Texas economic index up

The Texas economy will continue to grow in early 1996, but at a slower pace than we've seen in 1995, according to figures releases by the Texas Compruleir's office last week.

The prediction is based on the latest Index of Leading Texas Economic Indicators which show the Texas economy doing slightly better than the national economy.

The Comproller's Office predicted that holiday sales across the state would increase just 3.5 percent over last year.

The overall stock value of Texas-based businesses is 24.4 percen higher than October 1994, a sign of investor confidence in Texas

Hezekiah Griffin lived on East Verde Creek. Hesenan Grinn nived on Last vertee Creek, southeast of Bandera, where he had pre-empted 160 acres of land. His father and family lived with him. Among the Griffins was a young man named Josiah Griffin. One day when Josiah named Josiah Griffin. One day when Josiah went out to look for some horses, he was attacked by two Indians and came near losing his life. He was unarmed, but fought the red-skins off with rocks and kept them dodging until his sister ran to his aid with a shotgun. Griffin was pretty badly wounded with arrows, one penetrating his arm, another his thigh and a third struck him in the small of the back. The spike that penetrated his thigh embedded itself in the bone, and was removed three years later by Dr. Herff of San Antonio.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

An old Spanish Proverb states. .He is always right who suspects

He is always right who suspects that he makes mistakes. Everyone "goofs" once in a while. Some people seem to "goof" more over again and never seem to learn from their mistakes over and over again and never seem to learn from their mistakes. They know it doesn't do any good to brood over their mistakes. The past is the past. It's time to forge shead with what is to be done.

with what is to be done.

Fortunate, indeed, is the person who has learned to take his mistakes as well as his accomplishments.

Fortunate, too, is the person who can admit his mistakes with a sense of humor and with wisdom. We like this saying by Hugh White. "When you make a mistake, don't look back at it long. Take the reason of the thing into your mind, and then look forward. Mistakes are lesons of wisdom. The past cannot be changed. The future is yet in your power.

Wo'n not stopping development, said County Flood Plain Administrator Doyle Haner. We'n just trying to get a handle plain. And the Golly way to monitor development in the flood plain is to monitor it everywhere in the county.

A key element of the regulations state that 'no structure or land in the unincorporated areas of Bandera County shall be reached without first administrator to the County Administrator.

"The permit process is largely applicable to habitable structures, said Haner. You can build in the flood plain but certain regulations should be met."

Haner has issued a step by step outline of the process for obtaining a permit.

1. Builders must complete a developance of the county Administrator of the process for obtaining a permit.

2. Include a $25 application fee made payable to the Bandera County Treasurer.

3. Forward the above items to the See FLOOD, p. 2

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

During the early years a child is frequently asked his or her age. It is one of the first things learned. Birthday cards mentioning an exac age are often seen. Candles on cakes correspond in equa

In later years, family records, court records, school records, employment records, Social Security records all mention age. From the birth certificate to the death certificate, age is a dominate concern. In many cases the concern is unwarranted, even absurd. It is ridiculous when either the young or old attach a mistaken importance to the either the young or old attach a mistaken importance to the number of candles or the cake. Behavior, ability, achievements, akilla, health, attitude, and mental outlook are the indicators of the realistic age. For example, in your own case, if you did not actually know how old you are, how old would you realistically think you area?...

Figuring that the way to a deadbeat deaf's heart is through his pocket, the 74th Legislature adopted a plan in effect in other states to apply a little pressure. It debuted with a great fanfare. Nearly everyone but the dade involved seement to think it was a good idea. Since it went into effect in August 1995, only baby steeps have been taken.

We've talking, of course, about the plan to get parents who have been ordered to pay child support to actually do it. The large majority of the 800,000 cases in Texas are fathers with, apparently, a sprinking of mothers. They owe shout $25 billion to halp their children with food, clothers, dentiest, doctors, and with the state of the state leverage on minary of these parents—or so they throught. Then they nested that there are many things that we as oftened to that we must have permission which comes by way fleenises: drivers licenses, business iscenses, professional licenses, hunting and fishing. The state was given the power to suspend many of these licenses as a means of develocing a more venerous attitude on the cast licensee and others.

The state was given the power to suspend many of these licensee as a means of developing a more generous attitude on the part of the deadbeat dads. That was back in the spring. This week, Texas Attorney General Dan Morales got around to suspending one-that's right, one-license.

The guy who got to be the deadbeat dad posterboy is Harrison B. Johnson of El Paso, Johnson lott his funeral director's license.

The guy who got to be the deadbeat dad posterboy is Harrison B. Johnson of B Passo, Johnson of B Passo, Johnson of R Passo, Johnson that is furned nicretor's license because he owes $53,980 in back child support. When the Associated Press tried to reach him to see if he would pay up, his dad said he was moving, perhaps to a state that isn't so tough. It would be hard to find such a place. To be fair to Morales' office, the attorney general has noted that after early warnings were sent to 75,000 parents elligible for the program in Association of the Passon of the Passon pay.

We suspect the legislators who backed this plan expected to see a quick burst of cases demonstrating the law had teeth, and the state had the guits to use it. Instead, we've started with only bally steps after nearly a year.

Those who are gime to be baby steps after nearity a year.

Those who are going to be moved by the threats have been. It's time to put the law to work, suspend some licenses and make some real progress in making deadbeat dads act responsible.

A fire in Wharton's Dock last week came dangerously close to several small homes on the like shore. Fire fighters from Lakeshore VFD and Banders VFD responded to the fire, along with several bystanders. The fire was brought under control with no damage to the houses. Dry conditions and low humidity make grass fires a dangerous possibility. Local fire chiefs urge everyone to exercise caution with brush and trash fires.

We started Super Bowl Sunday morning out a little early with a structure fire at 3:30 a.m. (The third house fire in a week.)

The Robert Dunlap residence in Pebble Beach I had the atticulty involved upon arrival of the fire trucks. The fire was confined to the attic withdray moderate smoke and water damage. This fire sets up another save for a smoke alarm. Mrs. Dunlap and her baby were home alone with Robert off fishing. They were wakened by the smoke smoke was the smoke start. with Robert off fishing. #### January 31, 1996 - Hill Country Real Estate Guide

Most buyers will use same broker next time

Researchers say most homebuyers will use the same real estate agent next time. According to a National Association of Realtors (NAR) nation-wide survey of 1,470 homebuyers, 85 percent say they will use the same broker again. The key question is: "Why?"

Demographics work in favor of repeat business. For example, older homebuvers are more inclined to use the same agent again. Other buyers likely to return to the same real estate agent are investors; single, male buyers; and buyers looking for larger residence, a smaller yard or a change in climate for health reasons.

The real estate firm, however, has the most to say about whether or not a homebuyer returns. Service, agent characteristics and conditions of the initial buyer-agent meeting are critical factors.

Buyers want their real estate agent to provide information about the residence. environmental inspections, legal and title services, surveyors and moving firms. Repeat buyers say they appreciate advice on contract negotiations and assistance in

Buyers tend to avoid using the same agent if the homebuyer is denied financing or if the sales agent did to show the home they eventually purchased.

Perceptions of the agent also influence the repeat buyer. Real estate professionals viewed as well trained, experienced knowledgeable of the market and schools, successful and professional in appearance are more likely to be used

How homebuyers learn of the real estate agent or property also influences the likelihood or repeat business. Buyers who discover the property or agent through friends, neighbors, relatives or television are more likely to use the same agent again.

Although real estate brokers common ly market property through yard signs and newspaper advertisements, buyers whose initial contact comes from these media are less likely to use the same agent next time.

It is much easier to identify why homebuyers use the same agent again than why not, the study concludes

The key to understanding commercial leases

January 31, 1996 - Hill Country Real Estate Guide

Although commercial property lease forms are standardized, there is no such thing as a standard commercial property lease. Negotiations between landlord and tenant are common.

In fact, the economic clauses of commercial property leases may vary among a specific property's tenants. Two tenants occupying equal space may make signifi-cantly different payments to the property

The eventual wording of the lease largely depends upon the negotiating experience of the tenants and landlord. Understanding specific clauses of the lease is essential to determining the property's estimated income

Lease commencement date. A lease is dated when it is negotiated and signed However, the lease may begin on a later date. Correctly identifying the lease commencement date is important because the lease's expiration date depends on the commencement date rather than the signing date.

Minimum rent. The agreed fixed minimum rent is stated in the lease, usually in terms of the monthly rent to be paid Long-term leases may enable the owner to cope with rising management costs and to achieve a competitive rate of Specific increases in the monthly fixed minimum rent may be agreed to; although these planned increases are included in the lease, they may be noted in an entirely different section of the

to specific economic indicators, such as the Consumer Price Index, known in the trade as an escalator clause.

Percentage rent. Commercial retail leases usually include a fixed minimum rent and a percentage rent provision. The latter requires the tenant to pay the larger of the fixed minimum rent or a stated percentage of gross sales.

"Percentage rent allows the owner to share in the benefit of rising sales over time and encourages the owner to maximize the center's appeal to consumers." said Wayne E. Etter, professor of finance with the Real Estate Center at Texas A&M University.

"If there were no increase in the fixed base minimum rent or if the tenant's rent increases without concern for increased sales, the owner might be less concerned with the center's competitive position." Operating expenses. Commercial leases usually require tenants to pay their pro rata share of property taxes, property and utilities-but not leasing and property management expenses.

When the tenant pays no additional payments, the lease is called a "gross ease". When the tenant pays property taxes and insurance, the lease is called a "double net lease". A "triple net lease" means the tenant pays property taxes." insurance and common area mainte-

When tenants pay property taxes, insurance, common area maintenance and utilities, the lease is called a 'quadruple net lease". +
The owner normally bears the "pro rata" share of operating expense for unleased space. For this to be so, however, the tenant's "pro rata" share must be based on the property's "gross leasable area" and not the "gross leased area". Other clauses. Some long-term retail leases require tenants to remodel their premises prior to the lease's expiration. Most leases require tenants to spend an amount equal to a specified percentage of gross sales on advertising each year. "Use clauses" limit the nature of retail tenants' product lines and, therefore, limit competition among tenants within a

Myths about rental property

In a market believed to be dominated by institutional investors, 60 percent of U.S. rental housing actually is owned by individuals.

In central cities, long thought the domain of institutional investors, 86 percent of rental housing is owned by individuals.

When researchers studied the U.S. Census Burea's Residential Finance Survey, these and other surprise results were uncovered. Owners, managers and brokers of residential rental properties may find these facts useful in determining strength.

Institutional investors own much more than large multiple-unit properties. Single-family properties represent one-half of institutional-owned properties when expressed as property county, not units.

Partnerships, representing five percent of rental property ownership in 1981, own just three percent today. The decline has been attributed to less-than-favorable tax changes and overbuilding in many markets nationwide.
One in every 20 rental properties

One in every 20 rental properties receives a financial assistance, but those five percent represent 16 percent of total dwelling units. Government assistance is targeted at the low rental rate properties, right? Not necessarily, according to this study.

The average monthly rental rate for units getting assistance was $551 per unit as opposed to a $438 rent for units not benefiting from government assistance. The study doesn't show whether the assisted units are of higher quality or if the rents are increased in assisted properties.

Savings and loan associations, although falling from more than 42 percent of the total market share in 1981, are still the main holder of first mortgages on residential rental property and have financed 26.8 percent of them. Federal agencies are quickly gaining market share, jumping from 13 percent market share to 25.7 percent.

Commercial banks showed a gain from 15.9 to 19.8 percent and mortgage companies showed the biggest gain, increasing their share by more than 300 percent.

The most surprising statistic of residential rental real estate might be the extent of negative cash flows. Negative cash flow was strongest among smaller properties and weakest among larger properties.

More than one-half of the one-to-four unit properties had negative cash flows. The Northeast, with 57 percent of all properties in a negative cash flow position, had the most problems.

"From a Texas perspective, owners, managers and brokers no doubt face a different rental housing environment, given a higher than national average of rate of job and population growth and no rent controls," said Ted C. Jones, chief economist for the Real Estate Center at Texas A&M University.

are they?

Annough unresnates are a 3 context-puts annual market, little research has been done on them. This is why a recent study by resparchers at Lander College in Greenwood, South Carolina and Augusta College in Georgia has drawn attention.

After comparing similar rentals available in the market, researchers have decided that buying time-shares for personal use is a positive investment. Buyers of previously-owned units have better economic results than do those who have notice that the province that the property of the province that the property of the province that the staters for personal use is a positive unvestment. Buyers of previously-owned units have better economic results than do thone who bely new units. The rudy, using computer immulation with assumptime that the property of the property of the protine that unit bought for living purposes rither than investment has to be owned at least five years to go a positive rate of return in 94 percent of the properties. For investors, however, the conclusion differs average annual internal rate of return for resale timeshares is only 1.38 percent. New units average only 0.78 percent.

"Even in a major national resort such as Hilton Head, South Carolina, with major national developers, timeshares fail as viable investments," said Ted C.

Jones, chief economist for the Real Estate Cen Texas A&M University.

The researchers coachade that "people who is simeshares on credit do so at peral to themselve Trineshares, at least in their study, are poor invothat are of little benefit to owner-occupiers. Reunits, although doing better than new purchases have resale risks.

The study was based on 36 multifamily times developments, including 11 new ones, at Hilton The number of bedrooms ranged from one to ti and included locations on the beach front, golf op poolside and secluded locations.

Prices entitling owners to an annual one-week ranged from $5,000 to $22,000. Only the high son—from June 15 to August 15—not counting in week of July 4, was considered. Researchers made a number of assignments.

Researchers made a number of assumptions ing taxes, maintenance, commissions and depotion.

Are these results applicable to the Texas tir market?

"Not necessarily," said Jones, "but the approach i useful framework for analyzing the merits of timeshares from both a user and investor perspective."

Apples welcomed low temperatures

Winter's icy blast shut down schools and besionsess last woek as a sub-arctic cold front swept through the hill country with ice and a few some furnits.

A record low temperature of 14.5 degrees was recorded for Sunday, Feb. 4 by Baster Adams at Love Creek Orchards in Medina. The high for Sunday was a Adams reports that Priday saw a low of 50 with a high of only 90, Saturday's low was 24 with a high of 33. Monday the low cas again reached freezing at 32. Card Adams said apple growers in the hill country welcomed the cold since it added to the chill hours required by "Different varieties require different hours, but most of our varieties need 600-800 chill hours, or hours with a temperature below 45 degrees," said Adams. "The really," nor hours with a temperature below 45 degrees, "said Adams. "The really," no rhours with a temperature below 45 degrees," said Adams. "The really readed the overcast saple trees into thinking spring is around the corner and buds begin to swell too early. "Apples are pretty smart. They arent cashy folded," said Adams, but we were seeing some bud swelling prior to this cold weather." The cold spell should side down the apples growth cycle.

On March 9, 1996 Bandera County will celebrate its 140th birthday with a big bash in Medina at the Apple Festival grounds.

A tradition since 1991, the birthday party will feature lots of local entertainment and many exhibitions of skills that were practiced locally back when Banders first became a separate county from Bexar County.

One of the pioneer skills demonstrations will be the making of coal. Making charcoal was one of the ways in the early days one of the ways in the early days to add to the income of families in the Pipe Creek area during times when jobs were hard to find and money was searce.

"I think it's kind of a remark-able coincidence that some of the names in the early charcoal makers were, White, Odom and Edwards, Doig White said. Actually, J.B.'s and Doug's grandfathers were coal makers, while Harley's father was another.

Charcoal was made of oak or cedar, but cedar charcoal was preferred because it has less of a tendency to smoke when burned in the house. Cedar trees were so scarce that the old-timers had to drive for miles to find some.

Bulletin Editor
The Bandera ISD hopes to see considerable savings in water usage with the installation of an underground sprinkler system at Bulleton Edwards.
Pete Burton, director of maintenance, and Mike Williamson, athletic director, presented a recommendation for the meeting Monday, Feb 12.
Estimated cost of the installation is approximately $3,000, said Burton. He indicated to the board that the system would pay for itself in two years time.
Burton said the timed system would save water, keep the field in better condition and save money on employees' overtime.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

There is a verse by a philosopher Nixon Waterman, which goes like this: "Don't hitch your wagon to a star - Young man, for, as a rule -

One feels that Lincoln himself might have written these words, for that is the kind of ambition that he possessed... the practical, everyday kind. He had the determination to do perfectly the work which lay before him. He did not plan when he was a postmaster at New Salem, to be Freedient of the United States. He planned to be a lawyer and worked to that end, Yee, when his legal training fitted him for political position, and when the time survived, he gave his heart and soul to winning people to his party and the principles for which it stood. Even when he reached the White House, it was his immediate duties and the welfere of his country which defined his attentions. One feels that Lincoln himself might have written

Now is the time to go in easting boxes ready.

Below is the design of a nesting box I have had the most success with. It is with household tools. My best luck has been with a box located on the corner post of the vegetable garden. It faces north. The box is 10 feet from ground level. The support is 10 feet from ground level. The first young fisedjings will start another nest.

Done of the things on the agenda of the city council meeting on Feb. 12 came as no surprise to those attending the meetings of the council. They may be a surprise to others.

The editor of The Bulletin from head to toe. / Two local ranchers, D. Welch and Joel Reyna risked their very lives and stepped over into the pen with the 1,800 lb. bull and after sevwrote a column several weeks ago on the lack of participation by citizens at city council meetings. Apparently this column fell on deaf ears.

There are approximately 580 registered voters in the city out of an estimated 877 people who live in the city proper. Did you know that only 52 people voted in the election to pass a city sales tax increase! Forty-three for and nine against Forty-three for and nine against. If the council had not called people to get out and vote, I doubt if that many would have voted. If you live and pay taxes in the city, you need to attend council meetings. Council business is not conducted at local eateries.

Constable

Proven dedication to the safety and well-being of the community and an expert knowledge of roads, ranches and residential locations in Bandera County are-among the credentials offered by Phillip Tobin in his candidacy for Constable Precinct 1 in the March 12 primary.

Born in San Antonio while his family was liv-ing on their Bandera ranch, Tobin has thus spent most of his life here except for school years in San Antonio and service in Viet Nam. He volun-teered for duty in the U.S. Navy after high school graduation and was stationed in Da Nang and on river patrol duty during the conflict.

After honorable discharge in 1970, Tobin has lived and worked in Bandera County and South Texas ever since. He has vast experience in farming, livestock and oilfield work.

With 20 years as a volunteer firefighter and rescue worker, he successfully completed, in December 1995, an eight-month course in law nforcement at San Antonio College.

Coming from a long-standing family tradition in the Republican party, Tobin points out that ne grandfather was a member of the Wyoming egislature and another a town mayor and county legislature and another a town mayor and county official in Kansas. Two Wyoming cousins recently served simultaneously as speaker of the house and president of the State Senate as and participant in social, fund raising and other party activities.

My family and I moved to the Live Oak Acres subdivision in Pipe Creek in 1978. My wife Pat and I still reside there. I have 30 years of experience in maintenance operations, developing and managing large multi-year budgets, project and property management, personnel management, and working in executive groups.

I have been attending Commissioner's Court meetings for several years and have served County Government as a volunteer administrative.

County Government as a volunteer administrative assistant to the County Judge and as a member of a number of committees. I believe that my experience, coupled with my observation of and participation in County Government qualifies me to be your next County Commissioner.

I am 59 years old, retired and ready to go to work for the people of Precinct 1 and Banders County. I would consider it an honor to serve.

the stime to put some debt on the books, advised Larry Manire of the firm of Evanston Dodge in Dallas.
Manire was addressing the BISD board at a workshop held Monday, Feb. 12 to look at options for financing building and removation projects at the districts Middle School.

The financing building the state of the state of the projects and recommended that the board go shead and aim for a bond election to present to local tappayers in the Fall of 1996.

The financial advisor told the lower that with interest rates as low as they are, they would be acting in the long-term interest of taxpayers by taking advantage of taxpayers by taking until rates begin to rise. During the workshop session the board continued to struggle with decisions about the needs at the Middle School. The general consensus seemed to center around the construction of a two-stopy building that would provide a larger cafeteria, library and media center, classrooms and some office and storage space.

With the new construction, the district would be compelled by the Americans with Disabilities Act to upgrade other facilities on campus to make them handi-capped accessible.

The core building and the ADA construction might make up Phase One of the project.

Phase Two would involve odeling of the dressing re remodeling of the dressing rooms and gym.

All of these plans are very ten-tative at this time. The board will finalize plans for financing and construction in the next few months. In order for a bond issue to be voted upon in the Fail, the board will have to take action in early summer. Superintendent Gus Pfeiffer said that he would encourage cit-izen involvement in the planning Manire advised the board to offer the bond election their enthusiastic support. A positive attitude for passage of a bond election starts with the board, he said.

The presidential election and discussion of the flat tax might have some influence on interest rates, Manire said. "A flat tax makes it difficult to maintain low rates for municipal borrowing, and as that argument heats up, rates may go up. Manire said the generally accepted rate of debt is 10 percent of assessed valuation. Bendern ISD's debt is at low 2 percent. That should help qualify the district for the lowest possible interest rates, 'he said. Board president Margaret Paradee said, 'd' don't think anyone will disagree that the Middle The board seemed to agree that the district would not use the architectural firm of Promberg and Associates, which designed Hill Country

The Texas Legislature many did something that by preclaiming this band, originated by our own Rudy Robbins, as the "official" Cowboy Rand of Texas.

Deer Editor:

My wiss and it were recent visitors to your town, and wish to express to your citizens our thanks for the warm reception that everyone gave us. We have never been in a friendlier town. Your cowboy image is very interesting to possile from Chicago.

We read in your paper about high school auditorium on show as any we may be there.

Your Chamber of Commerce should hire them to go out and promote Bandera. We will put Bandera on our regular list of places to visit on our annual winter trek south.

What's new in home building?

Many new and innovative home-building products were on display at this year's National Association of Home Builders' Show and Convention in Houston.

One of the new products is computer software specifically for residential homebuilders. The software allows builders to show customers photorealistic renderings of home designs. After the customer selects a plan, the software generates construction drawings based on the design. It even provides job cost esti-

Another computer product-a virtual reality show home on compact diskallows builders and homebuvers to tour an actual show home as if they were in the home itself. For example, they can see a 360-degree perspective of the entire kitchen as well as a close-up of the sinkcomplete with specific product informa-

Demand and quality of life makes 'fixer' prices higher

It was a typical balmy day in December when the middle-aged, bearded antiquer stopped for a few minutes to marvel at the peace and quiet of Boerne.

He asked a local realtor about properties in the area, particularly an 'older German type rock home with a tin roof on a few acres that could stand a little fixin'

"Nothin' special, you understand," he said. "I'm sure there must be a lot of them around here since this is an old German community'

"I don't want to pay an arm and a leg.

either," he said. According to the local realtors, the three most demanded properties in Boerne are (1.) three bedroom, two bath house on five acres in the Boerne School District; (2.) three bedroom, two bath house in Boerne under $80,000; and (3.) an old German rock home, tin roof, fixer

Any realtor with 100 such listings could probably put a ticket machine at the front door and ask the customers to take a number and wait.

According to many local realtors, however, the number of old German type rock homes in the area is very limited and most of them are not for sale at any price. Also, thinking such a piece of property should be picked up for a song is essentially an insult to the old German settlers of the area. These old homes are a piece of their culture. "If you want it, you'll have to pay," they will say.

Boerne, compared to other areas of the state, is an area very much in demand commanding better than usual prices. Boerne schools are among the highest rated schools in the state.

The quality of life, and the outlook for the future all contribute the higher than average -- and rising -- real estate prices. even for the older "fixer-upper" homes.

installation is fast Another floor system prevents floor squeaks by putting a formulated gasket between the subfloor panels and floor joists. Rolled on top of the joist before the sub-flooring is fastened down, the system prevents squeak-causing gaps from forming between the wood and fasteners.

Builders also viewed floors made from two kinds of wood familiar to Texansmesquite and pecan. Mesquite flooring is two-and-a-half times harder than oak and has a rich color. Pecan comes in colors ranging from red to gray to brown and tan. The company also will custom cut and dry a customers' trees for use in furniture or lumber.

Window manufacturers unveiled an energy-efficient window with a precedent-setting R rating of 10. The new window is triple glazed. A combination of argon and krypton gases fills two sealed airspaces in the window.

The unit's three panes of glass have two coated surfaces that almost eliminate air infiltration and gas migration.

A lightweight, high-performance wall panel building system was featured at the show. It is fire safe, earthquake resistant, rodent proof and provides high levels of sound insulation. Made of recycled Styrofoam and cement, it may or may not require insulation and sheetrock.

the celebration of Bandera County's 140th Birthday Party. Organisers have lined up an exciting series of participants in the pioneer skills demonstrations. In addition to Shirley Hatfield Klepfer with her spinning demo, and Doug White and J.B. Edward making charcoal, Eric Marley will be on hand with his teepees and Indian lere. James Honig will show off blacksmithing skills and Morris Pue will do some whittling. In addition to the pioneer skills there will be plenty of musical entertainment throughout the afternoon provided by Caliche Hills, Dusty Birthess and the Hilltoppers. If you would like to show off your cake baking skills, you can enter the cake contest. Interested bakers should contact Jans Osbourn, County Extension Agent, at 796-7765 for complete rules.

The organizing committee encourages every one who situads to bring a cake so that all can enjoy cake and ice resum for the party. The Bandera County Historical Commission has plaumed a self-guided historical walking tour of Medina. The tour will feature the former site of a grist mill and the Pate blacksmith shop, the old cotton gins itse and the site of the old IGA store. There will also be a cooking skills demonstration by the colorful dutch oven cookers, and delicious smells from their steaming pots will perfume the grounds.

'I Carolyn's Corner

Way back in the spring of 1994, the Bandera County Historical Commission held a garage sale to raise some needed funds. At the close of the sale then

At the close of the sale there were a few things left that we were just going to pass on to another needy group to try to sell from their garage. Peggy Tobin, who was helping with the packing up, spotted a prim titve oil painting that she decided she needed to take decided she needed to take home with her, so she loaded it into her car and said she would get the check to me in a couple of days. Now Peggy had purchased several things from the sale and had written separate checks for them as the urge to buy struck, so when I made the deposit of the proceeds, I thought I had Peggy's check for

Peggy then tells me that she had gotten a call from the store telling her that they had found her check made out to me dated March 1994 on the floor of the super store.

Peggy's theory was that I had tucked the check in a safe place and had forgotten to deposit it. I figured she had tucked it away in a safe place to give to me at some conve-nient time and forgotten to do

We're still unsure of where the check has been all this time and how it turned up in Kerrville. Was it Charles Goodnight of Palo Duro fame who accepted a check for thousands of dollars in payment for cattle and then carried it around uncashed for carried it around uncashed for years? He said he always knew the check was good and he didn't need the cash right then. Well, I know this check will always be good, too.

But when it arrived in the mail from the WalMart people, I felt compeiled to rush over to the County Treasurer's office to deposit in the Historical Commission's account.

I just hope I can get it deposited before it disappear

Heyl Don't light that fire! The burn ban is still in effect. With less than 1/2 to 1 and 1/2 inches to quall the fire danger. If there is any doubt about fire conditions, just look at the new signs paint and the fire danger. If the signs are on the borders of the fire department's protection area. They have an indicator on the bottom which tells the degree of fire danger.

The burn ban was established with the area fire departments being given the authority to authorize burns that they declare safe. We hope this will take care of any instances where a controlled burn can be safely conducted. We read with sadness abut the death of an old and loved former resident, Earl Achilles. Mr. Achilles lived on Elmhurst for many years and was the father of a school mate, Jerry Achilles, we used to run around with.

Heyl Don't light that fire! The burn ban is still in effect. With less than 1/2 to 1 and 1/2 inches of rain, very little was done to quell the fire danger. If there is any doubt about fire conditions, just look at the new signs paint-old and erected by Medina Lake VFD's Gary Cook. The signs are on the borders of the fire department's protection area. They have an indicator on the bottom which tells the degree of fire danger.

The burn ban was established with the area fire departments being given the authority to authorize burns that they declare safe. We hope this will take care of any instances where a controlled burn can be safely conducted. We read with sadness abut the death of an old and loved former resident, Earl Achilles. Mr. Achilles lived on Elmhurst for many years and was the father of a school mate, Jerry Achilles, we used to run around with.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

To possess ideas is to gather flowers; to think, is to weave them into garlands. - Old Proverb.

garlands. Old Proverb.

In this day when business of all types is so needful of new ideas it would be folly for any businessman or woman to say, "I must be done my way because my way is right." The modern way group might be inspected and utilized.

"Many blunder in business through inability or an unwillingness to adopt new ideas. I have seen a success turn to failure also, because the thought which should be trained on big things is cluttered up with the burdensome detail of little things."

A PROUD PAST WITH A SOLID FUTURE

Four Generations. One Insurance Company. Germania.

Grandpa bought his first Germania farm insurance policy the same year he bought his first Model T. He always said the Model T took a load off his horse and Germania took a load off his mind. He joined Germania because he liked the idea of farmers banding together to protect one another. But he stayed because Germania never let him down. Our Dad saw the farm through lots of changes. Some of them were pretty scary, but it helped knowing that a strong, reliable company like Germania was there if he needed it. Now that I'm raising my own kide. I know why Dad and Grandpa trusted Germania. It's good doing business with a homegrown Texas company that really understands Texans. Today, Germania provides the home life and auto insurance that my family needs. I'm proud to carry on two family traditions: farm-

"We are asking the cooperation of the citizens with this dangerous situation," said

Raser.

The county's several volunteer fire departments made over 100 calls during the months of January and February. Over 2,000 acres of Bandera County have burned in that time.

Freezing weather, low humidity, and drying winds contribute to the hazardous conditions. Lack of rain has slowed the usual spring green-up as well. Commissioners Court will likely continue to extend the burn ban unless substantial rainfall is experienced.

He joined Germania because he liked the idea of farmers banding together to protect one another. But he staved because Germania never let him down. Dad saw the farm through lots of changes. Some of them were pretty scary, but it helped knowing that a strong, reliable company like Germania was there if he needed it. Now that I'm raising my own kids, I know why Dad and Grandpa trusted Germania. It's good doing business with a homegrown Texas company that really understands Texans. Today, Germania provides the home, life, and auto insurance that my family needs. I'm proud to carry on two family traditions: farm

Walk-a-thon goes over the top for fund-raising

First Baptes Church of Pipe Creek under the direction of captain C.W. Edens brought in over $1,000 with 25 walkers. The walkers participated in Salunday's Walk for Ridds to raise funds for baseful fields in the Pipe Creek Likefishis area. Organizers set $2,000 as their good and went over the top thanks to enthusiastic community support. Additional donations can be made to Friends of Baseful P.O. Bott $2328, Pipe Creek, TX, F0803.

City bringing sanitary system up to standards

On January 22, the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission conducted an annu-al sanitary survey of the city's water system and several areas were cited for deficiencies. However, Public Works Director Mike Cardenas said most of the areas have already been correct-ed.

areas have already been corrected.

TNRCC representative Don White found the following areas were not in compliance:

The system must develop a sample siting plan.

Cardenas said that although the system does have a site sample of the system does have a site sample of the system does have a site sample plan.

Marvin A. Haffield, a retired San Antonio business-man and Bandera County rancher, died March 7, 1996, in his San Antonio home. He was 92. Born in Wilson County near Stockdale in 1904, his family moved in 1907 to Medina, which ever after was home to him. He was the valedictorian of his Medina high school class and graduated from Southwest Texas State University in 1925.

Returning to Medina, he became the town druggist, as well as progressively a teacher, principal, and super-intendent of the Medina School District. In 1945, he moved to San Antonio where he was, before his retire-ment in 1990, the owner and operator of a downtown ment in 1990, the owner and opportune of pharmacy.

In 1930, he married Lucille Elizabeth Smith of Sutherland Springs, who died in 1990. He is survived by their two children, five grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. Their children are Sarah Jane Hatfield Smith and her husband. Dr. Gerald W. Smith, of-Plano, Detas; and Dr. Thomas Marvin Hatfield and his wife, Carol Sutherland, of Austin. He held special attachments for his nephew. W.O. Hatfield and his wife, Dorothy, of Medina; for his namesake, Henry Marvin Adams and his wife, Annie, of San Antonio; and for their families.

were toan raatiseid, sara Hastiteld, from S. Hastiteld, william Thomas Hastield, Mark Wm. Hastield Smith, and Henry Marvin Adams Jr. Honorary pallbearers were his former students in the Medina Schools.

The embodiment of steadfast love for his family and friends, his generosity towards others, particularly for their education or for medicine was well-known. Mr. Hastield initiated, in 1994, in cooperation with the Board of Trustees, Medina Independent School District, an endowed scholarship fund with a gift of $50,000. He hoped that additional gifts would increase the endowment to not less than $200,000, and, that the interest from the endowment would provide financial support for post-secondary education to individuals of any age whose legal residence was within the 1994-95 boundaries of the school district. He intended that the fund would be used to help ambitious and capable people possessed of integrity and determination, regardless of their previous cacdemic achievement.

Memorial contributions to the endowment fund may be addressed to the Medina ISD, Medina, Texas 78055.

I love Bandera. It is one of the the whole world.

Only in Bandera would we think it's perfectly normal for a fellow to have T.E.X.A.S inlaid in gold in his front teeth, to let the world know where his heart lay every time he smiled. Only in Bandera would we have a Kasoo Band, complete with singing dog.

Only in Bandera do we see a bride in full wedding regalia in a trail ride on her wedding day, accompanied by the wedding party. We have in Bandera a tolerance for eccentrics, for blow-hards and for fools. We know them and when a newcomer t the area goes into shock at something they say or do, we simply shrug and say, "Well that's old Dufus. He's been that's old Dufus. He's been doing that for years."

But there is a side of Bandera that I have never quite figured out. That is our ability to take a good indea, a good project, a good event, and simply destroy it with petty bickering and back-stabbing.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

Do you remember the last time you were iii? Do you remember he was tune you were iii? Do you remember how when you headed back to recovery, the days of convaluescence seemed to drag? During these days the visits and telephone calls from s and relatives were most appreciated.

Think for just a moment of the many folks hereabout who are facing solid months and perhaps years of invalidism. It takes a particular and superior quality of real bravery to be cheerful under such reumstances.

Our thought today is that if all of us who are lesses with good health would take the time in our any everyday schedule to call or pay a friendly visit to mesone who is a "Shut-in", we would be doing an inderstanding kindness to a less fortunate human ing. And, just perhaps, in return, we might absorb mething of the invalid patience, forbearance.

A PROUD PAST WITH A SOLID FUTURE

Four Generations. One Insurance Company. Germania.

Grandpa bought his first Germania farm insurance policy the same year he bought his first Model T. He always said the Model T took a load off his horse and Germania took a load off his mind. He joined Germania because he liked the idea of farmers banding together to protect one another. But he stayed because Germania never let him down. Dad saw the farm through lots of changes. Some of them were pretty scary, but it helped knowing that a strong, reliable company like Germania was nere if he needed it. Now that I'm raising my own kids, I know why Dad and Grandpa trusted Germania. It's good doing business with a homegrown Texas auto insurance that my family needs. I'm proud to carry on two family traditions: farm ing and Germania insurance. They've been good to our family for generations.

We were talking to our animal control officer at the rabise clinic Saturday. He was telling us that people don't seem to pay much attention to the leash law. We have been seem to pay much attention to the leash law. We have seen morning between 6 and 8. We are hopping the catch them in a live traps furnished by animal control.

These same dogs have confronted a neighbor and tried to round from a pistol at them. If anyone knows where two chows and a black lab with a white chest live, animal control would like to know. He can be contacted through the sheriffs office. Lea's try to abide by the law and vaccinated. It is for our own and vaccinated. It is for our own and vaccinated. It is for our own good as well as our neighbor's. Well, we better get to work. We will be looking for your comments and newsbits over the back fence.

Tinancially, something like that would be terrible for Bandera County.

The tit is not likely to happen again.

MacMillan said that since the jail is up to standards is every respect but population, the commission probably would not take such drastic steps.

Our only problem is that we have more bodies than we have beds, MacMillan said.

MacMillan said that since the past, and that the report filed with the commission can be misleading.

This is because the report to the commission is filed on the first day of each month from the county's monthly jail report. It happened that on Feb. 1, 1996-there were 17 prisoners in the jail.

As of March 29, there were only 14 peo-ple being held.
"It has been running close to full most of the time for the past three years," MacMillan said. "It is mostly felony offenders."

Nobody is counted as being part of the jail population until they have passed 72 hours in custody. After that, the sheriff said, it becomes apparent that they are said, it becomes apparent that they are not going to be able to make their bail.

Alternates elected were Jaye Rath, Marie Todd, Pam Lumley, and Daris Miller. Pive guesta will accompany the Bandera delematter.

and the Two resolutions were adopted by the county convention and will be presented at the state convention. They include support for the re-subtrication of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) without the cumbersome amendments which reject some students and weaken the act, and support for the 21st Century Democratic resolution focusing on issues of economic opportunity and personal security for all Texans.

GOP members vote on resolutions at Saturday's convention held at the county courthouse in the party's passorm and hamotous engage.

The ten delegates selected were County Attorney Kerry
Schneider, County and District Clerk Bernice Bates, Constable
Allen Hatley, Commissioner-elect James Mormando, Bandera County Republican Women's Club President Mary Jo Schaffer, County Chairman-elect James Cave, Lynn Warren, Bucky Densford, Carryla Edwards and Millie Rader.

The conventioneers approved the existing state Republican platform and three other resolutions. The first resolution expressed opposition to a Federal constitutional convention, the second opposed the use of US. troops in UN. forces, and the third asked for guaranteed property rights.

An objective of a previous study was to determine water availability from BMA's storage and irrigation ficilities. A secondary objective was to provide information on water lesses, water quality, geolydromental considerations, operations and maintenance, and how those billings affect water supply, to the continuous provides of the continuous and maintenance, and how those billings affect water supply, to amint in developing a Public Law 83-566 Watershod Plan for vater conservation by improving water delivery system and on farm irrigation water management practices within the BMA service area. Public Law 83-566 lays the groundwork for making federal funds available for watershed development plans.

BMA is currently plagued by huge water losses from their antiquated irrigation system. John Ward, president of BMA board of directors, has been reported to say that the system loses up to 75 percent of its water before use.

The plan developed by the NRCS includes lining canals and installing pipelines.

Total installation cost for the plan is estimated to be $41 million. An estimated 7,500 acre feet of water could be saved annually by canal improvements

Existing storage reservoirs Existing storage reservoirs will be improved and new ones installed at strategic locations to reduce water losses and improve delivery efficiency.

Erosion and canal stability problems will be eliminated by the installation of siphons or enclosed conduits.

monitored.

BMA cites increased urbanization of the San Antonio area as one reason for concern about better use of their water.

They state that their water causes is rapidly shifting the demand for water from agricultural to municipal and industrial use. The 66,000 acre feet BMA controls in Medina Lake may be diverted to this use. Indications are that BMA's master plan is to eliminate many of the smaller irrigators in the district and convert their water to the more profitable municipal and industrial uses.

BMA has already received a nillion and a half dollars from exar-Met, a San Antonio water district, purportedly for improvement of the BMA sys-

A Thought For The Week by John M. Grimes

Disappointment can be a blasting experience. Especially when high expertations are suddenly turned into denial, grief and discouragement. As the pressures of life increase, it seems that the cause for discouragement multiply. Have not all of us at one time or another faced a situation that have disappointed or cause for discouragement attitution that has disappointed or discouraged us?

Lat's think upon this quotation: 'Let's learn to label properly Disappointment and Discouragement for what they properly Disappointment and Discouragement for what they are two completely different states of mind. Disappointment can be a spur to improvement that will contribute to success. But discouragement is a mortal enemy that destroys courage and robe one of the will to fight.

But discouragement is a mortal enemy that destroys courage ment, but once as of the will to fight.

But concept the discouragement, and circumstance. Everyone must meet Disappointment what the transport may the signify a part of life. When it is unset, many times; it simply a part of Discouragement and failure. Or yearign correlives to Discouragement and failure. Or was many recognite each Disappointment as an asset by which we can profit, and take new strength from a lesson learned.

likely to find in the dictionary - yet. But like other new phrases that concern the conservation of the planet, eco-tourism is not hard to understand. In many places, tourists and visitors are increasingly being made aware of the flora and fauna unique, or natural to the area they are investigating.

And in that spirit, the Native Plant Society and the Bandera County Roadway Maintenance Department have agreed to leave unmowed a 600 foot section of Highway 16 so that approximately 135 species of plants native to the area will be allowed to flourish for the public's viewing pleasure. Some of the more unusually named plants that can seen at various times during the year are: the Scrambled Egg; the Frogfruit; the Eve's Necklace; and the Dog's Ear. The new attraction is called a "botany cut" and is a wildflower habitat area. This is the only "botany cut" in our district of 16 counties and may be the first one in

Monuments honor many memories

Landmarks honoring war heroes and veterans, rodeo cowboy ch ons, and commemorating Camp Montel and Bandera County pioneer Amasa Clark, stand on Bandera County Courthouse square. The five monuments stand in a line across the front of the courthouse along Main Street.

The rodeo cowboys' champions' monument honors local rodeo champions including Toots Mansfield, Ray Wharton, Buddy Groff, Todd Whitewood, Scooter Fries, Clay Billings, and Jimmy

The war heroes monument is a memorial to Bandera County men who sacrificed their lives in World War I. Some 23 names are inscribed on the granite monument that has stood since 1924.

The veterans' monument is the newest monument on the courthouse square, and is placed in honor and memory of all war veter-ans by the Bandera County veter-ans and auxiliaries. It is pledged as a "tribute to valor" in "patriotic alle-giance to sanctify God and country." The Camp Montel monument is a memorial to the Texans who served in the Confederacy. It commemorates Captain Charles de Montel and the Texas Civil War Frontier Defense. The monument was placed by the state of Texas in The Clark monument is a huge granite boulder erected as a memor ial to Bandera pioneer Amasa Clark, who died in 1927 at 101. Clark, the first permanent settler in Banders county, came here in 1852. A veteran of the Mexican war, his stone marker originally stood in the National Cemetery at Ft. Sam Houston. In 1945, the granite monument was moved to Bandera. Clark is buried in a family cemetery about four miles west of Bandera.

BALD FAGLE

Bald Eagle Ranch, coupled with the adjoining Hill Country State Natural Area, provides approximately 5,700 acres of scenic and primitive Hill Country, interconnected by almost 40 miles of trails. All of these trails are yours to enjoy from horseback, by hiking, or on one of our tough mountain bicycles. We know you'll enjoy a sunset ride through the ranch in our mule wagon pulled by Katy and Jenny.

We're different because -

- · We are an adult facility with only eight suites.
- · We only have registered Quarter Horses for riding.

You'll never feel crowded at Bald Eagle. All guest cottages are newly constructed. It's only a short walk to the dining room, lounge, Jacuzzi or stables. You will see and do things you've-only read about or dreamed

A little history lesson...

The City of Bandera was established in 1854, houses the only newspaper in the county, The Bandera Bulletin, and is the county seat. The population of Bandera is 877. The city is bordered on three sides by the Medina River and has a city park, which costs $5 a day, or a season pass costs only $20. Swimming and other activities are available in this naturally beautiful Pipe Creek is located at Hwy. 16 and FM 1283, about 10 miles south of Bandera. The name comes from a story about one of the men who settled the area who dropped his pipe in the creek.

Medina was established in 1880 and is 14 miles north of Bandera on Hwy. 16. Called the "Apple Capital of the World," Medina hosts the annual Apple Festival in July, that attracts many superior craftspeople, musicians and just plain folks.

Lakehills, situated on Medina Lake, was established in 1854. Lakehills boasts many amenities, such as shopping, marinas and much more.

Tarpley, established in 1899, can be found on Williams Creek in the west end of the county. Named after the first postmaster's son, the present post office is in the general store.

Vanderpool was established in 1850 and is located in the upper Sabinal

Bandera County is 797.5 square miles and has an annual average rainfall of 35.1 inches. The annual average temperature is 65 degrees, and the growing season is 235 days.

Electrical power to Bandera County is provided by the Bandera Electric Cooperative, Inc., which purchases its power from the Lower Colorado River Authority. As a cooperative, everybody who buys power from the "Co-op" becomes a member, pays a member ship fee, and becomes a part owner. The Co-op is a non-profit organization.

Throughout the county, volunteers staff the EMS system and the fire departments. Each area has its own EMS chapter and fire department. These chapters and fire departments rely on donations to keep their equipment and their training up-to-date.

Active organizations include the Optimists Club, Masonic Lodge, Eastern Star, V.F.W., the Shriners, A.A.R.P. and the American Legion.

Beautiful scenery dominates the county.

Twin Elm Dude Ranch This ranch began in 1939 as a guest ranch and was bought by Frank and Mary Anderwald in 1959. Today, the ranch is kept going by Mary, her son Chris, and other family members.

Twin Elm offers full guest ranch services for families and groups, including horseback riding, swimming and much more. The ranch also hosts "Elderhostel" groups in early spring and fall.

During the summer, they put on a weekly rodeo that guests from all the other ranches attend. 796-3628

Flying L Guest Ranch In 1946, Col. John Lapham, a

WWII flying ace, created the Flying L on 542 acres of beautiful Texas hill country. His motto was "where a modern person can go and find a modern person can go and find himself in the midst of yesterday." The Flying L became a favorite "watering hole" for war heroes, movie stars, and literary giants. The current owner acquired the Ranch in 1984 and a new dedication to excellence was begun. The Flying L is the perfect place for your group to unwind. Here you will find horseback riding, championship golf, ten-nis, swimming, fishing, nightly entertainment and spacious suites. #### Bandera County Courthouse among the oldest in Texas

Blocks of locally quarried limestone and massive cypress trusses are two noteworthy features of the Bandera County Courthouse.

In 1990, the county celebrated the 100th anniversary of the twostory structure that continues to dominate Bandera's skyline.

The courthouse stands on Main Street between Pecan and Hackberry Streets, across from the Bandera County Library. Housed in the courthouse are the offices of the county judge, county clerk, county tax assessor, and county treasurer.

Upstairs is the courtroom where District Judge Steve Ables and County Judge Roger Raser preside.

Bandera County Commissioners

also hold their regular monthly meetings in the upstairs courtroom.

Pipe Creek Polly's Chapel

Out of the way and off the beaten path Secluded among tall trees, native rock adds to the rustic charm of Polly's Chapel need by making winter on north party

A medallion and plaque designate Polly's Chapel as an officially recorded Texas landmark.

The serenity of the site befits the historic and religious importance of the 102-year-old chapel erected east of Bandera by pioneer Jose "Poli" Policarpo Rodriguez

Inclusion in the United States Department of the Interior's National Register of Historic Sites has been recommended.

The hand-hewn native rock place of worship is sometimes spelled "Poli's Chapel."

Rodriguez, a man described by historians as a fearless dreamer, was possibly the most towering figure in the history of the Hill Country. He was known as an Indian fighter, scout, frontier-guide and surveyor.

Texas was still part of the Republic of Mexico when Rodriguez was born in Zaragosa, Mexico in Poli was a central figure in the U.S. Cavalry's bizarre camel corps at Camp Verde near Bandera Pass.

Having acquired land on nearby Privilege Creek, Poli stayed in the area after the war. He became devoted to the well-being of the Privilege Creek community and to the church he built there.

Policarpo Rodriguez is buried in Polly's Cemetery on Privilege

Polly's Chapel does not hold regular worship services, but remains a favorite site for weddings and special gatherings. The Rio Grande Conference of the United Methodist Church oversees the welfare of Polly's Chapel.

A medallion and plaque designate Polly's Chapel as an officially recorded Texas landmark

The serenity of the site befits the historic and religious importance of the 102-year-old chapel erected east of Bandera by pioneer Jose "Poli" Policarpo Rodriguez.

Inclusion in the United States Department of the Interior's National Register of Historic Sites has been recommended.

The hand-hewn native rock place of worship is sometimes spelled "Poli's Chapel."

Rodriguez, a man described by historians as a fearless dreamer, was possibly the most towering figure in the history of the Hill Country. He was known as an Indian fighter, scout, frontier-guide and surveyor.

Texas was still part of the Republic of Mexico when Rodriguez was born in Zaragosa, Mexico in Poli was a central figure in the U.S. Cavalry's bizarre camel corps at Camp Verde near Bandera Pass.

Having acquired land on nearby Privilege Creek, Poli stayed in the area after the war. He became devoted to the well-being of the Privilege Creek community and to the church he built there.

Policarpo Rodriguez is buried in Polly's Cemetery on Privilege

Polly's Chapel does not hold regular worship services, but remains a favorite site for weddings and special gatherings. The Rio Grande Conference of the United Methodist Church oversees the welfare of Polly's Chapel.

Take Hwy. 16 to Privilege Creek and follw the signs.

Take a walk on the historic side of the city

Entering Bandera from the east via State Hwy. 16, one of the first historic buildings a visitor can spot is the impressive Schmidtke-Callahan House at the intersection Callahan House at the intersection of Cypress and 13th Streets, cur-rently the home of McMullan Insurance. The house was built in 1870 by James Henry White of Georgia, for Charles F. Schmidtke, an early-day merchant, sawmill and gristmil operator. Eventually the property changed hands and in 1929 the owner of the property, J.C. Callahan built a store near the house. The Callahan Store remained in business until 1958 remained in business until 1996 when J.C. died. The property stayed in the Callahan family until 1979, when J.C.'s descendants sold the property to Gill Savings. Gill tore down the old store and restored the house to its original condition. The Schmidtke-Callahan House is a recorded Texas Historic Landmark.

Taking a left on 12th Street off Cypress, visitors can "round the block" and see four historic build-ings. The old Bandera jail was built in 1881. Designed by Alfred Giles, an English architect from San Antonio, it was built by James A. Courtney. Prisoners' initials building is Bandera's old courthouse building. Built by Henry

White in 1865 as a store, it was purchased in 1877 by Bandera scratched into the stone walls are County, and used as a courthouse still visible. The building once for a time. It now houses one of the housed a museum and now is the offices of Springhills Water Management District. It is a record-ed Texas Historical Landmark and justice's of the peace and the county on the National Register of Historic Places. Adjacent to the old jail

The Carmichael and Hay Store, built in 1886, (also by Henry White) is a limestone structure that operated as a general store and is now Bandera Ranch Store. Next to it is the Fred Thalmann Marker (1949), and Main Streets. The small park was dedicated to Thalmann, an early leader in the local wool industry. His mother, Louise Maudsley Thalmann, and his grandmother were founders and teachers at Mrs. Maudsley's School, across from Bandera United Methodist Church.

Near the intersection of Cypress and Main Streets Huffmeyer Store was built by B.F. Langford in 1873 for Emil Huffmeyer's general store. For many years a drug store was ocated in the corner where Shoe Biz is now located, and The Trading Post has occupied the other portion of the building since the 1940s.

Further down Main Street is the Old First National Bank. Built in 1875 by W.J. "Short Bill" Davenport, it was operated as a private bank for several years. Later it operated as an art gallery and architect's office, and currently houses Harvey's "Old Bank" Steakhouse

Directly across the street is the Lee Risinger Store, also the second home of the First State Bank. It is now the site of Everett's Store. Bo's Rodeo and Ranch Shop adjacent to Everett's was Cox Hall and later Bandera's first movie theater. In the next block over from Main Street, on 11th Street, are the next five stops on this walking tour.

The building that houses Stein's of Bandera was built as a feed store operated by Henry and Tom Stevens. Later it was the hardware store of B.F. Langford and Son, and later a funeral parlor operated by the Langfords.

Also on 11th Street, on the corper facing into Cypress Street, is the oldest stone building in Bandera. This much-altered building on the corner of Cypress and 11th Streets has been a courthouse, store, school, funeral home, and residence. It was sold in 1869 to Henry Stevens, Sr. for $75.

Across the street, on the corner. of 11th and Cedar Streets is the old First State Bank. On a site bought by the city's founder. John James, in 1842 the old two-story rock building as a school between 1860 and 1879. In the 1880s it was known as In the 1880s it was known as Bandera Institute and operated by a Professor Ryan, thought by some to be the fugitive John Wilkes Booth, assassin of Abraham Lincoln. It is a recorded Texas Historic Landmark.

Next door to the old bank is M. Boyle Store. The frame building with a false front was built in 1908 and recently purchased and renovated by the Community Assembly of God. The store was established by Irish immigrant brothers, and was an active turn-of-the-century business. Johnny Boyle, operator of Boyle's Market, is a descendant.

Another stone structure built in the 1850s the old blacksmith shop was used by John James and Charles De Montel when they were Charles De Montel when they were laying out the town of Bandera. It was used by the Methodist Church in the mid 1860s; by B.F. Langford for a cabinet shop; blacksmith and wheelwright shop around the turnwheelwright shop around the turn-of-the-century; and as an office and clinic by physician J.O. Butler. A few blocks down Cypress, at the corner of 8th Street and dating from the 1850s, is the Catholic Cemetery. The cemetery was estab-lished after 16 Polish families colonized in Bandera in 1855 to establish the second oldest Polish community in the United States. Names of these early immigrants are listed on a monument in front of the church and some of their descendants live on in Bandera today. St. Stanialaus Catholic Church was established in 1876 by the Polish colonists who came to Bandera in 1855. Their log church was located where the present Gothic vernacular stone structure stands. # Take a walk on the historic side of the city

Entering Banders from the east vis State Hwy, 16, one of the first historic buildings a visitor can spot is the impressive Schmidtke-Callahan House at the intersection of Oppress and 13th Streets, currently the home of McMullan Innurance. The house was built in 1870 by James Henry White of Georgia, for Charles F. Schmidtke, Georgia, for Charles F. Schmidter, an early-day merchant, sawmill and gristmill operator. Eventually the property changed hands and in 1929 the owner of the property, J.C. Callahan built a store near the house. The Callahan Store remained in business until 1958 when J.C. died. The property stayed in the Callahan family until 1979, when J.C.'s descendants sold the property to Gill Savings. Gill tore down the old store and restored the house to its original condition. The Schmidtke-Callahan House is a recorded Texas Historic Landmark.

The Carmichael and Hay Store, built in 1886, (also by Henry White) is a limestone structure that operated as a general store and is now Bandera Ranch Store. Next to it is the Fred Thalmann Marker (1949), and Main Streets. The small park was dedicated to Thalmann, an early leader in the local wool industry. His mother, Louise Maudsley Thalmann, and his grandmother were founders and teachers at Mrs. Maudsley's School, across from Bandera United Methodist Church.

Near the intersection of Cypress and Main Streets Huffmeyer Store was built by B.F. Langford in 1873 for Emil Huffmeyer's general store. For many years a drug store was located in the corner where Shoe Biz is now located, and The Trading Post has occupied the other portion of the building since the 1940s.

Further down Main Street is the Old First National Bank, Built in 1875 by W.J. "Short Bill" Davenport, it was operated as a private bank for several years. Later it operated as an art gallery and architect's office, and currently houses Harvey's "Old Bank"

Activities for seniors

Do you weave? Is quilting your thing? Or perhaps a session of low-impact serobics or a good old-fashimpact aerotics or a good old-nam-ioned sing-along is more your style. Whatever you like to do, even if it's just "grab a cup of coffee" and visit with friends, the award-winning Silver Sage Corral, located on 11th Street between Hackberry and Pecan Streets in Bandera, is the place to find your niche.

Most any weekday, visitors stop-ping by the Silver Sage Corral can find active fun, and friendly faces, during regular hours from 8:30 a.m.

The Center is not just for senior citizens, though adults 55 and older are given first priority when there are limited resources.

One group that meets regularly is The Melodiers, who consider them selves the musical ambassadors of the Silver Sage Corral. Accompanied by a variety of musical instruments, including a piano. violins, and autoharps, the singersnot only get together on a regular basis just to have sing-alongs, they also make public appearances.

There are also regular special activities, including monthly birth-day luncheons, and the first Friday of every month, there is a pancake Bandera's senior center was founded almost 13 years ago, and 1984 they broke ground for the facility where the Silver Sage Corral is currently located. It was dedicated in April of 1985. For additional information call

Recreation for those who like to rough it

If your idea of "roughing it" includes camping in a tent, walking over expanses of unspoiled terrain, taking a plunge into an ol' swimtaking a plunge into an of swim-ming hole and enjoying grand vis-tas and wildlife undisturbed by the mechanical sounds of motorized vehicles, then the Hill Country State Natural Primitive Area just might be a destination to select during a visit to Bandera County.

Located 10 miles southwest of the city of Bandera on FM 1077 and open Thursday through Monday, the Natural Area is nearly 5,400 acres of Hill Country complete with running spring-fed stream, open grassland meadows, upland woods and craggy limestone peaks that reach 600 feet above the valley

Winding through the park from stream bed to rocky hilltop are 34 miles of trails that are rated from easy to technical (challenging). The area is just what its name implies:

Motorized vehicles are allowed only on a few access roads and traffic is limited to travel to and from designated parking areas. For hikers and mountain bikers,

Take your horse with you at Hill Country State Natural Area

the remote camping areas has there are 10 individual walk-in tent camping areas within 75 yards of parking. For the hearties, three more primitive hike-in campsites are situated 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 miles from a parking area.

Some campeites and three swim-ming holes are located along West Verde Creek which flows through the Natural Area and one of the hike-in camps has a spring-fed pond which is stocked with fish. None of drinking water. Chemical toilets are now provided at the walk-in sites. Stoves are permitted for cooking, but open fires are allowed only in special fire rings in the campsites. The only source of drinking water in the park is at the headquarters building near the

The equestrian camp area is also situated near headquarters and includes plenty of room for trailer horses as well as space to tether an animal, if desired. Toilet facilities are also available

Large groups need to make reservations and individuals may want to call ahead to determine campsite availability

Because of the varied terrain. HCSNPA is an excellent area for bird watching, and wildlife observa-tion. Golden-cheeked warblers, and black-capped vireos nest in the thickets. Fox, raccoon, ringtail, squirrel, and covote call the park home, along with a variety of snakes lizards, and other critters.

When spring hits, visitors are enchanted by the various blooming wildflowers, and new anima babies. The star-filled summer night sky, with the sounds of nature around, is a peaceful delight all campers know.

Henri Castro, an early settler of what is now Castroville, dreamed of ouilding an irrigation system and bringing farming to the area. During his lifetime, an earthen dam was built on the Medina River near the site of the present dam. It was later replaced with stone. Both of these were on a small scale and were unable to provide a steady source of irrigation to farmers. In 1894 Alex Walton took up the dream of a large dam. Engineers were skeptical, but Walton's faith in the project never wavered.

The actual construction of the dam was a wonder in 1910, and still is today. It took only two years to construct the largest dam in Texas, and the fourth largest in the United States. And it was done with private funding.

When Medina Lake Dam was completed in 1912, few area residents realized that the irrigation project would usher in an era of growth and expansion that continues today. Recreational lake users can do more today than fish, swim, boat, and sun in the Lakehills area.

Fishing is still great. Boating, from jet skis to larger boats, is still thrilling. Swimming and sunning and enjoying the clean water and beautiful Texas Hill Country scenery is still a favorite activity for visitors. In addition, shopping, browsing, and eating experiences are varied and numerous. And for those wanting to stop and rest or stay a few days, campgrounds are

The Sabinal Canyon Museum, located on the main street of Utopia, has expanded from 1,200 to 2,000 square feet and added entire new exhibits. Those who oversee the museum are eager for visitors; they are proud of the history behind the settlement of the western end of Bandera County.

The museum is always open on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Sunday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.. It will also open, at almost anytime, by request. Special groups or inter-ested individuals are encouraged to call (210) 966-3747 or (210) 966-2326 to make an appointment.

There is no admission charge. The museum is supported entirely by Everything from art exhibits and quilt collections to arrow heads finds a place in the building for display. Other year-round exhibits include: pistols, farm implements: clothing; appliances; spurs; pho-tographs; tools; household items; barbed wire; and knickknacks, primarily from the 1850s to the 1920s.

A western display space has been added. Used timber from the original Utopia Post Office has been reclaimed and carefully added to the decor. Belongings which can be traced back to some of the first settlers to the western area of Bandera County are on display in the west-

Lost Maples State Park -- scenic splendor in the Sabinal Canyon

The canyon has been a natural refuge for thousands of years, sheltering a unique combination of rare or isolated plants and animals including bigtooth maple trees, American smoke tree, Guadalupe bass, greenthroated darter, the Texas salamander, the barking frog, and the Texas cliff frog. Tourists flock to the area in the spring to exclaim over the many wildflowers and new growth, while summer visitors grow to love the somnolent, peaceful paths and trails.

Located in western Bandera County on the Sabinal River, five miles north of Vanderpool on Ranch Road 187, the Lost Maples State

Natural Area was named for strands of bigtooth maple trees. The park is a combination of steep. rugged limestone canyons, springs, plateau grasslands, wooded slopes, and clear springs.

It was designated a National Natural Landmark by the Heritage Conservation and Reclamation Service in 1980. Even before that, the land belonged to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Service. They purchased it in 1973 with plans of preserving and protecting the scenic, natural resource. Recent improvements include electrical hookups added to the 30 campsites, and shade shelters built Campsites are available for both daytime and overnight use.

The day use area includes 20 picnic sites, parking spaces, and Eight primitive camping areas are available where no vehicles are permitted. These offer backpackers a rustic experience.

Some 30 general camping areas are designed for RV and trailer use. They include electrical hook-up; a dump station; and restroom and shower facilitie

The park's headquarters are open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. weekends. Day use permits are $2 per vehicle and are good until 10 p.m. There is no charge for senior citizens who wish to use the park during daytime hours.

General camping is $9 per night, plus vehicle entrance fee. Primitive camping is $4 per night plus vehicle entrance fee. Reservations are recommended, as campsites and facilities are limited. For more information, call 966-3413.

The staging area near the trailhead has 20 parking spaces and the park has 10.5 miles of trails. Activities include picnicking, camping, hiking, nature walks, bird watching, and sightseeing.

The canyon has been a refuge for more than exotic plant and animal life during its long past. Native Americans such as: Apache, Lipan Apache, and Comanches roamed the area well into the 19th century.

The park is on the margin of the Edwards Plateau, and has a maximum relief of about 450 feet. High canyon walls fall down into the Sabinal River and its tributaries. The enclosure protects the park from drying winds and high sum-Springs in the park host three secretive amphibians: the unique Texas salamander; the scarce barking frog; and the Texas cliff frog. These same streams are also home to Guadalupe bass and the greenthroated darter. The Guadalupe bass is the only native Texas game fish found exclusively within the borders of the Lone Star State. A fishing license is required to fish in the park. It is a one-mile hike to the fishing sites at Lost Maples.

Animals found inside the park include white-tail deer, armadillo. bobcat, opossum, racoon, grey fox, rock squirrel, fox squirrel, mountain lion, Russian boar, and javelina. Wildlife sightings are a frequent and delightful thrill for Lost Maples

A variety of homestead exemptions could lower your property taxes!

A homestead exemption lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. If your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $5,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth $45,000.

Who qualifies for an exemption?

Anyone who owned a home on January 1st (and used it as their primary residence on that date) is entitled to a $5,000 homestand exemption to lower their school taxes this year...and it doesn't matter if your home is a house, condominium or mobile home. I was at the end of the field in the shade of the cotton trailer, baby-sitting my two younger brothers.

Suddenly a snake came slith-down and screaming hysteri-cally. Snakes are not my favorite form of wildlife, I can tell you. And I figured one of them was fixing to make a meal of my little brother. My more came fixing down.

My more came flying down the field with her cotton sack sailing behind her. She had been too panic-stricken to stop long enough to take it off. Luckily, it didn't have too much in it.

As she raced down the rows toward us, however, her foot slipped into one of the many large and deep cracks the drought had opened up in the soil and she went crashing their styles, one merged was a cook under ne arm and went whistling home.

The new teacher disarmed him by saying, "Jim, you have a rare talent. Your ability to write and draw pictures should be developed. I have a book of stories and poems. Would you like to take it home and draw me some pictures to illustrate the stories?"

Thus he fanned to life a spark of latent genius within the overgrown bully, resulting in the turning point of the beloved Hoosier poet, James Whitcomb Riley.

How much higher?

Crude oil prices went over $25 a barrel last week to their highest price since the Persian Gulf War. The soaring petroleum est price since the Persent could vive. The scaling parcent prices have already translated into higher prices at the gas pump. The hike in prices apparently reflect speculation that of-sale talks between Iraq and the United Nations are floun-daring, keeping Iraql oil from easing a supply crunch. A long and hitter winter has probably contributed to increase and pitter writter has probably contributed to increased demand. Local gasoline retailers say the higher prices are hit-ting them in the pocketbook, too. "Every time we order a delivery, it's thousands of dollars higher than the time before,"

The time has come for BMA to start conclaim.

The time has come for BMA to start concerning the back of the watershed from which BMA draws it's life blood, consists of 500,000 acres of private land for which the owners paid full price. That private land generates all of the water sold for profit by BMA.

For more than eighty year BMA and it's predecessors have sucked the water from 500,000 acres of dry rocky hills to fatten their own salaries by selling it at a profit to a handle of blackland farmen.

In the meantime, 10,000 people living and

by John M. Grimes

DO YOU HAVE AN UNDERSTANDING HEART?

realization that there are other control of view of the than your own) is the beginning of wisdom. Understanding what they are is a great step. And the final test is understanding why they are held.

With this in mind, let us work towards "building bridges of understanding." Today, perhaps more than ever in history, we need to "build these bridges."

The need today for understanding hearts is just as great as it ever was. The lack of them explains much of the mindless cruelty at work in so many parts of the world today.

Today we can not ignore the visible and invisible walls dividing countries, races, and families. We must test the walls down and build bridges instead. Each bridge is worth building, even in frustrating times and on unknown territory.

Vote for Keith Keese Medina ISD School Board Trustee

Keith Keese is presently serving you as Medina ISD School Board Trustee, Place 1. A lifelong Medina resident he graduated from Medina High School. As a father of Shane, a 1993 graduate, and Erin, a MHS junior, he is well aware and actively concerned of issues facing students, faculty and administration in our school today.

Keith is very active in numerous school and unity activities and continually volunteers when and where he may be needed. He has served on the school board for six years and wants to continue to serve his community and Medina ISD.

Keith strongly believes in fair and equal treatment in all aspects of our school system and with your support he will continue to represent the nunity of Medina. Vote on May 4.

VOTE GORDON GREEN

MEDINA SCHOOL BOARD on May 4, 1996

Gordon Green will be running this month for a Medina I.S.D. school board position. Gordon Green is a man of integrity and honesty. Gordon believes in a strong academic program, and, will work with the administration for the betterment of the entire Gordon Green, a self-employed businessman has been a Medina resident for fifteen years, and has been married to Sherry Green for 21 years. They currently have three children attending Medina I.S.D., Natalie (14), Sabrina (11), and Peter (7). They are very active in school, church, and community activities.

The extraordinary growth of our community and school dictates a positive voice for the three-hundred and fifty plus children attending our school. This voice must speak for all the children, from Kindergarten to graduating seniors, not for just a select few. Every child is precious and deserving of equal consideration. Only through strong, positive, and fair leadership can our school continue to move ahead and create the fragile environment needed to produce well-educated, self-confident young adults. We believe the best candidate to accomplish that task is Gordon Green.

This committee also strongly endorses Linda Barton and Neal Keiser, both up for re-election. They have both served unselfishly for a number of years, and will continue to do so in the future

Thank you for your consideration, The committee for the advancement of Medina I.S.D.

Buckle up the kids for safety's sake

Texans are being encouraged to give their children a gift of love by making it a habit to buckle them up whenever they ride in vehicle. Coordinated Campaign Safe and Sobre began stepping up its efforts in Pebruary to educate motorists on the law relating to motorist on the law relating to crack down on violators. About 140 Texas communities are involved in the campaign to save lives through a combination of law enforcement, public information animouncements and distribution of educational materials.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration estimates that more than 265 children under age 5 were saved as a result of child passenger safety restraints in 1962. About 2,061 restraints were used to child restraints and the safety restraints were used and used correctly with all children under age 5, about 50,000 serious injuries would be prevented and 455 lives would be saved each year.

year. Surprisingly, adults buckle Surprisingly, adults buckle themselves up more often than they buckle up their children, asid Susan Bryant, chief of Traffic Safety Section for the Texas Department of Transportation in Austin.

"We think that's directly related to their understanding and their knowledge of the law."

Bryant said. 'We're not sure that Texans and parents are truly aware of how important its to buckle up their children as swell as themselves.' People are aware of the primary leve in Texas related to astery leve as the said. WHAT CAN I DO AS A FIFTH GRADER TO MODEL OOOD CITIZENSHIP?

Pam Hoesen, 5th Grade, Albek Elementary Behoel The yourself, who is better qualified? This a quote from Frank Bilm III. I think this is a very good quote to go with being a good citizen in the fifth grade.

What is a good citizen anyway? According to the MacMillian School Dictionary it means a person who is born in a country, who chooses to become a member of a country by law, and who owes alleglance and is granted figures and privileges by its government. According to charge it is a someone who obey the laws, excresses their right as someone who obey the laws, excresses their right and the summer of the country and the summer of the country and the country and the privilege in the country and local levels produced the price in being a citizen of the greatest country in the sum of the country and also said that by setting a good example, being a good citizen, and striving to show the importance and responsibility of citizenship, anyone can become a

There are many ways I can show good citizenship in different places.

In my school I can help raise money to get playground equipment and other things needed. In my home I can do what my parents tell me to do. This is an example of love and respect. In my community I can help new neighbors feet at home by showing them where everything is in the town. In the state of Texas and the nation I can obey the laws and not get into trouble. I can be aware now of what's going on so that I can make responsible decisions as an adult.

I think it is important to be a good citizen so you won't get hart or in trouble. It would be a much better world if people would just take time to be a good citizen. It has not been a supportant to be a good citizen.

poultior, or made into a tincture. Valerian was important during the Blits in England in WWII as a tranquilizer. It is popular today i Europe as an over the counter sedative. It may be used to overcome body spasms, to sedate an anxious spassis, to sedate an axious parsion or overcome a crying spell. It has been called the validing of the 19th century (it is chemically unrelated to Valium) for it's relaxing effects on the body.
