Letters to the editor

When the idea of a chemical free, all-night grad-uation party-was first presented to senior parents early in February of this year, we were already getting a late start on fundrasing. We began with only a handful of parents, and our group seemed to get smaller instead of larger. However, with the support of so many people and businesses in the community, our plans for a fun-filled, safe, final night together for the Class of 98 became a reality. We would like the folks at the Bulletin to know

Appreciate the help

F want to thank the Bandera City Police Department for the assistance that they provide to the Sheriff's Department during the recent visit of the Governor of Texas to The Lost Valley Resort. The young people involved in the Explorer Post provided a valuable service.

I also think that Don Jones and the other Optimist Club members deserve a big hand for the work they did in arranging this event. Also, a County Attorney Kerry Schnieder, who put a lot of time and effort into planning and coordination.

She did a great job.

Sosa earns award

The Northern California chapters of the Association for Women in Science recently selected Aurora Loretta Sosa to receive their Ellen Weaver Award, one of two such awards presented annually. Sosa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arturo G. Sosa of Pipe Creek.

the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arturo G. Sosa of Pipe Creek.

The award honors scientists early in their careers for making significant contributions to their field, and for advancing woman and girls in the sciences.

Aurora Sosa has been a quality assurance development scientist at Bayer Corporation since 1988. She is heavily involved in volunteer work, including serving as a biotech intern mentor, judging science fairs, developing seminars for career awareness conferences, and making classroom presentations on her work in the sciences.

Sosa was a Bayer team leader for AIDS Walk S.F. for several years and is involved in PediatriCare, an organization which provides grief support for families living with chronic illness or a death in the family.

"Because of the size and the period of the Foundation, and the period of the Foundation, and the strategic decision to organize the Foundation to organize the Foundation to operate with its own staff and office," Wilson said. "We felt this move would help ensure the Kronkoskys receive the recognition they deserve for their wonderful generosity."

"We hope the example the Kronkoskys have set will serve as an inspiration for others to set up similar plans to benefit their communities," he said.

"Working within the program goals of the Foundation, we intend to be proactive," Moe said. "We will look for promise of the foundation, we intend to be proactive," Moe said. "We will look for including programs new to our service area, and we will operate as an open organization, with a user-friendly grant application process."

The Albert and Bessie Mae Kronkosky Charitable Foundation was established by a Trust Agreement in January 1991 and was funded in August, 1997 after Mr. Kronkosky family first moved into the area in the 1860s.

Over the years, the family became a significant shareholder of Merck stock and involved itself in a number of successful local business veries, including the Gebhardt Company and the San Antonio Drug Company.

It all started over 35 years ago with a farmer, a biologist and a mineral prospector, a simple idea of stimulating the soil – rather than the plant – these three men founded an idea and a company that would help farmers and gardeners for years to come. Simply feed your garden from the ground up and enjoy the results.

Lyme disease still a concern in Texas

COLLEGE STATION — As summer heats up and more people head outdoors, precautions need to be laken to avoid two tick-borne illnesses — Lyme disease and Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever. Both diseases are still carried by ticks in Texas, according to an entomologist with Texas A&M University.

"Lyme (disease) is resident here in Texas," said Dr. Pete Teel of College Station. Tick populations are cyclical, he explained. The Lone Star tick and the black-legged tick, both of which carry Lyme disease, produce a generation about every year to year and a half. That could explain the high number of cases even in a drought year like 1996.

Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever can be transmitted through the American dog tick, which is widely scattered throughout the United States but especially in the southeastern and the central areas.

"Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever can get out of hand," Teel said. "It's really easily treatable, it's diagnosable. However, it's often misdiagnosed because people don't think about the disease being in that area."

The classical sign for Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever is a small, spotted rash that occurs first on the palms of the hands or the soles of the feet and then spreads to other parts of the body, he said.

The rash associated with Lyme disease is large and circular. Often it migrates outward from where it begins, taking on rings or redness and looking somewhat like a bull'seve.

"When physicians take biopsies of these rings, they actually find the corkscrew-shaped bacterium that is the causal agent of Lyme disease," Teel explained.

The rash does not necessarily occur at the site of the tick bite, he added. Other symptoms may include swelling of the large joints, such as the knees or elbows, something resembling Bell's palsy or other neurological problems where one side of the face will droop, or a severe frontal headache.

One of the difficulties in determining whether someone has Lyme disease is that it takes several weeks for the body's immune system to develop detectable antibodies. Even though the person may show symptoms, a blood test may not show the disease.

Prevention includes avoiding known tick-infested areas. But if that is impossible, Teel said to wear protective, light-colored cloth-inc

Boots should be worn if possible, with the bottom of pant legs taped around the outside of the boots with 2-inch masking tape. The last wrap of the tape may be turned over.

"The ticks will crawl up the outside of your pants, not the inside. If you wear light-colored clothing, it gives you a chance to see them and remove them. The tape gives you a physical barrier," he explained

There are several good repellents on the market, too, he said. Inspect children thoroughly after they may have been exposed.

"Pay particular attention to the hair around the base of the scalp. That's a notorious place people tend to overlook," he said.

Friday, May 29, 1998

There have been cases of paralysis where a child had a tick feed at the base of the hair line, close to the spinal cord. "All you have to do is remove the tick and it stops the tick from injecting more toxins into the bloodstream.

Usually within 24 hours that person is back up and walking around," he said.

Pets and working dogs that may go along should be inspected, as well.

Ticks may be removed by grasping it as close to the head as possible to the head region with a tissue or pair of tweezers, pulling it steadily until it releases itself from the body. Try to avoid direct confact with the tick.

Forceps should not be used since they may crush the tick, pinch the body from the head, or crush the salivary glands

Additionally, no one should use alcohol or a hot head of a match or pin. Any of these methods may cause them to salivate more and release more toxins into the body.

Teel recommended that anyone who is bitten to save the tick if possible in a container with a moistened paper towel in the refrigerator. If symptoms appear in 10 days to two weeks, the tick can be tested

"Not all ticks are infected with either one of these agents, but if it happens to be infected, that is a tremendous aid in knowing how to diagnose and treat the illness," he said.

Once the tick is removed, rubbing alcohol may be used on the bitten area to minimize infection.

Robert Fly gives scholarship to Texas A&M

An $11,000 scholarship with matching funds from the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences Development Council has been donated to Texas A&M University.

Robert Fly of Boerne designated the scholarship to students in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

Fly said his interest in agriculture and the opportunity he and his wife Betty, had to give influenced their donation.

"We have such a deep love for the school, going way back," Fly said.

He graduated in 1949 from Texas A&M with a degree in agricultural economics. He worked for Del Monte after college and his career involved mostly international business.

Fly has been on the development council for more than a decade. He said his interest in agriculture has grown even more over the years.

Robert and Betty have four children. Two of their 13 grandchildren currently attend Texas A&M.

Fly, a former cadet himself, said he would like the scholarship awarded to a student in the Corps of Cadets.

Brush Busters can solve cedar problems SAN ANGELO — Do you have unwanted cedars sneaking onto

If your cedar problem is still less than, say, 20 trees per acre, you ought to check out the Brush Busters program developed by two agencies of the Texas A&M University System - the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. With Brush Busters, you can literally "nip the problem in the bud" for less than $2 an acre. That's a whole lot less than the $35 or more per acre that effective cedar control usually costs once cedars grow into thick, mature stands.

Brush Busters works because it kills young cedars with minimal applications of herbicide, sprayed where it will be the most effective, explained Dr. Darrell Ueckert, an Experiment Station researcher here, who developed the Brush Busters program with Extension Range Specialist Allen McGinty.

"We'd been noticing a steady invasion of redberry cedar into two of our pastures near here for several years," said Ueckert. "There weren't too many, but it was obvious that within a few years we'd be overrun. The trees' growth rate was alarming. Some had even started making seed.

"We treated the cedar this spring using the Brush Busters soil spot spray method," he said. "We used 2 cc (one-fifteenth of an ounce) of Velpar L herbicide per three feet of canopy height or diameter. The herbicide was applied with automatic syringes delivering the 2 cc dose to the soil under the cedar plants. Both pas-cents per acre." Ueckert said Pasture 1 was treated by two men on foot, while Pasture 2 was treated by one man on an all-terrain vehicle

The labor was counted at $5/hr.: the chemical at $64.60/gal., dve added to the chemical for visibility ran $0.29/oz., and the ATV was assigned a rate of $2.50/hr.

Ueckert said that the small investment in preventive maintenance was well spent to "keep ahead of the curve" relative to cedar encroachment

"We demonstrated how little it can cost to manage brush problems if the land owner or manager addresses it before size and density of the brush necessitate expensive, conventional control

Predicting nitrogen mineralization may improve fertilizer use

COLLEGE STATION - New ways of predicting the natural release of nitrogen from decaying plants and animals in soils may lower fertilizer use and protect water sources, according to a new study published by the Texas Water Resources Institute

The study, "Soil Nitrogen Mineralization Potential for Improved Fertilizer Recommendations and Decreased Nitrate Contamination of Groundwater," was co-authored by Dr. Frank Hons, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station soil fertility scientist, and graduate students Richard Haney and Alan Franzluebbers.

Nitrogen mineralization, the natural release of nitrogen from decaying soil organic matter, occurs throughout the year. But the amount of nitrogen released can vary based on soil types, climate and management techniques used by farmers. The concern is that groundwater quality can decrease if too much nitrogen, converted to nitrate; is available in soils.

"Nitrogen is one of the tools farmers use most often to improve crop yields, but it can also pose threats to water quality." Hons says. "So, it's important to be able to specify how much nitrogen needs to be applied in forms growing crops really need. If you can accurately estimate nitrogen mineralization, there's a much better likelihood that excess applications of nitrogen can be avoided and environmental threats can be minimized."

The researchers evaluated different existing methods and developed new and improved techniques to measure nitrogen mineralization. This included gathering surface and subsurface agricultural soil samples from College Station, Corpus Christi, Overton and

They then used a variety of techniques to measure nitrogen mineralization, including short- and long-term aerobic laboratory incubations, arginine ammonification and carbon mineralization. Results suggest that measuring carbon dioxide emissions from soils that have been air-dried and later rewetted is a rapid, reliable way to measure potential nitrogen mineralization. Measuring carbon dioxide evolution was correlated to mineralization and was directly related to microbial activity in soils.

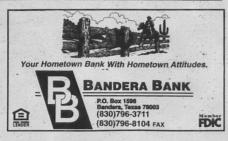

Hons says this research could have a number of practical benefits to agricultural producers.

"Widespread use of this method could provide more accurate and more rapid estimates of nitrogen and carbon mineralization in different soils. By using this information, agricultural producers can apply precisely enough nitrogen fertilizer to maximize yields, while decreasing water pollution risks," he said.

Chicken Fried Steak

- · Round steak (1/4 lb. of raw meat per person)
- · salt and pepper to taste
- 2 cups milk
- 2 cups flour with 1 tsp. salt and pepper added to it
- · Use Coke bottle bottom to tenderize meat and pound salt and pepper into

Take milk in a bowl and beat egg in it. Dip steak in milk and egg mixture then flour until well coated. Fry over medium-high heat in about 1/2 inch grease until batter is golden brown.

- 1 1/2 lb. red beans
- 1 to 1 1/2 gallons of water
- 1/4 lb. salt pork or bacon
- . salt to taste

Pick beans thoroughly to get rocks and clods out. Bring red beans to a boil Add salt, salt pork and jalapeños when beans come to a boil. Move to a lower or moderate heat and let simmer until tender — about three hours. If you add water, do not add cold water. Yeast Bread

- 2 cups water
- 2 packages dry yeast
- · 2 eggs well beaten • 1/4 cup oil
- 1/2 cup suga
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- . 6 1/2 to 7 cups flour • 1/3 cup shortening

Mix yeast in warm water, add eggs and oil. Mix and add dry ingredients and 1/2 of the flour. Mix it up real good. Mix in rest of flour and let stand until it rises above the bowl. Work it down. Melt 1/3 cup shortening in Dutch oven. Pat out dough and cut with tin can. Place cut dough with sides touching in melted shortening in Dutch oven. Place over fire. Let cook until done. In oven bake at 375 F for 20-25 minutes

Beef & Gravy

- 1 onion, sliced
- 2 lb. lean ground beef or sirloin
- · Dash of garlic salt
- . Dash of black pepper
- . Dash of comino peppers
- · Dash of Tabasco sauce
- 2 cans cream of mushroom soup mixed with 1 or 2 cans skim or low-fat
- 1 package fresh mushrooms, sliced

In an iron skillet, brown the sliced onion; add beef and spices and brown thoroughly.

Pour in one can of soup and stir, then add milk to reach the consistency of cream gravy. If you like thicker gravy, add a second can of soup and less milk. The gravy will thicken as you simmer it over low heat.

Saute the sliced mushrooms in a second skillet and add before serving. Make instant rice in the microwave and pour beef and gravy over rice. Garnish with a sprig of chilitipiquins and serve with hot sauce. Serve on toast for breakfast on cold mornings

- 1/4 to 1/2 onion, chopped
- . 1/4 cup chilitipiquins, fresh off the bush
- 1/4 teaspoon salt and pepper • 1/4 cup water
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- . 1 10-ounce can of Rotel chopped tomatoes

Grind all ingredients in blender except tomatoes, which are added last. Blend to the consistency that you like, chunky or pureed. Chilitipiquins vary

- . 1 stalk of celery, diced
- 1 small can of tomatoes

Beat flour, salt, and pepper on to meat. Brown meat in shortening. Add remaining ingredients and cook for 1 1/2 hours. Green Reans

- 1 slice country ham
- 1 tbs. bacon drippings or corn oil
- 1/2 small onion, coarsely chopped
- 1/2 cup water • 1 16-oz. can Italian whole green beans, drained and liquid reserved
- 1/2 hot pepper or 1/8 tsp. Tabasco
- · salt to taste

In a heavy skillet cook ham in bacon drippings over high heat and brown on Lower heat and cook onion until clear. Add water a little at a time to prevent splattering. Add beans and reserved liquid with hot pepper and bring to a simmering boil.

Cook for 25 minutes. Remove pan from heat and allow beans to steep 10 minutes more. Season with salt

The meeting, sponsored by the Center for Grazinglands and Ranch Management, Texa The meeting, sponsored by the Center for Grazinglands and Flanch Management, taxas ASM University and a group of northern Mexico universities, is the second in a series aimed at meeting the needs of livestock producers in South Taxas and northern Mexico. According to Wayner Hamilton, director for the Center for Grazinglands and Ranch Management, this meeting will focus on the forage base of ranches. The first meeting, in Cudad Victoria, Mexico, centered on Investock production systems in this semi-and region.

The northern Mexico states of Tamaulipas, Coahulla and Nuevo Leon have climate, soils and vegetation that are very similar to the South Texas plains and coastal prairies, Hamilton said. "Ecologically, we feel they have the same problems and the same opportunities." The said.

The landscape in which we consider issues that are important to our nation is changing. The issues that are being considered by the states and in the nation's capital are being discussed in very different terms than was the case just a few years ago.

The debate today is beginning to focus on values such as hard work, discipline and selevations. It is slowly replacing a focus on bureaucracy, regulation and taxation—the old priorition and taxation—the old priorition and the consideration of the consideration

A Thought For The Week

We all make many promises ing our lifetime. These promises deal with all things, in every phase of life. Knowing what or whom to believe can and does pose problems at times. Careless promises should never be given- or counted upon. A promise that can cause discomfort, harm or injustice to yourself - or to other should never be made, no matter how muc make a promise... Expediency or change of mind is seldom a justified excuse for breaking a promise. A promise involves honor, duty, and ethics... The best promise you can make - is a promise to yourself. Promise yourself you will never make a promise to anyone, unless you are fully prepared and able to keep your promise ... In addition to spiritual benefit it is a good way to gain honor stature, praise and prestige among your week. Hensley was not selected in the recent NFL draft, but there are some NFL teams that have shown an interest in Hensley, the source told The Bulletin. Hensley redshirted the 1996 college football season due to a knee injury suffered in the offseason. It was that injury that could have led NFL teams not to pick Hensley in the draft. If Hensley was to play in the CFL, NFL teams would keep an eye on his progress for possible future signing.

The service is informed, but friendly and efficient.

We believe good service and formal service are not the same thing. Our good is for our guests to feel welcome and at home in a relaxed atmosphere, according to Jos.

focus of the restourant is on families, they offer a very reasonable children's menu and have available booster chairs and high chairs. They do not serve alcohol, but have supposed and wine glasses as well as hosted beer mugs on request.

That of folias have discovered that they can bring a bottle of their favorite wine or as-pack of beer much more cost-effectively than I could disflet to sell it." Says Vinyard.

It is relaxed atmosphere is accented with at 'these play' jukebox and signs with clever quotes. The back of the restaurant looks out on the beautiful Guardalupe River, with an open good was to create a restaurant in the Texast tradition— not real flamp, but great the statistical Vinyard states!" On behalf of Juan, Juan Jr., and Jeremy Gonzales and immediate family we wish to thank everyone who showed their love and support. We would like to thank the Bandera Police Dept. and Loretta's close friends. The love, care, food and support is greatly appreciated in this difficult time in our lives. Loretta was a very special and very loved person who will greatly be missed. We are sorry we cannot name everyone, because there were so many, but you are all in our thoughts and prayers. Thank you again for everything.

CONGRATULATIONS SID PETERSON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Recipient of the 1998 Texas Hospital Association's Excellence in Community Service Award

for its support in the development and operation of Kerrville's Raphael Community Free Clinic

A commitment to community, a continuing quest for quality and a desire to improve access to health care - that's the criteria for the Texas Hospital Association's highest institutional honor, the annual award for Excellence in Community Service.

Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital is being recognized this year for its support in the development and on-going operations of the Raphael Community Free Clinic. The hospital helped with the community needs assessment that established the clinic, as well as providing funding, staff support, supplies and equipment. The hospital also donates on-going lab and x-ray services for clinic patients.

Employees in the following departments assisted with the clinic start-up, as well as provide on-going support: Administration, Auxiliary, Community Relations, Data/Information Systems, Infection Control, Laboratory, Maintenance, Materials Management, Medical Records, Nursing, Patient Registration, Peterson Home Care, Pharmacy, Radiology, Social Services, and Sterile Processing.

CONGRATULATIONS SID PETERSON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Recipient of the 1998 Texas Hospital Association's Excellence in Community Service Award

for its support in the development and operation of Kerrville's Raphael Community Free Clinic

A commitment to community, a continuing quest for quality and a desire to improve access to health care - that's the criteria for the Texas Hospital Association's highest institutional honor, the annual award for Excellence in Community Service.

Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital is being recognized this year for its support in the development and on-going operations of the Raphael Community Free Clinic. The hospital helped with the community needs assessment that established the clinic, as well as providing funding, staff support, supplies and equipment. The hospital also donates on-going lab and x-ray services for clinic patients.

Employees in the following departments assisted with the clinic start-up, as well as provide on-going support: Administration, Auxiliary, Community Relations, Data/Information Systems, Infection Control, Laboratory, Maintenance, Materials Management, Medical Records, Nursing, Patient Registration, Peterson Home Care, Pharmacy, Radiology, Social Services, and Sterile Processing.

Enhanced quality —Springhills Water Management District is to be congratulated on making available the coliform bacteria counts in the Medican River from Medina to the lower end of Medina Lake. Unfortunately, the bacteria counts at every gite tested exceeded permissable levels for human contact (swimming). Hopefully, Springhills will look into this and set if they can do something. Springhills' data show that bacteria counts above Bandera and at the dam in Bandera are very high and they drop to their lowest level just below the Bandera Sewage Treatment Plant. They then go very high again towards and into the lack. One would, the discharge from the sewage treatment purchase up to 5,000 are feet prey are of water from the Bexar, Medina, Atascosa Water District. Certainly, Springhills' figures show that the best location for Bandera to take delivery of water from the Bexar, Medina, Atascosa Water District. Certainly, Springhills' figures show that the best location for Bandera to take delivery of water from the BMA for the streament plant. Better yet, consideration should be given to using the discharge directly out of the treatment plant and before it enters the river, and thus, avoid Bandera's having to pay the BMA for Tobacco fee opposition united

"Most of the information we collect at TDI is open to the public, but access to detailed data can be cumbersome at times, Insurance Commissioner Elton Bomer said. "Our decision to provide complaint data routinely over the Internet is one more way to make important information available to more people." In general, the analyses show claim delays as the reason given most often for filing a complaint.

Thank God Moah was a God learing, righteous man. If he was not, you and I would not be here. (Gen 5, 6 & 7) God needed to find just one person who would love Him, or he would have destroyed ALL of mankind with the flood. (II Peter 2:5) I thank you Noah! Thank God Abraham was willing to give up his son Isaac to show his love for God (Gen. 22) God needed to find just one person who would love Him this much, before he was willing to give His Son Jesus, to show His love for Us. I thank you Abraham. Don't ever think the life of one God Fearing Person is not Important to God. or to mankind, it is. Come on.

Don't ever think the line of one use rearing version is not important to usu, or to manifold, its, Come on.

On Wednesday, May 27, the San Antonio Area Foundation presented an $11,000 grant award to the Triple H Equitherapy Center. The center, a non-profit NARHA accredited facility in Pipe Creek, was established in 1996 to serve the mentally and physically disabled through a program of horseback riding and related activities. For individuals with mental or emotional disabilities, Triple H uses horses to develop and reinforge such basic life skills as self-discipline, interpresonal communications, and academic fundamentals. For those with physical impairments or limited mobility, horseback riding provides a rhythmic motion similar to a human walking gait, enabling riders to improve balance, muscle control and strength. Receiving the award Wednesday were Susan McLean, President of the Triple H Board of Governors, and Aaron Alloway, an Eagle Scout candidate from Troop 143 in Boerne. The $11,000 grant will be used to find the construction of an outdoor therapy arena, a project plained and oversides by Alloway as a major requirement for Eagle Scout rank: Mr. and Mrs. Martin D. Alexander of Bandera announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Amy Martinez to Sergio Malagon, the son of Gerardo and Martha Malagon of Boerne. The couple will be married June 20 at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcelino R. Martinez of

No one is born with prejudice. It is sequired. But once it is acquired most difficult obstacles tone of the most difficult obstacles tone of the most difficult obstacles to the words derived from two words which mean "to judge ahead of time". In other words, to prejudge before having heard. It exists when isn't up on. It is based person is down on something he and understanding. It usually comes from pride, anger, greed or jealousy.

Lots of people think they have convictions... when they only have prejudices. Convictions grow out of opinions formed after considering both sides. Prejudices grow out most proposed in the proposed proposed in the proposed propo of both.

Sometimes it is hard to tell which is which. We cling stubbornly to inherited or self evolved opinions... believing they are right. There is a test we can take, the test that will tell us in a hurry whether what we are sounding off about so loudly is a conviction or simply a prejudice... "How does the opinion we hug to our bosom jibe with "The Golden Rule"?

We think the question has significance?

E. coli counts released

Springhills Water Management District is still urging edution for recreational users of area lakes, rivers and streams, although recent. E. coli readings at some area watering holes are within the acceptable range.

The latest numbers from the district include areas in and around the city of Bandera, and the only location with readings considered inadvisable for contact recreation, such as swimming, was taken? Tulles up Bear Creek Road Levels were acceptable at the following locations: 1.2 miles south of the 173/16 crossing; 1/T mi. north of the cemetery on Hwy.173. Chipman Lange, below the sewer plant, Bandera city dam; Privilege Creek Road/Polly's Chapel crossing; Hwy. 173 outh, 2.2 mi. south of the 173/16 crossing; and FM1077 at the State Natural Area.

Recent readings for numerous sites in and around Medina Lake were taken Monday and results will be available sometime early next week, according to Cameron Cornett of the SWMD He stated that although the last readings taken around the lake indicated people should avoid the lake, those readings are taken at the surface along the shoreline. Cornett stated that contact with water in the middle of the lake should be relatively safe. SWMD may be reached at (830) 796-7260.

Just a case of misplaced royalties

Crude oil prices this year dropped to some of the lowest real-dollar prices since 1986. With profit margins already low, a significant number of Texas'—and American's—oil produces have been unable to withstand-rootinuing depressed prices and have shut down production. Many of these shut down wells will never be returned to the market, meaning a permantloss of jobs. This is a real blow to our state's economy.

Such a situation is desperate for producers, but it is a saudid and monitable the agen-

Don't take fathers

June 21st is Father's Day, a time, when many of us will reflect on how much our fathers have meant to us. Others, who may not have known their fathers, or whose fathers left our another, may be even more acutely aware of how important fathers are.

Here at the Office of the Attorney General, we are responsible for enforcing laws that require fathers to support the children they bring into the world. Father's Day has a special meaning for us.

Bush seeks federal aid for wildfire prevention

Bush seeks federal aid for wildfire prevention

Austin — Gov. George W. Bush doesn't have a knee-jerk attitude when it comes to wildfires threatening Texas: He has a prevention plan.

Last week, Bush asked President Clinton for aid to prepare the state to fight wildfires and issued are remergency proclamation for 207 of Texas 254 counties. The governor is seeking federal aid to put firefighters and equipment in high-risk across before fires break out. Texas is already private sector, leaving for word wild and the ready produced by the conditions with the bulk of the summer still ahead.

"It is threatening crops and could pose major fire and water problems unless we act now." Bush called on county officials to consider implementing out-door burning bans, firework set that it is just unbelieved about non-strong bans, fireworks are seeing sensor for the state of sensor problems unless we act now." One Vear Anniversary

One year ago last month the Texas Hill Country Internet Mall was just a dream. A concept to group the merchants of the Texas Hill Country in one place and to promote the, a on the Internet was the main objective. With the vastness of the Internet becoming a medie in the haystack is where most advertisers end up. The "Mall" concept eliminates this problem when marketed and promoted properly. A "One Stop Shop" for any given region or area approach. The Creation of www.TexasHillCountry Mall.com was the goal of Bandera resident Mide Kalla. Without a track creed and zero occupants in the Mall. Mr. Kalla started his quest with determination to put the Texas Hill Country on the Internet. By advertising occupants in the Mall. Mr. Kalla started his quest with determina-tion to put the Texas Hill Country on the Internet: By advertising "Shop Texas Here" along with the Internet address of the Mall in most of the Texas Hill Country nexspapers, yellow pages, phone-book covers, bulletin boards and the support of some very shread merchants, it started paying off. People from as far away as Germany and as-close as next door started buring Texas Hill Country products and viewing the merchants of Gods Country (AKA the Texas Hall Country) via Cyber Space. As to date the most his the Mall has received in one day has been 1328 on March 16, and is steadily increasing daily with an average around 914 hits a day With more than 30 business storefonts ranging from Accommoda-tions to Water Well Services, Local Weather, National News, Hill Country Photo Collection, Kids Section, Events Calendar and many Country Photo Collection. Kids Section. Events Calendar and many Texas related links, the Texas Hill Country Mall has become an International Icon for Shopping the Texas Hill Country on the World Wide Web. N. re than 575 members of Texas A&M Universit, 8 Corps of Cadets have been named to the Commandant's Honer Roll for the 1998 spring semester. Receiving these honors are Robert William Richardson, a senior from Pipe Creek, majoring in anthropology and Jaire Rayn Nessenschwader, a junior from anthropology and Jaive Ryan Nessessivander, a junior from isanders, angarong in homesucas scenees. The Commandant's Honor Roll recognizes members of the corps who earned a 3.0 grade point ratio (on a 4.0 scale) while enrolled for at least 12 semester credit hours.

Teans A&M's Corps of Cadets, with approximately 2,100 members, is the largest uniformed body of students outside the U.S. service candemies. The corps differs from typical college ROTC programs in that it is a separate, student-led organization. Living together in cadet units, its members gain leadership skills and experiences that complement their academic education. While cadets can earn commissions as officers in America's armed forces, membership in the corps itself carries no military obligation.

Bandera schools recently mailed copies of their new 1998-99 mid-dle and high school dress code to students' parents.

The code includes changes from last year's code, most noticeably the banning of skorts or shorts, except during physical education class, and a requirement that all shirts, blouses and dressess have sleeves. In addition, skirts, dresses and jumpers must touch the top of a girl's kneecap when standing. Windsuits, warm-ups and athletic pants are banned except during physical education classes, and female students may wear no more than two earrings in each ear. The code bans not only gang-related clothing, but allo states that shirts and blouses 'may not be worn in a way that reflects gang affil-iation.'

Seatthing
The Back' Door 'Theater in Boarne opened 'Sleath' by Arthony Schaffer on June 19. The Manystery-British of the Seatth shirts and blouses "may not be worn in a way that reflects gang affliintion."

Earlier this year, Bandera Middle and High school sent a poll to parents which promoted the idea of a dress code for both schools. The idea was voted down by parents at the second of two school/parent meetings on the subject held this spring.

"The Bandera Middle School and High School dress code is established to teach proper dress and grooming, instill self-discipline, prevent disruption of the educational enouncent, avoid safely hazards, teach respect for authority and to reflect community standards and a positive image of Bandera schools," the code states. "A student's general appearance must meet common standards of decency, modesty and good taste. Final determination of acceptable dress and grooming rests with the schools administrators."

Springhills Water Management District's latests numbers for Medina Lake and other Bandera County sites look good for recreational users of area waterways.

The latest numbers from the district include three locations at Medina Lake. In the newater readings, the only location with readings considered inadvisable for contact recreation, sidered inadvisable for contact recreation, below the Medina Children's Home.

The district takes E. coli readings of one of lot different groups of sites throughout the county, rotating the readings so that each site is read once a month. When counts of E. coli colonies per 100 ml of sample water reach 252 or higher, contact recreation is considered inadvisable. The Wallace Creek location's reading was 300 counts per 100ml.

What a difference!

On June 13 in downtown Hollywood, bankers, producers, directors, actresses and movie moguls from as far away as London, England, attended a Texas Filed Commission bruncheon sponsored in part by the Bandera Film Commission and Bandera County Chamber of Commerce. Also included were film commissions from Dallas Ft. Worth, Austin, Houston, San Antonio, Amarillo, Irving and El Paso. Bandera County's delegation at the bruncheon included Susan D'Spain, Roz Brown and Micheal and Susie Wilson. A Thought For The Week

The Proclamation of Independence of July 4, 1776, translated our forebears from being subject of a royal majesty, into being free citizens of a nation that passive condition. Citizenship carries with it responsibilities, as well as rights and privileges... Couldn't it be said that it is the responsibility of the individual, rather than his rights and privileges, that gives him his strength and gives democracy its strength. Unfortunately, too many Americans today are content to allow others to exercise the responsibilities of citizenship for them taking but passing interest in the decision of being made locally or nationally for them.

On this fourth of July, let us all breathe a solemn vow to commit ourselves to active, rather than passive, citizenship.

Adopt a new family member at the parade

Bandera's annual Fourth of July Pet Parade is more than just funit's about caring for animals.
"We want to get families out on the 4th of July and encourage kindness to animals," said Laurie Neff, parade organizer.
Dr. Cornad Nightingale of the Hill Country Veterinary Hospital, is Bandera County's rabies control officer: He boards many homeless animals waiting for someosite to adopt them. A few cats and a dog were adopted by people who attended lists year's Fourth of July Pet Parade. Parade.
"This created a goal for us at the Chamber with this e

Parade.

This created a goal for us at the Chamber with this event, to really emphasize animal care and get some of these homeless pets adopted, said Neff.

Furthering those efforts, the Animal Welfare Society of Bandera County is the Grand Marshal of the pet parade, which takes place July 4 at 10 am around the Bandera courthouse square. The non-profit organization operates for the benefit of unwanted animals, relieving animal suffering. Nancy Kelley, the society's president, said their major functions include caring for unwanted animals, adopting animals to responsible homes, and investigating cruelly treated and neglected animals.

"I get many calls every week from people who are rescuing animals or who are moving and can't take their animals with them," said Kelley. "We are always trying to find homes for them."

The Animal Welfare Society is currently having a. membership drive. The membership fee is $25 and they meet on the second Thursday of each month, at 7:30 p.m. at the Bandera Bank Community Building.

The society is also working on plans for a "Family Dog Show" in October. All proceeds will support the society's efforts. Their goal is to build an animal shelter in Bandera County.

Call the Chamber office, (830) 736-3045, for more information.

Hi yall! Well, the weather guessers are sun saying not and dry. Pincos like Florida and New Orleans are getting excess rain and New Orleans are getting excess rain and we are sitting here stewing in our own juices. Everyone is having to search out a convenient shade or air conditioned place. We hope all of you are able to find a big ole shader to be and a cool glass of water.

All this heat is fast baking the life out of all the grass and weeds around us. With the Fourth of July fraeworks coming up, all the fire departments are holding their breaths about grass fires. We ask all of you to be very careful with your freworks. Last year the wind caught one rocket and carried it all all grass around structures short!

If you haven't gotten your tickets for the Bassociation and away from the buildings and largass around structures short!

If you haven't gotten your tickets for the Bassociation and all areas as around you better get hopping. This annual raffaw way a trip for two to the Bahams way for the break as training films to share with all member departments. So your donation is spread out to many good cause. We will let you know how the trip to the Bahams was after we, win it's ure?

Hepatitis initiative deemed a success

Bandera Middle School recently participated in the Texas Department of Health, sixth grade Hepatitis B Initiative. The optional program was available to all school districts, public and private, in Texas. The three-shot series was provided free of charge to most of this group and was given on the BMS campus by TDH registered nurses. Shots were administered in November, December and in May, and approximately 160 students either completed a previously started series or received all three doses.

Recently, letters were mailed to all rising fifth Rarde students with permission forms for the Hepatitis B program for school year 1998-99. The

City clears site for new well

Bandera Mayor Bob Cowan and City Administrator Don Reddout watched last week as a Bobrat cleared the site of what they hope will be the city of Bandera's new third water well. The parcet, a little more than two acres, is in the Indian Waters subdivision just outside the eastern edge of the city limits.

Reddout said that the property has been offered to the city at a "rock bottom" price by a benefactor who prefers to remain anonymous, and the city can return the property to its owner should the site prove unacceptable If drilling results in a good "hit," the property will be deeded over to the city. Reddout said that the site is less than 1/2 mile from a city water main line. He said enigenering specifications are being drawn now, and he hopes to let the project out for bids if city council approves such action at its July meeting.

the project out for bids if city council approves such action at its July meeting.

The city's need for additional water supplies became a top priority last summer, when the city's two wells failed and Banders was without water production for over 48 hours, and had to depend on stored water. Fresure in the distribution system dropped below acceptable levels, and the city had to issue a "boil water alert."

New water rates for City of Banders water and sewer customers went into effect. May 1 after the city council voted unanimously to raise rates to upgrade the city's water system and to finance a new water to the city during the spring. The rate structure was intended to make the water system and its improvements self supporting. The city also contracted with Southwest Securities to issue approximately $1 million in certificates of obligation to improve its outdated system.

close Monday, July 6. The section of the road as it crosses Bear-Creek was destroyed during the June, 1997 floods that devas-tated the Hill Country.

According to Rendon, work on the crossing should last approx-imately six weeks, weather permitting. He said that although there will be times during the repair when it appears the site is inactive, proper curring of the concrete requires that it be allowed to set properly, which takes several days. Rendon said crews will work at South Gost Bridge during periods when concrete at Bear Creek is curring.

Hi yall Well, remember some months back we were saying we would probably be wishing for some of those cool temperatures we were having? With 102 and my temperature in the forecast, it is probably time to wish for some of those chilly north winds. They have been hinting of rain the last few days but we have yet to see any of the west stuff.

On this line we have to seriously agree with our fire marshal Ralph Dresser when he says everyone must be very careful with the fire works and any burning actions. All that grass and weeds that grew from all the rain we had back when is now dead and dry enough to cause a really serious fire. A stray piece of fireworks can cause a very serious brush fire. There is enough fuel load to really get all our cedar going and enough gusty wind cause big trouble. All Bandera County fire departments are on the alert as this dangerous weekend approaches. We ask you to please be very careful and help everyone to safely celebrate this great country's birtiday!

ful and help everyone to safely celebrate this great country's birthday?

All the participants in the American Legion Post 410's annual Fourth of July parade are getting ready to strut their startff this Saturday. We reported in last week's article that the panels started at 11 am. Well, they changed that and didn't let us know so everyone should be ready to start at 10 am. down by St. Victor's church. Everyone should have plenty of fluids to prevent any heat-related problems. Also, contrary to lots of popular beliefs, alcohol does not do your body much good in such heat!

Also don't forget, the big Barbecue Chicken plates being served at the American Legion Post 410 up on 26th Street West. There will be a load of people partaking after the parade, so you better not lag behind after the parade is over. If you inger too long, you might not be able to find a cool place to sit.

Sally and Heather Heiser are the charidaties of the raffle prize committee for this fall's Medina Lake VPD raffle. They will be contacting local businesses for donations of products and services for this annual raffle to go along with our fall barbecue will be coming up on Labor Day weekend.

Well, the chickens are calling for some attention so we better done. We are still looking for information on happenings and colorations so let us know and we will report.

We will be sweating and looking for you over the back fence (under a shade tree!)

Scott dreams in John Deere green

Ever since 11-year-old Scott MacNaughton could talk, he has been fascinated with tractors. Scott fed his fascination with books and urticles about tractors. He could name them all. His interest greatestees when his parents took him to the Stemewall Antique Tractor

On Sout's eighth birthday his parents and his grandfather, Ken On Sout's eighth birthday his parents and his grandfather, Ken On Sout's eighth birthday his his first antique tractor. It took about a year to restore the 1944 John Deere H model tractor, work they farmed out to dealers. Sout promptly showed up at the Stonewall Tractor Show with his entry. The same year, the Texas International Apple Pestival officials invited Sout to show his tractor at their event.

Sout just bought a new 1939 Model L John Deere that he plans to bring to the event.

This time we plan on doing most of the restoration ourselves, he said. To top it all off, Soutt and his dad have been instrumental in bringing a full-deged Antique Tractor and Small Engines Show to the upcoming Medina Blue Grass Festival in Medina in October.

The Antique Tractor Show is part of the eleventh annual Texas International Apple Festival, to be held Saturday, August 1 in Medina Gates open at 9 an. and tricks are 44 for adults and $1 for children ages 4 to 12. For more information call (830) 589-7224.

He practiced it and this is what he said about courtesy:
"Courtesy will do wonderful things for you. First, it will help you get ahead. Discourtesy is so rank and rife that the man or woman who radiates courtesy is not going to have much trouble forging ahead. They are going to have very little competition. Second, you will have much more fun being courteous. You will enjoy your work more. The courtesy you express will please your associates, and this, in turn, will kindle a warm, reflected glow in your, heart. Cerrato is the daughter of Karen K. Thompson of Bandera, and Alfred Cerrato of North Little Rock, Arkansas.

Navy Airman Steven A Tirado, mor of Sal and Rose I. Tirado of Pipe Creek, and Navy Seaman Killy S. Morris, no of David and Alice J. Shearer of Bandera, recently departed on a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific Ocean, Indian Ocean and Antaina Guil aboard the aircraft carrier USS Abraham Lincoln. Tirado and Morris are one of more than 5,000 Sallors and Marins aboard the ship, which departed its home port of Everett, Wash. to lead the USS Abraham Lincoln Battle Group. The battle group is comprised of ten tatical air squadrons, five surface combatants and two submarines.

Carriers, like USS Abraham Lincoln, are forward deployed around the world to maintain a U.S. presence and provide rapid response in times of crisis. They serve as a highly visible deterrent to would-be aggressors and, if deterrence fails, ofter the most versatile and powerful weapons available.

Happy Independence Day
It's time for summer vacatree cancided. They will resume in September. The Melodiers will meet only on the first Tuesdays of July and August ton July 7, the group will practice at 9:30 a.m., and a program of patriotic songs at the Clark House at 10:30 a.m.
We've discovered a new talent over here at the Corral.
Clarence Adamiets was working the front desk the other day and heard me whining about needing someone to install the plants that Maxine donated - so, he volunteered. He has now been dubbed with the nickname "Gardening Angel". There's no end to this guy's talents. Who else.do you know that is a classical planist, a receptionist and a landscape artist? This is just a small example of the talent we have lurking around at the Corral, angels of every description. If you have a talent you'd like to share, come on over or call us at 796-4999.
We loat a treasured member of our community last Thursday, June 25, Les "Sonny" Schmidtke. The chapel at Grimes was packed Saturday morning with family and friends of Les and Cecella I didn't have the opportunity to get to know Les, but Cecilia has been a staunch friend and supporter of the Corral for a long, long time. Our boughts and prayer's are with you and your family, Cecelia, and we thank you for being our friend.

Texas animal health officials have confirmed that a horse in Reeves County if far West Texas has Vesicular Stomatist (VS). The viral infection, the source of which is not known, causes affected animals to develop painful blisters and lesions in their mouths, of their tongues and around hooves and on their teats. Currently, New Mexico has two cases of the infection in horses, and Arizona livestock health officials are conducting several investigations, but have had no laboratory confirmed cases this year.

Since 1996, New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona have been plaqued by summer outbreaks of the disease. During VS outbreaks, other states may embarge or place testing requirements on livestock entering their states, said Dr. Max Coats, assistant state veterinarian for the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC), the state's livestock health regulatory affency.

This year, Kentucky has already embargoed livestock from New Mexico, because of that states two cases of VS, said Dr. Coats. Undoubtedly, Kentucky livestock from Seeffer of the Coats of the

Dr. Coats explained that states like Kentucky, which greatly depend on European trade, cannot risk a case of the infection in their livestock. Europe does not have VS outbreaks.

Dr. Coats advised producers and veterinarians to contact their nearest TAHC area office or the Austin headquarters at 1800.550-5242, if they see possible signs of VS in any species of livestock. Toll-free numbers have been activated for all TAHC areas.

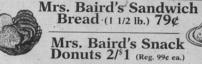

Producers or veterinarians who need information regarding international livestock shipments can call the US Department of Agriculture's Veterinarian Services in Austin at 512-312-5555.

Man arrested

A 53-year-old man was arrested last week by Bandera police on animal cruelty charges after others found the decomposed body of a dog in the man's hold room.

Bandera Police Chief Lymn Holt said that on June 30, BPD officers were called to a hote in the 700 block of Main Street in Bandera by the business's manager. They were then led to a room reated by Donavan Dair Caldwell, Ifold said. Inside the room, Holt said, officers found the extremely decomposed body of a dog in the bathtub. Holt said that the degree of decomposition of the dog's body led the police to believe that the dog had been treads are areas a coopper ou weas.

To the rescue

Air Life prepares to land to pick up Bandera resident David Morris, who was seriously injured in a two car accident Monday on Hwy. 16; 3 miles south of Bandera. According to Bandera County Sheriff's Deputy Allien Tucker, Morris was diving the southbound Altima (shown in foreground) when he was struck by a northbound Toyota pick-up which had gone into an out-of-control spin and crossed brite the southbound lanes. Carl Thaler, driver of the pickup, told Deputy Tucker that Thaler believed his truck had blown a tire, causing the spin. A spokesman for University Hospital in San Antonio said at press time that 'Morris was in stable condition. Tucker said both drivers and Thaler's passenger were wearing seatbetts. No citations have yet been issued, the deputy said. (Photo by Brenda Sommer)

A Thought For The Week

We all know people who seem to practice the art of courtesy very naturally... and then there are those who seem to feel that courtesy is a lost art the art of being courteous.

The late Dale Carnegie was one of the most successful men in his field. He believed in courtesy. He practiced it and this is what he said about courtes "Courtesy will do wonderful things for you. First, it will help you get ahead. Discourtesy is so rank and rife that the man of oman who radiates courtesy is not going to have much trouble and, you will have much more fun being courteous. You will enjoy your work more. The courtesy you express will pleas your associates, and this, in turn, will kindle a warm, reflected glow in your heart. Third, you will consciously develop bette manners because you are courteous. Finally, Smile... Treat every one as you want to be treated." Good advice during Mr Carnegie's lifetime. Good advice today.

By Lew K. Corn
A request by two local businessmen for a variance to the sign ordinance to raise the Guaranty Federal Bank sign an additional eight feet was tabled by the Board of Adjustments Menday night. Boyle Realty and MacNaughton Insurance Agency, which share quarters with Guaranty Federal, want to raise the bank's sign and add their own signs underneath.
K.H. Schneider, a local attorney representing the two companies, had arqued that although the sign would be higher than what is currently allowed by the ordinance, the board should take into consideration that the ground elevation changes from one side of Main Street to the other.

agree with us, then we ask that you go out and look at the terrain. The sign will not stick out like a sore thumb. These two men have tried to present a professional sign.

'In no way would it be out of character for the rest of the area. We had no objections from the other property owners in the area and had several favorable letters to submit.'

Schneider said safety is also a concern and that visiting the sign-would alleviate possible accidents that might occur when tall trucks drive through the bank parking lot.

She also pointed out that the Planning and Zoning Commission had forced the bank to lower its sign in the past, despite lacking the authority to do so. Meanwhile, the sign for Norwest Bank is also taller than the height allowed by the sign ordinance, but no action has been taken against them.

However, Mayor Pro Tem Bill Byce said while he agrees that the sign needs to be raised for safety reasons, he disagrees with raising the sign needs to be raised for safety reasons, he disagrees with raising the sign needs to be raised for safety reasons, he disagrees with raising the sign needs to be raised for as after years. The have enough clearance for trucks to go through all you need to a raise the base three more feet to 14 feet. That would make the me aumie and they will want a variance as well.'

Randy MacNaughton said that the additional height is needed so the signs can be seen above the parapet of the building.

The sign will not be any higher than anove the parapet, he said "We just want to raise it enough so it would not be blocked."

1998 property value notices mailed out

Bandera County residents recently received notices from the Bandera County Appraisal District showing the 1998 proposed value of their properties.

However, these notices are not tax bills, said PH. "Fourth" Coates IV, thief appraiser of the district.

"Please do not pay—this notice is not a tax bill," Coates said.

Coates said property owners have 30 days to protest their property's value. Notices were mailed out to property owners in on July 10, so the deadline for protestary is Aug. 10.

"A property owner has the right to appeal to the Bandera Appraisal Review Board on any disagreement with the property's value, exemptions, ownership and other areas. Coates said.

The Appraisal Review Board will begin hearing protests starting Thursday. The ARB is an independent panel of citizens responsible for hearing and settling protests from property owners who disagree with some action taken by the district.

Coates said a property owners should look at the proposed

Ann Stackhouse and Nancy Westly came to play bingo with several of the residents Monday morning. The residents slaways look forward to bingo. On Monday morning, Josie Kluna, Dorothy Callahan, Fannie Caffall, Mary Fitzpatrick and Annette Kalka-Schulte from St. Stanislaus Catholic Church visited, prayed and sang with resident friends Brenda Adam, Mary Anderwald, Jeanetta Adamietz, Wilobel Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Myer, Edna Carter and Lorene Billings.

The residents always look forward to the Melodiers when they come on the first Tuesday of each month. Their program this month was patriotic songs. Director and planist was Florence Isaases, emece was Betty Laganier, violinist was Judy Goodenough, and playing the autoharps were June Westmeyer and Marion Bunch. Other Melodiers were Mickle Causey, Floyd and Mary Portman, Maidie Frenchmeyer, Fannie Caffall, Beverly Jo Powell, Randi Williams, Bob and Dot Bailey, Bettie Suddath, Betty Johnston, Doloras Greene and Dean Isaacs.

Harvey Rogers came Thursdy morning for his monthly visit. He entertained residents with music and songs, which they enjoy very much.

The List, by Steve Martini

"The List" begins with a chase on foot, gunfire and an explosion on the docks in San Juan. It continues with twists and turns keening the reader rushing through its cases, Abby Chandlis. a diverged attorney approximately divorced attorney approaching middle years, writes a blockbuster nor 'l under the pseudonym of clable Cooper,

S' has the cream of agents, publishing houses and Hollywood moguls eagerly yong for rigiblis to the book, but fears they will not promote the book if they know it is written by a woman—
thus the pen name is used.

Before she makes a deal with auyone she enlists the help of Morgan Spencer, an attorney in the same law firm with her. In her search for the man to play the author, Gable Cooper, she finds dess Jermaine. To her surprise his older brother, Jack Jermaine, shows up instead. Jack's shadowy military past, collection or rejected manuscripts and dark good looks lead the reader to worry that Abby has made a deal with the devil.

shadowy military past, collection of rejected manuscripts and dark good looks lead the reader to worry that Abby has made a deal with the devil.

When Jack is propelled into the orbit of celebrity, Abby finds herself at once seduced and trapped by her own creation. Will her scheme to have her book on the bestseller list lead to her demise? Check out the book to find out.

"The List" was the selection of the morning Book Club for July. The Book Club's miestings are still being held throughout the summer months. The club's next meeting will be held in the library on Tuesday, August 11 at 10 am. The book selection for August is "A Light in the Window," by Jan Karon. This is the second book in the Mitford," year discussed in March. The third book is These High Green Hills," and the last in the aeries is "Out to Cheen. Denise Griffin said she did not have a problem with granting the variance for the sign.

'a put down that the control of the sign as it is now; she said. I can see what they mean. It would make a big difference for them and the sign would be in good taste.'

However, Councilman Fabian Mazurek said while he thinks the sagn does need to be higher, he believes granting the variance could 'open up a mad rush for variances.'

The sign ordinance needs to be reviewed and updated. I understand that if a business cannot get its name out, it may decide to go elsewhere, but we've got a sign ordinance and we've got to do things within reason.

City Administrator Don Reddout reminded the board that at least four members had to vote in favor of a variance to grant one and that with Councilman Johnny Piña absent, all of the board would need to vote in favor of the variance.

If the board voted down the request, Boyle Realty and MacNaughton Insurance would have to wait at least 12 months before it could submit another request, Reddout said.

Bryce then moved to table the request until it could be studied further and the board voted 4-0 in favor of the motion.

estimates about how much it would cost to replace the First Street bridge with a new two-lane bridge.

Rendon said he has spoken with Mike Butler, who is performing similar work for the county at Bear Creek Road, about putting in box culvers in at the low water crossing.

Though Rendon said Butler did not give him a price, he said Butler suggested that the county not simply repair the bridge by keeping the original deck because the supports could give way.

Rendon said the bridge could either be replaced at its current site or a new one could be built further down the river at the other section of First Street. At Bear Creek, Butler's crews are installing four 4 x 6 box culverts at a cost of about $56,000, Rendon said. A new bridge at First Street would require seven box culverts and could cost as much as $70,000, Rendon said.

Griffin also asked Rendon to contact an engineering firm, Sinclair and Associates, to get an estimate from them about how much replacing the bridge would cost.

The council also voted 4-0 to change the fees charged for peddlers' permits from $25 per year to $25 per three months and increased the fee for sign variance requests from $25 to $100.

At one time, the council had set a moratorium on issuing new permits for salsemen who go door-to-door or farmers who sell fruits and vegetables on city property.

Good rain welcome sight

Hi folks! Good news this past week for you! Good rains fell Monday on some few 28 inches, starting near Hondo at Braggs Pecan Orchards and coming close HONDO NEWS TARPLEY & RIO years — then on Tuesday rains hit again with a real electrical storm, small hail and very high wind.

Average 1½ inches around here, only about ½ in Rio Hondo Sub., one inch at Jubilee Ranch. We had a very high elm tree near the county road and the top of it broke on the electric line so no electricity for awhile. Very hot and humid and averaging 100 to 102*. Elize or I don't remember this much heat and humidity ever in Bandera County — with heat day and night — only in Frio County. I might say we've been around awhile.

Wong lights un the stage

in Houston TUTS production

Medina resident Bailey Wong, daughter of Lee and Joe Seymour, lights up the stage at The Wortham Theatre in Houston in Theatre Under The Stars' (TUTS) summer season production of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dramoncat. Ad azzling and delightful musical celebration of the Biblical story of Joseph, his eleven brothers, and the famous cost, the touring production stars David Osmond, Jodi Benson, and the Osmond Brothers 2nd Generation.
The young performer is part of a 40-member youth-chroux, ages 7-20, chosen from auditions of TUTS Humphreys School students, and this main-stage experience is an importangly-fir of their TUTS training. Learning complicated music and harmonies during a rigorous rehearsal schoule with Musical Director Allen Grubbs tested their vocal skills, their memorization, their concentration, and their dedication to becoming professionals in the world of musical theatre.
HSMT Director Carole Hanna McCann says: "A student can work in performing arts classes for years, but the real test is out there on-stage. The TUTS experience gives these young artists a professional variety of the production numbers and name directors and cherographers to test their mettle as future performers." The young people themselves each her words: Work null kyou bow TUTS because you get to learn in the studios, in rehearsals, in local performances, and then to top it all, you get to be in a big show. WWW!

TUTS Humphreys School offers year-round classes in acting, singing, and dancing, with summer classes now in session and fall workshops scheduled to start in September. Balley has been staying with her grandparents in Houston, Mr. and Mr. J. B. Haralgon, and attending summer performing arts camp at HSMT. During the regular school year, she attends Mediana Elementary as a 6-grade honor student and UIL award winner.

Gravity is the law of God. This law works constantly and will never change. If you do not believe in the law of ravity, it does not mean gravity will not effect you, it simily means you do not believe in it. Whether you believe in to rnot, does not change the truth. God's Spiritual Laws are the same. The gift of salvation, the gift of the Holy borit, or the gift of Eternal Life with Jesus. Whether you believe in them or not, does not change the truth. But hees gifts are not yours, until you take the proper steps to receive them. Do you want them or not?

JESUS LOVES YOU AS IS.

Scholarship Increases Proposed
The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board members are telling lawmakers early they want the state Legislature to triple the budget for scholarships to about $500 million. Too many students and parents are being priced out of the market, they say.

"We're looking at a real crisis of access by everyone—not just minorities, but the middle class," said Board member Joe Krier of San Antarios.

Catalogs available for Unclaimed Property Auction

About 185,000 unclaimed items with an appraised value of approximately $625,000 will be auctioned on Aug. 15 in Austin.

"A catalog isting all of the items for sale is now available from my office," State Comptroller John Sharp said.

The Unclaimed Property Auction Catalog is also available on the International Comptroller John Sharp said.

The web site allows potential auction budders to quickly search for items they are interested in. For example, a fountain pen collector could learn from the compture which of the more than 600 auction lots contain fountain pens—or even a particular brand of fountain pens, Sharp said.

EMS* training offered

Bandera County Emergency Medical Services' Training Program is currently recruiting new volunteers for the communi-ties of Tarpley, Bandera, Medina, Pipe Creek, and Lakehills.

Medina, Pipe Creek, and Lakehills.
This is an excellent opportunity to belp out in the community. The course will start on Tuesday, Sept. 29 and continue trights with 20, 1999. Class trights with 20, 1999. Class trights with the Saturday morning sessions.
The course is regulated by Texas Department of Health and is 200 classroom hours, with training in cardiopulnonary resuscitation, bandaging and splinting, cervical spine motion restriction, patient assessment (including learning to take vital signs), and respiratory care (including oxygen administration).

(including oxygen administration).

The great part of this course is that all students get hands-on experience in emergency rooms and aboard ambulances, in addition to the classroom training.

There is no cost to new members, as long as they successfully complete the course and sign upon call upon state certification.

An organization when sponsors academic semester and year homestays for foreign high school students needs a few more local host families.

Pacific Intercultural Exchange (P.I.E.) executive director John Doty said the students are all between the ages of 15 to 18, speak English, have their own spending money, carry accident and health insurance, and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families.

P.I.E. currently has programs to match almost every family's needs, ranging in length from a semester to a full academic year, where the students attend local high schools. P.I.E. area representatives match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through an informal in-home meeting. Prospective host families are able to review student applications and select the perfect match.

Apple Festival began with Adams' first harvest know that when Baxter Adams planted 100 apple trees on his land 13 years ago, it would blossom into the largest annual event in this small Bandera County community

Every year, the Texas International Apple Festival draws between 18,000 to 30,000 people to the small Central Texas town of

This year should be no exception as Medina hosts its 11th annual fesival on Saturday, Aug. 1. The festival features top-notch luegrass, jazz, gospel and country nusic, a fiddle competition, dulimer concerts, living history renactments, clowns, story telling, nore than a hundred arts and crafts pooths and loads of apples.

Some of the biggest events at the estival are the apple competitions, as people compete to see who has the Best Apple Pie, the Best Apple, and the Best Apple Anything. The winning entries are auctioned off and the winners get to share in the

The origins of the Texas nternational Apple Festival begin ith Adams. When his harvest

Little did the residents of Medina came in, the enterprising Adams found he had more apples than he could handle, so he invited all of Medina to his orchard for a barbe-

The shindig was such a success. the party was moved the next year into town. Adams was expecting a crowd of 400, and more than 1,500 people showed up for the first apple festival in Medina history.

When the numbers grew to 15,000 the next year, the Texas Department of Agriculture named Medina the "Apple Capital of Texas," a title it retains to this day.

Texas' apple harvest begins sometime in late lune or early July and continues to early October, about the time when every other apple-producing area is shipping cold storage apples which were picked green and early. In fact, most apples found in stores are nearly a year old

The longer an apple stays on the tree and attains peak ripeness, like a Medina apple, the richer it is in sugar content and flavor.

This year, the festival will be held one week later than its traditional date of "the last Saturday in July."

According to Louis Vannatter, president of the Medina Texas Development Corp., the date was changed because apple growers expressed concerns about whether they would have enough ripe

While we are the first state to produce apples (starting in June) the majority of growers that commercially grow apples have their largest crop (Lone Star Little Sugar Galas) are not ready until the last of July," Vannatter said.

"Our festival has grown so much that we need to have the greatest among of apples available at that

Another reason for the change was the Texas Folklife Festival in San Antonio, which does not start until Aug. 6. Many of the vendors who attend the Texas International Apple Festival also attend the Texas Folklife Festival because it saves travel money.

Guild hosts Apple Fest quilt competition

What's more American than Mom, baseball and apple pie? Quilts of course! That is why the Bandera Quilt Guild will again host a quilt competition at the Eleventh Annual Texas International Apple Festival, to be held August 1 in Medina.

Contest categories will include pieced/quilted, appliquéed, or a combination of both. Other quilted projects, such as Yo-Yo's, cathedral or crazy quilt, or clothing, will vie in the same categories. There will also be a youth division for quilts entered by anyone 18 or younger.

Old family quilt or those with an interesting history may be entered in competition or exhibited only. A written history is desired. Quilts may also be sold at the festival.

This year's event is sponsored by Norwest Banks of Bandera, Kerrville and Comfort. The Quilt Guild will raffle a quilt made especially for the Apple Festival event. It may be viewed at Norwest Bank the week prior to the festival.

All entries will be judged using National Quilt Association standards. Judging begins at 8 a.m. on August 1. Winners will receive ribbons, cash and/or gift certificates from local and area merchants.

Applications for the competition may be picked up at the following locations: in Bandera, at Norwest Bank, Exhardt's Flower Shop, Country Accents on Hwy, 16 or at My World, 1110-B Main Street; in Kernville at Creations, 832 Water 5t; in Boerne at Sew Special, 112.5. Main; in San Antonio at Las Colchas, 110 Ogden and in Lytle at Kalico & Keepsake, 15001 Main Street. For more information contact Betty Brister at 830-460-7313. Pick-up points are available for early entransi.

Young and old fiddlers will compete for the top prize at the 1998 United Fiddlers contest at 1 p.m. on the Cavender's Rodeo River Stage. The winner will perform at $50 p.m. on the H.E.B. Orchard Stage.

SALH to demonstrate Texian life

Come to the river and watch the well known San Antonio Living History Association giving living history demonstrations of the Texan military camp life as it was in the time of 1836.

The re-enactors (men and women) will be dressed in period attire of that time. The men will discuss their attire and the role that they play in getting ready to defeat the Mexicans in the battle for independence. There will be tomahawk throwing and tanning of hide.

The women will show how corn is ground. Children are invited to participate. Also, there will be corn husk doll making as well as a military demonstration.

The San Antonio Living History Association is an educational nonprofit organization dedicated to research, develop, and present historical portrayals and interactive educational activities.

A schedule of events includes: 10:30 a.m., Corn Husk Dolls, Quill and Ink and Cotton Spinning demonstrations; noon, Texian Volunteers, Blacksmithing, Tanning Skins, Candlemaking, Trail Foods, Tornahawk Contest and Weapon Display; 2 p.m., Mexican Army, Military Drills and Loading and Firing of Weapons; 4:30 p.m., Cut of clothes circa 1830. All events are sponsored by Dr. William Dubose of Bandera.

Family turns goat's milk soap into business venture

By Brian Ballard Special to the Bulletin Even in this high-tech age, sometimes what worked well in the distant past still works best. Sharon and Arvel Boatner of Hamilton, Texas, are entrepreneurs who are making a living from their goat farm by letting the past teach

Apple Festival '98

Business opportunity came disguised in 1986 when their youngest son Thad was born with a chronic dry skin condition. Sharon, 37, an herbalist and nutritionist, tried to help Thad with everything from store-bought lotions to mink oil and other natural remedies. But nothing worked.

She read that all-natural goat milk soap might, tracked down a 100-year-old recipe for the soap and then spent 13 months and $20,000 experimenting to get the formula just right, at the same time developing plans to make the soap for their son on their 25 acre different shapes and sizes, and

At the time Arvel, 54, owned and managed a janitorial company and had a big contract with U.S. Sprint to provide all the maintenance and cleaning for 23 Sprint facilities. Keeping up with his 12-14 Janitorial employees in addition to operating his goat dairy farm was already keeping him extreme- take to craft and rodeo shows, like ly busy. But when the soap worked to clear up Thad's skin problem, then worked just as well attends every major rodeo in the on the skin problems of a German- U.S., and has three staff members American neighbor, Arvel sniffed a business opportunity.

He recalled one day sitting at their round kitchen table and saying to his wife, "You know what, if you make that stuff, I'll sell it."

Arvel admits that in the beginning he had no idea how to market the soap. Sharon continued to experiment, making the soap in

Arvel began taking the various soap products to craft shows to determine if there was a market money out of their family business to promote the soap, but despite his low-budget operation, he began to get sales fairly quickly. Today he has four booths to the Texas International Apple Festival in Medina. He personally also marketing the products at other shows. In ,1996, he personally traveled 70,000 miles and sold 72,000 bars of Nanny's Best soap at $3 a bar at these shows.

Under the Nanny's Best label, the Boatners offer six different bars of soap made from all natural goat's milk. The most popular soap grows naturally in West Texas and bar is the oatmeal, useful for dry itchy skin, ęczema, psoriasis and

Pure-Sportsman soap is a naturally de-scenting soap that comes in handy around the kitchen for for it. He decided he wouldn't take Jonion and other strong smells and is also the shaving soap for men. The Boatners also have an aloe vera bar for people with thin, delicate skin and a grubber bar in which commeal has been added to get an abrasive but natural lava-

> The goat's milk soap was such a huge success that Arvel told Sharon, "We need an industrial strength cleaning product for the working person." Sharon did some research and learned that the Aztec Indians of Mexico used the prickly pear cactus both to eat and as a natural cleaning agent.

This was an interesting discovery since this species of cactus is considered a nuisance by most farmers and ranchers. But the Boatners saw things differently. Sharon soon developed a cactus cleaner useful for all kinds of cleaning jobs, including hands, metal jewelry, dishes as well as pots and pans, windows, floors, cars, and even carpets. Yet, it is so gentle it can even be used to clean off a woman's makeup.

"Cactus cleaner is awesome on lewelry:" said Arvel, explaining that oxidation of the metal is caused by the residue left by synthetic chemical cleaners. If this residue is cleaned off with cactus cleaner, the metal will take a long time to oxidize and will remain shiny Arvel attributes the success of their business to taking a common sense approach. "You know what common sense is? It's Grandpa simply remembering what works and what doesn't work."

For example, Arvel's approach at the trade shows is very direct. "Do you want to get rid of your dry skin?" he asks passing patrons. If he can get them to stop, he has 2-3 minutes to get them to try a free sample of one of his skin products.

But an emphasis on quality control is clearly another reason for the Boatner's success. They now have 600 distributors in the U.S. and hime foreign countries and export all over the world. They are now finalizing plans to begin a new manufacturing operation in Australia. In November 1996, the Boatner's sold a big shipment of goats to Brazil with a value

Arvel takes herd management of his goats seriously. This involves keeping his goats in great health by regularly deworming them, trimming their hooves, and culling those that don't meet their quality criteria for staying on the milking line. "Herd management also has to do with breeding the animals at the proper time, providing them good nutrition, and safeguarding them from disease." he explains. And, of course, healthy all-natural goats give healthy all-natural milk from which you can make healthy all-natural soap.

Arvel gives seminars on raising dairy goats and works closely with the Texas Department of Agriculture which periodically visits the farm to certify the quality of his goat herd for export.

Caliche Hill, a local band that will perform at the Texas International Apple Festival in Medina, has been together for about three years. The band started out just as a fun way to get together at Bob's Ranch or Bill's Tire Repair. Shop. As word spread the group was asked to play at Just Country Cafe in Utopia on Friday and Saturday nights as well as for birthday parties, benefits, and family reunions. Members of the band are Tom Borner, fiddle; Bill Schafer, guitar and singer; Bob Thompson, banjo; Linda Barton, mandolin, guitar and singer; and Margie Watkins, bass. The band is known for its bluegrass style as well as gospel, ballads and "old" country songs.

Medina organization grew with festival

When Baxter Adams decided to bring his apples to town for everyone to enjoy, several local citizens saw an opportunity to throw a shindig. They also saw a chance to foster change

Medina is an unincorporated city, so town improvements are dependent totally on the local folks. The town has always had a "can-do" attitude: it was the Rotary Club and other citizens who established the well-known Medina Children's Home.

The birth of a new agriculture industry such as apples was the perfect catalyst for change. To finance the first Apple Festival. several residents pooled their own money and the festival was a suc-

Fusion Andina: Mountain music

The talented group Fusion Andina plays music from a far away place and time, offering a unique opportunity for people to explore the rhythms of the Andes Mountains.

The songs of Fusion Andean are an important symbol of fertility and strength in Peru. Fusion Andina revives a flavor from a thousand years ago. All of their instruments are handmade.

The quena (a flute that dates back to 2000 B.C) was originally made from clay and a human femur bone. The charango is a ten-stringed Scott McNaughton takes a ride on his restored antique John Deere tractor.

MacNaughton brings tractor to festival

Ever since 11-year-old Scott MacNaughton could talk, he has been ascinated with tractors.

Scott fed his fascination with books and articles about tractors. He could name them all, His Interest grew further when his parents took him to the Stonewall Antique Tractor Show.

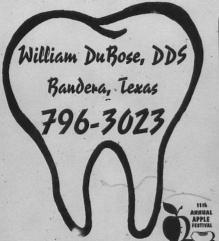

On Scott's eighth birthday his parents and his grandfather. Ken Whitewood, surprised him with his first antique tractor. It took about a year to restore the 1944 John Deere H model tractor with work they farmed out to dealers.

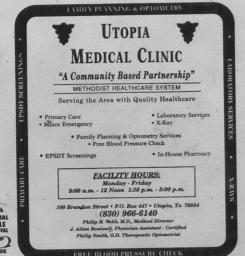

Scott promptly showed up at the Stonewall Tractor Show with his entry. The same year, the Texas International Apple Festival officials invited Scott to show his tractor at their event.

Scott just bought a new 1939 Model L John Deere that he plans to bring to the event.

"This time we plan on doing most of the restoration ourselves," he said. To top it all off, Scott and his dad have been instrumental in bringing a full-fledged Antique Tractor and Small Engine Show to the upcoming Medina Blue Grass Festival in Medina in October.

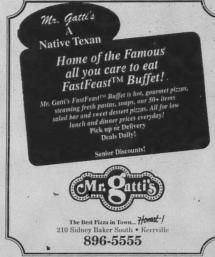

The Antique Tractor Show is part of the 11th annual Texas International Apple Festival, to be held Saturday, August 1 in Medina. Gates open at 9 a.m. and tickets are $4 for adults and $1 for children ages 4 to 12, For more information call (830) 589-7224.

edbetter's Band: Spencer Drake, David Reiff, Larry Miller and Kathy Drake

Kentucky bluegrass from heart of Texas describes Ledbetter's Bluegrass Band

"Kentucky Bluegrass from the Heart O' Texas" is the slogan of San Antonio's Ledbetter's Bluegrass Band.

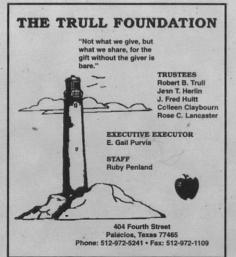

Beginning in 1988 as the husband and wife duo of Kathy (vocals and rhythm guitar) and Spencer Drake (vocals, banjo and guitar), the Ledbetter's Bluegrass Band was born when their brother-in-law, David "Uncle Dave" Relif joined them to play upright bass in 1990. In 1991, fiddle player Larry Miller joined the group.

With a unique sound, The Ledbetter's cross musical boundaries progressively; however, they are bluegrass through and through. Their ability to change directions in an instant sets them apart.

Doc Toler: Snake oil, folk music

Doc Toler's Medicine Show, from San Marcos, is folk music and comedy within the framework of a traveling snake oil medicine show.

Toler has performed at numerous festivals throughout Texas, including the Medina County Fair, the Texas Folklife Festival in San Antonio, the New Braunfals Folk Fest, and the Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair and the Kernville Folk Festival.

A poll of 150 radio stations from throughout the U.S. named the Doc Toler band "Group of the Year" at Nashville's annual Airplay International Awards.

Toler even provides his own skirted trailer-stage, complete with lighting and sound.

The sikus (pan pipes) are made from reeds that are found in Lake Titicaca in Peru and Bolivia. The many different sizes of sikus are important to create just the right sound.

Europa Trio waltzes to Apple Fest

For eight years the Europa Trio brought the flavor of Europe to the ... Sunday Brunch at the Stouffer Hotel in the Arboretum. Now they will play the Texas International Apple Festival.

Their repertoire includes both classical and popular sounds of Europe with music ranging from Gypsy czardas to Strauss waltzes. The dynamic violin, accordion, guitarron trio never falls to bring pleasure and excitement to its listeners.

The Trio: Javier Chaparro, from Lima, Peru, plays the violin; Stephen-Jarrard, of Houston, plays the guitarron, and Frani Jarrrard, a native Texan, brings a mixture of classical and popular music styles to the band.

Indecency

Stanford said Brown needs counseling and treatment for his sexual urges whether or not he goes to prison.

Under deferred adjudication, a judge defers a finding of guilt or innocence until the completion of a probation period if probation terms are violated, the judge can find the defendant guilty and assess the maximum sentence allowed.

Assistant District Attorney Lucy Cavazos said Brown cannot be around any minor children without the written consent of the child's parent or guardian and the written consent of his probation officer. The parent has to be informed that he pleaded no contest to indecency with a child and has been placed on probation, alse said Brown also cannot frequent places where children congregate as part of the conditions of his probation.

Michael and Susie Wilson, Glitter Kids of Bandera

If you think you've seen a lot of Michael and Susie Wilson strough the county all the time, you're not alone.
They seem to be everywhere. Meetings, civic functions, sporting events' parades' doos any-body remember the '97 pet parades' and festivals. They're 'you're well and they are they re you will be a support to the time of the time of the well and they are the they are th body remember the '97 pet parade') and featuals. They're always there And not just watching, either You'll catch them loading trucks, unloading trucks, involving themselves in the event du jour and most certainly leading by example wherever they happen to be. Boredom is simply not on ther list of things to do. They are two of the hardest working people in Bandera County and their energy seems boundless, on many the Bandera Watt the project. So the Wilson were, once of the hardest working people in Bandera County and the project so the Wilson was the Wilso

Smoking regulations hide myth
Accolades to the judge who recently ruled against the myth that cancer is caused by tobacco smoke in open expanses. On a scale of 1 to 10 the Environmental Protection Agency lists this smoke at 1.8 percent, alcohol 5.3 percent, milk products 4.6 percent, dietary fat 2.9 percent, and inactivity at 2.1 percent.
Shoppers with carts loaded with dairy case Borden's, Budwieser, etc. should not be alarmed by a smoker in the market. Their real concern should be with activities that counter their cancer causing intulleences.

indulgences.

This "No-Indoor" smoke regulation brings to mind an unrelated quote by Shakespeare, "It is a tale told by an idiot full of sound and fury signifying nothing."

nul dog and put the animal in the back of their steel-bedded pickup truck.

We all know it's 100 degrees out there and the steel-bedded truck beds are probably around 120 degrees.

The good dog will stay in the 'oven' because he obeys his master. Their good animals would lay down their lives for their owners. Yet they are not provided with protection for their feet. A scrap of carpet, ply wood, anything would help. Bed liners get just as hot! If the dog owner would place his bare palm of his hand on the truck bed. he will see know hot it is. O'r better still, dog owner, pull off your boots and walk across the truck bed, O.K.?

You, the dog owner, are the most important and loved person by your dog. Return his trust, protect his feet.

wish. Please see that the Bandera Visitors Bureau is aware of its contention.

Bandera bills itself as the Cowboy Capital of the World. To live up. Bandera bills itself as the Cowboy Capital of the World. To live up to this to the fullest cotten it a great challenge. Many other localities in the West can equally claim this title and may do so—places such as Cheyenne, Pendleton, Calgary and such:

Bandera has the solid historical background which can justify its claim to being the cowboy capital but it must act on it and promotic to the nation and to the world. Being near San Antonio—number one tourist dation of Texas—is a big and fortunate asset. Bandera should and could be developed into a class A tourist attraction which would benefit the community beyond measure.

As cowboy capital of the world Bandera should not just regard this title as an epitaph of the past but make something out of it. I think the

The Bandera Maintenance Section for TxDOT is now using tow of these portable traffic signal trailers: We started using them on PR37 in June and have since used them on FM1283, SH173 and today on SH16 at FM470.

The research study is being done to see how well the signals perform, the publics compliance to the portable signals in areas where signals would not be expected and what the traveling public thinks about the signals.

Other issues would be how long of a time delay will driven wait before they disregard the signal and drive on through.

Officials say the signals seem to be doing a good job. The drivers TxDOT officials have talked to seem to really like them because they are easy to ever think how very important this day is? You can never live this same day again...You must make the most of it now-today. The day can be happy or sad, it can be pleasant or disastrous.

A Thought For The Week

Some adages come to mind: "There is sothing so bad that it couldn't be worse"..."Live each day as though it is your last."..."Don't put off until tomorrow, what you can do today."...
The late Dale Carnegie is noted for his many quotes about life in general. Here are two about fiving life today: "Today is the only time we can possibly live. Let's not turn it into a physical and mental hell by aimless worry about the future. Let's also stop fretting over the blunders we made yesterday." And "Today is the only time we can possibly live." An Anhonyous writer puts; this thought this way: "Dream not too much of what you will do tomorrow,...How much you will work perhaps another year; Tomorrow's chances you do not need to borrow-Today is

Yes, this day is important. Let's work at it! Let's try to make the best of each day as it comes!

CELEBRATING OUR 51ST ANNIVERSARY

When Philip A. Ricks founded Ricks Furniture in 1947, he believed that his customers deserved a good value for their hard earned money.

That simple principle has been the cornerstone of the Ricks family business which is now about to celebrate 50 years of success.

Now guided by family members Lonnie Ricks in Del Rio and Phyllis and Leota Ricks and John Philip Skrumeda in Kerrville, Ricks continues the tradition of offering exceptional value and quality. And even though we may change our appearance or our styles of furniture, our commitment to our customers will never change.

That's the way Phil Ricks would have wanted it mobilize the Alamo area's workforce been so critical. As San Anshifts from that of a military town to a more diversified industrial base, we must be prepared. Fortunately, we are able to approach these challenges not only as a municipality. Mike De La Gerza

The fact of the matter is that each of us in the 12-county Alamo Workforce Development region are inextricably linked to one another not only geographically, but also economically. So while we face one of the most challenging times in our economic history, we do so with a powerful partnership of people from Atascosa, Bandera, Bexar, Comal, Frio, Gillespie, Guadalupe, Kendall, Kerr, Medina, Karnes and Wilson counties.

We bring you this special section in an effort to better inform you about the farreaching nature of AWD's workforce development efforts. While we are perhaps best known for our work with the more than 12,000 Kelly Air Force Base workers who will be affected by the base's closure, you will also come to know of our comprehensive efforts to support welfare reform through effective welfare-to-work programs. Additionally, you will learn of our efforts to help recent high school graduates build skills that are truly in demand in this

Finally, you will read about plans to launch an interactive website containing the most comprehensive regional labor market information available anywhere. This exciting website will be equally useful for students and scientists, jobseekers and employers.

Our board members are your neighbors and employers, so we demand the highest level of responsiveness of ourselves and our staff. It's all part of our commitment to the economic livelihood of our communities. Because at AWD, we're working hard to keep the Alamo area working.

hen something needs fixing, but you're not quite sure how to make it better, it always helps to bring in an expert. When the Alamo Workforce Development (AWD), Inc. was ready to evolve to meet the needs of a changing labor market, it was Nickie Valdez the Board hired to lead that evolution.

From her position as a consultant then to president now, Valdez has had a positive inluence on the non-profit organization that oversees workforce programs for a 12-county area including Bexar.

"A few years ago, Alamo Workforce was n need of a change and in need of a new direction," said Mike De La Garza, board chairman. "Nickie brought that change and built a very strong foundation that can easily support the continued growth and responsibilities that the AWD has taken on."

In 1995. Valdez came to what was then the Alamo Workforce Development Council as a steward at the request of the state. At that time, the agency had been on its own as a non-profit private industry council, having been moved from under the City of San Antonio's authority, for one year and was in need of leadership and guidance-

"We had just been put on high-risk status by the [Texas] Department of Commerce, and we didn't really know what steps to take to rectify that," said De La Garza. "So I approached them and asked for much needed advice, and they gave me that and the cure we needed - Nickie

15 years of experience in employment and training programs with her. She gained that ience at the U.S. Department of Labor in Dallas, where she once was the highest ranking Hispanic woman in the department.

When she was first assigned to the Alamo Workforce, she commuted between Dallas and San Antonio, and spent her time developing the professional staff, tightening and amlining office policies, setting up methods for documentation of work and services provided and requiring that the policies the agency had set up were being adhered to. The types of problems that I saw when I came here were things that centered around the way the office worked," said Valdez.

'They were doing a good job, but didn't have the structure to either record that progress or make further progress, because they didn't leave the City with adequate systems in

After just one month as a consultant. Valdez was named interim chief executive officer when that position became vacant. As a consultant, Valdez brought more than She has not left, partly because of her belief in what AWD is all about and partly because she was dedicated to making sure the new structure she built was working and will stay

"When I got here, I had to take the agency apart - all the while still operating its programs - and rebuild it. I developed new systems, hired qualified staff and managers, and was able to turn AWD around in less than a year," said Valdez.

The agency's high-risk status was lifted only six months after Valdez began her task. The agency has realized exemplary audits

"I was born in South Texas, and have lived in Corpus Christi, San Antonio and Dallas, and I really believe that the Texan traits of taking care of oneself and pulling oneself up by the boot straps will be better served by the new direction that the AWD is going in," said Valdez "Instead of moving from office to office to find support and information about jobs and other services, job seekers will soon be able to walk into one place where they will have access to the types of information that will help them help them-"Her influence has been critical, particu- selves - something we all ultimately

Kelly FOCUS Center update: Rapid Response speeding along

You ask SaWanna Cunningham what's changed since the hearts and open wounds. We needed to work not just with the to see an increase in usage. As for the future, Cunningham kelly Air Force Base FOCUS Center first opened its worker but the whole family. Losing a job affects everyone, expects to be around for a while. doors, don't be surprised if she gives you a wry smile. In fact, a better question might be what hasn't changed.

ADVERTISING SUPPLEMENT

In response to the Department of Defense's announcement that Kelly Air Force base was scheduled to close in 2001, the Texas Workforce Commission put into action its Rapid Response program to assist Kelly workers in finding employment outside of the military base.

For Kelly workers, the FOCUS Center is the first step to working toward making the transition. At the Center, workers can find job listings, tutorials on resume writing and a variety of classes like financial management. They also make referrals to St. Philip's College where they can meet with an employment professional and map out a career strategy. Re-training and upgrading of pertifications decisions are made at that time.

As Rapid Response Coordinator, Cunningham has seen the changes the Center has made throughout the years. She said since 1995 the Center's library has grown to twice its size and now includes business journal

"Originally we thought we'd have a few books on resume writing and cover letters," Cunningham said. "But we found that more and more people were using those books, so we had to expand that part of the library."

She said they started out with a financial management class but soon discovered that workers were dealing with other issues as well. Cunningham said as part of a severance package Kelly workers would receive retirement pay over the years but also receive a lump sum of money.

"We thought that offering a financial management class was enough. But we discovered that we needed to target financial planning for retirement, more specifically how they were going to use their retirement pay and their lump sum, Computer classes have expanded. In the beginning, the

Center didn't offer typing courses, but they have been added recently along with a basic computer course that teaches everything from how to turn on a computer to word process-

Cunningham said they anticipated that workers would feel some amount of stress over the base closure, but the magnitude of that stress was truly learned after the Center opened

"We thought we could just teach people how to deal with their stress and send them on their way. We found out that was just a band-aid. We still had people leave here with open and we needed to address that," she said.

As the millennium approaches, Cunningham is anticipatwill receive "pink slips" in October, so the Center is prepared

"I jokingly tell people that I will be here until they put the lock on the gate," she said. "Our commitment is to the Kelly ing the next round of layoffs in June, 1999. It will be the workers, so we will work with them until the closure. I expect largest group, 4,200, to be let go so far. She said the group once that takes place we will move off the base to continue our work."

Alamo Workforce Development: Preparing students for the transition from school to work

The increased demand in the U.S. workplace for skilled workers is bringing about unprecedented changes in the nation's educational system - changes that demand today's students leave school prepared for a global marketplace.

American education, in partnership with businesses and industry, is addressing this challenge in classrooms and workplaces all over America

The School-to-Careers proposed plan is an initiative which will allow Alamo Workforce Development (AWD), Inc. to prepare youth and adults with the skills and knowledge required to gain employment in the Texas workforce. AWD administers and allocates funds to schools, community-based organizations, businesses and colleges to assist youth in preparing for a variety of career pathways and work-based learning opportunities within workforce development areas.

The School-to-Careers Initiative is based on the following concepts: It is for all students. School-to-Careers is

Dear Readers.

Never before have efforts to energize and mobilize the Alamo area's workforce been so critical. As San Antonio's economic base shifts from that of a military town to a more diversified industrial base, we must be prepared. Fortunately, we are able to approach these challenges not only as a municipality, Miles De La Gerza but also as a region.

The fact of the matter is that each of us in the 12-county Alamo Workforce Development region are inextricably linked to one another not only geographically, but also economically. So while we face one of the most challenging times in our economic history, we do so with a powerful partnership of people from Atascosa, Bandera, Bexar, Comal, Frio, Gillespie, Guadalupe, Kendall, Kerr, Medina, Karnes and Wilson counties.

We bring you this special section in an effort to better inform you about the farreaching nature of AWD's workforce development efforts. While we are perhaps best known for our work with the more than 12,000 Kelly Air Force Base workers who will be affected by the base's closure, you will also come to know of our comprehensive efforts to support welfare reform through effective welfare-to-work programs. Additionally, you will learn of our efforts to help recent high school graduates build skills that are truly in demand in this

Finally, you will read about plans to launch an interactive website containing the most comprehensive regional labor market information available anywhere. This exciting website will be equally useful for students and scientists, jobseekers and employers.

Our board members are your neighbors and employers, so we demand the highest level of responsiveness of ourselves and our staff. It's all part of our commitment to the economic livelihood of our communi ties. Because at AWD, we're working hard to keep the Alamo area working.

hen something needs fixing, but you're not quite sure how to make it better, it always helps to bring in an expert. When the Alamo Workforce Development (AWD), Inc. was ready to evolve to meet the needs of a changing labor market, it was Nickie Valdez the Board hired to lead

From her position as a consultant then to president now, Valdez has had a positive influence on the non-profit organization that oversees workforce programs for a 12-county area including Bexar.

"A few years ago, Alamo Workforce was in need of a change and in need of a new direction," said Mike De La Garza, board chairman. "Nickie brought that change and built a very strong foundation that can easily support the continued growth and responsibilities that the AWD has taken on,

In 1995, Valdez came to what was then the Alamo Workforce Development Council as a steward at the request of the state. At that time, the agency had been on its own as a non-profit private industry council, having been moved from under the City of San Anonio's authority, for one year and was in need of leadership and guidance.

We had just been put on high-risk status by the [Texas] Department of Commerce, and we didn't really know what steps to take to rectify that," said De La Garza. "So I approached them and asked for much needed advice, and they gave me that and the cure

When she was first assigned to the Alamo Workforce, she commuted between Dallas and San Antonio, and spent her time developing the professional staff, tightening and streamlining office policies, setting up methods for documentation of work and services provided and requiring that the policies the agency had set up were being adhered to. The types of problems that I saw when I came here were things that centered around the way the office worked," said Valdez.

After just one month as a consultant, Valdez was named interim chief executive officer when that position became vacant. She has not left, partly because of her belief in what AWD is all about and partly because she was dedicated to making sure the new experience at the U.S. Department of Labor structure she built was working and will stay

"When I got here, I had to take the agency apart - all the while still operating its programs - and rebuild it. I developed new systems, hired qualified staff and managers, and was able to turn AWD around in less than a year," said Valdez.

The agency's high-risk status was lifted only six months after Valdez began her task. The agency has sealized exemplary audits

"I was born in South Texas, and have lived in Corpus Christi, San Antonio and Dallas, and I really believe that the Texan traits of taking care of oneself and pulling oneself up by the boot straps will be better served by the new direction that the AWD is going in," said Valdez. "Instead of moving from office to office to find support and information about jobs and other services, job-seekers will soon be able to walk into one place where they will have access to the types of information that will help them help themselves - something we all ultimately 12-county region in an effort to gather information critical to efforts to provide job skills training and placement in the area.

Surveys were sent to companies of all sizes in Atascosa, Bandera, Bexar, Comal, Frio, Gillespie, Guadalupe, Kendall, Kerr, Medina, Karnes and Wilson counties. The interests of each county are represented on the Alamo Workforce Development Board Conducted by ERISS Corp., a professional survey and data-gathering agency in California, the results will be available to everyone from employers to job seekers, students to scientists via an interactive website.

"We are truly excited about the potential this survey represents for Alamo Workforce and each of the communities at large," said Mike De La Garza, Chair of the AWD Board. "This represents the first truly comprehensive collection of data from these 12 counties, information that will help us better train future employees and better match employers with the workers they need."

Surveys were faxed to human resources contacts or business owners themselves in each of the targeted companies and a representative from ERISS contacts each business to collect the data. The entire process takes less than 15 minutes, but will collectively represent a huge leap forward in economic development efforts for the area, according to Mario Hernandez, President of the Economic Development Foundation and a member of the Alamo Workforce Board.

"The data gathered through this survey will represent the single most important and currently missing tool in our efforts to grow the economy and bring opportunity to the San Antonio area," Hernandez said.

A prototype of the website currently in use by a similar organization in San Diego is available for viewing through the ERISS homepage, located at www.ERISS.com on the World Wide Web.

Kelly FOCUS Center update: Rapid Response speeding along

f you ask SaWanna Cunningham what's changed since the Kelly Air Force Base FOCUS Center first opened its doors, don't be surprised if she gives you a wry smile. In fact, a better question might be what hasn't changed.

In response to the Department of Defense's announcement that Kelly Air Force base was scheduled to close in 2001, the Texas Workforce Commission put into action its Rapid Response program to assist Kelly workers in finding employment outside of the military base.

For Kelly workers, the FOCUS Center is the first step to working toward making the transition. At the Center, workers can find job listings, tutorials on resume writing and a variety of classes like financial management. They also make referrals to St. Philip's College where they can meet with an employment professional and map out a career strategy. Re-training and upgrading of certifications decisions are made at that time.

As Rapid Response Coordinator; Cunningham has seen the changes the Center has made throughout the years. She said since 1995 the Center's library has grown to twice its size and now includes business journals

"Originally we thought we'd have a few books on resume writing and cover letters," Cunningham said, "But we found that more and more people were using those books, so we had to expand that part of the library."

She said they started out with a financial management class but soon discovered that workers were dealing with other issues as well. Cunningham said as part of a severance package Kelly workers would receive retirement pay over the years but also receive a lump sum of money.

"We thought that offering a financial management class was enough. But we discovered that we needed to target financial planning for retirement, more specifically how they were going to use their retirement pay and their lump sum, Computer classes have expanded. In the beginning, the

Center didn't offer typing courses, but they have been added recently along with a basic computer course that teaches everything from how to turn on a computer to word process-

Cunningham said they anticipated that workers would feel some amount of stress over the base closure, but the magnitude of that stress was truly learned after the Center opened.

"We thought we could just teach people how to deal with their stress and send them on their way. We found out that was just a band-aid. We still had people leave here with open hearts and open wounds. We needed to work not just with the worker but the whole family. Losing a job affects everyone, expects to be around for a while. and we needed to address that," she said.

Alamo Workforce Development: Preparing students for the transition from school to work

The increased demand in the U.S. workplace for skilled workers is bringing about unprecedented changes in the nation's educational system - changes that demand today's students leave school prepared for a global marketplace.

American education, in partnership with businesses and industry, is addressing this challenge in classrooms and workplaces all over America.

The School-to-Careers proposed plan is an initiative which will allow Alamo Workforce Development (AWD), Inc. to prepare youth and adults with the skills and knowledge required to gain employment in the Texas workforce. AWD administers and allocates funds to schools, community-based organizations, businesses and colleges to assist youth in preparing for a variety of career pathways and work-based learning opportunities within workforce development argas.

Long before President Bill Clinton signed the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act in 1996 and 'welfare-to-work" became a new buzz phrase, Marriott International introduced Pathways to Independence: A Training-for-Jobs Program. Pathways is a six-week hospitality training program that Marriott administers in its hotels with the assistance of government funding. It includes 60 hours of classroom training and 120 hours of occupational skills training. In the classroom the training includes: job acquisition skills, skills for retaining a job, personal life issues and skills for personal financial management.

During the job acquisition skills training instruction is given on completing job applications and preparing resumes, developing job interview skills and exploring career opportunities within the hospitality industry. Participants also receive instruction on how to retain a job. For example, they learn what skills and attitudes are critical for success in their first jobs and in every step of their careers: committing to long-term job placement, developing a positive attitude, being dependable and reliable, contributing as a team member, serving customers and handling complaints successfully, communicating effectively with customers (face-to-face that-go above and beyond simply job trainand on the telephone), accepting and offering / ing. constructive criticism, appreciating and working effectively with diverse groups of people and adhering to grooming and hy-

Finally trainees go through a personal financial management learn about formulat ing a personal budget, meeting expenses with entry-level wages, establishing and managing credit opening and managing a checking account and differentiating between necessities and luxuries.

In San Antonio, the program receives funding through Alamo Workforce AWD also refers people to Pathways through its own welfare-to-work programs. Each participant completing the program is guaranteed a job with Marriott.

However, it is an unpaid training program. Participants receive financial assistance through AWD while in training, as well as bus passes or gas allowances. Child care also is provided through AWD. Blackstone said the program offers trainees the necessary skills not only to perform their job, but also to maintain employment. Consequently, the program is unique in its classroom sessions

But with hard work, determination and the help of Alamo Workforce Development (AWD), Inc. and Marriott International, Lopez shed that final description.

"I don't see myself as being on welfare. I see myself as special. I don't ever want my kids going through that again," the 21-yearold mother of three said.

Three months ago, Lopez graduated from Pathways to Independence, a training program created by Marriott International that targets welfare recipients. The sixweek program is a mixture of classroom instruction and on-the-job training and people are referred by AWD. Although participants are not paid while in training, after graduation they are guaranteed a job with Marriott.

'This program has given me independence," she said. "Now instead of asking my mom (for money), I give money to her."

But the road to the program was bumpy for Lopez. Three years ago, she and her husband separated. Lopez had a job, but her salary was just enough to pay babysitters. With very little money to pay for necessities, Lopez moved in with her mother and signed up to receive welfare.

Three years later, her life has changed. Today. Lopez starts her work day at 6:30 a.m.,

But since I've been work- stress. ing with this program, I have the opportunity to follow each participant through every step of the training. By graduation we're all emotional because they (the graduates) made it and they have a job.

Long before President Bill Clinton signed the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act in 1996 and "welfare-to-work" became a new buzz phrase. Marriott International introduced Pathways to Independence: A Training-for-Johs Program

Pathways is a six-week hospitality training program that Marriott administers in its hotels with the assistance of government funding. It includes 60 hours of classroom training and 120 hours of occupational skills the program receives training. In the classroom the training includes: job acquisition skills, skills for retaining a job, personal life issues and skills Development, Inc. for personal financial management.

During the job acquisition skills training ple to Pathways instruction is given on completing job applications and preparing resumes, developing job interview skills and exploring career opportunities within the hospitality industry. Participants also receive instruction on how to retain a job. For example, they learn what skills and attitudes are critical for success in their first jobs and in every step of their careers: committing to long-term job placement, developing a positive attitude, being dependable and reliable, contributing as a team member, serving customers and handling complaints successfully, communicating effectively with customers (face-to-face and on the telephone), accepting and offering constructive criticism, appreciating and working effectively with diverse groups of people and adhering to grooming and hy-ting and achieving goals, balancing work and personal life and managing and coping with

Finally trainees go through a personal financial management class where they learn about formulating a personal budget, meeting expenses with entru-level wages, establishing and managing credit opening and managing a checking account and differentiating between necesfare-to-work programs. Each participant completing the program is guaranteed a job with Marriott.

However, it is an unpaid training program. Participants receive financial assistance through AWD while in training, as well as bus passes or gas allowances. Child care also is provided through AWD. Blackstone said the program offers trainees the necessary skills not only to perform their job, but also to maintain employment. Consequently, the program is unique in its classroom sessions that go above and beyond simply job train-

But with hard work, determination and the help of Alamo Workforce Development (AWD), Inc. and Marriott International, Lopez shed that final description.

"I don't see myself as being on welfare. I see myself as special. I don't ever want my kids going through that again," the 21-yearold mother of three said.

Three months ago, Lopez graduated from Pathways to Independence, a training program created by Marriott International that targets welfare recipients. The sixweek program is a mixture of classroom instruction and on-the-job training and people are referred by AWD. Although participants are not paid while in training, after graduation they are guaranteed a job with Marriott.

"This program has given me independence," she said. "Now instead of asking my mom (for money). I give money to her."

But the road to the program was bumpy for Lopez. Three years ago, she and her hus-band separated. Lopez had a job, but her salary was just enough to pay babysitters. With very little money to pay for necessities, Lopez moved in with her mother and signed up to receive welfare.

Three years later, her life has changed. To- cist day, Lopez starts her work day at 6:30 a.m.,

And after only working full-time for three months, Lopez is thinking bigger and is eyeing a position at the front desk. For Lopez and other graduates, the future is bright and career possibilities seem endless.

Keisha Jackson is a member of the most recent Pathways graduating class. Even though she hasn't started working full-time, she already is talking about transferring to a Marriott in Dallas
