienable rights" of the animals that make up God's lower life forms, such as the warblers and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (BAF).

Basic values

As a report on the unorganized Bandera County Militia meeting on Aug. 18 in Medina at the Apple Festival Grounds, I was struck by the fact that basic moral values still exist in this Hill Country community as a guide to what needs correcting in other communities and cities. Awkward as it is to write these words, newcomers are part of the problem that has threatened the old values of self-reliance that so many are trying to retain. An advantage of a slow down in population growth is that it gives newcomers like me an opportunity to meet people and integrate with the traditional values without destroying the existing culture because too many people moving in will overwhelm that which is good. Unfortunately, this seems to be happening in the eastern end of our county. It was evident in the meeting that we are all trying to hold on to basic American values. Those who attended the Aug. 18 meeting seemed to be concerned with these values and property rights throughout the culture of Bandera County. It was a reaffirmation to the old and new residents like me. In the future, the Bandera County Constitutional Militia will be having meetings to give information and instruction on Constitutional principles that are the roots of this Nation's freedom, among which are the defense of property rights, the right to keep and bear arms, belief in and to have a say in the educational system. As a newcomer, it is very important to me to rely on old-timers and what they can teach us to be self-reliant and not continue to rely on government services to take care of our needs. For the future of Bandera County, it seems to me that the population should be productive, not consumptive but, above all, independent.

Fire dept. gripe

I am writing in regards to our new fire department and new Chief. As stated in your paper, Aug. 17, our new Chief stated that, and I quote, "I don't want to cause great confusion, I want to improve it." (the fire department.)

Well, on Aug. 20, at around 5:30 PM, they were called out to a brush fire on Bottle Springs Road. To my surprise "none" of the new or old fire members that came and re-joined under the new Chief showed up to fight the fire. Phil Tobin, Tommy Adams, Gerald Theofin and Gene and Kim Hayes.

Where is this better fire department that we are supposed to have? Maybe Phil Tobin was not the chief that everybody wanted, but at least we could depend on him to be at our fires as the chief and help us.

Last, I looked up the word sect and found this definition; a number of persons united in some particular faith or doctrine. Yes there are many who believe the same as I do, so I guess we are a sect. The church I attend is governed by a board of directors consisting of eight ordained ministers. One of which is the T.V. and radio evangelist for the church. His name is Gardner Ted Armstrong. Only after much prayer and consultation by all members of the board, is any decision concerning the church made. No one man has any more authority over the church than another. The membership is frequently reminded to "Use Your Own Head," "Think For Yourself" and "Don't Believe Me Until You Prove It From Your Own Bible." And another thing they teach us frequently is, do not follow any man, but God only. We ministers are only here to teach and help guide you. We are brothers and sisters walking hand in hand. So if you are one of those beloved brothers or sisters who have chosen to judge "The Church of God International" as a cult - if you mean by one of the above definitions, you thank you. If you had some other definition - we forgive you, but you may wish to do a little more research by attending a couple of our weekly Sabbath services (no strings attached). Sorry we don't have a church in Bandera. But if you would like to ride to San Antonio with my wife and I or join us in the First Unitarian Church Building, Southeast corner of I-10 W and 410 Saturday morning, 10 o'clock to noon, you would be welcomed with open arms.

I've stood at the window, at those times at night, looking out, I see ALL of God's handiwork. I see young deer standing quietly looking around and then there is old Mr. armadillo rooting away at my lawn. Yes, you see God's world is just as beautiful under a light as not. I'm so sorry you two are so busy watching the neighbors that you can't see the things you claim you can't see. P.S. My neighbors haven't complained about my comfort light. But then they look up too.

About his 'cult'

It has been brought to my attention that some of our local ministers and/or Sunday school teachers have been teaching that the church that I attend is a cult. I looked up the word cult in Webster's "NEW CONCISE" dictionary. C-U-L-T is described as: a ritual of worship of a god or goddess, as the cult of Venus; the devotees of a person or an idea or an intellectual fact; a social definition, i.e. I am proud to say that I am a member of a cult. Because I do worship a family called God. There is God the father, called by many names, such as YHWH, YHVH, Adonai, Lord, Jehovah, etc. and there is God the son, called Jesus, the lord, the Christ, etc.

If you are using the second definition, Yes I am proud to say that I am very devoted to those two beings, and their ideas just as you should be. I hardly think that these teachings are a fad, as they have been going on for over two thousand years.

Last, I looked up the word sect and found this definition; a number of persons united in some particular faith or doctrine. Yes there are many who believe the same as I do, so I guess we are a sect. The church I attend is governed by a board of directors consisting of eight ordained ministers. One of which is the T.V. and radio evangelist for the church. His name is Gardner Ted Armstrong. "It was a dark and stormy night..." You may never have heard of the somewhat obscure Victorian novelist by the name of Edward George Earle Bulwer-Lytton (1803-1873). He was a contemporary of Dickens, and in his day, he was almost as popular as that author of Great Expectations. Bulwer-Lytton's popularity has paled somewhat over the years. In fact, his overly-dramatic writing style has become somewhat of a joke in some circles. It was, in fact, Bulwer-Lytton who penned that dreaded opening line (that also opened this column), in his 1830 novel, Paul Clifford. You may remember that Snooty used the line in his attempt to become a "great novelist." The infamous phrase by itself is really not that bad. But listen to Bulwer-Lytton's opening paragraph from the novel: "It was a dark and stormy night; the rain fell in torrents - except at occasional intervals, when it was checked by a violent gust of wind which swept up the streets (for it is in London that our scene lies), rattling along the housetops, and fiercely agitating the scanty flame of the lamps that struggled against the darkness." The rest of the novel is full of equally dramatic and colorful writing. Later, a fellow lighting his pipe is described as "applying the Promethian spark to his tube," a glass of beer is "a nectarian beverage," and a bedroom is "a somnambular accommodation."

Kerville 'All Star Kids' contest seeking entries from entire area

All Star Kids will host a pageant at the Sunday House Inn in Kerville on Sunday, Sept. 4.

Babies from birth to 47 months will be presented on stage by an adult chaperone. Categories will include: sportswear; beautiful babe/beau; photogenic; and chaperone/baby presentation. Winners will receive a trophy and a crown/medal. First and second alternates will receive a trophy.

Age divisions are: 0-11 months; 12-23 months; 24-35 months; and 36-47 months.

All winners are invited to the national competition in Dallas.

For ages 4 to 18 years, a beauty/beau contest is held which includes an interview as a part of the judging. Bill Courtney is offered but is a separate competition and is not required.

The "All Star Overall Kid" will be determined on a high point basis. Overall winner receives a trophy, scepter and overall banner.

For more information, or to receive an entry form, please call (210) 597-6163.

Medina Lake VFD auxiliary requests help for barbecue

The ladies auxiliary of the Medina Lake Volunteer Fire Department will hold two work days for the annual fall barbecue.

Work will begin at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 31 and on Friday, Sept. 2.

Maggie Buchanan, president of the Medina Lake Volunteer Fire Department Ladies' Auxiliary, says that it is "time again for all of us to come together and work for the continued good of our volunteer fire department." She says that the ladies auxiliary "could not be successful without your ready and willing support."

Anyone who can help cook potatoes is asked to call 612-3335 or 751-2217.

Sheriff's report

The Bandera County Sheriff's Department answered 61 calls for service during the week of Aug. 15 through Aug. 21. These included one call each for: recovery of stolen vehicle; assist fire department; child neglect; assist EMS; felony arrest; attempted burglary.

Other calls included: theft, 2; found property, 3; burglary, 3; criminal mischief, 3; alarm, 3; minor traffic accident, 5; disturbance, 6; stray livestock, 7; misdemeanor arrest, 8; and suspicious activity, 16.

A building contractor reported on Aug. 15 that $450 worth of lumber and windows were stolen from a job site in Lakehills.

It was reported on Aug. 17, that someone had cut through the burglar bars of a Pipe Creek drinking establishment and had removed several cases of beer.

On Aug. 16, a Pipe Creek resident reported that his house had been burglarized. Stereo equipment is missing.

A Lakehills resident reported, on Aug. 18, that someone had broken into his storage shed and had stolen a jet ski and trailer.

Several residents along Lower Mason Creek Road reported feces, urine and manure damage on Aug. 19. Vandals used a vehicle to intentionally damage them.

The owner of a Pipe Creek home under construction reported, on Aug. 20, that several boxes of marble tile had been stolen.

Deana Fischer, 38, of Pipe Creek was arrested on Aug. 15 for DWI, first offense.

Richard Lowell Redd, 21, of Pipe Creek was sentenced to boot camp at the Texas Department of Corrections, on an original felony charge of theft, from $750 to $20,000.

Admission to the museum is $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. The museum is located at 340 East Main in downtown Fredericksburg and is open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service 'scarce' at scarce bird meeting

Congressman Lamar Smith chastised the Texas office of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service for missing an Aug. 22 meeting of Gillespie County property owners which was held to discuss the controversy over the golden-cheeked warbler.

Between 1,200 and 1,500 property owners met at the Gillespie County fairgrounds, but no representative from the fish and wildlife department was on hand to answer questions.

"These federal employees' salaries are paid by my constituents' taxes," Smith said. "The Fish and Wildlife Service is slamming the door in their faces."

O'Lene Stone, district director for Smith, said that the public attended the Gillespie County meeting "with legitimate questions and concerns." She said Smith is supportive of "the phenomenal public outcry against the federal assault on private property."

A huge rally will be held at the Austin Capitol on Saturday, Aug. 27. Stone said that those concerned about property rights are urged to attend the march and rally in Austin on Saturday. The parade will begin at 10 a.m. at South Congress Avenue and Riverside and will march down South Congress to the Capitol building.

The march and rally is sponsored by Take Back Texas and Trans-Texas Heritage Association among other organizations.

Mammography screening to be offered in Lakehills

South Texas Mammography will provide screening mammograms at the Lakehills American Legion on 26th Street on Saturday, Sept. 17 beginning at 10 a.m.

All mammograms are taken in a private mobile coach by licensed, registered film and technologists and interpreted by South Texas Radiology Group board certified radiologists. The coach will be in the front parking lot of the American Legion.

The exam takes approximately 15 to 20 minutes and is by appointment. The number to call for an appointment is 1-800-38-MAMMO.

Exams are offered to women who have no breast problems or implants and are age 35 or older. No written doctor's order is necessary, however, each patient must supply the name and address of her doctor for receipt of the report. A copy of the report will also be sent to the patient. Each patient must also show proof of insurance in order to have South Texas Radiology Group file the proper paper work.

The American Cancer Society has given the following guidelines for mammography: a baseline mammogram by age 40; a mammogram every year or two from age 40 to 49; and a yearly mammogram for those over 50. High risk patients should consult their physicians.

Goat meeting Saturday, Aug. 27

A market and dairy goat 4-H project meeting is scheduled Saturday, Aug. 27 starting at 2 p.m. at Mansfield Park.

Junior livestock exhibitors are invited to bring their goats for weighing, because scales will be available says goat project leader Mary Miller.

The meeting is set to cover showmanship, hoof trimming, enrollment and selection. For additional information contact goat project leaders Gilbert or Mary Miller.

LIVE FROM O.J. SIMPSON'S GENETIC CODING SEQUENCE...

ished Golden Triangle State School project's cost has tripled from the original figure of $126,806 per bed to $380,417 per bed.

Youth Commission officials blamed the Legislature and Beaumont Democratic Rep. Mark Stiles and Stiles, in turn, blamed architects who planned construction on the 35-acre site in a former rice paddy.

The Youth Commission already has spent $18.2 million on the project and is seeking another $10.6 million to complete it according to a report in the Austin American Statesman.

Sen. Chris Harris, R-Arlington, chairman of the Joint Interim Committee on the Family Code, (which conducted the hearing) referred to the land as a "swamp," and suggested that the Legislature close the Youth Commission and give its responsibilities to others "who can do the job right."

Janna Sandidge

and that "the pen is mightier than the sword." Some literary critics actually credit him with inventing the historic novel as we know it.

In 1983, the English Department at San Jose State sponsored the Bulwer-Lytton Fiction Contest. Contestants were invited to submit opening sentences to "the worst of all possible novels."

Several of the contests have been held annually since that time.

The winner in 1983 was Gail Cain of San Francisco. She wrote:

"The camel died quite suddenly on the second day, and Selena fretted sulkiily and, buffing her already impeccable nails-- not for the first time since the journey began-- pondered anxiously if this would dissolve into a vignette of minor inconveniences like all the other holidays spent with Basil."

In 1984, Steve Garman of Pensacola penned the winning bad opener:

"The lovely woman-child Kaa was mercilessly chained to the cruel post of the warrior-chief Beast, with his barbarian tribe now attacking her from her noble feet, when the strong clear voice of the poetic and heroic Handsomas roared, "Flick your Be, crisp that chick, and you'll feel my steel through your last meal."

Scott Davis Jones from Sausalito was a winner in the Sci-Fi category.

"The surface of the strange, forbidden planet was roughly textured and green, much like cottage cheese gets way after the date on the lid says it is all right to buy it."

And finally, the entry from Marion and Larry Gregg, in Riverport, Ill.

"Let me tell you how luck, hard work, blind ambition and the love of a good woman brought Rock Sledge from obscurity to the job of chief salesperson in Peoria's third-largest shoe store."

Stiles, whose concrete company is a contractor in the project, said his company got the contract through competitive bidding.

Jefferson County Judge R.P. LeBlanc Jr. said the county spent nearly $10 million building roads and routing utilities to the site. "That's not a swamp," he told the American Statesman.

Republican gubernatorial candidate George W. Bush pointed to news of the bungled project, accusing Gov. Ann Richards of "monumental mismanagement" of the project and noted the Youth Commission is overseen by a board controlled by her appointees.

But the Richards campaign said Comer Contrell, a business partner of Bush in the Texas Rangers baseball team, oversaw the project while a member of the Youth Commission.

However, Ron Jackson, who resigned in December from his post as executive director of the Youth Commission, said he would take the blame for going ahead with the project for the downsized facility.

Meanwhile, Gov. Richards has asked the Texas Department of Commerce to lead the Texas Rapid Response Team in assisting stadium and team employees affected by the Major League Baseball strike. The Department of Commerce contacted employee representatives of the Houston Astros and Texas Rangers, offering workers financial management assistance, retaining, resume writing, interviewing workshops, labor market information.

Representatives for both teams said no workers are immediately impacted, according to the commerce department.

Costly jailed foreigners
Texas taxpayers are forking out $74 million a year to feed, clothe, house and supervise 4,760 non-U.S. residents in state prisons, according to a study released by the Criminal Justice Policy Council.

Those costs were included in the immigration lawsuit filed by Texas Attorney General Dan Morales against the federal government. The suit seeks reimbursement to the state for the health care, education and criminal justice costs of undocumented residents.

According to the CJPC study, costs would be reduced if the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service could deport foreign prisoners to their native countries, but noted that the INS does not have the capacity to conduct deportation hearings for the thousands of prisoners.

Lotto sales way up
At 26 and a half months old, the Texas lottery topped $5 billion in sales last week, making it the fastest-growing lottery in the nation.

Texas reached the $5 billion plateau half a year faster than its closest competitor among lottery states, Florida, which reached the $5 billion mark after 32 months.

About $1.7 billion of the lottery's proceeds have been received by the state treasury, according to Texas lottery spokesman Steve Levine.

Bad Company to produce Labor Day weekend rodeo

Mack Altizer and Bad Company Rodeo, Inc. will again produce the 11th Annual PRCA Labor Day Weekend Rodeo on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2, 3 and 4 at Mansfield Park beginning at 8 p.m.

Action will include bull riding, calf roping, team roping, steer wrestling, steer roping, barrel racing, bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, steer adding, calf scramble, and wild cow milking.

Bad Company Rodeo combines high energy rock'n roll with a wild string of bucking stock to produce a "choreographed rockin' rodeo." Comedy, specialty acts and a "touch of the unexpected" are thrown in to benefit the spectator.

Texas Monthly Magazine described Bad Company as "Where the wild west is partnered with a little Hollywood." Ten Bad Company Rodeo stars were selected to perform at the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas in 1993.

Bandera Legion needs flea market donations

The Bandera American Legion Post 157 will hold a flea market on Saturday, Sept. 17. Donations are needed.

The flea market will offer food, drinks and crafts. Items needed include pots and pans, furniture, clothing and more.

"Don't throw anything away," Legion members advise. "Give us a call."

Donations may be dropped off at the post in Bandera every Saturday morning between 9 and 10 a.m. They may also be left at the Barrel House in Pipe Creek.

Those wishing to donate may also call (210) 510-4541 and have those items picked up for the flea market. To reserve a table for crafts, call Carolyn Pursch at 796-3904.

Dearborne and Kenning scheduled at Bandera's Cabaret this weekend

George Dearborne will play at the Cabaret on Friday this week and Kelly Kenning will play on Saturday.

Dearborne is a singer, songwriter and musician and has been playing in bands for the past 18 years. He is from Fannett and is working on a new album in Nashville.

He, and his band "Branded" have performed in Texas, Missouri and Louisiana. They opened for Tracy Lawrence at the Pleasure Island Music Festival in Port Arthur earlier this year and played to an audience of over 6,000. They are featured in the July issue of the Texas Monthly magazine.

Dearborne has shared the stage with and been the open-

George Dearborne will act for George Jones, Conway Twitty, Ricky Van Shelton, Mark Chesnut and others. Kenning and the "The Rockinghorse Riders" have warmed up crowds for stars including Clint Black, Conway Twitty, Doug Stone, Lorie Morgan and George Jones.

He began singing professionally at age 15 and says his job is not done until he "touches someone's heart."

Kenning is from Allen. He started his current band, The Rockinghorse Riders, in 1991. They received a standing ovation for their performance at the 23rd KKYX River Festival in San Antonio in Sept., 1992.

Country songs have been called the "national music of Texas." If that statement is true, Kenning and Dearborne will be playing patriotic music at the Cabaret this weekend.

4-H Foods Projects meeting Saturday, Aug. 27

The Bandera County 4-H Foods and Nutrition Project will kick-off with a project meeting on Saturday, Aug. 27. The meeting will be held at Grace Lutheran Church from 9 a.m. until noon.

The 4-H Foods Project is a fun, learning and "yummy" experience! All kids who are 9 years old (or in 3rd grade), thru 18 years old are invited to participate. The culmination of most 4-Hers Food Project experiences is the County 4-H Food Show which will be held October 28 at the Medina Children's Home.

To be eligible to participate in the Bandera County 4-H Food Show, a 4-Her must participate in a minimum of two project meetings! Three County-wide 4-H Foods Project meetings will be offered. The second and third meetings will be held on September 17, and Oct. 8. Both of these meetings will be from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon at the Bandera Bank Community Room.

In addition to these meetings, individual leaders/parents can conduct their own project meetings with interested youth. For these individual project meetings to count as the mandatory meetings, the leader must complete a "Special Project Meeting Certification" form. These simple forms are very easy to complete. They are available in the County Extension Office. The goal of these special meetings is to enable every 4-Her to complete an interesting, self-taught Foods and Nutrition project.

Rabies emergency continues in area including Bandera, Nightingale says

Governor Ann Richards declared a public health emergency due to a wildlife rabies epidemic last month. She says that public awareness can help prevent the spread of rabies.

Bandera veterinarian Conrad Nightingale agrees. Nightingale is the county rabies control officer. He is also the chairman of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association Equine Committee. That committee met recently at Texas A&M.

With rabies spreading rapidly through coyotes and foxes, Nightingale says it is critically important to vaccinate every animal which comes into close contact with humans. This includes horses and cattle. He warns, however, that there is no guaranteed rabies vaccine for wild animals.

He says the state of Texas has discouraged people from owning wild animals as pets and trying to vaccinate them against rabies "for years" because the vaccine is unpredictable in wild animals. Owners are given a sense of "false security" rather than dependable protection.

Texas A&M is experimenting, however, with a rabies vaccination for coyotes. It will be dropped in bait in critical rabies areas and is designed to get the coyote population somewhat immune to the deadly disease. Coyotes are moving up into the Hill Country area from the border.

Nightingale says that so many foxes in the area have tested positive for rabies that many are now shot on sight and not tested. He says the only way to stop rabies exposure in humans is to vaccinate "any animal" that comes into close contact with people.

Bandera Hill Country Veterinary Hospital and Equine friendly or may roam during daylight hours. This is a danger sign. Avoid such animals.

Report all animal bites of exposure to a local veterinarian or public health officer immediately. Rabies is a fatal viral infection. It strikes the nervous system.

Currently, the critical rabies area extends from the Midland/Odessa area to San Angelo to south of San Antonio. Bandera County is included in this area.

-Utopia school news

New employees

Utopia greets five new employees this year.

Third grade teacher Susan Herrlich comes to us from the Calallen School District where she taught third grade for five years. She is married to Tom Herrlich and they live in Con Can. They have three sons: two in college and one out in the work force. Mrs. Herrlich graduated from Texas A&I and has hobbies of gardening, reading and fishing.

In the Junior High English teacher and coach is Allison Burleson. She is a native of Rocksprings and graduated from the University of Texas at Austin. Last year, she taught Junior High English in Prosper, Texas, near Dallas. In her spare time she likes to fish.

Jason Burleson can be found in our library. He is a graduate of Sherman High School and the University of Texas at Austin. While in college, Mr. Burleson played football, earning All-Southwest Conference honors in 1992 at the tight end position and earning a degree in kinesiology. Last year Jason began football season as a free agent with the Dallas Cowboys until the end of August. He was picked up by the Minnesota Vikings for their developmental squad in November, but didn't stay cold long before going on to the Indianapolis Colts and their roster squad where he spent the rest of the season. Mr. Burleson enjoys fishing and hunting in his spare time.

In the science lab you will find Larry Nelson. Mr. Nelson has seven years experience in the classroom most recently in Uvalde at New Hope. He has also taught part-time at Tom Ball Junior College.

Last but not least, John Robison can be found in many places: the history classroom and the gym, where he is the other half of our new coaching staff. John brings to Utopia 18 years experience in law enforcement and a great love of kids that took him back to school at Mary Hardin Baylor to become a teacher. He is married to the former Melinda Schmidt, a one time resident of Utopia and has two children: John in the fifth grade and Dana in the second. We would like to welcome each of the new staff members.

Bus routes
New faces will greet Utopia youngsters early in the morning this year. Among them: Bobby Thompson will be driving the divide route with Wendy Wheeler behind the wheel on the afternoon portion of the Thunder Creek/187 south route. Returning drivers are Skip Doerr on the Rio Hondo/Little Creek run, Sally Watkins on the 1050/Seco Ridge run and Shawn Burns on the morning run of Thunder Creek/187 south. These drivers are ready and excited about seeing our students early in the morning and on that afternoon drive.

"PTO on the go"
If you haven't joined you're missing out. The Utopia chapter of the PTO is well on its way to beginning 1994-95. Membership fees are $2 per person. Officers for this year are: president-Gary Davis; vice president-Lynn Scotty and Cindy Mauldin; treasurer-Mandy Casparis; and secretary-Vicky Lessing. Planned for Thursday, Sept. 1 is an Open House, "Meet Your Teacher" at 7 p.m.

Friday, Sept. 16 there will be a Book Fair sponsored by the chapter. Projects completed from last year include the elementary playground. If you get the chance you should come and take a look. Hope to see you on Thursday, Sept. 1.

Enrollment increase a pleasant surprise Utopia students began their 1994-95 school year on Friday, Aug. 19, and what a surprise—enrollment count was 177. That doesn't sound like many, but it means the numbers are up in Buffalo Country by about 15 this year. Reason: return of some students who left during past years but also several families have chosen to move into our district. Superintendent John McFadin stated, "We had several families visit the school last spring and over the summer to check us out. I guess they liked what they saw, because they returned to enroll their kids. Utopia has often had housing problems in the past which prohibited some from moving to our community. There has been a slight turn around in this which has allowed families to have some options and make some decisions favorable to our school."

Cub Scout rally planned Aug. 31
Utopia Cub Scout Pack 3283 is holding a Cub Scout rally on Wednesday, Aug. 31 at the Utopia School Cafeteria from 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The pack is looking for more boys to join Cub Scouts. Boys in first through fifth grade are encouraged to attend. Parents need to attend with their children.

Cub Scouts go to camp; go on field trips; learn games; meet interesting and different people; make and build different items; earn awards and advancement towards rank. Everyone is invited to meet the leaders and their district executive from Uvalde.

For more information, call Linda Padgett, den leader, 966-3610; or Gary Davis, cubmaster, at 966-3530.

F'burg Food and Wine Fest set Oct. 22
The fourth annual Fredericksburg Food & Wine Fest, showcasing the "finest tastes of Texas," will be Saturday, Oct. 22 from noon to 8 p.m. on Market Square in downtown Fredericksburg.

Bandera ISD receives outstanding ratings

Bandera Independent School District (BISD) has received 1994 accountability/accreditation ratings and falls into the "Accredited/Acceptable" category.

Accredited/Acceptable means that the schools in the district exceed performance standards for accredited/warned/low-performing, but were unable to meet standards for recognized or exemplary.

Bandera's attendance rate of 94.6 percent was above the state average, and their dropout rate of 0.1 percent (one high school student dropped out in the 1992-93 school year) was below the state's average.

The biggest challenge the district faces, according to TAAS test scores, is in the math department. For spring, 1994, only 56.1 percent of BISD students in grades 3, 8, and 10 passed the math portion of the TAAS test. The state goal is for 90 percent of students in all schools to pass all three sections of the TAAS test: reading, mathematics and writing.

State-wide TAAS results are not yet available. For spring, 1993, only 53.6 percent of Texas students state-wide passed the math portion of the TAAS test.

BISD was up 5.0 percent from last year's score of 55.8 in math, but needs to "pick up the pace" to achieve the state goal of 90 percent by the 1998-99 school year, according to Ken Kling. Low math scores on the high school, middle school and elementary campuses kept BISD from achieving a higher accountability rating.

District-wide students scored 85.6 percent passing on the reading portion of the TAAS test. While that percentage still falls short of the state's goal of 90 percent, it is well above the state average of 69.8 percent. Reading went from 78.5 percent to 85.6 percent last year for a 9.2 percent improvement.

Writing, in the district, scored 84.4 percent to the state's average of 79.8 percent. It was up from 83.5 percent in 1993.

Bandera High School scored 93.3 in attendance, 90.5 percent in reading, 65.5 percent in math, and 95.2 percent in all three TAAS test scores than the state average and has made improvements in all three areas.

Bandera Middle School scored 94.7 percent in attendance, 83.5 percent in reading, 56.6 percent in math and 77.1 percent in writing. It also is above the state average.

Alkek Elementary scored 95.4 percent in attendance, 86.3 percent in reading, 53.2 percent in math and 82.5 percent in writing. Alkek's scores were above the state averages.

Lakeshore Volunteer Fire Department has purchased a new tool to help combat mobile home fires. It is an Akron Piercing Nozzle. The nozzle can be forced through a thin wall like those of mobile homes to spray a water fog on the inside. This can lessen the dangers for firemen entering a burning building.

Tarpley

Nettie Dean

The rain prospects have improved since last Monday evening. A quick Sunday afternoon, a quick Birthday dinner was arranged and enjoyed, after Tarpley Baptist Church services, when a group of friends honored Mary Hietalachi and Nettie Dean at the Canyon Cafe at Utopia. Those attending were Rev. & Mrs. Don Spencer, Jack & Judy Tripp of Bandera, Billie Riley, Ida Belle Farr, Marie Hood, Elsie Dean and the honored ladies, Mary Hietalachi and Nettie Dean.

Mrs. Earl Hood left Thursday for Kingland and Friday, she and her daughter, Edna L. Chestnut left for Louisiana and several places. To Baytown to visit with Gladys & Harold Smith and Cleveland Steffani, also to Cleveland and Shepherd where several relatives were very good trip.

Thursday Mr. & Mrs. Marie Dean drove to Kerrville for my eye check-up and then over to Ingram where we visited old friends Rev. & Mrs. Graydon Howell.

Saturday, Marie & Jim Carson and Molly Neumann of San Antonio came to visit her parents, the J.E. Deans, bringing their Birthday dinner for me and for Jim who also had a birthday Aug. 16. So far, all those having Birthdays in August... wherever you are... Happy Birthday!

Utopia kids head over heels happy with playground

These Utopia School children were photographed at the end of school in May, monkeying around on a new climbing dome built and paid for by the Utopia PTO. Over the summer the PTO finished up the playground project "for now." The organization hopes to add a wooden fort some time during the 94-95 school year.

TEAMS will be administered Oct. 18-20

Individuals no longer enrolled in school who need to pass portions of either the TMS or TEAMS tests in order to meet graduation requirements must register to take the tests this October.

During each regular exit level test administration, individuals who are no longer enrolled in school and who have not previously passed all sections of the TMS test, but have met all other graduation requirements, may retake the TMS Exit Level tests, may pick up a registration packet in the Bandera High School counselor's office, Monday-Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The test registration form must be completed, mailed, and received in Iowa City, Iowa, no later than 5 p.m., Sept. 27.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

Cheer up, things could be worse. How true the words are! And sometimes when one does cheer up, things do get worse! On these occasions it really takes an optimist to see things through, especially when situations and times are tough. It is easy to pessimism is born.

It should be realized pessimism usually reflects inaction. Waiting. Doing little if anything to change a situation or make things better. Should it not be realized that waiting and inaction NEVER accomplish a thing? Should it not be realized that an optimist must be active, not passive?

Harry Truman once said, "I have never seen pessimists make anything work or contribute anything of lasting value. It takes optimists to make the world work, because eventually some of their ideas are put into practice to help mankind...In today's language can it not be said, "He said a mouthful!"

Anderwald attends Elderhostel state meeting at Prude Ranch

Mary Anderwald attended the annual Texas Elderhostel meeting at the Prude Ranch in the Davis Mountains. Elderhostel, a program directed to senior citizens as a continuing education project, is directed by the University of Texas, under The Texas Hill Country Studies.

Mary Anderwald and John Prude attending the annual Texas Elderhostel meeting.

Anderwald administers the program through facilities at the Twin Elm Guest Ranch. She was accompanied by the dance instructor with Texas Hill Country Studies, Peggy Huffman. She said Peggy was her "right-hand gal, making the long ride to West Texas and assisting me in many ways."

The line dancing, held during Elderhostel, is a popular part of the program. Other programs presented during Elderhostel sessions are western heritage and Texas history through prose and music. Western Heritage includes lectures on cattle feeding, care and marketing. It ture of "very learned individuals" add much to the Elderhostel program. Texas Hill Country Studies and Twin Elm Ranch have hosted Elderhostel groups in April, Sept. and Oct. since 1991.

The Prude Ranch, deep in the Davis Mountains, is designated a super site, hosting more than 40 sessions a year. John Prude, and his wife and family have operated the Prude Ranch for many years as a cattle ranch. They accepted their first guests in 1921.

Anderwald says she appreciates the hospitality of the Prude family.

is taught by Chris Anderwald and Howard Billings.

Texas history through prose and music is under the direction of historian Ray Tate and his musical offerings. Tate has friends who are involved in his presentations at Elderhostel. "We consider that our Elderhostel programs offer a fine experience for senior citizens," Anderwald says. "After many years as an operator of a hospitality business, being located in Bandera County is a plus to our Elderhostel program. Elderhostel guests are from all parts of the United States." Anderwald says that a mix-

Talent and beauty contests announced by Bandera County Farm Bureau

The Bandera County Farm Bureau is seeking applicants for this year's Miss Bandera County Farm Bureau and Talent Find competitions to be held at the Mansfield Park Recreation Hall on Saturday, Sept. 10. Applications are available at the Farm Bureau office located at 1003 15th Street in Bandera, or at the high school offices at Bandera, Medina and Utopia.

Participants must be from 16 to 21 years of age by Sept. 1. They must be single and the child or sibling of a Bandera County Farm Bureau member.

County winners will receive a $100 cash prize and will compete at the district level in San Antonio on Oct. 1.

District winners, and their escorts, will receive an expense-paid trip to the state convention in Dallas on Nov. 27 through 30. Each district winner will also be awarded a $600 college scholarship and must compete in the state contest in order to receive the district level scholarship.

Miss Texas Farm Bureau will receive a $2,000 scholarship and $500 towards a wardrobe of all natural fibers. She will represent Texas Farm Bureau during the 1995 TFB Leadership Conference and 1995 Texas FFA convention.

The runner-up will receive a $1,500 scholarship. Both the runner-up and the winner will receive a set of luggage from the Texas Farm Bureau. The state Talent Find winner will be awarded a $2,000 scholarship. The runner-up will receive a $1,500 scholarship.

For more information, call the local Farm Bureau office at 796-3077.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Meisner, of Payette, Idaho, announce the engagement of their daughter, Christina Ann Meisner, of San Diego, to John Marc Montague of Bandera. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore of Bandera. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Russell and Mrs. Frank Montague, Jr. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Meisner of Ventura. The couple plan an outdoor wedding on Oct. 15 at the LH7 Ranch.

Your Basic Bandera

Electricity rules our world. It is, this very minute, powering the IBM "personal whewriter" with which we are setting out our deathless pronouncements, it is pumping the water which is coursing through the KitchenAid dishwasher in the kitchen, and it does various other little chores about the house like heating the electric curlers, powering the Hoover and bringing the dulcet tones of Trey and Ricci Ware to float upon the afternoon breezes. We don't even have to worry anymore whether there even are afternoon breezes, since we finally, after many years, succumbed to air-conditioning. Electricity rules our world.

There are only a few elderly left who remember the days here in Texas when there was no electricity in rural areas and what a hero Lyndon Johnson was acclaimed to be when he put through the legislation creating the Rural Electrification Administration to bring light and power to remote farm-houses. There is a poignant little story of a woman coming back to her old home on the Pedernales and being surprised to see a bright light shining in Mama's window rather than the dim glow of a kerosene lamp. It was a miracle.

How many of you have lived without electricity? We all did here in Bandera County for several days after the 1978 flood when so many major lines were washed out. Because we had had the endless parade of coal trains bringing tons and tons of fuel each day to San Antonio all the way from Gillette, Wyoming, so that lights and engines may blast away in Texas twenty-four hours a day. Soon there will be the biggest hole in the ground up in Wyoming in the history of the world.

True. Electricity runs our world. But to repeat, don't we use too much of it? Ways to conserve it are ultimately limited. Gillette will be mined out some day. Natural gas is a finite resource. Somehow the USA can't do atomic plants right. Politicians are slow to advocate burning garbage in generators.

We flew over Tokyo to Singapore. Looking down on an American city, we would have seen a spectacular panoply of lights in all colors. Japan seemed to be making it through the night with only a discreet scattering of dim amber bulbs. They have to buy from us or the Middle East every BTU they burn for any purpose. So they are frugal.

We're lighting up the night like there is no tomorrow. Perhaps there isn't. One last anecdote: we used to know a cowboy out in far West Texas who could sit on his dark front porch and look at the stars. A giant system of lights was installed miles away to illuminate the intersection of I-10 and I-20. To see those lights even in the distance bothered our friend a lot. He was trying to figure out some kind of long-range missile he could use to shoot them out. But no doubt he gave up, like Mr. Söllinger, and just pulled down the shades.

William L. Ellis and Lynn M. Ellis of Bandera, announce the engagement of their daughter, Tanya Lee Ellis, to Paul E. Hedtke, son of Charles E. Hedtke and the late Frances Blum Hedtke of San Antonio. Paul is an undergraduate student of mechanical engineering at the University of Texas at San Antonio. As a private pilot, he enjoys flying in his spare time, and is an active member of the Confederate Air Force, Alamo Wing. Tanya is also a student at UTSA, studying law. In her spare time, she also enjoys flying and is currently a student pilot flying out of Stinson. The wedding is planned for the fall of 1995.

Bandera Nursing Home

Rev. Vallies Sellheimer from the Bandera United Methodist Church had services Sunday afternoon. Her sermon was based on Luke 12:25, 26, "no need to worry". Pianist was Karen Zickler, and hymns were sung by everyone. Marley Johnson was a guest.

Aggie Batto and Annette Kalka-Schulte from St. Stanislaus Catholic Church visited, prayed and sang with residents. Arenas Hager, Ada Sehon, Brenda Adams, Adamiets, Mae Eidenstink, Ruby Hillman and Joslyn Edwards Monday evening. Roger Bolduc gave communion to the members of St. Stanislaus Catholic Church Friday morning.

Do you like to crochet or knit? If so, we need your help in making booties for our residents. We have lots of yarn! If you would like to volunteer, please contact Lynda Flowers, Activity Director.

Thanks to the Grace Lutheran Church for sharing the beautiful altar Flowers with us and for Erna Koenig for bringing them by.

1994 Property Tax Rates in Flying L Ranch PUD

This notice concerns 1994 property tax rates for Flying L Ranch PUD. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 42,580
Last year's debt taxes	$ 80,626
Last year's total taxes	$ 123,206
Last year's tax base	$ 9,059,280
Last year's total tax rate	$ 1.36 $100

This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes	$ 123,206
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 8,759,866
(After subtracting value of new property)
+ This year's effective tax rate	$ 1,406 $100

In the first year a hospital district or city collects the additional sales tax to reduce property taxes, it must insert the following lines unless its first adjustment was made last year:

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ N/A $100
- Effective tax rate	$ N/A $100

x 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing $ 1,448 $100

This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes	$ 42,580
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 8,759,866 $100
- This year's effective operating rate	$ 486.1 $100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ 5,249 $100
+ This year's debt rate	$ 6,365 $100
+ This year's rollback rate	$ 1,161 $100

A hospital district or city that collects the additional sales tax to reduce property taxes, including one that collects the tax for the first time this year, must insert the following lines:

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ N/A $100
- Rollback tax rate	$ N/A $100

For a taxing unit with additional rollback rate for pollution control, insert the following lines:

+ Additional rate for pollution control requirement	$ N/A $100
+ Rollback tax rate	$ N/A $100

'Ton of brisket' at MLVFD barbecue

The Medina Lake Volunteer Fire Department (MLVFD) will cook up one ton of brisket for the fall barbecue which will be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 3 and 4 from 11 a.m. until the food is gone.

Adult plates will be $5 and children's plates will be $3. Plates will include barbecue brisket, which has been cooked all night, beans, potato salad and "all the fix'ns". The MLVFD is entirely supported by donations. It receives no county or state tax money. It holds two annual barbecues to raise money for continued operation.

Marksman Fininis wins Lucas Trophy

Pipe Creek rifle shooter wins national title, competes for fourth year

William A. Fininis, Sr., SMSGT USAF (Ret.), of Pipe Creek, won the Lucas Trophy senior service rifle championship with a combined score of 2,297 out of a possible 2,400 at the National Rifle Competition in Camp Perry, Ohio. He has represented the state of Texas for the past four years at the National High Power Championships in Camp Perry.

Fininis, originally from Illinois, moved to Pipe Creek after his retirement at Ellington Air Force Base in Houston. He has been on the Texas State Rifle Team since he retired from the Air Force in 1990.

Annually, the state of Texas (Texas State Rifle Association), in conjunction with the National Rifle Association, selects the top six rifle shooters from Texas to compete in the national rifle competition. The competition runs for two weeks. This year, it was held from Aug. 1 to Aug. 14.

During the first week, team matches were held. All 60 states entered. Some states entered more than one team. Texas placed 13 out of 86 teams. The course of fire was each member firing standing 10 shots slow fire from 200 yards; 10 shots rapid fire from 200 yards; 10 shots rapid fire sitting from 200 yards; 10 shots rapid fire from 300 yards; and 20 shots slow fire prone from 600 yards, open sight.

During the second week, individual competition was held. That course of fire was: three strings of 20 shots each standing slow fire at 200 yards; three strings of 20 shots each sitting rapid fire at 200 yards; 3 strings of 20 shots each rapid fire from 300 yards; and three strings of 20 shots each slow fire from 600 yards. All firing was done with open sights and no scopes.

Fininis used an M1A (M14 Smith forged rifle in 7.62 cal. (308) semi-automatic. He used Federal Match Ammo, 7.62 with 168 Gr Sierra hollow point boat tail bullet.

He won the Lucas trophy out of a field of 1,400 competitors and several classes. Fininis has been entering shooting competitions for approximately 25 years. He holds the Air Force Distinguished Rifle Badge; The Chief's 60 Badge; The President's 100 Badge and was the 5th Army High Power Champion for 1987-88, and the runner-up in 1989. Fininis was the Puerto Rico High Power Champion in 1988 and was on the rifle team that set a new all-Army team record during the All-Army Championships in Fort Benning, Ga., in 1981.

Flying L Golf 'Pick Your Partner'

The Flying L Golf Association will sponsor a "Pick-Your-Partner" Best-Ball Twosome tournament starting at 1 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 28 at Flying L Guest Ranch, here.

Cost per member will be $25 and will include entry, green and cart fees, said Pam Strait, head professional at Flying L.

Strait asks that all participants make reservations by phone or be registered at least one hour prior to tee-off. Reservations can be made by calling 1-800-846-4077.

This tournament replaces a Member-Quest affair that had been scheduled for Aug. 21. That tournament will be played at a later date.

In the Association's last tournament on Aug. 4, Curtis Brown was top winner with a net score of 16 in a "Peoria" format that was employed.

John Rhodes, Ed Coyauat and Steve Fikes, tied for second with 17.

Quilt classes to be held in September

Barbara Michie, of The Stitching Post, will hold basic beginner quilting classes during the month of September.

The classes will be held once a week for four weeks, beginning on Thursday, Sept. 8. They will be held from 9:30 a.m. until noon, each Thursday at the Pipe Creek home of Joy School.

The price for the quilting classes is $40 for all four weeks, or $10 a week. To register, call Michie at the Stitching Post. That number is 796-8401.

Home schoolers celebrate court victory

Texas Supreme Court exempts home schooler attendance

The Texas Supreme Court has ruled that children taught in "legitimate" home schools are exempt from public school attendance. The state can ask for their achievement results.

Bandera Independent School District school counselor, Lisa Vaky, said that she has no figures on how many students in Bandera County are home school children. However, she said that they are not required to register in the public school system. However, parents who home school their children estimate that at least 20 families in Bandera County teach their children at home. Most of those families have several children and home school all of them. There are also a few graduates of home schools in the county. Some children have never attended public school.

Attorney Chris Klicka, of the Washington-based Home School Legal Defense Association, a plaintiff in the case said that the court's decision "seems to be a complete victory for the home schoolers. Home schools are recognized as private schools in the state of Texas."

The state can ask for achievement test results, but testing is not mandatory in home schools. The school districts in the state of Texas are free to request test scores and the parents are free to choose to give them or not to give them to the school districts.

Texas Education Agency (TEA) chief counsel, David Anderson, said that the Supreme Court's decision affirmed a lower court ruling that was handed down in 1986. The TEA has been following the lower court ruling since 1986.

Parents of children who are home schooled in Bandera said that they do not want to give the appearance of being "angry" at the local school district. Some of the reasons they named for home schooling were: getting their children away from the influence of peer pressure; opposing state-mandated subjects in public schools; and taking the Biblical principal seriously to "train up a child in the way he should go."

Some parents who home school children in Bandera County have taught even up through high school in public school and are/would be state-certified teachers. Others have only a high school education. All of them find help for their academic weaknesses; a chance to share their academic strengths; and sports and social activities for their children through a home school organization. Most home schools in Bandera County are members of the Boerne Area Christian Homeschool (BACH) organization.

BACH offers sports, drama presentations; Spanish lessons and other opportunities for area home schoolers.

FEAST (Family Educators Alliance of South Texas) serves the San Antonio and surrounding areas. Home school students (including those in Bandera County) can arrange to take driver's education, algebra, biology labs, and other courses through FEAST. FEAST also has a library, a computer lab and sports programs for home schoolers.

Call for entries goes out for Bandera County Hay Show

The 1994 Bandera County Hay Show will be Thursday, Sept. 22 at 7:30 p.m. at Mansfield Park. Dr. Don Dorsett, Extension Forage Specialist, will be the judge, and will give a brief program on hay production. Entries for the show are due by Sept. 2.

Caswell participates in seminar

Robert M. Caswell, an attorney in Bandera and Medina Lake, participated in the annual Advanced Family Law Seminar at the San Antonio Marriott River Center on Aug. 15-18. The seminar, sponsored by the Texas State Bar Association, has outstanding board certified family lawyers, professors, and judges as participants and speakers in the professional development program. It is conducted for experienced lawyers whose aim is to "reach the highest level of knowledge and the 'cutting edge' in all facets and issues, particularly unusual and creative matters, in divorce cases."

Through lectures, workshops, and discussions, the course presents sophisticated updates on the law, procedures, and legislative action for divorces, custody, visitation and support plus a wide variety of other practical topics, including computer use, office management, and judge and jury evaluation for family law practitioners. Under the guidance of which Caswell is a member, this particular course has received national notoriety for its scope, thoroughness, and participation, and was the best attended Family Law Specialty Program in the nation last year.

At right, Medina's Doyle brothers did it again! Cully, Cody and Ryan Doyle, sons of Kent and Jackie Doyle, were recent winners at the Hill Country Youth 4-H Rodeo Association awards program in Kerrville. Cully won fourth in senior roping and fifth in both tie-down and breakaway; Cody took first in tie-down and second in ribbon and breakaway; and Ryan took second in junior tie-down, ribbon and breakaway roping and first in junior goat tying.

This notice concerns 1994 property tax rates for CITY OF BANDERA. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
- Last year's operating taxes	$ 73,210.
- Last year's debt taxes	$ 0.
- Last year's total taxes	$ 73,210.
- Last year's tax base	$ 33,277,500.
- Last year's total tax rate	$ .22 /$100.

This year's effective tax rate:
- Last year's adjusted taxes	$ 74,190.
- (After subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 31,704,623.
- This year's adjusted tax base	$ .2340 /$100.
- (After subtracting value of new property)	$ .2340 /$100.

In the first year a hospital district or city collects the additional sales tax to reduce property taxes, it must insert the following lines unless its first adjustment was made last year.

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ 0. /$100.
- Effective tax rate	$ 0. /$100.

This year's rollback tax rate:
- Last year's adjusted operating taxes	$ 74,190.
- (After subtracting taxes on lost property and adjusting for transferred function)	$ 31,704,623.
- This year's adjusted operating rate	$ .2527 /$100.
- 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ .1367 /$100.
- This year's debt rate	$ .3894 /$100.
- This year's rollback rate	$ .3894 /$100.

A hospital district or city that collects the additional sales tax to reduce property taxes, including one that collects the tax for the first time this year, must insert the following lines:

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ N/A /$100.
- Rollback tax rate	$ N/A /$100.

For a taxing unit with additional rollback rate for pollution control, insert the following lines:

- Additional rate for pollution control	$ N/A /$100.
- Rollback tax rate	$ N/A /$100.

Amie Nightingale, Jonathan Ringel wed

Amie Michelle Nightingale was married on Saturday, June 11, to Jonathan Ringel, at the Bandera United Methodist Church. The marriage was performed by pastor, Wesley Jones, assisted by the United Methodist Church's pastor, Valliles Seilheimer.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. Conrad and Nancy Nightingale of Bandera. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Nightingale of Halstead, Kansas, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Waddle of Junction City, Kansas.

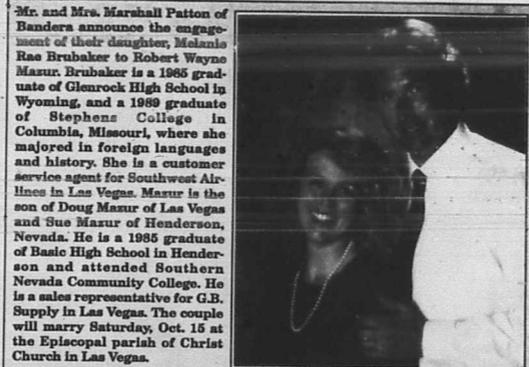

Mr. Ringel is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Larry Ringel of Bonner Springs, Kansas. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ringel of Alma, Kansas, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Killian of Wyandotte, Mich.

The bride wore a basque gown with a sabrina neckline and a chapel length train of silk tulle, with Alencon lace, tiny pearls, and trident accents by Jim Hjelm. A matching silk lined head piece adorned with gypsophila held her veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses, gypsophila, stephanotis and English ivy. Abby Nightingale served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Heather Ryan, Leslie Rich, Elizabeth Ringel, sister of the groom, Lisa Kanner, and Jennifer Crown. The flower girls were Emily Nightingale and Katie Nightingale, cousins of the bride, Jon Pierce, and Brad Vaple. The ushers were Chris Kennedy, Kane Kennedy, and Collin Kennedy, all cousins of the bride. The acolytes were Cameron Nightingale and Carl Nightingale, cousins of the bride. The ring bearer was Brandon Nightingale, and the page was Jake Nightingale, cousin of the bride.

Valliles Seilheimer was the vocal soloist, and Karen Zickler served as the organist. A reception at the Y-O Ranch Hotel in Kerrville, followed the ceremony.

Janna Sandidge was the piano accompanist throughout the evening. The couple will reside in Manhattan, Kansas while the bride finishes school.

Volunteer fire departments need YOUR help

The Medina Lake Volunteer Fire Department has begun printing a quarterly newsletter. The August issue on fire prevention states that the biggest problem fire departments face after receiving notification of a fire is how to reach the fire.

Following a phone of smoke, the newsletter pointed out, is not a reliable indicator. Sometimes the smoke is seen at the end of one road but is, in fact, only accessible from a different route. When a fire is spotted, call 911 to report it. Stay on the phone until the dispatcher in the sheriff's office releases you. After that, send any extra hands out to the main road to flag down the trucks and private vehicles as they arrive.

Those waiting for the fire department should "jump up and down, wave, holler, and do anything necessary to send all the traffic in the right direction," according to the news release. They should also be prepared to remain and flag in other units which are responding to help.

Bandera County residents can also help in fire protection by supporting their volunteer fire department financially. These departments do not receive tax money and depend on donations and fund-raising events to pay for equipment, supplies, fuel, maintenance, and to cover other expenses incurred in keeping the public safe.

Flying L Over 50 Golfers Davis, Hayes, Hughey and Jame win Aug. 16 tourney

The team of Marshall Davis, Bill Hayes, Ben Hughey, Buster Brown and Ramiro Jame combined talents to shoot a best-ball 65 and win the bi-weekly scramble sponsored here Aug. 16 by the Over 50 Golf Association at Flying L Guest Ranch. Coming in second with a 64 were Ed Coycault, Pat Andrews, Damon Lee and John McCleary.

Two teams tied for third place with 66's. They were Jim Terry, Elaine Gardner, Marvin Hadash and Jack Roberts; with Hooper Clayton, Terry Hedrick, H.C. Day and Walt Wilson.

Obituary

Clinton G. Watkins
Clinton Gerald Watkins of Del Rio, died Aug. 9 in Del Rio. He was a member of the Del Rio Police Department. Survivors include his wife, Branda; four children, Heather, Amber, Melissa and Matthew; parents, Jerry and Shirley Watkins of Lakehills; brother Chris Watkins of Lakehills, and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tracy of Devine and Fernery of Lakehills. Graveside services were Friday, Aug. 12 in Del Rio.

Bid opening for Pipe Creek school delayed

Bandera Independent School District Board of Trustees members voted on Tuesday, Aug. 23 to delay the bid opening for the new Pipe Creek elementary school. The bid opening was scheduled for Aug. 31, but will now be held at 6 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 8.

Superintendent James Stewart said that contractors are "not that hungry right now" and that only five bids have been received, four from San Antonio and one from Castorville. He said that by delaying the bid opening until Sept. 8, more bids might be received.

The bid opening will take place in the Bandera High School library at 6 p.m. on Sept. 8.

Texas Ag Commissioner Rick Perry addresses invasion of property rights

Rick Perry, Texas Agriculture Commissioner, said that landowners in Texas are banding together to protest federal intrusion into what Texans have cherished for generations—the time-honored right to manage their property as they see fit.

He says that for "too many years," landowners have suffered wave after wave of assault by environmental extremists who want to restrict private property but who are "unwilling to compensate owners for any drop in value these restrictions produce."

Perry says that the passage of the Endangered Species and Clean Water acts, and their overreaching interpretation by bureaucrats, have shifted the control of property from rural landowners to the federal government. Private property rights in Texas is a major issue; 95 percent of all land is privately owned. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's proposal to designate parts of 33 Central Texas counties critical habitat for the golden-cheeked warbler is "a huge swath of the state of Texas," Perry says, "to accommodate a tiny bird whose habitat may be more widespread now than in the 1800s and whose population has never been completely censused."

Perry says that property rights advocates are fighting a war. "It's not about us. It's about our children. It's about Constitutional rights and who ultimately controls our land."

It was wise advice, for as both Jesus and Paul brethren without incurring water restrictions for our own faults. Only God, the Supreme Being, is qualified to sit in judgment and pass down judgment on the acts of man. It would be more advantageous for us to look not outside at our fellow beings but rather to look to our own behavior and being so that we might better correct those blessings that fall short of what God and the Christian faith expect of their followers.

Flying L sets second CCRA Golf Tournament

The Flying L Ranch Golf Course will host the second annual Cowboy Capital Rodeo Golf Tournament on Friday, Sept. 2 beginning with a 9 a.m. shotgun start.

Four man teams will compete with Callaway Handicap Scoring. Prizes will be given for low teams, closest to hole in par 5's, and consolation. A hospitality gift bag will also be given.

Fajitas, sausage and drinks will be available. The entry fee is $50 per player. Mulligans are $5 each. Players may select a foursome or be paired. The limit is 36 teams, or 144 players.

The golf tournament is sponsored by the Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association.

D-Day sweethearts fail to meet again this side of heaven

Richard Hitzberger had his heart set on Marie, but it was a love destined not to be Publicity commemorating the 50th anniversary of D-Day brought a vivid memory to Bandera resident Richard Hitzberger. He was erupting with star-bells and red green and yellow tracer and a sea dotted with floating bodies. Seaman Hitzberger, a member of the 11th U.S. Navy Construction Battalion, witnessed that appalling scene with his eyes, but his heart was set on Marie.

Hitzberger was stationed in Milford Haven, for a short period prior to the invasion. The pleasant and picturesque town moved Hitzberger so much that he has kept a booklet on Milford Haven over the years. What moved him the most, however, was a young girl named Marie.

She and Hitzberger met in a store downtown, and later went to the cinema. After the invasion, they corresponded for a while. Gradually, after Hitzberger had returned to the States and been reassigned to Pacific operations, the friendship waned.

Hitzberger says he "never for an instant" forgot Marie. He often wondered how different their lives would have been if they had been reunited. He gave her a white scarf with his name stenciled on it for a memento.

Finally, with the 50th anniversary of the invasion looming, he wrote to the "The Mercury", the Milford Haven newspaper, and asked for help in finding Marie.

The mention of the white scarf convinced Betty Skinner, of Hakin, that the mystery Marie must have been her sister, "Lally". Sadly, Lally, who became Mrs. Marie Whitmore when she married, had died in 1983 at the age of 55. She left behind one daughter and four sons.

Shinner said Lally was "a lovely person, very pretty, with a lovely singing voice." She remembered that while she was eight years old in 1945, her sister, who was then 16, talked to her about "the American sailor." She also remembers the white scarf although she does not know what happened to it.

"Everyone knew Lally in Milford," Betty said. "She was a very hard worker, and for 12 years had her own fashion boutique, 'Miss Marie's'."

Following the publication of Hitzberger's letter in The Mercury, Lally's sister and family began corresponding with Hitzberger. He found that his sweetheart, who had died 11 years previously, had "made the best" of an unhappy marriage and had never forgotten him, her first love, nor stopped talking about him.

He was told that he had been "very much on Lally's mind" for the year prior to her death. Perhaps in heaven, the sweethearts who have been separated for the past 50 years, will finally be reunited.

An American Red Cross CPR and standard first aid course will be held this Saturday, Aug. 27 in the Bandera High School Library from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. CPR for adults, children and infants will be taught. The cost is $25. Those planning to attend should pre-register. Call 796-4941 and leave your name and telephone number.

Bandera American Legion BBQ cook-off will feature veteran organizer Bob Roberts

Bandera American Legion members learned that Bob Roberts, who had his chili cooking team in Bandera in April, spent the past 17 years running the Taylor International Barbecue and Cook-off. An idea was born: why not borrow his experience and expertise to help organize a first annual American Legion Cowboy Capital of the World Barbecue Cook-off? Roberts, 78, a retired Air Force pilot and a member of the Legion (as well as a very fine individual) agreed. He invited Legion members from Bandera to Taylor to observe check-in procedures, judging and other activities. At Taylor, 87 cooks were competing in seven categories: beef, pork, poultry, goat; lamb; wild game; and seafood. One of the judges traveled all the way from Cincinnati. Cooks came from as far away as Oklahoma and New Mexico. Some cooking rigs were very elaborate, costing thousands and pulled by expensive motor homes. Then there was "good old Bubba" with his 65-gallon rig, pulled by his dented pickup. He was having just as much fun as the "big boys" and had just as much chance of winning. Hopefully, the Legion cook-off will attract cooking teams and barbecue lovers from all over. They will trickle into local shops and restaurants seeking bargains and local cover. Chili cooks, who will be here in April, still comment on the friendly treatment they received in Bandera. American Legion Post 187 firmly believes Bandera can take on the most formidable competition for snack events and win. To begin with, the Legion will sponsor a brisket and pork rib cook-off on Oct. 29 at Mansfield Park.

Bandera Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation

The Bandera County ASCS office will be closed for the Labor Day holiday on Monday, Sept. 5. If you have bought, leased, rented or are thinking about buying, leasing or renting a farm, you need to check with the Soil Conservation Service about the conservation plan on the farm in question, says ASCS county executive director Joy Gallagher. Visit the SCSS to make sure you are in compliance with the plan, or to see if it needs to be updated, she says. For 1994 and subsequent crop years, to maintain eligibility for any disaster benefits producers must file within 15 days after the disaster has occurred.

Randall Metz, of Pipe Creek, is among 214 H.E.B. scholarship recipients for the 1994-95 school year. He is an H.E.B. employee and will receive 75 percent of his tuition costs, or a maximum of $2,200 an academic year. The scholarship can be renewed for four years and applied towards an associate, bachelor or graduate degree. Florence Butt founded H.E.B. in Kerrville in 1925. Today, H.E.B. operates 220 stores in 123 communities; employs 42,000 Texans; and is one of the largest independent, privately-owned grocery store chains in the U.S.

A RANCHERS CHALLENGE

Paul Garrison, a local rancher, has issued a challenge to all other ranchers in this area. The challenge is to provide a team for the American Cancer Society Golf Tournament to be held Monday, Oct. 3, 1994 at the Flying L Golf Course. The entry fee will be $200 for a team of four golfers. Proceeds will go to the American Cancer Society to assist cancer patients in our community. A trophy cup will be awarded to the ranchers whose team wins. Mr. Garrison hopes that all ranchers in our community will accept the challenge and provide teams to compete for the trophy cup. There will be help for those ranchers who need assistance in developing teams for the Ranchers Cup Challenge. For more information, help, or to enter, please contact Robert Cohn at 796-3077, or Chubby Chandler at 589-2844.

Kerrville Wine and Music Festival Sept. 2-4

Rod Kennedy's third annual Kerrville Wine and Music Festival is set for the three-day Labor Day weekend, Friday-Saturday-Sunday, Sept. 2-4, at Quiet Valley Ranch, located nine miles south of Kerrville on State Hwy. 16 between Kerrville and Medinal. The outdoor family event features a dozen Texas winemakers and two dozen performers from the U. S. and Canada. Camping, cooking out, shopping the crafts booth, tasting wines and attending the wine seminars are the frosting on the cake on a weekend that features three-hour evening concerts at the outdoor theater headlined by artists like Trout Fishing in America, Brave Combo, New York Music Awards winner Heather Mullen, bluesman Spider John Koerner, former Kerrville New Politics winner Coxy Sheridan, and Nashville songwriters Hugh Moffatt, Rick Boreford, George Hamilton V, and Walter Hyatt. Wine events include two tastings at Threadgill Memorial Theater featuring Texas wines and pasta and Sauvignon Blanc with taste treats selected by advance ticket holding partners. To order tickets or request a free 45-minute schedule, call 1 (800) 435-8429 between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays.

Property Tax Rates in Bandera County

This notice concerns 1994 property tax rates for Bandera. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

	General Fund	Farm to Market/ Flood Control Fund	Special Road/Bridge Fund
Last year's tax rate:	$ 1,563,967	$ 164,078	$ 101,342
Last year's operating taxes	$ 1,077,868	$ -	$ -
Last year's debt taxes	$ 1,671,435	$ 164,078	$ 101,342
Last year's tax base	$487,587,624	$487,587,624	$487,587,624
Last year's total tax rate	$ .34693100	$ .03401100	$ .02191000
This year's effective tax rate:	$ 1,539,840	$ 151,313	$ 89,008
(After subtracting taxes on lost property)	$490,311,319	$490,311,319	$490,311,319
This year's adjusted tax base	$ 1,539,840	$ 151,313	$ 89,008
(After subtracting value of new property)	$ .31401100	$ .03091100	$ .01831100
Total effective tax rate	$ .36331100
In the first year a county collects the additional sales tax to reduce property taxes, it must insert the following lines unless its first adjustment was made last year
- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ -0.0100
- Effective tax rate	$ .35331100
x 1.05 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ .37139100
This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes	$ 1,077,868	$ 151,313	$ 93,458
(After subtracting taxes on lost property and including taxes for state criminal justice mandate)	$490,311,319	$490,311,319	$490,311,319
This year's effective operating rate	$ .35601100	$ .03331100	$ .02071100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ .38449100	$ .03597100	$ .02236100
This year's debt rate	$ .01941100	$ -0.0100	$ -0.0100
This year's rollback rate for each fund	$ .37541100	$ .03331100	$ .02071100
This year's total rollback rate	$ .37931100
A county that collects the additional sales tax to reduce property taxes, including one that collects the tax for the first time this year, must insert the following lines
- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ .03451100
- Rollback tax rate	$ .34481100
For a county with additional rollback rate for pollution control, insert the following lines
- Additional rate for pollution control	$ -0.0100
- Rollback tax rate	$ .33481100

Dogs outscored in first scrimmage of season

Coach Williamson saw some bright spots in his team's performance, though Bandera's Bulldogs faced their first opposition of the '94 football season in Thursday's scrimmage against Jourdanston. If you go strictly by the scoreboard it was not a good night for the Dogs. They were outscored 18-6.

Bulldog's head coach Mike Williamson saw some bright spots in his team's performance for the night. "We were pleased with the aggressiveness of both our offense and defense. The problems we had were in execution. We just flat did not do what we were coached to do in certain situations," Williamson noted.

The good news is that

Bandera volleyball action

Bandera's Lady Bulldog varsity volleyballers lost 15-11, 15-7 to Lytle Tuesday, Aug. 23. In that game, Kelly Vos served 6 for 7, with one ace; Abby Nightingale served 9 for 10; Josie Heil served 2 for 3; Heidi Hicks served 5 for 6; and Adriana Blow served 3 for 4. Blocking, Wlynn Zickler had 1, Hicks had 2, and Blow had 3. Vos spiked 4 for 5; Kelly Rigby spiked 5 for 8 with 2 kills; Nightingale spiked 6 for 8 with 2 kills; and Zickler spiked 9 for 11 with 4 kills. Vos, Hicks and Blow were each credited with 1 dig. Vos had 4 sets and Rigby had 3 sets. In passes, Zickler had 6 for 9; J.J. Shedd had 5 for 5; and Jackie Edwards had 3 for 5.

The Lady Bulldogs neat outing in at the Tivy Tournament in Kerrville Friday and Saturday, Aug. 26 and 27.

In the La Vernia Tournament last week, the ladies took consolation 17-15, 15-10. Heil served 11 for 11 with 1 ace; Nightingale served 11 for 12 with 2 aces and 3 blocks; Zickler served 9 for 10 with 5 kills and 3 digs; Vos served 6 for 8 with 2 kills; and Hicks had 6 digs.

Varsity returners include

Williamson sees the problems as very correctable. "We had a lot of youngsters who are new to football or new to a position. Now they have seen some game-type conditions and we have it all on film so we can show them why plays broke down."

"Our objectives for a scrimmage are very different than in a game situation," explained Williamson. "We want to get all of our players to see action and there are new plays we want to try out on an opponent. We want to get as much on film as possible. Game films are a tremendous teaching tool."

seniors Jackie Edwards, Wlynn Zickler and Kelly Vos; and juniors Adriana Blow, Abby Nightingale and Kelly Rigby. New to the varsity Lady Bulldogs are senior Sumie Dice; juniors Josie Heil and J.J. Shedd; and sophomore Heidi Hicks.

Tuesday night, Aug. 23, Bandera's JV girls beat Lytle 15-10, 15-4; and Bandera's freshmen beat Lytle 15-4, 15-9.

See next week's Bulletin for details of those games.

Utopia volleyball

Saturday, Aug. 20, the Utopia Ladies hosted the Center Point Lady Pirates in volleyball action. The JV match lasted just 2 games with Utopia coming up with the victors. The first game was the closest with a final score of 19-7 with the second not lasting as long with a score of 15-4. Karissa Tosta was noted by Coach John Robison as being the key player of the morning. The varsity team took the court to take their match in 2 games, also. First game score was 15-9 with the second being a little closer at 15-13. Leading the Varsity Ladies were Leahye Kellner and Toni D. Clark.

For his JV/freshman team Williamson has praise for Thursday's scrimmage. "They obviously have been paying attention in practice. They ran their plays just the way we designed and taught them. We were pleased with the effort," Williamson said.

As for the upcoming scrimmage Friday night against LaVernia Williamson sees the potential for some exciting football action. "LaVernia is a good team that didn't have a very good outing in last week's scrimmage. They have some young men eager to get back on the field and show they are better that they looked last week. We have much the same goals," said Williamson.

The annual Harry Wickersham-Texas Lions Camp Golf Tournament was held Aug. 4 at the Flying L Golf Course in Bandera. It was sponsored by the Fredericksburg Lions Club. Players from across the state attended. Over $6,000 was raised for the Texas Lions Camp in Kerrville. The funds were used to purchase two therapeutic saddles for the horsemanship program which will allow children with severe physical disabilities a greater degree of independence and success in riding. For more information, call the Texas Lions Camp Administration Office at (210) 896-8500.

Steven Bosak, a consultant with Texas Parks and Wildlife, said that the City of Bandera has made such progress on the park and has displayed such a good attitude and willingness to complete the project on schedule, that his department is willing to issue the city a 90-day extension. Mayor Robert Skinner said that the extension will give the city time to grade in roads, install the tables that have been on order, and make more improvements to the recreational area. Much of the work on the park was completed by the Aug. 31 deadline. The fence and rest rooms are finished and the entrance is under construction. A public meeting on the park was held last Thursday to discuss parking and roads for the park.

Bandera man killed in San Antonio carjacking

Christopher Winfield, 23, of Bandera, was killed in San Antonio on Wednesday, Aug. 24 when he tried to stop a carjacking.

According to a report in the San Antonio Express-News, Winfield and a friend were sitting on Winfield's vehicle in the parking lot of a North Side strip center near a popular nightclub in the 2300 block of Northwest Military Highway at approximately 1:30 a.m. The assailant, described as a Hispanic male in his early 20s, approached the vehicle and brandished a handgun as he demanded the keys.

Winfield reportedly told the robber that he did not have keys. The carjacker reached into the cab and turned down the radio. At the same time, he spotted the keys in the ignition. He got into the vehicle and started it. Winfield's friend ran away yelling, "He's got a gun."

Meanwhile, the vehicle drove off with Winfield hanging off the driver's side door, trying to stop the subject from taking his white sports van. Seconds later, Winfield was fatally shot. He was shot in the upper right chest and was pronounced dead at University Hospital at 2:17 a.m.

Winfield was born Aug. 10, 1971, in McAllen. He had lived in Bandera for 12 years and was a member of the First Baptist Church. He was a 1990 graduate of Bandera High School.

County lowers new tax rate

Bandera County Commissioners Court disapproved the maxim, "taxes never go down", when they voted for a lower tax rate on Monday, Aug. 29. They voted to set this year's tax rate at 40.74 cents.

Last year's tax rate for the county was 41.50 cents. Higher property evaluations are responsible for the lower tax rate.

It's a PRCA Rodeo weekend

Cowboy Capital Rodeo will feature 351 entries, 'Bad Company' stock

By Stephanie Logue
Bulletin Staff Writer

The 11th annual PRCA Labor Day Weekend Rodeo, sponsored by the Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association, will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2 through 4 at Mansfield Park with performances beginning at 8 p.m. each night. The 1994 Cowboy Capital Pro Rodeo has a record 351 entries and a pay-out of over $32,000.

Adult admission will be $7 in advance and $8 at the gate. Children's admission will be $3 in advance and $4 at the gate. Friday's performance has been designated as "children's night". A child's ticket purchased with an adult ticket is only $1. Tickets may be purchased in San Antonio at Boot Hill, located at 8023 Callaghan Road; and in Bandera at Rodeo Chevrolet; Bandera Chamber of Commerce and Visitors' Center; O.S.T. Restaurant; Super S Grocery; The Cabaret; and the First State Bank.

Two sections of bull riding will be featured at each performance. Local events include calf scramble, steer saddling and cow milking. Mike Mathis, Texas Announcer of the Year in 1992 and 1993, will be Master of Ceremonies.

There are no reserved seats. Reserved seats were sold as a part of the sponsorship program. A parking fee of $2 per vehicle will be charged.

Rodeo slack will be held Wednesday, Aug. 31 at 6 p.m. and Thursday, Sept. 1 at 6 p.m. There is a $1 admission charge for the slack performances.

The Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association was organized in 1983 to bring professional rodeo to Bandera County and the surrounding communities. Over 150 life-time members support the association with time and financial assistance. Local businesses also support the organization.

Each year, the rodeo association seeks ways to improve the rodeo presentation. This year, the arena has been painted. Grandstand seating will be available on BOTH sides of the arena for the first time.

Mack Altizer and Bad Company Rodeo will act as rodeo producer again this year. They provide fast-moving and exciting rodeo action, as promised by their motto: "Expect the Unexpected." They are providing horseback rodeo announcer Mike Mathis; barrelman, Jim Bob Feller; bullfighters, Todd Bowman, Mark Callaghan and Roach Hedeman; and trick rider, Bree Werthington. Bandera's own Kevin Fitzpatrick will put on a trick roping display prior to each night's performance. He is in the Ancira TV commercials.

Special prizes will be given each evening including Wrangler gift certificates and National Finals belt buckles from Award Design Medals.

Each performance will begin at 8 p.m. with the Grand Entry which will include newly elected rodeo queen and princess and rodeo teen queen and princess, along with all the contestants and sponsor representatives.

Bad Company Rodeo stock will be led by Texas Horseback Home of the Year, "Can't Touch This" and Texas Saddle Bronc Horse of the Year, "Copenhagen Henke." Pro rodeo's notorious bull herds, "Bad Boys" will also be highlighted. Also, two bulls unridden to date, "Strukin" and "Copenhagen Wild thing" will give riders a challenge and spectators a show.

Bandera's Cowboy Capital Pro Rodeo makes history with Bad Company Rodeo "Get Western Tour." This energy-packed pro rodeo makes 10 broken record payouts. Tickets are selling fast at the Bandera Chamber of Commerce, Sims Spur Company, the OST Restaurant and Super S Grocery.

Medina Lake water sales meeting scheduled Thursday, Sept. 8

A public information meeting on water sales from Medina Lake will be held at the Mico Volunteer Fire Department on Thursday, Sept. 8 at 7 p.m. Speakers invited are: Medina County state representative Pete Nelto; Medina County Underground Water District Lou Anna Buckner; Edwards Underground general manager Rick Igner; and BMA officials. Carol Smith, of Cedar Point Landing, urges, "Please attend. It's your water, too!"

Utopia ISD superintendent anticipates tax rate decrease

The tax rate for Utopia Independent School District's 1994-95 school year will be established at the regular September board meeting. A decrease in tax rate will be presented to the board for vote.

For the past two years, the tax rate for the Utopia ISD has been 1.075 percent. After preparation of the 1994-95 school budget, a recommendation will be made to set the rate for the year at 1.0579 percent per $100 value. This rate is well below that which would require publications and hearings.

With the district taxed valuation of $61,267,120 values set by Bandera County Appraisal District, this will provide the district with sufficient funds to operate for the school year. Superintendent John McFadin and the local board are pleased with the possibility of passing the decrease on to the public. They anticipate no problem when the vote is taken.

Bandera Downs granted 52 racing dates in 1995

Bandera Downs was granted 52 live racing dates for 1995 when the Texas Racing Commission met on Monday, Aug. 29. According to a report by Tim Price in the San Antonio Express News, some 42 of those racing dates, or about 80 percent, are scheduled while Retama is conducting live races.

Bandera Downs will begin its 1995 season on March 4, and will continue every Saturday and Sunday through Aug. 20. Races will also be conducted on the Mondays of Memorial Day and Independence Day weekends.

Retama's inaugural season is scheduled to begin April 7, with racing scheduled Fridays through Sundays. For most weeks, from May through mid-September, Retama will conduct live races Wednesday through Sunday.

Gillespie County Fair Grounds was granted race days including June 17-18, July 1-2 and 15-16, and Aug. 12-13 and 25-27.

Two VFD barbecues set

The Medina Lake and Tarpley Volunteer Fire Departments will cook up lots of briquets this weekend in two separate barbecue fund raisers.

The Medina Lake event will be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 3 and 4 from 11 a.m. until the food is gone.

Adult plates will be $5 and children's plates will be $3.

Tarpley's barbecue will begin Sunday at 11:30 a.m. with a fun parade through downtown Tarpley.

Serving will begin at noon in the Tarpley event. The Tarpley VFD barbecue will also include live music, an auction and prizes. For parade information, call 562-3250, or 796-3641.

Take back Texas

Dear editor:
Ranching has been in my husband's family for nearly a century and has been a way of life and livelihood. They have shed blood, sweat, and tears over this precious land and it's becoming shapely when they are and define who they will become. They have gently nurtured the vegetation and wildlife by using only what was needed for their survival. I think most farmers and ranchers share these same beliefs and will do whatever is necessary to protect their inherited lands. We all need to band together and fight the recent U.S. Fish and Wildlife's threats against our constitutional rights.

On Saturday, Aug. 27, my husband, myself and our two small children set out on five in the morning to go to Austin for the "Take Back Texas" rally. We were not sure what to expect, but to our relief found we were in the "wilderness" people like ourselves, people who want to continue passing on their legacy without government interference. Attending the parade were thousands of farmers, ranchers and small land owners (contrary to the "hundreds" reported by The San Antonio Express News). Whether riding horse, mule, wagon, or flatbed trailer we were all united in our desire to "Take Back Texas".

Regardless if you own a quarter of an acre or a quarter of a million acres, your control over your own land is in jeopardy. For more information on what YOU as an individual can do to protect your property rights, please send a self-addressed stamped envelope to: "Take Back Texas," c/o Chis and Lindy Padgett, P.O. Box 463, Utopia, TX 78884.

Golden cheeked stool pigeon?

Dear editor:
What is all of this big hullabaloo over the sheer absurdity of the government's latest thinly disguised "environmental" campaign to protect (i.e. grab) 33 counties of Hill Country land? The symbol they've chosen this week is the kinder, gentler Golden Cheeked Warbler, but it might as well be Warner Bros. Twenty or Sesame Street's Big Bird.

because the stool pigeon they use to fowl the waters really doesn't matter as the issues are so absolutely nothing to do with protecting public domain-ly disadvantaged birds.

The issue at stake is our constitutional property rights which are being eroded right under our noses. And, during his reign as Land Commissioner, Garry Mauro has spearheaded a campaign funded by your tax dollars to overturn centuries old Spanish land grant titles, re-surveyed in 1/8 mile wide Canadian River boundary to twice the width of the Mississippi in order to "annex" valuable natural gas lands, and overturned a generations-old profitable oil lease that had been previously upheld in the courts three different times.

The techniques of legal extortion were uncannily similar in all of these cases: target a case shrouded by many years so that the original participants are dead and therefore have difficulty defending themselves, drown the issue in a sea of incomprehensible legalese, and threaten such exorbitant legal costs that the average citizen is unable to defend his case.

So, why all of the uproar now over the "Endangered Species" act? If the Land Commissioner can legally ignore adjudicated land titles, why be surprised when the Fish & Wildlife Service is now proposing that permission to clear your own land be required?

Infernal fire ants

Dear editor:
Being a rancher for 30 years in this area I have sadly observed the declining population of the birds, wild turkeys, young deer, rabbits and any animals that live in ground-holes, including armadillos.
Less than 125 years ago there wasn't a cedar tree to be found in the hill country. You could ride a horse all day and never see a cedar tree. I'm wondering where the golden-cheeked warbler nested then if cedar is their only nesting tree? I feel the declining population.

B.J. Sellinger

lution of the above mentioned wildlife is due primarily to one thing and that is FIRE ANT!!! This is a serious problem that wildlife experts have swept under the rug. I've seen these fire ants eat up a nest of young turkeys, kill a den of four baby squirrels, killing fawns as they hit the ground and on and on and on! Everything is at the mercy of the fire ant!!! What I am puzzled about is why don't these so-called environmental groups and animal-rightist groups spend their time and money looking for a way to eliminate the REAL problem??

Really enjoyed it

Dear editor:
I don't know when I've enjoyed the Bulletin as much as the "50 years of memories." There was so much history, and so many pictures.

The article on Elizabeth James was outstanding. Keep up the good work.

Another volley

Dear editor:
A note to Ms. Holleran - I resent your implication that I'm a nosy busy body who has nothing better to do than spy on neighbors. I'm a senior citizen who enjoys life and many, many hobbies - one of which WAS looking out the stars and planets through our telescope.

Apparently you did not read my letter, just Gomez's response. I was not complaining of the security lights per se. What I would like is a top to them so the light is cast downward into the yard and not into my house which is a quarter-mile away. Incidentally ALL my neighboring houses are obscured by trees; and, even if they weren't, I have no interest in my neighbor's activities.

Utopia

Internal fire ants

Dear editor:
I too watch deer, skunks, raccoons, possums, wild pigs and the shy antics of a family of foxes. They are amusing to watch at times; but, my light is hooded so as not to disturb neighbors and turned on only when I have enough time to watch for animals. We moved to the country to enjoy all of God's creation - animals, trees, plants AND stars. How much can you see of the stars, Ms. Holleran? You're missing a truly great beauty of Creation with your security light.

Enjoy your security light - I would just like not being overwhelmed with the sky glow from your uncappped light and the thousands of others in our area.

Not a 'misprint'

Dear editor:
690+60=715. Aug. 24 reply: "It was simply copied incorrectly when transferred to the reporting page."
"Incorrect" is a polite word for sloppy work.
The real problem here is that we are getting a bad example for our children. We are telling them that it is okay to "screw up" as long as they own up to it, IF they get caught.
In my book there is only one way to do things - the right way! I cannot, and will not, make excuses for doing anything incorrectly.

I cannot express my sentiments about this sort of thing in a fashion fit for publication. I do want to say: Thank the Lord! Two of my neighbors (one a former school teacher) are home schooling their little ones. At least those seven kids will learn to check their work and get it right.

majority, had the attorney general decided a constitutional amendment vote was unnecessary.

"Absolutely it makes our job more difficult...I'm really surprised the attorney general would rule in this manner," Crist told the Austin American-Statesman.

Tom Pauken, chairman of the Texas Republican Party, said he feels voters don't want casino gambling and casino gambling interests will have a hard time getting even a simple majority in the House when it comes to a vote.

Morales' Republican opponent in the Nov. 8 election, state District Judge Don Wittig of Houston, criticized the incumbent for accepting $75,000 in donations from Rob "Mattress Mac" Melnyale of Houston, who had expressed interest in opening a casino gambling establishment.

But Morales said the money was a show of support for other interests as well, such as his anti-crime initiatives. Morales, however, returned $2,600 in donations from a casino gambling political action committee.

State Sen. Bill Haley, D-Center, resigned last week to take a position as executive director of the Texas Motor Transportation Association, a group representing more than 1,100 trucking firms in the state.

Haley's departure means the Democratic party must hurry to fill his spot on the Nov. 8 election ballot. In order to be replaced on the ballot, state law requires that Haley first be declared ineligible to serve. That could be accomplished if Haley establishes residence outside his district.

Haley's East Texas district includes the counties of Angelina, Nacogdoches, Cherokee, Hardin, Henderson, Jasper, Newton, Polk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto and Tyler and parts of Smith and Montgomery counties.

A former school teacher, Haley served 11 years in the House and six years in the Senate. He came to be regarded as the father of House Bill 72, the sweeping education reform package that became law in 1984.

Low performers About 100 more public schools would have been ranked low performing if the state had used last year's rating system, according to figures released last week by the Texas Education Agency.

The apparent reason is a law requiring more grades to be tested on the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills.

This year's figure was based on scores from tests in grades three through eight and 10. Last year's figure was based just on grades four, eight and 10.

TRA announced earlier that the number of schools ranked low performing had dropped from 336 last year to 65.

Other Highlights

Texas led the nation in total jobs created during June, according to Blue Chip Job Growth Update, published by Arizona State University's Economic Outlook Center. Texas added 223,500 new jobs, up 2.98 percent, which ranked the state ninth in percentage gain since June 1993.

Texas high school seniors average math scores rose two points, to 474, on the Scholastic Assessment Test this year, while verbal scores slipped one point, falling to 412. The national average for math was 479 and the average for verbal was 423.

Concert and Fellowship Rally Sept. 10

sponsored by BCCF Youth Council
The Christian rock band "Pure Faith," soloist Cindy Braddock and the bluegrass/country "Hill Country Praise Band" will be among the featured highlights of a Family Concert and Fellowship Rally Saturday, Sept. 10 from 1 to 7 p.m. at the Bandera High School auditorium. The event is sponsored by the Bandera County Christian Fellowship Youth Council. Food and drinks will be available for sale at the event. Admission is free, but a "love donation" will be taken, says spokesman Robert Miller.
"Pure Faith" will start off the day's entertainment at 1 p.m., followed at 2 p.m. by Cinde Braddock. The contemporary bilingual band "Soterian" plays at 2:15 p.m., then Braddock will sing again at 3:15 p.m.
The "Hill Country Praise Band" is scheduled to play at 3:30 p.m., followed by saxophone soloist Roger Fisher at 4:30 p.m. Evangelist Travis Johnson is scheduled to appear at 4:45, then at 5:15 youth worship leader Marc Martinez will take over. Dave Bell and the Lion of Judah Band will take the stage at 6 p.m., for the day's highlighted concert.
For more information, contact Robert Miller at 510-6368.

Gun Show set this weekend

Preferred Trade Shows will sponsor a Gun and Knife Show Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 3 and 4 at Mansfield Park. Hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. Admission is $4 per person, and law enforcement members are admitted free.
The gun show will be held before weekend rodeo performances. A PRCA rodeo buck knife is scheduled to be given away as a door prize at the gun show. For information, call 460-7047.

Looking Back

Over 200 descendants of Edward J. and Annie M. Stricker gathered on Saturday, Aug. 6 for a family reunion and for a memorial tribute to Edward and Annie's oldest son, the late Adolph Stricker, Sr. It was also a tribute to Harriet Stricker, who was left to raise six children by herself when her husband died on Aug. 7, 1964.

The reunion was held at Mansfield Park. It was organized and sponsored by Adolph and Harriet Stricker's 11 children.

In a letter to the Bandera Bulletin, Lou Stricker Varner says that while the front page headline in the paper read "Death of Adolph Stricker is Shock to Community", it was even a greater shock to the family. Varner was only six years old at the time, about to begin her first year in school. Harriet Stricker was left to raise six of her children alone in the days of two-parent households when divorce was a rarity and one parent families were uncommon.

Additionally, Varner says, her father was close to his children and almost always had at least one of them tagging along as he went to work on surrounding ranches completing welding jobs or shoeing horses. His children were also frequent visitors at their father's welding/blacksmith shop. They helped him care for livestock on their own ranch.

While the loss was tremendous and the family wounded how they would make it, Varner says, they did not give up or turn that business over to someone younger (She was born on Nov. 10, 1914). "When you've got a tiger by the tail," she says, "how do you turn it loose? So many people need oxygen for medical purposes now."

The welding supply business, she says, enabled her to raise her children following her husband's death. "I appreciated getting by with that." During the family reunion/memorial, activities included gathering and updating family history; viewing old family photos and home movies; potluck dinner with barbecue; games for the children; family group pictures; music for the teenagers; and lots of catching-up by family members, some of whom had not seen each other for over 20 years. Highlights for children were the "toy walk" and watching "some pretty wild swingers" hit the pinatas.

Representatives from five of the seven children of Edward and Annie numbered 105 of the 200-plus descendants present. Adolph and Harriet Stricker's branch of the family had the largest attendance with 47 immediate family members present. Plans were discussed for making the reunion an annual event.

On Sunday, Aug. 7, 23 family members attended the Pipe Creek Homecoming with Harriet. She grew up in Pipe Creek and attended school there through the ninth grade in 1931. She attends the Pipe Creek homecoming regularly to visit with friends and cousins who also grew up in Pipe Creek.

Adolph J. Stricker was born in 1910 and worked as a laborer on the Buchanan Dam at Llano before moving to Pipe Creek in 1932. He met Harriet Inez Buck, the daughter of Walter Buck and Katie Lark Buck. They were married on May 10, 1936, in San Antonio and brought 14 children into the world, 11 of whom survive.

Adolph had grown up with some experience in blacksmithing and horseshoeing and worked with Col. W.T. Johnson's World Championship Rodeo as horseshoer. He returned to New York and Boston with the rodeo each fall from 1934 to 1939.

The Adolph Strickers moved to Bandera from Pipe Creek to Bandera in the summer of 1939. By the following year, Adolph had purchased an acetylene torch and had begun experimenting with brazing and cutting. In 1943, during the war, he was drafted to serve in the Army. When local people found out about it, they signed a petition to keep him at home. They said he was needed in Bandera to repair farm implements because it was impossible, at the time, to purchase new equipment.

Harriet chuckles as she remembers that petition. "He was so grateful to get to stay home—we had children by then—that he worked almost day and night to rebuild equipment for people."

Adolph purchased an electric welding machine in 1945. He was able to increase the volume of his business and survived ranching during the drought in the 1950s and early 1960, by burning prickly pear and cutting down brush to provide for his stock.

During the spring of 1964, he sprayed heavily to control the rampant weed growth on the Walter Buck ranch in Pipe Creek. One day, he sprayed weeds in the morning. That afternoon, he sprayed cattle and became very ill. He was taken to St. Peter's Memorial Hospital in Kerrville following several weeks of illness. He was treated for insecticide poisoning, but died on Aug. 7, 1964, at age 53.

Bartts participates in RIMPAC exercise

James M. Bartts, the son of James and Mary Bartts of Center Point, participated in joint/combined exercise RIMPAC (Rim of the Pacific) recently. He was aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence, forward deployed to Yokosuka, Japan.

RIMPAC teamed the U.S. with four Pacific nations: Australia; Canada; Japan; and the Republic of Korea, for a major maritime exercise near Hawaii.

RIMPAC involved more than 50 ships; 200 aircraft; and 25,000 sailors, airmen; Marines; soldiers and Coast Guardsmen. The exercise enabled naval forces from different countries to improve their ability to work together.

Bartts is one of more than 3,500 crewmen aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence, a craft capable of carrying 75 aircraft. He is a 1991 graduate of Center Point High School and joined the Navy in April, 1992.

John Singleton congratulates junior rodeo contestant P.J. Doyle, who took second place in bull riding for the summer rodeo series. Others finishing second included Claude Loman, calf roping; Shannon Butler, break-away roping; Stephanie Byrd, barrel racing; and Brady Wren and David Valenzuela, team roping.

Bad Company Rodeo presents stars this weekend

Trick rider Bree Worthington and rodeo clown Jim Bob Feller will be among entertainment

Pro rodeo clown Jim Bob Feller

Trick rider Bree Worthington.

Mack Altizer and Bad Company Rodeo, Inc. will again produce the 11th Annual PRCA Labor Day Weekend Rodeo on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2, 3 and 4 at Mansfield Park beginning at 8 p.m.

Academy will include bull riding; calf roping; team roping; steer wrestling; steer roping; barrel racing; bareback riding; saddle bronc riding; steer saddling; calf scramble; and wild cow milking. High energy rock'n roll combines with a wild string of bucking stock to produce a "choreographed rockin' rodeo."

Fifteen-year-old Bree Worthington, trick and fancy rider, will be performing with her sorrel and white Paint horse, Rainbow and Warbonnet. She began riding at age four and is one of the youngest card-carrying trick riders in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association. She is also a junior ambassador for the American Paint Horse Association.

Worthington's feats are "show stoppers." When at school, she is active in sports including track, basketball, dance and the arts. She was nominated to The National Cowgirl Hall of Fame in 1993, making her the youngest woman to ever be nominated. She is a cousin to the late Jackie Worthington, one of the first women to be inducted into the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

Jim Bob Feller has been a professional rodeo clown for 23 of his 39 years of life. His grandfather predicted his destiny in a wood-carving on his sixth birthday. He grew up in a non-rodeo family, never having attended a rodeo until age 11.

He began traveling the rodeo circuit when he was 15 and began formulating his own approach to rodeo clowning, much of it adopted from his hero-rodeo clowns of the 1960s.

His goal was to be both funny—and a bull fighter. He spent 16 years of his career as both a clown and a bull fighter. Now, he acts as a barrelman and clown. He builds up his construction business in the off season.

He has been married to his wife, Donna, for 22 years and has two children. His youngest son, Jon David, helps him with some of his acts.

Local businesses contribute to CCRA weekend rodeo

Major performance sponsors of the 1994 PRCA Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association Labor Day weekend rodeos include Rodeo Chevrolet, the Cabaret Dancehall and Steakhouse, and KIKYX Radio.

Each of these sponsor one complete performance, KIKYX will have live remote coverage of the event on Friday evening. In addition to their participation as a performance sponsor, Faron Bazrea and Rodeo Chevrolet have arranged for co-op advertising, have furnished complimentary caps for the CCRA's golf tournament and have made additional contributions. The Cabaret will host the three official rodeo dances on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. In addition, they hosted the recent CCRA queen contest, queen's luncheon and two mixers during summer months.

Other rodeo event sponsors include Coors Beer, Courtney Mountain Ranch, Dixie Diamond Ranch and Rio Frio Outfitters, SAT Interiors Construction of San Antonio, Ranch Hand Equipment of Boerne and First State Bank.

Other major sponsors include chute sponsors Sims Spur Company, Buddy's Water Well Company, John Teich Construction, El Jocalito Restaurant, Twin Elm Ranch, Verde Creek Hay and Livestock of Center Point, and Mine & Bills, a western wear manufacturer of Fort Worth.

There are also 23 arena sign sponsors. Tickets are available at Rodeo Chevrolet, Bandera County Chamber of Commerce, Diamond T Trading Post, OST Restaurant, the Cabaret, First State Bank, Super 8 Foods and Sims Spur.

what's rustlin' by Bungy

In these hot summer days, most of us think of iced water-melon, a tall glass of iced tea, or maybe a banana split at DQ.

According to an article in The Christian Science Monitor by Cameron Barr, in Japan they're breaking all kinds of heat records this year, so what do the Japanese do to weather it all? They eat cold iced "snags" and they are split, skewered, grilled, chilled, steamed, baked and grilled again. And it costs from $7 to $180, depending on the store!

It's tangy and rich in fat and supposed to help you get through the hot summer! Oh, I'm glad I've got Dairy Queen!

And speaking of unusual food, Peggy Huffman is back in the news again with her funny stories on the food in Russia, from her recent trip. She said it was so awful that she just couldn't eat anything for 2 days, then on the third day, they were serving her a bowl of cooked barley with some meat balls in it, so she tied in, and afterwards, she went over to the host and politely told him how good it was. She wanted to make sure his feelings weren't hurt 'cause she hadn't eaten the other meals. He said, "Oh, yes! That horserust was delicious, wasn't it?"

Dan had to get her out of there in a hurry, and in the fresh air, he explained that all over the world everyone is eating horserust. Everyone except Americans.

They finally got a chance to go to the largest McDonald's in the world in St. Petersburg. They waited in a line over two blocks long and they had pants at the door letting in 12 at a time, four at a time.

The manager greeted them and said the hardest part of the whole business was counting the money. They take in so much money that six people have to count all the time—and it's open 24 hours!

And talking of businesses, did you know there is another shopping mall in Bandera? Well, actually a mini-strip. It starts on 12th and Mulberry and proceeds north. There's the cleaners, a leather working craft art studio, a dry goods store, and a beauty shop. And only one regular home that's a hold-out on that block!

Paint. You need paint? There used to be only Langford's Hardware (the building where Family Dollar is now) — now you have Western Auto-Ace Hardware, True Value, Hevener's Lumber, Family Dollar, Pipe Creek Feed & Hardware (which, by the way carries a LOT of hardware, now), and who knows where else. We are really growing!

Peg Tobin's column, last week, on electricity, was interesting. I can remember not being able to iron and listen to the radio at the same time

Local businesses donated approximately $2,000 for the purchase of community Christmas decorations. Ray D'Spain, of D'Spain's Sales and Service; Billy Walker, PC and owner of Moore Title; Faron Bazrea of Rodeo Chevrolet; Johnny Boyle of Boyle's Enterprises; and an anonymous donor gave checks to Kay Welch for the purchase of the western-style Christmas decorations.

I guess it became a game. Will it, or won't it? I wouldn't take anything for the memories, but it is sure is nice turning off and on a light switch without fear!

Jenkins family holds reunion here

A five-generation family reunion was held at the home of Cleo Frutachi Sitterly on Saturday, Aug. 20.

Cleo was helped by her friend, Terry Spberger, and her son, Bobby Hartfield. They cooked barbecue chicken for the 63 members of the family who attended. Family members began arriving on Thursday and stayed through all over Texas.

Clara Welch Bundy Jenkins was the great-grandmother of Hailey Frutachi, Teagan Frutachi and Travis Frutachi. For some time, there was as much as a 20-year time span between third cousins having seen each other.

A clown act was put on by one member of the family, Etta Mae Stacy. There was also guitar playing and country music singing by brothers Frankie Jenkins, Jr. and Jody Jenkins, Susan Jenkins, Shippert, GW Stacy, Magnolia, Nettie Mae Welch Stacy Powell, Rosanky; Etta Mae Welch Stacy, Wichita Falls; Barbara Byrom, San Antonio; James Miner and son, San Antonio; Sherry Duffin, San Antonio; and Robert Frutachi, Sr. and Brenda, Kerrville.

Also attending were: Toby, Heather, Mary, and Kevin Frutachi from Houston; Lavonne Jenkins Frutachi, San Antonio; Malcolm Jenkins Cotton and husband of Thickett; and Vernon, Ray and Jay Jenkins, all of San Antonio.

Bandera County Quilt Guild to meet Thursday, Sept. 8

The Bandera County Quilt Guild will meet, according to Carolee Youngblood, on Thursday, Sept. 8 at St. Christopher's Episcopal Church.

The program will be presented by Linda Carlson of Boerne. Carlson was chairman of the very successful Apple Festival quilt show and owns the Thread and Needle in Boerne, a quilting supplies shop.

Carlson is also a noted teacher. She lived in Japan for over seven years and taught American techniques to Japanese women and learned Japanese quilting techniques.

Her program will be on making a Christmas tree skirt. Guild members are asked to bring Christmas fabrics, sewing essentials and a sewing machine to the meeting.

The meeting begins at 9:30 and the workshop should begin about 10 a.m.

Bella Union still offers a "place to go and slow down" after 30 years

Jake and Linda Allen bought the Bella Union Dance Hall and Saloon in Frontier Village with two goals in mind: keeping the original building as old and western as possible, and giving families a place to "go and slow down."

Jake and Linda Allen have renovated the Bella Union at Frontier Village and entertain the crowds with their band.

Jake has "played all his life" and has been a part of famous bands including George Jones, George Chamber and the Country Gentlemen, and Loretta Lynn. He also had his own band, "Levis" for many years. When he was injured in a train accident, the inactivity took a greater toll on him, Linda says, than did the injury. He was still young and suddenly found himself "retired."

Linda suggested to him that they should put their own band together. Poteet, who he could still play music. The band was formed and Jake was looking for a lead singer. Linda won that position. Jake plays steel guitar. Sterling Boone is on drums; Jason Boone is the bass player; and Dale Burkett is on lead guitar.

Linda had always wanted to play music. She grew up with music and has always loved it. Some of her favorite childhood memories are of families getting together on Sunday afternoon for jam sessions. She finally had the opportunity to join in a jam session at Bandera Pass and play bass. She "stumbled through it" and found it was the perfect opportunity to get a group together "just for the fun of it."

"When it quits being fun," Linda says, "I'll quit doing it. Jake and I are supposed to be retired. We're working harder than we ever have in our life. But it's been the best therapy for him."

An all day singing, with supper on the grounds will be held at the Bella Union on Saturday, Oct. 15 at the first annual Cowboy Stew Roundup. Proceeds will benefit Bandera County's Helping Hand.

The Bella Union was built, along with the surrounding Frontier Village, sometime in the early 1960s. Frontier Village was a combination of false western-style buildings fronts and real buildings. Gift shops, a motel, and various tourist-oriented businesses lined the streets. Horseback riders rode up and down the street and firefighters held mock shoot-outs for visitors. Now the tumble-down town looks more like a ghost town than when it is built. The Bella Union is alive and well. The remains of the deserted streets.

When it was first constructed, the Bella Union had no insulation and no heating and cooling system. The windows and doors were thrown open in hot weather. The atmosphere was great...until it became really hot or really cold. Then customers chose to abandon atmosphere for comfort. As a result, the Allens insulated the building and installed a heating and cooling unit, carefully re-working the burlap ceiling to keep the old western look while providing comfort for customers.

Rest rooms were modernized and a new septic and water system were installed. The foundation was shored-up and the dance floor was re-done. Old lumber was taken from one area of the building and used in another area to keep the building as close to the original as possible. Swinging doors were added at the entrance and the rest rooms. The renovation continues. Former owner, Fred Morgan, Sr., has given the Allens a copy of an old poem about a lady's

Fredericksburg Food and Wine Fest scheduled Oct. 22

The fourth annual Fredericksburg Food & Wine Fest, showcasing the "finest tastes of Texas," will be Saturday, Oct. 22 from noon to 8 p.m. on Market Square in downtown Fredericksburg. A private patron party will begin at 11 a.m. and tickets must be purchased in advance by calling 210-997-7521.

General admission, which includes one complimentary wine glass and five tastings, is $10. Admission is $5 for those under 21. Only adults will be allowed to sample wine.

Games such as celebrity grape-stomping and cork-tossing provide fun diversions. Area wineries will be open for tours.

Good music is a natural accompaniment for good food. The fest features polka, jazz, country and pop groups to complement the relaxed afternoon.

Your Basic Bandera Peggy Tobin

Still wishing to find all the traditional lyrics to Bandera County's National Anthem, "Cotton-eyed Joe," we have not going around to writing the number one Texas folkore authority, Prof. Francis Edward Abernethy of Nacogdoches. He probably can supply those words. When the work's all done next fall, we plan to get on this quest again along with sorting all the old photos, cleaning the closet, writing the Great American Novel, and finishing the survey of LeSturgeon-built houses and buildings in the area.

Margaret Evans is searching her files and memory for the words she says her late husband, Otis, used to know and sing to her when they were at the Quibi Gun Club and dancing Cotton-eyed Joe, as it should be danced, as an Alsatian-rooted coudance. All this line-dancing stuff is latter-day dupe. Time and folklore do march on.

Anyway, through the good offices of music guru, Ray Tate, Tim Tobin has come up with a piece of sheet music, containing the well-known music but also the unique set of lyrics concocted by the late Red River Dave.

You may be too young to remember Red River Dave McNery, who was around on live radio shows on WOAI during the post-war era when the world was still comparatively innocent. Dave was good at coming up with home-made songs for every historical occasion. They were crude and corny, but struck a chord with the Texas public of his time.

We think he passed away some time ago, probably taking his guitar with him.

OK, here are Red River Dave's words. A note about the trouble chief says "Bright". So hit it assertively.

"Far Away and Long Ago, on the Trail to the Alamo, Met a Gal I used to know, Ridin' on a Cotton eyed Joe.
Chorus: Cotton-eyed Joe, Cotton-eyed Joe, Gimme that gal, Cotton-eyed Joe.
2. Dance I saw in a Texas town, Boys all swing the gals around I'll teach you to heel and toe, Just come off that cotton-eyed Joe.
3. I said Miss do you like to woo? She said Sir with the likes of you
I said gal, you're a honey bee, How'd you like to marry me?
4. Cotton-eyed Joe I mean outlaw, worst darn boss I ever say
Hold my fiddle and hold my bow-I'm gonna dance that cotton-eyed Joe.
What? We always thought that Joe was a person, not an ornery old horse, and we're sure what gave Red River Dave his ideas. Undoubtedly as many versions of the old fiddle-tune's words will turn up as there are ways of dancing to its music now.
We insist it is still more fun as a couple dance displaying virtuosic twirls, turns, and side-steps. Jimmie Ruth and Junior Sathoff can cover the entire circumference of the Quibi Gun Club's famous dance-floor in just a few bars...leaving the line-dancers shuffling along in the dust.

Bandera County Artists to hear noted artist Virginia Briner

Members and guests of the Bandera County Artists enjoyed a pot luck supper at the first meeting of the new season, held on Aug. 15. Officers for the 94-95 season are Gerry Sharp, president; Sylvia Saffell, vice president; Nancy Camplin, secretary; and Jorge Alatorre, treasurer. Committees are in place and are already gearing up for the annual Hunter's Weekend Arts and Crafts Show to be held Nov. 6 and 7.

The guest artist for September's meeting will be noted watercolor artist Virginia Briner, of San Antonio, says spokesperson, Sylvia Saffell.

This Jackson, Miss. native has a career ranging from motion pictures to clothing design. Cool blues and greens of the southeast and vivid reds, oranges, yellows and browns of the southwest tint her versatile palette. She is equally at home with executions of logos or Rembrandt copies.

For the last nine years, Briner's major concentration has been in the distribution of prints of her work. They are presently in 22 foreign countries, and numerous private and corporate collections. Some are in the White House, the Mississippi Museum of Art and Donald Trump's private collection. They are also carried by 35 dealers in the San Antonio area. These montages have graced the covers of Sunday newspaper supplements and have been featured in many newspaper articles and tourism publications.

Her work is greatly influenced by professor Joseph Polley Paine, who taught her watercolor at Sam Houston State University where she received her B.F.A. in art. Briner maintains a studio at her home where she lives with her husband, Dr. Russell Briner.

Recently, she was the first artist to be honored with a show at the Tower of the Americas restaurant since the erection of the tower in 1968 for HemisFair.

Members and guests will enjoy a special evening with Virginia Briner at the Sept. 19th meeting, at the Bandera Bank meeting room, beginning at 7:00 p.m. Virginia has asked that members bring one piece of their work which they feel is representative of their best effort.

For more information about Bandera County Artists, contact Sylvia Saffell, program chairman, at 636-6473.

San Angelo Balloonfest will be held Sept. 2-4 at Mathis Field Airport in San Angelo. For additional information, call 915-949-1936.

Mammography screening to be offered in Lakehills Sept. 17

South Texas Mammography will provide screening mammograms at the Lakehills American Legion on 30th Street on Saturday, Sept. 17 beginning at 10 a.m.

All mammograms are taken in a private mobile coach by licensed, registered female technologists and interpreted by South Texas Radiology Group board certified radiologists. The coach will be in the front parking lot of the American Legion.

The exam takes approximately 15 to 20 minutes and is by appointment. The number to call for an appointment is 1-800-98-MAMMO.

Exams are offered to women who have no breast problems or implants and are age 35 or older. No written doctor's order is necessary, however, each patient must supply the name and address of her doctor for receipt of the report. A copy of the report will also be sent to the patient. Each patient must also show proof of insurance in order to have the proper paper work filed.

The American Cancer Society has given the following guidelines for mammography: a baseline mammogram by age 40; a mammogram every year or two from age 40 to 49; and a yearly mammogram for those over 50. High risk patients should consult their physicians.

Bandera Nursing Home

Martin Smith from the Church of Christ used for his text Sunday Psalms 49, "Building on Christ." Tim Sanchez led the opening prayer. Guests included Judge Bishop, Mary Ann Smith, Yvonne Fenner, Mada Wedgworth and Macey Johnson.

Fannie Caffell, Dorothy Callahan, Mary Fitzpatrick, Aggie Beto and Annette Kalka-Schulte from St. Stanislaus Catholic Church visited, prayed and sang with residents Arona Hager, Ada Sehon, Joslyn Edwards, Ruby Hillman, Mae Eidenhink, Jeannette Adamietz and Brenda Adam Monday evening. The group sang "Happy Birthday" to Jeannette Adamietz.

The family of Chris Winfield shared memorial flowers with the residents last week.

Lum and Lillian Holloway of San Antonio came Tuesday and took his brother Jack Holloway to the birthday party at the Silver Sage Corral.

Martin Smith from the Church of Christ led Bible reading for the residents Wednesday morning.

Residents were entertained Thursday morning with songs by Harvey Rogers.

Yvonne Nichols and Ann Stackhouse from St. Stanislaus Catholic Church served punch to the residents and presented the ladies with a carnation courtesy of Eckhart's Flower Shop.

Six residents celebrated August birthdays at the monthly birthday party last Friday.

Rev. Michael McManus had communion for the Catholic residents Friday morning. Margie and "Bub" Keese took Jack Holloway to services at the Church of Christ Sunday.

Lucille Adams is a new resident of Bandera Nursing Home. Grace Lutheran Church shared altar flowers given in honor of Amanda Sorrell's birthday.

September is 'realtor month'

Bandera County Board of Realtors will participate in the first annual Realtor Designation Awareness Month, September, to recognize it's members who hold any one of the 13 Realtor professional designations.

According to a 1993 survey, more than 10 percent of all Realtors hold a professional designation offered by the National Association of Realtors or one of its affiliates. By working toward a designation a Realtor is gaining knowledge about a specific area of real estate. Designations are available for professionals who want to excel in commercial sales, residential sales, management and brokerage, appraisals, land consulting, property management, counseling and legal issues, leadership, and industrial areas.

We are proud to honor the realtors of the Bandera Board who hold specialty designations and have made a strong contribution to their careers," says Wilbur Bradford. "By recognizing them for their extra efforts, we are encouraging other realtors to do the same."

September has been designated as Realtor Designation Awareness Month by the National Association of Realtors.

A Thought For The Week
by John M. Grimes

Here is a thought to think upon. How can we compare living to driving a car? When we are behind a wheel of a car, we must keep our eyes on the road ahead and now and then glance at our rearview mirror to see what is coming from behind. We must be both forward-looking and backward-looking. Life, too, is both forward-looking and backward-looking. Life is a winding road through the years that are allotted to us. It passes through pleasant valleys and over steep hills. And, yes, it threads its way through wastelands, too. No one can see far enough ahead along the road to know which he will be required to travel on any given day. But each has the strength within himself for the hills and the courage for the wastelands. Only those who childishly insist that all the roads are through pleasant valleys fall. And they fall because they never learn to use the inner strength God gave them for the hills, not to call upon the inner strength He gave them for the wastelands...

Let Your Conscience Be Your Guide?

The above statement is one that is constantly urged upon people of our day. How sound is this advice? Can this be true?

What is the Conscience? Our conscience is one of our greatest endowments by God. Truly, it is the eye to our soul, a sanctuary into which man may go alone to settle accounts with God and prepare to meet Him.

The word "conscience" comes from a word which literally means "a knowing with" or a "knowingness" with one's self, a process of thought that distinguishes between good and bad; commending the one and condemning the other.

Conscience is not a Creature of Education: Often it is said that our conscience is created by educational processes. This cannot be true. The conscience must be educated, but

Medina athletic director Rick Ingram and daughter Rachel cut the ribbon on the new Marsha Ingram Educational Annex building on Monday, April 29. The building was named for home economics teacher Marsha Ingram, also Rick's wife and Rachel's mother, who died from Hodgkin's disease on Oct. 13, 1993 after teaching at Medina for two years. During the dedication, Ingram was remembered for: always smiling, never complaining, having a good relationship with students and being a mentor to them. Her courage during crisis, friends said, was an inspiration. Even when struck by illness, she continued as a concerned, dedicated teacher and a dedicated, loving mother and wife. She was remembered for having "lived her life as a light to others," and for always having time for any student any time. She was described as a gracious lady, always with a kind word for everyone. Principal Dale Naumann said the new building was necessary because of growth in the school. "This is my twelfth year here," he said. "When I came, we had 235 students, 19 teachers and 4 aids. Now we have over 330 students, 31 teachers and 10 aids. We don't have to take a back seat to anyone with our facilities."

GED and ESL classes will resume at Bandera library

"Libraries are fundamental to the American educational experience. Libraries can be dynamic learning centers for everyone and contribute to the nation's communities achieve the national education goals."

Did you know that...
• 18% of adult Texans have not completed the 8th grade.
• 36% of adult Texans have not completed high school.
• 60% of adult Texans with incomes below the poverty level have not finished high school.
• Each dropout "costs" the state in excess of $17 billion in direct costs and economic losses.
• Nearly 90% of the Texas prison population dropped out of school.

Bandera American Legion requests flea market donations

The Bandera American Legion Post 157 will hold a flea market on Saturday, Sept. 17. Donations are needed. The flea market will offer food, drinks and crafts. Items needed include pots and pans, furniture, clothing and more. "Don't throw anything away," Legion members advise. "Give us a call." Donations may be dropped off at the post in Bandera every Saturday morning between 9 and 10 a.m. They may also be left at the Barrel House in Pipe Creek. Those wishing to donate may also call (210) 510-4541 and have those items picked up for the flea market. To reach them for crafts, call Carolyn Pursch at 796-3904.

• The fastest growing segments of the population are those who have traditionally been the most educationally disadvantaged. The Intertribal Developmental Research Association puts the dropout rate in Texas at 45% for Hispanics, 34% for Blacks, and 27% for whites.
• Twenty percent of Texas workers cannot read, write or do simple math.
• Of those receiving aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) payments, 51% of the adults have not completed high school.
• The U.S. Department of Labor projects only 14% of future jobs will require less than a high school education.
• School is in session once again and likewise, classes for both GED and ESL will resume at the Bandera County Library beginning Monday, Sept. 12. Both classes will meet on Monday and Tuesday evenings from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. There is no fee for registration and all study materials are furnished by the library. Mr. Emmett Dalton, a retired high school teacher, will once again be the instructor for the GED classes. Alicia Fleming, a recently retired elementary school teacher will conduct the ESL classes. For further information contact the library at 796-4213.

"Driving to Utopia"

When Paulina Howell moved to the Utopia area in 1977 she couldn't drive a car. She didn't have a license. Her husband Howard, or Buddy to his friends, had always been the driver in the family. But Buddy's death just 16 months after their move changed that. She would learn to drive and she would learn to cope with his death.

Aging women coping with a husband's death and working through it is the subject of a recently released new video, by filmmakers Cindy Pickard and Andy Pickard of Vanderpool, formerly of Austin.

In making this film, Cindy chose her neighbor, Howell, and two other women from Hunt and Austin, to reflect on the period of healing following the death of their husbands. Pickard chose another local resource for part of the background music. Bandera's Robert Earl Keen's sobering lyrics, "Have You Got the Minute," bring the film to its end.

"Driving to Utopia," as the video is called, is the third commercially successful production of Rites of Passage, a non-profit agency directed by Cindy Pickard and her partner, Dr. Elizabeth Kubler-Ross, a psychologist and friend of Pickard's, who was interviewed for the film, "We're Almost Home Now," a film about children and dying.

Her first film to gain wide exposure was titled, "Jason, the Way We Live Today." It is the story of a 17-year-old AIDS victim and the people around him. "When Jason" (the video) first came out, Pickard says, "nobody wanted it, because they would say, this doesn't happen to our kind of people." (Jason's parents were middle class and heterosexual.) "But three years later it's happening to our kind of people and everybody wants it." Everybody means universalities, social agencies, religious and medical groups and there is talk about cabling picking it up.

Rites of Passage started out as a hospice which cared for people in the last stages of life, but gradually evolved into a video production company. Pickard's background in occupational therapy, and her son's technical knowledge as a film student at UT, shaped the direction Rites of Passage would take. Pickard calls her films educational but adds that she doesn't use the sterile "how to" format of the industry. Instead, she uses feelings over facts to convey the message.

Pickard describes the message of her films with a quote from Dr. Elizabeth Kubler-Ross, a psychologist and friend of Pickard's, who was interviewed for the film, "We're Almost Home Now," a film about children and dying. "When life puts you through the tumbler you either come out crushed or polished." The three women in "Driving to Utopia" says Pickard, "came out polished."

As the camera pans the living room in the three women's houses, it follows the patterns in the needlework, the curtains, the fabric on the sofas.

When the camera returns again and again to the wrinkled aged hands of the women, we know that the hands tell the story themselves, and the dialogue is not even necessary.

Cindy Pickard is a recipient of the esteemed Giraffe Award, sponsored by The Giraffe Project, a non-profit organization, which seeks out "people who stick their necks out for the common good... who risk their comfort and serenity to do the unconventional, and to do it with creativity and spirit."

Susan Connors completes officer indoctrination school in Navy

Navy Lt. j.g. Susan D. Connors, daughter of Richard and Ruth Connors of Pipe Creek, recently completed Officer Indoctrination School. During the course of Officer Indoctrination School, Naval Education and Training Center, Newport, R.I., students are prepared for duty in the naval staff field corresponding to their civilian profession.

Connors joined the Navy in 1984. She is a graduate of the University of Texas at San Antonio and of Mount St. Mary's College in Maryland.

Connors studies included naval history and traditions; personnel administration; military law; close-order drill and other military subjects. The study also included the application of civilian professions within the Navy.

Tarpley

This Sunday, Sept. 4, is the big day for Tarpley when the Volunteer Fire Department has its annual benefit barbecue! Also remember the big parade starting at 11:30 a.m. on the main street of downtown Tarpley. They also have a big auction in the afternoon, so "see you there!" Tarpley Baptist Church services will begin at 10:30 a.m. Sunday morning, due to burning out early for the parade. Sunday School will be at the usual time at 10 a.m. Visitors for church last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brasington of San Antonio and Philip and Christine Spensor of Bandera. Sure was good to have Harold and Viola Jackson home again, after their 10 day trip to Amarillo to visit Harold's sisters, Bernice Wickware and Elene Kelly. They also visited Harold's brother, James and his wife, Dolores. Then they were on their way to Laramie, Wyoming to visit Harold's sister, Mabel Dycus and her husband, Bill. Then on to Colorado Springs to visit Harold's brother and wife, Denzel and Janeice Jackson. On their return home they stopped again for a short visit with relatives in Amarillo. Well, I forgot to mention my closest neighbor Anton Haner also had an August birthday. Sorry about that, Anton.

From tragedy to triumph-- two recovering alcoholics speak

With a holiday weekend approaching, two recovering alcoholics (names changed for story) were willing to share their personal stories of tragedy and triumph.

Holidays are critical times for alcoholics. They are confronted with the temptation of joining their friends in celebrating with "just a little bit of holiday cheer." This temptation comes at the same time that many of them are feeling a keen sense of loneliness and failure. Family ties have often been severed due to their alcohol consumption. Now, at a time when family togetherness is stressed, they are alone. Alcoholics Anonymous may help them cope.

The two men, Kenny and Randy, began by explaining the purpose and concept of Alcoholics Anonymous (A.A.). "Everyone who attends is anonymous," they said. "There are no politics involved. We can't afford politics here, we're dealing with people's lives. No one is a big shot. A.A. doesn't need me. I need them."

"We keep everything low key. We have a saying: 'what you see here, what you hear here, what you do here, leave it here'." "Our group has been a success for the past 60 years because we put principals before personalities and we keep the A.A.'s 12 steps because they work. They are based on the scriptures. The 12 steps can be found in the Bible. A person doesn't usually come to A.A. seeking God. But there is no way the person can go through A.A. and succeed without finding God."

"The only requirement for joining A.A. is wanting to stay sober." "The two A.A. members both agree that one reason A.A. is so successful is that "drunks work with drunks. If you've never seen a drunk and you try to deal with one, you'll get knocked off your feet."

Alcoholics Anonymous began in Bandera 10 years ago. Randy and Kenny say it has taken 10 years for the organization to catch on and grow. They see a great need in Lakshills for A.A. The Lakshills United Methodist Church has donated a building on 29th street for use by A.A. during their Wednesday meetings. These A.A. meetings begin at 6 p.m. each Wednesday.

"One thing that's wrong," according to Randy and Kenny, "is the example adults set for kids in making them think drinking is acceptable and in not doing anything when kids are breaking the law, drinking before the legal age."

They named Ranger Crossing as a haven for teen drinking. "When we call the law about it, they say 'well, they're going to drink anyway and this way we know where they are.' That's the bull's eye against the law! Do something!"

The two men vary in size, appearance, job skills, education and in other ways, yet they share a common goal: to get through one more day sober. Kenny came from an abusive home background. Both parents drank. His father was an alcoholic. Kenny never received birthday cards or presents as a child. His only thought on his birthday was, "I survived another year."

Even now, it is hard for him to relate to his wife and five children as a father and as a family man. "Give them cards!" he asks. "Give them presents! My whole life has never been about giving. It's been about grabbing what I could. When I moved to this nice house near Bandera, I found out real quick that no one would let me to lie and cheat and steal. I didn't get over good, but it was all I knew. That's how I was raised. I didn't know any better. I still learning."

"My dad would come home drunk and he would start beating all of us. Mom and all us kids. If he didn't like what was for supper, he'd throw the whole mess out the window and follow it with everything in the cabinet, food, plates, anything. He'd break things all over the place. He'd go out and buy things again. "I started drinking when I was a kid. When the pain set in, the drinking would dull it. I'd get up and go to school, telling people who I am and what I'm in A.A. because I'm not a nobody, a nothing. Without God's help, without A.A., I can do nothing. Nothing good."

"When I was a drunk, I had no choices. I was always getting into wrecks. Always getting locked up in jail. I didn't know those things they just happened to me. Now that I've been sober eight years, I have choices. I have two kids to take care of. I'm learning about real families and how to be a family. When I was a drunk, my only concern was to get a drink, my next drink, my next drink."

He says he has been a "junkie" to the extreme that he couldn't hold a loaded gun to his father's head while his father was sleeping. "From brother Randy's words," he said, "I would have killed him. He took me all those years to get over the anger and hate I had for him because of all the beatings. But I didn't do it. I told it for me."

But they save time for their families. "I had my family one, totally, when I was drinking," Randy remembers. "I had a family but I had no family. I'm not ever losing them again."

And with help, he will be able to keep that promise. He and other members of A.A. have an open-door, open-heart policy for Lakshills. They want to learn to live in society without being a drunk? Come to A.A. and find out how. The only requirement is to want to stop drinking."

SUMMARY OF CASE FOR CITATION
BY PUBLICATION
The R.B.E. Property Owners Association, Inc. and the individual owners of property within the River Bend Estate Subdivision of Bandera County, as a Class, have brought within the jurisdiction of all of the properties within the subdivision. It has come to the attention of the Board of Directors of the R.B.E. Property Owners Association, Inc. that certain persons within the subdivision have been issued notices to appear at the public hearing on the matter, which has caused confusion with regard to the status of the land titles within the subdivision. The Board of Directors has determined that it would be in the best interest of the owners of property within the subdivision to rectify and to bring the chain of title, thereby increasing the property values and adding of loss within the subdivision. The Defendants are any persons or entities who have or who claim to have an interest in the properties within the subdivision. This declaration judgment appointing the R.B.E. Property Owners Association, Inc. as the corporate entity responsible for enforcing covenants, conditions and restrictions applicable to the properties, as well as for the receipt and disbursement of maintenance assessments. Anyone interested in asserting a claim to any

Bulldogs Open Season at home Friday night

The Bandera Bulldogs open their '94 football season Friday night when the Dripping Springs Tigers come to town.

With a host of returning starters off of last year's team the Dogs are the odds on favorite to win the district crown this season. Among those returning are five seniors who were All-District performers last season. All-District returnees are Bart Byerley, Jason Hearn, Jimmy Stroud, Kyle Woodland and Bill Wynant.

After their first of season of training under second year coach Mike Williamson the Bulldogs look to be strong and fast. The biggest question mark going into the season is at running back, where the Dogs graduated all of their experience.

The passing game of the Bulldogs will cause headaches. "Dogs scrimmage: coach optimistic"

Bandera's coaches were encouraged with what they saw in Friday's scrimmage in LaVernia. "We looked much better and we were facing a very good ball club," Coach Mike Williamson said. "We showed a lot of improvement on both sides of the ball."

"Our first offense scored a couple of times on their first defense. And LaVernia has the best defense I've seen in a long time," grinned Coach Williamson.

For a lot of opponents this season, Bandera will have an abundance of speed in this year's receivers. Add to that the height and jumping ability of Jason Hearn and the Dogs have the ingredients for some very exciting football.

As for Friday's contest against Dripping Springs Williamson sees a solid opponent. "They are strong at quarterback and in their receivers. They are much improved along their offensive line. On defense we will be looking at an outstanding linebacker corp," Williamson observed.

The game will be at Bulldog Stadium with kickoff at 8 p.m. It is the first of six home games on Bandera's schedule this season. On Thursday night the Bulldog JV will play in Dripping Springs. The game will be at the middle school field with a 7:30 start.

Home school meeting announced

The Community Assembly of God Church in Bandera will host a meeting for area home schoolers on Thursday, Sept. 8 at 2 p.m. Amy McClane says the meeting will provide a chance for home school families to get acquainted.

Rodriguez enrolls at NM Military Institute

Stephen W. Rodriguez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Rodriguez of Bandera, has enrolled as a high school sophomore at New Mexico Military Institute. Rodriguez is among 470 new cadets beginning classes after a week of intensive orientation and instruction in military courtesy, discipline and drill. The two-year junior college has an enrollment of approximately 880. The corps of cadets each year represent from 40 to 45 states and as many as 19 foreign countries.

Private applicator license training set for Sept. 13

Any person interested in obtaining their Private Applicator's License should plan to attend the training set for Tuesday, Sept. 13, 1994, beginning at 1:00 p.m. at the Bandera Bank Community Room, says County Extension Agent, Warren Thigpen.

The training should last from 1:00 - 4:30 p.m., at which time representatives of the Texas Department of Agriculture will be on hand to administer the required test. Persons scoring 70% or higher on the test will be eligible to apply for a license.

A private applicator's license allows a person to purchase "restricted-use" or "state limited-use" pesticides.

Study manuals for the training are available at the Bandera County Extension Office for $10.00 each. Manuals will also be available at the training.

For more information about the training, contact the Bandera County Extension Office at 796-7765.

Native Plant Society to hold book signing Sept. 8

The Bandera Chapter of the Native Plant Society is proud to announce that noted authors, Sally and Andy Wasowski, will be the speakers for the next meeting which will be held at the Bandera Co-op Community Room, Thursday, Sept. 8. The Wasowskis have just completed a new book, "Landscaping in the Eastern United States, but of real interest to folks in Bandera is their first book, "Native Texas Plants - Landscaping Region by Region." This book is an absolute must for anyone who keeps putting in the wrong plants at the wrong time and then wonders, "what went wrong?" It even has propagation techniques, which neophyte gardeners find invaluable.

"Requiem for a Lawnmower" is the title of their second book and is a favorite of those of us who do not like to mow.

Book signing will begin at 6:00 p.m. with the meeting scheduled to start at 7 p.m. Light refreshments will be served, and the public is invited to attend.

No books will be sold that night, but if you are unable to make a trip to the Bookstop in San Antonio before Sept. 8, Barbara Myhre will be going in and will be glad to purchase one for you. Just call 460-4460, and talk to her about it.

Notice of Public Hearing on Tax Increase

The Bandera County Commissioners will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1994.

The public hearing will be held on September 7th at 6:30 PM at the County Courthouse - Commissioners room AGAINST the proposal: PRESENT and not voting: ABSENT: Bennie Barker

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit published on August 17th, 1994. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$ 60,000	$ 60,000
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	$ 5,000	$ 5,000
Average taxable value	$ 55,000	$ 55,000
Tax rate	.4120	.4074
Tax	$ 224.60	$ 224.07

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would decrease by $ 2.53 or .0111 percent compared with last year's taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would decrease by $.0055 per $100 of taxable value or .0133 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Criminal Justice Mandate (for counties):
The N/A County Auditor certifies that _____ County has spent _____ in the previous 12 months beginning _____, 19____ for the maintenance and operations cost of keeping inmates sentenced to the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. _____ County Sheriff has provided information on these costs, minus the state revenues received for reimbursement of such costs.

TAAS, TEAMS scheduled in October at BHS

Individuals no longer enrolled in school who need to pass portions of either the TAAS or TEAMS tests in order to meet graduation requirements must register to take the tests this October. During each regular exit level test administration, individuals who are no longer enrolled in school and who have not previously passed all sections of the TAAS test, but have met all other graduation requirements, may retake the necessary section(s). The writing portion of the TAAS tests will be administered Tuesday, Oct. 18; the reading portion will be Wednesday, Oct. 19; and the math portion Thursday, Oct. 20. All tests will be given at the Bandera High School starting at 8:15 a.m. Registration packets for the TAAS may be picked up in the Bandera High School counselor's office, Monday-Friday, from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Test registration forms must be completed, mailed, and received in Iowa City, Iowa, no later than 5 p.m., Sept. 27.

Clinics for junior, senior golfers set

Golf clinics are planned each week-end at the Flying L Ranch. Each Saturday, junior golfers can attend an instructive session starting at 3:30, for a fee of $5. Sundays, golfers 18 and over can attend clinics for $8. For information, call 460-3001.

BHS had a mixed bag at Tivy tourney

Bandera's Lady Bulldog volleyball varsity team achieved mixed results in last weekend's Tivy High School Tournament in Kerrville. Friday, Bandera beat Floreville 16-14, 16-9, then then turned around and lost to Tivy 0-15, 16-14, 1-15. Bandera then went on to beat Comfort 8-15, 15-13, 15-11. Saturday, Pearsall beat Bandera 12-15, 15-9, 8-15. This weekend, Bandera varsity girls travel to Hondo for more tournament action. They play Friday at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m., and 12:30 p.m.

BHS varsity returners include seniors Jackie Edwards, Wilynn Zickler and Kelly Vos; and juniors Adriana Blow, Abby Nightingale and Kelly Rigby; and new to the varsity Lady Bulldogs are senior Susie Dice; juniors Josie Heil and J.J. Shedd; and sophomores Heidi Hicks and Sara Erfurt.

Tuesday night, Aug. 23, Bandera's JV girls beat Lytle 15-10, 15-4. Dana Montague served 10 points and aces 2; Kristy Anderson served 6, aces 2 and killed 1; Linda Carter served 6 and aces 2; Tomika Stricker served 4 and aces 2; Kelly Capps served 2 and aces 2; Keri King served 1 and aces 1; and Jennifer Blahop served 1 point. Bandera's freshmen beat Lytle 15-4, 15-9. Michelle Dexter served 5 points, aces 2 and had 2 assists; Nickie Sloan served 6 with 1 assist; April Koehler served 4 with 1 kill; Megan Jones served 5 and aces 2; Ashley Godfrey served 5, aces 3 and had 1 kill; Melissa Wilson served 3 and aces 2; Carlee Robbins served 1, aces 1 and had 1 kill; and Tracy Edwards served 1 point.

HEALTH CARE REFORM...

What It Means to the Hill Country

Most of us don't think about the health care system until we need it, but it's time to think about it now. Eventually, this system will touch your life, or the life of someone you love. When that happens, it's vitally important to have caring, capable health professionals nearby.

In the next few months, Congress will vote on reforms that will dramatically change the way health care is provided and paid for. These changes all of us will live with and pay for, so it's important that we participate in making these decisions.

We care about our community, and feel it's part of our responsibility to help those we serve be well informed about the complex issues surrounding health care reform.

Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital in Kerrville and Hill Country Memorial Hospital in Fredericksburg have joined with the Texas Hospital Association to produce "HEALTH CARE REFORM: A SPECIAL REPORT," which appears in this edition of your newspaper.

Read it. Save it. Talk about it with your friends and our elected officials.

You may believe that your opinion won't make much difference, but that's not true. As people who work in life and death situations daily, we know first-hand the difference one person makes.

We must all decide what type of health care system we want in our communities, state and country. Communicate your wishes to our elected officials. The reforms passed by Congress and the Texas Legislature will determine what kind of health care is available when you or a loved one needs it.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

A SPECIAL REPORT

Brought to you by the Texas Hospital Association and your local hospitals

The United States has the finest health care system in the world. It's also the most expensive and one of the most troubled. Hospitals and others are working to make the system less expensive while maintaining its high quality. Our elected officials also are considering major changes in health policy. Now, it's your turn to take a stand.

Most of us don't think much about the health care system until we are face-to-face with a medical emergency. But each of us must think about it now as part of the national dialogue on health care reform. The United States Congress will vote on reforms in the next few months that will dramatically change how health care is provided and paid for. All of us will live with those decisions and pay for them. All of us should participate in making these decisions.

This special report spells out the issues involved in health care reform and explains how to evaluate current proposals to make sure that they cover everyone, are fairly financed, and provide flexibility so that decisions can be made at the local level rather than dictated from Washington.

Please read this report carefully. Then get involved and make your opinions heard.

Why is there a health care crisis?

Public opinion polls indicate that Americans support health care reform. Yet the majority already have health insurance and can get medical care when they need it. So, what is causing the health care crisis?

When people talk about the health care crisis, they are referring to the facts that:

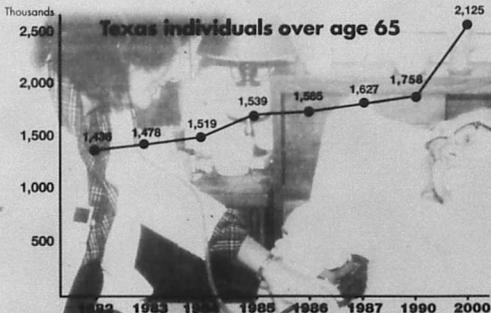

- health care costs are rising far faster than the general rate of inflation;
- health insurance is too expensive for many small businesses, and even large companies are scaling back health benefits;
- medical miracles are performed every day while millions of children and others without health insurance do without basic care; and
- working Americans fear financial ruin if they lose their health insurance.

The costs and inequity in our system have created a crisis. Several factors are responsible for the problem.

THE DEMOGRAPHICS OF HEALTH CARE

As people get older, they tend to have more chronic illnesses and complex health problems. Senior citizens are hospitalized twice as often as younger adults, and their stays are longer and more expensive. Texas' population is growing and aging at a record pace. By the turn of the century, 2 million Texans will be over age 65.

At the other end of the spectrum are infants whose mothers receive little or no prenatal care. Thanks to the miracles of modern technology, many of these low birth-weight babies survive — but at a tremendous cost. Many of them require sophisticated medical care throughout their lives.

Source: Statistical Abstract of the U.S.

THE HIDDEN HEALTH CARE TAX

Government programs cover about 50 percent of the patients hospitalized in Texas. Yet these programs do not pay for the full cost of these patients' care, leaving hospitals to make up the shortfall. Hospitals also provide more than $2.5 billion per year in care for patients who have no insurance, or whose insurance pays only part of the bill. Texas' growing population of undocumented workers promises to make this problem even greater.

As a taxpayer, you already pay for the cost of Medicare and Medicaid. As an insurance policyholder, you pay again —

As a taxpayer, you already pay for the cost of Medicare and Medicaid. As an insurance policyholder, you pay again — in the form of higher premiums and increased medical costs that add up to a hidden tax.

RED TAPE AND PAPERWORK

Health care providers are subject to hundreds of federal, state, and local laws that don't apply to other businesses. The insurance industry adds another layer of bureaucracy and complicated paperwork that can account for up to 40 percent of the premium cost. Altogether, these extensive regulations and paperwork add almost $136 billion a year to the nation's health care bill without improving the care of a single patient.

$136 billion or 40% of health care costs is wasted on bureaucracy and paperwork.

$2.5 billion to care for these patients each year.

THE RISING COST OF INSURANCE

Since 1965, the price of insurance has risen faster than the cost of the health care services it covers. Many businesses can no longer afford to provide health benefits to their employees. Individuals who do not have health insurance available through their employers must purchase personal policies or do without coverage.

Insurance companies respond to rising costs in several ways:

- limiting benefits,
- choosing healthy clients,
- denying coverage to applicants with a history of illness, and
- carefully monitoring what health care services will be covered.

PAYING FOR UNINSURED TEXANS

More than one-fourth of all Texans have no health insurance. The majority of these people are either children or workers who can't get insurance through their jobs. About 3.5 million others don't have enough insurance. Texas hospitals spend more than primary and preventive health care services such as check-ups and immunizations, even though these services are more cost effective. For example, it costs $20 to administer a dose of measles-mumps-rubella vaccine. The total cost for one hospital day for a patient with measles can be as much as $3,000. We are paying too much by failing to emphasize basic health care services and personal responsibility for prevention.

HIGH TECHNOLOGY, HIGHER COSTS

New medical technologies can achieve miracles. Countless lives have been improved or even saved thanks to developments such as magnetic resonance imaging, or MRI. But these expensive technologies apply to relatively few cases. Many hospitals fear liability suits or dissatisfied patients if the hospitals are unable or unwilling to acquire new technology, leading to duplication of expensive equipment in many Texas cities. Because of federal antitrust laws, health care providers are not permitted to cooperate in deciding what equipment is needed in a particular area.

THE VALUE OF PRIMARY AND PREVENTIVE CARE

Uninsured and underinsured Texans are guaranteed treatment by hospital emergency departments, regardless of whether they can pay for their medical care. However, they are not guaranteed access to Doctors have learned to practice defensive medicine. They often order extra tests or more expensive treatments in order to reduce any potential liability.

MEDICAL MALPRACTICE AND LAWSUIT ABUSE

Medicine is both an art and a science. Yet some patients believe that if a medical treatment doesn't work perfectly, the doctor or hospital must be at fault. Because of a quirk in Texas law, hospitals often are sued along with the physician on the theory that they are better able to pay large monetary awards. It costs Texas hospitals more than $10 per bed per day to purchase liability insurance — if they can find an insurance company that offers it.

As a result, doctors have learned to practice defensive medicine. They often order extra tests or more expensive treatments in order to reduce any potential liability. In some fields of medicine, the situation is so acute that doctors simply quit providing services. For example, more than one-third of Texas counties no longer have obstetricians to deliver babies.

What Health Care Reform Means to the Hill Country

SID PETERSON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL... 45 years of service to the Hill Country

When we opened our doors 45 years ago, on July 3rd, 1949, a commitment was made to provide quality care for the citizens of the Hill Country. It is a commitment and mission that we honor and continue today, even though the climate of health care has changed significantly since that warm summer day in 1949.

What will the future bring for the health care of Texas and the Hill Country? It's too soon for any definitive answer, but one thing is certain: change is imminent, and it's important to take steps now to prepare.

At Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital, we have developed a number of services to address the current and future health care needs of our Hill Country residents.

PETERSON REGIONAL HEALTH CARE CENTER

WHO WE ARE

The health care complex at the corner of Sidney Baker and Weber Streets in New Braunfels, Texas, is Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital. Care Center in 1991 to better communicate the wide range of services available. The Center consists of eight health-related facilities:

QUALITY CARE STARTS WITH QUALITY PHYSICIANS

It is fortunate to have more than fifty active admitting physicians who live and practice in Kerr County. All medical doctors are board certified or board eligible.

Primary care is provided by 10 Internists, 7 Family Practice Physicians, 2 Pediatricians and 1 OB/GYN physician. Additional services include: gastroenterology, medicine, oncology, gastroenterology, neurology, rheumatology, pathology, radiology, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics, surgery, oral and general surgery, plastic surgery, and other specialties. New and those, allergy, dermatology, and more.

PETERSON REGIONAL HOSPITAL ORGANIZATION

Physicians with admitting privileges at SPMH contribute to every aspect of patient care that occurs at the hospital. The hospital is a not-for-profit organization, organized as the Peterson Regional Hospital (PRH). This organization is designed to offer a complete range of services to the community.

By promoting services to the community, we can reduce the overall costs of health care for our patients. The PRH also organizes and promotes a variety of practice programs. #### STREAMLINING THE BUSINESS SIDE OF HEALTH CARE

The amount of paperwork associated with health care is a major barrier to patient care. SPMH has implemented a number of measures to streamline the business side of health care.

Since 1991, the Social Services Department at SPMH has operated an OHIP program. This program allows patients who qualify for Medicaid and are unable to pay for their care to receive care at no cost. The program averages 25 patients per month, and since it began, over 350 patients have received care. SPMH has implemented a number of measures to streamline the business side of health care.

doctors, and other health care providers join together in community-based networks that provide efficient, continuous care. Existing anti-trust laws drive up the cost of health care by making it difficult for health care providers to work together cooperatively.

ESTABLISHING A FAIR FINANCIAL STRUCTURE

Congress must keep the promise it has made to provide care for the elderly and the poor. Currently, Texas hospitals collect only 55 cents on each dollar of their charges to care for patients covered by Medicare and Medicaid. The unpaid amount becomes part of the hidden health care tax that causes higher medical bills and increased insurance premiums.

Congress must pay the full cost of caring for Medicare and Medicaid patients. These benefits can be financed by carefully reviewing new entitlements, limiting write-offs for companies buying coverage for workers, taxing employee benefit levels above the prescribed minimum, and increasing taxes on tobacco, alcohol, and firearms.

- Providers must devote more of their time to quality health care and less to unnecessary paperwork. Paperwork can be reduced by establishing a uniform system for reporting patient treatment and outcome data and creating a simple, easy-to-understand national billing system. Every insurance company should follow the same basic set of rules in reviewing and denying claims.
- Restore fairness by not allowing insurers to deny coverage, refuse to renew coverage, or selectively include coverage.

How can the system be reformed?

We must create a system that meets the basic health care needs of every American and fairly compensates health care providers.

The system can and must be reformed to guarantee more equitable and efficient delivery of health care services. Several reform proposals are being considered by our national leaders. The details of the plans vary, but there are three crucial benchmarks for judging them. We must provide universal coverage for a basic package of benefits, streamline the way care is delivered, and establish a fair financial structure.

We must provide universal coverage for a basic package of benefits, streamline the way care is delivered, and establish a fair financial structure.

UNIVERSAL COVERAGE

All Americans must be provided with affordable health insurance covering basic health services, with an emphasis on prevention and primary care. Immunizations, well-baby checkups, and other basic health care services improve lives and save money. Access to emergency care also must be provided.

STREAMLINING HEALTH CARE DELIVERY

The health care system must provide the flexibility for local decision making rather than imposing "cookie cutter" solutions on the entire country. The system must respond to the geographic, cultural and other differences that exist among the states, and even within states. "Managed competition" should be encouraged. Under this system, local hospitals,

MAJOR PROVISIONS	ACCESS AND INSURANCE COVERAGE	WHO PAYS	COST CONTROLS	SPECIAL ASPECTS
SENATE LABOR AND HUMAN RESOURCES COMMITTEE	Employer and individual mandates to purchase insurance coverage are established. Insurers are required to sell a standard benefits package. Pre-existing conditions and waiting period exclusions are prohibited. Optional nursing home insurance can be purchased. Business with less than 10 employees are exempt. Small business employees, low-income people and the unemployed are given federal subsidies to purchase insurance. All Americans would be covered by the year 1998.	Businesses with more than 10 employees are required to pay 60 percent of an employer's insurance premium. Businesses with less than 10 employees must pay a 1 or 2 percent payroll tax, based on the number of employees. Payroll taxes and tax assessments are made on larger self-insured employers. The cigarette tax is increased to $1.74 a pack. Medicare is cut $103 billion over the next five years.	Insurance and market reforms are made, including medical malpractice reforms. National health spending targets are created. A national commission will set benefits if health care costs threaten to increase the federal deficit. Caps on premiums will be enacted if health care spending exceeds targets.	Anyone can buy insurance through the Federal Employee Health Benefits Plan. The Medicaid program is abolished and the government purchases insurance policies for Medicaid beneficiaries. The Medicare program remains separate.
SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE	Employers and individuals are not mandated to purchase insurance coverage. Insurers are required to sell a standard benefits package. Optional catastrophic coverage is available. Low-income people are given federal subsidies to purchase insurance. Pre-existing conditions exclusions are limited to 6 months. Plans must cover dependent children up to 24 years of age. If less than 95 percent of Americans are not covered by the year 2002, a national health commission will recommend measures on how to achieve universal coverage.	The cigarette tax is increased $1 a pack, as well as increased taxes on guns and ammunition. A 25 percent tax on high-cost insurance plans is paid by the insurer. A 2 percent tax is assessed on most private health insurance premiums. Medicare is cut $59 billion over the next five years.	Insurance and market reforms are made, including medical malpractice reforms. If health care costs increase the federal deficit, subsidies are cut and out-of-pocket limits are increased.	Some small firms can buy insurance through the Federal Employee Health Benefits Plan. Medicaid is abolished and replaced with private insurance.
HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE	Employer and individual mandates to purchase insurance coverage are established. Insurers are required to sell a standard benefits package. Pre-existing conditions exclusions and waiting periods are limited. A new government-run program, Medicare Part C, is created for working people, self-employed workers and the poor. Universal coverage for all Americans would be achieved by the year 1998.	Employers pay 80 percent of an employer's insurance premium. A payroll tax is assessed on insurance companies and employers that increased 5.45 cents per pack. All states where cost-containment targets have not been met, unless Congress determines cost-saving steps based on recommendations of a special commission.	Insurance and market reforms are made; no medical malpractice reforms are provided. National health spending targets are created. Full-back pay schedules for doctors and hospitals take effect in the year 2001 in states where cost-containment targets have not been met, unless Congress determines cost-saving steps based on recommendations of a special commission.	Medicaid is abolished and recipients are incorporated into Medicaid Part C.
HOUSE EDUCATION AND LABOR COMMITTEE (FIRST BILL)	Employer and individual mandates to purchase insurance coverage are established. Insurers are required to sell a standard benefits package. Low-wage firms with 75 or fewer workers receive government subsidies. Low-income workers and unemployed people would receive government subsidies. All Americans would be covered by the year 1998.	Employers pay 80 percent of an employer's insurance premium. The cigarette tax is increased to $1 a pack. Medicare is cut $103 billion over the next five years.	Insurance and market reforms are made. National health spending targets are set; caps on insurance premiums are implemented if spending exceeds targets.	Medicaid is abolished. The government will buy insurance policies for Medicaid beneficiaries.
HOUSE EDUCATION AND LABOR COMMITTEE (SECOND BILL "SINGLE-PAYER OPTION")	Insurers are required to sell a standard benefits package with no copayments or deductibles. All Americans would be covered by the year 1996.	Single-payer system is financed by taxes. Large employers pay 4.4 percent payroll tax, small employers pay 4 percent. Medicare is cut 2.2 percent of taxable income. The cigarette tax is increased to $2 a pack. A 50 percent excise tax is levied on handguns and ammunition.	The federal government specifies the total amount to be spent nationwide. States negotiate with hospitals and doctors to set schedules at levels keeping within spending limits.	Medicare and Medicaid are abolished. Patients are folded into a single-payer system.

Higher health care costs for babies, their mothers and the community at large. Babies without prenatal care may be born with a multitude of health problems and a great financial burden on the health care delivery system.

High technology is often cited as one reason why health care costs are high. But high-tech equipment can actually reduce the overall cost of care.

After careful analysis, the SPHHC Board of Directors approved the purchase of CT Scanner and MRI for the hospital. The decision was made to improve diagnostic capability with state-of-the-art equipment and also stimulate the growth agreement and a cooperative service.

Trends in health care reform point a shift from traditional reputation hospital care delivered in the hospital setting. Established in 1985 as a division of SPHHC, Peterson Home Care provides a comprehensive range of sophisticated medical services including: home care by nurses, nurse aides, allied health care by registered nurses, licensed occupational therapists and home health aides. Also available are speech, occupational and social services coordination.

Home health nurses currently make over 2,500 visits monthly, and have visits over the next year, increase on three visits growing service. Peterson Home Care, 1420 West Street.

What can you do?

Health care reform doesn't start in Austin or Washington. It starts in your home, with the decisions you and your family make every day.

This checklist offers 10 steps you can start taking today to improve your health, lower your health care expenses, and turn the tide of rising national costs. Most of them don't cost anything except some self-discipline, but their return can be tremendous.

1. KNOW YOUR RISK FACTORS

Everyone benefits from good health habits, but some benefit even more. Diet and exercise are especially important to people with a family history of heart disease, cancer, diabetes, and other conditions.

Know your own family history — especially if you have relatives who died at young ages. Your doctor can explain your personal risk factors for many health conditions and tell you the best ways to protect your health.

2. EAT A NUTRITIONALLY BALANCED DIET

Fad diets don't work, whether you're trying to lose weight or establish healthier habits. But good sense does work. These healthy eating tips will help you control your weight, reduce your risk of many serious health conditions, and feel more energetic.

Eat five servings of fruits and vegetables and five servings of grains each day. Following this rule virtually guarantees to cut your calorie intake because you'll be full and satisfied while giving your body the vitamins, minerals, and fiber it needs.

Broil or bake meat rather than frying. Cut all visible fat off of meat before serving it. Remove the skin from chicken before cooking. Use non-stick cookware and cooking spray rather than oil to saute foods.

Use herbs and spices rather than butter to season foods.

Use skim instead of whole milk, and half-and-half instead of cream.

When you eat out, ask for dressings, sauces, and gravies to be served "on the side" and then use them sparingly.

For Texans raised on barbecue, chicken fried steak, and enchiladas, eating a low-fat diet may sound like torture. But don't despair.

Restaurants are doing their part to offer healthier entrees.

For home dining, a variety of cookbooks have recipes that reduce the fat, but not the taste, of your favorite foods. Check a local bookstore or library, or contact your local American Heart Association or American Cancer Society chapter for recommendations on good cookbooks.

3. HAVE REGULAR CHECKUPS

Preventive health care is a worthwhile investment for adults and children.

Prenatal care, well-baby checkups, and timely immunizations are keys to good health. Preventing and treating health problems during pregnancy can help reduce birth defects, low birth weights, and other complications for the mother and baby.

Children should continue having routine checkups as recommended by a physician. In addition to keeping their immunizations up-to-date, these exams are a chance for a health care professional to evaluate the child's growth, development, and overall health, and to teach young patients valuable health habits.

Most adults need to see a doctor every few years even if nothing seems wrong. Early diagnosis and treatment for most conditions is much less expensive than if they are left untreated.

4. MAKE SAFETY A PRIORITY AT HOME AND WORK

Work-related accidents and illnesses, household injuries, accidental poisonings, and other mishaps affect many lives and cost millions of dollars each year. Take a careful look at your home and work-site, eliminate as many hazards as possible, and be aware of dangers you can't eliminate. Taking precautions in all aspects of your life makes you safer and more productive.

5. MAKE EXERCISE PART OF YOUR LIFE

Regardless of your age or physical condition, exercise can help you feel better and be healthier. Choose an aerobic exercise that is appropriate and realistic for you and stick with it — at least 30 minutes, three times a week.

Exercise doesn't have to be expensive. A brisk walk, swim, or bicycle ride has the same aerobic benefits as using expensive exercise equipment. However, indoor equipment can be used at any time of the day, regardless of the weather. It may be worth it if you schedule makes it tough for you to exercise outdoors during daylight hours.

Start slow and build up gradually. Doing too much, too fast can lead to fatigue, muscle sprains, and serious injuries that force you to drop your exercise program before you begin reaping its benefits.

Choose a buddy to exercise with you. In addition to enjoying the companionship, you'll have someone to help motivate you on those days you'd like to skip exercising.

Consult your physician before beginning an exercise program if you have a chronic health condition or if you haven't exercised for a while. Your doctor can develop an exercise program to help you get maximum benefit.

Athletic activities such as golf, swimming, and cycling can be enjoyed for a lifetime. Help your children develop good exercise habits by choosing family activities everyone can enjoy.

6. AVOID ALCOHOL AND TOBACCO

Alcohol and tobacco contribute to many chronic health problems and greatly increase your risk of certain cancers and other life-threatening conditions. Alcohol-related traffic fatalities and injuries and alcohol-related violent crimes are growing social problems. Cigarettes smoke injures children and adults who are exposed to it, as well as causes cancer and respiratory diseases in smokers.

If you drink, do so in moderation, and be aware of the warning signs of alcoholism.

If you smoke, stop now. Your lungs and heart will begin healing themselves immediately. Your local hospital or physician can recommend reputable, affordable smoking cessation programs.

7. WEAR YOUR SEAT BELT

People who don't wear seat belts are 11 times more likely to be killed in automobile accidents. More than two-thirds of those killed in passenger cars and trucks in Texas were not wearing their seat belts.

If these statistics don't convince you to buckle up, remember that drivers who wear their seat belts are in a better position to control their vehicles and avoid collisions. Also require your passengers to buckle up, both for their own safety and to make sure they don't interfere with your ability to control the car in an emergency.

Keep in mind that Texas law requires the driver and front seat passenger to wear seat belts. State law also requires that children age 2 and under be in a secured, federally approved child passenger safety seat. Children ages 2-4 must be secured in a child passenger seat or a seat belt.

8. DISCUSS WITH YOUR FAMILY YOUR WISHES SHOULD YOU BECOME CRITICALLY INJURED OR ILL

Patients have the legal right to make their own health care decisions, including the right to accept or refuse life-sustaining medical treatment. Your wishes should be expressed in an "advance directive," which can take the form of a living will or a durable power of attorney for health care.

A living will allows you to specify choices for medical treatment, while a durable power of attorney for health care allows you to designate a person to make medical decisions on your behalf if you are unable to make them. Your local hospital can provide you with information on advance directives.

Discuss these matters with your family now, before there is a crisis, so that your wishes will be known and followed. Make sure that every adult member of your family prepares an advance directive.

You also can designate your wish to be an organ donor by completing a uniform donor card on your driver's license at the time of renewal.

9. THINK BEFORE YOU SUE

Consider the situation and options carefully before you take legal action. Each of us makes the individual choice to sue. If negligence is involved, consider the full range of options, including mediation and arbitration. Also remember that medicine is not an exact science, and that sometimes no one is to blame for an adverse outcome.

10. BE AN ACTIVE CITIZEN

Don't let others make the important decisions that affect you and your family. Study the issues, make a choice, and exercise your right to vote. If you are not registered to vote, contact your county clerk today for a voter's registration card. Let your elected officials know how you feel about health care reform. On the next page you will find a list of local representatives and how to contact them.

What can you do?

Health care reform doesn't start in Austin or Washington. It starts in your home, with the decisions you and your family make every day.

This checklist offers 10 steps you can start taking today to improve your health, lower your health care expenses, and turn the tide of rising national costs. Most of them don't cost anything except some self-discipline, but their return can be tremendous.

1. KNOW YOUR RISK FACTORS

Everyone benefits from good health habits, but some benefit even more. Diet and exercise are especially important to people with a family history of heart disease, cancer, diabetes, and other conditions.

Know your own family history — especially if you have relatives who died at young ages. Your doctor can explain your personal risk factors for many health conditions and tell you the best ways to protect your health.

2. EAT A NUTRITIONALLY BALANCED DIET

Fad diets don't work, whether you're trying to lose weight or establish healthier habits. But good sense does work. These healthy eating tips will help you control your weight, reduce your risk of many serious health conditions, and feel more energetic.

Eat five servings of fruits and vegetables and five servings of grains each day. Following this rule virtually guarantees to cut your calorie intake because you'll be full and satisfied while giving your body the vitamins, minerals, and fiber it needs.

Broil or bake meat rather than frying. Cut all visible fat off of meat before serving it. Remove the skin from chicken before cooking. Use non-stick cookware and cooking spray rather than oil to saute foods. Use herbs and spices rather than butter to season foods.

Use skim instead of whole milk, and half-and-half instead of cream.

When you eat out, ask for dressings, sauces, and gravies to be served "on the side" and then use them sparingly.

For Texans raised on barbecue, chicken fried steak, and enchiladas, eating a low-fat diet may sound like torture. But don't despair.

Restaurants are doing their part to offer healthier entrees.

For home dining, a variety of cookbooks have recipes that reduce the fat, but not the taste, of your favorite foods. Check a local bookstore or library, or contact your local American Heart Association or American Cancer Society chapter for recommendations on good cookbooks.

3. HAVE REGULAR CHECKUPS

Preventive health care is a worthwhile investment for adults and children.

Prenatal care, well-baby checkups, and timely immunizations are keys to good health. Preventing and treating health problems during pregnancy can help reduce birth defects, low birth weights, and other complications for the mother and baby.

Children should continue having routine checkups as recommended by a physician. In addition to keeping their immunizations up-to-date, these exams are a chance for a health care professional to evaluate the child's growth, development, and overall health, and to teach young patients valuable health habits.

Most adults need to see a doctor every few years even if nothing seems wrong. Early diagnosis and treatment for most conditions is much less expensive than if they are left untreated.

4. MAKE SAFETY A PRIORITY AT HOME AND WORK

Work-related accidents and illnesses, household injuries, accidental poisonings, and other mishaps affect many lives and cost millions of dollars each year. Take a careful look at your home and workplace, eliminate as many hazards as possible, and be aware of dangers you can't eliminate. Taking precautions in all aspects of your life makes you safer and more productive.

5. MAKE EXERCISE PART OF YOUR LIFE

Regardless of your age or physical condition, exercise can help you feel better and be healthier. Choose an aerobic exercise that is appropriate and realistic for you and stick with it — at least 30 minutes, three times a week.

Exercise doesn't have to be expensive. A brisk walk, swim, or bicycle ride has the same aerobic benefits as using expensive exercise equipment. However, indoor equipment can be used at any time of the day, regardless of the weather. It may be worth it if you schedule makes it tough for you to exercise outdoors during daylight hours.

Form an opinion. Your life depends on it.

This is an exciting and momentous time for the American health care system. We stand on the brink of radical changes in the way we all receive health care services.

None of us can say for sure what those changes will be or what they will mean for society. What we do know is that all of us have a stake in making sure that the best reform plan is chosen.

Our local hospitals are dedicated to providing the highest quality health care. We are equally dedicated to educating local residents about the complex issues involved in health care reform and the options for change. We hope this special section helps you understand why there is a health care crisis and gives you the information you need to form your own opinion about the type of health care system you want.

None of the reform proposals outlined on page 5 contains all the features most people would like. Each one requires some difficult trade-offs to be made. We hope you will evaluate these proposals for yourself, discuss them with your friends and family, and let your elected officials know what you think.

Perhaps you believe that your opinion won't make much difference. That's not true. As people who work in life and death situations daily, we know first-hand the difference one person makes.

You can make a difference at home by establishing good health habits for yourself and your family. You can make a difference nationally and locally by telling your elected officials what you want from the new health care system.

The reforms passed by Congress will determine the kind of health care that is available when you or a loved one needs it. The hospitals of our area want to provide quality health care when you need it. Your life depends on it.

Our 50th Year, No. 10

All 4-H and FFA youth wanting to exhibit swine at the 1995 livestock shows are invited to a "4-H Swine Project Meeting" Monday, Sept. 12 at 7 p.m. at the Bandera High School ag shop. Selection, feeding, health care and show rules will be among the topics covered. For information, call the Bandera County Extension office at 796-7755.

911 rural addressing

It could be life or death importance, Coates says

The Bandera County 911 rural addressing project has begun. Three new employees have been hired to complete the project.

Tom W. Renton and Doyle Haner have been hired as rural addressing technicians. Carey Fox will be working as a systems operator. They have set December, 1995 as the target date for completion.

Coordinator M.J. Cave says that enacting the 911 rural addressing system is "an enormous project. It's going to take a while."

She says the public should realize that even though the project has begun, they may not receive notification of their address until after the project is complete. "It may be on or after December, 1995. I guess we need to stress that to the public. I've already had people wanting to know what their address is going to be."

Adding to the complexities of the project is the absence of one county map that actually has the names of roads on it. The 911 addressing team are piecing together an overview of the county on a map large enough that road names can be added.

The task of measuring, identifying and naming all roads in Bandera County will begin shortly. The team will begin with Highway 16 and proceed south. The measuring will be done using a retired Bandera County Sheriff's Department vehicle. The vehicle is blue and has 911 markings on each side. It also has a flashing yellow light which will be turned on while the vehicle is measuring.

There will be updates as one area is completed and the technicians move to another area.

The rural addressing office is located in the Bandera County Appraisal District building. The board of directors of the

Authors to speak to Native Plant Society

Authors Sally and Andy Wasowski will speak at the Native Plant Society of Bandera meeting on Thursday, Sept. 8 at 7 p.m. at the Bandera Electric Cooperative Auditorium. The reception will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Those attending will meet the authors and learn how to landscape with native plants. The authors will show their prize winning slides and sign books.

Sally and Andy Wasowski are authors of "Requiem for a Lawnmower and other essays on easy gardening with native plants." She is a professional landscape designer and author. Her articles on gardening and native plants have appeared in numerous magazines. She teaches landscape design at Southern Methodist University's School of Continuing Education and is a founding member and past president of the Native Plant Society of Texas. She lives in Dallas with her husband, Andy. They have a daughter, Melissa, who is studying costume design at CalArts.

Andy is a freelance writer and broadcast producer. After 30 years in advertising, he embarked upon a new career as Sally's collaborator. Previously, the couple has written the award-winning "Native Texas Plants: Landscaping Region by Region."

Sally says the typical American landscape is "boring" and "works against Mother Nature." She says it is also "just too much work, demanding constant weeding, watering, replanting, and mowing."

In BHS volleyball action Sept. 9, the varsity will face Tilden and Utopia in a tri-match at Utopia, while the JV faces Utopia at Bandera. Sept. 13, the varsity, JV and freshman teams will all travel to Pearall.

Medina's varsity volleyball team travels to the Utopia Tournament Sept. 10, and the varsity and JV teams will play LaPryor in Medina Sept. 13.

Miss Farm Bureau to be crowned Sept. 10

The Bandera County Farm Bureau invites the public to attend the 1994 Miss Bandera County Farm Bureau and Talent Find contests on Saturday, Sept. 10 starting at 4 p.m. at the Bandera Electric Co-op Auditorium. Admission is free.

Participants must be from 16 to 21 years of age by Sept. 1. They must be single and the child or sibling of a Bandera County Farm Bureau member.

County winners will receive a $100 cash prize and will compete at the district level in San Antonio on Oct. 1.

District winners, and their escorts, will receive an expense-paid trip to the state convention in Dallas on Nov. 27 through 30. Each district winner will also be awarded a $600 college scholarship and must compete in the state contest in order to receive the district level scholarship.

Miss Texas Farm Bureau will receive a $2,000 scholarship and $500 towards a wardrobe of all natural fibers. She will represent Texas Farm Bureau during the 1995 TFB Leadership Conference and 1995 Texas FFA convention.

The runner-up will receive a $1,500 scholarship. Both the runner-up and the winner will receive a set of luggage from the Texas Farm Bureau.

The state Talent Find winner will be awarded a $2,000 scholarship. The runner-up will receive a $1,500 scholarship. For more information, call the local Farm Bureau office at 796-3077.

Bulletin publisher, editor resign

Bandera Bulletin publisher Dan Sandidge announced this week he will resign from the Bandera newspaper to pursue other business interests.

Bulletin editor Janna Sandidge also announced her resignation.

Both will work through the Sept. 14 issue of the newspaper. The Sandidges have been employed at the Bandera Bulletin since 1986.

Marc Martinez, left, and "Pure Faith," will be among the musical entertainment for a Concert and Fellowship Rally Saturday, Sept. 10 at the Bandera High School auditorium. The rally lasts from 1 to 7 p.m., and will be sponsored by the Bandera County Christian Fellowship youth council. For information, call Robert Miller at 510-6368.

Bulldog quarterback Kyle Woodland (8) rushed for 96 yards Friday night against Dripping Springs. Bandera won 28-13. For more game highlights, please turn to Pages 19-20. Staff photo by Dan Sandidge

Letters

Boredom Bashing

Last night, I suffered from my usual weekly bout with the Bandera Blues. Yes, those "I must have chosen to move to Bandera because I'm too stupid to be allowed to take up space anywhere else on this planet" blues.

My seemingly distorted view of Bandera County citizens includes a sense of humor, the work ethic, good manners, talent, caring nature, intelligence, creativity, willingness to share, tolerance and the ability to admit mistakes. I think the Bandera ways of addressing challenges, resisting changes, and even standing firm on quicksand are interesting facets of our community activism. Some of our more raucous displays on our governmental playgrounds may be embarrassing but brutal "Bandera Bashing" is boring.

Last night when I read the letters to you and came upon yet another from the "Bandera Basher," I felt myself sliding into those Bandera Boredom Blues. Luckily, I was able to rescue myself with the humorous thought that only in Bandera could I be regularly spewed upon by my very own resident saint.

Animal control?

I realize that the issue of animal control has been addressed in the newspaper before, but I feel it should be repeated from time to time. During the first week of school I witnessed a vehicle hit a dog on the county road in our subdivision. Several puppies were following the trail of children going to the bus stop and when the dogs crossed the road in front of the vehicle, it was impossible for the driver to avoid them all. We both got out of our cars and went to check on the dog, but we were afraid that it might bite us if we tried to pick it up. We notified the owner who said the dog would be taken care of.

During the conversation we realized that we weren't sure of what to do if we didn't know the owner of an injured animal. When I got home, I called the county animal control to find out what should be done. They stated that if it was on a state highway they would refer it to the state animal control. If it happened on a county road, they would come out and get the animal and try to determine the owner.

During the rest of the week I observed five different dogs wandering on the road. At first I was going to write a letter to just the people in our subdivision expressing my concern for their animal's safety as well as the safety of myself and other drivers. I called animal control a second time to get accurate information to include in my letter.

The animal control officer was very courteous and helpful. When he told me how widespread the problem is in the county, I offered to write a general letter to all animal owners in the county.

There are so many new families coming to our county who may not be aware that DOG OWNERS are required by law to RESTRAIN their dogs. Fines of $200-$500 can be imposed for each of these three items: failing to restrain your dog, failing to have a county license, failing to have a rabies tag. The animal control officer explained that a dog left unattended should be on a chain or in a securely fenced area.

to the editor

When someone is with a dog that is trained to obey a voice command, it is considered to be restrained and a leash is not required. He told me that usually a warning is given the first time a dog is found roaming freely, because he recognizes that a pet can occasionally escape from even the most conscientious of owners.

The greatest concern of our county animal control at the present time is dogs that are picked up and whose owners cannot be identified. The number of unclaimed dogs has risen tremendously in recent weeks. We are increasingly concerned as the officer with job security, it also carries the address that comes with each animal that must be put to sleep.

It is unfortunate that along with all the bright security cameras, the overcrowded buses and more traffic raising more concern on our unimproved roads, this increase in animals being put to sleep is another of the effects of suburban growth in our county. If anyone has a suggestion that could help reduce the number of unclaimed dogs, the animal control officer can be reached through the Bandera County Sheriff's Dept.

'Cover up' found

This is an open letter to Mr. Garry Mauro, esteemed (sic) Texas Land Commissioner. We would like to unequivocally deny the slanderous rumors of wholesale ravaging and pillaging throughout the Hill Country of the noble Golden-Cheeked Warbler's habitat following last week's "Take Back Texas" rally. Contrary to the vile accusations, the demonstration did not spark a massive cedar clearing frenzy. The loud saving and chipping noises reported by the civic-minded old duty Fish and Wildlife officer were purely coincidental and completely innocent; perhaps he confused them with the widespread wailing and gnashing of teeth that accompanied his "unofficial" visit.

In fact, my own tiny town of Rapture (not the real name) has been unusually quiet, despite the recent shocking Satanic Cult Scandal. That controversy began a few weeks ago, when an obnoxious Austin couple were visiting our quaint town and its even quaintier 100-year-old church.

While angling souvenir pictures, they were morally outraged to see two snakes sinfully entwined over the front entryway of that historic building. The conscientious tourists promptly reported to the Justice of the Peace that they had irrefutable evidence of an evil cult operating in our peaceful village. The concerned J.P. contacted our brave butcher/constable and together they valiantly risked working up a wood sweat by removing the Satanic serpents - which to their immense relief turned out to be made of politically correct latex.

The exalted heroes then retired to the local coffee shop for an official investigation. They interrogated their prime informant who was cleverly masquerading as a waitress and uncovered the hot tip that finally solved the mystery: seems the Bay Government had designated "Rapture" as a Sacred Barn Swallow Habitat (thereby making it illegal to chop down church buildings).

The fake rubber snakes had been thoughtfully placed above the door by a compassionate parishioner to safely ward off the SUNDAY school children, prevent them from making unsightly deposits on the front steps. Unfortunately, the sophisticated big city visitors who uncovered the horrifying secret remained suspicious, and hastily reported the matter to the Sheriff's Office. The entire town was in on the Massive Cult Cover Up.

Perhaps this (somewhat) true story will serve as an illustration to our officious and overly concerned members of the follies involved in jumping to conclusions.

Thanks, Lowanna

On August 3, 1994, I wrote complaining about my Apple Festival postmark being destroyed by the carelessness of the San-Antonio post office. Today I felt sympathy for them. I received, in the mail, an Apple Festival cancellation on a post card, addressed to me, with a perfect postmark on the writing side, encased in plastic, in another envelope, from a very thoughtful post carrier at the Medina Post Office. My Lawanna J. Sides.

I may say "Thanks" to her and congratulate the Medina postal patrons for their "luck" of having her choose Medina to spread her warmth of friendliness. Also to extend my sympathy to San Antonio Post Office, for their loss of "personal care" to a machine of "no care".

jest & thyme

Janna Sandidge

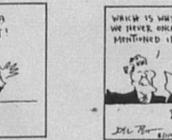

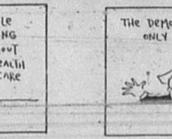

In the July issue of the Texas Farmer-Stockman, Charles Taylor reports that ash juniper, commonly known as cedar, "really does drink up water."

The article pointed out just another facet in the ongoing debates among ranchers, environmentalists, individual property-rights advocates, water-rights advocates, pro- and anti-gun activists, constitutional militia-lots, etc., etc. etc.

According to the article, Texas A&M meteorologist Bill Dugas conducted experiments in the 1980s on mesquite, and just how it affects grass stand and water evaporation. His conclusion was that killing out the mesquite caused an almost immediate 50-percent increase in the amount of "herbaceous growth" on the site where the mesquite had been removed.

Later, he measured a difference of 10 to 15 percent in the evaporation rate. In 1992, Dugas conducted similar tests on two side-by-side 40-acre tracts in Medina County. On one tract, the entire 100-tree-per-acre juniper stand was cut down. Dugas and an associate set up equipment to monitor both runoff, and the evapotranspiration of water on both tracts.

Preliminarily, they have

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Starling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Tougher criminal laws adopted last year by the Texas Legislature went into effect Sept. 1, requiring murderers, rapists and child molesters to serve half their prison sentences or 30 years before becoming eligible for parole.

Sponsor of the legislation was state Sen. John Whitmire, D-Houston, chairman of the Criminal Justice Committee. He told the Houston Chronicle that under previous law, Texas prison inmates often "came out worse than when they went in."

Some nonviolent, first-time felons will get probation instead of prison under the revised laws that call for supervised probation up to five years and six months in new state lock-ups.

Nonviolent offenders on probation may be required to undergo drug and alcohol treatment, counseling sessions, community service and educational and vocational training.

"Over the last 50 years," Whitmire said, "our prisons had become a revolving door...but under the new plan, we don't want to commingle young offenders with hardcore rapists, murderers and child molesters."

Violent offenders, who often served a month for each year of a sentence under the state's old, "revolving door" de facto policy, will be doing more hard time with 22,000 more state prison beds scheduled to be ready for use by the end of next year.

Gov. cleared in phone flap
Gov. Ann Richards and her staff have been cleared of wrongdoing in the 1993 destruction of telephone records in her office.

Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle issued an Aug. 26 statement saying that there was no evidence of criminal intent on the part of Richards or her staff.

Karen Hughes, spokeswoman for the campaign of GOP gubernatorial challenger George W. Bush, reacted to Earle's statement, charging that records were improperly shredded in Richards' office and that senior staffers told different stories why the shredding occurred in an effort to cover it up.

Richards' chief of staff, John Faister, said he approved the destruction of the phone records because the governor's office was drowning in paper, and that he misunderstood rules requiring that phone bills be retained for three years.

Judges asked to redraw
A group of Republicans has presented a three-judge federal court panel in Houston a plan to reshape half of the state's congressional districts before the Nov. 8 statewide election.

The state, however, has asked the panel to keep the current boundaries—drawn by both Legislature in 1991—intact for the election.

The judges ruled on Aug. 17 that of the state's 30 congressional districts, one in Dallas and two in Houston are racially gerrymandered and must be redrawn to comply with the U.S. Constitution. Redrawing those districts will affect dozens of contiguous districts.

Lawyers for the GOP plaintiffs say the proposed new districts are more compact and would help minorities gain seats, but Texas Attorney General Dan Morales argued that if new lines are to be drawn, they should be drawn in the next session of the Legislature.

The Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission last week rejected a proposal to ban happy hours but promised to consider new restrictions on such promotions as nickel-beer nights.

Mothers Against Drunk Driving has been urging the commission to eliminate happy hours, contending they encourage heavy drinking over a short period of time.

But bar owners and the Texas Restaurant Association argued that such regulations would limit competition and amount to price-fixing.

TABC chairman Ray Orr of DeSoto, said he and his colleagues are convinced that a happy hour ban is warranted, but they will look at some new restrictions in October.

Other highlights
State Rep. Ben Campbell, R-Correllton, has until Sept. 6 to appeal his April federal court conviction for bank fraud, affecting whether he can be replaced on the Nov. 8 general election ballot.

On Aug. 26, Campbell was sentenced to 51 months in prison and five years probation upon release. U.S. District Judge Paul Brown also ordered the senator to pay $540,229 in restitution and to report to prison in 30 days.

New Jersey Gov. Christine Todd Whitman was named both Republican and Democratic candidates about attacking women as soft on crime.

"Women care about crime as much as anybody else, said the first-term governor while campaigning last week for George W. Bush, the GOP nominee for governor, and Republican U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison.

Clarification on last week's story "From tragedy to triumph"

Because Bandera is such a vibrant, alive, interesting community, news often outpaces the Bandera Bulletin's capacity to print it and "priority" items are pushed to the front. This means that stories similar to last week's "From tragedy to triumph"—two recovering alcoholics speak—sometimes are left in the computer files for a long time before they are used.

Meanwhile, things progress and change. That story was written by staff writer Stephanie Logue some time back, even though the story was printed last week. In the story, Ronger Crossing was named as a "haven for teen drinking." It indicated, from the words of one recovering alcoholic, that local law enforcement officers ignored the problem.

Sheriff James MacMillan says that is no longer true. Since taking office, his department has issued many citations for minors in possession of alcohol. When teens are found drinking alcohol at Ronger Crossing, their parents are called to come pick them up, MacMillan says.

The Sheriff's Department has also gone undercover to find out if any local establishments have been guilty of selling alcohol to minors. Out of that undercover operation, one charge has been filed.

Reserve deputies have carried out surveillance at Ronger Crossing. "I'm sure we haven't put a stop to the problem," MacMillan noted. "We do have them worried about it a little. The problem we've faced is easy access to alcohol, plus kids will experiment. It was going on when I was in school and I'm sure it will still be going on when my children get out of school. But we are trying to get a handle on it."

Good job, Chris!

40 YEARS AND 4 GENERATIONS
On Monday, September 12, 1994, Eckhart's Flower Shop will celebrate 40 years in business with a Christmas Open House starting at 5 p.m.
In the photo above are the four generations of Eckharts. Howard Eckhart is in the back, in the middle is Jana Bakker, Eile Eckhart and Punkte Eckhart. The two cuties up front are twins, Ian and Jamey Bakker.
Eile bought the shop when Punkte was in her early teens and Punkte still runs it today.
Very seldom do you run across a business who has lasted 40 years, much less having been run by the same family the entire time.
Congratulations to the Eckhart family and good luck and best wishes on your next 40 years.

Boy Scout rally Friday

The Broken Arrow district of the Alamo Area Council Boy Scouts of America will hold a kickoff for the 1994 Scout Country Fair on Friday, Sept. 9 at the Bandera Bank.

All Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts are asked to report at 5:30 p.m. Tickets may be obtained as early as 4:30 p.m., but the rally will not begin until 5:30.

Door prizes and refreshments will be a highlight. For those in the Kerrville area, the Pizza Hut on Junction Highway will be the meeting place for the 5:30 p.m. rally on Friday, Sept. 9.

Oldtimers to have Lakehills reunion

The first "Oldtimers Reunion" will be held at Lakehills on Saturday, Sept. 16 from 2 to 10 p.m. at Bob's Cove on Medina Lake. The big barbecue and dance will honor anyone who has ever lived in Lakehills. Current residents are asked to contact those who have moved away.

Barbecues and beans will be furnished. Those planning to attend should bring a side dish big enough to serve their own family and a few extra. A dance will be held after the meal. For more information, call the following people: Ann Lehman at 612-3877 or 761-9923; Cecile Roberson at 612-2666; or A.G. Ulrich at 612-3006.

Farm Bureau annual meeting fish fry features contest winners

Bandera County Farm Bureau will have their annual meeting and fish fry dinner on Saturday, Sept. 10 starting at 6:30 p.m. at the Mansfield Park recreation hall. Donations will be accepted. Winners of the youth contests will be announced following the dinner.

City sides with county in water application fray

Bandera city council members voted unanimously to support the county's application for the cancellation of 5,000 acre feet of water currently held by Bear-Medina-Atascosa Counties WCID No.1, and the issuance of that 5,000 acre feet to Bandera County and the City of Bandera.

This action took place in a special meeting held on Thursday, Sept. 1. City council members, however, will not give the county financial assistance "at this time."

Mayor Robert Skinner said that the city is in the middle of the budget process and is still looking for ways to shave $700 from next year's budget. "They have the use of our name if it helps them," Skinner said. "I think it will."

Sheriff's report

The Bandera Sheriff's Department answered 65 calls for service during the week of Aug. 29 through Sept. 4. These included one call each for: reckless driving; burglary of a motor vehicle; loud music and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Other calls included: burglary alarms; 2; burglary of a habitation; 2; burglary of buildings; 2; stray livestock; 2; natural deaths; 3; littering; 3; criminal mischief; 3; assist other agency; 3; civil dispute; 4; public assist; 4; shots fired; 7; assaults and threats; 8; and suspicious persons; 9.

There were three natural deaths during the week. Charles Randolph DeSalme died on Aug. 31. Paul S. Marshall died on Sept. 3; Harry Woldough died on Sept. 4. All three deaths were ruled as natural deaths.

Sometime in August, a ranch house was broken into and $1,200 worth of tools and air conditioners were stolen. Another burglary was also reported on that date. Jewelry and $450 in cash were reportedly taken.

Susan Hernandez, 48, of Center Point, was arrested on Aug. 28 for DWI, second offense. Edward John Pennell, 33, of Kerrville was arrested on Sept. 3 for DWI, first offense. William Eugene Goodenough, 66, of Bandera was arrested on Sept. 4 for DWI.

Looking Back

"Goodbye Summer... Hello Fall" was the front cover title of the Oct. 1963 issue of The Dude Wrangler.

The publication reported, in "News from Whippoorwill Winds," that Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hevener "entertained their son and family, the Richard Hevener, with a barbecue... and while they were here Richard was the first to purchase a '64 Monza from Adams Chevrolet..."

"Corral Gab" reported that entertainment in the area included rodeos and Kenneth Bissett's cutting horse show at Mansfield Park, weekly dances at several dude ranches and live wrestling at the American Legion Hall.

The paper announced that the Texas Press Women bestowed the following honors Mrs. D.H. Crowell, first place for both "magazine regularly edited by a woman (The Dude Wrangler)," and "writing for adults non-fiction booklet or pamphlet" (for the Dixie Dude Ranch Cookbook); and Jeanette Saul, second place for newspaper editing by a woman, and third place, news story award and display advertising award (all for the Bandera Bulletin).

Local advertisers included the Flying L Ranch, Twin Elm Ranch, Trading Post, First National Bank, The Frontier Shop, St. Christopher's Episcopal Church, Silver Dollar, Bandera Laundry and Dry Cleaning, Ryan's Grocery and Market, Roger Stevens, Alamo

The Bandera Bulldog marching band was featured on the front cover of the Oct. 1963 edition of The Dude Wrangler. Director Jack Weidemann was flanked by band members Jim Evans, Rita Brooks and Aleta Roberts; and in the front row appeared "pretty majorettes" Bonnie Farr, Karen King, Leannah Roberts and Dorothy Brown. The Bulletin thanks Lirnie Caffall for the loan of this vintage copy of The Dude Wrangler.

Lumber Company, Boyle's Food Store and Boyle's Dry Goods, Chuck Wagon Drive In Grocery, New Frontier Beauty Shop and Hotel, I.E. Adamitz Insurance, Cottage Beauty Shop, Butane Gas and Equipment, Mrs. Lona Jackson, Florist, Bandera Mercantile, Avon Cosmetics (Mrs. Habenicht), Adams Chevrolet, Lee's Conoco, Conoly Drug Store, and the Whippoorwill Winds, Lost Valley and Dixie Dude Ranches.

Obituaries and memorial tributes included Casper Dugosh, Herbert Halstead, Ben Adams, Mrs. Andrew Pyka, Mrs. Lee D'Spain, Charles Eckhart and Herman Thalman. The magazine also reported that "prominent rancher Frank Montague Sr." had died on July 23 after an extended illness. Montague's youngest son, the Rev. George T. Montague, S.M., officiated at the ceremony.

It was also reported in The Dude Wrangler that "Bandera had an election Wednesday on incorporation of the town. The plan failed."

"Opponents of incorporation met Thursday to raise money to pay a lawyer they hired to help them in the fight."

"They decided incorporation was a pretty good idea, after all, and Bandera will have another election on it in December."

what's rustlin'

by Bungy

This last week was spent playing tourist in the "Cowboy Capital of the World..." and what a place to be a tourist!

Larry's daughter, Susan, came from Connecticut for a week's visit and we started her with a horseback ride at the Runtin' R. Don Robbins took us up to the top of hills, where we looked out over the whole valley, then off through beautiful oak woods, and across seas of waving grass like a prairie land. The wind was blowing with clouds overhead so the weather was perfect.

On to Busbee's Barbecue, where Mary Jilek made us feel so welcome. She and Mark always help out with the Funter Days Parade, carrying flags on horseback down Main Street.

Then out, for a tour of the Flying L, where we ran into Hagen, who "talked stories" with us and sat us down in their new magnificent lodge and brought us icy tea. Hagen is so funny, and the Flying L guests LOVE him, especially the children.

We "did" the shops on Main Street, including the United Methodist Church's rummage sale, which was loaded with goodies. We bought someone's plum cake and pigged out - it was so good!

We joined the line dancers on Wednesday night at the Bella Union and everyone acted real

Aspiring authors are invited to workshop

The Kerrville Writer's Association is inviting aspiring novelists to attend a writer's workshop on Saturday, Sept. 17 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Bible Lecture Hall of the Kerrville Church of Christ. Nationally renowned author, teacher and lecturer, Rita Gallagher, will hold the workshop.

Seating is limited. The fee is $40. The deadline for registration is Wednesday, Sept. 7, with a partial payment of $20. The balance is due on the day of the workshop. Those who do not register in advance may take a chance of registering at the door on the day of the workshop.

The "Novel Writing to Sell" workshop will include all genres including: western; mystery; romance; mainline fiction; and children's.

Door prizes will be given at the workshop including: one set of three "Novel Writing to Sell" videos; one set of Gallagher's eight, 90-minute instructional audio tapes; one chapter of one critique by Gallagher; and a $100 gift certificate for services from Creative Consultants.

ly silly. We took an afternoon to visit the Silver Dollar, where we ran into Sam Brown and Bobby Cavazos (the gruesome two-some!) They acted like they always act, and so Susan got to meet some characters! Then we went on to The Forge, which was LOADED with characters. Instead of "Karaoke," The Forge advertises "Cowi-Oke."

We Bar-B-Q'd, OST'd, Serrano'd, BonFred'd - then, another night at the Bella Union (who AC is great!) and then, Saturday night at the PRCA/CORA Rodeo. And what a great one it was! They broke the record for attendance.

The far side stands hold 1,000 people, and they were "chokaback full." Between 1,800 and 2,000 fans turned out for the rodeo - Yee Haw!

The rodeo kept up a really good pace. The Bad Company Rodeo Producers did a great job. The 16-year-old gal who did the trick riding was something to see. Leaning over from the side of her galloping horse, throwing her hands out to touch the ground, while her hair flowed out, skimming along the top - racing around, standing up in the saddle, flags flying, crowds cheering - what a sight!

The rodeo arena was lined with signs of local sponsors. Those businesses were wonderful, to be such great support.

Patti Reynolds was in charge of the queen's contest this year, and there were 24 candidates - more than any other year - and the queen and princesses chosen gave a wonderful show on their horses.

Each year, Justin Boots gives out a "John J. Justin Award" for the outstanding committee chairman of that local rodeo association (for the year). This year's award went to Buddy Byrd, who has worked so hard for this rodeo all these years - He was in charge of parking, and what a tremendous job he did this year with that overflowing crowd. Hope he makes it to the nationals, where he could be presented with an elegant pair of boots inscribed with "The John J. Justin Award, 1994." Then, he'll have to ride up and down Main Street, showing them off.

Tex Adams was "sent off in grand style" at Pop's Place Sunday, where all his musician friends gathered for a fond farewell.

Pipe Creek Cemetery cleanup Sept. 10

Work day will end up with barbecue potluck and business meeting

The Pipe Creek Cemetery Association invites the community to the biannual cleanup day 'on Saturday, Sept. 10 beginning at 8 a.m. The work day will end with a barbecue potluck and a meeting. During the meeting at 6 p.m. members will nominate and elect a director for the new year.

Each family should bring a covered dish, drinks and lawn chairs. The major goal for Saturday's cleanup day is to clean the entire fence line around the cemetery and repair the fence. Those planning on attending are asked to bring tools to help with the fence repair.

For more information, call Joe Heister at 510-4777; Harley Odom at 751-2503; or Doug White at 510-4562. The previous cleanup day was on March 26. The old rest room building was moved. The cemetery was cleaned in all areas and the fence by the entrance was cleaned. Tombstones were also cleaned and the entrance gate was painted.

Early childhood educational inservice program will begin Sept. 13 in Boerne

The new Live Oak Learning Center in Boerne will host a nine-month program for early childhood education beginning Sept. 13. The 17 evening and eight Saturday modules will present 85 hours of educational training in subject areas related to the developing child and the organization of child care services. The program is designed to meet inservice and training requirements for Head Start, day care, foster care and other child care providers who wish to apply for Child Development Associate (CDA) credentials.

The program has been developed and will be presented by Margaret Funk at the Live Oak Learning Center at 906 North Main Street in Boerne. Funk has been an educator for over 20 years. She has presented early childhood and Head Start workshops to many Hill Country day care centers; Region 20 and Texas Agricultural Extension Service conferences. The 17 evening modules will be presented every second and fourth Tuesday from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. beginning Sept. 13. Topics will address program management and curriculum development; intellectual and emotional development; staff and center responsibilities and learning theories.

The eight Saturday modules will be presented every third Saturday beginning at 8:30

Legion plans Oct. 29 barbecue cook-off

Post 157 of the American Legion will hold the first annual American Legion Cowboy Capital of the World Barbecue Cook-off on Saturday, Oct. 29 at Mansfield Park.

To prepare for that event, Legion members from Post 157 traveled to Richards Park in Brady to attend the annual World Championship Barbecue goat Cook-off. Approaching the park, the Bandera group saw "clouds of smoke emanating from 118 barbecue pits."

Once there, the Legionnaires handed out fliers and personally invited the cooks to Bandera's Oct. 29 barbecue cook-off. As with the chili cooks, the Bandera group said, barbecue cooks come from all over: Amarillo; Dallas; Houston; Brownwood; and other locations. Also, as with chili cooks, the barbecue cooks used "tricks from the sublime to the ridiculous."

Post 157 is expecting Bandera to draw as many cooks and as large a crowd as did Brady. Family-orientated entertainment will be provided at Bandera's Oct. 29 cook-off.

The April chili cook-off was successful and Legion members expect the Oct. 29 barbecue cook-off to be even more successful due to community participation and support.

appraisal district and the commissioners court have agreed that the function will be under the supervision of chief appraiser Fourth Coates.

M.J. Cave, 911 coordinator, says the cooperation and assistance from the appraisal district has been in effect for several months. The appraisal district maps will be used extensively in the rural addressing project.

Rural addressing is essential to the successful implementation of a total 911 system. Currently, there is no good method in place for locating a call which comes in on the 911 number.

Coates says that people probably don't realize how important the addressing is. If you're dying, he points out, it is of life and death importance. Whether or not the EMS team gets to you in time may depend on how fast they can locate your home.

Stephanie Logue

Doyle Haner, Tom Renton, M.J. Cave and Carey Poe have begun the Bandera County 911 rural addressing project.

Plants

Sally, offer an attractive and low-maintenance alternative. Native plants have learned to cope with the unique conditions of the region in which they grow; soil, climate, rainfall, drought. As a result, she says, native plants do better and require less care. Rejuvenate a Lawnmower shows how to create a woodland; a bit of prairie; plant a hummingbird garden; or build a simple, earthen pond garden.

Rejuvenate a Lawnmower has received praise from Bob Thomson, former host of PBS-TV's "The Victory Garden" and from Jim Hodgins, publisher of "Wildflower" magazine.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

In the minds of most people, Labor Day signals the end of summer, a last long holiday of the season. To many the real meaning of Labor Day has been lost in the frantic pursuit of fun.

This is unfortunate, because never before have so many people been able to enjoy the leisure, the luxuries and comforts we see around us in these United States. The rights of labor never have been so certain, nor its obligation to act in a responsible manner more necessary. We must never, therefore, become insensible to the time-honored virtues of thrift, competence, and pride in a job well done.

These are the characteristics that have made possible the turning of Labor Day into a holiday of fun and leisure. These are the virtues that Labor Day ought to commemorate and, if the nation is to survive in its greatness, they will be needed as never before in the years to come. They are needed today, therefore, to say nothing of the future advancements in space, science, industry and technology. So on this Labor Day Week, let's put these virtues to work throughout the year....

Countdown under way to Cajun Festival

14th annual Medina Lake event will feature crawfish, entertainment imported from Breaux Bridge and other parts of Louisiana

The 14th annual Cajun Festival will be held at the Medina Lake Civic Center on Saturday, Sept. 24 from noon to 10 p.m. The yearly event is the main source of income for the upkeep and operation of the Civic Center and is expected to draw 6,000 visitors this year.

Cajun music food and entertainment will be offered non-stop at the Cajun Festival. Volunteers are still needed for booths. To volunteer, call Cutaway at 751-2727 and find out which booths still need workers. It is also time to enter the gumbo cook-off. Forms may be obtained at Cutaway, or from Larry Person at 612-3015.

The Medina Lake Betterment Association sponsors this year's Cajun Festival as it has done for the past 13 years. Members say that the Medina Lake Cajun Festival is the "original Cajun Festival and Gumbo Cook-off in Texas." They say that "though it has been imitated, it cannot be duplicated, and remains unsurpassed in its ability to bring the food, music and culture of Louisiana to deep within the heart of Texas." Volunteer cooks prepare an incredible array of Cajun delicacies. No expense or effort is spared. Crawfish are imported from Breaux Bridge, Louisiana, the "Crawfish Capital of the World."

Food items include: crawfish pie; sausage and ham jambalaya; crawfish etouffee; red beans and rice; boudin; a Cajun shrimp boil; barbecue shrimp; pecan pralines; and Texas favorites including fajitas and sausage on a stick. Beverages are also available. Music and entertainment includes some of the top Cajun bands from Louisiana and Texas. The Band-Aids Jazz Band, Mamou Prairie Band and Zydeco Earfood will be featured at this year's Cajun Festival. The Countrymen will provide Texas-style music and the highlight of the festival is a Cajun Fais Do Do Dance with File'. File' is nationally known for their innovative Cajun and Zydeco dance music.

The Gazebo Stage will offer fascinating glimpses of Cajun heritage. Louisiana historian, Robert Reed, will be one of those demonstrating the folklore, music, interviews, cooking and music and interviews at the Gazebo Stage.

The Cajun Festival originated as the "Great Gumbo Cook-off." Gumbo remains one of the strong attractions at the festival. Visitors can sample a wide variety of gumbo prepared by both amateur and professional cooks. Those interested in cooking gumbo should call (210) 612-3015.

Let The Bible Speak

THE FIRST DAY OF THE WEEK There are a great many days with special meanings mentioned in the Old Testament. But of all the days that have come forth to be remembered, none are as important as the day when, "JESUS WAS RAISED UP FROM THE DEAD BY THE GLORY OF THE FATHER." Romans 6:4. THE FIRST DAY OF THE WEEK!

It is an accepted fact that Jesus Christ arose from the grave on the first day of the week. Why? Why did he not rise on a Tuesday or Thursday? The significance of this day is rooted far back in history. Please turn in your Bible and read Leviticus 23:1-2, and you will see that a wave offering was to be offered "on the morrow after the Sabbath." It was to be offered on the first day of the week. What did this offering consist of? The Israelites Passover week began, a sheaf of the firstfruits of their harvest unto the priest to be waved before the Lord. In allusion to that rise, Christ, who arose on the very day the firstfruits were offered, is called the firstfruits of them who have fallen asleep—1 Corinthians—16:20-23.

In Leviticus 23, did that ancient priest know all that was signified in his act of obedience? I doubt it. He did what God bade him do, but beyond that, though unknown to him at that time, he declared a great fact to the world. His act of obedience signified the truth that in the far future, on that very day, THE FIRST DAY OF THE WEEK, Jesus, the Son of God, would break apart the bars of death and would raise and salvation would be offered to all men. Therefore, EVERY first day of EVERY week is observed by the faithful saints of God as a day of Thanksgiving.

Come worship with us at 10:30 a.m. Sundays at the Church of Christ, located on Highway 16 and Vanpool Road, Medina, Texas and let us assist you in obedience to the gospel. Write to HCR 1 Box 45, Medina, Texas 76655.

MEET THE TRUCK VOTED BEST OF TEXAS.

Dodge Ram.

Voted Best "Truck Of Texas" By The Texas Auto Writers Association.

Texas has the best food. The best cities. The best folks. And now, the best truck: the full-size, New Dodge Ram, voted best "Truck Of Texas" by the Texas Auto Writers Association.

Texas-size and Texas-tough, this is a pickup you'd swear was built specially for the Lone Star State. It's got the power of a Magnum engine that really delivers. And a wider stance to give you better road control from the Panhandle to the Gulf.

It's even got safety features like a driver's-side airbag that's fully effective when your seat belt is worn. And an interior that's as big and comfy as your favorite chair. And rugged good looks, to boot.

So, whether you're looking for a 4x2, 4x4 or diesel, it's time to get your hands on Texas' best - Dodge Ram.

Sabinal Canyon

Lynn Scotty

Morris Killough recently bought out Boyce & Davenport, the grocery and variety store in Utopia. Killough is changing the store's name to Utopia Grocery Store to emphasize the sense of community which Boyce & Davenport always put first. Killough had been employed at B & D for 15 years and says that a few years back he had an opportunity to work elsewhere, but Boyce & Davenport made him "an offer he couldn't refuse." And now he owns it! Killough plans no major changes for the business.

A retired Ralph Boyce reveals in an exclusive one minute in depth interview, "After 36 years...I don't know what I'm going to do, but I'm going to stay busy." And what is he going to miss the most? "My kids and which kids are those? "All my kids in town - oh yeah...they're my kids!"

Woodworking, orcharding and shepherding will keep Kenneth Davenport busy. What will he miss the most? "I think being around people all day long..."

"I visited there today," Davenport allows, "Well, before you know it, I'm behind the counter...then back to the market washing my hands..."

Utopia Baptists will join the United Methodists on Oct. 30 for a "Singin'." It's an all-musical evening with lots of variety. The "Singin'" will be held at the First Church back in July when the Methodists made the big trek across town. The Senior Citizens' monthly luncheon and meeting is this Friday, Sept. 9. Bandera Electric Co-op's Russ VanderZee, will speak. The Co-op has been accomplishing a lot lately, putting new lines, etc. and you can find out all about it at the seniors' luncheon.

Looking at the Utopia Baptist Church newsletter, the Jewish Holy Days of Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur, and Sukkot are printed on the September calendar. It is too much to read into that a lesson of tolerance! That other people with different and valid beliefs have the right to exist and that certain groups do not have the market cornered on morality and decency.

In these times of intolerance of other people's beliefs it is refreshing to see that rational thought still exists, even though the last quarter of the twentieth century will still not be remembered as "The Age of Reason."

Those T-shirts that shout ONE WAY are disturbing. The implied message seems to be MY WAY! (For the full sermon please send three box tops to Lynn Scotty, My Way or No Way?, Vanderpool, Texas.)

Tarpley

Nettie Dean

Another successful Bar-B-Q for the Tarpley Volunteer Fire Department, Sunday the 4th. Also, a delightful Parade to kick off the barbecue. Large crowds of guests from everywhere filled the fire department grounds.

A.B. "Skeets" Singleton was chosen as Grand Marshall, chosen for his merits as an outstanding citizen in the community. Congrats "Skeets"! Also, congrats to the men who did the barbecuing and the delicious meal that was served.

Tarpley Baptist Church visitors Sunday were Mr. & Mrs. M.G. Dean of D'Hanis and Mr. & Mrs. Charles L. Dean and Children, Jacob and Rachel of New Braunfels.

Birthday greetings were sang for Mrs. Harold Jackson & Mary Jo Dean.

Congratulations are offered to Vern & JoAnn Shrock on their 8th wedding anniversary on August 29th. Also Mr. & Mrs. Willis J. Schmidt observed their 61st on Sept. 6th.

Mrs. Virginia Terrell and daughter Dorothy Maness of San Antonio spent Saturday night with Bobby & Skeets Singleton and attended the Tarpley Volunteer Fire Department Barbecue, on Sunday. Patricia Chambers of San Antonio came and took her mother, Mrs. Madge Chambers to Corpus Christi for the weekend. Just a nice overnight at Corpus was enjoyed.

Jennifer Riley of San Antonio was a welcome guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Billie Riley for the weekend and also attended the barbecue.

Those out for Labor Day Weekend were Dee Dee & James Skoglund of Santa Fe, Texas and also David & Jan Beron of Corpus Christi and their son Brody of San Antonio.

Guests of Elzie & Nettie Dean this weekend were Charles & Marcia Dean and children of New Braunfels. They enjoyed belated birthday dinners for Charles & Myself in Kerrville Saturday night at Mamacia's.

Mr. & Mrs. Robert Montalbo of San Antonio entertained a host of relatives and friends at their country home over Labor Day.

Mr. & Mrs. Harold Jackson's guests last Wednesday were their traveling friends, Topsy & Bill Jarbeau from Corpus Christi.

Richard D. Burrell graduated magna cum laude from Texas A&M, Kingsville on August 13th. He is currently attending Texas A&M at College Station where he is working toward a masters in the field of geology. Rick is the son of Dennis & Billie Ann Burrell of D'Hanis. Among the many family members attending the ceremonies were his proud grandmother, Ida Belle Parr of Rio Hondo subdivision.

Walbrun wins A&M Langford Award

Texas A&M University student Shannon Walbrun, of Pipe Creek, was awarded the TAMU College of Architecture's Ernest Langford Award.

The award was established in honor of Ernest Langford, former head of the School of Architecture and mayor of the City of College Station. It is presented to a senior student.

Walbrun was recognized for outstanding character, integrity, leadership and civic enterprise.

Barts participates in RIMPAC exercise

James M. Barts, the son of James and Mary Barts of Center Point, participated in joint/combined exercise RIMPAC (Rim of the Pacific) recently. He was aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence, forward deployed to Yokosuka, Japan.

RIMPAC teamed the U.S. with four Pacific nations: Australia; Canada; Japan; and the Republic of Korea, for a major maritime exercise near Hawaii. RIMPAC involved more than 60 ships; 200 aircraft; and 25,000 sailors, airmen; Marines; soldiers and Coast Guardsmen. The exercise enabled naval forces from different countries to improve their ability to work together.

Barte is one of more than 3,500 crewmen aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence. He is a 1991 graduate of Center Point High School and joined the Navy in April, 1992.

'Register For 4-H Now!'

County agents urge youths to get involved

The Bandera County 4-H Program is ready to begin an exciting 1994-95 4-H year! The 4-H Youth Development Program is a dynamic organization that allows kids 9 years old or 3rd grade, through 18 years old, to "learn by doing." Projects range from Poultry to Public Speaking; Foods & Nutrition to Field & Stream; and Horse to Horticulture! Four-H members participate in both monthly club meetings and project meetings tailored to their interests. We hope you and your family will become involved in the 4-H Program as we strive "To Make the Best Better."

The following is a list of the 4-H Clubs in Bandera County. If you have any questions about 4-H, contact the appropriate Club Manager or call the County Extension Office at 796-7755. We look forward to seeing you at a September 4-H Club meeting!

Bandera Junior 4-H Club (3rd - 6th grades) meets the 3rd Tuesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. at Alkek Elementary Cafeteria. Sept. 20 is the first meeting. Billy and Denise Griffin (796-3513) are the club managers.

Obituaries

Harry Woolnough

Harry B. Woolnough, 99, of Bandera, died Sept. 4 in his residence. He was born April 12, 1895 in New York City, N.Y., and lived in Brentwood, N.Y. before coming to Bandera 15 years ago. He was a member of the Methodist Church and a Charter Member of Raymond Zeph Macon Lodge in Baldwin, N.Y. Survivors include two daughters, Eleanor O'Donnell and Bernice Whelan, both of Bandera; a son, Donald A. Woolnough of Uniondale, N.Y.; eighteen grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

There will be a private family service in New York, N.Y. at a later date.

Col. Paul Marshall

Col. Paul Samuel Marshall, 67, of Medina, died Saturday, Sept. 3 at his residence. He was born March 11, 1927 in Peoria, Ill. and had been a Medina resident for 30 years. He was a retired administrator of U.S. Army hospitals, graduated from Baylor University with a masters degree in hospital administration. Early in his career, he was adjutant at Brooke Army Medical Center. He served in Korea, three tours of Germany and was the Executive Officer of the S.H.A.P.E. Hospital in Mons,

Mammography screening to be offered at Lakehills Legion

South Texas Mammography will provide screening mammograms at the Lakehills American Legion on 26th Street on Saturday, Sept. 17 beginning at 10 a.m.

All mammograms are taken in a private mobile coach by licensed, registered female technologists and interpreted by South Texas Radiology Groups board certified radiologists. The coach will be in the front parking lot of the American Legion.

The exam takes approximately 15 to 20 minutes and is by appointment. The number to call for an appointment is 1-800-38-MAMMO.

Exams are offered to women who have no breast problems or implants and are age 35 or older. No written doctor's order is necessary, however, each patient must supply the name and address of her doctor for receipt of the report. A copy of the report will also be sent to the patient. Each patient must also show proof of insurance in order to have South Texas Radiology Group file the proper paper work.

The American Cancer Society has given the following guidelines for mammography: a baseline mammogram by age 40; a mammogram every year or two from age 40 to 49; and a yearly mammogram for those over 50. High risk patients should consult their physicians.

Line dance classes at 'Sage to resume

The Line Dances Class will resume the weekly Line Dance lessons at the Silver Sage Corral on Monday September 12 at 7 p.m. The classes have been switched to Monday nights from Thursdays. All ages are welcome to come and learn this current dance craze.

Beginners classes will be given before the regular class for the first three Mondays only. Beginners should come at 6 p.m. to learn the basics of line dancing. Line dancing is especially beneficial for men who think they have two left feet. "They learn to keep time to the

Mr. Luther James of Bandera and Mrs. Dianne Baxter of Mobile, Ala., announce the marriage of their daughter, Dianne Michele James of Houston to Christopher James Pierce of Mobile. The groom is the son of Dr. Dobbie Maise of Tuscaloosa, Ala. and the late William Pierce "Pee Wee". The bride's grandparents are Mr. Russell McClain of Vancouver, Wash. and the late Vannie Wedel Hardin, and the late Wallace and Annie James. The wedding was on Saturday, Sept. 10 at Sweetwater Country Club in Sugarland. Matron of honor was Gina Holberg of Mobile, sister of the bride. Best man was Dr. Ed Schnef of Tuscaloosa, stepfather of the groom. A reception followed. The couple will honeymoon in Destin Florida, then reside in Houston.

Point Theatre presents "Juke Box Saturday Night"

A Bandera couple, Mark and Genie Wright, will star in The Hill Country Arts Foundation's Point Theatre production, "Juke Box Saturday Night", on Sept. 9 through 11 and Sept. 16 through 18. The fall musical review will present the music of the 1950s from Nat "King" Cole's "Unforgettable" and Patti Paige's "Tennessee Waltz" to rock and roll tunes by Elvis, Bobby Darin and Bill Haley and the Comets. Ellen Bitkower and Treasa Mallory, both of Kerrville, wrote the one-act musical revue which is set on New Year's Eve in 1959. The Point Theatre is located near Ingram and shows will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights from Sept. 9 through Sept. 18. Curtain time each night is 8 p.m. Tickets are $8 for adults ($6 for Hill Country Art Foundation members) and $5 for children 12 and under. Advance tickets are available at the box office in Ingram or at the Kerrville box office at the Arcadia Theater. For information, call 896-2787.

Octoberfest '94 announced by Extension

Those age 55 or older are invited to the Texas 4-H Center on Lake Brownwood for the annual Octoberfest during October, according to Jana Osburn, Bandera County Extension Agent/Home Economics. The event is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and features four weeks in which "hands-on" learning centers are provided for: leather working, all painting, woodworking, stained glass and other exciting projects. Educational programs on topics such as horticulture, photography, nutrition, finances and other current interests are a popular highlight. A special "Kick Your Heels Up" theme will add a festive atmosphere to the event. Octoberfest '94 is open to anyone 55 or older at a nominal fee. Each week is limited to 165 participants. Octoberfest II will be held from Oct. 4 through Oct. 7. Octoberfest III will run from Oct. 18 to 21. Oct. IV will run from Oct. 28 to Oct. 30. For more information, call 796-7755, or pick up registration forms at the County Extension Office.

Simons, Barber engaged

Rex and Rita Simons of Medina announce the engagement of their daughter, Rachel Beth Simons, to Fred A. Barber, of Medina. He is the son of Nancy Barber of Medina. The wedding is planned for Sept. 24 at 6:30 p.m. at the Simons home with Rev. Bill Mosley officiating in the double ring ceremony. Judith Simons will be the Maid of Honor. Mark Biermann will be best man. A reception will follow at Rex and Rita Simons' home. The couple will reside in Kerrville.

Rose Garden Club to hear update on apple industry
The Rose Garden Club of Medina will hold a meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 14 at 2 p.m. in the garden center building. Visitors are welcome.

Baxter Adams, owner of Love Creek Orchards, will present an update on the apple industry in the Hill Country.

Hill Country Chapter of the Retired Officers group to meet Sept. 15

The Hill Country Chapter of the Retired Officers Association is meeting at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 15 at the Kerrville Inn of the Hills. Dr. Glen E. Lich will speak. Lich is a native Texan and has traveled through much of Europe and North and South America as a professor, researcher and consultant. He has been the author of many publications about German-American Texans and their culture. For more information, call Lt. Sam Barker at 896-1470.

Utopia school news

Students Quality
David Anderson, Counselor, has received notification that five students from Utopia School have qualified for the Duke University Talent Identification Program from seventh graders. Thomas Mauldin, Jay Jones, Christy Jones, Melissa Cartwright and Dusty Carpenter were commended by Duke University for their outstanding scores on the TAAS exam administered last spring. Being selected for this honor entitles these students to apply for additional testing possibly leading to future scholarships and other academic honors.

Open House Held

Thursday, Sept. 1 was the date for Utopia School to hold its annual Meet the New Teachers Open House. At 7, a PTO meeting was held in the cafeteria. Following the close of this meeting, all teachers were in their rooms awaiting touring parents and visitors. Approximately 80 parents and friends visited in the school. Community support is always appreciated.

Anne Elizabeth Juren, Robert Cunningham Watts wed May 21

Anne Elizabeth Juren, daughter of Dennis Franklin Juren and Ruth Birmingham Juren of Bandera, was married to Robert Cunningham Watts, son of Kaighin Gray Watts and Marian Cunningham Watts of San Antonio, on May 21 at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in San Antonio.

The Rev. Joseph Diraddo officiated at the double ring ceremony. Matron of honor was Ellen Juren Cooper, sister of the bride, maid of honor was Anita Largin. Best man was James Kaighin Watts II, groomsmen were Tony Kyllia, Ushers were Brent Massey and Luis Rodriguez.

The bride wore a creation of lilies of New York in ivory bridal. The sweetheart, off-the-shoulder neckline was accented by the long fitted sleeves and a fitted bodice decorated in re-embroidered Alencon lace, pearls and sequins. The bodice flowed into a Basque waistline and into a sheath skirt. The extended detachable chapel train was also made of ivory bridal satin. The skirt and train were completed with decoration of re-embroidered Alencon lace, heavy beaded applique cut-outs, pearls and clear sequins.

Wharton's Dock

New full-time residents in the Wharton's Dock area, Druce and Pat Helms, had a few of their San Antonio and Medina Lake friends over to their house for a friendly poker party and luncheon Saturday, Aug. 27. Guests included Pat and Shirley Roeder, Rose Denyer, Louis Burleson, Kathy and Fred Eberhard and Ray Tuma. Bob and Dorothy Rucker also joined in the afternoon's fun.

The Lakeshore Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a fire training Thursday, Sept. 8. The training will include use of the "fire suppression probe," used to suppress mobile home fires prior to entry and/or rescue attempts, and the showing of part two of a film on fighting wild fires.

The tournament lasted through Aug. 21. Betty was the only winner in the group, and she placed 15th out of 470 entrants.

On Aug. 21 we moved down to Vegas World Hotel and Casino where we met up with Dorothy and Bob Rucker and Pat and Drew Helms from Wharton's Dock.

Seven of the group were wearing their new t-shirts advertising Bandera. Printed on the front, was Cowboy Capital of the World, Bandera Texas and some other decorations. On the back were those hard-to-find "Big Blue Sevens."

All eight of our group saw the show "Hurry America" at Westward Ho Casino. Though none of us were staying there, Phil Burns, a casino host presented all of us with comp tickets and escorted us to a reserved table for the show.

Methodist rummage sale will continue this Saturday

With lots of miscellaneous merchandise and "bargains" left, Bandera United Methodist Church will continue its rummage sale this Saturday, Sept. 10, starting at 9 a.m., says rummage sale chairwoman Elnore Eckhart. The sale is being held at the church's "Ryan building" at 1103 Cedar Street in Bandera. Bargain merchandise available will include housewares, children's clothes, toys, furniture, plants and much more.

Guy and Marie Pickett, of Lakehills, announce the marriage of their daughter, Sue Pickett, to G.W. Hildebrand. G.W. and Sue were married on July 2 in Austin. They are both employed by the Department of Public Safety. Sue is a police officer with the Capitol District. G.W. is a Texas Ranger, Headquarters Company, currently assigned as a Lieutenant with the Governor Protective Detail. The newlyweds will make their home in Round Rock with their twin daughters, Kaitlin and Kelsey.

Hypnotist to perform at Schreiner College Sept. 13

Tom DeLuca, the hypnotist twice chosen as "Coluca Entertainer of the Year" will perform at Schreiner College on Sept. 13 at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend and participate. Admission is free.

DeLuca has appeared on CBS Nightwatch; CNN Show Business Today and Live with Regis and Kathie Lee. He has "packed the house" at Schreiner on his previous visits.

Story Times resume for preschoolers on Sept. 13

Reading aloud to children stimulates their interest, their emotional development... their imagination and their language skills. Literature's words, as opposed to those of the electronic media, offer a wealth of language for children to use. Because good literature is precise, intelligent, colorful, sensitive, and rich in meaning, it offers the child his best hope of expressing what he feels.

Our storytime for preschoolers will begin again on Tuesday, Sept. 13, at 10 a.m. It will be a weekly event throughout the school calendar year! Joyce Selberg has graciously agreed to be in charge of this valuable program once again. We are very fortunate to have her help us, year after year. She is absolutely terrific with the little ones.

Mrs. Selberg has the children actively involved in a number of ways including doing crafts, singing songs, playing games and performing with puppets. At the center of all this activity is the crux of what storytime is all about and that is to introduce little ones to the joy of books and reading.

Lakehills United Methodists begin LOGOS

Members of Lakehills United Methodist Church will begin a new program called Logos on Oct. 5, for first through twelfth grades. Parent information meetings and registration are scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Sept. 11 and make up is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 10 in the Lakehills UMC Fellowship Hall.

The Logos Program, scheduled for Wednesday evenings, are made up of four basic segments: Bible study hour, worship skills-hour, family time dinner hour and play hour. School home work may be scheduled if the parent or child requests it.

"We are living in a day when all kinds of pressures are working to shape the minds and lives of our children and youth," says spokesperson, Bill Burchfield. "The typical young person spends more time in one year studying math in school than they do in five years of church school if they go every Sunday of the year."

NRCC schedules a workshop on the beneficial use of sludge

A free workshop to instruct on the state and federal rules for the beneficial use of sludge will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 14 and 15 at the Texas Engineering Extension Service Center in the Hemifair Plaza in San Antonio, beginning at 9 a.m. Registration is limited to the first 90 people.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE Only The Lord Passes Judgment "There let us no more pass judgment on one another..." - Romans 14:13 In his letter to the Romans, Paul was paraphrasing one of Jesus' admonitions to His followers, "Judge not, that you be not judged." It was wise advice; for as both Jesus and Paul noted, who among us can in all fairness judge one of our brethren without incurring severe retribution for our own faults? Only God, the Supreme Being, is qualified to sit in molition and pass down judgments on the sins of man. It would be no more advantageous for us to look to our own behavior and being so that we might better correct those blemishes that fall short of what God and the Christian faith expect of their followers.	BIG DIAMOND Welding Service and Ranch Construction Experienced in building horse barns, arenas, working pens. Soup & Salad Luncheon planned by GOP women
Plenty of homemade soups, salads and desserts will be on the menu Thursday, Sept. 15 when the Bandera County Republican Party and Bandera County Republican Women's Club sponsor their annual Soup and Salad Luncheon at the Bandera Bank Community Room.

Serving begins at 11:30 a.m. and will continue until 1:30 p.m. Cost is $3.50, and drink is included for that price. Desserts are extra.

Friends of Library annual barbecue scheduled for Oct. 1 at fire station

The 10th annual Friends of the Library fall barbecue will be held on Saturday, Oct. 1 from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Bandera Fire Station on Main Street.

The Hilltoppers will provide live music. Trick roping and other entertainment will be featured. A bake and cake auction will be held.

Tickets are $2 each. Meals will include: sausage barbecue; beans; colelaw; all the trimmings; and iced tea. For advance tickets, send a check payable to Friends of the Library to: Claire Johnston, 7800-0425.

Checks may also be dropped by the library or bought on the day of the barbecue, Oct. 1.

CCRA rodeo approached 6,000 in attendance

Two local entries among 351, in first year local entries allowed by PRCA

The Cowboy Capital Pro Rodeo held at Mansfield Park on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2 through 4 drew an attendance estimated at 6,000. This year was the first year the CCRA rodeo was opened for local entries. Two of the 351 entries were local.

Stephanie Byrd and Thomas Vester participated in the rodeo. Speedy Hutcherson organized the local events with Bandera-area teams competing nightly in wild steer saddling and wild cow milking.

Doris Marshall said the new stands, which hold 1,100 spectators, were nearly filled for the three-day rodeo, along with all sections of the previously existing stands.

Pete Hawkins took first place in bareback riding on Tuity Fruity with earnings of $607.04. Pat Scott took second place on Skool Rockin Robin and Beau Mayo was third on Roll With It. Chris Guay took fourth place.

For middle bronc riding, Cole Hardin was first place on Twist & Shout with earnings of $894.04. Jimmy McCarley was second on Pretty Woman and Gary McDaniel was third on Hanky Panky. A tie for fourth place was held by: Joe Belkham; Roudy Bauer; Jim Blain Kenney; and Wade Hobbs.

Bull Riding was taken by Roy Doyal on Bad to the Bone. He won $978.92. Rodney Lidgard took second place and Lane Barber was third. Fourth place was taken by Jeff Quinn.

Calf roping winners were: Brad McReynolds, first place with 8.8 seconds and a win of $1,195.52; Neal Felton second with 9.2 seconds; Doug Clark third with 9.2 seconds; and Jim Bob Crow fourth with 9.5 seconds.

Winners for team roping were: J. Griffin and Z. Bowers with a time of 6.9 seconds and a win of $543.20; T. Reina and J. Stephenson with 7.3 seconds; B. Bierschwald and T. Wren with 8.2; and Ingham and M. Alkizer fourth with 8.3 seconds.

For steer wrestling, George Shickel took a first place win of $1,181.46 with a time of 3.8. Dale Meinicke was second with 3.9. Derrill Baird was third with a time of 3.9 and earnings of $1,348.29; Pax Irvine, third with a time of 4.2 and winnings of $898.86; and Arnold Felts, fourth, with a time for two events of 19.5 and earnings from those events of $449.43.

Barrel race champs were: Kelly Masas, 16.40 and $639.13; Sue Miller, 16.74; Corley Cox, 16.92; and Joanne Middleton, 17.01.

The total payoff for the three-day rodeo was $36,523.90.

Steele roping averages were: Russa Gray, first place with a time of 38.6 and a win of $1,797.73; Gip Allen, second place at 40.3 and earnings of $1,348.29; Pax Irvine, third with a time of 42.2 and winnings of $898.86; and Arnold Felts, fourth, with a time for two events of 19.5 and earnings from those events of $449.43.

Barrel race champs were: Kelly Masas, 16.40 and $639.13; Sue Miller, 16.74; Corley Cox, 16.92; and Joanne Middleton, 17.01.

The total payoff for the three-day rodeo was $36,523.90.

REWARD

Sincere Appreciation

The family of Albina Mazurek will always cherish the many shared memories, prayers, cards, phone calls, food, flowers and everlasting remembrances of our mother. Our mother repeatedly shared with her family the respect and love she had for this community. By your generous and sincere actions during our recent loss, each of you have confirmed in our hearts this respect and love. We extend a special "Thank You" to Father "Mick" for his continuous spiritual support to our family. May God bless and be with you always.

Sincerely,
The Family of Albina Mazurek

Bulldogs tame Dripping Springs Tigers

Bandera coach Mike Williamson felt that an important step to success this football season is winning the first game. Mission accomplished. The Bulldogs whipped the Dripping Springs Tigers 29-13.

The Bulldogs took the opening kickoff and drove the length of the field. Brad Parker scored the initial touchdown for the Dogs but the PAT was no good.

The Tigers came right back on their first possession marching down the field and scoring on a short run by Jared Bray. Jeff Mayes was good on the PAT giving the Tigers the lead at 7-6.

The Bulldogs owned the second quarter. QB Kyle Woodland scored two touchdowns and added one two point conversion and Jimmy Stroud tacked on one PAT. Bandera went in at the half up 21-7.

The teams traded scores in the third quarter. Dripping Springs capitalized on an interception deep in Bandera territory. The short score was carried by a Mayes TD run. The Bulldogs blocked the PAT attempt.

The Dogs' score came on a 24 yard Woodland run. Stroud was good on the PAT running the score to 28-13.

"After watching the game

playing now positions." Wyman, Stroud, Gernets, Quinn Godfrey, Tim Hickman Woodland, Hearn, Cardenas, Mazurek and Parker were all cited for the game performance. "If you build a team to under 10 first downs in a game you've done your job on defense," Williamson said.

Looking ahead to Friday's game against Gonzales Williamson sees a big challenge for his Bulldogs. "Gonzales plays in the top 3A district in the state and pre-season polls have them near the top in that district." And what should we look for from Gonzales? "They are a very big team with good quick backs. They are returning a tail back that rushed for over 1,000 yards last season."

As for the Bulldogs Williamson says "We need to continue to improve every day. If continue to progress like we have the last few weeks we'll be right in the thick of this contest."

film I think the key to the win was the ability of our offense to get the blocking done," noted Williamson. "Justin Johnson, Bobby Jones, George Hobon, Ryan Gernets, Bill Wyman, Charlie Robertson, Matt Mazurek, Gilbert Cardenas, Jason Hearn and Kurt Bor all had an outstanding night of blocking. That made the difference in this game."

"In addition, Woodland really stepped up and showed what he could do at quarterback. He had 96 yards rushing but he also did just a super job of running the offense. We had 436 yards of total offense and racked up 26 first downs."

Bulldog JV opens with win

Bandera's JV Bulldogs opened their football season with a 24-8 win over Dripping Springs.

"We are really pleased with the play of our JV squad," said Coach Mike Williamson. "The JV team is made up Freshman and Sophomores only. A lot of this team is going from playing against 8th grade opponents last season to the JV level."

On Bandera's first three possessions of the game they drove the length of the field only to have the drives stall on the six yard line.

Persistence paid off for the Dogs on their fourth time down the field. Jason Garcia was able to score for Bandera and break the scoreless tie. Lance Anderson was successful on the two point conversion giving the Bulldogs a 8-0 half-time lead.

Bandera and Dripping Springs each added to the score in the third quarter. Garcia scored the Dogs' TD and Patrick Mazurek tacked on two points.

Jimmy Johnson scored the final touchdown for Bandera. The score came in the final quarter and Wayne John converted for two points.

The JV Dogs home opener is Thursday night when they host Gonzales.

Medina squeaks by Natalia

Bobcats win season opener 7-6

Their only score of the night came with an 11-yard run into the end zone by Clifford Watts in the second quarter, followed by a one-point kick by Wes Blakeney; but it was enough to assure Medina's football Bobcats of a 7-6 victory over Natalia on Friday, Sept. 2.

Natalia scored with 2:30 left in the second half, on a fumble return by Art Contreras. The extra-point run failed.

Medina's offensive line included Sean Mills, Gary Swanner, David Derry, Marlon Schreyder, Zach Joseph, Carl Vestal, Bill Simmons and Rick Mayfield. The offense did a good job, said Bobcat coach Rick Ingram, and defensive standouts included Clint Townsend, Clifford Watts, Chris Whitehead and Bill Simmons.

Medina had: 13 first downs to Natalia's 7; 128 yards rushing to 79; 30 yards passing to 94; and 5 fumbles to 3.

Medina travels to Falls City Friday, Sept. 9.

Lady Bulldog volleyball season continues

Bandera's Lady Bulldog varsity volleyball team's record for the season slipped to 3-5, when they were defeated 13-15, 9-15, by Kerrville Tivy on Thursday, Sept. 6. Bandera missed served a comeback attempt completely unsuccessful, said coach Eileen McDonald.

The JV girls beat Bandera 14-16, 16-14, 7-15; and Kerrville's freshmen beat Bandera 11-15, 6-15. Bandera's JV season records is 2-2, and their freshmen stand at 3-1.

The varsity Lady Bulldogs came out in the Honda tournament, with 5 wins and 1 loss, over the weekend. Friday, Bandera defeated Sabinal 15-12, 10-15; Ingram 15-9, 15-7; and Uvalde 15-9, 15-14. Saturday, Bandera lost to Tivy 11-15, 9-15, then won 15-13, 15-12 over Sabinal.

Wimberley defeated Bandera 3-15, 15-10, 12-15 on Aug. 30. The Bandera JV lost 9-15, 15-7, 17-15; and the Bandera freshmen won 15-8, 2-15, 15-9.

In the varsity game, Kelly Vos spiked 9 for 13, with 5 kills and had 4 assists; Kelly Rigby served 10 for 12, with 4 assists; Heidi Hicks passed 12 for 13; Joni Heil passed 8 for 12, with 6 digs; Wyllyn Zickler served 8 for 9 with 3 aces, spiked 5 for 8 with 3 kills, passed 9 for 11, and blocked 5 for 8 with 4 straight downs; Abby Nightingale spiked 4 for 5 with 2 kills, and passed 8 for 8; Jackie Edwards served 6 for 6 with 4 digs; Adriana Blow spiked 4 for 5 with 2 kills; and Sara Erfurt served 7 for 7.

For the Bandera JV, Tameika Stricker served 4 with 3 kills and 4 assists; Linda Carter served 14 with 2 aces and 2 kills; Dana Montague served 8 with 1 ace and 7 kills; Kelly Capps served 5 with 1 ace, 1 kill and 2 assists; Jennifer Biab served 2; Kristy Anderson served 3 with 3 kills; and Susie Boscoe served 1, with 1 ace and 1 kill.

For Bandera's freshmen, Michelle Dexter served 13 with 1 kill and 2 assists; Tracy Edwards served 9 with 2 aces and 1 dig; April Koehler served 2 with 4 kills; Ashley Godfrey served 3 with 1 assist; Colleen Forey served 3 with 1 kill.

Social Security Funeral Benefits Information $$$

RETIREES INSURANCE GROUP has a proud tradition of serving our community. In today's economy, rising costs are of concern to all of us, particularly those on a fixed income. A major concern to all of us is the shrinking value of our Social Security benefits. For example, did you know that Social Security provides for less than 7.5% of the average burial expense? Did you know that the dollar amount provided by Social Security has not changed since 1952, over 40 years ago.

We are proud to present a new program that will protect your loved ones from an unexpected financial hardship. YOU DO NOT HAVE TO BE A MEMBER OF RETIREES INSURANCE GROUP TO PARTICIPATE IN THIS PROGRAM!

Some of the outstanding features of this program include:

- ✓ AVAILABLE TO AGE 90
- ✓ A PLAN FOR EVERYONE - REGARDLESS OF HEALTH*
- ✓ FULL BENEFITS FROM DAY ONE
- ✓ ANNUAL INCREASE IN BENEFITS TO HELP OFFSET INFLATION
- ✓ NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION REQUIRED
- ✓ YOU SELECT THE AMOUNT OF COVERAGE DESIRED
- ✓ ACCEPTED BY FUNERAL HOMES WORLDWIDE
- ✓ BENEFITS PAID AS YOU DIRECT

*Some health restrictions apply to individuals over 90 years of age

BANDERA

Charley Robertson (88) and the Bulldog line create lots of running room for Brad Parker (25).

Max leads the home crowd in the singing of the Alma Mater.

Bobby Jones (65) pulls out to block for Bulldog quarterback Kyle Woodland.

The Rhythm in Blue Dance Team and the Bulldog Band entertain the halftime crowd.

Jimmy Stroud puts pressure on the Dripping Springs quarterback.
