Amasa Clark was the first permanent Anglo settler in the area, being led into the valley by friendly Indians.

In 1855, a group of Polish immigrants arrived in Bandera to work in the lumber mills owned by Bandera's founders Charles de Montel and John James. They established St. Stanislaus Catholic Church, the second oldest Polish Catholic parish in the United States.

An apple a day...

Every July, the little city of Medina, in the center of Bandera County, plays host to thousands of visitors who come to town for the International Apple Festival.

This year, the Medina Development Corporation, which sponsors the event to benefit the township, has extended the celebration to two days in honor of the festival's 10th anniversary.

Crafts, great food, wonderful music and entertainment the whole family can enjoy, provide for a wonderful time on the fourth Saturday of July in the shade of the pecan grove on the banks of the Medina River.

This year's festival will feature a clown competition and parade.

If you can't wait until July, drop in at Love Creek Orchard's Cider Mill store in downtown Medina to get a little taste of apple heaven.

There are over 30 apple products to enjoy, from jams and jellies to pies and cakes.

Quilts, apple crafts, candles and antiques are also available.

For more information about the Apple Festival, call 589-7224.

LOG CABINS AND SCENERY -- After enjoying your apple ice cream at the Cider Mill Store in Medina, head out FM 337 toward Vanderpool for one of the most scenic drives in Bandera County. There are plenty of breath-taking overlooks along the way. At Tuff, Texas, you'll see a collection of old log cabins collected from around the country and re-erected along the shores of a beautiful lake.

At the end of 337 lies the little community of Vanderpool, not far from Lost Maples State Park. After enjoying the park, which is beautiful during the summer months, turn south down 187 and then east on 470 back to Bandera.

Sabinal Canyon...

The Sabinal Canyon Museum, located on the main street of Utopia, has expanded from 1,200 to 2,000 square feet and added entire new exhibits. The volunteers who oversee the museum are eager for visitors; they are proud of the history behind the settlement of the western end of Bandera County.

The museum is always open on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Sunday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. It will also open, at almost anytime, by request. Special groups or interested individuals are encouraged to call (210) 966-3747 or (210) 966-2326 to make an appointment. There is no admission charge. The museum is supported entirely by donations.

Douglas and Ed Bacon bought the land and the building approximately five years ago and deeded it for the Sabinal Canyon Museum. Bacon, a geologist from Houston, has a collection of crystals and minerals on display.

Everything from art exhibits and quilt collections to arrow heads finds a place in the building for display. Other year-round exhibits include: pistols, farm implements; clothing; appliances; spurs; photographs; tools; household items; barbed wire; and knickknacks, primarily from the 1850s to the 1920s.

A western display space has been added. Used timber from the original Utopia Post Office has been reclaimed and carefully added to the decor.

Belongings which can be traced back to some of the first settlers to the western area of Bandera County are on display in the western area.

The museum tells the story of the first settlers in the Sabinal Canyon, beginning in 1852. A rich collection of Native American history is included along with that of the white settlers of the 1800s. Due to the increased space, new exhibits have been accepted. Trunks of clothing have been passed down through families over the years, finding a permanent home in the museum. Furnishings and mementos from the first pioneer families continue to find their way to the growing museum collection.

Because the Sabinal Canyon area is rich in Native American artifacts, archaeological digs have been carried out routinely. This has added to the unique character of the Sabinal Museum Collection.

Pictures on display include the first store and post office in Waresville (the town that preceded Utopia); the old rock store, which was the first business built in Utopia; and histories of many of the community's families.

Much of this historic past is recorded in the Sabinal Canyon Museum. And, say volunteers who keep the museum open, "we want people to come in and visit us. We have a lot to offer. If the building is not open, call!"

Sabinal Canyon's history dates back to the Spanish Colonel Uvalde who fought the last great Indian battle in 1790, four miles south of the present-day town of Utopia. Uvalde defeated the Comanches who had previously driven out the Apaches and Kickapoos.

a little museum with a big story to tell...

Fishing and boating are two of the favorite pastimes at Medina Lake.

The Lake is home to black bass, white bass, crappie, striped bass and perch, all catchable if the right bait is offered in a proper manner in a correct location. But catfish are the real secret of Medina Lake.

Anglers will find fishing from a boat most successful since Medina Lake is surrounded by private property. The general public can launch a craft from a public boat ramp located at the state park at the end of PR 37.

Shore fishing is available and boats may be launched from privately owned ramps for a fee. Some launch sites on the lake include Cedar Point Landing, Bob's Cove, Red Cove, Goat Hill Camp, Pop's Place and Wharton's Dock and Bandera County Park.

Fishing license information and TPWD boating safety information is available at local tackle shops and sporting goods stores, including Bandera Ice House and Lakehills Ice House.

Lakehills, located near Medina Lake on PR 37 can trace some of its early settlers back to 1854 and the Mormon colony of Lyman Wight. Real development arrived with the completion of the Medina Dam in 1912.

Henri Castro, an early settler of what is now Castroville, dreamed of building an irrigation system and bringing farming to the area. During his lifetime, an earthen dam was built on the Medina River near the site of the present dam. It was later replaced with stone. Both of these were on a small scale and were unable to provide a steady source of irrigation to farmers.

In 1894, Alex Walton took up the dream of a large dam. Engineers were skeptical, but Walton's faith in the project never wavered.

The actual construction of the dam was a wonder in 1910, and still is today. It took only two years to construct the largest dam in Texas, and the fourth largest in the United States. And it was done with private funding.

The dam has been designated a Registered Texas Engineering Landmark.

Pipe Creek, Texas

Once Lipan Apache country, the land where Pipe Creek Junction stands was first granted to a railroad company. William J. Hamilton, son of Sheriff Henry Hamilton, patented the land on August 29, 1878, building a cotton gin and grist mill on the north side of Hwy. 16 and a little to the west. The gin's large chimney can still be seen from the restaurant.

Felix and Harriet Newtomer later bought the small portion of the Hamilton ranch which extended south of Hwy. 16 and sold the one-acre store corner to E.B. and Carrie Keefe on March 3, 1911 for $150. The Keefes built the first store at this location in the spring of that year. It was a two-story frame building with the store on the first floor and their residence on the second floor. After only a few months, the Keefes sold everything back to the Newcomers. The Newcomers' son Jim then ran the store adding shed wings to both sides of the original building.

In 1914 Tom W. Deskin Sr. offered Jim Newcomer and his widowed mother a 480 acre ranch north of Pipe Creek as an even trade for the store and the offer was too much to resist. The Deskins then ran the store for the next four years. After the Deskins, a number of other people - Dick Cox, Ernest Jung and Henry Dorrow, John T. Dixon, Elmer Pickens, and Lawrence Edwards - tried their hand at running the store. Dick Cox was the first of the owners to buy a motor powered truck to haul supplies which he purchased in 1913.

In the spring of 1924, Adolph and Loura Schott took over the operation of the store. Loura was Jim Newcomer's daughter. In 1930 Adolph built the dance hall to the east of the store doing much of the building himself. Dancing, movies and skating were held in the hall. For a while the Mormons met there on Sunday mornings when they had no place to meet. In 1936 when the road to San Antonio was widened for the paving of Hwy. 16, the current store was built. Again Adolph did much of the framing with help from Jonathan Newcomer and Dumpy McCarthy. Henry Gombert of Boerne did the rock work. The store was the first place in Pipe Creek to receive electricity from the Bandera Electric Co-op, being connected December 24, 1940. In 1944 Adolph and Loura leased the store to the L.M. Cloptons who built the cafe on the corner which Earl White later ran and where Hank Kruger has his real estate office.

In September 1951 Ed and Ann Jennings took charge of the store. After Earl White moved his cafe from next door, Ed began aiming more at the convenience market. The older natives continued to bring their eggs and some produce in to trade for needed staples until well into the 1960s. Ed made the store into a notable tourist attraction with his novel items and humorous signs posted around such as the parking meter next to the real estate office with a sign that said "First and only parking meter in Bandera County," a post with "City Limits" sign nailed to both sides of the post, a sign on the front door that said "No dogs or horses allowed," a coon skin cap placed on a mounted deer's head with a sign that said "Me too" during the Davy Crockett coon skin cap craze, a coconut hanging over the vegetable bin with a sign that said "Squeeze this, not the tomatoes," a large cracker barrel on the counter when Captain Gus" was popular on TV, and many more things. The "Marrying Oaks" in back of the store were a popular place to be married by Justice of the Peace Jennings. Ed operated the store for more than 30 years, retiring and closing the store in the fall of 1982.

- Jay Edwards

Don and Ginger, former owners of "Helotes Cafe," purchased the property in the spring of 1986, the corner where the old store and dance hall sits. They remodeled the old store into a restaurant called "The Pipe Creek Junction Cafe" which opened August 1986. The cafe is open 6 a.m. til 11 p.m. six days a week proudly serving Breakfast, lunch and dinner. They are well-known for their freshly prepared food, the ample portions and their reasonable prices. Pipe Creek Junction Cafe's menu varies from breakfast plates and tacos, to weekday lunch plate specials, to charbroiled fresh steaks and burgers, to fresh seafood, salmon, frog legs and chicken breast, to homemade onion rings, chicken fried steak, to fresh baked pies, cookies, fudge, bread and homemade ice cream. If not, the full menu is available to go by calling 210-535-4742 for directions. Pipe Creek Junction Cafe is located 9 miles east of Bandera on Hwy. 16 at FM 1283.

The museum tells the story of the first settlers in the Sabinal Canyon, beginning in 1852. A rich collection of Native American history is included along with that of the white settlers of the 1800s. Due to the increased space, new exhibits have been accepted. Trunks of clothing have been passed down through families over the years, finding a permanent home in the museum. Furnishings and mementos from the first pioneer families continue to find their way to the growing museum collection.

Because the Sabinal Canyon area is rich in Native American artifacts, archaeological digs have been carried out routinely. This has added to community's families.

Sabinal Canyon's history dates back to the Spanish Colonel Ualde who fought the last great Indian battle in 1790, four miles south of the present-day town of Utopia. Ualde defeated the Comanches who had previously driven out the Apaches and Kickapoos.

Much of this historic past is recorded in the Sabinal Canyon Museum. And, say volunteers who keep the museum open, "we want people to come in and visit us. We have a lot to offer. If the building is not open, call!"

at the lake...

Fishing and boating are two of the favorite pastimes at Medina Lake.

The Lake is home to black bass, white bass, crappie, striped bass and perch, all catchable if the right bait is offered in a proper manner in a correct location. But catfish are the real secret of Medina Lake.

Anglers will find fishing from a boat most successful since Medina Lake is surrounded by private property. The general public can launch a craft from a public boat ramp located at the state park at the end of PR 37.

Shore fishing is available and boats may be launched from privately owned ramps for a fee. Some launch sites on the lake include Cedar Point Landing, Bob's Cove, Red Cove, Goat Hill Camp, Pop's Place and Wharton's Dock and Bandera County Park.

Fishing license information and TPWD boating safety information is available at local tackle shops and sporting goods stores, including Bandera Ice House and Lakehills Ice House.

Lakehills, located near Medina Lake on PR 37 can trace some of its early settlers back to 1854 and the Mormon colony of Lyman Wight. Real development arrived with the completion of the Medina Dam in 1912.

Henri Castro, an early settler of what is now Castroville, dreamed of building an irrigation system and bringing farming to the area. During his lifetime, an earthen dam was built on the Medina River near the site of the present dam. It was later replaced with stone. Both of these were on a small scale and were unable to provide a steady source of irrigation to farmers.

In 1894, Alex Walton took up the dream of a large dam. Engineers were skeptical, but Walton's faith in the project never wavered.

The actual construction of the dam was a wonder in 1910, and still is today. It took only two years to construct the largest dam in Texas, and the fourth largest in the United States. And it was done with private funding.

The dam has been designated a Registered Texas Engineering Landmark.

PIPE CREEK, TEXAS

Once Lipan Apache country, the land where Pipe Creek Junction stands was first granted to a railroad company. William J. Hamilton, son of Sheriff Henry Hamilton, patented the land on August 29, 1878, building a cotton gin and grist mill on the north side of Hwy. 16 and a little to the west. The gin's large cistern can still be seen from the restaurant.

Felix and Harriet Newtomer later bought the small portion of the Hamilton ranch which extended south of Hwy. 16 and sold the one-acre store corner to E.B. and Carrie Keefe on March 3, 1911 for $150. The Keefes built the first store at this location in the spring of that year. It was a two-story frame building with the store on the first floor and the residence on the second floor. After only a few months, the Keefes sold everything back to the Newcomers. The Newcomers son Jim then ran the store adding shed wings to both sides of the original building.

In 1914 Tom W. Deskin Sr. offered Jim Newcomer and his widowed mother a 480 acre ranch north of Pipe Creek as an even trade for the store and the offer was too much to resist. The Deskins then ran the store for the next four years. After the Deskins, a number of other people - Dick Cox, Ernest Jung and Henry Darrow, John T. Dixon, Elmer Pickens, and Lawrence Edwards - tried their hand at running the store. Dick Cox was the first of the owners to buy a motor powered truck to haul supplies which he purchased in 1913.

In the spring of 1924, Adolph and Loura Schott took over the operation of the store. Loura was Jim Newcomer's daughter. In 1930 Adolph built the dance hall to the east of the store doing much of the building himself. Dancing, movies and skating were held in the hall. For a while, the Mormons met there on Sunday mornings when they had no place to meet. In 1936 when the road to San Antonio was widened for the paving of Hwy. 16, the current store was built. Again Adolph did much of the framing with help from Jonathan Newcomer and Dumpy McCarthy. Henry Gombert of Boerne did the rock work. The store was the first place in Pipe Creek to receive electricity from the Bandera Electric Co-op, being connected December 24, 1940. In 1944 Adolph and Loura leased the store to the L.M. Cloptons who built the cafe on the corner which Earl White later ran and where Hank Kruger has his real estate office.

In September 1951 Ed and Ann Jennings took charge of the store. After Earl White moved his cafe from next door, Ed began aiming more at the convenience market. The older natives continued to bring their eggs and some produce in to trade for needed staples until well into the 1960s. Ed made the store into a notable tourist attraction with his novel items and humorous signs posted around such as the parking meter next to the real estate office with a sign that said "First and only parking meter in Bandera County," a post with "City Limits" sign nailed to both sides of the post, a sign on the front door that said "No dogs or horses allowed," a coon skin cap placed on a mounted deer's head with a sign that said "Me too" during the Davy Crockett coon skin cap craze, a coconut hanging over the vegetable bin with a sign that said "Squeeze this, not the tomatoes," a large cracker barrel on the counter when Captain Gus was popular on TV and many more things. The "Marrying Oaks" in back of the store were a popular place to be married by Justice of the Peace Jennings. Ed operated the store for more than 30 years, retiring and closing the store in the fall of 1982.

- Jay Edwards

Don and Ginger, former owners of "Helotes Cafe," purchased the property in the spring of 1986, the corner where the old store and dance hall sits. They remodeled the old store into a restaurant called "The Pipe Creek Junction Cafe" which opened August 1986. The cafe is open 6 a.m. til 11 p.m. six days a week proudly serving breakfast, lunch and dinner. They are well-known for their freshly prepared food, the ample portions and their reasonable prices. Pipe Creek Junction Cafe's menu varies from breakfast plates and tacos, to weekday lunch plate specials, to charbroiled fresh steaks and burgers, to fresh seafood, salmon, frog legs and chicken breast, to homemade onion rings, chicken fried steak, to fresh baked pies, cookies, fudge, bread and homemade ice cream. Beer and wine served Tuesday thru Friday all-U-care-to-eat specials with farm-raised catfish (W-F) and fried fresh gulf shrimp (Tu-Thur). Customer special orders for dinners and baked desserts. If you have a chance to go by and dine with them in their casual, antique (B.S.) filled, friendly dining rooms. If not, the full menu is available to go by calling 210-535-4742 for directions. Pipe Creek Junction Cafe is located 9 miles east of Bandera on Hwy 16 at FM 1283.

Do you weave? Is quilting your thing? Or perhaps a session of low-impact aerobics or a good old-fashioned sing-along is more your style. Whatever you like to do, even if it's just "grab a cup of coffee" and visit with friends, the award-winning Silver Sage Corral, located on 11th Street between Hackberry and Pecan Streets in Bandera, is the place to find your niche.

Most any weekday, visitors stopping by the Silver Sage Corral can find active fun, and friendly faces, during regular hours from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The Center is not just for senior citizens, though adults 55 and older are given first priority when there are limited resources.

One group that meets regularly is The Melodiers, who consider themselves the musical ambassadors of the Silver Sage Corral. Accompanied by a variety of musical instruments, including a piano, violins, and autoharps, the singers not only get together on a regular basis just to have sing-alongs, they also make public appearances.

There are also regular special activities, including monthly birthday luncheons, and the first Friday of every month, there is a pancake and taco breakfast.

Ground was broken in 1984 for the facility where the Silver Sage Corral is currently located. It was dedicated in April of 1985.

Botany cut...

Eco-tourism is not a term one is likely to find in the dictionary - yet. But like other new phrases that concern the conservation of the planet, eco-tourism is not hard to understand. In many places, tourists and visitors are increasingly being-made aware of the flora and fauna unique, or natural, to the area they are investigating.

And in that spirit, the Native Plant Society and the Bandera County Roadway Maintenance Department have agreed to leave unmowed a 600 foot section of Hwy 16 so that approximately 135 species of plants native to the area will be allowed to flourish for the public's viewing pleasure. Some of the more unusually named plants that can seen at various times during the year are: the Scrambled Egg; the Frogfruit; the Eve's Necklace; and the Dog's Ear.

The new attraction is called a "botany cut" and is a wildflower habitat area. This is the only "botany cut" in our district of 16 counties and may be the first one in Texas.

Due largely to the efforts of Dorothy Mattiza, of the Native Plant Society, and Bruce Eliker, Bandera County roadway maintenance supervisor, the spot opened 5.2 miles north of the courthouse.

The Native Plant Society has future plans to build steps leading into the area and meandering gravel paths with signs and pictures to identify the various plants.

In the meantime, native plant enthusiasts can obtain a list of the resident flora from the Chamber of Commerce.

The list includes the Latin name, the common name and a month-by-month check-off space.

It should be interesting to visit the area during different times of the year and check off what is blooming at the time.

Trees in the cut include Celtis laevigata, Hackberry; Diopyros texana, Texas-persimmon; Juniperus ashei, Ashe juniper; ptelea trifoliata, Wafer ash, Quercus fusiformis, Plateau live oak; and Ungnadia speciosa, Mexican buckeye.

at the Courthouse...

Blocks of locally quarried limestone and massive cypress trusses are two noteworthy features of the Bandera County Courthouse.

The county recently celebrated the 100th anniversary of the two-story structure that continues to dominate Bandera's skyline.

The courthouse stands on Main Street between Pecan and Hackberry Streets, across from the Bandera County Library. Housed in the courthouse are the offices of the county judge, county clerk, county tax assessor, and county treasurer.

Upstairs is the courtroom where District Judge Steve Ables and County Judge Richard Evans preside.

Bandera County Commissioners also hold their regular monthly meetings in the upstairs courtroom.

The courthouse is a registered Texas Landmark.

The Bandera County Courthouse is a registered landmark. Monuments on the lawn recognize Bandera County's heroes.

at the Courthouse...

Blocks of locally quarried limestone and massive cypress trusses are two noteworthy features of the Bandera County Courthouse.

The county recently celebrated the 100th anniversary of the two-story structure that continues to dominate Bandera's skyline.

The courthouse stands on Main Street between Pecan and Hackberry Streets, across from the Bandera County Library. Housed in the courthouse are the offices of the county judge, county clerk, county tax assessor, and county treasurer.

Upstairs is the courtroom where District Judge Steve Ables and County Judge Richard Evans preside.

Bandera County Commissioners also hold their regular monthly meetings in the upstairs courtroom.

The courthouse is a registered Texas Landmark.

The Bandera County Courthouse is a registered landmark. Monuments on the lawn recognize Bandera County's heroes.

Our heroes...

Landmarks honoring war heroes and veterans, rodeo cowboy champions, and commemorating Camp Montel and Bandera County pioneer Amasa Clark, stand on Bandera County Courthouse square. The five monuments stand in a line across the front of the courthouse along Main Street.

• The rodeo cowboys' champions' monument honors local rodeo champions including Toots Mansfield, Ray Wharton, Buddy Groff, Todd Whitewood, Scooter Fries, Clay Billings, and Jimmy Adams.

• The war heroes monument is a memorial to Bandera County men who sacrificed their lives in World War I. Some 23 names are inscribed on the granite monument that has stood since 1924.

• The veterans' monument is the newest monument on the courthouse square, and is placed in honor and memory of all war veterans by the Bandera County veterans and auxiliaries. It is pledged as a "tribute to valor" in "patriotic allegiance to sanctify God and country."

• The Camp Montel monument is a memorial to the Texans who served in the Confederacy. It commemorates Captain Charles de Montel and the Texas Civil War Frontier Defense. The monument was placed by the state of Texas in 1964.

• The Clark monument is a huge granite boulder erected as a memorial to Bandera pioneer Amasa Clark, who died in 1927 at 101. Clark, the first permanent settler in Bandera county, came here in 1852. A veteran of the Mexican war, his stone marker originally stood in the National Cemetery at Ft. Sam Houston.

BANDERA CITY PARK: the City Park is located on the Medina River and offers easy access to the river. The park is within walking distance from downtown. There is a $5 per vehicle use fee. Season passes are available. No overnight camping is allowed. Picnic tables and fire boxes are available for those informal family gatherings.

reincarnation plate which comes from the Krishna temple in Benares, India - the birthplace of Hinduism. The plate, intricately carved in silver, copper, and brass was used by the Hindu priests to teach their followers the cyclic theory of reincarnation.

The Charles Fagan Collection includes many items of South American origin. It includes a 400-year old pair of brass conquistador stirrups, a porcupine fish, a wooden idol from Easter Island, an iguana lizard, an alligator tooth necklace, and two shrunken heads.

Jivaro Indians, a tribal people living in the jungles of southeastern Ecuador and northern Peru, shrank the heads. According to legend, the tribe carries on blood feuds among themselves and in order to prevent the spirits of their dead enemies from inhabiting their bodies, they perform an elaborate ceremony that involves shrinking the victim's head.

Texas, and the southwest, are not left out of the exhibits at the Frontier Times Museum. Pioneer items include assorted tools, saddles, furniture, weapons, and clothing.

Tarpley's old telephone switchboard is on exhibit. It was used from the early 1930s to the mid-1960s. Several early model telephones, music boxes from the 1880s, an early permanent hair wave machine, a primitive baby incubator, and a full-sized replica steam engine are among the Texas/southwest artifacts.

Fiber netting, presumably used by a prehistoric man who lived in the Chisos Mountains of the Big Bend territory nearly 3,000 years ago, is perhaps the oldest artifact.

A camel hair pillow that belonged to Bandera County Pioneer Amasa Clark is on exhibit at the Frontier Times. Clark was a camel herder during the "great Camp Verde camel experiment" carried out in the 1850s.

Clark secured enough camel hair to stuff a mattress and two pillows. The mattress eventually fell apart. One of the pillows was placed in Clark's coffin when he died at the age of 101. The other pillow was enshrined in the museum.

Turn-of-the-century school books and encyclopedias, a two-headed goat, stuffed wildlife from the Hill Country area, and wonder after wonder; it is all on display for visitors and residents to enjoy.

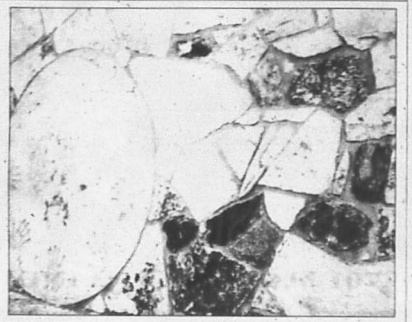
Frontier Times Museum...

The Frontier Times Museum began as a private collection of old west and pioneer artifacts belonging to the late J.M. Hunter, Sr. The 40,000-piece collection includes some rare artifacts from prehistoric items.

Each year, some 12,000 visitors from all around the world meander through the museum. It is located on 13th Street, across from the First Baptist Church. It is open Monday through Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Sundays from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. Admission is $2 for adults, 25 cents for students, and free for children.

The Frontier Times Museum has been jointly owned by the citizens of Bandera County since 1972. It depends solely on private donations for its support. It receives no city or county funds. It is operated on behalf of the local citizens by a board of directors, 25 individuals from different backgrounds and locations around the county.



Rotating exhibits are featured in the Doane Gallery. Different area artists are selected each month to display art work which includes watercolors, leather work, needlework, quilting, oil painting, and ceramics.

The Louisa Gordon Collection contains many items of oriental art, and a fabulous collection of 400 bells from all parts of the world.

These bells range from Russian sleigh bells, elephant and camel bells, and a Siamese dancer's collar and necklace to a Chinese gong from the Ming Dynasty. The oldest bell in the collection is a gong from China's Han Dynasty, 207 B.C. to 220 A.D.

One unusual item in the Gordon Collection is a throne chair from the Doge's Palace in Venice, Italy. This ornately-carved chair of Circassian walnut is over 400 years old. it was used by the royalty of Europe when they visited the Doge, or chief magistrate of Venice, to pay their respects.

JESUS CALLED - GRANNY ANSWERED

How blessed we were to have our mother and grandmother for 92 years. She truly had a love for life and the memories we have of her are precious.

Thank you to Peterson Home Health Care for all of their help...Without them she would not have been able to stay home until the end.

We also wish to thank the ladies of St. Stanislaus Church for the wonderful meal they prepared and served to our family, and Mgr. John Flynn from St. Matthews church, who conducted the service.

We are especially grateful to all the rest of you who sent flowers, food, cards, memorials and said prayers to help us through our loss.

And of course, the Katy Kidd Scholarship Fund is such a good cause. If you didn't get to take the tour, send them a donation anyway.

After the tour we stopped by Busbee's Barbecue to try their famous new hamburger and by golly, Roy, they were deelish! The help there is always so jolly, too.

Sheepmen meet

Kerr area sheep and goat producers hosted the spring Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' District 6 meeting and luncheon at the Wishbone Restaurant on beverage at 10 a.m. on Saturday, April 19.

TS&GRA officers reported on the failure of the national sheep and wool referendum and proposed plans for a statewide sheep and goat referendum.

Directors to serve the district for the 1997-1998 term were elected at the close of the meeting. Currently serving as directors from Bandera County are: Pipe Creek—Freddie Flach; Lakehills—Randy Schott; and from Medina—Dale A. Naumann.

Honorary Directors for Life from Bandera County include Allie Allsup of Medina; Rudy Schott from Lakehills; Felix Real from Utopia; and Gilbert Scheele, Bandera.

District 6 is made up of the counties of Bandera, Kerr, Medina, Real and Uvalde. Sheep and goat producers in these counties were urged become active in the work of the Association.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

Marion Heisler

Hi, y'all! Did anyone see the lightning show over towards Boerne Sunday night? It was beautiful.

• We are in the final week of preparations for the MLVFD Spring Barbecue this Saturday, April 26. The ladies are going to be preparing that delicious potato salad and Jack and A.R. will have the pit ready to stuff 1400 LLbs. of brisket on at around 6 p.m. Friday afternoon. If y'all are out and about Friday night stop in the firehouse and check out how all the brisket is cooked and help us stay awake.

• Sunday we had a great afternoon of fun. We all met at Lakeshore VFD for the Pumper Races. Fire fighters and families from Wharton's Dock, Utopia, Pipe Creek and Medina Lake came to do friendly battle at the one and three man hose runs and to drench and get drenched at the water polo! The juniors from Utopia and Medina Lake put on a good show of what our future fire fighters are going to be like.

We want to thank Lakeshore VFD for sponsoring the opening Pumper Races for this year. The Pumper Races were canceled last year because of the shortage of water. The Pumper Races will be held here at MLVFD on June 1 at 1:30 p.m. These competitions allow the members and families of the various VFDs in the county to get to know each other and to develop the camaraderie necessary to work together protecting lives and property.

• Let's not forget to vote in our various elections on Saturday, May 3. All qualified voters need to have a voice in the election of our school boards, water management district and city. If all registered voters would vote, maybe the candidates elected would pay more attention to what we the people really want! If only a few people voted for you and won would you figure you had to worry about the opinion of all the ones who didn't vote? What we are trying to say is: vote, darn it!

• Well, business is calling so we better go get to work. We will be looking for you over the back fence.

BILL SPANGLER
VANDERPOOL, TEXAS
DIRECTOR, PRECINCT 4
SPRINGHILLS WATER MANAGEMENT DISTRICT

Bill Spangler says he would like to offer his years of business and ranching experience to the people of Bandera County by throwing his hat in the ring for the Springhills Water Management District's Precinct 4 Director seat. He feels that his education and business experiences are valuable when combined with the common sense approach that is a necessary tool in ranching.

"As the drought the last year has shown us, this region has a hard time supporting the increased water consumption associated with growth without proper management of our water resources. This entire region is growing, with Bandera County leading the pack at a 35% growth rate. Though I do not want to see us lose any of the quality of our country way of life due to growth, I feel that growth is inevitable. That is why now, more than ever, management of our water resources is important. Without good local control, there is a window of opportunity for other water entities in the region to step in and take over the management of our water resources."

"I bring to the table a Doctorate in chemical engineering and an MBA, but neither of these is as important as the hands on experience that I have gained through the management of my Vanderpool ranch and the companies for which I have worked. I married my wife of 30 years while in the Air Force, and we have two grown daughters. Strong family values are very important to me."

"I am not a politician, nor do I want to be a politician, but I see a need for good common sense leadership at the local level. I believe that the only thing necessary for governmental control to get out of hand is for good people to sit back and do nothing. I am a strong believer in private property rights. The idea of growing government infringement alarms me. My main motivation for running is to keep the control of Bandera county water in the hands of Bandera County residents."

Your Vote Will Be Appreciated!

The Bandera boys junior varsity track team finished first in district 26-3A competition April 25 and 26.

Coach Stan Payne pointed out that the team's championship was the result of team effort.

There were five first place finisher's including Dustin Mayfield in the 110 high hurdles, Joey Leal in the long and triple jumps, Adam Knight in the 400 m dash, and a first place finish by the 1600 m relay team of Jeremy Leland, Knight, Leal, and Josh Small.

Happiness Is

By: Susie Rossow

Happiness can be many different things. There are many different ways to make people happy and so many different ways to express one's happiness. Happiness can be shared through many people. In my opinion, the feeling of happiness can often become stronger when there are others, like your friends, to be there for you to share your happiness.

Laughter can often mean happiness, and is usually a happy feeling. For example, I know that when I have fun with someone and laugh and talk the night away, I always end up with a very happy feeling inside of me. I really like it whenever someone I am interested in can make me laugh. That always makes me happy.

Having someone like a boyfriend or a girlfriend to care for and have care for you is a wonderful and happy feeling. Something else that usually makes people happy is for them. You can almost always count on your friends to make you happy whenever you're feeling down.

Happiness, to many people, can also be the sound of wedding bells. It makes me happy just to know the couple, young or old, is starting a whole new life together. I, personally, cannot wait until my wedding day, that will be the happiest day of my life, and I will have many happy memories to last for the rest of my life.

There are just too many things to be happy about, and too many things or people to make you happy, to go around most of your life being sad, miserable, and lonely.

The Sea

By: Christin Gruben

I look and I see
Sapphire water with an emerald hue
Stretching endlessly over a vast horizon.
I plunge into the deep blue field and fly
And I see
Shiny objects, no larger than my hand
Swimming all around me,
Curious,
wondering what I am.
I see
Other creatures, splashed in splendor,
More beautiful than anything on land.
I feel absolute peace.
I never want to leave this place.
I see
Colorful plants, like bright streamers,
Growing in the ivory sand.
On the surface
I feel the breeze.
I inhale the salt air
And I think,
Why can't everything be this peaceful?
The sea.

The Game

By: Simon Gray

The radiant glow of the battleground;
The field rightfully called a diamond,
To me, more precious than the actual stone.
The light shines down upon the field
As if God were watching.
Money-hungry millionaires, who play the game I love,
Take the gold from the game and the jewel from the field.
When I step behind the plate, my heart races.
I strive for nothing more than a victory,
Controlling, calling to the team.
Leading them as a general would his troops,
Telling the pitcher the winning combination.
Our team, soldiers in combat, more powerful than any army.

It's Your Time

By: Carrie Pease

Down by two,
The pressure is all on you.
You release the ball,
Hoping the shot will fall.
The moment is frozen in time,
You stan, helplessly watching,
As the ball rolls around the rim,
Threatens to fall out, but then goes in.
In a flash, blue jerseys are all around.
You don't hear a sound.
Your mind is a jigsaw puzzle,
Now complete,
Formerly missing a corner piece.

Junior Jeff Scott placed sixth in ready writing at the Region IV AAA University Interscholastic League contest at University of Texas A&M Kingsville on April 18.

Other students who competed at the contest were Matt Bradberry, Regina Montague, Allen Beavers, Ray Short, and Somer Stone.

Officers Shannon Robles and Glenn Scales talk to Bandera High School drivers education students on the importance of being cautious drivers. They spoke to students on the consequences of drinking and driving, not wearing a seat belt, and exceeding the speed limit. Students said that they look forward to finally be able to drive, but they now have a better understanding that "a car is not a toy."

Lazy Dollar Chili takes top honors

$2,000 raised for Silver Sage Corral

First place chili at the 11th Street Bar chili cook-off held April 12 was presented by John Graham, Robert Hutcheson and Tommy Stokes with their Lazy Dollar Chili.

Helen Hults' Toilet Bowl Torture came in second in the people's choice balloting and the team of Jim Smith, Ervin Dailey and Digger O'Dell produced the third place winner.

Dusty Britches took home the showmanship award with his Jail Bird Chili. Jack Nugent, Mark Jilek and Lewis White tied the team of Ray Buckner, Ron Robinson and Bill Garner for second in showmanship skills. Kelly Scott earned a third place in the category.

Eighteen chili teams, three chuck wagons and plenty of music to entertain the crowd.

Over 12 musicians played including Delton Sturgis and the Ruff House Band, Gary Wright and the Road Kill Band and a surprise visit from Wilton Crider. Kevin Fitzpatrick did some of his trick roping and L.C. Kelley served as auctioneer.

Bartenders Trudy, Laurie, Holly, April, Pam, Bridgett and Susan donated their wages to boost the total donated to the senior center.

"The day was a great success and raised almost $2,000 for the Silver Sage Corral," said bar owner Suzanne Summers. "We thank all the businesses who donated for the auction and everyone involved for their time, energy and support."

Students at Hill Country Elementary are learning what it takes to run a small business. Kyle Griffin, Cipriano David and Quincy Schaefer, along with their teacher Kim Mooney and assistant Anne Montague, have started a business at Hill Country, called Brunch Bunch Delivery. The "employees" of Brunch Bunch cook up tasty treats for the teachers to purchase every Thursday. The students are learning to plan grocery lists, prepare food, serve food, and use a cash register. The business has been a great success, and the students are hoping to make some money to take them to Sea World.

TARPLEY

Well, we were expecting a big rain on Sunday night, after the thunderstorms predicted, but nothing. Farmers have been very busy getting fertilizer and grain in, so now the hope is for April showers. Weather has been warm and seems Spring may be here.

• The Spring Tour meeting of the Rio Hondo Study Group was enjoyed by 14 members on April 17, arranged by hostess Lory ann McDonald. The club visited the unique turn of the century village shopping mall in Boerne. The club then enjoyed the wildflower drive to the Dollie and Dub Smothers Ranch, where a picnic sack lunch was served in the patio of the Palisade Cabin guest house. Lory Ann and her mother Dolly Smothers and daughter Jennifer presented each lady with an African violet. Following lunch the group visited the Boerne Nursery where they shopped for spring plantings.

• Jan Hartson will be hostess for the meeting of May 15 at which time Jana Osborne, County Agent, will present a program. All women residents of Rio Hondo area are cordially invited to attend the meeting and the special events sponsored by the club.

• Arthur and Georgia M. Erfurt drove to Audie Murphy Veterans Hospital Wednesday for Arthur's checkup and then on to Freeport to visit her brother and family, Kenneth and Bonnie Anderson and family. Kenneth is very ill. The Erfurt's came home Thursday.

• Shirley Allen of Sugarland was a visitor of the Tarpley Baptist Church Sunday. She and her husband Bill are spending a few days at their ranch this week.

Whatever you want to do, do it now. There are only so many tomorrows.

–Michael Landon

Summer is here, one more time, and the flowers are so pretty along the roads.

The Medina Volunteer Fire Department was out picking up trash for 2+ miles south of town this past week end.

A lodge member did come up with a good idea though—they placed a few prizes out for volunteers to find just to make it more interesting. The women of the Eastern Star got them off to a good start by serving up biscuits and sausage and gravy.

Taking part were Suzanne Hudson, Ashley Price, Andy Hunt, Raymond Morrill, Megan Eads, Rachel Ingram, Haley Fleming, Benjamin Villareal, Sara Hunt, Paige Leadford, Phylicia Hunt, Kelley Hurley, Hilary Hanger, Beth Dabney, Katy Tucker and Alfred Lera.

We, at the Grimes Funeral Chapels, would like you to know that if a death occurs away from home, a single collect telephone call to us can relieve you of many worries and responsibilities.

Through the years we have always maintained close contact with many highly respected and responsible funeral directors throughout this country who are experienced in handling all details to your complete satisfaction. And, if so desired, we will take charge of all the complex details.

Remember our long experience and knowledge of requirements are available at any time—day or night—whenever the need arises. Remember we care and we show we care by the service render.

Ephedrine: A killer high

Ephedrine is a killer high. And now researchers think they know why.

Ephedrine- a naturally occurring stimulant found in a number of plants and herbs- appears to act on the brain much like cocaine, say researchers at Texas A&M University.

Herbal preparations containing ephedrine are sometimes sold as appetite suppressants and mild stimulants. The drug has gained a reputation, however, for producing a euphoric high much like that produced by the street drug Ecstacy. Overdoses have been linked to a rush of deaths among young people trying to get a "legal" high.

Until now, exactly how the drug produced its characteristic euphoria had been unknown, says Texas A&M psychologist Paul Wellman, head of the university's Department of Psychology.

In studies of laboratory rodents, Wellman found that levels of the brain chemical dopamine increased sharply soon after ephedrine was administered. Dopamine is a chemical that helps the brain transmit nerve signals.

Tipsy sheep aid research

Some tipsy Texas sheep may provide valuable clues for medical research on alcoholism, a disease that affects millions of people, but researchers still don't understand how and why alcohol damages the developing brains of fetuses.

Fremont sheep fitted with special blood monitoring devices are helping Timothy A. Cudd, a veterinarian and physiologist in Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine and Texas A&M College of Medicine neurobiologist James R. West assess what happens to the blood of both mother and fetus when the mother consumes alcohol.

Such simultaneous monitoring of mother and fetus hasn't been possible before, Cudd said, and they expect it will tell them a lot about how the alcohol causes brain damage in human fetuses.

At least 7,000 children born each year in the United States suffer from fetal alcohol syndrome, or FAS. Symptoms include physical frailty, mental retardation, difficulties in learning and characteristic facial features.

Bulldozing suggestion shows lack of roots

Dear Editor:

I recently read with disgust a comment by BISD school board member, Dave Koehler, printed in the April 2, 1997 issue of The Bandera Bulletin. Quote, its time to bulldoze Old Main, put the school administration in the Merrick Building and go out on 16 and build a new Middle School for 1000 students.....Unquote.

This comes as no surprise; after all Dave Koehler has no long-time roots in Bandera. Maybe while he is bulldozing Old Main, he could also bulldoze the Courthouse, the Catholic Church and even the Methodist Church. And why stop there, how about the State Capitol in Austin and U.S. wide? The pioneer craftsmen built the public buildings in Bandera to last a long time and they have and will continue to do so.

Maybe after Dave's roots go back over 100 years, he will appreciate what a well built building means to those whose roots go to the founding of Bandera— then again, maybe not.

The 12-million dollar plan presented by the school board comes as no surprise either. This present board's concept is to spend on a grand scale. I was on the citizens committee for planning for the future growth need of BISD, which recommended alternative avenues which were presented to the BISD Board. These alternatives would not place the taxpayer in deep debt—debt that will be paid off by the "children" the board and superintendent are so concerned with. Also it should be noted this "12-million dollar plan" is really a "20 plus million dollar" counting pay out interest. Can our children afford to be placed in such debt?

Keep it clean

Dear Editor:

It is my understanding that early one morning last week Bandera's street maintenance crew hand swept the gutters on one of our main streets. Those of us who want to see Bandera kept clean, as well as western, express our appreciation for this service.

A day and a half after this was done, I saw that discarded cigarettes were beginning to collect again in one specific area. On behalf of those who appreciate trashless streets, gutters, and sidewalks, I would like to suggest that all of us take our trash and "butts" home with us.

Everybody helped

Dear Editor:

Mayor Bob Cowan and the Bandera city council gave us the go ahead for our fund-raising chili cook-off for the Silver Sage Corral on April 12. Police Chief Lynn Holt was most helpful in getting the street closed and providing Officer Tim Marcaurele to help us. Mike Cardenas and the city sanitation department helped us with a mountain of trash. Gay Campbell at City Hall answered all our questions and gave us good advice. And the people of Bandera donated, participated, worked and supported us in our effort. We plan to do this every year in the spring to give back to Bandera and the Silver Sage Corral all the support we can.

Don't shoot first

Dear Editor:

On Sunday, April 13, my two dogs escaped from their pen at my residence. Both were tagged and licensed but one was shot one and a half blocks from home. The other stayed with him even though there was a great chance for her to be shot also.

These animals were not strays. They were loved and well cared for, they were both being trained to visit nursing homes and V.A. hospitals.

If the person who shot this animal had called to him, the dog would probably have come over and shook hands with him. They were and are people orientated.

I have no quarrel with the fate that meets an animal who preys on sheep, goats or livestock of any kind on the surrounding ranches and farms. But when it comes to an animal who gets loose on the streets of this city for different circumstances or a moment's inattention, there should be some consideration.

If the person would have caught these two animals and called me I would have been very thankful.

I suggest that the city leaders give greater attention to firearms discharged in the city and in proven cases of animal shootings perhaps the shooter could be fined in proportion to expenses the owner incurs at the vet clinic.

Why should I as a responsible pet owner be forced to buy a city license if I don't have some recourse?

I invite pet owners inside the city to join me in reporting all firearms heard or seen being discharged within the city limits.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE

BY SEAN FRENCH, PUBLISHER

Where do we go from here? Everyone knows that we have to do something with our schools; but what is the best answer?

The best answer is that we all have to put aside our differences and work together to come up with a solution that we all can live with. This answer is going to cost all of us a little more in taxes, but it also is going to help educate our children.

We live in this great country because we can all do what we want and have our own opinion. Those opinions are very important but we also need to see other sides of the issues that come up in our lives.

We must be able to put those opinions and thoughts aside, no matter if they are good or bad, to help a situation that is growing by leaps and bounds.

I don't know if any of us can come up with the perfect solution for our school system, but we all must understand that something must be done in the near future before our problem gets worse.

So please don't knock the ones who are trying to come up with a solution to these problems. Get involved and help our community solve the problems we are facing, before it is too late.

I would like to thank Al Hamilton and Ray D'Spain for putting so much time, money, and effort into coming up with a solution to help the schools and taxpayers of Bandera County. Their committee had people from all walks of life working together to come up with a solution for our schools. Thanks to each and everyone of you for your time, effort and concern for our schools in this community.

CAROLYN'S CORNER

BY CAROLYN B. EDWARDS, EDITOR

Some people continue to be under the impression that we only print letters on this page that agree with our own point of view. That would be somewhat difficult to do, since I doubt that the six people who work in this office agree totally about much of anything! No, the reason we have the word "opinion" in really big type at the top of this page is because what is written here is just that—someone's opinion. We put names with those opinions (no anonymous letters or columns) and there is no requirement that we here at The Bulletin have to agree with the letter writer.

The letters page has a long journalistic tradition of allowing the voice of the people to be heard on the issues facing the newspaper's community.

Articles that appear elsewhere in the paper (except for material from our columnists) are news stories. The writers try very hard to stick to the facts in those news stories to let you know what is going on in the community. It is not our policy to tell people how they should vote or what they should think about any issue or official in our news stories. We try our best to tell you what happened in a meeting and what action was taken. If we have an opinion about that action, we will express that "opinion" on this page, not in the news story.

There has been some concern expressed that we are taking sides in recent matters facing the BISD school board.

The issues facing the board are extremely complex, and, frankly, I don't think there are any easy answers.

The community committee headed by Al Hamilton and Ray D'Spain did a great job looking at the existing school facilities and determining needs for the future. We are so grateful that we have volunteers willing to take time from their busy lives to work on a project like this.

It is to be hoped that the BISD board will consider their suggestions in solving some of the district's problems.

The committee's report and sub-committee reports are available for reading at the superintendent's office. Read them, talk to school officials and board members, attend board meetings and get yourself educated about education.

There is no doubt a bond election in the near future. It would be nice if we could all work together to provide the best education for our kids at the best price for the taxpayers without name calling, mud-slinging or lies.

Guest editorial

by BISD School Superintendent Gus Pfeiffer

Something needs to be done to salvage the Texas property tax system. Taxes are too high. Public schools need alternative funding sources.

The state's contribution to public education has dropped over the years from 75 percent to, in the case of Bandera ISD, less than 40 percent. Governor George W. Bush has begun reversing this trend and has said he would like to see the state pay 60 percent of the funding for schools. Representative Paul Sadler, chair of the House Select Committee on Revenue and Public Education Funding, wants the state to pick up 80-90 percent of the public education tab.

Your school board has adopted and sent to the 75th Legislature, Governor Bush, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, and House Speaker Pete Laney a resolution supporting restructuring of the state's tax system to reduce reliance on school property taxes and to ensure adequate state funding of public schools.

The time has come for lawmakers to take action, but there is no consensus now on how to solve this complex problem. No doubt there will be proposals from all sides before the 75th Regular Session of the Texas Legislature ends in early June. When lawmakers and state leaders consider the merits of each plan, the following principles must be considered:

- Factors that have driven local property taxes up (e.g., unfunded mandates, required teacher salary increases, inflation) must be recognized and compensated for in any new tax plan.
- Any modifications must enhance the system's ability with the economy and the state's population.
- A serious effort must be made to fund fully the costs of the new Education Code passed in the last legislative session.
- Locally elected school boards must be able to continue to provide a level of fiscal support that reflects the needs and the priorities of their communities.
- Replacement of local revenue lost to property tax relief must be dollar for dollar.
- Truth-in-taxation or "roll-back" laws must be structured to allow a school district's elected board to adopt the tax rate necessary to provide for enrollment growth, state mandates, and inflation.

Factors that have driven local property taxes up (e.g., unfunded mandates, required teacher salary increases, inflation) must be recognized and compensated for in any new tax plan.

The time has come for political leaders in Austin to act on behalf of Texas school children, to approve a real solution to the state's out-of-date tax and school funding systems. Members of the Bandera ISD call on the Texas Legislature to develop a fair system that will provide adequate school funding and will not reduce a local school board's ability to meet its community's needs.

A big job for Little League...

District 21 Little League administrator Barbara LeStourgeon enjoys her job.

Administrator Barbara LeStourgeon says she has no plans to quit.

LeStourgeon, who works full time as Bandera ISD's business manager, spends two to three nights a week and almost every weekend working at her Little League duties.

And when she's off season, she gets really busy...

by Carolyn B. Edwards
Bulletin Editor

Barbara LeStourgeon has been the Texas Little League's District 21 administrator since 1979.

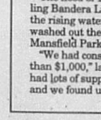
"My kids went through Little League, but my interest started before that," said LeStourgeon. She served on the board of directors in Hondo in the early 70s and in 1972 became vice president of the Bandera Little League board. She eventually served locally as president before being appointed to the district post. Now she supervises Little League activities in 26 towns stretching from Bandera south to Eagle Pass and west to Del Rio.

The flood of 1978 devastated the fledgling Bandera Little League program as the rising waters of the Medina River washed out the newly completed field at Mansfield Park.

"We had constructed that field for less than $1,000," laughed LeStourgeon. "We had lots of support from the community and we found used light poles and lights... just scrounging stuff."

Following the flood, however, the board decided to go after a grant and got one for $100,000 from the Army Corps of Engineers. "I and Peggy and Tommy Adams and many others... Martin Smith, Carol Graves and her husband, Carol D'Spain, Gerald Robinson, Larry Upton... we all worked on rebuilding," said LeStourgeon.

Working as their own contractors, the group sub-contracted everything out and ended up with the Little League and Senior League field, concession stand and restrooms now in use at Mansfield Park.



At the end of each season, LeStourgeon oversees 16 tournaments at once throughout her district. That includes Minor League, Major League, Big League, Senior League, softball and baseball play-off tournaments. There are also Challenger games for children with disabilities.

"In 15 days, I have to get these [play-off] teams through district, regional and on to state," said LeStourgeon. She makes a point of attending at least one game in each tournament.

LeStourgeon receives no salary for the work she does for Little League. "You've got to love the kids," LeStourgeon explains.

"I'll keep doing it until it isn't fun anymore," she says with a laugh.

BASIC BANDERA

What brought people to the hill country of the Medina and Guadalupe back in the 1840s after dangers posed by marauding Indians subsided somewhat, and the admission of Texas as the 28th state of the United States promised greater security for settlers outside confines of major towns? It was wood. Cypress and juniper in great abundance.

Camps were set up to cut juniper for charcoal to be hauled over the steep trail to San Antonio, where charcoal was the mainstay for cooking and heating in adobe houses. Other camps were set up along the river to cut cypress for the purpose of making shingles to meet the increasing demand for roofing material in growing communities and army posts across the Southwest. Germans and Angles liked gable roofs.

John James, Charles deMontel, and a more silent partner from East Texas, John Herndon, saw the opportunity to capitalize on the demand for cypress and organized a company to set up a mill on the Medina to produce lumber and shingles in quantity. They laid out the town site of Bandera, recruited the famous 16 Polish families stranded in the "lower country," who put us on the map.

Is the availability of wood still the mainstay of our community? Well, perhaps not but look at the number of artisans working here now, still utilizing the cypress and juniper which brought the early pioneers more than a century and a half ago!

Fred Collins saw opportunity come out of tragedy of the 1978 flood salvaging quantities of downed river trees to start his now noted business making distinctive furniture, signs, frames and other artifacts from wood which otherwise would have been lost.

And count the workshops set up to meet the desire of back-to-nature homeowners and decorators all over the US for rustic furniture made from the rough juniper we call cedar. Western Flair, Utopia Furnitûre on Hwy. 16, the Bruneys showing their work at Back at the Ranch. And there are others becoming almost too numerous to mention.

Lee Hale turned up recently on a re-run of Texas Country Reporter on TV showing the clever toys he makes from native woods.

Georgina and Tim Tobin have built their entire house out on Indian Creek from cypress saved from the flood, and here on hour place, we cherish the old Haiduk cabin built in mid-nineteenth century of cypress and cedar, as well as board and batten from 1978 nailed up in our "eabin" by Murry LeStourgeon and the Craddocks fairly recently.

Native wood. It's the greatest thing going around here really. Except for the very ground from which the wood is growing—good old limestone and caliche!

TOURISM TALKS

Ben Nolen

Over the past few months I've discussed some of the things our local CVB and Bandera Chamber of Commerce have been doing to promote tourism in Bandera and Bandera County. Now I'd like to get out of our own back yard and take a look at what is happening to tourism on a statewide basis.

Travel and tourism is one of the largest and fastest growing industries in Texas. Texas ranks behind California as the second most popular state for trips by U.S. travelers and ranks third behind California and Florida in direct domestic travel. Travel and tourism is the state's third largest industry. Pumping $25.4 billion dollars into the state's economy, the travel and tourism industry employ approximately 446,000 Texans statewide. this breaks out to one in every 41 people in Texas is somehow employed in the travel and tourism industry.

In regards to jobs and employment, one job is created for every $56,995 spent by U.S. and International visitors to Texas. According to a recent study, young workers in the travel and tourism industry (16 to 24 years of age) are 2.5 times more likely to become a top executive (in any business sector) than are the same age workers in all types of industry.

Texas is an extremely popular destination for business travel. Nationally, business travel accounted for 23.7 percent of al travel in '95, but in Texas it constituted 36 percent of all travel. Leisure travel accounts for 64 percent of all Texas travel. Leisure travel is defined as "travel with at least one night stay from home or a day trip out of your local area (50+ miles one way) for pleasure purposes.

By taking a look at this big picture we all can realize what travel and tourism means to us on a city and county level. If it weren't for the dollars derived from tax revenues generated by travel to Texas, each Baldera County household would face an average of $658 in additional annual7al taxes to maintain existing government services. Hey...on our local level that would almost be as much as our school taxes!

No problem with HCE water

Airborne mites not water bugs, says USDA lab

Although water fountains were shut off and students had to get their drinking water from bottles Monday, April 21, it was all just precautionary, said Hill Country Elementary principal Judy Kline.

Kline shut off the school's drinking water supply Sunday after the school was notified by [illegible] Hill Country Utilities of [illegible] that there might be a problem with the quality of the water.

HCU's manager Susie Siedensticker told The Bulletin that the problem was caused by airborne tree mites spotted in a glass of water by an HCU customer in Lakewood Subdivision on 1283. The subdivision and Hill Country Elementary get their water from the same well.

"We were notified by a customer [illegible] and she had run some water into a container and later noticed some floating," Siedensticker said.

Samples of water were immediately sent to the Upper Guadalupe River Association lab [illegible]

According to the report from the USDA lab, the mites in the sample were from the family Acaroidea. They feed on organic debris or plants or animals. "They are not aquatic and would not breed or inhabit water unless they were washed into the water or introduced by some other means such as wind," John E. George from the USDA lab said. "It is possible that a population explosion of the [illegible] has been [illegible] the present wet weather.

Siedensticker said the airborne mites were most likely deposited in the customer's water as the container sat open.

"Kline said the school [illegible] gallons of bottled water for the students to drink prior to learning that there was no problem with the school's water quality.

BISD maintenance director Pete Burton said that he would also check the chlorine levels before the students would be allowed to drink the water. "Just to make sure everything is OK," said Burton.

Movie artists brighten up museum's totem pole

by Scott Mahon
Staff writer

If you drove by the Frontier Times Museum last week you might have noticed the scaffolding erected next to the totem pole in front of the museum.

Jack Eagan of Ingram, and Bill May of Bandera, were commissioned by the museum to repaint and repair the pole which was in need of some restoration according to Pat D'Spain, president of the museum.

"The pole was re-erected in 1990 and we felt that after seven years it was in need of some repair, so we decided to restore and repaint it in more brilliant colors," said D'Spain.

According to Myra "Nettie" Saul, the pole was originally built in 1935 in San Antonio by a friend of Saul's father, J.M. Hunter, founder of the museum. The pole was taken down in the late 80's and restored by Fred Collins.

Eagan, a full time artist in Ingram, has done custom artistry for Sea World, Fiesta Texas, Southwest airlines, and other clients in Texas. He and May have also worked together on a number of movies filmed in Texas.

Their most recent work, as members of the Texas Film Commission, was in the fall and winter of last year on location in Bracketville during the filming of "Once Upon a Time", a movie produced by China Entertainment of Hong Kong. The movie will be released in Asia this year.

Eagan said he and May also worked on location for the filming of "Courage Under Fire" which was filmed in San Marcos and Austin last year.

"We did mostly scenic art for the sets, but we also did the artwork on seven helicopters used in the movie," said Eagan.

May, a self-employed contractor in Bandera, has worked with Eagan for the past three years. Their first job together was three years ago for Tops and Blues, an Air Force musical that toured the world.

Asked if he considers himself an artist, May replied, "I will be I think, by the time Jack gets through with me."

Eagan pointed out that the restoration of the totem pole included some badly needed repair to cracks that had developed in the carved wood and a new coat of brightly colored paints.

The totem pole was built in the 1930's and was restored in the 1980's by woodsmith Fred Collins of Bandera.

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE PAST...

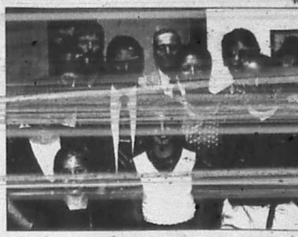
from the Bulletin, Oct. 15, 1971

The Texas A&M Club would meet at the OST. Club president was Jim Atkins.

Randy Hicks caught a pass at a game with St. Mary's in Fredericksburg. Bandera lost the game 36-6.

Fishermen were encouraged to buy raffle tickets from the Lions Club at the Hunters Barbecue. A Lorance Fish Lo-Kater and Electronic Depth Finder was the top prize, guaranteed "to make you a better fisherman than you are."

Grace Lutheran Church welcomed the Rev. G. Wolf of Fredericksburg as their new pastor on a part-time basis.



Residents of Pct. 2 in Pipe Creek were voting on a road tax to improve roads in their area. Citizens who lived on the paved highways were encouraged to vote "just to help the people who are unfortunate enough not ot live on the main roads."

Setting it straight...

Commissioner James Mormando did not say "We want that building," during a session of Commissioners Court as reported in last week's Bulletin.

The remark was made in reference to the two-story building on the Bandera Middle School campus. The Bandera ISD had approached the county government about the possibility of the county purchasing the campus property if the school district decides to build a new middle school out of town.

"It would be premature to make that kind of judgment at this stage of the game," said Mormando. "We haven't even toured the property yet."

Bandera County Sheriff James MacMillan (middle, second from left) was joined by family members when he was honored by the Bandera Masonic Lodge as the recipient of the Mason's Community Builder Award. Joining MacMillan were in-laws Robert Tschirhart, Stanley and Ruth Tschirhart and Cindy Tschirhart; his mother Lila Ward, wife Nancy Tschirhart MacMillan and son, Jimmy; and, in front, sister Jill Pierce, niece Jessica and daughter Christine. Friends and co-workers joined Masons in saluting the sheriff on James MacMillan Day, April 21, for his many contributions to the betterment of the community.

Thanksgiving service planned

The Bandera County Chamber of Commerce is planning a thanksgiving service for the rain on Saturday, May 3.

Last year many gathered on the courthouse lawn to pray for rain to end the drought.

This year, someone suggested, "Now it's time to give thanks."

Local ministers will lead the prayer service. Attendees are asked to bring a small bouquet of fresh flowers to be shared with the residents of the nursing home or bring canned goods to be donated to Helping Hands.

BFI, city plan clean-up in May

The City of Bandera will conduct its annual Spring Clean-up the week of May 12-16 [illegible] this week.

Trash and other debris to be placed at curbside where household garbage is normally picked up no later than 7 a.m. on Monday May 12. The truck will pass down each street one time only.

BFI will pick up brush if cut in lengths not to exceed 6 ft., furniture, appliances that do not contain freon and small amounts of lumber cut in 4-6 ft. lengths. Appliances that contained freon will be picked up with the proper certification that the freon has been removed.

The city asks that no prohibited materials be placed for pick up. Prohibited materials include liquids, pesticides, concrete, soil, commercial waste, auto parts, treated lumber, chemicals, oil, bricks, sod, batteries, tires and paint cans with lids.

By-laws hit city council log-jam

Cowan sends documents back to the lawyers

by Scott Mahon
Staff writer

Last week, the Bandera city council struggled with the approval of the by-laws, articles of incorporation, and the appointment of a Board of Directors for the Bandera Economic Development Corporation which was approved by voters over a year ago.

The city has been collecting a voter approved half-cent sales tax since April of 1996 which is designated to fund the purposes of the corporation.

The city has collected $97,780 so far, yet there is no Board of Directors, nor have the by-laws and the articles of incorporation been approved by council.

The Bandera Economic Development Corporation exists only on paper until council approves the appointment of a Board of Directors, the by-laws, and files the articles of incorporation with the state.

The primary concern that both local residents present at the meeting and several council members expressed during almost an hour of discussion centered around the wording of the corporation's proposed by-laws and articles of incorporation which were drafted by attorneys for the city.

Council members Darden and Welch, along with local residents Bill Bryce and Linda Stein, all expressed their concern that the language of the proposed by-laws and articles of incorporation seems to give the Bandera Economic Development Corporation more authority than the wording that was on the ballot when voters approved the creation of the corporation.

Darden pointed out that the wording on the ballot was very clear in stating the purpose of the corporation.

"Funds can only be used for water, sewage, and street maintenance and improvement and that's what voters approved," said Darden as she read the wording that was on the ballot. "I don't want this (the articles of incorporation and by-laws) to imply that the city can do something with the money outside of the purpose of the wording on the ballot."

Welch supported Darden's concern.

"I'd like to see a little more plain language about what we're going to do," said Welch. "I don't like the way the darn thing is written. There's too much junk in it and I'm not going to vote on it, you all do what you want to."

Stein expressed her concern, "The way the by-laws are worded, the corporation would have more authority than the voters approved."

Mayor Cowan attempted to address everyone's concerns over the wording of the by-laws and articles of incorporation by pointing out that they had both been drafted by attorneys for the city, but to no avail.

"This does have a system of checks and balances; the council does have control over the Board," offered Cowan.

There was also some concern over the fact that the proposed by-laws state that out of the seven appointed board members, only three members have to be residents who are not officers of the city nor employed by the city which, according to Stein, means that theoretically the board's majority of members can be officers or employees of the city.

Cowan finally gave up any attempt to get a motion passed to approve the by-laws and articles of incorporation.

"We'll send the proposed by-laws back to the lawyers and get all this clarified," said Cowan.

• In other business, newly appointed city administrator Don Reddout was officially sworn in to his office.

• Lynn Holt, chief of police, gave his monthly report to council and praised the contribution of the city's reserve police officers who do not get paid by the city for their time.

The city has four reserve officers. Holt proposed that the city advertise for two more reserve officers.

• Before adjourning the meeting, Mayor Cowan expressed his appreciation to Darden for her years of service to the city.

"Dorothy, we sincerely appreciate your service to the city," said Cowan.

Darden, who is not running for re-election and who has served on the council since 1989, said, "I've truly enjoyed working on the council; I've done what I could to try to help the people of Bandera."

Jack Eagan and Bill May recently re-painted the totem pole in front of the Frontier Times Museum. The job was a change of pace from their usual painting assignments. For the story, see page 3A.

Sales tax rebates continue up slightly over last year's

The city of Bandera received $22,359.29 in sales tax rebates this month, the state comptroller's office announced. That is an increase of 18.83 percent over the amount paid for the same period last year. Payments to date for 1997 for the city total $108,725.19, up over $73,571.24 paid for the same period last year. The increase partly reflects a .5 percent increase in the sales tax that went into effect in April of 1996.

The county of Bandera shows a 9.29 percent increase in sales tax rebates compared to the same period last year. Net payments for this period totaled $17,606.88, compared to $16,109.99 collected the same period in 1996. Year-to-date collections for the county remain 4.51 percent up over the same period last year, jumping from $68,075.23 in 1996 to $71,150.19 this year.

This month's sales tax rebates include local sales taxes collected in February and reported by businesses filing monthly tax returns in March.

San Antonio sales tax allocation for April was $7.3 million, 5.1 percent below the April 1996 payment of $7.7 million. However, year-to-date, San Antonio has received a 4.3 percent increase in local sales tax payments.

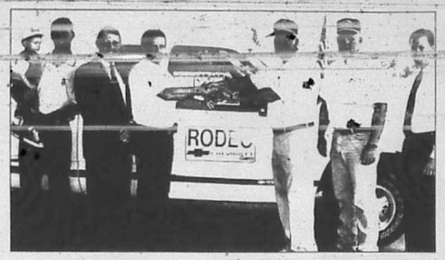
Elementary baseball

The Bandera junior varsity white team took on Floresville on April 7 and came away with a 6-5 win.

Dustin Mayfield pitched the last inning allowing no runs and getting the save.



"Overall, we played pretty well, considering we hadn't practiced on the field in about ten days due to the weather," Coach Milner said. "Good pitching, good defense, good baserunning and timely hitting added up to success, which they usually do when you put them together."

Beau Pillet had four stolen bases and two runs.

Robert Herold, Justin Knight, Mawvel Hernandez, and Dustin Mayfield each had one run.

Flack had one double and two at bats. Bryce Davis had one RBI. Knight had one hit, two at bats, and one RBI.

Worley leads 3-man scramble team to win in Brownwood

Team finishes two strokes ahead

"Scott Kemp (golf course superintendent) and his crew need to receive recognition for their preparation of the golf course," said BCC Pro Steve McNabb.

Guys & Dolls Thursday evening tournaments start on April 17. Call 796-8466 for more info.

Kick-off at Flying L

The Flying L Golf Association hosted a membership drive and Spring kick-off Texas scramble at the Flying L golf course in Bandera, Sunday, April 13, with forty two golfers participating in this handicapped event.

It was wild and crazy with great weather and some outstanding play producing some terrific "net" scores by all nine teams.

First place was won with a "net 45", turned in by the team of Johnny Cardenas, Charlie Thomas, Larry Upton, Fred Yancey and Ruth Juren.

Second place was won with a "net 47", turned in by the team of Ron Hackleman, Bill Poly, Rodney Smith and Barbara Young.

Third place was won with a "net 49", turned in by the team of Dennis Juren, John Fiers, David Elkins, Mark Molpus and Randy Lawlis.

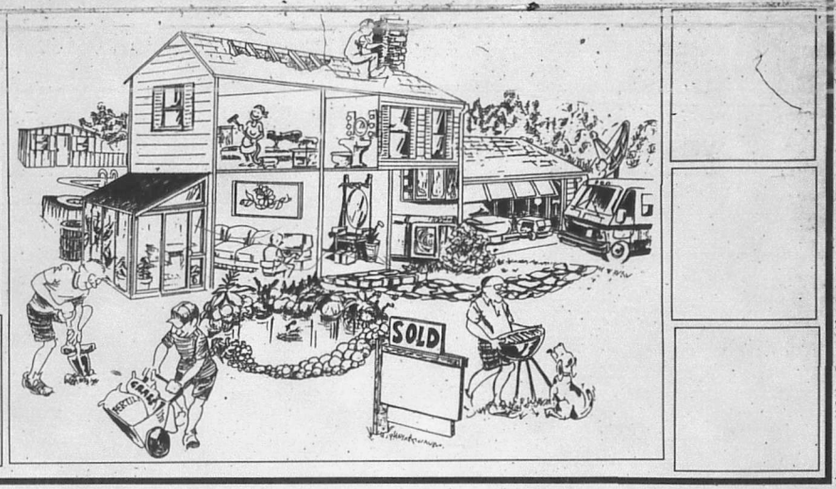
The "congeniality" prize with a "net 55" went to the team of Pat Garcia, John Maltsburger, Ricky Hinton and Jerry Upton.

The Flying L golf association will resume play the first Sunday in May (May 14) and every first and third Sunday for the remainder of the season.

The format for the next tournament will be posted at the pro shop prior to the event.

Special thanks goes to head professional, Carl Worley, and assistant pro, Michael DeLosSantos for their assistance in helping with reorganization efforts and pairings for Sunday's event and especially for the "event rates" for Sunday's membership drive and closest-to-the-pin prizes.

Special thanks also to Kathy and Robert for the help in getting the flyers out and keeping the pro's under control.



Also at the Flying L course last week were Duke Duclos of Tarpley who grabbed top money with a score of plus ten in the Good Old Boys weekly Stableford tournament.

Aggie Muster planned for April 21

Former students and friends of Texas A&M University will assemble on Monday, April 21 for the annual Texas Aggie Muster, according to Bandera president Mark Richardson this week.

A barbecue meal and the traditional muster ceremony will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Farm [illegible]

All former students, friends and interested persons are invited. Those planning to attend should RSVP by Friday, April 18 by calling Billy Griffin at 796-3334 or 460-3513.

The Muster tradition is over [illegible] years old. Every muster ceremony is the same. Texas Aggies pay their respects to fallen comrades who have died since the last Muster. When the name of the honored dead are called from the Muster Roll, a friend of the deceased answers, "Here."

WHAT'S RUSTLIN'

by Bungy

Bandera had a first Saturday night with an interest to goodness dinner reader's theater, complete with candle light and table cloths! The Methodist Church put on a production of "Arsenic and Old Lace," which is an old comedy. And they did a terrific job. In a reader's theater, the actors have costumes on, but sit on stools and read their lines, and leave the rest up to the audiences' imagination. And what a great job the actors did. They were so good, that in no time at all, the audience wasn't thinking of them as the local veterinarian, insurance man, student, minister, etc. They were really the characters they were playing! And that is the hardest kind of acting to do. Around 50 showed up for this first production, and we're all waiting for the next! Dinner was great, too.

The play was in the Ryan Building on Cedar, and right up at the corner of "Old Main Street," was a chili cook-off going full bore! There was street dancing, booths and great chili. Kelly Scott had his newest "Old" chuck wagon there that he'd not just re-built but built new from scratch. Even the wagon wheels! He called his pot of chili "Papa Scott's Copano Bay Chili," and as we were stepping over some of his mules' "horse apples" he said, "Watch out! Don't step on my spices!" His chili was deelish, anyway!

They had a pretty good turnout even though it was 50 degrees and everyone was bundled up. Street dancing always goes on in Bandera, no matter the weather!

This coming Saturday and Sunday are loaded with fun. The Delta Kappa Gamma Home Tour is on with Abudndare Historic Ranch as one of the homes. And then there's the Bandera Style Tupperware Party at the Bandera Forge! Y'all bring your iron cooking pots and skillets (Cowboy Tupperware), and they cure them for you! Yep! That's the Cowboy Capital for you! •

Ginger Choate, who used to be one of the mainstays of the Chamber of Commerce, is now receptionist out at Rodeo Chevrolet, where she told me that the Cavendars of Cavendars Oldsmobile, Saturn, and Toyota fame of San Antonio have just bought Rodeo! The Cavendar sons have a band that plays for lots of charities, etc. and someone told me that when they played for the Stock Show and Rodeo in SA, Ginger sang with them and made quite a hit! Hey! Put her on our entertainer's list for Bandera County.

Don't forget the Spring Fling on Saturday at the Forge, that's when all the other entertainers in town get together and jam! Since the Kazoo Band has gone defunct, we only watch!

OVER THE BACK FENCE

Marion Heisler

Hi, y'all. Ol' Man Winter had one last shot to make at us, didn't he? We were glad we hadn't pulled out the little wood heater yet. There was almost frost on our peach trees again. Last year the frost wiped out every single peach but we think we might have some to share with the birds and squirrels this year. •

• The Medina Lake VFD and juniors directed traffic and parking for the MLBA's Brewfest last Saturday. The cold weather seemed to cool off the attendance but we haven't heard any numbers as of yet.

• St. Victor's Chapel will have their spring flea market on May 3. This gives us all a chance to clear out some of those things which have lain unused for so long. It also gives us the chance to buy some more of the same to lie around unused. Contact Jackie Mixon for a table or more info.

• Preparations for the MLVFD Spring Barbecue are still underway. This Saturday, April 19, will be a work day to clean the fire house and get all the facilities ready. We hope to see all of you at the barbecue on April 26.

• We are sitting here listening to a deputy trying to locate an alarm location. So many times the sheriff's office receives an alarm which has no location. If you have a burglar, fire, panic, medical or other emergency alarm, does the sheriff's office have the proper location? Call your alarm company and find out what directions they have. Some of the companies give little thought to giving accurate directions for us to find you in case of an alarm. So help us and yourself and check those directions.

• As we write this we are sitting in the swing on the deck. We have a squirrel scolding, a woodpecker working on a utility pole and the dove singing their love songs in the hills.

This setting should be very inspirational. We can only wonder why that silly woodpecker would work on poles smelling of creosote when all the oak and cedar surrounds him. Ol' Brer Squirrel just found the pecans we set out for him. We wondered how long it would take.

Those spring rains have caused quite a show of wildflowers. We hope to get to take Kay around to see them while they are still pretty. We tried to let the wildflowers bloom out in the front yard but the weed growth made it where the big dogs got lost in the wilderness so we had to mow.

Well, all this sunshine has sapped our writing skills, so we better amble on and try to make a living. We will look for you over the back fence.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

Marion Heisler
612-2509

Hi, y'all. Ol' Man Winter had one last shot to make at us, didn't he? We were glad we hadn't pulled out the little wood heater yet. There was almost frost on our peach trees again. Last year the frost wiped out every single peach but we think we might have some to share with the birds and squirrels this year.

• The Medina Lake VFD and juniors directed traffic and parking for the MLBAs Brewfest last Saturday. The cold weather seemed to cool off the attendance but we haven't heard any numbers as of yet.

• St. Victor's Chapel will have their spring flea market on May 3. This gives us all a chance to clear out some of those things which have lain unused for so long. It also gives us the chance to buy some more of the same to lie around unused. Contact Jackie Mixon for a table or more info.

• Preparations for the MLVFD Spring Barbecue are still underway. This Saturday, April 19, will be a work day to clean the fire house and get all the facilities ready. We hope to see all of you at the barbecue on April 26.

• We are sitting here listening to a deputy trying to locate an alarm location. So many times the sheriff's office receives an alarm which has no location. If you have a burglar, fire, panic, medical or other emergency alarm, does the sheriff's office have the proper location? Call your alarm company and find out what directions they have. Some of the companies give little thought to giving accurate directions for us to find you in case of an alarm. So help us and yourself and check those directions.

• As we write this we are sitting in the swing on the deck. We have a squirrel scolding, a woodpecker working on a utility pole and the dove singing their love songs in the hills.

This setting should be very inspirational. We can only wonder why that silly woodpecker would work on poles smelling of creosote when all the oak and cedar surrounds him. Ol' Brer Squirrel just found the pecans we set out for him. We wondered how long it would take.

Those spring rains have caused quite a show of wildflowers. We hope to get to take Kay around to see them while they are still pretty. We tried to let the wildflowers bloom out in the front yard but the weed growth made it where the big dogs got lost in the wilderness so we had to mow.

Well, all this sunshine has sapped our writing skills, so we better amble on and try to make a living. We will look for you over the back fence.

Little athletes prepared for Little Olympics

The 36th Annual Barbara Mazurek PTO Little Olympics will be held at Bulldog Stadium on Friday, April 18. The Parade of Athletes begins at 6 p.m. followed by track events for students through grade 5.

Each grade selects a boy and girl to represent them to earn points during the event.

Hill Country Elementary grade level representatives are: First grade—Frankie Avila and Jessica Holt; second grade—Jeremiah Vanderburg and Leslie Reyes; third grade—Eddie Perezwences and Racheal Burnett; fourth grade—Corey Murphy and Katie Quarles; and fifth grade—Chad Thompson and Amanda McKinney.

Alkek Elementary grade level representatives are: First grade—Karl Hayes and Amanda Herndon; second grade—Justin Alexander and Brittany Black; third grade—Daniel Rodriguez and Nicole Mandry; fourth grade—Travis Stehling and Tiffany Clark; and fifth grade—Chris Martinez and Lauryn Erfurt.

The public is invited to attend the event and cheer on our young track stars, said a spokesman for the event. Proceeds go to fund PTO projects.

WHAT'S RUSTLIN'

by Bungy

Bandera had a first Saturday night with an honest to goodness dinner reader's theater, complete with candle light and table cloths! The Methodist Church put on a production of "Arsenic and Old Lace," which is an old comedy. And they did a terrific job. In a reader's theater, the actors have costumes on, but sit on stools and read their lines really the characters they were playing! And that is the hardest kind of acting to do. Around 50 showed up for this first production, and we're all waiting for the next! Dinner was great, too.

The play was in the Ryan Building on Cedar, and right up at the corner of "Old Main Street," was a chili cook-off going full bore! There was street dancing booths and great chili. Kelly Scott had his newest "Old" chuck wagon there that he'd not just re-built but built new from scratch. Even the wagon wheels! He called his pot of chili "Papa Scott's Copano Bay Chili," and as we were stepping over some of his mules' "horse apples" he said, "Watch out! Don't step on my spices!" His chili was deelish, anyway!

They had a pretty good turnout even though it was 50 degrees and everyone was bundled up. Street dancing always goes on in Bandera, no matter the weather!

This coming Saturday and Sunday are loaded with fun. The Delta Kappa Gamma Home Tour is on with Abudndare Historic Ranch as one of the homes. And then there's the Bandera Style Tupperware Party at the Bandera Forge! Y'all bring your iron cooking pots and skillets (Cowboy Tupperware), and they cure them for you! Yep! That's the Cowboy Capital for you!

Ginger Choate, who used to be one of the mainstays of the Chamber of Commerce, is now receptionist out at Rodeo Chevrolet, where she told me that the Cavendars of Cavendars Oldsmobile, Saturn, and Toyota fame of San Antonio have just bought Rodeo! The Cavendar sons have a band that plays for lots of charities, etc. and someone told me that when they played for the Stock Show and Rodeo in SA, Ginger sang with them and made quite a hit! Hey! Put her on our entertainer's list for Bandera County.

Don't forget the Spring Fling on Saturday at the Forge, that's when all the other entertainers in town get together and jam! Since the Kazoo Band has gone defunct, we only watch!

Well, the wife and I have just returned from [illegible] our home— the river, rivers and Canyon. It was [illegible] profitable, I must admit. It had been four months since we were there and the canino employees, who call us Mom and Dad, [illegible]

Orchestra concert. The 18-piece group is bein on keeping the tag [illegible] Cactus Flow. They brought back many memories of music from the 30s.

• The Once-a-Month Lunch Bunch will have their monthly get-together on Wednesday, April 16 at 51 Durango in [illegible]

• Turn in day for those for the fire department flea market and auction is on Thursday from 8:30 to 11 a.m. Don't throw away that item, it might be just the thing I've been looking for.

The big day for our fund-raiser is Saturday, May 24, so mark your calendars.

If you are planning a family or friends get-together, plan it for the 24th and let the fire department do the cooking for you.

• Sherry Gobel and her mother-in-law Faye Gobel of Evansville, Indiana spent three days visiting the Bledsoes. Faye's son graduated from basic [illegible] Base in Biloxi, Miss. They all enjoyed sightseeing in San Antonio Saturday. The visitors were impressed with the River [illegible] City Mall, but Faye was most impressed with the area around Bandera. Sherry is Phil and Nola's daughter.

• Sunday, April 20, Lakeshore VFD will sponsor the pumper races for all the fire departments in the county. Come on out and enjoy this friendly competition. It starts around 1 p.m.

Well, it seems our winter is still holding on. A fairly cold norther came in Friday afternoon, leaving us with a chilly weekend, very close to frost, below 40. Farmers are busy getting their grain in or preparing the soil after the hard washing rain.

We are still cleaning up the fallen trees from the recent storm.

• Charles McKee, who lived in Tarpley for several years, died at Sid Peterson Hospital in Kerrville.

• Charles Easley of the Rio Hondo area died Sunday after major surgery at the Methodist Hospital in San Antonio.

• John W. Schmidt of Bandera died last week. He and his wife Pearl lived in Tarpley area for many years.

• Marie Hood and her daughter Gladys A. Hood of Baytown returned home Thursday after several days of visiting relatives in Cleveland and Shepherd and friends at Weimar.

• Sunday visitors at Tarpley Baptist Church were Ronnie and Feona Nolan and Bud and Delores Jackson of Amarillo. Bud was honored with the birthday song and prayer. He is Harold Jackson's brother. Marie Hood was presented with a plaque honoring her for the many years she has served as song leader for the church.

• Tom and Jerry Hall and Margaret Cain returned home from Kansas City, MO Friday after spending several months caring for their brother John Brosnahan.

• Charles Dean of New Braunfels visited Monday.

• Elzie and I drove to Pearsall Friday afternoon to the Preston potato shed for those good red potatoes that sell for $6 for 50 pounds. We didn't see as many of the bluebonnets as usual, but a good many of the Indian paint brush and fields of yellow flowers.

You don't have to be positive, you just have to be yourself.

Many people are unaware that Head Start extends its services to children with disabilities. Head Start provides individual care and guidance to children, helping them reach their full development potential. Each child is considered a unique person with previous experiences, current needs, and potential for future growth. The Head Start approach is well suited to helping children with special needs: Emotionally disturbed, mental retardation, hearing impairment, visual impairment, physical disabilities, or health-impaired requiring special education. If your child has special needs, or if you know another child who does, remember Head Start. Call 796-6233 for more information parent request [illegible] attendance in BISD schools of three children who reside outside the district. The board voted to wait until their June session to make a final decision on the matter.

BISD board tables action on 3 transfer students

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rivers, whose three children attend Bandera High School, Bandera Middle School and Hill Country Elementary School, are no longer residents of the school district and have been informed by Superintendent Gus Pfeiffer that they must either move back into the district, pay tuition or transfer to the Northside ISD.

[illegible] active and outstanding students in the district since [illegible] would cost $6,000 per year.

A school board can decide transfers on a case by case basis and the BISD board occasionally grants transfers, but they are generally granted for the children of district employees so that the employee's children can attend school in the district where the parent works.

Koerth asked the board for a selective enforcement of the law regarding transfer students.

He also acknowledged that he knew the home he currently lives in was not in the [illegible] district when he bought it.

Trustee Bub Keese, who seconded the motion made by Dave Koehler to table the matter until June, told Koerth that crowded conditions at Bandera's schools made it hard for the district to be generous in such situations.

More computer classes offered at HCE

Starting on April 28, the computer lab at Hill Country Elementary offers a four part series of adult computer classes. These sessions will be for people who would like to know more about the Microsoft Office series of productivity software including:

For registration information, people will need to call the Computer Lab at 535-5108 or the School's main number at 510-9585, Registration will continue through April 25.

School calendar adopted for 97-98

Bandera ISD board of trustees have adopted the 1997-98 school calendar that has schools opening on Wednesday, August 13 and graduation scheduled for Friday, May 29, 1998.

Student holidays are set for Sept. 1 (Labor Day), Oct. 13 (Columbus Day), Nov. 26-28 (Thanksgiving), Dec. 22-Jan. 2 (Christmas), Jan. 15-16 (Stock Show), March 16-20 (Spring Break), April 10 (Good Friday), April 13 and May 4 (Weather Days).

Nominees for gifted program sought

Nominations for Bandera ISD's elementary school gifted/talented program, Project Horizon, will be accepted through April 21, 1997. Nominations will be taken for students who have not been nominated and screened since the spring of last year.

To nominate a student, call either Alkek Elementary (796-6223) or Hill Country Elementary (510-9585) between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday-Friday.

Libraries contribute to student's success

This year's National Library Week, April 13-19, celebrates the wonderful world of learning and fun to be found with the theme "Kids Connect @ the Library." The goal is to encourage people to bring children to libraries early and often to help them connect to books, computers and other resources that will help them learn and grow throughout their lives.

Families with incomes of $50,000 a year are five times more likely to have computers than other families. "As librarians, we are concerned that all children and adults have access to computer technology," said Patsy Small, BISD librarian.

Research has shown that the highest achieving students come from schools with good library media centers.

During National Library Week, the Bandera ISD libraries will offer a full week of activities to highlight their services. At Hill Country Elementary Library, librarian Kathy Royall has invited community leaders to visit the school and read library books to groups of students to promote her "Leaders as Readers" program.

Advertise in the Bandera Bulletin and Boerne Star and reach over 12,000 homes. Call 796-3718.

Hotline for wildflower locations

Maybe you're from right? And she wants to see those famous Texas wildflowers. Search no more, simply call the National Wildflower Research Center's Texas Wildflower Hotline sponsored by 590 KLBJ Radio at (512) 832-4059, ext. 4.

The Wildflower Hotline is a 24 hour service that details the locations of the most spectacular roadsides displays of wildflowers throughout Texas. The Hotline runs through May 31, 1997 and is updated every Friday by Center botanists.

Wildflowers are blooming all over Central Texas, but the best place to see wildflowers is still at the Wildflower Center in Austin. Named one of "America's Best Public Gardens" by Garden Design magazine, the Center is open from 9 a.m.- 5:30 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday. During the month of April, the Center also is open on Mondays.

TARPLEY

Well, it seems our winter is still holding on. A fairly cold norther came in Friday afternoon, leaving us with a chilly weekend, very close to frost, below 40. Farmers are busy getting their grain in or preparing the soil after the hard washing rain.

We are still cleaning up the fallen trees from the recent storm.

• Charles McKee, who lived in Tarpley for several years, died at Sid Peterson Hospital in Kerrville.

• Charles Easley of the Rio Hondo area died Sunday after major surgery at the Methodist Hospital in San Antonio.

• John W. Schmidt of Bandera died last week. He and his wife Pearl lived in Tarpley area for many years.

• Marie Hood and her daughter Gladys A. Hood of Baytown returned home Thursday after several days of visiting relatives in Cleveland and Shepherd and friends at Weimar.

• Sunday visitors at Tarpley Baptist Church were Ronnie and Feona Nolan and Bud and Delores Jackson of Amarillo. Bud was honored with the birthday song and prayer. He is Harold Jackson's brother. Marie Hood was presented with a plaque honoring her for the many years she has served as song leader for the church.

• Tom and Jerry Hall and Margaret Cain returned home from Kansas City, MO Friday after spending several months caring for their brother John Brosnahan.

• Charles Dean of New Braunfels visited Monday.

• Elzie and I drove to Pearsall Friday afternoon to the Preston potato shed for those good red potatoes that sell for $6 for 50 pounds. We didn't see as many of the bluebonnets as usual, but a good many of the Indian paint brush and fields of yellow flowers.

You don't have to be positive, you just have to be yourself. —anon

Many people are unaware that Head Start extends its services to children with disabilities. Head Start provides individual care and guidance to children, helping them reach their full development potential. Each child is considered a unique person with previous experiences, current needs, and potential for future growth. The Head Start approach is well suited to helping children with special needs: Emotionally disturbed, mental retardation, hearing impairment, visual impairment, physical disabilities, or health-impaired requiring special education. If your child has special needs, or if you know another child who does, remember Head Start. Call 796-8233 for more information

[illegible] parent requests [illegible] low attendance in BISD schools of three children who reside outside the district. The board voted to wait until their June session to make a final decision on the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray [illegible], whose three children attend Bandera High School, Bandera Middle School and Hill Country Elementary School, are no longer residents of the school district and have been informed by Superintendent Gus Pfeiffer that they must either move back into the district, pay tuition or transfer to the Northside ISD.

[illegible] active and outstanding students in the district [illegible] would be over $6,000 per year.

A school board can decide transfers on a case by case basis and the BISD board normally grants such requests. [illegible] generally granted for the children of district employees so that the employee's children can attend school in the district where the parent works.

Koerth asked the board for a selective enforcement of the law regarding transfer students.

He also acknowledged that he knew the [illegible] home he currently lives in was not in the [illegible] district when he bought it.

Trustee Bub Keese, who seconded the motion made by Dave Koehler to table the matter until June, told Koerth that crowded conditions at Bandera's schools made it hard for the district to be generous in such situations.

Libraries contribute to student's success

This year's National Library Week, April 13-19, celebrates the wonderful world of learning and fun to be found with the theme "Kids Connect @ the Library." The goal is to encourage people to bring children to libraries early and often to help them connect to books, computers and other resources that will help them learn and grow throughout their lives.

Families with incomes of $50,000 a year are five times more likely to have computers than other families. "As librarians, we are concerned that all children and adults have access to computer technology," said Patsy Small, BISD librarian.

Research has shown that the highest achieving students come from schools with good library media centers.

During National Library Week, the Bandera ISD libraries will offer a full week of activities to highlight their services. At Hill Country Elementary Library, librarian Kathy Royall has invited community leaders to visit the school and read library books to groups of students to promote her "Leaders as Readers" program.

SILVER SAGE CORRAL 796-4969

Betty Lebo

The ol' Corral just discovered that it has some mighty generous new neighbors down the street at the 11th Street Cowboy Bar. This past Saturday, the Bar held its 1st Annual Chili Cookoff and Songwriter's Expo featuring a benefit aucton for the Silver Sage Corral.

Co-proprietors Suzanne Summers and Cotton Doley did a bang up job of organizing and producing this event. A tremendous amount of effort went into getting the word out to all the chili cooks, soliciting donations for the auction, acquiring musicians and performers, advertising, etc., etc.

There were about eighteen teams entered in the chili cookoff and many singers, songwriters and performers. Good ol' Dustry Britches won First Place in Showmanship with his "Jailbird Chili". For all of you that have been overheard commenting on the fact that Dusty doesn't have both of his oars in the water, that's because he uses one of those oars to stir his chili. There's always an explanation for everything (or at least an excuse) huh, Dusty? Does anyone remember a few years back when Dusty was playing Sheriff Bufford T. Justice for a Chamber of Commerce event? I can distinctly remember hanging him that week-end, which could explain the shortage of oxygen to the brain. Just a thought.

Kevin Fitzpatrick was there performing his wonderful rope tricks. Both Kevin and Dusty are internationally famous performers and we are quite fortunate to have them as members of our community. They are always willing to donate their time and talents for a good cause.

The Board of Directors, clients and participants of the Silver Sage Corral would like to thank Suzanne and Cotton, donors of the auction items, the performers and all those who participated in making this a very successful event. Please read Suzanne's article covering this event which will list the winners in all catgegories. She reports that the Corral will derive around $2,000 from the proceeds of the auction and chili sales. Not bad for a first effort!

And by the way, thanks to the community for turning out in great numbers and supporting the auction. This was truly an event where everyone was a winner. Those who attended had a great time, the bar profited from beer sales and the Corral was the beneficiary of a bunch of denero...which, of course, will be put right back into the community by way of serving our senior citizens.

Did you know that in 1961 [illegible] phone numbers listed in the Medina area? SILVER SAGE CORRAL 796-4969

Betty Lebo

The ol' Corral just discovered that it has some mighty generous new neighbors down the street at the 11th Street Cowboy Bar. This past Saturday, the Bar held its 1st Annual Chili Cookoff and Songwriter's Expo featuring a benefit aucton for the Silver Sage Corral.

Co-proprietors Suzanne Summers and Cotton Doley did a bang up job of organizing and producing this event. A tremendous amount of effort went into getting the word out to all the chili cooks, soliciting donations for the auction, acquiring musicians and performers, advertising, etc., etc.

There were about eighteen teams entered in the chili cookoff and many singers, songwriters and performers. Good ol' Dustry Britches won First Place in Showmanship with his "Jailbird Chili". For all of you that have been overheard commenting on the fact that Dusty doesn't have both of his oars in the water, that's becasue he uses one of those oars to stir his chili. There's always an explanation for everything (or at least an excuse) huh, Dusty? Does anyone remember a few years back when Dusty was playing Sheriff Bufford T. Justice for a Chamber of Commerce event? I can distinctly remember hanging him that week-end, which could explain the shortage of oxygen to the brain. Just a thought.

Kevin Fitzpatrick was there performing his wonderful rope tricks. Both Kevin and Dusty are internationally famous performers and we are quite fortunate to have them as members of our community. They are always willing to donate their time and talents for a good cause.

The Board of Directors, clients and participants of the Silver Sage Corral would like to thank Suzanne and Cotton, donors of the auction items, the performers and all those who participated in making this a very successful event. Please read Suzanne's article covering this event which will list the winners in all cagtegories. She reports that the Corral will derive around $2,000 from the proceeds of the auction and chili sales. Not bad for a first effort!

And by the way, thanks to the community for turning out in great numbers and supporting the auction. This was truly an event where everyone was a winner. Those who attended had a great time, the bar profited from beer sales and the Corral was the beneficiary of a lunch of denero...which, of course, will be put right back into the community by way of serving our senior citizens.

God bless you everyone!

Please remember the April birthday luncheon, Tuesday, April 22, at 11:45 a.m. Bring a dish and come on down.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Beware those yankee schools, warns writer, even if they are cheaper

Dear Editor:

The exploits of the current crop of our state legislators is a prime example of the benefits to be reaped by continuing to scrimp on education here in Texas. And groving that Bandera needn't take a back seat in this area, its citizens recently voted down the last school bond election. Now, scant months later, we find the BISD agonizing over ways to patch up the antiquated middle school and save it from dying of old age.

For once I find myself in agreement with the majority. We should not let ourselves be stampeded by radical notions such as—it's now cheaper to send a child to Harvard for one year than it is to house an inmate in the Texas Department of Corrections for that same period. Better our children go to prison right here in Texas than come home from Harvard full of high-falutin' Yankee ideas.

Middle School unsafe

Dear Editor:

It is with great interest and amazement that I follow the articles and discussion of how we are to meet the growth needs of the Bandera Independent School District. As a father of two children attending both Bandera Middle School and Hill Country Elementary, I would like to applaud the courage and wisdom of the B.I.S.D. Board of Education in recognizing the deplorable and unsafe conditions of our Middle School.

I invite all parents of children in Middle School and in both elementary schools to visit the ancient 6th grade building and ask themselves how their children are going to escape if this building were to burn. Then imagine how much more difficult, at the current growth rate, this task would be if we took the advise of some to wait five more years before we act.

I find it most interesting that an advisory committee member who owns and operates a company that does electrical construction suggests that we parents " get around" standard building codes that protect the safety and well being of our children.

I also read with great amusement a recommendation from a man that can afford to run several full page ads in The Bandera Bulletin to suggest to the rest of us "to put a coat of paint on the old truck and drive her for a few more years."

I take exception to the selfish and short-sighted views of some advisory committee members that feel the children of BISD should continue to attend classes in a building that has far outlasted it's intended purpose and even worse, suggest that our children wait five more years before they have safe and adequate facilities.

Gentlemen, you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear any more than you can waste tax payers' money adding to an old dilapidated, unsafe building.

Although there are those that forecast that a bond issue to build a new facility for the children can't be approved, I suggest that there are enough of us that are more likely to take the advice of professional architects over the advice of those who have rather transparent personal agendas to insure the passage of a desperately needed bond issue for the children.

Lots of honest businessmen here

Dear Editor:

It was a real pleasure to read a "letter to the editor" in a previous issue of this paper. It was concerning the expertise, honesty and etc. that Buddy Sandidge displayed when building a new home for a lady. It made me wish I was in the market for one.

I experienced much the same "blessing" when I had Grady Desmukes do some fencing for me. He is a very pleasant and competent person to do business with— he did everything he said he would and actually went the second mile. It was a good feeling to know the work was being done exactly as I wanted it done.

Sign issue may be civil matter

Dear Editor:

One more opinion on the Rio Hondo sign controversy probably won't change anything but maybe it will shed a little light on a solution. Commissioners Court fulfilled their obligation in hearing the matter and asking for an Attorney General's opinion, but they probably won't get one because it's a civil matter.

The County has no control over private disputes among property owners. We always advised them to get their own attorney to settle their arguments in the past. The Court should not change that position, there is very little money available to provide needed services for taxpayers.

If the sign is beyond the road edge I predict the argument would be settled in favor of the sign owner if they go to court. Hopefully they will get the matter resolved sooner, litigation is very expensive these days.

If folks think Bandera County is growing fast they should look at the Austin statistics: 50 acres per day is being consumed by home builders. In the old days a big dust cloud meant a trail herd or Indians. Today it is city folks moving to the country.

Pat and I are looking forward to returning to Bandera County when she retires. I just hope there will be some wide open space left. Also, the bragging rights for the biggest pot hole fish are still held by Bandera Ranch Acres. Enjoying The Bulletin and missing y'all.

Keep schools small

Dear Editor:

There has been much talk about the growth of Bandera County. This growth is creating a need for expensive renovations for the middle school or— even more expensive—construction of a brand new large middle school.

Perhaps our leaders in education ought to think about this idea: build two smaller middle schools next to the elementary schools. Rather than creating a "big city" school environment for our Bandera County children, we need to focus on quality along with affordability.

A small school atmosphere is better for students and teachers. Study after study shows that the best learning environment for a child is a small school.

CAROLYN'S CORNER

BY CAROLYN B. EDWARDS, EDITOR

JoAnn Peterson dropped off a little press release to let us know about National TV-Turnoff Week which is scheduled for April 24-30.

The event is sponsored by TV-Free America, the nonprofit organization that sponsors the week to promote richer, healthier livas for families and communities by turning off the TV.

Statistics show that at least 99 percent of American households own a TV and 66 percent have three or more.

The average American youth spends approximately 900 hours per year in school, but spends 1500 hours per year in front of the TV.

What does that do for us intellectually? Well, 59 percent of us can name the Three Stooges, but only 17 percent of us can name three justices of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Why don't we all try it for a week? Just turn the darned thing off.

Report back with your experiences of withdrawal symptoms, family reactions and so forth.

April 20 is the beginning of Reading is Fun Week by the way, so if the TV is off, you might want to spend a little time reading with your kids.

You can celebrate Kindergarten Day on April 21. I know a couple of kindergarteners who astound me with what they have learned this year. If you know any of those bright-eyed little ones just beginning their education, give them a "Well done."

April 22 is Earth Day. Is there anyone in Bandera County who throws a party for good old Mother Earth? Seems like we mostly just throw more trash in her face. I don't know what the solution to the litter problem is, but for heaven's sake, don't throw your beer cans, McDonald's boxes and deer carcasses along the roadsides. There is only so much God can do with wildflowers to cover up your messes.

April 24 is Take Your Daughter to Work Day, yet another excuse for spending one less day in school. I never have understood why this "day" couldn't have been scheduled in the summer when we could truly measure a child's enthusiasm for going to work with mom. As it is, most kids I know will grab at any excuse to get out of classes for a day, even if it means watching mom pop rivets all day.

And, of course, to be politically correct, if our son wants to be a daughter for the day, he can be excused from school as well.

Special ed students may be included in school assessments

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

State Reps. Harold Dutton and Scott Hochberg, both Houston Democrats, have filed separate bills that would make public schools more accountable for the academic progress of special education students.

Included in the legislation are provisions that would remove incentives for schools to place low-achievers in special education programs.

"We have more kids being pushed into special education for the wrong reasons. More often than not, it is a place where kids are languishing in an educational cesspool that forever labels and stifles their educational progress," Dutton said.

The proposed law would keep school districts from routinely exempting special education students' scores in schools' evaluations.

Education Commissioner Mike Moses believes special education students should be tested and their scores counted. "We need to get as many children as possible in the assessment system," he said.

House Passes Tax Work-off Bill

Citizens 65 and older would be able to work for school districts to pay off their school property tax, under legislation passed by the Texas House last week.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Brian McCall, R-Plano, is modeled after a Colorado plan that allows school districts to contract with older citizens who want to work off their tax debt at minimum wage. The money earned is credited to their property tax bills.

"School districts in many cases have trouble finding people to do certain jobs in schools," McCall was quoted in the Austin American-Statesman.

"If a community has a concert pianist and they are short in the music department, they can bring in a retired concert pianist to work with the students."

Auto Insurers Discriminate?

A study by the Austin-based Center for Economic Justice says insurance companies writing auto insurance companies writing auto policies for Texas drivers are discriminating against low-income and minority areas by forcing residents to pay higher premiums.

And, the study says, the overall rejection rate has increased and insurance availability worsened over the past five years.

Insurance industry spokesman Jerry Johns, in a report by the Associated Press, said, "Any allegations that this is a racial or minority issue are absurd and totally without foundation. What apparently has occurred is groups have cobblestoned numbers together to prove what they want to prove."

Jim Davis, a spokesman for the Texas Department of Insurance, said the department recently established a hotline for people who believe they have experienced insurance discrimination by Zip code, also known as redlining.

Senate Approves Adoption Bill

The Texas Senate last week approved a bill that would make adoptions quicker, in some cases.

Sponsored by Sen. Judith Zaffirini, D-Laredo, the bill is aimed at expediting adoptions for children who have been removed from their parents by the state because of neglect or abuse.

"What's happening is that these children are growing up without a family. They move from foster home to foster home, and they age out (turn 18) and they're out on the street," Zaffirini said.

The bill also would create a paternity registry, making it easier to terminate the parental rights of fathers who don't claim their babies and allow the infants to be adopted, the Associated Press reported.

Methodists serve up arsenic, old lace and spaghetti

The Drama Club of the Bandera United Methodist Church presented their first performance Saturday night. The readers theater presentation accompanied a spaghetti dinner in the Ryan Youth Center on Cedar Street.

The production of Joseph Kesselring's old favorite, "Arsenic and Old Lace," was a hit with the audience.

The cast included Sharon Anderwald as Abby Brewster, Conrad Nightingale as the Rev. Dr. Harper and Dr. Einstein, Travis Hull as Teddy Brewster and Dennis Thompson as Officer Brophy and as Mr. Witherspoon. Debbie Chastain played Martha Brewster, Jennifer Sandidge played Elaine Harper and Darren Sandidge played Mortimer Brewster.

Joe McMullan handled the double role of Mr. Gibbs and Jonathan Brewster. Jim Chastain read the role of Officer O'Hara and Cindy McMullen played Lt. Rooney.

Assisting as house manager was Larry Scott, while Jean Heep and Carmen Boyington headed up the food service. Director was Dennis Thompson.

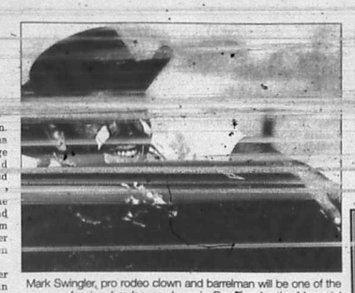
OK. Last week we listed the origins of some of the place-names hereabouts, which exemplify the two cultural streams which flowed across Bandera County in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries—Spanish and "North American." But who was here before the dawn of Euro-centric history?

A few years ago when Highway 16 was being widened between here and San Antonio, the state law had to be followed and an official archeological dig undertaken down on San Geronimo Creek across from the headquarters of the Bodet Ranch. Wayne Cox, now with UTSA, was in charge of the project for the highway department, and spent many weeks carefully excavating remains of what was a semi-permanent campsite for pre-historic native Americans. He found remnants of ovens, many weapon points, evidence that buffalo had been killed, and artifacts indicating trade between the campers and tribes much farther west. Though Bandera County officials attempted to secure at least some of the objects for display in our court-house, the hard rule was that they had to be boxed up and put into storage in Austin. Wayne Cox was sympathetic to our wish to have these things on view here and doubted they would ever see the light of day anywhere else. Oh well.

Cox accepted our invitation to come to our place one afternoon after work to look at a site along the creek littered with worked flint shards and slivers. At one time local expert E.C. Whitehead had said that he could see evidence of ancient campfires at at least temporary habitation. E.C. said, correctly, that the people who had been here were not the Comanches or Apaches of history, but were "them old fellers" of thousands of years ago.



Agreeing, Cox said that our high flat between the river and the creek was plainly a quarry for flint, the quality of the nodules being better than he had seen anywhere else in the neighborhood. He did not think that them old fellers had spent very much time here, but came only when they needed new flint. Winter Texans?

He said that he could say without fear of contradiction that there are or were almost 7000 campsites or mounds of prehistoric Indians in Bandera County. Many readers know of mounds on their own ranches, some of which are more or less intact, others already strip-searched for artifacts and arrowheads now decorating living room walls.

Archeologists like Cox and our friend Anne Fox stress that it is important not to disturb a pre-historic site until a scientifically careful dig like the one down on the San Geronimo can be conducted.

It is clear that there were no permanent villages of old fellers here like those of the basket-makers of the Rio Grande and Pecos canyons or the cliff dwellings of Arizona and New Mexico. Our predecessors seemed to have been nomadic hunters and gatherers. They must gradually have disappeared into the mist of eternity to be succeeded by the sweeping bands of Apaches and the later dreaded Comanches coming off the high plains to steal horses and raid the struggling Spanish outposts along the Rio and in Bexar.

On one old map of Texas and in historical accounts, a "rancheria" of Apaches was shown to be located on the Guadalupe across the pass, in present Kerr county. Expedition leader Captain Jose Urrutia reported the presence of this camp in his report to Bexar authorities in 1745. There must be a connection, yet to be found, with all the stories of fighting at Bandera Pass!

Pro rodeo coming

The Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association brings another weekend of professional rodeo to Bandera on Memorial Day weekend. The annual PRCA event will bring professional rodeo cowboys and their fans to Bandera's Mansfield Park Arena for the three-day event.

Professional rodeo is a sport, perhaps the fastest growing sport in the nation. But to the cowboys and cowgirls who compete, it is a lifestyle, too, often offering heartbreak and reward in equal measure. The cowboy doesn't compete at rodeo as much as he lives it.

The best cowboys, those within reach of a "top 15" finish and an invitation to the lucrative National Finals Rodeo, will travel to as many as 125 rodeos per year, covering perhaps 100,000 miles.

Ask a cowboy why and he'll shrug and answer "Why not?"

YOUR LIBRARY

by Marilyn Stubbeman

National Library Week is April 14-18. How long has it been since you explored our Bandera County Library?

Here are some of the latest books that have arrived at the Bandera County Library. In giving you these brief summaries I am borrowing heavily from reviews on the books chosen that I have not personally read.

Frank McCourt's "Angela's Ashes" tells of a childhood spent amid the worst living conditions imaginable. One would expect bitterness from the author but this book is laced with humor, tenderness and honesty. This is a prize winner.

Jacquelyn Mitchard's "The Deep End of the Ocean" relates how the disappearance of a 3-year-old impacts the lives of the entire family and shapes their lives and decisions. This story also shows the differences in how people deal with loss and disaster as well as friendship and family. It is an absorbing book.

"Each One Teach One" by Ron Casanova as told to Steve Blackburn chronicles one man's struggle out of poverty, homelessness and drug addiction to find dignity and purpose in his life. Through his own awakening this activist finds his answer to helping others.

There are new books coming into the library on a regular basis and of varying genre. Whatever your taste in literature, it is possible that there is a book waiting for you at the library.

Tourism Talks

Ben Nolen

Do you have a project, activity or any type of festival which you feel will promote tourism in Bandera County? If you do have a project, but like most of us, you're short on funds, your C.V.B. (Convention and Visitors Bureau) can possibly help. Your C.V.B. has what is known as a grant-in-aid program. If your project falls within the limits of the program, funds may be available to help you or our organization promote your project. The purpose of the Bandera County C.V.B. grant-in-aid program is to encourage and promote tourism in Bandera County. The projects must have broad appeal and must be designed to attract outside visitors to Bandera County. To be specific, any funding from the Bandera C.V.B. must be used totally for the encouragement, promotion, improvement and stimulation of tourism by creating a positive image of Bandera County as a unique place to visit. Any applicant, to receive funds, must be non-profit.

All applications for grants-in-aid are considered annually by the C.V.B. during its approval of its annual budget. All applications must be filed with the C.V.B. board of directors on or before Sept. 1 for the upcoming year.

Just to give you an idea, the organizations and/or functions which received grant-in-aid funds for '96 were: the Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association, Bandera County Historical Commission, Bandera County Chamber of Commerce Cowboy Christmas, Frontier Times Museum, Cajun Festival, Apple Festival and Bandera County 4-H Horse Show.

See, I told you the C.V.B. and the Chamber of Commerce really do put money back into our economy.

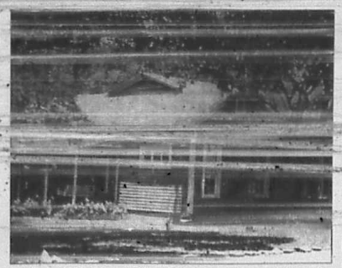
A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes



DOORS. . . Ever think about how many doors you have passed through in your life? Silly question? Not really.

We all have seen the sign over certain doors in public buildings. "Exit" or "This Way Out." This designation over doors has a figurative as well as literal meaning. All of our lives and particularly when we are young, we will be going through many doors. It can mean opportunity, service, and happiness when the doors lead into something beneficial. In this sense education and religion are doors which open us new vistas of meaningful living.

But there are doors which lead us only to frustration and unhappiness. One of these doors opens the way to quick wealth by dishonest means; another to satisfying revenge; another to avarice and greed. It seems that the doors opening the way to experiences of this type are unfortunately much more numerous than those opening upon a happy life.

When we approach a door which we think will lead us to a new dimension of life, we should look up before we pass through. Above many will be the sign, "This way out".

The Texas-style home of Bil and Dee Bartley is one of five on the Delta Kappa Gamma Home Tour Saturday, April 19. Tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce. The event raises funds for the Katy Kidd Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Tour features 5 homes

The Katy Kidd Memorial Home Tour, sponsored by Delta Kappa Gamma; an honorary teaching sorority, will be held on April 19, from 1 to 5 p.m. All contributions will go toward a scholarship to be given to a Bandera High School senior that is interested in going on to education as a career.

Five uniquely different and charming homes are featured in this year's home tour.

Enjoy a nostalgic walk back into the past when you arrive at the Comanche Creek Bed and Breakfast. You will be greeted by a stand of four o'clocks that grace the small front yard which is bordered by a cedar stake fence called an 'armadillo guard.' The original 2-room stone house pre-dates 1892.

Enjoy true southern style hospitality when you tour another full bed and breakfast. The Abundare River Ranch rests peacefully on 600 acres with the Medina River meandering through it. Scarlet O'Hara herself would have been at home here. The owners have dedicated themselves to preserving the natural beauty and serenity of this historic property.

The Rodriquez home in downtown Bandera has won the "Silver Spur Award" for the prettiest home in Bandera. The original home, built in 1909, was moved to its present location from San Antonio.

The Rancho Los Flores reflects the relaxed atmosphere of a California style ranch and was modeled after a home in Rio Sante Fe, outside of San Diego. It features 6,000 square feet of living space with all rooms leading out to the beautiful covered cabana the encircles the pool. The main house features five fireplaces and cut-stone floor. There is also a guest house, a servant's quarters and the original homestead, now used as the caretaker's residence.

A true Texas-style country home is what you will find when you enter the property of Bill and Dee Bartley. Nestled on 60 acres of rolling hills and surrounded by live oaks this country home has a story in every room. The original building dates back to 1908, and even though the home has undertaken many renovations the original architecture has been retained throughout.

Tickets for the tour are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce and all of the recreational parks throughout the county. All proceeds go toward the Katy Kidd Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Memories

... of strong arms gently holding, protecting and shielding a small, scared child from ghosts, goblins and the boogie man under the bed.

Memories of a stern mouth twitching at one corner. Of twinkling brown eyes belying the harsh words reprimanding a wayward child's latest mischief.

Memories of the jaggedy, shuffling gait of a bone-weary, toil-exhausted body moving from the sanctity of a soft easy chair to solve one more crisis. An earth shattering crisis such as a broken bicycle chain or a ball on the roof.

The world would not long remember Melvin (Jack) McCollum. He wasn't a great scholar. He wasn't a great statesman. But one person will remember that he was much more...He was a great Daddy.

A heartfelt thanks for all the wonderful outpouring of cards, flowers, food and kind deeds that my many friends showered on me during the trying time of losing my beloved father. Your kindness, thoughtfulness and love helped me to bear the unbearable.

WILL THE COUNTY BUY IT? -- Bandera ISD board member Margaret Paredes hopes that the the old historical building which was the first independent school building in Bandera and was built around 1918 can be renovated and maintained as an administrative building for the school district.

Council looks at by-laws for city's economic development corporation

In other business, council also struggled with the approval of the by-laws, articles of incorporation, and the appointment of a Board of Directors for the Bandera Economic Development Corporation which was approved by voters over a year ago.

The city has been collecting a voter approved half cent sales tax which is designated to fund the purposes of the Bandera Economic Development Corporation.

The city has collected $97,780 so far, yet there is no Board of Directors, nor have the by-laws and the articles of incorporation been approved by council.

The Bandera Economic Development Corporation exists only on paper until council approves the appointment of a Board of Directors, the by-laws, and files the articles of incorporation with the state.

The primary concern that both local residents present at the meeting and several council members expressed during almost an hour of discussion centered around the wording of the corporation's proposed by-laws and articles of incorporation which were drafted by attorneys for the city.

soon, then we're looking at two Middle school campuses."

The Commissioners' response was noncommittal but the Court did express an interest in looking [illegible] would consider selling only part of the property to the County but that because the idea of moving Middle school is being considered as only one of several [illegible] remain a lot of questions to be answered in studying the feasibility of the idea.

"I think we do have an interest, but we need to plan a tour of the property," said County Judge Richard Evans.

Keese commented to the Court that the Board was interested in [illegible] remaining ownership of the old original two story school building and asked if the Court would be willing to sell part of the property to the County.

Asked Evans, "Are you willing to parcel it out? I don't think we need all of it."

Keese replied that the Board [illegible] tive and tax offices.

Commissioner James Mormando Jr. said, "No, we want that building."

Keese commented that perhaps the County and the school could somehow use the building jointly.

There were also questions concerning the manner in which how it would be used if the Middle school campus were moved and whether or not moving the Middle school campus were feasible since construction of a new campus would require a bond issue.

Commissioners agreed to schedule a tour of the property as early as possible.

County to bid out 4-year depository contract

by Scott Mahon
Staff writer

In other business at the regular meeting of the Bandera County Commissioners Court held Wednesday, April 9, commissioners agreed to bid the county's depository contract, currently with Norwest Bank in Bandera.

The current contract expires in May according to Bandera County Auditor Tommy Tomlinson.

Tomlinson explained to the court that state law pertaining to county financial management requires that the county bid the depository contract although Tomlinson was doubtful that any banking institution other than Norwest would bid on the contract.

"Large banks don't like municipalities because of the reserve requirements; by law they have to pledge securities which they really don't like to do," said Tomlinson.

On the other hand, Tomlinson wasn't sure if the county could advertise its bid in newspapers outside Bandera County although by law it is required to advertise locally.

"I doubt if we'd get any bids from outside the county anyway, banks just don't like these kinds of accounts," said Tomlinson.

Commissioners agreed to check the state statute pertaining to advertising the bid.

Bandera County Treasurer Kay Welch explained to the court that currently, in order for the county to get the maximum return on its deposits, the county has to manually invest in short term certificates of deposits which requires an enormous amount of manual bookkeeping.

"What we want is a cash management account so that all of our money is invested at all times at a better rate," said Welch.

The county's current budget is approximately $4.5 million. The amount of cash deposits at any one time may vary but according to Welch the county's deposits at the present are approximately $1.5 million.

The courtpassed a motion to bid a four year depository contract which will be advertised locally and also out of town, if state law allows the county to advertise its bid outside the county.

School district offers property to the county

Commissioners will consider offer

by Scott Mahon
Staff Writer

In the regular meeting of the Bandera County Commissioners Court held Monday, April 9, Thomas "Bub" Keese, Bandera ISD board member, formally asked commissioners if the County would be interested in purchasing the Bandera Middle School property and all of its buildings. As BISD's appointed spokeman, Keese pointed out that the BISD board's purpose in approaching the county at this point is simply to find out whether or not the county is interested in the property.

"We have to do something about Middle School," said Keese. "Each year we grow more and more and the logical thing to do would be to move and build a new campus and use the proceeds from the sale of the existing property towards the construction of a new campus."

Gus "Skip" Pfeiffer, Bandera I.S.D. Superintendent, also attended the meeting and supported Keese's view that the current Middle School student population has outgrown its facilities.

"In a few years, the population at that campus is going to be as large as the population of the city of Bandera," said Pfeiffer.

Keese said the current student population at Middle School is approximately 600 and that the existing facilities can only accommodate a student population of 750 even with all the portable structures that are being used by the school.

"We've outgrown our portable buildings and we're already busting out at the seams," said Keese.

Although the Board feels that it cannot make any future plans without first deciding what to do with the existing Middle School facilities, Keese pointed out that board members are considering several possibilities, one of which would be to relocate the Middle School campus to a site on Highway 16 between Bandera and Pipe Creek.

"We're looking at property on Highway 16 between Bandera and Pipe Creek; our architect says we need 35-50 acres," said Keese. "If we don't do something

Spring Fling at the Forge

The Bandera Forge hosts its 9th annual Spring Fling and Cowboy Tupperware Party this weekend to benefit the Bandera EMS. The event features plenty of good music and food.

Cowboy Tupperware is, of course, those wonderful heavy-duty cast iron fry pans and dutch ovens. "Bring 'em in and we'll cook 'em in our fire and re-season 'em for you," said the Forge's Kenneth Stroud. "We do it for a little donation for the EMS." The seasoning session will take place on Sunday.

There is no admission price and Stroud says he'll have free beans both days. There will also be plenty of barbecue and sausage sandwiches for sale.

On Saturday, enjoy a demonstration of genuine chuckwagon cooking while listening to Gary Wright and the Roadkill Band, Linda All, Arkey Blue, John Paul Jones and more.

Sunday, Geronimo Trevino and the Anvil Band and more will play. Lonesome the Longhorn Steer will be present on Sunday for picture taking.

Everything starts around noon both days.

ESSAY WINNER — Linda Childs, 12, of Bandera, accepts an award from VFW President Bill Bryce for her essay on "What Makes America Great." The essay contest is an annual event, this year held for 7th and 9th graders. Childs' essay will now go on to district competition. She is the daughter of Rodger and Betty Childs.

City council appoints task force to look at city sign ordinance

by Scott Mahon
Staff writer

At the regular meeting of the Bandera City Council on April 14, 1997 council members struggled again with controversy surrounding the city's sign ordinance and with attempts to implement the creation of the Bandera Economic Development Corporation.

After months of struggling with the sign ordinance, council at its last-meeting proposed to appoint a task force committee to study the sign ordinance and to hold public meetings to hear concerns from business owners.

At Monday night's meeting, Mayor Bob Cowan presented to council a list of seven Bandera residents to be appointed to the task force ; however, concerned residents present at the meeting expressed their continuing concern about the task force and the wording of the existing sign ordinance.

Linda Stein asked Mayor Cowan to appoint her to the task force committee.

"I want to be on this committee," asked Stein.

Cowan told Stein she had done a good job on the sign ordinance, but he refused to assign her to the committee.

Council member and mayor pro-tem Dorothy Darden, who is not running for re-election, supported Mayor Cowan.

"Linda, you create controversy, unnecessary controversy, so I move that we approve the people the mayor has appointed to be on the task force," said Darden.

Council member Tom Kindla said, "I really don't understand the big deal with the sign ordinance."

Council member Walter Welch also voiced some concern about the proposed task force, however, Darden urge him to support the proposed list of appointees.

"Walter, you don't have a business, but you represent people on main street who do own businesses, so let these people (the task force) work it out," said Darden.

Bandera resident Connie Manal once again expressed her concerns by trying to get council to move forward with the proposed task force idea.

"If you've got some citizens who can put this ordinance into language that can be understood then do it," said Manal.

Finally, after more than 45 minutes of discussion, a motion to approve the appointments to the task force was finally approved. Members include Peggy Ashmore, Russell Hevenor, Tom Kline, Ben Nolen and Kay Welch.

School district offers property to the county

Commissioners will consider offe

by Scott Mahon
Staff Writer

In the regular meeting of the Bandera County Commissioners Court held Monday, April 9, Thomas "Bub" Keese, Bandera ISD board member, formally asked commissioners if the County would be interested in purchasing the Bandera Middle School property and all of its buildings. As BISD's appointed spokeman, Keese pointed out that the BISD board's purpose in approaching the county at this point is simply to find out whether or not the county is interested in the property.

"We have to do something about Middle School," said Keese. "Each year we grow more and more and the logical thing to do would be to move and build a new campus and use the proceeds from the sale of the existing property towards the construction of a new campus."

Gus "Skip" Pfeiffer, Bandera I.S.D. Superintendent, also attended the meeting and supported Keese's view that the current Middle School student population has outgrown its facilities.

"In a few years, the populat at that campus is going to be large as the population of t city of Bandera," said Pfeiffer.

Keese said the current stude population at Middle School approximately 600 and that existing facilities can ac accommodate a student popu tion of 750 even with all t portable structures that a being used by the school.

"We've outgrown our portal buildings and we're alrea busting out at the seams," sa Keese.

Although the Board feels th it cannot make any future pla without first deciding what to with the existing Middle Sch facilities, Keese pointed out th board members are considerin several possibilities, one which would be to relocate t Middle School campus to a s on Highway 16 betwe Bandera and Pipe Creek.

"We're looking at property Highway 16 between Bande and Pipe Creek; our archite says we need 35-50 acres," s Keese. "If we don't do somethi

Behind the scenes

This is the fifth in a series of news, features and photos by journalism students Regina Montague and Carrie Sandidge.

Local OAP advances to area

The Bandera High School One-Act Play Cast and Crew of Christopher Sergel's "To Kill a Mockingbird."

"Do it again, do it again until it's right!"

After three months of One-Act Play practice, the Bandera cast and crew found those lines to be Mrs. Houghton's favorite.

Whether their timing was wrong, their voice too soft, or their set change was far from being silent, by the end of practice they were sure to have it down pat.

And guess what? All of their painstaken practice paid off. On March 22 at the District 26 AAA One-Act Play contest the cast and crew stole the judge's heart and came home with the advancing trophy.

The award winning show, comprised of scenes from Christopher Sergel's "To Kill a Mockingbird" is set amidst the harsh racial prejudice in Maycomb, Alabama during 1935. Bandera's show advanced to Area OAP competition in Wimberly on April 5.

The judge called the performance "a delightful ensemble."

This ensemble consists of twenty-three actors, actresses, and crew members from the 9th through 12th grades.

Jean Louise Finch, played by Somer Stone, narrates the story of her past. Shannon Young plays the young Jean Louise, who is also known as Scout. Her father, Atticus, is played by Jeff Scott and her brother, Jem, is played by Eric Brown. Dill Harris played by Fred Jennings is Jem an Scout's mischieveous playmate, while Calpurnia played by Toba Perez keeps up the Finch residence.

Their neighbors include Miss Maudie, Miss Stephanie, and Mrs. Dubose who are played by Regina Montague, Christina Immel, and Hillary Weaver.

Bob Ewell (Lonny Hurley), the town drunkard, places charges against a negro named Tom Robinson (Tye Stone), for attacking his daughter, Mayella, who is played by Cherise Stricker.

Other cast members include B.J. Deets as Sheriff Tate, Brandon Childers as Mr. Cunningham/Mr. Gilmer, and Daryl Koerth as Boo Radley, Judge Taylor, Nathan Radley, and Big Man.

Crew members are Anna Hurley, Ashley Godfrey, Gina Gregory, Nicole Coffey, Deana Lara, Quint Cabiness, and Nicole Wickware.

Three cast members received individual acting awards at the district contest. Junior Jeff Scott was named All-Star Cast member for his lead male performance as Atticus. Honorable Mention All-Star Cast awards went to senior Toba Perez and freshman Tye Stone for their roles as Calpurnia and Tom.

At the area contest Jeff Scott was named to All-Star Cast, as well as senior Cherise Stricker for her role as Mayella Ewell.

"It is the best feeling a senior can have," said Toba Perez of her acting award.

"It's thrilling to know that if we work hard enough for something it will pay off," said freshman actress Shannon Young.

Many good animals up for adoption now

The Siamese-mix kittens, top, and the heeler-boxer mix puppies, bottom, are all available for adoption now at the county yard. If you can give one of these animals a loving home, call Animal Control Officer Triple Kocurek at 796-7093, or 796-3771.

New surgical procedure controls epileptic seizures

Many not aware that surgery is an option in controlling epilepsy

Surgery to control epileptic seizures put Leslie Whatley in the driver's seat after more than 20 years of not driving.

"Since age 12, my life had been a roller coaster of medications to try to control my seizures," Whatley said. "I had no warning before my seizures, so I couldn't risk driving."

A brain surgery, called temporal lobectomy, has kept Whatley seizure-free since 1992.

"Many people are not aware that surgery may be an option when medication is not successful in controlling seizures," said Dr. Robert Grossman, chairman of neurosurgery at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Epilepsy involves the uncontrolled and excessive discharge of nerve cells in the brain. The type of seizures varies depending on the part of the brain involved.

Temporal lobectomy offers relief for epilepsy patients whose seizures begin in the temporal lobe, an area located on both sides of the brain near the temples.

"Eighty percent of temporal lobectomy patients will be seizure-free. Most can reduce their medication, and in some cases, stop their medication," Grossman said.

Patients with this type of epilepsy experience complex partial seizures, Grossman said. The seizures are complex because they involve systems having to do with memory and higher learning and partial because they do not involve the entire brain.

"These seizures are often characterized by an aura or feeling that a seizure is coming, unpleasant sensations in the chest or abdomen and a feeling of unreality or of familiarity with the scene," he said. "Patients then have a clouding or loss of consciousness and are unable to communicate."

Surgery candidates are examined to determine if their seizures originate in the temporal lobe. Brain imaging with MRI and SPECT scans, EEG recording to measure electrical activity during seizures and memory tests for words and visual patterns help to pinpoint whether the right or left temporal lobe is involved.

"During surgery, a small piece of the temporal lobe, about the size of the thumb from up to joint, is removed," Grossman said.

Patients spend about six days recovering in the hospital, and most experience an immediate end to their seizures.

"With the seizures under control, most patients are able to do things they avoided in the past and have no limitations," Grossman said.

If you want her to have a shot at reaching the stars, she needs to get her baby shots now.
Every child deserves the best opportunities life has to offer. Especially yours.
The odds of her becoming an astronaut and reaching the stars are not in this world. But the chances are more than 1 in 4 that your baby isn't protected against childhood diseases like polio, measles, chicken pox, tetanus and others.
So, even if you're sure your child is up to date and on schedule with her baby shots, ask your doctor at every visit. It couldn't hurt.
In fact, it could give her the chance to grow up to be whatever she wants to be.
Even if it's something out of this world.
Even if you're sure, ask again.

Behind the scenes

This is the fifth in a series of news, features and photos by journalism students Regina Montague and Carrie Sandidge.

Local OAP advances to area

The Bandera High School One-Act Play Cast and Crew of Christopher Sergel's "To Kill a Mockingbird."

"Do it again, do it again until it's right!"

After three months of One-Act Play practice, the Bandera cast and crew found those lines to be Mrs. Houghton's favorite.

Whether their timing was wrong, their voice too soft, or their set change was far from being silent, by the end of practice they were sure to have it down pat.

And guess what? All of their painstaken practice paid off. On March 22 at the District 26 AAA One-Act Play contest the cast and crew stole the judge's heart and came home with the advancing trophy.

The award winning show, comprised of scenes from Christopher Sergel's "To Kill a Mockingbird" is set amidst the harsh racial prejudice in Maycomb, Alabama during 1935. Bandera's show advanced to Area OAP competition in Wimberly on April 5.

The judge called the performance "a delightful ensemble."

This ensemble consists of twenty-three actors, actresses, and crew members from the 9th through 12th grades.

Jean Louise Finch, played by Somer Stone, narrates the story of her past. Shannon Young plays the young Jean Louise, who is also known as Scout. Her father, Atticus, is played by Jeff Scott and her brother, Jem, is played by Eric Brown. Dill Harris played by Fred Jennings is Jem an Scout's mischieveous playmate, while Calpurnia played by Toba Perez keeps up the Finch residence.

Their neighbors include Miss Maudie, Miss Stephanie, and Mrs. Dubose who are played by Regina Montague, Christina Immel, and Hillary Weaver.

Bob Ewell (Lonny Hurley), the town drunkard, places charges against a negro named Tom Robinson (Tye Stone), for attacking his daughter, Mayella, who is played by Cherise Stricker.

Other cast members include B.J. Deets as Sheriff Tate, Brandon Childers as Mr. Cunningham/Mr. Gilmer, and Daryl Koerth as Boo Radley, Judge Taylor, Nathan Radley, and Big Man.

Crew members are Anna Hurley, Ashley Godfrey, Gina Gregory, Nicole Coffey, Deana Lara, Quint Cabiness, and Nicole Wickware.

Three cast members received individual acting awards at the district contest. Junior Jeff Scott was named All-Star Cast member for his lead male performance as Atticus. Honorable Mention All-Star Cast awards went to senior Toba Perez and freshman Tye Stone for their roles as Calpurnia and Tom.

At the area contest Jeff Scott was named to All-Star Cast, as well as senior Cherise Stricker for her role as Mayella Ewell.

"It is the best feeling a senior can have," said Toba Perez of her acting award.

"It's thrilling to know that if we work hard enough for something it will pay off," said freshman actress Shannon Young.

New surgical procedure controls epileptic seizures

Many not aware that surgery is an option in controlling epilepsy

Surgery to control epileptic seizures put Leslie Whatley in the driver's seat after more than 20 years of not driving.

"Since age 12, my life had been a roller coaster of medications to try to control my seizures," Whatley said. "I had no warning before my seizures, so I couldn't risk driving."

A brain surgery, called temporal lobectomy, has kept Whatley seizure-free since 1992.

"Many people are not aware that surgery may be an option when medication is not successful in controlling seizures," said Dr. Robert Grossman, chairman of neurosurgery at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Epilepsy involves the uncontrolled and excessive discharge of nerve cells in the brain. The type of seizures varies depending on the part of the brain involved.

Temporal lobectomy offers relief for epilepsy patients whose seizures begin in the temporal lobe, an area located on both sides of the brain near the temples.

"Eighty percent of temporal lobectomy patients will be seizure-free. Most can reduce their medication, and in some cases, stop their medication," Grossman said.

Patients with this type of epilepsy experience complex partial seizures, Grossman said. The seizures are complex because they involve systems having to do with memory and higher learning and partial because they do not involve the entire brain.

"These seizures are often characterized by an aura or feeling that a seizure is coming, unpleasant sensations in the chest or abdomen and a feeling of unreality or of familiarity with the scene," he said. "Patients then have a clouding or loss of consciousness and are unable to communicate."

Surgery candidates are examined to determine if their seizures originate in the temporal lobe. Brain imaging with MRI and SPECT scans, EEG recording to measure electrical activity during seizures and memory tests for words and visual patterns help to pinpoint whether the right or left temporal lobe is involved.

"During surgery, a small piece of the temporal lobe, about the size of the thumb from tip to joint, is removed," Grossman said.

Patients spend about six days recovering in the hospital, and most experience an immediate end to their seizures.

"With the seizures under control, most patients are able to do things they avoided in the past and have no limitations," Grossman said.

Texas cowboy is victorious

By covering all three bulls, roughstock rider Brian Herman emerged victorious at the Professional Bull Riders Tuff Hedeman Championship V held March 7-9 in Ft. Worth. A capacity crowd at the Will Rogers Coliseum watched as the Victoria, Texas bull rider won not only the final round, but also the average on three head of stock. Ranking fifth coming into the third go, Herman topped Terry Williams' bull "Promise Land" for a commemorative event saddle and over $25,175, the largest purse awarded to date in the PBR Bud Light Cup (BLC) Series presented by Las Vegas.

This marked Herman's first win in a BLC event.

"My dad had always said that all you have to do is ride all three of your bulls, ride all of your bulls and everything else will take care of itself," the 27-year-old cowboy maintained.

Cinderfella story belonged to Buskin Wilson, Jackson, Wyoming, who competed successfully against 49 other PBR rookies Friday evening to win a berth on the BLC roster for Saturday and Sunday.

An unprecedented five other cowboys scored 90 points or above to earn $500 Copenhagen Pro Bull Riders bonus money during the three day competition. Gainesville, Texas bull rider J.W. Hart suffered a heartbreaker in the short go when Jerry Nelson's "Darth Vader" unseated him.

Ironically, Hart had previously sold that same bull to the Texas stock contractor, a move that lost the cowboy over $25,000.

JV white loses to M.V. 4-14

The JV whites took to the road with Medina Valley on March 27, and took a loss 4-14, despite a strong start with two runs in both the first and second innings.

"An early lead evaporated in the third inning," Coach Milner said. "We left the bases loaded in the third without scoring and that hurt us. We couldn't muster anymore runs the rest of the way."

Runs were made by Jimmy MacMillan, Neal Ervin, Logan Pike and Ralf Garcia.

Manuel Hernandez had one hit, two at bats and one RBI. Logan Pike had one hit, one at bat and one walk. Ralf Garcia had one hit and two at bats.

"Brad Dickey pitched well in relief," Milner said.

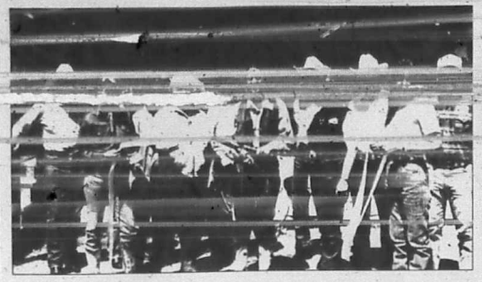
Meals on Wheels volunteers

We've had recently, some of the drivers have difficulty just getting into Bandera. There are many creeks to cross as well as the Medina River. But all these folks work together to get the meals to the most remote areas.

As in Lakehills, most of Medina's volunteer drivers are recruited through the churches, mainly the Methodist church. Rev. Zirkel, minister of the Medina Methodist Church, doesn't just preach the word, he lives it. He's right in there with all the other drivers with his sleeves rolled up and ready to go. Bettye Wilson has been acting as the coordinator for the meals on wheels program in the Medina area for many years. Bettye also works for the Dixie Dude Ranch. As the saying goes, if you want a job done, ask the busiest people you know.

Other volunteer drivers for Medina are Jo Alden, Barbara Alexander, Dee Bonugli, Marcia Bower, Bobbie Nell Crider, Barbara and Tom Carpenter, Edith Chandler, Corkie and Bill Craddock, Mary Faris, Thelma Gallant, Juanita Holleran, Theo and Joyce James, Richard Keese, Linden and Faye Kelley, Peggy King, Mary and Murray LeStourgeon, Lee Stockes, Ruth Tatum, Lee Yelton, and Frances Weber. Even Randy MacNaughton has gotten involved by coming and getting the meals in Bandera and taking them back to the drivers in Medina certain days.

Sometimes we want to compare these dedicated people to the riders of the Pony Express (through rain, snow, sleet or hail, etc.). When we have rain [illegible] arises. Those covering the meals are also very understanding when the river or a creek is too high to allow passage.



If ever there was an excellent example of true Christian fellowship, these folks fit the description. God bless you all - even Bill Craddock who is such an ornery ol' cuss! (Just kidding, Bill) He got those meals delivered even when Corkie was "laid up" after knee surgery. Speaking of busy people, Juanita Holleran not only delivers meals, she volunteers in our kitchen once a week and also helps with assessments for clients in the Medina area. Thank you, thank you, good people.

Our gift shop has been racking up the sales, thanks to donations of merchandise from Janett's Western Boutique and gift items from Heart Patches & Lace Angels. Laurie Neff is the "Angel" of Lace Angels. These kind of donations not only help keep our center going, but they really stir up a lot of excitement among our participants. Our deepest gratitude for this support.

Dates to remember: TRIAD, Thursday, April 10 at noon; Second Sunday Social, April 13, 2 p.m.; and 11th Street Cowboy Bar Chili Cookoff and Songwriter's Expo, includes auction to benefit the Silver Sage Corral at 5 p.m.

The staff of 7 Bar - The Ultimate Horse Store join Chamber of Commerce representatives, friends and folks from The Ranch Radio at their grand opening and ribbon cutting Saturday. The store at 1203 Cedar (formerly Horseman's General Store) offers everything a horse could need and is open seven days a week. Owners Stephanie Black (center) and Linda Eppes look forward to serving their customers Monday-Friday 8-6, Saturdays from 9-6 and Sunday from 10-4.

WILD WINDS -- Clarence and Helen Rhodes examine the twisted remains of a shed roof blown off as a storm front passed through Bandera County late Friday afternoon. The winds tossed the 40x30 foot sheet iron roof and a 20' steel I-beam but left a plastic tarp inside the shed unmoved. No other nearby homes or out-buildings were damaged. In addition to the winds, the storm dropped generous rainfall. The Rhodes live about six miles north of Bandera on Hwy. 173.

WHAT'S RUSTLIN'

by Bungy

Attention! Dude ranches, hotels, motels, RV resorts of Bandera County! When you tourists want to know where to go to see "cowboy" stuff, send them to the new 7 Bar Ultimate Horse Store! They had their ribbon cutting Saturday and we wandered down to say "Howdy," and were awed at the variety of saddles—working, roping, English, Australian, barrel racing and kids. Then, chaps—leggin's, chinks, equitation (show!), fancy and plain! Even special ones made by our own Morris Whitney! Breast collars—shining silver and plain working. Roping steer heads in all kinds of colors—even hot pink. You put them on bales of hay for practice! The tourists would love taking one of those home!

Then there were the spurs—big roweled, small roweled, plain and fancy. Horse pads—all colors, shapes and sizes, even red, white and blue ones with sparkling gold or silver stars! Every horse supply "Silver" could ever need in his whole life. And a really complete line of farriers' supplies with horse shoes for little ponies, regular cayuses, those big steeds that pull the covered wagons, race horses. They said there are about 50-60 horse shoers in this county alone! All those strong backs!

All to say, if your tourist wants authentic cowboy, send them to Bar 7 and then, send them home happy.

Right next to Bar 7 is Kline Saddlery and don't let them miss this either. Maybe they'll even sing and yodel for them The Klines are really sweet and have become good volunteers for lots of the civic groups in town. I have to take my woolly chaps to them so they can be stitched up and look professional. Right now, they're hot glued and coming apart at the seams.

• Lake Shores Volunteer Fire Dept. is hosting the pumper races this Sunday. They are always lots of fun, so head on down Wharton's Dock Road Sunday afternoon.

• Poor Harvey Raab! His "Largest Enchilada in the World" record is about to be replaced by a 50 foot long one at the San Antonio Library Fest. Those world records are really hard to hang onto. Everyone wants to be it!

• The Bandera Forge was booming to overflowing this week-end, and Sam Brown was at his usual occupation of beating the drum! Now, girls, listen to this. He told me with the straightest face I ever saw that he was really ready to find someone and settle down! I usually don't put gossip in this column, but this was too good to pass up!

• What do you get when you cross Lassie with a cantaloupe? A melon-collie baby!

• Did you know that there are 54,000 Americans that are 100 years old or older? And that Hale-Bopp, the comet, has a tail 4,000,000 miles long? There's a sight on the Internet called "Emily Postnet" where you can learn "Netiquette"!

BHS graduate develops new theme restaurants

New Planet Ocean experience aims to open in SA in 1998

The latest theme restaurant craze comes to San Antonio's Riverwalk in 1998, and Bandera High School graduate Dyke Ferrell will be involved in the development.

Ferrell, CEO and founder of Planet Ocean, has recently merged his company with Tarlton Aquastar, an aquarium company, to develop an ocean theme restaurant plan.

Each new complex will cost about $30 million to build and will cover about 100,000 square feet, with 80,000 square feet going to the aquarium, reported the Dallas Business Journal.

The restaurants will have aquariums scattered around the rooms and 3-D virtual reality effects. A THX surround sound system will make diners feel they are submerged in the ocean, said Ferrell.

Ferrell, a self-avowed environmentalist and scuba diver, has established a foundation to disperse funds to water-related environmental groups.

"If we make money off this deal, we want to help the cause," Ferrell said.

Ferrell graduated from Bandera High School in 1984, attended Southwest Texas University in San Marcos for two years and then graduated with a degree in finance from SMU. He developed his interest in theme restaurants during several years with the Hard Rock Cafe company and then went into the oil business, eventually starting his own company, Richman Petroleum.

Flying L Guest Ranch and golf course making improvements to course/suites

Improvements are being made to the Flying L Guest Ranch, both on the 18-hole golf course and in the Ranch guest suites, according to general manager John Junker.

On the golf course, golfers will have the pleasure of piloting brand-new golf carts that boast more power, a space for a refreshments cooler and a sand bucket for repairing divots.

"A fleet of 72 new machines have been purchased to replace those in service for the past five years," Junker said.

Also, on the golf course, a newly-constructed tee box has been placed into service on the No. 6 hole. The tee box is elevated and is supported by decorative stone.

"It's a totally different hole to play," said Carl Worley, Flying L head pro. "We have plans to do similar work on the No. 1 and No. 10 tee boxes."

Relocation of the No. 6 tee box has added about 50 yards to the length of the hole.

Meanwhile, back on the ranch, work is proceeding to remodel the guest suites that attract hundreds of visitors during the year.

Junker said the suites will receive new furniture, carpeting, window dressing and new paintings. Work should be completed by the end of March.

Dugosh graduates from Austin program

Mel Dugosh of Pipe Creek with her son Christopher.

Mel Dugosh of Pipe Creek along with 35 other participants throughout Texas will be honored in Austin on Saturday, April 26, as graduates of an innovative leadership program called Partners in Policymaking.

These 36 individuals, parents or children with developmental disabilities and adults with disabilities have completed this extensive program that explores disability issues and builds skills that family members and self-advocates need to influence public policy effectively and obtain the most appropriate state-of-the-art services for their family members, themselves and others.

Sponsored by the Texas Planning Council for Developmental Disabilities, the training included current issues effecting people with disabilities, best practices, and the policy making and legislative processes at the local, state and federal levels. Its overall goal is to achieve a productive partnership between people needing and using services and those in a position to make policy and law.

Dugosh's personal project involves researching experiences of families with children with disabilities and adults with disabilities in the church community especially in the areas of inclusion and accessibility.

"I personally feel that for inclusion to succeed in our communities and schools that churches must take the lead and set the example for others to follow," said Dugosh.

A new Partners in Policymaking class begins this fall in Austin. For more information on the program, contact Susan Murphree, Texas Planning Council for Developmental Disabilities, 4900 North Lamar, Austin, Texas 78751-2399 or call 1 (800)687-8072.

TARPLEY

Tarpley enjoys rainfall

830-796-3755

Barely have we had our share of rain since Easter Sunday. Most of us in Tarpley area have had six and a half inches Thursday night with all very fast and lots of run-off filling stock tanks. The creeks are up higher than they have been in several years, but it sure washed the fields badly. Looks like a new world after rains and sunshine for two days.

• Major Terry Hull of Colorado Springs, Colorado is spending several days with his aunt and uncle Olga and Willie Schmidt and his son, Travis.

• Arthur Erfurt is home after being in Kerrville Veteran's Hospital for medical tests. More tests will be necessary.

His sisters Margaret Cain and Jerry Hall and brother-in-law Tom Hall of Rio Hondo area have been caring for him for several months. His service will be held Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. at St. Catherine's Catholic Church in Kansas City, MO.

Seven vie for two BISD board spots

Seven candidates have tossed their names into the ring for two places open on the Bandera Independent School Board. Filling for Place 3 is incumbent Scott Middleton, Lynn M. Ellis and Ron Kennedy. Filing for Place 4 is incumbent Margaret Paradee, Eddie Leibold; Dan Zavorka and Bobby Jones.

The Bulletin asked the candidates to present their view on the issue of spending money to remodel and add on to Bandera Middle School, or to spend money building a new facility.

Place 3 candidates:

Scott Middleton: We need to consider longer range planning. Putting a bandaid on the problem is just hurting us. I think we are chasing bad money with good money. We are trying to explore our options to spend the taxpayers money more wisely.

Middleton has been on the board for three years.

"It has helped me learn a lot," he said. "I care a great deal about the kids and their education. I'm willing to spend the time."

Lynn M. Ellis: I need to do more research on both sides in order to make an informed decision. One that is good for both sides - the children and the taxpayers.

Ellis is a teacher.

"I'm a teacher, a taxpayer, a parent and I've been a business woman," she said. "I really truly care about the county."

Ron Kennedy: Bandera needs to refurbish the middle school. Eventually a new school, along with other construction projects, will be needed.

Kennedy says he has watched the district for 13 years.

"My qualifications are 13 years of frustration watching good kids go into college unprepared because school districts were too busy trying to graduate students instead of educating them," he said.

Place 4 candidates

Margaret Paradee: Abandoning the middle school is not appealing, especially our historical building and the Merrick Building which was donated to the school. On the other side, a new school would be a permanent fix for many years and if constructed properly could be added onto as needed. We need to find a solution which is beneficial to the school and to the taxpayer, but most importantly will further the education of our students.

Paradee has served on the board for six years.

"I believe in education and I love children," she said. "I want Bandera students to be able to compete in the job force or gain acceptance into whatever college they chose. With six years on the board, I have gained valuable knowledge about education which has prepared me to make good decisions for students, teachers and taxpayers."

Eddie Leibold: I know there is a problem with crowding at the middle school and I understand something has to be done one way or another. The best way is to remodel the present school. In the long run, we will have to build either a new middle school or high school.

Leibold has lived in Bandera County all of his life.

"I am active in the school," he said. "I'm well known and people can talk to me. I feel I can be a liaison between the people and the board. I feel that is needed right now."

Dan Zavorka: I have a hard time throwing good money after bad. I would like to see the option of middle school land next to one of the elementary schools. In four or five years I am concerned about doing this all over. If we are going to do this, lets do it and not look back.

Zavorka is a teacher.

"I am a conservative school teacher with school children," he said. "I'm concerned about how the money is spent."

The Bulletin was not able to contact Bobby Jones prior to press time. Photos of Lynn M. Ellis and Ron Kennedy were not available.

rain this past week. We didn't get much work done since most everyone is done outside. We did get halfway caught up on paperwork.

In the SA paper we have been reading about the big conference on volunteerism in the U.S. We all know or should know of the many places that volunteers serve us here in our community. Think of our taxes if we had to pay for the following (just to list a few): Fire, EMS, "Meals on Wheels, Reserve Sheriff's Deputies, roadside clean-ups, and more. The ever-present naysayers complain that all these volunteer positions take jobs from the jobless folks. We don't make enough money to pay the taxes to make these paying jobs. Therefore we are grateful that a few people volunteer to do them.

Here is a question for you. Do you support the businesses who support the volunteer services? Sometimes a business will shut down and respond to a fire or EMS call and after the call is taken care of, go back to work and work late to make up lost time. Is this dedication taking into consideration when your business is given to a service provider or store? We all need to try to help those who help our community.

• And speaking of helping, the MLVFD Ladies Auxiliary needs hand-crafted items to be used as raffle prizes at the spring barbecue. The raffle provides funds for three inches of waterlogged or at least a little moldy? We did request Scott-

April 26 is the Saturday when our Spring barbecue will serve all our friends and neighbors some of the best brisket to be found. Serving will be from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. with whole or sliced brisket available, too. Our barbecue will be only the one day this year, so don't miss us!

• This weekend, the MLBA will have their brewfest at the Medina Lake Civic Center from 4-10 p.m. There will be all kinds of brew and a catfish dinner available. We will probably be directing traffic and parking, so look for us!

• The Bandera County Hermann Sons Lodge #81 will hold a Spring potluck barbecue on Sunday, April 13 at the American Legion Post in Lakehills.

"All local Hermann Sons members and their families and guests are invited to attend," said lodge secretary Eileen Heath.

The lodge will furnish the barbecue and attendees should bring a side dish. Serving starts at 4 p.m.

• As we write this, the weeds are growing rapidly. We have already started our campaign against the beggar's lice and grassburs. The kids always razz us about walking along and suddenly seeing our least favorite weeds and bending down and pulling the rascals up. They say we can't get ahead but we can sure try!

We hear those weeds calling, so we better shuffle off and unlimber the back. We will be looking for you over the back fence.

Dugosh graduates from Austin program

Mel Dugosh of Pipe Creek along with 35 other participants throughout Texas will be honored in Austin on Saturday, April 26, as graduates of an innovative leadership program called Partners in Policymaking.

These 36 individuals, parents or children with developmental disabilities and adults with disabilities have completed this extensive program that explores disability issues and builds skills that family members and self-advocates need to influence public policy effectively and obtain the most appropriate state-of-the-art services for their family members, themselves and others.

Sponsored by the Texas Planning Council for Developmental Disabilities, the training included current issues effecting people with disabilities, best practices, and the policy making and legislative processes at the local, state and federal levels. Its overall goal is to achieve a productive partnership between people needing and using services and those in a position to make policy and law.

Dugosh's personal project involves researching experiences of families with children with disabilities and adults with disabilities in the church community especially in the areas of education and accessibility.

"I personally feel that for inclusion to succeed in our communities and schools that churches must take the lead and set the example for others to follow," said Dugosh.

A new Partners in Policymaking class begins this fall in Austin. For more information on the program, contact Susan Murphree, Texas Planning Council for Developmental Disabilities, 4900 North Lamar, Austin, Texas 78751-2399 or call 1 (800)687-8072.

had our share of rain since Easter Sunday. Most of us in Tarpley area have had six and a half inches Thursday night rains, all very fast and lots of run-off filling stock tanks. The creeks are up higher than they have been in several years, but it sure washed the fields badly. Looks like a new world after rains and sunshine for two days.

• Major Terry Hull of Colorado Springs, Colorado is spending several days with his aunt and uncle Olga and Willie Schmidt and his son, Travis.

• Arthur Erfurt is home after being in Kerrville Veteran's Hospital for medical tests. More tests will be necessary.

• Mary Hietalahti has been ill the past week. We wish her a speedy recovery.

His sisters Margaret Cain and Jerry Hall and brother-in-law Tom Hall of Rio Hondo area have been caring for him for several months. His service will be held Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. at St. Catherine's Catholic Church in Kansas City, MO.

• Bill and Luris Baskin attended the Rev. Billy Graham's crusade in San Antonio last Thursday night. Bill said they were fortunate to get there early and get good seats.

WHARTON'S DOCK & LAKE MEDINA SHORES

In last week's edition I reported about the March 31 clean up day at the fire department, but I left some names out. Olivia Andrade is the building and grounds director, and Irma pitching in was B.T. Chavarria, Bea Chavarria, Mike Avallone, Warren Hopkins and Kim Woods.

• Mother Nature showed her power last week with all that lightning and thunder. What a show.

• It seems like we are growing and slowly becoming like a little town out here at Wharton's Dock. We have our church, Walker Memorial Chapel, a fire department, a canteen, the Copper Lantern where you can enjoy their famous catfish dinners on Friday nights and now the Country Store will be open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. and where you will soon be able to purchase your lottery tickets—winners, I hope.

Seven vie for two BISD board spots

Seven candidates have tossed their names into the ring for two places open on the Bandera Independent School Board. Filing for Place 3 is incumbent Scott Middleton, Lynn M. Ellis and Ron Kennedy. Filing for Place 4 is incumbent Margaret Paradee, Eddie Leibold, Dan Zavorka and Bobby Jones.

The Bulletin asked the candidates to present their view on the issue of spending money to remodel and add on to Bandera Middle School, or to spend money building a new facility.

Place 3 candidates:

Scott Middleton: We need to consider longer range planning. Putting a bandaid on the problem is just hurting us. I think we are chasing bad money with good money. We are trying to explore our options to spend the taxpayers money more wisely.

Middleton has been on the board for three years.

"It has helped me learn a lot," he said. "I care a great deal about the kids and their education. I'm willing to spend the time."

Lynn M. Ellis: "I need to do more research on both sides in order to make an informed decision. One that is good for both sides - the children and the taxpayers.

Ellis is a teacher.

"I'm a teacher, a taxpayer, a parent and I've been a business woman," she said. "I really truly care about the county."

Ron Kennedy: Bandera needs to refurbish the middle school. Eventually a new school, along with other construction projects, will be needed.

Kennedy says he has watched the district for 13 years.

"My qualifications are 13 years of frustration watching good kids go into college unprepared because school districts were too busy trying to graduate students instead of educating them," he said.

Place 4 candidates

Margaret Paradee: Abandoning the middle school is not appealing, especially our historical building and the Merrick Building which was donated to the school. On the other side, a new school would be a permanent fix for many years and if constructed properly could be added onto as needed. We need to find a solution which is beneficial to the school and to the taxpayer, but most importantly will further the education of our students.

Paradee has served on the board for six years.

"I believe in education and I love children," she said. "I want Bandera students to be able to compete in the job force or gain acceptance into whatever college they chose. With six years on the board, I have gained valuable knowledge about education which has prepared me to make good decisions for students, teachers and taxpayers."

Eddie Leibold: I know there is a problem with crowding at the middle school and I understand something has to be done one way or another. The best way is to remodel the present school. In the long run, we will have to build either a new middle school or high school.

Leibold has lived in Bandera County all of his life.

"I am active in the school," he said. "I'm well known and people can talk to me. I feel I can be a liaison between the people and the board. I feel that is needed right now."

Dan Zavorka: I have a hard time throwing good money after bad. I would like to see the option of middle school land next to one of the elementary schools. In four or five years I am concerned about doing this all over. If we are going to do this, lets do it and not look back.

Zavorka is a teacher.

"I am a conservative school teacher with school children," he said. "I'm concerned about how the money is spent."

The Bulletin was not able to contact Bobby Jones prior to press time.

Photos of Lynn M. Ellis and Ron Kennedy were not available.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

...rain this past week. We didn't get much work done since most of our work is done outside. We did get halfway caught up on paperwork.

In the SA paper we have been reading about the big conference on volunteerism in the U.S. We all know or should know of the many places that volunteers serve us here in our community. Think of our taxes if we had to pay for the following (just to list a few): Fire, EMS, Meals on Wheels, Reserve Sheriff's Deputies, roadside clean-ups, and more. The ever-present naysayers complain that all these volunteer positions take jobs from the jobless folks. We don't make enough money to pay the taxes to make these paying jobs. Therefore we are grateful that a few people volunteer to do them.

Here is a question for you. Do you support the businesses who support the volunteer services? Sometimes a business will shut down and respond to a fire or EMS call and after the call is taken care of, go back to work and work late to make up lost time. Is this dedication taking into consideration when your business is given to a service provider or store? We all need to try to help those who help our community.

• And speaking of helping, the MLVFD Ladies Auxiliary needs hand-crafted items to be used as raffle prizes at the spring barbecue. The raffle provides funds to...

...stabilized or at least a little moldy? We did ...three inches of rain this past week.

April 20 is the Saturday when our Spring barbecue will serve all our friends and neighbors some of the best brisket to be found. Serving will be from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. with whole or sliced brisket available, too. Our barbecue will be only the one day this year, so don't miss us!

• This weekend, the MLBA will have their Brewfest at the Medina Lake Civic Center from 4-10 p.m. There will be all kinds of brew and a catfish dinner available. We will probably be directing traffic and parking, so look for us!

• The Bandera County Hermann Sons Lodge #81 will hold a Spring potluck barbecue on Sunday, April 13 at the American Legion Post in Lakehills.

"All local Hermann Sons members and their families and guests are invited to attend," said lodge secretary Eileen Heath.

The lodge will furnish the barbecue and attendees should bring a side dish. Serving starts at 4 p.m.

• As we write this, the weeds are growing rapidly. We have already started our campaign against the beggar's lice and grassburs. The kids always razz us about walking along and suddenly seeing our least favorite weeds and bending down and pulling the rascals up. They say we can't get ahead but we can sure try!

We hear those weeds calling, so we better shuffle off and unlimber the back. We will be looking for you over the back fence.

Our favorite books...

"I like so many books," said Burrow, "it's hard to pick just one. Right now I'm reading Erma Bombeck's collection, 'Forever, Erma.'"

Local graphic artist Merilee Swinford enjoys F. Scott Fitzgerald's period piece, "The Great Gatsby."

Springhills Water Management District's general manager Cameron Cornett picks Larry McMurtry's "All My Friends Are Going To Be Strangers" as his favorite.

In recognition of National Library Week, April 14 through 18, we asked a few people around town to tell us the title of their favorite book.

Bandera County Judge Richard Evans said the underlying values in Hemingway's "The Old Man and the Sea" made it his favorite.

Val Taylor at Ocean Graphics prefers that old classic, "The Agony and the Ecstasy."

Bandera High School girls' softball Coach Darcy Rogers reports she enjoyed "Where the Red Fern Grows" when she was younger.

Bandera ISD superintendent Ora Pfeiffer likes the classics "Arrowsmith" and "Catcher in the Rye." Salinger is one of Pfeiffer's favorite writers, but he also likes "The Dancing Wu Li Masters," a book about quantum physics.

Bandera Mayor Bob Cowan said the Bible is one book he never tires of and he also likes to read anything by Robert Schuller.

If you haven't read a good book lately, next week might be a good time to check it out, at your local library.

Library plans expansion

Friends accept $300,000 challenge

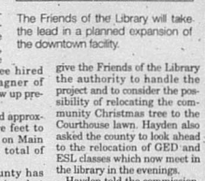
The Friends of the Bandera County Library have accepted a challenge to provide a superior library for local patrons.

"We've formulated 20 objectives," said Bill Hayden, "and we're aiming for a superior library."

The library board has been working for about a year on plans to expand the downtown Bandera facility. Preliminary plans have been worked out with an architect, the Friends of the Library have agreed to conduct a local fund drive and the committee has begun the process of seeking grants for the $300,000 expansion.

With money donated by local philanthropist and active library supporter, Margaret Alkek, the expansion committee hired architect Barry Wagner of Fredericksburg to draw up preliminary plans.

The plans aim to add approximately 4,000 square feet to the current building on Main Street to provide a total of 7,000 square feet.



Growth in the county has crowded library services but the new space "should be good for 10 years," said Hayden.

Hayden presented a progress report to a recent session of Bandera County Commissioners Court and asked the county for help with the project.

Hayden asked the county to give the Friends of the Library the authority to handle the project and to consider the possibility of relocating the community Christmas tree to the Courthouse lawn. Hayden also asked the county to look ahead to the relocation of GED and ESL classes which now meet in the library in the evenings.

Hayden told the commissioners that it would help in the library's grant applications if the participation of local government in the project could be demonstrated.

Commissioner Dan Alanis said that the county might be able to help with site preparation and parking.

The Friends of the Library will take the lead in a planned expansion of the downtown facility.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

Pleasantness is a gift with some people and with others a lack of pleasantness is the handicap which, if they only knew it, is keeping them from some of life's most rewarding experiences.

Big pleasures and great happiness are but the consummation of many little pleasures and deeds of kindness bound together, as a loaf of bread is many crumbs in the aggregate. Happiness is to be found among life's common things. It is not the rare gifts, the possession of the few; it is not great wealth, great learning, great genius, or great power; it is not these things that make the possessors happy. It is good health; it is friendship; it is love of home; it is the voices of children; it is sunshine; it is a passing smile; it is a kindly word; a little gift bestowed anonymously; a little thoughtfulness here and there as the days slip by . . . It is the blessings that are commonest, not those that are rarest; it is the gifts that God has scattered everywhere.

Pleasantness is the cheapest commodity on earth; and if people only knew it, such an attitude contains grains and nuggets of gold.

Dresser ideal nominee for Citizen of the Year

Dear Editor:

Sometimes, when we are in the midst of a good, old fashioned argument, we temporarily lose sight of the fact that "the other side" is often represented by some darn good people. Such was the case in the meeting held recently to approve the Memo of Understanding between LAMCOS and BMA.

My neighbor across the lake, Ralph Dresser, and I came down on opposite side of the issue. The position I chose to support got the most votes and the MOU will not be signed by LAMCOS at this time.

This is not to say that Ralph Dresser and his many supporters are bad guys or that they didn't do their homework. Our side just out-voted them. No big deal. Next time it might go the other way.

In reality, I suppose, the problem stems, not from no home work, but from too much home work. Ralph has worked long and hard to keep BMA from taking more water from Medina Lake than they deserve. I don't blame him for wanting to put this thing to bed and get on with his retirement. He submitted notice of his resignation from LAMCOS, on the spot. He will be sorely missed. He was our leader; our spark plug—our own, hard working General Norman Swartzkopf.

I've lost track of all of the volunteer positions Ralph has filled since he retired and, certainly, Bandera County Old Timers know the list better than I, but some that come to mind are Fire Chief, an executive position in EMT; and a seat on Spring Hills Water District Still, when called on, he found time for a three-year stint, leading our fight against BMA.

I may disagree with Ralph Dresser from time to time, but if he ever runs for Citizen of the Year, I'll vote for him.

Likes Gov's tax plan

Dear Editor:

It was with increasing irritation that I read the letter from Mary Nell Mathis, CPA, of Common Cause Tax Committee in the March 26 edition of The Bandera Bulletin. She misrepresented Governor Bush's tax plans as the implementation of the state income tax.

This is certainly not the case. The Governor's plan is based on the assumption that it is not sensible, efficient, or fair for the property holders in a school district to bear the burden of financing the district. This is unfair to the children attending school in districts with smaller and poorer tax bases, and led to the "Robin Hood" provision, which further raised property taxes.

The Governor suggests it is the job of the state to fund education, through the establishment of a business tax and an increase in the state sales tax. This extends the franchise tax to all tax payers, shifting the burden from the property owner. This also lessens the cost of home ownership, making it a more easily reached goal.

As a rancher here in Bandera County, my family and I will probably be impacted by the Governor's business tax. We will also, however, benefit from the reduction in property taxes. I can support that. Education is important, and needs to be funded by a broader source of revenue than those who own property.

The assertion that the Governor's plan constitutes an income tax is about as creditable as the claims in the last election that an increase in Social Security benefits of twice the rate of inflation was an attempt to bankrupt, starve, and evict senior citizens.

Ms. Mathis is, herself, in fact, supporting the implementation of an income tax, thereby spreading the misery to everyone, whether they can afford it or not. She does not mind the property tax, but resents the business entities, such as CPAs, who have been allowed to practice business free of charge. Her solution seems to be to pass the burden on to her secretary, in the form of a state income tax.

EMS does great job

Dear Editor:

On the evening of March 14, my husband had a severe asthma attack. I called 911 and within minutes the ambulance pulled into our driveway.

The attendants really cared about their patient and were greatly relieved when his condition improved.

The two attendants were Monica Wilson and John Story. The driver was Benny Honaker and he made the trip safely and in record time. They all did a terrific job.

We are very fortunate to have people like this in our community who donate their time and skills to help their neighbors. The EMS deserves all the support that we can give them.

Tip that hat, podner!

Dear Editor:

There is a manly gesture that is gradually dying, as the dear gentlemen of more romantic days pass from the world. This gesture being the act of a man tipping his hat to a lady.

I am, therefore, making a plea to the younger men of this community to do us girls a sweet, flattering favor and learn to touch the brim of your hat (or ballcap), or even sweep it from off your noble heads, when you pass us on the street.

This gesture of respect has warmed our hearts, and pinked our cheeks for many years, so please fellas, don't let it pass on into forgotten time!

Oh, yes, us gals will do our best to live in a manner that befits the tipping of your hats to us.

April Moments

by Cyndi Wright, staff writer

I can't believe I am actually leaving Bandera! If you are reading this on Wednesday, I am packing the U-Haul (yuk!) If you are reading this on Thursday, I am unpacking the U-Haul in Portland (yuk!) If you don't get around to reading this until the weekend, picture me somewhere on a beach, with the wind in my hair, the sun setting over a beautiful ocean horizon, and me swatting mosquitoes the size of B-52 bombers!

Thank you all for the warm telephone calls, the invites, the flowers (especially the flowers!), the poems, cards, gifts, gosh, I think I am going to have to stay. Maybe I will leave every couple of years!

I am really sorry to be leaving this wonderful place tucked away in the hills. It is such a special place. And I have spent many a happy moment here and made many great friends. I plan on coming back for Thanksgiving Day to work at the El Jacalito festivities, so I hope to see many of you then.

And, of course, please come by the Portland News office if you make it down that way. It is right across the causeway from Corpus Christi.

Meanwhile, before I go I'd like to leave everybody a few last words of questionable wisdom.

Please vote in the city elections. If you don't, don't complain about what is happening in your city. You, the voters, have the choice. And you need to use it.

Please, if you can afford some time or money, give to the organizations in this community in some way. It is not only good for your county, it is good for you! The Silver Sage is a non-profit organization that can always use volunteers and whatever help you can give.

Carolyn's Corner

by Carolyn B. Edwards, Editor

After a three-year battle, it seems amazing to me that Bandera County and BMA have reached an agreement that reserves 5,000 acre feet per year of Medina Lake water for Bandera County's use in the future if it is needed.

I was beginning to fear that if we didn't reach a resolution, we would be looking at the interference of federal judges who would not care about local feelings on the matter. They would rule in order to provide that darned warbler its drop of water and be darned to the rest of us and how much it might cost us to make sure that little bird never got thirsty again.

I know that The Bulletin's coverage of the long process has been of little interest to many of you and confusing to others. As someone told me the other day, "It was just too hard to keep track of all those letters of the alphabet: B-M-A, T-N-R-C-C, L-A-M-C-O-S..."

Now another set of letters may be about the join the fray—the Edwards Aquifer Authority, E-A-A.

At a meeting of the LAMCOS membership a week ago, a vote was taken to continue to oppose BMA's petition to the TNRCC to change their permit. The TNRCC approved that change in Austin April 3. The change will allow BMA to sell up to 19,974 acre feet per year to municipal users.

It's been suggested that a continued fight against the change will cost approximately $100,000 in legal fees.

Where will that money come from? In the past, LAMCOS was highly successful in raising the necessary funds from members, but the total raised came nowhere near this huge amount and I doubt the 50 who voted to continue the fight will come up with it.

It's possible that at least some of the money will come from the Edwards Aquifer Authority.

Now why would the Edwards be willing to provide $100,000 in legal fees? What do they want for that amount of money?

I think we would be rather foolish to think that they just feel sorry for us and want to give us a pile of money out of the kindness of their hearts.

Do we want them to control our water? Why would the Edwards controlling Medina Lake water be any better than having the BMA control it?

Seems to be a choice of sleeping with the Devil or the Devil's wife.

Well, I think, "better the Devil you know..."

Senate approves $83.3 billion budget

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The state Senate approved a $83.3 billion state budget last week that would increase funding for public schools, prisons and social services programs.

But the 1998-99 budget does not include pay raises for state employees and education programs such as Gov. George W. Bush's $470 million reading initiative and a $1 billion back-to-basics program sought by university officials to increase the number of graduates.

"Higher education pay raises have been forced to take a back seat to public education and prisons," said Senate Finance Committee Chairman Bill Ratliff, R-Mount Pleasant.

Also not included in the budget, which is now up for consideration by a House and Senate conference committee, is the $1 billion surplus from the 1996-97 budget that Gov. Bush has proposed using for school property tax relief.

"The budget keeps the scales balanced between the state's most critical services and the taxpayer's demand for leaner government," said Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, who presides over the Senate.

The proposed budget would increase general tax revenue for public schools by 7.7 percent, prisons by 8 percent and social services funding by 3 percent.

Ratliff said general revenues of about $600 million in the proposed budget would be available to spread across more than $5 billion worth of wish-list items compiled by state legislators.

Tax Them All, Bush Says

Last week, the House Select Committee on Revenue and Public Education Funding continued in its quest to raise $5.7 billion to cut property taxes by killing sales tax exemptions and expanding the franchise tax to include partnerships.

Gov. Bush said that to help pay for property tax relief, he supports taxing all types of business, including partnerships.

"This plan ought to make sure there are no loopholes for people who are in the business world: I support including all forms of business entities in this plan," he said.

The committee heard testimony from Texans who belong to such partnerships.

Under Texas law, noncorporate companies such as limited and general partnerships are not subject to the state business franchise tax. The franchise tax is assessed on business capital or income, whichever is higher.

Both the governor and Rep. Paul Sadler, D-Henderson, chairman of the select committee, said they want to find a way to differentiate between active and passive income partnerships.

Bush and Sadler said they support taxing active business income but not business income from passive investments.

Senate Passes Phone Slam Bill

The Senate approved legislation that would stop "slamming," the practice in which a long distance carrier takes over a customer's phone service without consent.

"They have done that to literally millions of people," said Sen. Gonzalo Barrientos, D-Austin, author of the bill.

The measure, co-sponsored by Sen. David Sibley, R-Waco, would require a telephone company to have to be able to verify that it has a customer's permission when it takes over their long distance service.

Basic Bandera

A remark was made the other evening in the meeting of the tourism committee [illegible] Economic Development Committee that in carrying on the publication of the Bandera County historical commission were looking for previously untold stories of county history. Patricia Moore immediately said that perhaps, with so many new visitors and residents, it was time to re-tell the old stories. That got us thinking. Perhaps many people don't know why or how this place even came to be, and how its place-names originated. So maybe it is a good idea to return to the very beginning!

Both the town and the county were named for Bandera Pass, the well-defined natural erosion cut in the ridge separating Bandera and Kerr Counties. The naming of the pass is shrouded in mystery and legend, with oft-repeated tales of 18th century battles between Comanches and Apaches, or battles between Spanish forces from Bexar and marauding Indians, one said to have been led by one General Bandera. We've done a lot of research on the authenticity of these tales, but can find in the Bexar Archives at UT-Austin no mention of planting of flags after early battles nor of the surname, Bandera, on any of the muster rolls of the eighteenth century Spanish military stationed in Texas. Judge Tom Grant said once that perhaps the name "Bandera," which is "flag" in Spanish, referred simply to the placing of a surveyor's flag at the pass, and Jesus de la Teja, of Southwest Texas State University suggests an even simpler reason for the name. The V-shape of the pass resembles the shape of a typical banner carried by Spanish armies. Quien sabe?

Now for other names.

San Julian Creek, San Geronimo (farther down the county in Bexar) and the various Verde Creeks have to have been named by early Spanish travelers through the area. The Medina River was named very early on by Captain Alonso de Leon, crossing southwest Texas in 1691 on [illegible] and road French expeditions known to have entered Texas. Arriving at a pleasant stream on Easter and setting up camp, he named our river "Medina" in honor of Pedro Medina, a Spanish cosmographer who had created the tables of navigation being used by De Leon to map the territory traversed. The captain also gave names to other rivers in our area—like "Hondo", deep; "Frio", cold; "Nueces", nuts; "Sabinal", cypress grove; "Seco," dry.

Later about 1850 came the norteamericanos, who likewise found names for streams and roads and parts of the country-side. The pass through which Hwy. 173 now goes is still known to old timers as "Quihi Pass" because it once led the way to Henri Castro's colony of Quihi west of Castroville. "Quihi" is the local Spanish name for the golden eagle.

Highway 173 as it now heads toward Bandera Pass and Kerrville traverses what the new settlers call The Big Flat. The reason for the name is obvious. Where else in the county is there such a wide long stretch of level farm-land? Early families like the Montagues, and Mansfields, knew what they were doing when they located their ranches there.

Privilege Creek was named when another newcomer, likewise looking for good land, staked a claim there, with "the privilege of changing my mind if I find something better."

Most people know that Pipe Creek got its name when a man in the same group of prospectors lost his beloved pipe there, and, and everyone had to stop to search for it.

There is no mystery to the calling of the highest point in the ridge back of the village of Bandera "Town Mountain". While actually some distance away it seems to loom directly above the river and the town.

Here we are at the bottom of the page, and we've barely started. Care to hear more?

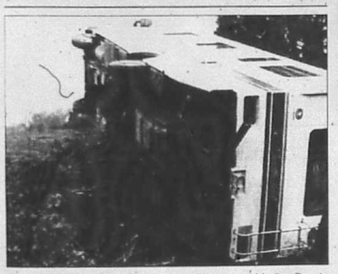
Some of the calls handled by the Sheriff's Department included the following:

On April 12 Deputy Doyal assisted Lakehills Police Department with a traffic accident.

Deputy Doyal responded to a call for a sexual assault. The incident occurred over the Easter Weekend on some property between Bandera and Pipe Creek. The victim, a 13-year-old girl, was assaulted her. The 18-year-old man has been arrested.

Deputy Stricker responded to a major accident on Hwy. 1283. One person was injured in the accident and was taken by EMS to the hospital.

Deputy Doyal investigated a report of an abandoned trailer on Hwy. 16 south of Bandera.



Deputy Johnson responded to a call for several illegal aliens walking on Hwy. 337.

On April 4 Deputy Guerra investigated a domestic disturbance near the Post Office in Lakehills and Deputy Penick investigated a domestic dispute at a residence north of Bandera.

On April 5, Deputy Guerra assisted the City Police when a child pulled a car into the creek and broke the main.

On April 6 Deputy Doyal assisted an elderly couple with a flat tire on 173 N.

The jail log is presented as a public service upon law enforcement and The Bandera Bulletin. It is important to note that because an individual is arrested or indicted for a crime, or is present at a crime scene, or is identified as a suspect in any printed report in no way indicates that person is guilty of a criminal offense. Guilt or innocence must be determined by a court of law.

Three other wrecks happened in the county on that day, including one in which a Louisiana man was killed. Rain and wet streets were cited as the reason for some of the accidents.

April Fool's brings death

A rainy April Fool's Day turned fatal for one man involved in one of four accidents that happened on that day in Bandera County.

Casey Soape, 35, from Vinton, La., apparently lost control of his vehicle on Hwy. 16 just south of Bandera Downs at 9 p.m. The car skidded off the road and slammed into some trees.

Although Soape, who has lived in the Bandera area off and on since early 1996, was transported to a San Antonio hospital, he was pronounced dead on arrival there.

In another accident with injuries on the same day, a car driven by Jem Trimble, 17, of Pipe Creek hit a vehicle driven by Gordon Bachre, 36, from behind on Hwy. 16 at Bear Creek Road.

Injured in the accident were Bachre, four-year-old Kayla Alnis, and 13-year-old Bo Trimble, both passengers in the Trimble vehicle.

Bachre, Alnis and Trimble were transported to Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital in Kerrville by Bandera and Pipe Creek EMS with non-life threatening injuries.

In two other accidents with no injuries on Tuesday, a woman skidded off the road in the morning at Bear Creek Road, and another car lost control Tuesday night at the intersection of FM 1283 and PR 37 in Lakehills.

Lead found in city water

Homeowners advised to have their water tested

According to a press release from the City of Bandera, some homes in the city have elevated levels of lead in their drinking water.

Lead can pose a significant risk to health.

Some homes have been found by the Environmental Protection Agency to have lead levels above the EPA action level of 15 parts per billion (ppb). Under federal law the city is required to have a program in place to minimize lead in the city's drinking water by [illegible].

To find out if action needs to be taken, the city advises that residents have their drinking water tested.

If you have a question about the drinking water drawn from a tap in the home contains lead above 15 ppb, then the following preauutions should be observed:

1) Let the water run from the tap before using it for drinking or cooking any time the water in a faucet has gone unused for more than six hours.

To conserve water, fill a couple of bottles for drinking water after flushing the tap and whenever possible, use the first flush water to wash the dishes or water the plants.

2) Try not to cook with, or drink water from, the hot water tap.

For more information on steps to take and a list of laboratories that test for lead in drinking water, contact the Bandera City Utility Department at 796-3765.

The Texas Department of Health at 796-6240 can provide information about the health effects of lead and how a child's blood can be tested.

Speakers available on sexual assault issues

The Southwest Family Life Center in Bandera can provide information or a speaker for local groups on sexual assault.

April has been designated Sexual Assault Awareness Month, said director Johnnie Newcomer.

"The theme of this year's observance is 'Strong Voices Confront Sexual Violence,'" said Newcomer, "and the focus will be on remembering those who initiated the struggle against sexual violence and how we must honor and affirm their legacy."

The Texas Association Against Sexual Assault (TAASA) and Southwest Family Life Center will join together to promote public awareness of sexual assault issues.

Victims of sexual assault should call Southwest Family Life Center at 796-3449.

XERISCAPE SECRETS --Soil conservationist Billy Griffin advises landscapers that the key to improving their Bandera County soil is "organic matter, organic matter, organic matter." Griffin was one of the speakers at the xeriscape workshop sponsored by Springhills Water Management District Saturday. An enthusiastic crowd learned how to plan the garden and landscape to use water efficiently.

BMA pleased with TNRCC vote to approve change

In Austin, the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission voted to authorize the use of 19,974 acre-fee of water from Medina Lake for municipal use. The vote last week by the TNRCC was the result of a request of the Bexar-Medina-Atascosa Counties WCID No. 1 to grant, in part, BMA's application to amend its 85 year old water right, which authorizes BMA to divert up to 66,000 acre-feet of water per year for irrigation use, to allow water from the Lake to be made available for municipal use within the region that is presently dependent upon ground water and, in particular, the Edwards Aquifer.

Since the late 1980's, BMA has been working to make a portion of the water from Medina Lake available for municipal use. The increased urbanization and reduced agricultural demands within the region, and the continuing controversy over the Edwards Aquifer led BMA to focus on water strategies for the future.

In 1991, BMA entered into a water supply agreement with the Bexar Metropolitan Water District, the second largest municipal water purveyor in Bexar County, to provide municipal water from Medina Lake. That agreement required BMA to file the application which resulted in the Commission's vote last week.

Originally filed in April of 1993, BMA's application has been the subject of continuing legal battles and negotiations. During this period, BMA has entered into agreements with regional interests including the San Antonio Water Systems (SAWS), the former Edwards Underground Water District (EUWD) not the Edwards Aquifer Authority (EAA), Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, the Springhills Water Management District of Bandera County, and the County of Bandera.

"With the order adopted by the Commission last week, BMA is authorized to use 19,974 acre-feet of water for municipal use, and continues to be authorized to deliver approximately 46,000 acre-feet of water per year for irrigation use by BMA landowners," said a press release from BMA. "BMA views the Commission's decision as a major victory for all affected parties."

Commissioners, CCRA look at arena fix-up

The County Court-at-Law Association came before commissioners court again during the court's regular session with repairs the Mansfield Park rodeo arena. The organization is trying to come out of the tight county budget quite as eagerly as a calf out of the chute.

The CCRA feels the annual PRCA rodeo at the arena during the Memorial Day weekend at the end of May.

The organization also donates a portion of their profits to the maintenance of the county-owned facility each year. This year however the group says that renovations to the announcer's box and electrical work is beyond their financial resources.

When County Judge Richard Evans asked CCRA president Denny Foster if the group had come up with any money for the requested repairs, Foster said, "We're about $14,000 short."

Foster explained that the group had obtained the contract with the Chamber of Commerce for the Tuesday night summer rodeos and would use profits from that series to put into arena maintenance.

The CCRA brought to the court several bids for the electrical work and a committee consisting of the judge, CCRA representative and county manager John Bruce will meet with Jon Hilder, Ray D'Spain to see what could be done.

"We have some safety concerns here, as well," said Evans.

In other business, the court:

• Heard a report from library board member Bill Hayden concerning plans for expansion of the library. The Friends of the Library, a support group, has been developing a $300,000 expansion plan for the county library for about a year. "Our aim is to create a superior library," said Hayden. The proposal would add approximately 4,000 square feet to the downtown Bandera facility, more than doubling the current floor space.

• Agreed to seek bids for a cleaning service for the Courthouse Annex in Lakehills.

• Agreed to put a double gate in the fence behind the Helping Hands building so that large delivery trucks could exit through the County Maintenance Yard.

Lead found in city water

Homeowners advised to have their water tested

According to a press release from the city of Bandera, some homes in the city have elevated levels of lead in their drinking water.

Lead can pose a significant risk to health.

Some homes have been found to have unacceptable levels of lead in their drinking water, according to the Environmental Protection Agency to have lead levels above the EPA action level of 15 parts per billion (ppb). Under federal law the city is required to have a program in place to minimize lead in the city's drinking water by September 1998.

To find out if action needs to be taken, the city advises that residents have their drinking water tested.

If a water test indicates that the drinking water drawn from a tap in the home contains lead above 15 ppb, then the following precautions should be taken:

1) Let the water run from the tap before using it for drinking or cooking any time the water in a faucet has gone unused for more than six hours.

To conserve water, fill a couple of bottles for drinking water after flushing the tap, and whenever possible, use the first flush water to wash the dishes or water the plants.

2) Try not to cook with, or drink water from the hot water tap.

For more information, or to obtain a list of laboratories that test for lead in drinking water, contact the Bandera City Utility Department at 796-3765.

The Texas Department of Health at 729-7760 can provide information about the health effects of lead and how a child's blood can be tested.

The Texas Association Against Sexual Assault (TAASA) and Southwest Family Life Center will join together to promote public awareness of sexual assault issues.

Victims of sexual assault should call Southwest Family Life Center at 796-3449.

County Tax Assessor/Collector Otto E. Zuttermeister announced that the Tax Office would be open Saturday mornings March 23 and 30 for the sale of license plates and would remain open until 6 p.m. from March 25 through March 29.

1967 license plates expired on April 1 and Zuttermeister urged citizens to come in early and avoid the rush.

Commissioners, CCRA look at arena fix-up

The Bandera County Commissioners Court and Bandera County Rodeo Association came before Commissioners Court again during the court's regular session Tuesday to discuss repairs to the arena.

The CCRA has been in discussions with repairs the Mansfield Park rodeo arena. The meeting may come out of the tight county budget quite as eagerly as a calf out of the chute.

The CCRA hosts the annual PRCA rodeo at the arena during the Memorial Day weekend at the end of May.

The organization also donates a portion of their profits to the maintenance of the county-owned facility each year. This year however the group says that renovations to the announcer's box and electrical work is beyond their financial resources.

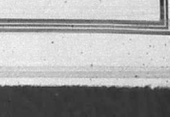
When County Judge Richard Evans asked CCRA president Denny Foster if the group had come up with any money for the requested repairs, Foster said, "We're about $14,000 short."

Foster explained that the group had obtained the contract with the Chamber of Commerce for the Tuesday-night summer rodeos and would use profits from that series to put into arena maintenance.

The CCRA has also let court several bids for the electrical work and a committee consisting of the judge, CCRA representative and arena manager John Bruce will meet with Jon Biddle, Rex D'Spain see what could be done.

"We have some safety concerns here, as well," said Evans

In other business, the court:



• Heard a report from library board member Bill Hayden concerning plans for expansion the library. The Friends of the Library, a support group, has been developing a $300,000 expansion plan for the county library for about a year. Our aim is to create a superior library," said Hayden. The proposal would add approximately 4,000 square feet to the downtown Bandera facility, more than doubling the current floor space.

• Agreed to seek bids for cleaning service for the Courthouse Annex in Lakehills.

• Agreed to put a double gate in the fence behind the Helping Hands building so that large delivery trucks could exit through the County Maintenance Yard.

Infrastructure tops city list

by Cyndi Wright
Staff Writer

Bandera's first city manager has plenty of experience to help him in his job as administrator of the city.

Don Reddout was the mayor of Grey Forest from 1986 to 1994, and after that spent 18 months as the public works director.

Throughout it all, he has owned his own business, Reddout Construction.

"I enjoy city government work," Reddout said. "I knew that at some point I wanted to turn the company over to Richard (his son). I was looking for other fields to go into when I saw the ad for Bandera."

Reddout has lived in Grey Forest for 30 years, and at this point, has no plans to move to Bandera.

"I will commute for the time being," he said.

Reddout is married to Nancy, and has three children, Richard, Ronald and Shane. Ronald owns his own company, RC Pools & Spas in Helotes, and Shane is a San Antonio fire fighter.

He says he has no hobbies, having devoted his entire life to working. His pet peeve is people who don't apply themselves and live up to their potential.

His father was a big influence on his life.

"My father made a success of his life, despite a limited education," Reddout said. "I really respect that."

Another man Reddout respects is the Rev. Billy Graham.

"He has lived what he preaches," he said.

Reddout's philosophy on life is to work hard and be honest.

"I'd like to be remembered as somebody who was fair, open-minded and honest," he explained.

Reddout cites, like others, that the ailing infrastructure of the city is a main priority.

"Drainage is a big concern," the new administrator said. "It's going to take some time to get it corrected."

But his first priority is to familiarize himself with the city.

"I have been researching ordinances to make sure that we are complying," he said.

Reddout's Views

by Cyndi Wright
Staff Writer

An administrator for the city of Bandera has long been a dream of many a city council person and mayor. And this year, the position was budgeted into fiscal possibility, and Don Reddout was chosen out of field of over 65 applicants. Here are his positions on some of the more problematic areas recently hitting the city, and some that have carried over from the past:

On the sign ordinance...

"Bandera needs a sign ordinance," Reddout said. "I feel that everybody should comply whatever the ordinance is."

He said the ordinance should fit the city image.

Bandera is unique "and the sign ordinance should fit the western heritage," he said.

On the Bandera Volunteer Fire Department...

Reddout has a special viewpoint on this sticky issue, being a current volunteer fire fighter with the Grey Forest Volunteer Fire Department, and having a son who is a firefighter.

"Dealing with any volunteer organization is difficult because they have a different opinion, sometimes, of what their responsibilities are," he said. "It is something I am familiar with and there is definitely a need for a fire department."

But, he said, even though he is himself a volunteer fire fighter, his first priority in his new job is to look after the city's interests.

"Grey Forest has some of the same problems," he explained. "I plan to get with the fire department and the chief and hear their side of it."

On grants...

"We should look at grants, because there is a lot of money available," Reddout said.

He feels that with his experience he can look at grants, and examine them to see if they are feasible for the city of Bandera.

"I have worked in funds and grants available on a smaller scale," he said.

Flood waters claim lives of elderly Medina couple

by Cyndi Wright
Staff Writer

Last Thursday night's storm dropped several inches of rain on Bandera County, and is being blamed for the death of an elderly couple returning home to Medina after attending church in Bandera.

Lonnie and Carrie Reatherford, 88 and 79 respectively, died when their car was washed off of Hwy. 16 just north of Medina.

"I don't know if they got caught by rapidly rising water or if the water was already high and they tried to cross," Sheriff James MacMillan said. "It was up to a depth of four feet on the road."

The stretch of road over which the normally dry creek flowed is about 20 to 30 yards across.

"The force of the water had broken the windshield and knocked the back window out," MacMillan said. "The car was backwards with the water hitting the front of the car."

Mr. Reatherford was found in the car, while Mrs. Reatherford was found several yards downstream.

A passer-by on his way to work saw the car and notified police at 7:30 Friday morning.

The accident was investigated by the sheriff's department and Trooper Randy Boyson.

TRAGIC LOSS -- Bandera County law enforcement officials begin the task of retrieving the bodies of Medina residents Lonnie and Carrie Reatherford who drowned as a result of last week's flooding. The couple's car was swept off of Hwy. 16 Thursday evening.

According to Springhills Water Management District, unofficial rain measurers around the county reported 5.49" falling in Vanderpool, 3.25" falling in Lakehills and 3.91" falling in Pipe Creek.

Survey shows increases in many outdoor hobbies

A new national survey shows increases in bird watching, hiking and camping and declines in the number of people hunting and fishing during the last two decades. The survey also shows how nature-based outdoor recreation pastimes stack up against activities like sporting events, outdoor concerts, golf and tennis.

"Surveys like this one reinforce what many of us in the conservation field already know," said Andrew Sansom, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department executive director. "Society is evolving, and unless we evolve with it, many of the long-term conservation goals that are dear to us may fail due to a lack of public involvement and support.

"This does not mean we intend to de-emphasize our traditional supporters; far from it. It does, however, underscore the need to continue to involve new supporters for Texas conservation. We need diverse support from everyone who cares about Texas natural and cultural resources."

The 1994-95 National Survey on Recreation and the Environment is the latest in a series of surveys conducted by the federal government since the first one was done for the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission in 1960. This latest survey was an interagency partnership sponsored by various federal natural resource agencies and the Sporting Goods Manufacturers Association.

Comparabilities in activity participation, favorite activities, constraints and demographics were maintained for comparison with earlier surveys down to 1960, 1965 and 1982-83. About 17,000 people 16 years and older were surveyed in quarterly samples between January 1994 and April 1995.

The table below shows the number and percent changes of persons 16 years and older participating in outdoor recreation by activity, comparing 1982-83 NRS and 1994-95 NRSE estimates.

Great bass fishing due to slot limits

Bass fishing in Texas is second to none and that reputation didn't happen by chance. Largemouth bass management in Texas reservoirs continues to be one of the highest priorities for state fisheries biologists, who continue to fine tune fish population dynamics to provide the highest quality angling possible.

One well-known management tool, a specialized length limit known as the slot limit, has been in place on some Texas reservoirs since the mid-1980s. Many of these lakes have become outstanding bass fishing hotspots, such as Lake Fork, Lake Monticello, and Fayette County Reservoir. Understandably, the slot limit has been perceived by many anglers to be the ultimate harvest regulation because it imposes two size limits.

While some lakes with this type of regulation have produced great results, the slot limit is not appropriate for all lakes. When applied properly, a slot limit can enhance the targeted bass population, improving size and numbers of quality fish available to the anglers. According to Steve Poarch, Tyler-based fisheries biologist with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, ensuring that anglers understand and properly utilize the slot limits is vital to maximizing the effects of these regulations.

"Slot limits are designed to protect a particular segment of the population, while allowing harvest of abundant or surplus fish," Parch explained. "Slot limits are usually implemented in lakes where a minimum length limit, like 14 inches, has been in place. Occasionally in those lakes, bass below the minimum size limit become overabundant, which may result in increased competition for food, subsequently leading to poor body condition and slow growth of larger bass."

A slot limit's objective is to use angler harvest to decrease the density of small bass, thereby reducing competition for food and improving growth for potential trophy size largemouths. The improved growth, combined with protection of fish through a certain size range generally results in higher numbers of quality fish. A problem with slot limits, says Poarch, is its dependency on angler harvest for success.

"Voluntary catch and release of bass has been one of the major factors in improving the quality of Texas bass fisheries over the past two decades," Poarch said. "The largemouth bass has become so revered by many anglers that catch and release has become more of a mandate than an ethic. This has been a great asset to most reservoirs. However, too much of a good thing could be preventing bass populations in Lake Fork and a few other lakes with slot limits from achieving maximum potential."

He went on to add, "Insufficient removal of small fish may eventually intensify the overcrowding problem that existed when the slot limit was initiated." This possible scenario was a contributing factor when TPWD raised the daily bag limit for bass on slot limit lakes from three to five fish in September of last year. TPWD hoped to send a message to bass anglers that removal of some of the small, overabundant fish is a very important part of the management of the slot limit lakes.

FFA Booster tourney nets profit despite rain

The Bandera FFA Booster Club held their 2nd Annual Golf Tournament on Sunday, March 16 at the Flying L. Despite rain, the turnout was larger than last year.

First place team was Mike Cardenas, Epi Cardenas, Jim Bob Brown and Jesse Cardenas.

Second place, also, went to the team of Danny Sandoval, Eric Torres, Todd Bowles and Eddie Guajardo, and the team of Joe Bob Powell, Pike Fernandez, Sleepy Renfroe, and Carl Worley.

Guajardo was the winner of the longest drive competition, while Jennifer Shear won closest to the pin.

Funds raised by the Booster Club last year helped to present 17 students with Bandera FFA Winter Jackets, and sent eight students to FFA State Convention in Houston, and donated to the Bandera Jr. Livestock Association Buyer's Pool.

The Boosters are always looking for new members. Anyone interested in joining should contact Linda Franklin at 796-7787.

loss to M.V.

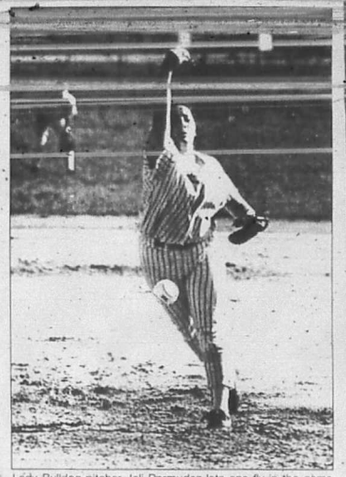
Errors contributed to a Lady Bulldog loss to Medina Valley on March 26. The host Lady Dogs bowed to the Lady Panthers 1-7.

"We had four hits and played heads up ball," Coach Darcy Rogers said. "They just committed less errors than we did and therefore came up with the win."

Megan Mills came in on an error in the first inning for the only Bandera run. Colleen Forsythe went two for three with a single and a double.

Shawna Nihart turned in an unassisted play in the first inning.

Buff track at Medina



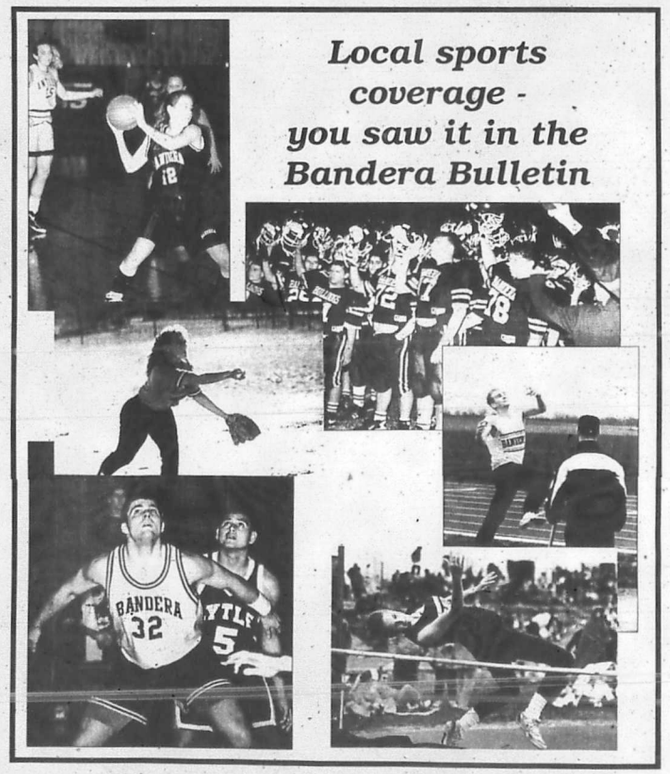
Medina was the site of the big meet on March 21 and 22. The high school divisions competed on Friday with Utopia's young team learning much, but placing little.

Freshman Cody Hobbs won the pole vault with 9'6". Jaime Nack placed third in the triple jump with 31'4".

The junior high division was held on Saturday with many of Utopia's runners and jumpers placing.

In the girls division, Amy Lessing placed 2nd in the triple jump and 5th in the long jump. Loza Prest placed 2nd in the 100m dash; Bobbie McFadin 3rd in the triple jump and 4th in the 800m run.

In the boys division, John McGilvray placed 3rd in the pole vault and 6th in the 800m run, Forest Walker placed 2nd in the pole vault, while Harley Culver finished 4th in the pole vault. The 400m relay of Andrew Sweeten, Josh Ramsey, McGilvray and Eddie Madera placed 4th.



Lady Bulldog pitcher Joli Bermudez lets one fly in the game against Medina Valley.

Busbee's... it's not just barbecue anymore!

Joe Condi Woods
Staff Writer

[illegible] has seen a lot of changes in [illegible] since it opened in 1993, and now Davis has again expanded the menu to include many new items.

From what used to be a plain barbecue place, Davis now has many specialty items and sandwiches. In addition, changed the hours from five days a week to seven, and to the delight of Busbee fans, added many new foodstuffs to the menu.

Some months ago, specialty salads and stuffed, baked potatoes were added to the menu which includes barbecue of all kinds, chicken and beer.

"As of February, we again expanded by adding a full line of hamburger products built to your order," Davis said.

And Davis knows his hamburger stuff.

That's because for six years he was senior vice president for Fuddruckers in San Antonio. While there, among his many other responsibilities, Davis is credited with developing a hamburger bun that could be used in any climate in the United States. To do that, he used baking procedures he learned while a senior district sales representative for Dunkin' Donuts.

"I felt like there was a need, in our restaurant and in Bandera, for a really good quality, affordable hamburger," he explained. "People who come in want more than barbecue. We have the best value burger in town."

Davis says that's because his burgers are made of a special blend of meat that produces a very juicy, lean burger.

"I'm practically giving them away at cost right now to get people to come in and try them," Davis said.

Davis said he and his wife Virginia bought Busbee's in 1993 when Fuddruckers moved to Boston.

"I didn't want to go [illegible] Boston, and there was no opportunity here," he said.

He has deep roots in the Bandera community, having lived here for over 20 years. His great-grandmother, Constantina Adamietz, was one of the first pioneer settlers in Bandera and was the community midwife.

At the restaurant, Davis said he does not have daily specials.

"We try to offer good quality at discount prices every day," he said. "It's a good value to start with."

Along with the basic hamburger and cheeseburger, customers can choose from a variety of toppings, or pick the Philly cheese steak sandwich.

"We'd like to invite everyone in Bandera to come and give us a try," Davis invited.

Comptroller offers tax worksheet

Because Texas' current business tax system caught many taxpayers off-guard when it was revised by lawmakers six years ago, the state comptroller's office has developed a worksheet that businesses can use to compare what they pay now with what they would pay should the governor's tax proposals become law.

The worksheet, developed for the state's accountants, should allow businesses to estimate how they would fare if the proposed tax law changes take effect.

The comptroller's office said the worksheet reflects the governor's tax plan as it was originally filed in the Texas Legislature.

Taxpayers may obtain the worksheet by calling 1-800-531-5441, ext. 3-4070.

For people just starting a business, the IRS announces a free Small Business Income Tax Workshop in San Antonio.

The workshop runs Thursday, April 10, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Lutheran Church of Gallaghan Road. Room 601.

Topics include record keeping, self-employment taxes, selecting a business structure and IRS procedures.

For further information, call IRS Volunteer Education Programs at (512) 499-5439.

ROTO BRUSH - Michael Marxer, owner of Carpet Cleaning by Michael, has branched his business to include a revolutionary way of getting rid of all those pesky allergens that collect in house ducts. With the help of sons Nick, left, and Miles, right, Marxer says his machine is good for homes and businesses. "The big concern is for kids and elderly who suffer from respiratory and allergic problems," Marxer said. "Also the general population who just want cleaner air." The machine rids the ducts of mold, animal hair, plant spores, fabric lint, pollen, smoke, dust, aerosol sprays, bacteria, mites and others. Along with the treatment comes a free filter that Marxer claims filters 95 percent more than most filters. Call 796-7263 for more information.

Survey shows increases in many outdoor hobbies

A new national survey shows increases in bird watching, hiking and camping and declines in the number of people hunting and fishing during the last two decades. The survey also shows how nature-based outdoor recreation pastimes stack up against activities like sporting events, outdoor concerts, golf and tennis.

"Surveys like this one reinforce what many of us in the conservation field already know," said Andrew Sansom, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department executive director. "Society is evolving, and unless we evolve with it, many of the long-term conservation goals that are dear to us may fail due to a lack of public involvement and support.

"This does not mean we intend to de-emphasize our traditional supporters; far from it. It does, however, underscore the need to continue to involve new supporters for Texas conservation. We need diverse support from everyone who cares about Texas natural and cultural resources."

The 1994-95 National Survey on Recreation and the Environment is the latest in a series of surveys conducted by the federal government since the first one was done for the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission in 1960. This latest NSRE was an interagency partnership sponsored by various federal natural resource agencies and the Sporting Goods Manufacturers Association.

Comparability in activity participation, favorite activities, constraints and demographics were maintained for comparison with earlier surveys down in 1960, 1965 and 1982-83. About 17,000 people 16 years and older were surveyed in quarterly samples between January 1994 and April 1995.

The table below shows the number and percent changes of persons 16 years and older participating in outdoor recreation by activity, comparing 1982-83 NRS and 1994-95 NRSE estimates.

Great bass fishing due to slot limits

Bass fishing in Texas is second to none and that reputation didn't happen by chance. Largemouth bass management in Texas reservoirs continues to be one of the highest priorities for state fisheries biologists, who continue to fine tune fish population dynamics to provide the highest quality angling possible.

One well-known management tool, a specialized length limit known as the slot limit, has been in place on some Texas reservoirs since the mid-1980s. Many of these lakes have become outstanding bass fishing hotspots, such as Lake Fork, Lake Monticello, and Fayette County Reservoir. Understandably, the slot limit has been perceived by many anglers to be the ultimate harvest regulation because it imposes two size limits.

While some lakes with this type of regulation have produced great results, the slot limit is not appropriate for all lakes. When applied properly, a slot limit can enhance the targeted bass population, improving size and numbers of quality fish available to the anglers. According to Steve Poarch, Tyler-based fisheries biologist with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, ensuring that anglers understand and properly utilize the slot limits is vital to maximizing the effects of these regulations.

"Slot limits are designed to protect a particular segment of the population, while allowing harvest of abundant or surplus fish," Parch explained. "Slot limits are usually implemented in lakes where a minimum length limit, like 14 inches, has been in place. Occasionally in those lakes, bass below the minimum size limit become overabundant, which may result in increased competition for food, subsequently leading to poor body condition and slow growth of larger bass."

A slot limit's objective is to use angler harvest to decrease the density of small bass, thereby reducing competition for food and improving growth for potential trophy size largemouths. The improved growth, combined with protection of fish through a certain size range generally results in higher numbers of quality fish. A problem with slot limits, says Poarch, is its dependency on angler harvest for success.

"Voluntary catch and release of bass has been one of the major factors in improving the quality of Texas bass fisheries over the past two decades," Poarch said. "The largemouth bass has become so revered by many anglers that catch-and release has become more of a mandate than an ethic. This has been a great asset to most reservoirs. However, too much of a good thing could be preventing bass populations in Lake Fork and a few other lakes with slot limits from achieving maximum potential."

He went on to add, "Insufficient removal of small fish may eventually intensify the overcrowding problem that existed when the slot limit was initiated." This possible scenario was a contributing factor when TPWD raised the daily bag limit for bass on slot limit lakes from three to five fish in September of last year. TPWD hoped to send a message to bass anglers that removal of some of the small, overabundant fish is a very important part of the management of the slot limit lakes.

FFA Booster tourney nets profit despite rain

The Bandera FFA Booster Club held their 2nd Annual Golf Tournament on Sunday, March 16 at the Flying L. Despite rain, the turnout was larger than last year.

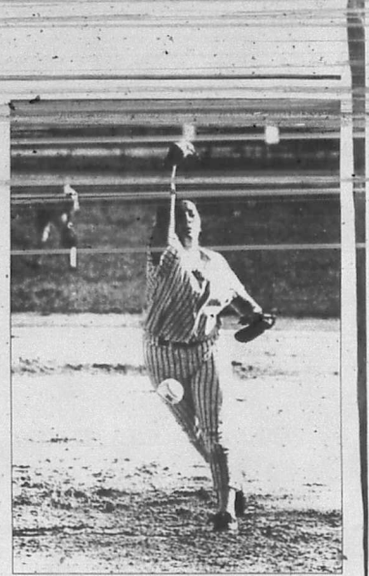
First place team was Mike Cardenas, Epi Cardenas, Jim Bob Brown and Jesse Cardenas.

Second place, Eddie, went to the team of Danny Sandoval, Eric Torres, Todd Bowles and Eddie Guajardo, and the team of Joe Bob Powell, Pike Fernandez, Sleepy Renfroe, and Carl Worley.

Guajardo was the winner of the longest drive competition, while Jennifer Shear won closest to the pin.

Funds raised by the Booster Club last year helped to present 17 students with Bandera FFA Winter Jackets, and sent eight students to FFA State Convention in Houston, and donated to the Bandera Jr. Livestock Association Buyer's Pool.

The Boosters are always looking for new members. Anyone interested in joining should contact Linda Franklin at 796-7787.



loss to M.V.

Errors contributed to a Lady Bulldog loss to Medina Valley on March 26. The host Lady Dogs bowed to the Lady Panthers 1-7.

"We had four hits and played heads up ball," Coach Darcy Rogers said. "They just committed less errors than we did and therefore came up with the win."

Megan Mills came in on an error in the first inning for the only Bandera run. Colleen Forsythe went two for three with a single and a double.

Shawna Nihart turned in an unassisted play in the first inning.

Lady Bulldog pitcher Joli Bermudez lets one fly in the game against Medina Valley.

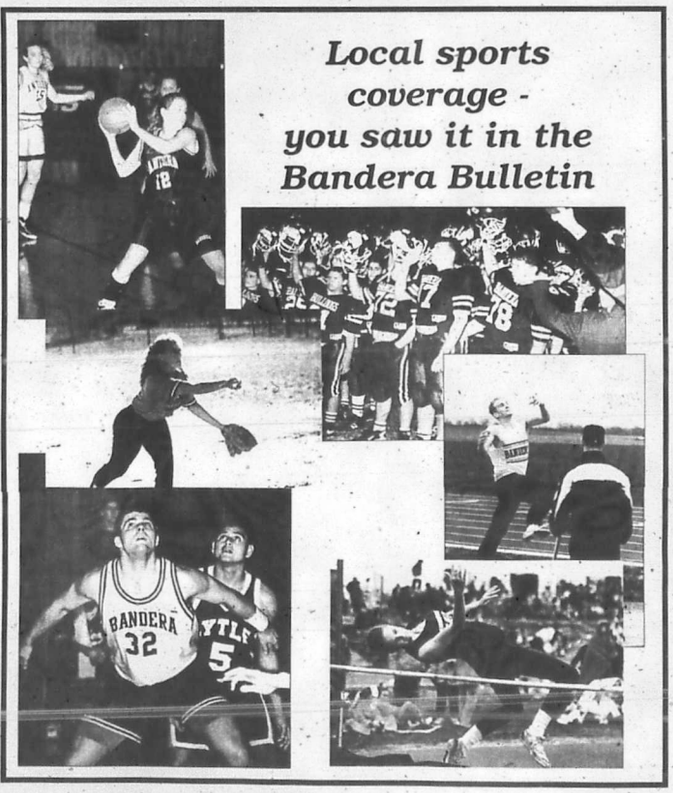
Buff track at Medina

Medina was the site of the big meet on March 21 and 22. The high school divisions competed on Friday with Utopia's young team learning much, but placing little.

Freshman Cody Hobbs won the pole vault with 9'6". Jaime Nack placed third in the triple jump with 31'4".

The junior high division was held on Saturday with many of Utopia's runners and jumpers placing.

In the girls division, Amy Lessing placed 2nd in the triple jump and 5th in the long jump. Leza Prest placed 2nd in the 100m dash, Bobbie McFadin 3rd in the triple jump and 4th in the 800m run.



In the boys division, John McGilvray placed 3rd in the pole vault and 6th in the 800m run, Forest Walker placed 2nd in the pole vault, while Harley Culver finished 4th in the pole vault. The 400m relay of Andrew Sweeten, Josh Ramsey, McGilvray and Eddie Madera placed 4th.

Busbee's... it's not just barbecue anymore!

by Candy Watson
Staff Writer

[illegible] has been in the restaurant business in Bandera since 1993, and now Davis has again expanded the menu to include many new items.

From what used to be a plain barbecue place, Davis has [illegible] and updated it completely, changed the hours from five days a week to seven, and to the delight of Busbee fans, added many new foodstuffs to the menu.

Some months ago, specialty salads and stuffed, baked potatoes were added to the menu which includes barbecue of all kinds, chicken and beer.

"As of February, we again expanded by adding a full line of hamburger products built to your order," Davis said.

And Davis knows his hamburger stuff. That's because for six years he was senior vice president for Fuddruckers in San Antonio. While there, among his many other responsibilities, Davis is credited with developing a hamburger bun that could be used in any climate in the United States. To do that, he used baking procedures he learned while a senior district sales representative for Dunkin' Donuts.

"I felt like there was a need, in our restaurant and in Bandera, for a really good quality, affordable hamburger," he explained. "People who come in want more than barbecue. We have the best value burger in town."

Davis says that's because his burgers are made of a special blend of meat that produces a very juicy, lean burger.

"I'm practically giving them away at cost right now to get people to come in and try them," Davis said.

Davis said he and his wife Virginia bought Busbee's in 1993 when Fuddruckers moved to Boston.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

Bake sale this Saturday

Marion Heisler
612-2500

Hi, y'all! Did you get fooled on April Fool's Day? We will fall for numerous pranks on this Joker's Day, but we would never play a joke on anyone. No, not us!

• We hear that the Ladies' Auxiliary of the MLVFD is looking for donations of hand-crafted items for raffle prizes for the spring barbecue on April 26. They have a hand-made quilt for their first prize but need other crafted items to supplement that. The drawing will start at 5 p.m. and go to 6 p.m. on that Saturday.

There will be work days April 23-24 and 25 at the firehouse starting at 8:30 a.m. each day. If you can lend a hand, all you have to do is show up and they will find a chore for you to do!

• We hope to see all of you at the fire department's one day event on April 26. We hope to cram two days worth of fun and games into one this time.

• Evie Angell says there will be breakfast tacos at the plant and bake sale next Saturday, April 5 at the American Legion Post 410 on 26th St. The event will be from 9 a.m. to noon. See you there!

• Easter was a little damp and cool but we enjoyed a good dinner with the family. We did our usual of falling asleep in the recliner as Kay and Heather cut out dresses on the floor. We think Kay is going to pass her sewing prowess on to the girls one way or another. Little do the kids realize that if their mom hadn't sewn all their clothes they would have had a very threadbare childhood. We don't see too much of these skills handed down anymore. We guess our society is going over to everything being factory made.

• We have gotten quite a few inquiries about the TNRCC burning rules since the last column. We are having copies made so we can hand them out at our barbecue on April 26. One if the items in the rules is there is to be no burning except one hour after sunrise or after one hour before sunset. Any burning piles must be fully extinguished and not let smolder. This puts out some very noxious fumes that your down-wind neighbor could do without. So be a good neighbor and a safe burner.

• Well, our fun time is about over, so we better go pursue some business matters. We hope to see all of you over the back fence.

WHAT'S RUSTLIN'

by Bungy

Every Easter gets me to thinking of past Easters and especially the one when I was about 16. A friend, who's been like my older brother since I was 12, had a 36' Block Island sail boat, that we used to sail to Catalina Island each week-end during the summer off the California coast.

Well, one Easter, we sailed off for the week-end and I had colored a bunch of boiled eggs and brought them along. Early Sunday morning, as dawn was gently breaking over Isthmus Bay, I leaped out of my sleeping bag on deck and started hiding these eggs all over. The boat was gently rolling at anchor and so good hiding spots were necessary to find, so they wouldn't roll all over the place.

The rest of the crew finally made it up and with lots of prodding on my part and lots of grumbling on their part, they hunted for the Easter eggs.

Two weeks later, I got a call from my friend. He said "The boat stinks! You can't even go down below! Don't ever hide eggs on my boat again!" So the lesson in all this is—always put (and count) your eggs in one basket!

• There is really no where else but Bandera. The Bandera County Christian Fellowship (BCCF) sponsored several nice Easter observances for the special week-end.

On Good Friday, at the Methodist church, from 12-3, the different churches that chose to participate gave the "Seven steps of the Cross" including a meditation. There were probably 30 to 40 attendees at all times during the three hours, with the choir and piano pieces and silent prayer periods interposed. Visitors kind of floated in and out, according to their special needs. Every "sermon" was very soft, loving and gentle.

Then on Sunday, at dawn, with a little bit of color peeping through the horizon, about 150 gathered on the lawn, with our magnificent courthouse as a back drop for a traditional Easter Sunrise Service. I don't know! There's just something special about Bandera. It's the true neighbors that show through.

The temperature hovered around 55° with a brisk breeze. Neighbor was offering neighbor chairs and extra jackets and blankets they'd brought.

The Hill Country Chapel had a terrific bunch of hymns. Some of them got the worshippers to clapping (real warmer-uppers!) Each part of the service was so sweetly done. A real treat.

• Don't forget about the Michelle Dexter Benefit at the Cabaret next Monday. Another happening. Also, its "Tacos for Two" at Silver Sage, Friday.

Medina boys 4th at meet

Medina traveled to Uvalde for a track meet on Thursday, March 28. Sherri Lautzenheiser brought home second place in the 400m run and Cully Doyle brought home first place in the 800m run and second place in the 3200m run, with a time of 10:31. Lucas Hubble brought home the second place medal in the 800m run, and a second in the 400m run. The Medina boys team won 4th place overall.

Guys & Dolls begins again

Beginning April 17 at 5:30 p.m., and every Thursday following, the Guys and Dolls Golf League will meet for a nine-hole scramble.

A social and food will follow the round.

Over 50 golfer amazes friends

The Lost Valley course in Bandera will be the next stop for members of the Over 50 Golf Association who will have their weekly tournament at 9:30 a.m., Tuesday April 8.

Members and prospective members should be at the course at least 30 minutes prior to tee-off.

Sixty-five players turned out at the Alsatian course in Castroville on March 26. On that day the winning foursome consisted of Wayne Marty, Bill Hays, Floyd McOsker and Richard Angle who shot a best ball eight-under-par 64.

One shot behind were Wiley D'Spain, Hooter Clayton, Ray Waclawczyk and Bev Rust.

Third place went to Jerry Edwards, Luke Collett, Ed Clark and Jack Kempf, who carded a 66.

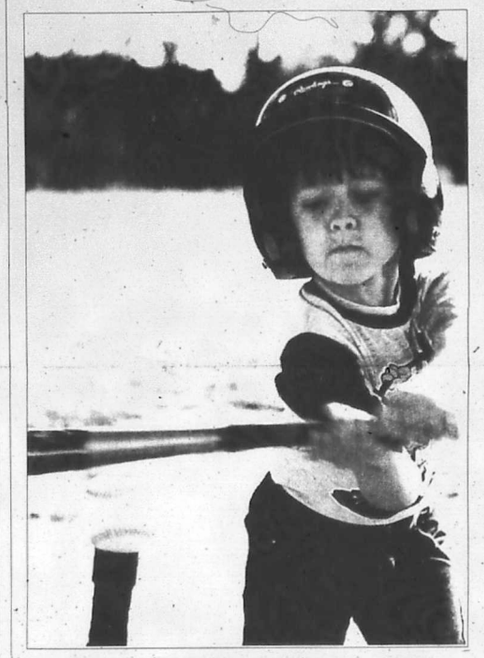
On the Edwards team, 85-year-old Luke Collett, who makes his home in San Antonio, amazed his colleagues when he drove 35 yards past the flag on Hole #4. At 85, Collett is privileged to hit from the farther-up red tees, but still wowed his teammates by this drive.

Boys second in district behind M.V.

The host Bandera Bulldogs improved their district standing to second place 2-0 after a win against the Hondo Owls 7-5 March 26.

Bandera scored the seven runs thanks to two Owl errors, a sacrifice fly, a triple, a balk and a wild pitch.

Hondo pitcher Kevin Kothe retired the first nine batters he faced, but ran into problems in the fourth, walking some batters. Bandera's Simon Gray laid down a bunt which ultimately ended in three Bandera runs, following a throw into left field, a wild pitch and a steal.



Jason Garcia fouled off six pitches in the fourth, finally smacking a triple to left-center field, scoring Brent Morris from second.

Each team scored a run in the fifth, and with the score tied at five, John Bossom led things off in the bottom of the sixth with a single. Pinch hitter Justin Schindler than laid down a push bunt that turned into an infield single. Garcia dropped a sacrifice bunt to put runners at second and third.

Jeremy Leland made it to first, loading the bases. Next batter Alan Turano also got to first, while the Owl catcher threw the ball away into left field, allowing two runs in for Bandera. Bulldog Joey Leal shut down the Owls in the seventh.

Leal was Bandera's fourth pitcher of the game, and he pitched three innings of relief, allowing one run on four hits and one walk.

Little League swinger

Little League T-baller Davis Morrow concentrates on making the connection between bat and ball.

'Dogs take 7th overall at Carrizo Springs meet

The Bandera boys took 7th place overall at the Carrizo Springs Relays on March 27.

Nate Moehring brought home a first place in shot put with 52'7", and a second in discus with 147'7". Clifton Tierney placed 4th in the 1600m run with 4:45.30, and 5th in the 3200m run with 10:30.16, a new school record.

Tye Stone was 5th in the 200m run with 23.68 and Chris Sanders was 5th in the discus with 131'8".

The 4x100 relay team of T.J. Odom, Jacob Vanderzee, Clif Despres and Tye Stone came in 5th with a time of 45.48.

"It was a very good showing by the boys against all of the 4A schools that were there," Coach Stan Payne said. "We are starting to have better times and distances each week. Each of the boys did their individual best for the season this last week."

The next meet is the Bandera Relays on April 5.

Baseball games coming to Bandera on April dates

The Men's Senior Baseball League from San Antonio will play several games at the Bandera High School ballpark and the public is invited to attend.

The league is an adult amateur league with divisions by age. The games are three hours, or nine innings, long.

The games are scheduled for Sundays, April 6, April 20 and April 27. On April 6 at 10 a.m., watch the 40 and over division Whitesox vs Missions, while at 2 p.m. the 18 and over division Fever vs Indians.

On April 20, at 10 a.m. the 18 and over division Rangers take on the Devils, and at 2 p.m. the 18 and over Reds challenge the LARB Warhawks.

On April 27, at 10 a.m. watch the 18 and over division Fever vs Yankees game, and at 2 p.m. enjoy the 18 and over Devils take on the Dodgers.

Admission to the games is free.

"All we ask of spectators is to leave the area in a cleaner condition than when they arrived," said Skip Bradley, president of the MSBL. "Though several players from the Bandera area play in our leagues, our hope is to generate enough interest from your area to have your own teams next year join our MSBL League."

This is the seventh year for the MSBL. All-Star games are played during the first week of July at VJ Keefe Stadium at St. Mary's University.

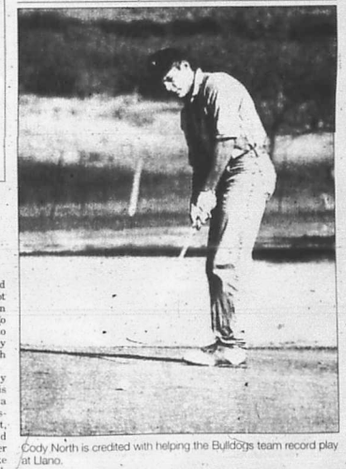
Bobcats take 5-1 loss to La Pryor

Medina hosted LaPryor on Thursday, March 28 and played the team a tough game until the 7th inning, when the Bobcats lost 5-1.

Phillip Haines pitched the game all the way until halfway through the 7th inning. Haines would also score Medina's only run in the fourth when he stole home on an overthrow to 2nd base when Bo Evans stole second. Haines had four at bats and got on once on an error and scoring.

Evans had four at bats and had a base hit, got on on an error and got on when he was hit by the pitcher and flew out to first base.



Brad Armstrong had three at bats and flew out to center field and grounded out to third base. Michael Walshe had three at bats, with a base hit, and flew out to pitcher.

Jonathan Johnson took the mound for the last half of the 7th inning, but Medina had already dug a hole and could not get their bats going. Johnson had three at bats and flew out to second base, had a base hit to left field and was intentionally walked in the 6th inning, which loaded the bases with two outs.

This was Medina's only chance to score big with Chris Pump coming up to bat. He hit a grounder to second base, causing a fielder's choice third out, retiring the side. Pump had three at bats, flying out to center field and to second base. Mike Parks had three at bats grounding out to short and flying out to center field, Clint Singleton had three at bats, grounding out to second base, got on base when hit by the pitcher and got on on an error.

The score was tied at one until the 6th, when LaPryor scored another run and then scored three more in the 7th.

Boys, girls golf heating up for district tourneys

On Thursday, March 27, the Bandera boys' golf team competed in the Llano Invitational Golf Tournament and fired a team record score of 320. The team was led by Cody North's 75 and Thad Dubose's 76.

The team score was rounded out by Kasin Ohnheiser and Travis D'Spain who shot 85 and 86, respectively.

"I was very proud of our boy's play on an unfamiliar course," Coach Greenshields said. "The boys are peaking at the best possible time as we prepare for our district tournament on April 8 and 9."

The Bandera girls' golf team will host the Bandera Invitational at the Flying L Golf Course on Thursday, April 3.

CCRA gets summer rodeo contract

Funds to be used to update Mansfield Park arena for PRCA event, youth

The Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association has just been awarded the Convention and Visitors Bureau contract to produce the 1997 summer rodeo.

The contract includes children's mutton bustin, along with the traditional events such as team roping, calf roping, barrel

The Tuesday night series will be run by our volunteers and the profits will be invested in improvements to the rodeo facilities at Mansfield Park.

"The County has done everything they can do under the current budget crisis for Mansfield Park but the upkeep on the rodeo facilities requires more than the county has in its budget," said Jenny Foster, CCRA

Board members stated that this contract will ensure the Bandera Youth Rodeo Association, 4-H Clubs and facility for their functions. CCRA is a non-profit organization that uses its proceeds to help the youth organization through out the year. That includes improvements to Mansfield Park including new sand for the arena, adding additional seating, rebuilding the chutes, buying animals at the Junior Livestock Show, parties, and donations to the Medina Children's Home.

Last year's pro rodeo brought 9,000 spectators to Bandera. Using the rule of thumb that every dollar spent by these visitors turns over seven times in our town shows that this rodeo impacted our economy by over $750,000.

This year during the pro rodeo the CCRA will host a dance Friday and Saturday night at the Junior Livestock Show Barn featuring Jody Nix. The proceeds from this function will be used not only for improvements to Mansfield Park, but also to start a scholarship fund for helping them offset some of their educational expenses," said Foster.

"We'd like to see Mansfield Park with improved lighting and electrical, a new sound system, new announcers stand and permanent bathroom facilities. With the support of the community it will happen," Foster said.

The CCRA welcomes volunteers and suggestions. Please call them at 796-7207, or better yet, said Foster, " Come to our next meeting on Thursday, April 3, 6:30 p.m. at Mansfield Park."

CCRA offers plenty of rodeo action at the annual PRCA rodeo Memorial Day weekend.

Tarpley

As usual, our weather is unpredictable these days.

Tuesday, a cool norther came in with light showers and Saturday night another came in

Sunday morning with temperatures in the 40s.

• Remember this coming weekend, April 6, is the time to spring up an hour--a pesky time for lots of us!

• There will not be a clean-up day at the fire department this Saturday. It will be re-scheduled for a later time.

• Nora Anderson had her 89th birthday March 22. We send her a belated birthday wish and congratulations.

• Idabelle Farr, Mary Hietalahti and Carol Morris drove to Vanderpool Sunday morning to attend the sunrise service at the Tabernacle.

• Priscilla and Monty Montgomery enjoyed having Easter weekend guests. Visitors included his father, William H. Montgomery of San Antonio; Lance and Jeanna Montgomery and one and a half year old son, Luke Daniel of Kerrville; Mollie Montgomery and 3-year-old son Tyler Joseph of Kerrville; Brian and Stephanie Morgan of New Braunfels and Phil Summers of Kerrville.

• Nahil and Sharon Taha of Sunday to visit this week with her mother, Mrs. Earl Hood.

• Mrs. Clay Taylor's guests Saturday were her family Pat Smith, Wynn Taylor of San Antonio, Dorothy Warmack and daughter Elizabeth Ann Green and 6-month-old granddaughter Antonia Clae of Kerrville, Mickey and Suzanne Taylor and son, J.R. of Tarpley.

• Elzie and I drove to Abilene Friday with our son and family, Charles and Marcia Dean and children, Jacob and Rachel. We spent the weekend with our son Dr. and Mrs. Larry M. Dean. On Saturday we all attended the pageant "Jesus, His story," a tradition celebrating Easter put on by the Pioneer Drive Baptist Church at the lovely Abilene Civic Center.

It was beautifully portrayed. The auditorium seats 2500.

The redbud trees on the road sides were all in bloom. I think we have missed this beautiful sight on previous trips to Abilene.

Most or our lives are about proving something, either to ourselves or to someone else.

Cattle inventories predicted to decline

As expected, USDA's annual cattle inventory report showed a 2 percent decrease, with 101 million cattle and calves in the nation's cattle herd. Texas' inventory, which was 6 percent smaller than last year, reflected even more liquidation.

The 1996 U.S. calf crop was 2 percent smaller than 1995's and Texas' calf crop was 5 percent smaller.

According to Cattle-Fax, cattle inventories will continue to decline through 1998.

"The shrinking cow herd, which could end up by the turn of the century at or below 1990 levels, means there will be fewer calves, declining feeder cattle supplies and less beef the next several years. Normally, this results in higher cattle prices and return to profitability for all segments," says Topper Thorpe, executive vice president of Cattle-Fax.

He says the industry is moving toward a major cyclical change.

Helping Hand needs help

The Helping Hand Center is in need of volunteers on Wednesday, Thursday or Friday. Working hours are from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Wharton's Dock & Lake Medina Shores

John Ciarlo

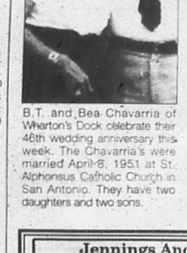
Well, it looked liked the perfect weather for Easter week-end but, then that little cool front and light rain came in Sunday morning. Many residents of Lake Medina Shores enjoyed their swimming pool as it opened on Friday with lots of activity both in the water an the picnic area. The pool was closed for Easter Sunday because of the cool front.

• Well, I did it again—just got ahead of myself. The morning of March 31 I moved all our clocks one hour ahead. I am just a week ahead of time.

• Wayne Hildenburg is back at his water front home at Wharton's Dock recuperating from back surgery that was performed on March 20 at Santa Rosa, Northwest Hospital in San Antonio. Glad to have you back in the neighborhood.



• Forty-six years ago B.T. and Bea Chavarria were joined in holy matrimony at St. Alphonsus Catholic church in San Antonio. Congratulations!

• Fred and Dee Luddeke held their annual Easter egg hunt and party at their water front home in Lake Medina Shores. There were over 50 adults and children enjoying the day. One of the guests was retired teacher, Helen Temple of Lake Hills. Helen was one of Fred's teachers 40 years ago in San Antonio. A few months ago when Fred was running for office with the Springhills Water Management District, his picture and a short resume appeared in The Bandera Bulletin and Helen recognized him. When she called Fred and confirmed that he was who she taught, Fred told her about their Easter party and invited her to be their guest. They had a lot to talk about at the party.

• March 31 was a clean up day at the Lake Shore Volunteer Fire Department in preparation for the monthly country Fire Chiefs meeting which the LSVFD will host on April 7, 1997 at the fire house. The volunteers who seemed to be having a good time were: Buddy Tryon, Mark Avallone, Phil Bledsoe, Dorothy Rucker, Susan Rocerson, Ellen Garver, Rudy York and Harold Plocek. There will be another clean up day just prior to the pumper races on April 20.

The Lake Shore Volunteer Fire Department will conduct fire training Saturday, April 5 at 10 a.m. This training will go over the SOP (Standard Operating Procedures) and radio communication.

• Turn in date is firm for articles for the LSVFD flea market and auction. Starting Tuesday, April 8, and each Tuesday thereafter, bring your goodies and white elephants to the firehouse from 8:30 to 11 a.m.

B.T. and Bea Chavarria of Wharton's Dock celebrate their 46th wedding anniversary this week. The Chavarria's were married April 6, 1951 at St. Alphonsus Catholic Church in San Antonio. They have two daughters and two sons.

On those days when you don't really feel creative, just borrow a little here and there from others. The late Hondo Crouch (of Luchenbach fame) once said, "Originality is the art of concealing your source." Well, in this case I don't even know the sources of the following words of wisdom, but thought they were worth repeating.

"The best way to live is to appreciate each minute as an unrepeatable miracle. Work at your work and play at your play. Shed your tears. Enjoy your laughter. Don't try to borrow from the future. Accept the fact that now is the best time of your life." And, in that line of thinking...

"Yesterday is history. Tomorrow is a mystery. Today is a gift, that's why they call it the present."

Of course, knowing all of the above, we can just skip through life without a care in the world. Don't you feel better now?

TRIAD meet to focus on phone fraud

Telemarketing is one of fastest growing business opportunities in the U.S. But how do we decide when a telemarketer is legitimate or a fraud?

Come join the TRIAD "Lunch-n-Learn" program next Thursday at the Silver Sage Corral.

Telemarketers target all facets of our society, however many senior citizens fall victim to telemarketing fraud more than others due to a variety of reasons.

We'll view an excellent video on fraud that was produced by the Attorney General's office, and discuss ways to avoid becoming a victim to fraud.

On April 10, the luncheon will begin at 12:00 noon. The program will begin at 12:30 p.m. and be followed by the monthly TRIAD meeting at 1:00 p.m.

If you would like to join us for lunch, please RSVP to 796-4969 by 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 9.

The meal cost is $3 and will be baked chicken, steamed rice, California blend vegetables, beets, bread and peaches.

Or, bring a sack lunch and join us.

The "Lunch-n-Learn" program is sponsored by the S.A.L.T. Council and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

What is liberty. . . Some people say that liberty is the right to do whatever we want to do when ever we want to do it. But this is not liberty; this is license. In government it leads to anarchy, on the highway it leads to automobile accidents. In family life it leads to tears and disasters.

Liberty is not the right to do whatever we want to do whenever we want to do it. The word liberty comes from a latin word meaning free. But this latin word in turn is derived from a Sanskrit word meaning "to grow up." Liberty, therefore, in its earliest context means the opportunity to grow.

The free person is the person who has grown up--especially the person who had grown up emotionally. The worst tyrant before whom we can ever bow is ourselves. The only person truly if the man who has acquired self-control to such a degree that he is easily the master of his own impulses. The anarchist and libertine are not free. CCRA gets summer rodeo contract

Funds to be used to update Mansfield Park arena for PRCA event, youth

The Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association has just been awarded the Silverado Rodeo Series by the Bandera Chamber of Commerce for the 1997 season.

The 12 week series will include children's mutton bustin, along with the traditional events such as team roping, calf roping, barrel

The Tuesday night series will be run by our volunteers and the profits will be invested in improvements to the rodeo facilities at Mansfield Park.

"The County has done everything they can do under the current budget crisis for Mansfield Park but the upkeep on the rodeo facilities requires more," said Sandy Lane of the Bandera Chamber of Commerce. "I'm glad Dusty Foster, CCRA

Board members stated that this contract will ensure the Bandera Youth Rodeo Association, 4-H Clubs and facility for their functions. CCRA is a non-profit organization that uses its proceeds to help the youth organization through out the year. That includes improvements to Mansfield Park including new sand for the arena, adding additional seating, rebuilding the Bandera youth.

Rodeo Association fund raising events, and donations to the Medina Children's Home.

Last year's pro rodeo brought 9,000 spectators to Bandera. Using the rule of thumb that every dollar spent by these visitors turns over seven times in our town shows that this rodeo impacted our economy by over $750,000.

This year during the pro rodeo the CCRA will host a dance Friday and Saturday night at the Junior Livestock Show Barn featuring Jody Nix. The proceeds from this function will be used not only for improvements to Mansfield Park, but also to start a scholarship fund for helping them offset some of their educational expenses," said Foster.

"We'd like to see Mansfield Park with improved lighting and electrical, a new sound system, new announcers stand and permanent bathroom facilities. With the support of the community it will happen," Foster said.

The CCRA welcomes volunteers and suggestions. Please call them at 796-7207, or better yet, said Foster, " Come to our next meeting on Thursday, April 3, 6:30 p.m. at Mansfield Park."

CCRA offers plenty of rodeo action at the annual PRCA rodeo Memorial Day weekend.

Wharton's Dock & Lake Medina Shores

John Ciarlo

Well, it looked liked the perfect weather for Easter week-end but, then that little cool front and light rain came in Sunday morning. Many residents of Lake Medina Shores enjoyed their swimming pool as it opened on Friday with lots of activity both in the water an the picnic area. The pool was closed for Easter Sunday because of the cool front.

• Well, I did it again—just got ahead of myself. The morning of March 31 I moved all our clocks one hour ahead. I am just a week ahead of time.

• Wayne Hildenburg is back at his water front home at Wharton's Dock recuperating from back surgery that was performed on March 20 at Santa Rosa, Northwest Hospital in San Antonio. Glad to have you back in the neighborhood.

• Forty-six years ago B.T. and Bea Chavarria were joined in holy matrimony at St. Alphonsus Catholic church in San Antonio. Congratulations!

• Fred and Dee Luddeke held their annual Easter egg hunt and party at their water front home in Lake Medina Shores. There were over 50 adults and children enjoying the day. One of the guests was retired teacher, Helen Temple of Lake Hills. Helen was one of Fred's teachers 40 years ago in San Antonio. A few months ago when Fred was running for office with the Springhills Water Management District his picture and a short resume appeared in The Bandera Bulletin and Helen recognized him. When she called Fred and confirmed that he was who she taught, Fred told her about their Easter party and invited her to be their guest. They had a lot to talk about at the party.

• March 31 was a clean up day at the Lake Shore Volunteer Fire Department in preparation for the monthly county Fire Chiefs meeting which the LSVFD will host on April 7 1997 at the fire house. The volunteers who seemed to be having a good time were: Buddy Tryon, Mark Avallone, Phil Bledsoe, Dorothy Rucker, Susan Rocerson; Ellen Garver, Rudy York and Harold Plocek. There will be another clean up day just prior to the pumper races on April 20.

The Lake Shore Volunteer Fire Department will conduct fire training Saturday, April 5 at 10 a.m. This training will go over the SOP (Standard Operating Procedures) and radio communication.

• Turn in date is firm for articles for the LSVFD flea market and auction. Starting Tuesday, April 8, and each Tuesday thereafter, bring your goodies and white elephants to the firehouse from 8:30 to 11 a.m.

B.T. and Bea Chavarria of Wharton's Dock celebrate their 46th wedding anniversary this week. The Chavarria's were married April 8, 1951 at St. Alphonsus Catholic Church in San Antonio. They have two daughters and two sons.

As usual, our weather is changeable these days.

Tuesday, a cool norther came in with light showers and Saturday night another came in

Sunday morning with temperatures in the 40s.

• Remember this coming weekend, April 6, is the time to spring up an hour--a pesky time for lots of us!

• There will not be a clean-up day at the fire department this Saturday. It will be re-scheduled for a later time.

• Nora Anderson had her 89th birthday March 22. We send her a belated birthday wish and congratulations.

• Idabelle Farr, Mary Hietalahti and Carol Morris drove to Vanderpool Sunday morning to attend the sunrise service at the Tabernacle.

• Priscilla and Monty Montgomery enjoyed having Easter weekend guests. Visitors included his father, William H. Montgomery of San Antonio; Lance and Jeanna Montgomery and one and a half year old son, Lake Daniel of Kerrville; Mollie Montgomery and 3-year-old son Tyler Joseph of Kerrville; Brian and Stephanie Morgan of New Braunfels; and Bill Graves of Kerrville.

• Nabil and Sharon Taha of Kerrville were Sunday visitors in the Cadle home.

• Mrs. Clay Taylor's guests Saturday were her family Pat and Wilma Taylor of San Antonio, Dorothy Warmack and daughter Elizabeth Ann Green and 6-month-old granddaughter Antonia Clae of Kerrville, Mickey and Suzanne Taylor and son, J.R. of Tarpley.

• Elzie and I drove to Abilene Friday with our son and family, Charles and Marcia Dean and children, Jacob and Rachel. We spent the weekend with our son Dr. and Mrs. Larry M. Dean. On Saturday we all attended the pageant "Jesus, His story," a tradition celebrating Easter put on by the Pioneer Drive Baptist Church at the lovely Abilene Civic Center.

It was beautifully portrayed. The auditorium seats 2500.

The redbud trees on the road sides were all in bloom. I think we have missed this beautiful sight on previous trips to Abilene.

Most or our lives are about proving something, either to ourselves or to someone else.

Cattle inventories predicted to decline

As expected, USDA's annual cattle inventory report showed a 2 percent decrease, with 101 million cattle and calves in the nation's cattle herd. Texas' inventory, which was 6 percent smaller than last year, reflected even more liquidation.

The 1996 U.S. calf crop was 2 percent smaller than 1995's and Texas' calf crop was 5 percent smaller.

According to Cattle-Fax, cattle inventories will continue to decline through 1998.

"The shrinking cow herd, which could end up by the turn of the century at or below 1990 levels, means there will be fewer calves, declining feeder cattle supplies and less beef the next several years. Normally, this results in higher cattle prices and return to profitability for all segments," says Topper Thorpe, executive vice president of Cattle-Fax.

He says the industry is moving toward a major cyclical change.

Helping Hand needs help

Apple Fest plans two-day event

10th anniversary features clowns

Medina Texas Development Corporation and the [illegible] Texas, are busy planning a party scheduled for Saturday, July 26 [illegible] July 27 to celebrate the Tenth Anniversary of the Texas International Apple Festival.

"What an event this will be!" commented Louis Vannatter, President of MTDC. "Texas Apples are still the best around, especially in July when Texas has the only fresh tree-ripened apples in the United States. Most states harvest their apples beginning in September or October, but in Texas we begin harvest in June and pick through November."

The festival will host many well known competitions such as Best Apple Pie, Best Apples, Best Apple Anything, Black Powder Shooting, Archery (William Tell), Try-Apple-On Races, Fencing, and a Quilt show and contest. The festival features over 100 arts and craft booths, a petting zoo, orchard and apple processing tours and [illegible] entertainment. Of course, there will be food and lots of it! Every kind of dish made from apples will be on hand to test your taste buds.

To help celebrate this ten-year anniversary, a national Clown Competition will be held on both Saturday and Sunday during the event. Clowns from around the country will be participating in the Clowning for Cash event. Saturday traditional clowning events as well as a "paradability" event will be judged from noon until 6:00 p.m. Sunday, Gospel Clowning will be the featured event on the Children's Stage. Visiting Clowns will also perform in the Clowning Around Tent on both days.

Festival gates open at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday and at 12:00 noon on Sunday. Admission is $4.00 for adults and $1.00 for children. For more information or to participate in any of the events, contact the festival office at 210-589-7224.

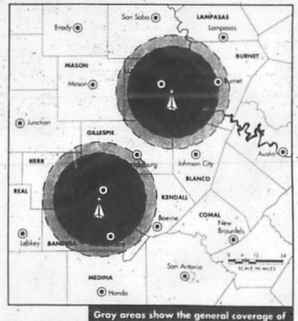
LCRA BRINGS YOU NOAA WEATHER RADIO



The Lower Colorado River Authority is proud to join the National Weather Service in bringing local weather radio, 24 hours a day to the rural Hill Country.

The LCRA has purchased and installed transmitters near Llano and Kerrville. The transmitters will enable the National Weather Service to broadcast weather information unique to the Hill Country.

Now you can take the next step to protect yourself in weather emergencies by purchasing a special "seven frequency" weather radio, available at most electronics stores. Tune it to 162.425 mHz, which serves the Llano area, or 162.450 mHz, which serves the Kerrville area.

With this radio, you can have the first word on any severe weather or flood warning affecting the Hill Country. Bulletins trigger an alarm so that you'll know important information the moment you need to know.

With Hill Country NOAA Weather Radio, you won't have to be in the dark about severe weather, thanks to the National Weather Service...and the Lower Colorado River Authority.

Gray areas show the general coverage of the Hill Country NOAA Weather Radio.

The 3-day seminar was designed to offer the participants a wide variety of creative ideas to use and share with others in group gatherings.

"I recommend that every 4-H member who has the chance to attend the training camp next year take advantage of the opportunity," Clark said.

Apple Fest plans two-day event

10th anniversary features clowns

Medina Texas Development Corporation and the [illegible] Medina, the Apple Capital of Texas, are busy planning a party scheduled for Saturday, May 3rd [illegible] to celebrate the Tenth Anniversary of the Texas International Apple Festival.

"What an event this will be!" commented Louis Vannatter, President of MTDC. "Texas Apples are still the best around, especially in July when Texas has the only fresh tree-ripened apples in the United States. Most states harvest their apples beginning in September or October, but in Texas we begin harvest in June and pick through November."

The festival will host many well known competitions such as Best Apple Pie, Best Apples, Best Apple Anything, Black Powder Shooting, Archery (William Tell), Try-Apple-On Races, Fencing, and a Quilt show and contest. The fesitval features over 100 arts and craft booths, a petting zoo, orchard and apple processing tours and [illegible] entertainment. Of course, there will be apples and lots of it! Every kind of dish made from apples will be on hand to test your taste buds.

To help celebrate this ten-year anniversary, a national Clown Competition will be held on both Saturday and Sunday during the event. Clowns from around the country will be participating in the Clowning for Cash event. Saturday traditional clowning events as well as a "paradability" event will be judged from noon until 6:00 p.m. Sunday. Gospel Clowning will be the featured event on the Children's Stage. Visiting Clowns will also perform in the Clowning Around Tent on both days.

Festival gates open at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday and at 12:00 noon on Sunday. Admisston is $4.00 for adults and $1.00 for children. For more information or to participate in any of the events, contact the festival office at 210-589-7224.

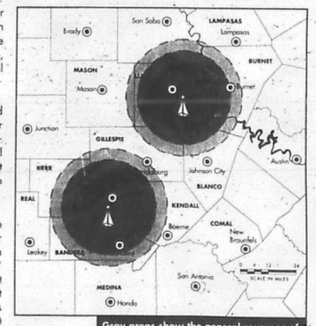
LCRA BRINGS YOU NOAA WEATHER RADIO



The Lower Colorado River Authority is proud to join the National Weather Service in bringing local weather radio, 24 hours a day to the rural Hill Country.

The LCRA has purchased and installed transmitters near Llano and Kerrville. The transmitters will enable the National Weather Service to broadcast weather information unique to the Hill Country.

Now you can take the next step to protect yourself in weather emergencies by purchasing a special "seven frequency" weather radio, available at most electronics stores. Tune it to 162.425 mHz, which serves the Llano area, or 162.450 mHz, which serves the Kerrville area.

With this radio, you can have the first word on any severe weather or flood warning affecting the Hill Country. Bulletins trigger an alarm so that you'll know important information the moment you need to know.

With Hill Country NOAA Weather Radio, you won't have to be in the dark about severe weather, thanks to the National Weather Service...and the Lower Colorado River Authority.

Gray areas show the general coverage of the Hill Country NOAA Weather Radio.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LAMCOS votes to continue fight against BMA

Dear Editor:

The concerned membership of LAMCOS met for 3 hours Wednesday night, March 26 1997, at the Lakehills Community Center for an active discussion on whether a memo of understanding (MOU) should be signed between LAMCOS and BMA).

Seventy-two percent of LAMCOS members present voted not to sign the MOU which set conditions on both parties to resolve the issues of BMA's application for permit change to sell about 20,000 acre feet of water from Medina Lake for municipal use in Bexar County.

By not signing the MOU, LAMCOS members accepted the very low probability of getting any change in the status quo from TNRCC or BMA.

Aside from the meager offerings of the MOU itself, the LAMCOS majority anticipated the USGS study of Medina Lake nearing completion would warrant TNRCC-directed changes in BMA's permit and/or operation of Medina Lake.

Additionally, there was a renewed hope for revived involvement by The Edwards Underground Water Authority in the operation of Medina Lake which is the single largest recharge source for the entire Edwards.

Four of the 5 LAMCOS board members will conclude their services with the April 2, 1997 hearing at TNRCC to allow formation of a new board. Nominations from the floor clearly shows the center of LAMCOS action shifting away from Lakehills with local Mico citizens Chris Heyen, Chet Lammen and Jack Love joining board member Jim Hannah in providing future leadership.

A membership meeting will be held in about two weeks for nominations from the floor for the fifth board member.

I sincerely thank the members of LAMCOS for their confidence and support of the outgoing board for the past 41 months.

LAMCOS is a much needed organization for the welfare of the Medina Lake community. Please continue your support.

Ralph Dresser
LAMCOS president

Recommends changes

Dear Editor:

I served, along with Jim Hannah, on the finance subcommittee of the BISD School Facilities Committee.

Our committee recommended facilities improvements to handle the student increases forecast by the BISD administration. Each improvement has a price tag, and the effects can be projected onto the interest and sinking (long-term debt) part of the annual district budget. The difficulty lies in performing similar projections for the operations and maintenance (annual levy on taxpayers) part of the budget.

The district has a very manageable interest and sinking position. Judiciously selected facilities improvements should be easily borne by property taxpayers. I believe that more expenditures should be shifted to interest and sinking, so the costs can be spread out. Purchase of vehicles and big ticket educational support items (copiers, computers, VA equipment) are examples. The district is very close to the limit of taxing for operation and maintenance. Each facility improvement has a price tag for staffing, maintenance, equipment, and other support which can affect our movement toward the $1.50 per $100 evaluation cap.

Although audits found no fault with the accounting methods of the district, I believe that the budget and financial documents the board and administration use to compile and execute a budget are inadequate. Working with these documents, as I have during the study, is confusing. For example, administrator salaries are scattered all over the budget; actual salaries are not to be found. Also, budget program documents do not provide an accurate picture of budget execution; you cannot tell, from any given document, how much of budgeted funds have been expended.

We feel that administrators and elected decision makers must have better financial management tools during budget-making and execution.

Zero-based budgeting is needed. I recommend adoption of some software version of spreadsheeting. Software and training should be available from Region 20, according to people in the School Audit Division of the Texas Education Agency. Video monitors should be set up around the meeting room and output from the computer-generated spreadsheets projected on them, during budget workshops, hearings and board meetings.

For each non-salary budget item request there should be a clearly stated narrative description of the request, objectives to be achieved with the money, and the ramifications of disapproval. These narratives should become part of a permanent record for reference during the budget year and history of budget decisions. Presently, only verbal explanations from school staff are available to reconstruct budget decisions.

Teen smokers

Dear Editor:

After reading the recent article on smoking and the confession of Liggett and Meyer about aiming advertising at children, I am much more aware of the problem we have in our community with children smoking. Anyone who drives down 11th Street is made painfully aware that as soon as the Middle School is dismissed the streets, parks and sidewalks are filled with smoking Middle School students. My question is—if it is illegal to sell tobacco to children and it is illegal for children to smoke, why is nothing done about this obvious situation?

APRIL MOMENTS

by Cyndi Wright, staff writer

Next week will be my last column for the Bandera Bulletin. I am coastal bound. Accepted a position as the editor of the Portland News, right across the causeway from Corpus Christi. So, as sad as I will be to leave beautiful Bandera, and all the friends I have made here, it's an exciting and slightly scary step up. I'd like to extend an open invitation to y'all to stop by and visit if you happen to be down that way.

I spent four lovely days with my sister's family in Ramona, which is located in the hills above San Diego. I haven't seen my nephews in over a year, and man, I lost a year somewhere.

I thought they were five and two, but it turns out they are six and three. Of course, I regularly correspond with the six year-old, Taylor. He has sent me drawings, colorings and two rings, so far.

The other, the three year old, called me "Poppy" for the first two days and "That Girl" for the second two days.

For those of you who don't know, Poppy is actually my father and the grandfather of five boys. I'm sure Travis got us confused because I brought him a cement truck, and Poppy undoubtedly also came bearing gifts on his last visit.

Last words of questionable wisdom - if you've got time or means, please give back to your community in some way. Volunteer, or give money if you can.

City and county residents - please vote in the upcoming May 3 election. Only by getting out and voting can you hope to accomplish the things your city and county need so badly. If you don't vote, don't complain.

Have a great life, and take risks - but not on Hwy. 16!

CAROLYN'S CORNER

BY CAROLYN B. EDWARDS, EDITOR

Have you spent some time out on your back porch admiring the Hale-Bopp comet? It is probably the most exciting heavenly event we will see in our lifetimes, so get the kids out in the yard and spend a little quality time with them enjoying the stars.

Dads, you can amaze the little ones with your knowledge of the constellations. Moms, you can teach your daughters that it is OK for a girl to be interested in science.

Comets come around on a fairly regular basis of course. But atmospheric conditions and all kinds of things related to the physics of orbit and angle to the sun can affect their visibility.

Twenty years ago the astronomers were all excited about the comet Kahoutek. It was going to be the comet of the century. Well, it was practically invisible.

Then Halley's comet made it's return during the Texas Sesquicentennial and was pretty much of a disappointment, too. So enjoy Hale-Bopp while you can.

(I like to watch the stars, and one of the problems I see with all the growth that's coming to Bandera County is the loss of that pleasure because of all the security lights that are popping up all over the countryside. Can't a light be designed that would illuminate the ground beneath without shining into the neighbor's eyes? As a matter of fact, I believe I have seen those kinds of lights out at Alkek Elementary School. Maybe the electric co-op could take a look at them and get out of the light pollution business.).

Back in the fifties, I remember seeing a very impressive comet straight overhead in the South Texas summer sky.

It was bright and beautiful and had a tail that looked about the width of two fingers long.

All the kids at my uncle's dance hall gathered in the dark outside and wondered about it, not having Peter Jennings, the Express News, or the Internet to explain things like comets to us.

After awhile though, all the boys went back to pitching pennies and the girls went back to picking up empty bottles that we turned in for the deposit so we could buy a bag of peanuts and a Coke. The peanuts went into the icy cold bottle. Delicious. Real comet-watching food!

Then we all waited for the Enslow brothers to have their Saturday night fight before climbing sleepily into the family sedan and heading home.

Legislature looks at owners' liability

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Property owners and businesses generally are liable for injuries that occur on their property or have been inflicted by their employees.

But, under a bill being considered by the House Civil Practices Committee, the property owner would be liable for employees' criminal acts only if they approved the act or the property owner showed gross negligence in hiring the employee.

The bill, by Rep. Tom Uher, D-Bay City, is being promoted by Texans for Lawsuit Reform, a business group that says some laws make it too easy to win big court judgments against businesses. Uher filed the bill after receiving many complaints from business owners who said they have been sued for injuries caused by criminals under whom they have no control.

Critics say the bill creates a loophole for nursing homes. C.W. Matteck of Lake Jackson and his lawyer talked about injuries suffered by Matteck's mother after employees of a Pflugerville nursing home handled her roughly. The Matteck family won a $1.7 million judgment.

"Even management acknowledged that nursing homes routinely employ criminals and other employees who handle their patients roughly," Matteck said at a news conference.

Also criticizing Uher's bill at the news conference was Barbara Suraci, whose two daughters were among four teen-agers who were murdered in 1991 at a yogurt shop in Austin. The civil case was settled for about $12 million, but the killer never was found.

She said shop owners should be liable when their negligence makes it easier for criminals to hurt customers. "People making money off of other people" should be held responible, she was quoted in the Austin American-Statesman.

Unplanned Tax Side Effect

A special House panel is continuing work on a tax plan that would expand the state sales tax to more than 35 previously untaxed goods and services.

But panel members learned their plan has an unplanned side effect: under prior law, local governments who wish to piggyback their own tax to new state sales taxes could do so. And doing so would short-circuit Gov. George W. Bush's dream of cutting school property taxes in Texas.

State Rep. Paul Sadler, chairman of the Select Committee on Revenue and Public Education Funding, said, "We're going to make sure that if they raise additional tax revenue, they don't get to keep it."

So, the panel is looking at two ways of making sure: forbidding local governments from adding their own sales taxes to the new levies or forcing them to use the revenue to fix roads or cut city and county ad valorem taxes.

Without safeguards against "piggyback rides" on taxes by local governments, communities statewide would be able to add $1.4 billion in new sales taxes to the $6.6 billion they now collect in the state's two-year budget cycle.

Other Capital Highlights

• Lawmakers have filed more than two dozen bills this session offering free or reduced tuition and fees at state public colleges and universities. Among the beneficiaries of such legislation would be children of veteran teachers, injured or disabled law enforcement officers and children in state foster care.

• The Texas Board of Criminal Justice has granted Prison Fellowship Ministries permission to launch a Christian faith-based rehabilitation program. The program, which began last week at a prison camp near Houston, will use no state money. Former Richard Nixon counsel Charles Colson is donating $1.5 million to run the program for two years.

BISD board looks for Middle School solutions

by Carolyn B. Edwards
Bulletin Editor

The Bandera ISD board met in a called meeting Tuesday, March 25 primarily to conduct a workshop to consider options for expansion at the Bandera Middle School campus. The workshop, facilitated by Al Hamilton, was preceded by a tour of the campus, including the [illegible] expansion at the Bandera Middle School campus. The Facilities Committee had recommended a one a half million dollar remodel on the facility that would include expansion of the cafeteria to handle 750 students.

The district's architect, James Davis, with Garza Bomberger and Associates in San Antonio, has told the board that expansion of the wood frame structure would be a violation of the standard building codes.

At the March 18 board meeting, Committee member Ray D'Spain said, "We can get them in the cafeteria, but remodeling and expansion at the Bandera Middle School campus. The Facilities Committee had recommended a one a half million dollar remodel on the facility that would include expansion of the cafeteria to handle 750 students.

The district's architect, James Davis, with Garza Bomberger and Associates in San Antonio, has told the board that expansion of the wood frame structure would be a violation of the standard building codes.

At the March 18 board meeting, Committee member Ray D'Spain said, "We can get around the codes," but board president Scott Parker assured D'Spain that the board would not plan "to get around any codes and deal" with the district's civil [illegible]

During Tuesday's workshop session, [illegible] Hamilton reached consensus that core facilities, such as the cafeteria and library for the Middle School campus need to be expanded to handle 1,000 students.

That brought them back to consideration of plans first studied almost two years ago that would see the construction of a new building at the BMS campus that would house a library, cafeteria, classrooms, offices and storage areas.

Dressing rooms, the band hall and rest rooms at the campus need expansion and renovation as well, and the entire campus needs to be brought up to the Americans with Disabilities Act standards.

Hamilton urged the board to develop a master plan that would call major expenditures for five years. "Let's put a coat of paint on the old truck and drive her for a few more years," said Hamilton.

"What we're doing with this is a band-aid," advised Dave Koehler, BISD board member [illegible] time from a decision to remodel or build to occupancy is approximately 24 months. "The cafeteria (at BMS) is maxed now," said Parker.

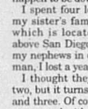
After an hour of debate, board member Dave Koehler told the board, "It's time to bulldoze Old Main, put the school administration in the Merrick building and go out on 16 and build a new middle school for 1,000 students.

"What we're doing with this is a band-aid," advised Koehler, "Why even mess with it?" Koehler and other board members said that asking for a bond to fix some of the problems at the current campus now would simply have to be followed in three years with another bond issue to fix more and build a new middle school anyway.



[illegible] question, the board settled, tentatively on a $12 million plan of expenditures that would cover a new middle school as well as numerous other projects that would see the district through the next 7-10 years.

"If we don't get a plan for 7-10 years, we are not being frugal," said Parker.

D'Spain and Hamilton later expressed doubts that the board could pass a $12 million bond issue.

No action is taken at a workshop meeting and all plans were merely discussed as possibilities for future action.

BASIC BANDERA

Have you been fortunate enough to have been out in the pasture when a flight of wild geese heading back north swept across the sky, singing and honking? Twice in the last few days, we've happened to be hanging out laundry when a V-formation passed over Bandera County from horizon to horizon. What an awesome demonstration of the wonder of the universe! The sight and sounds of these wild things are as thrilling as the sight of Hale-Bopp comet or an eclipse of the moon and much more convincing that all creatures are God's fellow travelers on this whirling journey through space of our little planet.

Neighbor Edna used to decorate eggs for Easter by putting them through a dye made of onion skins after carefully tracing fanciful geometric designs with a turkey quill dipped in wax. She was recalling her Polish heritage in following this typical Eastern European folk-art design tradition. But she always told the neighborhood kids that the beautiful burnt sienna eggs with their white traceries had been laid by the Jack Rabbit.

"Here are some eggs that ole Jack Rabbit done laid!"

Easter came and went this year and Jack didn't leave a single egg by the back door!

Neither did the wild turkeys who have come whistling and gobbling again now that the creek is running, nor the peacock who has arrived for his summer stay away from the river.

Another sign of spring: The tight red blooms on two transplanted Texas pistachio trees flanking the summer house. These Pecos River natives must have truly enjoyed the long dry spell, because never before have they bloomed so profusely.

Patsy Leslie's "Texas Trees, a Friendly Guide" states that the Texas pistachio grows naturally only along the cliffs at the mouth of the Pecos and in some parts of northern Mexico. The national champion has been found at the Judge Roy Bean Visitor Center in Langtry and is 39 feet tall, 51 inches around the trunk, with a crown spread of 46 feet. If ours gets that big, we'll have to vacate the premises in their favor!

The mountain laurel (AKA frijolito or mescal bean) must also have been happy with the long dry year of 1996. Manuel Flores, garden guru of the Saturday morning radio, said once that while frijolito fills the air in Bexar County with its heady perfume, it seldom blooms at all farther northwest in the Hill Country. But this year, Manuel might be surprised to see the riotous flowering out our way. There are purple blossoms all over town and here and there where the shrub occurs out in the country. Notice to newcomers: The frijolito is deadly poison. Don't try to sample the later hard red berries or let a child play with them.

Another wonder of the universe: The hundreds of wild plants coming up in what used to pass for a lawn on our place, some recognizable as common "weeds," others never seen before. From whence cometh all these strange seeds? How did they hang on to life through drouth and frost and the tramping of many feet? The green chaos out the window is so beautiful we've banned lawnmowers—at least for a while! Toto, I don't think we're in Oh-Nine anymore! For y'all from Houston or Iowa, Oh-Nine is the socially correct zip code in San Antonio where all holders of such a prestigious enumeration must keep their St. Augustine yards perfectly clipped at all times or endure the wrath of city council and retired army officers living nearby.

Isn't it great to live in the Free State of Bandera?

The next scheduled meeting of Bandera Chapter DAR will be at a luncheon at Country Spirit, Boerne, on May 15. Sheriff's Report

During the week of March 25 through March 31, 1997, the Bandera County Sheriff's Department answered 101 calls for service.

Arrested were:

Gustavo Rodriguez, 18, for theft by check in connection with an incident in the Medina area.

Ricardo Ronas, 38, of San Antonio, on a charge of public intoxication and a warrant from an outside agency.

Debra Jones, 18, of Lakehills, on a felony warrant.

Jeremy Vanarkle, 18, of Medina, charged with carrying a prohibited weapon, a switchblade.

The Texas Jail Commission performed a follow-up inspection of the Bandera County Jail and found it to be in compliance with jail standards. The jail had been found not in compliance in November due to overcrowding. After Bandera County entered into a contract with Kerr County to house Bandera County prisoners, the overcrowding problem was alleviated for the time being.

Among the calls for the week were:

Deputy Constable Reich investigated a report of children roller blading on the highway in Lakehills.

Deputy Stanton assisted a churchgoer in Utopia who had lost her car keys.

Deputy Doyle responded to a structure fire in the Rio Hondo Subdivision. A mobile home was destroyed in the fire and it is being investigated as a possible arson.

Deputy Timm assisted EMS with a man who had fallen in his yard off of 173 N. They transported him to the hospital in Kerrville.

Deputy Rastetter had a call for juveniles riding motorcycles on the roadway in Pipe Creek.

Deputy Penick responded to a [illegible] on the highway.

Deputy Rastetter investigated a report of illegal dumping near a Lakehills restaurant.

Deputy McGilvray investigated a loud music call in the Polly Peak area.

Bandera County Judge Richard Evans congratulates Evelyn Hutcheson, a participant in the Senior Texans Employment Program, during Older Worker Week. Hutcheson works for Southwest Family Life Center in Bandera which provides assistance for victims of domestic violence.

Evelyn Hutcheson represents working seniors

Evelyn Hutcheson has been in Bandera since 1947 and has spent most of her years here working. And although she has now reached the age when most people consider retirement, Hutcheson is beginning a new job with Southwest Family Life Center in Bandera.

Hutcheson is a participant in the Senior Texans Employment Program (STEP).

The center provides assistance for victims of domestic violence and needs caring, knowledgeable people, said director Johnnie L. Newcomer.

"Don't sell our seniors short," said Newcomer. "They have lots to offer the community — their expertise, experience, and more."

Hutcheson has worked in payroll and bookkeeping in the oil, finance and insurance industry. In 1960 she began work as a clerk in the Bandera ISD tax office and was soon appointed tax collector-assessor. She served 18 years in this capacity.

"I'm pleased she was sent to our center," said Newcomer. "We need someone who is people oriented, compassionate and caring."

Hutcheson has three sons, Robert, John and Speedy and one grandson, Ray Lee.

The family of Pauline Stevens wishes to express their thanks and gratitude for the many acts of caring & kindness!!

Tourism Talks

Ben Nolen

They're still o n t h e r e . . . admittedly a dwindling number, but they're still there. Those unbelievers who continue to ask, "What is the Chamber and/or CVB doing for me?" Well, believe me, the Chamber is doing a lot and they are doing it right. Case in point: Last week a German Travel Group, VOX Tours, contacted the State of Texas Department of Commerce, Tourism Division about filming things "typical Texas." The State contacted five destinations to work with this group. Those destinations were Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Ft. Worth and of course, Bandera. This alone shows we can "run with the big boys." This type of exposure is attributed almost totally to the continued efforts of the Chamber and CVB.

If you meet some folks around town this week who talk a little funny, they could easily be 12 British travel agents. These folks are in town to check us out as a destination for the British travel market. Each year we see an increase in tourists from the U.K. In fact, my mother-in-law, along with two cousins, recently made the trip from England to Bandera. Also, Nick Dalton, a free lance journalist from Britain, will be here this month to cover Bandera for three European magazines.

For additional promotion for Bandera County, our Chamber will be represented at the Dallas Destination Travel Show on April 20. Our Dallas Market is gradually growing, and although it still ranks far behind Houston, we are seeing more and more folks from North Texas.

Our Chamber and the CVB write a lot of letters, send a lot of faxes and make a lot of phone calls to promote Bandera and Bandera County. Their continued contact with journalists, tour companies, TV commercial agencies and movie companies keeps Bandera in the limelight.

How 'bout some support--you have nothing to lose.

Ruth Phillips would like to thank everyone for all the food, phone calls, cards, flowers that were sent. She would also like to thank Lorraine Hubble, and the E.M.T.'s for getting me to the hospital.

Five try for three city council seats

Bryce

Griffin

Holan

Pallaske

Mazurek

Five hopefuls have filed applications to run for three expired city council seats up for grabs in the May 3 election, and four say that their main priority for the city is to fix the water and sewer problems.

Candidate Mike Holan did not return a call from The Bulletin. One of the seats up for election is actually Holan's expired seat which he was elected to in May 1995. Holan resigned after only four months service on the council, saying that the he was fed up with the headaches and problems caused by serving on the council.

Bill Bryce served on the city council from 1992 to 1994, and has been a faithful attender of council meetings in the ensuing years.

"I believe that with the cooperation of the new city administrator and the department heads, the city needs to go ahead and pursue upgrading the water and sewer lines in the city," Bryce said.

Bryce says his previous experience and knowledge gained during the time he served on the council and his observations since then qualify him to represent the city.

Denise Griffin has also served on the council, filling Holan's unexpired term for six months.

"I think that the water and sewer system needs to be looked at and worked on," she said. "Something needs to be done."

Griffin says she is level-headed "I can listen to many points of view and make decisions based on fact and information, not just rumors," Griffin said. "I served on the council for six months and I've lived here for 11 years."

Fabian Mazurek, a 5th-generation Bandera resident, says he brings 12 years of banking and six years of environmental experience with him.

"The city of Bandera is on the verge of change," Mazurek said. "I would like to help guide that change to preserve the rich heritage of this city while preparing Bandera to face the future."

Mazurek said foremost on his list is problems with water, as well as upgrading the streets, water and sewer lines.

Horst Pallaske said his experience with logistics and finance would serve him if elected.

"I listen to people," he said. "I can talk with them, too. I represent the citizens, not the mayor or myself."

Councilman resigns

by Cyndi Wright
Staff Writer

Mike Holan has submitted his resignation to fill out the remainder of his term on the Bandera City Council.

"I'm sorry we accomplished what we set out to do."

Bandera City Councilman

A meeting to accept the resignation of Councilman Mike Holan has been scheduled for 7 p.m. on Thursday, March 27, one month after Holan submitted his resignation to fill out the remainder of his term on the Bandera City Council.

The original seat was held by Mike Holan, who was elected in May 1995. But Holan, saying he was fed up and tired of the headaches caused by serving on the council, turned in his resignation just four months later.

Then-mayor Robert Skinner appointed Denise Griffin to fill the vacancy, which was opened for election in the May 1996 election. Certis Wilson was elected to fill the remaining time.

Although Wilson declined to speak to The Bulletin in his resignation letter addressed to the mayor, other council members and citizens of Bandera, he cited health and personal reasons for vacating the post.

"It has been my privilege to work and serve with my fellow council members, although after eleven months we have not accomplished what we set out to do," Wilson wrote in his resignation letter. "Hopefully, the new council will be able to work together and accomplish more."

The April 15 meeting is the only regular meeting left before the newly-elected council members will take their seats.

"I see no reason to appoint someone else with such a short time," the mayor said. "We will still have a quorum for our last meeting before the election."

Ellis announces for board

Lynn M. Ellis of Bandera has announced her candidacy for BISD School Board Trustee, place 3.

"I have lived and paid taxes in this district since 1970. All three of my children attended Bandera schools and went on to attend UTSA," said Ellis. Before attending UTSA herself, she was a local businesswoman. Ellis obtained a degree in education and went on to teach in a neighboring district.

Ellis has taught middle school math in grades 6-8, Pre-K (Headstart), gifted and talented, computer-skills and adult education.

She has coached UIL number sense and calculator and served on textbook selection committees and Middle School restructuring committees. She was the gifted and talented coordinator and helped to develop the curriculum for the G/T program as well as curriculum for mathematics in grades 6-8. She later went on to teach computer skills in elementary school and is now teaching English to adults.

"I am philosophically conservative and feel strongly about giving children the best education they can get," said Ellis, " yet, I feel the taxpayers need the best representation they can get."

Sheriff's Report

During the week of March 25 through March 31, 1997, the Bandera County Sheriff's Department answered 101 calls for service.

Arrested were:

Gustavo Rodriguez, 28, of Kerrville, charged with driving while intoxicated.

Ricardo Ronas, 38, of San Antonio, on a charge of public intoxication and a warrant from an outside agency.

Debra Jones, 18, of Lakehills, on a felony warrant.

Jeremy Vanwinkle, 18, of Medina, charged with carrying a prohibited weapon, a switchblade.

The Texas Jail Commission performed a follow-up inspection of the Bandera County Jail and found it to be in compliance with jail standards. The jail had been found not in compliance in November due to overcrowding. After Bandera County entered into a contract with Kerr County to house Bandera County prisoners, the overcrowding problem was alleviated for the time being.

Among the calls for the week were:

Deputy Constable Reich investigated a report of children roller blading on the highway in Lakehills.

Deputy Stanton assisted a churchgoer in Utopia who had lost her car keys.

Deputy Doyle responded to a structure fire in the Rio Hondo Subdivision. A mobile home was destroyed in the fire and it is being investigated as a possible arson.

Deputy Timm assisted EMS with a man who had fallen in his yard off of 173 N. They transported him to the hospital in Kerrville.

Deputy Rastetter had a call for juveniles riding motorcycles on the roadway in Pipe Creek.

Deputy Penick responded to a [illegible] on the highway.

Deputy Rastetter investigated a report of illegal dumping near a Lakehills restaurant.

Deputy McGilvray investigated a loud music call in the Polly Peak area.

The jail log is presented as a public service by area law enforcement and The Bandera Bulletin. It is important to note that because an individual is arrested or indicted for a crime, or is present at a crime scene, or is identified as a suspect in any printed report in no way indicates that person is guilty of a criminal offense. Guilt or innocence must be determined by a court of law.

Chief's Blotter

Ignacio Acosta, 55, of Kerrville, was arrested for an outstanding felony warrant and was charged with driving while intoxicated, third.

Bandera County Judge Richard Evans congratulates Evelyn Hutcheson, a participant in the Senior Texans Employment Program, during Older Worker Week. Hutcheson works for Southwest Family Life Center in Bandera which provides assistance for victims of domestic violence.

Evelyn Hutcheson represents working seniors

Evelyn Hutcheson has been in Bandera since 1947 and has spent most of her years here working. And although she has now reached the age when most people consider retirement, Hutcheson is beginning a new job with Southwest Family Life Center in Bandera.

Hutcheson is a participant in the Senior Texans Employment Program (STEP).

The center provides assistance for victims of domestic violence and needs caring, knowledgeable people, said director Johnnie L. Newcomer.

"Don't sell our seniors short," said Newcomer. "They have lots to offer the community — their expertise, experience, and more."

Hutcheson has worked in payroll and bookkeeping in the oil, finance and insurance industry. In 1960 she began work as a clerk in the Bandera ISD tax office and was soon appointed tax collector-assessor. She served 18 years in this capacity.

"I'm pleased she was sent to our center," said Newcomer. "We need someone who is people oriented, compassionate and caring."

Hutcheson has three sons, Robert, John and Speedy and one grandson, Ray Lee.

The family of Pauline Stevens wishes to express their thanks and gratitude for the many acts of caring & kindness!!

DPS has drug activity hotline

Citizens can help fight illegal drug sales in Texas by calling the Department of Public Safety toll-free at 1-800-525-5555 to report suspected drug activity anywhere in the state.

The DPS 1-800 number will be answered by a trooper or a civilian employee who will relay the information to the appropriate Highway Patrol or Narcotics officer in your area.

If you believe a drug shipment is being transported, provide the dispatcher with as much information as possible about the vehicle, including its description, travel and license [illegible] erratic or drunken drivers being stored at a building or residence, provide the location and any available information about when the drugs might be moved.

Tourism Talks

Ben Nolen

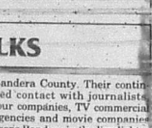
They're still o u t t h e r e admittedly a dwindling number . . . but they're still there. Those unbelievers who continue to ask, "What is the Chamber and/or CVB doing for me?" Well, believe me, the Chamber is doing a lot and they are doing it right. Case in point! Last week a German Travel Group, VOX Tours, contacted the State of Texas Department of Commerce, Tourism Division about filming things "typical Texas." The State contacted five destinations to work with this group. Those destinations were Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Ft. Worth and of course, Bandera. This alone shows we can "run with the big boys." This type of exposure is attributed almost totally to the continued efforts of the Chamber and CVB.

If you meet some folks around town this week who talk a little funny, they could easily be 12 British travel agents. These folks are in town to check us out as a destination for the British travel market. Each year we see an increase in tourists from the U.K. In fact, my mother-in-law, along with two cousins, recently made the trip from England to Bandera. Also, Nick Dalton, a free lance journalist from Britain, will be here this month to cover Bandera for three European magazines.

For additional promotion for Bandera County, our Chamber will be represented at the Dallas Destination Travel Show on April 20. Our Dallas Market is gradually growing, although it still ranks far behind Houston, we are seeing more and more folks from North Texas.

Our Chamber and the CVB write a lot of letters, send a lot of faxes and make a lot of phone calls to promote Bandera and Bandera County. Their continued contact with journalists, tour companies, TV commercial agencies and movie companies keeps Bandera in the limelight.

How 'bout some support--you have nothing to lose.



Ruth Phillips would like to thank everyone for all the food, phone calls, cards, flowers that were sent. She would also like to thank Lorraine Hubble, and the E.M.T.'s for getting me to the hospital.

Five try for three city council seats

Bryce

Griffin

Holan

Pallaske

Mazurek

Five hopefuls have filed applications to run for the three expired city council seats up for grabs in the May 3 election, and four say that their main priority for the city is to fix the water and sewer problems.

Candidate Mike Holan did not return a call from The Bulletin. One of the seats up for election is actually Holan's expired seat which he was elected to in May 1995. Holan resigned after only four months of service on the council, saying that the he was fed up with the headaches and problems caused by serving on the council.

Bill Bryce served on the city council from 1992 to 1994, and has been a faithful attendee of council meetings in the ensuing years.

"I believe that with the cooperation of the new city administrator and the department heads, the city needs to go ahead and pursue upgrading the water and sewer lines in the city," Bryce said.

Bryce says his previous experience and knowledge gained during the time he served on the council and his observations since then qualify him to represent the city.

Denise Griffin has also served on the council, filling Holan's unexpired term for six months.

"I think that the water and sewer system needs to be looked at and worked on," she said. "Something needs to be done."

Griffin says she is level-headed and can listen to many points of view and make decisions based on fact and information, not just rumors," Griffin said. "I served on the council for six months and I've lived here for 11 years."

Fabian Mazurek, a 5th-generation Bandera resident, says he brings 12 years of banking and six years of environmental experience with him.

"The city of Bandera is on the verge of change," Mazurek said. "I would like to help guide that change to preserve the rich heritage of this city while preparing Bandera to face the future."

Mazurek said foremost on his list is problems with water, as well as upgrading the streets, water and sewer lines.

Horst Pallaske said his experience with logistics and finance would serve him if elected.

"I listen to people," he said. "I can talk with them, too. I represent the citizens, not the mayor or myself."

[illegible] Mike Holan has submitted his [illegible] to fill the [illegible] Denise Griffin. There [illegible] ing on the council. The election is Saturday, May 3.

Although Wilson declined to speak to The Bulletin, in his resignation letter addressed to the mayor, other council members and citizens of Bandera, he cited health and personal reasons for vacating the post.

"It has been my privilege to work and serve with my fellow council members, although after eleven months we have not accomplished what we set out to do," Wilson wrote in his resignation letter. "Hopefully, the council will be able to work together and accomplish more.

The April 14 meeting is the only regular meeting left before the newly-elected council members will take their seats.

"I see no reason to appoint someone else with such a short time," the mayor said. "We still have a quorum for our next meeting before the election."

[illegible] March 27, one might [illegible] a cursed one.

The original seat was held by Mike Holan, who was elected in May 1995. But Holan, saying he was fed up and tired of the headaches caused by serving on the council, turned in his resignation just four months later.

Then-mayor Robert Skinner and the council appointed Denise Griffin to fill the vacancy, which was opened for election in the May 1996 election. Curtis Wilson was elected to fill the remaining time.

Ellis announces for board

Lynn M. Ellis of Bandera has announced her candidacy for BISD School Board Trustee, place 3.

"I have lived and paid taxes in this district since 1970. All three of my children attended Bandera schools and went on to attend UTSA," said Ellis. Before attending UTSA herself, she was a local businesswoman. Ellis obtained a degree in education and went on to teach in a neighboring district.

Ellis has taught middle school math in grades 6-8, Pre-K (Headstart), gifted and talented, computer skills and adult education.

She has coached UIL number sense and calculator and served on textbook selection committees and Middle School restructuring committees. She was the gifted and talented coordinator and helped to develop the curriculum for the GT program as well as curriculum for mathematics in grades 6-8. She later went on to teach computer skills in elementary school and is now teaching English to adults.

"I am philosophically conservative and feel strongly about educating children the best education they can get," said Ellis, "and I feel the taxpayers need the representation they can get."

ILLEGAL SIGNS--Unauthorized signs like this one on FM 1283 are illegally placed in road right-of-ways throughout the county. Residents of Rio Hondo want the county of enforce the law and remove a sign in their neighborhood, but commissioners want to make sure that sign is not on private property before taking action.

Here's your sign...

and Rio Hondo owners want it removed

by Carolyn B. Edwards
Bulletin Editor

Rio Hondo residents continue to bombard Commissioners Court with their concerns about a business sign placed at the entrance to their subdivision on FM 470. Rio Hondo resident David John accused Commissioner Nancy Thompson of having a "severe conflict of interest" in the matter and asked her to offer her resignation or a promise that she would not run for re-election.

John, who is president of the homeowners association, and other Rio Hondo residents present at last week's court session seemed to be under the impression that Thompson, who is also a real estate agent, had sold the land which is now the Yellow Rose Guest Ranch and had given the new owner permission to place a sign for his business at the FM 470 location.

Thompson says she did not sell the property in question to the present owner and denies that she told the owner he could put up a sign.

Rio Hondo residents, suffering from the growth of population that is affecting the entire county, object to increased traffic through their subdivision due to the operation of the guest ranch that lies beyond their subdivision.

Commissioner Thompson pointed out to the delegation once again that while there is a state law that prohibits placing of unauthorized signs in any public road right-of-way, there is some question as to whether the Yellow Rose sign is in the right-of-way or on private property, since the survey pin for the middle of the road has not been located.

Rio Hondo property owner Priscilla Montgomery wondered why the matter was taking so long to be settled, saying "we ask the county to expedite this matter."

John also objected to the presence of a county employee entering the subdivision and attempting to erect a private road sign.

The red and white road name signs have been set up all over the county as part of the 911 rural addressing system. The 911 system has the responsibility of naming all roads in the county which have two or more residences. In the case of private roads, "the county provides the first sign," explained Cave. "If it is stolen, the owner has to replace it." County roads are named with green and white signs.

John also questioned the status of some roads in the subdivision, wondering why they weren't being maintained. "We pay our taxes," said John.

For a road to be maintained by the county, the road has to meet county specifications and the commissioners court has to formally accept the road as county property.

No definite projects on city agenda

by Cyndi Wright
Staff Writer

The city of Bandera has accumulated over $80,000 since a half percent sales tax increase was implemented over a year ago, and some citizens are asking when the money will be spent on much-needed infrastructure improvements.

Currently the money, which can only be spent on certain items, is being held in an interest-accruing savings account.

Another provision of the tax is that it must be administered by a corporation. That corporation, consisting of seven members, has met twice, and some board members say those meetings were only organizational in nature.

"We haven't actually had a meeting yet," said board member Joe Davis. "We will probably have to have another organizational meeting to re-establish officers."

Mayor Bob Cowan, who also serves on the board, agreed.

"I'm just as frustrated as everybody else," Cowan said, adding that one of the hold ups is getting ex-council person Jeanette Bridges, or ex-mayor Robert Skinner, to attend a meeting.

Bridges was instrumental in getting the half percent tax increase passed.

Board president Melvin King told The Bulletin in late January that the board would meet in February, but several board members said that although King did call a meeting, he failed to show up and the meeting was therefore canceled.

"We have to get a lawyer in it and the people who wrote up the bylaws," King said last week. He could not specify who the people were who wrote the by-laws, except to say they were state officials.

"If they will let us do with it what we want to, it will take all the money, and that is put a well in," the board president said. He said he wanted to put the new well in by this summer.

However, city public works director Mike Cardenas said it would take more money and more time for a project of that size, and other board members said they have not heard anything about it.

"If we were going to use that money on anything, that's what I'd use it on," Cardenas said. "But I think that's a little off base."

Cardenas said it would take more than $100,000 to put a new well in, and that it would probably take a least a year.

Another board member, John Jenschke, said that although he has heard talk of a new well for a couple of years, this board has never met to talk about any project.

"I have not heard that," he said. "That's just his (King's) opinion."

March city sales tax rebates continue up

The city of Bandera received $26,098.52 in sales tax rebates for March. That total is a 53.26 percent increase over the same period last year. Payments for the year to date are up 57.72 percent over the same period last year.

Bandera County received $16,112.69 in rebates which is a 13.46 percent drop from the same period last year. For the year, the county is still up 3.03 percent.

According to the state comptroller's office, "Sales-tax rebates to Texas cities and counties are 6.4 percent higher for the first three months of 1997 than for the same period last year, as consumers continue to show their confidence in a healthy Texas economy."

This month's payments include sales taxes collected in January and reported by businesses filing monthly returns in February.

The San Antonio sales tax allocation for March was up $7.2 million, up 2.7 percent over the March 1996 payment of $7 million. Year-to-date, San Antonio has received a 7.1 percent increase in local sales tax payments.

Conservation workshop Saturday

The Springhills Water Management District invites everyone to attend a "Water Conservation Through Xeriscaping" workshop on April 5 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the Silver Sage Corral.

The workshop will feature Dooley's Nursery and Landscape; Riverside Nature Center in Kerrville; Warren Thigpen, Bandera County Extension Agent; Billy Griffin, U.S. Soil Conservation Service; and Rainwater Collection over Texas.

There will be displays of drought resistant plants and herbs, a water catchment systems slide presentation, xeriscape and landscaping principles, watering devices, and free literature on all aspects of Xeriscaping.

Dexter benefit set for Monday evening

A second fund raiser is to be held at The Cabaret on the evening of April 7 from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. to benefit Michelle Dexter, a student at Bandera High School. Dexter was severely burned in a brush fire two days after Christmas 1996.

"It is our pleasure to donate our facility for this event to help Michelle. We are always happy to help the community in this way," said Linda Marks, the Cabaret co-owner. Grace Lutheran Church is coordinating the event and Pastor Glen Moehring stated they will need all the community support they can get.

Dexter remained in intensive care at Brooke Army Medical Center burn ward until Feb. 17. After many skin grafts and the excellent care she received at the world famous burn ward, she has progressed to the point of returning to school.

Gary Fite, Assistant Principal at the high school said "Michelle has always been an excellent student academically, a standout in basketball," said Gary Fite, assistant principal at BHS, and he has been especially impressed with her grit and determination in overcoming this unfortunate accident.

Although Michelle's recovery has been excellent, the expense of outpatient care continues to grow. A recent spaghetti supper benefit sponsored by the students at Bandera High School was a resounding success.

An evening of wholesome fun will include music by Linda Allen and the Roadrunners, a number of other talented musical guests, and an auction conducted by Lew Powterbaugh. Merchandise, service certificates, and auctionable items are needed for the auction. Auction items may be dropped off at Grace Lutheran Church, Hwy. 173 North; at My World, 316 Main or at St. Christopher's Episcopal Church, Hwy. 173 North.

Cakes will be needed for an old fashioned cake walk. Finger food in disposable containers is needed for the party. Food items should be dropped off at The Cabaret on the afternoon of the event, April 7.

A special fund has been set up for cash donations at the Commerce and at the door.

ILLEGAL SIGNS--Unauthorized signs like this one on FM 1283 are illegally placed in road right-of-ways throughout the county. Residents of Rio Hondo want the county of enforce the law and remove a sign in their neighborhood, but commissioners want to make sure that sign is not on private property before taking action.

Here's your sign...

and Rio Hondo owners want it removed

by Carolyn B. Edwards
Bulletin Editor

COUNTY

Rio Hondo residents continue to bombard Commissioners Court with their concerns about a business sign placed at the entrance to their subdivision on FM 470. Rio Hondo resident David John accused Commissioner Nancy Thompson of having a "severe conflict of interest" in the matter and asked her to offer her resignation or a promise that she would not run for re-election.

John, who is president of the homeowners association, and other Rio Hondo residents present at last week's court session seemed to be under the impression that Thompson, who is also a real estate agent, had sold the land which is now the Yellow Rose Guest Ranch and had given the new owner permission to place a sign for his business at the FM 470 location.

Thompson says she did not sell the property in question to the present owner and denies that she told the owner he could put up a sign.

Rio Hondo residents, suffering from the growth of population that is affecting the entire county, object to increased traffic through their subdivision due to the operation of the guest ranch that lies beyond their subdivision.

Commissioner Thompson pointed out to the delegation once again that while there is a state law that prohibits placing of unauthorized signs in any public road right-of-way, there is some question as to whether the Yellow Rose sign is in the right-of-way or on private property, since the survey pin for the middle of the road has not been located.

Rio Hondo property owner Priscilla Montgomery wondered why the matter was taking so long to be settled, saying "we ask the county to expedite this matter."

John also objected to the presence of a county employee entering the subdivision and attempting to erect a private road sign.

The red and white road name signs have been set up all over the county as part of the 911 rural addressing system. The 911 system has the responsibility of naming all roads in the county which have two or more residences. In the case of private roads, "the county provides the first sign," explained Cave. "If it is stolen, the owner has to replace it." County roads are named with green and white signs.

John also questioned the status of some roads in the subdivision, wondering why they weren't being maintained. "We pay our taxes," said John.

For a road to be maintained by the county, the road has to meet county specifications and the commissioners court has to formally accept the road as county property.

No definite projects on city agenda

The city of Bandera has accumulated over $80,000 since a half percent sales tax increase was implemented over a year ago, and some citizens are asking when the money will be spent on much-needed infrastructure improvements.

Currently the money, which can only be spent on certain items, is being held in an interest-accruing savings account.

Another provision of the tax is that it must be administered by a corporation. That corporation, consisting of seven members, has met twice, and some board members say those meetings were only organizational in nature.

"We haven't actually had a meeting yet," said board member Joe Davis. "We will probably have to have another organizational meeting to re-establish officers."

Mayor Bob Cowan, who also serves on the board, agreed.

"I'm just as frustrated as everybody else," Cowan said, adding that one of the hold ups is getting ex-council person Jeanette Bridges, or ex-mayor Robert Skinner, to attend a meeting.

Bridges was instrumental in getting the half percent tax increase passed.

Board president Melvin King told The Bulletin in late January that the board would meet in February, but several board members said that although King did call a meeting, he failed to show up and the meeting was therefore canceled.

Porter/Herndon

Mary Lyn Porter became the bride of James Bryon Herndon, Jr., on Saturday, Dec. 28, 1996 at the First Methodist Church in Sonora. A ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Alice Underwood of the Utopia United Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Porter of Utopia. The groom is the son of Mrs. Joyce Herndon of Hondo and the late Jim Herndon.

The alter was flanked by arched candelabra and large wicker baskets of gladiolas, spider mums, stephanotis and greenery. On each side of the stained glass window were baskets of Boston fern with lighted hurricane lamps.

Prenuptial selections were played by pianist Barbara Dillahunty, who accompanied the soloist, Ray Johnson, as he sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight white princess-style gown with sweetheart neckline and capped sleeves. The bodice, hemline and detachable train were decorated with heavily pearled and sequined Alencon lace. Her waist-length tulle veil was held in place by a two strand, beaded, teardrop band. Long candlelight white gloves completed her attire. She carried a cascade bouquet of burgundy gladiolas and white roses intertwined with antique stringed beads.

The bride wore as jewelry a pearl necklace and earrings belonging to her maternal grandmother.

WEDDING

Porter/Herndon

Marcy Lyn Porter became the bride of James Bryon Herndon, Jr., on Saturday, Dec. 28, 1996 at the First [illegible] Methodist [illegible] Seguin. A[illegible] emony was officiated by the Rev. Alice Underwood of the Utopia United Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Porter of Utopia. The groom is the son of Mrs. Joyce Herndon of Hondo and the late Jim Herndon.

The alter was flanked by arched candelabra and large wicker baskets of gladiolas, spider mums, stephanotis and greenery. On each side of the stained glass window were baskets of Boston fern with lighted hurricane lamps.

Prenuptial selections were played by pianist Barbara Dillahunty, who accompanied the soloist, Ray Johnson, as he sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight white princess-style gown with sweetheart neckline and capped sleeves. The bodice, hemline and detachable train were decorated with heavily pearled and sequined Alencon lace. Her waist-length tulle veil was held in place by a two strand, beaded, teardrop band. Long candlelight white gloves completed her attire. She carried a cascade bouquet of burgundy gladiolas and white roses intertwined with antique stringed beads.

The bride wore as jewelry a pearl necklace and earrings belonging to her maternal grandmother.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Amy Jones of College Station. Bridesmaids were Leslie Kellnor of San Antonio, Amy Williams of Kerrville, Shawna Thompson of O'Brien, Dottie and Misty Minton of Dilley. They were identical [illegible] with sweetheart neckline and [illegible] streamer sashes [illegible] white gloves completed their attire. Their bouquets [illegible] roses tied with long, antique white ribbon.

Serving as flower girl was Sarah Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill of Concan, and as ring-bearer was Kade McGuffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGuffin of Eden.

Best man was Tom Wright of San Antonio. Groomsmen were Lonnie Moore of El Paso, Coby Lane of Uvalde, J. Clark Ward of Uvalde, and Rex Simmonds of Giddings. Serving as candlelighters were Walker Porter of Utopia and Ryan Ridden of Dublin. Ushers were Brent Porter of Utopia, Patrick Williams of Uvalde, Walker Porter and Ryan Ridden.

Following the ceremony, a reception dinner and dance was held at Hermann Son's Hall in Knippa.

Registering guests were Ragan Redden of Dublin and Krissy Minton of Dilley. The bride's cake, made by Paula McBeth, was an arrangement of four free-standing double layered cakes frosted in a basket-weave design. Each confection was topped with flowers of burgundy and antique white.

The German chocolate groom's cake was made by the groom's mother and three aunts, Aunt Shirley Greenwalt, Aunt Jamie Harris and Aunt Margaret Davis. Serving at the bride's table were Kayla Masters, Ashley Herndon, Amanda Lewis, Rhonda Baker and Jessica Baker.

After a honeymoon trip to Lake Tahoe, Marcy and Bryan are at home in Pleasanton where he is the Assistant County Extension Agent for Atascosa County and Marcy is a student at UTSA and Palo Alto College.

WEDDING

Freeman/Tobin

Sheila Freeman and Phillip Tobin were married March 22 in a simple, home ceremony attended by a small group of family and friends at the Tobin Ranch. Officiating was life-long family friend, Judge Wayne Christian of San Antonio, with the groom's brother, Patrick Tobin, reading scriptures and prayers.

The bride, given away by her father, Ted Freeman, was attended by Amy Tobin. Best man was Ben Lively of San Antonio.

In the house party with the parents of the wedding couple were Tricia Tobin, Martha Tobin Bersch, Ann Tobin Hevenor, Georgina Tobin, Dee Lueddecke, Stacy Gernentz, and Dean Scott.

The newlyweds departed on a honeymoon trip to Big Bend, McDonald Observatory, Fort Davis and other points in the West Texas mountains. They will reside in Bandera.

The bride holds the position of administrative assistant to the Dean of Academic Affairs at the University of Texas Medical School in San Antonio, while the groom is manager of Tobin Ranch and Bandera County Constable, Precinct 1.

SILVER SAGE CORRAL

Betty Lebo

We have always sung the praises of those wonderful volunteers who deliver meals on wheels to our many seniors who are home-bound. However, after riding along with Delmar and Grace Stark on their Lakehills (and points in between) route last week, I think we need to sing a little louder.

The Lakehills route, at present, has just 15 people receiving meals. But because the route is spread out and covers such diverse terrain, it takes over two hours to complete. Delmar is our coordinator for meals on wheels in the Lakehills area. He took charge of this task about a year ago. Prior to that, Dot Webber had the honor. Dot says she agreed to take on this responsibility for one year and five years later she finally found someone to relieve her.

Others helping with the Lakehills route are Estela Hicks, Angie Walden, Pete Peterson, Evie Angell, Boyd and Mary Beth Noack, Liz White, Minnie Turner, Mary Driffil, Marti Baker, Ruth and Howard Hauck, Mary Henry, Rae Busby and Alice Smart. If I've missed anyone, tell me and I'll mention them next time.

All our volunteers tell us that delivering these meals is very rewarding, but when you see them, give them a pat on the back, hug them or say thank you on behalf of everyone in Bandera County. Without them, this very important program would not exist.

We'll tell you about Medina's volunteer drivers in another column.

Judy Goodenough reports that the Melodiers, accompanied by autoharp, violin and piano, traveled to two nursing homes this month to bring cheerful thoughts to the residents of Clark House her in Bandera and to Edgewater Care Center in Kerrville.

Their songs were all about Ireland and Irish folk. They wore shamrocks and even some Panama straw hats with green ribbons to help conjure up memories of the Emerald Isles. This program included a special dance by Jane and Paul Westmeyer to "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

The Melodiers are now preparing spring songs for use in their performances in April.

The Melodiers volunteer many hours of practice to help represent the Center with their music and we love every last one of them – Muckas Gracias, Senors y Senoras. Or many thanks, lads and lassies. Is that Irish or Scottish?

Remember, the Silver Sage will be closed on Good Friday, March 28. Have a wonderful Easter.

On Monday morning, Mary Fitzpatrick and Annette Kalka-Schulte from St. Stanislaus Catholic Church visited, prayed and sang with resident friends Jeanetta Adamietz, Brenda Adam, Raymond Smith, Beulah Faris and Anna Childs.

We have two of our winter Texas volunteers heading north. Jerry Moyer, who comes on Saturday mornings to play his guitar and sing, and his wife, Jean, are heading back to Minnesota. Linda Partenheimer, another volunteer who comes on Wednesday afternoons for Storytime, is leaving this week for Illinois to be [illegible] for their return in December.

Rev. Michael McManus and Dick Brown from St. Stanislaus served communion to members of the church.

Judy Goodenough and Chris Henderson from the First United Methodist Church came Friday for a monthly sing-a-long. The residents enjoyed singing with them.

Saturday afternoon, we celebrated Anna Childs and Merle Shiflett's birthdays. Laura Jo Pipkin of Boerne came and entertained them with song and music. Helping the residents celebrate were Anna Fay Bausch, Don and Mada Fitzgerald, John Pipkin and Pete Boyd of Boerne.

We welcome Richard Tolbert and Peggy Jacobs to our home and hope they enjoy their stay with us.

Martin Smith from the Church of Christ took Jack Holloway to services Sunday.

Elizabeth Stowell, a Certified Nurse's Aide at Clark House, suffered an epileptic seizure the afternoon of March 19. Stowell credits resident Freda Moseley with saving her life.

Stowell went into convulsions while feeding another resident and fell to the floor. Moseley, who cannot talk, made sufficient noise to attract the attention of staff members who came to Stowell's aid.

"LVN Mary Ramon and PA Kevin Morgan kept me alive," Stowell said. "David Byers went out of his way to get me back on my feet after I got out of the hospital."

Hill Country Hardwoods provides a unique look

Larry and Elizabeth Scott offer unique home decorating services.

Larry and Elizabeth Scott have brought their combined creative talents to Bandera, and the residents who want to spruce up their homes, or who are building new homes and want a unique look, will want to check out their business, Hill Country Hardwoods.

The couple offers installations, finishing and repairing of all hardwood floors, plus Elizabeth paints furniture and other items.

"With all the building that's going on now we thought it was a good time to move here," Elizabeth said.

She worked in the 1960s as a dude wrangler at Peaceful Valley, and fell for the hill country then.

"We've loved this area of the world for a long time," she said.

The couple moved here from Dallas, where Larry's reputation with hardwood has led him all over the United States.

"Your reputation proceeds you," Elizabeth said. "We never advertised on a nation-wide basis."

He recently completed a house in Utopia where the hardwood floors came from an old mill. The wood was heartwood pine.

Larry has experience working with many different types of wood, including cherry, pecan and mesquite. Elizabeth said that scored cement floors that can be painted on are also an option.

"He can make it look any way you want," she said. "Ant kind of custom floor."

Elizabeth says she can paint anything that stays iron front of her for long enough.

Currently, she is painting a fan to match the curtains for a new home in the area. She also paints candlesticks, picture frames, boxes, magnets, custom mailboxes, murals, walls, floors and just about anything.

The Scotts have three sons, two of whom are in school in Bandera. They can be reached Monday through Friday, and by appointment, at 796-7160.

WHAT'S RUSTLIN'

By this time, we are all aware that Bandera [illegible] ning neck and [illegible] ranch country is being the two fastest growing counties in the whole state of Texas, with an increase of new since 1990. Remember when we strung up the fence wire across Hwy. 16, right on the county line, and with great fanfare, the fence was cut to welcome the world to Bandera via our brand new super highway? Maybe we ought to repair the fence line!

Wal, podners, one more eligible bachelor hit the dust, this past weekend. It is now Mr. and Mrs. Philip and Sheila Tobin!! Congratulations! The wedding was held at the historical Tobin ranch, which was all a-glitter with its own special beauty. Peggy played the piano, and had everyone join in "Amazing Grace" for the solo. Then, Peggy and Don sang an old fashioned song in Spanish, followed by the service itself. Little children of all ages (lots!) were everywhere, but they were the best children imaginable! Peggy had put little chairs and tables in corners here and there for them. It was a true family affair!

• Patrick Mhyre's mother, Eva, came for a week-end visit to the "Cowboy Capital." She flew in from Sun City, Arizona, by herself. . . she's 93! They took her to The Dixie Dude Sunday chicken dinner, and she regaled the table with stories from her youth as a young farm gal in South Dakota. Her dad built her a sleigh that was very simple and was slung close to the ground and pulled by the family horse, so she could get herself to and from school in the deep [illegible] saved when she came across her dad who was plowing, in a field, and he was able to scare them [illegible] heard the sheep's bells tinkling in the middle of the night. He leaped out of bed and dashed out to the barnyard to find her, sound asleep, herding them out to the pasture. And there was more!

Eva has never been to the doctor except to have her children; and she has all her original teeth! Way to go, Eva!

• You have until June 1 to come up with $6.5 million to buy the two ghost towns that are up for sale in Montana. They have loads of historical 1860's buildings and lots of the decor and furnishings are still there. You can start your own "Cowboy Capital."

• Wonderful, darling, beautiful Carmilla Brown saw her dad, Jack McCollum, off in grand cowboy style recently, just like he wanted. A beautiful hand crafted authentic pine box was made locally by David Bouther. Dennis, of Methodist church fame, read an old service, and even dressed in his great frock coat to make it look authentic. Then, they loaded the box into the pack of their pickup truck, and drove straight to New Mexico. Jack wanted to go back to his roots.

• What a weekend in our Hill Country skies! The comet Hale-Bopp, and then the eclipse of the moon. Wow!

Cakes, auction items, food needed for benefit

A second fund raiser is to be held at The Cabaret on the evening of April 7 from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. to benefit Michelle Dexter, a student at Bandera High School. Dexter was severely burned in a fire two days after Christmas 1996.

Grace Lutheran Church is coordinating the event and Pastor Glen Moehring stated they will need all the community support they can get.

Although Michelle's recovery has been excellent, the expense of outpatient care continues

Merchandise, service certificates, and auctionable items are needed for the auction. Auction items may be dropped off at Grace Lutheran Church; at My World, 310 Main or at St. Christopher's Episcopal Church.

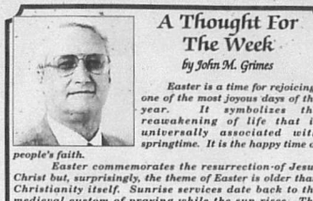
Cakes will be needed for an old fashioned cake walk. Finger food in disposable containers is needed for the party. Food items should be dropped off at The Cabaret on the afternoon of the event, April 7.

A special fund has been set up for cash donations at the Norwest Bank. The $5 tickets for the event are available at The Cabaret, the Chamber of Commerce and at the door.

TT sponsors community day

So the spring cleaning bug has bitten. What do you do with all the stuff you know is too good to throw away?

If you want to make some extra money and have some good junk, bring it to the Community Appreciation Day at Thousand Trails, Inc. on Saturday, April 12, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.



The Trails will be open to the community with a flea market, bake sale, hay rides and many more fun activities. Thousand Trails will furnish participants a table for $5.00. Or, bring your own table and rent a space for $3.00.

The sale of donated baked goods will benefit the Bandera County Helping Hands.

"So get busy with that spring cleaning, then come enjoy yourself at our Thousand Trails Community Appreciation Day," invites recreation director Alice Rettko.

You must be 21 or over or with an adult to enter the preserve.

"Help us help our community and have a great time doing it," said Rettko.

Amy Stevens, Wanda Fitzpatrick, Pat D'Spain and Alma Juenke accept new flags for the Frontier Times Museum from Woodmen of the World representatives Darryl Sandidge and Martin Smith.

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

Easter is a time for rejoicing; one of the most joyous days of the year. It symbolizes the reawakening of life that is universally associated with springtime. It is the happy time of people's faith.

Easter commemorates the resurrection of Jesus Christ but, surprisingly, the theme of Easter is older than Christianity itself. Sunrise services date back to the medieval custom of praying while the sun rises. The present day parades that mark the day had their beginning in the original Easter walk of Europe, when devout men and women congregated and walked in an orderly manner reciting prayers and singing. And one of the most charming of all customs is the Easter egg hunt for children--renewing the custom for older than Christianity. In pre-Christian time, the egg was the symbol of spring. In the Christian era the egg became a symbol of the rock tomb out of which Christ emerged in His resurrection. Thus, Easter is a symbol of Christianity, just as it is a symbol of the faith and hope of mankind.

Easter combines a rich mixture of laughter and solemnity. Both are good; both are needed by the soul of man.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

Marion Heisler
612-2826

Hi, Y'all! How do you like the spring weather? On March 29 there will be an Easter Egg Hunt at the Medina Lake Civic Center. It will be from 12 noon till 2 p.m. Kids of all ages are invited to come and have a blast.

The Lakehills Baptist Church is planning an Easter Sunrise Service at the American Legion Hall on 26th Street. Services take place in the Cabaña at 7 a.m. on March 30. We hope to see you all there. This is a good chance for all of you who go to church twice a year, so don't miss it!

• Evie Angel tells us the American Legion Plant Sale is coming up on April 5 at the Legion Hall on 26th Street from 9 a.m. till 12 noon. This will be a plant, bake and flea market event. For tables call Jackie at 612-2628 and for plant donations call Evie at 612-2817. This is a good time to get your seedlings for your garden.

• Contrary to The Bulletin's article last week, we are the Fire Chief of the MLVFD, not the president. Ronnie Smith still holds that position. And we are both getting ready for our spring 1-day barbecue on April 26 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. The department will be serving 1400 pounds of delicious barbecue brisket at our main firehouse. We hope to see all our friends there.

While responding to a controlled burn that jumped its boundaries on Saturday we proceeded to burn up an engine in our pumper. Work is progressing to change out the engine with a spare we have on hand. We all need to take real-care on these burns to make sure things don't get out of control.

Anyone having any kind of burn, whether in a barrel or on the ground, should call the Bandera Sheriff's Office and report the burn. A phone call can prevent having to send a truck or deputy to check it out.

Also, any fire with no one around watching is not a controlled burn and will be extinguished. The TNRCC has set a new set of rules for burning. We have copies if anyone is interested. Some of the rules we are to enforce will make some of you sit up and take notice, as to times you can burn and not letting fires smolder and foul air for your neighbors!

Well, time runs on so we better try to catch up. We will be looking for you all over the back fence.

Bandera High School senior Heidi Hicks was selected to the All-City second team and the All-Region second team for her success during the 1996 basketball season.

The All-region team consists of 55 different schools around the area.

Only twenty girls are selected out of the 55 schools - ten on the first team and ten on the second team.

"This is a real honor for Heidi," Coach Pam Owens said. "She earned it. Throughout the season, Heidi played consistently well, and was a leader on the team."

Bulldogs, Lady 'Dogs take district wins

Bandera pitchers play major role in recent wins

In an important first district game win, the Bandera Bulldogs fought a seven inning game against the Lytle Pirates on March 21, finally winning 1-0 after a Bandera run by Jeremy Leland in the third.

Leland started off the inning hit by the pitch. He stole second base and was knocked in by Pat Mazurek.

Bryan Bass turned a key double play with Brent Morris in the seventh inning to help the Bulldog victory.

The pitching of Kerry Schindler and Shawn Lewis was cited as helping to take the victory.

Schindler and Lewis combined for a three-hitter, allowing no walks in the tight game.

Schindler went five innings, allowing one hit and no walks, while striking out four batters.

The Bulldogs errorless inning streak extended to 20 innings, before making an error in the seventh inning.

"The Dogs quickly nullified the error by turning a double play on the next play," Coach Robbie Garza said.

Pat Mazurek was two for three with one RBI, Bryan Bass was one for two with a double, Simon Gray was one for three, and John Bossom was one for three.

On March 18, the Bandera Bulldogs took a win over Cotulla by a score of 4-1.

In the first inning, Jeremy Leland scored when he was knocked in by Pat Mazurek. Allan Torano also scored in the first, knocked in by Simon Gray.

"Kerry Schindler pitched four no-hit innings," Garza said.

Shawn Lewis pitched the last two innings, giving up no hits in the last of the game.

David Cantu scored the third run, knocked in by John Bossom, while Bossom scored the last run on a passed ball.

The Bulldogs extended their errorless inning streak to 14 innings.

Relief pitcher Joey Leal pitched one inning, and gave up only one run.

The 'Dogs scored another two in the bottom of the fourth, while Cotulla scored their only run in the fifth inning.

Pat Mazurek turned in two double plays to contribute to the win.

JV White team captures Lytle Pirates

The Bandera JV White team fought a hard-won battle against Lytle on March 21, and came away with the win 7-6, after being down 6-0. The Lytle Pirates made four runs in the first inning, and two more in the third, but Bandera came back in the bottom of the third with five runs, adding two more at the bottom of the fourth.

Pitcher Brent Flack pitched two scoreless innings to pick up the win. He was aided by two runners being thrown out at the plate by Jerod Fields with Dustin Mayfield applying the tag in both cases.

"I was proud of the young men," Coach Milner said. "After being down 6-0, they didn't give up and were able to come back and win."

Jason Salesberry and Robert Oliver each made two runs, while Matt Ervin, Robert Herold and Neal Ervin each added one run.

The Bulldogs extended their errorless inning streak to 14 innings.

Relief pitcher Danny Richardson gave up only one run and struck out one batter.

Offensively, Justin Schindler was two for four, while Herold, Richardson and Justin Knight were all two for three.

"It was a hard fought game," Coach Castillo said. "I was pleased with the way we came back, it showed the character and determination this team has and that was a positive side of the game."

On March 21, the blue team lost again to Lytle 9-14, leaving their standing at 3-3.

Lytle scored seven runs in the first inning.

Matt Ervin and Robert Oliver each scored two runs, while Jason Anderson, Dustin Mayfield, Robert Herold, Beau Pillet, and Justin Knight each scored one run.

"The early deficit was too much to overcome," Coaches Castillo and Milner said. "The young men gave a great effort, but couldn't quite make it all the way back."

Matt Ervin and Beau Pillet each had two RBI's.

Bobcats take loss at first district contest

Medina hosted D'Hanis for their first district baseball game of the season on Thursday, March 20 after the rain-out on Tuesday.

Phillip Haines pitched the seven inning game and ended with 10 strikeouts. Medina enjoyed a brief lead in the game, leading after the completion of the first inning by one run, however errors proved to be the undoing for the 'Cats, who lost 12-7.

For Medina, Haines had four at bats with a base hit, two-base hit, got on base on an error twice and had an RBI and scored three runs. Bo Evans had four at bats and had a two-base hit and a one-base hit with an RBI and scored once. Ryan Doyle had four at bats, had a solo left field homerun, a one-base hit and hit a grounder for the third out on a fielder's choice and had a run. Chris Pung had four at bats, had a two-base hit and grounded out to first base. Clint Singleton scored a run as a courtesy runner.

Mike Parks had four at bats and grounded out to the pitcher and had a one-base hit, Cully Doyle had four at bats and had a one-base hit, flew out to second base, flew out to left field and had one run.

On Friday, Medina traveled to Asherton for their second district game and came away with a disappointing loss of 6-5.

Jonathan Johnson pitched the game and also led the team at the plate with three at bats for two hits, with a triple that helped set off a five-run inning each added one RBI.

On March 20, the white team took a loss from Hondo 2-12.

The Hondo Owls came out in the first inning with four runs, and Bandera scored two in the bottom of the third.

Jimmy MacMillan and Brent Flack each scored a run, while Matt Ervin had one RBI.

Relief pitcher Dustin Mayfield pitched six strikeouts.

"The Hondo pitcher stifled our attack," Milner said. "We were limited to two hits for the game."

The Bandera JV Blue team played two games last week and took a loss at both.

The boys played Hondo on March 20 and lost 9-11 after Hondo scored 10 runs in the second inning. Justin Schindler, Beau Pillet and Robert Herold each made two runs.

Pitcher Robert Oliver struck out two and walked four. Relief pitcher Danny Richardson gave up only one run and struck out one batter.

Offensively, Justin Schindler was two for four, while Herold, Richardson and Justin Knight were all two for three.

"It was a hard fought game," Coach Castillo said. "I was pleased with the way we came back, it showed the character and determination this team has and that was a positive side of the game."

On March 21, the blue team lost again to Lytle 9-14, leaving their standing at 3-3.

Lytle scored seven runs in the first inning.

Matt Ervin and Robert Oliver each scored two runs, while Jason Anderson, Dustin Mayfield, Robert Herold, Beau Pillet, and Justin Knight each scored one run.

"The early deficit was too much to overcome," Coaches Castillo and Milner said. "The young men gave a great effort, but couldn't quite make it all the way back."

Matt Ervin and Beau Pillet each had two RBI's.

Medina's Phillip Haines rounds third base in the D'Hanis game.

WHAT'S RUSTLIN'

by Bandera County 4-H Agent Ronnie Scott

By this time, we are all aware that Bandera County is rattling neck and neck with Medina County as being the two fastest growing counties in the whole state of Texas, with an increase of 30% since 1990. Remember when we strung up the fence wire across Hwy. 16, right on the county line, and with great fanfare, the fence was cut to welcome the world to Bandera via our brand new super highway? Maybe we ought to repair the fence line!

Wal, podners, one more eligible bachelor bit the dust, this past weekend. It is now Mr. and Mrs. Philip and Sheila Tobin! Congratulations! The wedding was held at the historical Tobin ranch, which was all a-glitter with its own special beauty. Peggy played the piano, and had everyone join in "Amazing Grace" for the solo. Then, Peggy and Don sang an old fashioned song in Spanish, followed by the service itself. Little children of all ages (lots!) were everywhere, but they were the best children imaginable! Peggy had put little chairs and tables in corners here and there for them. It was a true family affair!

• Patrick Mhyre's mother, Eva, came for a week-end visit to the "Cowboy Capital." She flew in from Sun City, Arizona, by herself. . . she's 93! They took her to The Dixie Dude Sunday chicken dinner, and she regaled the table with stories from her youth as a young farm gal in South Dakota. Her dad built her a sleigh that was very simple and was slung close to the ground and pulled by the family horse, so she could get herself to and from school in the deep snow. One day, as she was coming home, [illegible] which didn't have room for a sleigh, she was delayed when she came across her dad who was plowing, in a field, and he was able to scare them heard the sheep's bells tinkling in the middle of the night. He leaped out of bed and dashed out to the barnyard to find her, sound asleep, herding them out to the pasture. And there was more!

Eva has never been to the doctor except to have her children, and she has all her original teeth! Way to go, Eva!

• You have until June 1 to come up with $6.5 million to buy the two ghost towns that are up for sale in Montana. They have loads of historical 1860's buildings and lots of the decor and furnishings are still there. You can start your own "Cowboy Capital."

• Wonderful, darling, beautiful Carmilla Brown saw her dad, Jack McCollum, off in grand cowboy style recently, just like he wanted. A beautiful hand crafted authentic pine box was made locally by David Bouther. Dennis, of Methodist church fame, read an old service, and even dressed in his great frock coat to make it look authentic. Then, they loaded the box into the pack of their pickup truck, and drove straight to New Mexico. Jack wanted to go back to his roots.

• What a weekend in our Hill Country skies! The comet Hale-Bopp, and then the eclipse of the moon. Wow!

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

Easter is a time for rejoicing; one of the most joyous days of the year. It symbolizes the reawakening of life that is universally associated with springtime. It is the happy time of people's faith.

Easter commemorates the resurrection of Jesus Christ but, surprisingly, the theme of Easter is older than Christianity itself. Sunrise services date back to the medieval custom of praying while the sun rises. The present day parades that mark the day had their beginning in the original Easter walk of Europe, when devout men and women congregated and walked in an orderly manner reciting prayers and singing. And one of the most charming of all customs is the Easter egg hunt for children--renewing the custom for older than Christianity. In pre-Christian time, the egg was the symbol of spring. In the Christian era the egg became a symbol of the rock tomb out of which Christ emerged in His resurrection. Thus, Easter is a symbol of Christianity, just as it is a symbol of the faith and hope of mankind.

Easter combines a rich mixture of laughter and solemnity. Both are good; both are needed by the soul of man.

Bandera High School senior Heidi Hicks was selected to the All-City second team and the All-Region second team for her success during the 1996 basketball season.

The All-region team consists of 55 different schools around the area.

Only twenty girls are selected out of the 55 schools - ten on the first team and ten on the second team.

"This is a real honor for Heidi," Coach Pam Owens said. "She earned it. Throughout the season, Heidi played consistently well, and was a leader on the team."

Bulldogs, Lady 'Dogs take district wins

Bandera pitchers play major role in recent wins

In an important first district game win, the Bandera Bulldogs fought a seven inning game against the Lytle Pirates on March 21, finally winning 1-0 after a Bandera run by Jeremy Leland in the third.

Leland started off the inning hit by the pitch. He stole second base and was knocked in by Pat Mazurek.

Bryan Bass turned a key double play with Brent Morris in the seventh inning to help the Bulldog victory.

The pitching of Kerry Schindler and Shawn Lewis was cited as helping to take the victory.

Schindler and Lewis combined for a three-hitter, allowing no walks in the tight game.

Schindler went five innings, allowing one hit and no walks, while striking out four batters.

The Bulldogs errorless inning streak extended to 20 innings, before making an error in the seventh inning.

"The 'Dogs quickly nullified the error by turning a double play on the next play," Coach Robbie Garza said.

Pat Mazurek was two for three with one RBI, Bryan Bass was one for two with a double, Simon Gray was one for three, and John Bossom was one for three.

On March 18, the Bandera Bulldogs took a win over Cotulla by a score of 4-1.

In the first inning, Jeremy Leland scored when he was knocked in by Pat Mazurek. Allan Torans also scored in the first, knocked in by Simon Gray.

"Kerry Schindler pitched four no-hit innings," Garza said.

Shawn Lewis pitched the last two innings, giving up no hits in the last of the game.

David Cantu scored the third run, knocked in by John Bossom, while Bossom scored the last run on a passed ball.

The Bulldogs extended their errorless inning streak to 14 innings.

Relief pitcher Joey Leal pitched one inning, and gave up only one run.

The 'Dogs scored another two in the bottom of the fourth, while Cotulla scored their only run in the fifth inning.

Pat Mazurek turned in two double plays to contribute to the win.

Lady 'Dogs third in district

The Bandera Lady Bulldogs won two nights in a row against Hondo and Lytle.

The Hondo Owls lost to the Lady 'Dogs 11-1 on March 20, after Carilee Robbins scored a homerun and Shawna Nihart had a double and a triple.

"It was overall a good effort," Coach Darcy Rogers said. "As long as we keep our errors down and our intensity up, we perform well."

Elisha Blankenship and Katie Jennings each had two RBI's on their singles.

Pitcher Sandy Heath allowed only one run in.

On March 21, the girls sent the Lytle Pirates packing with a score of 14-2.

Robbins started the action off with another homerun, while Colleen Forsythe, Megan Jones and Heath each had two RBI's.

Shawna Nihart stole seven bases in the game, scoring two runs. The Lady Bulldogs committed only two errors, playing a strong defensive game.

The team must beat either Devine or Medina Valley for a chance to make the playoffs.

The girls record is 8-6 for the season and 4-2 in district.

JV White team captures Lytle Pirates

The Bandera JV White team fought a hard-won battle against Lytle on March 21 and came away with the win 7-6, after being down 6-0. The Lytle Pirates made four runs in the first inning, and two more in the third, but Bandera came back in the bottom of the third with five runs, adding two more at the bottom of the fourth.

Pitcher Brent Flack pitched two scoreless innings to pick up the win. He was aided by two runners being thrown out at the plate by Jerod Fields with Dustin Mayfield applying the tag in both cases.

"I was proud of the young men," Coach Milner said. "After being down 6-0, they didn't give up and were able to come back and win."

Jason Salesberry and Robert Oliver each made two runs, while Matt Ervin, Robert Herold and Neal Ervin each added one run.

Matt Ervin had four RBI's, Neal Ervin, Dustin Mayfield and Manuel Hernandez each added one RBI.

On March 20, the white team took a loss from Hondo 2-12.

The Hondo Owls came out in the first inning with four runs, and Bandera scored two in the bottom of the third.

Jimmy MacMillan and Brent Flack each scored a run, while Matt Ervin had one RBI.

Relief pitcher Dustin Mayfield pitched six strikeouts.

"The Hondo pitcher stifled our attack," Milner said. "We were limited to two hits for the game."

The Bandera JV Blue team played two games last week and took a loss at both.

The boys played Hondo on March 20 and lost 9-11 after Hondo scored 10 runs in the second inning. Justin Schindler, Beau Pillet and Robert Herold each made two runs.

Pitcher Robert Oliver struck out two and walked five. Relief pitcher Danny Richardson gave up only one run and struck out one batter.

Offensively, Justin Schindler was two for four, while Herold, Richardson and Justin Knight were all two for three.

"It was a hard fought game," Coach Castillo said. "I was pleased with the way we came back, it showed the character and determination this team has and that was a positive side of the game."

On March 21, the blue team lost again to Lytle 9-14, leaving their standing at 3-3.

Lytle scored seven runs in the first inning.

Matt Ervin and Robert Oliver each scored two runs, while Dan Anderson, Dustin Mayfield, Robert Herold, Beau Pillet, and Justin Knight each scored one run.

"The early deficit was too much to overcome," Coaches Castillo and Milner said. "The young men gave a great effort, but couldn't quite make it all the way back."

Matt Ervin and Beau Pillet each had two RBI's.

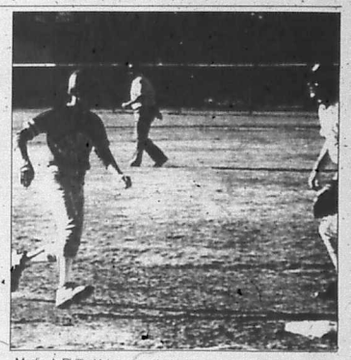
Bobcats take loss at first district contest

Medina hosted D'Hanis for their first district baseball game of the season on Thursday, March 20 after the rain-out on Tuesday.



Phillip Haines pitched the seven inning game and ended with 10 strikeouts. Medina enjoyed a brief lead in the game, leading after the completion of the first inning by one run, however errors proved to be the undoing for the 'Cats, who lost 12-7.

For Medina, Haines had four at bats with a base hit, two-base hit, got on base on an error twice and had an RBI and scored three runs. Bo Evans had four at bats and had a two-base hit and a one-base hit with an RBI and scored once. Ryan Doyle had four at bats, had a solo left field homerun, a one-base hit and hit a grounder for the third out on a fielder's choice and had a run. Chris Pump had four at bats, had a two-base hit and grounded out to first base. Clint Singleton scored a run as a courtesy runner.

Mike Parks had four at bats and grounded out to the pitcher and had a one-base hit, Cully Doyle had four at bats and had a one-base hit, flew out to second base, flew out to left field and had one run.

On Friday, Medina traveled to Asherton for their second district game and came away with a disappointing loss of 6-5.

Jonathan Johnson pitched the game and also led the team at the plate with three at bats for two hits, with a triple that helped set off a five-run inning.

Medina's Phillip Haines rounds third base in the D'Hanis game.

moving the tax office to the central administration building and making the high school football field the main road.

"It's absurd that the district does not have an administration building," Hamilton told the board. Hamilton said that administration offices are currently lying in storage rooms of classrooms. "Efficient management of the business and staff that can be together," Hamilton said.

Bus Subcommittee chairman Bobby Jones told the board that the service area for buses is inadequate and recommended moving the transportation department to a new facility. "Such would substantially reduce traffic in the city of Bandera and eliminate possible future environmental and safety problems from handling and storing fuel, Jones' subcommittee report said. The district's buses and maintenance facilities are currently located on [illegible] in downtown Bandera.

The committee also recommended the board establish a permanent facilities committee to assist the board in future planning. "None of you have time to do this (gather data)," Hamilton told the board.

Committee member Ray D'Spain urged the board to continue to use the expertise of the committee. "Don't be afraid to call on us," D'Spain said. "We can help you get a bond that the students, the taxpayers and the administration can live with."

Renovations to Bandera Middle School were a top priority of the district's facilities committee.

Facilities committee concludes BISD has enough land

The 25-member BISD Facilities Study Committee members included: Al Hamilton, Ray D'Spain, Doris Marshall, Ronnie Basinger, George Hamilton, Bobby Jones, Steve Muller, Reagan Peterson, Janet Evans, Geri Valdez, Joe Cantu, Boyd Peters, John Leland, Neil Peterson, Lezlie Yurrita, Ken Finley, Jim Hannah, Richard Connors, Claire Johnston, Mike Medina and Connie Manal.

The committee presented its final report to the BISD board last Tuesday night during a regular session of the board.

The committee's final conclusions stated that the district now owns adequate land to serve its needs for many years and that existing school facilities are generally in good repair and condition with the exception of the Middle School.

The committee discouraged the purchase of portable buildings except to alleviate temporary overcrowding. The report suggested that overcrowding could be relieved with better planning.

Compilation of student data to accurately forecast growth was encouraged.

The committee also recommended the serious consideration of year-round schooling, especially at the elementary levels.

Remodeling of existing facilities was encouraged as being more economically feasible than building new buildings.

The report concluded that too much space is occupied by special ed classes and remedial classes.

A tightening of financial practices, including inventories and the use of purchase orders was also recommended.

The complete report of the citizen's committee is available for study at the superintendent's office.

Governor's new tax plan seems unfair to her

Dear Editor,

I hope the Legislature is not taking seriously Governor Bush's threat to veto any income tax bill. After all, Bush himself went over his TRT plan that increases taxes on all salaries, regardless of how small. Was he planning to veto his own bill? Or does he think the sailors should be taxed, but not other forms of income, such as interest and dividends? Does he want people who work for a living to pay tax, but not people who inherited their money and live on the interest it earns?

That doesn't sound very fair to me.

Bush's threat is shocking up progress, as those who know what needs to be done jockey around trying to figure out what to call it. There is talk about "extending the franchise tax." That is no-speak for a tax on personal income, just as the existing Texas franchise tax is no-speak for a corporate tax. It took a U.S. Supreme Court decision to make that point.

The bottom line is the governor cannot veto a Constitutional Amendment, which is what it is going to take to clean up the Texas tax mess. The Legislature needs to send to the people a clearly worded, easy to understand plan that will lower tax for 60 percent of the people, leave 20 percent unchanged, and bring the other 20 percent up to their fair share.

That is what happens when you lower sales tax as well as property tax and replace the lost revenue with an income tax. That is the Common Cause plan. It is clear and simple and fair.

It taxes the dentists and lawyers that Bush says he is targeting, but it leaves the nurses and clerks and teachers better off. I think the people will vote for it. Let's give them that chance.

Rogue dog law unenforceable?

Dear Editor,

When considering an animal to raise on our small ranch of forty acres, I talked at length at the rancher's coffee round table at the OST. They convinced me that goats should be my best route to take. They assured me that we had the best animal control laws against predators and that this county would not put up with goat-killing dogs.

On my first encounter, dogs killed two of my goats. I called and Mr. Triple [Triple Kocurek, animal control officer] came out promptly and promised a diligent response. He set traps and caught one dog, after they had killed three more goats.

Upon an effort to bring the dogs and owner to account for my loss he was ordered from this man's property.

Armed with pictures of one trapped dog and my dead goats, and a knowledge of the unmistakable dogs and their owner in seems nothing will be done.

I don't know if such a trivial matter as my goats is worthy of judicial consideration, or if the considerable effort of Mr. Triple is appreciated.

I can forego monetary restitution for my goats, but do we have a rogue dog law or don't we?

More delighted guests

Dear Bandera,

You know, every night we listen to the news and hear horror stories, because it gets attention. Not enough focus is given to good, unselfish deeds, and that's what this short note is all about.

Many thanks, Bandera. Your small community with the very big heart went all out at the "Winter Texan Party" on Feb. 26. The accommodations were comfortable, the entertainment lively, the food was delicious and the prizes were exceptional.

The winter Texans at Riverside RV Park in Bandera hail from all over the United States, and collectively wish to thank our hosts Don and Nelwyn Clark, the Bandera Chamber of Commerce, the Cabaret and each and every sponsor and or participant of the party.

See you next year.

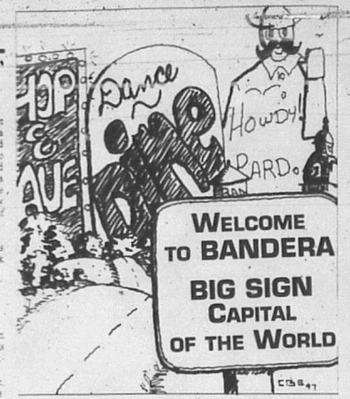
Questions come with age

Dear Editor,

It is my experience that when one becomes older, his thoughts turn to things otherwise unexplained.

Why don't things fall as when they are dropped? What is the meaning of Time? Why do politicians act as though they know everything?



How long is forever? How does one interpret Faith? How old is God?

Why don't they find a cure for the common cold?

These and many more doubts you will find as you acquire tenure will rear their ugly heads.

And remember: Nobody listens...and then everyone disagrees.

Property tax alternatives searched for

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams & Ed Starling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN -- State lawmakers last week continued with their search to find alternatives to the local school property tax that generates about $10 billion in revenue each year.

Opening under a directive by Gov. George W. Bush, the House Select Committee on Revenue and Public Education Funding has been hearing from business people and individual taxpayers.

Bush wants to cut school property taxes by $3 billion and make up for the lost revenue with a state sales tax hike and a new business activity tax. But he said some groups are voicing opposition to a new tax on business, while others are trying to protect their sales tax exemptions.

"The noise level is loud at the Capitol, because there are a lot of lobbyists who are paid a lot of money to protect the interests of those who pay no tax to the state of Texas, and that's not fair," the governor told the Texas Association of Home Builders, in a speech last week.

Rep. Paul Sadler, D-Henderson, chairman of the select committee, said he hopes the panel decides on a tax plan before the end of March.

Senate OKs Managed-Care Bill

Sen. David Sibley's bill that would hold managed health-care organizations liable for medical decisions was approved by the Senate last week.

The legislation, which moves to the House for consideration, would open up Texas managed-care organizations to malpractice lawsuits. If the legislation becomes law, Texas would be the first state in the nation to allow those providers to be sued for medical malpractice.

"What's so special that this industry should be treated differently from everybody else?" Sibley, R-Waco, asked during Senate debate.

"This bill is for Texans who have to fight to get the health care they have paid for years," he said. About 12 percent of Texans are enrolled in managed-care programs, Sibley said.

Lotto Contract to Be Rebid

The Texas Lottery Commission voted to accept new bids on the contract to operate the Texas Lottery.

Requests for bids will be submitted to potential bidders no later than June 30. Meanwhile, the state's contract with the current contractor, GTECH Holdings Corp. of New Jersey, remains in effect.

The commission fired Lottery Director Nora Linares in January after learning GTECH had hired her boyfriend, Mike Moeller, as a $5,000-a-month consultant in 1992. Harriet Miers, chairwoman of the three-member commission, proposed that the contract be rebid after questions arose as to how GTECH conducts business.

Last spring, the commission voted to extend GTECH's contract for five years.

Marc Palazzo, a spokesman for GTECH, said the firm expects that the state, "will act in good faith and honor the existing agreement."

Last week, the commission also decided to scrap a plan to consider using state employees to run the lottery.

False-Lien Bill Passes

Persons who use false court documents to harass others would face criminal penalties under a bill passed by the Texas Senate.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, would stop the use of fake court records and property liens by groups such as the "Republic of Texas" to intimidate their adversaries. "This targets anybody who engages in these practices," Bivins said.

Republic of Texas members have filed false liens against government officials as part of their campaign to take Texas out of the United States.

Carolyn's Corner

BY CAROLYN B. EDWARDS, EDITOR

I was delighted with the positive response to my list of 50 things I want to do before I die of a couple of weeks ago.

Howard Dukes of Pipe Creek said he had already accomplished quite a few of the 30 goals I printed, but then Howard has a few years on me. We won't say how many.

Barbara Catlin, one of our local romance novelists, stopped by and said that she plans to sit down and start her own list, just to get her priorities straight. Barbara said she is moving into non-fiction writing, which will be a loss to the romance genre. Barbara is one of the few in the field that has a genuine sense of mischievous humor in her writing. Her list of 50 should be a bit amusing, too, I expect.

Our Utopia correspondent John Baumer sent a list of "you know you are old when ..." to cheer me up. You know you are old when you realize that naps are good...you eat only fruit and fibre for breakfast...you get a discount for being of age...and you remember when Star Wars first came out!

Hey, John, I can remember when Mission Impossible was a TV show!

Then Nancy Byram of Bandera sent me a packet of information about a trip to the Holy Land she and her husband are leading in October.

She said she couldn't do much to help me learn to weld or provide that leather couch, but she was willing to help me accomplish at least one of my goals. People in Bandera are just wonderful, aren't they?

My long-time desire to get a tattoo seemed to garner the most response from our readers. I was told it didn't seem to fit my personality. Hmmm. Obviously, I need to put on those leather pants and rev up the Harley a little more often.

• Lots of you have told me that you have candidates for the champion pothole of the county. But I've got to tell you that I don't think you have a chance against the Big One out on Bear Creek Road.

• A bill was passed, 27-4, in the Texas Senate March 12 that would immediately remove from office any Texas county officer charged with public intoxication or other official misconduct, even before being tried in a court of law. Contact the bill's sponsor Brownsville Senator Eddie Lucio if you are wondering, as I am, why the law doesn't also apply to our State officials!

Could it be because we wouldn't have a quorum left in the Legislature?

While it was a pleasant feeling the bright sunshine this past week, we couldn't understand the complaints of some people about the protracted rain and drizzle. God knew we needed all the moisture we could get even though He sent most of it on up to the Ohio Valley. Come to think of it, do you really think that God makes up his mind every morning as to where to let it rain? If so, is he punishing those people in Kentucky and Ohio for collective sins of which they are guilty? This renegade thinker cannot believe that! And were we punished with drought for past two years? We're bad, but are we that bad?

Well, at least one bluebonnet clump near Edna's Road liked all the recent wetness, already putting out a flower head. Others will follow soon. The winter rosettes have exploded into flourishing maturing plants.

Doc Gray's old spring at the Upper Lake is running boldly again after a winter of desultory dripping. The fern bank should come back to life and the escarpment cherries should rejoice with fresh resolve to make fruit for the birds.

Perhaps now the white-tails and axis will find forage elsewhere around the river bend and will not have to congregate in their hundreds in the coastal bermuda fields which are struggling to get started on their yearly mission of feeding the horses hereabouts with a good crop of hay!

Signs of the times: A large herd of young Holstein steers in a field on the way to Kerrville in place of the cow-calf pairs of Simmental or Longhorns we're used to seeing on area ranches. You've heard no doubt that hamburger mega-chains like McDonalds prefer the leaner meat of dairy animals to that of traditional beef breeds. We can't remember seeing black and whites on the way to Kerrville since the old old days when KerrView Dairy was still engaged in a milk-producing operation along there. Can you believe that bottled milk was once always a local product? Or that Falfurrias butter actually came from South Texas? (It now comes from Wisconsin, they say.)

If the Cambell Company starts making Pace's Picante in New York City, we will have had it for sure! But then Mrs. Baird's of old-time Texas tradition has gone into the bagel business. What is the world coming to?

Governor's new tax plan seems unfair to her

Dear Editor,

I hope the Legislature is not taking seriously Governor Bush's threat to veto any income tax bill. After all, Bush himself went over his "ET" plan that included a tax on all salaries, regardless of how small. Was he planning to veto his own bill? Or does he think the salaries should be taxed, but not other forms of income such as interest and dividends? Does he want people who work for a living to pay tax, but not people who inherited their money and live on the interest it earns?

That doesn't sound very fair to me.

Bush's threat is holding up progress as those who know what needs to be done jockey around trying to figure out what to call it. There is talk about "extending the franchise tax." That is au-speak for a tax on personal income, just as the existing Texas franchise tax is au-speak for a corporate tax. It took a U.S. Supreme Court decision to make that point.

The bottom line is the governor cannot veto a Constitutional Amendment, which is what it is going to take to clean up the Texas tax mess. The Legislature needs to send to the people a clearly worded, easy to understand plan that will lower tax for 60 percent of the people, leave 20 percent unchanged, and bring the other 20 percent up to their fair share.

That is what happens when you lower sales tax as well as property tax and replace the lost revenue with an income tax. That is the Common Cause plan. It is clear and simple and fair.

It takes the doctors and lawyers that Bush says he is targeting, but it leaves the nurses and clerks and teachers better off. I think the people will vote for it. Let's give them that chance.

Rogue dog law unenforceable?

Dear Editor,

When considering an animal to raise on our small ranch of forty acres, I talked at length at the rancher's coffee round table at the OST. They convinced me that goats should be my best route to take. They assured me that we had the best animal control laws against predators and that this county would not put up with goat-killing dogs.

On my first encounter, dogs killed two of my goats. I called and Mr. Triple (Triple Kocurek, animal control officer) came out promptly and promised a diligent response. He set traps and caught one dog, after they had killed three more goats.

Upon an effort to bring the dogs and owner to account for my loss he was ordered from this man's property.

Armed with pictures of one trapped dog and my dead goats, and a knowledge of the unconfutable dogs and their owner, it seems nothing will be done.

I don't know if such a trivial matter as my goats is worthy of judicial consideration, or if the considerable effort of Mr. Triple is appreciated.

I can forego monetary restitution for my goats, but do we have a rogue dog law or don't we?

More delighted guests

Dear Bandera,

You know, every night we listen to the news and hear horror stories, because it gets attention. Not enough focus is given to good, unselfish deeds, and that's what this short note is all about.

Many thanks, Bandera. Your small community with the very big heart went all out at the "Winter Texan Party" on Feb. 26. The accommodations were comfortable, the entertainment lively, the food was delicious and the prizes were exceptional.

The winter Texans at Riverside RV Park in Bandera hail from all over the United States, and collectively wish to thank our hosts Don and Nelwyn Clark, the Bandera Chamber of Commerce, the Cabaret and each and every sponsor, and or participant of the party.

See you next year.

Questions come with age

Dear Editor:

It is my experience that when one becomes older has thoughts turn to things otherwise unexplained.

Why don't things fall up when they are dropped? What is the meaning of Time? Why do pounds act as though they know everything?

How long is forever? How does one acquire Faith? How old is God?

Why don't they find a cure for the common cold?

Thesesand many more doubts you will find as you acquire tenure will rear their ugly heads.

And remember: Nobody listens...and then everyone disagrees.

Carolyn's Corner

By Carolyn B. Edwards, Editor

I was delighted with the positive response to my list of 50 things I want to do before I die of a couple of weeks ago.

Howard Dukes of Pipe Creek said he had already accomplished quite a few of the 30 goals I printed, but then Howard has a few years on me. We won't say how many.

Barbara Catlin, one of our local romance novelists, stopped by and said that she plans to sit down and start her own list, just to get her priorities straight. Barbara said she is moving into non-fiction writing, which will be a loss to the romance genre. Barbara is one of the few in the field that has a genuine sense of mischievous humor in her writing. Her list of 50 should be a bit amusing, too, I expect.

Our Utopia correspondent John Baumer sent a list of "you know you are old when..." to cheer me up. You know you are old when you realize that naps are good...you eat only fruit and fibre for breakfast...you get a discount for being of age...and you remember when Star Wars first came out!

Hey, John, I can remember when Mission Impossible was a TV show!

Then Nancy Byram of Bandera sent me a packet of information about a trip to the Holy Land she and her husband are leading in October.

She said she couldn't do much to help me learn to weld or provide that leather couch, but she was willing to help me accomplish at least one of my goals. People in Bandera are just wonderful, aren't they?

My long-time desire to get a tattoo seemed to garner the most response from our readers. I was told it didn't seem to fit my personality. Hmmm. Obviously, I need to put on those leather pants and rev up the Harley a little more often.

• Lots of you have told me that you have candidates for the champion pothole of the county. But I've got to tell you that I don't think you have a chance against the Big One out on Bear Creek Road.

• A bill was passed, 27-4, in the Texas Senate March 12 that would immediately remove from office any Texas county officer charged with public intoxication or other official misconduct, even before being tried in a court of law. Contact the bill's sponsor Brownsville Senator Eddie Lucio if you are wondering, as I am, why the law doesn't also apply to our State officials!

Could it be because we wouldn't have a quorum left in the Legislature?

Property tax alternatives searched for

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN -- State lawmakers last week continued with their search to find alternatives to the local school property tax that generates about $10 billion in revenue each year.

Operating under a directive by Gov. George W. Bush, the House Select Committee on Revenue and Public Education Funding has been hearing from business people and individual taxpayers.

Bush wants to cut school property taxes by $3 billion and make up for the lost revenue with a state sales tax hike and a new business activity tax. But he said some groups are voicing opposition to a new tax on business, while others are trying to protect their sales tax exemptions.

"The noise level is loud at the Capitol, because there are a lot of lobbyists who are paid a lot of money to protect the interests of those who pay no tax to the state of Texas, and that's not fair," the governor told the Texas Association of Home Builders, in a speech last week.

Rep. Paul Sadler, D-Henderson, chairman of the select committee, said he hopes the panel decides on a tax plan before the end of March.

Senate OKs Managed-Care Bill

Sen. David Sibley's bill that would hold managed health-care organizations liable for medical decisions was approved by the Senate last week.

The legislation, which moves to the House for consideration, would open up Texas managed-care organizations to malpractice lawsuits. If the legislation becomes law, Texas would be the first state in the nation to allow those providers to be sued for medical malpractice.

"What's so special that this industry should be treated differently from everybody else?" Sibley, R-Waco, asked during Senate debate.

"This bill is for Texans who have to fight to get the health care they have paid for years," he said. About 12 percent of Texans are enrolled in managed-care programs, Sibley said.

Lotto Contract to Be Rebid

The Texas Lottery Commission voted to accept new bids on the contract to operate the Texas Lottery.

Requests for bids will be submitted to potential bidders no later than June 30. Meanwhile, the state's contract with the current contractor, GTECH Holdings Corp. of New Jersey, remains in effect.

The commission fired Lottery Director Nora Linares in January after learning GTECH had hired her boyfriend, Mike Moeller, as a $5,000-a-month consultant in 1992. Harriet Miers, chairwoman of the three-member commission, proposed that the contract be rebid after questions arose as to how GTECH conducts business.

Last spring, the commission voted to extend GTECH's contract for five years.

Marc Palazzo, a spokesman for GTECH, said the firm expects that the state, "will act in good faith and honor the existing agreement."

Last week, the commission also decided to scrap a plan to consider using state employees to run the lottery.

False-Lien Bill Passes

Persons who use false court documents to harass others would face criminal penalties under a bill passed by the Texas Senate.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, would stop the use of fake court records and property liens by groups such as the "Republic of Texas" to intimidate their adversaries. "This targets anybody who engages in these practices," Bivins said.

Republic of Texas members have filed false liens against government officials as part of their campaign to take Texas out of the United States.

Sheriff's Report

During the week of March 18 through March 24, 1997 the Bandera County Sheriff's Office officers handled 123 calls for service.

Among those calls were:

Eighteen accidents, one collision between a vehicle and a school bus on March 19.

On March 22 Penick investigated a report of a driver passing a school bus while it was unloading children on Hwy. 1283.

Deputy Brice answered a call for a vehicle running the lights of a school bus on FM 1283 on March 24.

Also, on March 24, Deputy Doyle responded to a Bandera residence to check on an elderly lady whose friends had not been able to contact her. After forcing his way into the residence, it was found that the elderly woman had died.

On March 20, Deputies Johnson and Mansfield responded to a residential burglar alarm at a residence on Hwy. 337. Johnson arrived first and found a Mexican national in the residence and he was able to apprehend the subject. Items had been stacked near the door. The subject has been charged with burglary of a habitation.

On the same day Deputy Rastetter investigated a reported burglary at a Lakehills residence.

Arrested by the Sheriff's Office were:

Jack Hall Sr. of Bandera for public intoxication.

Sharon McKenzie, 41, of Lakehills, charged with assault by contact.

Peter Martinez, 50, of Lakehills for assault by threat.

Clint Hampson, 20, of Pipe Creek on a capias order.

Realan Day, 30, of Bandera on a court order.

Arturo Moreno, 23, of Tampico, Mexico, charged with burglary of a habitation.

Jamie Fitzgerald, 18, of Medina, charged with public intoxication and theft.

James Childers, 19, of Bandera, for public intoxication and theft.

Isaac Kenney, 20, Pipe Creek, for issuance of a bad check, and two warrants from outside agencies.

Arrested by Pct. 2 was Armando Herrera, 24, of San Antonio on warrants.

The jail log is presented as a public service by area law enforcement and The Bandera Bulletin. It is important to note that because an individual is arrested or indicted for a crime, or is present at a crime scene, or is identified as a suspect in any printed report in no way indicates that person is guilty of a criminal offense. Guilt or innocence must be determined by a court of law.

Chief's Blotter

The Bandera Police Department answered 32 calls for service, and issued 18 citations for the week of March 17 through March 23, 1997. Calls for service included three assist other agencies, three public assist, four suspicious circumstances, one alarm, four thefts, one civil dispute, two criminal mischiefs, six minor in possession of alcohol, two 911 hangups, one disturbance, two accidents, one keep the peace, one suspicious person, one reckless driver and one family dispute.

Over the past few months Bandera Police Department officers have attended several in-service training classes. Sgt. Merritt and Officer Popham attended a 3-day class on the detection of DWI and field sobriety testing. Sgt. Merritt attended a week-long supervisory school.

Tourism Talks

Can you name three directors on the Chamber of Commerce Board or the officers? Just what I figured! Who are these folks who represent you, spend your promotional dollars, determine how and when your community is promoted, and stand in for you and/or your business on a one on one basis with with visitors to the County. These are not vague individuals working secretly behind closed doors, but residents and working folks with both a personal and economic interest in our County. You can rest assured, none of them do it for the money. You know most of these folks...if not you should make an effort to meet them. Before you run out and start knocking on doors let me give you a quick preemptive introduction.

Your president is Russell Hevenor. He owns and operates Hevenor Lumber Company. Vice President is Roz Brown, a retired radio executive from their "big city." She brings a lot of marketing savvy to the Chamber. Brenda Smith, an officer at Norwest Bank is the treasurer. Her familiarity in handling money marks her a natural for the job. She's probably going to have to move to ever get out of this position.

The Board of Directors includes the following:

• Past president Laurie Neff. She owns and operates her own business, Interior Impressions.

• Peggy Ashmore -- everyone knows Peggy. She owns and operates She Bic.

• Johnny Boyle, owner and head honcho of Boyle Enterprises, i.e. True Value, Boyles Market, Wagon Wheel Liquor, plus a few others scattered about town.

• Ray D'Spain of D'Spain Sales and Service, a complete air conditioning, heating and electrical sales and service company.

• Janett Moore, the proprietor of Janett's who keeps all our tourists in attractive outfits.

• Homer Stevens, who with his wife Cathy, owns The Farm Country Club, an RV park combined with a diversified entertainment complex.

• Eva Revels, the dynamic owner of Country Accents, a one of a kind antique shop just north of Pipe Creek on Hwy. 16.

• Linda Marks, part owner and manager of The Cabaret. She meets more tourists in a week than most of us do all year.

And oh, yes, me...co-owner of Ocean-graphics which deals primarily in promotional literature both on a regional and international level, publish and distribute "Discover the Hill Country" magazine, and I write this column almost every week.

Meet some of these folks, pick their brains, ask questions. Don't forget this is your town...your county.

Xeriscape workshop set at local center

The Springhills Water Management District invites Hill Country residents to a Xeriscaping workshop on April 5 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the Silver Sage Corral.

Will LAMCOS continue its battle?

Members meet tonight to help board make decision

...Medina Lake Area Property Owners Association and Lake Medina Conservation Commission to ...Bandera County River Authority and Medina Lake Area Property Owners Association and Lake Medina Conservation Commission to change its permit to allow the water district to sell Medina Lake water to industrial and municipal users, residents around the lake were concerned.

Many of them believed that the change in the permit would effectively pump the lake dry, drastically ... the property values along with the levels of their wells. In an effort to combat the request, lake residents joined together to form LAMCOS (Lake Medina Conservation Society).

Headed by President Ralph Dresser and a board of directors, LAMCOS set out to collect enough money to hire a lawyer and to take on the BMA.

"It was a real David and Goliath battle," Dresser said. "Over the three year period LAMCOS has spent less than $35,000. We've heard that BMA spent up to $600,000."

One of the reasons LAMCOS kept costs down was that members like Dresser and Ronnie Basinger, who also serves on the Austin ...

LAMCOS members will meet tonight, March 26 to share their feelings about proceeding with the battle in light of the signing of a water supply agreement between BMA and Bandera County this week. Following the meeting, the LAMCOS board will shortly decide whether to continue or not.

Whatever the board decides, Dresser will resign as president on April 2, when the TNRCC will finalize the agreements made between BMA and Bandera County.

"This is as close to the best offer we will get," Dresser said, in giving his reason for his proposed retirement.

LAMCOS director James Hannah said he hoped the organization would continue, even though the group's attorney advised that a continuation would cost $100,000.

Hannah has emphasized the importance of using new and accurate data to make decisions regarding use of Medina Lake water.

"The USGS study (of Medina Lake) will be ... this time without waiting for the results of that study."

What LAMCOS accomplished in its battle with BMA

• Lake area people worked with the County toward a common goal.

• Got a 3-year delay in the permit process, allowing for discussion and changes.

• Cut industrial use from the permit change. Including industrial use would have taken up to 66,000 a/f every year from Medina Lake.

• Got BMA to agree to limited use once the lake reaches 1035 feet.

• Bandera County has a contract for 5,000 a/f of water when needed, taken in 500 ft. increments.

• BMA must demonstrate its ability to achieve 10,000 a/f of true conservation of lake water per year.

Water contract offers 5,000 a/f and conservation promises

County Judge Richard Evans said the new water supply contract between BMa and the county gives Bandera County much more than an earlier agreement between BMA and Springhills Water Management District did.

In addition to the 5,000 a/f per year, the county now has unlimited diversion points from which to pump water, credit for any return flow, and an agreement that BMA will conserve 10,000 a/f of water a year.

"We have much more flexibility with this new contract," County Judge Richard Evans said.

Evans credits cooperation of all the parties involved for the resolution of the conflict.

"Both sides had to give," Evans said.

"This would never have happened without the county, Springhills and LAMCOS working together," said County Attorney Kerry Schneider.

Both Evans and Schneider gave credit to BMA and its president, Johnny Ward. "He didn't have to come here and work with us," Schneider said.

Schneider said some people may wonder why Bandera County has agreed to stop the fight against BMA. "They have to realize that the (TNRCC) hearing process is over," Schneider. "Re-doing the process won't change the result."

Schneider said that residents of Bandera County need to realize that the county does not own that lake. "This will give us some water," said Schneider. "We can't expect to tell them (BMA) not to sell water to San Antonio and to sell to us."

office space and has to conduct trials in its very small space that lacks privacy.

County Clerk Bernice Bates told the committee that the county does "not come anywhere near the standards for archives. I have records stored all over town."

Bates also said that crowded conditions prevented necessary privacy for juveniles and offenders brought to trial.

Bates added that the county had four clerks in the 1930 and has only five today. "That's not because I don't need more," said Bates, "but there is no room for them to work in my office."

County Attorney Kerry Schneider agreed with Bates regarding the lack of privacy in the courthouse. "Assume it's your custody case," said Schneider, "and you are in the middle of making the most important decision of your life. There is no private place for you to confer with your attorney."

Concluding the workshop, commissioners decided to hold a couple more workshops and make some decisions on the committee's recommendations as they get into the budget process for next year.

Former committee chairman Jean Cress told the commissioners, "We can't continue studying. It's time to make a decision."

Commissioners act on BMA water offer

...motions following their called session Tuesday, March 18. Those motions gave county representatives and attorneys a package to take to the TNRCC hearing in Austin Wednesday that would finally resolve a 3-year conflict over use of Medina Lake Water.

In the first motion, Bandera County agreed to drop its opposition to the change in BMA's water use permit to allow the water district to sell water to municipal users.

Secondly, commissioners approved a water supply agreement with BMA that would provide up to 5,000 acre feet of water per year to the County as needed.

Most water supply agreements are on a take or pay basis, said County Attorney Kerry Schneider. That means the user pays for the contracted amount whether the user needs the water or not. "But 50 years to start taking our water and we don't pay for it until we take it."

Commissioners also approved a Memorandum of Understanding that outlined common goals of Bandera County, Springhills WMD, LAMCOS and BMA. Effective for five years, the MOU holds the BMA to a true conservation effort that will be enforced by the TNRCC.

Finally, county commissioners passed a motion that asked Springhills Water Management District to cancel their earlier water supply contract with BMA.

"All of these items are tied together," County Judge Richard Evans explained. "One doesn't work without the other."

The TNRCC will conduct a final hearing on the matter on April 2 at 1 p.m. in Austin.

Teachers meeting

Texas Retired Teachers Bandera chapter will meet on Thursday, April 3 at 3 p.m. at the Silver Sage Corral.

The business meeting will include legislative updates on bills related to all retired and active members of the Teacher Retirement System.

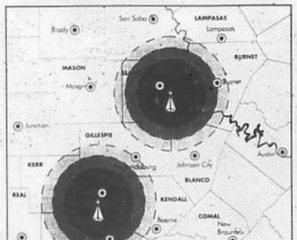
Robert Moller and LaJune Moller recently received a thank you note from Lane McKinney at St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital in Memphis. The Mollers sent a large package full of stuffed animals that Robert won playing various crane games around Bandera or that local supporters donated.

"On behalf of St. Jude's, and especially on behalf of the children and their families, thank you for your kindness and generosity," said McKinney. "Together we can make the dream for a world filled with healthy children a reality."

Robert Moller has sent piles of stuffed animals to children in Oklahoma City and Scotland. "Our next project will be the Ronald McDonald House," said Robert.

LCRA BRINGS YOU NOAA WEATHER RADIO



The Lower Colorado River Authority is proud to join the National Weather Service in bringing local weather radio, 24 hours a day, to the rural Hill Country.

The LCRA has purchased and installed transmitters near Llano and Kerrville. The transmitters will enable the National Weather Service to broadcast weather information unique to the Hill Country.

Now you can take the next step to protect yourself in weather emergencies by purchasing a special "seven frequency" weather radio, available at most electronics stores. Tune it to 162.425 mHz, which serves the Llano area, or 162.450 mHz, which serves the Kerrville area.

With this radio, you can have the first word on any severe weather or flood warning affecting the Hill Country. Bulletins trigger an alarm so that you'll know important information the moment you need to know.

With Hill Country NOAA Weather Radio, you won't have to be in the dark about severe weather, thanks to the National Weather Service and the Lower Colorado River Authority.

County, BMA agree

by Carolyn B. Edwards
Bulletin Editor

A marathon session by Bandera County Commissioners Court held Tuesday, March 18 led to the signing of a water supply agreement and a memorandum of understanding between Bandera County and the Bexar Medina Atacosa Counties Water Control District (BMA) Wednesday in Austin.

As a result, Bandera County now has a 50-year contract with BMA for 5,000 acre feet of water per year should the county need it.

The called Commissioners Court meeting began at 2 p.m. Tuesday and wrapped up around 10:30 p.m. following the receipt late Friday of a contract offer from BMA. The county court met with County Attorney Kerry Schneider, Springhills' attorney and water law expert John Houchins, representatives from Springhills, LAMCOS and others. Also present and participating in the session was BMA president Johnny Ward.

The agreement brings to an end over three years of legal battles that began when BMA, which holds the rights to use the water in Medina Lake for irrigation, asked the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) to change its permit to allow the sale of water to municipal and industrial users.

The agreement cancels an earlier contract that Springhills WMD had with BMA that set aside 3500 a/f of water for Bandera County.

County Judge Richard Evans said the new contract gives Bandera County much more than that earlier agreement did.

Election draws crowd

Hats filled the political ring Wednesday, March 19 as local political hopefuls signed up to run for various offices in Bandera County. Election day will be Saturday, May 3 for all elections.

Five candidates filed to fill three open slots on the Bandera City Council. Former council members William E. "Bill" Bryce, Denise Griffin and Mike Holan opted to try for another round of service on the lively and sometimes contentious city board. Newcomers to the city race include Horst Pallaske and Fabian Mazurek.

Eight interested citizens will be on the Springhills Water Management District board of directors ballot. In Pct. 1, incumbent Randy Roberts will be unopposed. Incumbent Ronnie Basinger, currently serving as president of the water district board, will face James Hemby and Steve

by Carolyn B. Edwards
Bulletin Editor

The Bandera Independent School District board received two reports Tuesday night to help them in their long-range planning for the district. Both reports recognize a serious need for work at the oldest campus in the district, Bandera Middle School.

"The Middle School is in need of attention yesterday," said Al Hamilton, chairman of a 25-member facilities study committee. The committee, appointed by the board five months ago, submitted its final report to the board outlining the district's needs.

James Davis with the architectural firm of Garza/Bomberger and Associates in San Antonio presented a second report to the board that outlined a three-phase plan involving construction at the district's elementary, middle and high school campuses through the year 2016.

Hamilton told the board that the citizens committee's recommendations were aimed at doing the minimum for the next five years in order to give the district time to reduce its debt.

Hamilton said the committee came to three major conclusions: that the high school could be expanded to 1300 students at its current location, that the middle school was in need of attention immediately, and that while Alkek is maxed out, 10 classrooms at Hill Country Elementary indicated a need to re-zone some students.

The community committee also recommended that the board begin to take action on a number of what Hamilton referred to as "housekeeping" matters. That included providing a central administration building, moving the bus barn,

Workshop studies $4.7 mil in capital improvements

Growth has put county officials in a crunch

by Carolyn B. Edwards
Bulletin Editor

A disappointingly small group of citizens attended a Saturday morning workshop in which the Bandera County Capital Improvements Committee fleshed out their final report for county commissioners and other county officials. Smaller meetings may be scheduled around the county at a later date in order to inform as many citizens as possible about the almost $5 million construction and remodeling plan submitted by the committee.

The top priority and most expensive item is a $3.1 million law enforcement center and jail that would provide a 50-bed capacity that would answer the county's needs through the year 2020.

County Judge Richard Evans pointed out that the county is averaging seven prisoners per month that have to be housed in the Kerr County jail. "It's costing us $90,000 per year (to house them in Kerr County)," Evans said. Evans also said that he would prefer that budget considerations would not affect judgment of criminals. He did not want to have to make a judicial decision based on whether or not there was room in the Bandera County jail or if the county could afford to sent another prisoner to Kerrville.

Other projects in the committee's report include a 14,000 sq. ft. courthouse annex in Bandera; remodeling of the current law enforcement center to hold offices, archives and holding facilities for prisoners awaiting trial; and remodeling of the courthouse to correct Americans with Disabilities Act deficiencies, update wiring and repair the roof.

County officials at the workshop repeatedly pointed the crowded conditions under which they work.

"We currently have five to six judges competing for courtroom time for jury trials," said JP Bonnie Towers. The lack of courtroom space often leads to expensive cancellations of jury calls and trial delays.

JP Mike Smith pointed out that he provides his own

by Carolyn B. Edwards
Bulletin Editor

A marathon session by Bandera County Commissioners Court held Tuesday, March 18 led to the signing of a water supply agreement and a memorandum of understanding between Bandera County and the Bexar Medina Atacosa Counties Water Control District (BMA) Wednesday in Austin.

As a result, Bandera County now has a 50-year contract with BMA for 5,000 acre feet of water per year should the county need it.

The called Commissioners Court meeting began at 2 p.m. Tuesday and wrapped up around 10:30 p.m. following the receipt late Friday of a contract offer from BMA. The county court met with County Attorney Kerry Schneider, Springhills' attorney and water law expert John Houchins, representatives from Springhills, LAMCOS and others. Also present and participating in the session was BMA president Johnny Ward.

The agreement brings to an end over three years of legal battles that began when BMA, which holds the rights to use the water in Medina Lake for irrigation, asked the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) to change its permit to allow the sale of water to municipal and industrial users.

The agreement cancels an earlier contract that Springhills WMD had with BMA that set aside 3500 a/f of water for Bandera County.

County Judge Richard Evans said new contract gives Bandera County more than that earlier agreement di

Workshop studies $4.7 mil in capital improvements

Growth has put county officials in a crun

by Carolyn B. Edwards

A disappointingly small group of citizens attended a Saturday morning workshop in which the Bandera County Capital Improvements Committee fleshed out their final report for county commissioners and other county officials. Smaller meetings may be scheduled around the county at a later date in order to inform as many citizens as possible about the almost $5 million construction and remodeling plan submitted by the committee.

The top priority and most expensive item is a $3.1 million law enforcement center and jail that would provide a 60-bed capacity that would answer the county's needs through the year 2020.

County Judge Richard Evans pointed out that the county is averaging seven prisoners per month that have to be housed in the Kerr County jail. "It's costing us $90,000 per year (to house them in Kerr County)," Evans said. Evans also said that he would prefer that budget considerations would not affect judgment of criminals. He did not want to have to make a judicial decision based on whether or not there was room in the Bandera County jail or if the county could afford to sent another prisoner to Kerrville.

Other projects in the committee's report include a ~14,000 sq. ft. courthouse annex in Bandera; remodeling of the current enforcement center to h offices, archives and hol facilities for prisoners aw ing trial; and remodelin the courthouse to com Americans with Disabili Act deficiencies, upd wiring and repair the roof

County officials at workshop repeatedly poin the crowded conditions u which they work.

"We currently have fiv six judges competing courtroom time for jury als," said JP Bonnie Tow The lack of courtroom s often leads to expensive cellations of jury calls trial delays.

JP Mike Smith pointed that he provides his

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Pursuant to section 147(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Alamo Area Housing Finance Corporation (the "Issuer") will hold a Public Hearing on April 7, 1997, at 1:00 o'clock, p.m., San Antonio time, in the official meeting place of the Board of Directors Issuer, located at 118 Broadway, Suite 400, San Antonio, Texas 78205, with respect to the contemplated sale and issuance of not to exceed $15,000,000 in principal amount of its Alamo Area Housing Finance Corporation Single Family Mortgage Revenue Bonds (GNMA and FNMA Mortgage-Backed Securities Program), Series 1997 (the "Bonds"). The Bonds will be issued for the public purpose of assisting persons of low and moderate income in acquiring decent, safe, and sanitary housing within the jurisdiction of the issuer (the "Program") which includes the counties of Atascosa, Bandera, Comal, Frio, Gillespie, Guadalupe, Karnes, Kerr, Medina and Wilson and the cities of New Braunfels and Seguin, Texas (the "Sponsoring Units"). The Bonds will be issued to obtain the funds necessary to finance the acquisition of mortgage-backed securities (the "GNMA Certificates") of the Government National Mortgage Association ("GNMA") or the Federal national Mortgage Association ("FNMA") evidencing a guaranty by GNMA or FNMA of the timely payment of the monthly principal and interest in certain qualified home mortgage loans (the "Mortgage Loans") originated by various qualified lending institutions located or having offices, within the jurisdiction of the Sponsoring Units. These Mortgage Loans will enable qualified persons and families to acquire qualified single family residences. Approval of the Bonds for purposes of the Code does not create, and shall not be construed as creating, any debt, obligation, or liability of the Sponsoring Units, nor approval of the privision for the financing of the Program pursuant to any other applicable provisions of law.
All interested persons are invited to attend the hearing to express their views with respect to the financing of the Program and the issuance of the Bonds. In lieu of attendance at the meeting, written comments may be submitted to the Issuer. Further information with respect to the proposed Bonds will be available at the hearing, or upon written request prior thereto addressed to the Issuer. If requested by a substantial number of the members of the public prior to the scheduled date set forth above for the public hearing, the Issuer will consider changing the site and time of the public hearing or holding a second public hearing. Up, up, and over Medina's Jana Craddock gives it her all in the Ingram Track Meet this past weekend.

Buffs fly over Eagles, get bitten by wolves

Tuesday, March 4, found the Dilley Wolves in Utopia for the first home game of the baseball season. Utopia tried the talents of four pitchers, beginning the game with Ben Taylor for the first three innings. Arthur Queen took the mound for the 4th and 5th. Jesse Paul McBeth took the 6th with Thomas Mauldin finishing the game in the seventh.

Big defensive plays came from Queen at catcher to Billy Stroud on second to tag out a steal. The third inning showed McBeth at short stop to Taylor at catcher to cost Dilley a run. The same expense came from Queen at short to catcher in the sixth.

Home runs were hit by Queen in the sixth for two runs and McBeth for one run also in the sixth. Joey McGilvray was given a nod for a job well done in right field.

The final score showed Dilley 7, Utopia 6.

To begin Spring Break, the Junction Eagles visited the Utopia ball field for a drizzly 3 p.m. start.

Utopia jumped to an early lean and never let up, calling the game in the sixth on the ten-run rule.

Big hitters were Queen with a single, double and a triple. McBeth got a home run in the fourth and a double that brought in the winning runs.

Final score found Utopia with 15 and Junction with four.

Those participating for Medina were Lucas Hubble, Levi Hubble, Sherri Lautzenheiser, Matt Bogier, Jana Craddock, Kelly Phillips, Zach Jospeh, Lucynda Reavis, Tommy Haines, Charyli Hyatt and Cully Doyle, who brought home a gold medal in the 3200m run and a silver in the 1600m run.

Medina will participate in the Bobcat Relays in Medina on Friday, March 21.

Golf tourney to benefit Santa Rosa

Golfers participating in the 1997 KRYX and Allen & Allen Kinderclassic golf tournament in Castroville on March 21 will have a lot to shoot for.

In the first place, each participant will have a shot at a 1997 vehicle, compliments of Winkler Motors of Hondo; for the first hole-in-one to be scored on one of the par 3 holes to be named.

On that day there will be two shotgun start Florida scrambles starting at 7:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. The afternoon tournament has already been filled, however, there are plenty of morning spots still available and those early-birds will be treated to coffee and pastries, compliments of Castroville's celebrated Haby's Bakery.

To make reservations for the morning tournament, golfers may call the Alsatian pro shop at 931-3100, or The Children's Hospital at 704-2633.

Williamson, Hicks win Masonic computers

For the tenth year, Bandera County Masonic Lodge No. 1123 has sponsored an essay contest for fifth and eighth grade students in the Bandera ISD. The Masons announce the winners of the contest in conjunction with [illegible] Texas, which was originated by the Masons.

This year's winners were Walker Williamson, a student at Bandera Middle School, and Tara Hicks, an Alkek Elementary fifth grader. Both won computers for having the top judged essay on the topic "The Bill of Rights: What is it and what is its purpose?"

Finalists from BMS included T.J. Jennings, Latisha Wise, Joshua Kemp, Myah Ely, Ashley Stricker, Joshua Terry, Aimee Kuemmerle, Robby Sheeds and Thomas Basinger.

Finalists from Hill Country Elementary included Waylon Strosser, Jessica Ely, Taylor Koerth, Kim Olsen, Maggie Mahar, Brenda Rodriguez, Stephanie Calderon, Rebecca Susan Stapleton, Autumn Gorden, Marcus Maldonado, Jon Sweeten, Julie Torres, David Kemp and Michael Haynes.

Phone co-op offers scholarships

Cooperative, Inc. plans to award [illegible] $1,000 each to graduating high school seniors whose parents/legal guardians are Cooperative members.

The scholarships are open to students who plan to attend an accredited institution of higher learning, and are qualified for admission. According to Cooperative General Manager Van Cook, above average grades are not required to compete for this scholarship because other factors will be considered (i.e., leadership qualities, participation in extracurricular and community activities, and teacher recommendations.)

Grades, however, will be considered in the awarding of the scholarships. Interested students should contact their high school guidance counselor for application. All applications must be received no later than April 18, 1997.

Setting it straight...

American Legion Post #157 will be awarding a $1,000 savings bond to an outstanding eighth grader, not a $100 bond as reported last week. For information, contact Sue Wilson at 460-8472 or 460-3585.

Over the Back Fence

Marion Heisler
612-2509

Hi y'all! Happy St. Patties Day! We have hidden our Irish under this German surname quite well unless you ask Kay and she will say our Irish temperament has never been hidden.

We had a report from A.K. Heisler that his mesquites are all leafing out with some trees having half inch long leaves.

Our Spanish oaks and teardrops are leafing out great guns and red buds are showing their stuff. We are waiting for the wild cherries to put on their show. Isn't spring a joy to the senses!

• The preparations for the spring barbecue for the MLVFD are getting along very well. When Dolly Dresser gets back from playing Grandma, we will do our inventory and get the required materials for our event. We plan to order 1400 lbs of brisket for our one day event.

We need everyone to remember that we are down to a one day barbecue on Saturday April 26 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. So we hope to see our Saturday and Sunday crowd on Saturday.

• We accompanied the Bandera Co. RC& D's president Joe Cantu to Commissioners Court last week and they agreed to work with us, the Bandera Co. Fire Chiefs and Presidents Assoc. and the MLVFD on our Dry Hydrant Tank Program. This sponsorship by the County will make us eligible for moneys to acquire and set up to 100 of these tanks in our county-wide area. This project should ultimately lower our fire insurance rates as well as enhance our fire fighting abilities. We are still seeking locations county-wide to set these tanks, so give us a yell if you are interested.

• Another happening at last week's Commissioners Court was the closure of the road rights-of-way around the EMS Heliport on 5th St. This allows the EMS support team to go ahead with fencing in the helipad for safe landing of Air Life. We have used the pad once already and had problems with flying barricades which are used to secure the pad now. We hope the county can remove these identified flying objects post haste.

• We are happy to report former EMT Fern-Mac Donald has returned home from a stay in the hospital. All we ask is that you don't scare us like that again, Fern!

• We look forward to hearing from all our readers, so please call with your news items such as births, anniversaries, honors. Till next week we will be looking for you over the back fence.

What's Rustlin'

by Bungy

Remember The Bandera County Youth Center Benefit at the Cabaret this Saturday. Bandera's own Robert Earl Keen is giving the show, and he says to make sure y'all know he'll be on stage the whole time! You'd better get your tickets now, before Austin gobbles them up!

• Well, the Chamber of Commerce kicked off another event for the Cowboy Capital! Christmas in July. This has been a one day fund-raiser for all those new Christmas decorations we've been sporting every year for the past few years, but now, they are creating a whole month of July, just chock-a-block full of fun things to do!

There will be a pet parade around the Courthouse, a country western music festival, a return of the "Cowboy Breakfast," a carnival, Christmas ornament making party and golf tournaments. The main fund raiser will be a box lunch social and dance at the Bella Union. Then there will be a trade fair, "Rough Riders" premier and more!

Nbw, is that a production or what? If you have a special event you're putting on, you'd better get it to the Chamber. "Cowboy Christmas in July" will need a lot of volunteers, so come on out and have fun!!

• Check out another neat business just opened in Bandera called Fool Moon right next to Castle Realty on Hwy. 16. Hand-crafted furniture using old doors and windows as center pieces of the furniture are featured. It's really dandy stuff! Drop in and say, "Howdy!"

• Ernest Dietzman and Carl Hildebrand pooled their resources to enter the International Pigeon Race recently in South Africa, of all places, and by golly, they came in 6th and won $20,000! Seeing as how some of those racing birds go for tens of thousands of dollars by themselves, they were happy to recoup part of their expenses! Bandera has quite a number of pigeon racers. Wonder if we could dress them in chaps to represent the Cowboy Capital?

• The good folks at Grace Lutheran Church are once again coordinating a rootin' tootin' benefit for Michelle Dexter planned for April 7 at The Cabaret. Dexter was severely burned right around Christmas time and she is recovering beautifully. But those outpatient expenses continue to grow, so the community is asked to do what it does so well — help out a deserving person! Auction items, cakes for the cake walk and finger foods will all be needed. Linda Allen and the Roadrunners will offer their wonderful services. We can always count on them! So circle the date on your calendar, pick up something for the auction, stir up grandma's chocolate cake recipe and make plans to attend and help out this sweet kid!

Wheeler wins

As a reward for 12 months of special care, effort and labor, Logan Wheeler of Bandera was presented Best Beef Scramble Scrapbook Presentation donated by Pamela and Ral Inkeall at the 1997 Houston Livestock [illegible] Feb. 23 at the Sheraton Astrodome. Wheeler, 16, is an FFA student at Bandera High School. As a winner in last year's calf scramble Wheeler received a 37,000 calf purchase certificate with which he bought a registered beef heifer. The winning scrapbook records the animal's monthly progress.

For the fourth year, Bandera County Masonic Lodge No. 1123 has sponsored an essay contest for fifth and eighth grade students in the Bandera ISD. The Masons announce the winners of the contest in conjunction with [illegible] Week, which was originated by the Masons.

This year's winners were Walker Williamson, a student at Bandera Middle School, and Tara Hicks, an Alkek Elementary fifth grader. Both won computers for having the top judged essay on the topic "The Bill of Rights: What is it and what is its purpose?"

Phone co-op offers scholarships

[illegible] Cooperative, Inc. plans to award [illegible] $1,000 each to graduating high school seniors whose parents/legal guardians are Cooperative members. The Co-op is an accredited institution of higher learning, and are qualified for admission. According to Cooperative General Manager Van Cook, above average grades are not required to compete for this scholarship because other factors will be considered (i.e., leadership qualities, participation in extracurricular and community activities, and teacher recommendations.)

Grades, however, will be considered in the awarding of the scholarships. Interested students should contact their high school guidance counselor for applications. All applications must be received no later than April 18, 1997.

Setting it straight...

American Legion Post #157 will be awarding a $1,000 savings bond to an outstanding eighth grader, not a $100 bond as reported last week. For information, contact Sue Wilson at 460-8472 or 460-3585.

Over the Back Fence

Marion Heisler
612-2509

Hi y'all! Happy St. Patties Day! We have hidden our Irish under this German surname quite well unless you ask Kay and she will say our Irish temperament has never been hidden.

We had a report from A.K. Heisler that his mesquites are all leafing out with some trees having half inch long leaves.

Our Spanish oaks and teardrops are leafing out great guns and red buds are showing their stuff. We are waiting for the wild cherries to put on their show. Isn't spring a joy to the senses!

• The preparations for the spring barbecue for the MLVFD are getting along very well. When Dolly Dresser gets back from playing Grandma, we will do our inventory and get the required materials for our event. We plan to order 1400 lbs of brisket for our one day event.

We need everyone to remember that we are down to a one day barbecue on Saturday April 26 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. So we hope to see our Saturday and Sunday crowd on Saturday.

• We accompanied the Bandera Co. RC& D's president Joe Cantu to Commissioners Court last week and they agreed to work with us, the Bandera Co. Fire Chiefs and Presidents Assoc. and the MLVFD on our Dry Hydrant Tank Program. This sponsorship by the County will make us eligible for moneys to acquire and set up to 100 of these tanks in our county-wide area. This project should ultimately lower our fire insurance rates as well as enhance our fire fighting abilities. We are still seeking locations county-wide to set these tanks, so give us a yell if you are interested.

• Another happening at last week's Commissioners Court was the closure of the road rights-of-way around the EMS Heliport on 5th St. This allows the EMS support team to go ahead with fencing in the helipad for safe landing of Air Life. We have used the pad once already and had problems with flying barricades which are used to secure the pad now. We hope the county can remove these identified flying objects post haste.

• We are happy to report former EMT Fern Mac Donald has returned home from a stay in the hospital. All we ask is that you don't scare us like that again, Fern!

• We look forward to hearing from all our readers, so please call with your news items such as births, anniversaries, honors. Till next week we will be looking for you over the back fence.

What's Rustlin'

by Bungy

Remember The Bandera County Youth Center Benefit at the Cabaret this Saturday. Bandera's own Robert Earl Keen is giving the show, and he says to make sure y'all know he'll be on stage the whole time! You'd better get your tickets now, before Austin gobbles them up!

• Well, the Chamber of Commerce kicked off another event for the Cowboy Capital! Christmas in July. This has been a one day fund-raiser for all those new Christmas decorations we've been sporting every year for the past few years, but now, they are creating a whole month of July, just chock-a-block full of fun things to do!

There will be a pet parade around the Courthouse, a country western music festival, a return of the "Cowboy Breakfast," a carnival, Christmas ornament making party and golf tournaments. The main fund raiser will be a box lunch social and dance at the Bella Union. Then there will be a trade fair, "Rough Riders" premier and more!

Now, is that a production or what? If you have a special event you're putting on, you'd better get it to the Chamber. "Cowboy Christmas in July" will need a lot of volunteers, so come on out and have fun!!

• Check out another neat business just opened in Bandera called Fool Moon right next to Castle Realty on Hwy. 16. Hand-crafted furniture using old doors and windows as center pieces of the furniture are featured. It's really dandy stuff! Drop in and say, "Howdy!"

• Ernest Dietzman and Carl Hildebrand pooled their resources to enter the International Pigeon Race recently in South Africa, of all places, and by golly, they came in 6th and won $20,000! Seeing as how some of those racing birds go for tens of thousands of dollars by themselves, they were happy to recoup part of their expenses! Bandera has quite a number of pigeon racers. Wonder if we could dress them in chaps to represent the Cowboy Capital?

• The good folks at Grace Lutheran Church are once again coordinating a rootin' tootin' benefit for Michelle Dexter planned for April 7 at The Cabaret. Dexter was severely burned right around Christmas time and she is recovering beautifully. But those outpatient expenses continue to grow, so the community is asked to do what it does so well — help out a deserving person! Auction items, cakes for the cake walk and finger foods will all be needed. Linda Allen and the Roadrunners will offer their wonderful services. We can always count on them! So circle the Gate on your calendar, pick up something for the auction, stir up grandma's chocolate cake recipe and make plans to attend and help out this sweet kid!

A Thought For The Week

by John M. Grimes

"If love is blind, how is it, pray . . . that love will always find a way!" . . . Author unknown.

After Edwin Markham, noted poet an author of "The Man With the Hoe," had lost his fortune by bad investments, there stirred within his soul a spirit of resentment. But realizing that the man who hates hurts himself more that he does the other fellow, he became certain that there was no safety except in love . . . "Love will outwatch the stars," he said,"and so on that particular day his resentment subsided and the philosophy of his life returned. And in a flash, on a sheet of paper, he inscribed two circles. One was a diagram of all that wisdom which years had brought; the other, a brief, inspiring allegory, subtle but clear, a terse summation of religious and human faith, all embracing love. These four lines have come to be one of the best-known quatrains in the world.

"He drew a circle that shut me out-
Heretic, rebel, a thing to flout;
But love and I had the wit to win:
We drew a circle that took him in."

SILVER SAGE CORRAL

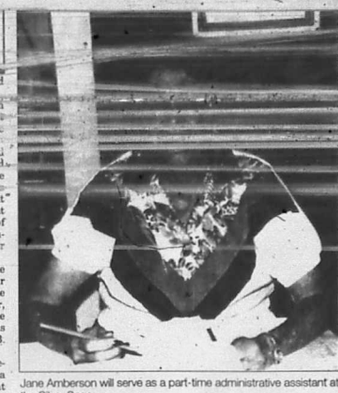
Betty Lebo

In 1973, the Texas Legislature enacted the creation of the first [illegible] program in the nation, Senior Texans Employment Program, administered by the Farmers Union Community Development Association, Inc. began operating in 1974.

In 1977, S.T.E.P. enrollment opportunities were expanded with funds granted by the Older Americans Act through the U.S. Department of Labor. Utilizing both state and federal funds contracted through the Texas Workforce Commission, S.T.E.P. provides enrollment opportunities to 802 older Texans in 131 counties.



The Silver Sage is pleased to announce that, thanks to the above program, we were able to hire a new part-time administrative assistant, Jane Amberson.

Jane moved to Bandera in April 1970. Her two youngest daughters, Nancy and Laura, began elementary school here. Nancy in 1970 and Laura in 1972. In 1973, Jane served as president of Child Guidance in the elementary school. She is now, grandmother to nine [illegible] is five children, and [illegible] about her years in Bandera. Jane has worked at Purple Hills Nursing Home [illegible] at the [illegible] service. At that time, she attended San Antonio College for a food supervision course for which she received a certificate. She was bookkeeper and food checker at the Country Shopper and was at the Flying L for a number of years where she acted as manager and was responsible for booking conventions.

In 1980 through 1995, Jane worked at the Wrangler Steakhouse & Lounge, where she was a cook and then later, the manager. She came to the Silver Sage in February of this year, where Jane says " a J.O.B. turned into a J.O.Y."

And a joy it is to have someone with Jane's background as a member of our family here at the Center. She's a natural! Come by and say "Hi" and welcome her.

Please bring a covered dish and join us on March 25 at 11:45 for our Birthday Luncheon.

Jane Amberson will serve as a part-time administrative assistant at the Silver Sage.

Medina Lake AARP to hold meeting with Secure Horizons

The Medina Lake AARP Chapter invites all seniors concerned with health care benefits to attend the March 24 meeting.

Deborah Brigham of Secure Horizons will be the principal speaker. She will update members and guests on Medicare changes and also present benefits for the Secure Horizons program.

"Local seniors will be interested to learn that Bandera County residents are now eligible for membership in Secure Horizons," a spokesperson said.

There will be a covered dish luncheon at noon. Bring a favorite dish and a friend.

Kerrville VA will serve TRI-CARE/CHAMPUS

A contract between the Kerrville Division of the South Texas Veterans Health Care System and Foundation Health Corporation Affiliates will allow the VA medical center to serve as a health care provider to TRICARE/CHAMPUS military retirees and family members in the Kerrville service area. TRICARE EXTRA will be offered.

Comprehensive services including primary care, outpatient surgery, women's health and most diagnostics will be provided effective February 18, 1997.

In those instances where diagnostics cannot be provided at Kerrville, the patient may be transported to the Audie L. Murphy Memorial Veterans Hospital in San Antonio or be referred to the private medical community in Kerrville.

"This opens a new chapter in resource sharing," said Dan Bacon, M.D., chief medical officer. "Revenue generated from this contract will be utilized to increase services (orthopedics, neurology, etc...) to veterans."

Established primary care teams will accommodate the additional workload that "TRICARE EXTRA will generate without compromising veteran patient care, he said. These improvements of services will not result in the denial of, or delay in, providing access to care to eligible veterans.

TRICARE EXTRA is designed to expand access to care, maintain quality of care, control medical costs for patients and taxpayers alike, and improve medical readiness. Military retirees under the age of 65 and their beneficiaries over the age of 18 and under 65 may enroll.

"The benefits for both TRICARE EXTRA beneficiaries and veterans are numerous," said Ruben Balle, administrative officer. "Military retiree's and their beneficiaries will not have to travel long distances for care and our veterans will continue to receive quality care."

For more information, contact Medical Administration Service at (210) 792-2424/2515.

A Thought For The Week
by John M. Grimes

"If love is blind, how is it, pray . . . that love will always find a way?" . . . Author unknown.

After Edwin Markham, noted poet an author of "The Man With the Hoe," had lost his fortune by bad investments, there stirred within his soul a spirit of resentment. But realizing that the man who hates hurts himself more that he does the other fellow, he became certain that there was no safety except in love . . . "Love will outwatch the stars," he said, and so on that particular day his resentment subsided and the philosophy of his life returned. And in a flash, on a sheet of paper, he inscribed two circles. One was a diagram of all that wisdom which years had brought; the other, a brief, inspiring allegory, subtle but clear, a terse summation of religious and human faith, all embracing love. These four lines have come to be one of the best-known quatrains in the world.

"He drew a circle that shut me out-
Heretic, rebel, a thing to flout;
But love and I had the wit to win:
We drew a circle that took him in."

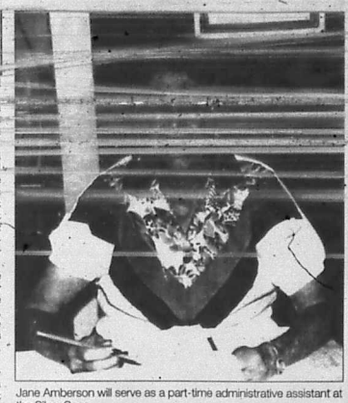
SILVER SAGE CORRAL 796-4969

Betty Lebo

In 1973, the Texas Legislature enacted the creation of the first [illegible] program in the nation, the Senior Texans Employment Program, administered by the Farmers Union Community Development Association, Inc. began operating in 1974.

In 1977, S.T.E.P. enrollment opportunities were expanded with funds granted by the Older Americans Act through the U.S. Department of Labor. Utilizing both state and federal funds contracted through the Texas Workforce Commission, S.T.E.P. provides enrollment opportunities to 802 older Texans in 131 counties.

The Silver Sage is pleased to announce that, thanks to the above program, we were able to hire a new part-time administrative assistant, Jane Amberson.



Jane moved to Bandera in April 1970. Her two youngest daughters, Nancy and Laura, began elementary school here. Nancy in 1970 and Laura in 1972. In 1973, Jane served as president of Child Guidance in the elementary school. She is now, grandmother to nine.

[illegible] about her years in [illegible] Jane has worked at Purple Hills Nursing Home [illegible] vice. At that time, she attended San Antonio College for a food supervision course for which she received a certificate. She was bookkeeper and food checker at the Country Shopper and was at the Flying L for a number of years where she acted as manager and was responsible for booking conventions.

In 1980 through 1995, Jane worked at the Wrangler Steakhouse & Lounge, where she was a cook and then later, the manager. She came to the Silver Sage in February of this year, where Jane says " a J.O.B. turned into a J.O.Y."

And a joy it is to have someone with Jane's background as a member of our family here at the Center. She's a natural. Come by and say "Hi" and welcome her.

Please bring a covered dish and join us on March 25 at 11:45 for our Birthday Luncheon.

Jane Amberson will serve as a part-time administrative assistant at the Silver Sage.

Medina Lake AARP to hold meeting with Secure Horizons

The Medina Lake AARP Chapter invites all seniors concerned with health care benefits to attend the March 24 meeting.

Deborah Brigham of Secure Horizons will be the principal speaker. She will update members and guests on Medicare changes and also present benefits for the Secure Horizons program.

"Local seniors will be interested to learn that Bandera County residents are now eligible for membership in Secure Horizons," a spokesperson said.

There will be a covered dish luncheon at noon. Bring a favorite dish and a friend.

Kerrville VA will serve TRI-CARE/CHAMPUS

A contract between the Kerrville Division of the South Texas Veterans Health Care System and Foundation Health Corporation Affiliates will allow the VA medical center to serve as a health care provider to TRI-CARE/CHAMPUS military retirees and family members in the Kerrville service area. TRI-CARE EXTRA will be offered.

Comprehensive services including primary care, outpatient surgery, women's health and most diagnostics will be provided effective February 18, 1997.

In those instances where diagnostics cannot be provided at Kerrville, the patient may be transported to the Audie L. Murphy Memorial Veterans Hospital in San Antonio or be referred to the private medical community in Kerrville.

"This opens a new chapter in resource sharing," said Dan Bacon, M.D., chief medical officer. "Revenue generated from this contract will be utilized to increase services (orthopedics, neurology, etc...) to veterans."

Established primary care teams will accommodate the additional workload that TRI-CARE EXTRA will generate without compromising veteran patient care, he said. These improvements of services will not result in the denial of, or delay in, providing access to care to eligible veterans.

TRICARE EXTRA is designed to expand access to care, maintain quality of care, control medical costs for patients and taxpayers alike; and improve medical readiness. Military retirees under the age of 65 and their beneficiaries over the age of 18 and under 65 may enroll.

"The benefits for both TRI-CARE EXTRA beneficiaries and veterans are numerous," said Ruben Balle, administrative officer. "Military retiree's and their beneficiaries will not have to travel long distances for care and our veterans will continue to receive quality care."

Big business behind tort reform, he warns

Dear Editor:

I see where supporters of tort reform are once again sinking millions of dollars into misleading advertisements touting their theme. Informed citizens should know from whence come all these millions for TV pitches, newspaper, magazine and billboard blurbs. According to Public Citizen, the newsletter founded by Ralph Nader in 1971, these millions upon millions of US greenbacks flow directly from the national political action coffers of major tobacco, insurance, auto, and chemical companies.

That should not be too surprising since these are the very individuals who most stand to gain by not being held financially responsible for the damage which their products cause innocent members of our society. If anyone had doubts, let him or her consider how long General Motors resisted recall of their dangerously designed pick-up trucks—the ones whose gasoline tanks were located on the outside of the vehicle's frame. Or, to name another of many such cases, consider silicone breast implants.

In neither of these examples would the perpetrators of painful design ever have admitted their culpability had not the specter of expensive lawsuits been the only alternative.

Or consider the current quandary of tobacco companies, who have been targeting teenagers with their "non-addictive" product for decades. They hooked me in 1954, and in spite of my better judgment, I was not able to quit until this year. And just between you and me—I'd still like another fix now and then.

Don't do math while you drive

Dear Editor,

OK, it is hard to count blessings at 34.22 yards per second.

Events leading to accidents are more likely to happen when autos are less than 68 yards apart and we have less than a second to react.

My apologies to our learned friend in Austin for my doing math in my head. When I divided 5,280 by 60 and converted 60 mph to 70 mph, it was over 100. I neglected to go on to yards.

I was struck by the vision of two cars hurtling at each other. I have felt the helplessness of skidding and of spinning before ABS brakes. I've only caused property damage and qualify for all the insurance discounts.

I hope your reactions at the wheel are as fast as at a calculator. I have also learned.

Computers not ready for Year 2000

Dear Editor:

A potentially catastrophic event is facing everyone—here, the country and the world— at the turn of the century. The Year 2000 syndrome! This is a definite computer problem which has been given little media attention. What happens when we roll over to the Year 2000? Since most of our computers can not recognize the year 2000, they will revert to 1900!

Why a problem? Years ago, when computer memory was in short supply, programmers set a standard for dates to show two digits each for day, month and year, example 03/12/97. This is inherent in most all software.

What happens when we roll over the date on Jan. 1, 2000? The computer can not recognize the year 2000 and reverts to 00 or 1900! All of a sudden, the government computers stop writing checks for welfare, payroll, social security; pension funds stop, banks stop, military operations stop—just about everything that is computer dependent and that is almost everything in this world— even in little Bandera!

Software has an inherent clock, of necessity, to make it function for all time-related activities. This is the problem.

Millions of lines of computer code will have to be redesigned to correct, this takes time in terms of years, and check out in terms of one or more years. Of course the magnitude of the problem varies with the size of the software.

My brand new IBM Aptiva computer will go ape on the year 2000 as well. Bandera, I suspect, uses computer software rented or purchased from a large company.

Question to ask-- Are we Year 2000 Compliant? What happens to City/County/School payrolls, financial and tax records, legal records, appraisal records and even maybe the "911" system?

This is a wake up for you to make sure this problem does or does not exist with your computer software. Get a firm response to questions from your computer expert on any of the above to make sure there is no problem--"Am I Year 2000 Compliant?"

March Moments

by Cyndi Wright, staff writer

One of these days I'd like to get on top of the Cabaret, or one of the other businesses lining Main Street, on a Friday around 3 to 5 p.m. and take a picture.

Last Friday, as I drove down the street, I was amazed at the traffic. It was bumper to bumper from one end of Main to the other. On both sides.

Like many of you, I am a recent arrival to Bandera, having only been here working at The Bulletin for over two years. I don't live in the county, but just in the time I've worked here, the traffic has gotten to be amazing.

On the one hand, I guess that is good news to the folks who depend on money coming in from the outside, and from recent transplants.

On the other hand, my heart aches for a sleepy, little western town that suddenly has to deal with bumper-to-bumper traffic, stuffed classrooms, lines at the bank, and strangers at the table next to you at the O.S.T.

Well, what can you say? As people move out here to escape the horrors of city life, the country and the city will get to the bustin' point.

And can you blame these people? After all, even though most of the oldtimers may have been a little more farsighted, it is the reason they moved here, too.

Hopefully, the folks moving out here will cherish the simple way of life, and not try too hard to replace all the sophisticated machinations of the society they left behind.

Don't miss the opportunity to come out, visit, party, dance and see the famous Robert Earl Keen this weekend at The Cabaret. It is going to be a great show and the proceeds will benefit the Youth Center.

Carolyn's Corner

by Carolyn B. Edwards, Editor

Hasn't the rain been nice? I think we've finally gotten enough to start recharging the aquifer and bring up those well levels again. The Trinity Aquifer, from which we get our water, runs all the way up to Oklahoma, but recharges much more slowly than the Edwards which lies to the south of us. With good rains falling all the way up to north Texas, the Trinity should start rising soon.

This nice rainy weather we've been having has brought us a little problem that we haven't had to deal with very much during the drought. Potholes.

We may need to have a contest for the biggest pothole in Bandera County. I've got a nominee out on Bear Creek Road.

A little Nissan traveling in front of me the other morning completely disappeared for almost a minute as it hit that hole in the pavement.

This mother of all potholes is one of those really sneaky ones, because when it is raining the water pools up on that side of the road. If you don't know it is there you can sure wake yourself up when the front wheel crashes into the lurking grand canyon beneath the water's surface.

In fact, that's the way I first discovered it. Because we are always looking for cheap ways to have fun, when we come around the corner and that little pool of water is sitting there, we can never resist stepping on the accelerator and flying through, sending wet spray up over the top of the pickup, and washing our windshield at the same time.

Guess I won't be doing that again for awhile. At least until my scrambled brains have a chance to settle back in.

I know Bear Creek Road isn't the only one in the county developing pothole problems. I cornered my county commissioner Jim Mormando just before Commissioner's Court met last week and reported the pothole to him. "What do you want us to do?" he asked, "Fill it or stock it?"

Now I hadn't thought about that second option, but this pothole has enough room in it for a trophy bass, I'm sure.

So, if the rains continue, we might just contact the soil conservation guys and find out when they have their next stock pond fingerling delivery scheduled.

Put in a few bass and catfish and I can just stop off at the pothole that ate Pipe Creek and pick up supper on my way home each night.

Senate bill puts teeth in zero tolerance

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin — The Texas Senate passed a bill that puts teeth in a 1995 "zero tolerance" law designed to rid public school campuses of drugs, alcohol and violent and disruptive students, while guaranteeing due process.

The legislation is one of three "safe schools" bills by Senate Education Committee Chairman Teel Bivens, R-Amarillo, passed by the Senate last week. The bills move on to the House for consideration.

Under Bivens' zero tolerance legislation, school officials would have the authority to expel students for misdemeanor alcohol and drug offenses committed on campus or at school events. Current law requires schools to expel for felony offenses.

Reacting to concerns that in districts that have no alternative education programs, zero tolerance would turn students out into the streets, Bivens says, "...It is worse to tell a school district you've got to keep the kid in school even though he may bring cocaine to school."

Only 22 of Texas' 254 counties would be required to offer expelled students an alternative education program operated by the school district or a county-run juvenile justice facility. Those 22 counties have a population of 125,000 or more.

Panel OKs $83.3 Billion Budget

The House Appropriations Committee has approved, 25-9, an $83.3 billion budget for the next two-year budget cycle that begins Sept. 1.

The budget does not include funds for Gov. George W. Bush's proposed spending for elementary school reading programs, a pay raise for state employees, money to keep more prisoners in jail longer and funds for a state water conservation program.

"I hope that when (this process is done) we will have been able to address those issues," said Rep. Rob Junell, D-San Angelo, chairman of the committee.

But a one-time, $100-a-month pay raise for state agency workers is included in a budget package by state Sen. Bill Ratliff, R-Mount Pleasant, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. Higher education employees would not receive the pay raise.

"I think the $100 per month for each employee is a kind of floor," Ratliff said. "We ought to start there. I hope we can do a little more than that."

State employee groups say they will continue to push for a $200-a-month raise in 1998 and another $200 raise in 1999.

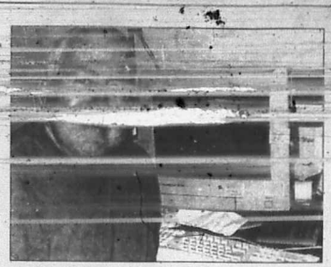
Water Legislation Urged

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock last week underscored the need to pass water management legislation, saying, "To me, there's no bill more important to our state."

Bullock, who presides over the Senate, testified at a Senate Natural Resources Committee hearing for a water conservation bill filed by Sen. J.E. "Buster" Brown, R-Lake Jackson.

Bullock said Texas has had five major droughts in the last 60 years, and five failed water management bills. And he warned of future water shortages that could hit every county in the state.

Brown's bill would create a statewide drought management plan combining existing city and county plans and includes provisions for the sale or lease of a property owner's water rights.



Brown said 95 Texas counties sought federal disaster assistance for last summer's drought, and the drought cost Texas farmers $2.1 billion and the entire state $5 billion.

Tax Panel Targets

The House Committee on Revenue and Public School Funding continues its mission of drafting legislation that would expand the reach of state sales taxes in order to cut school property taxes.

On the table are new taxes on trips to the barber shop and beauty shop, gasoline, aviation fuel, legal fees and many other goods and services. Sacred cows expected to remain untaxable are food, medicine.

Internet boosts local video business...

Charles Lasater credits the Internet with boosting video sales.

by Cyndi Wright
Staff Writer

Charles Lasater, owner of Equivid in Pipe Creek, gives most of the credit for the successful business to his ex-wife, Sally. Equivid is where horsey people can rent or buy thousands of videos all about some phase of riding, training and breeding for horses and riders.

In fact, their slogan is "Quite simply the world's largest supplier of equestrian videos."

The Lasater's started off in the television production business in 1974, producing a nationally syndicated program series called "The American Horse and Horseman with Dale Robertson."

They took the taped series and broke it up into 30-minute segments which horse lovers, riders and trainers could watch.

"We started it when home video was in its infancy," Lasater explained. "We also distributed videos for other people."

After the Lasaters divorced, Sally took the business they had created together in Houston, while he went to Europe to produce films.

"She made it extremely successful," Lasater said. "She grew it to what it became."

Later, Sally Lasater sold the wholesale end of the mail-order video business. She turned the retail end of the business over to son Richard, who lives in Pipe Creek.

He was too busy with other ventures to really develop Equivid, according to his father, and the video business lay dormant for a couple of years.

When Lasater retired in January 1995, he says his son talked him into moving to Pipe Creek and taking over the business.

"He wanted to see if we could bring it back to its former glory," Lasater said. "I thought I could just piddle around with it and do some fishing."

But it wasn't to be, as the business under Lasater's guidance became a full-time job that went from two to four employees in a year.

"I've wound up working harder than I've worked in 15 years," he said, "because it is so fascinating."

And the reason it fascinates Lasater is because in the process of building up the business, he became hooked on the Internet.

"This business is almost entirely on the Internet now," he claimed.

Surfers can find Equivid in Horsenet, a web site originally designed by Sally as a vehicle to help Equivid.

Horse enthusiasts can access Horsenet and Equivid to browse the library, and order to rent or buy the tapes listed.

"It's an international market place sitting right here in this room," Lasater says, looking around the room located in an older building in the middle of Pipe Creek. "We are getting more requests for catalogs from the Internet than we did in five magazine ads."

And the cost was a major selling point. "This (the Internet) costs maybe $50 a month," Lasater said. "I was spending anywhere from $1500 to $2500 a month for magazine ads."

According to him, the local business has also picked up.

"Bandera County is growing and we feel there are more horsey people now," he said. "We've noticed more people stopping in here and asking."

Locals who want to browse the library physically, instead of on the Internet, can find videos on almost any subject.

"Dressage is still the best seller here and internationally," Lasater said, "and the other English riding disciplines."

He says that western riders tend to be self-taught or apprenticed by their fathers, but there are still videos that will grab their interest.

"We have a large section of the catalog devoted to the western stars, including John Lyons, the guru of western riding," Lasater explained. "If a western enthusiast did nothing but rent those 13 tapes of John Lyons, he would know all he needs to know for western training and riding."

Tapes also show bareback, cutting, calf-roping, reining and more traits of western riding.

Lasater also has advice for newcomers to the horse business.

"Before you buy the horse, come by," he invites.

That's because he can load a prospective horse owner up with tapes that will instruct in everything from buying your first horse, caring for your first horse, and safety for children to building a barn and foals and foaling.

One tape is called "What to do until the vet arrives." Another addresses a healthy environment for horses. There are also entertainment tapes for children that serve a dual purpose of teaching safety.

"It takes manpower to run a rental operation," Lasater said. "With four employees, we feel we can handle the local rentals.

Big business behind tort reform, he warns

Dear Editor:

I see where supporters of tort reform are once again sinking millions of dollars into misleading advertisements touting their theme. Informed citizens should know from whence come all these millions for TV pitches, newspaper, magazine and billboard blurbs. According to Public Citizen, the newsletter founded by Ralph Nader in 1971, these millions upon millions of US greenbacks flow directly from the national political action coffers of major tobacco, insurance, auto, and chemical companies.

That should not be too surprising since these are the very individuals who most stand to gain by not being held financially responsible for the damage which their products cause innocent members of our society. If anyone had doubts, let him or her consider how long General Motors resisted recall of their dangerously designed pick-up trucks—the ones whose gasoline tanks were located on the outside of the vehicle's frame. Or, to name another of many such cases, consider silicone breast implants.

In neither of these examples would the perpetrators of painful design ever have admitted their culpability had not the specter of expensive lawsuits been the only alternative.

Or consider the current quandary of tobacco companies, who have been targeting teenagers with their "non-addictive" product for decades. They hooked me in 1954, and in spite of my better judgment, I was not able to quit until this year. And just between you and me—I'd still like another fix now and then.

Don't do math while you drive

Dear Editor,

OK, it is hard to count blessings at 34.22 yards per second.

Events leading to accidents are more likely to happen when autos are less than 68 yards apart and we have less than a second to react.

My apologies to our learned friend in Austin for my doing math in my head. When I divided 5,280 by 60 and converted 60 mph to 70 mph, it was over 100. I neglected to go on to yards.

I was struck by the vision of two cars hurtling at each other. I have felt the helplessness of skidding and of spinning before ABS brakes. I've only caused property damage and qualify for all the insurance discounts.

I hope your reactions at the wheel are as fast as at a calculator. I have also learned.

Computers not ready for Year 2000

Dear Editor:

A potentially catastrophic event is facing everyone—here, the country and the world— at the turn of the century. The Year 2000 syndrome! This is a definite computer problem which has been given little media attention. What happens when we roll over to the Year 2000? Since most of our computers can not recognize the year 2000, they will revert to 1900!

Why a problem? Years ago, when computer memory was in short supply, programmers set a standard for dates to show two digits each for day, month and year, example 03/12/97. This is inherent in most all software.

What happens when we roll over the date on Jan. 1, 2000? The computer can not recognize the year 2000 and reverts to 00 or 1900! All of a sudden, the government computers stop writing checks for welfare, payroll, social security; pension funds stop, banks stop, military operations stop—just about everything that is computer dependent and that is almost everything in this world— even in little Bandera!

Software has an inherent clock, of necessity, to make it function for all time-related activities. This is the problem.

Millions of lines of computer code will have to be redesigned to correct, this takes time in terms of years, and check out in terms of one or more years. Of course the magnitude of the problem varies with the size of the software.

My brand new IBM Aptiva computer will go ape on the year 2000 as well. Bandera, I suspect, uses computer software rented or purchased from a large company.

Question to ask-- Are we Year 2000 Compliant? What happens to City/County/School payrolls, financial and tax records, legal records, appraisal records and even maybe the "911" system?

This is a wake up for you to make sure this problem does or does not exist with your computer software. Get a firm response to questions from your computer expert on any of the above to make sure there is no problem--"Am I Year 2000 Compliant?"

March Moments

by Cyndi Wright, staff writer

One of these days I'd like to get on top of the Cabaret, or one of the other businesses lining Main Street, on a Friday around 3 to 5 p.m. and take a picture.

Last Friday, as I drove down the street, I was amazed at the traffic. It was bumper to bumper from one end of Main to the other. On both sides.

Like many of you, I am a recent arrival to Bandera, having only been here working at The Bulletin for over two years. I don't live in the county, but just in the time I've worked here, the traffic has gotten to be amazing.

On the one hand, I guess that is good news to the folks who depend on money coming in from the outside, and from recent transplants.

On the other hand, my heart aches for a sleepy, little western town that suddenly has to deal with bumper-to-bumper traffic, stuffed classrooms, lines at the bank, and strangers at the table next to you at the O.S.T.

Well, what can you say? As people move out here to escape the horrors of city life, the county and the city will get to the bustin' point.

And can you blame these people? After all, even though most of the oldtimers may have been a little more farsighted, it is the reason they moved here, too.

Hopefully, the folks moving out here will cherish the simple way of life, and not try too hard to replace all the sophisticated machinations of the society they left behind.

Don't miss the opportunity to come out, visit, party, dance and see the famous Robert Earl Keen this weekend at The Cabaret. It is going to be a great show and the proceeds will benefit the Youth Center.

Carolyn's Corner

by Carolyn B. Edwards, Editor

Hasn't the rain been nice? I think we've finally gotten enough to start recharging the aquifer and bring up those well levels again. The Trinity Aquifer, from which we get our water, runs all the way up to Oklahoma, but recharges much more slowly than the Edwards which lies to the south of us. With good rains falling all the way up to north Texas, the Trinity should start rising soon.

This nice rainy weather we've been having has brought us a little problem that we haven't had to deal with very much during the drought. Potholes.

We may need to have a contest for the biggest pothole in Bandera County. I've got a nominee out on Bear Creek Road.

A little Nissan traveling in front of me the other morning completely disappeared for almost a minute as it hit that hole in the pavement.

This mother of all potholes is one of those really sneaky ones, because when it is raining the water pools up on that side of the road. If you don't know it is there you can sure wake yourself up when the front wheel crashes into the lurking grand canyon beneath the water's surface.

In fact, that's the way I first discovered it. Because we are always looking for cheap ways to have fun, when we come around the corner and that little pool of water is sitting there, we can never resist stepping on the accelerator and flying through, sending wet spray up over the top of the pickup, and washing our windshield at the same time.

Guess I won't be doing that again for awhile. At least until my scrambled brains have a chance to settle back in.

I know Bear Creek Road isn't the only one in the county developing pothole problems. I cornered my county commissioner Jim Mormando just before Commissioner's Court met last week and reported the pothole to him. "What do you want us to do?" he asked, "Fill it or stock it?"

Now I hadn't thought about that second option, but this pothole has enough room in it for a trophy bass, I'm sure.

So, if the rains continue, we might just contact the soil conservation guys and find out when they have their next stock pond fingerling delivery scheduled.

Put in a few bass and catfish and I can just stop off at the pothole that ate Pipe Creek and pick up supper on my way home each night.

Senate bill puts teeth in zero tolerance

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin — The Texas Senate passed a bill that puts teeth in a 1995 "zero tolerance" law designed to rid public school campuses of drugs, alcohol and violent and disruptive students, while guaranteeing due process.

The legislation is one of three "safe schools" bills by Senate Education Committee Chairman Teel Bivens, R-Amarillo, passed by the Senate last week. The bills move on to the House for consideration.

Under Bivens' zero tolerance legislation, school officials would have the authority to expel students for misdemeanor alcohol and drug offenses committed on campus or at school events. Current law requires schools to expel for felony offenses.

Reacting to concerns that in districts that have no alternative education programs, zero tolerance would turn students out into the streets, Bivens says, "...It is worse to tell a school district you've got to keep the kid in school even though he may bring cocaine to school."

Only 22 of Texas' 254 counties would be required to offer expelled students an alternative education program operated by the school district or a county-run juvenile justice facility. Those 22 counties have a population of 125,000 or more.

Panel OKs $83.3 Billion Budget

The House Appropriations Committee has approved, 25-0, an $83.3 billion budget for the next two-year budget cycle that begins Sept. 1.

The buuget does not include funds for Gov. George W. Bush's proposed spending for elementary school reading programs, a pay raise for state employees, money to keep more prisoners in jail longer and funds for a state water conservation program.

"I hope that when (this process is done) we will have been able to address those issues," said Rep. Rob Junell, D-San Angelo, chairman of the committee.

But a one-time, $100-a-month pay raise for state agency workers is included in a budget package by state Sen. Bill Ratliff, R-Mount Pleasant, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. Higher education employees would not receive the pay raise.

"I think the $100 per month for each employee is a kind of floor," Ratliff said. "We ought to start there. I hope we can do a little more than that."

State employee groups say they will continue to push for a $200-a-month raise in 1998 and another $200 raise in 1999.

Water Legislation Urged

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock last week underscored the need to pass water management legislation, saying, "To me, there's no bill more important to our state."

Bullock, who presides over the Senate, testified at a Senate Natural Resources Committee hearing for a water conservation bill filed by Sen. J.E. "Buster" Brown, R-Lake Jackson.

Bullock said Texas has had five major droughts in the last 60 years, and five failed water management bills. And he warned of future water shortages that could hit every county in the state.

Brown's bill would create a statewide drought management plan combining existing city and county plans and includes provisions for the sale or lease of a property owner's water rights.

Brown said 95 Texas counties sought federal disaster assistance for last summer's drought, and the drought cost Texas farmers $2.1 billion and the entire state $5 billion.

Tax Panel Targets

The House Committee on Revenue and Public School Funding continues its mission of drafting legislation that would expand the reach of state sales taxes in order to cut school property taxes.

On the table are new taxes on trips to the barber shop and beauty shop, gasoline, aviation fuel, legal fees and many other goods and services. Sacred cows expected to remain untaxable are food, medicine.

Internet boosts local video business...

Charles Lasater credits the Internet with boosting video sales.

by Cyndi Wright

Charles Lasater, owner of Equivid in Pipe Creek, gives most of the credit for the successful business to his ex-wife, Sally. Equivid is where horsey people can rent or buy thousands of videos all about some phase of riding, training and breeding for horses and riders.

In fact, their slogan is "Quite simply the world's largest supplier of equestrian videos."

The Lasater's started off in the television production business in 1974, producing a nationally syndicated program series called "The American Horse and Horseman with Dale Robertson."

They took the taped series and broke it up into 30-minute segments which horse lovers, riders and trainers could watch.

On March 16 Deputy Brice responded to a call for a vehicle fire at D&H Automotive in Lakehills.

Deputies Bianchi and Timm checked on a complaint of trash dumping at an Exotic Acres residence.

Deputy Price served an eviction notice to a party near Bandera.

On March 17 Deputy Stricker was dispatched to a traffic accident on Kings Ranch Road. He found where the wreck occurred, but the vehicle had left the scene. Tools found at the scene were picked up for safekeeping until the driver contacts the Sheriff's Office to claim them.

Deputy Postert took a report from a Medina man about [illegible]

Deputies investigated six animal calls, included loose livestock and barking dogs.

Arrested by the Sheriff's Department were:

Vincent Lacy, 25, of San Antonio on a felony warrant.

Jerry Pipkin, 35, of Bandera on a warrant from an outside agency.

Bennett Kempton, 25, of Lakehills for driving with suspended license, no liability

Geronimo Medel, Jr., of Medina for assault by contact.

The jail log is presented as a public service by area law enforcement and The Bandera Bulletin. It is important to note that because an individual is arrested or indicted for a crime, or is present at a crime scene, or is identified as a suspect in any printed report in no way indicates that person is guilty of a criminal offense. Guilt or innocence must be determined by a court of law.

Tourism Talks

Ben Nolen

A very close friend, one I've been harassing to join the Chamber, made a comment about Chamber membership which really got me to thinking. After my insistent question of "Have you joined yet," he replied, "No. I find I work better outside organizations."

Hey, I can respect that especially since this is one of the best friends I have, but I don't have to agree with it. Membership in any organization, be it Sunday School or city government signifies support.

It doesn't mean that you have to volunteer for everything which comes along or be an organization officer. Membership shows that you really believe in what the organization is doing, which at the same time, gives you the right to question those decisions and/or actions with which you disagree. No organization is perfect and this definitely applies to the Bandera County Chamber of Commerce. However it's way ahead on the plus side. The constant promotion of Bandera County by the Chamber and the personal one on one contact with thousands of visitors by the "Chamber Ladies" and all the volunteers touches each and everyone of us...primarily in the pocketbook. I can't think of one business or individual not benefiting from the tourism dollar. To quote some old, but realistic numbers, each dollar which is spent in our area via tourists, will turn over seven times. This seven time turn over trickles down into a lot of our pockets. What these old numbers fail to tell us is that along with the seven time turn over, an additional dollar will be generated.

I understand that any business or individual working "outside an organization" can be instrumental in making these same things happen and believe me that's great. But why not support the organization and folks who are working for you. When we really get down to the nitty-gritty, that's all membership amounts to...support.

County going to AG for ruling on sign law

Rio Hondo residents concerned about signs in road right-of-way

COUNTY by Cyndi Wright Staff Writer

[illegible] subdivision resident, spoke to Commissioners Court on Wednesday, about [illegible] with a new dude ranch behind the subdivision.

[illegible] when I found out someone was commercializing property in back," she said. She listed her concerns as opening up pollution, and strangers in the area.

"Strangers who are guest ranch visitors that may look over and see that I'm not home and come back later and trespass on my land," she said.

"We are trying to be user-friendly to the public," County Judge Richard Evans told the angry crowd of residents.

The homeowners of Rio Hondo originally came to Commissioners Court protesting a sign that would look [illegible] road and the [illegible] they say violates a state law prohibiting signs on the right of way of a public road.

Evans and County Attorney Kerry Schneider said they have been able to determine that the road in question is a public road, but the question of whether it is a county road has yet to be determined.

"We just want to stop the commercialization of the highway out there," said one citizen.

Evans and Schneider assured the group that they have written and asked the Attorney General's office for an opinion on how the definition of a right of way, or how much footage, on a public road fits the statute.

In other business, Ted Martin of Martinsurance Group, the current administrator of the county's employee health benefit plan, told the commissioners that [illegible] proposed [illegible] Humana, has asked for a 10.6 percent increase, but after negotiations had settled for a 7.5 percent increase in the county rate.

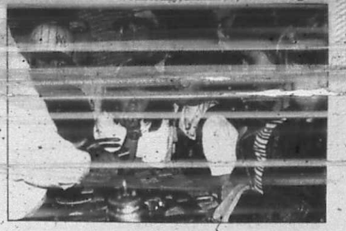
The insurance benefits extend from May 1, 1997 until [illegible] 1998.

Martin asked the commissioners to consider changing from a two-rate structure to a four-rate structure.

The current two-rate structure allows employees to choose insuring only themselves, or themselves and their families. In the four-rate structure, employees could choose between themselves, employee and children only, employee and spouse only, or full family.

Martin said that with the four-rate structure, a single parent would drop approximately $150 a month off their insurance cost, over the present rate which covers full family.

Not many county employees take advantage of the health benefits offered by their employer, but Martin said that the ones who do have expressed a medi-



He suggested the county survey their employees to see if more would sign up if offered the four-rate structure.

Treasurer Kay Welch said a survey could be inserted into mid-month paychecks.

Commissioner James Mormando made a motion to go out on proposals for health insurance benefits.

Commissioners Dan Alanis and Ralph Chancey voted for the motion, while Commissioner Nancy Thompson voted against.

County seeking ideas for community service projects

COUNTY In a regularly scheduled commissioners court meeting Wednesday, administrative assistant Doyle Haner asked the commissioners to submit projects that community service workers could do around the county.

Haner has recently been appointed community service program manager. Community service workers are individuals who are either working off fines to the courts, or who have been assigned a certain number of hours of community service work as part of a sentence.

"We are trying to make community service more meaningful," County Judge Richard Evans said.

Haner said the workers can work for any non-profit organization, churches, and other organizations. They can clear brush, pick up trash, and operate equipment. Someone must be there to supervise them.

Anyone who can use these workers is encouraged to call Haner at the county judge's office.

In other business the commissioners:

- Decided to start compiling a list of the discarded items stored presently at the County Yard. The commissioners plan to label the items surplus and auction or sell, in conjunction with the sheriff's office, the unused machinery and materials.
- Passed a motion authorizing Judge Evans to request free quantities of pre-coated rock available to counties through TxDOT.

County pursuing contract with BMA

by Carolyn B. Edwards Bulletin Editor

Bandera County will go to a hearing at the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission today in hopes of obtaining a contract with BMA to purchase up to 5,000 acre feet of water per year in the future.

The proposed contract is the result of a series of mediation meetings held between BMA, Bandera County, LAMCOS and other concerned parties.

BMA submitted the proposed contract to Springhills Water Management District and to Bandera County late Friday afternoon March 14, putting the county and SWMD in a rush to consider the lengthy contract prior to today's hearing in Austin.

Springhills' director Marion Heisler said, "We don't want to be stampeded."

Bandera County and the board of Springhills had several concerns with the contract and shared them with Johnny Ward, president of BMA.

As a result, BMA submitted a new proposed contract Tuesday, March 18. At a special meeting held by SWMD Tuesday morning, the board passed a resolution supporting Bandera County in its efforts to secure a contract with BMA for water subject to a review of any changes in the contract. Both SWMD and county commissioners hoped to get a continuance from TNRCC at today's hearing in order to have more time to study the proposed contract.

County Attorney Kerry Schneider told the SWMD board that while there were points in the proposed contract that the county had objections to, "it is an immense improvement over where we started."

Ralph Dresser, Springhills director and president of LAMCOS said that LAMCOS would not oppose the County in its effort to secure a contract for water. "We (LAMCOS) still have additional concerns about what will happen to tax values and well levels at the lake," said Dresser. The contract would be an overall benefit to the entire county, Dresser said.

The TNRCC will continue to Feb. 5 hearing to amend the water rights permit held by Bexar Medina Atascosa Water District to Wednesday, March 19 in Austin.

"Additional time was granted to the parties involved to allow time for settlement negotiations with the help of the Commission's Office of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADRO). At least four mediation sessions have been held involving the concerned parties.

The TNRCC will again consider BMA's motion for the change in its water permit to allow BMA to sell water for municipal use in addition to its irrigation sales at its public meeting on Wednesday, March 19 at 1 p.m. in Room 201S of Building E at 12100 N. IH 35 in Austin.

The Bulletin will have more on the proposed contract and the action taken by the TNRCC in next week's issue.

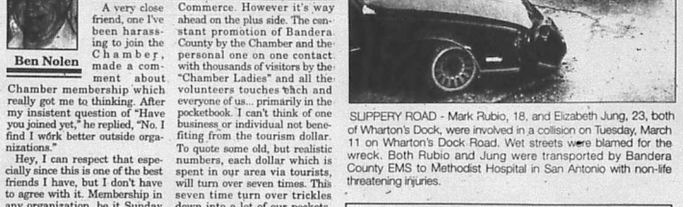
Officers investigated six animal calls, included loose livestock and barking dogs.

Arrested by the Sheriff's Department were:



Vincent Lacy, 25, of San Antonio on a felony warrant.

"We just want to stop the commercialization of the highway out there," said one citizen.

Evans and Schneider assured the group that they have written and asked the Attorney General's office for an opinion on how the definition of a right of way, or how much footage, on a public road fits the statute.

In other business, Ted Martin of Martinsurance Group, the current administrator of the county's employee health benefits plan, told the commissioners that their present carrier, Humana, has asked for a 10.9 percent increase, but after negotiations had settled for a 7.5 percent increase in the county rate.

[illegible] insurance benefits extend from May 1, 1997 [illegible] 2000.

Martin asked the commissioners to consider changing from a two-rate structure to a four-rate structure.

The current two-rate structure allows employees to choose insuring only themselves, or themselves and their families. In the four-rate structure, employees could choose between themselves, employee and children only, employee and spouse only, or full family.

Martin said that with the four-rate structure, a single parent would drop approximately $150 a month off their insurance cost, over the present rate which covers full family.

Not many county employees take advantage of the health benefits offered by their employer, but Martin said that the ones who do have expressed a medi-

He suggested the county survey their employees to see if more would sign up if offered the four-rate structure.

Treasurer Kay Welch said a survey could be inserted into mid-month paychecks.

Commissioner James Mormando made a motion to go out on proposals for health insurance benefits.

Commissioners Dan Alanis and Ralph Chancey voted for the motion, while Commissioner Nancy Thompson voted against.

County seeking ideas for community service projects

COUNTY In a regularly scheduled commissioners court meeting Wednesday, administrative assistant Doyle Haner asked the commissioners to submit projects that community service workers could do around the county.

Haner has recently been appointed community service program manager. Community service workers are individuals who are either working off fines to the courts, or who have been assigned a certain number of hours of community service work as part of a sentence.

"We are trying to make community service more meaningful," County Judge Richard Evans said.

Haner said the workers can work for any non-profit organization, churches, and other organizations. They can clear brush, pick up trash, and operate equipment. Someone must be there to supervise them.

Anyone who can use these workers is encouraged to call Haner at the county judge's office.

In other business the commissioners:

• Decided to start compiling a list of the discarded items stored presently at the County Yard. The commissioners plan to label the items surplus and auction or sell, in conjunction with the sheriff's office, the unused machinery and materials.

• Passed a motion authorizing Judge Evans to request free quantities of pre-coated rock available to counties through TxDOT.

County pursuing contract with BMA

by Carolyn B. Edwards
Bulletin Editor

Bandera County will go to a hearing at the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission today in hopes of obtaining a contract with BMA to purchase up to 5,000 acre feet of water per year in the future.

The proposed contract is the result of a series of mediation meetings held between BMA, Bandera County, LAMCOS and other concerned parties.

BMA submitted the proposed contract to Springhills Water Management District and to Bandera County late Friday afternoon March 14, putting the county and SWMD in a rush to consider the lengthy contract prior to today's hearing in Austin.

Springhills' director Marion Heisler said, "We don't want to be stampeded."

Bandera County and the board of Springhills had several concerns with the contract and shared them with Johnny Ward, president of BMA.

As a result, BMA submitted a new proposed contract Tuesday, March 18. At a special meeting held by SWMD Tuesday morning, the board passed a resolution supporting Bandera County in its efforts to secure a contract with BMA for water subject to a review of any changes in the contract. Both SWMD and county commissioners hoped to get a continuance from TNRCC at today's hearing in order to have more time to study the proposed contract.

County Attorney Kerry Schneider told the SWMD board that while there were points in the proposed contract that the county had objections to, "it is an immense improvement over where we started."

Ralph Dresser, Springhills director and president of LAMCOS said that LAMCOS would not oppose the County in its effort to secure a contract for water. "We (LAMCOS) still have additional concerns about what will happen to tax values and well levels at the lake," said Dresser. The contract would be an overall benefit to the entire county, Dresser said.

The TNRCC had continued Feb. 5 hearing to amend the water rights permit held by Bexar Medina Atascosa Water District to Wednesday, March 19 in Austin.

Additional time was granted to the parties involved to allow time for settlement negotiations with the help of the Commission's Office of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADRO). At least four mediation sessions have been held involving the concerned parties.

The TNRCC will again consider BMA's motion for the change in its water permit to allow BMA to sell water for municipal use in addition to its irrigation sales at its public meeting Wednesday, March 19 at 1 p.m. in Room 201S of Building E, 12100 N. IH 35 in Austin.

The Bulletin will have more on the proposed contract and the action taken by the TNRCC in next week's issue.

County, CCRA table search for park improvement funds

by Cyndi Wright
Staff Writer

Denny Foster, representing the Cowboy Capital Rodeo Association, told commissioners on Wednesday that a preliminary study of improvements needed at Mansfield Park showed a need for about $12,000 in repairs before the PRCA, the Youth Rodeo and the Tuesday Night Rodeo Series could be successful.

About $5,000 of that is for new wiring, while approximately $7,000 is for an announcer stand.

Foster said the CCRA is going to spend between $3,000 and $4,000 on additional seating for the events.

But Doyle Haner, administrative assistant to the county judge, and John Bruce, director of Mansfield Park, both said that what is left of the park's budget will need to be spent on fixing a rotten light pole and a broken electrical disconnect box.

Plumbing problems have plagued the park recently, and according to Bruce and Haner, more will probably come to light as watering begins.

"We don't have that much left [in the park budget]," Haner said. "We have a rotten light pole that is going to fall over. It's a safety concern."

Exposed wires in the arena, and the load of electrical needs during the rodeo events for vendors, are also problem areas, according to Bruce.

"When it rains the lights go off, and so does the rodeo," Bruce said.

Haner said the amount of money left in the budget will only make a small dent.

"We are just patching problems that will return next year with a bigger price tag on them," he said.

County Judge Richard Evans asked Foster if the CCRA would consider spending some of the money they have earmarked for seating on the electrical problems.

"I don't mean to sound facetious," Evans told Foster, "but you might want to rethink your position. Without lights, there won't be a rodeo and there won't be a need for extra seating."

Foster told the commissioners that all the proceeds from the Tuesday Night Rodeo Series, mainly held for guests of local dude ranches and local citizens, will go into additional improvements at the park, including a permanent bathroom in the rodeo area, and concession stands.

"We are putting 90 percent of our profits back into that facility each year," Foster said. "We would rather put money into seating. Electricity would increase our liability. In order to get the crowds we do every year, we've got to have seating for them."

Haner said the budget would not handle paying for the frayed wires.

"If they have a wet night, they won't have a rodeo," he told the court.

Bandera Electric Co-op has donated time and charged very little for materials to fix some of the problems, according to Haner.

The issue was tabled pending more estimates on fixing the electrical problems.

Saturday morning workshop will look at county growth, problems

County officials and members of the Bandera County Capital Improvements Committee will meet Saturday morning March 22 at 9 a.m. for a workshop session at the Courthouse.

The workshop will involve discussion of the report recently submitted by the committee to the Commissioners Court. The report outlined $4.7 million in needed county improvements, including a new jail.

The workshop is open to the public. No action will be taken by Commissioners Court during the workshop.

The Capital Improvements Committee's report outlines the needs of The county brought on by rapid and continuing growth and suggests several projects to bring the county into the next century.

In addition to a new jail, the report recommends upgrading the courthouse to eliminate Americans with Disabilities Act deficiencies.

During the workshop, committee members will answer questions and explain the bases of their recommendations.

Local school offers computer classes

Hill Country Elementary School will be conducting beginning classes on April 3, 6 and 10 from 6:30 to 8:30 about understanding Windows '95. The cost is $30.00 per person and some of the topics will include: Computer terminology, using the mouse and Windows '95 desktop.

Hill Country will also be conducting intermediate level classes on April 17, 22 and 24 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The cost is $30.00 per person on intermediate Windows '95. Some of the topics will include: Using keyboard shortcuts, creating new folders and file copies and using sound and video.

To register for these adult computer classes, call the HCE computer lab at 535-5108 or the school at 510-9585.

A capitol visit...

Medina High School students visited the State Capitol in Austin on Tuesday, Feb. 18. They were accompanied by their high school teacher, Joe Britt. While in Austin they had a tour of the State Capitol, visited the Old General Land Office and toured the LBJ Library. The group is pictured here with State Representative Bob Turner.

County supports dry hydrant installation

The county commissioners threw their support behind the Bandera RC&D's program to install dry fire hydrants in strategic areas throughout the county.

The funding for the dry hydrant kits will be supplied by the county, and reimbursed by the Texas Forest Service.

According to Joe Cantu, president of the local RC&D chapter, the Medina Lake Volunteer Fire Department has located containers which could be used to store water above ground in areas where there is no access to a water source.

The Alamo Area RC&D, of which Bandera is a part, is a grassroots organization dedicated to finding funding for projects in counties that enhance and preserve the natural resources of the areas.

Benefits of the dry fire hydrant program include improving fire protection, conserving water, saving money and energy, lowering insurance premiums and operating expenses.

"We are envisioning, county wide, at least 100 of these tanks put in," said MLVFD president Marion Heisler.

The local RC&D asked the commissioners if they would provide refundable financial support to purchase the dry hydrant kits and help retrieve and store the 10,000 gallon tanks the fire department has located.

"It won't cost the county anything," said Wayne Griffin, coordinator for the Alamo Area Conservation and Development Area.
